Football Contest Begins In Hart Beat This Week

Pigskin predictors sharpen your pencils, it's guessing time again. The annual Hart Beat football contest begins with this issue. Deadline for entering is noon Friday, Sept. 2. Deadlines for succeeding weeks are also noon Fridays.

Grand prize of $50 cash will go to the contestant who picks the most correct games throughout the season which will continue as long as the Longhorns are in competition. In addition, the three best predictors each week will receive cash prizes.

Best guessing for the week will entitle the contestant to $5. Second and third place predictors for the week will claim $3 and $2, respectively. In case of ties, the tie-breaker will determine the winners.

Any one may enter, entire families may compete against themselves, friend may challenge friend. Only one entry however is allowed per person.

The contest is fun and takes no football "expertise" -- it is often a measure of luck.

It is easy to enter. Select the team you think will be the winner in each of the games appearing in the ads of sponsoring merchants on the contest pages in The Hart Beat. Circle the corresponding number on the entry blank, predict the score of the tie-breaker game (which also counts as a game in the contest) and fill in the entry blank.

Contestants should take care to follow each of these steps. Careless mistakes have cost contestants points in past

Hart Longhorns

To Scrimmage

Hale Center Owls

Hart Longhorns will scrimmage the Hale Center Owls Friday night in the Owl Stadium. Game time is 5 p.m.

All fans are invited to come and support the Horns in this pre-season action. Season play will begin the following Friday, Sept. 2 with the Maroon and White squad traveling to Anton.

contests when some games have had no winners picked or the tie-breaker scores were omitted. Some have even failed to mark the entry blank with their name and address.

The contest would not be possible if it were not for the local merchants whose ads appear on the contest pages. Their sponsorship makes the contest possible. When you take your entry blank to any of the sponsoring merchants, be sure to tell them you appreciate their making the contest possible.

Collection envelopes are being placed at each of the sponsoring merchants for the deposit of the entry blanks each week. Those merchants who make this possible are Farmers State Bank, Pay-n-Save Grocery, Grain Handling Corporation, Farmers Grain Company, Hart Aerial Sprayers, Hart Oil and Butane, B & B Farm Supply, Hi-Plains Insurance, Ed Harris Lumber Company, Tide Products, King's Blacksmith, Smith Potato Company, Hi Way Garage, Triple A Pump Company and The Hart Beat.

To Weather Modification

Voters Say 'No'

Opponents of weather modification practices successfully controlled the polls in Saturday's and Tuesday's elections. Castro County voters approved the modification activities in seven boxes but soundly defeated the practice in the remaining 21 boxes.

Even though Tuesday's elections were the last in the series of weather modification elections across the South Plains, exact results will not be known until the Texas Water Development Board convenes in Austin sometime in September or October to certify election results and amend the companies' permits to operate, according to board general counsel Bruce Bigelow.

Only in clear-cut operational areas will election results be final and valid, and then only as soon as Bigelow receives a certified copy of the results from county commissioners.

Immediately thereafter, companies will be notified to cease flights over operational areas which voted against the propositions.

In target area precincts, though, election results will not become final or binding until the board meets to determine what the entire area's consensus is. Target area results will be considered as a whole, rather than individually as in operational areas.

In Castro County, Box 6 (Hart) approved operations by Atmospherics Incorporated, 115 for to 20 against; Box 7 (Bethel) 30 for to 11 against; and Boxes 10 and 16 (Sunnyside) 34-7 and 27-5.

On the Plains Weather proposition, the voting went Box 6, 115 for to 20 against; Box 10, 34 to 8 and Box 16, 28 to 4.

The remaining boxes, together, voted 124 for, 772 against on Plains Weather proposition and 126 for, 848 against on the Atmospherics proposition.

Local Lions Meet

'Horns Coaching Staff

Athletic Director and head football coach Bill Taylor introduced his coaching staff and spoke of the upcoming season at Monday's luncheon meeting of Hart Lions Club.

Robert Mears will serve as defensive co-ordinator and work with the linebackers and offensive line. Mike Martin will be guiding the offensive backs and secondary. He is head basketball coach for boys and assistant junior high coach.

Head junior high coach, Santry Rush, will also work with varsity receivers and defensive ends. Carl Neinast will coach the offensive and defensive linemen. He is assistant track coach and JV basketball coach.

Kim Ratliff is head coach of girls basketball.

A report was made of the cabinet meeting in Canyon attended by Lions Doug Higgins and Bob Bowden. An announcement was made that the net proceeds of the club's various Hart Day projects had netted $1,607.40.

Crownover-Popejoy Vows Recited Saturday Evening

Miss Linda Popejoy and Frank Crownover of Lubbock pledged wedding vows Saturday evening in the chapel of First Baptist Church in Plainview.

The Rev. Richard Grisham, pastor of Date Street Baptist Church, officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Fred Popejoy and the late Mr. Popejoy and Mrs. G.C. Tamplin of Vernon and the late Joseph Crownover.

A gold candelabra arch, entwined with greenery and looped with white ribbon, and a pair of seven-branched candelabras decorated the altar.

Nuptial selections were presented by Mrs. T.W. Clements, organist, who accompanied Jerry Rogers, vocalist.

Randy Popejoy accompanied his sister to the altar and presented her in marriage. She wore a formal gown of blue Quiana designed with a crescent waistline that dipped to a V in the back. Of Venise lace, a deep V inset on the bodice formed a high banded neckline. The long sleeves were tapered at the wrists. Her skirt flowed softly to an A-line silhouette.

Blue silk flowers were entwined in her hair. She carried a Colonial nosegay of white daisies touched with blue miniature carnations and white gypsophilia. She wore the traditional blue garter and carried pennies in her shoe.

Guests were registered by Sheila and Sherry Crownover, daughters of the bridegroom. Nephews of the bride, Coy Myrick and Kirk Farris of Dalhart, seated guests. Logan Bradley of Plainview, nephew of the bride, was candlelighter.

A reception was held in the church parlor. Presiding at the bride's table were Jill Bradley, niece of the bride, and Karla Crownover, daughter of the groom. Laid with a white linen floor length cloth, it was centered with a large silver candelabra with white daisies, baby's breath and blue carnations. Appointments were silver and crystal.

Following a wedding trip to Colorado, the couple will be at home at 2110 Ave. J. Lubbock, where the groom is self-employed.

The bride formerly resided in Plainview and worked at Hale County State Bank.

TIE BREAKER Hart Anton

Letter To Editor

Dear Harts,

This is an appeal to every MAN that claims he loves his family and his neighbor and his family to stand up and be counted in the dirtiest fight that the town has ever faced yet.

It has been ten years since I got lost in northwest Amarillo, and winding around looking for the right road I noticed a hundred homes that had no gardens, rose beds, lawns or orchards. Why? The bind weed had swallowed up that part of town.

If we continue to look the other way, that is what we will have. Road maintainers are adding fuel to the flame. At the present, I think we can use soil sterilant and get the job done in a year or two. If we wait another two or three years, it will be too late. Our grandchildren will curse our memory instead of blessing it.

Some of you young guys that love your town and the people that live here, get up off your fannies and get going and I will stand behind you. Please don't say, "Oh, I don't have any in my yard" and refuse to get on your feet. I don't know the English language well enough to describe that position. You don't either. Don't figure other people will be too ignorant to know it.

I kept an open eye on the bind weed the 20 years I lived on Nanny Farms which might explain why I had so much H**

SHERRY BOOE

Cook of the Week

The start of school promises an exciting year for our cook of the week, Sherry Booe. As a senior at HHS, the year holds the prospects of a very busy schedule for the Longhorn cheerleader.

Sherry was cheerleader two years in junior high school and two in high school. She is also a member of the Longhorn Band.

Basketball and track are activities she looks forward to during her final semester as a high school student. Last year Sherry went to regional in track, competing in the mile run competition.

Swimming and horseback riding are also favorite activities for our young cook who moved with her family to Hart when she was a third grader. She also loves to read.

Sherry is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Horton. She has an older brother, Mike, who is married and living in San Angelo. Her little sister, Linda, is a seventh grader. Sherry and her family are members of the Church of Christ.

Sister's Rites Held Monday

Rites were conducted at 2 p.m. Monday in Ninth and Columbia Street Church of Christ for Mrs. S.E. Coleman Jr., 58, native of Hart and sister of John B. Lilley.

Officiating was Gene Polvado. Burial was in Plainview Memorial Park under direction of Wood-Dunning Funeral Home.

Mrs. Coleman died at 2:26 a.m. Thursday in a Plainview hospital after suffering an apparent heart seizure Monday night. She had been a resident of Plainview since 1968 and was a past president of Plainview PTA City Council. She had served as president of other PTA organizations.

Born Sept. 1, 1918, in Hart, the former Lydia Mae Lilley was married to Sam Coleman Jr. June 5, 1943 in Lubbock.

Other survivors include her husband, three sons, two daughters and four grandchildren.

AMHERST VISIT

Mrs. L.L. Swindle visited recently in Amherst with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W.P. Holland.

BROTHER VISITS

Visiting Tuesday and Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. R.A. Futrell were his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Futrell.
