McAdoo Re-opens Attack On Smith's Dry Law Stand

Long Range Fuss Between Leaders Is Opened Again

Former Treasury Secretary Replies to Statement Of New York Governor About Dry Enforcement.

MAGAZINE ARTICLE DISCLOSES RE-TOOT

"Constitution Is Supreme" Says McAdoo and Quotes From Law to Prove That He Is "Right."

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—(By Associated Press.)—Resuming in the March issue of the American Review of Reviews, his long range debate with Governor Smith of New York, William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, asserts the only and fundamental prohibition issue is "shall a state be permitted to disregard any part of the constitution which it elects not to obey?"

"Police enforcement in the principal and normal function of the state government," Mr. McAdoo says, "deprived of the effective cooperation of the police, organizations of the states, the amendment becomes a nullity. This is what happened in New York and Maryland. Although each of these states ratified the amendment and helped to put it in the constitution, they refused cooperation; they refused obedience."

In rebuttal to Smith, the former secretary's latest pronouncement is in the nature of a rebuttal to Governor Smith who had asserted that the Volstead act was a part of the laws of New York and thus binding on state functionaries.

The governor quoted article 6, section two, of the constitution, which reads as follows: "The constitution and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof, shall be the supreme law of the land."

Vinson Bill Ok, Jardine Thinks

Agriculture Chief Places Stamp of Approval Upon Proposed Law to Prohibit Cotton Price Control.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Passage of the Vinson bill, designed to prohibit the manipulation of future trading in cotton and also to give the agriculture department authority to regulate cotton exchanges, was endorsed today by Secretary Jardine in a letter to Chairman Hagen of the House Agriculture committee.

The communication, made public by Representative Vinson, Democrat, Oregon, author of the bill, said that the "entire purpose of the bill is substantially to reenact the essential provisions of the present cotton futures act and at the same time to adapt to the cotton futures market the existing legislation applying to the grain futures market."

"This proposed law would contain a finding by Congress," the secretary said, "that future trading in cotton is affected with the national public interest, that future transactions are susceptible to manipulation and control; that unreasonable fluctuations in price occur by reason of such manipulation and control which constitute an obstruction to and a burden upon interstate commerce and render regulation imperative. Congress has already made such a finding in the case of grain futures."

Helms Case Will Likely Be Given To Jurors Today

Attorneys For Both State And Defense Close Their Production of Testimony In Bank Robbery Case.

EASTLAND, Feb. 24.—State and defense attorneys in the Helms case, charged with the robbery with firearms December 22, of the First National Bank of Cato, rested their cases this afternoon. Judge George L. Davenport recessed court until 9 a. m. Saturday, when the charges will be delivered and closing arguments will begin. It is expected the case would go to the jury sometime Saturday.

Only two defense witnesses were put on the stand, after the state rested at 2:30. The first, C. A. Nisick, of Cato, testified that he saw G. E. Bedford, slain Cato police chief, shooting down the alley alongside the bank and that he picked up Bedford's gun when the officer was shot down and emptied it as he emerged from the building through a rear door.

Thermometer Is Produced. A. L. Butler, of Gorman, the second defense witness, testified that he took down a thermometer that had been hanging beside the rear door of the bank and identified bullet holes in it.

The purpose of Butler's testimony was believed to be to throw doubt on the state's evidence that Helms was standing in this door and engaged in a gunfight with officers. The state's testimony has been to the effect that of the four men in the bank raid, only Helms was unscathed after the pursuit from Cato.

Deputy Sheriff Cy Bradford, of Eastland county, and Elmer Lawrence, Eastland police chief, were introduced as state rebuttal witnesses and testified that the holes in the thermometer were buckshot and not pistol ball holes.

MARCH 30 DATE SET FOR STATE CONFAB

Dan Scores Prophecies Of Large Acreage: Asks That State Subscribe To Plan of Jackson Session.

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Feb. 24.—Regional and local chambers of commerce were asked Friday by Governor Dan Moody to arrange meetings of farmers, bankers and credit men at convenient centers on March 30 to initiate the plan adopted at the Mississippi Southwide Cotton conference to hold down acreage.

Each locality, he explained, through the separate conferences, can work out their support of the acreage restriction plan in a way best suited to the local situation, but the main idea is to secure a definite effective plan throughout the state for limited cotton production, the governor said.

He renewed his attack on what he deems "unwarranted" predictions of increased cotton acreage, ridiculing the idea that any sane estimate of this can be made in advance of the planting.

B. Terrell Friday. The estate is declared to be worth several hundred thousand dollars.

McMillan Guilty, Draws Life Term

Former Texas Physician Is Convicted Of The "Sack Murder" Of His Wealthy Employer, Mrs. Appleby.

(By Associated Press) HALL OF JUSTICE, LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24.—A superior court jury here today found Dr. Charles M. McMillan guilty of murder in the first degree as a result of the death of Mrs. Ambia Appleby, his wealthy employer. The verdict carried a recommendation of life imprisonment, which makes it obligatory for the court to sentence the physician to life imprisonment.

The jury of eight women and four men received the case at 11 a. m. and at 2:30 p. m. had reached a verdict. There was some delay in announcing the verdict as Judge Douglas Edmonds, who sat in the trial, was not in court when the jury returned.

The ex-convict doctor was charged with the murder of Mrs. Appleby, widow of a wealthy Chicago inventor, shortly after her body was found last December in the San Fernando valley near here, tied in a canvas sack.

Ranchers Protest

West Texans Score Stock Rate Hike

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 24.—(By Associated Press.)—Testimony of F. L. Gordon, assistant general agent of the Southern Pacific railroad, given to show the necessity of higher freight rates on livestock shipped from West Texas ranches, was under fire of shippers' representatives at the Interstate Commerce Commission livestock rate hearing here today.

The shipping men contended that conditions in Texas should make transportation costs cheaper rather than more expensive. They declared the Texas Plains were level, that damages to ties and equipment from rainfall, or wet weather was negligible that fuel from nearby oil fields was available and that these and other physical factors should permit operation at low cost.

Ropesville Host To Neighbors In Banquet Meeting

True West Texas Spirit Is Ruler Over Session; Judge Clark Mulliken Delivers Principal Address.

BY A. R. SLAGLE. Ropesville, Feb. 24.—(Special.)—Exhibiting the true West Texas spirit of friendliness and cooperation, approximately 125 citizens of Ropesville, and vicinity, including the senior class of the Ropesville high school, gathered last night in the beautiful new high school building there in a banquet meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and school patrons.

The meeting, presided over by Charles W. Roberts, superintendent of school, showed complete harmony throughout. The banquet was prepared by the Parent-Teachers association, funds from which are to be used in beautifying the school grounds.

Mulliken Main Speaker. Judge Clark M. Mulliken, of the 99th district court, in the principal address of the evening, offered as the keynote of settlement of modern business problems, especially as they apply to community development, a scriptural quotation, "Justice, love, mercy and walk uprightly before Jehovah your God" with the assertion that if this rule is followed, no laws and no law enforcement machinery would be necessary.

Other speakers included U. J. Ribes, president of the Levelland Chamber of Commerce, who as a representative of the town, urged further cultivation of the spirit of friendliness existing between municipalities of Mexico county.

A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, spoke briefly on community development, pointing out team work and cooperation as the basis of all development.

The program was enlivened by considerable music, featuring which were several saxophone numbers by Howard Hunt, a senior in Lubbock high, accompanied by Mrs. J. W. Crowley; and the Levelland male quartet, composed of Jim Murray, G. H. Tubbs, Warren Peary and Thomas Williams, who rendered several selections. Miss Martha Dean Crosby, of this city, played a violin number, and Mrs. Roy Herrod, of Brownfield, and Mrs. Dickinson, of Ropesville, rendered a piano duet.

Various other speakers, representing Levelland, Ropesville and Lubbock made brief remarks.

REVOLUTION OF AIR TRAVEL MAY RESULT

Lester Hendershot, Native Of Pittsburgh, Inventor, Is Claim; Lindy Silent Concerning Account.

(By Associated Press) DETROIT, Feb. 24.—The Detroit Free Press will say tomorrow that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Major Thomas G. Lanphier, today tested a new type of motor at Selfridge field which is powered by electric magnetism instead of gasoline.

The paper will say that the inventor of the motor is Lester J. Hendershot of Pittsburgh, who participated in the test along with D. Bart Peat, his business manager, also of Pittsburgh.

Authority Not Given

The Free Press does not identify the person who is said to be authorized for the story other than to declare he is one of the group—Lindbergh, Hendershot, Peat or Lanphier.

Lindbergh and Lanphier declined to be interviewed. Peat and Hendershot could not be reached.

The Guggenheim interests are declared by the paper to have arranged for an immediate conference with Lindbergh, Lanphier and the owners of the motor, which it is predicted will revolutionize the whole theory of aeronautics.

The paper further declares that today's test was successful in every respect and that Lindbergh and Lanphier had identified themselves with promotion of the motor.

"LINDY" TO FLY TODAY

DETROIT, Feb. 24.—(By Associated Press.)—Mechanics at Selfridge field, tonight were ordered to fuel and prepare the Ryan Monoplane of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh for a flight early tomorrow. At the same time the colonel sent to the supply office for maps of Ontario. It was believed Lindbergh and a party of leaders of the aircraft industry from St. Louis, who accompanied him here, planned to take off tomorrow for Buffalo, over the air mail route which cuts directly across the Canadian province from Selfridge field.

Major Thomas G. Lanphier's army pursuit plane also was being fueled for an early morning flight, and indications were he would accompany the party.

The talk will be made in the west side hall of the building.

Mr. Duncan has just recently returned from a trip to St. Louis where he made a study of the system and methods used there. His talk this morning will consist of ways in which the local system can be benefited. It was learned yesterday.

A cordial invitation is extended to all school patrons to attend the meeting.

Owner Given Offers To Reap Profit

EASTLAND, Feb. 24.—(By Associated Press.)—Second only to that of the horned frog is the fame of E. E. Wood, owner of the toad, which brought distinction to the toad family by its nap of 31 years in the cornerstone of the Eastland county courthouse.

Wood to date has received offers which surpass the fondest hopes of a bathing beauty contest winner. To them all he has turned a deaf ear. The latest bid was a contract from the Bert Levy Vaudeville circuit of Dallas.

Levy wired Wood, offering him and the frog a tidy sum to appear on the stage.

Crowds continue to pour into this city to view the noted frog and to impress photographers with its bearing. Much money from profits made bearing "Rips" picture.

No Clues Yet In Safe Robbery At Lubbock Laundry

But Two Negroes, Jailed In Burglary of Metal Firm Have Confessed; Officers Seek Yeggen.

The burglary of $722.25 in cash and checks from the Lubbock Laundry company's safe, 1005 Avenue G, which took place about 1:30 yesterday morning, was still minus a clue last night while two negroes, lodged in the Lubbock county jail, have answered for the burglarizing of several hundred pounds of metal from the Lubbock Iron and Metal company's plant near the railroad tracks on Avenue H, which also happened during the night, Thursday.

The negroes were arrested yesterday after the owners of the wrecking company had furnished clues from a tip handed them of the robbery last Sunday. One of the negroes was an employee of the company while the other was employed by a local drug store. Charges of burglary are to be filed against them today.

Both Elacks Confess

Both confessed to the burglary of the metal, officers said after what is believed to be most of the stuff stolen had been recovered. The recovered loot included 495 pounds of soft lead, 220 pounds of copper.

Torch Slayer Is Still At Liberty

Prosecutor Denies Man Is Known, Refuting Word of State Policeman; Victim Is Laid to Rest.

(By Associated Press) BERNARDVILLE, N. J., Feb. 24.—The torch-killing of Miss Margaret Brown was still at large tonight, State troopers said during the day that his identity was known, that he was a middle-aged professional man of high social standing, but later Prosecutor Bergen denied that anything definite was known about the killer.

"If I knew him and where he was," said the prosecutor, "I would go out and get him."

In the afternoon Miss Brown, whose gasoline soaked body was found flaming like a human torch behind a hot-dog stand on the Bernardsville-Morrisdon road Monday night, was buried quietly at Fort Lee.

Search For Blue Car Owner. Police investigation centered around clues furnished by a man and a woman. The woman told of seeing a blue sedan parked on Monday night at the place where Miss Brown's body was found, and there was some hope that she might be able to help in tracing ownership of the car. The man told of being near the scene of the crime last night and being questioned concerning the killing by a man who drove up in a blue sedan.

On the theory that this inquisitive automobilist might have been the killer, drawn back to the scene of the slaying by some motive power stronger than his will, police kept watch over the Brown funeral today on the chance that the man they sought might attend. The ceremony was concluded, however, without any development in the manhunt.

Absolute refusal to consider remaining in Lubbock was given to members of the First Baptist church by Rev. W. A. Bowen, former pastor who resigned Sunday, in a meeting of officials and members in the church last night. The meeting was called in an effort to retain Rev. Bowen as the local pastor.

He has accepted the pastorate of the First Baptist church at Hope, Arkansas, he stated last night, and will leave for that place Monday or Tuesday. His last sermon in the city will be preached Sunday. He gave ill health and the desire for a lower altitude as his reason for resigning.

More than 200 were present at the meeting last night which lasted about an hour.

—THE—
By Allene Sumner

Grandmothers are responsible for most of our annual beauty bill of nearly two billion dollars, according to a recent convention of beauty parlor operators. They say that the woman over 20, and especially the woman between 40 and 70 who is bound to cheat old age, puts most of the shiny gold into the beauty parlor coffers.

DON'T BELIEVE IT
I don't believe a word of it. True, women have to keep young as long as possible in this day when beauty is a science and when one blanches to be caught ignorant. But the quest of beauty is primarily a woman's job. It is husband and romance built. Here's warning that for every $20 one old woman gives a beauty parlor for her hair "tinting" there are 20,000 girls under 25 with their $2.75 for shampoo, trim and marcel.

HEAVEN BEAUTY
What they don't say at the beauty conventions! Some big city hair-dressers' association spouts that woman suffrage has made woman love her beauty. Women no longer take time for adornment, say they, and have become too efficient.

Frumpy business bodies. They seem to object that woman can dress herself by donning three garments and using one sweep of the comb. What nonsense! Women have never had more money for personal adornment and looked prettier than they do today, even if they have learned how to simplify the process. It's that very simplification that has made them lovelier than ever.

WOMEN DEBATE
"Must women be ruthless?" is a debate subject handled by two prominent women in a current woman's magazine. The writer of the affirmative says that women artists "careerists" must live for their art only and not be distracted by the "traditional appeals of womanhood." She cites women artists who did not need children of their own to express childhood in art. She points to the painter, Mary Cassatt, whose canvases of children are hailed as supreme.

THE OTHER SIDE
Her opponent cites great women artists who also lived the traditional woman's life with husband and children.

Somewhat both arguments seem so very futile. In this big world one can always find samples and examples to illustrate any point one wants to make. Generality is the only thing that counts.

City Federation
To Improve Park

Women To Ask for Club Room in Proposed Auditorium; Money Is Pledged To Fund For Convention.

In a civic beautification program, women in the City Federation voted yesterday afternoon to plant trees and shrubbery on a plot known as North City park.

This plot of land is in the north-western section of the city near Avenue T. A committee is to be appointed in the federation in order that beautification details may be worked out. Donations of trees, probably will be asked and the assistance of Boy Scouts will be solicited in keeping the trees watered. Mrs. H. T. Kimbro is at the head of a committee which visited the city commission in interest of this project.

The Federation met at the First Baptist church in a business session. For some months women in this organization have been attempting to secure a site for a proposed club house. This plan was dropped yesterday and the club is to petition for club room space in a city auditorium, proposed for Lubbock. A committee composed of Mrs. W. H. Meador, Gus L. Ford and J. S. Johnson is to make a plea for this space.

Mrs. S. C. Arnett and Mrs. F. R. Friend were received as members of the federation at this meeting. The Federation is to send $10 to the fund to be used in entertaining the General Federation of Women's clubs in Texas next spring.

How and Why

CHARMING EFFECTS OF FINGER WAVES

Have you ever noticed what wonderful effects in hair dressing can be obtained by means of the de-servingly popular finger wave? I have in mind at this moment a woman, Alice, tall and stately, whose good points were never brought out while she wore her hair in marcel waves, as hundreds of others are doing. One day she had the good luck to fall into the hands of a hair dresser who studied types, and who knew how to apply his art.

He advised abandoning the style of curling which had become so ordinary, and to substitute for it a graceful finger wave which should follow the beautiful curve of her head. She was willing to try the experiment with the result that this dignified arrangement raised her from the commonplace to her rightful position as a most distinguished looking person.

The finger wave is made by the hand of the operator, and furnishes endless opportunity to bring out individuality and emphasize personality. There may be many waves for the rather cute girl, or just one or two to break the too straight, hair line of the staid girl. Somewhere at the temples is all that is Congregation of the Baptist Church Honors Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Bowen; Program of Music Heard.

About four hundred friends of Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Bowen, retiring pastor of the First Baptist church and his wife, attended a reception given in their honor Thursday evening in the church. The congregation extended this courtesy.

In the receiving line with honor guests were pastors of other churches in the city, with their wives, officers in the various departments of the church and Sunday school, a group of about one hundred folk.

Punch was served throughout the evening and a musical program was rendered. Mrs. George N. Atkinson and Miss Nell Parmley arranged the musical program, which consisted of selections given by the Sunday school orchestra, solos, readings and duets. Mrs. T. P. Holland sang two numbers, accompanied by Mrs. John L. Ratliff, who also assisted Miss Blanche Fann, who played violin solos. Charlotte Ratliff gave a reading and Mrs. Joe Hilton sang a solo, accompanied by Mrs. H. O. Wiggins. A violin solo by Miss Frances Lanier, and a vocal duet by Mrs. Atkinson and Miss Parmley completed the program.

A number of talks, encumbers to Rev. and Mrs. Bowen, were given, and John L. Ratliff presented the honor guests with a gift from the Baptist congregation.

Lubbock And Seven Other Teams Still In Cage Tourney

Ralls, Dickens City, Wilson, Post, Floydada, Seagraves and Meadow In Running With Locals For The Title

Westerners Win From Fast Hale Center Entry After Hectic Battle; Floydada Favored for Crown.

BY JAS. R. DOW
Avalanche Sports Editor
 Eight of the fourteen basketball teams to report to Ewing Y. Freeland, athletic director of the South Plains Interscholastic League, remain in the title race after the initial round of the district tournament. The teams yet in the contest are: Ralls, Dickens, Meadow, Wilson, Floydada, Lubbock, Post and Seagraves.

Six games were played yesterday afternoon and last evening in the Texas Technological college gymnasium, with Ralls defeating Orlon, by a score of 34 to 15; Dickens scoring a 33 to 24 victory over Levelland; Wilson winning a very decisive game, 42 to 8, over the Morton Chiefs; Meadow taking in Muleshoe by a forfeit, as the Bailey county representatives did not appear for their scheduled game; the Floydada Whirlwinds, winning from the Golden Tornadoes, of Lamesa, by a count of 35 to 10; and "Cowboy" Adams, highly heralded hoop artist of Hale Center, dropping a thriller to the Lubbock high school Westerners, 33 to 20.

Last Game Didn't Count
 The last game played last evening, Post versus Seagraves, did not effect the district title either way as both the Post and the Gaines county champions drew byes in the drawing. But a game was scheduled between the two teams by Freeland in order that every team to go into the next elimination round would have played. The Caprockers of Post high school won an easy game from the Seagraves club, 13 to 3.

Schedule Is Arranged
 The schedule of games to be played today is: Ralls vs. Orlon, 10 a. m.; Meadow vs. Wilson, 11 a. m.; Floydada vs. Post, 1 p. m.; and Lubbock vs. Seagraves, 2 p. m. The winners of each of the scheduled games will go into the semifinals, which will begin at 7 o'clock this evening.

In the initial game of the tourney the Jackrabbits of Ralls high school, who were district title holders for the preceding season, scored a 34 to 15 victory over the Orlon Cagers. King, habit pinner, rung up six field goals to lead the scoring field.

Dunn Is Star
 The Orlon cagers were unable to check the superior passing combination used by the Crosby county champs and the flashy work of Dunn, who scored 14 points, was, too, a difficult problem for the Orlon quintet to handle.

The closest game of the afternoon schedule was between the Dickens City Owls and the Hockley county champs, Levelland, in which the Owls were victorious, 33 to 24. Harker, forward for the Owls, led the counting with 10 points from the field.

Pat Nix's Wilson high school basketballers scored the most decisive victory of the first elimination round, defeating the Morton Chiefs, Cochran county representatives, 42 to 8. Crews, hefty forward for the Lynn county title holders, ripped the basket on nine occasions to carry out the scoring role of the game.

Chiefs Make One Field Goal
 Nix's tall and experienced floor men worked advantageously over the Morton recruits. Only one field goal was allowed the Chiefs by the Wilson five in the entire game.

The Floydada Whirlwinds, favorites of the tournament, scored a decisive victory over Bill Stevens' Golden Tornadoes, from Lamesa, registering a 35 to 10 score. "Big John" Edwards, six foot pivot for the Whirlwinds, counted five field goals and one free throw to lead in the scoring from the floor.

Hale Center Popular
 The game that attracted more interest in the first elimination fight of the annual tourney was the scheduled game between the Hale Center high school cagers and the Lubbock high school Westerners, in which Hale Center was eliminated from the meet. The score of the game was 33 to 20.

Hale Center took the jump on the homeboys scoring four points be-

Westerners came back in the second period with a fine passing game which completely swept the guests off their feet and it was but a short time until the Westerners piled up a lead that would work with the scoring game and alone scored within two points of the Hale Center total count. Holdout Hurlers Worry Managers Of Big Leaguers

But Washington Signs Fred Marberry and Braxton So Jones Is Only Moundsman To Worry Clark Griffith.

ATLANTA, Feb. 24—The problem of pitchers who might be classed as holdouts, usually the first thorn in the side of Major League managers, continues to harass some baseball bosses as the initial week of the 1928 training season draws to a close, but so far as the Washington Senators are concerned, Clark Griffith has only one of his regulars to worry about. Griffith was notified at Tampa today by Fred Marberry and Garland Braxton, both counted on for regular mound duty, that they had agreed to terms and were starting for the training camp to sign contracts with Tom Zachary having signed earlier in the week, only "Sage Sam" Jones remains away from the fold.

Has Till March First
 He, however, with several other hurlers from various clubs, has until March 1 to make known his intentions, an earlier managerial edict having pronounced that none would be considered actual holdouts until that date.

Among other pitchers from whom no word has been received and whose contracts are unsigned are Phil Rhee, of the St. Louis Cardinals; Jimmy Ring, of the Phils; Dazy Vance, of the Brooklyn Robins; Walter Hoyt, of the New York Yankees; and Charlie Ruffing, of the Boston Red Sox.

Others No Worry
 Possible holdouts in other departments will not begin to concern managers until fall squads report after March 1.

Upsets Of First Rounds Feature Houston Tourney

Campbell Beats Lewinson In Gruelling Battle As Jack Speer Plays Best Of All And Wins Under Par.

HOUSTON, Feb. 24—The defeat of Lewis Lewinson, of San Antonio, state amateur champion, and the downfall of Dudley Golding, Wichita Falls medalist, featured the first two rounds of match play in the Houston country club 14th annual invitation tournament, Friday. Lewinson, favored by many to go into the finals, met his master in Harry Campbell from Nacogdoches. It was Campbell's second time over the course and the East Texan made a great recovery shot at the 19th hole of the match to overcome what appeared to be certain defeat and then banged in a ten footer for a birdie three and the victory.

Although Beak Golding
 Golding fell before Reuben Albaugh, San Antonio, 3 and 2. Campbell held a three hole advantage over the left handed king of Texas amateur golfers as they teed off at the 16th hole, but the match all square at the 18th, where Lewinson's high iron struck the edge of the green and stopped 18 feet from the cup. Campbell's pitch overran the cup ten feet. Lewinson's putt stopped on the very lip of the cup and when Campbell was weak with his try, the match traveled to extra holes.

The state champion has a perfect drive at the 19th and the ball stopped in the center of the fairway about 265 yards from the tee. Campbell hooked his tee shot into the rough and just short of the sand trap 210 yards from the start.

Campbell Thought Beaten
 Many who had gathered the first tee to watch the battle turned back to the clubhouse figuring that Campbell was hopelessly beaten. But the Nacogdoches player apparently was determined to win. His ball was in a fair lie in the rough and he selected a masher to carry him to the green

Hickman Lawyers Enter Testimony In Murder Trial

Confession of "The Fox" Is Produced In Effort Made To Place Toms Murder At Door of Welby Hunt.

(By Associated Press.)
HALL OF JUSTICE, LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24.—The confession of William Edward Hickman, who brought into the murder trial of the youth today to supply what was contended by his attorneys to be the last link in the chain of evidence fastening direct responsibility for the killing of Ivy Toms on Hickman's 17-year-old accomplice, Welby Hunt.

Hickman's attorneys joined the prosecution in pushing into the trial record the confession over the frequent objection of Hunt's counsel, A. Gray Gilmer.

Gun Is Big Point
The confession declared Hunt carried a .38 calibre automatic pistol while Hickman had a .32 calibre gun in the drug store holdup. It was a .38 bullet which fatally wounded the druggist, Toms.

Earlier in the day a police officer had testified to finding empty .38 calibre shells near the spot where witnesses had testified Hunt stood while he and Hickman engaged in a gun battle with Patrolman E. J. Oliver.

Hunt declared it was a .38 calibre Colt automatic which he carried during the holdup and that he did not fire a shot.

As Gilmer kept up a running fire of objections to parts of the Hickman confession attorneys for the youth already under death sentence for the slaying of Marian Parker, joined with the state in defending the inclusion of the document in the record.

It was this action of the Hickman counsel which was cited by Judge Elliott Craig as he overruled each of Gilmer's objections.

Some Check Boy! Associated Press Is Aided By Youth

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 24.—Raymond Ben, 19, Associated Press check boy, set newspaper offices in a temporary whirl this morning when he rushed into the A. P. office and breathlessly gave the first report of the robbery of the City Bank here.

Raymond had started for the office. As he passed the bank he heard some one shout and saw men dash from the bank and into a motor car and speed away. Realizing he had walked into a robbery, he ran back to the office less than half a block away and set reporters in motion.

Didn't See Shooting
But Raymond was disappointed. He didn't get in on the shooting. The robbery was one of the most daring ever attempted in Kansas City and occurred at a time when the bank was preparing for heavy business, shortly after opening.

The bandit leader stood on a marble seat at the Eighth-street door directing the action and giving commands of "hurry up there" and "let's go!" to his companions. He held a pistol in each hand.

So efficiently was the robbery carried out that it seemed as if it might have been rehearsed. None of the men was masked. The robbers overlooked large amounts of currency in the cages $25,000 in one cage being untouched.

Killing of Joe Adams, One Time Mayor of West City, Illinois, Will Likely Be Fatal for Gangster.

(By Associated Press.)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 24.—Southern Illinois' notorious gunman and gang leader, Charley Birger, must pay with his life for the murder of Mayor Joe Adams of West City, the state supreme court ruled today in affirming his conviction. April 13 was set for his execution.

In jail at Benton, Ill., Birger smiled when informed of the decision remarking: "What is to be will be."

A veritable reign of terror in the south part of the state ended with the murder of Adams, whose home was shot to be a meeting place for the Shelton gang, a faction unfriendly to that of Birger.

Because of this friendship with the Sheltons, Adams was marked to die. Two more boys rapped on his door December 12, 1926, and as the mayor was reading a note the boys handed him they slipped out pistols and killed him.

One of the lads, Elmo Thomason, 17, was burned to death some time later when the Birger headquarters was bombed. His brother, Harry, two years his senior, is serving a life sentence for the murder. Both made a clean getaway at the time, assisted by Birger, the instigator of the crime.

The supreme court ruled the fact that Birger's attorneys used only right of the 26 challenges allowed by law did not bear out their contention of prejudice in Franklin county against the defendant. This was the principal grounds on which the appeal was based.

REVENUE DECREASES

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Railroad revenue for hauling livestock showed a decrease in 1927 over 1926. L. E. Weddell, Chicago, stationer for western carriers, testified at the Interstate Commerce Commission hearing here today to determine whether western and southern railroads are justified in increasing livestock freight rates.

Coolidge Seems Well Satisfied

After All Is Said and Done President Appears to Be Resigned to Navy Bill To Provide More Vessels.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—While President Coolidge believes that the Navy bill approved by the House Naval committee does not provide enough warcraft for what the Navy department considers its needs, he considers the proposal, however, a beginning toward that end.

The bill, as reported authorizes the construction of 15 cruisers and one airplane carrier and the President feels that this very likely is all that could be laid down anyway within five years or so.

He has noted that the reported bill provides for a time limit of construction. He does not approve of this but believes that after all it makes little difference because this provision is not binding upon any subsequent Congress. It will be possible, he believes, for any succeeding Congress to alter the proposal as reported to the House at its will and to lay down any program of construction that it sees fit.

Meanwhile, Speaker Longworth predicted that the House without serious opposition would approve the $274,000,000 new warship construction program recommended by its Naval committee.

League Delegate From Canada Is Victor In Debate

Plans for General Treaty On Arbitration Continue After Brusque Exchange of Opinions.

(By Associated Press)
GENEVA, Feb. 24.—Canada intervened sharply in the debate at the session of the League of Nations Security Council today to save the principle of conciliation.

Vice-chairman Ostend Under, former Swedish Minister of Foreign Affairs, who presided in the absence of Dr. Eduard Beneš, already had pushed through a resolution to the Security Council to frame a general treaty of arbitration and conciliation for which Sweden had submitted draft proposals. He suggested that conciliation already was covered and that a conciliation treaty was not necessary.

Opposition Is Manifested
Opposition had been manifested to a general arbitration treaty, and Dr. Riddell, the Canadian representative, immediately jumped up and pointed out this fact, declaring that it was not certain a majority would support a general arbitration treaty. In this case, he contended, a great opportunity would be lost.

The Chilean delegate, Senor Valdes, supported Dr. Riddell, asserting that the committee had not taken a definite position regarding general or special treaties and therefore could not combine the questions of arbitration and conciliation.

The German delegates, Herr von Simson, also gave his support to this attitude. Like Canada, Germany attached the greatest importance to conciliation, and the German delegate urged that a general conciliation treaty should be drafted, even though a general arbitration treaty was not accepted.

The chairman was forced to bow to the weighty opinion, and the drafting committee was asked to frame a model conciliation treaty, though the chairman explained that the committee was not then taking a position for or against such a treaty.

Pink Boll Worm

will attend the Sweetwater conference. Whitehead stated Friday that persons with whom he talked in the infected counties expressed the opinion that cooperative methods should be adopted to stamp out the pest. They are in all instances opposed to resorting to large non-cotton zones. Whitehead said:

AUSTIN, Feb. 24 (AP)—Simultaneously with announcement that pink boll worm infestation in West Texas and New Mexico had spread to the eighth new county, George B. Terrell, state commissioner of agriculture, revealed Friday that he had asked Texas Congressmen to seek a $10,000,000 federal appropriation to cope with the situation.

Zone Enforcement Doubtful
Mr. Terrell declared that in his opinion a non-cotton zone could not be enforced this year unless an appropriation is made soon assuring farmers that damages would be paid them.

Otherwise, he added, "I don't see how anything more drastic than a regulated zone could be established this year."

"In order to enforce a non-cotton zone, the farmers must have assurance that they will be compensated for losses incurred by their inability to plant cotton."

A regular zone, which Mr. Terrell indicated he would advocate, requires sterilization of seed, disallows shipment of seed out of the infected area and enforces lint fumigation.

The worm has been in El Paso, Hudspeth, Presidio, Brewster, Pecos, Reeves and Ward for several years, Terrell said.

Point In Gainer County
With discovery that it has spread to Gaines county, the list of "new" counties menaced in addition to it includes Dawson, Howard, Midland, Ector, Andrews, Glasscock and Martin.

Governor Moody Thursday wired the Texas delegation also appealing to them to attempt to induce the federal government to pay bills incident to eradication measures and subsequent damages to farmers.

He said it has been estimated that $2,000,000—only a fifth of what Terrell believes is necessary—would suffice.

Although he had been asked repeatedly, the governor still failed to say whether he would attend the pink boll worm conference Saturday before the state pink boll worm commission is set for the week of February 27 in the sections affected.

SLATON MEN TO ATTEND
SLATON, Feb. 24 (Special)—Five members of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce will attend the hearing at Sweetwater tomorrow, when the plans for curtailing the activities of the pink boll worm will be discussed.

Those going from here are Sam E. Stages, J. S. Edwards, H. D. Talley, J. W. Nesbitt and W. E. Olive.

BROWNFIELD TO BE THREE
BROWNFIELD, Feb. 24 (AP)—A delegation of farmers and business men left here for Sweetwater to attend the boll worm convention, and will then go to Lamesa to attend the meeting of the boll worm commission Monday.

Terry county is free of the menace thus far, however.

Frog To New York Scientists Are To See Horned Toad

DALLAS, Feb. 24 (AP)—Eastland's celebrated horned toad which was removed last Saturday from the cornerstone of the Eastland county courthouse after what is said to have been a sojourn there of more than thirty years, arrived in Dallas tonight in charge of Will M. Wood and N. M. Day of Eastland.

Wood, who is the son of E. E. Wood, district clerk of Eastland county when the frog was placed in the cornerstone, and Day, son of Eugene Day, capitalist who removed the frog from the cornerstone, said they are taking the toad to New York at the request of Dr. William H. Henshaw, former director of the New York Zoological gardens. In New York the reptile will be examined by scientists, they said.

The frog will be put on exhibition at a drug store here, it was said.

The Will Wood, mentioned in the above dispatch, was a resident of Lubbock for a time last year, being interested in oil and gas wells being drilled in this section at that time. He was a resident at "Hotel Lubbock" and although, he made a number of business acquaintances, he was not widely known.

A method to halt the pink boll worm was manifest by a gathering of between four and five hundred farmers here yesterday.

C. T. Watson, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, opened the meeting, which was presided over by L. E. Lomax.

wire and 230 pounds of aluminum. According to H. L. Levy and Louis Feldman, owners of the plant, the stealing of the metal has been going on for sometime but only lately in larger amounts had it been detected.

The robbery of the laundry took place sometime between one and two o'clock yesterday morning and was discovered by Nightwatchman J. W. Strasser shortly before two o'clock. Mr. Strasser immediately notified O. W. McLeod, manager, and members of the police force, who began search for clues.

Safe Knobs Knocked Off
Entrance into the office was gained by prying the front door open with some sort of bar, it was stated yesterday. The combination knobs and dials of the safe were knocked off in opening the door and two small key locks punched out in the inner vault.

Considering the time which the job was accomplished in and the way in which the safe was left, unwatched save for the removal of the knobs and dials, officers and Mr. McLeod said that it was undoubtedly the work of professionals.

A few jewelry items belonging to Mrs. McLeod and her daughter were also taken with the money and checks. Two suits of clothes and an overcoat were also made off with from a cleaning rack in the plant.

Finger and foot prints on and around the safe were to be collected by the insurance company of Dallas, which had the loss under policy, a representative of the company was due here last night.

McAdoo-Smith

law of the land, and the judges in every state shall be bound there by, anything in the Constitution or the laws of any state to the contrary notwithstanding.

"If that doesn't mean that the Volstead law is a part of the laws of New York state," Mr. McAdoo quoted Governor Smith as saying, "Then I would like for some one to tell me what it does mean."

Federal Law Supreme
Mr. McAdoo, in his article, says this provision has been construed by the Supreme court to mean that whenever there is a conflict between the state laws and the Constitution, the federal law is supreme.

"For instance," he continued, "The New York legislature in 1920, enacted a law, which Governor Smith approved permitting the manufacture of beer and wine containing 2.75 per cent alcohol. The Volstead act permits only one half of one per cent of alcohol. The Supreme court of the United States properly held that the New York 'beer and wine bill' was unconstitutional, because it had to yield to the supreme law of the land. The governor of New York in approving the repeal of the Miller-Gage law, cites this decision, which in itself conveys quite convincingly the meaning of the constitutional provision he has quoted. I commend the decision of the Supreme court of the United States to the Governor of New York."

Remarking that New York repealed its state prohibition law in 1923, and that Maryland had never had one, Mr. McAdoo said that derived by the effective cooperation of the police organization of the states, made available only by a state enforcement law, the Eighteenth amendment becomes practically a nullity.

Would Force Obedience
While it is true that the Eighteenth amendment and the laws of the United States are the supreme law of the land," he said, "nevertheless, the Eighteenth amendment is not self-executing and requires an enforcement statute to put it into effect. The Volstead act is such a statute, but it is not a part of the laws of New York and Maryland."

As a means of increasing enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment, Mr. McAdoo suggested that federal financial aid be given states having their own enforcement acts.

Cattlemen Heard In Arguments On Immigration Bill

Dayton Moses, Attorney For Texas Cattlemen, Speaker In Congress Debate and He Upholds Mexican.

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Opposition to the Box bill, to place western hemisphere nations on a quota basis, was voiced today before the House immigration committee by a number of witnesses who took the position that exclusion of the Mexican laborer would work economic hardship on the agricultural industry in the Southwest. The hearing was the second allotted by the committee to opponents of the bill.

A. Abil, of Calusa, president of the California Farm Bureau federation, urged a thorough investigation of the Mexican labor situation throughout the country before any bill should be introduced to opponents of the bill.

Dayton Moses of Fort Worth, attorney for the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association, declared that but few Mexicans were involved in the many cases of horse and cattle stealing that he was called upon to prosecute. He called Mexican "law-abiding."

Moses contended that the Mexican was a law-abiding person and of absolute necessity as a laborer to cattlemen. Americans, he added, did not take up ranch life as they once did and it is difficult to obtain any but Mexican help.

Fred H. Bixby of Long Beach, Cal., representing the National Cattlemen's association also argued that Mexican laborers were indispensable and law-abiding. The Mexican, he said, never causes trouble except when he indulges in intoxicants bought in the United States.

Bixby argued that placing a ban on Mexican immigration would not be a fitting sequel to Lindbergh's escape, adding that the New York-Paul "file" had done more than anyone else toward "getting a friendly feeling" with Mexico.

"You are going to ruin that," that is a cinch," he declared.

The witnesses directed their testimony solely to the Mexican problem and did not touch upon the Canadian phase of the Box proposal.

Moses testified that the Mexican was filling the place of the negro in the fields of the Southwest, and expressed belief that the cotton crop in the Texas Panhandle could not have been harvested last year but for the availability of Mexican pickers.

The Texas man declared that the damage would not be so great to the cattlemen, but said the sheep and goat ranchers would be harmed.

He contended that "the great empire of Texas" should not be discriminated against by shutting off its labor supply, arguing that other sections were not placed on an unequal basis by leaving the door open to the Mexican because after his entry he was free to go to any other section of the country he desired.

cution claimed were identical with that in which the body of the wealthy widow was wrapped figured prominently in the trial which started February 13.

The doctor pleaded not guilty, but he did not deny the charges from the witness stand, although he had previously steadfastly protested his innocence in statements to the police.

Testimony of a Los Angeles couple revealed that McMillan and Mrs. Appleby had traveled together as man and wife, having registered at a hotel in Arizona as Mr. and Mrs. McMillan. Before the woman's disappearance a few days prior to Christmas, 1927, Dr. McMillan had acted as her business manager. On the night of his arrest, he was found in his home poring over a mass of Mrs. Appleby's private papers.

One document that was featured prominently in the case was a purported will, which the prosecution branded as a forgery and accused the doctor of having drawn himself that he might claim the wealth of the widow after her death.

Towards the close of the trial the doctor surprised the prosecution by taking the stand, admitting he will say in his handwriting and explaining that he wrote it at Mrs. Appleby's dictation as a series of notations to be incorporated in a legally drawn testament later.

Judge Edmunds set 9:30 a. m. next Tuesday for formally sentencing McMillan.

Railroad Stocks Go Up As Rumors Hit Wall Street

But Story That Loree Will Abandon Plan to Control Fifth Western Line Are Not Yet Confirmed.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Stocks of railroads were bid up $1 to $4 a share in the stock market today, following unconfirmed rumors, later pronounced highly improbable, that L. F. Loree had consented to abandon his plan for a fifth eastern trunk line and transfer control of the Washash to one of the four existing systems.

Mr. Loree was out of the city, and at his office official comment was withheld, but inference was made that the report had little if any foundation in fact. Other eastern railway executives also were absent from New York, except P. F. Crowley, president of the New York central, who declined to discuss the rumors.

The eastern executives have been engaged in a series of meetings regarding the eastern line-up, and Mr. Loree has been prominent in these conferences. No statement regarding the nature of the discussions, however, has been made.

Mr. Loree controls the largest single block of stock, about 23 per cent, in the Lehigh Valley, which is one of the key and the New York Central, as well as to the Pennsylvania. The Baltimore and Ohio is understood to oppose the control of the Lehigh by the Pennsylvania on the ground that its own competitive position would be materially weakened.

Coolidge Favors Federal Aid For Stopping Floods

President's Views On Plan To Remedy Mississippi's Rampages Discovered In Hoover's Testimony.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—As congress neared a showdown today in the flood control fight, it was disclosed that President Coolidge would be willing, under conditions, to have the federal government shoulder the expense of protecting the lower Mississippi Valley.

He feels, however, that it is a question for Congress to determine, after agreement has been reached as to the type and scope of the protection to be afforded. In addition he holds that anything the federal government does without financial assistance from local communities should be confined to the area flooded last year.

Views Coincidentally Disclosed
The views of the President were disclosed by coincidence shortly after Secretary Hoover, appearing before the Senate Commerce Committee, backed up the administration's flood control plan, and Mayor Gen. J. W. R. M. Pevehouse had turned over to a House member for introduction a bill carrying $200,000,000 for flood prevention work with states paying their quota as proposed in his report already submitted to congress.

The question whether local communities should bear part of the expense of the program authorized by Congress has been a point of controversy since House and Senate committees tackled the problem of framing remedial legislation.

Hoover Non-Committal
Under questioning before the Senate committee, Mr. Hoover, who last year made several trips into the flood zone as President Coolidge's personal representative, refused to commit himself as to how much of the expense should be met by the federal government. He urged an intensive study of the problem by a group of experts.

As for the President, it was disclosed that he looks with considerable favor on the flood bill sponsored by Chairman Jones of the Senate Commerce committee, believing that its provisions are not far from his own views.

Business is moving up on the second floor of the city hall. The offices of the Boy Scouts headquarters and of A. C. Jackson, city school tax collector, are being exchanged, and a partition being built in the place that was formerly an ante-room. This is to give the tax collector and his cohorts much needed room, and is mutually beneficial and agreeable to all concerned.

Lubbock is to be made the city beautiful, or at least the city clean, if the plans of Dr. J. W. Rollo, city health officer, are consummated. In order that the tourists who travel through this city next summer, and indications now are that there will be many of them, will get a good impression of the town, a clean-up campaign is to be waged in which the aid of the children of the city schools will be drafted. Dr. Rollo points out that without the aid of the citizenship it is an impossibility for the city cleaning force to maintain clean and healthful conditions.

Lubbock county schools are constantly growing and improving, and as reward the appropriation to be received from the state department of education this year will be the greatest in history. This information was furnished by County Superintendent W. M. Pevehouse by William Eilers, state rural school supervisor in a letter received recently.

The key touch of winter is yet with us, in spite of the approaching of the month of March, and the opening of spring. Yesterday's weather maintained a low temperature throughout the entire day, the maximum being 36 and the minimum being 18. These figures were given by the experiment station here as the official temperature.

Part of a program of stocking Lubbock county with pure bred dairy stock will be carried out early in March, when County Agent D. F. Eaton will make a trip to South Texas, to the Panhandle region. A number of Lubbock county farmers and dairy stock owners will be purchased stock by the county agent.

Joe S. 'Red' Collins, Avalanche linotype operator and assistant chairman of the Avalanche Chapter of Local 868 International Typographical Union, is confined to his home. Attending physicians have advised him to refrain from work for at least ten days. Mr. Collins resides in the 1900 block on Avenue H.

A civic club of Crosbyton, neighboring South Plains city, has announced a home beautiful contest to be conducted not so much for the money prizes offered as to make the homes sanitary and attractive. In order that all people in the city may be interested in this project, solicitation letters are being sent every home owner and renter.

Something of this civic spirit is being reflected in Lubbock and women in the City Federation yesterday afternoon voted to help in the beautification of North City Park, a plot of land near Avenue T in the northwest portion of the city. Trees and shrubbery are to be planted as soon as it is ascertained that water will be available for these plants. The Federation is expecting to sponsor an arbor day, urging the planting of trees and shrubbery in a beautification program for the city.

Manioiditis is causing considerable suffering in Lubbock, partially as an aftermath of the epidemic of influenza and colds. Jamie Collie daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Collie, is very sick in the Lubbock Sanitarium and Miss Lulu Jones, principal of the Sanders school, is recuperating from an operation for this malady during the week. Other cases of this disease are reported through this paper almost daily.

James, small son of J. T. Trigg, 1919 13th street, is very ill, suffering with his heart.

Cars from other states are seen frequently on the streets of this city, even though the tourist season has not yet opened. As evidence that one vehicle has traveled far this year was a light touring car, heavily laden with baggage, which passed through yesterday bearing California's 1928 license.

H. H. Jens, local sign painter, has been ordered to report to the police department of Santa Barbara, California, all because he advertises in the Morning Avalanche. But in case you become too excited, the order to report came from his old friend, S. T. Hall, formerly of Lubbock, who as a resident of Santa Barbara is connected with the police department. Mr. Hall saw Mr. Jens' ad in the Morning Avalanche and remembering their friendship has invited the latter to visit him this summer.

APPEAL IS SETTLED
AUSTIN, Feb. 24 (AP)—The Cotton Belt railroad's appeal from judgment awarding about $2,000 damages to Mrs. Lillie Allen, Grayson county, for the death of O. D. Allen in a crossing accident and about $4,000 to an indemnity company for workman's compensation insurance carried on him, has been settled out of court, with costs taxed against the railroad. An agreed settlement was filed Friday in the Supreme court.

More State Aid Is Promised To County Schools

Inspector Eilers Reports That Rural School Funds Will Be Greater In 1928 Than Ever Before.

Lubbock County rural schools will receive more money from the state this year than they ever have, according to a report received here by County Superintendent W. M. Pevehouse which stated that $1,453 had been allotted from the state funds for the 22 schools of the county. Not only is the allotment the greatest ever received by the schools here but the average per district is greater and according to Superintendent Pevehouse is the second highest in the state.

The average per district is $520.50 Mr. Pevehouse said.

Eilers Makes Report
The report came from W. M. Eilers, state inspector, who spent some eight days here recently making a personal visit to each school in the county with various local men. He stated in his letter to Mr. Pevehouse that the county schools were outstanding in several ways, especially in that each has an excellent teacher, buildings and organization. He commended the bus and girls club work. He also made special mention of the collective purchase of school supplies for the entire county.

The greatest amount of school aid received here in the past has been $9,645 in 1924-25.

DAILY MARKETS

WALL STREET REPORT
NEW YORK, Feb. 24. (AP)—Railroad shares showed fairly consistent strength throughout today's market. Industrial shares were erratic, reflecting in reflection of the play of opposing speculative forces. Net gains in rails ran from 1 to 4 points. Standard industrials showed little change but several of the industrial specialties ran up 3 to nearly 10 points and a number showed losses of 3 to 7 points. Trading was only moderate in volume, the day's sales falling slightly below 1,800,000 shares.

The unexpectedly large reduction of $91,000,000 in brokers' loans brought only a temporary flurry of buying at the outset of the market. Selling pressure was quickly renewed against International Nickel and some of the other vulnerable pool favorites with the result that the general market was headed downward before the end of the first half hour.

Rail Market Steadied
Heavy buying of the rails just before midday, based on unconfirmed reports that eastern railroad executives had reached an agreement whereby L. P. Love would abandon his proposed fifth trunk line system and transfer the control of the Washington to one of the other eastern trunk lines, steadied the market and started a fresh buying movement. "Bear" traders nevertheless sought out weak spots among the specialties while pools continued to mark up others with the outside public apparently showing signs of a disposition to unload on the rallies than to buy on the declines.

Call money held steady at the renewal rate of 4-1/4 per cent despite the calling of about $25,000,000 in bank loans during the day. Other monetary accommodations were unchanged. Shipment of $2,500,000 gold to Argentina was announced by New York bankers.

Price Movement Little Influenced
There was little in the day's business news to influence the price movement. The weekly mercantile reviews continued to report irregularities with no change of importance. Bethlehem Steel raised its price on heavy steel products, meeting the earlier advances of subsidiaries of the U. S. Steel corporation and Midwestern Independent U. S. Steel common continued to drag, closing 1-1/2 net lower at 137 1/2.

General Motors moved within a range of 2 points, closing fractionally higher at 136. International Nickel opened at 77, advanced to 77 3/4, broke to a new low at 75 3/4 and rallied to 78 1/4, off 1-1/2 net. U. S. Rubber common and first preferred sank to new low levels at 45 3/4 and 52 1/4 respectively, in reflection of speculative fears for the safety of the preferred dividend.

Foreign exchanges were slightly reactionary, with sterling cables again below $4.50.

N. O. COTTON ADVANCES
NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 24. (AP)—An advance of nearly $2.50 a bale followed heavy buying in the cotton market today which was prompted by better Liverpool cables, prompt shipment of March cottons both here and in New York and favorable spot advices. March contracts traded up to 18 1/2, closing at that figure or 48 points up.

The general market closed steady at net advances of 34 to 48 points. Liverpool cables were 5 to 10 penny points better than due and early trades here brought May contracts to 18 1/2 and July 18 1/2, 12 to 15 points above the previous close. Reports of the circulation of notices for 180,000 bales of March cotton New York was responsible for a recession of 6 to 7 points from the top.

Further reports stating that the notices in the northern market were being promptly stopped strengthened the local market and prices started on the upgrade, being helped materially in that direction by

PORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

Trading in the cattle division of the livestock market here today was a slow affair. Steers were dull with prices ranging from $9.50 to $10.50. Cows sold up to $8.00. Bulls sold from $6.00 to $7.50. Slaughter calves were steady to strong with prices downward from around $11.00.

The hog trade was active with prices strong to 10c higher. The day's top was $7.85. The bulk of receipts sold from $7.00 to $7.50. Packing sows and pigs held steady with sows moving at $6.50 to $6.75. Good pigs sold from $6.00 to $6.50.

The sheep market was mostly a nominal affair with a few woolled feeder lambs selling at $14.00.

COTTONSEED OIL ACTIVE

NEW YORK, Feb. 24. (AP)—The cottonseed oil market was active and steadier today, closing 2 to 10 points higher owing to less insistent liquidation of March and scattered commission house support in response to the steadiness of hard cotton and crude oil. Sales 53,000 barrels. Prime crude 7.75, prime summer yellow spot 9.00; March closed 9.85; May 9.40; July 9.20; August 9.35; September 10.00.

N. Y. COTTON GAINS

NEW YORK, Feb. 24. (AP)—Cotton prices moved up $1.50 to $2.30 a bale today on favorable trade reports and the stopping of the first March notices estimated at about 160,000 bales. Prices for all active positions made the new high ground for the movement. May contracts selling up to 18.00, or 41 points above yesterday's closing quotation and 160 points above the low level touched on the decline at the beginning of the month. May closed at 18.00, the general market closing at net advances of 31 to 48 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 11 points to a decline of 1 point, with most months higher, owing to the firm showing of Liverpool reports of an advance in the market for Egyptian cotton at Alexandria, and overnight reports of a steady spot situation in the south.

There was heavy liquidation of March contracts, incident to the circulation of the notices, but trade interest was active, buyers of March against sales of later deliveries at a difference of about 23 to 25 points between March and May.

Offerings Taper Off
Offerings tapered off as soon as the first rush of March liquidation subsided, and after a comparatively quiet period during midday, the market firmed up on trade buying and covering.

March sold up to 18.48 and October to 18.48, net advances of 34 to 47 points and after selling about 18 points under May early in the day, March closed at a discount of only 18 points. Last prices were within 2 to 3 points of the best.

Exports today 23,000, making 5,131,280 so far this season. Port receipts 13,796. U. S. port stocks 2,142,036.

DUN'S MAKES REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 24. (AP)—Dun's tomorrow will say:

No change for the decided unevenness of commercial conditions was either expected or witnessed during the present short week. Reports from individual trades still reveal sharply varying features, an expansion in some branches contrasting with hesitation in other quarters, and irregularities in commodity prices continuing marked. The holiday naturally reduced the volume of transactions, but the forward trend in some of the principal lines, which has been the most encouraging phase this year, was maintained and in certain cases moderately extended. Recent gains in the steel industry, reflecting the closing needs of automobile makers and some other manufacturing interests, have been fully held, while some divisions of textiles have experienced a distinct upturn. Such favorable tendencies as exist, however, are qualified by the greater emphasis placed upon the labor situation, which being focused more closely on evidences of unemployment.

Weekly bank clearings $2,967,702, an increase of 2.8 per cent over last year.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO, Feb. 24. (AP)—(United States Department of Agriculture)—Cattle: 2,000; steer trade steady to easy, hardly enough in fresh receipts to make market; light offerings very dull at 11.00 to 12.00; best fed steers 14.85; few loads 12.25 to 13.65; best light heifers 11.50; cow market dull; bulls steady; vealers strong to 25 higher, mostly 14.50; to 15.50; outsiders 16.00 to 17.00.

Hogs: 28,000; closed active strong general trade 19 to 18 higher than yesterday's average; top 8.30; 170 to 210 pound weights 8.10 to 8.25; 220 to 250 pounds 7.85 to 8.15; 260 to 300 pounds 7.75 to 7.95; 300 pound averages upward to 8.00; pigs 6.25 to 6.75.

Sheep: 7,000; scarcely enough on sale to test values; fat lambs active, fully 25 higher; choice 92 to 98 pound weight 15.75 to 16.00. Sheep strong to 15 higher; choice fat ewes 9.40 to 9.85.

CHICAGO WHEAT UP

CHICAGO, Feb. 24. (AP)—Crop damage reports from a wide extent of domestic winter wheat territory led to a brisk advance in wheat values today after an early dip. Buying here on a broad scale was further stimulated as a result of advices that export houses and mills were active purchasers of wheat at Winnipeg.

Closing quotations on wheat were firm, 1-3/4 to 1c net higher, with corn at 1-1/2 to 1-3/4 decline, oats unchanged to 1-3/4 up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 15c. Corn rallied temporarily with wheat, but averaged lower as a result of fine weather for corn movement. Oats fluctuated with corn. Provisions reflected upturn in hog values and in cotton.

MORE SPACE

A mirror, placed to catch the light from another room, will do much to increase the sense of space in a small hall. Horizontal lines on a light background for a wall treatment helps too.

March sold up to 18.48 and October to 18.48, net advances of 34 to 47 points and after selling about 18 points under May early in the day, March closed at a discount of only 18 points. Last prices were within 2 to 3 points of the best.

Exports today 23,000, making 5,131,280 so far this season. Port receipts 13,796. U. S. port stocks 2,142,036.

THE "CANARY" MURDER CASE

STORY THIS FAR
Odell, a little while before, and had been answered by a man's voice. Cleaver nodded slowly. "I can't see any particular point in denying it. Yes, that's the reason." "What did this man say to you?" "Damn little. He said hello, and when I asked to speak to Miss Odell, he informed me she wasn't in, and hung up."

"That I think, explains Jesus's report of the latest phone call to the Odell apartment at twenty minutes to twelve."

"Probably," Markham spoke without interest. He was intent on Cleaver's account of what happened later, and he took up the interrogation at the point where Vance had interrupted.

"You say you listened at the apartment door. What caused you to refrain from ringing?" "I heard a man's voice inside," Markham straightened up. "A man's voice? You're sure?" "That's what I said. Cleaver was matter of fact about it. 'A man's voice. Otherwise I'd have rung the bell.'"

"Could you identify the voice?" "Hardly. It was very indistinct, and it sounded a little hoarse. It wasn't any one's voice I was familiar with, but I'd be inclined to say it was the same one that answered me over the phone."

"Could you make out anything that was said?" "I don't know," Markham said slowly. "I didn't think anything of them at the time. But after reading the papers the next day, those words came back to me."

"What were the words?" Markham cut in impatiently. "Well, as near as I could make out, they were: 'Oh, my God. Oh, my God! God!—repeated two or three times.'"

This statement seemed to bring a sense of horror into the dreary old office—a horror all the more potent because of the casual, phlegmatic way in which Cleaver repeated that cry of anguish. After a brief pause, Markham asked:

"When you heard this man's voice, what did you do?" "I walked softly back down the rear hall and went out again through the side door. Then I went home."

A short silence ensued. Cleaver's testimony had been in the nature of a surprise, but it fitted perfectly with Mannix's statement. Presently Vance lifted himself out of the depths of his chair.

"I say, Mr. Cleaver, what were you doing between twenty minutes to twelve—when you phoned Miss Odell—and five minutes to twelve—when you entered the side door of her apartment-house?"

"I was riding up-town in the Subway from 23rd street," came the answer, after a short pause. "Strange—very strange," Vance inspected the tip of his cigarette. "Then you couldn't possibly have phoned to any one during that fifteen minutes—eh, what?"

I suddenly remembered Alys La Fosse's statement that Cleaver had telephoned to her on Monday night for a minute. I thought, by his question, had, without realizing it, wanted to ring up alone."

my interrupting, Mr. Mannix interposed Vance. "But you think some one else telephoned Vance," he telephoned to Miss Odell."

St. Moritz? Guess Again!

Maybe you think this is St. Moritz, Montreal or some other popular winter sports resort. If you do, you're another guess coming. It's Atlantic City, usually pictured in summer sun, with countless bathers on the beach and hordes of promenaders strolling along the boardwalk.

vealing his own knowledge, created a state of uncertainty in the other's mind. Afraid to commit himself too emphatically, Cleaver resorted to evasion.

"It's possible, is it not, that I could have phoned some one after leaving the Subway at 12nd street, and before I walked the block to Miss Odell's house?"

"Oh, quite," murmured Vance. "Still, looking at it mathematically, if you phoned Miss Odell at twenty minutes to twelve, and then entered the Subway rode to 72nd street, walked a block to 71st, went into the building, listened at her door, and departed at five minutes to twelve—making the total time consumed only fifteen minutes—you'd scarcely have sufficient leeway to stop en route and phone to any one."

"However, I shan't press the point. But I'd really like to know what you did between eleven o'clock and twenty minutes to twelve, when you phoned to Miss Odell."

Cleaver studied Vance intently for a minute.

"To tell you the truth, I was upset that night. I knew Miss Odell was out with another man—she'd broken an appointment with me—and I walked the streets for an hour or more, fuming and fretting."

"Walked the streets?" Vance frowned.

"That's what I said," Cleaver

MILK MEN MEET

Two Day Short Course On At San Angelo

SAN ANGELO, Feb. 24.—Dairymen and milk dealers from many portions of West Texas were in San Angelo Thursday for opening of a two-day short course, conducted under auspices of the dairy division of the board of city development, the city health department, the state department of health and the Texas Association of Sanitarians.

"Instead of importing dairy products valued at $55,000,000 each year, Texas, instead, should be shipping $150,000,000 in dairy products out of the state," said Dr. C. E. Smith of Montgomery, Ala., of the U. S. Public Health service. He pointed out that the Standard Milk ordinance, once in actual use, was strongly backed by the dairymen, but that it could be of little service to the community when the citizens did not cooperate.

"The time has come my dear sir, for you to tell us when and where you met Doctor Lindquist while roaming the streets Monday night. If you don't, you're wrong, I'll come pretty close to doing it for you."

A full minute passed before Cleaver spoke; and during that time his cold staring eyes never moved from the district attorney's face.

"I've already told those of the story; so here's the rest."

He gave a soft mirthless laugh, and during that time his cold staring eyes never moved from the district attorney's face.

"Then I walked round the corner to the Ansonia Hotel. After ten minutes or so I telephoned Miss Odell, and, as I said, a man answered. I waited another ten minutes and phoned a friend of Miss Odell's, hoping to arrange a party; but failing, I walked back to the house."

"The doctor had disappeared, and I went down the alleyway and in the side door. After listening a minute, as I told you, and hearing a man's voice. That's everything."

St. Moritz? Guess Again!

Maybe you think this is St. Moritz, Montreal or some other popular winter sports resort. If you do, you're another guess coming. It's Atlantic City, usually pictured in summer sun, with countless bathers on the beach and hordes of promenaders strolling along the boardwalk.

vealing his own knowledge, created a state of uncertainty in the other's mind. Afraid to commit himself too emphatically, Cleaver resorted to evasion.

"It's possible, is it not, that I could have phoned some one after leaving the Subway at 12nd street, and before I walked the block to Miss Odell's house?"

"Oh, quite," murmured Vance. "Still, looking at it mathematically, if you phoned Miss Odell at twenty minutes to twelve, and then entered the Subway rode to 72nd street, walked a block to 71st, went into the building, listened at her door, and departed at five minutes to twelve—making the total time consumed only fifteen minutes—you'd scarcely have sufficient leeway to stop en route and phone to any one."

"However, I shan't press the point. But I'd really like to know what you did between eleven o'clock and twenty minutes to twelve, when you phoned to Miss Odell."

Cleaver studied Vance intently for a minute.

"To tell you the truth, I was upset that night. I knew Miss Odell was out with another man—she'd broken an appointment with me—and I walked the streets for an hour or more, fuming and fretting."

"Walked the streets?" Vance frowned.

"That's what I said," Cleaver

MILK MEN MEET

Two Day Short Course On At San Angelo

SAN ANGELO, Feb. 24.—Dairymen and milk dealers from many portions of West Texas were in San Angelo Thursday for opening of a two-day short course, conducted under auspices of the dairy division of the board of city development, the city health department, the state department of health and the Texas Association of Sanitarians.

"Instead of importing dairy products valued at $55,000,000 each year, Texas, instead, should be shipping $150,000,000 in dairy products out of the state," said Dr. C. E. Smith of Montgomery, Ala., of the U. S. Public Health service. He pointed out that the Standard Milk ordinance, once in actual use, was strongly backed by the dairymen, but that it could be of little service to the community when the citizens did not cooperate.
