

A Helping Hand From Red Cross

By JERRY ODOM
Staff Writer

In the mind of Robert La Coste, 21 year old minister of the Fifteenth Street Church of Christ here, the organization known as the Red Cross has been, through the course of his life, a "fantastic asset." An asset to him it has been since he was the age of eleven.

From the time of birth La Coste has had an asthma problem. When he was eleven, it was learned he was a deficient gamma globulin and would continue to be the rest of his life.

La Coste described gamma globulin as the highest anti-body in the blood stream — an antibody which he lacks a sufficient amount. Because of his insufficient supply of the protein, it has been necessary for him to take gamma globulin injections from time to time the past ten years.

The biggest problem for a deficient gamma globulin is the fact that the protein fraction is highly expensive. "It costs a person $40 for each injection," he stated. This is where the Red Cross came to the aid of La Coste.

Through the organization he has been able to acquire gamma globulin injections for ten years at no expense. But the majority of the past decade he has lived around Phoenix, Arizona and Portland, Oregon, both located in blood counties.

Says La Coste, "If you don't live in a blood county, you have to pay the price yourself for gamma globulin, which over a period of time becomes very expensive."

In September La Coste moved to Hereford and soon realized Deaf Smith was not a blood county. Though there is some work directed toward making Deaf Smith a blood county, it appears unprospective at the present and as a result he is required to pay the high expense for gamma globulin.

La Coste described his situation in Hereford this way. "When I moved here I went to the Red Cross and found that this is not a blood county. That means blood is not produced here but transferred from somewhere else. The closest blood county is the one centered around Amarillo but you have to be a resident to receive the Red Cross aid."

"You can't even order the anti-body through the Red Cross here. If Deaf Smith becomes a blood county, everyone could get it with a doctor's approval," he added.

La Coste explained more about gamma globulin and its relationship to the Red Cross. "Gamma globulin is the highest protector in the blood stream. Since it is a defendent against almost any disease, many people have taken injections for the common flu and colds instead of flu shots.

"If it wasn't so hard to reproduce, everyone would take it rather than flu shots. I laid off taking the shots for a few months and started back this year. Since then I have had only one seasonal cold.

"With a lack of gamma globulin one's resistance goes down. And since my resistance drops over a certain period, I will be taking injections the rest of my life. Without it would be twice as easy for me to take a disease," he stated.

In relation to the Red Cross La Coste just said, "They were there when I needed them. Not just for me but a lot of other people. There was one preacher in Phoenix who was ill with emphysema. With gamma globulin injections given by the Red Cross his life span was added and prolonged.

"We also had a lady in our congregation who had the German measles. She was pregnant at the time but with gamma globulin shots she was able to live and so was her child."

La Coste knows of instances when the Red Cross has aided people besides just those with blood problems. One such as he described it, occurred in Tampa Florida. "When Hurricane Donna hit, people were left homeless. The Red Cross came to the rescue and took them to shelter, food, and clothing."

September was the first time in La Coste's life he has sustained a full time minister-ship.

County Council Action Is Light

Action in county commissioners court at their regular session Monday, saw little action occur, though several items were discussed.

The re-districting of Deaf Smith County precincts, required by the United States Supreme Court, was included on the agenda, but commissioners took no action on this matter. The inclusion of the item on the agenda was scheduled to be considered, but commissioners failed to make a decision. The re-districting of a county calls for a "one-man-one vote" situation in every county.

According to figures settled on in the last re-districting in 1966, Precinct 1 and Precinct 2 were equalized more to give a closer number of voters. In records of the November, 1968 general election, figures showed 2,204 voters in Precinct 1; 1,747 in Precinct 2; 122 in Precinct 3 and 303 qualified voters in precinct 4.

Because of the widely varied number of voters in each of the Precincts, re-districting will be necessary to provide the 'one-man-one-vote' provision.

A motion was made by commissioners to set insurance percentages at 80 per cent with Robinson Insurance Agency and 20 per cent each with Lone Star and Clinton Jackson, retroactive as of Feb. 1, 1970 with the Jackson company. Also, discussion was had on workman's compensation for county employees which would pay employers medical bill up to $100,000. This figure was set at $3,981 per year for this coverage.

Approval was also given a request for a gas line to cross a county road. The request was presented by Arliss Edwards of West Acre Farms, Inc. as he was seeking permission to 'cross a county road with a gas line at Section 3, H. D. Howard Survey to Section 70, Block K-6."

Benny Womble, county veteran's service officer, appeared before the court, requesting a salary increase for his position, telling the commissioners that due to the ever increasing number of veteran duties, the travel and telephone allowance plus the salary, were not sufficient. His salary was $105 per month with a $100 per month travel and telephone expense, and this was upped by the commissioners to $115 for salary with travel and telephone expenses remaining the same.

The monthly fire report was read by the commissioners, showing that of the 23 fires reported during February, only six were county blazes.

HOLLY NEGOTIATIONS at the present time are a big stalemate in the area as representatives from the plant and board members of the Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Association are meeting this week in attempts to arrive at a 1970 contract. The two groups will meet again today and expectations are high for a settlement.

Contract Agreement Attempts Bog Down

Holly Sugar Corporation representatives and members of the Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association board will attempt for the third time this week to negotiate on a beet production contract today.

The controversial issue has been discussed twice prior to this week in August and September, both times efforts failing to reach decision. Because of a "poor year in 1969 for Holly, and for the growers themselves," stated beet growers president Jay Boston, "contract negotiations have previously stalemated over proposals by Holly."

Area farmers are awaiting the decision with anxiety in the fact they normally begin beet planting the first of March. For this reason, Boston said, "We are worried and Bob Ginn, Holly agricultural manager, is worried. We have to reach some kind of an agreement by March 20 so our farmers will know to do."

The ten board members represented again today are Boston, Al Black, Virgil Marsh, Raymond Higginbotham, Don Kimball, Don Shipley, Pete Davis from Clovis, Clois Terrel from Dumas and Alfred Ford from Hartley. Holly negotiators include Glen Yager, Percy Rosenhall, and John Bushenhowell. Representing the corporation in August and September was Holly president, John Bunker.

According to local attorney James A. Witherspoon, the beet growers want the same contract as last year which the USDA has held to be fair and reasonable. Says Witherspoon, "Holly feels that since the sugar crop was extremely bad in 1969, another contract should be derived."

Boston stated, "Holly officials are discouraged from last year and argue they are a stock company and stockholders expect to make a profit. But we farmers didn't make any money last year either, and we would have difficulty getting loans from our bankers, without a contract which lets us know what to expect."

He also added, "We are not asking anything except the same contract we had last year. If the company offers some kind of compromise, the association will take it to its members for a vote."

"Our farmers are discouraged and since they have allotments, an early settlement is necessary, or they will want to turn back the beet allotments for other crops, such as grain sorghum or cotton."

"We can hold these allotments until May 1, but I don't think our farmers are going to wait that long. Those farmers who are over-allotted are going to have to make a decision right away."

"Right now the problem is that we have the land prepared but we don't know what kind of fertilizers to use. The reason we are seeking the same contract is that the USDA approved it and we feel it is fair and reasonable."

Witherspoon added encouragement to the situation by saying, "A settlement is expected to be reached today and we feel it will."

Mrs. Soloman told the board of trustees that the number of tuberculosis cases reported in Deaf Smith County in 1968 was 18, making this county the leader in the state in TB cases per capita.

"The number of tuberculosis cases detected here is found," she stated, "mostly in the lower grades."

In concluding their report, the health officers stated, "We realize that some children, due to specific health conditions, should not receive various vaccinations and immunizations. Since the overall health of the school child is our primary concern, exceptions to the requirements will be granted upon request by the private physician. This request must be in writing. This will become part of the child's permanent record."

After discussing the health program at some length with the health officers, the board of trustees adopted it.

Bob Holman, assistant superintendent, presented the board with a review of the in-service plans for the new Tierra Blanca Elementary School and what is to be expected in the way of non-graded teaching.

Orientation-type classes are now being planned for the teachers who will take positions at the new elementary school to inform them of the new teaching methods to be used at the school. Holman pointed out that at the present time, the entire system of teaching here is based on teaching all students, regardless of their ability to learn, the same thing at the same pace, and this method is to be done away with at the new school.

The grades will be divided into various levels for fast and slow learning students so that they may advance at their own ability. No child will "fail" in the sense of not advancing up a grade, because, Holman said, of the new non-graded system to be initiated at Tierra Blanca. "Instead," he said, "they will learn as they are capable of."

The proposal, to encompass all indigent children entering kindergarten and public schools, listed numerous requirements which will affect the present ones being followed. It stated that children and indigent children involved in the migrant program shall receive from the school registered professional nurses, immunizations for diphtheria-tetanus toxoid, oral poliomyelitis vaccine, smallpox vaccine, and rubeola live virus vaccine. These immunizations will be given according to the schedule set up by the provisions where diphtheria-tetanus toxoid, smallpox vaccine and oral polio will be given first with DT toxoid and Rubeola vaccine to be given four weeks later. Eight weeks later, DT toxoid and oral polio vaccinations will be given the children.

Children who have evidence of prior series of diphtheria and tetanus immunization or oral polio will be given a single series booster DT toxoid, oral polio and smallpox vaccination. Those children who have been previously immunized against measles will not be re-vaccinated.

The enrollment requirements set by the board state that no pupil shall be received, or may continue in the Hereford Public Schools who is known to have a contagious or infectious disease. A pupil who has had a contagious disease shall not return to school without a health certificate from a regular practicing physician.

As a condition for attending the Hereford Public Schools students must submit evidence of compliance with the following immunization requirements: smallpox, measles, poliomyelitis, diphtheria, mumps and tuberculosis.

Health Program Given Approval

County health policies, as they affect the school health program, were presented by school nurse Jo Soloman and county health officer Dr. Hugh McCrary, at the monthly meeting of the Hereford Independent School Board of Trustees, with the school officials approving the proposed policies.

The proposal, to encompass all indigent children entering kindergarten and public schools, listed numerous requirements which will affect the present ones being followed. He has sung in "La Boheme" at the Seattle Opera House in Washington, "Carmen" with the Opera Company of America of Boston and "Tosca", "Lulu" and "Falstaff" with the American National Opera.

Theaters Are Sold

William F. Hardwick, veteran theater owner - manager, this week announced the sale of his local theater properties to his former partners, Commonwealth Theaters, Inc. of Kansas City, Mo., effective immediately.

Hardwick told the Brand Wednesday that the three theaters, the Star, Texas and Tower Drive-In had been sold to Commonwealth, along with the Star building, and the property at the Drive-In. The building housing the Texas Theater did not belong to the partnership, he said.

Randall Foy, recently of Albuquerque, N.M., will manage the theaters for Commonwealth.

Hardwick did not announce future plans, but indicated that he would go into semi-retirement, ending over 35 years of active theater work. Hardwick came to Hereford in 1945 to take over management of the local properties, having had an interest in the shows prior to that. He also worked actively in the theater business in Clovis for about 10 years prior to coming to Hereford.

Commonwealth Theaters, Inc. now owns over 200 theaters in 10 states, according to Hardwick.

Wilson's Joins JOBS Program

Wilson Beef and Lamb Co., Hereford plant, is one of twenty-four employers who will hire and train 757 disadvantaged jobless persons in 21 southwest cities under the Job Opportunities in the Business Sector (JOBS) program, as announced by the U.S. Department of Labor.

Wilson's with a Federal investment of $317,511 will train 150 persons as: 138 all-round butchers, and 12 as maintenance men; with 33 to 36 weeks training and $2.77 per hour after training.

The JOBS program is joint effort of the Labor Department and the National Alliance of Businessmen to hire and train jobless persons.

Under the program, the Secretary of Labor has set up procedures to enlist the resources jobs and training, both entry level and upgrading. Funds are provided by the Labor Department to help companies offset the cost of recruiting and on-the-job training, and supportive services such as remedial and basic education, job coaching, orientation, minor medical care, and transportation, where needed.

Area Institute Opens

A number of Hereford citizens are already familiar with a program of rehabilitation for brain damaged children, utilizing the "patterning" technique, known as the Doman-Delacato program, designed to train the uninjured portions of the human brain to take over the functions of injured areas.

A unique non-profit center for the rehabilitation of these children-The Institutes for Neurological Organization and Learning Disabilities, Inc.-has opened at 2417 South Kentucky in Amarillo.

Enrollment figures were released by the board, indicating that a decrease in 34 students enrolled in the local system compared to the last reporting period. It was pointed out, however, that the total this year is still 203 above the number enrolled at this time last year. At this time last year, there were 4,385 students enrolled in the local system as compared to this year's total so far of 5,091.

Officials indicated they expected a rise in the number of students in the next few weeks due to the harvest season nearing.

A report was also heard on the transportation situation which disclosed that the school had entered bids for three additional 66-passenger buses for the system for next year. The purchase of an activity bus for out-of-town school activities such as athletics, was also discussed, but no action was taken on the matter.

A change was also made in the school calendar, allowing Good Friday as a part of the Easter Holidays. Previously, Good Friday was not included in the holidays, and when it was brought to light, the school board voted to extend the period.

The resignation of Beth Hubert was accepted by the board and the hiring of six new teachers was approved. These included William Igle, of Lamesa; Vera and Bobby Boyd, of Amarillo; Barbara Osborn of Hereford and Carolyn Lee Osborn and Martha Deboard.

Herbert Brasher, consultant for the schools, presented the building program concerning the new elementary school, stating that early April was expected to be the completion time. He also discussed the lighting of the football field, but this matter will be discussed at a later meeting of the board. A contract from Jake Deil was accepted by the board for the paving of approximately 5,000 square feet at the Tierra Blanca school, also.

Additionally, the Institutes has availability to consultants representing wide range of specialties: Neurosurgery, pathology, orthopedics, ophthalmology, educational testing, nursing, social work and family counseling.

The result, states Institute Director Don Zeman: "...is a fully coordinated program permitting the application of the many interdisciplinary skills required in helping brain-injured children to function in the mainstream of society."

"Just as importantly, from the viewpoint of the parents of these children," Mr. Zeman adds "is the ready availability of these many professional skills at a single source such as the Amarillo Institutes, which now serves children from Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Oklahoma and Kansas.

The Institutes also provide a specialized program in the areas of Reading and Speech, Pre-school Learning and Child Development.

Professionals, educators, parents and others desiring information on the Institute's programs should contact: Mr. Don Zeman, Director, Institutes for Neurological Organization and Learning Disabilities, Inc., 2417 South Kentucky Amarillo.

Funeral Rites Conducted For Traffic Victim

Funeral services for Michael Lynn Edens, 29, of Albuquerque, who was killed Friday in a one-car accident in that city, were conducted at 3 p.m. Tuesday in The First Baptist Church of Silverton.

The Rev. C. H. Murphy Jr., pastor, and the Rev. Aubrey Green, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Lubbock, officiated. Burial was in Silverton Cemetery.

Born at Plainview, he lived in Silverton and attended schools there.

He was an Army veteran and operated a motorcycle shop in Albuquerque.

Survivors include his wife, Beverly; his mother, Mrs. Glenn Green, his father, Steve Edens and one half-brother, Steven Ray Edens, all of Hereford; two half-sisters, Shirley Kay Edens and Lois Ann Edens, both of Albuquerque; and grandparents, H. A. Morris of Amarillo and Mrs. Denny Edens of Claude.

WELCOME THANKS

FRANKFORT, Ky. - The state trooper's lot is not always a series of complaints from motorists. Trooper Robert J. Cooksey has received letters from drivers he arrested for drunkenness - thanking him for saving them from serious accidents.

PRISON RATINGS

FRANKFORT, Ky. - Employees at Kentucky State Reformatory near LaGrange have rated it high in education and recreation, but low in counseling and employment of inmates.

Warden James Howard said he is surprised that security at the institution received an "above average" rating. Four prisoners escaped the previous month and had not been caught.

100,000 doctors have given up cigarettes. You can too, says the American Cancer Society.

RAILROAD DISPUTE

The House considered seven bills last week. Probably the most important was a resolution delaying a railroad strike for 37 days in order that labor and management can have further discussions in hopes of settling the dispute. I voted for the resolution because I do not believe the nation's economy can withstand a prolonged strike of a major industry while we are attempting to bring inflation under control.

QUARANTINE STATION - I was pleased when the House adopted on a voice vote, a bill identical to one I introduced last year providing for an international quarantine station. This will hopefully lead to the improvement of livestock heads in this country by allowing importation of livestock from other countries for cross-breeding purposes.

HEW APPROPRIATIONS

By a vote of 324 to 55 the House finally adopted an HEW Appropriation Bill. The final version gives the President the authority not to spend 2 percent of the money appropriated. The President agreed to sign the bill because the 2 percent provision makes the bill less inflationary than the one he vetoes last month.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS - Approved during the week also was a $75 million appropriation for additions to the Library of Congress. I voted against the appropriation because I believe this is one expenditure that could be delayed as long as we are continuing efforts to stop the rising cost of living.

This week the House will be considering legislation to expand agricultural exports, funds to build additional merchant ships, and any other bills the Rules Committee agrees to let come to the floor.

18th District Visitors to the Washington Office: Mr. & Mrs. Jesse T. Lebow, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Lloyd, Amarillo; Mrs. Herbert C. Martin, Amarillo; Mr. Don Kimball, Amarillo; Buck Allred, Wildorado; Lloyd Glenn, Tulsa; and Steve Walters, Amarillo.

LAST MINUTE NOTE - Two 18th District Companies have received Labor Department grants to train unemployed workers. Missouri Beef Packers of Friona will train 25 persons as butchers. Wilson Beef and Lamb Company of Hereford will train 13 butchers and 12 maintenance men.

Cavanar and Riggan Grand Prize Winners

Climax of the 33rd annual membership meeting of the Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union Monday evening for the 338 members attending was the drawing for the grand prizes. Winner of the 1970 color TV was Robert Cavanar, and winning the stereo was Charlie Riggan. Andrew Batterman won the recorder; Billy Shore, an AM-FM radio; and set of stainless steel ware, Mrs. Ellen Warrick. Ellen Warrick.

Winners of stadium blankets were Raymond Warrick, Wanda Paetzold, and Mrs. Leon Vinton.

George Frank Says "Thanks"

"Thanks, everybody!" I will thank you better when I return as it is hard to do so from 430 miles away," says George Frank to all his benefactors contributing to the George Frank Kidney Fund.

Frank is still progressing after surgery performed last week spending several sessions on the kidney machine each week, and looks forward to coming home in two or three months.

Franks address is: c-o Parkland Memorial Hospital, 5201 Harry Hines Blvd., Dallas, Texas 75235.

Mrs. Frank and daughter Lisa are staying with friends in Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Birkendorf.

A total of 3,440 stores throughout the United States are licensed as official distributors of Boy Scout uniforms and other supplies.

Mrs. J. D. Love and Mrs. Victor Elliston received season football tickets for the Whitefaces next year.

Robert Thompson, president, conducted the business meeting during which A. J. Schroeter and O. L. Bybee were re-elected to the board of directors for a three year term. Bub Sparks was also re-elected to the credit committee for three years.

Milton Durham, program chairman for the event, realizing the scheduled speaker, John Acres, had not arrived, called from the audience Fred Ferguson, Georgetown, a former credit union manager.

After listening to Ferguson's stuttering and stammering a few moments, it became evident to the audience that this individual was in actuality the scheduled speaker.

Cecil Hunter, "Stuttering Sam", from Tulsa, Oklahoma gave a humorous program, touching on politics, H-bomb and general life in America. "Stuttering Sam" is remembered by many in this area from his numerous years on the Cal Farley Show, KGNC radio, before he moved to Tulsa in 1950.

Shamrock Festival Will Feature Doug McClure

SHAMROCK—The Irishmen of teams and other marching units. Shamrock stand ready to stage their 24th annual St. Patrick's Day Celebration. The theme is "Shamrock Under Seven Flags," the seventh banner, of course, being that of Ireland. Highlighting this year's Festival will be the appearance of Doug McClure, who plays the role of Trampas on the weekly television series, "The Virginian." With him will be four other Hollywood personalities, Hi Busse and The Frontiersmen and Joanie, billed as America's No. 1 Western Vocal Group. They will present entertainment for the Pre-St. Patrick's Day Banquet at 7:30 p.m. Monday, March 16, and will appear in a show at 5 p.m. Tuesday, March 17. Both events will be in the National Guard Armory. Highlighting the parade will be 25 or more colorful floats and a dozen or so bands, drill

Residents Helping Make U. S. "Gabbiest" Nation

Hereford residents are helping make the United States the gabbiest nation in the world. According to Mike Patrick, manager for Southwestern Bell the average number of calls made by Hereford telephone users outnumbers the combined average calls of their counterparts in Ireland, France, Argentina and Switzerland. Patrick said the average Hereford resident makes 701 calls a year. Patrick said one reason for all the talking in Hereford is the number of telephones in the town. He pointed out that Hereford has more telephones than the entire country of Guinea. Hereford has more than 6,900 telephones as compared with the 6,600 total telephones of Guinea. Patrick stated that Texas with 4,480,000 telephones has more phones than the country of Sweden with 4,110,000 telephones.

In the five states Southwestern Bell serves — Missouri, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kansas and Texas — there were more telephones in 1968 than in Mexico and the U. S. S. R. combined. Mexico had some 1.2 million telephones and Russia some 9.9 million, while there were over 11.4 million telephones in Southwestern Bell territory. The United States can also boast having more telephones per person than any other country. For every 100 persons in the United States there are 54 telephones. This compared to 51 for every 100 people in Sweden, the second place country. Volta, Africa, is the least developed telephone country. There are four telephones for each 10,000 persons.

Air Patrol Personnel Anticipate Alert Drill

An alert will be sounded sometime Friday, March 13th, calling for all available Civil Air Patrol personnel and equipment in the state of Texas to proceed to Georgetown Municipal airport for a 2-day test exercise.

Texas will combine forces to work as one team in this exercise. Besides limited rolling equipment, many personal vehicles will be involved. Privately owned aircraft, will take to the air. Radio equipment of all kinds will assist in necessary communications. Hundreds of people will be involved.

Once a year there is conducted what C.A.P. people know as a Sarterst, a 2-part, graded test on search and rescue and civil defense capabilities. The grading officers are members of the United States Air Force, of which Civil Air Patrol is a civilian auxiliary. Similar tests are held yearly in all of the 50 states the District of Columbia, and Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. Personnel from 118 units in Other participating agencies will include the Department of Public Safety and State Civil Defense Authorities.

The Hereford Composite squadron meets on Monday night, 7:30 p.m., at the American Legion Hall, all interested are invited.

Scholarships Open At ASU

SAN ANGELO—Applications will be accepted at Angelo State University until April 1 for the Millard Cope Memorial Scholarship for a freshman journalism student planning to enter ASU next summer or fall.

Winner of the freshman scholarship will be announced at Angelo State's annual Journalism Day program April 16, Mrs. Henthorn said.

The scholarship is for $300 and will be renewable each year as long as the recipient maintains good standing in Angelo State. Applications should be addressed to Mrs. Maxine Henthorn, head of the ASU Journalism department.

Funeral Rites For Mrs. Major Held Monday

Four of the scholarships are awarded annually—one each to a freshman, sophomore, junior and senior. Winner of the freshman scholarship last year was Vicki Clifton of Spur. Others with Cope scholarships this year are Gary Flanagan of Ballinger, sophomore, Nelda Fischer of Wall, junior; and Deanna Lacy of San Angelo, senior.

Funeral services for Mrs. Vivian Benson Major, 74, of 506 Schley, who died at 8 a.m. Saturday in Deaf Smith County Hospital, were conducted at 2:30 p.m. Monday in the First Baptist Church, where she was a member.

Dr. Gerald Mann, pastor, officiated. Burial was in West Park Cemetery by Gililand Funeral Home.

She had been a resident of Deaf Smith County since 1923, moving here from Ashola, Tex. She married Tom Major in 1921 at Clarendon. He died in 1938.

Survivors include two brothers Hardy M. Benson of Hereford and George E. Benson of Clarendon; and three sisters, Mrs. Jimmie H. Miller of Amarillo, Mrs. Ida Parker of Iowa Park and Mrs. Ada Craig of Houston.

She was born April 15, 1895.

Former publisher of the Marshall News-Messenger, Mr. Cope also was president of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association and a director of the Associated Press at the time of his death.

Judges of the event will be honored at a noon luncheon. They are Mmes. Marie Gardner, Beulah S. Burnette, Nova Schubert Blair and Gladys M. Glenn, all of Amarillo.

There are 183 entries from 10 clubs participating from Amarillo, Dawn, Friona and Hereford. The events include piano solo, piano duet, piano concerto, vocal solo, vocal ensemble, folk song, guitar, marimba, organ, musicianship, improvisation and composition. All teachers, parents or interested adults are invited to attend.

Diamonders Open Season Between Weather Spells

It seems only appropriate to the time of year that just as the Hereford High baseballers wind up their tedious first month of practice and prepare for the opening big games, the weather turns rainy, snowy, and cold. This week and last were no exception.

The Whitefaces were scheduled to tangle with the Caprock Longhorns Friday here to initiate their 1970 season. And on Friday the rain came, disgusting the team and leaving them only the hope that conditions would improve for Saturday's double-header with Estacado.

The weather did improve Saturday as the sun came out providing an ideal day for baseball. Hereford began their season, in the first game "the only way" as coaches often state, by winning. The Herd edged the Matadors 9-8 — the game being as exciting and close as the score.

In the bottom of the first Estacado drew first blood pushing one run across the plate. But the Whitefaces excited the home crowd in the bottom of the first as they came to bat. With two men on base, center fielder Paul Loerwald smacked a homer to tip the score at 3-1 in favor of the Herd.

Neither team scored in the second inning but as the third drew to a close, Hereford had widened the margin to 6-1 by scoring three runs with three base hits. Estacado came storming back in the fourth, tallying three runs and holding the Herd to zero.

The fifth inning rolled by with very little action, the score remaining 6-4 Hereford's favor. But in the top of the sixth Estacado dropped the bomb, leaving the Whitefaces in worrisome shape.

They scored four runs on two walks, two base hits, and an error to attain the lead in the 8-6 score. Hereford's attempt to circle the bases in the sixth was unsuccessful.

The seventh and final inning, besides being the decisive one, was probably the most exciting inning. Estacado failed to shine in their batting attempt leading to the Herd's final chance.

Hereford took full advantage. With two men on, Rick Lee slapped a grounder to the shortstop who bobbled it. The error, combined with a bad throw, allowed Hereford to score the winning runs. In the course of the inning, the Whitefaces managed their three runs on three walks, an error, and one base hit.

In the first seven inning affair, Hereford pounded ten hits for nine runs while the Matadors had nine hits for their eight tallies. Handling the pitching duties for the locals through the entire game was junior Kevin LaFleur.

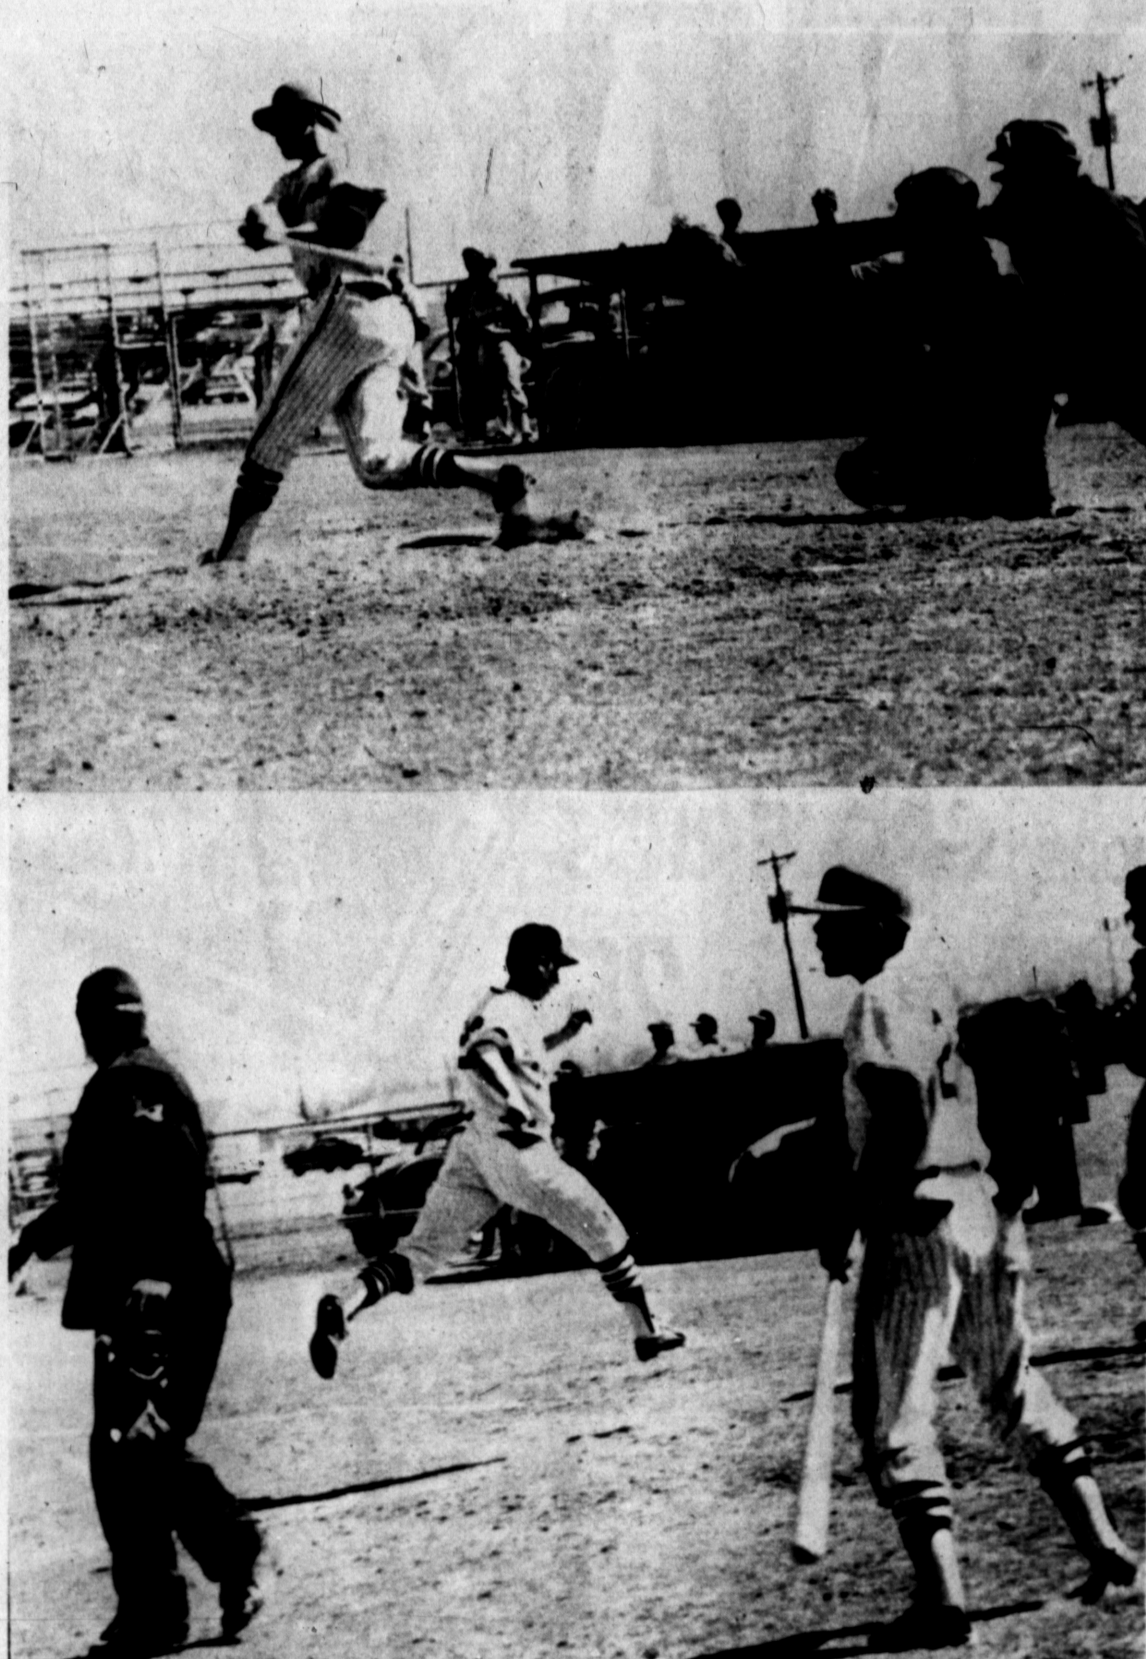

Estacado revenged their 9-8 loss in the second game of the double header steaming by the herd 9-3. They again managed to lead off in the scoring with one run in the first inning. Hereford faulted in their offensive attack in the 1st to boost confidence of the Lubbock crew.

The Matadors did the most damage in the second inning. With the help of a walk, and three Whiteface errors, they added three hits to score five runs. The score remained at 6-0 from the second till the bottom of the fourth.

It was in the fourth that Hereford tacked on two runs. Two walks, and two hits were the magic ingredients for the scores.

The last three Estacado runs came about divided among the last three innings. Their fifth inning run was scored on a walk, hit, and error. Two hits and a walk added to give them their sixth inning score. The Matadors ninth and final run was the reward of two errors and a walk.

Hereford, down 9-2, gave one last attempt to save the game. They were successful only in achieving one more run which

Trackmen Take 6th At Snyder

In winding up their second meet of the season Saturday, the Hereford trackmen rated sixth in the Canyon Reef Relays scoring a team total 74 points. The Dumas Demons, threatening competitors for the 1-AAA crown, swept away with first place in the meet with their 135 point team total.

Other AAA schools represented in the combined three and four A events were Snyder, Sweetwater, Brownwood, Dunbar, Colorado City, Lakeview, and Stephenville.

Senior Percy Mays, a three year sprinter in the 880 yard dash, took first place honors in the event with a time of 2:05. Behind Mays from Hereford were Mickey Ginn placing fourth with a time of 2:07 and Jimmy Jobe placing sixth timed at 2:09.

Ralph Waits nabbed second place in the high jump leaping five foot, six inches. Rex Coleman, also successful in the broad jump, placed fourth landing 19 feet, 11 and half inches from the line.

Mickey Brisenne, in the 440 yard dash, graded fifth place with a time of 1:0. Behind him in the runninh was sophomore Jay Henderson with a time of 58.9.

George Fuller boogied third place with a 19 foot 1/4 inch broad jump while Billyob Taylor pole vaulted eleven feet for second place in the event.

Tony Gorman sailed to discuss 139 feet 5 1/2 inches for fourth place. Also in the event were John Page and Roddo Gonzales who threw for 11 and 108 feet respectively.

The two mile relay team consisting of Jimmy Jobe, George Fuller, Mickey Ginn, and Percy Mays placed second with a time of 8:43. Sprint medlers Hector Rodriguez, Jay Henderson, Charles Allison, and John Hernandez timed a 4:03 in the event.

Rodriguez, Fuller, Rex Coleman, and James Waits clicked, in the 880 yard dash, a 1:36 time. In the 440 yard relay, Ward, Waits, Coleman, and Brisenne finished in sixth place with a 45.2 run. Rodriguez, Henderson, Hernandez, and Brisenne stepped up to fifth place in the mile relay crossing the finish line with a time of 3:47.

The tracksters of Hereford High will once again be on the road Saturday, this time their destination being Levelland and the Lobo Relays. The following Saturday, March 21, they will host the Hereford Relays.

The following week will be open. From then on they will be on the road again competing in the Amarillo Relays, Borger Relays, and the district meet at West Texas State University.

The following two weekends will include the Regional meet and the three day state track meet scheduled for May 7-9.

Sunset Tourney Worth $2000

The second week-end of action is over for the $2000 tournament at Sunset Lanes. There was no change to the first and second places as Robert Kuback and Mike Waldrip held their respective places.

Charlie Owens made a bid for first place but fell short taking over third. Larry Lopez is in fourth, James Whitson of Muleshoe in fifth, Bobby Medina in sixth, and Willie Lyons is in seventh.

Several out of town bowlers are expected this week-end with shifts beginning at 12 noon, 3 p.m., 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. First place is guaranteed $500, second $400, third-$300, fourth-$200, fifth-$100, sixth-$75, seventh-$65, $52.

High games for each pair of lanes will receive a bonus of $25 at the end of the tournament.

High games for each pair of lanes will receive a bonus of $25 at the end of the tournament.

Lanes 1 and 2—Garry Packard with a score of 263, three and four—Mike Waldrip—241, five and six—Chas Owens—246, seven and eight—Gene Combs—201, nine and ten Robert Kuback—208, eleven and twelve—Larry Lopez—221, thirteen and fourteen—James Whitson—143, and lanes fifteen and sixteen—Bobby Medina—214.

There are three weekends remaining and action is expected to be heavy as local bowlers and out of town participants shoot for the top spot. Allen Hawley, a big drawing card from Amarillo and 200 average bowler, will make an appearance at Sunset Lanes this Saturday on the evening shift.

This tournament is open to all A.B.C. Bowlers with an entry fee of $2 included.

HHS Golfers Shoot Top Score In Local Match

Rain and snow hampered not only the baseball team last weekend, but the golf team of HHS as well. A match was held last Friday on the local course though fewer teams arrived than scheduled.

Appearing at the match were Hereford, Canyon, and Dumas minus the schools of Clovis and Muleshoe. Both the "A" and "B" teams of Hereford High won their division of the match with scores of 156 and 174 respectively.

The varsity golfers included Marsh Pitman shooting a 38, Wayne Stoerner golfing a 35, Santry Rush with a 40, Paul Hendon shooting a 43, and James Jorde golfing 45.

The Whiteface "B" team consisted of John McNey shooting a 41, Brent Combs shooting 40, Mike McWhorter golfing a 45, Steve Sanders golfing a 55, and Randy Jones shooting a 48.

The Canyon Varsity placed second behind the Herd with a team score of 168 while the Dumas crew came in third shooting 180. The Canyon B team was one point behind their varsity with a score of 181.

Local golf coach John Holmes stated only nine holes were played in the meet due to the freezing rain and snow.

The local golfers, top challengers for the conference title this year, are preparing for their first south zone match to be played Thursday at Muleshoe. Involved in the south zone competition with Hereford will be Muleshoe and Tulla.

On March 20, HHS will host its one and only zone match. Then on the 3rd and the 4th of April they will compete in the Amarillo Relays. The final zone meet will be on April 11 at Tulla.

On either April 17 or 18 the winner of the north zone (Dumas, Canyon or Perryton) will take on the South Zone champion for the district title. The Regional match will take place the following weekend.

St. Anthony's Ends Cage Play

St. Anthony's fifth and sixth grade girls and boys basketball teams wrapped up their season Friday and Saturday at the Alamo Sixth grade tournament held at Alamo Catholic High in Amarillo.

Schools participating were St. Anthony's, the Amarillo schools of St. Lawrence St. Mary's, St. Joseph's, and River Road, St. Vincent's of Pampa, and St. John's from Borger.

The St. Anthony's girls team (combine fifth and sixth graders) won the consolation third prize receiving a ribbon and trophy. The girls were downed in opening action Friday night by St. Vincent's by the score of 22-16.

They overcame the loss by defeating St. John's 21-7 Saturday morning and St. Mary's Saturday afternoon by a score of 17-13. Volunteer coach of the girls' team for the season was Mrs. Duane Albracht.

St. Anthony's boys team likewise lost their opening game Friday night to St. Vincent's 39-22. Their only victory came over the St. John's squad Saturday afternoon by a score of 36-4.

St. Mary's handed the St. Anthony's boys their second and final loss of the tourney Saturday afternoon downing them 18-9.

Coaching the boys team this season was Ralph Loerwald, came on a hit, stolen base and error.

Hurter in the second game for the home team was Alan Wagner who pitched the full seven innings.

According to this year's rules, all games must be played seven innings. In past seasons some have only gone five to make time allowances for double headers.

Prior to the two contests with Estacado Saturday, Friday's rainout was rescheduled for Monday. Warm weather extended the two days and Caprock and Hereford battled.

The Longhorns, like Estacado, managed one run in the first inning to gain the lead. Caprock's second batting round proved most fatal. Jeff Loerwald, making his first pitching debut for Hereford, gave up three hits, four walks, and in the process allowed four runs.

Hereford's one and only run came in the bottom of the third on a hit, walk, and fielder's choice. Caprock evened out the inning with a run gained with a hit, a walk, and a Hereford error.

SUPPORTING YOUR TOWN

"No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole, half or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a two-line space.

A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town by looking at the paper. This is the best possible town advertising. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town, but refuses to advertise his own, is not a valuable addition to any town. The life of a town depends on the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising business man."

P. S. How many new residents and out of town shoppers saw your name and business today; this week?

MRS. JOSEPHINE WOMMACK, new personnel in Drivers License Examiner's office is shown filling out an application for a license renewal.

Music Club Hears About Composers

"Texas Composers' Day" was the program presented to members of Music Study Club Monday in the home of Mrs. J. T. Gilbraeth Sr. Co-hostess was Mrs. T. W. Roberson.

An ensemble consisting of Mmes. W. T. Carmichael, S. F. Clements, Jud Nowotny, R. C. Godwin, W. E. Dameron, Paul Lyons, Roberson, A. O. Thompson, Dale Young and William Penn sang three numbers by Texas composers.

Accompanied by Mrs. J. C. McCracken, the selections included Enrich Your Life With Music by Julia Smith, Rain and the River by Oscar J. Fox and Prayer by David Guion.

Mrs. Ellis Combes played Variations on an Interrupted Theme by Dr. Houston Bright of WTSU, written for one of his students and a member of the club, Mrs. Bill Devers.

An interesting talk on music in Texas was given by Miss Frances Dameron, explaining that our music was influenced by the Indians, the chants and hymns used in the Texas missions, Spanish and Mexican folk music, the Anglo Americans and music of the old South, plus the music of the cowboys.

Miss Dameron mentioned several Texas composers such as Julia Smith, William J. Marsh who wrote our state song, "Texas Our Texas" and Dr. Houston Bright of WTSU who has composed more than 80 works which includes music for chorus, band, brass quartet, woodwind quintet and piano.

Mrs. Thompson told about the lives of David Guion and Oscar J. Fox.

During a brief business meeting with Mrs. Young presiding, Mrs. A. J. Schroeter, who is district Junior Music Festival Chairman, announced the Hereford Division would be held Friday at the First Baptist Church.

Well-Preserved LAFAYETTE, Colo. - Tom F. Jones, 41-year-old paper salesman, said 30 photos from a 36-shot roll of camera film turned out well. He considered this very good, since the film came from a camera that had lain in a mountain wilderness more than two years, ever since Jones was hurt in a fall in Roosevelt National Forest when hiking. He found the camera about 30 feet from where he had fallen.

Thinking Aloud Karen Tolbert Is Shower Honoree

By BARBARA DRYDEN

You know how businesses move into towns and set up fly-by-night operations, cutting prices and delivering inferior workmanship. They hurt our town and many others like ours which reminds me of a poem on the subject. It deals with water well drilling but the idea of it could fit any business. Here 'tis.

Anonymous Poet Laureate Discusses Prices

I ain't much for speeches, it's hard for me to say what's on my mind; but dern it all, you fellas ought to be kicked in the behind.

Drilling costs are at an all time peak; so your prices should go higher. Instead, you're out there cutting prices and calling your competitors a liar.

Some of you hold another job so you can drill a little cheaper. Some of ya lie around a lot, then make it up by going deeper.

Some of ya keep yer prices down by letting equipment go to pot, not thinking of the day ahead when yer rig will be completely shot.

Some of you cut by inferior work and yer materials are just the same. While you get an extra well to drill you're also getting a very bad name.

Some of ya keep yer prices down by letting equipment go to pot, not thinking of the day ahead when yer rig will be completely shot.

Some of you cut by inferior work and yer materials are just the same. While you get an extra well to drill you're also getting a very bad name.

Some of ya keep yer prices down by letting equipment go to pot, not thinking of the day ahead when yer rig will be completely shot.

In time your reputation will catch you. But by then it will be too late. You may have drilled a little cheaper but you'll suffer a cut-throat's fate.

Ya know, you're drilling for nothing if you can't be proud of what you drill. If your customer knows he's got the best he won't complain about the bill.

So, set your prices, fellers, so much per foot. I suggest by running your business as a business you'll give your customers the best. — The Digger

This cold weather is really nipping the buds on the peach and apricot trees and it looks like we are in for some more winter. It has really nipped the buds around our house — not peach or apricots, but it sure nipped a few from Scott-Son and Van-Son. They thought summer was here and have been wearing short pants for a month, holding their breath until swimming time. It has really taken the air out of their sails.

It's pregnant pickle eating poodle time around our house again — already. It's bad enough to have a pregnant poodle that loves pickles and Mexican Chihuahuas, but we also have a tattle-tale Mynah bird that watches out the window and screams "Pedro's back — Pedro's back." One of these days we will wake up and Coquette will have added something new to her list of good-eatin's. Mynah birds.

Another little thing we are trying to cope with around our household is our ten-month old baby puppy named Skipper. The little darling tips the scales at 100 pounds (soaking wet) and he's a sight to behold. He is supposed to be pure bred German Shepherd but I think I saw one of his relatives on "King Of The Grizzlies" last week. We have trouble convincing visitors that he is a dog instead of a bear. I am contemplating putting up a sign in the front yard saying "Caution: You May Be Eaten." All I can say after he has

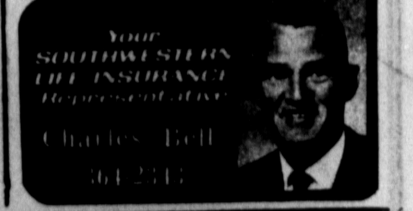

Miss Karen Kay Tolbert of Amarillo, whose marriage to Stanley Solomon is planned for March 21, was complimented by a bridal shower Saturday in the home of Mrs. Bill Gentry.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. James Burrus, W. B. Nunley, J. W. Brorman, Verdon Watts, Charlie Burk, Claude McGowan Jr., Robert Hickman, Richard Winget, Labry Ballard, Elmer Kimball, Art Stoy, Joel Hodges, Shirley Garrison, Jack Weaver, Joe L. Hamilton, Buren Sowell, Phillip Miller and Mary Jane Burrus.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Gentry and received by Miss Tolbert with her mother, Mrs. Willard Tolbert of Amarillo and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Garland Solomon.

A silver epergne held an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums and pale yellow stock on the service table laid with white lace over yellow linen. Refreshments were served from silver and crystal appointments by Miss Sandy Sewell of Lubbock and Mrs. Donald Copeland of Amarillo.

Kiwanis Shows Feature National Figures Weekly

The Kiwanis sponsored program "You and the Law," will feature in the near future the following persons: March 14, 5 p. m., Dr. S. I. Haykawa, President of San Francisco State University; March 21, 12:30 p. m., John E. Ingersoll, Director of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs; and March 28, 5 p. m. Jerry V. Wilson, Chief of the Metropolitan Washington, D. C. Police.

The Hereford Kiwanis Club and Division 6 cooperate with Kiwanis International in producing this program to support its efforts in the fields of law and justice, especially with young people. The program is presented in communities in both the United States and Canada, with Kiwanis Clubs or groups of clubs acting as sponsors in each city.

Each "You and the Law" program consists of a panel of college students, who engage in a dialogue with an expert on law, justice or a closely related field. Dialogues cover subjects of current popular interest: drug use and abuse, urban lawlessness, college unrest, government, law structure, personal rights, etc.

...and you, too, will need it when you pass through the valley of the shadow. We grope blindly through this world as we trample law and order, and the blessings of an Almighty God. We black-out God and every opportunity to do good. The family, the church, the state will suffer for our sins of omission... our failure to possess the earth. Our goal is not the mark of the high calling which is in Christ Jesus. We know He is the light of the world but we don't care to possess it. It is dark about us and apparently we are glad of it. It is dark about us because we choose darkness rather than light. Regular attendance at church could make the dark situation light again.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU
Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that strong and old alike are showered with benedictions that lift, and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. You in the Church and the Church in you form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

BUTTERSCOTCH LOLLIPOPS—Wonderful flavor, easy to make at home.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Extra Good Lollipops

By CECILY BROWNSTONE Associated Press Food Editor

It's a great recipe, this one for Butterscotch Lollipops or Butterscotch Pennies.

Just three ingredients needed—sugar, corn syrup and butter. But what great butterscotch flavor results!

If your family are butterscotch fanciers, we think you'll enjoy trying this recipe.

EASY BUTTERSCOTCH LOLLIPOPS 18 lollipop sticks

3/4 cup sugar, 1/2 cup dark corn syrup, 1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter. Place the lollipop sticks about 4 inches apart on a piece of buttered aluminum foil or on buttered cookie sheets. In a heavy 1-quart saucepan, stir together the sugar, corn syrup and butter. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved and mixture comes to a boil.

Continue cooking, stirring occasionally, to 270 degrees on a candy thermometer or until a small amount of the mixture dropped into very cold water separates into threads that are hard but not brittle. Remove from heat. Drop a tablespoon of the candy over one end of each lollipop stick to form 2-inch disks. Cool completely. Wrap in transparent plastic foil. Makes 18. Butterscotch Pennies: Prepare mixture as directed for Easy Butterscotch Lollipops. Drop by teaspoonfuls, omitting the lollipop sticks. Makes about forty-eight 1 1/4-inch candies.

Note: Lollipop sticks may be obtained from mail-order houses that specialize in equipment for candy and baked products. Or they may be made from 1/2-inch thick wooden doweling cut into 6-inch lengths. Place a sheet of wax paper close to the range on which to turn out the pancakes.

Adventure Is Seen Throughout Novel

For those who enjoy adventure stories with settings in the deep, dark woods flourishing with animal life, there is the Heat a heavy black iron skillet (about 8 inches across the top) until a few drops of water sprinkled on it sizzle and evaporate. With pastry brush butter skillet twice with some of the remaining butter in the saucepan. Use a pot holder to hold the skillet handle because it will get very hot as you make the pancakes.

Fill the ladle almost full of batter; holding the very hot buttered skillet off heat, pour the ladle of batter into it and immediately swirl batter so that it covers bottom of skillet — should be hot enough so that bottom of pancake begins to set.

Return skillet to moderate heat and cook until pancake is browned on bottom and top is set enough so that your finger is clean (but moist) after you touch it — about a minute. With a small metal spatula loosen edge of pancake and with the help of the spatula, slide-lift it onto the wax paper so that browned side is down; with spatula flip it in half to save space; pancakes won't stick.

Continue this process — batter will make 8 pancakes. After the first pancake is made, you should not need to heat the skillet before buttering it because if you work fast the skillet will stay hot.

On the wax paper, open a pancake flat and, aiming toward the lower half of it, dump one-third cup of the Pancake Filling on it. Flip the end of the unfilled side of the pancake over the end of the filled side so you have a roll; holding the pancake with both hands, place it seam side down in a 3-quart oblong glass baking dish (13 1/2 by 8 3/4 by 1 1/4 inches; or similar utensil). Repeat process with rest of pancakes and filling, placing pancakes in a single layer. Spoon remaining sauce into empty spaces in dish. Cover tightly with foil and refrigerate — overnight if you like.

BOBCATS BEFORE BREAKFAST by John Kullsh Bobcats Before Breakfast — a first-hand account of the ways of dogs, nature, wild animals, and life — what a 20th-Century frontiersman learns as he lives with and off nature — and becomes as profound as nature itself.

From forty rugged years of taking his living from the woods, this special, last-of-a-breed kind of man tells about the woods, the animals who live there, and one man's relationship to them. Humor, heartache, suspense and wonder overflow as he shares the adventures, the animal and woods lore — from nerve-stretching hunts for wildcats to a fascinating study of the otter's love life.

When breakfast and lunch, dinner, clothes, and the kids' education — is on the hoof, matching wits with a quarry becomes more than sport.

Here's the extraordinary story from a man who has awakened, driven fifteen miles, snowshoed three, and treed his first cat before the coffee is on in most homes. (I surprised the sun one morning, above the timberline, making it blush so hard the snow turned rosy pink.) With grit, zeal, and snowshoes and from thousands of miles of tracking and observing (In which your hands, your feet, your brain, and your heart will wear blisters) — this hunter-trapper-guide-naturalist-woodsman gathered new knowledge how animals live, facts that challenge many accepted theories — about deer, otters, beavers, wildcats, all fur-bearing animals. His experiences will delight and confound. And the dog owner meets here a man who knows hounds as some men know women.

Bobcats Before Breakfast establishes John Kullsh with nature writers like Teale, Kieran, and Borland — as one whose words stir and renew. For the inarticulate sportsman, the dog lover, the conservationist, and he who enjoys the unusual, this hunter with a heart captures the enduring things.

WAITING FOR WILLA

By Dorothy Eden

In Waiting for Willa the author of the best-selling The Vines of Yarrabee now turns to an enthralling contemporary story of romance and suspense. Set in Stockholm, it features the most elusive and tantalizing title character since Laura and Rebecca — an alluring, hauntingly beautiful English girl enmeshed in the tangles of international intrigue.

"Wilhelmina" is the simple signature at the bottom of a letter from Willa Bedford, but to her cousin, Grace Asherton, it has ominous overtones. A nearly forgotten schoolgirl's game, it is the long-standing signal for alarm agreed upon long before Willa went to Stockholm to live. Grace takes the coded message seriously and wires her cousin that she is on her way.

What follows is a perilous search through the fascinating night world of Stockholm. Romance, terror, and a succession of shocking surprises await Grace — and the reader — as the pieces in the puzzle gradually fit together. The work of a master storyteller, Waiting for Willa bristles with the kind of foreboding suspense Dorot h y Eden's many readers have come to suspect from her.

The World Day of Prayer theme "Take Courage" was elaborated in the message given by Mrs. Bill Thompson at the religious service of the local Church Women United, held Friday afternoon at St. Anthony's Church.

Leader for the service was Mrs. Claude McDougal, with Mrs. Ed Loerwald as reader. Mrs. R. C. Godwin, soloist, was accompanied by Mrs. Jim Cramer.

For Women Marriage Is Bliss For Merchants

The youth rebellion may be a reality on the picket lines, but when it comes to weddings, young girls are as romantic as ever.

Robert Thorsen, publisher of Bride's Magazine, notes an increasing trend toward formal weddings, complete with white dress, veil and 4 to 8 bridesmaids.

If that's good news for romantics, it's also guaranteed to cheer up businessmen, for matrimony is becoming an increasingly important business institution.

Almost 2.2 million people will take the marriage vows this year—as many as in 1946, the record year when soldiers from the World War II came home.

Babies born of those post-war marriages have grown up, causing a marriage boom that's likely to last well into the 1970's and matrimony, already a more than $8 billion a year industry, is likely to present growing business opportunities.

But if today's bride is as romantic as mother she is as older, better educated, and probably knows her fiancé better than her mother did, Thorsen said. Today's bride, statistics show, has been engaged about 11 months compared with an average engagement of six months in her mother's day. She plans to work an average of three years after marriage.

To industry planners this means a more sophisticated young family with extra purchasing power from two paychecks. "Young people today are better able to make their own judgements," Thorsen said. "They are more intelligent and more interested in quality."

Surveys of the bridal market estimate that today's bride spends about $150 on a dress and more than $35 on a veil. Her engagement ring costs between $325 and $350, the Jewelry Industry Council said.

Thorsen estimates the father of the bride will spend between $5,000 and $10,000 on a medium-sized church wedding with a reception in a hotel or country club. A reception, however, can cost less than $1000 at home.

The bridegroom probably will pay more than $500 on a honeymoon and department stores estimate that each bride will get about $1,500 in wedding gifts. An a recent Bride's magazine survey showed that each young couple invests about $3500 setting up a new home or apartment.

This all adds up to jumping sales charts in the brial, home furnishings and housing industries. If modern young couples are not invariably headed for marital bliss, the local merchants almost always will be blissful.

A social hour for the fifty women attending the service was held in the parsonage, with refreshments served by members of St. Anthony's Parish Council of Catholic Women, under the direction of Mrs. Paul Zinser, president.

According to Mrs. John Pitman, president of the Hereford's CWU, the next service will be held on May Fellowship Day, May 1, at which time officers will be elected, to be installed at the third meeting of the year, November 6.

CAP Saves Four Texas Hunters

Maxwell AFB, Ala. -- Four Texas hunters were alive to usher in the new year, thanks to efforts of the New Mexico Wing Civil Air Patrol.

The Air Force's Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Service at Scott AFB, Ill., credited Civil Air Patrol with saving the lives of the four after they became lost on a hunting trip in the Wilds of New Mexico.

The saves gave CAP 38 for the year, ARS officials said. The group, which earlier had left El Paso for a hunting venture to Yellow Creek, N. M., was spotted from the air by a CAP New Mexico Wing volunteer pilot, who directed a forest service ground party in for the find.

New Mexico Wing fliers logged 46 hours in 10 sorties in support of the search and rescue operation.

Found were Fred Kyle and his two sons, Dave and Robert, and a third teenager, Eric Thompson.

The Hereford Composite Squadron meets on Monday nights, 7:30 p. m., at the American Legion Hall, all interested are invited.

Space And Cancer

Surveys have been conducted in many lands to find out what newspaper headline people would most like to see. Almost invariably their choice was: CANCER CURE FOUND.

After the tremendous scientific triumph attained when men walked on the moon many people asked a pointed question: Why can't the same resources be devoted to finding a cancer cure? The American Cancer Society has told the nation that we are in a delicate and critical period in the history of cancer control. The Society has warned that the leveling off of government expenditures for cancer research is placing a heavy demand on the Society for increased research support.

At the same time scientists have frankly indicated the difference between reaching for the moon and seeking the conquest of cancer. All the basic scientific knowledge was available when the moon project was undertaken. It became a matter of applying maximum technology and effort to the goal -- and the goal was reached even before the scheduled time.

With respect to cancer, much of the information scientific is still to be discovered and unraveled. The innermost secrets of life processes are involved. Much has already been found and that's why one of three cancer patients is now being saved. The doctors tell us that with present knowledge it could be one of two saved if the cancer is diagnosed in time and properly treated.

But the difference between the moon project and the scientific war against cancer only points up the importance of getting our priorities straight. The American Cancer Society says that the cancer control effort is in jeopardy in two vital areas -- in the need for speedier and more effective application of research results to the cancer patient, and in the development of cancer research itself.

To help meet these urgent needs the Cancer Crusade this

Senator Tower Reports On Neighborhood School

There are many issues currently of concern to Americans but it seems to me that the issue most discussed now, is the one which directly affects our children. That issue is how best to maintain a high standard of education in our public schools and at the same time make that quality education available to all our children.

It has become apparent to most Americans that a school desegregation plan which forces our children to ride long distances to school, when another school is in their own neighborhood achieving the desired results.

In recent weeks, I have had occasion to travel to California, Colorado and Florida as well as in Texas. Here in Washington, I have had occasion to talk with Americans from all the various areas of our great nation. I have found nearly universal objection to forced busing.

In Texas, we have dealt for many years with the problems of implementing desegregation plans. We have learned something of how to make progress in this area without undue social upheaval within our communities.

Until recently, many Americans seem to have considered school desegregation an issue which concerned only the South. Now we are realizing nationwide the need to provide and maintain quality education for all at a school within the child's own neighborhood.

I have always supported neighborhood schools, and I am encouraged that a majority of Americans are now voicing their support for this concept.

The school is the center of every child's life outside his own home. This is where he first meets others than his own family. The school provides the atmosphere for transition from a protective homelife to the adult world. The way that this transition is made is vital to each child and vital to our society.

Quality classroom education is the central goal of our public school system, but this is not its only responsibility. Our public schools have always served as a sort of community center for those families living within the same neighborhood which have school-age children. School boards annually vote funds to support extracurricular activities such as athletic teams, bands and orchestras, school dances and a wide variety of interest clubs. Board members do this because they realize the vital contribution of extracurricular events for every school child.

It will be far more difficult for a child to benefit from these events while attending a school distant from his home.

Long distance busing will also consume funds which could be spent more wisely in providing quality education. It has been estimated that in metropolitan Los Angeles a mass busing system might cost 40 million dollars or more. The money could only come from increased revenues or reduction in the quality of education.

As I said earlier, I am encouraged that this problem now appears to be the strong concern of most Americans across our nation. In our representative system of government, this kind of concern is often necessary before the government can move toward solution. Within the Congress, the House of Representatives traditionally is quickest to reflect public concern because its members are elected every two years. This has been the case on this issue.

Congress has had before it several opportunities to act in the area of school desegregation. This past week the House and the Senate finally agreed on provisions of the HEW appropriations bill which contains funding for educational assistance. The House had provided language, which I supported in the Senate, which would have established a policy in opposition to forced busing of school children. Fortunately, a majority of my Senate colleagues voted against this language, and the House was forced to accept the Senate version.

Earlier, the Senate had the same basic issue before it in consideration of Amendments to the Elementary and Secondary Education Act. The Senate did agree to language calling for equal application of school desegregation efforts nationwide, but voted down language in opposition to forced busing.

Largest prison in the world is Kharkov Prison, U. S. S. R., which has at times accommodated 40,000 inmates.

"Money In Hogs" Confab Is Scheduled In Amarillo

The third in a series of "Money In Hogs" conferences is scheduled for Tuesday, March 24, in Amarillo, according to J. H. Sears, Hereford, chairman of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Agriculture-Ranching committee.

The two previous conferences were highly successful, according to Sears. Over 400 attended the Lubbock conference and more than 15 were in the Pecos conference.

The WTCC has encouraged the addition of pork production to the West Texas agricultural economic picture for many years, according to Sears and the series of meetings will show the potential for large and small pork producers.

The Amarillo meeting will begin at 1:30 p. m. at the Holiday Inn-Interstate with R. B. Dawson, Amarillo, serving as master of ceremonies.

One of the key factors in pork production, according to leaders in the movement, is financing for the hog raisers. This facet of the production will be discussed by a panel of experts: E. M. Smallwood, head of the school of agriculture at West Texas State University; James Shelton, Bank of the Southwest, Amarillo; Horace Gilmore of the Farmers Home Administration and Ed Henders of the Amarillo Production Credit Association.

J. Fike Godfrey, Spur, president of the WTCC, encourages all bankers, supply representatives, county agents, potential producers and others interested in the increase of hog production in West Texas to attend the conference.

"We are presently producing only 30 percent of the pork being consumed in Texas and we should be producing much, much more," Godfrey stated.

"We are in about the same position today on pork production that we were in cattle feeding just a few years ago. The cattle feeding operations have grown to the point that Texas is now 3rd in the Nation in fed cattle production and we will reach No. 1 place within the next two to three years. There is no reason that pork production cannot achieve the same level in West Texas. We have adequate grain sorghums to feed the hogs and tests have shown that the grain sorghum fed hogs produce meat that is equal in quality to the corn fed hogs," Godfrey said.

Others on the program in Amarillo include Dr. T. D. Tankley, associate professor of animal science at Texas A&M, who will discuss the economic feasibility of pork production in West Texas; Ed Garnett, farm management specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, who will talk about the various sizes of units and methods for raising hogs for profit; Sam Thomas, agriculture department manager for Southwestern Public Service Company of Amarillo, who will give some helpful hints on hog raising to the potential producers; and Frank Sokolosky, general manager of Western Pork Producers, Amarillo, who will provide information on how to get started in choir of 60 voices is augmented with an additional supporting cast of 17 persons who are a part of the drama. Through narration, musical drama, effective lighting and sound effects the mob conditions and pathos of the crucifixion are brought to life.

Soloists are: Mrs. Ed Wittner, Miss Peggy Side, Ric Hunt, Michael Lambkin, Eddie Wittner and Sam Brown. All of these are members of the choir with the exception of Michael Lambkin, director of Wayland Concert Choir; Sam Brown, voice and piano instructor, and music director for the First Presbyterian Church of Tulia; Eddie Wittner, high school senior and member of Chapel Choir of the First Baptist Church, Plainview. Dr. Neil Record will be the narrator; and accompaniment is to be by organist, Earl Miller, and pianist, Jeannine Greene.

The public is cordially invited to attend any of the scheduled presentations.

Church Set To Give Oratorio

The Music Ministry of the First Baptist Church of Plainview will dramatize the pre-Easter oratorio "The Seven Last Words of Christ" by Th. Dubois; presenting three performances, Friday, March 20, Saturday, March 21, and Sunday, March 22. All presentations will begin at 8:00 p.m. and will be staged in the auditorium of the First Baptist Church.

The choir is under the direction of Ed Wittner, Minister of Music for the church. Drama direction is by Mrs. Rex Ram-sower.

The presentation is an effort by the choir to present a sermon in music and drama, as the story of the crucifixion of Jesus Christ and its meaning to the world is vividly portrayed. The
