Sir Douglas Reshuffles Conservatives

LONDON (AP) — Sir Alec Douglas-Home ordered a drastic reorganization of his Conservative party today and eased former Foreign Secretary Richard A. Butler from his high command.

Butler, 61, thus became a scapegoat for the party's election defeat by Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Laborites. As head of the Conservative research department, he had been a leading architect of Tory policy for the past 20 years.

Douglas-Home defeated Butler for the Tory leadership in the power struggle last year that accompanied Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's resignation.

Other top brass to go in the party shakeup were the vice chairmen, Lord Poole and Dame Barbara Brooke. Their resignations after the election had been expected.

Butler's department was merged with the central Conservative office. He held no other party job.

It had been widely forecast that Douglas-Home would drop Butler even if the Conservatives had been returned to office. His chief offense, according to some political observers, was a pre-election interview in which he made acid comments on Douglas-Home's leadership.

Foreign Seretary Patrick Gordon Walker, at a news conference Thursday night, outlined some aspects of the new government's foreign policy.

Gordon Walker said Britain's relationship with the United States and with the other members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization provides the "sheet anchor" of the Labor government's policy.

He also said the Labor government:

Hoped for "friendlier relationships with Arab states and Arab nationalism" but also for "very close and friendly relationships with Israel."

Will support Malaysia against Indonesian attacks but believes the peoples of that part of the world must settle their problems themselves.

Regards the United Nations as being of "extreme importance."

US Defense Is Adequate, — McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says neither the Kremlin shakeup nor Red China's nuclear detonation will bring any significant increase in next year's military budget.

Speaking of U.S. nuclear might Thursday at a news conference, he said "these forces are adequate to survive a surprise attack upon this country, and survive with sufficient power to strike back in such a way as to assure the simultaneous destruction of the Communist Chinese and the Soviet societies."

McNamara said it is too early to assess the military significance of the ouster of Nikita Khrushchev and other changes in the Soviet hierarchy. However, he voiced confidence that the United States' present conventional forces and battlefield nuclear weapons strength are enough to protect national security "for the foreseeable future."

"If there should be any indication of significant increases in Soviet forces, or Soviet military budgets, for example, we shall be able to take the necessary steps to counter these increases before they are effective," McNamara said.

All this suggests that the military budget for 1966 will again call for spending of about $50 billion.

The defense secretary said the United States had anticipated for about three years Communist China's successful detonation of a nuclear device last week.

"The actual detonation, therefore, does not require any change in our strategic nuclear forces or the plans for those forces," he said.

Eisenhower Hospitalized With Cough

By JOHN BARBOUR

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is making satisfactory progress today after a night of rest in Walter Reed General Hospital for a painful cough and throat irritation.

Admitted Thursday to guard against complications, the five-star general was resting in bed —but not restricted to it—his doctors reported in a morning briefing.

Lt. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, Army surgeon general and Eisenhower's chief physician, issued this statement:

"Gen. Eisenhower's temperature is normal and he is making satisfactory progress."

Hospital spokesmen said that a vaporizer was being used in the general's quarters to increase the humidity.

Although Eisenhower is not having visitors, his wife, Mamie, is keeping in touch with the situation, spokesmen said.

Usual medications are being administered, and the doctors are urging their patient to drink quantities of fluids as part of the standard treatment for the painful, wracking cough and sore throat that brought the former president to the hospital Thursday.

When admitted, his general condition was described as satisfactory, except for the moderately severe inflammation of his windpipe and bronchial tubes.

Crash Kills Midland Star

KENTON, Ohio (AP)—Sonley Carl Roush, 27, of Midland, Tex., a country music recording star, was killed and five other singers and musicians injured, one critically, in a traffic accident just south of here on Ohio 31 early today.

Their car, driven by Roush, collided head on with a tractor-trailer truck driven by Robert Satterfield, 35, of Greensboro, N.C., who was not hurt.

Bobby Wood, 23, of Memphis suffered serious head injuries. His condition was critical.

Two of the other injured were admitted to a hospital. They are Frank Wilson, 22, of San Antonio and Phil Trunzo, 25, of Geneva, N.Y.

Jerome Graham, 21, of Flint, Mich., and Gene Croyle, 17, of San Antonio were discharged after treatment of injuries.

The group was en route to Lima for an engagement.

Seems This Clerk Just Can't Lose

NEW YORK AP)—A delicatessen clerk who won $171,084 on a twin double at Yonkers Raceway Wednesday night has hit again.

Ernest Dahlman Jr., 21, returned to Yonkers Thursday night to collect the bundle he had won the night before in partnership with his father.

While there, Dahlman, along with several other partners, had six winning tickets on the twin double for a total of $5,937.

United Fund At Half-Way Mark

A total of $14,444.50 was reported this morning as having been collected in the 1964 United Fund drive.

A group of team captains and division heads met this morning over coffee for an informal report meeting, and all expressed optimism over this year's drive.

It was expected that enough would be received at the headquarters today to push the total to at least half of the goal of $32,500, and with 10 more days left in the scheduled campaign, the workers said they felt optimistic over the chances of the fund's goal being met this year.

Divisions, and their totals reported this morning were: Pattern Division, $7,555.24; Branch House, $690; Professional $342; Special, $2,335.87; Public Employes, $1,086.14; and School, $2,435.25.

The School Division is the only one which is complete. Division heads of the other divisions estimated that they were about half complete with the exception of the Branch House Division. Harold Lacik, chairman of that division, said that he felt his division would be receiving most of its donations next week.

Business firms which were reported as 100 per cent — that is, the company and all employes having contributed to the fund — were: Chamber of Commerce; Welex, Inc.; Craft Studio; W. A. Smith Claim Service; Justine's; Merle Norman Cosmetics; Star Discount; and the Bus Terminal.

Also, Miller Standard Service, Smallwoods Downtown 66; McCravey Enco Service; Allen Sewing Machine Center; Texas Electric, Southwestern Bell Telephone office; and Mixon Tire and Supply.

Also 100 per cent were the offices of the justice of the peace; county attorney; county library; veterans service officer; county health unit; county school superintendent; county park, county treasurer; district clerk; district attorney; farm home administration, Army recruiting office; and county Precinct 2.

Churches reporting 100 per cent are St. John's Episcopal; Greenhill Baptist; Our Lady of Guadalupe; First Presbyterian; First Methodist; First Baptist; and Iglesia Methodist Mission.

Also 100 per cent were the law offices of J. Ray Martin; Rosser and Carroll; Renal B. Rosson; and R. W. Webb.

President's Remarks Slightly Premature

LORETTO, Minn. AP) — J. H. Grinnell, president of the State Bank of Loretto noted the bank's 54th anniversary Thursday and remarked, "Thank God we haven't been held up."

Within hours, three young gunmen took $6,000 from cash drawers, fired a warning shot and escaped in a station wagon.

Land Mine Kills American Soldier

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Army enlisted man died today of wounds suffered from a land mine that exploded under his jeep in Quang Duc Province Oct. 16.

The soldier's name was withheld pending notification of his relatives.

FBI Reports Jenkins No Risk To Security

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI says it has conducted an extensive investigation of Walter W. Jenkins and found no evidence that President Johnson's top aid for 25 years compromised the security or interests of the United States in any manner.

Jenkins resigned at Johnson request on Oct. 14 after it became public knowledge that the special presidential assistant had been arrested at the YMCA here on morals charges in 1959 and again last Oct. 7.

In reporting to Johnson Thursday night on the investigation he had ordered, the FBI said:

It found that Jenkins "had limited association with some individuals who are alleged to be, or who admittedly are, sex deviates" but there is no information reported to indicate he "ever had improper acts with them."

Jenkins "admitted having engaged in the indecent acts for which he was arrested in 1959 and 1964." He said that he had not known Andy Choka, with whom he was arrested on Oct. 7.

He told the FBI no attempt had ever been made to compromise or blackmail him.

Jenkins said he was "enticed" by the arresting officer in 1959 and "his mind was befuddled by fatigue, alcohol, physical illness and lack of food" at the time of the Oct. 7 arrest.

The President has said that until the day he asked Jenkins to resign he had no information that would have led him to question the personal conduct of his aide.

There was no immediate comment on the report of the FBI investigation from the White House or from Republicans. The Jenkins arrests have become an issue in the presidential election campaign, and Dean Burch, Republican national chairman, has charged the President with covering up the first arrest.

The report which FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover sent to Johnson and acting Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said Jenkins had been cleared on security checks in 1956, 1957 and 1958.

Hoover said Jenkins told the FBI "he would lay down his life before he would disclose any information that would damage the best interests of the United States."

Jenkins, 46, and the father of six, was placed in George Washington University Hospital by Dr. Charles Thompson the day the arrests became public knowledge. He remains hospitalized.

The FBI said its investigation covered "the full scope of Mr. Jenkins' life, from his early years in Texas to the present time," and that more than 500 persons, including current and former neighbors, business associates, social acquaintances and school classmates were interviewed.

And this "extensive investigation," the FBI said, "disclosed no information that Mr. Jenkins has compromised the security or interests of the United States in any manner."

The report said that the fingerprint card it received from Washington police after Jenkins' arrest in 1959, made "no mention of a sex or morals offense . . . nor did it show any indication of government employment."

And, the FBI continued: "Because the police record routinely transmitted to the FBI did not refer to the arrest in terms other than investigation suspicious person and because the Secret Service did not notify the White House or the vice president of the arrest, neither President Kennedy, the White House staff nor Mr. Johnson had any knowledge of the 1959 incident nor any reason to suspect its existence."

Judges In Legal Hassle

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The Justice Department moves today to appeal a federal judge's effort to jail the U.S. district attorney and the U.S. attorney general.

It is a strange judicial clash, still mainly obscured by grand jury secrecy.

In a dramatic court session Thursday, Dist. Atty. Robert Hauberg refused to sign several indictments prepared by a "blue ribbon" federal grand jury.

His signature is necessary to make indictments legal.

Reacting sharply, Dist. Judge Harold Cox ruled Hauberg guilty of contempt of court. He also ordered civil contempt of court proceedings against acting Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach.

Instead of jailing Hauberg immediately, Judge Cox allowed five days for an appeal to be filed.

The grand jury is the one summoned into session at Biloxi to consider evidence in the murder of three civil rights workers near Philadelphia, Miss. No indictments involving that case were returned.

When the federal grand jury reconvened in Jackson, several indictments were proposed by the grand jury. What these indictments involve was not made public. Informed sources said the cases dealt with charges against civil rights workers.

In open court, Hauberg told the judge that Katzenbach had instructed him: "Neither you nor any of your assistants are authorized to prepare or sign indictments in matters being heard. I direct you to refrain."

In convicting Hauberg of civil contempt, Judge Cox said that — unless a higher court intervenes — the district attorney will be jailed "until he purges himself by performing his official duty for the grand jury as requested in the several pending cases before them."

Ruckus Stirs Concern For Humphrey

By DONALD M. ROTHBERG

BOSTON (AP) — A motorcycle policeman fired three shots at a purse snatcher just outside a hotel where Democratic vice presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey was staying early today.

The shots, within a few hundred feet of the Minnesota senator's eighth floor suite at the Statler Hilton, touched off brief consternation there may have been an assassination attempt being made on Humphrey.

Boston police explained, however, that the motorcycle officer had fired three times as the second of two young handbag thieves raced from the hotel in the Back Bay section.

The other youth, 17 years old, was apprehended in the hotel lobby minutes after the two allegedly stole a purse from an employes' cloakroom. The second youth escaped in the crowd outside despite the shots.

Humphrey, who spent half a dozen hours in Boston on a campaign swing into New England, left the hotel for Logan Airport at 12:20 a.m., just 10 minutes after the shooting. It was not known whether he had heard the shots.

Work To End Strike

DETROIT AP) — Negotiators stayed at their hurry-up job of trying to settle local issues within strike-crippled General Motors today in hopes of getting the giant automaker back to possible full production Monday.

A vote Sunday by striking United Auto Workers members across the country will decide whether GM can start making its new 1965 cars again.

The tieup, now two days short of one month, has idled 300,000 workers and brought a plea from President Johnson for speedy settlement to protect the national economy.

Lack of local level agreements at the UAW's 130 bargaining units has held up the full settlement.

As of today, agreements had been reached at 97 plants. General Motors and the union were negotiating at the remaining 37.

The UAW International said its individual locals will vote Sunday on three questions: Whether to accept national contract terms, whether to accept local settlement, and wheher to return to work without a local agreement.

A "nay" vote from any key plant conceivably could keep General Motors still crippled.

Writer Gives Reasons For Declining Prize

PARIS AP) — Jean-Paul Sartre says he turned down the 1964 Nobel Prize for literature to remain free in his efforts to bring the cultures of communism and capitalism together.

"This is why I cannot accept any distinction awarded by high cultural associations, neither from the East nor from the West, even if I understand their existence very well," the French playwright, novelist and philosopher said Thursday.

"It is not the same thing if I sign myself 'Jean-Paul Sartre' or 'Jean-Paul Sartre, Nobel Prize winner,'" he told newsmen at the Swedish Embassy.

A spokesman for the Swedish Academy of letters, which selects the winner of the annual award, said the award stands regardless of Sartre's attitude. He said the French author could give the $53,123 prize money away or leave it in the Nobel

THIS ISN'T FIRST TIME, BUT—

Skittery Voters Confound Pollsters

By RELMAN MORIN
A.P. Special Correspondent

NEW YORK (AP) — Public-opinion pollsters have had a rough time in this presidential election year, trying to divine the intentions of that skittery critter, the American voter.

Nor is this the first time he has confounded them, notably in 1936, in 1948 and, to a lesser degree in 1962.

So some questions arise.

Is President Johnson in fact as far ahead of Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater as the polls indicate at this stage?

Generally the figures give Johnson around 60 per cent of the vote. Some polls run higher than that, and some show a slightly lower figure. On Oct. 18 George Gallup, director of the American Institute of Public Opinion, gave Johnson 64 per cent and described this as an "unprecedented lead."

Are some factors, deep seated and difficult to measure, operating for Goldwater?

On Oct. 12 pollster Louis Harris said the GOP candidate "has cut President John's lead." Harris put it at 58 per cent to 34 for Goldwater with eight per cent undecided.

On Oct. 14 a newspaper trade magazine, The American Press, said its poll of weekly and small daily newspaper publishers showed that the publishers believe Goldwater will win majority support from voters in their circulation areas. The magazine said the poll — taken mostly in rural areas — gave Goldwater 59.9 per cent to Johnson's 40.1 per cent. Wallace J. Olds, managing editor of the magazine, said 10,000 cards had been sent to subscribing publishers and replies received from all states except Utah, Alaska and Hawaii.

How many voters are still undecided, refuse to state a preference, or may switch between now and election day?

On Oct. 22 Goldwater's campaign director, Denison Kitchel, said Republicans are receiving 'very encouraging reports" about switching.

Gallup, in an interview with U.S. News & World Report, said in the magazine's Oct. 5 issue he believed "about 80 per cent" of the voters have made up their minds.

Pollsters generally emphasize that their findings are "as of today" and that positions may change by election day.

New Version Of Huckleberry Finn Tells Adventures

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — "Most of the time we bought loaves of bread and bologna to eat. We were never sick."

Andrew Andrade, 12, a tousle-haired boy wearing a black cowboy hat with a tiger tail tucked in the band, was telling juvenile officers how he and his 14-year-old brother, Bobby Andrade Jr., lived for four months in a lean-to on White Oak bayou.

The adult world closed in Thursday on the modern day Huckleberry Finns. Andrew was collared by a man who suspected he might be grubstaking their future adventure.

Bobby escaped and apparently hid in the underbrush along the bayou. He eluded capture with the same rabbit-like speed used by the pair to flee police ever since they ran away from home June 12.

Andrew said they got the bread and bologna by collecting discarded soft drink bottles and selling them.

They built a raft of logs and saplings and were going to explore the bayou but "that thing never would float," he related.

At night, they slept in the lean-to made of brush, car seats and a piece of old metal awning. If the weather was bad, they took shelter in a vacant house.

The boys ran away from the home of their father, Bobby Andrade, and stepmother, Amelia, who reported them missing the day they departed.

Andrew said they left because their stepmother whipped them and made them stay in the garage when company was coming.

"We just had to run away," he told officers. "We wanted to float down the river some day on our raft."

Andrew couldn't hold back the tears when asked about his brother.

"I don't care what they do to me," he said. "I just want to be with my brother."

Andrew told officers the car seats for the lean-to came from a used-car lot and a saw to cut wood for the raft came from a house demolition job.

He was captured by Homer Skeeters, manager of a service station.

Skeeters went looking for the boys after $75 disappeared from a desk drawer in the station Wednesday. He had noticed two boys idling in the area, he told officers.

Nikita Khrushchev Now 'Unperson'

By HENRY S. BRADSHER

MOSCOW (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev has become an unperson.

For a week now there has been no public indication in the nation he long dominated that such a man ever existed.

His picture has disappeared from public places. His books are no longer heaped in display in stores.

The nearest that the men who shoved him aside have come to admitting there ever was a Khrushchev is attacks on leadership failures obviously attributed to him.

Criticism of the "cult of personality" used to mean Stalin. Now it means Khrushchev.

The attacks may soon become more direct, naming Khrushchev and attributing all sorts of sins to him. But, for the moment, he has been dropped down the memory hole.

That was the term George Orwell used in his book "1984" for the incinerator that destroyed records. When policy reasons in Orwell's imaginary state dictated that a person should not have existed, all references to him were dropped down the memory hole. Histories referring to him went that way and so did current material. He became an unperson.

There are no signs that the books are being destroyed here. That would be difficult.

Leonid I. Brezhnev, the new first secretary of the Soviet Communist party, and Alexei N. Kosygin, the new premier, have pledged to carry on such Khrushchev policies as peaceful coexistence and improvement of living standards. They referred to party meetings over the last eight years.

The policy positions of those meetings were set forth in speeches by Khrushchev. That may be the reason his books, collections of his speeches, are still available on a somewhat surreptitious basis.

The tide also is going out for Khrushchev's role in World War II.

Before he achieved power in the four years after Stalin died, Khrushchev was credited with only a small wartime part. In recent years he has loomed large in histories and anniversary articles, particularly on fighting in the Ukraine, where he was long the party boss.

The 20th anniversary of the liberation of the Ukraine from the Nazi armies would have been an occasion for lavish praise of Khrushchev's role. Instead, articles on it appearing after Khrushchev's ouster ignored him.

Catholics Plan Policy Statement

By GERALD MILLER

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council committed itself today to producing a Roman Catholic policy statement on modern world problems such as birth control and nuclear disarmament, and Pope Paul VI disclosed his decision to hold another council session.

The council prelates, after three days of debating a controversial schema on the church in the modern world, voted 1,579 to 296 to go on with discussion of the topic using the schema as a basis of further deliberation.

Now they must move into a detailed debate on such problems as birth control, nuclear armament and world hunger.

Out of the debate an entirely new schema is likely to emerge. The current document has been criticized by both conservatives and progressive prelates. Many prelates, in the past three days of debate in St. Peter's, called for a broad rewriting of the document.

A negative vote today could have ended any consideration of the modern world problems by the council — a gathering of cardinals, patriarchs, archbishops and bishops from around the world.

The debate is expected to continue through this third session of the council and then resume in a fourth session, with drafting commissions rewriting the schema in the recess in between.

Council spokesmen said the assembly's secretary - general, Archbishop Pericle Felici, announced that Pope Paul VI had decided to have a fourth session at an unspecified date.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: How do you feel about a woman who is married and a mother returning to high school to complete her education? I understand in some states it is allowed if she is under 18. A 16-year-old mother (shotgunned) wants to return. The other girls will undoubtedly accept her and make a fuss over her and, by so doing, will appear to approve of her past behavior. She, in turn, can instruct them well in married life. I feel for the girl, but I also feel for the good girls who have been raised with high moral standards. I think if such a girl wants to complete her education she should go to a school outside her district. What do you think?

UPSET IN PENNA.

DEAR UPSET: If the girl is legally entitled to return to school in the district of her residence, that's that. As for the commotion she might cause, that would depend on her behavior and that of the other girls. The school authorities are capable of judging fairly. Give the girl a chance.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Is it okay to go out with a married man if you keep your distance?

TEMPTED

DEAR TEMPTED: Why don't you ask his wife (and "keep your distance" when you do?)

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am an 11-year-old girl and I love to draw. Especially horses. My piano teacher is a very good artist and that is what I want to be. If I have a good piano lesson my teacher teaches me how to draw horses and I like that a lot better than playing the piano. I asked my father if I could quit piano and take drawing lessons instead, and he looked at me like I was crazy or something. I can spend hours drawing, and never get tired, but when I practice the piano for half an hour I am worn out. How can I get my father to let me quit piano and take drawing?

LOVES TO DRAW

DEAR LOVES TO DRAW: Stick with your piano lessons and draw on the side. If you have a real talent for art, perhaps your piano teacher will speak to your father in your behalf. But first talk it over with your teacher. HE managed to become a pretty good musician and draw for fun, didn't he?

* * *

DEAR ABBY: We are at the end of our rope, so please print this and do a lot of people a big favor. We have a neighbor who lives alone except for her two dogs and we don't know how many cats. Her house stinks, her furniture is filthy, and there is cat hair all over the place. She complains that her friends don't want to visit her any more. She has always been a very nice person and we don't want to hurt her, but we just can't go into that house, Abby. The odor is unbelievable. Even her relatives don't visit her any more. If you print this, she might see it and take the hint.

FRIENDS BUT NOT VISITORS

DEAR FRIENDS: The poor soul needs more than a "hint," she needs professional help. Call one of her relatives and ask them to look in on her. If this doesn't bring results, your county Board of Health should be notified.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — A charming day to art lovers and let's get serious because we now have a fresh type of art. The critics call it 'A New Kind Of Poetry On Paper.'

There is this artist someone discovered here (they are finding them every day in attics and basements) and a group of enthusiasts got together some of his devices for one man show.

This was not like the old One Man Bands we had where a fellow played a harmonica, piccolo, guitar and thudded a drum simultaneously.

There was diversity in that type of art. The musician demonstrated he could play any tune on any instrument and then passed the hat.

Poetry on paper draws much stronger raving. The critics get together and say, "His work has the fineness of a rare gem," and "It is sheer poetry," and "He is one of the greatest of our century" and like that.

The paper was shown batiks (correct spelling; I don't know what it is either) on paper, monotypes and crayolas but the important thing is they expressed a new type of creative spirit.

This artist draws a picture of a cow, for instance, on porcelain with some kind of paint. Then he rolls it off on paper sort of like the old fashioned printing presses. And presto, an original.

Unfortunately I am the uncouth type who cannot tell art from a rag you clean brushes on. This deprives me of a tremendous amount of pleasure and culture in life.

I get invited to an art exhibit (but never know why) and as soon as I look at something and say, "What's that?" they want to throw me out the second story window.

So this time I kept my big mouth shut and agreed with the critics. They said these works had composition, color, strength and delicacy. Personally, I cannot see how something can have strength and be delicate. But this is what the critics say and I go along with it.

Mr. John Alius, the United Press Leader here, has a collection of paintings in his office. I consider him an honest critic because he does not attempt to recite Shakespeare with each painting.

I can sit on the United Press couch and say, "Hey, John, you had that painting hanging like that for a month now. Why don't you turn it over the other way?"

And Mr. Alius studies the creation a moment and says, 'I guess you're right. Let's hang it down sideways like this."

And I can ask him things like, "What's that thing, anyhow?"

He will say, "How should I know? They had a good price on it so I bought it because it goes with my grey suit and the checkered vest." No offense taken and he does not attempt explanations.

Mr. Alius sometimes goes to these are exhibits and walks around like a preacher counting his congregation.

And he says that on one occasion when nobody was looking he switched a picture and hung it upside down and it won first prize. Of course I was not present and cannot vouch for this.

But I know he does this in his office. And it seems to me a fellow who is not scared of art in his own office would not be scared of it in a gallery.

Hungarians Ask Asylum In USA

By ROBERT LIU

TOKYO (AP) — Three Hungarians — one a member of his nation's Olympic team — defected today and flew to the United States to ask for asylum, Japanese police reported. The two other Hungarians were tourists here for the Olympic Games.

The Olympian, Andras Toro, 24, a good-looking youth who finished fourth in the Canadian canoe singles, was the first Iron Curtain sportsman to defect during the Tokyo Olympic Games which wind up Saturday.

The other two men, Denes Kovacs, 42, and Karoly Molnar, about 38, were reported to have decided the Olympics presented a good opportunity to go to the United States where they have relatives.

The three were said to have picked up visas for their Hungarian passports at the U.S. Embassy.

Japanse police, who escorted the three to the airport and kept them away from newsmen, questioned them before they embarked and said they were satisfied no duress was involved.

Airport sources said the men had through tickets to Chicago and would transfer to a flight for Washington.

Hungarian officials at the Olympic Village insisted they knew nothing about the defections and said as far as they knew no Hungarians were missing.

NHK, the Japan Broadcasting Corp., quoted Toro as saying he wanted to live in a free country. It said the two others had relatives in the United States and "decided this was a good time to join them."

Viet Nam Court Frees Suspects

By JOHN T. WHEELER

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A military court acquitted today 20 persons accused of last month's attempt to overthrow Premier Nguyen Khanh.

The surprise decision freeing 13 military officers and seven civilians appeared linked with Khanh's drive to line up support before a new civilian government takes office next week.

The military will play a key role in the government and Khanh wants to run the military.

Earlier this week he released five generals he had been holding under arrest and promoted four generals and a colonel who supported him against the coup attempt Sept. 13.

The end of the nine-day-old trial followed a three-hour conference in the judge's chambers in which prosecution and defense attorneys and court officials participated. The chief judge, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Ngoc Le, then announced there was not enough evidence to support the charges of treason against the defendants.

The military defendants claimed they did not want to overthrow Khanh but were making a show of force to strengthen the military's rule. Two weeks before, Khanh, under mob pressure, had resigned as president, scrapped the military constitution and promised to restore the nation to civilian rule.

Five members of the National Assembly under the Ngo Dinh Diem regime also were among the civilian defendants.

Khanh and U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor attended an army graduation ceremony today at which a Vietnamese plane crashed into a group of huts a quarter of a mile from the ceremony, killing the pilot and severely injuring a woman.

The plane was one of five that was stunting for the ceremony, held at Thuduc, five miles north of Saigon.

Crime Lab Tests Youth's Belongings

DUNCAN, Okla. (AP) — The state crime bureau is subjecting a stained jacket and knife belonging to Bert Lana, 16, to laboratory analysis in its investigation of the Tama Hallmark case.

The Duncan high school student was charged with stabbing and beating Miss Hallmark, 18, after she picked him in a police lineup as the boy who attacked her Jan. 6 and left her for dead beside a road near here.

She is recovering from the 40 to 50 stab wounds which left her partly paralyzed and barely able to speak.

The boy has been released to his father, Bert Lana, a junior high school football coach, under $3,000 bond. A preliminary hearing is set for Nov. 12.

As children reach teen age, the proportion drinking milk starts to decline. It declines somewhat more rapidly for girls than boys.

'65 Comet completes 16,200-mile durability run from Cape Horn to Fairbanks, Alaska, in 40 days

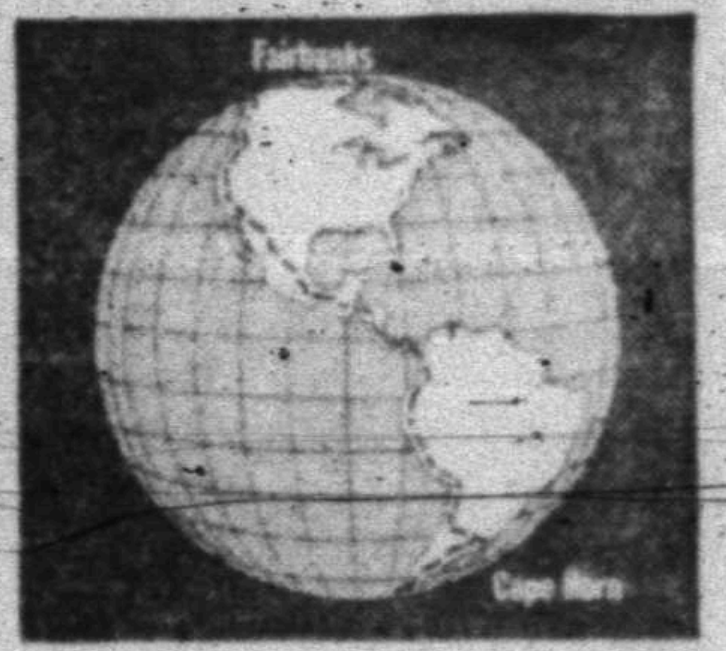
Livelier Comet proves once again why it's the World's Durability Champion. Uses showroom models in day-and-night grind from the bottom to the top of the world.

Three Mercury Comets today finished a run no car has ever attempted in so short a time—the rugged 16,200-mile grind from Cape Horn to Fairbanks.

En route, day and night, the cars had no major repairs, just routine maintenance. That's ample proof that 1965 Comets are powerful and tough, not just lively and beautiful.

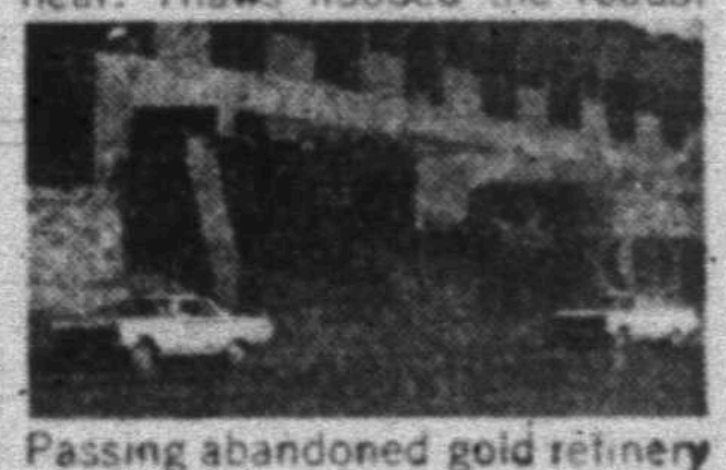
Shades of Daytona! Comet is famous for durability. Last year, specially equipped Comets ran 100,000 miles at Daytona in 40 days.

Regular production-model Comets used, just like showroom Comets. Want to see the car that made it from Cape Horn to Fairbanks? Visit your Mercury dealer's. Check a 1965 Comet Caliente, with smooth Multi-Drive Merc-O-Matic. The only difference: the run cars had an extra gas tank, because service stations are frequently so far apart in South America.

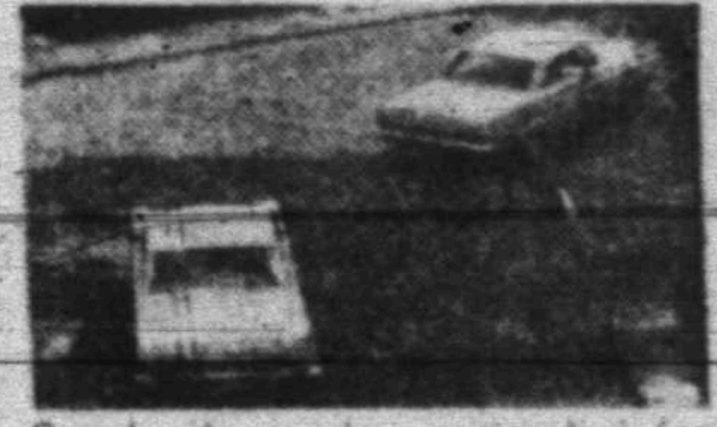


Bottom to top, 16,200 miles.

In South America, Spring was near. Thaws flooded the roads.



Passing abandoned gold refinery at Antofagasta, northern Chile.



Good city roads were relief for drivers after rugged stretches.

Comets are ready for immediate delivery. No waiting, if you order yours now.

Spanish Veal Dish Has Special Features

BY CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

HERE'S AN economical dish, a stuffed breast of veal, that is prepared ahead and reheated at the cook's convenience.

This Spanish recipe was adapted from a cook book compiled and published in Madrid. The original directions specify the use of a pressure cooker. When we tested this method in our kitchen, we found it yielded tender meat in a short time.

STUFFED VEAL BREAST

2 ½ pounds boned breast of veal (4 pounds before boning)
½ pound chopped beef chuck
1½ teaspoons salt
Pepper to taste
1 egg, slightly beaten
10 green olives, pitted and chopped
¼ cup olive oil
3 cloves garlic, peeled
1 medium onion, quartered
1 small carrot, quartered
1 bay leaf
2 tablespoons tomato catchup
½ cup white wine
1 cup water

Lay veal flat; trim any ragged edges. Mix beef with ½ teaspoon of the salt, the pepper, egg and olives. Press beef mixture flat over veal to within ½-inch from edges. Roll up veal, tucking in edges; tie with cord. In a pressure pan, brown veal in the olive oil with the garlic; discard garlic. Add onion, carrot, bay leaf, catchup, wine, water and remaining 1 teaspoon salt. Cook in pressure can at 15 pounds pressure for 20 minutes; allow pressure to return to normal. Remove meat, cover and chill. Puree vegetables and liquid in electric blender. Slice cold meat thin and reheat in sauce. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Shulman Scrubs Up Society

ANYONE GOT A MATCH? By Max Sculman.

As the man who wrote this book has one of his characters say in an offhand flipcrack, there are people who are fruitier than a nutcake. So remains Shulman, who has been making with the nutcake for 21 years. It's always a pleasant dish.

Plot? Yes in a way.

There is a cornily shrewd old self-made, piratical tycoon named Jefferson Tatum, who runs the country's biggest cigarette manufacturing business from a Southern domain called Owens Mill. He owns the town, the local college, the local gentry.

The trouble is that cigarette sales are down because of the Surgeon General's report on smoking, and the trick is to raise a diverting boogey-fear in another quarter. Namely, the matter of food - chemical additives, the residue of pesticides, flouridation and such.

It seems the best way to publicize this counter - attack is through television. This brings in Ira Shapian, the Aremanian from East Side New York who has slithered upward in the shadowbox world until he commands a fabulous salary for prostituing himself as a fixer and fall guy for a national network. But Ira is unhappy.

So Ira comes back to Owens Mill, where once during the war he has engaged in a secretly fruitful affair with the local belle. His return is utterly smashing for everyone concerned. And television gets high-voltage jolt, too.

Shulman's art is that of caricature and exaggeration, spiced with seemingly lightweight jabs at social folly. But often these jabs have a sting - as in some of his references to race relations.

They say there is a cleansing element in humor. In this, one of Shulman's best efforts, he is a merry scourer.

Mixing a cake batter in an electric mixer? Slowly decrease the speed when you are ready to lift out the beaters from the bowl; this way the beaters practically clean themselves of batter.

Ever add smoked fish to a cream sauce enlivened with green pepper, pimiento and mushrooms? Good and different!

WSCS To Observe 'Quiet Day'

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist Church will join more than 1,700,000 Methodist women throughout America this week in observing their annual "Call to Prayer and Self - Denial." The call is sponsored by the Woman's Division of the Methodist Board of Missions, the national body under which 36,000 local Woman's Societies of Christian Service and Wesleyan Service Guilds function.

During the observance of the Call to Prayer and Self-Denial, Methodist women gather for two events — program meeting and a "quiet day" of prayer and meditation.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist met in the church parlor Wednesday morning for their program under the leadership of Mrs. Walter Berryhill. Mrs. Bill Sikes interpreted home mission projects to which money from a special offering will be given, and Mrs. Wayne Pitner presented a "bird's eye view" of foreign work that will be aided by this offering.

The "quiet day" service will be conducted in the church sanctuary Wednesday, Oct. 28, at 9:30 A.M. Mrs. Berryhill, Sec'y of Spiritual Life will direct the service and women taking part will be Mrs. Marvin Dozier, Mrs. Dale Clemmer, and Mrs. Gerald Kempe. The theme for 1964 is "Recognition, Renewal, Response."

Hoover's Policies Prompted By Self-Reliance Philosophy

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two contradictions he revealed in his most critical moment would be enough to make President Hoover a fascinating figure in American history.

He had seen and been a part of the government in World War II when, to survive and win, it went all-out in using its resources and controls.

But — as President in the depression he stopped far short of going all-out in meeting the crisis which threatened devastation worse than war.

He organized and distributed relief for millions overseas during and after World War I.

But — as President he would not give direct government help to the needy in the American depression. Why? The answer is in his philosophy.

He preached self-reliance, calling it individualism. He thought all men should have equal opportunity for happiness and fulfillment.

This, he felt, required a minimum of interference by the government or dependence on it.

It was the dominant view in the 19th century in which he grew up. It was not his own philosophy. He inherited it.

There was a flaw in it which neither he nor many others ever seemed to perceive: All men, because of differences in birth and circumstances, do not have equal opportunities.

The view was rooted in 18th century France and England where men like Adam Smith felt government controls had become oppressive and were stifling the development of men and nations.

In his "Wealth of Nation" in 1776 Smith became the great spokesman for a minimum of government interference, then let-alone philosophy which swept the Western world.

Thomas Jefferson and Andrew Jackson felt the same way. But Jefferson and Smith and others like them — from before Cicero up till now — were not completely realistic.

They had a mystical belief in a "natural law" — more important than any man-made law to the contrary — that men were not only eual but had a natural right to equal opportunity.

This assumption was so prevalent in their time it is hardly a coincidence that in the same year, 1776, Smith wrote his book and Jefferson wrote the Declaration of Independence.

Without their belief in "natural law" it seems impossible that Smith could have produced the "Wealth of Nations" or Jefferson the Declaration of Independence.

Nor was it odd in a practical way that Jefferson and Jackson wanted limited government. They were living in an early America, mostly agricultural, where people could be and often had to be self-dependent.

Theirs was a different America from this one, heavily industrialized, with most people in cities, and therefore interdependent.

The Jefferson-Jackson view held up to the Civil War and was parallelled in England where Liberals, anxious for freedom in all directions, warred against government involvement or intrusions.

Here the let-alone philosophy took a turn after the Civil War. With industrialization leaping ahead, business got a lot of help, directly or indirectly, from the government and the Supreme Court right up to the depression.

There were other voices, less prevalent in the 19th century but infinitely more influential in this one, who talked government responsibility. They had to wait years to be vindicated. Hoover absorbed some of that, too.

It explains why, although he stopped far short of using all the government's resources in the depression, he went further to combat it than any depression president in history.

One example will show the long let-alone tradition in the White House before Hoover ever moved there.

In 1887, when Congress passed a bill to give direct government relief to drought-stricken farmer in Texas, President Cleveland vetoed it, saying: "though the people support the government, the government should not support the people."

Remarks That Make Wives Gray

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Husbandly remarks that make a wife wonder whether it's all worth while:

"Yeah, it's not bad, but I still can remember how good it tasted when my mother cooked this dish."

"Oh, hon, I forgot to tell you — my boss and his wife are coming to dinner tonight. But [illegible] up anything special."

"I stopped off for just a couple with the boys. If I miss the 6:22 train, be sure and meet the 7:19. In any case I'll catch the 8:05 at the very latest."

"What do wives do all day anyway — just lie on the sofa and think up abuse to heap on their hard-working husbands when they get home?"

"We got a new girl in the stenographic pool at the office. And boy, is she a looker? But what I like about her is that she's smart. When I give her a letter, she seems to know what I want to say even before I say it."

"Is this a home — or a tent full of Indians? Tell those kids to be quiet."

"What in heaven's name do you need a cleaning woman for. Don't we own a mop?"

"I don't know what happens to all the money I give you. You must put a match to it."

"You go to the door, honey, I'm tired."

"If you think I'm going to take you out anywhere tonight, honey, you've got another think coming."

"Tell your mother to come and stay as long as she wants to — as long as she brings along enough to pay part of the rent and her share of the board."

"I like you in that new dress. What do you mean, you've had it for five years? I never noticed it before."

"For pete's sake, what do we need with all that junk? We're just going on a vacation trip — not settling the Far West."

"What do you mean, do I love you? What do you think I married you for."

"Now, let's get one thing clear, once and for all. Who do you think rules this roost?"

"What do you want for Christmas — a new ironing board or a new lawnmower?"

"Why does it take you so long to get ready? We've been married 21 years — and never yet got anyplace on time."

"Of course I wouldn't want to marry anyone else if anything ever happened to you. Not unless she had real money, anyway."

"You carry out the garbage, honey. I'm tired."

QUESTION: What makes the seasons, and how did they get their names?

* * *

ANSWER: Every 24 hours, the earth spins once around on its axis, or line between the north and south poles. Besides its spinning motion, Earth also moves around the sun, taking a year to make a complete revolution. Look at the diagram in lower left and you will see that Earth has an inclination or tilt of its axis and that it keeps this as it travels around on its yearly journey. The tilt means that the sun's rays pour down, in the northern hemisphere, at a more direct angle in the summer (upper picture) than in the winter (lower picture). This difference in angle is what makes summer warmer and winter colder in the U.S.A. South of the equator, it's just the reverse: warm in our winter, cold in our summer.

Names for our seasons come from long ago. 'Spring' is an old Anglo-Saxon word meaning 'rising' — think of plants rising up in April and May. 'Summer' is from an Indian Sanskrit work meaning 'season' — and summer is perhaps the most important season, the one in which crops grow. 'Autumn', time of harvest, is from a Latin word meaning 'maturing.' 'Winter' means 'wet season' in Anglo Saxon — the English winter being often more rainy than cold.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: Take an apple or orange, and considering it to be the earth, make a mark for about where you live. Then hold it at the same tilt as Earth's axis and move it around a light bulb, noticing the angle in which the light falls. It will help you to understand the seasons.

Tigers Face Levelland In Conference Tilt Tonight

The Snyder Tigers will entertain one of the newest members of District 3-AAA tonight as they go up against the Levelland Lobos in Tiger Stadium. Kickoff time is set for 7:30.

Although the Lobos moved into Snyder's district this year, it will not be the first time the two teams have met in intraconference warfare. The schools were in the same district back in the mid 50's. In fact, when Snyder won district back in 1955, the Levelland team came in second. When the two elevens met that season they were tied for the lead; however, the Tigers won the contest 33-6 and went ahead and took the championship.

In playing the Lobos tonight the Tigers will be facing one of the better teams in district 3-AAA. Levelland has only lost one encounter thus far this year, a 13-0 loss to powerful Denver City.

In their other four games the Lobos ran over Canyon 41-0, edged Hereford 18-15, and played scoreless ties with Seminole and Lamesa.

Levelland fields a line that averages a little more than 170 pounds per man. They have few real big boys, but on the other hand, not many of them are very small either.

In most of their outings this year, the Lobos have been paced in the backfield by halfback Keith Yeager, 182 - pounder, and 163-pound Mickey Parkinson, who runs at fullback. Both of these boys are good runners and have plenty of power. Levelland also has a capable quarterback in Joe Tubb, who tips the scales at 142. In the Hereford contest he threw one touchdown pass good for 84 yards and the winning touchdown with only 34 seconds left in the game.

The Tigers will have an opportunity to even up their series with Levelland tonight. The two schools have met on the gridiron 13 times, with the Lobos winning 7 times and the Tigers winning 6. There have been no ties.

If past contests between these two outfits are any indication, it could be a real close one in tonight's game. The difference between winner and loser has been 8 points or less 8 different times. Snyder won two of the games by 2 points, a 2-0 win in 1956 and a 27-25 victory in 1961.

The Tigers have had their ups and downs this year. They were the pre-season choice for district champion, but are currently lagging behind after falling to Sweetwater 30-6. Snyder has now won 3 and lost 3 for the year, and has a 1-1 record in district competition.

The injuries which hampered Snyder last week should not have quite so much effect on the contest with Levelland. Although a number of boys are still suffering minor bruises and ailments, several who were not able to go full steam against Lamesa have shown improvement and should see quite a bit of duty tonight.

Tiger captains tonight will be Jay Williamson, Bobby Mooty and Arthur Claxton.

JH Footballers Break Even In 6

Snyder Junior High football teams won three and lost three on a busy Thursday night of activity. Teams on the road fared better than those at home, winning two of three contests, while those performing before the homefolks won one and lost two.

Travis 7th 14, Lamesa 7th 0

LAMESA — The alert Travis 7th Grade Blue Devils shut out the Lamesa 7th graders, 14-0, here Thursday night.

It was mostly a defensive battle and the Travis defensive troops set up both scores.

In the first period, Bill Bilberry blocked a Lamesa punt on the Lamesa 15 yard line and the Blue Devils punched over with Cliff Voss getting the touchdown. Rickey Glasscock added the two extra points and the Blue Devils led, 8-0, at the half.

Mike Hodges set the Blue Devils up in business on the Lamesa 30 in the third period when he recovered a Lamesa fumble. The Blue Devils then launched a drive that was climaxed when Ronald Ward covered the last three yards on a quarterback sneak.

Bilberry, who blocked two punts, and Mike Elkins, Delbert Hirst and Gerald Patrick were standouts in the Blue Devil defense.

* * *

Travis 9th 48, C-City 9th 6

Travis 9th Grade's football team gave its fleet backs plenty of exercise Thursday night as the Blue Devils romped to a 48-6 decision over the Colorado City 9th graders.

Jerry Smedley's name was synonymous with "touchdown" three times in the first half. He got the first one on an 8 yard scamper, picked up another on a 25 yard expedition, and then went 18 yards for a third. Meanwhile, Mario Tavarez was adding the two extra points each time until the pair suddenly switched roles. Tavarez went 7 yards for a touchdown and Smedley got the two points to give the Blue Devils a [illegible] advantage at half-time.

Colorado City's only touchdown came in the second period when a 30-yard pass from McAdams to Steakley moved to the one and then McAdams carried over.

In the third period, Tavarez went over from three yards out, with Smedley picking up the extra points again.

Quarterback Jimmy Ramage completed the scoring parade in the fourth period, plunging over from one yard out. Tavarez added the extra points. All 21 Blue Devils in uniform saw considerable service in the game.

* * *

Lamesa 8th 12, Travis 8th 8

LAMESA — The Travis Junior High 8th Grade Blue Devils put on a sustained 70-yard drive for a touchdown, added the extra points and took an 8-0 lead in the second quarter, but literally had football troubles the rest of the way as Lamesa 8th took a 12-8 decision Thursday night.

Officials of the game had decreed that both teams use a junior or "pee wee" sized football, and it was the Blue Devils' first experience with the undersized pigskin this year. The result was a considerably greater number of fumbles, and this, along with untimely penalties, slowed the Blue Devil attack.

Gary Welch got the Travis touchdown on a 6 yard run, and he also went over for the two extra points.

Lamesa scored on a pass play with 30 seconds left in the half, but was unable to get its extra points. However, a 20-yard run produced another Lamesa touchdown in the fourth to take the decision.

The Travis defense turned in a creditable job most of the way.

Runnels 8th 14, Lamar 8th 12

Lamar's 8th Grade Texans drove for an early touchdown, saw its lead evaporate on the ensuing kickoff and never could quite catch the Runnels 8th graders Thursday night as the Big Spring team escaped with a 14-12 victory.

The Texans drove 65 yards for a first quarter touchdown, with Steve Holder lugging the ball the final 10 yards. The try for extra points failed.

On the kickoff following the Lamar touchdown, Warren ran the ball back 70 yards for a Runnels touchdown. Runnels was unable to get the two points, making the score 6-6 at the end of the first period.

Runnels won the game in the second period, breaking on a 55-yard scoring play and then added the two extra points.

Lamar made another bid in the fourth period when Runnels fumbled on an attempted 4th down punt and the Texans got possession inside the 10. Mitch Rambin went three yards for the TD, but Lamar was unable to get the extra point.

* * *

Runnels 7th 14, Lamar 7th 2

The Big Spring Runnels Junior High 7th graders used two long plays to score touchdowns and went on to defeat the Lamar 7th Grade Texans 14-2, last night on the local junior high field.

All of the scoring in the game came in the first half.

Lamar got its two points early in the second period when Runnels was attempting to punt from its own end zone. The kicker bobbled the football and before he could regain kicking position a swarm of Texans nailed him in the end zone, with Darden Stokes leading the charge.

The safety came after Lamar's best offensive drive of the evening had moved inside the Runnels 10, but the Texans had to surrender the football on downs before making a score.

The Runnels team applied the clincher later in the second period, going 42 yards on a pass play for a touchdown and then adding the two extra points.

Larry Greene was the leading ground gainer for the Texans, and he and Billy Bowden and John Ellis stood out on defense.

* * *

Lamar 9th 32, Runnels 9th 14

BIG SPRING — Lamar's 9th Grade Texans unfolded an awesome offensive show here Thursday night to rout Runnels Junior High's 9th graders, 32-14.

The Texans built up a 14-8 lead in the first half, with Z. B. Rinehart scoring both touchdowns. He went six yards for the first six-pointer and then covered a fumble in the Runnels end zone for the other. Ronnie Shields picked up the two extra points after the second touchdown.

Rinehart was at it again in the third period, moving across from six yards out. Then, spectacular plays accounted for two more Lamar TD's before the evening's action was over. Kent Noble galloped 70 yards for one and Rinehart passed to Frank Grimmett for another 30-yard scoring play.

Runnels got its first touchdown in the first quarter after stealing the ball on an attempted Lamar pass, and then made a short drive for another touchdown in the third period.

Lamar had two touchdowns called back, one a 60-yard run by Jerry Hardwick and another on a pass with O. L. Cooper on the receiving end.

The Texans ran 68 offensive plays and gained a total of 448 yards.

Mickey Allmand completed 9 of 14 passes. Cooper, Frank Jackson and Flavio Rios were among those who stood out on offense for the Texans. Grimmett, Waymon Coward, Jackie Green and Tommy Bullard were defensive standouts.

Ranks Of Unbeaten To Shrink

By The Associated Press

District championships will be on the line all over Texas Friday night as the farflung Texas schoolboy football season roars past the halfway mark.

The ranks of the undefeated, untied teams are due to be thinned somewhat this weekend with two games featuring perfect-record squads. There are a total of 45 unbeaten, untied teams in the state but four will be idle this weekend.

In Class AAAA, Victoria will be risking its perfect record and No. 3 ranking when it meets Kingsville, another undefeated, untied aggregation. The winner will be the strong favorite for the zone championship of Dist. 14.

Vidor and Liberty meet in a Class AAA game matching unbeaten and untied teams. Vidor is ranked No. 4 in the state and the Friday night clash is expected to have an important bearing in the outcome of the Dist. 9 title race.

Two teams are not only undefeated and untied but are also unscored on. They will be getting special attention Friday night.

One is Hull-Daisetta in Class A which has rolled up 308 points to nothing for its opponents in six straight. The high scoring team is expected to have little trouble with Warren.

Another is Canton of Class AA which plays Van this weekend. Canton has amassed 178 points in six games while allowing its opponents nothing.

The highest scoring team in the state is Los Fresnos, which plays EdCouch-Elsa this weekend in a conference test. Los Fresnos has amassed 370 points in seven games.

Garland, the Class AAAA defending champion, goes against Highland Park Friday night. Rockwall, defender of the Class AAA crown, has an open date to protect its record of 20 straight victories.

Russia's Women Gymnasts Add To Their Medal Total

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

TOKYO (AP) — Russia's graceful, talented women's gymnasts scooped up four medals, including one gold, in the final day of competition in the Olympic Games and all but assured the Soviets of beating the United States in the total medal count.

The four medals, including a gold by Larisa Latynina in individual floor exercise, gave the Russians seven for the day and pushed their total to 84 compared with 88 for the United States.

Russia, however, is assured of seven more medals in boxing — also on the final program — and the United States is assured of one, either a silver or gold by heavyweight Joe Frazier of Philadelphia.

The difference is six, which would put the Russians two ahead of the United States' total.

With the evening schedule just getting underway, Russia had 26 gold medals, 23 silver and 35 bronze. The United States had 34 gold, 26 silver and 28 bronze.

The Russians, moreover, are all but certain of surpassing the U.S. medal total since they have strong entrants in the other four gymnastic events scheduled tonight. The United States is not expected to score.

The key medals for the Soviets were picked up by Tamara Manina and Larisa Latynina, who finished second and third behind Czechoslovakia's Vera Caslavska in the women's balance beam exercise.

Earlier, Russia had taken the gold medal in sabre team fencing and in men's volleyball, routing Brazil 3-0 in the final volleyball game. Defending champion Sergey Filatov rode Absent to a third-place finish in individual dressage in the equestrian competition.

The Russians, who trailed all the way in the medal count in these Games, have dominated the last two Olympics, beating the United States in total medals 98-74 in the 1956 Games in Melbourne and 103-71 in the 1960 Games in Rome.

Only the first time the Russians took part in the Olympics, in Helsinki in 1952, were they beaten, 76-69 by the United States.

The United States has led these Games almost from the start and had an edge of 88-77 going into this last full day of competition. From the start, however, it was known that the Americans would have to build a huge lead to offset the expected fast finish of the Russian gymnasts.

C-City Nips Snyder's B Team, 12-0

COLORADO CITY — Snyder's B team ran into a veritable hornet's nest in the Wolves den here Thursday night and dropped a 12-0 decision to the C-City B team.

Although the Snyder B team defense functioned well most of the evening, its offense never could get going. The Wolves on the other hand used passes to set up one score and to move across the goal line on the other, both counters coming in the first half.

A 30-yard aerial was the big gainer in a 50-yard drive for the first TD. The pass carried inside the 10 from where the C-City lads moved in for the six points. The other touchdown came on a 30-yard drive after C-City had gained possesion of the ball on a pass interception, and a short pass carried over for the score.

Linebackers Eldon Woodward and Murry Bowden were cited for their defensive play, and the entire defense line of the Snyder B team showed up well.

The loss evened the slate for Snyder B. The team now has won three, lost three and tied one.

Cubs Wallop A&M's Fish

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Baylor Cubs walloped the Texas A&M Fish 34-6 Thursday night to move up a notch in the Southwest Conference freshman football race.

The victory now gives Baylor a 1-1 record. It was the second loss against no victories for the A&M Fish.

Rice and Texas freshmen clash Friday night at Houston in the stellar game this weekend. Texas is 1-0 and Rice is 0-1 so far.

Another Friday night game will pit the Arkansas Shoats, now tied with the TCU Polywogs for the lead with identical 2-0 marks, against the Oklahoma State freshmen in a non-conference game.

Baylor's victory was sparked by quarterback Ridley Gibson who ran for two touchdowns and passed to Leonard Peters for a third at Waco. Charles Wilson, who gained 109 yards on the ground for the Cubs, scored one touchdown and kicked four extra points. Terry Stone accounted for the fifth Baylor touchdown.

Class AAAA To Increase

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—An increase in Class AAAA schools is expected to make the Texas schoolboy football aggregation next fall the largest in history.

The tentative list of participating schools announced Thursday by the University Interscholastic League shows at least three new schools will be added in Class AAAA. They are MacArthur of Irving, Reagan of Austin and a Corpus Christi high school which does not yet have a name.

A record high of 944 schools entered the football campaign this fall and by next year there will be at least 945, an increase of one. The league indicated that more schools would probably be added before next September.

The increase in Class AAAA schools will be offset in part by slight decreases in Class A and six-man football. Eight-man football gains one school. Classes AAA, AA and B remain the same.

FPC Panel Meets To Study Expansion Of Gas Pipelines

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Extension of the steel arteries of the natural gas industry to carry the fuel to smaller communities from coast to coast is being pushed by the chairman of the Federal Power Commission, Joseph Swidler.

He has called the FPC's 15-member natural gas advisory committee to meet with the commission Nov. 20 and explore the possibilities of spreading the industry's pipeline network to reach what he describes as a great, untapped market.

Swidler told the Independent Natural Gas Association of American in New York last month that electricity now is supplied to more than 60 million consumers while the total of natural gas consumers—both homes and industrial users—is 35 million.

"One of the great responsibilities of the natural gas industry is to find similar ways to make available gas service in areas of thinner population density than most of those already served," he said.

Consumer representatives as well as industry spokesmen have been invited to the Nov. 20 conference. The AFL-CIO, the Conference of U.S. mayors and the American Municipal Association also have been invited to send representatives.

Some differences of opinion are likely at the meeting. A spokesman for the American Gas Association points out that with one exception there is no area of appreciable population density in the nation that has natural gas. The exception is New England, where manufactured gas is still marketed.

Opposition to such expansion of the natural gas industry could come from the liquefied petroleum gas industry which last year sold 12 billion gallons of propane to 12 million consumers — 7 million to rural and suburban families, 5 million to industries, including the Chicago bus system which uses the fuel for control of air pollution.

A Washington spokesman for the LPG industry commented that the natural gas industry probably wouldn't be eager to spend much money developing rural markets.

"Our customers are potential natural gas users," he said. "As villages or communities grow big enough, the natural gas companies then can move in with a ready built market. All you have to do is adjust and modify the burners.

"But that's a built-in hazard to our business that we accept."

He said an LPG bill of about $7 a month would be reduced to approximately $5 if and when the consumer could switch to natural gas. The cost of transporting the bottled gas is the big difference. Pipelines are the most economical way, except for water transportation, of shipping fuel.

Only three weeks ago the first LPG pipeline went into operation. It runs from Houston to the Albany, N. Y. area. It is 12 inches in diameter leaving Texas and narrows to 6 inches by the time it reaches New York after serving markets in Ohio en route.

There are two principal sources of LPG gas. The propane extracted from natural gas — leaving the remaining natural gas with the same heating properties—and that extracted in in crude oil refineries.

Florida-Texas Air-Route Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—Braniff Airways and Eastern Air Lines both contend in briefs filed with the Civil Aeronautics Board that they need a Florida-Texas route.

Braniff said in its brief Thursday that could provide superior service for more cities in the area. Eastern said it should be permitted to continue permanently services it started in 1961.

Supporting Eastern in the Southern transcontinental air service case, the city of Fort Worth and its chamber of commerce said the airline has brought North Texas the benefits of "unparalleled experience and service in Florida" and provides all - jet schedules and good connecting services.

Braniff claimed "overwhelmingly superior" service in its proposal. The Dallas - based line said it would benefit Tulsa and Oklahoma City, Okla., Wichita Kan., Denver and Colorado Springs, Colo., and Amarillo, Lubbock, Wichita Falls, Austin and San Antonio, Tex.

Braniff's brief said it could, without undue route circuitry, benefit these cities while Eastern's flights would not help them.

Eastern said it had served the Florida - Texas route well, earned a profit of $2,767,000 on it, and revocation of its authority would injure its employes and disrupt its schedules.

The brief filed by Braniff said it needed the Florida markets for continued growth. Eastern pointed to a $10 million systemwide loss annually and said Braniff had been making a profit of more than $5 million yearly.

The CAB's Bureau of Air Operations in 1960 recommended that Braniff get the Florida-Texas route and a CAB examiner made a like recommendation the same year, Braniff's brief noted.

In March, 1961, however, the board gave the route linking Miami-Fort Lauderdale, Tampa-St. Petersburg-Clearwater, New Orleans, Dallas and Fort Worth to Eastern, and the airline started service June 11.

Braniff took its case to the court of appeals, and in May, 1962, the court remanded the proceeding to the board, holding the record was not adequate for it to review the CAB decision.

The board reopened the proceeding but authorized Eastern to continue service pending completion of the court review. Last summer the CAB's Bureau of Economic Regulation again selected Braniff, and so did the examiner last Sept. 3.

Just Isn't Kosher For Dill To Relish Pickle Packing

By JOE DILL

CHICAGO (AP) — A person named Dill should never attend a convention of pickle packers. The temptation is really too much.

Miss Pickle and Mr. Mustard also were there, but Mrs. Burger couldn't attend.

"Come on, get off it," said one pickle man after reading the newsman's name tag. "Nobody named Dill would come to a pickle convention."

"It just ain't kosher," he added.

"Are you covering this assignment with relish?" a wit quipped.

It was the annual convention of Pickle Packers International, Inc., Thursday night, a jolly group which takes sour delight in belittling its profession.

"Is that name for real?" asked a man from Minnesota. "How are you connected with the pickle business?"

When told that the newsman not only wasn't involved with pickles, but couldn't stand the taste of them, Bill Moore, pickle packer secretary, of St. Charles said: "It's psychological. You don't like pickles because of your name."

Some bystander suggested a "pickle plan" to develop a taste, and suggested that Miss Pickle might help.

Miss Pickle is actually Miss Jane Phillips of suburban Des Plaines, a svelte, petite young lady who tours the country in a "pickle dress."

The newsman admitted she could solve the problem.

Donald L. Mustard of Elgin, Ill., an insurance broker, was asked for a comment, but he said only — "I don't like to spread it on too thick."

One pickle man suggested naming the newsman's first offspring "brine."

"Masculine name," he said.

The newsman noticed that a huge table of before-dinner appetizers was lacking one thing.

Pickles.

Oklahoma Skeleton Is Identified

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A skeleton found Oct. 20 near Henryetta, Okla., in an old duck blind has tentatively been identified as that of Carl Patty of Centre, Ala.

Authorities said foul play was suspected because the skull was fractured and there was a large stone beside the skeleton.

State Crime Bureau director Earl Goerke said Thursday that clothing in the blind matched garments belonging to Patty and dental plates matched those of the Alabama man.

Patty's car was found near Weleetka, Okla., in February. Oklahoma authorities said he had been reported missing since [illegible]

Police Search For Loot From Robbery

HOUSTON (AP) — Officers searched today for the $11,132 taken in the armed holdup of the First State Bank of Louise while two men, charged in the robbery, remained in jail.

Delbert Coleman, 30, and Robert Taylor, 27, both of Wharton County, were held in lieu of $25,000 bond. They were arrested here Wednesday night.

Wharton County Sheriff Mike Flournoy said some of the bank money taken in the holdup Tuesday has been recovered but most of it is missing.

YOUNG CHILDREN receive milk at one of the school feeding programs conducted by Church World Servise in Latin America. Some CROP contributions pay for the distribution of government - donated foods such as dry milk which CWS exports to needy people.

CROP Drive Plans Made

The Ministerial Alliance has announced the appointment of Marvin L. Roark, pastor Union Methodist Church, as General Chairman of the local annual CROP Halloween Project in Snyder.

Uniting in the project will be the youth groups of 22 churches in the community, and it is expected that 100 young people, of Junior High age and older, will take part.

The drive will be made on Wednesday night, Oct. 28 starting from the First Methodist Church. The young people from all the churches will gather at 6 p.m. and go out in pairs. They will return at 8:30 for refreshments which are being furnished by the Jaycees and First Methodist Church.

Other members of the CROP committee include: Dr. A. B. Lightfoot, pastor First Baptist Church, local CROP chairman; the Rev. Arthur G. Grimm, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church; Doug Ayers, representative from the Jaycees.

CROP is the Community Resources Appeal of Church World Service which collects farm commodities and cash, through volunteer workers, for the overseas relief and rehabilitation programs of the churches. Gifts to CROP are put to use under church supervision strictly on the basis of need.

Halloween has come to mean CROP and a time of Christian sharing to the young people of Texas. It has come to be a time of collecting for others in a Christian ministry of compassion to a part of the world's starving population.

Contributions received through this youth effort of concern will be used to help provide for the handling and distributing of government donated foods of the Food for Peace program as well as to provide other assistance—high protein foods, emergency supplies, agricultural tools, seeds — not otherwise available to the overseas programs of the churches. In some cases the contributions will help the local farm canvass to make commodity shipments.

In 1963 Texas young people collected over $57,000 for CROP and helped to provide 98,267,000 pounds of government donated food and other CROP shipments not otherwise available for the overseas ministry.

First Presbyterian

It is no news that the needs of the Church around our world is beyond what we often think. There is the area of medical care, educational, agricultural, public health, and missionary maintenance to name only a few.

The message this week, "The Offering For The Saints," points out not only our obligation to others, but a way in which we here in America can help. The scripture background for the message is found in I Cor. 16:1-3 and II Cor. 9:1-15. Read these before coming to worship service.

Sunday School begins at 9:45 a.m. with classes for all age groups. You are most cordially invited to bring your children and worship as a family and to grow together in your Christian faith.

* * *

Union Baptist

At the 11 a.m. worship service the message of the Rev. Murray Kay, pastor, will be "The Three Main Consequences of Sin," taken from Jno. I 2:15-17.

Other Sunday services include Sunday School at 9:45 a.m.; Training Union at 6 p.m.; Evening Worship at 7 p.m. with a message by the pastor entitled "What Mean Ye By These Stones" taken from Josh. 4:19-24; and closing exercises at 8 p.m.

On Tuesday at 10 a.m. the Associational WMU workshop will be at the First Baptist Church in Snyder. Everyone is to bring a covered dish lunch.

On Wednesday at 7 p.m. the officers and teachers will meet. Also meeting at 7 p.m. will be the Sunbeams, GAs and Royal Ambassadors. At 7:30 a Church Fellowship program will be held with hymn singing, special music and refreshments.

The Church Fellowship program is an all-church affair, so come and bring the whole family.

On Thursday evening visitation begins at 6:30 p.m. Each department is responsible for its prospects.

Series Of Gospel Lessons Set Here

A series of gospel lessons will be presented at the Thirty - seventh Street Church of Christ beginning Sunday, Oct. 25 and will continue through Nov. 1. A "Plea for Christ" will be the theme of the messages.

The worship periods will be at 10:45 a.m. and 6 p.m. each Sunday and at 7:30 p.m. on weekdays. There will be no morning worship periods during the week.

The speaker for these lessons will be Loy Mitchell, a native of Lawrence, Kan. Mr. Mitchell has attended Central Christian College (now Oklahoma Christian College) and graduated from Abilene Christian College in 1958. He has completed all the class work for the M. A. Degree in Bible from the same institution.

Mr. Mitchell started preaching 14 years ago in Kansas and has preached in several places in Texas and Oklahoma. The past two years he preached for the church of Christ in Rotan. From 1958 to 1962 he worked at Nhowe Mission in Southern Rhodesia, Africa. The Mitchell family which includes Mrs. Mitchell (Donna) and three children, Stanley 8, Nancy, 5, and Marcia, 2, will return to Africa on Nov. 5.

The Mitchells will work at Nhowe Mission for 18 months and then move on to Umtali, the third largest city in Southern Rhodesia.

The sermon topics to be presented during the eight days are: "We Are Debtors", "Evaluating God's Word", "Blood of Christ", "Salvation by Grace Through Faith", "Believing a Lie", "Cost of Discipleship", "The Lord's Attitude Toward Error," "God Spared Not", "We Should Imitate the Philippian Church", and "Epitaphs God Wrote". The public is invited to attend these meetings.

Petitions Said Invalid

AUSTIN (AP) — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has informed Dist. Atty. Charles Allen of Marshall that state law requires specific wording on petitions for a local option election to legalize the sale of alcobolic beverages.

In an opinion released Thursday, Carr told Allen that 50 of 140 petitions without the full and proper headings were invalid.

In other opinions, Carr said:

The State Board of Hairdressers and Cosmetologists cannot require financial statements as a prerequisite for a license, or adopt rules concerning absenteeism, re-registration or school transfers. These regulations could only be made by the legislature, he said.

A county hospital district created under a new law assumes the same responsibility for the care of indigents as that previously imposed on the commissioners court. The ruling went to Ochiltree County Atty. G. R. Close.

Your hatred hurts you.

For every action there is a reaction. If we love we are loved. If we give we are given. When we learn this and believe it we have learned God's plan for us.

No man can live alone. He needs his neighbor. God told us this many times, "Love thy neighbor as thyself." God also told us who our neighbor was . . . everyone, even our enemy.

It is hard for us to accept this unless we realize that our hatred hurts us. Hatred drives out love. That is why God told us to love one another. The more we love the closer we come to God who is perfect love. Truly we are our brother's keeper.
