Wreck Kills Vietnamese

Woman Victim On Rain-Slick Freeway

A rain slick Interstate 20 freeway Tuesday afternoon claimed Colorado City's second traffic fatality of the year.

Killed almost instantly at 2:25 p.m. in a one-car crash .9-mile west of State Highway 208 (to Snyder) was Khue Thi Sam, 28-year-old Vietnamese, who had been employed at the Berlitz School of Language, El Paso.

The woman was traveling east on Interstate 20 alone in her 1963 Pontiac Tempest when the car careened off the pavement at almost a 90 degree angle, smashed into the barrow ditch between the freeway and south service road, then hurtled across the service road.

Witnesses said the car turned over several times, throwing the woman out of the car through the windshield when the vehicle crashed into the ditch. Her body landed 70 feet from the car at a utility pole.

Motorists traveling behind Miss Sam's car told police that her auto moved to the center of the east bound traffic pavement after crossing the Rogers Road overpass and then slightly across the center line just before it careened out of control.

Miss Sam, had luggage and packages in her car addressed to Vietnam Embassy in Washington, D.C. She was graduated from Truong Son Secondary School in Saigon, Vietnam, in May 1966 and came to the U.S. August 3, 1966. In Saigon, she had received a natural science degree after studying civics, French and English.

Her sister, Mrs. Kyue Tai Kien, resides in Washington D.C., and her brother is a teacher in the Berlitz School of Languages in El Paso.

It was only last Aug. 17 that she had purchased her car.

Kiker & Son Funeral Home said the body was transported to Washington via plane Wednesday.

Death of Miss Sam brought to three the number of fatalities within Mitchell County this year. However, only one was outside the city limits.

Injuries were narrowly averted in another Interstate 20 wreck Tuesday at 6:45 p.m. during the cold rain.

A 1965 truck-tractor with two semi-trailers, driven by James E. Ussery of Irving for Consolidate Copperstate Truck Lines of Dallas, jackknifed on slick pavement while traveling east toward Colorado City.

The big trucking rig jackknifed into the median between the east and west lanes of pavement at a point 4,752 feet east of Mitchell-Howard county line.

Five minutes later a 1962 Mack truck-tractor with semi-trailer, driven by Raymond Smith of Crescent, Okla., for Bill Hodges of Oklahoma City, struck the rear of the first wreck jutting out onto the east traffic lane.

Smith's truck then careened across the freeway's median and across the west-bound pavement and finally stopped with direction reversed.

Neither trucking rig overturned, according to State Highway Patrolman Buddy Hertenberger.

Burial was in Colorado City cemetery directed by Kiker & Son Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were Bill F. Carter, Tandy Curlee, Luke Thomas, Fred McKay, J. L. Bassinger, and Olson Sweat.

Funeral for A. V. Gary, 79, was conducted in Kiker Chapel at 2 p.m. Wednesday by Rev. M. A. Smith, pastor of First Baptist Church. Born in Moody, June 12, 1886, Mr. Gary died at 10:20 p.m. Sunday in Root Memorial Hospital. He was a member of the Baptist Church and a retired mechanic.

Surviving Mr. Gary are one daughter, Mrs. T. P. Holland of Ft. Worth, three brothers, Paul Gary of Ft. Worth, M. B. Gary of Juitman, G. V. Gary of California; one sister, Mrs. John Martin of Loraine.

TECH'S SOILS TEAM, WITH HARRIS, WINS

Bill Harris of Colorado City is a member of the Texas Tech soils team which won regional honors last weekend.

The team of four Tech soils majors won first in American Society of Agronomy soils characterization contest in Baton Rouge, La.

Led by junior Mike Risinger of Bula, who scored 730 out of possible 960 points for individual honors, Tech's team compiled a total of 2,120 of possible 2,880 points to beat second-place Texas A&M by 85 points.

Third in the five-state competition — open to schools from Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi — was won by Oklahoma State.

Four civic clubs join together for special auction Saturday night to benefit Civic House burdened by a hefty alley-paving tab and a retroactive Texas Employment Commission assessment.

Jaycees, the owners of Civic House; Lions, Kiwanis, Business & Professional Women are participating in the auction which will sell items donated for Civic House treasury or consigned on 25 per cent commission.

Tommy Maricle will be auctioneer for the sale beginning at 7:30 p.m. in Civic House.

Persons and firms donating or consigning merchandise for the auction are requested to deliver their items to Civic House or phone RA 83493 for a pickup by Jaycees.

Voting Near for Chamber Board

A three-member committee will submit eight nominees for Colorado City Chamber of Commerce's annual election for new directors.

Trevlyn Kelley, Mrs. Edwin B. Earlock and Dr. Elton Berkman are members of the committee.

They will report to Chamber director Nov. 6 and the membership balloting will be conducted during November.

Four directors will be elected in the balloting to serve for three years.

House treasury or consigned on 25 per cent commission.

Tommy Maricle will be auctioneer for the sale beginning at 7:30 p.m. in Civic House.

Persons and firms donating or consigning merchandise for the auction are requested to deliver their items to Civic House or phone RA 83493 for a pickup by Jaycees.

Another Chamber of Commerce committee is preparing a new color brochure promoting Colorado City and its community assets.

The brochure will be in two colors and an up-to-date of the previous pamphlet which features photos and data plus a map of Colorado City.

It will fold to envelope size for convenient mailing.

Larry Kinard, Jim Kelley and Chamber Manager Seton Pickens are members of the committee preparing the brochure for printing.

The joint civic auction is to help Civic House out of a temporary financial problem increased by a $33,228 assessment for paving of alley adjacent to Civic House and $665.71 retroactive assessment for employees' unemployment insurance dating back to 1962.

Texas Employment Commission handed Jaycees the $665.71 bill on the basis of a part-time employee who works three to four hours each week. This qualified the Jaycees for the Civic House assessment, the commission ruled.

In addition the Civic House treasury needs cash for $240 insurance premium, $200 in grocery billings, plus several other items.

A bright spot on the Civic House financial outlook is the fact that Jaycees owe only approximately $300 on the building mortgage.

Lions, Kiwanis and B&PW — who use Civic House regularly with Jaycees for their regular meetings — decided to join with Jaycees in sponsoring the auction after learning of the current financial problem.

Dangerous To Kids

Threat From Dog Poisonings

Police Chief Jesse Brownning warned Wednesday that a rash of dog poisonings is a dangerous threat to the lives of children.

He urged that the poisonings stop before human tragedy results.

Chief Brownning said the dog poisonings have been mostly in the city's northeast area.

Autopsies have discovered deadly amounts of strychnine — enough to kill several children or adults — in stomachs of dogs.

"Any child is likely to pick up poisoning meant for a dog . . . and the result would be tragic," the chief said.

"This danger to children makes it imperative that the poisoning stop immediately."

Scores of dogs have been victims of recent poisoning. The latest was reported to police Monday.

Chief Brownning said the threat was so acute police have been making a check of stores to determine when strychnine and other poisons have been purchased.

The chief said there were laws against certain animal poisoning, but that the most serious danger was in the possibility of children unsuspectingly finding bits of the poison.

Bull To Spade For $6,500

Renderbrook Ranch paid $6,500 Monday for the top price when Ballinger rancher Jack V. Williams staged his annual production sale of horned Hereford bulls.

The bull, JW Sam Domino 218, is a coming two-year old that weighed 1,000 pounds as a yearling and had an actual weaning weight of 715 pounds adjusted to 638.

The 70 performance tested bulls, ranging from two-year-olds to bull calves, averaged $898.98 per head — highest average paid in the Southwest this year.

Sale was conducted in San Angelo at Producers Livestock Auction Company.

Mrs. Bob May was runnerup in objective painting at the West Texas Art Association Show Saturday in San Angelo.

She won a $50 cash prize. Among the red ribbon winners, whose paintings will be exhibited on a West Texas circuit, include Mrs. Isabell Ratliff and Eula Grantham.

Colorado City Jaycees-ettes will re-activate Thursday with an installation dinner in Civic House at 7:30 p.m. To be installed as president will be Mrs. George Lee.

Among other officers who will be installed Thursday are Mrs. Ray Prescott, vice president and state Jayceette director; Mrs. Wendell Jamigan, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Lacy Boles, reporter; Mrs. Dan Majors and Mrs. Manuel Molina, directors; Mrs. Charles Rees, parliamentarian.

John Prude Rites Here Wednesday

John W. Prude, 52, died after a long illness at 40 p.m. Monday, in Lubbock. He was a longtime resident of Colorado City before moving to Lubbock 10 years ago and was a former manager of the Palace Theater here.

Funeral service was conducted in First Christian Church here at 11 a.m. Wednesday by Dr. Dudley Strain, pastor of First Christian Church in Lubbock.

Surviving are his wife of Lubbock; one daughter, Mrs. Judy Hamby, of Ft. Worth; one son, John W. Prude Jr., of Lubbock; his mother, Mrs. Helen Prude, 820 East 12th St., Colorado City; one brother, Carey Prude, Colorado City; and one granddaughter.

Pall bearers were Willie Landau, Ira Williamson, Harris Lipps, Willis Jones, J. C. Garrett and Jim Kelley.

Flames Destroy Widow's Home

Mrs. Dorothy Wood worked for years in a doctor's office in Odessa.

When retirement came two years ago, she knew just what she wanted to do.

The widow purchased a house on Lake Colorado City and began living the life others enjoy on the lake shore.

Tuesday Mrs. Wood was cooking in her kitchen in the lake home half mile south of Cooper's Cove. A pan with grease became overheated and caught fire.

She lifted the pan to the sink, but flames raced up kitchen curtains.

Mrs. Wood escaped, but the fire destroyed the entire house, all her furnishings, clothes and other possessions.

Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department received the fire alarm, but the blaze had taken its toll by the time the fire truck arrived.

Mrs. Wood had insurance on the structure and contents and the loss was expected to be more than $4,000.

A fire at 4:47 Wednesday morning destroyed a small vacant house in northwest area of Colorado City near St. Ann's Catholic Church, at Plum and Independence.

Mrs. White Dies At 79 Chapel Rites

Mrs. White was a member of Payne Baptist Church. Funeral services were conducted at 1:30 p.m. in Kiker Chapel here, Tuesday.

Pair Plead Guilty To Assault Charge

A kick on a dance floor finally led into 32nd District Court here Wednesday.

Judge Austin O. McCloud heard Jimmy Luera and Ernest Luera plead guilty to assault with intent to murder Donato Herrera — Jimmy and Ernest.

Later, Herrera said he returned to the vicinity of the service station and was turning onto Interstate 20 north access road when Ernest and Jimmy Luera made a U-turn and to follow.

Shortly after that, a shot rang out.

"You have been convicted," he told the pair, "but we are taking a chance that you are not going to be in anymore trouble."

"You keep your part of the bargain and we will keep our part."

He instructed the two youths, both 17, to report to probation officer next Wednesday at 9 a.m.

This takes nerve! Imagine dropping into space with nothing but a "silk umbrella" between you and eternity! Yet men do it every day, and they trust that umbrella as we would trust our best friend.

Faith is something like that white parachute, as thousands upon thousands of Christians can testify. Faith upholds you and supports you, no matter how rough the going may be. Without faith in a loving God, man is very much alone . . . and man was never meant to deal with life's problems by himself.

Like the first parachute jump, faith isn't easy at the beginning. It takes courage to hand over the reins of one's life, but you can be sure of one thing . . . you'll always land on your feet. Strengthen your faith by attending the church of your choice.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

CONVERSATION CORNER

SAY what you will, and consult all the almanacs you please, Oct. 29 was the longest day in the year at least once. Last Sunday, it was, Oct. 29, 1967.

Know at least one married couple who could testify that Sunday was the longest day of the year.

This couple, long-wed forgot to turn their clocks and watches back at bedtime Saturday night.

Came the dawn . . . they slept on . . . because their mutual mental time keepers allow for that luxury on Sunday mornings.

NINE o'clock, the clocks all said, when the phone rang loud and long . . . ringing the wrong number, of course, life being what it is and largely made up of wrong numbers.

So? So the husband donned robe and slippers and went out to pick up the Sunday papers. The wife donned robe and slides and sallied to the kitchen.

After the necessary interval for timing the coffee, frying country sausage and eggs, pouring up orange juice, and baking the biscuits which are also a traditional part of cool weather Sundays, the couple sat down at the table to eat and read or eat and read depending on the way you look at it.

SOME time later the beds got spread the laaakdaisical way used for the day of rest . . . dishes got washed except for the percolator with the two extra cups saved for kick-off time.

The couple, used to each other's ways by now, managed baths, his shave, her making of the hair and cologne behind the ears without colliding as they went to and fro.

Then they appeared, smiling and simultaneously, in the living room at exactly 12:25 p.m. That's what the clock said.

THE MAN switched on the TV set, enthroned himself in his favorite chair. His wife sat in her chair, propped her feet on the hassock and waited too.

The Dallas Cowboys vs. Philadelphia Eagle game was nowhere in sight. It wasn't on the radio, either. Finally, after twirling the radio dial the couple heard a voice from somewhere out there say, "At the sound of the gong, the time will be exactly 11:35."

There was that shining hour lost when DST took over found again . . . dumped in our laps . . . smirking slyly . . . time on our hands.

Nonplussed is the word for it.

THIS column was one of those which screamed at the top of her voice in boldface type about Daylight Saving Time.

Predicted that DST would confuse, inconvenience, infuriate people. Which it did.

Now come, then, that deploring it, despising it, lamenting it, I still got used to it? So used to it that when time came to switch back to Central Standard Time I just ignored the switch . . . cast it out of mind and out of sight?

Maybe it's just one more evidence of the sturdy strain in the human pattern.

Given time (no pun intended) could it be that people can — and do get used to anything, no matter what or how awful it be?

Okay. Next thing you know, I'm liable to give in and start using zip codes . . . or buying mini skirts.

Dan MAJORS, KVMC announcer, had the surprise of reading a news release from Vietnam.

It was no routine release to Dan: it concerned his brother Marine Sergeant Brad Majors who is in the thick of a "search and destroy" mission deep in Vietnam.

SEEN LATELYS included Lena Strange (Mrs. Gwan) of City National . . . Virgil Richburg braving that January wind here in November . . . Mattie (Mrs. Witt) Hines . . . Glenn Thomas on Walnut St.

Spied Robbie Sickles, who is working now at Tourist Center Cafe . . . Velma Comer (Mrs. L. L.) back from a trip to see her granddaughter in Corpus Christi and admitting, when questioned, that the new baby is "beautiful." Shana Noble Bassinger (Mrs. Hubert) was an office visitor . . . Mrs. John Womack, too . . . and Mrs. Hal Bennett.

Saw Lucy Turner (Mrs. Travis) and children with the former Lois Seay, who lives in Ft. Worth, out at the Villa

Martha Earnest in a becoming blue hat . . . Murrell Blassingame and Ross Hargrove together . . . Weems Dykes, downtown.

FAMILIAR FACES belonged to Jay Craddock . . . The Charles Ezells . . . Jean (Mrs. Bill) Holbert . . . Clem Myers.

Also Isla Watson (Mrs. Jim) and pretty blond Mrs. Don Fite . . . Mrs. Robert Chambers . . . Naomi Rhode, wife of Dr. Bill . . . Doyle Kiker.

Hear tell that Jack (The Rev.) Selraig and his wife Vi were C-City visitors enroute to, and from Texas State Baptist Convention in Lubbock. The Selraigs, former C-Citians, live in Houston.

Just found out, too, that T. D. Wiman Jr. and Pat (Mrs. Dalton) Keeth are brother and sister.

TB State President Speaks At Meeting

Dr. John Selby, president of Texas State Tuberculosis Association, was speaker Tuesday evening, Oct. 24, for an open meeting of Mitchell County TB Association in Medallion Room.

Dr. Selby, Lubbock chest specialist, discussed "Respiratory Diseases," and accentuated the TB Association's efforts to educate the public concerning tuberculosis, emphysema, and other respiratory diseases.

Mrs. A. J. Hooks, president of Colorado Independent Association, introduced James McMath, superintendent of 1/2 Colorado Independent Schools, who will serve as county TB Association Christmas 1967 seat sales chairman.

McMath, presented Dr. William S. Rhode, local physician, who in turn introduced Dr. Selby, guest speaker.

"In 1966 there were 3,100 TB cases in Texas," Dr. Selby said, "and for each case detected another nine people have been exposed to the infection. The public needs to be educated about the seriousness of this disease. Too many people are complacent," he warned.

It is important, the speaker pointed out, for whole families to have TB check-ups, and important for every patient entering a hospital to have a chest x-ray and tests for tuberculosis.

"Pulmonary disease are on the increase," he told the audience, "and these diseases are community problems. Dr. Selby then reminded his listeners that TB Associations are "Just fill-ins for the Health Department. They are for the purpose of educating the public" not for control of the disease. He then explained the new area plan for the carrying out of the TB Association program.

Dr. and Mrs. Selby were entertained at dinner, preceding the meeting, at the Villa Inn Restaurant with Mitchell County TB Association Board members, McMath, Mrs. J. C. Womack, Mrs. E. H. Winn, Mrs. Hooks, Mrs. Dave Womack, and Mrs. A. H. Jackson, executive secretary, attending.

Roll call, before the program, was answered with "Something I Wish I Had Done Last Year."

Group singing was followed with a devotional scripture read by Mrs. P. H. Pace.

Business session was conducted by Mrs. Willard Thurman.

Mrs. Berry served a refreshment plate to Meses Sam Armstrong, E. T. Strain, Weldon McMillan, J. L. Strain, C. P. Wiggins, Lon Strain, R. E. McMillan, J. C. Womack, and Pace.

New members welcomed was Mrs. O. R. Carpenter; guests were Mrs. Carl James and Miss Miller.

ELECTRIC DRYER SAVINGS DAYS

SEE YOUR DEALER SOON ABOUT HIS MONEY-SAVING SPECIAL WIRING OFFER

Real Accomplishment

There's nothing I've enjoyed any more lately than that 19-6 victory for the Wolves Friday night in Anson.

One of the real accomplishments in sports — or in life, for that matter — is being able to come back heads high after defeat.

Those young gents on Coach Nix's team have done it just fine.

I'm for giving them a round of applause. They deserve it as they move into the final portion of their season in just about the toughest AA district within the entire state.

Receive At Hesperian Diamond Anniversary Tea

Mrs. Lynn Halbert, extreme left, received guests from ten Federated Women's Clubs here Friday as president of the host club, Hesperian Study Club, celebrating their 75th anniversary. Receiving with her were Mrs. H.B. Broadbush, life member of Self Culture and 1921 Study Clubs and Hes-

75th ANNIVERSARY

TFWC President Speaker For Hesperian Club Tea

The President of the Texas State Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. B. F. Seay of Andrews, addressed 75 members of Mitchell County Federation of Women's Clubs here Friday afternoon.

Hostesses for the special program and social hour were members of the Hesperian Study Club who marked their 75th anniversary with a Diamond Year Tea in Medallion Room Lone Wolf Electric building.

Oldest still active study club in town, Hesperians were first organized in 1892, federated in 1897.

Guests at the tea, Friday, were members of the nine other federated clubs, several Mesquite District Federation officers, with TFWC head, Mrs. Seay, as honor guests and speaker, Mrs. Charles C. Thompson introduced Mrs. Seay.

"The great need of our time is the recovery of our faith in freedom to give us steady moral guidance. We need a burning faith that can change men's lives. The only answer to nuclear power is moral power," said Mrs. Seay as she launched into her subject, "Today's Challenge."

"A new birth of freedom throughout the world depends largely upon American leadership, American strength, and the confidence in the free way of life which America is able to inspire — especially in areas susceptible to communist pressure," she added.

Mrs. Seay detailed obligation of women to the coming generation as she suggested the home as "source of emotional and spiritual stability... an oasis of strength and serenity in a period of turmoil."

"Our youth must not only understand and love American freedom as we love it, they must also be able to live it and make it live in their communities — freedom to vote and participate, freedom to work, to worship, to speak the truth, to play, to study, and to use one's powers without distinction as to race, class or creed," Mrs. Seay said.

"We know that a free people must be an educated people," she said as she stressed school improvement and extension of education. "We must give our youth guidelines to follow."

Later, she stated "Censorship or the education to good reading must be by example in and from the home," as she referred to "the line between decency and obscenity," for books, shows, and the press.

Summarizing, she said of women's responsibility, "Establish the home from which come moral and spiritual values, rear our youth knowing these values so that tomorrow's world may be a better place, educate our youth to become responsive, responsible citizens, and exercise our franchise to elect people to office who are statesmen and women and not politicians out for a buck."

In conclusion, Mrs. Seay pointed to women's clubs as "opportunity to be an effective citizen, more aware of civic and social responsibility. A club develops leadership," she said.

As guests arrived at the all-club tea they were registered by Mrs. John Hale and Mrs. Bennett Scott.

In the receiving line were Hesperian President, Mrs. Lynn Halbert, Mitchell County Federation President, Mrs. J. W. Watson; Mrs.

Miss Mabel Smith presided at the refreshment table for the collection of Hesperian yearbooks and club awards.

Miss Ruth Hightower played a program of piano music during the social hour.

Mrs. R. J. Wallace presided at the refreshment table which was decorated in the autumn theme and in Hesperian club colors, green and white.

Assisting in serving were Mrs. Otto F. Jones, Mrs. Edgar Majors, and Mrs. O. L. Simpson.

Out of town guests here for the occasion were Mrs. Seay and Mrs. Williams of Moran, Mesquite District Federation president, who presented Hesperians their 75th year certificate from General Federation of Women's Clubs at Washington, D. C. Also, Mrs. W. V. Wheeler, of Albany, first vice president of the district; Mrs. Bruce Johnson of Lorraine, second vice president; Mrs. A. J. Smith, Jr., of Anson, third vice president; Mrs. C. S. Barrow of Moran, sec-

You can cook a 3-minute egg faster with gas than with electricity.

Here's why: With a modern gas range there's no slow warm-up period. You turn the burner on and get the desired amount of heat — instantly! Burner with a Brain holds that precise temperature until cooking is done. No waiting, no watching, no wondering with flame fast gas. You can see the flame go to work the instant you turn the burner on.

(Of course, faster cooking means less gas used and more economy for you!) Only modern gas cooking gives you this much control, flexibility and speed. See the wide variety of modern gas ranges at your local gas appliance dealer or LONE STAR GAS.

Happiness Is The Family Topic For 1949 Program

"Happiness Is The Family," was subject for members of the 1949 Study Club at their program Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Trevlyn Kelley, hostess, 644 Chestnut St.

Mrs. Tharon Henderson, leader, introduced the program and speaker, Mrs. H. Jeph Steakley.

Material for Mrs. Steakley's paper was from "Dangerous Fathers, Problem Mothers, and Terrible Teens" by Carlisle Marney, Baptist minister and former pastor of First Baptist Church at Austin.

"I hesitate to speak on teenagers. I'm no authority," Mrs. Steakley began. "Like you, I am only a parent."

She continued her lecture with a discussion of family character. "Family training can never rise above family character," she said. "The family's character is determined by what the family decides is most important, most valuable. Like yeast in dough, the family's basic character works in and through the life of each member."

"Time is the enemy of the family," she added.

Her lecture continued with describing the family father as one who loves and gives strength. "Too many children have to go outside the home for fatherly love, strength and guidance," Mrs. Steakley told the club.

"Most problem parents are mothers," she said. "She wants him to grow up, but she wants him to stay small. She contradicts herself. Turn your son loose but be concerned for him. Do not be a smothering mother."

Greatest gap in understanding between parents and children comes with the teen years," she stated.

"How do you work at knowing the gap? Recognize the urge to separateness in teenagers. Give them room but don't take down all the fences. Set up some minimum standards early. Participate. Participate in school, scouting, sports, social life, recreational life. Above all, develop a religion they can respect and a church connection they can enjoy," Mrs. Steakley concluded.

Mrs. Joe Weaver, club president, presided at a business session before the program.

Burleson Looks At "Squares"

By OMAR BURLESON
U. S. Congressman
17th District

The following is a "re-run" of this column on June 6, 1967. A sequel to it will follow next week.

Nathan Hale did not say: "Me say in the British? Are you trying to be funny? Do you know what they do to spies they catch? I will give you a news flash, chum. They hang them."

Paul Revere did not say: "What do you mean, me ride through every Middlesex village and town, and in the middle of the night too? Why pick on me? Am I the only man in Boston with a horse?"

Patrick Henry did not say: "Sure, I'm for liberty. First, last and always, I'm for liberty. But we have got to be realistic. We are a pretty small outfit. If we start pushing the British around, someone is likely to get hurt."

George Washington did not say: "Gentlemen, I am honored and appreciate your confidence, but I just have too much to do. I am just starting to get things in shape out at Mount Vernon."

Since these heroes did not say these things, they would be considered "squares" now,adays.

This word "Square," according to Mr. Charles H. Brower, originated with convicts. To them, a square was an inmate who would not conform to the convict code. From this, the sophisticated have applied it to the man who never learned to get away with wrongdoing.

To them, he is a Joe who volunteers when he does not have to. He is a guy who is his kicks from trying to do something better than anyone else can.

He is a boob who gets so lost in his work that he has to be reminded to go home. He is a slob who still gets checked up when the band plays "America The Beautiful."

The square does not fit too well into many current groups of angle players, corner cutters, sharp shooters and goof-offs. He does not even like to open packages before Christmas. He does not want to fly now and pay later. He is burdened down with old-fashioned ideas of honesty, loyalty, courage and thrift. In fact, he may be on his way to complete extinction.

In Mark Twain's day, the word "Square" was pretty wholesome and one of the finest. At that time you gave a man a square deal if you were honest. You gave him a square meal if he was hungry. You stood for square for the right as you saw it, and square against everything else. When you got out of debt you were square with the world. And that was when you could look your fellow man square in the eye.

Of course, we know that times change. With changes come different expressions, just as we hear new tunes and have new dances.

Sometimes some of these things sound somewhat foreign. It takes one to wonder if we are importing ideas rather than exporting them.

It's been pointed out that the famous quotes from Nathan Hale, Patrick Henry and others have been practically dropped from all textbooks. In nine of the new texts, the reply of John Paul Jones to the British demand for surrender, "I have not yet begun to fight," does not even appear.

Today we have a new set of heroes. Their names are Glenn and Grissom, Shepard, Carpenter, Shirra and Cooper. These heroes are from nice, small towns with names like Sparta, Boulder, East Derry, Mitchell and Shawnee.

Maybe these men are squares and maybe the reason is they have lived too far from the sophisticated influences to keep from becoming squares. For who but a square would volunteer his life for his country's good? This would be the opinion of some of those who want to make fun of a square, but not these squares. We can be thankful there are still some, and hope there will be a great deal more.

Next week we will talk about Bobby Dylan's new song, "Something is Happening in the Land, and You Don't Know What It Is. Do you Mr. Jones?" Mr. Jones is the "Square" and most of us, young and old, are Mr. Joneses.

Voter Registration Starts In Earnest

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Voter registration for the big 1968 election year is getting into full swing. Secretary of State John L. Hill already is busy sending out detailed instructions for county tax assessors.

As chief election officer, Hill discussed current problems with an advisory committee of tax officials (who are local registrars) and reviewed suggested ground rules.

He remains firm in his agreement with an attorney general's opinion that voters must bring or mail in their own registration applications or submit them through authorized members of their immediate family.

Block or bulk registrations are outlawed by an October 11 opinion. It brought critical comment from former State Sen. Franklin Spears, head of a liberal backed drive to register five million voters.

Hill encourages house-to-house registration drives and says there is no restriction on the manner or the extent of distributing application forms. He is advising local registrars that:

• There is no limit on reproduction of sample registration forms by third parties or purchase of those ordered by official registrars.

• Solicitors may encourage individuals to register but must avoid inducing registration through false or misleading representation.

• Assistance to the applicant is all right (including filling out forms), but the voter must supply the necessary information himself and sign the form or place his mark on it.

• Drivers may furnish envelopes and even stamps to voters, but the applicant or family members must mail the form.

• Local registrars should provide blank, sample forms to all who request them, but each registrar may fix his own policies as to furnishing forms in large quantities to solicitors.

Spears has called on registrars to ignore the attorney general's opinion, and accept applications delivered by third party solicitors in bulk, or a group of applications sent in the same envelope. Spears claims the opinion is the result of a "plot" to keep the registrations low.

COURTS SPEAK — Texas Supreme Court heard Sun Oil Company arguments for the right to use fresh water from the Ogallala formation, for oil well flooding purposes on their Hockley County lease. Lower courts have denied the Sun suit. A landowner and High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 contend that use of the water would dangerously deplete irrigation supplies.

Houston finance company seeks a ruling from the Austin district court as to its rights under the Texas Regulatory Loan Act to buy discounted home improvement notes from contractors. State Consumer Credit Commissioner Frank Miskell was named defendant.

Supreme Court knocked out contempt of court citations against three in a Denton County dispute over a 30-foot strip of land because the district judge failed to follow procedural rules limiting duration of temporary restraining orders.

State obtained a $34,952 judgement against a Dallas man by consolidating five cases involving slant hole oilwell drilling in Gregg, Wood and Rusk counties.

Court of Criminal Appeals divided 3-2 in upholding a Harrison County death penalty murder conviction, with the majority finding the condemned man had adequate warning of his constitutional rights six days before he confessed to the crime.

INJUNCTION ASKED — Texas Water Quality Board has asked Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin to seek an injunction to keep the Enchanted Oaks subdivision, just outside Houston, from making any more connections to new housing being constructed in the area until it complies with its permit.

A hearing revealed that the district had put in a temporary 19,000-gallon per day plant when its permit called for 60,000 gallons a day. Then it let contractors to build a 300,000-gallon per day plant without board approval or a permit from the State Health Department.

Board wants construction on 18 new homes stopped along with the work on the unapproved treatment plant.

WORKMEN'S COMP CUT — State Board of Insurance has approved a 4.2 per cent cut in workmen's compensation insurance premiums effective December 1. Slash, which is based on premium and loss statistics, should mean a $7,000,000 reduction in 1968.

Board Chairman Hunter McLean said cuts in insurance company expenses and fewer accidents made savings possible, despite rising medical costs and incomes. He said this emphasizes the importance of accident prevention programs.

Reductions by major classes included: All combined, 4.2 per cent; manufacturing classes, 3.4 per cent; contracting, 5.1 per cent; oil, 4.2 per cent; and all other classes, 4 per cent.

ATTORNEY GENERAL — Attorney General Martin clarified the state's complex mandatory retirement provisions for Texas judges, as set forth in the constitution, with a new lengthy opinion (M-152).

In another ruling, Martin concluded that the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation has the duty and authority to provide necessary medical treatment or services to persons admitted or committed to its institutions, without obtaining consent from relatives or guardians.

SCREWORM INCREASE — Hurricane Beulah may have stirred an outbreak of the dreaded screwworms in Texas cattle.

Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation reports 151 cases in 24 counties from South to West Texas. There are the most cases of the year and actually occurred in cooler weather when the problem usually declines. The screwworm fly is windblown.

Foundation President Dolph Briscoe Jr. of Uvalde said hurricane and floods posed an emergency situation in the screwworm eradication program. Foundation leaders are requesting the U.S. Department of Agriculture for additional funds to expand the screwworm sterilization program which faces the threat of a cutback due to recent federal spending cuts.

RETAIL RECORD — While downtown Christmas decorations are being strung up, Texas retailers already are looking forward to record sales in most lines during the next two months.

Texas Bureau of Business Research reports that the 11 per cent August to September decline in durable sales and five per cent drop in non-durable sales shook retailers' confidence "more" than was warranted.

More-encouraging signs point to "surprisingly strong" apparel store sales this fall, and "substantial increases" are seen in furniture and appliance store sales.

Total construction index in Texas fell to 127.3 in September from an abnormal high of 245.8 in August. March was lowest for the year except for January's 106.6 reading. Despite this decline, the September index still was 16 per cent above September 1965. Building permits totaled $131,700,000. Value of 1967 building probably will hit an all-time record.

SHORT SHORTS — Justice Jack M. Langdon of the Fort Worth Court of Civil Appeals is unopposed as nominee for chairman of the Texas State Bar's Judicial section.

Senator's Point

Improving Social Security

By RALPH YARBOROUGH
United States Senator

The House of Representatives has approved and sent to the Senate a bill to raise Social Security payments and otherwise improve assistance for some 23 million retired or disabled Americans. Consider, if you will, the old age survivors and disability insurance section of the federal Social Security Bill, and what it means to 1,090,000 Texans who receive these payments.

Earlier this year President Lyndon B. Johnson recommended several changes in the Social Security program. The House-passed Social Security bill does not do as much as President Johnson recommended, but it does provide a more reasonable payment system for our retired and disabled citizens, who today are suffering because of the rising cost of living.

This House bill provides an increase for every Social Security recipient of 12 1/2 per cent. Retired Texans now drawing Social Security receive an average of $73.54 a month. With this bill they would receive an average of $82.73 a month.

Married Social Security recipients will receive around $125 a month per couple. In other words, Texans stand to gain an average raise of $10.19 a month in Social Security payments, under the House bill. This is quite a bit less than President Johnson recommended to the Congress when he proposed a graduated increase of 15 to 20 per cent.

I want to make it clear now that I am referring to the federal Social Security payments, not the state-old-age welfare program which is administered by the state of Texas and financed with state and federal funds, mostly federal money.

The proposal before Congress also increases the minimum a retired person can receive under Social Security. At the present time, the minimum payment under Social Security is $44 a month. This bill would raise that minimum to $50 a month as a minimum Social Security payment. President Johnson asked a $70 a month minimum. I favor the minimum recommended by the President, $70 a month.

Some 65,000 disabled widows and widowers between 50 and 62 years of age are brought under guaranteed cash survivor benefits for the first time. Young workers who are injured and handicapped before they become 31 years of age are also eligible for disability benefits for the first time, if they paid into Social Security for 15 months or more.

The House bill is an improvement over the present Social Security laws, but many inequities remain. We need to raise the earnings base so that individuals who are able to pay more into Social Security and welfare won't suffer while waiting for a busy Congress to act.

We should raise the amount of money a retired person is able to earn working without penalizing him by cutting his benefits. The House bill raises the amount a retired Social Security worker can earn from $125 to $140 a month. But even if he earns $140, a retired person drawing the minimum $50 Social Security check would still be making less than $200 a month. That's a poor reward for having worked so many years.

Money is very tight this year because of the cost of the war in Vietnam. But I believe that we can do more and that we owe more to the senior citizens of the United States who made this country great, who made it what it is today with their dedication to hardwork, to sobriety, to thrift, and to many other "older" virtues sometimes scorned today. Their dedication and their labor built this country. Their standard of living has gone down because of jumps in the cost of living and inflation. It is time we raised those standards again.

Taxpayers Quiz

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — What right does the IRS have to seize somebody's property or bank account for unpaid taxes?

A — Federal tax law provides several actions that IRS can take to protect the government revenue when a taxpayer refuses to satisfy his obligations voluntarily.

Before enforcement action is taken, a person who owes taxes is given ample opportunity to voluntarily pay his tax liability. A taxpayer is sent several written notices and afforded conferences. If in response to any one of these notices the taxpayer cooperates, no enforcement action is taken. Only all attempts to gain the taxpayer's cooperation in regard to the settlement of his tax liability have failed, does IRS initiate action to enforce the law.

Q — I have my maid lunch. Do I have to pay Social Security tax on that too?

A — No. The Social Security tax applies only to cash paid to household employees for wages and transportation. You do not have to include the value of the meals you provide.

Q — I just got a letter inviting me to a charity ball. If I buy tickets can I list this as a charitable deduction?

A — This may be a deductible expense if the event is sponsored by a qualified organization. In that case, a deduction may be taken for that portion of the ticket price that exceeds the value you receive by buying the tickets.

In other words, if the ticket kets entitle you to attend a dance then you would have to subtract what it would cost to attend a similar dance from the amount you pay for the tickets to determine the deduction. If you buy the tickets and do not attend the event the law still requires you to reduce your charitable contribution by the value of your ticket.

To simplify things for contributors, IRS has requested that sponsors of charitable fund-raising events list the actual admission price and the amount collected as a contribution right on the ticket.

Q — My boss says that since I didn't file a new withholding certificate by May 1, I have to wait until January 1 to do it. Is that right?

A — No. Many employers will let an employee change his withholding certificate at any time. Under the law, however, the employer is only required to make payroll changes four times a year, on January 1, May 1, July 1, or October 1, for changes filed at least 30 days previously.

Q — I give my maid lunch. Do I have to pay Social Security tax on that too?

A — No. The Social Security tax applies only to cash paid to household employees for wages and transportation. You do not have to include the value of the meals you provide.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

BY VERN SANFORD

When you go fishing you like to brag about the "net results." In other words — the fish you not only "hook" but get into the landing net. Some bass fishermen disdain nets. Not this angler! Believe you me they are essential. We've lost some mighty fine bass simply because there was no net handy to bring them into the boat. And that's a great disappointment!

There are times, too, when the netter gets careless and the fish gets away. Thus the care and netting of fish becomes a serious matter.

Every fisherman has his own style of landing a fish. It makes a pretty picture when a man leans over the gunwale of the boat and neatly sticks his thumb into the yawning mouth of a big bass, with a lure barely hanging in its lip. Many are brought in like that.

On the other hand, the fisherman with a good aluminum frame net, having a hoop at least 20 inches across and a handle at least two feet long, has the best chance of getting his fighting fish into the meat box.

There are numerous types of nets. Our first one was made by stretching a grain sack between the forks of a stick.

Today however, all of us have a variety of nets to choose from. And we're lucky!

Another important thing is to have the net handy. Too many times when the net is needed it is tangled with the anchor rope, a loose plug on the floor, or one corner of the mesh is caught under the ice chest.

When an experienced fisherman climbs aboard with all his gear (rods, reels and tackle box) one of the first things he does is check both the location of his paddle and the whereabouts of his fishing net. If they are handy and he is seated on an approved float-type cushion, or wearing a life vest, he's all set to crank up and get going.

A net with a fairly long handle has its advantages because it provides a better opportunity to corral the fish correctly. Nearly every hooked bass reacts differently, and accordingly each may have to be netted in a different manner.

However, there is a basic principle which should be followed. Never slam the net down on top of the fish. In the first place, the fish can see, and that movement alone may cause it to break away.

One of the best ways is to lower the net into the water and let the angler carefully maneuver the fish head-first into the mouth of the net. Then the netter can scoop it up. Naturally this brings on another complication when fishing with multiple hook lures. Those hooks will become entangled in the mesh. But you do have the fish and that is the thing that counts.

Some fishermen will disengage the hooks while the fish is still head down in the net. Then they slip a strong forefinger into the fish gills and lift it out for the stringer. Or, if it is a black bass they grasp its lower lip. Such a slip tends to paralyze the fish.

If it's a catfish you need to use caution to keep from getting spiked. Catfish can be very dangerous. If you are smart you'll slip off its sharply pointed spines. These spines are venomous and can be mightily painful if embedded in a fisherman's hand or body.

Mesh in today's nets usually is made of nylon. Some are of plastic webbing.

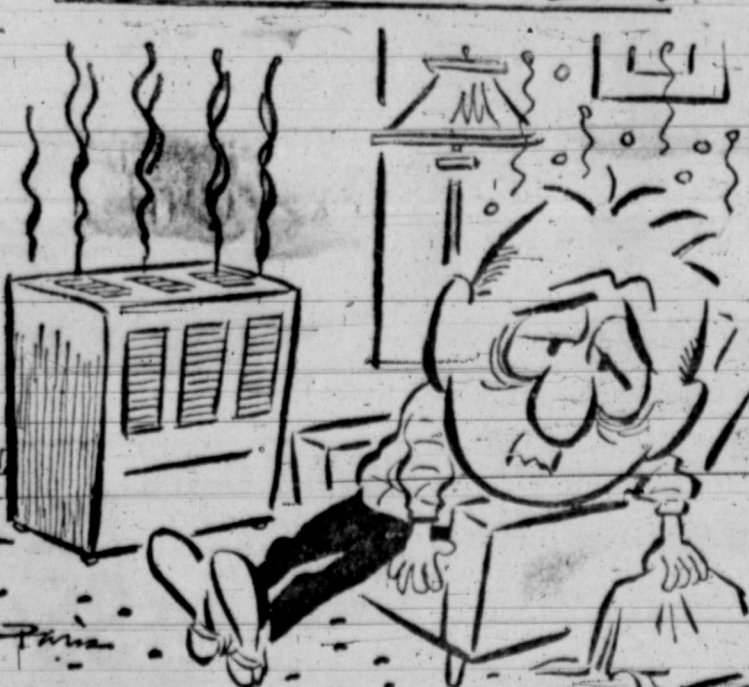

A new Tangle Proof rubber net now is on the market. It is about the nicest thing we've seen. Bill Moore, tackle representative of Brownwood, showed us one recently. When the net is not in use it is shallow and shaped about like a dishpan. However, it's soft rubber mesh stretches with the weight of the fish.

Another good feature is that hooks do not get tangled in its mesh. This makes it easier to get the fish on the stringer and the lure back into the water.

We're always happy to see improvements in fishing gear and this use of rubber mesh certainly is another aid for the angler.
