Buyers from Wide Area Attend Second Annual Aberdeen-Angus Sale; Receipts are $144,844

Buyers from a wide area jammed the Perryton sales pavilion Monday for the second annual Aberdeen-Angus sale and when the sales were totaled at the end of the day, a record $144,844 had changed hands. The 38 registered Angus cattle sold for $21,455 and the 682 head of commercial Angus sold for $123,389.

The average for the Angus bulls was $560 and the females averaged $573. Top price for a bull was $1,125 paid by Alvin Bell of Pampa to Roger Pearson of Perryton for a senior bull calf. Top price for females went to Cecil Regier, whose grand champion was bought by Panhandle A. & M. College for $1,000.

In the carlot division of the show, L. D. Stinson of Perryton had both grand champion steers and heifers. Reserve champion steer entry was by Daniel Newman of Perryton while the second top lot of females was entered by Byron Miller of Forgan.

United Methodist Drive Showing Marked Success

During the first three days of the United Texas Methodist Evangelistic Mission there were 2,211 persons received into the church in the Northwest Texas Conference, reports Rev. Lloyd H. Jones, pastor of the local Methodist church.

Of this number, 794 were received on profession of faith and 417 persons were received by transfer of letter, Rev. Jones said.

There will be three more days of campaigning in the United Evangelistic Mission at the local church. Rev. L. C. Beasley, Methodist pastor at Mason, Texas, is guest minister, preaching on Sunday and each evening during the week, beginning at 7:30 p. m.

The local Methodists will convene in a great mass meeting on Sunday afternoon, November 4 at the Frank Phillips College auditorium in Borger in the concluding service of the campaign.

October Postal Receipts High

For no apparent reason, the receipts at the Perryton post office reached a new high during the month of October, after having been below 1950 for the other nine months of the year.

Postmaster Irvin Hergert reported that the local office had $3,500 in receipts during the month which is a new record for any month, other than December. The previous high was $3,400 in April, 1949.

Money order business was $20,000, compared to $15,000 last year, Hergert reported. He had no explanation for the boom in business during the month.

Dollar Day Is Set Tuesday, November 6

Next Tuesday, November 6, is Dollar Day in Perryton, with many bargains for the shoppers. Included in the selections specially priced for the monthly bargain event are many items of fall and winter merchandise which may be purchased at substantial savings.

Cold Weather Slows Halloween Spooks

The Halloween spooks were out as usual Wednesday night, leaving a litter of trash barrels, tires, junk lumber and the usual collection of trash on local streets, but the destruction wasn't as heavy as it has been in former years. The freezing, damp weather was probably the reason for the decrease in activity. There were the usual crowds of "trick or treat" youngsters and all of the Main street store windows were soaped, but the Halloween activity was generally mild.

Married Men Slated In Next Draft Call

Married men without children will be affected principally when the local Selective Service board fills the November call for physical examination, reports Mrs. Norma G. Phelps, clerk of the local board, which serves Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Hansford and Hemphill counties.

There are now 39 married men without children who have been reclassified into 1-A and there will be 10 of this group to report for physical examination on November 27, Mrs. Phelps said. These men have not been selected, but will be chosen in order of ages, with the ten oldest men being called, Mrs. Phelps said.

There will be two men inducted on December 11, Mrs. Phelps stated, but these will be from the pool of men already examined. The married men will be inducted in the January and February calls, she said.

The state Selective Service board has ordered married men without children examined as soon as possible. General Paul L. Wakefield, state director, said that in most cases, married men without children will be inducted ahead of single men who have

Rain, Snow Bring Welcome Moisture to Wheat Fields

Total of .85 Inch Received During Week

The first snow of the winter visited the Perryton area Wednesday, slightly ahead of schedule. The snow started falling about 2:30 p. m. Wednesday and continued until night. Snow started again Thursday morning and was still coming down as the Herald went to press. The moisture content had not been measured Thursday morning.

The temperature dropped down to the freezing point early Wednesday morning and stayed there all day.

However, earlier rains this week have brightened the wheat crop picture, with a total of .85 inch falling since Saturday. On Saturday, a total of .49 inches of rain was received, followed by another .27 inch Sunday night. On Tuesday night, .09 inch fell, bringing the total to .85 inch.

This moisture was welcomed by farmers who have had their wheat "dusted in" for several weeks and this moisture, which was general, is considered enough to bring up the wheat and get it started. The rains and snow will delay the grain sorghum harvest, which is estimated 90 per cent completed.

Local Breeders Send Bulls for PanTech Tests

Seven Ochiltree county stockmen are participating in the Pan Tech farms progeny experiments and will send bulls to PanTech this week. J. P. Smith, PanTech manager, and county agent Hood Wills have been working with the stockmen in selecting the bulls.

The tests were started last year, and there were a number of local stockmen who participated.

These progeny tests are designed to evaluate the ability to gain weight quickly. The bulls are in lots of four, and all are fed the same ration. In April the results will be compiled.

Each lot of bulls in the experiment has the same sire.

Those from Ochiltree county sending bulls to PanTech are C. J. Frantz and Son, eight bulls, R. H. Holland, C. A. Hoover, Lawrence Ellzey, Max Pearson,

Stunting Swimmer

ST. LOUIS (AP)—If you're looking for an unusual tow boat service with a kick in it, you could do worse than look up 49-year-old swimmer, George Hooper.

He'll tow you and several friends across the Mississippi River in a rowboat. You can float beer barrels attached to the back of the boat for your convenience. George kicks his way across the river with his hands behind his back —and handcuffed.

A good swimmer since he was 7, George began this sort of stunting more than 10 years ago. He also holds the record mark of 7 minutes for a free-style swim across the Mississippi at St. Louis. He has dropped into the water from a height of 100 feet with handcuffs and clothes on, and managed to surface without either.

Last July he put on his towing stunt for the defense bond drive. The Treasury Department said it was "the most unusual publicity stunt" for bonds yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Dodd will leave November 4 to attend a Southwestern Life Insurance Co. Convention in New Orleans, La. The convention will be held in the Roosevelt Hotel, November 7-10.

Encourage Your Tyke To Draw

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
(AP) Newsfeatures Writer

Junior has been busy an hour with crayons and paper. Now he proudly shows you his "picture." What do you do?

Do you scream "whats that?"

If you do, you are wrong, advises Kelly Fearing, University of Texas assistant professor of art. He suggests you let the child tell you about his picture.

It may look like a snakepit to you, but Junior says it's "Daddy, coming home from work."

'A child works in symbols," Fearing explains. "Scribbles on a page are meaningful to him. When you see what he sees, you know what he is thinking about."

Let Junior do it

Don't judge a child's art by adult standards, he says. And, above all, don't try to show him how to draw. Your work probably is no better than his, Fearing wagers, and may be worse: it suffers from your inhibitions and preconceived notions of what the picture OUGHT to look like.

There's been too much "copy work" in art, Fearing says, such things as having children fill in colors in pictures drawn by others. This ties the youngster down to adult standards, he points out, and keeps him from learning to develop his own.

"We punish a child if he copies spelling or arithmetic," Fearing notes. "But if he copies someone else's picture, nothing is thought of it."

All children have an intuitive sense of design, says Fearing. It is lost when they begin to be realistic. Don't criticize your childs work because it isn't realistic.

When a child begins to see that his pictures don't look just right he will ask for help. Even before that, you will be able to note his developing sense of observation in his spontaneous and free drawing, says the art teacher.

Meanwhile, the youngster's originality has been stimulated and he has gained muscular coordination. In this way, Fearing explains, art helps children to grow.

The third annual fall trials of the Panhandle Bird Dog Association will be held on November 10-11 at the game preserve near Canadian, it has been announced. Site of the trials is the old Studer ranch or Anvil Park.

There will be three events—the puppy race for dogs up to 12 months old; derby for dogs up to two years; and the shooting dog event for dogs of any age.

The event is open to the public. Spectators will need either a jeep or a horse to folow the dogs, Jines said.

Immigration Control Scoffed

SINGAPORE (AP)—A British sea captain sent a letter to the Straits "Times" here saying immigration control was so lax that he could "land the whole staff of the Kremlin and Uncle Joe's mother-in-law in Singapore without the least difficulty.

He said so-called control of ships in Singapore harbour was an "absolute farce." The captain, who did not sign his name, added it was "ridiculously easy" to slip into Singapore. He said he had seen an immigration officer aboard his ship only twice in a year. A special committee now has been set up to find ways to check illegal entry.

Aussie Fleet Modernized

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Australia plans to modify her two aircraft carriers so that jet planes and new anti-submarine planes can operate from them.

Plans were discussed at a news conference by Rear-Adm. J. W. M. Eaton, new flag officer commanding the Australian Fleet.

Rear-Adm. Eaton said the flattops would be modified to follow the modern trend of naval warfare—to make the carrier the hard core of the fleet.

Charley Hobbs, owner of Hobbs Motor Co., was in Denver Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Only 50 Percent of Texas Cars Expected to Pass Exams

AUSTIN (AP)—Your car is given only a little better than a 50-50 chance of passing that new required state inspection.

George Busby, chief of the inspection division of the Texas Department of Public Safety, has ordered half as many rejection slips as certificates.

He says he hopes 50 percent rejections will be too high a guess, but he expects rejections will run at least 40 per cent—maybe more.

One state that recently passed a similar law found its rejections running 44 to 45 percent, he said.

Busby says many defects turned up will be minor, but minor defects will have to be corrected just as major ones before the certificate will be issued.

The new inspection costs the car owner $1. It covers brakes, lights, horn, windshield wipers, and steering gear. You'll have to have a certificate saying your car passed the inspection before the tax collector will issue your 1952 license plates.

When a defect shows up on inspection, the owner has seven days to get it fixed and bring his car back for a recheck without cost. If he waits longer than that he'll have to fork over another dollar for an entire new inspection.

Holland Buys C-K Herefords

R. H. Holland recently purchased 28 registered Hereford cows and calves from the world famous C-K Ranch at Brookfield, Kansas.

Holland said that he purchased the purebred cattle to improve bloodlines in his registered herd. The C-K Ranch has shown the grand champion bull at the Texas State Fair and the American Royal at Kansas City. Last year they had the best carload of Herefords at the Denver stock show.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cox and children, Mrs. O. O. Cox and Mrs. Gene Brillhart left Tuesday for Pierre, S. Dakota on business.

Balko Operetta Friday Night

The Balko high school operetta, "Beauty Contest," will be presented Friday night, November 2, at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium, it has been announced.

Mrs. Alice Gene Meacham is director of the production.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Mistaken Identity

LOGANSPORT, Ind. (AP)—Robert Graves, of Camden, Ind., returned to his parked car in front of a music store and found a clarinet and a saxophone in the back seat. When he took his strange gifts to police, they found Richard Henry, Grand Rapids, Mich., had mistaken Graves' car for his own identical model.

Bonus Blanks at Office of Davis

Tom Davis, county service officer, has announced that he has a supply of application blanks for the payment of the Oregon state bonus. Oregon recently passed a law providing for a payment of $600 to survivors of World War II veterans who lived in Oregon for a year prior to entering service.

Davis said that some misunderstanding has arisen as to the new law providing for $60 a month to attendants of permanent and totally disabled veterans. The disabled veteran now draws $60 per month pension, but if he needs an attendant to bathe, feed, carry or otherwise look after him, the new laws provides for the additional $60.

G. I. Accidents In Germany Raise General's Ire

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Violent deaths at the rate of one every 48 hours, plus many serious injuries hit the ranks of American troops in Germany.

In one day alone, 11 soldiers were killed in accidents, but the Army has gone into protective action. A two-star general, made sizzling mad by so many traffic accidents in his division, "grounded" all of his vehicles for four hours—while drivers attended refresher classes.

Highway mishaps take the biggest toll. In a six-month period, 52 soldiers lost their lives in car wrecks. Many of them died on the autobahns—Germany's super-highways. Others died in train collisions, plane crashes, explosions, poisonings and arms.

News From ANTHONY

By Mrs. Carl Carter

The community had a large representation at the Beaver Amateur Program last Monday evening. This was the money making event of the year and they took in $269.50, which will be used for the purpose of helping with the planting of trees and shrubs on the school ground, where every one who lives in our district, as well as visitors can enjoy the scene. We were all really happy over this nice turn out and everyone attending enjoyed it to the fullest.

The Beaver home coming game was another wet one last Friday evening but the weather failed to dampen the spirits of the fans, or the ability of the Beaver Dusters as they won over Hooker by a 31 to 13 margin. The Freshman candidate for football queen, queen, Miss Myrna Gregg, was crowned during the half time while the Beaver band had their ceremony. The next game will be at Satanta, Kans., next Saturday.

High Cost of Food No Excuse For Not Feeding

AUSTIN, Texas—Although the high cost of food has made feeding the family a more expensive undertaking than ever before, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, is opposed to any lowering of nutritional standards. It is still possible for the careful housewife to provide an adequate balanced diet for her family.

"To maintain mental alertness and physical fitness certain foods should be regarded as essential," says Dr. Cox. "Each day's diet should include milk, a citrus fruit or canned tomatoes, a green or yellow vegetable, other fruit and vegetables, whole wheat or enriched bread or cereal, butter and meat, fish or poultry. Eggs should be eaten at least five times a week, liver once a week and dried beans and peanut butter occasionally.

"Milk remains a good buy, although its price has risen considerably, as it is an excellent source of calcium, phosphorus, protein and certain vitamins. The equivalent of one pint of milk for adults and one quart for children should be included in each day's diet.

"Although meats have become more expensive than other foods they are still essential as sources of protein. It should be remembered that less expensive cuts of meat provide the same food values as the luxury items. Prices of pork, chicken and fish have risen less in recent years that other meats.

"Canned and frozen fruits and vegetables have not increased in price as much as fresh ones and they retain most of the original food values. In buying fresh fruit and vegetables it is more economical to limit purchases to those that are in season and therefore more plentiful."

Just Like Italy

SPRINGHILL, N. S. (AP)—John Bombaci thinks anything can be grown in Nova Scotia that can be grown in his native sunny Italy. He grows tobacco, peanuts, ground peaches, almonds, grapes, watermelon, lettuce, broccoli, egg plants and snake cucumbers. He also has a spattering of castor oil plants.

Child Sale Legal

VIENNA (AP)—An Austrian mother may sell her child without risking prosecution by the authorities.

This loop-hole in the country's laws was revealed recently, when a mother in Vienna attempted to sell her 11-year-old son to a childless couple for $192.

The deal was frustrated when the youngster got wind of the transaction and reported it to an older friend who in turn told police.

The mother was summoned to police headquarters, but the officers searched in vain for a pertinent clause in the Austrian penal code. The woman was set free while the child was entrusted to reliable foster parents.

Hoard Dollars

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — The American consumer is advised to take up the hoarding of dollars instead of consumer goods to combat inflation in the coming year.

This was the recommendation of Walter J. L. Ray, president of the United States Savings and Loan League, in a speech before the Pennsylvania Savings and Loan League.

"Whether we will have more or less inflation in the next year is squarely up to 150 million American consumers," he said. Price inflation since Korea has been caused chiefly by panicky consumer buying "spurred on by the cries of shortages and higher prices."

LOVE NEST—William Lundigan and June Haver have a hard time making a marriage go in a decrepit old house tenanted with a collection of characters in "Love Nest," which comes to the Ellis on Tuesday-Thursday.

Returning GI Joe Has a Peck Of Troubles In 'Love Nest'

"Love Nest," which comes to the Ellis on Tuesday-Thursday, is not the sticky little romance the title would lead one to believe. Instead, it is a riotous comedy about a returning GI Joe, a reluctant landlord with an ambitious wife, starring June Haver, William Lundigan, Frank Fay, Marilyn Monroe and Jack Paar.

Miss Haver purchases a ramshackle rooming house, tenanted by an odd assortment of characters, so her husband, William Lundigan, will have a place to come home to after military service. Lundigan, trying to write a novel, is constantly interrupted by unsuccessful attempts to collect the rent, unreasonable demands by the tenants, and efforts to repair the decrepit old house.

Next June is infuriated when Lundigan's "old war buddy" shows up and proves to be a shapely ex-WAC, Marilyn Monroe. An eccentric roomer, Frank Fay, lends Lundigan the money to make some necessary repairs, but Fay is subsequently arrested as a swindler, and Lundigan is booked along with him.

However, all ends well when Fay sells the rights to his life story and hires Lundigan to do the ghost-writing job.

David Niven and Vera-Ellen Star In New Musical

Romance and music are accented by a touch of madness in "Happy Go Lovely," which comes to the Ellis on Sunday and Monday. The picture, starring David Niven, Vera-Ellen and Cesar Romero, combines a zany plot, a series of melodic production numbers, a modern ballet and a love story.

It all starts when an American theatrical troupe falls upon dreary days while preparing to open an engagement in Scotland. Creditors are closing in on the troupe and the situation is relieved when one of the troupe members gets acquainted with a Scotch millionaire.

The troupe member, Vera-Ellen, gets top billing in the show, and the Scotch millionaire, David Niven, opens up his pocketbook to finance the show, a quick departure from the traditional Scotsman.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Malone and Jane left Tuesday afternoon for Dallas where they will attend the Spring market. While in Dallas they will visit their daughter, Harolyn a sophomore at SMU and will also attend the SMU and Texas football game Saturday.

A NEW GRANULAR PAY-U MINERAL DEVELOPED EXCLUSIVELY FOR RANGE USE

Waste from washing and blowing practically eliminated when you feed this New Granular Pay-U Mineral—for range animals

SCORES of stockmen who really know their business—both in sheep country and on cattle ranches—are discovering the new way of feeding the proper minerals. It's the improved granular form now put out by Pay-U Laboratories. Feeding this way has everywhere proven more satisfactory, and a good sight easier to handle.

Wind and water have little effect on this new granular form—it actually "stays put" right where you want it, and right where your animals can easily get it. Livestock consume this new granular form better, because it's more palatable than powder. And of course that means better results.

Try it. See for yourself how clean and easy it is to handle—economical and palatable in the feeding. Your Pay-U Dealer has it. Get some today.

Many Zany Characters Riot In 'Alice In Wonderland'

One warm summer afternoon in England nearly 100 years ago, a little girl named Alice Pleasance Liddell asked Lewis Carroll to tell her a story "with some nonsense in it." The result of course, was "Alice In Wonderland," famous story which comes to the Ellis screen on Friday and Saturday as a spectacular all-cartoon musical feature drawn by Walt Disney.

Without attempting to deliver any kind of "message," Lewis Carroll interjected a lot of human nature and homely philosophy into the zany humor of "Alice in Wonderland."

When Alice drops in on the Tea Party uninvited she gets a chilly reception from the Mad Hatter and the March Hare until she compliments them on their singing. Then Alice learns the wisdom of a little judicious flattery for, in appreciation of the compliment, they make her very welcome.

Then there's the matter of how people take advice. Tweedledee and Tweedledum, in warning Alice not to be curious, tell her the story of the little oysters and how their curiosity brings them to an untimely end at the hands of the Walrus and the Carpenter. At the conclusion of the story, Alice agrees with Tweedledum that it points a good moral—"if you happen to be an oyster."

Carroll has fun with the bungling efforts of helpful friends when Alice enters the White Rabbit's house and her size suddenly increase so she can't get out. Much to the White Rabbit's dismay, the Dodo insists on setting fire to the house to extricate "the Monster," as they call Alice.

And there's the intriguing Caterpillar, whose destiny is to be caterpillar, chrysalis and butterfly. Entirely prepared by Nature for these changes, he can't understand why Alice complains because she has undergone so many changes since entering Wonderland. And he gets very angry when she complains that she is only three inches tall, which she says is "a wretched height."

"I am exactly three inches high," he says testily, drawing himself up to his full height, "and it is a very good height indeed." Indicating, of course, that a person's viewpoint on life depends on his position in life.

"Alice in Wonderland" is highlighted by numerous hit tunes, including "All in the Golden Afternoon," "Very Good Advice," "The Unbirthday Song," "I'm Late," and "In a World of My Own."

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Wermske and Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Cudd will leave Thursday for a ten day fishing trip to Lake Texhoma.

Balko Band Wins Honors Saturday At PAMC Contest

BALKO—The Balko band participated in the homecoming festivities at Panhandle A. & M. College Saturday and won an outstanding honor when the Balko drum majorette Alberta Pearson, won the trophy for the best drum major in the marching contests.

The band took part in the homecoming parade that morning as well as the marching contest that afternoon. Ten bands representing Oklahoma and Kansas participated.

Due to the inclement weather, not all the members of the band were able to make the trip, but the members present showed precision and accuracy in their marching. During the opening ceremonies, the Balko band joined in the mass concert to play the Star Spangled Banner.

Mrs. Alice Gene Meacham is the director of the band.

Mrs. Fannie Gunnells, 92, mother of Mrs. F. A. Edwards, has been seriously ill. Mrs. Edwards says that she is showing some improvement today. Mrs. Gunnells moved to this country in about 1928 from Fort Worth.

Building Boom

SINGAPORE (AP)—There's a building boom on in Singapore, even though this British crown colony is beset on all sides by the political unrest and wars of turbulent Asia. Extensive government and armed services housing projects are underway, but that's not all. Hard-headed business men and international financial concerns are demonstrating their faith in the future by pushing big construction jobs.

Three skyscraper business buildings are among the projects now under way. These involve an expenditure of many millions of dollars.

The Portuguese empire began to wither under British and Dutch onslaughts in the 17th century.

The first newspaper west of the Alleghenies was the Pittsburgh Gazette, founded by John Acull and Joseph Hall in 1786.

People's Chapel Revival Continues

Evangelist William Booth-Clibborn, who opened a revival campaign at the People's Chapel on Tuesday night, is attracting large crowds for each service, according to Rev. Calvin Cook, pastor.

The revival will continue throughout the coming week, Rev. Cook said.

Dr. Booth-Clibborn is a grandson and namesake of the late famous founder of the Salvation Army and carries on the Booth tradition, traveling the world over and preaching to vast crowds.

He has just returned from a year's tour of Europe in which he conducted 56 revival campaigns in seven countries, preaching in three languages.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Sibley of Amarillo spent the week end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Crum.

GUS BIRDWELL
Gives by the Carload

Gus Birdwell Makes State and National CROP Officials Happy

State and national CROP leaders wish they had a few more farmers like Gus Birdwell of Farnsworth. If they did, the soliciting of grain for overseas relief would be easy.

Birdwell has given a carload of wheat in 1948, 1949, and 1950, and gave 500 bushels of wheat in 1947, the first year of the program.

CROP solicitations have been under way in the county for several weeks, and Birdwell is Special Gifts Chairman. He hasn't yet put in a carload of grain this year, but the local CROP committee thinks he will make a substantial contribution.

"I haven't told anyone what I'll give," he said. "But it'll be something. I'm waiting to see how the milo crop turns out and see if I make a carload of grain."

There will be at least three carloads of milo, perhaps more, to be sent from Ochiltree county on November 9. John Ben Shepperd, Secretary of State, will make the dedication address, and there will be a number of church and CROP leaders present, including Walter O. Parr, regional CROP supervisor from Fort Worth.

Birdwell didn't have any wheat to give to the CROP program last year, but borrowed a carload from the Equity and gave that to CROP. He says he still owes the Equity the carload of wheat, since he didn't make much of a crop this year.

Birdwell came to the Panhandle in 1923 from Seminole, Texas, where he grew up. He arrived in Darrouzett to work for his uncle, R. D. Stephenson and stayed there for five years, working for wages, before his uncle rented him a section of land south of Farnsworth in 1928.

He farmed this land for two years, and bought some land when his crops turned out well. By 1935 he was a full-fledged Farnsworth farmer and moved his "headquarters" there. Now he is a substantial landowner in the Farnsworth area.

Pianist William Masselos Enjoyed by Audience In First Concert Presentation

By ALVIN KLOTZ

Great artists have to get their start somewhere, and Perryton is as good a starting place as any. As a matter of fact, most people would just as soon see the man perform who is on his way to the top as the fellow who has already arrived at that dubious station in his career.

William Masselos has been highly praised by Eastern critics, which may be one reason for the pretty cold, harsh "now-we-shall-see" attitude of the local audience last Thursday evening. When he played the familiar Chopin Polonaise in A Major, the audience remained unmoved, but when he went into a selection of Preludes (Op. 28) by Chopin, it was apparent that this fellow was pretty well past the fifth grade book.

Masselos was perhaps most amazing in his versatility, as the program progressed. His renown to date has rested on his grasp of modern music, but unfortunately he is throttled at that point both by the sponsoring agency and by local groups. He was strictly at home on the staccatos, dissonances and syncopations of an Armenian Dance (Gomidas).

Back again to tradition music, Masselos charmed the audience with a rendition of a Strauss medley and in his delicate and lilting arpeggios he made the piano produce some sounds whch most people didn't realize it could. All of his encores were well received.

His rendition of Chopin's prelude No. 24 in D minor was magnificent, with the artist bringing together all of the drama and pathos hidden in the musical score. Its emotional content spoke vividly and perhaps a part of the inspiration of this performance was derived from the exhibition of fantasy paintings based on the prelude.

These paintings, displayed in the lobby at intermission, were enjoyed, though not generally understood by the audience.

The effort of the board of directors to get children to sit with their parents rather than in the front seats was a failure. It has been suggested that the directors appoint their own board of deacons and get there early to grap the amen spots down front.

The beautifully toned Baldwin piano recently acquired by the school is properly initiated and Perryton is certainly fortunate to have as fine a concert auditorium as can be found for miles around.

Red Bureaucracy Enters East German Barnyards

BERLIN (AP)—Communist-ruled East Germany, (where everybody and virtually everything is pressured to fulfill a state-prescribed production quota,) is hailing a sow these days.

She set a record by exceeding the state quota which requires that every sow produce at least 16 piglets in a year. The champ was credited with already having produced 13 litters totaling 114 in breedings so far.

She's the star of a pig farm run by one Herr Wellner near Madgeburg. All the sows seem to be working well for Wellner, who is given an accolade in the Communist press and promised an expansion of his farm with six new pig sties.

Ancient Tunnels Discovered

JEDDAH, Saudi Arabia (AP)—Tunnels six to 10 miles long and 100 feet below the valley bed have been found in wadis (gullies) along the Red Sea coast.

M. C. O. Van Der Plas, of Holland, an irrigation specialist, was reported by Arab News Agency to have discovered the strange tunnels.

The agency said "the colossal engineering feat these tunnels represent is thought to have been an early attempt to counter the gradual drying-up of the Arabian peninsula."

The Flemish language resembles Dutch.

Taxes and Higher Rates

First heavy jolt in payment of higher taxes will be felt by most persons on November 1, with higher withholding tax to be deducted from each employe's check, but the higher postal rates will not hit until three months later, or Febuary 1.

At that date the penny postcard will become a thing of the past with two cents required from then on. If you still happen to have a good supply of the popular postcards on hand then you can use them and they will reach their destination only with your adding another 1-cent stamp to them. First class letters will continue to require a 3-cent stamp and air mail 6 cents the same as today. However, your special delivery letters will require 23 cents to do the job, rather than the present 15 cents.

Second class mailing, which includes newspapers and magazines, (The Southwest Daily Time no exception), rates will be boosted 30 per cent at the rate of 10 per cent for the next three years.

Third class mailing rates also will go up one-half cent an ounce effective July 1, 1952. Present rate is 14 cents per pound, increased from 12 to 14 cents on Feb. 1, 1949, which will again be boosted to 22 cents per pound. The Daily Times' Dollar Day issue of blanket coverage will come under this rate, which actually is an increase of a little more than 50 per cent.

In spite of all this, Uncle Sam's effort to lift his postal department up by its boot straps probably will fail, as we see it. $500,000,000 deficit will continue at about the tame level. Why? Because pay increases in the department may eat it all up. It's a case of taking money from Peter to pay Paul.

Therefore we are forced to ask, "Just where do we go from here? And how much more can we, the taxpayers, stand, in keeping Uncle Sam from going into bankruptcy?" Maybe it isn't as dark as it seems from here.

From the SIDELINE

with HAROLD HUDSON

Every once in a while, in our current diet of magazines, there comes an article dealing with mental tension, usually ending up with the advice—"quit worrying." Then you turn the page and find a dozen things to worry about. Actually, we can find plenty of things to worry about without delving into magazines for fresh inspiration.

When the freeze hits, do we have enough anti-freeze in the car radiator? Does the bank account seem strong enough to pay the current bills? Does that listless feeling mean not enough sleep or does it signal the onslaught of a dread new disease?

Just a few things like these can keep a person occupied with worry, without having magazines come up with new subjects such as the corruption of public servants, the rising taxes, the Communist infiltration of government, what to do when the A-bomb hits Perryton, are the school failing in their mission of education?

To be perfectly frank, we do a lot more actual worrying about problems close at home than the national and international ones, though like most people we talk a lot more about the latter.

Joe sat beside his dying partner, keeping the deathbed watch. Suddenly the dying man began to speak.

"Joe," he wheezed, "I have a confession to make to you. I robbed the firm of $10,000. And that's not all, Joe. I sold a secret formula to our competitors, and I stole the letter from your desk that got your wife her divorce, and Joe . . ."

"That's okay, old man," Joe murmured. "I'm the one who poisoned you."

There are some of us who are under the illusion that this is still a man's world, but Mrs. Hiram Houghton of Red Oak, Iowa, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, is fast dispelling the illusion. The other day Mrs. Houghton made these observations: "We (women) spend about 85 cents out of every dollar going for consumer goods, and we suggest what men should do with the remaining 15 cents. We own most of the factories, stores, utilities and natural resources.

As voters, women have a clear national majority of the franchise. Women are principally responsible for the education of the young of both sexes. I submit that men do not build houses or castles or beautiful churches or diesel trains, or even make soap for themselves. They do it for, or because of, women."

We submit that Mrs. Hiram Cole Houghton is full of prunes. And we feel a little bit sorry for pore ole Mr. Houghton.

Incidental intelligence: The government has made a $19,000 grant to Dr. Robert F. Winch, Northwestern University sociologist, to "study unconscious factors governing courtship and mate-selection." No wonder the income tax goes up November 1, with such essential defense items as this in the budget.

Billboard advertising has been with us a long time, and we suppose it is here to stay. However, some of the signs are bad advertising not only for the merchant, but for Perryton. We speak of the old warped, faded billboards that give a visitor the impression that our city is mouldering and dying on its feet, instead of the wonderful town it is.

When John Bolin, local implement man, planted a field of cotton last spring, Red Edwards, the well known farm and ranch expert at the First National Bank, told John that he would personally pick every boll that was produced.

Now, John has 150 acres of cotton, with many, many bolls, and he's going to make Red live up to his agreement. In fact, he is now looking for a cotton sack, and when the day comes for Red to go to the cotton patch, John is thinking about charging admission.

However, we notice he hasn't too much confidence in Red's cotton picking ability, since he bought a new John Deere cotton harvester some time ago.

When the Rangers play Phillips Friday night, a complete record of the game will be made with a motion picture camera, as sort of an experiment. Doyle Keeling of the Perryton Studio will shoot the game and there may be pictures made of more Ranger games next year. The big stumbling block is the cost of taking football movies, about $50 per game. However, other schools in the district, including Phillips and Dumas, take movies of every game and have done so for some time.

The Shamrock game was a pleasant surprise and it appeared as though the boys took coach Peterson's advice and played as hard in the game as they have been playing in practice all year. We hope this sort of thing continues. If it does, they'll give Phillips and Dalhart a pretty good ball game.

Wolf Creek Philosopher

Has Solution to Football Problem

(Ed. note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher "selves" the problem of how both sides can win a football game. his letter this week reveals.)

Dear editar:

As I told you last week, what college football needs is a change in the rules so both sides can win, and I promised to tell you how this could be accomplished. It's simple.

My idea would be to give a Congressional committee a few dollars, say $500 or $50,000,000 or whatever figures comes to mind handy at the time and let them launch a probe.

You think a Congressional investigation couldn't solve it? It's easy. It took only $1,532,941 words of testimony to solve the MacArthur-Truman controversy last spring and anybody who wants to know what the solution was can find out by takin them 1,532,941 words home with him and readin em.

I can picture the investigation now: television cameras and microphones flankin the hearin room, college students filin in, each tellin in his own way how he had expected the team to win Saturday, how much it meant to him, how much he lost—oh, excuse me, that's Kefauver's sphere—how the coach is gettin ulcers, the fans are gunnin for his scalp, etc.

I don't want to get too far into Congress' field of activity, but it ought to be able to figure out say a method of subsidizin the losin team, a sort of financial victory in lieu of the score board type, with a clear-cut stipulation that the money had to be spent honestly in the purchase of new material, couldn't be used in payin off obligations to players who've already demonstrated they couldn't win. This would be in violation of U. S. Football Regulation W14, paragraph D.

Obviously, havin every game wind up in a tie wouldn't work. You wouldn't have anybody comin off the field happy. Kill the gate receipts. Be like havin two Presidents in Washington, one from each party, with each havin veto power over the other one.

But it seems to me maybe the simplest way for Congress to solve the problem of both teams winnin is by passin a law requiring both teams to win.

This would involve probably a new bureau, a bureau head and a whole new set of enforcement agents to see that every game wound up with two victories, not with just some subterfuge like erectin two separate scoreboards and attainin a superficial double-victory, with the real score bein bootlegged out one of the side entrances to the stadium, and while the law might not be enforceable, that ain't no skin off the bureau's back, it'd be up to the colleges and universities to figure out how they could comply and still stay in business, I mean still stay with higher learnin. The fact a law ain't enforceable ain't been no bar to its gettin passed in this country. You ever try to follow an OPA regulation?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Railroad workers are represented by 23 standard unions. By mutual agreement, 20 of these unions—comprising about 1,200,000 men, or more than 90%—are working under wages and rules agreed to by them and the railroads. But leaders of three unions—with only about 130,000 men, or less than 10%—still refuse, after more than a year of negotiations, to accept similar wage and rules agreements. These are even more favorable than the terms recommended by the Emergency Board appointed by the President.

Yes, it certainly seems to be finally about time that the leaders of the three unions stop ... delaying tactics—their quibbling. But the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engi... the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Condu... continue to refuse. They continue a course of dilly-ing and dally-ing. It is definitely time ...

END THIS QUIBBLING

On June 15, 1950, an Emergency Board appointed by the President under the terms of the Railway Labor Act—an Act largely fathered by the unions themselves—made its recommendations on certain wage and working conditions ("rules" in railroad language) which had been in dispute between employes and the railroads.

More Than 90% of Employes Accept

Since then, terms equal to or better than the Board recommendations have been accepted by about 1,200,000 railroad employes—more than 90% of the total of all workers. They are represented by 20 of the 23 standard railroad unions.

Less Than 10% Refuse

But three unions—with about 130,000 men, or less than 10% of the total—have refused to accept, even after months of negotiations. These three unions are the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors. These are three of the so-called "operating" unions. Already the highest paid men in the industry, their leaders demand still further advantages over other workers.

In all, there are about 270,000 operating employes. But not all of them, by any means, are represented by BLE, BLF&E, or ORC. As a matter of fact, less than half—132,000 to be exact—are in these three unions. More than half—about 140,000—are in other unions, principally the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. What makes the whole situation so hard to understand is that these 140,000 operating employes are working under wages and rules which the leaders of the other 130,000 say they cannot agree to.

What Do the Railroads Offer?

They offer these three unions the same settlement which was contained in a Memorandum of Agreement signed at the White House on December 21, 1950, by four brotherhoods and the railroads. Later these brotherhoods sought to repudiate this agreement. But on May 25, 1951, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen signed a complete agreement carrying out the principles of the Memorandum Agreement of December 21. They have been working under this agreement since May 25.

What About Wages?

Under the terms of the agreement, yard engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving a wage increase of $.34 an hour ($2.72 a day) and road engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving an increase of 19½ cents an hour ($1.56 per day). Large sums of retroactive pay have already accrued and if the agreement is carried out, will be paid promptly.

What About "Cost of Living" Increases?

The White House Agreement includes an "escalator" clause under which wages will be geared to changes in the Government's cost-of-living index. Two such increases—April and July, 1951—have already been paid to the 90% of railroad employes covered by signed agreements.

What About the 40-Hour Week?

The White House Agreement calls for the establishment of the 40-hour week in principle, for employes in yard service. The employes can have it any time after January 1, 1952, provided the manpower situation is such that the railroads can get enough men to perform the work with reasonable regularity at straight time rates. If the parties do not agree on the question of availability of manpower, the White House Agreement provides arbitration by a referee appointed by the President.

What Else Do the Union Leaders Demand?

The continued quibbling of the leaders of the three unions has to do principally with rules changes, which have already agreed to by the Brotherhood of ... Trainmen. Of these, the princip... seems to be that having to do ... called "interdivisional service" ... which take in two or more senior... tricts.

The union leaders would ... and efficiency in the industry, and ... service to the public, by maintai... situation where they can arbitrar... a railroad from establishing such ... divisional runs. The carriers propose ... if a railroad wishes to set up an ... divisional run, the railroad and the ... should try to agree on such run and ... conditions which should surround ... tablishment, and if the railroad and ... unions can't agree, the matter will be ... mitted to arbitration.

But the three union leaders still ...

Rules Can Be Arbitrated

The railroads have not only offered ... three unions the same rules agreed ... the BRT and covered by the White ... Agreement, but have even agreed to ... mit such rules to arbitration.

The Industry Pattern Is Fixed

With the pattern so firmly established ... the railroad industry, it seems fair to ... gest that the leaders of BLE, BLF&E and ORC stop their quibbling and ... action to make the railroad labor ... 100% complete. Certainly today's ... nomic and international situation ... a united front. And certainly no good ... son has been advanced why these ... unions should be preferred over all ... railroad employes.

AUTHORIZING A RETIREMENT AND DISABILITY SYSTEM FOR APPOINTIVE OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES OF COUNTIES—House Joint Resolution (HJR) No. 22.

This amendment is similar to the one turned down in 1949 by vote of 20,545 to 95,280 except that it would prohibit any legislative appropriation to pay any benefits. It does not prohibit appropriation of tax funds to pay administrative expenses of the proposed System. It does not prohibit a loan of State funds to the System.

State laws now provide several methods by which counties, or citizens thereof, may set up systems to provide such disability and retirement benefits.

In September 1951 a law became effective that has the following provisions: Any Commissioners Court may place the county's officers and employees under the Federal Social Security System on the same terms and with the same contributions as are required of employers and employees in private business. Benefits to officers and employees so covered would include death and survivor provisions but not any disability benefits.

County employees covered by any other retirement system cannot be covered at the same time by the Social Security System.

Both the present system that may be administered by counties, and the Social Security System require contributions to the Fund by both employees and counties.

The System proposed in this amendment does not itself call for any specific method of financing. Under it there could be established, but only in a county wide election, a system supported entirely by county funds with no contribution by appointive officers or employees. Any county could adopt the proposed system alone, but its basis could be changed by the legislature at will.

Waco Baptist Is Usher for Fifty Years

WACO, Texas (AP)—Fifty years ago W. H. Jenkins, Jr., a tall handsome youth of 21 years, showed up 45 minutes early at Waco's First Baptist Church. It was his first day as head usher.

Now graying and 71, Jenkins is turning the responsibility over to one of a corps of 30 young men who have been installed as ushers.

Jenkins had some advice for his successor, Tom Joseph, Jr. An usher's greatest problem, said Jenkins, is to persuade people to sit in the front row seats.

"Sometimes you can get the women up front with a couple of comments," Jenkins added. "I used to greet them with, 'let's put these good-looking people up at the front of the church to inspire the preacher.' It nearly always worked."

Stepping down as head usher means Jenkins must give up the seat unofficially reserved for him these many years. It is the seat first to the right as one enters.

Jenkins still will be an official greeter. He is deacon and associate superintendent of Sunday school. But he no longer is an usher during regular church services.

The smiling Jenkins told his successors of one problem he encountered a half century ago.

The people apparently did not like the implication that they could not find a seat without help. Very often, Jenkins recalled, he would walk down the aisle, find empty seats, turn around and discover the worshippers he was leading had already found seats elsewhere.

Most people are educated to ushers now.

Christian Science

7th and Colgate
Services 11 a. m. each Sunday
Public Cordially Invited

That sin and its consequent suffering are destroyed today through turning wholeheartedly to God will be stressed at Christian Science services Sunday. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Everlasting Punishment" to be read in all Christian Science churches on November 4.

The Golden Text in these words states (Lamentations 3:39,40): "Wherefore doth a living man complain, a man for the punishment of his sins? Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the Lord."

Bible selections to be read will be: "The Lord is my strength and my shield; my heart trusted in him, and I am helped: therefore my heart greatly rejoiceth; and with my song will I praise him" (Psalm 28:7). And from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy says: "Through the wholesome chastisements of Love, we are helped onward in the march towards righteousness, peace, and purity, which are the landmarks of Science. Beholding the infinite tasks of truth, we pause—wait on God. Then we push onward, until boundless thought walks enraptured, and conception unconfined is winged to reach the divine glory" (p. 323).

— Attend Church This Week —

WE live in an Age of Comfort . . . physical comfort, that is, and we like it. In fact, we demand comfort. Our homes must be comfortable . . . warm in winter, cool in summer, equipped with electrical conveniences and good plumbing. Our furniture must be comfortable. Our clothes must be comfortable. Our automobiles, trains, airplanes must give comfort in every detail. Even the style of our architecture has changed to reflect this modern trend toward, above all else . . . COMFORT.

YET, are we indulging ourselves in the Supreme Comfort, the COMFORT of RELIGION? A man with folded hands; that means a soul in fellowship with the Almighty. See what aids he has summoned in his hour of great need! As our nerves are torn ragged each day from the wear and tear that must come in every routine, do we restore our souls in the BLESSED PEACE OF OUR RELIGIOUS PROMISES? When a crisis comes, when someone dear to our hearts lies sick beyond reach of medicine or skill, when we must stand by helpless and watch death take away our sweetest treasure, or when we find that we must live daily with tragedy, do we experience the Comfort of a Divine Presence ever with us, to give us stout hearts and strong courage? Read Psalms 103:2-4.

THE HOLY COMFORTER brings joy, peace, patience, loving-kindness. As you walk down a busy street, notice how few faces reflect this Spirit within. Harried, cross, impatient, unkind faces betray a pitiful need for Spiritual Comfort. The strain and stress of complicated modern life are more than any human can bear alone. Psychiatrists are stampeded; mental institutions are overflowing. Our nerves simply can't take it. Why not turn to the COMFORT of RELIGION? The man with folded hands and open Bible; we do not know just where he is reading. . . . But he is in company with noble souls of all the ages. FOR MAN, IN HIS DARKEST HOURS OF SORROW, SEEKS THE COMFORTS OUR CHRISTIAN RELIGION OFFERS. There's room, there's welcome, there's COMFORT waiting for you in your church.

Guard Mack Terry was ejected from the game in the second quarter for slugging.

The Rangers received several breaks in the game, and took advantage of all of them. In the first period, Jim Lamb, Irish safety man, fumbled a punt on his 13, and Doc Carter recovered for the Rangers. Three plays later Ed Cummings powered over tackle into the end zone, but the play was called back and the Rangers drew a 5-yard offside penalty. On the next play, the Rangers fumbled and the Irish recovered to snuff out any more scoring threats.

In the second quarter, Laurel Lovett recovered a Don Carleton fumble on the Shamrock 39, and the Rangers started moving. They drove down to the 1, with Gene Devers and Ed Cummings picking up most of the yardage on the drive, then B. R. Pletcher plunged across for the score. The try for extra point was no good when the ball was fumbled on an attempted pitch-out.

In the third quarter, Shamrock drove down to the Ranger 7, but the Rangers held them out of the end zone.

The Shamrock scoring opportunity was set up in the fourth quarter squarely on the 50, where they took a punt.

With Pennington and Carleton carrying the ball, they worked it down to the 2, and in three tries Pennington plunged across. Then came the fake kick, the pass and the winning extra point.

The weather was misty, the turf was somewhat muddy, and the crowd was sparse. Those that attended saw the best football exhibition of the season from the Rangers.

It was hard to single out a Ranger star. They all played well. In fact, if they play as well against Phillips this week, it will be a ball game well worth seeing and the Rangers have a solid chance to upset the Blackhawks.

Pinheaded Cavemen

ROME (AP)—The 5,000 year-old graveyard of a whole village of pint-sized, pin-headed cavemen has been found near Verona in the foothills of the Italian Alps.

Prof. Francesco Zorzi of the Natural History Museum of Verona says these neolithic men must have lived in an age when elephants roamed Europe at least 3,000 years before Christ.

The burial ground was found in a clay deposit within a few miles of Verona, in fields where for several years farmers have been digging up bits of archaic stone work and fragments of elephant bones.

By Ted Kesting

Ducks have never been trained to follow a fixed program when they are coming in on the hunter. They may come in high, and drop down rapidly, or they may come in low, from behind, from in front, from the side; or they may circle and look the situation over carefully. According to veteran hunter Jimmy Robinson, it all depends. Here's what he has to say:

How much do I lead a duck? Frankly, I don't know, so how can I tell you? That is something each shooter must learn to judge for himself. Take a good lead—that's the secret of hitting ducks. Some experts say lead the average duck by four feet at 40 yards. But how can I tell you to lead a duck four feet when I don't know how fast that duck is flying or at what angle? Some ducks loaf along looking for feed at 30 miles an hour. Others sweep down a lake at 60, or maybe 90 with a stiff breeze.

The fit of your shotgun is as important as the fit of your hat. You may be using a gun with too much drop in the stock. That's why I believe in shotgun instructors They can tell if your gun fits you after you have shot a few rounds, and if it doesn't how to correct it. They can correct your stance and give you other valuable tips that will help you in the field. I advise all young hunters to try a few rounds of skeet or trap. If you learn to hit 20 out of 25 at skeet, then you can shoot wild game on the wing.

Fred Etchen, famous field shot and instructor, has taught more people how to shoot than any other man. I asked him what was the first thing he taught a new shooter and he replied, "Follow through."

A common fault with many hunters is that they pull and "bang" when a duck flushes, they don't take time to point out their bird. This generally results in a miss or a crippled bird. You should be calm at all times and point out your bird before pressing the trigger. Don't let the bird bluff you into shooting too fast.

And one final point. The mediocre shot—and that means most of us—should use a modified or improved-cylinder choke instead of a full choke.

Movie Actor's Colt Is Trotter

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Movie actor Charles Coburn's two-year-old pacing colt turned out to be a trotter. His "That's My Baby" is a son of the pacing stallion King's Counsel and out of a mare by the world's champion pacer, Billy Direct. That's My Baby was tried on the pace but couldn't go fast enough. Finally trainer Jake Rodman slipped off the hobbles and put the colt to trotting. It now looks as though the youngster might make it at the new gait.

THE TEXAS POLL

Price Daniel Most Likely to Succeed Shivers as Governor

AUSTIN, Texas—Should Governor Allan Shivers decide not to run for re-election, who is most likely to succeed him?

At this time—nine months before the first Democratic primary—Attorney General Price Daniel emerges as the most popular man for the governorship. And much of Daniel's popularity may be attributed to high public satisfaction with the way he has handled his job as Attorney General of Texas.

The most recent statewide survey by The Texas Poll shows that among five men who have been mentioned as possible candidates, Daniel has the support of more than half (56 per cent) of the people who today are willing to express an opinion. But 36 per cent are undecided—a large group that could alter the picture significantly.

Texas Poll interviewers asked, "Suppose Governor Shivers does not run for re-election. Which of these men do you think would make the best governor?" The respondents were handed a card that listed the five men below; the names appeared in different orders on the cards of the various interviewers. These were the replies:

Price Daniel	36%
Ben Ramsey	12
Caso March	7
Bascom Giles	6
French Robertson	3
Don't know, no opinion	36
	100%

Ramsey is the present Lieutenant Governor; March, from Waco, has been a perennial candidate for years; Giles is now Commissioner of the General Land Office; and Robertson is a member of the Texas Prison Board.

The above figures are based on interviews with a cross section of adult Texans. When the presently-qualified voters and non-voters are segregated, Daniel looks even stronger politically:

	Voters	Non-Voters
Daniel	42%	28%
Ramsey	13	12
March	8	6
Giles	7	4
Robertson	3	3
Undecided	27	27
	100%	100%

It should be remembered that some of the people who are non-voters this year will pay a poll tax so that they can vote in 1952, an election year.

Any politician's future aspirations must be based on his past performance in public office. Regarding Daniel, as the leading contender in the above line-up, The Texas Poll asked this question: "In general, do you approve or disapprove of the way Price Daniel is handling his job as Attorney General of Texas?" Of those with opinions, more than nine out of ten like what he has done. This is what all the replies showed:

Approve	64%
Disapprove	5
Undecided	31
	100%

In recent weeks political speculation has begun in earnest, centering on the possible plans of Shivers and Daniel. Neither one has announced what office he will seek, although the Governor has declared he will be a candidate for something. Shiver's popularity as Governor, last measured by The Texas Poll in mid-summer, was at an all-time high of 79 per cent approval of his administration.

Last month, in a "trial heat" for the U. S. Senate race, the Governor showed he could give plenty of trouble to the venerable Senator Tom Connally, who showed surprising weakness. Shivers got 59 per cent against 32 per cent for Connally, with 9 per cent undecided.

LOTS OF CHICKENS—Mrs. M. R. Todd, who with her husband has been operating the Perryton Hatchery since last September, says she's right fond of the little birds. The hatchery turns out from 180,000, to 200,000 chickens a year, hatching them out at the rate of 7,000 a week from Dec. to June. Even now, a slack hatching time in the chicken business, the place is full of chickens from this size up to fryers. Shipments are made to poultry markets for hundreds of miles around, Mrs. Todd says.

Veterans Forum .

Q. I am a paralyzed veteran, and I received a $10,000 grant from VA to build a "wheelchair home." I want to get a GI loan to finance the rest of the cost. Will my loan be subject to Regulation X, such as the limited period for repayment, and the like?

A. No. GI loans made to disabled veterans for the acquisition of specially-adapted housing are not subject to the terms of Regulation X.

Q. Both of my sons, on whom I was dependent, died recently as the result of injuries incurred during World War II. Is it possible for me to receive death compensation payments on behalf of both?

A. Yes. You must, of course, file a claim with the VA, establishing dependency, and VA must determine whether both deaths were service-connected.

Q. For some reason, I never received my addressed envelope this month for paying NSLI premiums to the VA. What should I do?

A. Make your premium payment as usual. And enclose enough information about yourself so that VA can readily identify your insurance account: your insurance number, full name and address, and date of birth.

Q. I'm planning to move, and I haven't yet received my NSLI dividend payment. Is VA permitted to forward my check to my new address?

A. Yes. But first you should take two steps: (1) notify the VA district office handling your insurance account of your new address, and (2) fill out a change of address form at your Post Office.

Envoy's Brief-Case Stolen

ADDIS ABABA (AP)—Ethiopian Airlines and civil aviation officials are investigating into the disappearance of "important papers" from the brief-case of Dr. Eduardo Anze Matienzo, of Bolivia, UN Commissioner for Eritrea. Senor Matienzo visited Addis Ababa briefly, late in May. After landing at Addis Ababa Airport, he found he had inadvertently left his brief-case in the plane.

Airport officials searched the airliner but failed to find the brief-case. It was later returned to Dr. Matienzo in what officials reported to have been a "roundabout way." But, officials said, all the papers were missing.
