Dairy farmer blasts members of ag committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — "You people who hold so much power have hearts cast in iron and minds made of stone!" a Wisconsin dairy farmer told the House Agriculture Committee today.

Jeanne Rohl, whose farm is near the St. Croix River in west-central Wisconsin, acknowledging that dairy prices are good now, said the concern of the American Agriculture Movement members appearing before the committee is the future, with 39,000 farms a year sold out to other farmers or just going under.

"We cannot lose the family farm. If small farms could have prospered, you never would have seen a drug problem in this country. We wouldn't have had to waste millions of dollars on sex education and birth-control clinics for 12-year-olds," she said.

The farmers argue they cannot survive unless grain and cotton support prices are raised to levels set during periods of wartime shortages. Huge surpluses exist today, dragging down prices despite increases in supports the past two years.

Without the higher supports, Georgian Tommy Fulford said growers cannot encourage their children to stay in farming. That level "is only guaranteeing us a minimum wage," said Lynwood James, also from Georgia.

Bergland repeated Wednesday his contention that, while some have problems, most ranchers and farmers are sharing in last year's gains of 40 percent in net income from farming and 11 percent in net equity.

BUT I'M NOT SICK! — Year-old Carlos Menchaca hasn't yet realized the value of the preventative check up he received Wednesday at the new Well Baby Clinic, offered free of charge by Westside Community Center. Assisting with the examination, given by Dr. J.M. Woodall, are Howard College student nurses Cheryl Reed, left, and Carolyn Baker. All babies, age 3 months to Head Start age, are eligible for the free examinations offered 1:30 p.m. the first Wednesday of each month. The checkups, designed to ward off potential health problems, are for well babies only.

Five killed in accident

By JAMES WERRELL
Five Glasscock County residents died in a two-vehicle smashup 16 miles southwest of Garden City, 9:41 p.m. Wednesday.

The accident occurred at the intersection of FM 2401 and State Highway 137 in Glasscock County. According to Midland Highway Patrolmen who investigated the crash, a 1969 Chevrolet Nova westbound on FM 2401 failed to yield to an oncoming 1978 Chevrolet El Camino, traveling north on Highway 137, striking it broadside.

All occupants of both vehicles were pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace J.E. Wooten.

The driver of the Nova was Jose Fidencio Barrera, 16. Sitting with him in the car was his 18-year-old brother, Erasmo Barrera. Both were St. Lawrence residents.

Driving the El Camino was Douglas O'dell Currey, 24, of Garden City. His wife, Tina Denise Currey, 20, and 11-month-old daughter, Kimberly Ann Currey, were also killed in the wreck.

Rosary for the Barrera brothers will be at 7 p.m. Friday in River-Welch Chapel. There will be no other local services.

They will lie in state at River-Welch Funeral Home, and will be taken to San Carlos, Coahuila, Mexico Saturday.

The brothers moved to St. Lawrence in 1971, then to Midkiff one year ago. Both were members of St. Lawrence Catholic Church.

Jose was a sophomore at Garden City High School. He was a member of the band and the football team.

Erasmo was a senior at GCHS, and was also on the football team.

They are survived by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jose Barrera, St. Lawrence; a sister, Andelia Barrera, of the home; maternal grandmother, Mrs. Francisca Ramirez, and paternal grandmother, Domitila Barrera, both of San Carlos, Coahuila, Mexico.

Funeral services for the three members of the Currey family are pending with the Newnie Ellis Funeral Home in Midland.

Mystery man flees police; chase ends near Stanton

A speeder in a stolen car led a string of law enforcement officers on a chase from just east of Big Spring to just west of Stanton, 9:40 a.m. today.

The chase began on IS 20 near the Cosden Oil Refinery when Highway Patrolman Bill Jennings spotted a speeding 1973 Buick Century westbound on the highway. Jennings learned over his radio that the car had been stolen in Bridgeport, Conn., and chased after the fleeing vehicle.

When it became clear that the driver was reluctant to stop, local Detectives Robert Sims and Tony Lujan joined the chase in another car. The officers also radioed ahead to Midland authorities to set up a roadblock.

Martin County Sheriff's Deputies and another Highway Patrol unit joined the pursuit at the county line, but the speeding driver still refused to stop. Finally, authorities enlisted the help of two truck drivers who drove their 18-wheelers at a snail's pace in both westbound lanes of IS 20.

With the truck drivers' help, officers were able to sandwich the fleeing Buick and bring it to a halt.

After arresting the driver, authorities found that he had no identification of any kind. To make matters worse, he refused to tell investigators anything about himself except that his first name is Jeff.

Searching the car, officers found papers that may result in a positive identification, but authorities in Connecticut will have to be contacted before they are certain.

Emergency evacuation from Iran ordered

Embassy can't protect Americans

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The U.S. Embassy admitted today it "cannot protect American lives in Tehran" and announced plans for emergency evacuation flights Saturday as heavy fighting was reported for the third day in the northwest city of Tabriz.

Iranian journalists reported hundreds killed in factional fighting Tuesday and Wednesday in Tabriz, Iran's fourth largest city. Radio Tehran said 42 more were killed in three southern cities Wednesday as the new government installed by Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's revolution struggle to establish control over the country.

"We are in phase three of emergency evacuation," an embassy statement read to anxious U.S. citizens said. "We cannot protect American lives in Tehran. You are allowed one suitcase per person. Evacuation planes will begin flying 17 February."

"Phase three" appeared to refer to the recommended evacuation of virtually all Americans in the country. The embassy cannot order Americans to leave unless they are employed by the U.S. government or are government dependents.

Ambassador William Sullivan, briefly held prisoner along with 101 other Americans by gunmen who stormed the embassy Wednesday, told one telephone caller: "We can't do anything until Saturday or Sunday. We're on an evacuation status if we can get people out. We can't get anyone out yet."

He advised the caller to stay indoors and off the streets. "I wouldn't go out if I were you," he added.

The embassy resumed limited operations with a skeleton staff following Wednesday's raid. The big problem was communications since the gunmen shot up the switchboard and the embassy staff destroyed other equipment to keep it from being captured.

Informed sources said a Pan American jetliner was in Bahrain, 600 miles south of Tehran on the Persian Gulf, ready to fly out Americans if the government of Prime Minister Mehdi Bazargan gave its permission. The government closed Tehran's international airport along with all frontier crossing points last Sunday, but Khomeini has ordered all workers including those in civil aviation to return to their jobs Saturday after months of strikes which helped drive the shah from the country.

Today was a national holiday marking the death of the Prophet Mohammed and Friday is the Moslem Sabbath.

The embassy feared for the safety of its evacuees from the time they left their homes until they took off. With anti-American feeling running high among leftist supporters of the revolution and thousands of weapons in their hands, there was a strong possibility of attacks on the way to the airport or at the field.

The British Embassy said Royal Air Force planes also were standing to fly out 500-600 of the 1,600 Britons believed left in Tehran. An embassy spokesman said he hoped the flights would begin Friday or Saturday.

U.S. officials in Washington said 1,700 of the nearly 7,000 Americans still in Iran were ready to leave immediately. They said the government hoped to reduce those remaining to no more than 2,000 government officials, businessmen, teachers and others.

Before the revolution against Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi moved into high gear last fall, there were 55,000 Americans in Iran.

Some of the attackers identified themselves as communists while Yazdi said they were "communists, ultra-rightists and military personnel who all had one objective: to give the world the impression that chaos prevails and give our movement a bad name."

Axed DWI charges spark legal fuss

Judge Tune named in complaint

By DON WOODS

A complaint against Howard County Judge Bill Tune has been filed in Austin with the State Commission of Judicial Conduct, according to Maurice Pipkin executive director of the commission. The complaint, signed by a Big Spring resident, alleges violation by the judge in dismissing DWI charges and accepting a guilty plea for a lesser unrelated charge such as illegal parking.

A Dec. 19 opinion by Texas Attorney General John Hill said, "Justice of the peace or municipal judge has no authority or power to change a complaint charging a moving violation to a nonmoving violation."

Pipkin said the opinion applies to county judges, also and that he believed Tune was in violation of the opinion.

Pipkin also said another complaint against Tune would be grounds for a full scale commission investigation. The complaint was filed about a week ago.

District attorney Rick Hamby agreed that the opinion applies to county judges but took issue with Pipkin over the remark that Tune is in violation of the attorney general's opinion. He called the opinion "deviously worded."

Hamby said the opinion dealt with a situation where a judge dismisses the original charge and accepts the guilty plea on a lesser charge not contained in the complaint. He said that the county court was not in violation because they were dismissing the original complaint and filing another complaint on a different charge. Therefore the lesser charge was contained in the complaint.

The defendant, however, is pleading guilty to a charge for an offense that didn't occur. He benefits by receiving a lesser conviction on his driving record that doesn't effect his insurance premiums, according to Hamby.

Pipkin said Hamby was mistaken in saying that the attorney general's opinion was not violated by Tune. The practice of accepting a guilty plea for a non-existent offense is wrong because a complaint must be signed by a peace officer who witnessed the offense in its commission, said Pipkin. The complaint on a nonexistent offense can't be valid when signed by a peace officer who didn't witness the offense or by someone other than a peace officer.

Pipkin called Tune Monday afternoon to caution him of the implications of violating the attorney general's opinion.

Tune and County Attorney Harvey Hooser said that they did not feel that the judge was in violation of any law and that they would continue to institute the practice if they feel it is warranted.

Local food store robbed; armed youth apprehended

A local Seven-Eleven Store was robbed early this morning, but the armed bandit was trapped in a police dragnet minutes after he left the store.

A male juvenile entered the Seven-Eleven Store, 902 Wills, 1:15 a.m. wearing a ski mask and brandishing a .22 caliber rifle. He demanded all the money in the store's register, and the male clerk complied.

The young robber then took off on foot.

After being alerted, police and detectives swarmed through the area. Officers Robert Carouth and David Caudle found the young robber and a companion huddled behind a stack of building materials on Wright Street, and arrested both.

Recovered in the arrest were the rifle, ski mask and all the store's cash still inside the bag it had been stuffed into during the robbery.

Police later learned that the robber's companion had not been involved in the holdup, but had joined his friend as he tried to elude searching officers. The companion was released soon thereafter.

For some reason, the robber told investigators he was 19 years old. A bit suspicious, officers checked his age with authorities at his birthplace, and found that he was only 16 years old.

The youth was only about five feet, four inches tall, and weighed under 100 pounds.

"But that rifle made him a lot bigger," commented Big Spring Lieutenant Claude Morris.

Focalpoint

Action / reaction: Population puzzle

Q. A recent Herald stated that the population of Big Spring is 28,735. If this figure is correct, what did the figure 28,825 that appeared on highway signs at the city limits a year or so ago represent?

A. Both figures are nothing more than estimates. Such estimates are usually based on utility connections and other factors. The official census is taken every ten years, which means the official figure will not be recognized until sometime during 1980. Some of the most optimistic civic boosters say the city's population exceeds 32,000.

HC students to tackle ski slopes

By EILEEN McGUIRE
 "If they don't know how, they'll learn," said Jerry Dudley who'll escort a group of Howard College students undertaking the challenge of the ski slopes at Ruidoso, N.M., this weekend.

Among the learners will be Dudley, physical education instructor at the college; his wife Mary, assistant to president Dr. Charles Hayes; and math instructor Dr. Charles McCamant. "None of us knows how to ski," Dudley said. "But I'm sure we'll learn."

 The three will journey to the slopes with about 40 student participants in the college's intramural sports program. They'll leave Friday, around noon, and ski through the weekend.

returning home on Monday via a caravan of four vans. Each student is paying a portion of his or her own way for non-scholarship athletes. Separate from the athletic program, it gives all students a chance to compete against their peers in activities such as touch football and volleyball.

The program is part of the student activities program, directed by Dean of Students Terry Newman. Intramural director is Donny Knight and Dudley is the faculty sponsor. Serving as student assistant intramural directors are Suzanne Johnson and Don Roberson.

This year's intramural program has received more participation by students and included more team activities than any other year in the college's history. Fall activities began with flag football competition. A group named "Bad Company" emerged as top team of the eight-team competitions. Members of the champion team were Mac Altizer, Mike Blalack, Charlie Vernon, Wes Smith, Rogan Tindol, Mike Edwards and David McGuire.

Over 100 students were involved in November and December co-educational billiard competitions. The women's division was won by Maureen Schkade with Melody Kerr placing second. Tano Chavarria was the grand champion of the men's division with Scott Gross placing second, Hank Adams third and Leland Daniels fourth. A college-wide "banana split party" was held in celebration of semi-finals. The "Spikers" earned the championship in a finals contest against the "Number Ones" in volleyball. Each team consisted of four male and four female members. Making up the "Spikers" were Johnny Mize, Randy Crockett, Paige Grisham, Robin Newsom, Donny Knight, Kenny Fowler, Cassandra Green and Shawna Henry.

Currently under way is basketball competition with seven teams involved. Also under way are ten two-person teams in football and 30 men and 14 women in ping-pong competitions. A college-wide party will be held in conjunction with the ping-pong finals later this month. Scheduled for spring is competition in racquetball, bowling, tennis and football. An Extramural Day will be sponsored by Howard College April 4 for competitions between it and other colleges in the Western Junior College Athletic Conference. Probable events will include bowling, billiards, racquetball, tennis, badminton, volleyball, ping-pong, arm wrestling, football and basketball free throws.

Howard College participated in a similar Extramural Day hosted by Western Texas College at Snyder in the fall. But the name of the current game is skiing. And this time, it looks like it'll be students coaching faculty.

BREAK A LEG — That's a wish of good luck for a group of about 40 students and three instructors who'll be challenging the ski slopes of Ruidoso this weekend. As a reward for winners of various intramural sports competitions conducted since fall, the students' holiday will begin Friday and end upon their return Monday. The group will travel to their destination in a caravan of four vans. Some of those who will be going are, from left, Mike Edwards, Lyn Garner, Shauna Henry, faculty sponsor Jerry Dudley, and Suzanne Johnson.

UH president assures financial scandal over

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — President Philip Hoffman of the University of Houston recalls the school's former financial analyst once had "some very attractive figures — though they were incorrect figures."

Hoffman assured the Senate Finance Committee on Wednesday the school's financial scandal has ended and extra steps have been taken to make sure another one does not occur.

Hoffman and University of Houston chancellors asked the committee for more state money in 1980-81. The senators, however, were much more interested in the scandal that broke in November 1977.

Sen. Tom Creighton, D-Mineral Wells, said his constituents had asked, "Is this what you're doing with our tax money in higher education?"

"I can't imagine an operation that big without checks and balances," said Creighton.

said the university may have lost as much as $14.6 million as a result of short-term investments by former financial analyst Samuel Harwell.

Hoffman said Arthur Young and Co. accountants had advised university officials it would be impossible to "go to the complete bottom of this."

The accountants reported earlier 10,000 or more transactions were involved, and Singleton said hundreds of transactions were never even recorded.

Harwell, who was fired in late 1977, is now serving a three-year federal prison sentence for fraud in connection with a California bank loan in which university funds were allegedly used as collateral for a private loan to Harwell's halfbrother.

Asked if Harwell had benefited personally from his complex transactions in securities, Singleton said, "To the best of my knowledge, at this point in time, we can't document that he had any personal gain."

Weather 'Blue norther' moves into Texas overnight

A strong cold front, best described as a "blue norther," moved into Texas today, bringing with it sharply lower temperatures, brisk wind and the threat of snow and sleet by Friday for northern and northwestern sections of the state.

Before the cold front moved through, temperatures were unseasonably warm across much of the state. Highs were to range from the 70s to the 80s except for the Panhandle where readings were only expected to reach the middle 50s before the front arrived.

Forecasts called for lows tonight and early Friday to range from the teens in the Panhandle to the 50s in South Texas. Most of the state was to have lows in the 30s.

An example of the sharp temperature contrast was in Dallas where the high was to be near 80 today and the low by dawn Friday was to be in the middle to upper 20s.

Most of South Central and East Texas was covered by a blanket of low clouds early today. Some patchy fog was reported along the coast and in South Texas. In West and North Texas, skies were mostly clear.

Early morning temperatures ranged from the 40s in the Panhandle to the 60s in eastern and southern portions of the state. Extremes ranged from 46 at Dalhart and Wink to 66 at Longview and Lufkin.

EXTENDED FORECAST
 WEST TEXAS — Cold Saturday with a slow warming trend through Monday. Lows in the teens north to the 30s south warming to the 20s north to the 40s south by Monday. Highs 40s north to the 60s southwest Saturday warming to the 50s north to the 70s southwest Monday.

WEATHER FORECAST — Snow is expected in the forecast period, Thursday until Friday morning, from the Great Lakes to the Northeast. Rain is expected for the northern Rockies. Cold weather is forecast for most of the country.

Balanced budget needed

By CHARLES STENHOLM
17th District of Texas

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The Administration recently released its proposed budget for 1980 calling for outlays of $531.6 billion and revenues of $502.6 billion creating a deficit of $29 billion. Increases in Social Security payments, due to increased benefits and a greater number of beneficiaries, compose over one-third of the growth in spending. Defense spending rises by $11.3 billion.

CHARLES STENHOLM

Medicare-Medicaid, veterans benefits, and interest on the national debt are additional major elements in the outlay expansion. Despite the increases in some of these programs, the President refers to the budget as "lean and austere."

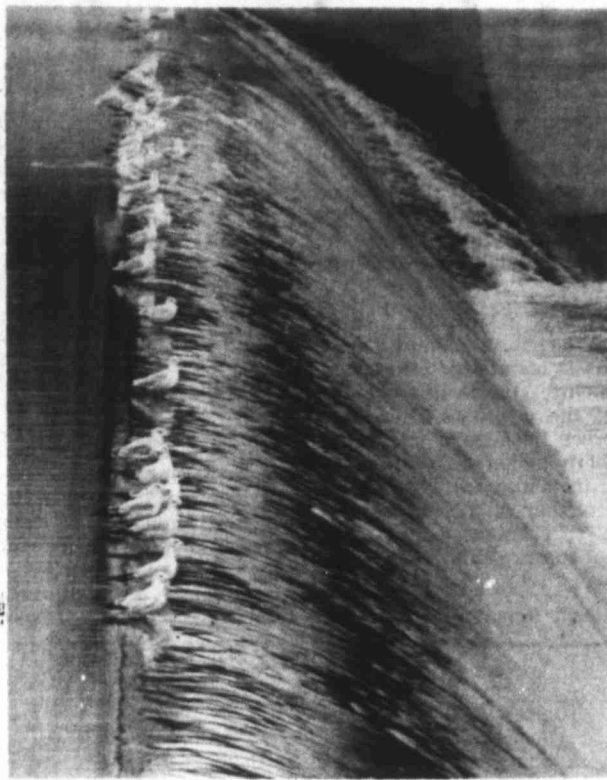

While studying the proposed budget, I am increasingly concerned by the large deficit, particularly when perceived realistically the President's Budget will probably exceed $29 billion in the red. Certainly we need a constitutional amendment to balance the budget except in times of war or national emergency.

I have sponsored such a proposal in Congress. Despite the large deficit and the high tax rate proposed, I am pleased with the direction in which we appear to be heading. The attitude of our leadership seems to be toward a more fiscally responsible course. There is not the massive increases in social programs that past Presidents have proposed. People are beginning to understand the definition of economics: the study of the allocation of scarce resources. We are not a nation of unlimited resources but are subject to restraints that must be dealt with.

We must, though, realize that the government has to perform some essential services that the private sector is unable to provide. The President's proposed cuts, in some of the expenditures that enhance the assets of America such as soil conservation and agricultural research and development, cause me great concern.

PRECARIOUS PERCH — A group of birds line up at the edge of a small dam in the San Antonio River, oblivious to the water rushing over the dam and crashing several feet below.

Industrial output rises

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's industrial output rose by the smallest amount in a year last month as stormy weather interfered with production at the nation's utilities, mines and factories, the government said today.

It was unclear whether the 0.1 percent increase for January also reflected a slowing of economic activity. Economists have been watching government indicators to determine whether a business downturn is ahead.

The January increase was the smallest since a 0.6 percent drop in January 1978, during another harsh winter. Last month, heavy snowstorms covered the Midwest and kept workers home in some areas.

The government adjusts the figures for seasonal variations, but the last three winters have been more severe than usual in many regions.

In its report, the Federal Reserve Board said "January output was affected somewhat by weather conditions."

The production of new cars declined 4 percent and steel output declined sharply, the report said. Production of energy supplies, particularly coal, dropped 7 percent.

In an economic slowdown, it is usually the construction industry that is hit first, but the report showed no signs of that happening yet. Factories continued turning out large volumes of construction supplies, the report said.

Christmas carols okay

RAPID CITY, S.D. (AP) — Public school students at Sioux Falls can sing Christmas carols at holiday programs, a federal judge has ruled.

U.S. District Judge Andrew Bogue says that while a kindergarten program last year "exceeded the bounds of what is constitutionally permissible," the school district's policy concerning religious programs is proper.

A lawyer for the American Civil Liberties Union, which had sought a permanent injunction against religious programs, said the ruling probably would be appealed.

Bogue said the school district's rules and policies seek to "ensure that schools may present holiday assemblies which contain religious art, literature and music as long as such materials are presented in a prudent and objective manner."

The school's rules recognize that much artistic tradition has a religious origin and that religious texts are frequently used in Christmas music, he said.

"Much of this art, while religious in origin, has acquired a significance which is no longer confined to the religious sphere of life. It has become integrated into our national culture and heritage," the ruling said.

Coahoma awarded $7,000 grant for police equipment

COAHOMA — Coahoma Police Department will gain some needed equipment, according to Officer David Weaver.

At a Wednesday meeting of the Permian Basin Planning Commission at Midland Regional Airport, $7,000 was granted for the equipment. The City of Coahoma will also contribute $2,000 for the purchases.

Attending the 1:30 p.m. meeting from Coahoma were Mayor Joe T. Swinney and Weaver.

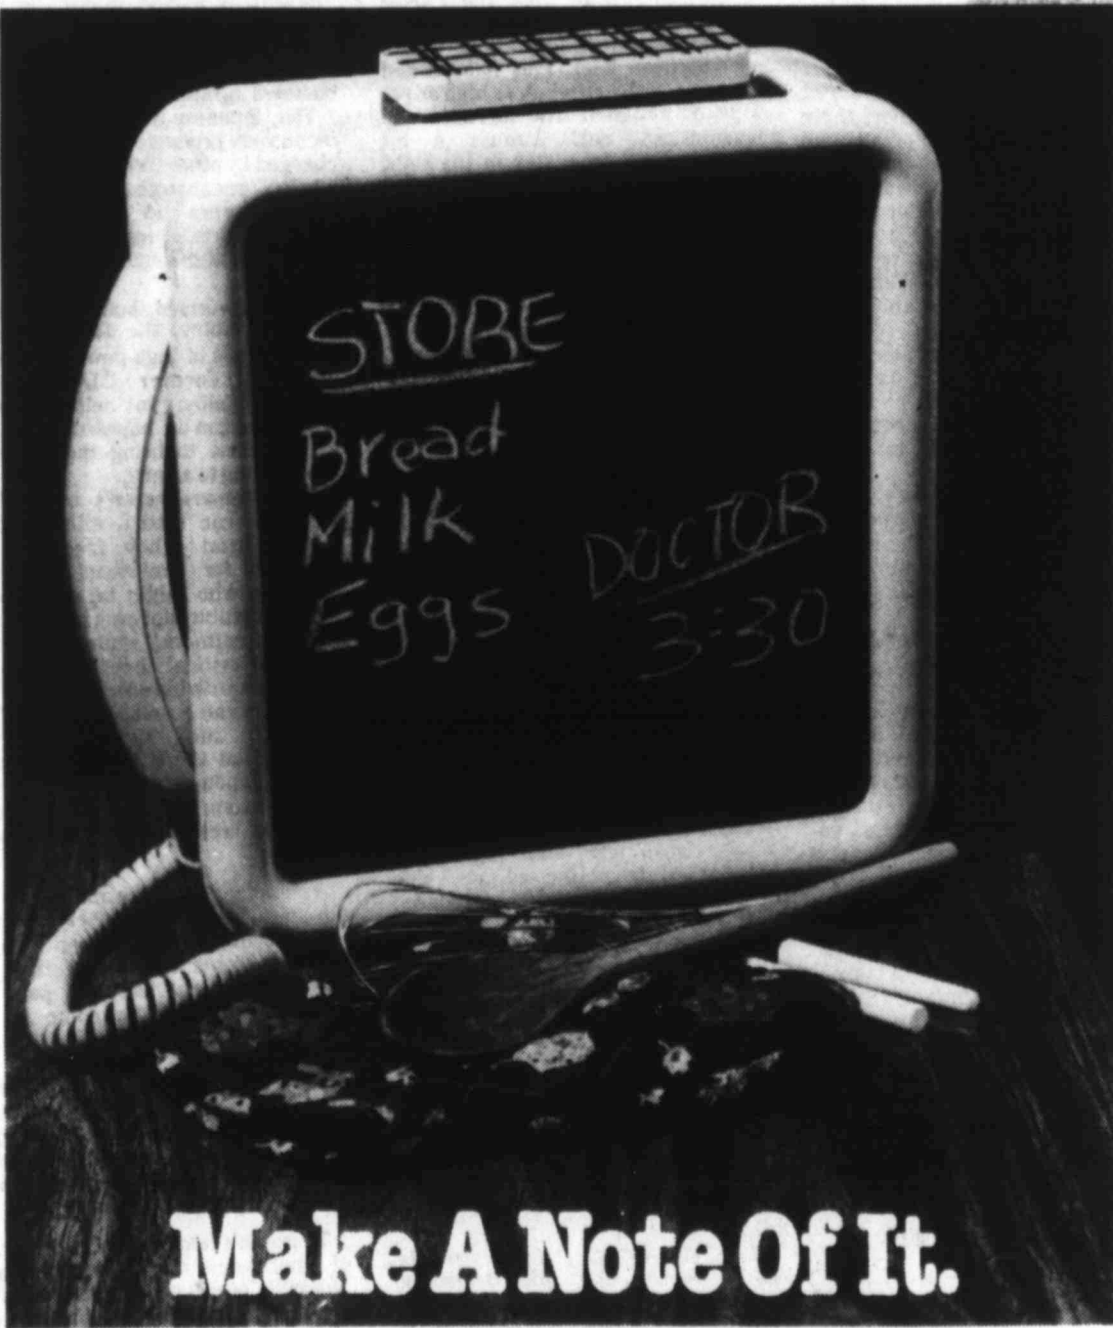

Weaver said the purchases will include a base station, walkie talkies, evidence cabinet, tape recorders, adding machine and some miscellaneous items. The department has been operating without these items.

Will progressive Iranians take charge?

After considering what has happened in Lebanon, where everyday living has been disrupted in a most violent manner, one wonders what is in store for Iran for the next few months.

There's not much doubt now that Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini has emerged as the strong man of the Middle East nation. His lot won't be easy, for he must face four major problems at the same time.

—He must restore order and a respect for the law.

—He must discourage corruption and the trend toward repression, which became such disgraces under the Shah. Neutral observers will be watching to see how the new leadership empties the country's jails of those who have dared to voice dissent. —The strong man, if indeed he can be identified as one, must also rebuild an economy. In recent months, Iran boasted as much political clout as any nation in the world. Now, that nation's economy is in shambles.

—Last but not least, the cultural conflicts within the nation — principally religious and social — must be satisfactorily resolved. The people of Iran are split between espousal of Western culture and a return to Moslem loyalties.

Iran's interim government was shaky and had no hope of enduring its series of crises. It was authoritative, true, but was tainted by the fact that it was too closely related to the regime of the Shah.

Soldiers of this government danced in the streets with demonstrators calling for the return of Khomeini.

Now that Khomeini has prevailed, a full return to Moslem loyalties will no doubt, stabilize the populace but will it provide the impetus to regenerate the economy and continue Westernization of the state?

Furthermore, despite their criticism of the Shah's policies, Iran's middle classes lean toward the social and economic modernization it brought to the country. While they may embrace the idea of returning social stability under the influence of Khomeini, they may be expected to push for further modernization — something that might once again promote a rupture in the Iranian culture.

A significant minority of Iranians have been educated in the United States and Europe. The predominant experience has been a loss of self-identity. These students went abroad to 'discover themselves' and, instead, discovered 'the West.' It has been confusing for many, for it is created in practically all of them a hunger for more of the Western life.

These Iranians have returned to their country as — willingly or unwittingly — ambassadors for the West. And they have spread the word.

It might be fashionable to voice objection of Western culture in Iran now, thereby shucking the monarchy of the Shah and embracing the beatific eminence of Khomeini but, sooner or later, the taste for 'modern' living may again surface, delivering the economy and the government into the hands of Iranian progressives.

Daily struggle

Around the rim

Eileen McGuire

Unless you got a pay raise this week, you are worth less today than you were two weeks ago.

I don't understand economics and I assume that since I am of average intelligence, I am not alone. It's frustrating to have to pay more and more for less and less without even being able to intelligently argue for or against what I'm paying for.

All I know is that Carter said he was going to declare war on inflation, yet while urging employers to cut back on intended pay raises, the expenses that those paychecks have to cover have all been going up.

RECENTLY A HERALD reader requested in an Action-Reaction question that we discover who it is that is responsible for inflation. That question will never get answered because the answer lies in a tangled network of whys and wherefores and thus and therefores.

Without treading on any toes, may I quickly say in one swift breath, "water, gas, home mortgages." Note that there was no assessment of blame. But they either have, or will, or almost went up.

I can cut Cokes, also more expensive today than two weeks ago, out of my budget, but what do I do about the water and gas?

As the head of a household, it's my sole responsibility to make the budget balance. When expenses increase, I don my Robin-hood masquerade and take from one category to give to another. My budget now has more scratched out categories than it does categories. Inflation has made money management a simply affair. I deposit my paycheck and whoever sends me the most past due notices gets it.

Actually, I could probably cut budgeting completely out of my long list of chores that I return-home to each evening. By the time I finish paying for my share of the American dream — shelter, food, transportation and medicine (clothing is semi-scratched out) — there's nothing left to budget.

INFLATION HAS TAKEN the joy out of looking forward to the arrival of latter from home as each is accompanied with bills, past due notices, pitiful bank statements and notices that one thing or another is going up.

I sigh a breath of relief each time I see that my mailbox is empty. An empty mailbox means no checks bounced, no utility will be cut off and, for at least one more day, I got by.

Remember when a pack of cigarettes was 40 cents? And you could make a telephone call for a dime? Enjoy a cup of coffee for a dime? Write to someone on the other side of the country for 6 cents? Or do all four for less than a dollar?

Now you have to choose between those "little" expenses.

But I'm not going to allow myself to look back. I'm looking forward. With the way inflation is keeping nine steps ahead of my paycheck, I figure after three more pay raises, I'll qualify for welfare!

Eagle's 'clothes'

Evans, Novak

WASHINGTON — It was first-term Republican senators fresh from taking their oath of office who, over breakfast at the White House last week, dared tell Jimmy Carter that the emperor has no clothes.

President Carter had opened the session by informing the nine new senators (two other freshman Republicans were absent) that U.S. prestige was high and climbing all over the world, threatened only by possible Senate rejection of SALT. That view is shared almost nowhere outside the White House and seventh floor of the State Department. What makes it so worrisome is that Carter truly believes the American eagle is as splendidly garbed as ever, both in fact and in the eyes of the world.

EVEN IN THE post-imperial phase of the presidency, nobody — including Republican leaders — usually talks back to the nation's chief executive. But two of the freshman senators — Colorado's Bill Armstrong and Maine-William Cohen—violated protocol by saying what they and most of Washington think: the U.S. is in deepening trouble around the world; it is viewed as a paper tiger by most of its friends and adversaries alike.

Although the president appeared startled by this unaccustomed candor, it would be naive to suppose the encounter changed Carter's world view. But surely denied illusions that techniques used to ratify the Panama Canal treaty would work for the new strategic arms control treaty (SALT II). The breakfast exchange carried clear warning that the new pact cannot be sold with generalities and that the moderate Republicans cannot be taken for granted.

In his warmup to the new Republicans, Carter was long on rhetoric, short on specifics. He declared the U.S. is most highly regarded within the family of nations. "You would think we had never had it so good," said one senator later. The only menace to this utopia depicted by the president was possible Senate rejection of the SALT II treaty, an agreement he said is urgently desired by our allies and the U.S. military.

In the ensuing question period, Armstrong refuted the president's rose-colored vision. The Colorado senator contended that the U.S. had declined so badly that it would lose a war at sea today and that NATO forces are badly outnumbered by the Warsaw Pact.

That was not a surprising statement by Armstrong, considering his record in the House as a hard-nosed conservative. Less expected was an equally tough riposte from Cohen, considered a liberal in the House and a pariah in the Republican cloakroom for being a leader of impeachment proceedings against Richard M. Nixon.

Vice President Walter F. Mondale had urged the freshmen Republicans that morning to broaden themselves by world travel. He had done just that, said Cohen, with visits to five Asian countries since the election. He found they regarded the U.S. as "a crippled giant," paralyzed into inaction and declining militarily.

The Maine senator next pointed to Carter's claim in his State of the Union address that one Poseidon submarine "carries enough warheads to destroy every large and medium-sized city in the Soviet Union." While ballyhooed by administration officials as proof of Carter's tough-mindedness, his bellicose talk was in fact a replay of the old MAD (mutual assured destruction) theory favored by the arms control lobby.

MAXWELL

Surgery for perspiration seldom warranted

Paul E. Ruble, M.D.

Dear Dr. Ruble: I have heard or read somewhere that a doctor can cut out the sweat glands under the arms to stop a person from perspiring there. Is this true? Also, can it be done in a doctor's office or must it be in a hospital? How effective is it? — Mrs. S.F.S.

Surgeons can remove sweat glands under the arms to reduce perspiration, but it is rarely done and seldom justified.

Sweat is embarrassing and annoying to some people, but most of us get reasonably well with the commercial antiperspirants. Some have such profound perspiration problems that in spite of sprays and roll-ons they become soaking wet in a short time or with the mildest of activity. This might be a real problem for a model, say, and if a livelihood or career is threatened then such surgery might be justified. No medicine taken by mouth stops it. Where great anxiety is the cause, tranquilizers might help.

In the surgery the doctor removes the skin containing most of the sweat glands. It is effective, but there are potential complications as there are in any kind of surgery. A scar will remain where the tissue is removed, and there is loss of underarm hair at that point, as well as some loss of skin pigment. Hospitalization is required.

In some parts of the world, cryosurgery (freezing) is tried. A third method involves destruction of the nerve that controls perspiration locally. Again, side effects are possible. I dare say only a handful of readers have perspiration problems severe enough to warrant surgical treatment. Underarm shaving, cotton underarm inserts, and other methods are usually sufficient to eliminate perspiration and odor.

Dear Dr. Ruble: Please give me some information on vaginal caruncles. I have been both to my doctor's and to a urologist, and I'm not any the wiser for it. It is quite a large protrusion. I am told it is formed from the urethra. What causes it? — B.E.S.

A urethral caruncle is a benign (non-malignant) growth that can be seen at the outlet of the urethra. That is the tube-like structure that provides a conduit for urine to flow from the bladder out of the body. Caruncles are usually a bright red and bleed easily. Women in their 30s and 40s are most prone to getting them.

They can be mighty painful, particularly if they enlarge and come into contact with clothing. Urine contact irritates them.

The good news is that they are relatively easy to treat. The doctor may want to take a biopsy first. Then they can be cauterized (with an electrical wire). This ends the discomfort. Occasionally, other problems are present such as trichomoniasis or some other vaginal infection. A check for such organisms is usually a good idea.

A caruncle-like condition may occur in women past menopause related to a hormone deficiency. This usually responds to estrogen creams. For a fuller discussion of such vaginal complaints see the booklet, "Vaginitis: The Hidden Ailment." For a copy, send 35 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me care of the Big Spring Herald.

Dear Dr. Ruble: I have had a ganglion cyst on one wrist for years. It was needed twice. Now it's back, and I don't know how to handle the ugly thing. My doctor has retired. He wanted to dig it out, but I didn't want that. Sometimes it is painful, but mostly it's my vanity that's hurt. Should I leave well enough alone or is there some new way to get rid of the thing? — Mrs. L.L.

If it's causing physical pain, it should be taken care of, and the best permanent method is surgical excision. Aspiration (the needle) removes the substance of the cyst, but not the sac that encloses it.

Dear Dr. Ruble: My father, three brothers, and one sister all had strokes and passed away. One doctor told me my blood pressure was 190-90. Then a couple of months later another doctor told me it was 194-100. Do you think I need medication? Or is this normal for my age (59)? You can see I am very much concerned about high blood pressure. — Mrs. G.L.

And you have good reason to be. You need treatment and probably would even without such a distinct family background of circulation-related problems. Return to one of your doctors.

Dear Dr. Ruble: I am awakened frequently in the middle of the night by my five-year-old grinding his teeth in his sleep. What causes him to do this, and what should be done about it? — C.M.

Hard to say. Bad dreams? Pinworms? Have him checked.

Did you know that 80 percent of stroke victims resume to some degree their former lives? The booklet "Stroke Recovery — Hope and Help" describes the causes and treatment of stroke. For a copy write Dr. Ruble in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 35 cents and a long, stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Although cholesterol has been implicated in heart attacks and other circulatory troubles, it is at the same time vital to human life. For a copy of the booklet, "Control Your Cholesterol Sensibly," write to Dr. Ruble in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50 cents.

Dr. Ruble welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I am very concerned about the young people in our nation. Do you think they are worse than previous generations? — Mrs. C.G.

DEAR MRS. C. G.: There are alarming trends among young people today. Teen-age alcoholism, drug abuse, pregnancies and crime continue to increase. In addition, a tragic number of teenagers commit or attempt suicide every year — more than in the past.

Yet many other young people are turning their backs on such things and discovering real meaning and purpose in life. Everywhere I go I meet young people who have given their lives to Jesus Christ. They are gathering together in Bible studies, prayer groups and service projects in great numbers. It is hard to generalize about young people today.

The important thing is not how this generation compares with previous ones, but to remember that every generation needs to learn the lessons of the past afresh. Every generation needs to be faced with its responsibility before God, and its need of commitment to Jesus Christ. Rather than wring our hands over some young people today, we should see that they are searching for answers to life. We also need to share with them the wonderful news that God loves us, and has a plan for our lives if we will but seek Him.

Beef with Japan

Jack Anderson,

WASHINGTON — Two influential Texas Democrats, silver-haired Sen. Lloyd Bentsen and silver-tongued trade troubleshooter Bob Strauss, were arguing recently about the multibillion-dollar licking American businessmen are taking from their Japanese counterparts.

The senator, concerned for his cattle-raising constituents, complained to Strauss that the Carter administration was letting the Japanese get away with murderous tariffs on American beef. This has pushed the price of sirloin steak as high as $45 a pound in Japan. The current trade negotiations, said Strauss a bit defensively, "are a step in the right direction and I'm not going to say more than that."

THE NORMALLY mild-mannered Bentsen was moved to sarcasm by Strauss' claim. The slight increase in the shipments of American beef to Japan, Bentsen said, merely means that the Japanese have increased their per-capita beef consumption from "a thin patty to a quarter-pounder."

The Texas senator's disgust reflects a growing concern in Congress that the Japanese are winning their biggest victory over the United States since Pearl Harbor. While the Japanese government's protectionist policies put the cost of imported oranges at a dollar apiece and push American beef toward the price range of caviar, Japanese manufacturers have no trouble undercutting American automobile and television makers in this country.

We now import $11.6 billion more in goods from Japan than we export in a year, a situation that costs thousands of American jobs, adds fuel to inflation and drives the dollar's value down. A confidential memo prepared by the staff of the congressional Joint Economic Committee pinpoints the cause as far as trade with Japan is concerned.

"Japanese barriers to U.S. exports is one case where there is more fire than smoke," the memo states. The committee staff suggests that an upcoming congressional investigation may prove to be so "inflammatory" that it may "fuel the growing mood of protectionism in the country and the Congress."

FOR EXAMPLE, the eyes-only study shows that the Japanese government's grain-buying agency charges buyers of imported grain twice the actual import price, while American cigarettes receive a 500 percent markup. And while Datsun and Toyota are treated just like any other auto makers in the United States, American manufacturers run into all sorts of difficulties trying to sell their cars in Japan.

Two years ago, the secret report notes, American firms scored a major production breakthrough of phosphate fertilizers, widely used in Japan. But the Japanese Ministry of International Trade and Investment began "informally asking major Japanese customers to buy Japanese," the report states. The U.S. firms subsequently lost about 30 percent of their business in Japan.

The Japanese set tariffs on high-technology products at triple the rates charged by other free-trading nations, while encouraging their own manufacturers to organize monopolistic cartels for research and production of this badly needed equipment.

Already worried about bad publicity in this country, the Japanese have hired dozens of high-powered agents, including former CIA Director William Colby, to help influence public opinion in hopes that nothing will be done to bring the one-sided profiteering to an end.

The Japanese aren't overlooking the American media, either. Costly junkets and other freebies are arranged for American reporters; newsmen who might be expected to write favorable stories are given red-carpet treatment, while those who might be critical find it hard to get interviews with top officials.

One veteran correspondent told our associates Jack Mitchell and Les Whitten that some American reporters in Japan are actually getting payoffs from the Japanese government in return for sympathetic stories.

Footnote: A spokesman for the Japanese Embassy denied allegations of discrimination against foreign correspondents and noted that the U.S. government has also paid for foreign journalists to come to the United States.

WATCH ON WASTE: Christmas comes in September for federal agencies. The end of that month is also the end of the fiscal year, when leftover money must either be spent or turned back to the Treasury.

To prevent that bureaucratic horror of horrors, department heads authorize orgies of spending to justify the inflated budget they wangled out of Congress the year before. Useless purchases, unnecessary overtime, pointless projects — the whole mighty arsenal of federal boondoggles is drawn on to wipe out the embarrassing surplus.

TAKING SHAPE — The drive-in facility of the State National Bank, which is planning a move from Second and Main to Ninth and Main later this year, is fast taking shape. Bank officials said recently the bank could move its new quarters as early as late April or early May but several factors may dictate a delay in that timetable.

Pawnshops may become harder to establish

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — You might think twice about trying to start a pawnshop in the future if Sen. Tati Santiesteban has his way.

The El Paso legislator won Senate passage Wednesday of a bill requiring future pawnbrokers to prove a "good moral character," have $50,000 in net assets and pay up to $2,500 investigation fees for a license from the state consumer credit commissioner.

"This bill puts teeth in the existing pawnshop act," he said, adding Texas pawnbrokers support the bill that would make it harder to open a pawnshop.

"This will make pawnshop owners sophisticated, first-class citizens," he added.

Senators passed the bill to the House, 29-0.

The credit commissioner would consider each pawnshop license application after a public hearing. All pawnshop owners near the applicant's proposed location would be notified.

If a corporation runs the business, each officer, shareholder and director would have to meet the "good character" requirement.

Owners also would have to carry general liability and fire insurance and pay an annual $100 fee.

An investigation fee of $1,000 would be charged and an additional investigation fee of not more than $1,500 could be required. If the license is denied, the investigation fee would be forfeited but the $100 license fee would be returned.

Santiesteban said the bill would prevent pawnshop owners who have been indicted and convicted of crimes from retaining control of their store through relatives or friends.

Store licenses could be revoked if the commissioner discovers lack of "good moral character," or if the owner has been convicted or indicted for a crime "involving moral turpitude."

Pawnshops licensed before Oct. 1, 1979 would be exempt from the licensing and investigation procedure and would be able to maintain only $25,000 in net assets.

Persons now working at pawnshops would pay an investigation and license fee of $10, but future workers would have to pay a $25 license application fee.

Persons operating a pawnshop without a license would be subject to a $10,000 fine or one year in jail. Unlicensed employees would risk a $1,000 fine or six months in jail.

In a note on the bill's fiscal implications, the state legislative budget officer said pawnshop license applications probably would decline if the bill becomes law.

Budget officer Tom Keel said despite the expected decline in applications, the new employee license fees and higher license charges would make up for any lost revenue.

The House passed and sent to Gov. Bill Clements for signature bills that would:

- Extend from 30 to 60 days the time prosecutors have under the Speedy Trial Act to bring to trial misdemeanor cases — mainly traffic offenses — punishable only by fines.
- Appropriate $161,805 to the Board of Registration for Professional Engineers to put finishing touches — including landscaping and a sprinkler system — on the board's new office building, scheduled for completion this summer.

The Senate passed to the House bills that would:

- Establish reciprocity agreements between Texas and other states using uniform child custody laws. Texas would not have to recognize custody decisions in states not conforming to the uniform code.

- Give doctors, podiatrists, veterinarians and chiropractors the option to list fees for laboratory work done by a third party on a patient's bill. The fees would have to be listed upon a patient's request.

- Allow hospitals for the mentally ill and mentally retarded to release information about dead patients with the permission of the person's estate executor or close relative.

- Establish school volunteer pilot programs financed under the foundation school program. The program would cost $279,984 in 1980 and slightly more for the next four years.

Social Security changes benefit married women

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Social Security Administration is outlining fundamental changes that would give married women more Social Security benefits in their own right instead of treating them merely as their husbands' dependents.

One of the two major approaches outlined in the study would split earnings evenly between husband and wife, regardless of who worked during the marriage; the other option would set up a two-tier system to guarantee everyone a flat $122-a-month benefit at age 65, plus whatever benefits he or she earned as a worker.

Divorcees would fare better and disability insurance coverage would be improved for women under either plan. But a surviving parent would get a dependent's benefit only until the family's youngest child turned 7, instead of 18.

And the proposed changes would result in a net reduction in benefits for traditional one-earner families in which the wife never worked outside the home and thus never paid into the Social Security system.

Although the woman's benefits in those cases would be credited to her individually, the couple's combined benefit would be up to 19 percent lower than under the present system.

The agency, ordered to undertake the study two years ago by Congress, said it is "premature" to recommend legislative changes and called instead for a widespread public debate on the two major options it outlined and the issues they raise.

The 323-page report was being discussed today at a news conference by the Health, Education and Welfare secretary, Joseph A. Califano Jr.

"At present, nearly 90 percent of all women work for pay at some period during their lives. It is simply not fair or realistic for Social Security to treat those women as adult dependents who have never worked when they reach retirement age," Califano said.

Although citing no figures, Califano warned: "We must recognize that eliminating inequities and improving the adequacy of benefits... will either require increased funding or mean reducing other benefits. The nation must begin to face this difficult choice."

Under the option in which all Social Security credits would be divided evenly between husbands and wives during their marriage, the individuals could accumulate additional credits based on their earnings while unmarried. The credits from the marriage would be divided upon divorce or when one spouse turned 62. When a spouse died, the survivor would get credit for 80 percent of the total annual earnings of the couple, but not less than 100 percent of the higher of the two individual credits.

Whatever happened to angry black leaders?

HOUSTON (AP) — The angry black leaders in the civil rights movement of a decade ago have all but disappeared.

Where did they go? Have conditions improved so much for blacks that there is no longer a need for the charismatic gadflies that use to buzz the heads of society's institutions in the name of racial equality?

Not at all, says Clyde O. McDaniel, a professor in the University of Houston's Graduate School of Social Work who recently published a book called "A 3-Dimensional Analysis of Black Leadership."

"Blacks didn't get that much in the '60s, and some of those gains have been eroded," McDaniel said.

"But blacks are a very adaptive people — they've had to be to survive — and they are adapting to the general conservative trend the country is experiencing at present as a reaction to the turmoil of the late '60s and early '70s," he said.

"They are making their goals more palatable and acceptable to the general society," the professor said. "These days, if you try to stand out against the rest of society, you will be annihilated."

McDaniel said in an interview that, in contrast to the outspoken leaders of the Downtown Lions got a close-up Wednesday of some fast hand work.

Members of the Big Spring High School rifle drill squad gave a demonstration of their skills in handling rifles, not only through the manual of arms but in intricate spins and tosses.

Arnie Aamodt, Mike Donald, Martin Solis, Victor Mellinger and Richard Burroughs demonstrated the single, double, triple revolutions, the two-handed spin — both right handed and the newly developed left-handed spin. Richard Burroughs took the group through the standard manual of arms. Bill Bradley, who developed the routine and coaches the young men, presented the program.

Waymon Clark, a past president of a decade ago, spoke briefly on a few memorable projects and fund drives attempted by the club in the past.

The Howard Soil and Water Conservation District is sponsoring a local conservation poster contest.

Students in Grades 1-6 in any school in Howard County are eligible to compete. The posters must be turned in to homeroom teachers by Friday, March 23.

They will be judged on neatness, originality and subject matter. J.M. Sterling, Chairman of the Howard SWCD, has distributed Contest Rules to each school in the County. This year's topic is: "Illustrate Wise Use of Soil." Prizes for three places will be given in each homeroom with a grand prize at each grade level.

Another Howard County 4-H'er, Reagan Brooks of the Coahoma 4-H Club shod the Champion Chiania Steer.

1960s that poked and prodded from outside the system, today's black leaders have moved inside society's institutions, but only at lower levels.

"It's a myth that blacks have gained higher places in the institutions," McDaniel said. "They have moved into them and disappeared. They are not involved in decision-making at all.

"The system has gobbled them up," he said. "It is difficult to be a leader once you're inside."

McDaniel said black leadership has changed to what he called "black headship," in which the position the person holds becomes more important than the person holding it.

"As more blacks acquire these positions of headship in political office, business or education, they are less likely to go outside the system for answers," he said. The most effective leaders work from the outside, "acting as gadflies," McDaniel said, but they have to have support to pursue their goals.

"There aren't any of these kinds of leaders right now because there's no community support for them," he added. "That's not to say there is no need for them — there definitely is — but there's just no support."

The professor said the economy will be the "overriding issue of the next decade for all races, and those people who have less will be most deprived.

"We won't have people fighting and screaming as it was in the '60s, though. It probably will be class conflict rather than race conflict," McDaniel said.

New, visible black leaders will emerge outside the system, he said, and those leaders will come from the universities.

"They will be those with the skill and expertise to fight a more subtle enemy than before, to fight for scarce resources without alienating the ones you're trying to get them from," he said.

ABC no longer the television syndicate joke

LOS ANGELES (AP) — ABC used to be like a gaudy Christmas necktie; it was there, but you never used it. The other networks loved ABC; they could demolish the "1/2 network" without even having to show their best punch. And then they would joke about it.

Which brings us to this new TV season, the midterm season. Times have changed, the last is first. ABC has lots of favorite shows now. In fact, they own the Nielsen ratings. CBS and NBC, which used to consider American TV a two-member private club, are the ones doing the scrambling and shuffling. NBC, viewing the parade from the cheap seats formerly occupied by ABC, is trying 11 new shows in its new schedule of regular programming. CBS has had to come up with seven, eight if you count "Coed-Fever," which made its debut a couple of weeks ago and then vanished from the schedule.

ABC is introducing only four new shows.

This further dims any hopes the other networks had that ABC's surge in the last three seasons was a flash-in-the-pan. A look at ABC's midseason schedule suggests the network is as strong as it was in the fall, perhaps stronger.

On Mondays, ABC is going with "Salvage 1," a pretty dumb show about a junkman with big ideas, and "How the West Was Won," which ABC hopes will hold on to some of the men who were used to tuning in ABC for Monday Night Football. This is one of ABC's few weak spots, but it may still fare better than CBS, which loses into the evening with two weak newcomer sitcoms ("Flatbush" and "Billy") likely to hurt the strong "M-A-S-H."

Tuesday night has been ABC's foothold in its climb up ratings mountain, with "Happy Days," "Laverne and Shirley," "Three's Company," "Taxi" and "Starsky and Hutch."

Bee Gees expected winners

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Grammy is 21 today and the Bee Gees, nominated in six of the most publicized categories, were expected to be the life of tonight's televised birthday party.

The National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences named the Bee Gees as candidates for record of the year, song of the year, best arrangement for voices ("Stayin' Alive"), album of the year, best pop vocal performance by a group ("Saturday Night Fever"), and, with Alby Galuten and Karl Richardson, producer of the year.

Actually, Earth, Wind & Fire had more nominations — seven in eight categories — but some of the nominations were for individual achievements in arrangement and songwriting.

Other nominees in major categories this year included Anne Murray, Chuck Mangione, Billy Joel, Gerry Rafferty, Barry Manilow, Neil Diamond, Barbra Streisand, Jackson Browne, the Rolling Stones, Olivia Newton-John, Carly Simon, Donna Summer, Gino Vanelli and Dan Hill.

The Bee Gees' nominations were particularly gratifying to some in the music industry in light of the fact that "Saturday Night Fever" won no nominations at all in any musical categories of last year's Academy Awards.

The late Goddard Lieberson was named recipient of the academy's trustees award — for those whose contributions are too broad to fall into any of the regular Grammy categories. It was last presented two years ago to the late Thomas Edison and Leopold Stokowski.

In addition to a star-studded list of award presenters including 96-year-old Eubie Blake and last year's best new artist, Debby Boone, the lineup for the highly promoted, two-hour CBS special featured performances by host John Denver and several nominees.

Grammys are voted by the academy's 4,700 members in seven chapter cities. A record 52 Grammys were voted on this year, but most were awarded prior to the telecast.

Wilson to drill South of Stanton

John M. Wilson, Midland, will drill the No. 1 Nail as a location north stepout to the two-well Fran-Glass (Pennsylvanian) field of Martin County, surrounded by Spraberry production in the Spraberry Trend area, 12 miles south of Stanton.

Location is 2,173 feet from the north and 467 feet from the west lines of 3-38-15-T&P. Contract depth is 10,700 feet.

Exxon Corp. No. 1 Rufus J. Green, et al. Trustee, in 15-35-3n-T&P, Martin County wildcat, two miles northwest of the nearest production in the Spraberry Trend Area and 6 1/2 miles southwest of Ackerly, pumped 24 hours from an unidentified zone, making five barrels of new oil and 10 barrels of load.

Recovery was through perforations at 8,611-704 feet, probably Dean. Testing continued.

Earlier it tested through the above perforations pumping 11 barrels of oil and 21 barrels of water in 24 hours; five barrels of oil and 10 barrels of load water in 21 hours and one barrel of oil and 19 barrels of load water in 6 1/2-hours.

Prior to plugging back to 9,815 feet, it tested through Pennsylvanian perforations at 9,958-980 feet, swabbing 44 barrels of new oil, along with 136 barrels of load water in 11 hours.

End to 'federal blackmail' called

Survey on speed limit begun

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Rep. Fred Head has begun a survey he hopes will show that middle-income and poor Texans bear the brunt of the 55 mph speed limit.

His bill that would raise the limit to 70 mph was sent to a House subcommittee Wednesday night after Head, D-Athens, called for an end to federal highway "blackmail."

Federal officials have warned that any state deciding to disregard the lower limit faces loss of highway funds.

"Somebody's got to have the confrontation. I don't know anybody better than a bunch of Texans to do that," Head told the House Transportation Committee.

Also sent to a subcommittee for more study was a proposal to forbid insurance penalties and drivers' license suspensions for speeding violations between 55 and 70 mph.

Rep. Tom Craddick, R-Midland, the bill's sponsor, said paying the speeding ticket is punishment enough. "I don't think it ought to come back to you," he said.

Head maintained that wealthier Texans escape the 55 mph limit because they are more likely to use planes for long distance travel or can hire an attorney to fight a speeding ticket.

"I've thought for a long time that middle income and poor people pay most of the tickets," he said.

Head's staff is surveying 500 tickets selected at random by the Department of Public Safety and will see if any conclusions can be drawn, he added.

Head said his proposal to raise the speed limit is designed to return to Texas "the right to exercise the privilege that I think should be regulated at the state level."

Gov. Bill Clements said last week he opposed any plan to raise the speed limit because Texas could lose $300 million annually in federal highway funds. Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby added his opposition to the speed limit proposal Wednesday.

Head said fuel could be saved more efficiently by other methods than cutting back speed, and the speed limit is broken so routinely that it may not cut loss of life.

The Legislature has only three alternatives, Head proposed.

It could support his bill and risk losing federal funds, but consider that powerful Texas congressmen could prevent a funding cutback.

The Legislature could also continue with the 55 mph limit on the books and lose funds to a lesser degree, because federal highway funds will be gradually reduced unless it can be shown more Texans are obeying the speed limit.

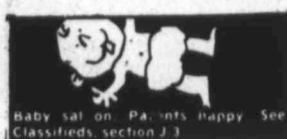

The third choice would be to hire enough troopers to enforce the 55 mph speed limit, which might cost about $42 million a year, he said.

"I say the better approach is to have the guts to tell the federal government to take their money and go to hell with it," Head said.

"Right now we're teaching our children that we put laws on the books and then look the other way," he added.

The Wyoming Legislature apparently killed earlier this week a bill that would have raised the state's speed limit to 65 mph.

Fort Worth Fat Stock Show records posted

FORT WORTH — The 83rd annual Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show closed its 1979 edition by posting some new records at what was determined as a successful show.

Stock Show president-manager W.R. Watt Jr. said, "Our show this year, overall, was even better than anticipated."

"We knew we had an outstanding rodeo planned, but its reception exceeded our expectations," Watt noted. "The livestock show with nearly 15,000 entries (a new record) produced enthusiasm among exhibitors, and the show animals were tops in their respective breeds."

The World's Original Indoor Rodeo, featured 22 performances during the 12 days of the Stock Show, produced a record 827 cowboy entries with 771 contestants, vying for $181,153 in purse money, also a record.

Fort Worth champions in rodeo events included Rusty Riddle of Weatherford, Texas, $2,840 in bareback riding. Buddy Geter of Stillwater, Okla., $11,500 in calf roping. Punch Hennigan of Raton, N.M., $12,266 in steer wrestling; Mel Coleman of Pierceland, Sask., Canada, $4,047 in saddle bronc; Ken Henry of Happy, Texas, $3,966 in bull riding; and Travis Woolver of Dallas, Texas, $1,292 in the wild horse race.

Total grounds attendance to the Stock Show was 605,000 and paid rodeo attendance was 117,180, both down slightly from a year earlier due mainly to bad weather conditions, Watt said.

"We hosted a number of foreign visitors," he said, "adding prominence to our show's attractiveness as an international event."

Auction sales for the show this year generated more than $2 million in gross volume. A world record was set for the Sale of Champions when Fort Worth businessman Don Hansen and associates placed the top bid of $52,000 for the Grand Champion Steer of the Show.

The champion was a Limousin 3/4 cross shown by Sonya Deatherage of Stanton, Texas 4-H Club. The 1,165-pound black named "Buddy" was of Noffsinger Ranches breeding. Sonya is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Ronnie Deatherage of Stanton.

Reserve Grand Champion Steer was a Limousin-Angus cross shown by Becky Lindsey of Mullin, Texas, FFA Chapter. "Last Chance" weighed 1,175 pounds and was bred by Alvin Tinemann. It brought $7,000 in the sale from Miller Beer of Fort Worth and Dallas.

"We take pride in having the most prestigious Stock Show in the country," Watt said, "and full credit for this recognition should be given to all our employees. There's no question but that our Stock Show staff is the finest in the country."

Watt also was "appreciative of the outstanding coverage of our show by our friends from the news media."

"It takes many people working together to make this enormous civic endeavor the success it continues to enjoy year after year," the president-manager added.

He said dates for the 1980 Stock Show and Rodeo will be Jan. 23 through Feb. 3.

Hyperion Club beneficial to city

By MICKIE DICKSON

The 1905 Hyperion Club is the oldest Hyperion club in Big Spring. This group is basically a study club whose object is to stimulate cultural and intellectual growth and to promote interest in community, state and national affairs.

It is a member of the General Federation of Women's Clubs and the Western District of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

Honorary members of the 1905 Hyperion are Mrs. R.T. Piner, and Mrs. Lee Hanson.

The club was responsible for opening the first public library in the basement of the old J. W. Fisher Store building, 110 Main, present site of Big Spring Furniture Company. Mrs. Shine Phillips, a member of a pioneer family here, was a faithful worker in the library.

The first school drinking fountain was installed in the old Central Ward School by the group. This school was located in the lot where the present library now stands.

The ladies of the club conducted the nursery story hour at the Westside Community Center for years.

One of the early drives of the Hyperions, garbage collection within the city of Big Spring, resulted in the incorporation of the city to supply this service. The original city dump ground was around the 1300 block on Douglas, in the canyon.

Mrs. Clyde Angel, secretary, states that the most rewarding project for her was transporting crippled children to Midland once a week for therapy before Big Spring rated a Rehabilitation Center. She was taking a group of appreciative youngsters there one day when one of them asked for a coke. She stopped at a drive in, and one little Spanish boy spoke up and said, "What's wrong with a hamburger?" Mrs. Angel laughed and replied, "Not a thing, we'll all have a hamburger with our coke."

The Hyperions helped in the beginning of the Heritage Museum with Mrs. Angel serving as the first woman president. They still support the museum.

Club officers are Mrs. Chesley McDonald, president; Mrs. D.O. Gray, vice president; Mrs. Clyde Angel, secretary; Mrs. Hayes Stripling, treasurer; Mrs. Ted Hatfield, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Norman Read, parliamentarian; Mrs. Stripling, federation counselor.

The ladies of the 1905 Hyperion Club are pleased to share some of their favorite recipes.

Mrs. Clyde Angel's PARTY CHICKEN
4 whole chicken breasts (split and boned) rolled and wrapped in bacon, secure with a toothpick.
1 carton sour cream (8 ounce)
1 can mushroom soup
2 tablespoons cooking sherry

1 jar dried beef.
Line pan with dried beef. Arrange chicken on top. Mix soup, sour cream and cooking sherry and pour over chicken. Cook four hours at 250 degrees. Sprinkle toasted almonds over the casserole the last 30 minutes. Serve with Uncle Ben's long grain, wild rice or your favorite rice dish. Yield 8 servings.

Mrs. G. T. Hall's SPANISH CASSEROLE
A one-dish meal
Boil 2-3rds cup rice
1 cup celery chopped
1/2 cup green pepper chopped
2 tablespoons butter or other fat
1 medium sized onion cubed

Melt butter or fat in a saucepan, and saute onion until brown. Add and sear 1 pound of round steak seasoned with 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon paprika. Place 1-3rd of the rice and 1/2 of the meat in a greased baking dish. Sprinkle 1/2 the celery and pepper over it. Repeat the process, and last of all place the rest of the rice on top. Pour over it all a 10 1/2 ounce can of condensed tomato soup. Cover and place in a 350 degree oven for one hour.

Mrs. Ted Hatfield's BEEF STROGANOFF
1 pound round steak cut in thin strips
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 3 ounce can sliced mushrooms, drained
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons margarine
8 ounce cream cheese, cubed
2-3rds cup milk
Brown round steak slowly in margarine. Add onion, mushrooms, dry mustard, salt and pepper. When meat is tender, add cream cheese, cubed, and milk. Stir until cheese melts. Serve on hot parsleyed noodles.

Mrs. C. O. Nalley's NOODLES ROMANOFF
8-ounce package narrow noodles cooked in boiling salted water until just tender and drain well, cool.
3 tablespoons melted butter
4 green onions (including tops) chopped
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup buttered bread crumbs.

Combine all ingredients except bread crumbs and combine with noodles. Place in 1 1/2 quart casserole. Top with buttered crumbs and bake in 350 degree oven until piping hot. Yield 8 servings.

Mrs. D. O. Gray's SHRIMP REMOULADE
4 tablespoons horseradish mustard
1/2 cup tarragon vinegar
2 tablespoons catsup
1 tablespoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon cayenne pepper
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1 (or more) whole clove of garlic
1 cup salad oil
1/2 cup finely minced green onion
1/2 cup finely minced celery
Cooked shrimp

Mix first eight ingredients together, (crushing garlic in garlic press). Add oil and beat thoroughly, then add onion and celery.

Pour the dressing over cooked shrimp and marinate at least four or five hours. Serve cold on lettuce or over cooked rice.

Mrs. Chesley McDonald's FROZEN FRUIT SALAD
Put the following ingredients in blender
2 ripe bananas
2 8 ounce packages sour cream

1 small can (8 ounces) crushed pineapple, drained
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Dash of salt
3/4 cup sugar
1 cup nuts

Blend and put in bowl with 12 finely chopped maraschino cherries. Color with red cake coloring. Pour in heart shaped molds. At Christmas use muffin cups with paper liners. Freeze. This salad will keep indefinitely in deep freeze. Makes a good dessert, too.

Mrs. Clyde Angel's ORIENTAL SALAD

(17 ounce) can tiny peas, drained
1 (16 ounce) can bean sprouts, drained
1 (12 ounce) can white whole kernel corn, drained (Use shoe peg corn)

Alaska oil can't fill gap

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite reports last year of a possible glut, oil flowing through the Alaska Pipeline has been allocated for U.S. use and cannot fill the gap created by the Iranian oil cutoff, industry analysts say. "Every bit of Alaska oil that could be produced has been marketed. It's not sitting in tanks someplace," said Pitt Curtis, a spokesman for Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, which controls 53 percent of the oil reserves at Prudhoe Bay, the pipeline's northern end. "There never was a crude oil glut."

The pipeline, an $8 billion project, opened two years ago and is pumping 1.2 million barrels of crude oil a day into the lower 48 states, about 6 percent of U.S. consumption. By law, Alaska oil cannot be exported, except for small amounts to Canada and Mexico. Oil from the North Slope flows through the pipeline to the Alaska port of Valdez and is shipped to points on the West Coast, where the supply far outpaces demand. This led to fears of an oil glut last summer.

Larry Goldstein, an economist at the Petroleum Industry Research Foundation, an industry group, said the term "glut" was misunderstood. "All it means is that the local market on the West Coast can't absorb all it gets, so you send it elsewhere."

The extra oil — about 500,000 barrels a day — is shipped by tanker through the Panama Canal to the Gulf and East coasts. Transportation costs add about $2 to the going rate of $13.30 per 42-gallon barrel of oil. The oil companies must absorb that additional cost, Curtis said.

Before political strife closed Iran's oil fields late last year, that nation was producing about 5 percent of the oil used by the United States and about 10 percent used by the non-Communist world. Although oil from other nations has made up for more than half of the former flow of Iranian oil, government officials and analysts are urging conservation to avoid problems if Iranian oil production does not resume.

The United States consumes about 20 million barrels of oil a day. About half that is produced domestically, including Alaska and offshore fields. About 45 percent comes from foreign countries other than Iran, mainly Saudi Arabia. Experts say the cutoff of

Skeleton identified

The remains of a skeleton found southeast of town on a ranch owned by Woody Robinson has been identified as George Jordan, son of Juanita and V.E. Jordan.

The family resides at 506 S. Douglas. Jordan has been missing since June 9, 1974. He was identified by a cross found near the remains Jan. 17. A part of a figure of Jesus missing from the cross was found by Jordan's mother in one of his coats, confirming Justice of the Peace Bob West's suspicions that the remains were those of the 24 year old Jordan.

An examination of the teeth and jaws of the skeleton confirmed that a tooth that Jordan had been missing for several years was also missing from the skeleton. The height of the skeleton, 5'5", and the nationality, Caucasian, and the sex were also confirmed to be the same as Jordan's. Burial services are pending with Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Plastic roses never wilt

ORGAS, W. Va. (AP) — Flowers that never wilt decorate some 250 markers at Pineview Cemetery.

They are plastic and some cost as much as $100. They are changed three or four times a year — lilies in spring, pines and red carnations in autumn, poinsettias in winter.

"I'm not sure how it all started," says a caretaker who has been with the cemetery for the past 17 years. "It's been going on for as long as I can remember. It's the way families here choose to honor their dead."

Plastic flowers are seen in many rural West Virginia graveyards. LaTelle LaFollette, who runs Pineview, says, "Many rural areas don't have florists. That's one reason you see plastic flowers."

Antenna fall causes electrical blackout

A total of 2,039 customers of Texas Electric Service Company were without power for the better part of an hour Wednesday afternoon.

A short wave radio antenna being erected on the First Presbyterian Church at 701 Runnels Street came in contact with power lines. Thomas Evans, 42, 1201 Frazier, who was working to reinstall the antenna for the Howard County Council for Senior Citizens, was hospitalized after having suffered superficial burns. He was reported in good condition at Malone-Hogan Hospital this morning. A TESCO work team was on the scene shortly after the outage was reported at about 4:40 p.m. Within 35 minutes, 98.5 percent of the service was restored and power was made available to all customers by 6:20 p.m.

The area affected included part of Johnson Street on the east, as far west as Abrams, as far north as Fourth Street and as far south as 11th Place.

Both the Big Spring Herald and Radio Station KBST were without power for the better part of 45 minutes.

Sen. Bentsen to hire Senior Citizen Interns

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Sen. Lloyd Bentsen said recently he is looking for older Texans to work in his Washington office as Senior Citizen Interns for two weeks this May.

Bentsen, who is cosponsoring legislation to establish a permanent Senior Citizen Program in Congress, asked that any interested Texans, age 65 or older, write to his office.

"Every day in this country 5,000 people celebrate their 65th birthday," the senator said.

"One out of every 10 Americans is a senior citizen with special concerns about crime and housing and health care; and about maintaining their dignity and, if possible their independence."

"They also have special skills to offer and a wisdom that comes only with age," Bentsen said.

"The Senior Citizen Intern program not only offers these Texans valuable information on the workings of Congress and the federal bureaucracy, but also provides information on the workings of Congress and the federal bureaucracy, but also provides a forum for the mutual exchange of ideas on the problems of the aging," Bentsen said.

This is the third consecutive year that Bentsen has participated in the Senior Citizen Intern Program. "Jack" Hooper, 73, of Pasadena and Beanie Rogers, 68, of Nacogdoches, Texas served as his interns last year.

As an added bonus in last year's program, Ms. Rogers married Ernest Clark of Kansas, whom she met in Washington. The program this year will be conducted May 7-8. The senior interns will take part in working sessions with cabinet and agency officials.

Car sales offsetting

DETROIT (AP) — Higher new car sales by General Motors and Ford offset a drop at Chrysler and enabled the Big Three U.S. automakers to post early February sales gains that were up 15.7 percent from a year ago, auto industry spokesmen say. GM said 129,363 sales were made during the first 10 days of the month, up 22.6 percent from last year's 105,544. At Ford, sales of 56,294 were up 10 percent from 51,160 a year ago. Chrysler Corp. reported deliveries of 22,108, off 3.1 percent from 22,819 last year. For the Big Three, sales of 207,766 vehicles topped last year's 179,523, when heavy snows blocked deliveries to dealers.

KKK to be at Mardi Gras

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Ku Klux Klansmen will patrol New Orleans streets for Mardi Gras if city policemen follow through on strike threats, a Klan leader has warned, although he said, "Most of our people will not be armed."

The 30 to 40 "citizen patrols" would not make arrests unless they see someone being physically attacked, said David Duke, leader of a small faction called the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. Otherwise, he said, patrols will call the police station if they spot lawbreakers. Policemen staged a 40-hour strike last weekend and have threatened to strike Friday if the city does not meet their contract demands.

Epidemic warning given

NEW YORK (AP) — With temperatures hovering in the teens, a New York hospital has warned city residents of the dangers of a carbon monoxide poisoning "epidemic" due to the use of home space heaters.

Leonard Piccoli, executive director of the Bronx Municipal Hospital Center, said Wednesday his hospital had diagnosed 15 cases of carbon monoxide poisoning in the past few days. Patients complained of virus-like symptoms, headaches, seizures, chest and abdominal pains and other symptoms, Piccoli said. In all cases, he said the victims had used kerosene space heaters indoors with little ventilation because they lacked other heat.

Ski practice stopped

MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP) — State officials have ordered Sugarbush Ski Area to stop launching ski lift gondolas by hand, after a car plunged 25 feet to the ground, injuring three passengers. The order was delivered to the resort Wednesday, said Richard Jones of the state Labor and Industry Department.

NCAA INVESTIGATION — Coveted high school football player Eric Dickerson, shown here walking toward his new car has become the subject of a NCAA investigation. Texas' No. 1 blue-chip high school football player from Sealy, Texas, has been seen driving a 1979 gold Pontiac Trans-Am automobile the day after Dickerson had announced his verbal commitment to Texas A&M University. The auto is believed to have been purchased by a member of his family.

SMU leads recruiting war

By The Associated Press

SMU's Ron Meyer had the whole league buzzing on Wednesday when he hauled down seven bluechippers on the first day Southwest Conference schools could ink high school football players to letters of intent.

But the uproar could erupt into a real "Mustang Mania" bombshell today if the state's two premier running backs jump on the bandwagon, as many feel they will.

Eric Dickerson of Sealy and Craig James of Houston Stratford were the big names who made headlines Wednesday — not by signing, but by not signing.

James had said he'd sign with SMU and Dickerson had avowed he'd become a Texas Aggie. But Dickerson changed his mind over the weekend — "I'm not going to no (expletive) A&M" — and met with Meyer and his staff Sunday.

A wavering James then backed off from signing with the Ponies after being hit with rumors from other recruiters — that the NCAA was investigating Dickerson because of a 1979 gold Trans Am automobile Dickerson took possession of last Friday, and that Dickerson was going to SMU.

"I don't believe SMU is in violation of the rules, but I want to be sure. You know Eric got a car, and I don't know what's happening," James said.

"If someone says SMU is under investigation, it's a flat lie," Meyer said, and James later announced he is solidly in the SMU camp and will sign tonight.

Already in the SMU fold are some of the finest talent in America on Southwest Conference letter-of-intent day.

If the Mustangs can keep all their talent through national signing day next Wednesday, they will have an awesome haul.

"It's not a question of whether SMU will be in the Top Ten in the country but whether they will be in the top three," said an SWC insider.

SMU signed such talent as running backs Charles Wagoner of Dallas Carter, Mike Charles of Houston Kashmere, Lott McIlhenny of Highland Park and Pete Collins of Duncanville.

The Mustangs also roped wide receiver Mitchell Bennett of Bonham, tackle Michael Carter of Dallas Jefferson, and defensive back Stanley Godine of Houston Kashmere, all members of the Dallas Times Herald 1978 bluechip list compiled in a secret ballot of SWC coaches.

Also signing with SMU was quarterback Layne Walker of Clovis, N.M., the player of the year in New Mexico, and teammate defensive tackle Kevin Jennings of Clovis.

Texas signed bluechip quarterback Rick McIvor of Fort Stockton, tight end Dewey Turner of Lubbock Estacado and running back Carl Robinson of Temple.

Arkansas got a bluechipper in lineman Billy Ray Smith of Plano while Baylor landed 'chipper quarterback Kyle Money of Dallas Samuell.

Texas Tech bagged bluechip quarterback Mark James of Gregory-Portland and tackle Matt Harlien of Corpus Christi King.

Dickerson said his grandmother, a real estate agent in Houston, had promised to buy him the car if he signed to play college football in Texas, but added:

"It's nobody's business. I don't care what they think. I don't have to explain anything to anybody except the NCAA, and the NCAA investigator is satisfied."

Dickerson had visited Texas Tech, Oklahoma and Southern Cal, then later scheduled a visit to Texas, which he canceled to visit Texas A&M instead.

He said he originally wanted to attend Texas Tech because the Red Raiders were badly in need of a running back, but that the area was too desolate when he visited.

He said he wasn't interested in USC and would have liked to sign with Oklahoma except it would be too far away for his grandmother to visit him and see him play regularly.

A factor in his backing away from Texas A&M apparently was he felt he was being hounded too much by a prominent businessman in Sealy, an Aggie supporter.

NBA losing television viewers

By HOWARD SMITH
AP Sports Writer

The National Basketball Association continues to have its problems as a television attraction. Going into last week's All-Star Game, ratings for NBA games on CBS were down more than 25 percent over last season. And last season was far from a banner year.

The All-Star Game itself, the league's showcase event, managed to pull a higher audience than a lackluster college game on NBC but was thoroughly beaten by a combination of "The Superstars" and the International Championship Boxing series on ABC.

ABC's boxing got an 11.1 rating, meaning 11.1 percent of TV homes were tuned in, and "The Superstars" had a 9.2. The NBA All-Stars had a 7.8 rating, down from 10.1 for last season's game. The college game — Michigan State's lopsided victory over Kansas — settled for a 4.7.

But throughout most of the season, NBC's college basketball has been beating the NBA. The NBA has dropped from an average of 7.8 at a comparable time last season to 5.9 this time around. College basketball is also down — fewer people are watching TV these days — from 7.5 to 6.5 but is still doing better than the NBA.

Almost everyone seems to have an opinion on why the NBA is slumping in the ratings. Among the more popular explanations are: (a) the regular season doesn't mean anything since almost everyone makes the playoffs anyway, (b) the season is too long, (c) pro basketball is boring because the players don't hustle, (d) there are too many blacks in the league which cuts down on the white audience, (e) teams in big markets like New York and Chicago are having poor years, (f) fans can't relate to players making an average $147,000 per year, (g) there is too much regionalization, (h) there is not enough regionalization, (i) no new stars have emerged.

Whatever the reason, it is clear the NBA is not a threat to "Mork and Mindy" as a TV attraction. The league is in the first year of a 4-year, $74 million deal with CBS so it has three years to spruce up the act. Two years ago the merger brought new cities and new stars into the league and sparked some interest. But the bloom is now off the rose and the situation will doubtless get worse before it gets better.

CBS Sports will be covering the Daytona 500 auto race from start to finish Sunday with a 3-hour, 45-minute show. And, barring a technical snafu, viewers will be getting a remarkable view of the race through the windshield of Benny Parsons' car.

CBS, for the first time ever, has installed a camera in the car and will be showing live pictures from over Parsons' right shoulder.

MUSCLING THE BACKHAND — Martina Navratilova gets set for a backhand shot on her way to shutting out Marita Redondo 6-0, 6-0 in Wednesday's second round of the $150,000 Los Angeles Championship women's tournament.

Steers, Bobcats tie in 5-AAAA tennis

The Big Spring High School tennis team ended their District 5-AAAA dual matches Tuesday afternoon by playing San Angelo to a 9-9 tie.

The Steers held a 4-2 lead after doubles competition, but lost six singles matches in a row to put themselves at a disadvantage.

BSHS then relied on Laura Mexia, Susan McMurray and Joni Cline to deadlock the competition in the final singles matches.

Steer boss Wendell Sadler was extremely pleased with the way the girls played in district action. "Our girls have really played well this year. They figured into all of our wins as they were 7-2 against Lee, 7-2 against Abilene and 4-4 against San Angelo Central."

The Steers lost 14-4 to Abilene Cooper on Monday. They finish the district dual matches with a record of 2-4.

Debbie Austin hopes injury has healed

NORTH MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — As the defending champion, Debbie Austin faced a tough field of competitors in today's opening round of the $100,000 LPGA Classic — but she was more concerned about an unexplained shoulder ache.

After nine years of competition, Austin hit the big time in 1977 when she won five events and earned $86,393 for the year.

Last year started out the same — she won in Miami and then in Australia.

Giants hire Young

NEW YORK (AP) — For the second time in five years, the New York Giants have turned to the Miami Dolphins for help.

This time it was George Young they turned to. The Giants are hoping for a little more luck than they had with the first man they plucked from Don Shula's regime.

Young, 48, the Dolphins director of pro scouting, was named Wednesday as the Giants general manager, ending almost two months of internal squabbling between the team's uncle-nephew co-owners.

In 1974, the Giants hired Shula's top assistant, Bill Arnsparger, to take over for the fired Alex Webster as head coach. But Arnsparger was let go after 2 1/2 seasons and a 7-28 record.

"We were not able to get all of Don Shula, I'm glad to get his right arm," Giants co-owner Wellington Mara said. "George is a real working man's working man. He's done the job of five people down in Miami. He won't meet any situation he hasn't met before."

Young was introduced at a news conference barely four hours after signing a five-year contract. He said the Giants contacted him Tuesday morning after receiving permission from the Dolphins. He flew to New York Wednesday morning, was offered the job and accepted it.

OOOF! — Bob McAdoo encounters a little dramatics from Spurs' Mark Olberding Wednesday night as McAdoo debuted in a Celtic uniform. NBA action took place in the Hemisfair arena.

NBA Roundup

By The Associated Press

Who got the best of the big trade between the New York Knicks and Boston Celtics? The Indiana Pacers and San Antonio Spurs, that's who.

The outmanned Knicks, minus high-scoring Bob McAdoo, were no match for the Pacers, dropping a 106-97 decision after trailing by as many as 25 points.

And the Boston Celtics, despite McAdoo's 21 points, were blown away by the San Antonio Spurs 149-119.

"From the psychological standpoint, you know guys like McAdoo and (Spencer) Haywood are gone," said Indiana Coach Bobby Leonard. "but you've still got to go out and do it."

McAdoo didn't.

"I don't know what I'm doing on offense right now," the league's third leading scorer admitted after getting 19 of his 21 points in the final period. "I felt lost out there. It's a feeling I've never had before."

Pacers 106, Knicks 97

Ricky Sobers, held scoreless in the first half, scored 10 thirdquarter points within six minutes, sparking Indiana over the sagging Knicks. Billy Knight and Mike Bantom with 21 points apiece led a balanced Indiana attack.

Spurs 149, Celtics 119

San Antonio rode a 32-point performance by George Gervin to its rout of Boston. Gervin was supported by Larry Kenon's 22 points while Allan Bristow contributed a career-high 11 assists.

Kings 108, 76ers 106

Otis Birdsong's 26 points and Bob Nash's season-high 24 helped Kansas City snap Philadelphia's three-game winning streak. It was the Kings' first triumph in Philadelphia since 1973, 11 games ago.

Julius Erving, who missed the 76ers' last game with a sprained ankle, returned to the lineup but was held to nine points. Teammate Darryl Dawkins was high with 27.

Pistons 111, Nuggets 107

Rookie John Long scored 27 points and veteran M.L. Carr added 24 as Detroit snapped a five-game losing streak. The Pistons, despite the absence of star center Bob Lanier with an injured toe, led all the way. Denver's George McGinnis got 33 points and David Thompson 28.

SuperSonics 116, Hawks 104

Gus Williams and Dennis Johnson each scored 22 points as Seattle snapped a four-game losing streak. The Sonics' defense took over in the last 14 minutes, limiting the Hawks to 21 points.

Bucks 115, Nets 94

Junior Bridgeman scored 19 of his 29 points and Marques Johnson 15 of his 23 in the second half as Milwaukee rallied from a 14-point first-quarter deficit. The Nets, who had a four-game winning streak broken, were led by Winford Boynes with 17 points.

Warriors 113, Jazz 101

Phil Smith scored 34 points, including 12 in the first quarter and 14 in the third, as Golden State broke a four-game losing streak. The fourth quarter started with the Warriors ahead 83-71 but they broke it open with a 14-7 run. The loss was the Jazz' 27th in 30 road games, worst in the league.

Hawks, Queens visit Odessa

ODESSA — The Howard College Hawks and Hawk Queens will be trying to stop the high flying Odessa College basketball team's tonight when the two schools battle in the Odessa College gym.

The game is a must for the Hawk Queens if they are to remain in contention for the conference championship. Howard stands at 4-3, which is somewhat disappointing in that they have been ranked in the nation's top 20 for much of the year. Odessa College is 7-2, good enough for second place in the league.

Odessa will be seeking some type of revenge tonight, as the OC crew blew a 17-point lead in their first conference meeting against the Hawk Queens in losing.

The Howard College men will be playing the role of the spoilers tonight. The Hawks, with a very deceptive league mark of 1-12, will be hoping to take Odessa College out of the Region V playoff picture. Odessa, 8-4 in conference, defeated the Hawks by 12 points in an earlier meeting in Big Spring.

The Hawk Queens will start at 6:00, with the men's game slated for an 8:00 tipoff. Starting for the Hawks will be guards Rocky Rawls and Robby Randolph, forwards Allen Bonds and Linwood Hines, and center R.Q. Tolliver.

Stanton-Seagraves for District 5-A title

The Stanton Buffaloes and Seagraves clash in a boys' basketball game in a 7:30 game at Andrews today. In a recent start, the Bisons dropped a decision to lowly Anton, a team they had beaten by 30 points earlier in the year.

Tickets for the contest are $1 adults and 50 cents for students.

Stanton, coached by Eric Looney, won the first half championship without losing a game but the Buffaloes have lost four times in last half competition.

Tommy Morrow, Paul Sparks and Todd Smith lead the Buffaloes, getting good help from such boys as Ben English and Craig Eiland.

Roth leads PBA list

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — It took just six outings on the Professional Bowlers Association tour this year for Mark Roth to return to the top of the earnings list.

Roth, of North Arlington, N.J., the leading PBA money winner each of the last two years, picked up the $15,000 first prize in St. Louis last week for his first victory of the season. It boosted his 1979 earnings to $36,035, the PBA said Wednesday.

Branyan shoots UT past Baylor

By The Associated Press
Abe Lemons said Tyrone Branyan's 41-point outburst against Baylor Wednesday night may have been a nice Valentine's Day present for him than the singing Valentine his wife sent him to start the day.

"This may have been the biggest day of my life," the University of Texas coach went on, describing Branyan as "like a white buffalo — very, very rare. He's the rarest of them all. There will never be another like him."

The 12th-ranked Longhorns followed Branyan to a 102-83 victory over Baylor, maintaining its one-game edge in the Southwest Conference basketball race over 11th-ranked Arkansas, which crushed Southern Methodist, 71-55, Wednesday night.

In the only other SWC action, Texas A&M snapped a three-game losing streak with a 61-56 victory over Texas Christian.

Branyan, once thought too slow to play major college basketball, played an almost perfect first half. He hit 11 of 12 field goal attempts and three free throws to go into the dressing room with 25 points at intermission. All that without committing a foul.

Texas took its 49-38 halftime lead and cruised in for the victory.

Vinnie Johnson, the SWC's leading scorer, hit 21 for Baylor, but suffered a deep knee bruise on a goaltending call and Bear Coach Jim Haller ruled him doubtful for Saturday's game with Rice.

Sidney Moncrief, Arkansas' high-scoring guard, was used as a decoy in the Razorbacks' game with SMU. He scored only eight points, as Coach Eddie Sutton used him to pull down missed SMU shots. Moncrief responded with 13 rebounds and seven assists, firing pinpoint passes to U.S. Reed, Keith Peterson and other teammates in a new fast-break offense.

Vernon Smith's 21 points paced the Aggies' victory over TCU's Horned Frogs.

Texas A&M thwarted TCU with an early pressing defense that forced numerous turnovers, and the Aggies scored 17 of the game's first 19 points. The victory was A&M's 21st of the season — only the second time an Aggie basketball team has won that many games.

Texas Tech is at Houston in tonight's only SWC game.

In Saturday action, Texas Tech is at Texas in a 1:40 p.m. TV game, Baylor is at Rice, SMU is at TCU and Houston is at Arkansas.

Guidry honored again

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Ron Guidry, the most effective southpaw pitcher in the American League in 50 years, received a $12,000 Steuben crystal form Wednesday and recognition as the nation's top pro athlete at the annual Dunlop Pro-Am awards banquet.

The sponsoring Dunlop Tire and Rubber Corp. and the Greater Buffalo Chamber of Commerce also named Penn State quarterback Chuck Fusina as the top American amateur athlete of 1978. Fusina received a Steuben crystal eagle.

Other nominees for the pro award were former Cincinnati Red Pete Rose, and golf rookie Nancy Lopez. Other finalists for the top amateur award included 16-year-old swimmer Tracy Caulkins, Michigan quarterback Rick Leach, marathoner Bill Rodgers and worldclass gymnast Kurt Thomas of Indiana State.

Homemakers vote to donate cookies

The City Extension Homemakers Club met Feb. 9 in the home of Mrs. Jamie Burns. Mrs. Jean Cantrell served as co-hostess and presented the devotional, Psalm 65:8-13, to the 19 members present.

Roll call was answered by naming a small creature in the environment that is beneficial to them or their plants. "Learn to enjoy the natural things around you," was the thought for the day.

It was announced that members should contribute to the State T.E.H.A. Members also voted to donate cookies to the Big Spring State Hospital April 23 and Nov. 12.

Dolores Norred and Alta Lee Underwood volunteered to go to the Leader Training

Meeting, "Furniture Arrangements," Feb. 19.

A three-part program was presented to members. Thetus Dunagan gave hers on "Satisfying Homemaking"; Lillian Dawson presented one concerning the "Perfect Housewife"; and the final part was "About Homemakers and Their Families."

A motion was made and seconded for each person who forgets to say the new club name or calls it Home Demonstration Club be fined one cent each time.

Two cards will be sent to members with illnesses.

The club adjourned and will meet again Feb. 23 with Mildred Callihan and Clarie Conger.

Art show winners chosen

By MICKIE DIXON

The entries to the First Annual Big Country Area Miniature Art Show are many and beautiful.

The response of the merchants in the form of purchase awards is good and much appreciated by the Big Spring Art Association, sponsors of the show, as is the attendance by the public.

The Big Spring Art Association extends their heartfelt "thanks" to Citizens Federal Credit Union for their hospitality and cooperation in allowing the Miniature Art Show to display in their beautiful lobby.

The awards in graphics, which is dry media such as pencil, charcoal, pen and ink or colored pencil, are first place, L. D'Allesandro, "The Old Tree," second place, Becky Smiley, a pencil sketch of the "Girl Next Door," third place to D'Allesandro for an ink named "Castle," D'Allesandro is from Midland.

Awards in mixed media, where more than one media is used, are "Prayer Mystery of the Sacred Cornmeal" by Charlotte Beach, first place, second place went to "Life Lights" by Carol Strong plus a purchase award from

Broughton Truck and Implement Company. Third place was awarded to Carolyn Walker, Colorado City, for "Weeds and Things." A purchase award from Circle Beauty Shop went to Wanda Denson for "Primrose."

In oils first place and a purchase award went to Myrtle Joiner of Snyder for "Drilling for Oil." Second place went to Carolyn Walker, a one inch square painting called "Explosion." Third place went to Londa Henry for "By the Window." Purchase awards went to Willie Carter's "Hand Pump" by First Federal Savings and Loan Association, "The Barn" by Jean Hensley, who paints as Jose, by Hobby Center and Frame Gallery; "Beargrass" by Jeannetta Brown from Parks Agency, Inc.

In the pastel category first and second place went to Vicky Clark, Seminole, for "The Red Sucker," and "A Spot of Fall." Third place went to "The Wild One" by Roberta Ross. Watercolor media produced "La Playa" by Charlotte Peach of Seminole as first place winner, also second place "When I Consider" by Ms. Beach.

Third place went to "Monarch" by Jose (Jean Hensley). A purchase award by Brown, Brancroft and Miller went to "Windmill" by Jose.

"Northern Blowing In" by Al Scott, a purchase award by Big Spring Hardware.

In the acrylic division, first place went to Carolyn Walker for "Landscape," second place to Arlys Scott, "Shoreline" and third place to Hazel Duggan, "Prickly Pear."

The sculpture division had few entries but they were well executed. First place went to Angkov Vath a Terra Cotta statue by Rama Touch. The judge praised it highly. Second place went to a brass crab called "Cancer" by D'Allesandro, third place went to "Brass Frog" by Charles McKaskle. It is hoped next year there will be more entries in sculpture.

Many of the works of art in the Miniature Art Show are for sale to the public, and will be on display until the awards ceremony Saturday at 2:30 p.m.

Official Tween 12 and 20 Answer not blackmail

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

Dr. Wallace: I'm 16 and going to present you with a problem you probably are very familiar with.

I met a guy 28, that I have a big crush on. We dated once, but when he found out my age he said I was too young for him.

I'm not looking for a serious relationship but would like to date this boy again.

What should I do? I could put pressure on him because he works for my father. — H.H., Oklahoma City, Okla.

H.H.: Do yourself a favor, and find a boy closer to your age. How dare you ever think of using blackmail to get a guy!

Dr. Wallace: A dear friend of mine introduced a boy to me that she met at a party. He is cute and appears to have good manners and she likes him very much.

It so happens my boyfriend knows him and told me he has been in trouble with the police for stealing a car. Should I tell my friend about this? — Nan, Nashua, N.H.

Nan: Absolutely not. What if your boyfriend is mistaken? If not, the boy deserves a chance to prove himself.

If he hasn't changed his ways, your friend will find out soon enough.

Dr. Wallace: I'm a senior in high school who is planning to attend and graduate from college. I want to be an independent woman and support myself in a satisfactory manner.

I'm aware that women's salaries have come a long way, but do you know how far they have come. I'd appreciate any info. — Bella, San Luis Obispo, Calif.

Bella: The Labor Department reported that in 1978 in the United States the average woman with a degree made about $7,200 a year while males who dropped out of high school and who were employed, averaged over $9,000 per year.

It just doesn't seem right, does it?

Send questions to Dr. Robert Wallace, Tween 12 and 20, in care of this newspaper. For Dr. Wallace's teen booklet, "Happiness or Despair," please send $1 and 2¢ cent stamped, large, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Wallace, in care of this newspaper.

Henceforth, No Whence!

DEAR ABBY: I have always admired you for admitting your errors and taking your lumps, but don't be so quick to knuckle under.

Having written "from whence" you apologized all over the place because the word "whence" means, "from what place, from what source, from what origin, etc." ... thus you have written, "from from what source."

No big mistake in my book. I have read "from whence" in the Roman Catholic Liturgy (Apostles' Creed): "He ascended into heaven, FROM WHENCE He shall come to judge the living and the dead."

ON YOUR SIDE IN CHICAGO

DEAR ON: Thanks, friend, but even a divinely inspired church can be somewhat less than divinely inspired in its use of language, according to John J. Henrietta of South Euclid, Ohio.

He, too, pointed out that although I was dead wrong, I was in good company.

DEAR ABBY: After 37 years of marriage, my husband walked out on me. I was a good and faithful wife, but he was not a good and faithful husband. In a way, I am relieved because I no longer have to put up with his lying, cheating and sadistic brutality.

Please tell young women to prepare themselves for some kind of job so they won't end up like me. I was trained for nothing, and have never worked outside my home.

I can't even draw Social Security on my own — only on my husband's earnings, and then not until he retires (which he doesn't plan to do until he's 70).

So here I am, 62, not able to work, trying to live on the $200 a month he has been giving me.

When he retires, he will get Social Security and a nice retirement from the university where he's been employed for many years.

I never thought this would happen to me. Sign me ...

WISED UP TOO LATE IN URBANA

DEAR WISED UP: There is nothing you can do now about the shortsightedness of your past. But your experience might signal a warning to other women. (P.S. Don't quietly accept whatever your husband decides to give you. See a lawyer.)

DEAR ABBY: I liked your answer to I ALREADY BELIEVE, who wanted to know how to get rid of religious hucksters. But you were too gentle when you said, "Tell them you don't want to take up their valuable time."

Abby, their time is not wasted trying to get converts. It's part of their religious program to spend their time that way. Why not say, "Please don't take up MY valuable time. It's more honest."

May I tell you how I got rid of a pair of religious salesmen? I got my Bible and turned to Luke 10:7, and read aloud that our Lord told His disciples: "Go not from house to house ..."

I was never bothered again. I ALREADY BELIEVE, TOO

CONFIDENTIAL TO "KEEP ME NAMELESS IN ORANGE CITY, FLA.": Please send me your name and address. I have help and hope for you. I agree with Orson Welles, who said, "Gluttony is not a secret vice."

If you need help in writing letters of sympathy, congratulations or thank-you letters, get Abby's booklet "How to Write Letters for all Occasions." Send $1 and a long, stamped (25 cents), self-addressed envelope to Abby: 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212

Holiday Inn site of club meeting

Bonnie Bennett presided and led members in the Altrusa blessing when the Altrusa Club of Big Spring met Feb. 8 at the Holiday Inn for their regular business meeting.

The tables were decorated with Valentine hearts arranged into vines with leaves of red hearts for the noon meeting. Candles also accented the tables.

A vase of red carnations was presented to the sweetheart of the year, Mrs. Bennett, by Frances Hendrick and Kaye McDaniel.

Members voted to meet at Holiday Inn on the second and fourth Thursday at noon.

A report of the nominating committee was read by Marguerette Wooten. Ms. McDaniel, Altrusa information chairman, conducted the initiation of Kathryn Perry and Pat Higley. Perry was assisted by Ms. Wooten, Evelyn Delatour and Gertrude McCann.

Twenty-four members and one guest, Casandra Green, attended the meeting.

The next meeting will be Feb. 22 with Dori Mitchell, chairperson of vocational service, in charge. Mr. John Stiles, Big Spring High School, will be guest speaker.

Past Matrons treated to Mexican breakfast

The Past Matrons Club of Coahoma Chapter 499 Order of the Eastern Star were treated to a Mexican Breakfast at Alberto's LaMacarena Room Feb. 3.

The table was laid with a white tablecloth and enhanced by red napkins. Small fans and hardtop miniature Mexican hats also accented the table. Decorations from "South of the Border" were atop another table.

Hostesses for the event included Mrs. Florence Reed and Mrs. Tom Barber. Presiding was Mrs. Eulu Bess Westmoreland, president.

Mrs. Read worded the invocation and presented the program. A memorial tribute to the late Sister Bertie Turner was given by the president. Emilee Beckham thanked members for flowers and courtesies during her illness.

Four guests were present in addition to 19 members. These included Mrs. Russel Dorsey, Mrs. J. B. Elliot, Mrs. Fay Bart and Vera Gross.

Mrs. John Davis and Elizabeth Martin will serve as hostesses for the March Breakfast to be held at Coahoma Methodist Church on March 3.

Decade of 1980 forecasts

Economists look ahead

NEW YORK (AP) — With the immediate future of the 1979 economy hidden in confusion and uncertainty, you soon will find the seers turning their telescopes instead to the decade of the 1980s.

Some already have. A University of Pennsylvania group has published what it calls its "Ten-Year Economic Forecast: Less Optimistic." And Morgan Guaranty has issued "Decade of Promise — Or Problems?"

Why, you might ask, should we listen to a 10-year forecast when we can't seem to be able to deal with the remaining months of 1979?

For hope, perhaps. The Morgan analyses offers the "reasonable" expectation of median family income exceeding $21,000 by 1990, measured in today's dollar, or about 20 percent higher than now.

A more substantial explanation is that while none can say what the 1980s will bring, it still is possible to study the basic ingredients of growth, and thus determine the decade's potential.

Morgan is more optimistic than Wharton Econometric Forecasting, the U. of Penn. group. Neither sees a boom, but neither foresees a bust. Both see the potential for a better decade than the 70s.

What constitutes better? More real takehome pay, less inflation, less unemployment, a stronger dollar.

Both see labor force quality improving. It should grow less than in the 70s, because of two decades of low birth rates, and it should be more mature, more experienced, more reliable, more productive.

George R. Schink of Wharton expects that unemployment will fall to a 4 percent to 5 percent range, roughly 1 to 2 percentage points lower than the current rate. But will that mean much greater productivity?

Both Morgan and Wharton tend to think so, both projecting annual rates of just under 2 percent, compared with only seven-tenths of 1 percent during the 1970s, but still below the 2.3 percent of the 1960s.

Restraining the improvement, says Schink, will be a continuation of sluggish research and development expenditures, uncertainty because of higher energy prices, and requirements of anti-pollution measures.

Real growth — expansion with inflation excluded — is expected by Wharton to range between 2.7 percent and 3.2 percent a year, and by Morgan to average 3.3 percent, compared with a bit over 3 percent in the 1970s.

Wharton sees inflation running at a 5 percent to 7 percent annual rate. Morgan doesn't specify a rate, but its other assumptions tend to support an improvement from last year's 7.4 percent.

In all, the U.S. potential seems strong to the forecasters, especially if certain problems, such as reasonable energy costs, can be cleared up. And prospects for even stronger economic conditions seem to exist.

Cotton production meet due Monday in Lamesa

Dawson County will have its annual cotton production meeting Monday, beginning at 1:30 p.m. in the Forrest Park Community Center, at S. 9th and Houston in Lamesa.

Bob Hale, chairman of the County Crops subcommittee will direct the program, which consists of a number of topics.

Dr. James Supak, area agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service (TAES) will speak first on bed planting of cotton and chemical weed control. Jim Leser, TAES entomologist, will give a talk on cotton insects beginning at 2:15 p.m., and a 10-minute break will follow his discussion.

At 2:40 p.m., the program will resume with Dr. Dale Pennington, TAES soil chemist talking on cotton fertility. At 3:10 p.m., the use of chemicals and cotton varieties to control Nematodes Disease problems, verticillium and Fusarium Wilt, will be the topic of the final discussion, led by TAES plant pathologist Dr. Robert Berry.

BETTER MOUSETRAP INVENTOR — George Oakes, 92, a retired mechanical engineer and an inventor, demonstrates last year his invention, a better mousetrap. He has since built a better better mousetrap.

A better better mouse trap built

By JULES LOH
AP Special Correspondent

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — His work done, his children grown, his age past 80, his days of toil to get ahead well behind, George Oakes nonetheless sat down one day and built a better mousetrap.

He patented it, found a manufacturer, and put it up for sale at a local hardware store.

Ten years went by. George Oakes, now past 90, grew restless. But what remained? What new challenge can life hold for a person who has already built a better mousetrap?

Just one. He built a better better mousetrap.

That one is patented, too, but not yet on the market. "You can see it is an improvement," he said. "It has all the features of the other one but it has just two parts. Much cheaper to make."

The features of the other one — a better mousetrap is not easy to describe — are that your fingers are in peril in setting it and do not go near the gruesome remains in emptying it. Both jobs are done with a mere pinch of thumb and forefinger. Simplicity itself.

The better better mousetrap is even simpler. His model, which he fashioned using hand tools and sheet steel, doesn't even have a spring. The springiness of the steel itself suffices.

If, however, the world is somehow not yet ready for a better better mousetrap, George Oakes will survive the disappointment.

"So many of my inventions came either too soon or too late," he said. "I built a home refrigerator back in 1910 to replace the ice box but nobody was interested. Ahead of my time, I guess."

"But then I also built a pump to fill fountain pens, which came out just before ball point pens came in. I built tire chains you can put on without jacking up the car." He shook his head, enjoying the irony. "They never got off the ground. Came out the same time as snow tires."

George Oakes is a slight man with chiseled features, quick, inquisitive eyes and rock-steady hands. The pioneering spirit is in his genes.

His great-grandfather came here as an Indian scout in 1789, a year after the first settlers in the lower Ohio valley, and he was born, in 1886, in the house his grandfather built of hewn timber cut to clear the virgin land his father broke with a plow.

George Oakes was not born to be a farmer, though. "Some people are born to be musicians, some to be lawyers, so it goes. I was born to design things."

He designed his refrigerator, prematurely, the year he graduated as a mechanical engineer. In 40 years with the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., in Crystal City, Mo., he picked up more than 20 patents designing better ways to make glass.

Designing things just to make life easier is what has brought him satisfaction if not great wealth.

George Oakes gives no evidence of slowing down. His wit is as lively as his step. Indeed, at 92 he is busy building a new workshop. May we expect, some day soon, a better better better mousetrap?

"Oh, I don't know. I'll always be working on something, though. Just tinkering around."

Movies, stars now popular subject for books

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — There's a spate of new books about one of the most popular subjects of recent years — the movies and the stars who make them. Some of the books:

In "Lauren Bacall By Myself," she reveals to the reading public what her friends have known for years: That Lauren Bacall is a classy lady.

The actress says she wrote her autobiography with no outside help, and it shows. There isn't a false note. The book is surprisingly mellow, considering Bacall's frequently tart tongue.

She has little to write of anyone. She gives her father a few knocks for walking out on the family. She respected her possessive mentor, Howard Hawks, though his anti-semitic remarks frightened her (he didn't know she was Jewish). Although Jack L. Warner treated her and the rest of his stars shabbily, she only says he "was one of the most ill-at-ease human beings I'd ever encountered."

Yet Bacall can call a spade a spade. She writes that Frank Sinatra "behaved like a complete s---" after having planned marriage with the widow Bogart.

"Sophia: Living and Loving" is billed as "Her Own Story," but the cover reads "by A.E. Hotchner." So who is speaking? Sophia Loren, apparently, since the narrative is in the first person, interspersed with commentaries by her husband, mother, sister, etc.

But, except for her much Marshall's conviction is upheld

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A federal appeals court, calling the killing of a prisoner "an outrageous episode in law enforcement," has upheld the Frank Hayes, the former Castroville, Texas, town marshal.

The U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals rejected a plea Wednesday by Hayes that his sentence of life in prison was too severe.

Hayes was convicted in U.S. District Court at Waco on a charge of depriving Richard A. Morales of his liberty without due process of law, resulting in his death.

At an earlier state court trial in San Angelo on a charge of murder, Hayes was convicted on the lesser charge of aggravated assault and sentenced to 10 years.

In appealing the 1977 federal court conviction, Hayes contended that the federal trial on the same offense subjected him to illegal double jeopardy. The court rejected that, too.

Morales was killed by a shotgun blast after officers took him out on a rural road and turned him over to Hayes. After the shooting, Hayes drove up the road several hundred yards to where the officers were waiting and told them Morales had escaped.

After they left, Hayes allegedly loaded the body into his car. His wife Dorothy reportedly then drove the car 400 miles to Panola County, near the Louisiana line where she and her sister, Alice Baldwin of San Antonio, purportedly buried the body in a shallow grave in an isolated area.

In the state court trial, Mrs. Hayes pleaded no contest on a charge of concealing evidence and was sentenced to one-year probation. Alice Baldwin was not prosecuted.

At the federal trial, Mrs. Hayes and Alice Baldwin were convicted of being accessories after the fact. A three-year sentence was dealt to Mrs. Hayes and an 18-month sentence to Alice Baldwin, with 12 months suspended.

They joined in this appeal, and their convictions also were upheld in this decision.

publicized "romance" with Cary Grant (was he serious or simply exercising the Grant charm?), there is little surprise in Loren's story. Perhaps that is because she has always been free to discuss her illegitimacy, the harsh times during the war, the scandal of her romance with Carlo Ponti, etc.

Like Bacall, Loren says little that is derogatory of her contemporaries.

On "It Happened in Naples," she was startled when Clark Gable's wristwatch alarm sounded in the middle of a love scene. He gave her a pat and left the set.

"That's how it was with Gable. A thorough professional. He came on time, knew his lines and left the instant his wrist-watch buzzed at five o'clock. It was a nine-to-five job for him, and his watch was the equivalent of the factory whistle."

Veteran director Edward Dmytryk ("The Caine Mutiny," "Raintree Country," "The Young Lions") has written his autobiography with no apparent outside help. He calls the book "It's a Hell of a Life, But Not a Bad Living."

Dmytryk's life is more interesting than most directors'. He started as a projectionist at Paramount in the silent era, became an editor, then director, graduating from "B" movies with "Murder, My Sweet," which helped set the style for hard-boiled detective movies.

The biggest drama of his life happened off-screen when he was an unfriendly witness before a Red-hunting congressional committee. He served six months in prison, recanted and recovered his film career. He writes frankly about a period that still can evoke bitter feelings in Hollywood.

Struggle in Iran similar to America

WACO, Texas (AP) — The Iranian struggle bears strong similarities to the American civil rights movement of the 1960s, United Nations Ambassador Andrew Young says.

He told a news conference he feels the Iranian's new leader, Ayatollah Khomeini, wants to establish order and discipline in the troubled land as soon as possible.

Young appeared in Waco for Paul Quinn college's annual Founder's Day celebration — a worship-like service attended by about 2,000 persons.

Young said a statement he made several days ago that Khomeini would be made a "saint" was misinterpreted. "What I was saying was that you in the press would probably do that. I didn't characterize him. I think there is a new appreciation for the tremendous discipline and power exercised by ordinary people in the street, most of whom had no weapons and who successfully toppled one of the most powerful regimes in the world."

Many persons, particularly Americans, don't understand the Islamic religion or language, Young said.

An example, he said, is Khomeini's statement he would cut off traitors' hands.

"As I read the quote, he (Khomeini) talked about cutting off the hand of imperialism interfering with the economy of Iran. I don't take it literally to mean he was going to cut off someone's hand," Young said.

Young said he saw similar elements in the Iranian turmoil and the early civil rights movement in this country.

"The blacks in America were essentially locked out of the political process with denial of their right to vote, so they began to go to church in search of new political leadership and organization. Many people, myself included, ended up in the electoral arena or political arena. We're probably seeing some of that now in Iran," he said.

He said the influx of undocumented workers "has not necessarily been a drag" on our society.

Fife indicted for murder

ODESSA — An Ector County grand jury has indicted Stephen Fife, boyfriend of an Odessa woman whose body was found last Thursday in a shallow grave in Crane County.

Fife, 22, led officers to the grave of Catherine Ann (Fifi) Murphy, 19. He was charged with murder.

The grand jury and District Attorney John Green recommended that Fife's bond be raised from $60,000 to $100,000.

Another murder indictment was returned against Steve Paul Perrin, 21, an Odessa oil field worker who on Jan. 5 took Ector County law enforcement officers to the grave of Raymond Carl White 12 miles west of Odessa.

White disappeared last June without saying goodbye to relatives.

White's body was buried about three feet deep near Penwell.

Furr's earnings reach new high

Furr's Cafeteria Inc., 1978 earnings reached an all-time high of $3.8 million, 40.2 percent higher than for the previous year.

Sales were $84.6 million or 18.5 percent higher than in 1977, according to Don Furr, chief executive officer. Earnings per share increased to $1.63, a 39.3 percent increase over 1977.

Fourth quarter earnings were $979,000 or 42 cents per share, an increase of 13.6 percent over the fourth quarter of 1977. Sales during the quarter were $22.1 million, an increase of $3.9 million or 21 percent over sales of $18.2 million during the same quarter in 1977.

Two heading for prison

Daniel Velasquez, 406 N. Gregg, and Ronald McClain, 1505 Evelyn, were transported to Midland by Howard County Sheriff Deputy Eddie Owens to be taken to state prison by the Texas Department of Corrections personnel.

Velasquez was given a ten year probation in October for indecency with a child in August. The probation was revoked Jan. 3 following a charge of entering without permission. He will serve a five year term.

McClain was arrested Jan. 18 for theft by taking and received a five year prison term.

Merle Haggard concert axed

LUBBOCK — Poor ticket sales have caused promoters to cancel the Merle Haggard Concert, which was to have been held in the Municipal Coliseum here at 8 o'clock Saturday evening.

A spokesman said "only about" 450 tickets for the show had been sold. The fact that the country-western singer has cancelled several planned appearances here in the past might have contributed to the public apathy.

$441,000 federal grant sought

SWEETWATER — Sweetwater city councilmen have voted to apply for a $441,000 federal grant.

The city, in the past, has received $665,000 from the Department of Housing and Urban Development for improvements in the south-western section of the city.

Should the city receive additional money, it would be used for more work on sewers, paving and other projects in the same area according to Mayor Pro Tem Tom Wideman Jr.

INFLATION FIGHTING ideas

Let's Get Fresh!

Taking advantage of seasonal buys in produce is a good inflation fighting idea. When such items as corn, onions, squash, tomatoes, potatoes, melons, peaches, plums and all the other favorites come to market in large quantities, the price naturally goes down. That's when Inflation Fighters make their moves. By featuring these plentiful fruits and vegetables often in their family's menus throughout the year, they save substantially.

From the U.S. Office of Consumer Affairs: "In season, fresh and raw fruits and vegetables usually cost less than canned or frozen varieties. Depending on the time of year and your personal preference, it is a good idea to compare prices between different forms of the same food."

Next week's Inflation Fighting idea: "CHECK OUT RAIN CHECKS."

Carter orders report of Soviet involvement

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department, acting on the orders of a "very angry" President Carter, wants a full report from the Soviet Union on the "actions by the Soviet advisers involved in" the death of the U.S. ambassador to Afghanistan.

Spokesman Hodding Carter disclosed Wednesday that Soviet advisers were at the scene of violence in Afghanistan earlier in the day which claimed the life of Ambassador Adolph "Spike" Dubs.

"We are angry and upset," said spokesman Carter. He added that the department was trying to find out exactly what happened before deciding how to proceed.

Deputy Secretary of State Warren M. Christopher, acting in the direction of the president, who is in Mexico, summoned Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin to the State Department to discuss the matter.

In Mexico City, officials with the president said he was "very angry" about the incident.

Jody Powell, Carter's press secretary, said, "The more you read about this, the more outrageous it becomes."

Spokesman Carter said Christopher expressed to Dobrynin "in the strongest terms the shock of the U.S. government" over Soviet actions during the incident.

According to witnesses, Dubs was shot and killed as Afghan police and their Soviet advisers stormed the hotel room where he was being held by a group of Islamic terrorists.

Carter confirmed that the reports from American diplomats who witnessed the incident indicated Soviet advisers were involved in the assault.

Following a pro-Soviet coup in Kabul last April, Soviet advisers have been assisting the police, military and other branches of the Afghan government.

Informed sources said that the Soviets had been asked, while Dubs was being held, not to storm the hotel and to try to negotiate his release.

The State Department also filed a protest with the Afghan government about its handling of the affair Wednesday.

Carter said, "The refusal to consult by the Soviet advisers on the spot is impossible to justify, given the fact that the life of the American ambassador was in jeopardy."

Meanwhile, the administration made plans to send a government plane to Kabul with Dubs' family to return his body to the United States for burial in Arlington National Cemetery next week with full government honors.

Dubs, 58, was a career diplomat who specialized in Soviet affairs for most of his 30 years in the Foreign Service. He became ambassador to Afghanistan in July.

Abdul Farahi, charged affairs at the Afghan embassy in Washington sent his government's condolences to the State Department and ordered that the embassy flag be flown at half-mast.

To stop illegal aliens:

Investment needed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Without continued American aid, the flow of illegal aliens from Latin America is sure to continue, the State Department's highest ranking Mexican-American told Congress.

American taxpayers need to make a "critical investment in the future well-being and security of the United States" by increasing aid to Latin America, Abelardo L. Valdez added on Wednesday.

But without continuing American support, claimed Valdez, the Caribbean and Latin American countries will lapse into cities of "unmanageable size filled with millions of undereducated, jobless and underemployed workers and choked by congestion."

Valdez, an Agency for International Development assistant administrator, told the House subcommittee on inter-American affairs, that the increased funds "is not really 'foreign' assistance, but a critical investment... an investment for Pennsylvania and Texas and New York as well as Bolivia, Honduras and the Dominican Republic."

pollution and energy shortages. Millions will be trying to escape across international boundaries to pockets of growth in nearby countries and northward to the United States, creating growing tensions between countries.

"The phenomenon of the undocumented worker is not solely a law enforcement problem," said Valdez. "Its root cause is unbalanced economic growth that does not produce adequate economic opportunities for the rural and urban poor. Its long-term solution must be sought in the balanced economic development of the countries these people are leaving in such vast numbers."

Valdez noted that AID wants $230.3 million from congress for fiscal year 1980.

Lamesa Chamber of Commerce to host demonstrators event

The Lamesa Chamber of Commerce will host a dinner for the 1978 result demonstrators and members of the Dawson County crops subcommittee. The dinner will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Turner's Restaurant.

Appreciation certificates will be presented to each individual producer who conducted a result demonstration on his farm in 1978.

Following the recognition program, members of the subcommittee will review the 1978 demonstration program and make plans for 1979.

Bob Hale, chairman, will preside for the business meeting.

Consolidated 1978 net income for Pioneer Corporation was reported as $33,999,549, compared to a record of $38,211,912 for 1977. Earnings per share were $3.68, compared to $4.10 per share in 1977. Consolidated net income for the fourth quarter of 1978 was $4,679,358 or 51 cents per share. This compares to $7,861,125 or 84 cents per share reported in the fourth quarter of 1977.

Watson said 1978 earnings were down from 1977 due to a number of adverse conditions, many of which had been anticipated at least to a lesser degree.
