Agricultural Agent
Texas A. & M. College
Extension Service

Garland Hoffman, Extension Range Specialist, this week called on Texas motorists to help farmers and ranchmen save valuable grass by using care with matches and cigarettes. That grass you see from the highway is like money in the bank for the stockmen. It is his winter hay crop.

Actually, the motorist has a big stake in the grass, too. If he enjoys hunting the grass represents food and cover for deer, quail and other game birds and animals. For the fisherman, the grass means clear streams and better fishing in ponds or lakes. And for all of them, the grass can mean tasty beef steaks and lamb chops.

So before you throw that lighted cigarette from the car, think what it means to you as well as the stockman. Your good deed for the day can be crushing out the cigarette in the ash tray.

Feeding dairy steers for beef may prove a profitable sideline for fairymen under the present economic conditions, according to A. M. Meekma, Extension Dairyman. This is especially true, he says, when they have the necessary barn space, feed and labor.

Meekma cites research at the Ohio Experiment Station showing that dairy beef feeders six months old can be produced for 16 cents per pound using whole milk. This cost was reduced by three cents where skim milk was substituted for the whole milk. During the fattening period, when corn and cob meal was fed free choice with limited hay and silage, feed cost per pound of gain averaged 18 cents.

Biggest profits were made from the larger dairy breeds, holstein and Brown Swiss. However, efficiency of feed utilization did not vary widely among any of the breeds.

Hereford steers receiving hormone implants averaged a daily gain of .50 pound more than steers in the same group not implanted. In tests conducted at the Southwestern Great Plains Field Station, Bushland, Texas in 1958. The tests were made to determine the value of a sorghum ration ration with and without hormone implants.

Fifteen steers were implanted with 36 milligrams each of diethylstilbestrol (Pfizer Stimplant), 15 with estradiol-progesterone (Squibb synovex), and the remaining 15 were not implanted.

George F. Ellis, associate animal husbandman of the Station, said the steers were started on feed July 1, 1958 at an average weight of 849 pounds. They were moved to the feedlot directly from station pastures and, without shrink, were charged to the feedlot at $24 per hundredweight.

The 45 head were fed in one lot and all figures on costs and feed consumption are averages. The average ration for 122 days consisted of 14.68 pounds of ground sorghum grain, 2.04 pounds of cottonseed meal and 55.15 pounds of sorghum silage. Terramycin was added to the ration to supply 75 milligrams daily per steer. Silage was full-fed from the outset with the allowance of cottonseed meal. Grain was fed in increasing amounts reaching about 20 pounds daily per head at the close. Feed records and individual steer weights were kept by months.

The steers were trucked to Fort Worth on November 15, said Ellis, and were sold by separate treatments for slaughter. Individual market and carcass weights were obtained.

The stilbestrol implanted steers gained an average of 2.94 pounds per day and the Synovex implanted steers gained an average of 2.71 pounds. The non-implanted animals gained an average of 2.12 lbs. per day. Final weights after the 122 day feeding period were: non-implanted 1109 pounds; stilbestrol implanted 1210; and Synovex implanted 1178. The warm carcass weights for the stilbestrol, Synovex and non-implanted steers were: 711.3, 681.9 and 657.4, respectively.

Returns over all costs except labor and interest were $23.28 for the stilbestrol implanted; $7.58 for the Synovex implanted and a loss of .60c for the non-implanted.

Write the Agricultural Information office, College Station, for a copy of the report which gives the complete test results. Ask for PR-2096.

1960 Chevrolet Trucks To Be Displayed

Impressive gains in cushioning cargo and passengers from road shock, plus much greater stability and safety result from a revolutionary suspension system designed for 1960 Chevrolet trucks.

The totally redesigned truck suspension provides the nearest approach to passenger car ride and handling yet achieved, along with vastly improved durability. It has been under development for six years.

"Aside from the obvious advantage of passenger comfort, this new suspension offers an economic bonus to truck buyers," E. N. Cole, Chevrolet's general manager, commented. "Because road shock is largely absorbed by rugged suspension members instead of being driven into the frame, chances for damage to fragile cargoes are reduced and life of cabs, metal panels, and other chassis components is prolonged, leading to lower maintenance costs."

In a clean break with the past, Chevrolet has replaced the "hard riding" I-beam axle with independent front wheel suspension with ball joints and torsion bar springs on all but two models. Rear suspensions also are drastically changed, with coil springs on some light-duty models. Heavier series use a new softer riding leaf spring with automatic adjustment of spring stiffness as the load increases.

In keeping with the "total redesign" theme, frames and other chassis elements also are redesigned and styling is changed along functional lines. Fenders, hood and other panels are integrated with the new chassis for a more rigid, lower roomier and more accessible cab and sturdier front end assembly.

An important feature of Chevrolet's new suspensions is that springs no longer are called upon to keep wheels and axles aligned and to take driving and braking forces, as in conventional systems.

Since those functions are performed by durable control arms, springs need only to cushion the vehicle. It also makes possible the use of friction-free torsion bars in front, and coil springs at the rear in light models.

These two types of spring respond to small road shocks that would not flex conventional leaf springs because of inter-leaf friction, thus affording a smoother ride. On heavier duty rear leaf spring suspensions, design is such that only the proper spring length to give load support is in play at all times, giving a softer ride.

In addition to its superior ride, the new independent front suspension has many advantages. Unsprung weight is lower and wheel fight and shimmy are greatly reduced. "Wheel hop" is minimized on rough roads, giving better tire wear and prolonged suspension parts life. Ball joints simplify lubrication and afford correct friction for excellent ride, good wheel return, and automatic take-up of wear.

An important factor is that rugged control arms will keep front members in position in event of spring failure, unlike I-beam system in which such a failure may seriously affect steering control. Also a safety consideration is the greater resistance to roll or sway on turns.

With the new rear suspensions, unloaded ride is much softer and fore-and-aft pitch greatly reduced. The assembly weighs less than conventional springs and affords impressive improvement in rear end stability, particularly on turns under load. Roll and sway also are markedly reduced.

Advances in strength and durability have kept pace with gains in ride and handling. Torsion bars, basically the same in design as those used successfully in heavy military tanks, have been thoroughly tested in laboratory and proving ground trials. Brutal test schedules have shown the new suspensions to go through two torturing 3500 mile runs over jolting cobblestones without failure, compared with conventional suspensions which failed halfway through the first run.

Frames also have been redesigned and strengthened. Laboratory tests show some frames to be 1100% stiffer and to have 21 percent more beam strength. New designs reduce cab heights, with some up to seven inches lower. On light-duty models seat level is at step-in height from the ground.

Cabs are roomier, with improved sealing against water and dust. Inside stepwells are eliminated, affording full width floors. All cabs are rubber mounted, have more windshield area, and are 67% stronger torsionally. Hoods are integrated with fenders for full-width accessibility to the engine compartment.

Re-proportioning of chassis, body and sheet metal gives more favorable weight distribution, better maneuverability, and greater stability. Positioning the cab of light-duty models farther forward increases front suspension load by up to 8%.

Many other improvements are offered in the 1960 Chevrolet truck line. Powerglide automatic transmission will be available for the first time on light-duty models.

Both 6 and 8 cylinder engines will be available in some models not previously so equipped. Brake sizes on most models have been increased, with lining life prolonged up to 40%, and cooling has been improved. A new hydraulic clutch control system for smoother action and increased clutch life is standard on all but one model.

Numerous engine refinements also are offered, including improved oil control, new manifold for the largest engine, three point mounting, and optional front-end power take-off for heavy-duty engines.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hunter of Lubbock visited Mr. and Mrs. Hub Taggart and attended the 50th anniversary celebration at Cross Roads Baptist Church Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Harrell and Mrs. Joe Boyd of Anson visited their sister and sister-in-law respectively, Mrs. O. D. Weathersbee Thursday of last week.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fay Gooch last weekend were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lemon and son Jackie of Vernon.

Mrs. Oma Phillips of Abilene visited her mother Mrs. George Young last weekend.

Steel bar cushions jar in REDESIGNED '60 CHEVY TRUCKS

A revolutionary new suspension system gives vast improvement in ride, durability, and control to 1960 Chevrolet trucks. Front wheels are independently sprung on frictionless torsion rods. Rear suspensions are new, with coil springs on light-duty models and stronger, softer riding leaf springs on heavier models for improved cushioning of load and driver. New frames reduce height up to seven inches, with some cab floors at step-in level from the ground. Styling is new with rubber-mounted, roomier cabs. Inside steps have been eliminated, providing a full-width floor.

NOW... '60 CHEVROLET TRUCKS WITH REVOLUTIONARY TORSION-SPRING SUSPENSION THAT GIVES ASTONISHING NEW SHOCKPROOF ACTION !!!!!

CHEVROLET

Chevy's done the next best thing to paving every road in America!

First they threw out the front axle and put in torsion-spring independent suspension. Then they built wide-base coil rear springs into most light-duty models, variable-rate leaf springs into heavies. That made it—a ride you have to feel to believe. A ride that lets you move faster to get more work done in a day's time.

Brawnier bulldozer build!

Frames are stronger, cabs 67% more rigid. Front wheels and tires are precision-balanced. And that new suspension cushions jars and road shock that used to spell slow death for the truck's body and sheet metal.

More comfortable cabs!

Easier to hop in and out of too. Many models are a whole 7 inches lower outside. Yet there's more head room inside, plus more width for shoulders and hips. More real comfort!

Big in the power department!

With the industry's most advanced gas-saving 6's. With high-torque Workmaster V8 performance in heavyweights. With new 6-cylinder or V8 power available in L.C.F.'s.

Annual Session of County Missionary Assn Held Here Last Week

The 49th annual session of the Fisher County Missionary Baptist Association convened in the Hillcrest Baptist Church of Rotan Monday night and Tuesday of last week.

Rev. Phillip Goodrum of the Highland Home Baptist Church presided for the meeting. Monday night reports from various phases of the Baptist work in Fisher County were heard. New officers were elected to take office at the close of this meeting. The Treasurer's report was given, and an operating budget for the coming year was accepted. Rev. Tom Lawler, pastor Northwest Baptist Church, Milwaukee, Wisconsin brought the missionary message. The speaker pointed out the spiritual needs of the Wisconsin-Minnesota area, and challenged the churches of this association to a greater support of the mission efforts of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Tuesday morning the messengers from the churches heard reports of Sunday School, Training Union, WMU and Brotherhood work in the churches. It was pointed out that Sunday School and Training Union enrollment was lower than last year, but that average attendance was up. Mrs. Carroll Murphree explained the Laubach method of teaching reading to those who cannot read. A committee was selected to make plans for classes to be conducted in several areas of the county.

Rev. Fred D. Blake, First Baptist Roby, brought the annual sermon. His subject was, "The Salt Of The Earth," using Matthew 5:13 for the text. The speaker said that "Christians have definite responsibilities in Christ's Kingdom, and that if they do not fulfill these obligations they will become a contempt to the world."

A memorial service for our beloved members who have passed from action during the last year was conducted by Mrs. Huron A. Polnac, in the afternoon. After a business session, Rev. Phillip Goodrum brought the closing message. Rev. Goodrum challenged the messengers to aid the minority groups to have better religious services.

The nineteen churches of the association sent messengers for the meeting. A total of 150 people attended the Monday night session. Officers for the incoming year are: Huron A. Polnac, Sr. Moderator; George McBeth, vice-Moderator; Earl D. Hord, Clerk; Horace Carter, Treasurer; James Allison, Sunday School Supt.; Carl Matthies, Training Union Director; Robert Harrison, Brotherhood President, and Mrs. L. W. Dickson, WMU president.

The Association selected First Baptist Church, Roby for the 1960 meeting place. The suggested time, September 5-6, 1960. Rev. Earl D. Hord chosen to preach the annual sermon.

Mr. and Mrs. Coulter-Senn visited their son, Lloyd in San Angelo Sunday. Lloyd is a sophomore at San Angelo Junior College, majoring in political science and is also part time radio announcer at KGK L radio station.

Why we built two cars for 1960 . . . as different as night and day

On October 2—for the first time in Chevrolet's 49-year history—you will be able to walk into your dealer's showroom and see two totally different kinds of cars. ■ One is the conventional 1960 Chevrolet, brand new in appearance and more beautifully refined and luxurious than you can imagine. ■ The other is unlike any car we or anybody else ever built—the revolutionary Corvair, with the engine in the rear where it belongs in a compact car. ■ We'd like to tell you why we built two such different cars, how we built them—and for whom we built them.

Why two kinds of cars? Because America itself has been going through some big changes in the past few years. Our cities have been straining at their seams. Traffic is jam-packed. Parking space is at a premium.

And our suburbs have spread like wildfire. People are living farther from their work, driving more miles on crowded streets. There is new leisure time—but more things to do. There's a new standard of living—and more need for two cars in the family garage.

In short, America's automobile needs have become so complex that no one kind of car can satisfy them completely. That is why we at Chevrolet, keeping tab on these trends, have had a revolutionary compact car in the planning stages for more than nine years.

Thus, when we decided three years ago to prepare for production of such a car we were ready to build it the way it should be built. There was no need for a hasty "crash" program that would create only a sawed-off version of a conventional car.

That is why the two cars you will see in your dealer's showroom October 2 will be two entirely different kinds of cars. One is the conventional '60 Chevrolet—brand new in beauty, with new space inside, new spirit under the hood, a new feeling of sumptuousness and luxury never before attained by any car in its field. There is great V8 power linked with new thrift, plus Chevrolet's superb 6-cylinder engine. It is a traditional car that comes even closer to perfection—in silence, in room, in ease of control, in velvety ride—than any other car we have ever made.

The other is the Corvair, a compact car that is astonishingly different from anything ever built in this country. It has to be—because this is a six-passenger compact car, with a really remarkable performance . . . a car designed specifically to American standards of comfort, to American traffic needs.

The engine is in the rear. Among the basic advantages resulting from this engine location are better traction on a compact 108-inch wheelbase and a practically flat floor. But to be placed in the rear, the engine had to be ultra light and ultra short. So Corvair's engine is totally new—mostly aluminum and air cooled; it weighs about 40 per cent less than conventional engines. It is a "flat" horizontally opposed six—so it is only three cylinders long . . . and that leaves a lot more room for passengers.

Another weight saving: like modern airplanes, the Corvair has no frame; the body-shell supplies it great structural strength . . . it's a welded unit that is virtually rattle-free.

The ride is fantastic. But to get it we had to design independent suspension at every wheel; conventional springing would give a compact car a choppy ride. Right now we'll make one prediction: no other U.S. compact car will ride so comfortably, hold the road so firmly and handle so beautifully.

Now there are two kinds of cars from Chevrolet—because it takes two kinds of cars to serve America's needs today. If you love luxury—the utmost in luxury—and if you want generous interior space, breath-taking performance, automatic drives and power assists—then the conventional '60 Chevrolet may be your choice.

If easy parking, traffic agility and utmost economy are high on your list—then you should seriously consider the Corvair. But the best thing to do is to look these two new cars over at your Chevrolet dealer's . . . take them out for a drive. It may be that the only logical choice for your family between two cars like this is—both. They make a perfect pair.

NEW BULLETIN ON QUICK MEALS

For you busy homemakers, here's just the thing—a new bulletin on "Quick Meals" prepared by extension foods and nutrition specialists of Texas A&M College.

With this new guide, you can plan and prepare colorful, tasty and nutritious meals in minimum time. Specialists give practical tips for menu planning, food shopping, preparation and serving. They also include basic patterns for breakfast, dinner and supper menus.

You will find tasty recipes for preparing oven meals, one-dish meals, to-of-range and broiler meals, and pressure saucepan meals. Soups and sandwich menus are included, too.

Whether you live alone or cook for a big family—you will want a copy of this new bulletin. It's available without cost from your county Home Demonstration agent's office.

EAT MORE VEGETABLES

Many Texans are not eating enough vegetables daily. This was shown in a recent survey made by home demonstration club women. Vegetables are necessary to complete a well-rounded daily diet because they furnish vitamins and minerals reminds Frances Reasonover, extension foods and nutrition specialist of Texas A&M College.

According to the Texas Food Standard, a recommended guide for daily food needs, each family member should eat a serving of green or yellow vegetables, a serving of other vegetables and a serving of potatoes each day. There are many varieties of these vegetables and they can be prepared in many different ways.

Recipes for okra gumbo, French fried onions, pumpkin soufflé, baked acorn squash and many others, are given in B-923, "Vegetables, Selection, Care, Cooking".

Ask for a copy of the bulletin from your home demonstration agent's office.

DO YOU EAT A GOOD BREAKFAST EVERY DAY?

What has happened to your breakfast eating pattern during the hot months?—if you have gradually "tapered off" to a cup of coffee with little else, this is a good time to make a fresh start.

September is a better breakfast month, reminds Frances Reasonover, Extension Foods and Nutrition Specialist of Texas A&M College. With children starting back to school, it is especially important that they have an adequate breakfast.

What's adequate?—according to the specialist an adequate breakfast should include these basic foods—fruit or fruit juices, cereal or eggs and meat or both, or whole or enriched bread, butter or margarine, milk and coffee.

Along with the important food nutrients that an adequate breakfast provides, it will also have about one-third of the calories needed for energy during the day.

So be a better breakfast booster—start with yourself and work with other family members—plan to eat an adequate breakfast every day.

Christian Science Sunday Service

1001 Crane St. Sweetwater

God's infinite wisdom and goodness will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Reality" is the Golden Text from Psalms (52:1): "The goodness of God endureth continually."

Citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include (275:14): "All substance, intelligence, wisdom, being, immortality, cause, and effect belong to God. These are His attributes, the eternal manifestations of the infinite divine Principle, Love. No wisdom is wise but His wisdom; no truth is true, no love is lovely, no life is Life, but the divine; no good is, but the good God bestows."

Disabled Farmers Now Under Social Security

Beginning in October 1959 farmers will have social security disability protection for the first time. That date can be an important one for any farmer who becomes severely disabled in October or later months.

Although many severely disabled people in the Abilene area are now receiving disability insurance benefits under social security, farmers have not been able to qualify up until this time, according to R. R. Tuley, Jr., manager of the local social security office.

A disabled person has to have social security credit for 5 years in the last 10 years immediately before he became disabled. Because farmers were not covered under the law until January, 1955, they could not meet this test before October 1959, unless they had had other work covered by the Social Security Act in earlier years. By now, however, most farmers will have earned 5 years or 20 quarters of coverage under social security beginning with the month of October.

This does not mean that farmers can be paid disability benefits for the month of October because the law still requires that a person be disabled for 6 months or more before payments can be made. But it does mean that the farmer who becomes disabled in October or later can meet the work requirements of the law and become eligible for benefits after the 6 months waiting period.

This 6 months period was placed in the law as a means of measuring the effect of the disability, which must be of "indefinite and long-lasting duration."

Sears Show In Roby Saturday

The Sweetwater store district Sears 4-H Foundation swine show, originally slated at Sweetwater will be held at the Fisher County Fair Grounds in Roby Saturday morning Sept. 26, according to James S. Norman, County Agent.

The change was necessary because construction work on new show facilities at Sweetwater make it impossible to hold the show there this year.

Counties participating in the area show are: Mitchell, Nolan, Kent, Stonewall and Fisher.

County Shows that have not been held will be run off first and then the District Show.

Fisher County's Sears Show was held during the Fair. Calvin Jones showed the champion gilt, which will compete in the district gilt show.

John Whitworth received the boar this year and will show him in the district boar show Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sandusky and Linda of Merkel visited Mr. and Mrs. Luther Terrell last weekend and attended the 50th anniversary of the Cross Roads Baptist Church with Mr. and Mrs. Terrell Sunday. The ladies are sisters of Mrs. Terrell.

TELEPHONE TALK

by Bob Bresnahan, Manager

Shoot a sitting bird? I know this is a ridiculous statement as the hunters around here are the best wing shooters in the State of Texas and wouldn't dream of shooting a sitting bird. But if by accident or for some other reason your gun is about to go off when it is pointed at a dove on a telephone pole or sitting on a wire I wish you would think about the call which might be interrupted or the family who would be without telephone service due to a broken wire or cable. Also it costs thousands of dollars each year to repair the damage done by careless hunters. Good luck to all. I hope everyone gets their limit.

Pick The Room—Then The Color

The other day, I was reading over a study made by the telephone company which showed that the kitchen and bedroom were the most popular locations for extension telephones.

It doesn't surprise me because a good number of our customers here in Rotan have ordered telephones for those particular rooms in their homes.

But perhaps you'd like additional phones in other rooms—the workshop, maybe, or the family room. All you have to do is pick the room where you want an extension, and then call the business office.

We'll be happy to help you select the color that fits the room—and within a few days you'll have a color extension to brighten your home and help you get more out of life.

The Old "College Try"

In the coming months, Saturday afternoons on college campuses will mean lively football games with teams giving it the old "college try."

But Sunday afternoon—minus the excitement of the winning touchdown—can be lonely for sons or daughters away at college.

There's an easy remedy for this, however. Just ask them to make the old "college try" at remembering to call you collect every other Sunday.

Who knows? They may even surprise you some Sunday by paying for the call themselves with the dollar or two they've saved from allowance or an extra job they've picked up at college.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.
