COACH DON BECK....."We're going to have pride"

For Coming Football Season

PRIDE IS THE WORD

While the rest of the sports world has its eyes on baseball, golf and track, Don Beck, Olton's new football coach is quietly getting ready for the big switch to the gridiron.

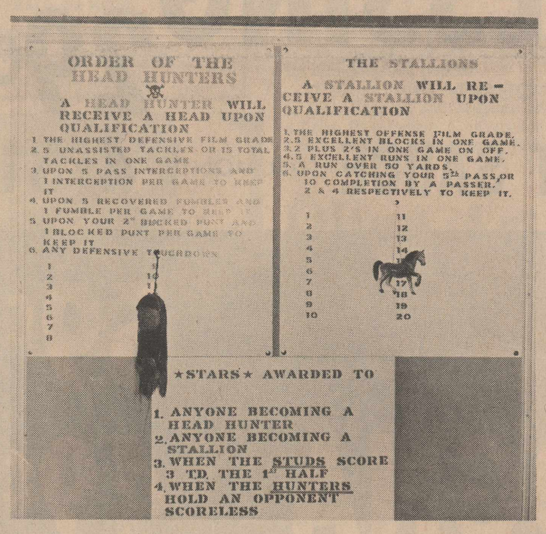

Just three weeks from now--on Aug. 10--Beck will issue shoes and sox to prospective Olton Mustang gridders.

Four days later, he'll issue uniforms. And just about a month from now, the leather will be popping as the Mustangs go at it in two-a-day practice sessions.

When the Mustangs report back for the grid wars, they'll find some innovations installed by their new head coach.

"We're going to have some real pride in our work," Coach Beck says.

Just looking around the dressing room, you get the idea that Beck means what he says.

It's a different world than a year ago, complete with Mustang signs and slogans that should give the boys an idea of what the new coach hopes to accomplish.

Beck came here from Wellington, where he led the Skyrockets to a 9-1 record last year.

He hopes to do something about the 3-7 mark inflicted on the Mustangs last fall.

He's installed a board showing the boys how they can become "Headhunters" for fine defensive work and "Stallions" for excellence on offense.

The boy who meets the requirements will get a shrunken head for his dressing stall if he's tabbed a headhunter, or a miniature stallion if he qualifies on offense.

All the youngster has to do for one of these heads is (1) record the highest defensive film grade in a game, or (2) have five unassisted tackles in one game, or 15 total, or (3) upon five pass interceptions and one per game to keep it, or (4) upon five recovered fumbles, and one per game to keep it, or (5) upon two blocked punts, and one per game to keep it, or (6) upon any defensive touchdown.

A "Stallion" has to (1) have the highest offensive film grade, or (2) five excellent blocks in one game, or (3) two exceptional plays in one game, or (4) five excellent runs in one game, or (5) a run over 50 yards, or(6) upon catching five passes or 10 completions by a passer.

A boy has to get five excellent blocks or five excellent runs per game to keep his stallion, once he earns it the first time.

Coach Beck also will name two "Mustangs of the Week", one each on offense and defense, according to film grades received in the previous game.

He has several other approaches planned, too, all designed to build pride in his football team.

One of the new signs in the dressing room is an artist's drawing of a Mustang, located in the center of the dressing floor.

"We think the boys will have a lot of pride in it, and I don't imagine they'll let anybody accidentally step on it," says Beck.

Coach Beck's dedication to his work is noted throughout the dressing room.

One of the slogans says, "Nothing comes ahead of football except the Good Lord and my family."

And if you get the idea that the new Olton coach expects a lot of his boys, you're exactly right.

But he expects a lot from himself, too. A sign in his office proves the point.

"If one of my boys makes a mistake, it's my fault. If I have told him 100 times, I should have told him 101."

Tentative work plans are complete for both the upper and lower watershed protection projects on Running Water Draw, Soil Conservation Service has announced. The Draw extends from north of Clovis, souteastward through Plainview, with drainage area divided into two subwatersheds to facilitate planning and administration, but have been developed simultaneously since they are component parts of the larger watershed.

The preparation of the tentative work plan was done by the Soil Conservation Service at the request of local sponsors. Money to pay for the cost of preparing these work plans was made available through a trust fund set up by the County Commissioners Courts and City Councils in the Counties affected by the Watershed Project,. In excess of $70,000 was put into the trust fund by these sub-divisions of local government, says Virgle L. Cunningham, area conservationist,SCS Amarillo.

Crops Doing Well, Cotton Blooming

The Olton area is getting its Sunday clothes on.

Crops generally are looking good and prospects are for another excellent harvest.

Many farmers have noted "first blooms" on their cotton, and the irrigation season is in full swing.

Calvin Graham, who farms two miles north and a half east, said his cotton is blooming and squaring. His feed, which has been watered twice, is beginning to head.

Another farmer reporting blooms was J. D. Stamps, who said his cotton and grain "look real good" right now.

Others reporting blooms in cotton were D. L. Givens, four south and three west; J. M. Crawford, three west and one south of Circle; Bobby Copeland, six east; Charles Lewis, one east; and Jake Mitchell, who farms just north of Olton.

Lewis said the hail has missed him so far and his crops seem to be doing well.

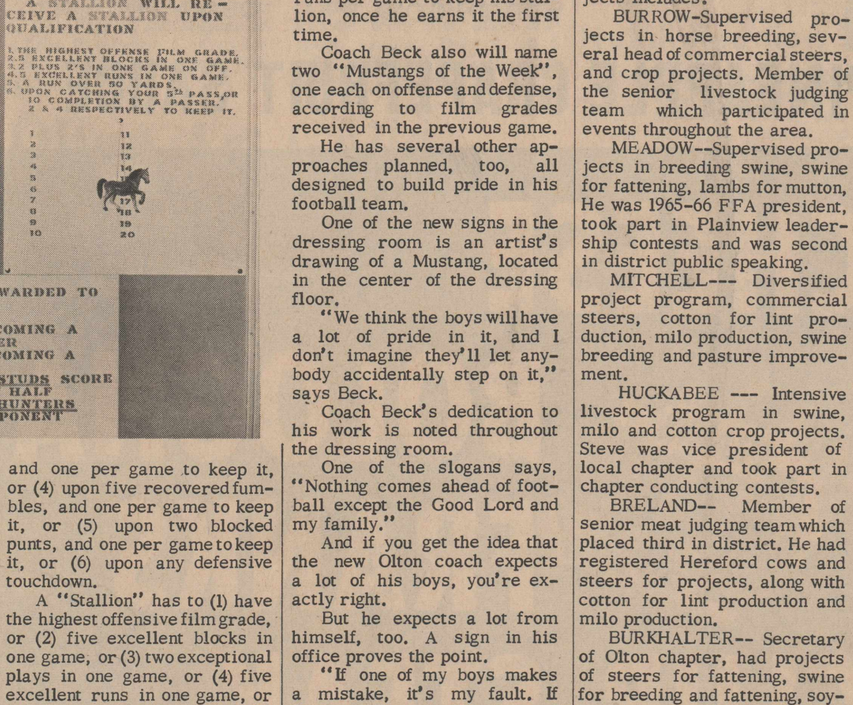

J. T. Tollett, who farms three north of Olton, received heavy hail July 10 on cotton and grain. "We fertilized through the leaves and it looks like its coming back, " Tollett said.

Basil Don Huguley, two south and two east, said his maize crop is doing well. His cotton had "just a little hail early in the season, lut not enough to hurt."

Bill Langford, one mile south of Olton, said his crops are coming along fine and he is watering cotton now. He had a trace of hail with the last rain 10 days ago, but it wasn't enough to hurt.

Dear Friends

We want to express our deepest thanks to each and everyone for their constant prayers and for everything that has been done to help our dad and our family.

There is nothing that can repay such kindness and thoughtfulness as the people have given to us. It truly makes life more meaningful to know that there are such good people in the town where one lives in. Thanks to each and everyones prayers, God has given Daddy a longer lifetime. May God Bless each and everyone of you.

DRAW PROJECT

water or structures is $2.5 million. It is estimated that total Public Law 566 expenditures will be in the neighborhood of $1.6 million. The entire project is being carried out under the authority of the Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act (Public Law 566, 83rd Congress) as Amended.

The primary purpose of the project is flood prevention. Major floods on this draw cause severe damage to crops, fences, farm improvements, county and state roads and bridges, and low water crossings in the agricultural area of the watershed. Severe damage is also done to industrial, commercial, and public properties in the City of Plainview. It is estimated that more than $1 million in non-agricultural damage would occur in the City of Plainview if a flood such as that of 1941 were to recur. The 1941 flood was one that is expected only once in every 38 years. The entire project consists of 8 floodwater retarding structures and 5.3 miles of channel improvement. All channel improvement will be done in and adjacent to the City of Plainview. The floodwater structures will be allocated on private lands at intervals along the draw.

In addition to reducing damages to agricultural and non-agricultural areas, there will be secondary benefits of ground water recharge at an estimated rate of 6,000 acre feet per year. The dollar value placed on an acre foot of water is $16 per acre foot. The ratio of average annual project benefits to the average annual project cost is above two to one. Water based recreation, one of the hoped for primary benefits, has been ruled out as unfeasible due to the high permeability of the soils in the floodplain of the draw.

Only one small recreation area is planned and that is the Clovis Site, just north of Clovis, New Mexico. It is anticipated that some forms of private recreation enterprises will be established at one or more of the structures.

The next phase in the project is securing adequate land treatment on private land that contributes to the drainage area of the Watershed. This phase is being spearheaded by local Soil Conservation Districts with technical assistance from the Soil Conservation Service. Adequate treatment of land in the watershed must be secured before any construction is started. Treatment is considered adequate when 75% of the active erosion from wind and water is controlled. This is necessary to prevent sedimentation of the flood prevention structures and thereby prolong the effective life of the project.

HALFWAY ELECTRIC GROUP

Olton Prepares For Mosquitos

The City of Olton is preparing for a mosquito invasion, should such an invasion occur here.

W. F. Williamson, water superintendent, reported that the city's insect sprayer has been used three times so far this summer. Spraying is expected to continue, as this is a prime time for increased number of the mosquito. Williamson says the city is using 5 percent DDT and 3 percent chlorine in the dusting machine this year.

Recent rain, humid weather and some pools of stagnant water have provided breeding places for the mosquitoes, but city efforts should cut down on the numbers in the city.

Prolific breeders, mosquitoes reproduce not only in marshes, but also in empty cans, abandoned atuomobile casings, tree holes, rain gutters or any place where there is even a small quantity of water.

Halfway 4-H Club Has Home Improvement Tour

A series of meetings were held in the homes of various members of the 4-H girls of the Halfway 4-H Club, July 15. They met at the John H. Baumgardner home at 9:30 A. M. where the 8-hour tour began. They were given improvement record forms to fill out.

The group consisted of Alice and Rebecca Baumgardner; Beth Sizemore, Diane Palmer, Lesa Helm, Leta Kay Goree, Rhonda Hooper, and Linda McEachern, Jr. leader. Adults accompaning the group were Mrs. Ben Sizemore, adult project leader, and Mrs. John H. Baumgardner, organizational leader of the Halfway 4-H Club.

At the Baumgardner home, Alice Baumgardner, the assistant home improvement leader demonstrated wooodsealing of natural wood. She used a double study desk. All the girls participated. Rebecca Baumgardner demonstrated antiquing a chair with antique white and color wash glaze.

The girls then went to the Emmett Palmer home which had been recently remodeled. Diane Palmer showed the arrangement of furniture and the interesting uses made of lamps and mirrors.

Next visit was at Ben Sizemore home, where sack lunches were enjoyed by the girls with Mrs. Sizemore providing iced drinks and dessert.

Beth Sizemore demonstrated remodeling old furniture, showing how to remove old finish, sand and repair damaged places by using wood dough. She showed how to stain and fill wood surface followed by more sanding preparing furniture for final coat of dull varnish. Each girl worked on a drawer of a dresser handed down from Beth's grandfather.

At 2 p. m., the group journeyed to the Lewellen Hooper home where Rhonda showed their home and demonstrated making woolen pom-pom pillow tops using peg wooden frames. She displayed embroidered pictures she had made using sequins. She also showed built-ins in her closet. Of special interest to the girls was Rhonda's shoe storage.

The next home visited was the Goree home. Leta Kay Goree guided the girls through their new home. The girls enjoyed the new conveiences, unusual arrangements, large bathrooms and walk-in clothes closets. The rods in Leta Kay's closet are arranged to accomodate different length clothes. Her piano is in her bedroom for convenience of practice periods.

The next stop was a home redecorated by the family themselves, W. T. McEachern. Linda's bedroom is done in bone-white with gold and white furniture with white ruffled curtains. Unusually clever was Linda's fold away vanity in her dressing center. Interest and contrast was created by the addition of pillows and floral arrangements in blues, especially turquoise. She demonstrated use of rub and wipe gold for decorative purposes.

Refreshments were served here in the kitchen making it possible for Linda to show the re-arranging and space saving improvements she and her mother had made making a more efficient kitchen.

The group adjourned to the J. E. Helms home where four generations live. Lesa Helm's project had been helping redecorate a bed room for her brother. Here the selection and colors of curtains and bedspread gave the room a "boy touch". Chosen colors were tangerine and brown. Of interest also was the large game room with a large ping-pong table, joining Lesa's bedroom by sliding glass doors. Lesa demonstrated the perfect solution for entertainment.

The series of meetings were completed at the M. C. Church home where Sue Church showed her home projects which included re-finishing of a china cabinet, including removing all old finish and applying an antique finish. Sue gave a demonstration on making hooked rugs using wool yarn and all the girls worked a little on a rug. Sue also demonstrated antiqueing flowers for artificial arrangements. The girls also antiqued flowers by dipping flowers in equal parts of thinner and light oak varnish and hanging them to dry for 24 hours, She concluded her demonstrations by exhibiting a lovely arrangement of roses which had been antiqued.

8 Accidents In Lamb County During June

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated eight accidents on rural highways in Lamb County during the month of June, according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in one person injured and an estimated property damage $8,020.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first six months of 1966 shows a total of 40 accidents resulting in two persons killed, six persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $25,000.00

The number of traffic deaths in Texas continues to rise. For the first six months of 1966 there have been 1470 traffic deaths compared to 1325 traffic deaths for the first months of 1965. This 11% increase is very alarming, and chances are it will become very critical because of vacation months and holiday periods still ahead to intensify the magnitude of the accident picture.
