

BEAUTY QUEEN AND GOVERNOR—Mrs. Robert (Cheryl) Duncan talks to Governor John Connally following her naming as winner of the "All Texas Beauty Show" in Dallas Saturday. As a result of her win, Mrs. Duncan will travel to Houston in July to participate in a national contest.

Beauty Queen Does It Again

Mrs. Robert (Cheryl) Duncan was named winner of the "All Texas Beauty Show" held Saturday in Dallas.

Mrs. Duncan was picked from a field of 25 contestants for the award.

The contest, held as part of observances for National Beauty Salon Week, was held in Dallas at the Adolphus Hotel.

As a result of winning the contest, Mrs. Duncan will travel to Houston to participate in the national contest.

Earlier she had won the Affiliates 61 Beauty Queen Title in a contest held in Plainview to pick a participant in the state event.

Mrs. Duncan was Miss Grain Sorghum of the Nation in 1964, and has won the title of queen in 14 other contests.

She was a twirler with the Texas Tech Red Raider Band in 1964 and was a member of Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority at Tech.

Mrs. Duncan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clovis Poteet of Olton.

TWO CHARGED IN BURGLARY

A pair of surprised burglars broke in, then out, of a local business when surprised by Olton night watchman, Harvey Castleberry.

The break-in occurred Thursday night and a pair of suspects were picked up the next morning by the police.

Police Chief Emmett Burrows said Pete Anzolda, 23, of Olton, and Richard Delacorda 19, also of Olton, were placed in custody the day after the robbery.

Burrows said the burglars broke into the rear entrance of the May Department Store by taking bars off the back door. The store had gone out of business earlier in the year. When the pair was surprised by Castleberry, they broke out a plate glass window in front of the store and attempted to reach their car.

But, Burrows said, Castleberry stopped them and they turned and ran down an alley. Store manager George Masso said approximately $375 in merchandise was missing from the store following the robbery.

Burrows said Anzolda came into the police office the following day and admitted the break-in. Burrows said Anzolda had part of the merchandise from the store taken in the robbery.

The police chief said Delacorda was later picked up and both were charged in Lamb County Court with burglary. Burrows said he then sent Delacorda's fingerprints into Austin, and a report from the state office matched Delacorda's fingerprints with those found following a burglary of Ideal Cafe last year.

Paving Bond Proposed, Council Election Set

Tentative plans for a $60,000 paving bond election and definite plans for an April 5 city election were approved by the city council in a lengthy meeting Tuesday night.

The council also approved the 1965 city audit (see audit figures page 4) and raised the salary of two city employees in the meeting.

In other action, the council approved a $795 bid by Sentry Tank and Tower Co. to repair and paint the city water tower. Mayor W. E. Thomas also said city tax collections are $5.31 per cent complete, with $38,494.08 already collected out of total assessments of $45,103.25.

After hearing cost estimates by Bill McMorries, a member of McMorries and Associates, city engineers from Amarillo, on paving and paving repair work within the city, the council gave the go ahead to city attorney Andy Stroebel to draw up definite plans for the bond election.

A bond election cannot be called until 30 days before the election date, but the council unofficially set the date for the election to coincide with the election of city officials.

Council members decided to give Stroebel the go-ahead in order to get preliminary paper work out of the way before the election is called officially.

Three council members' terms expire this year, and one of the three immediately said he would file for re-election. Robert Dennis said he definitely would be a candidate in the April 5 voting.

The two other members, Doug Jones and C. E. Sullivan, said they were still undecided.

Council members named Gaylan Finney election judge, with Eldon Franks as assistant, and Mrs. Bailey Hair and Mrs. Walter Schroeder as clerks. Truitt Sides was picked as alternate election judge, while Fay Stone was named as alternate clerk.

Orlan Hackler and W. F. Williamson received $25 per month in another move by the council. The raises up Hackler's salary to $350 a month, and Williamson's salary to $425 a month.

Ralph Masters of Sentry Tank and Tower Co., Pittsburg, Kans. submitted an oral bid of $795 to the council on repair and painting of the city water tower. After Sentry's bid was taken, sealed bids were opened.

Masters said the price would include a commercial sandblast of the inside of the tank, painting the inside of the structure with an asphalt base paint, and painting the outside of the tank royal blue with the words "Olton Mustangs" in white letters on two sides of the tank.

Not included in the price was a charge of 45 cents for each painted area inside the tank which would need repair. Masters said there would also be a charge of 45 cents for each rivet replaced, and $2.45 per lineal foot of welding that needed to be done.

Council members asked McMorries to inspect the tank before and after the repair work was done.

The proposed paving bond issue would cover repair work costs on 101 blocks of current paving in the city, and pave 23 additional blocks.

SEVERAL RACES ON TAP MAY 7TH

County Judge Draws Opponent

Despite a slow start, Lamb county politics show signs of living up before the political year is over.

A total of 41 candidates filed for 33 offices for the Democratic primary before the filing deadline this week.

Four offices which the whole county will get a chance to vote on turned up with at least two candidates, and two more precinct places wound up with opponents.

County Democratic chairman Glenn Batson found himself facing C.A. Duval in a race for his own chair.

The 30th District State Senate spot seems to hold the most fascination for candidates, with James Ray, Jack Hightower and Andy Rogers all trying for the position.

Ray Lynn Britt will face incumbent Ernest L. Owens in the voting for district clerk, while incumbent C. Roy Stevens will face Edwin L. Hall in the county school superintendent race.

For county judge, O. J. Mangum, Littlefield insurance man, squares off against incumbent J. B. Davis.

In the only contested precinct Democratic executive committeeman vote, Billy Hall faces D. W. Bawcom in precinct 12.

3 Seek Trustee Posts As Board Calls Election

Todd Resigns As Cage Coach

Olton school board Monday night called the annual trustee election for April 2 and accepted the resignation of head basketball coach Cecil Todd at a special meeting.

Immediate response came on both actions.

Three candidates announced they would seek election to the school board and two applications were received for the basketball coaching post.

In addition, applications for the head football coaching post vacated by Otis Holladay began pouring in.

Taking them one at a time, these were the developments in the trustee election, basketball coach and football coach issues:

TRUSTEE ELECTION --- With the school board election set for Saturday, April 2, three persons already were in the race as of this morning.

They are Bob Duncan, variety store owner, and Gerald Allcorn and Raymond "Cotton" Lewis, farmers.

Duncan and Allcorn signed up Tuesday and Wednesday with Elmer Moore at the school tax office. Moore is handling filing and absentee balloting.

Lewis told the Enterprise he would file this morning.

Three positions are open in the April 2 election. Terms of Gilbert Roberson, Owen Jones and Ed Thompson expire, and each indicated Monday night he did not plan to seek re-election.

Candidates may file for the trustee race until March 2. Absentee balloting will be March 14-29 at the tax office. Truitt Sides will be election judge for the April 2 vote.

BASKETBALL COACH --- The school board Monday night accepted resignations of Cecil Todd as basketball coach and his wife, Kay Todd, junior high science teacher, effective May 20.

Two applications for Todd's position were told at the meeting, but school officials withheld action in anticipation of more to come.

FOOTBALL COACH --- After accepting Coach Otis Holladay's resignation two weeks ago, the school has been besieged by applicants for that post.

A list of 20 prospects, including 13 present assistant coaches, and seven current head coaches, was presented the school board.

The applications were from a wide area of the Panhandle, Plains and New Mexico.

Head coaches applying for the post included four from Class A schools, one from an AA school, one from Class B and one from New Mexico.

Supt. Ray Schultz told the board he believes that "at the present time we should consider applicants with head coaching experience."

Schultz said he expected there would be several more applicants in the next few days, prior to next Monday night's regular board meeting.

Positive procedures for the employment of the new coach will be determined at that meeting.

The Sandpipers will play for the dance, which will last from 8-12 p.m.

Bank Announces Saturday Closing

Olton State Bank announced this week that it will begin closing on Saturdays, effective March 5.

The move by the local bank followed an announcement of Saturday closings by several Lubbock banks Tuesday.

"We have been considering this move for quite some time," President Owen Norfleet told the Enterprise. "Now that the Lubbock banks have made their decision to close on Saturdays, I expect that many banks in smaller communities will follow suit."

Lubbock was the last major city in Texas to have Saturday business operations, according to officials there.

They indicated the five-day work week would conform to operations of other area institutions.

Norfleet said the local bank will continue its weekday hours of 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Holidays set for this month --Lincoln's Birthday on Feb. 12 and Washington's Birthday on Feb. 22--will be observed as usual, Norfleet said.

But beginning in March, when the Saturday closings start, the new schedule will wipe out numerous other holidays for bank employees.

Institutions closing on Saturday may now observe only six compulsory holidays. These include New Year's Day, San Jacinto Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas Day.

HOW TO REALLY PULL STRINGS--What's behind the Beatle style of singing? In this case it's a group of students holding the strings of these puppets to be used in the junior high variety show. The show will be held Monday, Wednesday and Friday for the next three weeks.

AT OLTON JUNIOR HIGH

Puppet Show In Spotlight

A puppet show, complete with long-haired singing group, will stage its first performance next Monday at Olton Junior High, with the special art class presenting a miniature variety show.

Taught by Bill Cottrell in a spare class period, the special art class built the sets, which feature fluorescent paint. The paint gives the effect of changing from daylight to nighttime, complete with stars, in several of the scenes.

Cottrell said three members of the class, Janice Jones, Connie Hall and Marsha Parker, spent three-and-a-half months painting one set.

"It sounds like three people couldn't spend that much time on one small set," he said, "but the scene is painted with fluorescent paint, and if just one spot of paint is placed in the wrong place, the whole set is ruined."

The show, which will be held in the film room from 10:30 to 11:20 a.m. each Monday, Wednesday and Friday for the next three weeks, has four scenes, with seven different acts.

And acts vary from a Beatle-haired combo to a Hawaiian hula dancer.

"The students did all the background scenery and re-painted many of the puppets," said Cottrell. He said they also made many of the clothes worn by the puppets in the program.

The class is composed of 14 sixth and seventh grade students. Included in the group are Lita Morales, Frances Torres, Jude Truelock, Glenda Holladay, Americo Zavaleta, Rey Luera, Belinda Harcrow, Brenda Leathers, Rita Marroquin, Glenda Miller and the three girls who painted the scenery.

Background music for the show is furnished by the tape recorder.

Cottrell said parents or visitors were welcome to come by and view the performances.

AND BEHIND THE STAGE--The secret behind the little moving people on the stage are these girls pulling the puppet strings behind the stage. The junior high students will begin each one of their variety shows at 10:30 a.m. in the film room at the school.

Scout Week In Olton

During the week of February 7-13, the 56th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America is being observed by more than 5,665,000 boys and adult leaders in 143,300 Scout units throughout the United States.

Scouting is a tremendous force for good in the lives of millions of boys, broadening horizons and creating an inbuilt sense of responsibility and duty that can never be forgotten in later life.

Today, over 93,000 organizations use Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting and Exploring as a part of their own youth program for boys 8 through 17.

The national organization charters Scout units annually, and they are sponsored by religious groups, schools and PTA's, service clubs, fraternal orders, veterans, governmental groups, business and industry, and other civic and community organizations.

In line with their Promise, "To help other people at all times," Scouts and leaders will undertake service projects for their sponsoring institutions during their anniversary week.

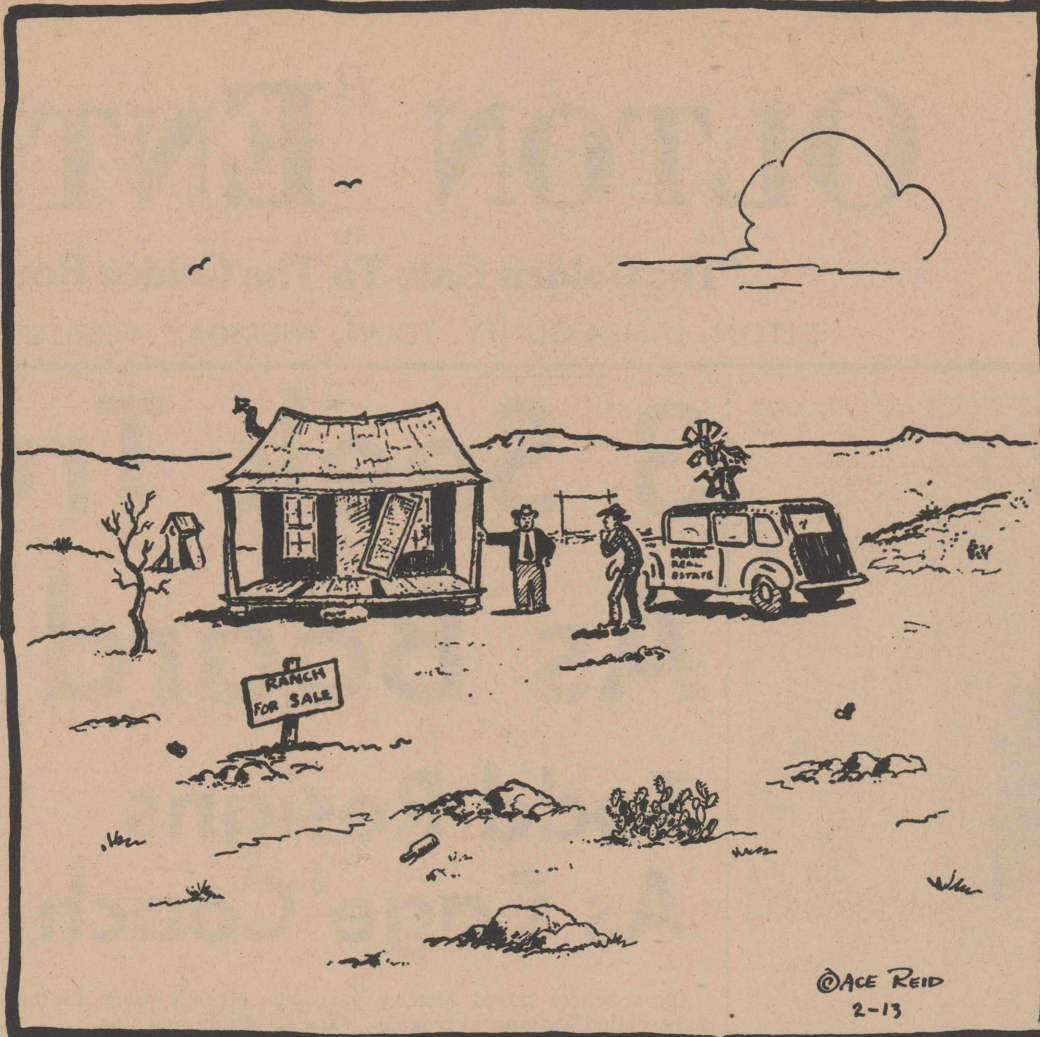

Every Scout takes the following Oath: "On my honor I will do my best — To do my duty to God and my country and to obey the Scout Law; To help other people at all times; To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight."

Any boy who makes this Oath an important part of his life in his formative years will grow to be a man of which his family, his community and his nation may justly be proud.

The Boy Scouts of America deserve the recognition, support and thanks of all of us during their anniversary week.

BY AMY ADAMS

PERMANENTLY ENGAGED

Dear Amy:

I have been engaged for five years to a swell fellow. We are both 36 (never been married before). I have been wracking my brain trying to decide what to give him for Valentine's Day. We met on Valentine's Day six years ago. He has just about everything. Any suggestions on what to give him?

Andrea

Dear Andrea:

Yes . . . an ultimatum!

Dear Amy:

My children sent me a gorgeous poinsettia plant for the holidays. I would like to keep it always but I don't know how to care for it. It looks like it's dying, and I need advice.

Mrs. R. J. W.

Dear Mrs. R. J. W.:

My plant expert is on vacation, and I'm as green as grass on poinsettias. So I'm throwing it open to my green thumb readers. I'll print their replies as soon as they arrive . . . sit tight.

Dear Amy:

I just saw the piece in the paper about the paper boys. I've seen a lot of things in the paper. I've wanted to write to you about, but in this instance, I just had to voice my opinion.

These women who complain about the paper boys don't really know just what these young fellows go through to get the papers delivered. I work nights and on my way home at 5:30 A.M. the first boys I see are pushing their loads of papers in a baby buggy. They soon are followed by a small boy who's no bigger than a peanut — rain, snow or shine. Sometimes he has a wagon and at other times he has the papers strapped across his head. I don't see how he carries such a load. It seems to be bigger than he is . . . and mind you, he has no help. Believe me, my hat's off to any boy who gets up and tries. I can hardly get my son out of bed at 8:00 o'clock. So give our paper boys some thanks . . . and a tip, too!

Mrs. G. Stall
(Clarendon Hills, Ill.)

Dear Amy:

I have known a certain girl for 12 years now. We are both 16 and go to a very large high school where we seldom see each other. I like her very much and I'm wondering if she likes me. I can't ask her friends because we both travel in different circles. She is very clever in school and maintains high grades with ease . . . while I can barely make it through Study Hall. And when I do see her at school, she is usually with a boy who also has high grades.

Do you think she dislikes me because I don't happen to have much talent for school work? Failure

Dear Failure:

Yes, it could be. Sharpen your mind or look for a new find!

DOWN MEMORY LANE

FIVE AND TEN YEARS AGO IN OLTON

FIVE YEARS AGO IN OLTON

Olton's Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture — which from its beginning has placed equal emphasis on business and agriculture — Friday night named Truitt Sides, Olton farmer-businessman, as the town's "Citizen of the Year." A crowd of about 200 looked on as Allen Johnson, secretary-treasurer of the Chamber, made the presentation.

Sale of poll taxes in Lamb County totaled 4,185, Herbert Dunn, county tax assessor-collector, reported this week. The figure is down from 1960, a general election year, when 5,510 were issued, however the number is up from 1959, when about 3,900 receipts were issued.

Olton farmers interested in growing sugar beets will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the cafeteria. Efforts are being made by local members to establish a county-wide beet growers' organization.

Sign-up for Olton's paving program is off to a good start, Tom Anderlitch, First of Texas Corporation representative, said.

Olton's Mother's March has netted $340 for the March of Dimes, Ralph Glover, chairman of the MOD here, reported Wednesday.

More than 400 persons, including 300 students, turned out Monday night for the first of six lectures of the Freedom Seminar sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and PTA.

A single case of viral hepatitis has been reported in Olton, but Dr. Basil Johns, city health officer, said Wednesday he sees at present no danger of the disease spreading.

TEN YEARS AGO IN OLTON

Olton flourished in snow drifts early this week after a snow storm described as the most severe in recent years. Estimates set snow fall at some 18 inches with a moisture content of well over an inch. The mercury hovered about the 10 degree mark. The town was isolated for almost two days, and some food stuffs, especially milk and bread, were in short supply. Spotted line trouble hampered telephone communication.

Two of the top-ranking animal husbandry experts in the Panhandle-Plains area will be here next week to serve as judges in Olton's eleventh annual FFA, 4-H, and FHA Stock Show. They are Ray C. Mowery, professor in animal husbandry department at Texas Technological College, and Stanley E. Anderson, associate professor of animal husbandry at Tech. Prof. Mowery will judge sheep and hogs, and Prof. Anderson will judge beef cattle.

Transportation was an acute problem during the snow storm for Olton Memorial Hospital Doctors Ben Souder, Jim Fite and Lynn Fite. They made house calls on foot, aboard tractors and one even contemplated going on horseback but the weather was too rough even for a horse. Thompson Bros. Implement put a John Deere tractor at the disposal of the hospital. Dr. Lynn Fite said calls were made in the country aboard tractors at the height of the storm, and calls in town were made on foot.

L. R. Goynes couldn't get home for his daughter's wedding Friday night because of the snow and ice. He was in Amarillo and began his drive home but got just as far as Plainview. His daughter, Loy was married to Bennie Doggett while her father was stranded.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN, Tex. — Floritorial districts! You'll hear these two words used often between now and the November election. And probably a long time thereafter.

What are floritorial districts? They are voting areas created by combining counties, or parts of counties, to comply with the Supreme Court's edict that all states must have districts of equal population.

In Texas this has resulted in rural counties sharing representatives with metropolitan counties, or vice versa.

A three-judge federal court at Houston has just upheld the 1965 Reapportionment Act of the House of Representatives, with the exception of 11 floritorial districts.

These floritorial districts are areas around Austin, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Tyler, Waco, Sherman-Denison, Lubbock, Abilene, Temple, Odessa and Angleton.

The court gave the Legislature until Aug. 1, 1967, to correct the floritorial flaw.

So, this November, voters will select representatives on the basis of the original reapportionment draft.

Texas' four largest counties — Bexar, Dallas, Harris and Tarrant — will gain a total of 16 seats in the House for a total of 51 representatives. Under the new redistricting plan, 12 out of Texas' 254 counties will have a majority of House votes.

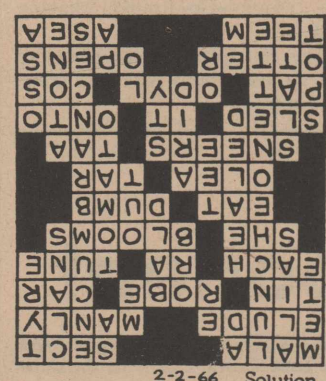

Although their power on paper is enormous, as a practical matter representatives of metropolitan areas seldom if ever vote as a bloc. So rural interests aren't likely to be ground under the heel of big city lawmakers.

State senatorial reapportionment never was subject to change.

Congressional redistricting was upheld earlier.

"No Education Short Cuts" Says PTA Guest Speaker

Olton PTA met Feb. 3 at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria for a regular meeting.

Subject of the program was "Together We Help A Child: By Strengthening Our Heritage." Program leader was Mrs. Ed Thompson. Bob Allford gave the prayer, and a short history on the PTA Founders' Day was given by Mrs. Billy Smith Jr.

Plans were made to help with the American Heritage program March 24, and to sponsor a spring festival, under the direction of Mrs. Bob Allford, for the purpose of raising money for new choir robes.

Guest speaker was Dr. Virgil Trout, who pointed out that we should stress development of the minds of our children, and also that there is no short cut to a good education or to becoming a good citizen. We should believe and practice what we teach our children. If we stop trying, our youth will also stop. If we have a good attitude of ourselves, then our youth will have a better attitude of himself and of education.

The March meeting, originally scheduled for March 3, was changed to March 24 and the April 7 meeting was changed to April 14.

Past presidents present at the meeting were recognized. They were Mmes. Ed Thompson, Wilton Bodkin, Tom Sluder, C. S. Silcott, Bob Duncan and Melvin Hines.

This is a month of two special days to use as a guide to fix a special treat for the family. This week will be Valentine's Day so be a sweetheart and fix something special.

STRAWBERRY TARTS

Mix 1 1/4 c. graham cracker crumbs, 1/4 cup sugar and 1/3 cup melted butter or margarine, and press into eight 3 1/2 inch tart pans and chill. Drain juice from one 12 ounce package of frozen strawberries that have been thawed. Dissolve 1/2 package plain gelatin in the juice and heat in double boiler until well dissolved.

Blend one 3 ounce package of cream cheese well and add to the juice, mixing well; fold in the berries and 1 cup whipped in the berries and 1 cup cream which has been whipped. Spoon into tart shells and chill about two hours. (If you do not have tart pans, use muffin tins. The tarts will be smaller but it works just as well.)

VALENTINE SALAD

2 cans crushed pineapple (no. 303 can drained)
1 pint small curd cottage cheese
1/2 pint whipping cream
1 package cherry Jello
1 package raspberry Jello
1 cup nuts

Bring pineapple juice to a boil, pour over Jello, cool. Add pineapple and cottage cheese, fold in whipped cream and nuts. Chill until firm. This salad keeps for several days in the refrigerator.

the 101 blocks would total $25,170, according to an estimate submitted by McMorries.

On the new paving project, McMorries submitted two plans. Under one, the cost to the city would be $22,697, while under the other, the cost would be $26,507.

Under the first plan, property owners would pay $4.45 a foot for fronting and side street property.

Under the second plan, property holders would pay $4.30 per front foot and $3.95 on side streets.

McMorries said the figures were not exactly what a contractor would charge for the job, but would be reasonably accurate.

McMorries suggested money left over from the bond issue, if passed, should be used to buy street repair equipment for the city.

The engineer said resealing and repair work on asphalt streets such as the city has, should be done every 4-5 years in order to keep repair costs to a minimum.

It has been my purpose and desire to reward your confidence in me by giving you courteous and efficient service. This service I pledge to continue to you if re-elected to the office of County School Superintendent.

Tax Questions Answered

This column of questions-and-answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q - I'm married and filing a separate return this year. Which tax table should I use?

A - Use tax table C shown in the instructions if you are married and filing a separate return. If you haven't already done so, check whether you and your spouse would save money on your taxes by filing a joint return.

Q - My buddy told me that you don't have to figure how much tax you owe when you file on the 1040A. Is that right?

A - IRS will figure your tax when Form 1040A is filed if you wish and your income is less than $5,000. When it does you will receive a bill if you owe tax or a refund if you have overpaid your tax through income tax withholding. If your income is $5,000 or more you must compute your own tax.

Q - Do I have to pay tax on my Social Security pension?

A - No, Social Security benefits are not taxable income.

Q - Do I have to file a return to obtain a refund? I earned less than $600 last year but did have some tax withheld from my wages.

A - To obtain a refund you must file a return. The card Form 1040A may be the best, as well as the easiest, for you to use. Don't forget to send us your W-2 form with your return. The W-2 shows how much tax was withheld.

Q - Would you explain the minimum standard deduction?

A - This deduction is $200 plus $100 for each exemption taken on the return, but not in the excess of $1,000. A married couple with two dependent children will be entitled to a deduction of $600 under this provision. A married taxpayer filing separately may deduct $100 plus $100 for each exemption, limited to $500.

Q - My wife and I are considering filing separate returns. Can I itemize deductions while she takes the standard deduction?

A - No. Married couples filing separately must handle their deductions the same way. If one itemizes the other must too. In other words both must itemize or both take the standard deduction. Further, the same type of standard deduction must be claimed by each. If one takes the minimum standard deduction so must the other.

Q - I've heard that one of the tax benefits for older people is to be able to sell your home at a profit and not be taxed. Is that right?

A - If certain conditions are met, you may elect to exclude the gain from the sale of your home. Generally speaking, these conditions are that your adjusted sale price was $20,000 or less, you were 65 or older on the date of the sale, and you occupied the house as your principal residence for at least 5 of the 8 years before the sale.

If you sold the house for over $20,000 and the other conditions are met, then you may elect to have only a portion of your profits taxed. This tax break is available only once in a lifetime and only if you elect to use it. This is explained in the booklet, "Tax Benefits for Older Americans," available at IRS offices.

Q - Last year the amount I could deduct for child care expenses was raised to $900. Is the amount the same this year?

A - Yes. Up to $900 may be deducted when there are two or more qualifying dependents for which this expense is necessary. Working wives whose husbands are capable of self-support must file jointly and must reduce their deduction by the amount their combined adjusted gross income exceeds $6,000. A man may deduct these expenses only if he is divorced, widowed, or legally separated, or if his wife is incapacitated or institutionalized.

Scouting is always thought of as hiking, camping and fun. But Scouting is more than this. It is a great force in building good Americans, and developing finest character.

A SCOUT IS... TRUSTWORTHY

Whether at work or at play our dealings with other people are based on trust. If we can't trust people, the great work of strengthening the American way of life would soon come to an end. We want to be worthy of great trust.

Owens To Seek Re-Election To District Clerk Office

TO MY MANY GOOD FRIENDS, LOYAL SUPPORTERS AND EACH VOTER OF LAMB COUNTY:

Sometime back I authorized the newspapers of Lamb County to place my name in the Political Columns as a Candidate for re-election and stated that my official announcement would follow later.

In making this my official announcement, I want to first thank the good people of Lamb County for all your courtesies and favors; your cooperation and also for your wonderful support in electing me to this office. I have enjoyed every minute of my work in serving you. I feel I have made many new friends in addition to the old friends I had when elected to this office.

I have tried to show my appreciation to each and every person in Lamb County by striving to make you the kind of a District Clerk you are justly entitled to. This office belongs to the people of Lamb County and the person that holds this office should discharge the duties and handle it in a capable, efficient and businesslike manner. I have enjoyed every minute of it.

I have never failed to take time to sit down and discuss any matter and do my very best to help and advise any person that comes to my office and I appreciate their confidence and the trust they place in me. I feel that my age and experience makes them feel they can have a heart to heart or man to man talk with a man that will try to advise them right.

The office of District Clerk is a very important office. The records of this office are very important if not the most important in Lamb County. The recordings of all judgments and decisions of the District Court involving settlements in real estates, damage suits, divorces, murder, rape, burglary, adoption records, and other er important documents are part of the records of this office. Among other things, the District Clerk deals with the Grand Jury, Petit Jury and Special Veniremen and he also issues Citations, Citations by Publications and Subpoenas.

With my experience in this office and my acquaintances with the people over Lamb County, I truly feel that I can and will handle this office in the future (as I have in the past) to the entire satisfaction of every citizen of Lamb County.

It is my aim to see each and every Voter and Citizen of Lamb County before the July Primary but inasmuch as the duties and work in the office of District Clerk has increased many times over what it used to be, it will be very hard for me to get out and see each person as I would like to. However, I want each person to accept this announcement as a personal solicitation of your vote and influence and I only have the same promise I made when you elected me to this office, "I'll do my very best to serve you in such a way that you'll never have one reason to ever regret voting for Ernest Owens for District Clerk of Lamb County."

Last Tuesday and last Friday the varsity played Dimmitt and Abernathy, and both games proved to be really good, hard played games. Tuesday night, both the girls and boys weren't too successful, but they played excellent games. The game against Abernathy was a great comeback and victory for the girls. However, the boys could not net enough to snag a victory, but they kept on playing hard.

Carl Roberts: How do you know?

Bobby: I've been sitting here watching her.

PREDICTIONS FOR '66

Well, this is the last week of our predictions for '66. We hope you have enjoyed this small addition to our column.

Something new for the skate-boarders!! Simply pin a large towel on your back, grasp one end in each hand, stretch out your arms -- what now, wind surfing! You now have your own sail!!!

Donny Fancher: My lips are still shot from last night!

Mr. Ross: What did you do last night?!!!!!!

By the way, Donny, what DID YOU DO Monday night?!!

SAY JUNIOR HIGH MATH TEACHERS

Mathematics Teach Deeper Reasoning

When students attending Olton Public Schools reach the junior high school level, they are no longer taught all their subjects in one classroom.

Each subject is handled by a set of teachers specializing in a particular field.

Mrs. Bud (Charley) Scribner and Harry Ford are two of the specialists in the Olton system, teaching mathematics at the Junior High.

Both have definite views on the values of mathematics in modern education.

The president of a major university once said that an education was what one had left after he had forgotten everything.

At first it was difficult to understand the meaning of such a statement but after a few years teaching school the significance begins to come to light.

That one statement is one of the best guiding principle in teaching mathematics.

Just what does a person have left after he has forgotten everything?

His reasoning power has been quickened and deepened.

Mathematics teachers have a responsibility equal to any teacher in a school in teaching students to analyze a situation and perform proper deductive or inductive reasoning that will give the satisfactory conclusions.

He must decide if a conclusion is valid or invalid, true or false based upon given situations or premises.

The student in junior high is encouraged to discover for himself so that he can understand more fully why a concept is true.

A great deal of emphasis is put on the "Why" of a mathematical procedure.

All basic concept introduced in earlier grades are extended to see what area is covered by such terms as sets, numeration, factoring, geometry, rational numbers, properties, venn diagrams and others.

Stress is placed upon checking solutions. A method for the student to test himself and see if he really understands the problem, as well as to check the accuracy of his solution.

The use of number line is still used much the same as in lower grades to see that subtraction is the same as adding the opposite.

Variations of all types and comparisons are used extensively in junior high level math.

Even arithmetic progressions are introduced in the eighth grade.

Just as punctuation of any sentence is important to bring out the true meaning, it is equally important in mathematical sentences (equations) before the equation can be solved.

Punctuation marks are such things as braces, brackets, parentheses or any other symbols showing the grouping or operation to be followed.

Venn diagrams may be used to show the uses of sets and sub sets, whether joint or disjoint.

An equation is considered to be a mathematical sentence consisting of two members and one or more terms in each member with the members separated by an equal sign.

If the terms express the true meaning of the stated problem, the solution to the equation will give the correct answer to the problem. Most terms in junior high mathematics are not new to mathematics. They are only new to the students at this level.

Geometry, while it is not new at all, has not been taught as extensively in elementary and junior high before. Math teachers try to teach the appreciation of geometry and basic forms of proof. We hope to enable the student to be able to analyze problems more intelligently in order to find the solution for himself.

After being introduced to decimal numerals in the lower grades, now more extensive work is done with them.

Not only addition and subtraction, but also multiplication and division are done.

The important concept that a number has many names is again stress, particularly the relationships among numbers named by fractions, numerals with decimal points and percents.

Determining percent equivalents of fractions, the meaning of percent of increase or decrease, and using equivalent numerals to simplify a problem are used. Knowledge of ratio and proportion is applied to the solution of problems.

Visual forms of communicating statistical data are studied.

These forms are statements, tables, horizontal and vertical bar graphs, line graphs, circle graphs, picture graphs, floor plans, maps and pictures drawn to scale.

Since much of what the pupil learn comes from the printed page, it is essential that they know how to interpret accurately these forms used to convey numerical data.
