C-C Will Discuss Christmas Plans Next Tuesday

The board of directors of the Winters Chamber of Commerce is urging all businessmen and other interested persons to attend a special meeting of the board next Tuesday at Pierce's Cafeteria to discuss planning for a Christmas program. The meeting will begin at 6:30 a.m., with a "Dutch treat" breakfast.

The Chamber of Commerce board has been working on plans for this year's Christmas program for several weeks, and are anxious to receive and discuss suggestions from other businessmen in town. Many times, some members of the board, said, people have outstanding ideas about the production of a Christmas program, but do not present them in time. This year, they are asked to present them, and to assist the board in making decisions about the program. "There are many good ideas going to waste," board members said. "If we are told about them in time to get to work on them, we can have one of the biggest and best Christmas programs for Winters this year."

The board has urged everyone who is interested in this program to be present at the meeting next Tuesday morning.

Blizzards To Play Mason Here Tonite

Following their sound trouncing of the Class AAA Colorado City Wolves in a postponed game Saturday night, the Winters High School Blizzards to play the Mason Cowpunchers Friday night in the first home game of the season. Kickoff time is 8 o'clock.

The Blizzards are already building up steam in preparation for entry in district competition beginning for them Oct. 19, and their play in pre-conference games will have much to do with setting the pattern for the district participation.

Coach L. G. Wilson reports that the blue-helmeted team is ready for the "GO" signal Friday night, having rubbed most of the pre-season and first-game kinks out by the middle of this week.

The Cowpunchers lost their opened 18-0 to Lake View last Friday night, and will be attempting to even things up this week against the Blizzards. They are reported to have an aggressive line, with power. Their line is built around last year's all-West Texas tackle,

Registration will begin at 1 p.m., with tee-off time 1:30 p.m. Deadline for registration will be 2 p.m.

All golfers are invited to participate in this tournament.

H. M. (Jiggs) Nichols and Billy Ray (Jet) Chapman are chairmen for the tournament.

E. T. (Pat) Patterson, Winters Country Club golf chairman, has expressed his appreciation for the success of the Labor Day tournament. Co. for erecting the tent and furnishing chairs for the tournament headquarters.

Cotton Harvest Is Slow In Getting Underway for '62

Rains of the past week have slowed down the start of harvest of the 962 cotton crop. Cotton is not opening as fast as had been anticipated, too. A few days of sunshine should cause the gins in Winters to quicken their pace.

Up to Wednesday afternoon, 257 bales had been ginned by Winters gins.

Eldon Kothman, who is building potential for all-state this season. Their first-stringer quarterback, Terry McMillan, who was all-district last year, and has promise of all-state possibilities this year, was lost for use in the Lake View encounter, but may go against the Blizzards Friday night.

The Punchers throw a lot, especially with McMillan in the lineup, and also mount a good running ground attack.

Game captains for Friday's encounter against Mason will be Johnny Hopper, Eugene Mathis, and Adolpho Arroyo.

This year's managers are Rickey Boles, Andy Simpson and Clyde Booth.

The 1962 Winters High School coaching staff includes Wilson, Jerry English, Bill Bryant and Robert James.

Mason coaches are Keith Miles, head coach; and Ted Edmondson and Lee Graham.

The Winters High School Blizzards Marching Band, under direction of Robert R. Gans, will make their appearance before hometown fans Friday. They appeared at Colorado City Saturday night, and are reported to have many new and intricate maneuvers for the pleasure of half-time spectators.

The bleacher section on the east side (home) of Blizzards Field has been enlarged, affording much more seating capacity. There will be 150 additional reserved seats, between the 40-yard lines, than have been available in the past. West bleachers (visitors) are the same as in the past. Winters student and band sections will be on the east side, in the stands.

The Band Mothers Club will operate the concession stand behind the east bleachers again, and the FFA will operate the stand on the west side.

A new public address system has been installed, with additional speakers. New PA facilities are a gift to the school from the 1962 graduating class.

Coach Wilson will probably throw the following Blizzards into the fray as offensive starters against Mason:

Ends—Mike Mitchell and Johnny Hopper.

Tackle—Eugene Mathis and Dan Roberts.

Guards—Alvis Jackson and Tommy Burton.

Center—Wayne Bailey.

Quarterback—Tommy Alfrey.

Halfback—Tommy Young, Deny Aldridge.

Fullback—Steve Grissom.

As a defensive team, the following WHSers probably will start:

Guards—Mike Patterson and Eugene Mathis.

Tackles—Johnny Hopper and Tommy Burton.

Ends—Alvis Jackson and Deny Aldridge.

Linebackers—Donnie Gibbs and Mike Mitchell.

Halfbacks—Donald Parker and Adolpho Arroyo.

Safety—Mike Bedford.

Winters Municipal Light Plans Sets New Record for Production, Sale of Electricity

A 13.6 percent increase over the same period last year in production and sale of electricity by the Winters Municipal Light Plant was recorded for June, July and August, according to figures released this week.

Production for August this year was the highest on record at the plant, according to the figures, with 538,000 kilowatt hours reported produced. The lowest production for the three-months period was in June, when 417,811 kilowatt hours was produced.

For comparison, the following figures were reported:

	1961	1962
June	400,000	417,811
July	360,400	423,709
August	454,000	538,000

The record high for production and consumption of electricity has been attributed to several factors according to N. D. Waggoner, who has been one of the acting managers of the municipally-owned power plant for the period reported on. An intensely hot summer caused more air conditioners to be operated for longer hours, he said, which used much more electricity than usual. Also, he said, the City-owned plant has gained several more customers over the number reported for the same period in 1961. The city of Winters is also served by a privately-owned power company, the West Texas Utilities Co.

Mr. Waggoner said the city is spending the money for the new plant in the back yard, and her nails into some city a neighbor came to the wife, Jones?" "Is that?" "No, you fat-chicken coop."

Department Heads Named By City Council Thursday

New superintendents for two departments within the framework of the City of Winters were named last Thursday night at a special meeting of the City Council.

Mrs. Tommy Rougas was employed as superintendent of the Municipal Hospital, and N. D. Waggoner was named superintendent of the Municipal Light Plant. Both appointments will be effective Sept. 16.

Mrs. Rougas, R. N., will become superintendent of the hospital to replace Mrs. Rose Lang, R. N., who has resigned to accept a position in a Midland hospital. Mrs. Lang has been hospital superintendent for about three years.

Mrs. Rougas is a graduate Registered Nurse, and was formerly superintendent of the Winters hospital a few years ago.

Waggoner has worked for the city-owned light plant since 1948, when he started as a lineman. He is a veteran of World War II, and was recalled to a year of active duty with the armed forces in 1950, and returned to work with the department following his discharge. Recently he has been in charge of the distribution system, and has acted in the capacity of co-superintendent of the light plant along with C. C. Paske.

Polio Vaccine Drive Will Be County Effort

The local drive to immunize everyone against the dread effects of poliomyelitis, beginning Sept. 28, will tie-in with a similar drive in Ballinger on the same dates, it was announced this week. In this manner, it was hoped that the entire county could be immunized on the same dates.

First date for the administration of the Sabin oral vaccine will be Friday, Sept. 28, at which time all school children will receive the vaccine. Adults and pre-school-age children will receive the vaccine on Sunday, Sept. 30.

The vaccine will be administered to the school children at the Winters School cafeteria. The cafeteria will also be used for the adult group. Location for administration of the vaccine for Ballinger people has not been announced, but will be revealed prior to the date.

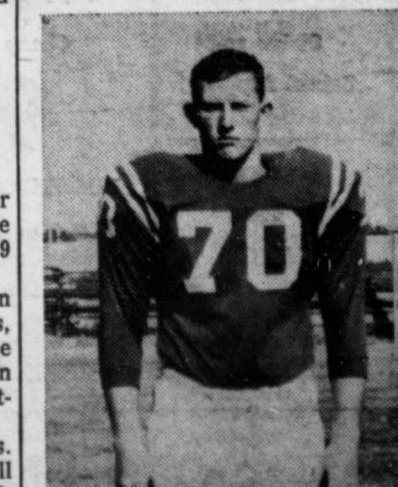

It has been again stressed that everyone is urged to take the vaccine. There will be no direct charge for the vaccination, although contributions will be welcome, it was announced. There will be places designated where people may leave contributions when they go to get their vaccine. It was also pointed out that no one would be turned away, and that everyone will receive the vaccine, whether they are able to make a contribution or not.

The drive in Winters is being sponsored by the Winters Lions Club, who will assist in the administration of the vaccine.

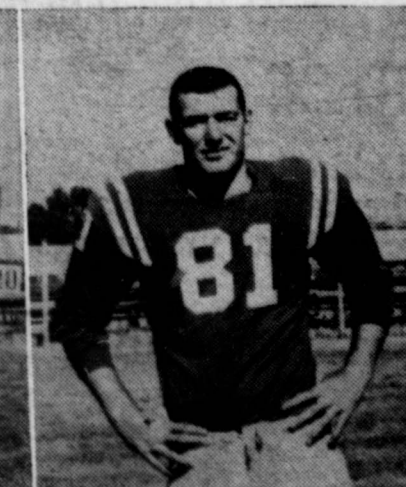

The Sabin oral vaccine is administered in three doses. The first dose, for type III, will be given Sept. 28 and 30; Type I, on Nov. 9, and Nov. 11; and Type II, Jan. 4 and Jan. 6.

All minors must have written consent from parents or guardians before they may receive the vaccine. These consent forms will be available at the location where the vaccine will be given, and also are being published in newspapers. In order to save time on the vaccination dates, it has been suggested that consent forms be clipped from the papers and filled out prior to the date of vaccine administration.

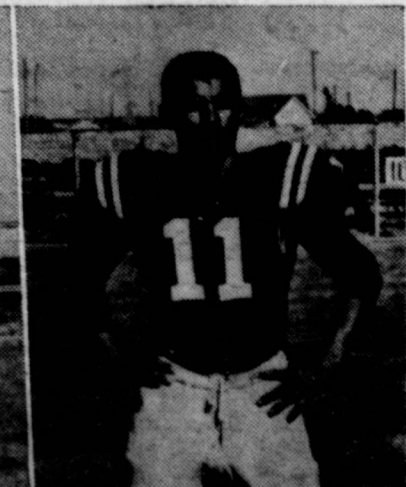

Lance Teten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Teten, 402 East Dale, has enrolled as a junior student in McMurry College.

Special October Archery Season List Available

The Texas Game and Fish Commission has available a list of counties having a 1962 special October archery hunting season. This list is available upon request from local game wardens or by writing to the Texas Game and Fish Commission, Walton Building, Austin 14, Texas.

The list contains hunting dates for buck deer, turkey gobblers and javelina. If there is any doubt as to hunting laws and regulations the hunter is encouraged to contact the game warden in his county.

Originality, a special October archery season had been provided for Hays County, but the County Commissioners Court vetoed the special season. Bow hunting is legal during the regular open seasons.

NEW AUTO STICKERS

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, says the new car inspection stickers released this week are of a new type.

Garrison described them as "dry-mount decals which we believe will adhere regardless of weather conditions."

More than 5,000,000 vehicles will need safety inspections between now and April 16, 1963.

DRY TIMES

The U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Weather Bureau hailed the rains which finally came to some sections of Texas last week.

Scorched pastures in East Texas, the Northern Blackland and Low Plains counties got a drink, and some greenness was seen again.

But the range situation is described as "critical" throughout South Texas, the Edwards Plateau and the Trans-Pecos regions, where it remains very dry.

POLIO FIGHTERS

There are signs that the polio epidemic is abating.

Only three new cases of paralytic polio were reported last week. They were in Cameron, Harris and Lubbock Counties.

Anti-polio treatments continue to be applied on a mass scale, with the opening of schools, in an effort to completely wipe out this scourge.

However, there have been 193 cases in Texas this year. During the first eight months of last year there were only 50 cases.

WILSON SAYS NO

Published reports that Atty. Gen. Will Wilson would run in 1964 for the Railroad Commission, against Commissioner Ben Ramsey, were scotched.

The man who should know—Wilson himself—said he plans to open a law office in Austin. He said he had no future political plans, and that he positively will not be

MORE MACHINES

If you don't like the way your new highway is built, there's nobody you can blame it on.

The machine probably figured it out.

State Highway Department has added a computer to work out problems of highway design, hydraulics, earth work, land measurement and traffic signalization.

The gadget can read and interpret 8,000 cards a minute from a tape.

Things were simpler in Austin when people ran the government.

EXPERT SPEAKS

Austin MacCormick of New York, the expert on penitentiaries whose recommendations led to reform of the Texas Prison System a decade ago, came to Texas to take a look at the Texas Youth Council's reorganization.

He headed for New York full of praise for improvements at Gatesville and Gainesville State Schools.

MacCormick particularly praised the new Mountain View School at Gatesville, where the tougher boys are separated from the first offenders. He said it was not an "Alcatraz", but a place where the boys with more problems can be given special attention. At the same time, their influence is removed from the younger boys.

But the expert warned that Texas needs a place for boys who are dependent and neglected, but not yet delinquent, to save them from becoming delinquent.

Too many boys who belong in the foster homes are being committed to schools for delinquents, giving them an undesired stigma, MacCormick said.

He particularly urged the establishment of a State home for Negro boys in this category.

SEED LAB

A third official seed testing laboratory has been established in Texas.

John C. White, Agriculture Commissioner, reports that the State Department of Agriculture and Stephen F. Austin College jointly have set up a new laboratory on the college campus in Nacogdoches.

Other laboratories for testing seeds to determine purity and germination time are operating at the Agriculture Department's main office in Austin and at Lubbock.

More than 60,000 samples of seed are tested yearly by White's agency, as a means of assuring Texas planters that they are getting what they pay for when they buy seeds.

Tags on the bags show the content in weed seed and the percentage of the seeds which germinate.

TREASURY AUDIT

Although one part of the state treasurer's office in the Capitol has bars on the entrances, the state does not keep its $2,500,000,000 annual income there.

Jesse James, State Treasurer, has sent an audit to Gov. Price Daniel showing that the state's money is on deposit in 1,619 separate accounts in 840 banks.

Capitol vault contains only petty cash and time warrants held by the treasurer.

LAW OVERHAUL

A State Bar of Texas committee is recommending to the 1963 legislative session the first full-scale revision of criminal court procedure in Texas history.

If the Legislature proves receptive, the state's criminal law, as well as procedure, may undergo extensive legislative scrutiny as a result of scandals which have shaken the state this year.

STILL UNDER FIRE

Five top state officials are still under fire from Giles E. Miller, Dallas attorney, who seeks to stop payment of their salaries.

Miller says he will appeal an adverse state court decision in his effort to compel more equal legislative redistricting in Texas.

DEMO FUND-RAISER

Clyde Johnson, executive director of the State Democratic Executive Committee, has announced the appointment of Marvin Watson of Daingerfield to head the party's fund-raising dinners in El Paso on September 17.

Watson is a member of the SDEC.

SHORT SNORTS

State Parks Board has approved working drawings of an amphitheater, planned for Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Legislators looking to the work of the next regular session say prospects are favorable that the 1963 Legislature will ratify the proposed constitutional amendment to eliminate the poll tax as a requirement for voting.

A tour by Texas insurance officials, to study other state's automobile coverage plans, may pay off in helping Texas draw up a new plan soon, says the State Insurance Board.

Landowners Receive Antelope Permits For 1962 Season

The 1962 Trans-Pecos antelope season promises to be another successful year for sportsmen.

Following long needed rainfall in July, vegetative conditions improved greatly over the entire area. Antelope herds ranging the broad flats and rolling hills west of the Pecos River are doing well and should be in excellent condition for the Sept. 29-Oct. 7 hunting season according to area biologist.

Landowners in the Trans-Pecos have been issued 1,548 buck and 447 doe permits. Landowners in the Texas Panhandle will be issued 375 buck permits by the Game and Fish Commission. These permits may be distributed among sportsmen at the landowner's discretion.

Sportsmen interested in bagging a Trans-Pecos trophy should contact either ranchmen in Pecos, Brewster, Presidio, Jeff Davis, Culberson or Hudspeth Counties or Chamber of Commerce officials near the antelope hunting areas who will aid sportsmen in making hunting arrangements.

Few hunters who make a trip to the Trans-Pecos leave empty-handed because past records indicate that hunting success is consistently above 90 per cent.

If past records are an indication, this season's hunt should be bigger than ever, especially with the two extra days of hunting allowed this season. The extended season also provides for two week-ends of hunting.

An aerial census taken during late spring and early summer is the primary method used to determine antelope populations.

During 1962, counts of Trans-Pecos antelope herds included 2,896 bucks, 4,543 does and 1,598 fawns totaling 9,037 head. The 1961 survey showed a population of 3,302 bucks, 5,038 does and 3,677 fawns totaling 2,017.

The sharpest contrast between counts in 1961 and 1962 is in the fawn crop. Fawn production in 1961 was 73 per cent and this year's fawn production dropped to 35.2 per cent. The relatively low fawn crop, as compared to 1961, is attributed to an extremely cold winter and a prolonged dry spell extending from early winter in 1961 through June of this year.

H. Cullen of Houston to the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, to replace Stuart McGregor of Dallas, who resigned. This committee is busy putting markers on buildings and sites which have a meaning in the history of Texas and its communities.

A committee of the Texas Branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers proposes that farmers and ranchers be required to get permits from the Texas Water Commission to build small stock ponds of less than 200 acre feet capacity.

Antelope hunting may be an experience long remembered by the hunter who bags a fleet pronghorn for a trophy. There is an added challenge for a hunter who stalks the wary pronghorn on foot and succeeds in making a one shot kill. Although some hunters prefer a running shot, an antelope 250 yards out and traveling 40 miles per hour is a very elusive target. Several of today's flat shooting rifles are suited for this type of hunting. The old reliable 30-06 and 270 Winchester; more recent 243 Winchester, 244 Remington, 264 Winchester and 7mm Remington magnum are a few that are well adapted for antelope hunting. Since shots are usually beyond 200 yards, a scope sight is preferred by most hunters.

Antelope, adequate facilities and a prospect for ideal weather await the hunter's arrival.

One way to get the most out of life is to look upon it as an adventure.

Winters Wallops Colorado City In Postponed Game

After a one-day postponement due to a very wet field, the Winters Blizzards moved into the Colorado City stadium Saturday night to claim their first win of the season to the tune of 18-6. Displaying an outstanding all around team, the Blizzards proved to the many area coaches scouting the game that their defense and offense is going to be hard to stop.

Quarterback Tommy Alfrey completed 6 of the 13 pass attempts, for a total of 115 yards in the air. The C-City Wolves were unable to intercept even one of these hard, well-directed throws. One of the Blizzards' touchdowns, early in the fourth quarter, was a direct result of a 60-yard pass from Alfrey to HB Tommy Young. The TD play was completed by Steve Grissom, who carried over from the one.

The Wolves kicked off, and Young returned to the Winters 49. Alfrey opened up his passing attack on the first play from scrimmage, but was unsuccessful in two tries, one intended for Donald Parker, the other for Young. The first of Winters' 11 penalties was called on the third play of the game, and they were forced to punt out on fourth down.

After taking the ball on their own 20-yard line, the Wolves moved one yard, and attempted a pass. Parker moved in front of the intended receiver, and the Blizzards began their first goal line march from C-C's 44. With nine plays, Grissom, Denny Aldridge, and Alfrey moved to the 13. Grissom moved around right end for the 13, and the TD with 4:12 left in the first quarter. The play was nullified by a penalty, and after two more plays, the ball went over on downs.

C-City was unable to move the ball due to the strong defense of the Blizzards line, and as the first quarter ended, Winters, with 3 first downs to their credit, was on the C-City 42 yard line.

Calling on Grissom for five carries, Aldridge and Young for one each, Alfrey maneuvered the Blizzards to the one, keeping the ball through center for the touchdown. With 8:01 left in the second quarter, the try for extra points was no good and Winters led 6-0.

On the first play from scrimmage after the kickoff, Colorado City fumbled, and Young came up with the ball on the Winters 42. But the Wolves tightened up and the ball was kicked. Again, after only one attempt to move the ball, C-City fumbled, and Johnny Hopper was the man with the ball on the Wolves' 22, setting up the Blizzards' second TD.

Grissom carried twice for a total of 8; Aldridge claimed 9 yards, and Alfrey 2, before Grissom rolled off right guard for the TD from the 1. Again the try for extra points was incomplete, with 3:39 left in the second.

Colorado City made their first down of the evening in the next series of play, with Charles Houston, 190-lb. senior, sparking the play. From their own 45, the Wolves moved to the Blizzards 14 in 8 plays, as the half ended, with the score 12-0.

The most exciting moments of the game were late in the third quarter, and early in the fourth. After the teams had traded back and forth, C-City's Houston, on a pitchout, moved through the Blizzards for a 74-yard run to their only TD, with 15 seconds left in the quarter. Try for extra was no good.

On the first play from scrimmage in the fourth, Alfrey leaned back and hit Young for a 60-yard pass play from Winters' 35 to the C-C 5. Only the fleet-footed C-C Wingback Raymon Kincaid was able to stop him from behind. Moving on to the 1, the Blizzards' Grissom claimed another TD with 9:24 left in the game.

With :07 left in the game, Alfrey hit Young again for a 37-yard pass play and touchdown, but again a penalty cost the Blizzards 6 points. After the final buzzer had sounded, the combine of Alfrey-Young worked again as Young took a 26-yard toss to the Wolves' 37.

Leading ground-gainers in Saturday night's game were Grissom, with 95 yards for 20 tries; Denny Aldridge, 34 for 11; Alfrey, 23 for 8 tries; Arroyo, 20 for 2 attempts. Doing outstanding yoeman work in the line were Mike Mitchell, Tommy Burton, Donald Parker and Alvis Jackson.

Bill Minzenmayer, Chairman of the Board of Supervisors of the Runnels Soil Conservation District, said that the Board will hold its regular meeting this Friday, September 14, at 2:00 p. m. in Ballinger. Years of Impending Competition From Lobster; Low Living Cost Is One Reason

For many years in business, I have had investment in the lobster business now selling out at a profit. The company has some money to distribute to stockholders. The company was the distributor of live lobsters, selling at one time 10 million live lobsters annually.

Pesticide Drift Is Investigated

The extent of pesticide drift in the use of agricultural chemicals is being investigated by a team of scientists from the A. & M. College of Texas, Texas State Health Department, Entomology Research Division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Weather Bureau of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

In compliance with House Resolution 199 of the 57th Texas Legislature, leadership in the pesticide drift project is provided by the A. & M. College of Texas through the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Field studies with fluorescent dyes and other tracing techniques to determine the extent of pesticide drift and air pollution was conducted during the current growing season at four locations in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Comprehensive data recorded in these field experiments were reviewed recently at the Lower Rio Grande Valley Experiment Station at Weslaco. An evaluation of these findings will be presented to the incoming 58th Texas Legislature.

Rural Mail Carriers Will Distribute Acre Survey Cards

Rural mail carriers from the Winters postoffice have started distribution of 1962 Acreage Survey Cards to patrons on their routes. Rankin Pace, postmaster, said this week.

The Post Office Department assists the Department of Agriculture in making this survey each year. These reports, directly from farmers, are the basis for official estimates for Texas acreage of all crops harvested in 1962.

To be sure this community is well represented in the survey, Postmaster Pace urged each patron receiving a card to fill it out and return it to his mailbox.

Rural mail carriers working on this project are W. S. Cooke, route 1; R. L. Hollingshead, route 2; W. L. Collins, route 3; W. E. Little, route 4.

BRADSHAW NEWS

"He who stands upon his own strength will never stand."—Thomas Brooks.

M-Sgt. Bill Reeves of George Air Force Base, Calif., was a visitor Sunday at the morning Church services at the Baptist Church. The special for the services was "God Did A Wonderful Thing For Me," sung by Mrs. Charles Ashby with Mrs. Wayne Hunt at the piano. Monday morning at 9:00 the WMU ladies met at the church for their Day of Prayer for State Missions. A covered dish luncheon was served at noon.

"A Mind To Work" is the subject for next Sunday's Sunday School Lesson. The memory selection is: So we built the wall . . . For the people had a mind to work. Nehemiah 4:6. The following comes from the Mature Years magazine: It's a great thing to have "a mind to work" and like it. As Charles Kingsley said: "If thou art living a righteous and a useful life, doing thy duty orderly and cheerfully where God has put thee, then thou art making sweeter melody in the ears of the Lord Jesus Christ than if thou hadst the throat of a nightingale; for then thou in thy humble place art copying the everlasting harmony and melody which is in heaven."

USDA Discover May Aid In Control Of Boll Weevils

Cotton boll weevils are almost anything that is not a pest of the cotton plant. The USDA, the sub-agency of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is now working on a new method of controlling the boll weevil. The extract, when applied to the cotton squares, stops the weevils from eating the cotton. The extract is made from a substance called "squalene" which is found in the cotton plant. The scientists call it an "arrestant" and say it will not draw weevils close to them. Tests are now under way to see if the substance can be used to feed the weevils and then to produce a substance or breed does not contain the squalene.

Scientists believe that the discovery could lead to a new method of controlling the boll weevil. The number one pest of cotton has caused an estimated loss of $1 billion in cotton production in the U. S. in 1961. The boll weevil is a pest that has been in the U. S. since 1892. Hunters who go after mule deer in the Trans-Pecos area this year will get a better break. They'll have two weeks for hunting, beginning December 1.

For a number of years the season has been limited to eight days.

Also this year there will be a greater number of doe permits in that country west of the Pecos, where the big deer grow.

Mule deer situation in West Texas now appears to be fairly good. The high country has had more rain than other parts of Texas. Furthermore, ranchers there do not overgraze like they did at one time.

Hunting muleys differs a great deal from hunting white-tailed deer. For the most part the big mule deer are in the high country. Or the canyons leading off the principal mountains. However, there are a number of white-tails found in the mountain area of far West Texas.

Although Marfa and Alpine generally are considered the gate way to the best mule deer country, other places like Sanderson, Fort Stockton, Fort Davis, Van Horn and Pecos are surrounded with good hunting territory.

Of particular significance in this part of Texas is the Black Gap Wildlife Management area. This area is bounded on the west by the Rio Grande and on the north partially by Big Bend National Park.

Under strict surveillance at all times the management area, operated by the Game and Fish Commission, provides many of the mule deer for West Texas.

Area itself covers only slightly more than 100,000 acres. Influence of the management program, however is felt throughout an even wider area. Result is more and better deer.

In addition there is the Sierra Diablo area in Hudspeth County, also owned and operated by the state.

This area lies north of Highway 80, and is in the general vicinity of the highest mountains of Texas. It is bounded on one side by Victoria Canyon, which approaches the Grand Canyon both in size and grandeur.

Good mule deer hunting in this mountainous country is, for the most part rough hunting. Not much is done on foot.

In bygone days a great deal of this hunting was from horseback. Today hunters use the four-wheel-drive jeeps and climb as high as possible to work out the timbered canyons.

Despite the barren appearance of this area, at first glance, there is considerable timber back in the deep canyons running off the high peaks. Most of the timber is oak, with mesquite and cedar for fill-in. Above the timberline, at an altitude of approximately 5,000 feet, also is found pinon, a form of pine.

During the early fall mule deer often will feed in the open pasture land. But at the first sign of winter, they go into the back country. So that is where the best hunting generally is to be found.

Sometimes the big old bucks go to the high plateaus. Here they find good grazing and ready canyons to dash into when the hunter shows up.

A person who has never hunted mule deer might not appreciate the amount of work necessary to get one of these big bucks down from the mountains.

Many times it must be toted several miles before transportation can be found. Since the largest bucks weigh from 150 pounds up, their weight and the rough terrain present a real problem.

In addition this is high country where breath comes short and quick for the man not accustomed to it.

Landowners recognize this problem. So, nearly every rancher who sells leases or has guests is prepared to aid the hunters. He will have a packhorse ready.

Cowboys are available too. In fact, when these fellows hear a shot, they start out. It's amazing how accurate these cowboys are in locating the hunter after they hear his shot.

Many of the best mule-deer-hunting ranches of West Texas are leased on an annual basis. However, there are numerous ranches where one can hunt for so much a gun, or by the day.

Details on the various hunting ranches may be obtained from the Chambers of Commerce in either Alpine or Marfa. Each season they compile a list of available hunting leases.

They also can tell you which of the leases will have doe permits. This fall the Game and Fish Commission again will announce its drawing for free hunting in the management areas. Biologists right now are checking the deer herds of those areas.

Dates for the drawings will be announced within a few weeks. Then you can write to the Game and Fish Commission in Austin and ask for an application blank. If you'll fill it out and return it, your name will go into the hopper for the drawing.

Don't write to the commission, however, until you see the announcement in the newspapers.

If you've never hunted mule deer, give it a try.
