JUNIOR HIGH OPENS SEPT. 5

With less than a month of vacation left, students and parents alike are probably looking forward to the opening of school on Sept. 5.

Although the new Junior High building will probably not be ready for use when school begins, students will have a number of items to look forward to.

The name of the school has been changed from Aransas County Junior High School to Rockport-Fulton Junior High School. Also, a number of curriculm and scheduling changes have been made to give the students a broader background in their education.

In order to accomplish this the students will take seven subjects each day rather than six. The periods will be shorter than those in the past year.

Students in the seventh grade will take mathematics, English, reading - spelling, Texas social studies, life science, physical education, and one elective from the following: art, band or choir.

Students in the eighth grade will have a slightly broader program. Each student will take mathematics, English-spelling, United States social studies, earth science, physical education, a semester course of literature-reading followed by a semester of either homemaking or shop, and one elective from the following: art, band, or choir.

Students in the seventh grade will be taking life science which was offered only in the eighth grade before. In the eighth grade students will have an expanded program offering or literature - reading, homemaking or shop.

Students who were not enrolled in the Aransas County Public Schools last school year and who will be in either the seventh or eighth grade will be asked to register in the principal's office of the Junior High during the week of Aug. 21.

A student's dress and appearance should always compliment the learning situation. In order to accomplish this, girls should wear dresses, skirts, and blouses which are cut in an acceptable manner so as not to be distracting to the school learning situation for the student or other students.

A boy's appearance in school is just as important as a girl's; therefore, boys will not be permitted to wear long hair. Also, boys will wear belts and socks in order to maintain a nice appearance.

THREE ATTEND B&PW MEETING

Mrs. R. L. Hart, Mrs. Virginia Shivers and Miss Elsie Hawes attended a planning meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club Sunday afternoon in the Rataan Room at Little Bob's Restaurant in Aransas Pass.

HIGH SCHOOL OPENS SEPT. 5

The Rockport-Fulton High School will open its doors on Tuesday, Sept. 5 for the first day of school.

Three new teachers have been added to the faculty of the high school to take care of the increased enrollment that is expected for the coming school year. A new course, vocational Metals II, has been added to the curriculm.

New room additions to the high school will not be available for use when school begins.

Band rehearsals started this past Monday morning and football practice will start Monday, Aug. 14.

Students who attended Aransas County High School last year and did not receive their report cards because of nonpayment of fees or fines should pay these fees of fines during the week of registration of new students to be properly registered and to be able to attend their full schedule of classes on the first day.

Students who were not enrolled in the Aransas County Public Schools last school year and who will be in either grades nine, ten, eleven or twelve are asked to register in the counselor's office during the week of Aug. 21.

Students are reminded that a student's dress and appearance should always complement the learning situation. In order to accomplish this, girls should wear dresses, skirts, and blouses which are cut in an acceptable manner so as not to be distracting to the school learning situation for the student or other students.

A boy's appearance in school is just as important as a girl's; therefore, boys will not be permitted to wear long hair. Also, boys will wear belts and socks in order to maintain a nice appearance.

Welfare Worker Attends Conference

Mrs. Nancy E. Chambers, Aransas county case worker for the Department of Public Welfare, was one of 333 nursing home staff members, welfare case workers and health department employees who attended a conference in San Antonio Tuesday on the implementation of Title XIX, commonly referred to as medicaid, of the Social Security Act in Texas.

The one-day meeting, sponsored by the Texas Nursing Home Association, State Department of Public Welfare, and Texas State Department of Health was based on the theme, "Meet the Challenge of Change," and dealt with the responsibilities of the nursing home and state employees under this new program.

Title XIX, being implemented in Texas starting Sept. 1 will replace the current Kerr-Mills welfare programs which have been functioning in Texas since 1962. This new, joint federal-state program, will initially provide the following services to the certain categorical groups of the medically indigent welfare recipients: Physician services,

Two Construction Projects Underway at Goose Island

Construction plans are underway for two building projects at Goose Island State Park, 10 miles northeast of Rockport, according to the Parks and Wildlife Department.

Plans call for a 1,620 foot lighted fishing pier and a 5,500 foot boat channel. The channel will extend eastward from the boat ramp near the headquarters building in the state park to the St. Charles Bay channel.

The first 185 foot leg of the eight foot wide, wooden pier, will begin on the southeastern tip of the island and extend 185 feet north 58 degrees east; the second leg will extend south 47 degrees east for 800 feet; and the final leg of 635 feet will extend south eight degrees west.

The pier will connect small islands whose elevations average only a foot above high tide level. Department sources say the pier will permit fishermen easy access to wade fishing in the shallow water near the islands as well as deeper waters near the pier.

A fish cleaning area with running water will be constructed on the pier.

The 5,500 foot boat channel, which will be five feet deep and 20 feet wide, will allow users of the boat ramp at Goose Island Park access to the St. Charles Bay Channel and other fishing waters in St. Charles and Aransas Bays. Waters near the boat ramp now are two shallow for use by most outboard boats, Department officials say.

Actual construction is expected to begin this fall, officials indicate.

Highway Department 50th Anniversary Celebration Sept. 26

Local Leaders To Attend Austin Dinner And Pay Tribute to Highway Officials

The Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a trip to Austin Sept. 26 by a group of civic and business leaders to participate in a celebration marking the 50th anniversary of the Texas Highway Department.

Allan Shivers, general chairman of the event, is inviting prominent men and women from all parts of the state to attend to pay tribute to the Highway Department and to State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer and other Highway Department officials.

Four hundred years ago a trickle of Spaniards on horseback explored this Tejas land seeking gold, adventure, a better life. Throughout the centuries millions have followed their wake — and countless others will come as the way is smoothed, their opportunities enhanced.

History describes over and over again the role of the motor vehicle and the highway in the cycle development in modern-day Texas. Needs create demands for better roads which in turn promote growth for areas they serve, resulting in a need for more and better roads. The cycle is a dramatic spiral toward growth and development never before equaled in mankind's desire for personal mobility.

Texans drove their motor vehicles more than 52 billion miles this year, 36 billion on state maintained systems. No where on earth do people place such reliance on highways as we do in the United States. Our whole economy depends on free-flowing movement of goods and people on our adequate highway system. Good highways are especially vital to Texas with its great distances and sprawling urban areas geared to the motor vehicle. As an example: Dallas-Ft. Worth is the second largest populated area in the world, second to Mexico City, not served by water transportation.

Texas now enjoys the largest all-paved, toll-free highway net work in the world. Highway mileage has grown steadily during the 50 years since the Texas Highway Department was formed by the Thirty-Fifth Legislature in 1917. Little progress was made in the improvement of roads from the era of the "prairie schooner" to the late 1800's when Texas was free to begin positive economic and cultural development. Until this episode in Texas history, it was primarily concerned with more pressing problems . . . the dangers and problems of colonization, the winning of independence from Mexico, and gaining admission to the Union.

Several unsuccessful attempts were made by the Texas Legislature between 1903 and 1911 to create a state agency for building roads. even though none of these efforts materialized, they helped pave the way for more positive action in succeeding years.

The Thirty-Fifth Legislature appointed a Highway Commission in 1917, whose duty it was to study and formulate policies and plans for a comprehensive system of state highways in cooperation with the counties. The Commission also was to appoint the Highway Engineer, whose duty it was to carry out the policies of the Commission. With a staff of ten persons headed by State Highway Engineer, George Duren, the Highway Department began operating in June 1917 from offices in the Capitol.

With this meager beginning, Texas has not only "taken the farmer out of the mud," but has built a road system that can carry the "man with wheels" across its state faster than any other in the Union.

PARKING METERS TO DUBLIN

Life isn't going to be the same in dear old Dublin, Ireland. The old city is going to get parking meters. It's hard for Americans to believe there's a city left anywhere in the world without 'em, but the Irish have managed to keep them away until now.

This is going to mean, of course, that the pub life in the land of the wearing of the green is going to be interrupted and it means many a mug will have to be put down on the tavern table, and many an Irish story will have to be interrupted while the teller rushes out to put another coin in the gobbler. The garrulous Irish aren't going to like that for no one likes to tell a story as much as the sons of Eire.

Another upheaval, however, is taking place. Dublin has had parking attendants for many years. These are men who don official looking caps and uniforms and roam the streets. When a motorist indicates he is ready to park one of these attendants pops up out of nowhere and offers to park the car. He has no official status. But he expects to be paid just the same.

These attendants say the meters will run them out of business. Well, maybe. But if finding a space in Dublin is as rough as in the average American city, there's a hunch the attendants will be around. They'll probably up their rates a bit more, put a coin in the meters, and continue to ply their unofficial trade. The Irish may find it worth more just to have someone to hunt a space.

Also, it'll probably be just a matter of time until someone spins some concrete into spiderwebs and comes up with one of these concrete parking garages downtown—and then, fou sure, Dublin will not be the same any more.

IT'S THE LADY'S DEAL

There has been an unwritten law around Nevada's gambling places that women have no business dealing cards. This unwritten code is even supported by a Las Vegas city ordinance that says if a casino hires women dealers it may have its license revoked.

Gamblers have always felt that women shouldn't take a man's job. It all harks back, one suspects, to the days of the wild west when, if a dealer pulled a fast one, he was apt to be plugged with a .38. That just wasn't the thing to do to a woman.

Well, mark down another achievement of the recently passed Civil Rights Act. The law says one cannot discriminate because of race, creed or sex.

A Nevada judge has ruled the act gives women the right not only to deal but also to tend bar because, said the judge, the casinos are engaged in interstate commerce.

Now if a lady dealer marks a card with some off-color finger nail polish, about which men are pretty dumb, does that constitute discrimination against men?

EDITOR'S VIEWPOINTS

THE WORST DRIVERS

Think you're a good driver? Well, if you think too much while behind the wheel, you may be a worse driver than the man who drinks. In fact, a chairman of driving education in public schools in the United States says that "the man who drives while thinking of his business is a poor driver."

Furthermore, he agrees that lawyers, doctors and scientists are generally very poor drivers. Medical men, according to the expert are very often "distracted drivers." Other hazardous drivers, in the opinion of the driving educator, are artists, philosophers, and psychiatrists. Especially psychiatrists, he said, "because they drive such big unwielding cars."

Last but not least, writers are often dangerous drivers, for the simple reason they are "so often drunken with ideas."

THE LOWLY LOAF

That loaf of bread frequently referred to as the staff of life is probably more so than we give it credit. If you can hark way back to the time you paid 25c for a pound and ½-loaf, you can rest assured that 13c of your quarter went for taxes—only 12c of it went for eating.

How was the 12c divided? Like this: The farmer got 2.75 cents for the grain going into the loaf, the labor in baking and handling came to a nickle, and 3½c went for storage, transportation and such items, and 3/4 of a cent covered the profit.

There are 51 taxes wrapped up in a loaf of bread, and this is supposed to be an item we cannot live without—the bread, that is. We'd like to give it a try without the taxes.—Springfield (Minn.) Advance-Press.

A PILL TO REMEMBER

What potentials this new memory-sharpening drug, Cylert, lately described in the Journal of the American Medical Association, could have.

Suppose an adequate quantity were introduced into a city's water supply. Husbands would remember their anniversaries, children would brush after every meal. Suddenly, beleaguered police would find no gun-wielder whose memory went blank just before the shooting. No longer would those in the witness chair have trouble recalling. And politicians would be crystal-clear on their campaign promises after election day.

Can it be that some one of the years we'll be serenading a pharmaceutical firm with "Thanks for the Memories"?—New Orleans States Item.

3-Lb. Black Bass Produced In 14 Months

A new approach in fisheries management has produced a three pound black bass in 14 months at Lake Casa Blanca near Laredo, according to L. V. (Lou) Guerra, aquatic biologist for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Instead of the usual 100 black bass fingerlings per surface acre, Department fisheries crews stocked only 60 in a effort to find out if reduced stocking ratios could produce larger fish in a shorter time, Guerra said.

In 14 months following a complete renovation of the lake by fisheries crews of the Department, Guerra reports black bass weighing up to three pounds, six ounces taken in sampling nets. On a monthly basis, the bass have gained an average of more than three ounces in weight and an inch in length.

Reports also indicated that fish from the lake in netting surveys were fat and healthy.

Important Family Papers Lost Easily

Insurance companies, banks, attorneys and government agencies report that a staggering number of important family papers are lost each year.

For example, an estimated 300,000 life insurance policies are lost annually, says Miss Joy Arrington, Extension home management specialist. Fortunately, these policies can be renewed in about 30 days, but sometimes even this delay can be upsetting.

To help avoid the difficulties and actual money loss that can occur because important papers are lost or destroyed, it is advisable to review regularly where and how you should safeguard them.

According to Miss Arrington, a bank safe-deposit box provides the best security for vital records, particularly those which might not be replaceable in their original form or would require considerable time and expense for replacement. These include birth, baptismal, marriage and death certificates, divorce and adoption papers, property deeds, military discharges, stocks and bonds (if not left with a broker), mortgages, automobile bills of sale and titles, household and personal property inventories, and passports.

Other important papers should be kept at home in a suitable fire-resistant container. These include equipment and appliance warranties, guarantees and instruction books, medical records, Social Security records and insurance policies.

The original copy of your will should be left with your attorney. In Texas, the safe deposit box is sealed upon death of renter and is not opened until the will is probated.

In both safe-deposit box and home storage container, have a list of what is kept in each place. Also list the names and address of persons, companies and agencies who can help replace particular records or provide copies in each case of loss or damage.

New Draft Form For College Students

Austin—A new draft form on which undergraduate college students can request deferment has been furnished draft boards, Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Friday.

Undergraduates must request deferment under the new Military Selective Service Act of 1967 after the date of its enactment, June 30, in order to be deferred.

The form, titled "Request for Undergraduate Student Deferment (SSS Form 104)," reproduces pertinent provisions of Section 6 of the law dealing with student deferments.

On the form the student states his understanding of the provisions of law printed on the form, states he is pursuing a full-time college course, and asks for deferment in Class II-S, then signs the form. The blank forms may be secured from local boards.

Colonel Schwartz said that requests for deferment could be made by ordinary letter, too.

"The form is for the convenience of students," he observed. "It will help them understand what the law provides."

Deferment of undergraduates in Class II-S is mandatory if they are full time and satisfactory, under 24 years old, and request deferment.

To be satisfactory, a student must make normal progress toward his baccalaureate degree. For example, in a four-year course, he will be expected to earn 25 percent of his credits in the 12 months following the beginning of each year.

Mrs. L. E. Atkins and daughter, Debra of Lake Arthur, La., and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cole, Mrs. Floyd Neal and Mrs. B. M. Mitchell of Hitchcock spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. George Kriger in Fulton and attended the Gray-Corbett wedding.

Nearly 10,000-billion gallons of water is stored in reservoirs back of the Hoover Dam.

Wings Point the Way

By Ted L. Clark
Wildlife Biologist
Texas Parks and Wildlife Department

Setting a mourning dove season that is both equitable to hunters and the best interest of the wildlife resources, for a state as large and diverse as Texas, is a very complex task. Because they are migratory, a delay in opening the dove season to eliminate all of the very young from hunters' bags could result in a substantial reduction in the number of birds killed. An earlier opening, on the other hand, could result in killing excessive numbers of adults that have not yet finished their chores of rearing a family, which would also result in the loss of young that are dependent upon them.

To gain insight into the problems of establishing the dove hunting season in relation to the age of birds in the bag, the Parks and Wildlife Department distributed 25,000 dove-wing envelopes over the state during the 1966 hunting seasons so that wings could be collected for examination and aging studies by qualified biologists. Some 1,832 envelopes were returned to the Department, containing more than 30,000 wings. A number of the envelopes received were useless because there was insufficient information as to where or when the doves were collected.

Before evaluating the results of the 1966 wing collection, a few points should be clarified. First, all doves, both adults and juveniles, molt (shed feathers) every year. It is therefore impossible to determine the age of doves based upon the amount of pin feathers. Uusally molting occurs during the summer, but it can extend into the fall. Thus, it is possible for hunters to take adult birds that have a considerable number of pin feathers covering their bodies.

Secondly, some mourning doves nest in Texas during every month of the year, making it possible to find juvenile doves of varying ages, regardless of when the season is set.

Another point that should be made clear is that young doves are dependent upon their parents for about 12 to 15 days after they hatch. In setting hunting seasons, care must be taken not to endanger substantial numbers of nestling doves still dependent on the care of their parents.

Finally, by international treaty the United States and Great Britain (Canada) concluded in 1918, the open season for taking migratory birds must fall between Sept. 1 and Jan. 15.

Mourning doves are readily aged by careful scrutiny of the greater primary coverts and primaries (flight feathers) of the wing. When young doves leave the nest, they have a "full" wing of juvenile feathers consisting of greater primary coverts with white or buff tips and brownish-colored primaries. Within less than a month, these young doves begin what is termed the post-juvenile molt; that is, they begin to loose their juvenile primary coverts and primaries and replace them with adult feathers.

Adult feathers are easily distinguished, as they lack the white or buff tip on the greater primary coverts and the primary feathers are darker, blue-gray in color. It takes approximately 145 days to complete this post-juvenile molt; thus, any bird more than 4½ months old is classed as an adult.

The approximate time required for a complete molt has also been broken into the approximate length of time, in days, required to molt each of the juvenile primaries. This knowledge permits biologists to take a large number of wings from juvenile birds, determine the age of the bird at the time it was killed from the stage of feather replacement, and back-date this data to determine hatching dates. This is exactly what was done with more than 15,300 juvenile wings submitted by hunters during 1966.

Peaks of hatching in the North and South zones are substantially different. In the North Zone during 1966, the peak occurred the first week in July, while it occurred during the third week of July in the South Zone. Since young doves are dependent upon their parents for a miximum of 15 days, and opening hunting date must consider the young birds which would be lost as a result of shooting the parents.

Through an analysis of hatching data, it is apparent in the North Zone that approximately four percent of the total production of young doves could theoretically be jeopardized by opening the season on Sept. 1. Similarly, in the South Zone a Sept. 24 opening date could jeopardize approximately six percent of the young birds. In essence then, it can be said that the earlier opening date, the greater the danger of losing young doves still in the nest, particularly in the South Zone.

Certainly, the actual number of young lost last year was much less, because to lose the above percentages of the hatch would require that both parents of young in the nests be killed on opening day of the season. All are killed during the entire season, much less on opening day.

Age determinations from dove wings submitted by hunters also are useful in appraising opening hunting dates with respect to the ratio of very young, or "objectionable," birds in the bag. A potentially objectionable bird may be considered one with excessive pin feathers, or a bird that is only 45 to 54 days old, or younger. These young birds are distinguished by not yet having molted the fourth primary. After molting this feather, doves are of such body weight that the dressed bird usually cannot be distinguished from an adult. It should be remembered that pin feathers will occur on older birds, even adults, as the result of natural molting cycles, although to a lesser degree. The number of birds younger than 45 to 54 days rapidly declines during the fall period. During the first week of the 1966 season in the North Zone, 67 percent of the juvenile birds bagged were in this age class, while the South Zone recorded only 45 percent. The number of such young birds bagged by hunters could be greatly reduced if the opening date in each of the zones were delayed one week. Fall population trend surveys suggest, however, that any delay would seriously affect the number of doves found in some areas of the state, due to the normal fall migration of doves.

In addition to the complex factors already described, other factors must be considered before dove hunting season dates are set. Of paramount importance in modern game management is the current welfare and perpetuation of the species. Since the mourning dove is the most popular game bird of Texas, the interests of the hunter must be remembered too. The dates selected by the Parks and Wildlife Commission reflect all of these factors.

Just as the Parks and Wildlife Commission has a dual obligation to the dove resource and the hunting public, hunters have an obligation to assist in gathering sufficient data upon which hunting regulations may be based. Submitting dove wings is one way sportsmen can assist. Dove wing envelopes may be obtained from local game wardens. At the end of the hunt, one wing from each dove taken by the party should be removed and placed in the envelope. Dove wings will keep for long periods of time if they are dry and neatly severed close to the body without large breast muscles attached. Wings should never be placed in an airtight plastic bag.

After carefully filling out all blanks of the questionaire on the back, the hunter can drop the prepaid envelope in the nearest mailbox and stand just a little taller, for his efforts will materially contribute to the future of dove hunting in Texas.

The diamond is April's birthstone.

Second Article On Study of Water Cost

The Pilot herewith presents the second, or continuation, of an article on a report of the costs to produce and distribute water in Rockport. The study was made by Urban Engineering, Corpus Christi, for the city.

METHODS AND CRITERIA

Water System

General: In compiling this report the best information available was used. Prior to 1954 records on the water system are almost non-existent. After 1954 records became progressively more detailed. When information was scarce estimates were made (with the aid of the City Staff) to fill in the "gaps."

Sources of Information: A large portion of the data came from "Report on Examination" prepared by Seale, McCarty & Millikin. Public Accountants. These reports date back to April, 1954. The remainder of the data came from the files of the water superintendent and records in City Hall.

Procedure: For the purpose of this study, the existing water system was separated into two major divisions. These two major divisions were then divided into their basic parts as follows:

Production System: Wells, lines to ground storage, iron removal units.

Distribution System: Ground storage, elevated storage, pump stations, distribution lines.

"Construction Cost" of the basic parts of each system was determined from available records. They include the cost of construction, engineering, attorneys, testing, interest on bond money, land cost and administrative costs related to construction.

In arriving at the "Construction Cost" no distinction was made as to who actually paid out the money. One example is the $189,000 grant obtained from the Federal Government in 1963. Another example is water lines installed by subdivision developers (in some cases a portion of the cost was refunded to the developers by the City).

"Economic Life" of the basic parts of each system was then divided into the "Construction Cost" to arrive at the annual cost just to provide each system. The term "Economic Life" as used here should not be confused with the physical life of the system. "Economic Life" is the length of time the particular part of the system can be expected to be used with normal maintenance.

Naturally, this will vary depending on many factors. With the assistance of the City's Water Superintendent and available records, we have estimated the "Economic Life" of the basic parts of the systems.

"Annual Maintenance" of the basic parts of the system was estimated with the assistance of the Water Superintendent and his records.

The annual cost to provide the system was then added to the annual maintenance cost to obtain the annual cost to own and maintain the existing system. The above explanation is summarized by the following equation:

Annual cost to own and maintain existing system, equals construction cost economic, plus annual maintenance cost.

"Trucks and Equipment": The trucks and equipment used in the production and distribution of water are also used in other phases of the City's operation.

Other agencies have made extensive studies on costs to own and operate trucks and equipment. To develop an annual cost, that would be reliable, (based on the City's records) for the City's trucks and equipment is beyond the scope of this study; therefore, the following method was used:

Annual pickup truck cost equals per cent of year used plus 2,000 hrs. per year, plus $1.00 hr.

Annual 1½ ton truck cost, equals per cent of year used, plus 2,000 hrs. per year, plus $1.20 hr.

Annual backhoe cost equals number hrs. used per year, plus $7.00.

The 2,000 hours per year for rolling stock is a figure used by other agencies. (The City of Corpus Christi used 1,980 hours per year.)

The rates per hour to own, operate, and maintain trucks and equipment were derived from a book by R. L. Peurifoy entitled "Construction Planning," "Equipment Methods" and a publication put out by Associated Equipment Distributors entitled "Averaged Rental Rates for Construction Equipment."

"Annual Salaries" were taken directly from the 1964, 1965 and 1966 "Report on Eximination prepared by Seale, McCarty & McMillikin, Public Accountants. An annual salary cost was arrived at by using an average of these three years. These salaries were then proportionad on the follow-percentages:

Production System 10%
Distribution System 90%

"Annual Office Expense" was taken directly from the 1964, 1965 and 1966 "Report on EXAMINATION" referred to above. An average of these three years was used. The entire annual cost was charged to the water distribution system.

"Annual Insurance Expense" was taken directly from the 1966 "Report on Examination" and proportioned as follows:

Production System 50%
Distribution System 50%

"Annual Miscellaneous Expense" was taken directly from the 1964, 1965 and 1966 "Report on Examination." An average of these three years was used. This cost was proportioned as follows:

Production System 10%
Distribution System 90%

All of the preceding annual costs were then added together to obtain the annual cost to produce and distribute water. The only expense not reflected is the cost of electricity which is covered hereafter.

Electricity Cost Per 1,000 Gallons

The annual cost for electricity for 1965 and 1966 was taken directly from "Reports on Examination." These costs were each divided by the total number of gallons of water produced and distributed during those years. The costs per 1,000 gallons for electricity were then averaged. The cost per 1,000 gallons was then proportioned between production and distribution on the following basis:

Production system cost per 1,000 gallons (electricity), equal sum of h.p. of pumps in production system; sum of h.p. of pumps in combined system, plus average cost per 1,000 gallons, (electricity).

Distribution system cost per 1,000 gallons (electricity equal average cost per gallon (electricity)—production system cost per 1,000 gallons (electricity.)

Procedure to determine the actual quantity of water sold in the different rate categories.

The City of Rockport sells water under the following categories:

0 to 3,000 gallons, 3,000 to 10,000 gallons, 10,000 to 20,000 gallons; over 20,000 gallons.

The rate for these categories is different ouside the City Limits.

The actual water sold in each category from January, 1964, thru December, 1966, was tabulated. The results of this tabulation is shown on Graph I.

Procedure to determine cost per 1,000 gallons to produce and distribute water was determined by the following method:

Cost per 1,000 gallons to produce water, equals total annual cost to produce water - Total gallons in 1964, 1965, and 1966, plus electricity cost per 1,000 gallons to produce water.

Cost per 1,000 gallons to distribute water equals total annual cost to distribute water - total gallons water produced in 1964, 1965, and 1966, plus electricity cost per 1,000 gallons to distribute water.

Sanitary Sewerage System

The same basic methods used to develop cost in the water systems was utilized to develop the costs in the sanitary sewerage systems.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Garner, Jr., and sons of Woodsboro are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Blackwell this week.

DELICATE JOB of supervising the cease-fire line on both sides of the Suez Canal is in the hands of Lieut. Gen. PRE-SCHOOL CHILD MUST BE TAUGHT TO THINK FOR HIMSELF

A young child must be taught to think for himself, not just to react by habit, if he is able to cope with the unexpected, say family life education specialists at Texas A&M University.

Although demands upon the pre-school youngster must be kept within reason, childcare authorities of America, agree that the average 4-year old is capable of comprehending much more than his parents usually believe he can.

In teaching a child to handle emergencies, do not frighten him. Take a calm, matter-of-fact attitude in explaining emergency situations, even if you may be anxious about them yourself. For instance, in explaining these situations, do not offer sordid details or create a horror story.

Every young child should know what to do in these specific situations: 1) If lost in town: He should be able to repeat his name, address and telephone number to an adult. A small child should also carry some form of identification such as a bracelet or tag on his clothing with his name and address on it. Train him not to panic, but to try to seek a policeman or fireman for help.

2) If lost in the country: He should remain in the open where he can be found more easily. If an older child is lost while hiking in the woods, teach him to pick one direction and walk until he comes to a road or path. He should be able to keep track of his direction by knowing that the sun sets in the west.

3) If bitten by an animal: Train your child never to pet a strange animal. But if bitten, and no adult is immediately available for help, teach him to wash the wound thoroughly under running watter and to dry it with a clean gauze. He should report the injury to an adult as soon as possible and try to identify the animal.

4) If fire breaks out at home: A child should know two escape routes from his bedroom. He should also know how to call the fire department and how to report the exact location of the house. The National Fire Protection Association says children as young as four have been successfully taught some simple responses in case a fire breaks out during the night. These include not to open bedroom doors, but to stay near an open window awaiting rescue and on a predetermined signal from a parent, to crawl out a window. Repeated rehearsals are important because a child's impulse is to run to his parents in a fire emergency, an act that could trap him in the flames.

5) If clothes catch on fire: Train the child to immediately drop to the ground and smother the flames by rolling about. If a rug or coat is handy, he should wrap these about his body.

6) If approached by strangers: Many hundreds of boys and girls are victimized each year because they are not taught to beware of strangers who approach them in public places. Teach children not to become friendly with strangers and never under any circumstances to accompany a stranger to a lonely place.

Children should not accept automobile rides, candy, money or other favors from a stranger.

UNCLE SAM'S SELECTIVE SERVICE

Editor's Note: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 702 Colorado St., Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q—What must I do to qualify for II-S classification as an undergraduate college student?

A—You must file a written request with your draft board after June 30, 1967. At the end of each school year you must furnish the board with convincing evidence that you are continuing to pursue satisfactorily a fulltime course of instruction.

Q—How is the phrase "satisfactorily pursuing a fulltime course of instruction" defined?

A—An undergraduate student taking a four-year course must earn 25 per cent of the credits toward his bachelor's degree at the end of his first academic year, 50 percent at the end of his second, and 75 percent at the end of his third. If five years of study are prescribed by the school for a bachelor's degree in some field, a student must earn 20 percent of the total credits toward the degree each year.

Q—What is meant by a "student's academic year"?

A—In determining a student's eligibility for classification in Class II-S (college student), his academic year shall include the 12-month period following the beginning of his course of study.

Medicaid was the companion legislation to medicare passed by Congress in 1965 as a part of Public Law 89-97. Since medicaid is a joint federal-state program, while medicare is strictly a federal program, each state legislature had to pass legislation enabling the state to participate in the program. Senate Bill 2, passed by the Texas Legislature was signed by Governor John Connally on May 11, 1967, was Texas' enabling legislation.

Conference speakers included Dr. David Wade, Assistant Commissioner for Medical Administration, State Department of Public Welfare; Arthur B. Taylor, president, Texas Nursing Home Association; L. C. Rouse, director, Public Assistance Division, State Department of Public Welfare; Dr. R. C. Presbyterian Youths Entertained Here

Twenty young people of the First Presbyterian Church attertained 40 teenagers from Jackson Woods Presbyterian Church in Corpus Christi with a beach party and weiner roast Sunday afternoon. Sailing and water skiing were enjoyed by the youths.

Sponsors from Rockport were Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Lang, Mr. and Mrs. J. Allen Frye, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Morrison. From Corpus Christi were Rev. and Mrs. Arnott Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Bob McKinley, Mr. and Mrs. Self and Mr. and Mrs. McInnis.

The Corpus Christi group was returning a visit that the Rockport group made to Corpus Christi last month.

The Search For Life on Mars

Is there life on any other planet? Does Mars have the raw materials for the emergence of life? Are they similar to those that once existed on earth?

These questions and many others were asked in a recent weekly radio program of the American Chemical Society, by Dr. Richard Young, a National Aeronautics and Space Administration scientist who is trying to find the answers.

Mars is the scientist's number one candidate as a one candidate as a site for extraterrestrial lite, according to Dr. Young, because it is the most Earth-like of all the planets. "The premise is that Mars originated as a planet much in the same way that the earth did."

The accidental discovery of compounds containing carbon and hydrogen on Mars this year, made by Dr. Lewis Kaplin, a scientist at Jet Propulsion Laboratories of the California Institute of Technology Pasadena, Calif., implies that there may, indeed, be life on that planet.

Carbon-hydrogen compounds are organic, and living systems on Earth are made of organic compounds. Although scientist are excited about Kaplan's discovery, they realize that it is only one link in a long chain of evidence that must be deciphered.

Three criteria of living systems must be met before scientists can say with certainty that life exists on Mars.

Proteins and nucleic acids, the building blocks of life, must be found. However, these things can be synthesized without the help of living things, so that their presence on Mars would not be conclusive evidence of life on that planet.

Metabolism—using up substances like oxygen or glucose and producing a waste product like carbon dioxide—is also a basic attribute of all living systems.

The third criterion for life is reproduction, the increase in number with time. NASA scientists are working on methods of detecting metabolism and reproduction on Mars, but Dr. Young cautioned these answers will not be found immediately. "It is not easy to detect life by remote means. To detect life on Mars we are going to have to land."

Some advance work can be done before landings are made on Mars. The determination of the composition of the Martian atmosphere, the distribution of water on the surface, infrared observations which may locate areas of geothermal activity and areas of high water concentration—these experiments can all be done from Earth.

One of the most important tasks for the first space vehicle that lands on Mars will be to collect samples of the surface. Chemical analysis of materials on Mars will tell us whether it really is like the Earth.

If the proper samples are obtained, chemical analysis will tell whether or not proteins and nucleic acids exist on Mars. If these building blocks are not detected, chemists are of the opinion that life as we know it will not be found there.

"We can say definitely that there is nothing which says that there is no life on Mars or that life cannot possibly exists on Mars," said Dr. Young. "Everything we know about Mars yields best to the biological theory. The best all-round explanation for things that seem to happen is a biological evplanation."

Mrs. Inez Sharp of Covington, La., arrived last week for a visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Sharp and children.

DID YOU KNOW THAT:

For the past three years an average of 2515 wild forest fires occurred annually, burning over 40,540 acres of valuable forest lands in the pine-hardwood area of East Texas. If the acreage burned were reduced to a strip 50 feet wide it would extend a distance of 6,689 miles, more than sufficient to cross and recross the Continental United States.

Tire Pressure: How Much for Your Car?

College Station—Most drivers know that their car's oil and water levels should be checked regularly.

But checking the condition and pressure of the car's tires—a simple yet vital part of safe driving—is often overlooked. Even when tires are new, overloading a car or underinflating tires can cause damage or deflation. Proper care of tires not only promotes safety but helps prolong tire life, says Henry O'Neal, Extension agricultural engineer.

Inflate tires properly. Recommended tire pressure for normal driving conditions is given in the manual provided when the car was new. If you have no manual, check with the car dealer or manufacturer to find out the proper tire pressure.

Tires should always have at least the recommended pressure. Underinflated tires are particularly hazardous. Some people let a few pounds of air pressure out of their tires to give a softer ride. Don't do this. Soft tires flex more than usual, building up excessive heat, increases the risk of tire failure. The National Safety Council says far too many motorists drive with tires dangerously underinflated. (Excessive wear on the outer edges of treads is a common sign of chronic underinflation.) Check tire pressure at least once a month and before long trips. Make this check when tires are cool—when you have driven less than a mile or after a car has been parked for at least three hours. Check air pressure in the spare tire, too.

Avoid overloading. The recommended tire pressure is a minimum figure for an average carload, frequently three passengers and no luggage. If you plan to go on a trip or drive with your car and trunk fully loaded, add four to six pounds of pressure to each tire.

Inspect tires frequently to detect worn tread, breaks or cuts in the tread or sidewalls. Remove small stones, nails, or bits of glass embedded in the tire or between treads. If you see bumps, bulges or deep cracks in the tread or sidewalls, have the tire removed from the wheel and examined by an expert. It may need to be repaired or replaced.

This and That

JOHN KINSEY

When Elmo "Buster" Price shines shoes at Joe Zambrano's Barber Shop, he often thinks about the "old days" when he was considered one of the greatest fighters in South Texas and Mexico.

The 69-year-old Negro started boxing when he was 11 years old "in a ring they fixed up at Charlie Gibson's (now Johnson's) Fish House."

"I just plain liked to fight," Buster recalls, "and I started making pretty good money for a kid—sometimes $3 or $4 for one fight, and later I earned as much as $4,000 for one fight in Mexico.

"I got big faster than most kids and when I was only 11, I was 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighed about 165 pounds. I never did get any taller, but I put on weight as I got older and when I was boxing in Mexico I weighed 190 pounds and fought as a heavyweight."

Buster remembers that he started fighting in Mexico when he was 17 years old "because I had heard they paid good money down there to see a real good fight."

As a tribute to Price's speed, his Mexican fans started calling him "Relampago" which means lightning. Old timers who saw him fight say he was extremely fast for a heavyweight, darting in and out, jabbing and hooking and weardown much heavier opponents.

"I did pretty good, fighting in Mexico City, Monterrey and Victoria, Mexico for two years and three months and then I got licked," Price relates. "I figured it was time to come back to Texas and go to work doing plain work."

He's been working ever since and, except for eye trouble, probably the result of his fighting days, Buster has stayed trim and in good shape."

The Golden Gate Bridge in California has six lanes of traffic and two walkways.

NUMBER THREE ON THE BALLOT

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 17 proposing an amendment to Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, so as to authorize an increase in the total amount of bonds or obligations that may be issued by the Veterans' Land Board to Four Hundred Million Dollars ($400,000,000); providing for the issuance of said bonds or obligations and the conditions relating thereto and the use of the Veterans' Land Fund; and providing for an election and the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, be amended so that the same will hereafter read as follows:

"Section 49-b. By virtue of prior Amendments to this Constitution, there has been created a governmental agency of the State of Texas performing governmental duties which has been designated the Veterans' Land Board. Said Board shall continue to function for the purposes specified in all of the prior Constitutional Amendments except as modified herein. Said Board shall be composed of the Commissioner of the General Land Office and two (2) citizens of the State of Texas, one (1) of whom shall be well versed in veterans' affairs and one (1) of whom shall be well versed in finances. One (1) such citizen member shall, with the advice and consent of the Senate, be appointed biennially by the Governor to serve for a term of four (4) years; but the members serving on said Board on the date of adoption hereof shall complete the terms to which they were appointed. In the event of the resignation or death of any such citizen member, the Governor shall appoint a replacement to serve for the unexpired portion of the term to which the deceased or resigning member had been appointed. The compensation for said citizen members shall be as is now or may hereafter be fixed by the Legislature; and each shall make bond in such amount as is now or may hereafter be prescribed by the Legislature.

"The Commissioner of the General Land Office shall act as Chairman of said Board and shall be the administrator of the Veterans' Land Program under such terms and restrictions as are now or may hereafter be provided by law. In the absence or illness of said Commissioner, the Chief Clerk of the General Land Office shall be the Acting Chairman of said Board with the same duties and powers that said Commissioner would have if present.

"The Veterans' Land Board may provide for, issue and sell not to exceed Four Hundred Million Dollars ($400,000,000) in bonds or obligations of the State of Texas for the purpose of creating a fund to be known as the Veterans' Land Fund, Two Hundred Million Dollars ($200,000,000) of which have heretofore been issued and sold. Such bonds or obligations shall be sold for not less than par value and accrued interest; shall be issued in such forms, denominations, and upon such terms as are now or may hereafter be provided by law; shall be issued and sold at such times, at such places, and in such installments as may be determined by said Board; and shall bear a rate or rates of interest as may be fixed by said Board but the weighted average annual interest rate, as that phrase is commonly and ordinarily used and understood in the municipal bond market, of all the bonds issued and sold in any installment of any bonds may not exceed four and one-half per cent (4½%). All bonds or obligations issued and sold hereunder shall, after execution by the Board, approval by the Attorney General of Texas, registration by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchaser or purchasers, be incontestable and shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas under the Constitution of Texas; and all bonds heretofore issued and sold by said Board are hereby in all respects validated and declared to be general obligations of the State of Texas. In order to prevent default in the payment of principal or interest on any such bonds, the Legislature shall appropriate a sufficient amount to pay the same.

"In the sale of any such bonds or obligations, a preferential right of purchase shall be given to the administrators of the various Teacher Retirement Funds, the Permanent University Funds, and the Permanent School Funds.

"Said Veterans' Land Fund shall consist of any lands heretofore or hereafter purchased by said Board, until the sale price therefor, together with any interest and penalties due, have been received by said Board (although nothing herein shall be construed to prevent said Board from accepting full payment for a portion of any tract), and of the moneys attributable to any bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board which moneys so attributable shall include but shall not be limited to the proceeds from the issuance and sale of such bonds; the moneys received from the sale or resale of any lands, or rights therein, purchased with such proceeds; the moneys received from the sale or resale of any lands, or rights therein, purchased with other moneys attributable to such bonds; the interest and penalties received from the sale or resale of such lands, or rights therein; the bonuses, income, rents, royalties, and any other pecuniary benefit received by said Board from any such lands; sums received by way of indemnity or forfeiture for the failure of any bidder for the purchase of any such bonds to comply with his bid and accept and pay for such bonds or for the failure of any bidder for the purchase of any lands comprising a part of said Fund to comply with his bid and accept and pay for any such lands; and interest received from investments of any such moneys. The principal and interest on the bonds heretofore and hereafter issued by said Board shall be paid out of the moneys of said Fund in conformance with the Constitutional provisions authorizing such bonds; but the moneys of said Fund which are not immediately committed to the payment of principal and interest on such bonds, the purchase of lands as herein provided, or the payment of expenses as herein provided may be invested in bonds or obligations of the United States until such funds are needed for such purposes.

"All moneys comprising a part of said Fund and not expended for the purposes herein provided shall be a part of said Fund until there are sufficient moneys therein to retire fully all of the bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board, at which time all such moneys remaining in said Fund, except such portion thereof as may be necessary to retire all such bonds which portion shall be set aside and retained in said Fund for the purpose of retiring all such bonds, shall be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund to be appropriated to such purposes as may be prescribed by law. All moneys becoming a part of said Fund thereafter shall likewise be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund.

"When a Division of said Fund (each Division consisting of the moneys attributable to the bonds issued and sold pursuant to a single Constitutional authorization and the lands purchased therewith) contains sufficient moneys to retire all of the bonds secured by such Division, the moneys thereof, except such portion as may be needed to retire all of the bonds secured by such Division which portion shall be set aside and remain a part of such Division for the purpose of retiring all such bonds, may be used for the purpose of paying the principal and the interest thereon, together with the expenses herein authorized, of any other bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board. Such use shall be a matter for the discretion and direction of said Board; but there may be no such use of any such moneys contrary to the rights of any holder of any of the bonds issued and sold by said Board or violative of any contract to which said Board is a party.

"The Veterans' Land Fund shall be used by said Board for the purpose of purchasing lands situated in the State of Texas owned by the United States or any governmental agency thereof, owned by the Texas Prison System or any other governmental agency of the State of Texas, or owned by any person, firm, or corporation. All lands thus purchased shall be acquired at the lowest price obtainable, to be paid for in cash, and shall be a part of said Fund. Such lands heretofore or hereafter purchased and comprising a part of said Fund are hereby declared to be held for a governmental purpose, although the individual purchasers thereof shall be subject to taxation to the same extent and in the same manner as are purchasers of lands dedicated to the Permanent Free Public School Fund.

"The lands of the Veterans' Land Fund shall be sold by said Board in such quantities, on such terms, at such prices, at such rates of interest and under such rules and regulations as are now or may hereafter be provided by law to veterans who served not less than ninety (90) continuous days, unless sooner discharged by reason of a service-connected disability, on active duty in the Army, Navy, Air Force, Coast Guard or Marine Corps of the United States between September 16, 1940, and the date of formal withdrawal of United States troops from the present armed conflict in Viet Nam, and who, upon the date of filing his or her application to purchase any such land is a citizen of the United States, is a bona fide resident of the State of Texas, and has not been dishonorably discharged from any branch of the Armed Forces abovenamed and who at the time of his or her enlistment, induction, commissioning, or drafting was a bona fide resident of the State of Texas, or who has resided in Texas at least five (5) years prior to the date of filing his or her application. The foregoing notwithstanding, any lands in the Veterans' Land Fund which have been first offered for sale to veterans and which have not been sold may be sold or resold to such purchasers, in such quantities, and on such terms, and at such prices and rates of interest, and under such rules and regulations as are now or may hereafter be provided by law.

"Said Veterans' Land Fund, to the extent of the moneys attributable to any bonds hereafter issued and sold by said Board may be used by said Board, as is now or may hereafter be provided by law, for the purpose of paying the expenses of surveying, monumenting, road construction, legal fees, recordation fees, advertising and other like costs necessary or incidental to the purchase and sale, or resale, of any lands purchased with any of the moneys attributable to such additional bonds, such expenses to be added to the price of such lands when sold, or resold, by said Board; for the purpose of paying the expenses of issuing, selling, and delivering any such additional bonds; and for the purpose of meeting the expenses of paying the interest or principal due or to become due on any such additional bonds.

"All of the moneys attributable to any series of bonds hereafter issued and sold by said Board (a 'series of bonds' being all of the bonds issued and sold in a single transaction as a single installment of bonds) may be used for the purchase of lands as herein provided, to be sold as herein provided, for a period ending eight (8) years after the date of sale of such series of bonds; provided, however, that so much of such moneys as may be necessary to pay interest on bonds hereafter issued and sold shall be set aside for that purpose in accordance with the resolution adopted by said Board authorizing the issuance and sale of such series of bonds. After such eight (8) year period, all of such moneys shall be set aside for the retirement of any bonds hereafter issued and sold and to pay interest thereon, together with any expenses as provided herein, in accordance with the resolution or resolutions authorizing the issuance and sale of such additional bonds, until there are sufficient moneys to retire all of the bonds hereafter issued and sold, at which time all such moneys then remaining a part of said Veterans' Land Fund and thereafter becoming a part of said Fund shall be governed as elsewhere provided herein.

"This Amendment being intended only to establish a basic framework and not to be a comprehensive treatment of the Veterans' Land Program, there is hereby reposed in the Legislature full power to implement and effectuate the design and objects of this Amendment, including the power to delegate such duties, responsibilities, functions, and authority to the Veterans' Land Board as it believes necessary.

"Should the Legislature enact any enabling laws in anticipation of this Amendment, no such law shall be void by reason of its anticipatory nature.

"This Amendment shall become effective upon its adoption."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on November 11, 1967, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"FOR the amendment to extend the Veterans' Land Program by authorizing the sale of bonds to increase the Veterans' Land Fund for the purpose of purchasing land in Texas to be sold to Texas veterans who served in the Armed Services of the United States between September 16, 1940, and the date of formal withdrawal of United States troops from the present armed conflict in Viet Nam, which amendment would amend Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, and provide for an additional $200,000,000 in bonds, such funds to be expended in accordance with instructions and requirements that may be provided by law."

"AGAINST the amendment to extend the Veterans' Land Program by authorizing the sale of bonds to increase the Veterans' Land Fund for the purpose of purchasing land in Texas to be sold to Texas veterans who served in the Armed Services of the United States between September 16, 1940, and the date of formal withdrawal of United States troops from the present armed conflict in Viet Nam, which amendment would amend Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, and provide for an additional $200,000,000 in bonds, such funds to be expended in accordance with instructions and requirements that may be provided by law."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for the election and this amendment shall be published in the manner and for the length of time as required by the Constitution and laws of this state.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

NUMBER FIVE ON THE BALLOT

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of Texas be amended by adding a new section thereto to be known as Section 49-e, as follows:

"Section 49-e. The Parks and Wildlife Department, or its successor vested with the powers, duties, and authority which deals with the operation, maintenance, and improvement of State Parks, shall have the authority to provide for, issue and sell general obligation bonds of the State of Texas in an amount not to exceed Seventy-Five Million Dollars ($75,000,000). The bonds authorized herein shall be called "Texas Park Development Bonds," shall be executed in such form, denominations, and upon such terms as may be prescribed by law, provided, however, that the bonds shall bear a rate or rates of interest as may be fixed by the Parks and Wildlife Department or its successor, but the weighted average annual interest rate, as that phrase is commonly and ordinarily used and understood in the municipal bond market, of all the bonds issued and sold in any installment of any bonds, shall not exceed four and one-half percent (4½%) interest per annum; they may be issued in such installments as said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, finds feasible and practical in accomplishing the purpose set forth herein.

"All moneys received from the sale of said bonds shall be deposited in a fund hereby created with the State Treasurer to be known as the Texas Park Development Fund to be administered (without further appropriation) by the said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, in such manner as prescribed by law.

"Such fund shall be used by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, under such provisions as the Legislature may prescribe by general law, for the purposes of acquiring lands from the United States, or any governmental agency thereof, from any governmental agency of the State of Texas, or from any person, firm, or corporation, for State Park Sites and for developing said sites as State Parks.

"While any of the bonds authorized by this provision, or any interest on any such bonds, is outstanding and unpaid, there is hereby appropriated out of the first moneys coming into the Treasury in each fiscal year, not otherwise appropriated by this Constitution, an amount which is sufficient to pay the principal and interest on such bonds that mature or become due during such fiscal year, less the amount in the interest and sinking fund at the close of the prior fiscal year, which includes any receipts derived during the prior fiscal year by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, from admission charges to State Parks, as the Legislature may prescribe by general law.

"The Legislature may provide for the investment of moneys available in the Texas Park Development Fund and the interest and sinking fund established for the payment of bonds issued by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor. Income from such investment shall be used for the purposes prescribed by the Legislature.

"From the moneys received by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, from the sale of the bonds issued hereunder, there shall be deposited in the interest and sinking fund for the bonds authorized by this section sufficient moneys to pay the interest to become due during the State fiscal year in which the bonds were issued. After all bonds have been fully paid with interest, or after there are on deposit in the interest and sinking fund sufficient moneys to pay all future maturities of principal and interest, additional moneys received from admission charges to State Parks shall be deposited to the State Parks Fund, or any successor fund which may be established by the Legislature as a depository for Park revenue earned by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor.

"All bonds issued hereunder shall after approval by the Attorney General, registration by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchasers, be incontestable and shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas under the Constitution of Texas.

"Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this amendment, such Acts shall not be void by reason of their anticipatory nature."

Sec. 2. The foregoing amendment to the Constitution shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on November 11, 1967, at which election each ballot shall have printed thereon, the folowing words:
