HODGINS TO FILE CONTEST ON ELECTION

Defeated Candidate Serves Formal Notice of Intention to Go Into Courts on Balloting.

Sends Communication as Required by Law to Commissioner Bralley With Request for Reply.

Formal notice of intention of George Hodgins to contest his election and the certificate of the election issued by the city council, setting forth the allegations under which the election is to be contested, and asking for an answer, was delivered to Police Commissioner Bralley Tuesday afternoon.

The notice set out that the delivery of such notice was required by law, and would later be filed with the district clerk when the election was contested in the 78th district court. It requests an answer from Mr. Bralley.

Commissioner Not Decided

"I don't know whether I will answer it or not," was the answer of Commissioner Bralley to a question in that connection.

"I supnose I will turn it over to a lawyer tomorrow and let him do what he thinks is proper about it."

"I haven't given it much thought, as I only got it this afternoon. One of Bob Goodfellow's detectives came in and gave it to me."

The notice gives the allegations under which the election will be contested under six principal heads:

First, that the election was not conducted as required by law in that the election officials who had charge of the box at the court house ward were not properly sworn in and qualified as required by law.

Second, that no private voting booths were provided as required by law, that the election was held in open rooms, with as many as 50 within the room at one time, conversing and electioneering with each other and helping each other mark their ballots.

Illegal Votes Cast

Third, that many persons not qualified, through payment of poll taxes or residence within the state voted in the election, and that a count of the number of truly qualified voters who cast their ballots in the election would change the result.

Fourth, that the returns of the election were not certified to as required by law by the officials who held the election.

Fifth, that the returns, tally sheets and ballot boxes have not been preserved as required by law, and that the ballot boxes have been opened and tampered with.

Sixth, that irregularities in many other respects prevailed sufficiently to make the election an invalid one, with reports on the balloting at frequent intervals, and with numerous leaks showing the standing of the candidates at various times during the election. In this connection, it is declared that many ballots unmutilated, were torn up by the election judge at the court house, and not preserved as they were supposed to be.

The contestants hold that the law requires the delivery of this notice to the winner of the election ten days before the filing of the instruments in the district court.

WILDCAT TEST NORTH OF GRANITE, OKLAHOMA, SHOWS 500 BARRELS PRODUCTION

Report of the completion of a rank wildcat test six miles northeast of Granite, Okla., at 1,050 feet, and with an initial production estimated by the owners at a rate of 500 barrels per day, was received here Tuesday by R. C. Knight, local drilling contractor, who is heavily interested in the operation.

The well belongs to the Star Oil Syndicate, composed principally of Californians, according to Mr. Knight. He states that the message received by him tells of the completion of the well and the connection with flow tanks.

Some weeks ago an extremely heavy gas pressure was reported from the test by the owners, the gas coming from a depth of 863 feet. The well is on the Williams farm in section 25—Mr. Knight stated that he did not remember the township and range.

The nearest production is seven or eight miles away, Mr. Knight says—shallow production obtained at around a couple of hundred feet.

Granite is on the Rock Island a short distance from Mangum, one of the principal stations on the Northwestern.

Pump Carson Test.

The Gulf company's No. 1 Burkburnett in Carson county is being rigged up to pump from the 3,050 foot sand from which the second showing in the test has been obtained, according to information reaching Wichita Falls.

According to reports current here the test was abiled down, and the hole filled up again to a heighth of 500 feet in a few hours.

The showing of oil in the second sand was much stronger than the first showing, which failed to test out for production. Some water was present, but indications are that it did not come from the sand.

REFUSE BOND TO JACOBS ON HOLD-UP CASE

Special to The Record News.

FORT WORTH, April 12.—Sam Jacobs, charged with robbery with firearms upon P. H. Feeney, cashier at the Texas & Pacific passenger station will have to remain in jail without bond until the court of criminal appeals passes upon his habeas corpus hearing.

The writ was denied Tuesday at noon by Judge E. Hosey.

C. R. Lewis, an oil man who lives at Stop 3 on the Dallas interurban, was the principal witness for the state. He said he was driving west on Front street, passing the James McCord building when he heard two shots fired and that as his automobile came along on to Main street, he saw Jacobs in the middle of the street, pull a pistol, turn and fire and then run to Front street.

P. H. Feeney, from whom the money was taken, told of starting to the bank and said that he felt some one tug at the valise. "I turned around," he said, "and the man stuck a pistol in my stomach. I let loose of the valise and the man ran off with it."

Jacobs Known Here.

That Sam Jacobs, under arrest in Fort Worth in connection with the daylight robbery of the T. & P. railroad's cashier, is the husband of a woman of Wichita Falls was the assertion of the police Tuesday.

They say Jacobs is well known here and that they believe he is married to a woman who was recently injured in an automobile accident on Tenth street, and who was taken to the Wichita General hospital for treatment of wounds.

The identification of the Cadillac car found near the scene of the robbery as belonging to Dr. J. H. Massie of this city tends to fasten more closely the chain of circumstantial evidence against Jacobs, it is said by police here.

The car was driven to Fort Worth by a friend of Dr. Massie and was stolen Sunday night.

NEGRO KILLS ANOTHER IN WIFE'S ROOM

Shot in the breast just below the junction with the neck, with a shot gun, John Henry, 21-year-old negro, was almost instantly killed in the servant's house of N. V. Chenault, 2500 Tenth street, Tuesday morning at 1 o'clock.

Jesse Roligan, 23-year-old negro laborer, husband of the negro woman living in the servant's house, was arrested by Sheriff Fred Smith and lodged in the county jail.

The negro woman said that she and her husband had been seperated for several months, but had no divorce. She said that Roligan and Henry were together at the house during the evening and seemed to be the best of friends, joking and talking.

Later, she said, Roligan slipped the door key and left leaving the house locked by the night latch. He was gone for an hour or two, she said and returned and knocked at the door. Then Henry asked who was at the door and was answered that it was Roligan. Henry then opened the door and the shot was fired at about a distance of two feet. Henry reeled across the little room, staggered into a window, breaking out a window pane, and fell face downward on the floor where he died, almost immediately.

LOMA CONN NOT GUILTY OF MURDER

Jury Returns Verdict After One Hour and a Half, Clearing Girl of Penrod's Death.

Bedlam Breaks Loose in Court Room When Clerk Reads Decision Announcing Fate.

"Oh, I will be glad when I never hear that again" said Loma Conn as she sat in her room at a local hotel Tuesday evening as a newsboy rushed by yelling "Loma Conn acquitted," and "Iowa Park girl not guilty."

Although showing the effects of the strain of the two days of uncertainty of her trial, the acquitted girl was plainly relieved and smiled as she talked of certain features of her trial and her plans for the future.

The statement was made a few hours after a jury in the 89th District court at 3 P. M. filed into the court room and announced through Clerk A. F. Kerr that Loma Conn was "not guilty" of killing William Penrod, moving picture operator of Iowa Park, and her one-time sweetheart whose life she took on the night of January 17, the jury holding her act to be in self defense. The jury was out one hour.

Bedlam Breaks Loose

As the verdict was read, bedlam broke loose in the crowded court room the hand clapping, whistling and stamping of feet by the crowd resulting in one of the greatest demonstrations that has ever been accorded a verdict in the history of local courts, according to veteran court house officials.

Order was restored only after Judge P. A. Martin threatened to hold for contempt of court those who took part in the demonstration.

The demonstration was made principally by women wso composed two-thirds of the crowd.

Afterward as the verdict was read the acquitted girl embraced her sister seated beside her and then accompanied by her aged father shook hands

NATION LEAGUE 'SCRAPPED' BY PRES. HARDING

In First Message to Congress, Chief Executive Urges Declaration of Peace.

Acceptance of Versailles Pact Would Mean Betrayal of November Election Mandate.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Final rejection of the Versailles League of Nations by the American government was proclaimed to the world today by President Harding in a solemn pronouncement of the foreign policies of his administration.

Speaking before the new congress, assembled to write a program of political and economic reconstruction, the president declared acceptance of the league would be nothing short of betrayal of the mandate of the November elections. Instead he asked for a congressional declaration of peace and for ratification of those portions of the Versailles treaty which protect specifically American rights and interests in the war settlement.

U. S. Has No Part"

"In the existing league of nations, world governing with its super-powers this republic will have no part," he said. "It is only fair to say to the world in general and to our associates in war in particular the league covenant can have no sanction by us."

The declaration was answered by a tremendous demonstration in which republican senators and representatives, led, while most of their democratic colleagues sat silent and unsmiling. After weighing the words of the chief executive, the senatorial group of the treaty irreconcilables tonight were claiming a complete victory, predicting that even the portions of the treaty endorsed by Mr. Harding never would receive senate aproval.

In his recommendations for domestic legislation, the president gave greatest attention to tariff and tax revision and to the railway situation, though he endorsed a list of lesser measures which congressional leaders declared might prolong the special session until snow flies. He also took occasion in his address of nearly an hour to declare his faith in a maintained merchant marine and in the principle of armament reduction without asking for legislation on either subject.

Asks Emergency Tariff

An emergency tariff to correct serious disorders in American industry was placed at the head of the president's requests, and within an hour after he finished speaking, the house ways and means committee agree to report tomorrow the emergency measure passed at the last session and vetoed by President Wilson made no specific suggestions except that to follow the principle of protection.

Urges Lower Railroad Rates

Declaring that rates and operating expenses of the railroads must be lowered, Mr. Harding asked that congress investigate the whole transportation problem. He recommended coordination of all government agencies dealing with former service men, strengthening of the federal laws affecting highway construction and maintenance, enactment of budget legislation, and a congressional inquiry into lynching and race relations in general.

Mr. Harding's definite stand against the league covenant was not a surprise to Republican leaders of the senate, although the exact wording of the declaration was an unsettled question until shortly before the executive left for the capitol to deliver his address. The first draft of the manuscript was completed soon after midnight and when the proof sheets came from the public printer this morning, the president cancelled the regular Tuesday cabinet meeting and summoned Republican members of the foregin relations committee to the White House.

By some senators the words of the president were taken to mean that his mind still was open on the question of reserved felicitation and that he merely suggested that this course is preferable to a separate peace.

"Must Find Agreement."

The point stressed by him in that connection and emphasized recently in other administration quarters was that the United States find some way to reach a diplomatic agreement with both Germany and the allies which would fully protect such advantages as this government gained under the unratified pact of Versailles.

Full Text of President Harding's Message to Congress Will Be Found on Page Seven.

HARDING DECLARATION ON LEAGUE PLEASING TO GROUPS OF G. O. P:

WASHINGTON, April 12.—General approval of President Harding's declaration in his first message to congress today that the United States could have no part in the present League of Nations and that the state of war should be ended by congressional resolution was expressed by Republican senate leaders, both of the "irreconcilable" and "reservationists" groups.

MINERS REJECT LLOYD GEORGE'S WAGE PROPOSAL

Conference of Operators and Workers in London Comes to Naught and Strike Feared.

LONDON, April 12.—The conference of the mine owners, the workers and government officials today failed to reach a settlement in the miners strike, the miners refusing to accept the prime ministers' proposal for a national settlement of wages without a national pool of profits, which Mr. Lloyd George declared impracticable.

The transport workers and railwaymen, however, suspended their strike notices, which would have expired at midnight tonight. In doing so, however, the executive of the transport workers asserted:

Situation Critical.

"The situation is still critical."

The only government proposal which the miners would consider was one in which the government offered after the wages question had been settled, to give temporary assistance to mitigate the rapid reduction of wages; the others they brushed aside, at times with heated arguments.

The premier met the owners and miners in separate conferences, then jointly, but none of his arguments or the mine owners could move the miners; they stuck firmly to their demand for a national pool of profits and a national settlement of wages.

Declaring through their spokesman Frank Hodges that "the workmen for the first time are going to have a share of the total prosperity in trade."

COLOMBIAN TREATY ROW IS REOPENED

Senator Lodge Leads Force Working for Ratification as Suggested by President Harding.

Massachusetts Solon Declares Acceptance of Pact Will Not Be Consistent With Policy.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The fight over the Colombian treaty was reopened in the senate today with Senator Lodge of Massachusetts leading the forces for ratification.

The contest, which administration leaders hope will result in a favorable vote on the long pending pact on April 20, began with the reading in open executive session of a message from President Harding who declared "the early and favorable consideration of this treaty would be very helpful at the present time in promoting our friendly relationships."

Senator Lodge opened the discussion, declaring that ratification of the treaty not only would improve relations between the United States and Latin-America, but that the world situation as regards oil, of which Colombia has a rich store, seemed "very strongly to justify, in fact to demand the ratification."

Acceptance Not Inconsistent.

Acceptance of the pact in its present form, the Massachusetts senator contended, would not be inconsistent with the stand taken in 1917 by Republican minority members of the foreign relations committee in refusing to agree to a favorable report. Since then, he declared, changes have been made, including elimination of the expression of the American government regret to Colombia for the part played by the United States in the event attendant on the separation of Panama from Colombia. These changes, he asserted, removed in the main the objections raised against the treaty in 1917.

The Massachusetts senator further declared that ratification of the treaty in its present form would cast no reflection on the action of President Roosevelt in extending recogni-

CIVIC HEALTH CENTER MAY BE ESTABLISHED

The establishment of a civic health center, together with the provision for free surgical, medical and dental clinics, will be included in the plans for the extension of the Wichita General hospital, it was agreed at a joint meeting of the city council and county commissioners' court held at the courthouse Tuesday morning.

The meeting was the first to be held for the purpose of getting under way improvements recently authorized at the Wichita General hospital, a joint city and county institution, in the voting of $150,000 in bonds, $75,000 by each.

The suggestion for the establishment of the clinics was proposed by Mayor Cline, and readily assented to by the other members of both bodies.

Clinics to Fill Need.

The establishment of such clinics is expected to further the original purpose of the institution which is primarily to afford treatment to the poor people—although reports given at the meeting show that the pay patients had provided sufficient income to make the institution self-sustaining.

In addition to the provision for free treatment at the clinics, which will not only provide for the poor the best professional talent, and will organize the charity work so that the various members of these professions will share equally in this work, it is expected that the provisions made at the hospital will result in much valuable research work.

W. N. Bonner, public utilities commissioner; J. A. Richolt, local business man, and Louis N. Jernigan, superintendent of the county poor farm and of the courthouse, were named as a building committee to represent both the city and the county. The five physicians and surgeons from various parts of the county recently nominated by the commissioners court were agreed upon as an advisory committee.

In expanding the facilities of the hospital, it is planned by both the city and county authorities that it be made one of the best equipped and most up-to-date institutions of its kind in the southwest.

Definite Plans Soon.

It is expected that definite plans for the contemplated addition will be ready for presentation to the committee when they meet on Monday.

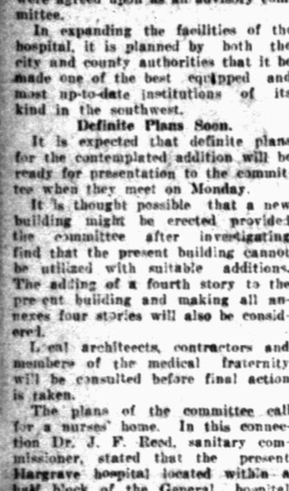

It is thought possible that a new building might be erected provided the committee after investigating find that the present building cannot be utilized with suitable additions. The adding of a fourth story to the present building and making all annexes four stories will also be considered.

Local architects, contractors and members of the medical fraternity will be consulted before final action is taken.

The plans of the committee call for a nurses' home. In this connection Dr. J. F. Reed, sanitary commissioner, stated that the present Hargrave hospital located within a half block of the General hospital could be secured as a nurses home. The purchase of other homes in that part of the city will also be considered and it is possible that it will be deemed advisable to erect a new home.

In the erection of the hospital addition it is understood that a supervisor for the work will be employed by the county and city, who will work on full time during the process of construction.

VESUVIUS 'ACTING UP' AGAIN; AIRPLANE VIEW OF 'GRUMBLING'

A view of Vesuvius, threatening eruption; map showing location near the Bay of Naples of the volcano, and the giant dirigible Roma built in Italy for the U. S. government, from which the aerial view of the crater was taken.

Recent dispatches state that Vesuvius is threatening again—is belching forth smoke and steam. These photos just received from Italy are, therefore doubly interesting. The Roma, giant army dirigible, just completed in Italy for the U. S. army, will soon be shipped to the U. S. Before work of dismantling it, after trial flights, was begun the shift was flown over the mouth of Vesuvius and a closeup of the crater, emitting steam and smoke, was taken.

DALLAS MAYOR TELLS CLUB OF KINDLY SPIRIT

The drawing of 507 as the lucky number which wins the Tom Bergin Ford, talks by Mayor Frank Wozencraft of Dallas and Mayor Cline, and an excellent musical program featured the weekly luncheon of the University club Tuesday noon at the Kemp hotel.

Whoever possesses ticket No. 507 on it, can call and drive home the brand new model of Henry Ford's originality. If no one appears to claim the "fliv" within 30 days, the rules of the affair say that the car shall be auctioned off for the Starving European Children Relief Fund. The number was drawn by Judge Guy Rogers, president of the "U" club from a sealed box containing the thousand tickets issued.

Mayor Wozencraft's talk brought out the friendly feeling that exists between Dallas and Wichita Falls, congratulating this city on its record of civic achievement and its plan for the future, as well as calling the attention of those present to the needs for staunch support to the Texas National Guard and for a more co-operation between the different sections of the state.

Mayor Wozencraft congratulated Wichita Falls on securing the services of George Kessler, city planner, to have charge of zoning the city and working out the city plan. Some of the advantages of the zoning plan were said by the mayor to be the stabilization of property values by the designation of certain zones for different enterprises.

Mayor Cline talked, briefly, thanking the Dallas municipal head for his compliments of this city and extending the best wishes of the local city government to the neighbors.

Two vocal solos by Mrs. Paul Larkin, accompanied by Paul Larkin and music by Templeton's orchestra furnished excellent music for the program.

A committee was appointed by the president to work with the various committees of other organizations in any way to secure a record attendance and help win the cup for the opening game of the Texas league season next Friday.

ATTORNEYS ASK ROAD BE CONTINUED

The best interests of the state demand that the Southwestern railroad, running from Henrietta to Archer City, not be junked, it was declared Tuesday by the attorneys for the state in the trial of the case of Henry J. Scott against the Southwestern Railway Co., in which the state of Texas is intervener. The case is now on trial before Judge Wilson in the federal district court.

The state asks an injunction restraining the parties to the suit from junking the road.

Suit was recently filed by the receiver of the company, asking permission to sell the material and equipment of the road. The receiver set forth that the road has never paid operating expenses.

In the petition of the state, desire to force the owners of the road to operate it at this time, is indicated.

The road was built a number of years ago by foreign capitalists to aid in a land selling scheme in Archer county, the owners of the road, Scotch capitalists having a colonization scheme to develop large land holdings in Archer county.

The road was operated until three or four years ago.

Trial of Negro For Murder to Be Begun Today

The trial of Will Shelton, negro, charged with the murder of Tom Abecher, night watchman of the Bob Waggoner building last fall, will open this morning before Judge P. A. Martin of the 30th district court.

It is expected that the trial of the case will be completed during the day. Shelton was arrested after the brutal murder of the night watchman and at the time is said to have made a confession that he was present when the murder occurred, but did not take part in it.

The case of Judge J. P. Jones, which was scheduled to go to trial this morning was postponed until Friday morning.

Missing Co-Ed Found Asleep On Door Step

By Associated Press.

WAUKEGAN, Ill., April 12.—Asleep on the porch of John Mackin, a Chicago lumber dealer, Caryl Pattison, missing University of Illinois co-ed, was found here this morning, apparently in good health. She refused to discuss her wanderings but told the local police there was a love affair.

Miss Pattison said she came to Waukegan direct from the Evanston hospital where she was received yesterday after she had been found unconscious on the roadside in Wilmette. She reached Waukegan about 6 p. m.

About midnight, she said, she rang the bell at the Mackin home. The maid there was afraid to answer because of the hour. Miss Pattison refused to tell where she had been or what she had done in the six hours intervening.

Mr. Mackin found his strange guest when he opened the front door shortly after daylight. She was sound asleep and wrapped in a heavy fur-trimmed plush coat, and apparently had suffered no ill effects from the night in the open.

Questioned by Mr. Mackin, the girl admitted her identity. The police then took her in charge. Mr. Mackin said none of his family knew Miss Pattison.

Miss Pattison's first request of the police was for the services of a hair dresser. She was escorted to a beauty parlor while the authorities got in touch with her home at Peoria.

KNOWN AT HOSPITAL AS MRS. CHARLOTTE SMITH

CHICAGO, April 12.—Miss Caryl Pattison, was picked up unconscious along the roadside in Wilmette, a north shore suburb, early yesterday morning by a passing automobile. She disappeared after she had been revived at a hospital. She said she was the daughter of Harry Pattison, a wealthy real estate dealer of Peoria, Illinois, and reports from her parents indicated that she had left the University for a trip to Chicago.

At the hospital she gave the address of Mrs. Charlotte Smith of Evanston as one with whom she was acquainted. Mrs. Smith said she never arrived there.

Messages from the girl's parents said they had tried to persuade the girl to forget a romance with Mrs. Smith's son, a junior at the university. Mr. Pattison was expected to go to Champaign today to question young Smith about Miss Pattison's disappearance.

SMITH SAYS HE HAS NOT SEEN MISS SMITH

By Associated Press.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., April 12.—Stuyvesant Smith said today he had not seen Miss Caryl Pattison since Easter. He has been attending classes regularly at the University.

PALESTINE, Texas, April 12.—J. C. Bunch, assistant superintendent of the International and Great Northern Railroad, died here today. He was well known in railroad circles throughout the state.

Town Topics

Judge Ed Napier of the 78th District court left Tuesday for Austin on business. He will be gone for several days. The hearing of non jury cases in the 78th District court was completed Tuesday.

Everett Hughes, county abstractor will leave within a few days for Austin where he will check up on oil runs from leases in this county. It is expected that the work will require several days. Mr. Hughes has been engaged for several months in the abstracting of oil leases in connection with the assessing of properties for the coming year.

F. W. Grace, superintendent of the Katy, who has been supervising the work on the renewal of service on the Northwestern railroad returned here this morning. The entire line is now open from Wichita Falls to Fargan, Oklahoma, and normal service is being given.

DALLAS COUNTY SCHOOLS CLOSE

Special to The Record News.

DALLAS, April 12.—On account of a fund shortage, due to the non-payment of taxes, 17 of the common district schools of Dallas county have been closed and others may be closed in the near future, according to a report made today by County Superintendent McDonald.

Out of an apportionment of $74.50 per pupil allowed, only $9 has been received, he said.

Kiddies Matinee Will Be Given at Strand Saturday

A motion picture dramatization of Cinderella, with "Fatty" Arbuckle comedy Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock, will begin the series of children's matinees, to be given at the Strand theater under the auspices of the Mothers' Club at the Alamo school, it was announced Tuesday by Mrs. L. R. Buchanan, of the committee on arrangements.

The Strand theater management are furnishing their building, operating apparatus and any needed assistance free of charge, according to Mrs. L. R. Buchanan of the Alamo Mothers' club, and practically the entire receipts will be used for beautifying the school grounds.

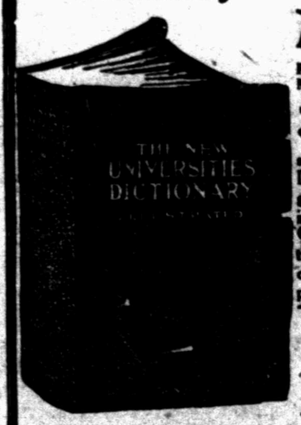

BOARD HORSES IN RESTAURANT, DOCTOR FINDS

Stock in the living room might do in the "auld" country, but its taboo in Wichita Falls, according to Dr. Love of the City Health Department who Monday found the restaurant of Pete Alamiousis, 200 Mill street, occupied jointly by the proprietor, a negro boarder and two head of horses.

The proprietor was promptly arrested and fined fifteen dollars in the corporation court.

He claimed that he had lived in Wichita Falls for fifteen years and did not know that it was against the city sanitary regulations to conduct a stable and restaurant under the same roof.

TESTED RECIPES.

Baked Filled Fish. — Thoroughly clean fish, cut out the backbone from the head to within two inches of the tail; stuff with any good dressing, same as used for fowls, and sew up the cavity. (Can be baked without stuffing if desired.)

Rub the fish over slightly with butter, dredge with flour and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Just cover the bottom of baking pan with hot water and place the fish in it. Bake in hot oven. Serve promptly when done.

The following sauce is nice to serve with this:

The yolks of two hard-boiled eggs, and two tablespoons of olive oil. Mix to a paste. Stir in one-half teaspoon English mustard; add salt, pepper and vinegar to taste. Or serve with slices of lemon.

Flour Dumpling.—Take one pint of flour, one-half teaspoon salt; mix in enough boiling water to take up all the flour—just to make a stiff mass.

Have some boiling water with a little salt in; dip a clean spoon in the hot water, then form oblong dumplings with your wet spoon and minute and they are ready to serve. Very good with rich gravy, pie-plant or apple sauce.

Mincemeat—This time of the year, when apples are beginning to spoil, is a good time to make mincemeat and can it for future use.

Four pounds beef (after it is boiled), eight pounds apples (chopped), two pounds suet (chopped), four pounds raisins, two quarts boiled cider, four pounds sugar, one quart molasses, two tablespoons cinnamon, two tablespoons cloves, two teaspoons allspice, one teaspoon mace, three whole nutmegs, two tablespoons salt. Cook thoroughly and can.

SUGGESTIONS.

Talcum Powder for Baby.—This does the work just as well as the most expensive talcum: Two tablespoons flour browned slowly in a pie tin, let cool, add one teaspoon of boric acid and mix well. This makes a very velvety powder.

When Preparing Leaf Lard for Rendering—Try putting it through a food chopper instead of leaving it in larger pieces; it renders more quickly and also saves a lot of waste.

If Water Has Been Spilled on a Book—Lay a blotter on each side of the first wet leaf and press with a medium hot iron until dry. Repeat with successive leaves until all are dry. If this is done carefully the leaves will not warp or wrinkle.

Polish for Floors—Four ounces of beeswax, one quart turpentine, piece or rosin the size of a hickory nut. Cut up the wax and pound rosin. Melt them together, take from fire and stir in the quart of turpentine. Rub very little on the floor with a piece of flannel, then polish with a dry flannel and a brush.

Shoelaces can be worn longer if when the tips come off the ends are dipped in glue.

PRETTY VEIL ARRANGEMENT FOR THE BLUSHING BRIDES OF MAY AND JUNE

The season of big church weddings is at hand and that means that white satin gowns, rare laces and orange blossoms are interesting many a young prospective bride. The veil is always an all-important affair for the "big wedding." There are many charming and alluring arrangements for either tulle or lace veils. Pretty little cap effects, gracefully draped turban effects and many other modes are the vogue. Here, however, is a very youthful and attractive arrangement. The tulle is gathered at the back of the head in a deep ruffle which stands up like a pretty cap. A wreath of orange blossoms worn over the forehead and allowed to hang down one side holds the veil in place.

With the Women of Today

Mrs. Susan A. Radley of Chicago is working hard to have the home of Susan B. Anthony, the pioneer suffrage worker, made into a permanent memorial. She has been spending much of her time in Washington to interest the various women's organizations in making the Adamsy home in Adams, Massachusetts, a place of historic interest to the women of the country.

Mrs. Radley has long been a suffrage worker herself and is chairman of the national committee of Quaker descendents.

TITLED LADY A MODISTE.

The Hon. Mrs. John Russell, daughter in law of Lord Amphil, has entered the business world in the train of many other titled English women. She is opening a dress making shop in London.

CHINESE FLAPPERS MUST BEHAVE

The Chinese minister of education, fearing that young girls would be influenced by the spread of modern ideas, issued a set of rules for their conduct. Henceforward the Chinese flapper is not to bob her hair, marry without her parents' consent, be absent from schools without good reason, nor attend a co-educational school after the age of fourteen.

STENOGRAPHERS AT WHITE HOUSE.

President Harding has changed the custom of having men stenographers in the White House. One is Miss Cirnelle Mattern of Frankfort, Ky., and the other is Miss Eva Uhl of Parkersburg, W. Va.

SPICE IN POLITICS.

Lady Bonham Carter, older daughter of Ex-Premier Asquith, is a political figure in England. She has campaigned for members of her party, especially her father. Many people in England want to see Lady Carter in parliament, where she would oppose Lady Astor, who is on the other side of the political fence.

WOMEN'S GREATEST CLUB HOUSE.

The Women's National club, incorporated in the state of New York, has finished plans for a $5,000,000 club house in the heart of New York city. The exact location has not yet been chosen. The building will be completed by October, 1922. Financial plans have been arranged to make it the biggest woman's club house in the world. It will be fitted with everything for the convenience of women's clubs and for individual women, including sleeping quarters for out of town women, a first class restaurant service, an auditorium seating two thousand, stage, gymnasium, pool, Turkish baths, beauty parlors and space enough to accommodate sixty clubs at one time. A general publicity bureau will handle publicity for all clubs.

MR. HUGHES UPHOLDS THE TREATY.

If the United States were a signatory to the Treaty of Versailles, Secretary Hughes's admirable note to the German Government in respect to the payment of reparations would be a highly important definition of American policy. Inasmuch as the United States is not a party to the treaty, the Hughes note can be nothing more than the expression of a pious hope that the Germans will be sensible and make some sort of settlement with the Allies. That is not Mr. Hughes's fault. It is the fault of a false situation created by his party in the Senate.

Mr. Hughes does not say and he could not be expected to say, because the United States has forfeited the right to express an official opinion. His task would be comparatively simple if the treaty had been ratified; for the United States, seeking nothing for itself, would be in a position to determine the issue according to merits. In the circumstances Mr. Hughes is trying to preside over a meeting at which the United States Senate will not allow him to be present.

What shines forth clearly in the Hughes note, however, is the futility of the pretense that the United States can stand aside and refuse to concern itself with the execution of the Treaty of Versailles. Even in the matter of reparations, in which the United States has no demands of its own to enforce, the Harding Administration is compelled to recognize the fact that, no matter what the Senate may say or do, this country is vitally concerned in a just and equitable settlement, and that it cannot abandon the Treaty of Versailles.

It may do so technically and Congress may adopt the Knox resolution for a separate peace, but all the issues of the war are still bound up in that treaty, all that is recognizable in the law of nations is still involved in the treaty, and there is no escape from it.—New York World (Dem.)

RETURNING GERMAN PROPERTY.

Early return to rightful owners of German property seized by the United States as a war measure is to be attempted by Col. Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian. The custodian considers that many of the concerns, which employ large numbers of American workers, ought to be released as a stimulus to business. He also believes that the American spirit of fairness to individuals, Germans as well, should prevail. Much seized enemy property has been returned since the signing of the armistice, but vast amounts are yet represented by businesses under the government's control. It is believed the values now extend into hundreds of millions of dollars.

The return of alien property will depend, it is explained, on the manner of treatment by Berlin of American claims against the German government. Americans who lost relatives in the sinking of the Lusitania and others whose property was destroyed or damaged in Germany during the war are first to be satisfied by payment of the claims which the United States government has recognized. If the assumption that the German government will settle the claims is in error, the plan will be to liquidate as much of the assets of Germans in the United States as possible and to use the proceeds to pay the Americans.—Sioux City Journal (Rep.)

TISSUE IMMORTALITY.

The announcement by Dr. Alexis Carrel, head of the Rockefeller Institute laboratories, that he has kept the heart of an embryo chicken alive for eight years by artificial nourishment, and that in this time the heart has added appreciably to its tissue, goes far toward proving the theory that under highly specialized conditions the life of tissue may be indefinitely prolonged. Dr. Carrel has long held this theory.

During the early experiments, portions of animals' hearts were kept alive for months and some of them increased in size as much as sixty times. In his experiments with the persistence of the life of tissue, Dr. Carrell once successfully grafted the leg of a dead fox terrier upon a living dog.

The success of the Carrel experiments opens an infinite realm of speculation, but the important point is that the Rockefeller Institute in its efforts to get at the cause of disease, has arrived at a significant conclusion about the relation of nourishment to life. How this is destined to affect the lives of men can not be foreseen, for man does not live in a laboratory under the watchful care of trained scientists, but it appears that science is making progress toward the solution of the mystery of life's relation to its environment.—Indianapolis News (Ind.)

UNCLE SAM AND THE "HOMES OF THE FREE."

The senate committee on reconstruction can evidently depend on the friendly support of a large part of the press in its effort to meet housing needs. The findings of the committee are accepted as throwing additional light on a problem that is acute in practically every community, and its recommendations are welcomed by most writers at least "as a useful starting point."

Some papers, of course, see in the report but one more "congressional investigation." They agree with the St. Louis Post-Dispatch (Ind.) that "the showing up of evils is a futile pastime if it be not followed by recommendations of practical remedy," and in this specific case there is "a lack of any satisfactory solution of the drastic housing shortage." But while objections are made to some of its proposals, the general feeling is that the committee, in the words of the St. Louis Globe Democrat (Rep.) "has done a great service in laying the facts before the public," irrespective of whether the measures proposed prove effective.

The conclusion at which the Baltimore American (Rep.) arrives, after reading the report, is "that the journey back to the normal in house construction will be a long and hard one," and even the proposals of the committee "are suggestions which pursue the slow and painful course of normalcy." Recognising also this absence of immediate panaceas, the Boston Transcript (Ind. Rep.) draws the moral that "it is apparent that no time should be lost in finding ways of raising the needed capital and getting to work."

The necessity for co-operation of all forces in solving what the Cleveland Plain Dealer (Ind. Dem.) says "is recognized as a national problem" is emphasized by the Atlanta Journal (Dem.), because:

"No city can truly thrive and fulfill its rightful purpose, no city can measure up to standards of sanitation and material prosperity, much less of democracy and social justice, while part of its people are crowded into living quarters which are unhygienic, or are driven from pillar to post because there are not enough houses to go arounud. Moreover, there are few factors that will make more steadily for good citizenship among the rank and file than home ownership."

So far as concerns the suggestions of the committee, the Newark News (Ind.) virtually expresses the press estimate of the proposed remedies when it says they are "like the disposition of the little girl in childhood's remembered rhyme, when they are good they are very, very good, and when they are bad they are horrid!" To this it must be added, however, that editorial opinion is not entirely in accord as to which of the suggestions are very good and which very bad. For instance, the News "cannot endorse" the proposal in the committee program "to amend" the federal reserve act so that savings and time deposits may be used for long-time loans" because it is "bad"; while to the Omaha News (Ind.) this feature of the plan "seems sensible and practical." So, also, with the proposal to give certain tax exemptions to money invested in building, which the New York Evening Post (Ind.) condemns because "to add to the already long list of tax-exempt securities would be mischievous" if not "dangerous," and further, this measure offers "less stimulus to housing than is often supposed." On the other hand the Canton News (Dem.) aproves this scheme as a means of "diverting to real estate investment much money that has been attracted by tax-free industrial securities."

One plan, however, is generally commended—that of establishing within the department of commerce "a division for gathering information on housing, covering economy, construction methods, cost data, city planning, etc." This the New York Globe (Ind.) regards as "the most important," and "if adopted, will make housing a national concern." The New York Mail (Ind.) also feels that "nothing but what is good should be said of the proposal," since "the establishment of such a division would make available for this country all the experience that has been gained in Europe, for instance, during the last few years."

RICHES.

The gentleman who sits
At the next desk to ours
Was very much surprised
Yesterday to receive word
That an uncle had died and left
Him a fortune of $250,000.
There was quite a lot of excitement
Around the sanctum and everybody
Was congratulating him and
Asking him what he would do
With all that money.
Being pressed for a reply,
As to whether he would get out
Of the newspaper business,
He replied: "I'll tell you
What I am going to do.
I am going to buy a new typewriter.
I have been tired of this old mill
For a long time, believe me."
And I have always wanted
A new one.

We note with considerable interest that Professor Einstein, the noted scientists who invented the theory of relativity, has arrived in the United States for a visit. We have the greatest respect for the professor and for his theory, but we shall always remember, with regret, that he is the man who has shown up our personal mentality to the limit. Were it not for the professor we might have gone through life and fooled a lot of people as to our perception of weighty subjects, but when asked our opinion of Einstein's theory we are as dumb as a Little Neck clam, and immediately try to change the subject to some other weighty thing like prize fighting or baseball. The professor says that light, in difusion, is bent. Well, perhaps it is. We are in no position to disprove it. But what if it is? He also says that falling bodies or objects are independent of physical causes—that a wooden ball and an iron ball fall with the same acceleration. That may be true, also, but if we were walking by a pawn shop and one of the balls should fall and hit us on the head we would prefer a wooden ball to an iron one. This may be a boob way of looking at the subject, but we have to look at things that way or we couldn't make a nickel in our business.

IGNORANT ESSAYS

By J. P. McEVOY

AN INCONSIDERATE WIFE.

It may not be considered just the thing to say so, but my wife annoys me exceedingly these days. I am sure she has the best intentions in the world, she always has, and especially so during house-cleaning time, but she upsets me dreadfully. I don't know when I have been so nervous and edge-y.

Just a few minutes ago I was taking a nap and had just dozed off to sleep when the most infernal bumping and thumping from down in the cellar woke me with a start. Of course it was my wife. It always is. She had taken off the storm doors and was carrying them down into the basement and the noise I heard was her falling down the steps with the doors. She might at least have waited until I had finished my nap before falling down the stairs and waking me.

Yesterday it was something else. She pushed all the furniture out into the yard, including the piano, on which I had planned to while away a few hours. Imagine having a piano taken right out from under you, so to speak. It is trying, to say the least. But yet she has only the best of intentions, I'm sure.

She has other little habits that upset me dreadfully. Often I am awakened in the middle of the night from a sound sleep by the most terrific clanging and rattling down in the cellar, where she has gone to rebuild the fire that has gone out, or else she is madly shaking the grates and shoveling coal with the most disturbing noises imaginable. Some times I can't go back to sleep for ten or fifteen minutes.

She is always doing little things like that to disturb me and always with the best of intentions—that's why I can't find it in my heart to scold her.

Just the other day, for example, she decided the roof needed patching. It had been leaking for several months, so she told me, although I hadn't noticed it, and so she got a ladder and climbed up there with some shingles and a hammer and nails.

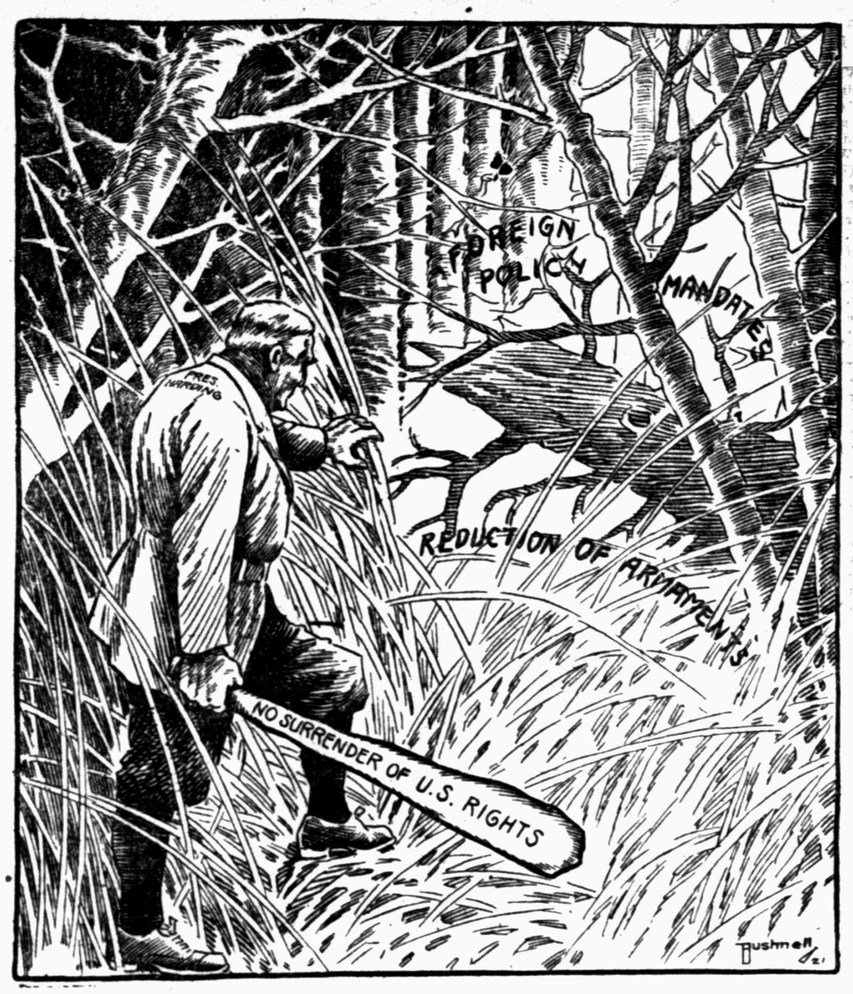

I had dismissed the matter from my mind and was absorbed in a pleasant little volume of light verse when suddenly the maddest pounding began directly above me, and almost immediately after I heard something clawing and clattering down the roof; and then a short succession of wild thumps followed by a dull thud. It seems she had fallen off the house—and just when I was in the middle of the loveliest sonnet. I couldn't scold her although I was dreadfully provoked at having been disturbed, as you can imagine.

Well, there isn't anything to be done about it. She's a kind wife and she means well, but I often wish she was a trifle more considerate of me.

She makes me so nervous!

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Editor Record News:

I note in your issue of April 5, a communication from a Dallas correspondent, Brigman C. Odom, in which he attempts to justify the teachings of Christian Science. Like the founder of that faith, Mr. Odom directly denies the plain teachings of the Bible, which book he claims his faith is founded upon.

Mr. Odom boldly denies the oft-repeated truth of the Bible that "Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures." He says: "If the Christ had really died, he could not have promised immunity from death to others." And then he quotes John 11:26 to prove his assertion. But that scripture, together with the context, proves exactly the opposite of what Mr. Odom claims that it does. The chapter from which he quotes narrates the story of the death of Lazarus—the story of a man who actually died—and of whom Jesus expressly said, "Lazarus is dead." Verse 24. When Jesus appeared upon the scene, Lazarus had already been dead for four days, and his body had begun to decay. Verse 9. But at the command of Christ, "he that was dead came forth" from the grave. Verse 44. These facts and yet others that might be drawn from this chapter, clearly and absolutely disprove the conclusion drawn from verse 26 by Mr. Odom. What they do prove, is the Bible truth that man does die.

As to what the Bible teaches concerning the death of Christ, there is no truth of the scriptures more clearly taught than the fact that Christ was to suffer, die, be buried, and rise again from the grave on the third day. Christ himself instructed His disciples concerning this fact, and this instruction is recorded at least ten times in the first three gospels of the New Testament. This Bible, which Christian Scientists profess so loudly to believe, says: "Christ both died and rose"; "in due time Christ died for the ungodly"; "it is Christ that died, yea, rather that is risen again"; "Christ died for our sins, according to the scriptures."

But these positive statements from the Bible, which so clearly affirm the death of Christ, and scores of others that might be cited, are brushed aside by Christian Science like so much chaff. Mr. Odom tells us, "Christian Science is based on the Bible"; but he promptly repudiates every utterances of the Bible that conflicts with, or contradicts, the vagaries of Christian Science. A single one of Mrs. Eddy's mysticisms seems to have more weight with him than all the numerous passages of scripture that one might quote. Christian Science is not based upon the Bible, but upon Mrs. Eddy's interpretations and perversions of that book.

Mr. Odom says concerning his belief about matter, "The Christian Science teaching in regard to matter is nothing novel or shocking when looked at intelligently." Let us examine this teaching and see what it is. After quoting Genesis 2:7, in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," which records the creation of man out of the dust of the earth, or matter, Mrs. Eddy asks: "Is this addition to His creation real or unreal? Is it the Truth? or is it a lie? concerning man and God? It must be the latter." Here the inspired record of God's creation of man is deliberately called a lie by Mrs. Eddy. When one who claims to be sent of God, and who is supposed to speak the very words of God, is found contradicting the Word of God and deliberately giving God the lie, this certainly is nothing less than shocking. The Bible says, "Add thou not unto His words, lest he reprove thee, and thou be found a liar." God's representatives will regard the word of God with reverence, and not recklessly repudiate it.

The great, fundamental fact recognized in the Scriptures, and the one that makes the plan of salvation necessary, is the existence of sin. The Bible says of it: "By the law is the knowledge of sin;" "death passed upon all men for that all have sinned;" "the wages of sin is death;" but through Christ "is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins." But these Bible utterances, and scores more of a like character, are denied and repudiated by the believers in Christian Science.

Christian Science disposes of sin by denying its existence. It makes void the doctrines of repentence and conversion. It removes all responsibility for sin from the individual, and makes him answerable to no tribunal and to no judgment. It relieves man of all moral responsibility, and makes him amenable to no power higher than himself. It seeks to destroy in the mind of man any conviction of sin or wrong-doing by denying the existence and possibility of sin. It thus breaks down the barriers of restraint, and gives free license to all that is immoral. If such evils as adultery, murder or theft do not exist, but are merely the figment of a disordered imagination, then these "delusians" may be entertained and practiced without fear of future punitive consequences to the individual. Instead of providing a Saviour to take away our sins, which the Bibles does, Christian Science denies the great fact of sin, and offers us a so-called gospel without a Saviour. Such a gospel is not the gospel of Christ. Nor is Christian Science a re-statement of the primitive gospel. It denies the fundamental doctrines of the gospel as taught in the Scriptures, and is at best a perversion of the gospel of Christ. While Mr. Odom belittles the judgment in his contribution, Mrs. Eddy denies it absolutely. Mr. Odom denies that Christian Science rejects the atonement. But in rejecting the death of Christ, upon which the atonement is based, it rejects the atonement; for in God's plan of the atonement the death of Christ is fundamental.

with and thanked the members of the jury.

Pistol Is Returned

Within a few minutes after the verdict was announced she called at the sheriff's office and asked for the 25 automatic pistol with which she fired the fatal shot that cost the life of William Penrod.

The pistol and several cartridges was returned to her by court order. The pistol has been held by the sheriff's department since her arrest on January 18 the day following the night of the tragedy.

"I will go back to Iowa Park a short time and then I expect to return to Dallas to go to business school," she declared at her room Tuesday night.

"A girl friend of mine wants me to come there with her and I like it there so much more than I do around here, now."

"I expected the verdict but I was nervous when the jury knocked on the door and I knew I would soon know my fate," she declared in discussing the trial.

Girl Speaks Feelingly

The freed girl spoke feelingly of her attorneys R. E. Taylor, Federal District Attorney for the Northern Judicial District, and C. O. Taylor, his son who had charge of her defense. She said that the elder Taylor was a life long friend of her father and it was for that reason he became interested in her defense.

Mrs. Milda Penrod, mother of the deceased man, expressed herself to court officials as being dissatisfied with the verdict shortly before she left the city for her home at Dallas. She and the accused girl have not spoken to each other since the night of tragedy.

Sam Holliday, assistant district attorney opened the arguments in the case Tuesday morning when the court opened at 9 o'clock. He briefly outlined the state's evidence. He was followed by C. O. Taylor and R. E. Taylor for the defense. The former spoke briefly, the main argument for the defense being given by the elder Taylor. The latter attacked the character of William Penrod and the attitude of his mother in the trial of the case and ended with a strong appeal for full freedom for the accused girl.

District Attorney Jones concluded for the state and in address entirely free from strong condemnation of the defendant devoted the major part of his time to attacking the self-defense plea of the accused's counsel.

Judge Instructs Jury

Previous to the arguments, Judge P. A. Martin instructed the jury as to the laws governing charges of murder, manslaughter and self-defense. The arguments of attorneys was completed just before noon and on instructions from the court the jury did not take up the consideration of the case until after lunch.

This case growing out of the shooting of William Penrod, 24 years of age, while he was operating a moving picture machine in the booth of the Park theater at Iowa Park by the 19-year-old girl on the night of January 17, is considered in several respects one of the most remarkable criminal cases that has ever been tried in local cases.

She gave herself up to officers shortly after the shooting and was brought to this city on the following day. The grand jury was in session at that time and she was indicted for murder on that day.

Girl Maintained Silence

From the time of the shooting she refused to make any definite statements regarding the tragedy and it was not known what her defense would be until she herself took the stand as the last witness in direct testimony Monday afternoon.

Her attorneys had previously sprung a surprise in the trial of the case when they brought out that William Penrod, the deceased was a married man at the time of the shooting while cross-examining his mother. The mother was one of the principal witnesses for the state, but according to information from the office of the district aetorney she had never stated that her son was married.

The fact that the deceased was married was not known in Iowa Park by his friends although Miss Maurine Apple, the girl to whom he was engaged at the time of his death, testified that she knew of his marriage and that he had promised her to get a divorce as soon as possible. The couple had been separated for over two years.

The accused girl later testified that she knew of his marriage and that it was when she discovered that fact that she broke off relations with the deceased following a period in which she said that an engagement had existed between them.

Following the breaking off of their engagement and the night of the shooting, a period of a year and half intervened.

tion to Panama after it had revolted from Colombia. Mr. Lodge read a letter written last March 21 by Secretary Fall, who stated that conferences and correspondence with the late Colonel Roosevelt in 1917 and thereafter had convinced him that Mr. Roosevelt not only was agreeable, but desirous "for such an agreement with Colombia as would make of that country our warm friends and even our ally."

May Develop Oil Fields.

Declaring that "the indications are very strong that very large oil fields, perhaps the largest in the world, are on the point of development in Venezuela and Colombia," Senator Lodge said that "American companies have already started in Colombia, but they will pass into the hands of the powerful British combination if our people cannot at least understand that they will be protected against wrong and injustice if they invest in countries other than their own, for the purpose of furnishing the United States with oil and enlarging our commerce."

Another aspect of the oil question was brought out in another letter written by Secretary Fall under date of March 21 and read by Mr. Lodge. In this letter Mr. Fall charged that "the British oil interests are giving every assurance to Obregon and Mexican officials in their support and friendly co-operation, seeking advantage against or over American companies, while the British government owning this oil company (the Aguila company) "is ostensibly standing by the United States" in its protest against obnoxious Mexican decrees.

Fall Opposes Treaty.

Secretary Fall, who as senator from New Mexico was one of those most active in opposition to the treaty in its original form, occupied a seat on the senate floor during delivery by Senator Lodge of his address. Tomorrow the discussion will be resumed with Senator Kellogg, republican, Minnesota, opposing the pact.

With cheering thousands looking on the baseball season opens today by the major and several of the big minor leagues.

Old King Swat will come back to his own with a vigor that proves beyond the shadow of a doubt the popularity and solidity of the national pastime.

Though shaken by inter-league disputes and the 1919 baseball scandal during the winter, and threatened with further bumps when the White Sox players and gamblers with whom they are alleged to have conspired come to trial, the nation's pet sport will take the center of the stage as in other years.

Regardless of happenings in the past, baseball will be welcomed back heartily by the great army of fans. The game itself is too great to be wrecked by the missteps of a few misguided and near-sighted players.

The Americas and National leagues will start their pennant races with bright prospects for one of the most successful seasons in their history.

Prospects Bright.

In the junior major league the world's champion Cleveland Indians will help the Browns pry off the lid at St. Louis; the reconstructed White Sox invade Detroit; the hopeful New York Yankees take on the Athletics at the Polo Grounds and the Boston Red Sox meet the Senators at Washington.

John McGraw's New York Giants help the Phillies open the National League season at Philadelphia. The champion Brooklyn Dodgers clash with the Braves in Boston; the Cubs, under Johnny Evers, entertain the Cardinals in Chicago, and George Gibson's snappy Pittsburgh Pirates meet the Reds in Cincinnati.

Pacific League Well Under Way

The American Association, the Southern Association and the Western League also open their seasons today. The Pacific Coast League race, which started April 5, is just getting well under way. The International League will open its season a week from today.

With prospects of great races in the major leagues the club owners are looking forward to a season of unprecedented business at the turnstiles.

The Yankees and Cleveland Indians are sure to set a terrific pace in the American League from the very start, while in the national the Dodgers, Giants, Pirates and Reds bid fair to make the pace red hot from the word "go."

Minors to Be Heard From

The minor leagues have finally recovered from the depression caused by the war. The National Association reported twenty-two minor leagues solidly organized and making preparations to open the season as far back as March 15. Before the summer is over there will be some twenty-five minor organizations in operation, according to indications.

While major league players have the world's series as an incentive to urge them on toward winning pennants in their respective leagues, the minors, this year, will have several "little world's series" to encourage them.

The American Association winners and the champions of the International League inaugurated a baby world's series last fall. It will be staged again this year. In the south the winners of the Southern Association and Texas League pennants will get together in a post-season series.

As the fans settled back to watch the stars of the diamond pry off the lid they had many figures of interest to follow.

Babe Ruth Central Figure

The great Bebe Ruth, home run king extraordinary, will undoubtedly be the cynosure for all eyes at the Polo grounds, where he hopes to get away on his marathon after a new record by crashing at least one baseball out of the park.

The fans of St. Louis, from today on, will watch the work of their two champions—George Sisler and Rogers Hornsby, winners of the major league batting titles in 1920—as they go out to defend their laurels against the wiles of the pitchers.

Seven new managers hopefully sent their 1921 entries into today's games. They will be watched with keen interest.

Perhaps more interesting than any of the others is Ty Cobb, who is piloting the Detroit Tigers. Cobb's work as a manager will be of great interest and there are many who believe he will succeed.

The other new managers, new in position with the exception only of George McBride, are:

Bill Donovan, Phillies.
Johnny Evers, Cubs.
Fred Mitchell, Braves.
Lee Fohl, Browns.
Hughey Duffy, Red Sox.
George McBride, Senators.

Majors Prepared for Work

For the most part the sixteen major league teams start the pennant races today pretty well prepared physically to hop right into a season of hot competition. As usual, there are pitchers and fielders with sore salary wings, and there are Charley horses here and there that slow up some of the regulars, but the spirit of competition will be as keen as of old and the spirit of the fans as happy and spasmodic as ever before.

Figuring that today marks the opening of the season in four leagues, the National, American, American Association, Southern, and Western leagues, it is conservatively estimated that more than a quarter of a million fans will trickle through the turnstiles.

Capacity Crowds Expected

Capacity crowds were expected at most of the major league openings. The management of the Yankees confidently looked forward to a crowd of 38,000 to 40,000, for Babe Ruth & Co., has Greater New York to itself.

In Chicago, where John Evers is extremely popular, the Cubs were expected to draw upward of 20,000 with the Cardinals as their guests and with the champion Indians as an attraction the St. Louis Browns figured to attract a crowd equally as large. In other major league cities crowds ranging from 12,000 to 18,000 are looked for.

The quartet of games in the American Association, with Indianapolis, Louisville, Milwaukee, and Kansas City playing at home, was expected to draw close to 50,000, while games in the two Class A leagues—Western and Southern—figured to attract some 75,000 sun gods.

Gamblers Beware!

Everybody connected with baseball from Judge K. M. Landis down bristled with confidence and optimism as the curtain goes up today. And with the beginning of the pennant races the campaign against gamblers will also get under way, with private detectives sprinkled through the stands in every major league park. The powers that be in the national game are determined to keep it clean henceforth and will leave no stone unturned to discourage and punish the element that succeeded in turning the heads of the eight indicted White Sox players in 1919.

HERE ARE SCORES MADE ONE YEAR AGO TODAY

Where will victory rest tonight when the opening games in the major leagues are finished and the big gala day crowds have filed out of the parks in the American and National leagues?

Last year the teams that won the pennants—Cleveland and Brooklyn got away to a winning start on April 14. The scores of 1920 opening day games follow:

National League
Boston 6, New York 3.
Brooklyn 9, Philadelphia 2.
Cincinnati 7, Chicago 3.
Pittsburgh 5, St. Louis 4.

American League
Philadelphia 3, New York 1.
Cleveland 5, St. Louis 0.
*Boston 7, Washington 5.
*Season opened April 15.

Walter Pipp, of the Yankees, hit the first home run of 1920 in the American league. Eddie Roush of the Reds, contributed the first homer made in the National.

LANDIS TO STAY HOME TO SEE CUBS

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 12.—Federal Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, baseball commissioner, will occupy a box at the National League opening here tomorrow between the Chicago and St. Louis clubs.

Judge Landis said tonight he had received invitations from every major league club to attend the opening game.

THREE MAJOR LEAGUE SLUGGERS AND THEIR RULER JUDGE LANDIS

SALMITES ROMP ON EAGLES FOR 10 TO 2 VICTORY

In a game replete with plenty of errors, umpires, rain, players, hits and runs, but with few fans, the Spudders took a long and uninteresting baseball game away from the visiting Abilene Eagles Tuesday afternoon by the score of 10 to 2. The leadened sky and the cold drizzle evidently dampened the ardor of even the most dyed-in-the-wool fan for the number attending the fray amounted to about the number of ball players on the field.

Two Texas league umpires worked in the game, Kane and Daly, the former handling the indicator and the latter running around the infield. The work of Kane behind the bat was a treat to the few fans present inasmuch as it was the first time this spring the umps has run a game at Athletic park, while stationed with his back to the grandstand. Had it not been for the cold and rain, those who did not attend but who would, had the sun been shining, would have experienced a bit of enjoyment listening to Kane's voice and noting Kane's actions.

"Smiley Biff" Bischoff and "Buddy" Tanner lifted the pill over the left field fence during the fray, Bischoffs going over midway between center and deep left and Buddy's sailing over above the third base line. The visitors made so many errors, both mechanical and mental that it would be a shame to chronicle them. The Spudders contributed a few boots themselves, but at least some less.

In the fourth inning the locals batted around the batting list. Brown, pitching for the Eagles, had been sailing along in fine style the first three frames, but weakened, allowing three hits and hitting Rothfuss with a pitched ball. Coupled with 10 or 12 errors, more or less, perhaps less, perhaps more, the Spudders were able to score four times.

Miller stole two bases, Tanner made four hits; Bowman soaked a two-bagger, McDonald's hits including those the shortstop bungled were all aim for the latter and eight of the visitors went back to the bench via the strikeout route.

Mite Darrough occupied the mound for the Spudders the first four frames and was touched for five hits and a run. In his last appearance after two singles and an error allowed the visitors' first score of the game, the "Mite" got peeved and slipped nine strikes across in eleven attempts, sending three Eagles back to the bench with a putout credited to Bischoff. Bowman and Anderson who occupied the mound during the rest of the fray breezed through their bits creditably. Pat Crowson who relieved Brown in the sixth, was touched for both of the homeling's homers.

The score.

Abilene	000	100	010	2	8	8
Spudders	010	420	21x	10	13	3

Bob Autherford is golf instructor at Penn State college. A 9-hole course has been laid out and students are taking up the game. An intercollegiate team is a possibility in the near future.

Holyoke (Mass.) business men are supporting a project for a big athletic field with roomy stands to feature outdoor athletic events.

James Wray, ex-Harvard rowing coach, will take up the task of developing New York A. C. oarsmen. Tom Rooney ex-national single scull champion will try a comeback this year.

Omer Perrault, a 21 year old French Canadian, will endeavor to swim the English channel this summer. His preliminary work-outs will occur in Montreal and he will sail in June for London.

New York golf enthusiasts are taxed $5 a year for the privilege of playing over the Van Cortland links. Early applications numbered 1,000.

College riflemen will participate in the Camp Perry, (Ohio) tourney in August. Many colleges took part in indoor matches during the season.

The Fort Worth Panthers must not have the great array of hurling talent as they had last year or else some of them have gone back. Perhaps though, Tod Harding who was with an Independent team in Idaho last year and who has just signed with the Atzmen is a world beater out of the bushes. Tod is expected to arrive at a Pantherville about Friday.

An inter-collegiate rifle team will be sent to England this year it was announced recently by the association governing collegiate rifle shooting. The invading team will shoot against a team representing the tight little isle. The association also plans to have twelve men teams from the U. S. colleges to compete in the annual National Tournament.

SHOW INTEREST IN BOY SCOUT TEAMS

Four teams in the Boy Scout's league have percentages of 1.000 each after the first three weeks of the league season and interest in the league is rapidly gaining ground according to Scout Executive H. E. Taylor.

These games are played on Saturdays at three different parks, morning and afternoon and this is the first statement of the standing of the clubs this year.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION PRESIDENT BARS ROUGH LANGUAGE ON DIAMOND

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 12.—Players in the American Association using profanity on the baseball field will be banished immediately from the parks, President Hickey said today in instructing his umpires in regard to the ruling for the opening of the season tomorrow.

Pitchers will be forbidden to use any foreign substance in their delivery, which means that the emory and spit balls and other freak deliveries will be prohibited.

Dallas Doubters Get Ear Full in Talk With Walter

From Dallas News.

A hard-hitting ball club and one that should show the Texas League circuit something, is the viewpoint of the Spudders entertained by Walter Salm, manager of the Wichita Falls club, who spent yesterday in Dallas on business.

An infield made up of Works on first, Danny Clark at second, Charlie McDonald at third and Arch Tanner at short, in the opinion of the Spudder boss, will look as good as any of them. Works and an outfielder (Rothfuss) figured on as the two rookies of the club, were both obtained from Pittsburgh. Salm declares that in years in baseball he has never seen a better looking natural hitter than Rothfuss.

When the Spudders come to Marine Field, veteran fans probably will rub their eyes in astonishment when Charlie Rose takes the hill, pitching to his old Houston battery-mate, Frank Kitchens. The Marceline southpaw is attempting a come-back for the Spudders and Salm declares that he has all the old stuff that made him one of the best left-handers in the league.

Once Great Hurler

Rose is the greatest Texas League southpaw when length of service and ability to deliver are considered. From 1908, through 1916, he was the most consistent left-hander in the circuit. If he is back in all his old form he is an ace in the hole for Wichita Falls.

Another Northern division team is spoken of highly by Umpire Goes, who arrived for Roberts' conference with the staff. Goes has been officiating in the Shreveport exhibition games and thinks that Billy Smith has gathered a ball club that will make the rest hustle. Goes says that Roy Storey, who is playing center this year, has had a wonderful spring and looks like a whirlwind.

Umpires Kane and Goes, who will officiate at the opening game in Wichita Falls under a reassignment of the Northern arbitrators, Irwin and Daly taking the Fort Worth game, left last night with Salm to work the exhibition games with Abilene, scheduled today and tomorrow.

"Garry Herrmann goes to adjust baseball difficulty," is a frequent paragraph these days. He isn't Chairman any more, but when there is a squabble anywhere, how quickly they send for the suave, logical and jovial ex-boss of the baseball gang!

On the hard angles of my cruel fate;
It seems to me that I am framed and stung—
Nothing but trouble written on my slate.

I cannot (have a drink. I'd have to lose
My chance at contact with the finest booze,
Because, in this place, whisky would catch fire,
And flash like powder with a sudden fuse!

I cannot go to ball-games, or to fights—
I can't go up to gaze on any sights,
For, of late years, my business has increased,
Till I am working hard, both days and nights!

But I've one comfort, like the flowers of May—
One hope that keeps me happy, day by day—
Sooner or later, sent here by the Fates,
Umpires and wrestlers all must come my way!

There is a pitcher in the International League named Puyfiend—yes, that's exactly the way he spells it. Charlie Chaplin has not yet heard of him, or he'd have been engaged for some prominent role in Charlie's comedies.

With at least 6,000 baseball fans needed to attend the opening game of the Texas League here at Athletic Park Friday afternoon in order to make as sure as possible the winning of the Attendance Cup offered by Doak Roberts for the city showing the largest paid attendance at the initial ball game of the season, loyal Spudder boosters in every section of Wichita Falls are planning a monster parade in the afternoon of April 15. Every fan and fanette in the city is requested to not only make their appearance at the ball park Friday, but if they possess an automobile or not, to congregate at or near the City Hall at 2 p. m. and join the procession.

The newly formed Kiwanis club is actively behind the movement and the club has appointed a committee which will take charge of all the arrangements for the parade.

According to present information it is planned to start the parade at the City Hall at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of Friday, April 15 winding through the main streets of the city, then dispersing and making tracks for Athletic Park where the Spudders and Dallas tie up in the first battle of the season.

Special Tickets Ready

The Kiwanians have reserved 250 seats in a block along the first base line, the stands to be erected sometime tomorrow. All members of the club will be issued special tickets which they may obtain from Ben Neal at the club's headquarters any time up until time for the game.

According to Will Gray, who is said to have batted 1.000 in both the Knife and Fork League as well as the Debate League a few days ago at the Kiwanis luncheon given to the Spudders, plenty of seats will be provided for every fan in Wichita Falls as well as for everyone who desires to see Wichita Falls placed on the map as the best baseball town in the Roberts' loop during 1921, whether they are regular patrons of the game or not.

Stands will be erected along the first and third base line and perhaps as far out as the fence. The present seating capacity of the grandstand and bleachers is said to be about 4,500 so those in charge of handling what is hoped to be at least a 6,000 crowd will have but to find places for an additional fifteen hundred. The temporary stands will probably seat that many.

Text of President's Message

Members of the Congress:

You have been called into extraordinary session to give your consideration to national problems far too pressing to be long neglected.

We face our task of legislation and administration amid conditions as difficult as our government has ever contemplated.

Under our political system, the people of the United States have charged the new congress and the new administration with the solution—the readjustment, reconstruction and restoration which must follow in the wake of war.

It may be regretted that we were ill prepared for war's aftermath, so little made ready to return to the ways of peace, but we are not to be discouraged. Indeed, we must be the more firmly resolved to undertake our work with high hope, and invite every factor in our citizenship to join in the effort to find our normal, onward way again.

The American people have appraised the situation and with that tolerance and patience which go with understanding they will give to us the influence of deliberate public opinion which ultimately becomes the edict of any popular government. They are measuring some of the stern necessities and will join in the give-and-take which is so essential to firm reëstablishment.

Domestic Problems

First in mind must be the solution of our problems at home, even though some phases of them are inseparably linked with our foreign relations. The surest procedure in every government is to put its own home in order.

I know of no more pressing problem at home than to restrict our national expenditures within the limits of our national income, and at the same time measurably lift the burdens of war taxation from the shoulders of the American people.

One cannot be unmindful that economy is a much employed cry, most frequently stressed in pre-election appeals, but it is ours to make it an outstanding and ever impelling purpose in both legislation and administration. The unrestrained tendencies to heedless expenditures and the attending growth of public indebtedness, extending from federal authority to that of state and municipality and including the smallest political subdivision, constitute the most dangerous phase of government today.

The nation cannot except in its own activities, but it can be exemplar in a wholesome reversal.

Must Reduce Expenditures

The staggering load of war debt must be cared for in orderly funding and gradual liquidation. We shall hasten the solution and aid efectively in lifting the tax burdens if we strike resolutely at expenditure. It is far more easily said than done. In the fever of war, our expenditures were so little questioned, the emergency was so impelling, appropriation was so unimpeded that we litle noted millions and counted the treasury inexhaustible. It will strengthen our resolution if we ever kept in mind that a continuation of such a course means inevitable disaster. Our current expenditures are running at the rate of approximately five billions a year and the burden is unbearable. There are two agencies to be employed in correction: One is rigid resistance in appropriation and the other is the utmost economy in administration. Let us have both. I have already charged department heads with this necessity. I am sure congress will agree; and both congress and the administration may safely count on the support of all right-minded citizens, because the burden is theirs. The pressure for expenditure, swelling the flow in one locality while draining another is sure to defeat the impositions of just burdens and the effect of our citizenship protesting outlay will be wholesome and helpful.

Urges Economy and Thrift.

I wish it might find its reflex in economy and thrift among the people themselves, because therein lies quicker recovery and added security for the future.

The estimates of receipts and expenditure and the statement as to the condition of the treasury which the secretary of the treasury is prepared to present to you will indicate what revenue must be provided in order to carry out the government's business and meet its current requirements and fixed debt charges. Unless there are striking cuts in the important fields of expenditures, receipts from internal revenue taxes cannot safely be permitted to fall below $4,000,000,000 in the fiscal years 1922 and 1923. This would mean total internal tax collections of about one billion less than in 1920 and one-half billion less than in 1921.

The most substantial relief from the tax burden must come for the present from the readjustment of internal taxes, and the revision or repeal of those taxes which have become unproductive and are so artificial and burdensome as to defeat their own purpose.

A prompt and thorough-going revision of the internal tax laws, made with due regard to the protection of the revenues is in my judgment a requisite to the revival of business activity in this country. It is earnestly hoped, therefore, that the congress will be able to enact without delay a revision of the revenue laws and such emergency tariff measures as are necessary to protect American trade and industry.

Repeal Excess Profits Tax.

It is of less concern whether internal taxation or tariff revision shall come first than has been popularly imagined, because we must do both, but the practical course for earliest accomplishment will readily suggest itself to the congress. We are committed to the repeal of the excess profits tax and the abolition of inequities and unjustifiable exasperations in the present system.

The country does not expect approve a shifting of burdens. It is more interested in wiping out the necessity for imposing them and eliminating confusion and cost in the collection.

The urgency for an instant tariff enactment, emergency in character and understood by our people that it is for the emergency only, cannot be too much emphasized.

I believe in the protection of American industry and it is our purpose to prosper America first. The privilege of the American market to the foreign producer are offered too cheaply today and the effect on much of our own productivity is the destruction of our self reliance, which is the foundation of the independence and good fortune of our people. Moreover, imports should pay their fair share of our cost of government.

Foreign Commerce.

One who values American prosperity and maintains American standards of wages and living can have no sympathy with the proposal that easy entry and flood of imports will cheapen our costs of living. It is more likely to destroy our capacity to buy. Today American agriculture is menaced and its products are down to pre war normals, yet we are endangering our fundamental industry through the high cost of transportation from farm to market and through the influx of foreign farm products because we offer essentially unprotected the best market in the world. It would be better to err in protecting our basic food industry than paralyze our farm activities in the world struggle for restored exchanges. The maturer revision of our tariff laws should be based on the policy of protection, resisting that selfishness which turns to greed, but ever concerned with that productivity at home which is the source of all abiding good fortune. It is agreed that we cannot sell unless we buy, but ability to sell is based on home development and the fostering of home markets. There is little sentiment in the trade of the world. Trade can and ought to be honorable but it knows no sympathy. While the delegates of the nations at war were debating peace terms at Paris and while we later debated our part in completing the peace, commercial agents of other nations were opening their lines and establishing their outposts with a forward look to the morrow's trade. It was wise proper and has been advantageous to them. Tardy as we are it will be safer to hold our own markets secure and build thereon for our trade with the world.

Back to Business Basis.

A very important matter is the establishment of the government's business on a business basis. There was toleration of the easy going, unsystematic method of handling our fiscal affairs, when indirect taxation held the public unmindful of the federal burden. But there is contributing of the high cost of government today and the high cost of living is inseparably linked with high cost of government. There can be no complete correction of the high living cost until government's cost is notably reduced.

Urge Budget System

Let me most heartily commend the enactment of legislation providing for the national budget system. Congress has already recorded its belief in the budget. It will be a very great satisfaction to know of its early enactment, so that it may be employed in establishing the economies and business methods so essential to the minimum of expenditure.

I have said to the people, we meant to have less goversment in business as well as more business in government. It is well to have it understood that business has right to pursue its normal, legitimate and righteous way unimpeded and it ought have no call to meet government competition where all risk is borne by the public treasury.

There is no challenge to honest and lawful business success. But government approval of fortunate, untrammeled business does not mean toleration of restraint of trade or of maintained prices by unnatural methods. It is well to have legitimate business understand that a just government, mindful of the interests of all the people, has a right to expect the co-operation of that legitimate business in stamping out the practices which add to unrest and inspire restrictive legislation. Anxious as we are to restore the onward flow of business, it is fair to combine assurance and warning in one utterance.

Deflation of Prices

One condition in the business world today may well receive your inquiry. Deflation has been in progress but has failed to reach the mark of which it can be proclaimed to the great mass of consumers. Reduced cost of basic production has been recorded, but high cost of living has not yielded in like proportion. For example, the prices on grain and livestock have been deflated, but the cost of bread and meats is not adequately reflected therein. It is to be expected that non-perishable staples will be slow in yielding to lowered prices, but the maintained retail costs in perishable foods can not be justified.

I have asked the federal trade commission for a report of its observations and it attributes, in the main, the failure to adjust consumers cost to basic production costs to the exchange of information by "open price associations" which operates, evidently within the law, to the very great advantage of their members and equal disadvantage to the consuming public.

Without the spirit of hostility or haste in accusation of profiteering, some suitable inquiry by congress might speed the price re-adjustment to normal relationship, with helpfulness of both producer and consumer. A measuring road of fair prices will satisfy the country and give us a business revival to end all depression and unemployment.

Transportation Problem

The great interest of both the producer and consumer—indeed, all our industrial and commercial life, from agriculture to finance—in the problems of transportation cost into a helpful relationship rather than continue it as a hindrance to resume activities.

It is little to be wondered that all considered legislation, the war strain, government operation is heedlessness of cost and the conflicting programs, or the lack of them, for restoration have brought about a most difficult situation, made doubly difficult by the low tide of business. All are so intimately related that no improvement will be permanent until the railways are operated efficiently at a cost within that which the traffic can bear.

If we can have it understood that congress has no sanction for government ownership, that congress does not levy taxes upon the people to cover deficits in a service which should be self-sustaining there will be an avowed foundation on which to rebuild.

Freight carrying charges have mounted higher and higher until commerce is halted and production discouraged.

Railway rates and costs of operation must be reduced.

Congress may well investigate and let the public understand wherein our system and the federal regulations are lacking in helpfulness or hindering in restrictions. The remaining obstacles which are the heritance of capitalistic exploitation must be removed and labor must join management in understanding that the public which pays is the public to be served and simple justice is the right and will continue to be the right of all the people.

Highway Improvement.

Transportation over the highways is little less important but the problems relate to construction and development and deserve your most earnest attention, because we are laying a foundation for a long time to come and the creation is very difficult to visualize in its great possibilities.

The highways are not only feeders to the railroads and afford relief from their local burdens, but they are actually lines of motor traffic in interstate commerce. They are the smaller arteries of the larger portion of our commerce and the motor car has become an indispensable instrument in our political, social and industrial life.

There is begun a new era in highway construction, the outlay for which runs far into hundreds of millions of dollars. Bond isues by road districts, counties and states mount to enormous figures, and the country is facing such an outlay that it is vital that every effort shall be directed against wasted effort and unjustifiable expenditure.

The federal government can place no inhibition on the expenditure in the several states; but since congress has embarked upon a policy of assisting the states, in highway improvement, wisely, I believe, it can exert a wholly becoming influence in shaping policy.

Wants Comprehensive Plan.

With the principle of federal participation acceptably established, probably never to be abandoned, it is important to exert federal influence in developing comprehensive plans looking to the promotion of commerce and apply our expenditures in the surest way to guarantee a public return for money expended.

Large federal outlay demands a federal voice in the program of expenditure. Congress can not justify a mere gift from the federal purse to the several states to be prorated among counties for road betterment. Such a course will invite abuses which it were better to guard against in the beginning.

The laws governing federal aid should be amended and strengthened. The federal agency of administration should be selvated to the importance and vested with authority comparable to the work before it. And congress ought to prescribe conditions to federal appropriations which will necessitate a consistent program of uniformity which will justify the federal outlay.

Millions Are Wasted.

I know of nothing more shocking than the millions of public funds wasted in improved highways, wasted because there is no policy of maintenance. The neglect is not universal but it is very near so. There is nothing the congress can do more effectively to end this shocking waste than condition all federal aid on provisions for maintenance.

Highways, no matter how generous the outlay for construction, cannot be maintained without patrol and constant repair. Such conditions insisted upon in the grant of federal aid will safeguard the public which pays and guards the federal government against political abuses, which tend to defeat the very purposes for which we authorize federal expenditure.

Linked with rail and highways is the problem of water transportation—inland, coastwise and trans-Atlantic. It is not possible on this occasion to suggest to congress the additional legislation needful to meet the aspirations of our people for a merchant marine. In the emergency of war we have constructed a tonnage of equaling our largest expectations. Its war cost must be discounted to the actual values of peace and the large difference charged to the war emergency and the pressing task is to turn our assets in tonnage to an agency of commerce.

Favors Merchant Marine

It is not necessary to say it to congress, but I have thought this to be a befitting occasion to give notice that the United States means to establish and maintain a great merchant marine.

Our differences of opinion as to a policy of upbuilding have been removed by the outstanding fact that our having builded. If the intelligent and efficient administration under the existing laws makes established services impossible, the executive will promptly report to you. Manifestly if our laws governing American activities on the seas are such as to give advantage to those who compete with us for the carrying of our own cargoes and those which ought naturally to come in American bottoms through trade exchanges, then the spirit of American fair play will assert itself to give American carriers their equality of opportunity.

This republic can never realize its righteous aspirations in commerce, can never be worthy the traditions of the early days of the expanding republic until the millions of tons of shipping which we now possess are co-ordinated with our inland transportation and our shipping has government operation, in carrying our cargoes, under our flag, over regularly operated routes to every market in the world, agreeable to American exchanges. It will strengthen American genius and management to have it understood that ours is an abiding determination, because carrying is second only to production in establishing and maintaining the flow of commerce to which we rightfully aspire.

Radio Communication

It is proper to invite your attention to the importance of the question of radio communication and cables to meet strategic commercial and political needs, active encouragement should be given to the extension of American-owned and operated cable and radio service. Between the United States and its possessions there should be ample communication facilities providing direct service at reasonable rates. Between the United States and other countries not only should there be adequate facilities, but these should be, so far as practicable, direct and free from foreign intermediation. Friendly co-operation should be extended to international efforts aimed at encouraging improvement of international communication facilities and designed to further the exchange of messages. Private monopolies tending to prevent the development of needed facilities should be prohibited. Government-owned facilities, wherever possible without unduly interfering with private enterprise or government needs, should be made available for general uses. Particularly desirable is the provision of ample cable and radio services at reasonable rates for the transmission of press matter, so that the American reader may receive a wide range of news and the foreign reader receive full accounts of American activities. The daily press of all countries may well be put in position to contribute to international understandings by the publication of interesting foreign news.

Practical experience demonstrates the need for effective recognition of both domestic and international radio operation if this newer means of inter-communication is to be fully utilized. Especially needful is the provision of ample radio facilities for those services where radio only can be used, such as communication with ships at sea, with aircraft and with out-of-the-way places. International communication by cable and radio requires co-operation between the powers concerned. Whatever the degree of control deemed advisable within the United States, government licensing of cable landings and of radio stations transmitting and receiving international traffic seems necessary for the protection of American interests and for the securing of satisfactory reciprocal privileges.

Would Encourage Aviation

Aviation is inseparable from either the army or the navy and the government must in the interests of national defense, encourage its development for military and civil purposes. The encouragement of the civil development of aeronautics is especially desirable as relieving the government largely of the expense of development and of maintenance of an industry, now almost entirely borne by the government through appropriations for the military, naval and postal air service. The air mail service is an important step in the direction of commercial aviation.

It has become a pressing duty of the federal government to provide for the regulation of air navigation; otherwise independent and conflicting legislation will be enacted by the various states which will hamper the development of aviation. The national advisory committee for aeronautics, in a special report on this subject, has recommended the establishment of a bureau of aeronautics in the department of commerce for the federal regulation of air navigation, which recommendation ought to have legislative approval.

I recommend the enactment of legislation establishing a bureau of aeronautics in the navy department to centralize the control of naval activities in aeronautics and removing the restrictions on the personnel detailed to aviation in the navy.

The army air service should be continued as a co-ordinate combatant of the army and its existing organization utilized in co-operation with other agencies of the government in the establishment of national transcontinental air ways and in co-operation with the states in the establishment of local air drones and landing fields.

Disabled Soldiers.

The American people expect congress unfailingly to voice the gratitude of the republic in a generous and practical way to its defenders in the world war, who need the supporting arm of the government. Our very immediate concern is for the crippled soldiers and those deeply needing the helping hand of the government. Conscious of the generous intent of congress and the public concern for the crippled and dependent. I invited the services of a volunteer committee to inquire into the administration of the bureau of war-risk insurance, the federal board vocational training, and other agencies of government in caring for the ex-soldiers, sailors and marines of the world war. This committee promptly reported the chief difficulty to be the imperfect organization of governmental efficiency in many undertakings, less noticed because the need for prompt service is less appealing.

This committee has recommended, and I convey the recommendations to you with cordial approval, that all government agencies looking to the welfare of the ex-service man should be placed under one directing head, so that the welfare of these disabled saviours of our civilization and freedom may have the most efficient direction. It may be well to make such an official the director general of service to war veterans and place under his direction all hospitalization, vocational training, war insurance, rehabilitation, and all pensions.

The immediate extension and utilization of the government's hospital facilities in the army and navy will bring relief to the acute conditions most complained of and the hospital building program may be worked out to meet the needs likely to be urgent at the time of possible completions.

The whole program requires the most thoughtful attention of congress, for we are embarking on the performance of a sacred obligation which involves the expenditure of billions in the half century before us. Congress must perfect the policy of generous gratitude and conscientious administration must stamp out abuses in the very beginning. We must strengthen rather than weaken the moral figure of the beneficiaries and humanize all efforts to that rehabilitation shall be attended by re-spiritualization.

Department Public Welfare.

During the recent political canvass the proposal was made that a department of public welfare should be created. It was indorsed and commended so strongly that I venture to call it to your attention and to suggest favorable legislative consideration.

Government's obligation affirmatively to encourage development of the highest and most efficient type of citizenship is modernly accepted, almost universally. Government rests upon the body of citizenship; it cannot maintain itself on a level that keeps it out of touch and understanding with the community it serves. Enlightened governments recognize this and are giving their recognition to it in specific form.

Certain no government is more desirous than our own to reflect the human attitude, the purpose of making better citizens—physically, intellectually, spiritually. To this end I am convinced that such a department in the government would be of real value. It could be made to crystalize much of rather vague generalization about social justice into solid accomplishment. Events of recent years have profoundly impressed thinking people with the need to recognize new social forces and evolutions, to equip our citizens for dealing rightly with problems of life and social order.

Government Already Active.

In the realms of education, public health, sanitation, conditions of workers in industry, child welfare, proper amusement and recreation, the elimination of social vice, and many other subjects, the government has already undertaken a considerable range of activities. I assume the maternity bill, already strongly approved, will be enacted promptly thus adding to our manifestation of human interest. But these undertakings have been scattered through many departments and bureaus without coordination and with much overlapping of functions which fritters energies and magnifies the cost. Many subjects of the greatest importance are handled by bureaus within government departments which logically have no apparent relation to them. Other subjects which might well have the earnest consideration of federal authority, have been neglected or inadequately provided for. To bring these various activities together in a single department, where the whole field could be surveyed and where their inter-relationships could be properly appraised, would make for increased effectiveness, economy and intelligence of direction.

In creating such a department it should be made plain that there is no purpose to invade fields which the states occupied. In respect to education, for example, control and administration have rested with the states, yet the federal government has always aided them. National appropriations in aid of educational purposes the last fiscal year were no less than $65,000,000. There need be no fear of undue centralization or of creating a federal bureaucracy to dominate affairs better to be left in state control. We must, of course, avoid overlapping the activities by the several states and we must ever resist the growing demand on the federal treasury for the performance of service for which the state is obligated to its citizenship.

Discusses Race Question

Somewhat related to the foregoing human problems is the race question. Congress ought to wipe the stain of barbaric lynching from the banners of a free and orderly, representative democracy. We face the fact that many millions of people of African descent are numbered among our population, and that in a number of states they constitute a very large proportion of the total population. It is unnecessary to recount the difficulties incident to this condition, nor to emphasize the fact that it is a condition which can not be removed. There have been suggested, however, that some of its difficulties might be ameliorated by a humane and enlightened consideration of it, a study of its many aspects and an effort to formulate, if not a policy, at least a national attitude of mind calculated to bring about the most satisfactory possible adjustment of relations between the races and of each race to the national life. One proposal is the creation of a commission embracing representatives of both races, to study and report on the entire subject. The proposal has real merit. I am convinced that through inter-dependence of the races and the maintenance of the rights of citizenship lies the road to righteous adjustment.

It is needless to call your attention to the unfinished business inherited from the preceding congress. The appropriation bills for army and navy will have your early consideration.

Army and Navy

Neither branch of the government can be unmindful of the call for reduced expenditures for these departments of our national defense. The government is in accord with the wish to eliminate the burdens of heavy armament. The United States ever will be in harmony with such a movement toward the higher attainments of peace.

But we shall not entirely discard our agencies for defense until there is removed the need to defend. We are ready to co-operate with other nations to approximate disarmament, but merest prudence forbids that we disarm alone.

The naval program which had its beginning in what seemed the highest assurance of peace can carry no threat after the latest proof of our national unselfishness. The reasonable limitation of personnel may be combined with economics of administration to lift the burden of excessive outlay.

The war department is reducing the personnel of the army from the maximum provided by law in June, 1920, to the minimum enactment. When further reduction is compatible with national security, it may well have the sanction of congress, so that a system of voluntary military training may offer to our young manhood the advantage of physical development, discipline, and commitment to service, and constitute the army reserve in return for the training.

Nearly two and a half years ago the world war came to an end, and yet we find ourselves in the technical state of war, though actually at peace, while Europe is at technical peace, far from tranquility, and little progressed toward the hoped for restoration.

No Part in League

It ill becomes us to express impatience that the European belligerents are not yet in full agreement when we ourselves have been unable to bring constituted authority into accord in our own relations to the formally proclaimed peace. Little avails in reciting the causes of delay in Europe or our own failure to agree. But there is no longer excuse for uncertainty respecting some phases of our foreign relationship.

In the existing league of nations, world governing, and its super-powers, this republic will have no part. There can be no misinterpretation and there will be no betrayal of the deliberate expression of the American people in the recent election and settled in our decision for ourselves, it is only fair to say to the world in general, and to our associates in war in particular, that the league covenant can have no sanction by us.

The aim to associate nations to prevent war, preserve peace, and to promote civilization, our people most cordially applauded. We yearned for this new instrument of justice, but we can have no part in a commital to any agency of force is unknown contingencies; we can recognize no super authority.

Manifestly, the highest purpose of the league of nations was defeated in linking it with the treaty of peace and making it the enforcing agency of the victors of the war. International association for permanent peace must be conceived solely as an instrumentality of justice, unassociated with the passions of yesterday, and not so constituted as to attempt the dual functions of a political instrument of the conquerors and of an agency of peace. There can be no prosperity for the fundamental purposes sought to be achieved by any such association so long as it is an organ of any particular treaty or committee to the attainment of the special aims of any nation or group of nations.

The American aspiration, indeed the world aspiration, was an association of nations, based upon the application of justice and respect, binding us in conference and co-operation for the prevention of war and pointing the way to a higher civilization and international fraternity in which all the world might share. In rejecting the league covenant and uttering that rejection to our own people and to the world, we make no surrender of our hope and aim for an association to promote peace in which we would most heartily join. We wish it to be conceived in peace and dedicated to peace, and will relinquish no effort to bring the nations of the world into such fellowship, not in the surrender of national sovereignty but resolving in a nobler exercise of it in the advancement of human activities, amid the compensations of peaceful achievement.

Pledged to Association

In the national referendum to which I have alluded, we pledged our efforts towards such association, and the pledge will be faithfully kept. In the plight of policy and performance, we told the American people we meant to see the early establishment of peace. The United States alone among the allied and associated powers continues in a technical state of war against the central powers of Europe. This anomalous condition ought not be permited to continue. To establish the state of technical peace without further delay, I should approve a declaratory resolution by congress to that effect, with the qualifications essential to protect all our rights. Such action would be the simplest keeping of faith with ourselves, and could in no sense be construed as a desertion of those with whom we shared our sacrifices in war, for these powers are already at peace.

Should a resolution undertake to do no more than this—to declare the state of peace, which all American craves. It must add no difficulty in effecting with just reparations, the restoration for which all Europe yearns, and upon which the world's recovery must be founded. Neither former enemy nor ally can mistake America's position, because our attitude as to the responsibility for the war and the necessity for just reparations already has had formal and very earnest expression.

It would be unwise to undertake to make a statement of future policy with respect to European affairs in such a declaration of a state of peace. In correcting the failure of the executive, in negotiating the most important treaty in the history of the nation, to recognize the constitutional powers of the senate we would go to the other extreme equally objectionable, if congress or the senate should assume the function of the executive. Our highest duty is the preservation of the constituted powers of each and the promotion of the spirit of co-operation so essential to our common welfare.

It would be idle to declare for separate treaties of peace with the central powers on the assumption that those alone would be adequate, because the situation is so involved that our peace engagements can not ignore the old world relationship and the settlements already effected, nor is it desirable to do so in preserving our own rights and contradicting our future relationships.

The wiser course would seem to be the acceptance of confirmation of our rights and interest as already provided and to engage under the existing treaty, assuming of course, that this can be satisfactorily accomplished by such explicit reservations and modifications as will secure our absolute freedom from inadvisable commitments and safeguard all our essential interests.

Neither congress nor the people needs my assurance that a request to negotiate needed treaties of peace would be as superfluous and unnecessary as it is technically ineffective, and I know in my own heart there is none who could wish to embarrass the executive in the performance of his duty when we are all so eager to turn disappointment and delay into gratifying accomplishment.

Affect Present and Future.

Problems relating to our foreign relations bear upon the present and the future, and are of such a nature that the all-important future must be deliberately considered, with greater concern than mere immediate relief from unhappy conditions. We have witnessed, yea, we have participated in the supremely tragic episode of war, but our deeper concern is in the continuing life of nations and the development of civilization.

We must not allow our vision to be impaired by the conflict among ourselves. The weariness at home and the disappointment to the world have been compensated in the proof that this republic will surrender none of its heritage of nationality; but our rights in international relationship have to be asserted; they require establishment in compacts of amity; our part in readjustment and restoration can not be ignored and must be defended.

With the super-governing league definitely rejected and with the world so informed, and with the status of peace proclaimed at home, we may proceed to negotiate the convenanted relationships so essential to the recognition of the rights everywhere of our own nation and play our part in joining the peoples of the world in the pursuits of peace once more. Our obligations in affecting European tranquility, because of war's involvments, are not less impelling than our part in the war itself. This restoration must be wrought before the human procession can go onward again. We can be helpful because we are moved by no hatreds and harbor no fears. Helpfulness does not mean entanglement, and participation in economic adjustment does not mean sponsorship for treaty commitments which do not concern us, and in which we will have no part. In an all-impelling wish to do the most and for our own public and maintain its high place among nations and at the same time making the fullest offering of justice to them, I shall invite in the most practical way the advice of the senate, after acquainting it with all the conditions to be met and obligations to be discharged along with our own rights to be safeguarded. Prudence in making the program and confident co-operation in making it effective cannot lead us far astray. We can render no effective service to humanity until we prove anew our own capacity for co-operation in the co-ordination of powers contemplated in the construction, and no covenants which ignore our associations in the war can be made for the future.

More, no helpful society of nations can be founded on justice and committed to peace until the covenants reestablishing peace are sealed by the nations which were at war. To such accomplishment—to the complete re-establishment of peace and its contracted relationships, to the realization of our inspirations for nations associated for world helpfulness, without world government, for world stability on which humanity's hopes are founded, we shall address ourselves, fully mindful of the high priviledge and the paramount duty of the United States in this critical period of the world.

THE PRICE IS THE THING

—There are all kinds sales in operation just now—and no doubt that things are cheaper than before, but under no circumstances do any of them equal my sale which will start Thursday, April 14th.

The Manufacturer Takes Big Loss

—I bought the whole of my stock during the last three weeks and went after it in person. I have examined every item, and bought it dirt cheap at my own price, always having in mind that the buying public must come to my store to save money, because everything will be sold below manufacturer's cost.

I Want to Sell Out to Make More Room

—At the prices that I am going to put on my merchandise, my store will be crowded from morning till night. I am going to be open from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m. to give the workingmen a chance to participate in this extraordinary sale.

On Thursday (Tomorrow) April 14th

—I will be ready for you. I want to assure you one and all that you are welcome to come in, look around and examine the prices. Big signs in front of every article will tell you of many wonderful bargains. A courteous sales force will be on hand to greet you.

DETECTIVES INVESTIGATING.

NEW YORK, April 12.—The ar- st in Cleveland in connection with the Wall street bomb plot were made after the woman had asserted that of the men under detention had been "hiding five days after the ex- plosion," it was stated here at police headquarters.

Notified of the arrests, police said they immediately sent a detective of the bomb squad to the Ohio city to make an investigation. They said, however, that the result of his trip had not been received at headquarters and indicated that they had little hope that the arrests would solve the mystery.

Department of justice officials said that they were without any informa- tion regarding the Cleveland arrests.

Introducing Our New Senators

SAMUEL MORGAN SHORTRIDGE

(Republican)

Prominent Pacific Coast Lawyer Now U. S. Senator from California, Succeeding Mr. Phelan

MR. READER:

Meet the silver-tongued orator from the west coast, Samuel Morgan Shortridge, who replaces Mr. James D. Phelan as United States senator from California.

Senator Shortridge is thin, angular, bespectacled and smooth-shaven, but good natured. He is a lawyer who has made his "pile." He never held public office before, but has taken an active interest in public affairs. He is said to be "conservative" and does not belong to the hit-and-take Progressive school which produced Senator Hiram W. Johnson, his California colleague.

Senator Shortridge is famous on the Pacific coast as an orator, and it is expected he may deliver himself of a few "Websterian phillipies" in the senate forum. Senator Shortridge was born in Iowa in 1873. As a young man he knew hard work in the mines of Nevada City, Cal. He was admitted to the bar in 1884. When a young man he taught school in Oregon.

"If Lovers Must Love, They Must Beware of Streets," Says Chief

"Hand in hand stuff isn't bad, I'll stand for a kiss or two provided the lights aren't too bright at the particular street intersection, but this double Nelson, modified toe bolt, don't go," said Night Chief of Police Humphris to two young, oh, very young couples at the police station the other night.

"I'm going to be lenient this time, I'm going to let you go, but the next time you start home from the skating rink at 11 o'clock and spoon for a whole hour on a stretch at the Library Park, look out. No I'm not filing charges against you. I'm telling you. Either cut out the strangle hold stuff or the people at home get the true dope on the case."

They were beautiful little girls, one golden haired with eyes of Cerulean blue, fitted, it might be said form fitted, in a dark purple dress that clung——.

"Yes, watch your step, you kids. I ought to spank you, but I'm going to let you go. I'm forty and fat but I've a heart—and anyway there's no particular charge I could file against you" said the chief with a semblance of a sigh.

And they got, promptly without loss of time and apparently without effort.

"Please se don't use our names. Don't tell," were the wind-swept words that reached the ears of the constant hanger-on.

No kidding, though, here's the real dope on the lover question in Wichita Falls put out by the people who're going to be on the watch out.

Hand holding is legitimate, anytime, any where.

Hugging will get by if not too ardent.

A quick kiss, not the Theda Bara kind will cause the cop to lift his eye but may pass muster.

Kissing on the neck, the chin or shoulder is taboo.

Though deary's fingers run through her hero's hair as he reclines with his head in her lap is perhaps a thrill producer it's liable to mean a trip to the station.

"Just tell 'em to watch their step. We're no gloom distillers, neither are we easy. Go as far as they like with the legitimate stuff, but can the rough!"

Mexico Framing New Project on Oil Situation

By Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, April 12.—The petroleum commission of the chamber of deputies has agreed on certain parts of a new project soon to be submitted to congress, the chief of which is regulation of article 27 of the constitution so that it shall not be retroactive, according to Excelsior today, which claims to have exclusive official information on the subject.

The commission's project will not be completed for several days.

All oil rights acquired prior to February 5, 1917, will be respected says Excelsior, which describes the commission's agreement as "of international importance and one in which the future political and economic life of Mexico depends."

ADOPT NEW POLICY

By Associated Press.
LAREDO, April 12.—The Mexican government has adopted a policy of non-discrimination against companies interested in oil development in Mexico, according to a telegram received by the Mexican consulate here from Manuel Tellez, Mexican representative at Washington.

The telegram stated that recently circulated reports to the effect that the government's policy was discriminative were without foundation.

French Experts Show Germany's Ability to Pay

By Associated Press.
PARIS, April 12.—Figures compiled by experts to show the extent of Germany's economic revival as bearing upon her ability to pay reparations have been submitted to the reparations commission.

The bank deposits of Germany, the report says, increased last year from 4,500,000,000 marks to 6,250,000,000 marks.

The experts declare there has been a marked change in the ratio of imports and exports which is bringing the value of the total exports into a considerable excess. The exports to Holland alone, they state, amounted to the equivalent of 8,500,000,000 francs last year.

The experts point out, a number of cases of immense industrial profits, several companies last year distributing dividends exceeding the nominal value of their capital stock.

As evidence of the swelling of the German budget, where the allies have complained as unnecessarily increasing Germany interior burden, the experts cite figures showing that there are 300,000 more railroad employes on the pay rolls than there were in 1914, although passenger traffic is cut fifty per cent and freight traffic twenty per cent.

ATTENTION! BOY SCOUTS

—Every Boy Scout who is in good standing with the organization is eligible to enter our Bird House Building Contest, which offers for the three best built bird houses a Boy Scout Axe and Sheath, Scout Knife and Official Base Ball.

—You may build a bird house (not a cage) any way you choose, large or small, suitable for robins, wrens, redbirds, or any kind of a bird you wish to please. You may use box lumber, bark of trees, hollow logs, willow, tin, sheet iron or any kind of material you wish to use.

—A very simple bird house may be made by sawing a short piece of tree, leaving the bark for a natural effect and using a round piece of bark for the roof and bore a large hole into the side. You can also remove the bark and use it to build a house in many different styles.

—If you haven't got tools to work with, we can sell you Hatchets, Hammers, Saws, Augers, Chisels, Planes, Squares, or any kind of a tool that you may need to turn out a first class job.

—Remember, boys, all these bird houses will be sold at auction at our store, and the money will be given to your Boy Scout organization. Now get busy and do your part. The more bird houses the more money there will be for the Boy Scouts.

Marie Cahill, musical comedy's foremost comedienne is announced as this week's headliner on the Keith-Interstate offering of high class vaudeville. One of the most delightful comediennes the American stage has ever produced is Marie Cahill. Miss Cahill by her sheer force of her personality and indelible art, has become without question prominent in her calling. Musical comedy knows Miss Cahill, well. In fact, there are few feminine stars who enjoy the same amount of public approbation as does this same always enjoyable Miss Cahill. The Wichita management prides Miss Cahill's apperance as its headliner on this week's program.

Among the "B" workers in France to serve with the "Overthere theatre league" was Harry Adler. The team of Adler and Dunbar have been vaudeville favorites for years. Together they are offering a "Study From Life" which is described merely as a travesty.

A Canadian by birth comes along El Cleve styled "A Little Bit O' Scotch" who also is probably one of the best Xylophonists vaudeville has, but this by no means constitutes the greatest part of his offering. El Cleve has had the honor of appearing before the present king of England.

Syncopating is no longer a matter of music, rag is extended into song and dialogue, and dance is even a factor in the drama. Combe & Nevins billed for this week's program as "Those Syncopating Entertainers" are two clever chaps who make the very best of everything they do.

Another act of much prominence on this week's bill is "Roye & Rudac" who are this season presenting a "1921 Edition of Dance, color and Song". Their dancing has been an outstanding feature of "The Four Little Ritz Girls" "Mimi" and "I'll Say She Does" vaudeville liked them, and when vaudeville likes anything they usually get it; therefore we now have with us "Roye & Rudac". The News Reel and Topics of the Day with an unusual musical program by Edler's orchestra should make up one of the best offerings seen for many many weeks.

Scout Movement Gaining as Boys Plan Sport Meet

With the Scout League season well under way, plans for a Field Day being perfected, and arrangements for week end camping trips being made as well as arrangements going forward for the annual encampment of two weeks at Cache, Okla., the Boy Scout movement is gaining impetus among lads of this age in the city, according to H. E. Taylor, scout executive.

Troop Fifteen was organized at the Free Methodist church Monday evening with twenty one boys present. According to officials this promises to be one of the best troops in the city, and as all the boys in this troop are husky, Taylor says its up to the other troops to look their laurels in athletic contests.

The Wichita Falls Scoutmasters met at the First Christian church, April 11, with seven present, which was the largest number that have ever been at any previous Scoutmasters' meeting. Several items of interest were discussed, among which was the importance in organizing and conducting troops and troop meetings.

Scoutmaster Waldrup led the discussion and his remarks were favorably commented on by scoutmasters present.

Scoutmaster meetings in the future will be held on the second and third Monday nights of each month. All scoutmasters who can, according to H. E. Taylor, scout executive, are urged to attend these meetings for the benefit they may derive from them.

Boy Scouts of the city are given notice that a field day will be held in May and are asked to begin preparations for the event at once in order that worthy contesants, trained for their particular stunt, may be ready to participate in the event. Previous field days have been a success but with the growth of the Scout movement in Wichita Falls it is said by Scout officials that the coming field day will exceed anything of the kind ever held before held.

All boy scouts who have not already started work on bird houses and entered the contest that the Wichita Hardware people are holding for their benefit, are urged by the scout executive, to do so. Full particulars as to prizes and rules for the contest can be obtained from scout headquarters or from the hardware firm offering incentives in this way.

HEALTH IS A WOMAN'S GREATEST ASSET

Contrast the cheerful happy woman with head erect, the glow of health on her cheeks, the elastic step and bubbling enthusiasm as she goes about her daily tasks, with the woman who suffers from backache, headaches, dragging-down pains, nervousness and despondency. Such conditions are undoubtedly caused by woman's ailments which will yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for many, many years has been restoring weak, ailing women to health and strength. Every woman who suffers in this way owes it to herself to at least give it a trial.—Adv

May Collins

There are no discoveries which please us quite so much as the discovery of new talent or new faces, pretty ones of course, for the screen. The astronomers are not the only ones who know a new star when they see one. Film fans and directors are quite as keen to discover stars. Miss May Collins is one of the prettiest discoveries made in some time.

She will soon be seen in the Goldwyn picture, "Look Before You Leap" and she is surely worth looking at. It has been said that it is only her second picture, but she has had experience on the stage, having played in "At 9:45," "She Would and She Did," and several other Broadway successes.

Miss Collins has brown hair and gray eyes.

Bulletin

As we go to press this gossip about Miss Collins reaches our desk from Los Angeles:

"Charlie Chaplin has picked another wife, according to well authenticated rumors going the rounds at Hollywood. She is May Collins, seventeen, star of Broadway and of the screen.

"Neither Chaplin nor Miss Collins would deny or affirm the report today.

"'I have heard that rumors are going the rounds that Mr. Chaplin and I are to be married,' Miss Collins said. 'As a matter of fact we have discussed these reports, but any statement should come from him, I think.'

"Charlie himself said he preferred 'not to discuss private affairs'."

ELSIE IS VERSATILE

In her latest Paramount picture, "Footlights," which is now in production at Paramount's eastern studio Elsie Ferguson has a splendid opportunity to show her versatility. She plays the part of a vaudeville actress who climbs the ladder to success and becomes a famous Russian artist under the direction of a canny New York theatrical manager. The part gives her the opportunity to run the entire gamut of human emotions. In one of her scenes in the cheap vaudeville theater, Miss Ferguson does an impersonation of Eddie Foy.

Shad Endeavors To Find Berth In "Cop" House

"It ain't often I gets myself down to a meeting like this," said the Shivering Shad as he took a seat in the very back of the council room, "but I hears as how there's a chance for a few jobs on the police and fire department, and here I am. Listen guy, have you got a drag with the big cull?

"Well it don't make so much diff to a stiff like me, anyhow. Maruts what put's a man through, just like I was a telling the Winsome waitress this morning.

"Whatcher say, sure that big stiff that you calls the Handsome Hasher, he'd done gone, so I tells her this.

"This here politiks is an open book to me, the ins wants out and the outs want in, but when the outs makes a break to get in the ins display all that fine Hibernian blood derived from the low countries 'and counters 'em. After they get in they holler—like hell about the work, but put 'em out, down even to that knock kneed patrolman that arrested me for bank robbery and they yelps.

"But listen, cully, I'm an ideal bet for the fire department. Since April 1, they ain't had nothing to do but answer two calls and one of them false. Stay there. I'm the rock of Gibralta with a reinforced foundation, stay there, if I don't break my neck a-going down the pole, I'll always be there.

"Army nothing! Gotta work there, me for a job with the firemen by preference and with the coppers next and listen—got a hunch I've got a drag, a friend of Marie's—the secret is out he meant the Winsome Waitress—knows a guy that used to know Chief Huff, so I'm a sitting pretty. Talk about lowering wages in these departments, nell no. I'm against it!"

Cleansing the Blood Ends Many Torturous Skin Troubles

Many fever epidemics are caused by impurities in the water supply, and are ended only when the water is purified. Many itching skin troubles are caused by impurities in the blood supply, and can be stopped only when these are driven out.

When you itch, itch, itch all day with flaming torture that drives you half mad, you should look deeper than the skin itself. The cause of your trouble may be far down in the blood stream, and require an internal treatment that will purify it before you can get relief. Any other course would be treating symptoms rather than the cause.

Thousands in the United States have gotten complete rest from such nerve racking ailments by taking S.S.S., the famous old herb medicine of fifty years standing. S.S.S. is a first class blood remedy that drives out the impurities and helps put the healthy, red corpuscles in.

If you are a skin sufferer, get a bottle of S.S.S. from your druggist today. Begin taking at once, and then write in detail about your condition to Chief Medical Advisor, 863 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Georgia. He will send you expert medical advice free.

GENERAL CLARK BURIED

By Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, April 12.—Accompanied by a military guard and members of the family, the body of Brigadier General Harvey C. Clark of the Missouri national guard, former state adjutant general, who died here last night, will be taken to Butler, where the funeral is to be held tomorrow afternoon.

Temptation Resistance Is Stressed

Resistance of temptation was stressed as the greatest known method for building character during the days of youth and early manhood by Dr. F. F. Brown, evangelist who is conducting a revival meeting at the First Methodist church, in a short address at the Senior High school chapel Tuesday morning.

Illustrating his theme, Dr. Brown pointed out that ship builders in choosing strong timbers for their boats pass up the tall slender trees that have reached their maturity without ever receiving the buffeting of storms and high winds.

In just the same manner that the fibers of the tree become strong from withstanding the assaults of adverse elements, does the moral fiber of men and women become strong every time they reject the tendency to fall into habits that are detrimental.

A Message from the President of the Cadillac Motor Car Co.

—Year after year it has been necessary for us, at this season, to caution prospective buyers of the Cadillac motor car against possible disappointment in the matter of securing delivery

—The necessity was never more urgent, as it is our conviction that the months of May and June, and the remainder of the year, will witness the greatest shortage of Cadillac cars in the history of the company.

—The Cadillac company is firmly committed to the policy of building 8-cylinder cars which will continue to be the Standard of the world.

Present prices on Cadillac motor cars will remain unchanged throughout the year 1921.

CHICAGO PRODUCE.

CHICAGO, April 12.—Butter higher; creamery extras 40@46½c. Eggs unsettled; receipts 40,225 cases; firsts 24s. Poultry, alive, unchanged.

NEW YORK SUGAR.

NEW YORK, April 12.—The market for raw sugar was easier with uncontrolled grades ¼c lower to the basis of 5.04 for centrifugal, while the commission prices were unchanged or 5c. for Cubas, cost and freight, equal to 6.02 for centrifugals.

The easier ruling of raws led to a reduction of 10 points by two refiners to the basis of 7.65 for fine granulated, while others were unchanged at 8c.

Futures were easier, owing to the decline in raws and liquidation by commission houses with closing prices 8 to 10 points net lower. May 4.45; July 4.60; September 4.57

NEW YORK COFFEE.

NEW YORK, April 12.—The market for coffee futures showed a firmer tone today owing to reiterated reports of government purchases in Brazil and the steadier showing of Brazilian markets. The list closed at a net advance of 10 to 18 points.

Spot coffee quiet. Rio 7s 6c; Santos 4s 9¾ to 9¾.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, April 12.—The cotton market was more active today and prices worked higher, with July selling up to $12.85 or 30 points above the closing quotation of yesterday on covering and trade buying. There were reactions later under realizing, but the final tone of the market was very steady with July closing at 12.76 and with the general list showing a net advance of 17 to 24 points.

There were some rather conflicting reports with reference to the British labor outlook early, and the market here opened 5 points lower to 5 points higher with near months relatively easy under scattering liquidation. Liverpool was about as due, however, while the sharp advance reported in the London market for bar silver encouraged predictions of an improved demand for goods from the Far East, and there was also favorable comment on the report of a southern authority estimating domestic consumption for March at 476,000 bales compared with 395,000 for February. Trade interests were among the buyers on the advance which followed and there was considerable covering or brush buying for local and Wall street account.

The president's message failed to further stimulate the market and after selling at 12.31 for May and 13.30 for October, prices eased off several points. Later it was reported that the threatened strike of British railroad men and transport workers had been postponed and the market was very steady toward the close. No exports today.

LIVERPOOL SPOT.

LIVERPOOL, April 12.—Cotton, spot, moderate business; prices steady. Good middling 8.62; fully middling 8.07; middling 7.42; low middling 6.37; good ordinary 5.12; ordinary 4.37. Sales 5,000 bales, including 600 American. Receipts 4,000 bales, including 3,800 American. Futures closed quiet and steady. April 7.87; May 8.02; July 8.23; October 8.44; December 8.53; January 8.56; March 8.62.

SOME SHARES ARE STRONG ON EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, April 12. — The stock market was again beset by conflicting influences today, many of the usual leaders in the industrial division reacting 1 to 4 points, while other shares of less prominence were distinctly strong. Rumors dealing with the financial needs and dividend prospects of the so-called independent steels caused incessant offerings of that group. Republic, Lackawanna, Sloss-Sheffield and Bethlehem proving especially vulnerable to bear drives.

On the constructive side the market was represented by oils, motors, coppers, tobaccos and utilities, chief among the latter being Western Union, Consolidated Gas and Peoples Gas. Rails remained dull at nominal changes.

Prices attained highest levels of the session prior to publication of President Harding's address to congress. As extracts of the message appeared on the news ticker, shorts began to put out new lines, effacing most gains of the noon hour.

Shortly before the close, however, announcement of the postponement of the "British triple alliance" strike and the extremely favorable statements of earnings issued by the International Paper company caused a hasty recovery.

International Paper scored a net gain of 5¼ points and losses in steels were materially reduced.

The money market repeated its course of the previous day, all call loans being made at 7 per cent with no deviation of rates for time funds, commercial paper or bank acceptances.

Foreign exchange was irregular, the British rate hardening with another advance in Italian remittances, but French, Belgian and Dutch bills eased. Liberty bonds were steady.

GRAIN LIST PRICES FALL TO NEW LEVEL

CHICAGO, April 12.—Prices throughout the entire grain and provision list fell today tot he lowest level since 1915.

Hogs, too, were the lowest since February, 1916. Selling was general, based largely on wild economic conditions. Wheat closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 1¾c down; corn off ¾ to ⅞ to 1⅞c and oats lost ¾ to ⅞@⅞c. In provisions the outcome varied from 27c decline to 5a advance.

Many holders of wheat appeared to have lost confidence in likelihood of higher prices; at least for the time being, and a number of owners of old crop supplies evidenced anxiety to unload, and a willingness to accept the view that curtailment of buying power had been so severe as practically to take away hope of immediate relief. The consequent sales totalled 1,000,000 bushels. The substance of President Harding's message was generally known on exchange just before the close, but had no traceable effect as a market influence.

Corn and oats declined in sympathy with wheat.

No adequate support developed for provisions.

44 LEGAL NOTICES

CITATION BY PUBLICATION.
The State of Texas to the Sheriff or any Constable of Wichita County, Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon Taylor Hudson by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the County court of Wichita county at law. Wichita County, Texas, to be holden at the courthouse thereof, in Wichita Falls on the first Monday in June A. D. 1921, the same being the 6th day of June, A. D., 1921, then and there to answer a puestition filed in said court on the 21st day of October, A. D., 1921 in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 4157, wherein the Nash Automobile and Truck company, a private corporation organized under the laws of Texas, doing business in Wichita county, Texas, is plaintiff and G. A. De Vien, C. Wood, R. H. Graham and Taylor Hudson are defendants, and said petition alleging That heretofore to-wit, about the 27th day of March, 1920, defendants, De Vien and Wood made, executed and delivered to plaintiff their certain promissory note in the sum of Nine Hundred Seventy-one and 77-100 ($971.77) dollars, due in monthly installments, among the installments being one for One Hundred Sixty-One and 97-100 ($161.97) Dollars, due Aug. 27, 1920; and one for One Hundred Sixty-One and 92-100 (161.92) Dollars, due September 27, 1920, which note bears interest from maturity of each installment at the rate of 10 per cent per annum, and provides for an additional 10 per cent of the amount due as attorney's fees, if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection, or sued upon. That to secure the payment of said note, a chattel mortgage lien was retained by plaintiff upon one Nash 1-passenger automobile, being Model 682, Serial No. 153,226, Motor No. 41758; said automobile is now of the value of Nine Hundred ($900.00) dollars, and is now in the possession of the defendants, R. H. Graham and Taylor Hudson, in Wichita county, Tex.; that all of the installments on said note have been paid except the two above mentioned, due August 27, and Sept. 27, 1920, both of which are past due and unpaid; that said note and mortgage provided that in the event of failure in payment of said note in whole or in part the holder thereof shall be entitled to remove said automobile and sell the same, and that by virtue of said fact and the failure of payment of the above installments plaintiff is entitled to the possession of said automobile; that these installments are past due and unpaid and the defendants, De Vien and Wood, refuse to pay the same, and it has become necessary to place the same in the hands of an attorney for collection and attorneys fees, are now due thereon; that the defendants, R. H. Graham and Taylor Hudson, are made defendants herein, because they have possession of the automobile, and are claiming some interest therein, which interest, however, is in all things subordinate to the rights of plaintiff. Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same. Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, on this the 5th day of April A. D., 1921.
W. T. HARRIS, Clerk County Court of Law of Wichita County, Texas.
By M. F. YEAGER, Deputy.

PLAYGROUND PROJECTS TO BE CONTINUED

The present plan and program of park improvements initiated by the parks and playgrounds bureau of the Chamber of Commerce in conjunction with the park board will be carried out, according to Dr. J. F. Reed city commissioner.

Dr. Reed made this statement Tuesday afternoon in making announcement of a conference with the Chamber of Commerce committee Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock.

A campaign against the bag worm pest, through which they will be eliminated not only on the trees in the city parks, but throughout the city as well, is planned by Dr. Reed.

Through a fortunate purchase of arsenic of lead some time ago Dr. Reed believes that the spraying of trees in the cemeteries and parks can be accomplished in time to prevent the damage which is already threatened and said that he would advocate the letting of a contract for the spraying of all shrubbery threatened and if this was not advisable would recommend the purchase of spraying machines to be obtained by his department.

Improvements in the cemeteries of the city are planned by Dr. Reed and he believes that this matter can best be handled by a committee of representative citizens such as he suggested at the council meeting Monday evening.

EXCURSION DATE FIXED AT APRIL 21

April 21 which, being San Jacinto day, is a holiday in Texas, was definitely chosen Thursday morning as the date of the Wichita Falls excursion to Graham signalling the opening of rail service between the two places.

It is expected that this excursion, which is planned as an expression of neighborly feeling on the part of this city to Graham, to which direct access is gained for the first time, will require ten coaches and will carry 600 to 800 people to the Young county oil center.

The date was fixed following advice from Chief Engineer McFarland, confirming reports published several days ago in the Record News that the rails of the Wichita Falls & Southern extension will be completed to that place on Saturday, and that regular service would be opened Monday.

The double daily service, which will mean the addition of a passenger train to leave Wichita Falls in the morning and return at night, will not be inaugurated until after the excursion, as the extra equipment will be needed for use in the excusion.

The excursion will leave Wichita Falls at 8:00 in the morning, and will arrive in Graham at about 12:30 making stops of 15 minutes each at Archer City and Olney, and of 45 minutes at Newcastle. Returning, the train will leave Graham at 4:30 and will arrive at 8:30 p. m.

Civic organizations at Graham are making extensive plans for the reception of the local excursionists, according to information from that place.

It is also reported that the people of Graham are planning a return of the courtesy of the visit, and will stage an excursion to this place within the next 30 days.

Plans for the excursion are in the hands of the Chamber of Commerce Trade Extension Bureau, which includes: Jack Culbertson, chairman; W. W. Anderson, vice chairman; R. E. Penick, George Keith, George Guttman, and Sydney Gaines. The Trades Extension committee of the Retail Merchants association, of which Mr. Anderson is chairman, is co-operating in the plans.

Transportation and facilities of that kind are being cared for by C. L. Fontaine, assistant manager and traffic manager of the Wichita Falls & Southern, assisted by P. H. Sullivan agent for the road, and by J. W. Chatham Jr., secretary and traffic manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

The fare for the trip will be $3.00 the regular fare being $4.02. The war tax is additional in both cases, in case of the excursion amounting to 24 cents.

AUTO PARKING IN COURTHOUSE SQUARE TO BE DISCONTINUED

Automobiles will no longer be parked within the courthouse square according to an order passed Tuesday by the county commissioners' court. The action of the court will do away with the practice of parking cars in the west driveway. The rule applies to all parts of the courthouse grounds.

After a discussion behind closed doors the court voted to instruct Sheriff Smith to not allow the keys to either the county or juvenile jails to be given to the "trusties" of the county jail.

Following the meeting members of the court refused to disclose reasons for the actions. The action was taken after a lengthy discussion.

NO TUBERCULAR INFECTION FOUND HERE IN DAIRIES

No case of tubercular infection has been found in the dairy animals that furnish Wichita Falls its milk this year, according to Dr. A. E. Douglas of the city health department.

For the last two years the percentage of infected animals is twenty-two hundredths of one percent.

According to statistics received by the health department from Washington, out of 695,364 animals tested for tuberculosis the last year, 28,616 reacted and out of 3,370 accredited herds, and 16,599 other herds tested, none were found to be carriers after the first test.

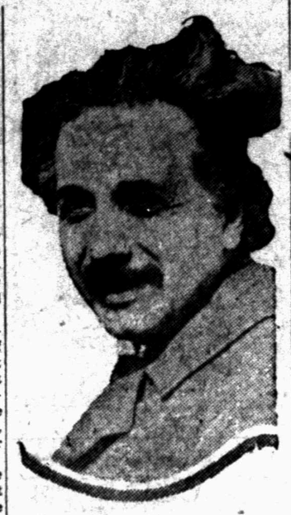

NAVY HEAD WATCHES FLEET IN ACTION

Edwin Denby, secretary of the navy, and Admiral Henry B. Wilson, watching maneuvers from deck of U. S. S. Pennsylvania.

Edwin Denby, new secretary of the navy, is "seeing things for himself" nowadays. He is spending a few weeks with the Atlantic fleet of the navy, which is holding spring maneuvers in Guantanamo bay. He divides his time between following the fleet maneuvers and target practice and getting acquainted with the officers and men. He is shown above with Admiral Wilson, commander of the Atlantic fleet.

EINSTEIN, IN U. S., IS FRANK ABOUT THEORY OF RELATIVITY

Prof. Albert Einstein

NEW YORK, April 10.—There is nothing of the frenzied genius or the weakened abstract scholar about this most discussed contemporary scientist Prof. Albert Einstein, who has come here primarily to aid the cause of the University of Jerusalem. Unaffected, affable, he does not make the picture you visualize of him as you wade through simple explanations of scientific explanations of Prof. Einstein's explanations of his theory.

"A Pathological Phenomenon."

Discussing his much discussed theory of relatively, he says:

"My theory, essentially, holds no interest for the ordinary man. In fact, I cannot understand the tremendous interest in it evidenced by laymen. It is a sort of pathological phenomenon, it seems to me.

"There is a new philosophic conception of the universe because of the theory. If you do not take it too seriously, I might say that until now we held that if everything disappears, space and time still remained. Under my theory, space and time would disappear with everything else.

"Some American scientists are making experiments which conflict with the theory. One cannot prove exactly any theory. Every theory tries to explain a number of facts. The scientific aspect of this theory lies, it seems to me, in its logical simplicity, in that with few principles it explains a number of facts."

What is the Einstein theory, briefly explained and simply, was the natural question to ask next. Numerous scientific articles have been devoted to explain the world the theory has pictured. There is the conception under this theory that space bends up to include a finite world; although, so say the explainers, the world is infinite, since, dividing it by anything, it can be divided infinitely. But then the divider is finite, and—

What It Explains.

Prof. Einstein meets these queries unmoved.

"There are," he ventures, "two facts which the theory has been useful in explaining. One is the irregularity shown in the movements of the planet Mercury, the other is the fact that the rays of light of a star in passing near the sun are deviated."

Some of Prof. Einstein's explainers have pointed out that one sees the same star from two different points. This is explaind by the fact that the rays of light, as he points out, are deflected.

Discussing the general attitude towards his theory, he takes pains to stress that it was not at variance with the accepted findings of physics, and that, on the contrary, it was a development from them.

Carpenters Holding Out For $10 Daily

The contractors have gone to the lumber convention—and we carpenters have gone fishing," such was the assertion of W. B. McNeeley of the Carpenters union Tuesday afternoon before the union held its regular weekly meeting Tuesday night.

Union carpenters have not receded one iota from their stand that ten dollars a day is fair pay for their work, members declare.

Two men who had been working for Taylor Brothers, general contractors, who Saturday paid off on new work at eight dollars a day, quit.

According to the carpenters they went to Duncan and began work this morning at fifteen dollars a day.

CITY FATHERS INVESTIGATE DEPARTMENTS

A definite program, through which every department and every employe in every department of the city government will know just where it and he stands, will be ready by the end of the week for presentation at next Monday night's council meeting, it was indicated today by Commissioners W. M. Bonner, W. G. Bralley and J. F. Reed.

At present none of the commissioners had made sufficient progress on his investigation and the report which he is preparing to give a definite indication as to the attitude which he will assume, particularly as to personnel, pay, and future work.

None of the commissioners declared out and out for a general wage cut, though all three expressed themselves as believing that such a course might be desirable in certain cases.

In connection with the police department, Commissioner Bralley declared that he had as long as two months ago made a reduction of certain salaries in that department, and believed that the department was pretty much on a bed rock basis now.

"As wages come down, I would much rather improve the department by getting better men, than in reducing the wages and not being able to get better men.

"I have secured several high class men during the past few months as it is, and I would like to continue to add good men to the force."

CURLEE ARRIVES AT FATHER'S SIDE

News of the safe arrival of City Commissioner Walter S. Curlee at the bedside of his father at Mart, Texas, was received Tuesday afternoon.

Friends of Mr. Curlee were beginning to feel uneasy, as he made the trip in an airplane, and no word had been received at the flying field Tuesday noon as to the arrival of the plane.

The brief telegram from Mr. Curlee to Representative B. F. Johnson, his business partner, stated that his father was improving and might recover.

ENGLISH BEAUTY AND SOCIAL FAVORITE FORSAKES SOCIETY TO SUCCEED ON STAGE

Mrs. Sylvia Gough in her dressing room in Times Square theater.

Mrs. Sylvia Gough, well known in England for her beauty and also well known in society in the U. S., has forsaken society life for the stage. She recently made her debut as a chorus girl in "The Right Girl," now playing in New York. She is twenty-two and the wife of Capt. Wilfred Gough, son of Gen. Sir Hugh Sutlej-Gough. She was Miss Sylvia Comstead.
