Roosevelt Re-Elected In Landslide As Texans 'OK' Five Amendments

State Ballots Eight-To-One For Roosevelt

Texas Joins In "Big Parade" To Give Vote Of Confidence To New Deal And Another 4 Years For President

Defeat Amendment

Amendment Proposing To Set Up State Monopoly System In Liquor Is Voted Down; Others Are Approved

(By Texas Election Bureau)

DALLAS, Nov. 4. (Special)—Joining in the "big parade" and contributing the not-to-be-sneezed-at number of 23 electoral votes, big Texas yesterday cast its vote for a continuation of the New Deal and another four years of Franklin Delano Roosevelt and its own son, John Nance Garner.

At the same time it gave a whacking big majority—bigger than that of the President—to its youthful Democratic gubernatorial nominee, James Victor Allred.

All was "Democratic again" in Texas as the state moved for the second straight national election time to wipe out its 1928 plurality for a Republican nominee, Herbert Hoover.

Five Amendments Approved

Texans, at the polls, did more than give President Roosevelt and Governor Allred a pat on the back. They marked their ballots in favor of five of six proposed amendments to the state constitution—and in no uncertain terms. The only one of the half-dozen proposed amendments to lose was that which would have put the state into the liquor business. That amendment was bulldogged, roped, tied and branded almost from one end of the state to the other.

Actual figures on Texas' voting follows. In case you've forgotten, Lemke, in the President's column, was the nion candidate and Thomas was carrying the socialist colors. In the governor's race, Brannin was the nominee of the socialists, Harris of the Republicans and Brooks of the Moscow-supported reds.

The figures:

For president: Roosevelt, 326,550; Landon, 43,320; Lemke, 1,059; Thomas, 427.

For governor: Allred, 277,657; Harris, 18,879; Brannin, 382; Brooks, 128.

AMENDMENTS

State liquor control: For, 105,763; against, 141,717.

Teachers retirement pensions: For, 129,693; against, 116,238.

State workmen's compensation: For, 143,909; against, 93,821.

Pardon system revision: For, 174,456; against 67,516.

State officers salary increase: For, 134,390; against, 107,455.

Representation limitation: For, 143,692; against 88,665.

Senator William E. Borah Is Leaping Ahead In Senate Race

BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 3. (AP)—Senator William E. Borah, leaping ahead of a lagging Republican ticket, pulled away from his Democratic opponent, Governor C. Ben Ross, in returns reaching toward record proportions in Idaho tonight.

With 17 of the state's 793 precincts heard from, the 71-year-old dean of the United States senate had received 1733 votes, Ross 1145.

More Trouble Seen In Strike

Violence Marks Activities On Tuesday; More Sympathy Walkouts Forecast; Police Patroling At Houston

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—Violence, forecast of more trouble and additional sympathy walkouts marked the maritime strike today while opposing sides here inched along toward a showdown on the question of furnishing "safety crews" for affected west coast ships.

Five maritime workers were held at Los Angeles harbor on suspicion of assaulting, robbing and kidnaping two oil workers who later went to jail voluntarily for safety.

Police Patrol Harbor

Police patrolled that harbor as well as the Houston Texas, waterfront. Strikers claimed six ships were tied up at Houston.

In New Orleans a large group of men attacked and overturned a loaded truck, forcing the driver to flee. Three men were under arrest as the result of a beating allegedly given two men last night.

Another "sit down" strike prevented one ship from leaving New York harbor but one vessel sailed on schedule.

Joseph Curran, head of the striking New York seamen, commented: "I foresee violence and plenty of it."

Striking Baltimore seamen claimed 26 ships were tied up there but the association of commerce reported only 13 affected.

Estimated Total Of 7,100 Persons Cast Ballots Tuesday

BY GORDON WEBB
Avalanche Staff Writer

Lubbock county joined the nation in the Roosevelt-Garner landslide and apparently gave approval to all of six proposed amendments to the state constitution in Tuesday's election.

A record-breaking vote for a general election in this county was established when about 7,100 persons braved the season's coldest weather to go to the polls.

More Popular Than In '32

President Franklin D. Roosevelt yesterday was a more popular Democratic standard-bearer than he was in 1932. His majority in this county was more than 10 to 1 over Governor Alfred M. Landon of Kansas.

Two amendments vied for first in favor of the Lubbock citizenry. They were the proposals to establish a pardoning system and to limit the representatives of the larger cities. The Avalanche-Journal editorially had advocated both measures.

Counting Delayed

Because of the record balloting and because of the blanket-size ticket, counting was delayed in many precincts. In others election judges went to bed without telephoning reports to County Clerk Ed D. Allen as they are required to do.

The first report in full came at 6:30 o'clock from Foster, where officials had no lights for the polling place. The community's voting strength had been cast already, it was said. The polls regularly are closed at 7 o'clock.

With 6,472 ballots accounted for in 21 precincts, it was conservatively estimated that total voting approximated 7,150.

Majorities In Congress Gain

Democrats Assured Of Fifty-Eight Seats In Senate And 101 House Posts; Senators Norris And Borah Leading

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nev. 4. — Democratic majorities in both houses of congress approximating those which have enacted New Deal legislation during past years are indicated by fast accumulating, but still inconclusive returns.

Early today the Democrats, having won 11 seats to go with 47 held over, were assured of 58 places in the senate, where 49 constitutes a majority. Republicans had elected none except Senator White in Maine's September election, to add to the 11 they carried over from the old senate.

Of the 24 senate contests still unsettled, the Democrats were leading in 13, the Republicans in 9, a farmer-Laborite in 1, and Senator Norris, of Nebraska, running as an inde-

Mr. And Mrs. Charley Lindsey Residents Of Terry For 8 Years, Are Prostrated On Return To Tragic Scene

(Special To The Avalanche)

BROWNFIELD, Nov. 3—Two children of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Lindsey burned to death in the ruins of the Lindsey tent-home a mile northeast of here at 5 o'clock that afternoon and another died 45 minutes after being admitted to a hospital for treatment.

The dead:

Maxine, 5, who died in the hospital.

Wayland, 3.

Ledoyt, 19 months.

Jo Anne, 4, another daughter, was dismissed from the hospital tonight after treatment of hand and facial burns.

TRAGIC COINCIDENCE

Tuesday afternoon's fire that claimed three of the four children of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Lindsey of Brownfield directed attention to a tragic coincidence.

On the general election night of four years ago J. L. Davis, about 40, prominent Brownfield grocer, was killed instantly in an automobile-truck collision 10 miles southeast of Post on highway 7.

C. C. Rogers, about 24, of Lubbock was dismissed from a hospital Nov. 22 of that year, after suffering a terrible head injury in the collision. A steel bolt, a half-inch in diameter, had been driven an inch and a half into his skull.

Jo Anne said to hospital attaches Wayland struck a match to a quilt and that when the bed clothing flared into flame the youngest two were frightened and crawled under a bed in an attempt to escape.

Their bodies were so charred identification for several hours was impossible.

Maxine did not remain in the tent, but stayed long enough to be burned fatally.

The Lindseys had only four children.

"Daddy and mother left us when they went to pick cotton," said Jo Anne. "They told us it was too cold for us. They didn't want us to be cold."

The child, grieving for her lost

Knights Of Pythias Session Held Here

Upon occasion of an official visit here of grand lodge officials of Texas and of lodge officials from Plainview, Paducah and Childress, a dinner program was presented at the Knights of Pythias hall at Fourteenth street and Texas avenue at 7 o'clock Tuesday night.

Sixty-five persons attended the regional district meeting.

Addresses were made by Theo Yarbrough of Weaterford, grand keeper of records and seals; Frank E. Smith of Abilene, grand master at arms; C. M. Shears, assistant grand keeper of records and seals, and Glen D. Chase of Plainview, district deputy grand chancellor.

Lubbock's district, No. 32, is the largest in the state. Added to an adjoining district, the entire Panhandle of Texas was included in area represented.

FDR's Lead In Electoral Votes Stands At 519 To 12

(By Associated Press)

THE people have returned the New Deal to office for four years more by an electoral plurality which may be the greatest in American history

Riding a great flood-tide of ballots, Franklin D. Roosevelt was leading for re-election early today in forty-five of the forty-eight states. A possibility remained that he might capture the forty-sixth.

His Republican opponent, Gov. Alf M. Landon, conceded defeat and congratulated the victor in a message declaring "Every American will accept the verdict, and work for the common cause of the good of our country."

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

JOHN N. GARNER

As the governor's message clicked over the wires eastward, his electoral fortunes were at the lowest ebb touched by the candidate of a major party in generations. He had less than Hoover had in 1932—just comfortable leads in the states of Maine and Vermont, and a more precarious margin in New Hampshire. At that moment, if the indicated state totals held, Roosevelt would have 519 of the 531 electoral votes; Landon 12.

Before midnight struck, the president at Hyde Park said he foresaw possibly "one of the largest sweeps" in history. Governor Landon, at Topeka, retired without making a public statement.

In industrial, farming and mining sections the still incomplete summaries told the same story for Roosevelt. His greatest pluralities were in the cities; yet through many country sections also he rolled up an advantage over his Republican opponent. East, West and South all did their part to swell the mounting total of his electoral margin.

In the congressional elections, too, the Democrats were having all the best of it, while gubernatorial returns from more than thirty states showed more Democrats than Republicans leading.

Available results, instead of cutting down the Democratic house majority of 197 as had been predicted, gave that party a net gain of seven seats. Already the Democrats had a majority of 9 in the senate, and were leading in 13 others of the 55 contests.

If the Roosevelt leads should hold, a record electoral vote of 519, to 12 for Landon, would result. Three of the six states taken four years ago by Hoover, Landon's own Kansas, and two New England states depended on by the Republicans, were at the front of the New Deal match.

Steadily In One Direction

The trend was steadily in one direction almost from the first. Leading Republicans newspapers in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and elsewhere were printing the handwriting on the wall, announcing a Democratic landslide, hours before the tabulations approached completion.

The popular vote at 1 a. m. eastern standard time stood 9,938,406 for Roosevelt, 6,375,428 for Landon and 160,886 for the Union party candidate, William Lemke; a total of 16,475,188 in 43,428 out of 122,800 precincts.

Strong In Big Cities

The Roosevelt strength was especially apparent in the big cities as the total accumulated. New York, Chicago, even Philadelphia and Harrisburg in Pennsylvania, and New Haven in Connecticut showed the way.

Mr. Roosevelt received the tidings in the bosom of his family at the home where he was born, in Hyde Park, N. Y. after Democratic Chairman Farley in New York had reported him "very pleased," the president himself greeted several thousand torch-bearing neighbors. A band blared away with "Happy Days."

The New Deal leads knew no sectional limits. With a record vote indicated, turnouts in some southern states resembled Democratic primaries instead of an election customarily taken for granted.

Sidelights On The Vote

OF ALL THINGS!

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 3. (AP)—Utah's Republican gubernatorial nominee, Ray E. Dillman, cast his vote today—of all places—at Roosevelt. It's his home town.

DEMO 100 PER CENT

Grovesville was the first 100 per cent Democratic community to report last night.

In the heart of a farming district northwest of here, the community's 63 voters supported the Democratic ticket from top to bottom. Members of all other parties drew big zeros.

GOOD THING FDR WON

A young girl and boy were engaged in a conversation at the Dupre grade school Tuesday. They both agreed that Roosevelt was "sure to be elected."

But election officials who overheard the conversation pricked their ears when they heard the youthful girl predict:

"We'd live in a dog's country and have a cat for Santa Claus if Landon's elected."

TURN ON FIRE SIREN

UVALDE, Nov. 3. (AP)—They turned on the city fire siren every hour here today "to remind the folks there was a general election going on."

"We wanted them to go out and roll up a big vote for our own John N. Garner," said Fire Chief Ross Brumfield, who is the vice-president's fishing crony.

VOTES FOR OLD FRIEND

UVALDE, Nov. 3. (AP)—T. H. McNelly, retired banker, went to the polls today in an ambulance to vote for his friend, Vice-President John N. Garner.

McNelly, invalided for several months, came here in 1892, about the same time the vice-president established residence here. He has voted for Garner in every election in which "Cactus Jack" has run.

HE CASTS BALLOT

WATERTOWN, Wis., Nov. 3. (AP)—Arthur E. (Turkey) Gehrke, Watertown, Wisconsin's 215-pound human hibernator rolled out of bed shortly after dawn and ambled to the poll.

"I may like to sleep," he said, "but when election comes around I like to get up early and cast my ballot."

JUDGE DROPS DEAD

MEDFORD, Okla., Nov. 3. (AP)—Will Potts, 73, a Republican precinct election board judge in western Grant county, dropped dead a few minutes after the polls opened today.

Potts had just cast his ballot.

Death was attributed to a heart attack.

CASTS FIRST VOTE

BILLINGS, Mont., Nov. 3. (AP)—Mrs. E. A. Pendergast, 94, cast her first vote today.

Known among her friends as "Grandma Simpson," Mrs. Pendergast said she never had been interested enough to vote until this year when she wanted President Roosevelt reelected.

INDIAN VOTES HERE

One Cherokee Indian voted in precinct No. 2, said A. Judd, presiding judge of the precinct, last night.

Mr. Judd said the woman said she was an Indian, belonged to the Cherokee nation and had been a resident of Texas for sometime. She resides in Lubbock, in the southeastern part.

As far as Mr. Judd knew, he said, she was the only Indian voter in the precinct. He added he did not know of another in Lubbock.

INTERESTED SPECTATOR

One of the interested spectators at the courthouse Tuesday was J. D. Caldwell, one of the two original officials of the county residing here. Mr. Caldwell was elected in the first election in the county, in March, 1891, when the county was organized.

FIRST TO REPORT

First Lubbock county precinct to report its final tabulation of votes in the general election came in half an hour ahead of the 7 o'clock polls closing deadline.

Returns of the precinct, No. 14 in the Foster community, were brought to the Avalanche-Journal offices at 6:30 o'clock. The voting results were: Democrats, 40; Republicans, 4; Unionist, 1.

Robert T. Dopson was the presiding chairman, J. A. Sears, associate chairman, and Zera Helen Dopson and Mrs. J. A. Sears, clerks. Dopson said the polling place had no lights and that all the voters had appeared already.

UNANIMOUS FOR FDR

PARIS, Nov. 3. (AP) — Voters of Chicota, Lamar county, made it unanimous—Roosevelt 137; Landon 0.

"SIMPLY ASTOUNDED"

NEW YORK, Nov. 3. (AP)—With a chuckle in his voice, Wilfred J. Funk, editor-in-chief of the Literary Digest, which forecast Governor Landon's election, said tonight "I'm simply astounded at what is apparently a landslide for Mr. Roosevelt."

The laugh, he said, was to show he could "take it."

"It's beyond comprehension to explain away the Digest poll," he said.

MISTREATED BY NEIGHBORS

NEW YORK, Nov. 3. (AP)—Neighbors of Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for president, voted this way in his home district today: Roosevelt 601, Landon 216, Thomas 21.

Fashion Trend Is Seen At Election Polls On Tuesday

Wearing a scarlet hat with a turned up brim, huge gold circles through pierced ears, a buxom colored woman carefully took her seat and slowly penciled several long marks on the white paper before her. Then she threaded her way through the crowd, showing sparkling white teeth in a watermelon grin.

She was casting a vote for President Roosevelt just as many other women did in yesterday's election, though perhaps they were not so strikingly dressed.

Indeed, dame fashion took a back seat as Lubbock women pressed eagerly toward the polls. All kinds of costumes, from ginghams and percales to the smartest of autumn outfits, appeared. Black is still the leading color, with bright rusts and green a close second, according to these very concerned voters.

Sport clothes prevailed, but occasionally a fur coat with all the trimmings was seen. Off-the-face hats were numerous but cocky new creations topped with bright feathers appeared more often.

Diseases Studied At Club Meeting

A program on "Children's Diseases" was presented at a meeting of the Lubbock circle, Child Conservation league Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Louis Feldman, 1918 Dixie Drive. Mrs. J. D. The next meeting will be November 17 in the home of Mrs. Roy Furr, 2413 Twentieth street, at 3:15 p. m. Following that, the next regular meeting, December 1, will be a progressive dinner, the first course to be served in the home of Mrs. W. G. Alderson. Second and third courses will be served in the homes of Mesdames J. L. Holt and C. E. Moreman. At the Moreman home, games of bingo will be played.

Edward Speaks To Parliament

King Of England Pledges His Government To "Pacific Settlement Of International Disputes" In Talk Tuesday

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 3.—King Edward pledged his government to "pacific settlement of international disputes" in centuries-old ceremonies opening the British parliament today.

"The government will continue to do all in their power to further the appeasement of Europe," he told a brilliant assemblage of peers, officials and spectators in the house of lords.

Dispelled Previous Reports

In his first parliamentary appearance since his accession to the throne, the king dispelled previous reports his coronation next May might be postponed and announced hs intention of going to India to be crowned emperor.

Mrs. Wallis Simpson, the monarch's American friend, was not among the throngs of ceremonially dressed spectators who crowned the galleries to capacity.

"My relations with foreign powers continue to be friendly," he said. "The policy of the government continues to be based on membership in the League (of nations.)

Tells Of Plans

Then he launched into a detailed description of governmental plans which included:

Hope for extension to "all naval powers" of the existing treaty limiting naval armaments signed by Great Britain, France and the United States last March.

Support of the international agreement for non-intervention in the Spanish civil war with continuance of "every opportunity to mitigate human suffering and loss of life in that unhappy country."

Ratification of the treaty setting up an Egyptian government to extend "loyal cooperation between two governments and peoples whose destinies are inseparably bound together."

Calls Conference

Calling of an imperial conference in London next May to promote "a closer understanding between the peoples" of "my several governments."

Strengthening of British defense forces as "essential to the defense of the empire and to the ability of the country to discharge its international obligations."

"My ministers will, nevertheless, lose no opportunity of promoting general international appeasements and the limitation of expenditure on armaments which naturally would follow such an improvement in relations," King Edward declared.

His statement concerning an amendment to strengthen the provisions of the public peace statute was interpreted as dealing directly with political demonstrations such as recent Fascist and communist clashes in London's East End.

Heavy Electioneering By Dan Cupid Is Evident; September And October Marriages Outnumber Spring Months

By MARY M. HOWELL

Matchmaker Dan Cupid did some "soap-box" electioneering in precincts where there were lovers during September and October.

He hiked the number of marriages in Lubbock county to outnumber those of the wedding months, May and June, according to figures found by Louis F. Moore, deputy county clerk.

In May and June, when so many "I do's" are said at church altars and in offices of justices of the peace, 90 marriage licenses were issued from the Lubbock county office. Records show a substantial increase of certificates during the months of September and October with 128 licenses issued to South Plains couples.

Transients Are Factor

The reason for the advanced issuance of certificates in the two fall months is due, Moore said, to transient cotton pickers and harvesters who make Lubbock a rendezvous for the beginning of their married life. Thirty-five per cent of the licenses were issued to Mexicans migrating from the Mexican border and to negroes wanting to take out more than "cotton patch license". Only 25 per cent of the permits issued in the two spring months were taken by negroes and Mexicans. The fee is $2.

Jewelers in the city who have kept record of the sales of band wedding rings said that "there is but very little difference in the sales for the spring and fall months." One of the leading jewelers in the city has recorded the sale of 14 plain wedding bands and 37 diamond wedding bands for May and June and 19 plain wedding bands and 35 diamond wedding bands.

Not For Re-Sale

A pawn shop that never sells second-hand wedding bands often buys rings from disillusioned wives and husbands. The rings are "not saleable because no one wants a ring that has been worn by someone else because of the sentimental reasons." Dealers in the nuptial bands declare that the most popular ring bought ranges around $10; some may be bought for $2.95, others cost a small fortune.

Dull arrow darts of Cupid caused 49 heart-balmed married couples to file suit for divorce in September and October. Only thirty one intentions for divorce were filed with the deputy district clerk during May and June.

Former Chief Of Ship To Talk Here

Commodore Herbert Hartley, who commanded the S. S. Leviathan will address members of the Tech home economics club next Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock in the lobby of the home economics building.

For thirty five years Hartley has followed the sea, serving his apprenticeship on the S. S. St. Louis, and becoming chief officer in 1914 and captain in 1917. When the United States entered the war in 1917, Commodore Hartley was made a lt. commander in the navy. Later he became the commander of the Leviathan, the largest liner in the world at that time.

To Tell Of Fight

"Some of the high lights of his talk will be the fight between a sword fish and a whale, the free for a' battles between firemen on the ship and about the first ship to shore mail service, inaugurated from the Leviathan by Clarence Chamberlain," Doris Townsend, president of the home economics club announced late Monday.

In a letter to Miss Townsend, Hartley said, "Sailors are notoriously short memoried about events that take place on land, but they can remember every detail of the things that happened years before at sea. Life at sea being full of raw light and wide horizons, bites deeper pictures into the memory."

Two Of Quads Fail To Live

Wife Of Missouri Sharecrop Farmer Gives Birth To One Boy And Three Girls But Only Two Are Living

(By The Associated Press)

SENATH, Mo., Nov. 3—Mrs. Pearl Bridges, 35-year-old wife of a southeast Missouri sharecropper, gave birth to quadruplets in her log cabin home near here last night, but two of the infants died this morning and the others fought an unequal battle for life.

Dr. Frederick William Speidel, 68-year-old country doctor, delivered the babies by the light of a flickering oil lamp in the two-room dwelling.

Born In Six Minutes

Mrs. Bridges, wife of James Bridges, 44, gave birth to a boy and three girls in six minutes, starting at 6:30 o'clock last night.

"Help will have to get through if the other two babies are to live," Dr. Speidel said when informed of the death of the boy and one of the girls. "The other two are in serious condition.

"The Dunklin county doctor and nurse tried to get through early today and failed. It has rained all night and the road is practically impassable. There is four feet of water in the lowlands between Senath and the cabin. Anyone who wants to get there will have to wade the last half mile.

Must Be Moved

"The babies must be moved to a hospital at Jonesboro, Ark., 45 miles away, or Memphis, Tenn., about 150 miles from here."

The babies weighed from two pounds to three and a half pounds each, the physician estimated.

An ambulance sent from Memphis, a trained nurse, incubators, milk from a municipal hospital, and all the aid science could muster was at hand as soon as the marooned house could be reached. The nurse waded through to attend to them.

Delivered Quads Before

With a lamp casting eerie shadows on the cypress log walls, the doctor worked. He delivered quadruplets once before, 30 years ago.

Bridges, who sharecrops for W. G. Gray, Senath attorney, sat in a big chair and poked wood in the fire.

When he realized he was the father of quadruplets, he "almost fainted," said Dr. Speidel.

"I don't know what in the world to do," Bridges gasped. "I have no money to take care of them, but I sure wanted them to live."

The doctor rubbed each baby in warm hog grease. The women tore up old clothing and cloth to make wrappers for the infants.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Benton have moved here from Post and are at home temporarily at 905-A Avenue R, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Benton who are spending several weeks in Dallas. Mr. Benton is employed by Dalby Motor Freight lines.

Army Drive Is To Open Today

"Kick-Off" Breakfast To Be Held This Morning At 8 A. M. At Hilton; Campaign's Goal Is Set At $3,500

Kick-off of the Salvation army's annual maintenance drive is scheduled for this morning, following a "Dutch treat" breakfast in the Hotel Hilton at 8 a. m., said W. H. Carpenter, chairman of the drive, last night.

All of the team captains of the drive have been named and all were asked to have their team members present this morning.

Territories have been assigned each team. Goal for the drive is $3,500. A new plan, to secure contributors to pledge one dollar per month, is being tried.

To Start Solicitation

Immediately following the breakfast, at which literature and information on the work will be distributed, solicitation work will be started.

Cards have been prepared for all teams, showing names of the contributors last year. These cards have been assembled in districts and each team has a district to cover.

Work Better Organized

"So far, we have had a very cordial reception when he asked for help," Chairman Carpenter said. "The work is better organized this year than last, because we profited by our experiences last year.

"I feel sure that the people of Lubbock will heartily support this campaign. The Salvation Army is doing a great work in Lubbock."

Service clubs, Lions, Rotary, Kiwanis and A. B. C., the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the V. F. W. Auxiliary, are again cooperating, furnishing teams for the drive.

Drive officials hope to complete the solicitation work by Saturday, closing date.

INSTANT STARTING on Coldest Days

When tires crunch on new-fallen snow . . . and sudden eddies of wind whirl the flakes in graceful spirals . . . and your good little car has brought you to the perfect spot where no one ever comes . . . and youthful heads are full of hopes and dreams—that's not the time to worry about whether your motor will start when you are ready to tip-toe the starter.

You won't need to, if the tank is filled with Phillips 66 Poly Gas.

FOR extra fast cold-weather starting, your motor must have a gasoline that is extra high test. Phillips 66 Poly Gas meets this specification right down to the last "T".

Because it is made by the WORLD'S LARGEST PRODUCER of natural high test gasoline . . . because it is 100% custom-tailored to the constant changes in your climate . . . because we always aim to give greater value—the high test (gravity) rating of Phillips 66 Poly Gas is right now being pushed up and up!

You know this gasoline is different, the first time you touch the starter. And every mile you drive piles up more evidence of the benefits given by extra high test plus the added energy units supplied by the patented POLYmerization process.

Say "Fill it up" to the man at the Orange and Black 66 pump and you say "Good-by" to the nuisance and damage of slow, hard, winter-starting. You get faster warm-up and smoother running. You reduce battery drain. Cut crankcase dilution. And save the miles usually wasted by overtime use of the choke.

Why wait? Today or tomorrow, the first time your gas gauge looks low, try this sensational winter gasoline. It doesn't cost a penny more than ordinary motor fuels.

COLD WEATHER OIL

It's penny-wise and pound-foolish to put ordinary motor oil in your crankcase in winter weather. Especially so, when Phillips 66 Motor Oil is famous for instant flowing, which helps instant starting. Save your money and your motor with this finer, longer-lasting lubricant.

Tech Gridders Fill Air With Passes In Preparation For Oklahoma Cowboys

Agony On The Bench!

—Or Why Coaches Get Gray And Toss Hats

COACH FRANCIS SCHMIDT of Ohio State (above) mirrors troublous times out on the gridiron. Take a look at his assistant worriers, with chin in hand and chewing nails.

COLUMBIA isn't doing so well out there — from the look of Lou Little (right), the Lions' head-master of football who is known as Lachrymose Lou.

PENSIVE RESIGNATION, or something, registered here (left) by John Francis (Chick) Meehan, ringmaster at New York U. in the palmy days and now at Manhattan college.

WORRY, WORRY. Amos Alonzo Stagg (right) of the College of the Pacific has been at it 47 years—41 at the University of Chicago where he was famous for fearing Purdue.

COACHING CORRUGATED the brow of Howard Jones (left), who is busy trying to scale the heights again with the Trojans of the University of Southern California.

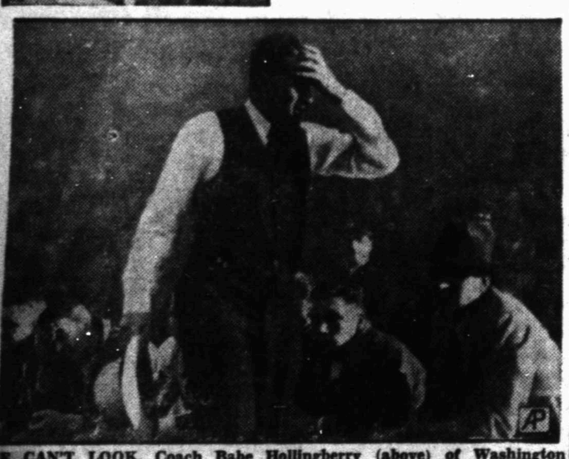

AW, GEE, TINY. It couldn't be that bad. Claude E. (Tiny) Thornhill (right) took his Stanford Indians to the Rose Bowl three years straight —but they won't do an encore this time.

THINGS AREN'T going so well for Heartley (Hunk) Anderson (left), former Notre Dame lineman and head coach, now directing the gridiron destinies of North Carolina State.

Cold And Rain Hampers Bear Drill For Oklahoma Goldbugs

WACO, Nov. 3. (AP)—Biting cold and rain hampered the Baylor Bears in their practice today for Saturday's game against Oklahoma City university.

Expecting an aerial attack, Coach Morley Jennings will devote most of the time this week to drill on pass defense rudiments. The Bears, especially the ends, were weak in rushing the passer in the T. C. U. game.

Noah Webster took 21 years, from 1807 to 1828, to prepare his American Dictionary of the English language.

Both Clubs To Use Air Lanes In Friday Tilt

Red Raiders Praying For Dry Field And No Rain; Plan To Shoot Works Before Fans At Parents Day Game

They threw passes out at the Texas Tech practice field yesterday, long passes and short passes, shot passes and choice passes, forward and lateral passes.

Tech's Red Raiders, hoping for a continuation of dry weather and a dry field Friday, apparently plan to do just what Head Coach Pete Cawthon promised — shoot the works against the Oklahoma Aggies.

About half of yesterday's drill was devoted to defensive practice against Oklahoma Aggies plays. A lot of pass defensive work was done, because it is known that the Aggies like to throw the football around, too. Thus far, Tech's anti-aircraft guns have been effective, take the word of Texas Christian university's Sammy Baugh. But the watchword now is "let not a single pass connect."

Club In Shape

It appeared yesterday that every important member of the squad, meaning all the regulars and shock troops, would be physically fit for the Aggie invasion. Considerable fear was held by coaches last week that some of the lads, notably Red Ramsey and J. W. West, ends, and Tox Wiginton, center, would not recover from bruises, illness, etc., in time to play against the Aggies, but everybody was on hand yesterday and taking part in the workout.

The tip-top Matador spirit continued to operate, the nippy weather encouraging rather than discouraging fast and spirited action.

Chunking most of the passes was Big Jim Neill, the pride of Brownfield and Tech's leading candidate for All-American honors, but Ed Smith, the Del Rio midget, who will start against the Aggies had his share of pitching duties. Captain Demp Cannon flung a few, as did George Winters, some of the latter being the southpaw variety. Cannon throws 'em with either fist.

Shockers May Start

It appears likely that the Shock Troops will start against the Aggies, and particular attention was paid to this group yesterday. They have started in only two games, and got in a pickle each time. The opposition did not score against them, but it got in scoring territory and went over against the regulars. Texas Wesleyan's Rams and Oklahoma City university's Goldbugs were the teams taking early game leads in their exhibitions here. The regulars started against Texas Christian and Centenary.

If the shock troops line up against the Aggies as they did in previous games, Smith, Winny Baze, Alan Plummer and possibly Quarterback Cotton Neeley will constitute the backfield, Baze and Charley Duval having changed teams. Duval, however, may start with this team at quarterback to lend his valuable kicking toe.

No Weight Lost

The line probably will be George Philbrick and Raymond Curfman at ends, Abe Murphy and Bull Katrola or Bill Holcomb at tackles, Jim Brown and Leonard Latch at guards, Frank Guzick at center.

This lineup weighs in at about the same tonnage as the regulars, the ends being lighter but the difference being made up in tackles, guards and two of the backs, Plummer and Baze.

Coach Ted Cox's ambitious team of Cowboys, most of them juniors, two of them sophomores, are expected to reach Lubbock Thursday night. From all reports they are coming with blood in their eyes and revenge as their goal. While most of them are under classmen, all but the sophmores played against Tech last year when the Red Raiders claimed a 14 to 0 victory in a colorful, thrill-packed game. All members of the starting lineup except the two sophs, Leo Howell, halfback, and Paul Monnett, end, are letter men.

Sixteen Letter Men

In fact, sixteen of the Cowboys are letter men, and there are letter replacements for the two sophomores.

Quarterback Nick Cramer and Fullback Melville Webb are juniors, and their work is what the Red Raiders will have to watch. Ray Bradley, left halfback, a 175-pound runner and passer, is one of the most dangerous threats.

Homer Peel To Manage Cats In 1937 Texas League Race

FORT WORTH, Nov. 3. (AP) — Homer Peel, outfielder, will be the playing field manager of the Fort Worth baseball club in the 1937 Texas League race. He accepted terms and signed his new contract shortly after noon today after a two-hour conference with Business Manager Cecil Coombs. They jointly announced the agreement.

Hurling, a field sport formerly very popular in Ireland, is similar to present-day hockey.

Big Oklahoma Aggies Heading Here

Here's How Tackles And Ends To Compare Friday

* Indicates probable starters.

If you are interested in facts and figures of ends and tackles, provided you're interested in ends and tackles, the above tabulation offers a comparison of Texas Tech's and Oklahoma A. & M.'s forwards for those positions.

It will be observed that Tech exercises a weight advantage in the tackle department, no matter who starts the game. Tech has seven tackles, none of which weighs less than 200. The two not listed above but who are due to see service in the game are G. B. Wimberley, former Lubbock High school star, who weighs 209, and Clyde Wilson, a 207-pounder from Panhandle, who has demonstrated his wares before. Still another tackle is Lloyd Taliaferra, a sophomore from Plainview who is being groomed to step in as a regular next year. He should be among the 200-pounders by then, but now weighs a mere 197. A ninth Tech tackle is Chester Hemsel, the place-kicker, at 187, who no doubt will be called on to kick-off and try for extra points, if any.

In addition to those named, the Aggies have Prinest Neill, a 195-pound non-letter junior, and Bob Williams, a 190-pound sophomore, who play tackle positions and will be ready for relief duty. Neill hails from Porter, Williams from Erick, Oklahoma.

Aggie Ends Heavier

Tech's probable starting ends, Curfman and Philbrick, give weight to the Aggie starters, Asbury and Monnett, and Asbury still will be the heaviest end on the field when Tech's regulars, West and Ramsey go in.

Other Tech ends are very scarce, Weymond Newton, 161 pounds, and Richard Godeke, about 185, both from Lubbock High, being the reserves.

The Aggies have two others, Roland Reeves, 155-pound junior, and Stan Orloski, 165-pound sophomore.

A study of guards, centers and fullbacks will be presented tomorrow.

Joe Louis To Go Against J. Risko

CLEVELAND, Nov. 3. (AP) — The Cleveland News announced today Joe Louis, Detroit's "brown bomber," would meet Johnny Risko, of Cleveland, in the 10-round main event of the newspaper's annual Christmas fund show Dec. 7.

Final arrangements for the bout will be completed at a New York conference Friday, the News said.

Risko, has boxed daily in training although his last ring appearance was 10 months ago. He claimed he turned down offers to meet other heavyweights with the assertion, "get me Louis or nobody."

Lubbock Squad Defies Experts

Westerners, Satisfied With "Fighting Chance," Seek To Improve Defense For Sandie Game Week From Today

Continuing to throw the defi at "experts," critics and just plain fans who are ready to concede the Amarillo Sandies victory over Lubbock on November 11, Coach Weldon Chapman's Westerners hustled through a stiff workout yesterday in a manner and spirit that seemed to say: "Just who are the Sandies, anyhow?"

Nor did ticket sales activity lessen at the downtown agency. Fans who desire choice seats at the annual battle of the District 1 big shots are advised to call for them at once. They're on sale at the Hub Clothiers, and they're going at a rapid clip. Virtually all of the middle sections on either side of the stadium have been reserved, the agency reported.

Work On Defense

A brief but forceful scrimmage was indulged by the spirited Westerners yesterday, with all hands taking part. Barring injuries in practice, and Chapman is not going to take many chances, the club will be free of bruises and physical handicaps when it faces the Golden Sandies, twice state champions, one week from this afternoon.

Aside from the scrimmage, in which defensive measures were stressed, the workout was mere routine. There was a lot of exercising, signal running, passing and kicking, and running down under punts. The colder weather spurred the athletes on.

Harold Ingley, the speed merchant, continued to show improvement, indicating that he would be hot and ready. His backfield mates, Max Rutledge, Walter Webster and C. L. Storrs, are daring the Sandies to come ahead. The line, from end to end — Ralph Letsinger, Babe Ritchie, Wilburn Piercey, Rafe Nabors, Sterling Short, Virgil Simmons and H. L. Gants—apparently holds no fear of Amarillo's possible "third straight."

A fighting chance is all the Westerners have, and it's all they want. Odds or no odds, they seem to welcome the forthcoming opportunity of giving the Sandies a rigid test.

Canada's total fish exports during the last year were valued at $24,459,000, as compared to $22,425,000 during the fiscal year of 1935.

Detton Fights Markus In Top Event Tonight

Hebrew Champ To Find Willing Foe If He Gets Rough; Dale Haddock And Buck O'Neil To Battle In Semi-Final

THE STARTING LINEUP

Main event — Jerry Markus, Brooklyn, vs. Dory Detton, Salt Lake City. Two out of three falls or 2-hour time limit.

Semi-final — Dale Haddock, Detroit, vs. Buck O'Neil, Chicago. One fall or 30-minute time limit.

Preliminary—Bob Cummings, San Francisco, vs. Joe Bauer, Milwaukee. One fall or 20-minute time limit.

Curtain raiser starts at 8 o'clock. Admission prices unchanged.

The last time Dory Detton was supposed to "fall into the clutches of a man-eating grappler," the sleek young Mormon known for his fast, clean, scientific stunts, fixed the would-be villain up in a large way. Danny McShain, terror of the wrestling tribe, forthwith was laid up with a cracked skull for a few days. It was the "clean" grappler who turned demoniac, and the crowd howled its pleasure.

This fellow Markus is another of the rough type, judging from his brief but effective flareup last week, a flareup which cost him his debut match but which convinced the folks that he was somebody tough. After a calm start, he flew into a fit of rage that only Referee Big Train Clements could stop. Clements' big right fist stopped him rather shortly.

So the standard bearer of the Hebrew may not have all the imps of satan on his side tonight. Should he bother Detton too much, the nifty Utahan can call up a few demons to his own rescue.

The supporting card could be a better all-round show, although Dale Haddock and Buck O'Neil should provide considerable fireworks in the semi-final. O'Neil, the short, thick grappler from Chicago, has demonstrated enough ability to warrant him a shot at Haddock's unofficial West Texas title.

Joe Bauer pulled one of the season's surprises in his last fight here by winning a match, something highly unusual for the comic German, who nearly always gives a good account of himself but lacks the fire and stamina to make the kill.

What's This? Two Notre Dame Boys In Verbal Battle

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 3. (AP) — Jim Crowley's "crack" that his Fordham line was greater than the "seven mules" of Notre Dame who opened holes for Crowley and the three other horsemen to gallop through in 1924 today brought the rejoiner from Noble Kizer, one of the mules, that two of his Purdue backs were better than any of the four horsemen.

"It's the first time I realized that Jimmy knew anything about the defensive strength of the seven mules," said "Mule" Kizer. "He was generally so far back that he didn't know what was going on up in the line.

"In Cecil Isbell and John Drake we have two backs at Purdue who would put the 'four horsemen' to shame."

The two former Notre Dame teammates match strategy Saturday in the Polo Grounds when Purdue and Fordham clash in their annual football game.

They Yapped When The Bishop's Son Sat Down At Northwestern, But His Volcanic Chair Is A Golden Throne

BY PAUL MICKELSON

NEW YORK, Nov. 3. (AP) — The Bishop's son sat on a volcano but the force of his quiet genius turned it into a golden throne.

When Northwestern snapped Minnesota's remarkable winning streak in the mud and rain at Dyche Stadium Saturday, Coach Lynn Waldorf silenced, perhaps forever, a rumbling alumni football volcano that threatened to bury him whole in the coaches' graveyard.

Probably no college football coach ever turned alumni suspicion, bitterness and jealousy into wholesome respect as quickly and definitely as Waldorf has at Northwestern university. His achievement in doing so rates far higher than his team's conquest over Minnesota.

After the campaign of 1934, the unusually loyal alumni was split into two warring factions when Director of Athletics Kenneth "Tug" Wilson, long at odds with the university's prevailing gridiron master minding, fired popular Dick Hanley as coach and appointed Waldorp, son of a university trustee but a Syracuse graduate, as his successor.

Staunch friends of the deposed Hanley and critics of Wilson arose in rebellion, vowing to get Wilson's scalp and charging Waldorf got the job because his father was a trustee. Material didn't look very good for the coming year, but the quiet Waldorf, reporting from Kansas State where his team shatered Nebraska's long stranglehold to win the Big Six championship, stepped into the disquieting spot and made good with even a better showing than Hanley, no slouch as a football coach himself.

Surrounded by an entire new coaching staff, including former Coach Burt Ingwersen of Iowa and Pop Vance, Evanston High school coach, Waldorf quietly went about his business, drawing on his inevitable pipe and never raising his voice. A keen philosopher — he's a graduate of philosophy and sociology at Syracuse where he starred in football—he taught his players a combination of what he thought was the better part of all the noted systems of football. The players learned to ask him anything from football strategy to classroom problems. Affectionately, they called him "Daddy."

And "Pappy," slowly but surely, began to deliver. After defeats by Purdue, Ohio State and Minnesota, the Wildcats came back to beat Illinois, Notre Dame, Wisconsin and ended the season with a scoreless tie with Iowa. That victory over Notre Dame alone, silenced the anvil chorus to a whisper. Saturday's triumph over Minnesota, with prospects for national championship honors, turned the chorus into shouts of adulation.

The Methodist bishop's son has made good. Even Doc Thorson, firm believer in the Hanley system and policies, is grinning and buying tickets again, but the happiest man at Northwestern? He's Tug Wilson, the man who discovered "Pappy."

Braddock Slow To Put Up Check For Schmeling Battle

NEW YORK, Nov. 3. (AP)—James J. Braddock is due to deposit a $5,000 check with the New York State Athletic commission tomorrow, but there was no indicating tonight the money will be laid on the line.

The commission wants the check as evidence of the heavyweight champion's intentions of fighting Max Schmeling in a title bout next June.

The check is long overdue Schmeling deposited his before returning to Germany after his scheduled September bout with Braddock was postponed, but the commission has had no luck with the firm of Braddock and Joe Gould.

Brig.-Gen. John J. Phelan, chairman of the commission, has been firing telegrams into the New York headquarters of the champ calling his attention to tomorrow's date, but Tex Sullivan, Braddock's secretary said neither the title holder nor Manager Joe Gould would be on hand.

Braddock is in Hot Springs, Ark., recuperating from an arthritis attack which caused postponement of the September fight and Gould is with him.

"Gould is due back the last of this week or the first of next and will take care of the check then," said Sullivan. "Braddock will stay in the south for another month."

Parents' Day Plans Talked

Dr. Bradford Knapp Urges All Students To Get Parents To Attend Affair; Grid Game To Be Featured

Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Tech, urged students to bring their parents to the campus for the Parents' day celebration to be conducted there Friday, at a convocation held Tuesday in the gymnasium.

Doctor Knapp asked that parents of Lubbock students attend, as well as those from other towns.

Plans Explained

Plans for the day were explained by the president.

An amendment permitting three assistant cheer leaders was voted. One is allowed under the former arrangement. Students were not asked to vote on donation of 25 cents from each breakage deposit to finance a trip of the honorary cheering unit, the Saddle Tramps, to the Tech-Loyola football game in Los Angeles Nov. 11.

The board of directors of the college does not approve of requests for the students to donate funds from their deposits, Doctor Knapp said.

Difference Between A "C" And A "K" May Decide Fate Of $500,000 Fortune

(By The Associated Press)

TORONTO, Nov. 3. — Upon the difference between a "C" and a "K" may hang $500,000 and the hopes of half a dozen champion childbearers.

While the five other apparent joint winners of the Millar baby race fortune were receiving congratulations today and planning what to do with their shares, the sixth, Mrs. Lily Kenny, announced her two "missing babies" had been found, properly registered at the bureau of vital statistics.

Matter Of Spelling

It is just a matter of spelling, Mrs. Kenny said. The infants were registered as offsprings of "Mrs. Cenny."

"This definitely proves that Mrs. Kenny is the sole winner of the prize for childbearing under the terms of the late Charles Vance Millar's will," her counsel said.

"There was never any question about her being the mother of nine eligible babies, the same as the other five mothers claim. With this proof of the two other births her total goes to eleven—and that's the top."

Speaks Very Forcibly

Mrs. Kenny spoke very forcibly about what she would do next Friday if Mr. Justice Middleton fails to declare her sole winner of the stork derby.

"If he says I've got to divide that money with those other mothers, I'll slap his face," the sturdy French-Canadian mother said.

Mrs. Kenny is one of 14 mothers who have been asked to appear Friday and prove their claims to the money the eccentric lawyer bequeathed to the most prolific mother in Toronto.

Poppy seeds strewn from airplanes will beautify the regions in the vicinity of Grass Valley, Calif.

Claude Thompson, student council president, and Doctor Knapp decided that "all considered, it is best for the cheering unit not to go to Los Angeles."

Doctor Knapp read rules for ringing of the college Victory bells in the east tower of the administration building. A representative appointed by the president will supervise ringing of the bells, which will not peal more than 15 or 20 minutes for ordinary victories and not more than one hour for major victories.

Col. William Roy Gilks Is Speaker At Lions Luncheon

How Great Britain met the problem of unemployment in the depression that swept the British Isles and the Continent in 1926-8 was described to the Lions club yesterday noon by Col. William Roy Gilks, for 50 years a Salvation Army officer in Great Britain. He spoke at the luncheon in the Hilton hotel at noon.

President H. C. Pender presided over the session. C. A. Sanford, chairman of the Lions education committee, asked if the program committee was prepared to stage a program contest. He was informed by J. A. Jackson, chairman of the program committee that "we'll be there."

Robt. Bean, program chairman for the month, presided. Captain John G. Churchill introduced Colonel Gilks. Miss Hazel Bowley, a local officer, sang a solo.

Hal Grady, major for the Salvation Army drive, asked for eight more volunteers to complete the 29 needed in the drive.

Henry Dunlavy Of Temple Tells Of District's Plans And Its Potentialities To People Of Central Texas

(By The Associated Press)

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 3. — Henry Dunlavy of Temple, secretary of the Brazos river district, declared in a speech prepared for delivery here today the Brazos district is the first in the United States to be organized on an entire watershed basis.

The project, also, among the many flood control districts in the nation having hydro-electric energy for sale, is the first to have a firm outlet for this energy, Dunlavy declared.

Doesn't Interfere

"The opportunity which the district has for the sale of its hydro-electric energy in no way interferes with the use of water for other purposes," Dunlavy said, "as the district reserves the right to divert water from the generation of hydro-electric energy to any other purpose which might be of more value to the district and state."

The Brazos project, for which President Roosevelt has approved a $30,000,000 WPA appropriation, provides for construction of 13 major flood control and water conservation dams on the Brazos and its main tributaries. Subsequently, a network of 28 small flood check dams are planned throughout the water shed.

Dunlavy outlined the main objectives of the project as flood control and water conservation, with sale of hydro-electric energy as "an incidental product."

He asserted during the last 50 years, "flood losses on the Brazos river have averaged more than two million dollars per year."

Only One "Hot" Check Is Given

AUSTIN, Nov. 3. (AP) — Miss Amelia Mallory, office manager at Texas Democratic campaign headquarters, offers new evidence that business conditions are improved.

"Of the thousands of checks received as contributions to the Roosevelt-Garner campaign, only one was 'hot' said Miss Mallory, "and the person who gave us that came in and paid it off."

Del Rio Mexican Is Injured In Automobile Crash In City

Jose Maciese, 54, of Bracketville, near Del Rio, suffered slight injuries when his automobile was overturned after a collision at Avenue H and Thirty-fourth street at 4:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

His machine and one driven by 14-year-old J. D. Warlick were in collision, said investigators. County and city authorities went to the scene.

Maciese's son Enrique, 11, said his father, who suffered slight laceration on the back of the right hand and a minor chest injury, was driving south and that his car was struck almost in the right side center by the Warlick car, which was being driven west on Thirty-fourth street and was attempting a turn on Avenue H to the south.

Enrique said he covered his face before the crash and that "I go like this"——indicating he had tumbled over and over when hurled to the ground. He said another brother, Francisco, 13, was in the ditch under the overturned car but was not injured.

The father was released after treatment at Lubbock sanitarium.

A $228,979 appropriation was granted for National Youth administration program in Mississippi.

Lettuce Workers Strike Is Ended

SALINAS, Calif., Nov. 3. (AP)—The costly strike of 3,200 Salinas and Watsonville lettuce workers, which started exactly two months ago, was ended today.

Members of the fruit and vegetable workers' union voted early today to call off the strike and endeavor to obtain employment in lettuce sheds here and at Watsonville immediately.

Under the terms accepted by the strikers the employers may reserve the right to keep any of their non-union help presently employed; shippers will hire as many union members as possible, and may refuse to re-employ any persons regarded as "troublemakers."

The wage scale in operation for the last two years—75 cents an hour for packers and 55 cents for trimmers—will presumably remain in effect.

Laws On "Forced Work"

WHILE full information is not available, and possibly will not be for months, The Morning Avalanche is interested in news dispatches telling of the passage of "forced work" laws in Bolivia and Paraguay.

We are interested in the situation not only because of its being opposite to our own condition—where thousands without work want work—but also because the report sounds suspiciously like a move to revive peonage in its worst form.

Paraguay is a tropical country with a large population of primitive Indians who live by hunting and casual agriculture and are not accustomed to formal labor. It is not quite the same in Bolivia, most of which lies on the high and bitterly bleak Andean plateau. There conditions of life are extremely rigorous and those who will not "work," in the sense at least of cultivating a bit of barley and potatoes, must starve. However, Bolivia also has tropical valleys on the eastern slope of the mountains which doubtless need labor for their working.

Dispatches from both countries describe the laws or decrees in question as requiring that every able-bodied male citizen have a job. It is explained that both countries suffer from labor shortage and at the same time have large numbers of men who "will not work."

Where are the jobs to be provided for these men who are to be made to find jobs? What are they to be paid? Who will transport them to the jobs, and will they be free to leave if work becomes available elsewhere?

These are questions the world will want to have answered. Legal compulsion presumably is one way of inducing primitive populations to take their place in the fabric of so-called civilized society. But we should like to see the above questions answered before we become very happy about it.

"WALLIE" LETS US DOWN

As much as we dislike to be harbingers of bad news, and as loath as we are to predict the dissolution of the nation, we feel it is nothing less than our duty to pass along the word that Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson has decided never to return to her native country.

Yes, sir, Mrs. Simpson is quitting us flat.

She's going to let us go to the dogs the fastest way.

She's through with the home of the brave and the land of the free.

In an exclusive telephone interview with the United Press in London the other day, Mrs. Simpson dropped the bombshell. So many nasty things have been said of her friendship with the King, Emperor, Defender of the Faith, etc., that she has decided to let us stew in our own juice. She could never, she told the UP, come back again because she would not be able to hold up her head in polite society.

All we have to say about Mrs. Simpson's decision to cut us cold is that despite the horrible punishent she is meting out to the U.S.A., it is the duty of all good Americans to bear up under the loss as best we can.

We must be courageous—as were our ancestors at Bunker Hill.

We must be brave, yea, even as brave as were Washington and his men at Valley Forge.

Loss of Mrs. Simpson is a terrific thing but maybe, by presenting a united front, we'll be able to live through it even as we lived through the era of "two cars in every garage and two chickens in every pot."

One thing we hope for—and will continue to hope for. That is, sometime in the future when Mrs. Simpson is enjoying another cruise in the royal yacht and basking in the warmth of the Mediterranean spas, she will learn to forgive us. After all, can she expect us ordinary mortals to be able to sit in fair judgment of the gods?

How were things going at last report in Hollywood? It was still Thelma Todd who was dead, wasn't it?

Today's One-Minute Sermon

Thus saith the Lord God: In the day when he went down to the grave I caused a mourning: I covered the deep for him, and I restrained the floods thereof, and the great waters were stayed: and I caused Lebanon to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted for him.

I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him down to hell with them that descend into the pit: and all the trees of Eden, the choice and best of Lebanon, all that drink water, shall be comforted in the nether parts of the earth.—Ezekiel, XXXI:15-17.

SALUTE TO Love

by Rachel Mack © 1936 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

KATE and CAROLINE MEED live on a Blue Grass farm, Meed Meadows, with their indolent, lovable grandfather, MAJOR SAM MEED, and two old Negro servants, ALTHY and ZEKE. Kate is engaged to MORGAN PRENTISS, who neglects her for EVE ELWELL, beautiful and wealthy.

Major Meed, addicted to drink, loses Meed Meadows to JEFF HOWARD, bitter young mountaineer who owns coal lands. The Meeds move into a dilapidated tenant house nearby. In her resentment, Kate treats Jeff rudely. He responds with insolence, though he is drawn to her and cannot get her out of his mind.

Kate and Caroline go to Shelby to attend a dance at the home of their friend, CYNTHIA CHENAULT. Major Meed, at home, dreams of buried Meed silver, now lost. At the dance Kate discovers that Morgan is fascinated by Eve. In desperation she asks him to sit out a dance. When he makes love to her she is happy again.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIII

The day after the Chenault dance found Kate at home again and strangely restless. She said to the old servant in the middle of the afternoon, "Go rest yourself, Althy, and let me do the ironing!"

"No, m'am," came the reply. "I's perticular 'bout my ironin'. You go take a nap."

But Kate was not sleepy, in spite of the fact that she and her sister had risen quietly at 9 and driven home before the rest of the house-party was awake. She said to Althy, "I'm anything but sleepy. I'm not hungry today either. Just jittery."

"I reckon somethin' went wrong at the party dance," Althy commented shrewdly. "Was Mr. Morgan Prentiss actin' up, maybe?"

Kate laughed. "He was for a while Althy, but afterward things were all right. That is—" she hesitated, "things were almost all right, Althy, what would you do if some woman tried to take Zeke away from you?"

The old woman's strong brown face took on a menacing look. "I'd make a little wax figure of 'er an' throw it in the fire and melt it down, dat's what I'd do! Or else I'd slash her with a sharp razor blade. I'd tend to 'er!"

"But that sort of stuffs not civilized," Kate said reprovingly. Actually she was not as horrified as Caroline would have been. Kate often prodded Althy and Zeke to glimpse the primitive Africa that lay just under the crust. Something primitive and reckless in her own nature responded, even while she scolded them.

At this moment a commotion among the fowls in the yard sent Althy hurrying outdoors, and Kate took up the iron to finish a half-ironed sheet.

Kate, as she worked, thought of the electric iron and sweeper and refrigerator that had been theirs at Mead Meadows. Those things that had lightened their housework. The mountaineer's property now, she remembered resentfully. Jeff Howard's. The Major had sold them to him, along with the lamps, because "Rickety House" was not wired. Had he set up housekeeping decently, she wondered. Or was he merely living there with his dogs, like a camper in a shack? She recalled his big, loose knit frame, his narrowed eyes and disdainful smile, his drawling mountain voice that seemed to say more than it uttered, less than it meant. How she hated him! For days the hatred would lie dormant; then it would come seething up to leave her wild and shaken with its force.

She whispered now, in honest dismay, "I hate him more than I love Morgan. How can that be?" The mountaineer had become a giant in her path. At times she could not see around him.

Caroline came into the kitchen in kimono and bedroom slippers. The smooth ash-colored hair that she usually wore in a knot was now plaited in two childish braids. Kate was struck anew by the calmness and sweetness of this little sister who was two years her senior, yet seemed infinitely younger.

Caroline's face was flushed from her nap. "Hello, Kate honey. Let me help you? Where's Althy?"

Kate said, "No help. Just sit. I think Althy's killing a snake. The chickens were making an awful stir, and after she went out I heard a lot of pounding and muttering. What was it you wanted to be reminded of today? Something about old Mrs. Dodd Chenault and a tea-pot—"

"Oh yes!" Carolina said. "The old lady's visiting the Chenaults, you know. She came from Lexington last week. Well, she came downstairs last night just before supper to look the party over. Didn't you see her, by the way?"

"No," Kate answered, not looking up. "I was outside with Morgan. Wasn't it sort of late for her to be up?"

"It was, of course, but everybody thought it was awfully cute of her. Going on 90, and coming down in a lace collar and false curls to look things over! The nurse was with her and she used a cane, but it was a risk on account of the slippery floors. We were all presented to her, and when she heard my name she began to talk about Meed Meadows. It seems she used to visit there when she was young. Before the Civil War—can you imagine that? Well, she wanted to know if the family'd ever recovered the tea service, and when I asked her what tea service, she said, 'Why, the big sterling silver one they used for General LaFayette, of course'!"

"Bosh!" Kate remarked, nursing a burn on her palm. "She's dreaming. If there'd been anything like that in the family, we'd have known about it—"

"Maybe not," Caroline said. "Old Mrs. Chenault seemed to be clear about it in her mind. She said the Meeds buried it during the Civil War, and when they went to look for it afterward, they couldn't find it. She said Mrs. Crutcher Meed—that's Grandad's mother—was so sensitive over losing it that she never would let anyone talk about it afterward."

"You mean," asked Kate slowly, SLAUTE TO LOVE— GALLEY 2 "that it's supposed to be still buried? They never found it at all?"

"It seems that way," Caroline answered.

Kate began to pace the floor. "It's probably true," she said bitterly. "It's just our luck to have it be true. To hear about it too late."

Caroline nodded. "If we'd known sooner, we'd have had the whole yard dug up looking for it. We might have found it."

Kate paused in her pacing and pounded the table with her hands. "Yes," she said violently. "It's still there! It's on Jeff Howard's land! Our silver—!"

Caroline realized her excitement. "Don't take it that way, Kate! I only told you because I thought it was a good story. I'd never have repeated it if I'd known you'd go to pieces like this—"

"I'm not going to pices!" Kate stormed, which proved to Caroline that she was. "Where's Gran'dad? Where's Zeke? I'll find out if this thing's true or not—"

Althy entered the kitchen with an air of importance. "Done kilt a snake a yard long," she pronounced. "Hung 'im up head downwards fer luck, devilish thing. He was in the chicken house doah. I fix 'im!"

"Are you sure the thing's dead?" Caroline asked with a shudder. "I hate having even a snake die by inches."

"He's daid all right," Althy assured her. She was about to go into gruesome details when Kate interrupted her impatiently. "Never mind that, Althy. Where's Gran'dad?"

Althy was resentful. It was not every day that she killed a snake. "Major Sam's jus' went in de front door," she said sullenly. "I reckon he went to get hisself a nap in de parlor. Leave 'm 'lone."

"He'll have to talk to me first," Kate replied. Caroline followed her, genuinely alarmed over the bitter excitement her story had aroused in Kate. She felt that her grandfather would be upset too.

They found the old gentleman seated in a chair, gently swishing at a fly with his ancient panama hat. Kate exclaimed, "Did you ever hear anything about any buried silver over at the old place, Grand' dad?"

Major Meed stopped swishing and looked at her. "I thought I told Zeke to keep his mouth shut about that dream. I'd like to whack his black hide for him! That silver's gone forever."

"Oh," replied Kate thoughtfully. "So there really is some lost silver. And you've had a dream about it, too! That makes it an omen."

"Omen, my foot!" exclaimed the Major, untieing his black string tie and loosening his collar. "Omens ain't cilivized. I told Zeke not to get you stirred up about that old silver—"

Caroline interrupted hastily, "Zeke didn't do it, Gran'dad. It was I. It's just a coincidence. I've been telling Kate the story old Mrs. Dodd Chenault told me last night at the party. She's Cynthia's great-great aunt, you know, from Lexington. Well, it seems she used to visit at Meed Meadows when she was young, and she was recalling a big silver tea service that was used for LaFayette. She said it was buried for safe keeping during the Civil War and never found again. Kate and I would like to know if it's true."

"It's true," Major Meed replied, "but I'm right sorry it's come up.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

ALTHOUGH Senator James O. Couzens was a flaming New Dealer, his death uncovers a Roosevelt secret for balancing the budget and reducing the public debt within the next four years.

The tax collectors expect to square their financial books through estate taxes which the government will collect from a score of ageing "economic royalists." It would be somewhat lugubrious to mention their names, but there are several billionaires and multi-millionaires whose normal life expectancy indicates that they will die before 1940. Like certain Supreme court justices, they may seek to outlive the New Deal's high taxes but it will be a close race.

Should death and the New Deal win, it is estimated that their contributions to the Treasury would easily amount to a billion dollars or more. In fact, one set of mortality statistics prophesies a governmental levy of $2,500,000,000—enough to put current federal books in the black.

VIOLENT: The new Maritime commission has exploded a bombshell among lobbyists at Washington. They discovered only a few days ago that Senator Hugo Black of Alabama had slipped into the maritime law a provision for registration and figurative fingerprinting of all shipping representatives at Washington.

Under an obscure provision of the act lobbyists for all companies holding or seeking a government contract must register on the commission's books. They must detail salaries, fees, retainers, bonuses, travel expenses and all funds spent upon "entertainment." Worst of all, they must furnish this information if they appear on shipping questions before the commission, Congress, any committee thereof or any other government department. It effectively stymies the shipping lobby, which has been the best paid and most successful on Capitol Hill for 20 years.

Due to lobbyist's opposition, the Black bill for registration of all special pleaders failed at the last session of Congress. Now the scheme is to redraft all legislation so that it will exile lobbyists from Congressional and departmental corriders. It may be the most violent conflict at the coming session of Congress.

MILKER: Politics is a selfish, cutthroat game—or occupation.

A certain Republican ex-Senator from New England noted for his witty tongue was drafted by the G.O.P. high command to trail President Roosevelt through New England. His assignment was to deliver speeches and shed interviews which would offset the President's appeal. Having been badly treated by topnotch G.O.P.-ers, the former Senator telephoned a political publicist and said:

"Let's milk these rich babies! You hire the best hotel rooms you can find. Get hotels which are near to haberdashery stores. My funds are running low, and I'm short of shirts, ties, handkerchiefs and underwear. The grand old party will pay for them." The anti-Roosevelt trip, in short, cost the G.O.P. about $5,000, and it is doubtful if the ex-Senator swung a vote—not even the haberdashery vote.

DICKERING: Prolongation of Spanish civil war is due to diplomatic rather than military considerations. General Francisco Franco, the rebels' leader, could capture Madrid at any moment he chose, but he prefers to parley for a surrender.

General Franco, according to U. S. confidential dispatches, dares not attack Madrid by frontal assault, although he could probably take it in one day's fighting. But he realizes that the loss of life and destruction of property would arouse bitter and deep-seated revulsion against his fascisti regime—within and without Spain. He also knows that certain influential elements within Madrid are insistent upon peaceful capitulation. So he is deferring his grand assault pending their dickering for a compromise.

General Franco has deliberately left open a way of escape for Madrid's "red." While he has closed the railroad to the coast because the government forces were receiving funds and supplies through that avenue, the motor road is not blocked. But the prize is in his hand.

REFERENDUM: Although President Roosevelt has declined to say whether he will seek reestablishment of the N.R.A., post-election quarterbacks look for such a move.

Mr. Roosevelt has told all questioners to examine his speeches if they would obtain his views on the need for a new N.R.A. Though hidden in verbiage, his campaign promises foreshadow federal regulation of wages, hours and working conditions. He has intimated definitely that he will ask a constitutional amendment to restore the industrial controls which the Supreme court took away from the executive branch.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

KEEN New York observers are keeping a watchful and rather nervous eye on the "splinter party" situation.

There are important elements—including powerful foreign influences—who while not hostile to democracy as such privately prefer a right-wing dictatorship in the United States to the New Deal tax program with its implications for the future. A dictatorship can and does give favors where they do the most good—and takes care that there is no subsequent embarrassing discussion of them.

No intimation is intended that these elements are working directly towards a dictatorship. But they are making a desperate effort to cut down New Deal strength from the left by fostering theoretically leftish splinter groups. If enough Lemkeites, Coughlinites, Townsendites, etc., have been elected to the next Congress they could seriously impede the functioning of Congress. In that case, if history is any guide, American democracy might be headed for serious trouble.

In Italy, in Russia and in Germany the lack of a strong majority in the national legislature—due to minority "splinter parties"—resulted in governmental sterility and popular discontent in all three cases, and these led in turn to dictatorships.

COMFORT: Some New York right-wing extremists are consoling themselves already. As salve for wounds they talk of meausres to counteract popular decision in favor of Roosevelt.

These hard-boiled bitter-enders—prefectly responsible citizens in the business world—are arguing that the great mass of new voters pulled to the polls to re-elect Roosevelt have written a false record of what the country wants. "Such new voters are incapable of judging issues for themselves and real patriots are not going to take this loaded balloting lying down. Roosevelt is likely to resume his dictatorial attitude of 1933. In that case the only bulwark against his running wild would be formation of an ogranization of the French Croix de Feu type."

An initial membership of 10,000,000 in such an organization is seriously discussed. It will be quite a comfort to some folks, even if it never gets beyond the bedtime story stage.

SIDELIGHTS: Securities Exchange commission is expected to recommend legislation completely divorcing investment trust from sponsoring banking houses. . . Wall Street wonders what of Lehman Corp. . . . Nash Motors-Kelvinator merger—if consummated—will put George W. Mason of latter company in line for big-time role in business world.

In keeping with a latter-day theory that it is wrong for a ham to taste like a ham, an Ohio packer is putting out one with a maple flavor. If he invented a maple sugar with a ham flavor, that would be something.

The 5 per cent tax on property in Italy is called a loan, though property owners must pay higher taxes to retire it. In the meantime, Signor Grandi at London accuses Russia of "blackmail."

The White House thinks next year's budget will balance nicely. Tax collections are expected to be up, and somebody at Columbia has invented a new kind of geometry.

It is believed the great middle class must have got its name from its position when hell breaks loose.

TARZAN AND THE LEOPARD MEN, No. 87

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Old Timer's blood chilled as human speech came from the mouth of the Leopard God: "Great is the power of Lulimi, my high priest, my temple. Let the white man die, that I, your who has caused the white man to be brought to god, and you, my people, may be fed!"

A wild, frantic cheer rose from the multitude in the temple, but it was silenced by a gesture from Lulimi as words came again from the mouth of the beast: "But first let my people look upon the new high priestess who has been brought to us by Lulimi's power."

Instantly all eyes were turned excitedly toward the doorway to the inner temple, through which danced a girl, clad in barbaric ornaments. She was followed immediately by eleven others. Old Timer wondered which of these was the new high priestess.

Now the Leopard God spoke again. "Fesch the high priestess!" Slowly a figure, dimly seen, approached out of the darkness of the chamber beyond, the flare of torches playing upon it. Old Timer stifled a cry of astonishment as he beheld the white priestess.

WHAT IS PUPIL DILATION AND HOW IS IT PRODUCED? Nature provided muscles to regulate the size of the pupil to control the amount of light entering the eye in proportion to the intensity of the light. Excessive light is very injurious. Reaction of the pupil is to contract, reducing the amount of light entering the eye Light of less than normal intensity necessitates more light entering the eyes, to maintain normal or near normal vision. These muscles act involuntarily.

Fixed abnormal pupil dilation is produced by a drug instilled into the eyes which paralizes the muscles hence Nature is interferred with, preventing the regulation of the size of the pupil as required by light stimulation In this condition, eyes cannot be used for near work Remember this, no drug can refract light or the human eye. Our Modern Scentific Optometrical Eye Examinations Are Safe and Free From Pupil Dilation.

Another Woman Sues Stan Laurel

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3. (AP) — Another woman has sued Stan Laurel, film comedian, for separate maintenance. His wife, Mrs. Virginia Ruth Laurel, recently sued him for separate maintenance of $1,235 a month.

The new suit is by Mrs. Mae Laurel, a federal theater project player, who said she and Laurel lived together as man and wife from 1919 to 1925. She asked $1,000 a month separate maintenance and $10,000 for her lawyers, and an equitable division of property which she contended they accumulated together. She estimated the value of the property at $127,500.

P. T. Barnum ran for Congress in 1866, but was defeated.

"Shakedowns" In Gotham Revealed

NEW YORK, Nov. 3. (AP) — One hundred and ten Manhattan restaurants and cafeterias, including such familiar midtown spots as Jack Dempsey's, Lindy's, and the Hollywood, have been named as victims of a racket which prosecutors blamed for extorting $2,000,000 annually.

"Shakedowns" ranging from $250 to $17,000 were listed in a second indictment returned against the Metropolitan Restaurant and Cafeteria association and 13 individuals.

The 41 specific extortions charged against the ring included $8,200 from Lindy's restaurants, $750 from the Hollywood, and $285 from Jack Dempsey's for immunity from picketing, stench bombing and other terrorist tactics which, Prosecutor Thomas E. Dewey charged, accompanies refusal to join the association.

Tragic Fire

sister and brothers and for some of her clothing that had burned, said:

"Daddy and mother were trying to make enough money to buy us a cow. They said we needed more nourishing food."

The Lindseys had not found living easy. The family, said authorities, was on relief last spring.

Couldn't Find Parents

Members of the department of Sheriff J. S. Smith sought the parents unavailingly several hours to inform them of the tragedy. They combed the northern part of the county without getting even a trace of the Lindseys.

At 7 o'clock tonight the parents returned from a cold day spent in the cotton rows.

They figuratively walked straight against what was left of their home—and their family.

Parents Are Treated

Both required administration of sedatives in the hospital here. Mrs. Lindsey, almost hysterical with grief, clasped her remaining child to her tonight and refused to be comforted.

Only Jo Anne and the father would attempt to talk.

Lindsey, said to be about 35 years old, and Mrs. Lindsey, about 32, had lived near Brownfield approximately eight years, working in the cotton when there was any—doing odd jobs when they could.

The fact personnel of the state highway department warehouse, which is near the site of the tragedy, did not know the tent was near its location led to belief the Lindseys had recently pitched their tent there.

Brownfield persons tonight were contributing to expenses of funeral and burial services, which had not been announced, said Miss Ruby Nell Smith, daughter of the sheriff.

Miss Smith said she had been informed at least one of the victims, Maxine, might have been saved had it not been for Jo Anne's failure to be coherent when she escaped from the burning tent.

A man tried to remove Jo Anne to the hospital. She could not summon sufficient explanation to direct his attention to others inside.

When a second man arrived and understood more completely conditions inside the burning tent it was too late. Maxine had been burned fatally. The other two children had been burned crisp.

Deputy Johnson Of Lynn Is Ill Here

Worn by fever and work, Deputy Sheriff John Johnson of O'Donnell early Tuesday afternoon was removed by ambulance to Lubbock sanitarium from Lubbock county jail, where he had collapsed when on duty.

A physician said, he was suffering of pneumonia.

The deputy had come here for two prisoners, said Deputy Sheriff Bedford F. Carpenter of Lubbock county. At the jail he told officers he was "very sick."

Placed in the hospital ward of the jail so he might rest, the deputy's condition became so acute a physician was called. The doctor ordered him taken to the sanitarium. It was discovered he was too weak to sit up, and the ambulance was summoned.

The deputy was the authority who captured Elmo Banks, slayer of Deputy Sheriff F. E. Redwine, several months ago in a manhunt.

A report early today said the deputy was "resting very nicely."

Congress Seats

pendent, in the other.

House returns were still slow coming in, but the Democrats had elected 101 members of the new congress, while the Republicans had clinched elections in seven districts.

South Contests Settled

Most of the contests already settle in both house and senate were in the Democratic "Solid South."

Only a few seats in the house had been gained by either side. Democrats had taken over four Republican seats, one in Connecticut, and three in traditional Republican Pennsylvania. The Republicans had only gained from the Democrats the two seats they won in Maine in September.

Most of the major senate contests were still inconclusive. Senator Borah, of Idaho, dean of the senate, had a comfortable lead over his Democratic opponent, Governor Ben Ross.

Two senate veterans were trailing. They were Hastings, Delaware Republican, and Metcalf, Rhode Island Republican. Senator Bulow, (R-SD) also was in a tight race.

In one of the most interesting senate battles, Henry Cabot Lodge, jr., was leading Governor James M. Curley, of Massachusetts.

DALLAS, Nov. 3. (AP)—Sheriff Smoot Schmid dismissed from his staff of deputies today a peace officer of 30 years experience because a fugitive returned him—instead of his returning the fugitive—from Pueblo, Colo.

Several days later, Schmid said, Van Nort drove the deputy's car o the jail, parked it, walked into the jail office, tossed the deputy's gun and handcuffs on the jailer's desk and said: "Here I am, book me. Your deputy is out in the car."

Schmid said it was necessary for another deputy to drive the offending officer home.

County Joins "Big Parade"

Greater Vote Than In 1932 Is Given President Roosevelt By Lubbock County Voters; Amendments Favored

most of the unreported ballots were, showed that about 74 per cent of the poll tax payers had marked tickets in precincts reporting. The unreported precincts, it was concluded, had balloted in about the same ratio. Using that information as a basis, it was conservatively estimated that about 600 votes had not been tabulated.

Smothers Opposition

Roosevelt and the New Deal was the only issue before the Lubbock county voters in the national campaign. An the New Deal virtually smothered its opposition, the principal standard-bearer of which was the GOP.

The "off-brand" parties, the socialists, the communists, and the unionists, failed to get to town in this county. Judging by the returns, prohibition was no issue in the president's race. Only two votes went to that party.

Popular James V. Allred, Texas' governor, apparently obtained more Lubbock county votes than did the chief executive whose cause he championed. Not including any votes listed at Idalou, Governor Allred had a total of 5,662 votes.

FDR Gets 5,675

President Roosevelt, including Idalou's incomplete report, had a total of 5,675. Governor Landon's total was 571, but the outstanding rural vote was expected easily to increase Roosevelt's margin to more than 10 to 1.

The Republicans apparently hesitated to vote for any Democrat.

Railroad Commissioner Earnest O. Thompson had no Republican opponent. Thompson received 4,550 votes, in line with totals of other state Democratic candidates, but J. W. Hembree, the socialist, obtained 43 ballots. Four votes was the greatest number polled by any other socialist candidate.

Lemke Gets 13 Votes

William H. Lemke, the union leader, ran third in Lubbock county on incomplete returns. He polled 13 votes. The communist Earl Browder obtained five votes to four received by Norman Thomas, veteran, unsuccessful candidate.

Lubbock's seven precincts, the last of which reported after midnight, polled 4,676 votes. Slaton polled 741 ballots in her four boxes.

Heaviest At 33

Heaviest voting was at precinct 33, in the Junior High school, where 1,062 persons cast ballots. The counting was completed early this morning.

Idalou had not reported in full.

Complete reports came from precincts 1, 2, 3, 4, 27, 28, and 33, in Lubbock; 5, 24, 25, and 26 in Slaton; Shallowater, Carlisle; Wolfforth, Foster, Grovesville, Abernathy, Union, and Posey. Union recorded all of its 61 votes for President Roosevelt.

An incomplete report came from Canyon.

Unreported were Acuff, Becton, Center, Slide, New Hope, Hardy, Monroe, Woodrow, McClung, Estacado, and Hurlwood.

The totals, based on reports to County Clerk Allen and to the Avalanche-Journal, were as follows in races in which there were opposition:

President—Roosevelt, 5,675; Landon, 571; Thomas, 4; Browder, 5; Lemke, 13.

United States senator—Sheppard, 4,651; Watson, 243; Starr, 2; Gertrude Wilson 4.

Governor—Allred, 5,662; Harris, 204; Branning, 3; Brooks, 4.

State liquor control — for 3,056; against 1,766.

Teachers' pensions — For 2,819; against 2,052.

Workmen's compensation — For 2,987; against 1,734.

Pardon's system — For 3,616; against 910.

Salary increases — For 3,075; against 1,653.

Limitation of house members—For 3,614; against 985.

New Low Temperature Mark Of Season Is Indicated Here

Midnight temperature of 27 1-2 degrees, lower by two and one-half degrees than the reading at the same hour the night before, indicated this morning might bring a new low mark for the season.

Sunshine kept temperatures down, despite a chilly wind, that afternoon.

Minimum temperature for the day was 23 degrees at state experiment sub-station, less than a degree lower at main line station of West Texas Gas company. Maximum was 43 degrees at the gas company station.

A freeze resulted that morning, and was general. Most of the late feed had been cut and shocked. Cotton is expected to open, since leaves will be shed and growth be stopped.

"Different Outlook" Today Is Promised By Republican Chief

CHICAGO, Nov. 3. (AP)—Chairman John D. M. Hamilton of the Republican national committee broadcast a statement about 11 p. m. (EST) tonight in which he told members of his party they could "go to bed assured that in the morning would be a totally different outlook."

He compared the election to that of 1916, when Woodrow Wilson won over Charles Evans Hughes.

"On election night of that year," Hamilton said, "Hughes appeared to be a certain winner, but morning found Wilson had won the office."

"The rural vote," Hamilton declared, "has in a large measure not yet been reported."

Currency Moves To Aid Wool Mart

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3. (AP)—The Agriculture department says it had reports from European attaches indicating recent "currency moves in France and Italy" might help wool markets on the continent.

The Berlin office of the bureau of agricultural economics advised Washington these financial changes had been viewed "somewhat hopefully" by wool-textile industries.

"In France," this report said, "it is expected that, with the pressure on the foreign balances now removed by currency alignment, stimulation of general economic activity in the country stands a better chance of being successful and, therefore, of raising the purchasing power of the domestic market.

"It is further hoped that the improved competitive strength the devalued franc offers may help the industry to regain some of the export business lost in past years. Italy, on the other hand, is also hoping to regain its export business in wool textiles and thereby enlarge he greatly reduced raw wool supplies, the latter being closely linked to proceeds from wool-textile exports. The Italian devaluation may also lead to some easing of the import restrictions on raw materials."

Sydney, Australia, wool sales were reported to have opened October 26 with spirited competition and prices five per cent higher for fine qualities than at the close of the preceding series October 15.

"Go West, Young Woman, And Run A Sheep Ranch," Advises Attractive Montana Woman

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 3. (AP)—"Go west, young woman, and run a sheep ranch," pert, blonde Mrs. Hathleen Nielsen advised today.

"It's not a crazy idea. I mean it," the attractive secretary-treasurer of the Montana Wool Growers' association insisted.

"Obviously, I don't mean all young women. I'm talking about some of those intelligent, well-equipped eastern college women, who happened to be just plain bored, or who are seeking an intertesting career, with profits.

Could Make Good

"I think a lot of them could come out here and make a go of sheep ranching. Lots of Montana women are doing it and liking it."

Mrs. Nielsen backs here theory with her own dollars. She recently bought some purebred sheep, and a friend is running them for her on a southwestern Montana ranch.

"It's a small start, but someday I hope to have a real herd and a ranch of my own."

Women ranchers, she explained, can't do the ranch labor men perform, "but intelligent women, with enough resources to make a start, have every reason to hope for success in sheep ranching, if they'd go at it the same way they go at becoming successful in a lot of other business enterprises."

Ginnings Are Showing Gain

Total Number Of Bales Turned Out In 18 Counties Up To October 18 Double That Of Same Period Last Year

According to the report of the U. S. department of commerce, bureau of the census, cotton ginned up to October 18 in 18 counties of the South Plains was more than twice that ginned to the corresponding date of 1935. Ginnings were: 116,571 bales this year; 56,595 last year.

Lubbock, with 23,299 bales ginned, ranked 23rd in the state. It also led the South Plains, with Dawson second with 15,378 bales and Lynn a close third with 15,289 bales.

State Total High

State total was 2,083,094 bales, compared to 1,599,227 a year ago. Nueces led this year, 80,476 bales, 4,000 bales under a year ago. Ellis with 72,194 bales was second, its ginnings being double that of last year. Hill county was third, 59,527 bales, and Collin fourth with 58,343.

Thirteen South Plains counties exceeded their mid-October ginnings of last year. Only Briscoe, Dickens, Floyd, Hale and Motley showed fewer bales this year.

47 Per Cent Of Total

Lubbock's ginnings to date represent 47 per cent of the total for all of the 1935 season. Last year up to the mid-October total, the ginnings represented slightly over 23 per cent of the season.

In many of the counties where the 1936 totals were greater than a year ago, they ranged from double the 1935 figure up to as much as five times. Bailey county had double the 1935 season; Cochran, five times; Crosby, four times; Dawson, between five and six times; Gaines, five times; Hockley, three times; Lynn, two and a half times; Scurry, three times and Terry, four times.

Things like that just prey on the mind and do no good. I reckon it was intended for that silver to stay under ground. My mother had every tree in the back yard and orchard dug around, but never a sign of it."

"Why didn't she know where it was buried?" Kate demanded.

"Well," said Major Mead, "it was this way. Ma had a sick child to tend. My father was off at war and most of the slaves had left. One day—one August morning, it happened—she heard a raiding party was coming through, so she wrapped the silver in some old velvety curtains and told Pompey, the butler, to bury it quick. She pointed out a spade to him in the flower-bed and told him to bury the stuff under a tree either in the back yard or orchard. 'Dig deep,' she said, 'and put the sod back carefully!' She went upstairs then to see the sick child and that's the last she thought of it for a month, for little John died of typhoid, and she just gave herself up to her grief. Pompey himself left the day the soldiers came through. He just laid down some pans he was scouring, they said, took off his apron and walked off with the troops. But they don't think he ever betrayed the family about the silver. He was honest and loyal. Pompey's only fault was being lazy—"

The girls listened to their grandfather intently. To Caroline it was merely a sweet old romance, colored with sadness. To Kate it was a tale "to be continued." Already she was plotting.

A PIONEER TEXAS LAW OFFICER SAYS VAN-TAGE ENDED 25 YEARS MISERY

Mr. Bransford, Aged 81, Widely-Known El Paso Man, Suffered 25 Years With Horrible Sourness and Gas in Stomach —Kidneys Got Him Up—He Says Van-Tage Made Him Feel Years Younger — Gas and Bloating Gone—No More Night Rising!

MR. J. C. BRANSFORD, 81, Veteran El Paso, Texas, Officer, Who Says: "VAN-TAGE Is Wonderful to Help a Man of My Age! It Ended 25 Years of Stomach and Kidney Misery for Me!"

Mr. J. C. Bransford, of 3029 Pera St., El Paso, Texas, is the latest widely-known resident to come forward with a statement PUBLICLY praising and endorsing VAN-TAGE, the Amazing Formula of Natural Herbs and Other Splendid Medicinal Agents which is creating such a SENSATION here in Lubbock, and which is now being introduced to crowds daily in this city by a Special Van-Tage Representative, direct from The Van-Tage Laboratories, at the Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1221 Broadway.

Mr. Bransford is 81 years old, and all his life he has been a law officer. He holds the distinction of being the first Marshal of Alamogordo, N. M. He first came to Texas 60 years ago, when the West was still young, and during his long period of law enforcement he has witnessed the passing of many of the famous characters who made history in the West. He is known by almost everyone throughout this entire section. An endorsement from such a widely-known and highly-respected man really MEANS SOMETHING! His statement about VAN-TAGE and the amazing relief it gave him after 25 years of suffering will be read with interest by every sick and ailing person. His Remarkable Statement follows:

Suffered 25 Years With Stomach and Kidneys!

"For the past 25 years I suffered terribly with my stomach and kidneys," said Mr. Bransford. "Everything I ate seemed to turn sour in my stomach and put me into an awful state of pain and misery, and the horrible stomach gas would bloat me up and press up against my heart until I thought it would drive it right through my ribs! Had to be taking soda all the time to relieve this awful pressure inside of me. My tongue was always coated, I had awful headaches, and dizzy spells would come over me so bad I would have to hold on to something to keep from falling! My kidneys gave me all kinds of trouble, too, as I had to get up at all hours of the night to relieve them. This loss of sleep made me feel tired and wornout when I got up in the morning.

"I read and heard so much about Van-Tage and what it was doing for other suffering people, so I made up my mind to get some of the medicine and try it, and I'm here to say it was a lucky day for me when I did, because it certainly put a stop to my 25 long years of misery! It had such a wonderful action on my stomach organs that I can eat ANYTHING I WANT now and my food digests like it should. No more of that awful soreness in my stomach, and the gas pains and bloating are GONE! What a relief it is to be able to eat again without all that suffering afterward! This medicine also worked on my kidneys and helped them so much that I can sleep all night long without having to get up to relieve them. The headaches and dizzy spells don't bother me like they used to. I am 81 years old, and I think it is WONDERFUL to find a medicine that will help a man of my age. Van-Tage has made me feel years younger, and I want all my friends, and everybody who suffers like I did, to know about the amazing relief it has given me."

Costs Only Few Cents A Day To Take Van-Tage

SUFFERERS! The price of Van-Tage is reasonable, due to the immense volume in which it sells. You can actually take this Amazing Formula for just a few cents a day. So, if you are a victim of sluggish, irregular bowels; inactive liver; swollen, gaseous stomach; sluggish kidneys; or the awful pain of rheumatic or neuritic afflictions, don't put it off any longer! Get Van-Tage—TODAY—and start feeling like a Real Human Being once again!

A special Van-Tage representative, direct from The Van-Tage Laboratories, is now at the Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1221 Broadway, Lubbock, daily meeting crowds of people and introducing and explaining this Remarkable Compound.—Adv.
