Lubbock And Its Public Schools

Another of a Series Of News Editorials On A Vital Subject

The teaching staff of the Lubbock public schools, after having made a careful study of the question of education, came to the conclusion that some method must be found for providing for the individual differences of children in their school work, for it was believed that only by such a method could the child be appealed to and interested in his work. The study of the past three years had revealed to the teachers that the old recitation method of procedure is wasteful and otherwise ineffective, for the following reasons:

(1) It is based on the false notion that there is an average child and it makes its program of work for such average child and, as a result, does not fit any actual child.

(2) It is based on the notion that education is a cramming-in process instead of a process by which the child discovers and develops himself through self-activity.

(3) It is a place where the teacher is the chief factor and the child has to take a back seat—a place where teacher talk takes the place of pupil work. In the recitation the teacher usually takes up seventy-five percent of the time and the thirty-five or forty pupils divide the other twenty-five percent among themselves the best they can.

(4) It gives no opportunity to teach the pupils how to study and how to use the tools of learning. It sends them away from the schools with a smattering knowledge of a good many things, but it fails to teach them to use their minds.

(5) It is usually based on extrinsic subject matter in which the pupil has little interest and fails to secure his cooperation and to enlist him in his work.

Substitute Group Plan

For these and other reasons that might be given, it was decided to substitute the group study plan for the old time recitation and to make the pupil the center of gravity in school instead of the teacher and the textbook.

At the beginning of this year, Maguire's Group Study Plan, a book just off the press, was made the basis of study for the year, along with Kilpatrick's Foundations of Method, and the teachers, principals,

Tragedies Take 12 Lives; Many Hurt

Car Wrecks Claim Majority; Child Burns at Kirkland; Woman Drives Off Fifty-Foot Bridge at Dallas

(By Associated Press)

CHILDRESS, Feb. 4.—A three-year old child, Kirkland, Texas, died from burns received when the family home burned Saturday. The baby lived 24 hours after the fire. Mrs. Claude Key, her mother, was painfully burned in the blaze, which occurred when Mrs. Key spilled a pan of gasoline on the cookstove.

DALLAS, Feb. 4.—Mrs. Catherine Robertson was fatally injured here today in a fifty foot drop from a bridge after her car had skidded through the bridge rail. Observers say that the car turned over three times in the descent, landing right side up. Hook and ladder apparatus of the fire department was used in rescuing the woman. F. F. Burrow, who was driving the car, suffered a broken arm and bruises.

DALLAS, Feb. 4.—Clarence O. Bankston, 22, Southern Methodist University student injured in an automobile accident Sunday, died here today. Bankston's home was at Dawson.

Two others were injured in the accident, which occurred when the car Bankston was driving skidded into a street car, but their injuries were not serious.

DALLAS, Feb. 4.—Unaware of their danger, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Freeland sat by their gas heater Saturday night and inhaled carbon monoxide gas. The bodies were discovered today by Mrs. Freeland's brother, who came to the house to find out why his brother-in-law was not at work. All windows and doors were tightly closed.

TEKARKANA, Feb. 4.—Otis Phillips, 23, of Daingerfield, Texas, was killed when struck by an automobile near here today.

BRECKENRIDGE, Feb. 4.—Three persons were in a local hospital today recovering from internal injuries suffered in an automobile accident Sunday. Noel Moore's sister Inez, and a niece, Bessie Hammonds, received injuries when their car collided with one occupied

Reception Is Given For Flier And Crew; New Air Transportation Line Is Inaugurated

(By Associated Press)

BELIZE, British Honduras, Feb. 4.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh tonight was the welcome guest of this colony, to which he was the first to introduce airplane travel a year ago. At the close of his 27th birthday anniversary he had flown successfully the first 750 mile leg of the new air mail route to link the United States with the Canal Zone by way of Cuba and Central America.

He brought his amphibian plane down to a smooth landing in the harbor waters at 2:55 p. m. (3:55 Eastern Standard time). He had left Miami, Fla., at 6:08 a. m. and landed at Havana at 8:21.

Goes To Managua Today

He sleeps here tonight and tomorrow will wing his way southward to Managua, Nic., the last stage is through Costa Rica, to Panama, and the Canal Zone. Today is regarded as the outcome of the route which he inaugurated the good will flight of the young aviator a year ago.

Although Colonel Lindbergh landed the airplane gracefully on the water today it overran the end of the ramp and its wheels sunk to the axle in the mud. The passengers were not injured and the plane not damaged.

With his companions, Colonel John Hambleton, vice president of the Pan-American Airways which operates the new service, and H. L. Huskey, mechanic and radio operator, Colonel Lindbergh was welcomed by a reception committee and a big cheering crowd. The guests were conducted to the veranda of the golf club, fifty yards from the platform, where they were introduced to Governor Sir John Burdon and Lady Burdon.

HAVANA, Feb. 4.—Colonel Lindbergh's air mail flight from Miami to Panama merely is the forerunner of an air mail and passenger service which by April 1 will be open as far south as Valparaiso, J. T. Trippen, president of the Pan-American Airways, Inc., said tonight.

Population Survey Places City 21st

Only twenty cities of Texas are ahead of Lubbock in population in the 1929 population survey issued by the Newspaper Feature Bureau for 125 United States cities. The city's population is given as 22,281 people and 25,000 with suburbs included.

The 1929 survey shows the city with 4,051 people.

The outstanding feature of the survey is the continued rapidity of the trend from the rural to the urban communities. Another outstanding feature is the rapid growth shown by the cities of the south, middle west and Pacific slope.

Cities in the advance of Lubbock in Texas population include: Abilene, Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Brownsville, Corsicana, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Galveston, Houston, Laredo, Port Arthur, San Antonio, San Antonio, Sherman, Texarkana, Waco and Wichita Falls.

HEAVY PENALTIES BEST

Dallas County Crime Wave Has Slacked Up

DALLAS, Feb. 4.—Heavy penalties are the best preventative for crime, in the opinion of Hal Hood, Dallas county sheriff who said today that two death penalties and a life sentence imposed by juries here recently have cleared the crime situation in the county.

PROVIDES FOR HOME

Widow Leaves $2,000,000 For Spinners' Home

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—A $2,000,000 home for spinners more than 65 years old was provided in the will of Mrs. Suzanne King Bruhl, widow of Edmund Bruhl, a former French consul in Chicago, filed today for probate.

HILTON PLANS ADDITION

WACO, Feb. 4.—100 room addition to the Hilton hotel here will be built in April, it was announced today.

Work Is Started On Inauguration

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(AP)—one month from tonight, President Coolidge, after years in public office, will have rejoined America's vast army of private citizens.

In front of the White House, along Pennsylvania avenue, workmen already are erecting stands from which the parade in honor of the inauguration of his successor will be reviewed.

And inside the executive mansion, preparations are going forward for removing the Coolidge household goods.

As yet there has been no official indication regarding what Mr. Coolidge intends to do after March 4.

However, those in touch with the White House unanimously believe that for a few weeks at least, Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge will go into retirement at their home in Northampton.

Action of House Committee Won't Affect Tech Work

Dr. Horn Declares Failure To Report Funds Is Not Definite Action; Summer School Plans Go On

Failure of the Texas House Appropriations committee to vote full appropriations for Texas technological college is not anything definite pertaining to the school's appropriations, is the opinion of Dr. W. Horn, president of the college, in commenting on the legislature's action of last Saturday.

"The matter will now have to come before the free conference committee, composed of members of both the House and Senate," Dr. Horn stated last night. "The Senate has voted Tech's appropriations in fine shape, and it is likely that when the final action is taken we will not have suffered any."

Dr. Horn stated that the status of Tech's summer school has not been affected in the least by the actions of last Saturday, as appropriations for this summer's session have already been voted.

In speaking of the coming summer school, Dean J. M. Gordon, of Tech, stated that plans are going forward in good stride. The regular college teachers and the summer school educators are included on the faculty for the school, which will be of 12 weeks duration. It will start June 3, the first term

RECEIPTS INCREASE

January 1929 Better Than Month of Last Year

Postmaster John L. Vaughan announced Monday that Lubbock postal receipts during January, 1929 showed an increase of about one-third over those for the same month of last year. A total of $9,743 was recorded last month, as compared to $7,314 in January, 1928, or a gain of $2,429.

With the total postal receipts for 1928 at $100,414, Lubbock has been placed in a new postoffice classification.

Subway Contract Is Let To Local Contracting Firm

Panhandle Construction Company Gets Work With Bid of $97,222.50; Eleven Firms Bid

Work Starts Today

Broadway Underpass To Be First Constructed; Santa Fe Work Already Begun; Traffic Diverted

With a quotation of $97,222.50 the Panhandle Construction company of this city, was awarded the contract for building the subway at Broadway and the Santa Fe railroad tracks, by the city commission in session at city hall Monday night.

Eleven construction companies entered bids for the job, which is to be paid for jointly by the City of Lubbock and the Santa Fe, the Panhandle company being a little more than $2,000 under the next lowest bidder. The highest bid entered was for $133,991. All other bids in the order of the lowness are given as follows:

Carl C. Madsen, Denver, $99,150.80; Frank Parrot, Dallas, $100,631.60; L. H. Lacy Co., Dallas, $101,933.51; J. P. Fox, Fort Worth, $107,217.75; J. B. Cabinet Places In Gossip Again

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The wild of cabinet gossip which agitates the capital while Herbert Hoover lingers in Florida turned up today, predictions to the effect that Henry L. Stimson, Harlan F. Stone, and Ray Lyman Wilbur would sit in the official family after March 4, and that William M. Jardine would not.

All these prognostications lacked official confirmation. They were passed about in high places, however.

Severe Cold Wave Strikes In European Countries; 44 Deaths Reported

Food Shortage Reported In Towns Blockaded by Snow With No Relief In Sight; Hunger Wave Possible

German Freighter Crew of 26 Men Drowned

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Feb. 4.—All Europe shivered tonight from an unusually severe cold wave from which no relief was in sight. Forty four deaths already have been recorded while thousands are suffering from frostbite in towns blockaded by snow.

Denmark appeared likely to be ice locked before the week's end. Ice breakers were struggling to maintain a narrow pathway for shipping into Copenhagen, but communication was maintained only by sledges and automobiles over the sea of ice. Many ships are aground, all Danish ferry routes subjected to serious delays and train traffic was disordered. Millions of wild fowl have been killed.

The frigid breath also has been felt along the Mediterranean where inhabitants are less accustomed to low temperature extremes.

Body Decides Election Investigation Too Expensive; Land Office And Highway Started

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 4.—The Texas legislature went about its work hammer and tongs today.

The house decided that it would be too expensive for the committee on privileges, suffrage and elections to hear the Smith-Montgomery contest from Hidalgo county and voted to instruct it to bring in a report setting Montgomery free.

The Senate squelched a move to order an investigation of the prison board.

Declares Public Favors Hook-Up

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Commissioner Laffont, of the Federal Radio commission, told the senate today that the radio public generally was in favor of hook-ups.

The committee, which is considering a proposal to prolong the Federal Radio Commission for another year, today suspended from the travel time for high powered stations. He said, while the 50,000 Watts Stations may not be heard in a territory much larger than a 10,000 Watt station, the reception is clearer.

Wins Holy Land Trip For Work

NEW YORK, (AP)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Washington has been awarded a trip to the Holy Land by the Christian Herald for the most significant contribution to religious progress in 1928.

Bishop Cannon was chosen because of his Christian leadership and in particular because of his campaign in the south on behalf of prohibition before the general election.

Will Believe Proof

To anyone able to prove otherwise, that is, produce one "scientifically-proven fact" that in any way disproves a single statement in the Bible, Rader will hand over the $1,000 and, what is more, succumb to the evolutionary belief himself.

He made this challenge as the first barrage let loose prior to a foregathering of anti-evolutionary foes in Indianapolis, Feb. 3 to 10. At this meeting, being held under auspices of "The Defenders of the Christian Faith," fundamental adherents and Biblical literalists from all parts of the country will get together to plan ways and means for putting the skids under every materialist monkey that has dared show its head inside the school rooms of America.

Bands of Bible minute men are to be organized and uniform legislation patterned after the Tennessee anti-evolution law that resulted in the now famous Scopes' monkey trial at Dayton, sought to curb the teaching of evolution in the public grade and high schools, Rader informed.

CLUB GIVES TRAGEDY

"Riders to the Sea," one of the greatest Irish tragedies ever written, was staged by the Thespian club at the Sock and Buskin meeting last night. The play was written by J. M. Synge.

The play is only one act and the scene is laid in a cottage on one of the Aran islands.

Mrs. M. L. Shepherd played the part of Maurya, an old woman; Bartley, her son, was played by Lillian Hopping; Cathleen, her daughter, Velma Eubank; Nora, younger daughter, Evelyn Sowell, while other parts were taken by Gertrude Osborn, Lella Faye McIntyre, Margaret Cooper, Marian Poe, and Joellen Vannoy.

Blind Dramatist to Be Here

Edward Abner Thompson, famous blind dramatist of the Curry School of Expression at Boston, will appear under the auspices of the Thespian Dramatic Club of the college Thursday evening Feb. 18, in the Engineering building auditorium. This colorful blind reader has chosen for his rendition here the well-known play, "Disraeli."

As the head of the Boston school of Expression and a reader of national note, Mr. Thompson comes to Tech at the beginning of a tour of American colleges. In the play he has selected for his visit here, the dramatist portrays vividly the mayn sided character of the famous man of affairs, "Disraeli."

A meeting of the College Club is scheduled for Thursday night at 7 o'clock at the home of A. V. Weaver, 1901 Broadway. Final plans will be made for the club's dance on Friday night at the meeting. All members are requested to be present by the president, Clarence Locke.

THE SAFETY OF THE NEW FORD

SAFETY, comfort, reliability, economy, speed, acceleration, beauty—these are the features that make the new Ford such a good value. Of all, there is none more important than SAFETY.

The safety of the new Ford comes not only from its efficient brakes, but from many other factors. Among these are ease of steering and control, the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, and the sturdy, balanced construction of the car. This includes the enduring quality of mechanical parts as well as the structural strength of the body.

A particularly interesting feature of the Ford car is the manner in which electric welding has been carried forward to new usefulness through the creation and development of hundreds of special machines.

Electric welding gives simplicity and strength

This very important and increasingly valuable tool of modern manufacturing makes it possible to use one-piece units instead of several parts riveted or bolted together, with resulting gain in strength and simplicity.

Electric welding also permits the use of steel forgings instead of castings or stampings, without increase in weight or greatly increased cost.

Steel forgings are used not only in the front axle, steering gear, transmission, clutch, drive shaft and rear axle housing of the new Ford, but in the shock absorber parts, the emergency brake lever, the torque tube flange and everywhere else where great strength is required. The strength of forgings makes for unusual safety.

Another safety factor worth noting is the manner in which the new Ford holds the road at all speeds. This is due to the low center of gravity, the carefully planned balance or distribution of structural and mechanical weight, and the low ratio of unsprung weight to sprung weight. The coordinated action of the transverse springs and Houdaille hydraulic shock absorbers controls exaggerated bouncing.

Beauty and utility are combined in unusual degree in the new Ford. Shown here is the Ford Coupe—an especially good car for the woman driver because it is so safe and reliable and easy to control.

All six brakes are fully enclosed

One of the outstanding features of the new Ford, of course, is its mechanical, internal-expanding six-brake system. This is unusually reliable and effective because the surfaces of all six brakes are fully enclosed. There is no possibility of water, dirt or oil interfering with brake action under any condition.

The silence of these brakes is another thing you will appreciate. Screeching and groaning have been eliminated by a special self-centering action—an exclusive Ford development which brings the entire surface of the brake shoe in uniform contact with the drum the instant you press your foot on the pedal.

The value of the protection afforded by the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield of the new Ford is shown by a recent survey indicating that 65% of injuries in automobile accidents are due to flying glass. The windshield in the new Ford is so made that it will not shatter under the hardest impact. Particularly where there are women and children, it is an important safety factor.

Ease of steering and control are additional factors in the safety of the new Ford. The steering gear is what is known technically as three-quarter irreversible. This means that the bumps and jolts of the road are fully absorbed by the wheels and steering mechanism of the car and are not transmitted to the hands of the driver. A slight touch is sufficient to guide the car. Yet you always have that necessary feel-of-the-road.

The ease of shifting gears, quick acceleration, abundant power and speed for every emergency, and full vision front, side and back, are other points to remember in considering the unusual safety of the new Ford.

PORT WORTH, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Nearly 100 representatives of moving and storage firms of North Texas attended a meeting here Sunday at which plans were made for a state safety organization.

Mrs. J. G. Pruett was a Carlsbad shopper in this city Monday afternoon.

OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

Christian Endeavor Group Has Special Program

The forty-eighth anniversary of the founding of Christian Endeavor was observed Sunday evening in a program given by the First Presbyterian Senior society at the church. There was a social hour during which the president, Dayle Wallace, lighted 48 candles on a cake. Townsen Waddill was leader of a program and talks were made concerning the founder of C. E. and telling something of the history of the organization. Among those on the program were Misses Ethel Donnell, Eloise Cook and Rozzie Mae McKean, Mr. Wallace, Sam Womack, Donald Boggs and Elbert Hester. King Sides gave a special musical number.

TO HAVE SPECIAL

Methodist Women Meet In Business Session

Women in the First Methodist W. M. S. are to do some special foreign missionary work during 1929, according to a decision reached yesterday afternoon at a meeting in the church. A program was led by Mrs. W. C. Rylander and a business session was conducted.

Reports which were heard showed that 485 visits had been made during January and that 32 trays and flowers had been sent to the sick. There were 37 at the meeting. With "Home, the Center" as a topic for the program, talks were given emphasizing factors in character building.

COUPLE MARRIES

Miss Thrush Is Bride Of C. R. Williams

Miss Zelma Thrush, graduate of the Lubbock high school in 1928, and Cecil F. Williams, who was until Christmas a senior at Tech, were married Saturday evening by Rev. Walter P. Jennings, pastor of the First Christian church. The couple is living here and the groom is a bookkeeper with Swift and company. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Rufe D. Williams here and the bride's mother, Mrs. Sanders, has recently moved to Lubbock from Wichita, Kansas.

The Woman's Day

By Allene Sumner

Strong men of the University of Oklahoma have risen up to give co-eds a little light on that old question of whether a man loses respect for a girl who permits him to kiss her. The answer seems to boil down to whether the osculation is a highlight of the first time they have dated together, or a bit later, at least the second or third. The undergrads don't seem to recognize any argument at all as to whether she should or should not be kissed eventually.

WHO WANTS IT?

The lads seem agreed, in general, that if a girl has respect for the lady to start with, the kiss made no difference, but that if he hadn't, he'd never have any after that. Most of them seemed to wonder, too, just what "respect" was, and why any girl particularly wanted it.

CASHING IN

Lita Grey Chaplin is traveling around on a vaudeville circuit all because the Chaplin part of her name is printed in twice as big type as the first. And here's Marie Rasputin, daughter of the famous Monk, acting in a play based on her father's life. It's more usual to hear of a wife cashing in on her father's fame in this manner than to hear of a daughter doing it. But why blame either? Husbands and sons have been known to do the same.

Count Salm, by the way, husband of Millicent Rogers, announces that he is to write a new story of his marriage to the heiress.

The most recent picture of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Edison show the great inventor with an old-fashioned "reefer" about his neck, outflung to the wintry gales, while Mrs. Edison wears an ankle-length skirt and a hat that seems to proclaim that pins and a knob of hair underneath.

It's almost axiomatic that any picture of the famous people of earth, including the rich, proclaim them above minute considerations for the last word which animates the lives of lesser mortals. A Vander-Astor, for instance, is always much more plainly dressed than Gladys, the shop girl, just as a Thomas Edison will wear his "reefer" when a floor walker would be caught dead first.

Chicago has a restaurant in which every employee, from bread slicer to cashier, is a college girl. The proprietor says that "pleasantness" is the cardinal demand of every employee and that, without that, even a sheepskin cum laude can't save her from being fired?

As a member of this vast public I have no desire to minimize the importance of "pleasantness." Still, after listening in on some sessions which waitresses and other employees have with the most despicable members of the human species, I wonder if this "the public is always right" slogan can in justice be demanded of them. Moreover, I wonder if it's good for the public to be aided and abetted in discourtesy and utter lack of self-control because the waitress or usher is forbidden to talk back? Pleasantness is very well, but there are times when meekness ceases to be a virtue.

"THE LOST ART"

The letters of seven famous women have just been published in a volume called "The Lost Art." The letters are from Lady Mary Montagu, as much as possible. It may sound traitorous to modern woman but, if another war ever comes, I feel that woman's place is in the home.

The Morning Avalanche Menu for the Day

BREAKFAST: Grape fruit juice, cereal cooked with chopped figs, cream, raised buckwheat pancakes, syrup, milk, coffee, crisp toast for "juniors."

LUNCHEON: "Pigs in blankets," whole wheat bread and lettuce sandwiches, apple tapioca pudding, milk, tea.

DINNER: Scallops poached in milk candied sweet potatoes, asparagus and lettuce salad, raisin pie, milk, coffee.

Raisin Pie
Two cups seeded raisins, 3-4 cup granulated sugar, 1 1/2 cups boiling water, 1 lemon, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 1-4 teaspoon salt.

Cook raisins in boiling water for five minutes. Add grated rind of lemon and sugar, cornstarch and salt mixed and sifted. Cook, stirring constantly until thick. Remove from fire and stir in lemon juice. Let cool and bake between two crusts. Serve cold.

One cup of chopped walnut meats can be added to the raisin mixture just before filling pie for baking.

tagu, daughter of a rich and powerful Duke, Mary Wollstonecraft, Abigail Adams, Charlotte Bronte, Jane Carlyle, and Margaret Fuller. Both the title and introduction remind us, of course, that there will be no such letters handed on from this historical era, what with telephones and the air mail and cable and telegraph, speeding up communication so that the letter is unnecessary.

And yet what of it? We'll have plenty of as interesting memoirs to hand on that the past never dreamed of. Such as? Well, that's a job. Make your own list.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Scott Warns Car Owners About New License Numbers

Judge G. R. Scott, justice of the peace, is of the belief that those citizens who have not yet secured their 1929 automobile licenses should get busy pronto, before J. C. Keller and Fred Hickman, State license inspectors for the State Highway department tag them.

"Keller and Hickman are in the city and busy as crabs," Judge Scott said Monday. "They are filing complaints against all automobile owners found operating an automobile, or motor vehicle, without 1929 license plates displayed upon same."

Have Been Lenient
"They have been very lenient with all auto owners, for the law specifically says that all motor vehicles must have license plates displayed upon them January 1, 1929, or the first of each calendar year."

Judge Scott further says that if your motor vehicle has not yet been registered for the year 1929 it will save you and the enforcement officers both trouble, if you leave said vehicle at your home, or get a permit to bring your car in to get its license tested, and hurry to the tax collector's office and get this year's plates.

"Every time you operate a motor vehicle upon the public streets or highways constitutes a separate offense," the judge continues, "and there is not a state or county officer that desires to see anyone pay a fine—but all officers take an oath to enforce all the laws, and the license law is one of them."

Slaton C. of C. To Hold Smoker

(Special To The Avalanche)
SLATON, Feb. 4.—A large attendance upon the "tag smoker" to be staged at the Slaton Club House Tuesday night, under auspices of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, is predicted by officials of the organization, including Horace Hawkins, president.

The program will be informal but "interesting" according to the program committee members. Many farmers from over the Slaton territory are expected to attend. Invitations were extended to them last week and many have expressed their intentions of being present. Current topics of community interest will likely be the principal subjects, it is announced.

A Lorenzo couple was married Saturday afternoon by Rev. Walter Jennings, pastor of the First Christian church, in his study. This was John Fullington and Miss Elsie Boyd.

An excellent attendance is being noted at a school of missions which Dr. Jack M. Lewis is conducting at the First Presbyterian church on Sunday evenings. This series of talks is to close next week.

How to Achieve Beauty

By MADAME RUBINSTEIN

If the average woman had strong muscles in her feet, she would be saved a tremendous amount of the foot troubles which I think are the bane of most women's lives. Among the exercises that are excellent for the feet and ankles are those in which the weight is shifted from one foot to the other, or treading from heel to the toe.

Here is a good one. Secure a block of wood that will raise you about four inches from the floor. Stand on this with the heels and toes extending over. Stretch your toes from the ankle, letting them reach down as far as possible towards the floor. Now raise the toes as high as you can. Repeat until tired.

Standing with the toes resting on the block, roll the feet until the body stands on the outer sides of your feet. Then roll the foot in the opposite direction until the weight rests on the inner sides. Continue back and forth until tired.

Walking alternately on heels and then on toes, four counts each, first slowly, then faster and faster, strengthens toes, strengthens leg muscles and frees the hip joints.

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barton
©1928 by NEA Service, Inc.

"I told you not to do that, you bad boy. Come right here this minute. Now you're all dirty."

"I couldn't help it, honest I couldn't. Mom, Rex's chain was twisted and he—"

"Shut up. Don't answer me back. Just as I was leaving school a man—"

"No impertinence now. When will you learn not to talk back. A rule's a rule. No allowance to a boy who can't keep his word."

"Dorothy-May Johnson! I'm simply amazed that you'd tell a lie. Mrs. Heath was here and explained all about it. I never thought a daughter of mine would tell a lie about such a little thing as a pair of skates."

"But I didn't, Mother, really. At least I didn't know it was a lie. I thought—"

"Now just be quiet, young lady, none of your back talk. I'm telling you, you're not telling me."

And Dorothy-May's mother went on and on about the terrible lie that Dorothy-May hadn't told at all, but got the blame for, owing to a complicated situation and something she could not help.

When will some parents learn that an explanation is not impertinence and that it is due all children? Always give a child time to explain and weigh well his explanation.

Often when the case is blackest against him, he can show you that he was justified in his actions.

At any rate, give him a hearing. There is no "black is black and white is white." Even the vilest criminal is entitled to a hearing.

Dean A. H. Leidligh gave a missionary talk Sunday morning at the Crosbyton Presbyterian church. He was accompanied by Herbert S. Brown, who sang at the service.

Teachers and officers in the First Presbyterian Sunday school are to meet at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening at the church in regular conference.

Tech Cagers Primed For Invasion Of Canyon Buffaloes

IN THE REALM OF SPORTS
WITH ALLAN CARNEY
Avalanche Sports Editor

DON'T HOLD 'EM BACK

Poor sportsmanship on the part of a hand full of spectators came near losing a basketball game for Tech Friday night when the Matadors met the Daniel Baker Hill Billies in their first game. "Booting" the decision of a referee cannot be termed as anything but rotten sportsmanship. Miller, of Daniel Baker made every free throw he was given because of the technical fouls called on the crowd, the visitors would have won by two points. A basketball referee calls the same as he sees it and is bound on the sidelines as seldom in a position to see as much as he does. What prompts a fan to do this sort of thing at the risk of losing a ball game is more than we can understand.

According to the new bulletin sent out by the Interscholastic League of Texas, the general ten semester rule will go into effect when the next school term opens. Instead of four years with no limit of time between the ten semester plan forces the athlete to go through his ten semesters of high school work without dropping out unless he wants this time counted against him. In a nutshell, the new rule means that from the time a student enters high school, straight through to graduation on him until ten semesters have passed.

This will not only prevent athletes from dropping out of school with the hope of "playing next year" but will eliminate a great deal of this protesting that has so muddled the state races for the past few years. The new plan will also make it much easier to keep a clear record of all participants in interscholastic games.

ACTION GALORE

Basketball fans of Lubbock and near-by towns may expect plenty of action on the Tech court this week. We suggest that you sharpen your wits for the greatest game menu the season has offered thus far. Beginning tonight, the battle is waged in the college gym for the remainder of the week, with the keenest rivals of the college and high school meeting the local teams in the crucial games of the season.

Coach S. D. Burton will lead his teaming West Texas Teachers into the Matador stronghold tonight for the first of a two game series with the Tech basketball. Although the Buffaloes have suffered a few reverses in their T. I. A. A. series this season, the same Thundering Herd that walked off with the championship of the association last year will bend down on the shoulders of the Tech cagers. Between the Buffaloes and the Tech cagers are ended an outside chance to put an end to the long string of victories the Burtonmen have registered over Tech.

Beginning the season at their usual whirlwind pace, the Buffaloes were considered unbeatable, but at present their status in the T. I. A. A. chase is not so promising. By dividing their two game engagement with the Daniel Baker Hill Billies whom the Matadors fought to a draw on the two nights following, the Teachers now loom as an ideal match for the Canyon basketball. But at their best, the Matadors are hoping for no more than an even break with the Buffs.

Taking advantage of the Matadors' off-night, Del Morgan's high school basketball team met stiff competition Thursday night at the college gymnasium when they tangled up with the fast-stepping Ralls Jackrabbits, who defeated the Lubbock quintet decisively in an early season tussle. The Westerners have been laying for their conquerors for the past several weeks, and it is not unlikely that Morgan will open up several bags of tricks on that night to put an end to the Crosby county menace between Lubbock and the district crown.

West Texas Teachers To Meet Local College Five In First Of Two Game Series At Tech Gymnasium Tonight

Burton Crew Coming With Fast Stepping Aggregation of Basket Loopers; Paymen Hope For Split

Coach S. D. Burton's Canyon Buffaloes come to town tonight for the first of a two-game series with the Tech basketballers in the college gymnasium. Primed for the invasion of their rivals of the hardwood court, the Matador basketballers went through a final workout last night. The game tonight starts at 7:30.

Although practically counted out of the T. I. A. A. basketball chase, the Thundering Herd comes to Lubbock with the same formidable aggregation that has defeated Tech cage teams consistently during the history of the relations between the two schools.

During a two-game affair with the Daniel Baker Hill Billies last week, the 1929 Teachers evenly paired with Coach Payne's basketballers who also split with the Brownwood five. The Matadors, however, will be well pleased with one victory out of the Canyon series here.

Highly pleased with the performance of his pupils against the Hill Billy aggregation last week, Coach Payne will likely send the same starting lineup against the Buffs. Pace and Hodges at forwards, Fincher at center, Walker and Vincent at guards would present a formidable combination.

ROBBERY ATTEMPTED

Burglars Try to Rifle Offices of Local Bank

After making their entrance into three different offices on the second floor of the Citizens National Bank building, burglars Sunday night apparently abandoned their efforts at robbing them. Entrance was gained to the offices by prying door locks open. Several desks were forced open by the burglars and papers were scattered about, although nothing was reported missing Monday morning.

Offices entered included those of Neil H. Wright, J. E. Mulfee and Bean and Kleit. In one of the offices more than $100 in cash was overlooked, which was kept in a filing cabinet.

McKinney Pastors Lose $17 Sunday Night On Highway

MCKINNEY, Feb. 4. (AP)—The Rev. Albert Rosoff and his father, Daniel Rosoff, were held up en route to Dallas last night after appearing at the first Baptist church here. They were stopped on a highway between Abilene and Plano and asked to give up the money obtained at the McKinney church. About $17 was handed over.

Aggies Win Over Southwestern Five

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 4. (AP)—Coach Chuck Bassett's Texas Aggie cagers fought an uphill fight to defeat Southwestern University, 29 to 25, in a hard-fought basketball game here tonight.

The Pirate quintet jumped into an early lead, and at the half were leading 16 to 12. Only after using virtually their entire string of forwards were the Aggies able to get their four-point lead.

Harry Keeton, Aggie guard, was left with 11 points.

H. W. Carter of Gambill's store at Amarillo, has been transferred to the Gambill's store of Lubbock.

Business College Trims Army Five

Business College Girls Win Hard-Fought Contest Off Bell Telephone Sextette; Ellison Leads Scorers

The undefeated Business College quintet of the City League added another victory to their long string last night by downing the National Guard cagers, 32 to 22. Both teams were considerably off form and played a ragged contest.

Taking the lead early, the combination of college cagers, with Kelsey, Bryant and Kerr in the leading roles set the pace throughout the game. The Army five, minus the services of Hale, their regular center and leading scorer, used Baker, a new recruit, to advantage. Trailing with the small end of a 16-10 score at the half, the Soldiers came back stronger in the second half to threaten the lead of the winners.

The Business College team rallied in the final stages and pulled away a comfortable lead. Kelsey, Bryant and Miser figuring in the comeback. Cecil Kelsey, with 16 points, was high scorer while Kerr came second with 8. Adkinson and Reavill with 6 points each tied for high point honors for the losers.

The score:

Business College	F.G.	F.T.	Pts.
Kelsey, f.	8	0	16
Bryant, f.	2	1	5
Huckaby, f.	0	1	1
Kerr, c.	4	0	8
Miser, c.	1	0	2
Wright, g.	0	0	0
Totals	15	2	32

National Guard F.G. F.T. Pts. Adkinson, f. 3 0 6 Reavill, f. 3 0 6 Baker, c. 1 3 5 Allen, g. 1 1 3 Roberts, g. 0 2 2 Totals 8 6 22

Business College girls met a strong comeback on the part of the Bell Telephone sextette in the second half of the opening contest, barely missing out the switchboard crew.

Trailing behind four points at the half, the Bell girls got their long range guns in action before the game was over and were gaining when the final whistle sounded.

Ellison scored 14 of the 17 points registered by the winners to carry off high point honors. Merle Luck was high point scorer for the Bell girls with 9.

Cowboys Stall Way To Conference Win

ABILENE, Feb. 4. (AP)—Simmons University won its sixth straight Texas Conference basketball victory by defeating Austin College 14 to 10 here tonight.

The Cowboys' so-called delayed offense was almost postponed. They held the ball out of play eight minutes in the first half and fourteen minutes in the last half, while the Austin defense refused to advance out of zone-guard position.

Gerald Smith, Simmons guard, may have set a record when he held the ball for six minutes in the last half without moving out of his tracks.

Trinity U. Loses Sixth Straight

BROWNWOOD, Feb. 4. (AP)—Howard Payne college handed Trinity University its sixth straight basketball defeat, 35 to 21, here tonight.

The Yellowjackets took an early lead and at the half led 15-11. They played an excellent game, featured by fast passing and breaking attack.

Hill of Trinity, was high scorer with 13 points.

TEACHERS WHIP CATS

ABILENE, Feb. 4. (AP)—North Texas State Teachers college defeated Abilene Christian 26 to 16 in a fiercely fought basketball game here tonight. A stubborn inner defense saved the game for the visitors.

All Strokes Same to Her

Sports Cartoonist-Writer for Central Press and Avalanche
Eleanor Holm, little New York swimming sensation, has accomplished such aquatic feats in recent months as to place her at the top among women in all-around competition.

In winning the metropolitan senior 300-yard medley championship recently, Miss Holm displayed her ability as an all-around star. This event calls for three 100-yard swims of breast, back and crawl strokes in order. Her time for the complete distance was 4:22 3-5, which broke her own world's record of 4:26 1-5. She covered the breast stroke 100-yard stretch in 1:25 1-5, a remarkable speed for a 75-foot pool.

Her ability has swimming experts guessing as to how such little mite of a girl can attain such speed. She tips the scale a little better than 100 pounds and is only 15 years old.

Miami Promoter Instructs Attorneys to Prevent W. L. Stribling From Riding In Plane Before Fight

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 4. (AP)—A big variance of opinion was shown among those affected by Jack Dempsey's announcement today that he had instructed attorneys to file injunction proceedings to keep "Young" Stribling from piloting his plane, or flying in other planes, prior to the Macon boxer's fight with Jack Sharkey here February 27.

The air-minded heavyweight contender contented himself with the assertion that he had "nothing to say, yet."

"Pa" Stribling believed it was "too bad" because such a move would place a ban on "the best relaxation the kid can get."

"Ma" Stribling favored the idea unreservedly, declaring no court injunction would be necessary to keep her son out of the air so far as she was concerned.

Both Stribling and Sharkey continued to take the matter of serious training in the light of something to be done in the future, though the Maconite put in two and a half miles of road work.

Breckenridge High Leads List of 72 State Cage Teams

San Antonio High Sent Team To State Finals For 7 Out of Past 8 Years; All Are Thrice Champions

(Special To The Avalanche)
AUSTIN, Feb. 4.—During the last eight years, a total of 72 different high school basketball teams have participated in the eight State basketball tournaments that have been sponsored by the Interscholastic League according to Roy B. Henderson, athletic director of the Interscholastic League Bureau of the University of Texas. Each of these teams, before reaching the State finals, has been three times a champion, inasmuch as the League rules require that a team competing in the finals must have won the county, the district and the bi-district tournaments.

Breckenridge High School of San Antonio leads the list of participants, having sent a team to the State finals seven years out of the eight since the League has been supervising the tournaments. Austin and El Paso tie for second place, having been represented six times each; while Stephenville has sent a team to the State tournament five years.

The list of participants for the last eight years, together with their years of participation, is as follows: Alpine, 1927; Archer City, 1921; Athens, 1923-1927-1928; Austin, 1922, 1924, 1925, 1926, 1927, 1928; Beaumont, 1925, 1926, 1928; Blinn, 1925; Bogata, 1923; Breckenridge, (San Antonio), 1921, 1922, 1923, 1925, 1926, 1927, 1928; Brown, 1922-1924; Brownwood, 1924, 1925, 1926; Canton, 1926; Canyon, 1926; Carbon, 1921; Carlton, 1927; Central (Houston), 1921, 1922, 1923, 1924; Colina, 1921; Cisco, 1927, 1928; Clara, 1922; Corpus Christi, 1928; Corsicana, 1923; Denton, 1927; Estelline, 1925; Eustace, 1925; Edinburg, 1921-1922-1923-1924-1925 and 1926; Forest Avenue, 1923; Gatesville, 1921-1924; Crockett, 1924; Higgins, 1921; Joquim, 1923; John H. Jackrabbits Whip Idalou, 28 to 17

Ralls Cagers Lead Wildcat's Throughout Fast Contest On Ralls Court Reserves Also Win

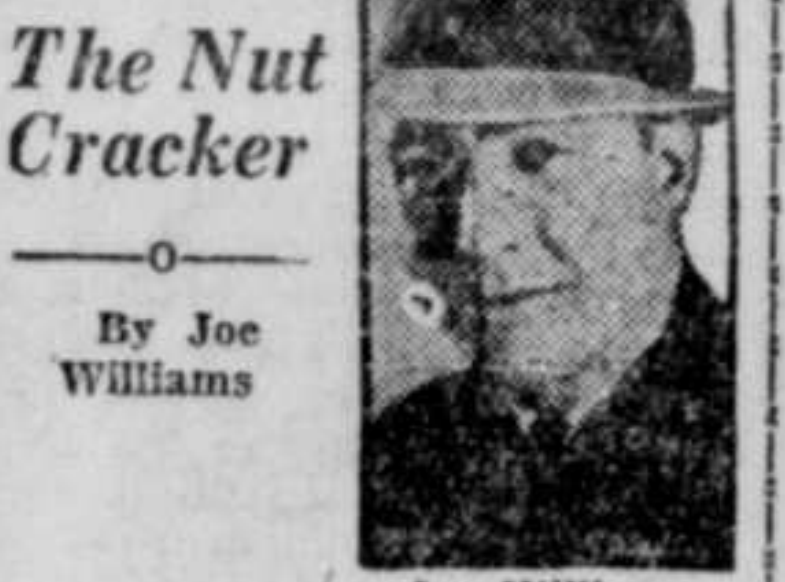

(Special To The Avalanche)
RALLS, Feb. 4.—The Ralls Jackrabbits took a fast game from the Idalou Wildcats here tonight by the score of 28 to 17.

Coach Lovens' basketballers took the lead early and held their advantage through the contest, leading Idalou 13 to 9 at the half.

Flashy Walker was high point man for Ralls with 12 points and Easter of Idalou came second with eight.

After the main event, the Ralls reserves defeated the Idalou second stringers to the tune of 32 to 24. Ralls will meet the Lorenzo quintet here tonight in a county championship contest. Following their crucial tilt with Lubbock at the Hub Thursday night, the locals will enter the Floydada invitation tournament which is to be played off Friday and Saturday. Approximately 24 teams are expected to compete in this tourney.

The Nut Cracker

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

A Texas heavyweight makes his debut under the moniker "Wildcat Mountain." O'Goofy says he does not know whether the idea is that he can't be caught or that he can't be mofed.

Kearns has named his stable "The Three Musketeers." His boys are supposed to be slayers—and they say Kearns himself isn't no mean hand at taking a cut.

Speaking of names, we are reminded to ask what became of the "Rabber of the North," that turned out to be merely a butter-knife?

Ray Miller hasn't taken on any fancy monickers yet—maybe because he has been too busy fighting to think about one—but the boys he's met lately are inclined to caption him "X-Ray." "Death-Ray" or something equally powerful.

The Boxing Commission knows plenty of names to call Joe Dundee, most of them beginning with "damn."

Sharkey and Stribling are being groomed, say the dispatchers, for their bout in Florida. Horses are groomed, too. Also, horses run and play and short.

Scheming Signs 2 Year Contract

NEW YORK, Feb. 4. (AP)—Max Schmeling, young German who jumped into the top rank by knocking out Johnny Risko Friday night, signed a two-year contract today to fight exclusively for the Madison Square Garden corporation.

Max plans to visit Germany soon and lift the mortgage on the family homestead with some of the $15,000 he received for annihilating Risko in nine rounds.

The Garden's agreement with Schmeling is the first of its kind in the history of boxing.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Jones and sons, Amos and Clifford, were among the number of Idalou shoppers here Monday.

Hub Thursday night, the locals will enter the Floydada invitation tournament which is to be played off Friday and Saturday. Approximately 24 teams are expected to compete in this tourney.

Brilliant Golfer Adds New Lustre To Past Laurels

Bobby Cruickshank And H. Smith Turned Back By 36-34-70 Card For Two Below Par Record

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Feb. 4. (AP) Wild William Mehlhorn, badazzler of the golf world, the past fortnight added new lustre to his record today by winning the South Central Open, his third successive major winter tournament.

After tying Bobby Cruickshank, veteran Scot, and Horton Smith, young Joplin, Mo., professional, with a 72-hole card of 230 yesterday, Mehlhorn came back to repulse them at every turn today in an 18-hole play off for the title. With 36-34-70, two below par, he was two strokes ahead of Smith and six better off than Cruickshank.

Mehlhorn's card compared with par:

Par out	543 454 344-36
Meln out	344 444 344-36
Par in	344 553 444-33-36-72
Meln in	344 443 444-34-36-70

Since the first of the year, Mehlhorn's achievements include a record 271 for competitive gold to win the El Paso open, a 277 record card for the eight-year-old Texas open at San Antonio and a 269 here with a par slashing round in the play-off.

Near Perfect Golf.
His work today was as near perfect as was ever witnessed in the five-year-old South Central tournament with a remarkable putting touch to and iron and wood shots near perfect.

Cards of Smith and Cruickshank: Smith in ... 344 444 344-37 Cruick, out 553 444 445-38 Cruick, in 454 543 454-38-36-76

Cruickshank broke in the outgoing nine. Playing even through the sixth, he took four, one over regular on the short seventh when his putting went awry. At numbers nine he again was one over when he had a sliced two shot and a hard approach. From then out he was never really a serious threat to overtake Mehlhorn, while Smith's chances faded after the 12th hole episode.

The day was fine from a gallery standpoint, the temperature being moderate with no sun to bother the vision on the long shots. Some 2,000 formed the gallery.

Mustangs Dash Championship Hopes Of Texas Longhorns By Taking A Close Game From Steers, 33 To 32

Ponies Score Free Throw In Final Half-Minute To Hand Texas Its First Defeat of Season

DALLAS, Feb. 4. (AP)—Championship hopes of the University of Texas were dashed here tonight when the Southern Methodist University five scored a free throw in the last 30 seconds of play to win 33 to 32.

It was the first defeat the Texas team had suffered in the conference. The crack Texas five was aggravated by the stalling of the Methodist and was unable to hit an even stride.

Texas was leading 31 to 30 with two and one half minutes to go but Brooks of S. M. U. looped a long one through the basket to put his team one point in the lead and the Mustangs stalled desperately. A bad pass, however, gave the ball to Brooks of Texas who was fouled, and tied the score with a free throw.

Free Throws Wins
An extra period seemed inevitable, but Looney, Longhorn center, fouled Brooks in the closing seconds and the latter dropped the winning point through the net from the foul line.

The game was the roughest on the local floor this year, six players being ejected, three from each team for personal fouls. The two teams met again tomorrow night, Texas by winning that game and all of the remainder of the games on the schedule, including two with Arkansas, could take the title, but this appeared to be almost an impossibility in the light of Arkansas' brilliant showing this season.

Local Delco And Frigidaire Agent Leads In Selling

Another indication that business conditions, generally throughout the South Plains and West Texas, are far better than they are in other portions of the United States, is given in the announcement made here Monday by D. A. Davis, Frigidaire and Delco-Light dealer for this district, that the Fort Worth district for Frigidaire led all districts of the United States, and on Delco-Light led all districts in the entire world.

Mr. Davis reports the receipt of prizes of $215 and $100 in gold to himself, as dealer, for reaching sales quotas for these two products. Further prizes in cash to his salesmen, are, $164 to Bill Craig and $150 to Monte Bowron. Davis, together with Sales James McKinney, Lee B. Davis, Jim Dunn, and M. E. Powell, will go to the Southwestern Regional convention of Frigidaire dealers and salesmen at Fort Worth tomorrow.

Chief officer Harry Manning says: "Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet."

"WHEN I climbed aboard the 'America' after those cold, strenuous hours getting the men off the freighter 'Florida,' there was nothing I wanted so much as a Lucky—'By George,' it tasted wonderful! A Lucky is always refreshing. My tense nerves relaxed, my aching throat was soothed and the whole thrilling adventure just seemed a part of the day's work. As time goes by, and as I look back to that memorable night, I'll always remember the wonderful taste of that welcome Lucky. As I went around to visit the men we'd rescued, I found many of them enjoying Luckys, too. We really couldn't wait to get back to our ship and 'Luckys.' As an actual fact in returning to the 'America' I noticed one of our men* rowing with one hand and lighting a 'Lucky' with the other. There's no flavor to equal toasted tobaccos, and I always prefer Lucky Strikes. There's wisdom in the saying: 'Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet.' It helps a man to keep physically fit and we who follow the sea must always be prepared for any emergency."

*The man mentioned by Chief Officer Manning was Boatswain's Mate Aloys A. Wilson.

DECEIVER AND TROUBLE MAKER

There is a certain practice still clinging to modern diplomacy which deserves to be consigned to the limbo of the obsolete. It is the practice which mon in diplomatic parlance. "For home consumption only," and in these days when the affairs of nations are more and more relying upon public thought and public action for their settlement it has no reason and no excuse for being. It seems that whenever a leading statesman, whether it be Briand on the subject of Franco-German relations or Mussolini on Italian expansion, or Sir Austen Chamberlain on the evacuation of the Rhineland, makes a particularly provocative pronouncement, it is often justified on the ground that such an utterance was intended for home consumption only, and for that reason should be discounted or with great generosity overlooked. Without indulging in a long list of specific references which have appeared in the news very lately—it can be seen that whatever gives rise to such a pretense is certain to confuse and antagonize. Internal judgment is most needed. The particular objection to this phrase and to the occasions which prompt it is that it is invariably a term of deception. To claim, for example, that French statesmen must approach the issue of the Rhineland with a great bluster concerning alleged German military in order to satisfy French public opinion or to assert that the German diplomatic exchanges must be their claims for evacuation so as to appease the people of the Reich constitutes an affront to the enlightened public opinion, which the peoples of civilized nations are bringing to bear upon their mutual relations. Any statesman who attempts to conceal a bellicose attitude toward foreign affairs behind the pretension that he is addressing himself only to his own people—and it is impossible to do this because of the almost magical attainments of modern news transmission—is discrediting his own nation and destroying the best guarantees of peace.

At the signing of the Pact of Paris, the world's political leaders joined in expressing the unanimous conviction that this treaty represented the voice of an awakened public opinion—public opinion which had proved itself to be in advance of the position which statesmen had ever taken on the subject of peace. International life is no longer confined to the relations between sovereigns and between states. It extends intimately to the relations between peoples. That public opinion which made possible the Treaty of Locarno, which demanded the Pact of Paris, and which has lately been crystallized into a new Pan-American conference, must not be allowed to stage when it desires the stimulant of bellicose words. Speeches which demand the explanation, "For home consumption only," are either false representations of the genuine wishes of the people or are consumption only is a deceiver and a trouble maker.

A PROBLEM

Following suspension of a number of girls from classes in an Eastern university, the president of the institution is to make an investigation of charges that intoxicating liquor is readily procurable in the vicinity of the university campus. Upon reading news accounts of the incident, one derives the impression that the university head was wholly unaware that bootlegging was being carried on in the vicinity of his institution. It is difficult to believe that the educator was unaware of the conditions which were revealed following the disciplinary conduct of the girls in the class rooms. If he had not observed the situation the fact is not a compliment to his insight into current affairs. However, there are thousands of people in the United States who seem to be as unconscious of the bootlegging situation as the educator. Despite the number of intoxicated people that are met from day to day and the number of arrests that are made many intelligent people continue to ignore the illegal liquor traffic. They admit that the bootlegging menace may be serious in some localities but apparently prefer not to take cognizance of the local situation. It is reasonable to state that bootlegging is universal. The illegal traffic in intoxicants may not be as marked in some localities as in others, but the person with a penchant for strong drink can usually supply his want without great difficulty. Pious people who take pleasure in discussing the fact that a "speakeasy" has been uncovered in the immediate vicinity of a school in some eastern city, and had at almost every street corner in another city, usually are deceiving themselves. The bootlegging question is a universal problem. Educators and others who have assumed in a large measure, the responsibility for the morals of the country, especially the younger people, must realize that before much progress can be achieved.

PROHIBITION ISSUE CANNOT BE IGNORED

BY CHARLES F. STEWART
Washington Correspondent For Central Press And The Morning Avalanche

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—To leave prohibition out of any chronicle of the Washington of today is about as easy as it would've been to write the history of 1918, at the time without referring to the war.

Gosh—how I hate the subject! Don't I know it's as hackneyed as the weather? Don't I know that it's as dangerous as dynamite even to be suspected of the least tinge of wetness? Don't I know that it's all a man's life's worth to be the slightest dry proclivity? Don't I know that both sides try to straddle?

If I could dry this country up till it parched and cracked open in pure alcohol—believe me, I'd do whichever one promised to end the controversy quickest!

At a conservative estimate, prohibition is fully 30 per cent of the sum total of all the present-day news in the capital—as much as everything else put together—Coolidge, Hoover, the new cabinet, peace treaties, the cruiser program, farm relief, the tariff, river control, foreign debt settlement, taxation, the power question—the whole kit and kaboodle.

Again I ask—how ignore it? On the other hand—how touch it with a 10-foot pole—and keep your scalp on?

The heck of it is nothing seems to take a particle of the curse off. On the contrary, the infernal thing simply gets more rambunctious, with every addition of some fresh sedative that appears calculated to quiet it—for awhile, anyway.

Surely the last election result ought to have been tranquillizing—temporarily if not permanently. The 1928 scrap may not have been a clean-cut referendum, but it was more or less a referendum. Insofar as it was one at all, nobody can say that outcome was anything but dryish. Mr. Hoover certainly was a dryer candidate than Mr. Smith. The seventy-first congress will be dryer than the seventieth is, and that's about 70 per cent dry.

Why shouldn't that mean a little peace until the next congressional fight, at the earliest? But no. There's a riot on now over enforcement funds.

And as soon as Mr. Hoover's inaugurated, he's pledged to appoint an impartial, non-partisan commission to investigate the entire prohibition situation.

I think this inquiry's possibilities have been underestimated. The general supposition is that the investigators will be some eight or nine academic old chaps who will hold a series of inconclusive hearings and make a report, leaving the problem no nearer an answer than it is at the present writing.

But the other day I heard suggested—of pretty good authority, too—a commission, not of eight or nine, but of three members, as follows: Al Smith, Henry Ford and Charles Evans Hughes.

Al and Henry to make it a non-partisan body! Charles to make it impartial!

So far as I can see, prohibition's past isn't a circumstance compared with what looms in the offing for the next four years.

FATIGUE, NERVOUSNESS FOLLOW
MALNUTRITIONBY DR. MORRIS FISHER
Editor Journal of the American Medical Association

Should a child receive insufficient food or unsuitable nutritive substances in his diet, it promptly suffers a loss in weight.

If food is insufficient or of the wrong type, digestion and assimilation are disturbed and the body begins to use up its own fat.

A certain amount of fuel must be taken to maintain the body temperature and to provide energy for the action of the heart, the lungs and the muscles. If the supply is not sufficient, the body reacts by depression and not infrequently with fatigue or nervousness.

Many investigators have attempted to find out the definite relationship between the fuel intake and the development of the nervous reaction. A recent series of studies by Dr. and Mrs. Max Seham in the University of Minnesota indicate that malnourishment is promptly followed by serious symptoms.

The health habits and efficiency of 100 normal children were studied in contrast to 100 malnourished children. It was found that in children who were underfed fatigue and nervousness were much more frequent than in children whose weight-height index was within 10 per cent of the normal.

The health habits of abnormal children were poorer than those of the normal, and their efficiency was noted both by the mother and by the teacher to be inferior to that of children properly nourished.

In their consideration of the subject, the Seham's believe that the diet of the average American child is too rich in sugars and sweet beverages and too meager in protective foods, such as milk, leafy vegetables and fresh fruits. Furthermore, palatability, color, texture and temperature of the foods are associated with good digestion, as are also emotions such as grief, anger, worry, irritation and physical strain.

Finally feeding and a sufficient amount of rest reduces fatigue and improves the nervous system, increases the functional capacity of the child and hastens the gain in weight.

Calm Son—That's only traffic jam.—Michigan Gargoyle.

A worried looking farmer drove into town, tied his team and headed for the family doctor's office. Without preamble he began:

"Doc, the first time you're out our way I wish you'd stop and see my wife."

"Is she sick?" asked the man of pills and potions.

"Not exactly."

"Well, this morning she got up at the regular time about 4 o'clock, milked the cows, got breakfast for the hands, done her housework, churned, and along about 10 o'clock she said she felt a little tired. I expect she needs a tonic, or something."—Rutgers Chanticleer.

An enlisted man was taking his physical exam, when asked by the doctor to read the eye test card, said: "Will you please read for me, Doc? I can't see very well." He failed.—Annapolis Log.

PRESS COMMENT

SPRING IS COMING, ETC.

And now, after smoking our daily dozen cigars, we are in that contented frame of mind to write our annual editorial on Spring. We have been looking forward to this duty for several months and our thoughts have been gathering strength and the full force of that strength is about to be unburdened.

Spring—what a name and what a season! It has been coming with insistent regularity for these many years, and they are many. Spring came long before there were men to know what it was all about. Even now, some of them do not fully appreciate this gorgeous, glorious, invigorating time of year there may be added any other necessary adjectives. Spring may be traced from the Archaean period, or the period when life is supposed to have dawned, through the Paleozoic period, or age of coal plants, of fishes and invertebrates, on through the Mesozoic period, or age of reptiles, and extending through the Cenozoic period, or age of mammals, on down to the Quaternary period, when man in all his human skins and hides danced upon the scene.

Do what you will about it, or think what you may, it is the same old Spring, with the twittering of birds, the spreading of green and the rising of the sap in the animate and inanimate. This is one of our deep thoughts, but we will let that pass. Spring is about to begin to commence to happen and therein lies the pith of this writing.

A little early, you say, to predict the coming of Spring? Why not? Winter comes, we have been taught that Spring is not far behind. This is winter isn't it? Well and good; now look out for Spring.

In the Spring a young man's fancy is so taken with the idea of going ahead and love—everyone loves something, whether it is a dog, cat, spouse or just an ordinary sweetheart. It takes a poet to tell about Spring as it really isn't. He or she sees and hears things that never happen outside the printed page, never to be suffered. They suffer enough and misery loves company. Do not give us credit for the latter part of that thought for it is far from original.

It is a mighty cold day to be writing about Spring, but seasons are long suffering and so are our readers. This business of Spring will never get you very far. You may think you know what it is, but you are wrong. No one ever knows what Spring is until it is too late and then the knowledge is of small benefit. We might as well admit we know nothing whatever about it and that, explains this editorial.—Memphis Democrat.

"FOLK" "FOLKS" OR "PEOPLE"

Until some erudite college professor convinced us that "folk" was the correct term to use when referring to people we had always said "folks." We then said "folks," being ambitious to use as pure English as our knowledge permitted.

Positive in the conviction that "folk" was correct and "folks" incorrect we have used the former term except in off guarded moments when early surroundings showed their indelible effect.

Now our good dictionary says that "folk" is archaic or antiquated and "folks" colloquial. We don't want to be antiquated; we don't want to be colloquial. We'll henceforth say "people" when we mean people and let it go at that.—Plainview Evening Herald.

If the Editor of the Herald will follow our suggestion in the use of the terms mentioned above the difficulty he has been wrestling with will disappear without his having to waste any more good gray matter in cogitation. When referring to the human race as a whole or any contingent thereof containing a plu-

THIS HAS HAPPENED

All sorts of things are happening to ASHTORETH ASHE. First she gets engaged to a multi-millionaire—the famous HOLLIS HART. Then an ex-sweetheart, MONTY ENGLISH, appears upon the scene.

Ashtoreth leaves Hollis in New York, and returns by train to Boston, following their arrival in America from a cruise to the West Indies. Hollis means to fly to Boston.

When Ashtoreth reaches home, she learns that Monty is also flying that night to Boston, determined to see her on an important matter.

Ashtoreth and her mother, with SADIE MORTON, are listening to the radio when the broadcaster of the BOSTON NEWS announces that a plane, in flight from New York to Boston, has been lost. Mrs. Ashe telephones the paper for further information, and learns something else from the city editor.

The News has received information about Hollis Hart and Ashtoreth. There has been a scandalous story already printed in late afternoon papers in New York. The Boston papers will have it next morning.

Mrs. Ashe, heartbroken and against, appeals to her daughter. "It isn't true, what he says? Say it isn't true, Ashtoreth!"

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXVIII

Ashtoreth faced them like an outraged goddess. Tall and slim, and white as marble, she said, "It's a lie, of course, she said. 'Was Hollis there?' demanded Sadie shrilly.

"Yes, he was there." Ashtoreth turned on her defiantly. "But you know perfectly well, Sadie, that everything was all right."

"Yeah," Sadie jeered roughly. "I know you're a dam' sight smarter than I am—that's what I know. And not a dam' bit better. Just smarter, that's all."

"Not a bit of truth?" besought Maizie desperately. She took her daughter's cold hands and chafed them nervously. "Lie that's all a lie, dam' it, of course, she said. 'Mother used to say that. I haven't thought of it for years. A lie that's all a lie,' she used to say, 'can be met and fought outright. But a lie that's half the truth is a harder thing to fight.'"

Ashtoreth shrugged. "Oh, it's half the truth, all right," she admitted.

"Half the truth! I bet it is!" evaded Sadie. "Got all worked up, didn't you, when I wanted a little cash? Gee, no wonder."

Maizie turned on her like a ter-magant. "None of that!" she ordered. "None of your cheap talk, Sadie Morton."

But Sadie would not be silenced.

ality of individuals use all three of the terms under consideration like this: "I say, folk, (pause) folks, (pause) people." And when roughing with the sentence ask "folks, folks, people to select either term that suits them best and let you go on with your English. But the puzzled Editor of the Herald uses good judgement. He is not using an archaism, colloquialism, etc., in referring to people as "people" when he might use a less savory term. However, good judgement expressed in bad English is always better than bad judgement expressed in good English. Now, I would say "Folks, folks, people and their posterity," and let it go at that.—Plainview Baptist.

G. O. P. IN NEW YORK

Houston Post-Dispatch: New York City republicans are organizing to make a strong fight for the majority this fall, advises from the metropolis state. They are going on the assumption that Mayor Walker will be re-nominated by the democratic party, and they are issuing statements pointing to the "scandalous conditions" prevailing under Tammany administration. Evidently, the republican leaders are emboldened in their efforts to capture municipal government by the fact that Hoover carried the state last November in the presidential election, and by the expectation that former Mayor Hylan will be an independent candidate, splitting the Walker vote. To the impartial observer, neither of these things would appear to improve republican chances much. Hoover did not carry New York City. It supported Smith by a majority of at least 40,000.

If Walker runs again, he will doubtless have Smith's active backing, and a Smith candidate should receive a larger majority in a local contest than the candidate himself was a national one. There are innumerable people in New York City who approve Smith's influence in local and state affairs, who will not vote for him for president. The election showed Smith dominant in New York City and nothing has occurred since the election to indicate that his influence in the city has waned. If Hylan enters the contest, it will be at the behest of the Hearst interests, and their hold in New York City has been weakened to the point where it will not affect very greatly the trend of the voting. Hearst is almost surely mistaken if he imagines he has a chance to return to power in New York as a result of the defeat of Smith for the president.

FEBRUARY 5

1621—Roger Williams arrived in Boston.

1836—"Gag law," to discourage debate on slavery, introduced in Congress.

1904—Pennsylvania railroad borrowed $50,000,000.

"Ask her about the tropical island love nest," she taunted. "Ask your lily white daughter that."

"See here," Ashtoreth turned on them proudly. "Hollis and I are engaged. We're going to be married. . . . Suddenly she grew tense, and her chin dropped in a frightened sort of way. "He's flying over from New York," she said. "That's why I was so worried. Mums. He body hurt? Oh, the pilot—that's terrible. Who was the other passenger. Mr. Burton? A Mr. English?

Maisie's color was returning. She glanced over her shoulder at Ash-toreth. And she kept nodding to the telephone, smiling. Her voice changed and became soft and cozy again.

"Well, that's all right, Mr. Burton. No—no—I understand. Oh, I was your duty, of course. Oh, I know all about the things newspaper men have to do. Wasn't my Joe on the paper for 15 years? Well, of course anything Mr. Hart says is all right. No, she just took a little trip. For her health, Mr. Burton. Oh, no—it's very sudden. Love at first sight?—well, I suppose you might."

"But listen, Mr. Burton—just as a favor to Joe's wife and little girl—don't say anything about a love nest, will you, Mr. Burton? It sounds so cheap, don't it? Oh, awful pictures! I don't know as we have any. Oh, not tonight—she's too tired. Well, maybe No—I don't know. I'm sorry. Mr. Burton—I don't like to be rude—but my little girl's right here. Oh, that's all right. No harm done. Yes—yes, all right, Mr. Burton."

Maisie slipped the receiver on its hook. Her face was glowing. "It's all right, honey, Mr. Hart's all right. And Monty. They took the same plane. Mr. Burton says it got lost in the fog. They were flying somewhere over Connecticut when the motor died. The ship went into a nose dive. He says, no, crashed down through the trees. They were over a woods. I guess the poor pilot got hurt. But the passengers only got shaken up."

"Mr. Burton says they hiked through the woods, out on a road and stopped an automobile. That went back and got the pilot. They took him to a hospital. And the reporters down there talked with Mr. Hart and Monty. Of course Mr. Burton don't know about Monty. He just said there was another passenger—a Mr. English. They just got a flash on it. He says there'll be more news pretty soon."

"Oh, thank God!" Ash-toreth's lips moved in soundless prayer. Sadie burst her head on the arm of the divan and was crying softly. "I'm a-awful g-g-lad," she sobbed. "Honest I am."

Maisie comforted her roughly. "Of course you are. Dry your eyes and stop your nonsense. And tell Ash-toreth you didn't mean any of the nasty things you said."

"I didn't, Ash. I—I'm just a-a egg—that's all. But, honest, Ash, I didn't. You—you just sort of g-got my goat—that's all."

Sadie dried her eyes no the starched cuff of her pretty blouse and wiped her little red nose on her sleeve.

Now Maisie was crying, with her arms about Ash-toreth. And Ash-toreth, over her mother's shoulders, was blinking through a haze of tears.

"Here, pipe down, you two!" Sadie was in command of the field again. "Cut it out. What do you think this is—a bawling fest? Oh, my gosh, there's that phone again."

Ash-toreth answered, choking back a sob. "Yes—this is Kenmore 0510J. Connecticut calling?"

She clapped her hand joyously over the mouthpiece.

"Connecticut!" she told them gladly. "Hello, Oh, hello, Sweet-heart, how are you? Oh, my goodness, yes—we know all about it. You weren't hurt? Not a bit? He's with you now—oh, that's wonderful. Let me speak to him, Hollis. No—not now, dear. Before you shut off, I mean, Oh, I'm so glad to hear your voice. I've been frightened to death."

"No, we heard it over the radio—that the plane was missing. I mean, Oh, about the accident—no we got that over the phone. One of the papers called us. You've talked with a reporter? Oh, isn't it dreadful. What did you tell him, Hollis? You did! Really and truly. That's wonderful, Hollis, Oh, the papers here have it, too."

"No, I don't think they'll use it. I don't know. They might of course. You never can tell. Listen, Hollis—does Monty know? Everything? . . . Wasn't it just the strangest thing—that you should meet him? I mean . . . My dear! When did you discover who he was? . . . Well, let me speak to him then. . . . Tonight? Oh, that's wonderful! You'll come right here? . . . Oh, Hollis, I'm so excited! Yes, yes, dear. Of course, I do. Do you?"

"Oh, hello, Monty. Hello. This is Ash-toreth. No—ASH-TORETH, Oh, excuse me—I'll call her. . . ."

Ash-toreth turned from the phone. "Monty wants to speak to you. Mother."

Sadie was powdering her nose and trying desperately to appear nonchalant.

"Oh, Sadie—Sadie!" Ash-toreth had forgotten her anger, and all her grievances. "Holly's coming here tonight."

Maisie turned from the telephone. "He's gone," she said. "Monty—the connection was broken."

Sadie was slipping into her coat. "I just happened to think," she exclaimed. "I got a date to spend the night with Eloise Brooks. Honest, Mrs. Ashe, I forgot all about it. You let them dishes go, and I'll be back in the morning."

She had slipped away almost before they knew. Then Ash-toreth turned to her other, and her face was glowing, like a saint's at prayer.

"Holly's going to get the five-day law waived," she cried. "And we're going to be married tomorrow."

Profit Taking In Stocks Is Large In Gotham Monday

Stringent Money and Expectation of Increase in Members Causes Activity; Call Goes to 8 Percent

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Writer
NEW YORK, Feb. 4. (AP)—Stringent money and expectation of a large increase in stock exchange member loans caused considerable profit-taking on the stock market today, depressing a number of recent favorites 2 to 6 points. Operations for the advance were carried on in an assortment of rails, industrials and specialties, however, and about two dozen were lifted to record levels.

The increase in stock exchange loans during January, announced after the close of the market, amounted to $295,423,731, which was in line with what Wall Street expected. The stock exchange total as of January 31 was $673,164,242, an increase of about $2,300,000,000 in the past 12 months.

Although call money was expected to be a little easier to get with the return of the February 1 payments to the banks, the rate again went to 8 per cent today, as banks called about $20,000,000. Wall Street sees little hope of a call loan rate of less than 6 per cent for some time, as corporations are reluctant to loan under that rate, and banks normally encounter expanding commercial demands during February.

There was little in the day's news until after the market closed, when directors of Standard Oil of Indiana announced a 50 per cent stock dividend and 50 cent extra cash dividend.

Cruel Steel company of America reported earnings for 1928 slightly in excess of those for 1927, but showed a marked improvement in the last quarter.

Trading fell off to the smallest volume in over two weeks, but 4,051,400 shares changed hands. The rails and utilities, strong groups last week, encountered much profit-taking.

Federal mining bonded up 20 points to a new top, and Jersey Central sold up 10 points to a record level. Advance Rumely, American Steel Foundries, Bethlehem Steel, Lambert, Curtiss Aero, and Shattuck mounted about 6 to 10 points to new peaks. Among the stock spots were Allied Chemical, American Power and Light, Johns Manville International Telephone, General Electric, New York Central, and Western Union, all of which sold off 3 to 6 points.

Motors were firmer. Mack Truck and Packard gained about 2 points each, and General Motors moving up about a point.

Commodity markets were mixed in tone. Cotton sold off about $1 a bale in response to a sag in the Australian market. Gains moved in a narrow range, wheat closing firm, and corn a little easier.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 4. (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Hogs ruled fairly active at all markets, with prices mostly 10 to 25 cents higher than last week's close. Shippers and packers were both good buyers at the advance. Total arrivals at the 11 markets were 142,800 against 93,227 last Monday and 208,732 the same day a year ago.

Liberal supplies of fed steers and yearlings to both Chicago and Kansas City influenced a weaker undertone in the trade and most killing classes were weak to 25c lower with extreme cases off more on weighty short feds. A few strictly choice grades selling at 13.00 and above held about steady. Arrivals totalled 52,400 against 48,421 a week ago and 68,713 a year ago.
Fat lambs sold on a mostly weak to 25c lower basis with the demand somewhat limited. Closely sorted lots at Chicago sold at 17.50 down, but one fancy lot went to shippers at 17.75. Matured classes held about steady with fat ewes selling largely from 10.00 down. Offerings totalled 68,100 as compared with 55,587 a week ago and 61,772 a year ago.

Cotton Prices Go On Downgrade In Orleans Exchange

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 4. (AP)—Declines of slightly more than $1 a bale followed moderate selling in the cotton market today and although sufficient trade buying on scale down orders developed from time to time and rallied prices a few points, the market was on the downgrade for practically the entire session. The lows of the day were reached in final trading when May contracts sold at 19.02, or 21 points down. The option closed at 19.04 with the general market steady at net losses of 18 to 21 points.

Liverpool cables were lower than due at the start here and first trades showed declines of 6 to 18 points. Prices continued to ease off during the morning under selling stimulated by a private report that crop preparations were up to the average for this period of the season and, although there was more or less trade buying on the scale down, March sold off to 19.05, May 19.09 and July 19.08 or 14 to 15 points below Saturday's close.

There was a rally of 5 to 7 points from these figures but when the demand was supplied a cable from Bombay India saying that mills there were closed down due to riots brought out renewed selling which carried prices to new lows for the day 26 to 22 points net down. Final prices were 1 to 2 points above the lowest.

Reports from London of prospects for the peaceful settlement of labor disputes in Lancashire mills exerted little influence in the market probably being off-set by the shutdown in India and the favorable crop preparation report.

Receipts 18,793; for week 38,737; for year 7,990,114; last year 6,832,307. Exports 40,711; for week 68,890; for year 3,569,531; last year 4,611,678. Stocks 2,249,740; last year 2,285,083. Stock on shipboard 122,388; last year 123,593.

Cattle Supply Is Light In Ft. Worth

PORT WORTH, Feb. 4. (AP)—The cattle and calf supply today at Fort Worth was very light. Values steady on all classes of cattle, while calves showed an advance.

Slaughter steers sold 9.15 and 11.25; 7 loads at 10.00; fully steady. Better heavy bulls 8.00 and 8.50; common light ones around 6.50. Values steady. Slaughter yearlings light receipts, early sales at 10.75 and less. Cows receipts very light better kind sold at 7.00 and 8.00; canners and cutters at 4.50 and 5.75, about steady.
Calves 25 to 50c higher, two loads of good heavy calves sold at 11.50, bulk cut calves around 6.50. Stocker cattle receipts light, about steady.
Hogs 15c to 25c higher, best rail butchers up to 8.85; truck top 9.00. Bulk of the package sows cleared at 7.75 to 8.25.

Weekly Review Of Business In Lubbock

Whole Territory Served By Roche Newton

Rapid Growth Is Made By Company

Serving not only Lubbock but the entire South Plains as well, the Roche Newton and company, plumbing and heating contractors, 1316 Texas Avenue, have become one of the most widely known plumbing institutions in this section of the state.

Organized ten years ago, the company has grown continuously since that time. Business during the past year has the best in the history of the company, and Roche Newton, manager, predicts that it will be still better in 1929.

Associated with Mr. Newton in the company is O. W. Ribble. The number of workers employed by the company varies with the amount of work going on in the city. The average is about six of seven employees at a time, with the number varying from about six to around ten.

Among the principal jobs completed by the Roche Newton and company can be found: Myrick building, Ellis Building, Lubbock sanitarium, West Texas hospital, First Methodist church, Avalanche-Journal and a number of the local schools.

Mr. Newton states that a large amount of his business is from out of the city and that the drawing power in distance each year becomes greater.

SALVATION ARMY SQUAD

LONDON, Feb. 4. (AP)—Development in the struggle within the Salvation Army over the question of leadership moved swiftly over the week-end. General Bramwell Booth made a quick automobile trip from his cottage at Southwold to his home in Hadley Wood near London, and the high council called a special meeting for today to discuss the new situation.

A Broad Statement But the R. W. Heim Shop Backs It

"If it's made of sheet metal, we have it." This is a nutshell explanation why R. W. Heim's Tin Shop located at 1009 13th street is handling hundreds of sheet metal jobs each month.

Catering to all kinds of metal roofing and sheet metal products, the Thirteenth street tin shop is fully equipped to build any sort of business or household necessity that can be fashioned from sheet iron. Tanks, skylights, flues and many other everyday tin products are built by experienced tinnermen employed by Mr. Heim.

Believing that a trial order is all his business needs to convince the public of the efficiency of his workmanship, Mr. Heim guarantees every piece of work going out of his place of business to satisfy completely.

Dr. R. D. Allen In City Four Years

Dr. R. D. Allen, chiropractor, has been a resident of Lubbock for the past four years, and has practiced his profession for a period of eight years, coming to this city from Washington state. He is a graduate of the Carver Chiropractic College, of Oklahoma City, Okla., and has taken a post-graduate course in that institution since graduation.

With offices in the Leader building, Dr. Allen has witnessed the expansion of his business with the growth of Lubbock and the South Plains.

Pilot Transfers To Horse To Call Help

KELTON, Utah, Feb. 4. (AP)—Paul Andert, air mail pilot flying between Boise, Idaho, and Salt Lake City, rode a borrowed horse through several miles of deep snow to Kelton last night to report to his company in Salt Lake by telephone that engine trouble had forced him down.

Andert's reported he landed in a snow covered field near here without damaging his plane, ended a search started when he failed to arrive in Salt Lake City on time.

Davis Apartments Booked In Advance

Offering a more complete service than can be found in most cities of this size, the Davis Apartments, 1606 Broadway, have been booked ahead since the opening of the apartments about sixty days ago. It is the purpose to give the patrons of the building everything in the way of service that could be obtained downtown. In addition to having everything, including linen, dishes and silverware furnished with the apartments, located in the same building is a beauty parlor, drug store, confectionery, and coffee shop. The service of all of these places is available to the residents without having to go out of the building.

The apartments are known as "efficiency apartments," due to the fact that everything is furnished. Eleven apartments, each including a bedroom, living room, kitchenette, breakfast nook, and private bathroom are found in the building. On the ground floor, twelve large, 19 by 14, bedrooms are found. These too, are booked ahead at the present.

Lubbock Paper Co. Has Good Business

The first and only exclusive paper house in Lubbock or the South Plains area opened for business on September 16 of last fall. It was the Lubbock Paper company, located at 608 Broadway.

During the brief interval since opening here, the establishment has built up a substantial business in Lubbock and the entire region. A good wholesale business in adjoining towns is now enjoyed.

All kinds of paper, from the coarse brands used for wrapping purposes to fine bond stock for the best grade of printing is handled. L. A. McWhirter of Fort Worth is the owner of the business. H. C. McWhirter of Lubbock is the manager.

Efforts to Secure Road Designation Starts Here Soon

A concerted effort on the part of Lubbock, Hockley and Cochrane county officials in an effort to get designation on the highway west will be started soon.

Four Levelland citizens met with the Lubbock committee last night and discussed plans to start a movement to get the road in shape to be designated by the state and federal authorities.

Blake Calls Meeting
The meeting was called by W. R. Blake, chairman of the committee, who was recently appointed by Chas. P. O'Neal to work for designation on the Levelland Highway.

The Levelland visitors included: County Judge D. E. McGee, Judge John H. Doyle, president of the First National Bank, J. M. Maho, formerly county judge of Crosby county, and Sam Combs, insurance.

W. A. Fincher and G. K. Horton of Hurwood were present. Lubbock men present included: Chas. P. O'Neal, W. R. Blake, M. G. Abernathy, Claude Hurlbut.

A general meeting is planned at Levelland February 14, and a committee from Lubbock and Hockley counties will go to Morton February 11 to confer with the Commissioners Court there regarding the highway.

Tragedies

by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Nail of Fort Worth. The Nails were slightly hurt. The Moores live here.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 4. (P)—Two persons were killed and a score of others injured here today after a collision with an ash wagon disabled the brakes on a street car, causing the tram to careen down a steep hill and into the side of a three story building.

HOUSTON, Feb. 4. (P)—Death today sealed the lips of Mrs. Margaret Hablitzel, 35, before she could furnish information to investigators inquiring into how she received injuries resulting in her death.

She was taken to a hospital Saturday night with a fractured skull and bruises. She died today.

Her husband said he had been away from home a short time and returned to find his wife hurt.

DUCK HILL, Miss., Feb. 4. (P)—One man was killed and four wounded in a toe to toe pistol fight caused by an argument over liquor at a country store near here late today.

Wheeler Johnson, 30, said to have declined Saturday to accompany Winston Blakely on a trip to buy whiskey, was killed. Blakely and two brothers, Fred and Jake, were wounded and a bystander, Richard Latham, 15, was hit in the leg by a wild bullet.

TOPEKA, Feb. 4. (P)—J. M. Whitaker, about 40, a farmer of near Tecumseh, and his 10-year-old son, James, were killed here late today when their truck collided with passenger train at a street railroad crossing.

SELLS UNBORN CALVES

Fred Snyder Contracts 1929 Crop for $45 to Good

Fred Snyder, local cattleman, has contracted to sell his 1929 steer calves to Tom Good, of Lamesa, it became known here yesterday. The price was said to be $45 per head.

A number of other purchases of unborn calves, are taking place throughout the section, it was learned.

Nine Tablets Made Me A New Man Says Smelter Worker

'I've Suffered For Ten Years But Orgatone Has Relieved Me,' Says Amarillo Man

"One day, my sister in law, left me nine Orgatone tablets and instructed that I take them, because I had been feeling so badly, but thought that all patent medicines were alike and refused to take them. Finally I decided to give them a trial, and they have given me wonderful results," said Richard Ray Gots, of 2400 N. W. 5th Amarillo, Texas, a well known smelter worker.

"I had my wife stop at the City Drug Store and get me a full bottle of Orgatone and I'm going to get more," he continued. "I was always bothered with stomach trouble, and when I ate, would be in misery for several hours afterward, gas always formed on my stomach. I had heartburn, and was nervous and worn-out all the time. I was in a very general run-down condition. I was constipated, and took strong laxatives most all the time."

"Since taking those few tablets, they have given me more direct relief than all the medicine put together. I have taken in my years of suffering. Orgatone has helped me so much. I feel like shouting it from the house tops. I am a new man entirely. Food does not sour on my stomach anymore. I sleep and rest fine every night. In fact, I am just in fine condition, in spite of all my troubles. Orgatone has certainly my endorsement. Yes, Sir, when nine tablets can make a man feel as good as I do, after so many years suffering, I have merited it. It is indeed, a very meritorious preparation."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and may be obtained in Lubbock, Texas, at the Bowers Drug Store under the personal direction of the special Orgatone representative.

Lubbock Schools

and supervisors began a serious study for the purpose of finding out just what was being done in group study in the New York City schools referred to above. Of course, no plan can be put into a book. Principal Maguire in his little book merely hints at what he is doing in New York and it is up to the teachers and supervisors to take that book as a starting point and to build a group study plan of their own, and this is just what they are doing. They are seeking to adapt the group study idea to the situation in Lubbock and to make it fit conditions here in our schools.

Features Of Plan

The essential features of the plan are as follows: The children of the class are divided into as nearly homogeneous groups as it is possible to arrange them. The number of groups in a class will depend upon the amount of divergence in the abilities of the members of the class. It may be that the pupils in the class will fit well enough into three groups, so that the members of each group will be of sufficiently like abilities to be able to work effectively together. However, it may be necessary to have four, five, or more groups in a class in order to secure the necessary homogeneity in the several groups. The members of the group are supposed to be of about the same abilities and attainments, so that they may be challenged by the same tasks. If children are not of about the same abilities and attainments and if they have not had somewhat similar experiences, they can not be challenged in the same way, because they are not interested in the same things, and the idea is to make the group homogeneous—of about the same abilities, attainments, and experiences—so that what will be a challenge to one member will be a challenge to all, and all the members of the group may be enlisted in the same task. It has been found best, however, not to have more than six or seven members in a group. More than this number are not likely to be of sufficiently like abilities, attainments, and experiences to be able to work at the same rate.

Select Member As Leader

The group usually selects one of its own members as a leader, and it is the task of this leader to take the lead in the solution of the problems at hand. The teacher meets the entire group for ten or fifteen minutes during each class period, checks the work done since the last meeting, and presents the problems for the next day, if the problem of the day before extends over just one class period. However, the class period is usually taken up with a unit of learning or a problem that will occupy the time of the class for a number of class periods, usually about five, but it may take as many as ten or more class periods. In such case, the teacher checks what has been done since the last meeting with the group and then discusses with them the work for the next day. It is at this time that the teacher seeks to renew the challenge of the larger unit of learning and to make it effective for the special part of that unit to form the problem or the task for the next period.

When the teacher feels that he has challenged the group, he passes to another group and the members of the first group begin their work on the special tasks they have for the next day. They meet in a corner of the room and, in a low tone of voice, talk the situation over and assign to each member his part of the larger task in the next assignment. They decide upon the textbooks, reference books, magazines, etc., to be consulted and then each one proceeds to prepare his special part of the task. He reads the sources, he takes notes, he puts them into shape, he makes outlines, and really does some worthwhile study. He does more than memorize what some book says on the subject. He at least tries to do creative thinking and to take the book as a source of departure, to build in a way of his own, what becomes, in his mind, by such a process, real knowledge.

The teacher moves from group to group, suiting the problem to the abilities and interests of each group and seeks to challenge the members of each group and to lead them in the task at hand. He realizes that the pupil is educated only by what he does for himself and he seeks to make the class period a time for pupil work instead of teacher talk. He knows that he can not tell the pupils anything until they are face to face with a real problem and feel the need of the information in its solution.

BOND SET AT $750

Aubrey Connell Is Held On Pro Law Charge

Bond of $750 has been set for Aubrey Connell, who was arrested last Friday by the sheriff's department, which had not been made at a late hour yesterday. Connell is charged with violation of the prohibition laws.

Two women were arrested for vagrancy Saturday night, county jail records reveal, one of them paying a fine and being released from jail, the other still incarcerated. Three white men, arrested for gambling, paid their fines and were released.

WOMEN ARRESTED

Six Are Fined for Gambling In Boston Sunday

BOSTON, Feb. 4. (P)—A husband's complaint that his wife had been losing most of her week's earnings in a Saturday night poker game led to appearance of six women in the west Roxbury court today for gambling on the Lord's day.

The women, 48 to 60 years old, were arrested yesterday in a raid on a home in Dorchester. They were convicted today and fined $5 each.

Aha! All Girls Don't Wear Bathing Suits in Winter!

Just to prove, if nothing else, that all the girls in the world aren't at the beaches all winter in bathing attire, here is a picture from Switzerland where the sports of King Winter are supreme. The girl is Miss Hilda Ruckert, the famous professional skater, shown above in a revolving figure, and to the right giving a high kick, during a recent exhibition.

Stocks and Cash Used By Stewart

CHICAGO, Feb. 4. (P)—Robert W. Stewart said it with stocks and cash today in his fight with John D. Rockefeller, Jr. to retain his position as chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

At the conclusion of a meeting Stewart and the board of directors supporting him against the Rockefeller interests announced a stock dividend of fifty per cent, a regular cash dividend of 62 1-2 a share and an extra cash dividend of fifty cents a share.

TO BE TOASTMASTER

Dean Gordon Asked To Preside At Waco Affair

Dean James M. Gordon, of Texas Technological college, has been asked to act as toastmaster at a fellowship banquet given by the convention of Presbyterian men in Waco, February 28.

The chief speaker of the banquet will be Dr. William C. Covert, of Philadelphia, secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Education of the United States. More than 600 are expected to attend the affair.

In central Europe and the Balkans, however, hunger and cold were an additional danger to rural residents and were reported to have invaded towns and villages. The citizens formed vigilance committees to drive them off.

The British Isles have escaped most of the rigor prevalent on the continent, but the air ministry tonight said that the Siberian winds might yet reach England untempered. The country now is under a dry frost, but with little snow.

Texas House

a delegation of members of women's Christian Temperance Union seated in the gallery joining in enthusiastically.

No sooner than the echoes of the search and seizure bill died away than the house found itself in another tumult over the most important educational bill yet offered.

The measure, providing for establishment of junior colleges in independent school districts having an assessed property valuation of $10,000,000, aroused protest from legislators who contended the amount should be made higher. An amendment by Purl of Dallas and Quinn of Beaumont, raising the tax valuation, to $25,000,000 before a two year college could be established, was passed.

One of the two women legislators in the house, Mrs. Negley of San Antonio, fought the bill, asserting children should be allowed to get away from the provincial atmosphere of the home through attendance at some senior college.

Increased taxation also was cited as an argument against the measure, on which no action was taken.

running until July 13, with the second term beginning July 15 and ending August 23.

"The trip to Carlsbad Caverns will be included in this year's sessions," Dean Gordon said Monday, "which will be in charge of Tech faculty members, and we are looking forward to about 1,200 attendance." He stated that the catalog for Tech's summer session should soon be ready for the printer.

Are You Run Down, Weak, Nervous?

To have plenty of firm flesh and the ability to do a big day's work and feel "like a two-year old" at night, you must eat three good meals a day, relish your food and properly digest it. If you can't eat, can't sleep, can't work, just take a teaspoonful of Tanlac before meals.

Mr. Joseph A. Culver, of 812 S. Main St., Muskogee, Okla., says: "I was a nervous wreck and forced myself to work and eat. I felt like juiting work before the day was up. On taking Tanlac, my appetite picked up so I could eat anything, soon slept well and gained 10 lbs. Tanlac is wonderful for indigestion and constipation—gas, pains, nausea, dizziness and headaches. It brings back lost appetite, helps you digest your food, and gain strength and weight. It contains no mineral drugs; it is made of roots, barks and herbs, nature's own medicines for the sick. The cost is less than 2 cents a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist. Your money back if it doesn't help."
