Lubbock Loses Its Appeal On Gas Tax

(By Associated Press)
AMARILLO, Texas, Feb. 16.—The Seventh Court of Civil Appeals today affirmed the decision of trial Judge Clark M. Mullican restraining the City of Lubbock from levying gross receipts tax against the Magnolia Petroleum company and others operating filling stations in the corporate limits of that city.

The suit was an outgrowth of an ordinance passed last year by the City of Lubbock which levied a tax of one-half of one per cent upon all gasoline sold within the city limits. The city commission claimed the measure to be a legal one because of the incorporation of Lubbock under the home rule amendment to the constitution.

In giving the opinion which denied the city right to levy the tax, Justices R. W. Hall, M. J. R. Jackson and Hal C. Randolph were unanimous in declaring that article 755 of the revised statutes, the original state measure providing for a state tax on gasoline, provided that no section of the act should be construed to give any county or city the right to levy a tax upon the gross receipts from sales.

FRANCE AND ITALY WILL NOT ACCEPT COOLIDGE PLAN AT PRESENT

(By Associated Press)
GENEVA, Feb. 16.—Insistence upon maintaining intact the power and authority of the League of Nations, with scrupulous regard for the wishes of all the member states, both great and small, is the interpretation in league circles of France's reply to Washington in which she refuses to consider participation in a new naval conference limited to the five big naval powers.

Officials here, while favoring a five-power pact, believe that the United States, with its position of independence and isolation between two oceans, neglects to give importance to the "entente" rather of mere friendship of open alliance existing between numerous countries in Europe, or to the difficulty one nation finds in adopting action on naval armaments without the consent of smaller countries who are also interested in smaller war craft such as submarines and destroyers.

Delegates to Argue
France's reply is believed to leave the fate of the American proposal to the preparatory disarmament commission, where the American delegates will have an opportunity to argue the practicability of a conference of the big powers as the first concrete step toward general reduction of armaments.

The French memorandum, following Europe's refusal to accept the American world court reservations, as also regarded in league circles as another manifestation of Europe's belief that the league as a whole and not through its individual members, if she desires to co-operate effectively in Europe.

Rome Declines Plan
ROME, Feb. 16 (AP)—Italy will follow France's lead in rejecting President Coolidge's naval disarmament proposal, it was announced in a semi-official communique this morning. The Italian reply is ready and will probably be delivered some time today.

21 INJURED AS TEMPEST RAGES BETWEEN U. S. AND HAWAII

(By Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—The tail end of the greatest storm between the Pacific Coast states and the mid-Pacific Ocean in the history of the United States weather bureau continued today to pound with diminishing violence in southern and central California while the death toll stood at 16 dead, 21 injured and much property damage.

The greatest tragedy was in the mountain camp of the Southern California Edison company, 75 miles east of Fresno, where eleven persons were killed in a double avalanche early yesterday. The first avalanche crashed bunk houses and sent ten men to their death. As rescuers dug in the accumulated snow for the bodies of their companions, the second avalanche struck and took another life.

Flood waters in Puente creek, near Whittier, which have assailed the steel trestle across the stream for three days, so weakened the structure that it collapsed as the fast Los Angeles-Chicago flyer of the Union Pacific railroad moved across it last night, plunging engine, tender and two coaches into the flood. Two were known dead, three others were believed trapped in one of the coaches. Six others were injured.

Two were killed in Los Angeles traffic accidents. A boy was drowned when he fell from a San Diego railroad trestle into a raging torrent which two days before had been a dry creek bed. One hundred suburbs in the San Fernando valley near Los Angeles, marooned in their homes by flood waters were rescued by police in row boats.

Rescue Crew Busy
In the stricken mountain camp rescue crews worked late into the night in search of bodies in the snow but awaited the arrival of Coroner J. Herman Kennedy, of Fresno before continuing the work today.

Belief was expressed today that some of the bodies were buried so deeply that they would not be recovered until the spring thaws.

Edison company officials said all of the injured were recovered. Rude coffins were fashioned out of

Metal Cloth Vogue Of Minute

CROWDING DIAPHANOUS MATERIAL FOR HONORS IN ALL CHIC PARISIAN SALONS OF UP-TO-DATE PATRONS

Gold, brown chiffon
BY HENRI BENDEL
For NEA Service

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The vogue of the moment in Paris is the evening gown of metal cloth. It is the ideal mid-season choice since it suggests neither winter nor spring and somehow conveys the idea of the height of the season.

Some seasons ago designers had to woo women away from broads and gorgeous fabrics and lead them to like simpler fabrics and less ostentatious effects, now they have to win women back to them.

Paris received the glittering gown more graciously than the Americans. With good reason. Continental women represent an older civilization and a more sophisticated type. They can wear, and prefer to wear more sophisticated type of gown than the American women, who are much more youthful in type and in taste, and consequently find chiffons and lighter fabrics easier to wear.

However, what Paris desires, eventually carries, and the metal cloth gown is crowding diaphanous materials for honors, certainly it is highly appropriate that gowns for evening should have glamour as well as charm, and Paris means that.

Brocades of Silver and Gold

I am wearing photographs today of three of these new types of evening gowns with quite new and different feeling about them, showing these brocades of silver, also gold and heavy metal cloths rule the world of fashion today. They admit of no trimming or of very careful trimming, since they are so highly decorative in themselves.

Typical of the triumph of line is the very simple model with the slightly draped front. The material is gold and turquoise blue metal cloth with an indistinct weave and a very yellow luster. The neckline is a V both front and back, that of the back being much lower with a band across the shoulders for the very obvious reason of leaving the neckline as it should be. A straight band of the cloth is drawn about the hips and caught at each side of the front with rhinestone buckles.

Must Be Discreet Mixing

The combination of beads and metal cloth must be a discreet one, but it is admirably handled in the cloth of gold gown with scalloped tiers of gold

Gold gown

Gold and turquoise beads forming six rows of fringe and a narrow sash with fringed ends.

Loss rich and heavy in appearance than either of these, and consequently more appropriate for the small woman is the combination of brown chiffon and gold brocades. This frock has a paneled back and a long sash which ties in front. Insets of chiffon at the sides and front that tones in beautifully with the gold soften the lines and give the fashionable uneven length so becoming in evening attire.

Velvet With Gold Frock

With the gold frock, the colorful cloak of velvet, lined with cloth of gold is an excellent choice. Often a scarf of colored tulle or chiffon softens the neckline of such a frock so that it is more flattering to the woman who is not of a decided coloring and finds elaborate materials hard to live up to.

Jewelry worn with the metal frock should be limited to a pearl necklace or possibly a few jeweled crests about the wrist. In footwear most women prefer the sandal of gold or silver or of brocade, but many wear plain satin slippers of some color that is emphasized in the brocade.

Speaker Is Howled Down In Commons

LONDON, Feb. 16 (AP)—Postmaster General Thomson was shouted down by the laborites in a prolonged and exciting demonstration in the House of Commons this afternoon because of his speech at Crystal Palace. Right in which he declared that a firing squad would be the answer to any strike seeking to prevent the assembling of troops in case of war with China.

When he arose to answer a question in the House the laborites shouted loudly "shoot, shoot," and kept up the din so that he was unable to make himself heard.

In 1872 the Earl of Leicester presented the first wrist watch to Queen Elizabeth of England. It consisted of a bracelet with the watch attached, but not in the modern way.

Fat Women Welcomed on Portuguese Stage

Tall, slender girls are not acceptable to the Portuguese stage which has to cater to audiences who think the figure of a stout, overfed matron ideal. The leading ladies are for the most part under medium height and more than average width. The Portuguese actresses do not know the art of make-up as practiced by their English, French and American cousins.

Although the Portuguese prima don, nas are inclined to stoutness, they do not lose the lustre of their expressive dark eyes, striking long hair and white teeth.

Prejudice against young people of good family choosing the stage for a career has not yet disappeared, although some society women have taken their place on it in late years on the plea of an "irresistible vocation" or an artistic temperament.

Thursday will be visiting and projected day at the K. Carter ward school. Patrons of the school and others who are interested are to call.

BUFFS WIN AGAIN; LIONS HERE TONIGHT

Delaney And Maloney Are Both Confident Of Victory Friday Night

BIG BOYS TAKE FINAL WORKOUT BEFORE BATTLE

DELANEY PLANS TO TAKE IT EASY; MALONEY IS HARD AT WORK

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Jack Delaney, cool, suave boxer with a smashing right, felt on edge today and was intensely confident of his ability to help Jimmy Maloney in their ten round bout Friday night at Madison square garden. The light heavyweight champion plans nothing but light drill work.

Meanwhile his thumping rival from Boston, down to 202 pounds, intends halting his sparring partners around a workout ring at Long Branch, N. J., in a last minute drive for perfection of attack.

Maloney Hammers Away

Maloney hammered away at his sparring partners for ten rounds yesterday, ripping to the body the particular type of short left and right hooks his advisers believe will bend the "flashing blade" of the ring in the middle. "dynamite Jim" himself expressed confidence in his own ability.

One of Maloney's sparring partners, large negro named Leonard Noblett, was knocked out in the second round by his scrimmage with Boston's former champion. A right to the head sampled him to the canvas and added a massive cauliflower ear to his stores. It was the second time Maloney has finished Noblett with a single punch during the training period. Delaney impressed spectators at his sparring camp with his perfect left jab. He boxed seven rounds, so with George Ward, New Jersey heavyweight three with Eddie Clarke Baltimore Negro welterweight, and so with Jack Warren, negro heavyweight.

Takes The Defense

He was on the defensive rehearsing blocking catches as his partners boomed and rained blows from all sides. Ward bounced round like a over ball, but Delaney caught him mid-air with a stabbing left and agile feet even outpaced the fast heavyweight. Warren fouled it, but did do no damage in the face of Delaney's lightning left hand, hammered constantly dead to the mark with the slightest of opens and adds. Although Clarke has six fingers on a hand he had no better success against Delaney than his predecessors in the conventional number. Clarke wore a heavy head guard equipped with tin ear protectors because as he claimed he has a nice radio and wants to enjoy it in the future.

Averages Show Irish Pro Has Improved Until He Ranks As Admitted Nemesis

THE ONE MAN WALTER HAGEN FEARS IN THE COMING GOLF SEASON

WATCH THIS HOT ONE!

A DAPPER GOLFER WITH A BAG FULL OF CLASSY SHOTS

BY JIMMY POWERS

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Keep the old lamps peeled for Johnny Farrell this year.

He is the one man Walter Hagen fears.

This tall, slender, black-haired, blue-eyed Irishman with a neat personality and every shot in the kit is just about ripe for a sweet clean-up in the big golf and guff spasms carded for 1927.

SANDY HERD AT GOLFERS' HEAD

Sixty Year Old Veteran Has Rest Of Stars Of Britain Lashed To The Mast

By JIMMY POWERS

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—This year may be just 1927 to most check books, but for the market on colicums and preferred ball scandals, and a banner one for juniper berry growers, but to a short and stocky little Scotchman across the waters, it means a reigning golf period that will thrill his seasoned old soul.

If you could see him in his blue trousers, famous through the years, and watch how his eyes light up when a boy's, you'd know why Sandy Herd—good old Sandy, with his tanned cheeks and his big, heavy mustache—is going to remember 1927.

For Sandy, entering the 40th active campaigning year of his life, is wearing the royal purple toga marking his aged links battered hulk as the champion of all British professionals at the ripe age of 60.

He is a record unparalleled in golf. And now the British golf body in compiling the averages of the past year kindle another flame to warm the coekles of his heart. His average for 16 rounds of major golf competition during 1926 was 75, according to the list just released. That shows his sensational 1926 victory in which he won the British pro title from a last year of youngsters including Abe Mitchell, Arthur Havers, George Duncan and Arthur Compston was no fluke.

Old Sandy was just a wee bit of a lad back in 1888, but he entered the British open at St. Andrews and had his first taste of fast play. This was before many of our present champions were born.

In 1895, he again entered the open and Lady Luck broke his heart. He started the last round proudly, three strokes ahead of his nearest competitor. A hailstorm came up and buffeted him unmercifully. It ruined the game. When the storm stopped it came J. H. Taylor's turn to play. Taylor won.

Another seven years went by and at Moylake one bright summer-afternoon Sandy won the famous British open with a card of 82, second low then in history. This was in 1902, and many of our present stars didn't even know a razor.

And to this year Sandy, with his mischievous smile and his seasoned old brier, returns winner of another major tournament, bearing the distinction of being the only man in the world to score 17 holes-in-one, loved and revered by all golfers on both sides of the Atlantic.

Good old Sandy—his is a happy new year and there is no one to begrudge it.

MATADORS READY AFTER JAUNT TO CANYON IS SET IN HISTORY

After suffering two defeats at the hands of the veteran crew of Teachers of W. T. S. T. C. the Matadors are back to mix with the East Texas State Teachers quint. The East Texans have just finished a two game series with the Abilene Christian College in which they split. The E. T. S. T. C. crew ranks high among the T. I. A. A. basket ball teams and is making a strong bid for the conference title.

The scantily clad cagers of Texas Tech will attempt to even their series with the Teachers colleges by taking a twin bill with the Commerce crew. No doubt Coach Higginbotham will send in his very best combination to do battle with the Easterners.

Frank Bridges, former member of Baylor University, will likely call the game this evening. It was reported to the Daily Journal this morning, Bridges is considered one of the most competent referees in the Southwest.

VETERAN CANYON CAGERS STAMPEDE TO 40-17 COURT VICTORY

(Special To Daily Journal)

CANYON, Feb. 15.—Again the T. I. A. A. leaders of the indoor sport trampled the "bull fighting" Scarlet clad basketballers of Texas Tech in a game here on the Buff floor with a total count of 40 to 17 last night. The Higginbotham men held the veteran Teachers to a wide margin throughout the initial period and as the first session ended the count was 15 to 3 with the Burton quint holding the bigger end of the score. As play was resumed in the last half the Buffaloes started their stampede and the defenders of the Scarlet and Black began to falter. The Tech crew was only able to count nine times while the Teachers ripped the basket for twenty-five counters.

Hale Leads Scorers

Captain Alex. Hale, Buff leader, topped the field in scoring with thirteen points. Hale was closely followed by his teammate with ten points.

The Teachers and Matadors clash again in Lubbock on February 21 and 22, on the Matador floor and more closely contested tilt is expected.

Next T. I. A. A. games in order for the veteran Teacher quintet will be on Friday and Saturday evenings on the Buff floor with the East Texas State Teachers College.

FRESNO, Calif., Feb. 16 (AP)—Benny (Kid) Carter, Arizona featherweight, had little difficulty in defeating Young Farrell, San Francisco veteran, in a ten round bout here last night.

MY LIFE STORY
by Jack McAuliffe

I ran myself ragged but I ran my- down to 135 pounds and weighed 160 K. for my fight with Billy Myers, finding my world's lightweight championship at the Olympic Club.

Dixon and Skelly were to fight the night and Sullivan and Corbett third night.

Billy came out in the first round and lead of ripping, clawing and tearing his accustomed ferocious and effective manner, he suddenly tried to show and show his three weeks training as a boxer. He looked like a son No. 1 of "How to Box."

He started to lead and I countered to a death. He tried to box and I othered.

Joe Choyinski was my second. Dixon the fifth and sixth rounds he reached down and grabbed one of my making bottles to take a drink himself. He took one gulp and yelled poison—poison—POISON!

When I came back to my corner I explained everything. I had substituted one for water myself and was drinking all through the bout.

In the 15th round I flattened Myers, made the mistake of trying to box instead of fight.

Just to show you how game fighting, of that time were and how confident. Jack Skelly had taken a bad case of malaria and was so weak and sick-looking it was a shame to think him walking around instead of fighting. He came to me and asked me to second him against George Dixon next night.

I told him I had tried to bet $10,000 against him and that I did not believe he had a chance. I found out my money was not taken as I withdrew and went in to second Skelly.

Poor Skelly, he never had a chance, was in terrible shape but he kept going. I don't mean to discredit Dixon, so was a great fighter, one of the best. But Skelly was just as good as it was a hollow victory Dixon had that night.

Jack Dempsey was the first to go the kayo route. Then went Skelly the second of the "Four American Jacks," all champions. The next fight poor old John L. went and I was the only one of the Jacks to remain and retire undefeated.

I was in Sullivan's corner the night he went out. It was one of the ring's legends, and in a way one of its ories, the way good old John went.

EDITOR'S NOTE—In the next chapter, McAuliffe tells of the passing of Hyman and how he followed Sullivan's advice after the fight and red. It is the final chapter.

Panhandle Scout Workers to Meet

HEB, Feb. 15.—G. A. F. Barker, president of the Panhandle Council Boy Scouts of America is sending out invitations to scout workers all over the Panhandle and is urging them to attend the annual meeting which will be held in Amarillo, February 22. Several important things are to be taken up at this meeting and President Barker is urging every scout leader to come with a good delegation. He says that all the cities in the twenty-seven counties comprising the Panhandle Council are expected to send representatives.

available lumber at the camp for the bodies which had been taken out of the slide.

One hundred men of the camp were at work in a tunnel about a mile under the surface when the first avalanche struck. They were brought out immediately.

Hospital Still Standing

The slides mercifully left the camp hospital building standing but demolished every structure near it. Seven buildings were crushed to splinters. The loss was put at $25,000.

The entire Pacific Coast felt some manifestation of the storm. A slight earthquake shock was felt in San Francisco yesterday afternoon. The tremor caused some excitement in Watsonville and was felt in other places in the bay region but no damage was reported.

Hollywood firemen rescued a group of motorists who were left stranded when a bridge went out near Universal City.

Traffic Is Demoralized

Highway traffic throughout the southland was demoralized by landslides and high water. Rail communication between Los Angeles and San Diego was cut. Laredo Hot Springs, a health resort in Orange county, was washed away but there were no casualties. A hurricane at Taft ripped the roofs off several buildings.

Miss Rene Adoree, motion picture actress, and 24 of her colleagues were snowed in at Mammoth Hot Springs in the high Sierras. Food was sent to them by airplane. Devil's Gate dam in the San Fernando valley was a potential danger point because of high water. Some towns there are deluged under 4 to 5 feet of water.

Steamers Are Delayed

The affected area extended from the Aleutian Islands to Lower California and from the coast to the Hawaiian Islands. Many steamers radioed that they would be delayed.

Summit to observatory, into high Sierras reported 12 inches of snow. Mount Wilson reported seven inches of precipitation. The rain fell since Saturday in most of the area has ranged from 3 to 6 inches. The weather forecast today called for still more.

MORGAN MURDER

night on the south bound Santa Fe passenger train following Morgan's disappearance earlier in the day. His description, number and form of his ticket, and other details were phoned to Port Worth officers, and the negro was arrested about fifteen minutes afterwards.

Negro Has Confessed

The black has confessed to the slaying of Morgan, according to Associated Press dispatches from Fort Worth. He was confronted with evidence regarding the case, and with advice that Morgan's body had been found, and immediately confessed to the murder, the report said. It is not known here when the officers are due to arrive with the negro.

Morgan's body was found about noon Tuesday after several searching parties had scoured the breaks in eastern Crosby and western Dickens counties since Monday afternoon. Three bullets from a .38 caliber pistol had pierced his head and body, and his skull was fractured, leading to the belief that the black used the gun as a club. The slain man was unarmed, according to advices reaching here.

Forced to Accompany Negro

Morgan was forced to accompany the negro from the field at the point of a gun, and was shot the first time through the back of the neck, the bullet coming out just under the nose, officers here said eye witnesses told them. This was done shortly after the black had marched Morgan into the first recesses of the canyon, they said, and at this point, members of the searching party found evidences of a struggle, and it is believed that Morgan was hit over the head with the gun.

Officers said they had been told by eyewitnesses that as the two went off the edge of the canyon, Morgan was shot through the neck from the side. The third shot took effect near the heart. From here, officers said the body was carried into a lower portion of the canyon and deposited by the negro.

Morgan's home, near which the murder occurred, is several miles north-west of Spur, in Dickens county. The slain man is said to have extensive land holdings, and to have worked several negroes on the place. The fatal argument is said to have arisen over wages of the accused negro. The shooting occurred just across the line in Crosby county.

DISARMAMENT

The reasons for Italy's rejection of the proposal were not announced, but it is understood they were based on the insistence that a reduction in submarines, destroyers and other light types of naval vessels would jeopardize the defense of the long coast lines of Italy proper and her African colonies.

Hopes Are Jolted

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Hopes of the Washington government for an effective naval limitation conference have been jolted severely by a hostile rejection from France, and a forecast that Italy also will decline to participate.

With the declination last night of France, the opinion here was that Italy would accept, and still make possible the gathering of representatives of a safe number of nations to bring practical results in the limiting of armaments, not touched upon at the Washington conference.

A semi-official communique issued in Rome today, however, announced that Italy would follow the lead of France in demurring to the proposal of President Coolidge for the conference, leaving as a matter of conjecture the next step of the American government in seeking methods of obtaining the agreements it has hoped for.

Situation May Change

Tentative consideration had been given to a possible four-power conference, participated in by the United States, Japan, Italy and Great Britain even before the unfavorable French reply was received. Acceptances of the Coolidge invitation were considered as having been assured from Japan and Great Britain, but obviously the attitude of Great Britain may now be affected by the position of France and Italy.

For the moment it is unlikely that any plan of action will be formulated here in the absence of the British and Japanese formal replies.

League is Stumbling Block

The French communication was based on the main contention that the American plan might compromise the success of the preliminary disarmament commission created by the League of Nations. Whether its sanction has left room for hope that further correspondence with Paris might create a better understanding of the American suggestion was not disclosed. Secretary Kellogg probably will defer decision in that regard until the Italian reply is before him.

The statement issued by Mr. Kellogg last night calling attention to evidences of misunderstanding in Paris did not go beyond expressing the hope of ultimate French agreement. The Italian note may offer similar possibilities to the official eye; but the immediate effect of the Rome announcement is the creation of an added obstacle to any proposal for limiting cruiser, destroyer and submarine tonnage it was announced the Washington treaty theory of reconciling that theory with French and Italian governments.

New Mexico Men Build Own Road

MAYHILL, N. M., Feb. 15.—A menacing road which led disgusted motorists back and forth over 19 river crossings has been converted by New Mexico farmers into a passable highway of scenic beauty. These farmers, aided by ranchers and business men, and equipped with dynamite furnished by the Lincoln National Forest service, set forth with their teams, crow bars and other implements to tear down mammoth bluffs of solid rock in order to build a graded roadway along the north side of the Pecos river over a fifty mile stretch from Hope, New Mexico to Clouderot.

Three years ago, on one occasion a tourist was forced to don a bathing suit in order to extricate his car from one of the river passes which had been flooded by a cloudburst up the mountain miles away. It was a usual thing for the 19 river crossings to become practically impassable due to rainfall rises coming from far up the river. Because of this condition of the Pecos road, no state designation or aid could be obtained on the river highway.

Citizens along the thoroughfare at last saw that the only way results could be obtained would be through concerted action on their own part.

With all hopes of federal or state aid given up, individuals offered to donate their time and teams to building up fifty miles of undesignated, ungraded road, without culverts and bridges into a smooth, passable highway. These co-operative residents along the river tackled the stupendous task of tearing down natural cliffs and bluffs without money, and without state or federal aid, and succeeded in making a road that can be traversed regardless of high waters, rainstorms. The whole project will be entirely completed by July 1, some official aid now being given to the work.

It was three years ago April that the New Mexico citizens began their efforts to make a good roadway along one side of the river. Following the first lap of their work, through recommendation of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and investigation of the work. The road, when complete, will connect all South Plains, Central and South Texas directly with Carlsbad, Artesia, Hope, Mayhill and Clouderot on to Alamogordo, Las Cruces, and the Pacific coast from its prison system to be placed upon a self-supporting basis.

"The people of Texas are acquainted with the losses that the prison system has suffered and the amount of their tax money that has been taken to meet its obligations, and having knowledge of this condition, voted to amend the constitution that remedial legislation might be passed, and placed upon the legislature the duty of carrying their expected will into effect. There is but one conclusion which can be drawn from the adoption of the amendment and that is that the people desire a comprehensive re-organization of the properties and management of our penal institution."

Governor Moody's attitude on the debt "inheritance" of the present administration is shown in excerpts from the message.

"The accounts of the prison system and its history over the past few years clearly demonstrate that fundamental evils exist in the organization. The cause of these losses cannot be attributed to a single thing, but there are likely a number of causes which have contributed to the present financial condition of the system. To state the amount of money which has been lost in the management of the system is sufficient to convince the ordinary mind that there are fundamental evils which must be reached and corrected before the state can expect

SAINT AND SINNER

BY ANNE AUSTIN COPYRIGHT 1926 NEA

FAITH was so angry when she left Blumfeld's fur shop, with the mink coat again safe in the suitcase, that she forgot her timidity and her fears...

Not even the thick-carpeted, silk-draped elegance of the shop daunted her. She held her head high as she walked through the world of fur coats...

"This way please," a suave young salesman beckoned her. She followed him up a broad marble staircase to the offices on a balcony overlooking the display rooms.

"Mr. Garner will see you, Miss." The salesman opened the door for her and she entered a private office seated with mahogany and Oriental rugs.

Conscious that she looked out of place, in her shabby clothes, in the magnificence of her surroundings, she did not allow herself to resent the fact that the thin-faced, keen-eyed man at that desk did not rise to greet her.

"I am, Faith Lima," she began without a tremor. My sister, Cherry Lane Wiley, has asked me to sell her mink coat, and I have brought it to show to you.

"Cherry Lane Wiley!" To Faith's intense surprise, the stern face of the fur shop manager relaxed into a smile that was almost eager in its excitement.

"I beg pardon! Of course I've been following the case. I'm extremely interested. Have a seat, Miss Lane. Happy to meet you. Now, tell me—what will your defense be?" He leaned forward with boyish excitement.

"I—please, Mr. Garner, I'd rather not discuss the case," Faith stammered. "Thanks very much for your interest, my sister—we are desperately in need of money, Mr. Garner. We're working people, or rather, we were working people, until this thing happened. Cherry worked and my father and brother. Now there is only Junior—"

"She ought herself up sharply, ashamed that she appeared to be appealing to his sympathies. 'I am merely trying to explain why it is necessary for us to sell anything of value that my sister owns.'"

"I understand," Mr. Garner nodded. "Let me see the coat. Garner's does not buy used fur coats, but I can probably direct you to a manufacturing furrier who will give you the best price possible."

When the beautiful coat was in his hands, the fur shop owner drew a sharp breath of admiration. "Perfect! Finest I've ever seen! Perfectly matched! You ought to get a good price for this mink. I'll call up Frankel myself. But—just a minute. Have you any credentials with you? It's just a form, of course. I believe you are what you say you are, as a matter of business."

Faith opened her handbag and drew out a folded slip of paper which carried Cherry's formal conveyance of a coat from herself to Faith. It had been Bob's foresight which had armed her with this protection.

TOMORROW: Faith sells Cherry's fur coat.

You Needn't Light Your Pipe To Enjoy It

BY DR. MORRIS FISHERIN Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiea, the Health Magazine

Investigators of the effects of tobacco smoking are convinced that the psychologic side is most important in timing its effects. The story is told of a physician who found it simply possible to be without his cigar. One day he took a drive to the country and on the way home, practically frozen, lighted a cigar. He at once began to feel comfortable.

He continued the drive of 78 miles, smoking the same cigar, and found on his arrival only one-half inch of the cigar had burned, and that he had derived complete satisfaction from witnessing the clouds arising from his breath.

Whether or not the story is true, the fact remains that observers are convinced that the flame of the cigar, smoke-rings, the feel of the cigar and its handling is a part in the pleasure and in the effects of the use of tobacco.

Sir Armstrong-Jones emphasizes particularly the relaxing and companionable effects of the cloud of smoke, the circular shape of the rings, their gradual ascent, their changing forms and their picturesque movements which tend to affect the imagination.

Few blind persons smoke, and a smoker seldom lights his cigar in the dark. In addition to the pleasure derived from the sense sight and the fragrant smell of the tobacco, the smoker enjoys his pipe after a period of activity or after a meal. His pipe, perhaps, in a comfortable chair. In such circumstances, the restful qualities are enhanced.

There are also to be considered the effects of smoking on the taste, which is perhaps first stimulated but later paralyzed by tobacco. Smoke tends to settle the stomach, but interferes with its movements, thus arresting a pang of hunger. In this manner it also prolongs the feeling of satisfaction and fullness after a meal.

Pipe Gives Confidence The neurologists point out that the driver of a motor who holds an unlighted pipe or cigar in his mouth helps this manner to give himself confidence in his driving. The pharmacist, Dixon also recognizes the subtle effects of smoking, emphasizing particularly the rhythm, which resembles to some extent that which gives pleasure to dancing, singing, or chewing gum.

The person who smokes is occupied with matches, handling of the cigarette or cigar, or the filling of the pipe and the care of the ash. It is these considerations which have caused the majority of scientific writers to recognize the part played by tobacco in relation to the ease of modern life.

Incidentally, may the writer of this series disclaim all justice by saying that he has not at any time ever smoked tobacco in any form, such as cigars, cigarettes or a pipe.

As A Woman Sees It BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

STRONG REACTION TO ALL THIS MATERIALISM I cannot help but feel that there will be a strong reaction to his age of materialism, an age that means things instead of ideas.

Ambition nowadays seems to be interpreted only in terms of money. The first thing a boy or girl asks in preening himself or herself for the future is, "How much money can I make out of it?"

That is natural. It is an effect, not a cause, the result of living at a time when life can be interpreted seemingly in terms of money only.

In the old days money was not so all important as a means of exchange. Our recreation did not mean ten-dollar tickets, or twenty if we go in for first nights, Sun-sets, and toboggan slides, and lawn parties were cheap.

The more artificial we get the more it costs us to live. There is a decided tendency now for the cities to farm. The day of good roads has spelled the omega of further growth of large cities. Every year countless thousands of people are turning to the greater freedom—both body and soul—of the country.

Sunsets and toboggan slides and lawn parties are likely to come back. As our recreations are always illustrative of our lives, that speaks well for the simple living that I diet. And simpler living will bring with it, without any doubt, emancipation for the boys and girls who are choosing careers. A boy can be a bridge builder or a painter, or a teacher for the very love of his work and not be urged by financial return. And perhaps girls will have a chance for a career out of the home if the bugaboo of my isn't behind them, prodding them on.

At least it is pleasant to think of this strident money-loving, materialistic age as being only temporary. I am not too much of an optimist.

IN NEW YORK SEE-SAWING and DOWN BROADWAY

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—In matters gastronomic, famous folk of the music world are most particular. "Several of them are excellent cooks and pride themselves on certain dishes for which they are as well known among their friends as for their talents."

Getting good food is one of the great problems of the musician. Reared on European bill of fare, they seldom accustom themselves to the cooking of the average American cafe. On tour they encounter a most monotonous menu and returning to New York run avidly to their favorite resorts.

The story goes around concerning a patroness of one of the simpaty of children... She went back stage and beamed upon a stout man who was sitting picking the strings of a violin.

PULLING JUMBO'S TAIL BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—There is reason to believe that a none too husky gent from Illinois has grabbed a great big elephant by the tail, and is threatening to swing it around his head and toss it into a cement wall...

LOANS MADE TO EX-SERVICE MEN

MORE THAN 75 MADE HERE FOR MEN WITH WAR RISK INSURANCE

More than 75 loans have been made on government insurance policies since announcement was made here about two weeks ago that arrangements had been completed for a Lubbock bank to handle the paper.

Of this number, 51 of the applicants are temporarily out of employment, 16 of the 76 are farmers, 12 are negroes, and three of the number have applied for new government insurance.

Loans are being discouraged due mainly to the probability that the most of them will never be repaid. It is estimated that only a small portion of the total will ever be redeemed, and figures compiled on one policy loan recently granted here show that of a loan of $129.96, the total that will be taken from the face of the policy at maturity if interest is allowed to accumulate over a 20 year period, the life of the policy, amounts to $399.46.

Citizens of Green county, Kentucky, have organized to prevent demolition of the Greensburg court house, oldest in the state, in favor of a modern structure.

Boys Tease Town Crab Until He Kills One, Hurts Another; Asks for Death

C.E. Marble

By NEA Service

CHEROKEE, Okla., Feb. 16.—Out of the ancient conflict between axe and youth—out of the truism that boys will be boys and lonely old men will be touchy—strange tragedy has come to this community.

The miserable old man is C. E. Marble, sentenced to die for shooting the boys who teased him.

The Town "Crab"

Marble, aged and nearly blind, was called the town "crab" of Ingersoll, a community of 190 persons, five miles from here.

The boys liked to pester the old recluse because it made him angry. They took the fruit from his fruit trees, they threw rocks on his porch and taunted him for his age and temper, they played pranks on his dog and chased his cat as boys are wont to do.

What village is there that does not have a town "crab" and a group of mischievous boys?

But Marble was a good man, too, in his way, say his neighbors. That is part of the pathos of it.

The Town Samaritan

When a husband died, leaving his aged wife destitute, it was Marble who gave her groceries and chopped her wood.

When another family was freezing

one winter, Marble retrieved a worn-out stove from the dump yards, carted it to their place and set it up with a goodly supply of wood, neighbors say.

When once an aged bachelor became sick and there was no one to nurse him, Marble did the job.

Marble loved his dog, his cat and his flowers, which made his yard a garden spot of the town. Frequently he would take flowers to the sick.

During the last few years the town employed him as night watchman.

He encouraged no friendships and lived his own quiet secluded life when folks—especially boys—would let him.

But on the day after Christmas someone shot his dog.

The Murder

Guy Hutchinson and his two motherless sons, Gilbert, 14, and Roy, 16, were sitting in a filling station, the town lodging place.

Old Marble walked in without a word, peered near-sightedly, and then without warning drew his revolver and fired four times. Gilbert was killed, Roy seriously wounded and the father slightly wounded.

Bystanders overpowered the old man.

"I intended to kill them all and my

HARKEY HEADS PLAINS SCOUTS

General Meeting Of Workers Here Shows Great Strides Made By Organization

Boy Scout work in the South Plains has made great strides forward in the past year, it is revealed in annual reports of various officials of the work made at a meeting of the executive committee of the South Plains Area Council here Tuesday evening.

L. S. Harkey, termed "the father of scout work," he regretfully told Sheriff Dare Gross. "These boys are the ring leaders. They are the worst boys on earth. I felt it my duty to kill them, as they had no place in this world."

In the uproar and confusion that followed, Old Marble was calm. "He chuckled at sight of the bleeding bottles and said they were the prettiest sight he had ever seen."

Insane? No—Old Marble is not insane. So say two doctors. So says everyone who knows him.

"They killed my dog," he gritted, late snuffing in his eyes.

Later he told the sheriff he had planned to kill the boys and burn their bodies to prevent them from receiving decent burial. He even showed where he had gasoline buried for the cremation.

And in court, before Judge Charles Swindall, he begged in his scholarly English for the death penalty.

Then, as the court sentenced him, he bowed and said, "Thank you."

Whose Fault? Were the mischievous boys at fault, or was the old man?

Too, is it "punishment" to give a prisoner at the bar the penalty he deliberately invites?

Governor Johnston of Oklahoma must decide if any plea for clemency is presented to him.

Meanwhile, one boy is dead, another is seriously wounded, and their father bears a bullet mark—

All because boys will be boys and old men will be touchy. (Copyright, 1927, NEA Service, Inc.)

Hood, Slaton; Geo. S. Link, Spur, and J. G. Thomas, Brownfield. Treasurer, F. A. Norman, Lubbock; commissioner, L. C. Williams, Lubbock. Post has raised its quota, the first in the council to go over the top in the drive for $20,000 with which to finance the work of the coming year, it was said at the meeting, with Littlefield, Slaton and Lubbock nearing the goal. Workers are still out in other places, and are meeting with fair success. The work has spread in every department, according to the annual report of H. B. Palmer, executive, with 15 new troops affecting about 200 boys having been organized during the past year. Troops now active in the council total 33, affecting more than 800 boys. About 53 adult leaders also have been added during the year, with a total of over 278 now active. Cork coffins are used by the Turks to bury their dead.

FEDERAL TAXES CUT DOWN SIZE OF LARGE ESTATE Inheritance Tax Toll of $150,000 Must Be Met by Immediate Property Sale. LIFE INSURANCE LACKING Heirs Had Pressed to Raise Cash With Time Unfavorable For Disposal of Holdings. Closely following the shocking death of a prominent citizen.

Life Insurance—would have paid the tax and saved the estate intact for the heirs

The "Old Man" had "piled it up." Ten million, said some. Others thought four or five. Even the heirs could only guess. For he was close-mouthed and queer... and the estate was all in land, cattle and property. He had believed in real assets that he could see. Insurance! he scorned. The will was probated... assets inventoried... a bare million, even at fair valuations, said appraisers. But at forced sale at present depreciated values, much less. Yet cash must be raised to pay staggering inheritance taxes, totaling over $150,000. "Life Insurance," said the banker, "at least to cover inheritance taxes would have saved the full estate for the heirs. He overlooked that. Otherwise he had a master mind for business." Ask the Southland Life Agent for complete information on the inheritance tax problem and its solution.

NEIL H. WRIGHT, LUBBOCK Dear Sir: I am interested in providing life insurance to offset inheritance tax. Without obligating me, please call and see me or arrange appointment by phone. Name Address
