Winter Aims New Punch At State Today

By The Associated Press

Winter pointed a new and coldly threatening punch at Texas Friday.

In advance of the fresh norther, fog enveloped many areas in the eastern half of the state before dawn. It descended on the heels of mostly light rain from the upper Texas coast into Central Texas Thursday.

As much as 2.36 inches of rain drenched the Houston area, and it was blamed for auto accidents claiming two lives. Water filled numerous streets and underpasses. Passersby saved a small boy about to be swept into a storm sewer.

Light drizzle continued in parts of the rain belt early Friday.

Damp fog hovered around Laredo, Cotulla, Corpus Christi, Palacios, Galveston, Houston, Beaumont, College Station, San Antonio, Austin, Lufkin, Waco, Longview, Tyler and Mineral Wells.

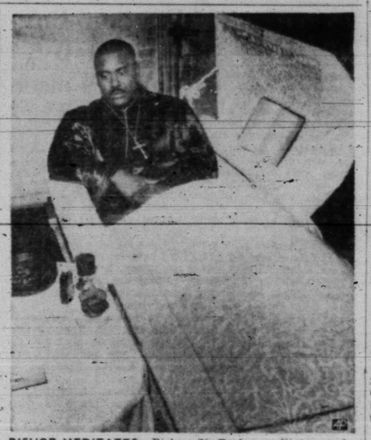

Skies were clear over much of Northwest Texas, where the mercury again dipped below freezing, and at least partly cloudy in other sections of the state.

The Weather Bureau predicted near cold wave conditions by Saturday in all northern areas of the state. Frigid air was due in the Panhandle during the day. North Texas by evening and expected to spread over the rest of Texas by Saturday.

A few snow flurries were expected in the Panhandle-Plains sector during the night and Saturday. Northeast Texas was promised continuing drizzle Friday evening and Southeast and South Central Texas were due scattered showers Saturday, largely along the coast.

New long range forecasts called for the wintry chill to moderate by the middle of next week.

Temperatures early Friday ranged from a frosty 13 degrees at Dalhart up to 57 at Brownsville.

Krush Policy Is Attacked

By TOM OCHILTREE

BERLIN (AP)—Jeering, shouting Communists halted a speech by Red Chinese delegate Wu Hsiu-chuan at the East German party congress today after Wu made a veiled attack on Soviet Premier Khrushchev's coexistence policies. Wu was shouted down after 30 minutes.

Khrushchev was not present to hear Wu assail "revisionists of the Tito clique"—the Chinese Communist way of criticizing Soviet leadership.

Snubbing the Red Chinese, Khrushchev spent the morning at an East Berlin television factory.

Throughout, Wu's speech the 2,500 delegates and guests from 70 Communists parties stamped their feet, shouted and whistled to show their disapproval.

This performance clearly underlined the control Khrushchev has exerted over the European Communist parties in support of his line that communism must be spread by means short of all-out war.

Khrushchev also generated a political storm in the Western half of the divided city with his invitation to Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin to visit him in East Berlin.

Brandt turned down the invitation "with great regret" under pressure from the Christian Democrats, junior partners with his Socialists in the coalition government of West Berlin.

In the campaign for next month's election of a city parliament, Brandt is expected to argue that the Christian Democrats forced him to forego a chance to make it easier for West Berliners to visit relatives and friends in East Berlin.

The Christian Democrats argued that such a visit would lend weight to the Communist proposal for a free city of West Berlin—an idea rejected by the West.

At the East Berlin party congress, the Chinese delegate was rebuked by Paul Verner, first secretary of the East Berlin Communist party, and chairman at today's session, rebuked the frozen-faced Chinese delegate for assailing fraternal Communist parties and guest delegates.

Such attacks, Verner said, are incompatible with relations which should exist between Marxist-Leninist parties.

He told Wu to stop such tactics.

Several times Wu was stopped by shouts of "Phui"—a favorite German jeer.

But he struggled on until the end of half an hour, then he stopped, with his words hardly heard. Only a few delegates clapped as he finished.

Since the opening of the party congress on Tuesday, Wu has had to listen to marathon speeches highlighted by attacks on his country's attitude on how communism should be spread.

The session this morning was his first opportunity to defend Mao Tse-tung and his policies.

Wu went through the motions of supporting the general line of Communist policy on Germany and Berlin. He said his government supports the demand for conclusion of a German peace treaty and a solution of the West Berlin problem.

He read a letter of greeting from the Red Chinese party's Central Committee and party to the congress. They wished East Germany even greater successes in building socialism.

Then he turned to the Yugoslavs, branded as Red heretics in Stalin's time but now accepted back into the fold by the Soviets. This is the first congress of the European Red bloc which the Yugoslavs have attended as full participants since the Stalin-Tito break in 1948.

Daily Oil Flow For February Increased

AUSTIN (AP) — The Railroad Commission ordered Texas oil wells held to a 29 per cent capacity of production in February, an increase of 171,647 barrels daily over this month.

The 29 per cent order for February represented the highest allowable requested by the 13 major oil producers and purchasers at the commission's statewide oil proration hearing today.

The lowest request made by two companies was for 25 per cent which would have meant a drop in February production of 37,215 barrels daily.

The order will allow an estimated daily production for February of 2,574,856 barrels.

The order today, under the new percentage system started by the commission last month, represents a slight increase over the 8-day pattern that was ordered for 11 straight months last year. An 8-day order under the old system would have amounted to an increase of 28.5 per cent or 143,039 barrels.

Arlene Walker, representing the Texas Landowners and Independent Producers Association, repeated that group's monthly request that major companies reduce their oil imports to a level which would permit the equivalent of 12-14 producing days for producing wells.

William Byrd, for Corpus Christi proffiocrs, repeated his group's statements that "there is a point beyond which Texas productions should not be cut and that point is eight days or its equivalent."

Nominations included:

For 25 per cent—Cities Service, 81,000 barrels daily; Phillips, 121,000.

For 26 per cent—Indiana, 235,000; Mobil, 224,600; Shell, 160,100; Sinclair, 102,400; Continental, 26,500.

For 27 per cent—Atlantic Refining, 80,800; Standard of Texas, 34,900.

For 28.5 per cent—Sun, 108,284.

For 29 per cent—Texaco, 147,000; Humble, 416,370; Gulf, 220,500.

Commission Chairman Ben Ramsey asked the companies to have their presidents or their representatives to attend the March proration hearing, at which the outlook for the next year will be discussed.

Early Bill Backs Connally Program

AUSTIN (AP)—Two state representatives introduced another top priority item in Gov. John Connally's legislative program Thursday.

The item, a bill to create a committee for studying Texas college education, bore a prized No. 1 tag to assure early consideration.

First of Connally's recommendations to get House consideration, and tentative approval, was a $217,772 emergency appropriations bill.

The measure could come up for a final vote Monday. It provides $50,000 to start work of the college education study committee; $85,772 to enlarge Connally's staff and $82,000 for the attorney general to continue a slant-hole oil well probe.

Reps. David Crews of Conroe and Gene Fondren of Taylor introduced the college study bill and gave it Fondren's bill number —No. 1. Low numbers usually assure early consideration. Crews predicted committee action next week.

The measure was one of many introduced in both chambers.

House and Senate adjourned yesterday until 11 a.m. Monday, but most House members planned to stay near the Capitol at least until tonight.

House rules give members until 6 p.m. today to claim the bill numbers they drew earlier in the week. After 6 p.m., House members are free to introduce any bills.

One lawmaker planned to submit eight bills tonight. Many others will equal or better that figure.

The proposed education study committee, strongly recommended in Connally's address to the legislature Wednesday, would be a 25-man panel.

The group would project education needs for the next 10 years, assay present and potential resources of the state and private institutions, and propose a plan for educational programs "to seize and capitalize upon the opportunities for progress in the next decade."

Crews said if the committee is to meet a reporting deadline of Aug. 31, 1964, set by Connally, "it must be created with dispatch."

Among more than 20 measures introduced Thursday were several to elevate junior colleges at Edinburg, San Antonio, San Angelo, Laredo and, Odessa to four-year, state-supported colleges.

Other bills would regulate small loans, abolish the poll tax and establish a voter registration system, revise the sales tax, set up machinery for constitutional revision, forbid race discrimination by state or local government and set up a civil rights division in the attorney general's office, allow the federal government to establish a national seashore area on Padre Island, govern procedures for firing college professors, increase minimum limits of the safety responsibility law, and create a bureau of labor and occupational safety code.

Truman Has Operation

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman underwent surgery for a hernia today.

A spokesman for Research Hospital described the surgery as "a routine operation for hernia repair."

The rupture was reported on the right side of the abdomen. Truman, 78, went into surgery shortly before 8 a.m. and was taken to the recovery room at 9:55 a.m.

The hospital said there were no complications in connection with the operation and that the former president was in a satisfactory condition.

Truman was expected to remain in the recovery room until 3 p.m.

Mrs. Truman arrived at the hospital early this morning and waited in the president's room during the operation.

Although there were no previous reports about the former president having a hernia, physicians said they had known about it.

Panel Meet Time Changed

The time for the meeting of the historical survey committee tomorrow afternoon has been changed from 4 o'clock to 3 o'clock.

County Judge Sterling Taylor, in announcing the time change, said he felt that it would be more convenient for the committee members at the earlier hour.

Scurry County is joining most of the other 253 Texas counties which are also having meetings of their historical survey committees Saturday. The day has been proclaimed by Gov. John Connally as Texas Historical Preservation Day.

The committee will elect officers and plan the year's work.

Tshombe Pledges To Pave Way For Unity

By DENNIS NEELD

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, the Congo (AP)—Katanga President Moise Tshombe is scheduled to return to Kolwezi Saturday to lay 20 percent destruction of the industrial installations there and pave the way for peaceful entry of U.N. forces by Monday.

The mercurial Katanga president, who for 30 months has blocked plans to reunify the Congo, promised to cooperate with the U.N. Thursday night after a four-hour talk with U.N. officials here.

Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula said in a speech at Leopoldville "It is not the first time that Tshombe has declared himself ready to renounce his ambitions to found an independent state." U.N. troops were reported already moving toward the Tshilombe River about 20 miles from Kolwezi, ready for the signal to move into the vital mining industrial area 150 miles northwest of Elisabethville.

Tshombe said he would order his gendarmes in Kolwezi not to resist U.N. troops and to dismantle the explosives they had planted in the refining plants of the Union Miniere Company, along the big hydroelectric dam and under bridges.

The Katangan leader told newsmen earlier all orders to blow up Kolwezi installations had been suspended. His scorched-earth threat had prevented U.N. forces from marching on the mining center.

The United Nations in turn agreed to protect the Katanga gendarmes and not treat them as prisoners of war. They will be permitted to keep their uniforms and Tshombe will be allowed a personal bodyguard of gendarmerie.

The Tshombe-U.N. agreement, as announced over Katanga Radio, specified that:

Tshombe will take all necessary measures to insure that U.N. entry "shall take place peacefully with the cooperation of all concerned, including the gendarmerie and local authorities."

The United Nations will complete its peaceful entry into Kolwezi by Jan. 21.

Kennedy To Visit Bonn

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is planning to visit West Germany as well as Italy when he goes to Europe later this year, if was learned today.

Informants said the President will include Bonn, the West German capital, in his trip, which will very likely take place in the spring or summer.

This means, the President will hold talks with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and other West German leaders.

The White House disclosed Wednesday that the President will visit Italy during 1963. Press secretary Pierre Salinger said the date would be determined later.

Ferry Sinks; 80-100 Lost

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—A coastal ferry with an estimated 80 to 100 Koreans aboard capsized in a gale off Korea's southwest coast today. One man was reported rescued.

National police said the ferry, the 34-ton Yun-bo, went down while making the 15-mile run from the port of Hainam to Mokpo and that nine bodies were recovered.

The police said all aboard were headed for Cheju Island after leaving from Mokpo by the Seoul Shipping and Sun Kwang Co. It had not been rescued from the stormy sea.

Police said the ferry apparently was hit by sudden gales around noon and sank quickly about four miles southwest of Mokpo, which is 200 miles south of Seoul.

Jolted Missile Regains Course

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Jolted off course by a simulated blast from hurricane force winds, a Pershing artillery missile righted itself and flew to its target, 200 miles away.

The Army said the missile was tilted off course deliberately just after launching Thursday night and its guidance system snapped it back on its proper course. The Pershing scored its 38th success in 45 test launchings.

Budget Cuts Almost Certain

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — If the 88th Congress follows the course of its predecessors, it will sharply cut President Kennedy's requests for new appropriations this year —and restore many of the reductions next year.

Congress has been doing this for years.

Last year, for example, it trimmed about $4.4 billion from new appropriations requests and its members didn't overlook that fact in their campaigns for re-election what they probably didn't mention was that in 1962 Congress voted more than $500 million in so-called supplemental appropriations, most of its restoring cuts made a year earlier.

Every Congress usually passes several supplemental or deficiency money bills. Not all of the money involved restores cuts made previously, but a large amount of it does. As new programs are developed, or when unexpected breakthroughs occur in scientific and military research programs, extra money is needed in a hurry and Congress usually provides it quickly in the form of supplementals.

Hardly a year goes by that Congress doesn't cut a budget and at the same time give back some of the money it withheld the year before.

The cutting is heaviest in election years and the restoration of cuts consequently is largest in years following elections.

A study of appropriations records for the past five fiscal years shows that total reductions claimed by Congress aggregated about $12?9 billion, while the amount of money appropriated in supplemental and deficiency bills totaled close to $20 billion.

Congress trimmed the fiscal 1962 budget by $4.9 billion, but voted $1.5 billion in supplemental funds for the same year. It cut $211 million from 1961 appropriation requests and approved $2.6 billion in supplemental money for that period. The 1960 reduction was $1.9 billion, the 1959 slash added up to $617 million and the 1958 cut to $4 billion, while supplementals for those three years were $1.9 billion, $6.4 billion and $6.7 billion respectively.

The cost of pay raises and emergency defense requirements, none of which could be foreseen at the time the original money measures were considered, accounted for a sizable part of the supplementals.

Claimed reductions don't always tell an accurate story. For example, the President may ask for $5 billion for a specific program and Congress will appropriate only $4 billion, an actual cut of $1 billion. But the President may come back later in the year and ask that the $1 billion be stored and Congress may approve $500 million, another reduction of $500 million. The program for which $5 billion originally was requested winds up with $4.5 billion, an actual cut of $500 million, but on the congressional books the cut was $1.5 billion.

That kind of bookkeeping makes all parties involved happy. Congress gets credit for heavy budget-cutting and the federal agencies involved get most of the money they requested in the first place.

Report Progress In Strike Talks

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., chairman of the presidential board seeking to settle the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts dock strike, says he is still very optimistic after the board's first day of mediation.

Morse also told newsmen Thursday night:

"I think there has been progress in that the issues have been clarified to the satisfaction of the board and the board has made suggestions."

Morse had said earlier: "What we offer to the parties is their last opportunity to settle their dispute before the President reports to Congress."

President Kennedy, who appointed the three-man mediation board Wednesday, asked Morse to report back to him no later than next Monday. Kennedy said the strike of 80,000 dockers—now in its 27th day—was doing intolerable injury to the national welfare."

Morse's board is empowered to bring about a strike settlement through mediation, or to recommend a settlement formula. If the board's efforts fail, the President is expected to put the deadlock up to Congress. This would raise the possibility of speedy passage of legislation to end the strike which has tied up shipping in ports from Maine to Texas.

After separate meetings with both sides Thursday, Morse recessed the talks overnight.

He said the board would hold separate meetings today with representatives of the striking AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) and the New York Shipping Association, which represents 145 shipping and stevedoring companies.

Nike-X Designed To Destroy Enemy Hydrogen Warheads

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new Nike-X antimissile system, mentioned tersely in President Kennedy's budget message, would give the United States a one-two punch to hurl at oncoming enemy hydrogen warheads.

The Nike-Zeus, under development for more than six years, is designed to intercept hostile missile warheads beyond the atmosphere. The very much faster Nike-X would destroy such warheads penetrating inside the atmosphere, relatively close to the ground.

Since the Nike-X still is in the drawing board stage, it appears likely this new orientation in Pentagon thinking on missile defense will delay any combat-ready system until the latter part of this decade, if not longer.

Kennedy asked Congress for $325 million to push development of the Nike-Zeus, which already has intercepted three target warheads in tests over the Pacific, and to start work on the advanced system.

The President also requested $100 million for other unspecified antimissile research projects related to the Zeus.

The message provided no amplification, but defense officials said the mysterious sounding Nike-X would complement the Zeus which they said has been radically redesigned and greatly improved in many respects.

Nike-X was described by those officials as a late generation of the Nike-Zeus, with vastly improved radar and guidance, missile and better electronic components. They said it would substantially increase the effectiveness of the Zeus system.

Top defense officials, who have been skeptical that the Zeus would be equal to the job envisioned for it, are not yet ready to turn optimistic. They said it remains to be seen whether the improvements and the meshing in of the Nike-X would justify starting production.

The Army is restricted in what it can say about the Nike-X project, but from competent sources it was learned the experts are thinking of arraying a mixture of Zeus and Nike-X rockets in missile defense batteries.

The Zeus already is one of this country's fastest rockets, developing 450,000 pounds of thrust in its first stage. The Nike-X rocket, called Sprint, is even faster.

The Zeus is designed to meet enemy missiles above 100 miles out on the downward curve of their long parabolic journey. Some critics have questioned whether its radar could discriminate between decoys and actual warheads. They also have indicated doubt that it could cope with a saturation attack by many enemy ICBMs.

The Nike-X, because of its great speed, could streak to the attack after the enemy warhead enters the atmosphere. This, its backers say, would simplify the intercept because decoy devices would be expected to burn up in atmospheric friction, leaving the warhead nose cone a clear target.

The close-in Nike-X missile also might be effective in destroying any enemy warheads that slipped past the Zeus.

Both the Zeus and the Nike-X would destroy enemy warheads with nuclear blasts. Since the Zeus intercept would come outside the atmosphere, engineers say the danger of fallout or debris harming the earth below would be virtually nil.

The prospect of a Nike-X intercept within the atmosphere is bound to raise questions about its possible harmful effects to people below.

Advocates of the Nike-X reply that the missile killer would use such a relatively small nuclear warhead that the resulting dangers would be negligible. And they contend the enemy warhead would be demolished without being detonated.

There have been suggestions that the Nike-X would be used as added protection for missile bases and command and control centers already deep underground and encased in reinforced concrete.

Thus, the Nike-X might shield such sites from mammoth warheads like the monster which the Soviet Union claims can unleash the explosive equivalent of 100 million tons of TNT — a force which the present magnitude of below-ground protection might not be able to withstand otherwise.

Cold Moves Into Midwest Regions

By The Associated Press

A snowstorm and subzero cold swept into Montana and across northern Midwest regions today, duplicating the severe weather pattern of a week ago.

The fresh surge of arctic air came after only a brief respite from nearly a week of frigid weather in most of the Midwest.

Blizzard conditions hit areas in Montana. Strong northerly winds intensified the cold and caused much drifting of snow in some sections.

The blowing snow halted traffic on highways in parts of western and southeastern Montana. Amounts measured a half-foot in western mountain sections.

Temperatures which climbed barely above zero in nearly a week in some northern Midwest areas dropped sharply as the new mass of icy air swept across the Dakotas into Minnesota and northern Nebraska.

Much colder weather was in prospect for much of the midcontinent, with the zero zone extending from the northern Rockies southeastward into northern Texas and eastward across the upper Great Lakes and Mississippi Valley.

The mercury dropped nearly 15 degrees in a few hours in International Falls, Minn., as the arctic air fanned across the Canadian border. It reached nearly 30 below zero. Readings were near 20 below in much of North Dakota while subzero cold covered most of Montana.

Blowing snow created hazardous driving conditions in western Nebraska and South Dakota and northwest across Montana. Snow also fell in most of Upper Michigan and Wisconsin southward across extreme northern Illinois and northeastern Iowa.

Only other cold area was northern Maine, with temperatures near zero.

Drizzle, rain and fog dampened and shrouded areas from southeastern Texas eastward across the Gulf coastal states and into Georgia and the Carolinas. Thunderstorms rumbled across southwestern Louisiana.

Fog and drizzle also hit coastal sections of the Far West.

Temperatures in most of the Far West were near normal but they were a little below normal in sections of the Southwest. A week of unseasonable cold has caused millions of dollars damage to citrus and vegetable crops in California. Agricultural authorities said the losses will be the heaviest since 1948.

Polk Probe Continuing

LIVINGSTON (AP) — The Polk County grand jury, investigating alleged irregularities in county operations, was expected to hear more witnesses today.

Dist. Atty. Sam Freas said the investigation will be "thorough and lengthy." He said he planned to call 30 or 40 witnesses.

"I'm sure the current grand jury investigation will last into next week," Freas said.

Livingston automobile dealer Garnet Galloway made his fourth appearance before the grand jurors Thursday, taking along his company records.

Galloway returned in the afternoon to testify for an hour and a half, and then was recalled once more later in the day. He first appeared Wednesday.

Two Texas Rangers are on hand at the grand jury hearings. They are Sgt. Pete Rogers of Houston and Mart Jones of Huntsville.

"I appreciate the help the Rangers have given us," Freas said.

Another witness Thursday was Leonard Hodges, one of the owners of another auto firm here. He carried into the grand jury room what appeared to newsmen to be some of the books and ledgers of the company.

Ship Channel Is Closed By Blaze

HOUSTON (AP)— A fire on the water caused by a leaky gas pipeline closed the Houston Ship Channel to traffic for a time Thursday.

The break was in a 24-inch pipe that forms part of the main transmission system of the Florida Gas Transmission Co. It carries natural gas from McAllen to Miami.

A Coast Guard spokesman said it was not known what caused the break in the pipe nor the fire.

The fire was put out by closing valves on both sides of the channel.

Ships Collide In Marseille Harbor

MARSEILLE, France (AP) — The American liner Exeter and the French freighter Josephine Georges collided just outside Marseille harbor today. No one was hurt.

The 5,313-ton Exeter, carrying 72 passengers and a crew of 121, was slightly damaged and was expected to continue its voyage to Genoa after 24 hours.

The Josephine Georges, with a crew of 29, was more seriously damaged in the bow. Repairs were expected to take about two weeks.

Houston Boy Rescued By Three Women

HOUSTON (AP) — Three women, their strength stretched to its limit, pulled a little boy from death in a rain-swollen storm sewer Thursday.

"I didn't do much," said Mrs. Mary Valmont, a maid, who got there first and found Johnny Petronella, 6, inches from death —buried up to his chin in the swirling water.

"I owe my son's life to a woman I have never met," said Johnny's mother, Mrs. Ben Petronella.

Johnny was trapped in the underground sewer in the side of a street curb.

"The water was knee-deep in the streets, and Johnny, returning from school, misjudged the distance to the curb," Mrs. Petronella said. "He slipped and fell into the sewer."

Mrs. Valmont, 51, working in a nearby home, heard his cries. "Save me. Help me."

She grabbed his hands and kept his head above water. She could not pull him out—the water's suction was too much.

Seconds later Mrs. J. O. Ware, 56, also heard Johnny's cries and helped Mrs. Valmont hold the boy. Moments later, an unidentified motorist, known only as Mrs. White, joined the rescue. The women overpowered the swirling water.

The sewer would have carried Johnny about 150 feet underground into Willow Waterhole Bayou.

"He was very frightened," Mrs. Petronella said. "Mommie," he said, "I was afraid I wasn't going to get out and ever come home."

Reds Refuel At Veracruz

VERACRUZ, Mex. (AP) — Observers report Veracruz now is the main refueling port for Russian ships operating in the Gulf of Mexico.

Several smaller vessels put in here often for food and other items as well. Most of them are described as fishing boats.

The "Ochotsk" and "Oleniy" were here this week and one took aboard 25,000 cans of condensed milk aboard. An officer said the milk was for the crew. Another source said it presumably was for Cuban use because no crew could consume that much.

The vessels try to stay as long as they legally can in Veracruz, the port captain said, but usually are ordered to leave as soon as their cargoes have been loaded.

One official said the crew members do not look like fishermen. He suggested they may be technicians or investigators studying the tropics. No Mexicans are allowed on board while the Soviet ships are in port.

Youths Held In Burglaries

Two Snyder youths were taken into custody about 1 o'clock this morning in a cooperative effort of the Snyder city police and the sheriff's department.

The boys, both minors, are being held in connection with an investigation of a number of petty thefts and burglaries which have occurred over a period of several months.

Officers said this morning that they expected the investigation to clear a number of cases in Scurry and Borden Counties and in the city of Snyder.

Two Children Die In Traffic Mishaps

HOUSTON (AP)—Two children were killed in traffic accidents Thursday as more than two inches of rain fell during the day.

Charles Hollis, 15, died in a two-car crash at an intersection in nearby Pasadena. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Hollis of Deer Park.

Cynthia Barker, 8, was struck and killed by a car in Houston. She was the daughter of Mrs. Bernice Newman of Houston.

Johnny Petronella, 6, was rescued from a sewer opening as the rain flooded many streets. He was saved by three women who heard him screaming for help after he slipped in the rushing water.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a 14-year-old son. I have just discovered that he has been smoking. Should I punish him or should I just ignore it and let him smoke? Some say to give him permission to smoke in front of us and the fascination of it will wear off. What do you say?

WEST TEXAS

DEAR WEST TEXAS: Tell the boy about the effects of tobacco and ask him not to smoke until he is 21 as a favor to himself and a gesture of respect for his parents' love and wisdom. If he will meet you halfway, he may forego smoking all his life. Here's hoping.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: You will save my life if you put in your column what a "D" means on a report card. I got a "D" and my father took all my privileges until next report card time. I tried to tell him that a "D" was a passing mark but he wouldn't believe me. Do teachers grade different, Abby? Please answer right away.

PRISONER

DEAR "PRISONER": When some teachers give a "D" it indicates that the student barely passed — but he DID pass. Other teachers will give a "D" even though the work is not actually passing, but she knows the student tried. Have your father call your teacher to find out what YOUR "D" meant or you are D-E-A-D.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Nine years ago my husband's mother moved in with us and we can't get rid of her. She has a job and pays us $10 a week, but her food and laundry cost more than that. My husband took out an insurance policy for her with my husband as beneficiary. We pay the premiums. Well, she borrowed $400 on it and the insurance people tell us if we don't pay it back, when she dies there won't be enough to bury her. When we asked her to pay it back she said, "I don't care what you do with me after I die. Dig a hole in the back yard and throw me in!" When we threaten to put her out, she says she'll quit her job, go to court and force us to support her. Can she do this?

AT A LOSS

DEAR AT: In some states the adult children are forced by law to support indigent parents. If you are truly concerned, better ask your lawyer.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Do you think a woman should keep a kosher kitchen for her husband?

BESSIE

DEAR BESSIE: Not unless he's Jewish.

Condition Of Beaten Child Still Critical

FORT WORTH (AP)—A baby girl still was in critical condition today after a severe beating Wednesday night left her near death.

Diana Secrest, 23 months, was treated for two skull fractures, a broken elbow, broken ribs, a dislocated shoulder and bruises over most of her body.

She is improving, a hospital spokesman said. We are still carrying her on the critical list because of the nature of her injuries.

Charles Rumsey, 22, the child's uncle, admitted beating the child repeatedly in an attempt to toilet train her.

Police said charges of assault to murder will be filed against Rumsey today.

Police said they have received more than 20 telephone calls from persons asking about adopting the little blonde.

Rumsey said attempts to train the girl included stomping the floor, yelling at her, spanking her with his hands and with a webbed belt, and "thumping" her on the head.

Once, he admitted, he poured four quarts of cold water on her head.

He told police and reporters that similar methods he used in trying to housebreak a dog resulted in the animal's death in December.

He described his methods as "a battle of wills" between himself and the baby.

Bourguiba Says Algeria Aided Plot

TUNIS (AP)—President Habib Bourguiba charged today that the recent plot against his life had help from neighboring Algeria. He said the Tunisian ambassador to Algiers will be recalled.

Bourguiba told a crowd of more than 200,000 that Tunisia's frontiers with Algeria will be severely controlled.

He said his government is ready to "resume our relations (with Algeria) but mutual respect and sincerity should be established."

Bourguiba asserted that some members of the Algerian government had a hand in the reported conspiracy and blamed the policies of Premier Ahmed Ben Bella.

"Not all members of the Algerian government were involved," Bourguiba said. "Most of them criticize the policy of Ben Bella toward us.

"It is surprising and paradoxical to see Algeria—as soon as it became independe t, thanks to the aid given by Tunisia—become a residence for the 'criminals and plotters against the government of Tunisia.'"

The crowd, massed outside the capital's sprawling native quarter, roared "Ya hya Bourguiba" (Long live Bourguiba) as the president ended his speech.

It was Bourguiba's triumphant return to the capital after a month's absence in Le Kef near the Algerian frontier.

How A Hostess Can Help Herself

If you're giving a party, start your preparations early enough so that you will be ready and smiling when your guests arrive. A flustered hostess can't enjoy her own party.

Here are some ideas to help you give a good party with a minimum of wear and tear on you:

—Have you planned a place for your guests to put their coats? If not, you will want to rent a rack.

—Your bathroom should be spotlessly clean and supplied with plenty of fresh towels, soap and tissues.

—Soft background music from your radio or phonograph will help create a relaxing atmosphere.

—See that the lights are soft and strategically arranged, chairs are grouped for comfortable conversations, and cigarettes and matches are in evidence with plenty of big ashtrays. If you have a fireplace, there's nothing like a glowing fire to add charm to a room.

No matter how well you know your guests, make the extra effort to make them feel welcome. Don't take it for granted that everyone knows one another. Be sure to introduce everyone unless you are certain your guests all are close friends.

Remember that you set the whole climate of your party. If you're relaxed and pleasant and having a good time, chances are that everyone else will, too.

WOMEN

What To Do For "Winter" Skin

Winter skin is an unfortunate but common effect of our comfortable indoor living. Artificial heat often dehydrates the skin so it becomes papery to the touch and the surface looks parched as well. The skin becomes taut when you wash it with soap and water and makeup goes on spottily. The flaky appearance is most noticeable when you apply powder.

If this sounds like a description of your skin, have courage—there is a cure. Try a soothing, lubricating mask. Cleanse the skin first, then stroke on night cream lavishly. Now, hold a very hot washcloth close to your face. The steam will warm the cream and help it to penetrate the fine top layers of skin. Repeat the process, keeping the washcloth steamy hot, for five minutes. Then gently remove most of the cream with tissues, leaving on a fine film as a base for foundation and makeup.

After a week of "facials," you should notice a definite improvement in your skin's appearance.

Sugar cookie dough is sometimes used as the base for cheese cake.

Likeness Of Washington On Five-Cent Stamp Rather Sad

BY INEZ ROBB

Until a fortnight ago I would have taken oath that the Father of His Country was still first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his fellow citizens.

But, surely, only an enemy could have produced that so-called likeness of George Washington on the nation's new five-cent stamps! With all due reverence, the face on the stamp is that of a stranger whose lower plate doesn't fit and whose wig has just come off second best in a bout with the village beautician.

And, in the second place, the color of the stamp — neither blue nor gray — imparts the ghastly pallor of death to a visage in which rigor mortis already seems to have set in. The whole effect of the stamp is that of an unfortunate joke perpetrated by Charles Addams.

The face on the five-cent stamp was "adapted" from a bust of the first President by the famous French contemporary sculptor, Jean Antoine Houdon. He came to America with Benjamin Franklin, whom he had met in Paris while the latter was representing the rebellious colonies.

Houdon stayed at Mount Vernon in 1785 while making studies for his famous statue of Washington which is in the capitol at Richmond, Va. As Houdon is still regarded as one of the greatest portrait sculptors who ever lived, his likenesses of Washington must bear the same authentic stamp as the canvases of Gilbert Stuart.

Whether the "adoption" from the Houdon bust at Richmond is not as skillful as it should be, or whether the unfortunate engraving and color of the stamp are to blame, the face that looks up from the new five-cent stamp is not familiar. The more I look at it the more I am convinced that the lifeless, steel-engraving quality of the stamp stems from its steely color.

The Father of His Country looks a lot livelier and more like himself in the green 4-cent stamp that so many citizens are now wedding to the purple Lincoln four-center, left over from the dear, departed days when four cents would pay first-class postage on a letter.

That Lincoln stamp, by the way, is an excellent portrait of the 16th President. That is, we recognize it instantly as a likeness of Lincoln, whereas the wooden face that appears on the new five-cent stamp so far departs from the popular concept of George Washington that it seems more strange, unidentified man whom the Post office Department has arbitrarily chosen to honor.

The Lincoln we see on the four-cent stamp is so familiar that the postal department was under no necessity to identify him as it did with the single word, "Lincoln," engraved on the stamp. On the other hand, the department would have done well to engrave "Washington" on its five-center instead of refusing to identify the strange man. Indeed, it is a break with tradition to omit the name of the person whom the stamp honors.

To get right down to cases, the best Washington stamp ever printed was the old red two-centstamp that once carried a letter any place in these United States. Those stamps are but a memory now. But, if you have a friend who collects stamps, ask him to let you see his album with the old two-centers featuring a George Washington familiar to us all.

When I was a child the Washington two-cent stamp was as fixed in the postal orbit as the stars in the heavens. The Father of His Country looked up from every first-class envelope. His face was as familiar as those of one's parents.

Since then the cost of first-class postage has risen so steadily that no stamp-use had the chance or the time to imprint itself on the public mind in the way that the Washington two-center did. Today, when first-class postage is a sometime thing, it seems odd to remember an era when a two-cent stamp was fixed and immutable.

By the way, what has happened to all the postal critics who were for hanging and quartering the department because of its first attempt at a Christmas stamp? Surely, those vocal art critics, who couldn't abide the Yuletide stamp, can't like the new five-cent stamp! The five-center may get a letter from coast to coast, but it is an affront to art and to the first President. Aren't there any dead cats and brickbats left over from Christmas?

Some Things We Could Do Without

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Some things we could all do without:

People who claim every year they've seen the first robin of spring; rubber-the-gum folks, who are already mailing out their 1964 Christmas cards. Pedestrian "walk" signs that turn red just as you reach the middle of the street.

Office fuss-budgets with pigeon-hole minds whose thoughts are always flying the coop. Secretaries who wear inch-deep mascara in the middle of the day. Secretaries who wear purple lipstick. Office straw bosses who think that if an employe keeps a neat desk he will automatically go to heaven.

Bus drivers who start and stop their vehicles as if they were polo ponies. Guys who grab your seat when you get up to give it to a little old lady. All one-way streets that go north when you want to go south.

Apartment house neighbors collecting for charitable causes who ring your doorbell just as you finally get the kid to bed. People at cocktail parties who insist on telling you why JFK is doing a great job. People at cocktail parties who insist on telling you why JFK is doing a lousy job.

Poker players who always have to quit the game and go home and care for an ailing wife as soon as they are $15 ahead. Anybody who draws two cards and winds up with four-of-a-kind while you're sitting pat with a full house. Pseudo-intellectuals who think you're a mental midget just because you won't let them teach you how to play chess.

Unsuccessful authors who write unsuccessful books telling other unsuccessful people how they can win success in a 10 easy lessons. Any novel about the Civil War with a cover picturing a big-bosomed heroine. Any Broadway play in which more than half the characters act the way they do because of an unresolved childhood neurosis.

Comedians who make $50,000 a year up by telling what stinkers the other members of their family are. Television performers who make $100,000 a year showing us home movies of their last trip to Zulu-land.

Bartenders who give a fellow advice instead of approval. Hosts who call out cheerily, "Say when!"—as they start pouring your drink a drop at a time. Any kind of a party at which you have to play games, wear a paper hat, or blow a horn. Any party on a week night that doesn't break up by 11 p.m.

Men who stand on their heads at the beach. Middle-aged lady bathers who wear bikinis—and pretty young girls who don't. Anybody at any age who throws an orange peel into the ocean.

Apartment house doormen who expect two bits for helping an able-bodied man out of a cab. Cheapskates who think they're doing you a favor by borrowing your cigarettes because the fewer you smoke yourself the less likely you are to get "smoker's cough." Anybody who holds on to your coat lapels while telling you a funny story.

LONDON (AP)—Some improvement in the condition of British Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell was reported today after treatment with an artificial kidney.

However, the bulletin said Gaitskell's heart was showing signs of weakness, and he was still "dangerously ill."

Junior Editors Quiz on CHINCHILLAS

QUESTION: Why is a chinchilla so valuable?

ANSWER: The chinchilla is an attractive, gentle little animal resembling a squirrel, to which it is related. It lives in the snowcapped mountains of Peru, Bolivia and Chile in South America. The chinchilla's fur is one of the most beautiful in the animal world—it is remarkably thick, about an inch deep, in color it is blue gray, with an exquisite sheen. The extreme softness of chinchilla fur is caused by the very large number of hairs growing from a single root, up to 80. The animal was named "chinchilla" by the Spanish conquerors after the Chincha Indians. The fur was sent to Europe and soon was in such demand that the little animal nearly became extinct. An American, M. F. Chapman, trapped some chinchillas in 1923 and brought them to this country, where chinchilla ranches soon sprang up. It turned out these animals were easy to raise. At first, the ranches sold pairs of chinchillas mostly for breeding purposes, but now the pelts are beginning to come into the market. A pelt might be worth from $15 to $50 or more. A full length coat may require 150 pelts.

FOR YOU TO DO: We suggest you copy the chinchilla in the lower right of our picture and put behind him a wild background of rocks and bushes. In the distance place some snow-capped mountains. Then wash a very light blue grey color over the chinchilla.

Tigers Uncap District Play

They start counting in District 3-AAA tonight when a full round of opening conference activity sees Snyder at San Angelo, Lake View, Sweetwater at Lamesa and Colorado City at Brownfield.

Tipoff time for the Snyder-Lake View clash is 8 o'clock, while the B teams from the two schools will get together at 6:15 for a preliminary tussle.

Snyder's Tigers, after having been dealt five losses in a row, will carry a 5-9 record into combat. The Lake View Chiefs, on the other hand, have been prospering and sport a 10-6 mark for the non-district campaign. The Chiefs, along with Lamesa, rank as the only two 3-AAA members with winning records as district play gets underway.

Tiger Coach Ned Underwood has indicated that he plans to go, along with a starting lineup composed of 6-0 Stuart Long and 5-8 Leslie Brown at guards, 6-1 Jackie Stewart and 5-11 Jim Marcum at forwards, and 6-2 William Robinson at center.

Long and Robinson, the only two seniors gracing the starting unit, are also the team's leading point-makers with 196 and 135, respectively. Robinson leads the way in rebounding.

Lake View's mentor, Don Abbott, has announced as his starters 6-0 Roy Probst, 6-0 Jessie Blann and 5-9 Pat Stewart at guards, Mac Hallman and 6-3½ Perry Brasher at the tandem post.

Probst presently leads the Chiefs in scoring with 147 points, while Blann and Stewart are both pressing him for honors with 143 apiece. Brasher has established himself as the club's top rebounding ace.

Following tonight's flurry of action, the Tigers will be returning to the home court confines Tuesday to do battle with Lamesa.

Between You And Me

BY JERRY JACKSON

The first and—alas!—last thought coming to mind on the occasion of weighing in Lacy Boles' Golden Gloves boxers Wednesday night was: Is this really happening to me?

Lacy Boles. . .Promoter. Entrepreneur. Soldier. Statesman. Philanthropist. Champion of the Masses. Teller of Tall Tales.

Admittedly, I had heard stories about weighing-in ceremonies, but had discounted them as being grossly exaggerated sequences. Fistic flotsam, so to speak.

This one had all the earmarks of the real thing, tho, so much so that it could verily have stepped out of the pages of a Ring Lardner novel and been regarded as prime stuff.

The problem centered around the fact that a couple of his boys weighed a couple of pounds too much. Due to that fact, the weighing-in took about 30 minutes longer than it would have otherwise while the boys tended to various honing-down remedies.

Let's just say that the Boys' Club was a beehive of activity from 6 until 7:30 that night. Boles cracked the verbal whip while the boys in question went through their paces. On with the sweatshirts, and don't come back until you've reduced, see?

Jump the rope. Run up and down the hall. Punch the punching bag. Okay, son, back on the scales. Still too much. Hop in the shower. I showered before I came down here. Thass awright, shower again!

It worked better than Mr. Stauffer's System, too. It was a night, my friends, to be remembered.

Blues Blast Whites; Grays Tumble Reds

Lamar Gray handed across-the-hall rival Lamar Red its first defeat of the season, 23-19, and Travis Blue enjoyed its biggest scoring spree of the year in knocking off Travis White 32-16 here yesterday to spark 7th grade play of the day.

Everything clicked for the Blues en route to their triumph, as they held the Whites scoreless throughout the first half. Quarterly scores in the game totaled 14-0, 21-0, and 34-10.

Ken Pollard scorched the strings for 12 points to lead his mates home, while Jerry Smedley was high for the losers with 8.

Don Malone dropped in 12 points in leading the Grays to their victory. Mickey Almond sparked the Reds with a total of 7.

The winners jumped out to an early lead and maintained it, posting quarterly bulges of 7-2, 10-5, and 17-10. The Red attack was held to only one field goal throughout the first half of play.

Travis Blue (32)—Rodriguez 2-2-6, Noble 1-1-3, Luurell 3-0-6, Tarbet 4-0-12, Rieke 2-1-5. Totals 17-4-32.

Travis White (16)—Smedley 3-2-8, Hadaway 1-2-4, Ramage 2-0-4. Totals 7-2-16.

Clamp Placed On Karras' Mouthpiece

NEW YORK (AP)—Alex Karras, star tackle of the Detroit Lions, had his foot pulled out of his mouth, and a gag slapped in it, today.

Karras, who blurted out on a television show Wednesday that he had bet on games—without explaining that he meant he bet "a pack of cigarettes or a couple of cigars"—spent two long question and answer sessions with National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle here Thursday.

Karras emerged glum and tight-lipped, and flew back to Detroit, where he said: "I'm under strict orders not to do any more talking."

The NFL had no comment, either. Rozelle has said he will have a statement on the current investigation of betting rumors when it is completed.

A new name popped into the picture late Thursday, with a report in the Miami (Fla.) Herald that Carroll Rosenbloom, the owner of the Baltimore Colts, has been questioned about betting on his own team, and denied it.

The Herald said Rosenbloom's lawyer, Jerome Doyle, confirmed in New York that the owner had been questioned.

Karras came to New York to discuss his television show remarks, which stirred up the betting probe all over again. With him was teammate Wayne Walker, who got off with a 10-minute lecture from the NFL commissioner.

Rozelle could let Karras off with the stern lecture, which clearly shook up the big star, or slap him with a fine, a suspension or even throw him out of the league.

The annual Intramural Boxing Championship Tournament is scheduled tonight at 7 o'clock at the Scurry County Boys' Club when 25 bouts will be staged within the club's four-poster.

Plans call for the session to last two hours, and the action promises to be intense during that span of time. Matches in various weight classes are on tap, and the bouts will be run concurrently. In other words, when two fighters are taking their between-rounds rest, two other boxers will be going at it, thus eliminating time lapses during the night's program.

The public is invited to witness the evening's fistics. Admission price are 25 cents for Boys' Club members and children; 50 cents for students, one dollar for adults, and $1.50 for reserved seats.

The sequence of matches as they will appear on the card is as follows:

Yogi Named Playing Coach

By The Associated Press

Yogi Berra, who has led everyone to believe he reads nothing weightier than the Katzenjammer Kids, has canceled his comic book subscription and accepted membership on the New York Yankees' board of strategy.

Mr. Lawrence Berra, a Yankee since 1946, was officially given his new assignment Thursday when General Manager Roy Mahey announced that the likable catcher-outfielder will be playing coach with the world champions during the 1963 season.

"Yogi will coach at first base when he isn't playing," Mahey said, "but I want to emphasize that he is still a player. I think he can play about 75 games next season."

Berra, who will be 38 in May, hit .224 in 86 games during the 1962 baseball season, has a lifetime batting mark of .284 and 350 homers—a record 305 as a catcher. The guess was Yogi's 1963 contract called for a salary in the neighborhood of $45,000.

Yogi, readily admitting he did not know the exact nature of his new duties, emphasized that "I'm ready to do anything (Manager) Ralph (Houk) wants. The only thing he told me for sure is that he still wants me to play. That's okay with me. I'll play as long as they think I can."

Two other sluggers signed their contracts Thursday. Hank Aaron —45 homers and 128 runs batted in with Milwaukee, and Leon Wagner—37 homers and 107 RBI —with the Los Angeles Angels.

Ciney Finds Combination

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

It took 7 years, 31 minutes and 27 seconds, but Cincinnati finally found a way to beat Bradley at Peoria, Ill.

The top-ranked Bearcats simply put a cap on the Bradley basket, holding the Braves scoreless from the field over the final 8 minutes and 33 seconds Thursday night and extended their winning streak to 32 games with a 52-46 triumph.

The victory ended a five-year period of frustration for the Bearcats, who had been unable to win a basketball game in the Braves' lecpee since the 1956-57 season and haven't been beaten anywhere since a 70-68 overtime loss at Peoria, Jan. 10, last year.

In the only other major games on a light college basketball program, fourth-ranked Arizona State brought its record to 15-1 with a 59-47 Western Athletic Conference triumph over New Mexico, Wyoming whipped Arizona 84-72 in another WAC game, Georgia ripped Florida State 90-76 and Syracuse defeated Colgate 65-57.

But the big show was at Peoria, where a standing room only crowd of about 8,000 jammed Robertson Field House and watched a see-saw struggle between the two Missouri Valley Conference teams until Lavern Tart's basket gave Bradley a 44-41 tie after 31:27 had ticked off the clock.

The basket closed.

Two field goals by Tom Thacker, one by George Wilson and a pair of foul shots gave Cincinnati the points it needed for the victory, an unblemished 4-0 MVC record, a 14-0 mark this season and the sweet taste of revenge.

Ron Bonham and Thacker each scored 18 points for Cincinnati, which hit on 22 of 42 field goal attempts while holding Bradley to 19 of 61. Mack Herndon and Tart scored 12 and 11 points, respectively, for the Braves, now 10-4 over-all and 2-2 in the conference.

Georgia, beaten twice by Florida State this season, turned the tables on the shooting of John Mathews, who scored 23 points in his first varsity start. Sophomores Billy Rado and Jimmy Pitts contributed 24 and 20 points, respectively, to the Bulldogs' point total while Charlie Long paced the Seminoles with 18.

Local Boxers Sparkle In Odessa Meet

ODESSA—Scurry County Boys' Club boxers punched and jabbed their way to an impressive string of first-night victories here Thursday night as the 17th annual regional Golden Gloves Tournament was touched off in the Ector County Coliseum.

Results of matches involving Scurry fighters all ending in decisions—were:

Eloy Benitez (75) over Raymond Modisett (73), Crane, junior division.

Freddy Benitez (99) over Rosendo Olguin (97), Monahans, junior division.

Vince Gaona (136) over Joe Romero (131), Guadalupe Community Center of Midland, novice division.

Lester Scott (174), Monahans, over John Gonzales (173), open division.

Scheduled bouts involving two other Snyder boxers ended in default. Rudy Benitez advanced in the junior division due to Odessa Boys' Club's Junior Jordan's failure to pass the required pre-fight physical and Jerry Swaney of Monahans got the nod over Snyder's Ruben Gonzales in a scheduled open division welterweight scrap due to Gonzales' being unable to make the trip.

Scurry boxers paired off tonight include:

Rudy Benitez (100) vs. Julio Acosta (97), Monahans, junior 4th bout.

Freddy Benitez (99) vs. Luis Carranco (101), Monahans, junior 9th bout.

Louis Molina (148) vs. B. B. Morris (147), Monahans, novice 11th bout.

Other Snyder boxers scheduled for Saturday or Monday action are Martin Benitez (119), Adam Romero (127), Abe Gonzales (161), Robert Garcia (113), and Andres Trevino (127), all of whom have not appeared on the program as yet, and the four Thursday night victors in second-rounders.

Lamar 8th Wins, 31-24

FLUVANNA—Rob Golden and Robert Jones unleashed a one-two scoring punch here Thursday afternoon to lead Snyder's Lamar 8th Texans to a 31-24 cage triumph over Fluvanna Junior High.

Golden meshed 11 points and Jones 10 to pace the winning effort. Billy Noel ranked as the big gun for Fluvanna with 15 to snare scoring honors for the contest.

The score was tied at 9-9 at the end of the first period and Fluvanna edged out to a 15-14 halftime advantage before the Texans came back to go ahead by 23-19 at conclusion of third quarter fighting.

Free throws played a big part in earning Lamar the victory, its tenth in 12 starts. The Texans connected on 11 of 13 for a stinging 85 per cent, while Fluvanna managed only 2 of 8.

Lamar 8th — Rodgers 2-0-4, Jones 4-2-10, Sinclair 0-1-1, Bowden 2-1-5, Golden 4-3-11. Totals 10-11-31.

Fluvanna — Contreras 2-0-4, Noel 7-1-15, Hall 1-1-3. Totals 11-2-24.

Boros Leader In Crosby Clambake

By P. D. ELDRED
Associated Press Sports Writer

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Former U.S. Open Champion Julius Boros defended a two-stroke lead going into the second round of Bing Crosby's national Pro-Amateur golf tourney today while a batch of "name" stars struggled to shoot themselves into contention.

Tournament favorites like the great Arnold Palmer and South Africa's determined little Gary Player ran into quick trouble and found themselves trailing the tournament-wise 42-year-old, Mid-Pines, N.C., veteran who came in with a 6-under-par 66 to set the pace.

Seven birdies in the last 10 holes did the trick for Boros over rolling Monterey Peninsula Country Club, which some rate as slightly less difficult than Pebble Beach and Cypress Point—the other two courses used in this 22nd playing of Bing's show.

The weather was clear and slightly breezy for the opening round.

Bunnched in second place with 68s behind Boros were long-hitting Paul Harney, George Bayer and slender 24-year-old Dave Hill, whose putter was hot in his first round over the windy Cypress Point course.

A stroke behind at 69 came ex-Marine Phil Rodgers and Gene Bone.

All-time money winner Palmer, although three under at one stage over Cypress Point, could finish no better than 70, where he found himself bunched with Bob Duden, Bruce Crampton, Wes Ellis, Mike Souchak, Billy Maxwell and Bob Goetz.

Player, 3-under midway on the front nine at Cypress, started missing putts and finished with a 73.

Big Jack Nicklaus, the current U.S. Open champion, also was 3-under-par at one time, but frittered most of it away to finish with a 71.

In all the world no monument is more famous than Bartholdi's Statue of Liberty. Standing on an isle in New York harbor, it is the symbol of a nation that enjoys the ultimate in political and religious freedom. It is our American landmark.

Since 1886, the towering statue has been the first welcoming beacon for countless thousands coming to these shores to find a better life . . . The life of Liberty, of Freedom, the American way. The inscription on its base carries a potent message of promise as significant as the monument itself:

"Give me your tired, your poor,
Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free.
The wretched refuse of your teeming shore.
Send these, the homeless, the tempest-tost, to me:
I lift my lamp beside the golden door."

Then, if we have in the past, may we never again take Liberty for granted . . . it wears a price tag.

HE THAT DWELLETH in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

2. I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him will I trust.

3. Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence.

4. He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

5. Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night; nor for the arrow that flieth by day;

6. Nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness; nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday.

7. A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee.

8. Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.

BECAUSE THOU hast made the Lord, which is my refuge, even the most High, thy habitation;

10. There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.

11. For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.

12. They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

13. Thou shalt tread upon the lion and adder: the young lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under feet.

14. Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him on high, because he hath known my name.

15. He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honour him.

16. With long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.
