VIOLENT FIGHTING IN BELFAST

PRESIDENT SERVES NOTICE ON MINERS IN MINGO DISTRICT

GERMAN TREATY TO GO TO THE SENATE ON SEPTEMBER 21

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The treaty of peace with Germany which was signed last Thursday at Berlin will be sent to the senate September 21, the day that congress reassembles after its thirty-day recess, it was stated today at the White House.

Prompt ratification of the pact is understood to be hoped for by President Harding.

While the senate legislative program as outlined at the time last week's recess was taken, called for enactment of revenue or tariff legislation immediately upon reassembling and then for action on the railroad debt funding bill, several senate leaders expressed the belief today that an early place could be found on the program for the treaty.

Members of the foreign relations committee, to which the treaty will be referred upon its submission, were made acquainted with its details last week by Secretary Hughes and this fact together with the opportunity afforded for study during the recess is counted upon in administration quarters to work for speedy action.

Statements have been made by administration officials that it was desired that the senate and German reichstag consider the treaty simultaneously. The German legislative body is to meet September 27, five days after the senate resumed its sessions and about the same time senate leaders expect the treaty to be reported by the foreign relations committee.

PREDICT EARLY ARREST OF FOUR MORE LIQUOR SLEUTHS

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—The arrest of four more liquor sleuths was predicted today in connection with the discovery by federal officials of an alleged "shake-down" group composed of former prohibition agents and the arrest yesterday of two alleged members of the group.

Federal investigators claim they operated in Chicago while others being trailed confined their operations to the suburbs.

According to federal officials, saloon keepers were the victims and it is estimated that $100,000 was "filched from them. Two of the agents would sell whiskey to the saloon keeper, after which two others would place the saloon keeper under arrest and release him only after he had paid over sums ranging from $500 to $2,000 to regain his freedom.

CHARGES COMMITTEE PLANNED OVERTHROW OF GOVERNMENT

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The Russian soviet government, charding that the all-Russian, relief committee intended to overthrow the soviet government for the purpose of establishing one of its own, has placed the members of the committee under arrest, says a Reuter dispatch from Riga.

DENY THAT GREEKS SUFFER DEFEAT IN FIGHT WITH TURKS

ATHENS, Aug. 30.—Reports that Greek troops engaged in the offensive against the Turkish nationalists in Asia Minor have suffered a reverse are denied in an official statement issued here. It is declared, however, that the battle along the Sakaria river is continuing with violence.

Towns along the southern coast of the Black sea have been bombarded by Greek warships, the statement adds.

Newspaper dispatches from the front state the Turkish nationalists are making continuous counter-attacks, arresting the advance of the Greeks. The enemy is bringing in new reserves to the front to take the place of troops killed or wounded in the fighting, it being said that the Turkish losses are heavy. Turkish cavalry is participating in the battle.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—President Harding signed today a proclamation calling on disorderly elments in the mining districts of West Virginia to disperse and return to their homes by September 1 at noon.

Secretary Weeks announced that the text of the president's proclamation would be issued within half an hour and said that Brig. Gen. H. H. Bandholtz had been ordered back to West Virginia to see that all disorderly elements complied with the instructions to return home.

Administration officials emphasized that unless there was prompt compliance with the proclamation, martial law would be declared.

Major General Harbord, assistant chief of staff, on leaving the conference at the White House, understood the proclamation declared martial law. That, however, was corrected by Secretary Weeks a moment later as he came from the conference.

WELCH, W. VA., Aug. 30.—Five hundred members of McDowell County post No. 8, American Legion, under command of Major W. E. Eubank, answering a call from Governor Morgan, left Welch today at noon in automobiles for Logan county. A message received here from Sheriff Hatfield, who is in Logan county, stated that tension was high and trouble was expected momentarily.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—President Harding has declined to accede to the request of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, for a conference between miners and operators to thrash out the West Virginia coal troubles.

While the text of the president's reply to Mr. Lewis was not made public at the white house, it was said the president had informed Mr. Lewis that he saw no necessity for a conference inasmuch as a special senate committee would meet at Williamson, W. Va., Sept. 19 to hear further testimony.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Aug. 30.—Phillip Murray, vice-president of the United Mine Workers of America, departed for Charleston, W. Va., to urge miners in that district to return to work. Announcement of the departure of Mr. Muray was made this afternoon by John L. Lewis, president of the miners' national organization.

BETWEEN 2,000 AND 3,000 ARMED MEN HAVE ASSEMBLED

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Aug. 30.—Between 2,000 and 3,000 armed men have assembled at Jeffery, in Boone county, close to the Logan county line, according to official advices received here today. They are within easy striking distance of the disturbed section of Logan county, where four men were killed in a fight with state troopers and deputies Sunday morning.

The authorities also have been informed that some 75 automobiles carrying armed men dashed out of the Cabin creek valley near here this morning and, passing through Marmet, continued up Lens creek valley along the line taken by the men who set out to march to Mingo county last week.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Aug. 30.—Last night was one of uncertainty as to what was happening along the Logan-Boone county line. Early today it was much the same. Latest reports were a repetition of yesterday's, no more assuring, no less alarming. Adjutant General Charnock was back in the capitol after a hurried trip through the district Sunday night and yesterday. The word picture he painted of the situation in a formal statement last night was so alarming that Gov. E. F. Morgan sent a midnight appeal to President Harding requesting immediate aid.

In his request addressed to the chief executive and Secretary of War Weeks, the governor quoted the adjutant general as reporting that during the trip he commanded armed bands to disperse but that they refused to do so and continued to maintain patrols on the roads along the boundary line of the two counties.

Chesapeake & Ohio railroad trains have been commandeered to transport contingents to armed camps and telephone wires have been cut and steps taken to prevent re-establishment of communication, the governor said his emissary had informed him.

Efforts to communicate by telephone with Blair and Sharples have been unsuccessful for several days.

Adjutant General Charnock's companion on the mission, A. C. Porter, United Mine Workers' executive board member, returned to Charleston with the state official. He, too, gave a gloomy account of conditions, prefacing his formal statement with foreboding metaphors.

U. S. ATTORNEY AT CHICAGO PLANS TO INVESTIGATE KLAN

SAYS COMPLAINTS HAVE BEEN RECEIVED FROM MANY PARTS OF COUNTRY

REPORT $10 YEARLY COLLECTED AS DUES

Also Alleges Excessive Price Is Charged for Regalia and No Accounting Made

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—The motive of the Ku Klux Klan was being sought here today in a federal investigation of the organization instituted by John Clinnin, assistant United States district attorney. Complaints received during the last three weeks form the basis for the inquiry, Colonel Clinnin said. He said he would investigate allegations that the klan is an "absolute monarchy," opposed to public policy; that it charges $10 yearly from each member with apparently no accounting; that it charges $6.50 for regalia costing less than $2, thus being a corporation operating for profit, and that numerous lawless acts have been ascribed to persons acting under the guise of the klan.

"I have received complaints not only locally but from many parts of the country for many days about the klan," Colonel Clinnin said. "I am going to investigate the whole order. My first move has been to procure a copy of the charter under which the organization operates and various data which has been furnished to me by persons not members.

"I do not know whether there has been any illegality although I have allegations to that effect. I don't wish, as yet, to cause any reflections upon the organization or its leadership, but if I find anything wrong, I'll blow the lid off.

"There has been much talk about the Ku Klux, but little action. When I finish I will know if things are not as they should be and in that case I will waste no time in laying the whole matter before the federal grand jury here and asking indictments."

The klan initiated about 2,000 Chicagoans three weeks ago.

Colonel Clinnin said he did not know whether Col. William Joseph Simmons, acknowledged head of the organization, would be questioned.

YOUNG FORGER AND EMBEZZLER ESCAPES GLEN MILLS PRISON

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 30.—Police are searching today for Charles Hoffman, a 16-year-old forger and embezzler, whose exploits have before kept them busy in this city, New York, Chicago, Memphis and elsewhere. His escape from the Glen Mills reformatory, where he had been sent for the theft of $4,850 in checks and money from his employers, did not become known until last night, although it took place Saturday.

After another escapade about a year ago he was paroled after forging checks for approximately $1,900 on the Corn Exchange National bank. He admitted spending the money in New York, and his lavish tips to hotel employes there led them to refer to him as "The Millionaire Kid." Less than a year ago he escaped from the Junior Republic school near Bethlehem, Pa.

After the theft for which he was sent to Glen Mills, he was followed to Chicago, but eluded capture until his funds were exhausted when he was taken prisoner in Memphis.

WAGE COMMITTEE MEETS WITH THE MANUFACTURERS

CLEVELAND, Aug. 30.—The wage committee of the National Window Glass Workers association met with a similar committee of the manufacturers today in an effort to reach an agreement over a new wage contract.

An offer of a reduction of 28 per cent less than last year, made by the manufacturers during a conference at Pittsburgh last week, was rejected by the union at a meeting here. The men are willing to accept a 25 per cent reduction, Joseph Neenan, president of the union, declared.

DECLARES FRENCH A "FINANCIAL NUT"

Worthington Indicates He Will Tell Government of Operations "Master Mind."

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Characterizing Charles W. French as a "financial nut" and declaring he "wouldn't know a good promissory note if he saw one," John W. Worthington indicated today that he would tell the government what he knows about French's operations.

His action was said by some persons to indicate a break between French, alleged chief of a $50,000,000 "swindle ring," and the punative head of a $6,000,000 group of mail robbers.

"They've made a mountain of a mole hill, a peacock of a canary bird, an ocean of a drop of water, from a grain of sand they've constructed a Sahara desert, of a United States district attorney they've made a King George," Worthington declared.

ARREST MEMBERS OF THE ALL-RUSSIAN RELIEF COMMITTEE

REVAL, Aug. 30.—Members of the all-Russian relief committee have been arrested, it is said, in dispatches from Moscow.

Maxim Gorky, widely known Russian author and editor, and representatives of various political parties were members. Recent dispatches have stated that Leonid Krassin, soviet minister of trade and commerce, and M. Kischkin, a former leader of the social democrat party, also were identified with the committee.

CHIEF OF POLICE DECLARES CHICAGO ROBBERY FRAME-UP

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—The robbery of safe deposit vaults of the Security Trust and Deposit company in the basement of the Masonic Temple Sunday evening was a frame-up, according to a statement made this morning by Chief of Police Fitzmorris.

He said he expected to have proof to back his statements. The two attendants at the vault when four armed robbers rifled 17 safety deposit boxes are still being held and police claim to have information that will lead to the arrest of two others on the payroll of the concern.

Officials of the company yesterday estimated the loss at only $35,000, but police claim they have a list from owners of boxes looted which totals $140,000 and assert that the owners of boxes are probably withholding statements regarding their losses.

Governor Receives Blue Pencils With Note to Use Them

AUSTIN, Aug. 30.—The daily mail for Governor Neff since the adjournment of the special legislative sessions has included several blue pencils, with notes from citizens of the state urging the chief executive to use them in considering the appropriation bills. Although it is not unusual for blue pencils to be received at the governor's office, the supply received through the mail since the special session has far exceeded that which followed the regular session.

CHICAGO MAN IS KILLED IN ARGUMENT OVER CARDS

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—The mystery surrounding the supposed murder of Joseph Schogl, son of the late Joseph Schogl, downtown restaurant owner, was explained today when Joseph O'Meara, an overseas veteran, confessed he struck Schogl following an argument over a card game. He is said to have told police Schogl was knocked unconscious and then taken to his home early Sunday night, where he was found dead on the front porch by a member of the family.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Mystery surrounding the death of Joseph Schogl, son of the late Joseph Schogl, well-known Chicago restauranteur, was expected to be solved today.

Schogl was found dead on the veranda of his home yesterday morning with his skull fractured. The friend of a man who says he killed Schogl has communicated with Peter Hoffman, coroner, and states that the assailant will surrender today. The man who is said to admit killing Schogl asserts, according to his friend, that he fought with Schogl over $7 following a card game. He asserted he took Schogl home, not thinking the man was seriously hurt.

ORDERS GRAND JURY TO BE RECONVENED ON FRIDAY MORNING

JUDGE WELDON ISSUES INSTRUCTIONS FOR FURTHER SESSION OF INVESTIGATORS

PURPOSE OF ACTION IS SUBJECT OF SPECULATION

Reported It Is In Order to Probe Murder Case Further—Order Is Issued Tuesday

A special session of the June term grand jury has been called for next Friday morning by Judge H. F. Welcon of the 30th district court.

Judge Weldon issued the order Tuesday afternoon asking that the last grand jury, of which J. D. Avis was foreman, be reassembled and convene Friday, September 2.

The summonsing of the secret body created much interest and speculation in official circles Tuesday afternoon as no forerunner of the court's action had been given.

The cause of the calling of the grand jury into special session is only speculation and no confirmation culd be secured but it is believed that a certain murder case is to be thoroughly investigated by the body as well as one or two other matters that have developed since the grand jury was recessed.

The grand jury which has been recalled in special session was at work over a period of nearly three weeks and returned 51 true bills of indictment.

District Clerk A. F. Kerr issued the order of the court and placed a copy of the order in the hands of the sheriff for immediate action.

WORLD COMING UNDER RULE O F DEMOCRACY

Aid Thereto Highest Public Service, Elihu Root Tells Bar Association

CINCINNATI, OHIO, Aug. 30.—Stating that public opinion required institutions for its expression, Elihu Root, former secretary of state, told delegates to the American Bar association that aiding the rule of democracy was the highest public service which the legal fraternity could perform.

"Let no one think that these meetings are prefunctory," Mr. Root said. "Like our own country, the whole world is coming under the rule of democracy—and democracy depends on enlightened public opinion. The people, in each country, rule the world today.

"Public opinion requires institutions for the expression. Otherwise, it is dissipated in thin air like the angry murmers of a mob which lead to nothing but indiscriminate violence. In aiding the formation of public opinion, the bar is doing the highest public good."

A step toward heightening the influence of the American Bar association was proposed in a committee report by Judge Clarence N. Goodwin of Chicago. His committee suggested compulsory membership in the bar association, instead of voluntary as at present, and the right to educate, admit and disbar members at the discretion of the association.

IS RENEWED EARLY IN DAY AND REACHES CLIMAX AT DINNER HOUR AT FACTORIES IN SIDE STREETS

By Associated Press.

BELFAST, Aug. 30.—Street fighting which has been in progress since yesterday became particularly violent after one o'clock today, the dinner hour at factories in the side streets radiating from Duncairn Gardens and North Queen's street.

One laborer was shot dead and several other persons were wounded, including one army sergeant. Civilians placed sand bags in the middle of the streets and maintained heavy firing against the police and military, who were forced to abandon the streets. Armored cars were summoned. At one time the patter of bullets resembled a hail storm.

The rioting continued throughout the afternoon and resulted in the death of two more persons, William Kennedy was shot dead in Earl street and Annie Watson, a 5-year-old girl, got in the line of fire in North Queen's street and was shot dead. Forty-eight persons wounded in the rioting were taken to hospitals.

RIOTING IS CONTINUED AT EARLY HOURS THIS MORNING

BELFAST, Aug. 30.—Rioting which broke out in this city at noon yesterday and continued until after midnight began again at 7 o'clock this morning. One hour later it was reported that three had been added to the list of wounded, one of them being a woman. During the fighting yesterday and last night two persons were killed and six were wounded.

The rioters, who were particularly active in North Queen's street and along the new Lodge road, ignored the curfew law, which provides that all persons not having business on the streets must be in their houses after 10:30 o'clock at night.

FOR FIRST TIME RAIROAD IS COMPLETELY TIED UP

BELFAST, Aug. 30.—For the first time in its history the Great Northern Irish railway was completely tied up today by a strike of engineers and firemen, who ceased work at midnight.

The main line runs between Dublin and Belfast, and its branches extend throughout the province of Ulster.

Ulstermen and sinn feiners are standing united in the strike, which is purely an industrial dispute and comes as a sequel to the government turning control of the road back into the hands of its owners.

Sinn feiners and their sympathizers walked out last year because the government shipped munitions over the road. At that time the Ulstermen did not walk out.

REPLY OF IRISH CABINET HAS NOT BEEN FORWARDED

DUBLIN, Aug. 30.—The reply of the Irish republican cabinet to the latest letter of Premier Lloyd George on the Irish peace negotiations will not be forwarded tonight, the publicity department of the sinn fein announced tonight.

Eamonn de Valera, the Irish republican leader, had a conference with the cabinet members this afternoon.

Optimism in Dublin over the Irish peace negotiations received a shock today when John MacNeill, speaker of the Irish republican parliament, in introducing a deputation from Tyrone and Fermanagh counties to Eamonn de Valera, the Irish republican leader, delivered a violent attack against Premier Lloyd-George. Speaker MacNeill said that the British premier's words in his recent letter to Mr. de Valera, in which he mentioned the possibility of civil war would be taken in Belfast as an incitement to fanatical violence, which the speaker declared had been the outcome of the British policy.

The British ministry, he added, have their hands on the main switch of Belfast fanaticism. This policy was old, he asserted, but declared that Mr. Lloyd-George had crystallized it into the local regime.

It was not to prevent civil war, the dail speaker declared, but to prepare for it that the British government had been disarming all except its own friends.

UNITED STATES IS NOW AT PEACE WITH THE CENTRAL POWERS

The treaty was signed in the palace occupied by the American mission at 6 p. m. After the signatures were affixed Mr. Smith and Minister Banffy shook hands cordially, Mr. Smith voicing the satisfaction of the United States that friendly relations between the two countries had been re-established. Replying, Minister Banffy said the conclusion of peace would considerably strengthen the friendship already existing between the two nations.

The peace treaty signed in Budapest brings to an end the technical state of war between the United States and the countries formerly constituting the central powers of Europe. On Wednesday last a treaty was signed in Vienna by representatives of the United States and Austria and the following day a peace convention was executed in Berlin between the United States and Germany.

No details of the peace accord entered into with Austria have yet been made public, but it is understood that both the Austrian and Hungarian conventions follow closely the lines of the treaty with Germany.

The campaign is due to a recent slump in membership caused by unemployment. The present membership is given as 3,906,528.

VIENNA, Aug. 30.—Burgenland, a narrow strip of territory situated along the Hungarian border, which was awarded Austria by the treaty of St. Germain, is apparently in possession of Hungarian insurgents with Lieutenant Hejjas enacting the role of Adalbert Korfanty in Upper Silesia or Captain Gabriele D'Annunzio in Fiume. GERMANY PRACTICALLY HAS MARTIAL LAW AS RESULT EBERT'S ORDER

BERLIN, Aug. 30.—Germany was today under restrictions closely approaching martial law as a result of a decree issued late yesterday by President Ebert. Meetings, processions, demonstrations and the issuance of publications "likely to encourage seditious movements" were forbidden in the decree and warning was given that "any and every insurrection" would be suppressed with relentless severity.

Majority and independent socialists have made formal demand upon Chancellor Wirth that elements responsible for anti-republican activities be restrained by the government, and organized labor has informed the chancellor that it is prepared to "defend the republic."

The decree issued by the president became effective upon publication.

OIL MEN DECLINE TO DISCUSS RESULT OF FIRST MEETING

CONFER WITH MEXICAN AUTHORITIES ON PETROLEUM PROBLEMS

HARDING SENDS LETTER TO PRESIDENT OF MEXICO

Conference Monday Night With Secretary of Treasury Lasted Two Hours

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 30.—Government officials and executive heads of American oil companies who conferred yesterday relative to petroleum problems are reserved as to the subjects liscussed at the first meeting held yesterday afternoon. In interviews with the local newspapermen, the oil men confined their remarks to praise of the delightful climate of Mexico City and their desire for an amicable adjustment of all questions now pending.

W. C. Teagle, president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, and Harry F. Sinclair, head of the Sinclair Oil company, said it was not advisable to make a statement of any nature at the present, and with the exception of denying widely circulated rumors that the conferences had been called off because petroleum companies had not paid the July oil taxes, had nothing to say for publication.

The visitors paid a visit of respect yesterday morning on George T. Summerlin, American charge d'affaires here, but Mr. Summerlin later explained there was nothing significant in their call. He declared the American embassy had concluded its part in the conferences when it was arranged for a meeting between the oil men and representatives of the government.

It is understood the oil executives brought a personal letter from President Harding to President Obregon, but the declaration is made that it was merely a letter of introduction.

The Americans met Adolfo de la Huerta, secretary of the treasury, again this morning, and were to be presented to President Obregon, who was understood to have invited his entire cabinet to interview the oil men. This conference was understood to be brief and informal and was considered a step preliminary to taking up the controversial questions later in the day.

Last night's conference between the Americans and the secretary of the treasury lasted for more than two hours. The oil men maintained their non-comittal policy and Senor de la Huerta lated issued a statement saying that the meeting had been cordial and was merely preliminary to technical discussions which were to follow.

Newspapers here are at present giving much attention to the activity displayed by the supreme court in studying the appeals of oil companies asking for temporary injunctions forbidding the carrying out of alleged retroactive and confiscatory clauses of article 27 of the Mexican constitution. It is expected that a decision will be rendered soon, and that it will have an important bearing upon the interpretation placed upon this much-disputed article.

The court yesterday continued its hearing, and to expedite matters, took up for immediate consideration four cases typical of certain phases of the oil controversy—two brought by the Texas Petroleum company, one by the Mexican Gulf Oil company and one by Miller & Co., an independent concern.

There has been considerable speculation as to the nature of the court's decision and several newspapers have claimed they have received intimations from high officials that President Obregon's recent decree relative to taxes on oil exports would be embraced in the court's ruling.

E. L. Doheny, president of the Mexican Petroleum company, is the only one of the visiting oil men who has consented to be quoted at any length.

In various interviews with local newspapers he has declared the Americans came to Mexico City with open minds and had no intention of placing themselves in opposition to Mexican laws.

ALMOST AN INCH RAINFALL IN CITY TUESDAY MORNING

Wichita Falls and vicinity was looked upon most favorably early Tuesday morning as it received the heaviest rainfall. From three-quarters of an inch to an inch of rainfall was recorded here. The shower struck the city about 4 o'clock.

Points south and east on the railroads reported no rain, while the storm moved west and north. Points in that direction all reported a smaller amount of rainfall. At Amarillo the storm had spent itself and no further trace was found.

The shower of Tuesday morning brought with it the much sought-for relief from the extreme hot spell that remained here for two weeks.

Altus reported a small rainfall at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning.

No damage of any nature was reported.

START CAMPAIGN FOR A BETTER ENFORCEMENT OF PROHIBITION AMENDMENT

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 30.—A ten months' campaign for better enforcement of the prohibition amendment was begun today at Noblesville, Ind by the Flying Squadron Foundation, an Indiana corporation formed under guidance of the late J. Frank Hanly, former governor of Indiana, following the flying squardon campaigns of 1914 and 1915. After a swing through Indiana the three groups of flying squadron representatives will enter Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York in the order named, and will close the ten months' campaign in New England, Oliver W. Stewart, president of the organization, said.

The flying squadron idea, conceived in 1914, made its first demonstration through a temporary organization, Mr. Stewart said. After the 1915 campaign the permanent organization was effected and has existed since, working for enforcement of the national prohibition provisions. The ten months' campaign arises from the belief that it is greatly needed, Mr. Stewart declared.

FRIENDS OF PARRISH HEAR ENCOURAGING CAMPAIGN REPORTS

ORGANIZATIONS HAVE BEEN FORMED IN LARGER CENTERS OF STATE

CONFERENCE IS HELD ON MONDAY EVENING

Mr. Parrish, Home From Washington, Was Present at the Meeting

Very encouraging reports of the organization of the campaign to nominate Lucian W. Parrish for United States senator were heard at a gathering of the congressman's friends here Monday night which Mr. Parrish attended. Parrish organizations have already been formed in all the larger centers of the state, according to reports that were made, and some progress has been made toward the organization of counties. Plans for a state meeting of Parrish men to form a statewide organization were discussed.

The conference was held in Commerce building and was presided over by Leslie Humphrey. Views on the conduct of the campaign were discussed by a number of those present and a short talk was made by Mr. Parrish. He said he expected to make his formal announcement early next year, outlining his platform on live issues, and that he expected to spend six months in active speech-making. He said that he could go through a speech-making campaign of four speeches a day for the six months, three short speeches in daytime and a longer speech at night.

He discussed some of the needs of the hour in our government and said that no man in Washington was working harder than he was nor giving any more study to these problems. He said that if he remained in public life he wanted to be in the position to give the most service to the people and that for this reason he was seeking the nomination for the senate.

Mr. Parrish expects to spend the congressional recess in a tour of the state holding conferences with friends. He does not expect to make any campaign speeches at this time, but has accepted an invitation to speak at the Hall county fair at Memphis. A message Tuesday morning from Seymour said that he would be invited to speak at the Baylor county fair at that place.

Woman Declares She Is in Danger Being Kidnaped

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., Aug. 30.—Declaring she is in danger of being kidnaped or placed in an asylum for the insane to prevent her appearing as a witness for the state against her father, Mrs. Ruth Stephenson Gussman today asked Judge Hugh A. Locke in the chancery division of circuit court to "restrain and prevent" city, county and state authorities and all other persons from interfering with her rights in "any manner whatsoever."

At the preliminary hearing of the case, Edward R. Stephenson, charged in a coroner's warrant with murder in connection with the slaying of Father James E. Coyle, a Catholic priest, Mrs. Gussman was the chief witness for the state. Since she appeared against her father, she alleges threats have been made against her. She asks in her peition for an injunction for "such relief as the court deems expedient."

PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE FOR JUST ELEVEN HOURS

AUSTIN, Aug. 30.—Once president of a senate for 11 hours without a gathering over which to preside is the unusual distinction of Senator Archie Parr of Duval county, Texas.

At the close of any session it is customary in the senate of the Texas legislature to name a president pro tempore who shall serve in that capacity until reconvening of the senate in another session.

At a late hour last Tuesday night, when the senate was about to complete its labors of the first called session of the 37th legislature, Senator Archie Parr of Duval county was elected to that honorary position. Upon convening of a session it is customary to elect a president pro tempore. Accordingly, when Gov. Pat M. Neff called the solons back to a new session, only 11 hours after the first one had adjourned, the senate elected Senator J. H. Woods president pro tempore.

Senator Parr, therefore, never got to exercise functions of his office and was president pro tempore for exactly 11 hours.

COUNCIL TACKLES SCOTLAND UTILITIES MATTER ONCE MORE

HEARS LENGTHY DISCUSSION OF LIGHT AND TELEPHONE SERVICE MONDAY NIGHT

FITTS ASKS FOR BETTER CONTROL OF SERVICE CARS

May Not Renew Permits Expiring September 30—All City Water Mains to Be Flushed

The need of public utilities in Scotland addition leaped back into the limelight at Monday evening's lengthy session of the city council meeting, for after remaining in the background during the last two weeks, representatives from that section north of the river were up in arms and presented their cases with vigor.

Both telephone and electric light service came in for a large share of discussion, but in neither case was definite action taken by the council in regard to the complaints.

The crying need for telephones in Scotland section was presented by W. L. Neal, a resident of that district, who has appeared before the council on several previous occasions with requests for action. Neal was also instrumental in bringing officials of the Southwestern Telephone company before the council so that they might explain their position.

Just what the telephone companies of America, and of this section particularly, are now facing was fully explained by M. P. Caldwell, the telephone division superintendent from Fort Worth. Mr. Caldwell was introduced by C. C. Kirby, local manager of the telephone system, and gave an exhaustive talk on the conditions under which expansion of telephone service was being made.

Shortage of Phones.

Conditions in Wichita Falls at the present time are merely a reflection of what is going on throughout the entire country, according to Caldwell. New York City alone, it seems, is now confronted with a shortage of over 70,000 telephones and every other city of any size in the nation is handicapped in a similar manner. This acuteness has been brought about by a number of factors, the speaker believed, chief of which were the after-the-war enlargements of many communities and the greatly increased demand on the part of the public for luxuries.

The entire telephone systems of the nation are now approximately three years behind orders, Caldwell declared.

Regarding Wichita Falls and the prospects for better service here, he stated that the company had already accomplished an extraordinary feat in providing the city with the service it was now getting. The oil boom and the phenomenal growth of the community made it essential that exceptional efforts be extended by the community on behalf of the city, he said, and Wichita Falls has fared better in this respect than many places.

The present Scotland situation is due entirely to a shortage of materials, principally cable, and Caldwell believed that if the cables necessary for installing service across the river were ordered at once it would be six months before all the material would arrive. He submitted a mass of technical information all designed to show the impossibility of extending the utility at present.

Mr. Kirby also made a brief talk and substantiated the claims made by Caldwell. Mr. Neal, when the matter was explained to him, admitted the seriousness of it and was not inclined to censure the telephone officials, but on the other hand he made it perfectly clear that the phones were an absolute necessity and that some relief measures should be taken promptly.

His views were fully appreciated by the council and telephone officials as well, and a meeting was finally arranged for between Messrs. Neal and Kirby, at which time the matter will be gone over again. Mr. Kirby intimated that possibly some measures could be taken whereby a few lines could be installed and this was urged by the council as being a temporary solution at least.

A petition presented by Mr. Neal last Monday was tabled by the council for the time being.

Light Question Reopened.

With the telephone business out of the way, A. L. Huey promptly interceded in behalf of the Scotland property owners now asking for electric lights. This matter had been threshed out on a previous occasion and a committee composed of three councilmen appointed to investigate the need of such service and make recommendations to the aldermanic body as a whole. The committee, however, was not ready to report and aside from Commisisoner Fitts, who had prepared a motion covering the matter, could make no report at all.

The Fitts motion, in substance, was that the electric company be forced to string their wires and install service in the addition. Mr. Fitts had mapped out a proposed route for the wires, the total footage being 9,340, which would provide sufficient service for the Scotlanders, he said. Messrs. Fitts and Huey also had prepared a map showing the location of all houses in the addition and giving the locations of all vacant lots. The proposed wires were also designated.

P. A. Rogers and Luther Hoffman, representing the light company, were present at the meeting. They had at one time said the cost of installing light service demanded would be in the neighborhood of $8,000. Huey declared that he would be "tickled to death" to get the job for $4,000, and said that he'd make money on it at that.

His petition for lights, signed by 125 property owners, has been before the council for two months, but it was again laid over and the Fitts motion withdrawn to permit another investigation by the committee. A meeting of that body has been called for 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at which time further action will be taken on the matter.

Criticises Service Car Drivers.

On placing before the council some of the conditions he is now confronted with, in the ranking of automobiles on downtown streets Commissioner Fitts resurrected another bone of contention —that of the service car situation. He became highly indignant at some of the practices going on and after saying that a few of the service car men were Christians, charged that some of them were using the service car merely as a blind. Later on he hinted that some railway official down the line owned all the service car companies and was exacting royal tribute from them for permits to operate from railway property.

His chief complaint seemed to be that service cars could not be ranked, as were all other cars on the east-west streets of the city and that this constituted quite a menace. The city has granted the drivers permits to operate and has given them alloted stands, so it seemed a difficult matter to remedy the situation.

City Clerk Thorburn came to the rescue with information that the permits expired Sept. 30 and that the service cars could be ousted entirely or moved to new stands at that time. The matter was put off until this time, when it will come up again.

Twenty-one petitioners from lower Indiana avenue appeared with the request that a row of cotton wood trees now bordering that thoroughfare be cut down to make way for the impending paving. The trees stand in the street itself and if left would probably be dangerous to traffic at night, the petition set forth.

After some discussion, in which the trees found a worthy champion who asked that they be left alone, they were ordered removed.

W. A. Richardson, 2114 Bluff street, requested information on the prospects of getting electric light service and was promised by P. A. Rogers that such service would be extended in the immediate future.

The opening of Broad street between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-sixth was again brought up by J. A. Anderson, a property owner, who presented the case last week. After an investigation the council decided that a private agreement, previously entered into by Mr. Anderson and other residents of the section, should stand and that the council should have no jurisdiction in the matter.

Commissioner Reed wanted advice on a request of two Greeks who recently asked him for the exclusive rights to operate a popcorn and peanut wagon at Bellevue park. No definite action was taken and the whole thing left to Dr. Reed himself. However, the request for a permit to open a hamburger stand near the Austin school was turned down when Dr. Reed and Dr. A. H. Douglass, head of the city sanitary department, stated that the school authorities were opposed to the idea.

The delectable information that a hog pen located near the banks of the irrigation ditch, through which the city obtains its water supply from the lake, had been found, was supplied by Doctors Reed and Douglass. Some filling was needed, Reed said, and the council let the subject drop after he had promised to remedy the situation.

Commissioner Reed also arranged with Fire Chief McClure to have all city water mains flushed out as soon as the new high power pump now nearing completion in the water plant is placed in operation. This will be next Saturday, according to Commissioner Bonner, after which, he said, ample water pressure should prevail over the entire city. Chief McClure and Commissioner Reed were empowered to open the mains as frequently as they saw fit.

A kick on the present methods of garbage collection was made by Commissioner Shepherd, who said that the cafeteria of the City National bank, over which he has control, was experiencing great difficulty in getting its garbage hauled since the new rulings were effective. Mr. Douglass promised immediate relief and explained the workings of the system.

Arrange for Loan.

Ordinance 380 to 385, all of which related to city matters, were placed on various readings and passed by the council. The most important of these was that empowering the mayor to contract for a temporary loan not to exceed $200,000 in order that the city may be tided over its present financial stringency.

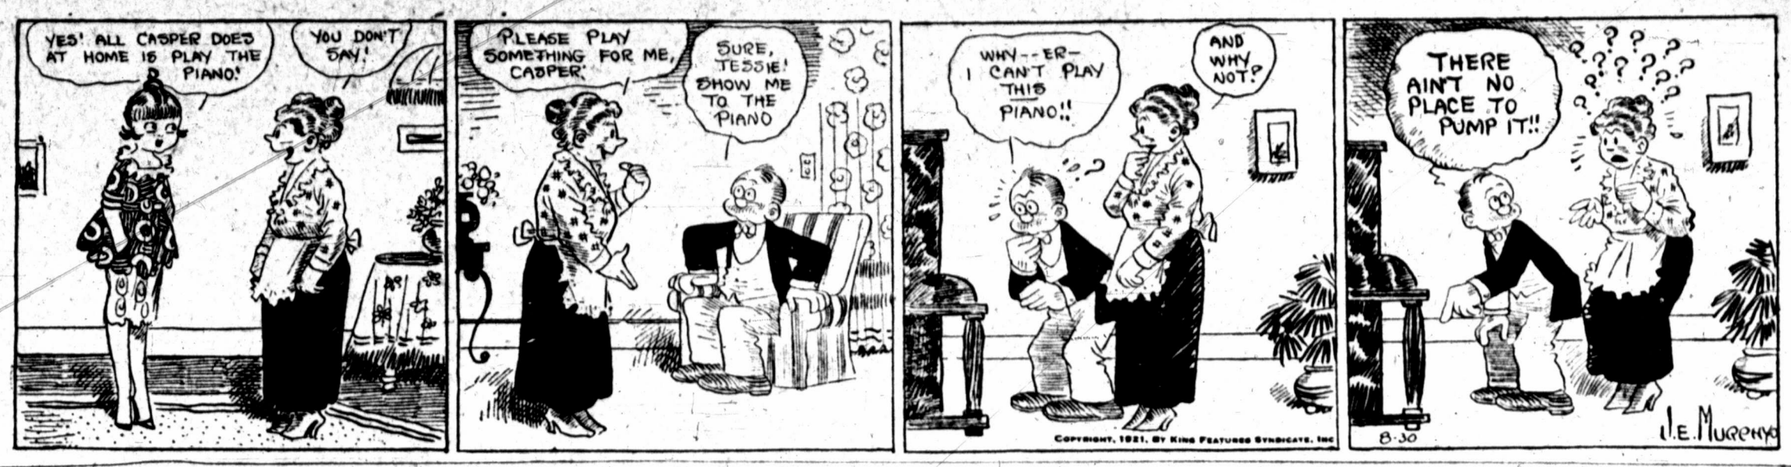

City Attorney Mann was requested to prepare a letter advising the council of the city's status regarding paving of street intersections.

A long executive session at the close of the meeting was unproductive of definite steps in regard to matters laid before the body by Commissioner Fitts. The possibility that an assistant city attorney to prosecute cases in police court might be employed was intimated.

This will be settled at another meeting in the near future.

PLAN PAVED ROAD FROM FORT WORTH TO AMARILLO

STAMFORD, TEXAS, Aug. 30.—Plans for further expansion of work along the Gulf-to-Colorado highway between Fort Worth and Wichita Falls were further advanced by the decision of Clay county enthusiasts to call a $1,000,000 good roads bond election immediately. Enthusiastic meetings have already been held in Henrietta and Petrolia.

The ultimate plan of the advocates of the Gulf-to-Colorado highway association is a completely paved road between Fort Worth and Amarillo, and hence on to Denver. Three counties in Colorado already have paved roads, and since Wichita, Potter and Tarrant and parts of Wilbarger and Hardeman either have or have arranged for paved roads the day is drawing closer when a paved road between Fort Worth and Wichita Falls and the Panhandle-Plains metropolis is not so far distant.

PLAN CORDIAL RECEPTIONS FOR INSPECTORS OF HIGHWAY

DALHART, TEXAS, Aug. 30.—Scores of letters from chambers of commerce and city officials to the executive offices of the Colorado to Gulf highway here indicate that the proposed inspection trip of the executive committee of the association which will start at Denver September 12 will meet with cordial receptions all along the line.

The party is due to arrive in Wichita Falls on Saturday, September 17, at 10 a. m.

HOME TALENT PLAY TO BE STAGED AT VERNON

VERNON, TEXAS, Aug. 30.—A home talent play for the benefit of the public library fund will be staged at Moore's theatre the evening of September 8. Two one-act plays will be presented, "Neighbors," and "Suppressed Desires." More funds are needed here for the purchases of popular fiction and children's books.

FARMERS IN WILBARGER PLOWING LATE AT NIGHT

VERNON, TEXAS, Aug. 30.—Farmers of this county have been laboring industriously to take advantage of the moisture provided by the week end of Aug. 14, and many agriculturists have been plowing late at night in an effort to turn wheat land. Moonlight of last week afforded particular advantage in this respect. Travelers returning at night recently from Childress counted seven tractors busily pulling plows near the road between Quanah and Vernon, and surmised that the number was considerably augmented by those that could not be seen. Farmers are catching up with their plowing, and many have finished turning the land.

SUSPEND OPERATIONS ON WELL IN WEST VERNON

VERNON, TEXAS, Aug. 30.—Operations on the West Vernon well have been suspended pending efforts of company officials to raise additional finances. The well is down in the neighborhood of 2,400 feet. R. T. Jenkins left Friday for California, where he will make an effort to obtain more funds. Quite a good deal of Vernon money is invested in this hole.

A Soothing Shave
Plus four things more

We wanted to give men the benefits of palm and olive oils in shaving.
We knew these softening, soothing oils were the best for the face—for 3,000 years that had been known. But the problem was to apply their balmy blend to a shaving cream.
It was not easy—though we certainly knew soap making well. Our creation of the finest toilet soap known had proved that.
We made up and tested scientifically 130 different kinds of shaving cream. All other known creams also were tested to learn their virtues and their faults. And step by step, and month by month, we improved formulas until perfection was reached in each quality desired.

Formula No. 130 was right
In this formula we found that at last the ideal shaving cream was attained. It proved superior on these tests:

It multiplies itself in lather 250 times. Just one-half gram—a bit of cream—proves plenty for a luxurious shave.
The oil coating on the beard is removed almost instantly. Within one minute the beard absorbs 15% of water—enough to soften the stubbornest beard. Such quick efficiency is astonishing.
The lather maintains its rich creamy fullness for ten minutes on the face. Plenty of time to shave.
The palm and olive oils are the supreme lubricant, soft and soothing to the skin. So the need for lotions is ended.

Now test it yourself
Millions have already adopted Palmolive Shaving Cream because of these superiorities.

NEGRO'S RECKLESS DRIVE LEADS TO DISCOVERY THAT HE IS WANTED ELSEWHERE

A reckless drive through the downtown streets Monday night proved rather disastrous for Willie Branch, a negro, who is now held in the city jail awaiting the arrival of the sheriff from Bonham, who holds warrants for him.

Branch collided with a touring car on Seventh street early Monday evening and was arrested by Officer Nail. Tuesday morning he was fined $10 on a reckless driving charge, but before being released was recognized by officials as being the negro ordered held for the Bonham authorities.

Chief of Police Morgan communicated with the Bonham sheriff Tuesday morning and was told that an officer is now on the way to this city. Branch is wanted on a felony theft charge, it is said.

GARAGE AND FORD CAR ARE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Damage amounting to about $600, part of which was said to be covered by insurance, was caused when fire broke out in a garage at the rear of the George Carter home, 1517 Thirteenth street, late Monday evening. The garage and a Ford touring car were damaged by the flames.

Firemen were of the opinion that the fire started from a short circuit in the electrical wiring of the car.

LATEST STYLE

By LENORE

For the woman who seeks a new note in her afternoon frock, is suggested a model built on those lines of sophisticated simplicity which makes you wonder how the smartness was obtained. Well, to begin with, there's a narrow foundation of pussywillow. To this the skirt is tacked at the side back, and swirled around to the front, forming the shapely tunic which is the whole point to the gown. The new self-brocaded crepe called Jacquard silk may be used, in taupe, brown, navy or black, and a deep collar of creamy georgette trimmed with an inset border of tiny pleats, supplies a soft finish for the neck. The armholes are fashionably wide and Georgette lengthens the sleeves.

In millinery, glycerined ostrich feathers are again favored this season, as shown in the black velvet hat so becomingly worn by the figure in the sketch.

PATTERN NO. 245.

A pattern for the above model (No. 245) can be obtained in sizes 34, 36 or 38, by sending to Lenore, 8 West Fortieth street, New York City, your name, address and 50 cents in postage stamps. Be sure to keep this newspaper clipping of the sketch and description of the garment to use as a working model when the pattern reaches you—which will be within two weeks' time.—The Editor.

OIL COMPANY ENJOINED FROM DISCONNECTING PIPE THAT LEADS TO GAS PLANT

Judge F. A. Martin of the 50th district court has issued an injunction writ against the Superior Oil company restraining them from disconnecting the pipes and lines of the McMan Oil and Gas company. The latter filed suit for damages and injunction against the former.

The plaintiffs allege that they own and operate a casing-head gasoline plant in block 74, Red River Valley lands, and that they are the absolute owner and holder of all right and title to all of the casing-head gas coming from the oil wells of the defendant.

It is alleged that they operate there at a daily profit of $100 and that if the defendant cuts off their pipes that they will be damaged in the sum of $365,000.

Judge Martin set the case down for final hearing at 9 o'clock in the morning of September 10.

C. C. RANDLE, JR. WINS FIRST RANGER BICYCLE

C. C. Randle Jr., aged 13, 1413 Fifteenth street, came under the wire first in the famous bicycle race and is now the proud owner of a Ranger "motorbike" model. He was one of the first workers to start out to win one of these machines and kept at it until he had secured the required thirty-five subscriptions.

This he accomplished in three days and now feels well rewarded for his efforts. There are several more workers who will go "over the top" within the next few days and the Times has found it necessary to send in a rush order for more bicycles.

Not only in Wichita Falls is the offer attracting a lot of attention but in the surrounding towns as well. There are several workers at Iowa Park, Burkburnett, Electra and other nearby towns who have passed the halfway mark.

All workers are again reminded that they have until November 1 to secure the required number of subscribers, so if you only average one a day you will be returned a winner long before this offer is withdrawn.

One of the Ranger bicycles has been placed on display for the next few days at the Ralston & Smith store at Iowa Park and the boys and girls in that vicinity are invited to call and inspect it.

The fright claim prevention committee of the Katy held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday in the offices of Supt. F. W. Grace. Out-of-town members present were G. M. Singletary of Altus, W. T. Spicer of Burkburnett, C. M. McKay of Mangum and H. G. Rhea of Elk City.

HATCHITT REPLIES TO JEROME STONE LETTER ON LEGION

The Times has received the following:

"The lack of accurate information usually accounts for most misleading statements. Mr. Jerome Stone's interview regarding local affairs of the American Legion appearing in yesterday's Times illustrates this sound rule.

"Had Mr. Stone attended any meeting of the local post during the current year he would have found what he is pleased to term a 'buck' presiding as post commander. In this way he could have avoided the error of his misstatement in respect to the influence of 'bucks' in the affairs of the post. Had he been able to lend his presence at any of the funerals had of his buddies brought from overseas these sad affairs would have reflected a little more credit on the town from the standpoint of attendance. And furthermore, had he been inclined to contribute either in time or money to the work of the few men who sought to establish the post and at the same time feed and find employment for the hundreds of 'bucks' from all parts of the country stranded here during the strenuous years of '19 and '20, the suggestion of his name as a possible candidate for the office of post commander would not have produced so much as a snicker.

"In the army there were two classes of men despised of all. These were made up of a few officers who thought themselves superior to enlisted men, and of a few enlisted men who 'cussed' officers in season and out of season. The former were in most cases incompetent renegades who owed their commissions to accident or political influence. The cussing of the latter was usually done through the windows of the guard-house. It is indeed to be regretted if either of these classes are represented on the roster of Pat Carrigan post. But if so, the more reason why the decent ex-service men should get together and pull together in a united effort to make the legion a positive factor for civic betterment. This good purpose is not stimulated by attempts to revive imaginary prejudices incident to military discipline during the war.

ELECTION DISTRICTS UNDERGO REVISION BY COMMITTEE TUESDAY

Redistricting of the city of Wichita Falls with reference to election boxes was the work of a committee that met with Judge J. P. Jones late Tuesday afternoon. The committee was composed of Walter Curlee, J. L. Jackson and N. O. Monroe.

According to the statutes the redistricting of a county must be done during the August term of court and Judge Jones and the commissioners tentatively created new boxes in the county but the work of redistricting the city was left to the committee.

The only changes made outside the city of Wichita Falls was the creation of one additional box in each of Electra, Iowa Park and Burkburnett. The dividing line between the boxes in Burkburnett and Iowa Park is the railroad while the new paved highway in Electra will form the division there.

The recommendation of the committee will be submitted to the county commissioners at their next regular meeting at which time the boxes will be renumbered.

It is believed that there will be at least 10 or 11 boxes in the city of Wichita Falls in place of the four now existing. Should there be 10 new boxes in the city it will raise the total of the county from 14 to 24.

BUYER FOR JEWELRY FIRM SAYS TRADE IS EXPECTING IMPROVED CONDITIONS

"Jewelers over the country generally are optimistic in regard to the business outlook for this winter and the same is true for merchants and business men in all other lines," said Al Cohen, buyer for the Kruger Jewelry company, who returned Monday from a three weeks' visit to New York and other eastern centers.

It is impossible at the present time to predict whether or not jewelry will experience any radical changes in price, Cohen believes, for the markets are more or less unsettled and any predictions would be merely guess work. Prices on the better grades of diamonds may never be lowered, he says, although the inferior grades have already seen some decrease since the war.

The eastern markets have been crowded with buyers from all over the country during the last weeks and the fact that they are spending money freely is an optimistic sign to the local man.

VAUDEVILLE NOT TO BE SHOWN HERE THIS WINTER, TOO COSTLY

Wichita Falls will have no vaudeville this winter, at least as long as present conditions exist in the show business.

This was the statement made Tuesday morning by H. S. Ford, local theatrical magnate, who last year operated the Wichita and Palace theaters. Both houses have been losing propositions and unless the cost of maintaining a theater for the presentation of vaudeville decreases greatly within a short time this city will not be on one of the established circuits, so far as Mr. Ford is concerned.

Amusements will not be lacking, however, for a large number of the seasons most popular road shows have already been booked and a high class stock company has also been engaged for a run of 12 weeks beginning late in October. The first of the road shows will also appear in the same month.

The vaudeville season has now opened in Dallas and other cities of the state which have supported it sufficiently to warrant its being returned.

CONCRETE RESISTS BLOWS OF AUTOISTS VERY SUCCESSFULLY

The distinction of being the first motorist in the city to collide with one of the new "drive to the right" safety posts goes to a woman.

One of the fair sex sideswiped the Scott and Eighth street post Monday evening and, from all reports, got the worst of the deal. Her car, it was said, was damaged to some extent while the heavy post was not ven moved from its parking spot.

The police were unable to learn the name of this newest candidate for municipal fame.

The concrete safety zone at Eighth and Indiana also emerged unscathed after being struck by a Hudson car Monday night. The car was not seriously damaged as it was being driven slowly. One of the occupants, a small boy, was slightly cut about the face.

BABY COYOTES ADD REALISM TO MAXWELL WINDOW DISPLAY

Two baby coyotes, captured by J. H. Stanfill in the wilds of Archer county, are the center of attraction on Ohio avenue in the windows of the Maxwell Hardware store. The animals form part of a gun and hunting equipment display calling attention to the approach of dove season.

The artificial surroundings are so realistic that even the coyotes seem fooled, for they appear to feel perfectly at home.

ASYLUM POSITIONS AT SALARIES LOWER THAN USUALLY PAID

It is the present intention of the board of control to get the Northwest Texas Insane Asylum open for patients as soon as possible, and some definite steps to that end will probably be taken very shortly, according to Representative B. F. Johnson.

Wichitans who expect to obtain employment at the asylum must be prepared to work for wages rather below the accepted scale, according to the appropriation bill, which fixes the amount allowed each class of employes. The figures fixed by the bill include board, and are as follows:

Stenographer $75 a month, chief engineer $125, attendants $45, combination carpenter, blacksmith and plumber $75, chief cook, $50, head baker $60.

The bill provides $51,840 per year for the hospital, in addition to $100,000 allowed the board of control for completing and equipping the institution.

PARRISH'S PLEA FOR ECONOMY

The Amarillo Tribune is thoroughly in accord with Congressman Parrish's plea for economy in government. Commenting on Mr. Parrish's recent speech in congress the Tribune says:

"Sounding a warning that congress must realize definitely and finally that the American people cannot and will not submit to the unbearable burdens of ever-increasing appropriations and added taxation, Representative Lucian W. Parrish of Henrietta and candidate for the senate next year, made a masterful speech in the house recently in favor of rigid economy and disarmament. Mr. Parrish realized that the overshadowing question here for the next generation will be that of economy in government expenditures. He is keenly awake to the fact that the time has come in our national history when economy must be the watchword of our public officials and that it is imperative that government expenses be reduced.

"There is no way to avoid the facts. America is spending more and more with each year. Taxation is yearly growing heavier. There must be a halt or the burden will become so heavy on the tax payer that it will be unbearable.

"To lessen expenditures there must be rigid economy. Not a dollar of the federal fund should be spent unless it is absolutely necessary.

"Not only must expenditures be held to the minimum but the nation must go further and arrange its business so that the necessary expenditures may be reduced.

"Mr. Parrish points out the effect of high taxes on business interests of the nation. The business interests of the country which are so closely linked with the life and prosperity of the people are partially stagnated at least by reason of excessive tax burdens.

"Mr. Parrish makes an eloquent appeal for a close study of the economic needs of the country to the end that there may be speedily evolved means and methods by which the people's burdens may be lifted and business 'once more placed on a safe and sane basis,'"

THE LANGUAGE OF THE PEOPLE

French has been the language of diplomacy for several centuries. Many of the great peace conferences have been conducted in French. But French will not be the language at the coming disarmament conference at Washington, although it is probable that the English will not be the language solely used.

There is disappointment in France, of course, over the fact that French is not to be the sole official language of the conference. But the Journal Des Debats discusses the matter philosophically. It points out that in the days before the rise of the democracies, only aristocrats and members of the nobility filled the diplomatic positions in Europe. French was the language of polite society everywhere. The Russian, the Italian, the German and those of high degree of all the others knew the French language as well as their own and perhaps better. It was natural therefore that French should be the language of diplomacy. But the growth of the democracies, the Journal Des Debats points out, has changed all this. Now anybody is likely to be a premier or a diplomat and indeed in the two leading nations of the world today, the secretary of state and the premier have come from the common walks of life.

ARIMSTEAD RESIGNS UPON REQUEST

George Armistead has resigned as postmaster at San Antonio because his resignation was requested from Washington. His commission would not have expired for more than a year yet. The reason for the request was that some faithful republican wanted the job. A number of such requests have been made of democrats whose commissions have not expired. Such a request is a demand. The preceding administration exercised a different policy. Republicans were permitted to continue in office until their commissions expired, even though these commissions ran sometimes for nearly four years. George Armistead has made an excellent record as postmaster at San Antonio. He is a representative citizen. His resignation does not reflect upon his personally. But the fact that his resignation was requested—demanded, to speak plainly—is a reflection upon the administration at Washington.

STILL HOPE FOR PEACEABLE SOLUTION OF IRISH PROBLEM

Notwithstanding the apparent finality of De Valera's reply to the British government's proposal for dominion status for Ireland, negotiations have not been broken off and as long as representatives of Britain and Ireland will meet and talk there is hope that the situation will not return to that of bloody guerilla warfare and equally bloody reprisals.

Outside of the sinn fein Irish element in America there was disappointment when De Valera did not accept the proposal of Lloyd George or at least meet the premier half way. But as long as representatives of the Irish people and representatives of the British government will meet and discuss the matter there is hope that amicable solution will be found.

CURRENT COMMENT

A Strange Treaty.
(New York Times)

No pomp, no ceremony, no speech-making marked the signing of the separate treaty of peace between Germany and the United States. The plenipotentiaries wrote their names and got out as quickly as possible That was seemly, for it would have been most unseemly to invoke the usual formalities and dignities upon the conclusion of a pact that is not at all the usual thing in treaties, being of so uncommon a nature that it would be safe to pronounce it unique. This treaty of itself has no life. It is not viable. Apart from the Porter resolution and the treaty of Versailles it could not stand for an instant. In fact, its sole independent affirmation is that of the desire to restore friendly relations between the two countries. Beyond that, it is a parasitic growth upon the treaty of Versailles.

It will serve its one primary purpose, that of establishing peace, and should, therefore, be ratified by the senate. If its assertion of rights and benefits under the rejected treaty of Versailles is valid, further benefits will accrue under it, such as the confirmation of our rights in the island of Yap, and the right to participate in the work of the reparations commission, should we so desire. But it is a formless and incomplete instrument; it must be followed by the formal treaty of commerce and amity negotiated in the usual manner and containing a multitude of provisions not inserted in the agreement signed in Berlin.

It is the manner in which these things are done that Americans will find humiliating. The senate rejected the treaty of Versailles after pouring out upon it and upon the Americans who assisted in making it floods of abuse in a contest prolonged for many months. Yet now we have the audacity to assert an unimpaired title to benefits, privileges and rights under the treaty, all the benefits and rights we could have secured by ratification, while at the same time expressly repudiating and disclaiming any obligation we should have assumed had we accepted the treaty. The burdens and duties—they are the affair of the European nations. We ask nothing but the benefits. We retain the demand for the disarmament of Germany, under Part V of the treaty, but if Germany should not choose to disarm we should leave it to her European neighbors to enforce the demand. Whatever might be inconvenient or troublesome or costly, we put by as no concern of ours, but we reserve as within our assured rights all that we feel to be desired and of advantage.

It is unlikely that the allied nations will interpose any objection to the execution of this treaty. But almost certainly they would do that were we a weaker nation, were they less dependent upon us. They might easily set up the doctrine often referred to that Germany's adisposable assets were distributed to the beneficiaries under the treaty of Versailles and that we come too late. In part we meet that assertion by declaring that we derive our rights from the victory, not from the treaty. Now we specifically set up claims under the treaty. We must expect sneers and ridicule, hard enough to bear, but not much beyond. The complacent belief in Washington that we obtain everything we might have obtained by ratifying the treaty is shockingly false and hollow. The material thing we retain, but not in a way to be proud of, while we forfeit altogether our moral position, our title to leadership among nations.

Mr. Antwine's Opinion.
(Clark McAdams in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.)

"The republicans are so tender of the feelings of Germans that it is just as well the German government did not press us too hard for terms," Mr. Antwine said.

"I read the text of the peace treaty with a growing relief beyond anything I have known for months. I knew they were making a treaty, but I did not know how far the German government was pressing its advantage. It would not have taken very much pressure to have made us confess responsibility for our participation in the war, and I was too sanguine that we might not be paying Germany an indemnity.

"Thank God, nothing of this sort happened. It clears the Germans, so far as I am concerned, of most of the hard things said about them by their enemies. They needed money worse than anybody else on earth, but so far as I can make out by a close scrutiny of the treaty they made no attempt to collect reparations from us, though goodness knows we have money and there is nobody at Washington who would put the republican party in the hole politically by refusing anything Germany asked.

"It seems to me the whole thing has passed off about as harmlessly as it could. We are not saying anything about trying the kaiser or anyone else, and that ought to make us seem friendly by comparison as opposed to the people who think something of this sort ought to be done.

"I want to give Mr. Hughes credit for getting us off nicely. If he did half as well as his clients when he was practicing law they couldn't have paid out much beyond the fees commanded by that sort of service.

"Certainly, nobody will begrudge Mr. Hughes his salary on next payday."

Where the Burden Rests
(Waco Times-Herald

Every now and again we read the statement that this, that or the other county pulls down from the school funds more than it pays in.

The idea sought to be conveyed, of course, is that this particular county ought not to complain because of an increase in the tax rate.

It sounds pretty well.

But it won't bear analysis.

And why?

Because somebody has to pay that which the favored county pulls down.

Our legislative bodies waste the people's substance in riotous living, so to speak, and when the people complain, it is pointed out to them that they are pulling down certain funds as though these funds had fallen as manna and therefore no just complaint can be lodged.

We have the same sort of reasoning as to intangible value taxes and corporation taxes and even income taxes; these are not paid, we are told, by the men who toil.

It is fallacious reasoning.

All taxation falls at last on the man who toils.

It is the man who works the land who pays the taxes on that land.

It is the man who rents the house who pays the taxes on that house.

The taxes are passed on to the toilers.

Money is voted to aid certain worthy causes, and sometimes this is unavoidable, but the burden falls on the toilers and frequently creates a worse condition than was sought to be relieved.

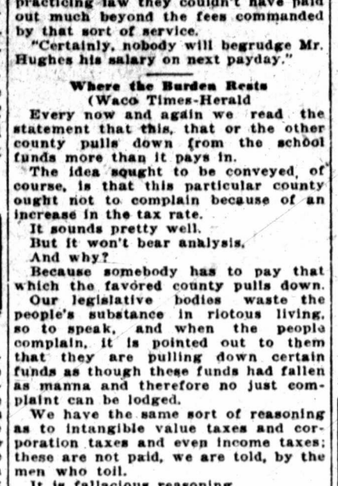

The men in office have a mania for voting away public moneys; they get credit for their liberal views, and all the while they are making more difficult the task of the toiler.

Government we must have; some of its charities are unavoidable and praiseworthy.

But much that it gives away could well be avoided.

And every dollar saved is just that much of added comfort to those who toil.

Keep it in mind, reader: all taxation falls at last on the man who toils.

Sights.

Some folks admire the mountains and some admire the sea,
And the whole world loves the beauty
of a fine old maple tree,
There's grandeur in a sunset when the sky is aglow
But as for me, I'm vowin', that the finest sight I know
Is to see the children smilin' when I'm getting home at night.
An' the mother smilin' with 'em, sayin' everything's all right.

These eyes o' mine won't worry over foreign scenes they lose,
No, tears they'll shed o'er missin' all those soft Italian blues,
An' though they never wanter round
the catacombs at Rome,
They'll keep on gayly twinklin' at the loveliness at home,
An' they'll have enough of beauty they can gaze on with delight,
If they see the children smilin' when
I'm comin' home at night.

Just let me read contentment in the eyes of those I love,
And I'll ask no greater beauty from the Lord who reigns above;
Just let me see them growing into men and women true,
And I'll seek no distant splendors as so many people do,
For in this great world of marvels
there can be no finer sight
Than a pack of smilin' youngsters when you're comin' home at night.

PUEBLO MAN SAVES HIS LIFE

"I suffered for years from stomach troubles of the worst sort," said Mr. A. Fortwanger, residing at 621 Union street, Pueblo, Colo. "I spent several thousand dollars," he continued, "with the best physicians and in the most popular sanitariums receiving little or no benefit. I was advised to try Mendenhall's Number 40 and to my surprise, I improved from the start and after taking four bottles I am completely cured and consider that 'Number 40' has saved my life."

"Number 40" is recommended for blood troubles from any cause; chronic constipation, rheumatism, indigestion, stomach and liver troubles, eczema, skin troubles, etc. Acts on the liver removing waste matter from the system, thus cleansing the blood of all impurities and doing away with the need of cathartic pills and tablets. Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

MAKING EACH DAY SIGNIFICANT

All one has to do is to use his eyes to learn that life employs all too much of dullness and drabness.

The unlearned day laborer knows next to nothing of what it is to live for an ideal, much less to work toward it.

And even many of us who are able to see beyond the mist of necessities, are deadened to the crying of that spirit within us which may break many a shackle that binds us to intolerance, selfishness, narrow bickering and coldness.

The fact is that few of us have in mind to make each day significant!

It is not enough just to be courageous, to be self-controlled, to be privately happy, to find joy in food or clothing or shelter, to grow in will and in achievement—

We must be fusionists. We must be mixers of an enthusiastic type. We must touch the air of the universe and feel the warmth of the sun of all effort. We must make other people feel that we are in as much need of them as they are of us, else we are mere temporary stayrs and laborers for sordid hire alone.

Making each day significant is a task for us all.

The mother does it in love that she gives to the baby at her breast. And all through the activities of the world there is a constant cropping out of the desire to help and inspire others.

Stevenson has a thought along this line. "The true realism," says he, "always and everywhere, is that of the poets: to find out where joy resides, and give it a voice far beyond singing. For to miss the joy is to miss all!"

To break our externals and to stand bare before the world for what we are, is to make every day not only significant but what it should be.

Just the moment we wake to the fact that there is a great deal of joy in the world we may get and give, then it is that we begin to get perspective and our whole mind is illuminated for service.

The world is entirely able to live without you—but you are not at all able to live without the world!

HUMANISMS

Inner Lights on Lives and Whims of Personages in the Public Eye

By WILLIAM ATHERTON DU PUY.

At the age of 18, Albert D. Lasker, chairman of the shipping board, came up to Chicago from his native home down in Texas, and went to work as the handy boy around an advertising agency in the Windy city. Four years later he was drawing a salary of $1,000 a week as advertising director. In 10 years he owned the agency.

Lasker noticed that this agency had been taking contracts to rehabilitate nearly defunct commercial enterprises. It got fees for its services, or commissions on the new business. Lasker asked his associates why they should not purchase these enterprises which they were re-establishing and get all the profits. From that idea he has come to be many times a millionaire at the age of 40. He has taken hold of breakfast foods, automobiles, canned products, one after another, led them to great prosperity through national advertising, and harvested the returns.

He has done just this for an industrial concern down in Indiana, and Will Hays, chairman of the republican national committee, had known of the exploit. So Will Hays asked Lasker to try his rejuvenating theories on the republican party. So did an advertising man come into national political life.

It was a very handsome hat which citizens of Wyoming recently presented to President Harding in calling his attention to the frontier celebration that is held every year in Cheyenne. Mr. Harding has another hat, however, that is highly prized and about which hangs the sentiment of an early political experience and the memory of the only time he was ever fired from a job.

It was back in the days when James G. Blaine ran for the presidency on the republican ticket. In those days there were many marching clubs and there was a Blaine stovepipe hat worn by supporters of that candidate all over the country.

Warren Harding was a youngster just grown and had his first job of reporting on the newspaper in Marion which has long ceased to exist. That newspaper was, however, demberatic in its persuasions, and the editor felt it deeply when his reporter insisted on wearing this headpiece symbolic of the opposite party.

Finally he issued an ultimatum that Warren Harding should desist from this flaunting of the badge of the enemy or he should separate himself from the payroll. Harding gave evidence of early political loyalty by choosing the latter horn of the dilemma. He was fired. Eventually he got back at his former employer by starting an opposition paper, which put him out of business. He still has the Blaine stovepipe.

Miss Temple Bailey, who is successful as a writer of romance and love stories, eats her heart out because the public refuses to accept books of a deep religious nature.

Brig. Gen. Amos A. Fries, head of the chemical warfare service of the war department, has a lusy family of growing children and was the inspiration for the establishment, this summer, of Camp Bradley for Girl Scouts on the grounds of Edgewood arsenal, on the bay near Baltimore.

ZBYSZKO PLANNING BUSY SEASON ON THE MAT

CHICAG, Aug. 30.—Stanislaus Zbysko, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, is planning a busy season on the mat. Zbysko will return from a hurried trip to Poland early in October to start active training. He returned to his home in Poland to visit his aged mother, who is reported to lay dying. Zbyszko has been making his home in Chicago since coming to this country a year ago.

Many times you have passed some one on the street carrying home a bag of ground coffee. The wonderful aroma it gave off made you hungry for a cup of it too. That was the flavor, the real life of the coffee, passing into the atmosphere. Think of it—paying a good price to get a quality coffee and then losing much of what you pay for—flavor—simply because it is not packed right.

Hills Bros. "Red Can" is vacuum packed which insures you of coffee that is as fresh and flavory as when it left the roaster.

Sand Crabs Never Have Chance With Marshall And Spudders Win 10-2

GALVESTON, Aug. 29.—The pennant chasing Spudders evened up the series with the Crabs here today by continuing their uncanny walloping of the horsehide. Th thoroughness with which the Wichita Falls crowd trampled the Islanders into their own green sod was suggestive of a stone crusher running down a dandelion. The score was 10 to 2.

It was evident almost from the outset of the game that there was only one hope for the Crabs. That was that "Rube" Marshall should be overcome by the heat. "Rube" had the sphere doing all kinds of tricks on its journey to the plate, and happy was the man who could make his club collide with it head on.

The Salmites mauled Jack Knight hard and finally drove him from the hill at the end of the eighth chapter. A new bird named Jeffries haunted the mound during the last chapter and endured a good bit of trouble while trying to dispose of three hitters.

Much of the batting done by the Wichitans was unrestrained, not to say turbulent. Buddy Tanner blazed the ball over the right fence in the fourth with nobody aboard while Cecil Griggs made the circuit unaccompanied on a tremendous belt over the left field barrier in the next chapter. Danny Clark performed likewise in the ninth with Tex McDonald perched on second. As usual; his thump cleared the right field wall."

Another one of Salm's new players, B. Allen by name, performed in the center pasture and had a very good day. Mr. Allen, who is late of Meridian in the Mississippi league, made a scintillating catch in the sixth which robbed Jimmy Thrash of a sure triple and prevented a runner from scoring from third. On the offense he poled out one single, but hit the ball hard every time he toed the platter.

The Crabs fielded raggedly while the Spudders had another errorless day. The league leaders grabbed everything in sight and didn't make the slightest semblance of a bobble.

The slaughter is clearly depicted in the following detailed score:

First Inning.

WICHITA FALLS: McElwee beat out a hit to short and took second on Tanner's sacrifice. Knight to Schliebner. McDonald was also thrown out by Knight, McElwee going to third. Clark was purposely passed. McElwee was caught off third, O'Brien to Knight. No runs, one hit, no errors.

GALVESTON: Bittle was thrown out by Marshall. Ellam flew out to B. Allen. Marshall and Works disposed of Schliebner. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second Inning.

WICHITA FALLS: B. Allen went out to Schliebner. Griggs popped to Knight. Works was thrown out at first by Knight. No runs, no hits, no errors.

GALVESTON: Distel fanned. Thrash singled to center, but went out stealing after Allen flew out to McElwee. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Third Inning.

WICHITA FALLS: Kitchens flew out to Bittle. Marshall grounded out to Schliebner, unassisted. McElwee went out the same way. No runs, no hits, no errors.

GALVESTON: S. Knight fanned. O'Brien singled to left. J. Knight popped to Marshall. O'Brien stole second. Bittle popped to Clark. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fourth Inning.

WICHITA FALLS: Tanner lifted one over the right field barrier for the circuit. McDonald was thrown out by J. Knight. Clark went out swinging. B. Allen was thrown out by S. Knight. One run, one hit, one error.

GALVESTON: Ellam was thrown out by McDonald. Schliebner walked. Distel singled to left and Schliebner was thrown out at third, Griggs to McDonald. Distel was caught napping off first later. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fifth Inning.

WICHITA FALLS: Griggs belted one out of the lot via left field fir the circuit. Works went out Distel to Schliebner. Kitchens walked and was forced at second by Marshall, J. Knight to Ellam. McElwee's single to right put "Rube" on second. Tanner grounded out to Schliebner, unassisted. One run, two hits, no errors.

GALVESTON: Thrash was thrown out by McDonald. Clark and Works took care of R. Allen. S. Knight hit one over the right field fence for the circuit. O'Brien singled to center. J. Knight was thrown out by Marshall. One run, two hits, no errors.

Sixth Inning.

WICHITA FALLS: McDonald fanned. Clark drew a pass. B. Allen skied to Bittle. Clark went out trying to steal second. No runs, no hits, no errors.

GALVESTON: Bittle was thrown out by Marshall. Ellam went out in like manner. Schliebner walked. Distel tripled to deep center scoring Schliebner. Thrash lined out to B. Allen. One run, one hit, no errors.

Seventh Inning.

WICHITA FALLS: Griggs singled to center. Works flew out to left. Griggs stole second. Kitchens singled to left scoring Griggs and went to second on the throw to the plate. Marshall hit to S. Knight and Kitchens was caught going to third. After poling a foul over the right field fence that was a couple of feet away from the line, McElwee drew a pass. Tanner drove one at S. Knight that went between his legs and it also got away from Thrash in center, Marshall and McElwee scoring and Tanner reaching third. McDonald singled to center scoring Tanner. Clark popped to Ellam. Four runs, three hits, two errors.

GALVESTON: R. Allen was thrown out by Tanner. S. Knight walked. O'Brien popped to Tanner. J. Knight was thrown out at first by Marshall. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Eighth Inning.

WICHITA FALLS: B. Allen singled to left. Griggs forced him at second. Schliebner to Ellam. Works singled to center and when Thrash made a vain attempt to get Griggs going to third he romped to second. Kitchens singled to right scoring Griggs and Works and he went to second on the throw to the plate. Marshall lofted to bittle. McElwee was thrown out by J. Knight. Two runs, three hits, no errors.

GALVESTON: Bittle flew out to Griggs. Ellam fouled out to McDonald. Schliebner was thrown out by Tanner. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Ninth Inning.

WICHITA FALLS: Jefferies relieved Jack Knight on the mound. Tanner popped to Ellam. McDonald doubled to right and counted when Clark hit for the circuit over the right field fence. B. Allen skied to Thrash. Griggs was thrown out at first by Jefferies. Two runs, two hits, no errors.

GALVESTON: Distel was thrown out by Clark. Thrash went out the same way. Allen fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors.

BIG LEAGUE FOOTBALL TEAMS PREDICTED

Professional Elevents Drew Large Crowds In Contests Last Fall

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Within two years the big baseball leagues will be puttting football teams into the field, Joe F. Carr, president of the American Professional Football association, predicted at the annual fall meeting of the association here today.

"Professional football last year drew crowds as large as many big league baseball games did," Carr said. "With the popular interest already shown, and with the successful fight we are making on contract breaking and other wildcat practices, we are confident of a big league standing before long."

More than half of the association's players are former all-American college football stars, Carr said and 89 out of 100 of them have been on college or university teams.

FOUR CHAMPS IN RING LABOR DAY

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Four boxing champions will appear in Tex Rickard's Jersey City arena next Monday afternoon.

Johnny Wilson of Boston and Bryan Downey of Cleveland will settle their controversy as to which holds the middleweight title. This has been a matter of controversy since their recent meeting in Cleveland. Downey claims he won the title and Wilson asserts he retained it.

In the preliminaries, Johnny Buff, American flyweight titleholder, will engage Indian Russell, bantamweight from Harrisburg, Pa., and Mike McTigue, who holds the Irish and Canadian middleweight titles, will meet Panama Joe Gans, holder of the Rickard belt emblematic of the negro middleweight championship.

Traynor Recalled by Pirates.

MEMPHIS, TENN., Aug. 29.—Harold Traynor, shortstop under contract to the Pitsburgh Nationals but now playing with the Birmingham Southern association club, has been recalled by the Pirates, according to announcement here today by the management of the Birmingham club. Manager Gibson notified the Birmingham club he was sending Krehmeyer, another player, to replace Traynor.

Dodgers 1, Pirates 0.

BROOKLYN, Aug. 29.—Like an anticlimax to a million dollar demonstration was Monday's game when the the Dodgers trimmed the Pirates by 1 to 0. It was a rare pitchers' battle. A measley error proved the lever for a Brooklyn victory.

Two were out in the ninth when the winning run was sent across the plate. Myers, who had previously fanned twice, doubled solidly to deep left center, Bigbee holding the drive down by a corking one-handed stab. Then Schmandt drove a hot grounder down to Grimm, who beat the ball down and made a quick recovery. Cooper hustled over to cover the base and had ample time to make the putout had he handled the ball. Instead he manhandled it, making a foolish muff. Myers meanwhile had scampered to third on the play and kept right on to the plate, when Cooper made his bobble. Grimm again recovered the ball and made a quick throw to Schmidt. It was a close finish between the runner and the ball, but Umpire Hart called Myers safe and the game was over. Grimm was the only Pittsburgh player to make any protest over the decision.

Great Fielding Stunts.

Up to that time it was anybody's game Both Cooper and Reuther worked like Trojans and both received airtight support, the fielding abounding in brilliant stunts of all sorts and descriptions. Brilliant stops, wonderful running catches and startling stabs of ground hits followed each in kaleidoscopic succession so that the crowd was continually on its feet, applauding each player in turn. The Pirates got just as big a hand as the Dodgers, the palm being handed to Max Carey, whose catch of Neis' long driv to deep left center in the sixth cut off a homer and delayed the outcome. Ruether had a shade over Cooper so far as the hits were concerned, allowing four against six off the star Pirate hurler. But Cooper handed out only one pass to three by his rival, and fanned six batters against four.

Giants St Cubs 7.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The miracle is almost complete.

The Giants are almost in first place Monday they beat the Chicago Cubs by the score of 8 to 7 while the Dodgers won from the Pirates.

The Giants are now only a game and a half out of first place.

Less than a week ago they were seven and a half games behind Pittsburgh.

Baseball precedent has been smashed and shattered. Never has a team accomplished in so short a period of time when the Pirates came to the Polo Grounds apparently secured deeply intrenched in first place.

On the stretch of the pennant race it seemed that only a miracle would enable the Giants to reach up with the Pirates, but Wednesday they played a double header with the league leaders and the Giants won.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the teams met and each time the Giants won out after a snarl of stubbornly contested conflicts.

Sunday the Giants beat Alexander the Great, while the Pirate beat Burleigh Grimes, one of the best pitchers in baseball.

The Pittsburgh players held on tenaciously and desperately to their fast fading lead, and today, while the Dodgers, reaching out their hands across the transborough divide beat the Pirates, the Giants came from behind in a fighting finish and beat the Cubs.

Kelly Saves Game.

The tying run—and possible defeat—was on second base. Marriott, batting for Killifer, drove a sharp drive past first and Kelly, diving at the ball, scooped it up and threw to Nehf at first, retiring the side and Maisel crossed the plate with what would have been the tying run.

Cunningham singled and the entire complexion of the game changed. In the seventh, after replacing Burns in center, Cunningham singled again and brought Rawlings home with the run which put the Giants in the lead.

Emil Meusel, the Philadelphia dereliict, was again prominent in the play of the day. He drove two runs in the first with a double, single in the sixth and subsequently scored and in the seventh tripled and again scored. Rawlings followed with a double and for the first time since the third inning, when the Cubs brought their total of runs to five, the Giants went out into the lead.

CARPENTIER MAY NOT RETURN TO U. S. FOR FIGHT WITH GIBBONS

Frenchman's Plans Said to Be Dependant On Condition of Heart and Hand

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Georges Carpentier is becoming a young man of many whims, who is exercising overtime the well-known woman's prerogative of changing his mind.

The gorgeous one just can not make his mind whether to come back to America to meet Tommy Gibbons or to put his light heavyweight title in cold storage and becoming a country squire.

Tex Rickard, who wants to stage the Carpentier-Gibbons bout, has in his files a cable from Francois Descamps that the fight is on for some time this winter, but the news cables from the other side point to the belief that Georges is about to step into retirement.

Late news indicates that his future plans depend entirely on what the French specialist tell him about the condition of his heart and his battered right hand.

London insists that the Frenchman is not coming back to America. Major Arnold Wilson, British promoter, says he has Carpentier's promise to fight his last battle in London this winter.

According to Wilson, Descamps claims he did not sign a contract with Rickard to come back to the United States for another battle.

Carpentier has been doing a lot of talking since he returned to France, but through it all he has been the same good loser and the same fine sport that he proved himself to be in America.

Carpentier's Interview.

In regard to his fight with Dempsey, "Sporting Life (London), quotes him in an interview as saying:

"No one in our camp knew exactly what class of a boxer Dempsey was, and I made the mistake in allowing myself to be led into over-confidence.

"Dempsey is not an elegant boxer, but he is scientific. Moreover, he is very aggressive and has a terrific punch. He carries all before him and yet covers himself marvelously. His guard is perfect.

"His powers of endurance are incredible, and it was to this fact, which we never dreamt of, that I attribute my defeat. In the second round, when I saw that my hooks to the jaw were making him stagger, without sending him to the floor, I was seized with despair and I realized that I could not win.

"I do not thing that any boxer will be able to take the title away from the champion during the next four or five years, providing that he keeps clear of self-indulgence."

It is noticeable in his interview that Carpentier did not refer to his broken thumb and that he did not attempt to allibi. Thinking it over, it also seems that Carpentier himself never mentioned the broken hand here. It was Descamps and his friends who spread the story.

Since he departed for his home, many Americans in close touch with the boxing game have predicted that he would not return for another bout unless he could not resist the lure of another big purse.

WILLARD TRAINING FOR PROSPECTIVE DEMPSEY BOUT

TOPEKA, KAN., Aug. 29.—Jess Willard, while in his city today on business, said that he had started training for the prospective bout with Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion. He says he will scale his present weight 265, down to 238, his weight when he lost the title to Dempsey at Toledo, July 4, 1919.

SPORT SHOTS by Paul W. Barkin

Guess we'll have that three-game lead when we invade the Panther City.

Both the Spudders and the Cats had their batting togs on. There ought to be a couple of good swatfests at Panther Park.

The Skipper didn't send up much dope about Allen, his new outfielder. In fact, the records show that he is really an infielder and not an outfielder. While with Mobile in the Southern league last year he took part in 126 games, 124 of which were played at third. He poled out 194 hits out of 453 trips to the plate for an average of .230, while his fielding average was .894. Mobile evidently let him out to the Meridian club in the Mississippi loop, as Salm obtained him from that team.

The Spudders have also claimed Wilson, the former Marine backstop, by the waiver route. The Venezuelan was let out by Dallas to Mineral Wells a few weeks ago. Bischoff must have been hurt more than was thought at first as Wilson is expected to do the relief work behind the plate. When are the Spudders going to stop getting injured? Tanner, Rothfuss, Bescher, Miller and Bischoff have all been out for considerable periods this year, and the last four in the thick of the race. What is more, that quartet was well above the .300 mark when incapacitated. Yet they continue to win.

Not content with home run records galore and other marks too numerous to mention, Babe Ruth has shattered the season's record in the majors for hitting safely in consecutive games. Before he was stopped last Friday, the Sultan of Swat had hit safely at least once in 25 consecutive contests. In accomplishing this feat he was at bat 99 times and made 43 hits for an average of .490. The best previous mark was made by Goldie Rapp, formerly of the Giants, who, after being traded to the Phillies went 24 games before he was finally checked. The best previous mark in the American league was made by Harry Heilmann of the Tigers who went 23 games without missing.

Both New York clubs are trailing the leaders by a game and a half now. And yet the Giants were supposed to have only a mathematical chance a week ago. There are many who much prefer them to Gibson's slipping Pirates now. Of course, we never could see anybody but the Yankees in the Johnson circuit. Practically every race in the country, except in the Southern and International, has been tight this year with the winner in doubt until the final series.

A change in ownership of the Dallas club can be looked for before many moons have passed. There has been friction among the heads of the club ever since the season opened and matters have just about come to a head now. President Hassell has stated that he has no desire to dispose of his holdings, but Ham Patterson is in a different frame of mind. The two figure that their combined holdings are worth $175,000. This is a large figure, but perfectly within reason as an offer of $125,000 was made over a year ago, and the Marines have enjoyed the most prosperous season ever this year. Approximately $30,000 was paid for the franchise in the winter of 1916-1917.

President Roberts called a meeting of his umpires in Houston last week and among those present were Paul Sentell, Ed Daly, George Miller, Ted Breitenstein and Harry Kane. In commenting on the meeting a Houston scribe writes: "After condolences had been passed around, Daley was unanimously voted a wound stripe and distinguished service medal with palms for giving a beating to a Galveston fan when assaulted there more than a week ago. The awarding of the wound stripe was quite a befitting act as Daly is still wearing his broken hands in bandages. The suggestion was made by one of the umpires who has gone through two recent campaigns in Galveston that armored cars be supplied all arbiters assigned to that city. Nothing hapened worthy of note at the meeting. Roberts simply handing them assignments for the remainder of the season.

COTTON MARKET REACHES NEW HIGH LEVEL

PRESIDENT SERVES NOTICE ON MINERS

of district 17, United Mine Workers of America, follows:

"With all males from the ages of 14 to 60 under arms, women and children fleeing in panic over the line into Boone county, armed patrols arriving and departing and every available conveyance carrying supplies to the picket posts in the hills, the Sharples-Blair sector may well be compared with Belgium in the early days of the world war.

"On the northern side of the mountain, which serves as a watershed to both Coal and Guyandotte rivers, lies the camp and main force of the miners. Similarly situated on the southern side are the Logan county deputies and the state police. The miners have advance lines in the hills.

"Should these men clash it would draw into battle a total of 2,500 men. Along the tops of the ridge are trenches and breastworks of rocks and felled trees."

The Kanawha Coal Operators' association statement yesterday that the three men killed in the engagement near Sharples between state troopers and deputy sheriffs and a band of armed men had been identified as William L. Greer of Matewan, and Cecil Clark and W. M. Morrison of Sharples, was borne out by the reports of Adjutant General Charnock and Mr. Porter. Clark's father is said to live at Catlettsburg, Ky. A fourth casualty, George T. May, received a slight wound.

Tell Stories of Fight.

According to Mr. Porter, several men at Sharples told him their stories of the fight. All agreed, he said. None of the men could say whether the troopers and deputies suffered and losses. However, they stated that one campaign and one broad brimmed hat were picked up near the scene. Guns and cartridges were found alongside the hats, Mr. Porter said the men told him.

After the battle, Mr. Porter said his informants told him, all the miners in the vicinity armed themselves and small boys stood with arms at their fathers' sides. Patrols that had been withdrawn from the mountains lying toward Logan were again thrown out. Later a party of men hunting a cow at Hewitt heard firing and began a search. At a nearby farm house the men told Mr. Porter, he said, the searchers found Magistrate Fulton Mitchell and four others eating dinner with two machine guns, several rifles and pistols and a large supply of ammunition alongside them. The men told Porter, he added, that Magistrate Mitchell and three of his companions, one, his brother, and the others John Browning and Will White, were shackled with their own handcuffs by the men who discovered them and that they are now held prisoners, being smuggled from place to place to prevent their release by deputies. Mr. Porter stated that the men said messages had been sent across the mountains to peace officers that the four will not be surrendered, but would be exchanged for captive miners at the rate of one captive deputy for 10 miners.

Other Disturbing Reports

A summary of other disturbing unconfirmed reports reaching the governor's office and made public there last night and early today follow:

"That armed men are again forming in the vicinity of Marmet, coming from the Paint and Cabin creek coal fields.

"That Logan county friends of Magistrate Mitchell and his fellow captives have threatened to attempt their release by force Tuesday.

"That the situation in Boone county to the west of Madison is causing authorities much concern.

"That a fifth prisoner, Deputy Charles Moore, was added to the Hewitt's creek group yesterday."

Sheriff Hatfield of McDowell county has sent half of his force of deputies brought here to assist Sheriff Chafin, back to Welch on the strength of rumors that a large body of men is gathering at Mullens, Wyoming county. The sheriff himself, however, remained at Logan. Efforts to confirm the Mullens rumor through Blue Field were unsuccessful.

A statement issued by the Logan Coal Operators' association at Logan describes the situation as "not merely a union movement but an insurrection" and adds "it is a revolution and must be dealt with as such." The operators charge union miners' officials with being responsible.

Miners' officials on the other hand steadfastly aver they are doing all within their power to maintain order an' cite Mr. Keeny's efforts at Madison last week and his letter to Logan miners enreating that they refrain from acts of violence to substantiate their contentions.

BRING IN BIG WELL IN WEST COLUMBIA

Drilled by United Drilling and Development Co., With Offices In This City

The United Drilling and Development company, with offices in this city, which has been doing some drilling in the West Columbia field, in Brazoria county, has succeeded in bringing in one of the biggest wells for that section.

The well is located on the Tom Hogg lease and was drilled in Saturday with an estimated production of between 3,500 and 4,000 barrels. D. A. Kitsos of this city, who is connected with the above company, said arrangements have already been made to drill two more wells on this property.

MOORISH TROOPS SURPRISE A SPANISH POSITION AND CAPTURE ADVANCE POSTS

By Associated Press.

HOSTILITIES OVER BOUNDARY AWARDED

wounded in the fighting in Burgenland.

Lieutenant Hejjas is reported to have posted placards throughout the district calling to the colors all men under 45 years of age. It is also said that 3,000 Hungarian regular troops have arrived and are encamped near Odenburg. A detachment of 200 Austrian gendarmes is reported surrounded at Gerersdorf.

An official statement issued here says that Austria is relying upon the allies to prevent any conflicts in Burgenland and see that the treaty of St. Germain is carried out.

Two non-Hungarian speaking persons have been executed in the forest of St. Margareta, a dispatch last last night said. Forty-eight strangers in Olenburg are reported to have been arrested.

Lieutenant Hejjas is said to be arming the German-speaking peasants against their will. The Austrian commanders have been ordered not to engage in action with superior forces of the Hungarians.

INTER-ALLIED OFFICIALS ARE CONCERNED OVER SITUATION

PARIS, Aug 30.—Official circles here do not consider the Hungarian insurrectionary movement in Burgenland, the narrow strip of territory along the Austro-Hungarian frontier awarded to Austria by the treaty of St. Germain, a serious matter. These circles base their judgment on the latest dispatches concerning the movement, and it is expected that two or three days will see the end of the trouble.

First reports of clashes between the Austrians and Hungarians at Odenburg, capital of Burgenland, caused some concern.

It is understood that a protest has been made to the allied powers by the Austrian government. Jugo-Slavia and Czecho-Slovakia are said to have taken a threatening attitude as a result of the conflict in Burgenland.

The frontier between Austria and Hungary had stood for nearly 1,000 years until it was changed by the treaty of St. Germain. Burgenland is full of ancient landmarks, great cloisters and churches and many members of the Hungarian nobility own extensive estates there. The chief value of this region to Austria is from a strategic consideration.

Meteoric Career of Eddie Rickenbacker Ace of U. S. Flyers

COLUMBUS, OHIO, Aug. 30.—Sixteen years ago, in a small tombstone works here, a gangling youth of 15 wrestled with a mallet and chisel, learning the art of monument making, physically on the job, mentally behind the steering wheel of a racing automobile.

That was the first job of Capt. Edward V. Rickenbacker, American ace of aces in the world war, ever held in his life. He was getting $6 a week. Later, he gladly accepted a job in a garage. It paid $4 a week.

Ricknbacker was born in a little frame cottage close to the Columbus Driving park. From the days when he was big enough to peer through the fence, the track fascinated him. When automobile racing started, the driving park was his mecca. His crowning ambition was to drive a racing automobile. He reached his goal when he was 15 years of age. At that time he was sent to Texas by a local automobile concern, in whose factory he had been working, to demonstrate its speedsters.

From then on his career was meteoric. He become one of the best known automobile racers in the country.

Rickenbacker entered the world war as chauffeur to General Pershing. His rise to American ace of aces was as sensational as the jump from the obscurity of his Columbus home to the highest pinnacle of racing fame.

Rickenbacker became a part of the A. E. F., after a series of rebuffs. When the United States entered the war, he was in England buying racing cars. He immediately returned to this country and offered his services. He tried to get governmental sanction to a plan of his to enlist a flying squadron from among racing drivers of the country, but army officials turned the proffer down.

A few weeks later Rickenbacker was on his way overseas as chauffeur to General Pershing. A short time after arriving abroad, he was in an aviation training camp, placed there through the personal intervention of General Pershing.

Rickenbacker bagged his first German early in 1918. Within a month he had won the Croix de Guerre, and despite his delayed entrance into aviation, he was the second American to be given the title of ace.

At this juncture he met with an accident that nearly ended his carer as a flyer.

His ear drums were spilt as the result of a 6,000-foot fall which came after a single-handed fight against three German planes. The tip of one of the wings of the plane Rickenbacker was piloting was carried away by a hostile Fokker, and he plunged to earth. He was pronounced incapacitated for further service.

The former racing driver refused to be put out of the running and carried his case direct to General Pershing. The latter ruled that he still might fight.

When he became captain, Rickenbacker commanded the famous Hat-in-the-Ring squadron. His victories continued to pile up, one after another, until he was acclaimed American ace of aces.

Many of the medals and cups won and conferred upon Rickenbacker during his career are packed carefully away in the little frame cottage here, but there are four things Mrs. Elizabeth Rickenbacker, his mother, values more than anything else. They are:

A piece of marble chiseled in the shape of a book, and bearing the inscription "Holy Bible."

A small wooden chest.

A silver cup, embossed with gold, the championship trophy won by Rickenbacker in a bitter contest at Sioux City, Iowa, in July, 1914, when he drove a Dusenburg car to victory in a 300-mile race on a gumbo dirt track.

A citation from the French government, accompanying the award of the Croix de Guerre.

Rickenbacker chiseled the marble book in his monument-making apprentice days. The wooden chest is a memento of a short time spent in the shops of a railroad here.

His mother values them as symbolic of the steps in her son's life.

FIFTY PER CENT OF DEPRESSION AS RESULT OF A GENERAL SURVEY IS HELD DUE TO A STATE OF MIND

Fifty per cent of the hard times now passing were, and are due to a depressed, destructive state of mind, according to a survey carried out in all parts of the country by L. M. Boomer, one of America's biggest hotel men, who heads a chain which includes the Waldorf-Astoria and McAlpin in New York, the Belluvue Stratford in Philadelphia, and the New Willard in Washington, D. C. Mr. Boomer has presented to the New York Commercial the following conclusions which he has drawn from this survey:

"A wise observer of current conditions in America has made the assertion that a new state, the 49th, has been added to the Union, and, naming this "the State of Mind," attributes the majority of our business troubles to the newcomer.

"I believe he has struck at the very real cause of our so-called 'depression.' When the freight cars began to congest on the sidings and a count of idle cabooses in the yards gave ample evidence of lessened business throughout the country, several of our experienced traveling salesmen—for the formation of big hotel systems has brought about specialized business-getters in this field just as in every other great industry—made a thorough canvass for me in widely separated localities. They went to the farmers, the rotarians, the store owners, and they talked. They were not asking orders and they had nothing to sell, and their training had naturally been along lines of congeniality that inspired confidence.

"Business wasn't really so bad. In spite of the fact that retail prices were 50 per cent under the high figures of a year back, in some instances gross sales often exceeded those of the years which will stand out as the most profitable the business men of this country have ever known. But as a rule they weren't buying goods. They were afraid to lay in stocks, even when wholesale prices had stabilized and very attractive prices were offered. In the very small towns the local merchant had not been forced to unload his stocks at losing figures in competition with other tradesmen, but very often even he had been 'bought out clean' by his customers. Yet he didn't start the freight cars by ordering new goods for his empty shelves.

"And the reason for this. Surely it was only a state of mind. All had heard of the business reorganization underway and to come, of the general depression which must ensue, and while the majority of specific cases had felt no real depression, they believed heart and soul in the bogey. They talked depressions, and aided and hastened its appearance in every way.

"My traveling men reported that 50 per cent of the trouble was entirely due to local conditions—the state of mind—while the other 50 per cent was quite real enough and in itself ample cause for worry on the part of the merchant or manufacturer with a great deal of capital invested with him and a payroll swelled to a point which would have swamped him in other days.

"If my men had been attempting to take orders in those towns their reports to me would have made me want to reduce the credits extended to the pessimistic merchants, aiding in bringing about the very condition they feared.

"They brought back one very valuable suggestion, which could well be followed by every manufacturer and sales manager, viz.: that every one of the immense army of traveling salesmen 'working out of New York' be fully posted on matters of world commerce, finance and general business conditions outside of his own immediate line, and should exude optimism, so to speak. There is no place any more for the mere 'order taker.'

"It was a lack of confidence and knowledge of what the other fellow was doing to stimulate business that prolonged the stagnation. The manufacturers c'caned house, 'liquidated,' and offered their goods at new low figures; the retailers followed, and now the farmer is releasing his products at the prevailing market prices, realizing that with the lower cost of production the 55 cents which he gets for his corn has a greater purchasing power than his dollar formerly had in the period of inflated prices.

"The period of reconstruction and depression is passing and nearly past and we have reached a state of healthy competition, wherein there will be real business for the go-getters" alone. We can well afford to forget the months and years which, figuratively speaking, saw almost every establishment in the country requistioned to turn out materials on a cost-plus basis. That was an un-American business condition and no right thinking man expected it to last for long.

"Perhaps optimism shown in the hotel business in the big eastern cities—the newest big business to enter the field and yet the fifth largest in point of money invested and gross business done—might prove an incentive to the average business man. I call the hotel business the newest big enterprise, because it is only within the last few years that the operation of a big hotel became a matter of real scientific business calculation and not a guessing contest."

COTTON MARKET.

New York Cotton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The cotton market showed continued strength at the opening today. Higher Liverpool cables and firmer exchange rates led to a further broadening of commission house demand while there was rebuying or covering by yesterday's sellers for a reaction. First prices were 29 to 40 points higher, with December selling up to 16.67c, while May touched 16.98c. These higher prices attracted heavy realizing and there were reactions of 10 or 12 points after the call, but the offerings were well enough absorbed by trade and scattering buying to give the market a steady undertone. Liverpool cables said the advance there had been due to belated short covering and fresh Manchester buying with contracts scarce.

The early afternoon advance extended to 16.93 for December and 17.02 for March with active months generally selling 50 to 60 points net higher. Reactions of 20 to 25 points followed under renewed realizing with the market rather unsettled around two o'clock. The average estimates by members of the cotton exchange point to a crop condition of 70.3.

New Orleans Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 30.—A sensational rise in the Liverpool market caused a responsive bulge in the local market on the opening today, which carried prices to new high levels for the season, October rising to 16.06 and March to 16.60. Heavy realizing by longs met the improvement and prices reacted, the list showing gains of but 26 to 28 points at the end of the first hour of business. October fell back to 15.89.

Heavy realizing sales seemed to be readily absorbed on reactions of 20 to 30 points from the opening prices, and the market developed renewed strength later. The feature was the active covering of October shorts, believed to be for Wall street and western account. Three brokers were credited with buying fully 50,000 bales between them, and this demand stimulated buying of later months. October sold up to 16.50c and January to 16.85c, or 50 to 53 points net higher, while May cotton touched 17.05c, or 45 points above last night's close.

The market came back strongly on reports that large traders were heavy buyers of contracts. There was also large buying by outside interests which appeared to be based on belief in unfavorable weekly crop accounts from the government tomorrow. Realizing by longs continued on a large scale but such offerings were absorbed by the new demand constantly entering the market. Toward 11 o'clock the trading months were 52 to 58 points over the close of yesterday with October at 16.18.

Several moderate reactions of a dollar a bale or so occurred but the market constantly came back and at its best stood 53 to 59 points over the final quotations of yesterday with October at 16.19. Toward the close prices were within 3 to 5 points of the best of the day.

Cotton closed barely steady at a net advance of 47 to 51 points.

40 MORE MILES OF PAVED HIGHWAY ON COUNTY'S PROGRAM

ANY MONEY REMAINING WILL BE USED FOR BUILDING CONCRETE BRIDGES

BURKBURNETT AND CLAY COUNTY LINE ROAD NEXT

Government and State Aid May Permit Construction of Some Additional Mileage

With the $1,500,000 which the county realized from the sale of the last issue of special road bonds it is planned to pave approximately 40 more miles of county road, repair several others and place concrete culverts and bridges in all the roads of the county, that is, if the money permits.

The program outlined towards the utilization of the million and a half dollars includes the paving of the road from Iowa Park to the Wilbarger county line, a distance of 19 miles. Work on this project is in progress and it will be at least the first of January before this is completed.

The next project to be taken up by the contractors will be the paving of the Burkburnett road. It is probable that the paving of this road will be begun from the Burkburnett end.

The last project to be taken will be the laying of concrete on the road to the Clay county line, known as the Meridian highway.

Many county officials express the opinion that with a portion of the money that remains after the three projects above named are completed the Frieburg road which was graveled several years ago should be repaired in order to save the money that has already been placed there. It is pointed out that the road needs attention immediately.

The balance of the money, should there be any, and it is believed there will be, counting in the state and federal aid the county will receive from the three road projects will be used in the erection of concrete culverts and bridges. The first road to be benefited with these improvements will be the old Seymour road.

It was pointed out that before the county received the million and a half dollars, approximately $225,000 had been spent on overdrafts in order to keep the work moving along and save the county the expense of closing down.

In the heart of New York's commercial district there is an animal hospital.

THINKS SUGGESTION OF TREE-LINED ROAD SHOULD BE ADOPTED

By FRANK S. REID

I cannot help but comment on the splendid suggestion made by Colonel Burnett that trees be planted along the Iowa Park road. His suggestion to plant cottonwood trees and black locust trees is a commendable one, and it should be taken up and pushed at this time, especially that the irrigation project seems to be in such a state that early work will be started. Planting these trees along the Iowa Park road, or along any road, for that matter, that can be fed by irrigation ditches, would add untold beauty to the country.

I recall so vividly my own experience in going into a section of country entirely devoid of trees, and when irrigation water was spread upon the land, the people got into the spirit of planting trees, until now the whole country is loaded with beautiful trees. Cottonwoods were the predominating tree in that section because they grew so rapidly, though many black locust trees were planted. Black locust trees do not need much water, though cottonwoods seem to require a lot of water, and should be planted along irrigation ditches. I have been wondering whether or not the Lombardy Poular would not do well here. They grow so prolific in Idaho along irrigation ditches. They are a tall tree and do not spread much, but afford excellent wind breaks when planted close together. In the spring of the year one could cut off stems from the growing trees and just stick them along an irrigating ditch, and it was not long until they would sprout and root and then could be transplanted.

The ranchers in Idaho used to plant black locust trees in groves. I recall having helped to set out a 40-acre grove of these trees for future use as fence posts, wagon tongues, etc. A black locust grove proved very profitable.

I cannot also help but comment on the work of an agricultural agent, whom I notice will be stationed at Iowa Park. His work should be much appreciated by the farmers, and every advantage possible should be taken of his services in assisting the farmer to work out his problems. It is only by the farmer applying himself and getting all the assistance he can, that will enable him to be of greater service to himself and the community.

Let all who can take up the spirit of this work in connection with the irrigation project that seems such a certainty. It is worth while.

REPORTED IOWA PARK YOUTHS MADE THREATS AGAINST SPEED OFFICER

B. M. Newton, formerly a member of the city police force as motorcycle officer, was appointed by the commissioners court Monday afternoon as special officer on the Lake road to assist Officer O. McDonald in patrolling the road from the city limits to the lake. The court considered placing another officer on the Iowa Park road, but no appointment was made. The court was informed that a crowd of young men of Iowa Park who have fallen into the hands of the law for speeding have threatened to make Officer Reeves "lay off."

DIVORCE PROCEEDINGS DISCLOSE PARTING AFTER ONE MONTH OF MARRIAGE

Married March 10, 1921. Separated April 10, 1921. Suits for divorce filed August 29, 1921. This is the record of a Burkburnett couple.

G. C. Snyder asks that a divorce be granted him from Mary E. Snyder on the grounds that she ran away with another man on April 10. He alleges that she now resides in St. Louis, Mo., with the man she ran away with. The suit was filed in the 78th district court.

DENIES DAMAGE WAS DONE BY CATERPILLAR TRACTOR

S. L. McSpedden, sales manager for the Holt company, manufacturers of Caterpillar tractors, has called the attention of the Times to an error in its report of damage to the street paving on Ninth street in its issue of August 23. In this report it was said that the damage was caused by running over the street with a "caterpillar" tractor. The tractor was of another type and was not the Caterpillar tractor, which is the trademarked name of the Holt company's product. Mr. McSpedden says it is one of the advantages of the the Caterpillar tractor that it will not cause such damage.

GRAVEL SHOULDERS NOW COMPLETED ON LAKE WICHITA ROAD

County Commissioner J. P. Jackson of precinct No. 1 reported Tuesday morning that the work of placing gravel shoulders on the Lake road was completed Monday. Four feet of gravel, seven inches deep, was placed along both sides of the concrete from a point near the railroad close to city limits to the lake.

The total cost of placing the shoulders was $10,559.51. The total mileage was three and one-fourth miles, making the cost $3,249 per mile.

The shoulders were ordered placed on the road as part of the safety first policy adopted by the commissioners court in regulating traffic on the newly paved roads.

The gravel shoulders on each side of the pavement allows 26 feet for traffic to Call Field and 24 feet from that point to the lake.

CIRCUS IS COMING, LIONS 'N EVERYTHING HERE ON OCTOBER 3

Circus!

After missing Wichita Falls for two or three years on account of traffic conditions and other things, the circus is coming back this fall.

The advance fixer of the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus was in Wichita Falls Tuesday, and said that show would be here Oct. 3. It hasn't been here in five or six years, although the Ringling boys were here three years ago. The Hagenbeck-Wallace circus makes a specialty of wild animal acts. It also has a big street parade, which some circuses have cut out, or tried to, on account of transportation costs.

And that's all we can say about this circus until the man who gives out the passes comes around.
