

AH, THE SWEET MOMENTS OF FAME that come over so often to a sports writer. The Daily News' own Jerry Jackson, had such a moment when cub-scouts of Den 3, Pack 177, came by to see what made a newspaper go. "There's the news right now," they marvelled as they watched the AP machine type out a story with no "visible means of support" from human hands.

Optional Lake Permit To Cover Guests Is Approved

An optional permit which will cover guests of regular permit holders at Lake J. B. Thomas has been approved by the directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Adults who comply with the usual annual permit requirements may, if they desire, pay an additional $10 to cover guests they may have during the year. They will be issued a distinctive sticker to place on their boat to notify patrolmen that those in the boat or being towed on water skis are covered.

The recreation committee said that the guest permit was requested by many people who did not want to face the inconvenience of being stopped by lake patrolmen to check on recreation permits.

If a man and wife wish such a permit, they first pay the district's $5 each annual recreation permit, then the additional $10 for the guest permit. The guest permit is purely optional.

Studies on salination problems on Lake J. B. Thomas dam and above Colorado City are progressing. E. V. Spence, general manager, told the board.

Indicative of the problem is the 225-250 gallons per minute flow of the river at the Big Spring Snyder dam, causing 1100 cfs water, contains 17,000 parts per million, or half the salinity of seawater. At this intensity, it accounts for 14 tons of salt per day, Spence said.

At the present time studies are being pressed in an attempt to identify sources of salt pollution, the manager reported.

The board approved transfer of the leases from C. D. McDonald, et al. covering Lake Thomas Lodge and the airstrip, to W. D. Caldwell. A correction deed to Lyle Debbach of Snyder on a tract on the north side of the lake was approved.

Marvin C. Nichols, Fort Worth member of the district's firm of consulting engineers, explained to the board the basis of figures he had submitted for filing with the U.S. Spring Commission which met in Big Spring Tuesday. He said

All In U. S. Qualified To Wear Green

"Oh, they're killing men and women for the wearing of the green" translated from the bloody Irish revolution of the last century to the now of this century goes something like this, "Oh they're pinching Snyder students for not wearing something green."

With the blood of most nations on earth flowing through the veins of "modern America," every person by ancestry or by desire has just a drop of Irish and a drop is all it takes (imaginary or real) to sport green shamrock, necktie, etc. on St. Patrick's Day.

You know St. Patrick. He was the fellow who originated the snake hunt that has come to such prominence in this day and age. Legend has it that he drove all the snakes from old Erin's shores. And if snakes could swim, most people in this part of the country could tell you where they most likely came to.

deny or admit that he predicted last Monday that Kennedy would win the nomination on the first ballot. The chairman was reported to have made the prediction anonymously to a group of reporters at the National Press Club in Washington.

Butler's news conference followed remarks by Butler to newsmen earlier in the day.

Butler insisted that he had not evaluated at any time for public information any candidate.

NEW YORK (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said he has no intention of resigning—as demanded by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

After that declaration, Butler said he would make "no further comment about Sen. Humphrey's remarks, though it distresses me to have those remarks come from a person I so greatly admire."

Butler also stormed at a news conference Wednesday that he had used his party position to favor Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, one of Humphrey's rivals for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Butler, however, refused to

The reported statement by Butler Monday led Humphrey to demand his resignation. Humphrey said Butler had "outlived his usefulness" and "has helped neither himself nor our great party."

Part national chairman traditionally are supposed to remain neutral in pre-convention contests.

Butler, who was in New York City to make a party speech, told the newsmen:

"I believe the national chairman should remain neutral. I will not tolerate abuse of my office for the advantage or detriment of any candidate."

Butler said there are several Democrats who could beat Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the presidential election, and he said Humphrey is among them.

The national chairman said Kennedy is "a strong candidate."

In Washington, House Speaker Sam Rayburn said the Kennedy prediction attributed to Butler was "very distressing" and "most unfortunate."

Rayburn, who is backing Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, a fellow Texan, for the presidential nomination, added at a news conference: "I think it is most unfortunate that Mr. Butler as chairman of the Democratic National Committee should make such a partisan statement."

Chuck Roast Is Featured By Grocers

Chuck roast, long a bargain favorite among food shoppers, is featured by many supermarkets and neighborhood groceries this weekend.

This offsets the effects of recent heavy snow storms which caused delays in the shipping of live animals and processed meats, thereby creating lower supplies and higher prices.

Other favorites this week include fryers (down 2 to 6 cents a pound), halibut and—because of St. Patrick's holiday—corned beef. Cabbage prices are marked up a bit because of the added holiday demand, although plentiful supplies keep the vegetable on the best buy list.

Eggs advanced again—by 3 to 14 cents a dozen—and now are about even with last year's prices in the New York metropolitan area.

Frederick lettuce prices were reported at bargain levels this week, joining carrots, endive, escarole, celery, mushrooms, yellow onions, potatoes, radishes, rhubarb, spinach and sweet potatoes on the best buy list among vegetables.

Beets, broccoli, cauliflower, parsley and peppers rate as good buys, while you'll have to pay more for artichokes, asparagus, snap beans, cucumbers, eggplant, peas, green squash and tomatoes.

Fruit counters list avocados, grapefruit, oranges, Cuban pineapples, bananas and somewhat timeworn fall apples as their outstanding buys. In the good buy class are lemons, limes, coconuts and western pears.

Forgotten Border Gets Close Look

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada is taking its first close look at its forgotten border—the 1,500-mile shore between Alaska and Greenland, facing the Soviet Union across Arctic Ocean ice.

Some 35 to 60 scientists will work there during the next six months, probing under the ice in the area.

The project, while chiefly scientific, also has the effect of actively asserting Canada's claim to a maze of islands along the fringes of the coastline.

There has been some anxiety in recent years over the security of Canada's claim, particularly with reports of extensive Soviet exploration there.

"This had some effect" in the decision to undertake the current exploration. But it was not the whole reason, says Dr. E. F. Roots, co-ordinator of the project. The initial project group is converging at Isachsen on Ellesmere Island, about 2,000 miles north of the Montana-Canada border.

Camp was set up and preliminary studies made last summer by a group of 19 led by Dr. Roots. This summer detailed studies will be made in an area 200 miles wide and extending some 400 miles out on the ocean ice. Other areas will be covered in future years.

Experience Saves In Rocket Costs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The company that builds rocket engines for Thor and Atlas missiles says experience is paying off in dollars saved.

North American Aviation's Rocketdyne Div. said Wednesday Thor and Atlas engines cost the nation 45 million dollars last year, but the same quantity would have cost 72 million in 1957.

Responsibility Of Citizenship Cited

The citizen cannot expect to eat the fruits of free government without laboring in the vineyards where those fruits grow. W. Vernon Walsh, President of the Texas Real Estate Association, told the members of the Snyder Real Estate Board Wednesday at noon at the Village.

Urging citizenship responsibility to match the privileges and honors which this country freely grants, Walsh asserted that individual interest and action is necessary.

"I think it is most unfortunate that Mr. Butler as chairman of the Democratic National Committee should make such a partisan statement."

Walsh said there are several Democrats who could beat Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the presidential election, and he said Humphrey is among them.

The national chairman said Kennedy is "a strong candidate."

In Washington, House Speaker Sam Rayburn said the Kennedy prediction attributed to Butler was "very distressing" and "most unfortunate."

literacy, political citizenship and devotion to democracy. He respects human values."

Walsh urged participation in community affairs for good citizenship, saying that no community should rest contented with being superior to other communities while it is inferior to its own capabilities.

"We cannot afford to be one of those who say 'I will not stick my neck out. If our forefathers had not had the courage to take a chance, to risk their all, there never would have been a U. S. A. and we are not permitted to fail.'"

"We" spent four years fighting a war, but not 30 minutes in a Boy Scout meeting with our sons," he asserted. Walsh said citizenship is not only the big things of being informed about issue and voting accordingly, but also the little things such as "the care with which we drive an automobile or how well we keep up our residential property."

"Nor is it enough to be merely informed. A good citizen is one who acts as well as knows. He gets facts, makes them known, arouses interest in them, and by coming to informed decisions he proves his ability to solve both local and national problems."

"The good citizen takes civic responsibility; exercises critical judgment, tolerance, conservation, law observance, economic

Polaris On Land Being Considered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Military leaders are studying the possibility of equipping land bases in Europe with Polaris missiles, says Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr.

The solid-fuel Polaris is designed for firing from submarines and "will have a range of about 1,200 miles."

Gates was questioned about the Polaris Wednesday when he testified at a combined public hearing by the Joint Senate Space Committee and the Senate Defense Preparedness Subcommittee.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) told a newsmen he believed the Polaris could be used from the bases now being readied in Great Britain and other countries for the Thor and Jupiter, American liquid-fuel missiles.

Gates again said more tests will have to be made on nuclear-powered Polaris submarines before a decision is made on whether to ask for funds to build more of them.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), chairman of both Senate groups, said that in the past Congress had voted additional funds for defense only to have the money frozen by the executive branch or used for other purposes.

Johnson asked Gates if he would use the extra funds should they be voted by Congress.

"That is always a question for the President to decide," Gates said.

He added he believed the President would agree to any recommendation he and the joint chiefs of staff made.

Gates again told the senators that military leaders believe the nation's defensive strength is adequate. He rejected suggestions that the United States "match the Soviet Union missile for missile or maintain an airborne alert."

He said it would be suicidal for the Soviet Union to attack the United States, adding "I do not believe the Soviet Union is interested in committing suicide."

Texas Wells Back On 9-Day Pattern

AUSTIN (AP)—April's oil production will be more than nine million barrels below this month with a corresponding tax loss to the state of about $1,200,000. Texas wells will go back to a nine-day schedule next month with the daily allowable set at 2,814,232 barrels. This represents a cut of 123,029 barrels from March.

Fete Today For Worker

DALLAS (AP)—A 41-year-old Latin American worker, ex-school teacher and former governor employee, will be feted at a luncheon here today and given a $1,000 check.

About 150 persons, including a delegation from Dell City in West Texas, will honor Manuel Corral, 42, for saving the life of a child near Dell City last Dec. 24.

The child fell in a well and Corral was lowered head-first into the 16-inch casing to pull the tot to the surface.

Rescue witnesses said Corral wedged four times while being lowered about 75 feet with an improvised cable made of bits of rope and wire tied around his ankles.

J. C. Cantrell, executive secretary of the Baptist Foundation of Texas, for whom the child's father works, will present Corral with a check for $1,000.

Man, 81, Granted Divorce On Desertion

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A 91-year-old man has been granted a divorce from his 82-year-old wife on ground of desertion.

Reuben Henson Boone said Wednesday he married Mrs. Boone in 1927 and they separated in 1943. The divorce was of consent.

The Texas Railroad Commission's proration order Wednesday will result in an estimated production of 50,513,890 barrels, some 9,121,390 barrels below March. The state collects a tax of about 13 cents a barrel.

In hopes of wiping out pipeline proration instituted in Texas and 10 other states by Indiana Purchasing Co. and Standard Oil of Indiana, independent producers lined up for a drastic cut of more than 300,000 barrels.

This would have resulted from an 8-day pattern, the recommendation by a major of the oil buying companies.

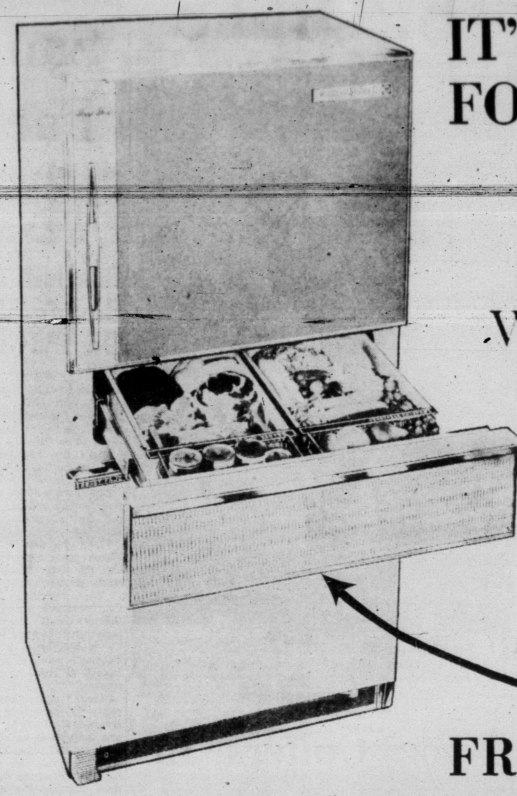

Excessive stocks of nearly 60 million barrels was cited as another reason for a drop. But the commission, feeling that a reduction in Texas probably would not result in a cut by other states, compromised with the smallest daily drop that could be fixed under the state's system of production day patterns.

Chief executives of the nation's 22 largest oil companies answered 55 questions detailing inventories of their company, their estimates of the desired level nationwide of crude and products, and their forecast of domestic demand. All agreed the demand for petroleum would go up this year. The composite average indicated a 3.4 per cent boost.

The desired level of crude stocks for April 1 should be about 249,200,000 barrels compared to actual stocks as of March 4 of 252,700,000 barrels. The estimate a year ago of the desired level was 242,400,000 barrels.

Some evidence was offered that unusually cold March weather will reduce the heating oil surplus.

Movies Are Offered Extra Background On Lily Langtry

By INEZ ROBB

Just before everything went black in Hollywood and the Kleegs went off, one of the major movie companies announced that it was preparing to film the high life and times of Lily Langtry.

If researchers for the script are interested, perhaps I can add one small scene. My mother, father and Uncle Frank all had distinct, if differing, memories of the famous Jersey Lily, whose fervent admirers included the late King Edward VII.

Before the turn of the century, when my mother was a young girl and Papa and Uncle Frank were handsome bachelors, the Jersey Lily and a current admirer, Freddy Gebhardt, bought a cattle ranch next to that owned by my mother's father.

Both spreads were in Lake County, Calif., about 80 miles north of San Francisco, in country distinguished for its beauty. Now, my Grandfather Ashtu, as far as I can see, ran the first dude ranch in the United States—only for free.

Mama remembered that the big farmhouse, rocked with guests, especially after my uncles married, was at the University of California and started bringing stage-coach loads of friends home during vacations. (That was before the day of automobiles, but young gentlemen, with an indulgent father as was my grandfather, kept riding horses at the university.)

Such was Grandfather's extensive hospitality that three basic features of the Sunday menu were always a big roast turkey, a ham and a rib roast of beef, Mama recalled. And neighbors were welcome. All that is, save Miss Langtry and Mr. Gebhardt.

As far as the ladies of the community were concerned, they were beyond the pale. No feminine member of the neighborhood ever called upon, received or spoke to either.

The type of flagrant fracturing of decorum that today only consolidates an actress's acceptance and popularity with the public was not tolerated or condoned by ladies in those far-off days.

But if the ladies ignored Lily, not the men of the community. Uncle Frank remembers that when she drove her high-stepping matched pair into Middletown, a tiny village and the community's shopping center, the women on the main street simply disappeared, leaving the field to Lily and the men.

Uncle Frank says that it was just as well that the women were home and left more room on the wooden sidewalks for their husbands, brothers and sons. The latter stood about in admiring silence (the wolf whistle had not yet shattered civility) and tipped their hats as she passed by. Papa was always more discreet; the only admission into which he could be trapped was that he had seen her.

But Uncle Frank says she was a sight for sore eyes, and no mistake. But, naturally no lady could receive her. Mama added that the Lily, whose beauty was so overwhelming no one expected her to be an actress on stage as well, never lacked for company. Coaching parties were always driving up "from the city" (San Francisco) and her house was as crowded with guests as Grandpa's.

Her guests, Mama used to say with Victorian delicacy, were "fast people and they kept to themselves." (Mama thought Edward VII was "fast," too, and no credit to his poor mother.)

Perhaps this excursion into mores and morals in California in the 'Nineties is too small-time for the movies. But with costumes and background provided by Cecil Beaton, it could be a delicious five or six-minute sequence—especially the scene of Lily raising the dust on Main Street, as the ladies

March Is Happy Time For Nixon

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The middle of March—the lull of March, the oldtimers used to call it—is a happy, lucky time for Vice President Richard M. Nixon. Or maybe it's just a coincidence.

But at least it's the middle of March—in a campaign year—when President Eisenhower suddenly warms up publicly to the vice president.

In the early weeks of the 1956 presidential campaign year Eisenhower was quizzed repeatedly by as to how he felt about having Nixon running again for the vice president on the Republican ticket with him.

For some reason Eisenhower always avoided a direct answer until March 14. Then at a news conference he got enthusiastic and said he'd be "happy" to have Nixon as his running mate again.

The years pass. It's now four years later, 1960, and again it's a presidential campaign year. Eisenhower himself can't run again. But at this moment there's no one in sight to challenge Nixon for the Republican presidential nomination.

Still, up to now, Eisenhower had avoided saying anything directly that looked like his full blessing for Nixon. Then Wednesday,

"WE THANK YOU"—Snyder Police Chief T. L. Steele is shown as he expressed appreciation on behalf of the Police Department to J. Mark McLaughlin for a gift membership in the Southwestern Law Enforcement Institute at SMU in Dallas. McLaughlin presented the certificate on behalf of the Diamond M Foundation.

Gift To Provide Police Training

Continuing and extensive training of Snyder law enforcement personnel at the Southwestern Law Enforcement Institute in Dallas has been made possible through a gift from the Diamond M Foundation.

Membership in the Institute, sponsored by the Diamond M Foundation, entitles the City of Snyder to send as many law enforcement representatives to each program offered at the police school as they desire without payment of registration charge.

The Southwestern Law Enforcement Institute annually offers a variety of three and four day programs on such topics as Narcotics and Burglary, Police Administration, Traffic, scientific crime investigation, juvenile delinquency, and other areas of law enforcement.

In an effort to afford more extensive training to police personnel from throughout the southwest, the Institute recently determined to initiate memberships available to cities. The Diamond M Foundation was among the first to sponsor a membership.

The Institute, an adjunct of the Southwestern Legal Foundation, is conducted at the Southwestern Legal Center on the campus of Southern Methodist University.

Tough Regulations On Air Pollution

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Tough air pollution regulations, which even clamp down on cookouts, have been approved by the Allegheny County Board of Health. The regulations tighten the lid on such air pollution sources as steel mill chimneys, but also reaches individuals.

Under the proposals, motorists wouldn't be allowed to idle their cars more than three minutes—in or out of traffic. And it would take a written directive by the director of air pollution control to permit such open fires as backyard grills.

Enactment of legislation is up to the county commissioners.

Sad Day For Irish Students At Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — There are some very sad Irishmen at the University of Detroit today—St. Patrick's Day.

The Irish of the St. Francis Club will dine on ochenzschwan-suppe, schnecken, kasselerpfeffer and kartoffelpuffa, which is German for ox tail soup, snails, rabbit and potato pancakes.

The reason is the Irish lost their annual tug-of-war to fellow St. Francis members at German descent. The winner gets to select the St. Patrick's Day menu.

Contract Let For Plant Alteration

BROWNSVILLE (AP) — Union Carbide Co. said Wednesday it had awarded Brown & Root Construction Co. of Houston a contract for alteration of its Port Brownsville plant.

The contract calls for an expenditure of 2½ million dollars, UCC officials said.

The announcement said work would start immediately with about 500 workers employed in the construction, expected to be completed early in 1961.

Reports Clouding Business Outlook

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Official reports tended today to cloud rather than clarify the business outlook.

The upward thrust of business activity just about stalled in February, after lifting production and income to record heights since the last strike.

The output of homes, autos and utilities sagged 1 per cent last month from the January peak, the government says, while the incomes of Americans were virtually unchanged.

Government economists vainly searched for some clear evidence whether this was just a pause in the steady advance President Eisenhower predicted would continue beyond 1960 or whether the

Carr Works In Amarillo

AMARILLO (AP)—House Speaker Wagoner Carr, campaigning for attorney general, hit today at what he called "the headline-hunting expeditions of the attorney general."

He said Atty. Gen. Will Wilson's activities "have gotten his name in the paper but have not gotten the crime elements in prison where they ought to be."

Carr spoke to supporters here today. His remarks were distributed in a prepared statement from his campaign headquarters in Austin.

"The statistics of the rising crime rate in Texas now dramatically confirm how important it is to keep the attorney general's office as a law office, not a campaign office," Carr said.

"Only twice in modern times has any attorney general gone directly from that office into the governorship, as the present incumbent in that office had been hoping to do this year," the speaker said.

Loan Sharks Foes, Says Will Wilson

DALLAS (AP) — Will Wilson, seeking reelection as attorney general, said Wednesday that loan sharks are raising a fund to try and defeat him.

"After six weeks of active campaigning it has become clear that a huge fund is being collected by the high-rater loan sharks, to be used against my candidacy."

"This was to be expected because of our two-year fight to halt unscrupulous exploitation of the working man and his family," Wilson said.

He said "its effect will become increasingly apparent during the remaining eight weeks of the attorney general's race."

boom is weakening.

So many Wall Streeters were pessimistic that stock prices plunged in the selling waves of recent weeks.

Government economists tend to stick to Eisenhower's optimistic view. February's weather usually distorts the statistics, they say. One official predicted private manufacturing would be helped by the pre-Easter buying and faster automobile sales as the weather improves will brighten the outlook. He added:

"You can't tell a thing until the March figures are in hand, a month from now."

The Federal Reserve Board took an optimistic view. Its production report was coupled with

"Most measures of business activity remained at advanced levels in February and unemployment declined."

"Housing starts increased further but a recent survey of business plans indicated a continuing rise in expenditures for plant and equipment through the year, to a total 14 per cent more than in 1959."

Wednesday's income and production reports came as something of a surprise in view of Tuesday's announcement that unemployment rose in February to a record for the month, while joblessness dipped to the lowest rate since 1957.

Federal Reserve said industrial production, as measured by its newly revised index, dipped to 110 per cent of the 1957 average. The February drop was blamed mainly on automobile plant cut-backs and reduced output of consumer goods.

But steel production also slipped. It went to 94 per cent of capacity as deliveries filled

Skins Shipment Halted In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Cattle Health Department of the Agriculture Secretary has ordered its veterinarians at the Gulf port of Veracruz to halt the reshipping of a skins cargo.

It said the cargo, which consisted of 372 bales of skins, was imported by a Mexico City tannery from West Germany, where cases of hoof and mouth disease reportedly have occurred.

up the stocks of users more rapidly than had been expected. Federal Reserve said steel output has been reduced "to a scheduled rate of 91 per cent in mid-March."

The Commerce Department's report on personal income showed a rise of 200 million dollars to a record rate of 203 million a year. This was the smallest gain since August, the low point of the steel strike.

"For the first two months of 1960 the income flow was up 6 per cent (from a year ago)," the department said, "representing an almost similar gain in, purchasing power as prices were only about 1 per cent higher."

Most of the gain in wage and salary income resulted from higher weekly earnings, the department said. Employment also rose seasonally, but the length of the average factory work-week de-
