Voters Return Incumbents To Office

Voters in Aransas County and in Rockport's Ward one indicated their approval of the performances of their navigation district representatives and city alderman Charlie Garrett as they returned all the incumbent candidates to office in Saturday's elections.

All five incumbent directors on the Navigation Board were returned to office, for the most part by sizeable margins. The Ward One voters in Rockport returned Garrett to office by an almost two to one margin.

In the Navigation Board elections, unopposed at-large candidate David Maguglin, chairman of the Navigation Board, was confirmed to his post by receiving 377 votes, compared to eight write-in votes for seven candidates. Those receiving write-ins were Joe Hugenberg, Bill Walston, Jim Fisher, John A. Anderson, Danny Cox, Frank De La Rosa (2 votes), and Don Huff.

Precinct One and One A director Jimmy Anders was also unopposed in the election, and he was returned to office with 79 votes. One write-in in that precinct was given to LeRoy Gonzales.

In the other unopposed Navigation Board race, Hal McKnight of Precint Four and Four A was returned to office with 41 votes. There were no write-ins in that precinct.

Incumbents R.W. "Bobby" Landrum and Richard J. Fox ran into some opposition in the elections. Fox, the Precinct Two candidate, was opposed by Basil L. Giles and Ronny Barker. Fox collected 134 votes, Giles took 13 votes, and Barker received 62 votes.

Landrum, the Precinct Three representative, was opposed by Otis Rouquette. Landrum received 216 votes, compared to Rouquette's 127 votes.

Statistics confirmed at the canvassing meeting of the Navigation Board on Monday indicated that 1058 votes had been cast in the countywide election. Approximately 6900 voters are registered in the county, making the voter participation about 15 percent.

In the Rockport Ward One elections, a special election which was called to settle the disputed election held last spring, incumbent councilman Charlie Garrett was returned to office with 158 votes. Joe "Pepe" Zambrano, who had apparently defeated Garrett in the earlier election, received 84 votes.

The April results were nullified by 156th District Court Judge Rachel Littlejohn after the Garrett force contested the vote and it was found the ballot stubs could not be properly matched.

A special affidavit was presented to the Ward One voters Saturday which provided the city with information concerning the voter's residence. One reason for the affidavit was to avoid the confusion in the April elections which was apparently the result of several ballots cast by non-residents of Ward One. The affidavit will also be used by the city as a method of certifying the street numbering system.

Fulton Dredging Plans Approved

Findings at a public meeting between the Corps of Engineers and the Aransas County Navigation District Number One last week indicate that the schedule for the Fulton Harbor dredging project is running on time and the actual dredging process could get underway in a matter of weeks.

The navigation board also heard that the schedule for the Rockport turning basin dredging project has received a favorable response from the Corps.

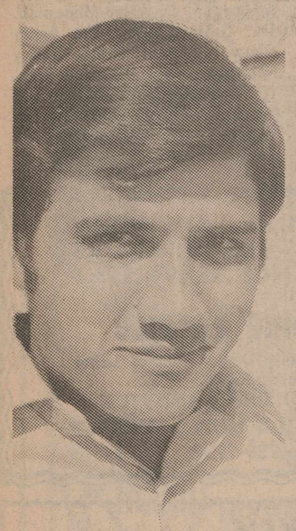

"Provided there is no protest, we could move right along," said Hal McKnight, board director from Precinct Four and vice chairman of the board.

McKnight was referring to protests which must be filed to the Corps of Engineers in the next month to insure the fact that there is no public opposition to the Rockport dredging project. In the case of protest during the time period, the Corps would be required to review its validity, a process that could take a considerable length of time.

The Corps will advertise for bids on the Fulton project 30 days from the meetng date, August 12, and will continue advertising for the following 30 days. At the end of that time, the Corps will examine the bids.

If everything goes without a catch, the dredging project at Fulton Harbor could get underway in as little as two months,

Countywide Sewer Funds Asked

Representatives from a member of state and federal organizations convened at the county courthouse on Tuesday, August 15, to conduct a public hearing with the Aransas County Conservation and Reclaimation District concerning methods of obtaining funds for a countywide sewer system.

The basic conclusions brought out by the meeting was that Aransas County, particularly Live Oak Peninsula, will be in need of an updated sewage system because of the rapid growth presently being experienced, and expected in the near future; the county will most likely be the government body which will make the application for the sewage system, and a preliminary rundown on the estimated costs of installing such a system will have to be

Hospital Board Offered Two Operation Plans

At the Friday meeting of the Aransas County Hospital Volunteers' Association, the board members heard two different plans for the operation and management of the emergency facility recently funded by the Sid Richardson Foundation.

Warren and Associates, represented by Dr. Jim Benedict and James L. Pulley, presented a three-fold program for the proposed building. The San Antonio based operation would lease the building and equipment from the ACHVI and would provide physicians for the staff and provide a management service.

The plan as envisioned by Warren and Associates would be emergency coverage for the off-hour periods of nights and weekends. "We do not intend to compete with the local physicians," Dr. Benedict states, "but rather intend to supply the medical needs of the area when family doctors are not available." Dr. Benedict went on to explain that he thought the Rockport area also needed service for vacationers and transients who do not have doctors.

Warren and Associates feel that their plan would be best for the community because of their expertise in hospital and clinic management.

The board also heard from Mr. Douglas Grace of the National Health Search, a California organization that recruits and places physicians in permanent practices. The firm contracts with a city to find a doctor on a fee scale and will guarantee the doctor to stay six months.

The board took both reports under advisement and asked the representatives for further facts and figures.

In other business, the board took the following action:

Local Illegal Shrimp Crackdown Toughest

Local Parks and Wildlife Department law enforcement officials were kept busy during the recent closed Gulf shrimp season, and their patrol efforts in the Corpus Christi region, which includes the Rockport-Fulton-Aransas Pass vicinity, resulted in the filing of over 100 cases for illegal shrimping.

The 45-day closed season, from June 1 until July 15, is maintained so that immature brown shrimp may be permitted to migrate from the bays into the Gulf of Mexico. A ten-mile offshore restriction is in force during the closed season.

But in the local region, 90 boats were caught fishing within the off limits areas. The local arrests were all but 32 of the

Letters To The Editor

Dear Mr. Carter:

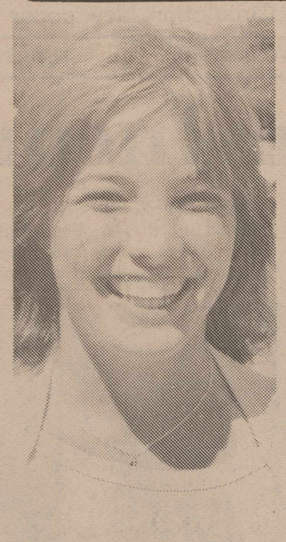

The Aransas County Chapter of the American Heart Association wishes to thank you for your gracious cooperation and the great display ad that you donated to promote our golf tournament.

There is no doubt that the ad created the interest that made the tournament a financial success for our community.

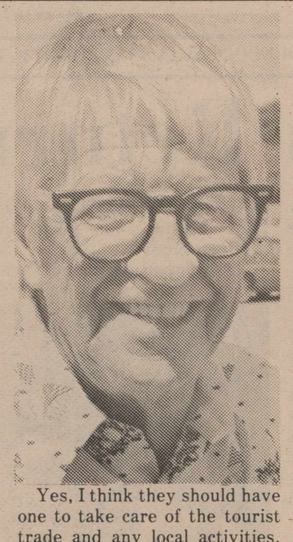

Sincerely yours,

You Tell Us

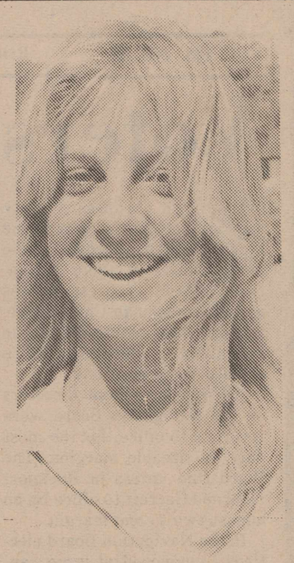

Does Rockport Need A Convention Center?

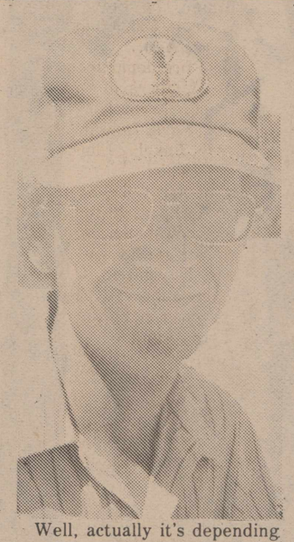

I think so. There's not enough to do in Rockport, they need places for the people to go. They need it for entertainment and assemblies. SHELLEY PEELER.

Yes, I think they should have one to take care of the tourist trade and any local activities. Rockport needs to make things more available to the winter and summer people because that's where we get our money. That's our big income, I think. BEV TAYLOR.

I think so. It could sponsor dances for the kids, a place to hold fund-raising campaigns and fashion shows. JULIE HAUSMANN.

Well, actually it's depending on what group of people you're aiming it at. They could have some kind of small coliseum that could be rented out, but I don't think a convention center would go. D.D. SMITHEY.

Yes, I do. With the tourist trade that we have here we need some form of facility to promote our tourism. BILLYE COOKE.

Fulton Plans

but the Corps and members of the Navigation Board noted at the meeting that the two months' period would be ideal and hard to meet.

One reason for a short delay may be found in the fact, pointed out by Corps District Engineer Colonel Jon C. Vanden Bosch, that dredging companies all along the coast are booked up, and it could be a while before one could schedule in the project. Vanden Bosch indicated that the Corps would want a bid from a company which could begin the dredging operations within 60 days of the bid's acceptance.

The final environmental statement on maintenance dredging of the Fulton shallow-draft channel and turning basin has been completed by the Corps of Engineers in Galveston and filed with the Council on Environmental Quality in Washington, D.C., according to a Corps press release.

The environmental statement was prepared as required by federal act, prior to the start of maintenance dredging of the channel which is used by both commercial and recreational craft.

It has been reviewed by interested federal, state and local governmental agencies, conservation and environmental groups and others.

The 8-foot channel is 100 feet wide and 2,000 feet long, while the turning basin is 200 feet wide, 1,400 feet long and also has an 8-foot depth.

While maintaining the carrying capacity of the channel and turning basin for efficient movement of both commercial and recreational navigation, the maintenance dredging will remove or distrub bottom dwelling organisms according to the release. Turbidity will be increased temporarily in the area of the dredge and in the disposal area, the statement said.

The project originally was dredged with local funds, and federal maintenance dredging has not been performed. However, periodic maintenance dredging is required to prevent restriction of navigation.

The statement has been reviewed as required by the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, and guidelines of the Council on Environmental Quality.

Single copies of the statement may be obtained by writing to the Environmental Resources Branch, U.S. Army Engineer District, Galveston, P.O. Box 1229, Galveston, Texas 77553.

After the Fulton Harbor project is complete, the Corps will begin similar preparations for the maintenance of the Rockport channel and turning basin.

The Rockport project will hopefully run about four to six months behind the Fulton project, but the navigation district is not worried about funding of the Rockport dredging, as the monies have already been appropriated.

A final Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) study of the Rockport project is about seven to eight months away at the present time, following a recommendation by the EPA to dispose of polluted spoil from the Rockport project on land rather than return it to Aransas Bay. A site for the spoil has been approved by the city of Rockport and will mean that small portion of Second Street will be closed off during the Rockport operations.

It will probably be April, said a navigation district official, before contracts for the Rockport dredging are awarded.

Testimony to the need for the Rockport dredging was presented to the Corps by Tommy Smith of Rockport Yacht and Supply Company.

Smith said that his company has had to pass up from four to a half dozen bids for boats which had too large a draft to use the Rockport facilities. Smith said that a conservative estimate of the contracts for those missed opportunities would have amounted to between one and one and a fifth million dollars apiece.

"We're in desperate need of water depth in our industry and I know the shrimp industry is, too," said Smith. He explained that many of the boats which RYSCO is currently building are borderline cases concerning the draft, and many suffer problems when leaving the shipyard, such as the loss of paint from the boat's hull as it scrapes the channel floor. Smith said local fuel merchants were losing business, too, because it was often necessary to leave fuel tanks only partially filled so that boats could get out of the Rockport channel without damage, and top off their tanks at ports with deeper channels.

Bank officials present at the meeting asked the Corps representative whether the money which had been appropriated for the Rockport project would have provisions for inflation which could occur while the project is being prepared. Vanden Bosch replied that he did not know of any such provisions.

The conference was optimistically received by members of the navigation district as a whole, and with the approval of the new spoil site by the city, the Corps representative explained that "unless something comes up, it's a pretty good plan."

than ever. "At this point, there is no help for a young person until he is arrested," Mrs. Price explained. "We want to be able to offer help before then," she went on.

Adult education and training of volunteers will be top priority business when the legal functions have been completed.

presented to funding agencies before it can be considered.

"We're fully aware you have a serious problem here," said a representative from the Council of Governments. COG was one of several organizations which sent representatives to discuss the appropriation of study funds with city and county official and about two dozen interested citizens.

A representative from the Texas Water Quality Board indicated that the primary problem the local governments are facing is the appropriation of "...front end money", or the money needed to get a study and the first steps of the project off the ground.

A representative from one agency indicated that his organization would be unable to provide money until the budget is set at the start of their fiscal year in October.

total P&WD illegal shrimping arrests made along the entire Texas Gulf coast.

The P&WD filed 171 cases for the entire coast, and 117 of those cases were filed in the local region. One official at the Rockport office said that sophisticated equipment such as the P&WD patrol boat Captain Sprout, had made it possible for the large number of local apprehensions.

Along the entire coast, 60,000 pounds of illegally taken shrimp were confiscated, and the resulting sale of that seafood brought $74,000 into the department's coffers. The amount of shrimp confiscated this season was twice the amount taken into custody during last year's closed season.

The 122 boats which were caught in the act totaled 37 more than last year. Approximately $20,000 in fines have been collected for the offenses.

Local statistics for the Corpus Christi region were: 90 boats caught illegally shrimping, 117 cases filed, fines amounting to $17,750 (or 89 percent of the total along the Texas coast), 38,631 pounds of shrimp confiscated (or 64 percent of the total), and revenue from the sale of the illegal shrimp totalling $38,439.31 locallv.

Government Policies Hurting Ambulance Service

"Basically the government is penalizing us in our weakest year and at our weakest time with the ambulance service," said Dr. Jerry Shaw at the meeting of the hospital board August 12. This was said in regards to the ACHVI's ongoing battle with government red tape.

Medicare and Medicaid base their reimbursement policy on a service's past billing experience. Since the ACHVI ambulance service is a new company, the government pays the service at the fiftieth percentile which Dr. Shaw points out is "half of what we need." "Furthermore," he said, "the law is such that we can't go back and charge the individual the difference. So we are really losing all around."

The ACHVI is currently in contact with Senator John Tower and the Senator's Washington office is looking into the matter.

This rate that the government pays to the ACHVI is the same as is paid to funeral homes and, as Dr. Shaw pointed out, "The service that we give is not comparable."

In other financial matters, the ambulance service is preparing facts and figures to present to both the city and county governments to justify an increase in the subsidy. The increase has been requested to cover the growing service being given to the residents of Aransas County and the hiring of a new paramedic, David Reyes.

SeaFair Advertising Underway

If Rockport and SeaFair are not household words over the state by October, it won't be Joe Hugenberg's fault. The publicity director for SeaFair has already begun to spread the word from Houston to Lubbock, Bonham to El Paso.

In the next few weeks, highway billboard signs will go up to advertise the Rockport festival, October 8 and 9. Mr. Hugenberg has also made arrangements for the KRYS radio mobile unit from Corpus Christi to broadcast live from SeaFair. Sponsors are needed for the cost of the broadcasts. As Mr. Hugenberg pointed out, "With the live interviews and continuous broadcast, it is a great advertising medium and a good way for businesses and individuals in the area to reach a large audience. Anyone interested in the advertising should contact Mr. Hugenberg.

Local citizens are also being encouraged to go by the Chamber of Commerce office and pick up a brochure and bumper sticker to send to an out of town friend.

The City of Rockport's plan for a modern sewer system and disposal plant may soon be realized, Chamber of Commerce members were told Wednesday at their regular business meeting. The Fort Worth office of the PWA has already approved a $50,000 grant and forwarded it to Washington.

31 Years Ago...

The fire department softball team won the city championship. Members of the team included Ed Barnard, Leonard LaBlanc, David Herring, Clark Bailey, Lyle Diedrich, Don Vance, Edric Deason, Harry Mills, Harris Pollard, Dick Fox, Charlie Ankele, Lloyd Lassiter, Bill McGrath and manager Henry Ballou.

Governor Coke Stevenson and a score of newspapermen were Rockport guests over the weekend for the second annual capital newspaper correspondent's outing here. The newsmen and their guests will again stay at Rice Bros. shipyard.

The Navigation Commission in its regular meeting on Tuesday approved a contract for the construction of a 965 feet breakwater at Fulton at a total cost of $45,752.

20 Years Ago...

The new First National Bank, on which the contract was let this past week, will be completely modern in every way. Outside dimensions of the building will be 100 by 60 feet.

A grocery advertisement had the following items listed:

Gerber's strained baby food	8c a can
Chuck roast	43c a pound
Coca Cola	12 bottles for 39c
Sugar	49c per 5 pound bag
Hamburger meat	3 pounds for 89c

So successful were the drag races held here on July 4, when over 300 cars and more than 40,000 people turned out, the Commissioners' Court of Aransas County have given the Corpus Christi Timing Association permission to have races each weekend here.

Rockport has grown from a village of 2266, officially enumerated by the last census in 1950, to a city of 6500 people only seven years later according to a CP&L tally.

10 Year Ago...

Miss Winona McFall was hostess to the Double Four Bridge Club at her home last Wednesday. Mrs. Eva Lutz won high score and Mrs. A.L. Bachman second high.

Nursing Home News

Activities at the Aransas Pass Nursing and Convalescent Center over the past week were made up largely of games, singing, painting, television viewing, reading, crocheting and visiting.

First event of the week was the arrival of The Caring Ones, a group of women who entertain the center with bingo once a month.

Mary O'Quinn, a visiting volunteer was also present on the same day to work with the group.

Beautician Lois Kinney was on hand Wednesday to give the women of the center new hairdos and styles. Mrs. Kinney also does some shopping for the residents of the center, and has been helping some of the residents complete crafts that they have begun.

Women from the Pentecostal Church of God in Aransas Pass again visited the center, as is their custom on Thursday mornings. The Rebekah group from Aransas Pass turned out that afternoon to complete a full day at the center. The Rebekahs entertained the center with more bingo games.

Painting classes were the order of the day for Friday, and the center was instructed by Bonnie, Jean and helpers.

Saturday morning, Communion was given to Catholic residents of the center by Father James Hamilton, and he was assisted by Roy Archer.

To complete the weekend, a group of young people from the first United Methodist Church of Aransas Pass visited the center to give residents a singing program. The residents of the center express their thanks to this group for their fine performance.

Reverend Al Bankert conducted Sunday Protestant services, and later that evening the monthly visit from the men at the Ingleside Church of Christ resulted in some Lively singing.

Thanks are expressed to all individuals and organizations that devoted time to the center and gave the residents gifts of magazines, books and flowers.

ANALYSIS OF THE DRUNK DRIVER

New data has been added to the growing evidence that most persons arrested for drunken driving are basically problem people and not the occasional drinker who was unlucky enough to get caught.

An Oregon study of more than 1,000 convicted drunk drivers showed that many had a long history of personal problems, only one of which was drunken driving. The average blood alcohol level at the time of arrest was 0.21 percent--a level rarely attained among social drinkers, most of who would be under the table at that level.

Other findings: One in four had a criminal record; three in eight had a previous charge of drunkenness in public, not associated with driving; they had, as a group, three times as many previous traffic violations as the typical driver; one in four was driving with a suspended license or none at all.

Rockport Lions Hear Speaker Explain Need For Blood Donors

By Josef A. Barton

"The American Red Cross and the National Association of Blood Banks are working for a more effective volunteer blood donor program because such blood is of better quality," stated Ms. Rose Klingensmith, RN, new Donor Coordinator of the Nueces County Medical Society Community Blood Bank, in a speech before the Rockport Lions last Thursday noon, August 4, at the Sandollar Restaurant.

After showing a short film on the value and process of a blood bank, Ms. Klingensmith pointed out that fully 500,000 people in the Coastal Bend area depend on the blood that can be furnished by the Corpus Christi-based depository. Hospitals in the area draw 75 pints of blood daily, 365 days a year, requiring 27,375 separate blood donations.

"Blood in Corpus Christi is $45.00 a unit. Insurance usually covers $30.00 of the cost, so that the $15.00 replacement cost is offset by a new blood donation. Non-insured patients must pay $45.00 a pint or arrange for replacement on the basis of 3 pints for 1 pint. Recently a Refugio patient needed 69 pints of blood in a Houston hospital. Friends have organized to give the necessary 69 pints so the family will not have to pay this part of the bill," related the speaker.

The Blood Bank at 1620 S. Brownlee, Corpus Christi, is open to accept blood donations Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. and from 8 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturday. Donors can give every 8 weeks, though once every six months is the goal of a new donor plan with credit given to guarantee the donor and family that blood will be available for their use when needed.

Lions president Jerry Iles presided at the meeting.

KAREN YOLANDA DEFOREST, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernie DeForest of Fulton, and Robert Leslie Agler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Denver Agler of Rockport, are at home in Rockport after their wedding, June 5. The two were united in marriage by the Rev. Boyd Harris at the First United Methodist Church.

CB Club And Heart Assn. Working For "Health Conscious" Community

A spirit of cooperation between the Aransas County Heart Association and the Aransas CB Club has gotten the Heart Association's hopes for turning the county and Rockport into the "...best trained and most health conscious small community in the United States" on the road to success.

The local CB club has taken an interest in the Heart Association's two major enemies, hypertension and heart attacks, and helped raise the money to purchase equipment needed to hold blood pressure checks. Both organizations are now urging interested citizens to learn how to check blood pressure through the use of this donated equipment.

Eldora Olbrick at 729-0385 is the heart association member who is organizing training sessions with the equipment. An appointment to learn the blood pressure checkup procedure may be set up by contacting Mrs. Olbrick, and the training is free of charge.

Another major objective of the CB club and Heart Association has been a CPR (Cardio Pulonary Resuscitation) course which will train laymen the proper first aid procedures for heart attack victims.

The heart association has been conducting a CPR course for some time now, and response to the course was such a success that the heart association is scheduling two more classes to begin in the immediate future.

A morning class and evening course are in the planning stages, and the Heart Association is currently seeking assistance from qualified personnel to teach the CPR courses. An additional course is also being formed to teach citizens how to instruct a CPR course. Interested persons for any of the proposed courses should contact Ken Clark at 729-1146 for additional information.

The free of charge course will get underway as soon as possible after the teaching personnel and schedules have been arranged. Both the CB club and the heart association are urging citizens to take part in the program and help make Aransas County more "health conscious."

School Announces Special Lunch Program Policy

Aransas County Independent School District today announced its policy for free and reduced-price meals for children unable to pay the price of meals served under the National School Lunch Program.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size and income criteria for determining eligibility.

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown above are eligible for free or reduced price lunches. In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses may apply.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents on the first day of school. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the school year.

In certain cases, foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals, it should contact the school.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color, or national origin.

Under the provisions of the policy, the school dietician will review the applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is not satisfied with the ruling, he may make a request, either orally or in writing, to Mr. E.J. Randow, school superintendent (telephone 729-2276) for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure. Each school and the office of the superintendent has a copy of the complete policy, which may be reviewed by any interested party.

Members also voted to give a donation to the Battleship Texas Fund and to participate in the Jerry Lewis Telethon for Muscular Dystrophy.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cowan and Mrs. Ann Ashton were host and hostesses for the pre-meeting social time.

Rotary Club Hears Security Field Talk

Today's electronic security devices and systems are a far cry from the night watchman of colonial times who carried a lantern and a staff while reassuring townfolks with "Twelve o'clock and all's well," judging from Rotarian Bruce McMahan's description of modern security practices at a luncheon meeting of Rotary Club August 10 at the Sandollar Restaurant.

Protected residences and business firms are wired to detect fire and burglary attempts with reports going to a central station on a 24-hour basis. These reports are received simultaneously by the fire department or law enforcement agencies. McMahan added that opening and closing of places of business also are monitored electronically, revealing whether the store is being entered or left at an unaccustomed time.

McMahan also reported on a recently activated service which protects business firms from "bad" or "insufficient funds" checks. When as many as 10 such checks show up against a given account, a computer is programmed to flag it and all subscribers are notified of the account number, never the name of the offender. After 15 days without a bad check appearing, the computer record is erased and it starts anew, according to McMahan.

Shower Held In Honor Of Miss Ruttiger

A kitchen shower and brunch, honoring Karen Ruttiger, bride-elect of Robert W. Milton, Jr., was held at the home of Mrs. R.E. House, Tuesday, August 16. Co-hostesses with Mrs. House were Mrs. Lillian Weese and Mrs. Dale Wilkerson.

Karen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ruttiger, is planning a September wedding.

B&PW Club To Host Convention

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Rockport will host the upcoming district 13 convention, September 10 and 11, according to Faye Henderson, publicity chairperson. Approximately 100 women from ten different clubs in the area will be attending.

State president, Candy Reeder, will be the honored guest at the luncheon and workshops. All the activities will take place at the Sandollar Motel.

The main topic at the seminars will concern upcoming legislation at the state level.

UPDATE ON NET CONSTRUCTION COURSE

The vocational net/trawl construction course was completed with the last evening session on August 11. The normal attendance for each session ranged between 11 and 16. It seems apparent that at least one of the participants will make an excellent hand in a net shop. A few others in the class have the basics down pretty well and with some additional training or experience, may fit into the net shop labor force also.

I am being asked by those who provided funds for the program, as to whether or not a similar class might be held in the slower portion of the year, such as the winter or early spring. There might also be a need for a more advanced class covering net design and repair.

Should you be interested in such classes please let me know, or call my office and express your desires and suggestions for developing such a program.

PREHEARING ON THE PRELIMINARY FISHERY MANAGEMENT PLAN

With the passage of extended jurisdiction legislation last year, specifically the Fishery Conservation and Management Act, a series of various councils and committees were set up to deal with the problem of managing the fishery resources off the coast of the United States for a distance of 200 miles.

The Council set up to cover the Gulf of Mexico is called the Gulf Regional Fishery Council. Its mission is to provide proper management to Gulf fishery resources.

One of the first solid steps toward this goal of proper management has been taken with the writing of a Preliminary Fishery Management Plan for Atlantic Foreign Pelagic Longline Fisheries (also covers the Gulf).

As required by law, public hearings will be held on this proposal. The public hearing for our area is scheduled for August 18 at the Texas A&M Research and Extension Center Auditorium on Highway 44 between Clarkwood and Robstown beginning at 7:00 p.m.

TOLL FREE COAST GUARD NUMBER FOR ACCIDENT REPORTS

Boaters/vessel operators involved in an accident may use a toll free telephone number to report the incident. The number is 504-589-2600 which is headquarters for the 8th Coast Guard District. For accident reporting, this number may be called collect 24 hours a day.

It is required by law that either the Coast Guard or local state boating authority, namely the Texas Parks and Wildlife, be notified when a boating accident occurs.

CONGRESSIONAL BILLS TO AID THE FISHERMAN

Now that the State Legislature has wound up its session and the Parks and Wildlife Commissioners have made a decision on how they plan to manage some of the marine fisheries under their control, it seems only fitting to turn attention to the national level.

There are currently about 10 bills in the Senate or House of Representatives at this time. As of June 30, most of the bills in the House have been designated to the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Subcommittee, while the Senate Bills are in the Commerce Committee.

WHAT'S HAPPENING

Public hearing on the Foreign Pelagic Longline Fishery, Thursday, August 18, at 7:00 p.m., in the auditorium of the Texas A&M Research and Extension Center on Highway 44 between Clarkwood and Robstown.

Snodgres To Pro At Rockport Racquet Club

Paul J. Snodgres, until recently tennis teacher and tennis shop owner at the Victoria Country Club, has been named teaching professional at Rockport Racquet Club. The local club has been without a professional since Sharon Hill left several weeks ago.

Snodgres was born in Springfield, Mo., and is widely experienced as a tennis professional, teacher and tournament manager in Texas, Mexico and South America. While in high school he played in the state high school championship tournament. He attended North Texas State University on a tennis scholarship and won two Missouri Valley Conference titles. While a student he also was assistant professional at several Dallas tennis clubs.

Snodgres directed tournaments for the Dallis Tennis Association, including the Cotton Bowl Junior Championship and the Dallas Open. At that time he was ranked third in Texas mens doubles. He also went to the quarter finals in the Dallas International, losing to Arthur Ash and Charlie Passeral on the way.

During this period he returned to school and earned a masters degree in physical education at Midwestern University. He also taught tennis for Wichita Falls Independent School District and directed the Southwest Tennis Championship Tournament. Later he was Corpus Christi Independent School District tennis coach and professional at Padre Island Country Club. At that time he was ranked 17th in the state in men's singles. While in Corpus Christi he played in a number of tournaments in Mexico and South America.

Later he was appointed consulting tennis professional for Pemex International, S.A., in Mexico, responsible for developing tennis programs for Pemex employee clubs in 12 states.

In 1975 Snodgres was semi finalist in the Tampico International and he reached round 16 in the annual Caraccas, Venezula, tournament.

Returning to Texas in 1976 he became associated with the Victoria Country Club. He is a member of the Texas Professional Tennis Association and the U.S. Professional Tennis Association.

Snodgres already is planning a series of events at the Racquet Club, including a club mixed doubles fun tournament Aug. 19 with refreshments courtside. August 24 there will be a Ladies Day free clinic, and on August 27 a free junior clinic is planned.

Snodgres is married and has two children. His wife Alicia is an elementary school teacher.

Leslie Takes Top Tuna Of 22 Pounds At TIFT Annual Event

While the local folks in the Key Allegro Invitational were searching in vain for prize billfish, one Key Allegro resident took off for the southern section of the state and participated in an annual tourney which apparently provided a bit more action and competition.

John D. Leslie of 30 Mazatlan in Key Allegro, journeyed down to the Texas International Fishing Tournament, an annual event since 1934.

Leslie is probably pretty glad he decided to enter the contest too, as he ended up with the trophy for the outing's largest blackfin tuna.

Leslie hung the 22 pound 11 ounce blackfin while trolling in about 35 fathoms. It took Leslie all Thursday, Friday, and most of Saturday to score the fish, and after all that fishing he had to turn around and scoot back home before he had a chance to receive his trophy.

Leslie, the son of Rockport's Uncle John Leslie, headed south on board Ed Frazier's 28 foot Hatteras. Accompanying Frazier and Leslie were Joe Frazier and Dutch Bruegge-man.

Another healthy blackfin was brought in by George Skrobarczyk, who is kin to some Rockport residents. Leslie, according to reports, was the only Rockport resident in the tournament.

Word from the tournament indicated that it too, was actually slow fishing. A 147 pound yellowfin was brought in, a 70 and one half pound marlin and a 56 and a half pound sailfish.

In the bay fishing a nine pound two ounce speckled trout showed up.

But according to Uncle John, the thrill of the competition and the size of the catches were not the only reason that son John headed down to the area. It was the first time since the late 1930's that his son had had the opportunity to visit the area, when Uncle John was serving the Valley vicinity as a Boy Scout advisor.

That's reminiscing in style, then, to bring back a trophy to boot.

Old Tires Providing Local Fishermen With New Reef

An urgent appeal for old tires by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department (TP&WD) in this area brought unexpected results. Local sources produced about 1200 used tires to be used for the construction of artificial reefs and a reef of over 1300 tires has been constructed on the bay side of the jetty at Rockport harbor. This reef was built to concentrate keeping-size fish within the fishing range of pier and jetty fishermen.

Bill Mercer, fishery technician in charge of building the reefs, said that results should be apparent in about six months and that the reefs should reach maximum effectiveness within a year.

To build the reef the tires were compressed by a large machine belonging to Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company. Twelve tires are squeezed into a bundle only about three feet long and banded with Nylon bands and stainless steel clamps. Three or four of these bundles are cabled together with stainless steel cable and dumped on the reef site where they rapidly sink to the bottom. Before being compressed the tires are punctured with large holes to allow any air to escape.

About 1200 tires were gathered up in Corpus Christi by Goodyear employees and hauled to Rockport by Nueces County trucks. After being baled they were hauled to the reef site by TP&WD barge.

Walston, Bateman Take Summer Fun Tennis Tournament

Susan Walston and Shawn Bateman defeated Holly Garrison and Clay Clifton for the class "A" championship at the annual Summer Fun Tournament sponsored by the Rockport Tennis Association, August 5.

In the class "B" division, Gaye Harper and Tony Aleman won over Carolyn Farnsworth and Wes Wilhour for first place.

Other players included Kaurie Korcher, Mary Boone, Bonnie Bateman, Mark Boone, Theresa Roberts, Scott Meyers, Ben Foster and David Foster.

Substitutes were Penny Kelsay and John McLain.

Entries this year doubled that of last year. Dairy Queen furnished lunch for the young netters on Friday.

High School Cheerleaders On DCA Supersquad

What everyone knew is now official. The Rockport-Fulton High school cheerleaders for 1977 are indeed dynamic. At the cheerleading school at Texas A&I, held August 1-5, the girls were named to the DCA supersquad, DCA being the Dynamic Cheerleaders Association.

In addition to this honor, the girls also won ribbons for stunts and jumps, crowd response and their overall cheering skills.

The varsity cheerleaders for 1977 include Renee Fair, Halley Gorham, Nancy Hicks, Rhonda James and Mary Walston. The head cheerleader will be selected when school starts.

At the cheerleading school, the junior varsity leaders also brought home several honors. The team of Darlene Dilworth, Julie Adams, Sandy Collins, Teresa Price, and Gail Smith placed first in the pom-pom routine and won ribbons for jumps and stunts.

Young people from all over the state participated in the school at Kingsville and the Rockport-Fulton representatives won their honors competing with twenty-three other squads.

The first pep rally will be September 2, when the football team faces Aransas Pass in the season's opener here. The junior varsity will play Aransas Pass there in their beginning game.

When Public Law 94-265, commonly known as the 200-mile off-shore fishing law, went into effect last March the fishery experts believed that its effect on the United States commercial and recreational fishing would not be felt for three to five years. In many cases they were wrong.

Biologists and others closely associated with fishery management based their estimates on the fact that rebuilding the numbers of any depleted species can not be hurried. Nature proceeds at her own pace and, depending on the species, may take a long time.

What everyone overlooked was the obvious. Drastically reduce the number of foreign fishing vessels off our coast and the catch would also be reduced because our own fishing fleets have not expanded to any great degree. Our own fishing fleets make better catches and the rest of the fish that were not caught by the boats that were not there are available to the sports fishermen.

A good example is the number of foreign fishing vessels operating off the New England and Middle Atlantic Coasts during one week in May. In 1976 the Coast Guard counted 116 of these boats. This year there were only 40 and all of them were operating legally with treaties and permits in order. Not only have our commericial fishing boats done better but the sports fishermen have had a bigger piece of the pie. Fishing for cod off the cape that bears its name in Massachusetts was better this year than it has been in many years. The fishing for whiting off New York and New Jersey has improved this year -- and so it goes off most of our shores.

The thing that has been uppermost in the minds of many Texas fishermen has been the billfish that are being caught by foreign "long-liners" in the Gulf of Mexico. "Long-liners" are fishermen who put out trotlines in the ocean that are as much as 50 miles long with a hook every hundred yards. They say they are fishing for tuna, but many sailfish, blue and white marlin, spearfish and swordfish are also caught.

Fishing for these great game fish by United States sportsmen is growing by leaps and bounds. In the early 1950's there was almost no fishing for billfish in the Gulf and a recent estimate made in Texas alone is that 4000 sports fishing boats capable of fishing for billfish are in use and 300 charter boats are available. The people responsible for managing the catch of the foreign long-line fishing fleet in U.S. waters believe that our sports fishermen need the entire production of billfish available. Their recently published preliminary plan, if adopted, will forbid the taking of any bill fish by foreign vessels. Even those that die on the line must be returned to the water and the long-liner will not be allowed to possess any billfish while fishing in our waters, even though they may have been caught outside the controlled zone.

Public hearings to discuss these proposed regulations will be held from 7 to 11 p.m. at Texas A&M Research and Extension Service Auditorium, Highway 44 between Corpus Christi and Robstown on August 18 and in the Jury Assembly Room, Galveston County Courthouse at 7 to 11 p.m. on August 19. All sportsmen who are interested in controlling the long-liners in Gulf and Atlantic waters should plan to attend one of those hearings.

A lot of work needs to be done, but foreign violators of Public Law 94-265 have found that this country intends to enforce it and have reacted accordingly. A few of our own fishermen, who have been flaunting regulations, are in the process of learning that the law also applies to U.S. citizens. This is good too.

Racquet Club Plans Special Activities

The first club event at Rockport Racquet Club under the direction of Paul Snodgres, newly appointed director of tennis for the organization, will be a Mixed Doubles Fun Night Friday, August 19, starting at 7:00 p.m.

It is planned to repeat this event the third Friday of every month, according to Snodgres, who added that a covered dish supper is expected to be a feature of this monthly intra-club activity.

Next event will be a Ladies' Day program starting at 9 a.m. Wednesday, August 24. This will include a free doubles teaching clinic with coffee served courtside during the morning, Snodgres said.

A similar event for Racquet Club junior players will be a clinic scheduled for August 27, starting at 9:30 a.m. This event will include a Kool-Aid party for all participating players.

Too many geniuses make for inefficiency.

Theft Leads Week's Crime Statistics In Quiet Week

City and county law enforcement authorities reported a relatively quiet week, with theft being the major offense.

Rockport Chief of Police Jim Craigmile reported the arrest of George G. Smith, 25, of Rockport and Anthony L. Cryer, 18, of Rockport for possession of less than four ounces of marijuana. Both subjects were arrested by an officer on routine patrol in the Rockport Beach area. Smith and Cryer remain in Aransas County jail under a $500 bond.

The Sheriff's Department reported a series of thefts over the week. James M. Furlong, a San Antonio resident who owns a rent-house in Fulton, reported the theft of a number of items from the rented property.

Taken from the house was an arrowhead collection, a commemorative Texas Centennial stamp, some rare marbles, a jail key which reportedly locked the cell in which Pancho Villa was held during the Mexican Revolution, a hedge trimmer, pruning shears, a wrench set, a slide projector and slides, binoculars and an old United States flag.

Maggie Hopkins and Joe Harris both reported the theft of CB radios from their vehicles while they were parked in the parking lot at the Black Bull club.

John Rudolph of San Antonio reported the theft of fishing equipment and an ice chest from his place at the Rockport Racquet and Yacht Club.

The Circle Inn Trailer Park reported theft of food, fishing gear and tools from two residences in the park.

Corps Receives Two Permit Applications

Permit applications have been received by the Corps of Engineers from two local residents requesting a permit for the construction of bulkheads in Copano Bay.

George Haisler of San Antonio filed a request for a permit to construct a timber bulkhead on Lot 24, Unit 1 of the Egery Island Subdivision, approximately 1.5 miles south of Bayside, Tx.

William Harris of San Antonio filed a request for a permit to construct a concrete bulkhead with approximately 50 cubic yards of sand to be placed behind the bulkhead. The construction site is on Lot 107 of the Holiday Beach Subdivision approximately 10 miles northeast of Rockport.

Plans of the proposed works may be seen at the office of the District Engineer in the Essayons Building, 400 Barracuda, Galveston, Tx. or at the corpus Christi Area Office in Corpus.

Kleypas Displays Bird Collection

Wood carvings of 38 birds, by Vernon Kleypas, operations manager of Aransas Natural Gas Co., are on display in the lobby of First National Bank where they will remain through August.

Kleypas is a self-taught carver and became interested in the art about three years ago when he saw a carving of a bird that intrigued him. He devotes his spare time to the hobby and has produced almost 50 bird carvings. At first he tried coloring them but soon decided that natural wood grain was more attractive, Kleypas said. However, he does color legs and bills when appropriate.

He prefers soft woods such as cedar and redwood although he has done some work in mahogany. Generally he uses hand tools and sandpaper, only occasionally resorting to small power tools for preliminary work.

Kleypas and his birds were featured recently on the "Eyes of Texas" television program broadcast by a Houston station which sent a crew to Rockport to produce the show. The show also was aired by an Austin station. The Connie Hagar Wildlife Sanctuary provided background for the show.

Most of Kleypas' birds are wading or shore species native to this area. The 38 carvings in the display in the bank's art alcove include the extinct dodo bird, blue heron, snipe, curlew, yellow leggs, long bill, kiwi, rail, pelican, crane, flamingo, comorant, plover, wood ibis, ducks, vulture and road runner. All are minatures.

Fund Raising Campaign Underway

Plans are well underway for an intensive fund raising campaign to obtain matching funds of $250,000 locally, a requirement of the $250,000 grant made recently by the Sid W. Richardson Foundation of Fort Worth, to provide an intermediate medical facility, including building and equipment, for the Rockport area, it was announced by Mrs. Betty M. King, chairman of the board of directors of Aransas County Hospital Volunteers, Inc.

An endowment to insure continuity of operation for the facility will be provided by the matching fund. It is planned to use this money for maintenance and replacement of equipment as well as for possible expansion later. The Richardson Foundation also believes it is important to have local firms and individuals personally involved through their contributions in the success of this community project, according to Mrs. King.

At least two doctors' offices will be included in the planned medical facility, as well as a receiving emergency room, laboratory and X-ray and other equipment necessary in preliminary diagnosis of the injured and seriously ill brought to the facility by ACHV, Inc., ambulances prior to taking them to the appropriate hospital or returning them home. The facility will be served by physicians and nurses on call 24-hours. The local medical center will not be a hospital.

In announcing imminent start of the local fund raising campaign, Mrs. King said, "The steering committee for this effort, composed of James King, Emory Spencer, John Mitchell, Gene McCartt, Dr. J.M. Shellenbergar and David Crooks, which was appointed a little over a week ago, already has done an impressive job in organizing for the campaign". She also noted that almost everyone they have talked to has been enthusiastic about chances for raising the required matching fund.

Contributions of money or equipment should be made to Aransas County Hospital Volunteers, Inc., Endowment Fund. Such gifts are tax deductable. Mrs. King pointed out that, "one of the prices we have had to pay for the many benefits we receive from living in the Rockport area has been the lack of ready access to emergency medical help." Although, the advent of the modulance and its supporting ambulance has greatly improved the situation, it still takes about an hour to get to hospitals in Corpus Christi. Although the ambulance crews are well trained and equipped, their response is limited.

"What we very much need is an intermediate medical facility where victims of accidents or sudden severe illness can be taken any time day or night by our ambulances for evaluation and stabalization by qualified physicians before being transported to an appropriate hospital, Mrs. King said.

"The Richardson grant of $250,000 and the matching $250,000 endowment fund to be raised locally will make this all possible", Mrs. King added.

COME WATCH US GROW

The occasion of our third anniversary also marks a new milestone in Live Oak State Bank's physical growth and expansion.

Our new expansion project will add an additional 2,900 square feet of customer convenience to our building by early 1978.

That will give us—and you—a larger teller area, more space for officers, plus a community room that will be available to the public for meetings.

And as we get older, and bigger, we pledge to you to also get better. After all, that's what you expect from the most neighborly bank in Aransas County.

GOD and HIS CHURCH

AMERICA'S First Line of Defense

☐True or ☐False

Could this be your picture? Are you putting on a false face when you get up each morning? Are you pretending that you live surrounded by big, bright balloons? Or, on the other hand, that things are down, down, down? Or, that you were just born unlucky, and at this late date there isn't much you can do about it?

Most of us would have to admit that there is more than a little of the clown in the image we present to others — whether on the high side or the low side. More's the pity. Because we would come across a lot better if we could just be ourselves.

There is a place where you can be yourself, where you can find yourself! No questions asked! The Church. Won't you try it?

Richard Beck Named To NIFB Board

Announcement was made today of the appointment of Richard E. Beck of Roaten Drugs in Rockport, Texas as an Action Council Member to the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB) in San Mateo, California and Washington, D.C.

NFIB is a non-profit, nonpartisan organization representing the small businesses across the country. Founded in 1943, it was designed to promote the concept of free enterprise and to give independent business a greater voice in shaping the laws which govern business and government.

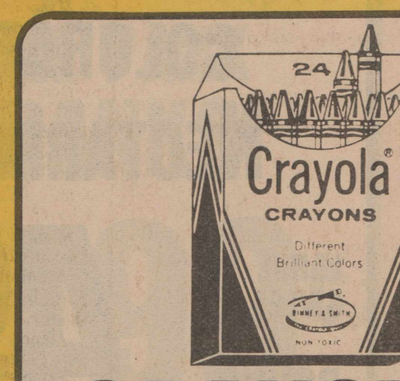

The idea of the Action Council Member was developed by NFIB President Wilson S. Johnson, who felt the need for members to take a more active role in furthering the cause of small and independent business at the grass roots and federal level.

An enthusiastic business person, Mr. Beck reflects the involvement and interest of the Action Council Members.

BOB BULLOCK
Comptroller of Public Accounts

Dear Mr. Bullock:

Are Bibles sold by chain stores subject to the state and local sales tax?

No. Bibles, books consisting wholly of writings sacred to any religious faith and transcriptions of these sacred writings, including records and tape recordings, are exempt from the sales tax.

Sheet music and films with religious themes are subject to the tax, however.

Dear Sir:

Why does your office continue to bill me for franchise tax on my corporation formed by my late husband?. The corporation has been inactive since his death.

A franchise tax is assessed on all non-exempt corporations until such time as the corporation is dissolved, or its charter is forfeited administratively.

I suggest you contact the Secretary of State's Office immediately. You will be sent the necessary forms for dissolving the corporation and notified of any outstanding franchise tax that must be paid.

Mr. Bullock:

I took my girl to a western dance recenlty and the ticket seller added a tax to the price of the ticket. I refused to pay the tax and they wouldn't let us in. I say that tickets are exempt from tax, but my girl said they wouldn't be charging it if it wasn't legal.

Who's right?

Your girl. There is a 10 percent gross receipts tax on the price of tickets to such events.

Mr. Comptroller:

I recently rented a carpet cleaner and the man at the rental place added a sales tax to the rental charge. Are rentals covered by the sales tax?

Yes. The Sales Tax Act defines a "sale" to include lease or rental and therefore rental receipts are subject to the sale stax.

Ask Bob Bullock is produced as a public service to the taxpayers of Texas by the State Comptroller's Office. The answers here do not necessarily apply in every similar situation and should be used only as a general guide.

If you have a question, write Ask Bob Bullock, c/o Tax Information, LBJ Building, Austin, Texas 78774 or call toll-free 1-800-252-5555.

Shrimp Landings Behind Last Year

Shrimp landings in the Rockport, Fulton, Aransas Pass vicinity for the first six months of 1977 were over a million pounds shy of the catch for the same period last year, despite a strong come back during the month of May which amounted to about 36 per cent of the total landings for the first half of this year.

Total January-June landings for local shrimpers was 2,316,300 pounds, 1,016,500 pounds less than the catch for the same period last year. This year's total is about 70 per cent of last year's.

The volume of landings all along the Texas coast was down from last year by about nine per cent with a total of 4,579,900 pounds brought in. The landings were valued at $6.8 million dollars, approximately 27 per cent below last year's value.

According to a report from Supervisory Fishery Reporting Specialist Orman H. Farley, the sharp drop in average value reflects landings of smaller shrimp from the Gulf and bay and not a total market condition.

Landings reported since the start of the second six-month period are greatly improved, according to local shrimpers, but most are reluctant to make a prediction about the chances of making up for the first half of the year.

Leading the Texas coast in shrimp landings were the Brownsville and Port Isabel fleets with a total catch of 3,695,300 pounds. The Rockport, Fulton, Aransas Pass fleets brought in the second largest catches, about 63 per cent the size of the southern fleet.

Just behind the local shrimpers in total landings was the Matagorda, San Antonio and Lavaca Bay fleet with a landing about one half the size of the local catch at 1,210,900 pounds.

Gulf trawlers made fair catches of juvenile brown shrimp in waters out to 20 fathoms off Texas and Louisiana. Trip catches of 400-800 pounds per night were reported from all major ports in late June. The statutatory season on brown shrimp closed on June 1, however the control area extends only to about ten and one half miles seaward along the Texas coast. Fishermen reported concentrations of larger brown shrimp inside the closed waters than could be found outside the regulated area. Several vessels were fined for working the closed waters.

White shrimp catches were very poor with spotted landings from shallow waters adjacent to major passes. The usual run of large white shrimp did not materialize in May or June and with moderate drought conditions in coastal counties the prospect for a good fall harvest, according to Farley, is fading fast.

Blue crab landings amounted to 887,000 pounds in June. This was about three per cent above landings in June 1976. Fishermen received 20-30 cents per pound for live crabs. Since April 1977, commercial fishermen have exerted heavy fishing pressure on blue crabs. The demand for crabs is strong and boat prices good.

Sport fishing activities were restricted because of very hot dry weather. Water temperatures above 80 degrees and little movement of fish in bays was noted. Live bait camps reported a sharp decrease in bait sales and number of persons using water facilities. Fish catches were spotted and largely restricted to early morning and late afternoon hours.

Twenty three new large vessels entered the shrimp fishery in June. Most are Texas owned and the remainder from South Atlantic ports. Two vessels were lost at sea.

Fuel supplies were adequate at 37½-41 cents per gallon.

High School Schedules Are Now Available

Student schedules are now ready for distribution to all Rockport-Fulton High School students. The schedules indicate which room the student should report to on the first day of classes, as well as outlining the daily schedule of classes for students.

Students not presently enrolled in the high school should be registered by or on August 19, the last day before classes get underway on Monday, August 22. New students should bring their report cards, book card and health record showing proof of immunization for tetanus, diphtheria and polio in the last ten years.

The schedules for preregistered students may be picked up in the principal's office from 8:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. The office will be closed between the hours of noon and 1:00 p.m.

Obligations owed to the school from the previous year should be paid for the student to be properly registered and eligible for their schedules.

Combination locks furnished by the school will be available to students who wish to lock their lockers at the rental fee of 50 cents per year. Students may pay the rental fee now, and the locks will be placed on the locker by the school custodian. These locks will be the only locks allowed on school lockers.

Bentsen Calls For Term Redefinition

A Lloyd Bentsen sponsored bill which would have redefined the term "navigable waters" was defeated in the Senate recently, and as a result, Bentsen is claiming that the government missed an opportunity to cut a lot of red tape.

Bentsen said the Senate missed a good chance to do something about federal overregulation instead of just talking about it."

The Senate defeated, 45-51, the amendment by Bentsen to a 1972 law which requires permits from the Corps of Engineers for dredging and filling work on navigable waters. Court rulings have broadened the term 'navigable waters' to include virtually all waters of the United States and Bentsen claims his amendment would have more precisely defined the term so that it included only those waters which are in fact navigable, and their adjacent wetlands.

According to the Federal Register, the Corps' definition of the term "Navigable waters," taken from a 1975 regulation, is divided into nine separate subdivisions, which indicate bodies of water from coastal waters and their adjacent wetlands to artificial lakes and streams to "...those other waters which the District Engineer determines necessitate regulation for the protection of water quality" to intermittent rivers, streams and tributaries.

"This law has become a symbol to many Americans of how a well-intentioned legislative initiative can turn into a quagmire of disruption, frustration and bureaucratic entanglement for the ranchers, farmers, foresters and average citizens of this country," Bentsen said during floor debate.

"It has assumed an importance that extends far beyond dredge and fill activities. It has become synomomous with a federal over-regulation, overcontrol, cumbersome bureaucratic procedures and a general lack of realism."

In offering his amendment, Bentsen rejected a compromise amendment proposed by the Public Works Committee saying "it will not reduce the amount of red tape. It does not diminish the burden on the average citizen."

A conference will now decide between the language in the Senate bill and that in a House bill, which is identical to the Bentsen amendment.

With Our Military

Navy Fireman Joseph H. Forrest, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack H. Forrest of Route 1, Box 281, Rockport, Tex., recently returned from an extended deployment in the Mediterranean Sea.

He is serving as a crewmember aboard the aircraft carrier USS John F. Kennedy, homeported in Norfolk, Va. While deployed, his ship operated as a unit of the U.S. Sixth Fleet.

During the six-month cruise, he and his shipmates participated in several training exercises with other Sixth Fleet units and with ships of allied nations. During extensive flight operations, the Kennedy recorded its 100,000th carrier landing by an F-14 "Tomcat" jet aircraft. His ship was the first U.S. aircraft carrier to visit Dubrovnik, Yugoslavia and the first U.S. carrier since 1947 to visit Alexandria, Egypt. Additionally, he had the opportunity to visit Naples, Italy and the Spanish cities of Malaga, Barcelona and Rota, plus the Spanish resort island of Mallorca.

His ship is more than 1,000 feet long, displaces 87,800 tons and carries a crew of 4,950 officers and enlisted men, including those assigned to an attack air wing. She is virtually a "floating city" and can accomodate 95 aircraft.

He joined the Navy in October 1976.

Net Workshop Ends, More May Be Coming Soon

Though the final session of an introductory net construction course was held last week, officials from the Parks and Wildlife Department and the Agricultural Extension Service are checking into the possibility of a more advanced course in the near future.

Ralph Rayburn, the Marine agent for the Agricultural Exension Service in Aransas County, said that if area residents indicate that they would like to participate in such a program, a more advanced course could be conducted in the near future.

Most of the participants in the first sessions or workshops had little or no experience in net construction. Some were lifelong shrimpers who attended to get a quick refresher course or pick up new techniques, but for the most part, Rayburn said that participants had come to the workshops so that they could obtain the training to find employment in the industry.

JOHN CHUPE, A PARTICIPANT in the net workshops in Aransas Pass, does some tinkering with the ropes to his nets. Approximately 40 people attended the first meetings, and a dozen people "graduated" from the workshop. More are planned in the future if response is good.

One of the participants, a junior in high school, has already left the clases for a job in an Aransas Pass net factory.

Ronnie Kullman of the City Net Shop in Aransas Pass, was one of the individuals who helped conduct the workshops. Kullman taught the class how to construct 15 foot trynets or flat nets, and by the end of the course, the regular attenders had completed almost two nets apiece. The supplies for the net construction were furnished free of cost by the state.

"The main thrust is to get people into the net building business," said Rayburn of the workshops. Local net construction businessmen had approached Rayburn earlier in the year with the complaint that their business was not getting any new personnel. The long-time employees were around, but new blood was not coming in and the businessmen feared a lack of interest in net construction might bring problems as the older crews retired and left the business.

There are seven or eight net shops locally, each employing from one to 20 persons, depending on the time of year and overall size of the operation.

One of the problems involved in the hiring of new personnel was the time needed to train newcomers. "It's basically an art," explained Rayburn, "It's not something you read out of a book." Rayburn described the net construction seminars as a sort of vocational training program designed to orient people to the basics of net construction.

The beginners were building their 15-foot nets in four to six hours at the end of the course. A professional can build a net in about 45 minutes.

The process is at first long and laborious, but teachers at the class said that those participants who stuck with the course were often showing an ability to pick up an ancient art quite rapidly.

Further information on future plans for net construction courses may be obtained by contacting Rayburn, and if enough response comes to the office for an advanced course the service intends to try to conduct more workshops conduct more workshops during the fall and winter months.

YOU can control your use of electricity and your bill by using energy wisely.

Higher fuel prices and inflation have pushed electric costs higher in recent years.
But YOU still are a key factor in determining the size of your electric bill. Because only you can control the amount of electricity you use, a large part of the control over your bill is in your hands.
We offer these wise-use suggestions as a guide for getting the most out of every dollar you spend for electricity:

- Make sure your house has insulation equal to at least an R-19 rating in the ceiling and R-11 in the walls. Insulation pays for itself within a few years in reduced heating and cooling costs.
- Weatherstrip windows and doors, then keep them closed.
- Eliminate excess heat with draperies, storm windows, reflective films, window shades and overhangs.
- Set air conditioning thermostat at the highest comfortable setting, around 78 degrees.
- Clean or replace air conditioner filters every month or—even better—every two weeks.
- Have leaky hot water faucets repaired immediately; they waste both water and the energy used to heat it.
- Check the temperature control on your water heater. For most needs, the correct setting is 135 degrees; water heaters used for baths only may be set at 110 to 120 degrees.

By following these tips, you should be able to control your use of electricity—and the size of your bill.
