FIRE HITS BOYD LUMBER PLANT $30,000 BLOW

Origin of Flames Unknown but Probe Centers About Jet of Freakish White Glow in Red Furnace.

Warehouse, Shed and Stores of Building Material Go; Insurance Recently Sliced Off $20,000.

The warehouse and shed, office and a quantity of lumber at the Linn A. Boyd Lumber company yard, Mill and Fort Worth streets, were damaged to the extent of $30,000 by fire about 8 o'clock Wednesday night. Origin of the fire was not discovered. A neighbor who turned in the alarm said that the flames first started in the shed.

The warehouse, shed and office, valued at $6,500, were totally destroyed. About $23,500 worth of lumber went the smoke and ashes way. Mr. Boyd carried $13,500 insurance. Recently he cancelled about $20,000 insurance on account of high rates, the owner said.

Fire Chief McClure reported that when the department arrived the flames were spurting in all directions. For the most part it seemed like a deep, red furnace. The hue was broken by one jet of pure white flame that was constantly fed.

Mr. Boyd said he had no chemicals in the yard. He presumed the white flame freak was due to combustion of some peculiar kind of lumber.

Rough and dressed lumber, windows, doors and hardware were destroyed. The firemen put two engines and four lines of hose on the fire.

GARNER SAYS TARIFF BILL BEEN KILLED

Decision to Hold Hearings on Fordney Measure Assures Death of Relief Legislation, Solon Asserts.

By B. N. TIMMONS
(Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 4.—The emergency farmers tariff is dead, Congressman John N. Garner of Texas, who supported the measure, said today. He said that the decision of the senate to hold hearings on it meant that the bill would never be enacted.

Gafner said that blame for the defeat of the measure rests with Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania.

The entire Texas congressional delegation today voted to override the presidential veto of the war finance corporation revival bill.

WILL HOLD HEARINGS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Stumbling blocks which the Fordney emergency tariff bill has encountered since reaching the senate continued today to rise up in its pathway. The chief of these appeared in the direction of the senate finance committee in a stormy executive session to hold hearings on the measure.

Advocates of the tariff measure believed and opponents hoped the committee's action would mean the death of the bill. Senator Smoot (Rep.), Utah, was understood to have told the committee the move would cause the bill either to be killed in conference or "filibustered to death on the senate floor." The projected hearings will begin Thursday and continue until next Tuesday and will be followed also by decision of the committee today, by hearings on the soldier compensation bill.

The finance committee meeting today was the first over which Senator Penrose, its chairman, had presided in more than fifteen months. An attempt by Senator Simons (Dem.), North Carolina, to postpone action indefinitely on the tariff bill developed the first clash. The motion lost however, by two democrats, Senators Nugent of Idaho and Jones of New Mexico, joining the republicans.

Sharp Words Used

The question of holding open hearings, committee members reported, brought on a second vote and exchanges in which "sharp words" were used. The motion to open the hearings was made by Senator Gerry, (Dem.) Rhode Island and it was given the support of all the democratic members in addition to Chairman Penrose, who was joined by another republican, Calder of New York.

Senator Penrose, after the meeting, issued a statement in which he said that both the soldier bonus and tariff measures "undoubtedly would be reported to the senate." He declined, however, to offer a prediction as to what action would be taken in the senate but opponents of the tariff bill were confident it would never become a law.

Farm Federation Has Plans for Cotton Market

By Associated Press.

DALLAS, Jan. 4.—Plans for control and co-operation marketing of approximately 50,000 bales of Texas cotton were outlined in a report today to the Texas Farm Bureau Federation submitted by that organization "committee of 1," composed o2f fourteen farmers and seven prominent business men of this state. Delegation From This State Practically Assured Hudspeth Amendment Permitting Entry of Mexicans for Farm Labor Will Be Adopted by the Senate.

By B. N. TIMMONS.
Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The senate immigration committee today practically gave notice that it intends to put the Hudspeth amendment to the immigration bill, which it will soon report as a substitute for the Johnson bill, which has been passed by the house.

The Hudspeth amndment permits the entry of Mexicans for farm labor without the payment of head tax or the literacy test if in the judgment of the secretary of labor they are needed for farm work.

If the bill passes the senate with the Dudspeth amendment, it must then go to conference with house managers, as sentiment in the house is strongly opposed to the admission of Mexicans, a prolonged fight is seen.

J. A. Hamper of the El Paso Chamber of Commerce, Roy Miller of Corpus Christi, representing the Rural Land Owners' association; Walton Peteet of the Texas Chamber of Commerce and Fred Roberts of the Texas Cotton Growers Co-operative association, appeared before the senate immigration senate committee today in favor of the Hudspeth amendment.

WILL CALL EXPERTS.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4. — Government officials possessing the most accurate knowledge of European conditions will be called to testify by the senate committee on immigration before it submits any recommendation for prohibiting or restricting immigration to the United States. Senator Colt of Rhode Island, chairman of the committee, announced that commissioner Wallis of the Ellis Island station, would be heard tomorrow and other government officials would be heard later.

A dozen opponents of the Johnson bill prohibiting immigration for one year were heard today. All united in a vigorous attack upon it and the other bills covering the subject now pending before the committee and denied recent statements by proponents of the Johnson bill that a flood of undesirable allens is about to sweep the United States from Europe and that emergency legislation is vital for the protection of the country.

Chairman Colt said the committee would press for information to determine whether an emergency actually existed sufficient to warrant the enactment of laws closing American ports to immigration.

WILSON YET HAS WHIPHAND OVER CONGRESS ON FINANCE BOARD TREASURY MEN SAY

President Will Be Required to Name Members for Two Vacancies Before Re-Created Body Is Enabled to Pass on Applications For Advances.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—President Wilson will have to fill at least one of the two vacancies on the board of directors of the revived war finance corporation before it can make any considerable number of loans for financing exports with a view to affording relief to the farming and other industries. This statement was made by treasury officials today after the resolution directing revival of the corporation became a law through its passage by the house over the president's veto.

The vote in the house to pass the resolution over the president's veto was nearly as ample as that cast yesterday in the senate. The house stood 250 for the measure against 66 for upholding the veto, or 37 more than the required two-thirds majority. Seventeen democrats voted to sustain the veto while for its passage there were 135 republicans, 114 democrats and one prohibitionist.

Treasury officials in further discussing adoption of the resolution said that while the corporation would prepare to function immediately as a result of the action of congress, President Wilson would be required to appoint one or two new directors before anything much could be done.

The board of driectors is composed of five members, and officials explained that a majority is required by law to approve the application for a loan. While the present board membership constitutes a quorum, officials asserted, Secretary Mouston, who is ex-officio chairman, would not be able to devote his time exclusively to corporation matters, as the investigation of the adequacy of securities would require. The other two directors, Angus W. McLean, who now is managing director, and George R. Cooksey, officials, would thus be unable to act upon applications for loans.

Presidential nomination to the board require confirmation of the senate majority and the question also arose as to whether the republicans of the senate would depart in such cases from the policy of confirming no nominations at the session.

Finance corporation officials stated that in any event it probably would be two months before the first advance could be approved.

Funds for making the loans must be raised, officials explained, and the methods of providing this money determined upon. The corporation has a balance of about $375,000,000 with the treasury, but Secretary Houston has taken the stand that this money should not be used for making advances to private concerns.

TOBACCO IS BEING STORED BY GROWERS

By Associated Press.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 4.—Farmers were hauling their tobacco away from warehouses and storing it in barns and virtually every market of importance in the central Kentucky tobacco region was closed tonight in protest against low prices offered for this year's crop. The Lexington market first was closed until tomorrow, a later announcement setting Jan. 11 as the date for reopening. Indications were that other markets would follow that lead.

Growers, buyers and others interested in the tobacco crop would not venture a prediction as to what the outcome of the situation would be, but they indicated they were ready for almost anything.

Farmers mass meetings in some counties decided to hold the 1920 crop and cut the 1921 crops. Farmers began hauling their tobacco out of the Lexington warehouses in which there were about 7,700,000 pounds when the sales started yesterday morning.

Buyers of tobacco were threatened by irate growers of Carlisle.

Bankers and warehouse men decided to meet here Friday to decide on ways and means of financing who do not want to sell.

A mass meeting of tobacco growers from all parts of the Burley district was called for January 7 at Lexington for the purpose of providing ways and means of handling the 1921 crop.

GOMPERS FLAYS SUPREME COURT LAW DECISION

Labor Leader Declares Action of High Tribunal in Anti-Trust Ruling Favors "Open Shop."

By Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 4.—The decision of the United States Supreme court yesterday relative to the so-called secondary boycott was attacked in a formal statement here tonight by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who asserted the court has "joined forces with the anti-union shop movement."

The statement characterized the decision as a "blow at the movement of human freedom and progress" and declared it is "thoroughly in accord with the most ardent wishes of predatory greed."

The court held that labor union members are accountable under the anti-trust laws where they depart from their "normal and legitimate objects and engage in an actual combination or conspiracy in restraint of trade."

Mr. Gompers' statement follows:

"The Supreme court, in rendering its decision in the case of the Duplex Printing Press company versus the International Association of Machinists has joined forces with the anti-union shop movement, the movement to undermine and destroy the only organizations which the working people have for their protection.

"The decision of the majority justices fully justifies the statement attributed by the press to Justice Brandeis in the minority dissenting opinion that the whole movement of thirty years to place workers and employers on a basis of equality before the law has been nullified.

"I have not read the whole language of the decision, but I have seen sufficient to say that it is thoroughly in accord with the most ardent wishes of predatory greed and should be highly satisfactory to those who exalt profits and deny the aspirations of humanity.

"It is a blow at the movement for human freedom and progress. I can only add that the protests of minorities of one day have frequently been the decisions of majorities of the next day."

President Gompers arrived in St Louis tonight enroute from Washington to Mexico City to attend the an-American Federation of Labor convention. He expects to leave tomorrow.

PACKERS' PLANS ON STOCKYARDS NOT ACCEPTED

Government Official Declines to Approve Proposed System for Dissolution of Plants.

"Big Five" Given 30 Days to Find Solution of Problem or Surrender Properties to Receivers.

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—All proposals thus far advanced by the "big five" meat packers for divesting themselves of their stockyard interests were rejected today by Justice Stafford in the district court. The companies were given 30 days in which to submit new plans.

At the same time the court warned that unless the defendants proposed plans that would meet requirements outlined, it would" feel obliged to appoint officers to take all the stock (of the stock yards) in question, and to hold the same subject to the order of the court until suitable agreements can be made to have it disposed of, in accordance with the terms and purposes of the decree" agreed upon between the packers and the government more than a year ago.

In the formal statement regarding the courts' decision, the department of justice interpreted this as meaning that "if the packers did not divorce themselves from the stockyards, the court would do it for them."

Justice Stafford said that "to facilitate future progress, it is considered best to state here that the court can not see its way to approve any plan for the consolidation of the yards, whether by a holding company or otherwise." Such a plan had been submitted by Swift and Armour, which companies had proposed that the holding company be organized by F. H. Prince & Co., Boston bankers. The government opposed this plan.

"Any plan to be acceptable," continued Justice Stafford's opinion, "must provide for an early and complete divestment by the defendants of all the obnoxious holdings."

The visitors stood there for little more than a minute. When they turned away Judge Rogers said:

"Now, take it to the county clerk's office and record it."

Edward Whiteworth, Indian chief, Lawton, Okla., had taken unto himself a squaw whose maiden name was Mary Pobocsucut.

They melted into the passing throng as noiselessly and with as little concern as if there had been no change eventful for them.

Addie Krehbel and Ethel Marinoff, both of Amarillo are said to have confessed to Police Chief Huff that they were both responsible for the raising of a $16 check to $76 in that city ten days ago.

Both women were stylishly dressed and of attractive appearance. A coat worn by one is said to have been purchased with the raised check.

PHELAN PLANS SUBSTITUTE FOR ANTI JAP BILL

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Japanese objections to racial discrimination in this country would not be met, Senator Phelan (democrat), California, said today, by the enactment of a general anti-alien land ownership bill in California as a substitute for the anti-alien bill adopted by referendum in the state last November and affecting particularly Japanese nationals by its clause prohibiting ownership of land by aliens ineligible to citizenship.

Japanese officials, Senator Phelan said he was informed contend that a general anti-alien land ownership law in California would not meet the question of race discriminations and that so long as there are citizenship disqualifications for Japanese and not for other aliens such discrimination will exist. He added that he expected a request would be made of the United States by Japan for a federal law to naturalize present Japanese residents of this country, and declared it would be resisted to the utmost.

At the same time Senator Johnson, republican, California, expressed a disposition to stand on the anti-alien bill, which, he added, would only complicate unnecessarily the situation. The present law, he said, was "strictly within the rights of California" and could not properly give offense to the Japanese.

Girl Marries Oil Operator Despite Reported Qualms

In the face, it is said, of family qualms, Miss Mary Kain has become the bride of Charles Sherwin, well-to-do local oil operator and owner of a general store at Breckenridge. They went to Fort Worth, accompanied by two Wichita Falls married women, and were married.

Mr. Sherwin was recently put under $1,000 bond in the federal court on a charge of transporting liquor in Young county. He was arrested when an aeroplane in which he was riding descended at Graham to let off a passenger. Twenty quarts of whisky in the car were confiscated. Several witnesses testified to Sherwin's good character.

Men's Clothing Price Falling Makers Assert

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—The market for men's spring and summer clothing was opened in Chicago today and manufacturers offered suits at prices much below those of the spring of 1920. One of the leading factors in the ready-made trade quoted the manufacturers' price of wool suits at $25, compared to $40 last fall and $37 a year ago. Fine blue serge suits are offered at $30, compared to $47 last fall and $43 one year ago. A standard worsted suit is now wholesaled at $34, compared to $45 for spring of 1920. The very finest worsted suits made in America are now offered at $53, compared to $80, the price last fall. Fine worsted trousers are now $9, compared to $12.50 last spring. Prices for summer goods, such as mohairs and palm beaches range upwards from $14.50, compared to $16.50 last year.

Buyers from every part of the United States say that they have for the most part liquidated goods bought at peak prices and from now on clothing will be retailed on the new level.

COUNTY BEGINS WITH CITY ON TAX ASSESSING

The city and county, working together, began making assessments of property for taxation purposes here Tuesday. Irvin Deaton, county tax assessor, declared that the county would assess on a "market value" basis, a decision which is in line with the recent federal ruling permitting income tax reports on a "market value" as contrasted with a "cost value" basis.

The county will make assessments in the residence districts of the city, and the rural districts first in order to give business houses time to complete annual inventories before going to them for renditions.

F. E. Johnson, representing the county, and Guy C. Bailey, the city, began work side by side on assessments in the Sibley Taylor addition.

George Mills began taking renditions near Iowa Park; Tom Haynes, near Electra; W. D. Gant, near Burkburnett.

Mr. Deaton also announced that his policy in handling assesments would be to allow for lower valuations here brought about, as elsewhere, by readjustments to a lower valuation basis as expressed in dollars.

Report Extension Of Electra Field

A quarter of a mile extension to the south, from the Gladiolus lease, which is one of the most prominent right at the present in the entire district, is affected by the Gulf Production company's No. 4 Collett, reported Tuesday as having set casing on an oil sand at 1,440 feet and now preparing to drill in. The Gladiolus lease was the first in the South Electra district to get the 1,400-foot sand.

This sand has been somewhat slighted however, because of the richly productive shallower sand. 960 feet, in which the company has recently had splendid completions.

The Gulf test is reported to be making a splendid showing. Other wells on this lease are producing from a shallower sand.

MEXICAN LABOR PARTY REFUSED ENTRY TO U. S.

By Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 4.—United States immigration officials at Laredo refused to allow the Mexican reception committee, which had been sent to welcome representatives of the American Federation of Labor to cross to the American side. This statement was made today by Canuto A. Vargas, secretary of the Pan-American Federation of Labor, who arrived here this morning from Washington.

The American labor representatives, headed by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, are to participate in the Pan-American labor congress to be held in Mexico City.

The reason for the refusal to admit the Mexicans is not explained in the committee's telegrams to Secretary Vargas, but it was announced that four members, including Luis Morones, the Mexican labor leader, are returning to Mexico City, leaving the other members of the committee to inform the American delegates of the prohibition. Secretary Vargas said he had notified the American Federation of the action taken by the immigration officials and that the labor demonstration arranged for the arrival of Mr. Gompers and his party had been called off.

Two labor congresses probably will meet in Mexico City next week, one the regularly constituted convention of the Pan-American Federation of Labor and the other a protest demonstration which was called today by dissenting members of the federation. The American Federation of Labor appears to be the rock upon which the factions are splitting. Posters appeared in the city today, announcing that the American Federation of Labor has not been recognized by the Third Internationale of Moscow, of which, says the posters, the Pan-American is an adherent.

January 10 is the date set for both bodies to open their sessions, and the prospects are that the two conventions will be functioning simultaneously. The Pan-American federation program has not been announced.

The newspapers have announced that virtually all the nations of South and Central America will be represented, in addition to an imposing delegation from the United States, headed by Samuel Gompers.

Justice Cuddles Half Dollar for Peeved Juryman

There's a silver half dollar always nestling in waiting in the vest pocket of Justice of Peace Maxwell.

And it will stay there until an indignant juror returns to claim it, the justice declares. The juror makes a goodly sum every day, something like $15. He was called to serve on a jury for a half day during an examining trial and he lost that much money "time."

The jury fee was 50 cents. The $15 per day man refused to accept his four-bit salary.

A PARISIAN IDEA WHITE GOODS SALE

Early confirmations and weddings in France made the buying of white goods early in the year a necessity. With this natural demand as a basis, Parisian merchants, by a continual increase of stocks, by offering exceptional values, and by proper publicity, succeeded in making January a wonderful month of white goods sale.

In this regard, the whole world has looked on and learned something and mid-winter has become a "White Goods Season" throughout the country, due to the progressiveness of one of America's foremost merchants.

Manufacturers have revised their whole scheme of business. Orders are now taken months in advance. White goods are sold in large quantities on all sides, so that the maximum purchasing power is given every store's white goods dollar.

And the result is to the public's benefit, as well as to the merchants' and manufacturers'. After Christmas shopping has been transformed from ordinary business to that which brings buying opportunities without end.

Thrifty housewives everywhere are now buying the major part of a twelve months' white goods supply—table linen, bed linen, dress goods, ribbons, lingerie, muslin underwear, etc. Not only do they thus effect a splendid saving, but choose from among the choicest of the year's offering as well.

Because the selling season is a short one, and buying always brisk, the stores can afford to take the minimum profit.

The news of the white sale is a regular feature in our advertising columns. Here the progressive, responsive patronage of this city finds listed the choice offerings of worth-while stores.

That these progressive, prosperous newspaper readers act on the suggestions thus conveyed, is best attested to by the year-in and year-out patronage of advertisers, who find a ready response always to the quality appeal.

The profit as well as the pleasure to be derived from the reading of advertising is something with which our readers are familiar. And the purpose of this story and others that appear constantly in these columns is to perpetuate this mutually profitable interest.

That's why merchants and manufacturers find that to talk to our prosperous readers regularly is to reap the reward of increased patronage, added prestige and multiplied profits.

MRS. T. B. SMOCK NAMED HEAD OF LEAGUE FOR FOURTH TIME

Mrs. T. B. Smock was elected president of the Civic League for the fourth consecutive term, at the first business meeting of 1921, held Tuesday afternoon at the Kemp Library.

This election was one month ahead of the regular annual election, but was moved up, in order that the names of the league officers could be included in the State Federationist's roster of Federated clubs.

The election of Mrs. Smock this year was urged by the nominating committee, despite Mrs. Smock's previous statements that she could not serve, because the league has important work undertaken for the year, which was begun by Mrs. Smock and which the league wished to see consummated under her leadership.

To offset the objection offered by Mrs. Smock that the work was really beyond her strength, Mrs. Don Long was named active vice president, with the instructions of the nominating committee that she was to work with Mrs. Smock in the executive position.

Mrs. H. S. Crawford and Mrs. T. B. Smith, both prominent in the work of the league, were named second and third vice presidents, and Mrs. J. C. V. T. Christensen, the corresponding secretary of last year, was elected recording secretary and was authorized to make the appointment of an assistant. Mrs. R. E. Shepherd was re-elected treasurer and Mrs. Bentley Bacon was elected corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Smock and Mrs. J. A. Kemp will be the first women members of the business council, of the Chamber of Commerce that is formed of business leaders of the city. These two having been selected by the civic league as their representative in that body, following an invitation from the Chamber of Commerce for two members from the league.

The league also acted favorably on the request of the Chamber of Commerce that one hundred members of the league serve the annual membership banquet which will be held Thursday evening, January 13, at the First Baptist church. The following were named as a committee to arrange the corps of women: Mesdames W. S. Curlee, J. A. Kemp, M. H. Clover, W. A. Patterson, J. E. Sharpe and T. B. Smock.

Mrs. C. C. Randle and Mrs. J. W. Stone volunteered to attend a meeting of the North Side Civic League, in the near future. The auxiliary league had sent a request for some speakers.

Reports from the various departments were given, the work of the city beautiful committee, including to tree sale which is scheduled to open this week, being made by Mrs. W. S. Curlee, the chairman; Mrs. Flora Perham, the chairman of civic affairs; Mrs. M. H. Glover, chairman of sanitation work; Mrs. R. E. Shepherd, finance chairman; Mrs. W. A. Patterson, choirman of the market and Mrs. J. W. Stone, chairman of the entertainment committee.

Talks by Miss Katherine Henricle, of the Texas Children's Home and Aid Society, and by Mrs. James C. Berney, prominent in study club and federation work, added much to the interest of the program.

Allen won the high cut prize a set of linen madeira embroidered tea napkins, and Miss Agnes Reid was consoled with a dainty madeira embroidered handkerchief.

The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Woodruff's mother, Mrs. T. R. T. Orth, and sister, Mrs. Frank Terry of San Antonio, and Mesdames Carter McGregor and Merrill Blair.

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a widow with one child and a mother to care for. I have made my own living for seven or eight years.

Now I am going with a young man whom I love very dearly. We have been keeping company for ten months and every night he comes to see me. He takes we anywhere I want to go. He is very fond of my little girl and she of him.

He isn't making very much money, and mother and sister seem to think I ought not go with him so much or marry him. They want me to marry someone with money.

We are engaged. If we marry, I intend to keep working for a while at least to help him get a start in life. Do you think I ought to give him up and marry someone I don't care for just because he has money? I can do that. Not that mother doesn't want me to be happy, but she hates to see me work.

Do you think a man loves a girl when he comes every night for ten months? He is devoted to me. I don't enjoy going out anywhere without him. Kindly advise me.

BROWN EYES.

You should not marry a man just because he has money. Neither should you marry a man who hasn't any. I would advise you to keep on with your work and to remain single until your finance has made his own start. If he works conscientiously at a job and tries to improve his methods in every way he can, he is bound to advance.

It seems to me that both of you are making a mistake in seeing each other so often. Neither gets enough rest or solitude. You would be better off and get along more rapidly in business if you only saw each other three times a week.

It looks as if your fiance really loves you, since he is so devoted and has been for ten months.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a stenographer of 18, am considered good-looking, can speak French, Spanish and German fluently. I can also dance, play the piano, and am always punctual.

Would you consider the last point against me? All the boys I go with say that I am too efficient. Don't you think it is better to try to do your work well than it is to just glance over it because a boy tells you that you are too efficient?

It seems that I can't make a good impression no matter how hard I try. Please advise me what to do.

I won't use rouge and I won't wear these elaborate clothes, although my salary would permit me to if I wished. DESPONDENT.

Great efficiency, to be a virtue, must be accompanied by modesty. Probably you are lacking in the latter quality since you are so sure of your accomplishments.

In your conversation do not talk about yourself. It is a very good rule to "Shout YOU and whisper me."

If you want to be popular with young men, you must impress them with their own virtues and not with your own. The more clever you make them feel, the more they will recognize your good points and like you.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 16 years old and would very much like to go to the city to work. I am living with a good lady friend who gives me a good home and she advises me to stay in my own home town.

Advise me what to do.

BLONDE.

I would advise you to stay in your home town. You are too young to start out for yourself in a city. You would have difficulty in finding work and would not be paid sufficiently to support yourself.

ALL THINGS WORK TOGETHER

for good to them that love God. If God be for us, who can be against us? Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? Shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine or nakedness, or peril, or sword? Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through Him that loved us.—Romans 8: 28, 31, 35, 37.

BURK FAMILY AND PEACE DOVE

In the current issue of the American magazine there is a story about why families quarrel and the way one family solved the problem. The writer of the story says that he and his wife went away from a family reunion which they had gone to with fear and trembling of a portending clash, with all their fears realized. They were mad at themselves, mad at the rest of the family.

And they were ashamed.

The writer took the lead in the bad pill of saying: "I did wrong," and wrote a humble letter of forgiveness to the rest of the family. The others came back just as good. And that family has lived happy ever since.

And it seems like something like this might save a lot of ill feeling and make things run smoother and better up in Burkburnett's official family. Just what the trouble is Wichitans don't seem to know. But repeatedly reports of little unpleasantnesses have come here from Burkburnett. They were blamed in the meeting of the county commissioners court the other day for the delay in Burk's road building program.

Now, they are disagreeing over a gas franchise to which many of the citizens seem to object as "all for the company, and come what may for us." The Burkburnett city council passed it over the firm veto of the mayor.

With the reports of ill feeling have come those of self-sacrifices and high public service. For many weeks officials of Burkburnett voluntarily passed up their pay checks in order to leave money in the treasury for paving.

The same writer in The American said that money troubles are the cause of most family troubles. And maybe that has something to do with Burkburnett's official family. But there ought to be a way out.

IOWA PARK SUGGESTION.

The Iowa Park Herald suggests for 1921 that Iowa Park become a cleaner city. After asking if Iowa Park is satisfied with 1920 and its achievements, it suggests:

"First. We need a cleaner city. There is entirely too much old junk lying around loose in this town. This should by all means be transported beyond the city limits and burned. A stranger cannot pass through the city without meeting piles and piles of discarded junk of various descriptions on almost every corner. Why such unsightly things should be allowed to mar the natural beauty of our city is a mystery. When will we have a clean-up day What does the health officer and the city council say? What do you say, gentlemen? Give the orders and let the citizenship obey. Now is a good time to begin. Who will second the motion?"

Five other suggestions he makes are: A greater and better moral sense and stricter enforcement of laws; riddance of unsightly and dangerous buildings in the business center; good cement sidewalks; better buildings for home and business; more action out of the Chamber of Commerce and more co-operation with it from business men.

CONGRATULATIONS, MR. HERNDON

Ten years ago today Crawford Herndon, editor of the Electra News, made his debut in the tiny village of Electra. Mr. Herndon had faith in the town and stuck. He saw it grow from an obscure little farming community to one of the best oil cities in north Texas. The paper he is now conducting was a little dinky sheet that was gotten out spasmodically now and then; now he has a modern plant and is issuing one of the best and snappiest weeklies in the state. While many have come and many have gone—it has remained for Mr. Herndon to stick with his profession and the welfare of Electra.—Electra Star.

QUEER BIRDS IN CONGRESS

"We have some queer birds in congress," says the Electra Star in commenting on the proposal to tax bank deposits. The Star is right.

It says:

"One of the newest theories advanced in congress to pay off the war debts, is to make a straight tax on all bank deposits of one-fourth of one per cent, which, it is stated, would result in a large amount of money being raised to defray expenses. This has justly caused a howl of criticism from some of the largest bankers of the nation and is regarded as one of the most far-fetched ideas that has been introduced for some time.

"In the first place such a tax is not just from any viewpoint as it would result in the withdrawal of deposits from banking institutions and go a long ways toward paralyzing the banking industry, which is the axis of our financial operations of today. It would encourage individuals to hoard their money and thus remove it from circulation, which would result in a money panic. It would encourage high jackers and bank robberies.

"Yea—we have some queer birds in congress."

SHOWING THE DOOR TO "AMBASSADOR" MARTENS

When the secretary of labor courteously but firmly showed the door to "Soviet Ambassador" Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, the only criticism voiced by the press as a whole is that it took him so long to do it. While approving the order entirely, many writers object to the consideration Mr. Martens has received and to what they regard as granting him a clean bill of health on his personal activities. A few papers, however, doubt that any good can be accomplished by the deportation.

The presence of Martens in the United States, the Oklahoma City Oklahoman (Dem.) declares, "has been a constant menace to American institutions. He and his agents have been doing their best to spread discontent and undermine the democratic form of government"; and "how much harm he has done," adds the Springfield (Ohio) News (Dem.), "never can be adequately reckoned." The Columbia (S. C.) Record (Dem.) agrees that Martens' "presence constitutes a positive menace," a fact which was popularly appreciated, however, long before it was officially admitted.

"That Martens" the Record continues, "has no place in the scheme of things American and that America has no place for the scheme of things for which Martens stands, personally or officially, long ago became fixed in the public mind * * * The real America is a way of thinking about things. This state of mind, upon which depends the permanency of America and its institutions, must not be poisoned by contact with the insidious doctrines of which Martens, if we recognize him at his face value as the accredited ambassador, is the personification, and to which it is clear that as an individual he holds."

This country is not the only one, the New York Times (Ind. Dem.) points out, "to suffer from the presence of these ostensible diplomatic agents of the Soviet government. They have carried on their "revolutionary activities" in most of the important countries and "have been expelled in consequence * * * They come in the guise of friendly envoys, but at once turn themselves into revolutionaries and inciters to crime. A self-respecting government cannot tolerate such a course." Whatever attitude we may choose to take in granting to Russia "the sort of government the Russians consider best suited to their needs," the Norfolk Ledger Dispatch (Ind.) holds that "we still have a right to say something about the activities that government engages in on this side of the Atlantic." And disagreeing with Secretary Wilson's findings as to Martens' personal guilt in trying "to bring about the overthrow of the United States government," the Ledger-Dispatch concludes that "deportation is a mild treatment to apply to him." The New York Tribune (Rep.) also asserts that "Martens, both by his activities and his associations, has neglected no opportunities to lay foundations" for revolutionary movements here and that "the time to have deported him was immediately following his arrival."

"It has taken four years for Secretary Wilson to draw up his indictment" against the "Soviet Ambassador," says the Buffalo News (Rep.) a delay which would indicate that he has a powerful friend at court." Martens has thus enjoyed "immunity," he Pittsburg Gazette Times (Rep.) declares, while "his dupes have been punished" for the "vicious deeds" which he instigated. The New York Mail (Ind.) also finds it a "travesty on justice" that he has been "suffered to remain here so long in luxurious comfort, while hundreds far less morally reprehensible were forced to leave their families behind them and be Arked away into the chaos and suffering of Russian residence."

But now that the country "is to be freed of the dangerous presence of the small, inoffensive man with the elaborate name," the New York Globe (Ind.) is far from sure that we gain anything by his going.

"The facts in the case," it says, "laying all dogma aside, are that Russia has an established government which Mr. Martens has represented as well as he was able, and which is probably passing day by day further away from the doctrines which gave it birth. * * * The British government which is no more anxious than ours to be overthrown, has offered the Soviets a treaty of commerce, blandly overlooking the connection between Lenin and the Third Internationale. Ultimately we shall have to do the same, and then we may even miss Mr. Martens."

The Johnstown (Pa.) Democrat (Dem.) also suggests that "evidently John Bull's nerves are less jumpy than those of Uncle Sam" since "England does not seem to take the Russian talk of blowing up the rest of the world quite as seriously as we do." But will Martens' going, it asks, "settle the Russian question?"

"Will his deportation tend even remotely to improve our relations with the great Russian people? All testimony is substantially in agreement on the point that the existing government at Moscow is on a firm footing, and that further to antagonize it is folly of the worst order."

It looks a long way off, but the time may come when landlords will ask the government to guarantee the rent from vacant houses.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

MARGOT IS COMING

Statesmen from Bangor to Fargo,
Keep a lookout now for Margot.
She is coming o'er the sea
To fill up her diary.
She's a nose for news prehensile.
She will wage a wicked pencil.
Politicians, watch your step.
She is coming to get hep.
If you've boodle that you bask with
In daylight dodge Mrs. Asquith.
Crooks and yeggs, take to the woods;
She will get you with the goods.
Take a tip; be shy and skittish.
See how she has panned the British.

Still, we'll say there's quite a cargo
Of fine scandal here for Margot.
She is coming to a field
That should give her quite a yield.

She's a lady, brave and fearless,
Truthful, candid, frank and tearless.
How our hardened heart she stirs
With those love affairs of hers.
Starting when she learned to toddle.
How we do eat up that twaddle.
She who knows the orientals,
Englishmen and continentals,
Will not hesitate to slam
One old guy named Uncle Sam.

Therefore, be on good behavior;
That alone will be your savior.
Diplomats and statesmen, all,
Take in sail before the squall.
Heaven help us just once more.
Margot soon lands on our shore.

But I have not become inert

OREGON FLOODS HINDER TRAFFIC, RAIL AND AUTO

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 4.—Reports of further slides of earth upon highways and railroads, and of rivers and creeks running bankful or out of bands, continued to come in today from many points.

The Williamette river here stood at 17.7 feet tonight and practically all the lower dock levels were flooded. Little damage was reported.

J. B. Nickelson, in charge of maintainance of the Columbia river highway, declared slides on that route between Hood river and Cascade were "innumerable." Near Astoria one slide covered this highway to a depth of 15 feet for a distance of 150 feet.

The lowlands north of Salem are flooded. Many roads there are under water. A landslide near Cushman, Ore., at the mouth of a tunnel, interrupted railroad communication today.

Suspended Sentence Law May Be Changed

FORT WORTH, Texas, Jan. 4.—A modification of the suspended sentence law and bonus for Texans who served in the world war are included in the legislation which Representative Wallace Malone, labor union member from Tarrant, will offer in the lower house at Austin January 11, he announced today.

He wants the suspended sentence law modified, to make it more rigid, rather than have it repealed, as many are advocating. He wants state bonds issued to pay the soldier bonus.

Shamrock Oil Absorbs Chapman Clark And Harbin Interests and Steps Into Front Ranks Independent Companies

Absorption of the Chapman Clark and Harbin interests by the Shamrock Oil company of this city became known here Tuesday morning with the receipt of telegraphic advices of the ratification of the deal by the stockholders of the first named association at a meeting at Waxahachie.

The acquisition of the holdings of this company puts the local company in the front rank of the independent companies operating in the Mid-Continent field. Its capital stock is now $3,000,000.

The offices of the company will remain in this city with C. H. Clark, the founder of the Shamrock company as president. G. S. Bays, field man for the Shamrock and Red River Oil company interests for the past several years, is first vice-president. Homer N. Chapman and J. M. Baldridge of the Chapman, Clark and Harbin interests are vice president and secretary-treasurer, respectively of the enlarged company.

The Shamrock company was one of the pioneer companies in the Burkburnett development, as it was in the Stephens county district in Oklahoma, in both places of which it has good production. The Shamrock company also has valuable properties and is carrying on operations in the Breckenridge, Young county and Panhandle districts. In the area of the large Panhandle gas field it has several thousand acres under lease, and is now engaged in putting down a test.

The Chapman, Clark and Harbin interests have properties at Breckenridge and in the Young county field, completing one of the largest producers in the Big Bend district some few weeks ago, Mr. Clark was interested in the organization of this association, but disposed of his holdings some time ago. The present deal was agreed upon several weeks ago, but could not be made public until the ratification at the Waxahachie meeting.

The properties of the Shamrock Oil company now have about 40 producers, with a daily production of around 3,000 barrels.

A fourth motorcycle policeman was added to the force Tuesday. B. M. Newton has joined the squad, which now consists of four officers.

Another short paragraph in the story of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw Clifford's tumultous life was written the other day when she appeared in a New York court to prosecute her brother on a charge of withholding $390 due her on the loan of a diamond ring. She told the court that without that money she would be unable to spend Christmas with her son Russell, who is with his maternal grandmother in Pittsburg.

City Will Use Prisoners for Clean-Up Jobs

Inhabitants of the city jail are to be put to work. For some time inmates have been compelled to aid in janitor work around the city halls But their field of activity is to be broadened, according to Police Chief Huff.

Prisoners who are serving out sentences or for other reasons are confined to the jail for a period of several days are going to join the clean-up campaign. In order that a maximum result can be obtained from their work the prisoners will be turned over to the city sanitary department.

Dr. Douglas, head of the sanitary department, says that the prisoners will aid in cleaning up the alleys of the down town section. After the alleys are cleaned, other work will be done, provided the supply of labor holds up.

It is no secret that the police department will become an unpopular winter resort when connected with a clean-up campaign.

Payments of City Taxes Fall Lower

Payment of taxes was not included in the New Year's resolutions of many local residents, in the opinion of City Tax Collector Anderson. The old year ended with city and school taxes coming in at the rate of better than $30,000 daily, and it was hoped that with New Year's resolutions and the fact that there is only one month left to pay the taxes, the good work would continue during the first month of the year.

There has been a decided slump, however. The collections for Monday and Tuesday totaled only $13,813.13.

Detective Chief Gets Gold Badge

Detective Chief Boyd Tuesday received a gold badge, the gift of the Texas State Bankers association with which he was connected as chief detective for fifteen years previous to his resignation on January 1, 1920. The gold badge was voted Mr. Boyd at the annual meeting of the association last May in appreciation of his long and successful service with the organization.

The badge is 18 carat gold of special design. In a letter of presentation J. W. Butler, vice president of the Texas Bank and Trust company of Galveston, a former officer of the Texas Bankers association expressed the appreciation of the organization for the special service rendered it by Mr. Boyd.

DOAK ROBERTS DENIES REPORT THAT SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION PLANS FIGHT ON TEXAS LEAGUE

DALLAS, Texas, Jan. 4.—Doak Roberts, president of the Texas league, here tonight said that he either had been misquoted or misunderstood by former President Walter Morris, who gave out a statement in Fort Worth today, quoting Mr. Roberts as saying he feared the Southern association intended to attack the "A" classification of the Texas league.

"I attended the Memphis meeting of the Southern association and found only the kindliest feeling towards the Texas league," Mr. Roberts said. "We are working in harmony with the association and have signed a one-year agreement for a post-season championship. That we expect no attack on us is indicated by the fact that if I am not able to attend the Chicago meeting, I shall ask President John A. Martin to vote our proxy."

FIGHT IMPENDING.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Jan. 4.—That a fight is impending to throw the Texas league back into a B classification was indicated here during a conversation between President Roberts of the Texas and President Walter Morris of the West Texas league. The fight, it is understood, will be made by club owners of the Southern association and lack of population will be grounds. The Texas league was raised from class B to class A at the November meeting of the National association in Kansas City. The same association, as well as the national board of arbitration, will assemble in Chicago next Monday and then it is that the Southern is expected to begin its fight. President Roberts of the Texas league will attend the meeting.

President Heinman of the New Orleans club, will initiate the fight against the Texas league, according to Roberts.

SPORT SNAP SHOTS

BY JACK KEENE

Armos Laitinen, the muscular Finn recently arrived in this country in quest of new honors, after making short work of the best on the opposite side of the briny deep; his manager, Hjalmar Lundin, the former Swedish heavyweight champion, who exchanged holds with the best in his day, and Hilmer Johnson, the elusive South Brooklyn Svenska Pirker.

Like all good mechanics, Laitinen, who lays claims to the European championship, served his apprenticeship in the amateur ranks. He was born in Helsingfors, Finland, twenty-seven years ago, and at the age of fourteen took up wrestling in the simon pure ranks. Two years later he had acquired the lightweight, welterweight, light heavyweight and heavyweight amateur crowns in rapid succession. Two years ago he turned professional and continued his chain of successes in practically all of the European countries.

He is particularly anxious to force Joe Stecher, Strangler Lewis or Earl Craddock on the mat with him.

In the seventy bouts in which he has participated, Laitinen has never known what it means to taste defeat. He is five feet ten inches in height and weighs 220 pounds. He has a 20 inch neck; chest normal, 50 inches; thigh, 28 inches; calf, 18 inches and biceps 18 inches. He holds the record weight of ten men in bridge (standing on his chest), while bent back with his head touching the floor and his legs spread out.

For three years Laitinen was a detective on the police force in Helsingfors, made many important arrests and had many close calls from death during the Red and White clashes in Finland. He was later appointed chief bodyguard of President J. K. Stholberg of Finland, and while accompanying him and the war minister on one trip had what he considers his toughest grappling encounters off the mat. Five bandits, as the Reds are called in Finland, threw a bomb in the hopes of killing the war minister. No casualties resulted.

Laitinen closed in on the quintet and narrowly escaped being struck by a bullet from a forty-five caliber revolver by one of the bandits, who discharged it while eighteen feet away. The wrestler overpowered the five single-handed and marched them off to the lockup. Because of this and other heroic deeds he was one of the most feared men in Finland. He made an attempt to come to this country two years ago, but could not obtain permission. He eventually succeeded through the efforts of President Stholberg and arrived here October 11 on the steamer United States of the Scandinavian-American line.

Laitinen, a well educated chap, and above all a perfect gentleman, regarded his bout with Alexander Eberg in Europe the hardest of his career. They grappled for two hours before Laithinen got the verdict. He was originally an association football player and got his incentive for the wrestling game while attending a circus as a boy while a number of important bouts were contested.

Laitinen is said to be the inventor of a special headlock that is far more dangerous than Joe Stecher's famous scissors. The Finn uses it only as an emergency measure. It maintains the grip of a vise and paralyzes whatever side of the head it is secured on. Lundin, who has been in the game longer than most of the present-day crop of wrestlers, says he never saw the equal of the hold. Laitinen expects to beat Stecher with it if they are ever matched.

Laitinen is willing to wrestle any heavyweight in the world at either Graeco-Roman or catch-as-catch-can. He has deposited $1,000 with Johnny Fleeson, manager of the Prospect Sporting club, as a forfeit to meet any heavyweight procured for him. All he wants, he says, is a fair chance to display his prowess.

NOW ANOTHER LEAGUE WILL ENTER FIELD

BOSTON, Jan. 4.—The Continental Baseball League, Incorporated, which, its promoters say, will put baseball teams in several major league cities, held its first meeting today and elected Andrew F. Lawson of this city president.

Franchises were assigned by states, as follows: Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and possibly the province of Ontario, with a team at Toronto.

Mr. Lawson announced that it had been agreed to have no salary limit, and that "in the event of the Red Sox not accepting the offer to sell, a park would be built in Boston."

The franchise for the team was awarded to Donald Jones of Indianapolis, and Charles H. Mach of Philadelphia was given the franchise for New Jersey.

Irslinger Works Out in Tip Top Shape for Bout

Henry Irslinger showed himself to be in superb condition for the championship go with Waino Ketonin in a 30-minute workout Tuesday afternoon with Sailor Lewis and Steve Maryol on the Wichita theater stage.

Lewis, a clever 180-pounder with several years of mat xperience to his credit furnished Henry with major portion of the afternoon's work.

Irslinger will work out Wednesday afternoon just after the close of the matinee. Manager Crosbie announced that the curtain would be raised for the event and people desiring to see the workout were invited to remain. The daily workouts will be continued to Saturday.

Rickard Loses Damage Suit to Referee Rocap

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 4.—Tex Rickard, fight promoter, was ordered today to pay $500 to William H. Rocap, a boxing referee and sports writer, by the jury in Rocap's slander suit against Rickard. Rocap charged that his reputation had been damaged by remarks made by Rickard the day following the Willard-Dempsey fight in Toledo July 4, 1919.

He alleged that Rickard, offended at an article by Rocap criticizing the match, declared to newspaper men that Rocap was a blackmailer and "tried to hold him up for $1,000." Rickard denied having made such a statement. The two men had an altercation before the match when the promoter refused to redeem tickets returned by Rocap.

Rock Hound Comes Into Own in Story

The berated, be-littled and abused "rock hound" comes into his own in a story of that title running in the current number of the Cosmopolitan, and written by William McHarg, who spent two or three days down here last spring mastering the details of the oil industry. In this story the "rock hound" comes to bat and delivers some real results.

As the scene of the story is laid in Wichita Falls and its nearby oil fields, Wichitans who are more or less familiar with the oil operations and the machinations of the less scrupulous promoters should spend an enjoyable few minutes in getting Mr. McHarg's idea of how these things are carried on, as well as seeing more or less familiar things through his eyes.

Honest Policeman Turns Back Purse With $37 Currency

How many people picking up a lain purse without sacks of identification and containing about one-third of their month's salary would be conscientious enough to really try to locate the owner?

Wichita Falls has a policeman who is—Patrolman H. L. Hoskins, who patrols a down town stretch of Tenth street, beginning at Indiana. Patrolman Hoskins, who has a night beat, picked up a purse with something over $37 in currency, which he returned to the owner. He found the owner through the Record-News.

Tests 1377-Sand Six Miles West Of Gladiolus Pay

The Iowa Park Land and Leasing company's No. 1 Burnett in Section 1, S. A. and M. G. survey, close to Burk station, has several feet of oil in the hole, from a sand drilled at 1,377 feet, according to latest reports, from the field.

The well is to be completed immediately, and the testing will be watched with much interest, since there is no production in sand this depth closer than the Gladiolus lease, six miles to the west.

The Gulf Production company's new strike, which got the sand at 970 feet, is about midway between the Iowa Park Land and Leasing test and the Gladiolus producers.

This new test is a short distance south of the Overland Petroleum company's Burnett lease, which has a number of producers, from shallow sands, the deepest being around 700 feet.

TIMES CHANGES

They had only been married six months, and as they returned home from the theater he remarked on the way, "What beastly street lighting! I can't see a bit." Then, "whatever are you crying about?"

"Why," she sobbed "six months ago you were angry every time we came to a light!"

City License 31 Owners to Run 42 Livery Cars Here

Forty-two service cars have been licensed and are now in operation according to information from the office of City Clerk Thorburn. The number exceeds the expectation of city officials who believed that not more than twenty-five machines would be licensed under the new service car ordinance.

The cars belong to thirty-one owners. Three owners are operating four cars each, two owners two cars each and the remainder are operated by their owners.

Stands have been designated for all cars. License fees totaling $525 have been collected by the city from owners. A fee of $12.50, half the yearly fee, is being collected for each machine given a license. The half year license expires on March 31, the end of the city's fiscal year.

It is a question whether it is any harder to serve two masters than it is to master two servants.

Drilling Campaign Expected to Grow Out of Gulf Strike Three Miles East Of Gladiolus in Shallow Sand Stuff

An intensive drilling campaign for the development of the shallow production on the Burnett is expected to follow closely the showing of the Gulf Production company's No. 12 Burnett "A," reported Tuesday as running over the top after being drilled only three feet into the 970-foot sand—three miles east of the Gladiolus lease, the nearest production at this depth.

W. B. Larkin and Seay-Cranfill et al, both of whom own offsetting leases, have already made locations for offsets to the Gulf test.

The Gulf well made several small heads Tuesday, and oil was continually running over the top of the casing. Efforts to bail down the hole being unsuccessful, tubing was being run for it to be put on the pump Tuesday night.

The well is located in the northwest corner of the northeast quarter of section 1, T. & N. O. R. R. survey A-316. It is believed the well will pump at least 100 barrels.

The three-mile extension of operations in this South Electra district, which is practically a 1920 development, is expected to receive considerable impetus from this and other late strikes in that section.

Immediate drilling is expected to be the rule, as the larger part of the Burnett leases have carried clauses calling for drilling within 60 days.

Whether the Gulf well indicated a three-mile extension of the 970-foot sand encountered in the Gladiolus wells, few operators would venture a prediction, but the possibility of this being the case has added to the interest in subsequent drilling in this section.

ET BLANKET KILLS HOPES OF CHILDREN

Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Seven Russian children, brought here for adoption by Rear Admiral Newton A. McCully, former American high commissioner at Sebastopol, were ordered excluded from the country by an immigration board of inquiry at Ellis Island today.

The order fell like a wet blanket on the hopes of the youngsters and the admiral, who had played Santa Claus and father to them all the way from their native land on the collier Antilochus. They were to be his wards and his heirs, sharing his home at Washington and enjoying all the educational facilities he could give them.

But the admiral announced that he immediately would take an appeal to the secretary of labor at Washington, and that he was ready to post as many bonds as high bonds as would be asked and that he intended to fight to the last ditch for admittance of the children. In the meantime pending a ruling from Washington they will be detained at Ellis Island.

The technical exclusion ruling of Ellis Island officials was that the children were "liable to become public charges."

Amusements

WICHITA.

Those who were fortunate enough to see the delightful musical revue "Under the Apple Tree" on last week's bill at the Wichita theater should not fail to see "The Love Shop," a better act in every respect. Written and staged by the same men, "The Love Shop" is billed as a rhapsody in velvet silk and lace, with a glorious array of beautiful models in a stunning display of boudoir and boulevard creations that fairly make you gasp.

Undoubtedly one of the most prolific and successful producers of the one-act musical productions is George Choos, and one of the best of his output is "The Love Shop," in which he stars that excellent comedian Eddie Vogt and features those excellent vaudevillians Harry and Grace Ellsworth. The book and lyrics and the music of "The Love Shop" are by a trio of writers well known to the theater, each of whom has qualified as an expert in his own line of endeavor. Fred De Gresac wrote the book, Walter L. Rosemont the music, and Darl MacBoyle the lyrics. The piece is replete with all that is best in musical comedy.

Grace De Mar, billed as "The Eternal Feminine," is a winsome comedienne of the ingenue type. She has obtained from Herbert Moore a cycle of character studies, and those in her hands become as many clear-cut artistic cameos. Those studies are replacing the song cycle with which Miss De Mar was formerly identified. Her little characterizations are bits picked here and there from everyday life.

Oliver and Olp will be seen in "The Bee Hive," a comedy sketch dealing with the inability of a young couple to meet the various raises imposed upon them by their landlord. The way the young couple make the best of their predicament rates a comedy of genuine humorous situation that affords Mr. Oliver and Miss Olp a fine opportunity for the expression of their undisputed talents.

The El Rey Sisters present a series of dances on skates, which include some of the most difficult and graceful steps ordinarily done without rollers. Miss Clare El Rey holds the world's record for the toe spin. They are assisted by Murray Mencher, and perform their stunts in a special setting.

The Neapolitan duo offer "An Italian Vocal Vista." In native attire they sing a number of appealing songs, with just a bit of cross-fire comedy thrown in for good measure.

EMPRESS.

Nazimova repeated her former screen triumphs when she appeared yesterday at the Empress theater in her newest photodrama, "Billions." As is usual when Nazimova is the attraction, there was a capacity audience, and everybody was thrilled and delighted by the great star's performance of a difficult and unusual role. In many respects "Billions" is the best thing Nazimova has ever done.

"Billions" narrates an extremely interesting love story. The Princess Triloff, a worshiper of Owen Carey, an indigent poet, suddenly becomes wealthy when her husband, from whom she has been estranged, is assassinated in Russia. At the same time a legacy to the poet makes him a multi-millionaire.

Spending their newly acquired wealth, their paths lead to a fashionable winter resort in southern California, where they are introduced and promptly decide they were made for each other. But plotters are at work to mulct the millionaire of some of his wealth by blackmail, and the princess risks her reputation in a daringly sensational scene to save the poet from scandal.

MAJESTIC.

When a heat-maddened lioness attacked Director Harry J. Revier while he was producing "The Son of Tarzan" feature serial at the Hollywood, Calif., studios of the National Film Corporation of America, Revier hastily grabbed a motion picture camera and tripod, tore off the "shooting box" and for 25 minutes fought the wild beast.

Hundreds of spectators, standing outside the steel inclosure, witnessed the terrific fight, but were powerless to aid, as Revier had locked himself in the arena. In order to reduce the possibilities of accidents to the minimum, the director, who is also a cinematographer, acted as his own cameraman in this and many other scenes where the jungle animals, still unfamiliar with captivity, were used.

After the battle with the lioness, Revier again entered the arena, and the animal, but six months a captive, licked his hands.

"The Son of Tarzan" serial will be shown at the Majestic theater today and Thursday.

OLYMPIC.

Loveable Cinderella is with us again—or, rather, her new twin sister, whimsically appealing and sparklingly fresh. She will be seen at the Olympic theater today, when the Metro special, "Cinderella's Twin," will be featured as the attraction of the bill.

Which is cause for rejoicing. For rumor hath it that this picture is one delightful concoction with all the old never-failing charm. And piquant little Viola Dana is there as the star—the scullery maid who goes straight into a twentieth century mansion to find the heart of the man she loves.

It has twists aplenty. One of them is the situation where Connie McGill, the little maid, suddenly has to flee the splendor of a ballroom, and in the act drops her slipper, which contained the key to a safety vault holding the jewels sought by thieves. Her Prince Charming gets the slipper and arrested into the bargain for the theft.

The supporting cast includes Wallace MacDonald as the leading man, Ruth Stonehouse, Edward Connelly, Edward Cecil, Gertrude Short and Victory Bateman.

DAILY FINANCIAL, OIL AND MARKET NEWS

GRAIN COTTON

COTTON GOES DOWN AFTER HIGHER PRICES

NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 4.—While the first call in the cotton market today saw higher prices in a small way, the trend soon became decidedly lower under liquidation by yesterday's buyers and the market fell off to net declines that were gradually widened, lowest prices coming on the close when the trading months were 70 to 76 points under the finals of yesterday.

In the late trading selling increased because of reports of small bank failures in the belt and the Mexican bank failure. After the advance was over, considerable attention was paid to private messages from Liverpool, some of which claimed that trade at Manchester was showing no improvement and that further curtailment was being talked of by the mills.

In the early afternoon an upturn of about 20 points was caused by the report that the house again had passed the war finance corporation act, but this improvement was not long sustained. It was said that a private bureau had estimated that to the end of December 11, 640,000 bales of cotton were ginned.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Cotton lost a good part of yesterday's gains during today's trading owing to reports of easier Southern markets and the failure of buying to broaden after the scattering short interests had covered on the advance of the previous day.

The Liverpool market was fully up to expectations and the opening here was 3 points lower on July, but generally 5 to 16 points higher on a continuation of yesterday's buying movement. There was considerable Southern selling accompanied by reports of unsettled financial conditions in the Southwest and the market soon turned easier. Each bulge seemed to meet Southern selling and the market became very weak during the afternoon. The relative easiness of New Orleans and New Orleans selling orders contributed to the decline. The passing of the war finance corporation bill over the president's veto appeared to have been expected and discounted.

SUGAR ACTIVE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Raw sugar was more active today and prices were firmer, closing at an advance of 1-8c from last night, with Cubas quoted at 4 1-2c cost and freight, equal to 8.52 for centrifugal.

There was a little better inqury noted for refined, prompted by the steadier feeling in the spot market. Prices were unchanged at 7.90 to 8.00 for fine granulated.

The strength in raws led to quite active buying of sugar futures and closing prices showed gains of 5 to 13 points. Trade and Cuban interests were the principal buyers, and prices at one time were 9 to 15 points higher, although there was a slight reaction near the close under realizing sales. Closing prices: January 4.82; March 4.87; May 5.02; July 5.13.

WHEAT DROPS WHEN DEMAND IS CUT DOWN

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—Wheat declined today, largely as a reaction from the sudden preceding big advance. Closing quotations were heavy, 2½c to 4c net lower, with March $1.73½ to $1.73¾ and May $1.67¾ to $1.68. Corn lost 1c to 1¾c and oats ⅛c to ½@⅝c. In provisions the outcome varied from 10c recession to a like advance.

It was the generally accepted opinion in the wheat trade that the upturn in values yesterday had been too rapid and that the time was opportune for longs to realize profits. Besides, milling demand appeared to have diminished and there seemed to be a pause in export buying. Gossip was current also that the Egyptian government would try to resell 11,000,000 bushels of wheat that had been contracted for in Australia. Considerable bearish sentiment as to all grain, including wheat, was generated by heavy receipts of corn.

NATION'S FAILURES INCREASED IN 1920

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s record of failures in 1920 made public today, showed 8,881 commercial failures throughout the country with $295,121,805 in indebtedness, against 6,451 failures in 1919, involving liabilities of $116,291,237.

The increase of 2,430 in number of insolvencies is relatively much smaller than the expansion of $181,800,000 in liabilities, showing the rise in number of failures to have been 37.7 per cent and of indebtedness 160.5 per cent, the report said.

After four successive years of diminishing commercial mortality, it continued, business reverses of 1920 increased sharply. This was said to be "not unnatural" in a period marked by general economic readjustment.

SPECULATION RUNNING RIFE ON EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Speculative issues were the prominent features of today's stock market, their variable strength which probably proceeded from pool operations affording a striking contrast to the irregular or sluggish tone of seasoned shares.

The heavy tone of rails was a distinct disappointment to traders who had hoped that the January reinvestment inquiry and enlarged transportation earnings would make a marked impression on that quarter.

Exchange on London was strong, a moderate recovery was reported in the price of copper and partial resumption of activity was announced from industrial centers where stagnation.

These developments were neutralized to an extent by more bank failures at western agricultural points, further price cutting by independent steel producers and additional wage reductions in the textile and affiliated trades.

Sales 835,000 shares.

No perceptible relaxation of money rates was shown, although offerings of time funds were more liberal.

Trading in bonds was only moderate, but the trend was unmistakably upward, many speculative issues participating with representative offerings. All the Liberty and Victory floatations closed at gains.

Total sales, par value, $14,375,000.

COFFEE IRREGULAR

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Coffee futures were comparatively quiet and irregular today. The opening was unchanged to two points higher on covering but prices weakened during the middle of the day. Prices rallied in the late afternoon trading on renewed covering. The general list closed net unchanged to one point higher. January, 5.84; March, 6.34; May, 6.76; July, 7.13; September, 7.38; October, 7.50; December, 7.74.

Spot coffee quiet; Rio 7s, 6 3-8; Santos 4s, 9@9½.

MAN WANTED FOR MURDER HELD IN FORT WORTH JAIL

By Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Jan. 4.—George Scott, alias George Hornsby, is in jail here today in connection with the murder of J. N. Weatherby, prominent business man of Brownwood, Texas, October 8, last.

The prisoner was arrested in Birmingham, Ala., and brought here last night. Sheriff Pugh of Brownwood met the party here. The prisoner will remain in jail here. A reward of $4,000 will be paid those who arrested Hornsby.

Bradstreets Leaps Ahead Here in 1920

A jump from five subscribers and a business to the amount of $600 to a list of 80 subscribers and a business of $10,000 is the mark of the progress for the year 1920 by the local office of the Bradstreet company. The office was established as a district office January 1, 1920, and the larger figures represent its business on a similar date this year.

The 80 subscribers now on the books represent practically every line of business activity in Wichita Falls.

At the establishment of the local office, it reported conditions only in Wichita county. Now it reports for 21 adjacent counties, with reports on every subject in Northwest Texas and Southwestern Oklahoma carried on file in the local office.

"The class of service rendered," was the reply of Earl Jameson, superintendent, when asked to what he attributed this growth.

"Our business has grown steadily every month, October, November and December being our biggest months."

DRILL OIL SAND ON BLOCK TEN, TEMPLE-WHITE

The No. 1 test of the McPoe Petroleum Company on the S. R. Mundon tract in block 10 of the Temple and White field, drilled a foot and half in an oil sand encountered at 1286 feet, according to reports from the field Monday afternoon.

The test, which is located on a lease offsetting block 11 of the Mattie Parker lands will extend the producing area of the shallow field three-quarters of a mile if brought in a producer, it being that distance northeast of the closest producing well in block 12 of the Parker lands.

According to local operators interested in that field the McPoe lease is approximately 50 feet lower in surface elevation than the producing area of the field in blocks 12 and 13. This difference in surface elevation would make the McPoe strike at practically the same depth of the producing wells.

Casing was being hauled to the lease Tuesday afternoon. It is expected that the casing will be set today and the test drilled in before the end of the week. The McPoe company is a Dallas firm.

The Cline Oil Company is moving rigs from the two wells, just completed, in blocks 12 and 13 and will spud in on their third tests on each lease before the end of the week.

The company is completing a power plant to operate wells on their leases in that field. Their latest completion will be placed on the pump as soon as the power plant is completed.

BUT ONE OF 20 GRAVEL 'FINDS' HERE TEST O. K.

Out of twenty tests which the county has made of alleged "finds" of gravel, only one small pit has proven good, County Judge J. P. Jones said Tuesday in disposing of reports that have been current in courthouse circles that gravel would be used instead of concrete in building county highways.

And there wasn't enough gravel in that pit, Judge Jones said, to build ten miles of road.

He estimated that it would cost as much, when the freight rate was considered, to build gravel roads as it would to put down concrete and the judge, county commissioners and county engineer believes that concrete is far better.

Late Tuesday afternoon the grand jury adjourned without having returned any true bills or having made any report.

In the drilling wells of the field the Banosky and Barkley test in block 18 and the Cline, Howe et al in block 12 are both drilling around 1200 feet. According to reports from the field, the rotary rig is being moved from the Keane and Garrett test in block 21 which, according to field reports, failed to obtain the shallow sand. It is reported that the same operators will drill another test in block 18.

The Irish question ought to demand an eight-hour day.—Detroit Journal.

WHERE PRESIDENT WILSON WILL LIVE

The Fuller home.

Press dispatches indicate that President Wilson is dickering for the purchase of the residence of Representative Alvin T. Fuller of Massachusetts, at 2241 Wyoming avenue, in Washington. The Fuller home is located in one of the most beautiful residential sections in Washington, near the home of R. Bolling, brother-in-law of the president. Arrangements for the sale have not yet been completed, but it is understood that the chief executive and his wife have been especially attracted to this lovely home of Representative Fuller. It has become available through the severance of Representative Fuller's connection with the house of representatives to become lieutenant governor of Massachusetts.

Dorothy's Diary

JANUARY 5.—Moving is no pinic, as my aching arms can testify. I'm almost too weary to write in my diary tonight.

Our new home is so large that we'll need several new things, chairs principally, and a desk for my bedroom.

I showed mother some of the want ads in the Record News this morning, which offered used furniture at very reasonable prices.

She said, "Yes, we'd better answer some of those ads and see if we find what we want. If we can, it will save us quite a little money."

If we don't find things htat'll do, I've got another idea to try. We'll run an ad of our own.

NEW ISSUE OF THRIFT STAMPS RECEIVED HERE

Receipt of a new issue of thrift stamps was announced Tuesday by Postmaster Howard. They are known as Treasury Savings Stamps, and are in denominations of one dollar each. Twenty of these stamps entitle the buyer to a treasury certificate for twenty-five dollars, maturing January 1, 1926.

The stamps bear interest at four percent and may be cashed at any time the buyer desires after two months from the date of purchase.

New banks for War Savings Stamps also were received Tuesday. The 1921 issue of stamps, according to Mr. Howard, are to aid in the promotion of thrift. Five dollar stamps, maturing January 1, 1926, may be purchased during this month for $4.12. The price increases one cent for each month on the year.

An examination for railway postal clerks will be held January 15. The entrance salary for these positions is $1,600 per annum with an allowance of living expenses while absent from home.

Gen. Pablo Gonzalez May Return to Mexico

By Associated Press

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 4.—General Pablo Gonzales, one of the leaders in the movement which culminated in the overthrow of President Carranza last May, and who later became estranged from the new Mexican government, left San Antonio yesterday for a border point, where, it is reported, he will confer with agents of President Alvara Obregon in regard to the re-establishing of his residence in Mexico.

General Gonzalez was one of three candidates who announced for the presidency of Mexico, but later withdrew from the race.

Mrs. Harding looked the White House over pretty thoroughly and it is believed she decided to take it.—Omaha World Herald.

COLDS

"Pape's Cold Compound" is Quickest Relief Known

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffing! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken usually breaks any cold right up.

The very first dose opens clogged nostrils and the air passages of the head; stops nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, contains no quinine—insist upon Pape's.

DODSON KILLING USE OF CALOMEL

Says Drug Is Mercury and Acts Like Dynamite on Your Liver.

Dodson is making a hard fight against calomel in the south. Every druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place. "Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist. A large bottle costs but a few cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine full of vigor and ambition.—Adv.

Told to Carry Furs Where He Wished; Freed

Harvey Cotton, who had been held to the grand jury pending the investigation of the disappearance of some valuable furs, was released Tuesday and the furs which the sheriff's office held as evidence were returned. It was understood that the grand jury found no true bill against him.

It was said in courthouse circles that the woman who lost the furs had testified that she told Cotton:

"Take them wherever you want to."

And Cotton was obeying orders. When he got to Erick, Okla., he left some of the furs there. When he heard that officers wanted them, he came back with the remaining valuables.

WICHITA FALLS WILL GO AFTER JUNIOR COLLEGE

A campaign for the establishment of a junior college in Wichita Falls will be launched next week by the University club, it was announced Tuesday at the weekly club luncheon. Each member was instructed to bring slogans and be prepared to start the campaign with a bang at the next luncheon.

The need for a junior college in Wichita Falls was stressed by Dr. Ira C. Landreth, noted chautauqua lecturer in an address to the club Tuesday. He told club members that for a city of the size of Wichita Falls, 120 miles was too great a distance for the nearest location of any of the higher institutions of learning.

Dr. Landreth asserted that it was easily in the reach of citizens to obtain such a school.

In addition to the improvement that such an institution brings to the upgrowing citizenship, Dr. Landreth pointed out that a college is always one of the greatest advertising assets a city can have.

Galveston Police Find Narcotics in One of Best Homes

By Associated Press.

GALVESTON, Texas, Jan. 4.—Narcotic drugs valued at approximately $6,000, a quantity of liquor and considerable wine in the making were seized by Texas Rangers in a raid on a residence in a respectable neighborhood of the city today.

Three men and three women are being held for investigation by the authorities.

Perhaps it will not be long after his retirement that Mr. Wilson will decide that he would rather write than be president.—Houston Post.

MEXICO CITY BANK FORCED TO SUSPEND

By Associated Press

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 4.—The Paris-Mexico Banking company, with a capital stock of 14,000,000 pesos, did not open its doors for business today, but a treasury department announcement last night said it was expected the institution would resume operations within a month and liquidate all claims.

Loans of 4,000,000 pesos on cotton, 2,000,000 on sugar and 2,000,000 on other merchandise, all of which products have decreased in value within the last month, were recently made by the bank and caused a run by depositors. Among the concerns having large funds in the bank were several important French companies.

There has been considerable unrest recently in banking circles because of the low prices of cotton and silver.
