HOYT IS JERKED

Both Managers Move Players Frequently; Athletics Hurlers Luckless and See 5-1 Loss.

SHIBE PARK, Philadelphia, Oct. 7. (AP)—As the sensational Pepper Martin blasted three hits, one of them a home run, to drive in four runs and tie the world series record of 12 hits in one series, the St. Louis Cardinals behind Wild Bill Hallahan's sturdy pitching, won the crucial fifth game of the current series, 5 to 1, today and started back to St. Louis with a 3 to 2 lead in games.

SHIBE PARK, Philadelphia, Oct. 7. (AP)—The veteran right hander, Waite Hoyt, who pitched in six previous world series for the Yankees, was selected to twirl for the Athletics today against Southpaw Bill Hallahan of the Cardinals in the fifth game.

SHIBE PARK, Philadelphia, Oct. 7. (AP)—Gabby Street shook up the St. Louis Cardinal batting order for the fifth game of the world series, with the Athletics today, lifting the dynamic "Pepper" Martin, sensational youngster who is hitting .646 and stolen four bases, to fourth place in the batting, the cleanup position, taking the place of Jim Bottomley, who was dropped into Martin's old place, sixth position.

Description of game:

First Inning

CARDINALS—Adams, replacing High at the last minute, singled down the third base line as Dykes lunged at the ball but missed. Watkins replaced Roettger in another quick shift and High ran for Dykes. Watkins flied out to Simmons. Frisch drove a hit to center field and High raced to third on the throw as Frisch went to second. Martin flied to Simmons and High scored easily after the catch. Frisch held second. Hafey grounded out, Williams to Foxx. One run, two hits, no errors, one left.

ATHLETICS—High took third for the Cardinals. Bishop hoisted to Watkins, who came in fast to catch the short fly. Haas fanned on a called third strike. Cochrane popped to Frisch. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Second Inning

CARDINALS — Bottomley hit sharply to right for a single. Wilson flied to Miller. Gelbert bounced to Williams and Bottomley was forced at second. Gelbert beat the relay to first. Hallahan bounded to Williams, who juggled the ball long enough to miss a force-out but recovered to throw out Hallahan at first. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

ATHLETICS — Simmons hit against the score board in right center for a double. Foxx hit to High and was thrown out at first, Simmons holding second. Miller bounced to Gelbert and was out at first, then Simmons was caught at the plate by Bottomley's relay to complete a double play. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Third Inning

CARDINALS—High grounded out Bishop to Foxx. Watkins flied out to Bishop in short right field. Frisch flied out to Haas. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

ATHLETICS—Dykes grounded out to Bottomley, unassisted. Williams fouled out to High, who caught the

Edison Is Much Weaker Today as Coma Approaches

WEST ORANGE, Oct. 7. (AP)—Thomas A. Edison, who is dying at his home, was much weaker this morning.

"This morning Mr. Edison is much weaker," Dr. Hubert S. Howe said in his morning bulletin. "It is impossible for him to sit without support. He finds it increasingly difficult to take fluids.

After issuing the bulletin, Dr. Howe said the aged inventor was in a light sleep or doze most of the time. He indicated he regarded this as the beginning of the coma from which it is expected that within the next few days Edison will quietly slip into death.

"I found Mr. Edison very much weaker physically," Dr. Howe said. "When I came in this morning, he indicated he wanted to get up. The nurse and I propped him in his chair but immediately we had to carry him back to bed. He is in a light sleep most of the time, and it appears to be the beginning of the coma."

Dr. Howe made it clear that while he did not regard Edison's death a matter of hours, he did believe it to be only a few days off.

STERLING DELAYS CASE

HOUSTON, Oct. 7. (AP)—The case of Col. Thomas H. Ball was continued until 2 p. m today on account of the failure of Gov. Ross Sterling, witness for the state, to appear. It was said Governor Sterling had a speaking engagement today at Coleman but would be here tomorrow morning. Jurymen will be selected starting this afternoon.

ALLOWABLE IS 150 BARRELS

Railroad Commission To Try to Maintain Minimum Total of 400,000.

AUSTIN, Oct. 7. (AP)—Gov. Ross Sterling announced last night that the Texas railroad commission this week will issue an order reducing the East Texas oil field allowable to 150 barrels to each well. He said he had been told by members of the commission that reduction would be made probably Friday.

Governor Sterling said he was told the new order, superseding the 185 barrel per well allowable now in effect, would be signed as soon as all members of the commission were in the city.

R. D. Parker, supervisor of the oil and gas division of the commission, said there were approximately 2,200 producing wells in the field which would make the daily production 330,000 barrrels against more than 400,000 barrels recorded recently.

The allowable was fixed at 225 barrels per well when Governor Sterling permitted the field to flow again after shutting it down completely under martial law to conserve the pool and close off rampant production.

Over the Top

DALLAS, Oct. 7. (AP)—The East Texas oil field today had brimmed again and flowed over the mark of 400,000 barrels daily set as an official production limit but members of the Texas railroad commission

BUILDING OF HOMES TO BE MADE EASIER

President Hoover Calls Lamont and Financiers Into Conference Designed to Ease Credit.

BANKERS CALLED

Six-Point Program Gets Approval of Political Captains in Session Last Evening.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. (AP)—Gratified at the reception given by congressional leaders to his proposals for spurring business, President Hoover turned today to attack difficulties in the financing of home building.

Secretary Lamont, as chairman of the president's conference on home construction and ownership, headed those invited to meet at the White house to devise more ways of easing credit to allow increased building.

The president is convinced credit for home building is not as satisfactorily organized as other branches of credit. To work against this situation, he called in prominent real estate men from various sections, as follows:

Those Called

William E. Best, of Pittsburgh; Hiram S. Cody, of Chicago; Harry A. Kahler of New York; Harry S. Kissell of Springfield, Ohio; Samuel N. Reep of Minneapolis; W. A. Staret, New York; Ernest P. Trigg of Philadelphia; Clarence M. Woolley, New York; James L. Madden, New York; and Clarence Dillon, New York.

Some well known bankers also were expected to attend but their names were not made public at the White House.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. (AP)—A momentous six-point program for marshalling the nation's latent buying power into commercial channels today was laid before the American people with the unified indorsement of President Hoover and political captains.

It included liberalization of the government's own rediscount restrictions to permit acceptance of certain classes of industrial securities now ineligible; creation of a $500,000,000 corporation by private bankers to handle the frozen paper of insolvent banks and supply some cash soon to hard-pressed depositors, and expansion of the Federal Land bank system to provide more adequate credit accommodations for agriculture.

LINDBERGHS TO JOURNEY HOME

Nation's Great Assembles to Pay Just Tribute to Senator Morrow.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 7. (AP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh abandoned their aerial tour of the Far East today and announced they would start home tomorrow by steamer and rail.

The fliers made their decision after studying messages they received along with news of the death in Englewood, N. J., Monday of Senator Dwight W. Morrow, Mrs. Lindbergh's father.

In abandoning their aerial adventure which they had counted on to take them back to America by air, they gave up a project which had occupied them since last July 29, when they left New York for a flying vacation to the Far East.

Although disposition of their damaged monoplane was not mentioned in their announcement, the craft probably will be shipped back to the United States later.

Red Cross Meeting Will Be Next Week

Inability of certain directors to attend has caused postponement to Oct. 15 of the monthly Red Cross meeting, according to W. A. Bratton, president.

The sessions are held at 4 p. m. in the city hall. Plans for the annual roll call will be discussed at the next meeting.

The importance of Red Cross activities this year has been enhanced by the decision of the national organization to permit local funds to be used for relief work this winter.

SHIPMENT OF BANK'S MONEY CARRIED OFF

Total of $3,500 in Currency Is Known to Have Been In Mail Bag Obtained in Depot Burglary.

HAVE NO CLUES

Freight House Door Pried Open, Then Inner Lock Broken; Train Arrived Soon After Midnight.

DUMAS, Oct. 7. (AP)—Robbers broke into the Santa Fe railway station here last night and escaped with a mail bag containing $3,500 in currency and other mail.

The dial was knocked off the office safe, but the robbers were unable to open it. The empty cash drawer was pried open.

The currency, a consignment from the First National bank of Amarillo to the First State bank of Dumas, was sent by registered mail, officials of the Amarillo bank reported. It included 50 twenty dollar bills; 500 ten dollar bills; 200 five dollar bills, and 500 one dollar bills.

Station Agent C. G. Burchett said the Santa Fe train arrived at 12:20 a. m. A train man opened the office door and tossed the mail bag inside. It was to be called for by a mail man after the office opened today, Burchett said.

Burchett discovered the robbery when he opened the office at 6:30 a. m. The door to the warehouse had been pried open, then the lock was broken on the inner door to the office where the mail bag and safe were kept.

He said the mail arriving on the late night train always was left in the office until the next morning.

Postal authorities were checking the contents of the mail bag, but they said it likely contained no other valuable mail.

Officers said they were without any clues.

Ryan, Oklahoma Bandits Sought

ARDMORE, Okla., Oct. 7. (AP)—Officers seeking two men who robbed the First State bank at Ryan of $3,000 expressed belief today that the fugitives escaped in the motor car of an accomplice.

The machine used in the robbery yesterday was found abandoned six miles north of Ryan a few hours after the holdup. It had been stolen at Duncan. Officers thought the men changed cars on a lonely road.

Oliver Anderson, bank bookkeeper, wounded slightly by the accidental discharge of a shot gun during the robbery, was back at work today.

TO CALL CONFERENCE

AUSTIN, Oct. 7. (AP)—Gov. R. S. Sterling today issued a call for an unemployment conference in Austin, Oct. 16 and 17. He sent letters to 100 business and industrial leaders announcing the meeting but said the session would be open to all citizens of Texas.

THREE DEFENDANTS ARE GUILTY IN BOOZE CASE

Willmering, Thompson, Sneed Will Face Sentences Passed by Wilson.

AMARILLO, Oct. 7. (AP)—A verdict of guilty was returned in federal court today against Walter Willmering, Quintus R. Thompson, and J. R. Snead, and a verdict of acquittal for Beauchamp Pottinger all charged with conspiracy to violate the national prohibition laws.

Judge James C. Wilson will pass sentence at 2 p. m.

The verdict was returned at 10:45 a. m. The jury was given the case late Monday. They asked for a transcript of testimony last night, and it was furnished them at 9 a. m. today.

Grand Jury to Convene Monday

The 31st district grand jury will reconvene Monday morning to return several indictments, it was learned this morning. The members were in session yesterday hearing testimony in several cases, but failed to make any returns before adjourning last night.

Fifteen indictments have been returned. Six of the persons indicted have been tried before Judge W. R. Ewing in district court. Bonds of two persons indicted have been forfeited and orders of arrest were issued.

Criminal cases are being heard in district court this week and will continue through next week.

Infant's Funeral Conducted Here

Funeral services for Roberta Jean Stone, 14 days old, were conducted at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Stone, 329 North Banks street, at 9 o'clock this morning. The Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated. Arrangements were in charge of G. C. Malone Funeral home.

The child died late yesterday afternoon. Besides her parents she is survived by a twin brother, Dean, and two sisters, Joyce and Dorothy. Burial was at Fairview cemetery.

Mr. Stone has been connected with the Texas company for a number of years.

Guy Green Sends Greeting to Pampa

Guy W. Green of Kansas City, well known here because of having held a week's series of lay talks at the First Presbyterian church, is in a similar meeting at Herington, Kans. He recently was at Hereford.

In writing to The NEWS he said: "Give my regards to all the fine people of Pampa. I still remember with joy the meeting I held for Rev. Hyde in the Presbyterian church two years ago."

New Truck Law Will Be Enforced

The law passed by the last legislature governing truck regulations in Texas, with the exception of the clause designating loads, has gone into effect, according to a telegram received by Lee Miller, state traffic officer for this territory. Mr. Miller says that his officers and also city traffic officers will lenforce the law regarding length and width of loads, lights, speed, brakes, etc.

A truck traveling over highways may be: 96 inches wide, including load, 12 feet 6 inches high, including load, 35 long or 45 feet long with trailer. No load will be allowed to protrude more than three feet in front of the truck nor more than four feet at the rear, where a red flag at least 18 inches square must be displayed.

Other rules and regulations mentioned in the bill include the kind and size of lights and reflectors, the carrying of red lights visible for 500 feet, brakes capable of stopping within 45 feet when traveling at 20 miles on a level, dry strip of paving, position of license plates, etc.

DOUBLE SLAYING REVEALED

DALLAS, Oct. 7. (AP)—Miss Frances Hightower, 23, and her daughter, Lillian May Hightower, four, were found dead in a bed room of their home late yesterday.

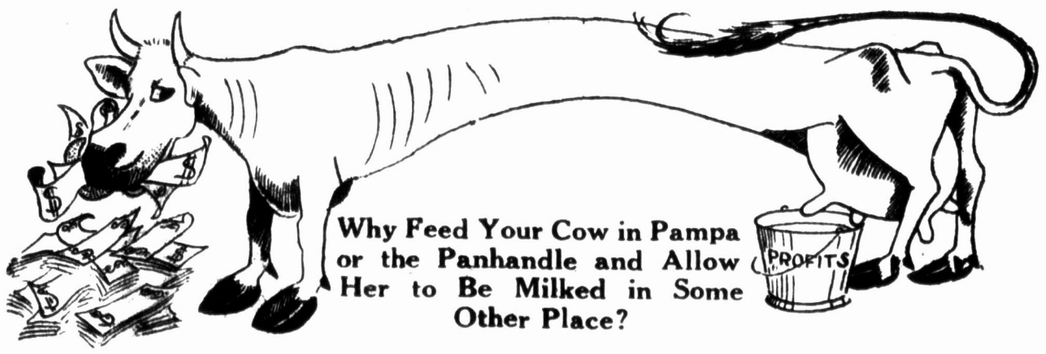

Justice Robert Ogden returned a verdict that Lillian May Hightower was shot and killed by Miss Hightower who in turn took her own life.

DON'T STRETCH THE COW—TRADE AT HOME

Why Feed Your Cow in Pampa or the Panhandle and Allow Her to Be Milked in Some Other Place?

ALL THINGS considered, it should be our duty and pleasure to trade with our home concerns.

The milk of commercial profits cannot be enjoyed in Pampa if citizen stretch the cow to other towns and states by trading elsewhere. Local business consumes here but if buyers take away the sustenance by sending their money elsewhere for food, clothing, and supplies that consumption must drop, employes must be discharged, and expenditures must be curtailed.

Hundreds of idle men could be put to work if every Pampan would spend his money here. Scores of firms could pay their debts and extend their services if they could be assured of their just share of all the business being done here. More than that, they could afford to lower their prices because of the greater turnover.

Mistake not, local business cannot thrive without the patronage of the citizenship. The citizenship cannot prosper without the accompanying success of business in general. Keep the profits at home by trading at home!

FEMININE FANCIES

By Hollyce Sellers Hinkle

One hundred girls wearing their purple and gold pep uniforms at the night football game in Canyon Friday will add a great deal to the lively school spirit of the game. But how to get there is the problem. Local women who have automobiles and want to help boost the Pampa high school are asked to telephone Miss Angela Strnad at the school building (number 71) stating that they will carry some of the girls ni their cars. Automobiles in which the girls ride are due to leave the high school at 5 o'clock.

The most widely interesting Panhandle wedding of recent date was that solemnized in Amarillo last evening when Miss Josephine Morrow Townsend became the bride of Gilmore Nunnelly Nunn. Rare gifts have been received by the couple from all parts of the United States, but none of them were more appreciated, perhaps, than the extended wedding trip which they are enjoying as a gift from the groom's grandfather, Dr. J. E. Nunn.

A miniature replica of the wedding scene formed exquisite table decorations at the pre-nuptial dinner given for the bridal party Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lindsay Nunn, the groom's parents. Down the entire center length of a miniature aisle had been roped off with tiny cathedral candles and small baskets of pink flowers and fern. A miniature altar at the far end was perfectly arranged, even to the rector and assistants in the service. The bride wore an exact duplicate of the wedding dress of Miss Townsend, and the doll maid-of-honor and bridesmaid were dressed as Miss Simon Lumpkin and Miss Betsy Lee Thomason.

And so the day of days for the bride and groom has come and gone, but the tender and sacred beauty of it will live on for them and their friends.

Pampa's church weddings have been few, as is usually the case in a new town. But now that the town is growing older, as local friendships are becoming more established, and the churches more dear, it is expected that scores of Pampa's young people will march slowly down church aisles to strains of the march from Lohengrin and will receive the exalted thrill from vows at the church altars.

OFFICIALS OF COUNTY TO BE AT GATHERING

Plans for achievement day were made at a meeting of the Wayside club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. A. L. Patrick. County officials are to be special guests for the all-day meeting Tuesday, Nov. 3 in the home of Mrs. E. A. Shackleton. On that day achievements in the club's three principal activities will be discussed by the demonstrators. Mrs. H. B. Taylor will tell of living room improvements, Mrs. A. L. Patrick will discuss the 4-H pantries, and Mrs. Ralph R. Thomas will tell of wardrobe work.

Purpose and activities of the special day were explained by Miss Myrtle Miller, county home demonstration agent.

Will Make Quilt

It was decided to hold an all-day meeting tomorrow beginning at 9:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. H. B. Taylor to make a quilt for Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clayton, who were recently married. This is a customary courtesy for children of club members when they marry. A covered dish luncheon will be served at noon.

A shower of dish towels was given Mrs. A. L. Patrick and Mrs. E. A. Shackleton to compliment them on their birthdays.

Mrs. Thomas Clayton was prize-winner in a year book contest.

Refreshments Served

Perfection salad, ribbon sandwiches, angel food cake, and iced tea were served to Miss Myrtle Miller and to Mesdames Katie Vincent, E. A. Shackleton, H. H. Isbell, Ralph R. Thomas, Tom Clayton, Thomas Clayton, W. O. Workman, A. L. Patrick, and Homer B. Taylor.

Announcement was made of the following new officers: President, Mrs. Katie Vincent; vice-president, Mrs. H. H. Isbell; secretary, Mrs. Ralph R. Thomas; treasurer, Mrs. A. L. Patrick; corresponding secretary, Mrs. F. J. Hudgell; reporter, Mrs. Tom Clayton; parliamentarian, Mrs. E. A. Shackleton.

GIRLS' CLASS HAS ELECTION

The Glad Girls Sunday school class, First Baptist church, met Monday afternoon in the home of the teacher, Mrs. R. L. Edmondson, for a business session.

The girls elected the following officers: President, Jewel Binford; first vice-president, Daisy Meador; second vice-president, Lillian Isley; third vice-president, Mertie Ethel Seeds; treasurer, Johnnie Davis; secretary, Myrtle Towe; first group captain, Lucille Kentling; second group captain, Marjorie Tucker.

Refreshments were served before the girls departed.

She Wrestles With English Accent

BERLIN. (AP) — Up to six weeks ago, life to Jenny Kiefe, a favorite German film star, was one round of golf, tennis, first nights and work, but a flood of offers from Hollywood changed that routine.

Coasting along on the wave of her popularity with German moving picture audiences, Jenny, a winsome product of the Rheinhardt School was enjoying life. Now she has to enjoy work, for mastering the English language is a tough assignment, especially for one whose mother tongue is German.

Four hours a day are devoted to whipping Jenny's English "as she is spoke" into shape against the day when she decides to cast her fortunes with Hollywood. Friends have argued against Jenny's losing the accent which marks her English pronunciation now, but the energetic mite is swinging as hard on accent as she ever swung at a tennis ball. And she plays a mean racquet.

Born of French and German parents, Jenny was schooled in the lore of the stage and art, her mother having been a teacher and writer. It was from her the daughter inherited a love for sport and a fondness for animals. The latter has blossomed into an embryo menagerie maintained by the movie star in her apartment.

Contrary to the general rule of film successes, Jenny Kiefe served very little apprenticeship before being assigned a relatively leading role in Rhenhardt's "Artisten" at the German theater here.

From her successful portrayal of this role came firm contracts in swift succession and she went up the ladder to stardom, passing several more experienced actresses in point of box office values . . . ordinarily a brutally frank gauge.

Leading roles in "Tango for You," "Rivals" and "Children of Chance" followed in rapid order, the last named being filmed in England where Miss Kiefe worked for British International Pictures. In "Rivals" Miss Kiefe played the part assigned to Lil Damita in the American film version.

"I am of course anxious to appear before American picture audiences," Miss Kiefe said, "but I am afraid my English will not be understood.

AZOR OFFICERS HAVE MEETING

Newly elected officers of the Azor class, First Baptist church, held a business session Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. E. L. Anderson.

Those attending were Mesdames L. P. Ward, Bonnie Rose, George Nix, R. H. Kitchings, W. O. Workman, R. E. Campbell, Floyd Hoffman, Harry Grove, W. R. Bell, Vernon L. Dickinson, and E. L. Anderson.

The group planned to meet again next Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. George Nix.

AMARILLO MAN TO PREACH IN LOCAL CHURCH

Robert C. Jones, minister of the Church of Christ in Amarillo, will preach at the Pampa Church of Christ, corner Francis and Warren streets, this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The public is invited to hear him.

Mr. Jones has been a minister of the Amarillo church for four years. He broadcasts a sermon over radio station WDAG every Sunday evening.

Last Wednesday, Mr. Wiseman preached in the Amarillo church, this being an exchange visit.

GRAINS STRONG

CHICAGO, Oct. 7. (AP) — Grain prices showed an early upward trend today, influenced by stock market advances and by results of last night's White House conference. Profit-taking sales on bulges, however, checked the advance, and notice was taken that Liverpool wheat quotations were up less than expected. Opening unchanged to 1 1-4 cents higher, the Chicago wheat market afterward held near the initial limits. Corn started at a shade decline to 5-8 advance and subsequently continued firm.

TWO SURPRISE EVENTS GIVEN IN COMMUNITY

NOELETTE, Oct. 7. (Special) — Society in Noelette during the first crisp days of October has been brightened with two in-honor parties and many visits.

Mr. and Mrs. Sims Sutton and children have returned to their home in Salem, W. Va., after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Showers.

Mrs. W. J. Williams and baby and Mrs. Joe Randle and daughter, Monty Jo, have returned after a visit in Drumright, Okla.

Mrs. J. C. Hicks and daughter, Betty, have returned after a visit of several weeks in Stamford.

Mr. and Mrs. John McCollum and daughter, Bernice, were business visitors in Amarillo Monday.

Mrs. E. I. High and children and Mrs. L. A. Snodgrass and children were visitors in Amarillo recently.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hooker surprised their daughter, Donna, with a birthday party recently. After games, ice cream and cake were served to the following guests: Miss Wilma Gilkerson, Miss Doris Baker, Lyle Gilkerson, Esca Baker, all of Panhandle; Miss Elizabeth Barnard of White Deer; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Donnelly of LeFors; Misses Isabella Baer, Eva McElrath, Esta Blackshear, Ethna Geneti, Loretta Sutton, and Beatrice Estes; Jack Anderson, Leon and Carl Sharp, Willis Denman, Raymond Simmons, Rex Shelton; Mrs. R. E. Showers and Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Coffer.

Margie Ross, who underwent a tonsil operation Thursday, is improving. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ross.

Mrs. R. G. Donnelly and Mrs. L. F. Estes invited friends of Mrs. Henry Shelton to meet at the latter's home Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock to surprise her with a good-luck shower. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to Mesdames Farrar, William Kretz, T. B. Cannon, George Hooker, W. A. Hall, T. J. Johnson, J. S. Martin, F. M. Corbitt, J. Hess, George DeMoss, L. F. Estes, R. G. Donnelly, and Misses Beatrice Estes and Merle Martin.

Miss Josephine Townsend And Mr. Gilmore Nunn United in Marriage At Amarillo on Tuesday Evening

AMARILLO, Oct. 7.—Miss Josephine Morrow Townsend and Gilmore Nunnelly Nunn were united in marriage when a picturesque twilight ceremony was read Tuesday evening at St. Andrew's Episcopal church, Amarillo. The wedding was of much interest not only in Texas, but to scores of friends throughout the United States.

Bishop E. Cecil Seaman and the Rev. Frederick A. Foster presided, and felicitations were spoken by Dr. G. L. Yates, pastor of the First Baptist church, Amarillo.

St. Andrew's church was beautiful with tall palms, ferns and cathedral candles. Baskets of pink gladioli, palms and fern adorned the chancel, but on the altar were only white gladioli and white altar hangings. Preceding the Episcopal ritual an acolyte entered and lighted the white candles of the altar.

John Josey, organist of the First Baptist church, opened the musical prelude with Schubert's Serenade, followed by "Because," Guy D'Hardelot.

The processional, wedding march from Lohengrin announced the approach of the bridal party. From the left door the groom entered with his best man, R. B. Newcomb, who came from the University of Texas to attend the wedding. The groomsmen, Horace Hamlet Gooch, of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Horace Bohannon Gooch, Henry Curtis and Murrell Neely marched down the center aisle.

Next to advance was Miss Simon Lumpkin, bridesmaid, followed by Betsy Lee Thomason of Georgetown, Ky., who acted as maid-of-honor. They wore blue satin Empire gowns with head bands of turquoise blue held in place at the side with clusters of ostrich tips. They carried bouquets of pink rosebuds and pink sweet peas knotted with pink satin ribbons the streamers of which were to the hemline.

Wears Heirlooms

Miss Townsend entered leaning on the arm of her father, R. E. Townsend. Gowned in rich old ivory satin, Empire mode, she was one of the most beautiful brides in Amarillo's history of weddings. Her veil was held by a cap of renaissance lace worn by her mother at her own wedding and her only ornament was an antique bracelet, the gift of her grandfather to her grandmother upon their wedding day more than 50 years ago. The bridal bouquet was a shower of exquisite orchids and valley lilies.

Bishop Seaman read the betrothal at the chancel steps and led the couple to the altar rail where the Rev. Frederick A. Foster completed the marriage ceremony.

Touch of Fellowship

A touch of Christian fellowship was added to the service when Dr. Yates of the First Baptist church, the groom's pastor, gave his felicitations and good wishes for God's blessing upon them.

During the ceremony, Mr. Josey played "Liebestraum," by Liszt. After receiving the blessing of the church Mr. and Mrs. Nunn and the bridal party left the church to the strains of a "Midsummer Night's Dream," Mendelssohn

On Extended Trip

Later the bride and groom left for an extended honeymoon trip to Roanoke, Va., Lexington, Ky., Washington, D. C., New York, and other points, and will sail from New York on the S. S. Dixie for a southern cruise to New Orleans, La. They will return to Amarillo for a few days before going on to Roswell, N. M., where the groom is business manager of the Roswell Morning Dispatch.

Gift of Dr. Nunn

Their wedding trip is the gift of the groom's grandfather, Dr. J. E. Nunn.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rollo E. Townsend, 2120 Hayden street. She is a graduate of the Amarillo high school and received her degrees last spring at the University of Illinois.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lindsay Nunn and has an outstanding school record. He is a graduate of the Amarillo high school and received his degrees from Washington and Lee last spring.

He was made business manager of the Roswell paper recently and enters the newspaper field with high enthusiasm, carrying on the work of his father and grandfather as pioneer newspaper men of the Panhandle.

DORCAS CLASS GIVEN PARTY HERE TUESDAY

The Dorcas class of the Central Baptist church had a back yard party Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. L. W. Hardcastle.

Games were played and a bonfire was built over which to roast weiners and marshmallows. Coca cola was furnished by the Coca Cola bottling company.

Those present were Mesdames D. L. Lunsford, Joe B. Brown, K. Langard, G. L. Moore, L. A. Satterwhite, D. Evans, Simmons, E. E. Chapman, L. W. Hardcastle, J. M. White, Myers, and M. M. Rutherford.

ORDINARILY SELLS FOR $2.50 EXCELLENT FOR SCHOOL WORK

This is a genuine Laird & Lee Webster—the Standard American Dictionary for Home and Office and the most comprehensive and up-to-date ever offered at a popular price.

It defines and pronounces every word in common use today, and its many special encyclopedic features answer thousands of questions that come up daily in every business, trade, occupation or profession. This and the fact that it gives synonyms of so many words makes it the ideal help in solving Cross Word Puzzles.

The definitions are terse and complete and so clear and easily understood that it is never necessary to consult another part of the dictionary to define the definition. The modern and common meaning of each word is given first.

The pronunciation is indicated by a simplified method of diacritical marking, according to the true Websterian system. The key to pronunciation is printed at the foot of every page.

New words. Laird & Lee's Dictionaries give all the important words of recent coinage that are likely to be met in books, papers and periodicals; also new applications of old words, giving their meanings in regard to the latest innovations, such as radio, wireless, aviation, motoring, etc.

Especially valuable as a work of general reference, on account of its many supplemental features. It contains:

EARNSHAW BRINGS SMILE BACK TO MACK'S AGING FACE

BIG JARGE IS INVINCIBLE ON HOME MOUND

Fanatical Hitting of Young "Pepper" Martin Talk of Series Crowd.

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7. (AP) — "Big Jarge" Earnshaw, one of the greatest pitchers ever to tread a world series mound had brought the smile back today to the face of an aged gentleman pointing toward his third consecutive championship of the world.

The old gentleman was Connie Mack, pilot of the world champion Athletics, as he sat in the tiny tower of his office in Shibe Park today, pondering his pitching selection for the fifth game of the world series with the St. Louis Cardinals, there was nothing but joy shining out through every wrinkle in his 68-year-old face, and thanksgiving in his heart for the magnificent pitching ability of this 30-year-old product of Swarthmore college.

"Big Jarge," stepping into the breach where the mighty Robert Moses Grove had failed, turned in one of the world series masterpiece yesterday to swing the Athletics back from the abyss of almost certain defeat to an even footing again with the Cardinals. They have two victories apiece after the first four games of one of the most sensational world series of all times.

Do or Die—Did

It was do or die day for the mighty Athletics yesterday, battered and hounded by the surprising Red Birds, strangled for two straight games by the magnificent three-hit left-handed pitching of frail Bill Hallahan, the snarling, doggedly vengeful two-hit epic of the A's life long foe, grizzled Burleigh Grimes, and the amazing Pepper Martin.

It was a day when the Athletics, thirsting for three straight world championships if only to answer the prayer of a grand old man seeking his last baseball record, suddenly found themselves, the first American champions to trail the National league rulers in five years, struggling on the brink of world series catastrophe. They talked the situation over among themselves, they listened to Connie's plea, watched the lanky old fellow with the thin esthetic face of a priest tap Earnshaw on the shoulder and say:

"George, you've got to do it for me, just this one thing."

Leading the comeback surge, magnificent in his power, was Earnshaw as he turned back all but one of the Cardinals, Martin, while the big gunners of Connie Mack's crew, finding the range at last against the pitching of Sergeant Gabby Street's second stringers, battered out a 3 to 0 victory.

"No Equal"

Inning after inning, Earnshaw, pitching perhaps the greatest game in world series history, mowed the Cardinals down to add another two-hit classic to a string of pitching performances that knows no equal in past series history. There was one fly in his ointment, the chunky dogged fixture of John "Pepper" Martin, freshman outfielder who is playing this series for the Cardinals, his first in major league baseball, as no rookie ever has before him.

As the series wears on, the wonderment increases steadily at the fanaticism with which this young man, an ordinary hitter during the National league season, assaults the offerings of every Athletic's pitcher. While the veterans of the Cardinal clouters were vainly poking at Earnshaw's dazzling speed and uncanny curves, lofting them feebly into the air or rolling them vainly through the dirt to the infielders, "Pepper" took his cut freely and wholeheartedly and smacked "Big Jarge" for two hits, the entire Cardinal quota.

Benny Leonard Wins His Match With Knockout

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—Benny Leonard has started his comeback campaign with a knockout victory over Pal Silvers of Brooklyn with the jeers of a crowd of 15,000 as the principal accompaniment.

Leonard floored Silvers in the second round of their 10-round bout in the Queensboro stadium last night and Silvers stayed down for the full count although most experts at the ringside thought the blows were anything but hard. At the count of 10, Silvers bounced to his feet, apparently unhurt, and ready to continue. Referee Arthur Donovan waved him to his corner and lifted Leonard's hand as the winner.

Benny, a bit plump around the waistline, showed the effects of his seven-year layoff from the ring. The undefeated lightweight champion appeared "stage struck" in the first round and the sudden ending of the bout in the second round make it impossible to deduce just what chance Leonard has of winning the middleweight title, the goal on which he says his eyes are fixed.

NOTICE TO ROAD AND BRIDGE CONTRACTORS

Sealed proposals, addressed to R. C. Wilson, County Auditor, for the Construction of Grading and Drainage on 6.010 miles of County Road in Gray County, Texas, designated on the plans as Job Number 6; will be received at the office of the County Auditor, at Pampa, Texas, until 10:00 A. M. October 15th, 1931, at which time the bids will be publicly opened and read in the County Court Room.

A Cashier's check for five per cent (5%) of the total amount of the bid, drawn on a Gray County Bank and made payable to S. D. Stennis, County Judge, must accompany each proposal as a guarantee that the bidder, if successful, will enter into contract and make bond in accordance with the requirements of the specifications.

The right is reserved by the Commissioner's Court to reject any and all proposals and waive all technicalities.

R. C. WILSON.
30-7 County Auditor.

EARNSHAW IS PRAISED BY FORMER GIANT AS HURLER OF SHEER PERFECTION

He Has Blanked Cardinals in 38 of 42 Innings He's Faced Them.

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor.

PHILADELHPIA, Oct. 7. (AP) — George Livingston Earnshaw strode from the box after setting down the Cardinals in order in the first inning of the fourth game as much as to say:

"You birds get a few hits and runs, for a change, and let's go. I feel as though I've got a good game in my system."

The Athletics got the necessary runs and Earnshaw pitched so brilliant a two-hit shutout, baffling all but the ubiquitous Pepper Martin, that the old-timers, in convention last evening, voted the tall right-hander the "greatest money pitcher of all time."

"I know it will sound extravagant to you," remarked Buck Herzog, former infield star of the Giants at a time when Christy Mathewson was at his best. "I am a National leaguer and I want the Cards to win. I have seen Matty and Bender when they were in their prime, pitching marvelous baseball.

"But I will tell you truthfully I never saw a better pitched ball game than Earnshaw hurled. It could have been no better mechanically, even if he had pitched a no-hit game. This Martin just happens to be too hot to handle. He will hit anything. The two hits he made does not take much from Earnshaw's performance.

"As I watched him, do you know what I kept thinking about those machines you see rolling and tossing out cigarettes. I have never seen a pitcher display such superb form and control from the first to last out. He looked to me as though he could have gone right on pitching the same mechanically perfect all day and the next."

Earnshaw, in two world series, has pitched five games against the Cardinals. In the fifth game a year ago he held them to two hits, in seven innings, before giving way to a pinch-hitter and Grove, who received credit for the victory as a result of a homer by Jimmy Foxx in the ninth.

Earnshaw has blanked the Cardinals in 38 of the 42 innings he has worked against them. He set them down scoreless for 22 innings in a row last year and he has run off 10 scoreless innings this year. In five games he has yielded only four runs in as many scattered innings, and only 21 hits. He has fanned 32 Red Birds.

It's a marvelous record, surpassed for a single series only by the superb collection of three shutouts registered by Mathewson in 1905 against the Athletics.

Clingman Beats Heavier Opponent

Sailor Otis Clingman, Pampa middleweight wrestler, showed Amarillo fans that middleweight or light heavyweight makes no difference to him last night when he threw Joe Stetson, giant from Nebraska, two straight falls which lasted 19 minutes. Rob Roy, fresh from a trip through the eastern states and Canada, won a sensational two falls from Vatela, Mexican jumping bean.

The Pampa sailor won the first fall from his heavy opponent in 17 minutes when he landed a billy goat special in his mid-riff and Stetson took the count, his head having hit the edge of the ring. Clingman went over him into the crowd but was able to crawl back to the mat while Stetson was being counted out.

Clingman took the second and deciding fall in two minutes with one of his famous drop toe holds.

Rob Roy won two falls out of three from Vatela. He took the first with a series of flying mares, dropped the second to a drop toe hold, and won the third with two splits.

There will be no match in Pampa this week, as Promoter Frank Hunt has been unable to get a good opponent for either Clingman or Vatela. He plans to use Roy Welch and Vatela next week but has not definitely decided.

Johnston Offered Post by Garden

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—Jimmy Johnston, veteran promoter and manager, has been offered the post of vice-president and general manager of Madison Square Garden.

William F. Carey, president of the garden, said official announcement of Johnson's engagement will be made if and when he accepts a proposal already submitted by the garden.

Johnson, who promoted several big outdoor bouts in opposition to the garden this year, will, if he accepts, take over the post occupied last year by Frank Bruen.

Luckless Chisox Win Big Title

CHICAGO, Oct. 7. (AP) — Donie Bush and his luckless White Sox, who were kicked around unmercifully by the American league clubs last season, had their big day at last today.

They were Chicago city champions for the first time in five years, their pockets were lined with the big end of the players' purse and they had a big time joshing Cub followers by wishing they played in the National league instead of the American. Bush had something more to be happy about as it was generally believed he might after all be re-hired as manager of the team for 1932.

A six-run rally in the fourth inning, backed by Al Thomas' four-hit pitching, gave the White Sox a 7 to 2 victory in the seventh and final game of the long series at Wrigley field yesterday. The third place holders in the 1931 National league race didn't have a chance after that and the White Sox fans cheered so much they almost lost their voices.

The University of Iowa will entrain tonight for Dallas to play Texas A. and M. Saturday. The Hawkeyes will work out in Kansas City tomorrow and will do their final brushing up in Dallas Friday.

At College Station, the Aggies are working with a determination which bodes no good for Iowa. A long practice session yesterday. A long today and another Friday is in store. The Iowa game will be the last before the Aggies start the Southwest conference race.

Following yesterday's practice, it was announced that Baumgarten, guard, and Sparks, end, would not be able to play for the University of Texas Saturday against Rice in the first 1931 Southwest conference game for both two teams. Baumgarten is one of Texas mainstays. Price probably will replace Sparks at end. Texas and Rice showed enthusiasm in yesterday's practice sessions composed of signal practice, passing, kicking, and blocking.

Coach Morrison of Southern Methodist sent his team through a stiff rehearsal yesterday in preparation for the University of Arkansas Saturday at Fayetteville. Morrison emphasized he is far from satisfied with the showing of his team. He planned scrimmages for today and tomorrow.

At Arkansas, the Razorbacks spent yesterday building a defense for Southern Methodist's expected aerial attack. Freshmen, drilled in S. M. U. offensive plays, scrimmaged against the regulars, in their two games to date, the Razorbacks have had only four passes completed against them.

Baylor and T. C. U. held regular practice for their games Saturday against Centenary and Austin college.

"Goober" Keyes to Be Feared Again

DALLAS, Oct. 7. (AP)—When the McMurry college Indians and the Abilene Christian college Wildcats, both of Abilene, meet tomorrow night, the Indians will have to contend with the same young man, "Goober" Keyes, who literally ran them ragged last season.

The clash will open officially the 1931 Texas Intercollegiate Athletic association football campaign. The family affair between the two Abilene teams is the only conference game scheduled for the week-end.

The Wildcats, led by the midget Keys, humbled the Indians 24 to 0 last season in their first annual game.

Keyes started the 1931 season by engineering the Wildcat attack when it brushed aside the John Tarleton Plowboys 13 to 0. Keyes is a triple threater whose reputation is known up and down the T. I. A. A.

Brownwood will witness a meeting of rivals when Daniel Baker and Howard Payne square off in their annual all-Brownwood battle Friday night. Howard Payne triumphed 27 to 6 last season.

Sul Ross and the Texas School of Mines who have a habit of meeting in annual conflict will meet at Marfa Saturday. The School of Mines won last season 25 to 6.

ASKS NEW CABINET

BERLIN, Oct. 7. (AP)— President Von Hindenburg accepted the resignations of the Bruening cabinet today and immediately authorized Chancellor Bruening to form a new ministry which would consolidate the government's position with the Reichstag.

The president commissioned his chancellor to draw up a non-partisan cabinet whose members would be named strictly on a personal basis and without regard for their party affiliations. Herr Bruening accepted the mandate and went to work with a free hand to choose his new co-workers.

Cold Wind Hits But It May Not Have Been Norther

A cold and somewhat fitful wind struck Pampa during the night and made coats welcome this morning, but oldtimers were reluctant to call it a "norther."

In the first place, the direction taken by the tumble weeds was somewhat uncertain. They traveled in circles at intervals after the sun came up, and observers pointed out that there is no question about the direction of a real norther.

T. D. Hobart said that he had been around these plains 45 years and that he knew better than to predict. He learned about the peculiarities of Texas weather when he missed a rain prediction in Palestine, Texas, 49 years ago.

Oldtimers were agreed, however, that northers are possible and even probable about this time of year. It is not too early to drag the gas stoves out of the attic.

OLD GOLDS
Charming women are first won by OLD GOLDS' appealing taste. But their enthusiasm doubles when they find that OLD GOLDS do not taint the breath or mar the whiteness of pearly teeth.
That's because OLD GOLD is a pure-tobacco cigarette. Made from the finest nature-flavored tobaccos. So good, it needs no added flavoring.
It's "foreign flavoring", not good tobacco, that leaves unwanted aftermaths. Play safe. Smoke pure-tobacco OLD GOLDS. They leave nothing behind but pleasant recollections.

ball in front of the Athletics' dugout. Hoyt bounced to High and was out at first. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Fourth Inning

CARDINALS—Martin bunted to Foxx and was safe for a single on a lightning burst of speed. It was his tenth hit. Hafey fanned, swinging. Bottomley singled to right and Martin raced to third. Wilson lined to Bishop, who threw to first for a double play. No runs, two hits, no errors, one left.

ATHLETICS—Bishop fouled out to Bottomley, who made a tumbling catch on the foul line. Haas flied out to Hafey. Cochrane fouled out to Wilson near the plate. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Fifth Inning

CARDINALS—Gelbert grounded out, Dykes to Foxx. Hallahan grounded out, Williams to Foxx. High flied out to Simmons. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

ATHLETICS—Simmons bounded a single off Hallahan's arm to left field. Foxx walked. Miller, popping the ball to Bottomley as the first baseman came in fast. Dykes fouled out to Bottomley. Williams fanned, swinging. No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

Sixth Inning

CARDINALS—Watkins hoisted to Miller who took the ball on the gallop. Frisch hit down the left field line for two bases, the ball almost hit the chalk strip. Martin hit a home run into the upper deck of the left field scoring Frisch ahead of him. Hafey drove a long fly to Simmons. Bottomley flied out to Haas in right center. Two runs, two hits, no errors, none left.

ATHLETICS—Hoyt popped to Frisch. McNair, batting for Bishop fouled out to Wilson. Moore, batting for Haas, flied out to Watkins. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Seventh Inning

CARDINALS—Walberg replaced Hoyt in the box. McNair went to second base and Moore went to left field. Simmons moving to center field. Wilson singled to left but was caught stealing. Gelbert grounded out, Williams to Foxx. Hallahan fanned. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

ATHLETICS—Cochrane popped to Frisch. Simmons singled to left center for his third hit of the game. Foxx singled off Hallahan's glove, Simmons racing to third as the ball caromed past Frisch into right field. Simmons scored on Miller's grounder to High. Foxx was forced out at second. Williams flied out to Frisch. One run, three hits, no errors, two left.

Eighth Inning

CARDINALS—High fanned. Watkins walked, the fourth ball being wide. Frisch flied to Moore. Watkins scored on Martin's line single to left field. Martin was thrown out trying to steal second. It was the first time the youngster had been caught on the bases. His 12th hit in this inning equalled the world series record. One run, one hit, no errors, none left.

ATHLETICS—Heving, batting for Walberg, hoisted to Watkins. McNair fanned. Moore beat out a high bounder to Hallahan for a hit. Cochrane scratched a single off Bottomley's glove on a hard hit ball. Moore stopping at second. Simmons grounded to High, forcing Moore at third. No runs, two hits, no errors, two left.

Ninth Inning

CARDINALS—Rommell replaced Walberg in the box. Hafey singled on a drive off Dykes' glove. Bottomley grounded to Foxx and Hafey was forced out Foxx to Williams. Wilson singled to center and Bottomley galloped to third. Bottomley scored and Wilson went to second on Gelbert's line single to left. Hallhan flied to Simmons. High grounded out McNair to Foxx. One run, three hits, no errors, two left.

ATHLETICS—Foxx bunted in front of the plate and made first for an easy hit. Miller grounded to Gelbert, forcing Foxx at second. Dykes grounded to Frisch forcing Miller at second. Williams singled to center, Dykes taking third. Boley, batting for Rommell, fanned, no runs, two hits, no errors, one left.

Senator Davis in Attack on Dole

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 7. (AP)—Senator James J. Davis of Pennsylvania has called upon Americans to quit "cheese-nibbling" methods of relieving unemployment and organize to provide work for all without the dole.

The former secretary of labor, speaking before the national convention of the American Federation of Labor, said fear was the factor that was keeping the American dollar the laziest instrument in the country. A forward step, he said, would be "elimination of wildcat financing and stock juggling."

"I believe in extending help in times of need. If we have a catastrophe, an epidemic or any condition beyond the control of man or the government set up by man, I would be willing to hock the gold on the dome of the capitol at Washington to take care of the distressed people.

"But to syphon money out of the treasury for a continuous dole, and thus place a heavier burden of tax on the backs of the workmen, as is the vogue now in foreign countries and which to my mind destroys individual initiative and ruins the morale of a nation—I am opposed to it."

"Our Canadian workers, in the building trades council, sum up the dole in the proper manner. They say that they are strongly opposed to unemployment insurance, except as a last resort. That last resort would be the time when we are all prepared to go back to living off our seed corn and nibbling at the cheese of national wealth until both are gone.

"Fear—what a terrible word. Fear today of those many millions who are gainfully employed reduces our buying power because they are afraid that they too will join soon the ranks of the unemployed. Fear of our men of wealth, our bankers, make them call in loans that are being used for productive wealth, and make progress. Few loans are being made today and the laziest thing in America today, because of fear, is the dollar. It too is out of work because of fear."

Mussolini is now "Grandpa." A son has been born to his eldest and favorite daughter, Edda.

A Minnesota farmer, rejected as a pall-bearer because he wore overalls, took his revenge out in shooting at the hearse.

The population of United States prisons has decreased 2,541 in three months.

WITNESS ATTACKED

SINTON, Oct. 7. (AP)—Defense attorneys at the trial of Newton Yarberry on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Miss Dorothy Dorcas Symons, pretty choir singer, today attacked the credibility of Tom Conner, principal witness for the prosecution.

M. C. Nelson, chief defense counsel, attack point after point in Conner's testimony and introduced testimony to show the witness' past record was questionable.

Time Limit On General Delivery Is Pointed Out

Numerous postoffice boxes are being given up, according to Postmaster D. E. Cecil, who wishes to warn those planning to turn back their boxes and get mail through general delivery, that the time limit for receiving mail at the general delivery window is one month.

"General delivery is for transients only," the postmaster said this morning. "We have more mail coming through general delivery now than can be handled by two clerks and the usual number is one for a city this size," Mr. Cecil declared.

There have been some Pampans getting mail through general delivery for four years, Mr. Cecil claims. He says that the practice is going to be stopped immediately and that citizens will have to get their mail in boxes or by carrier.

MRS. CARR IS NEW ORGANIST

Mrs. May Foreman Carr was elected organist of the First Methodist church at a meeting of the Board of stewards. She will take up her duties next Sunday.

Mrs. Carr has furnished music for various churches throughout the country since childhood. She directed her first choir at the age of 13, and when she was 16, she was organist for the First Baptist church of Alton, Ill.

In Chicago, Mrs. Carr has been organist of the Wood Lawn Presbyterian church and of the North Shore Baptist church. For three years she held a similar position in the Temple Baptist church at Minneapolis, and for a time was organist at the First Methodist church at Des Moines, Ia. She was choir director and organist at the Forest Avenue Baptist church in Des Moines for several years, and served in the capacity of organist at the University Baptist church of the same city. During her stay at Salina, Kans., she was choir director and organist at the First Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Carr has studied under W. D. Armstrong, nationally known organist and composer, and with Adelia Ann Randall, a pupil of the late Leschetizky of Berlin.

Mrs. Carr will take up her dutes here next Sunday. She said it was her wish to play for 15 minutes before each evening service. She prefers modern music by such composers as DeBussy, Guion, and Pietro Yon, but does not limit herself to these composers.

by rail and then sail Oct. 10 on the liner President Jefferson for Seattle where they will arrive Oct. 20.

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., Oct. 7. (AP)—Dignitaries of the nation came today to Englewood, a hushed and grief-bowed community, to pay a nation's tribute at the bier of Dwight W. Morrow.

The funeral setting was as simple and quiet as the man himself. There was little ostentation to show that a United States senator who in four short years had risen to the heights of statesmanship was being buried. That was as he would have wished it.

The service at the First Presbyterian church at three o'clock this afternoon was for the public, especially the Englewood neighbors among whom Dwight Whitney Morrow was a friend and champion for many years.

Officials Gather

Heading the list of national, foreign, and diplomatic dignitaries were Calvin Coolidge and Vice-President Charles Curtis, the latter representing President Hoover. Secretary of State Stimson represented the diplomatic corps, in which Mr. Morrow served so brilliantly as ambassador to Mexico. Twenty-six United States senators arrived at Newark to attend the services for their colleague. Representative Tilson of Connecticut headed the delegation from the lower house of congress.

Flags fluttered everywhere at halfmast. Englewood school and public buildings were closed by proclamation of Mayor Kitchel, and all business and industry agreed to shut down at 1 o'clock.

promptly assured Gov. Ross S. Sterling they would take steps toward further curtailment in the huge oil pool.

That quieted fears of oil men that another production orgy might follow, such as that last spring which threatened the price structure of the American oil market. They were more concerned immediately with reports of salt water intrusion in 19 wells on the western edge of the field.

Figures announced Oct. 5 by Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, military commandant in the East Texas field showed production for that day as 405,883 barrels from 2,192 wells.

Too Many Wells

The drilling and bringing in of many new wells was blamed for the increase in production. When Governor placed the field under martial law Aug. 17, to halt waste until proration orders under the new state conservation law could be put into effect, there were 1,600 producing wells in the field. When martial law was modified several weeks later, to permit production under the new rules, new wells had brought the total to nearly 1,900 producers.

The grip of martial law, still in effect, at last had achieved order in the field which only a few months ago defied civil restraint.

AUSTIN, Oct. 7. (AP)—The bill authorizing the state to drill for oil in the Sabine river and other state owner river beds and channels was signed by Gov. Ross S. Sterling and filed with the secretary of state today.

Illinois Couple Here For Visit

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Postlewait of Carrollton, Ill., arrived here last night for a short visit with Rev. and Mrs. James Todd Jr. Mr. Postlewait and Rev. Todd are cousins and have not seen each other in several years.

This is their first visit to Pampa and it was a surprising one, Mr. Postlewait declared this morning. "I certainly was surprised to see such a modern city with large brick buildings and wonderfully paved streets," he said. "We passed thru oil fields for the last 700 miles of our trip and did not see a modern city like Pampa," Mr. Postlewait said.

Judge S. D. Stennis expected to return to Pampa this afternoon in time to preside over a called meeting of the commisioners court.

Clarence Bowers of Laketon was a visitor here this morning.

Overalls Worn In Illinois School

BENSONVILLE, Ill., Oct. 7. (AP) Two hundred and fifty boy students of the Bensonville high school appeared for classroom work yesterday attired in overalls.

"It's on account of the depression," explained a leader of the back-to-overalls movement. "They save our pants."

One boy who arrived without overalls was relieved of his trousers after a brief struggle and warned to adopt the new garb before coming back to school.

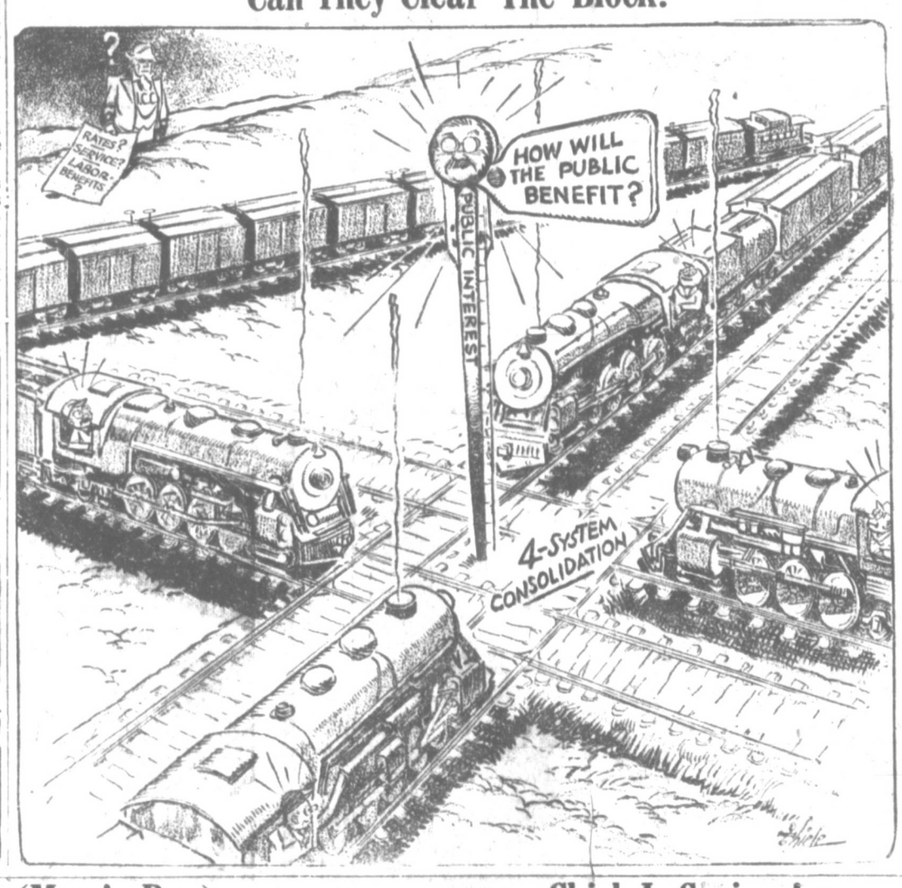

Clayton Heare of Shamrock is here on business today.

H. G. Gamble of the Internal revenue department is here this week.

Army and Navy Will Clash for "Sweet Charity"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. (AP)—The echo of clinking dollars for the unemployed stirred by the charging football teams of Annapolis and West Point again will be heard this year.

The two service teams have agreed to meet, probably Dec. 12, with all receipts going to alleviate distress of the jobless. Either New York, Philadelphia, or Chicago will get the game with the Gotham Polo grounds hold the most votes now.

Army and Navy officials, who were asked for the benefit performance by the Salvation Army, agreed to it yesterday. The Salvation Army sponsored last year's contest in New York which netted $400,000 for the unemployed and a 6 to 0 victory for the Army.

That was the first meeting of the two institutions on the gridiron since they severed relations four years ago after differences over eligibility requirements. These difficulties again will be left unsettled as they march on the field in December.

Rochester Needs One More Victory

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 7. (AP) A single victory stood between the Rochester Redwings and their second successive "Little World series" championship today.

The International league champions, led by Billy Southworth, gained a commanding lead of four games to one by turning back St. Paul, American association titleholders, yesterday, 4 to 3. St. Paul now is faced with the almost impossible task of winning all four remaining games.

The sixth game today and all other games necessary to wind up the current series will be played here.

ESHOW TRIAL STARTS

Trial of Edward "Cowboy" Eshom, charged with possession of intoxicating liquor for the purpose of sale, is under way in 31st district court today. A jury was chosen and opening testimony heard before the recess for noon.

Author of "MAD MARRIAGE"

©1931 BY NEA SERVICE INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Pretty Norma Kent, 20-year-old secretary, marries Mark Travers, son of a millionaire, in spite of the father's threats to disinherit Mark.

The story opens in Marlboro, middlewestern metropolis. Mark sells his expensive roadster to get money for the honeymoon and he and Norma go to fashionable Blue Springs. After two weeks their money is gone. With $500, borrowed, the couple return to Marlboro.

Mark gets one job and loses it. Then he becomes a floorwalker in Blossomdale's department store. In spite of poverty the young couple are happy. After a few weeks Mark's father sends for him, offers to take him back into his business organization if Mark will prove he can make good. His first task involves a business trip to France. Norma is to remain at home. In spite of her protests Mark departs.

Norma, treated rudely at her father-in-law's home, slips away leaving no trace of her whereabouts. She takes a room in a lodging house and Chris Saunders, her former roommate, helps her find a job.

Travers employs detectives who find Norma's name in police files and evidence that three years previous she was convicted on a vice charge. Hollis Stone, relative of Travers, who was Norma's lawyer at that time, declares the case was framed and the girl entirely innocent but Mark's father will not listen. He sends his lawyer to Paris with documents that will enable Mark to secure a divorce. Late in January Norma, who knows nothing of all this, receives a special delivery letter.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXV

Norma read the letter a second time—each word clear, standing out with photographic exactness. The words followed one another neatly on the typewritten page. There was nothing wrong with them. The words were all right. It was the meaning—what she had thought that first time—oh, but it was impossible.

Her lips tightened in sudden fright. It couldn't—oh, it couldn't be!

They stared up at her from the harmless white page. Those terrible, unbelievable words! They arranged themselves in two brief paragraphs and at the end was Mark's father's signature. The letter read:

"Dear Miss Kent: Word has just come to me that today in Paris my son was granted an absolute divorce from you without alimony.

"Evidence in the case—taken from police records here in Marlboro — will be withheld from newspaper announcements. This precaution was taken through consideration for you. You will understand that hereafter you have no legal claim whatever on my son. Since Mark's stay abroad has been extended it will be useless for you to attempt to see him.

Very sincerely,

F. M. TRAVERS."

It couldn't be. No, no! Absolute divorce," "police records," "no legal claim!" The phrases hurled themselves at her. "Useless to attempt to see him!" Oh, dear God, it couldn't mean what she thought it did!

The girl was on her feet now. Her eyes burned too brightly. Her lips were drawn and their color faded. She crossed the room, leaned against the wall and pressed her palms together.

"Divorce." "Divorce without alimony!" Norma closed her eyes attempting to shut out the memory. She could not shut out the sight of those words, dancing on the typewritten page.

Somehow she got a wrap about her, went down the stairs and found herself in the street. The wind had blown colder since nightfall. It blew her skirts, tossed her hair back. It did not occur to Norma that she was hatless and that her hands were bare. Pulling the coat more tightly about her she ran.

Chris Saunders drew the door back. "Why, Norma!" she exclaimed. "What in the world—? Here—come on in!"

Norma Travers did not speak. She entered the dimly lighted room, almost stumbling.

"What's happened?" Chris demanded. "You look like a ghost! Sit down in this chair here and get your breath. Didn't year wear a hat? Why, Norma you shouldn't—"

Suddenly the younger girl had thrown her arms about Chris' shoulders and was sobbing with great, shaking sobs. She clung to Chris as a child might. The sobbing continued—broke off—then went on again.

"Oh, but Norma, darling! Please! You mustn't let yourself go on like this." Chris was patting the other girl's shoulders, trying to be comforting.

Dorothy's head emerged from the bathroom. She looked at the two girls but before she could speak caught Chris' warning signal and retreated.

"Honey, there's nothing in the world to cry about this way. Try to stop it, won't you, so you can tell me what's wrong?" Chris' efforts to still the onslaught were useless. It was several minutes before Norma raised her head and accepted the handkerchief the other girl gave her. It was longer before she could even try to speak. When she did the words would not come.

"Chris—oh, Chris!" was all she managed to say. There was a fresh burst of weeping.

Suddenly from her purse Norma drew the crumpled sheet of paper that was the letter. "Read it, Chris!" the girl moaned. "Mark's father. He says—he says there's been a divorce!" She buried her face again in the handkerchief.

Chris unfolded the letter. She read it slowly. Her arm slipped about Norma again and held her closely. "Poor darling!" she said tenderly. "Oh, you poor darling!"

"Do you think it's true, Chris?"

The other girl shook her head slowly. "Maybe he's only trying to frighten you," she said, striving to make her voice sound hopeful. "The old devil! Maybe I wouldn't like to tell him what I think of him though! When did you get this?" she demanded, holding up the letter.

"Just before I came over here. It was sent special delivery. Did you read it, Chris? Did you see what it said? I mean about—the police? That means they know everything—"

"Wait a minute! You can't give up so easily. I tell you the whole thing may be a bluff!"

"Oh, if I could only believe that! Tell me it isn't true, Chris! Tell me it can't be. Mark wouldn't do a thing like that to me! He—he couldn't!"

"Had any word from him at all since he left?"

"No. But he didn't know where to write to me. Oh, I'm sure he's sent letters to his father's home only I couldn't get them! I'm sure that he's written! Even if he did know about—about Mount Florence how could there be a divorce when I didn't know about it? It—it isn't fair! They've told him lies, Chris!"

"Of course they have, lamb. No doubt about it."

"Then if they did that isn't there something I can do?"

"Law's a funny business, Norma. You know that. Especially when people who have money start out to get what they want. I've heard of Paris divorces but I don't know much about them. You say you haven't heard a word from Mark since he's been gone?"

Norma shook her head negatively. "I know he'd have written if he could!" she insisted. She stared at Chris and suddenly a frenzied look came into her eyes. "What am I to do?" she cried hysterically. "I can't live without Mark. Oh, what am I to do?"

She fell back in a fit of tempestuous sobbing. It was useless for Chris to try to comfort her, to reassure her that the whole thing was a trick. Chris said these things with a lack of conviction but she kept at her task. She begged Norma not to believe the letter, to keep up her courage. She made rash promises and predictions.

At last she saw all this was ineffectual. Norma had not even heard what she said.

"I've got to go now!" Norma said. "I've got to—to do something!"

Chris put a hand on her shoulder. "You can't go anywhere tonight, Norma. It's too late! You're going to stay here. I'll make a bed on the davenport and you can take mine."

"I've got to go!" Norma insisted. "But you can't! It's nearly midnight and it's storming out. There's nothing in the world that you could do until morning."

The younger girl looked vaguely troubled. "Midnight?" she repeated.

Dorothy, clad in a yellow striped flannel robe, came into the room. "Hello, Norma," she said casually. "Going to spend the night with us?"

"I—I'm just going."

"Oh, don't do that! Why its foolish. We have plenty of room."

"Norma doesn't feel very well," Chris said pointedly, "and I've been telling her it's ridiculous for her to leave. Won't you make some coffee, Dorothy? I believe it would do us all good."

"Of course." Dorothy disappeared behind the screen that concealed the gas stove.

It was this other girl's presence as much as anything that quieted Norma. Somehow she could not bare her troubles before a stranger. When the coffee was served she scarcely tasted hers but consented to remain in the girls' apartment for the night. She even docily took Chris' bed when the other girl arranged blankets for herself on the davenport.

Just before Chris extinguished the lights she paused beside Norma. "Try to get some sleep now, honey," she coaxed. "Things will be a lot better in the morning."

She heard a sob, bent down to the other girl.

Norma whispered convulsively, "Chris—do you think he—doesn't love me any more?"

"Of course he loves you! Everything's going to be all right tomorrow."

In spite of these assurances none of them got much sleep. Norma, whose eyes had not closed until the sky was graying, was the last to wake. She sat up, startled to find herself in the old apartment, and then remembered.

The fragrant odor of breakfast reached her nostrils. Dorothy was putting dishes on the table. Splashing in the bathroom indicated that Chris was having her shower.

"Good morning!" Dorothy said brightly. "Breakfast's almost ready."

Norma arose. In ten minutes she had washed and dressed, and came to the breakfast table. There was an argument about whether or not she should go to work. Norma insisted she was going.

"You ought not to leave this house!" Chris objected. "You're sick and anyone would know it to look at you."

"Anyhow I'm going," Norma said firmly. "I'm not sick. I couldn't stand it to stay around here all day —I've got to be doing something."

"I don't think you're well enough," the other girl repeated.

"There's no use trying to stop me. I'm going!"

All three set out together half an hour later. Norma bought a morning newspaper but she did not open it. Chris watched her uncertainly. The younger girl was paler than usual.

"Remember," Chris said as they separated on the tenth floor of the office building. "I'll talk to Brad as soon as he comes in. He'll know the best thing to do. Promise me you won't say or do anything about the letter until I see you at lunch."

"I'll promise."

"See you at 12:30, then," Chris flung over her shoulder as she hurried down the corridor.

She was far more serious half an hour later when she faced Bradley Hart in his private office.

"Then it's true!" Chris said heavily. "There isn't any way to fight back?"

Hart shrugged. "Nothing much you can do without money," he said carelessly. "I'm sorry for the kid. Heard about it at breakfast. Norma's had a tough break."

"But its unjust! It's not right!"

There was a rap on the door and a boy appeared. "Miss Saunders," he said. "There's a call for you to come over to Room 1016. They want you right away."

Chris flew down the corridor. The door of the office was open and she rushed in.

Frederick Stuart met her. He said anxiously, 'Miss Travers fainted. She's in there and I've called a doctor. Will you see if there's anything you can do?"

tic plan won their support in principle. While congressional action will be required eventually to carry the program to completion, no special session is contemplated.

The president's six-point program:

1. Creation of a half-billion dollar private credit agency to handle credits unacceptable to the reserve banks.
2. Liquidation of some of the frozen assets of insolvent banks.
3. Appointment of regional bankers committees to aid generally in credit expansion.
4. Liberalization of the rules to permit reserve banks to handle a wider variety of securities.
5. If necessary, creation of a government credit agency similar to the old war finance corporation.
6. Strengthening of the resources of the Federal Land banks to further accommodate the farmer.

Schools Boost Fire Prevention Week Activities

Pampa schools are taking the lead in safety week and fire prevention in Pampa, Fire Chief Clyde Gold declared this morning. City Manager F. M. Gwin and Chief Gold attended a program given by junior high school students this morning and made short talks on fire prevention and safety. Children from Horace Mann school presented a short play which was applauded.

"School children and teachers of Pampa are to be commended on the interest they are taking in fire prevention," Chief Gold said. "I have never been in a city where such interest was manifested and I cannot speak too highly of our teachers and pupils," he said.

The city manager declared that the children were very enthusiastic and that he didn't know how that enthusiasm could fail to spread among the homes of the city and that citizens would dig in and help make our city safe.

SLAYER IS ACQUITTED

HOUSTON, Oct. 7. (AP)—A district court jury which deliberated his case but 19 minutes yesterday acquitted L. O. "Les" Tarrant of a murder charge in connection with the slaying of Tom L. Bryant of Galveston.

Two Men Dead Following Riots

CLEVELAND, Oct. 7. (AP)—A second man died today as the result of rioting last night which police said was touched off by a communistic demonstration against the eviction of a negro family.

John Grayford, 54, a negro, died a few hours after another tentatively identified as Edward D. Jackson was shot to death, and two other rioters and two policemen were injured.

The outbreak—the second led by communists here in the last two nights—began when three policemen went to see why a mob of 300 had collected in front of the home where the family had been evicted earlier in the day.

As a woman shouted, "all right, let's go," the angry crowd surged around the trio of policemen, they said, and attacked them.

Lieut. Owen E. McAdams, leader of the police squad, was pulled down from behind, he said, and was shot by his own gun as he grappled with his assailants. Patrolman Arthur Bockhousen and McAdams opened fire, hitting three of the rioters.

COTTON IS FIRM

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 7. (AP)—The cotton market had an active and firm opening today. Liverpool cables were better than due and a favorable opinion prevailed as to the Hoover credit proposals.

First trades here showed gain of 16 to 19 points and the market continued to improve after the start until December traded at 6.02 and January at 6.12, 22 points above yesterday's close.

This advance soon attracted considerable profit-taking by recent buyers and there also was a good deal of hedge selling, causing prices to ease to 5.88 for December and 6.00 for January, down 12 to 14 points from the highs.

The opening advance was helped by a firmer stock market.

Near the end of the first hour, the market was steady at the lows.
