Most Teachers Spurn Social Security Plan

An unofficial tabulation of votes in the referendum on Social Security held Monday at Big Spring Schools indicates most teachers are not going to sign for it.

There were 186 voting for it and 249 turned it down, according to Pat Murphy, assistant superintendent-business. Fifteen persons who were absent from voting will make their choice later this week.

Murphy said all teachers will be given the opportunity to make a choice, but that if they do not do so by Friday, their lack of voting will be construed as a waiver.

The school system was put under Social Security by action of trustees and teachers held a preliminary vote in September to find out who intended to accept it. This referendum was required 90 days after the straw vote. It will be forwarded to the State Department of Public Welfare under which the program is administered.

In approving the 1961-62 budget trustees set aside $35,000 to pay the costs of Social Security. This figure was based on the teacher poll made in September, 1960, which indicated 255 persons wanted it and 133 were against it.

Funds have been withheld for 201 teachers who wanted Social Security after the initial vote. Those who have changed their minds since that vote will be refunded their money or must pay back payments, whichever is appropriate.

Teachers waiving the right at this referendum must now transfer to another system using Social Security if they wish to work under it. All new teachers to the system automatically receive it.

U. N. Jets To Pacify Katangans

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Acting Secretary General U. Thant today ordered jet planes flown into Elisabethville for use in support of U.N. forces in the strife-torn Katanga capital.

A U.N. spokesman said the jets would be used to "support ground action by the U.N. troops, and to destroy any aircraft that take hostile action against U.N. positions."

The spokesman said this was in line with U. Thant's directive to U.N. forces to take what action they deemed fit to restore order.

Brig. K. A. S. Raja, an Indian, has been ordered by U. Thant to take over control from U.N. civilian officials in Elisabethville, thus putting the United Nations on a virtual war footing.

A U.N. spokesman announced that Swedish troops have been flown into Elisabethville where the U.N. and Katanga troops started fighting today.

Dr. Sture Linner, head of the U.N. in the Congo was in radio-teletype communication with headquarters in New York.

After these consultations the secretary general authorized Linner to take whatever action he sees fit in Katanga the official spokesman said.

The Swedish troops were landed at Elisabethville Airport without any trouble, the spokesman said, adding, "We are in full control of the airport."

Originally the Swedes were intended to replace a Swedish contingent now serving in Katanga.

"Now they will reinforce them, not replace them," the spokesman said.

The United Nations announced today that 38 Katanga police and paracommandos were counted dead after the military action at a roadblock on the route to Elisabethville Airport. The U.N. said two European mercenary officers also have been killed in the action.

The U.N. said two white mercenaries were killed by Indian troops in dispersing a Katanga force found lying in ambush outside headquarters of the United Nations.

2 Extra Divisions Might Free Guardsmen In Crises

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Army Elvira J. Stahr Jr. has indicated that if the Army gets two more regular divisions it could cope with future cold war crises without calling up National Guardsmen and Reservists.

The indication came Monday when Stahr announced that the Army has corrected most of the clothing and equipment shortages, poor living conditions, and idleness problems which prompted complaints from citizen soldiers ordered to active duty.

Informed sources said the regular Army probably will be increased to 16 divisions, with an over-all strength of about 960,000 men.

The Army now totals more than a million men—14 regular divisions and more than 400 smaller Guard and Reserve units mustered into active service.

In all, 119,000 Guardsmen and Reservists have been called to the colors since early October and Stahr said "an Army-wide survey showed only slightly more than 1,000 soldier gripes."

Field reports indicate clearly that "the morale of the overwhelming majority of individuals called to duty is high," Stahr told a news conference.

The need for an immediate increase in the Army's combat strength, Stahr said, "could only be met by calling up trained National Guardsmen and Reservists." Larger draft calls would not provide the needed strength in time, he added.

BULLETIN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson announced today he will not run for the U.S. Senate from Illinois, and indicated he will remain in his post as U.N. chief delegate.

Man Found Dead Near T&P Tracks

Patricia Juarez, 79, who lived at 1010 NW 2nd, was found dead at 8:50 a.m. Tuesday on Channing St., a few feet from the T&P railroad tracks. Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter ruled death was from natural causes.

Detective Aubrey Hurley of the Big Spring police, said the man had been dead since about 6:30 or 7 p.m. Monday.

"The family said he left home Monday to go to the City Hall to pay his water bill about 12:30 p.m. and they had not seen him since," Hurley said. "When we investigated, his tracks indicated that he had fallen and then dragged himself about 75 feet before he collapsed. There was no indication of violence of any kind, and the man still had about $26 in cash when found."

Funeral services have been set for 8:30 a.m. Thursday from the Sacred Heart Catholic Church, with the Rev. Patrick Casey officiating. Burial will be in City Cemetery with River Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Juarez was born in Mexico and came to Big Spring when he was six years old. He worked for the Texas and Pacific railroad until he retired after 35 years of service.

Survivors include four children, all of Big Spring. They are Nasario Juarez, Polo Juarez, Maria Juarez, and Guadalupe Juarez.

FHA Announces Shelter Rules

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Housing Administration today announced special inspection and approval requirements on home improvement loans when the money is to be used for family fallout shelters.

The new regulations require banks, savings and loan firms and other lenders to take responsibility for inspecting the completed shelter and to certify that the job conforms with FHA and Defense Department standards.

In advance of the loan, the bank must submit the plans for the shelter to the nearest FHA office for approval. Only after the FHA office issues a "certificate of eligibility" can the lender authorize the householder or the contractor to proceed with the loan insured under FHA home-improvement program.

For single-family homes, the maximum loan amount is $3,500, with five years to repay. In multi-family structures the loan for each living unit may not exceed $2,500. A seven-year repayment term is provided.

Cool Air For Texas

By The Associated Press

Cooler air spread over most of Texas and put unseasonable warmth to rest Tuesday.

Very light rain or drizzle dampened a few spots in Central and East Texas in early morning and there was fog in coastal areas. Scattered showers fell at a number of points during the night.

As the latest northern push across the state, its collision with huge masses of warm, moist air generated at least one tornado threat Monday. A pilot sighted a twister funnel 40 to 50 miles southwest of Baird in West Central Texas, but it apparently caused no damage.

Occasionally heavy showers fell late Monday, but the only rainfall measurement of consequence reported was 1.23 inches at Valley View, near Gainesville in North Texas.

Before dawn Tuesday the cold front had shoved as far south as a line from north of Lufkin and Austin and south of Del Rio.

Lyndon To Make Major Speech

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Vice President Lyndon Johnson is due here tonight for what the Wichita Falls Record-News termed a "major policy speech."

He will speak at a testimonial dinner for retiring Rep. Frank Ikard, D-Tex. More than 900 are expected.

President Will Visit Venezuela, Colombia

Rep. George Mahon, left, is greeted by Clark Jennings at Howard County Junior College this morning, as Dean Ben F. Johnson looks on. Jennings is president of the HCJC student body. Mahon began a busy schedule of talks here this morning which included the college, high school, joint meeting of the service clubs, Coahoma high school, and is to wind up the day's activities at the Boy Scout District banquet tonight.

Mahon Finds Local Youth Responsive

George Mahon, representative from the 19th congressional district, launched a busy schedule here Tuesday with questions and answers at college and school assemblies and found the young people interested in the world about them.

He spoke first to the Howard County Junior College assembly, then to the Big Spring Senior High, prefacing his remarks for personal discipline.

"I'm having to study harder now than I ever did in school," he said. He appealed for mental, moral and spiritual strength to be matched with physical toughness.

At noon the congressman was to address a joint meeting of the service clubs, and at 2:30 p.m. he was planning on a talk before the Coahoma High School student body.

He will climax his formal talks with an address to the annual meeting of the Lone Star Boy Scout district at 6:30 p.m. in the Cosden Country Club. Mrs. Mahon accompanied him on his visit to this area.

Here were some of the questions which students fired, and Mahon's answers.

CUBAN AFFAIR—"This was a sad day for us. We were working with other nations in this hemisphere to make sure that there is no intrusion of Communist bases in this hemisphere."

FEDERAL AID TO EDUCATION—"I have always voted against it as a matter of philosophy, but there is mounting strength for it and it may be passed in the next session or two of Congress."

BERLIN—"I do not think the Russians will risk a nuclear war over Berlin."

DEFENSE—"The strengthening of conventional arms must go hand in hand with the nuclear buildup. There might be the necessity of fighting a war with conventional weapons in some parts of the world."

COLD WAR—"All are not Russian victories. We won in Greece and Turkey, kept them out of the Mediterranean, and have kept control of Western Europe. It is wrong to think that everything the Russians do succeeds and that everything we do fails. The Russians are not nine feet tall; we can meet and beat them at their own terms."

CONGO—"There are lots of problems to work out and it likely will take years. It is possible that the liberation of the great masses such as has been done on the continent of Africa has come before the people were really ready for self-government."

LABOR MONOPOLY LAWS—"I see no necessity as such as this time, but labor, as well as any other segment of the nation, must be checked against excesses."

RED CHINA U.N. BID—"The United States will resist with all its efforts the entry of Red China into the U.N. Some of the smaller nations are leaning to admission, and realistically, there might come a time that admission might come even over our bitter opposition."

Social Security Office To Open

Big Spring's new Social Security office, operating for the month of December on a limited basis, opens its doors to the public for the first time Wednesday.

Ervin Fisher, manager of the office, said that operations will begin at 8:45 a.m. Wednesday in the temporary quarters at 207 W. 10th.

For the month of December, the office will serve only clients from Big Spring and Howard County.

After the first of the year when arrangements can be completed the office will begin serving the seven counties which comprise the newly created Big Spring district.

Fisher said that activities and facilities of the temporary office will be limited for the month. For example, the office can accept applications for social security cards but the actual cards will be issued in Odessa.

Fisher said that the operation for this month will be on the same level as that afforded local clients by the Odessa office in recent years. The only difference will be that the Odessa office had a representative here only two days a week and the Big Spring office will be open five days a week—Monday through Friday.

Later, when the district operation is in full swing, field representatives from the local office will make regularly scheduled visits to each of the six other counties in the district—just as John A. Powers, Odessa field representative, has been coming to Howard County.

Temporary staff at the office on West 10th is composed of Fisher, Mrs. Marie Jennings, clerk, and Mrs. Tommie Hollingshead, receptionist. These women have been in training for the past six weeks in the Odessa office.

Fisher said that Mrs. Lois Scoggins, Wichita Falls, has been assigned to the office as field representative and will be here shortly to begin her duties.

CHEER FUND INCHES UP

The CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND eased past the $200 mark Tuesday as more contributions came in.

Gifts are being applied to purchase of parts and other materials needed for restoration of toys brought to the city fire stations. Any beyond this will be applied to Christmas cheer, and then if any is left it will be used all next year to help bridge emergencies for indigents in need of food and drugs.

To Dramatize Alliance Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—President and Mrs. Kennedy will visit Venezuela and Colombia Dec. 16 and 17 to dramatize the Alliance for Progress program for social and economic development of the Western Hemisphere.

The White House announced the trip—long expected—and said Kennedy "hopes to visit other parts of Latin America in the future."

There was no elaboration as to how soon in the future such a visit might occur or what countries might be visited.

JFK Kicks Off Busy Agenda Of Traveling

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy left Washington today for New York to start a four-day speechmaking trip there and in Florida.

In New York, Kennedy, who never made the varsity in his school days, will be honored with greats of the game by the National Football Hall of Fame.

He also will address the National Association of Manufacturers in New York, speak to the AFL-CIO convention in Miami Beach and visit a meeting of Young Democrats in Miami before he gets back to Washington Friday.

THREE TRIPS

The New York-Florida venture is the first of three trips anticipated this month. The White House announced Monday Kennedy would meet British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan at Bermuda on Dec. 21-22.

Kennedy also will visit Colombia and Venezuela in mid-December on what would be his first flight south of the border since taking office.

In New York, Kennedy will receive a gold medal from the National Football Foundation as eight headline players of yesterday and two coaches are inducted into the Hall of Fame. Former Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and Herbert Hoover were similarly honored in the past.

STERLING EXAMPLE

The foundation chose Kennedy for this year's medal, saying his "own life and career provide a sterling example" of the creed that amateur athletics play a major role in developing qualities of leadership and instilling moral values in the country's youth.

The chief executive's brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, and Asst. Atty. Gen. Byron (Whizzer) White also may attend the awards banquet. The attorney general was an end at Harvard, while White was a star at Stanford.

The President was on the family varsity in the Kennedys' well-known touch football competition. He played at Canterbury School as a 13-year-old and went out for the varsity—but stayed a scrub—at Choate School and Harvard. While working out as a freshman at Harvard, he suffered a back injury which plagued him in later years.

State Dept. Denies Thurmond's Charge

WASHINGTON (AP)—No document has been prepared proposing that the United States turn over nuclear weapons to the United Nations, the State Department says.

Joseph Reap, State Department press officer, said Monday "there is no such paper."

Reap said he was making the statement in answer to charges by Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., that the State Department has proposed transfer of U.S. nuclear weapons to the United Nations.

Dairy Sues Co-Op

DALLAS (AP)—Trial of a $507.13 suit by Metzger Dairies against the North Texas Producers Association began before U.S. Dist. Judge Whitfield Davidson Monday.

The Dallas firm contends the co-operative association has violated anti-trust laws by refusing to sell milk to Metzger since Sept. 1, 1958. In addition it claims the NTPA has tried to promote a member boycott of stores handling Metzger products.

The U.S. Weather Bureau's forecast for December, just released, sees below normal moisture and above normal temperatures for this part of the country. In both instances, the Big Spring area is right on the edge of the near normal zone.

JFK Decision Is Called 'Unwise'

DENVER (AP)—The chief spokesman for the nation's independent oil operators said today President Kennedy's decision to postpone action on revising the oil imports program is unwise and unacceptable.

Alvin Hope of San Antonio, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America (IPAA), said the White House decision threatens the nation's security and economic growth.

Hope said he has called an emergency meeting of IPAA's imports policy committee "to determine necessary steps and courses of action to correct this intolerable situation."

The meeting will be held Dec. 12 in Dallas. Kennedy ordered Saturday night that current imports levels continue until the Office of Emergency Planning can complete a new study by mid-1962.

Interior Secretary Stewart Udall had said in October that he had recommended that oil imports allocations be reduced Jan. 1. Washington reports indicated the recommendation met objections from the state and defense departments.

"No matter of national petroleum policy has received more study, re-study and deliberate consideration by Congress and the executive branch of government than oil imports," Hope said.

"The further delay proposed by the President is unnecessary, unwise, and unacceptable."

Houston-Pasadena Annexation Fight Due A Full Trial

HOUSTON (AP)—Dist. Judge Sears McGee has opened the way for full trial of the annexation controversy between Houston and Pasadena.

He said he could not resolve the problem on the basis of pleadings presented.

At stake is 78 square miles that Pasadena claims to have annexed in December, 1960. Houston passed an ordinance in June, 1960, laying claim to this 78 square miles, plus all unincorporated land in Harris County.

The triangular-shaped 78 square miles is just off the southeast tip of Houston.

To lay an annexation claim on the area, Pasadena had to have the co-operation of La Porte. The 78 square miles was not adjacent, so La Porte disannexed land which gave Pasadena a corridor to the territory.

Postal Receipts Show Decrease

Postal receipts for November lagged behind the receipts for the same month last year, E. C. Boatler, postmaster said Tuesday. However, the receipts for the year through November are still ahead of 1960.

Postal receipts for November this year were $29,730.73. For November, 1960 the receipts hit $35,805.45.

Receipts for the first 11 months of the year are $338,159.54, for the first 11 months of 1960, the receipts were $326,536.82.

at least a major overhaul" of the mandatory oil imports control program.

Speaking at the commission's annual meeting, he said a drastic alteration "is absolutely essential if the mandatory oil imports control program is to achieve its primary objective of maintaining a healthy domestic oil industry, capable of providing for all the civilian and military needs of the United States in the event foreign oil supplies are lost."

Daniel quoted a federal report warning that imports above 16.6 per cent of domestic crude oil production would endanger the orderly industrial growth "which assures the military and civilian supplies and reserves that are necessary to the national defense."

He said the imports to domestic production ratio was 25.2 per cent in 1959, and climbed to 25.7 per cent last year and 26.4 per cent the first half of 1961.

As a conservation agency, the commission is "deeply concerned over the serious effect of excessive oil imports in the premature abandonment of marginal oil wells, above ground waste from excessive crude oil stocks, and reduced exploration," Daniel said. "That excessive foreign imports have caused or contributed to these adverse results in the field of conservation practices has been substantiated and documented in the numerous studies and resolutions of this commission."

ONE LORD

By T. H. Tarkenton, preacher, Church of Christ, 2000 West Highway 80, P.O. Box 1533.

"There is... one Lord" (Eph. 4:4, 5). This is the Lord Jesus Christ, "Lord of all", our Lord and our God (Acts 10:36; Jno. 20:28, 29).

He has been made "both Lord and Christ", and all authority in heaven and on earth has been given unto Him (Acts 2:36; Matt. 28:18). This leaves no authority for me or you, for a church council or convention; no authority for any man or set of men.

No authority is left for Moses and the prophets. When Peter wanted to retain them along with Christ, a voice from heaven said, "This is my beloved son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye him." (Matt. 17:1-8). The old law was

Tips For Dressing Well

Polly Bergen believes that you can develop taste and gives pointers on how to be well-dressed. She will soon star in Universal-International's "Cape Fear."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Advice On Fashion Given By Expert

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — Polly Bergen manages three careers: domestic, theatrical and business. She has a happy home life, is very much in demand as an actress and singer and has her 'Polly Bergen Dresses.'

"What's the secret?" I asked Polly the other day. "Discipline and organization," she explained. "You have to have a plan and stick to it. If you don't like doing something, it helps to keep your goal in mind. I don't like getting up in the morning and going on the floor to do exercises, but there is no substitute. If I want to keep certain places firm, I know that I have to use those muscles a little every day. This does much more good than a big exercise deal once in a while."

There are four places that Polly always works on and more if she has time. Her favorite exercise for a flat stomach is to stand up straight, bend over to touch her toes and then pulling slowly as she comes up.

"I watch people," Polly confided, "and notice how many of them show their age in three danger spots, a hump in back of the neck, a double chin and a flabby stomach."

"I lie on the floor on my back, bring my feet back over my head until they touch the floor. This gives the vertebrae in my neck a good pull. If you do this only once or twice a day, you'll bring up enough circulation to keep that 'widow's hump' away."

"A double chin will age even a teen-ager," Polly declared. "We have so little opportunity to use those under-chin muscles. Keeping my back straight, I like to let my head fall to my chest and then rotate it slowly in one direction and then the other. I look at the ceiling, and with my head in this position, I pretend I am chewing something very hard."

"If you want to do these exercises regularly, tie them in with an established habit like brushing your teeth or having breakfast."

"Posture is so important," Polly continued. "There is a correct and incorrect way to stand. When you keep your body balanced you look better in your clothes and you are not as tired. When I do things around the house, I always try to make an exercise out of them. Stop and be aware if you are giving your muscles a good pull when you reach for something high. Lift a 30-pound baby the same way you would a bar bell. But," Polly added, "I do not care for the kind of gym work that builds muscles. A woman wants her body to be supple and firm but never muscular."

Polly talked about her dress business. When she was wearing a lot of TV and had to wear her own clothes on camera and discovered that it was difficult to get a well-made dress at an economical price, she decided to go into the dress business herself.

"Most of the fabrics were awful and didn't hold their shape," she revealed, "and so I decided to do something about this. I was very careful about the selection of fabrics and finishings for my dress line. When I bought my clothes, I usually had to change buttons and belts, but with my clothes I try to give them quality detail, and I call them my no-price-tag dresses."

"I think the most common mistake women make is not to balance a wardrobe. They see something adorable and buy it without a plan. Maybe they don't need it or it doesn't go with the accessories they already have."

"Try to be individual," Polly urged. "If something is new, ask yourself if you are going to see it everywhere. I know so many women who look awful in a hairstyle, but they will wear it because it's the fashion."

"If you don't have confidence in your taste, you can acquire it. Begin by analyzing fashion models. And be very particular about details. A dress that is the wrong length, even a half inch, can spoil your appearance. It's the little alterations that are made for your figure that help to make the well-dressed look."

DISCOVER YOUR TYPE

You are different from any other person in the world! No one can duplicate you nor can you copy another successfully—yet there are five basic types of individuals in one of which you can be classed. Do you know what type you are?

Lydia Lane's booklet, "Discover Your Type," will help you decide. Then you can compare your choice of clothes, make-up, hair style and accessories with the star nearest to your type. For your copy of this unusual booklet, send only 15 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, Big Spring Herald.

B&PW CLUB MEMBERS SELL COOKIES, CAKES FOR PROJECT

The Big Spring Business and Professional Women's Club is currently selling cookies to raise funds for worthy causes sponsored by the club, according to Edith Gay, president.

The tins of maraonons sell for $1. As another fund-raising venture, the group has been selling fruit cakes. Almost 200 were sold and only a few remain, Miss Gay said.

Among programs sponsored by the club are a $140 scholarship at Howard County Junior College each year; $150 for shoes for needy children; parties at the Big Spring State Hospital and contributions to the Chinese Nursing Home.

Mission Work Studied By Circles Of WMS

First Baptist Circles met in the homes of members Monday for studies along the lines of missionary work as it can be done among students from other lands who are attending colleges in this country.

CHRISTINE COFFEE CIRCLE Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Dick Lane, a meeting of the Christine Coffee Circle was held. Mrs. R. D. Ulrey read the missionary prayer list and prayer was offered by Mrs. Lane. The lesson on "Eyes of the World" was presented by Mrs.

Jack Swearingen who stressed the feeling of foreign students toward Americans.

Also on the program, Mrs. Charles Sweeney took the part of an Arab student; Mrs. D. G. Harris, German; Mrs. Jack Smith, India; Mrs. Lane, Philippine.

Refreshments were served to seven members. The next meeting will be held Jan. 15, at the home of Mrs. Smith, 1730 Purdue.

MARY WILLIS CIRCLE Mrs. M. R. Erhardt was introduced as a new member of the Mary Willis Circle when the group met Monday morning in the home of Mrs. Leonard Coker.

After an opening prayer by Mrs. Zack Gray, Mrs. H. B. Reagan led a study on "Missions in Your Home," dealing with the help given international students. Mrs. M. F. Ray discussed the subject, "What Is Being Done for International Students in Colleges." Mrs. Irvin West told members what they might do to help the students and also worded the closing prayer.

Hints for the hostess of an international student was given to the group by Mrs. Gray. The three-month project of the circle will be to give assistance to the

Christmas Party Set For Altrusans

A Christmas party is planned for members of the Altrusa Club when they meet Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Brindley. Hostesses are Mrs. Brindley and Mrs. Houston Cowden.

Names have been drawn for an exchange of Christmas gifts which will follow the Christmas dinner.

Back From Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Riley, 1708 Johnson, have returned from Houston where he attended a meeting of Private Clinics and Hospitals of Texas from Friday through Sunday.

ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Things with the appearance of Christmas decorations are beginning to show up about the city. Out our way MRS. O. M. WATERS has her pretty door trimming all in place and the JOHN BALCHES have a bright tree in the window with a red reflector giving it a merry glow. At the W. W. POSEY home on Indian Hills a chubby Santa is illuminated each evening and many other homes in the city are beginning to take on some trimmings for the season. Many of the aluminum trees have been placed, but so far are just sitting steadfast, waiting for the next move.

We're waiting for the next move, too. Something will probably move us on to getting our cards out before the last minute. JP has had the idea; the boys have taken the picture which was, as usual, made under most trying of circumstances, and we just need to get it printed, the envelopes stuffed, then addressed and stamped and off . . . but then it's still 20 more days until Christmas.

The spacious home of MR. and MRS. R. P. FULLER of Lubbock was the scene of a wonderful weekend reunion when more than 50 members of the family gathered. From Big Spring were MR. and MRS. SONNY FULLER and their children, Linda and Sabra. Former Big Springers, now living in Midland, who were among the group were MR. and MRS. JOHN WALKER. Other relatives came from El Paso and Spearman.

Many clubs and classes are handling their gift exchanges differently this year. Rather than buy a gift for some club or class friend, some groups have elected to put the money in a fund for charity and have a white elephant gift exchange. . . . the white elephants are items about the house that no one has ever found any use for.

Girl Scout Troops about the city are working hard on Christmas plans that will be cheer to shut-ins or needy people. GS Troop 193, which is led by MRS. GARLAND HELTON, is planning to visit a nursing home to bring a touch of the holiday cheer to the patients. This group of youngsters also made tray cards for one wing of the VA Hospital for the Thanksgiving food trays.

Christmas trip plans are already completed by the H. W. SMITH family. The Smiths will be accompanied by their younger daughter, MRS. CLEVELAND PUCKETT (Nancy), to Detroit, Mich., when they leave here on Dec. 10. The three will be guests in the home of DR. and MRS. FRANK HOWELL JR. (Joanne Smith) and their family for the holidays. Mrs. Puckett will be in Detroit until Dec. 22 when she will leave by air for Frankfurt, Germany. She expects to arrive in Frankfurt on Dec. 23 in time for her first Christmas with her husband, who is stationed at Hahn AFB.

Knit One, Twist, Too

Now that grandmother is also doing the Twist, everyone has to stick to her own knitting.

Between her undulations grandmother probably would have time to stitch up a sweater, and she needs it for herself.

Twist sweaters are required equipment for anyone, whatever her age, who oscillates to the musical beat these days.

True, American couturiers did hastily come up with slender columns of chiffon, satin and twinkling lame, trimmed them with fringes and ruffles, and labeled them the right look for the Twist-happy cafe society set.

Nevertheless, even the most soignée, including grandmother, has ignored this in favor of skirts or slim pants topped by a long, long, long sweater.

The Twist sweater barely fits at the waist and stops at the thigh line, emphasizing the suppleness of the dancer as she pitches and lurches and shudders to the cacophony of all that jazz.

But a Twist sweater maker must begin her Christmas needle clicking quickly.

Two instant knit patterns are available. One features a wide away bateau neckline to show off a swanlike neck, or to permit cuffing with a shirt collar. Another has a ring neckline.

Because the yarns are worked in cable motifs on giant needles, the sweaters grow long in a hurry. They can be knitted in ribbed stripes or worked into blocks of jazzy color combinations.

Guests Meet With HD Council

Three guests joined members of the Home Demonstration Council Monday afternoon at the HD office for the regular monthly meeting; they were Mrs. Ray Swann of the Coahoma Club; Mrs. John Green, City Club; and Mrs. O. E. Stricklin, Forsan Club.

Mrs. E. E. Mahurin presented a devotion on the Christmas Spirit. It was agreed that clubs in the council will serve in the concession stand at the Hereford sale Saturday.

Presidents' reports included information on the attendance, number of guests at meetings, Thanksgiving festivities, plans for Christmas parties, demonstrations on making Christmas decorations, gift wrapping, care of the hair and skin and the volunteer work at the Big Spring State Hospital.

Yearbooks were distributed, and Mrs. Delaine Crawford, HD agent, outlined plans for January meetings.

Members were reminded of the Christmas party slated for Dec. 13 at the student union building at Howard County Junior College.

Bridal Tea Is Given

A miscellaneous bridal shower was given Monday evening for Peggy Teague in the home of Mrs. Jewel Kuykendall; Mrs. F. E. Cowan was cohostess.

Miss Teague, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Teague of Wichita Falls will be married this month to Garland Harrison, son of Mrs. Aleen Magill of Big Spring.

The bridegroom's mother presided at the refreshment table, assisted in serving by Mrs. Cowan.

Fifteen were served from a table laid with Irish cutwork and centered with a white wedding bell.

Knit And Twist

Free instructions for making the above sweaters may be obtained by sending a self-addressed envelope to the National Yarn Association, Room 1806A, 15 E. 28th St., New York, N.Y. At left is the bateau neck sweater and at right, the ring necked style.

Mrs. Cunningham Is Speaker For ABWA

Mrs. Ara Cunningham was speaker for the Scene Chapter, American Business Women's Association, Monday evening when the group met in the Manhattan Cafe.

Subject of Mrs. Cunningham's discussion was the work of the volunteer at the VA Hospital, and she told of the gift shop carried on for the patients during the pre-Christmas period.

Members voted to enroll for an orientation course at the hospital and to serve as volunteers at various times.

Mrs. Lambert Misk offered the invocation preceding the dinner.

Mrs. Graves Leader For WSCS Program

Mrs. G. C. Graves was leader for the meeting of Park Methodist WSCS Monday in the home of Mrs. Elvin Bearden, with the subject, "Christmas in the New Testament."

Taking part were Mrs. J. B. Hollis, Mrs. R. L. Bowman, Mrs. W. B. Morris and Mrs. Abbie Anderson, who read the scripture. Plans for a rummage sale were made and the date set for Saturday; the group will gather for a Christmas party at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Bowman, Dec. 18, at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Graves dismissed the session with a prayer.

served at tables decorated with Santas and Christmas trees. Mrs. Paul Bruns revealed plans for the group's Christmas party which will be given Dec. 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the Flame Room. A check will be sent to the Tuberculosis Association, it was announced.

Installed as a new member was Mrs. Lewis Heflin; 20 members were present.

Date for the next meeting is Jan. 8, 1962, with the place to be announced.

FOR PARSONS

Trustees Rescind Travel Pay Motion

The pay status of former superintendent Floyd Parsons during the month of August was once again changed by trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District at a special meeting Monday night.

Trustees rescinded a previous motion entitling Parsons to traveling expenses during August and decided not to pay him for expenses incurred on a trip to Big Spring.

Parsons had made a trip here Aug. 29 to address a general faculty meeting. At the time, he was employed by the district as a consultant with the understanding that any trips to Big Spring would be at his own expense.

At a special meeting Oct. 30 trustees rescinded the action which employed Parsons as a consultant and passed a motion to reimburse him for any certified expenses incurred under the original agreement for the month of August.

Since then, however, Parsons has submitted a bill for expenses of the trip totaling $134.01. Trustees voted 3-2 to rescind the motion entitling Parsons to reimbursement and to refuse payment. Joe Moss abstained from the vote.

The list of candidates for the post of superintendent was shortened to nine names. Persons eliminated will be notified to that effect.

There were originally 24 names of persons who were recommended by administrators of seven colleges in addition to unsolicited applications.

The search for a new superintendent is to fill the vacancy upon expiration of the term of Sam M. Anderson July 31, 1962. Anderson is one of the nine candidates whose names remain.

More names will be eliminated after further consideration by trustees at the next regular meeting Dec. 12.

Neutralists Shocked At Two-Faced Charges

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Do so-called neutralist nations apply a double standard of morality to acts of the Soviet Union and the United States? Do they criticize the United States more and the Soviet Union less?

Ask representatives of non-aligned countries, and the responses are shock, indignation and categorical denials.

Since Moscow exploded its series of nuclear tests, including an enormous blast with the force of 50 million tons of TNT, increasing complaints about the neutrals have been heard in the United States.

The Russians, after preparing secretly while test ban talks were in progress, resumed their shots Aug. 31, apparently disregarding a conference, then convening in Yugoslavia, of 25 nonaligned nations.

NO OUTCRY

Some Americans expected a tremendous outcry. But the conference brought only a resolution appealing equally to Moscow and Washington to end testing. If the United States had broken the moratorium, it is likely there would have been violent reaction—embassies stoned, demonstrations, a U.N. vote of denunciation.

In mid-November, Asian-African neutrals joined the Russians in pushing through two U.N. proposals. One resolution sought to explore possibilities of an international conference outlawing nuclear weapons, ignoring U.S. demands for inspection and control safeguards. The other called for an end to all tests in Africa, and for banning storage or transport of nuclear weapons on African territory.

Neutralist spokesmen point out that in the United Nations they pushed aside both Soviet and U.S. objections in approving a call for a voluntary halt by both sides to nuclear testing. They ignored Soviet bloc objections and approved a U.S.-British call for renewed negotiations toward banning of tests.

STRONG REGRET

"At Belgrade," said Alex Quaison-Sackey, Ghana's permanent delegate, "we did express strong regret at the Soviet tests. President Kwame Nkrumah said he was shocked. But it is not the business of heads of state to condemn. It is to try to find ways of insuring peace. The appeal from Belgrade to the United States and the Soviet Union did not aim at condemning either side, but at seeking solutions."

Neutrals, he indicated, expect more of the United States. He said the United States "does not seem to realize its great power, its enormous potential for applying moral force in the world."

A neutral spokesman who declined to be identified by name or nation, responded this way: "What are Americans afraid of? They have enormous power, enormous wealth, huge possibilities for giving moral leadership. Perhaps we seem to speak more in retort to Americans because there is so much more to retort to—so many statements by politicians, congressmen, newspaper editors, everybody."

RIGHT AND WRONG

"It is not true that we did not condemn Soviet nuclear tests. We did. But we still oppose new tests by the United States. Two wrongs do not make a right."

"There are enough bombs, probably, in existence now to destroy the world three or four times over. It's beyond our comprehension why there should be more testing."

The head of Afghanistan's delegation, Abdul Rahman Paghwak, said his neutral nation is not concerned "whether bombs are big or little, exploded in the atmosphere, in the ground or under water."

"We voted for the appeal because we oppose all tests in any environment," he said. "We vote with the United States if it is right, with Russia if she is right. We vote against either if we think they are wrong."

"The Soviet proposal for complete disarmament got our support, but not without comprehensive controls. We (Afghans) think the U.S. proposals for controls are the comprehensive ones needed."

Africans among the neutralists—all deny there is a neutral bloc—in general violently oppose nuclear testing in the Sahara by France.

Some Africans profess to feel disillusion with the United States. As one put it, "It is the disillusionment with a friend from whom one expected more."

Nervous Tension-Exhaustion Not Natural

By Halvard T. Hansen, D.C.
Nervous tension is rapidly becoming America's number one problem. We are simply living too fast and our bodies cannot stand the pace. As a result, people are killing themselves—many will die in agony, and most of them before their time, simply because they are violating Nature's laws.

Perhaps the greatest rule of life preservation found in the Good Book divides your day into three equal parts—a portion for work, rest and pleasure. The greatest violation of this rule is improper rest. Rest is necessary for Nature to REPAIR. People innocently deprive themselves of adequate rest. They push their bodies to the breaking point, racing from excess to excess. They are burning the candle at both ends in unrestrained pursuit of wealth and pleasure.

Nervous tension, resulting from this hustle and bustle of modern living, ranges all the way from simple jitter to a serious disability of the nervous system. We find that nervous breakdown, invariably, is the result of some interference with proper functioning of the nervous system—usually traceable to the spine such as in this typical case from our files.

A sad woman came to our clinic some time ago complaining of pain in the legs and low back. Headaches and nervousness had become a natural state of existence for her so she barely mentioned them. Fatigue and that 'old tired feeling' was a way of life for her. She had prematurely aged. After finding the cause of her trouble with our nerve analysis and X-rays, we were able to remove the offending spinal nerve disturbances and her health rapidly returned to normal. We enjoyed watching her come in as she seemed to grow younger all the time and her smile became a delight to behold. In fact we looked forward to seeing her as she gave us a lift too. She had a special game which she played in that she wouldn't tell us when she had a headache (after they were just an occasional symptom) and then after her treatment tell us that she had come in with a headache and it was gone as she was leaving the office. No. 1195.

We invite you to visit our clinic for consultation about your problem of health. Just phone AM 3-3234 or come to the office (just across from Piggly Wiggly). Investigate, what can you lose except ill health?

This Means War, Men

NEW YORK (AP) — Take it from fashion expert Amelia Gray, girls. When your husband tells you what to wear, ignore him.

Most husbands don't know any more about women's fashions than most housewives know about their husbands' businesses, says Mrs. Gray. Consequently, she advises, a woman should choose her own clothes and decorate the home; a man should make his business decisions—so he can pay the bills.

Mrs. Gray, whose Beverly Hills, Calif., shop caters to some of the most elegant women in the film world and California society, was in New York on a buying trip. She made her remarks in an interview with Marilin Bender of the New York Times.

"Don't ask him how he likes it," Mrs. Gray advises her customers. "Just put it on and let him compliment you."

And if he doesn't? He will, said Mrs. Gray—sooner or later. Husbands take time to get used to things.

"Looking at fashion or furniture is like looking at a painting," she says. "The first time, you can't begin to see what the designer is doing. You have to look and look again."

Cotton Allotment Letters Go Out To 788 Farmers

Letters to 788 cotton farmers in Howard County were placed in the mail today notifying them of the cotton acreage allotted to each farm for the next year.

On Dec. 12, all cotton farmers will go to the polls to vote on the marketing quota program for 1962. If the quota is approved (it has always been approved in these December elections) the allocations assigned will become operative.

The county has been allotted a total of 78,797 acres for cotton in 1962—about three per cent less than was allotted in the present year.

The Agricultural Stabilization Committee office announced that voting will be carried on at four voting places on Dec. 12 on the quota election. The farmers and their wives and those who own land on which cotton is grown are privileged to vote.

The voting will be from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Planters Gin, Luther; The Acuff Gin, Coahoma; the Farmers Co-op gin at Knott and the ASC office on Lancaster.

The votes will be tabulated after 6 p.m. All cotton growers and those eligible to participate in the election are urged to ballot. It has been pointed out that normally these elections do not attract heavy votes and the agencies in charge of the program feel that a larger vote would be healthier indication of the will of those concerned.

Most farmers seem to feel that the three per cent acreage cut made against the county in the matter of cotton will be of no major significance. They point out that the county had a "bonus" acreage given it in 1961 and that the three per cent reduction over the 1961 total will still leave the total the third largest in recent history. Largest of all was in 1955 a "free" year was observed with no limit on acreage planted to cotton. Second largest was 1961. The county allotment this year was 81,340.

He Flunked By A Hair

PERRY, Ga. (AP)—That much-discussed ducktail haircut caused young Stanley Sorrells to fail in every subject at Perry High School.

The senior had been doing all right scholastically until the question of hair styles arose. His mother, Mrs. Walter C. Sorrells, said Monday: "His teachers told him that he passed all right—but they said they had to give him F's because he was suspended from school for 10 days."

Stanley was suspended for refusing to obey a school order not to wear a ducktail.

His father went to bat for what he said was his son's "basic American right to comb his hair as he sees fit," and brought suit against four school officials. It was dismissed in Superior Court on a technicality.

The elder Sorrells now has pending before the State Board of Education an appeal seeking to bar the Houston County School Board from making rules on hair-combing.

Surprise Birth

DUBLIN, Ga. (AP)—"I didn't have any idea that I was pregnant," said Mrs. G. R. Furry, 41, after giving birth to a 5-pound son.

"My husband was shocked speechless and so was I," said Mrs. Furry, who said she began having pains in the wee hours, but dismissed it as indigestion. When the pains worsened, she thought it was food poisoning and called a doctor.

The Furrys have one other child, a daughter, Sherry, 14.

Mystery Solved

DALLAS (AP) — Police now know what became of a 1956 Cadillac reported stolen the year it was built. Skin divers discovered the auto in 25 feet of water while practicing in the Trinity River near the city limits. They also found a safe and a pickup truck.

Goldfine, Aide Admits Violations

BOSTON (AP)—Bernard Goldfine, 71, gift-giving industrialist, and his secretary, Miss Mildred Paperman, 43, both admitted to violations of probation Monday in transmission of mail to Goldfine in a Danbury, Conn., federal correctional institution. The court set Jan. 2 as a date for continued hearing on the matter.

Art Lover Catches New York Museum In Major Faux Pas

NEW YORK (AP)—Genevieve Habert, a French-born art lover, has caught the Museum of Modern Art in an artistic faux pas.

For 47 days the museum had been hanging an Henri Matisse picture upside down. Museum experts admitted their mistake Monday and turned the picture right side up.

Cubs Receive Awards, Make Holiday Gifts

Numerous awards were presented at the meeting of Cub Pack 48 Friday evening at the First Presbyterian Church.

In addition, the boys made gifts which were turned over to the Christmas Cheer Fund as a Christmas good turn project. The next pack meeting will be Jan. 26, but plans for the Blue and Gold banquet in February will be discussed at a planning meeting Jan. 12, said Jack Gulley.

Lewis Crowell was introduced as a new Cub. Wolf badges went to Dave Duncan, Kent Fish, Ben Johnson, Lee Rudeseal, Andy Swartz, Bill Tarbox, Steve Tidwell, Scott McLaughlin, and Mike Parker. Jon T. Jones earned his bear badge and Mike Alexander his Lion. Arrow points were presented to Scott McLaughlin, Jon T. Jones, Barney Gulley, Mike Parker, David Hopkins; service stripes to Edward Johansen, Charles Campbell, Essex Farley, Russell Neefe; denners badge to Jim Weaver, assistant to Gregg Griffin. Den chief shoulder cords went to John Johansen and Mark Alexander.

Military Medal For Cold War

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has created a new military medal for armed forces personnel who take part in cold war operations.

He named it the Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal and established it for personnel who encounter armed opposition or the imminent threat of action in military operations occurring after July 1, 1958.

The executive order creating the medal does not specify any operations for which it may be issued, leaving it uncertain whether troops on duty—for instance—in Berlin and Southeast Asia will qualify.

Shelter Meeting Set In San Angelo

AUSTIN (AP)—Civil defense and federal officials have scheduled meetings in eight Texas cities to study the feasibility of making various buildings into fallout shelters.

The Texas Division of Defense and Disaster Relief and Army Engineers scheduled the meetings for Dec. 11 at El Paso, Dec. 12 at San Angelo, Dec. 13 at San Antonio and Corpus Christi, Dec. 14 at Houston, Dec. 15 at Longview and Dallas, and Dec. 18 at Amarillo.

Mishap Kills 2

HOUSTON (AP)—Eldon Hibbert, 37, of Houston, and Eddie Vanderpool, 43, of Raywood, were killed Monday when the oil derrick on which they were working fell.

Joe Evans Is To Speak At Sale Banquet

Joe Evans, El Paso, colorful pioneer cowboy and widely in demand as an after dinner speaker, will be special guest of the Howard County-South Plains Hereford Association at the annual pre-sale banquet here Friday night.

Evans, who is author of several books and a master at the art of telling stories of cowboys and life on the range, will speak at the dinner which is to be at the Settles Hotel at 7 p.m. Dec. 8.

Association members, their wives and their invited guests will attend. The banquet is the preliminary event to the annual Hereford sale. The sale will be held here Saturday and 68 head of blooded stock will be auctioned as highlight of the day.

Jimmy Taylor, a secretary of the association, will be toastmaster. He said that, in addition to Evans, the Hereford breeders will be entertained by Cynthia Pond, pianist, and by Ira Schantz, vocalist. Schantz will be accompanied by Jack Hendrix.

The Rev. Robert W. Polk, First Baptist Church, will ask the invocation.

4 Bodies Found In Plane Wreck

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Four bodies were found Monday in the scattered wreckage of a light plane that crashed on the South Sandia Peak Sunday.

A state police search party climbed a rugged trail to the crash site and brought bodies of the four victims to Albuquerque.

The four, all of Yuba City, Calif., were Frederick Thomas, 31, the pilot; James Blevins, 43; Dick Wilbur, 46; and Lloyd Rogers, 37.

Red China Debate Begins

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Jaja Wachuku, foreign minister of Nigeria, today called on the United Nations to recognize the existence of two Chinas and to accept both the Nationalist and Communist governments as U.N. members.

The two-China plan was advanced by Wachuku in a speech before the 103-nation General Assembly in which he appealed to the Peking regime to drop its demands for the expulsion of the Chinese Nationalist government and to apply for membership as a new country.

Meanwhile, a concerted Asian-African attack on the U.S. attempt to bar Red China built up steam.

Ceylon, one of 17 Asian-African nations which has diplomatic relations with Peking, launched the drive Monday with one of the sharpest assaults ever made in the United Nations on Washington's China policy.

WALL OF HATE

Ceylonese Ambassador G. P. Malalasekera charged that the United States was building up a "wall of hatred" between the American and Chinese people that could lead to World War III.

He assailed U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson's speech to the assembly urging the United Nations to keep the door closed to Red China.

"There are apparently not only two Chinas in American thinking but also two Stevensons," the Ceylonese declared. "There is the Stevenson of the brilliant premises, and alas, to my disappointment, the Stevenson of the same old conclusions."

Communist China, warned Malalasekera, will soon become a nuclear power.

2-FRONT WAR

"When that day comes," he said "the United States will be confronted by two mighty nuclear powers, and that two-front war which was America's nightmare in World War II will re-emerge as the double nuclear front of the future."

Delegates anticipated a lot more strong words against America's China policy from a parade of other Asian-African nations including India, which for 11 years has led the drive to get Peking in place of Nationalist China.

With 60 speakers still listed to take part, assembly consideration of the issue is expected to continue until Christmas, dashing any hopes that the assembly session will end before the New Year.

SEEKS SUPPORT

The United States is trying to muster support for its proposal that the China representation question is one of substance, requiring a two-thirds majority to install a Red Chinese delegation in place of the Nationalists.

The United States is confident it can block Red China if a two-thirds vote is required. It also is confident it has the simple majority required to pass the procedural resolution.

Informed sources predicted the Nordic nations—Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Iceland and Finland—would vote against the U.S.-backed resolution calling for a two-thirds vote. Mrs. Ulla Lindstrom, Swedish minister of state, told the assembly the resolution was just another move to stall off action on China. She reiterated her government's position that Peking should represent China in the United Nations.

Heart Month Plans Mapped

Preliminary plans for the observance of Heart Month in February and the raising of funds for heart research and services were mapped at a meeting Monday evening at the Officers Club at Webb AFB.

Col. Robert A. Wiemer, campaign chairman, announced a minimum goal of $7,000. The high point of the effort will be the observance of Heart Sunday on Feb. 26 when volunteers will seek to knock on every door in the city.

"This effort will help us establish our organization more firmly," observed Col. Wiemer. "At the same time we want to see that no one is unapproached."

Board members of the local chapter voted to continue the present division of 60 per cent for the local chapter and 40 per cent for the Texas and American Heart Association levels of the work.

There is a general reorganization program under way in the state, and later next year the board may consider a different approach to application of funds.

Among the two dozen committees and board members at the meeting were Mrs. Tommy Hubbard, the Heart Sunday chairman, and her co-worker, Mrs. Richard Gibson. Col. Wiemer appealed for all residents to answer calls to participate in the effort.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph White will be in charge of arrangements for the Goashina campaign and Jimmy Taylor for contacts in the rural section. K. H. McGibbon is special gifts chairman and the Jaycees will be in charge of coin container collections.

Meeting with the group were Harriett DeLapp, American Heart fund representative, and Mrs. Imogene Lloyd, local chapter president.

World Service Drive Lagging

A special effort will have to be made if this year's World Service drive is to meet its goal of $700, according to Francis Flint, YMCA secretary.

To date only $213 has been received. Most groups in the Y have pledged more funds, but these have not been turned in yet, he said.

Last year the effort netted $551. Club groups raised $278 of this figure, compared to $43 which the groups have turned in this year.

Flint was confident that the quota would be met and he said it could be raised before the end of this month.

World Service is the means whereby YMCA work is spread throughout the world. Local donations go into a fund which is used to send World Service secretaries into countries where they are desired to help lay the foundations for Y work.

Tears Of Happiness

Tears of happiness are shed by Christopher Vito Cristiano, 18, who is shown at East Providence, R.I., talking to his mother in Mansfield, Ohio, after a two-year search. His father took him to New Jersey 16 years ago. He made contact with his grandmother, through a story in the Providence Sunday Journal, whom he has never seen. He would walk through the door. He will see his mother by Christmas. His grandmother, Mrs. Marie Beatrice August, is by him.

Noted Artist's Wife Found Dead

BOSTON (AP)—Results of an autopsy were awaited today to determine what killed Mrs. Elizabeth Cabot, 35. The body was found Monday in a vacant apartment above her Beacon Hill home.

Mrs. Cabot was the third wife of Hugh Cabot III, socially prominent artist who lived for a time at Fort Stockton, Tex.

A note found at the Cabot home said Mrs. Cabot was going "out to pray."

Cabot, 31, found his wife's body. He told police she often went to the vacant apartment to meditate. Police said Cabot reported his wife missing about 7 a.m. and after two checks the upstairs apartment found the body.

There was a slight bruise on Mrs. Cabot's face but no other sign of violence, police said. She was the former Elizabeth Peterson and married Cabot with the past year.

Cabot's father was executive vice president of the investment management firm of Cromwell & Cabot until World War II. The son was awarded the commendation medal in 1954 for Navy service as a combat artist during the Korean conflict. He went on many combat patrols.

Cabot's first wife was Geraldine Lusack of Warrenville, Ill. They married in Tokyo while he was in the Navy. His second marriage was to Greta Chadwick of Sonora, Tex.

Car Burglary Charges Filed

*Ernest Henry Jr., 705 Wyoming, was arrested about 2:30 a.m. Tuesday and charged in Justice of the Peace Walter Grice's court, with car burglary. Big Spring police were given the information on the whereabouts of the man by a witness after Ronald Jackson told him his billfold was taken from his car at a house in the 300 block of Northwest Third.

Jackson, who gave his address as 900 E. 13th, said he picked up Henry earlier to take him to a house at the address where the robbery occurred. He said he left his billfold, containing $50 in cash, and $400 in checks, in the car. When he came out of the house the ventilator glass on the car had been pushed open and the billfold was missing.

Police said Henry produced the billfold and then pulled the money out of a hole in the wall.

Don Mazy Helps McMurry Effort

McMurry College Student Don Mazy, Big Spring, and three other students who are members of the McMurry debate team brought home last weekend from the Fall Speech Festival at Southwest Texas State College in San Marcos a total of seven "superior" and seven "excellent" ratings.

In so doing, the McMurry teams scored victories over two other colleges. Of the 20 colleges attending the practice conference, from the Texas Speech conference, McMurry was one of five in which each member of the team received a "superior" rating in one or more events.

Competition was in debating, poetry interpretation and discussion. Members of the varsity team attending were: Randy Hollums, Floydada; Sam Robertson, Abilene; Mazy; and James Eck, Independence, Iowa.

Gunshot Victim Out Of Danger

Jessie Mancha, who was taken to the Howard County Hospital Foundation early Sunday morning with two bullet wounds in his stomach, was reported to be out of danger Tuesday morning and doing well.

Cheva Mancha, wife of the wounded man, was charged with assault with intent to murder in the Goashina campaign and Jimmy Taylor for contacts in the rural section. K. H. McGibbon is special gifts chairman and the Jaycees will be in charge of coin container collections.

Meeting with the group were Harriett DeLapp, American Heart fund representative, and Mrs. Imogene Lloyd, local chapter president.

Planning Fund

WASHINGTON (AP)—An advance of $68,992 to aid San Antonio in planning "renewal" of a 42-acre area near the city's central business district was announced today by the Urban Renewal Administration.

Nehru Reports Red Chinese Invasion Threat

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Communist China has threatened to invade India's northeast frontier if India does not halt military activity in border territories more than 1,000 miles to the northwest, Prime Minister Nehru told Parliament today.

"Obviously," Nehru told a questioner, "if that is done, we shall resist and repel it."

Nehru said Peking in a letter received Dec. 2 complained that India was "stepping up military positions and building new posts" in the disputed Ladakh area of Kashmir and also in such areas as Bara Hoti, in Uttar Pradesh State, west of the Tibetan border.

He said the Chinese hinted that "if our military activities are not stopped they may have to take action by sending troops south of the McMahon Line."

The British-drawn McMahon Line has been the boundary between India's Assam State and Tibet—running from Bhutan east to the Burmese border—since 1903. The Red Chinese have been claiming 38,000 square miles south of the line. Except for a single Chinese outpost, however, there have been no official reports of Chinese expansion south of the line.

The Reds already have occupied 12,000 square miles claimed by India in Ladakh, and the latest Peking letter was in reply to an Indian protest that the Communists had pushed their posts even farther into Indian-claimed territory.

Kettles Make Better Start

Proceeds from Salvation Army kettles are coming along well this year, according to Maj. Robert L. Short, commander of the local post.

A total of $116 has been collected in the first three days compared to $124 last year in four days. The kettles went out Friday.

"There is one less kettle this year, making the results look even better," Maj. Short pointed out. Locations this year are at Second and Main, Fourth and Main and the Post Office and Arnold's Cafeteria. The unit is at the Post Office in the morning and at the cafeteria during the afternoon.

They will remain out until Dec. 23. Workers from various civic groups will man the kettles at times to relieve Salvation Army workers.

The list of persons registering for Christmas baskets stands at 120. This is about half the number expected, Maj. Short said.

These names are being reviewed to determine if all meet the requirements to receive food aid. Registration will continue through Dec. 13. Maj. Short urged persons and groups planning to use the Salvation Army as a clearing house to contact the post early. This applies to persons wishing to give food and those who need it.

Association Elects R. L. Heith

R. L. Heith, clinic manager of the Malone and Hogan Hospital Foundation, Big Spring, was elected secretary-treasurer of the Association of Private Clinics and Hospitals of Texas Sunday. The three-day meeting in Houston began Friday.

Dr. John DuPree, Levelland, was elected president. R. S. Riley, hospital administrator for Malone and Hogan Hospital Foundation, is serving the second year of a three-year term as association trustee.

Fishermen Are Both Doing Well

Sam Fisherman is now out of the hospital at Houston, where he had his voice box removed by surgery. Currently he is taking speech therapy and is getting along fine. Mrs. Fisherman is staying with a son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Fisherman, 3642 Tartan Lane, Houston 25.

Another son, Dr. Frank Fisherman, returned to Houston from Dallas where he visited his mother, who fell and suffered a broken hip while en route to Mr. Fisherman's bedside. She also is reported doing well.

Band To Help Greet Santa

The Big Spring High School band will serve as escort for Santa Claus Thursday, when he arrives in the city aboard a T&P train.

Santa will set up shop on the east side of the court house, near the Memorial, and youngsters are invited to drop by for a visit and receive candy favors. Santa arrives about 2 p.m. and will stay until he has taken orders from all children who wish to see him.

Mothers of pre-school children are urged to bring their youngsters to see Santa as early as possible, to beat the after-school rush. An early start will also eliminate long lines waiting to see the old gent.

Webb AFB, the police department, and members of the American Business Club will combine forces to help with traffic problems.

U. S. Pushes Ahead With Orbit Plans

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States pressed ahead today toward its goal of orbiting a man around the world this year. Scientists, engineers and technicians worked round the clock and astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., the chosen pilot, began extensive preparation in a "ready room" not far from the launching pad.

If all goes right, the attempt could be made as early as Dec. 20. Technical problems could delay the launching, and major trouble could push it into 1962.

Glenn moved Monday into special quarters on the Cape so he could be near all key centers of Project Mercury operations.

Not far away are the launching pad where the huge Atlas booster rocket was erected Saturday; the hangar where Glenn's spacecraft is undergoing thorough checkout, the Mercury control center, nerve center of the operation, and a ground-based capsule where he can run through simulated flights of his projected three times around the world mission.

The "ready room" is the same lodging occupied by astronauts Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Virgil I. Grissom for a few days before their 15-minute suborbital flights earlier this year.

With a more demanding assignment before him, Glenn, 40, a Marine lieutenant colonel, entered the quarters early to prepare for the flight. He will undergo periodic physical and psychological examinations, bone up on space roadmaps so stars and ground features will be readily recognized when he looks out of his spaceship as he zips around the world at 17,500 miles an hour, and he will hold numerous consultations on progress of the missile and capsule.

Glenn will live in the quarters most of the time until launching. But he will be able to leave the Cape when his training does not restrict him. His wife, Anna, their two children will remain at their home in Arlington, Va.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has not announced that manned orbit will be tried this year. But it is known officials want to achieve it in 1961, the same year as the Soviet Union.

An NASA spokesman said the agency stands on last week's statement by Project Mercury Director Robert Gilruth, after the partially successful orbit flight of Enos the chimpanzee. Gilruth said a decision on whether man would ride the next capsule must await thorough evaluation of the chimp flight.

He said a complete study must be made of the capsule's cooling and control systems, which malfunctioned and forced scientists to return Enos to earth after two swings around the earth instead of the intended three.

But Gilruth reported a human passenger could have overruled the troubles and the flight carried out to successful completion. Apparently he was confident the troubles were minor—for he then named Glenn as the pilot for the intended three-orbit, 4 1/2-hour whirl about the earth.

Physical and mental examinations showed Enos suffered no unpleasant after-effects from his flight. Atlas and capsule contractor personnel went on a three-shift 24-hour-a-day work schedule to prepare the vehicles.

NASA has asked the Atlantic Missile Range for support in a period extending from Dec. 20 to the end of the year in the hope of launching Glenn successfully in this time. Rep. Victor Anfuso (D-NY), a member of the House Science and Astronautics Committee, reported in New York last Saturday that Dec. 20 was the selected date for the firing.

Psychiatrist Says Eidinoff Still Needs Clinic Care

RUSK (AP)—Dr. Harold Eidinoff of El Paso requires further hospital care for his and others' protection, a psychiatrist said Monday.

The statement was made by Dr. Richard O'Laughlin of Lubbock, who said he examined the El Paso physician in 1959 and again Sunday. He said Eidinoff was still a paranoiac.

O'Laughlin was the day's principal witness at a sanity hearing. The El Paso physician was found insane two years ago in a Lubbock trial. He was accused of murder in the fatal shooting of Ted Andrews, 50, an El Paso lawyer.

A Lubbock jury on Nov. 5, 1959, found Eidinoff insane then and also on Jan. 28, 1959, when he shot and killed Andrews at the El Paso airport.

Under Texas law, the verdict prevented trial of Eidinoff on a murder charge.

Dist. Judge Robert Bean committed Eidinoff to the Rusk State Hospital, an institution for the criminally insane, and recommended that he never be freed.

Last June 10 Judge Bean denied Eidinoff's request for a sanity hearing. The judge said that under state laws, Eidinoff can gain his release if the superintendent of the state hospital decides he is no longer insane.

In the trial here, Eidinoff contends he now is sane and should be released from the hospital.

Ranchers Oppose Park For Buffalo

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP)—Flint Hills grasslands of Kansas should be kept for Herefords instead of buffalo, belligerent ranchers told Secretary of the Interior Udall Monday.

The ranchers were indignant over a proposal that 57,000 acres northeast of Manhattan be converted into a prairie national park, where buffalo, deer and antelope could roam as in olden times.

About 125 persons crowded into the Pottawatomie County Courthouse at Westmoreland and gave Udall petitions signed by nearly 300 opposing the park.

Park officials say the prairie must be preserved so future generations may know what the frontier was like.

Richard West Hurt In Fire

Richard D. West, 306 Lorilla, was treated at Cowper Clinic and Hospital Monday about 10:30 p.m. for severe burns received in a flash fire at Couden's Big Spring refinery.

He was reported doing well this morning. West received extensive burns on both thighs, legs, feet and hands. He was taken to the hospital by Nalley-Pickle ambulance.

The cause of the fire has not yet been determined, according to Couden officials.

Dominican Rioters Stand Off Attempts To Break Up Strike

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Angry antigovernment crowds stood off a band of about 70 hoodlums Monday, thwarting an army-police attempt to whip up mob violence against the week-old general strike seeking to topple the regime of President Joaquin Balaguer.

The ragged ruffians, led by two uniformed policemen and an air force officer with a machine gun, were all that responded to army appeals to residents of Santo Domingo's slums to rise against the striking shopkeepers and loot their stores.

At least five persons were wounded by fragments from noise bombs hurled at the mobs. Another man was shot in the thigh and a shopkeeper was beaten by the toughs.

The armed forces had withdrawn all troops from riot duty in the capital and soldiers with loudspeakers toured the slum section inviting the populace to break into shattered stores.

The small band which responded was met by a huge antigovernment crowd which battled the club-wielding terrorists with rocks and slingshots.

The riot troops moved back into the city in large numbers as the sundown curfew approached, and the mobs scattered. Late Monday night some explosions were heard in various parts of the city.

Reporter-cameraman John Hlavacek of the National Broadcasting Co. was clubbed by some of the toughs in the club-swinging melee but he was not seriously hurt.

The two policemen leading the mob fired toward a taxicab carrying Associated Press correspondents Robert Berrellez and Bernard Diederich and Richard Valeriani of NBC but no one was hurt.

Federico Jose Oyarrun, Chilean delegate to the Organization of American States, arrived to try to mediate between Balaguer and opposition forces seeking to replace his regime by a provisional junta with no holdovers from the Trujillo dictatorship.

The Chilean government said both Balaguer and the opposition had asked for a mediator. Opposition sources said they had no advance notice of his mission.

The government announced it had proposed formation of a five- or seven-man junta headed by Balaguer with all other posts going to opposition members. The National Civic Union, the leading opposition party, remained adamant in its demand that Balaguer get out.

The government announced the dismissal of Gen. Andres Rodriguez Mendez from the armed forces. Rodriguez Mendez, former commander of the air base at Barahona, had been friendly with opposition factions and was named Dominican delegate to the Inter-American Defense Board. He left a week ago but stopped in Puerto Rico and reportedly declined to continue to his new post.

County Buys Two New Cars

The Howard County road and bridge department is to get two new Ford 6-cylinder cars.

The Howard County Commissioners Court accepted the bid of Shasta Motor Co. to supply the cars at its meeting on Monday morning. The department proposes to trade in one sedan and one pickup on the deal.

Three car dealers submitted bids. Shasta's bid was $2,054 for one car and $1,645 for another. Pollard Chevrolet and Jones Motor Co., were the other bidders.

Assault On Editor Brings Fine, Jail

McCOMB, Miss. (AP)—Melton J. Stayton, 43, has drawn a $100 fine and a 30-day jail sentence for slugging the local newspaper editor in a spat that grew out of racial incidents here.

City Judge Robert W. Brumfield meted out the sentence after Stayton, during his trial, switched to a plea of guilty of assault and battery on editor J. Oliver Emmerich of the Enterprise-Journal.

Stayton told a newsman that he would appeal the sentence. He prepared to post $500 bond.

Judge Brumfield, before imposing the sentence, said he was disturbed by the situation here in which "soul is pitted against soul."

The judge said that the incident was different from a case where, in the heat of passion, a man started fighting, or where someone jumps on what he termed the "friction riders" or has a difference of opinion with a newsman.

But, Brumfield added, when the "citizens of this town cannot feel free to walk the streets without fear of being molested, that is a dangerous situation."

44 Electric Companies Take Cue From Anti-Trust Action, File Suits

NEW YORK (AP)—Forty-four electric utility companies—taking their cue from the federal government's antitrust action last February—have filed a dozen damage suits against 21 electrical manufacturers.

The utilities charge price-rigging among the manufacturers and seek triple damages. The exact amount sought, the suits say, will be specified after further investigation. Estimates of the claims have ranged from $100 million to billions.

Chief defendants in the suits filed Monday are the General Electric Co. and the Westinghouse Electric Corp., each named in 11 suits, and the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co., named in nine.

Both GE and Westinghouse declared they believed their customers had received fair value for the prices paid.

Allis-Chalmers, located in West Allis, Wis., withheld comment.

All the defendants were among the 29 manufacturers which, along with 45 of their top executives, were fined $1.9 million in Philadelphia U.S. District Court last February. Seven jail terms and 25 suspended sentences were imposed.

GE and Westinghouse and their executives suffered almost half of the fines imposed at that time.

The plaintiff companies cover northeastern states west to Indiana and south to Virginia and represent about 18 per cent of the nation's privately owned utilities.

They seek damages for overcharging which they say resulted from the conspiracies. Products involved include steam turbine generators, power transformers and outdoor circuit breakers. Such civil suits must be filed within a year of the criminal conviction.

At the time of the government antitrust action, 19 of the firms pleaded guilty and 10 pleaded no contest.

Mac, JFK To Meet On Berlin Strategy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will meet in Bermuda Dec. 21 and 22 to outline final strategy for possible Berlin negotiations with the Soviet Union.

The White House announced plans for the conference late Monday.

In addition to their policy talks on Berlin, Kennedy and Macmillan are expected to discuss disarmament negotiations and a course for an agreement to end nuclear weapons testing under an international inspection system. They may issue some new call for cooperation by the Soviet Union to bring the nuclear race under control.

Diplomatic informants in London said Kennedy and Macmillan also were expected to discuss the negotiations now in progress to bring Britain into the European Common Market, ways of tightening Western defenses and the probable meaning of the recent Communist party congress in Moscow and the new de-Stalinization wave it launched.

SETBACK

Administration hopes for steady progress toward East-West negotiations on Berlin received a setback over the weekend with blunt Communist rejection of Kennedy's suggestion last week for international control of the access routes to West Berlin across East Germany.

Apparently Kennedy aides had expected a more positive or encouraging response. The Soviet government newspaper Ivestia which published an interview with the President last week said the idea of putting the supply lines to West Berlin under international administration was "doomed to failure."

Walter Ulbricht, Communist party chief in East Germany, also threw down the suggestion. The Soviet and East German claim is that the United States, Britain, France and West Germany will have to deal with the East German regime to secure their routes to Berlin.

NO EMERGENCY

Officials here said that there was no emergency in the Kennedy-Macmillan decision to meet in Bermuda. The White House announcement and the parallel announcement at London said simply that the two leaders felt it would be useful to have an informal discussion of the international situation.

The official statements also linked the Bermuda conference with "the series of bilateral meetings which are now taking place between the heads of some of the Western governments."

The next of these sessions is due next weekend when German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is expected to meet with French President Charles de Gaulle.

Adenauer and Kennedy conferred here two weeks ago and De Gaulle and Macmillan met in London 10 days ago. All of those conferences were concerned with Berlin.

Foy D. Kohler leaves Wednesday for a Paris meeting of senior foreign office officials of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany. Their task is to prepare for a meeting of their foreign ministers in the French capital next week to be followed by a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Council.

REACH PACT

The aim of all these Allied discussions is to reach agreement on German and Berlin questions which may be involved in negotiations with the Soviet Union, to decide on the limits of Western concessions and to reaffirm the Western determination to stand fast on defense of West Berlin and its access routes against Soviet and East German threats and pressures.

U.S. officials said it is presently impossible to predict exactly what kind of situation Kennedy and Macmillan will be dealing with for two reasons. In the first place, no one is yet sure what the agreed Allied policy and negotiating strategy will be since that is up to the Paris meeting to work out in final form. In the second place, no one on the Western side can tell what new maneuvers the Russians may engage in before Dec. 21.

OAS Chiefs To Consider Cuban Actions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign ministers of the American republics will meet next month to consider economic and political sanctions against the Communist government of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The Jan. 10 meeting, site to be designated, was called Monday by the Organization of American States. The OAS Council voted 14 to 2 for a Colombian resolution aimed straight at Cuba, although it didn't mention it by name.

Citing the mutual defense treaty binding the 21 Western Hemisphere nations, Colombia asked a foreign ministers meeting to consider "threats to the peace and political independence of the American states that could arise from the intervention of extra-continental powers."

Only Cuba and Mexico voted no. Mexico based its vote on juridical grounds.

Cuba called the OAS action "an effort by the United States to gain accomplices for a new invasion of Cuba."

If the foreign ministers decide Castro's Cuba is a threat to peace in the Western Hemisphere, they can invoke sanctions similar to those levied against the Trujillo dictatorship in the Dominican Republic. They also can consider other courses of action.

Diplomatic circles said Monday's action was one of the most far-reaching ever taken by the OAS.

Last Saturday Castro in a television speech in Havana announced that he is a Marxist and that Cuba's government is in full accord with Communist ideas.

The position of the 14 countries supporting the anti-Castro proposal in the OAS presumably had been decided before the speech. But the Castro speech may have turned some "no" votes into abstentions. Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Ecuador previously had been understood to be considering negative votes. They joined Bolivia in abstaining.

Chile, Argentina and Brazil made it clear they plan to attend the foreign ministers' conference. Chile said it is concerned about the "belligerent presence" of Sino-Soviet influence in this hemisphere.

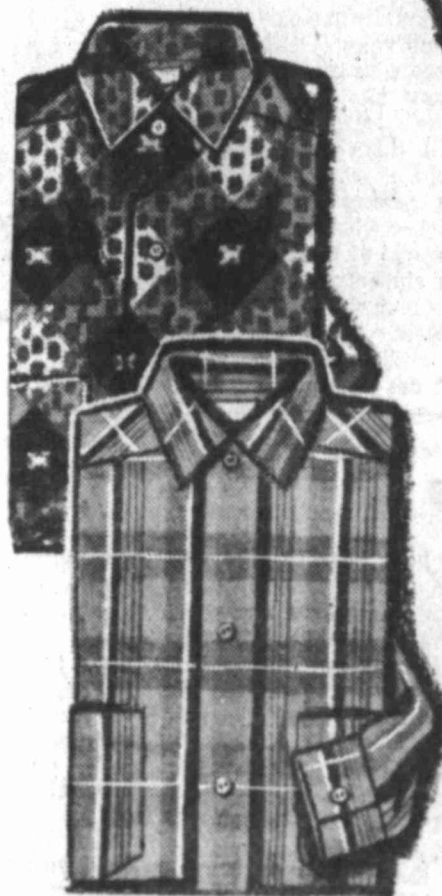

Mexico's OAS ambassador, Vicente Sanchez Gavito, sought in vain to prevent a vote on the proposal and send it to a committee for study.

Administration hopes for steady progress toward East-West negotiations on Berlin received a setback over the weekend with blunt Communist rejection of Kennedy's suggestion last week for international control of the access routes to West Berlin across East Germany.

Apparently Kennedy aides had expected a more positive or encouraging response. The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia which published an interview with the President last week said the idea of putting the supply lines to West Berlin under international administration was "doomed to failure."

Walter Ulbricht, Communist party chief in East Germany, also threw down the suggestion. The Soviet and East German claim is that the United States, Britain, France and West Germany will have to deal with the East German regime to secure their routes to Berlin.

NO EMERGENCY

Officials here said that there was no emergency in the Kennedy-Macmillan decision to meet in Bermuda. The White House announcement and the parallel announcement at London said simply that the two leaders felt it would be useful to have an informal discussion of the international situation.

The official statements also linked the Bermuda conference with "the series of bilateral meetings which are now taking place between the heads of some of the Western governments."

The next of these sessions is due next weekend when German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is expected to meet with French President Charles de Gaulle.

Adenauer and Kennedy conferred here two weeks ago and De Gaulle and Macmillan met in London 10 days ago. All of those conferences were concerned with Berlin.

Assistant Secretary of State

Foy D. Kohler leaves Wednesday for a Paris meeting of senior foreign office officials of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany. Their task is to prepare for a meeting of their foreign ministers in the French capital next week to be followed by a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Council.

REACH PACT

The aim of all these Allied discussions is to reach agreement on German and Berlin questions which may be involved in negotiations with the Soviet Union, to decide on the limits of Western concessions and to reaffirm the Western determination to stand fast on defense of West Berlin and its access routes against Soviet and East German threats and pressures.

U.S. officials said it is presently impossible to predict exactly what kind of situation Kennedy and Macmillan will be dealing with for two reasons. In the first place, no one is yet sure what the agreed Allied policy and negotiating strategy will be since that is up to the Paris meeting to work out in final form. In the second place, no one on the Western side can tell what new maneuvers the Russians may engage in before Dec. 21.

OAS Chiefs To Consider Cuban Actions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign ministers of the American republics will meet next month to consider economic and political sanctions against the Communist government of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The Jan. 10 meeting, site to be designated, was called Monday by the Organization of American States. The OAS Council voted 14 to 2 for a Colombian resolution aimed straight at Cuba, although it didn't mention it by name.

Citing the mutual defense treaty binding the 21 Western Hemisphere nations, Colombia asked a foreign ministers meeting to consider "threats to the peace and political independence of the American states that could arise from the intervention of extra-continental powers."

Only Cuba and Mexico voted no. Mexico based its vote on juridical grounds.

Cuba called the OAS action "an effort by the United States to gain accomplices for a new invasion of Cuba."

If the foreign ministers decide Castro's Cuba is a threat to peace in the Western Hemisphere, they can invoke sanctions similar to those levied against the Trujillo dictatorship in the Dominican Republic. They also can consider other courses of action.

Diplomatic circles said Monday's action was one of the most far-reaching ever taken by the OAS.

Last Saturday Castro in a television speech in Havana announced that he is a Marxist and that Cuba's government is in full accord with Communist ideas.

The position of the 14 countries supporting the anti-Castro proposal in the OAS presumably had been decided before the speech. But the Castro speech may have turned some "no" votes into abstentions. Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Ecuador previously had been understood to be considering negative votes. They joined Bolivia in abstaining.

Chile, Argentina and Brazil made it clear they plan to attend the foreign ministers' conference. Chile said it is concerned about the "belligerent presence" of Sino-Soviet influence in this hemisphere.

Mexico's OAS ambassador, Vincente Sanchez Gavito, sought in vain to prevent a vote on the proposal and send it to a committee for study.

A Devotional for Today

Then Samuel took a stone, . . . and called the name of it Eben-ezer, saying, Hitherto hath the Lord helped us. (1 Samuel 7:12.)

PRAYER: Dear Father, fill this day with holy memories. We are grateful for our home, our work, our friends, Thy church, and what we hope to be. Help us to show our thankfulness in our lives. Help us to trust in Thee and to do Thy will. For the sake of Christ. Amen.

Texas Making Progress

After a year's study, the Southern Regional Education Board's seven-member Commission on Goals for Higher Education in the South has issued a guidance report toward lifting the 16-state area's college standards to rival those in other regions. The most gratifying aspect of this report is Texas' outstanding progress already in the major recommendations listed.

The commission urges each state to create or improve "a true state system of higher education." Texas, in fact, has several. Besides the 83 privately supported institutions, there are 52 publicly supported colleges and universities. These include the University of Texas System, the Agricultural and Mechanical College System, six state (formerly teachers') colleges with a single board of regents, and seven independent state four-year colleges.

The commission advises the eight out of 16 Southern states which do not have one, to establish a "central agency for long-range planning and coordination" of the public higher education program. The Texas Commission on Higher Education could well be the model for the type of agency recommended.

The commission advocates "a strong system of two-year community colleges" in urban areas. Texas has 32 community colleges, some now four-year, with relatively strong local support, state-aid financing.

The commission stresses the pressing need for excellence of higher education quality, largely obtained by building up faculty salaries until they are "competitive with those in the rest of the nation." Texas can hardly claim that achievement as yet, but the latest session of the legislature did levy taxation and make appropriations to improve college budgets and faculty salary levels substantially.

Texas state policy has generally recognized, well before the issuance of this report, that a sustained effort must be made to build a system of higher education adequate to meet the needs of "the vast urban, industrial and technological society now rapidly emerging." There can be little quarrel here with the goals which this regional survey has set; the only question in this state is whether we are progressing toward them as rapidly as our resources would allow.

The commission reports that Southern institutions of higher learning, public and private, now spend $1.1 billion a year to educate 883,000 students, and to meet the prescribed goals must spend $2.9 billion a year to educate 1,700,000 by 1970. This is no small assignment, but Texas is equipped to set the pace.

To No One's Surprise

Fidel Castro has finally confirmed the obvious—that he's a Communist. On his latest late night television tirade, he said with his lips what he deems have been saying for a long time—that he was a Red of the Marx-Lenin stripe, that he was opposed to the "personality cult," which means that he again was admitting being in bed with the Khrushchev regime, another obvious fact.

Perhaps the only significant thing about his statement was that he had "always been and will be until the day" he died a Communist. For what it was worth, this statement stripped away whatever pretense there might have been that he was a product of the revolutionary ferment among the masses wanting to throw off the iron dictatorship of Batista. His proclamation of the confidence and good will of the overwhelming majority who made his rise to power possible was part of a calculated scheme.

Castro may have accentuated the terminal of his communist activities with this phrase, "until I die." While violence is not an answer, some of his countrymen may hasten the realization of the whirlwind which he so treacherously has sown.

How The No-Win Policy Is Sold

WASHINGTON—The Senate's probe (S. Res. 191) of what is called the No Win policy toward communism has been postponed till January, after being cancelled in November but that is no reason for a reporter to suspend his own probe—the reverse.

JUST TO be sure that the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee — and the American public—know where to look, and what to recognize, I produce another example of how administration-oriented intellectuals promote the No Win policy and try to condition public opinion to become less anti-Communist.

Today's case in point is a study entitled, "U. S. Foreign Policy and the Soviet Union." It was published as recently as October, 1961, by a subsidiary of the tax-free Fund for the Republic, called the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions, Santa Barbara, California.

THE STUDY is written by Fred Warner Neal, a State Department consultant (1946-48) on Russian affairs. He is identified on Page One of the pamphlet as having "presided over this country's first 'cultural relations' with the U.S.S.R. . . . and (having) organized the Voice of America broadcasts to the Soviet Union."

Here are some of his findings which, because of Mr. Neal's undoubted erudition and sincerity, are bound to be influential in forming government policy and public opinion. The subtitles are mine, the quotations are Mr. Neal's, the conclusion as to whether they constitute a No Win preachment is the reader's:

JUST RELAX: "... Soviet policy has not demonstrated a propensity for military aggression . . . the contention that the Soviet Union is militarily aggressive is without foundation (pp. 21-22) . . . it is a misreading of the Soviet Union to equate it with Nazi Germany . . . the essentially defensive nature of its policy stands out . . . its interests were limited by security considerations . . . primarily centered in Eastern Europe. (pp. 12-13) . . .

Speaking of Extremism: "... American policy has become wholly enmeshed in a nuclear arms race . . . (p. 5) . . .

DON'T BLAME Khrushchev For Those 36 Nuclear Test Shots: Blame the U.S.A.: "There is much evidence that Washington was ready to begin tests on its own—underground. (p. 40) . . . the Soviet Union has proposed detailed plans for virtually unrestricted, veto-free inspection (p. 41) . . .

Big Brainwash Needed: "Such leadership (as Mr. Neal advocates) could undertake cautiously to convince the American people that the Soviet Union is not necessarily militarily aggressive . . . could explain to the American people that . . . communism . . . cannot be combated by military force . . . could begin to show the American people the futility and disadvantage of constant challenge to the Soviet Union on Eastern Europe (pp. 59-60) . . . Almost half the 286 students are working their way through Reinhardt this year, cooking, waiting on table, acting as secretaries and wielding dustpans and mops after classes.

Emotional Road To Communism

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fidel Castro is an emotional Marxist, not an intellectual one. And, because he is, his road to communism in Cuba should continue to be unpredictable, erratic, opportunistic, and probably bloody and chaotic.

The difference between intellect and emotion in Castro was spelled out in his Saturday broadcast in which he explained how long it took him to become a Marxist-Leninist.

But then, admitting he is taking Cuba into communism, he said his program will be "Marxist-Leninist but adapted to conditions existing in our country." This makes him no less a problem for the United States but in time it should also make him a problem for both Moscow and Peking.

THE RUSSIANS and Red Chinese are having trouble enough with one another on what road to take without seeing Castro riding off in still another direction like Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito.

It is no wonder Premier Khrushchev, in his Vienna talk with President Kennedy last June, called Castro unstable and said he is not a Communist.

Castro listed three stages in his development which show he became a Marxist as a result of events and not of a cool intellectual determination.

When he was a student in Havana, son of a rich landowner, he was not a Marxist because he was influenced, he said, by capitalist propaganda. This would indicate he was then anti-Communist. He was 23 when he was graduated from Havana University in 1926 with a law degree and a doctorate.

At 26, he said, his thinking was pretty much as it is now. But, if he can be believed, this can hardly have been the case since he then said he didn't become a Marxist-Leninist until he took over Cuba three years ago at 32.

Can You 'Catch It Again'? Here's A List

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

Some diseases protect persons from another attack afterward; some don't. Here is a check list, which you may want to cut out and save. In parentheses in each case is the answer as to whether a preventive or vaccine is available.

Common cold: No immunity. No vaccine but progress is reported in research efforts.

Influenza: No lasting immunity. (Vaccine protects if taken annually.)

Whooping cough: Lasting immunity. (Vaccine plus a booster before age 5 protects.)

Measles: Infants immune for first six months of life; an attack after that gives lasting immunity. (No vaccine available, but progress is reported in trials with an experimental vaccine.)

Mumps: Usually lasting immunity, except that a second attack may occur. (No vaccine.)

Diphtheria: Lasting immunity. (Toxoid with periodic booster is effective protection.)

Chickenpox: Infant immune for first six months; lasting immunity after an attack. (No vaccine.)

Repeated attack is possible from exposure to a different strain of the virus, and there are three strains, two of them less common. (Salk vaccine, with booster every two years. Oral vaccine recently available against one strain, so far.)

Infectious mononucleosis: It is not known whether an attack provides immunity. (No vaccine.)

Tetanus (lockjaw): No lasting immunity. (Protection is from toxoid with periodic boosters.)

Typhoid: Lasting immunity. Vaccine every two to three years.)

Pneumococcal pneumonia: Immunity for about a year. (No vaccine.)

Staph (staphylococcus) infections: Short immunity, if any. (No vaccine.)

Tuberculosis: Possibility of subsequent immunity uncertain. (BCG vaccine is practical for certain high-risk groups—nurses for example.)

Undulant fever: Uncertain. (No vaccine.)

Amebic dysentery: No immunity. (No vaccine.)

Trench mouth: No immunity. (No vaccine.)

"Dear Dr. Molner: In what diseases does one not use salt, soda or baking powder, not even in cooking?—Mrs. S. K."

Primarily diseases of the heart and/or kidneys and some cases of cirrhosis of the liver. The three ingredients all contain sodium. A low-sodium diet is helpful in conditions in which the body has difficulty in throwing off excess water, and sodium has the chemical trait of attracting and holding the fluid. That is what dropsy is—swelling caused by too much water accumulating in the tissues.

The modern diuretic drugs are so effective in getting rid of water in such cases that the low-sodium diet is no longer as important as it once was.

Fat! My leaflet, "The Lost Secret of Reducing," tells how to get rid of it the easy way. For your copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Molner answers readers' questions in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Christmas In The Oil Patch

One Christmas a great many years ago I was in a small oil field boom town. The boom was new, the town was bursting at the seams with oilfield workers.

The town was located in one of the most desolate parts of Texas. I won't name the place because, in the years that have passed since that Christmas, it has changed to a considerable extent and no longer offers the unappetizing picture it did then.

Some group—I doubt if they had a chamber of commerce—got together and decided to have a community Christmas tree. Oil field workers and oil companies generously contributed cash for the essential Christmas candy and fruits.

THE COMMITTEE decided to have the tree in the school house which seemed to be the best available place.

And then, as is always the case, someone asked a question:

"Speaking of a tree—where are we to find one?"

The committee scratched its collective head and gnawed at the problem. Maps were unfolded. Trees were one thing that the community lacked, nor were they to be found in the area anywhere near to the town.

There just weren't any trees.

One of the committeemen had an idea: "Look—this is an oil field town. We got no trees but we got all sorts of oil derrick. We got some expert rig builders. Let's have a Christmas derrick instead of a tree."

IT WAS SO ordered and a crew of rig-builders went to work. They inspected the school and built a model oil derrick, big enough and colorful enough they thought, to fit the occasion.

Women of the community decorated the derrick with Christmas colors. It was lighted with gaily colored bulbs. A big wreath topped the rig and from a maze of hooks, gaily wrapped packages were hung. The candy and fruit, in the traditional red socks, were stacked high about the base.

And so Santa Claus pulled up to the school aboard a big greasy oil field truck. He came into the school, gave his jovial Christmas laugh, and began distributing the candy and gifts. The higher gifts were easy to reach—Santa, who probably was a roughneck on ordinary days, clambered up the derrick ladder.

MAYBE IT wasn't in accord with the accepted Christmas pattern, but at least it was unusual. And the youngsters for whose benefit it was all carried out were pleased.

Most of them were not too well acquainted with Christmas trees anyway. And all of them were intimately familiar with oil derricks.

Observing Political Protocol

The interview—argument is the better word—between President Kennedy and Alexei I. Adzhubel, editor of Ivestia and son-in-law of Khrushchev, is enough to shake an American reporter right down to his inner soles.

It's not the content (I think Mr. Kennedy led all the way), but the form of the interview that astounds my fraternity. Any reporter lucky enough to obtain a private interview with the President of the United States is always conscious of minding his manners, in the first place.

IN THE SECOND, to argue with the President, be he Republican or Democrat, is unthinkable. We go to report as accurately as possible what the great man says, and never mind what we may think or believe privately.

If the Chief Executive were to tell me in an exclusive interview that the world is flat, I would write it down and regard it as a fairly sensational lead. But I wouldn't argue with him or try to convert him to the round — or more recent egg-shaped — theory. An American reporter vis-a-vis the President would have the fairly modest conviction that the public didn't give a continental for the reporter's opinions.

THE BEST LINE in the Kennedy-Adzhubel "interview," for my money, was Mr. Kennedy's polite question, "May I just make one brief response?" after Adzhubel had lectured him for five minutes.

When I recently ran into Joe Costa, chief photographer of King Features Syndicate, Joe and I shook our heads over the protocol of the Kennedy-Adzhubel interview. And we sat down and laughed again over one of the all-time classics of the newspaper business. That is the story of Joe's safari to Washington, D.C., in the early days of the New Deal to take pictures of Vice President Cactus Jack Garner.

JOE, always a gentleman, a scholar and a top photographer, was then one of the ace cameramen of the New York Daily News. (A photographer of distinction, Joe was the first president and is still chairman of the board of the National Press Photographers' Association.) Before he left for Washington, Joe was briefed on the etiquette of the situation. The final words of admonition, which Joe can still hear, were: "Now remember that Mr. Garner is Vice President and whatever he wants you to do, you DO!"

JOE'S APPOINTMENT with the Vice President was in the latter's office at 10 a.m. Joe had just gotten his cameras loaded and ready for work — he had even taken two or three pictures — when Mr. Garner, in his well-known and hospitable fashion, suggested that he and Joe "strike a blow for liberty!"

Innocent of the implications of striking a blow for liberty and mindful of the injunction to do whatever the Vice President wished, Joe said "yes." At this point it must be explained that Joe has never been a drinking man, particularly a bourbon drinking man. And the idea that he was about to be called upon to drink a water tumbler of bourbon at 10:30 a.m. was so far and above the call of duty that Joe could not even envision it.

WHEN HE SAW Mr. Garner pouring the bourbon and in such generous fashion at that early hour, Joe was convinced that he was about to give his life for his profession. He had never been addicted to strong waters and certainly not in mid-morning on the base of a light breakfast. But he remembered the injunction to do whatever the Vice President asked of him. So Joe, trying not to gag, downed the bourbon and felt he had been hit by a sledge hammer.

TO SHORTEN the story, Joe was once more called upon to strike a blow for liberty before he had finished his assignment. He — Joe — was game to the end. He made it back to the Washington office of the News just in time to be violently sick. The pictures turned out wonderfully, except that a few were just a teeny-weeny bit out of focus.

Divided Opinion In Supreme Court

WASHINGTON—While most Americans seem hardly aware of it, there has occurred within the Supreme Court in recent years one of those profound divisions of opinion that have occasionally shaken this highest tribunal of justice.

Certain events now coming to pass point up the fundamental difference resulting in one case after another being decided by a vote of five judges to four. The indictment of the Communist party for failing to register is an action unique in American history.

IT BECAME inevitable when the court last June, in a long opinion by Justice Felix Frankfurter, held by five to four on a point of constitutional law that the party had violated the Subversive Activities Control Act in refusing to register as an agent of the Soviet Union. The Frankfurter opinion was based on a parallel with the Securities and Exchange Act in a test over whether a large utility company should be compelled to register its securities.

FOR THE FOUR dissenting judges, Chief Justice Earl Warren and Associates Hugo Black, William O. Douglas and William J. Brennan Jr., this involved far more than a point of law. With Justice Black the outstanding dissenter, all have in one degree or another declared that the issue in case after case was one of the right of free speech and free assembly. They have said that the basic guarantees of American freedom contained in the Bill of Rights to the Constitution were threatened if not already impaired.

JUSTICE BLACK has said again and again that if this can be done to the extreme left in a time of fear and suspicion, then at some later day it can be done to the extreme right or to any segment of opinion that is at the moment unpopular. His first and lone dissent on this broad issue was in 1950 on the requirement of a non-Communist affidavit in a National Labor Relations Board case.

The following year he was joined by Douglas in a dissent on the first test of the Smith Act making it a crime to be a member of any organization advocating the overthrow of the government by force and violence. The point Black and Douglas made was that the law was aimed not at an overt act but at teaching and advocacy, and therefore at thought itself. In this way, they argued, it encroached on a basic right guaranteed by the Constitution.

IN ONE OF HIS most recent dissents, involving the contempt citation and consequent prison sentence against a witness refusing to testify before the House un-American Activities Committee, Black stressed a theme often repeated. This is the conviction that the American system based on freedom and the right of the individual is so inherently strong that it can withstand any challenge in the sphere of thought and teaching. He has repeatedly quoted Thomas Jefferson and others of the founding fathers to support his case for the force of freedom and the capacity of free men to resist alien doctrine.

THE CONSEQUENCES of the Subversive Activities Control Act are seen, with the first steps taken against the Communist party and its officers, to be far-reaching. Under the act not merely the officers, and who and where they are, is one immediate problem, but every known member may be prosecuted.

THE ESTIMATE in the Internal Security Division of the Department of Justice is that party membership has dropped from 10,000 to perhaps 8,000 to 7,000. Prosecution of any substantial part of the membership would mean the surfacing of hundreds of undercover FBI agents who have worked secretly within the party apparatus. This would do great harm.

IN VIEW OF ALL THIS, the Justice Department is proceeding cautiously with action to be taken against the officers when they can be pinned down. The act provides a maximum of five years in prison or a $10,000 fine, or both, for refusing to register.

This week the court is hearing arguments on six cases involving the refusal of witnesses to answer questions of a Congressional committee on the score that their rights of free speech and assembly under the First Amendment were violated. One of these is the case of Robert Shelton, a copy editor on the New York Times, who was questioned about past Communist affiliations. Once again with past cases as a precedent, the court is expected to hold by five to four that the danger of communism overbalances the rights of the individual.

Are Guardsmen Mistreated, Or Is It Traditional Gripping?

By RALEIGH ALLSBROOK
NEW YORK (AP)—Complaints of poor morale and supply shortages are arising at some of the camps where National Guard and reserve units have been called back into service.

As during World War II and the Korean War, the military is being accused of using "hurry up and wait" tactics—hurrying men into uniform and then not being prepared for them.

A teacher writes that much of his time is spent picking up cigarette butts and leaves.

Rickety barracks stripped partially of equipment are reported being used in another camp. Still another is said to have issued obsolete and non-operating weapons.

Has the military actually let down the men it called back to the colors or are the complaints, as draft director Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey commented, simply the traditional griping of soldiers?

"If any Army unit ever did anything without griping they'd either be lying or mutes," Hershey said.

Pentagon sources say that out of 119,000 Army reservists and Guardsmen called back, less than 1 per cent have put in complaints.

This estimate, the sources said, was based on letters and other communications received at all Army levels.

Maj. Gen. William H. Harrison, president of the National Guard Association, said "the griping of a few individuals" is casting a shadow upon the "patriotism and spirited response" of the Guardsmen and reservists.

"These complaints, in some instances," he said, "are from men who have already served on an extended active duty and resent a second callup when so many of their friends and neighbors have performed no military service."

CHANGES
He said there should be changes in the law and policy.

The matter reached a climax last week when President Kennedy devoted a part of his news conference to answering critics.

The President, whose own record includes heroic wartime service in the Navy, took particular note of complaints about Ft. Lewis, Wash.

He said the men there may be serving in a cold and windy camp, but they "are rendering the same kind of service to our country as an airplane standing at 15-minute alert at a SAC base in Omaha is rendering."

"We call them in to prevent a war, not to fight a war."

It is natural for the men to be unhappy, the President said. "It is a heavy sacrifice. They go to camps which have perhaps been newly opened or where the equipment may not be immediately available."

CONTRIBUTION
But he asked them to recognize that they are contributing to the security of their families and he held out hope they may be sent home short of their required 12 months of service.

The President said he called reserve units up this summer to strengthen the armed forces because we "want to have a choice between humiliation and holocaust."

Maj. Gen. Edward H. McDaniel, Army inspector general, is investigating conditions at Ft. Lewis, where Rep. Alvin O'Konski, R-Wis., has made accusations of "criminal negligence."

The Wisconsin representative started a controversy over whether the Army made adequate preparations there to take care of his state's 37th Infantry Division.

LAST DIVISION
He called it a "lost division" with obsolete and poorly operating weapons and short supplies.

This brought a denial by the Army and a charge from the division commander, Maj. Gen. H. A. Smith, that O'Konski had damaged the unit's morale and made the troops appear a "bunch of crybabies."

Most of O'Konski's charges also were contradicted indirectly by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who followed him on an inspection of the camp.

Proxmire reported he found many things wrong, but that the Army was making a sincere effort to straighten them out.

The major trouble, he said, was that the Army hadn't told the men exactly why they were called up, how long they must serve and why they were sent to Ft. Lewis, instead of Camp McCoy in Wisconsin.

DISSERVICES
Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., also was a party to the dispute. He accused O'Konski of doing a "great disservice" to the division by his "extraneous charges."

Other complaints have developed at Ft. Polk, La., where National Guardsmen from a number of Southern and Western states have been training.

A group of nearly 100 enlisted men from the 49th Armored Division wrote a letter to Rep. Joe Kilgore, D-Tex., complaining about conditions.

They also protested that while they had prior service "back at home there are those who have never been called to duty."

Earlier, reporter Ben House of the Columbus (Ga.) Ledger visited the camp and found conditions "deplorable."

Guardsmen were living in dusty, rickety barracks, long abandoned and partially stripped of such necessary equipment as toilets, lavatories and light switches, he wrote.

NO DIFFERENCE
Another reporter, Buddy Threatt of the Lake Charles (La.) American-Press, found conditions somewhat different, however.

He said they "seem no better—nor worse—than the regular Army barracks used by GIs in other times."

An information officer at the camp declared that since a part of it had been closed since 1954, some of the buildings naturally "were going to deteriorate."

But he said that conditions were improving rapidly and that many of the shortages complained of already have been filled.

Congressional complaints also arose over Air National Guard units called up and sent overseas.

Rep. George Huddleston, D-Ala., said he had received reports that some members of the 117th Reconnaissance Wing, now based in Paris, were just sitting around with nothing to do.

PROBLEMS
Pentagon officials blamed it on air traffic control problems and said discussions were under way with French authorities to clear up the situation.

Rep. R. Walter Riehlman, R-N.Y., also complained about conditions in Phalsbourg, France, where two National Guard air units were sent.

On a visit, he said, he found they had legitimate complaints about food, living conditions and mail service.

Reporter Jack Foiese of the San Francisco Chronicle visited Ft. Ord in California and said troops were spending their time waiting for equipment, listening to old lectures, seeing old training films and "manicuring" their barracks areas.

One soldier said that all he had done was paint numbers on walls and posts.

Despite the criticism of some camps, reports from other military installations indicated few complaints.

In Kansas, for example, Sen. Frank Carlson, R-Kan., said facilities were excellent.

At Ft. Stewart in Georgia, about 1,400 members of National Guard and reserve units have been processed and are being trained. Conditions were reported adequate.

DEAR ABBY

He'll Really Go To Pieces

DEAR ABBY: Our only daughter is to be married in three weeks and my husband is the problem. We have planned a church wedding and our minister said my husband must walk down the aisle with the bride. I bought Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" for our record player, and we have practiced "marching" every night. My husband goes to pieces every time I put the record on. He gets weak in the knees and cries and it just tears me apart to see a grown man sob like that. He says he can't do it. I love our daughter, too, and she is marrying a fine young man, so I can't figure out what my husband is all broken up about. Would it be proper for me to go down the aisle on the other side of the bride to help hold my husband up?

BRIDE'S MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Sorry, but you can't go down the aisle with the bride to "help hold your husband up." I suggest you quit rehearsing. When the big moment comes, your husband will come through with flying colors. (If he's crying NOW, wait until he gets the bills.)

DEAR ABBY: My son is in the sixth grade and his teacher gave him a book about the life of Winston Churchill. Every night my boy reads the book in bed for about half an hour. When his father gets ready for bed he will say, "Goodnight, Ralph. I'll bet you Churchill was born in Brooklyn."

Now, Abby, on the very first page it says that Winston Churchill was born at Blenheim Palace, England, Nov. 30, 1874. Could you please tell me where Brooklyn comes in? I keep asking Ralph to ask his teacher, but he forgets. Thanking you, I remain,

WEARY MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: The book is correct and your husband is a tease. The best way to handle a tease is to ignore him.

DEAR ABBY: May I shake your hand for advising young wives to believe their husbands no matter how tall the tale sounds. Here is my story:

My husband used to come home at 4 a.m. and say he'd been at his "club." I never really believed him because I knew the lights went off automatically at 1 a.m. One night I had to find out for myself, so I left my baby alone and walked to the club in the bitter cold. I saw his car parked nearby, so I waited and watched. About 3:45 a.m. his friends started coming out of the club. He was with them. One man said, "Jack, will you drive me home?" My husband replied, "Sure!"

I ran all the way home and crawled into bed like an icicle, feeling so ashamed for having doubted him. Yes, Abby, he was telling me the truth. Know what they were doing? Playing Tournament Bridge by candlelight! Don't use my name. I don't want to embarrass my great-grandchildren.

This Got His Goat

FORT WORTH (AP) — J. L. Wallace, 33, a student barber, thought he had a real shaggy llama story for the boys at the shop.

Drinking his morning coffee at home, he glanced outside and saw a long-necked creature staring at him through the front door.

Wallace called his wife to look.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Tuesday, Dec. 5, 1961 3-B

Mrs. Wallace informed her husband it was a llama.

The Wallaces called the Fort Worth animal control center and said a llama was roaming in their yard. Officers Robert Martin and Thomas Gilley caught the creature after a 15 minute chase.

But the llama turned out to be a sheep in goat's clothing.

The officers identified the animal as some kind of cross between a sheep and a mountain goat. It was impounded.

Worry of FALSE TEETH Slipping or Irritating?

Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a remarkable sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Hundreds Of Dolls

Sportsman-Toyland Center, 1608 Gregg St., not only has hundreds of dolls and plush animals displayed for easy selection, they can furnish a little lady's play house. Pictured are matching stove, washer, refrigerator and cabinet of sturdy, all-metal construction. Toys and recreational equipment for all ages can be put in lay-away now and gift wrapped at no extra charge.

Wide Toy Selection Ready For Santa

The building at 1608 Gregg looks like an annex to Santa's workshop. Outside, the big sign says, "Sportsman - Toyland Center". And inside, Joe and Lou Bunch have worked for weeks to provide you with a true "toyland" this Christmas season. The preparation started months ago when Mr. and Mrs. Bunch, who own and operate the shop, began ordering stock. They studied catalogs carefully in order to choose the newest, most wanted toys in each age group. They purchased from well-known manufacturers whose items are nationally advertised. Many have been tested and are commended by Parents Magazine. "We believe we have a better selection this year than ever before," says Bunch. "We bought with every type child in mind and think we have something each one will like." One section of the shop is devoted especially to dolls; all sizes and types. There you will find small baby dolls with lullabies, larger, cuddly ones and the big, life-size versions that look like real babies any little girl would love. For older girls, they have the "collector" dolls in different costumes - the "little girl" dolls that are big enough to wear real children's clothes and big, plushy animals. To go with the dolls, of course, there is play furniture. Stoves, washers, tables, tea sets, cookware and many other items to make little girls feel like real homemakers. The boys department is crammed with games of every kind. Chemistry and elementary science sets are popular. So are the hundreds of model kits for planes, ships and cars. (This year there is even a "visible motor" that when completed is said to be one fourth the size of a real one and actually works if assembled correctly.) Sports - loving youngsters will really go for footballs, basketballs, boxing gloves, skates, target pistols, archery and badminton sets. For those that are old enough to go along with dad, there is a complete stock of camping and fishing gear that would make long-lasting Christmas gifts. The books start with simple coloring and storybooks for the littlest ones and progress through each age group to books on science, astronomy and campcraft. In this section also are picture and jigsaw puzzles and games of all types. (Stocking stuffers and party favors, too.) Mr. and Mrs. Bunch say they couldn't begin to tell about everything they have in the store. Stop by and see for yourself. All items (no matter what the price) are gift-wrapped without extra charge and any gift you choose may be put in layaway till Christmas. Parking is free all hours at Sportsman-Toyland Center, 1608 Gregg.

Proper Way

C. B. South shows a customer the proper way to spray heavily soiled spots on garments with a water mist before placing them in the coin-operated dry-cleaning machine. The Quick-Clean Center, 1208 Gregg, has both the dry-cleaning machines and automatic washers so that your clothing can all be processed in one place at the same time. Everything is made available for customers to do-it-yourself and save yourself money.

Dry Cleaning Becomes Easy As Regular Laundry Chores

According to a recent article in a popular news magazine, one of the booming new products is the automatic dry-cleaning machine. It operates on the same principle as the coin-in-the-slot, done-while-you-wait washing machine and it is estimated that more than $30 million will be spent in those machines by the end of this year. C. B. and Tom South introduced these machines to the housewives of Big Spring several months ago at the Quick-Clean Coin operated Laundry and Dry Cleaning Center at 1208 Gregg. The new machines can take an eight lb. load (for example: two skirts, three sweaters, a wool dress, a child's snowsuit, a woman's jacket and a man's slacks), dry-clean the works for only $1.50. The average price for the same job at a standard dry cleaners is said to be over $8. The process is simple enough. Eight machines are available at the Gregg location where instructions are clearly posted. Just as at a regular cleaners, plastic or leather buttons should be removed; cuffs should be emptied of lint. Clothing is weighed so as not to overload the machine. Garments that are heavily soiled in spots are lightly sprayed or "fogged" with a mist of water. (The dampness causes the cleaning compound to work extra hard in these areas.) Total cleaning time does not run over 45 minutes. At the end of that time, garments are removed from the machine and put on hangers immediately for wrinkle-free and "completely clean" dry-cleaning at a fraction of its usual cost. Customers may rest or read in comfort during the entire process. (Many do their regular laundry in the other machines at the same time since these familiar washers and tumble dryers are located in the same big room.) Cokes and candy are available and cigarettes are in machines. An attendant is always ready to assist you when you visit the Quick-Clean Center. That's where you can do your cleaning easily and inexpensively while you relax a few minutes or shop nearby.

Volkswagens don't demand the best service (but they get it)

No radiator. No water jackets. A minimum of moving parts. A simple design that has remained basically unchanged, year to year.

No. Volkswagens don't need much service. But they get it—because we'd rather service your VW than repair it.

Our VW Service is designed to prevent minor problems from becoming major ones. It is performed by skilled mechanics, specially trained in rigorous factory methods. They have special Volkswagen hoists and other special equipment to work with. This saves their time and your money.

On those rare occasions when replacement parts are needed, we furnish them at low cost (a new cylinder head, for example, costs $19.95 and without delay. We have a six months supply on hand or immediately available, and they're all Genuine VW Parts.

We have the means and the know-how to fix anything in a Volkswagen. And if you don't happen to have a Volkswagen, our Sales Department will be very happy to fix that.
