The application of SACROC for increased oil production allowables in connection with plans for a CO2 repressuring system apparently has solid local support and is expected to have state-wide backing.

The CO2 system's affect on the Canyon Reef would be just like discovering a new oil field with a production capacity of 156 million barrels.

The immediate affect on the Snyder area would be the expenditure of some $117 million to put the CO2 system into operation.

The Middle-East political situation being what it is today (whatever it is) and more recent unrest and uncertainty in South America makes the prospects of recovering 156 million more barrels of oil than expected from a major field even more attractive than before. Dependence on foreign oil rather than domestic reserves appears more risky than ever.

Green Berets Fly To United States

BIEN HOA, Vietnam (AP) — Seven Green Beret officers flew out of Vietnam tonight, for the United States, 17 hours after being notified they were free of murder and conspiracy charges in the alleged slaying of a Vietnamese double agent.

The plane carrying a total of 219 homebound U.S. servicemen was due at Travis Air Force Base in California at 2:30 a.m., Pacific time, Wednesday. It was due to stop at Yokota Air Base in Japan and at Anchorage, Alaska.

Col. Robert B. Rheault, the trim former commander of the 3,000 Special Forces troops in Vietnam, led his fellow officers aboard the plane after spending their last hours in this country waiting in a house trailer at the air base.

Wearing jungle fatigues and green berets, the men strode to the plane and shook hands with several aircraft mechanics who rushed over to congratulate them.

Asked a parting comment, Col. Rheault said, "I'd just as soon have completed my tour." But Capt. Robert F. Marasco, 27, Bloomfield, J.J., who had been named by the Army as the trigger man in the case, said: "It's great to be going."

Rheault was first up the aircraft ramp and as the men reached the plane door, several of them turned and grinning broadly, made the V-for-victory sign.

Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor announced in Washington Monday that Rheault and five other officers could not be court-martialed, because the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency refused to furnish witnesses.

Rheault, who is 43, said earliere,e as he and his companions celebrated at a beer party:

"The outcome we never doubted at any time. The only question was how long and difficult it would be to prove the point."

"Ballad of the Green Berets" sounded from a portable phonograph as the men celebrated at the Long Binh military base.

Remaining behind in Vietnam was the eighth member of the group originally charged in the mystery-cloaked case, Sgt. 1.c. Alvin L. Smith Jr., 40, Naples, Fla. Military spokesmen said Smith "had not completed his processing" for departure but would be aboard another plane soon.

The widow of the slain Vietnamese sobbed at news of the men's release.

"The soul of my husband will follow those who killed him," she said.

"The Americans are worse than "the Viet Cong! I'm going to join the Viet Cong! I'm going to blow up the Americans! They are more savage and cruel than the Communists."

Troop Pullout In Thailand Planned

BANGKOK (AP) — The United States will withdraw 6,000 of its 49,000 troops from Thailand by next July a joint Thai-U.S. communique said today.

The withdrawal will begin "within a few weeks." Both U.S. Air Force and Army units will be involved.

The communique added that the cutback would be made as "expeditiously as possible, consistent with operation requirements related to the Vietnam conflict."

The United States has approximately 36,000 Air Force personnel, 12,000 Army support troops and 1,000 military advisers in Thailand.

Most of the Air Force attacks against North Vietnam originated in Thailand before these were called off. Lately Thai-based bombers have attacked the Ho Chi Minh trail in Laos, and have been involved in operations in South Vietnam.

Arrangements have been made for the "orderly reduction" of U.S. forces in Thailand, the statement said. it stressed that the American troops were stationed in Thailand "in connection with the Vietnam war."

The two governments will "continue to evaluate the level of U.S. armed forces in Thailand in the light of their assessment of developments in the Vietnam conflict."

This will bring to 66,000 the total U.S. withdrawals announced for Southeast Asia. President Nixon has called 60,000 troops back from South Vietnam. Nearly 500,000 U.S. servicemen will remain in the area.

Hearing Set On College Proposal

A public hearing has been set for Oct. 8 in connection with Scurry County's petition for authority to create a public junior college district.

Date for the hearing was announced by the State College Coordinating Board. Two members of the coordinating board's junior college committee, which recommended that Scurry County petition for a junior college election, will conduct the hearing.

The time has been set for 8:15 p.m. Oct. 8 in the Snyder High School Auditorium.

The hearing date falls on Wednesday night, and members of the local junior college study committee and the coordinating board's two-man hearing team expressed regret that the hearing would be on Wednesday, but it is necessary if the hearing is to be out of the way in time for the coordinating board to act on the Scurry County petition at its October meeting.

The public hearings are routine procedure of the coordinating board, staff members in Austin said.

Walter Bassano of Paris and Harry Provence of Waco, both members of the junior college sub-committee which approved circulation of the junior college petitions here, will conduct the hearing and the general public is invited and encouraged to attend. Purpose of the hearing is to analyze community interest in a proposed junior college.

Scurry County's petition asks authority to hold an election to create a junior college district, name a board of trustees and to establish a maximum tax rate.

Over 46 per cent of the qualified voters of the county signed the petition and many other citizens of the county signed supporting lists indicating their interest and support of the project.

Buford Browning, chairman of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce Junior College Study Committee, said the local group is happy that two members of the coordinating board's junior college committee will be here in person to check personnally on interest in the junior college proposal.

Basic Education Classes Begin

J. M. Kayser, coordinating teacher, has announced that the Adult Basic Education classes will begin tonight at 7:30 p.m. The classes will meet on the second floor at Travis Junior High.

There are still openings for students and especially those that did not finish the third grade.

Proposals Given German Liberals

By GEORGE THOMSON
Associated Press Writer

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany's Socialists and conservatives propose marriage today to the liberal, minioppostion Free Demcrats. The value of the Deutsche mark rests in the hands of the successful suitor.

The small Free Democratic party was the main loser in Sunday's federal elections, but it holds the key to the next Bonn government—30 seats in the Bundestag that would give either the Christian Democrats or the Social Democrats a controlling majority.

Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger's Christian Democrats and Foreign Minister Willy Brandt's Social Democrats—joined in an alliance that expires Oct. 19—were to begin a series of talks with the Free Democrats today, both proposing coalition.

Brandt, who has announced he wants to be the next chancellor, tacitly ruled out a continuation of the present "grand coalition" by informing President Gustav Heinemann he intends to negotiate with Free Democrat leader Walter Scheel.

Scheel is armed with a recommendation from the powerful North Rhine—Westphalia wing of his party to accept the Social Democrats' proposal.

Together the Socialists and Free Democrats would command 254 of the 496 Bundestag seats against the Christian Democrats' 242.

Both Christian Democrats and Socialists say they can accommodate the smaller Free Democratic party in spite of policy differences.

The Christian Democrats reject the Free Democrats' campaign for closer ties with Communist East Germany and Eastern Europe in general—a policy largely in line with the Social Democrats.

The main obstacle to an Social Democrats—Free Democrats linkup is the Socialists' drive to let workers have more say in industry. The liberals side with the industrialists who provide much of their revenue.

Another difficulty involves Brandt's campaign to revalue the mark upward. The Free Democrats fear this could hurt German exports, agreeing with Kiesinger's Christian Democrats.

The mark has been under severe speculative pressure—the result of money gamblers betting on a Social Democratic victory and eventual revaluation. To counter this, West Germany's foreign exchanges were closed for three days, and on Monday Kiesinger's Cabinet freed the mark to find its own level.

Foreign currency dealers called it "a big step toward ultimate revaluation," but government thinking appeared aimed at the opposite.

Bonn announced the Central Bank will "temporarily" stop intervening in foreign exchanges to keep the mark within limits set by the International Monetary Fund — between 3,97000 and 4.0300 to the dollar.

The thinking evidently was that the currency eventually would find a level not far from the official limits, once speculators take their money out of marks.

The European Common Market's executive commission, in an emergency meeting, expressed uneasiness about the effect of a floating mark on the market's unfied farm prices.

Hijack Suspects Nabbed Quickly

Three young men and a 13-year-old girl companion were apprehended by City Police at Avenue E and the East Highway at 3:08 a.m. today only minutes after they allegedly robbed the Prescott Chevron Truck Stop of $26.55.

Police Patrol Sergeant D. Wayne Jernigan said he was sitting alone in his patrol car with the lights off near Wilson Motors on the East Highway when he heard a car travel past going west at a high rate of speed.

"I fell in behind them," he said, "and while I was following them the radio reported there had been an armed robbery at the Prescott Chevron Station.

"I stopped the car and Patrolman Ben McNulty came up to help take them into custody. They did not resist arrest."

Detective Captain Bobby Goodwin said the sheriff's department was alerted since the alleged crime occurred outside the City limits. Officers returned the four suspects to the station and the attendant identified one of them as being the person who took money from the cash register minutes before the suspects were taken into custody.

Charged with robbery by assault in Justice of the Peace Jimmie Billingsley's court this morning were Ronnie Lee Summerlin, 19, of Thomasville, Ga.; Daniel Avery Dolson 21, of Clearwater, Fla.; and Paul Richard Johnson, 19, of Dover, Fla. They were remanded to county jail in lieu of $3,500 bond each. The girl is being held by Juvenile Authorities, and District Attorney Wayland Holt said there is a possibility she will be charged in juvenile court.

Officers said they obtained statements from the juvenile and two of the adults.

Rue Galyean, the night attendant at the station, located at US 84 and US 180 said the group pulled into his service station and said they "just wanted to rest a minute." After purchasing cigarettes, they left the station headed east on U.S. 180. Shortly thereafter, they returned, Galyean said, and the three men got out of the car and went inside the office while the attendant filled their car with gasoline.

After Galyean returned to the office, one of the men asked for change for the penny gim machine, officers said, and another of the men stuck an object in the attendants side and told him not to move. The other man

US Spaceport To Mark Birthday

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The nation's spaceport is 20 years old Wednesday, and it's a long time since mosquitoes stopped a countdown.

Fewer than 100 persons were on the payroll when the Joint Long Range Proving Ground, as it was then called, was opened for business on Oct. 1, 1949. Now there are more than 20,000.

The base then encompassed only 15,000 acres. Today it takes in 140,000 acres.

miles into the Atlantic com-

The test range extended 200 pared with the present 10,000 miles, and sending people to the moon was only a dream.

"We only had about 35 people then," recalled Asa B. Gibbs, a now-retired Air Force colonel, who became commanding officer of the Cape in 1951. "They have more security guards than that now."

The first missile—a captured German V2 with an Army WAC Corporal second stage—was launched July 24, 1950, from a flimsy spiderweb of pipe and scaffolding.

The blockhouse was a wooden structure protected by sandbags.

A Jeep raced back and forth along a sandy road to scare away poisonous snakes.

It was a far cry from today's Apollo project with its cavernous assembly building, 363-foot-tall Saturn 5 rockets, computerized countdown and an elaborate launch control center containing some of the most sophisticated electronic equipment in the world.

"We were using a lot of old field wire for communications lines and often would lose contact with the pad whenever it rained," said Gibbs.

"I once called a hold on a BOMARC missile because of the mosquitoes. They got too bad on the pad where the guys were trying to prepare it."

Since the beginning, there have been approximately 1,800 major rocket firings at the Cape by the Air Force, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Army and Navy.

Suit Filed To Redistrict Precincts

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)— A suit asking redistricting of El Paso's four commissioner precincts has been filed in U. S. District Court.

A petition, signed by seven individuals, asks that a 3-man court be appointed to hear the case, requesting redistricting along one-man, one-vote lines. The petition claims some 50,000 persons were disenfranchised in 1968 following a redistricting and that further changes would prevent many voters from having a voice in the election of a commissioner until 1972.

The filing of the suit came after the commissioners' court failed to act on a demand by attorneys that redistricting be carried out by the court within 15 days.

The petition asks that the present system of staggering the election of commissioners at two-year intervals be declared unconstitutional.

William Pate, an organizer of the drive, said if such "an election in El Paso County is wrong, it is wrong for all of Texas." He said all commissioners should therefore run at-large in 1970.

The suit named as defendants the members of the commissioners court, El Paso County, the State of Texas, the Republican and Democratic Party chairmen, Gov. Preston Smith, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin and Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr.

The original action requesting redistricting presented figures showing one precinct with a total population of 57,300 and another with 125,000. The group said the smaller precinct had 3,203 registered voters, while the larger one had 33,739 voters.

New York Welcomes Golda Meir

NEW YORK (AP) — Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir continued her love fest with New York today, calling it "the most wonderful city in the world, except for Jerusalem."

And of her public reception Monday, including a roar of welcome from 15,000 at City Hall as she received the key to the city, Mrs. Meir said in an interview today:

"I have no words to describe it. It's beyond anything I expected."

She also said "one basic element" in the struggle between her nation and the Arab states is—that it is "not over anything then took money from the cash register, police said.

"The attendants said that, after they got the money, he concluded they were not armed with a pistol," Jernigan stated, "and so he grabbed at one of the men. He wrenched away and they jumped into the car and drove away, heading west on U. S. 180."

The sergeant said they recovered $26.55 after taking the suspects into custody. He added that the girl apparently had waited in the car while the men were in the station. Jernigan also said he believes a 6-inch ratchet attachment was used in the robbery.

"Johnson had the ratchet in his coat when he stuck it in Gaylean's ribs." It also was taken into possession by police.

Officers also said Dotson and Johnson told them they were hitchhiking to New Mexico when they obtained a ride from Summerlin and the girl.

The station is located on U.S. 180 on the south side of the highway and east of U. S. 84.

concrete."

"The crux of the problem," she said, "is that we think we have a right to live and the Arabs deny us this right. They want to destroy us."

Asked if during her Washington meeting with President Nixon he had asked that Israel withdraw from occupied Arab territory, Mrs. Meir replied: "That wasn't said and it wasn't hinted at."

Mrs. Meir's remarks were made on NBC's "Today" show.

Later Mrs. Meir met in her Waldorf Towers suite with Secretary of State William P. Rogers.

On Monday Mrs. Meir was greeted by signs of welcome and children waved signs reading "Go, Go, Golda" while veterans of the Israeli war of Independence shouted "Shalom (Peace)."

Plan Told To Upgrade NG's Image

AUSTIN (AP) — The National Guard has a poorer image in the Southwest than in the rest of the country, says Texas' adjutant general.

An unpublicized national poll revealed this 18 months ago, Maj. Gen. Ross Ayers said Monday.

Ayers announced a two-point program to upgrade the Guard's image.

In the Fourth Army area — Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana — only 30.9 per cent of those polled thought the guardsmen qualified as a competent combat force, Ayers said.

And Texans question, 61.1 per cent thought the guard's effectiveness was reduced by the influence of state politics, compared with 53 per cent in the other four national areas.

"We have spot-checked several communities in depth and have substantiated enough basis for these opinions to justify corrective action," Ayers said.

"There is evidence of a gradual estrangement of National Guard units from the civic interests of the communities in which they are based. Texas guardmen have long enjoyed a history of mutual identification with their home cities, and we are developing positive programs now to restore and enhance those partnerships."

Ayers said increased demands by federal training directives upon guardsmen's time had contributed heavily to the drift of units away from community service.

Plans call for increasing public service activities in cities where guard units are stationed and for establishment of selection and retention boards throughout the state for review of officer efficiency and promotion within the organization.

Ayers said it was important for people to "have confidence that their National Guardsmen are retained in service and promoted solely upon the basis of each individual's military proficiency," Ayers said.

Stokes Is Favorite

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Carl B. Stokes, first Negro elected mayor of a major U.S. city, was expected to receive the majority of votes today from the light to moderate turnout forecast for the Democratic primary election.

Most political experts thought Stokes would win handily over a political newcomer, Robert J. Kelly, who campaigned on a law and order platform.

If Stokes gets past Kelly, his Nov. 4 general election opponent will be Cuyahoga County Auditor Ralph J. Perk, who is bidding to become Cleveland's first Republican mayor in 28 years.

Kelly, 48, is a former city service director.

Only 150,000 were expected to turn out at the polls although there are 316,340 registered voters in the city. A light turnout was expected to help Stokes, whose supports have been working hard to get out the vote in the predominantly Negro wards.

Stokes counted on 95 per cent of the vote from the black community, which makes up about one-third of the city's population, but he also was expected to draw a large number of white votes.

125 Injured In Train Accident

SHIZUOKA, Japan (AP) — A three-car commuter train rammed head-on into a 35-car freight train parked in a yard 70 miles southwest of Tokyo early today, injuring 125 persons, police said. All of the injured were aboard the passenger train.

Fifteen of the victims, including the engineer, were reported seriously injured. About 400 passengers were aboard the commuter train.

Mao Tse-tung To Attend Festivities

By JOHN RODERICK
Associated Press Writer

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China, celebrating its upcoming 20th anniversary with nuclear fireworks, has made an unprecedented announcement that Mao Tse-tung and his heir-designate, Lin Piao, will attend Wednesday's festivities in Peking.

In an apparent attempt to scotch rumors that Mao and Lin are seriously ill, New China News Agency announced Monday both leaders would preside at ceremonies in Peking's Tien An Men Square.

In the past Red China has never made such advance announcements concerning Mao or Lin.

Speculation about their health was fanned by their absence since last May from public functions. There have been persistent rumors that Mao is dead, and anti-Communist newspapers in Hong Kong carried reports Monday that Lin was dying of cancer.

The Chinese have remained silent about their nuclear activities, although some announcement might be made in conjunction with the National Day celebration.

The Atomic Energy Commission in Washington said China conducted a nuclear test in the atmosphere Monday, and that the force of the blast was equivalent to 3 million tons of TNT.

Japan's Central Meteorological Agency said seismographic vibrations indicated the blast went off in the area of Lop Nor, China's nuclear testing ground in Sinkiang Province.

It was China's 10th nuclear explosion. The ninth, believed to be an underground test, was set off Sept. 22 in the Tien Shan mountains northwest of Lop Nor. Its size has not been disclosed.

Monday's nuclear blast was China's third in the three-megaton range. China's first three-megaton blast was set off June 17, 1967, and the second never publicly announced by Peking, went off Dec. 27, 1968.

The first Chinese nuclear weapon, with a yield equivalent to 20,000 tons of TNT, was exploded Oct. 16, 1964.

The New China News Agency reported the arrival in Peking of 1,000 representatives of the People's Liberation Army and of 10,000 "outstanding representatives of workers, poor and lower-middle peasants, Red Guards, revolutionary intellectuals and revolutionary cadres."

The agency said Nguyen Huu Tho, president of South Vietnam's National Liberation Front, was guest of honor at a dinner given in Peking Monday by Premier Chou En-lai.

NON FUR TIGER CAPE — Non-fur tiger print in a mohair blend, so sleek and realistic that it doesn't need to apologize for its heritage, is styled in a supple swirl of a cape with a separate hood that ties under the chin. The supple, lightweight fabric owes its rich pelt sheen and texture to the mohair fiber, which forms the guard hairs rising above the surface in simulation of the real fur.

Altrurian Club Has Outstanding Program

The Altrurian Club met at Martha Ann Woman's Club Friday with Mrs. Henry George, president, conducting the business session. Mrs. Evelyn Boone was hostess to 15 members and one guest.

The club voted to forward the contribution to the Big Spring Hospital for their Christmas plans and to pack a box on Nov. 7 to add to the gift.

The program was directed by Mrs. Earl Donaldson and was an experience for everyone present. The theme was "The Symbolic Aspects of Space Conquests."

From the beginning of the roll call until the conclusion of the program it was a salute to the greatness of our country's effort to make the space program a symbol of the quest for life in the fullest for all mankind.

First came the salute to Snyder's Jaycees who sponsored the gathering of letters concerning the belief that freedom of speech must never be limited.

Mrs. Donaldson arranged an interesting dialogue based on Jules Verne's writing of a hundred years ago and the actual description of the space vehicles used in the moon landing. Mrs. Earl Wilson assisted her in the readings. Other remarkable writings from scientists and from science fiction pointed out the growth of the theories of propulsion into space which have become a reality.

Leaving the incredible tangibles and timidly launching into the intangibles, Mrs. Donaldson discussed the writings of some contemporary thinkers and their theories of how the success of the space exploration may spur progress in the study of the minds and souls of man. As a fitting conclusion to the program, Miss Dee Peveler gave a delightful musical number, accompanying herself on the guitar. This was not an ordinary number, it was an original parody written by Mrs. Donaldson on the popular song "Blowin In The Wind." In it she asks the many questions which only time can answer about what kind of life is in store for the human race. "How many moons will we set foot upon, How many moons in the race, How many moons will go on and on at this inconceivable pace? How many moons will we conquer before we venture beyond outer space? The answer my dears, is in the coming years, the answer is in the coming years!"

Researchers Might Find Americans Curious People

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Delving into the spending patterns of Americans, a future researcher might conclude that Americans of 1969 were a curious people indeed, a nation of warriors and sportsmen, a people at war and at play simultaneously.

With little effort he would learn that some $20 billion to $25 billion was spent on a war in Vietnam, but that much more than that—perhaps $10 billion more—was spent on recreation.

In one obscure category—"Inflated balls other than football and basketball"—playful Americans this year will spend well over $17 million, an estimate based on past behavior.

Tremendous comment and criticism has accompanied the rise in military spending. But relatively unnoticed, spending on recreation is producing a boom for manufacturers of sporting goods.

A report prepared for the National Sporting Goods Association estimates that on equipment alone. Americans will spend more than $4 billion this year.

Pleasure boats are expected to account for about $800 million of the total, winter sports for about $70 million, tents the same amount, golf about $300 million and firearms $500 million.

Increasingly, Americans are taking to the outdoors and the sporting goods people forecast confidently that the same trend will continue undiminished and perhaps might even accelerate.

The big factor at work is rising income. Preference rather than necessity dictate how it is spent.

A study by Paine, Webber, Jackson and Curtis notes that families earning at least $10,000 spend more than $500 a year on recreation, including $90 on participant sports.

Spending by families with income of $5,000 or less comes to only $125, however, and only $14 of that goes for participant sports.

Education is factor also. Families headed by college graduates, spend significantly more than those in which the parents have only high school diplomas. And the higher the occupational level, the greater is the tendency to spend on sports.

Junior Editors Quiz on GRASS SEED

ANSWER: When we look at our well-tended lawns, with their smooth areas of rich green grass, it is hard to realize that they are composed of thousands of true flowering plants. The shape of a single grass plant, of a kind often used for lawns, is shown at upper left. Originally, this plant had little flowers where you see the spike sticking up. But the spike is now filled with tiny grass seeds, much as you see magnified below. Yet young Henry, looking carefully, can't find any such seeds. This is simply because his sister, having fun with the new family riding mower, is using it to trim the tops off the grass plants. Obviously, there will be no spikes left to develop grass seeds in. How then, we wonder, can the grass go on growing so thickly and richly? The picture at upper left tells the story. Besides developing seeds, the grass plant can send stolons, or runners, along the ground. The end of one of these can take root and send up a new grass plant. This is how grass grows, making the sod we are all so familiar with. Yet grass seed is used on lawns, too, especially to start new ones in the fall. Commercial growers let especially good grass go to seed, so they can gather the seeds and sell them.

Attitude Reveals True Age

By HAL BOYLE

Who's afraid of losing youth?

Practically every woman over 24 in America, every man who has reached 29—and many in both sexes who are even younger.

So intense is the worship of youth that they fear their developing maturity as if it were a curse, a plague of years. Reaching 30 today is as big a mental hurdle to them as reaching 40 was a generation ago, or becoming 50 was in the early part of this century.

The trouble with this cult of youth is that it is too narrow. It places too much value on being young merely in terms of calendar years. Of much more importance is the calendar of the spirit, and how young it remains.

Surely a wrinkled heart or mind makes you older than a wrinkled face. Certainly a fellow who has become a stuffed shirt at 20 is more of an old fogy than one of 55 who is still fresh and unset in his ways.

Your true age is told more by your attitude than by your birth date. You're probably still among the youthful ones of mankind if—

You can sing, or even hum a song that became popular in the last five years.

It is possible for you to listen to an idea advanced during a business conference by a younger man without automatically dismissing the idea as immature and its advocate as a whippersnapper.

On the days when you can't find a pair of garters to hold up your socks, you can go to work without losing your self-confidence.

You retain at least one leftover bad habit that makes you worry about whether you're ruining your health.

Perhaps you've become noticeably thicker through the mid-region, but when you take a deep breath you measure more around the chest than the waist.

At a cocktail party you don't cluster in a corner wth all the other old-timers and mutter about bygone days.

You'd rather share the troubles of younger people than drive them away by giving them pontifical advice.

Even if you think the world is hellbent on the path to perdition, you believe something can be done to save it before it gets there.

Although anything that happens may remind you of something that happened before, it is possible for you now and then to refrain from pointing out the resemblance.

You've succeeded in making at least one new friend for every two you've lost through the erosion of time and circumstance.

Life hasn't made you cynical; you're still having a love affair with it, and on most days you find more things to be glad about than mad about.

If these things are true of you, forget the rising number of candles on your birthday cake. You're still young enough to stay in the game—and maybe outscore the inexperienced player.

Joe Massey, a sophomore shortstop from Grove City, Ohio, led Yale's baseball team in hitting this spring with a .320 average.

Society Banned From Campus

BOSTON (AP) — Boston University Monday banned the Students for a Democratic Society from the University campus.

Dean of Students Stanton Curtis said the ban will be effective until further notice.

A university spokesman said the plan is to remove any recognition for the SDS from campus and deny the group the use of university facilities.

The decision was prompted by an SDS meeting at a University auditorium last Friday night at which chairs were smashed and one youth beaten, the spokesman said.

Messages Don't Inspire Confidence

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — There's little to inspire confidence among messages scrawled on the walls of the two cells where prisoners await trial at the Richland (Columbia) County Courthouse.

Among the inscriptions are:

"Please don't ask the judge for mercy—today he haven't got it."

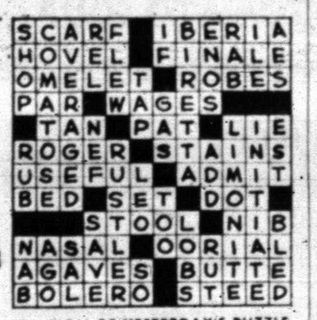

"The gudg (sic) has a whole bookful of time and somebody gonna do it."

"You stole, now you role—don't cry."

Recreation Clubs Hearings Begin

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A retired Army general and some top-rated sergeants are expected to testify before a Senate subcommittee investigating charges that American servicemen were bilked of hundreds of thousands of dollars through operations of base recreation clubs.

A spokesman for the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee said leadoff witnesses at the hearings, which open today, would explain club operations in Germany and Vietnam with retired Maj. Gen. Carl C. Turner and the sergeants probably to be called next week.

The subcommittee has declined to give any specifics about the scope of the hearings and as far as is known no criminal charges have been filed against any one.

But there have been numerous published reports in recent weeks that subcommittee investigators have uncovered a network through which Army personnel and some civilians have reaped huge profits by selling supplies for enlisted men's clubs to the Army.

Turner was named by President Nixon as the nation's top federal marshall, then abruptly fired without explanation.

Most important of the sergeants who have been called to testify is Sgt. Maj. William O. Woolridge, who served for two years as the first sergeant major in history for the Army.

Woolridge was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross after his tour as the Army's top enlisted man, but the award was suddenly revoked several weeks ago about the time word began circulating the noncommissioned officers clubs were under investigation.

The Army would say only that information was turned up indicating Woolridge did not deserve the medal.

The New York Times last Friday said that Woolridge was one of half a dozen stockholders in a company called Maredem which was established by a group of sergeants and ex-sergeants to act as a middle man in supplying the NCO clubs with food and beverages.

The Times account quoted several of the sergeants as saying the company could buy supplies cheaper than anyone else.

The company was registered in California and no apparent attempt was made to hide its existence or the names of the stockholders.

Senate Ethics Panel Attacks Shortcut Bills

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Ethics Committee, investigating allegations of bribery concerning special legislation allowing Oriental aliens to remain in the United States, has condemned shortcut methods used to introduce such bills.

Committee Chairman Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., said the panel has started an inquiry into published reports that bribes were arranged for the introduction of bills that in effect prevent deportation of the aliens.

Under Senate procedure, the alien involved is permitted to stay in the country while the bill is pending.

Stennis said the committee told its chief counsel, Benjamin R. Fern, to look into all private relief bills introduced during the 90th and 91st Congresses "dealing with so-called Chinese ship jumpers."

Stennis said some private bills allegedly were filed by staff members without the knowledges of the senator who sponsored them.

Stennis said the bills sometimes are introduced by a messenger, with the senator's name simply typed on the measure.

He said the Ethics Committee decided that Senate rules actually require the signature of the senator on all bills he introduces.

In addition, Stennis said, the panel believes the rules require the senator himself to be present when the bill is proposed.

"We believe that the proper and safest practice requires the signature and presence of the senator," Stennis said.

Huddle members who attended are Craig Allred, Larry Allen, John Lacik, Trey Cooper, and Scott Morgan. Adult members were Roy Carter, Ned Underwood, Harold Lacik and Roy Meador.

The actress came here from Buenos Aires. It is her second trip to Mexico.

"But I was sick the first time I came here," She said. "I had that funny disease that many people get when they come to Mexico."

"I hope I can enjoy Mexico this time," she said.

Army's Decision Makes Beret's Families Happy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Families of the accused Green Beret [illegible] relief and happiness over the Army's decision to drop murder charges against the men. One mother ran into the street to shout the news to her neighbors.

"My son is free!" exclaimed Mrs. Frank Marasco, mother of Capt. Robert F. Marasco whom the Army had alleged was the triggerman in the killing of a reported South Vietnamese double agent.

"When I got the phone call I ran into the street and yelled to all my neighbors, 'My son is free'," Mrs. Marasco said Monday at her Bloomfield, N.J., home.

"I left my office as soon as I got the call and went to church to thank God for answering all our prayers," added her husband.

Mrs. Robert G. Rheault, wife of the former commanding officer of Special Forces in Vietnam, said she was "happy the charges were dropped. I'm happy because it means an end to the agony these men and their families have endured all this time."

Speaking at her Brookline, Mass., apartment, Mrs. Rheault said she believes the affair "certainly has done damage to the cause of military justice in general.

"To me they have a dual standard of justice. One for the soldier serving his country and one for a member of the CIA," she said.

Mary Smith, wife of Alvin Smith Jr., said she felt a mixture of joy and relief at the news. "I think the only people who can understand what I feel are the other wives," she said in Naples, Fla.

In Athens, Ga., Charles Williams, the father of Capt. Budge E. Williams said, "We're surprised and so very, very happy. I'd just finished taking shots—I'd planned to go to South Vietnam next week for the trial."

"If the Army had just spent one of the agonizing nights that I have, they'd never want another one," added Capt. Williams' mother. "Anyone who knows Budge knows he couldn't be a murderer."

The wife of Maj. David Crew, reached by telephone at her home in Glen Burnie, Md., said, "I'm just thrilled. I have so much to be thankful for."

"Are Daddy's troubles over?" piped in the voice of her 5-year-old son.

"They sure are," she said.

Trial Jury Frees Three Men

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP) — Three men were free today following their trial for the murder of 17-year-old Leslye Diana Koon, whose body was found Jan. 24 in a small house behind her grandmother's Longview home.

Judge David Moore dismissed charges Monday against one of the defendants, James Bruce Fisher, after the defense had asked for a directed verdict.

A jury returned verdicts of innocent for defendants Roy Randolph Irwin and William Lamont Brown.

The three were accused of killing Miss Koon for $25,000 insurance premiums. Irwin was Miss Koon's half-brother. The other defendants were his cousins.

The defense produced several witnesses Saturday who said the trio were in the Dallas-Denton area at the time Miss Koon was strangled to death in Longview.

Irwin was the only defendant to testify. He told the court that testimony given by his former roommate at North Texas State University was false. The roommate had testified that Irwin was not in their apartment on the day of the slaying.

Before the case went to the jury Saturday, a bank teller testified that $24,000 of the insurance money was given to Irwin and the other $1,000 went into a savings account for the girl's grandmother.

Gun Barrel Votes Beer Sale Legal

GUN BARREL CITY, Tex. (AP) — This east Texas town voted 29-11 Monday to legalize the sale of beer for off-premises consumption.

The recently incorporated township near Cedar Creek Lake is named for Gun Barrel Lane, a long, straight road that serves as the town's main street.

Athlete's Service To Be At High School

NEW BRAUNFELS, Tex. (AP) —Funeral services will be held in the New Braunfels High School auditorium today for Gary Simon, 16, a popular athlete who died of injuries received in a football game.

School officials and coaches will serve as pallbearers.

All senior high athletes will serve as honorary pallbearers.

Simon, middle linebacker, was injured while making a tackle during a New Braunfels-San Antonio Churchill class AAAA game here Friday night. He died at a San Antonio hospital Saturday.

He received massive brain injuries, physicians said.

A junior, Simon was described as one of New Braunfels' most popular youngsters, well known among adults as well as fellow pupils.

He was president of his freshman class, freshman favorite, treasurer of his sophomore class and played football, basketball and baseball.

Simon's coach, Luke Thomas, said the athlete was the "kind of boy you wish you had a whole school of. He was a natural leader."

A memorial fund has been established at the high school in Simon's honor.

Dallas Shooting Won't Soon Be Forgotten By Witness

By JOHN LINCOLLN
Associated Press Writer

"I did pray. . . . I mean I did."

Mose Crawford, 59, sat calmly in his rocking hair on the porch of his home Monday night ar' pointed across the street to where a man with an automatic shotgun killed a bystander and wounded at least six persons an hour earlier before he ran around the side of the building."

"I was just sitting here in my chair with my foot on the post when he came out of the house," Crawford related. "And he looked at me and I was too scared to move.

"I heard him say 'I'll kill anybody' and he fired three times before he ran around the side of the building."

Mrs. Crawford leaned out the screen door and said, "I was inside reading my Bible when I heard the shots. I went out and told my man to come in the house. I had already prayed, and it didn't excite me the way it might."

Across the street, people were walking through the ramshackle, smoke-stained house. "Them's kin," Crawford said. "They're just seeing what's left."

The gunman, identified as Johnny Lee Thomas, 26, drew scores of heavily armed police to the Negro neighborhood after the first report of trouble. There already was one man dead and three women and four policemen wounded.

Police fired tear gas into the house, touching off a fire. Thomas walked outside onto the porch, raised his automatic shotgun and fell in volley of police gunfire.

"Those police had cars all along here," Crawford sad, indicating the glass-strewn Hall Street between his and Thomas' home. "And when he got to shooting, the police did, too.

"You know, I think the police did a wonderful job."

"That's the truth," said Mrs. Crawford. "I told them all to be careful when they were getting ready to shoot that man."

After Thomas was shot and the wounded were taken away to hospitals, a crowd of some 300 people from the neighborhood gathered in the street and on the sidewalk, most of them in a carnival mood. But a few taunted police.

Then the bottles began to fly. They struck police cars, and a few bottles narrowly missed police and bystanders. The shooting had been over for more than an hour, and the police pulled out.

"The police did a good job," Crawford repeated, "and they left at the right time. If they hadn't left, there might have been a lot of people hurt. Most of those people were just here to see what was going on."

"This was a great city when I came here in 1929," Mrs. Crawfrd said from the doorway. "We never used to hear about robbery or hijacking or anything.

"The youngsters today . . . they've got an evil spirit."

"Today," said her husband, "you go to a place and keep your eyes on the door for fear somethings going to start."

"We don't go out much, anymore," Mrs. Crawford said. "We just go to church and go home again."

Mr. Crawford said most people in the neighborhood probably will forget the incident pretty soon. There have been other shootings, he said, all forgotten.

"I'm different, though," he added. "It seems to me I'll have it on my mind all night long now. I can't forget that type of thing. It'll be with me a long time."

Cases Rested In Chrisco Murder Trial

BIG SPRING, Tex. (AP) — Lawyers for both sides in the trial were to make their final arguments to the jury Tuesday.

Both the state and defense rested their cases Monday, with the defense calling only one witness, the 23-year-old defendant.

Chrisco, charged with the murder of pet shop owner A. D. Blount, told the court he went to Big Spring "as a favor" to Rae Bourbon, 76. Bourbon is charged as an accomplice in the killing.

Chrisco testified Bourbon wanted him to "punch Blount in the nose" because Blount had Bourbon's dogs. He said he and Randall Crain, 23, went to Blount's pet shop and called Blount outside.

Chrisco said he was holding Crain's pistol, but that he started to leave when he saw Blount's son inside the shop. He said Crain took the gun from him and shot Blount. The gun has been identified as the murder weapon.

Earlier Monday, Gary Blount, 17, identified Chrisco as the man he saw holding a gun on his father. He said he ran for his mother and later heard gunshots. Before he died, Blount said "a kid" had shot him.

Mrs. Blount testifed that a dispute arose between her husband and Bourbon concerning some 70 dogs, 5 cats and two skunks Bourbon left in Blount's pet shop. She said Bourbon had refused to pay his bill for boarding the animals.

Two other witnesses testified that Bourbon had discussed his dispute with Blount and threatened "to confront Blount with a gun."

Crain is also charged with murder in the killing.

Smith OK's Registration Bill

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith is allowing a voter registration bill that both saves and costs time to become law without his signature.

Smith vetoed three bills Monday, and had been expected to veto the registration bill.

Two of the vetoed bills would have permitted insurance on bank deposits above $15,000. The third bill would have provided office space for Dallas legislators at county expense.

Smith said two bills on bank deposit insurance would have permitted private non-profit corporations to furnish it.

"This proved unsatisfactory in Texas between the years 1904-1926. There is no provision which would limit the number of corporations providing this insurance and therefore could lead to a large number of small weak private corporations which could not provide the protection anticipated," Smith said.

Smith listed other objections to the bills, including what he called their discriminatory aspect in that banks with less than $200,000 in capital could not be insured to the extent of larger banks.

Smith said making office space available to Dallas legislators in their home district at county expense was something for general legislation and not just for one county. Besides, both houses have provided expense allotments for themselves out of contingency expense funds, he said.

The voter registration bill, by Sen. Mike McKool, Dallas, requires a voter who registers in person to fill out an application, with some of the information later being placed on a separate registration certificate issued to him.

Less information would be placed on the registration certificate than is now required, but under the present system a voter gives a clerk the required information, which is typed on a form that becomes both the application and the registration certificate, saving a step.

Smith said the duplication "may in fact deter some citizens from registering to vote. However, since the bill was passed with wide margin in both the House and Senate I have decided to allow it to become law without my signature," he said.

Career Corner

"SALARY DESIRED?" Is often a tough question for neophytes. First, check the going rates: read newspaper classified ads, ask friends, check with the state employment service. Then, here's one technique. . .

WHEN THE INTERVIEWER asks how much you want, tell him. If he scowls, ask what he had in mind. If he offers a low figure, say $1,000 a year less than you know is equitable, tell him you can't get by on that — couldn't he make it another $1,000? Maybe you'll settle at $500. If you start low, ask for a work evaluation and salary increase at the end of three months rather than six months or a year.

(An approach stressing experience and proven value is better for experienced workers.)

Old Ghost Town Is Alive Again

By MIKE DOAN
Associated Press Writer

VANDERBILT, Calif. (AP) — In the 1890s, when this desert town was home to 2,000 lusty miners and Wyatt Earp's brother Virgil ran the Gold Bar Saloon, they scooped more than $1 million in gold from the barren hills.

It was easy pickings getting gold near the surface in the days when Las Vegas, 60 miles north, was just a water hole.

But, when miners reached the underground water level, the digging got tough for crude equipment of the times. With the depression of 1896, Vanderbilt shut down. Since then, except for a futile try in the 1930s, the jagged 4,000-foot hills have not known the chatter of mining tools.

But now, with modern equipment and new processes for extracting gold from chemical compounds, Vanderbilt is alive again.

Where old-timers crushed the ore and recovered pure gold, the new miners use a chemical brine to process sulfides of gold.

Of course, it's not quite the same. Jack Jordan, 38, boss of the operation, travels by auto rather than horse, carries a briefcase and is responsible to a board of directors.

He's backed by 40 California investors, many in the computer and electronic fields, who set up a $2.3-million operation.

"The old-timers weren't dumb," Jordan said. "They knew the gold was there. They just couldn't get it."

Jordan's firm, Heavy Metals Corp., has drilled a 13-foot-diameter shaft to a vein just where old maps said it would be.

The vein, Jordan said is 7 to 12 feet in diameter, 600 feet long, and since it was tapped in early September has been yielding ore assaying $50 a ton.

That is enough to make a profit even though the U.S. price ceiling of $35 an ounce has virtually killed gold mining in the once booming West.

In many of California's gold mine areas, there's still plenty of gold but you can't get it out and make a profit at $35 an ounce. Several old mines have become tourist attractions.

Jordan says his firm hopes to extract $50 million to $100 million worth of gold. The mining operation also will yield cooper and silver.

The 12 miners at the digs are, unlike the old-timers, family men. They live in house trailers, set amid weird-looking joshua trees overlooking a barren valley. Nearby are the collapsing remains of the old ghost town. When the processing mill opens this winter, the crew will increase to 30.

About the name, Vanderbilt, Jordan said, "The town was named after Cornelius Vanderbilt, the railroad magnate. He never was here. The people just said they were going to be rich like Vanderbilt."

Dr. Lewis Consultant To NASA

Dr. Donald H. Lewis, grandson of Mrs. W. [illegible] Hillcrest Lodge and nephew of Mrs. Kenneth Beasley, 811 Twenty-eighth Street, is one of a dozen scientists from throughout the nation serving as consultants on marine species exposed to moon samples obtained through the Apollo 11 flight.

Dr. Lewis, assistant professor of veterinary microbiology at Texas A&M University, was recently appointed by NASA to the Lunar Landing Receiving Center as one of the consultants.

He will work behind Receiving Center barriers after the regular NASA staff has exposed selected life forms to moon fragments returned by Astronauts Neil A. Armstrong, Mich[illegible] Jr. He is helping develop protocol for determining adverse effects on shrimp exposed to the lunar materials.

Dr. Lewis, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Lewis of Rotan, has been on the A&M faculty since in 1967. He acquired his bachelor's degree at the University of Texas and the master's degree at Southwest Texas State University.

Pesticides In Texas Waters Cause Department Concern

SEADRIFT, Tex. (AP) — The Parks and Wildlife Department is worried about the results of tests of "persistent pesticides" in Texas waters and the Gulf of Mexico.

"It is quite possible," says one official, that the accumulation of DDT in adult trout has caused the "alarming decline" in young trout in the Lower Laguna Madre, which extends about 50 miles northward from Texas' southmost point.

A study of pesticides that began in 1965 has included oysters, forage fish, game or predator fish and shore birds and their eggs, with samples taken from most coastal bays and the gulf.

"Samples taken in the lower Laguna Madre have consistently had the highest residues found in Texas waters," the department said.

Records show that in 1964 the highest average catch of juvenile trout in that area by state biologists was 30 per acre, but the peak catch by 1966 had dropped to 12 per acre. In June and July 1969 the entire area "was sampled heavily with a lined trawl or push net. Over 200 samples yielded only seven trout," sad E. G. Simmons, regional coastal fisheries supervisor.

Simmons said studies have shown that ovaries of adult trout from the Arroyo Colorado contain one to eight parts per million DDT, with most containing four to eight parts per million. DDT levels of three to five parts per million in yolk sacs of lake trout kill young fish, he said.

"We must be cautious," Simmons said, "because we know that results on one species may not apply to another; nevertheless, we cannot escape the fact that where there was once an abundance of juvenile trout at all sample stations in most cases we now have none.

"There are plenty of adults so overfishing is not involved. It is known that the adults spawn; however, it is now doubtful if their eggs hatch. Without adequate renewal of stock, the trout fishery in low Laguna Madre is in dire danger of collapse."

In other tests in several areas, the department said all oysters that have been analyzed averaged considerably less than 1 part per million DDT or other pesticides, and forage fish samples averaged from .173 to 3.275 parts per million of DDT.

However, the department said, "biological magnification" increases the level of pesticides in animals.

To illustrate this process, the department said, "Planton, one-celled plants and animals are capable of concentrating pesticide residues found in seawater by at least 10 fold. Fish or oysters feeding on contaminated Planton will increase this level at least another 10 fold, and so on, up the food chain through the predator fish and bird, and eventually to man.

"Fortunately, in most cases this 'concentrated' amount is still much below the level where damage occurs to a species, or where there is danger from conwound up in third place He suming one of these species."

Jaycees Are In Session

Reports on two major projects were heard Monday night at the regular weekly meeting of Snyder Jaycees at the Scurry County Coliseum.

Jimmy McFarland reported on Jaycee efforts to promote interest in the high school football team. He said several new ideas are under study.

McFarland also reported good response in the campaign to obtain letters in opposition to Mrs. Madalyn O'Hair's protest of prayers and Bible reading in space and in public schools. Letters should be turned in by Wednesday, McFarland said, since they will be mailed on Thursday. Letters should be turned over to McFarland, or they may be left at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Bob Harlin, president, presided at the Jaycee session.

Kansas City Loses Top 2 Quarterbacks

By SHEILA MORAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Kansas City Chiefs, suddenly the American Football League's hard-luck team, are looking for at least one quarterback.

Starter Len Dawson injured h's knee at Boston two weeks ago and is out for at least another month. Backup man Jacky Lee broke an ankle bone during Sunday's 24-19 loss at Cincinnati and will be sidelined two to three weeks.

Suddenly, No. 3 quarterback Mike Livingston, a second-year obscurity from Southern Methodist, is No. 1 and the Chiefs need someone at No. 3. They could even use a No. 3.

Coach Hank Stram discounted rumors of an impending trade and said Tom Flores and John Huarte, free agents with impressive credentials, were to try out with the Chiefs today. Stram also will look at rookie Ed Podolak, a former Iowa quarterback who has been used by Kansas City at running back.

Livingston played in two games last year and came in during the second half in the stunner at Cincinnati. He completed nine of 17 passes for 99 yards—not enough to stop the amazing Bengals, who won their third straight and shapped Kansas City's regular season game winning streak at seven dating from last season. The Chiefs also won all six exhibition games.

Flores, a nine-year veteran, spent seven years at Oakland, then went to Buffalo in the 1967 Daryle Lamonica trade. His best season was 1966 when he was the Raiders starter and completed 151 of 306 passes for 2,638 yards and 24 touchdowns.

Huarte, 1964 Heisman Trophy winner for Notre Dame, spent 1965 on the New York Jets' taxi squad, was traded to Boston in 1966, released by the Patriots after four games of the 1967 season and spent 1968 with Philadelphia. He tried out with Minnesota this year before being released.

The Bengals, who did fine without starting quarterback Greg Cook after he was injured in the second half Sunday, said they'll know by midweek if their sensational rookie will be able to play against San Diego next Saturday. Cook pulled a muscle in his right arm and was replaced by Sam Wyche.

Minnesota, which handed Baltimore its second straight loss, expressed confidence that quarterback Joe Kapp will be able to play in next Sunday's game with Green Bay. Kapp fractured his non-passing wrist in the third quarter but Coach Bud Grant said the break is high enough that it doesn't affect the use of his hand.

The limping Jets compounded their problems with the loss of Jim Hudson, hard-tackling strongside safety, who tore ligaments in his gimpy left knee during the world champions' 34-27 drubbing at San Diego.

Unless the knee shows dramatic improvement, Hudson could be lost for at least six weeks. If surgery is eventually required, he'd be through for the year. Hudson has had major surgery on the knee twice before and the Jets are hesitant to operate again.

2nd Block Of Tickets Sells Fast

One section of reserved seats sent here for advance sale to the Snyder - Colorado City football game Friday night in Colorado City has been sold and another had virtually disappeared by mid-morning today.

The school business office here sold out the first section of some 440 tickets Monday and asked for more. Another section of tickets came in this morning and by 9:30 a.m. less than 100 of them remained.

E. D. Flynn, school business manager, said a request for still more reserved seat tickets would be made today. However, it was not known whether they would be available. Flynn said he believed that perhaps one more section might be available for Snyder fans and if so, the business office will use them to fill orders coming in today and tomorrow.

Henderson, Cisco In Feature Match

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Henderson County and Cisco tangle in the feature match of the week Saturday as Texas Junior College Football Federation leaders begin the task of selecting a champion.

Tyler is at Blinn on Thursday to kickoff a full scale of conference games. In other Saturday games Navarro is at Kilgore and Wharton is at Ranger.

Henderson County got all the scoring and running punch it needed from Joe Gilliam last week and upped its record to 3-0 in a 28-7 victory over Kilgore, the 10th straight over the Rangers.

Gilliam scored on a 15-yard pass from quarterback Felley Donaldson and on a 74 yard run to take the TJCFF scoring lead with 30 points.

In other games last week, Blinn edged UT-Arlington frosh 12-7; Navarro nipped North Texas freshmen, 7-6; Tyler bombed Wharton 50-6; and McCook, Nev. whipped Cisco 21-0.

Braves' Niekro Will Try To Clinch Flag

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

This was supposed to be baseball's Year of the Hitter but the pitchers, lowered mound, smaller strike zone and all, haven't done badly for themselves.

There are a dozen 20-game winners sprinkled around the major leagues—the highest total since 13 pitchers reached the 20-victory plateau back in 1951.

And four other hurlers with 19 victories each could reach 20 as the season swings into its final week.

Phil Niekro, one of the 20-game winners, goes for Atlanta tonight against Cincinnati as the Braves try to clinch the National League West pennant. One Atlanta victory or San Francisco loss, ends the race.

Mike Cuellar, another member of the 20-victory club, was beaten 4-1 by Detroit Monday night—only the second loss in 15 decisions since the All-Star Game for the Baltimore lefthander.

Bill Freehan, whose run-scoring second-inning triple was the only hit off Cuellar through the first eight innings, drilled a two-run single as the Tigers rallied for three runs to break a tie in the ninth.

In the only other game played in the majors Monday night, Boston whipped Washington 8-5 as Rico Petrocelli set a record by hitting his 40th homer of the year, most ever by an American League shortstop. Petrocelli broke the mark of 39 set by Vern Stephens, who also played for the Red Sox.

Frank Howard ripped his 48th of the year for the Senators, tying Harmon Killebrew for the major league home run lead.

Besides Cuellar, 23-11, and Niekro, 22-13, the 20-game winners this season are Minnesota's Jim Perry, 20-6, Tom Seaver of the New York Mets, 25-7, Detroit's Denny McLain, 24-9, Dave McNally of Baltimore, 20-6, Dave Boswell of Minnesota, 20-11, Mel Stottlemyre of the New York Yankees, 20-14, San Francisco's Juan Marichal, 21-11, Houston's Larry Dierker, 20-12 and Ferguson Jenkins, 21-15, and Bill Hands, 20-14, both of the Chicago Cubs.

McNally and Perry both get a chance to add to their totals today. The Baltimore left-hander faces Detroit while the Twins' righty takes on Chicago.

Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals, Mickey Lolich of Detroit, and Claude Osteen and Bill Singer, both of the Los Angeles Dodgers, are all on the verge of the 20-victory club with 19 triumphs each.

Singer, Gibson and Lolich all pitched Sunday and Osteen worked Saturday. All could get one more shot at 20 in the final days of the season.

Race Results Are Reversed

MACON, Ga. (AP) — Following a review of the results of the HLB 400 stock car race held here Sunday, NASCAR officials have declared Charles Blanton of Gaffney, S. C, as the winner of the race.

Officials at NASCAR headquarters in Daytona Beach, Fla. received the top three scorecards for examination after NASCAR score-keepers found an error in the results of the race.

Frank Sessoms of Darlington, S.C., was originally declared the winner. But after the check at NASCAR headquarters he wound up in third place. He drove a 1968 Camaro.

Officials said that Blanton, also in a '68 Camaro, took the lead unnoticed on the 294th lap of the 365-lap race. He was placed two laps ahead of Andrews, who piloted a 1968 Mustang.

Porkers Pile Up Shiny Statistics

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Texas and Arkansas were the only teams to come out shining in the Southwest Conference statistical gatherings after a dismal week for league members against outside competition.

SWC teams lost five of six intersectional games last week and generally went into a tailspin as far as the tale of the tape is concerned.

Co-champions Arkansas and Texas are the only remaining unbeatens and between them they've allowed only one touchdown. That came Saturday when Texas Tech scored against Texas subs in a 49-7 shellacking.

Tech and the other five SWC teams that have been defeated have been very generous. They've lost 22 of their 37 fumbles, yielded 29 interceptions and 54 touchdowns.

Arkansas, after victories of 39-0 over Oklahoma State and 55-0 over Tulsa, leads in both team offense and defense. The Hogs have amassed an average of 427.0 yards in total offense and produced 12 touchdowns in two games.

The Razorback defensive unit has yielded an average of 178.5 yards and zero points.

In the individual departments, Bill Burnett of Arkansas and Chuck Hixson of Southern Methodist remained in command of the rushing and passing categories.

Burnett, who rushed for 119 yards against Oklahoma State in his first contact work of the season, leads conference rushers with 178 yards for a 5.6 average. Teammate Bruce Maxwell reeled off 97 yards against Tulsa to move into second place with 165 yards.

Hixson completed only 17 passes—the second lowest of his 13-game tenure at SMU — but still held a comfortable lead over the rest of the league passers with 76 completions for six touchdowns, a 58.5 per cent completion average.

Gary Hammond of SMU leads the receivers with 21 snags for 278 yards and one touchdown. There's a four-way deadlock for the scoring lead among Linzy Cole, TCU, Burnett and Bill Montgomery, Arkansas and Bicky Lesser, SMU, all with 18 points each.

Candles haven't always been used merely to spread light. King Alfred ordered the manufacture of time-keeping candles six of them sized to burn in 24 hours. In both England and the American colonies, the saying "sale by the inch of a candle" signified an auction where people could bid until a length of candle burned out.

Buckeyes Strengthen Grip On National Gridiron Poll

By ERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The top seven teams, led by mighty and near-perfect Ohio State, retained their positions this week in The Associated Press college football poll.

The Buckeyes of Woody Hayes, defending national champions, opened their season Saturday with a 62-0 massacre of Texas Christian and earned 35 of the 40 first-place votes cast by a nationwide committee of sports writers and broadcasters.

They wound up with a total of 784 points, only 16 short of a perfect score and 165 in front of runner-up Penn State, with two first-place votes and 619 points. Arkansas, Texas, Southern California, Oklahoma and Georgia remained third through seventh, respectively, with Texas getting the other three first-place ballots.

In weekend action, Penn State trimmed Colorado 27-3, Arkansas clobbered Tulsa 55-0, Texas trounced Texas Tech 49-7, Southern Cal walloped Northwestern 48-6, Oklahoma whipped Pitt 37-8 and Georgia blanked Clemson 30-0.

The rest of the Top Ten consisted of Purdue, up from 16th to eighth on the strength of a 28-14 defeat of Notre Dame; Missouri, which rose from 11th to ninth after crushing Illinois 37-8, and Tennessee, which drubbed Auburn 43-19 and climbed from 19th to 10th.

Notre Dame, which had been ninth, fell out of the Top Twenty.

The Second Ten included UCLA, up from 14th; Florida, no change; Michigan, up from 20th; Michigan State, down one to 14th; Alabama, no change; newcomers Louisiana State, Stanford, West Virginia and Wyoming in the 16-17-18-19 positions and Mississippi, down from eighth to 20th.

Besides Notre Dame, Indiana, Auburn and Arizona State dropped from the Top Twenty. They were 10th, 17th and 18th a week ago.

"We're aware we have some good players," Hayes said Monday at his weekly luncheon in Columbus, Ohio. "We have to continue to get better every time we play."

The Top Twenty, with first-place votes in parentheses. Points awarded for first 15 picks on basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1:

1.	Ohio State (35)	784
2.	Penn State (2)	619
3.	Arkansas	584
4.	Texas (3)	482
5.	South. California	449

8.	Purdue	251
9.	Missouri	236
10.	Tennessee	171

Boosters To See Victory Film

The Tiger Booster Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in the high school cafeteria to view films of Snyder High School's 13-10 trumph over Lubbock Dunbar.

Coaches in the school system will give reports on their various teams, and Club members will hear a scouting report on Colorado City — this week's opponent.

Eugene Glasscock, president of the Booster Club, again reminded everyone of the earlier meeting time. Last week, the Club changed the meeting time from 8 p.m. until 7:30 p.m. The earlier starting time will be in effect throughout the remainder of the season.

FROGS LOSE COLE, BULAICH; BEALL HAS INSIDE INFO

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Baylor head football coach Bill Beall knows he'll have problems with this week's opponent, but one of them won't be knowing the other team's personnel.

Baylor visits Louisiana State this week where Beall was an assistant coach last season and helped to recruit many of the players he'll be trying to defeat.

Beall said the Bears came through last Saturday's 17-10 loss to Georgia Tech with no new serious injuries. He said he was pleased with the Bears' improvement against Tech but "we've still got a long way to go."

Injuries hit Texas Christian in great proportions following the Frogs' 62-0 defeat to No. 1 ranked Ohio State.

The Frogs started preparing for their conference opener against Arkansas without flanker Linzy Cole and fullback Norman Bulaich, two key offensive performers.

The Rice Owls lost offensive guard Tommy Peel with a knee injury. He was scheduled for surgery Tuesday.

Arkansas head coach Frank Broyles said the Razorbacks wouldn't pay any attention to the lopsided 62-0 loss by TCU.

"We don't pay any attention to the scores of our opponents in games outside the conference," Broyles said. "All this was preliminary to the conference race. I know the players feel this way."

Broyles said the Razorbacks, ranked third in the nation, escaped serious injury in their 55-0 route of Tulsa.

Texas starting tight end Randy Peschel, out last week with a knee injury, is expected to be ready for this week's encounter with Navy in Austin. Tight end Daryl Comer, the starter last year, continued to recuperate from a knee injury.

Colorado City Hosts Bengals

Another big football weekend is on tap for Snyder and area fans.

The varsity Tigers, 13-10 victors over Dunbar, will meet Colorado City there at 7:30 p.m. Friday. The junior varsity Kittens will be at Sweetwater at 6:30 p.m. Saturday.

Both Travis teams enjoy an open date this week, but Lamar 8th will be at Colorado City at 5:30 p.m. Thursday, while Lamar 9th will be at Stamford at 7:30 p.m. the same night.

On the area scene, Hobbs will host Benjamin, Ira Asterlee Jas O'Brien, Hermleigh visits Roscoe and Gail journeys to Southland in Friday night affrays.

Elsewhere in District 3-AAA, Dunbar will host Levelland on Thursday night while Sweetwater is at Lamesa and Brownfield is at Lakeview in Friday skirmishes. Saturday night, Slaton visits Lubbock for an encounter with Estacado.

Glance At Direct Taxes Texans Will Be Paying

(Editors Note: Texas taxes are higher Oct. 1—and complaints over ever-rising taxes are louder than ever. Where are we now taxwise? Where are we going? The Associated Press considers these questions in a four part series on Texas' new direct taxes and its old tax problems. Here is a glance at some direct taxes Texans will be paying.)

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — Any number of little everyday happenings Wednesday will remind Texas taxpayers they have taken on $360 million in new state and city taxes.

Like when the head of the household lights a "good morning" cigarette and remembers that after Oct. 1 the cost per pack has gone up 4.5 cents, or more likely 10 cents.

Or when he feeds the dog and realizes that almost empty box of 59-cent dog food carries a 3 cent tax now instead of 2 cents.

Even at sunset when the taxpayer reaches for a long, cold drink to forget the day's tribulations, he will be reminded again.

If the taxpayer has a highball at a private club or the country club, there is a new 5 cents per serving tax. If he brought home a bottle or six-pack, the liquor or beer carries a new 3.25 per cent state sales tax, plus 1 per cent more local tax in many cities.

The taxpayer can enjoy a steak for dinner and rejoice because a threatened taxpayers revolt during the recent legislature quickly halted efforts to put food under the state sales tax.

He will find little solace in the last week's announcement that the cost of living is up again with the prices of meat, poultry and fish advancing 7.7 per cent n Texas during August.

How will the new taxes hit?

The Oct. 1 increase of the state sales tax from 3 to 3.25 per cent will mean about $6 more a year for an average family of four, regardless of whether they live in a city that has a local sales tax.

The 4.5 cents increase in state cigarette taxes, from 11 to 15.5 cents a pack, apparently will mean a 10-cent increase. A lot of cigarette vending machines that charge 40 cents a pack are being changed to 50. Operators say 45 cents would not cover their increased costs to modify the machines and besides, the claim, smokers will find it easier to find coins for 50 cents than for a 45 cent charge. The state tax increase alone will cost a pack a day family $16.42 more each year.

Retail purchasers of booze and beer also may find their prices up more than the new 3.25 per cent sales tax. Some reports indicate most liquor stores will price their wares as "tax included." This means that bottle of bourbon now costing $3.99 may be $4.25 "tax included."

"Any store operator will be inclined to round off the prices in their favor if odd cents are involved," said one source.

Beer purchases in grocery stores and others that sell other items subject to the sales tax likely will add the exact tax. The six-pack of premium beer that costs $1.40 would have a 6 cent sales tax added.

Estimates are scarce on the cost of the new state tax on liquor and beer because the consumption rates and retail prices for different localities plus the city sales tax must be considered. The Texas Research League estimates the average new cost would be $2.76 per family for state and city sales taxes in Austin had $3.10 in Dallas.

The new private club and airliner tax of 5 cents a serving for mixed drinks, beer or wine will be handled in different ways.

In legitimate private clubs the 5 cents tax will be added to the consumer's check just as the 3 or 4 per cent sales tax on "set up service" supposedly is now added.

On airliners, drinks probably will be served "tax included," probably for the same $1 charge, to keep busy stewardness from having to write out checks and make change. Then the airlines will pay the state 5 cents for each of the minature liquor bottles reported served over Texas.

The new taxes effective Oct. 1 also include some indirect levies that the average taxpayer will never see but probably will end up paying his share.

The franchise tax increases and expansion probably will affect car prices in Texas although it will not be a separate tax collected when delivered.

The increase in the 7 to 7½ per cent natural gas production tax will not be on the taxpayer's bill as a separate tax, but it will be in there somewhere, somehow.

And the Oct. 1 tax increases are only a slight increase in total federal, state and local taxes. Federal taxes paid in Texas are hard to estimate because they are based mostly on income and profits.

However, one survey of 1967 state and local tax payments showed Texans paying about $83 in state and local taxes for each $1,000 of personal income. This would mean the so-called average Texas family of four with an annual income of $10,000 would be shelling out $830 a year—plus federal levies.

The general sales tax makes up only about 10 per cent of the state and local tax load, with property taxes, mostly levied at the local level, providing about 45 per cent.

In a breakdown of the state's revenue dollar, the general sales tax provides more than 12 cents of each dollar to keep the state operating, while the gasoline tax supplies another 11 cents.

Oil production taxes produce almost 7 cents, cigarette and tobacco taxes and licenses more than 6.5 cents, and motor vehicle licenses and fees 5.5 cents.

Natural gas production pays more than 3.5 cents of each revenue dollar, the ad valorem tax 2.4 cents, motor vehicle sales taxes almost 2.5 cents, beer and liquor taxes and licenses almost 2.4 cents, corporation franchise tax almost 2.8 cents, insurance companies almost 2 cents, rental leases, rentals and bonuses almost 2.5 cents, and oil gas and mineral royalties 1.7 cents.

More than 21 cents of the state's revenue dollar comes from federal grants—mostly for highways, welfare and education—which Texans help pay for also.

Free Community University Opens

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Free Community University, operating with a $500 endowment and $1 enrollment fee and offering neither degrees nor college credit, opens for business tonight in a museum.

The school, started by Sen. Mervyn Dymally and endowed by the Urban Affairs Institute which he heads, has no age or prior education requirements or course limits.

It hopes to make college-level studies available to the entire community and, coordinator Gloria Silvera says, "create an awareness of the needs of the community."

Its 13-course curriculum covers such topics as "The Ghetto, the Barrio and the Law," "Minority History," "Insurance and Minority Groups" and "Dialogue in Practical Politics."

The instructors are volunteers.

Fluvanna YF Session Set

FLUVANNA — Fluvanna Young Farmers will hold their first meeting since the Area II convention at 8 p.m. Thursday in the community center.

C. L. Boggs, assistant manager of Plains Cotton Marketing Association and originator of its computerized bookeeping system, will present the program on the cotton market.

For the second time in two years the Fluvanna Chapter brought home from the convention the honor of outstanding chapter in Area II and also the attendance award. The Fluvanna chapter scored 100 per cent in the attendance count.

Fred Ridenour of the Fluvanna chapter was elected Area II vice president at the convention.

Monument Has Been Rededicated

ALTON, Ill. (AP) — A monument to Elijah Parish Lovejoy, an abolitionist publisher killed by a mob in Alton in 1837, has been rededicated.

The monument, a 93-foot column surmounted by a bronze statue of Winged Victory, was completed by the state in 1897 in cooperation with citizens of Alton. It recently was restored by the state at a cost of $26,000.

Dr. Lyndol Harris of Abilene will present the citizens award to a former outstanding citizen from Roby.

Following the program a business session will be held to elect new officers for the 1971 Homecoming. Present officers are Don Waddell, president, Jimmy Hayes, 1st vice president, Roland Ray Jr. 2nd vice president, Mrs. Archie Rivers, secretary and Mrs. Preston Campbell, historian.

Q — I'm now retired and have Social Security and my company pension to live on. Will any of this be taxable?

A — Social Security benefits are not taxable. Your company pension may or may not be taxable depending on whether you contributed to its cost.

If the pension plan is of a type where the pensioner's cost is recoverable within the first three years, the pension is tax-free until this cost is fully recovered. After that, the full pension is taxable income.

One provision you should check is the retirement income credit. When certain conditions are met, this provision allows a taxpayer to reduce his income tax by up to 15 percent of his retirement income.

Details on these provisions are given in IRS Publication 524, Retirement Income and Retirement Income Credit. Send a post card to your District Director for a free copy.

Q — I receive my room and meals at college free of charge for working in the dining hall. Is there any tax on this?

A — The fair market value of room and board received as compensation for work is usually taxable income. If this plus any other income you have amounted to $600 or more for the year, you will have to file a tax return.

Remember that if your earnings from all sources were less than $600 and any Federal income tax was withheld, a return must be filed to obtain a refund.

Q — This is the first year my income will be high enough so that I'll have to file a tax return. Is there anything I can do to avoid having to pay any tax at the end of the year?

A — If taxes are withheld from your wages, any increase in the amount withheld will reduce the changes of having additional tax to pay when you file your 1969 return. Your withholding can be increased by not claiming all your withholding exemptions or by having additional amounts withheld through an agreement with your employer.

Note that if you do not claim all the exemptions you are entitled to for withholding purposes you have not forfeited your right to claim them at a later date. You can, and should, claim all exemptions you are entitled to on your income tax return.

Q— I've just opened my own business. What can you tell me about my Federal tax responsibilities?

A — Information on taxes and withholding requirements can be obtained by contacting your local IRS office. Publications are available that cover these subjects.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I rented a room to a very nice, young professor who's about 28 years old. He is a perfect gentleman, neat and quiet and he always pays his rent on time, but here is the problem:

For the past month he has had a young lady staying with him. He didn't "sneak" her in. She came in with her suitcase and moved in with him like she is his wife. He didn't introduce her to me. I saw her thru the window. He never said he had a wife. But he never said he didn't. They leave early in the morning (she works, and he teaches) and they come home together late in the evening. They go away every week-end and there is never a chance to have any conversations with them.

I rented the room as a "single." I have no idea how long she plans to stay with him. Should I charge him double?

LANDLADY IN URBANA

DEAR LANDLADY — If your "single" is sleeping double, charge him accordingly. It's time these two lovebirds learned that two can't live as cheaply as one.

DEAR ABBY: I am one of those women who had her only child late in life — like 45.

My daughter is 6 years old now and every once in a while some clod will ask her if she is spending the day with "GRANNY" — meaning ME!

Can you supply a good squelch-type answer?

A remark like this ruins my day. Thank you.

NO "GRANNY"

DEAR NO: You had better develop a thicker hide. Clods are not for squelching.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am one of those foolish wives who insisted that my husband wear his wedding ring at all times. My husband is a maintenance mechanic, and this is what happened. Yesterday, I received a call informing me that my husband was at the hospital! While jumping off a construction truck, he caught his ring on a piece of metal and his finger was practically torn off. I was told he was lucky he wasn't killed as he lost his balance and fell under the wheels of the truck.

Abby, please put this in your column as a warning to other women who want their husbands to wear their wedding rings to work.

AL'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Thank you for your letter. And while we're on the subject, read this one:

* * *

DEAR ABBY: When my husband and I were married we had a double-ring ceremony, and he promised he would never take his wedding ring off. And he never did. After a few years he gained a little weight and couldn't get it off. My husband was an electrician. Well, to make a long and very tragic story short, his wedding ring wore a tiny hole thru his insulated glove and a fatal contact was made. He died instantly. When his lifeless body was examined, the only sign of injury was a small burn where his wedding ring encircled his finger.

ELECTRICIAN'S WIDOW

So. . .Dear Wife, if your husband works around machines or electricity, tell him to leave ALL rings at home. If you really love him, that is.

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO ALL MEN BETWEEN 16 AND 60: You are in the privileged position of being able to do the "asking." You may be big, handsome, talented, and popular, but unless you have a heart you're nothing. When you attend a dance or a party, pay speciel attention to at least three girls who are not popular. Find something to compliment them for. Make them feel a little prettier, then watch them "bloom," and actually become prettier before your eyes. Among the quiet, plain - appearing girls are those with special qualities. Modesty, humility, generosity, virtue, and depth. For that is where they usually can be found.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, and enclose a stamped, self - addressed envelope.
