British Airmada Soars North Into War Clouds

Black birds of prey against the brilliant glory of a spring morning are these British bombers as they soar aloft in a flying field in France. They are Bristol Blenheim planes, of the type now blasting at German-held towns in Norway.

Germans Man Guns In Norway

The German caption on this picture states it shows Nazi soldiers manning a light anti-aircraft gun in Trondheim, Norway. Late reports indicate French Foreign Legion is inflicting heavy losses on Nazi in this region.

Texas' Stability Is Due To Foods And Petroleum

AUSTIN, April 29.—Stability of Texas industry and trade even during "wild gyrations" of Northern and Eastern stock markets is attributed by a University of Texas economist to day-in day-out consumption of Texas food stuffs and petroleum products.

Citing index gains of 3 to 15 points in major industries of the State over March, 1939, Dr. F. A. Buechel, business statistician, predicted agriculture and oil will dominate the Texas scene "for a long time to come."

"Next to the necessary food for subsistence, gasoline stands at the top of the list among the indispensable items in the American pattern of living," he pointed out.

Composite index of the State's business activity, calculated by the University Bureau of Business Research, has climbed 6.4 points above that of March, 1939, and stands almost half a point above February.

Dr. Buechel forecast even better business for Texas, "if, as is expected, the national business indexes soon begin to turn upward."

Department store sales and electric power consumption led the State's march on the better-business road, with 15-point gains over a year ago and more than 3-point increases over February.

Runs of crude oil to stills registered the only decline, dropping 3 points below March a year ago and 10 under February.

Employment, payrolls and freight carloadings each gained several points over March, 1939.

Home Driver Is Most Careless A Survey Shows

AUSTIN.—Much has been said regarding the relationship between accidents and driver residence. It has been stated that drivers from other parts of the State or Country come into a particular community and cause accidents.

Since this question has been raised, a study has been made of the fatal accidents occurring in Texas during the first three months of 1940. This study has revealed that in fatal accidents occurring in cities of over 2500 population, 87 per cent of the drivers involved were residents of the home county. On county roads, 75 per cent of the drivers involved in fatal accidents lived in the county in which the accident occurred.

In the entire State of Texas for the first three months of 1940 there were reported 341 fatal accidents which involved 469 drivers of motor vehicles. Two hundred eighty-two or 60 per cent of the drivers involved in fatal accidents lived in the county in which the accident occurred. One hundred fifty-five or 33 per cent of the drivers involved in fatal accidents lived outside of the county in which the accident occurred.

This survey indicates that the home driver is the careless driver, becoming more careful as he drives in unfamiliar territory.

Texas University Scientific Circus Scheduled Friday

AUSTIN, April 29.—A four-day scientific circus will be staged May 3 for 1,200 Texas school boys and girls here for the Texas Interscholastic League State Meet, University of Texas engineers announced today.

Presented by engineering, architecture, physics and chemistry students, the thirtieth annual Power Show will demonstrate feats of strength performed, not by "strong men," but by electricity and diesel engines.

Instead of watching acrobats on tight ropes, visitors themselves will mount to the chamber behind the University's giant pipe organ to see its mechanism in operation.

In place of the usual circus magician, Leaguers and other costumed of the free show will see a stroboscope make water appear to run upward into a faucet and the rotating parts of a machine appear to move counter-clockwise.

The wild animal act will show a mouse trapped in a light bulb—in color.

Engineering, architecture, physics and chemistry buildings will be open to visitors, each showing special exhibits and presenting demonstrations of recent scientific discoveries as well as freak phenomena of the scientific world.

World Hitch Hiker On Last 3,000 Miles

GREENVILLE, S. C.—If Geo. O'Brien can hitch-hike just 3,000 more miles in four months he can collect a $3,000 bet he made three years ago.

O'Brien, a 42-year-old caddy, wagered he could thumb his way around the world from California in three years. So far he's covered 65,000 miles and has until June to finish his trip.

1,200 High School Boys And Girls To Compete On Friday

AUSTIN, April 29.—Certified the smartest and strongest in this region, 1,200 Texas boys and girls will swarm to Austin May 3-4 to compete for State titles in the University of Texas Interscholastic League—the nation's number 1 public school tournament.

Starting last fall and surviving county, district and regional hurdles, these boys and girls will face grueling competition in nearly a score of literary and athletic events. Literary events embrace debate, extemporaneous speaking, one act plays, typing, shorthand, and press contests. The athletic scope takes in track and field events and tennis. Football, and basketball champions have already been crowned in seasonal tournaments.

First weeding-out processes began in February with 1240 county units involving 5,000 Texas schools—from the one-room rural to the big city system—holding contests to send delegates to 32 district centers. Winners there advanced to eight regional meets where the best earned the right to come to Austin for the final rounds.

Established thirty years ago with a handful of competitors, with E. D. Shurter as director, the University League Bureau pioneered in bringing all inter-school competition under one system.

Under direction of Roy Bedichek for 23 years, the League to date enrolls five times as many schools as any other state in a similar organization, and offers events both in number and variety far superior to those of any other state.

Oil Belt Safety Council To Meet Friday, May 3

BROWNWOOD, April 29.—A blitzkrieg against America's Public Enemy No. 1—the preventable accident—is being arranged here for Friday, May 3. An army of aroused citizens, public officials and even school children will attack en masse, using latest equipment, information and methods, in an offensive aimed at saving lives. The occasion will be the one-day sixth annual Oil Belt Safety Conference.

Volunteer entries pouring in to the Oil Belt Safety Council and local committees indicate that strong detachments from 19 counties await the attack signal. Fifty towns and cities have been invited to send bands, floats, industrial first-aid teams, National Guardsmen, Boy Scouts, school children and citizens to participate in a Safety parade and other features of the important one-day meeting.

L. H. Taylor, Ranger, president of the Safety Council, proclaimed "Don't Let an Accident Be Your Last Act" as the Conference theme. He said all features and events of the meeting will be free to the public.

Registration starts at 9 a. m. Friday, May 3 at Hotel Brownwood and Memorial Hall in Brownwood. Decked out in flags, this city will be replete with safety displays, in shop windows and public halls. Local schools will close in order that all children may participate in Conference events.

Boy Scouts of the 19-county area, under direction of G. N. Quirl, Comanche Trail executive, will stage a series of first aid demonstrations and contests, starting at 10 a. m.

Free safety movies, including the sensational "Drunk Driving" feature, will be shown at the Lyric theatre.

The big safety parade, a Conference highlight, will move at 1:30 p. m., led by cowboy and cowgirl riders bearing flags and banners. Bands, floats, bicyclists and a pet's section—all exemplifying safety and accident prevention—will include units from all over the 19-county district. J. H. Forgy, Brownwood, is parade chairman. There will be no entry fee for this or any other event.

Bands representing cities and schools will compete for the "official Oil Belt Safety Council band of 1940" designation, with $50 in expense money going to the successful band. All bands will play a 6:30 concert in Memorial Hall.

Industrial first aid contests, conducted by the U. S. Bureau of Mines, will start at 3:30 p. m. in Memorial Hall. Eight teams—Haynesville and Shreveport, La., and Borger, Wickett, Brownwood, Ranger, Abilene and other Texas points—have already entered. Additional entries are expected. Trophies will be awarded. This feature will be supervised by a committee headed by Ray S. Marshall, Abilene, safety supervisor for the West Texas Utilities Company.

Climaxing event will be a monster Safety Rally in Memorial Hall at 7:30 p. m., featuring two nationally famous speakers—C. J. Rutland, Dallas, president of the Texas Safety Association and safety engineer of the Texas Power and Light Company, and Judge Walter S. Pope, Abilene, nationally recognized in safety work.

Cotton Research Congress Will Seek Cure for Ills at Waco June 27

By TOM W. MILLER
United Press Staff Correspondent
WACO, Tex.—The first national cotton research congress, to probe into the ills of King Cotton and to attempt to find a cure, will meet here June 27.

For three days, some of the world's outstanding cotton experts will pool their knowledge of cotton and discuss the future of the industry in this country.

General subjects for discussion will include:

First day—The world cotton situation. The United States cotton policy. The relationship of Texas' cotton industry to the world.

Second day—Production, harvesting, ginning, and marketing.

Third day—Uses: old and new of the fiber, seed and other products.

The congress will be sponsored by the Statewide Cotton Committee of Texas, an organization including representatives of every phase of the cotton industry and allied interests. For the last few years it has been waging an intensive campaign to improve the staple quality of cotton grown in Texas—the nation's largest cotton state—to improve the ginning, to eliminate trade barriers, to eradicate cotton insects, to develop new uses, and to increase the consumption of cotton and its by-products.

Chairman of the committee is Burris C. Jackson, postmaster at Hillsboro.

"Due to the tremendous loss of foreign markets, upon which Texas cotton is nearly wholly dependent, and other factors surrounding the cotton policy of this country, the statewide cotton committee of Texas is very much alarmed as to the future of the whole Texas cotton industry, as well as the cotton industry of the whole South," Jackson said.

"Therefore, a research congress has been called to fully and completely discuss the problems facing cotton."

Waco, site of the congress, is in the heart of the Central Texas black-land cotton growing area.

Dr. A. B. Conner of Texas A. & M. College, chairman of the research division of the statewide committee, will be in charge of the three-day program.

"We're going to make every effort," Dr. Conner said, "to get a clear picture of the cotton situation, both as regards our own state and in the whole nation."

He added that particular emphasis would be given to means of cutting the unit of production of a bale of cotton "to enable producers to obtain maximum returns and to compete with others in world cotton production costs."

Jackson said an effort was being made to obtain authorities in cotton expansion in Brazil, Russia, Argentina, Egypt and the British possessions to give cotton industry leaders first hand information as to whether those countries intend to continue growing cotton indefinitely.

Such information, he said, is needed to know what the U. S. cotton growing states can expect in competition for foreign markets.

"The national cotton program, particularly reduced acreages, has resulted in immense losses to Texas cotton farmers," Jackson said. "We intend to inspect the pro-

NAZI TROOPS ARE HALTED BY BRITISH

Norwegian quarters at Stockholm reported today that two German columns, seeking to cut the vital Dombas-Stoeren Railway, held by the Allies, southeast of Trondheim, have been stopped in the mountains.

The Allied position north of Trondheim was reported "greatly improved" with a combined force of 10,000 or more French Alpine troops and Norwegians receiving much equipment for an important battle with the Germans north of Steinkjer.

A Norwegian communique reported a sea battle "somewhere off the coast" between Norwegian and German warships and planes was in progress.

Two German bombers were shot down attempting to bomb British troop landings, but the official German news agency, DNB, reported that a "great number" of British transports were bombed off the Norwegian coast and one was set afire. The British admitted that one trawler had been sunk and another damaged.

The Germans said that two more British cruisers and 11 transports had been bombed, making a total of 94 since the war in Norway began. British sources said that three more German supply ships had been sunk by submarines, making a total of 31 since April 9.

Russia's ambassador to Great Britain called on the foreign secretary in London today, reportedly ready to begin negotiations for a new trade pact.

Thompson Will Not Run For Congress

AUSTIN, April 29.—Col. Ernest O. Thompson, member of the State Railroad Commission, indicated today that he will run for governor. He had previously announced that he would not be a candidate for the congressional post vacated by Marvin Jones, because he "does not intend to remain in politics all his life, as a good congressman must do."

Meanwhile it was revealed that two former Hillbilly handmen of Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel—Leon Huff and Kermit Whalin—are forming a band to campaign for Jerry Sadler for Governor.

Meanwhile, in the Far East—

Events in Europe have been moving with a suddenness; giving them the unreal aspect of a dream. The United States, and the whole world, feel a sort of mental shell-shock as the dormant war suddenly shakes itself to life.

Our eyes are fixed on Scandinavia like those of a bird fascinated by a serpent. But now is the time to see the world whole, to remember that even in the face of Europe's tragedy, the rest of the world goes on.

In the Far East is another war. This summer its third year will come to an end.

There are signs that the Japanese are tiring of the long struggle. They have piled success on success, but there is no victory. The Chinese have suffered reverse after reverse but there is no defeat.

It begins to look as though neither side can win conclusively, that nothing is ahead but years of sterile and mutually exhausting struggle. The Japanese ought to be pretty well convinced by now that they can never conquer and hold all of China. And the possibility of China completely ousting Japan from the Asiatic mainland is almost equally remote.

Britain, up to the hubs in Europe, as in no position to defend her interests in China. Neither is France. The United States perhaps able to help China directly and materially on a large scale and Russia's motives are certainly suspect. If there cannot be a Chinese China why is a Russian China preferable to a Japanese China? East Poland and Finland offer their testimony.

Assume complete victory for one side or the other in the Chinese war. Based on experience does it seem likely that any justice will emerge from a peace dictated either by Japan or by a Russian-supported China?

Might not a peace conference in which all powers with pacific interests took part including Japan, China, Britain, the Netherlands, France, Russia, and the United States, arrive at a more just peace today than one which followed a finish fight?

Everytime you draw a breath, the government spends $1000. But don't try holding your breath, as the spending goes on anyway.

The Tourist Season in Europe

TEXAS PRESENTS JOHN GARNER

John Nance Garner, the farm boy who became the greatest Vice President since Thomas Jefferson, will be officially presented to the nation by his native Texas this month as a candidate for President of the United States.

Patriotic Texans will assemble at precinct conventions next Saturday, May 4, and at county conventions the following Tuesday, where delegates will be chosen for the state convention. It is expected that they will adopt resolutions endorsing the Roosevelt-Garner administration and urging the nomination of their favorite son as the President's most logical successor.

Unlike the favorite-son candidates of most states, John Garner is a leading choice for the nomination. His unexampled public record makes him the most unique statesman of our time. Not only is he the only living man who has presided over both Houses of Congress, but he is the only Southerner who has been elected to a national office by a vote of all the people of the United States since the Civil War.

Because of his liberal record, rural background, and unquestioned Americanism, political observers in Washington believe he is the best bet to carry the Democratic Party forward to victory this fall.

Canons of Ethics For Lawyers Are Ordered By Court

AUSTIN.—Canons of ethics to govern professional conduct of lawyers in Texas make up 43 sections of the new rules put into effect for the state bar by order of the state supreme court.

Section 11 of the code deals with fixing the amount of fees for legal services. The lawyer is admonished to avoid charges which over-estimate their advice and services. A client's ability to pay cannot justify a charge in excess of the value of the service, the code says, though his poverty may require a lesser charge, or even one at all.

Five things are specified to be considered in determining a fee. "Guides" in determining the real value of the lawyer's services.

The five are: (1) Time and labor required, novelty and difficulty of the questions involved, and skill necessary properly to conduct the case. (2) Whether acceptance of the employment will preclude participation in other cases. (3) Customary charge of the bar for similar services. (4) The amount involved in the controversy and the benefits to the client. (5) Whether the employment is by a casual client or an established and constant client. Risk and uncertainty of compensation may be considered in fixing the amount of a contingent fee.

The lawyer's attitude toward judge and jury is set out in two sections. The lawyer is forbidden to show marked attention and unusual hospitality to a judge, and may not communicate with him or argue with him privately about the merits of pending litigation, or attempt to gain special personal consideration or favor.

He must not curry favor with a jury by fawning, flattery or pretended solicitude for jurors' personal comfort or convenience. Suggestions looking to the comfort or convenience of the jurors should be made to the court out of the jury's hearing, the code notes. A lawyer may never converse or communicate privately with a juror about the case, and both before and during the trial. He should avoid conversing or communicating with jurors, even as to matters foreign to the case.

A canon on professional advocacy before bodies other than the courts is included. It announces that a member of the bar may only and in his true character render professional services before legislative or other bodies, regarding proposed legislation and in advocacy of claims before departments of government, upon the same principles of ethics which justify his appearance before courts.

But a member of the bar so engaged is directed not to conceal his attorneyship, or employ secret personal solicitation, or use means other than those addressed to the person and understanding to influence action.

He may not stir up litigation and should not volunteer advice to bring a lawsuit except in rare cases where ties of blood relationship or trust make it his duty to do so.

A bar member is forbidden to accept employment as an advocate in any matter upon the merits of which he has previously acted in a judicial capacity. Having held public office or having been in public employ he shall not after his retirement accept employment in connection with any matter which he has investigated or passed upon while in office, adverse to the interests previously represented while holding public employ.

Relations with newspapers are affected by two sections. A member of the bar may write articles for publication in which he gives information upon the law, but he may not accept employment from a publication to advise inquiries in respect to their individual rights.

A member is notified he should not publicize pending or anticipated litigation by newspaper interviews or otherwise. If the extraordinary circumstances of a particular case justify a statement to the public, it should not be made anonymously and should not go beyond quotations from the records and papers on file in the court, the canon directs.

First Sponsor

First sponsor certified to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for participation in its 22nd annual convention at Big Spring, May 16, 17, 18, is Miss Jo Annice Cornish (above) of Graham. Sixteen girls were nominated by the Graham high school classes, and Miss Cornish was selected on a personality basis. She is a junior and honor student in her school. She is also official sponsor of the 1940 North Central district fair at Graham.

To date, 23 West Texas towns and colleges have advised they are sending sponsors to the WTCC convention. Girls already named and certified, besides Miss Cornish, are: John Tarleton College, Miss Beattie Neblett; Iowa Park, Miss Tommie Jo Mitchell; Patnam, Miss Willie Grace Pruitt; Lamesa, Miss Marilyn Parkinson; Stephenville, Miss Evelyn Colburn; Sul Ross Teachers college at Alpine, Miss Margaret Stacy, Miss Joyce Whaley, Sweetwater, is "Miss West Texas" for this year and will be present to crown her successor for next year.

BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

BY BRUCE CATTON

WASH. STAFF CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON — Unless Congress changes its mind and restores to the Labor board's appropriation bill the $45,000 which was to have paid the board's research division next year, the famous finding in the "little steel" case may fall to the ground of its own weight.

This was the biggest case the board ever handled. The finding, just upheld by the Supreme Court, directs reinstatement and back pay for thousands of former Republic Steel strikers. But if the research division doesn't get its money, there will be a big hitch.

The job of seeing that the finding is put into effect is enormously complicated, and it's the research division that has to do most of it. It plans to open five sub-regional offices and take on extra help, and figures the job will take all summer. But the next fiscal year begins July 1, and as things are now, the division's money will then be cut off.

CLAIMS MUST BE SIFTED

PRACTICALLY all of the strikers have been rehired by Republic, but the board claims lots of them got poorer jobs than they used to have despite its ruling that the jobs must be "substantially equivalent" to the old ones. So for one thing, an intricate bit of job-analysis must be done for hundreds upon hundreds of individuals.

To date, 23 West Texas towns and colleges have advised they are sending sponsors to the WTCC convention. Girls already named and certified, besides Miss Cornish, are: John Tarleton College, Miss Beattie Neblett; Iowa Park, Miss Tommie Jo Mitchell; Patnam, Miss Willie Grace Pruitt; Lamesa, Miss Marilyn Parkinson; Stephenville, Miss Evelyn Colburn; Sul Ross Teachers college at Alpine, Miss Margaret Stacy, Miss Joyce Whaley, Sweetwater, is "Miss West Texas" for this year and will be present to crown her successor for next year.

WASHINGTON—Increased interest in winter sports coupled with the suggestion by President Roosevelt to make 1940 Travel America Year, encouraged Americans to visit national parks in greater numbers during February, 1940, than ever before.

The National Park Service reports that visitors to the Lassen Volcanic National Park in California, increased 200 per cent over the previous February; Crater Lake National Park, in Oregon, showed a tourist increase in the second month of 1940 of 127 per cent over the same period a year ago, and an all-time record was set at Mt. Ranier in Washington, when 22,270 persons enjoyed recreational facilities during the month.

At Boulder Dam, 7,676 more anglers stopped to fish at Lake Mead during February and some of the bass taken from the lake during the month weighed "at eight pounds"—said the forest service.

The production of a motion picture at Death Valley Monument in California during Feb. 1940, served to increase tourist travel more than 85 per cent above that of a year ago. The service added that an 80 per cent increase in air travel to the monument was noted during the month.

Increases were noted in other areas during the month—particularly in the Rocky Mountain National Park in Colorado; the Grand Canyon National Park in Arizona; and at the Fort Marion monument and the City of St. Augustine, both in Florida.

In only one park was a decrease in tourist patronage apparent. Severe blizzards and storms cut the attendance at Yellowstone National Park in Wyoming during the month below the figures recorded in other years.

Texas oil and its products pay each year over $109,000,000 to Texas state and local governments.

WASHINGTON — Unless Congress changes its mind and restores to the Labor board's appropriation bill the $45,000 which was to have paid the board's research division next year, the famous finding in the "little steel" case may fall to the ground of its own weight.

This was the biggest case the board ever handled. The finding, just upheld by the Supreme Court, directs reinstatement and back pay for thousands of former Republic Steel strikers. But if the research division doesn't get its money, there will be a big hitch.

The job of seeing that the finding is put into effect is enormously complicated, and it's the research division that has to do most of it. It plans to open five sub-regional offices and take on extra help, and figures the job will take all summer. But the next fiscal year begins July 1, and as things are now, the division's money will then be cut off.

CLAIMS MUST BE SIFTED

PRACTICALLY all of the strikers have been rehired by Republic, but the board claims lots of them got poorer jobs than they used to have despite its ruling that the jobs must be "substantially equivalent" to the old ones. So for one thing, an intricate bit of job-analysis must be done for hundreds upon hundreds of individuals.

To date, 23 West Texas towns and colleges have advised they are sending sponsors to the WTCC convention. Girls already named and certified, besides Miss Cornish, are: John Tarleton College, Miss Beattie Neblett; Iowa Park, Miss Tommie Jo Mitchell; Patnam, Miss Willie Grace Pruitt; Lamesa, Miss Marilyn Parkinson; Stephenville, Miss Evelyn Colburn; Sul Ross Teachers college at Alpine, Miss Margaret Stacy, Miss Joyce Whaley, Sweetwater, is "Miss West Texas" for this year and will be present to crown her successor for next year.

He must not curry favor with a jury by fawning, flattery or pretended solicitude for jurors' personal comfort or convenience. Suggestions looking to the comfort or convenience of the jurors should be made to the court out of the jury's hearing, the code notes. A lawyer may never converse or communicate privately with a juror about the case, and both before and during the trial. He should avoid conversing or communicating with jurors, even as to matters foreign to the case.

A canon on professional advocacy before bodies other than the courts is included. It announces that a member of the bar may only and in his true character render professional services before legislative or other bodies, regarding proposed legislation and in advocacy of claims before departments of government, upon the same principles of ethics which justify his appearance before courts.

But a member of the bar so engaged is directed not to conceal his attorneyship, or employ secret personal solicitation, or use means other than those addressed to the person and understanding to influence action.

He may not stir up litigation and should not volunteer advice to bring a lawsuit except in rare cases where ties of blood relationship or trust make it his duty to do so.

A bar member is forbidden to accept employment as an advocate in any matter upon the merits of which he has previously acted in a judicial capacity. Having held public office or having been in public employ he shall not after his retirement accept employment in connection with any matter which he has investigated or passed upon while in office, adverse to the interests previously represented while holding public employ.

Relations with newspapers are affected by two sections. A member of the bar may write articles for publication in which he gives information upon the law, but he may not accept employment from a publication to advise inquiries in respect to their individual rights.

A member is notified he should not publicize pending or anticipated litigation by newspaper interviews or otherwise. If the extraordinary circumstances of a particular case justify a statement to the public, it should not be made anonymously and should not go beyond quotations from the records and papers on file in the court, the canon directs.

SERIAL STORY

BET ON LOVE

BY CHARLES B. PARMER

COPYRIGHT, 1940,
NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Sherry and her first entry. When her jockey suggests that he give Pepper Boy a easy ride, the horse is getting beaten. Sherry orders him to ride to win.

CHAPTER IV

SHERRY BOND was standing in the infield, where she had gone to escape talkative friends in the clubhouse. She wanted to watch Pepper Boy's first race undisturbed, but Sam, the colt's blanket thrower over his shoulders, was growing.

"If that boy gets him off, fast like, we got a chance, yes'm."

Pepper Boy had headed the line which centered, then dropped to a walk up to the gate. Now suddenly the colt stopped—15 paces behind the starting line. Spread out his legs, shook his head nervously. An assistant starter had run back, was jerking the colt's reins.

"That fool man—ain't got no business jerkin' a baby colt."

"Hush, Sam!"

Now she saw Madden soothe Pepper Boy—walk him into the starting stall—number one by the rail—but Pepper Boy didn't stop at the starting line with the other horses—He bolted through. Madden was turning him around, waving the assistant starter aside, was walking Pepper Boy back through the stall—turning him around again—all the other entries were on the line. Slowly—slowly—Madden walked Pepper Boy into his stall once more—halted him for a split second. The starting bell changed.

"They're off!"

THE watching thousands cheered and yelled as the field of horses—a mass of moving color—surged forward. But Pepper Boy on the rail—the one black colt in the race—was stumbling—was falling almost to his knees—Pepper Boy was left at the post!

"Oh, lawdy, lawdy!" Sam moaned.

The field was plunging down the backstretch in brilliant sunlight, the horses kicking up a dust cloud; and behind the mass of horses and riders, behind the dust, streaked her little black hope—running all alone.

Again the groom was mumbling at her side. "What's that, Sam?"

"You didn't give that jockey no discretion, Miss Sherry," he grumbled. "You should a-told Madden to qualify if he sees himself beat—then he wouldn't bust the little fellow's heart. Look, he's a-whip-pin' already!"

So Madden was. Here in the infield they could hear distinctly not only the staccato clump of hoofs, but also the sharp crack—crack!—crack! of Madden's bat on the horse's barrel. He was forcing him. Punishing him. Riding him to orders.

"He's a-bustin' the little feller's heart," Sam protested again.

"Oh, hush, Sam!" Sherry spoke it as a plea. Sam was right—she should have done as so many horsemen did—No, no, she was right! Always send your horse out to win. Suddenly she leaned forward, her hands clenched.

The field was stringing past the half-mile pole—bay horse was leading by a length. The favorite, Sun Halo. Next, two horses lapped each other; there was a length opening, then came the remainder of the field, jumbled together. And Pepper Boy was running into that field—he had shot through the dust cloud—he was closing ground fast—he was stealing through on the rail—was alongside that mass of horses. They were passing the three-eighths pole—Pepper Boy had made up five lengths in three furlongs!

FASCINATED by this living drama of the track, Sherry felt herself breathing in excited little gasps. She even heard her groom mutter: "He sho' got class—yes, suh, he's a runnin' fool—if he kin only hol' out!" Madden was still hugging the rail—was jamming the colt into a space no wider than a handkerchief—yes, he was on the rail and was saving ground as they went into the far turn.

"Lawdy, Miss Sherry, if Pepper Boy had a-got a even start, he'd sho' be spread-eaglin' the field!"

The little black fellow was running neck and neck with two horses in the second division—now was pulling away from them; only three horses in front of him, and one of those, the third horse, running a bit wide as they turned toward the homestretch.

Sherry Bond could see Madden pointing Pepper Boy's nose at the space between that third horse and the rail—but that horse's jockey suddenly swerved over, took the rail himself, blocked Madden. Pepper Boy pulled out, was coming up, but the third horse shot ahead into a space between Sun Halo on the rail and the outside horse, a dark chestnut.

Madden was pocketed. Three horses in front of him, almost on a line, and no jockey would give way and let him through. Then Sherry saw him start a daring move—saw him pull out and start around those lead horses as they entered the stretch—a move no jockey would make unless he knew he was on a powerful stretch runner.

A wild roar went up from the stands—Sun Halo was still a half-length in front. The third horse was dropping back, the chestnut was running steadily—but a long shot, Pepper Boy, was coming like a house afire on the outside. He was burning up the track!

Pepper Boy was alongside the chestnut. Now the black was gaining on Sun Halo. The favorite—did he swerve then? Another roar from the stands—Pepper Boy was coming up to Sun Halo—the chestnut was out of it—now Pepper Boy was looking Sun Halo in the eye—and only a furlong to go!

"Look at the gray! Look at him coming!" Someone near Sherry shouted. For from the pack of horses a gray—No, 6 on his saddle blanket—Gray Star on the program—was shooting forward with reserve speed. Another stretch runner.

The favorite, Sun Halo, was done for; but Gray Star was coming on with a mighty burst of speed. Pepper Boy had left Sun Halo behind—but Gray Star was coming up fast outside of Pepper Boy—now he was at Pepper Boy's tail—now at his saddle blanket—now at his neck.

In that last 10 yards Sherry Bond saw Gray Star's rider lash down with his whip—saw Gray Star's white nose shoot forward—saw Madden jerk up his colt's head—now the noses were on a line—no, she'd swear Pepper Boy's nose was in front—

The black and the gray swept under the wire together. Behind them thundered in the beaten field.

SAM gathered up his blanket; he had thrown it on the ground in his excitement. "Looks like we win sure, Miss Sherry," he said, hopefully, as they walked toward the finish post.

As Sherry and her groom reached the track, horses were jogging back to the finish line—jockeys were dismounting, taking off saddles and weighing out. The beaten ones were always first back. Generally the winner took a couple of furlongs to slow down and stop in. Today it seemed as if Pepper Boy would never stop, but he did at last. There he was at the head of the backstretch.

Sherry crossed the track with Sam, then the groom went out to meet the colt. Madden didn't stop among the other horses, he rode straight for the winner's circle, then reined in abruptly as a shout went up from the stands and a guard waved him back.

The winner's number was going up at last, and the winner was—Gray Star.

"OUT OUR WAY"

BY WILLIAMS

BORN THIRTY YEARS TOO SOON

WILDLIFE

By JOHN R. WOOD

That long looked for day will soon be here, because the game fishing season will be in full swing on May 1. Many will be ready to start fishing at the earliest possible moment, shortly after midnight April 30. Many fishermen have had good luck with night fishing and there is no better time to start. Every one will be excited about the opening and in this article I want to give the reader some important laws; so your fishing trip will not end up with a conference with the Justice of the peace.

The following counties require every person over the age of 17 years to have a resident fishing license costing 55 cents. This license does not permit one to fish with artificial lures, only natural baits. However the holder of an artificial lure license does not have to buy this resident fishing license: Mason, Menard, Kerr, Schleicher, Crockett, Sutton, Kimble, Real, Edwards, Blanco, Llano, Kendall, Gillespie, El Paso, Hudspeth, Culberson, Val Verde, Kinney, Medina, Terrell and Brewster.

Every person who fishes in the public waters of this state with artificial lures must have in his possession an artificial lure license. Bass must be eleven inches long and crappie seven inches long. In Brown, Coleman, Comanche, Callahan, Eastland, Erath and Runnels counties, along with many others there is no length limit on cat fish, perch, except Erath county in which bream and goggle-eye must be 5 inches, catfish, ten inches and crappie 8 inches, and one may take 20 pounds of all fish in one day.

Bag limit on bass and crappie bream and goggle-eye is bass 15, crappie 15 and 35 bream or goggle-eye or an aggregate of 35 of these species.

It has been the habit of many fishermen to catch and take fish as long as they bite. Many of the fish that are taken are usually wasted and do no one any good. Those fish that cannot be used should be released to the water immediately. One should never leave edible fish on the bank to die. Get a free copy of the game and fish laws from your game warden if you are not sure of the law.

Handle Fish Carefully

If one catches a small fish that should be returned to the water, the hands should be wet before catching hold of the fish. Then handle him as little as possible. This prevents the disturbance of the slime that covers the fish. Should this be broken sores will form on the fish and cause him to die later. The small fish should be returned to the water carefully.

MAY IMPROVE ROAD

GARDINER, Mont. — Officials of the Tri-State Yellowstone Park Civic association have inaugurated a campaign for a year-round open road from Gardiner through the northwest end of Yellowstone National Park to West Yellowstone with a spur to Old Faithful Geyser. About 50 miles of road is now closed during part of the year because of heavy snows.

MODERN MENUS

BY MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Service Staff Writer

MILK, cheese, eggs, meat and fish are rich in complete proteins. But for children, milk is the best source of the all-important proteins. Protein makes up the chief part of the muscles, tissues and organs on the inside of the body, as well as the skin, hair, and nails on the outside.

Protein is really a number of different substances. Each of these proteins is made up of simpler materials called the amino acids. These amino acids are formed when the proteins of food are digested; and it is the amino acids that are actually used to build body tissue, and fluids.

Probably the chief function of proteins is to build tissue. That is why there is a special demand for protein during childhood when the body is growing. But both children and grown folks also need protein to repair old tissue as it wears out.

MILK, EGG PROTEINS

RANK THE HIGHEST

The really high quality proteins are the "complete" proteins that contain all of the amino acids that the body must get from food.

The proteins of muscle meat do not rank as high as those of eggs or milk, but meat organs are rich in proteins of high nutritive value. Nuts also contain proteins, but they are usually considered as sources of fat rather than of protein.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Stewed rhubarb, scrambled eggs, wholewheat toast, jelly, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Casserole of dried lima beans with cheese, mixed greens salad, fruit bowl, oatmeal cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Pan-broiled chopped round steak, parsley lemon butter, mashed potatoes, green peas, raw carrot strips, fresh strawberry Bavarian cream, coffee, milk.

Most of the cereals and legume seeds, such as peas and beans, do not contain all of the essential amino acids to make them complete proteins. But the soybean offers an exception to this rule. When the soybean is heated it becomes a complete protein and has all the amino acids needed for the growth and repair of body tissue.

Fortunately the amino acid-lacking in one food may be fairly abundant in another. When two such "incomplete" proteins are eaten together, they form a mixture of complete protein. For example, cereals do not contain all of the essential amino acids. But milk has the kind of protein that is needed to supply what the cereal protein lacks. So if cereal is served with milk, it becomes a complete protein.

But to Texas waters last year, this being an increase of over a million compared to last year. Cost of production is going down and the volume going up. From our fish supply.

BOY SCOUT CIRCUS

One phase of the Circus that is being perfected, along with many others, is the tableaux scenes, that will be staged between acts. Much time and effort is being spent on working out themes to appeal to our sense of beauty as well as depicting different adventures, etc. in the word of Scouting.

All tickets have been sent to the Scoutmaster and these leaders have been very prompt in notifying the council office of the distribution of these to the Scouts. Those Scoutmasters who have not sent this word in yet, please do so just as soon as possible.

CUB SCOUTS

Members of Cub Pack 1 of Breckenridge, with Cubmaster Sam G. Houston, and Den Chiefs Norman and William Meador, held their monthly meeting Thursday night at the Methodist church. The business taken care of during the meeting concerned the registration of the Pack, which will be completed soon. They plan to have their new troop chartered presented at their meeting next month.

NEW TROOPS

A Meeting Monday night for the organization of a new troop at May was attended by a group of citizens of May. Scout Executive G. N. Quirl was present to help with the organization. The troop committee is as follows: Rev. D. L. Barnes, pastor of the Methodist church, Chairman; Rev. Floyd Dill, pastor Baptist church Mayfield Gibbs, E. E. McBride, H. V. Glenn, and H. H. Black. This group elected Winfred Cornelius, a former Scout of troop 2 Brownwood, as Scoutmaster of the troop. The first troop meeting will be held next Monday night, April 29, at the Methodist church.

The organization work for a new troop at De Leon has been completed. Rev. J. H. Pritchard, pastor of the Christian church there, will be the Scoutmaster. The troop committee, made up of men from the Christian, and Baptist churches, is as follows: Emmett Locke, Chairman; Ruel Locke, C. H. Timmins, Rev. D. D. Tidwell, C. Harvey, E. H. Boulter, Rev. Wilshire F. G. Adcock and Mr. Collins. So much interest in this troop on the part of the boys of the town and community has been shown that it insures their having a full troop 32 Scouts.

RIDE DISLODGES MARBLE

By United Press

WAVERLY, Mass.—A ride in a police car proved just as effective treatment for 13-month old Richard Quinlan as a trip to a hospital. A marble had lodged in the child's throat and a police car was called to take him to a hospital where it could be removed. After bouncing over rough roads for three miles, Richard swallowed the marble and he was sent home "cured."
