Germans Regarded Gen. Eisenhower Great Military Chief; Patton Was Most Feared

By GEORGE TUCKER
(Copyright, 1945, By The Associated Press)

NUERNBERG, Dec. 10. — German Army intelligence officers regarded Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as a "great military leader," above even German generals, because of his skillful military planning and his ability to "over-ride feelings and objections on political grounds in the interest of achieving the one thing that was important—the successful accomplishment of military operations."

Patton Hurt In Crash

Mercury Hits 13 Here; Cold Again Tonight

Dalhart Coldest With 8 Degrees; Freeze Killing

(By The Associated Press)

A cold dry norther—the second in two days—fanned out over most of Texas today, dropping temperatures to eight degrees at Dalhart in the Panhandle.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Love field, Dallas, said fair weather prevailed over the entire state. Freezing temperatrs had not yet reached the lower Rio Grande valley but forecasts were for 34 to 40 degrees there tonight. Brownsville's 50 was the state's maximum.

SUBZERO READINGS
(By The Associated Press)

A cold belt with temperatures ranging from 15 below zero to below freezing extended today from the Rocky mountains east almost to the Appalachians, with the exception of the west gulf coast.

Subzero temperatures covered Minnesota and the Dakotas, as well as points in Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado and Wisconsin. The lowest reading reported by the U. S. Weather Bureau for the last 24 hours was 18 below zero at Minot, N. D.

Another Cold Night

Pampa with 10 degrees minimum and Amarillo with 11 followed Dalhart's low reading.

Indications were for another cold night tonight, the weather bureau reported.

Corsicana's 26 was the lowest of the season there and Denison reported its 21 degrees was the coldest this year. Paris had a minimum of 23.

Freeze Is Killing

Austin's reading dropped to 30 from yesterday's 53. A killing freeze for all but the hardiest vegetables was reported there. A low of 28 is expected tomorrow. Houston's 35 this morning was the lowest since last Dec. 12.

Other temperatures reported by the weather bureau: Dallas and Sluphur Springs, 24; Gainesville

Strange Things Happen In This World—
Vet Misses Train At El Paso And Falls Heir To An Estate

BALDWIN PARK, Calif., Dec. 10 (AP)—In El Paso, as elsewhere, strange things happen.

Pfc. George A. Anas, 25, of Baldwin Park, veteran of three years of fighting with the Marines in the South Pacific, was enroute to his home in Baldwin Park after being discharged in the midwest, where he had enlisted. He missed a train at El Paso. He went into a restaurant. The rest is Anas' story.

Was Handed Check

"While I was eating, the waitress told me a man in another booth wanted to pay my check. Then the fellow came over and handed me a check on the Alamo National bank of San Antonio, Tex., which stated it was: 'For rancho, 1,000 acres and all stock.'

"The check was signed by Fritz H. Kolpp of La Vernia, Tex. I called the bank. They said Mr. Kolpp was a wealthy rancher and that his word was good. I decided he wasn't pulling my leg. He told me I had fought for him and he wanted to make me a little present.

"I'm going to La Vernia to obtain legal title. The ranch comes equipped with a house, outbuildings, 150 head of cattle and eight horses, Kolp told me."

Army Leader's Lower Limbs Are Paralyzed

Nerve Specialists Summoned; Wife Speeds To Side

(By The Associated Press)

MANNHEIM, Dec. 10 — Nerve specialists were summoned from England and the United States today to treat Gen. George S. Patton lying partly paralyzed from a fractured vertebra in the neck which was broken in an automobile accident yesterday.

An Army medical bulletin announced that Patton was completely paralyzed below level of the fractured third cervical vertebra in the neck and that dislocation of the fourth cervical was being closely observed because of the very serious nature of the injury.

Pushed Back In Place

Examination showed the fourth cervical had been pushed back in place, however, and that Patton's general condition so far was satisfactory.

He was completely rational, it was explained, and had spent a comfortable night at Heidelberg hospital.

Wife Hurries To Side

Hurrying to his side by trans-Atlantic plane were his wife and a neuro-surgery specialist, Col. R. G. Spurling of Louisville, Ky. Already at the hospital are Maj. Gen. A. W. Kenner, theater surgeon, and Prof. Hugh Carnes, a British specialist who had been flown from Oxford at the request of Mrs. Patton.

Mrs. Patton was expected to arrive in Paris tomorrow morning.

An official Army bulletin issued at the hospital said the fiery general had passed a restful night, sleeping five hours.

Truck And Sedan Crash

The accident occurred when an Army truck reportedly turned off a side road into the autobahn (super highway) and crashed with Patton's sedan. Patton and his chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Hobart R. Gay, had left U. S. 15th Army headquarters at Bad Nauheim yesterday morning to go pheasant hunting near Mannheim.

A combat engineering unit was summoned by an unidentified Red Cross girl and found Patton slumped in the rear seat of his sedan. An eye-witness said Patton's face was covered with blood.

Capt. Ned Snyder of Texas treated Patton at the scene of the accident, after which the engineering unit's ambulance rushed him to the hospital.

Use Of Gas By Japs Charged

TOKYO, Dec. 10. (AP)—Brig. Gen. Charles E. Loucks declared today that the Japanese had used poison gas against American troops "in a few isolated instances," notably in New Guinea late in the war.

The chemical warfare officer on General MacArthur's staff said the most recent instance was March 5, 1945, when a Japanese patrol set off vomiting gas candles in a signal corps area at Biak, New Guinea.

Made Severely Ill

Loucks said several Americans were made severely ill but none killed.

Japanese officials he has talked to, he added, denied knowledge of this or other reported isolated use of gas but they conceded they were unable to say whether individual field commanders had used it.

Loucks asserted that the Japanese also had tossed gas grenades at American concentrations at Biak and had used gas against the Chinese in China.

Modern Gas School

The officer said the Japanese had a modern, well-equipped gas chemical warfare school at Narashino but abandoned the manufacture of poison gas in 1943 because, as questioned Japanese officials told him "we believed the Allied statement that gas would be used only in retaliation."

Loucks declared poison gas was more humane than the atomic bomb or "a bayonet in the abdomen."

"If we had used gas at places like Tarawa and Iwo (two of the most bloody Marine campaigns) we would have saved a lot of lives," Loucks said.

Big Vote Is Urged For Bond Election

Sweeping Victory For $5,894,000 Issue Forecast; Polls To Open At 8 O'clock

Although a sweeping victory for Lubbock's $5,894,000 bond issue to finance a five-year municipal expansion program is forecast for Tuesday's election, bond campaign leaders were making plans today to secure as large a turnout as possible for the balloting.

"I'm hopeful that we have the largest total vote ever cast in a city bond election," Mayor O. W. Ribble said today, "for we certainly want the election to be a true expression of the sentiment of the people of Lubbock.

Want Every Issue To Carry

"Of course, we want every issue to carry; for Lubbock is already ten years behind in many of the items in the 14 propositions summitted on the ballot," Mayor Ribble continued. "The voters might as well cast their ballots to approve the entire issue, for if one proposition fails, it will certainly have to be re-submitted to the people, again within a short period of time."

Mayor Ribble cited the fact that every phase of the city's life was included in the proposed improvements. Funds for municipal buildings, fire stations and equipment, parks, airport improvements, storm and sanitary sewer extensions and plants, highway and street improvements, street and traffic lighting systems, auditorium-coliseum and a water supply system and softening plants are provided for in the 14 propositions to be voted on separately by the electorate Tuesday.

Voting Strength Unknown

Voting strength for the election is an undetermined figure due to the attorney general's ruling last week that service men and recently discharged service men only have to prove their military status now or within the past 18 months in order to vote in an election in Texas. This ruling may add sev-

Damage Heavy In Mexia Fire

MEXIA, Dec. 10. (AP)—A fire which gutted one block of the business section here was brought under control at 7 a. m. today four hours after firemen and volunteers began battling it in freezing weather.

Fire Chief Sig Erickson said the blaze which destroyed a two story brick building housing seven businesses was believed to have started in the Yowell drug store warehouse. Cause of the blaze was not determined. Unofficial estimates placed damage at $200,000.

Fanned By High Winds

The flames which were discovered at 2:30 a. m. today were fanned by high winds and witnesses said icicles were hanging from the blazing building.

One wall of the building caved in and sent bricks flying through the roof of the Mexia News located in an adjacent one-story building. All linotype machines in the newspaper office were wrecked.

Offices located in the building were a Goodyear Rubber retail store, Sinclair Oil, two radio shops, an insurance office, Western Union office, Yowell drug store warehouse and an optometry office operated by W. Duke Pittman, owner of the building. One of the sections of the building also housed the Episcopal church.

Indonesian Villages Smashed By British

BATAVIA, Dec. 10. (UP) — British warplanes smashed three small Indonesian villages, 50 miles southeast of Batavia, tonight in reprisal for the ambushing of a 70-vehicle convoy in the area Sunday.

The British convoy, enroute from Batavia over the mountain road to Bandoeng, was attacked suddenly by more than 1,000 Indonesian extremists who sprang from holes and began throwing grenades. Others fired from trees.

In the ensuing battle the British suffered 50 casualties while the Indonesians lost 40 killed and a large number wounded.

Amnesty Urged For Violators Of Draft

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (UP)—President Truman was urged today to grant amnesty to more than 3,000 conscientious objectors now in prison for violation of the draft act.

The request was made by a group of prominent Americans in a letter initiated by the American Civil Liberties union. The group included former Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur, chancellor of Stanford university; President Daniel Marsh of Boston university; and Bishop Edwin V. O'Hara of Kansas City.

BRITISH PLAN OPPOSED

25,000 Other GM Employes May Walk Out

Appliance Plants May Be Closed By Sympathy Strike

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Dec. 10 — Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach, declaring the government has the power to seize the struck plants of General Motors Corp. but would not exercise it, called on both sides today to settle their dispute "as soon as possible."

The secretary told a press conference that it was "extremely important" to the "economic life" of the nation that an early settlement be achieved in the walkout which has idled 213,000 General Motors workers since Nov. 21.

Defends Proposals

Schwellenbach, in Detroit for a speech tonight, included in his comments on the CIO United Auto Workers strike at GM a defense of President Truman's legislative proposals to help labor peace in general.

Asserting there was no desire on the part of the president to "destroy" labor unions, Schwellenbach defended his chief against the attack on Mr. Truman by CIO President Philip Murray. The secretary pointed to Mr. Truman's "long record of friendship for labor."

DECISIVE CONCESSIONS DEMANDED BY UNION

(By The United Press)

DETROIT, Dec. 10 — A walkout threat of another 25,000 employes hung over negotiations resuming today between General Motors Corp. and the United Automobile Workers union (CIO) in an effort to settle the 20-day old strike of 175,000 union members.

In peace talks scheduled for today, the company faced a union challenge to make decisive concessions on the 30 per cent wage gain demand or provoke a shutdown of GM appliance plants by a strike of CIO electrical workers.

Expects Good Faith

UAW Vice President Walter P. Reuther said bluntly that the union expected "good faith" bargaining by the company or it would consider further negotiations as "time-wasting."

Reuther said "good faith" would be denoted by one of two proposals from company negotiators: 1—An offer of wage increases in line with union demands, or 2 — Willingness to reveal company records for a factual determination of ability to pay.

Repeated company offers to advance wages 10 per cent have been spurned.

Asked To Join Strikes

The UAW has asked the 25,000 employes of five major GM appliance plants to join the strike as a sympathy demonstration if the company fails to meet the "good faith" test. Reuther said he does not doubt that the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers union (CIO) will agree to the proposal.

UE-CIO is negotiating with General Motors for a $2 a day wage increase, but has not raised the question of the company's ability to pay. A sympathy strike probably would throw the UE demands

Jap Sub Captain To Testify In Hearing

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—Cmdr. Ike Hashimoto, captain of the Japanese submarine I-58, reported to have sunk the USS Indianapolis last July 30, arrived today to testify at the court-martial of Captain Charles B. McVay, 3rd.

McVay, who commanded the Indianapolis, is charged with negligence and inefficiency in the loss of the heavy cruiser.

Short, stocky and swarthy, Hashimoto was dressed in wrinkled civilian clothing and wore a slouch felt hat.

The Navy explained he was brought here to testify in an effort to establish definitely whether the Indianalopis was sunk by torpedoes.

Fund Hiked By $62; Now Totals $560.75

Lubbock's Eleventh Annual Goodfellows Christmas Cheer campaign continued to drive ahead today with donations of $560.75 already received and with listings of deserving youngsters mounting. The Goodfellows are seeking a fund of $1,500 to assure Yule gifts to every boy and girl of 14 years of age or younger, residents of the corporate limits of Lubbock, who cannot have a Merry Christmas without the aid of the public.

Chief Goodfellow, anonymous leader of the campaign, continued today to urge the public to aid in two ways: first, by bringing or mailing contributions to Chief Goodfellow, c/o The Avalanche-Journal, 1211-13 Texas avenue; and second, by helping locate every eligible youngster by filling out coupons carried daily by Avalanche-Journal papers. Today's coupon appears on Page 5. Turn there now and follow the instructions if you know of a boy or girl who should be listed.

Donations to date were announced by Chief Goodfellow as follows:

Previously reported	$498.75
S. A. Wells	10.00
Clinton Lackey	10.00
Lonnie Love	1.00
Mr. and Mrs. George A. Sessums	3.00
Mr. and Mrs. Preston E. Smith	10.00
C. E. Lynn	1.00
Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Morgan and two girls	5.00
Kennedy N. Clapp	5.00
W. T. Gaston	5.00
H. W. Petty	5.00
Mrs. W. D. Holt	5.00
Lynn Purdy	2.00
Total	$560.75

Chief Goodfellow reiterated the policy of the organization:

"Through donations," he said, "we are able to deliver a gift package to every needy boy and girl regardless of race, color or creed. We make no distinction, save between the sexes because gift packages for boys necessarily must differ from those for girls if the kids are to be pleased."

He said he hoped the financial end of the campaign could be completed this week, thus leaving the Goodfellow organization plenty of time for handling other details.

Truman's Plan Is Branded As An Evil Mess

GM's Position In Strike Dishonest, UMW Chief Says

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—John L. Lewis delivered a triple blast today against the government, the General Motors company and the CIO-United Automobile Workers in connection with the current automobile strike.

The United Mine Workers chief told the House labor committee that the government could settle the strike in 10 days if it would allow the manufacturers a price which would permit a fair profit. He termed the company's position in the dispute "dishonest" and characterized the UAW's explanation of its strike as "stupid."

Opposes Legislation

Lewis voiced his criticism while testifying against legislation proposed by President Truman to set up fact-finding boards to recommend solution of major industrial disputes.

He referred to the president's proposal as an "evil, vile-smelling mess . . . full of dozens of loopholes that would make it unworkable," and said it was designed only to "appease and protect a few millionaires who find themselves frightened by the growing strength of labor."

Then turning to the General Motors strike, he declared:

"The world knows and Congress ought to know it would be settled in 10 days if the government would give to General Motors a price for cars where they can make and sell them for a fair profit.

Making More Money

"They are making more money now not making cars than if they were producing them full blast, because of the present tax laws.

"And the poor blundering leaders of the UAW picked this time of all times to shut down General Motors, when it would make more

Jap Invasion Plan Forecast

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP) — General George Marshall today upheld the accuracy of the forecasts the Army intelligence division made regarding Japan's major military attack plans in the critical pre-war days before Dec. 7, 1941.

Marshall told a Senate-House inquiry that the Pearl Harbor attack was "a slash but not a proposed invasion at all."

Main Drive To South

He added that the main Japanese offensive was aimed to the south, just as the intelligence division had estimated.

Earlier the five-star former chief of staff had testified that he had held the opinion in November, 1941, that a movement by the Japanese into Thailand and the Gulf of Siam area would involve the United States and Great Britain in war.

Ferguson noted that Marshall and Admiral Harold R. Stark, then chief of naval operations, had sent a memorandum to the late President Roosevelt on Nov. 5, 1941, saying further Japanese aggressive moves should bring retaliation if the Japs moved west of 100 degrees east, or south of 10 degrees north in Thailand.

Japs On The Move

The Michigan senator brought out that on Dec. 6 Ambassador John G. Winant had messaged Washington from London that the Japanese were on the move.

"That message that they were on the move meant war, didn't it?" Ferguson asked.

"I was of the opinion at that time that the governments would be forced to accept a condition

Gen. Ike Proposed As GOP's Nominee

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (UP) — Gen. Wright D. Eisenhower has been proposed as the Republican party's 1948 presidential nominee.

Describing the new Army chief of staff as a "statesman-executive of the highest caliber," Sen. Arthur Capper (R., Kans.), made the proposal last night in a radio address over station WIBW, Topeka. He said he had not discussed the matter with Eisenhower.

Capper said the general's record as supreme commander showed him to be a "statesman, a diplomat, a patriot as well as a soldier —perhaps the closest to George Washington we have ever produced in our national history."

STRIKE CALLED OFF

GALVESTON, Dec. 10. (UP)—A threatened strike of truck drivers failed to develop today after a conference of union members and representatives of the Todd-Galveston Dry Docks, Inc. Union spokesmen announced all differences were settled satisfactorily at the meeting this morning.

Court Defers Action On Yamashita Appeal

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP) — The Supreme court today deferred any action on a request by Japanese Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita that it intervene in the war criminal case which brought his conviction and the death sentence.

Yamashita airmailed to the Supreme court requests that it grant a writ of habeas corpus and also a writ of prohibition, prohibiting continuation of his trial before a military commission in Manila.

Yamashita cabled to the high tribunal a request that it stay his execution pending final action on his case by the court. But the court also failed to act on this request today.

Hurley Again Flays Acheson

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley today charged Under Secretary of State Dean Acheson with wrecking a policy approved by the late President Roosevelt for fighting foreign monopolies, particularly British, in Iran and the Middle East.

Hurley, former ambassador to China, returned to the witness stand of the Senate foreign relations committee immediately after Acheson had told of a meeting in his office in which participants almost came to blows over a charge made by Hurley that a young assistant of Acheson had not had military service and should be in the Army.

Denied Earlier Assertion

Acheson denied an earlier assertion by Hurley that he had wrecked American policy in Iran. Acheson said he had disagreed with some recommendations by Hurley and it was for that reason that the meeting was held in his office.

Hurley read into the record today two letters from former Secretary of State Stettinius and one from the late President Roosevelt to prove, he said, that his proposals had been approved and were in fact American policy for Iran and the Middle East. For this, he argued that Acheson had wrecked the policy.

"I did nothing to wreck the

Clothing, Filling Station Sales Jump

DALLAS, Dec. 10. (UP)—Filling stations and clothing stores are reaping a postwar bonanza in Texas, the Bureau of Census reported today.

A federal check of sales at independent retail stores in the state during October showed the business of filling stations jumped 62 per cent with the end of the war and of gasoline rationing.

With returning servicemen rushing to buy civvies, the sales of apparel stores during October jumped 30 per cent over the same month a year ago, the report said.

Independent retailers as a group reported sales up 24 per cent for the month. The increases ranged from 25 per cent in cities over 100,000 population to 15 per cent in towns of less than 2,500 population.

Unarmed Marine Reports Being Shot By Chinese At Tientsin

TIENTSIN, Dec. 9 (AP) — An unarmed U. S. Marine sergeant was shot from a horse on the outskirts of Tientsin late yesterday and wounded painfully in the face, Marine headquarters said today.

The announcement said the Marine encountered three Chinese civilians at a narrow bridge spanning an irrigation ditch.

Smiled And Fired Guns

The Marine smiled and greeted the Chinese, who also smiled and at the same time drew pistols and began firing, headquarters said.

One bullet struck the Marine in the face and he jumped into the icy waters of the canal. He reported that two of the Chinese followed him along the bank, firing at point blank range, while the third held his horse.

Emptied Their Pistols

The Marine said the two Chinese emptied their pistols, reloaded, and began firing again until at last he made his way out of the canal to a village of mud huts.

The incident followed by four days the slaying of one Marine and the wounding of a second by Chinese gunmen near a village northeast of here. After the previous shooting the Marines fired 24 mortar shells into a village where the gunman took refuge.

Iran Fears Moscow Conference Might Become Another Munich

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (UP)—Hussein Ala, the Iranian ambassador, said today the coming Moscow foreign ministers conference could become "another Munich" if the Big Three compromise Iran's sovereignty.

The conference between Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and his Russian and British counterparts begins in Moscow Saturday. Ala said he planned to see Byrnes before his departure to oppose any step that would violate the three-power pledge of full respect for Iran's territorial and political integrity.

Noting that the British have large oil concessions in Iran, Ala indicated belief that his government's refusal to grant concessions to Russia was partly responsible for current tension in Soviet-Iranian relations.

"Iran has found herself injured by the rivalry of Russia and England," he said "On one side there is the influence of the Tudeh party, supported by the Soviets, and on the other the Iradeh Mell party supported by the British.

"I only hope it will not be a question of bargaining at Moscow and that the U. S. will not be forced to yield on Iran. If the principle of Iran's territorial integrity is not kept, and the gentlemen compromise on principle, the Moscow conference will be another Munich."

Iran repeatedly but unsuccessfully has asked Moscow to withdraw Soviet occupation troops from northwestern Iran and to cease preventing Iranian forces from entering that area to keep order. The U. Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bledsoe of Lubbock are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Kathryn Bledsoe, and Lt. Jack W. Tunnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred V. Tunnell of Cross Plains, which took place Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. W. H. Bledsoe, 1812 Broadway.

Rev. John A. Winslow read a double ring ceremony before the fire place which was decked with white gladioli and fern and flanked with palms and white tapers in candelabra. Bouquets of pink and white gladioli were arranged throughout the house.

The bride wore a street length dress of aqua and carried American Beauty roses. For something old, she wore an engagement bracelet belonging to her grandmother.

Sister Is Attendant

Mrs. Lois Bledsoe Eastus, sister of the bride and matron of honor, wore a dress of silver grey crepe and carried apricot gladioli. Fred J. Tunnell of Lubbock was best man and Mrs. Tunnell presided at a guest book.

At a reception which followed, white carnations and white tapers decorated the bride's table. Candles and white gladioli were arranged on the buffet.

Mother of the bride wore black with a pink carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a black dress with white carnations.

The couple is on a wedding trip in New Mexico.

The bride graduated from Lubbock High school where she was a member of Las Cresas club and attended Texas Technological college. The bridegroom attended John Tarleton college and was a student at Texas A. and M. when he enlisted in the Army Air corps in 1942. He wears the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters, Presidential Unit Citation and the Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with three battle stars. After a leave, Lt. Tunnell will report to March field, Calif., for reassignment.

Out of town wedding guests were Capt. and Mrs. Charles Brodie of Little Rock, Ark., T/Sgt. and Mrs. B. H. Byrd of San Angelo; Mrs. J. N. Tunnell, the bridegroom's grandmother, of Rising Star; the bridegroom's parents and sister, Miss Mary Beth Tunnell; Mr and Mrs. Joe Tunnell of Levelland; Mrs. J. W. Greenway, Levelland; Mrs. J. E. Bucy, Donella and Ann of Wink; and Mrs. Scott Bledsoe, jr., of Beeville.

Traveler-Journalist Speaks To Jaycees

The giant wave of violence that swept the world into war remains behind the horizon to threaten the peace and future of the world with the open minds and hearts of the world's peoples the only hope for a successful meeting of the crisis, Charles A. Wells, world-wide traveler, journalist and cartoonist, told the Junior Chamber of Commerce at their luncheon in the Hilton hotel today noon.

He explained, along with sketches to emphasize his words, the nature of Nazism from the viewpoint of a person who witnessed Hitler's rise to power in Germany and pointed out that the demand of "a change in the world" by people who were suppressed was the cause for violence and trouble, even now raging throughout the world.

The Cross, symbol of Christianity, is the answer to America's peace and prosperity, bringing open minds and hearts and providing a constantly changing way of life through democracy, Wells said.

Wells is to speak to each of the civic clubs of Lubbock during the week and will make nightly lectures at the First Baptist church. He was introduced by Dr. C. E. Hereford, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Glenn Woody, president, presided at the luncheon-meeting.

Airlines President

Airline Chiefs To Visit Here

A party of Continental airlines official headed by Robert F. Six, president, will make a survey trip this week over the new route from Tulsa to El Paso via Lubbock, it was announced this morning from Denver.

Six said the officals who will confer with officials here Wednesday in regard to Feb. 15 inauguration of service along the route serving Tulsa, Oklahoma City, Wichita Falls, Lubbock, Hobbs and Carlsbad would include O. R. Haueter, vice president in charge of operations; Donald A. Duff, executive assistant, traffic and sales; W. E. Amlong, executive assistant; L. H. Dennis, manager of flight service; and R. F. McKee, operations engineer.

Fly Twin-Engine Plane

They will fly one of the twin-engine planes which will supply cities of the route with northeast-southwest air transportation for the first time and which will link cities in the heart of one of the richest oil producing regions of the world with Tulsa and Oklahoma City, where many of the principal officers of the oil companies operating in the region are located.

Sizable saving in travel time will be made possible by the establishment of the new route. For example, travel by surface transportation between Lubbock and Wichita Falls requires 7 hours and 30 minutes. Via air the trip will take only 1 hour and 5 minutes. It now requires 19 hours and 30 minutes to go from Tulsa to Lubbock, but the new air route will reduce the time to 2 hours and 45 minutes. Travel time between Lubbock and Hobbs, where surface travel facilities are limited, will be only 40 minutes by Continental's new route.

The El Paso-Tulsa route will add 516 new miles to the Continental system, which now totals 2,333 miles and serves 23 cities in six states. Establishment of the route will bridge together two of Continental's present routes, thus further integrating the Continental system and making possible more efficient operation.

News Briefs

There was no damage when a gas stove flared too high Sunday at 1720 Ave. A, firemen who answered an alarm said. The blaze had been extinguished upon arrival of fire-fighting equipment.

Theft of two pipe wrenches and a tarpaulin from Olen Farris of 2403 Sixth, a $125 tarpaulin from Fred Graves of 2012 Ave. U, an overcoat from Durwood Mears of 2012 Twenty-sixth and an overcoat, gloves and a camera from E. B. Wilson of Slaton was reported Sunday to Lubbock police.

Seaman 1/c E. V. Crites, who has returned from 14 months of duty in the Pacific theater, is in Lubbock for a 30-day-leave visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Crites of 2409 Twentieth. Crites is an armed guard in the Navy. He will report to Dallas for further assignment.

Annual financial drive for Lubbock Boy Scouts will be held Tuesday. It will be launched with a "kick-off" breakfast at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning in Hilton hotel. Campaign workers will be representatives of local civic clubs. With each worker assigned five persons to be called on, the drive is expected to be completed in an hour or more, according to Earl B. Collins, general chairman.

County court fines of $100 and court costs were levied this morning by Judge Walter Davies after Carl Mercer, 36, of San Angelo and Edwin Wallace, 26, of Lubbock route 1 had pleaded guilty of liquor law violation. Mercer pleaded innocent in another case, charging drunk driving, and bond of $500 was set.

World Traveler Is Speaker In Lubbock

"America is in no danger of socialism if we Christianize our capitalists, but, if un-Christian, power hungry labor leadership continues in endless conflict with spiritually indifferent, monopolistic individual leadership, we will have socialism in some new American form, just as England, France, Scandinavian countries and most of Europe have gone socialistic in various ways," Charles A Wells, newspaper cartoonist, writer and world traveler, told a capacity congrgation Sunday night at First Baptist church.

"The violence of Russia had no counterpart in the London laborite victory," Wells said. "Nearly all laborites of England are Christian gentlemen; many of them devout churchmen and only one or two communists in the entire party. They are socialists but not Marxian atheistic communists, as many of their enemies have tried to maintain."

The week's conferences on "Christ and the World Need" continue tonight when Wells speaks at 7:30 o'clock at the First Baptist church on "Why Did We Fight in Asia," and at which time he will give the "Christian side of the story of Pearl Harbor."

At the end of World War II, American refineries were making more than 500,000 barrels of aviation gasoline a day, or about 85 per cent of the world's production.

Commissioners OK Typhus Control Plan

County commissioners this morning passed a resolution of agreement in connection with a typhus control program inaugurated by the city of Lubbock and the U. S. Public Health service, agencies working under the state board of health. They agreed to pay half the expense for such services in rural towns of Lubbock county commencing Jan. 1, provided the county's expenses would not exceed $75 monthly and that the first of the proposed quarterly programs proves effective. The county then would support the campaign in all of 1946.

Bond of V. K. Hays as public weigher of justice precinct 1 was approved. Plat and dedication of Murphy place was approved, as it earlier had been done by the city engineer. Plat and dedication of East Acres, a residential addition near the experiment substation was approved subject to approval of the city engineer.

Special Bills Allowed

Special bills were allowed: $616.31 to R. B. George company for machinery parts, $123.93 to Graham Paint and Paper company for paint. It was voted to transfer $750 from road and bridge fund No. 5 to the county library fund.

Commissioners are Barrett Penney, Ben Mansker, T. L. Holt and Vol J. Farris. County Judge Walter Davies presided, and Louie F. Moore, county clerk, acted as secretary. Newton Stokes, former commissioner of precinct 3, attended in support of the anti-typhus campaign proposal.

The court planned to meet again this afternoon after a noon recess.

Naval Intelligence Closes Office Here

The Office of Naval Intelligence, Lubbock branch located in the post office building has closed, effective today, it has been announced.

Lt. Commander Roy Bass, officer in charge, will leave late today for Camp Wallace, Galveston, for separation from the Navy. Bass will return to Lubbock after discharge to make his home. He plans to practice law here, opening offices in the Lubbock National bank building shortly after January 1.

Herbert L. Hobson, Sp. (X) 1-c, who has been connected with the office for the past seven months, has left for duty in the Dallas intelligence office.

Help Prevent Worse Cuts in Our Soap Supply
WHERE THERE'S FAT, THERE'S SOAP!

Your Used Fats Are Still Needed To Help Ease The Soap Shortage
As long as our country's supply of industrial fats is so low, the government must determine how much fat can be released to make soap and other peacetime goods you need.
Any let-down in your saving of used kitchen fats will make our fat supply even less . . . and the amount allowed for soap manufacture may have to be cut accordingly. The end of rationing of food fats doesn't change the picture. Industrial fats are still very short. So keep turning in your used fats, won't you? . . . and speed the return of more soaps to your dealer's shelves.

President Truman Is Getting Brush-Off From GM Strikers

BY FRED W. PERKINS
Special Correspondent

DETROIT, Dec. 10 — President Truman should not be too downcast about the brush-off he's getting from General Motors strikers in his request that they go back to work.

President Roosevelt received the same kind of negative response in similar pleas in wartime to the United Mine Workers — but the miners kept on voting for him again and again and again.

A Bruch-off All Right

It's a brush-off for Mr. Truman all right. These workers are not going back to work right away, and as of today it appears their strike, largest in the reconversion picture, may go past Christmas and New Year's day.

Walter Reuther, who is leading the strike, said response of the rank and file should be known today or tomorrow. But the local unions are going about it deliberately, and the complete vote is not expected before the end of the week. This deliberation means the men are in no hurry to get back to work.

Much speculation here centers around negotiations of the automobile workers' union with the Ford Motor Co. This company, like General Motors, has been served with a demand for a 30 per cent wage increase. Ford could break the logjam in the automotive industry by agreeing to the union's wage demands, but Ford will not take that step immediately.

The Ford negotiations are being conducted in an atmosphere more cordial than that of General Motors. The Ford people meet with the unionists in a swanky hotel suite, while the GM spokesmen do their talking in a drab room of the General Motors building. Ford, as "the great independent," might make the first break, but nothing is sure at this stage.

Secretary Schwellenbach is due here today, but apparently only for the purpose of addressing the Detroit chapter of the National Lawyers guild.

"There is no break in the General Motors strike; the big plants are still idle; the pickets make their rounds in a renewed cold wave; the women fix sandwiches and coffee for their men on the picket lines; and there is no violence.

Not Yet Half Way

Among the strikers you hear talk about the 45 days it required the union to win its recognition fight in 1937. They remind you that this strike for reconversion wages has not yet gone half that far.

Meanwhile Detroit department stores report that Saturday was their best Christmas shopping day since 1929.

The pickets go around and around, and the negotiators meet and report no progress or not much, and the Christmas trees blaze and a lot of people are losing a lot of money and apparently not giving much of a damn about it.

Chinese Nationalist Soldier Is Stoical And Obedient, Virtues Which Are Liked By Brass Hats, And He's Good Fighter

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHINHSIEN, Manchuria, Dec 10—Some notes on the Chinese Nationalist soldier:

Above all he is obedient and stoical. These are both virtues and defects of his people but they are qualities liked by all military leaders.

He will stand for hours on guard duty in thin canvas and rubber shoes, shouldering his rifle uncomplainingly in light cotton gloves. He will stand there until he freezes if he isn't relieved—and in Manchuria some are freezing to death.

Will Fight Well

He will fight well, particularly if he is in one of the American trained outfits, but he doesn't know too well what he is fighting for. He is probably a conscript because there are comparatively few volunteers.

He is almost certainly from a poor family and usually off the farm. If he were a rich man's son or had money himself he could buy his way out by paying "squeeze" dough to the right man—just as wealthy men during the American Civil war hired substitutes to fight for them.

People who know both armies say the Chinese Communist ranks contain more volunteers and therefore more idealists.

Likes U. S. Weapons

He likes his American weapons, especially if he has a tommy gun. He can use it well too. Those who get to drive jeeps—perhaps one in 10,000—are crazy about them. They drive like madmen and use the horn instead of brake and have a high casualty influence on animal and human pedestrians.

He is an illiterate tyrant but rarely cruel. He is more insensible to pain than the European soldier and sometimes laughs where other men would cry.

He has a tendency to believe women were created solely for his own pleasure and has the habit of entering homes of Japanese widows after dark without knocking. But Japanese troops working under them are treated tolerantly.

He subsists on food that would turn a hard-living American Marine's nose skyward in howling anger. Transportation is so bad in China that an army must live off the countryside.

He Likes Americans

He likes Americans. If he is standing by when a Chinese merchant tries to charge an American soldier three bucks for a two-buck fur cap, he promptly interferes and tells the merchant to go to the Chinese hades.

He hardly knows what medicines are. He is sick most often from dysentery because he doesn't know what sanitation means any more than he can spell it. If he gets a really serious illness nature must pull him through. Each Army has only one well-trained doctor.

Like fighting men all over the world, he loves to drink and gamble. He is the bettingest soldier in existence and will gamble on any thing from a horse race to the number of hairs on Chiang Kai-Shek's head.

Chaplain To Receive Congressional Medal

BROWNWOOD, Dec. 10 (U.P.) — Capt. Henry Grady Spraggins hoped today he would be granted his request to receive his Congressional Medal of Honor at Howard Payne college at Brownwood.

Capt. Spraggins, an army chaplain, is being cited for heroism at Bastogne, Dec. 12, 1944. It was believed he is the only chaplain ever to receive the medal from President Truman.

Spraggins was cited for protecting the security of a command post and saving the life of a lieutenant. He did the latter while wounded himself. It was while he was going after litter-bearers for the lieutenant whom he dragged to safety that the chaplin was stopped by two German SS troopers. They demanded to know the location of the command post in the sector and kicked and beat Spraggins when he refused the information.

Spraggins awoke 17 days later in a Paris hospital. He had been unconscious all the while. He was told his body had been marked "dead," and that when found he was beneath five inches of snow.

Capt. Spraggins' wife and son live with his 82-year-old father, H. C. Spraggins, near Warren, Ark., place of the chaplain's birth.

Before he entered the ministry, Spraggins was an independent oil operator, and once owned a night club in Houston.

Man Refuses State Or Federal Money

WEATHERFORD, Dec. 10 (U.P.)—Meet a man who is eligible but who won't apply for or accept an old age pension from the state or federal government.

Meet Ray Bachman, white-mustached, ruddy-complexioned oldster of 83 years who won't take a pension because old age payments are made partially with money derived from liquor and beer taxes.

One of the few such persons in Texas, Bachman has avoided old age pensions because of his attitude toward intoxicants.

As a youth he drank both beer and liquor, but just before his 21st birthday he made a vow never to touch intoxicants again.

He never has.

WILL THERE BE A STEEL STRIKE?

Not if the CIO abides by its pledged word, given only last spring.

Question: What would be the general effect on the country of a steel strike?

Answer: Over 40 per cent of all the factory workers in the country earn their living by making steel into useful products for American life. A shut-down of the steel industry would be a disastrous blow to reconversion and would cause a serious loss in both wages and industrial production at a time when they were most needed.

Question: Is it true that the Steelworkers Union has pledged itself not to strike?

Answer: Yes. Every contract which the Union has signed this year with the various steel companies has a clause wherein the Union agrees not to strike during the life of the contract.

Question: Are those contracts still in effect?

Answer: Yes. They were signed in the spring of 1945 to run until October, 1946.

Question: Who signed for the Union?

Answer: Its international officials— Philip Murray, Van Bittner, Clinton Golden and others—and the local Union heads at the various plants.

Question: Is there no "escape clause" by which either side could end the agreements?

Answer: No. The Union demanded a fixed, long-term contract and got it.

Question: Why did they want a long-term contract?

Answer: In the Union's own words before the War Labor Board, "The Union's request for a termination date of October, 1946, is not made capriciously or pressed here for bargaining purposes. it represents the considered view of the Union that only such a term will adequately serve the needs of stability."

Question: Did the recent strike vote violate the contracts?

Answer: No. Only an actual strike would violate them.

Question: Haven't there been strikes already during the life of the contracts?

Answer: Yes. There were 998 strikes in steel plants during the past year alone. They were mostly local strikes which the Union characterizes as "wildcat," but they meant a big loss in production.

Question: Does the end of the war justify changing the contracts?

Answer: No. The bond was sealed on both sides and should be kept whether times be good or bad. The steel companies are continuing to live up to these agreements. If a strike is called, it will be in clear violation of the existing contracts.

A strike in the face of existing contracts would shatter any confidence in the validity of union agreements in the steel industry.

New Cabinet For Italians

ROME, Dec. 10 (AP)—After grappling for 16 days with the problem of forming a new Italian cabinet, Premier-Designate Alcide de Gasperi announced today that he finally had completed a government consisting of representatives of all the country's six major political parties.

The new cabinet, which must be approved by Crown Prince Umberto and the Allied commission, contains only three ministers who had not previously served in the coalition government of Ferruccio Parri, whose resignation on Nov. 24 precipitated a political crisis.

De Gasperi a Christian Democratic party leader, retained the portfolio of foreign minister, which he held in the Parri cabinet.

Newcomers Listed

Newcomers to the government were Manio Brosi, liberal, who was named minister of war; Epicarmino Corbino, liberal, minister of the treasury, and Ricardo Lombardi, action party, minister of transportation.

The post of minister of public works, scheduled to go to a member of the liberal party, remained temporarily unfilled.

Under the armistice terms, the Allied commission must pass on the ministers of War, Navy and Aviation. Inasmuch as the ministers of Navy and Aviation, Rafaelle De Courtin (independent) and Mario Cevolotto (Labor Democrat), previously had been approved as members of Parri's cabinet, no difficulties were anticipated.

Strike Said Stupid

money not operating than producing.

"The dishonesty on one side by the company is equal only to the stupidity on the other side for that labor organization.

"I hope Congress won't equal that stupidity by enacting this proposed legislation for fact-finding boards.

Would Produce Turmoil

"I don't think Congress wants to bring about the turmoil that this bill would produce.

"If you take away my liberty, I fight you, I care not who you are. I say that for myself and I say that for labor."

Mr. Truman's plan is incorporated in a bill which would employ fact-finding boards to recommend solutions of major industrial disputes. The measure would authorize 30-day bans on strikes while the board functioned.

Legislation Attacked

Attacking several sections of the suggested legislation, Lewis asserted:

"Why should the 50,000,000 gainfully employed persons of this nation be placed in statutory irons by this legislation?"

"This measure would restrict the privilege of free labor. It would neutralize labor's strength," he said.

"When industry and finance make such proposals they are guilty of taking the first step to create a corporate or absolute state which in the end would regulate the activities of all citizens."

Speaking casually, Lewis declared the proposed legislation should be entitled "a bill to relieve economic destitution of college professors."

This remark was in reference to the bill's provision that members of fact-finding boards may receive as much as $100 a day.

Lewis said there "would be no facts of consequence for the penal to secure that are not well known anyway."

The statistics of cost of living are always available, Lewis said, although he questioned their reliability.

Industry's ability to pay wage increases is not a factor, Lewis asserted, since it always can raise prices to compensate.

"If this is the kind of legislation you want, I have no doubt that you can get it," Lewis declared. "But I haven't yet accepted the theory that that's what Americans want."

President Truman proposed this fact finding approach to the current labor problem last week and immediately stirred up a wave of labor protest.

One of the key issues in handling of the presidentially-requested measure will be how fast the labor committee acts. Proponents want to speed it to the floor before the House military committee calls up another bill to regulate unions. Foes want to continue hearings indefinitely in hopes of pigeonholing the plan.

The House leadership has agreed to floor consideration Tuesday of the military group's bill, which would restrict political activity by unions and penalize them for striking in violation of contract pledges.

Chairman May (D-Ky) has announced, however, that he will not insist on a vote "if the labor committee acts promptly."

Wednesday the Senate labor committee begins hearings on the presidential plan, and the House opens debate on a bill to establish a government policy of maintaining a "high level of employment, production and purchasing power." This measure is substitute for the so-called "full employment" legislation repeatedly asked by Mr. Truman.

MARKET HITS PEAK

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP) — Led by steels and industrial specialties, the stock market today hit another 15-year average peak although there was sufficient profit cashing to stall many pivotals.

Dealings from the start were among the liveliest of the past six months despite intermittent slowdowns. Extreme advances running to 2 or more points were reduced in the majority of instances near the close.

Transfers were around 2,200,000 shares. Touching new highs for the move were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Panhandle Producing, General Motors, Packard, Studebaker and Pacific Mills. The last-named jumped better than 4 points on a 2-for-1 split-up proposal.

Assorted railway bonds tilted upward.

eral hundred votes to the city's "off-year" voting strength of approximately 3,000 votes.

Service men and veterans need only to present discharge papers to election judges to satisfy the requirement of a poll tax in the election. They must also conform to the requirement that they own taxable property within the city limits of Lubbock and "have surrendered their property for taxation in a due, fit and becoming manner."

Polls Open At 8 A.M.

Central Fire station, corner of Tenth and Ave. J, is the only polling place for the election. Polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. R. Bush Smith, W. E. Ballew, Glen Hess, Knox Thomas, and Lewis Murfee are election judges.

City officials and bond campaign leaders were citing the fact today that even though every proposition on the bond program was approved, Lubbock's tax rate would not be as high, after an estimated 40-cent raise due to the bonds, as a major portion of cities of similar size in Texas. Lubbock's present tax rate is 85 cents on the $100 valuation.

All of the bonds to be voted on will be tax revenue bonds with an interest rate of "not exceeding 3½ per cent" over a period of 25 years.

into the same category as those of the UAW for the first time and possibly endanger the progress which has marked UE-GM talks so far.

Such a strike would bring to 98 the number of GM plants closed by the wage-gain dispute. A total of 200,000 workers would be on strike, and another 5,000 office workers would be added to the 50,000 now idle.

While negotiations were renewed by the UAW and General Motors in an effort to avert threatened federal interventoin, labor leaders watched Washington for possible White House reaction to the UAW's latest blast against President Truman.

In rejecting Mr. Truman's appeal for a return to work, the GM strikers' conference accused the president of seeking to destroy labor's right to strike.

In 1918, the military forces of the Allies consumed about 39,000 barrels of gasoline a day. In World War II, the total was 800,000 a day.

Second Youth Dies Of Crash Injuries

AUSTIN, Dec. 10. (U.P.)—A. W. Drill, jr., 17, died shortly after 6 o'clock this morning at Brackenridge hospital, second member of the Austin High school football team to become a victim of a Saturday automobile wreck.

Funeral of George Photo, also 17, who died shortly after the accident between Buda and Kyle, was held yesterday afternoon from St. David's Episcopal church here. Members of the Maroon football squad were pall bearers.

Drill died without having regained consciousness. His skull had been badly fractured and he also suffered a deep chest injury. Pfc. Leroy Foxworth, Dallas, a soldier with whom Brill and Photo were riding, was under care at Brooke General hospital, San Antonio.

The boys were returning from the Jefferson-Brownsville football game at San Antonio when the car in which they were riding hit a truck. Other members of the Austin team were in another car following.

Nazi Estimates

Maj. Gen. Erwin Lahousen, star prosecution witness and German Army intelligence chief who evaluated the fighting qualities of various Allied armies from the German viewpoint in an exclusive interview with the Associated Press.

General George S. Patton, jr., was looked upon as the best and most feared of the American field commanders by the Germans, Lahousen said.

The German Army "underestimated" the American Army at the start of the war, looking upon American soldiers as "well-fed football players," the German general said, but soon learned its error. He said that at the end of the war there was little difference, from a German viewpoint, in the American, British or Russian armies, but early in the war the Russians were better at exploiting breakthroughs and more daring in leadership.

Outstanding In Field

"In a tactical or dashing sense in military operations, Patton was no doubt the outstanding American general," Lahousen continued. "In order to be perfectly clear, I mean that Patton was outstanding as a leader of troops in the field. He had the necessary military and tactical ability to carry out operations that had been planned and prepared by Eisenhower, who was the great planner and who had the necessary political insight to carry out those plans, in contrast to the German generals who were experts on the battlefield but who would have been as helpless as children had they faced a similar situation."

Lahousen declared that if the Allies had been a bit more daring in Tunisia they would have wiped out the German forces before they could have been reinforced.

Merits Are Evaluated

In evaluating the merits of the various armies, Lahousen, who handled or saw all German intelligence records, had this to say:

"Before the war, the opinion among the German Army staff was that America was an extremely rich country, which had at its disposal all the resources needed to wage war, but that they would not be able to give war the leadership necessary to make proper use of all these resources. When we did get in contact with the American Army we found that there was a great difference from what we had expected and that we had under-estimated the quality of military, tactical and operational leadership.

"The Allies learned exploitation of favorable opportunities toward the final phase of the war. The Russians had it right along."

News Briefs

D. G. Foreman of Fort Worth, state executive secretary of the Texas Association of Insurance Agents is to speak at a regional meeting of members of the association at Lubbock hotel Tuesday. T. W. Stoneroad of Lubbock, regional vice president, will preside at sessions opening at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. An attendance of between 50 and 60 insurance men from over the area is expected.

Charges of burglary of the residence of Earl Reddell were filed this morning in the court of D. W. Robertson, justice of peace, naming Bobby Gene Sanders, Hubert Brown and Melton Wilburn Godwin. They were signed by Charles Lackey, city detective, and filed by District Attorney Burton S. Burks for investigation by a grand jury. The youths, two of them 18 and the other 20, also had been charged in justice of peace and county court in connection with theft charges, one of them a felony accusation. Much stolen property in various South Plains counties had been identified in connection with the cases, investigators said.

Condition of John LeMond, Lubbock constable, remained disturbing today in St. Mary's hospital, where he suffered of kidney and liver ailments, his physician said. However, LeMond was recovering satisfactorily from surgery undergone 10 days ago for removal of a tumor. LeMond had lived in recent months at Amarillo and in New Mexico, friends said.

COLD WEATHER MAY REDUCE FLU IN CITY

Old Man Winter's traditional icy fingers this morning got in the best grip on the season on the Lubbock area, with a low official reading of 13 degrees, and Dr. J. W. Rollo, city health officer, predicted that the drop might serve to reduce influenza which has been raging in the city during the last ten days.

Today's seasonal record followed Sunday weather which was as pesky as weather can be. Though the sun was out much of the day, its rays were more than offset by a gusty north wind which made garments feel as if they were useless. The breeze, in addition, whipped up dust which did throats and lungs, already raw because of colds, no good at all. Yesterday's low temperature was 25.

To Purify Atmosphere

With the sun shining, the mercury at 10 o'clock this morning had climbed to 22 and there was a minimum of wind.

Dr. Rollo said the "snapper" probably will "purify" the atmosphere, lessening danger of contracting the "flu" germ. While incidence of "flu" continues high in the city, the health officer ventured the opinion that it is "dying out."

He termed current cases as mild and that few develop with "complications." However, there are several cases of pneumonia in the city, many of them under treatment at local hospitals. Pneumonia cases along with those of "flu" recently have taxed already overburdened hospital facilities.

Should Go To Bed

At the first symptom of "that aching feeling," one should go to bed and stay there until the ailment passes, Dr. Rollo advised. Rest is the best cure, he said. It would even be better, he added, if one went to bed whenever first developing a cold.

"Influenza never kills anybody," he said. "It's the complications that grow out of 'flu' which kill."

Absentees in the local school system continued high this morning, school officials reported. At Junior High an estimated 400 were out of school this morning and at Senior High 150 were out. Most of them were believed sickness cases. A proportionate absentee list was reported from elementary schools.

Plainview reported one of the state's lowest temperatures with a minimum of 12 degrees. The mercury tumbled to 14 at Snyder.

Hope Dims In Search For Missing Fliers

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 10 (U.P.)—Hope dimmed today for 27 naval airmen who disappeared last week.

The Navy said last night that a previous report that life rafts with two men on them had been sighted was false. Maj. Chandler Estes, of Athens, Ga., based at Elgin Field, Fla., circled his B-24 bomber low over the reported rafts and found them to be packing cases.

SCALPERS BEWARE

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (U.P.)—Birmingham's police commissioner, Eugene (Bull) Connor, has declared formal war on ticket scalpers at football games. In a letter to Chief of Police C. Floyd Eddins, he requested that a special detail be assigned to work "on nothing else but these ticket racketeers," and promised to do all he could to see that the scalpers do not have the easy pickings they have had here in past years, when tickets were sold for $25 and $30 and even higher.

United States policy in Iran," Acheson told the committee. He then related this story:

Early in 1944 Hurley wrote to President Roosevelt outlining a set of ideas and suggestions for policy in the Middle East. The president sent it to the State department which found "practical difficulties" in the proposal.

The chief difference of opinion arose over lend-lease arrangements with the British. Hurley wanted to discontinue the use of a British corporation for distribution of lend-lease goods.

"My views were in part critical," Acheson said.

Hurley said last week that underlings double-crossed him in China and that Acheson "defeated" American policy in Iran. Both President Truman and Secretary of State Byrnes later said they knew of no such actions concerning Iran, and Byrnes also denied the charges as to China.

Reaction Of Soldiers To Religion Told As Attorney Speaks To Methodist Men

The realization that they weren't among friends and alone with their own feelings proved a great shock to a lot of soldiers and some turned more strongly toward religion while others turned away from it entirely, Hugh Anderson, Lubbock attorney recently discharged from the Army after service in the Pacific, said in a talk to the Methodist Men's club at Lubbock hotel today noon.

"If you had any troubles, you were told to see the chaplain, but the chaplain was a pretty busy man," Anderson said. "They worked all the time, trying to hold church services for as many of the men as possible.

Death Was Impersonal

"A soldier was trained to look upon death as an impersonal thing and this had a lot to do with his attitude on religion," Anderson said. "It would be quite a task to get a group of men here and tell them that tomorrow they were supposed to kill everybody in the 1100-block on Broadway. But that was the way soldiers were trained. They were told that the enemy area was to be wiped out. The enemy was impersonal and individuals didn't matter. As a result the boys, or some of them, became calloused toward death and after-life.

Anderson declared that Christianity among the natives of the Pacific islands aided Allied forces and wherever you found Christian natives, they were invariably on the Allied side.

Often Busy On Sunday

Regarding churches, he declared that as soon as an installation had been on an island for any length of time, there usually was constructed a church or chapel and regular worship was conducted.

"Of course, there wasn't any 40-hour week there and sometimes the boys were as busy on Sunday as any other time and couldn't take time out for church, but usually an effort was made to let them off sometime during the day for services," Anderson said. He declared there "wasn't a more beautiful church in the Pacific than the one constructed by the American soldiers, sailors and Marines on Treasure island." The native church had been destroyed by the Japs and the boys set to work and constructed a beautiful church of mahogany, teakwood, bamboo and coral.

Tommie McWilliams, recently discharged from the Navy, and Lt. A. C. Loo of Midland Army Air field, a Chinese soldier, were guests at the luncheon.

Three Dead In Texas Wrecks

HOUSTON, Dec. 10. (U.P.)—Traffic accidents for the weekend today counted a toll of three dead and 10 injured in the Houston area.

The dead were:

George Kleinworth, 49, of Houston.

Mrs. George Kleinworth, 36, his wife.

Lewis A. Hougonin, 66, of Tomball.

The Kleinworths were killed Sunday morning when their car collided head-on with another automobile eight miles from Houston on the Hempstead highway.

Daughter Also Hurt

Their daughter, Mrs. Jane Qualtrough, 18, was seriously injured in the accident. A friend, Lt. Thomas Rougas, escaped with minor cuts and bruises.

Hougonin, a carpenter, was killed when a car in which he was riding turned over Saturday night after a head-on collision near Magnolia, Tex.

Four of the 10 injured persons in the Houston vicinity were reported in critical conditions.

Finnish Composer Is Honored On Birthday

HELSINKI, Dec. 10. (AP) — The Finnish government presented composer Jean Sibelius an annual pension of $1680 on his eightieth birthday.

The composer was flooded with congratulatory telegrams in his suburban Helsinki villa. Many messages came from England and the United States. A richly bound book with signatures and sentiments of 18 Soviet composers also was presented.

Sibelius' daughter, Eva, said the composer was in good health and "brilliant humor." Members of the Finnish government visited him at his home and a choir composed of representatives of local choirs of Finland sang for him.

"Me...I'm staying in the Army!

THERE ARE PLENTY OF REASONS...AND HERE THEY ARE!"

1 "First, I keep my present grade. That means a lot.

2 "By reenlisting for 3 years I can pick my own branch of service in the Air, Ground or Service Forces, and if I desire I can select any of the overseas theaters.

3 "I get $50 a year reenlistment bonus for each year I've been in the Army. I get my mustering-out pay, too. My dependents receive family allowances for the full term of my enlistment. And I'll be eligible for GI Bill of Rights benefits when I get out of the Army.

4 "My food, clothes, quarters, medical and dental care are all supplied to me. And I can learn any of 200 skills or trades in the Army schools.

5 "All of us who are reenlisting are going to have from 30 to 90 days' furlough at home with full pay and our travel paid both ways. And we'll have 30 days' furlough every year with pay.

6 "Any time after 20 years I can retire at half pay increasing year by year to three-quarters retirement pay after 30 years of service. And the time I've already served in active military or naval service counts toward my retirement time. Added up—reenlistment looks good to me!"

Mississippi, Suh, Is Dry, But There Are Plenty Of Liquor Spots Around The State

BY JIM G. LUCAS
Special Correspondent

JACKSON, Miss., Dec. 10—Mississippi, suh, is dry.

So dry that, as of last night, it had:

722 retail liquor dealers.

136 retail wine and malt dealers.

7 major wholesale liquor warehouses.

That's a total of 865 liquor merchants in a state of 2,183,794 population. In the first nine months of 1945 these dealers did $5,340,722.79 worth of business.

Three Dry States

Kansas, Oklahoma and Mississippi are the only dry states. Unlike the others, Mississippi does not have constitutional prohibition. The legislature could repeal the dry law tomorrow. But it won't. Not if the WCTU, the Anti-Saloon league, the churches and the bootleggers have anything to say about it—and they do.

Mississippi has tried everything. It once had a "quart-a-day" law. When the 1890 constitution was adopted, it had open saloons. Along about 1900 the legislature prohibited the sale of any beverage "which if drunk to excess will produce intoxication."

Always Find A Way

But Mississippians tell you with bland complacecy, they've always been able to find a way to "legalize the illegal."

Perhaps it's because they remember back to 1932 when they suddenly realized they had only $1320 in the treasury and were $14 million in debt. Certainly, Mississippians haven't been happy to see thousands of Mississippi-earned dollars poured into the coffers of neighboring wet states.

Mississippi's solution was simple. They kept the dry law and they collected the tax. The 1944 legislature enacted a 10 per cent black market tax. Technically, it applies to everything. Actually it is a whisky tax, assessed only against the bootlegger.

Collector Is Chosen

Governor Bailey selected Carl Craig, former state auditor and a prohibitionist, as black market tax collector.

In 19 months, Prohibitionist Craig has collected $961,068. He's a little apologetic about that, but he explains he spent his first three months "getting organized." He has spent approximately $86,000 for administration. This includes pay for himself, an attorney, eight field men, an office staff of five girls, and unlisted tipsters and undercover men.

"You can't run this like a Sunday school," said Mr. Craig, who is a Sunday school teacher.

He is proud he has reduced the number of liquor dealers from 1465 to 865. The 10 per cent black market tax (and bootleggers also pay the two per cent sales tax) has been too much for the small fry. Only the fittest have survived—and grown fitter.

Not His Job

Mr. Craig isn't interested in enforcing the liquor law. That's not his job. He admits, in passing, he once helped put a bootlegger behind bars after he collected the tax, but he explains "the guy was no good." All he is after, in most cases, is the tax.

Harrison county, which includes Gulfport and Biloxi on the coast, contributes $30,000 a month black market tax. Pete Martin, who runs the Broadwater Beach hotel at Gulfport, kicks in about $2,000 a month, depending on how many soldiers are stationed there.

The bulk of Mississippi's quasi-legal liquor comes from Louisiana and Illinois. Federal alcohol tax men keep watchers at Baton Rouge and New Orleans. Once a month, they send a man to check records in Illinois. If they find a man doesn't have a federal permit, he's yanked up before a federal judge.

Task Is Simple

Mr. Craig's task is simple. He just ambles over to the federal building, copies the internal revenue lists, and slaps on the black market tax. They pay.

Shipping whisky into Mississippi isn't hard. When a bootlegger makes a purchase, say at Baton Rouge, he gets a bill of lading to Florida or Georgia. If he's stopped, he claims he's in transit. Nothing wrong about that. State cops don't want to risk a lawsuit—they've had their instructions—and they let him go. Somewhere in Mississippi the truck stops, discharges its cargo, and heads back home. As simfple as that.

It's really quite a business. In Rosedale, the home of House Speaker Walter Sillers, the Rosedale package liquor store supports the county charity hospital. And also does a nice business.

Yep, Mississippi is dry — with some exceptions of course.

Officer Takes Cafe Owner At His Word, Comes In To Collect Nice, Juicy Steak

MINEOLA, Dec. 10. (AP) — Lester J. Cooper was embarrassed when he was recently caught in Dallas with his points off, but he did a "double take" when a Dallas police chief walked into his cafe here over the week end waving a letter guaranting a free juicy steak.

Cooper told a Dallas News reporter yesterday that a couple of weeks ago he drove to Dallas to see Office of Price administration officials about getting more red points and was given a parking ticket for overtime.

"If I ever come to Dallas again and can find a parking place, I'll pay the fine. But—if you come to Mineola to arrest me I'll give you a nice, juicy steak."

Over the week end Chief Hansson walked into Cooper's cafe, ordered a steak, presented Cooper with his card and the letter.

Cooper said he had never seen the letter before. He said his wife had written it and signed his name to it.

But Cooper got still another surprise when Hansson, smiling broadly, paid for the steaks.

Screen Story About Army Newspaper Is Tough For Writers

BY BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 10 — Ex-Sgts. Bud Hutton and Andy Rooney have a problem in writing the screen story of the Stars and Stripes.

Rooney and Hutton are two of the Army paper's founding fathers, and were commissioned by MGM to write a movie about it. "The trouble with this job," they say, "is that we can't use a lot of stuff because people wouldn't believe it."

Not A Battle Picture

"Stars and Stripes" will not be a battle picture, through choice of its authors and because such films now lack box office impact. The battles in the picture will be mainly between the paper's staff and generals.

The choicest story in Stars and Stripes history was during the siege of Strasbourg. American troops evacuated the German city but not the Stars and Stripes staff. They stayed and printed their paper, sending it back to the American lines. A courtmartial order later came to the office because of the incident, but the staff put it into the "out" basket marked "disapproved."

To Acquire Fighters

Frank Sinatra is reported making plans to acquire a "stable" of prize fighters . . . Several universities are now organizing departments to train students for motion picture work. After "California," Ray Milland plans his first vacation since the war. He'll take a two-month trip to New York and Rio . . . George Montgomery out of the Army today . . . Versatile Margaret O'Brien will portray a ballet student in "Ballerina."

Generals are movie fans just as you and I. Lt. Gen. Robert Eichelberger told Kay Kyser he would like to see some movie stars. So Kay whipped up a reception at which the general met Gary Cooper, Gracie Allen, Lana Turner (with Robert Hutton again), George Murphy, Marguerite Chapman, Allan Jones, Red Skelton, etc. But the general seemed most interested in the Goldwyn girls.

FUNERAL AT DALLAS

DALLAS, Dec. 10. (AP) — Funeral services were planned here today for Mrs. Adelaide McClellan Dazey, for many years director of a men's dormitory of the University of Texas, who died at a local hospital Saturday night.

The Ft. Warren, Wyo., separation center is discharging men at the rate of 200 daily.

CONTAGIOUS COLDS NOW SPREADING!

Fewer colds!... Shorter colds! 50% less sickness from colds! ...that's the certified record of Vicks Plan in a great medically-supervised winter test among 2650 children. Right in your own home, this easy guide may do less—or it may even do more for you and your family. But with colds on a rampage, this tested plan is certainly worth trying today! Full details in your package of Vicks. Briefly here's what you do:

Put VICKS PLAN To Work Today!

OBSERVE a few simple health rules. Live normally. Avoid excesses. Eat simple food. Drink plenty of water. Keep elimination regular. Get plenty of rest and sleep. Avoid crowds and people who have colds.

IF A COLD THREATENS, put a few drops of clinic-tested Vicks Va-tro-nol up each nostril at first sniffle or sneeze. (Use as directed in package.) This effective, specialized medication is expressly designed to aid your natural defense against colds—and if used in time, Va-tro-nol helps prevent many colds from developing. (Even when your head is all stuffed up from a mean head cold, Vicks Va-tro-nol relieves sniffly, sneezy distress, makes breathing easier.)

WHEN A COLD STRIKES, or slips by all precautions, rub clinic-tested Vicks VapoRub on back, as well as on throat and chest at bedtime. VapoRub penetrates to the cold-congested upper bronchial tubes with soothing medicinal vapors. It stimulates throat, chest, and back surfaces like a warming poultice. This penetrating-stimulating action works for hours to relieve miseries of colds ... invites restful, comforting sleep!

NOTE: If the miserable symptoms of the cold are not relieved promptly—or if more serious trouble seems to threaten—call in your family doctor right away.

Protect as well as Correct your Vision with Professionally Prescribed Cruxite Lenses

Cruxite Lenses, professionally prescribed, relieve and protect your eyes from uncomfortable light. While correcting your vision, they screen the "sunburn" rays and thus enable your eyes to relax.

Cruxite Lenses should not be confused with ordinary "colored glasses." It's not their color—it's the scientific properties of Cruxite Lenses that reduce harsh or excess light. In fact, Cruxite Lenses have a flesh tint that blends with your complexion, making them even less conspicious than white lenses.

Then too, through Cruxite Lenses, you see true color values . . . without distortion. Cruxite is available in single lenses or bifocals, and can be ground with Corrected Tillyer curves.

Quarter-Finals In Title Race Slated

Wichita Falls, Highland Park, Waco And Goose Creek Expected To Win Saturday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Action in the Texas schoolboy football quarter-finals will all be jammed into a single afternoon this week with Wichita Falls, Highland Park (Dallas), Waco and Goose Creek expected to emerge from Saturday battles at Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Marshall and San Antonio.

Odessa, last undefeated, untied team left in the state contests, meets the unbeaten but once-tied Coyotes at Wichita Falls, while Highland Park meets North Side at Fort Worth in games furnishing the semi-finalists from the upper bracket of the Interscholastic league.

Waco Goes To Marshall

Waco journeys to Marshall and Goose Creek clashes with Thomas Jefferson at San Antonio in the lower bracket contests.

It is the first time that all four games of the quarter finals have been played in a single day and on Saturday. The Wichita Falls-Odessa tilt starts at 2 p. m., the other three at 2:30.

As the battle for the state championship moved into the final three weeks, Highland Park and Waco were favorites to push their way into the title game.

Highland Has Power

The Scotties were expected to hurdle North Side without serious trouble despite the Fort Worth team's rather easy 16-0 victory over Crozier Tech of Dallas in a jarring upset last week. Highland Park showed power aplenty in crushing unbeaten, untied Paris 33-7.

Wichita Falls should have much stronger competition from Odessa than Highland Park will encounter in North Side. Odessa, not believed having a line strong enough to combat the bulky Wichita Falls forward wall, can, however, offer one of the best offenses in the state and in J. W. Thompson, one of the greatest backs ever to come along in high school football.

Marshall could upset Waco and occasion no great surprise. The Mavericks jarred the state last week by clipping the heralded Lufkin Panthers 13-8 and showed they had come a long way since that four-touchdown beating absorbed from Highland Park in midseason. However, Waco, which outplayed yet lost to Highland Park 7-0, also has improved immeasurably.

Wide Open Affair

The Goose Creek-Jefferson game should be one of the wide open offensive games of the year. Between them these teams have lost five games but both were late arrivals in football form. In recent weeks each has looked as good as most anything in the state. Goose Creek, however, must rate a slight edge in view of the fact that the Ganders beat the Jeffs 20-7 in early season.

There are direct comparisons in all except one game.

For instance, Wichita Falls last week beat Amarillo 26-7 in the opening round of the state playoff. Odessa defeated Amarillo 20-13 in mid-season.

There is no way to compare Highland Park and North Side except that both played Sherman, North Side winning 13-0 and Highland Park 45-6.

Four Freshmen Battle Way To Spots On 1945 All-Southwest Conference Eleven

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, Dec. 10.—Four freshmen battled their way to places on the 1945 All-Southwest conference football team selected by the Associated Press through the assistance of coaches and scouts.

With so many veteran athletes returning from the service, this was supposed to be different from the war period when first-year men pretty well dominated the team. But not so. Doak Walker, for instance got back from the service with only five games remaining on Southern Methodist's schedule. But he threw on a uniform and from his first college game on was the outstanding back of the conference.

SECOND TEAM		THIRD TEAM
Dale Schwartzkopf, Texas	End	Mike Schumchyk, Arkansas
Bruce Bradbeer, Rice	End	Joe Joiner, Baylor
Leonard Dickey, A. and M.	Tackle	J. C. Oneal, T.C.U.
Jim Plyler, Texas	Tackle	Harlan Weiz, Texas
Norman Morrill, T.C.U.	Guard	Earl Cook, S.M.U.
Richard Johnson, Baylor	Guard	Henry Ford, Arkansas
Earl Wheeler, Arkansas	Center	Herbert Ellis, A. and M.
Huey Keeney, Rice	Back	Leon Joslin, T.C.U.
John Hoffman, Arkansas	Back	Preston Smith, A. and M.
Sammy Pierce, Baylor	Back	Jack Price, Baylor
Howard Maley, S.M.U.	Back	Alton Baldwin, Arkansas

Dick Harris, tall freshman at Texas, never turned in a mediocre performance. Always he was the defensive star. He won the center job on the all-conference in a walk.

N. L. Nicholson, Rice first-year man, wasn't even mentioned in the pre-season prospectus. But he played such a fine game he edged out veterans like Norman Morrill of Texas Christian and Richard (Bull) Johnson of Baylor. In fact, he received the most votes of any guard.

The other freshman making the team was Rob Goode, Texas A. and M.'s great runner, punter, pass-receiver and the conference's high-scorer with 66 points.

Texas Places Three

Champion Texas placed three men on the first eleven and so did runner-up Southern Methodist and Texas A. and M., which finished in a tie for third with Rice and Texas Christian. Rice broke in with two men on the all-star aggregation.

All-America Hubert Bechtol of Texas and Gene Wilson, mighty pass-catcher and defensive man for Southern Methodist, were so far in front for the end posts there was no race.

Giant Tom Dean of Southern Methodist was a unanimous choice for one tackle post. Monte Moncrief and Leonard Dickey, Texas A. and M.'s tackles, battled for the other forward post with Moncrief barely nosing out his teammate.

Pairing with Nicholson at guard ws Grant Darnell, defensive jewel of A. and M.

In the backfield it was Bobby Layne, who passed and ran Texas to the championship although he, too, joined the team in mid-season; Bob Nemir, heart and soul of Rice's offense and defense until called up by the Navy late in the season, and the freshmen, Walker and Goode.

ZIVIC VS. HUDSON

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP) — Battle-scarred Fritzie Zivic, the former welterweight champion from Pittsburgh, and ambitious Cecil Hudson of Los Angeles clash tonight in Madison Square Garden's main 10-round bout.

About 45 per cent of the entire peanut crop has gone into the making of peanut butter in recent years.

Freshman Grid Hopefuls To Be Allowed To Play Another Year

DALLAS, Dec. 10 (U.P) — Southwest conference freshman football hopefuls — next season's crop —breathed easier today, following the announcement by the faculty committee of the circuit that freshmen may compete in varsity athletics for at least one more year.

In a meeting at Dallas, the faculty committee decided the draft laws still may give the Southwest conference a manpower headache during the 1946 grid season.

Back To Peacetime

Generally, though, the swing was back to peacetime standards. Dr. H. E. Bray of Rice institute, president of the conference, said scouting regulations would return to pre-war basis, and it was indicated that the only New Year's day game for teams in the loop would be the annual Cotton bowl tilt at Dallas.

An end was brought to the "informal practice session" custom of wartime, and it was ruled that no school shall begin 1946 practice before Sept. 1. Schools may still hold 30 days' spring or summer practice before Aug. 1.

Veteran eligibility cases will be ruled on individually. Bray said, and the conference probably would frown on permitting colleges to entice returning ex-servicemen away from each other.

The ant is the only creature, except man, to keep slaves, cattle, and go in for agriculture.

Fort Worth Open Will Start Friday

FORT WORTH, Dec. 10 (AP) — Nineteen of the nation's top golfers are due to arrive by plane from Miami, Fla., today to participate in the Fort Worth $10,000 open which begins Friday at Glen Garden County club.

Among the group coming here are Ben Hogan, Gene Sarazen, Harold McSpaden, Sammie Byrd, Sam Snead, Jimmy Hines, Denny Shute, Dick Metz, Joe Kirkwood, Henry Ransom, Johnny Revolta, Toney Penna, Jimmie Thomson, Vic Ghezzi, Leonard Dodson, Jim Ferrier, Dale Morey, Freddie Haas, jr., and Johnny Stranahan. The latter two are amateurs.

Byron Nelson, golf's top money winner who has been on a vacation at his Denton farm, will resume tournament play in the Fort Worth open.

500,000 RETURN

TOKYO, Dec. 10. (AP)—General MacArthur reported today that approximately 500,000 servicemen have returned to the United States from the Pacific since Japan's surrender.

Milkweed floss helped win the war. It was used to give buoyancy to U. S. Naval life preservers.

Cotton Bowl Game To Be A Sellout

DALLAS, Dec. 10. (U.P) — With the exception of scattered seats in the end zones, the Cotton bowl game for New Year's day was a sellout today, according to bowl officials who were predicting not a ducat would be left by midweek.

Tickets apparently were going fast in Austin, and at Columbia, Mo., James H. Stewart, director-general of the Cotton bowl, said.

It was believed Coach Chauncey Simpson would arrive here with his University of Missouri Tigers about Dec. 21 to cash in on some Texas weather for training. The Missouri squad has been driven indoors at Columbia by bad weather.

Coach D. X. Bible plans to wait until two days before the game to bring his Longhorns to Dallas.

The league is to play every other week and each team plays three series. First play was Sunday at Plamor and the second series is scheduled for Sunday, Dec. 23 at Midland.

In Sunday's games, Plamor won the first and third series and Lubbock Bowling Alley the second series. Fred Christian and Geo. Tate were high and second high, respectively, in single games. Tate was high single man series and Glen Welch, second high single series.

Plamor bowlers were: J. K. Giles, Matthews, Carter, R. Giles and Welch. Lubbock Bowling alley players were: Glassman, Brown, Christian, Tate and Bell. Jones, Young, Stanley, Lewis and Beals represented Midland and Nauta, Knight, Agee, Jones and Payne were Odessa bowlers.

Riggs Stops Budge Threat In Pro Meet

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10 (AP) — Bobby Riggs turned back Don Budge's bid for the national professional hardcourt tennis championship yesterday.

Riggs won 9-11, 6-3, 6-2, 6-0 triumph.

Budge came back to team with the veteran Fred Perry in a 6-4 5-7, 6-4, 8-6 doubles championship triumph over Riggs and John Faunce of Beverely Hills.

Bill Tilden's creaking 52-year-old frame was still too young for Perry in a playoff for singles third place. The once, invincible Tilden won, 4-6, 6-3, 7-5.

Sixteen Cage Games On Tap

Tech Will Meet SMU And TCU

(By The Associated Press)

Sixteen games are scheduled this week by Southwest conference basketball teams with Baylor and Texas, which opened the campaign last week with two victories each, appearing in three contests apiece.

Arkansas, setting a hot scoring pace, will play a couple of important intersectional tilts, meeting NATTC of Memphis, Tenn., tomorrow night at Fayetteville and New York university at New York Saturday night.

Baylor Starts At Home

Baylor starts the fireworks at home, the Golden Bears engaging North Texas Teachers at Waco tomorrow night. The Bruins meet North Texas Teachers at Denton Friday night and tackle Randolph field at Waco Saturday night.

Texas plays Southwestern at Austin Wednesday night and Friday night opens a series with the Southeast Oklahoma Teachers at Austin.

Other games this week:

Tech Meets SMU

Wednesday — Texas A. and M. vs. Louisiana State at Baton Rouge, Rice vs. Southwestern Louisiana Institute at Lafayette, La., Southern Methodist vs. Texas Tech at Dallas.

Thursday — Southern Methodist vs. Texas Tech at Dallas.

Friday — Rice vs. Sam Houston at Houston, Texas Christian vs. Texas Tech at Fort Worth.

Saturday — Texas A. and M. vs. Bergstrom field at College Station, Texas Christian vs. Texas Tech at Fort Worth.

Arkansas in four games this season to date has rolled up 310 points — almost two points per minute. Texas Christian, Baylor, Rice, Texas A. and M. and Texas also are undefeated but Southern Methodist has dropped three games out of five.

Redskins Will Meet Cleveland For Title

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP) — With their fifth eastern title tucked away, Washington's Redskins turned their eyes westward today for next Sunday's professional football championship clash with the Cleveland Rams.

Field General Sammy Baugh and his mates won the right to tackle the youthful western champions by clinching the eastern crown yesterday in a 17-0 victory over New York's Giants.

Marine Shoots Self In New York Chapel

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP) — A young Marine, Pvt. Harold R. Dunster, of Auburn, N. Y., knelt in the first pew of historic St. Paul's Episcopal chapel yesterday afternoon and there, alone in the peace and quiet of the church, fired a fatal bullet into his head.

Detective Joseph Gill said Dunster, 18 years old, had been attached to the New York Navy yard and recently had been a patient at St. Alban's Naval hospital. He entered the Marine corps last July and had not been overseas, it was reported.

Police were unable to learn a reason for Dunster's act.

THE Rev. T. F. Suttle, Levelland Baptist minister, writes in to say that Attorney Robert A. Sowder might have been thinking about July 4, 1924, when he was talking about a snowfall on the South Plains on a past Independence Day.

"I wasn't in Lubbock on July 4, 1924," the Rev. Mr. Suttle wrote, "so I can't vouch for the weather in that vicinity. But I do know that it snowed in Levelland, just 30 miles West of Lubbock.

"The date is vividly fixed in my mind, because we had just moved to Levelland from near Houston the previous December (1923) and it was a rare sight to us to see snow, especially while we were planting peas in our garden. As Mr. Sowder said, the snow flakes melted before they reached the ground, but there definitely was snow!"

Mr. Suttle recalls that he officiated at Hockley county's first funeral, also held in the Spring of 1924.

Speaking of Baptist preachers reminds us of something we've been intending to note for some time. Here it is:

Personal nomination for the handsomest minister in these parts — the Rev. Dr. Carl E. Hereford, pastor of First Baptist church in Lubbock.

And, speaking farther of local pastors:

Personal nomination for the best speaking voice among the local clergy — that of the Rev. William F. Blakeslee, pastor of St. Elizabeth's Catholic church.

ALMOST everybody wrote letters to overseas soldiers during the war and, in return, received mail from the latter gentry. Therefore, it should be interesting now to trot out some amazing figures which illustrate the gigantic task which fell to the lot of the Army Postal service.

Take a look:

The APS established more than 800 postoffices in 55 different countries and handled more than 266 different pieces of mail—an average of 50 pieces per month for each soldier overseas. Money orders at the rate of $55,000,000 per month, with a total of well over a billion and a half, were purchased by men in the services.

And in spite of free mailing privileges, the APS sold more than $100,000,000 worth of stamps and stamped envelopes.

By War's end, 87 per cent of overseas mail was moving by air and last Christmas APS handled 60,000,000 overseas gift packages.

The British innovation, known here as V-Mail, was never as successful as the APS hoped it would be, due to difficulties in writing and to the fact that so little could be said on a page. Yet, even with its handicaps, V-Mail played a big role in keeping the boys in touch with home and vice versa. When V-Mail was relegated to the ash-heap last month, it had a record of 60,000,000 missives, sent and received, for one month alone.

In addition to straight mail, air mail and V-Mail, the APS also handled emergency cables and radio messages around the globe.

* * *

WHAT the APS calls "average" air mail deliveries were slowest to the China-India-Burma theaters, letters going there taking 10 to 12 days and the same amount of time on return. New Guinea and Germany, on the average, were only nine days apart, the Philippines, France and Italy only eight.

All in all — and especially considering the numbers of men, letters and packages involved — APS did a whale of a job.

What it meant to soldier and home front morale can only be estimated.

It is no more foolish to cry over spilled milk than it is to laugh over it. Neither procedure unspills it.

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says whatever the world may or may not be coming to, it's all too evident that it isn't coming to its senses.

* * *

"Our 1946 car will sweep you off your feet," reads an advertisement.

Not if we see it first — and we intend to keep our eyes peeled!

IT IS difficult to think of a better example of how a tightly organized, drum-beating minority can scare the pants off Congress than the one the nation now has in regard to universal peacetime military training.

Every survey yet made — including the Gallup poll — shows that from 70 to 75 per cent of the people of all sections of the U. S. believe Congress should legislate in favor of peacetime training. This majority views the proposal as insurance against the possibility of another Pearl Harbor — against being marked as "easy pickin's" by some future nation of aggressors.

ity group is busy, while the majority is not.

Average of congressional mail on the subject shows a margin of 10-to-1 against military training—which means that the 25 or 30 per cent of the people opposing the idea are 10 times as active as the 70 to 75 per cent for it.

If ever the rank and file of the people had an opportunity to visualize just how much of government action—or procrastination — is dictated by highly regimented minorities it is in the case of the campaign against peacetime military training.

If ever the majority of our people had an opportunity to really know how far we've gone down the trail of "government by, of and for pressure groups," it is in this connection.

And if ever the majority of our people needed a spur to interest them in a return to majority government in this country, it is right now.

IT will not be easy for the majority to force a return to government by, of and for the people, as dictated by the Constitution of the United States — but it can and will be done if and when the majority becomes sufficiently aroused.

When the majority of the people serve notice on their public officials that the day of "back-room trades" and "Tammany Hall on a nation-wide basis" is over, there'll be a change and pressure-group rule which has been in vogue for nearly a decade and a half will go out of the window.

The public is long suffering and slow to move — but when it does move it grinds, like the wheels of justice, exceeding fine.

Some day, the grinding process will get under way and the practice of swapping special privileges in return for regimented votes will become largely a thing of the past.

The very weakest link in the chain of democratic government is that which permits selfish politicians to trade special privilege and attention to minority groups in exchange for special, regimented support at the polls.

And it is the link which threatens eventually to break the chain and wreck the entire principle of democracy.

Feminine Viewpoint

BY RUTH MILLETT

(Copyright, 1945, For The Journal)

MILLETT

"THE sweater girl is here to stay," says a Hollywood expert on feminine beauty in answer to a fashion designer's prediction that the sweater girl is on her way out.

And of course she is here to stay. Maybe not by the same intriguing title. But what the sweater girl stands for — youth and beauty and conscious sex appeal — never will go out of style, no matter how the fashion designers package the article.

If you can remember that far back you'll remember when she was the demure Gibson girl, when she was the flamboyant flapper, when she was the oomph girl.

The postwar world will find a new name for her, to be sure. For "sweater girl" is getting old. And we like the name for each crop of feminine young beauty to be as new and fresh as what they represent.

The name doesn't change the article. It's the same thing, generation after generation. And always the older folks think it is terrible the way the current crop of young things behaves.

THEY'RE FAMILY GIRLS

But in spite of the dire predictions, the sweater girls—or whatever they happen to be called — eventually find husbands and settle down to having children of their own.

Sure, the sweater girl is here to stay. For when she is gone there won't be any more generations. She is the girl who gets whistled at today, and tomorrow is busy running a home and sending children off to school.

"Try And Stop Me"

JIMMIE "SCHNOZZOLA" DURANTE'S recent ascent to new heights is one of the most soul-satisfying comebacks in show business. The "Schnozz" had been bogged down with atrocious Hollywood material but when he turned back to his own routines he was back in lights in no time flat.

Durante is a product of the sidewalks of New York and Coney Island beer joints. For years his partners were Clayton and Jackson. Then he had a girl stooge for a while. Her name was Martha Raye. His act always involved storming about the night club floor, throwing hats at the musicians, mangling the King's English, and working himself into a rage at nothing in particular. The trumpeter was "playin' wid only one lip." The waiters were "tryin' to horn in on the act." The customers were walking out at the wrong time. "Remember, mister," Jimmie told one of them, "I never fergits a back!"

In New York, Jimmie packed them in so deep that, he declared, the star customers had to be satisfied with a table behind a small post. He dropped a collor-button one night, and before he could recover it, "A waiter threw a table cloth over it and seated five people." "Dose waiters," he ranted. "Assassins! Twelve-fifty for a load of ice wid three olives. If you don't tip 'em five dollars more, de Union calls 'em out on strike. Let's 'em touch dis nose, however! I'll sue de jernt and turn it into a bowling ally!"

Today's Journal Editorial

ONLY ONE QUESTION TO ANSWER

Lubbock people long have felt—and with good reason—that they and those who have gone before them have laid well the foundation stones for what eventually shall be one of the finest and best rounded cities in the entire Southwest.

Lubbock people have done a good job thus far. Few, if any, will deny that.

In less than two generations there has been builded on these broad Plains of ours a city known far and wide for its community spirit; its forward-looking principles; its sane approach to modern living. In short, Lubbock has become the wholesale and retail business capital, the educational and cultural metropolis, the religious and entertainment headquarters of a vast sea of territory of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico larger than, say, the entire State of Oklahoma.

But Lubbock cannot rest on its oars. It cannot take time out to admire whatever laurel wreaths may be resting upon its municipal brow. It must keep on keeping on at the head of the parade in this area and it must safeguard its future — commercially, and every other way.

But more important by far than the commercial angle, as Lubbock stands upon the threshhold of a city bond election, is the need for us all to join in assuring better living in the years to come. As never before, mankind—emerging from a global war—has come to the realization that better living for all means more than the piling up of money by a very few. If recent events have done nothing else, they have convinced thinking men and women of all economic brackets that more convenient living, more satisfactory living, the very fullest living are what really count most to the individual as he goes through his years on this earth.

Tomorrow, Lubbock voters will go to the polls to register sentiment on 14 separate and distinct proposals for a better city and for a richer life of its people in the years to come. Every one of those 14 proposals is a "must" for future happiness—for a better rounded existence. Not one can—even by the broadest stretch of imagination—be called "unnecessary." All of them are vital.

Our people really aren't facing 14 questions tomorrow. Instead, they are being asked to answer only one: "Do you want a better, happier, more progressive Lubbock in the future, or do you stand on the side of community rust and stagnation?"

What will YOUR answer be tomorrow?

We think we know, because throughout the years Lubbock has always presented an almost solid front in the cause of progress.

Grew's Personal Diary Flays FDR

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—If the Pearl Harbor committee forces ex-ambassador Joe Grew to make public his 13-volume diary, the Senate will get some juicy gossip, especially in regard to certain ladies of the diplomatic corps in Tokyo. The diary will not change the overall picture regarding Pearl Harbor.

Some portions of the diary would be highly embarrassing to Grew, however, were they published. On Dec. 8, 1941, for instance, the day after Pearl Harbor, when the ambassador and his staff were confined by the Japs to the embassy grounds, Grew wrote a bitter denunciation of Roosevelt. He kept up this line of criticism until he returned to Washington, following which he changed his tune.

PEARSON

Back in Washington, Grew seemed to think that Japanese-American relations had been handled about as well as possible before Pearl Harbor and he became an ardent Roosevelt rooter, so much so that FDR appointed him under Secretary of State.

The Grew diary would also show that he had considered Emperor Hirohito a harmless and innocent little man whom it did not hurt to appease. Some people would get the idea from reading Grew's diary that he himself was an emperor-worshipper, though actually he believed that the institution of emperor should be preserved to win over the Japanese people. This was why he went to the unusual length of writing a directive suppressing FCC intercepts of Jap broadcasts regarding the emperor.

During most of Grew's term in Tokyo, he followed the Wall Street-Thomas Lamont line of letting the Japs have their heads. The diary shows that he was much opposed to Roosevelt's quarantine speech proposing a boycott against aggressor nations and that he favored the continuation of oil and scrap iron shipments to Japan as a policy of appeasement.

Note—At one time Collier's planned to write a series of articles based on the Grew diary, but he would not permit publication of the more intimate portions and the deal blew up. Cordell Hull was highly incensed that outsiders had been permitted to see these sections.

AT the Philadelphia Navy yard, a total of 12 cars of aviators' leather jackets valued at $42 each are being slashed up the back so they can be condemned and then burned. Men working in the Navy yard protested, even asked if they could purchase some of the coats. They were overruled by the admiral . . . Why not let discharged aviators take their coats home or else ship them to Europe for UNRRA relief purposes . . . When Leo Crowley was head of the Foreign Economic administration, he set up machinery for fevamping cast-off Army clothing into relief apparel . . . Very belatedly Maj Gen. Norman Kirk, the Surgeon General, has got around to releasing a dribble of dentists and doctors. The number released is still nothing compared to what the country needs. However, Kirk is still holding several thousand X-ray, dental and laboratory technicians, most of them loafing around with only a couple of hours work each day. They are being held despite the fact that they have ample discharge points and despite the fact that civilian hospitals are desperately hard up for technicians . . . Unfortunately General Marshall's promise to discharge U. S. soldiers who were held captive by the Germans for more than 60 days isn't being carried out in many camps. Some former U. S. prisoners are even given the distasteful job of guarding Germans.

ANNAPOLIS POLITICS

A LOT of Navy politics is mixed up in backstage maneuvering of certain admirals as to whether they should give the Navy Medal of Honor to Father Joe O'Callahan, heroic chaplain of the stricken airplane carrier Franklin.

Reason for the maneuvering is that, if the Medal of Honor goes to the chaplain, the Board of Awards also feels that it will have to give an equal award to Capt. Lesley E. Gehres, skipper of the Franklin. And he is not an Annapolis graduate. So the Annapolis grads on the board have held back the Medal of Honor to both Father O'Callahan and Captain Gehres.

Meanwhile, Father O'Callahan has become the only man in history to turn down the Navy Cross. This lesser decoration has been offered him by the Navy but he has politely declined. The Navy itself gave out the information that he was to receive the Medal of Honor, and he is waiting for them to carry out that public statement.

Note—The men on the Franklin, both Catholic and protestant, pay tribute to Chaplain O'Callahan as the bravest man they ever saw. It was he who led a fire-fighting brigade into the powder magazines to put out a fire which threatened to blow up the ship.

CAPITOL CHAFF

MRS. TRUMAN has resumed Mrs. Roosevelt's custom of giving afternoon teas. General Eisenhower turned up at tea this week clad in battle jacket with a large wool muffler wrapped round his throat. "The doctor says I have to wear it," he explained . . . No cocktails or other stimulants were served except tea and coffee . . . News executive Frank Mason ex of the INS and now writing for NANA was guest of honor at a party given by Doll Gann, half-sister of late Vice President Curtis. She is already panting at the thought of having the Republicans back in office . . . Mason, just returned from Germany, made quite a speech telling how Supreme Court Justice Bob Jackson was getting into more and more trouble with his war crimes trial in Germany. Frank seemed to think that Jackson went in for too much legal rigmarole and that without too much delay the Nazis should be stood up and shot . . . Senator Magnuson of Washington is urging President Truman to appoint two women on the U. S. delegation to the United Nations. He especially urges Ruth Bryan Rhode, daughter of William Jennings Bryan, a Democrat, and Congresswoman Bolton of Cleveland, a Republican. Though Clare Luce is supposed to be the most beautiful member of Congress and Magnuson the handsomest, he did not urge Mrs. Luce for the job.

SENATOR BILBO'S PICKETS

DESPITE rumors that Senator Bilbo is paying to have himself picketed, reports that his picket line will follow him to Mississippi at Christmas sent the ball-bearing tongued senator into fresh spasms of fury the other day. Pounding a table in the Senate dining room, he almost swalled a mouthful of his favorite corn pone.

"If those pickets follow me to Mississippi, they better buy one-way tickets," roared the pint-sized senator. "There's a big lake near my property. I think I'll add some more water to it."

Bilbo failed to say whether the pickets should bring bathing suits, or just what he had in mind for them in connection with the lake.

We Need Not Look Too Far For The Answer

Deep-Rooted Convictions Oppose U. S. Aggression

America On Spot Similar To That In 1919

By MARQUIS CHILDS

Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Twenty-five years ago there was great pressure on the government in Washington to line up in Rusia's civil war on the side of the Czarist officers who were fighting the Bolsheviks. American troops were in Siberia, and a few American soldiers fought in trenches with the British outside Archangel, on the other side of Russia's great empire.

CHILDS

That futile effort to put down a mass movement helped to feed the suspicion with which the Russians regarded the rest of the world. It is one of the reasons why it is so hard to come to any real understanding with the Soviet Union.

There were Americans then who shut their eyes to reality. They ignored the long conflict between Czarist absolutism and the fermenting unrest of the mass of the Russian people. They ignored the terrible hardships and suffering of the Russian people in the war; worse than in any other country, in World War I as in World war II.

Some Support Intervention

They thought that, by sending support to certain adventurous officers of the old regime, they could push back the current of history. In the same way, there are Americans today who believe that a little intervention in China will make it possible for Chiang Kai Shek to master the Communists and "unify" all of China's vast, strife-torn area.

The danger is that a little intervention will lead to our taking sides in a major way in China's internal war. It will draw us in so that we find ourselves sending more troops and more and more money and guns. This might not happen, but no one can deny that it is a possibility.

Those who were eager for intervention in Russia's civil war, a quarter of a century ago, those who to hold the balance in China with men and munitions overlook one all-important fact. The American people are opposed, by their deepest tradition and by all the conditions of life in this country, to that kind of action.

IT was only after a direct attack on American territory in 1941 that we roused ourselves to resist what was a carefully planned conspiracy to surround and eventually destroy American Democracy. Now that that most terrible of all wars is ended, the clamor of public opinion is to bring Americans home, to get out, to pull back within our continental borders.

So persistent is that clamor that it may prevent us from carrying out responsibilities we owe to the world. How, then, can those who urge intervention in China expect that American opinion will accept a risk which may lead to a considerable commitment in men and machines? We read of the angry mutterings of the American flyers who must fly planes to Chiang over the hump. This is fact, just as real as the air we breathe, and no amount of lecturing, no talk about "leadership," no hysteria is going to change it.

CONFLICT OLD STORY

This conflict is an old story. It is partly why we have such a hard time shaping any clear line on foreign policy. You have Americans, often in influential positions, who talk about what America will do. They succeed now and then in fooling both our friends and our enemies, but especially our friends.

They ignore the fact that only under the most extreme prodding, and then only most reluctantly, will Americans take positive action outside the borders of this country.

You can argue that this is wrong, dangerously shortsighted. You can argue that America should now take world leadership. You can argue with considerable logic and force for a Pan-Americana—a hundred years of peace enforced by our power around the world, working benevolently through the United Nations, or as a frank imperium.

BUT that is so contrary to the American temperament that is impossible. We are left, therefore, with only one choice in our foreign policy. Strong within our own borders, we can be friendly with all peace-loving nations. We can, as Walter Lippman has so well put it, be a friendly mediator between the nations.

The sooner our interventionists—whether they be imperialists or earnest internationalists who want to carry the benefias of American Democracy to the world — learn this, the sooner will we be able to take a reasonable position that accords with American opinion.

We have a chance to become a working partner in a world organization. Quarrels over intervention, in China or anywhere else weaken that possibility because such quarrels inevitably stir all the old isolationist prejudices.

JUDGE J. C. HUTCHESON

Texan Is Chosen To Aid Jewish Problem

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP) — President Truman today named Judge Joseph C. Hutcheson of Texas the United States chairman of a 12-member Anglo-American committee to mak recommendations for handling Jewish immigration into Palestine.

Hutcheson, judge of the fifth circuit court at Houston, was appointed to serve with Sir John E. Singleton, judge of the King's bench division of the high court of justice, London, British chairman, under a rotating arrangement.

Unemployment Said Not Soo Serious

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—President Truman, in a letter to the 11th annual meeting of the United States conference of mayors which opens here today, says "the unemployment situation has not been as serious or drastic as was originally anticipated."

The president added, however, "we must be ready with plans for meeting unemployment should it reach unduly high levels."

The president's letter was addressed to Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, head of the mayors' organization, and was released yesterday by Paul V. Betters, executive director of the conference.

"Even with demobilization of our armed forces speeded up," the president said, "the current volume of unemployment has been far from unsatisfactory," but he added that we must be ready to deal with the possibility of increased unemployment.

Truman invited the conference to submit its recommendations on current problems, and said of the national administration's program:

"The federal government, as you know, has taken certain specific steps looking toward insuring full employment. Separate public works programs, such as highways, have already been authorized. Others are now the subjects of congressional study."

Oil Delegates Open National Convention

FORT WORTH, Dec. 10. (AP) — Approximately 250 delegates were expected for the opening of the 16th national convention of the Oil Workers International union (CIO) today.

Speakers today include Edwin A. Elliott, regional director of the National Labor Relations board, and L. Metcalfe Walling, national director of the U. S. department of labor.

Tomorrow James Carey, international secretary of the CIO, will address delegates, J. A. Guhl, president of Local No. 208, of Fort Worth, announced.

The convention is scheduled to close Thursday.

Farmers Warn Of Rice Riots

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Dec. 10 — A warning from influential farmers that rice riots are inevitable without stronger government agriarian policies coincided today with General MacArthur's second blunt demand that Japan's feudal land system be altered immediately.

Fifteen farmer representatives from Akita province in northeastern Japan declared muddled government policies have produced such lack of confidence that the rich Tohoku district may sell only 60 per cent of its rice crop to the government.

More Ordered Arrested

Meanwhile, continuing his roundup of war criminal suspects, MacArthur directed the arrest of 57 Japanese accused of committing atrocities against United Nations nationals held in the ill-famed Cabanatuan prison camp in the Philippines, in prisons, camps and hospitals in Japan proper, and on the prisoner of war ship Oryoku Maru during the vessel's nightmarish voyage from the Philippines to Japan.

Also ordered arrested were three Japanese naval officers, including a repatriat from Wake island. Two of the trio are being court martialed by the Japanese.

The newest war criminal suspects were considered "small fry" in comparison with some of the Japanese arrested recently, but to American and Allied prisoners of war they ranked highest.

MacArthur's newest land directive abolishes absentee land ownership and provides that millions of farmers may buy land on long term at low rates.

The measure threatens a new crisis for Premier Kiujuro Shidehara's cabinet, which is on the verge of collapse. MacArthur's first demand last month for agrarian reform resulted in a lukewarm government measure now before a hesitant diet. Today's directive cracks the whip.

Labor Opposes Training Plan

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—Organized labor lashed out against universal military training legislation today, demanding to know whom the United States is preparing to fight.

Heading a group of union spokesmen called to testify during what may be the final week of hearings on the proposal, Lewis G. Hines, legislative representative of the American Federation of Labor, asked the House military committee:

"May we in all fairness ask, preparedness for what? If we are on the brink of another war, should we not have the right to demand with whom, when and where?"

The AFL, Hines told the committee, believed preparedness should be accomplished through more adequate physical care for the children of the country, sufficient medical service for everyone, "an efficient military intelligence system," and "eternal vigilance on the part of the State department and the elimination of a policy of appeasement such as was followed previous to the attack upon us by Japan."

Estimates Differ On Houston Population

HOUSTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—The 1945 edition of the city directory, off the press today, offers a choice of population figures for Houston.

A government estimate says the population is 467,000.

A public utilities estimate says it's 471,633.

Both figures are for the corporate limits of the city. The utilities estimate is carried out into two more classifications: 535,400 for greater Houston and 671,214 for metropolitan Houston (Harris county).

The government estimates listed in the 1943-44 directory was 512,000—45,000 more persons than the government estimated this year.

The United States census, official arbiter in such matters, cannot supply a new figure until 1950. Its official count in 1940, listed in the directory with the estimates, was 384,514.

Gates Resigns Navy Undersecretary Post

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—President Truman today accepted the resignation of Artemus L. Gates as Undersecretary of the Navy.

Texans Launch Calvert Boom

AUSTIN, Dec. 10. (AP)—One faction of the present leadership of the Democratic party in Texas has made up its mind on a candidate for governor in 1946, but whether most of the leaders would go along remains to be seen.

Robert W. Calvert of Hillsboro, former speaker of the House, Hill county district attorney and keynoter of the 1944 state convention when the pro-Roosevelt or liberal forces took control, was endorsed at a private dinner in Waco Saturday attended by numerous state committeemen and women, and others near or at the top in the party organization.

Action Not Official

All of them insisted what they characterized as the "draft Calvert" movement was not and could no be an official party act, and the fact that many other leaders were not present gave those statements whight.

One group in the party leadership has for months been talking Dr. Homer P. Rainey, deposed president of the University of Texas as a possible choice. Other groups are advocating former Governor James V. Allred, others Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson. The name of Attorney General Grover Sellers has been mentioned by some as a possible middle-of-the-roader who might be acceptable.

Strong For Calvert

The Waco group, which included a big representation from the Houston-Beaumont-Port Arthur area and the Dallas-Fort Worth area, however, came out unequivocally for Calvert. Many of them credited him with having swung the September, 1944, convention firmly into the Roosevelt column, and they also advocated him as a man experienced in public life and possibly acceptable to many conservative Democrats.

Only time will tell how the Calvert boom will go with the entire party leadership, including those at the top, their close advisors, and the district and county leaders who are probably better organized at this time than ever before in party history. The executive committee never officially approves a candidate, but from the standpoint of the present committee, a successful candidate whether it be Calvert or some other, would be just what the doctor ordered.

Among those not present at Waco were Harry Seay, chairman of the executive committee and W. H. (Billy) Kittrell, secretary. Allred was not there, nor was Ed Clark of Austin.

Thousands Had Secret Of Breaking Of Japs' Code, Marshall Says

By TOM REEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The hottest secret of the war—that the U. S. had cracked the Japanese code—was cocktail bar gossip in Washington and Tokyo never got wise.

Army officers spoke "carelessly" of it. One man employed as a code cracker tried to sell it. Fliers in the Pacific theater deduced it.

Marshall On Powder Keg

Sitting on top of the powder keg was General George C. Marshall, chief of staff, getting grayer by the minute.

Marshall told Pearl Harbor investigators in Congress how one thing after another turned up to give him the military creeps.

It came out when he was explaining how he heard Governor Thomas E. Dewey knew the secret and feared it might become public during the presidential campaign. Dewey kept silent at Machall's urgent plea.

16,000 Knew Secret

The general said he didn't know how the information got to Dewey. But—

Reports came to Marshall that Army officers were "talking carelessly" in hotels and clubs about it.

The original code cracking staff of several hundred had grown to 16,000—a lot of chances for leaks.

Talk drifted back from the Pacific after Army fliers shot down Admiral Yamamoto. They had to be told where to go and when, and could deduce that the Japanese communications were tapped.

Tried To Sell Secret

This "whispering" about how Yamamoto was caught was the most "dangerous" of all, Marshall indicated. He got so concerned he asked FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to trail some Army officers

Only Peasants, Peanut Vendors Remain In Manchurian Town After Armies Leave

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

HULUTAO, Manchuria, Dec. 10.—Pawed over by three armies and now in the hands of a fourth, this peaceful Manchurian fishing and railroad town finds its industrial life practically reduced to activities of roving peanut and candy salesmen.

These peddlers are done up in black tennis shoes, quilted cotton clothing, and fur caps to protect their ears from the bitter cold. Their display cases are open trays suspended from a long pole which they lug over their shoulders.

Warfare has had little effect on the peanut business. The salesmen sell to whatever army is in town and can make change in practically any kind of currency. But the war has raised merry ned with everything else in Hulutao.

This is one of the few all-weather ports on Liaotung gulf and has direct railroad access to Chinhsien about 40 miles to the north, one of the largest cities in southern Manchuria.

Used As Supply Port

The Japanese used it as one of the main ports in the area to supply their armies and drain off Manchurian wealth. Since the war ended, both Russian and Chinese communist troops have further picked it clean. Chinese government forces, who occupy it now, inherited only the task of rebuilding.

Chiang Kai-Shek's men moved up by land to take Hulutao after Chinese communists on Oct. 27 fired on a barge being put ashore by Vice Adm. Daniel E. Barbey's American Seventh fleet, during reconnaissance to determine whether he could land Chinese nationalist troops.

The American admiral met no fireworks Sunday, Dec. 2, when he stepped ashore en route to Chinhsein for a conference with Lieut. Gen. Tu Li Ming, commander of Chiang's northeast China armies.

Not By Officers, Peddlers

Barbey was officially met by a number of Chinese nationalist officers and unofficially by a larger number of vendors of peanuts and fur caps.

Masts of several sunken ships jut from the waters of the small harbor. Chinese soldiers direct captured Japanese labor troops in removing a number of Nipponese pill boxes and stone bunkers, mildly camouflaged by straw mats.

On the occasion of Barbey's visit, General Tu's arrival was delayed several hours by a band of Chinese communists who had blown up a bridge but made no further attempt to halt him—perhaps because he was escorted by a truckload of his troops armed with American tommyguns.

Barbey, who is one of the walkingest admirals in any navy, took advantage of the interval to stroll all around the port city.

One Chineses major we talked to declared:

Russians, Chinese Strip City

"The Russians loaded all heavy machine equipment they wanted here on Manchurian railroads and took it to Russia. They've also kept the railroad rolling stock. Then the Chinese communists came along and took away everything they could carry — such things as food and medical supplies and even Japanese women nurses."

Hulutao's only large machine shop had been stripped. All we found in a number of warehouses were stacks of straw mats full of cement and several barrels of low grade oil used in road making.

The poverty-stricken Chinese population and their one story mud-walled huts were left untouched. Young children were sliding solemnly on small ice ponds.

The modern Japanese section with its neat rows of brick homes was cold and littered with empty bottles and broken glass after serving as barracks for the Russians and then for the Chinese communists.

"so we could make an example of them."

Hoover was "hesitant," Marshall said, contending it would make a "gestapo" out of his force. So it wasn't done.

Marshall related how one of a group of 26 code-crackers was caught trying to "sell" the secret in Boston The General didn't say what happened to that individual.

Know Jap Plans

Marshall disclosed in a letter to Gov. Dewey how the code was solved. The type of machine used by the Japanese was figured out, duplicated, and used as an "unscrambler."

Always, Marshall was afraid the Japanese would discover what enabled U. S. forces to smash them in the Coral sea and at Midway.

He thought one time they had discovered it and were fixing some bait. That was when the Navy was moving in for the kill at Midway, often described as the great turning point of the war.

Japs Send Message

One unit of the Japanese fleet was brazen enough to send out over the air in code that its next post office address would be Midway island.

"That seemed a little too thick," Marshall said.

But it turned out that the Japanese were being either cocky or facetious. Marshall said it was quite a "relief" for the Navy to see the Nipponese fleet steaming over the horizon where it was supposed to be and where it turned out to be a sitting duck for American aviators.

Marshall Expected To Confer With Reds

CHUNGKING, Dec. 10. (AP) — General Marshall, new U.S. envoy to China, probably will visit Chinese Communist headquarters at Yenan, observers here said after reading President Truman's statement that he hoped Mashall would succeed in bringing China's two factions together.

They believed that the Communist leader, Mao Tse-Tung, would prefer to talk with Marshall in Yenan rather than Chungking.

Truman's statement was interpreted as meaning that Marshall is coming to China as mediator, to take up where resigned Ambassador Patrick J. Hurley left off.

No one is sure exactly what causes all types of baldness, but some types seem to be hereditary.

Minister Upholds Stand Of Convention To Have Hand In Baylor Administration

HOUSTON, Dec. 10. (U.P.)—Pointing to the Texas Baptist constitution as his authority, Rev. W. L. Shuttlesworth today answered charges made by Baylor university officials that the church had no right to interfere with the administration of the school.

The minister defended the action of the Baptist convention in Fort Worth in attacking the university for offering an honorary degree to President Truman The offer brought the statement from Shuttlesworth that "no man, not even the president of the United States, could be a good Baptist if he drank or gambled."

Constitution Quoted

Shuttlesworth quoted the constitution as saying:

"Each institution owned and controlled by this body shall submit for review and approval of this body each and every project or policy."

The Baptists of Texas will lose control of their schools if the trustees of those institutions declare themselves independent of the denomination, he explained.

The minister said that Dr. J. T. Harrington, chairman of Baylor's board of regents, had said the Fort Worth convention action infringed on the rights of Baptists as individuals and on the rights of Baptist institutions.

He quoted Harrington as saying "the Baptist general convention of Texas has no right to tell the trustees what to do."
