THOUSANDS OF BLACK SOLDIERS KILLED

Selassie Ready To Join Men

FINAL INTERVIEW FOR KING GIVEN BEFORE TRIP TO FRONT

BY ALBERT W. WILSON
(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press)

ADDIS ABABA, Nov. 19.—Emperor Haile Selassie, in his last interview before going to join his armies on the battlefront, told the Associated Press today, "the effect of sanctions invoked yesterday against Italy cannot be of decisive character."

The little ruler's features were drawn with weariness and deep rings were under his eyes as he received this correspondent in the barren, blue-walled throne room of the palace with the crown prince, the chief of the foreign office and an interpreter the only others present.

The king of kings showed keenest interest in reports from abroad of the launching of League of Nations sanctions against Italy, details of their operation and the probable effect of non-participation by certain nations.

Sanctions Will Help

"If economic sanctions could possibly bring about a situation which would force that country to stop making war, I am sure the hostilities would never have commenced," he said.

"Sanctions, however, will help us, for which we are most grateful."

"I have been happily informed of the great sympathy for our cause in all nations of the world but," he said, shaking his head sadly, "I also am unhappily aware that Italy would never have started invading our country if sanctions alone could have stopped her.

"I know only too well we ourselves must fight to save Ethiopia. The spirit which moved your forefathers

TWO FACTIONS LINING UP IN DRIVE

SENATOR'S FRIENDS TO ENTER HIS NAME IF HE STAYS SILENT

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Word reached the capital today that friends of Senator Borah will enter his name in a number of next year's presidential primaries unless they get a positive "no" from the Idaho Republican.

Coming from reliable political sources, this word served to emphasize the possibility of a spectacular duel between Borah and former President Hoover, either over the Republican nomination or the course the party shall take.

Lead Opposing Factions

Whether Borah and Hoover become avowed candidates for the nomination, this and other recent developments have indicated that they are rapidly moving into the leadership of two opposing factions within the party.

Both are avoiding discussion of candidacies and talking only of issues, but the issues they present are in sharp contrast. Borah has minimized the spending issue, which Hoover has stressed, and advanced instead, the question of monopoly. Furthermore, the Idaho senator has pointedly demanded reorganization of party leadership.

Comment Is Refused

While Borah has refused to commit himself on his 1936 plans, the activity of his friends out in the states virtually assures that the Idahoan's name and views will go before the primary voters and—if he wins—the national convention.

When Borah arrived here last week his reply to inquiries as to whether he would enter the primaries was: "I can't say I won't." According to word reaching here, unless he eliminates himself more positively than that, his name will be entered.

Consent Not Required

Most of the primary states do not require the consent of a candidate for his name to be entered in the preferential primaries. His friends can do it for him. Ohio is a notable exception to this rule.

There have been no indications yet whether Borah, if his name should be entered, would have any opposition. The Borah entry might force opponents into the races also, particularly if he should run in the home states of other candidates.

Hoover has declined to comment on his plans, and his friends have

Road Improvements Are To Be Started

Hand It To The Judge Because He Had A Heart

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 19. (AP)—Rawley Tillman of Lake Wales asked to be excused from federal jury service today.

"Does your request have anything to do with November 20?" Judge Akerman inquired.

"Then," said the judge, "you are excused. To prevent a man from going hunting or fishing is a cruel and unusual procedure which is prohibited under the constitution and, in my opinion is legal grounds for excusing a juror."

November 20 marks the opening of the hunting season.

SIX COUNTIES ARE TO BE INCLUDED; CASH NOW AVAILABLE

A state road improvement program extending to six counties in Works Progress administration district 17 will be launched with the aid of $277,096 in federal funds as soon as necessary labor becomes available, announcement came from district offices today.

The projects to be undertaken include:

PROPOSAL FOR SALARIES IS APPROVED

BOARD TO SUPERVISE OPERATION WILL BE NAMED AT ONCE

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 19.—Governor Allred announced he would sign the old age pension bill at 3 p. m. today and has approved a bill providing salaries for county and district officers removed from the fee basis.

The bill provided the administrative set-up for maximum monthly state pensions of $15 for the needy Texans over 65 years old. A board of three members appointed by the governor would select a director.

To Appoint Board

While it would not become effective for 90 days from Nov. 14, Governor Allred said he intended to appoint the board immediately.

He said he would sign the bill despite failure of the legislature to finance payments. All funds provided for the estimated $10,000,000 annual cost were three-fourths of a calculated revenue of more than $4,000,000 annually from liquor taxes and licenses.

Has Its Defects

"Like the liquor bill," said the governor of the pension act, "it has its defects, and I am sure it is not exactly as any of us would prefer. I really felt, however, that in view of the conflicting opinion and many difficulties under which the legislature operated during the last 30-day session, it was little

Roosevelt Friends Will Defy Talmadge

GOVERNOR BELIEVED PREPARING TO ATTEMPT TO SEIZE CONTROL OF STATE DELEGATION

BY GLENN RAMSEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

ATLANTA, Nov. 19 — President Roosevelt's supporters in Georgia have launched a movement to hold a presidential preference primary in defiance of the state Democratic committee, if the latter, dominated by Gov. Eugene Talmadge, decides to pick the delegation itself.

The committee has power either to provide a primary or name delegates to the national convention and Roosevelt's friends foresee the possibility that Gov. Talmadge, critical of the president, may seek to have the committee name a delegation pledged to support him rather than hold a primary. In recent presidential campaigns a primary has been held in Georgia.

Newt Morris of Marietta, a member of the committee, said today there are indications "the governor may endeavor to have the state committee elect delegates to the national convention without a primary."

"I have called together the friends of Mr. Roosevelt on the committee to discuss the situation," he said, "and to try to agree on plans to act in unison when the state committee is called into session and

MAJOR AERIAL BATTLE IS REPORTED

SON-IN-LAW OF DUCE IS SHOT DOWN BUT ESCAPES INJURY

(By The Associated Press)

Application of sanctions against Italy by 51 nations of the world in accordance with the League of Nations action was the signal for an Italian aerial attack on the Ethiopian forces on the northern front which the fliers said resulted in 2,000 deaths among the native warriors.

A squadron of 20 airplanes, lead by Il Duce's son-in-law, Count Galeazzo Ciano, engaged in a pitched battle with the army of Haile Selassie just south of Makale.

Ciano

The Ethiopians turned their anti-aircraft fire on the machine-gun and bomb attack from overhead and succeeded in bringing down the plane of Ciano, who, however, escaped unhurt.

Before landing his disabled plane, Ciano directed a double attack which, Italian authorities said, led to the dispersal of 15,000 Ethiopian forces and gave the Fascist troops one of the most important victories of the conflict.

Sons Take Part

Mussolini's two sons, Bruno and Vittorio, took part in the attack.

Official announcement of the war's progress made in Rome reported an advance of an Eritrean corps in the Tembian region. It continued a considerable advance of Sunday and occupied several new towns.

Italian native troops occupied the Nadir region northwest of Gheralta, the communique said, and a black-shirt legion took over Tzahama.

PERMITS WILL BE DELAYED

SALE OF LIQUOR OVER STATE IS ILLEGAL AT THIS TIME

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 19—The Texas liquor control board today withheld issuance of dealers permits pending interpretations by the attorney general on several provisions of the new regulatory act.

C. R. Miller, administrator, said the first permits might be issued later today but he was not sure.

"We are not thoroughly clear on several matters," Miller said. "For one thing we have to look into the question of issuing permits for wholesale druggists in dry territory."

Opinions Are Given

Attorney General William McCraw assigned Leon Moses, assistant, to confer with the board and advise it in administering the package sale by licensed dealers regulatory act.

In opinions to district attorneys at Amarillo and Lubbock, McCraw ruled prescription whisky sales were illegal anywhere in the state except upon permit from the state board.

He also advised district attorneys to await a court of criminal appeals decision before acting on violation cases filed under the Dean act, the repealed state prohibition law.

ACTION WITHHELD IN PRO HEARINGS

District Attorney Daniel A. Blair said today he had received a telegram from Attorney General William McCraw advising him to withhold action on cases now pending under the old prohibition act until a court of criminal appeals opinion is rendered.

The opinion was asked by Blair as guidance in the handling of cases in district courts here.

Appeals in approximately 70 Dean law cases are now pending before the state court of criminal appeals.

Selection Of Jury Halted By Funeral

ELLINGSON IS PRISON HEAD

FORMER POLICIES ARE TO BE FOLLOWED BY NEW MANAGER

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Nov. 19 (AP) In O. J. S. Ellingson, the Texas prison system today had its third manager in less than a month.

Ellingson, formerly assistant manager of the system, was appointed by the Texas prison board, in meeting at Houston, to fill the vacancy caused by the sudden death of Dave Nelson, Orange businessman. Nelson assumed his duties Nov. 1, but died of pneumonia two weeks later.

To Carry Out Policies

"I do not have any ideas other than to carrying out the Texas prison board's policies," Ellingson said. "Of course, I will have to look at the system and its functions from an entirely new angle. It will be several days before I can familiarize myself with this new perspective."

One of the policies of the prison board is social rehabilitation of the system's inmates. Segregation of the various types of criminals was contemplated by Nelson to bring this about.

Ellingson was appointed assistant manager of the prison system Aug. 1, 1932. Lee Simmons, prison head who resigned recently, made the appointment. Formerly, Ellingson had served as city manager of Sherman for 16 years.

PASTOR'S TRIAL WILL BE RESUMED TODAY; SIX ARE CHOSEN

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Nov. 19—Selection of a jury to try the Rev. Edgar Eskridge, swashbuckling preacher, for the slaying of Police Chief Ed J. O'Reilly, of Orange, Tex., was delayed today by a funeral.

District Judge Langston King adjourned court until afternoon because of morning rites for Joe Maniscalco, assistant district attorney.

MISTRIAL DECLARED

HOUSTON, Nov. 19 (AP) — District Judge Langston King today declared a mistrial in the murder case against Rev. Edgar Eskridge of Orange, blustering Baptist minister, when he was informed that one of the men chosen for the jury was under a suspended sentence on a felony conviction.

Six Are Accepted

Only six men were accepted as jurors out of more than 60 examined yesterday.

The defense will contend the burly pastor was insane when he shot his former friend last May 29. O'Reilly had taken Eskridge's "six-shooters" on the ground Eskridge had no authority to pose as an officer on personal night club raids.

Indications were that introduction of testimony probably would begin tomorrow.

Many Are Excused

Many veniremen were excused because they had formed opinions as to whether or not Eskridge was guilty of murder when he killed O'Reilly. Some were challenged because they had scruples against the death penalty and others because they were prejudiced against insanity as a defense.

Veniremen were questioned in regard to their church and lodge affiliations and were asked whether the fact the defendant was a minister would influence their verdict.

Eskridge, who stands more than six feet tall and claims to be a former college football tackle, divided his time between reading the latest newspaper accounts of his trial

EARL CARROLL'S VANITIES A HOTBED OF CHARGES AFTER PETITE FIFI D'ORSAY IS FIRED; COMMUNISM IS CITED

(By The Associated Press)

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Nov. 19—Earl Carroll's touring Vanities was a hotbed of charges and counter charges of fist fights and deferred salary payments today as Carroll himself gave notice to Fifi D'Orsay, petite actress lead, for "not doing the show much good." He also dismissed Sam Leibert for alleged "communistic activities."

Carroll asserted that Leibert, who had a part in a comedy satire on communism, "has been disgruntling the other actors with his communistic views of real life."

Leibert halted the show, just 11 days on tour, here last night by breaking on the stage and demanding of the audience that it request the show be stopped.

Carroll, who had come here by plane to straighten out matters, walked on the stage flanked by local policemen, listened to Leibert's charges of non-payment of salaries and of fights in Raleigh when he and Miss D'Orsay allegedly were struck by J. M. McKechnie, company manager, then ordered the show to go on.

The show went on—with the audience wondering what it all was about.

Today Carroll said Leibert had been discharged following last night's performance; that Miss D'Orsay, former movie actress, would leave the show in two weeks because "she is too high-salaried an actress and because she isn't doing the show much

MURDER TRIAL IS DELAYED

YOUTH FACES CHARGE AFTER SLAYING OF MAN IN 1934

CORPUS CHRISTI, Nov. 19 (AP)—The trial of William Osborne, 17-year-old Jim Wells county youth, charged with slaying J. M. Brink, California salesman, in May 1934, Monday was postponed until today on a defense motion.

The defense claimed several witnesses were absent.

Brink was found with a bullet hole in his temple on a lonely road near Palfurrias. He was lying in front of his automobile which had been stalled in the sand.

Arrested Next Day

Osborne was arrested the next day when he emerged from a brush patch in that section.

The youth, too young at the time to be tried for murder, was sent to the state reformatory from Brooks county after being tried on charges of carrying a pistol.

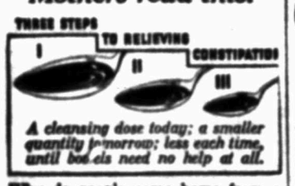

Murder charges were filed later, and when Osborne became 17, the case was transferred to Nueces county on a change of venue.

RETURN LOST KEY

CONWAY, S. C. (AP)—John Holt, county clerk, lost his keys while hunting. Weeks later he was handed his bunch of keys attached to a much chewed leather strap. A dog belonging to Lewis LaBruce of Georgetown had fetched the keys to his master, who, in turn, sent them to Holt.

DOCTORS KNOW

Mothers read this:

A cleansing dose today; a smaller quantity tomorrow; less each time, until bodies need no help at all.

Why do people come home from a hospital with bowels working like a well-regulated watch?

The answer is simple, and it's the answer to all your bowel worries if you will only realize it: many doctors and hospitals use liquid laxatives.

If you knew what a doctor knows, you would use only the liquid form. A liquid can always be taken in gradually reduced doses. Reduced dosage is the secret of any real relief from constipation.

Ask a doctor about this. Ask your druggist how very popular liquid laxatives have become. They give the right kind of help, and right amount of help. The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara — both natural laxatives that can form no habit, even in children. So, try Syrup Pepsin. You just take regulated doses till Nature restores regularity

MIAMI'S YOUNG "TUGBOAT ANNIE" PREFERS SEA TO FILM CAREER; CLAIMS DISTINCTION OF CATCHING BIGGEST FISH

Capt. Lillian Rast, who pilots the "Sea Bird" in Florida waters, says: "Last year I weighed only 93 pounds. Now look at me." Among her claims to distinction is that of catching the largest leopard shark ever landed by a woman.

BY J. P. McKNIGHT

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 19. (AP)—You can keep your movie contracts, so far as Miami's "Tugboat Annie" is concerned.

She'll stick to her life on the briny deep.

Publicity brought pretty, 32-year-old Lillian Rast, Miami's and perhaps Florida's only licensed woman owner-pilot, many letters, among them one intimating she would qualify for the silver screen.

But she isn't interested, she says. She likes her trim, 36-foot cabin cruiser "Sea Bird." She likes to handle its wheel. She likes fishing. She says, in short: "It's the life."

"Ever since I was tiny," Miss Rast—who is only five-feet-three and 117 pounds today—explained, "I've liked the water, and fishing.

Why Not?

"I was born in Talma, Ind., on the Tippecanoe river, and we kids used to play in its waters all the time.

"Then my father started coming to Miami to fish in the winters. I always came with him. About three or four years ago I began spending nearly all the year here, going out fishing on other people's boats. And finally I asked myself: Why not buy one of my own? So I did. This is it."

A former rum-runner's boat confiscated by the United States Coast Guard in prohibition years and used to patrol Florida's shores, the "Sea Bird" is trim, roomy, powered by 90-horse power motors.

Everything aboard it is shipshape. Its neat, picture-hung cabin, the tiny, spotless oil stove, the shining glasses show its owner is no mere man.

Miss Rast, who resided in Fort Worth, Texas, before she came to Miami, lives near the boat in an automobile trailer, furnished in modernistic style with studio couch, vanity, oil stove and all the comforts of home.

Hates To Dress

Her favored garb is shorts and shirt—"I don't even go to Miami any more," she admits, laughing, "because I hate so to put on a dress."

The brown-haired, brown-eyed sea-woman, whose further claim to distinction includes catching two years ago the largest leopard shark ever landed by a woman, recommends her life to those needing to gain weight.

"Last year," she said, "I weighed only 93 pounds. Now look at me."

She looked all right.

This winter Miss Rast hopes for a family reunion aboard her boat. Her father, Lesley Steffey, of Knox, Ind., and her two sisters Mrs. L. R. Wallace of the Wallace Ranch, Oil City, Pa., and Mrs. Joe Wixson, Tulsa, all may come down to Miami, she says.

GOVERNMENT CLAIMS CLEANUP IN ITS DEALING WITH KANSAS CITY SLAYERS

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 19. (AP)—The government claimed a cleanup last night in its prosecution of Kansas City's Union Station quintuple slaying.

The federal circuit court of appeals at St. Louis upheld the conviction of four men for conspiracy in a plot to free Frank Nash, escaped convict, which resulted in the slaughter of four officers and Nash as well June 17, 1933.

Seek New Hearing

Attorneys for the four — Louis Stacci, Chicago; Frank (Prits) Malloy, Kansas City; Richard T. Galatas, Hot Springs, Ark., and Herbert A. Farmer, Joplin, Mo.—said they would seek a new hearing.

The government charged that the men, together with three women, arranged for the bloody attempt to liberate Nash. Investigators solved the crime by tracing telephone calls.

Machine gunners fired from behind parked motor cars as Nash, captured in Hot Springs, Ark., was led from the Union Station by officers who planned to return him to Leavenworth (Kas.) federal penitentiary by motor car.

Slain with Nash were Raymond J. Caffrey, federal agent; Otto Reed, chief of police at McAlester, Okla., and William Grooms and Frank Hermanson, Kansas City detectives.

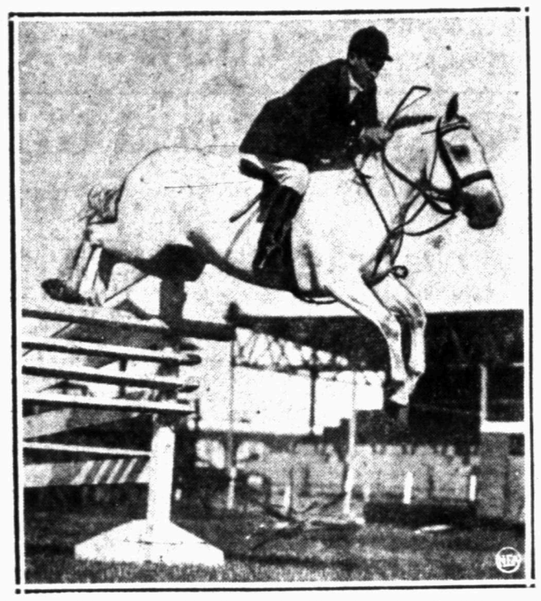

Adam Richetti, convicted as one of the gunners, is under sentence to hang. His fellow killers, the government contended, were Verne Miller, slain near Detroit by former associates, and Charles Arthur (Pretty Boy) Floyd, killed by Ohio officers.

TOWNS 'DISLOCATED'

EADS, Colo. (AP)—The alphabetical continuity of a string of towns and stations along the Missouri Pacific railroad in eastern Colorado has been broken with the re-naming of Fergus as Hawkins. The list formerly read Brandon, Chivington, Diston, Eads, Fergus, Galatea, Haswell, Inman.

Mrs. Sarah Winchester believed that death would never take her so long as her home remained unfinished, so she kept adding rooms to it. On her death in 1922, her Santa Clara, Calif., home contained 160 rooms.

Overcoming Obstacle Of Size

Size doesn't handicap Little Squire, the 53-inch pony and teammate of Squire, defending champion of the National Horse Show. The exact duplicate of Squire excepting size, the pony, pictured above with John Meany up, has jumped six feet two inches, a record that promised thrilling competition for spectators thronging the 1935 show at Madison Square Garden in New York.

MEXICO PROBLEM CALLED ECONOMIC

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 19 (AP)—Pascual Ortiz-Rubio, former president of Mexico, expressed his opinion here today that the only serious problem confronting the Mexican people today is an economic one.

The present governmental regime is concerned mainly with methods of raising the standard of living for the Mexican people as a whole, he said, adding that he believed this aim would be successfully achieved within the next few years.

Man Of The Hour

"President Cardenas is the man of the hour in Mexico and is the proper man to carry out the economic plan that has been mapped out for the betterment of the people," Ortiz-Rubio said.

"The church-state controversy has been greatly exaggerated. The major portion of Mexican Catholics are entirely satisfied with the laws governing the church in Mexico; otherwise there would have been serious uprisings long before now. The Mexican Catholics are observing the religious laws strictly and cheerfully."

Ortiz-Rubio, who was elected president of the southern republic in 1929 and resigned in September, 1932, was the guest of honor at a dinner given him here by R. W. Morrison, San Antonio financier. Ortiz-Rubio has spent considerable time in the United States since leaving office.

IT'S A RECORD

LEFORS, Tex., (AP)—Trevor Wolfe, 17, is the only person ever to start school here in the first grade and continue until reaching the senior class.

GOODWILL JAUNT WILL BE STAGED

A goodwill jaunt to Clovis and Portales, N. M., will be made Thursday by approximately 25 Lubbock wholesalers and manufacturers who will leave at 8 a. m.

Decision to make the trip followed invitation from Clovis Chamber of Commerce for a Lubbock group to aid that city in celebrating completion of paving of highway 7 between the two cities. The last gap was filled in Thursday.

Plans for the jaunt were discussed at a meeting Monday afternoon which was attended by Wyatt Hester, W. C. Pryor, Lennis Baker, Russell Morrison, S. C. Wilson and Garnet O. Reeves.

Entertainment at Clovis will include a luncheon with the Lubbock visitors as honored guests.

The committee decided that since visits had already been made this fall at towns along the route to be taken Thursday, and since stops at each town along the way would leave no time for entertainment planned by the New Mexico cities, there would be no scheduled stops between Lubbock and Clovis.

Wholesalers and manufacturers who desire to make the trip are asked to call the chamber of commerce. The visit will be made by bus.

FIND COAL VEIN

McALESTER, Okla., (AP)—Prisoners excavating at the Oklahoma state penitentiary here discovered a six-foot vein of coal, four feet below the surface.

The child born on the Mayflower during its epic trip to America was named Peregrine White.

Monument Raised For All Pioneers

BOONESBORO, Ky., Nov. 19 (AP)—A monument to pioneer trail builders and financiers who opened up the west over a century and a half ago has been dedicated here.

Lineal descendants of Transylvania company founders and Cherokee Indian chieftains who negotiated the Great Treaty of 1775, giving the company title to more than 20,000,000 acres, took part in the dedicatory exercises.

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY

Tom Ottey, of Michigan State, won the 26th annual cross-country championship of the I. C. 4-A over the 6-mile course at Van Cortlandt Park, N. Y.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Young Stribling knocked out Whitey Gorsline in the third of a 10-rounder at Grand Rapids, Mich.

More meanderings:

The life of an official is tough enough without bringing modern science into play . . . they called the boys in white together yesterday to show 'em a movie . . . . Army still contending that interference never should have been ruled on that Notre Dame pass. Shakespeare to Millner, that resulted in the Irish touchdown which tied the score . . . and newspaper observers at the film showing didn't make it any easier on the poor officials by being "convinced there were no conspicuous grounds for calling interference." . . .

Coaches Cawthon and Smith, back from scouting St. Mary's in the Texas A. & I. game, say that compared with the 1934 Matador team, the 1935 St. Mary's team isn't so hot, but that compared with the 1935 Matador team, the Rattlers are, and will be come Saturday, pretty tough. . . . Long way to go scouting, Kingsville . . . still in Texas, but about as close to Lubbock as Tucson. . . . Cawthon says Frank Bridges is going to have trouble getting over in San Antonio . . . not Frank personally, but St. Mary's football . . . the town does not seem to be responding like Frank thought it would . . . they like their Mexican boxers and rasslers too well down there . . . probably have ten or eleven thousand out for the Tech game, which is small for that town. . . .

Nice to see the Auburn team keep winning . . . nearly all the critics say it's Auburn's great line which makes the victories possible . . . and you know who's coaching that line . . . Dan McGugin, former Vandy coach, who does a lot of writing for the papers, gives old Dell a lot of credit . . . Abilene is getting set to make it a gala day Saturday when the Texas Tech freshmen invade Parramore Field for a go with the Hardin-Simmons frosh . . . Picador Coach Berl Huffman is considerably worried. . . . "Fraid they'll be set for us," he grumbles . . . "and maybe that'll be an unusually tough freshman team we'll be playing. . . ."

We're getting fed up on this "boycott the Olympics" campaign that's raging in the papers and through private correspondence to sports writers . . . reams of it every other day or so . . . latest is a 64-page volume entitled "Preserve the Olympic Ideals," and it's supposed to present "authentic evidence of consistent and prevailing violations of the Olympic regulations and the Olympic Code by Nazi Germany" . . . so what? . . . the "pamphlet" calls upon American athletes "to refuse to answer the summons of Adolf Hitler" . . . and brings bitter charges against old Adolf and his brown shirts . . . who have absolutely nothing to do with the Olympic committee. . . . Thus far, politics and the Olympics have been kept separate and apart . . . but a bunch of hotheaded American (?) loud mouths are trying to get them together. . . .

At the top of fancy stationery is emblazoned "Committee On Fair Play In Sports," and under this: "No American Participation in the Olympic Games under Nazi Auspices" . . . and down the side of the sheet, in the list of committee officers and members are such names as Leiper, Schram, Boas, Gruening, Kirchwey, Neuberger, Niebuhr, Schieffelin, Spivak and Villard . . . good old American names . . . like Notre Dame. . . .

Bill Lee, big Alabama tackle who now plays with the Brooklyn professionals, once blocked a punt, and when the ball struck his stomach, it burst . . . the football, not the stomach . . . Lou Little of Columbia, who probably will be one of the hotshots at the 1936 Texas Tech coaching school, is one of the best-dressed coaches in the business . . . he has 36 suits in his wardrobe. . . .

GUS DORAIS, Detroit university coach who brings his team here for the Thanksgiving frolic (tickets are on sale, by the way) also does some writing for the papers . . . he says:

"One of the biggest problems in coaching is to get average sophomores to change their positions with the turn of events. Most of them are sticklers for order." (H-mmm, so Gus is having sophomore trouble, too).

"You tell one of them to play three yards behind tackle and he'll play three yards back regardless of developments," says Dorais, who is the model of Notre Dame quarterbacks. "He can always alibi that it was the coach's orders."

Along this line, a story is told by Harry Stuhldreher, coach at Villanova now, who followed Dorais as a great signal chanter for the Irish:

"To illustrate how far youngsters will go . . . we used to get a laugh when Hunk Anderson was line coach . . . Anderson has a bad thumb. It mended crooked after being broken . . . Hunk would get down on the ground with the centers to illustrate how to grip the ball for a pass to the backfield . . . all of the youngsters noticed his crooked thumb and believed it was part of the trick . . . When they took the ball, they tried to bend their thumbs out of shape, too."

HOME STRETCH FOR CLASS A TEAMS NEAR

AMARILLO SANDIES IN AND OTHER VICTORS ALSO LOOMING

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The sixteen Class A football districts of the Texas Interscholastic league are nearing the championship finishing line. Thanksgiving will close the various schedules and send the district winners into bi-district competition.

Several teams appear to be "in", including Amarillo Golden Sandies, 1934 champions. The Sandies have clinched a tie in district one. They have one more district game schedule, one on Thanksgiving at Pampa.

Others Likely Winners

Breckenridge in district two, El Paso in district four, Wichita Falls in district five, Sherman in district six, Fort Worth Masonic Home in district seven, Dallas Tech in district eight, Mexia in district eleven, Houston San Jacinto in district thirteen and Corpus Christi in district sixteen are leading in their respective districts and are expected to enter the bi-district competition.

The main attraction this weekend will be the Waco-Temple game at Temple. Temple is pacing the district twelve race with five straight wins, but Waco has four wins against one defeat and by defeating Temple could deadlock this race.

The district standings and schedules of all final games follow:

Local Grid Squads Put Through Paces

MATADORS TAKE ON ST. MARY'S AT SANTONE AND WESTERNERS TANGLE UP WITH BORGER

The football playgrounds at Texas Tech are again being trampled by husky athletes who settled down yesterday after a week's "vacation" to prepare for Saturday's games on foreign fields.

The varsity Matadors move to San Antonio to open gridiron relations with the St. Mary's university Rattlers.

The freshman Picadors visit Abilene to wind up their season and to seek their fifth straight victory in a game with the Hardin-Simmons university frosh.

Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchy Smith were back on the job after a 1,400-mile scouting trip that provided "dope" on the Frank Bridges coached Rattlers. St. Mary's defeated the Texas A. and I. college Javelinas Saturday night at Kingsville, 19 to 6. The Tech coaches report that the Rattlers should prove difficult next Saturday at San Antonio.

"Bridges has a light but fast backfield that can give us plenty of trouble if it gets loose," Cawthon said. "There are two of them capable of giving any team a case of the jitters. We'll have to be on our toes."

Cawthon said that Weir Washam, former all-Southwest conference quarterback at Baylor, now assistant coach at St. Mary's, had taught the Rattler backs several running tricks, deception and development of speed.

The Matadors leave Thursday night by train for the Alamo city.

Turkey Tickets Ready

Business picked up on the practice field, what with the coaches passing on details of the St. Mary's style to their charges. There was little activity in camp last week. A scrimmage, with freshmen running St. Mary's plays, probably will be in order this afternoon or Wednesday.

There was other activity yesterday, an announcement by Bo Williams, graduate manager, regarding advance ticket sales for Tech's Thanksgiving Day game with the Detroit university Titans.

Grandstand seats in sections B and C went on sale yesterday at Sam Rosenthal's Hub Clothiers. Reserve seat tickets are priced at $1.65, general admission ducats at $1.10 each. A sell-out is anticipated.

TEXAS SQUADS ARE ELIGIBLE

PACIFIC COAST HEAD SAYS TEXAS TEAM MAY BE CHOSEN

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—While the annual California-Stanford grid classic at Palo Alto Saturday in all probability will decide which team represents the West in the Rose Bowl game, official announcement will not come until Nov. 29.

This was the statement today from the office of Prof. Hugh C. Willett, chairman of the Pacific coast conference.

At the same time, the faculty representative from Southern California made it plain that there was no rule of any sort which bound the team selected to confine its search for a suitable opponent to given geographical boundaries.

Southwest Eligible

Asked whether Southern Methodist or Texas Christian, two undefeated teams in the Southwest conference, were eligible because of their location, Professor Willet said:

"Certainly Southern Methodist or any other team in the Southwest conference could be selected if the team awarded the Rose Bowl right by the Pacific coast conference so decided."

"After all," he added, "the East, from our point of view, covers a good deal of territory."

Levinsky To Meet Wrestler Tonight

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 19. (AP)—Kingfish Levinsky and Ray Steele, leaders of opposing schools of ring tactics, will tangle here tonight in a mixed mauling match to determine whether boxer or wrestler is supreme.

Levinsky, the Chicago fish peddler who "puts lumps under their lamps," will expound the thesis that a roundhouse punch, well thrown, is the most potent form of ring conduct.

Steele, on the contrary, is known to profess the belief that an opponent thrown into the audience is more likely to stay there than one knocked over the ropes.

Hoppe And Cochran Will Meet Tonight

CHICAGO, Nov. 19. (AP)—Willie Hoppe of New York, for nearly two generations idol of American billiard fans, meets Welker Cochran of San Francisco, tonight for the world's three cushion championship.

The other stars of the game, Johnny Layton of Sedalia, Mo., the retiring champion, and Augie Kieckhefer of Chicago, ten times winner of the crown, fell by the wayside.

DOPE BUCKETS TROTTED OUT FOR GAME

FROG-OWL BATTLE TO HOLD SPOTLIGHT IN TEXAS SATURDAY

(By The Associated Press)

Dope sheets were in order today as the Texas Christian Frogs and the Rice Owls prepared for their Saturday's battle at Fort Worth, the headliner on this week's Southwest football program of three conference games.

Here are some of the things the fans could figure on:

Rice hasn't defeated Texas Christian since 1924.

The Frogs ruined the Owls' perfect season's record last year by beating them, 7-2.

Texas Christian has defeated Texas and Texas A. & M. in conference play this year, and so has Rice.

Frogs Rated Third

The Frogs are rated third among the nation's top elevens. Rice stands sixth.

Texas Christian is undefeated. Rice lost one game—to Southern Methodist.

Bruised in their gruelling battle with the Texas Aggies last week, the Owl regulars rested yesterday, but prepared to get down to hard work today. The Frogs, however, took no time off. They hit the practice field and started work on their offense. Coach Dutch Meyer indicated that tomorrow and Thursday would be devoted to drills on defensive tactics.

The undefeated Southern Methodist Mustangs, strengthened by the return of Johnny Sprague, back, and J. C. Wetsel, guard, eased into practice for their game at Dallas with the Baylor Bears—a team which won over Centenary, 20 to 0, last week. Coach Morley Jennings said his Bruins were in good shape and would be ready to fire both barrels at the Mustangs.

The air-minded Arkansas Razorbacks studied six new offensive plays for use against the Texas Longhorns at Austin Friday. Coach Fred Thomsen indicated the Porkers would rely mainly on an aerial attack. The Longhorns also started work on new plays.

Although they will not see action until they meet Texas Thanksgiving day, the Texas Aggies plunged into brisk practice of both offensive and defensive plays.

POSSIBLE UPSET IS BEING FEARED

Fearing a let down and a possible upset at Borger next Friday, Coaches Weldon Chapman and Goober Keyes sent their Lubbock High school Westerners through the heaviest work yesterday since the Amarillo game, and issued orders to be on guard.

Although battered and bruised considerably after the Amarillo game, the Westerners are due to be in good physical fettle for the Borger game. Ambitious to finish second in the District 1 race, the Westerners will take seriously their game this week with Borger and the Nov. 29 game at Plainview with the other set of Bulldogs. Victory in those games will clinch second place, the Pampa Harvesters having been removed from the Lubbock path.

Doubt still prevailed as to the definite recovery of Hershel Maxey, important backfield player, in time for the Borger game, but Coach Chapman was hopeful. His absence in the Westerner lineup against Amarillo no doubt made victory easier for the Sandies. Without him, the Westerners wil be no top-heavy favorites over Borger and Plainview.

ARCADIA, Calif., Nov. 19.—Santa Anita race track will open here Christmas Day with a $5000 Christmas Stakes as the feature.

SPOT WILLING WINS

STILLWATER, Okla., Nov. 19. (AP)—Spot Willing, a liver and white pointer bitch who ran wide and powerfully and handled well, held top honors today as the third day's running of the Stillwater field trials began.

Owned and handled by C. V. Walker of Little Rock, Spot Willing took first place in yesterday's running.

Tex And Joe Offer Fun In Main Tilt

THEY'D BETTER BE GOOD FOR OLD MASTER OF MAT, DUTCH MANTELL, WILL BE IN THERE

There should be more fun than a little when Sailor Tex Watkins tagles with Panther Joe Kopecky in the main event of Sled Allen's wrestling show tomorrow night. They'd better be good.

Because Albert Josef Alfred de le Regaurdieu, grand duke of Luxembourg, is going to be the third man in the ring when Watkins and Kopecky meet. Albert Josef, etc., is just plain Dutch Mantell in the ring, and not so plain at that. He just about steals the show any time he enters the hempen enclosure. Formerly he did it as one of the rasslers; now he does it as the official.

Mantell, no doubt, will dominate the scenery in the main event. Watkins and Kopecky will be anything but good little boys, and Dutch will have plenty of opportunities to get into the thick of battle.

To wrestling fans of the vicinity, Kopecky and Watkins need no introduction. Two of a kind, they should be at their brutal worst against each other.

The semi-final features Billy Hallas, another veteran of the rough and uncouth school. An exceptionally unpopular Greek because of his illegal tactics, Hallas will be on the receiving end of verbal vegetables when he tangles with Mervin Barackman, Nebraska grappler who hasn't been around in some time.

Nick Bozinis and Larry Tillman start the show with what should be an interesting preliminary.

OWENS SMASHES DOWN LUDLOW IN TOP GO AT RALLS; BIG CROWD IS PRESENT

RALLS, Nov. 19 (Special)—Marlin Owens, the Wichita Falls youth who looks like anything but a boxer but who can toss leather with astonishing fury and power, smashed down Odie Ludlow of Jal, N. M., here last night in the scheduled ten-round main event of the Ralls Athletic club's semi-monthly show. A crowd of nearly 1,200 packed City auditorium to see Owens almost dupilicate his feat of a month ago and successfully stand off the return bout challenge of the former Oklahoma middleweight champion.

Ludlow, who was knocked out for a long nap in their first meeting, was through after the third round tonight. So badly beaten was he that his second tossed in the towel before the gong for the fourth round could ring. He was barely hanging on as early as the second round, after they had sparred carefully in the first. They weighed in at 150 pounds each.

A hammering right fist beat Ludlow at every turn, and he was far outclassed by the man he had challenged for a return bout. He went down three times in the second round, three times in the third under Owens' crashinb right.

Kid Smyer, 135 pounds, of Lorenzo, won a decision over Nick Santos, 136 pounds, of Fort Worth, in the eight-round semi-final. Santos never got started, never opened up with the attack expected from him.

Red McDuff, substituting for John Buck, a 138 pounder, battled Bob Owens, younger brother of Marlin, to a three-round draw to open the show. Owens weighed 148.

Walker of Little Rock, Spot Willing took first place in yesterday's running.

Annual Baseball Meeting To Open

DAYTON, O., Nov. 19. (AP)—With major league gossip sounding an overtone, baseball notables were here today for the 34th annual meeting of minor baseball leagues, opening officially tomorrow.

Around 400 were in town and as many more were expected by nightfall.

The major league contingent was led by Branch Rickey of the St. Louis Cardinals, and Frankie Frisch, manager of the former world champions.

MOTHER TELLS DEATH STORY

DECLARES THAT FATHER WAS ROARING DRUNK AT THE TIME

WISE, Va., Nov. 19 (AP)—A mother's story that her husband was "roaring drunk" the night their daughter killed him was given in the murder trial of 21-year-old Edith Maxwell.

An attempt by Trigg Maxwell, 52-year-old blacksmith, to punish the school teacher-daughter for staying out late led to the killing, testified the mother, who also is under indictment but not on trial in the case.

"A man ought to take a club and break her damned neck—a man ought to kill her," Mrs. Maxwell quoted her husband as saying when he came home to their mountain cottage at Pound "roaring drunk" and found his daughter had not returned at 10:30.

Hears Scuffle

She was in bed, Mrs. Maxwell testified, when she heard a scuffle between Maxwell and the daughter. She heard Edith say: "Don't you stab me with that butcher knife," she said.

Then she came out, Mrs. Maxwell said, and saw blood running down his forehead. When her husband later fell against a meat block on the back porch, she said, she assumed this fall was responsible for his death.

A claim that "no father has a right to chastise a 21-year-old girl" was set up as a part of the self defense plea at the outset of the trial.

Dust Storms Will Not Be Extensive

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 19 (AP)—So far as Oklahoma is concerned, there is little chance that dust storms this year will be as extensive and damaging as last year, Harry Wahlgren, federal forecaster, said here.

Wahlgren said the dust storms reported in the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandles and in southeastern Kansas Monday were mostly of local character.

The Plains region of Oklahoma, with the exception of some parts of the Panhandle, has had enough rain already this year to ward off extensive wind erosion Wahlgren explained. Some of the Panhandle counties have good stands of winter wheat, he said.

Willys' Kin War

Risking the loss of a $1,400,000 legacy by fighting for the full $4,000,000 estate left by the late John N. Willys, auto magnate, Mrs. Virginia Clayton Willys de Landa, top photo, has launched a court fight in New York against her stepmother, Mrs. Florence Dolan Willys, below, for control of the estate. Mrs. De Landa was left 35 per cent of the estate, the will stipulating that any contest would annul the legacy.

HUNGER STRIKE IS SHORT-LIVED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 (AP)—The hunger strike a discharged navy sailor and his family began Monday in front of the White House was short-lived.

Lewis V. Farrell of Philadelphia, who sat on a curbstone in front of the executive mansion, with his wife and two children, and announced his intention of remaining there until he starved to death or got a job was taken into custody by park policemen.

When Farrell complained he was hindered in finding work because of a "slanderous statement" in his naval discharge, police took him to the navy department. After that he and his family dropped out of sight. Naval officials said his papers showed only that he had displayed "an ineptitude in the service."

COMPLETE LISTS WILL BE SOUGHT

Jobless persons eligible for work relief under the WPA program and who are not registered at their nearest National Reemployment service or Texas State Employment service office are urged to sign up at once, said H. P. Stearns, travelling supervisor from state WPA headquarters. Those who have already signed should keep in contact with the office to learn of additional projects which may be started.

Jobless persons who received relief in May, 1935, and who are still eligible for relief, should be registered at NRS or TSES offices so that they may be in line for jobs which are opening on projects in the district, Mr. Stearns explained.

WPA officals urged particularly that all youths, between the ages of 16 and 25, who are eligible for relief, apply to NRS or TSES offices for registration. Youths now attending schools should not quit their studies, however, in search of WPA jobs, Stearns declared.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 19. (AP)—Norment Quarles, North Carolina scrapper, won a split decision over Freddie Miller, the featherweight champion, in a 10-round bout last night. It was a non-title affair. Miller weighed 130, Quarles 130 1-2.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (AP)—Ray Impellitiere, New York heavyweight, who won a disputed decision from Ford Smith of California at Detroit last week, Monday signed to meet Smith in a return bout in the Chicago stadium. Mike Jacobs, who will stage the show, will announce the date today.

BUSINESS LEADERS HAIL TRADE PACT WITH CANADA WITH MUCH ENTHUSIASM

HOUSTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—Shipping, banking and business leaders attending the annual convention of the national foreign trade council which opened here Monday hailed with enthusiasm the new trade agreement between Canada and the United States lowering tariff barriers.

Some called it the "greatest achievement of the Roosevelt administration." Delegates hopefully expressed the belief that it was the forerunner of similar agreements with other countries which would bring about a tremendous increase in exports.

"The agreement between Canada and the United States will be hailed with general satisfaction as evidence of the desire of these neighboring countries to improve their commercial relations and to provide mutual opportunities for the expansion of [illegible] James A. Farrell of New York, chairman of the council.

H. P. O'Shea, special representative of the Bank of Montreal who recently was transferred to New York from Canada, called the pact a "splendid thing which will do much to promote better feeling between these two countries as well as stimulate business."

Twelve Bombs Are Found Near Border

CALEXICO, Calif., Nov. 19. (AP)—Twelve bombs were found by customs border patrolmen near the American-Mexican line in an irrigation ditch which was drained Saturday, Imperial county Sheriff Robert Ware disclosed today.

Sheriff Ware said the bombs were wrapped in a Spanish language newspaper, apparently published in Los Angeles, and bearing the date [illegible] with the year unknown.

It was during July of the present year that federal and state peace officers made a widespread but unsuccessful search for ammunition [illegible] Mexican revolutionists.

HOME LIFE IS SUFFERING

WITHERS FAMILY NOW UNABLE TO BE LIKE OTHER PEOPLE

BY HUBBARD KEAVY

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 19 (AP)—The Witherses would like to live like other people. Having a movie star in the family has changed their lives.

Since Jane crashed into marquee lights with the release of "Bright Eyes," less than nine months ago, Hollywood has made major alterations in her life and in the lives of her parents.

The home life they all enjoyed back in Atlanta is gone. Mrs. Withers' club work, the pleasant circle of church friends, Jane's companions, are 3,000 miles away. Mother and daughter go at a gallop from morning until night. When Jane isn't engaged in a picture, there are rehearsals, fittings, photographs, interviews, song practice, dance practice, school.

Phone Keeps Ringing

Mr. Withers can scarcely get a word in edgewise about the tire business during breakfast or dinner any more—even if there were not studio work to discuss. The telephone rings incessantly. There are real estate salesmen, stock salesmen, insurance salesmen, just plain salesmen, and in between, youngsters and others who "just want to say hello to Jane."

"I still can't feel annoyed about phone calls," Mrs. Withers laughs, "when I recall how for days on end Jane and I used to sit and wait for the bell to ring, just in case it might be a studio."

When Jane won recognition and a contract, to be featured in "Ginger" and "This Is The Life," it was no great surprise to Mrs. Withers. She was grateful, but not surprised. Jane has been on the stage since she was two and her mother never doubted for a moment that some day she might hit the top.

Doesn't Bother Jane

But where Mrs. Withers and her six foot three Georgia husband made a mistake was in believing that with a star in the family they could go on living their same normal, natural existence. They weren't going to "go Hollywood" and they haven't, but things aren't the same.

They're going to move soon from their present bungalow court home in an effort to recapture a little of their lost privacy. In increasing numbers daily, cars drive up, curious strangers push the doorbell, call to Jane to come out. At first it was fun for her parents to have Jane recognized, but now it's less exciting. It doesn't bother Jane, who's as healthy and happy a 9-year-old as there is in the country. It bothers "Mom" and "Pops."

Mom and Pops haven't given up hope. They still believe it is possible for their daughter to enjoy screen success and for all three to live like other people.

Lubbock Lady's Health A "Wreck" Until The Gly-Cas

Stomach Distress, Nervousness and Kidney Trouble Had Caused Her Constant Suffering—Now Enjoying Good Health Again; Husband Received Great Benefit Also

There have been many medicines introduced here in Lubbock in past years but never before has any medicine received such widespread and sincere praise that absolutely refused to die-out—but continues to grow with each day—as is that being accorded this new Gly-Cas at the Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway;

MRS. G. W. MAY

Just recently, Mrs. G. W. May, 1611 18th street, Lubbock, well known and highly respected local lady, made the following statement lauding the action of this new medical discovery in restoring her to good and glorious health that her many friends and acquaintances might learn of Gly-Cas and profit from its use as she has;

"After every meal I ate I was sure to suffer severely," said Mrs. May. "Regardless of my diet I would vomit my food almost as soon as I would leave the table. It seemed I could not keep anything on my stomach at all. I was so nervous I could hardly stand it at times and often I could not quiet my nerves to sleep at night. My kidneys were out of order too and what little rest or sleep I could get was disturbed by night risings. My bowels were irregular too, dizziness was frequent and headaches were continually bothering me. In spite of all I tried I could not find anything to help me until I began Gly-Cas—it was the one real medicine of them all."

"Gly-Cas went to the very source of my health troubles," continued Mrs. May, "and today I am feeling the best I have in sometime. I am enjoying the blessing of good health again, my stomach, kidneys and bowels have been regulated until I can eat and sleep good, my nerves are quieted and those dreadful headaches are at an end. It is wonderful that suffering people can get a medicine to give such outstanding results. My husband was actually confined to bed with rheumatism when he began Gly-Cas and it freed him of all that cripling suffering until he is now up and around and he too is enjoying good health again. We join in lauding this new Gly-Cas—it gave us the results we had been searching for."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, and by all leading druggists in surrounding towns.

Gly-Cas $1.00 per box—6 boxes $5.00. Add 2c postage for each box ordered. Send money orders made payable Mark Halsey Drug Store. Don't send cash. Checks not accepted—no C. O. D. mail orders.—

Dutchers' News And Views OF WASHINGTON

Dutcher

(Copyright, 1935, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 — The worst thing that can happen to you in Washington is to be appointed a co-ordinator. The fellow who once had to empty a well with a sieve had a soft snap compared with the job of trying to co-ordinate parts of the New Deal.

The latest victim is Peter Grimm, a New York real estate man and protege of Secretary Morgenthau, who is supposed to co-ordinate the various New Deal housing activities.

A recent confidential survey found that 37 government agencies had "definite responsibilities in housing." The most important ones are FHA, PWA, RA, FERA, RFC, HOLC, FCA, and WPA.

In as many of those agencies as could be covered in a day, one found a grim undercurrent of opposition to Mr. Grimm. It reminds you of the way people got to feeling about that co-ordinator of co-ordinators, Donald Richberg.

Whether or not an abhorrence of being co-ordinated has anything to do with it, the people who struggle with housing here almost unanimously cry out a belief that Grimm, who has handled the Astor and Morgenthau properties in New York, seeks to maintain high mortgage rates and discredit low-cost housing efforts, in the interests of big banks, mortgage agencies, real estate companies, builders and insurance companies.

Where Troubles Began

Grimm's troubles began when Roosevelt appointed Fred Delano, the president's uncle, as chairman of a housing co-ordination committee, with Grimm as Delano's assistant. Delano's dislike for Grimm dated back before that and was intensified when Grimm called a meeting of the committee without his consent.

A strong impression grew up that Grimm was especially anxious to "co-ordinate" Chairman John H. Fahey and the Home Loan system and Fahey won that reported battle to the extent that Grimm suddenly found himself but one among several other assistants to the committee, appointed by Delano.

More Grief For Grimm

Something had to be done or Mr. Grimm might as well go back to New York. The "something" was his appointment to the National Emergency Council as an official co-ordinator of housing activities.

Delano is reported threatening to resign if Grimm gets real power or authority. Grimm is sending long questionnaires to all agencies, which arouse sour reactions.

Home Loan thinks he's trying to absorb it into FHA and convert its bonds into insured mortgages.

PWA Housing thinks Grimm would like to sabotage its low-cost projects. And so on. In other words, Mr. Grimm faces odds.

A Laugh For The Press

Press conferences continue to be good for a few giggles.

Secretary Henry A. Wallace, the spiritual mystic of the cabinet, was saying there was no sign of land speculation by farmers, but that he intended to warn against it just the same.

"You remember Darling's cartoon back in 1933 or 1934, at the time of the Sally Rand dance in Chicago," he explained. "He had folks there sitting in the front row looking at this dancer with a rather extensive fan before her. The dance was labeled 'inflation,' saying they 'hadn't seen anything yet.'

"It's a little bit that way with land speculation—we haven't seen anything yet. We don't want to seen the fan drop, of course."

And Another Laugh

Roosevelt, slick as ever with the press, was asked to comment on a crack from General Johnson by a correspondent who mumbled so that other newspapermen yelled "Louder!"

"He wanted to know about some kind of a statement from General Johnson," spoke up the president, grinning.

"Haw-haw-haw!" bellowed the correspondents, taking the cue. But one man insisted on asking the president's answer.

"You fellows gave the answer," Roosevelt replied.

"Hee-hee-hee!" giggled the correspondents.

PLAINSMAN OUT OF TOWN

As readers noted by his yesterday's column, The Plainsman is in Dallas attending the annual Associated Press conference. His regular stint will be resumed either tomorrow or Thursday, depending upon the time of return of The Old Man and the Little Woman from the East Texas metropolis.

JUST BUNK 'EM ALONG

If you're thinking of running for Congress you might do worse than read Harold Nicolson's biography of Dwight Morrow. It contains the advice the late President Calvin Coolidge gave to the late Mr. Morrow as the latter prepared to run for the Senate in New Jersey:

"Talk as little as you can.

"But if you have to talk, talk about patriotism.

"They seem to like it."

Quick Glimpses Of The Stars In Hollywood; Midget Now Is Being Considered As Yes-Man For Little Baby Leroy

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 19.—Short takes: I hear they're going to hire a midget to serve as yes man for Baby Leroy.

They are a lot of haunted houses hereabouts, occupied by ghost writers.

Speaking of yes-men, one of them was the first person fired by the new regime at Universal. He said "Maybe" to Charles Rogers. . . My house here is on a hill overlooking the studio, and on a clear day I could see Uncle Carl Laemmle looking worried. Now, though, the valley is full of dust from the house-cleaning.

CLEANED UP

Morality note: It will be all right to take the kiddies to see the Goldwyn version of "The Children's Hour," a verboten theme now being expounded in its second year on Broadway. The nice Mr. Goldwyn has forthrightly discarded the theme and, for that matter, the title.

Padded Feet

Most of the sunsets you see on the screen are not sunsets at all. They're sunrises. Photography is sharper in the morning light . . . Some of the half-length shots of a gay crowd dancing in a ballroom would be a grotesque if the camera suddenly were to draw back and reveal the scene right down to the floor. For the dancers might be shown wearing clumsy woolen socks over their shoes. That's to silence the shuffling of feet.

Mistaken Identity

Helen Mack looks so much like Frances Dee that autograph collectors are constantly asking the former for a Dee signature. And Miss Mack delivers. . . . The autograph hunters, incidentally, are adopting a sideline. Scores carry small cameras and snap pictures of the stars.

That was a fine, big party at the Trocadero to welcome home the Fredric Marches. A "hunt breakfast," they called it, beginning at 11 p. m. and ending at dawn. Then everyone hunted around for his head and went home.

Shirley In "Oz" Series

Add to the list of reformed blonds: Bette Davis.

There'll likely be a series of L. Frank Baum's "Oz" stories made for the screen. With (you guessed it) Shirley Temple as Dorothy.

Devitalized statistic: There are 14,552 theaters in the United States, one to every 8590 persons, but with a seat for only one person in every 13. That's why you have to stand so long if the picture is any good at all.

Accepted

Jan Kiepura must be a regular sort of guy, at that. He says he likes best to sing in his bath tub.

When Bob Alton selected male dancers for the Cantor picture, he didn't ask them to dance. He made 'em sing. Some protested that they couldn't sing, but Alton insisted. He chose them for their sense of rhythm, paying no attention to the sourness of their voices.

This town is so football mad that a lot of fans, Carl Laemmle, Jr., among them, take portable radios to the games. Watch one contest and listen to another.

Novelty wallpaper made entirely from motion picture stills is to be put on the market by Clarence Bull, M-G-M's portrait specialist.

Franchot Tone never wears a hat.

Jean Harlow shampoos her own hair.

Lionel Barrymore is the colony's most conscientious citizen; registers and votes in every election.

Where's Temperament?

Other day I watched the rehearsals and attempts to film a simple scene between Preston Foster and Margaret Callahan. They went through the action and speeches a dozen times, then the camera was turned on and at least a dozen unsuccessful shots followed. Things kept going wrong.

Nobody could have blamed them much if Miss Callahan had tossed off a case of hysterics, Foster had bolted from the set, and Director Vidor had kicked the lenses out of the camera.

It was a test of nerves, yet I couldn't detect any special tension. For all I know they're still shooting that one stubborn scene.

Some performers, of course, don't have such well-disciplined nerves. Hollywood's champion blower-upper is, of all people, Constance Bennett. She's apt to sob a bit and hopelessly muss up her hair.

Nobody, though, can equal the pyrotechnics of Pola Negri, who frequently "went up" in her lines. Pola would tear her hair, throw everything that wasn't nailed down, swear in beautifully rounded phrases, and then lie down for a good cry.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

CAMPUS IS BEAUTIFIED

An improvement that has been much needed, has been started out at Texas Technological college in the way of sowing of grass seed on sections of the campus, as a beautification measure. Large areas in the section around the circle and the drives have been planted and the grass is growing nicely.

President Bradford Knapp and Business Manager Tom Gaston are to be praised for what has been done. That it has not been done before has been due to finances, rather than to a possible lack of a desire for improvement. The college does not have the income it should have or would like to have, for such improvements.

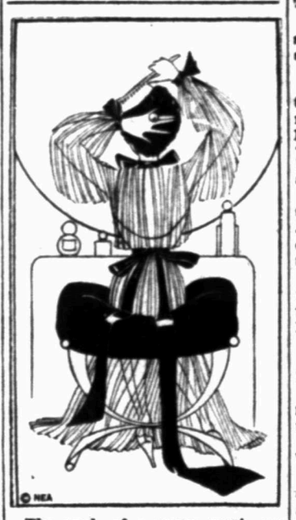

But the point is, this work is being marred by thoughtless persons who have trampled down some of the grass and made paths across it, in order to save just a few minutes. There are several such paths across the circle where the ground, on which a few weeks ago small blades of grass had shown through, that are now as hard almost as the concrete paths that scores of students forget in order to save a few steps or a few minutes in going to and from buildings.

Growing of grass is hard enough, at the best, here. Any property owner, or other person, who is willing to spend the time and money to start a lawn, and to keep it up after it is started, should be encouraged.

It is probable college authorities will later in the year, do more of this work in improving the campus.

They should be encouraged by the student body to do so; not be discouraged by walking across newly sown grass.

The GOLDEN FEATHER

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JEAN DUNN, secretary to DONALD MONTAGUE, lawyer, delays her answer when BOBBY WALLACE, young automobile salesman, asks Jean to marry him.

At The Golden Feather night club Jean meets SANDY HARKINS, whose business connection is vague. Sandy introduces Bobby and Jean to MR. and MRS. LEWIS, and Bobby arranges to sell some bonds for Lewis. He sells them to Jean's employer.

LARRY GLENN, federal agent, long a friend of Jean's parents, is trying to locate WINGY LEWIS, bank robber.

Sandy asks Jean to marry him and she promises to give him an answer after she returns from a vacation in her home town.

Larry locates some stolen bonds and questions SONNY BOYD, gambler, about them. Boyd confesses he bought them from Donald Montague.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVIII

When Sonny Boyd left Larry Glenn's office that afternoon he hurried back to his cigar store and pool room in the east end, sweating profusely.

Reaching the place, he let himself into his little cubbyhole of an office and sank into his chair with a low moan. He rested his arms on his desk and stared at the opposite wall, heedless of the way his fingers were trembling. Then, noticing them at last, he opened a desk drawer, took out a bottle, and drank a stiff slug. Putting the bottle away, he sat up straight and—having, apparently, come to some decision in his own mind—resolutely pressed a push button. The sallow-faced manager of the pool-room came in.

"Tell Turf Arnold to come in," ordered Boyd. The manager went out, and a moment later he ushered in a rather sleepy man whose placid face and old-fashioned steel-rimmed spectacles made him look like anything but the underworld go-between he really was. He looked at Boyd with dull expectancy as the manager went out.

"Turf," said Boyd, "I want you to get word to Don Montague for me. Don't let him know you come from me, see? Don't even mention my name. Just get to him and do this: tell him that Whiskers has traced those Atlas and Iron River bonds to him. Get it?"

Turf Arnold looked at him without curiosity and repeated the message.

"Do I know anything, if he asks me any questions?" he asked.

Boyd shook his head.

"Nothing," he said. "You just got word to give'm the tip, that's all, and if he asks where you got it you tell'm nothing. Just that message is all: the G men know that he had those bonds, and they're going to be asking him where he got 'em."

Turf Arnold silently withdrew. Sonny Boyd stared darkly at the closed door, wiped his forehead with a colored handkerchief, took another stiff drink, and said, "Whee-eww!"

Turf Arnold was an excellent messenger. He sought out Donald Montague that evening, gave the message, played dumb at the proper points, and then went away—leaving the lawyer to walk thoughtfully up and down the floor of his library, stroking his chin and frowning meditatively.

The upshot of it all was that Larry Glenn's visit to Montague's office the next morning was not in the least unexpected, although the lawyer did not reveal this fact. He greeted Larry cordially, with just the expectant air that he would have worn if the visit had been a complete surprise, seated him in a comfortable chair, and shoved a silver-mounted cigaret box across the desk toward him.

Larry came to the point promptly.

"Mr. Montague," he said, "the Division of Investigation has been working on that bank robbery down in Neola a month and a half ago. Some gunmen stuck up the National Bank down there and made off with cash and securities worth $40,000. The securities were bonds, all duly registered among them were some $20,000 in Atlas and Iron River gold 5 per cents five hundred dollar denomination. We've been able to trace some of them, and we are informed that $14,500 of them were sold by you during the past week."

He smiled and paused briefly, adding, "Can you tell me anything about it?"

Mr. Montague looked at him with an expression of mild surprise and utter candor.

"Atlas and Iron River gold fives?" he repeated. He wrinkled one eyebrow, as if searching his brain. "I believe I remember—let me have a look at my records, will you?"

"Go ahead," said Larry. Montague went over to a wall safe, drew out some memoranda, and seemed to be studying them thoughtfully for a few moments. Then he nodded, as if to say, "Ah, yes—it's all quite clear now," and returned to his chair.

"You say those bonds were stolen from the—Neola National Bank, was it?" he asked. Larry nodded.

Montague looked at him, pained surprise registered on his face.

"Why—it can't be," he said softly. He shook his head slowly, as if contemplating some unnatural and unbelieveable mischance.

"I assure you there's no mistake about it," said Larry.

Montague smiled.

"Oh, I accept your word, of course," he said. "It just doesn't seem possible, that's all."

He continued to shake his head slowly.

"I sold those bonds — yes," he said frankly. "I don't mind confessing that I handled them somewhat—ah—surreptitiously. I supposed there was sufficient reason to do so, but I never dreamed—"

He left the sentence unfinished and looked off out the window. Then he seemed to pull himself together. Resting his elbows on his desk he leaned forward slightly and looked Larry in the eye.

"It's a rather peculiar story, but I suppose you hear many such," he said, smiling just a little. "There is a young man in this town whom I happen to know slightly; he's a friend of my secretary, in fact, and she's a fine young woman of whom I am rather fond. It seems the young man is deeply in love with her and wants to get enough of a stake, financially, to be able to marry her. I learned this, by the way, afterward, by subjecting the young

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady; 1-4 lower with steadier Liverpool cables offset by hedge selling and liquidation. Dec 11.74; Jan 11.70; Mch 11.57; May 11.51; Jly 11.45; Oct. 11.18.

Business was moderately active at the start with a considerable volume of over-night selling orders attributed partially to southern hedging. There was a sufficient demand to absorb offerings at the opening prices, however, and the market held fairly steady after the call. At the end of the first hour Dec. contracts were selling around 11.76 and May 11.53, or about net unchanged to 2 points lower.

The market was comparatively quiet after the opening orders had been executed but showed a steadier tone. Offerings were light and prices responded to trade buying and covering. At mid-day Dec was ruling around 11.80 and May 11.56, or 1 to 4 points net higher.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 19. (AP) — Further trade liquidation appeared today in the cotton market here and futures lost from 2 to 5 points in the early dealings.

There was also some hedge selling in distant months and while speculative interests readily picked up cotton an easy tone prevailed.

Dec. opened at 11.80, down 2 points, March was 25 cents a bale lower at 11.57 and the July position was off a similar amount to 11.43.

Additional buying appeared in the market during the morning and prices worked up to within a point or two of the previous closing levels.

Hedge selling also increased but there was enough purchasing in the market to absorb this and cause an advance from the early lows.

Dec. sold at 11.81 during the morning, March at 11.51, May at 11.55 and Oct recovered to its previous close of 11.18.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 19. (AP)—Abnormal lateness and wetness of the 1935 United States corn crop resulted today in lively jumps of corn prices.

The existing unfavorable situation as to corn was authoritatively asserted to be the worst of its kind since 1917. A special complication is that a great deal of the crop is being husked by machinery, and this portion cannot be sorted as readily as corn husked by hand.

After a maximum rise of 2 cents, corn closed firm, 7-8 to 1 5-8 above yesterday's finish, Dec. 61 1-2 to 5-8, wheat 1-8 to 3-8 up, Dec. 97 1-8 to 1-4, oats at 1-8 decline to 1-8 advance, and provisions showing 2 cents to 5 cents setback.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (AP)—Wall street viewed the stock market—perched on the highest pinnacle in four years—with a trace of uneasiness today.

Prices continued to push up here and there, some issues up a point or two, many up fractions. But buying was unusually selective, and many of the recent leaders, notably in steels and motors, were all but neglected. Brokers said sentiment was still predominantly bullish, but the recent advance had been so steep as to inspire caution. In other markets, bonds were little better than steady, cotton a trifle higher, and wheat about unchanged by early afternoon.

Among shares up 1 to 2 points were American Telephone, at a recovery peak; American Can, Du Pont, Westinghouse Electric, Westinghouse Airbrake, Schenley, Pullman, Briggs, Timken, U. S. Steel preferred, Baldwin preferred, Postal preferred, Celanese, Macy, Allied Chemical and others. Several oils, utilities and metals rose fractions.

"But, if we are out-voted by a Talmadge majority—which he may not have—and the committee names the delegates without a primary, I want Mr. Roosevelt's friends to call another Democratic committee and set up machinery for the primary . . .

"We are willing to carry our fight to the floor of the Democratic national convention, if necessary, to see that Governor Talmadge does not embarrass Mr. Roosevelt there."

Annual Pig Roast Is Slated Tonight

Members of the Texas Technological Agricultural club will give their annual "pig roast" tonight in the livestock pavilion at the college for the senior livestock judging team. Arvile Elliott, president of the club, made the announcement.

The roast is an annual affair, honoring the senior livestock team that competes at the Chicago International Livestock show, leaving Thursday for Chicago.

An informal program, with perhaps several brief talks, is being arranged. Division of agriculture instructors and several guests are expected.

W. F. (Bill) Lampe, deputy United States marshal, of Amarillo was in Lubbock this morning.

in the American revolution will be the spirit which is the deciding factor in this tragic war."

Asked when he would depart for the front, the emperor said:

"We shall go to the front soon. The crown prince will, during our absence, direct all civil services of the government, remaining here."

Feeling Strain

Haile Selassie explained that the "we" meant only his nearest retainers.

The emperor obviously was feeling the strain of his many duties—every action taken by the many government officials being approved personally by this absolute monarch—but he was unwilling to discuss his health.

Asked whether he was affected by the heavy responsibilities, he answered simply, "No".

Idaho Man Visits In Lubbock Monday

R. H. Wells of Pocatello, Idaho, who is representing the Rotary International on a two-weeks speaking tour of Texas, was a visitor in Lubbock Monday night and was scheduled to speak in Plainview at noon today, in Brownfield this evening and in Floydada and Amarillo Wednesday.

Mr. Wells, past governor of district five of the Rotary International, is to make 20 speeches in Texas. While here he visited Dr. and Mrs. J. O. Ellsworth, 2609 Twenty-second street, who formerly lived in Idaho.

Aerial Stairs

In step formation, nine Curtiss attack planes of the Third attack group, Barksdale Field, La., led by Col. Earl Naiden, made an unusual air picture subject. The planes are equipped with five machine guns each and a load of bombs, and have a speed of 200 miles per hour. (Associated Press Photo).

with chiefs and warriors under his control also was reported in the statement.

Press reports to some said the Fascist scouting and bombing operations have spread well into the strategic Harar and Jijiga regions, some of the planes passing over Diredawa on the Addis Ababa-Djibouti railway.

Marshal Pietro Badoglio, named by Il Duce to replace Gen. Emilio De Bono as commander-in-chief of the Fascist forces in East Africa, proceeded across the Mediterranean to assume his command.

Program Approved

Italy's grand council, Fascism's highest authority, gave its approval of Mussolini's program of conquest in Ethiopia and resistance to the sanctions.

After listening for two hours to Il Duce's explanation of the nation's political and military situation, the council made a terse statement that it had received the report. Absence of comment permitted Italians to conclude Mussolini would proceed with his present operations in Ethiopia.

It was authoritatively stated that Il Duce told the grand council no more Italian forces would be withdrawn from Libya, North Africa. This assertion was included in a general discussion of the Mediterranean situation, this authority said.

Receive Peace Overtures

Foreign sources accepted the council action to mean Italy will receive, rather than make, peace overtures.

The Italian populace joined in the resistance to sanctions and throughout the country there appeared placards vigorously expressing determination not to deal with countries participating in them.

Organization was pushed by the government to step up production of necessities and relieve the people of the pressure of the sanctions.

Final Organization For Club Planned

Final organization of an American Business club at Big Spring will be perfected Wednesday night, W. L. Hester, president of the local club, said this morning after he and three members attended a meeting there last night.

"They will have about 20 charter members," Mr. Hester added. "They are planning for a big charter night and we hope to charter a bus and send a big delegation."

Thirteen men attended Monday night's meeting at the Hotel Settles, besides four from Lubbock and Pete Weuman, field organizer. Besides Mr. Hester, Bruce Craig, Thord Dockray and Rex Blackburn of Lubbock were present.

Durwood Carnett, former member of the Lubbock club and now living in Big Spring, has been one of the active men in organizing the club in the Howard county seat. It will be the fourth ABC group in West Texas. The San Angelo club is assisting Lubbock men in the organization, men from each town contacting their friends there who are not members of other civic groups.

OFFICIALLY START WORK

TUCUMCARI, N. M., Nov. 19. (AP) —Engineers today cut the wire fence entering the Bell ranch, officially making a start on a road to the Conchas damsite, a $10,000,000 irrigation project near here. The dam eventually will cost $30,000,000, it is estimated.

ESTATE TO CRIPPLES

CRISTOBAL, C. Z. (AP) — The $5,000 estate of Otto Weiselmeyer who for five years piloted commercial planes between this point and Brownsville, Tex., was bequeathed by him to the Shriners hospitals for crippled children. Weiselmeyer was killed in a crash at Coco Solo, the U. S. navy's base here.

Lubbock Ministers In Meeting Today

Lubbock Ministers association in a called meeting this morning at the First Methodist church passed a resolution recognizing appearance of Toyohiko Kagawa, noted Japanese Christian leader, in Lubbock, Dec. 23-24, as an "opportunity of high privilege for the citizens of Lubbock".

A committee appointed to co-operate with representatives of other groups in obtaining Christian Christmas baskets has the following members: Rev. W. R. Vivrett, Rev. L. N. Lipscomb and Rev. J. M. Lewis, Lubbock pastors. Rev. R. M. Hocker, association president, was in charge of the meeting.

The resolution commended the Texas Tech Young Men's and Young Women's Christian associations for making available the opportunity to hear Dr. Kagawa in Lubbock, offered co-operation for the occasion and urged all churches of the city, in so far as possible, to eliminate church meetings that might conflict with appearances of the noted leader. It also urged persons within a radius of 200 miles to hear the addresses.

Jury Considering Bert Smith's Case

A jury in 72nd district court at 12:15 o'clock this afternoon received the case of Bert Smith, charged with burglary.

Summations in the case were presented this morning by District Attorney Daniel A. Blair, Burton S. Burks, assistant district attorney, and George S. Berry, defense attorney.

PENSION BILL

short of an achievement to get any kind of an old age pension bill through.

"Of course, the main trouble with the old age pension bill is that no funds have been provided to finance it. I do not feel, however, that I should veto the bill on that account as it would necessitate calling another immediate session of the legislature and throwing back into their lap this highly controversial and far-reaching subject. The only course left open, apparently is to sign the bill as it is and call another session after January 1st to provide funds for these pensions.

Mind Is Made Up

"The bill does not go into effect for 90 days. It provides for a commission of three members and a director. Since I have felt for some time that I would probably have to appoint such a commission, I have already practically made up my mind on the matter and will probably make the appointments within the next 24 hours in order that they may make their plans for the future."

While the bill provided for maximum pensions of $15, which the attorney-general said could be supplemented with $7.50 federal aid under the social security act, all payments were contingent upon revenue being provided for a special old age assistance fund.

May Trim Payments

In addition, the director was empowered to trim payments to make a pensioner's total income from all sources $360 annually, or to provide only reasonable subsistence compatible with accustomed standards of living.

Pensions would be denied, among other reasons, for possession of an annual income of $360 or more; real property worth $5,000, or cash or negotiable securities of $500. For married couples the limits would be $720, $7,500 and $1,000, respectively.

The officers salary bill would become effective Jan. 1 of next year, date on which a constitutional amendment adopted Aug. 24 abolished fees for district officers and county officials in counties of more than 20,000 population.

woman to a friendly cross-examination—"

Once more he paused. He gave the impression, not of hestitating in order to choose his words carefully, but of doing it as a man does when he is obliged to tell a story which will reflect upon another person in whom, heretofore, he has had the utmost confidence.

"I should add," he explained, "that up to the moment of the incident which I am about to describe, I did not know this young man. My secretary came to me one afternoon and—not without some slight embarrassment—asked me if I could arrange to see the young chap the next day. She said that he had some sort of business proposition to submit to me, and she apologized for bothering me about it. Being, as I said, fond of her—she's an admirable young woman—I consented.

"The next day the young man came in. He was full of enthusiasm, and he had a very odd proposition to make. Briefly it was this:

"He had come into possession—or was about to—of these bonds; and it developed that they came originally from a Chicago politician, who had received them, in turn, from a Chicago gambler whose activities were, or rather are, being investigated by the county grand jury out there. The bonds had been registered in the name of the gambler, and if they came on the open market it would reflect seriously on the politician. Therefore—

He stopped and smiled ruefully. "It's all rather complicated and incredible, isn't it?" he asked. Then he went on:

"At that moment, it seemed, the bonds were being held by a friend of this young man; and this friend—I told you it was complicated—was a friend of the Chicago politician. Now he was hard up; needed money for something or other, and had to cash the bonds. But, being a friend of the Chicago gentleman, he was not willing to put them on the open market. He would sell them only on condition that the person to whom they went would agree to hold them for a month or more, until the furore out in Chicago had died down. Naturally, the ordinary buyer would not care to make any such pledge; therefore, this man was willing to let them go substantially below the market price, as an inducement.

"So that was how it stood. My young friend I call him that because he seemed such a likable young chap, and because I somehow feel that I know him quite well, now—he wanted to buy the bonds and sell them to me at $11,500—$11,500 for bonds with a face value of $14,500. Naturally, I assumed that he himself was getting them from his friend for somewhat less. Indeed, he at length admitted as much, and blurted out that the reason he was trying to put through the deal was that he wanted to marry my secretary."

He chuckled in fatherly, man-of-the-world fashion.

"I told him I didn't want to loose her, and I gave him some fatherly advice. Then I asked him about the bonds themselves. He gave me a complete description. I rang up a brokerage house, found out what they were selling for and then, after he had left, I instituted a quiet little investigation into his past and present. Everything I could learn reassured me about him. I assumed that everything was as he had represented it—"

He smiled sadly.

"I know," he said. "I was oddly uncritical and trusting. But—well, I liked the boy. I suppose I took it for granted that any intimate friend of Miss Dunn was bound to be all right. . . . At any rate, I bought the bonds, intending to keep them for a few months and then sell them. A week ago I unexpectedly became pressed for money and disposed of them. That's the story."

He paused. Then he said, "I presume you would like to know the young man's name?"

"I know it already," said Larry. "Bobby Wallace, wasn't it?"

Back in his own office, half an hour later, Larry summoned four of the agents who served under him: Tony LaRocco, former All-America tackle at Notre Dame; Tommy Waters, war veteran; Al Peters, graduate of the New York police force, and Frank Watson, another ex-soldier. Sitting on a corner of his desk, he outlined to them the case of the stolen bonds and the suspicions he entertained relative to Evelyn Brady and her mysterious consorts.

"We can't wait any longer," he said. "We've got to strike. I'm going out to talk to this Wallace boy and see if I can get a lead from him about the identity of these people who unloaded the bonds on him. Frank, you and Al go down to the Golden Feather, buzz the drivers at the taxi stand outside, and see if you can find out where these people live. Tony, you and Tommy are to get hold of this Art Lanning, who runs the place, put the heat on him, and find out everything he can tell you about them.

"Check in as soon as you learn anything. The moment we find their hangout, we'll raid it!"

(To Be Continued)

"I've got to meet the wife in 15 minutes — and she didn't let me forget."

GINNINGS FOR AREA GIVEN

ABOUT ONE-THIRD OF 1935 CROP ALREADY HAS BEEN GINNED

Approximately one third of the 1935 cotton crop has already gone to the gin for a total of 112,000 bales as of Nov. 1, according to estimates of local cotton men.

Ginnings, 112,406, compared with 59,458 for the same date last year, an increase of 52,948 bales of 89 per cent.

Fourteen Show Increases

Fourteen of the 18 counties show increase in ginnings over last year. Every one of the major cotton producing counties with the exception of Terry, shows an increase.

Ten counties had turned out over 5,000 bales up to the first of November, while a year ago only four had ginned that many bales. Rankings this year are: Lubbock, Lamb, Lynn, Hale, Dickens, Hockley, Scurry, Dawson, Motley and Terry. Last year's rankings were Lamb, Scurry, Terry, Lynn and Hockley.

Others Show Gains

Counties not showing a gain over the corresponding date in 1934 were: Castro, Cochran, Scurry and Terry.

No ginnings are shown by Gaines, Swisher or Yoakum. The first two are not recorded individually because the bureau of the census says to do so would disclose individual ginnings. Yoakum does not have a gin. Borden, east of Dawson, likewise does not have a gin.

Comparative ginnings are:

Told that a corpse lay near the spot where an automobile had careened over a bank, the Rev. J. C. Grier went to the roadside. He and his neighbors recognized the victim and carefully raised him from the mud.

Then the corpse looked at the pastor.

"You're a good man," said the corpse. "I'm a good man, but I'm drunk. And what the blankety-blank have you got to do with it?"

Whereupon the cleric departed, smiling.
