LONDON BARBECUE WAS A WONDERFUL SUCCESS

A crowd estimated at five thousand people, enjoyed the hospitality of the people of the London community during the day and night of July 20th.

Early in the morning an endless caravan of cars began to pour into this favored section of Kimble County, which continued with unbroken intermission until noon. A fine barbecued luncheon was served to all present at the noon hour, and from the way their guests partook of the food, we feel sure that everyone enjoyed themselves.

The speaking program was begun at eleven o'clock by Judge Coke R. Stevenson, who in his usual able and eloquent manner presented his candidacy for the office of Representative of the 36th District. From the attention given him and the hearty applause accorded at the conclusion of his speech, there is no question but what his talk was most effective.

Judge Carl Runge of Mason, was introduced by the master of ceremonies, and gave his reason for voting for a number of the candidates for state office. He especially emphasized that he should vote for Hon. J. T. Robinson for Land Commissioner, Judge Smith for the 4th Court of Civil Appeals and Claud Hudspeeth for Congress. He spoke at length on the reasons why we should support these men, and we feel that he did a great deal of good in their behalf. Incidentally we are going to vote for these gentlemen.

In the afternoon Judge W. C. Baker of Kerrville, made an able address in the interest of his candidacy for Representative from this district. Judge is a good entertainer, and his talk was enjoyed by the audience.

He was followed by Judge J. H. McLean of Llano, who spoke in the interest of his candidacy for re-election to the office of District Judge for the 33rd Judicial District. He reviewed his attitude on Law Enforcement, and announced his policy toward the future administration of law in this district.

The Hon. Thomas L. Blanton of Abilene, addressed a large audience in the interest of his candidacy for the United States Senate at five o'clock. He reviewed his record as a member of Congress, and in a convincing and able manner announced his attitude on policies that vitally affect the interest of the people of this county, especially the tariff on raw products. As we have not been favored with a speech from any other candidate for this office, Judge Blanton will likely carry the county, as he made two speeches within its boundaries, and heretofore our people have favored the man who visits us.

Announcement was made that Judge N. T. Stubbs, a candidate for the office of District Judge for this district, was detained in the city of Mason, due to illness and on the advice of his doctor. He sent word to the audience that he regretted to lose an opportunity to talk to them, but under the circumstances he could not be present.

The Mason band supplied the music for the occasion and it was appreciated by the great crowd. We feel that we are expressing the sentiment of hundreds of people who were guests of the London community on this occasion, in saying that the barbecue was a wonderful success, and trust that it will be our pleasure to visit them again in the future.

Mrs. M. Aubrey, who has been in Dallas for the past several weeks where she underwent an operation, returned home Tuesday much improved. She has with her for a few days her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. McKinney, of Cooper, Texas, and a brother, Mr. S. N. Park, of Montgomery, Alabama.

REGULAR MEETING OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The regular monthly meeting of the Kimble County Chamber of Commerce was held Tuesday night, July 24, at the Court House in Junction. The meeting was called to order by the president, Judge Weaver H. Baker, after which the band made excellent music to quite a crowd of C. of C. enthusiasts.

It was advised that in the near future the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which is composed of 150 people will visit Junction on its return tour from West Texas and New Mexico, and a motion was made and carried to give these people a free barbecue one day of their visit, which will be the 13th of August, for the 12th will be on Sunday. The motion also prevailed to invite the West Texas Utilities employees of the South-west Texas District to visit us. The number will be about six hundred. It was also agreed to give these people a free barbecue dinner during one day of their stay.

The secretary was instructed to write Mr. George of San Angelo, advising him that his services will be accepted to supervise the street construction of this town. Mr. George is an experienced and successful engineer.

Quite a delegation of our London friends were in attendance and we were certainly glad to have them. Several of them made nice talks. Those present from London were:

Gayton Louis, John Paul Jones, Owen Amaon, C. E. Weaver, E. F. Amaon, L. W. Puckett, Shack Ivy, Howard Horn, F. Cummins, Bill Amaon, Bob Furr, E. P. Furr, Bob McKinney, G. M. Houston, Marvin Hunter, Jr.

Several topics were up for discussion, the most important of which was the proposition to sell the green fee books for the Junction Golf and Country Club. It was unanimously decided that these books be sold at once and a committee was appointed for that purpose.

The next regular meeting will be held the third Tuesday in August.

NEW INNOVATION TO BE AT THE TEXAN THEATRE

The Texan Theatre is making rapid strides in the way of entertaining the public. Commencing Saturday, the 28th, manager Lockley states that the show will be run continuously from 2:30 to 10:00 p. m. The public may come in at any time between those hours, get the benefit of a full show. If this policy proves popular with the theatre going public, the Texan will put on afternoon programs for the entire week.

The manager has booked Al Jolson in "The Jazz Singer," who will appear soon, and to surprise the theatre going public, it will be synchronized, giving you a chance to hear what you see. The date for this attraction will be given later, as the booking date has not been definitely decided.

ROTARY CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING LUNCHEON

On last Thursday at the noon hour the Rotary Club met at the Fritz Hotel for their weekly meeting of "Get-together" and good fellowship. And it was truly a good-fellowship meeting.

Judge Coke R. Stevenson, president of the organization, acting in that capacity, introduced the visitors, of which there were five, then calling upon the chairman of the program committee, Rev. Milton F. Hill, to further announce the procedure. Rev. Hill then called upon each member to rise and introduce himself, stating where he was born and how long he had resided in Junction. Quite a number of amusing remarks were occasioned from this part of the program, one remark especially amusing at the conclusion of the self-introductions, when Judge Stevenson remarked that there was a rather unique feature of the introductions in that there were only three states represented, Texas, Missouri and "Gillespie," two of the members having been born in Gillespie County, Texas.

Following this, the visitors were each asked for a few words and was readily responded to.

Members present were: C. W. Atchison, E. R. Borden, H. O. Denman, Joe Fritz, J. N. Hodges, Jno. M. Hankins, M. F. Hill, Emil A. Loeffler, W. B. May, W. P. Riley, L. E. Standifer, J. Holt Smith and the president, Coke R. Stevenson. The visitors were: F. O. Thompson of the Builders Exchange, making up membership attendance; John F. Pipkin, undertaker of Beaumont, also making up membership attendance; Chas. Combs, manager of Division F, West Texas Utilities Co.; Mr. C. C. Allert of the General Electric Co. of Dallas; M. Wilkinson, of the Junction Eagle.

At this luncheon the Rotary badges were delivered to the members and worn for the first time.

CATTLE LOAN COMPANY SELLS LUMBER YARD

S. A. McCarroll, president and general manager of the McCarroll Lumber Company of San Angelo, acquired by purchase the local lumber yard here this week, and C. W. McCarroll, vice-president of the San Angelo organization will move to Junction and take charge of the business immediately.

This organization is a One Hundred and Twenty Thousand Dollar Corporation, and has been in business in San Angelo for some years, where they are well and favorably known. Mr. McCarroll stated that they had purchased the site of the present lumber yard, and would immediately put in a large stock of building materials.

It is their intention to interest a building and loan association in coming to Junction at an early date, which he stated he believed would be no trouble by reason of their experience with the building loan business in previous years.

We are very glad to see these experienced materialmen move to our city and engage in a business which we predict will be one of the strongest within a very few months, in our city. Their establishment of a business of this nature is another evidence of the belief of good business men that Junction and adjacent territory will rapidly grow into a much larger city.

THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Lawrence R. Doak, Minister Sunday School and Communion every Sunday.

Next Sunday, July 29, will be preaching service. Sermon both morning and evening by the pastor. The public is cordially invited to attend.

We are particularly anxious that visitors in our community shall be at home with us.

WEST TEXAS C. OF C. TO VISIT JUNCTION

We are in receipt of information from Homer D. Wade, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, that a motorday of approximately one hundred and fifty people representing the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will arrive in Junction on the afternoon of August 12th, and remain over until the morning of the 14th.

In the party there will be many of the leading business men of West Texas together with guests who are making the trip. It is expected that several State officials will be in the party. We are looking forward with pleasure to this visit and trust that our entire citizenship will make an especial effort to entertain them during their visit with us.

B. Y. P. U. GROUPS

The members of the B. Y. P. U. have been divided into three groups. The program each Sunday will be taken care of by one of these groups. The members of each group and the group captains are as follows:

Group 1. Ruth Lee Hoggett, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Carpenter, Lola Mae Goben, Leona Abbott, Vernelle Tinsley, with Ruby Johnson group captain.

Group 2. Ruby Davis, Ray Munn, Alton Powell, Fred Lester, Vivian James, Grady Kendrick, with Mrs. Luther McDonald captain.

Group 3. Inez Ragland, Ramsey Randolph, Adeline Eastman, Cecelia Merchant, Flossie Boone, Mrs. G. W. Crabb, with Frank Coffield captain.

Frank Coffield is out of town and Mrs. D. L. Williams will act as captain of group three until his return.

Messrs. Allen W. Jones of the Jones Saddlery Co. and J. T. Keaton of Keaton's Shop of Ozona were in Junction Tuesday in the interest of the proposed bus line from Mason, Junction, Ozona to McCombs.

COMPLIMENTS EAGLE AND CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Eagle is in receipt of a letter complimenting it and the Chamber of Commerce on the issuance of the folder recently turned out for free distribution. The letter was written by a man who knows good printing and his remarks concerning the folder are very much appreciated.

The letter follows: "Junction Publishing Co., Junction, Texas.

Dear Mr. Wilkinson:

We have received an invitation, 'Join Me at Junction,' and we are pleased to note the imprint 'Eagle Print, Junction, Texas.'

The writer wishes to compliment you on the very excellent arrangement of half-tones and reading matter, and press work on this folder; had the imprint been some Eastern city, the work could not have been done better. You have turned out a first-class job, and your Chamber of Commerce certainly is proud of the fact that Junction has a printing plant where in the very best of printing may be had.

Wishing you may have other nice jobs to print, and with kind regards, we are,

Yours very truly,

San Antonio Paper Co."

FIDELIS CLASS READY TO SERVE CHICKEN DINNER

The Fidelis Class of the First Baptist Church met at the home of Mrs. G. W. Crabb Tuesday night to complete their plans for the chicken dinner which they will serve on election day in Mr. N. C. Patterson's store.

Everything has been well planned and the class will be ready to serve dinner to the hungry voters and their families at eleven o'clock Saturday morning. Dinner will be served from eleven until two o'clock. Light lunches of sandwiches, cake, pie and coffee or iced tea will be served throughout the afternoon and evening. There will be plenty to eat and the dinner will be served family style so that no one needs to eat that which they don't like in order to get enough.

The menu is as follows: Chicken and dressing, mashed potatoes, creamed peas, salad, jelly, pie, iced tea or coffee and all the trimmings.

Adults will be served for fifty cents and children for thirty cents. We feel sure that you can not find a better bargain anywhere than that.

There will also be a candy table where home made candies of all kinds can be bought.

JUNCTION STREETS WILL BE PAVED IN SHORT TIME

State Highway Engineer Gib Gilcrest, Division Engineer Moursund and Brown King were in the city today and stated that they were very glad to know that the Chamber of Commerce would proceed with the construction of the street work at once.

Mr. George, a man who has had much experience in road construction and paving work as engineer, has been employed by our local Chamber of Commerce to prepare plans and specifications at once. It is hoped that a contract will be let within the next three weeks for this work.

HAGEN-HUFFMAN

The many friends of Mrs. A. P. Hagen and Earl Huffman will be surprised and glad to learn that they were united in the holy bonds of matrimony last Saturday night at Kerrville, Texas, the Reverend Merrill of the Baptist church officiating.

Mrs. Hagen is a prominent ranch lady of Kimble County, as is also Mr. Huffman.

This paper joins with the many friends of these young people in wishing for them a most happy and successful married life.

ENTERTAINS

Last Friday Mrs. W. W. Allen threw open the doors of her hospitable home to the members of the La-A-Lot, Merry Wives and Ladies Afternoon card clubs and a number of friends.

Mrs. Allen was assisted in receiving by her daughter, Mrs. John Phillips, and Mesdames Raymond Allen, Ed Allen, W. B. Dixon and Carl Wolf. Mesdames W. W. Allen, W. B. Dixon and Carl Wolf were gowned in green while the other members of the receiving line wore pink, thus carrying out the color scheme of the party.

The guests were invited to the big glazed in-porch where tables were laden with appetizing viands. Lunch was served cafeteria style. Here the above mentioned ladies dispensed the food. Mrs. Allen presented each of the ladies who assisted in serving with a dainty pink or green organdy apron, ruffly trimmed. Those dressed in pink received a green apron while those in green were given aprons of pink, which made a pleasing color contrast. Barbecued meats, Spanish macaroni, frijoles, stuffed tomato salad topped with mayonnaise, pickles, olives, a variety of sandwiches, hot rolls, iced tea, coffee and iced fruit cookies made up the menu.

After the luncheon the guests were requested to don their kimonos. With Mrs. Douglas Motley of Ballinger, and sister, Mrs. Lela Peters, of Benavides, Texas, playing the march the kimono parade entered the living room, with Mesdames John Phillips and W. P. Riley in the lead. Following the parade before the judges, Messrs. A. L. Mudge, Rudolph Tatum and Ed Allen, the couples each gave a cake walk which caused much merriment.

Mrs. C. T. Orth, in a black satin kimono embroidered with red roses and trimmed with a deep black fringe, won first prize for having the prettiest kimono. She was presented with a handsome pink Japanese rug. The second prize, a Japanese tea-pot, went to Mrs. W. P. Riley, who wore a lovely pink satin kimono elaborately trimmed with deep pink fringe.

The third prize went to little Gene Murphy of Havana, Cuba, who sang a Spanish song.

Mrs. Guy Wynne rendered a lovely vocal solo and Mrs. Pierce Hoggett gave a humorous reading, "Foolish Questions," both numbers being heartily enjoyed and brought a round of applause.

Mesdames Conde Hardeman and A. W. Loeffler were scheduled to appear on the program but they were unable to attend the party.

After the program the guests marched to the big front porch where several games of cards were played. The porch with its trailing vines and beautiful pot plants made an attractive setting for the guests in their pretty gowns in pastel shades.

Mrs. Brown King of San Angelo won the first prize, a green flower holder with matching candlesticks bearing pink whip candles.

The second prize, a green glass powder jar with two perfume bottles went to Mrs. H. W. Rieck.

Mrs. Arthur Booz of San Antonio received the consolation prize, a green and pink memorandum book.

Iced amber punch was served throughout the afternoon and at the close of the games peach ice-cream, angel food cake and fruit cake iced in green were served.

On their departure the guests thanked Mrs. Allen for a perfect day.

A deal was closed recently whereby Roland Martin becomes the proprietor of the City Cafe, he having purchased it from H. I. Taylor. Complete details of the transaction will be given next week, as Roland does not take over the business until the 30th.

FOREIGN SHEEP PRODUCTS HIGHER THAN AMERICA

In spite of having to sell sheep products in unprotected world markets and of facing greater and more numerous problems than do American sheep men, the wool producers of New Zealand, Australia, and South Africa are receiving higher prices for their products and making more money than their American competitors, was the conclusion drawn by J. F. Walker of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics in a talk to livestock men at Texas A. & M. College Monday morning. Mr. Walker, who is secretary of the Ohio Sheep Growers' Association, made a trip to those countries last year to study the sheep industry for the Bureau and his talk here is the only one to be made in Texas at this time according to J. M. Jones of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station who presided.

The main reasons attributed by Mr. Walker for the greater success of these foreign competitors is that they have learned to breed a lighter shrinkage wool of uniform quality, to class their wools so that the buyer secures only one type in buying a lot, and because they have learned how to co-operate in merchandising their products. "They were amazed," the speaker said, "to learn that sheep men in America with much more favorable opportunities such as nearness to market and a heavy tariff had done so little toward the concentration, grading and joint selling of wool."

"The outlook for the wool industry is very bright," Mr. Walker declared, "for consumption has outstripped the production of this staple in the last few years. An eight years' world supply of wool has been consumed in the last seven years. There is little likelihood of New Zealand, Australia, or South Africa expanding their sheep production to any degree and the only probable sources of increased supplies are in the United States and South America."

"In New Zealand marketing is in the hands of a control board made up largely of producers. They work on the theory that the man who pays the fiddler has the right to call the tune." In other words, give the customer what he wants. Accordingly they grade very closely, penalizing all carcasses that weigh less or more than 30 to 36 pounds dressed. They receive less for their dressed muttons than Americans do for live weights yet out of the 19 cents per pound paid wholesale for mutton in London in December 1927 the New Zealand producer received 16 cents. Of the three cent margin half went for freight. In spite of the lower prices for their products New Zealanders pay more for what they buy and yet prosper in the sheep business. Ford cars sell for $850, gasoline is 50 to 60 cents per gallon, and farm machinery is one-third higher than in this country.

"Australian sheep men are up against a hard proposition. They have been forced inland by government land settlement legislation until they are ranching on land with less than 20 inches annual rainfall and much of it with less than 10 inches. Graduated land taxes force them to pay much higher per acre taxes than small farmers; the rabbit and dog pests force them to erect expensive fences; their labor costs are high because of the government minimum wage law of $20 per week for an eight hour day and Saturday afternoon off; and the government forces them to maintain up-to-date shearing houses with a bath for each four shearers, the cost of such buildings running up to $8,000 to $15,000. In a total population of six millions nearly one-fourth are supported by government pensions, and this in a new country! The per capita tax last year in Australia was $70. Yet in spite of all this and droughts and distance to markets besides the sheep industry is the only one paying its own way in Australia. In 1927 their clip averaged 88-10 pound per head and netted the grower 35 cents per pound on the average, due to their wonderful system of concentration and grading and auction selling at six points.

"Over in South Africa there are 40 million sheep or a sheep population about 8 times as dense as in the United States. Their big trouble there is in parasites and diseases, many producers having to drench their flocks twice a month for stomach worms. Labor is cheap but not worth much with common farm laborers drawing from $2.50 to $5 monthly. The black population outnumbers the white 20 to 1 and the whites are divided between Englishmen and Boers. Yet they have learned to co-operate in concentrating their wool in great warehouses where it is graded and sold gradually throughout the year. Last year South Africa producers received 40 cents per pound for their better wools in the grease."

"One of the greatest aids to the sheep industry in these countries," Mr. Walker said, "is the fine college training they give their boys in sheep flock management and wool grading. Such work should be increased in America where now there are only four colleges giving special wool work—Texas, Wyoming, California and Arizona. An effort will be made to enlarge and strengthen the courses in wool production and marketing a major course at Texas A. & M. College, according to Dean E. J. Kyle who was present."

American producers can raise the value of the American wool clip 10 cents per pound by better breeding, better preparation of the clip for the market and by better selling methods," Mr. Walker concluded. He was enthusiastic over the start that has been made in Texas and elsewhere in concentrating wool for sale but urged that this movement take on larger proportions to cover the entire United States and that careful grading and merchandising be added.

FOR SALE—Two of the best goat, sheep and cattle ranches in Blanco county, about 12 miles to railroad; 2300 and 2600 acres. Fred Bremer, Blanco, Texas.

TOO MANY COUNTIES IN THE UNITED STATES

Too many counties in the United States is held to be one of the causes of the unsatisfactory farm conditions everywhere, bringing as they do higher taxes and fewer public improvements. Convinced of this, Wheeler McMillen, associate editor of Farm & Fireside, has just completed an investigation which led him into Southern Tennessee, where one of the most notable experiments has been carried out with conspicuous success.

Patrons in Southern Tennessee declare that they get ten times more for their tax money than formerly, and have other advantages the value of which cannot be estimated in dollars and cents. Mr. McMillen explains that the first consolidation of counties in Tennessee was of James and Hamilton counties. In the latter county is Chattanooga, which was anxious to extend its trade into the surrounding territory. This, however, was impossible because of the bad roads, James County having little more than a mile and a half of all-year-round roads. The poorer county maintained 19 schools, none with more than one teacher and with terms of only four or five months. Yet it had a pretentious court house with a full staff of officials.

When the vote for consolidation came, 1100 persons voted, as against a record of 900 in any previous election. Only 70 voters, office holders and those who expected to be candidates, opposed the movement. As a result, the poorer county is now relieved of the support of a judge, sheriff, county trustees, register, court clerk, superintendent of county schools, three road commissioners and four justices of the peace. It is also freed of the upkeep of the court house, which has been turned into a school. Now the county has ten schools with from 2 to 16 teachers each.

The farmers have the services of a county agent, whereas before they could not afford one. There are excellent roads, and in many cases the taxes on single farms have been reduced substantially.

So successful has this experiment been that now it is proposed to take another adjoining county into the consolidation. Mr. McMillen wonders how many counties in other parts of the country could join under a similar arrangement and save great sums besides giving farmers additional advantages.

"INSIDE" INFORMATION

A good homemade furniture polish is made by mixing one part of raw linseed oil with two parts of turpentine. A little melted beeswax may be added.

If you have a pressure cooker you can cook whole wheat in it for a breakfast food. Cover the wheat grains with  $1\frac{1}{2}$  times as much water by measure, soak overnight, and cook under 20 to 25 pounds pressure for one hour or longer if very soft grains are desired.

YOUR FLOWER GARDEN

(by Romaine B. Ware)
Second Bloom from Perennials
Many of the perennials will give you a second crop of flowers if you will treat them right. When the flowers upon the Pyrethrum fade if you will cut them back to about five inches from the ground, dig in a good handful of steamed bone-meal, water them well and mulch to keep the soil cool, you will be rewarded with a second bloom. They will bloom more or less till fall. Pyrethrum, particularly the pink shades, are very choice and the second bloom will be welcome.

The same procedure will work with delphinium, hollyhocks, ice-land poppies and many other things. Never try it with peonies as it might be fatal to the plants. In the summer when the perennial phlox has had its first grand display of color, cut it back before it goes to seed and it will give you a second blooming almost as good as the first. The myosotis or forget-me-not will do much better if cut back in the summer. Even with it you will have some bloom, but cutting back and feeding will renew it and make it come all the stronger. Coreopsis, shasta daisy (not all varieties), many of the pink, wallflowers and violas will all respond to this treatment.

Many of the annuals are greatly benefited if you will cut them back, feed, water and mulch them. Their nature is to grow well in the spring when the ground is cool and the mulching and watering helps them. If you are afraid to try it with all your plants, try it out with a few of them and you will see for yourself. There are many things to learn about gardening, and each year you should try to add to your garden knowledge.

One very good thing to try is the growing of some new and different plant or flower each year. Try something you have not grown before. In a few years you will find that you are familiar with a lot of new things and you will get a lot of pleasure from it. We can never stand still in gardening any more than in anything else; we either go ahead or slide back. See that your gardening is going ahead.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

(By John Joseph Gaines, M. D.)
Ivy Poisoning
Each springtime brings its round of aggravations. An attack of ivy poisoning may be one of yours. You picnic, clad in light, airy, and very wholesome garments; you sit on, or handle the venomous plant; you are in for it, if you are at all susceptible.

Some authors claim that you cannot be affected, unless you bruise the leaves of the ivy on some part of the person. I believe this to be an error. Rarely does a pic-nicker or fisherman bruise these leaves on his face—and the face is the surface most frequently affected. Older writers say that, people who are very sensitive to this plant, may become poisoned by simply walking thru a forest, where the "poison-vine" is in bloom. I am satisfied I have treated such cases.

A new suggestion is, that we carry a small bar of good soap with us on our woodland excursion; on being "stung" by a bruised leaf, soap and wash the points of contact thoroughly; no poison will result, they say. It's worth trying once.

The chemical poison from ivy is toxicodendric acid. It is said to be volatile—that is, may evaporate in air. Being an acid, alkalis are useful in treatment. My favorite prescription for quick results is, alcohol and lime-water, equal parts. Apply on soft cloths, wet with the solution, which should be kept out of the eyes. The solutions of lead salts are useful, but I have always feared lead absorption. Lead should never come in contact with eyes, except by advice of the oculist—it may do great harm. The poison patient should keep the bowels free with saline laxatives, and keep away from strong light, or extreme surface heat. Recovery in two to four days.

'MACHINE CONSCIOUSNESS'

Manufacturers of devices to lighten housework acknowledge their debt to the automobile. The present generation takes to machinery of all kinds in the home as a matter of course, and learns to operate it almost unconsciously. Speaking at a recent meeting of oil burner manufacturers, Leod D. Becker, Managing Director of the Oil Heating Institute of New York, attributed the "machine consciousness" of the present generation largely to the almost universal use of the motor car. The boy and girl of today," he said, "drive a 'gas buggy' as naturally as their ancestors swung the axe or plied the shovel and hoe."

Manufacturers of automatic oil burners find it easier to sell their products now than they did a few years ago when the average American was unaccustomed to handling machinery in the home.

Oil fuel, according to Mr. Becker, is driving coal from the cellars of America because it is far better adapted than solid fuel for use with automatic machinery. While the production of heat from petroleum dates back to the time of the Pharaohs, oil has taken its place in the American home as a convenient fuel, only in the past decade. In the present machine age, coal, on account of difficulty in transportation, storage and handling, and because it produces a large residue of useless ash, is losing out in competition with modern liquid fuel. While, at present, the two fuels cost about the same, oil has the advantage of being easier to regulate.

"The oil heater, with its thermostat control," said Mr. Becker, "is the busy housewife's best friend, in fact, the best mechanical servant of the household."

A New York Judge decided that a young man had a perfect right to kiss during a movie performance. This is one verdict of the law which is sure to be upheld by the younger generation.

Three bands at the convention were playing different airs all at once, and many who accidentally tuned in to the convention on their radio thought they were having a program of modern jazz!

The courtiers during the time of Henry VIII were not prohibitionists. Drinkables of all sorts consumed by the household of Henry VIII would cost in modern money, about $250,000 yearly.

"Flies have caused more deaths than all wars," says Major Ransom of the Medical Department of the United States Army. "Since the fly came into the world it has been synonymous with epidemics of pestilence and disease." But with FLY-TOX it is a very simple easy matter to rid the house of flies—to keep it fresh and clean, free of insect taint. FLY-TOX is the scientific insecticide developed at Mellon Institute of Industrial Research by Rex Fellowship. Simple instructions for killing ALL household insects on blue labeled bottles. #### AGAIN, OUR POLICY

It has been the policy of the Junction Publishing Company to never publish through the Eagle any Political Propaganda the week preceding election, which policy it has pursued without exception. There was an article printed pertaining to one of the offices that was inadvertently inserted in a few issues of this week's Eagle, but just as soon as the error was discovered it was corrected. If this is the second edition of the paper for this week which you have received, you will understand the reason for its issuance.

We do not believe in eleventh hour political propaganda, although at times, it might seem necessary, because of the impossibility of the party adversely affected having an opportunity to answer. When there is time for an answer to be published we do not mind for the columns of this paper being used by an aspirant to public office, but we do not feel that sufficient time is given when the paper is issued immediately preceding an election. This policy costs our Printing Company a nice sum of money each election year but we feel our action in the matter is appreciated, by both the candidates and the people.

PROMISES

We are told that at an early date in the history of Kimble County, there was being held in the court house a dance. It was during the pre-Volstead days and one of the gentlemen in attendance had become somewhat inebriated. His condition was noticeable, especially to the ladies present, and as he went about the room in an endeavor to get a partner for the next dance, he was politely told by each lady that they had the next set.

A companion who was with the gentleman requested him to accompany a party to town. He stated that he did not wish to, at that time, as there was going to be the largest dance in the history of the town the next set, for he personally knew that every lady had a partner.

In this day of politics and with the Modus Operandi used by the average voter, who tells each candidate, or leads him to believe, that he would support him in his race, if every vote was polled, that is promised, the aggregate for the county would probably look more like the total vote cast for Bexar than Kimble County. The writer happened to hear one man promise two candidates for the same office in almost as many minutes that he was certainly supporting him. For the most part, the voter in question, has no desire to deceive, but merely wishes to get along with everybody. But this method makes it mighty hard on the candidate to tell anything about his race until after the election, even though he may be an experienced politician. There is no reason why a fellow should get mad, when you don't support him, but some of them do.

A BAD RECORD IN CRIME PUNISHMENT

In a recent survey made in the most important section of a middle-western state it was found that a person charged with crime risks but one chance in 30 of being punished. Of 12,543 felony cases tried in a great American city in 1926 but 2,449 of the defendants were found guilty and a great many of these were released on parole or appeals or otherwise escaped prison. These are not isolated examples but more or less the general thing throughout the United States.

Inescapable difficulties beset the legislator or crime reformer who attempts to make punishment for the criminal certain. A mass of technicalities surrounds and helps to protect the defendant in criminal cases. Often a mawkish sentiment is aroused among a certain element that tries to make a martyr of the most hardened wrongdoer. And after conviction, reprieves, commutations of sentences and paroles often turn the unrelenting criminals out into society again to continue their depredations.

Crime suppression must be preceded by law enforcement rather than by more laws and red tape which invite more "technical" law-breaking.

At Your Command

Merely by pressing a button the electric generating stations and the 1,900 miles of transmission lines of this company are at your command—without an instant's notice.

This could not be if this company's generating and distribution systems did not grow faster than the customers' demands.

Keeping ahead of West Texas' growth and helping West Texas to grow by offering every facility for exceptional electric service at reasonable rates is the policy of this company.

Through your patronage and good will the West Texas Utilities Company has been able to carry out the policy. We appreciate that patronage and good will; too, we hope, through continued good service and by improving it where possible, to merit your patronage and good will in the future.

THE "VERY LATEST"

(by Cecile)

The vogue for printed cottons and linens continue without abatement and since it is one of the high spots of the summer mode, should have its full share of attention.

Behold, then, this charming little movie star in her printed cotton costume and broad-brimmed hat—and resist the temptation to have one of your own, if you can.

The model shown is of printed linen in smart shades of green and fawn, with a touch of black and orange for accenting colors. Trimming bands and blouse are of pale honey-colored linen. The grosgrain hat band and binding are of a rich, deep hunter's green.

You may have a short jacket or full length ensemble coat and skirt of printed cotton with contrasting plain fabric for the under-blouse—or, if you prefer, a coatless sports frock of the figured fabric. Either choice is supremely chic.

Shoes in Color?

The market has been flooded with shoes of colored kid and linen which offer remarkable opportunities for artistic color schemes. And yet, we so seldom see these tinted shoes worn to advantage. If you would indulge in a pair or two before the season closes, I think you'll find the most harmonious when matching the dominant color in some figured fabric instead of attempting to use them in contrast or as a match for plain shades. Gray, beige, and brown tones are exceptions to the rule, of course.

Pyjamas for the Beach

Modesty (?) may be responsible for the all-enveloping pyjama lounging robes so much the vogue for beach wear—but we doubt it. The equipment is too smartly becoming to have arrived for any but decorative reasons. Many of these beach sets are quite modernistic and most original as to line and design. If vacations are turned seaward—of course you'll have a set.

A Metallic Note for Fall

Among advance showings of fall fabrics there are some very interesting metallic crepes, having the metal design in mass effect on one side and silhouetted on the other. A number of metallic satins are also shown.

The area of the three great oceans of the earth are as follows: the Atlantic, 41,321,000 square miles; Pacific, 68,634,000 square miles; Indian, 29,430,000 square miles.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Among the many pleasant happenings at the V-H ranch, was a chicken barbecue, given to Mrs. Douglas Lacy of Houston, by Mrs. Ralph L. Moore and Mrs. Dawson Paul Perkins of Houston, and Mrs. E. K. Goodrich of Brownsville.

The occasion was Mrs. Lacy's birthday. Seven Hundred Springs was the scene. At 11 o'clock several cars left the ranch, arriving at the springs in time to prepare a most excellent barbecue lunch.

Mrs. Lacy was presented with various gifts, the cards being inscribed suitably with witty verses.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Bossman, new owners of the ranch, joined the party at the noon hour.

After the lunch and a trip across the river to examine the beautiful Springs, the party led by Mr. Bossman, repaired to picturesque Dripping Springs, where many pictures were taken.

The most enjoyable part of the event was that it was all a complete surprise to Mrs. Lacy.

Those who partook of the affair were: Mrs. Douglas Lacy, Ida Belle and Ernest Lacy, Mrs. Ralph Moore, Mary Low Moore, Miss Cleo Segrest, Miss Collier Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Paul Perkins and Estelle Perkins of Houston, Mrs. E. K. Goodrich, Mildred, George and Bob Goodrich of Brownsville, Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Bossman of V-H ranch.

GUEST HONORED

On Wednesday, July 18, Mrs. Joe Watson was hostess to the Merry Wives and Laf-A-Lot clubs and a number of friends. The honoree on this occasion was Miss Ysleta Sanders.

A bountiful luncheon was served at midday, consisting of baked chicken and dressing, creamed potatoes, English peas, stuffed tomatoes, cheese straws, hot rolls, iced tea, ice cream and cake.

Bridge was the medium of entertainment during the afternoon. Mrs. Dorothy Westmoreland won the Laf-A-Lot prize, pink silk "undies" and Mrs. H. W. Rieck made high score for the Merry Wives, she receiving a box of April Showers Dusting Powder. Mrs. Powell Paxton of Buena Vista, Virginia, won the guest prize, a Coty Vanity. The low cut prize, a tea towel, went to Miss Josephine Urban.

A set of dainty lingerie was presented to the guest of honor. Iced watermelon was served at the close of the happy day.

PARTY

A happy occasion was the party given Monday evening by Mrs. Lucy Motley at the Hodges Hotel, in honor of Mrs. J. T. Barton of San Benito.

Mrs. Barton, nee Miss Mae Allen, was a former schoolmate of Mrs. Motley's and the guests were those who attended school here together twenty-eight years ago.

Reminiscences of bygone days brought both smiles and tears. Old pictures were brought forth and viewed and buggy-rides and beaux of former years discussed.

Iced fruit punch was served during the evening to Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Barton of San Benito, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. Calvert Reid, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bisset, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ramsey, Mrs. Willie Smith Lynn, Mrs. Sammie Jobs Baker and Mrs. Minnie Jetton Barnes.

COME TO THIS ENTERTAINMENT

When? Tuesday, July 31. Where? At the Methodist church.

What? A birthday party given by the Efficiency Class.

For Whom? Why, everybody, of course. We want big, little, old and young. We want men, women, home people and the visitors. We promise all a good time. Games, contests and readings will be prepared.

Refreshments will be served to all.

We are sending out the following invitation to everybody:

We are giving a party to each of you.

'Tis something novel; 'tis something new.

We send to each this little card.

What we want you to do is not very hard:

Just bring as many pennies as years you are old.

(We promise the number shall never be told).

We extend to all a welcome most hearty.

Now surely you'll come to your own birthday party.

If you fail to get a card, come on anyway—you are wanted.

Don't forget the date, Tuesday, July 31.

The band will be there.

OUTSIDE ICERS" are becoming increasingly popular. Your house or apartment can be equipped with outside icing facilities at very nominal cost.

Then the iceman can service your refrigerator without having to enter the kitchen.

Refrigerators of the "Outside Icer" type cost very little more than the regular models. With such a refrigerator, serviced from the outside, you simply leave the ice coupons in the ice compartment—the iceman does the rest.

Senator Jim Reed, who says he leaves the Senate next March, to practice law, should change his mind. Others can practice law as well as he. Few can put important truths with emphasis such as his.

Have you read what Reed said, denouncing the League of Nations, in 1919?

"I decline to set up any government greater than that established by the fathers, greater than that baptized in the blood of patriots from the lanes of Lexington to the forests of the Argonne, greater than that sanctified by the tears of all the mothers whose heroic sons have gone down to death to sustain its glory and its independence. I decline to set up any government greater than the Government of the United States of America."

Thanks largely to Reed's good fighting, the wishy-washies did not succeed in dragging this country into a European super-government. Such a man ought to be in public life, fighting to his last day.

In big cities hundreds of thousands go for their holiday in automobiles. A philosopher said, "Most of the cars are not paid for." In thousands of cases they represent money that might have meant independence in old age."

The automobiles represent money spent for health, pleasure and time saving NOW. Not one in ten is really independent in old age, nor was he before automobiles came.

Better buy a car, enjoy it, and use the added health and time saved to work for independence. No car, wisely used, ever made a man poor.

Rear-Admiral Bradley A. Fiske offers a suggestion to discourage criminals.

The automobile's "getaway." He drives up, robs a store, shoots down objectors, jumps into his automobile and is gone.

Rear-Admiral Fiske suggests that following an automobile hold-up all auto traffic be stopped in city streets.

"I suggest that the police sound three or four whistles, all policemen hearing it to pass it along. Traffic would stop, cars would be searched. Any man ignoring the signal would be identified as a criminal."

On warships, says Admiral Fiske, when men get out of control the bugler sounds "Attention!" Every man then stands where he is, or proves himself mutinous.

Bolshevism gave peasants the land, taking it from worthless nobles. That suited the peasants.

The Bolshevism told the peasants how much they might charge for their crops, how much they might bring to the cities, etc. That did NOT suit the peasants. They cut down wheat acreage, causing dangerous shortage, and Russia is looking everywhere for cash wheat, with immediate delivery, and ships to carry it.

You cannot safely interfere with man's most important mainspring, which is SELFISHNESS.

Hope springs eternal. And, fortunately for human beings, majority of us "listen with credulity to the whispers of fancy and pursue with eagerness the phantom of hope; expect that age will perform the promises of youth, and that the deficiencies of the present day will be supplied by the morrow."

In Reno, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., recently divorced, married a charming lady, divorced the day before.

In this country we have one automobile for every five people. Everybody could ride at the same time.

Abyssinia, with the fewest automobiles, has one car for every 91,743 people.

The 1,900,000,000 human beings on earth have 29,700,000 automobiles, 24,000,000 of them in the United States. We certainly are prosperous.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

(by Nancy Hart)

With just a little planning—and not much expense—the porch can be made the beauty spot of the home for all summer hours.

Colorful laquers in the new shades are very easy to apply. Gay cretonnes for slip covers can be had as low as 23 cents a yard. The bridge table established on the porch with chairs in place for a game at once suggests a good time. And of all the beverage trays seen in the shops this season, the prettiest was a simple tin tray enameled in red, with an English hunting print applied in the center and shellacked to protect it.

Quaint flower prints also lend themselves well to this treatment; likewise many Japanese and Chinese prints.

The well-dressed porch is a compelling invitation to interesting friends as they drive by, while the barren porch promises but a dismal time. Let's think it over.

Ripe Apricot Jam

Do not peel, but slice, pit and crush well about 2 pounds of ripe fruit. Measure 3 1/2 level cups crushed fruit into a large kettle. Add seven level cups and mix well. Use hottest fire and stir constantly before and while boiling. Bring to full, rolling boil and boil hard one minute. Remove, stir in 1/2 cup liquid pectin; skim, pour quickly and cover hot jam at once with hot melted paraffin.

Economical Hint When Canning

When measuring out ingredients for mixed pickles, pepper hash or chow chow, do not discard bits of this and that left over from accurate measuring, but turn these remnants into individual molds with lemon-flavored gelatin, and you will have a number of quick salads that will keep perfectly for several days in the ice box.

Piece de Resistance for Meatless Meals

Remember that a hearty egg dish is an excellent substitute for meat and try this combination next time you plan a meatless meal.

Cool Coffee Concoction

For a delicious cafe frappe use four cups strong coffee, one cup rich cream and half cup sugar. Mix well and freeze until consistency of heavy cream. Serve in tall glasses with whipped cream. Either natural or decaffeinated coffee or one of the cereal beverages may be used for this frappe.

You will find a buttonhook kept near the stove provides a most convenient help in handling hot pans in the oven.

Sure-Fire Matches for Camping

You can protect matches against dampness while camping if you will dip the heads in paraffin. The wax melts when match is struck and further assists the flame.

DR. FRANK CRANE SAYS:—

Conversation

Grenville Kleiser, well-known author and writer, gives some good advice about talking.

An immense amount of time and energy is constantly wasted, he says, by useless talking.

Some of the essentials that he mentions for a good conversationalist are as follows:

The first condition of good talking is clear, well-ordered thinking. If your thoughts are in confusion your speech is liable to be non-effective.

Talking should not be a verbal nor vocal contest, but a mutual exchange of ideas. Monologues are tiresome.

Don't give advice. Advice costs nothing and is usually worth what it costs.

Don't exaggerate. It is easy to let your desires and feelings overcolor your views. Give the impression of under statement rather than over statement and what you say will have more effect.

Keep your voice low. A low voice is not only an excellent thing in a woman, as Shakespeare says, but it is good for anybody. Many people are trying to talk to, because they constantly bawl so loud. They drown out their opponent with sound.

Don't tell unduly long stories. Don't make a reputation for being a "funny" man. This will put you in the class of light-weights. Stories are like seasoning of salt. They should be very judiciously intermingled and it is easy to get too many of them.

Do not interrupt another. Wait quietly for your turn to speak.

Don't relate lengthy personal experiences. A thing may be interesting to you because it is about yourself, but it is usually boring to other people. Don't be impatient. When you observe that your listener does not wish to be convinced change the subject.

Speak clearly. Do not mumble.

Conversation is more than idle exercise or ornamental superfluity. Its purpose is to keep the other party amused and interested. It is the wire upon which runs the current of your electric personality.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING

Hygiene of the Eyes
In radio talks given under the direction of the United States Public Health Service details are given about caring for the eyes from the time of birth. The theory is set forth that "defective vision often affects the general health of the child," and influences habits that make him lean forward, or assume a stooping posture which tends to cramp his chest and prevent the proper expansion of the lungs. These habits may predispose to tuberculosis.

Raddened or Inflamed Eyelids or the appearance of a slight amount of matter on the edge of the lids, and the corner of the eye, are danger symptoms, which should be removed by a prompt visit to a physician. Proper corrected lenses really relieve the troubles.

The Public Health Service says that adults should have their eyes examined once at least every two years. There should be no neglect or delay in securing eye glasses with the right kind of lenses at any time when the eyes indicate that Nature is calling for help. The Health officials speak of the necessity of having eye glasses that remain firmly in place, in some of their literature.

The shell rim glasses that are worn by the majority of the people answer this purpose as they stay where they are put and are less liable to break while at the same time their broad surfaces protect the lenses.

The Public Health Service says that the standard graduated visual charts which are used by eye specialists are dependable in measuring the vision. The complaint of many people that when they begin to wear glasses they "must" keep on wearing them, drives the Government surgeons into impatience. Here is the way that claim is answered:

"It is not a matter of 'must keep on,' but that vision is so much better with the glasses." After wearing the glasses the individual is not satisfied unless he keeps them on.

"One often hears a statement that a father, mother or some relative lives to a very old age and never had to wear glasses," says the official Health bulletin, which follows this with the answer that, "in most cases this means that such people had one normal eye and one near-sighted eye, and the normal eye was used for reading in advanced age."

The statement quoted above sums up the "hygiene of the eye" in three short sentences, as follows:

1. Proper protection of the eye from infections.
2. The use of proper lighting conditions.
3. Periodic and systematic examinations of the eyes by physicians who have made the eye their specialty.

THE DESTRUCTIVE SEVENTEEN-YEAR LOCUST

The advance guard of the seventeen-year locusts have appeared. From many states come appeals for help. Why, ask the farmers, doesn't the government do this, that and the other thing about it? Why are these buzzing creatures allowed to get away with all the damage they do?

Alas, man is almost helpless before these insects. A few hundred may be killed now and then with sprays, but no sooner are they done with than new hordes advance to buzz and nibble. Luckily, they do no permanent damage to vegetation. They make a lot of noise, and seem to herald their presence as if they were expert publicity men.

They are a great nuisance on more counts than one, and happily their lives are of short duration. The plague does not last long. The locusts live only two or three weeks.

Is it true that locusts are with us every year, but occasionally hatch in very large numbers? Are the locusts' visits actually spaced seventeen years apart? Some day a great naturalist will answer these riddles. Many persons would like to know the answers.

If it be true that they come up from the ground once every seventeen years, they certainly know how to get a lot of attention centered on them while they enjoy their brief stay in the sun.

GREAT LAKES TO THE SEA

Nature created a great natural highway to serve the United States and Canada. The largest system of connecting lakes in the world exists, ready to take care of transportation for a considerable part of the North American Continent. But these highways have not come into their rights to serve humanity because politics have denied the engineers the opportunity to make them into transportation systems to link up the craft that crosses the Atlantic Ocean and handles the commerce of the Seven Seas.

As an engineering proposition the deep-waterways from the head of Lake Superior through the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence River to the Atlantic Ocean does not present obstacles comparable to these encountered and conquered when the Continent was cut in twain by the building of the Panama Canal through mountains and across the Chagres River Valley, where raging torrents mightier than our own Mississippi ever knew. To build the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterways route is less of an engineering feat than that which has been performed time and again in the tunnelling under the Hudson and East Rivers for subways and motor traffic in and out of New York City. The Moffat Tunnel was dynamited through five miles of rock in the Rocky Mountains and it is an example of engineering far greater and more difficult than can be contemplated in the St. Lawrence waterway. The Cascade Tunnel on the great North Railroad is to pierce the wild heights of the Cascade Mountains for nearly eight miles—a giant's undertaking that only explosives can conquer. The Moffat Tunnel shortened train travel between Denver and Salt Lake City 175 miles. The Cascade Tunnel clips 140 miles off the transcontinental time tables.

With such illustrations of successful engineering it appears unfair to keep the Great Lakes waiting any longer with excuses that the finishing of Nature's great highways is either too hard to do, or too expensive. It is neither. It is an engineering proposition, and all Canada and the United States need do is to authorize the work, and it will go through speedily.

Junction Trade Notes

Grande Courts, one of the new and modern recreation resorts of the Llano, will be ready for guests about the first of August. The public will appreciate its attractive environment, accessibility, and the conveniences, which are modern throughout. All the tourist camps of the Llano are now open to their capacity and people being turned away.

The A. J. Hamer business property in Junction has been purchased by Gann Grocery Company who will, at an early date, make material improvements inside and out. Aside from interior improvements, the warehouse at rear will be overhauled. The firm intends to expand its feed business and discontinue its lumber stock.

Robert Fritz of London marketed choice Llano valley Elbertas in Junction Tuesday. A. F. Fritz of the same prosperous community supplied the local market with fine tomatoes, bell peppers and good country butter from Mrs. Fritz' home dairy. B. B. Reese continues to furnish local trade with his delectable 'Stone-Mountain' melons, which are guaranteed by Gann Grocery Company to be good, or no sale.

The following comment on wools and wool scouring, in which every citizen in Kimble County is interested, either directly or indirectly, is from the U. S. Dept. Year Book:

"Territory" wool means wool grown on ranches. "Fine territory" applies especially to Texas wool, which is usually of such fine quality that it must be mixed with coarser wools for manufacture.

Scouring tests at the Sonora experiment station show the average shrinkage of Texas wool to be 60%. Experiments have shown that great varieties exist between the yield of a lot of wool as estimated by experts and as produced by scouring, and the importance of shrinkage to the wool grower cannot be overestimated.

It takes 2½ pounds Texas wool in the grease to make a pound of scoured wool. Cost of shipping to Boston, insurance, cartage, etc., averages 5 cents a pound. To arrive at a fair price for Texas wool in the grease, in comparison with Boston quotations for scoured "fine territory" wool, take two-fifths of Boston price and subtract 5c a pound.

The Department decrees that wool should be graded according to diameter and not according to length—precisely opposite to its rule for cotton. What do you know about that?

London Chamber of Commerce met the 17th. The writer had the pleasure of being present. Mr. Hartgraves talk was to the point and well received.

Mr. T. J. Horn was in town the 18th. J. S. Walton of Rochester, Texas, are visiting Mr. Walton's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Walton.

Mr. M. R. Waters was in for supplies Thursday.

Mr. Orlan Stewart was in town Thursday. He states that corn in his part of the community will yield an average crop; that cotton is not yet materially damaged from dry weather.

turned home from Mason where she has been visiting her uncle's family.

The good-will visit of the Chamber of Commerce of Junction was indeed just what it was claimed to be—a good-will visit. I want to assure the gentlemen that our people are a unit in praise of your program and the spirit manifested on that occasion. The music was fine, the quartette excellent. Judge Weaver H. Baker took delight in introducing the business men of Junction, lining them up facing the crowd and introducing them one by one, giving special attention to Junction's lone Jew, Mr. Phillip Joseph, and the Wild Irish Rose—Mr. W. F. Riley, which created considerable merriment.

A. J. DeSpain says he has nothing to do now except eat watermelons—when he can catch O. D. Price away from home.

Mrs. Hettie Stevens and her two bright little girls of San Antonio are spending their short vacation with Mrs. Stevens' father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Gephart.

The parents of Denman Ake received a card from him last week. Denman was at that time in Corona, California.

The London barbecue was a success in every way. The crowd in attendance was estimated at from 1500 to 2500 people. A nicer or more orderly crowd was never gathered at this place. Everything was quiet and nice so far as we saw or have heard. The town of Mason turned out 100 or more strong headed by Mr. E. Lemberg and urged on by the Mason band. In conversation with Mr. Lemberg we were made to swell with pride because of favorable comments he made relative to London and its surrounding territory, and the prospects of the future.

We are glad to know that our town and county is sufficiently attractive to appeal to the consideration of such men as Mr. E. Lemberg. Mr. Lemberg is one of those substantial citizens of Mason County. He has been in business for himself for 40 years. He is one of those who have risen from the position of a humble clerkship to that of a substantial business man, and one of the most prosperous of his county. The forecast of such a man relative to our future is worth consideration.

We close with one paragraph from the pen of Archibald Rutledge, in August number of American Magazine, page 120, in describing his distance and safety from the storm and his near escape from its wrath, he says: "I thought, here was a storm that never came near me. Yet the flood it started would drown me. It made me think of the deeds of others, reaching for, affecting the lives of many. It looks to me as if someone, somewhere, has to sustain the shock of every human deed; a vice in one may be disastrous, not only to those I love but to people I shall never see or know."

And so it is.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

The First Foreign Missionaries Acts 13:1-5, 15-16, 44-45 by Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

All of chapter XIII should be read as a preparation for this lesson study. The general setting must be in mind as well as the few verses that are the basis for more intensive study. After Saul had been called from Tarsus to help the growing church in Antioch there was still greater progress there. There is that in the Christian religion which always makes one desire that all others shall likewise have joy and peace in believing. While in the midst of worship there was a growing consensus of opinion that something very definite should be undertaken in telling the Gospel story more widely. Luke describes the outcome when he records the "Holy Spirit said. Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them." Preparations were made for the first missionary journey and these men were formally set apart for this service by prayer and the laying on of hands.

Three people made up the company. They were Barnabas; his nephew, John Mark; and Saul—styled the apostle to the Gentiles. Their first destination was the island of Cyprus, about seventy miles distant. Work began at Salamis. There the usual approach was made by seeking the synagogue of the Jews, for all had a common belief in Jehovah as God. Keep in mind that you are always to use your Bible as both reference and text book. At this point read the verse omitted in the lesson text indicated above. The story is told of the work at Paphos on the eastern side of Cyprus. The missionaries came into opposition with Elymas, the sorcerer, who opposed the messages they gave to Sergius Paulus, the proconsul, who believed when he beheld the miracle that Paul wrought.

When the mainland was reached at Perga in Pamphylia there was real trouble among the three evangelists. For some unnamed reason Mark determined to quit the party and returned to Mary, his mother, in Jerusalem. Some say he refused to go inland with Paul; others that he became jealous when Paul became more prominent than his uncle, Barnabas. This matter comes up again in the lesson for August 19.

Some of the hardships encountered at this time or soon are enumerated in II Corinthians 11:24-28. Pisidian Antioch is the first stopping place of record. There the travelers attended the synagogue service and, according to courtesy custom, after the reading of the law, were invited to speak. To use modern language, they made a hit at the start and were invited to speak again the following Sabbath, "when the whole city was gathered together to hear the word of God." Many believed the teachings of Paul.

Jealousy started the trouble that followed. When the synagogue leaders saw that the strangers were obtaining such a fine following they opposed these men, and turned them out of the synagogue. Both Paul and Barnabas were bold in declaring that they could not keep silent, and since their own brethren would no longer heed them they could now give their attention to the Gentiles, for their Gospel was for all mankind. At once a multitude of those other than Jews believed the word as it was preached unto them specially. Their reaction is given in the closing verses of the lesson: "And as the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified God, and the word of the Lord was spread abroad throughout all the region."

We Aim to Please

In all our dealings with firms, we aim to give the best possible service and facilitate all financial negotiations as much as we can. We feel that we are personal counselors to every business firm that entrusts its account with us. Many large firms will attest to our dependability and soundness. Thorough, prompt, and courteous banking service is given to every depositor. We invite you to call and receive detailed information on the facilities and policies of this bank.
