LANDON'S CHANCES IN MINNESOTA REST ON OLSON'S ILLNESS

This is the second of a series of articles by Frazier Hunt, world famous, globe-trotting reporter and magazine writer, based upon a four-week survey made in the "Mississippi Heat Bowl" area—America's great mid-west farm belt. Other articles, giving the political picture in the U. S. "bread basket", will follow daily.

BY FRAZIER HUNT

Copyright, 1936, NEA Service, Inc.)

THE key to Minnesota politics is a very sick man. His name is Governor Floyd Olson. If he were well and vigorous he would get himself elected to the U. S. Senate, carry his protege, the present Farmer-Labor Senator Benson, to the governor's chair, and deliver the 11 electoral votes of his state to Franklin Roosevelt.

But the attractive and once all-powerful Governor Olson will campaign little or not at all this fall, and at any moment may announce his withdrawal from the race for senatorship and the substitution of his friend, Chief Justice John P. Devaney of the state Supreme Court. With Olson in the race and actively for Roosevelt, Minnesota would be safe for Democracy — spelled with a large D.

FRAZIER HUNT

With Olson ill and out of the race this state and its important 11 electoral votes must be put in the somewhat doubtful column.

Olson's forced withdrawal from rough-and-tumble politics means that the Lemke-Coughlin combination can raid Olson's Farmer-Labor followers in northwestern Minnesota and in such cities as Duluth, and cut deeply into Roosevelt strength. Along with Michigan this state then becomes a sort of political no-man's land—or possibly anybody's land expresses it better.

Let's look at the past record. In 1932 Roosevelt carried the state by a plurality of 236,847—600,806 to 363,959 for Hoover. Since then there has been a considerable deflection from Roosevelt, intensified lately by the illness of Olson and the invasion of Lemke and Coughlin—as well as Townsend.

Lemke As Landon Peril

FROM a very keen observer in Minneapolis who spends his time over the whole state I got this general line-up of conditions:

"I'd say that Lemke will pull around 50,000 votes in Minnesota—mostly from the northwest drouth sections and from Duluth and this city. But I have a feeling that he'll draw more from Landon than from Roosevelt because most of his votes will come from anti-Roosevelt folks. And the same will be true for Townsend. The Doc has a big following here in Minnesota, but most of them are old Republicans, and if they are influenced by the Doc's personal bitterness against Roosevelt and vote for either Lemke or Landon, it will be pretty much because they feel that way themselves. Despite all this turn against Roosevelt, I can't help but believe that the President will still carry the state by more than 100,000."

From a second shrewd and seasoned old hand I got this surmise: "People here in radical Minnesota are not going to chase after butterflies when it comes to a national election. Third party protests only do well when elections are not close. This time they will want to make their vote count. If they're bitter against Roosevelt, they'll sock in a vote for Landon. If they're simply critical and want more they'll stick to Roosevelt—and it won't matter whether they are supposed to be for Lemke or Coughlin or Townsend."

An experienced political writer, who gets around a good deal, lined it up this way: "Olson's leaving the political picture will probably mean the end of his Farmer-Labor party. After all, it never did have any real national significance except in the minds of a few intellectual radicals here. The leaders were realistic and built up a strong machine within the state—and they wouldn't sacrifice an alderman or a state representative for the fantastic promise of a national organization . . . Minnesota will be close, but I think Roosevelt has the edge."

BLOODSHED IN FIGHTING IS CONTINUING

LOYALISTS ADMIT THAT REVOLT MIGHT LAST FOR MANY MONTHS

BY RAMON BLARDONY

Copyright 1936 by Associated Press

MADRID, Aug. 18—The socialist Spanish government, fighting to crush the fascist revolt, called today for new volunteers and urged women to take up manufacture of ammunition and winter clothing—tacitly admitting the 32-day old civil war might last many months.

With 80 per cent of its standing army of 235,000 troops authoritatively reported to be fighting for the rebels who want a fascist dictatorship, the socialist government sought volunteers to bolster its desperate drive to stop the march toward Madrid.

Bloodshed Continues

Bloodshed continued. Government forces, enraged by massacre of 1,500 loyalists in western Badajoz, ordered a "battle of extermination."

In hand to hand conflict, the opposing forces fought desperately in the Badajoz area close to the Portuguese border. But territorial gains were small.

Loyalists, aided by aerial bombers, asserted a rebel column was routed in Caceres province in an attempt to reach fascist forces at Badajoz.

Advance Is Slow

Loyalists were advancing slowly in the Andalusia provinces of the southern sector, the Madrid government asserted. The battle for Oviedo, on the far north, continued but the government was unable to force a path into the town.

The loyalists insisted three columns of their troops captured several towns on the isle of Mallorca.

Indications of decisive rebel victories came from fascist headquarters at Burgos. Government defenders were beaten back near Madrid, the fascists reported, and 600 loyalists were killed on the Zaragoza front in the north.

(Five hundred fascist hostages were burned alive in bombardment of San Sebastian, it was reported at St. Jean De Luz, France, when shells fell on a prison warehouse.)

The war map would appear to give rebels the advantage in the first month of fighting, but the battle of greatest importance had not resulted—a major advance on Madrid.

GOP CHIEF TO SEEK VOTES

JOHN D. HAMILTON IN TEXAS TODAY; WILL SPEAK AT DALLAS

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Aug. 18.—John D. Hamilton of Kansas, chairman of the national Republican committee, today brought his party's cause to Texas in an effort to move this normally-Democratic state in to the Republican column.

Hamilton is scheduled to speak tonight at the Texas Centennial after a conference with party leaders headed by R. B. Creager of Brownsville, Republican national committeeman. Hamilton will come here from Oklahoma City and will move to Sedalia, Mo., tomorrow.

Democrats Active

Meanwhile, Democrats were not without voice as "Hamilton day" was proclaimed at the Centennial. Myron Blalock of Austin, co-director of the national campaign in Texas, called upon Texans to turn out in next Saturday's primary and cast a heavy vote not only for Roosevelt and Garner but for state and district offices.

Blalock asked Texans to demonstrate party loyalty for benefit of other states, which, he said, are closely watching the political situation here.

Relief Units Work To Prevent Famine

MANILA, P. I., Aug. 18. (AP)—Philippine relief agencies combined today to prevent a famine in typhoon-swept northern Luzon island.

Thirteen people were known to have been killed by two typhoons which struck the islands Saturday, wiping out crops, leveling native huts, flooding mountain streams and crippling communication lines. Five fishermen were unaccounted for.

Negro Gambler Now Sought For Slaying

SUSPECT DODGES ARREST BY TWO MINUTES IN CHICAGO BUT CAPTURE IS SAID IMMINENT

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Aug. 18—Detectives investigating the fiendish slaying of Mrs. Mary Louise Trammell today swung into a widespread search for James Gray, 31-year-old negro gambler.

After receiving a telephone call at the central police station early today Sergt. James Coleman made a quick trip to an undisclosed destination, but returned to announce "we missed Gray by two minutes. However, his arrest is a matter of hours."

Hunt Is Launched

A note book and a gaudy green and white shirt prompted the hunt for Gray for questioning in connection with the death of the 24-year-old bride who was fatally beaten and choked by an assailant who crept into her hotel room Saturday night.

The note book contained a laundry ticket, notations on a horse race and policy game gambling, and a number of names and telephone numbers. It was found by William Schumacher after he frightened off a negro prowler who attempted to enter his State hotel room—directly below that of Mrs. Trammell—eight days ago.

Picture Identified

One telephone number led detectives to Miss Audrey Tatum, a negro entertainer. They hurried her to the laundry where the ticket was issued.

The bundle of clothing left there by the ticket holder was produced. From it the girl picked out the green and white shirt. She said it was worn by Gray when he recently visited the cabaret where she danced. She also identified a police

NEGRO SURRENDERS

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP)—James Gray, negro gambler, sought for questioning in connection with the hotel room slaying of Mrs. Mary Louise Trammell last Sunday, surrendered today to the police.

Gray walked into police headquarters and said he had read in the newspapers that he was being sought.

PAIR DEAD IN PLANE CRASH

PILOT AND MECHANIC ARE UNABLE TO USE THEIR PARACHUTES

(By The Associated Press)

ALLEGAN, Mich., Aug. 18.—An army pilot and his mechanic were killed today when a new two-place pursuit plane from Selfridge field, Mich., crashed near Otsego while taking part in the western Michigan war games.

Reports received at the operations office at Selfridge field said the plane was piloted by 2nd Lieut. William W. Harding, 25, air corps reserve, and that his mechanic was Private Francis Maier, of Dowagiac, Michigan. Harding's home was in Los Angeles.

In War Maneuvers

The plane, a PB-2, was one of eighteen participating in the war maneuvers.

The plane caught fire in flight, Mrs. W. D. Clock, who lives near the scene of the crash, related, and the fliers made an unsuccessful attempt to leap with their parachutes.

"The plane was one of six flying low overhead as we rushed out to watch them," she said. "Suddenly we saw a puff of smoke behind one of them. At first we did not realize it was on fire.

Falls From Formation

"Then the smoke became so heavy we knew it must be burning. We could see it break out of the formation and fall."

The planes attached to the "red" forces in the war maneuvers, were observing the movement of the thirty-second division of the "blue" forces to Camp Custer.

Arm Is Amputated Following Mishap

DALLAS, Aug. 18 (AP)—Physicians amputated the arm of Tommy Moore, 19, of Tyler, at the elbow last night after an automobile crash. The injured youth's condition was reported "satisfactory" by hospital attendants today.

RAIN PROVES AID

ST. PAUL, Aug. 18 (AP)—The first good rain since mid-June fell early today in northern Minnesota, greatly aiding 15,000 men fighting fires which had destroyed thousands of acres of timber and brush.

NAVAL BUDGET IS EXPANDED

BIG AMOUNT PLANNED FOR SHIP BUILDING BY JAP LEADERS

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Aug. 18.—Japan's navy officials, seeking funds for new warships, mapped a campaign today to swell the naval budget to record proportions.

The Domei (Japanese) news agency said navy office estimates for the coming fiscal year were believed to total 770,000,000 yen (about $223,300,000), of which 340,000,000 yen (about $98,600,000) would be expended for ship construction.

To Meet Expansion

The building program would be designed to meet naval expansion by the United States and Great Britain.

The budget estimates to be presented to the cabinet would exceed considerably the previous record of 522,000,000 yen (about $149,480,000) for the 1936-37 fiscal year.

Organization Will Be Perfected Here

Organization of the Institute of Agriculture is to be perfected at a smoker and supper tonight at 7 o'clock in the men's dormitory at Texas Technological college. Between 50 and 75 men are expected to attend.

Officers will be elected and a constitution adopted. R. L. Burdette of Lubbock is temporary president of the institute, purpose of which is to promote scientific agriculture in this section.

Ray L. Chappelle, associate professor of agricultural education at Tech, will serve as master of ceremonies.

Harry Richman Is On London Flight

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 18. (AP)—Harry Richman, New York and Hollywood actor and singer, and Dick Merrill, pilot, landed at the municipal airport here at 9:50 a. m., (CST) today, from Albuquerque, in Richman's specially built $100,000 plane.

It was the second stop on Richman's projected "commutation" flight to London after a hop from Los Angeles to Albuquerque.

Airport attendants servicing the plane said they understood Richman would take off for New York from here, but this was not immediately confirmed.

DOCTOR SUCCUMBS

GAINESVILLE, Aug. 18 (AP)—Dr. C. L. Maxwell, 65, died at his home at Myra, 12 miles west of here, today.

GIRL DENIES LOVE FOR HER MOTHER WHO IS BRANDED JUST AS STRANGER

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 18—Little Edith Fellows' testimony that she did not love her mother because "I'm not used to loving strangers" was considered today by Superior Judge Arthur Crum.

Edith, 13, whose screen forte is playing the part of a problem child, testified in the suit of her mother, Mrs. Harriet Fellows, to regain her custody from her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Fellows.

Judge Crum asked Edith, "Don't you love your mother?"

"No, I don't."

"Why not?" the court asked.

"I know my mother is trying to get me away from my grandmother. I might be willing to be friends with her if she'd leave me alone, but I'm not used to loving strangers."

The grandmother testified she took care of Edith since she was an infant, that she did housework to support her until the child started her film career.

WARNINGS ARE LOWERED IN GULF AREA

LIGHT RAINS FALL ON COAST BUT NO SIGN OF WINDS NOTED

(By The Associated Press)

BROWNSVILLE, Aug. 18—Storm warnings along the southern Texas coast, hoisted yesterday after a tropical disturbance was reported brewing in the Gulf of Mexico, were ordered lowered early today.

A weather bureau bulletin at [illegible] a. m. C. S. T. said the storm [illegible] would move inland into Mexico near or south of Tampico tonight. The report said the disturbance was attended by gales and probably winds of hurricane force over a small area near the center.

Barometer Rising

No stormy weather was reported along the Texas coast. A four-mile wind from the east prevailed here and at 8 a. m. the barometer reading was 29.86 and rising.

At Corpus Christi residents of the low areas returned to their homes. The skies were clear there after an early morning rain. It was raining intermittently at Port Aransas.

Every tropical disturbance to approach Texas thus far this season has veered sharply to the southwest and been spent over Mexican desert lands.

Wife Loses Arm As Husband Fires At Supposed Burglar

JASPER, Aug. 18 (AP)—E. Creel, rural store operator, mistook his wife for a burglar last night and shot off her left arm at the elbow.

Creel said they both were awakened by a noise. He said he [illegible] the front of their roadside store 14 miles west of here [illegible] were [illegible] the rear. He [illegible] came around the [illegible] the house and he fired.

CORN PRICES TOP TEN-YEAR RECORD

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP)—Corn prices [illegible] up the 4 [illegible] before [illegible] grain market [illegible] day [illegible] the highest [illegible] the last decade.

September corn led the [illegible] and [illegible] the maximum [illegible] closing at the top—1.16 7-8 [illegible] Not since May, 1928, has 1.16 been paid for corn deliverable in September. Not since June 1, 1925, when 1.19 5-8 a bushel was quoted, has a higher price been paid than that at which corn sold today.

Other deliveries of corn advanced about two cents a bushel in sympathy with the sharp upturn in September contracts. Corn specialists said supplies of the cereal available for delivery in Chicago next month when the contracts must be executed were thin.

Ships In Distress Off Pacific Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18. (AP)—Two fishing boats were crippled by a gale off the Lower California coast today, the radio of one of them becoming ominously silent after two frantic SOS calls.

Mackay Radio reported the Enterprise grounded off Tosco point, south of Magdalena bay, had not been heard since she wirelessed at 3:10 a. m.:

"Afraid can't stay with it much longer."

The second ship, the Magellan, lost her rudder and both anchors in the storm. She asked that nearby craft stand by but did not send out an SOS.

CLAIMED BY DEATH

FORT WORTH, Aug. 18. (AP)—Y. Y. Murphy, 76, a charter member of the Fort Worth typographical union number 198 and an employe of the Star-Telegram composing room for 26 years, died early today at the home of a daughter here. He had lived here for 46 years.

Cases Of Notorious Bandits Still Open

FEDERAL AGENTS ARE TRACKING DOWN CLUES IN CAREERS OF NATION'S PUBLIC ENEMIES

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The federal bureau of investigation disclosed today its agents still are tracking down the activities of four notorious criminals even though death and prison doors have closed the government's case against the men themselves.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the bureau, said the government had yet to finish its investigations in the careers of Thomas Henry Robinson, jr., and Alvin Karpis, convicted kidnapers, and also of Harry Campbell, member of Karpis' gang, and Raymond Hamilton, an associate of Clyde Barrow.

The justice department is unwilling to consider those cases closed, Hoover continued, until all persons who knowingly harbored any of the four have been brought to trial.

Hoover made the announcement while discussing with newspapermen the qualities of a new gun of tremendous power which now is being tested by the justice department.

This weapon, which one official said was capable of "stopping anything," is being subjected to experimentation to determine whether it shall become a part of the standard equipment of Hoover's "G-men."

Weighing from 44 to 49 ounces, this weapon is said to inflict a terrible wound, the impact of a bullet carrying a force of 802 pounds. This is over twice the shocking power of the regular automatic.

Vocational Leaders Are Speakers Here

SOIL PROJECT TO BE VISITED BY GROUP ON WEDNESDAY

Two leaders of vocational agriculture in Texas, Paul [illegible] Haynes, director and executive [illegible], and E. R. Alexander, teacher trainer at A & M, discussed professional work before the conference of vocational teachers of Northwest Texas this morning. The conference will continue during the afternoon.

Wednesday's program includes a visit to one of the soil erosion projects, either Littlefield or Hereford. C. Luker, Amarillo, and a group of soil conservation officials will be here for a several day [illegible].

Haynes Is Speaker

O. T. Ryan opened the [illegible] in the chemistry building auditorium at 10 o'clock. Mr. Haynes gave a talk to the teachers on their relations with their work, with the school and with their [illegible]. He announced that 250 requests for departments had been received by Texas, not all of which could be met.

"Ability to get along with your superintendent, board members and patrons is fifty per cent of your vocational work," he told the teachers.

"The finest working relationship with the extension service of any state," was reported for Texas. He termed the vocational work the extension service of soil [illegible].

Paper Is Read

Mr. Alexander read a [illegible] paper on "What is the Future of Farming in the United States." In it he discussed the economic situation, conditions and trends of agriculture at the present time and the part teachers can play in the work.

J. B. Rutland, [illegible] spoke yesterday afternoon on the teacher's program for his students. He outlined the plans for the year's work.

The conference is in reality a school designed to give teachers of the subject a better insight into their work and methods of education.

Others Expected

Some fifty-two teachers out of the 60 in the area registered Monday. Others are expected later.

J. B. Mims, U.S.D.A. of the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, discussed screw worm control. He urged teachers to co-operate with the department and its district supervisors, in this area.

TITLE FIGHT IS CALLED OFF

CHAMPION WILL ENTER HOSPITAL TO HAVE MINOR OPERATION

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 18—Joe Gould, manager of heavyweight Champion James J. Braddock, announced today the scheduled title bout between Braddock and Max Schmeling is definitely off.

Gould said Braddock will enter a New York hospital Thursday to have an operation performed on his left hand by Dr. Irvin Ballenstwert.

Would Be Unwise

"The fight is off for this year," Gould said. "I can't let Jim fight with a bad hand. At least five doctors advised us that it would be unwise for him to do any boxing for at least three months."

Gould and Braddock were scheduled to appear this afternoon before the New York state athletic commission to request a postponement of Braddock's title defense against the German conqueror of Joe Louis next month.

"I don't care what the commission does," said Gould. "The fight is off as far as we are concerned."

News To Jacobs

Joe Jacobs, manager of Schmeling, said the whole thing is news to him.

"We are going down to the commission meeting to find out what it's all about," said Jacobs. "So far as we know the fight is on. Why only yesterday I completed arrangements for Schmeling to train at Speculator, N. Y."

Earlier today Promoter Mike Jacobs said that he would be "seriously interested in matching Schmeling against the winner of tonight's bout between Louis and Jack Sharkey in the event the Braddock-Schmeling fight is called off."

"We'll stand for nothing of the kind," roared Joe Jacobs. "Schmeling earned a crack at the title when he knocked out Louis two months ago. We're going to fight Braddock for the crown — no substitutes for us."

LOOKS LIKE MRS. HOUSEWIFE WILL BE FORCED TO LOOK FOR BARGAINS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Experts "guessed" today that it won't be long before the housewife lays out from $11 to $12 for the same basket of food she now buys for a ten-dollar bill.

Government and private experts, admitting that exact estimates are impossible, nevertheless forecast upward revision of the family grocery budgets.

They explained that when the scorching sun shriveled crops in recent months the dollar's food purchasing power went into a dive. It already has affected milk, butter and eggs in some places, and eventually will reach meats, they said.

The experts said their "best guesses" were based upon what happened after that drouth two years ago.

Consumer purchasing power, which was on the upgrade after the 1934 drouth and has been reported increasing since, also plays an important part in food prices, they said.

WIDE AREA TO RECEIVE AID IN PROGRAM

INFORMATION IS BEING GATHERED IN TEXAS BY COMMITTEEMEN

BY FRANK I. WELLER

Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18—Drouth relief for three-fourths of the entire farm population of the Dakotas by late fall was forecast by one government official today as others discussed a proposed sheep purchase program and additional aid for the dry area.

Aubrey Williams, deputy WPA administrator, said that regardless of favorable changes in weather conditions approximately 75 per cent of the total farm population of North Dakota and South Dakota will need relief.

Jobs To Be Opened

He announced that 25,000 additional farmers in each state would be given jobs in the next few days.

M.

Mrs. N. E. Coleman will be 71 years old August 18.

The reunion was the first in 15 years.

Needlers Will Meet On Wednesday

The Happy Hour Needle club will meet Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Claude Keeton, 1711 Seventeenth street, with Mrs. Nel Smiley as assistant hostess.

Gertrude Michael, a concert pianist by training, now plays the instrument for the first time in a picture. She sings, too.

Local Pianist Is To Play In Dallas

Mrs. Jed A. Rix, concert pianist, has accepted an invitation of the Dallas Centennial committee to appear in an hour's concert in Dallas on September 12. She will play in the Chrysler theater of the Transportation building at 6 p. m.

Mrs. Rix who has studied a number of years with nationally recognized musicians, including Percy Grainger, internationally known artist, is a recent pupil of Rudolph Gantz of Chicago. She is a member of Lubbock Music club, and was presented in concert here last spring by the Lubbock Junior Welfare league.

Saturday Bride Is Honored At Shower

Mrs. John Leslie and Mrs. Solon Clements entertained with a bridal shower and rainbow party Monday afternoon in the Clements home at 1620 Seventh street honoring Mrs. Joe McClinton. The honoree and Mrs. Leslie are sisters.

As the bride entered the room rainbow colored confetti "rained" on her. In a window across the room was a "rainbow" at the foot of which was a pot of gold containing miscellaneous gifts.

A musical program was presented by Miss Eileen Booker.

Rainbow ice cream was served and plate favors were bags of rice in rainbow colored cellophane tied at the tops with tube roses.

The bride was Miss Mary Jo Doak before her marriage Saturday night.

Doris Claye Ruddell Honored Monday

Doris Claye Ruddell was honored on her seventh birthday Monday afternoon when Mrs. M. G. Bowles entertained with a party at a city park. After games were played, snapshots were taken of the guests. A birthday cake was cut and served with ice cream.

Church Societies Study Of Missions

As usual on Monday afternoons, meetings of church societies were of importance to a number of Lubbock women yesterday. Members of the First Christian church attended a luncheon and book review meeting of the Woman's council department of education. Two societies met in circles and other societies had general meetings.

The following program was presented at the luncheon, in the church annex:

Invocation, the Rev. W. R. Vivrett; group song, "Take Time To Be Holy," with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Vivrett; roll call, answered by names of books read since the last meeting, Mrs. John Wherry, educational director; vocal solo, "Why Did He Love Me So?" Mrs. Townsen Waddill; review of "Christ and Human Suffering" (E. Stanley Jones), Mrs. Ance English.

Mrs. Kolb Chairman

The luncheon was arranged by Mrs. J. W. Kolb, committee chairman, and Mesdames T. Teal and Grady West.

Attending were Mesdames A. M. Johnson, S. J. McFarland, M. O. Owens, Roxie Crausbay, C. C. Files, Newman McFarland, J. E. Cagle, D. N. Leaverton, J. A. Frazier, B. H. Moore, J. A. Raley, jr., L. D. Thomas, Fred Rea, H. D. Phillips, J. O. Jones, H. L. Pharr, L. W. Squyres, Teal, English, Wherry, West, J. F. Gregory and several guests.

Nan Abbott, Peggy Ann Johnson, Leta Covington, Rev. Mr. Vivrett and Mesdames Waddill, A. B. Covington and Leon J. Thomas of Duncan, Okla.

At Baptist Church

"A Summer Cruise Through Home Mission Fields" was subject of the following program which was presented at a meeting of the First Baptist Women's Missionary society at the church:

Opening song, "My Jesus I Love Thee;" prayer, Mrs. C. N. James; devotional of wishes, Mesdames A. T. Cocanougher and Carl Francis; "Indian Trails," Mrs. W. B. Yeager; "Italians in Tampa," Miss Florence Stark; saxophone duets, Mesdames J. G. Thornhill and Harry LeMaire; and vocal duets, Mesdames O. A. Tyner and J. R. Leftwich, with all piano accompaniments by Mrs. J. G. Wilkerson; prayer, Mrs. Annie Jackson; "Mexicans In Bastrop" and "French In Louisiana," Miss Mary Knight; "Work In St. Louis Among Many Nationalities," Miss Marion James; dismissal song, "Must Jesus Bear the Cross Alone?"

Forty-seven women, including a visitor, Mrs. O. D. Peters of San Antonio, were present.

In Methodist Chapel

"He Healeth Our Diseases" was subject of the program presented at a meeting of the First Methodist W. M. S. in the church chapel, as follows:

Violin solo, Miss Alda Alston, accompanied by Mrs. C. G. Stinson on the piano; scripture, Mrs. Ed Terrell; meditation, "His Hand Upon Us," Mrs. E. L. Conover; vocal solo, Miss Dimple Waston; talk on "Cooperative Healing," message from Union Women's Medical college in Shanghai, Mrs. M. B. Hilburn. All piano music was played by Mrs. Stinson.

Mrs. I. F. Kennedy presided for a short business session, preceding the program.

AMENDED PLEA IS ON FILE

TOTAL OF 599 VOTES DECLARED ILLEGAL IN DEMO PRIMARY

Alleging that 599 votes were cast illegally in the first Democratic primary election July 25, County Attorney Jess C. Levens has filed his first amended original petition in his election contest suit in 72nd district court.

Defendants are L. C. Ellis, Democratic chairman; members of the party's executive committee; Robert J. Allen, who has been certified as the party's nominee for county attorney; Ed D. Allen, county clerk, who will prepare the ballot for the November general election.

Charge Is Entered

County Attorney Levens has charged that he would have been the nominee for county attorney except for illegal voting.

Levens, who sets out in his amended pleadings alleged voting infractions in the seven Lubbock and four Slaton boxes, modified the number of those he formerly charged had voted illegally. In his first original petition he had cited there were 768 such votes, in Lubbock alone. Monday's amended petition listed 599. He said he had removed 240 names and had tacked on 71, the latter coming from the four Slaton boxes.

By boxes, illegal votes were alleged to have been cast as follows:

Lubbock—Box 1, 91; box 2, 52; box 3, 43; box 4, 67; box 27, 58; box 28, 124; box 33, 93.

Slaton—Box 25, 8; box 24, 16; box 26, 31; box 5, 16.

TIP-TOP CLUB IS DEFEATED AT AMHERST

LEFTY HAMBRIGHT IS TIGHT WITH HITS TO WIN, 9-1

AMHERST, Aug. 18 (Special)—Pitching three-hit ball and fanning 19 batsmen, Lefty Gaut Hambright again strode into the South Plains baseball spotlight yesterday as his Amherst club defeated Jimmy Williams and Berl Huffman's Lubbock Tip-Top Cafe nine in the concluding first round game of the Amherst invitation tournament.

The score was 9 to 1, as Amherst gained sweet revenge for the defeat suffered in the final and championship game of the recent Lubbock invitational, which the Tip-Toppers won.

The tournament continues today with Enochs playing Sudan in the one-game program. Enochs has been reinforced by the addition of Charley Pressley and Bill Holloway of the Lubbock Hubber team, and the rumor is that Lefty Jerry Blanchard will pitch for the Enochs club.

Sudan, a team eliminated early in the Lubbock tournament, shows vast improvement, and is expected to give Enochs a battle today. The club has improved particularly in the pitching department. Ken Minyard, formerly of the Amherst team, a right-hander with plenty of stuff, is booked to pitch for Sudan in today's game.

Wednesday Schedule

On Wednesday, the Dodd City team will play Fred Rich's Anton club in what should be a well-contested scrap.

The Tip-Toppers got to Hambright for three hits and their one run in the first three innings. After that, it was practically up and down for the Lubbock team, as Hambright did his stuff.

A total of 19 batsmen were left at the plate, soldiering or swinging, as the "Dizzy Dean" of the South Plains burned his fast curve over the platter. Lubbock scored in the third inning on a walk, an error and a single. Outside of that, it was a shutout for Mr. Hambright.

The Amherst offense started in the first inning, the Reds tallying twice in the first, adding four in the second. The first two runs were results of two errors and two hits, and in the second inning Guy Alddredge, first baseman, hit a home run with "Daddy" Gee perched on second. Gee had doubled to score two runs just before.

The score changed in the third when John Bradley hit a homer over the left field wall.

Lefty Demp Webster, who won two games for the Tip-Top team in the Lubbock tournament, checked the Amherst attack then for three innings. Tox Wiginton then went to the mound and Amherst chalked up two more runs, pitched one runless inning.

Meantime Hambright had pitched almost faultless baseball, and the cause was won for the Amherst tribe.

The score by innings:

Lubbock .... 001 000 000—1 3 5
Amherst .... 241 000 20x—9 9 1

D. Webster, Wiginton and Payne, Huffman; Hambright and Bennett.

THEY'RE PLAYING a heap of baseball over aat Mayor H. N. Tapley's Amherst town this week, and the customers at Welch Park are having a heap of fun.

This info comes second hand, just now, from our worthy correspondent Bob Cannon, but we're joining Bob at the press table today and later in the week to get the real low down.

Amherst is the town which harbors the red-breeched ball nine headed by Lefty Gaut Hambright, and a world of baseball enthusiasm. That is the club which finished second in the Lubbock tournament recently, slipped up on by the Tip-Toppers. Amherst got its revenge yesterday for that humiliation.

It is tournament baseball they're playing over there this week, six teams, five of which played in the Lubbock tournament, are having it out among themselves. Teams of Enochs and Sudan are scheduled to meet this afternoon, with Anton and Dodd City, the only stranger, tangling Wednesday p. m. Both are second round games.

The Amherst folks turned out mighty nice for the Lubbock tournament, backing their Reds to the last ditch, and giving up the kind of encouragement you like to see a gang of fans give. We were glad to have them over; their patronage not only was a valuable physical asset to the tournament but it helped swell the prize purse in which their own players participated heavily.

So let us Lubbock baseball bugs visit the Amherst park this week, support our own entry in the tournament there and show Amherst that it isn't the only sports loving public on the Plains. We've got a park, too, now, thanks to encouragement from Amherst. It's up to the baseball minded citizens of this city to show our appreciation.

THE HUBBERS, who have been going nicely since their disastrous tournament experience, are facing a rather stern test here next Sunday. See Amherst tournament ball during the week, but save a few shekels for the Sunday engagement at the local park, because Doc Cook is bringing over his blue-clad Wilson Ramblers, and they're coming over with a vengeance.

The hard-luck team of the tournament, unless the Hubbers claim that distinction, Wilson was doubly depressed by finishing out of the money for the first time in its tournament history. In every tournament Wilson has entered, up to the Lubbock series, it has taken away enough kopeks to pay expenses. But they were jolted plumb out of the picture, the Wilson Blues were, in the local tilts. Enochs gave them the first jolt, winning that 14-inning contest, 9 to 8. It took Amherst two days to finally remove Wilson, the rain coming after five scoreless innings one day and causing postponement.

Look out for a stiff scrimmage when Wilson comes over here Sunday. The game will start at 3 o'clock. The local association is putting up quite a chunk of spinach to entice the Wilson crew over here, and the local association believes it'll be a good investment from a baseball point of view.

AND SPEAKING of baseball, which we dearly love to do, this chronicler witnessed a great ball game t'other night in Big D. As part of the vacation swing, we visited Steer Stadium on the night big Fred Firpo Marberry was to chunk against Fort Worth. Now the Cats, lowly as they are when you count the Texas League standings, have given and are giving the Steers, class of the conference, more trouble than any other club. The Cats can't beat anybody else much, but they can go to town when the Steers stand in the way.

So they did. Marberry pitched a great game, a four-hitter. He got mighty nice support from his mates, who turned in one of the best infielding games we ever saw. Dallas was leading, 1 to zero, and that one run was looking pretty big as the game proceeded. It was one of those airtight things.

The Cats came up in the ninth, and Marberry struck out the first. The second man was retired. The third one hit a hard one through second that could have been a hit, maybe, but the second baseman, Les Mallon, juggled it slightly. Then what did Catcher Brittain do but slap one into the nickel bleachers for a round trip! It was a tough one to lose. Ordinarily, we'd be for the Cats, win or lose, but we sure wanted old Firpo to win that one, which would have been his eighth. He got that eighth one Sunday, pitching a two-hitter to blank Beaumont, 2-0.

Them Dallas boys are right classy. One of the most pleasing sights at the game, however, was that crowd. Eight thousand of them, maybe a few more. All that kept it from being a perfect set-up was the time of day. Baseball just ain't what it is supposed to be when the sun goes down and the lights turn up.

Talked with Marberry before the game, in the dugout. He's the same old laughing, joking, playful Firpo who rides special trains with the Lubbock and Texas Tech gang, and apparently satisfied to be in the bushes. He takes his Texas League seriously, no doubt, but the wear and tear on the nervous system isn't so great and Fred shows it. He likes night baseball, strangely enough, for pitching purposes, but is thoroughly disgusted with his hitting. "There's big, gaping holes in every bat I pick up," he grumbled. "I'm hitting about .040 now, but I've gotta hustle like the dickens to keep it up that high."

TITLE BATTLE FACES DELAY

JAMES BRADDOCK WILL BE EXAMINED TODAY REGARDING INJURY

NEW YORK, Aug. 18. (AP)—The New York Times says that plans for a heavyweight championship bout between Jimmy Braddock and the German challenger, Max Schmeling, next month may have to be cancelled because of an injury to Braddock's left hand.

The champion is to appear at the meeting of the New York state athletic commission today for an examination, the paper says, and it has been learned from a reliable source that Braddock already has consulted a doctor and has made tentative arrangements to enter a hospital for an operation on the injured hand.

The injury, which has developed during Braddock's two months of preliminary training at Loch Sheldrake, N. Y., is an enlargement of the joint of the little finger of the left hand, a common ailment among boxers. It had become aggravated to such an extent that Braddock's arm becomes virtually paralyzed up to the elbow when he closes his fist.

MANAGER SHOWS WAY IN HITTING

By The Associated Press

Manager Ira Smith of the Houston Buffs not only can throw a baseball, but he can hit one.

Smith's scorching triple to right-center field last night drove in two runs and gave Houston a 4 to 3 victory over Tulsa—the seventh straight victory in succession for the bayou boys.

The league-leading Dallas Steers also showed what timely hitting can do for a ball game. The Mavs hit when hits meant runs and defeated the Beaumont Exporters in the last and deciding game of their series, 6 to 3.

At San Antonio the Missions took the last game of the Fort Worth series 4 to 3, to split the four-game engagement.

Oklahoma City's Indians had to catch a train for San Antonio, and the Indians and Galveston ended a nine-inning game knotted up, 2 and 2.

Former Champ For Discus Throw Now Is Deputy Sheriff

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 18 (AP)—Strong-armed Lillian Copeland, 1932 Olympic women's discus champion, went to work as a deputy sheriff today.

The bobbed-haired, bespectacled athlete has a shiny badge and a temporary appointment, but she must pass a civil service examination in 60 days to keep her present detail.

The last discus throw lost her the feminine title in the Amsterdam Olympics in 1928. Four years later she won on the last throw here. As a University of Southern California co-ed, she won national championships with the shot, discus and javelin.

GOMEZ BELTED OFF HILL TO DROP GAME

SENATORS POUND HIM HARD IN JUST ONE INNING TO COP

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's hard to find a reason why Joe McCarthy should be having any serious headaches with his Yankees leading the American league by 11 1-2 games and acclaimed as almost certain pennant winners, but if Joe ever suffers from migraine the cause probably is Vernon Gomez.

Gomez, who once seemed destined to supplant Lefty Grove as baseball's outstanding southpaw, has been belted off the hill with almost monotonous regularity since the early part of the season.

Lasts One Inning

The slim senor, who hasn't won a game since July 4, lasted just one inning against Washington yesterday and he gave away enough runs to let the Senators win 7-5.

"LEFTY" GOMEZ

The only reason that shellacking didn't decrease the New York lead was that the White Sox, in hot pursuit of third place, teed off against Johnny Allen and belted over the runner-up Cleveland Indians 7 to 3 in the day's only other major league game.

Gehrig Rolls Along

While Gomez was giving up five hits and a walk for five Senator runs in the opening inning, Lou Gehrig, who was hailed as the new iron man just three years before when he played his 1,308th consecutive game to surpass Everett Scott's former major league record, kept rolling along.

He eased off his week-end pace, when he hit three homers in as many games to bring his total to 38. But Lou, playing despite an injured finger and a lame back, got his daily hit, a double. He failed, however, to keep up with young Joe DiMaggio, who socked his 20th homer and two singles.

WILSON TO CLASH WITH HUB OUTFIT

A baseball game that may be one of the individual features of the local season is booked for Parris Field Sunday afternoon when Lubbock Hubbers and the Wilson Blues, "hard luck" teams of the recent Lubbock tournament, clash in a post-mortem contest.

Doc Cook's Wilson club, which never failed to finish out of the money in any tournament it ever entered until the Lubbock tilts, has been trying to get at the Hubbers all season, but first one thing and then another bobbed up to prevent the meeting.

So it's arranged now, and the Hubbers will be facing the blue-clad Wilson hitters and fielders here at 3 o'clock Sunday.

Wilson was a pre-tournament favorite having finished second a year ago to the Hubbers, and Sled Allen's Hub Clothiers were figured to give the tournament field a fit. But it didn't work out that way. They both went out the pay door at the hands of Amherst, which later took second place.

Armstrong Returns For Fight Tonight

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 18 (AP)—Henry Armstrong, St. Louis negro who won California-New York recognition as featherweight champion two weeks ago, returns to the boxing wars tonight in a 10-round bout with Juan Zurita, of Mexico City.

Although carrying out his pledge to be a "fighting champion," when he outpointed Baby Arizmendi Aug. 4, Armstrong is leaving his title outside the ring in an overweight agreement.

MACKEY IS TO MEET PARKS

FRENCHY LA BELLE IS TO TACKLE MARVEL IN MAIN BOUT

The referee charged Cyclone Mackey with fouling and gave the match to Herb Parks, the clean fellow from Vancouver, when the two clashed in a special wrestling go at Amarillo the other night.

Which is something of a surprise, a two-fold surprise. Mackey rarely loses his temper to the extent of persistent fouling, particularly against a clean opponent. Secondly, it's a rare thing when a grappler, no matter how tough, is disqualified in this circuit.

So Mackey must have been pretty gruff and rough with Parks. Herb won the match on a foul, which was welcome at the time, no doubt, but which displeased him the longer he thought about it. So he asked for a return match with the ex-Clovis barber.

Sled Likes Prospects

Promoter Sled Allen of Lubbock decided it looked like a pretty fair proposition, so he signed 'em up. They'll be at Sled's place Wednesday night primed to do battle in the semi-final or special event.

The supporting card should do right well this week. Larry Tillman, the blonde Oklahoman is booked with Jack Hagen, golf playing Shreveport wrestler in the curtain raiser.

It all leads up to what may be one of the wildest brawls in local mat history. Hairy-faced Frenchy La Belle, one of Canada's most feared citizens, is going to try his luck against the champion of them all, ten-hooded sensation commonly known as The Mask, or the Masked Marvel.

That's the main event dish and the kind of a dish the local wrestling public never fails to go for.

HIT IMPORTED MUSIC

NANKING (AP)—The ministry of the interior, which is responsible for rites and ceremonies, has asked native musicians to compose suitable marches which can be played by the three to seven piece brass bands which head every procession, and thus supplant "Dixie," "Tipperary" and other imported tunes which now form the musical accompaniment for Chinese funerals and weddings.

Time To Pick Best Player Is Nearing

SPORTS SCRIBE GUESSES EARLY AND CLAIMS LES MALLON AS MAN TO RECEIVE HONORS

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Aug. 18—It's nearing time for Texas league moguls to name the loop's most valuable player of the year. . . . Stiff precedents have been set in the past. . . . The redoubtable Dizzy Dean won the first award in 1931. . . . Hank Greenberg, Beaumont's first baseman, bagged the trophy in 1932. . . .

Two shared it in 1933, Zeke Bonura of Dallas and George Darrow, the Galveston twirler. . . . Charlie English, Galveston second sacker and Ashley Hillin, still San Antonio's ace pitcher, were the 1934 winners. . . . Rudy York, the third first baseman to win the honor, was last year's winner. . . . This corner comes out early and guesses it will be Les Mallon, Dallas second baseman, this year. . . . Or could it be Frank Croucher, Beaumont's second sacker?

Mervin Connors, the sensational rookie who tuckered out with Dallas in the spring, is going great guns with Longview in the East Texas league. . . . Despite a late start of 30 days, Connors has parked 25 home runs. . . . Nine of his circuit smacks were propelled over the Longview fence, which is something when one learns only seven balls were clouted over those particular palings during the 1934 and 1935 seasons by all batsmen of the entire league. . . . Connors has developed a "whip" throw from third base and undoubtedly will be back in the Texas league next season.

Roy Weatherly, Cleveland's great rookie outfielder from Pineland, Texas, was tossed off the high school team because of his small stature. . . . Pineland high claims him now, however. . . . Paul Leblanc, the new Fort Worth hurler, is known as the pride of the bayous down in deep Southeast Texas. . . . He had refused for years to play in fast company because he didn't want to leave his family. . . . Heine Schuble and Johnny Rizzo, two products of the Houston junior leagues, will be honored Wednesday at Buffalo stadium by the American Legion, sponsors of diamond leagues for youngsters throughout the nation.

Francis Nelson, the former Beaumont schoolboy pitcher who chunked creditable ball for Dallas last year, after a series of tough breaks, has been purchased by the Boston Red Sox. . . . A broken ankle and an injured hand handicapped him considerably at the start of the season. . . . Seventy-five wronghanders are expected when the Tri-State Left-Handed Golfer's association tourney starts at Amarillo Sept. 6. . . . Lefthanders from Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma will compete.

WIDE-ARC SWING AIDS DUKE GOLFER DRIVE 'EM A MILE; YOUNGSTER NOW IS PLACED IN "BIG BERTHA" CLASS

DURHAM, N. C., Aug. 18 (AP)—Long range firing—from 265 to 290 yards down the fairways—is thrusting Henry Poe, jr., of Duke university, into golf's "big bertha" class.

Those who have watched the 21-year-old collegian smash them off the tee believe he is the most formidable long-hitting amateur since Lawson Little left the simon-pure ranks.

Among those who have marveled at Poe's distance is Walter Hagen, who, after playing him in an exhibition match, compared the youth with the long-hitting Jimmy Thompson.

GOSH, 390 YARD DRIVE !!
YEA, HE USES HIS PUTTER FOR THE 250 YARD HOLES

Longest Was 401 Yards

"The lad should develop into one of the greatest players in the game," commented the Haig.

Poe sometimes clouts incredible drives. His longest traveled 401 yards with a following wind.

Not infrequently he amazes his partners by sending the ball from 340 to 390 yards on fairways.

Standing 6 feet 2 inches, Poe has developed an unusually wide-arc swing that allows him to obtain such great distance.

First Tournament In '32

The youngster got his initial taste of competitive play in the Tournament of Gardens at Charleston, S. C., in 1932. While he didn't finish among the leaders, he did make seasoned campaigners gasp by his range from the tee.

In 1933 he advanced to the quarter-final round of the Carolinas amateur and the next year won the Myers park, Charlotte, N. C., tourney from a crack field.

Last season he lambasted golf balls for the Duke varsity which was undefeated in 11 matches and winner of the state and southern conference crowns.

JOE LOUIS IS FAVORITE IN BIG BATTLE

BUT THE EXPERTS ARE SHY IN FORECASTS ON HIS ABILITY

BY ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 18—They've made Detroit's Joe Louis a 7 to 5 favorite to beat Jack Sharkey, the aging Boston tavern keeper, in their ten-round bout at the Yankee stadium tonight.

But the experts who have fixed those odds or agreed that they are about right already are wondering if they have made another mistake.

May Be Punch Shy

There is the possibility that the Brown Bomber may be a bit "punch shy" after the beating he took at Max Schmeling's hands last spring, but he can't be any more shy than those experts who made him a 10 to 1 favorite or predicted he would knock out the German schlager inside four rounds.

With the top price the lowest it has been for any of the dark demon's New York appearances, Promoter Mike Jacobs predicted the stadium will be filled to about half its 90,000 capacity, producing a gate of about $200,000 at 8 p. m. (CST).

Angles To Consider

On the Louis side, because of his remarkable performances before Schmeling blasted the legend of his invincibility, there are more angles to consider than there are in a labyrinth.

For example, there is the question whether Louis, in a short but intensive tutoring session, has learned how to defend himself against the "sucker punch," the right-hand wallop that laid him low before.

Sharkey, the 33-year-old former champion, offers some angles of his own. He retired a couple of years ago with plenty of money and a desire for peace and quiet after a career marked by strange ups and downs, bad fights when he should have made good ones and vice versa.

Now the faithful are wondering whether he can stage a real comeback. His preliminary bouts have not shown much one way or another.

John Moody, mentioned by historians as the real founder of the American stage, was a barber when not fulfilling his duties as actor-manager.

AT the moment—and it probably will continue for some time—leaders of American business are worrying over the approaching invasion of co-operatives.

For several months now, the national administration has had numerous commissions working in Europe—principally in Sweden—quietly digging into co-operatives, their scope and their methods of operation. Indications are that the next great experiment to be fostered by the New Deal in the event of Mr. Roosevelt's re-election will be along that line.

Granting that the success of co-operatives in this country will change the business structure and generally play hob with individual effort, talent and ability, it is safe to say that present worry over the matter is wasted time.

If co-operatives are successful in the United States, all the crying and kicking in the traces will not change the picture. Once here they will be here to stay.

If they are not successful, they won't last.

AS in the case of chain stores and self-serving groceries co-ops, if they fill the bill from the standpoint of the great mass of buyers, will remain regardless of minority opposition.

ON the heels of the City commission's holding to the 55-cent tax rate the County commission has set a 50 cent level, thus continuing the theory in both official and unofficial circles here that low tax rates are inductive to citizens with money to invest to move to Lubbock and make their homes.

While the age of pioneering in the raw is over as far as we are concerned, this city still offers almost unlimited opportunities for advancement and expansion.

By holding the tax rates down lower than can be found in most places, city and county officials are doing their part to make advancement and expansion possible.

The new stadium at Texas Tech is rapidly taking form and another 10 days—weather permitting—will see it ready to welcome crowds at the first grid game in September.

Doctor Peter Willis Cawthon and his able aide, Professor Russell T. Smith, have been having the time of their lives since work began on the addition to the plant. Both of them are running around with hammers and crowbars in their hands, dressed in old clothes and going through the motions of lending a hand on the job. While they are grave in their demeanor and remind all comers that "a new stadium always means a house-cleaning in the coaching department," they wouldn't take a million dollars in Chinese money for the fun they are having.

If you haven't looked over the stadium setup since Bill McMillan and his lads started making the welkin ring with the music of the hammer and the saw, you ought to drop out there some evening and give it the double-o.

You'll be surprised.

A NEW deal also is being shuffled by officials of the Panhandle-South Plains fair and patrons who amble out there during the exposition this year will hardly know the old place.

A new race track, a new grand stand and numerous minor improvements are to be made and a banner week is expected.

Incidentally, the fair this year is going to have a real carnival for a change. The United Shows of America, one of the largest organizations of its kind, will offer various and sundry amusements never seen here-to-fore, as well as all the old favorites.

A basket of orchids to the fair management for finally tumbling to the fact that fair patrons want something better and different in the way of a carnival attraction.

NO new "Sweetheart of the Texas Centennial" will be named, report central exposition officials, in spite of the fact that the holder of that title, Miss Janice Jarratt, has moved to Hollywood to be in the movies.

How in the world the people of this state are ever going to be able to finish the centennial year without a "sweetheart" is a terrible puzzle. Exposition bosses must have forgotten that it's well nigh impossible to pay homage with the heroes of the Alamo, Goliad, etc., and to the pioneers who laid the foundations for the Texas of tomorrow without a "sweetheart"—even if she is a New York model who got the job by knowing the right people!

Stars Fearfully Silent On Astor Case; Dread Of Bad Effect On Filmgoers Shuts Lips Of Hollywood Colony

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 18 — The screen colony's unanimous opinion of the Mary Astor-Franklyn Thorpe unpleasantries is summed up in "Sh-h-h—don't talk about it."

Hollywood is afraid. It hasn't been so silent since the days before talkies were invented. Nobody wants to suffer the remotest association with the scandal, or even to acknowledge knowing it exists.

I tracked down a number of prominent players. But "No comment." Pretty soon it became a game — trying to get one single word of sympathy, or condemnation, or even of regret that the hot breath of scandal should scorch the celluloid city again. Representative answers ran like this:

Janet Gaynor: "I know nothing about the case." Lawrence Tibbett: "It's their affair, not mine." Mae West: No response except an eloquent shrug. Jean Harlow: "No comment." George Raft: "No!" Claudette Colbert: "Uh-uh—that's bad." William Powell: "Excuse me." Jack Oakie: "It's a nice day."

Longest "Speech"

Glenda Farrell ventured an oblique observation: "Some people have to pay a big price for being motion picture personalities."

Joan Bennett is involved in a court quarrel with her former husband, John Fox, over her request to change the name of their daughter from Fox to Markey. Miss Bennett has custody of her child, but she had nothing to say about the battle of Miss Astor and Dr. Thorpe for custody of 4-year-old Marlyn Thorpe.

Ruth Chatterton has been photographed in court with Miss Astor, and has been identified as her best friend in some accounts. Fact is that they merely had met—five years ago — before both recently began working in the Samuel Goldwyn production of "Dodsworth."

Miss Astor invited several members of the cast to accompany her to court. Miss Chatterton accepted and has attended several sessions.

She said: "I admire Miss Astor very much for her courage. I am for her all the way."

Fear Being Embroiled

That is the only voluntary expression of confidence or comfort for Mary Astor that has come out of all Hollywood.

A studio executive told me that "the lid is on", that personal loyalty must stop where scandal begins to harm the industry; that no player, however safe from any such sensationalism, dares voice a thought for fear of becoming tainted.

Not even the Association of Motion Picture Producers and Distributors ("the Hays office") has taken any cognizance of the Astor-Thorpe obloquies. A handy reason is that Samuel Goldwyn, for whom Miss Astor has been working, is not a member of the association.

But she is under contract to Columbia Pictures. Harry Cohn, president of that studio, declined to guess whether her career would be affected by the disclosures being made in court.

It has been announced that the hearings will prevent her appearance in a Columbia picture to which she was assigned. But it also is understood in gossip circles that another story is being sought for her.

Silence On Other Side

No intimates of Dr. Thorpe, who had a wide acquaintance and practice in Hollywood and Beverly Hills, has volunteered a word in his favor. One of his close friends is Clark Gable. They have gone on several hunting trips together.

Gable now is taking a holiday at one of the beach resorts near Santa Barbara; his studio says it doesn't know just which one.

Playwright George S. Kaufman, named as a close friend of Miss Astor, was subpoenaed as he stepped ashore from a yachting trip with Irving Thalberg and Norma Shearer. Fourteen months ago, in a questionnaire, Miss Shearer named only one person in her category of "closest friends." It was Mary Astor.

Sub Rosa Opinion

Actually, of course, Hollywood has some very definite opinions about the case. The big sound stages, the studio restaurants and the town's cocktail lounges are full of subdued talk. It runs like this:

1. Miss Astor was pretty stupid ever to have jotted down, with such amazing candor, her two-volume diary of "stray thoughts."

2. She was particularly stupid ever to have allowed it to fall into the hands of another person.

3. She is showing astonishing courage in fighting this case through in the face of such defamatory developments. It seems now that she will continue even at the cost of her career.

4. But in the light of scandals already aired, it might be better if the child were awarded to neither contestant.

If Mary Astor's career were to be terminated by this case it would end in a blaze of irony. For opportunists among theater managers have resurrected some of her old and sensationally-titled films, and her name now glares from many a marquee—

"MARY ASTOR in 'The Woman From Hell'," "MARY ASTOR in 'Sin Ship'," "MARY ASTOR in 'Ladies Love Brutes'," "MARY ASTOR in 'Straight From the Heart'."

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

THE TRIBUNE'S "VOLUNTEERS"

Like a bustling hen with a lone chick, the Chicago Tribune is busy as the one-armed paperhanger of fiction in its efforts in behalf of the Landon-Knox ticket.

One of the Tribune's moves is organization of the "Volunteers" to work for the Republican party, from President to constable, in the elections in November. As a part of the "Volunteers" campaign, the Tribune is urging Chicagoans to close their telephone conversations not with the usual "goodbye," but, instead, with "Join the Volunteers."

Assuming that an appreciable number of Chicagoans "throw in" with the "Trib" in the telephone stunt, we forecast that between now and November 3 more people will go to asylums and jump out of high windows than in any other two-and-a-half months period in the history of the Windy City. "Join the Volunteers" might be all right for a day, or even a week. But after that it's going to get on the nerves of even Col. Bertie McCormick, the Tribune's polished publisher.

The human machine is so constructed that it will react, without undue nerve strain, to enthusiasm which is natural and unforced. But the forced kind of enthusiasm is enough to wear out even the strongest soul.

Judging from remarks of Lubbock matrons, tired by being telephoned in behalf of various candidates during the last primary campaign here, the telephone is not a good medium of "politicking." The Tribune's effort in Chicago doubtless will bear out the fact.

Dutcher's News And Views OF WASHINGTON

(Copyright, 1936, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—If you look at a map of the Mediterranean Sea, you will quickly perceive the serious potentialities involved in a diplomatic rumor which has contributed largely to the widespread war scare.

The rumor is that the Spanish rebel leaders have offered to Italy, in return for her support in the current rebellion, the port of Ceuta in Spanish Morocco and the island of Minorca in the Balearics.

There is no way of confirming or disproving the rumor. Such stories have a way of turning up during international crises. Yet this one has persisted lately in various capitals of the world.

If it happens to be true, as rumors sometimes are, it holds the seeds of another great European war. If it isn't true, it may well turn out to have been concocted by Spaniards loyal to the Madrid government who sought support from the British.

But there's plenty of evidence that the rebels have had Italian support.

Risk Would Be Great

Cessation of Ceuta and Minorca to Italy would have approximately the effect of realizing Mussolini's dream of turning the Mediterranean into an "Italian lake."

Whether Mussolini would dare accept such an offer at this time would depend on whether he felt he could afford to take a chance of provoking Great Britain to war.

Fortification of Ceuta (pronounced "thay-oo-ta") could destroy British control of the Straits of Gibraltar. Minorca in Italian hands, would also strategically cut the route from Gibraltar to Malta.

Along with Sardinia and Sicily, plus Italy proper and bases in Tripoli, Pelage Island, Eritrea, Ethiopia and Italian Somaliland, possession of Ceuta and Minorca would give Mussolini a dominance which you can quickly appreciate by consulting the map.

Thanks to her air force, Italy may be considered already to dominate the Mediterranean. That's why England is arming feverishly.

International experts agree that Britain must vanquish Italy in war, frighten her into becoming a more or less docile ally or prepare to become a second-class power.

If Italy were to try to take over Ceuta and Minorca, however, war probably would break out at an early date.

What Sleuth War Is About

Jealousy among different groups of government detectives is the only known reason behind the incident wherein two high-ranking Secret Service men were demoted for investigating actions of some of J. Edgar Hoover's "G-men." Widespread suspicion, however, persists in Washington that the Secret Service men were not acting without approval of someone higher up.

Part of the reported jealousy is said to be due to the heavy publicity which the Federal Bureau of Investigation then received when they began wiping out kidnapers and other gangsters. But there was also a bill in the last Congress, which may be revived, to consolidate all federal law enforcement agencies.

Congress, if it passed such bill, would be likely to insist that Hoover head the consolidated forces. And that horrifies the postal inspectors and Secret Service men, who are proud of their own records.

Probed Gangster Killing

It appears that certain persons came to Secret Service Agent Grady L. Boatwright, who now has been demoted a grade, along with Assistant Chief Joseph E. Murphy, and complained about the way Eddie Green had been shot down by G-men in St. Paul.

It was alleged that Hoover's men hadn't known Green's identity until he revealed it on his deathbed, that he had been shot down without warning, and was only a small-time hoodlum, anyway.

Green was unarmed when ambushed by the G-men. But Department of Justice reports say he was running when ordered to halt and that he reached to his pocket for an imaginary gun, which was the reason for shooting him. He is alleged to have been an associate of and arsenal-keeper for Dillinger and other gangsters.

That's the official record and there's no indication that Boatwright, who was authorized by Murphy to investigate, ever dug up any real "dirt."

There is considerable sympathy in Washington for the Secret Service men. But the fact remains that Hoover has built up a crack force of men and that no one who dislikes him or is jealous of him has yet come anywhere near outsmarting him.

Rich and Reckless

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MOLLY MILFORD, rich and popular, has received proposals of marriage from three suitors, but BRENT STUART, whom she loves, has not asked her to marry him.

Bored with a succession of parties, all alike, Molly asks Brent to take her to "The Red Poppy," a questionable night club. He refuses. Molly, annoyed, goes with another admirer, WICK ROSS.

Later Brent arrives alone. "The Red Poppy" seems dull and uninteresting. Molly does not know that at a nearby table a group of men, including handsome NELSON FERGUSON, are watching her. The others at the table explain to Ferguson that they have an "important deal" on and want his help.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER III

"The Golden Girl, Nelse," the fat man repeated. The smile and the vicious tone didn't go together. "That's what she is, too. Golden with money. Her father is old Jay Milford, who has more millions than he knows what to do with. We kind of figure he would give half a million to get his girl back."

"Too dangerous. He'd have the whole federal outfit after us."

"Not dangerous the way we plan it. We want you to erect a little smoke screen, crack open one of the smaller banks, and while the attention of the local boys is divided, the girl disappears. Disappears. That's all. A note comes to her parents next day saying she's tired and washed up with everything and has gone away — she won't say where — to rest a while. And will they please not worry.

"Then, while the boys are still fretting themselves sick about that bank business, we get in a little demand note to the family, with nobody the wiser. That is, until gettin' wise is too late. You'll be back in Chicago with a good alibi, and we'll be running this place, same as we have been doing. Nobody could pin anything

THE PLAINSMAN GETS SOME MAIL

LUBBOCK MAN IS FOR TOM BLANTON

Dear Plainsman: I wish to express my views a bit in regard to an editorial appearing in the Evening Journal of recent date relative to the Hon. Wright Patman going into the 17th congressional district to speak in behalf of Tom Blanton for re-election.

First I want to say that I have never particularly been an admirer or supporter of Tom Blanton, but when it comes to a matter of choice between him or any other man and the special interests, I'd gladly go with Blanton. I'm for him in his fight for re-election due to the fact that the main issue at stake in the race is utilities and special interests vs. Tom Blanton and most people who really want to know the truth and are interested in having men in congress who will fight their battles, know that this is the issue.

Mr. Patman is and has been a friend of the people ever since he entered congress and the fact that he lives near the Arkansas border means no more than the fact that some other congressman or citizen lives near other borders of Texas. Mr. Patman has never at any time since being a member of congress adhered to the practice of noise-making and has at all-times fought for the rights and interests of the people and that is the very reason that the special interests crowd and some editors of papers over the country are forever taking a dig at him.

He stated in making his decision to speak for Congressman Blanton that he was doing so for the following reasons:

"Because of his support of my Anti-Chain store or Equal-Opportunity-in-Business bill, which has substantially helped independent merchants; by reason of his support of President Roosevelt's Holding Company-Death Sentence bill, and by reason of his uncompromising fight upon graft in Washington, Blanton has made enemies of some of the most powerful influences in the nation, which have threatened openly to put him out of congress. Because I know him to be a valuable member of congress—in fact, no man in America, in or out of congress, knows more about parliamentary procedure than Blanton—and because I know he is being fought by outside interests."

Mr. Patman goes further to say that "Tom Blanton has always been my friend and has substantially aided me in major battles, including the fight for payment of the Adjusted Service certificates, the Robinson-Patman bill, and others and I am not going to see him cut down by the Wall Street gang without raising my voice against it."

Now, personally I believe that Wright Patman has given ample and sufficient reasons for his speaking tour in the 17th district, and I regret that we do not have more men in congress with the ability of Wright Patman and the nerve to stand out for what he believes to be right regardless of who it hits.

You know yourself that Tom Blanton is not afraid of anybody and that's the reason for the strong opposition. He will probably be beaten as thousands of dollars are being spent by hiring men all over the 13 counties of the district to spread rumors and circulate all kinds of literature by the sponsors and backers of Mr. Garrett. Mr. Garrett may be a good man, but if he goes to congress, he will go there with hands tied and as a mouth-piece of the big interests.

And as for the Honorable Wright Patman, I'll stand by him any time against any foe and you personally know that there are thousands of others ready to do likewise. He has the same right as a citizen to defend Tom Blanton as any editor of a newspaper has in lambasting him.

Sincerely yours,
Tom H. Carter,
Lubbock.

(Dear Thos.: "The Plainsman Gets Some Mail" department in The Evening Journal is for just this kind of thing—in short, to permit any reader any time to disagree with editorial comment contained in this newspaper. Your able defense of "Talkative Tom" Blanton, even though you have fallen back on the threadbare "tool of the special interests" stuff, hasn't convinced me that the Abilene congressman is anything but a noisy demagogue. You see, I have watched Blanton for a long time! Very truly yours, The Plainsman.)

NOTICE

I am no longer connected with the Lubbock Sanitarium and Clinic with which I have been associated for more than 11 years. I will continue my practice of eye, ear, nose and throat in Lubbock at 1214 Broadway where I have ample space and the latest equipment. I will be glad to welcome my friends and patients in the new location.

Rates Rules and Requirements of Classified Advertising Of The

Lubbock Evening Journal
Lubbock Morning Avalanche
Sunday Avalanche-Journal
(Sunday Morning)

All classified advertising will appear in both the Morning and Afternoon papers—both papers counting one insertion. All classified advertising is printed in the Lubbock Morning Avalanche first and the Daily Journal of the same date, no classified originating in the afternoon paper.

Classified for Sunday's issue will appear in the Avalanche-Journal counting one insertion, as this paper is sent to all subscribers of both the afternoon and morning papers.

AVALANCHE-JOURNAL
Combined Rates:

Minimum words per insertion	10
One insertion per word	4c
Two insertions per word	6c
Three insertions per word	7c
Seven insertions per word	12c
Thirty insertions per word	40c

These rates are for consecutive insertions only. Additional consecutive insertions over 30 times at 1½c per word each.

All out-of-town ads received by mail must be cash with order. No exceptions. "NO REFUNDS" on ad stopped after it has appeared in paper.

PHONE 13, 14 OR 15

Our experienced ad taker will receive your ad and help you to word it, then our collector will call the following day. These accounts are "accommodation accounts" for our patrons and for one day only.

No advertisements accepted on an "until forbid" order. A specified number of insertions must be given.

We reserve the right to place an advertisement under the proper classification and reject unclean or objectionable copy.

Obituaries and cards of thanks at regular classified advertising rates.

The publishers are not responsible for copy omissions, typographical errors or any unintentional error that may occur further than to correct it next issue after it is brought to their attention. All advertising orders are accepted on this basis only.

Classified Advertising accepted until 6:00 p. m. on week days and 9:00 p. m. on Saturdays, and all advertising received after 6:00 p. m. will be placed under "Too Late To Classify."

For classified display advertising information—

PHONE 13, 14 OR 15
TO DISCONTINUE AN AD

Notice to Discontinue an Ad must be given after 8 a. m. and before 6 p. m. to some member of the Classified Advertising Department. We cannot be responsible for notices given before or after these hours, and to a member of some other department.

WHEN A PALL OF DUST OBSCURES THOUGHTS OF POLITICS

"In normal times, politics is food and drink to the opinion-airing mid-westerner. But when out of the dark and heavy-laden sky roll earth-blanketing clouds of dust, the voting booth is obscured in men's thoughts by the imminence of natural tragedy."—Frazier Hunt.

* * * *

jected definitely into the national arena—when the Senior Bob ran for President in 1924. Both Senator Bob Junior and Governor Phil are strong for Roosevelt this year—although Phil LaFollette will run for Governor under the definite banner of the Progressive party.

Phil LaFollette may be somewhat partisan but he's almost painfully honest. I went to him for his lowdown on his state. Here is what he said: "Roosevelt will have no trouble in Wisconsin. All that he needs to know about any part of America is that he doesn't have to play with the local bosses. He needs only to continue being the symbol of the dreams and ideals and needs of the little man—the ordinary man on the street. My father was just that to the common people here. We never had a real machine—we just had little fellows who believed in what we stood for. Roosevelt is like that, too, if he only knew it. He doesn't need to play with local politicians."

I went to one of these "little fellows" to find out what he thought. "Wisconsin farmers are upset because the drouth has burned out their pastures, ruined much of their corn and materially lowered their milk income," he explained. "But their cost of living and operating their farms keeps right on up. It makes them think hard—but most of them will still vote for Roosevelt."

Drouth Significance

SOME 25 or 30 miles north of Madison I stopped in to see Henry Grub, "master farmer." It was a Sunday morning and hot as blazes, and Henry, shirtless and sockless, met me in his living room. "I reckon that most farmers around here who voted for Roosevelt in 1932 will vote for him again," the very capable and hard-headed Henry explained slowly. "He has made mistakes—but who wouldn't have? . . . We did pretty well under the AAA and this erosion and conservation program is helping us out right now . . . Lemke or Townsend won't pull many votes from Roosevelt in this state. I'm a Roosevelt Republican—and I don't see any reason to change back. But around here we're thinking a good deal more about the drouth than we are about politics."

In normal times, politics is food and drink to the opinion-airing mid-westerner. But when out of the dark and heavy-laden sky roll earth-blanketing clouds of dust, the voting booth is obscured in men's thoughts by the imminence of natural tragedy.

I found this true over all the western middle west. But, too, this great scourge of nature has a political significance; it has dramatized the human relief side of the Administration in the most severely hit and poorer sections — and the concern the President and Secretary Wallace and the whole Federal government have in the long-pull problems of farmers everywhere. The fact that much farm relief may be branded by skeptics as subtle vote-buying makes no particular impression on the hungry and broken recipient.

Even in the minds of wise and experienced men a feeling of concern that almost borders on despair begins to creep in when a drouth comes. There is something deeply pessimistic and melancholy about rich green pastures burned brown and worthless in such abundant lands as these mid-western states.

DROUTH RELIEF

tion as processed meat to persons on relief.

In no case, it was said in official sources, would the government buy unmarketable stock such as formed about 40 per cent of the 1934 sheep purchases.

RESULTS OF DROUTH IN TEXAS REVEALED

DALHART, Aug. 18. (AP)—The president's committee to study the drouth had learned at first-hand today why dry-land farmers sometimes pray for rain.

Perspiration poured from Rexford G. Tugwell, undersecretary of agriculture and other members of the committee as they stood in a sun-drenched field to see for themselves. H. H. Finnell, red-mustached regional federal soil conservator, showed them where four inches of rain had penetrated the fertile lands of the Texas Panhandle to a depth of seven feet.

Others Burned Out

This land grew a good crop of hegari, livestock feed, while nearby fields were burned out.

"This is an example of what soil conservation does," Finnell told the committee.

"Wind blew away three inches of this top soil last year. Contour farming, which conserves moisture, preventing it from running off, was practiced this year. There have only been seven inches of rain this year but there is a good crop prospect."

Contouring Explained

Contouring, he explained, is the practice of plowing and listing across the slopes of a field with each furrow on a level line, instead of up and down the slopes. The latter method promotes natural ditches that encourage erosion while the former causes the water to soak into the soil.

There are 27,000 acres in the Dalhart demonstration project in which the government has been cooperating with farmers for two years, experimenting in ways to fight drouth. The tract which the committee inspected was on the C. M. Peden farm, where some scenes of the resettlement administration's motion picture, "the plow that broke the plains," were taken.

Then it was a barren, dust-blown field. Now it is green with crop.

Can Be Brought Back

"Thousands of acres in the Panhandle have been damaged by windstorms and water erosion, but all can be brought back into production," Finnell said. "If the land cannot be used for crops it can be turned back to native grass."

He said contouring has increased production from 34 to 35 per cent where it has been tried, even in dry years.

The committee planned today to travel across the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles and head for an overnight stop at Lamar, Colo., north of the heart of the "little dust bowl" of southeastern Colorado. It was the second day of the committee's 3,000-mile trip from Texas to the Canadian border on the nation's Great Plains.

Santa Fe Official Pays Visit To City

M. C. Burton of Amarillo, who Aug. 1 assumed duties as general freight and passenger agent for the Panhandle-Santa Fe railroad, today was paying his first official visit to railroad officials here.

Mr. Burton was formerly general industrial agent for the Atcheson, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad at Topeka, Kans. He replaces Tom Gallaher, now assistant to the vice-president in charge of freight and passenger traffic.

C. C. Dana, freight and traffic manager of the Santa Fe, announced in Chicago today, that a successor to Mr. Burton will be named about Sept. 1.

LUBBOCK PIONEER TAKEN BY DEATH

Funeral for James T. Hart, 64, Lubbock county pioneer who died at his home here yesterday afternoon, was to be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Sanders Funeral chapel with Elder Liff Sanders of the Church of Christ officiating. Mr. Hart had been confined during a lengthy illness which resulted in his death. He lived at 708 Third street.

A resident of the county since 1895, Mr. Hart had lived in Lubbock since 1906. He was a retired farmer and ginner.

Surviving are his wife, four sons, Nolan E. of this city, J. R. of Mount Pleasant, W. A. of San Jon, N. M. and J. E. of Clayton, N. M.; four daughters, Mrs. Maude Vest, Mrs. J. G. Bell and Mrs. John McClain of Lubbock and Mrs. A. W. Clayton of Elko, Nev.; three brothers, J. C. and L. D. of Lubbock and E. F. of Hollywood, N. M.; two sisters, Mrs. J. B. Cothorp of Texico, N. M. and Mrs. A. E. Phipps of Abernathy; 14 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Burial was to be in Lubbock cemetery.

NEGRO SOUGHT

picture of Gray.

Thomas Trammell, 40, dining car steward who found the body of his young wife Sunday upon his return from a week-end run, said he had notified relatives of Mrs. Trammell at her former home in Knoxville, Tenn.

At an inquest, continued to Sept. 1, he also said an earlier marriage ended in divorce and that his former wife lived in Dallas, Texas.

BLACK TO GO ON TRIAL FOR LIFE

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 18 (AP)—Martin Moore, a gangling negro youth, will go on trial for his life tomorrow charged with the hotel room slaying of Helen Clevenger a month ago.

The negro, former hall boy at the fashionable Battery Park hotel where the 18-year-old blonde New York university honor student was vacationing, was indicted yesterday on a first degree murder count and a few hours later, at his arraignment, pleaded innocent.

Moore was arraigned only on a murder charge, although the grand jury indicted him also for first degree burglary. The latter also is a capital offense in North Carolina.

Confesses To Crime

Sheriff Laurence E. Brown, who arrested the 19-year-old hotel employe, said Moore confessed going to the girl's room to loot it.

The sheriff quoted the youth as saying he became frightened when the girl screamed and in a moment of panic shot her and clubbed her face with the butt of his automatic.

Brown added, however, that he did not accept Moore's robbery story, and was convinced that the negro went to the room to attack the girl, but did not attempt it when she cried out.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—The temper of the stock market improved today as a number of recently sulky issues exhibited cheerier tendencies.

Although most buyers limited commitments to small orders, steels, motors and specialties edged up fractions to a point or more. Many stocks near the fourth hour, however, were virtually unchanged.

Bonds, commodities and foreign currencies were slightly mixed.

Shares that piled forward included U. S. Brownfield Group Late In Arriving

A delegation of Brownfield business men, en route here to extend Lubbock citizenship an invitation to their celebration Friday and Saturday commemorating the 60th anniversary of the creation of Terry county, had not arrived early this afternoon. The group had been expected about noon.

J. D. Hassell, jr., president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, was to extend an official welcome to the visitors.

A free barbecue on Friday and entertainment and amusement both days, including a rattlesnake derby, has been scheduled during the celebration.

The Brownfield party was said at the chamber of commerce to include about 10 persons.

GUADALAJARA, Jalisco, Mexico, Aug. 18 (AP)—Bandits held up an express bus a few blocks from the business district of the city today and escaped with a $4,155 payroll.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 4 to 6 lower on disappointing Liverpool cables and under liquidation and French selling. Oct. 11.79; Dec. 11.83; Jan. 11.85; March 11.91; May 11.91; July 11.87.

Trading continued quiet after the opening but prices sagged off under a little hedging combined with southern selling.

Offerings were not particularly heavy but there was no aggressive demand and Dec. sold off to 11.75 at the end of the first half hour, with active months generally showing net losses of 11 to 12 points.

The early decline extended to 11.71 for Dec. and 11.79 for March or about 16 to 18 points net lower. Selling tapered off after the close of Liverpool and prices stiffened up later in the morning on trade buying. At mid-day Dec. was selling around 11.79 and March 11.85 or 8 to 12 points net lower.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 18. (AP)—Small losses were in the majority at the start of trading on the cotton market today.

October opened 4 points lower at 11.75; December at 11.79; January at 11.80 and March at 11.85. During the early minutes of trading options held narrowly around first call levels.

After dipping more than 75 cents a bale prices recovered and were holding around 6 points lower at the mid-way mark in trading.

Oct. sold at 11.73, Dec. at 11.76, Jan. at 11.76 and March at 11.79.

YOUTH WILL FACE TRIAL IN DEATH

WELLSBORO, Pa., Aug. 18 (AP)—Lyle West, 15-year-old farm boy, wept in his cell last night after a grand jury held him on charges of involuntary manslaughter and pointing firearms, in the death of his eight-year-old chum, Hugh Townsend.

The grand jury declined to indict him for murder. His trial will begin Monday.

"I didn't mean to pull the trigger, I didn't mean to shoot and I didn't mean to kill him," Lyle said.

The penalty for involuntary manslaughter is three years in prison and a $1,000 fine; for pointing firearms a year in jail.

The boys were shooting frogs at a pond. Lyle was on one side and Hugh on the other. Several boys said they heard Lyle cry:

"Stick 'em up."

There was a shot. Hugh fell dead.

Graduates Of Tech Given Employment

Employment has been obtained by the seven June graduates of this year from the electrical engineering department at Texas Technological college and by two seniors who lacked only a few hours credit completing requirements for their degrees, said C. V. Bullen, head of the department.

The students, their home towns, and companies with which they obtained jobs are:

Richard S. Brannin of Knox City, Texas Power and Light company, Corsicana; Raymond Coffman, Cleburne, Texas Power and Light company, Tyler; Sam Hastings Jones, San Angelo, a Fort Worth company; Mark Allen Townsend, Lubbock, scholarship at Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Woodrow Waggoner, Ranger, Magnolia Petroleum company, Eunice, La.; C. Fred Litton, Lubbock, Magnolia Petroleum, Brownfield; Forrest Campbell, Matador, Texas Utilities company, Lubbock; and the two seniors: E. L. Manire, Lubbock, U. S. Gypsum company; M. P. J. Minter, Sulphur Springs, House of Magic, General Electric company, central centennial celebration, Dallas.

Lavell Abbot, formerly of Lubbock, 1935 graduate, has obtained a job with the Texas Power and Light company, Hillsboro, and Tony Ulrich, formerly of Waco, 1934 graduate, with the same company in Dallas.

Plains Studes Are To Be Texas Grads

Among students who have filed applications for bachelor's degrees at the University of Texas are several persons of this section.

They include: C. C. Cammack of Matador, school of law; Austin Nelson Erwin of Snyder, Wilson Baird Garrett of Jayton, Bernard Marcus Golding of Spur, all of the school of business administration.

Lindsay James Austin, former student of Texas Technological college and twin brother of Fleming Austin of Lubbock, also is a candidate for a degree from the school of business administration.

No Damage Noted In Gasoline Fire

Lubbock firemen at a regular study class this morning had read the first four lines of a pamphlet dealing with gasoline when a fire alarm was sounded.

Department equipment was rushed to the Preston Weaks service station at 1702 Main street. There they found a fire—caused by gasoline—already had been extinguished without damage.

Firemen returned to Central station, resuming their book fighting of gasoline blazes.

on us, because you did the job."

"Jobs," said Nelse slowly. "The bank and the snatch."

"Both," Black said, "are right up your alley. And half of a half million for a night's work. You can't say that's not being generous."

"And no risk taken!"

"I wouldn't say that. The Walrus here will help you contact the family. We'll stage a fake raid at Frenchy's place across the river—some of our boys dressed up in police uniforms—so you can pull your stuff without the girl getting wise. We'll have the hide-out spotted."

"Frenchy's place. How do you know she'll go there with me?"

"She's here tonight. And that fellow with her isn't as good-looking as you, Nelse. Nor half as smart, I'll bet. I have an idea you could get that girl to go most anywhere."

"Switch out the lights," Nelse said suddenly in a calm, professional tone.

The orchestra had struck up again, and Molly and Wick were dancing.

"I must admit," Wick was saying, "that the music is fair for a place like this. Possibly the reason is that the respectable butcher, baker and candlestick-maker come here to mingle on terms of gastronomic and terpsichorean equality with the burglars and blackmailers."

"You're being fantastic," Molly laughed.

The lights blurred while she was speaking and suddenly went out, leaving only a dim, grayish haze through which the dancers moved like shadows. The music swelled vibrantly as though to assure the crowd that everything was quite all right.

She was thinking. "Dancing in the dark. Dancing dangerously with all kinds of people dancing around you in a queer sort of intimacy."

A tall shadow—Brent, of course—had come close and was tapping Wick on the shoulder.

"Well, all right, Brent," Wick replied, his tone indicating he was reluctantly relinquishing her.

Molly was whirled away in the darkness. Brent was really a grand dancer but tonight he was holding her too close.

Now, without a word, he leaned his head down against her own. Holding her much too close, really. It was sort of thrilling, though, to have Brent holding her like that.

The lights flared on and Molly gasped. She was looking into the deep blue eyes of a stranger—the good-looking young man who had stopped to speak to that group of men near her table a few minutes ago.

He said anxiously, eagerly, "Please be a good sport. If you only knew how I've wanted to talk with you. I read every line about you in the papers. And when I saw you here, dancing, I — well, I lost my head suddenly and cut in."

Molly said coolly, "It was outrageous."

"I know it was," the stranger admitted in a deep, earnest tone. "But I had to do it. When your escort sees us, he'll probably come over and give me a punch in the nose, unless you pretend you know me. You might call me John Jones, Sam Smith, or Mike Mahon. Something simple and easy to remember like that."

Molly's eyes met the dark blue ones steadily. "I suppose you get paid for this kind of thing?"

"What kind of thing?"

"Cutting in on people you don't know, keeping up the reputation of this place for surprising happenings."

He laughed a little. "Does it have such a reputation? I've found it one of the most stupid, harmless places I know, Molly Milford."

"I'm really not interested in 'The Red Poppy's' reputation, but I would like to know how you knew my name."

"Do you think I could miss, with all the newspaper clippings and pictures I've cut out and saved?" He was smiling. A nice smile that revealed strong, white teeth.

He had the assurance of a gentleman, yet some sixth sense of Molly's warned her that she couldn't be certain. It was something you couldn't put your finger on. He wore the clothes of the men of her world. His manners, if you could forget that daring dance interruption, were conventional. Yet, a strange, unfamiliar current had started her thoughts to racing speculatively, thrillingly.

Standing against the wall, watching her with a frown on his face, was Brent. Coming toward her was Wick.

Molly raised a rebellious little flag. "Wick," she said quickly as he came nearer, "this is Sam Smith."

Wick bowed, without extending his hand. "We'd better be starting," he said.

"After the next dance." Molly spoke impulsively. She saw the blue eyes of the stranger light unexpectedly. As the music began, his arms went around her and they danced away.

"I've decided to give you a chance to tell me why you wanted to meet me," Molly said.

"It's too long a story to tell now." His arms tightened a little. "I've been dreaming that some day I'd know you. All the time I knew I couldn't . . . not Molly Milford?"

"Why — just because I'm Molly Milford?"

"No. Maybe it was that way at first . . . reading about you, wondering how it would feel to be a man who could dance with the Golden Girl, take her out to dinner."

"Silly name, isn't it?" Molly laughed a little uncertainly.

"No," the stranger replied.

There was something exciting in the way he said it. As though he were leaving much unsaid.

"I don't agree," Molly told him. "It's ridiculous. You're right, though, about this place being stupid. I came here because I was told it was dangerous and exciting. I don't know what I expected. Perhaps that people would be throwing things at each other. Or the police would come in and round everybody else up but me!"

"What a nice, safe feeling." His voice mocked a little. "You could never imagine the police looking for you!"

"No, could you?"

"Not yet. But we never know what our impulses might lead to. I'm not conventional. And I know some unconventional night clubs that might give you the sort of thrill you were looking for."

"I've decided it may be better not to know—"

"Nothing ever happens at Frenchy's—this place I'm talking about. He's just a broken-down old French aristocrat who feeds a lot of down-and-outs for nothing, and serves the finest French food and wine to rich people at prices high enough to suit them."

"Where do you work?" Molly queried.

"In a bank."

So he was just a nice young man who worked in a bank and was dreadfully romantic about her. Reading all those newspaper accounts and wanting to meet her. And he was terribly good-looking.

"If," the young man was saying in a soft, urgent tone, "I had gone to Harvard or Yale or Princeton you'd have gone out with me. But I only attended the University of the World and was left out of the Social Register—"

"That doesn't matter to me."

"You mean it!"

Before Molly could answer, there was Brent. A most determined Brent, cutting in with a vehemence that swept her into his arms like a resistless tide. Cutting in could be done much more courteously than this stand-aside-and-be-damned-to-you attitude that Brent was taking.

His voice was like ice. "What do you mean, dancing with strange men, you crazy little idiot?"

"Please don't talk to me as though I were still in kindergarten," Molly said. "And what right have you to assume—?"

"Don't pretend with me. I saw your face when the lights went on. I suppose this is a regular feature of the place, giving some of the patrons a chance to meet upper class in a democratic sort of way."

"You sound like a snob," Molly replied. "And I hate snobs. I don't know why I ever imagine I am fond of you."

"Then you do imagine it sometimes, Molly?" He had pulled her closer in his arms.

"Not when you talk like this."

"Well, whether you like me or not, you're not going to see that fellow again."

"Who's to prevent m[illegible] if I choose?" Molly's voice held [illegible] dangerous note.

"If I thought he'd dare to follow up and ask for a date, [illegible] wipe up the floor with him."

"You've no right to order [illegible] around."

"I have a right." There was [illegible] strange new note in Brent's voi[illegible] Molly's heart fluttered at th[illegible] sound.

"What right—?"

"The right of a friend who isn't going to let you make a fool of yourself," Brent said slowly, after a moment of hesitation.

"Oh!" So that was all. Molly said furiously, "I don't like being told what not to do."

It hadn't occurred to her before. But now she was certain that if Sam Smith — or whatever his name was — invited her to have dinner with him she probably would go.

"Dog Days" are Here— Beware of Biliousness!

Have you ever noticed that in very hot weather your organs of digestion and elimination seem to become torpid or lazy? Your food sours, forms gas, causes belching, heartburn, and a feeling of restlessness and irritability. Perhaps you may have sick headache, nausea and dizziness or blind spells on suddenly rising. Your tongue may be coated, your complexion bilious and your bowel actions sluggish or insufficient.

These are some of the more common symptoms of warnings of biliousness or so-called "torpid liver," so prevalent in hot climates. Don't neglect them. Take Calotabs, the improved calomel compound tablets that give you the effects of calomel and salts combined. You will be delighted with the prompt relief they afford. Gly-Cas Worth More Than $1000 To Her

Mrs. Rowell Now Able To Do Her Own Work First Time In Years; Every Ache And Pain Gone, Kidneys And Bowels Regulated; Like New Again

"Gly-Cas has proven its merit beyond all doubt in my case," said Mrs. A. L. Rowell, Route 1, El Dorado, Ark. "For years my health had been a wreck from continual suffering with gall bladder trouble, constipation and kidney trouble. My arms and legs ached and pained dreadfully, and try as I did I could not find anything to help me. For years I had been unable to do any work, got but little sleep and my entire system seemed to be gradually wearing out. Each day I was growing worse and I did not know where to turn next—it seemed I was doomed to finish life in suffering—before I was persuaded to give this new Gly-Cas a trial—it was wonderful."

MRS. A. L. ROWELL

"I would not take a thousand dollars for what this new remedy has done for me," she continued, "I am now feeling like an entirely new person, able to do any kind of work and suffer no ill effects from it. Gly-Cas was a real blessing to me for I am now freed of all that pain, sleep good, get my rest and am able to enjoy life as others once more. My entire system has been greatly benefitted, kidneys and bowels regulated too. Little did I realize any medicine could be as wonderful as Gly-Cas has been for me."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.

Gly-Cas $1.00 per box—6 boxes $5.00. Add 2c postage for each box ordered. Send money orders made payable Mark Halsey Drug Store. Don't send cash. Checks not accepted—No C. O. D. Mail Orders.—Adv.

You can have speed—with safety—when you travel by train. Western railroads have speeded up many train schedules but in the whole year of 1935 not one passenger life was lost in a train accident, while millions were carried in perfect safety. This is a record which western railroads strive day and night to maintain.

What makes this fine record possible? Constant vigilance, ceaseless inspection of roadbeds, rails, signal systems, automatic safety devices, engines and cars. Brakemen, conductors, dispatchers, engineers, firemen, inspectors, maintenance-of-way men, oilers, signalmen, switchmen, telegraphers, Pullman porters—all railroad men keep the first railroad commandment, Safety First.

Train travel offers speed with safety, plus air-conditioned comfort, money saving fares and economy meals, new coach comforts, world's finest sleeping cars, dependability in all weather. Ask the railroad agent about travel or shipping by train.
