Reds Destroy Vaunted Nazi Line In East

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Thursday, June 29.—Continuing the swift westward advance which in less than a week has re-occupied approximately 25,000 square miles of Russian soil and liberated some 5,000 places, Soviet troops captured the Nazi strongholds of Mogilev, Lepel and Osipovichi in White Russia yesterday and closed to within 50 miles of the historic city of Minsk, Moscow said today.

The new successes virtually destroyed the "Fatherland line" which the Germans had heavily fortified over a depth of many miles and brought the complete encirclement of Bobruisk, last Nazi stronghold in this system of fortifications.

Rail Junction Taken

By taking the railway junction of Osipovichi on the Minsk-Bobruisk line the Reds established a strong salient within 60 miles of Minsk from the southeast and to the northeast were even closer to the White Russian capital.

The Russian communique announced the capture of Kostritsa, eight miles northeast of Borisov, placing this important enemy base in imminent danger of capture.

Berlin radio said Soviet tank columns and troop concentrations were near Borisov and were being attacked by the German Air force. Moscow said Nazi troops were surrendering in large numbers and everywhere being routed at a tremendous cost in German lives and equipment.

1,000 Places Liberated

Altogether more than 1,000 populated places within the flaming 250-mile zone of fighting were taken during the day as the Soviet forces swept through what were reputed to be the Nazis' strongest defenses on the eastern front.

Mogilev fell to Col. Gen. Matvei Zakharov's Second White Russian Army after 24 hours of bitter street fighting, Premier Stalin announced.

In the course of blasting the Nazis out of their last fortress on the Dnepr river, the Russian troops captured two German generals, Lt. Gen. Bammlr and Maj. Gen. Ermannsdorf, and completely routed the 12th German Infantry division, said the daily broadcast communique.

Near Old Polish Border

The capture of Lepel placed the advancing First Baltic Army of Gen. Ivan Bagramian about 20 miles from the old Polish border, the closest the Reds have reached to the frontier in north central Russia.

Field dispatches said the Russians, who opened their tremendous summer offensive last Friday, were within 50 miles of

U.S. Warships Shell Kuriles

Marianas Also Pounded As Planes Rake Guam And Rota

By LIEF ERICKSON

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, June 28.—United States warships shelled Japanese positions in the northern Kuriles and on Tinian in the Marianas, thousands of miles apart, over the weekend, while carrier planes again raked Guam and Rota to support a further American advance on invaded Saipan, key island in the stepping-stone chain to Japan.

These fast-breaking actions were announced today by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz. He also reported futile attacks by Japanese torpedo planes on an American carrier force and transports off Saipan.

The advance on Saipan took Marines and infantry two miles northward along the eastern coast of that island. At the western end of the sector assault forces had battered their way further into Garapan. The Nipponese were making a desperate effort to hold that island capital city.

Principal Town Shelled

Kurabu Zaki, principal town at the southern tip of Paramushiro in the Kuriles, was shelled Sunday night. There were no details of this third bombardment of the war on that enemy naval base.

In the prelude to the shelling, Army and Navy planes hit Paramushiro and adjoining Shumushu island before dawn Sunday. They sarted several fires. A follow-up attack was made again before dawn Monday. In both strikes intense antiaircraft fire was encountered.

In Monday's attack, 11 Japanese interceptors pounded on a single Navy Ventura. The American gunners fought back, damaging two of the attackers. A third disappeared in the fog, trailing smoke. The Ventura was damaged superficially.

Two attacks were made by Nipponese torpedo bombers on the fleet off Saipan, both of which were unsuccessful. The first was directed at the carrier force screening the transports. The second, on Monday night, was against the transports.

Not a single American ship was hit in either attack. One enemy plane was shot down and probably a second.

On Saipan's flat eastern plain, American forces pushed beyond the villages of Donnay and Hashigoru.

On the island's western side further penetrations were made into Garapan, the island's major city, where stubborn Japanese are hiding out in ruined buildings.

The communique made no men-

Seven Major Aerial Blows Lash Europe

By GLADWIN HILL

LONDON, June 28—In one of the most impressive demonstrations of air power to date the Allies flung seven major heavy bomber spearheads into four European countries today, hammering important enemy installations all the way from France to Romania.

From England, fleets of American and British bombers roared out simultaneously in daylight for the first time, hitting an array of targets from French airfields to railroads within the Reich itself.

From Mediterranean

The Mediterranean Air force—with a force of some 500 heavy bombers plus fighter escorts—smashed two oil refineries at Bucharest, rail yards at Chitila, Romania, on the route to Bucharest from the Ploesti oil fields, and a German airdrome at Karlova, Bulgaria.

A Britain-based Liberator and Flying Fortress group split likewise into three task forces, one going to the railroad yards at Saarbrucken just across the German border, the second streaming over the Paris area for blows of unspecified targets, and the third rumbling on to Laon, 70 miles northeast of Paris, and unloading explosives on a trio of air bases.

Simultaneously, RAF Halifaxes gave flying bomb installations in the Pas-de-Calais their fourth heavy drubbing in less than 24 hours.

Normandy Lines Pounded

Fighter-bombers raced along the battle lines in Normandy, hammering convoys, troop concentrations and supply dumps.

Even this demonstration of Allied aerial might was heightened with the delayed announcement that Britain-based American Flying Fortresses which dealt Berlin one of the heaviest blows of the war on June 21 and then flew on to bases in Russia, had thundered out from the Soviet Monday, hurled bombs into an oil refinery at Drohobycz, in old Poland, and flown on to Italy to complete the first three-way shuttle bombing attack of the war.

At sea also the Germans felt the weight of the big Wednesday daylight offensive. RAF Beaufighters pounced on seven E-boats off Holland and left two of them burning.

The Ninth Airforce meanwhile disclosed one of the outstanding air support operations of the invasion in the announcement of the destruction Saturday and Sunday of eight German gun positions on the Cherbourg peninsula which the Americans had bypassed in their steamroller advance and which had been firing on the doughboys from the rear.

Three Divisions Of Nazis Thrown Into Big Turmoil

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press Staff Writer

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Thursday, June 29—British tanks and infantry backed by Canadian gunners caught the prize inland port of Caen in a steel nutcracker last night, reaching to within four miles southwest of the city and throwing at least three German divisions into turmoil in probably the greatest armored battle ever fought in western Europe.

North and northeast of Caen the British pressed down at distances of two to three miles from Caen in fierce, fluid combat between Epron and Herouville and along the Orne river canal, but it was the southwestern outflanking move that brought the greatest conflict and threw the Nazis into the deadliest peril.

Nazi Blows Beaten Off

Roger D. Greene, Associated Press correspondent with the British forces, said in a frontline dispatch that nine separate German counterattacks had been beaten off without any gain for the enemy, while the British tanks and Tommies pressed ahead, crossing the Odon river line at several places.

He said in three days of the British offensive more than 6 German tanks have been knocked out, making a total of more than 160 since the Allies invaded Normandy, June 6.

(The German-controlled Paris radio said early today that the American Second corps had launched an attack in the direction of St. Lo and that violent fighting was in progress.)

The German infantry has been so depleted, Greene wrote, that few prisoners are being taken, for the Germans are having to rely on their tanks and artillery in the ferocious but confused efforts to save Caen from encirclement.

35 Tanks Make Attack

German counterattacks were led by as many as 35 tanks each, but all failed.

(The German radio complained that the British had thrown in "considerable reserves, especially tanks and artillery," and that Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery was "stubbornly sticking to his intention of encircling the city of Caen from the south." It spoke

Yanks In 30 Miles Of Big Italian Port

By NOLAND NORGAARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

ROME, June 28. — American troops pushed within some 30 miles of the big Italian west coast port of Livorno (Leghorn) today after a savage all-night battle in which they hurled the Germans out of Sanvincenzo, a little coastal town which had been converted into a fortress.

The ferocity of the Nazis' resistance to the Yank advance was duplicated clear across the peninsula as the enemy clung stubbornly to every defensive position and took the fullest advantage of rough terrain. Fresh German infantry and guns continued to join the battle, and the fighting was the fiercest since the Gustav and Hitler lines were cracked at the outset of the Allied offensive.

Civilians Cleared Out

Every civilian was cleared from San Vincenzo before the Americans attacked last night, and for hours the fighting raged from house to house.

Field Marshal Albert Kesselring, having halted the disorganized flight of his forces, now obviously was determined to forestall an Allied assault on the "Gothic" line this summer. The rough country prevented swift thrusts by Allied armor.

(Wednesday's German high command communique told of "heavy, fluctuating fighting" the length of the Italian front and claimed the Allies gained only on the west coast).

Four miles inland from San Vincenze, other American armored forces surrounded and captured the town of Sasseta. Also occupied was the village of Chiusdino, 17 miles southwest of the communications center of Siena. French troops advanced to the vicinity of San Quirico D'Orcia, 22 miles southeast of Siena, after repulsing repeated Nazi counter-attacks.

Limited Gains By Eighth

Eighth Army forces registered limited gains at the main points of their attack both west and east of Lake Trasimeno, 80 miles north of Rome, where the Germans have offered bitter resistance for the past two weeks. Gioiella, five miles above Chiusi on the west side of the lake, fell to an Allied tank force after a six-hour fight. On the east side the Eighth Army stormed two heights about five miles above Perugia.

It was announced that 38 Nazi fighters were destroyed by American heavy bombers and escorting fighters over the Budapest area yesterday bringing to more than 100 the number shot down by the Italy-based air fleet in the past two days. Six Allied planes were lost yesterday.

Pros Undecided On Seat Appeal

HOUSTON, June 28. (AP)—The Houston Post said today that the delegation elected by the pro-Roosevelt "rump" Democratic state convention at Austin in May is now debating the advisability of attempting to be seated at the Democratic national convention in Chicago.

The story further said:

If the delegates do decide to make the attempt, they will be competing with a full slate of delegates picked by the "regular" convention from which the pro-Roosevelt forces bolted after being voted down twice.

Woodville Rogers, San Antonio lawyer who was named secretary to the rump delegation, in a letter to leaders of the fourth term movement advocates that the group of 42 delegates, 11 delegates at large and a similar number of alternates go to Chicago and ask to be seated.

Rolland Bradley, chairman of the Houston pro-Roosevelt group, wants the delegation to try before convention time to learn whether it would be seated.

Nevertheless, Bradley and the other delegates and alternates from Houston have already had Rogers make their hotel reservations for the convention.

Bradley said he had asked Alvin J. Writz, former state senator from Seguin, to go to men who will be legal advisers of the credentials committee at the national convention and find out the status of the rump and the regular delegations beforehand.

Nye Drops Behind In North Dakota Count

FARGO, N. D., June 28. (AP)—With a third of the state's precincts reported, from Tuesday's primary election, former national American Legion Commander Lynn U. Stambaugh had a 2,436-vote lead over incumbent Gerald P. Nye for the North Dakota Republican nomination for U. S. senator.

Stambaugh, Fargo attorney who based his campaign primarily on U. S. participation in world affairs, had 20,828 votes to Nye's 18,492 with 725 of the state's 2,251 precincts reported.

British Using Flail Tanks In Normandy

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, June 28 (AP)—The British army is using flail tanks on the Normandy battlefield to clear paths through the mine fields for troops and airmen across the front.

The tank, usually a Sherman, has a steel clyinder to which are attached lengths of chain several feet long. As the tank moves the cylinder revolves, beating the free ends of the chains against the ground. The flailing sets off the anti-personnel as well as the anti-tank mines.

JOHN W. BRICKER

Decision Comes On First Ballot

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO STADIUM, June 28. Goernor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, a small town boy who made good in the biggest city, became today the Republican party's wartime nominee for the presidency.

A national convention, which never for a minute had any other intention, picked the 42-year-old former crime-crusher by a 1056-to-1 vote. Then it made an all-governor, east-midwest ticket by handing Ohio's John W. Bricker the vice presidential nomination.

Farmer Only Holdout

A lone Wisconsin holdout, Grant Ritter, Beloit farmer, had cast a single ballot for General Douglas MacArthur for the presidency. Bricker was chosen unanimously.

Wendell L. Willkie, who didn't like the foreign policy plank ratified by the convention, nevertheless was quick to congratulate Dewey.

"You have one of the great opportunities of history," he said.

The convention today was a scene of hand-holding harmony. It shrieked and whistled at mention of men who might have been picked but weren't. It had doubts for a time about who would get second place, but not for long.

In Complete Control

Dewey-Bricker forces were in complete command. Action unfolded like a quick-breaking play from a T-formation.

Governor Dwight Griswold of Nebraska nominated Dewey:

"The past will have its spokesman in this campaign. I give to you, as the nominee of the Republican party, the spokesman of the future, Thomas E. Dewey."

Dewey Pledges End To One-Man Rule

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO STADIUM, June 28. —Gov. Thomas E. Dewey accepted the Republican presidential nomination tonight with a pledge to "end one-man government in America," crush Germany and Japan's will to make war, and devote himself to "rewinning freedom" at home.

The Roosevelt administration, he told cheering delegates in this jam-packed bowl, is grown "old and tired and quarrelsome in office," and is unequal to the great, pressing problems of war and peace.

No High Command Changes

Declaring that the military conduct of the war "must-remain competely out of politics," Dewey said he wanted to make it "crystal clear" that any change in administration would not involve changes in the high command.

"General Marshal and Admiral King are doing a superb job. Thank God for both of them," he exclaimed.

Flown here from Albany after his nomination at 12:55 p. m. (ewt), the short-statured New Yorker told the perspiration-bathed delegates who hope he will be-

Highlights In Dewey Speech

CHICAGO, June 28 (AP)—Salient statements from Thomas E. Deweys address accepting the Republican presidential nomination:

I come to this great task a free man. I have made no pledges, promises or commitments, expressed or implied, to any man or woman. I shall make none except to the American people.

To Americans of every party I pledge that on January 20th next year our government will again have a cabinet of the ablest men and women to be found in America.

This election will bring an end to one-man government in America.

The military conduct of the war is outside this campaign. It is and must remain completely out of politics.

The present administration in Washington has been in office for more than eleven years. Today, it is at war with Congress and at war with itself.

Does anyone suggest that the present national administration is giving either efficient or competent government? . . . It has grown old in office. It has become tired and quarrelsome.

There are only a few, a very few, who really believe that America should try to remain aloof from the world. There are only a relatively few who believe it would be practical for America or her Allies to renounce all sovereignty and join a superstate.

No organization for peace will last if it is slipped through by stealth or trickery or the momentary hypnotism of high-sounding phrases. It is no task to be entrusted to stubborn men, grown old and tired and quarelsome in office.

We Republicans are agreed that full employment shall be a first objective of national policy. By full employment I mean a real chance for every man and woman to earn a decent living at a decent wage.

WOULD BE YOUNGEST

CHICAGO, June 28 (AP)—Thomas E. Dewey of New York, if elected, would become the nation's youngest President—by a matter of 70 days.

The New York governor is 42—he was born March 24, 1902 — and if elected he would be inaugurated Jan. 20, 1945—or 42 days before his 43rd birthday anniversary.

Theodore Roosevelt also was 42 when he became President upon the death, by assassination, of William McKinley on Sept. 14, 1901. But (Nat was only 43 days before "Teddy's" 43rd birthday. He was born Oct. 27, 1858.

Named by Gov. Lehman special prosecutor to rid New York City of rackets and racketeers, 1935-37. Convicted Tammany district leader James J. Hines in a $20,000,000 "policy" racket and won national attention.

Elected New York county district attorney 1937.

Ran successfully for Republican gubernatorial nomination in New York in 1938, but lost election to Gov. Herbert Lehman by 64,000 in a total vote of 4,822,000.

Renominated in 1940 and defeated Democratic State Attorney General John J. Bennett by 650,000.

Inaugurated governor at age of 40 on Jan. 1, 1943.

Aussies Closing On Jap Hordes

By MURLIN SPENCER
Associated Press Staff Writer

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Thursday, June 29.—Compressing the eastern jaw of a trap on thousands of Japanese, Australians have advanced 80 miles in 28 days to within 70 miles of Wewak, British New Guinea.

The advance, which overran strategic Hansa Bay where much booty was seized, was announced today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

The Japanese have been falling back on Wewak since that base was bypassed by the simultaneous leapfrog invasions of Aitape, British New Guinea, and Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea, late in April.

Virtually Unopposed

Virtually unopposed, the Aussies started from Bunabun harbor May 31 and have reached the mouth of the Sepik river where they are less than 200 miles from Yank invaders or Aitape to the northwest. The advance, still unopposed, continues toward Wewak.

Hansa Bay fell June 15 but its capture was kept secret until today.

The announcement was the first pertaining to the Aussies in several weeks. The Australians have pushed on to the Sepik river.

Another Blow At Yap

The fourth raid since June 22 on Japan's air base of Yap in the Carolines also was reported. Twenty-seven tons of explosives were dropped on Yap's airdrome Monday and seven of 30 interceptors were shot down. The raids on Yap are in direct support of the invasion of Saipan in the Marianas, 700 miles to the northesat.

At MacArthur's westernmost point of advance, on Biak island in the Schoutens off north Dutch New Guinea, 272 more Japanese defenders have been slain, bringing the total enemy killed or captured there to 2,655. The invaders of the Schoutens possess four airfields within bombing range of the Philippines—three on Biak one on nearby Owi.

Two Firms Lose In Renegotiation Cases

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP) — Two cases involving contract renegotiation, one from Texas, were decided in favor of the government today by Judge Bolin B. Turner of the U. S. Tax courts.

The suits were the first to reach the courts.

Turner dismissed the suits, filed by the Sale Electric Supply Co., Longview, Tex., which had been ordered by the secretary of war to refund $148,000 of excessive profits on war contracts, and National Grinding Wheel Co., North Tonawanda, N. Y., which had been ordered to refund $260,000.

Both companies contended the renegotiation act was unconstitutional. The government moved for dismissal on the grounds that renegotiations had previously been agreed to by the companies.

Illness Halts Plan For Truett Reunion

DALLAS, June 28 (AP)—A family reunion which had been planned by Dr. and Mrs. George W. Truett in celebration of their golden wedding anniversary today was cancelled because of the Baptist churchman's illness, Mrs. Truett said.

Dr. and Mrs. Truett, who was the former Miss Josephine Jenkins of Waco, were married on June 28, 1894, while they were students at Baylor university.

Some Lamb Cuts And Cheese Go Back On Ration List Sunday And Point Values On Beef To Rise Slightly

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP) — Choice lamb cuts and some cheeses go back on the ration list Sunday and current values on beef steaks and roasts go up one to two points a pound, the office of Price administration announced tonight.

In ordering the first important changes since most meat was removed from rationing May 4, Price Administrator Chester Bowles said:

"We are forced to increase the point values for the more popular cuts of beef because we will have a 12 per cent decrease in supply of rationed beef for distribution to civilians in July."

Bowles said three out of every four OPA district offices had reported that lamb was short of demand, and in a majority of areas it was scarce. Choice steaks, chops and roasts are the cuts returned to rationing. Values range from three to 10 points a pound, slightly higher than in April.

The increase ordered for beef raises point values for the choice cuts to the highest level since the start of rationing, OPA said.

The new red point chart, covering the period through July 29, continues butter at 12 points a pound and margarine at two. Cheddar cheese remains at 10 points a pound, but the so-called perishable varieties, ration-free the last 10 days, go back on the list at four points a pound, instead of at the 10-point value they had previously.

Except for choice beef and lamb, all meat—including canned varieties—remains point-free. So does canned fish. But the ration value of canned milk is hiked to 2-3 of a point a pound, up from half a point.

Despite restoration of points for lamb, 30 red points for buying meats and fats will continue to be the monthly allotment. OPA explained that the amount of lamb put under rationing balances the expected decrease in beef supply, and that consequently points will go just as far.

Over-all estimates show, OPA said, that the supply of all meats for civilians in July will be about 1,235,000,000 pounds on a retail trim basis, or only four-tenths of one per cent below the June level. There will be more veal and pork, while the supply of lamb will be about the same. The amount of rationed beef will be about 252,000,000 pounds, compared with 288,000,000 pounds this month.

While the present butter value is being maintained, there will be slightly less available. July allocations for civilians total 130,000,000 pounds. In June, the allotment was 133,000,000 pounds. Margarine supply, however, totals 50,000,000 pounds, up 9,000,000 pounds.

The canned milk point value was boosted slightly to slow a too-rapid movement into consumption, OPA said.

Gilchrist Reassures Extension Workers

COLLEGE STATION, June 28. (AP)—President Gibb Gilchrist of Texas A&M college today told the college's extension service headquarters and field staffs that he did not know of any major changes contemplated in the organization at this time.

Speaking at the closing sessions of a refresher conference attended by 500 extension agents and specialists, Gilchrist said the advice and counsel of extension workers would be expected on any changes that might be considered.

Gilchirst reviewed the status of E. R. Eudaly, appointed last fall by the college board of directors as extension director, whose confirmation was refused by M. L. Wilson, federal extension director. Officials said another communication from Wilson was expected shortly following conferences between Gilchirst and Wilson in Washington recently.

Acting extension director J. D. Prewit said the Texas extension service is the largest in the nation and employes more than 1,200 persons.

SOUR GRAPES FOURTH

A PARLOR picnic in your cool living room, a porch barbecue or a gardening party with a nice cool shower within reach are suggested as substitutes for the outdoor picnics that were such strenuous jaunts in pre-war days.

After all, the park or the great open spaces weren't too much fun on a hot day. Remember how the flies used to bite and the sand got all mixed up with the hard boiled eggs and the sandwiches? To say nothing of the annoying little ants that crawled into the lunch basket or the mosquitoes that had no respect for persons.

* * *

And think of getting to forgo the pleasure of chasing Junior, who usually would manage to fall into a lake, burn himself with a firecracker or put a toad in the lunch basket.

* * *

THEN there was that drive home. Long lanes of stop and go traffic with everyone deciding to return home at the same time. The only satisfaction was limping out of the car, kicking your shoes off and hoping you could beat the rest of the family to the shower.

This year you can plan your recreation to suit the weather and your temperament. There are store-bought games that numbers of people can play, including some outdoor ones like badminton and table tennis.

Not that ants and bugs and mosquitoes won't find their way into your backyard. But at least you will be near home remedies for dealing with the pests.

GI DIVORCES

AN organization to protect overseas soldiers from profiteering war wives is a vital current need. Unfaithful wives and those who marry soldiers as a business can flaunt their cheating to absent husbands with no fear of losing the monthly allotment.

It is almost impossible for the husband to get a divorce while he is out of the country, he cannot have the allotment check stopped and there is no organization to investigate the situation and bring about justice. He is powerless to do anything but support and despise the woman until he returns. Such an organization could be local or federal and might easily be included as a branch of some organization now dealing with the unusualy needs of soldiers.

WOMEN AND PEACE

THIS is the first war in which American women have had full citizenship and we are glad to observe many of them are seriously concerned about the possibility of using their power toward building a permanent peace.

Through the ages women have hated war and talked peace but have never put their wprds directly into action. Now the opportunity is approaching when the women will be enabled to make their desires felt.

The Woman's Angle sees hope in the evidence women are keeping posted on political trends. They are becoming aware of the need for a post war world that will present a workable and enduring peace.

Only time will tell how intelligently women will use their vote this year.

South Plains Woman's Club Entertains With A Luncheon Wednesday Afternoon

In a setting of summer garden flowers, silver wedding bells and satin ribbons and with a huge three-tiered cake centering one table, the South Plains Woman's club entertained with a luncheon Wednesday afternoon at the officers' club, having as special guests several young Lubbock women who are engaged to officers or to young men who are officer candidates.

Before the luncheon, the guests were invited to a room off the lounge where two tables displayed appropriate wartime bridal gifts and where a long table held appointments for a wedding reception. A huge bowl of white peonies formed the centerpiece for the beautifully laid board, being flanked with tall white tapers in crystal candelabra. The punch bowl and cups were at one end of the table and at the other was a three-tiered, white cake embossed in pale pink flowers.

Mrs. James A. DeMarco, wife of the commanding officer of the field and honorary president of the club, had arranged the tables and selected the gifts.

During the meal the post orchestra played.

Mrs. Chester Williams, club president, presided for the program after the luncheon and introduced the secretary, Mrs. Herbert Mueller who presented the guests of honor, Misses Yvonne Westmoreland, Margaret Cammack, Betty Cross, Lucille and Audrey Melton, Margaret Ann Bell, Joan Norton, Margarette Leggitt, Margaret Hiatt, Eva Lea, Lou Deane Blair and Ann Segulia. Mrs. Mueller gave a talk on military weddings.

Mrs. DeMarco introduced Capt. James C. Eldredge post adjutant, who spoke on customs and duties of officers wives.

During the business meeting it was announced club members purchased $525 in bonds preceding the luncheon.

Games of bridge were played later in the afternoon.

The club has been invited to a tea to be given by the Army Air Base Ladies club at LAAF this afternoon between 3 and 5 o'clock. Members of the Tech Faculty Women's club also will be guests.

Mrs. Thomas Dewey Is Recalled As Lovely, Agreeable Child

SHERMAN, June 28. (AP)—Old acquaintances said today they remembered Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey as a pretty, golden-haired, brown-eyed child who was agreeable, artistic and energetic.

As Frances Eileen Hutt, born here Feb. 7, 1903, the wife of the governor of New York and Republican presidential nominee, lived in Sherman until she moved with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orla Thomas Hutt, to Sapulpa, Okla., when she was 11.

"I remember well the way Frances looked in a red cloak and hood she wore to Sunday school," said Mrs. Charles Batsell, who taught a primary Sunday school class at Travis Street Methodist church which the Hutt family attended.

"The children called her Little Red Riding Hood when she wore that outfit."

During the time the Hutt family lived in Sherman, the home of Mrs. Dewey's grandmother, Mrs. Anna Hutt, was family headquarters.

Mrs. Anna Hutt, left a widow, reared O. T. Hutt, father of Mrs. Dewey, and his two brothers and a sister.

Levelland Lions To Hold Ladies Night

LEVELLAND, June 28. (Special)—Levelland Lions club Thursday night will hold its annual "ladies night" along with the installation of new officers.

The event will begin at 9 o'clock in the Legion hall.

Elmer J. Moore, superintendent-elect of local schools, will give the main address. Another speaker will be 1st Lt. H. B. Tyra, jr., on leave in his hometown after 13 months of bombing work in the Pacific.

James A. Ellis, Hockley county judge, will be installed as president to succeed G. T. Hatton.

Fletcher A. Benbow will serve as master of ceremonies.

Mary Ellen Brown Marries Lt. Jones

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis E. Brown of Slaton are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Mary Ellen, to Lt. Robert E. Jones, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Jones of Lubbock, which took place Monday at the First Methodist church with Dr. H. I. Robinson officiating.

Miss Imogene Janusry of Claude and Lt. Bill Casey, Lubbock, were attendants.

Church Class Plans Picnic For Friday

Members of Parents class of First Methodist church will have a picnic Friday night at 7:30 o'clock at Mackenzie State park. Those who go are asked to meet at the church and to go from there to the park.

Mesdames Marvin Miller's and H. V. Stanton's groups are to prepare and serve the supper.

SPAAF-IES TO MEET

Mrs. Raymond Johns, 1313 Thirtieth street, will be hostess June 30 to members of SPAAF-ies. Eight attended the last meeting when Mrs. Glenn Schnupper gave instructions for playing bridge.

WEDDING IS READ

The marriage of Miss Mary Margaret Griffith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Griffith of Lockney, and Sgt. Bob Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshal Davis of Amarillo, took place Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the First Methodist church at Tucson, Ariz. Mrs. Davis is an honor graduate of Lockney High school and attended Texas Technological college for two years.

Sgt. Davis served as president of the junior and senior classes of Lockney High school. He is serving with the Army air corps, stationed at Tucson, as flight engineer and top turret gunner.

Landon Praises GOP Platform

CHICAGO, June 28. (AP)—Alf M. Landon, expressing impatience with "shallow criticism" of the Republican platform, asserted today that it is "a realistic and forward-looking program" and is "remarkably simple and meaningful."

The 1936 GOP standard-bearer discussed the platform in an address over CBS.

"With it and the efficient leadership of Thomas E. Dewey," he said, "we can look forward with hope and confidence not only to a victory next November for the American people as against New Deal bureaucracy, but what is more important, we can look forward to getting our sons and daughters home again and, God willing, return to the peace and prosperity that is the birthright of free men."

Opposed By Willkie

Wendell Willkie, 1940 Republican presidential nominee, and others have criticized particularly the foreign policy plank proposing to maintain post-war security of "peace forces" but opposing a "world state."

Landon said the platform reflects the majority opinion of the more than 1,000 delegates.

In the case of the Democrats, he said, the platform was simply handed down from the White House in 1936 and 1940 "with what amounted to an order that it be adopted."

Mexico To Continue As Refugee Haven

MEXICO CITY, June 28. (AP)—Mexican diplomats will continue to give asylum in their embassies to political refugees in other countries because "this is a proof of international friendship and interest in the welfare of other countries," Foreign Minister Ezequiel Padilla said today.

Padilla was questioned as to whether Guatemalan revolters had sought refuge in the Mexican embassy in Guatemala City. He said he had no reports on this, then added his comment about the continuation of the Mexican policy.

5th War Loan Sales Total $5,805,000,000

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP)—War bond sales in the Fifth War loan drive totaled $5,805,000,000 through yesterday, the Treasury reported today. This is 36 per cent of the $16,000,000,000 quota.

Sales to individuals totaled $1,919,000,000, 32 per cent of the quota for these sales, and sales to corporations and other non-banking investors totaled $3,886,000,000 or 39 per cent of this quota.

The drive, which opened June 12, will be concluded July 8.

Maas Heads New Employe Group Division For Bond Sales Drive

* * *

Organization of a campaign division entirely new to war loan drives in Lubbock is scheduled at a meeting in the chamber of commerce at 10:30 o'clock this morning, County Chairman Neil H. Wright announced Wednesday.

It is the "employe groups" division with A. H. Maas, department store executive, as its colonel.

To the division is assigned the job of establishing contracts with employes of most of the firms in the county with eight to 10 or more workers on their payrolls and to urge their support of the Fifth War Loan drive now in progress. Cooperation of employers will be asked in making the contracts.

Great Aid Is Seen

Belief is, drive officials said, that the new division will simplify considerably the work of the all-out general solicitations campaign which has been set for July 6 and 7 under the direction of James L. Quicksall, automobile supplies dealer and past president of the chamber of commerce.

Quicksall's appointment as colonel of the general solicitations division was announced Wednesday. He replaces M. B. Hilburn, who is out of the city.

Both Maas and Quicksall announced the appointments of their majors, and the first meeting of Quicksall's group was held Wednesday afternoon. The majors in Maas' division are to attend this morning's meeting.

Personnel Selected

Those serving with Quicksall are Earl B. Collins, J. A. Raley, jr., Bob Fuller, J. C. Reynolds and J. Ben Cole. Each is now engaged in completing a team of captains and each captain will select a team of lieutenants.

Majors named by Maas are Newt Walton, Marion Sanford, W. O. Daniels, Tom Ingram, C. L. Minyard and H. D. Woods.

Lubbock county still is far behind its Fifth Loan quota of $4,685,000, including $1,110,000 in Series E bonds. Totals reported to drive headquarters in the chamber of commerce show less than $1,200,000 in total investments, including less than $400,000 in Series E issues.

Lt. Clyde Jones, Jr., Missing In Action

A former Lubbock and Plainview resident, Lt. Clyde L. Jones, jr., was reported missing in action by the War department, according to a message received Wednesday by his father, Clyde L. Jones, who is here with the Federal Public housing authority. He was reported missing over Hungary on June 18.

The pilot's parents now live in Fort Worth.

Lt. Jones, pilot of a Lightning fighter plane (P-38) had five enemy planes to his credit on June 17, the day before he was reported missing.

Lt. Jones has been overseas about 90 days. He received his wings and commission at Williams field, Chandler, Ariz., Dec. 5, 1943.

Two South Plains Men Awarded Air Medals

Air medals for "meritorious achievement" while participating in flight missions in the Southwest Pacific have been presented to two South Plains soldiers, an Associate Press dispatch from New Guinea revealed Wednesday.

They are: Staff Sgt. Robert W. Hancock of Morton and Tech Sgt. John W. Walker of Levelland.

They were among a group of eleven Texans to be decorated by Lt.-Gen. George C. Kenney, commander of the Allied Air Forces in the Southwest Pacific.

Death Penalty For Slayer Is Commuted

AUSTIN, June 28. (AP) — On recommendation of the board of pardons and paroles Governor Coke R. Stevenson today committed to life imprisonment the death sentence assessed Ramon G. Munoz in Bexar county in the slaying of Aolfo Rojo.

The governor's proclamation said numerous Bexar county citizens had sought clemency for Munoz who came from a good family and whose record "before the trouble" was good.

Munoz had been scheduled to face the electric chair July 2.

The governor also granted a 30-day stay of execution for William Johnson, Fayette county negro, who was sentenced to death in the slaying of his wife.

The new execution date for Johnson is August 27.

Texas Spring Pig Crop Decreases 35 Per Cent

AUSTIN, June 28. (U.P.) — The Texas spring pig crop (Dec. 1, 1943 to June 1, 1944) was estimated today by the Federal Bureau of Agricultural Economics at 1,392,000 head. This is a decrease of approximately 35 per cent from the record of the previous spring, but 22 per cent higher than the 10-year average.

A decrease of 40 per cent in sows to farrow for the fall period (June 1 to Dec. 1) was indicated by breeding intention reports.

HEALTH QUIZ

	YES	NO
Do you have poor digestion?	☐	☐
Do you feel headachy after eating?	☐	☐
Do you get sour or upset easily?	☐	☐
Do you feel tired—listless?	☐	☐

Now everyone knows that to get the good out of the food you eat—you must digest it properly. But what most people don't know is that Nature must produce about two pints of the digestive juice—liver bile—each day to help digest your food. If Nature fails, your food may remain undigested, lie sour and heavy within you.

Thus, it is simple to see that one way to aid digestion is to increase the flow of liver bile. Now, Carter's Little Liver Pills start to increase this flow quickly for thousands—often in as little as thirty minutes. When bile flow increases, your digestion may improve. And, soon you're on the road to feeling better—which is what you're after.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's, taken as directed, aid digestion after Nature's own order. Get Carter's Little Liver Pills today—only 25c. You'll be glad you did.

No Early Relief Seen In Lumber Situation

Members of the Lubbock Rotary club were told by S. L. Forrest at their luncheon Wednesday noon in the Hilton hotel that the lumber situation cannot be improved very much until the war with Germany is over, at which time restrictions on building materials will be relieved somewhat.

The building industry can be of great help in the reconstruction period following the war, he said, adding that many men will be put to work by that industry. He pointed out that the government is using a huge supply of lumber in the conduct of the war. "Some of us are inclined to be irritated because of restrictions on building material and might think the government is taking more than it needs, but I would rather see them have a huge stock pile of lumber at the close of the war than to see our boys killed because we failed to send that extra ship load of lumber," Forrest said.

He added that following the war men must be put back to work. "How can we better put them to work than by building." He said that price ceilings will probably remain on lumber following the close of the war.

W. T. Strange, jr., discussed new methods of building in the post war period. The speakers were introudced by Walter Posey, program chairman. A new member, Irving L. Jones, was introduced by O. W. Ribble.

A. T. Cocanougher, vice president of the club, who presided at the luncheon, introduced in-coming president, C. A. Bestwick, who will preside at next week's meeting.

Capt. Frank Corwin of Minneapolis, who has been squadron adjutant and commander, has been transferred to Greensboro, N. C. He has been at the field since April, 1942

Louisiana City Judge Is Charged In Shooting

ALEXANDRIA, La., June 28. (U.P.)—Gus A. Voetz, city judge for the last seven years, surrenderd to parish authorities today after Lee Novo, an attorney, was shot to death in the business district after an argument over $4.

Witnesses said Voetz shot in self defense after Novo, who was recently restored to practice after being suspended from the state bar, accused the judge of owing him $4 and saying he was determined to collect it.

Voetz was walking along the street with Chief of Police George Gray when Novo accosted him. Novo was shot twice in the chest and once in the abdomen.

Sheriff Grady Kelly said a coroner's jury has been summoned to investigate the shooting.

Tuberculosis Leading Cause Of Death For Texans, 21 To 45

AUSTIN, June 28. (AP) — The State Department of Health today said that tuberculosis is the leading cause of death in Texas for persons between 21 and 45 years of age.

It represents a further problem, that it offers one of the greatest sources of infection to family groups, particularly when older people carry the germ which is not always, chronic catarrah and allied diseases.

For the week ending June 17, the department reported 735 cases of tubercolosis as compared with 72 for the same week over a 7-year median.

The following herbs can be grown in a home herb garden: basil, chive, mina, sweet marjoram, nasturtium, watercress, tarragon caraway, parsley, celery, anise, savory, dill, thyme, and sage.

Thief Spills $15,000 Worth Of Jewelry On Street In Houston

HOUSTON, June 28. (U.P.)—Jewelry valued at $15,000 spilled onto the sidewalks in downtown Houston today as a clumsy thief dropped a tray of gems in attempting to outrun a lone pursuer.

Dixie Romano, manager of the Sam Becker Jewelry company, saw the thief take the tray from a show window. Romano gave pursuit and collared the heavy-footed villian after a chase of two blocks.

In an apparent attempt to lighten his load for a getaway, the thief dropped the jewel tray. All but two rings, one valued at $1,500 and the other at $700, were picked up a curious crowd of people and returned to Romano.

No Expiration Set On Sugar Stamp 37

In answer to many inquiries concerning the use of spare stamp No. 37 in obtaining sugar for home canning, the Lubbock district Office of Price administration has announced that this spare stamp is used for identification purposes only and therefore has no expiration date.

Although the first period for applying for home canning sugar ends Saturday, July 1, those who do not receive their ten pounds during this period will not lose any sugar, officials said. A second period during which applicants may receive ten, or twenty pounds if they can establish need, will be designated later.

This explanation came to prevent an unnecessary rush on sugar stocks by those who feared they might lost part of their home canning sugar.

The women they'll never forget!

THIS WAS A RED-LETTER DAY for Jim—the soldier who had lost the use of his leg at Salerno. For this day he walked—strictly alone—for the first time in months. To Jim, it was a miracle. To the Wac who had coached him so long and so patiently, he said, "Sister, if I live to be a million, I'll always remember you for this."

THIS IS A WORLD WAR. The most terrible of all recorded events in human history.

And this is what the Wacs—the women soldiers of our Army—are doing about it:

Working in critical hospital jobs. Helping to restore the broken bodies and spirits of fighting men.

Working as lip-readers. Helping blind men to see again through knowledge of Braille. Working as laboratory technicians. As pharmacists. As psychiatric assistants. As ambulance drivers.

Working in control towers. Making strategy maps for invasion.

Manning the giant switchboards that send combat orders winging to tensely waiting bomber crews.

Working night and day at vital jobs. Jobs that will speed the day of liberation—and give us peace again.

These are the women "they'll never forget"...

Gallantly, a new page is being written into American history by the women of the Women's Army Corps.

Nazis Serve Polite Notice That They Are Taking Over In Finland

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press War Analyst
(Substituting for Kirk L. Simpson)

Hitler might well have marched troops into Finland anyway. He needs it.

His foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, went instead to Helsinki. But his was military business, not diplomacy.

Basically, their proposition was this: "We are taking over. It's up to you whether we do it by force."

Probably 12 Divisions

Conservative military estimates place the probable German stretch in Finland now at 10 divisions. Since the Nazis were credited with seven divisions already in the northern part of the country, and now are reported to have moved in another five, the total well could be nearer twelve, possibly higher.

The purpose of these troops is to guard the northern flank of Fortress Europe and keep it anchored to the relatively inaccessible Arctic.

This is designed to accomplish a number of things which Hitler could not foreseeeably gain any other way.

Several Purposes

First it tends to draw off Russian troops from the steam-roller campaign against the German advance base of Minsk in White Russia. It removes the danger of Finland falling easily to the Russians and keeps them away from the key Baltic naval base of Hangoe in southwest Finland.

Finland also is vital to the Nazis because of its mineral wealth. It is the chief source of nickel left to them.

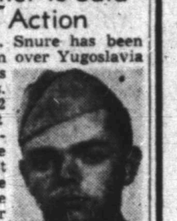

The unhappy country's geographical position protects other Nazi mineral wealth obtained from the iron mines of Norway around Narvik, which is shipped by rail down through Sweden to the Gulf of Bothnia and thence by boat to Germany.

Lubbock Flier Is Said Missing In Action

Lt. Charles L. Snure has been missing in action over Yugoslavia since June 16 his mother, Mrs. Dixie Lowe, 2802 Twenty-first street, was informed by the War department Wednesday. He had been in the Italian theater only four days when he went on the mission as a bombardier. Lt. Snure lacked only a few hours of graduation from Texas Technological college, where he was a petroleum engineering student, when he enlisted in the Army air corps. He played in Jack York's orchestra.

Severe Pinch On Civilian Goods Still Ahead, WPB Official Says

WASHINGTON, June 28. (AP) — The civilian is "just beginning to feel the pinch" of wartime shortages and, despite government efforts to fill in the worst gaps in civilian supply, can expect no large-scale relief until the war ends, Director William Y. Elliott of the Office of Civilian requirements, stated today.

"Up to this point this country has suffered no serious deprivation," the War Production board official said in an interview. "Now the war is coming home to civilians."

Tougher Times Foreseen

"The average American must expect a very thin time of it unless there is an early end to hostilities."

Large supplies of consumer goods built up in the period of intensive manufacture before war work hit its stride have now been drained from factory, wholesale and retail stocks, Elliott explained.

A new shortage has developed in steel—which will affect all consumers' goods made of that metal, Elliott reported, adding that the munitions cutbacks that were expected to cut military demands have not arrived.

One Example Cited

"One result is a delay in our plans to remove stoves from rationing," Elliott disclosed.

"Some of the shortages were foreseen and cured — some like aluminum were more than cured," he added.

"But certain shortages we never thought of showed up. No American was willing to think, for instance, that manpower could limit our production, but it is the major problem now. Our manpower is not always applied to the right things—there probably is plenty of manpower if it were properly distributed."

Problem On Textiles

In cotton textiles WPB is now "up against the question: What is essential," Elliott said. Experts now are trying to compile a list of "luxury" fabrics which can be prohibited form manufacture, he stated.

"The wool situation is the only comfortable situation in the entire civilian economy," Elliott said, but manpower shortages prevent letting up on restrictions even there.

Teacher Group Cannot Be Paid By State

AUSTIN, June 28. (U.P.)—A ruling from the attorney general's department today held that the state board of education cannot legally pay expenses of an advisory committee of teachers, supervisors and school administrators making a study of supplementary readers and text books used in public schools.

The opinion holds that the recommendation on textbooks is a duty of the text book committee, and that if assistance is obtained from others it must be without expense to the state.

The advisory committee already has held several sessions in Austin.

Anti-Aircraft Unit Knocks Itself Out

A LIBERATOR BASE, in Southern Italy, June 27. (Delayed) (AP)—A Liberator was just leveling out for a run over an oil refinery in Austria.

The bomb bay was open and the bombardier was waiting to pull the release when an anti-aircraft shell burst beneath it, severing the bomb shackles and releasing the load of explosives.

"And that was one shell that boomeranged," said Sgt. Louis C. Plath, McAllen, Tex., "because the bombs fell right in the middle of the target."

NEW AVIATION CENTER

WASHINGTON, June 28. (AP)—An aircraft modification and engineering center employing about 2,500 persons will be opened about July 3 at the government-owned aircraft plant now leased to the Brewster Aeronautical corporation at Johnsville, Pa., the Navy announced today. The plant will be operated as a branch of the naval air military center at Philadelphia.

Bricker Believes In Keeping Government Close To The People

By EDWIN B. GREENWALD
Associated Press Staff Writer

COLUMBUS, O., June 28. (AP)—John W. Bricker, three times governor of Ohio, says his philosophy of government is simple: "Government must be kept close to the people; and the cleaner the politics, the better the government."

And the way to run a government, he says, is to organize it on sound business principles, and let nature take its course.

That course in Ohio entailed among other things lopping off thousands of state employes while Ohio's financial situation rose from a $40,000,000 deficit when he took office in 1939 to a $75,000,000 surplus last January.

Bricker is a very determined man of 50. He is, in fact, spoken of by his friends as often arbitrary and occasionally bull-headed, but the tall white-haired governor smiles and says this is not true. He says he has an open mind until that moment when it is made up and then he goes forward unchangeably.

Handsome, better than six feet tall and weighing a bit over 200, Bricker has that traditional but rare present day background of American politics—he was born in a log cabin.

There has been nothing spectacular about his rise from a farm in nearby Madison county. He has, seemingly, followed a precise pattern of endeavor, moving up with constancy.

Chaplain In Army

Bricker was born with a twin sister, Ella, on Sept. 6, 1893, to the Lemuel Spencer Brickers near Mount Sterling in central Ohio. He attended a township school, went to high school in Mount Sterling, and then on to Ohio state university here. He got his bachelor of arts degree in 1916, entered law college and passed the state bar examination a year later.

The World war interrupted his study and he joined the Army as a chaplain, but the war ended before he went overseas.

He married Harriet Day of Urbana, O., after the war, finished school and became city attorney of Grandview Heights, a Columbus suburb. In 1923 he was named as assistant Ohio attorney general, but quit after four years to resume private law practice. In 1929, he was named a member of the state utilities commission and three years later was elected attorney general, then won a second term in 1934. He lost his bid for the governorship in 1936, but came back to win in 1938 and has been there since.

El Paso Retailers Report Sales Hike

AUSTIN, June 28. (AP)—Retail stores, exclusive of department stores, in the El Paso area last month showed an increase of 17.6 per cent in sales as compared with May, 1943, the University of Texas bureau of business research reported today.

The gain from April 1944 was 7.2 per cent. An increase of 14.2 per cent was reflected in sales from Jan. 1 to June 1 as compared with the same period last year.

TB Said Texas' Main Problem Of Health

AUSTIN, June 28 (AP) — The state health department said today that tuberculosis is probably the most important current health problem in Tex

The department bulletin reflected 735 new tuberculosis cases for the week ended June 17 compared with a seven-year median for the same week of 72 cases.

The incidence of typhus fever also remained high with 57 new cases compared with 11 for the seven-year median for the week.

Patriots Blamed In Vichy Murder

LONDON, June 28. (AP)—French underground executioners struck boldly in Paris early today, killing Philippe Henriot, Vichy minister of propaganda, and apparently escaped death or capture themselves.

Fifteen or 20 uniformed patriots invaded the ministry-home of the "Goebbels of France" and shot him down in his bedroom, Axis radios reported. Neither the enemy broadcasts nor a subsequent speech of sympathy by Pierre Laval, Vichy chief of government, mentioned any arrests. Transocean News agency said flatly that the assailants escaped.

An Associated Press dispatch from Madrid said, however, that according to reports reaching the Spanish border, Henroit was slain by one of his own bodyguards in his office as the result of a quarrel with other Vichy propagandists over present policies.

An editorial Henroit wrote in Monday's Echo de Nancy intimated he believed the German cause was lost, saying, "Now France is a battlefield and it is too late to weep."

The dramatic blow silenced one of the most hated voices in France. Since his appointment as propaganda minister last January, the 55-year-old former schoolteacher has broadcast twice daily, exhorting Frenchmen to aid the Nazis for the sake of the future of France.

A broadcast by the German DNB news agency said several carloads of men drove up to the gate before Henriot's residence just before 6 a. m., today and held up two guards with tommyguns. Three men, "evidently acquainted with the plan of the house," then entered and shot down Henroit in his pajamas, the agency reported.

Laval, going on the Paris radio at the hour Henriot had been making one of his daily broadcasts, bitterly attacked the members of the French resistance movement, charging that they wanted to "precipitate France into civil war."

Henriot became the most important French collaborationist yet to fall. An effort was made to kill Henriot at Tarbes in May, 1943, when three bombs exploded in a hall where he was speaking. Several persons were killed but Henriot escaped injury.

James Farley Pays Tribute To Texans

DALLAS, June 28. (AP)—James A Farley, former Democratic national committee chairman, paid tribute here today to the American people for being able to conduct a spirited domestic political campaign and at the same time fight a great war.

Foreign peoples don't understand this, and perhaps never shall, he said.

Farley told a private luncheon group that after talking to about 100 persons in Texas the last few days he had decided the local political situation was "bewildering."

"But politics in my own home is a bit mixed up," he added, amid laughter, referring to a report his wife had announced she didn't intend to vote for President Roosevelt for a fourth term.

Farley, returning from a business trip to Mexico, said he thought "the people of the north haven't the slightest conception of the problems and attitude of the people of Texas—or other southern states."

No matter what happens at the in Chicago, Farley said he would remain in the party. "Now and in the future, I want to be helpful to my party, my city and country."

Farley declined comment on Governor Dewey as the likely Republican nominee, except to say he had been a good governor for New York state.

Normandy Casualties 40,162 For Allies

LONDON, June 28. (AP) — The first two weeks of the European invasion cost the Allies 40,549 casualties, including 24,162 Americans killed, wounded or missing, supreme headquarters announced today. This compared with 70,000 German casualties in three weeks of battle.

The Allied casualty figures do not include last week's losses in the final assault on Cherbourg, or in the launching of the new British offensive in the Caen sector.

The casualty total for the period from June 6 to June 20, inclusive, listed 3,082 Americans killed, 12.7 per cent of all American losses. Many of these came in the first two bloody days of fighting on the beaches, when elements of the First and 29th divisions ran headlong into a German division engaged in maneuvers.

The British lost 1,842 dead, 13.5 per cent of their total losses, and the Canadians, 363, or 12.9 per cent of their casualties. The total dead for all forces was 5,287, 13 per cent of the total casualties.

Total missing in the fighting in France was 12,183, some of whom probably are dead. Wounded totaled 23,079.

U.S. Break With Finland Likely

WASHINGTON, June 28. (AP)—American relations with Finland appeared today to be headed for a final break as the result of the Finnish government's announcement that it will fight an active war with the Nazis against Russia.

At the same time, further diplomatic moves were under consideration to show this nation's concern over Argentina's failure to take part in a united hemispheric front against the Axis.

The decision is now up to President Roosevelt on whether to snap the thin diplomatic thread remaining between the United States and Finland since Finnish Minister Hjalmar Procope was sent home from Washington ten days ago. Officials here consider it extremely unlikely that Finland would take the first step.

Gradual Deterioration

Since Pearl Harbor, when Finland was already fighting Russia at the side of the Nazi, this government has maintained gradually deteriorating ties with the Finns in the hope that they would get out of the war, but has often denounced the course Finland chose.

American diplomatic relations deteriorated on another front with the recall of Ambassador Norman Armour from Argentina.

The State department is consulting constantly with other Latin-American republics on the policy toward Argentina. There is a strong likelihood, observers said, that when Armour's report is circulated, there will be a joint expression of disapproval of the militaristic Argentine regime.

Texas Half-Way On Bond Quota

DALLAS, June 28 (AP)—Metropolitan Dallas led the nation's larger cities in the Fifth War Loan drive and Texas has passed the half-way mark, Chairman Nathan Adams of the war finance committee of Texas said tonight.

The U. S. treasury department confirmed that Dallas had purchased $76,545,857.09 in bonds as against a quota of $74,890,000, Adams' aides said.

May Reach 100 Million

Leaders predicted that at the present bond-buying pace, Dallas county will have purchased $100,000,000 by July 8, closing date of the drive.

For the state, official over-all sales stood at $287,372,243.00 yesterday—51.2 per cent of the over-all quota of $464,000,000.

17 Counties Over Top

Seventeen of Texas' 254 counties had gone over the top, according to latest official reports. These counties are Andrews, Angelina, Archer, Callahan, Camp, Clay, Fisher, Harrison, Jim Hogg, Mills, Panola, Real, Stephens, Sutton, Taylor, Upshur, and Wallacy counties.

Adams announced that series E sales have reached $50,806,812.50, or 45.6 per cent of the quota for individuals.

Garner Refuses To Comment On Charge

UVALDE, Tex., June 28. (AP) — Former Vice President John N. Garner today said he had no comment on an address last night in Richmond, Va., by Rixey Smith, who mentioned Garner in connection with what Smith termed a "plot" to effect a southern "revolt" against Roosevelt political interests.

Garner was asked by newsmen whether he had any comment.

Smith, secretary to Senator Carter Glass, was quoted as predicting a full "expose" soon of an anti-Roosevelt move which he said involved James A. Farley, former chairman of the National Democratic committee, Garner and "others."

Smith, one of the organizers of the committee of 100 for the re-election of President Roosevelt, declared "renegade Democrats with a pocket full of carpetbag money hatched up the plot and stole the Texas convention."

(In Houston, Tex., Chairman George Butler of the Texas State Democratic Executive committee was unavailable for comment.)

Jones Says Campaign Won't Affect Food

DALLAS, June 28. (AP) — War Foods Administrator Marvin Jones said today that "food is not a political matter and its distribution to the American people under the rationing system or to Allied nations under lend-lease will not be affected in the least by the presidential campaign or any other political campaign."

Jones, enroute from Washington to his home in Amarillo, Tex., in an interview here said food rationing, perhaps in a milder form than now, will be necessary for a short time even after the war. He said this would be only through a brief period of adjustment and gave assurance that rationing in all forms will be abandoned as quickly as possible.

Jones said the federal price support program has proven one of the great supports of the entire war foods program. He said the food situation in the United States at this time is excellent but that he hoped that, with weather conditions remaining favorable, even more food will be produced during the year.

Amazing results in building STURDY BODIES!

1—Promote the flow of vital digestive juices in the stomach
2—Energize your body with RICH, RED BLOOD!
YOUNG people, especially those of grammar and high school age, are prone to be deficient in stomach digestive juices and red-blood.
A growing-person who is operating on a 65 to 70% healthy blood volume or a stomach digestive capacity of only 30 to 60% normal is severely handicapped.
In such cases Nature needs extra help. Organic troubles or focal infection, if they exist, must be corrected. Tissue foods must be digested and rich, red-blood must be present to build sturdy bodies.
SSS Tonic is especially designed (1) to promote the flow of VITAL DIGESTIVE JUICES in the stomach which digest the food so the body can make proper use of it in tissue building and repair and (2) to build-up BLOOD STRENGTH when deficient.
These two important results enable the body to make use of the food as Nature intended. Thus you may gain a keen appetite . . . firm flesh . . . hoty energy . . . mental alertness!
Build Sturdy Health and Help America Win
Thousands and thousands of users have testified to the benefits S.S.S. Tonic has brought to them and scientific research shows that it gets results—that's why so many say "SSS Tonic builds sturdy health—makes you feel like yourself again." At drug stores in 10 and 20 oz. sizes. S.S.S.Co.

Yankees Close Gap On St. Louis Club

NEW YORK, June 28. (AP)—Atley Donald pitched the New York Yankees to their fifth straight victory, as the world champions defeated the St. Louis Browns 7-2, today.

Donald limited the Browns to eight hits to reduce the gap between the league leaders and the Yankees to three and a half games.

Johnny Lindell and Nick Etten were the big guns of the Yankees. They combined their doubles to score the first Yankee run in the second innings, Etten counting on a single by Oscar Grimes.

After the Browns tied the score in the top half of the third, the Yankees went ahead to stay, on some jittery playing by the Browns.

Amarillo To Get Buff-Tech Game

Under the sponsorship of the Amarillo Junior Chamber of Commerce, the arrangements have been completed for the Texas Tech Red Raiders to meet the West Texas State Teachers college Buffalo in Amarillo on the night of Oct. 27, it was announced Wednesday night by Morley Jennings, athletic director of Texas Tech.

The game was scheduled for Oct. 28 in Lubbock, but the change was perfected after efforts of the Amarillo Jaycee group was launched to bring college football to Amarillo. There was no other game scheduled in Amarillo that week end.

The Red Raiders had seven games booked for the home field, and the battle would afford the local gridders another chance to see "foreign service."

Other games announced on the West Texas State Teachers' schedule will include a game with the Lubbock Army Air Field eleven in Canyon on Nov. 4.

The Canyon school announced a date with South Plains Army Air Field, but no confirmation was forthcoming from SPAAF officials. The Canyon school booked the game on Sept. 29 at Canyon, but local officials denied this date.

SPAAF plays Texas Christian in Fort Worth on Sept. 30. The West Texas Teachers will likely be played either on Oct. 21 or Nov. 18, which are open dates on the Buff schedule.

Phil Ragland Tosses One Hit Game Over Sears Nine

Phil Ragland barely missed baseball's hall of fame Wednesday afternoon at Chapman Field as he hurled Bill Dean's Service to a 14 to 1 victory over the Sears and Roebuck nine in the National League race.

Ragland allowed only one hit, and had a no-hitter until Roy Grimes spoiled it with two men out in the seventh inning. Grimes "teed off" with a lusty triple with two away in the seventh to break the spell cast over the Sears nine by Ragland's great performance. Grimes scored a moment later on an error.

Perfect Five Rounds

Ragland retired the Sears batsmen in order for the first five innings. In the sixth, his perfect performance was marred by a hit batsman and a walk, but not until after two were out in the final inning did Grimes break up the no-hitter.

Sears and Roebuck threw the entire pitching staff at the Deanmen, but the winners scored in every inning, and none of the five pitchers could stem the tide. Trout started the game, but gave way to Sage early. Brewer, Sikes and Reeves followed them to the mound, and Sage returned to finish the game. Sage, Trout and Sikes also worked behind the plate as well as from the rubber.

Sears Missed Coursey

The Sears nine was playing without the service of it's captain, David Coursey, who was enroute to El Paso to take a physical for the Marines.

The Hemphill-Wells Cats, trampled by Sears in their first time out this week, will return this afternoon to battle Montgomery Wards in the National League finale of the week, seeking to break the tie now existing between them and Bill Dean's Service.

SEEKS THIRD TITLE

RYE, N. Y., June 28. (AP)—Ellis Knowles, 57-year-old New Yorker, goes after his third consecutive National Seniors' golf championship today. The defending champion shot a sub-par 36-35—71 yesterday to lead the field in the first round. Paul Hyde, of Buffalo, was second with a 34-40—74.

TWILIGHT TEAR WINS

CHICAGO, June 28. (AP)—Twilight Tear, the Calumet farm's speedy filly raced to her eighth consecutive triumph today in winning the $10,000 added Princess Doreen stakes at Arlington Park.

Kiwanis Cards Bump Optimist Nine, 16-8

Backing up the pitching arm of Billy Travis, the Kiwanis junior nine came through on the offensive with 16 runs from 18 hits to score an easy victory over the Optimists in a battle at Tech Field last evening. The Kiwanis boys still hold undisputed leadership of the American League with 6 wins out of 7 games. The defeat was the second for the Optimists.

Starting off with a bang against star moundsmen Denny Davidson, the lads built up a score which the their opponents were unable to surmount, although the Kiwanis boys were threatened with a four run last inning rally after two were out.

Travis did the pitching for the winning Kiwanis nine, allowing hits, while Louder did the backstopping. Denny Davidson toed the rubber for the Optimistis, and Sandlin caught.

Today's contest at Texas Tech diamond will give the Jaycee Cubs another chance for a victory when they tangle with the hustling Rotary nine at 6:30 o'clock.

Hurlwood All-Stars Blast Keith's, 21-0

Behind Buster Dixon's no-hit no-run pitching, the Hurlwood All-Stars had little trouble in snowing under the Keith's Wizzers in a 21 to 0 softball game Wednesday afternoon at the 23rd and Avenue W diamond.

Arnold, Keller and Tuesink led the attack for the winners, and starred in the field for the Hurlwood All-Stars. The All-Stars played errorless ball and the outcome of the game was never in doubt.

Dixon whiffed eight men as he coasted along behind the long lead that found the All-Stars getting their runs in big clusters. The Hurlwood club blasted out six runs in the first inning, and added seven more in the second for an early lead.

Revolta, Berg Top Golf Pair

CHICAGO, June 28. (AP)—Johnny Revolta shot a 4-under-par 67 today while his partner, Patty Beg of the Marines, posted a 79 for a combined 146 score and the lead in the pro-woman division of the Chicago Victory National championships.

Another 18 holes will conclude the pro-amateur, pro-woman, pro-senior feature tomorrow.

Pvt. Chick Harbert's 69 and Chick Evans 74 gave this combination the pro-senior lead with 143. While Sam Byrd of Detroit with 70 and Bob Cochran of St. Louis with 68 headed the pro-amateur bracket with 138.

Best individual rounds of the day included:

Pros-Revolta 67, Byron Nelson 68, Ky Laffoon 68, Jimmy Hines 68, Harbert 69, Willie Goggin 69.

Amateurs-Cochran 68, Storeman Mike Stolarik of Great Lakes, Ill., 7, Steven Kovach, Pittsburgh, Pa., 72, John Lehman of Chicago, 72, Chuck Kocsis of Detroit 73.

Women—Georgia Tainter, Fargo, N. D., 78, Patty Berg, 79, Betty Jane Haemerle, St. Louis, 81, Mary Agnes Wall, Menominee, Mich., 82.

Anderson Wins Over Haeaa In Stockholm

STOCKHOLM, June 28. (AP)—Arne Anderson defeated Gunder Haegg in a 1500-meter race today in the first meeting in two years of Sweden's two top runners.

Anderson turned the 1,500 meters in Stockholm stadium in 3.48.8 to finish ahead of Haegg who was timed in 3:50.2. Haegg led at the start, but Anderson, who holds the world record of 3:45 for the distance, won with a finishing spurt.

Anderson indicated that the muggy weather prevented a new record being set in the clash of the cinder stars.

Today's victory was Anderson's first over Haegg, he having spurred his countryman to clockings heard round the world in their previous meetings. It was while Haegg was in America last year that Anderson set his 3:45 mark for the 1500 meters, and his 4:02.6 for the mile, eclipsing Haegg's best of 4:04.6.

Haegg made his second start of the season in today's clash. Sunday he set a world record of 8:46.4 for the two-mile.

City Tennis Tourney Planned For July 24

A city-wide tennis tournament to begin July 24, and lasting indefinitely, has been announced by the Recreation Department. Entry blanks for the contest may be filled in either by phone or in person. The closing date for entry is July 20, however.

Junior boys and girls singles and doubles for contestants under fifteen, along with adult men and women's singles and doubles and mixed doubles is planned.

Balls will be furnished for the tournament by the department, and courts may be reserved by calling A. C. "Stumpy" Hamilton at the Recreation Department.

It is hoped that Lubbock's tennis players will turn out in mass for this new opportunity to take part in sporting activities.

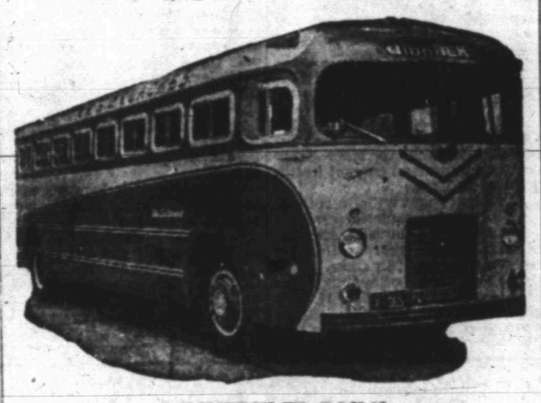

MAJORS TO MEET

CHICAGO, June 28. (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis announced today that a joint meeting of the major leagues to discuss night games, and other topics, would be held July 11 at the Schenley hotel, Pittsburgh.

WMC's Employment Plan

INDICATIONS are that cooperation will be widespread with the War Manpower commission's priority referral employment plan which is to be put into operation July 1.

Employers, for the most part, have evidenced their willingness to work with the WMC in the effort to insure that the plan is given a fair test and to ascertain whether it will accomplish the desired purpose of channeling labor into war industries where needs are most urgent.

But neither WMC nor anyone else should construe the cooperation that is being given so willingly as being an over-all endorsement of the scheme. The fact that employers as a whole are cooperating with a voluntary referral plan does not mean they would accept without vigorous protest such a plan operating on a compulsory basis. Nor is there good reason to believe that, if the plan can't be made to work on a voluntary basis, that the nation as a whole would approve a shift to a scheme of compulsion.

At the beginning of the plan's operation, it is just as well to recognize that many of those who will cooperate are going into the whole thing with a feeling of suspicion. They are wondering whether this plan is intended at the first step in an administration attempt to enforce something that will have the effects of the national labor draft that Congress has refused repeatedly to ratify.

It is entirely possible that suspicions of this kind are not justified. It may be that WMC has no such thoughts in mind. It is possible that members of the commission will abandon the scheme if the referral plan can't be made to work on a voluntary basis. It is to be hoped that this will be the WMC attitude.

However, it is to be expected that most of the American people will be on their guard for awhile. They will be disinclined, as they should be, to take the chance that a national labor draft might be slipped over upon them by a power-hungry New Deal government. If masses of Americans should become persuaded that the voluntary plan is being used as a wedge in behalf of compulsory control of labor, the resulting uproar of protest may be something worth hearing.

Coming Blows At The Enemy

WHEN attacking American forces stormed to the waterfront of Cherbourg Monday, they insured the success of the first phase of the European invasion.

It does not minimize the importance of the capture to emphasize that Cherbourg represents only the first part of the whole job—which is to bring Nazis to their knees. Just how difficult the remainder of the job is going to be is beyond the possibility of assured forecast. However, the stubborn defense of the port does not encourage the supposition that Germany may be now verging up a collapse.

However, while nothing could be gained by exaggerating the importance of the capture, there would be no point in underestimating this achievement. Cherbourg is necessary to the success of what appears to be the master plan of Allied strategy. With Cherbourg, the Allies will have a port through which large scale support can be rushed to the invading forces which already have landed. Without such a port, the danger would be constant that the enemy might concentrate a sufficient strength to overwhelm and wipe out the Allied forces which participated in the initial landings. While those forces have been sufficient to win victory in the first phase of the invasion, no one pretends that they are strong enough to win the final Battle of Germany. They will require enormous additional strength, and Cherbourg has become the gateway through which reenforcements can be provided.

It must be assumed, of course, that damage to the port has been considerable. The enemy has seen to that. Thus, it doubtless will take some time to restore the facilities to a point where large scale landings can be handled. It seems probable that the offensives for victory must await, not only the landings of huge numbers of men and enormous quantities of equipment, but their organization for attack.

Consequently, a lapse of time may occur between the investment of Cherbourg and the next major phase of the Allied plan of battle for victory. But if there are such delays, those at home may be confident that, because of the time-taking preparations, the next blows will be all the more devastating.

It is strange that the Democracies always set out to save the world when it's least worth saving.

The One Minute Sermon

O God, my heart is fixed; I will sing and give praise, even with my glory.

Awake, psaltery and harp: I myself will awake the nations.

For thy mercy is great above the heavens: and thy truth reacheth unto thy clouds.

Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens: and thy glory above all the earth;

That thy beloved may be delivered: save with thy right hand, and answer me. Psalms 108: I through 6.

God's Front Porch

The corpsman's uniform was white and he beckoned to Pinky and the other wounded soldier in the foxhole to follow him. Next thing Pinky knew he was on a train moving upward through dense clouds. It looked just like the train down home except that it was filled with all sorts of strange people . . .

About half the crowd get off at Heavenly Bend Junction, so Pinky gets off there, too. There is someone to meet everybody except Pinky and Emily, who had been a war correspondent. They notice a lonely looking old colored gentleman who is searching in vain for some of his own people among the passengers.

VI

IT WASN'T any particular, sudden fondness for the old gentleman that prompted Pinky; rather, a desire not to be left here, stupidly alone, and a desire for information. "I'm sorry you're lonely," Pinky said awkwardly. "I mean, why is it? Why don't your people get off here like the others?"

"Well, the Junction's only the stop-over place, you see. You'll be going on to the Big Valley, too, sometime."

"Yeah?"

"When you get over wishing you were still back there." The old man nodded vaguely in the direction from which the train had come.

"But how do you know when you're supposed to go?" Emily asked.

"No 'supposed-to' time. Just when you feel like it. It usually happens in the morning. Some morning you just get up and find you're not angry or sad or looking back anymore . . . and so then you speak to Julie about it.

"Julie?"

"She's the housekeeper over at your place."

"Where we're going?"

"That's right. Julie packs the lunches."

"You take lunch with you?"

"Just for on the way."

Suddenly his eyes went beyond the two standing there, and a glow came into them that was as warm and beautiful as the sun.

Along the railroad track a soldier was approaching. You could tell, too, because of the way he was singing. No words, but the voice rolling out.

Nearing the station, he left the tracks and moved toward them. The old colored gentleman advanced to meet him.

Both came to a pause, looking at each other and smiling.

"I got off ahead of the station," the soldier explained.

"I see. How come, boy?"

The soldier grinned: "I was riding the rods, sir."

The old man chuckled, put his arm fondly around the other. "Yeah, well, you're here now, son."

The old colored man turned and waved to Emily and Pinky and went off with his boy.

* * *

"EMILY, I'm sorry. Pinky, will you forgive me?"

They had risen from the bench, were awkwardly staring at the old man who was walking quickly toward them.

"First time this has happened in years. But that's the way. Seems the less a person has to do, the later he is in doing it. What's the matter, Pinky? Isn't everything all right?"

How could Pinky tell him that the odd thing was he would have known him anywhere . . . even panting and out of breath like he was now. And that old, slightly yellow Panama hat tucked under his arm. How to tell him, in a few short words, the volumes of feelings that had swept through him, as he had first seen him hurrying toward them along the street. The old man's fine, soft, unwrinkled skin burnished gently by the sun. The full, gentle, used-to-smiling lips . . . and yes, the frown that furrowed his forehead. The soft gray of his hair, which needed cutting a little. The faint red line across the forehead, that the hat had made in the heat. His hands large and capable. His whole body like that . . . straight as a flagpole except that his head was thrust forward a little, as though he had been looking a lot at the sidewalk lately as he walked.

"Isn't everything all right, Pinkey?" the old man asked again.

"Yes, Father, everything's all right," he answered simply.

"Well, it's good of you to say so, even if I am so late. But it wasn't really my fault. That Julie. You'll find out when you meet her. Always making you come back to get something or take something or something. Well—I expect maybe you've spent enough time in this station. Like to get on over to the house?"

They were moving off the station grounds now, onto the sidewalk.

"There's a shorter way, but I thought we might go through the town. That is, if you've got on your walking shoes, Emily? Though it's not a big town. Only a couple of blocks."

"I'm good for it," she smiled. And without quite realizing what she did, she tucked her arm through his.

Emily had never walked down a church aisle on the arm of her father. Had she done so, she would have recognized the wonderful feeling she felt now. For the first time in her life someone walked beside her, to guide her and comfort her and still her trembling arm.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

NOTICE to Lovers: Captain Wilbur Kennedy, commander of the Illinois State Police, Chicago area, has ordered his men to approach parked cars with a whistle or at least a loud cough, before questioning the occupants.

Several girls complained to the police that the abrupt appearance of cops interfered with their courtships.

Captain Kennedy, in justifying his order, said that in these days of manpower shortages womanhood should get an even break.

I know that the discussion of this subject will bring a score of letters telling me that I am a renegade, a bad influence on the young and that I should be stopped.

Yet, I ask every person intending to write one of those blisterjng letters: "Weren't you ever young?"

* * *

I don't want to destroy the illusion many of my readers seem to have that I am the epitome of righteousness and virtue on two legs.

But I was young once. I remember how indignant I was when a policeman turned his flashlight on me just as I was about to press an ardent and momentarily very sincere kiss upon the lips of my beloved.

I also remember that it cost me two badly needed dollars to keep the guardian of the law from giving me a summons for illegal parking, disorderly conduct and disturbing the peace of a very respectable and very dark neighborhood.

But what was I to have done? I lived in a furnished room and her parents—not to mention my landlady—would never have permitted her to come to my place. She wasn't that kind of a girl, anyway.

* * *

I couldn't go to her house, because, in the first place, my intentions weren't serious enough, and I was afraid of her father.

But I had my little old car, and the moon was shining, and you could buy the gas you wanted, and our hearts were young and gay.

So what did we care for the police and why should the police care about us?

Unfortunately, a lot of people consider love a crime and its natural expression a misdemeanor.

When I asked my very proper secretary, Vera, about her opinion just now, she said:

"What's wrong with making love in the open?

"Isn't it better than hiding out?"

And, Vera, being young and in love, certainly ought to know.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

CHICAGO—Practical vote-getting considerations and the scarcity of "name orators" will impel the Republicans to entrust the vocal work of the presidential campaign to comparative newcomers in the political field.

Another factor which may strip the election scene of the more elaborate and dramatic effects of other years is the popular concentration on winning the war.

Chicago strategists, who can now arrange bread-and butter details for the first wartime presidential contest since 1864 because of pre-convention agreements on candidates and major platform planks, plan to capitalize on this necessity. With such local figures as governors, mayors and business men staffing their speakers' bureaus, they will emphasize the "town meeting" character of their campaign. They will ring door bells instead of rafters.

The GOP will also stress the vigor and youthfulness of its standard-bearers and tub-thumpers. They will try to contract the virility of their leaders with the age of the outstanding men in the administration's household.

* * *

KIDNAPPED: The armed services have taken such other-year barnstormers as Brig. Gen. Theodore Roosevelt, Brig. Gen. Pat Hurley, Lt. Com. Harold E. Stassen and Maj. Henry Cabot Lodge.

And were he not in uniform, it is likely that Gen. Douglas MacArthur would add his voice to the arguments for a GOP victory.

Government agencies—War Production board, Office of Price administration, War Food administration etc.—have kidnapped numerous prominent industrialists whose assurances of continued employment, a high standard of living and more efficient management of the federal machinery under a new regime might have won votes.

Others not stationed in Washington must stick to their desks and shops in order to step up production of weapons and prepare for reconversion of their factories.

* * *

TICKET: Only about 10 senators with national reputations, the kind who would draw a crowd these busy days, will be available for swings around the circle.

Some of the most effective campaigners, like Robert A. Taft of Ohio, John A. Danaher of Connecticut and James J. Davis of Pennsylvania, face difficult re-election battles ,and their burdens will not be lightened if President Roosevelt runs again.

Except for members who have safe districts—James W. Wadsworth of New York and Minority Leader Joe W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts—few incumbents in the House will dare to leave their bailiwicks in such an uncertain year as 1944.

There is one old-timer, however, whom the managers would like to persuade—should his health permit—to deliver a few powerful speeches for the national ticket. He is Charles Evans Hughes, the 1916 nominee, former Secretary of State and more recently Chief Justice of the Supreme court.

His endorsement of the slate and the foreign policy program, it is believed, would counteract the contention that a change of White House tenants would hurt the conduct of the war and the handling of postbellum problems.

And the GOP leaders here think it would be a 10-strike it they could enlist the eloquence of Sen. Hiram W. Johnson of California, whose desertion is supposed to have caused Mr. Hughes' defeat in 1916.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has again recommended delay regarding the controversial French question. But while he talked, B-29's and Nazi rocket bombs were injecting into the situation a new element which will profoundly affect the ultimate solution.

For unfolded in the accomplishments of these two new weapons is the pattern of future wars. Such instruments of destruction, improved and in hostile hands a score years from now, mean that the North American continent can be attacked from Europe and Asia and that United States inland cities can be bombed.

Some of our most thoughtful diplomats and statesmen assert that the acquisition of distant bases by the United States is no longer an academic subject but a matter of survival.

They believe it imperative, for New World hemispheric security, that Uncle Sam shall have free access to airfields and naval ports in Dakar, French Indo-China, Martinque and other outposts —through transfer, lease or some form of international control.

Yet the mere hint of such protection is said on excellent authority to be the rock on which good relations between Washington and Algiers have foundered.

* * *

CELL: All Frenchmen today live under high nervous tension. Factions have done things which harm the cause of France.

An Algiers court condemned to solitary confinement for life Admiral Derrien, who is deaf and half-blind from wounds received in the last war, because he temporized during the first hours of the Allied invasion of Bizerte.

On the other hand, when Boislambert, a brave de Gaullist, begged the Vichy governor of Dakar to fight the Nazis, the Petain commander locked his countryman in a cell that had been previously occupied by lepers.

When Frenchman act toward one another in such an unreasonable manner, anything may happen in their relations with outsiders.

* * *

DE GAULLE: The statecraft experts make out the following case:

Obviously, Americans who are giving their flesh and blood to free France have no designs on her empire, as de Gaullists suspect. But Americans want to be sure, since they and their sons have twice fought to save France—and of course thereby shielded their own land from possible invasion —that they won't have to send their grandchildren abroad to do it again. They learned in 1918 not to expect gratitude from rescued Europe; now they merely seek security in return for liberation of the continent.

But the question is bogged down in personalities and prejudices. Since de Gaulle spoke kindly of "dear Russia," radicals in the USA idolize him. As a result, many diehard conservatives take the other side and circulate snide stories about the erratic but gallant soldier. And because this is a political year the whole French question is dragged into the campaign.

* * *

REVOLUTIONARY: It is generally assumed that the Third Republic will be restored. But de Gaullists have not publicized plans for such a revival. They are modern Jacobins embracing principles unlike those of either the Third Republic or the United States and British democracies.

Old France had a parliamentary regime with power vested in the Chamber of Deputies and Senate—not in the president (a figurehead), the premier, the cabinet or the electorate; the latter could express its views once every four years. This creaking structure, often corrupt, disunited and inefficient, crashed in 1940, and only the de Gaullists represented the free, unconquerable France. They want no resurrection.

They frankly base their new system not on the French Code—hence their impatience with President Roosevelt's insistence on legalistice technicalities—but on popular will and popular wrath against Vichy. When a Socialist delegate at the Consultative Assembly in Algiers recently declared that the Third Republic had not been supplanted but was merely suspended and therefore elections must be according to the old statutes, he was voted down by 57 to 8.

The organization reared in North Africa is revolutionary. General Giraud and Georges were ejected from the National Committee and their places filled by two Communists. Algiers has curbed the powers of the press, granted woman suffrage and decreed that it has sole authority to conduct elections—acts which have no basis in the French constitution.

Its spirit and accompliments usually are laudable, yet its mandate does not come from law but from what its followers sincerely assume is the wish of the silent French people.

"My Life As An Axis War Prisoner"

Civilian Betrays Allen In Flight From Nazi Captors

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of three articles by the famous Associated Press War correspondent, Larry Allen, Pulitzer prize-winner and "storybook reporter." In the series Allen tells of his experiences as a prisoner of the Nazis. He was recently repatriated from a German concentration camp.)

* * *

By LARRY ALLEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

ITALY capitulated on September 8, after my return to the Chieti prison camp, and senior American and British officers interned there decided that, with Nazis swarming through the country, the wisest policy would be to sit tight and await the arrival of Allied troops.

Five days later, Nazi armor streamed into the high prison gates. Italian garrison troops donned white jackets and said the camp was a hospital. The Germans said they just wanted to look around.

Larry Allen

All that night the entire Italian garrison of 900 soldiers, fearing deportation to Germany for forced labor, deserted. They placed bed-slat ladders against the 20-foot walls, clambered up while sentinels threw away their rifles and extended helping hands. Guards, posted to prevent the prison guards from fleeing, joined the exodus.

On Sept. 23, the Nazis took over Chieti and moved the entire camp to nearby Sulmona. The first night Americans and Britons started to escape. I was following a British officer under the barbed wire when a German machine pistol spit fire. The officer fell, mortally wounded. I fell flat until the firing ceased, then helped carry him to a doctor.

Three days later, I was placed aboard a railway coach for Germany. Hundreds of American and British enlisted men were herded into boxcars like cattle. During the three-day ride toward Germany, guards opened the boxcar doors at infrequent intervals.

Jump From Train

South of Bolzano, high in the Alps near the Swiss frontier, I made my break for freedom. While an American distracted the attention of guards, I wormed my way to the rear of the coach, opened the door and jumped. The impact with the roadbed spun me around like a top and I was flung under the speeding train, quickly dragging my legs across the rails just before the next set of wheels passed over.

There, I lived the longest two minutes of my life—lying prone between the rails as the entire string of boxcars passed and dangling hose coupling links battered my body. My clothes were torn across the back and I was bruised and scratched.

As soon as the last car passed I ran across the track, slid down an embankment into a swamp of murky quicksand. It took me two hours to get out of that. I learned later the Germans reported my escape at the next station and for the next five days I was hunted by Hitler youth groups and low-flying planes. Finally a civilian with a rifle grabbed me.

I was imprisoned in the village detention cell, a heavy stone window-less room, guarded by three steel doors.

SECOND ATTEMPT—Twice Larry Allen took his life in his hands in attempting to escape captivity. His boldest move was jumping from a moving train. Here he is shown hiding by the tracks.

LEADERS LOSE GROUND

NEW YORK, June 28. (AP)—Most standard leaders lost ground in today's stock market but heavy buying converged on low-priced motors and specialties and gains in these ranged from fractions to around points.

The pivotals, at new seven year highs Tuesday on the fall of Cherbourg, were down from the start. Their extreme losses of fractions to around 2 points were reduced a bit in the late dealings but profit selling dominated throughout. The Associated Press 60-stock composite declined .2 of a point to 55.4.

A wave of buying in Willys-Overland touched off the boomlet in the low quoted automobile and accessory shares. Buying here was accompanied by Wall Street rumors of postwar consolidations and talk of planning for aggressive competitive moves when the automobile market comes back.

Nomination of Governor Dewey on the first ballot at the Republican convention had little effect on the price swings, having merely fulfilled earlier forecasts.

Willys-Overland showed a final 2-point gain. Advances ranged to a point for Continental Motors, Hayes Manufacturing, Nash-Kelvinator, Hudson Motors, White Motors and Murray Corp.

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, June 28. (AP)—Cotton futures closed from 65 cents to $1.85 a bale lower today.

Retreat from yesterday's high ground resulted when profit taking and liquidation were coupled with uncertainties as to operation of the amended price control bill. Some trade sources predicted that soil conservation payments may be included in calculating full parity prices for cotton to the farmer and that such a policy would cancel out a substantial part of the higher prices anticipated under the measure.

Normandy Pincers

also of a German "elastic defense.")

A headquarters communique late Wednesday night announced the continuing progress in spite of more bad weather and intense opposition.

Both infantry and armored forces cracked through the Germans' Odon river line on a two-mile-wide front south of Tourville, the communique said, adding, "our advance continued toward high ground south of the Odon."

Push On Past Odon

The push went on at least two miles past the Odon and within two and one-half miles from the Orne river, on which Caen is situated.

Other British troops fought two miles north of Caen and three miles northeast, ready to drive in frontally while the outflanking movement which was the main threat looped rapidly around from the west and southwest.

The bypassed German position at the village of Rauray, southeast of Fontenay and west of Caen, was cleaned out during the day. Resistance there had been "most stubborn," the communique said.

On the Cherbourg peninsula, the Americans seized Maupertus airfield east of the city of Cherbourg and were breaking down the last enemy resistance at the peninsula's northeastern and northwestern capes.

Prisoner Toll Mounts

The final tally of prisoners was expected to reach 30,000 to 40,000, bringing close to 50,000 the total taken since the invasion began June 6.

A staff officer at field headquarters described this as just a sweeping job, with no remaining opposition worthy of the name.

Lt. Gen. Miles C. Dempsey, 47, who commanded the 13th corps of the British Eighth Army in Africa, Sicily and Italy, was disclosed to be in command of the British forces, designated as the Second Army.

Headquarters said the originally-narrow British front was being broadened steadily and progress was continuing, despite bad weather. Advanced ground patrols had pushed into the farmlands less than a mile northeast of Esquay, about four miles southwest of Caen, and two and one-half miles from the Orne river.

Five Towns Engulfed

In their two-mile-wide thrust across the Odon river, the Tommies engulfed Mouen, Grainville-Sur-Odon, Mondrainville, Tourvillt and Collevillu.

Caen, threatened both by encirclement and headon assault, should prove a valuable addition to the Allied unloading facilities. Although it is nine miles in from the sea, its position on the canalized Orne river made it France's seventh busiest port in peacetime.

Supreme headquarters meanwhile disclosed the prospective value of Caen in a survey which showed the Germans had damaged seriously Cherbourg's great port facilities. The nature of the damage was not specified, but it was declared that considerable improvisation would be required to get the fullest advantage from the port. A salvage fleet under experts who got smashed North African ports going in less than two weeks was prepared to do the same for Cherbourg, however.

Normandy Prisoners Arrive In America

WASHINGTON, June 28. (AP)—The Army announced today that the first German prisoners captured by Allied forces in Normandy have reached the United States.

The number of prisoners was not disclosed in the brief announcement, which said merely that they had arrived at an eastern port and had been sent to various prison camps in this country.

Tibet is the highest country in the world, with table lands rising 16,000 feet above the sea.

Corn at northern shipping point ceiling price, plus freight.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 28 (AP) — Milling interests covering recent heavy flour sales were persistent buyers of wheat futures again today and the demand gave the market a strong undertone. In late dealings, however, commission houses were on the selling side and prices were well below the highs for the day.

Wheat closed ⅛ higher to ⅜ lower than yesterday, July $1.56¼. Oats were off ⅛ to ⅝, July 73. Rye was ¼ to ⅞ lower, July $1.09¾. Barley was ½ lower to ⅝ higher, July $1.21¾.

Quick GOP Choice

magically into hands of delegates and whirled aloft in frantzied acclaim. For twenty minutes, men and women streamed up and down the aisles, yelling and perspiring.

Chairman Joseph W. Martin banged for order.

Bricker, tall, gray, composed, moved up to the speaker's stand.

Another outburst from the delegates.

Bricker spoke.

Wants To Beat New Deal

He was deeply grateful to those who had backed his presidential aspirations. But he was "more interested in defeating the New Deal philosophy of absolutism" than in "being president of these United States."

He understood, as did the delegates, that "it is the overwhelming desire of this convention to nominate a great, vigorous, fighting young American—the noble, the dramatic and the appealing governor of the great state of New York, Thomas E. Dewey."

So, he said, he was asking his Ohio delegation to cast its vote for Dewey.

In the Ohio section of the delegate seats, Dewey placards appeared.

Senator Joseph H. Ball of Minnesota took the podium. For days he had been leading a battle for Lt. Comdr. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota.

"As long as there was the slightest chance of Stassen's nomination," he said, "we were determined to present his name to this convention. Governor Bricker's eloquent statement has eliminated any chance that existed. Minnesota's delegation has therefore decided not to present Stassen's name to this convention."

It was all over then but the balloting. But there had to be a few more speeches first.

WORLD PLAN FAVORED

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., June 28. (AP)—Reasserting an urge for Christian political action, the general council of the Congregational Christian church climaxed its biennial meeting here yesterday by adopting a ten-point program supporting American participation in an "international organization for world cooperation."

Dewey's Pledge

come the nation's youngest President:

"I accept the nomination."

"I come to this great task a free man," Dewey said in a prepared address. "I have made no pledges, promises or commitments, expressed or implied, to any man or woman. I shall make none, except to the American people."

Renews Mackinac Pledge

Asserting that "we shall not make secure the peace of the world by mere words," Dewey reaffirmed his support of the Mackinac Island declaration of the Republican party for responsible participtation by the United States in an international security organization.

His views on this question had been awaited eagerly by party members, who said that the new nominee's interpretation would be of more force in the campaign that the GOP foreign policy plank, which was criticized by Wendell L. Willkie, the 1940 nominee, and several governors.

"When we have won this war, we shall still have to win the peace," he declared. "We are agreed, all of us, that America will participate with other sovereign nations in a cooperative effort to prevent future wars. Let us face up boldly to the magnitude of that task.

Mere Words Not Enough

"We shall not make secure the peace of the world by mere words. We cannot do it simply by drawing up a fine-sounding treaty. It can not be the work of one man or of a little group of rulers who meet together in private conferences. The structure of peace must be built. It must be the work of many, many men.

"We must have as our representatives in this task the ablest men and women America can produce, the structure they join in building must rest upon the solid rock of a United American public opinion.

"I am not one of those who despair of achieving that end."

Grown Old In Office

The 42-year-old Michigan-born nominee asserted that the Democratic administration "has grown old in office." He critized it for what he said were "squabbles between cabinet members, feuds between rival bureaucrats and bitterness between the President and his own party members, in and out of Congress.

"In the vital matters of taxation, price control, rationing, labor relations, manpower, we have become familiar with the spectacle of wrangling, bungling and confusion," he said.

Dewey declared, however, that the military conduct of the war "is outside this campaign."

"It is and must remain completely out of politics," he said. "General Marshall and Admiral King are doing a superb job. Thank God for both of them.

Must Not Change

"Let us make it crystal clear that a change of administration next January cannot and will not involve any change in the military conduct of the war. If there is not now any civilian interference with the military and naval commands, a change in administration will not alter that status. If there is civilian interference, the new administration will put a stop to it forthwith."

Asserting that "this election will bring an end to one-man government in America," Dewey told the convention that it would be his purpose, if elected, to appoint a "cabinet of the ablest men and women to be found in America."

"Its members will expect and will receive full delegation of the powers of their offices," he said. "They will be capable of administering those powers. They will each be experienced in the task to be done and young enough to do it.

Must Re-Win Freedom

There will be the necessity after the war is won, he said, of re-winning "freedom" at home.

Dewey said the war must be fought to a total victory so that Germany can "never again nourish the delusion that she could have won."

"We must carry to Japan a defeat so crushing and complete," he declared, "that every last man among them knows that he has been beaten. We must not merely defeat the armies and navies of our enemies. We must defeat, once and for all, their will to make war."

Expanding his views on foreign policy, Dewey said that all are agreed in America that the United States "shall participate with other sovereign nations in a cooperative effort to prevent future wars."

Only Few Isolationists

There are few men, he said, who "really believe that America should try to remain aloof from the world," as well as few who "believe it would be practical for America or her Allies to renounce all sovereignty and join a superstate."

"I certainly would not deny those two extremes the right to their opinions; but I stand firmly with the overwhelming majority of my fellow citizens in that great wide area of agreement. That agreement was clearly expressed by the Republican Mackinac declaration and was adopted in the foreign policy plank of this convention."

Calling for "full employment" after the war, Dewey said the New Deal offers for the peace era "only the dreary prospect of a continued war economy after the war, the interference piled on interference and petty tyrannies rivaling the very regimentation against which we are now at war."

Defeatist Counsels

"It is the New Deal which tells us that America has lost its capacity to grow," he said. "We shall never build a better world by listening to those counsels of defeat.

"Is America old and worn out? Look to the beaches of Normandy for the answer. Look to the beaches of the wide Pacific—to the corners of the world where American men are fighting. Look to the marvels of production in the war plants in your own towns.

"I say this to you: Our country is just fighting its way through to new horizons. The future of America has no limit."

Finnish Cabinet Shakeup Ordered

By ROBERT STURDEVANT
Associated Press Staff Writer

STOCKHOLM, Thursday, June 28—Finland's dominant Social Democratic party has ordered its five cabinet ministers, including Finance Minister Vaino Tanner, withdrawn from the Risto-Linkomies government which plunged Finland into full collaboration with Germany and opened the doors of southern Finland to Nazi troops.

The formal withdrawal is scheduled for a meeting of Parliament today but after spending five terse days in Helsinki it is my impression the action may yet be withheld as a result of the widely expressed fear of many Finns that Tanner's resignation might precipitate a collapse of the morale of Finnish troops at the front.

Others Also Dissent

The Progressive party and the Swedish Peoples' party also expressed no confidence in the government in party caucuses. One Progressive member may withdraw from the cabinet.

Besides Tanner, who symbolizes Finland's resistance to Russia, other Social Democratic cabinet ministers slated to leave the government are Minister of Social Affairs A. Aaltonen; Minister of Communications Vaino Salovaara; Minister of Trade Dr. Takki and Jalo Aura, minister of food.

Tanner, whose place in the jumbled political picture is not clear as a result of the tight censorship, actually was leader with President Risto Ryti in the unsuccessful move to form a new government. Subsequently he opposed with other Social Democrats complete collaboration with Germany.

Noted Pianist To Give Tech Concert

One of the most unique summer recreational programs of Texas Technological college will be offered tonight at 8:30 o'clock on the administration building green on Tech campus, as Donald Scott-Morrison, pianist, will present a novel "conversation concert." While playing the works of famous composers, he lectures about their lives, impersonates them, all done in the authentic make-up and costume of the great pianists. Scott-Morrison will play some of the numbers on a harpischord and render other selections on the piano.

A movie, entitled "Alexander Graham Bell," was shown last night on Tech's campus; Tech's band offered a concert Tuesday evening, and an all-college dance is scheduled for Friday evening at 9 o'clock at the Texas Tech gym.

LAAF Concert Band To Play At USO

The 628th squadron concert band from Lubbock Army field, under the direction of Chief Warrant Officer George P. Attridge, will present an hour concert for all military personnel and their guests at the USO tonight at 7:30 p. m.

A cornet solo, "The Carnival of Venice" as arranged by Del Staigers, will be given by Sgt. E. E. Carroy. Other selections presented will include such well known composers as Strauss, Carl Maria Von Weber, L. Caillict, and Ravel. Francis Scott Key's National Anthem will close the program.

Japs Break Out, Slain

A desperate enemy force surrounde for several days on Nafutan point, in the southeast sector, broke through containing Yank lines Monday night in a futile effort to fight northward.

Two hundred Japanese were killed in this counterattack by which the isolated Japanese hope to fight their way to a juncture with the main body of defenders.

American troops launched clean-up attacks on Nafutan point Tuesday. The enemy now holds only the extreme tip of the point.

Reduction of the Nafutan resistance pocket permits free use of Aslito airdrome. Land planes based on Aslito now are giving close support to ground troops.

Daily Blast At Tinian

Tinian island, just south of Saipan, has been subjected to protracted daily naval bombardment to neutralize Japanese positions there. Tinian lies across a 3-mile narrow strait from Saipan.

Guam and Rota islands, farther south, were swept in heavy carrier strikes Monday.

Fuel reservoirs and gun positions were major bombing targets. Three small craft were destroyed in Apra harbor at Guam and a medium cargo ship, damaged in previous attacks, was observed to have sunk.

At Rota the air field was strafed and buildings set afire.

The Japanese offered no air opposition at Guam or Rota.

The bombardment of Kurabu Zaki on Paramushiro was the second shelling of the enemy's Kurile positions this month by ships presumably from Vice Admiral Frank Jack Fletcher's 9th fleet.

Both Paramushiro and Shumushu were bombarded the nights of June 12 and 13.

Bombers Support Attack

Army and Navy bombers supported the Paramushiro shelling with strike sat that island and Shumushu, to the north, before dawn Sunday and Monday. Several fires were started.

Eleven enemy fighter planes attacked a Navy Ventura search plane near the Paramushiro airfield Monday morning. Gunners of the Ventura drove off the attackers, damaging two. The plane returned to its base with superficial damage.

Heavy Liberators of the Seventh Army Air force, Nimitz reported, raided Truk in the Carolines Sunday. Five enemy interceptors attempted to halt the assault and one was shot down.

In other scattered actions on Monday a Navy search plane shot down a two-engined Japanese bomber south of the Hall islands, in the Carolines, and damaged an enemy torpedo plane north of Truk.

Soviet Juggernaut

Minsk and it seemed possible that this major goal of the White Russian front might be reached in the first week of fighting.

Osipovichi, 60 miles southeast of Minsk on the railway to Bobruisk, was taken in a "deep outflanking" maneuver by Gen. Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's First White Russian Army and completed the encirclement of Bobruick, Stalin announced.

Moscow Victory Salvo

Shklov, 20 miles north of Mogilev, and Bykhov, 23 miles south of the city, also fell to the crushing giant pincers, Stalin announced. The victory called for 20 Salvoes from Moscow's 224 guns.

Russian columns converging with enormous power from three directions were reported in field dispatches less than 50 miles from Minsk.

Berlin acknowledged it could not check the sweep westward through White Russia along a 250-mile front less than an hour's plane flight from East Prussia. Moscow hailed the drive as an auspicious start on the march to Berlin, 580 miles west of Minsk. The Russians were astride the main route and travelling at one of the fastest paces of the war.

Hungars Urged To Hasten Evacuation

NEW YORK, June 28. (AP)—The Nazi Transkontinent agency said today in a dispatch for controlled newspapers in southeastern Europe that the Budapest commissioner for evacuation had "again made an urgent appeal" to the population of Budapest and other Hungarian cities threatened by air raids to evacuate at once.

The wireless dispatch was reported by the Federal Communications commission.

Mexico Widens Ban On Rightist Party

MEXICO CITY, June 28 (AP) — A ban on organizing meetings of the powerful rightist Sinarquista party was extended today to the entire republic while an investigation into the policies of the Sinarquista newspaper went into its third day.

The extension of the ban directs district attorneys to refuse requests for Sinarquista meetings anywhere in the country.

News Briefs

Hugh Smith, 46, of 1627 Eighth street, received a broken bone in his right arm and a severe head wound in what police said was a disturbance early Wednesday night in "trailer town" on north Avenue H. They said he was hit with a lead pipe.

Vets From Pacific And Europe Arrive At Sooner Hospital

CHICKASHA, Okla., June 28 (AP)—Patients from European and Pacific areas arrived yesterday at Borden Army General hospital in special cars from the east and west coasts.

Pfc. Archie Davis, Eden, Tex., whose right leg was in a cast, had stepped on a booby trap while walking through the brush near Thedo, New Guinea. Natives carried him nine miles to his camp.

Pfc. George Massingill, Hamilton, Tex., also was on crutches. He was shot four times on Bougainville. He had been in the southwest Pacific 14 months.

Jarred, Anyway

Pvt. Wyman J. Fowler, Stephenville, Tex., who spent a year in England with the airborne engineers, recalled that a spot from which tents were moved one day was bombed that night, but the boys still were close enough "to be jarred from our beds."

T-4 Marvin Kelly, Sylvester, Tex., arrived at Bari, Italy, just in time to experience the heavy air raid.

Other Texas arrivals included: Pfc. Elzie F. Chrietzberg, Cleburne; Pfc. L. V. Whitaker, Nacogdoches; Sgt. Ace M. Bartlett, Austin; T-4 Woodrow Simmons, Robstown, Tex.; Pfc. William Pittman, Atlanta; Cpl. Derwood E. Webb, Wortham, Tex.

From the west—Capt. Bert G. Ripley, Wichita Falls; Pvt. Manuel R. Escobar, Pharr; Pvt. Jake H. Williams, Clarksville; T-5 Robert T. Rushing, Center; Pfc. Thomas J. Connolly, El Paso; T-5 Claude E. C. Clevenger, El Paso; Pvt. Samuel Gamless, Hubbard.

Rain Strikes Big Wheat Belt Area

Rain Wednesday afternoon and night fell in a large part of the wheat belt north and northwest of Lubbock, now in the thick of the biggest harvest in years.

The Santa Fe dispatchers office at Slaton said its reports indicated that rain fell all the way from Canyon to a point somewhere between Hale Center and Abernathy, and that the Santa Fe station at Littlefield reported two inches of precipitation there.

Lubbock residents felt the effects of the rain in a cool north breeze which gave them an ideal night for slumbering. West Texas Gas Co., reported a temperature of 72 at midnight, after a high of 97 and 4 and 5 o'clock.

Party cloudy weather with scattered afternoon thunder showers were predicted for the South Plains today.

Yanks Take 28,849 Nazis Since D-Day

CHERBOURG, June 28 (AP) — Germans captured by American forces in France from D-day, June 6, to last night totaled 28,849, it was disclosed officially today, and others still are being brought in.

The biggest day's haul was June 26, when 9,381 were captured. Yesterday's figure was 8,592.

Young Mexicans Set For Work In U. S.

TUXTLA GUTIERREZ, Chiapas, June 28 (AP)—Governor Rafael P. Gamboa, announced today that 4,000 young men of Chipas would shortly be sent to work in war plants and on farms of the United States.

Dr. Gamboa, just returned from a visit to Texas, called upon Governor Coke R. Stevenson in Austin and through him made arrangements for the employment of his young countrymen, subject to the approval of President Avila Camucho, which he later obtained.

He has arranged for their transportation to be paid to and from the United States and for them to purchase clothing, furniture and agricultural implements, which they will bring with them to Chiapas upon their return.

Five Die As Bomber Crashes Into Peak

YUMA, Ariz., June 28 (AP)—A B-17 bomber on a routine night flight from Yuma Army Air field crashed today into a 2500-foot peak in the Gila mountains, killing all of five men aboard, Col. Herbert W. Anderson, field commander, reported.

The bodies were to be brought from the scene tonight. Anderson said the four-engine plane exploded as it struck the mountain, located in a craggy area 18 miles east of here.

The dead included: Second Lt. Sheridan B. Marek, 20, co-pilot, son of Mrs. Martha M. Marek, Temple, Tex.

Sundown Boy Dies In Levelland Hospital

SUNDOWN, June 28 (Special)—Clarence J. Hill, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Hill of Sundown, died at 6:30 o'clock tonight in Levelland hospital.

Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon in Levelland Baptist church, but time and the officiating minister had not been decided upon tonight.

Survivors include the parents and three brothers, Alyan, Charles Otis and James Royce, all of Sundown.

Bryan McDonald and Son Funeral home of Lubbock is in charge of arrangements.

Dixon Thanks "Lot Of Guys" Who Go Out Of Way To Do Him Favors

By KENNETH L. DIXON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE AEF IN ITALY, June 15 (Delayed) — Disinterested customers can turn now to the classified page because this isn't a story at all but a reporter's way of saying thanks to a lot of guys who went out of their way to do him a favor during the past few weeks.

DIXON

There was Maj. Clifford J. Clyburn, 24-year-old infantry officer from Knott, Tex., who carried the pack shovel all the way up into the hills that night and then willingly loaned it the next morning when digging a foxhole seemed to be the smart thing to do. He also came out with a box of K rations and said "don't give me any back talk; if you don't eat it I'll throw it away."

Helps With Information

And there was Capt. John B. Hunley, 31, former Cincinnati Steel employe who took time off from his job as assistant regimental executive officer to explain how things were going from time to time. No matter how hot it was he never seemed to get irritated or excited and since things are always mixed up and confusing in any individual operation along the front it was the only way you could keep in touch with the situation.

And Pfc. Dick Kennedy, 19, rifleman from East Chicago, Ind., who always came back to wake you up when you dropped to sleep in the ditches during the 10-minute breaks in the long march. And Sgt. Hugh L. Tranthan, 22-year-old walkie-talkie operator from Reidsville, N. C., who shared his cigarettes and explained the meaning of the eerie, mysterious messages being flashed from company to company to keep contact during the advance.

Rifleman Does His Part

Don't forget Pfc. George I. Struzye, a big rawboned 32-year-old rifleman from Worth, Ill., who came rambling out of the woods after two days and two nights of hiking and fighting and stopped long enough to tell you how L company was getting along, even though it meant he had to run to catch up with the others, exhausted as he was. And Cpl. Randolph T. Myers, 26, of Bentleyville, Pa., who brought you down the mountain through the mixed up lines that night when it looked impossible to get through.

Then there was S/Sgt. Jack Martin of Memphis, Tenn., a 26-year-old pilot of an artillery observation Cub who took the only day off he'd had in weeks to fly you below Velletri all the way back to Naples so you could cable your story before it was ancient history. And Lt. Arthur Forman, 27, of Greenwich, Conn., who brought you back up south from Rome riding piggyback in his old battered-up P38 and Capt. Ralph R. Hotchkiss of Hartsdale, N. Y., who provided a jeep ride for the last leg of the ratrace into Rome when your feet were swollen and burning.

To all these guys: If these notes bring news of you to your folks at home, perhaps it will serve as another way of saying "thanks again."

APPROVES EDITORIAL

Editor, The Avalanche: I have just finished reading the editorial in the Avalanche-Journal concerning the USS Coos Bay crew, offering to help pay the wage increase demanded by the strikers. I think you hit the nail on the head and hit it hard, but not too hard, for I don't think that could be done!

I have boiled a whole lot concerning these strikes and I think that Congress or the much authorized President ought to have done something long ago about this sabotage. I say orchids to the Coos Bay crew and The Avalanche-Journal and rotten eggs to those in authority for not having put a stop to these Axis Aiding strikers long ago.

I would like to take part in the ceremony mentioned. I would also like to see the Coos Bay crew given a furlough so they could be present.

It's true that government authorities are responsible for some strikes due to lack of action on their part to settle disputes, such as in the Montgomery Ward case, where Ward's demanded action for several months but failed to get it.

I hope The Avalanche editorial will get an avalanche of results.

Yours with accord,
Loyd A. Fowler,
Crosbyton.

Hughes Tool Company Petitions For Hearing

NEW ORLEANS, June 28 (AP)—The Hughes Tool company petitioned the U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals today to review a national labor relations board order of May 27, 1944, directing the company, upon request, to bargain collectively with the United Steel Workers of America, locals Nos. 1742, and 2457 (CIO) as embloyes representatives of the company's main plant and aircraft strut plant at Houston.

Court attaches said that briefs and records of the case would be filed with the court and the case would be set for hearing early in 1945.

Dooley Elected State Bar Head

FORT WORTH, June 28. (AP)—Joe B. Dooley of Amarillo today was chosen president-elect of the Texas state bar association and will be installed in that office tomorrow, succeeding Maj. T. Dell, Beaumont.

Dooley was named president-elect by the association's board of directors at the opening day of the state group's annual convention here.

National Leader Heard

Joseph W. Henderson, Philadelphia, Pa., president of the American Bar association, was principal speaker at the convention today.

He asked the estimated 1,500 Texas attorney-delegates to join the National Bar association in seeking enactment of federal legislation "to halt various unfair practices by federal administrative agencies."

Henderson said "some such legislation" had been presented to congress for approval.

The National Association of Women Lawyers' convention convened here at 6 p. m. cwt. Principal speaker tonight was Miss Mary Francis, Oklahoma City, attorney.

Lt. Geo. M. Amaon Is Transferred To City

First Lt. George M. Amaon, veteran of 13 months' service outside the United States, has arrived in Lubbock to take up his duties as a member of the Army Air forces examining board at the West Texas recruiting and induction station.

Lt. Amaon, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Amaon of Abilene, attended Lubbock Senior High school in 1931 and 1932, graduating from the London, Texas, High school. He attended Abilene Christian college for almost four years, lacking only six hours to graduate when he entered the service three years ago.

He received his cadet training at Ellington field, Houston, graduating as bombardier on B-25 medium bomber.

Lt. Amaon participated in 14 bombing raids, mostly over Kiska, while stationed in the Aleutians and Alaska. He was on submarine patrol duty on the West coast of the United States following the Jap's attack on Pearl Harbor. He also was on the same type of duty in the Aleutians for a time.

Lt. Amaon said he was glad to get back to Lubbock as he has a brother, Sgt. Louis B. Amaon, stationed at Lubbock Army Air field. Lt. Amaon comes here from Miami, Fla.

Candidates Report Campaign Expenses

AUSTIN, June 28 (AP)—But 243 of all the statewide and district candidates required to file expense statements with the secretary of state had complied with the initial filing requirement today—closing date for the first account.

Gov. Coke R. Stevenson was among those who acted promptly. His initial report noted expenditure of $645 and contributions totaling $695. The contributions came nearly equally from Stevenson-for-governor clubs at Beaumont, Houston and San Antonio.

CAMANCHOS SEND FLOWERS

MEXICO CITY, June 28 (AP)—President Avila Camancho and his wife sent a wreath of flowers and a message of condolence yesterday to the only surviving close relative of Mrs. Carmen Romero Rubio de Diaz, widow of ex-President Porfiro Diaz, who died Sunday. The message and wreath were borne by two captains, aides of the president.

Price Inflation Reminder Issued

AUSTIN, June 28. (AP)—The depression after World war I was not so much the result of war as of price inflation after the war, Dr. F. A. Buechel, statistical analyst for the University of Texas' Bureau of Business Research, said here to day.

"People need to be reminded that the business losses, depression and unemployment which set in less than two years after the end of World war I, when prices dropped 45 per cent and industrial production 33 per cent, were not so much the direct result of the war as of the price inflation after the war," he said.

Forces Even Greater

"The basic forces which produced the price inflation of 1919 and 1920 are with us today and with even greater power," he emphasized.

"Government deficits are much larger and the increases in current and bank credit are far greater. Wage cases are pending which, if decided in favor of the unions, might start a new cycle of wage increases in industry generally.

Farm Prices Still Low

"The rise of farm land prices—as great in percentage as during the corresponding period of the first World war — has evoked warnings from both public officials and farm authorities."

In dollars and cents, he said, farm prices are still low in comparison with World war I and would have to rise 50 per cent before reaching the peak attained in 1920.

Next Change Known

Dr. Buechel said that business men know the next major change in the business will be curtailment of war production and release of plants, materials and labor for peacetime work. But business men do not know "how fast cutbacks in the war programs are likely to come, which lines will be involved, and how far the cutbacks are likely to go."

Urging Texans to keep well informed on International economic developments in the coming months, Dr. Buechel asserted that "no state in the union has more at stake than has Texas in a sound international program and policy, both because of the state's strategic geographical location and the enormous actual and potential products available for export."

Vegetable Sales To Government Approved

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP) — The Office of Price Administration today authorized processors of canned vegetables to sell several varieties of this year's pack to the government at prices to be adjusted when ceiling prices are fixed.

The permission is intended to help the armed forces obtain immediate supplies of canned peas, snap beans, corn, tomatoes and tomato products.

News Briefs

A program of semi-popular and Hawaiian selections will be presented in Rollie Burns park, Twenty-third street and Avenue K, tonight at 9 o'clock, according to Miss Julia Wilbanks, of the city recreation department. Players will include Betty Tosh, Frances Bethany, Pauline Bowles, Bonnie Plunkett, Jimmy Potet, Betty Turley, Lorene and Florence Parks, Lavell Isbell, Opal Carver, Geraldine Harris and Margie Lewis. Dunagan School of Music has arranged the program. J. K. Kalana will be master of ceremonies.

Henry F. Achilles, 65, died at his home in San Antonio, according to word received here by telegram Wednesday by his sister, Mrs. Ed D. Allen of 1808 Main street. He had been ill for a year. County clerk and Mrs. Allen left Wednesday for San Antonio where services probably will be held today. Four sisters and a brother remain in the family, in Texas, Colorado and Pennsylvania.

Need For Women In WAC Stressed Here

Lt. Jesse W. Gardner, recruiting and enlisting officer for the Women's Army corps, stationed at Camp Barkeley, formerly in charge of the office in Lubbock, visited the local Army recruiting office Wednesday and stressed the need for more women to serve in every capacity in the WAC.

Lt. Gardner cited the urgent need for women to serve as medical technicians at Camp Barkley. She said that doctors were begging for women as aides and that women enlisting now need have no previous training as the doctors themselves would train them. Dental, x-ray surgical and laboratory technicians are urgently needed, she said.

Cantrol Of Cherbourg Returned To French

CHERBOURG, France, June 28 (AP)—The liberated city of Cherbourg formally returned to control of the French today less than 12 hours after the last German resistance was crushed.

In a dramatic ceremony in Place de La Republique, Maj. Gen. J. Lawton Collins, who commanded troops of the Seventh corps in the capture of the peninsula, presented to Mayor Paul Reynaud a fricolor made from silks of parachutes which were first to drop American troops onto French soil.

FDR Signs Relief Bills For Texans

WASHINGTON, June 28. (AP)—Three private relief bills for Texas citizens have been signed by President Roosevelt. They are:

A bill to pay $1,500 to Mrs. Vola Stroud Pokluda; $2,500 to Jessie M. Knowles, and $5,000 to the estate of Lee Stroud to settle claims for injuries and medical expenses and the death of Lee Stroud, when an automobile in which they were riding collided with an Army truck near the Galveston causeway in June, 1941.

A measure to pay $3,000 to the legal guardian of Eugene Holcomb, a minor who was struck by an Army car in Voth, Jefferson county, Tex., on July 28, 1942.

An act providing for payment of $660 to O. W. James of Fort Worth, to cover property damage and injury claims of an accident in November, 1942, when his car collided with an Army truck on highway 377 in Denton county.
