Truman Meets With Top Men In All Fields

Leaders' Identity Points Strongly To Atomic Discussion

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 15.—A White House shield of secrecy today threw a tight cover over a super - mysterious conference which brought President Truman together with top military, atomic, diplomatic and congressional leaders.

For two hours and 33 minutes these men—the list was impressive—were together behind closed doors last night in historic Blair House, the President's temporary home.

Truman Not Talking

There was no announcement whatever of what went on. However, the identity of the participants pointed strongly toward some development in the atomic weapons field on an international level.

The 16 men who were closeted with Mr. Truman were singularly close-mouthed as they left. What little they did reply to reporters' questions could be summed up:

"If anything is going to be said, the President will say it."

Mr. Truman wasn't talking. There was no sign that he would later.

The conference, staged against the dual backdrops of (A) the sharp Senate debate on the Atlantic pact and arms-for-Europe and (B) a congressional hearing into charges of mismanagement of the atomic energy program, threw open the doors to wide areas of speculation.

This was true because of the secrecy that surrounded everything, even though it could be that nothing sensational was involved.

Officials Named

Here's the list of those at the conference with the President:

Vice President Barkley, Secretary of State Acheson, Secretary of Defense Johnson, General Dwight D. Eisenhower, who has been presiding as chairman of the joint military chiefs of staff; House Speaker Rayburn of Texas; Chairman Connally (D-Texas) of the Senate foreign relations committee; Chairman Tydings (D-Md) of the Senate armed services committee; Chairman McMahon (D-Conn) of the joint Senate-House atomic energy committee.

Also Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), Republican foreign policy spokesman and member of both

Hotel Survey Ordered Here

A survey to determine the additional hotel facilities needed in Lubbock was ordered by directors of the chamber of commerce at a meeting in the new chamber building today.

The Chicago firm of Harris, Kerr, Forster Co., was retained to make it. John Treumpy, of Chicago, a partner in the company, and Paul E. Hyer, Houston representative, appeared before the directors.

Work is to be started at once, directors were advised. If the information accumulated is indicative of the need for additional hotel facilities, as the board expects it will be, it will be laid befor ifidividuals or companies who are prospects to build them.

Favor Air Service

The directors also adopted resolutions opposing the proposed discontinuance of Braniff Airline service between Lubbock and the Dallas-Fort Worth area and urging a permanent certificate or an extension of the present temporary certificate, under which Pio-

Brannan Says Nation Needs Meat Products

Farmers Would Be Given Allotments Under 1950 Plans

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 15.—A 1950 production program calling for less wheat but more meat animals and dairy products was laid before the nation's wheat farmers by the government today.

A declining foreign market for wheat makes it advisable, Secretary of Agriculture Brannan said, that farmers plant 14,000,000 fewer acres to wheat for 1950 harvest than the nearly 83,000,000 seeded for this year's crop.

The acres taken out of wheat should be put to grass and pasture for grazing of beef and dairy cattle, sheep and lambs, he said, because consumers need more of the latter products.

Under the 1950 program, each farmer will be given a share of a national wheat planting allotment of 68,900,000 acres. His share will be based upon his past production history. While the allotment is about 17 per cent below this year's acreage, the reduction for individual farmers will vary somewhat from this national average. Areas which greatly expanded their acreages since the war will take a larger cut than other.

Compliance with an allotment is not required by law. However, only those farmers who do comply will be eligible for direct price support aid on their 1950 wheat. The price support program is expected to assure complying farmers an average of about $1.85 a bushel.

Warning Sounded

Failure of farmers to comply, Brannan said, might well bring on a glutted wheat market, disastrous price breaks and an undue burden on the price support program.

Furthermore, he said, overplanting of the allotment might force the government to invoke rigid marketing quotas on the grain in later years. Quotas put a mandatory limit on the quantity a farmer can sell, except on payment of a penalty equal to about half the support rate.

But for a reduction in this year's wheat crop prospects during June due to unfavorable weather, quotas would have been proclaimed for the 1950 crop, the secretary said. Nevertheless, the 1949

South Plains Thundershowers Scattered; .15 Of Inch Here

Early morning thunderstorms, accompanied by strong winds, left patches of the South Plains soaked today as the area continued to receive widely dispersed local rains.

Virtually no part of the South Plains was very far from heavy thundershower activity, although many points were left dry.

In Lubbock, the rain started at 1:30 a. m. today, leaving a fall of .15 inch at the weather station at Municipal airport. The fall this morning brings the month's total to 1.07, the year's to 20.50.

Heaviest Northwest

At the experiment station east of the city, the rain was measured at .11 inch.

Heaviest rain appeared to be northwest of Lubbock. At Littlefield, one gauge registered 1.15 inches, another showed .87 inch.

At Levelland, a rain gauge showed .10 inch, said Edgar Brasch of Brasch-Mitchell Hardware company. He lives half a mile east of the store and said it did not rain at his home. However, friends living three to 10 miles northwest of Levelland said it rained more than an inch in that area Wednesday night, and late Thursday a heavy rain occurred south of Levelland.

Half Inch At Matador

Brownfield failed to receive a measurable amount of rain last night and this morning, but County Agent Jack Cleveland of Terry county received reports of a three-fourths inch rain north of Brownfield Thursday afternoon. The heavy rain was in a small strip however, and the Leonard Lane farm was in the path of the storm.

Lamesa received only a very light sprinkle Thursday night, but rain Wednesday night and early Thursday morning totaled 1.06 inches.

Muleshoe, Floydada, Matador, Seminole and Seagraves areas reported showers of varying intensity.

Slightly more than one-half inch of rain fell at Matador during Thursday afternoon. A fall estimated at one-fourth inch fell in an area between Seagraves and Denver City.

Showers Forecast

Meanwhile, turbulent weather conditions appeared to be holding the entire state in grip.

Rain was falling at Houston, Galveston, and Victoria early this morning. Scattered showers were forecast for the entire state.

Only four cities reported temperatures 100 degrees or over yesterday. They were Laredo and

Bus Riders Switch To Subways And Taxis

Transportation Problems For New Yorkers Mount In Strike

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 15.—More than a million New Yorkers hunted alternate transportation today after a lightning strike immobilized buses on 30 routes.

Riders—who could do so handily — switched to subways, which were put on stepped-up schedules to handle the extra crush. Others hailed taxicabs, if they could find empty ones. Some walked.

The stoppage, touched off yesterday by the lay-off of four New York City Omnibus Corp., mechanics, spread early today to the Fifth Avenue Coach Co., affecting a total of 3,300 workers.

A city-sponsored peace meeting last night failed to bring any agreement between the companies and the CIO Transport Workers union. The session was adjourned "subject to recall."

City Councilman Michael J. Quill, TWU president, said the union is "digging in for a long strike." Now that it is on, he added, the union will insist on "immediately sitting down" to work out contract demands.

Negotiations on these demands have been deadlocked since June 30, when the old contract expired and was ex-

Walkout Action Averted For At Least 60 Days

Companies Agree To Truman's Plan Of Naming Board

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 15—The steel industry's giants bowed to President Truman's insistence today and accepted his plan for dealing with their labor dispute.

Since the million-member CIO United Steel Workers already had accepted it, the action of the "big three" producers headed off for at least 60 days a strike scheduled to begin in some plants at midnight.

Most of the smaller companies already had agreed to Mr. Truman's proposal—that he appoint a three-member board to investigate the wage-pension dispute and make recommendations for a settlement while, meantime, work continues for 60 days.

Rejected Idea At First

The big three—U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic—rejected this idea when Mr. Truman advanced it Tuesday. Their stand was that he should act under the Taft-Hartley law. That law provides for fact-finding boards but says the boards shall not make recommendations.

In the face of White House pressure, they gave up today—first Bethlehem, the No. 2 producer; then Republic, No. 3, and finally, "big steel" itself, the U. S. Steel corporation.

All emphasized that they would not be bound by the board's recommendations. Mr. Truman had not asked that they, or the union, bind themselves to take the board's proposals.

Banked Some Furnaces

U. S. Steel already had banked some furnaces and given outward evidences of a willingness to take a strike, if necessary, when it finally announced at noon that it would go along with the President's plan.

In a telegram to Mr. Truman, Benjamin F. Fairless, president of U. S. Steel, said his company

STATEMENT IS ISSUED

PITTSBURGH, July 15 (AP) — CIO Steelworker President Philip Murray said today a strike in the steel industry has been averted.

Murray issued a statement to newsmen saying:

"I think we can all express delight that a strike has been averted. That has been the goal of the union since the start of negotiations."

Murray said, "I know of no case in the basic steel industry where a firm has refused to accept the President's proposal."

Murray said, "there will be a strike against any company that does not accept the President's proposal, but acceptances are still pouring in to Washington."

He said he did not know exactly how many acceptances had been received.

"The union is ready to proceed with the presentation of its factual data for the board. I have the utmost confidence in our case — the facts that we have," the union leader declared.

FEDERAL BUYING TO BE HIKED

Measure To Boost Production Ready

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 15—Legislation designed to boost America's output of goods and services to President Truman's goal of $300,000,000,000 annually is ready for introduction in the Senate today.

"It goes right down the line on the President's anti-depression program," said one of the sponsors of the bill.

Mr. Truman is not waiting for Congress to get the ball rolling on the new program, which still is drawing heavy fire from some lawmakers.

At his news conference yesterday, the President announced plans to step up federal buying and construction in areas hardest hit by the business slump.

Federal Action Favored

The President noted that his action is in line with a section of his economic report of last Monday which said:

"There are a number of federal programs of direct action or assistance to localities which can be timed and channeled so as to concentrate upon areas where unemployment is heavy without sacrifice of general national objectives."

Mr. Truman said the program will not require public works funds beyond those already approved or proposed.

One of the provisions in the Senate bill would set up a $2,000,000,000 unemployment emergency reserve fund.

Planning Is Sought

Another would authorize advance planning of $30,000,000,000 worth of non-federal public works projects to cushion the blow of a possible depression.

There appears to be little chance that Congress, anxious to go home, will take any action on the bill at this session.

Among provisions of the bill as set forth in an advance copy are:

1. A program of economic expansion through private investment. It calls for various forms of incentives and assistance to private enterprise.

Price Study Urged

2. A fund of $500,000,000 for loans to states and local communities to finance the planning of public works projects. Also, a $100,000,000 fund for federal ad-

Democratic Leaders Confident Of Victory

U. S. Senate Agrees To Vote On Atlantic Pact Thursday

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 15. — The Senate agreed today to vote at 3 p. m. (CST) next Thursday on the North Atlantic security treaty.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, obtained the agreement. Senator Donnell (R-Mo), representing opponents, objected when Lucas sought an earlier vote.

Senate leaders are confident the treaty will be approved. Their problem has been to get the debate shut off and take a ballot.

GOP Plan Disapproved

Democratic leaders looked with flat disapproval on a Republican plan to extend the Monroe doctrine to western Europe as a substitute for the pact.

They said they were confident the proposal — offered by Senators Taft of Ohio and Flanders of Vermont — will be put into cold storage in this session of Congress.

President Truman was asked about it at his news conference yesterday. He said he had no comment on anything Senator Taft had to say on the subject. Mr. Truman did say the Atlantic pact should be approved without reservations.

Chilly Reception Given

The Taft-Flanders resolution was referred to the Senate foreign relations committee. And there was considerable chill in the reception given to it by Chairman Connally (D-Tex.)

"They're trying to do just what the treaty does," Connally said, "but they want the United States to go on alone — without the help of our European friends."

The resolution would urge President Truman to extend the Monroe doctrine to western Europe "on such terms and subject to

Condition Of Fred Freeman "Serious"

Condition of Fred Freeman, of 2104 Twenty-ninth, remained serious, but not critical, this afternoon, it was announced by his physician.

The 69-year-old former North Texas rancher and bus company owner who moved here about two years ago and began liquidation of his remaining extensive holdings, fell early Wednesday in his home and broke his hip. He was discovered lying on the floor by Mrs. Freeman.

His condition this morning did not allow efforts to repair the fracture, it was announced.

Mrs. Ed Hambright of 2619 Twenty-fifth is a daughter. A son, Fred Freeman, jr., of Denton, has a ranch in which he and Hambright are associated in raising cattle.

Housing Measure Is Signed By President

WASHINGTON, July 15. (AP)—President Truman signed the long-range housing bill today and said it must be put into operation quickly.

The President called in more than a score of sponsors of the legislation for the signing ceremoney.

Passage of the bill by Congress last week gave Mr. Truman his first major victory in his "fair deal" legislative program.

In a statement, Mr. Truman said the measure "equips the federal government, for the first time, with effective means for aiding cities in the vital task of clearing slums and rebuilding blighted areas."

25th Anniversary Of Company Observed

Arch Underwood Is Host For Meeting Of Cotton Men Here

Arch C. Underwood, president of the West Texas Compress and Warehouse company, was host today to some 300 visitors and employes at the firm's central plant, Avenue E and Twenty-third.

The day marked the 25th anniversary of the company's founding and featured demonstrations of model fire-fighting equipment, cotton warehouse machinery and compresses and a noon-day barbecue.

In the morning period the visitors were given a complete illustration of how a fire is detected, isolated and extinguished on the company's extensive premises. Jeeps, compressed air tanks, a company pressure system and sprinklers were employed as well as the old-fashioned bucket brigade.

Having more than 2,000,000 square feet of sprinkled warehouse and hard surfaced docks capable of storing 60,000 bales of cotton, Underwood said the importance of

Narcotics Are Stolen In City

Narcotics, money and merchandise were taken in a burglary of Hull Drug store, at 111 North college, the police were informed this morning.

A. C. Hull and C. A. Gentry, co-owners of the store, said it was apparent that "more than one person entered the store—it would have taken two men to move our heavy cash register from the soda fountain to where we found it battered open in the rear of the store."

Cash Is Taken

Taken were $33.68 from two cash registers, approximately 15 cartons of cigarets, barbiturates (sedatives) "and all our narcotics," Gentry and Hull said. Stock was being checked to determine whether other merchandise was removed.

Entrance was at the front door, which was pried open.

Narcotics taken included: Morphine, codeine sulphate, dovers powders, atropine tablets, morphine tablets, dilaudid tablets, cocaine hydrochloride, tincture of opium (deodorized), syrup of dolophine and dolophine tablets.

Pending an exhaustive check of inventory records against prescriptions, it was not known exactly how much of each narcotic had been taken, Gentry and Hull said.

Police said an unsuccessful attempt had been made to break into Sewell Food store at 301 North College.

Pennsylvania Is Footing Bills Of Summer Camps For Children

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 15. (U.P.)—More than 2,500 boys are enjoying an all expense-paid vacation as guests of Pennsylvania. It is the state's first big experiment in providing summer camps for underprivileged children at the taxpayers' expense.

Carefull selected youngsters from all parts of the state are spending two weeks at the 65,000-acre Indiantown Gap military reservation with everything free, including their transportation.

Gov. James H. Duff, who first conceived the project, then carefully nursed it through the 1949 legislature, said the primary purpose of the camp is to give children "who would ordinarily never get one, a real summer vacation."

This year the camp opened July 14. It will close July 28. In 1950, provided the present experiment is successful, 5,000 Pennsylvania boys and girls will be guests of the state at the reservation. The camp will last a month, with boys attending the first fortnight and girls the second.

Carefully Planned

The authorities in charge of the unique project are leaving nothing undone to make it a full success. Everything was planned months in advance. The plans were carried into action immediately after the Pennsylvania legislature appropriated $600,000 for the experiment last spring.

The physical setting for the camp is among the best in the state, which boasts a wide variety in its scenic splendors. Indiantown Gap nestles in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains, 22 miles from Harrisburg. During World War II, the Gap was one of the large staging areas for troops preparing for overseas duty. The barracks where so many of the nation's soldiers spent their final nights in their homeland were scrubbed until they shone in preparation for the flood of youths.

Authorities in charge of the camp avoided any regimentation along military lines in the camp life. There'll be no drill of any kind for the boys — they won't even march in step when they go to and from reveille and retreat.

The officials at the camp have spared no effort to see that the physical, mental and spiritual needs of every boy receive proper attention.

Medical Care Provided

A staff of 10 doctors and five nurses is on hand to treat any youngster who is hurt or becomes sick. In case of serious illness, the boy will be sent to a Harrisburg hospital. Two C-47 transport planes will be standing by at all times to bring parents to the hospital if they are needed. A comprehensive insurance policy covers the children from the time they leave their homes until they return.

Cases of homesickness are handled by four chaplains at the camp. Inter-denominational church services will be held on Sundays, with separate masses for Catholic boys.

No boy is forced to join in any sport or activity. He is required to be present but he does not have to take part.

Pennsylvania's state police play a prominent part in the camp activities. They will present their famed rodeo and give demonstrations of dog-training and horsemanship. The idea behind state patrolmen taking such an active part is to teach the boys to lose any fear they have of them.

A caterer is handling all meal preparation for the full two weeks. There will be nothing like the dreaded drudgery of KP for any of the boys. The only real duties they have are cleaning up the barracks and making their beds.

Officers Installed By American Legion Post At Brownfield

BROWNFIELD, July 15, (Special) — A. M. Muldrow was installed as post commander of Howard Henson Post 269 Thursday night at 8 p. m. in Veterans hall. Past commander Milton Bell, was installing officer.

Other men taking offices were Dr. W. A. Roberson, first vice-commander; Dr. A. H. Daniel, second vice-commander; Jim (Tiny) Nelson, third vice commander; and Stuffy Moorehead, finance officer.

Re-appointed as chaplain was Rev. W. T. Sparkman; as adjutant, J. D. Miller; and as service officer, C. L. (Abe) Lincoln.

To Boost Membership

The new building committee consists of Sam Privitt, chairman; J. B. Huckabee, and Whitey Lowe.

Retiring officers are Sam Privitt, commander; Cecil Hill, first vice-commander; Horace Abston of Meadow, second vice-commander; Lewis Peeler of Meadow, third vice-commander; and James Harlye Dallas, finance officer.

The Legionnaires' main project for 1950 will be to raise the post membership to 1000. Head of the new membership committee is Milton Bell.

Land Is Purchased

During the past year, members of the post erected a $3,000 hut for the Legion Boy Scout Troop 74, of which Cecil Hill is scoutmaster. The Legion purchased the three acres of land north of the hall on which they hope to establish Scout village composed of all four Brownfield Boy Scout Troops.

It is the aim of the members to have a scout hut built on each corner of the land, and eventually to connect the buildings with a central assembly hall. One other troop scout hut is under construction at the present time. At the last District convention in Lubbock, Brownfield was chosen convention city for the fall district meet.

Civil Rights Bill Is Urged By NAACP

LOS ANGELES, July 15. (AP)—Immediate action by President Truman and Congress on civil rights legislation was urged strongly today by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The association, in identical telegrams to the President, three senators and three representatives, asked that a special session of Congress be called, if necessary.

The message, also sent to Sens. Scott Lucas, (D-Ill), J. Howard McGrath, (D-R.I.), and Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) and Reps. Joseph Martin, (R-Mass), Sam Rayburn, (D-Texas), and John McCormack, (D-Mass), read:

Quick Action Asked

"Eight hundred delegates from 38 states, representing the convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in session here this week, urge immediate action on consideration of civil rights legislation and that a special session of Congress be called for this purpose, if necessary. Delegates assembled expect civil rights mandate of voters to be fulfilled."

Roy Wilkins, acting secretary of the association, signed the message.

Pilots Learn To Fly Airliners On Ground

NEW YORK, July 15 (U.P.)—Better pilots are being turned out at half the usual cost on a $250,000 electronic device called a Dehmel flight simulator, Capt. Sam Miller, chief pilot of Pan American Airways Atlantic division, disclosed in reviewing his first six months' experience with the device.

Veteran pilots who ordinarily would have to spend ten and a half hours in the air to learn to fly the new double-deck $1,500,000 stratocruisers now spend less than five hours in actual flight. Twenty-eight pilots have come out of the devil box sweat-soaked but crash-proof.

The device with the built-in gremlins makes pilots experts in handling problems they are never likely to meet in years of actual flying.

The simulator duplicates the cockpit of the double-decker in every detail and works so realistically that pilots forget they are not at the controls of an airplane. Emergencies impossible to duplicate on an actual airplane without loss of the craft but routine on the simulator make the device the most valuable training instrument in air line operation, according to Capt. Miller.

Bomb Disrupts Nehru Address

CALCUTTA, India, July 15. (AP) A bomb explosion during an address by Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, in which he denounced Communism, killed a policeman and injured more than 40 persons yesterday.

When Nehru condemned Communist terrorist activities in Calcutta, Communists attacked other listeners in the audience estimated to number 1,000,000 persons. A man identified by police as a Communist fired a revolver three times at a police officer, but missed.

Extensive precautions had been taken beforehand. Nearly 2,000 police were on duty. Nehru asked them not to interfere but let the people quiet the hecklers.

Following the address, disturbances were resumed in various parts of the city. Nehru had told his audience he could not understand how a handful of people could terrorize Calcutta's 5,000,000 inhabitants. He characterized Indian Communists as the greatest enemy of their own movement.

Meanwhile, at Moonghyr, in Bihar province, Socialist Leader J. P. Narain charged Nehru with being a tyrant and pushing the country steadily toward Communism. He said the first symptoms of anarchy were appearing in Calcutta and some districts of southern India.

Panic, Hysteria Big Problem In San Angelo Polio Epidemic

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the fourth in a series of dispatches by Paul F. Ellis, United Press science writer who is in Texas investigating the infantile paralysis epidemic at San Angelo:

BY PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Staff Writer

SAN ANGELO, July 15 — Panic and hysteria are more to be feared than polio when the disease hits a community, Mayor E. A. Vautrain said today in a warning to other American cities and towns where epidemics may strike this summer.

Vautrain, a typical tall Texan said that during the outbreak of polio here demands poured on him to stop the epidemic. One woman, he said, threatened his life if he didn't do something about it.

The mayor had some criticism of health authorities for not educating the public more fully about polio. Declaration that a polio epidemic existed touched off a wave of fright and fear, he said.

Fears Allayed Some

"The people should have been prepared for it," he said.

On demand of hundreds of persons, city officials ordered a seven-day closing of schools, motion picture houses, churches and swimming pools. Vautrain said — and some doctors agree with him —that the closings probably had no effect in checking spread of the disease, but did allay some of the fears.

However, many folks got jittery again when the seven-day closing period expired. New demands for a closing were made.

City officials then put the bans on a voluntary basis. As an example, Vautrain said not one child showed up for Sunday school at one large church, and few parents took their children to movies.

He also pointed out that the closing of the swimming pools might have caused more polio—rather than checked it. Following the order closing the pools, children and grown-ups flocked to the Concho river near the city and swam in water not nearly as sanitary as that in the pools.

The mayor and doctors also recalled that some parents made treatment of polio patients more difficult by insisting on regular visiting hours. The Shannon Memorial hospital, which had upwards of 75 patients in one day, permitted parents to visit on three days a week for one hour periods. The clinic hospital, a small but well-equipped institution, allowed visits each day but only for a brief time.

Doctors agreed that when nurses are trying to prevent severe muscle damage in polio cases it is best for parents to stay away until the child has been pulled through the acute stage.

Once the confusion was eliminated here, and the fright and fear overcome, doctors and nurses brought the situation under control, and San Angelo returned to normal.

Turk On Motorcycle Starts World Tour

ISTANBUL, July 15 (U.P.) — Mehmet Irfan Kipman, curly-haired young Turk who is afraid of cats but little else, has taken off on a motorcycle for a 33,000-mile trip around the world that is scheduled to take him through Asia, the Far East, South and North America and finally Europe before his return to Istanbul.

When Kipman left Istanbul he had a huge Mexican-type straw hat tied on top of his four big saddle bags and an extra four-gallon gasoline tank he had built onto his shiny new motorcycle.

By way of ceremony to begin the trip officially, he laid a huge wreath of flowers at the Taksim Square Ataturk monument, posed for photographers in his cavalry boots, gawn-colored riding trousers and two-tone leather jacket.

The 33-year-old accordion player thinks he can complete the tour in six months. His map calls for passage through Ankara, Teheran, Lahore, Delhi, Calcutta, Mandalay, Rangoon, Saigon, Buenos Aires, Rio de Janeiro, Panama, Costa Rica, Guatemala, Mexico City, Los Angeles, Chicago, New York, Liverpool, Paris, Genoa, Trieste, Sarajevo, Salonica and back to Istanbul, with dozens of other stops in between.

As Kipman roared out of Taksim Square friends remembered his childhood fear of cats, now a full-grown phobia, and said, "May Allah keep the cats out of his path."

Kipman's white-haired father, however, was shaking his head and saying, "May Allah help him finish his trip. I think my boy is a little crazy."

Horned Toad Derby Slated At Eastland

EASTLAND, July 15 (Special) —In the only celebration of its type in the Southwest, Eastland's first annual Old Rip Horned Toad Derby will be held Saturday, July 16, with 150 toads from all over West Texas to compete for $350 in cash prizes.

Under sponsorship of the chamber of commerce, the idea for the derby stemmed from the fact that Eastland is world-famed as the home of Old Rip, the horned toad who lived after being entombed in the cornerstone of the Eastland county courthouse for 31 years. On the twentieth anniversary of Old Rip's death, this first derby is being held to perpetuate the memory of the horned toad, whose body now lies in a plush-lined casket in the lobby of the new courthouse.

An old fiddlers' contest, a special kids' derby, a band concert by the Eastland High School Maverick band, a carnival and a square dance exhibition will be highlights of the derby.

The main derby will start at Fireman's Softball park at 7 p. m. following a brief memorial service over Old Rip's casket.

First Air Bombing In History Made On Venice 100 Years Ago

VENICE, Italy, July 15 (U.P.) — When the first bombs fell from the sky, Venice was stupefied. War never had seemed so terrible.

But fear soon gave way to joy. Venetians clapped their hands and sang like children watching fireworks.

For it was July 15, 1949, 100 years ago, and the first air bombardment of war's history had flopped.

They were little bombs, dropped from little paper balloons. The atom bomb makes things like those look like playthings. But on that hot July day a century ago, a few Venetians knew that they were at a turning point in history. At least one foresaw the more frightening things to come from the sky. The score of inoffensive explosions that day marked the beginning of aerial warfare with a big bang.

Heavy Barrage

History books unanimously ignore the Venice air raid. They are more interested in the 24-day artillery barrage which poured 23,000 shells into surrounded Venice until the canal city surrendered to the attacking Austrians, 15 months after Venetians rebelled against foreign rule and declared the independent republic of San Marco.

The siege of Venice had been long. Cholera and malaria plagued the defenders and besiegers alike. Food was scarce, the water bad and the sur a furnace. By mid-July, the Austrian field commander decided to try the balloon-bombs which strategists had written about before. His aim, documents show, was to spread terror in Venice, if not destruction.

The Austrians used small balloons of waterproofed paper. Inflated with gas, they rose carrying small wooden platforms on which 28-pound charges of explosives were placed. Little rockets attached to the bombs were supposed to go off and kick the bombs overboard, igniting the fuses at the same time. Everything hinged on split-second calculations for wind, drift and altitude.

Venetians heard rumors about the "secret weapon" but laughed it off. Then, in the clear sunlight of the afternon of July 15, 1849, the impossible happened.

Balloons Set Loose

From the Austrian warship Vulcano, anchored in the sea near the Lido, balloon after balloon soared into the air.

The past can be rolled back in the musty but complete archives of Venice where a diarist set down this eyewitness attempt of the aerial attack:

"The balloons appeared to go up to about 4,500 feet. Then they exploded in mid-air, or fell into the water, or, blown by a sudden southeast wind, sped over the city and dropped on the enemy forces stationed at Mestre. Venetians, abandoning their homes, crowded into the streets and squares to enjoy the strange spectacle. With eyes fixed on the heavens, all watched patiently for the phenomenon to be repeated. When a cloud of smoke appeared in the air to mark an explosion, everyone clapped and shouted. Applause was greatest when the balloons blew over the Austrian forces and exploded, and in such cases the Venetians added cries of 'Bravo!' and 'Good appetite!'"

The Official Gazette of the city on July 18, 1849, deplored the use of balloon bombs, stating that "the enemy has adopted strange weapons directed against the helpless and innocent citizens who do not have swords or defenses."

Sundown Will Vote On Bonds Saturday

SUNDOWN, July 15 (Special)— Final arrangements to hold a bond issue election Saturday and to buy the privately owned Sundown Water works if the election carries were made in a special meeting of the City commission here Thursday night, Mayor Lester Dudley announced.

The commission met with J. J. Kerby, owner of the water works, and came to a satisfactory agreement with him on the matter, Dudley said.

The final purchasing of the water works is contingent upon two things, Dudley explained. They are the voting of the bond issue and the selling of the bonds.

In the bond issue election the vote will be for the following bonds: $180,000 revenue bonds for the water works, $100,000 revenue bonds for the sewer system, $100,000 revenue bonds for a gas system, $50,000 tax obligation bonds for the sewer system, and $50,000 tax obligation bonds for street improvements.

The city has made no definite plans about the gas system. They plan to either buy of construct one. Dudley reported.

One Tour In Quarry Enough For Burglar

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (U.P.) — William C. McCants winced when the prosecuting attorney said he could get off with a year in the city workhouse if he pleaded guilty to a burglary charge.

McCants had had experience with a limestone quarry at the workhouse. He said he'd rather do twice as long in the state prison.

BASKET BREAKS FALL

BERWICK, Pa. (U.P.)—Mrs. William Frye fell while carrying a basket of clothes to the basement of her home and landed head first but in the basket. She suffered only bruises from the tumble down a flight of stairs.

JOHNNY GETS ALL WET

SEATTLE, Wash. (U.P.)—Three-year-old Johnny Barr, after watching his five-year-old companions play, made a disastrous try at leap-frog. The toddler attempted to leap over a garden faucet. His pants caught the handle, turning it on. Johnny was suspended wailing while a chilly stream of water poured over his rear.

TOURING EUROPE

James Pinson, who is spending the summer touring Europe and doing advanced study in interior design at the School of Fine Arts in Fountainebleau, France, has written a letter to Lou so that she may tell his friends about the first part of his trip. Excerpts from and summaries of parts of the letter are included below:

"London, England.

"The boat trip over was well worth the time spent. There were so many interesting people on the ship! Two girls colleges had groups going over, so life was not dull a moment.

"I did my best to get as dark a tan out on the sundeck as the Hindu on the ship had and almost did so. The Hindu was a character! He would come to breakfast wearing a turban and have his beard rolled up in a thing that looked very much like the chinlift that Elizabeth Arden has around women's faces in her advertisements. Needless to say, all of that plus his pointed toed shoes afforded much amusement for a lot of us, as did an individual we named "The Mad Russian." He paraded about the deck continually and his constant companion, another dek stroller, looked like he came off of Smith Brothers' coughdrop box.

"I landed in Plymouth and customs officials there were so nice that I still can't get over it. I was through in five minutes and on the train for London. I spent four days in London and, according to the British, have left no stone unturned.

"Madam Tussard's Wax museum was the most interesting place I visited. The statues of famous people were so lifelike that it was hard to believe they were not real. I also saw the Wallace collection and got into Lanascter house by talking a lot and crossing a palm with silver. The conference rooms and stair cases were the most outstanding parts, I thought.

"I had to stop counting art galaries and museums finally because I have seen so many. The British can't get over how Americans go and do things so fast and still remember everything.

"Hampton Court outside of London was very interesting, and the Maise was a lot of fun to go through. I'll have to admit I got lost more than once there. I attended services in Westminster Abbey and saw Parliament and the Tower of London. At the Tower, I was interviewed by a British reporter wanting to know what a Texan thought of England. They took a picture of Miss Anne Birkman and me talking to one of the guards at the Tower.

"Next I started on a circular tour of England with the first stop on Strattford-on-Avon, where I saw "Othello" at the Shakespeare Memorial theater. The play was well done and the theater is the best looking building inside and out that I have seen in England.

"Warwick castle was next. The interior was interesting, but in my opinion the best looking room was a red lacquered paneled bedroom. The next stop was Oxford, and I really enjoyed visiting many of the colleges. Magdalen and St. John's had the most beautiful grounds. Their lawns and gardens are taken care of to perfection.

"From Oxford I went to Stoke-On-Trent and was the first American to register at the hotel in three years. I visited the Wedgwood and Spode factories there, and could really have spent days in both factories. I learned a lot that I did not know about the process of making fine china, and also saw some interesting patterns they are going to introduce on the market in small quantities within the next year.

"From Stoke I went to Scotland, which is the place that I really have enjoyed. Everyone is so friendly and the scenery is beautiful. Their woolens, as well as other clothing, are wonderful. I could easily have spent all of my money in Scotland, as I saw so many wonderful things. I spent two days longer there than I had planned. I visited the royal castle and palace in Edinburgh; however, I found the Royal Mile between the places a rather tiresome walk.

"Lincoln was next and the cathedral there is the prettiest one that I have seen. However, at present, I feel that I am "up to my neck" in cathedrals.

"Stooped in Cambridge yesterday and visited many of the colleges there, but somehow, it does not have the beauty that Oxford has. Today I have been to Windsor castle and Eaton. Windsor castle to me is what I believe the average American traveler expects a castle to look like. I had a lot of fun visiting with various students attending Eaton. However, I think we were as amusing to them as they were to us.

"Tomorrow I leave for Canterbury, then on to Paris Sunday, so will let you know about some of my trips in France later.

"Yours truly,

"James Pinson."

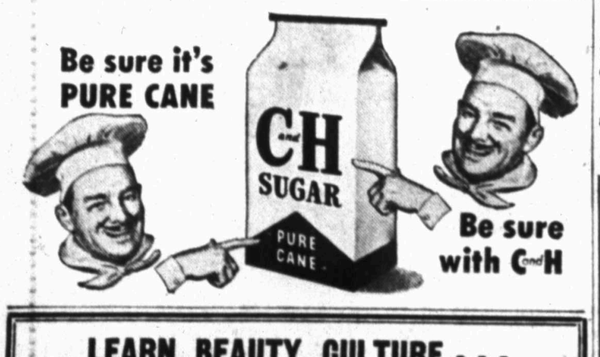

I thought you might enjoy the traveling Lubbockite's letter. I'll send his other's to you later.

Love,
LOU.

DUCK THIEF TAKES HIS TIME

SALEM, Ore. (U.P.)—A leisurely thief stole some ducks, took time to clean them at the scene, then carted them off for a nefarious feast. Mrs. A. J. Fleming informed the sheriff's office that a pile of feathers and innards behind her house were all that remained of her three plump ducks.

Four Years' Happy Marriage Strikes Snag When Husband Balks At Seeing Friends

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I came here as a bride, from another part of the country, to make a home with my husband in his native surroundings.

We have been married for about four years and haven't had any real problems, and perhaps that's why the present squabble looms so large and makes us unhappy.

I haven't minded making myself a part of the life that interests Bill—fitting into his family, becoming a friend of his old friends and generally going his way. But recently my singing teacher and his wife have been asking us to small parties at their home to watch television—and Bill doesn't want to go at all.

EACH IS CALLING THE OTHER SELFISH

THEY are nice people and I find the group very congenial, but Bill argues that he has nothing in common with them. I've told him that I had nothing in common with his family or friends, either, but I tried to find a meeting ground. I think he's being selfish, for I've never refused to meet any of his friends; but he says I am selfish for wanting him to go—so there it stands.

The worst part is that I find myself feeling critical of his friends now, thinking when I see them, "They're no more entertaining than the other group." Incidentally, his group is the same he's had for years. As I say, we're both unhappy about this clash, but I hate to surrender when I think I'm right.

What do you suggest? Please help me if you can.

Signed L. V.

AN INTERPRETATION OF HUSBAND'S STAND

DEAR L. V.: On Bill's behalf may I say that it's an excruciatingly tiresome experience to be (1) in company that one finds boring, or (2) in the position of having to sit out a program of "entertainment" that one doesn't care for.

Perhaps Bill's preference in television or radio fare differs radically from the music teacher's, and doubtless he wants to feel free to walk out on the show, or shut off the contraption any time it suits him—but of course one might as well kick a television-happy host in the teeth as snoot his offering.

Emotionally my sympathies are with Bill's howling resistance to being a sacrificial goat for a regimented evening: yet I realize, and so should he, that undisciplined addiction to personal selfishness can be disastrous to personal relationships.

The hallmark of rational adult character is the "acquired" disposition and trained capacity to act in socially benevolent ways—i. e., kindly; to promote the happiness of others—even when the "old Adam" of selfish impulse in one's nature doesn't want to make the effort.

VARIED ACTIVITY PROLONGS YOUTH

MUTUAL charitable accommodation to divergent tastes is indispensable to successful marriage—and just as you have sought and found "meeting ground" with Bill's kin and cronies, so should he exert himself to associate genially with your newfound friends.

Gerontology, the study of factors contributing to debility or vigor in old age, underlines the discovery that persons who espouse a variety of frieonds and activities, adding new ones as life goes on, are most youthful in spirit, mind and energy on later years. Thus Bill would be doing himself a favor to follow your lead and break the fetters of habitual dependency on a social circle that never changes.

It's unfortunate that his stagnancy is generating mutual bitterness; and for help, it is my hope that the foregoing remarks may dissolve the impasse by inducing Bill to go to the parties with waggish gameness—as of a modern Daniel entering the lions den.

DANE IS NO FRIEND OF MILKMAN

Two Hundred-Pound Pup Big Boarder For Lubbock Family

By JOE HITCHCOCK
Journal Staff Writer

A 200-pound pup is the "affectionate" pet dog of Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Harris, jr., of Bobalet Heights.

Lord Byron, a Great Dane, has been seen by several Lubbock residents, over their shoulders. He leans easily over a four-foot rock wall. But he isn't old enough to know that he could jump over it, the doctor claims.

Named for Byron Nelson, noted Texas golfer, the "pup" was acquired from friends of the couple at Houston last summer. He was about six months old then, and weighed only 140 pounds. In contrast to most dogs, who mature at between eight months and one year, the Great Dane doesn't come of age until two years old.

Callers Learn Caution

The black-mask fawn Lord Byron is the son of Champion Vakeck's Gallant Cavalier. The dam was Vakeck's Flicka of Sangamon.

The milkman, salesmen and other wary callers at the Harris residence no longer saunter easily up to the door. They usually wait in their cars and honk for a truce representative, Dr. Harris explains. Once a visitor is escorted within our own lines, Byron ignores them.

But Mrs. Harris claims that the "pup" is really an affectionate thing. When the boys, Joe, 12, and Danny, 10, are in bed and there is no company, we let Byron in the house.

"Then he tries to lie down in our laps, 'hoofs' and all!"

In returning the dog's affection, they pat him on the neck rather than on the head. Patting on the head tends to make the sharp, upright ears bend, they point out. When the dogs are young, aluminum casts are placed over clipped ears to make them straight.

Summer Ration Cut

The food bill? Mrs. Harris says Lord Byron gets about 12 pounds of dog food per day for summer ration, not counting handouts, snacks, and old loaves of bread. In winter, she adds, his roast-pot plate is filled more often, plus a quart of milk every night for a chaser.

When his lordship was stretching his bones last fall from 28 inches to his present three feet (at the shoulders), he was doing it so fast that he had calcium trouble, Veternarians were puzzled over the pup's moaning and stumbling. Finally, Dr. Harris thought he noted the same symptoms seen in some ailing children—calcium deficiency in the bone structure.

"I started dumping cans of powdered calcium in his grub, and about a gallon of milk a day," Harris said. "Pretty soon he was able to get up on all fours and walk."

At least two incidents have occurred which were humorous to observers only, the doctor relates.

A negro employe of neighbors was set on displaying his horsemanship to a friend working for Harris.

Riding high down a side road north of the house, the negro was unaware of another horse-like creature in the back yard. Suddenly, Lord Byron loomed large, leaning over the fence, and let out with a "BRUUUFF."

The horse sat down, and the rider took off across the north field, while his "friend" roared in laughter, Harris said.

On another occasion a man and a woman were walking along the same car path, leading an English bulldog and a goat. They were on their way to look at the doctor's two horses.

Lord Byron did it again deep from his stomach. According to Harris, the couple was last seen being led by the bulldog and the goat in the opposite direction.

Dr. Harris has three much smaller dogs — adult Springer Spaniels. They gang up on the Great Dane pup and pin him down, even though he can lope across the yard like one of the horses.

The doctor explains:

"That's just because he's a pup and hasn't learned to strike back."

TWO HUNDRED-POUND PUP—Lord Byron, Great Dane pup owned by Dr. J. R. Harris, jr., Bobalet Heights, is over his growing pains and is shooting for adulthood next November. He will be two years old then. The "pup" stands three feet at the shoulders and weighs 200 pounds. During the summer months his diet is restricted to 12 pounds of meat per day, not counting snacks and a loaf of bread now and then. Shown in the picture above calming his lordship are Dr. Harris, and his two sons, Joe, 12, and Danny, 10. (Staff Photo).

State Board Upholds Schools At Del Rio

AUSTIN, July 15 (AP) — The state board of education today held in effect that Del Rio's system of handling anglo and Latin American school children does not constitute segregation.

The board over-ruled an order by state school Supt. L. A. Woods removing Del Rio schools from the accredited list because of alleged segregation of Latin American children.

The board said it disagreed with Dr. Woods' ruling that a "free-choice" system constituted segregation. The system permitted pupils to attend whatever school their parents chose.

Narcotics Ring In Germany Is Broken

WIESBADEN, Germany, July 15 (U.P.)—U. S. Air Force headquarters announced today that its agents have broken up a narcotics ring with the arrest of eight men and a woman and seizure of more than $50,000 worth of heroin.

There was no information on the original source of the 500 grams of heroin — slightly more than a pound and valued in the black market at $50,000 a pound. The Air force said the ring asked only 26,000 western marks (about $6,700) for the drug.

World Churches Council Will Fight Totalitarian Doctrine

(By The Associated Press)

CHICHESTER, England, July 15.—The World Council of Churches issued a militant call yesterday for all Christians to resist totalitarianism.

It reminded those who may be subject to persecution as a result that "the liberty they receive from their Lord cannot be taken away by violence or destroyed by suffering."

"A totalitarianism doctrine is a false doctrine," said a resolution adopted by the 44-nation organization of Protestant churches. The council concluded a six-day policy making meeting here.

Principal speaker at the session was Dr. Joseph L. Hromadka of Prague, Czechoslovakia, where the Roman Catholic church is engaged in a bitter struggle with the Communist government.

Hromadka told the council the Protestants had so far managed to stay out of the church-state war, but "we will have to say 'no' if there should be any attempt to interfere with the substance of our church."

Protestants would resist readjusting their preaching to conform with Marxist ideology, he said. But so far they have managed to achieve a way of life with the government.

The council also denounced reported instances of churches using totalitarianism for their own ends, criticizing "any church which seeks to use the power of the state to enforce religious conformity."

The action was taken after a British Baptist clergyman cited what he termed "oppression" of Protestants in Spain.

"We resist all endeavors to spread a system of thought or of economics by unscrupulous intolerance, suppression or persecution," said a resolution defining the council's position.

Dr. M. E. Aubrey of the Baptist union of Great Britain declared:

"We must sympathize with the Roman Catholic church under oppression behind the iron curtain, but we must recognize that in Spain there is oppression of other communities."

The policy statement held that the "churches themselves must bear no small part of the blame for resentments among the underprivileged masses of the world, since their own efforts to realize the brotherhood of man have been so weak.

"But justice in human society is not to be won by totalitarian methods. A totalitarian doctrine is a false doctrine."

The earth's population in 1850 is estimated to have been 1,091,000,000.

Suicide Ends Shooting Duel

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 15 (U.P.) — A short-lived reign of terror by a 68-year-old retired soldier ended in his own suicide last night after he wounded critically one man, grazed another with a bullet and fought a pistol duel with policemen.

Sahag Lazarian, the crochety resident of a northeast Kansas City apartment house, terrorized neighbors and held police at bay for almost 20-minutes before shooting himself in the head with the .32 caliber 8 shot revolver that he flourished during the fracas.

The janitor of the building where Lazarian lived, Floyd Boydston, 54, is in the general hospital in a critical condition, the first victim of Lazarian's shooting spree.

Complained Of Noise

Another resident of the building, Wayne Garrett, 23, is suffering from a slight bullet wound in the shoulder caused by one of three richocheting bullets fired in a blast at residents and patrolmen.

Police said Lazarian threatened Boydston earlier in the evening in a complaint about the noise near the apartment and about children running by his window.

He was quoted at telling Boydston to "keep those kids clear of the hall," as he pointed the gun at Boydston.

Two of the 13 cars of policemen which sped to the shooting scene collided several blocks from the Lazarian apartment, injuring three of four of the men in the two cars.

Police said both cars had sirens on and failed to hear the other car as they approached an intersection at right angles.

Bodies Of Two Latin Americans Are Found

RAYMONDVILLE, July 15 (U.P.) —Two unidentified Latin Americans were found dead on Missouri Pacific railroad tracks today nine miles north of here.

Both bodies were mutilated, and one was found on either side of the tracks. Deputy Sheriff D. W. Good said he believed they had tried to board a moving train.

The population of the world in 1800 is estimated at 919,000,000.

Mental Test For Speedy Driver Is Ordered By Judge

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15. (INS) —A San Francisco judge declared today that flagrant traffic violators "must be mentally upset" and ordered a young speeder to undergo psychiatric examination.

Municipal Judge Matthew Brady indicated he will continue the precedent-shattering procedure in the future.

Judge Brady ruled in the case of Stanley J. Ostrem, 22, of San Francisco, who was charged with driving 80 miles an hour in a 45 mile zone on the bay bridge.

Ostrem said that he had no excuse "except that I had a new automobile."

After a few minutes of deep thought Judge Brady observed:

"You can't sit in judgment on a man who is mentally upset, so I'm going to consider that to be the condition when anyone drives in an outrageous manner.

"Heneforth, I think that will be the order in this type of case."

He directed that Ostrem undergo the regular three day psychiatric examination at the San Francisco hospital, and continued the case to July 22 pending receipt of the doctors' report.

Pampa Drubs Lubbock, 8-3; Clovis Shades Dukes, 3 To 1

Russell And Hensiek Named As Hub Hurlers For Double Bill

Amarillo's Gold Sox lost their 19th game in the last 22 starts in West Texas-New Mexico Baseball league competition last night.

The Sox, now two and a half games out of the cellar occupied by the Clovis Pioneers, were shut out by Borger, 12-0. Other scores: Clovis 3, Albuquerque 1; Lamesa 2, Abilene 1; Pampa 8, Lubbock 3.

Standings at the top of the league remained relatively unchanged as leaders Albuquerque and Lubbock lost.

At Amarillo, Southpaw Clayton Fries faced only 29 batters in subduing Amarillo. He gave up three hits. Home runs by Eddie Carnett, Gordon Nell and Ken Sears paced Borger's 15-hit attack.

Clovis Beats Dukes

Clovis cashed in on an inside the park home run by Jess Jacinto to win over Albuquerque. Bill Rosin held the Dukes to five scattered hits. The loser was Don Ferrarese, who gave up just six hits.

At Lamesa, Big Jack Gutierrez pitched and batted the Lamesa Loboes to victory. He set the Abilene Blue Sox down with six hits and no earned runs. Gutierrez drove in both Lamesa runs with a single and double. The winning score came with two out in the ninth on Gutirrez' line drive double.

Pampa's Oilers defeated Lubbock on the strength of a five-run lead built up in the first two innings. George Payte hung up his fifth win in six starts. Pampa netted three runs in the first inning on three hits, a walk and an error. Two more runs came in the second on a walk and Payte's home run.

The same teams play again tonight.

RUSSELL AND HENSIEK WILL HURL TONIGHT

Lubbock and Pampa play a doubleheader tonight, with the Oilers throwing lefthanders at the Hubbers in both games.

Roy Parker, who has posted one of the league's better records, will hurl the first game and John Martin will take over mound duties in the second.

For Lubbock, Manager Jackie Sullivan indicated indecision last night, but it probably will be Cotton Russell (7-3) and Don Hensiek (3-4).

Greenville Shades Wichita Falls, 6-5

(By The Associated Press)

It's a rare occasion when a first division club in the Big State baseball league gets knocked off by one of the stumbling teams in the bottom half of the circuit. But it happened last night as Greenville outlasted Wichita Falls for a 6-5, ten-inning victory.

Otherwise, the league rolled along just as usual, with Texarkana and Austin clinging tightly to their first and second-place spots, and Waco trailing along a mediocre fourth.

Texarkana beat Temple, 8-1; Austin clipped Sherman-Denison, 7-3, and Waco whipped Gainesville, 8-4.

Greenville's winning run in its decision over Wichita Falls came on a double by Ken Peacock, a passed ball and a single by Gene Hodge.

George Estock pitched six-hit ball in Austin's triumph. Jake Guytar, Sherman-Denison's first baseman, got four of the six.

Texarkana took an early lead over Temple, and Boy Hyatt topped it off with a three-run homer that was the feature of a six-run spree in the seventh.

Waco slugged two Gainesville pitchers for 14 hits, including a double and a triple.

HOMECOMING DAY SET

HOUSTON, July 15 (AP) — The University of Houston has set October 22 as its football homecoming day, with the Cougars meeting Hardin-Simmons university.

Two Mustang Backs Get Pro Contracts

DALLAS, July 15. (AP)—Gilbert Johnson, Southern Methodist's "clutch" passer, came to terms yesterday with the New York Yankees of the All-American professional football conference.

Johnson said he would leave next Wednesday for New York to sign a one-year contract with the Yankees. He would not say how much salary the contract called for.

News of Johnson's action was followed by an announcement from the Chicago Hornets of the All-America loop that they had signed another Southern Methodist halfback, David Moon, to a pro grid contract.

Moon, 21, a 205-pounder from Mart, Tex., played on the Mustangs' Cotton bowl teams of 1947 and 1948.

Legion Squad Slates Drill

Preparation for the second American Legion Junior bi-district baseball tilt between Allen Bros. of Lubbock and Hereford's Post 192 was scheduled to get underway today with a workout at 4 p. m. by the local team.

In the first game between the two teams Allen Bros. emerged with a decisive 16-1 victory in a nine-inning tilt.

Game Set Saturday

On Saturday the Hereford nine will invade Lubbock for the second tilt, one that could decide the championship should Allen Bros. win. The locals had a rather easy time of it Wednesday night, banging out 13 hits which included three home runs—two by Bobby Brown and one by Tommy Yelvington—a double by Neil Sikes, and a triple by Powell Hinson.

Thirteen errors by Hereford players nullified the pitching efforts of Bill Engman, who struck-out 12 batters in a duel with Benny Day, Allen Bros. ace. Day whiffed 18 batters to face him, his largest number of strikeouts this year, and allowed but two hits, singles in the sixth and eighth frames.

The Allen Bros. team outclassed the Hereford nine in the first contest, a tribute to the coaching efforts of Herman Brown and Sam West. Brown took the boys through the district tournament and the first bi-district clash. Heads up play was shown at all times.

Practice today will be largely batting, infield, and outfield drills.

Time and place of the game Saturday has not been decided.

Pirates Lose 13-10 Slugfest With Sox

The second loss to the Red Sox by the Pirates in the Pygmy league yesterday highlighted the baseball activities at Boys club, the Sox winning 13-10.

Three singles by Alton Peak paced the winners, and Pirate batting was led by Coy Gilliam with two doubles and a single.

Six singles by Paul Sikes greatly aided the Pee Wee Pirates in their 26-10 manhandling of the Red Sox. Colby Kight knocked two singles in four plate appearances for the losers and pulled an unassisted double play. He caught a line drive off the bat of Jerry Goble and stepped on first to double Tex Ray Stephenson off the bag.

George Guy's two doubles and a single and Jimmy Welch's homer with two runners on base paced Methodist Men to a 15-11 victory over the Jaycees in a Junior league game. Jerry Head doubled and singled, and Skipper Welch and Don Kerr singled twice for the losers.

The Methodists turned in a double play when Kerr lined to Donny Brown who threw to Don Glover to catch Kenneth Rhorer off base.

In games today the Indians and White Sox meet in the Pygmy and Pee Wee leagues, and ABC plays Exchange.

Big Spring Broncs Beat Odessa, 5-4

(By The Associated Press)

No matter what an opposing team pulls out of the bag, Big Spring seems to come up with a stunt that's just a shade better. That's why the Broncs still rock along with an 11 and a half game lead in Longhorn league baseball.

Last night, Rex Pearce of Odessa hit a two-run homer in the third inning. So Carlos Pasqual of Big Spring hit a three-run homer in the fifth, and the Broncs won, 5-4.

In other games, Vernon beat San Angelo, 7-1; Ballinger licked Roswell, 10-6, and Midland beat Sweetwater in both ends of a doubleheader, 6-2 and 4-1.

SUNDOWN BLANKS TAHOKA, 7-0

Denver City Team Is Upset By Post

Seagraves' Oilers today were within easy striking distance of the Denver City Gassers in the Oil Belt baseball chase, following the Gassers' surprise 6-5 loss to Post last night.

The Denver City defeat left Seagraves only one game off the pace, with a crucial doubleheader coming up Sunday between the two league leaders.

Sundown Blanks Tahoka

In other Thursday night games, Sundown blanked Tahoka, 7-0, while Slaton was tacking an 8-5 loss on the luckless Brownfield Bears.

The Post-Denver City scrap at Post was a thriller all the way. Post got away to an early 4-1 lead, but the Gassers pecked away at the margin by scoring in every other frame throughout the tilt.

They finally knotted the count at 5-5 in the ninth, only to see Post come back with a squeeze-bunt run for the triumph.

Jim Boyd, a flashy baserunner out of TCU, stole the individual spotlight. The Horned Frog ace scored four of the Miller runs, including the tie breaker.

Windle Greer and Curly Barnett team to hold Denver City to seven hits. Barnett, who came in with one out in the ninth, was credited with the win.

Davidson Gets Loss

Denny Davidson pitched six-hit ball for the Gassers, but was hurt by shaky support as his mates made five errors. Davidson struck out eight.

Catcher W. B. Holland was Post's star stickman, with three hits in four times at bat.

For Denver City, Doc Keel had three for five and Euel Landrith two for four.

It was the Gassers' fourth setback in 19 games this season, and Post's 11th win in 20 starts.

Tonnie Smithers turned in another stellar mound performance at Sundown as he blanked Tahoka, 7-0. The tall speedballer gave up only four hits, fanned 10, and permitted only one baserunner to reach third.

Bill Holcomb, the losing twirler, fanned 11 but was touched for nine safeties. Five-error fielding by his mates also proved costly.

Jim Burtner had three singles to pace Sundown's attack. Jim Barnett and Bob Rogers each had a double for Tahoka.

Bears Blow Lead

It was the same old story at Slaton—Brownfield got ahead but couldn't stay there. The Bears led 5-2 going into the last of the eighth, when someone pulled the props from under the roof. In the big explosion that followed, Slaton shoved in six runs to walk off with the verdict.

William (Whistle) Banks, the ex-Tech athlete, was the winning pitcher. He gave up eight hits while striking out nine.

Bob Beall, the losing twirler, deserved a better fate. He gave up nine hits and struck out eight before he was relieved by Dunk Warren in the fatal eighth.

Slaton's hitting was led by Catcher M. L. Urchery, who had a home run and double. J. F. Gray had three for five, and Clarence Tillery and A. H. Weaver each had two for five.

R. C Morton and Gerald Hise each collected two hits for Brownfield, which dropped its 17th decision in 18 league starts this season.

Longhorn Loop Names All-Star Managers

ABILENE, July 15 (AP)—Managers of the east and west squads for the third annual Longhorn league all-star game next Monday night in San Angelo were announced yesterday.

Bob Huntley of Vernon will handle the east team and Harold Webb of Midland the west squad.

Czech Netters To Seek Home In U. S.

GSTAAD, Switzerland, July 15. (AP)—Jaroslav Drobny and Vladimir Cernik, Czechoslovakia's top tennis stars, rejected today a Czech government order to return to Prague. They announced they were going into exile and hoped to reach the United States.

The two players had withdrawn from Swiss international tennis tournament yesterday after the Czech government withdrew permission to play here because two Germans and a Spaniard were competing.

This morning they announced they would play out the remainder of the tournament.

Drobny and Cernik, who have consistently received permission of the Czech government to play in foreign tournaments presumably because of the favorable publicity their play had created, made it clear their decision had long been in their minds.

McCamey Will Test Lubbock

SAN ANGELO, July 15. (Special)—After two weeks out of first place in the Texas Softball League, the Bluebonnet-Sunbeamers of Lubbock climbed back into the lead as a result of last Saturday's double victory over Maurice Shop of San Angelo.

The Blue-Beamers turned in a pair of whitewash victories while Crane and McCamey watched the rains wash out their scheduled doubleheader. As a result, the Blue-Beamers went back into first place a half game.

Hays Clinches Crown

James Lee "Curley" Hays Ctamford's first baseman-pitcher, apparently climbed the batting crown in the league with his hitting last week. Hays now is pounding the ball at a .419 clip on 18 hits in 43 trips to the plate.

Closest batter to Hays is Joe Goodwin of Crane, who has been on the injured list for three weeks. Goodwin is hitting 324, while his closest rival is Maurcene Cottle of Brownwood at .290.

Reece McGee was the whole show in Lubbock last week, allowing San Angelo only one hit and striking out 17 batters to chalk up the first of two whitewash jobs the Blue-Beamers turned in.

In the second game, Warren "Stringbean" Pope took over and completed the blanking. Pope also gained some ground on Red Denham of Crane in their strikeout race. The Lubbock hurler raised his total to 134 whiff victims in 10 games, while Denham leads the league with 140 in 12 games.

McCamey Meets Lubbock

Stamford and Howard Payne of Brownwood met last night as did Crane and McCamey. Regular contests this week will send San Angelo to Crane and McCamey to Lubbock, both on aSturday.

The Blue-Beamers took another step toward strengthening their team Wednesday with the acquirsition of Lupe Meador and Bill Howton, both of Plainview. Meador is a classy first baseman and good hitter, while Howton is a speed merchant autfielder. Meador made the all-star team picked after a district championship tournament here last year. Howton, former Plainview High school star, was on the freshman track team at Rice this past year.

Lavern Roach, Bill Henderson Head Plainview Card Tonight

PLAINVIEW, July 15. (Special)—The stage was all set today for tonight's Jaycee fight program at the Bar-None rodeo grounds.

Advance ticket sales indicated a crowd of something like 4,000 fans for the festivities, which will feature the top pro mittmen of the South Plains, plus a few seasoned outsiders.

The probable attendance figure was swelled Thursday by a flood of requests for ducats from Petersburg fans, after that city's J. D. Kirkpatrick had been signed to meet Gene James in one of the card's four-round preliminaries.

3,000 Tickets Sold

Some 3,000 tickets had been sold Thursday night, and at least 1,000 more were expected to pass across the block today at Plainview's Shamrock cafe and tonight at the gate.

Jaycee officials promised that plenty of tickets will be available for all comers. The rodeo grounds has been equipped to handle as many as 7,500 persons for this event.

Promoters also said that all the participants had been contacted Thursday, and that the fighters had given their assurances that they were ready for action.

Hold Final Drills

LaVern Roach, Howell Steen, Gene James and Bill Henderson tapered off their workouts Thursday with light drills at Lubbock. Other participants were scheduled to arrive in Plainview before weigh-in time at noon today.

Here is the complete card:

Middleweights, four rounds — Leonard Duncan, Hale Center, vs. Jimmy Boggs, Dallas.

Heavyweights, four rounds—J. D. Kirkpatrick, Petersburg, vs. Gene James, Lubbock.

Welterweights, six rounds—Hubert Gray, Wichita Falls, vs. Jerry Sargent, New Orleans.

Lightweights, 10 rounds — Bill Henderson, Levelland, vs. Freddie Maes, Denver, Colo.

O. J. (Bo) Sexton, of Lubbock, will be the referee.

The opening bout is scheduled to start at 8:30 p.m. A blow-by-blow broadcast of all fights will be carried on a South Plains radio network which includes stations KSEL, Lubbock; KVOP, Plainview, and KLVT, Levelland.

Tickets are priced at $3.75, $2.75 and $1.75.

Sports Take Second Spot In Texas Loop

(By The Associated Press)

Fort Worth and Dallas suffered the same rude treatment from their hosts in the Texas league last night. It didn't damage Fort Worth greatly, but the Eagles lost some more altitude.

Both teams got beaten, 7-5. Seventh-place Beaumont defeated the Cats. Shreveport dropped the Eagles. This put the Sports in second place, one percentage point ahead of Dallas. Fort Worth is two and a half games ahead of both teams.

Oklahoma City handed San Antonio the same kind of pasting, only more so. The Indians grabbed a 7-2 victory.

The game at Houston was rained out.

The rains came at Beaumont, too, but didn't stay long enough for Fort Worth. The cats stood by while their first game was washed out, but the rain ended in time for Beaumont to get in its licks—12 solid hits—in the second game.

Five of the Exporters' runs came unearned in the sixth inning when Fort Worth Third Baseman Bob Bundy erred a couple of times. Tommy Upton and Johnny Hernandez helped out with triples.

The sixth was Shreveport's big inning, too. Bill Sarni hit a three-run homer, an another score topped it off. Moe Santemauro had homered in the fifth to get the Sports rolling. Buck Frierson and Jerry Witte hit eighth-inning homers for Dallas. It was Witte's 29th of the year.

Phillies Shut Out Cardinals, 1 To 0

BY JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Boston's Bill Southworth couldn't see Ken Heintzelman when he selected his all-star pitchers. Southworth has nothing on the batters. They can't see him either.

The 33-year-old southpaw, who is making a contender of the once-feeble Philadelphia Phillies, is pitching the best ball in the National league. He is tied for most victories with 11. He has lost only three. Manager Eddie Sawyer hates to think where his fourth place Phils would be without him.

Phils Blank Cards

Easily enjoying his best season in the majors, Ken has been especially rough on the first division clubs. He holds four decisions over the league leading Brooklyn Dodgers, three over runner-up St. Louis, and one over third place Boston.

Heintzelman further embarrassed Southworth last night when he pitched the Phils to a 1-0 victory over Max Lanier and the Cardinals. It was his third shutout and his second by a 1-0 markin. He blanked the Braves and Chicago Cubs previously.

His 11th victory, which incidentally tied his best previous winning total, resulted when outfielder Del Ennis crashed his 13th home run with one out in the last half of the ninth. The victory advanced the Phils to within one game of the Braves, who were beaten by the Cubs, 3-2.

Dodgers Nose Reds

The defeat dropped the Redbirds a game and a half behind the Dodgers, who nosed out the Cincinnati Reds, 6-5, in a 10-inning struggle after tying the score in the ninth with two runs. A single by Marv Rackley and a double by Billy Cox, both off relief Pitcher Ewell Blackwell, gave the Dodgers their seventh straight triumph over the Reds at Ebbets field.

Dutch Leonard, the Cubs' hard-luck knuckleballer, finally won a close one. At that, he had to bat in the winning run himself with a single in the eighth. The blow scored Frank Gustine and broke a 2-2 tie. Vern Bickford, trying for his 12th victory for the Braves, was charged with his fifth defeat.

Johnny Mize clouted his 14th home run with one on in the first inning to lead the New York Giants to a 4-3 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates. All National league games thus ended in one-run margins.

Red Sox Win Again

The New York Yankees, Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox won their games as the Yankees retained their American league lead of five and a half games over the Indians.

Allie Reynolds, who has suddenly found the secret of finishing games, not only went the route for the second straight time, but shut out the St. Louis Browns, 5-0. Joe DiMaggio and Gene Woodling drove in two runs apiece.

Bob Lemon won his 10th game for the Indians and rookie Shortstop Ray Boone drove in three runs with a home run and long fly as the Tribe won its ninth game in the last 10 starts with a 7-1 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics. The slumping A's dropped their sixth in a row.

Joe Dobson pitched the Red Sox to their eighth straight victory as Joe McCarthy's forces turned back the Detroit Tigers, 5-3. Al Zarilla cracked a two-run homer for the victors. The triumph advanced the Bosox to within a half game of the third place Mackmen.

Three bases on balls, an error by Eddie Robinson and George Metkovich's bases-loaded single gave the Chicago White Sox four runs in the third inning and helped them defeat the Washington Senators, 6-2. Sam Mele batted in both Senator runs.

All games were played at night.

Longview Takes Lead In East Texas Race

(By The Associated Press)

Longview took over first-place in the East Texas baseball league last night, polishing off Gladewater, 4-0.

Marshall dropped to second as Paris gained a 2-1 decision over the erstwhile leaders.

Bryan beat Kilgore, 4-3, and Tyler edged Henderson, 8-6.

Right hander Alex Balais turned in a nifty three-hit pitching job for Longview's victory. Four double plays by Longview helped with the shutout.

Paris' Jack Crow cracked a homer to give the Panthers their decision. George Yanen hurled two-hit ball for Paris, and Jim Upchurch gave up four as he went the route for Marshall.

Third baseman Rex Throop drove in three runs to provide Bryan's winning margin.

Between the Lines by Joe Kelly

Plainview will be the center of attraction to boxing fans tonight, when a five-bout card will be unveiled at the Bar None Rodeo Grounds. Jaycees, promoting the fights, hope for a capacity crowd of 7,500, but it looks now as though they were about 3,000 short of that figure. Despite that, fight fans should be well rewarded for the money they expend. There shouldn't be a dull moment at any time throughout the fights and all the men taking part in the bouts appear to be well-matched. Running hastily down the list, we'll go along with Leonard Duncan, J. D. Kirkpatrick, Hubert Gray, LaVern Roach and Bill Henderson to win their fights.

News last night that Gil Johnson, the passing ace of Southern Methodist university, had agreed to turn pro came as more than a little bit of a shock. Johnson, for all the limelight centered on Doak Walker, still had a lot to do with the greatness of the Pony attack. His aerials were deadly and opposing teams feared the accuracy of his strong right arm. Even though they knew what was coming when he went into the lineup, they usually could do little to stop his accurate passing. Coach Matty Bell, known as Moaning Matty, has genuine cause to weep and wail now. Loss of Johnson will hurt his attack.

But there's one big ray of sunshine left. Matty still has the Doaker and Kyle Rote. The latter should come into his own this year and by the time he's a senior, especially with Walker gone, Rote should be a lot of something pretty great. He showed that he has what it takes last fall and the combination of Walker and Rote is expected to set the Southwest Conference on fire. And don't forget that Walker is a little better than average as a passer himself. We expect Matty to moan and cry, all of which won't stop him from coming up with one of the most dangerous teams in the conference.

When the Pampa Oilers of Manager "Shinkicker" Seitz arrive in Lubbock Sunday afternoon, Hubber fans will see a lot of new faces. Before the season began, Seitz said that all he needed was one veteran pitcher to have a first place club. He stated that he had the strongest team, in his opinion, that he had ever managed. Yet Grover has had to do what every other club in the league has done to a great extent—experiment, hire, fire, shift and re-shift. Such names as Everett at third base, Engel in leftfield, Gustovich in rightfield, Warren catching and Martin pitching were not on the roster May 2-3.

Albuquerque and Lubbock probably have made fewer changes than any other club once the season got underway. The Hubbers lost Chick Fowler from the outfield, but the infield stayed intact. The pitching staff changed considerably, may change more. People didn't think much of the infield. They couldn't believe that Jim Prince ever would take the place of Virgil Richardson. Yet he has, and has done a better job of it. Jackie Sullivan may be having a bad year at the plate, but he's still fielding well. Nelson Davis is better than Jackie Wilcox, both in the field and at the plate. And Buddy McCallum is the equal of Frank McAlexander in the field.

Ralph Bumpass was in the office and we queried him about going to the National Softball Congress tournament in Plainview next Wednesday. Ralph said that he talked with the Plainview men promoting the tourney, suggesting that since the Blue-Beamers are considered to play a somewhat faster brand of ball than most teams around here, it wouldn't be fair to enter the Blue-Beamers. The answer from Plainview was terse and to the point. In effect, it was "We don't want weak sisters in the tournament. We want the best. And if the others can't win, it's too bad, but we want to see the teams with ability here." With that kind of spirit, you know the tournament is going to be a success.

Saturday night when San Angelo brought its softball team to Lubbock for a pair of whitewashings, we had a chance to talk with Marcus Welch, official league statistician. Marcus showed us the proposed ball for the new Texas Softball league, which will be in operation next year. It's about half the size of the present softball and not quite twice as big as a baseball. It's as light as a feather. The pitcher can get a much tighter grip on the ball; the batter should also be able to hit it much farther. But with fences, bases and pitcher's mound moved back, it ought to be even. Ralph Bumpass immediately suggested using the ball before the end of the season to test it and Lubbock probably will figure in its trial.

THE ROUNDUP: Glad to see that signs near Texas Tech have been repainted and the 1949 grid schedule posted . . . Tech's Red Raiders will make only one trip by air this fall, by Braniff to Houston . . . Herb Parsons, the gun expert, will be back in Lubbock next Tuesday . . . When Buddy McCallum scored in the first inning Wednesday night against Albuquerque, it was the 600th run of the year for the Hubbers . . . And when Walt Stenborg doubled home one run, it again gave the Hubber pitching staff the novelty of having every pitcher driving in at least one run . . . This is the worst road trip of the year for the Hubbers . . . Willie Pep won a close, but unanimous decision over Jean Mougin of Paris, France, in Syracuse, N. Y., Tuesday night. The decision was booed . . . The 1908 White Sox hit only three home runs in 156 games!

Murphey Gets Tourney Win

The field is being narrowed in the Lubbock Country club championship golf tournament, and two more days remain before the winner is decided.

Tom Murphey took a 2 and 1 decision over Bill Bartley yesterday, winning the match on the 17th hole, to advance to the quarter-finals. Meanwhile Kay Bradshaw was having a tough match with John Trout, winning a 1-up victory.

A double victory was scored by M. R. Tripp in championship consolation, as he defeated Bill Overton, 5 and 4, and then went on to down Bruce Kattmann in a very tough match, 1-up in 20 holes. Both victories came on the same round of the threesome.

A 1-up victory by George Carter over John Raley moved Carter into the quarter-finals in the first flight, and in his first match of first flight consolation Preston Cochran won a 2 and 1 decision over Dr. R. T. Canon.

Quarter-final rounds must be completed by tonight, and semi-finals will be played Saturday. On Sunday all finals will be seen, and the new club champion will be crowned. Defending champion is Chick Trout, sr., and he is opposed by Bradshaw in the third round of play.

Thursday's matches follow:

Championship Flight — Kay Bradshaw over John Trout, 1-up; Tom Murphey beat Bill Bartley, 2 and 1.

Championship Consolation—M. R. Tripp downed Bill Overton, 5 and 4, and Bruce Kattmann, 1-up; Ross Mitchell eliminated J. D. Hinson, 4 and 3; and Ted Tippe ousted Don Mitchell.

First Flight Consolation—E. H. Armstrong dropped J. B. McCauley, jr., 2 and 1.

Third Flight—Dr. P. K. Palmer took Jack Stone, 2 and 1.

Fourth Flight—Dick Green nosed Cliff Cummings, 1-up; and Don Furr outshot George Livermore, 2 and 1.

Frankie Parker To Battle Flam Today

CHICAGO, July 15 (AP)—Frankie Parker wields his racquet against formidable Herb Flam, of Beverly Hills, Calif., today in a semi-final match of the national city courts tennis championships at suburban River Forest.

Parker, five times winner of the title, romped to victory yesterday over Jack Tuero, the national intercollegiate champion from Tulane university in a quarter-final match 6-1, 6-0, 6-2. Flam took a straight set decision from Hugh Stewart, Pasadena, Calif., 6-2, 7-5, 6-2.

Topseeded is Richard (Pancho) Gonzales, also of Los Angeles, are favorites to meet in the finals.

Grand Jury Probe Opened On Dallas Communist Activities

DALLAS, July 15. (U.P.)—A Dallas county grand jury today opened an investigation of Communist party activities.

A qualified source said that at least a dozen persons had been called to give testimony. Some of them failed to appear and warrants were issued for their arrest.

The grand jury's decision to study the Communist party apparently stemmed from its investigation of a recent incident in which a negro cafe worker was allegedly beaten by his white employer.

Sanders Missing

Red pamphleteers came into the open then for the first time in Dallas to admit the existence of a party cell.

They charged "Ku Kluxism" and "police brutality and oppression" in the case of 18-year-old Bennie Sanders, the negro. They also claimed Sanders was beaten "brutally" by his employer and two other white men.

A check of hospital records showed that Sanders was treated for minor bruises and released immediately without hospitalization. His employer said he had a fight with Sanders as a result of remarks which Sanders had directed at some women customers. This occurred last month.

Police and other authorities said they have been trying ever since to find Sanders for his version of the incident, but Chief of Police Carl Hansson said the youth could not be located.

Pamphlets Found

The pamphlets were signed by "the Communist party of Dallas" and a batch of them were found in an abandoned car. They called the Sanders case a "near lynching."

The current Dallas county grand jury panel has a negro member. It was learned on reliable authority that it was his idea to abandon the Sanders case investigation, at least for the time being, to take up the broader implications of Communist activity, especially in the field of race relations.

Anniversary

immediate and adequate fire fighting apparatus and know-how could not be over emphasized.

After local employ quenched a minor fire the Lubbock fire department was called to the scene. Within three minutes of the time they received the initial call, Fire Chief W. E. Twitty and his men driving six pieces of modern equipment, arrived on the scene.

Simulating an actual fire the department ran out their hoses, coupled them to hydrants and proceeded to completely cover the dock storage area. Any fire would have been brought under control within a few minutes with such a large amount of water being emyployed, the chief said.

Underwood pointed out that at each of the company's plants some 30 or 40 employes live within a hundred yards of where they work and all answer the fire siren when it blows. Many of those attending the demonstration today were employes who might be called on to battle flames in their own warehouses.

Encircling the Lubbock warehouse are two pipe systems. Each system has rydrants and outlets at regular intervals around the plant and all have standard fittings on which to attach the hoses.

Following the barbecue the visitors watched a demonstration of the mammoth compressing machine. Weighing 300,000 pounds and capable of exerting a pressure of 2,000 tons the machine has an 80 inch, steam operated cylinder. Maximum output is about 150 bales per hour with best operating speed at 110 bales per hour.

Sam Langford, manager of the Plainview plant, told the audience of his experience last winter when fire broke out in a 4,000 bale storage dock. "Practice, experience and equipment saved the company from all but minor loss," Langford said. "Such practice demonstrations as presented here today show what can be done while awaiting the arrival of municipal fire fighting machines."

Demonstrations of bale handling machines to lift and stack the heavy bales and loading devices were also held.

The West Texas company operates compresses at Big Spring, Brownfield, Ralls, Littlefield, Slaton, Tahoka, Plainview, Quanah, Childress and Lamesa. In addition the firm operates a score of warehouses in other towns and cities.

Among those attending today were Dow Ernst, manager of the Manchester Terminal company; Alfred Bessell, Gulf Cotton Warehouse company, both of Houston; Leland Dennis, president of the Cotton Concentration company; Galveston; D. E. Baker; Memphis; Sidney Briggs, Rainey Williams, Palmer Brice, W. E. Dobbs, Dallas; Travis Bryan, A. Fred Renaud, G. C. Whiteside, Houston; Walter Dossett and Spencer Brown, Waco; Charles Brillhart, O. A. Reese, Ft. Worth; Alex Clark, T. E. Collins, A. J. Anderson, Dallas; Ben Frazier, J. B. Willmuth, Washington, D. Action of the steel group was not uniform. Because some closed with fractional losses.

The market generally finished with a scramble for minor advances and declines.

Higher prices were paid for U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Republic, National, Chrysler, Caterpillar Tractor, Allied Chemical, Coca-Cola, Northern Pacific, Nickel Plate, Superior Oil, and Eastern Air Lines.

Lower were General Motors, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Lockheed, Western Union, Anaconda Copper, Phelps Dodge, American Woolen, International Paper, Southern Pacific, Sinclair Oil, and Twentieth Century-Fox.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, July 15 (AP) — Cotton futures were irregular in slow trading today. Scattered commission house and New Orleans profit taking was absorbed through trade buying, mostly for mill account, and short covering. Nearby deliveries were under light selling pressure.

Short covering rallied the market near the close with prices moving into new high ground for the day.

Futures closed 15 to 55 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

cal instrument, dramatic reading or giving a talk on the career wished to be pursued.

Miss Hutchings, a member of the Little theater and dance director of last year's varsity show at Tech, plans to tap dance.

Winner of the Jaycee-sponsored contest here will compete for the title of Miss Texas at Port Arthur Aug. 5. A complete wardrobe and $500 cash will be given to the Lone Star beauty of the year.

Miss Texas will then to go Atlantic City, N. J., to compete for $25,000 in scholarship prizes and the title of Miss America in the Miss America Pageant Sept. 10.

Jeff Lewis, jr., Jaycee publicity chairman of the project, said entry blanks can be obtained at the Jaycee office on the second floor of the city hall.

"Remember," says Lewis, "Miss America lives in Texas; let's find her."

Steel Strike

Compelled To Follow

"We feel we are being compelled to follow in order to avoid a strike," Fairless declared.

But, he added:

"We do not wish, if it can possibly be avoided, to have our production of steel stopped, and our employes deprived of the opportunity to work for the next 60 days under the terms of our present labor contracts, with attendant hardship to the communities in which they reside.

Many of the smaller steel companies already had taken up the President's proposal.

One of the bigger ones—Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co.—announced its acceptance about the same time as Bethlehem. It, too, emphasized that it would not be bound by the board's recommendations.

Will Not Be Bound

Inland Steel company went along with Youngstown. Clarence B. Randall, Inland president, wired Ching the company will accept but also emphasized it will not be bound by the findings. John Jeneske, international representative for the USW in the area said he believes this "will be acceptable" but awaited word from USW President Philip Murray before committing the union definitely not to strike.

U. S. Steel, which had asked the President to modify his plan, got a flat refusal from Mr. Truman.

Cyrus S. Ching, under instructions of the President, called President Benjamin F. Fairless of the U. S. Steel Corp. early this morning and informed him that Fairless's request for a fact-finding board without power to recommend a settlement could not be granted. Ching is director of the U. S. Conciliation Service.

The million-member union was poised for a walkout against all steel firms refusing to go along with the President's recommended plan. But only a maximum of about 315,000 workers were due to leave their jobs tonight in the first wave of the scheduled strike.

Union locals had their strike orders from CIO President Philip Murray. One major instruction was that no Communists were to be allowed to capitalize on the strike. Murray is fighting "reds" in his own steelworkers union and in the CIO.

West Texas Gas Firm Granted Rate Boost

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—A rate increase for natural gas sold by West Texas Gas company, Lubbock, Tex., to Union Gas company, Dallas, was approved by the power commission yesterday.

The increase was made retroactive to Dec. 1, 1948. It was proposed by West Texas because of a shortage of gas resulting from recent cut backs in production by the Texas Railroad commission.

West Texas said they were forced to buy some gas from El Paso Natural Gas company at an increased cost in order to make delivery to Union gas.

Slayer Executed In Washington Prison

WALLA WALLA, Wash., July 15 (AP)—Jake Bird, who hacked a trail of slaughter across the country, died on the gallows of the Washington state penitentiary at 12:20 a. m. (PST) today. He was hanged for the ax murder of Mrs. Bertha Kludt Oct. 30, 1947, in Tacoma, Wash.

The trap was sprung at 12:06. Fourteen minutes later, Dr. Elmer Hill, prison physician, pronounced the 48-year-old negro dead.

Farm Products Urged On ECA

WASHINGTON, July 15. (AP)—Sponsors retreated 10 per cent today but otherwise stuck by their plan to force the buying of nearly $2,000,000,000 worth of surplus farm crops for the foreign aid program.

Senator Maybank (D-SC) told a reporter an amendment which put the freeze provision in the foreign aid money bill probably will be softened. He figured the softening would take into account the over-all 10 per cent fund cut made by the appropriations committee.

Cotton One Item

Thus the partial retreat would still have the effect of requiring the Economic Cooperation administration and the Army to buy about $1,800,000,000 in farm surpluses this year, tying down the funds tightly.

Maybank indicated that sponsors aren't giving up the idea of requiring specified purchases, despite strong opposition by administration leaders. ECA Administrator Paul G. Hoffman and three farm organizations. As it was approved by the committee, the amendment would make the ECA and Army buy all of the cotton, tobacco, wheat and other crops they had estimated would be needed when President Truman's budget was made up last year.

"All we want is a fair deal for farm commodities as against industry," Maybank said. "We just want to be sure that all of the cuts in funds aren't taken out of farm purchases."

ABC Is Entertained By Dancing Troupe

The American Business club today was treated to an eight-act floor show presented by a troupe from the Larrymore Dancing studios at a luncheon meeting at Hilton hotel.

A giant-sized performance by two mite-sized, formal clad jitterbugs, June and Tommy Bragg, received the loudest round of applause.

Other performers were Lynda and Sally Phillips, Donna and Judy Biggers, Betty Jo Moore, Jane Adamson, Frances Johnson, Linda Marshall, Kay Kinard, Nancy Walsh, Sue Dickson, Sue Ann Moore, Patsy Pointer, Margie Dell Wiggins, Rosa Beth Gilmore and John Pointer.

Ralph McAbee demonstrated several card tricks prior to the floor show.

George Dale, president, announced appointment of W. B. Rushing to the operational board of the Boys club and B. Watkins to the board of Boys Club incorporated.

E. O. Stewart was program chairman and Paul Willis gave the invocation. Guests included Bill Foster, Jerry Parvis, Bob Renner and Ross Hester.

tended for 30 days.

The two struck companies, which are jointly owned, normally carry about 1,125,000 passengers a day.

The big Omnibus Corp., operates some 800 buses over 21 Manhattan routes. The Fifth Avenue Coach Co.'s 280 buses, including the famed double-deckers, run on nine lines in Manhattan and Queens.

When reporters asked Quill if there was a possibility the strike might spread to still other bus systems in the city, he said:

"The lid is off. Anything can happen now. This may last a long time."

At a meeting of 700 key union members last night, enthusiastic approval was given to the strike action, and plans were made for a rally this afternoon to organize mass picket lines.

Purchase Of Site For Hotel Slated

LEVELLAND, July 15. (Special)—Purchase of a site and selection of an architect are the next steps in Levelland's community hotel project, and stockholders are privately expressing the opinion that work might actually get under way by late fall.

Paul Musslewhite has been named temporary chairman of the tentative board of directors for the proposed corporation in a recent organizational meeting of the body.

Other officers, all in a temporary capacity until the charter for the corporation is issued, include Dr. C. M. Phillips, vice president; R. H. Hester, treasurer; and Sam Billingsley, secretary.

Weather Report

George Bean, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Bean of 3207 Twenty-eighth, suffered sulphuric acid burns in both eyes and face at noon Thursday while working on a pipeline near Sundown. He was taken to Lubbock Memorial hospital, where he was reported to be resting well today. Attendants said his vision will not be permanently impaired.

The annual meeting of the Lubbock county chapter of the American Red Cross will be conducted at 10 a. m. Monday at Red Cross headquarters, 1513 Ave. K and will be open to the public, as well as members of the board and chairmen of groups within the chapter, it was announced today.

Mrs. A. G. Odom has returned from Austin where she attended the funeral of her brother, George R. Dorroh. Her granddaughter, Mrs. J. B. Clark of Lubbock and Mrs. Robert Gray of Midland accompanied her. Mrs. Gray and children are remaining here for a few days.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a. m. Saturday at Weatherford for Elmo Davis, 70, former Lubbock resident, who died Thursday at his home there. Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Eunice Tuttle and Mrs. Edith Palmer, both of Lubbock; four sons, M. D., E. L., and W. M., all of Lubbock, and Max Davis of Weatherford; 10 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services for W. H. Mc-Illwain, 59, who died at 6 p. m. Wednesday at his home on Lubbock route 4, this morning were set for 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Asbury Methodist church, Rix Funeral home reported this afternoon. Members of W.O.W. will be honorary pallbearers. Mr. McIllwain had been a resident of Lubbock 15 years. He was a farmer and carpenter.

Funeral services are pending for Jesslyn Hart 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hart of Phoenix, Ariz., who died Thursday night in a hospital in that city. She had been ill for several months. The young girl, who had visited in Lubbock on several occasions, was a niece of Miss Ruth Zimmerman, 1608 Ave. W.

Lubbock Naval Reservists To Leave Tonight For Cruise In Caribbean

A cruise through sunny Caribbean waters will be enjoyed by ten Lubbock young men, members of Lubbock's organized Naval Reserve unit, who are scheduled to leave by pullman car at 6:25 o'clock this afternoon.

The men will go to New Orleans and report aboard a destroyer for a 14-day cruise to Central and South American waters, during which they will get opportunities to go ashore in foreign ports.

The cruise is one of many continuously open to Naval Reservists throughout the year. The men receive full pay and allowances for the two weeks period and their travel expenses are paid by the Navy.

Those in the party leaving this afternoon are Charles M. McCollum, 2221 Thirteenth; James H. Wallace, 1115 Thirty-first; William D. Draper, 904 Fortieth, William R. DeSpain, 2208 Twenty-fourth; Booth H. Robbins, 3608 Jackson; Marshall A. Pharr, 2608 Twenty-second; Johnnie W. McWhorter, 2223 Twenty-seventh; Billy B. Hamilton, Lubbock route 2; Newell H. Baldwin, 2210 Twenty-third; and William H. Hicks, 2619 Twentieth.

Attempt At Suicide Is Painful Failure

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., July 15 (U.P.)—August Sommers, 17, Marysville, Mont., was recovering in a hospital today after his suicide plans went awry.

Sommers ate a boxful of sleeping pills, washed them down with iodine, slashed his throat and wrists with a razor, slugged himself over the head with a hammer and an axe, and tried to strangle himself with a necktie.

GOP To Reply To HST's Talk

WASHINGTON, July 15. (AP)—Republican congressmen are going on the air to reply to President Truman's economic report to the nation.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) is scheduled to speak over the Mutual Broadcasting company network from 9:45 to 10 p. m. (EST) tonight. His subject will be "Dangerous Taxation."

Time Is Requested

The time was made available, Mutual said, at the request of the GOP national committee which yesterday announced it was seeking equal facilities to those used by Mr Truman. It called the speech an attack on the 80th Congress.

The President's broadcast Wednesday night was carried on all major radio and television networks.

Replies Are Planned

The Columbia Broadcasting system said it had offered Senator Wherry (R-Neb) an opportunity to discuss the issues raised by the President from 10:15 to 10:30 p. m. (EST) Saturday. The network said the senator had not replied to the offer.

Plans of the American Broadasting company and the National Broadcasting company were not immediately available.

The committee announcement said House Minority Leader Martin of Massachusetts and Rep. Reed (R-NY) also were understood to be planning radio replies to the President's address.

Secret Meeting

the foreign relations and joint atomic committees; Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), a member of both groups and author of the "incredible mismanagement" charges against the Atomic Energy commission (AEC); Rep. Durham (D-NC), vice chairman of the joint committee, and Rep. Cole (R-NY) ranking GOP House member on the committee.

Meeting Not Announced

Chairman David E. Lilienthal of the AEC; Joseph Volpe, jr., AEC general counsel, and two unidentified men.

Both the areas of speculation—and the mystery—were enhanced by an accumulating number of facts, none of which supplied any definite answers. Among them:

1. That the conference itself was never announced officially, but only acknowledged by Mr. Truman at his press conference after the news already had seeped out.

2. That the conference was held in the evening at Blair House, instead of during the day at the White House.

3. That the White House imposed a "no pictures" ban and the White House press office declared there was no statement to be forthcoming.

4. That the usual jovial Vice President Barkley was grim-faced, and Senator Tydings was cryptic to an unusual extent.

5. That, as it was disclosed eventually, there was a "gentlemen's agreement" that no one but the President would say anything.

Questions Brushed Off

Mr. Truman walked to the door with the last two to leave—Secretaries Acheson and Johnson.

He was smiling as he chatted with them briefly in the anteroom, in sharp contrast to Barkley's stern features and the sharp tone with which the vice president told questioners:

"Not a damn thing," which he later withdrew and changed to "I've got no statement. There will be no statement from anybody except the President, if he makes one."

Senator McMahon followed this with the remark that "any statement will come from the President," and Lilienthal sounded the same note: "If there is anything to say, the President will say it."

General Eisenhower was asked what he made of the affair. "It's a hot evening and rainy," he replied pleasantly and set out for his car.

Acheson contributed a curt "no statement," and told a questioner he didn't know whether the President would make one.

Tydings, who left the meeting early because of a cold, was asked if Russia and the atomic bomb was involved. He said he "wouldn't think so." Later he told reporters they wouldn't want a news "beat" because "you would not print it if you had it for the good of the country."

6. A broad-scale study of prices, wages and profits and how to keep them in tune.

Bogus Check Suspect Will Be Quizzed In Amarillo Slaying

AMARILLO, July 15. (U.P.)—An alleged bogus check artist being held in Arizona today became the newest suspect in the W. A. (Tex) Thornton murder case.

A man and woman held for two days in Wichita Falls were cleared of any implication in the June 22 slaying of Thornton in an Amarillo tourist court and released last night.

Man To Be Quized

Amarillo authorities said a 29-year-old man being held in the Phoenix, Ariz., jail would be questioned about the case.

Sheriff Cal Boies of Phoenix telephoned Sheriff Paul Gaither in Amarillo that Glenn Scott Thornton had said that he "knew something about the Amarillo murder."

Wanted In Texas

But, Bois said, "Thornton didn't say which one, and he's playing cagey, so we're letting him think things out."

Glenn Scott Thornton, held in the Arizona city for passing bad checks and wanted in Amarillo and other Texas Panhandle cities for the same offense, is no kin to the murder victim, a famous oilfield troubleshooter.

Gaither said, "we're going to follow this lead out to the end, although it doesn't look like much right now. This man Thornton is of too big build, I think, to fit the description of the murderer."

Farmer Lives To Tell About Being Hit By Lightning While Plowing In Field

HART, July 15. (U.P.)—A bolt of lightning struck and "killed" Harold Wall yesterday, but he was around today to talk about it.

Wall, 23, was driving a tractor on a farm near here when the lightning struck him. He was knocked out of the driver's seat, but did not fall clear of the tractor.

It dragged him in a circle around the field, probably two or three times his neighbors said, before he was extricated.

Taken To Plainview

Jack Bradley, one of three neighbors who found and rescued him, said Wall's heart was not beating audibly. Bradley and the others applied artificial respiration and sent for an ambulance.

When it arrived later, Wall was breathing laboriously. He was taken to a hospital in Plainview, where attendants said today he was in fair condition, suffering from burns, bruises and lacerations.

Atlantic Pact

such limitations and definitions as will best meet the present emergency and likewise serve as a continuing support for the objectives of the United Nations."

The effect of such a move would be to make the United States protector of western Europe.

It was in 1823 that President James Monroe announced his famous Monroe doctrine — a warning to Europe the United States would permit no meddling in the affairs of the American continents.

Flanders said an extension of the doctrine would give western Europe the assurance of protection it needs — but would not bind the United States to the "obligations of details."

The resolution is part of a program backed by Flanders and nine other senators to broaden the North Atlantic pact into a world alliance — if the veto is not eliminated from the United Nations charter.

As the treaty debate entered its ninth day, Majority Leader Lucas of Illinois was hopeful of getting a final treaty vote early next week.

Almost from the first day of debate, the Senate has been snarled in an argument over the legal and moral commitments contained in the treaty.

Warning To Russia

Connally told the Senate the United States would assume some obligations by ratifying the treaty. But he insisted "we are not going to give away to foreign nations what we need for our own defenses and protection."

Senator Mundt (R-SD) — A supporter of the Flanders' world alliance plan — said he would accept the pact reluctantly. Failure to approve the treaty now, he said, might be used by Russia "to overthrow some of the non-Communist governments of Europe."

Senator Morse (R-Ore) said this treaty will make it clear to Premier Stalin that "when he moves he has picked a fight."

Concert Violinist And Wife Arrested

SEYMOUR, July 15. (U.P.)—Arthur C. Webb, concert violinist of Abilene known professionally as Todd Webb, and his wife were being held here today on felony forgery complaints, following their arrest last night in Cisco.

Four check forgery complaints also were filed in justice of the peace court in Eastland against the couple today.

Authorities said the pair was wanted in at least 15 towns and cities over Texas on check forgery charges.

Barefoot Burglar Sought By Sheriff

CORSICANA, July 15. (U.P.)—Navarro county Sheriff David Castles searched today for a barefoot burglar who picks on rural homes to filch pocketbooks while the owners sleep.

In a half-dozen strikes, the burglar has collected an estimated $1,700 in cash and checks. About the only clue thus far has been barefoot prints outside the homes he has entered.

Police said that so far as they have been able to determine, the burglar has moved inside the city limits only once. They were not sure this particular burglar was barefooted.

Quiet Reported After Threats

CENTERVILLE, July 15 (AP)—Sheriff Ben Lee, who reported his life threatened since he shot a man to death, said today he thought the "situation has about simmered down."

The Leon county sheriff said yesterday that "no threats have been made to my face, but I have learned of them." He said that as a result he asked for highway patrol and Texas ranger protection. He said eight patrolmen and a ranger patrolled streets here since the shooting Saturday; until "the patrolmen went to attend the governor's funeral."

Inquest Verdict Given

He said he couldn't say whether they would return today.

Lee said he shot Tom Bill Featherstone, 29, Saturday during a scuffle. He said he was trying to arrest Featherstone for "disturbing the peace and being drunk."

Justice of the Peace P. L. Cochran of Buffalo, said that about 8 p. m. Saturday—some three hours after the shooting—he returned an inquest verdict of "justifiable homicide by shooting."

He said that Sheriff Lee was charged before him with murder without malice and was released at an examining trial without bond on his own recognizance.

Women Pay Fines

Two women arrested by county and state officers Thursday night were released upon payment of $100 vagrancy fines and costs of $14.15 each. An El Paso man who was with them was fined a similar amount. He also was charged with vagrancy.

"Amarillo is waging war on its thugs," one official announced. "This town will fill up with Amarillo police characters if we don't keep an eye out for them. We plan to file vagrancy charges against all known persons who come here seeking refuge from police restrictions somewhere else."

Fines and costs totaling $588.70 were assessed in the justice court of C. E. Lynn and D. W. Robertson late Thursday when 18 men arrested by the same county and state officers pleaded guilty of gambling.

The raid was on the upstairs room of a residence at 1320 Ninth.

Red Attack On U. S. Policies Assailed

TOKYO, July 15 (U.P.)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur today branded Russian attacks on American policy in Japan "fantastically untrue." He said they stem from "Soviet frustration in its nefarious plot to absorb Japan into the Soviet orbit of influence."

The allied occupation commander accused the Soviets of attempting through a small minority to turn the progressive tide in Japan "by disorder and violence" in favor of the Russian "totalitarian concept of despotic force."

He was referring to recent statements by Alexander Panyushkin, Soviet ambassador in Washington, that present labor tactics in Japan are making it "a police state."

EXCOMMUNICATION MEANING GIVEN

New Catholic Church Order Is Significant To Faithful

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 15.—A Roman Catholic believes that if he follows his church's teaching and is truly sorry for his sins he will, after his death on earth, live forever in heaven.

He is also taught that if he disobeys the church and dies without repentance, he not only loses all hope of heaven forever but will suffer damnation, or eternal torment.

That is why there is such terrible significance, in the mind of a Catholic, in the order of the Catholic church this week excommunicating any Catholic who helps Communism in any way anywhere.

Excommunication cuts a Catholic off from the church entirely and if, while still excommunicated, he dies without true repentance, he will suffer eternal damnation. That's the Catholic belief.

Order Covers Future

This was the explanation of the order as given here by a Catholic theologian:

The help a Catholic henceforth is forbidden to give Communism, under pain of excommunication, covers a number of things:

Belonging to a Communist party anywhere in the world, helping Communism in any way, such as voting for party members or contributing to party funds; or even reading Communist literature or newspapers.

But the excommunication covers the future, not the past. A Catholic who has been a Communist party member for years—say in Poland or New York—is not now excommunicated for that past action.

But from this moment—or, rather, as soon as he learns of the church's order—he must quit the party or be excommunicated.

Salvation Possible

But a Catholic who now defies the order, as mentioned earlier, is automatically excommunicated and will be damned foreven—if he dies without true repentance.

That phrase—"if he dies without true repentance"—will have the gravest importance for any Catholic defying the order because in the future he can avoid damnation and save himself in one of two ways.

1. By confessing to a priest that he is truly sorry.

2. Or, if he's dying and has no time to see a priest, by saying, if only to himself, that he is truly sorry.

(The church teaches that God knows a man's most secret thoughts and so knows whether a dying man is truly sorry for what he's done.

Deception Ruled Out

(So, if there's true repentance in a dying man's mind, God would let him enter heaven even though no one on earth ever knew the man was repentant before his death.)

But the church holds that to be truly sorry means just that: true repentance.

Suppose a man told a priest he was truly sorry but wasn't and only said he was because he wanted the priest to forgive him so he could enter heaven.

The theologian's explanation continues:

The priest, accepting the man's word as his true feeling, might forgive him. But God, reading his innermost thoughts, would know better.

That man, in spite of the priest's expressed forgiveness, would not be saved because the forgiveness had been obtained by deception.

So suppose a Catholic cynically defies the order now, thinking that at the end of his life, by merely expressing repentance, he can be saved.

That won't save him. Nothing will, except true repentance.

Lamesa Family Has Second Polio Case

(By The Associated Press)

At least three more cases of polio are being treated in Texas today.

Lamesa reported its second case of the week Thursday, both from the same family. Shannon York, age two, was taken to an Abilene hospital for treatment. Earlier this week her brother, Roger Gale York, age four, was taken to Abilene.

A ten-year-old girl, Betty Jo Hewett of Pleasant Grove, was stricken with polio while visiting relatives in Dallas. Hers was the first case reported in Hunt county this year.

In Houston a two-year-old Harris county boy was admitted to the polio ward. His case raised the Harris county total for the year to 35 with two deaths. Houston has had 26 cases and two deaths. Houston hospitals also have treated 14 non-county cases, of which one died.

Lamesa Legion Post Names New Officers

LAMESA, July 15 (Special) — New officers have been named by the Allen-Houston post of the American Legion here.

Leon Warden, retiring adjutant of the veterans' organization, has been elected post commander, succeeding J. D. Dyer, jr.

Other new post officials include C. W. Conway, first vice-commander; Earnest Barrett, second vice-commander; E. A. Jones, third vice-commander; Mac Wassell, adjutant; Leonard Bruner, sergeant-at-arms; Joe N. Spikes, welfare officer; R. L. Price, service officer; W. T. Webb, historian; Sam Richardson, chaplain.

Plans are being made for installation of post and auxiliary officers here August 1, with district legion commander W. T. Bridges, Levelland, slated to attend.

A steering committee has been named to plan the installation program, and to launch a membership drive for the local post.

NICE RISK—Because she's a dancer by profession and because she has to ride a spirited horse in a new film role, Joan Taylor, 19, now has a pair of $100,000 legs. Her producer had them insured with Lloyd's of London against injury during shooting of the movie. Here, Joan gives a glimpse of her high-priced underpinning. Statistics of the $100,000 risk: Ankle, seven inches; calf, 10 inches; thigh, 17 inches; length of leg, 32 inches.

Tech Students Start Final Examinations

Students at Texas Technological college began taking final examinations for the first term of summer school today and continue through Saturday, the end of the first half of summer school.

Registration for all students for the second term will be held Monday and classes will begin at 7:30 Tuesday morning. Students who are now enrolled have already preregistered. Officials at the college say that approximately the same amount of students who were enrolled for the first term are expected for the second six weeks.

Recreation Program Features Three Artist Course Numbers

The recreation program for the second term of summer school at Texas Technological college will feature three artist course numbers as well as a dance and movie each week. A highlight of the program will be a dramatic presentation by the college foreign language department.

Dean of Men, James G. Allen who is in charge of the summer recreation program, said a movie would be shown on the Administration building green every Thursday evening and a student dance would be held every Wednesday night in the college recreation hall during the second term.

Program Is Announced

The three artist course numbers will include Blanche and Florence Zuker, a duo-piano team; the original Deep River Singers, a colored quartet which is returning to the college this summer for their third appearance and Richard Dyer-Bennet, a singer of ballads and folk songs.

The Zuker sisters have become well known to large audiences through their appearances for the American Theatre wing during the war and also through concerts, radio and television work. They recently appeared on the program of the White House Correspondent's dinner given in honor of President Truman.

Quartet Included

Meeting with huge success in three past performances, the Deep River Singers will again offer their tunes for the public's entertainment. They will feature a program of songs that includes everything for which colored singers are noted. The quartet has been featured in long runs of Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess" and "Swing Mikado." They always feature such old favorites as "Old Man River," "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" and "Shortnin' Bread" on their programs.

Dyer-Bennet is the second folk song artist to appear here this summer. Born in England this young minstrel has a repertoire of more than 600 English, Scottish, Irish, and American folk songs. This is his third concert tour. Look magazine has said Dyer-Bennet is "a 20th century troubadour packing a hit parade which spans 600 years." His songs range from the English victories at Agincourt to the more modern ballads sung by soldiers in the second world war.

The complete summer program will be as follows: July 20, student dance; July 21, movie, "Margie;" July 22, the Zuker sisters; July 27, student dance; July 28, movie, "Smoky;" July 29, the Deep River singers; Aug. 3, dance; Aug. 4, movie, "Miracle on 34th Street;" Aug. 5, Richard Dyer-Bennet; Aug. 8, dramatic presentation of "Die Wette" by the foreign language department; Aug. 10, student dance and Aug. 11, movie, "Centennial Summer."

Odessa City Manager Relieved Of Duties

ODESSA, July 15. (AP) — City Manager John Wilson was dismissed yesterday by the Odessa city council.

After the meeting, Councilman Cal Smith resigned. Smith, member of the council 16 years, was the only one in favor of retaining Wilson.

Less than a month ago Councilman Bill Hale resigned in a dispute over the hiring of a new police chief.

Yesterday, Frank Riggs was appointed to fill Hale's place.

Huge Budget For U Of T Approved

AUSTIN, July 15 (U.P.)—The University of Texas board of regents has approved a budget of $8,963,242 for the 1949-50 fiscal year, an increase of 6.7 per cent over the budget originally adopted for the current fiscal year.

The total includes $7,996,610 for the university's main branch and $966,632 for extramural divisions.

However, the figure for the next fiscal year does not include self-supporting activities such as intercollegiate athletics and restricted funds.

Basic salary schedules for teachers and other employes will be continued next year at the present scales, it was announced.

In addition to the regular budget, the regents approved an estimated expenditure for the dental branch at Houston of $1,004,580 for the coming year.

Additional expenditures included: M. D. Anderson hospital for cancer research, Houston, $905,934, and the Galveston medical branch, $4,800,000.

Wedding Vows Alter To Fit New Society

WORCESTER, Mass., July 15 (U.P.)—Not the traditional, "so long as you both shall live," but "so long as you both shall love."

That's the way the Rev. Gordon B. McKeeman of All Souls Universalist Church has revised the marriage vow.

He explained that the old version was "antiquated" and does not conform to the "present cultural pattern of society."

Papers Score Spending Cut

LONDON, July 15. (AP)—Britain's plan to slash dollar purchases 25 per cent caused a storm in the London morning press today. All newspapers except the Labor (government) party organ took a dim view.

Sir Stafford Cripps, Britain's economic boss, told the House of Commons yesterday cuts will be made in purchases of cotton, steel, non-ferrous metals, timber, paper, pulp, tobacco and sugar that have to be paid for in dollars.

He said Britain would try to buy them outside the dollar zone.

To which the Conservative Daily Telegraph asked why, if these things could be bought without using dollars, Cripps had not done so earlier.

Action Is Scored

"Alternative sources of supply might be in high-cost non-dollar areas. The result of obtaining them must therefore be to increase our prices and to make the solution of the main problem—reduction of British costs—all the harder."

Britain must buy raw materials to make the goods she sells in dollar areas.

The Times said it was hard to see how dollar-import cuts will "allow industry to keep up its recent rate of business."

Meeting Is Held

The liberal News-Chronicle said: "By cutting our imports of raw materials we are making it much harder to achieve the free play of competition which alone can lead to the greater industrial efficiency which the chancellor (Cripps) asks."

The Communist Daily Worker called for more east-west trade and denounced the "bitter fruits of Britain's tieup with American capitalism."

The labor Daily Herald applauded Cripps' repetition of the government's full employment policy.

Cripps' announcement of the buying cuts to savé Britain's scarce dollars opened a three-day debate on the government's economic policy. A meeting of finance ministers of commonwealth countries is in its third day.

Aged Walkers Spurn Matrimonial Offers

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., July 15 (U.P.)—Two septuagenerians who yearly walk the 14-mile distance between here and Marietta, O., have been besieged by offers of marriage.

But Robert J. Wigal, 78, and "Judge" Dayton, 74, refuse to accept feminine hearts who thrill at the thought of their annual stint which they make easily in about six and a half hours.

Dayton explains he's a bachelor of long standing. Wigal counters offers with the information that he is happily married.

Insane Killer Remorseful And Sunburned After Perching 29 Hours Atop Hospital Watertower

LIMA, O., July 15 (AP) — Raymond Jutila, the demented slayer, was tired and sunburned after his 29 hours atop the state hospital's 130-foot watertower.

He also was happy—and remorseful.

"Doc, I'm awful sorry for all the trouble I've caused you," he told Dr. R. E. Bushong, hospital superintendent.

The 35-year-old insane killer came down yesterday from his perch on top of the watertower at Lima state hospital for the criminal insane. He was happy after being assured "released convicts" would not harm his family.

The Warren, O., man had scampered up the tower Wednesday morning. He refused to come down until protection against "some released convicts was furnished his family.

Telegram Demanded

To assure the "protection," Jutila demanded that Police Chief William Johnson of Warren, send him a telegram. The message, he insisted, had to be delivered by a uniformed Western Union messenger.

When the telegram was delivered, Jutila kept his word. He climbed down the ladder.

The message from Chief Johnson read:

"I have seen your father, mother, sister and wife. They are all o.k. They want you to come down from the tower immediately."

When he reached the ground, Jutila posed silently while news photographers snapped pictures. Then he walked to the hospital.

As a reward, the insane killer was to be permitted today to visit with his mother, Mrs. John Jutila, and a sister, Mrs. Marie Dawson, both of Warren.

Convicted Of Slaying

They had been called yesterday to try to persuade Jutila to come down from his lofty perch. But they arrived after he descended.

When the telegram arrived, Byron Newland, a hospital supervisor who had gained Jutila's trust, climbed up the tower to the first cross-beam with the message. The slayer climbed down to meet him.

They sat together on the beam, reading the message. When Jutila became convinced it was bonafide, he quietly descended to the ground.

Asked if he was hungry, the killer said "no." But he quickly took two candy bars from his pocket and wolfed them down. He drank a cup of water in one gulp.

Jutila, a muscular, heavy-set man, first appeared to be weakening about noon yesterday. He complained of a headache, thirst and a sunburn.

The temperature soared to more than 90 degrees Wednesday and Thursday.

Jutila has been serving a life sentence since 1935 for the rape-slaying of Mrs. Marie Tobin, 25, of Warren.

He has been moved three times from the Ohio penitentiary in Columbus to the Lima hospital.

Warden R. W. Alvis of the penitentiary said physicians classified Jutila as a victim of schizophrenia.

"We consider him insance," said Alvis, "but at times he was almost normal."

When Jutila became mentally disturbed at the penitentiary Alvis would ask for his transfer to the hospital. When he recovered, he was moved back to the penitentiary.

Model Airplane Contest Will Get Underway Here Saturday

A real treat for model airplane enthusiasts, and for spectators who have never seen the tiny aircraft perform, is in store at this weekend's Lubbock Plymouth Model Airplane contest.

The contest, scheduled Saturday and Sunday at Lubbock Air Force base, is expected to attract approximately 100 entrants in events which include endurance flying, speed flying and stunt maneuvers.

There is no charge for either contestants or spectators, and crowds of at least several thousand persons are expected during the two-day meet. Officials have given assurance that there will be ample parking facilities for all persons who wish to attend.

Howell Is Director

R. L. (Bob) Braselton, district manager of the Plymouth Motor corporation, will assist in staging the event which is under sponsorship of Lubbock's three Plymouth dealers, Dickinson Motor company, Fenner Tubbs company and Hub Motor company.

Reagan Howell is contest director, while J. R. Callahan is general chairman in charge of arrangements. All model plane enthusiasts interested in competing have been requested to contact either Howell or Callahan.

The high-point Lubbock county resident in this week's meet is to receive an all-expense trip to the international finals Aug. 22-28 in Detroit. The runner-up for high point honors, regardless of place of residence, will be awarded a giant trophy. Should a non-resident of Lubbock county be the high point entrant of the contest, he will receive the trophy.

Trophies also will go to winners and runners-up in the various events. In all, 56 prizes will be awarded.

Assisting at the meet will be the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce, which will provide judges for events and operate concession booths on the contest grounds.

Each day's competition will start at 8 a.m. All entrants are asked to report to contest officials at LAFB during the morning hours of the two days of the contest.

Educators To Retire From Lengthy Career

CEDAR KEY, Fla., July 15. (AP)—A husband and wife teaching team has decided after nearly 50 years to retire. They are Mr. and Mrs. James Loren Bilderbeck who came to Alachua county in 1925 after teaching in Indiana.

Mrs. Bilderbeck was born in 1883 in Coatsville, Ind., and began teaching in 1904 at Brownsburg Rural school in Hendricks county. Her salary was $350 a year. She taught the elementary grades and was qualified to teach English and mathematics.

Her husband was born in 1884 in Hartsville, Illinois, and began his teaching career in his home town for $300 a year. His elementary and high school teaching career was interrupted three times—once to be graduated from the Indianapolis College of Pharmacy in 1909; once to get his Bachelor of Science degree in education in 1931 at the University of Florida; and once to teach physics at the University of Florida during World War II.

School Bonds Worth $550,000 Are Sold By Brownfield Board

BROWNFIELD, July 15. (Special)—C. G. Griffith, president of the school board, announced Wednesday morning that school bonds in the amount of $550,000 were sold June 6, and were delivered earlier this week.

The bonds sold for 2¾%, 3%, and 3¼%, with an average interest rate of 3,1148% Buyers were an association composed of Dittmer and Company; Royles, Winston, and Company; M. E. Allison and Company; and J. M. Dain and Company. There were 21 bidders.

Bond Issue Voted

All bonds maturing on and after July 1, 1965 are optional.

Burton G. Hackney, attorney for the Brownfield Independent School District, was in Austin and Dallas for several days last week securing registration of the bonds with the Attorney General and State Comptroller.

The present bond issue was voted May 25, 1948, in the amount of $750,000. Due to some controversy, four law suits were filed against the school board. The suits were later dropped.

Bids To Be Received

An election will be called to cancel the remaining $200,000 of the original bond, which will not be charged against the district.

Final plans are in the making for the new high school building and the contract should be let within 60 days.

Bids will be received in the office of the architects, Wilson and Patterson, in Ft. Worth, for contracting the new building.

RECORD SET TOO SOON

NEWPORT R. I. (U.P.)—Joe Mello bemoaned his bad luck when he landed a 59-pound striped bass, believed the largest caught on rod and reel in New England waters for more than 10 years. Mello caught his record fish just three days before the $1,500 Newport-Jamestown fishing derby opened.

Dogs On Park Avenue Lead A Soft Life, Noted Canine Beauty Expert Discloses

NEW YORK, July 15 (U.P.)—Park Avenue's pampered pooches may lead a dog's life but what a life to lead, says Henry Ross.

Ross operates a "beauty salon" on Manhattan's upper east side that makes "well-dressed ladies and gentlemen" out of his canine clients. Milady's coiffure probably gets no better care.

The small, 40-year-old pet beautician and his four assistants handle an average of eight dogs a day. Fifi's "hectic day at the hairdresser" includes everything from a manicure to an ear scrubbing. Steady customers come every two weeks for bathing and miscellaneous grooming and once a month for trimming.

It's the trimming, Ross said, that puts "bracelets" on a poodle's legs and pom-poms on their heads and tails. It also gives the appearance of having backed into a fan.

Lots Of Attention

A typical day for Fifi or Fido would start with having fleas and ticks removed. Next the dog gets a combing, a medicated bath, trimming, manicure and nail clipping and its teeth brushed.

Finally, Ross said, the dog is daubed with perfume called "Eau de Canine." It costs $8 an ounce.

"Most dogs resent perfume," he said, "but Eau de Canine is not obnoxious to either man or beast. Anyhow, what can they do about it? Their owners like it."

The dog's life of a pampered pooch includes more than just a day under the drier.

Ross also provides raincoats and booties to keep the dogs dry, toys, tonics and even a special "canine candy" so Fifi can keep her girlish figure.

Fur Coats, Too

"One woman wanted a fur coat for her dog. She provided the mink and we made the coat," Ross said nonchalantly.

Most dogs, he said, take readily to the pampering.

"Some do try to take your hand off the first time," Ross said, "but we win them over with loving care and send the most vicious out so docile it's safe to leave them with children."

After they learn to like the pampering, he said, "its like a man who goes to a steady barber. He just doesn't feel right without the care or with anyone else."

Clients From Afar

Ross, who considers himself a dog's best friend, produced invoices showing some of his canine clients had been air expressed from as far as San Carlos, Calif., Miami, Fla., Knoxville, Tenn., and other points for their grooming.

Despite the coddling, Ross said his canine customers aren't the least bit tempermental.

"The dogs are easier to get along with than people," he said. "They don't talk back and at least a dog gives warning before biting."

RICE CORRUPTED

BANGKOK, July 15. (AP)—Rice sent for relief of suffering residents of the southern provinces of Thailand (Siam) have undergone a corruption process before reaching the starving.

The rice has been changed from 30 percent to 50 percent broken grade, reported Deputy Agriculture Minister Nai Kitcha Vathanasilp after a tour of the area.

The Virgin Islands consist of three main islands and about 50 islets.

Union To Seek End Of Strike

LONDON, July 15 (AP) — Union leaders have promised to seek a peace plan for ending London's wildcat dock strike which has idled 14,289 dockers and tied up 134 ships.

The leaders issued a statement last night after a three-hour session with an unofficial committee of the wildcat strikers. They said they would "explore all avenues to effect a settlement" of the crippling strike.

Meanwhile, servicemen continnued to go into the miles of wharves to bring off food and other perishables.

Officials, running the docks under a state of emergency declared by King Gorge VI, said that by today there will be some 7,000 soldiers, sailors and airmen manning the docks.

Car Exports Hit

Britain's motor industry declared the dock stoppage was crippling its export of some 5,000 cars, trucks and tractors weekly through the London waterfront.

Both Laborites and Conservatives in parliament have condemned the stoppage.

The strikers argue they are being prevented from working by the dock labor board which insisted no ships could be unloaded until the men removed the cargoes from two Canadian ships involved in a strike of Canadian seamen.

The longshoremen have refused to work those ships.

Clark Gable Will Give Boost To Garter Industry In New Film "Key To The City"

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, July 15. —Ah, there's good news tonight for the garter makers. Clark Gable is going to give them a boost.

A studio drum-beater breathlessly announced the news: King Gable was working in a little Lord Fauntleroy costume. So I hastened to the "Key to the City" set to view the historic event.

Sure enough, there was the king in his costume-ball get-up, looking sheepish as a boy who had to play an elf in a high school version of "Midsummer Night's Dream."

Garters Are Shown

Lace collar, velvet knee-pants and all. But what interested me most were the garters on his exposed calves. And what's more, Gable's first scene in the picture was a closeup of said calves.

Movie historians are fond of recalling a famous instance of filmdom's influence on the nation. It happened in the "Walls of Jericho" sequence of "It Happened One Night." Gable started to doff his shirt and—horrors!—revealed his bare chest. Undershirt makers were said to have taken a severe beating because of this one scene.

I now predict a sharp upswing in garter stock—provided the scene of Clark's curvy calves is not cut or reshot.

The abashed actor confessed in his dressing room: "As you get older, you'll do anything for an honest buck."

Appeared In Underwear

Has he done sillier things in pictures?

"Oh, sure. In 'Comrade X' I wore the silliest get-up you ever saw. It was a Tyrolian outfit with corduroy pants and everything. And in 'Boom Town' Tracy and I were running around in our long underwear."

Gable said he likes comedies if he can find the right ones for him. He hasn't had too much luck with them, except for the sensational "It Happened." He noted that the picture is again playing locally.

"That's one picture I wish I had a percentage of," he added.

The thing for me to do, of course, was to get Spencer Tracy to see Fauntleroy Gable. I expected an explosion when the two met, but nothing happened. They just discussed the script.

Wrestling No Joke

Tracy's restraint may have been due to the fact that he himself was playing a comedy crying scene in "Adam's Rib." He spent the afternoon over a cut onion, trying to induce tears.

Memo: Don't try to kid with Gorgeous George.

The marcelled wrestler is playing himself in "Pardon My Toehold." He gave me a glassy stare When I asked if wrestling were good training for acting.

"I don't understand you," he answered icily. "I have added showmanship to wrestling, but once a match starts it is a real fight."

The garish grappler was introduced as George Wagner, but quickly corrected: "It's Gorgeous George; the name was legalized in 1942." Concerning movie work he complained:

"Here it is noon and I've been up since five without a shot being made. This is hard work. I'd rather wrestle two matches."

REPORTED PURGED — Dr. Bella V. Dodd, foremost woman Communist leader in New York State, was reportedly expelled from the Communist party for disagreeing with the party's current leadership. For many years she was legislative director as well as the guiding spirit of the left-wing CIO Teachers' Union.

Texas Airport Issue Goes To High Court

DALLAS, July 15. (AP)—The U. S. Supreme court has been asked to settle the controversy between Dallas and Fort Worth over Midway airport.

Dallas city attorney Henry P. Kucera said yesterday that Dallas has appealed the ruling of the Fifth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals which refused to overturn the action of the Civil Aeronautics administration in granting federal moneys for Midway. The airport is located about half way between Dallas and Fort Worth.

Dallas contends that Midway would destroy the operations of Love field, the Dallas municipal port. The protest was rejected by the CAA after a hearing in Austin last year.

In 1900, according to estimates, there were 1,527,000,000 people in the world.

House Approves Legislation To Protect Fur-Buying Public From False Labeling

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The fur-buying public, in the opinion of the House of Representatives, ought to be acquainted by law with the facts of animal life.

Simply stated, says the House, a rabbit is a rabbit, a muskrat is a muskrat, and a skunk is a skunk, and you can't convert them into a sable, a beaver, an ermine, a marten or even a civet cat.

The House said so, in legalistic terms, in a bill passed and sent to the Senate without opposition late yesterday.

Public Is Gullible

Known as the "fur labeling" bill, the measure is intended, so its sponsors claimed, to protect not only legitimate fur dealers but the more gullible fur-buying public.

It's all right, they said, if milady wants to wear rabbit or skunk skins on her back, but she oughtn't to wear them under the impression that they are something else.

For example, said Rep. O'Hara (R-Minin), rabbit has been sold by many unsuspecting women as beaverette and ermiline, to say nothing of other highfalutin names.

Animal Aliases

Muskrats have many aliases once they are trapped and put on display in some fancy fur shops. They appear under the names of Hudson seal, brook mink, river sable, hudsonia, and others that can command a fancy price.

Skunks, it seems, are likely to show up as dipped marten, Alaska sable or civet cat.

All of which, O'Hara and other sponsors insisted, is unfair.

If the O'Hara bill becomes law—one year from now to give the trade time to get up a formal set of labels—every fur sold in interstate commerce will have to be labeled so the buyer will know what he's getting.

Penalties Provided

The label will have to show the name of the animal that produced the fur, whether the fur is used or new, whether it is dyed or bleached, and whether the skins are top grade or paws, tails, bellies or waste.

It would be an unfair trade practice to market furs in interstate commerce unless they are properly identified. Willful violations could result in criminal penalties as severe as one year in jail and a $5,000 fine.

Animals Also Found To Have Hay Fever

LINCOLN, Neb., July 15 (U.P.)—Animals like humans, suffer from "hives" and even a four-footed counterpart of hay fever.

The American Foundation for Animal Health reports the same types of anti-histamine medicines often successful in treating these conditions in man now are being used with pets and farm animals.

Upon coming in contact with or eating certain plants, the foundation said, horses and cattle commonly founder, or develop nettle rash or a severe form of sore mouth.

The foundation warned use of anti-histamine drugs must be carefully supervised. Improper dosage may result in death, it said.

Former Sen. John Danaher Is Possible Successor To Scott

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 15—Friends of both Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York were reported leaning today toward former Senator John Danaher of Connecticut as a successor to GOP national chairman Hugh D. Scott, jr.

Danaher's name was tossed into the pot as Scott finally conceded publicly that he will quit his post if a man can be found "who can bring the desired harmony and cohesiveness to the party organization."

Scott made it official yesterday, along with a broad hint that he won't be forced out of office by the same group which tried unsuccessfully to oust him last January.

Dewey Supporters Queried

He won then on a 54 to 50 vote. Now his friends claim they have nearly 60 of the national committee's full total of 106 votes back of him to resist an ouster move.

Mention of Danaher came from close friends of Taft, who has been keeping abreast of the intra-party fight. They said talks with Dewey supporters indicated that Danaher would be acceptable to them.

As an indication of how the Scott camp might feel toward the former Connecticut senator, Senator Martin (R-Pa) told a reporter he thinks Danaher "would make a good chairman."

He added, however, that he doesn't know whether Danaher would be interested in taking over a post that most Republicans now agree ought to be filled by a full time, paid chairman.

Other Candidates

Defeated for reelection in 1944, Danaher served for some time as liaison man between the national committee and senators. He was a candidate when Carroll Reece, who preceded Scott, was elected national chairman.

Move for Danaher is likely to be complicated by demands of western committee members. They want somebody closely acquainted with farm problems and have advanced A. T. Howard, Nebraska state chairman, as their man.

There also has been mention of Vernon Romney, Utah state chairman, among others.

Darby Declines

Harry Darby, Kansas national committeeman who apparently would be acceptable to all factions, has told colleagues that his business commitments are too great to let him take on the job.

While the Republicans squabbled over their chairmanship, President Truman made a little Democratic political medicine of his own.

In response to a question about Scott's statement that the latter would quit if it would bring harmony to the party, the President said the less harmony there is in the Republican party the better he likes it.

Mr. Truman, who says he doesn't meddle in local situations, admitted he talked about New York senatorial prospects with Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York City.

Truman-O'Dwyer Talk

He didn't talk to O'Dwyer about the New York City mayoralty race, the President said. He said, however, that the name of former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman was mentioned in connection with the November special election to fill the seat vacated by the resignation of Democratic Senator Robert F. Wagner.

The President denied a story that he had been asked by Frank Hague, New Jersey national committeeman, for help in Hague's last ditch political fight in Jersey City and had told Hague to go jump in the Delaware river.

Hague opposed Mr. Truman's nomination at last year's democratic convention but supported him afterward.

Bats Don't Hate Their Main Enemy, Professor Claims

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15 (U.P.)—One of the most popular misconceptions about bats is that they are mad at people.

Bats don't care about people, yet their prime enemy is probably man.

That and a wealth of other hitherto little-known facts about bats are the result of a study into every phase of the life of the bat made by Dr. Robert T. Orr, professor of biology at the University of San Francisco.

Dr. Orr, in his studies over a two-year period, observed his bats under every condition. Because of their stand-offish, nocturnal habits, the little mammals with a 14-inch wingspread had to be trapped and brought into captivity before much study could be made.

Hibernation Studied

Orr had special cages built to study their hibernation activities during the winter. He placed the bats in a refrigerated room with the temperature constant between 40 and 50 degrees.

The bats were given no food for four and one-half months. They suffered no ill effects. It was found they lost approximately 25 per cent of their body weight, but gained it back in about four week when hibernation ended.

It was discovered, however, that the bats did need water and humidity during that time. They wake up every few days and seek water. Orr learned this by placing sand on the floor of the refrigerated room. Every few days he inspected the room and found fresh bat tracks on the floor.

It was found also that bats must hibernate in a locality where the temperature is constant. If the weather turns suddenly warm, they awaken and swarm out to look for food. But in winter the insects which bats thrive on are scarce and many of the bats die.

Life Span Uncertain

Female bats give birth only once a year and their babies are born feet first, comparable to human birth.

"The life span of the bats has not been determined yet," Orr said.

Some of his bats are three years old and are still well. "But in the east," he added, "bats have been reported at 13 and 14 years of age and still going strong."

The bat's prime enemy probably is man, Orr said, and that seems to be true only in this part of the world. In the Orient bats are considered omens of good luck.

Part of Orr's research was done during a night's stay in a bat cave in San Louis Obispo County. "The bats didn't make any attempt to attack us," Orr said. "In fact, they did their best to stay away. Bats are smart animals."

METERS NOT FOR DOGS

BERKELEY, Cal. (U.P.)—Berkeley police found a brand new legal sin and netted $1 for law enforcement. The patrolman said it would cost the owner $10 when he found a boxer dog tied to a parking meter. The owner argued. He finally paid when the fine was reduced to $1. The offense: attaching a foreign object to a parking meter.

MEET THE MANAGER—J. C. Davis, owner and manager of Texas Floral company, was born at Loraine, Texas, March 17, 1908. His family moved to a ranch west of San Angelo when he was 2½ years old. They lived there until he was nine years old, then moved to Abilene. He started working in the florist business about that time and has engaged in it ever since. He attended Abilene High school, Abilene Christian college and Texas Technological college, where he was a yell leader in 1926. Meanwhile, as early as 1921 he had set up his own greenhouse at 2018 Ninth street and helped distribute more than 200,000 Chinese Elm trees, which were then being introduced to this area. He moved his business to the present location, 2107 Twenty-first, in 1926 and this year enlarged his display rooms to a 225-foot plate glass front, the largest in Texas. Mr. Davis belongs to Rotary club and Broadway Church of Christ. His favorite hobbies are working about his home, his business, and hunting and fishing. Mr. and Mrs. Davis and two sons, Calvin Houston, 18, and Keith Allen, 12, live at 3223 Thirty-sixth. (Staff Photo).

End Of Labor Shortage Seen

A shortage of cotton choppers in the South Plains has abated and farmers will be able to get their fields chopped in six to seven weeks, officials of the Texas Employment commission estimated Thursday afternoon.

The estimate followed a unique aerial survey of cotton choppers in Lubbock county, during which TEC workers took the most direct method of determining the number of workers in the fields—by counting their heads.

Relief Seen

Vernon T. O'Farrell, agricultural placement worker of the Lubbock district office, summarized the cotton chopper situation this way:

Lubbock county—With slightly more than 3,000 choppers in the fields, the county's 400,000 acres will be chopped in six to seven weeks. Some relief for farmers is seen as choppers come in from surrounding areas.

Hockley county—An extreme shortage of field workers has been relieved somewhat by an influx of laborers from Dawson county. The county's chopping process should be up to schedule in about ten days.

Lamb county—The peak is past in the county, but there is still a slight shortage of choppers, expected to improve in the next few days.

Crosby county—A definite shortage of laborers exists. The next week should bring some relief as crews move in from other areas.

Workers Counted

The aerial survey of the situation in Lubbock county was the first of its kind ever attempted by the Lubbock office of TEC.

Roy Neal, partner of Wes-Tex Aircraft Sales, volunteered an airplane, in which Jack Creel, farm announcer for KFYO and B. T. O'Connell and O'Farrell made approximately ten trips across the county. Using binoculars, they counted the laborers in the fields, reaching a total of 2,727, of which 1,500 were in the north half of the county.

The count verified previous surveys made by TEC.

With the Lubbock office a control point for South Plains farm placements, officials of the TEC have been hard pressed to find chopping crews for the approximately 3 million acres of cotton which the district includes.

Consequently, they have arranged to bring crews from the following points to work in Lubbock and other South Plains counties: McKinney, Marshall, Texarkana, Dallas, Austin, Mexia, Brenham, Waco, Denison, Poteau, Okla., Lamesa, San Angelo, Taylor, Snyder, Fort Worth, Bryan and Livingston.

The TEC estimates that the cotton chopping crews bring a $2,000 daily payroll into the immediate Lubbock area.

$20 Million Sought In Fight Over Will

LOS ANGELES, July 15. (AP)—A small matter of $20,000,000 is all that seems to be missing in the battle over the will of late British theater magnate Charles F. Bernhard.

His estranged widow, Jane Lidell Bernhard, 21, told the court yesterday that she has been able to find only $1,100 in cash and a $1,000 automobile since Bernhard died here last June 10.

"We have been informed Bernhard sold his theater interests in England for $20,000,000," said her attorney, Gerald Lipsky.

Attorney for the estate, Louis M. Brown, said that so far no other assets have been discovered.

Mrs. Bernhard received an allotment of $100 a month, instead of the $750 she asked pending outcome of her contest of Bernhard's will which left her nothing. He left his fortune to two brothers, Frank H. and Herbert C Bernhard, London.

U. S. Occupation Bungling Its Job, Japanese Leader Claims

TOKYO, July 15 (U.P.) — Many think the Allies are muffing their big chance to bring about some really important changes in the Japanese way of thinking.

The situation was explained by a member of the Japanese cabinet, who naturally doesn't want his name used because he likes his job and doesn't want to get in bad with occupation officials.

"The big mistake being made now," he said, "is that nearly all the emphasis of the occupation is being put on Japan's economic recovery. Too little is being done to change the old Japanese way of thinking. Too few changes have been brought about in the school system, where tomorrow's Japanese are being trained."

This member of the cabinet pointed out that even in Gen. MacArthur's headquarters the number of people concerned with the "re-education" of the Japanese is small in comparison with the number working to solve Japan's economic problems.

Authorities Differ

He said one set of MacArthur's experts have ordered the Japanese to start an educational program to "bring new ideas to Japan,", but another set, with more power, will not let the Japanese government spend the money necessary to put the education into effect.

Some officials of MacArthur's headquarters complain about the same thing. They say privately that Japan's economic recovery has top priority and that he "less sensational" aspects of the occupation, such as the education program, are being sadly neglected.

The Japanese cabinet member pointed out the following things as standing in the way of the Allied program to re-educate Japan:

There are less than 200 professional U. S. educators in Japan, fewer than enough to operate the school system in a city the size of Dallas, Texas.

If the education people in Gen. MacArthur's headquarters started out to check on whether the Japanese were obeying the education directives, it would take 40 years to do the job because of the lack of personnel.

Not Enough Buildings

American emphasis on the economic program prevents the construction of the necessary number of buildings because the materials are "needed" elsewhere.

Japanese teachers are so underpaid that it is impossible to get enough qualified instructors. A teacher gets approximately the same salary as a servant working in the home of occupation personnel and doesn't have the chance to eat "left-overs" as servants do.

Although old text books were thrown out, paper shortage has prevented rapid replacement with proper texts.

MacArthur's headquarters was slow to permit the publication of books from outside Japan.

There has been insufficient retraining of those teachers who were not "purged."

Music Is Tried Out As Aid To Safety

PORTLAND, Ore., July 15 (U.P.) —There may be a use for music other than for straight relaxation, although the idea is still in the trial stage. Researchers have been experimenting with music as a means of cutting down accidents on the job.

A University of Washington assistant professor of psychology, Edmund E. Dudek, told the Western Safety Conference meeting in Portland that tests so far have not proven that music will affect industrial accident rates.

Dr. Dudek cited the example of a plant employing over 1,000 men. A study was made at the factory to determine what effect recorded music had on employe morale, production and accident prevention.

All types of music were played up to five hours each shift every day, Dr. Dudek explained, but after the experiment ended, researchers concluded that music at the particular plant had no effect on the accident rate.

A second test was made at a state hospital and the accident rate fell 27 per cent among he patients as a result of recorded music played over the radio system in the wards.

But the study was made during six spring and summer months and only three autumn and winter months, when accident rates climb.

Dr. Dudek reasoned that it would be difficult to gauge how much of the 27 per cent reduction was due to the music innovation or to the particular season emphasized in the test.

Model's Large Feet Just Right For Job

BOSTON, July 15 (U.P.)—It took a sculptor to convince an attractive Boston model that her size eight feet aren't too big.

Five-foot five-inch Miss Olga Bogach always felt her feet were her weak point.

"Nonsense!" exclaimed Emilius Rogers Ciampa, as he gazed delightedly from toe to heel. "The girl doesn't know what she's talking about. Her feet are just right."

Ciampa explained that finding Miss Bogach ended his long quest for a pair of feet attractive enough to use as a model for a war memorial statue.

"Day after day I looked at her feet," he sighed. "There were all kinds but they all had one thing in common—they were ugly."

Ciampa said he became convinced that shoes with high heels and pointed toes have destroyed the natural beauty of women's feet. Then the 27-year-old Miss Bogach appeared at his studio.

"I asked her to let me see her feet and I was so overjoyed I almost knocked over statue in excitement," he said. Her feet were beautiful—long and slender with the big toe longer than the next one. Very unusual these days."

Miss Bogach said she was surprised to learn her feet were beautiful. Their very size, she reflected, may have kept them beautiful, since she pays $20 to $30 to shoe her hard-to-fit feet.

"I'm not sure I want good-looking feet at that price," she said.

Reburial Rites At Lamesa Set Sunday

LAMESA, July 15 (Special) — Remains of Pfc. Merrill Hyatt, U.S. Marine Corps, killed in action at Iwo Jima March 6, 1945, will be reburied here in the Field of Honor Sunday afternoon after services at the First Baptist church.

Dr. Julian Atwood, pastor, will officiate, and ex-servicemen will serve as pallbearers.

Hyatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hyatt, Lamesa, was 31 when killed. He was born in Anson and lived in Memphis, Tenn. when he entered the service. His body will arrive here Saturday morning.

Survivors besides his parents include his grandfather, H. H. Warren, Anson; four brothers, Paul Hyatt, Littlefield, Guy Hyatt, Dover, Del., Jack Hyatt, Myanton, N.C., Wayne Hyatt, Wichita Falls; one sister, Mrs. T. J. Billstrom, Van Nuys, Calif.; one son, Paul Seth Hyatt, Lamesa.

Sen. Corbin Returns Home After Funeral

LAMESA, July 15 (Special) — State Sen. Kilmer B. Corbin returned to his home here Thursday after attending funeral services for Gov. Beauford Jester at Austin and Corsicana.

The senator flew to Austin Monday night and attended a memorial service in the Senate chamber Tuesday afternoon, when 17 of the 31 members of the Senate were present.

Wednesday, he went to Corsicana for final services, where 11 Senators were present. He returned to Austin and flew to Midland from there, returning to Lamesa by automobile.

Corbin expressed confidence that he will be able to work harmoniously with Gov. Allan Shivers, having had much work with him in the Senate so far, and he believed that Shivers will be anxious to serve the best interests of West Texas.

Princess Margaret Given Supplementary American Aid By Comedian Danny Kaye

LONDON, July 15 (INS)—Highly agog Londoy society learned today the man who taught Princess Margaret that she certainly can can-can was comedian Danny Kaye.

The London Daily Express said that before he left Britain the American comedian educated the princess in the high-stepping dance in which she rocked the American embassy Monday night.

The second daughter of King George VI kept her new accomplishment a secret until she and Sharman Douglas, daughter of the U. S. ambassador, trouped out in frilly black pants, black dress and silk hose and did the bouncy can-can.

King Silent

They were an added starter to the regular party given in honor of Sharman, Margaret's closest friend, at the embassy.

Friends of the two girls said that Kaye, who left the country before seeing his royal pupil perform, had a noble aid to continue his work after he was gone.

He is said to be none other than the Marquesse of Blandford, heir to the Duke of Marlborough and a frequest escort of both girls.

London society leaders said frankly that Margaret has given the social season its biggest talking point yet. There was no comment from King George on the supplementary "American aid" contributed by comedian Kaye.

YOUTH ELECTROCUTED

GREENVILLE, July 15 (AP)—Billy Couch, 22, was electrocuted late yesterday while trying to repair a wire on a light post in the yard of his home in Antioch, Rains county.

Littlefield Service Slated For Woman

LITTLEFIELD, July 15 (Special) — Funeral services for Mrs. M. C. Taylor, 58, resident of Littlefield since 1928, today were to be conducted at 3:30 p. m. in the First Baptist church of Littlefield. Rev. Lee Hemphill, pastor, will officiate.

Mrs. Taylor died about 5 p.m. Wednesday in her home at 505 West Fourth in Littlefield after a lengthy illness.

Burial will be in Littlefield cemetery, with Hammons Funeral home in charge.

Survivors include the husband; four sons, Robert Taylor of Littlefield, Henry Taylor of Selma, Calif., Jimmy Taylor of Lubbock, and Wayman Taylor of Williamsburg, Va.; three daughters, Mrs. Pauline Moore of Los Angeles, Mrs. Iris Blackwell of Littlefield, and Mrs. Beatrice Keeling of Lubbock; and four grandchildren.

President Has No Comment On What Wallace 'Gang' Planning

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP) — President Truman's that-gang reference to Henry Wallace and other sponsors of a "bill of rights conference" brought a retort that his remark proves the need for such a meeting.

Clark Foreman, executive director of the conference, replied in a statement that "apparently no citizen is now safe from smears from the Truman administration."

The President, at his news conference yesterday, was told that Clifford Durr, president of the National Lawyers guild, negro singer Paul Robeson, and Wallace are sponsors of the week-end conference in New York.

Purpose Given

Mr. Truman said sharply he had no comment on anything that gang wants to do. He added: we took care of them in the last election.

Wallace was the Progressive party's candidate for president last November.

Foreman's statement said the purpose of the conference is to demand an investigation of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He said the need for such a probe is "again demonstrated by the President's careless remarks."

Foreman said Wallace, Durr and Robeson are three of 640 sponsors of the conference. He said Durr, a former member of the Federal Communications commission, had been offered a reapointment to the post some time ago by Mr. Truman. Foreman referred to Robeson as "one of the great artists of our time."

New, Homogenized Swift's Jewel Shortening Gives "Magic" Results in Cooking, Baking and Frying!

JEWEL CAMERA INTERVIEWS

TODAY'S QUESTION: Have you tried the new, homogenized Jewel Shortening?

Mrs. Karen J. Stotts, 2126 Browder, Dallas, Texas. "Yes, I have. I like the new Jewel especially for smokeless frying of steak and french fries. It's also better for piecrusts. I save 3¢ or 4¢ always when I buy a pound."

Mrs. W. D. Nikels, 1208 Peach Ave., Memphis, Tenn. "The new Jewel makes perfect biscuits and we have them every morning because my husband likes them so much. It's also good for frying. Certain shortenings like to smoke when you fry, but Jewel never smokes up my house. What's more, I save every time I buy and those pennies add up."

Mrs. Virginia Barnes, 513 Bourbon St., New Orleans, La. "Yes! The new, homogenized Jewel is just grand for everything—fried chicken, potatoes, lovely cakes and real good lemon pie. And oh, those hot biscuits! My husband can eat 8 or 10 every morning. I prefer Jewel to any shortening regardless of cost."

Mrs. R. G. Slaughter, 3409 W. Fourth St., Fort Worth, Texas. "I like it best of any I've tried—it goes farther and costs less. I save about 23¢ every time I buy Jewel in the large size. Although I've used Jewel for a long time, the new is even better. I use it for all baking and frying."

JEWEL'S HIGH QUALITY NEVER VARIES

Rigid Swift Quality Control and U. S. Government Inspection Assure Uniformity

When it comes to uniformity, the proverbial "peas in a pod" have nothing on new Jewel.

Its unvarying uniformity is due to two main achievements. First, because all Jewel Shortening is tested for quality at the refineries. A thorough, continuing system of Quality Control is constantly on the alert for any deviation in the Jewel formula.

Secondly, the new Jewel must pass a rigid U. S. Government inspection. Thus, each carton or tin of Jewel bears a U. S. Inspected stamp of approval.

In either event, it must be the best or it never gets to market.

MAN AND WIFE AGREE:

"JEWEL CAKES TASTE PERFECT!"

LIGHT, TENDER, FLUFFY . . . AND THEY COST LESS TO MAKE!

Faced with the problem of keeping hubby happy—and cutting down on food costs, too? Then here's good news!

With the new, homogenized Jewel Shortening you can cook to his heart's desire—and save money while you do. For new Jewel—although it costs much less than costliest brands of shortenings—challenges them all when it comes to results.

Praise from Homemakers

How true this is, has been borne out by extensive interviews among housewives throughout the South. In every case, enthusiasm for the new Jewel has been most gratifying.

In Memphis, for example, Mrs. J. A. Perry reported making a Jam Cake that would "just melt in your mouth!" While in New Orleans, another homemaker, Mrs. Alice H. Langston stated that her husband "just loves his biscuits made with Jewel!" Mrs. Langston added this further comment: "With the amount of shortening we use, we figure our savings on Jewel at about $8.00 a year. That'd buy plenty of eggs!"

As Swift's famous test kitchens have discovered however, Jewel's magic is not restricted to cakes and biscuits. Piecrusts, cookies, fried foods of all kinds, also benefit when Jewel is used.

Like Fried Chicken? Here's How to Add a Touch of "Magic"!

Developed by Swift's famous Martha Logan, here's a special fried chicken recipe featuring new Jewel Shortening. Just follow the 6 magic steps indicated for your convenience.

1. Clean, wash and drain a 2½ to 3 lb. (dressed) chicken. 2. Cut into serving pieces. 3. Measure ¼ cup flour and 2 tsp. salt into a clean paper bag. 4. Drop in each piece of chicken separately and shake until coated. 5. Heat enough Jewel Shortening to make ¼ inch depth in a large skillet. 6. Fry chicken over medium heat, turning until all sides are golden brown. Reduce heat, cover and cook about ½ hour, until tender. Uncover and cook ten minutes.

NO OTHER SHORTENING IS MORE DIGESTIBLE OR MORE NUTRITIOUS!

Don't be fooled—say scientists. Just because a shortening costs more doesn't make it any more nutritious or digestible.

Actually, any fats—including the fine vegetable and meat-food fats found in Jewel—are among the most completely digested foods.

Furthermore, all fats are important in good nutrition. For they yield 2¼ times as many energy units per pound as either carbohydrates or proteins.

In other words, money can't buy a more nutritious or digestible shortening than new Jewel. Not even if you pay $10 a pound!

CHALLENGES THE COSTLIEST . . . COSTS MUCH LESS! SAVINGS OF 5¢ TO 7¢ A POUND REPORTED

There's a new "headliner" in the shortening field! The product is Swift's new, homogenized Jewel Shortening. Only recently introduced, it challenges all costliest brands. Yet it costs 5¢ to 7¢ less per pound.

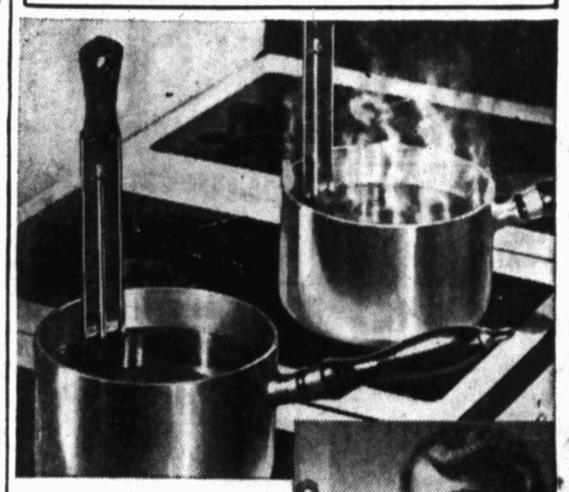

The new Jewel has been created to a new formula and employs a controlled homogenization process in the blending of its fine vegetable oils and meat-food fats. The result is a product of highest quality with a remarkable smooth and even texture. No other shortening—regardless of price—is more nutritious or more digestible.

According to Martha Logan, Swift's nationally-known Home Economist, the new Jewel is ideal for cooking, baking and frying. Exhaustive tests in the famous Swift Test Kitchens show that Jewel-made cakes, pies, biscuits, doughnuts and fried foods rival those made with shortenings costing much, much more.

The magic results claimed for this new shortening have been substantiated by actual reports from homemakers. Scores have paid glowing tribute to tender, light cakes and flaky piecrusts made with the new Jewel.

The thriftiness of the new product has also come in for its share of homemaker's applause. Reports show that in many stores, the price for a pound of Jewel is from 5¢ to 7¢ less than for the costliest brands. Even those who use only moderate amounts of shortening thus save considerably.

JEWEL'S "SMOKE-POINT" 40° HIGHER!

Simple test proves it won't smoke up or smell up your kitchen like costliest shortenings!

Dramatic proof that Jewel is smokeless is offered by a recent test. In this test, Jewel was compared with the three costliest shortenings. And in every single instance, Jewel demonstrated a marked superiority.

The test consists merely of placing equal amounts of Jewel and any costliest shortening in two separate pans of the same size. To verify temperatures reached, a cooking thermometer (preferably two) is used.

As identical heat is applied to both pans the expensive brand will begin to smoke and give off odors.

Not until long after the other shortening has been removed from the heat, does new Jewel show any evidence of smoke or smell. Jewel can, in fact, be left over the heat until its temperature is 40° higher than its competitors.

Home economists agree that the perfect deep-fat frying temperature is 365° to 375°. Expensive shortenings will begin to smoke at 360°. Jewel, however, could be heated to 400° before even a noticeable trace of smoke or odor would appear.

Challenges the costliest... costs much less!

A superior shortening for use in cakes, pies, biscuits and fried foods. Based on a new and different formula—blended by homogenization for extra smoothness and even-texture. So economical you can purchase 4 pounds for the same price you usually pay for 3 pounds of costliest brands.

U. S. Occupation Bungling Its Job, Japanese Leader Claims

TOKYO, July 15 (U.P.) — Many think the Allies are muffing their big chance to bring about some really important changes in the Japanese way of thinking.

The situation was explained by a member of the Japanese cabinet, who naturally doesn't want his name used because he likes his job and doesn't want to get in bad with occupation officials.

"The big mistake being made now," he said, "is that nearly all the emphasis of the occupation is being put on Japan's economic recovery. Too little is being done to change the old Japanese way of thinking. Too few changes have been brought about in the school system, where tomorrow's Japanese are being trained."

This member of the cabinet pointed out that even in Gen. MacArthur's headquarters the number of people concerned with the "re-education" of the Japanese is small in comparison with the number working to solve Japan's economic problems.

Authorities Differ

He said one set of MacArthur's experts have ordered the Japanese to start an educational program to "bring new ideas to Japan,", but another set, with more power, will not let the Japanese government spend the money necessary to put the education into effect.

Some officials of MacArthur's headquarters complain about the same thing. They say privately that Japan's economic recovery has top priority and that he "less sensational" aspects of the occupation, such as the education program, are being sadly neglected.

The Japanese cabinet member pointed out the following things as standing in the way of the Allied program to re-educate Japan:

There are less than 200 professional U. S. educators in Japan, fewer than enough to operate the school system in a city the size of Dallas, Texas.

If the education people in Gen. MacArthur's headquarters started out to check on whether the Japanese were obeying the education directives, it would take 40 years to do the job because of the lack of personnel.

Not Enough Buildings

American emphasis on the economic program prevents the construction of the necessary number of buildings because the materials are "needed" elsewhere.

Japanese teachers are so underpaid that it is impossible to get enough qualified instructors. A teacher gets approximately the same salary as a servant working in the home of occupation personnel and doesn't have the chance to eat "left-overs" as servants do.

Although old text books were thrown out, paper shortage has prevented rapid replacement with proper texts.

MacArthur's headquarters was slow to permit the publication of books from outside Japan.

There has been insufficient retraining of those teachers who were not "purged."

Music Is Tried Out As Aid To Safety

PORTLAND, Ore., July 15 (U.P.) —There may be a use for music other than for straight relaxation, although the idea is still in the trial stage. Researchers have been experimenting with music as a means of cutting down accidents on the job.

A University of Washington assistant professor of psychology, Edmund E. Dudek, told the Western Safety Conference meeting in Portland that tests so far have not proven that music will affect industrial accident rates.

Dr. Dudek cited the example of a plant employing over 1,000 men. A study was made at the factory to determine what effect recorded music had on employe morale, production and accident prevention.

All types of music were played up to five hours each shift every day, Dr. Dudek explained, but after the experiment ended, researchers concluded that music at the particular plant had no effect on the accident rate.

A second test was made at a state hospital and the accident rate fell 27 per cent among he patients as a result of recorded music played over the radio system in the wards.

But the study was made during six spring and summer months and only three autumn and winter months, when accident rates climb.

Dr. Dudek reasoned that it would be difficult to gauge how much of the 27 per cent reduction was due to the music innovation or to the particular season emphasized in the test.

Model's Large Feet Just Right For Job

BOSTON, July 15 (U.P.)—It took a sculptor to convince an attractive Boston model that her size eight feet aren't too big.

Five-foot five-inch Miss Olga Bogach always felt her feet were her weak point.

"Nonsense!" exclaimed Emilius Rogers Ciampa, as he gazed delightedly from toe to heel. "The girl doesn't know what she's talking about. Her feet are just right."

Ciampa explained that finding Miss Bogach ended his long quest for a pair of feet attractive enough to use as a model for a war memorial statue.

"Day after day I looked at her feet," he sighed. "There were all kinds but they all had one thing in common—they were ugly."

Ciampa said he became convinced that shoes with high heels and pointed toes have destroyed the natural beauty of women's feet. Then the 27-year-old Miss Bogach appeared at his studio.

"I asked her to let me see her feet and I was so overjoyed I almost knocked over statue in excitement," he said. Her feet were beautiful—long and slender with the big toe longer than the next one. Very unusual these days."

Miss Bogach said she was surprised to learn her feet were beautiful. Their very size, she reflected, may have kept them beautiful, since she pays $20 to $30 to shoe her hard-to-fit feet.

"I'm not sure I want good-looking feet at that price," she said.

Reburial Rites At Lamesa Set Sunday

LAMESA, July 15 (Special) — Remains of Pfc. Merrill Hyatt, U.S. Marine Corps, killed in action at Iwo Jima March 6, 1945, will be reburied here in the Field of Honor Sunday afternoon after services at the First Baptist church.

Dr. Julian Atwood, pastor, will officiate, and ex-servicemen will serve as pallbearers.

Hyatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hyatt, Lamesa, was 31 when killed. He was born in Anson and lived in Memphis, Tenn. when he entered the service. His body will arrive here Saturday morning.

Survivors besides his parents include his grandfather, H. H. Warren, Anson; four brothers, Paul Hyatt, Littlefield, Guy Hyatt, Dover, Del., Jack Hyatt, Myanton, N.C., Wayne Hyatt, Wichita Falls; one sister, Mrs. T. J. Billstrom, Van Nuys, Calif.; one son, Paul Seth Hyatt, Lamesa.

Sen. Corbin Returns Home After Funeral

LAMESA, July 15 (Special) — State Sen. Kilmer B. Corbin returned to his home here Thursday after attending funeral services for Gov. Beauford Jester at Austin and Corsicana.

The senator flew to Austin Monday night and attended a memorial service in the Senate chamber Tuesday afternoon, when 17 of the 31 members of the Senate were present.

Wednesday, he went to Corsicana for final services, where 11 Senators were present. He returned to Austin and flew to Midland from there, returning to Lamesa by automobile.

Corbin expressed confidence that he will be able to work harmoniously with Gov. Allan Shivers, having had much work with him in the Senate so far, and he believed that Shivers will be anxious to serve the best interests of West Texas.

Princess Margaret Given Supplementary American Aid By Comedian Danny Kaye

LONDON, July 15 (INS)—Highly agog Londoy society learned today the man who taught Princess Margaret that she certainly can can-can was comedian Danny Kaye.

The London Daily Express said that before he left Britain the American comedian educated the princess in the high-stepping dance in which she rocked the American embassy Monday night.

The second daughter of King George VI kept her new accomplishment a secret until she and Sharman Douglas, daughter of the U. S. ambassador, trouped out in frilly black pants, black dress and silk hose and did the bouncy can-can.

King Silent

They were an added starter to the regular party given in honor of Sharman, Margaret's closest friend, at the embassy.

Friends of the two girls said that Kaye, who left the country before seeing his royal pupil perform, had a noble aid to continue his work after he was gone.

He is said to be none other than the Marquesse of Blandford, heir to the Duke of Marlborough and a frequest escort of both girls.

London society leaders said frankly that Margaret has given the social season its biggest talking point yet. There was no comment from King George on the supplementary "American aid" contributed by comedian Kaye.

YOUTH ELECTROCUTED

GREENVILLE, July 15 (AP)—Billy Couch, 22, was electrocuted late yesterday while trying to repair a wire on a light post in the yard of his home in Antioch, Rains county.

Littlefield Service Slated For Woman

LITTLEFIELD, July 15 (Special) — Funeral services for Mrs. M. C. Taylor, 58, resident of Littlefield since 1928, today were to be conducted at 3:30 p. m. in the First Baptist church of Littlefield. Rev. Lee Hemphill, pastor, will officiate.

Mrs. Taylor died about 5 p.m. Wednesday in her home at 505 West Fourth in Littlefield after a lengthy illness.

Burial will be in Littlefield cemetery, with Hammons Funeral home in charge.

Survivors include the husband; four sons, Robert Taylor of Littlefield, Henry Taylor of Selma, Calif., Jimmy Taylor of Lubbock, and Wayman Taylor of Williamsburg, Va.; three daughters, Mrs. Pauline Moore of Los Angeles, Mrs. Iris Blackwell of Littlefield, and Mrs. Beatrice Keeling of Lubbock; and four grandchildren.

President Has No Comment On What Wallace 'Gang' Planning

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP) — President Truman's that-gang reference to Henry Wallace and other sponsors of a "bill of rights conference" brought a retort that his remark proves the need for such a meeting.

Clark Foreman, executive director of the conference, replied in a statement that "apparently no citizen is now safe from smears from the Truman administration."

The President, at his news conference yesterday, was told that Clifford Durr, president of the National Lawyers guild, negro singer Paul Robeson, and Wallace are sponsors of the week-end conference in New York.

Purpose Given

Mr. Truman said sharply he had no comment on anything that gang wants to do. He added: we took care of them in the last election.

Wallace was the Progressive party's candidate for president last November.

Foreman's statement said the purpose of the conference is to demand an investigation of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He said the need for such a probe is "again demonstrated by the President's careless remarks."

Foreman said Wallace, Durr and Robeson are three of 640 sponsors of the conference. He said Durr, a former member of the Federal Communications commission, had been offered a reapointment to the post some time ago by Mr. Truman. Foreman referred to Robeson as "one of the great artists of our time."

New, Homogenized Swift's Jewel Shortening Gives "Magic" Results in Cooking, Baking and Frying!

JEWEL CAMERA INTERVIEWS

TODAY'S QUESTION: Have you tried the new, homogenized Jewel Shortening?

Mrs. Karen J. Stotts, 2126 Browder, Dallas, Texas. "Yes, I have. I like the new Jewel especially for smokeless frying of steak and french fries. It's also better for piecrusts. I save 3¢ or 4¢ always when I buy a pound."

Mrs. W. D. Nikels, 1208 Peach Ave., Memphis, Tenn. "The new Jewel makes perfect biscuits and we have them every morning because my husband likes them so much. It's also good for frying. Certain shortenings like to smoke when you fry, but Jewel never smokes up my house. What's more, I save every time I buy and those pennies add up."

Mrs. Virginia Barnes, 513 Bourbon St., New Orleans, La. "Yes! The new, homogenized Jewel is just grand for everything—fried chicken, potatoes, lovely cakes and real good lemon pie. And oh, those hot biscuits! My husband can eat 8 or 10 every morning. I prefer Jewel to any shortening regardless of cost."

Mrs. R. G. Slaughter, 3409 W. Fourth St., Fort Worth, Texas. "I like it best of any I've tried—it goes farther and costs less. I save about 23¢ every time I buy Jewel in the large size. Although I've used Jewel for a long time, the new is even better. I use it for all baking and frying."

JEWEL'S HIGH QUALITY NEVER VARIES

Rigid Swift Quality Control and U. S. Government Inspection Assure Uniformity

When it comes to uniformity, the proverbial "peas in a pod" have nothing on new Jewel.

Its unvarying uniformity is due to two main achievements. First, because all Jewel Shortening is tested for quality at the refineries. A thorough, continuing system of Quality Control is constantly on the alert for any deviation in the Jewel formula.

Secondly, the new Jewel must pass a rigid U. S. Government inspection. Thus, each carton or tin of Jewel bears a U. S. Inspected stamp of approval.

In either event, it must be the best or it never gets to market.

MAN AND WIFE AGREE:

"JEWEL CAKES TASTE PERFECT!"

LIGHT, TENDER, FLUFFY . . . AND THEY COST LESS TO MAKE!

Faced with the problem of keeping hubby happy—and cutting down on food costs, too? Then here's good news!

With the new, homogenized Jewel Shortening you can cook to his heart's desire—and save money while you do. For new Jewel—although it costs much less than costliest brands of shortenings—challenges them all when it comes to results.

Mrs. Langston added this further comment: "With the amount of shortening we use, we figure our savings on Jewel at about $8.00 a year. That'd buy plenty of eggs!"

As Swift's famous test kitchens have discovered however, Jewel's magic is not restricted to cakes and biscuits. Piecrusts, cookies, fried foods of all kinds, also benefit when Jewel is used.

Like Fried Chicken? Here's How to Add a Touch of "Magic"!

Developed by Swift's famous Martha Logan, here's a special fried chicken recipe featuring new Jewel Shortening. Just follow the 6 magic steps indicated for your convenience.

1. Clean, wash and drain a 2½ to 3 lb. (dressed) chicken. 2. Cut into serving pieces. 3. Measure ¼ cup flour and 2 tsp. salt into a clean paper bag. 4. Drop in each piece of chicken separately and shake until coated. 5. Heat enough Jewel Shortening to make ¼ inch depth in a large skillet. 6. Fry chicken over medium heat, turning until all sides are golden brown. Reduce heat, cover and cook about ½ hour, until tender. Uncover and cook ten minutes.

NO OTHER SHORTENING IS MORE DIGESTIBLE OR MORE NUTRITIOUS!

Don't be fooled—say scientists. Just because a shortening costs more doesn't make it any more nutritious or digestible.

Actually, any fats—including the fine vegetable and meat-food fats found in Jewel—are among the most completely digested foods.

Furthermore, all fats are important in good nutrition. For they yield 2¼ times as many energy units per pound as either carbohydrates or proteins.

In other words, money can't buy a more nutritious or digestible shortening than new Jewel. Not even if you pay $10 a pound!

CHALLENGES THE COSTLIEST . . . COSTS MUCH LESS! SAVINGS OF 5¢ TO 7¢ A POUND REPORTED

There's a new "headliner" in the shortening field! The product is Swift's new, homogenized Jewel Shortening. Only recently introduced, it challenges all costliest brands. Yet it costs 5¢ to 7¢ less per pound.

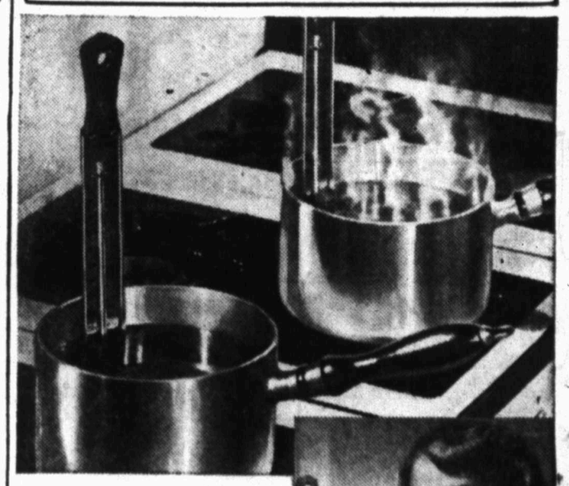

The new Jewel has been created to a new formula and employs a controlled homogenization process in the blending of its fine vegetable oils and meat-food fats. The result is a product of highest quality with a remarkable smooth and even texture. No other shortening—regardless of price—is more nutritious or more digestible.

According to Martha Logan, Swift's nationally-known Home Economist, the new Jewel is ideal for cooking, baking and frying. JEWEL'S "SMOKE-POINT" 40° HIGHER!

Simple test proves it won't smoke up or smell up your kitchen like costliest shortenings!

Dramatic proof that Jewel is smokeless is offered by a recent test. In this test, Jewel was compared with the three costliest shortenings. And in every single instance, Jewel demonstrated a marked superiority.

The test consists merely of placing equal amounts of Jewel and any costliest shortening in two separate pans of the same size. To verify temperatures reached, a cooking thermometer (preferably two) is used.

Not until long after the other shortening has been removed from the heat, does new Jewel show any evidence of smoke or smell. Jewel can, in fact, be left over the heat until its temperature is 40° higher than its competitors.

Home economists agree that the perfect deep-fat frying temperature is 365° to 375°. Expensive shortenings will begin to smoke at 360°. Jewel, however, could be heated to 400° before even a noticeable trace of smoke or odor would appear.

Challenges the costliest... costs much less!

UAW Union Looking For Way To Raise Big Strike Fund Quickly

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 15. (AP)—The CIO United Auto workers' union, its political course charted, turned today to means of raising up to $10,000,000 in a hurry for any big strike.

A proposal, to be put to convention delegates as a constitutional amendment, was particularly timely in light of a threatened system-wide strike of 106,000 Ford workers only days or weeks away.

Also on the calendar for what might be the convention's last day were some hot grievance cases—one of them involving Harold Christoffel—and a backlog of other matters.

Levy Would Be Hiked

The proposed strike fund amendment, under certain circumstances, would lift the $1 a year assessment limit the UAW executive board can impose on the union's million members.

These circumstances deal with a major strike, meaning against one of the auto industry's "big three" producers—General Motors, Ford or Chrysler.

Even then, however, $10,000,000 could not be raised overnight. Such a sum could be amassed over a year's time, with the present limit on assessments, only $1,000,000 can be raised by that means in one year.

To produce the larger amount would cost each member almost $1 a month in addition to his dues.

Another proposal to raise the dues rate from $1.50 to $2 a month was withdrawn by the constitution committee yesterday in the face of almost certain defeat.

The Ford contract expires at midnight tonight. The UAW has agreed to extend it on a day-to-day basis but won't say for how long. It could strike anytime on five days' notice. Negotiations in Detroit on the union's pension, welfare fund and wage demands have been recessed until Monday.

Christoffel, whose perjury conviction for denying he was a Communist was dismissed on a technicality recently by the U. S. Supreme Court, was one of nine former officers of Allis-Chalmers local 248 expected to appeal to the convention.

All were expelled from the union by a local trial board on charges of misusing funds. The UAW executive board upheld their expulsions.

A resolution upholding the political views of Reuther was adopted with little opposition.

Texas Floral Group Names New Officers

FORT WORTH, July 15. (AP)—E. W. Bradshaw of Galveston was named president of the Texas Florists association at the close of a three-day convention here yesterday.

Other officers elected included: Ben Kemple of Alice, first vice president; Julia E. Caldwell of Corpus Christi, second vice president; J. B. Parks of Dallas, third vice president. Wise Adkisson of Greenville was reelected executive secretary.

Directors named were Jane Judge of Tyler, Ray McCulloch of Fort Worth, and George Pletcher of Harlingen.

Young Girls Slug It Out With Cars

MARYSVILLE, Calif., July 15 (U.P.)—When Dorothy W. George, 20, and Charmaine June Crowder, 18, got mad at each other, they decided to try to force each other off the road in speeding autos, police reported today.

Failing to get a decision, the girls jumped out of their cars and fell to with fists, fingernails and hair-pulling. They were arrested for reckless driving.

Ex-Hitlerite Given Citizenship Papers

MEDIA, Pa., July 15 (U.P.) — A probationary member of Hitler's Nazi party 12 years ago has become an American citizen here.

Herbert Gunther Sonthoff, 36, took the oath of allegiance along with 11 other new citizens at the county court.

Sonthoff originally was turned down by the U. S. Bureau of Immigration but he was granted citizenship by the county court after an appeal. He admitted that he had been a probationary member of Hitler's storm troops in 1937-38 while he was a student in Germany. But he said he was dismissed from the Nazi party when he refused to take part in the blood purges.

In 1939, he came to America on a refugee scholarship. On May 20, Judge van Roden granted citizenship to Sonthoff, and he is now a student at Harvard.

Famous Old Nursery In Second Century

WESTFIELD, Mass., July 15 (U.P.)—One of the nation's oldest nurseries is starting its second century of plant, shrub and tree raising.

Shipments from the Adams Nursery, Inc., acres go to every state in the nation and to several foreign countries. In its first 100 years, the nursery constantly has expanded and thrice, shifted its location.

Its founder, John Adams, started with a modest nursery at Portland, Me., during the "gold rush" year of 1849. Just 18 years later the nursery was moved to Springfield and finally in 1912 to its present location, a 200-acre property in this community.

Doctor Asking For New Trial

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, July 15. (U.P.)—Dr. Robert C. Rutledge, 28, appealed for a new trial today on grounds that a man on the jury which convicted him of slaying his wife's seducer was prejudiced.

Lawyers for the St. Louis baby specialist filed a 35-page petition for him. It included affidavits saying several people had heard Juror Emil Novotny, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, state that Rutledge "should be hanged."

Faces Long Term

Rutledge is in the county jail here. He was convicted of second degree murder and faces a sentence of from 10 years to life in prison.

He was accused of killing Byron Hattman, 29, St. Louis, in a battering fight in a hotel room here over Hattman's seduction of tall blonde Sidney Rutledge.

In addition, the petition charged the court had failed to instruct the jury completely at the end of the month-long trial and that a demonstration of the death fight by prosecuting attorneys was "inflammatory."

District Judge J. E. Heiserman said he probably would hear arguments on the motion next week but that he would confer with lawyers on both sides before setting a date.

Farewell Parties Given For Pioneer Residents Of Lamesa

LAMESA, July 15 (Special) — Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Loveless, pioneer residents of Lamesa, have been given farewell parties by friends here on the eve of their departure for Bastrop. The couple will make their home in Bastrop where Dr. Loveless will continue his medical profession in a hospital with his son, Dr. Wells Loveless.

Dr. and Mrs. Loveless, married in Hill county in 1905, moved to Lamesa in 1912 after residing in Roscoe where the doctor first began practice. He graduated from University of Texas medical school at Galveston in 1906.

Founded Hospital

Dr. Loveless, who estimates that he has delivered nearly 3,000 babies during his 37-year practice here, was joint founder of the Loveless-Bennett Hospital here in 1924 with Dr. W. H. Bennett. Dr. Bennett died in 1932, and Dr. Loveless sold his interest in the hospital in 1941. He has since maintained his office and clinic at 604 North First.

The doctor and his wife have long been active in church and civic affairs, and Mrs. Loveless has served as her husband's secretary and helper in the clinic for several years. She is the former Winona Lowry.

Member Of Club

Dr. Loveless is a charter member of the Rotary club here, and a long-time member of the Masonic and Knights of Pythias lodges. Both he and his wife have long been active members of the First Methodist Church.

Dr. Wells Loveless is co-owner of a hospital in Bastrop. Another son, Lowry Loveless, is in the insurance business in Irving. The couple has four grandchildren.

Dr. Loveless calls this area "the most wonderful country with the most wonderful people in the world. We can never find words to express what it has meant to have this as our home, and would never leave except to be nearer our children," he said.

Bombay Rites Held For Crash Victims

BOMBAY, India, July 15. (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Loy Henderson and a party of America journalists flew back to New Delhi today after a brief delay when their plane developed engine trouble.

Henderson came here yesterday to attend funeral services for 13 U. S. correspondents who perished Tuesday when a royal Dutch air liner in which they were travelling crashed, with a loss of 45 lives.

A Dutch constellation plane arrived here today from Karachi with nine experts who were dispatched to continue efforts to identify the crash victims' bodies.

GOOD CROPS AND OPENING OF LAFB ARE CITED

Business Outlook For South Plains Section Said Bright

By ROGER SOUTHALL
Journal Staff Writer

Optimism was expressed this week by a number of leading businessmen that business conditions in Lubbock and over the South Plains area would continue prosperous during forthcoming months.

A survey of a number of retailers, bankers, cotton buyers and grocerymen left the definite impression that the South Plains was approaching another bumper season, which in the past has kept this area among the bright spots in the nations business picture.

O'MARA

In manifesting their confidence in the bright economic outlook for this area, they unreservedly were of the opinion that prosperity will continue in the immediate future unless unforseen circumstances alter present favorable conditions.

Record Crop Seen

It was pointed out that one of the largest and most profitable cotton crops in the history of the South Plains will be harvested this year, that reopening of LAFB will bring in a payroll amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars, and that an extremely large—if not a record—enrollment this fall at Texas Technological college will in itself create a sizable market for services and goods.

BENSON

PAYNE

Still another favorable factor in the continuing economic well-being of Lubbock and vicinity is the increased oil activity over the South Plains, which is expected to bring additional shoppers (and dollars) into the trade territory.

As one merchant expressed it, "any activity that brings people to Lubbock stimulates retail business."

MAEDGEN

Below are individual comments on the area's economic outlook by Lubbock businessmen:

W. C. O'Mara, manager of Sears Roebuck & Co: "The prospects for Lubbock and the area are excellent. I cannot see anything at present to prevent an exceptionally fine and prosperous fall season.

POPE

"Contributing factors are prospects of large crops, reopening of Lubbock Air Force Base, and a large Tech enrollment."

O'Mara said that business this year was slightly off from this time a year ago. He pointed out that prices have decreased somewhat within the 12-month period. He said also that shoppers seem more cautious now than they were a year ago; that they are for the most part buying only what they need. Hence, the average sale now tends to be slightly less than it was a few months ago.

JENNINGS

CARLOCK

J. B. Stevens, owner of Stevens Food store, and president of South Plains Associated Grocers: "I feel that the economic outlook for the South Plains is extremely good. I believe we are in a position to hold business if not actually gain some."

Of Lubbock and the area, he said that "we're better off this year than in times just past, with prospects of record crops and with the reopening of the air base."

BOVERIE

Charles E. Maedgen, president of Lubbock National bank: "Naturally, the economic conditions that prevail over the entire country have an important bearing on what local business conditions might be. If unemployment prevails and industry curtailed, it will affect the market for products raised in this country.

GLAZENER

"Barring any calamity of national or world-wide scope, there is, in my judgment, no need for worry or uneasiness about good conditions in this section.

STEVENS

"People are generally in good financial condition. Crop prospects are excellent. I can see nothing but good business conditions prevailing in this area.

"However, a general decline in business volume, in my judgment, is only normal. In 1946 through 1948 business was abnormally good and a decline in sales of various merchants and jobbers is only a condition leading to what normal business might be.

Have Buyers' Market

The other side of the story is that we are going back to conditions where it is a buyer's market, not a sellers' market. People who have commodities to sell are going to have to put salesmanship behind their business.

"Buyers are more cautious and selective. They are looking for better merchandise at a lower price.

"All in all, I can see no need for particular uneasiness on the future economic conditions of this area."

Mild Recession Likely

C. P. Carlock, of Carlock and Carlock, cotton buyers: "The economic outlook for the South Plains in the immediate future is good. I believe that conditions would remain good here even if conditions were bad in some other parts of the country."

Carlock said, however, that "we might be in for a 'mild recession' within the next few months."

He pointed out that business is slack with cotton buyers and brokers at present, but that it is a seasonal occurrence, since there is almost no cotton left in the area.

He was of the opinion that activity in cotton buying is down slightly from July of 1948.

"Our slack business is no reflection upon the area," he said, "but is because this vicinity is bare of cotton."

Outlook Still Favorable

E. T. Pope, manager of Hanna-Pope & Co.: "I think the financial and economic outlook for the South Plains is average to favorable. I think we all must realize that war times and war time conditions are past; but as compared with normal times, we are still in a very favorable position."

Speaking of retail business in general, he said, "We feel that any drop in business is due more to a decrease of prices than to loss of unit sales. Comparatively speaking, he said, business is running along favorably with business a year previously.

"All in all, I see no reason why we cannot and will not have a very successful fall; especially if present favorable conditions continue."

Conditions Now Normal

He pointed out that the economic outlook for the South Plains is perhaps some better than in many other sections of the country where manufacturing is all-important, especially since numbers of manufacturing firms have laid off workers and thus have reduced the income and potential buying power of that particular area.

George E. Benson, president of Citizens National bank: "I think business conditions here are probably normal for this section of the country. In other words, during the war we had abnormal conditions which paid little attention to seasonal business conditions. Everybody had more than they could do the year around during the war.

"Before the war, we always had a slack, quiet period during the summer. Nearly all merchants and businessmen did the bulk of their transactions in the fall and winter months, at which time they made most of their profits also.

"Similar conditions now exist here and in my opinion it is a normal condition.

Looking For Top Year

"I don't know what is going to happen nationally, but whatever does, we will find ourselves better off than any other section. I don't look for a smashup nationally, and I think this country is going to progress and develop tremendously in the future."

Clem B. Boverie, vice-president of Furr's, Inc.: "We think the economic picture for Lubbock and the South Plains is very good. We're looking for a top year.

"The outlook is good because of extremely favorable factors, among them reactivation of LAFB, prospects for good crops, and high enrollment at Texas Tech," he said.

"At present, I cannot see anything that would keep this year from being one of the best and most prosperous in the history of the area."

No Cause For Layoffs

He said his firm has had no cause to lay off any of its employes, nor has buying volume needed to be cut in any way. He said he believed his company's volume of business was somewhat above last year's.

Jack Payne, president of American State bank: "The downward trend in business activity, employment, and prices, did not come as a surprise; it had been widely expected for several years. It did not materialize sooner because of certain unforeseeable developments but it has been evident all along that sooner or later the courses of inflation were bound to exhaust themselves, and as soon as these forces had run their course, the period of inflation would be followed by a period of adjustment.

"This downward trend in business activity may be offset in this area to a large extent by our splendid crop conditions."

P. T. Glazner, buyer for Piggly Wiggly stores: "I believe business here is normal to good, and that prospects for the immediate future are very good.

"In general conditions in this area seem above normal. The South Plains appears to be in better shape than many other sections of the country."

V. O. Jennings, of Jennings and Williams, cotton brokers, secretary of the Lubbock Cotton Exchange: "I am very optimistic for fall on the South Plains; conditions for the fall months now look very favorable.

"If things remain as they are, everybody ought to make some money in the next few months."

Jennings said the cotton business is very slack at present, since very little remains in the area at this time. However, the summer months are always light with cotton brokers. Business begins to pick up in September, he explained.

Dallas Steel Firm To Begin Expansion

DALLAS, July 15. (AP)—E. H. Germany, president of the Lone Star Steel Co., said yesterday that a $22,000,000 expansion program for his plant would begin at once.

The company was granted a $34,000,000 RFC loan yesterday. The plant expansion was one of the conditions of the loan. Another condition was that the plant have a minimum working capital of $4,000,000.

"Those terms will be met," Germany said. "The deal is tougher than we hoped for but the steel mill will be built under those terms."

Brownwood Man Dies In Bathtub At Home

BROWNWOOD, July 15. (AP)—Rush Johnigan, 78, deaf mute and former contable at Coleman, was found dead in a half-filled bathtub at his home here yesterday. His face was under water.

His wife, also deaf, found him when she returned home from work at a canning plant.

Sheriff Otis F. Shaw said Johnigan apparently died of natural causes.

Two Men Perish In Burning Truck Cab

CLARKSDALE, Miss., July 15. (AP)—Two men died when a load of ice trapped them in a burning truck cab here yesterday.

Highway patrolmen identified the dead as Willie Wagner, the driver, and J. D. Stewart, 21, a trucking company employe.

Czech Catholic Leaders Await Next Aggressive Move Of Reds

PRAGUE, Czechoslavakia, July 15. (AP)—Gagged and literally under lock and key, defiant Archbishop Josef Beran sat tight in his palace today waiting for the Communist government to make the next move against him and the Roman Catholic church.

The nation wondered: will the Communists jail him. And if so, when and on what charges?

All sorts of charges have been made against Beran and his bishops by government officials and the controlled press—charges such as incitement to insurrection and "espionage for unfriendly foreign powers."

Reds Win First Round

Would the Communists dare now to arrest the nation's primate when Slovak Catholics have demonstrated they will rise with primitive weapons in defense of village priests?

Catholics and diplomatic quarters appeared convinced that the government would not deviate from its aim of crushing and shackling the church. The question was when and by what measures it would now proceed.

Informed diplomatic sources took this view of the situation:

1—the government by sheer power won the first round of State-church fight by isolating Beran and his bishops, placing them in semi-captivity and cutting them off from the faithful. This was done by stopping pastoral letters and bishops' meetings, passing decrees which crushed the church press and substituting a government-sponsored press.

Charges Produced

2—The government is pushing its separatist organizations, such as a Communist-sponsored Catholic action movement. But the general view is that there are not doing as well as expected.

3—There seems now to be a period of "marking time" in which the Communists are producing daily a series of charges in their press against the bishops. These range from claims that the bishops collaborated with the Nazis to accusations that they are now the vassals of the "western imperialists" telling their side of the story to the voice of America.

4—This period of trying to build up a case was prompted by strong resistance encountered especially in volatile and strongly-Catholic Slovakia against repression of the church.

Beran Isolated

So far as is known, Beran has not emerged from his palace since Sunday, June 19, when Communist hecklers shouted him down in St. Vitus cathedral.

Church sources say the Communists would like to get him to leave on a summer holiday—then lock him out.

While he remains in the palace, Beran is isolated except for a few callers. These so far have included representatives of the Vatican's diplomatic mission here. One such visitor recently disclosed that when he called on the archbishop he was admitted by a secret police plainclothesman who "unlocked the door to let me in and locked it again on the archbishop—just like a jail cell."

Meanwhile, the archbishop's consistory (administrative office) is staffed by personnel of the Communist ministry of education.

The Communists have obviously been embarrassed by world headlines about the state-church fight.

The controlled press is filled daily with protestations against reports that the church is being persecuted here.

Heart Attack Kills Well-Known Scribe

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 15 (AP)—Walter Morrow, 54, widely-known newspaperman, died last night of a heart ailment.

Morrow started newspaper work as a cub reporter for the Daily Oklahoman here in 1918. Twenty years later he became editor-in-chief of the southwestern group of Scripps-Howard newspapers.

His last newspaper job was editor of the Columbus, Ohio, Citizen in 1942. He later became manager of the American Retailers association in Washington.

During the depression years of the late 1930s, Morrow developed what he called the Morrow plan—a plan to end all economic worries.

After the war, Morrow said his plan could not compete with other economic theories to cure post-war economic ills.

Career Described

He spent his early Oklahoma newspaper days with the Daily Oklahoman, the Ponca City News, Okmulgee Daily Times, Oklahoma City Times and McAlester News-Capital.

In 1923, he left the state and joined the Scripps-Howard newspapers. He held executive positions on seven newspapers including the Memphis Press-Scimitar, Pittsburgh Press, Lansing Mich., Capital-News, New York Telegram, Buffalo Times, Cleveland Press and Akron Times-Press.

Morrow had been in ill health for the past two years. He left his Washington, D. C., home in February for Phoenix, Ariz. He was brought here by airplane Monday.

CHEESECAKE CLAUSE — Peggie Castle expects to pose for many pictures like this in the future. A newcomer to Hollywood, she recently signed a long-term contract with a special "cheesecake clause." which reportedly will be written into contracts for all new female actresses, requires that they display their "charms" in publicity photos as well as on the screen.

Diligenti Quints Set To Celebrate Sixth Anniversary

BUENOS AIRES, July 15 (AP)—The Diligenti's "five young imps," as their father calls the quintuplets, are six today—that is six years old.

Their household will realize it better tomorrow because they are in school today. Franco Diligenti's parental boss of the two boys and three girls, postponed their sixth anniversary party so the hilarity would not interfere with their education.

Franco, jr., Carlos Albert, Maria Fernanda, Maria Esther and Maria Cristina Diligenti—the precocious and peppy youngsters—are expected to keep a large staff of servants on the go, when they celebrate tomorrow. Papa Diligenti says they really tear the house apart when they get started.

Speak Several Languages

They all speak English and French and their mother's native tongue, Italian, in addition to Spanish. But they are not bookworms. They will be separated for schooling next year—the boys attending one school and the girls another.

"I couldn't inflict those five young imps on one boarding school," says Diligenti, wealthy textile manufacturer. "They all would be packed home within a couple of days."

Alexander the Great is said to have been so interested in discovering new kinds of food that he promoted soldiers who brought him an unusual meat, fruit, or vegetable.

New Medical School At Dallas Will Start Operation Sept. 1

AUSTIN, July 15. (AP)—A new medical branch of the University of Texas will begin enrolling students Sept. 1 at Dallas.

The board of regents chose Dallas yesterday to be the home of the new school, naming it the Southwestern Medical school of the University of Texas. Thus the name of the private school being turned over to the state was retained.

A special committee of four regents, President T. S. Painter and vice-president-comptroller C. D. Simmons of the university was directed to complete details of transferring privately endowed Southwestern Medical college to the state without cost.

Staff Is Retained

Retention of the school's present staff for one year was approved by the regents. Tuition fees of the new school will be the same as those of the Galveston medical branch.

Students for the coming year having been accepted already under entrance requirements of the private school, requirements of the two medical branches will not become the same until the fall of 1950.

A spokesman for the regents said it would be "impossible" to enroll 164 beginning students—100 more than the enrollment for the current year—this fall.

This indicated the board did not agree with San Antonio and Temple delegations who said the law authorizing the new medical school required that its first-year enrollment be 100 additional to the total enrollment of all medical schools in Texas for the current year.

San Antonio and Temple, which competed with Dallas for the school's location, also challenged the intention of the Southwestern Medical foundation to hold $1,900,000 in endowment funds and all future funds for use in supplementing state salaries, research and ther propects.

Action Is Assailed

The defeated cities said the law requires all funds of the private school and the foundation to be turned over to the state. They based their belief on the following wording of the law:

"The board of regents shall not locate the medical department or school herein provided for upon the premises of any existing medical school or department without first receiving, in the name of the state of Texas, title to all properties, funds, endowments and assets of such existing medical school or department."

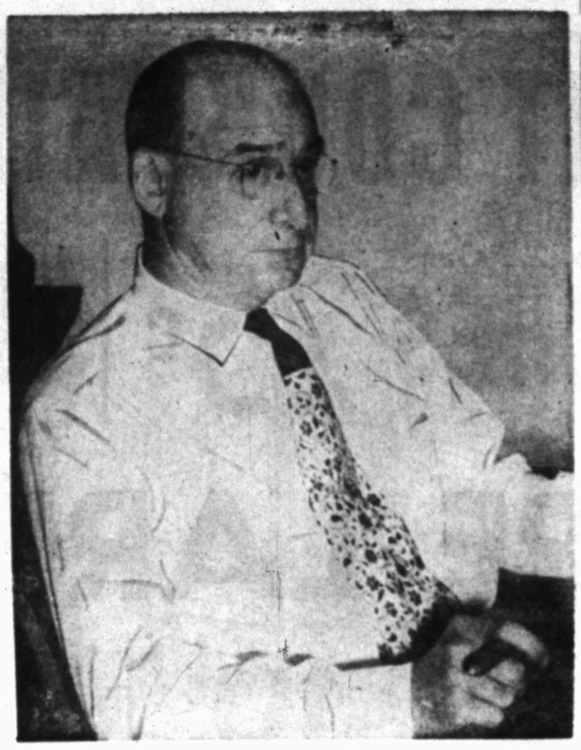

San Antonio and Temple said the use of the word "endowment" in the law indicated the legislature's intention that funds of an endowing foundation should also be turned over to the state.

Dallas disagreed, saying the law applied only to funds of the school itself.

San Antonio and Temple contended it would be a violation of state law for a private foundation to supplement salaries of state employees—the professors in the medical school

Dallas said this procedure is already followed at state-supported institutions such as the M. D. Anderson hospital at Houston. The regents agreed with Dallas.

The great Sale Lake now covers 1,500 square miles, less than one-tenth of its original area.

HIS FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY—Spencer A. Wells, above, today observed the 40th anniversary of his start in a successful merchandising career in West Texas. It was 40 years ago today that he started in the shoe department of Baker-Hemphill's store in San Angelo, the business that grew into the present Hemphill-Wells company in Lubbock, San Angelo and Big Springs, West Texas' biggest retail business. In the 40-year period Mr. Wells has drawn pay checks from only two organizations—the business which he has headed for the past 18 years, and the United States army.

Noted Oil Man Dies Of Stroke

FORT WORTH, July 15. (AP)—Charles F. Roeser, 61, a leading champion of independent oil operators throughout the nation, died here yesterday of a heart attack.

He had been critically ill for a week and had undergone surgery.

Funeral services will be held at his home here today (4:30 p. m.)

Roeser's entire working life was devoted to the oil business. At the time of his death he was president of Roeser and Pendleton, Inc., and chairman of the board of the Continental National bank of Fort Worth.

Formed Partnership

He was born Dec. 12, 1887 near the oil fields of Ohio and West Virginia on the banks of the Ohio river. After graduation from college he followed the oil industry to Oklahoma in 1905. He went to Tulsa when the Glenn pool was discovered. He returned to eastern fields for a time but moved back to Oklahoma to become a leading producer and contractor.

In 1917 he went to Breckenridge, where he operated several leases. He was one of the first operators to go into the casing-head gasoline business there.

In 1924, Roeser and T. T. Pendleton, a partner for two years, formed Roeser and Pendleton, Inc., with principal holdings in Stephens and Shackelford counties.

Held Many Offices

In 1926 the firm drilled the discovery well in the Cook ranch field, Shackelford county. That same year Roeser moved to Fort Worth.

His work in the interest of the independent oil man resulted in his election as president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America in 1936 and his re-election in 1937, 1938, and 1939.

He was a vice president of the American Petroleum institute, division of production in 1932, 1933, and 1934. He was a member of the advisory board of the U. S. bureau of mines and chairman of the committee on petroleum and gas problems for three years beginning in 1936.

He was a member of the petroleum industry war council from 1941 through 1945.

In 1937 the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association honored him as the independent producer doing the most for the oil industry.

26-Year Marriage Ended By Divorce

LOS ANGELES, July 15. (AP)—Marriage of 26 years has ended for Eugenie Leontovich and Gregory Ratoff.

The actress divorced Ratoff yesterday on charges that he deserted her in 1944. Ratoff, actor turned producer-director, is now in London working on a film.

They were wed in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1923, a year after they came to broadway from Russia.

Miss Leontovich receives a settlement including $31,525 in cash, a Beverly Hills home, 15 per cent of Ratoff's gross earnings with a minimum guarantee of $9,600 annually, and 15 per cent of Ratoff's interest in two movies.

Half Of U. S. Workers Are Misplaced In Their Chosen Vocations, Prof Believes

CHICAGO, July 15. (U.P.)—You may be happy in your work and pleased with your occupational niche but the fellow at the desk or machine next to you may not be.

It is the opinion of Robert C. Woellner, University of Chicago professor, that half of all adults definitely are misplaced or, at least, could have been better placed if modern vocational methods had been available during their formative years.

Woellner attributes much of the present social unrest, high divorce rate, low birth rate and high incidence of mental illness in the United States to the many unfortunate occupational choices of its breadwinners.

Woellner is director of the university's occupational guidance and placement center, established in 1927 to help students to avoid becoming round pegs in square holes in later life.

Its facilities also have been used since the war to counsel thousands of ex-GI's sent from all parts of the country by the Veterans administration before studying a trade or profession at government expense.

Hard To Shift

Persons over 30 with family responsibilities have little opportunity to shift to work that is more compatible with their energy, ability and interest, Woellner admits. He does hold out great hope that coming generations of breadwinners will be a happier lot, due to rapidly increasing emphasis on occupational guidance in schools throughout the country.

"In working with the veterans who are in our midst for only a few days," Woellner said, "our job is to make sure their goals are founded on genuine interest and potential ability, not romantic or social prestige notions, both of which are responsible for vast overcrowding in certain occupations.

"You'd be surprised at the number of ex-servicemen sent to us for testing and counseling who want to be musicians, radio announcers, photographers, artists, actors and writers, or, at the skilled trade level, television experts and refrigeration or air conditioning engineers.

"Often we find after interviewing and testing an aspirant to a writing career, for example, that his technical ability is sound but his creative ability nil," Woellner said. "In such a case we recommend his studying to earn a living at work that is in demand—teaching, for instance. The writing ambition may then be pursued as an avocation.

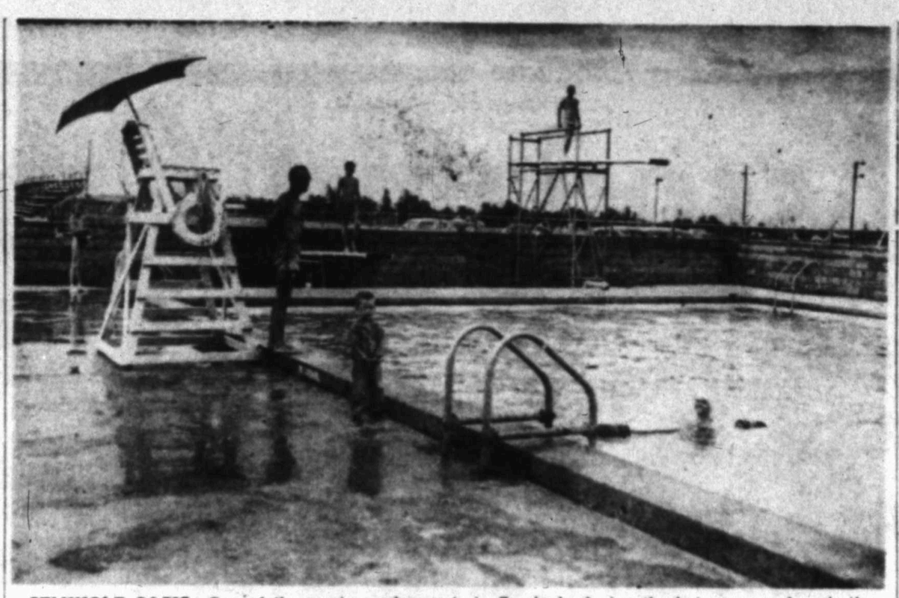

How It's Done

The customary procedure in tests is this: after a preliminary interview with a counselor, a person's "profile" is discovered through standardized tests of his interests, ability to learn, specific aptitudes and personality traits. With profile sheet in hand, the counselor has a longer and more intimate talk with the subject.

Together they try to reach the right conclusion, a product of the counselor's experience and judgment, the subject's common sense, and the test results. If considerable uncertainty still exists, the subject may be given one or more specialized tests which serve to focus the spotlight even more clearly.

"As in all things involving the mysteries of human personality and ability, hard and fast judgments seldom can be made as to a person's future course," Woellner said. "The counselor's role is principally to aid the individual to arrive at his own conclusions regarding his educational or vocational program."

Instead of medals for brovery, soldiers, of Annam, Indo-China, in 1640 received orders on the royal treasury for as much meat and other foods as they and their families could eat during the soldier's lifetime.

Roman Barges Of Lake Nemi To Be Restored As Museum Pieces

NEMI, Italy, July 15. (U.P.)—Two ancient relics of Roman splendor, the famed pleasure barges of Lake Nemi, are being restored once again for the benefit of scholars to come.

Built some time in the first century and moored in the mountain lake south of Rome as a stage for pagan orgies and amusement, the huge barges are the only real proof of the shipbuilding skill of early Rome.

Many attempts failed to raise the barges from the bottom of the lake until Mussolini tackled the job and finished it in two years. But the barge, restored to their old splendor and placed in museum sheds on the lake shore, enjoyed only 19 years of public display before the second World War, when German demolition destroyed them.

The barges were each 220 feet long and 65 feet wide. They are generally credited to Emperor Caligula and believed to have been built some time around the year 30 A. D. But scholars dragging the lake bed have found blocks with the inscription "Teb. Ces." and therefore believe the barges to be the inspiration of Emperor Tiberius who reigned before Caligula.

Many Attempts Made

Nemi is also the site of the ancient Temple of Diana. For centuries scholars have been attracted there to probe legends of great wealth hidden in the temple ruins and also to try to reach the bottom of the lake and find the two barges known to be there.

First success went to Annesjo Fusconi in 1829 who built a diving bell and tried to reach the barges. He didn't find them but came up with a quantity of artistic objects, including the Tiberius marker.

In 1895 the state tried to raise the barges and again in 1904 archeologists made the try. Then Mussolini ordered the barges brought up in 1923. With a dictator's power, Mussolini found the job easy. He just had the waters of the lake siphoned off until the level dropped low enough to enable salvake crews to bring the barges up.

Not True Ships

The bargets were brought ashore and there archeologists cleaned them of barnacles and encrusted dirt and placed them in two special museum sheds. Various small art objects found in the barges and on the lake bottom were placed in state museums.

The barges were not true ships but naval experts said their construction proved that the Romans of the first century had developed a great proficiency in the art of shipbuilding.

For that reason, the Italian navy and ministry of merchant marine, in collaboration with the superior council of antiquities and fine arts, are going to rebuild what they can of the wreckage and from it construct two smaller models of the barges. The replicas were expected to be only 49 feet long but will reproduce faithfully the technical points of the originals.

The expectation for life of Americans at 65 now is 13 2/3 years.

Bone-Chewing Dog Sports Gold Teeth

SOUTH LYON Mich., July 15 (U.P.) — Pudge, an English bulldog is a celebrity in this small town.

Pudge has gold teeth.

Pudge's owner, Erwin Dupree, noticed that she was chipping her teeth gnawing on bones. He learned that an English bulldog has long and weaker front teeth than most dogs and a sudden "chomp" on a hard surface will splinter them.

Dupree appealed to a Detroit dentist. The dentist fashioned a pair of gold crowns on Pudge's lower front teeth.

Vermont Lake Yields Man-Size Sturgeon

SOUTH HERO, Vt., July 15 (U.P.)—Sturgeon as big as six and one-half feet long and weighing 175 pounds still are caught in Lake Champlain near these shores.

Nets as long as 300 feet are used to take the sturgeon by the 50 or fewer fishermen who hold special licenses for this type of fishing.

The fish is in little demand with thrifty Vermonters. But in New York and Boston it's considered quite a delicacy. Sturgeon brings about $1 a pound in metropolitan markets. Roe, which may run to 30 or 40 pounds in a sturgeon, sells around $3 a pound.

Communist Agitation Improving, Reds Say

MOSCOW, July 15 (AP) — Agitation, "Pravda" says is an art.

"The ideological level of Bolshevik agitation," said "Pravda," "is being continually raised." "But," it added, "it is not in the Bolshevik thradition to rest on past achievements. New problems demand further improvement in political agitation, demands an increased sense of responsibility and better qualifications in agitators."

"It is not only, however, a matter of teaching the agitator to elucidate complex questions simply and understandably and to select for his talk the most instructive facts. The art of agitation lies also in avoiding the commonplace and being able to approach different strata of the population differently."

Only 40 per cent of Americans lived in cities and towns in 1900.

Female Employment Figures Up As Male Workers Show Decline

By CLARKE BEACH
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Employment for women is increasing while male employment is dropping.

The number of employed U. S. women increased from 16,602,000 in May 1948 to 17,173,000 in May this year. But in the same period the number of men at work dropped from 42,058,000 to 41,521,000.

These are Census Bureau figures as analyzed and reported by the Women's Bureau of the Labor Department.

Unemployment is hitting both sexes alike. The number of women and men seeking work rose almost 100 percent for each sex. This is all a continuation of a long trend. Since the turn of the century, and earlier, the number of women working and seeking work has been on the increase. In the present period of unemployment, the trend has been accentuated.

Women Labor Force Up

Take the figures on the total labor force—the total of men and women both working and seeking work. The nation's labor force increased from 60,422,000 in May 1948 to 61,983,000 in May 1949.

Among men the increase in that period was only 1.4 percent. Among women the increase was 5.5 per cent.

Women constituted only 18 percent of the total labor force in 1900. They were 29 per cent of the labor force last May. Twenty per cent of women of 14 and older were gainfully employed in 1900. Last May 31 per cent of them had jobs.

The trend for men was the reverse. Only 71 per cent of the adult male population was gainfully employed in May 1949. Yet 87 per cent of adult males were employed in 1900. The drop has been even since 1940, when 79 per cent of adult males were working.

The explanation is that:

Explanations Given

1. Men are staying in school longer. Also, the new pension programs make it easier for them to retire. They used to retire later or not at all.

2. Women are finding work opportunities they never had before. Labor saving devices are making it possible for them to get out of the kitchen. And they need money to buy the labor saving devices.

Women have been encouraged to work. Also, because the social attitude toward working women has changed. Furthermore, the average woman has fewer children now than formerly. The big increase of working women has come chiefly among those who were married.

Women once had too much to do at home even to consider getting a job. But the development of mass production, through the introduction of new machinery and distribution methods, has provided at economical prices the things they once had to provide themselves: clothing, laundry and canned and baked goods.

The growth of factories, too, has created jobs that women are physically able to handle. And the development of business machines has given women new fields of employment.

Fewer Old Maids

Although the typewriter was put on the market shortly after the civil war, the "touch system" didn't come into general use until the 1890s. The rapid work made possible by this and shorthand methods revolutionized business processes.

Girls were often found to be more proficient for the work than men ,and they would work for less. They flocked to the offices for jobs. There was a great moral protest—the temptations for men and women working together in the same offices, the physical strain of typing, which would ruin the girls' health.

But the fact is that women's life expectancy rose from 51.1 years in 1900 to 69.5 years in 1945.

And now fewer women are old maids. In 1900 31 per cent of women were single. In 1940 only 25 per cent were unmarried.

BETTER THAN APPLES

OKLAHOMA CITY (U.P.)—Oklahoma school teachers will get something better than big, red apples when they return to classrooms next fall. A new common school code for Oklahoma, which raises teachers' pay $500 per year, has been signed into the law.

JUST TO KILL TIME—Earl Hattery, 51, rests on his bike after his arrival in New York from San Diego, Calif. Hattery says there was nothing much to do around home, so he got out his bike on April 1st and pedaled the 3900 miles to New York.

Alligator House Pet Owned By Hungarian

BUDAPEST, Hungary, July 15. (AP)—Dogs and other common domestic animals in Hungary take a tax-but not the alligator owned by Laszlo Lipthay of Pecs.

The allogator was just a few inches long when he arrived from South America a little over 10 years ago. Now he measures around seven feet. He eats three whitings a week, but slept nine months last winter. Ali the alligator likes a comfortable armchair in the Lipthay home, and his master says: "Deep and sincere friendship binds us together."

Siam Sponsors Rice And Cotton Program

BANGKOK, July 15. (AP)—The Siamese government has decided to allocate $660,000 during next year to encourage rice and cotton planting in special settlements in the north, central and southern provinces.

The Public Welfare Committee, whose chairman is Premier Phibun Songkram, has asked the Director-General of the Interior Department to make a survey of unemployment conditions in the provinces. It is intended to offer work at the settlements to as many unemployed as will accept.

Kirsten Flagstad Banned From Roles In 'Frisco Opera House

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15 (AP)—Trustees of the San Francisco War Memorial Opera house late yesterday banned the scheduled fall appearances of Wagnerian soprano Kirsten Flagstad.

In a resolution the War Memorial board of trustees said the action was taken "because of the controversial character of her public appearances elsewhere in the United States."

Four Appearances Set

Attorney Herman Phleger, representing the San Francisco Opera association, said the board's ruling may cause cancellation of San Francisco's opera season.

Twenty performances between Sept. 20 and Oct. 23 have been scheduled. Phleger said the whole program was financially dependent on four Wagnerian operas with Miss Flagstad.

At a public hearing before the board Superior Judge Milton D. Sapiro, representing the American Legion, opposed the soprano's singing in the opera house because of her activities during the war. She flew to Norway via Germany in the fall of 1941 to be with her husband, Henry Johansen, a wealthy lumberman.

Sapiro argued it would be better for the opera to go out of business than to hire Miss Flagstad.

Charges Denied

Phleger said, "contrary to all statements and reports, she never sang in Norway or in Germany or in any of the German-occupied countries" during the war.

He said the opera association had decided her appearance here would be an asset and not a liability to the opera season.

City Officials Flay Election Plans

FIRST CONSTRUCTION STAGE COMPETED—Pat O'Hara, at left, and L. L. Morton, right, inspect what was a part of the so-called Courthouse park before several huge elms were butted down and 8,050 cubic yards of earth were scooped out preparatory to construction of a new courthouse. O'Hara operated the power shovel that loaded 25 trucks employed on the excavation job. Morton is superintendent of C. E. Blakeman Contracting company, which was awarded the excavation contract. The old courthouse, which will not be torn down, is shown in the background. (Staff Photo).

Spectators Amazed At Performance of Excavating Machine

Huge Power Shovel Digs 8,050 Cubic Yards Of Dirt From Basement Of New Courthouse

What next? ask those who have lined the boundaries of the project and watched a 45-ton 1,700-horsepower air-controlled power shovel remove 8,050 cubic yards of dirt and caliche rock in four and a half days of actual work.

W. M. Edwards, superintendent for the general contractor, Robert E. McKee of Dallas and El Paso, said spot excavation would commence for footings, and forms will be erected so that exterior basement walls can be poured.

Power Shovel Interesting

Footings can be poured within a few days if steel deliveries are made when expected, Edwards said. After the construction has "topped out," progress will be more apparent; structural steel will start up, and the entire progression will be on its way.

Most interest of the crowds so far has been in the new Lima 604 power shovel.

When Pat O'Hara, Levelland operator of the machine for C. E. Blakeman Contracting company of Sundown and Levelland, "walked" the big shovel up a 70 per cent grade and out of the hole four days ago so that it could be loaded onto a 16-wheel "low-boy" truck and moved to location elsewhere, spectators showed slack-jawed amazement. It was a feat that seemed next to impossible.

O'Hara ran out the dipper stick so that the dipper, or bucket, was as far away from him as possible, rested it on the bank above him and, thus counterbalancing the heavy diesel power unit in the cab behind him with the four and a half tons of boom assembly, opened the throttle and lumbered up the almost sheer slope.

Danger Apparent

Climbing such a grade is ticklish even to the operator, even after 16 years of handling power shovels in 46 states and with a combat engineers outfit in France. He has tipped them over when he was in them. That's bad business. It takes winches, draglines and heavy jacks to right them. "You never know when something will break, either," O'Hara said. "You think of that when you're walking them almost straight up."

O'Hara is so used to his shovel that he can operate its nine clutches in the darkness. He is not so "beat up" at the end of a day's operation as one would imagine, because 120 pounds of pressure in an auxiliary tank, reduced to 75 pounds on the clutches, boosts the light pressure he exerts on his controls.

Areas Built Up

He gets "almost as much kick out of operating the shovel as I do out of watching the people lined up to look at it work." The people here seem more interested in construction work than anywhere else. I think it's an expression of community pride in what will be erected over the hole we dug."

O'Hara and L. L. Morton, superintendent for Blakeman, said the shovel scooped up two cubic yards of dirt at a full bite. It has loaded as much as 3,600 yards in a 10-hour day, and can take out and load 360 yards in 45 minutes. Where did all the dirt go? Twenty-five trucks hauled 1,500 yards to Conley-Lott-Nichols Co., in 3600-block Ave. H, environs of which will be built up; 5,200 yards, mostly caliche, went on South College Ave.; 500 yards were spread on Myrtle drive. The rest went in unidentified "county mudholes," Morton said.

Protests Are Lodged Here

Lubbock city officials reacted with surprise, unanimous disfavor and, in some instances, indignation when they learned late Thursday of the proposal to organize a separate municipality to be named "Westchester" on the Levelland highway a short distance west of the city limits.

An election on the proposed incorporation of the new municipality was set for July 30 by the county commissioners' court when requested in a petition signed by about 40 residents of the area and filed with County Judge Walter Davies earlier in the day.

Claimed Slap At Lubbock

"It's a slap in the face for Lubbock," he declared, with reference to the petition.

He then noted that W. G. McMillan, a former city commissioner, was mentioned as a leader in the movement to create a new town which, officials charged, would form a barrier to the city's continuing growth in the direction of its rapid development.

"If Mr. McMillan ever gets another city of Lubbock construction contract, it will be over my opposition," Hufstedler vowed.

McMillan probably has been awarded more such contracts by the city during the past 10 years than any other individual or firm.

Warn Aid Will Cease

"Of course they have the right to incorporate if they wish," commented Commissioner Clarence Whiteside, anent the proposal.

"But if they do, the City of Lubbock will be freed of all moral obligations to help fight their fires and assist them with any other problems and emergencies which may arise. They'll be strictly on their own."

Whiteside mentioned that most residents of the area, now sparsely settled, get their own water supplies from their own wells.

"But there's a diminishing supply," Mayor W. H. Rodgers remarked. "Water levels in wells drilled in that area have been going down, and most of the wells didn't produce much to start with."

Price Scores Plan

Officials were unanimous that, insofar as the present city administration is concerned, they would be disposed to advise the residents of "Westchester"—if organized — to go to some place other than Lubbock for relief if they begin to run low on water.

Mayor Rodgers said the area does not have its own underground supplies for the needs of relatively limited development.

Even the quiet Commissioner W. B. Price, the least talkative of the city's official family, was critical

C Of C Chiefs Are Installed

By EDWARD WELSH
Journal Staff Writer

SEMINOLE, July 15 — More than 250 members of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce, their families and guests attended the annual barbecue and installation of officers at 8:30 p. m. Thursday in the city recreation hall here.

Mayor D. A. Starling acted as the master of ceremonies and Charles Dean, Plainview attorney and former 64th district attorney, was guest speaker.

Outgoing President Reeves Cothes turned the reins of office over to 'Ox' Jameson, who was elected to the office last week.

Cothes outlined the accomplishments of the Chamber of Commerce during his administration and stated he was sure the organization would go forward with more outstanding projects during the coming year.

Barbecue Served

Other officers installed at the ceremony include Ross Moore, first vice-president; Burly Hull, second vice-president; and Coughran Ketner, treasurer.

H. C. Kyle will continue as the organization's secretary and manager.

The installation followed a barbecue banquet prepared and served by the Odessa Chuck Wagon Gang. The members of the gang were introduced to the crowd individually by Fred Howard, Chuck Wagon boss.

The group from Odessa included; Howard, Joe Cozby, Dr. Choc McCollum, Charlie Perry, Malvern McDonald, Clyde West, Joe Hodges, John Shortes, Vern De Bolt, Roy Hite, Ben La Londe, Dr. J. T. McKissack, Floyd "Happy" Gardner, Delmar Groos and A. J. Burk.

Dean spoke of the importance of the American community. He brought out that in attaining a good place to live in, it is important that responsibilities be accepted along with privileges. "In achieving our desired community," Dean said, "We want to stick to American principles and we don't need any foreign isms. They all lead eventually to slavery."

The installation ceremony and banquet was originally intended to be held in the football stadium but heavy afternoon rains forced

THE QUESTION

Do you think pictures of bloody, gory accident scenes should be published in newspapers as a deterrent to accidents? Do you think they would accomplish the purpose of preventing some accidents?

THE ANSWERS

LEE C. GOLIGHTLY, 1603 Twenty - first, salesman for J. W. Chapman & Sons: "I think they should be. I think they would help. I think it would cause a lot of the younger generation to stop and think. Pictures are more impressive than words'."

L. O. SHOOK, 2347 Nineteenth, oil well driller: "No. I don't believe so. Some people don't like to see them. I don't think they would accomplish the purpose. A story would do just as well."

MRS. BETTY WINSLOW, Slaton, waitress at Texas Drug store: "I wouldn't think so. I don't think horrible pictures should be in the paper, especially if they show someone who has been injured or killed in an accident. I think it should just be the wrecked car and they could tell about it in a story. It would worry lots of mothers and fathers, for one thing, every time their children were out in the car."

FRANK B. BRIDGES, 2804 Twenty - seventh, field representative of rural Electrification administration: "Yes, I think the pictures should be in. I think it would accomplish the purpose. I don't think people realize how serious these automobile accidents actually are, how many of them there are. I don't see any way to get them reduced without doing something and what has been done hasn't helped much. There were more accidents this Fourth of July than there ever has been. I have seen such pictures. I don't think newspapers ought to overdo it, but they should use one or two a week as a constant reminder of what is actually happening."

JOHN L. RASEY, Albuquerque, N. M., carpenter: "They have done that at Albuquerque. I guess newspapers really shounld print them. They are horrifying, but I guess it's a good lesson. I believe it would prevent some. I think it has in Albuquerbue."

H. B. CARTER, 606 Ave. O, Lubbock Sales Co. manager: "No, I don't think so. I don't think they would cut down on accidents. Really, I don't thing people pay too much attention to advice or warnings. Anyone who drives fast reckless doesn't take advice from anyone. They have to be in a

Electric Plant Rumor Denied

Members of the city commission took time out during their semi-monthly meeting Thursday afternoon to brand as "shocking" and "without foundation" rumors that the city electric plant "is about to go broke."

"I don't know who started the rumor nor why," Mayor W. H. Rodgers declared, speaking for the commission. "But there is not a thing to it."

"The city electric plant never has been delinquent by as much as a day in meeting its obligations," he continued.

Profits Hold Down Taxes

"It never has failed to pay a profit. In fact, the city tax rate would be at least double what it is today, and what it has been through all the years, without the city electric plant."

The electric plant profits, he explained, go into the city general fund from which the city's operating expenses are paid.

Members of the commission concurred unanimously in the mayor's statement, as did City Manager Steve Matthews and City Director of Public Works R. L. Oldham. Members of the commission, additional to Mayor Rodgers, are W. B. Price, John Spikes, E. K. Hufstedler and Clarence Whiteside.

Most of the five-hour commission session was devoted to routine business, including some of major importance.

The commission authorized a call for bids to pave approximately 150 blocks of downtown alleys at an estimated cost of $245,000. Bids will be opened Aug. 11. The successful bidder will handle all the paper work in connection with the project, including the collection of the property owners' shares of the paving. The city will pay about 10 per cent of the cost, and the property owners the remainder.

The commission also adopted on final reading an ordinance providing for the changes of names of many city streets. The city manager said, however, that the changes won't be put in effect until new street signs can be ordered and erected. This probably will require several weeks.

A public hearing was set for Aug. 25 on a proposal to extend the city limits westward to Pierce avenue and southward from Nineteenth to Twenty-sixth streets. Residents there requested the annexation.

Fiscal Year Changed

An ordinance changing the start of the city's fiscal year from April 1 to Oct. 1 was adopted on first reading. The city manager said the change would effect a conven-

FELLOW name of Paul D. Halder, who apparently lives 'way up Nawth, recently has been visiting his brother-in-law, Dr. M. R. Snodgrass, in Crosbyton. So impressed is Bro. Halder over our great section of the U. S. A. that he has been prompted to woo the Muses in acclaim. In short, he has turned to iambic pentameter, or sumpin', to give voice to praise of our South Plains.

Here's what he's written for the Crosbyton Review:

A YANKEE'S VIEWPOINT

O! It's cotton, cotton, cotton.
And it's wheat, wheat, wheat
For the clothing we're all wearing
And the bread we have to eat.
Reaching out to each horizon
Are the fields of waving grains.
In the little bit of Heaven
Called the Western Texas Plains.

To the north and to the south of us
Are lands of mighty oil;
Roaming cattle, east and west,
On rugged, broken soil.
Citrus fruits and gorgeous flowers,
Down along the Rio Grande.
You can follow evening's sunset
To a land of drifting sand.

The Emerald Isle across the sea
May rightly get its name,
But at dawn on some clear morning,
In the sun's first rising flame,
Look down those rows of cotton,
Greener far than any green.
And you'll wonder just as I do
Can you believe just what I've seen?

It's the row on row of cotton,
And the fields of ripening wheat
That makes this farmer's wonderland
Which grows the things we eat.
Hats off! To mighty Texas
With your justifiable claims,
To this little bit of Heaven
Called the Western Texas Plains.

Amen, Bro. Halder, amen!

The other day we got a barely legible postcard from a character who forgot to sign his name, requesting that we drop dead.

Since we try to be as agreeable as possible, under any and all circumstances, herewith our answer:

O. K. Dope. Undoubtedly, we will—some day!

Nothing the modern kid ever does really surprises us, but something we saw one doing the other evening almost did.

He was reading the funny paper while roller skating along the sidewalk!

THE CARTOONISTS and the after-dinner speakers often dwell nostalgically on the passing of the old swimmin' hole and offer wet-eyed regrets over how much the modern lad is missing because the old swimmin' hole has gone the way of the cigar store Indian.

That's all well and good. But the modern kid is missing a lot, too, through the passing of the old icewagon.

Time was, before the advent of mechanical refrigerators, when "hooking a ride" on back step of the ice wagon every day was part and parcel of Summer life. So was scooping up bits of ice chipped off by the iceman and gulping 'em down, along with bits of wood from the floor of the wagon.

Happy and lucky was the kid who had a friend on an ice wagon, too. He got to ride a few blocks every day, up on the seat with the driver. Sometimes, he even got to handle the reins.

Up and down the hot, dusty streets went the ice wagon and nearly every front window showed a numbered card, indicating to the iceman the amount of the cold stuff wanted.

Most icemen were pretty good guys who didn't mind the kids hooking rides on the back step—or else they were resigned at not being able to do much about it. But every once-in-a-while there'd be a driver who'd whip up the horses and try to outrun a ride-hooking kid, or who'd run the boys away from the tail-gate at every opportunity while the wagon was stopped.

That, of course, was a challenge to the kids who met it as best they could—and by fair means, or foul.

LUBBOCK'S TWO ice companies—the Peoples and the Crystal—still deliver from door-to-door, as of yore, but snappy, streamlined trucks long ago replaced the horses and wagons.

Gone from the trucks are the scales, once a part of every wagon; gone are the saws with which drivers used to cut blocks into sizes sought by customers. Today, a gadget called a scoring machine produces the blocks at the factory in 25, 50 and 100 pound sizes, all ready for delivery from the wagon without any chipping, or sawing, by drivers.

Mrs. Ab Holt, over at Peoples Ice company, tells us that at least 25 to 30 percent of householders here still use non-mechanical refrigerators, requiring ice delivery. Of course, they are streamlined and snappy, too, and not at all like the old ice boxes of Dad's boyhood days.

But streamlined trucks and ice boxes, scoring machines and purified water to the contrary notwithstanding, the absence of the oldtime ice wagon on city streets today is cheating the kids out of a lot of fun.

Ask almost any man over 40 and he'll tell you so!

MEETING in Washington the other day, the American Association of University Professors "upheld the right" of teachers to be members of, and active in behalf of, the Communist party.

In announcing the decision, the professors' union reaffirmed similar stands taken in 1947 and 1948.

In the light of these positions, it seems to us, the presidents and boards of all American colleges and universities have a responsibility to meet. That responsibility if two-fold. First, American colleges and universities should refuse to have any dealings with the American Association of University Professors as an organization; secondly, American colleges and universities should give faculty members holding membership in the AAUP a reasonable time to withdraw and replace it with a truly American organization, or, if they decline to do so, discharge them at the conclusion of the period of grace.

The AAUP says no college has the right to refuse employment to a professor who is a Communist, or to fire a professor found to be a Communist.

Thus it is time for the people who pay the freight to build and operate colleges and universities to know (1) who's running the institutions, the AAUP, or the constituted authorities; and (2) whether the constituted authorities are going to insist upon manning their classrooms with good American citizens, or permit enemies of this country to use those classrooms as sounding boards for enemy ideologies.

There is no place for Communists in this country's schools and colleges.

The institutions should be cleaned up—and if they can't be cleaned up, the nation will be better off if they're closed up.

BY DREW PEARSON: CONGRESS ALMOST PASSES MEASURE AGAINST LITTLE BUSINESS

Two Former Trust Busters Reverse Themselves

WASHINGTON.—A bill vitally affecting small-business men came within a hair's breadth of being passed in Congress the other day. The law was so technical that it was difficult for senators and representatives to catch its full significance — let alone the poor public.

PEARSON

Also, some congressmen were thrown off guard by the fact that two trusted liberals fronted for the bill. They were: Sen. Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming and Rep. Emmanuel Celler of New York, Democrats.

However, two alert freshmen senators and one sopohomore representatives intervened. Their amendments should save small business from legalized cutthroat competition by which the big trusts could bleed them to death. The three interveners were Kefauver of Tennessee, Long of Louisiana (son of the famed Huey), with Rep. John Carroll of Denver —all Democrats.

Chain of events—here are the facts in the complicated legislative battle which might have wrecked many small-business men.

For two decades and more, certain well-organized groups, such as the cement and steel industries, sold under the basing-point system. This meant that the price of cement was the same in every part of the U. S. A. A cement company in Allentown, Pa., for instance, could absorb the freight costs in shipping to New Orleans, thus selling in Louisiana for the same price it sold in Pennsylvania.

Finally the Supreme Court intervened, decreed the basing-point system illegal. The cement and other industries could not absorb freight rates in order to fix a standard price in all parts of the country, the Supreme Court ruled.

Respected Joe O'Mahoney

At this point, two former champions of little business appeared to reverse themselves.

Champion No. 1—One of the most respected members of the U. S. Senate is sandy-haired, blue-eyed Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming. Beginning as secretary to the late Senator Kendrick of Wyoming, Joe got to know government backward and forward, usually fights for the little fellow—except when it comes to wool. And on wool Joe does an A-1 job for the big sheepmen of his state.

Back in the new deal days, O'Mahoney was the trust-busting chairman of the Temporary National Economic committee which had this to say:

"Extensive hearings on basing-point systems showed that they are used in many industries as an effective device for eliminating price competition . . . We therefore recommend that the Congress enact legislation declaring such price systems to be illegal."

This was in 1941. Seven years later the U. S. Supreme Court caught up with Joe O'Mahoney and followed his advice. Whereupon, in 1949, Joe turned around and introduced a bill which partly nullified the Supreme Court.

Senator O'Mahoney explained that his bill was only clarifying the law. Admittedly the law needed clarifying. For, under the new Supreme Court ruling, a cement company in Birmingham, Ala., could not absorb freight rates to compete in such a near-by market as New Orleans.

But tucked away in O'Mahoney's bill were these little noticed, but highly significant words: that it should be legal "to absorb freight to meet the equally low price of a competitor in good faith."

Note — Joe's Senate colleagues say he has been under terrific pressure from the sugar-beet interests back home to legalize the basing-point system, with the Wyco Trona Development Co., of Green River, Wyo., especially on his neck.

OLD champion No. 2—Another former champion of little business has been Rep. "Manny" Celler, vigorous New York Democrat, now head of the potent House judiciary committee, which processed the new O'Mahoney basing-point bill on the House side of Congress.

Celler is also a member of the Manhattan law firm of Weisman, Celler, Quinn, Allan and Spett. This firm handles accident cases for the giant A & P chain grocery stores.

A & P is one of the chains hit by the Supreme Court decision. In fact, A & P was specifically mentioned in the Morton salt case, where it was shown that A & P was actually able to sell salt retail for less than the neighborhood grocers could buy it wholesale. Thus the independent grocer didn't have a chance of competing.

Whatever Manny Celler's motives, he acted strangely out of character in regard to the basing-point bill.

New champions of little business—realizing what the O'Mahoney basing-point bill meant to little business, Kefauver in the Senate and Carroll in the House tacked on amendments aimed to prevent further price-fixing.

But this got no support from Rep. Celler. To the New York Journal of Commerce he warned that he hoped to change the wording of the Carroll amendment when the bill came before him in judiciary conference.

Later, Manny denied this statement; also got his dander up when this columnist challenged his position.

"Never have I been opposed to the Carroll and Kefauver amendments," he fumed. "I have been for them."

Later, the Congressional Record was read to the congressman over the telephone to remind him of what he had said to his colleagues in the House of Representatives.

"The Congressional Record quotes you as saying: 'I am not in sympathy with . . . the Kefauver amendment,'" Celler was deminded. "Again, you stated: 'it (the Carroll amendment) is exactly the wording of the Kefauver amendment. That and the Kefauver amendment are exactly the same.'

"Those are statements you made during debate, congressman," Mr. Celler was asked. "Do you still say you were for the Carroll amendment?"

The congressman's anger cooled perceptibly. He had no comment to make.

Remember Story About Old Man Of The Sea?

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

Depression Grad Sheds Few Tears For '49 Job-Seekers

NEW YORK, July 15—You observe a rising tendency, among the young, to whine at the increasing difficulty of job-finding —a job that is, which pays the young graduate $10,000 a year to start, with or without necking privileges with the boss' daughter.

RUARK

I recently saw the pictorial plaint of a Yale man who spent 12 whole days, 12 actual days of street-pounding to keep interviews arranged for him by the Yale club placement bureau, and at the end of that time he still had no job. The situation must indeed be grim if a Yale man cannot haul down at least a minor vice-presidency in an advertising agency in nearly two whole weeks of job prowling. There must be something missing in the personal pride department, too, if a Yale man allows his lack of success to be exploited in a magazine of the magnitude of Life.

Racing the mind back to the gaunt dolorous year, 1935, one recalls that things were pretty skinny for the depression-fledged graduate—hard-scrabbled to a point where more than one education-stuffed young man soiled his scholarly fingers with greasy dishwater, or blistered the heels of his hands on an unaccustomed pickax. That was the year when a job as supervising engineer of a gasoline pump was eagerly sought.

Situation Was Challenge

But there was a kind of challenege about the whole tough situation. It was nearly fun to see if you could lick it. There was small false pride wasted on the humble beginning—the theory being that even though he started out small you couldn't keep a good man down. I suppose the same cliche today would not only be regarded as corny, but also as reactionary.

It seems to me that I was a full two years out of school before I ever achieved the fabulous salary of $25 a week, which at the time appeared to be more money than any one man had a right to. There had been the rough interrim of the $12-a-week country newspaper job; the $10-a-week session as an ordinary seaman on a smelly scow which was full of bedbugs and cockroaches and devoid of wages, hours or overtime pay.

I memorized the city of Washington, D. C., and flattened my feet lugging advertising copy back and forth from newspaper to department store, and I met the public for the first time as peon on a classified advertising counter, both chores operating on a seven-day basis for a flat sum of $14, plus what you could steal from the small change box.

MY first upward swoop on the social scale was a copyboy's job, and this paid $12, but it was in the editorial rooms of the pompous old Washington Star, and carried a certain tone not to be found in the earthier journals of the city. I mixed a right fair brand of paste, in those days, and might have graduated to be head copyboy at $17 a week except for an untimely argument with one of the owners. The argument was whether searching all over town for a certain brand of dog-biscuit constituted journalism, and I was outvoted.

This necessitated a switch to the News, which paid me $15, possibly because of my habit of pouring green pigment into the pastepots. I had been a college graduate for 23 months when the man patted me on the shoulder with a 10-buck raise and dubbed me junior sportswriter.

Oddly enough, no iron entered my soul, even though infrequent food invaded my stomach. Living on $12 to $15 a week in Washington, D. C., is an entrancing pastime which greatly sharpened the brain. You learned to go out only with girls who had iceboxes. Any attention paid you by these winsome creatures was a tribute to your own vast charm, since you had no money at all and were unable to bribe your way into a female affection.

Develops Self-Confidence

Among these icebox-owning ladies was a college graduate who worked 15 months behind a candy-counter as a method of invading the department store interior decoration field. When she finally got a job as receptionist for $14.75 she had a great appreciation of life and an abiding hatred of candy which has since helped to keep her slim. When she eventually achieved adult professional status and $22 a week she had developed an overpowering self-confidence that has kept her mate on the defensive ever since.

I make no moral to the impatient youth of the land, unless it's to say that a few early difficulties in the business of a fashioning a living is sometimes to be preferred to the swift and easy success. The palate that learned to relish a two-bit blueplate ever after regards a sirloin steak with reverence and breathless appreciation.

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

"MY husband is talking of retiring soon, and though it may sound selfish of me, I just can't face the prospect of having him under foot all day, every day. I know from past experience that he'll be miserable with nothing to do, shut up in an apartment all day. Yet his job is getting too hard for him and I can't expect him to keep at it all his life. Is there any solution to a problem like ours?"

MILLETT

And there are so many mistakes a couple can make in trying to find the right answer.

Some think financial security is all that is needed for a happy life in retirement, and make no provision for finding some absorbing interest to take the place of the job that is given up.

Others figure that they'll be happy if they pull up stakes and go to a better climate to live, only to find that in leaving their friends behind them they have abandoned the friendships they spent the better part of a lifetime making.

PART-TIME WORK IS HELP

STILL others quit working entirely because a full-time job is too hard, when a part-time job or an easier one might help to ease them into retirement.

Try to show your husband the necessity for either figuring out some kind of work he can do at home or for hitting on some easier job he can handle without too great a strain on his health.

And try to get him interested in a hobby. Remember, too, that a small home in the country with enough land for gardening is usually a better place for retirement or partial retirement than a city house or apartment.

Together you should be able to work out some satisfactory plan for living. You're right to think that working it out is as much your problem as your husband's. And you aren't selfish in thinking that if your husband suddenly stopped work with nothing to take the place of his job you'd both be miserable. You would.

So help him find the answer. For finding the right answer is important to the happiness of you both.

"Try And Stop Me"

DR. SLOAN BOARDMAN, the Park Avenue physician, told the Freshman class of a big medical school how he got his first group of patients. "I had moved to a smaller town with my bride and brand new shingle, and waited anxiously for my first patient — who was a long time coming, it seemed to me. Looking out of the window, I spied a lot of kids clustered around a tree full of green — very green apples.

"Just then the Bradley kid from down the street delivered my afternoon paper. I called to him, 'how would you like to make an extra quarter?' All I had to do was teach him the gentle art of ring leadership. He was shinnying up one of those green aple trees ten minutes later, with the other kids close behind. And not long after that, I had my first group of patients. They were not very difficult cases, nor remunerative — but I met a lot of parents — and made a lot of kids know I could cure a stomach."

Dr. Boardman concluded, "Of course, you understand, I am not suggesting that you go and do likewise."

Today's Journal Editorial

AN INTELLIGENT SUGGESTION

A conference of congressmen from oil producing states to try to get to the bottom of the oil imports question, as proposed by Rep. Ed Gossett, of Wichita Falls, could do no harm and might produce enlightening information of much importance and significance.

Present information as to the volume of such imports, and their effects within the United States, are vague and conflicting. Many operators, chiefly independents, charge that imported foreign oil by the major companies are retarding development of the resources in this country and are being used as the excuse for harmfully low production allotments in the fields of the U. S.

Mr. Gossett proposes an effort to find out just how much foreign oil is being imported, who is importing it and what is being done with it after it is brought to this country. The information resulting from such an inquiry should be interesting not only to the producers of oil, but to the consumers who seldom in peacetime history have paid more for gasoline than they are now.

Allan Shivers Will Take Oath As Governor In Quiet Ceremony

WOODVILLE, July 15 (U.P.)—Final preparations were launched today for the quiet ceremonies installing Allan Shivers as the 38th governor of Texas at the century-old family home near here tomorrow.

Gov. Shivers, elevated from lieutenant governor to the state's highest office by the sudden death Monday of Gov. Beauford H. Jester, was expected to arrive at Magnolia Hills today by automobile from Beaumont.

He will relax with his family until tomorrow morning's ceremony, to be held near the front doorstep of the 103-year-old remodeled pine log cabin, where Texas' first family is expected to live for the next few months.

Platform Is Built

Mrs. Shivers, her mother, Mrs. John Shary, and the Shivers children, Shary, 9, Allan, jr., 3, and Marialice, 2, are already at the 640-acre farm home, awaiting the governor's arrival.

Gov. Shivers will take the oath of office from his long-time friend, District Judge Clyde Smith of Woodville. The ceremonies will be on a specially-built elevated wooden platform draped in the traditional red, white and blue bunting. His hand will rest on the old Shivers family Bible, being brought from Port Arthur by the governor's mother, Mrs. Robert A. Shivers, who will arrive Saturday morning.

Solons To Attend

A guard of honor will be formed by Woodville chapters of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Also on the platform will be the governor's sister, Mrs. L. Wilson of Dallas.

Inclement weather was expected to keep the crowd at around 1500, but rain or the prospects of rain will not change the location of the ceremonies.

Many Texas senate friends of Gov. Shivers have indicated they would attend the inauguration, weather permitting, a spokesman said. Sen. G. C. Morris of Greenville, president pro tempore of the Senate who automatically assumes the duties of lieutenant governor, said he definitely would be present.

Electricians and other volunteers were busy stringing wire four miles out to the farm for the state-wide broadcast of the ceremonies at 9:45 a. m. over the two radio networks, Lone Star and Texas Quality.

The city of Woodville will be closed throughout the day.

A spokesman for the family said no immediate plans were being made to move to Austin or to the governor's mansion. He said it would likely be "a matter of months" before the Shivers family takes up residence in the historic executive home.

Latest Salesmen's Racket Is Exposed

MILWAUKEE, July 15 (U.P.) — "Madam, I'm taking a poll," is the latest line used by some salesmen to get inside the door, the Better Business Bureau reports.

As soon as they have slipped by the initial barrier, said the bureau manager Richard Jordan, they go into their regular sales talk.

One variation used by the phony "poll takers," Jordan said, is to request housewives to send in weekly votes on radio programs for which they will be paid in merchandise.

The hitch comes at the end when they ask that "small sums of money" accompany the votes, Jordan explained.

Cops Get Soused To Test "Drunkometer"

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., July 15. (AP)—Three Miami Beach policemen recently sat down at a table with a fifth of 100-proof bourbon and got drunk—with the blessing of their superiors and in the interest of science.

The trio were serving as guinea pigs for the city's new "drunkometer," a device for measuring the extent of intoxication. All drank two, four and 10-ounce shots of bourbon then breathed into a sterile balloon. The alcohol content was rated at .180 or better in each policeman—.150 is considered drunk.

They agreed it was a staggering ordeal.

Columbus discovered the Virgin Islands in 1493 and named then for St. Ursula and the Eleven Thousand Virgins.

CENTURY MARK — "Don't know why, but I seem to have trouble threading a needle lately," says Mrs. Wilhelmina Meister, as she celebrates her 100th birthday in Cleveland,O. "And I don't like to tell it, but I have to use a magnifying glass to read the newspaper comics," the centenarian adds. Secret to a ripe old age? "Hard work," Mrs. Meister says.

Services Set Today For Lamesa Woman

LAMESA, July 15 (Special) — Funeral services were scheduled for 5 o'clock this afternoon in Lamesa's First Baptist church for Mrs. Clemmie Irene Gray, 60, who died early Thursday morning in a Big Spring hospital.

Dr. Julian Atwood, pastor of the church, was to officiate at services. Higginbotham Funeral home said burial would be in Lamesa cemetery.

Mrs. Gray Had been in bad health for some time and had been in the hospital for several months. Her husband died in 1944. He formerly was manager of the Panhandle Lumber company in Lamesa.

Pallbearers were listed as Bill Nolan, Clarence Parks, Ed Haich, Hermon Heffernan, Weldon Lindsey and Dick Collins.

Mrs. Gray is survived by one son, Jack Gray of Denton; four daughters, Mrs. Walter L. Taylor of Lamesa, Mrs. J. W. Kelly of San Angelo, Mrs. M. C. Snell of 2302 Twenty-sixth, Lubbock; Mrs. Cecil Baer, Dumas; 14 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren; five sisters, Mrs. Bert Crockett, Hico; Mrs. Jim Furber, Fort Worth; Mrs. C. C. Woods, Nashville, Tenn.; Mrs. Bessie Traylor, San Francisco; and a sister in Long Beach, Calif.; two brothers, Bob and John Hancock, both of Hico.

INDIANS OFFER CULTURE

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (U.P.)—Muskogee's Indian centennial board has created an award foundation to promote cultural and manual arts among youths of the five civilized tribes. Annual awards will be made to Indian winners in competitions in the fields of music, public speaking, painting, essay writing and handcrafts.

Minister Protests Dynamite Explosions Almost Rocking Church From Foundation

ASHLEY, Pa., July 15. (AP)—Father Michael Bernat says dynamite is a fine thing in its place but not when blasts from a nearby mining operation nearly rock his church from its foundations.

The pastor of the Holy Rosary Slovak church said yesterday he had protested to Ashley and Luzerne county authorities about blasts being set off by the A. E. Dick Construction Co.

Father Bernat said one blast last Wednesday "nearly shook the church off its foundations." Since his protests, he added, the explosions have been reduced to "mere firecracker reports" by comparison.

Advice Given

A. E. Dick, head of the company carrying on the surface mining operation, said the dynamite charges "are never heavier than necessary."

Edward Ponin, assistant district attorney, said he had advised Father Bernat to either seek a warrant charging the construction firm with maintaining a nuisance or to take the matter into equity court.

Father Bernat said he would refer the issue to his congregation on Sunday before taking any action.

LOVE LAUGHS AT MEASLES

LAPEER, Mich. (U.P.)—A little thing like measles failed to break up the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn L. Walsh. The bride came down with an attack of the three-day variety. Attendance at the wedding was sparse but both bride and groom went through the ceremony without a hitch and left on their honeymoon.

New Home Owner Host Party For Builders

CHICAGO, July 15. (AP)—There was a new and different kind of house warming at Harold L. Perlman's new home in suburban Glencoe.

The guests were the men who built the place—carpenters, roofers, plumbers, electricians, painters—and their wives. Owner Perlman put on the party to show his appreciation.

Commented Mrs. Albert Hummert, whose husband installed the gas heating system: "It was the first time any of us had ever been to a party like that—and some of the men have been in the business 35 years.

TOO MUCH TO EAT

OSLO, (U.P.)—The Norwegians are growing too fat, a medical congress in Oslo reported. Since the war the food situation has improved and people just can't stop eating. Fatness has therefore become a disease in Norway and heart diseases have increased accordingly, the doctors said.

Baptists Pledge To Fight Public Vices

COLUMBUS, Ga., July 15. (AP)—A nation-wide group of Baptists have pledged a boycott against liquor and condemned movies, gambling, comic books, dancing and "indecent public dress."

The action was taken at yesterday's closing session of the 13th annual convention of the national association of Free Will Baptists.

MEDICAL GUIDE IS CLARIFIED

AMA Approves Ethics Changes Giving Doctors More Freedom

CHICAGO, July 15. (AP)—The American Medical association today called attention of its members to changes in the AMA code of ethics giving qualified approval to contract practice and public talks by doctors.

The journal of the association, commenting today on the liberalization of the code adopted by the house of delegates at last month's convention, said:

"Ethics as stated in the introduction" of the code "'are not laws to govern, but are principles to guide to correct conduct'."

Informing Groups Approved

In one of the ethics changes, the association states "medical profession considers it ethical for a physician to meet the request of a component or constituent medical society to write, act or speak for general readers or audiences."

However, to guard against accusations of "self-seeking or solicitation" in connection with public talks or writings, the code urges that "a physician who desires to know whether, ethically, he may engage in a project aimed at health education of the public should request the approval of the designated officer of committee of his county medical society."

Contract Practice Okay

Another change in the code of ethics states "contract practice per se is not unethical. Contract practice is unethical if it permits features or conditions that are declared unethical in these principles of medical ethics or if the contract or any of its provisions causes deterioration of the quality of the medical services rendered."

The revisions clarify the AMA's stand on practices which have been the subject of considerable discussion among doctors. Many doctors have declined to allow their names to be used publically in connection with their profession. Some types of contract practice, particularly clinic group practice, has been frowned upon by several county medical societies.

On public information, the code says now that refusal by a doctor to release significant medical information to the public "may be considered a refusal to perform a public service."

SECRETARY OF '49 — Irene Williams smiles after being crowned "Miss Secretary of 1949" at the annual convention of the National Secretaries Assn. in Chicago. Employed for 23 years by a Chicago bank, she won out over 59 contestants in neatness, personality, dress, grooming and grammar.

bite, has to be careful with those clutches that operate the bucket, boom, and for traveling, swinging and for "crowding" the dipper stick. A shovel powerful enough to lift its own weight would crush a waiting truck like it were an eggshell. That four and a half tons of boom assembly, exclusive of dirt load, figured in only one "mishap" here. The dipper lid broke two one-by-four plank sideboards on a truck on "the very last load."

O'Hara had operated the bucket an estimated 4,024 times without incident—"then had to have the last load touch the truck."

Usually, he explained, he attempts to miss the truck "one inch." That way, the dirt when released doesn't fall into the truck with such impact as to threaten the springs."

18 Controls Used

But on the last dipperful, the shovel operator was in the hole, the truck on the bank 12 feet above him.

"It's harder to judge one inch of clearance that high and far away from where you sit," he said.

That's easy to understand when you mount into the cab of the shovel and see how many controls the operator has to handle with his hands—exclusive of what he does with his feet. There are 18 of them, and several must be handled simultaneously. In front of him are levers marked hand lines, steer right, steer left, swing and propel, left hoist or drag, right hoist, lower boom, and raise boom.

Below, to the right of his right knee, are levers marked: swing, swing lock disengaged, propel, swing lock disengaged, propel, swing lock engaged, engine clutch disengaged, propel reverse only, truck locked both directions, propel forward only, and propel either direction.

"It's not so bad—but I don't have any trouble going to sleep at night," O'Hara says.

Election Plan Flayed Here

of the plan to form the new town.

"Most of those who signed the petition owe everything they own to Lubbock," he remarked. "Some are rich because of Lubbock. Now, because they fear, they might be called upon some day to pay a few dollars in city taxes, they propose something which might hurt the city."

Penalty Taxes Ruled Out

The term, "ingratitude," was used several times in criticism of the sponsors of the incorporation move.

City attorney Vaughn Wilson was asked whether the City of Lubbock might levy special taxes, license fees or other charges upon the residents of one municipality who might operate businesses, practice professions or do other profitable work in Lubbock.

The city attorney said nothing of this kind could be done.

But it was pointed out that resentment among the masses of Lubbock people might cause them to withhold their patronage from those who make their living in this city while residing in another municipality.

Officials pointed out that the completion of the new incorporation would mean that two municipalities would be jammed virtually together, complicating many problems of traffic control, postoffice, public health, building regulation, public safety and others. This has been proved by innumerable experiences in many cities, officials said.

The election on the proposed incorporation was ordered after the county commissioners court had determined that the area affected has more than 200 and less than 10,000 inhabitants and that the petition carried enough signatores to make the referendum mandatory. The polling place will be at Dad's grocery and market on the Levelland highway—which is an extension of Nineteenth street.

The Area Affected

The area affected is listed as a portion of land out of sections 2, 3, 4 and 5 of block E2 and sections 15 and 17 of block B lying west of the P&SF railroad and north and south of state highway 290 in Lubbock county.

Roughly, it was said, the territory residents seek to have incorporated commences a quarter-mile west of the city limits and extends a mile and a half westward.

There are more than 100 residences in the tract, some of them having a reasonable market value of in excess of $100,000. The improved properties have their own water and sewage systems, and have gas and electricity.

The tract embraces, from east to west, the C. C. Leftwich tract, the Cowan addition, West Gate addition, Cain Terrace, Rushland Park, Lane Acres addition, Bobalet Heights, and Robert-Neill Heights, the court was informed.

W. G. McMillan, spokesman for the petitioners, said the move was taken to forestall possibility of the affected section's being annexed arbitrarily by the City of Lubbock—which could be done under a recent amendment.

He explained that, if the town of Westchester is incorporated, the city could not annex it without a majority vote of Westchester's population.

"It is not that the residents of our section do not wish to become a part of Lubbock," McMillan explained. "Rather, our action is planned to allow us to become an integral part of the city at a time we ourselves prefer inclusion.

"We simply feel that other areas lying closer in need annexation sooner than we. We have our own water and sewage systems, gas and electricity. Some other sections do not. We realize that since we have built on large tracts, most of us, and rather far outside city limits that it probably would be several years before we would realize any benefits from annexation.

Wouldn't Get Benefits

"On the other hand, we'd be paying city taxes and not realizing a proportionate share of benefits."

McMillan explained that several of the residents in the section affected "have done their part toward building the City of Lubbock, and probably a majority of us look forward to some future time when our property will lie inside the city limits.

"Now just doesn't appear to be the time," he said.

Other residents of the proposed Westchester town explained that when the city "can give something for our inevitable tax money" they would look upon annexation to Lubbock with "more interest." Annexation without the benefits usually offered by it would "penalize us," they explained.

The petition was filed in accordance with title 28, Revised Civil Statutes, and was drawn by the law firm of Bradley, Key and Kimmel. The following names were included in signatures:

Judge Davies appointed E. F. Alford presiding officer for the election and authorized him to select two judges and two clerks to assist him.

All legally qualified persons who have resided within limits of the proposed town six months next preceding the date of election will be entitled to vote.

The court also ordered the posting of election notices.

ience because it will coincide with the start of annual tax collections and for other reasons. It will not change, however, the dates when taxes are due.

The commission decided to discontinue the $5,000 annual appropriation of the past two years to the State Board of Water Engineers for underground water investigations. Lubbock has given $10,000 toward this work. But headquarters for the investigation were located in Plainview, which contributed nothing.

Three Trucks Ordered

Three panel trucks for the fire department were ordered from the following: a Chevrolet from Kuykendall Chevrolet co., $1,806; a Dodge from Dickinson Motor co., $1,473; and an International from Commercial Truck co., $1,451.

An ordinance was ordered drawn providing for the annexation to the city of the area bounded by Avenues L and P and Thirty-fourth and Forty-second streets at the southern edge of the city. J. C. Davis and Leroy Elmore, who urged the action, said the annexation will clear the way to proceed with plans to erect 125 moderate-priced homes.

Lease on a war surplus building at the former South Plains Army Air field to the Organized Reserve corps unit here was approved at a rental of $115 a month.

Six zoning changes recommended by the city planning commission were approved.

The only one to which there was opposition involves the change of a half block in Morning Side addition, in Southeast Lubbock, from an apartment house to an industrial zone.

City Manager Matthews told the commission the city budget will be ready for public hearing on Aug. 25. It will be submitted to the commission for study and revisions in advance of that date, he said.

Trucks Moving In On Food Hauling

WASHINGTON, July 15 (U.P.) — Increased competition from trucking has cut the railroads' share of the nation's food transportation bill to a new low.

Agriculture Department economists report that out of every dollar spent last year for transporting farm products to and between cities, only 55 cents went to railroads. Motor carriers got the other 45 cents.

In 1929, railroads got 77 cents and motor carriers 23 cents, the economists reported in a review of the marketing and transportation situation.

The department said western railroads are trying to regain some of their lost traffic into eastern markets. They were said to be trying to talk eastern roads into dressed poultry, eggs, butter, cheese and other products.

The growth of motor-carrier traffic was reversed during the war when trucks, gasoline, tires and equipment were scarce. But the economists reported that trucks have more than regained the lost ground since 1945.

Holland's production has risen to 22 per cent above prewar.
