The Snyder School board found itself confronted Wednesday with one of those annoying little problems that can pop up unexpectedly from "out of nowhere."

At present all schools in the Snyder system are accredited by the Southern Association of Schools, a regional accrediting agency whose function primarily is to assure certain standards in schools of the South. The accrediting agency "warned" Snyder Public Schools that accreditation of Travis Junior High was in danger of being withdrawn because of a salary situation that did not meet Southern Association requirements.

The salary situation involved that of the principal and came about because a classroom teacher in that school ostensibly could draw a higher salary than the Travis principal. Now, Snyder does not have any school in which there is a teacher drawing higher pay than the principal. However, under the local salary schedule now in effect with four "plateaus" it it possible for a classroom teacher with a masters degree, plus 30 semester hours of graduate college study beyond the master's level, and lengthy experience, to attain an annual salary close to the level of an administrator with fewer years of service and with less graduate study.

The technicality in the "warning" was the computing of slaaries on a monthly basis. Principals are on 11 - months contracts, while classroom teachers are on 9-months contracts.

Using a mini-example, a classroom teacher with an annual salary of $900 would be earning $100 per month on a 9-months contract. If that teacher's principal was paid $1,050 per year on an 11-month contract, the classroom teacher would have the higher salary on a monthly basis.

The Southern Association in earlier years involved mostly the accrediting of colleges. Later, it extended its accreditation services to high schools, and now even extends to elementary schools. Each school "building" within a system, or school district, is considered separately. Conse-

Diaz Asks Expanded Trade Opportunities

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz of Mexico, a nation which is a major customer of U.S. goods, spoke out in Congress today for greater trade opportunities for Latin America and other developing areas.

He did not refer directly, in a speech to a joint session of the Senate and House, to a wave of protectionist bills now pending in Congress to restrict imports of a variety of products. But Latin American nations, the Scandinavian countries and the European Common Market nations have registered vigorous opposition to such measures with the State Department.

The Mexican president's appearance at the Capitol constituted his major address in this country where he is on a state visit, with his wife, as guests of President and Mrs. Johnson. Johnson also has spoken out against the protectionist measures.

From a 21-gun arrival salute on the White House South lawn to a presidential state dinner Thursday night, the red carpet was out for the first Mexican president to visit the United States in eight years.

President Johnson, raising his glass in a champagne toast, said: "May the peace and friendship which unites our nations be a symbol to others of how nations should conduct themselves."

The two presidents are celebrating the final ceremonials of the Chamizal Treaty through which the two nations peacefully settled a 105-year-old border dispute.

Before Diaz Ordaz entertains President and Mrs. Johnson tonight at a dinner in the Mexican Embassy, the two heads of state will witness formal signing of a treaty transferring the small strip of land known as El Chamizal—the thicket—from Texas to the Mexican state of Chihuahua.

El Chamizal was carved out of Mexico by a southward shift in the course of the Rio Grande River in 1852. Its restoration to Mexico ends negotiations begun in 1963 by President John F. Kennedy and Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

Johnson and Diaz Ordaz are scheduled to take part Saturday in ceremonies at El Paso, Tex., commemorating the peaceful conclusion of the land dispute.

Signs Suggesting Tightened Credit

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Signs are pointing to a new wave of tightened credit—but government officials say lenders and borrowers are unlikely to feel the effects for at least several more months.

And they contend a new credit crunch can be headed off altogether if Congress approves President Johnson's request for a 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

A credit squeeze last year resulted in a shortage of mortgage money and sent the housing industry to its knees. The recovery is not yet complete.

The newest storm cloud was the highest interest rate—5.75 per cent—offered by the Treasury Department in 46 years to borrow money for more than one year. It will apply to $1.5 billion of the $12.2 billion to be borrowed by the Treasury on Monday.

Treasury officials contend the high rate will have no appreciable effect on the ability of banks and savings and loan associations to compete for consumer savings.

High interest rates last year prompted many savers to withdraw their money from savings and loans and banks for investments paying more interest, a factor which tightened the available supply of mortgage money.

One official said California's S&L industry, largest in the nation, is already worried about possible withdrawals of money for higher-paying investments.

The end of the year could be a key time for the savings industry. That's when the next dividend period ends and when withdrawal of funds is most likely to occur.

Only this week the Securities and Exchange Commission reported that U.S. corporations offered $18.8 billion in securities for sale during the first nine months of this year, more than in all of last year.

This also places pressure on the money market and drives interest rates up.

And government officials contend they will go even higher without higher taxes since this will force the Treasury to borrow even more money.

Art Show To Close Sunday

The Snyder Amateur Art Show, sponsored by the Diamond M Foundation, will close Sunday at the Scurry County Coliseum.

Some 305 paintings that were in competition for prizes in the show have been on display since last Sunday. The show will be open on both Saturday and Sunday beginning at 1:30 p.m. each day. However, those who planned to visit the show on the last day Sunday are reminded that artists may begin removing their works at mid-afternoon on the final day.

Hundreds of persons have visited the show. About 1,000 were on hand at the opening day last Sunday when awards were presented, and several hundred (not including school groups) viewed the paintings during the week.

AIR RAIDS CONTINUE

South Viets Repel Red Suicide Raids

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — A South Vietnamese infantry battalion hurled back three suicidal charges by a North Vietnamese regiment today and reported 134 of the enemy killed in a jungle clearing 70 miles north of Saigon.

The action near Phuoc Binh, capital of Phuoc Long Province, was the biggest ground battle in a week dominated by intense U.S. air raids on North Vietnam.

The U.S. Command announced that three U.S. Navy jets were shot down in Thursday's raids and all three pilots were missing. This brought U.S. losses in the past three days to 10 planes and raised to 717 the total of U.S. combat planes officially reported lost over North Vietnam.

American pilots reported shooting down two more enemy MIGs during raids on Hanoi Thursday, bringing their score to 24 Communist jets reported destroyed or damaged in the air and on the ground this week.

The U.S. Command made no report on raids today, but Tass, the Soviet news agency, indicated that Hanoi was hit again. A Tass dispatch from the North Vietnamese capital said that "according to preliminary data," antiaircraft units shot down six U.S. planes today "over Hanoi and its environs."

Hanoi's official Vietnam New Agency said one of "the many U.S. pilots captured" in Hanoi Thursday was Lt. Cmdr. John Sydney McCain, apparently the son of Vice Adm. John S. McCain Jr., the U.S. Navy commander in chief in Europe, and the grandson of one of the Navy's greatest carrier task force commanders in World War II. Adm. McCain said at his headquarters in London he had been notified his son was

Mid-East Plan Taking Shape

By TOM HOGE
Associated Press Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A drafting team of the U.N. Security Council was reported near agreement today on a plan aimed at opening the way to a permanent settlement of the Arab-Israeli conflict.

The 10 nonpermanent members of the 15-nation council were to put the final touches to a proposal to send a special U.N. representative to the Middle East.

The drafting team consists of six of the 10 elected council members—India, Argentina, Brazil, Nigeria, Ethiopia and Mali.

Delegates predicted that the full 10-member group would firm up a resolution in time for the council to act on it next week.

The drafting committee has been going over rival plans submitted by India, Denmark and Latin America.

The Indian plan, favored by the Soviet bloc and the Arabs, would give the U.N. representative specific instructions to call for withdrawal of Israeli troops from land they seized from Egypt, Jordan and Syria in the June war.

The Danish draft, supported by the United States and Israel, would merely give general instructions to the representative.

The Latin American proposal resembles that of India, calling for Israeli withdrawal from "positions occupied by it as a result" of the war.

The Indian draft reportedly calls for peace on the basis of respect for the rights of all states to security and independence and an end to the Arab state of belligerency toward Israel.

It would also specify the need for free navigation through international waterways and settlement of refugee problems.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband's older sister recently lost her husband after a lingering illness. He wasn't buried two weeks when she blew into town asking if we knew any eligible men for her to forget her sorrow with. She says she isn't interested in any "old" men "over 60." (She claims to be 70, but my husband says she's 74!) She tells everyone she has just had a thoro checkup at the Mayo clinic and they told her she was like a girl of 25.

As soon as she meets a person she tells him about her holdings, property and cash on hand.

We don't know what's come over her. She has dyed her lovely gray hair a hideous orange, and she wears mini-skirts and loud colors. How can we explain her disgraceful appearance and conduct to our friends? She is the talk of this town.

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: You could explain that you think her grief has gone to her head. (Maybe it has.) In any case, you are not responsible for your sister-in-law's behavior.

DEAR ABBY: The office supervisor where I work has a habit of putting his arm around you, and letting his hand rest firmly on your hip while he is discussing something with you. He is a very friendly type and I am sure he means nothing by it, as he is a happily married man. However, this is very annoying to me. Other girls in the office have told me it was annoying to them, too.

How can I handle this without making a federal case out of something I know is more thoughtlessness than lust?

OFFICE PRUDE

DEAR PRUDS: When this happily married man puts his arm around you, subtly shake it off, or squirm loose. If he repeats the friendly gesture, use your hand emphatically to remove it.

You need not make a federal case out of it. If you smile thru it all, you can settle it in the lower courts.

DEAR ABBY: Our problem goes back to 1943 when my husband was in World War II. We were very much in love — and still are. He was in the air corps and I worked on the base. We planned to marry as soon as the war was over. He was sent overseas and soon after I learned that I was pregnant. He got back when I was in my ninth month and we didn't feel like getting married with me in my obvious condition so we told everyone (including our families) that we had been married secretly all along.

Well, it has been nearly 24 years and we still aren't married. We had other children (our eldest is now married) and no one suspects that we have never gone thru a marriage ceremony. We kept wanting to get married, but were afraid our application for a license would be published and everyone would know we had never been married.

We are a devoted couple, Abby, and we "feel" as married as legally married couples, but we want our children to be legitimate, and we want to get this off our consciences. Is there any way we can get married now without embarrassing our families and children? If you can help us we would be eternally grateful. No names, please.

FROM LODI, CALIFORNIA

DEAR FROM: Ask your lawyer to tell you about Section 79 of the California Civil Code which he may agree could answer your problem.

Four Soviet Warships Arrive In Egypt

PORT SAID, Egypt (AP) — Four Soviet warships arrived today to the tumultuous cheers of Port Said residents and dock workers.

The warships included two big vessels, a frigate and an auxiliary supply vessel.

The Cairo press said the visit was a courtesy call on Port Said, but the fact the ships came in the wake of the sinking of the Israeli destroyer Elath last Saturday and the subsequent Israeli shelling of oil refineries in Suez make it appear to be a demonstration of armed support for Egypt.

quently, one elementary school or one junior high school in a single system might have accreditation withdrawn while all others in the same system maintained full accreditation.

Regional accreditation is regarded as important because it provides a means of implying, if not actually guaranteeing, that certain academic standards have been met. Thus, a graduate from an Arkansas school that is accredited by the Southern Association is known to have had an academic background that meets association standards that are applied on the same basis in Texas and other states within that agency's territory. This does not mean that all schools accredited by the agency are equal. It does mean that all have at least met the agency standards and their graduates are entitled to the prestige that accrues from attending a regionally accredited school.

How did the Southern Association become involved in salary scales, which appear to be purely a local matter? So far as local school people can recall, it likely stemmed from some experiences many years ago when certain schools had a tendency to overemphasize certain areas of their own programs, particularly non-academic or extra-curricular areas. For example, there was a time when some schools paid their football coaches more than they did their superintendents and principals. Apparently such cases formed the basis for agency salary ratios, taking into account the responsibilities borne by the personnel involved.

The vital level of Southern Association accreditation in public school appears to be the senior high school, since the high school diploma is the first opportunity to apply the prestige of accreditation. The local board indicated that it intended to give the matter considerable study within the next few months. Our entire system is accredited by the Texas Education Agency, and perhaps that alone is sufficient below the senior high school level.

Female Reds Stage Attack

BEN CAT, Vietnam (AP) — Eight female Communist soldiers in full battle guard and armed with automatic weapons and hand grenades, attacked a U.S. infantry ambush patrol Wednesday and lost four of their number killed.

"They spotted our patrol first and fired on them," said Lt. Col. Walter E. Adams, from Washington, D.C., commander of the 25th Infantry Wolfhound Battalion.

"They fought well and they were damn good," Adams commented.

The American unit report no casualties.

The four dead women soldiers, all young, were identified as belonging to the North Vietnamese 271st Regiment, part of the 9th North Vietnamese Division operating in the jungles of War Zone C, north of Saigon.

BURN VICTIMS' CONVULSIONS

Soap Ingredient Is Culprit

By BROOKS KELLER
Galveston Daily News Writer
For The Associated Press

GALVESTON (AP) — Hexachloraphene, an ingredient of many soaps, cosmetics, deodorants and toothpaste, has been found to cause convulsions in burned children and death in experimental rats.

These findings were reported today by medical scientists at Schriner Burns Institute at the University of Texas medical branch.

None of the burned children at the institute has been washed with an antiseptic detergent containing hexachloraphene in more than a year. Such antibacterial soaps are in widespread use in hospitals for cleaning all kinds of raw wounds.

A burns institute physician who tested the effects of hexachloraphene on healthy adult skin—his own—reported there were no injurious effects. He declined to be quoted by name.

Physicians at the institute, in its early days, were puzzled when six burned children went into convulsions for no apparent reason. In those days the standard cleasing agent for burn wounds was a hexachloraphene compound.

Reports on convulsions from other sources in this country and abroad planted the seeds of suspicion about hexachloraphene.

A clue was given the institute's chief surgeon by a lay Shriner, Richard H. Johnigan of Galveston. Johnigan mentioned to him that a method of draft evasion in World War I was for a draftee to eat quantities of soap suds. These produced convulsions at the time of the draftee's medical examination.

Laboratory tests on burned rats proved the case against the hexachloraphene compound. All the rats treated with that compound sickened and died.

Rats with burns that were left untended recovered, as did rats treated with other kinds of detergents.

No child at the burns institute has suffered convulsions since the use of hexachloraphene compounds was discontinued, even though much larger burns have been handled since those early days.

There are 70,000 burn cases in U.S. hospitals each year, but the meaning of today's disclosure goes beyond burn patients.

A soap-and-water cleansing is the standard treatment for many other types of open wounds and infections. Hexachloraphene compound detergents are a hospital standby for this purpose.

None of the children at the Galveston institute died of convulsions, which lasted 10 to 30 minutes and required sedation.

"But the life of any badly burned person usually hangs on the thinnest thread for days. Any complicating factor, particularly one like this which causes lack of appetite, can be ery dangerous," an institute doctor said.

All the rats with wounds treated by hexachloraphene developed severe swelling of the brain.

Doctors at the burn institute said hexachloraphene soaps have continuing usefulness as washup agents for surgeons. The danger occurs when large amounts of hexachloraphene get into the blood stream through a raw wound.

Guns Disrupt Sleep Of Roscoe PFC.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pfc. James B. Belcher Jr. of Roscoe isn't sure just what he was expecting when he got to Vietnam, but it wasn't exactly what he was prepared for.

He got in trouble that first night.

It wasn't funny then, but now he laughs about it.

"We got to Dong Ha the first night, and when it was time to hit the sack I got undressed and hopped in," he recalls.

"About 11 o'clock I heard the boom - boom - boom. They were hitting us with mortars and rockets, I found out later."

The Texan at war said he ran "around in circles for a while, until a sergeant grabbed me."

Was he scared?

"You doggone right I was."

That was the first and last time he tried sleeping in his underwear.

"Everybody sleeps in his clothes with all his equipment around him," he said.

Belcher, 19, spent about a month in Vietnam before he got shot in the hand by a machine gun that had gotten stuck.

He was wih the 1st Battalion, 4th Marines, near the Laos border June 9 when the bolt of a machine gun got stuck.

He stood it on its stock plate and jarred the bolt loose. The gun was not in a firing position, but the shell went off, striking him in the left hand.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Belcher of Roscoe. He has been in the Marine Corps since January 1966.

Texan To Undergo Another Skin Graft

NACOGDOCHES, Tex. (AP) — A 30-year-old construction worker who took a 12,500-volt jolt of electricity—3,500 volts more than are used in the Texas electric chair—is to undergo another skin graft operation Monday.

W. M. Baker, father of five, was hit by the massive charge Oct. 2 at a construction site when the boom of a dragline hit three power lines. The circuit thus formed knocked Baker from the machine he was operating.

The charge also knocked out an inch-and-a-half chunk from a concrete retaining wall.

Baker, a native of Abilene who now lives in Olney, Tex., was in a coma when he was taken to City Memorial Hospital.

DRAMATIC V-DECOR — For true evening elegance, nothing can challenge the long, graceful shaft of black velvet. Tee-Ca dramatizes the dee-textured beauty of velvet in this supple, slender gown with a collar and deep V encrusted with rhinestones and looped crystal bead embroidery, the plunge artfully filled in with sheer net.

Mrs. Scott Entertains AAUW

Mrs. Troy Scott, music teacher at Northeast Elementary School, presented an original musical play to the AAUW, Thursday evening when the Snyder Branch met in the home of Mrs. Jewel Summers, hostess.

Mrs. Bernice Parker and Mrs. Brooksie Hodges read the dialogue, playing the parts of a grandmother and granddaughter in the drama, "Music Through the Years." The script began with grandmother going through an antique trunk and reminiscing with each item that suggested a song. Songs that were sung included "School Days," "Bicycle Built for Two" "Wedding March," "You," "Pretty Baby," "How Ya Gonna Keep 'Em Down On the Farm," "Long Way to Tipparary," "God Bless America," "Mockingbird Hill," and songs from modern broadway hits. Mrs. Scott delighted the group with more than one solo of current favorites, including "The Sound of Music."

Outstanding among the props was an exquisite after-five marquisette dress from the 1920's that was hemstitched and embroidered with tiny beads.

Mrs. Laura Holladay, president, conducted a brief business meeting and reported thank you notes had been received from the other branches that attended the District Workshop.

Autumn flowers and Halloween pumpkins were the theme of the decorations. Refreshments were served to 20 members.

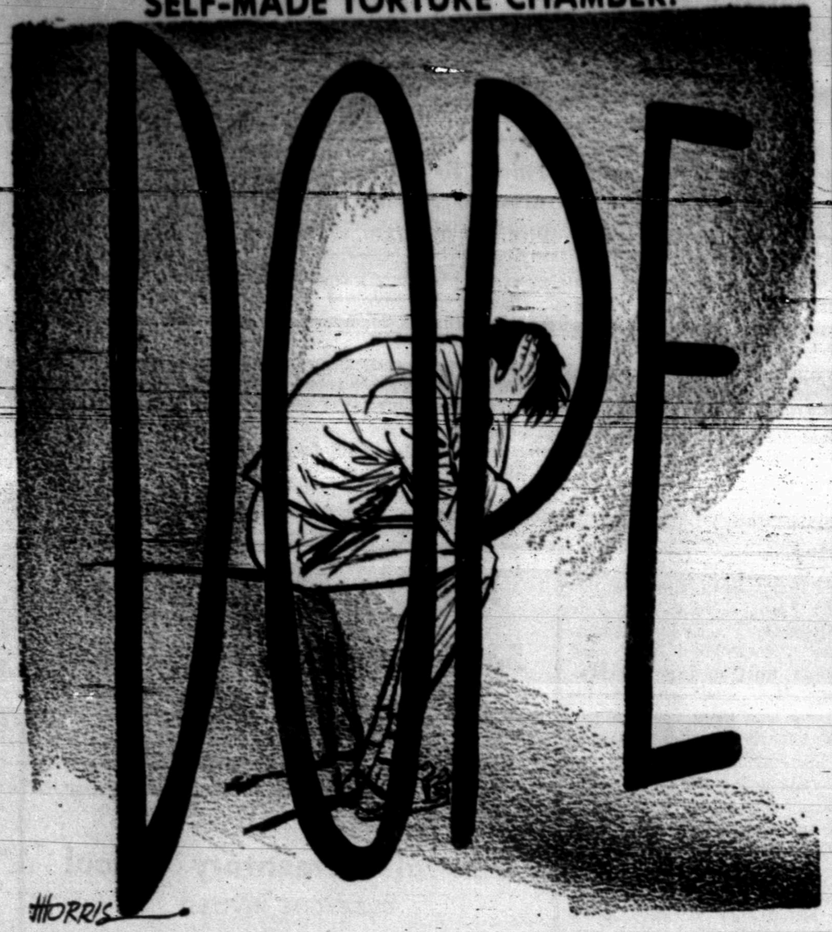
SELF-MADE TORTURE CHAMBER!



Sen. Wiley's World Vision Was Attained Hard Way

By JAMES MARLOW...
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alexander Wiley, who died Thursday, was not one of the most brilliant minds in the Senate where he served 24 years before being beaten in his try for a fifth term in 1962.

But he did develop a vision of the world and the future which he had to arrive at the hard way. And in the process more than a decade ago he was making statements which sound like President Johnson today.

He was an isolationist when he came to the Senate as a Wisconsin Republican in 1939. He was 43 then and found plenty of company in a Senate which was slowly and grudgingly emerging from a belief America could stand alone.

There was another Midwestern Republican isolationist there when Wiley arrived—Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan—who, like Wiley, eventually became an internationalist after World War II.

Wiley never achieved the public stature or influence of Vandenberg, but both men in the early postwar years helped eliminate some of the political partisanship which had plagued American foreign policy.

For both this was their greatest contribution to American history although today's generation has probably only a dim knowledge or none at all of either man.

Two shining examples of Wiley's early isolationism were his opposition to the draft in 1940 and to lend-lease in 1941. In 1940 the American Army was hardly more than a Coxey's army at a time when Hitler dominated most of Europe.

Lend-lease was this country's long-delayed, last-minute effort to help Hitler's surviving enemies with supplies and weapons.

But by the time the war ended Wiley and Vandenberg had done a complete turn-around in foreign affairs. Both men helped win approval for American participation in the United Nations. But Wiley paid a penalty for the stands he took.

In 1956, for instance, the Wisconsin Republican convention refused to endorse him for reelection. A lot of Republicans in his home state were sore at him for being out of the country when the Senate in 1954 was voting condemnation of Sen. Joseph McCarthy, also from Wisconsin.

But there had long been ill-will between Wiley and McCarthy, even though Wiley was an active anti-Communist, too.

Yet, ardent as Wiley and Vandenberg had become in their desire for international cooperation, each man had only two years as chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee. The reason was that since 1932 the Republicans have had majority control in the Senate only a total of four years.

This forced both men to throw their weight around in American foreign policy mostly by their speeches and their votes. Wiley, outside the foreign field, was pretty much a conservative.

It wasn't until 1950, a few months after the Communists took over all mainland China, that the United States began to help the French in Vietnam where since 1946 they had been at war with Ho Chi Minh, now the Communist boss of North Vietnam and at war with this country.

The motivation of President Harry S. Truman, who began the aid to the French, remained the motivation of Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy and Johnson: The fear that unless stopped communism would take over Southeast Asia.

On Nov. 20, 1953, the French captured the Ho Chi Minh stronghold of Dienbienphu, which seemed like a great victory at the time but became a French disaster.

On that same day Wiley said that if Vietnam fell to the Communists that "entire area of the world would sooner or later" fall into Communist hands. He called for a mutual defense agreement to protect that area.

What Is Life To Julie Christie?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "I've been out of pocket and depressed, but never really desperate," said Julie Christie.

Then one of the entertainment world's most awesome properties studied her flawless features in a hand mirror as she applied makeup and said:

"I've come up with spots all over my face. I'm a mass of hot spots. It's the central heating."

The brilliant young British actress, most recently starred in "Far from the Madding Crowd," was having brunch in the West Side apartment of a friend here.

She was wearing a nondescript robe that didn't take attention away from the pendulous promise of a full lower lip and sea-deep eyes of fathomless gray.

As she answered questions, she ate some broiled sausages, picking them up with carelessly fastidious fingers, then trifled with a cantaloupe whose orange cavity had been thrust full of large ripe strawberries.

"You realize that people, after all, aren't monsters and won't eat you up," she said, explaining that she felt less shy than on previous visits to America.

What is life to Julie?

"It is trees and water and buildings and people. It is nice things. It is something given only once and therefore to be made the very most of."

Everybody has the blues now and then, Julie? How do you cure them?

"I'm so masochistic I give myself over to them completely. When I am bored with them and they with me, we part company. There are so many worthwhile things around."

How does a young girl, who used to carry an air mattress and camp in the apartment of pals because she lacked rent money, feel now that she is in the comfortable area of the great big dollar that confirms success?

"Well" — she toyed with a lock of her hair like a brooding child—"it's not a lethargic situation. It's stimulating. You're constantly having demands made upon you, which is nice."

What is your biggest virtue, Julie?

"Self-honesty. I don't lie to myself, whatever I may do to other people."

And your biggest fault, Julie?

"It may be self-interest, but that doesn't seem to narrow it down enough. Wait a moment, and I'll go ask."

She left the room to consult a friend, returned and said: "She said that if evasiveness wasn't my biggest vice, it was certainly vice-like. Also bossiness. Actually, however, I'm not really domineering. I just want everybody to feel and think the way I do.

"Everything about life is so rare and marvelous—even the awful."

What are the things you like, Julie?

"Oh, sunflowers—cats—great and wide and wild expanses of nature—the feeling of moleskins—the nostalgic smell of lilacs, which reminds me of my childhood—the changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace—the walk of ducks and the way guinea pigs move—all kinds of food—and particular companions."

A Junior Editors Quiz About CATS

QUESTION: Where did cats without tails originate?

* * * * *

ANSWER: Halfway between England and Ireland lies the Isle of Man; the citizens of this island are called Manx or Manxmen. Although tailless cats can be found in other parts of the world, particularly in the Malay regions and the Philippines, the best-known originated on the Isle of Man. Did the ancestors of this breed of cat come from the Far East? This is not known. Sudden variations or mutations often occur in nature and a short-tailed or tailless cat was born on the Isle of Man. Perhaps the people liked this cat's appearance and mated it with another short-tailed cat; after generations of such mating, the Manx became a distinct breed. All Manx cats do not lack tails; some kittens are born with very short or bobbed tails. Manx cats have longer legs than other varieties and the way they hop has led to the nickname "rabbit cats." They were first brought to the U.S. in 1820.

Lamar Ninth Socks Ponies

ANDREWS — Bobby Thompson raced 90 yards with the kickoff return opening the second half here Thursday night as the Lamar 9th grade Texans scored a 16-6 come-from-behind victory over Andrews' tough Ponies.

Previous to this defeat, Andrews had lost only one game — to the Big Spring Sophomores.

Thompson's run cracked open a tight defensive battle. The Ponies had gone ahead 6-0 on the last play of the first half on a 50-yard punt return.

Following the Snyder tally, James Norred swept right end to put the Texans ahead 8-6 and they were in command thereafter.

Tempers flared following Thompson's run and the display of emotion seemed to fire up the Lamar boys as they took command of the contest.

Later in the third quarter, Lamar covered a fumble at the Pony 18. Norred blasted for a first to the eight, then cracked the line again to the five. Thompson took it over on a sweep to the right on a dazzling run, tight - rope stepping down the sidelines with a couple of turns and a pivot. Gary Shields swept left end for the bonus points.

Andrews was limited to only one first down in the second half while Snyder chalked up seven.

Penalties plagued the Texans in the first half. The red flag stopped two drives and an interception inside the 20 halted another one. Despite the reversals, Lamar gained seven first downs in the first half, compared with five for the hosts.

Snyder received 55 yards in penalties during the first half with six for 70 yards during the game. Andrews was penalized 10 yards for two infractions.

Defensively, Kenneth Keller, Steve Dillaha, Larry Wall, Scott Hartley, Bid Cooper, Bill Wilson and Bill Branson had their bright moments for Lamar although all of the boys did well in the second half.

Thompson, Shields, Norred and Tony Breedlove were effective on offense.

Next week, the Texans journey to Lamesa.

Mighty Mo Told To Go

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — The saga of Mighty Mo was at an end today so far as Texas A&M was concerned. Maurice Moorman's college career in football was over.

The huge tackle, once called by Coach Gene Stallings "the greatest lineman in the country," was dismissed from the squad Thursday for failing to attend classes.

Moorman came here from Louisville, Ky., after playing as a freshman at Kentucky. He had to lay out a year under the transfer rule and became eligible for the varsity in 1966.

Stories of what he could do and would do preceded him. He lived up to expectations when he made the All-Southwest Conference team and landed on several All-Americas. He also became a prime target of the pros.

This season, however, he has played only average football. But it was cutting classes that got him in trouble.

Stallings announced Thursday that he and Max Clark, a reserve fullback, were being dismissed. Clark also was taken off the squad for failing to attend classes.

They're dropped for only one year but that meant the end of college football for Moorman, who is a senior. Clark, a sophomore, has two more years.

"Texas A&M University is an educational institution that is represented in intercollegiate football by student-athletes," said Stallings. "These two young men were not attending classes regularly and they have been dismissed from the squad."

Stallings would make no further comment. Moorman refused to discuss the situation with newsmen by telephone, but the Houston Post sent a writer here and Moorman talked.

"There's nothing else Coach Stallings could do," Moorman said, admitting that he had cut classes. "I didn't have any reason. I just didn't particularly like to attend class.

"I never thought they'd kick me off the team—not for missing classes. Coach Stallings asked me personally not to miss them. I just took too much for granted."

Mooreman said he would stay in school and try to get his degree.

He also said, "If I get a chance to play pro football, I,m going to take advantage of it."

Big Brahmas Rip Blue Devils 40-0

Scoring in every period, the rugged Big Spring Brahmas rolled to a 40-0 verdict over Travis 9th grade here Thursday night.

Although they were clearly outclassed, the Snyder boys kept trying. They put up a good struggle before going down.

Big Spring scored four of its five touchdowns on long drives, and the other one on a 6-yard run following an unsuccessful punt attempt on fourth down.

Zubiate and Anderson provided most of the offensive fireworks for the Brahmas. Zubiate, a hefty runner, scored three touchdowns. He plowed up the middle from the three in the first quarter to cap an 88-yard drive. Big Spring made good on all of its runs for extra points.

Quarterback Duncan rolled out left and crossed the goal from the one with 24 seconds left in the second quarter as the Brahmas went ahead 16-0.

Zubiate chugged over again in the third quarter — this time from the one — to climax a 65 yard drive, and he sliced over late in the period from the seven as the count soared to 32-0.

The final TD came in the fourth quarter on a 63 yard march. The payoff was a 19 yard aerial, Duncan to Crosby.

Travis put up a good fight in the first half. They came out strong after taking the opening kickoff and marched 29 yards past midfield before the heavier visitors could repair the barricades.

The Brahmas had most of their success with a "four yards and a cloud of dust" type offense. The determination of the hosts is reflected in the fact that it required the Brahmas seven minutes to score their last tally. Each yard came the hard way.

The same two teams collide in Big Spring next week.

Harvey Pinkerton did a good job of punting for Travis and Johnny Mata was outstanding both offensively and defensively, but give all of the boys "A" for effort.

Lady Pros Tee Off Today

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)— A field of 47, led by the big names in women's pro golf, tee off here today in the first round of the $12,500 Alamo Open.

Kathy Whitworth, the top-ranked player on the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour this year, is the favorite. But Mickey Wright, the winningest woman pro ever to pick up a putter, is expected to furnish a serious challenge.

Miss Whitworth has won seven tournaments this year and leads in earnings with $28,392. She is a two-time winner of the seven-year-old Alamo Open, but never has won on the 6,662-yard Olmos Basin Municipal Course being used this year.

Sandra Haynie, the Fort Worth pro who is second in money-earnings for the year, is here to defend her championship. She won last year with the second lowest score — a 213— ever posted in this tournament.

A Cold Cage Debut!

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Minnesota was cold. So were the Muskies. And the fans don't seem to have warmed up to the idea of a new professional team either.

Only 807 customers turned out Thursday night as the temperature was in the 30s and Anaheim beat Minnesota 115-99 in an American Basketball Association contest.

The Amigos turned a 26-24 first-quarter lead into a 61-45 halftime bulge and coasted home from there.

In other ABA games Thursday night, New Jersey edged Kentucky 134-131 at Louisville before 3,985 fans and Oakland downed Indiana 118-114 on the West Coast before a crowd of 2,986. No games were scheduled in the National Basketball Association.

Steve Chubin led Anaheim with 24 points and Jeff Congdon added 20. Mel Daniels of the Muskies led all the scorers with 26 points. It was Anaheim's first victory after five straight defeats. Minnesota is now 1-3.

Art Heyman sparked New Jersey to its victory with five points in the last two minutes. His three-point basket with 1:59 left gave the Americans a one-point edge and a minute later he scored again. The former Duke star finished with 30 points. Jim Ligon led Kentucky with 29 points.

TIGERS, 'CATS VIE TONIGHT

Preparations are complete for the important District 3-AAA battle at Littlefield tonight between the hosts Wildcats and Snyder's Tigers. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m.

For Snder, the tilt is a chance to extend its 3-0 district string and remain in the running for the flag along with Lubbock Dunbar.

For Littlefield, the game will afford the Wildcats an opportunity to knock off one of the front runners and cop their first district win of the season.

The homefield advantage, combined with the 'Cats' fine showing earlier against Dunbar (they lost 10-16) point to a close contest, although the Bengals have a more impressive record.

Saturday night, the Snyder Junior Varsity will be at Stamford for a rematch against the Dogs.

8TH GRADE THRILLER

Tough Travis Clips Runnels, 13 To 12

The Travis 8th grade won another squeaker here Thursday night, turning back a game Runnels 8th grade team from Big Spring 13-12 to preserve its perfect season record.

Although Travis was never behind, the young Blue Devils couldn't afford to relax for a minute because Runnels kept on the pressure throughout the hard - fought contest.

Most of the action was in the line as both sides hit between tackle for short yardage.

James Hood, Travis tackle, halted Runnels' first drive of the night with an interception at the Travis 27. He returned it to the Runnels 47 and the Blue Devils covered the remaining distance in eight plays.

George Alderete, Billy Clayton, and Jackie Murray divided the chores as they crunched out two first downs with quick bursts through the line down to the Runnels 21. At that point, Alderete hit off tackle and rambled to the five. Sammy Harrison added four to the one, and quarterback Butch Buchanan sliced over left tackle for the first touchdown with 3:29 remaining in the quarter. Albert Hernandez, kicking left - footed, booted the ball through the uprights with the point that ultimately provided the margin of victory.

Jessie Henry put the visitors on the scoreboard with 2:55 remaining in the half with a brilliant scamper from 18 yards out. The TD was set up on a long pass from quarterback Gatlin Jones to right halfback Billy Wood. The play covered 36 yards and was the only completion of the night by either team.

A stalwart Blue Devils defense thwarted the visitors inside the 20 early in the second quarter after Runnels took over at the Travis 34 following a high snapback from center on fourth down. A 15-yard penalty put them on the 19 and two plunges by halfback Jan Whatley set up third and one from the 10. On third down, Billy Clayton crashed through to dump the ball carrier for a loss back on the 17 and the aroused Blue Devils slammed the runner for a one-yard loss on fourth down to end the threat.

Travis proved it is a team of champions in the third quarter by taking the kick off and marching 73 yards for its second second touchdown. It required 11 plays, and the Blue Devils had to make up five yards lost on a penalty. Big gainer in the drive was a 26-yard ramble by Alderete around right end from the Runnels 45 to the 19. Clayton went up the middle from the 11 for the score as Travis went ahead 13-6 with 2:20 remaining in the period. Alderete's run for extra points was stopped short.

Runnels put on a successful 53-yard drive of its own following the kickoff with Billy Wood charging through left guard behind good blocking for the touchdown. The play covered 27 yards. On the try for bonus points, Clayton was the man of the hour again as he spilled the ball carrier short of the goal as he attempted to negotiate left end.

The fourth quarter was a stalemate, but Runnels crossed midfield on a long pass to Wood. However, a penalty wiped out the play and the Big Springers never were able to get beyond their 30 after that.

Next week, the same two teams tangle in Big Spring.

Four Southwest Teams Face Elimination From Title Race

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Three Southwest Conference games that are an absolute must for four teams can trim the contenders by half or create the maddest scramble in years as the football race moves into its final six weeks Saturday.

It is possible for the next to least active team in the standings — Baylor — to take over the lead, so close is the competition.

The big game is at Austin where Rice's surprising Owls, now topping the race with only one victory, clash with surging Texas.

Rice actually has a better offensive and defensive record and boasts the highest powered offense in the conference — a smashing 397 yards per game. Yet Texas, which recoiled from two straight losses to win three in a row, is a touchdown favorite.

A Texas victory could land Baylor or Texas A&M in the driver's seat. The Bears have played only one conference game and tied it 10-10 with Arkansas. Should Baylor upset Texas A&M at College Station Saturday it would be in first place. But should Texas A&M win, it would go to the top.

Rice can retain undisputed first place if it clips Texas.

Southern Methodist and Texas Tech, with 1-1 records, battle at Dallas with the loser to fade from contention barring a tie.

Arkansas, which hangs on to a mathematical chance with a 1-1-1 record, plays Kansas State in a nonconference game.

Texas Christian, which can be counted out of the race since it has two losses, also has an intersectional test, hosting Nebraska.

Texas A&M, Texas Tech, Texas and Southern Methodist are the teams that must win Saturday to hang in the race. Two losses mean finish if conference traditions are upheld.

There will be some 65,000 in the stands at Austin as Rice and Texas make their greatest bids.

Some 40,000 are due to watch Texas A&M try to make it three in a row and Baylor try to win its second game of the season.

A throng of 35,000 is anticipated at Dallas where Tech pits its hard running game against the aerial antics of Southern Methodist's desperate Mustangs.

A crowd of 40,000 is due to watch Arkansas against Kansas State at Little Rock but only 25,000 are due at Fort Worth as Texas Christian tries to win its first game in the last eight appearances.

A perfect record last week (four out of four) prompts the following predictions:

Texas-Rice at Austin (7:30 p.m.) — Texas is a narrow choice.

Texas A&M-Baylor at College Station (1:30 p.m.) — A strong vote for the Aggies.

Southern Methodist - Texas Tech at Dallas (7:30 p.m.) — Southern Methodist in a Garrison finish.

Arkansas - Kansas State at Little Rock (8 p.m.) — Arkansas by four touchdowns.

Texas Christian - Nebraska at Fort Worth (1:30 p.m.) — Nebraska 20, Texas Christian 7.

Schollander Cops Two More Medals

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Don Schollander doesn't expect to burn as bright in 1968 as he did in 1964, but he has served notice he plans to retire in a blaze of glory after leading U. S. swimmers to four gold medals Thursday night in the Pre-Olympics.

The Yale University student, who won four gold medals in the '64 Olympics at Tokyo, captured his second and third golds in the second day of swimming at these Olympic trials.

He outdueled Russia's Leonid Iliechov in the 200-meter freestyle and then anchored the winning U. S. team in the 400-meter freestyle relays after grabbing the 100-meter freestyle Wednesday.

Carl Robie of Philadelphia in the 100-meter butterfly and Jane Barkman of Wayne, Pa., in the women's 100-meter freestyle gave the United States its other two golds for the day.

"We won't what we expected," U. S. coaches Sherman Chavoor and Don Gambril said, conceding victories by Holland's Ada Kok in the 100-meter butterfly and East Germany's Sabine Steinbach and Frank Wiegand in the 200-meter backstroke and 200-meter individual medley, respectively.

But both the coaches and Schollander left no doubts that next year's Olympics here will be tough.

"It will be difficult, but not impossible, for someone to win four gold medals next year in swimming," Schollander said, "but it won't be me.

"Since I've been 12 years old, I've been planning retirement after 1968 because then I'll be out of school and practice will be tough." But he plans to go out big.

Schollander, of Saratoga, Calif., teamed with Robie, Peter Williams of Pittsburgh and Andy Strenk of Fullerton, Calif., for a relay time of 3:49.1 to beat Mexico, the only other entry.

Robie won his race 7:8.9 as he outswam two Russians and won by four-tenths of a second. Miss Barkman was clocked in 1:01.0, two seconds ahead of Linda Gustavson of Santa Clara, Calif.

Wiegand's time was 2:20.5, enough to beat Hans Ljungberg of Sweden and third-place Williams. Miss Steinbach finished ahead of Kendis Moore of Phoenix, Ariz., in a time of 2:32.8 to Miss Moore's 2:33.9.

Miss Kok, who won the 100-meter butterfly Wednesday, easily won her event in 2:24.8, but like all other times, it was far off her world record of 2:21.0. Patty Caretto of Whittier, Calif., took third.

James Wellington of Philadelphia advanced to the Saturday's final in the light welterweight boxing class by stopping Alfredo Morales of Mexico in the third round. Martin Bersewsky of the United States was outpointed by Mario Casati of Italy in the middleweight class and Arthur Redden of the United States was outpointed by Dank Poznyak of Russia in the light-heavyweight division.

Be still

"For of such is the kingdom of God." Luke 18: 16.

The sable of the night is gone and bright each coming day
Since some eager youngsters came and chose our house to stay.
We lucky parents everywhere
know there is no joy
That can surpass the presence of a little girl or boy.
The only thing they grow so fast, and soon they will take wing,
But even then in memory those years will all be spring!

Kenya-Somali Peace Talks To Begin

By DENNIS NEELD
Associated Press Writer

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Summit talks open this weekend in an attempt to end the four-year guerrilla war along the frontier between Kenya and Somalia in which nearly 3,000 have died.

Zambia's President Kenneth Kaunda will act as mediator at the peace conference in Arusha, northern Tanzania, between President Jomo Kenyatta of Kenya and Premier Mohammed Ibrahim Egal of the Somali Republic.

Presidents Julius Nyerere of Tanzania and Milton Obote of Uganda have been invited to attend as observers. A closer neighbor to the disputed frontier, Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, has not. He and Somalia have their own border troubles.

Kenya and Somalia agreed at the recent African summit meeting in the Congo to settle their long-standing border dispute by peaceful means. If they come to terms, general discussion may follow on Zambia's desire to join Kenya, Uganda and Tanzania in an East African common market.

The war along Kenya's arid northeastern frontier has spluttered on since shortly before Kenya became independent of Britain in December 1963.

Nomads of Somali origin make up the majority of the regon's population, and many took up arms in a guerrilla campaign to unite with the neighboring Somali Republic. Somalia broke off relations with Britain and never established them with independent Kenya.

The Somali government in Mogadishu got Soviet assistance to build up its army, and Somali territorial claims against Kenya, Ethiopia and French Somalia have been a constant source of friction.

Kenya charges the Somali government with arming and training the guerrillas. Most of Kenya's 5,000-man army has been engaged in combating the elusive foe, who raid trading centers and police posts deep inside the frontier.

The guerrillas strew the desert roads with deadly plastic mines believed made in Egypt, and development of the area has been brought almost to a standstill.

The war reportedly is costing Kenya $14 million a year.

NOW WE GET THAT HOUR BACK

Standard Time To Return

By ROBERT HEARD
Associated Press Writer

The government offers everyone a silver platter Sunday with one great big hour of sleep on it.

That is the day Daylight Saving Time ends. And Texas seem pretty intact although bitter predictions of ruin were issued by persons who didn't like the idea of the time change.

The legislative could have prevented Daylight Saving Time in Texas by exempting the state from the federal Uniform Time Act.

It hears pleas for standard time from farmers, some businessmen, restaurants, drive-in movie operators and others for retention of standard time.

It heard stock brokers, television station managers, transportation executives and others plead for daylight time to conform to most other states.

Then the legislature took no action, which in effect ushured Texas into daylight time.

Now, the state and nation revert to standard time at 2 a.m. Sunday. Set your clock back an hour.

If anyone has difficulty remembering whether to set the clock forward or back, a little story has been developed: Consider yourself in a flight with a larger person. Spring foward, Fall back.

DST was supposed, by some predictions, to ruin businesses, upset school children waiting for buses in the early morning darkness and make cows wonder what happened to the milkman.

Beer emporiums and private clubs, which must cut out the boozing at 1:15 a.m. every Sunday, can wait 45 minutes this Sunday and then fill up the glasses for some more drinking.

A spokesman for the Liquor Control Board says, "We will go by the clock."

If the happy juice people can hold their glow from 1:15 a.m. until 2 a.m., the can turn the clock back to 1 a.m. and strike a few more blows for liberty and justice.

At dinner Sunday night, it's going to seem like somebody put out the sun. Instead of setting at 6:46 p.m., as it would under DST, the sun will drop at 5:46 p.m.

And it will rise Monday at 6:48 a.m. instead of 7:48.

It'll be so bright outside you'll know you are late for work and rush down 50 minutes early, thinking you are tardy by your usual 10 minutes.

Instead of pressing the sheets for an extra 60 minutes, as any sane person would do, you will be impressing your boss.

Except he'll probably ask if you're sick.

Pope Paul, Patriarch Meet Today

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI and Orthodox Patriarch Athenagoras met today in the Pope's study for their longest private talk yet on ways to bring their two churches back together after 900 years apart.

While the 70-year-old Pope and 81-year-old patriarch conferred in French without interpreters, their aides met separately at the Vatican Secretariat for Christian Unity.

The meeting of the Pope and patriarch was regarded as the most important since they began work to unite their churches.

In meetings in Jerusalem three years ago and in Turkey last July they spoke only briefly. Today's meeting was to last most of the morning.

In his speech at St. Peter's Basilica Thursday, the silver-bearded Athenagoras stressed that "a dialogue of charity," must precede "a dialogue of theologians."

Pope Paul and his aides, on the other hand, have been anxious to move to specific issues which split the two churches into East and West in 1054, the major difference being over the primacy of the Pope.

Prelates from the Christian Unity Office, which handles the Vatican's relations with the Eastern Orthodox church, pointed out that the patriarch made a significant step toward recognizing the importance of Rome for both churches in Thursday's address.

"This seat," the patriarch declared in the largest church of Christendom, "is the first by honor and by order in the organism of Christian churches."

"EVERYONE PROSPERS WHEN YOU SHOP LOCALLY"

FAITH OPENS NEW HORIZONS WHEN YOU OPEN THE CHURCH DOOR

"This Way

- - - my boy," a proud father shouts. And a delighted lad takes his first steps to open arms of love and support.

How marvelous if this relationship can last through all the years. Why not? They are and they will remain father and son. And a good father, like God, never fails his children even when he cannot understand them.

These two make a team and likely will need each other for a long time. Then, frame the picture and give it a prominent place so each could think, "That's the way we began together." Trust and confidence and church-going leadership mark the older man.

But eager effort and glad cooperation for the high and the good will glorify the son. Father and mother, when they start stepping, it is time for you to start helping.

"In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths.

Prov. 3-6.

You In The Church The Church In You

— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.
