Israel Hits Three Arab Fronts Down Three Syrian Planes

By MARCUS ELIASON
Associated Press Writer

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli jets swung into action on three Arab fronts today, downing three Syrian planes, striking at Egyptian military targets and pounding guerrilla bases in Lebanon, the Israeli military command said.

The Syrian planes, Soviet-made MIG21s, were intercepted as they tried to attack Israeli positions in the occupied Golan Heights. A spokesman said the dogfight took place at altitudes ranging from "very low" up to 20,000 feet.

Israeli now claims to have shot down 17 Syrian planes since the 1967 Arab-Israeli war, including three MIGs during an Israeli bombing mission into Syria last month.

At about the same time as the clash with the Syrians, Israeli planes launched a 90-minute strike against Arab guerrilla camps in Lebanon on the slopes of Mt. Hermon, the Israeli military command said. It was their second attack in this area in three days. All planes returned safely, the announcement said.

Other Israeli aircraft roved over the southern and central Suez Canal, hammering Egyptian war objectives in two raids lasting a total of almost two hours, the Israelis said.

Planes also swept into southern Lebanon to bomb and strafe Arab guerrilla camps on the western slopes of Mt. Hermon, the military reported. It was the second raid on Mt. Hermon in three days.

Israel said its planes returned safely from all missions.

On Wednesday, Israeli warplanes made one of their deepest penetrations into Egypt since the 1967 war. A spokesman said they hit military and industrial targets north and south of Cairo. One attack about six miles south of Cairo was near Helwan, a Nile River city where the Soviet Union is helping in the $1 billion expansion of a steel mill that is designed to become one of the biggest of the African continent.

Cairo Radio claimed that Egyptian planes and antiaircraft fire drove the raiders off and the attack was "abortive."

The Israelis said that their planes returned safely and there was "little or no interference" from Egyptian planes or antiaircraft fire.

In Lebanon, the Cabinet ousted Gen. Emile Bustani, the army commander who made the deal giving Palestinian guerrillas bases in Southern Lebano rillas bases in Southern Lebanon.

The Cabinet named Brig. Gen. Jean Njeim commander in chief to discuss the weekend Israeli commando raid in which the Israelis kidnaped 12 Lebanese soldiers and 10 civilians.

Premier Rashid Karami said Bustani would "soon be nominated ambassador" to a foreign country.

The SDN Column

For some three decades or more, prior to the last general election, the positions of responsibility held by Texans in the Federal government irked residents of some other areas, even to the point that they were frequently a subject for the barbs of television comedians.

One of the first orders of business in some circles following the 1968 general election was to call special attention to the fact that Texas has been pushed out of the spotlight in the nation's capital, with Texan Lyndon B. Johnson vacating the White House.

Gone on before were such personalities as John Nance Garner, the former vice president; Tom Connally, the sturdy U. S. Senator whose distinguished service in that legislative branch prior to and during World War II stood out constantly; and Sam Rayburn, whose achievements were legion in the House of Representatives including a record tenure as Speaker of the House.

Texans have been prominent in appointive positions, also, including cabinet posts, in the past.

The numbers have declined sharply, and now Texas has only one person left on the Washington scene whose prominence and position of responsibility might be equated with those other stalwarts of by-gone years. He is our own Congressman, George H. Mahon.

Rep. Mahon is chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, which is a select group of legislators in the "lower" house which stands vigil over the nation's purse strings.

* * *

Rep. Mahon, of course, takes his job seriously, and when his committee approved an appropriation for the Health, Education and Welfare and the House then added an extra billion dollars or so, he said he felt that President Nixon would and should veto it.

Inflation is on everybody's mind these days, and during his brief visit here the other day, Rep. Mahon said that this subject will get plenty of attention around Capitol Hill during the Congressional Session which begins Jan. 19.

At present, Rep. Mahon is visiting around his sprawling district during one of the few opportunities he has to keep in direct touch with the people at home. Tomorrow he will meet with farmers and leaders of agriculture organizations at Lubbock to bring himself up to date on their problems.

The Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee has very little time to mingle with his constituents, but Rep. Mahon gets a lot of mileage out of a brief holiday from the nation's legislative halls.

Farm Advance Elimination Is Protested

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A campaign has developed among farm belt congressmen to force the Nixon administration to backtrack on a budget-tightening decision cancelling advance payments to farmers this year for idling extra land from livestock feed production.

The advance payments, made annually since 1961, have ranged up to about $400 million a year.

Farmers collected the money each spring after agreeing to take additional acres of livestock feed grains, mostly corn and sorghum, out of production. The advance payments provide funds to farmers at planting time when crop income is low.

Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., whose farm constituents were advanced nearly $9.5 million last year under the program, is a leader of the budding effort to get an administration reversal.

Dole told a reporter he has drafted a letter to Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin expressing "great disappointment" on behalf of farmers over the payment decision and urging the secretary to reverse the action.

Dole said he was certain he would be joined by other farm area members of both parties when Congress reconvenes Jan. 19.

Hardin announced at a Dec. 29 news conference no advance payments would be made. "We do not anticipate any reaction," he said then.

A number of farm spokesmen, however, later objected. The National Farmers Union said withholding advance payments would force farmers to borrow money at high interest rates to pay for spring planting and other operations.

The feed grains program is the most costly of the government agricultural payment plans, accounting for nearly half of the yearly total of $3.5 billion in payments.

Sources say Hardin wanted to make the advance money available as usual but was overruled by White House budget planners who insisted Agriculture Department spending be held back as much as possible during the current fiscal year.

The elimination of advance payments also has some appeal for urban members of Congress who want more antipoverty and food money for their areas and resent big spending programs in agriculture.

GAS PROBLEMS CORRECTED

Cold Weather Numbs Texas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Numbing cold continued to harass Texas today but things warmed up in Del Rio.

That Rio Grande city went to emergency conditions Wednesday because of a gas line low pressure but the problem was corrected this morning.

The failure occurred during freezing weather.

Mayor Alfredo Gutierrez ceased emergency conservation of gas and allowed heavy commercial users to resume normal operations. Their gas service had been curtailed to ensure adequate heating for hospitals and homes.

Pupils in Del Rio and San Felipe did get today off, though. The schools agreed Wednesday that they would close today because of the problem.

While skies were generally clear, cloudy to partly cloudy conditions in scattered areas tended to slow the mercury's plunge today.

At Eagle Pass, 60 miles down the Rio Grande from Del Rio, manager Carlton Kelly of the Eagle Pass Natural Gas Co. said pressure dropped because a compressor in the Continental Field ruptured. He said this caused two other compressors to overload and shut off, adding that one gas well "froze up" and became inoperative.

Pressure at Del Rio dropped from a normal 250 pounds per square inch to between 30 and 35 pounds after two compressor pumps in Maverick County Chittam Field failed, officials reported.

The same problem affected Brackettville, Crystal City, Carrizo Springs, LaPryor and Uvalde.

Workmen completed repairs near Eagle Pass after nightfall Wednesday, officials said, and gradual restoration of normal gas service was expected.

Although no shortages were reported elsewhere, gas consumption rose to record levels in other cities. In Dallas, a Lone Star Gas Co. spokesman said useage hit 2.242 billion cubic feet of gas, compared to a previous high of 2.133 billion cubic feet two years ago.

Temperatures early today ranged down to one degree above zero at Perryton in the northeast corner of the Panhandle, and a sharp north wind emphasized the chill.

Readings at other points plumbed the lower levels but stayed as high as 40 at Brownsville on the state's southern tip, where clouds moved in and helped prevent freeze damage to winter vegetables and citrus groves.

Growers said there was only limited damage to vegetables and one to citrus from freezing weather early Wednesday in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, stretching northward from Brownsville.

High clouds helped to holdup the temperature a bit also, at Del Rio, where it dipped to 25 this morning. Del Rio's low the day before was 18.

Today In History

Today is Thursday, January 8, the eighth day of 1970. There are 357 days left in the year.

On this date:

In 1642, the Italian astronomer, Galileo, died.

In 1679, the French explorer, La Salle, reached Niagara Falls.

In 1918, President Woodrow Wilson outlined 14 points for peace after World War I.

In 1923, France began the military occupation of the Ruhr Valley in Germany.

In 1925, Igor Stravinsky made his first American appearance, conducting he New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra in a program of his own works.

In 1943, World War II, American bombers struck the Tunisian port of Bizerte.

All-Region Choir To Perform Here

Some 120 top high school vocalists of Region VI-A of the Texas Music Educators Association will present a public concert here Saturday evening in the Snyder High School Auditorium.

The All-Region Choir's performance, which will begin at 8 p.m., will be open to the public and there will be no admission charge.

The all-star vocalists will be in rehearsal Friday evening and most of the day Saturday.

Represented in the All-Region Choir are students from high schools at Andrews, Big Spring, Fort Stockton, Kermit, Lamesa, Midland, Monahans, Odessa and Snyder. Some 20 All-Region Choirs over the state serve as feeder groups for the All-State Choir, which performs annually for the TMEA Convention in February. Snyder Schools have an outstanding record in All-State music participation in both instrumental and vocal groups.

However, this will be the first time in history for the All-Region Choir activities to be held here.

The 120 students in the All-Region Choir were selected from approximately 400 who performed in difficult memory competition before judges.

Snyder students in the All-Region Choir include Jana Bullard, Lee Taylor, Wayla Walton, sopranos; Susan Ferrell, Connie Brown, altos; Robert White, Arlie Eicke, Dennis Williamson, tenors; Bill Branson Don Babcock and Billy Kay, baritones.

Wayla Walton, Arlie Eacke and Robert White are All-State Choir Candidates and will compete again Jan. 17.

Directing the All-Region Choir will be Dr. Ray Moore, assistant professor and choral director at Lamar State College in Beaumont.

Those attending the performance Saturday night also will hear guest performances by the Snyder High School and Big Spring High School A Cappella Choirs. Kenny Sheppard, Big Spring director, and J. D. Smith, Snyder director, have outstanding records in University Interscholastic League music contests.

Arrangements for hosting the All-Region Choir activity here are being handled by Maribeth Vestal, choral director at Lamar Junior High School; Patsy Elliott, choral director at Travis Junior High School, and Smith Don McCartney, choral director at Midland High School, is the Region VI-A Vocal Music Chairman.

"I would appreciate your continued support," said Mrs. Ainsworth in announcing her candidacy.

Scientists Differ On Moon Theories

By PAUL RECER
AP Aerospace Writer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The moon may have formed from a mineral-laden cloud boiled away from the earth in primordial times, an Australian scientist says.

Dr. A. E. Ringwood of the Australian National University said Wednesday his studies of Apollo 11 moon samples make "the traditional theories of the moon's origin look very, very shaky right now."

In his presentation to a lunar science conference he suggested the moon may have formed when the sun boiled away earth minerals, forming "a massive primitive atmosphere." The atmosphere dissipated and cooled. Silicates formed a mass of small bodies orbiting earth. These later united to become the moon.

The theory was attacked immediately by two other scientists.

Dr. Donald Wise of the University of Massachusetts said the moon could not be in its present orbit if it had formed from a sediment ring about the earth.

Dr. John O'Keefe of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said that it was not possible for such a cloud of minerals to have generated enough velocity to have gone into orbit around the earth.

The three traditional theories of the moon's origin state:

—It was a body moving through space which was captured by the earth's gravity.

—It formed in the same way and at the same time, but apart from, the earth.

—It is a great chunk of earth which was spun or thrown into orbit by an explosion.

"I think it's too early to judge any of the theories," Wise said. "All of them have their Achilles heels."

Wise said he favors the concept of the moon coming from the earth.

Ringwood is one of 142 scientists presenting papers at the lunar science conference. All are reporting on the first detailed study of moon samples returned to earth by Apollo 11.

Deadline For Voters Near

Some 4,300 Scurry County residents have registered to vote this year, but the total figure is about 1,500 short of the number who registered last year with only about three weeks remaining in which to register, according to Don Adams, Scurry County tax assessor - collector.

He reminded qualified voters today that voter registration will continue until Jan. 31. Application forms are available at all of the Post Offices in the county, at the Community Store in China Grove, at Jack Whit's Station at Union, at both local banks and in the county tax office. Applications may be mailed in, but persons who bring them into the tax office are asked to fill them out in advance to prevent delays.

Dunkirk Citizens Not Seeking Tax Cut

DUNKIRK, N.Y. (AP) — Citizens in this city of 18,000 on the shore of Lake Erie are asking that taxes not be cut.

Republican Councilman Leonard Catalano says his constituents want additional services and major improvement programs instead of a proposed tax cut.

The average home owner would save between $30 to $40 a year under a $2.5 million budget before the 1970 Common Council.

Thieu Has Little Hope For Peace

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu reiterated tonight that South Vietnam is prepared to discuss a cease-fire with the enemy and to accept Viet Cong participation in elections to settle the war.

But in a lengthy televised report to the nation Thieu charged that the enemy is intent on "savage ambitions" and insists on imposing a coalition government on South Vietnam.

Thieu said there have been "no results" from 48 sessions of the Paris peace talks and said the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong agreed to them only because they wanted bombing of North Vietnam halted.

Citing a long list of optimistic sounding figures on progress of the war in 1969, Thieu still held out little hope for peace.

He said: "We are standing before two real facts. They are:

"The war of aggression is still continuing from the North and from North Vietnam's benchmen in the South.

"The Paris peace talks, after 12 months and 48 sessions, have still not shown one bit of results."

Thieu asked: "So where can we find peace and how is the war going to end?"

He suggested two possible solutions—"either the Communist aggressors must mend their ways and end their aggression, or the Communists must become sincere and talk seriously with us so that we can have genuine results and peace is restored."

Adult Survey For College Launched

A survey has been launched to determine the number of adults who would be interested in taking courses at the Scurry County Junior College.

J. Merrill Kayser, coordinating teacher for Snyder Public Schools, said he was making the survey at the request of Dr. Robert L. Clinton Jr. president of the college.

The survey, he said, is information on the number of adults who want to take courses at the junior college, the amount of formal education each has had in the past, area of interest, etc.

Response to the survey does not obligate anyone in any way, but merely will be used by the college administration and board in planning the curriculum for adults.

Questions about the survey will be answered if you call 573-758; or 573-2841, (after 5 p.m.). Additional surveys forms may be obtained at the Child Development Center at Thirty-fourth Street and Avenue K.

Interested adults are asked to fill out the following questionnaire and mail it to the Snyder Consolidated Independent School District, c/o J. M. Kayser, Snyder, Texas 79549.

"I am an adult, 21 or more years of age and wish to enroll in the Scurry County Junior College."

TEC Makes Report On Employment

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas unemployment reached its lowest point on record in fiscal 1969 but then moved upward for the first time in more than five years, the Texas Employment Commission says.

The commission said Wednesday the job figures illustrated a Texas economy that remained strong [illegible] but the increase in unemployment "may be some indication of an economic slowdown."

"The labor force continued to [illegible] was up about 4 per cent from the previous year, and the unemployment rate was lower than in any other period covered by TEC statistics," said the commission's annual report for the year that ended Aug. 31.

Workers seeking jobs averaged 2.6 per cent of the labor force during the year, the commission said.

"It appears, however, that the unemployment rate may have reached its low. During the last four months of fiscal 1969 (May, June, July, August), the rate of unemployment was as great or greater than during the corresponding months a year earlier. This situation had not occurred previously in over five years, and may be some indication of an economic slowdown," the report said.

The TEC said 646,000 work applications were filed with it in fiscal 1969. Nearly half—923,748 came from women, and about one sixth of the jobseekers were veterans.

Texans On Latest Casualty List

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas servicemen killed in action in the Vietnam war were named Wednesday by the Defense Department.

Five Girls To Testify At Inquest

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAT
Associated Press Writer

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (AP) — The five young women who accompanied Mary Jo Kopechne to a Chappaquiddick Island reunion cookout returned to the Dukes County courthouse today, presumably to tell what they remember about the last night of Mary Jo's life.

The five were among the last to testify at the inquest into the death of Miss Kopechne, 28, in an accident in Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's car.

The girls are Rosemary Keough, 24, Drexel Hill, Pa.; Maryellen Lyons, 26, Milton, Mass.; her sister Nanee, 25; Susan Tennenbaum, 24, and Esther Newberg, 27, all of Washington, D.C.

Like Mary Jo, all five worked for the late Robert F. Kennedy during his ill-fated 1968 presidential campaign.

They were joined at the courthouse by Anthony Bettencourt, a local resident who maintains a town dump.

After last summer's accident, Bettencourt told investigators he found three unopened bottles of gin at the dump, which is near the cottage where the cookout was held.

The accident occurred the night of July 18, when Kennedy's car plunged off a narrow bridge on Chappaquiddick Island and landed upside down in a tidal pond.

Agriculture Lawyers May File Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Dallas judge's order to provide some form of federal food supplements to the poor in 109 Texas counties may be appealed by lawyers from the Agriculture and Justice departments.

The opinion was formally filed Dec. 20 by U. S. Dist. Judge William M. Taylor Jr., although he announced the move a week earlier.

Taylor said the Agriculture Department must provide direct food programs to the Texas counties which furnish no surplus commodities or food stamps to the poor.

It's still our motto.

A year ago we came up with this crazy bunch of letters which stand for our motto—We May Be The Only Phone Company in Town, But We Try Not To Act Like It.

Some folks thought we were just trying to be funny, but we were dead serious about the motto the letters stood for. We still are.

Communications is our business—our only business. That is why we at Southwestern Bell can devote all of our energy, our talents, our knowledge and resources to providing you with the very best in communications service at the lowest possible cost.

We encourage you to take for granted the world's best telephone service, with the assurance that we won't.

Sauerbraten Is Hearty Dish

SAUERBRATEN — It can be made without marinating the meat and yet you can have a rich and delicious dish.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

We've tried a number of recipes for Quick Sauerbraten — the kind you make without marinating the meat. The recipe that follows is the best we've come upon so far because the ingredients that accompany the meat are ones you're likely to have in the house and they help to produce a delicious dish.

The gravy gets its flavor from the onions, molasses, vinegar, beef broth and seasonings that the meat is cooked in, and it's a rich brown color. The flavor is just right — not too sweet and not too tart. Because it is of medium consistency, the gravy masks the meat well.

QUICK SAUERBRATEN

4 to 5-pound boneless beef rump pot roast
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
2 large onions, coarsely chopped (1 1/2 cups)
1/3 cup unsulphured molasses
1/2 cup distilled white vinegar
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed beef broth (bouillon), undiluted
1 bay leaf
1/3 cup instant flour
1/2 cup cold water

Stir together the salt, pepper and garlic powder; rub mixture over surface of meat.

In a 4 or 5-quart saucepot brown meat on all sides in its own fat; if there is not enough fat on meat to do this, brown it in a couple of tablespoons of shortening. Add onion, molasses, vinegar, beef broth and bay leaf. Cover tightly and simmer until meat is tender — 2 1/2 to 3 hours. To test doneness, insert a long-handle 2-tine fork in center of meat; it should turn easily.

Remove meat; cover and chill overnight.

Strain meat broth, forcing solids through; turn into a 1-quart glass measure; cover and chill overnight.

Before serving, slice meat fairly thin against the grain; cut off any large pieces of fat.

Remove hardened fat from top of chilled meat broth (it may be jellied) and discard fat. There should be 3 cups broth; if there is not, add water (or any stock on hand) to make this amount. Turn into the saucepot in which you cooked the meat and heat almost to boiling.

Meanwhile stir together until smooth the flour and 1/2 cup water; stir into the hot meat broth. Stirring constantly, cook until thickened and boiling; boil a minute or two. Add meat, slice by slice, so it will all be covered with gravy; reheat.

Serve the meat and gravy with potato dumplings or potato pancakes. Sweet-sour red cabbage is also a traditional accompaniment.

Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Note: Should you have more than 3 cups meat broth, you can use it to replace part or all of the water mixed with the flour.

Date Squares

¾ cup unsifted flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ chopped (medium-fine) walnuts
1 cup finely cut pitted fresh dates
2 large eggs
1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar

On wax paper thoroughly stir together the flour, baking powder and salt; stir in walnuts and dates, with fingers separate the date pieces. In small bowl of electric mixer, beat eggs until thickened and lemon color; gradually beat in sugar until very thick; add flour mixture and stir to mix well. Turn into a buttered 8 by 8 by 2 inch cake pan. Bake in a preheated 325-degree oven until brown and crusty on top — 35 minutes. Place pan on wire rack to cool partly; loosen edges with a small spatula; cut into 9 squares. Remove with wide spatula. Serve warm topped with whipped cream. (Top crust will crack on cutting.) Makes 9 servings.

Lamb Stew

2 pounds boneless lamb for stew, cut in 1½ - inch cubes
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 bay leaf
½ teaspoon ground rosemary
2 cups water
4 medium potatoes, cut in quarters
6 small white onions
2 carrots, thinly sliced
1 package (9 ounces) frozen Italian green beans
Flour for gravy

Brown lamb cubes in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add seasonings and water. Cover tightly and cook over low heat 1 hour. Discard bay leaf. Add potatoes and onions and continue cooking 30 minutes. Add carrots and green beans and continue cooking 30 minutes longer or until meat and vegetables are tender. Thicken cooking liquid for gravy with flour, if desired. 6 to 8 servings.

HEARTY DINNER

Potato pancakes are a traditional go-along with sauerbraten.

Sauerbraten — Red Cabbage
Potato Pancakes — Salad
Banana Cream Pie

POTATO PANCAKES

2 large eggs
1 tablespoon flour
1/4 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons finely grated onion, pulp and juice (1/2 small onion)
1 pound (3 medium) baking-type mealy potatoes, pared and coarsely grated (2 1/4 cups packed down)
1/2 cup salad (not olive) oil

In a medium mixing bowl beat eggs until thick and ivory color; beat in flour, baking powder and salt; fold in onion and potatoes. In a 10-inch skillet, over moderate heat, heat 1/4 cup of the oil. Taking up some liquid at bottom of bowl each time, drop heaping tablespoonfuls of mixture well apart into hot oil; using back of spoon, immediately spread potato shreds thin. Turn as necessary and fry until potatoes are soft and pancakes are golden-brown on both sides. Add more oil as needed for each batch of pancakes. Drain pancakes on absorbent paper and keep warm in a slow oven. Makes about 16.

Note: Try frying pancakes in 2 skillets at the same time to keep potato mixture from darkening.

Save the foil insulated bag that ice cream comes in. It's great to put rolls in when you warm them in the oven.

Plastic items are rapidly taking over American homes. And not only are plastic silverware containers, water pitchers, glasses, trays, ketchup and mustard containers taking over private kitchens, they're also being used in increasing numbers in restaurants, hospitals and other institutions.

"Name" Game Players Are Asked To Be Witnesses

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cousin Minnie Pearl of the Grand Ole Opry will be there. And sitting next to her may be Johnny Carson, Joe Namath, Mickey Mantle and Pat Boone.

All are players in a multi-billion-dollar-a-year game in the franchise industry.

All have been asked to be witnesses in three days of congressional hearings beginning Jan. 20. So far only Minnie Pearl has accepted.

The eventual outcome could be federal regulation of an industry whose $90 billion annual sales accounts for 10 per cent of the Gross National Product.

Senate investigators laying the groundwork for the hearings say they have found some evidence of fraud and questionable business practices within the growing industry.

More than 600,000 franchises are operating in the United States today, licensed by some 1,000 different franchisers of everything from service stations to fried chicken and tacos stands.

The concept of business franchises—Here's Johnny roast beef restaurants, Minnie Pearl's fried chicken restaurants and Broadway Joe's restaurants—other witnesses invited are from the Federal Trade Commission, the Small Business Administration and the International Franchise Association.

"The concept of business franchising has been around a long time, but all of a sudden its taken off like a big bird and nobody knows which way it's going to fly," says Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr., D-N.J.

Williams says his subcommittee on urban and rural economic development "will attempt to unwrap the entire franchising package for the benefit of all concerned."

Some abuses uncovered by committee investigators, according to general counsel Tim Ford, are unrestricted competition through over-franchising in certain geographic areas, lack of promised management help to the individual franchisee and unfair contract clauses that leave the buyer of the franchise at the mercy of the parent firm.

In addition to the personalities

2 Chapters Disavow Policy

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Two Minneapolis chapters of the Fraternal Order of the Eagles announced Wednesday they have formally disavowed their national organization's whites-only membership policy.

The action came soon after a Minneapolis City Council committee adopted a policy prohibiting the issuance of liquor licenses to organizations that limit membership on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, ancestry or national origin.

The national Eagles organization voted to retain the whites-only membership clause at a convention in Minneapolis last August.

A spokesman for one of the Minneapolis chapters predicted that the clause would be rescinded at the next convention.

He said the licenses of the local chapters would be lost if the national organization insisted that the national membership policy be followed.

Company Files Appeal

MARIETTA, Ga. (AP) — An Air Force decision to cut orders for the C5 transport, world's largest airplane, has been appealed by Lockheed-Georgia Co.

The company said Wednesday it had filed notice of appeal from the decision as a preliminary to taking the C5 production controversy before the Armed Services Board of Contract Appeals.

The Air Force announced last September it would terminate the C5 program beyond 81 aircraft because of cost overruns. It originally contracted for 115.

The first 10 Galaxies are on the production line. Eight are in flight test programs and the other two have been delivered to the Air Force at Altus Air Force Base, Okla.

OPPOSING QUARTERBACKS—When pro football's superbowl is held Sunday in New Orleans the two quarterbacks scheduled to cll most of the plays on the field are Len Dawson (left and upper center) of the Kansas City Chiefs, known for his passing ability, and Joe Kapp of the Minnesota Vikings (right and lower middle), touted for his running. Four Coyotes On All-State

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — State champion Wichita Falls placed four players on the first offensive and defensive units of the 1969 Class AAAA all-State football team announced today by the Texas Sports Writers Association.

Center Charles Holley, a 6-0 foot, 200-pound senior and running back Joey Aboussie, the only junior in the first offensive unit, represent the Coyotes on offense. Aboussie also was the only unanimous selection on the team.

Interior lineman Steve Newmon was named to the first defensive unit from the champion Wichita Falls team. The Coyotes had two other selections on the second teams, quarterback Lawrence Williams and linebacker James Reed.

Quarterbacking the first offense is San Antonio Lee's Tim Timmier, who led the come-from-behind Volunteers to the finals with his rubber-armed passing.

Joining Trimmier in the all-state backfield are Junior Joey Aboussie of Wichita Falls and backs Cleveland Vonn of Seguin and Delvin Williams of Houston Kashmere.

Others on the first offensive unit are ends James Cain of Houston Washington and Hobby Stevens of Abilene Cooper, tackles Steve Chichester of Texarkana and James Bon of Odessa Permian and guards Bobby Giles of Amarillo and Bill Williams of Killeen.

Trimmier, a hustling 6-foot-4-inch 190 pounder, passed for 1,896 yards and 21 touchdowns in guiding the Volunteers to their second state final berth. He rushed for another 894 yards and scored 13 touchdowns.

Aboussie rushed for 1,458 yards, scored 21 touchdowns and was the driving force in Wichita Falls' brutal ground game in the championship match against Lee.

Linebacker Greg Dahlberg joined Trimmier in making the first team from Lee. Dahlberg averaged 14 unassisted tackles before the championship game. He was the key man in Lee's defensive unit.

Other linebackers on the first defensive unit are Charles Haynes of Beaumont Hebert and Robin Kilmer, Dallas Wilson, Ruben Fernandez, Brownsville, and Ken Wilson, Longview.

Making the team as interior linemen along with Newmon were Richard Mason of Amarillo Palo Duro and Manuel Ramos of El Paso Bowie.

Joining Moore at defensive end is Mike Mayes of Abilene Cooper.

Cain, a giant 6-6 225-pound receiver was a second team selection last year. He snagged 61 passes for 752 yards. Stevens caught 60 passes for 924 yards as a split end.

SNYDER VS ESTACADO

Close Tilt Forecast Friday

Maybe the third time will be a charm. At least that's what Coach Ned Underwood is hoping as his Bengal varsity basketball team goes earnestly about preparations for Friday night's contest against Lubbock Estacado in the Scurry County Coliseum. Tipoff is on tap for 8 o'clock following the junior varsity skirmish at 6:15 p.m.

The Tigers of SHS have taken on the same Matador crew twice this season and both times came out on the short end of the score by the margin of only one point. Estacado won the first game 58 and 57 and the second game 52 and 51.

If the game Friday night is anything like the first two local fans can expect a thrilling battle right down to the wire. The issue wasn't decided in the first two tilts until the final seconds of play. A slight advantage in the last quarter of both games enabled the Lubbock crew to walk off the victors.

Estacado doesn't have any height advantage over Snyder, but the Matadors are quick and they have plenty of experience. Nine of the 14 boys on the squad are seniors. The trio of Lasel Green, David "Duke" and Lee Jones hit in twin figures in both previous games. Lasel is a two year letterman senior while Duke is a senior one-numeral winner. Jones is a junior letterman. Rounding out the starting five in the first two encounters were Donnie Harris and Ed Newsom. Donnie is a junior letterman. Ed, a junior, has only junior varsity experience.

Duke, at 6-3, will be the tallest Matador in the starting alignment. Coach R. A. Wade and Larry Marshall have good bench strength in Kenneth Wallace, a 5-11 senior letterman, and Tony Ward, a 2-year senior letterman. Lawrence Klenclo, a 6-3 senior without prior experience, has come on strong of late and could give the Bengals trouble. There are other talented lads ready for action, too.

Coach Underwood and Assistant Jerry McLeod are getting grey hairs due to the 1-point losses. Four of the seven Bengal losses this season resulted from 1-point deficits.

The Tigers showed great promise in their latest outing, a one-sided win over Levelland. Starters probably will not be named until game time, but the openers in the last contest were Jim Patrick (6-2½), Wesley Bishop (6½), Lee McNair (6-0), Bruce Almond (6-2) and Ronald Ward (6-1½). All are seniors but Almond who is a junior.

There was no loss of scoring power when Underwood sent the reserves into action early in the second half. They outscored Levelland 24-14 in the final period.

Also ready to aid the Bengal cause are Glenn Rambin (6-0), Danny Farmer (6-2½), Bird Cooper (5-10½), Dennis Breedlove (6-1½), Ronal Gladson (6-1½), and Jeff Stewart (6-4). All of the lads have been employed in various combinations with the five previously mentioned with no apparent loss in efficiency. Thus the Tigers also have a strong bench, perhaps stronger than many realize.

Snyder is 9-7 for the campaign while Estacado is 12-7.

Next Tuesday, the Bengals open district play with Lamesa the pre-season favorite in 3-AAA, providing the opposition. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Coach Bill Bundy's Kittens registered their 13th triumph in 16 outings against Levelland Tuesday and they fared better than the varsity in one previous meeting with Estacado. The junior varsity prevailed in that one 60-44 with Dubby Preston and Jackie Murray pitching in 22 and 18 points respectively to pace the attack. They probably will be in the lineup again Friday night along with Ronnie Morse, Kent Horsley and David Thompson.

Other JV lads eager for service are Hamp Yearwood, James Hood, Sam Baker, Mitch Butler and Kevin McGinnis. Baker and Morse are juniors while the remainder of the Kittens are sophs. Horsley, at 6-6, is the tallest boy on either squad.

IRA, HERMLEIGH TIE SATURDAY

Ira and Hermleigh meet in the Scurry County Coliseum Saturday night with the girls game set for 7 p.m., followed by the boys tilt at 8:30 p.m.

The Ira girls have a perfect 4-0 district record, but Hermleigh is close behind with only one loss in five outings. The Hermleigh boys are winless in district play, but hope to make things interesting for favored Ira.

Admission will be 75 cents for adults and 25 cents for students, and tickets can be obtained at the door on the night of the program.

Plans For Grid Banquet Shaping Up

Plans for a banquet honoring Snyder High School Football players are rapidly nearing completion, Eugene Glasscock, President of the Snyder Booster Club, has announced.

The banquet, which will be held on the evening of Jan. 17 in the Scurry County Coliseum, will take the place of two such events sponsored in prior years by the Booster Club and by the Football Mothers organization.

Guest speaker for the banquet will be Jack Spikes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Spikes of Snyder and a former All-State football player at Snyder High. All-American at Texas Christian University and All-Pro Star in the American football League.

Guests will be members of the varsity and junior varsity football squads, team managers, cheerleaders and their dates.

Members of the Booster Club and parents of football players may purchase tickets to attend the banquet at $2 each. Other persons interested in attending may do so by purchasing a $2 banquet ticket, plus a $5 membership in the Booster Club. Those who need Booster Club membership cards in order to attend should contact President Eugene Glasscock by Thursday evening, Jan. 15.

West Heads West Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry West, the Los Angeles Lakers' deadeye shooter, will head up the starting lineup for the Western Division team that faces the East in the National Basketball Association All-Star game Jan. 20 in Philadelphia.

Also named as West starters Wednesday were forwards Connie Hawkins of Phoenix and Elgin Baylor of the Lakers, center Nate Thurmond of San Francisco and guard Lou Hudson of Atlanta.

Forward Chet Walker of Chicago, center Elvin Hayes of San Diego and guard Jeff Mullins of San Francisco were named as reserves.

West, the NBA's leading scorer, was the top vote-getter in the balloting by broadcasters and sportscasters and sports writers in the 14 NBA cities, drawing 13,750 points out of a possible 14.

Mollenkopf Is Retiring

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Purdue football Coach Jack Mollenkopf, deciding against asking a waiver of the retirement age rule, is leaving coaching after 23 years here.

Mollenkopf, who will be 65 July 1, told his staff of the decision Wednesday in a conference call from Honolulu where he is a coach for the Hula Bowl.

In 14 years as Purdue head coach Mollenkopf has 84 victories, 39 losses and nine ties. His last five teams had records of 8-2 or better.

Bob DeMoss, Mollenkopf's senior assistant, was rated a prime candidate to succeed him. Athletic Director Guy (Red) Mackey called a news conference for today and there was speculation the new coach would be named.

Mollenkopf could have asked trustees for a retirement waiver but said he decided against it "after much thought and deliberation with my wife and a few friends."

Mollenkopf, whose 1966 Boilermakers defeated Southern California 14-13 in the Rose Bowl, produced 14 All-Americans since 1960. Purdue had 16 in all the previous years.

First baseman Norm Cash of the Detroit Tigers has hit more than 20 home runs in each of the last nine seasons.

Slugger Willie Horton of the Detroit Tigers blasted three grand slam home runs in 1969.

Ashe To Play In South Africa?

NEW YORK (AP) — The South African consul general here says he has no knowledge of any decision having been made by his country concerning whether or not Arthur Ashe, America's top tennis player, has been refused a visa by the country to play in the South African championships.

Saving Bond Redemption Exceeded Purchases In 1969

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Where would the $50 billion U.S. Savings Bond program be without payroll deduction plans in which purchases are made almost automatically?

In even more serious trouble than it is now. Chronically ill at present, it could become critically ill.

There is little enthusiasm among buyers to purchase bonds "over the counter" at banks. And, financially speaking, there's not an awful lot of pressure to retain those bonds already purchased.

For the 13th consecutive month, therefore, redemption of bonds exceeded purchases last month, meaning that although $377 million of bonds were sold, $403 million were cashed in.

In fact, during the past year many Americans buying bonds on payroll plans merely waited the necessary two months and redeemed their bonds for the same amount they had paid for them.

The cost of such paper shuffling is incalculable.

The troubles of the bond program hardly were caused by any lack of patriotism among Americans. Nor are the meager promotional efforts by the government the primary cause of so many redemptions.

The misfortunes of the bond program are directly related to the ill health of the economy, to inflation and rising interest rates specifically. The problem is one of the pocketbook rather than of allegiance to government.

In 1966, for example, the economy was booming along, and inflation was still relatively minor. Interest rates were stable. Savings bond sales that year jumped 8.3 per cent and reached the highest level in 10 years.

There were plenty of redemptions also, but the program produced a net inflow for the year of $299 million, an increase of $67 million in one year.

In 1969, by contrast, inflation amounted to a figure between 5 and 6 per cent. Interest rates soared for various types of investments—but not for bonds. And bond redemptions in 1969 exceeded purchases by $724 million.

Why? For at least two reasons:

With prices rising and paychecks not always following as fast, many Americans became strapped for cash. And those able to save money could realize higher interest returns elsewhere.

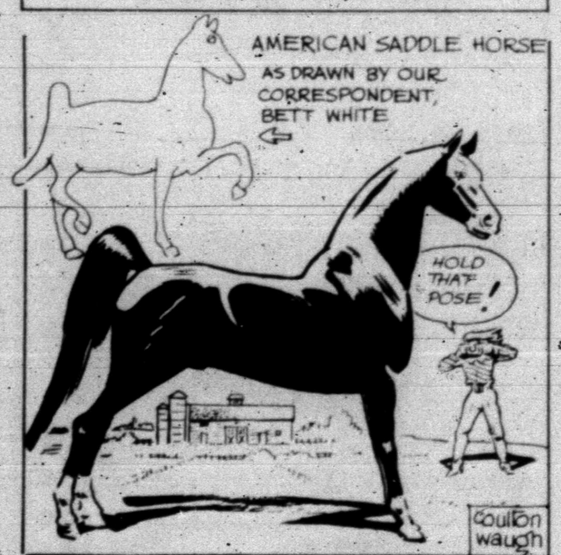

In 1969, in fact, it often was more financially rewarding to buy the tax-exempt bonds of a sewer district than it was to purchase savings bonds.

Junior Editors Quiz on SADDLE HORSES

QUESTION: Why is the American Saddle Horse so popular in the show ring?

* * *

ANSWER: One may wonder if there is one special breed called the American Saddle Horse, for after all, saddles are used to ride all the different breeds. But there IS one particular breed of this name. It was developed by the owners of the old-time plantations of the South. With no cars in those days, the only way an owner could get around a large plantation and oversee all the details, was to ride horseback. Plantation owners wanted a horse with easy riding qualities and yet one which had a spirited, handsome appearance. Various breeds, such as the Thoroughbred and the Arabian, were combined to make the Saddle Horse or "Saddler", which is certainly one of the most striking and beautiful of all horses. Our questioner sent such a good picture of a saddler prancing along lifting his feet very high that we have used it above (keep drawing, Bett, we think you have talent). The beauty and trainable disposition of this horse have made it the most widely exhibited riding horse today. Saddlers may have three gaints, the walk, trot and canter; but five-gaited saddlers have two more gaits, the rack, and a slow gait like a running walk or stepping pace.

Resolutions Only Lasted A Week

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — A lot of people already have bad consciences, although 1970 is only a week old.

They feel guilty, are shamefaced, and can hardly look their fellow man in the eye.

This is because they have already broken a raft of good resolutions they made just a week ago. Seeking to perfect themselves all at once, in a burst of rash enthusiasm they pledged themselves to high resolves that even a cautious angel in heaven would rear to vow.

If all your good resolutions are negative, they may be more harmful than helpful. You must balance them with positive resolutions. A negative resolution is one in which you declare you'll quit doing something that is wrong or bad for you. A positive resolution is one by which you pledge to do something that is good for you.

In any case, the resolution, negative or positive, must be one which is humanly possible for you to keep.

Here, for example are some resolutions you might start with:

To cease accepting free $1 cigars from total strangers.

To quit volunteering to act as cosigner on loans for office gamblers.

To give up the eating of pomegranates after midnight.

To refrain from using any toothbrush at home unless you are particularly sure it is your very own.

To stop ruining your wife's health as the result of taking her out on the town four or five nights a week.

To cease trying personally to reform members of the Mafia who you think may have gone a step too far.

To abstain from chewing ice cubes in church during Lent.

Now really, even though these good resolutions are negative, they aren't too hard to keep, are they? And the mere fact you haven't broken them could make you feel warm all over, couldn't it?

The same holds true for making good resolutions that are positive—ones by which you pledge yourselves to do something that will improve your life.

For example, you might vow to—

Praise your boss to his face instead of just circulating kind words about him behind his back.

Help your firm get out of the red by using just one paper towel, instead of seven, when drying your face in the office washroom.

Agree to lick the stamps for your wife's Christmas cards if she'll agree to go on carrying out the garbage throughout the year.

Get the idea? Any good resolution you make and keep, no matter how small, can't help but make you feel you're a better man when 1971 dawns.

Maj. John Wesley Powell made history as the first explorer to brave the mysteries and rapids of the Colorado. The veteran of the Civil War ran the wild river with only one arm, since he had lost the other at Shiloh.

Hospital Inefficiencies Outlined

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Hospital patients are bearing the cost of unnecessary duplications and a lack of planning in today's hospital systems, a Dallas medical authority said Tuesday.

A practical way to cut the cost of hospital use is to keep patients out of hospitals, said Dr. Norman Kaplan, associate professor of internal medicine at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School.

Patients could be kept out of hospitals by more comprehensive and regular care in outpatient clinics, Kaplan said.

Kaplan said inflation and increased salaries are the main causes of rising hospital costs, but he cited what he called cost-related inefficiencies as a factor.

Among the inefficiencies were:

—Having doctors make up "peer utilization review committees" to rule on whether other doctors are keeping a patient in the hospital too long.

—Operating hospital facilities such as X-ray services only five days a week though patients pay for all seven.

—Requiring hospitalization before initial insurance payments can be obtained.

—Failure of private insurance companies and the federal government to provide incentives for efficient hospital management.

—Building more hospitals without thinking "long and hard" about the need.

—Use of brand-name drugs.

—Padding of lab and X-ray fees, resulting in escalation of costs.

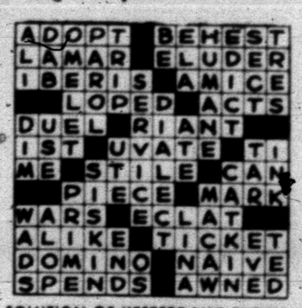

—Failure to exert adequate controls on hospital costs.

—Failure to include medical staff in the planning and running of hospitals.

Britain's Decision To Recognize China's Government Has Paid Off

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Twenty years ago this week Britain, in the 180 degree turn away from the United States, recognized the Communist government at Peking as the masters of mainland China.

The two countries still have not exchanged ambassadors, and the British have collected many knocks over the years. But British leaders look back on recognition as the correct thing to do, and some of this country's best known merchants have bank balances to reflect this.

Some countries, notably the United States, saw the trailblazing act of Jan. 6, 1950, as ill conceived folly and a peril to Western unity in Asia.

But key member-nations of the North Atlantic Alliance, including France, subsequently copied the British example, and President Nixon now is looking for paths toward a working relationship with China.

Critics cite a catalog of insults, indignities and injuries which British diplomats and citizens have had to endure as the price for what seemed to doubtful conciliation.

London counterargues its frail link with Peking has served the national purpose by preserving Hong Kong as a money-spinning colony and as a window through which East and West can see and speak.

All in all, then, British officials express no regrets for what they did. British trade with China is running at about $200 million a year. And British-ruled Hong Kong is flourishing as a factory for all Asia with an annual turnover of around $4 billion.

British merchants originally went to China in the 17th and 18th centuries to buy silks and satins, tea, sugar, spices and gold.

In the 19th century they began increasingly to sell goods there. Frequent clashes with local Chinese commanders led them into a search for a base of their own and in 1841 Hong Kong was ceded to serve as "a secure seat under our own flag." By 1900 it had become the center of British banking, insurance, shipping and mercantile services, the Royal Navy's chief Far Eastern station. It spilled over 20 miles onto the mainland under a 99-year leasing due to expire in 1997.

Early in this century the British set out more and more to manufacture inside China. Labor was cheap, raw materials plentiful and access to the vast Asia market easy. When the Reds took over, many of the factories switched to Hong Kong. In 1949 the colony had less than 1,500 registered factories employing 81,000 workers. Now 13,000 factories employ 550,000.

When the Reds took over, British investments in mainland China were valued at about a billion dollars. A lot of plant know how and skilled workers were hustled into Hong Kong but other assets were either shut down by 1952 or expropriated by Peking. Yet these British losses formed only a fraction of the profits made by this country's traders over the centuries, so few bore hard feelings for long.

"We see the need to persist in trying to break down the largely self-imposed isolation of the Chinese by expanding contracts and bringing them into the international community," foreign Secretary Michael Stewart remarked the other day. "This is why we have consistently voted in the General Assembly of the United Nations for occupation of the China seat by Peking. An effective world authority needs China to play its part in it."

Stewart, in an interview, warned it would be unwise, indefinitely to keep so big a nation out of major world decsions.

It was noted that Britons had been jailed without trial, manhandled, humiliated, their diplomatic mission in Peking destroyed in 1967. But he said recognition "was a correct decision."

Nevertheless the foreign secretary and other statesmen know that any entry of Communist China to world councils would prove a massive political task. Peking insists there can be no room for two Chinas in the United Nations. The Nationalists based on Formosa now hold the China seat.

Successive British governments have favored a U.N. trusteeship regime for Formosa to be followed by a free vote of that island's people as to their future destiny. They also have urged since 1950 that such offshore islands as Quemoy and Matsu should be turned over to Peking.

British authorities doubt that Mao Tse-Tung's men today contemplate a lunge to annex Hong Kong.

A story is told that an American politician asked a British general what it would take for the Chinese to seize the colony.

"A phone call from Mao," the general replied.

Britain's leaders know it. Therefore they see each day that passes as a day gained for Hong Kong. But they think that Chinese thinking and planning are overshadowed by dangers of war with Russia. It seems to London, then, that Mao Tse-Tung would not want to shut his window to the West so long as troubles with Moscow persist.

Hong Kong serves some significant Chinese needs. Roughly $650 million of foreign exchange reaches Peking through the colony, or about half China's annual earnings. The island's four million people buy around $400 million worth of Chinese food, raw materials and other goods yearly.

Red trading and money operations are interlinked with those of the Hong Kong government and its capitalists. Fifteen Communist banks handle $200 million worth of remittances a year from overseas Chinese to mainland families.

The Communists own properties, department stores, movie houses and a range of other private enterprises in the colony. Their selling agencies, through the Hong Kong bridgehead, have been pushing cheap Chinese goods throughout Asia.

The 1950 decision to recognize Peking was taken by the labor government of Prime Minister Clement Attlee with the backing of Sir Winston Churchill's Conservatives. Churchill told Parliament:

"Recognizing a person is not necessarily an act of approval. One has to recognize lots of things and people in this world of sin and woe that one does not like."

A first shock came 11 days after recognition when Premier Chou En-Lai announced Chinese readiness "to negotiate" the establishment of diplomatic relations. It emerged later Peking would not swap ambassadors with London before Britain shut its last consulate on Formosa or before Britain began voting for Peking's tenancy of the U.N. seat. Or before all Chinese state property in British territory has been transferred to the employe Govt. in Hong Kong by the Nationalists and sold to an American firm.

'Rush' wedding? Send cards airmail!

By Abigail Van Buren

(c) 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Our 20-year-old daughter, who attends a college in another state rang us up this morning to tell us that she and her boyfriend got married last night. They had planned to get married when they both finished college, but I guess they couldn't wait that long.

I want to send our relatives and friends formal announcements of their marriage, but something just occurred to me: What if they "had to" get married in a hurry?

COLORADO MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: In that case, send them airmail.

DEAR ABBY: After being married for 28 years to a dear, sweet, lovely little woman, several months ago she was hit with something called "change of life."

I found myself living with a complete stranger who only wanted to pick a row with me and go into a tantrum over the most trivial matters.

She refused to go on a holiday with me this year for the first time, so I went alone, and I must confess I had the best holiday of my life. When I came home after 12 days she was not the least bit glad to see me.

We hardly speak now, and are in separate bedrooms for the first time. I consulted our family doctor and he said my wife would not improve unless she visited him for treatments, which she absolutely refuses to do. Do you recommend a permanent separation? I am seriously considering it.

BELFAST, IRELAND

DEAR BELFAST: You took this woman "in sickness and health." This is sickness. Are you sure the memory of your holiday without her isn't influencing your decision? Talk to your doctor again and ask for some suggestions on how to get this once dear, sweet, lovely woman to go for the treatment she so desperately needs. Don't desert her in her hour of need. Her condition may be temporary.

DEAR ABBY: Our ex-daughter-in-law has refused us the privilege of seeing our grandchildren. She claims that she has spoken to a psychiatrist, the school authorities, and even to her clergyman and they all agree that it would be in the best interests of the children if they were not to see us anymore.

The children are 8, 10, and 11. Our ex-daughter-in-law recently remarried, and our son agreed to let her new husband legally adopt the boys. We love these children, Abby, and this is breaking our hearts. It's true, our son was not the best husband and father in the world, but why should we be punished for his misdeeds?

Tell me, Abby, do you think it is in the best interests of the children to deny them seeing us?

GRANDPARENTS

DEAR GRANDPARENTS: Knowing nothing of how your visits affect the children, I cannot say. Obviously the girl is punishing you along with your son, which seems unfair. But there are no "rights" for grandparents, and your former daughter-in-law is now holding all the trumps.

DEAR ABBY: I was amused at the letters you published from some of those women who remarked on the impotency of men of advanced age. They brought to mind a neighbor of mine who at age 90 announced that he had married! When talking to his son, I asked, "Why did your dad want to get married again at his age?" The son replied, "He didn't WANT to. He HAD to."

Yours truly, INDIANAPOLIS NEIGHBOR

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Career Corner

by Joyce Lain

SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

THE National Science Teachers Association publishes a 52-page booklet of resources which provide career guidance literature. A large number of scientific and technological fields are covered, including aviation and space science, forestry, mathematics, oceanography and veterinary medicine.

FOR A COPY of the booklet, "Keys to Career in Science and Technology," send $1.00 to NEA Publications Sales, 1201 Sixteenth Street, NW, Washington, D. C. 20036. Although the booklet was published in 1967, it contains a tremendous number of leads for further information.

The story of helium began in 1868 when French astronomer Pierre-Jules-Cesar Janssen traveled to India to observe an eclipse of the sun. In the sun's spectrum, he detected a yellow line that he could not reproduce in the laboratory. An English astronomer named the substance helium, from the Greek word for sun.

Miss Lain is happy to have your career topic suggestions for her column, but the volume of mail makes personal replies impossible.
