Hawley-Smoot Bill Given 222 Votes To 153 Against with Few Demos Approving; John Garner Is Indignant

By D. HAROLD OLIVER (By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Congress completed its labors on the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill today when the House, with a wild outburst of cheering, put its final stamp of approval on the document by a vote of 222 to 153, and placed upon the shoulders of President Hoover the question whether it shall become law.

There was no doubt in the minds of administration leaders in both houses tonight that the President would sign the bill, probably next week, after he has studied its complex provisions and obtained the counsel of experts and interested federal departments.

Republicans in triumph. Speaker Longworth signed the bill immediately after the vote and in the presence of the entire membership as a republican, over-whelmingly in the majority, rose and applauded. Vice-President Curtis will sign it on Monday and it will go to the White House immediately.

"I believe the president will sign it," commented Representative Hawley, of Oregon, the chairman of the Ways and Means committee, co-author of the first tariff legislation in eight years.

Florida Officials To Push Efforts To Rid City Of Gangster

(By Associated Press)
MIAMI, June 14.—(AP)—Searched Al Capone was arrested on perjury charges here today a few minutes after he won a fight against Dade county, which sought to padlock his beautiful home on Palm Island as a nuisance.

County authorities, who promised to rid Miami of the Chicago gangster, charged he perjured himself in the warrants he had issued against H. D. MacReady, director of public safety, whom Capone charged with false arrest.

Bonds Total $7,000
The gangster was held on bonds totaling $7,000 on two warrants issued on information furnished by George E. McCaskill, Dade county solicitor.

The court had ordered padlock proceedings against Capone dismissed for lack of evidence. Visibly happy, the gangster was en route to his island home when the perjury warrants were issued. They were served as soon as a deputy reached Capone at home, and the much harassed gangster returned to jail about noon and posted bond. The warrants charge Capone swore falsely in accusing MacReady of ordering him to jail without food, water or blankets on May 8, when he was arrested. Capone's statement that MacReady told him he would arrest him or any member of his family on sight on Miami's streets, also was false, the warrants charge, as were statements that MacReady threw away the gangster's personal property and refused to allow him to telephone his attorney.

Slaton Planning For Annual Regional Poultry Show

Proposal For Exposition Is Sent By C.-C.

An Organization Of Fifty-Four Counties Of Panhandle And Plains Would Be Made If Organization Is Formed

Special To The Avalanche-Journal.
SLATON, June 14.—Proposing the organization of a regional poultry show for 34 counties of the Texas Panhandle-Plains territory and making to make Slaton the permanent home of the show, the Slaton Chamber of Commerce mailed today this week to 34 chambers of commerce and county agents in the 24 counties, requesting them to study the proposal carefully during the next two weeks, after which it is planned to call a regional meeting here for discussion of the matter.

Approval of the proposed plan has already been received from several cities and towns of the territory. It was announced by W. H. Smith, president of the Slaton Chamber. He said he anticipated favorable response from virtually all of the territory.

Slaton To Give Funds
If the show is organized, necessary funds for supporting the show each year, together with proper facilities for handling the event, would be provided by Slaton, Mr. Smith said. He also declared that the regional show would not interfere with any local poultry shows in the various towns and cities of the area, but that the regional show would serve to stimulate and improve the poultry industry wherever it is engaged in, thus proving an aid to all local poultry shows.

The proposal is that the territory to be included should be the same as that now included in the Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show, which has its permanent home at Plainview. Counties included are: Dallam, Sherman, Hansford, Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Hartley, Moore, Hutchinson, Roberts, Hemphill, Oldham, Potter, Carson, Gray, Wheeler, Deaf Smith, Randall, Armstrong, Donley, Collingsworth, Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Hall, Childress, Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, O'Connell, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stone, Wall, Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Curry, Fisher, Andrews, Martin, Howard, Mitchell and Nolan.

Fort Worth Man Relieved Of Severe Attack Of Rheumatism, Eagerly Praises New Medicine

MR. JOE CONNELLY

"For over a year I suffered with muscular rheumatism," said Mr. Joe B. Connely, 504 Belknap street, Fort Worth. "My entire body was a mass of aches and pains. Finally I was forced to give up my work and was confined to bed. The pains were so severe that I had to be moved very carefully and was helpless and bedridden for three months. My nerves were completely gone and I felt at times that I could not bear my suffering another day."

"I sent away for my first treatment of Konjola and was amazed at the results. Within three weeks I was able to get up and around without assistance. Gradually the pain and soreness left me and I began to feel my old self again. My nerves settled, rheumatism was completely banished, and I do not remember when I have felt as well as I do now. Konjola certainly worked wonders in my case."

Though Konjola works quickly, and many sufferers are greatly benefited in a week, a complete treatment of from six to eight bottles is recommended for thorough results.

Konjola is sold in Lubbock, Texas at Bennett's Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section. Adv.

"For myself I prefer to eat the older cheese as it has a better taste. The cheese is kept in a huge store room that has a special refrigeration system to keep it at a certain temperature all the time."

As large as republican leaders had anticipated, although they claimed it would have been greater with a larger attendance.

Fourteen democrats, including the Louisiana delegation, two of the Florida members, Congress of Massachusetts, H. D. of Washington, Rudolph of Texas, Les of California, and Taylor of Colorado, joined 208 republicans for the measure.

Twenty republicans, including a group from Wisconsin, Minnesota, Missouri, South Dakota, Oklahoma and Louisiana, voted with 120 democrats and the lone farmer-labor, Kvale, against the bill.

Increases are Many

The measure as it goes to the White House carried 87 increases in rates and 233 decreases more than 20 of the higher taxes being on farm products. Based on 1928 imports it is estimated to raise $6,600,000 in revenue an increase of $107,000,000 over receipts on two years ago.

The final vote came one year, five months and seven days from the day the measure began to take form in a House committee back in the last days of the Coolidge administration. Almost continuously since that time it had been before committees or on the floor of one of the houses.

Former Raps Passage

Representative Cramer, of Texas, the primary leader of the democrats, asserted the bill was "condemned" by the entire country, meaning nothing to the farmers without the Debs plan, and would reduce materially the foreign market of industrial products turned out in the United States by two and one half million workers.

"No one knows what the material effect of this bill will be," he said, adding "it is easy to say it will cause prosperity but we shall see."

Highest Rates in History

The measure carries the highest rates in history on agricultural products, wool and woven goods, and other textiles, including the fast growing rayon group.

Compared with 1920 named items and basket clauses in the present law, the Fordney-McCumber act of 1922, The Hawley-Smoot measure embraced 2,218 commodities by specified and group names.

Of these 1,112 have been changed, 887 being given higher duties and 225 reductions. More than 250 of increases are on farm products in the raw and processed state, including sugar, dairy products, grain, cattle, meats, tobacco, fruit, nuts and seeds.

"Showdown" in Authority Seen As Troops Are Moved in to Put Stop to Picketing; to Reach Climax Soon

(By Associated Press)

BOMBAY, India, June 14.—One thousand fully armed troops tonight invaded this city as part of the government's threat to deal summarily against picketing to followers of Mahatma Ghandi.

Picketing today earnestly became a criminal offense punishable by six months' imprisonment, with fines certain to provoke immediate activity by the soldiers.

Climax Expected

The climax of the civil resistance situation was expected to mark Sunday's activities of Congress volunteers devoted to stations in front of the cloth and liquor shops. With the fourth and fifth Mahatmas from Poona already encamped here, the Manchester regiment from Second Brigade was held in readiness to contain the demonstrators at the moment the authorities should prove unable to cope with the situation. Other troop detachments likewise were held in readiness.

Gangsters

William McLaughlin and the band of other gangland members. But lack of progress in solving the assassination of the Tribune crime reporter tonight led to clamorous demands by press and public for a cleanup of gangland. Police Commissioner William Russell, friend of Lingua and target of numerous assaults on the efficiency of the police department, today agreed to a conference Monday with the City Council Police committee which demanded that Russell get results or get out. Alderman Arthur Albert, who launched the attack against the police department, was named attorney for the Council Police committee to meet with the commissioner.

Session Is Called

Col. Robert I. Randolph, president of the Association of Commissioners, called a meeting of the directors and officers of the association to consider new means of combating gang outages.

The newspapers were unrelenting in their criticism about the work of the authorities and had fresh new first page editorials calling on the citizens to force reforms by breaking up any alliance between crime and politics.

Fifty From Lubbock

About 50 members of Allen brothers army post, Lubbock, and members of the auxiliary are expected to attend the closing session of the convention.

The Dallas regional office of the United States Veterans bureau is shifting through compensation measures about 4,000 men in the 111 counties of north Texas which comprise the district, said Mr. Waterman commenting upon the magnitude of the veterans bureau in an interview here Saturday night. "Approximately $200,000 is being expended monthly for these men whose disabilities or diseases were incurred or aggravated in or by military service."

Much To Aid Disabled

"For the care of disabled bodies, the veterans bureau has spent about five and one-half billion dollars. For the benefit of the person with a statistical mind that represents about $4 per minute since the birth of Christ."

"During 1928 approximately 3,100 men were examined for hospitalization. There are now about 300 men in Texas who need hospitalization, but there are not adequate facilities to take care of them. This situation will be remedied upon establishment of the proposed veterans hospital in or near Dallas."

Membership Swells

R. O. Whitaker, of Austin, department adjutant of the Texas division of the American Legion, says that the State organization has more members now than during any single year since 1928, when the National convention was held at San Antonio and when War trophies were offered to posts for inducements to increase membership.

"There are now more than 23,000 members in the State organization," said Mr. Whitaker. "We find that Legion posts of the South Plains and West Texas are outstanding among the State units."

"Although the American Legion is not a political organization, it does serve as an agency through which legislation is created for the benefit of disabled soldiers. We maintain a legislative committee in Washington which is the only civic body that drafts bills and presents them to Congress for enactment. The Legion drafted the bill which created the United States Veterans bureau."

Among the poets in the area who have representatives registered are Amarillo, Lamesa, Levelland, Lubbock, Miami, Post, Rotan, Snyder, Spur, Knox City and Tahoka.

State and national officials who are attending are R. O. Whitaker, state adjutant; R. E. Waters, Dallas, assistant manager of the Veterans' Bureau; Mrs. F. H. Carpenter, Sour Lake, president of the Texas division.

The body was prepared for burial and sent overland to Portales by Brown Brothers where funeral services will be held this afternoon. The parsons are the only survivors.

West Texas Floods Take Five Lives Here's Scene From Bombay, Showing

The creek was up as a result of rain upstream. Phillip's companion swam to safety. P. C. Lee, of Luling, had been drowned Friday night when his automobile was swept from a creek crossing near San Angelo.

Highway and railroad workers were busy last Saturday repairing numerous washouts. The water in a few instances swept away cottages and property and the floors of business houses in several towns were inundated.

Cottages Swept Away

Several cottages of a tourist camp on the outskirts of Olney were swept away Saturday, and trucks, automobiles and tents of a Mexican construction camp near Throckmorton were carried downstream.

The Orient, Wichita Valley, and Wichita Falls and Southern railways experienced track washouts. Train service between San Angelo and Sterling was out until Monday. Washouts were reported on highway 30 near Munday, the Jackboro road near Olney, highway 6 near Vernon and on roads in the vicinity of Seymour and in Coke county.

Row crops were benefited where they were not washed away and ranges were helped but the heavy downpours slowed up the grain harvesting.

Lamesa Rain Heavy

Heavy rains from Monahan's to Sweetwater, along the P. and O. railroad, sent frolics flowing over the highway near Westbrook. Lamesa reported the heaviest rain in years. An inch of precipitation fell at Big Spring and the rain extended through Dawson and Howard counties. Crop damage near Lamesa was feared, as a result of the downpour.

that the only rains over their lines were south to Big Spring and between Lubbock and Brownfield. No precipitation had visited areas to the west, north or east.

Tahoka stated that rain started falling there at mid-afternoon Saturday and had gauged .60 at 8:30 last night with moisture still falling. Lamesa's report was similar to that of Tahoka adding that roads were very heavy. Buses from the south were arriving far behind schedule. Seagraves and Brownfield reported rains in their sections though none in the immediate towns. The fall was said to have extended intermittently all over the route to Hobbs, N. M.

Homer In Ninth With Bases Loaded Gives Dallas Win

HOOKS AND SLIDES by WILLIAM BRANCHER

Sporting News, a weekly journal devoted to baseball interests, paid singular tribute the other day to the game of golf. It was by way of a flattery, offered by some unnamed baseball fan who used to own half interest in a ball club.

"What do you see when you go to Florida?" asked the irate citizen. "You see George Herman Ruth in the links, you see Bob Shawkey in the links, you see Bill Klem in the links, you see Wilbert Robinson in the links, you see Judge Landis in the links."

"What do you see in the papers?" you read about the score any of these worthless turned in, you read about their long drives, you read about a broken club, or an addition to the collection of clubs.

"The first baseball pictures you see and hear when you go to a movie house always show the big rep of baseball, Ruth particularly, in the links."

"Can you blame the players for leaving their minds on golf if their managers and club presidents set the pace for them by thinking about golf and advertising it all the time when baseball needs the advertisement?" If Ruth, Shawkey and the other desire to golf, let them golf as a side issue in the spring and not make it a main issue.

Well, Well and Yes, Yes

It is all too true. Golf has received a tremendous publicity since spring when the ball players in the south went after it with a vengeance. But we have no fault to find with an athlete playing golf, and see no reason why the newspapers should not carry stories about his game. Golf carries a universal appeal.

One of the most interesting stories we read from the spring training camps was the game George Herman Ruth played with a professional, and outdrew the expert in nearly every hole. These powerful baseball shoulders with the baseball "follow through" sent the ball 300 to 350 yards down the fairway time and again.

Once Ruth and the pro came to a par 3 hole, rather sporty in character, well-trapped and bunkered.

Putt-putt-Tut Tut

"I always have regarded this hole as a true test of golfing ability," said the pro. "Thereupon he teed his ball and with a nice maslin shot placed his ball within 10 feet of the pin."

Ruth was not to be outdone. The big fellow, in immitable Ruthian fashion, asked what odds the pro would give him that he could not shoot to the green with a putter.

"With a putter?" exclaimed the pro. "You must be crazy."

But the Babe wasn't. He teed his ball, whaled away with the putter and smacked a long low drive that rolled into the green and stopped within a few feet of the pin.

The Flynn-Gibson War

The late Leo P. Flynn, manager of prizefighters for two generations, became a veritable bug about golf in his latter days. He played it bitingly, soulfully, with accents that would surprise you. He shared this passion with Billy Gibson, who was adjudged mentally incompetent to handle his own affairs the other day.

Flynn and Gibson used to battle for $1,000 a match.

The reader of the Sporting News will object to reading of the athletes playing golf, probably was disgusted with the recent training camp stories about Sharkey and Cummings.

We expect any day now to hear of the Davis Cup tennis team playing the course in par.

Tigers Show Big Leagues New Young Pitching Star

DETROIT, June 14. (AP)—The Cleveland Indians with Benny Frey and the New York Yankees with Vernon Gomez, aren't the only clubs introducing youngsters to show the oldtimers a thing or two about pitching.

The Detroit Tigers pushed one forward, too. He is Whitlow Wyatt, who won't be 21 until September of this year.

Wyatt hasn't won a great lot of games yet, but time and again he has kept the Tigers from looking like a semi-pro team by taking the light end of a top-heavy score. Wyatt is sent to do relief duty, the heavy slugging usually has halted.

Wyatt came to the Tigers from Evansville of the Three-Eye league, where last year he won 22 games while losing six. He went to Evansville carrying semi-pro experience from the south.

In a game against South Pittsburgh, Tenn., he allowed no hits, and in another game in those regions he struck out 22 batters.

He is a right-hander, weighs 185 pounds, and is six feet one inch tall.

English Capture Four Out of Seven Matches to Even Count In Eight Years' Competition

Helen Wills Moody Downs Mrs. Phoebe Watson in Straight Sets But Loses in Deciding Doubles Tilt

By FRANK H. KING Associated Press Sports Writer.

WIMBLEDON, England, June 14. (AP)—Great Britain's women's tennis team regained the Wightman Cup, international tennis trophy, from America by winning four of seven matches during a two-day series which a gallery of 7,500 saw draw to a thrilling finish today.

The United States and Great Britain each have won the Wightman Cup four times during the eight years it has been in competition.

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody pounded Mrs. Phoebe Watson into a limp and languid opponent to win 7-5, 6-1.

Americans Had Lead

The defeat of Mrs. Watson gave America 3 to 2 lead in matches and Miss Sarah Palfrey, of Boston, making her debut on the famous center court at the tender age of 17, had the opportunity of clinching the international series and winning for her country such honor and glory as goes with these big sporting events. Miss Palfrey lost to Phyllis Mauclerc 6-0, 6-2.

Mrs. Godfrey displayed all her old mastery and strategy and teamed with Mrs. Watson perfectly to conquer Miss Jacobs' power and Mrs. Moody's brilliance and win 7-5, 6-4.

Tod Morgan of Seattle, former junior lightweight boxing champion of the world, is now fighting as a lightweight.

Gaines County, "Last Frontier" Of South Plains, Is Coming To Fore In Growth; Hobbs Activities Are Aiding

(By Staff Correspondent)
SEMINOLE, June 14.—Gaines county, the "last frontier" of the South Plains, is 3 years old as a county but is just now beginning to push forward as one of the growing territories of the section. It has but one incorporated town and it is not the county seat.
Seminole, the county seat, was started in early 1907 after the county organized in late 1905. It has never been incorporated, although at one time it probably had enough population to do so.
Population increased
Present population is around 350 to 400, and is slightly more than a year ago.
The court house, started in 1919 and completed about 1922, is of brick. It is modern and much larger than several other counties boast.
Construction began in the hey day of the county's prosperity, when it boasted a railroad, the Midland and Northwestern. This line operated from Midland to Seminole, a distance of 65 miles.
Built By O'Donnell
The railroad was built by a man named O'Donnell who sold to Andrew Pasken, a Canadian by birth, who bought the famous "C-Ranch" near Seminole. The line was built to boost the sale of ranch lands as small tracts to settlers.

Material for the construction, ties, rails, etc., was sold by the Texas and Pacific railroad to the builders. They were never paid for, it is claimed, and when, after years of efforts to collect had come to naught, the Texas and Pacific went into court and foreclosed.
Also, Pasken leased equipment for operating the line, such as it was, from the T-P. The line did not own any rolling stock or motive power.
Tear Up Rails
Operation was from about 1917 to some time around 1929 when the foreclosure came. The T-P finally received permission to tear up the rails and abandon the property, from the Interstate Commerce Commission in 1934 and this work was done.
The Nelson Morris Packing company is said to have begun the railroad, operating through O'Donnell. Seminole is only a mile and a half from the actual center of the county. In its prime it boasted two banks—now consolidated into one.
About the same time that Seminole started another community began. It was Blythe, started by E. A. Blythe, a short distance from where Seagraves is now located. When the Santa Fe built its Seagraves extension from Lubbock to that town, the name was later changed to Seagraves, for a railroad official.

The origin of Seminole as a town was seen in the establishment of a postoffice by W. B. Austin late in the fall of 1904 on his ranch a mile and a half south of town. He operated a store in connection with the postoffice for the benefit of ranchers of the county.
In 1905 when the county seat was chosen as Seminole, Austin was persuaded to move his office to Seminole.
The town has four churches, a Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian and Christian. The latter does not have a church building.
"Every house in town is occupied," R. W. Pittman, county judge says. "We have one hotel, the old Gaines

Hotel, operated by Mrs. S. J. Averett and it is full all the time. Then we have several families that take in roomers.
"Since Hobbs began booming we have had more business than ever. Every room nearly is occupied at night and we do need another hotel."
Seminole has a weekly newspaper, one of the two in the county.
The county had a valuation of $4,325,000 the past year. It is expected the valuation will be increased to an excess of $4,500,000 this year by the board of equalization.
While cattle raising is one of the main industries, considerable cotton is raised. Corn, to some extent, is a good crop, but grain sorghums and feed crops are raised in large quantities.

BORIS N. VOLKOV RODE 1200 MILES IN 5 DAYS 10 HOURS
In 1921 Boris N. Volkov, a courier in the employ of the Mongolian Government, traveled on horseback from Urya to BuyrNor, a distance of 1200 miles, in 5 days and 10 hours to escape execution. This space of time includes short stretches of rest, and 48 changes of horses. This forceful ride took place in the stirring times when, after the Russian Revolution, different monarchist Russian governments were trying to gain a foothold in Mongolia.

Old Timers To Gather At Johnston's Ranch, July 3-5

Celebration Being Planned For Big Crowd

Second Annual Event Will Be Bigger Than Ever, According To Arrangements; Expect 10,000 People

Pioneers of the South Plains and Western Texas, with the passing of one more mile-stone in life, once again will gather, clasp hands and reminisce when the second annual Old Settlers reunion swings into being July 3, 4 and 5 at the Bud Johnston ranch, 16 miles southeast of Lubbock.

Plans are being laid for the largest celebration ever attempted at the big natural playgrounds, according to announcement by Bud Johnston late yesterday. Last year during the three-day period an estimated 10,000 persons from all sections of West Texas visited the ranch and this year an even greater number is expected. Five thousand two hundred acres of land will be thrown open to the visitors and camps may be pitched at any place free of charge for the duration of the celebration. A greater portion of the land lies under the caprock and scores of tiny springs furnish cool, clear water for campers.

Attractions Planned
Many attractions are being planned this year for entertainment of the pleasure seekers and in addition time will be allotted during the three days for candidates who wish to bring their messages before the voters.

A dance will be staged each night in a large pavilion which will accommodate 300 couples. Hardwood floors will make for easy movement and a good orchestra will furnish music. The old timers will not be forgotten in the dancing and separate periods will be set aside for nothing but dances of former years.

Fiddlers to Compete
Another feature attraction will be an old time fiddlers contest. First prize for the three days will be $50, second prize, $25, and third prize $15.

A cash prize of $5 will be given to the first old timer to register. In order to be eligible for the prize the contestant must have lived within a radius of 150 miles of Lubbock for the past 25 years or more. A $10 cash award will be given the oldest pioneer to register during the three days.

To Have Chuck Wagon
Carnival entertainment will be furnished during the event and Jim Johnston, of Lubbock, is in charge of concessions. An almost forgotten relic of the Old West will be revived when Big Jim Robertson, old timer and former police chief of Lubbock, will preside over a huge chuck wagon.

And the western rodeo will be staged—heralded as "bigger and better than ever." H. Lindsey, of this city, is in charge of the event. A large number of prizes are to be offered. A saddle, valued at $150 and which will be displayed soon here at the O. W. Jolly saddle shop, will go to the best rider for three days. A $50 cash award will be made to the best calf roping for a three-day average. Another feature is the Little Boy riding contest, open to boys 9 to 15 years of age. First prize is a two-year-old horse, second prize a one-year-old, and third prize $10 in cash. Races will be staged for both adults and youngsters. Letters are being received from riders and ropers all over the country who have appeared in this

Slaton Rotary Celebrates on City Birthday

Will P. Florence Presides in Anniversary Program; Town's Growth Marked in Past 19 Years

SLATON, June 14.—A special program was held here Friday by the Slaton Rotary club, observing Slaton's nineteenth birthday anniversary, which comes on Sunday, June 15. Will P. Florence, who has resided here since before the city was founded, and Jim A. Elliott were the speakers on the program.

Slaton is also celebrating this anniversary by entertaining the 18th Texas District American Legion convention here on Saturday and Sunday. Over 400 delegates are attending from all parts of Northwest Texas.

Founded on June 15, 1911, by the Santa Fe Railway company, Slaton had grown to a population of 1,325 by 1920 and the preliminary census figures for 1930 show 3,800 inhabitants in the city's corporate limits.

Slaton is now credited with having all the earmarks of a modern city, including 33 blocks of street paving, modern water and sewer systems, excellent light, power, natural gas and street lighting systems; one of the best telephone systems in West Texas; modern, fire-proof hospital costing $225,000; fine public schools, splendid church buildings, free city mail delivery, several large industrial plants, and many other attractive and outstanding features of which the citizenship of Slaton is proud.

A goal of 10,000 population by 1940 was recently set by the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, necessitating a gain of 150 per cent in the coming decade. The gain in the past ten years was 153 per cent.

RAINS AID TERRITORY Farmers in Abernathy Area Prepare For Harvest

ABERNATHY, June 14.—Farmers in Abernathy's trade territory, which includes a large section of northern Lubbock county as well as the southern part of Hale county, are rejoicing over two good rains which fell here the past few days.

Monday night's rain, of approximately half an inch, was believed to have been of more benefit than the rain of Saturday night, which amounted to around an inch and a quarter. The Monday rain was slower in falling and as a result more of it went into the ground.

Harvesting of wheat is expected to be delayed until next week, although some of the men may start late this week. It depends upon whether they can get the combines into the field without the starting and resumption of harvesting in this week or next, it was said.

SHIP CAR OF LAMBES
FLOYDADA, June 14.—(Special)—Three Floydada men, A. B. Duncan, J. E. Rife and T. W. Martin have shipped a car load of lambs to the Kansas City market. The animals were nearly all bulk fed and averaged 67 pounds for the 237 in the car.

Orange county, Calif., agriculturalists took $43,000,000 from the soil in 1929, the county farm adviser estimates.

Hobbs Is Cafe Center Of Southwest; Over 400 Cooks And Waiters Engaged In Preparing "Eats" For Activities

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Staff Correspondent
HOBBES, N. M., June 14.—Hobbes is probably the restaurant and cafe center of the southwest.

There are, conservatively speaking, according to those who know 400 cooks and as many waiters in town.

Total Near Hundred
Cafes and restaurants number 80, including hamburger joints, boarding houses, sandwich stands and other places where people are fed.

One boarding house, the Hobbs Boarding house where meals are served "family style" that is, the food placed on the table and you help yourself is said to have served 1,100 people for one evening meal. This was during the "peak of the boom," you are told.

Several of the cafes down town are occupying buildings 100 to 125 feet long and longer. They have counters, 50 to 75 feet long that seat 25 to 40 persons. Besides these there are tables to serve that many more.

Just Like Fred Harvey
In one cafe, the Oil King cafe, you get a finger bowl when you have finished your meal in the dining room—just like Fred Harvey does in his world-famous railway restaurants.

In another, the Club cafe, there is not a single thing listed on the menu but what you can get any hour of the day and almost any hour of the night.

These two are probably the largest cafes. Others are smaller but serve meals well. The food is well cooked, fancy or plain just as you desire. You can get almost anything in the eating line here the same as in Dallas, Fort Worth, Oklahoma City, Tulsa, Wichita, Kansas City or Denver.

Hamburger stands vary in size

CHRISTOPHER QUITS Lameas Attorney Gives Up His Candidacy

LAMEAS, June 14. (Special)—Judge Thomas S. Christopher, Lameas attorney, announced this week that he had withdrawn from the race for Congress, stating that he did not have time at present to make a campaign tour over the Eighteenth district, which is composed of over fifty counties.

A gold watch lost 23 years ago by John E. Frazer of Haledale, Kas., has been found by a road grading crew. It was little damaged.

from a "hole in the wall place" just big enough for a man to work in and hand out his sandwiches, to others 25 feet square or more.

The smaller ones are generally between buildings, where the owner of the structure for some reason did not occupy all of his space.

Rents for these places run from $40 to $50 a month for the "hole in the wall" up to $250 and $300 or more for the larger places.

The larger restaurants, open all night, may use six to ten waiters on a shift, depending on the meal hours. There are nearly as many in the kitchen, cooks, second cooks, dish washers, yard boys, etc.

Many Open All Night
At night several of the larger places stay open all night. "We have to for one reason, so we can get cleaned up," one cafe man explained. "We do not have time until after 10 o'clock, say, at night, to clean up the place. Again, we make our own pastry and the cook has to be here at night and do his work. We do not have time during the day time to get pastry work done."

Meal prices are not exorbitant. This is considered extraordinary in view of the fact that most of the foodstuffs are trucked into Hobbs from towns 75 to 100 miles away.

One can get a meal from anywhere up from 50 cents to a dollar. Of course, club steaks, porterhouse steaks, etc., cost more than a dollar sometimes. Fancy dishes are not much, if any, higher than in the larger cities and towns.

Wholesale houses in Lubbock, Lameas, Midland and other towns supply the city with food. Some houses furnish their own trucks to transport their goods here. Others use truck lines. Several of these truck lines handle from 2,000 to 8,000 pounds of groceries, produce, etc., per day.

Very little is shipped in by rail, due cafe men say, to high freight rates because of interstate business.

Scout Camp Attendance Expected To Be Record

Over 200 Boys Are Likely To Enter Periods

Preparations Being Made To Care For Youngsters For Camp; Two Periods Of Ten Days Each Scheduled

Applications are being received daily at headquarters in this city of the South Plains Area Council, Boy Scouts, and indications point to the fact that the summer camp this year near Post will be the largest attended in history of the council, according to D. T. Jennings, scout executive.

Officials expect that over 200 boys will attend the camp during the two periods of the camp, the first starting June 30 and closing July 10, the second extending from July 9 to July 19. Included in this number will be representatives from thirteen counties of the South Plains, including the counties of Lubbock, Deaf Smith, Garza, and others. Mr. Jennings and George Eason, deputy scout commissioner, have visited every troop in the area during the past several weeks in an effort to arouse enthusiasm in the approaching camp and they report that each troop is planning to send several boys. Officials are anxious, however, that applications be submitted early so that conditions might not be crowded at the last minute.

Offers Much Recreation
Camp Post, located three and one-half miles southwest of Post City on the edge of the canyon, offers this year ten days filled with swimming, hiking, scouting, games and fun. The camp ground contains four hundred acres of canyons, hills, creeks and brush which provide an ideal location for the scouts to learn the nature of the western plains.

The camp is to be under direction of Mr. Jennings, assisted by K. N. Clapp, also of Lubbock. There will be at least one man to every eight boys at all times.

Scout To Teach Work
Included in the camp program will be swimming, first aid instruction, leather and hair plaiting, camp fires, archery, bead work, firebuilding, nature, pioneering and woodcraft. Cowboy Ed Scott, a pioneer from the O. S. ranch will be at the camp and for the past forty years he has been known as a champion rope spinner and leather worker. He will instruct the boys in this phase of the camp.

Two cups are to be awarded this year as usual. The McMillan cup for the troop making the best record for round camping and the K. P. Cup to the troop making the best record on K. P. duty. The first was won by Troop 4, Lubbock, last year, and the later by Troop 6, Lubbock.

Ten dollars is the camp fee for each boy and many of the boys who are not financially able to pay have been working since the close of school that they might earn enough to pay their expenses. In several cities of the area civic clubs have taken this as a project and have given jobs to many boy scouts who otherwise would not be able to attend.

BAND GETS FIRST PLACE
Westerners Are Accorded Best Dressed Group Prize

The Lubbock High School Westerners received first place for best appearance in the mass band concert held recently at Abilene during the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention, according to information received here yesterday by H. A. Anderson, director.

Mr. Anderson received a check for $25 as prize.

Dressed in their new black and gold uniforms, the Westerners competed against high school and college bands from all parts of the state.

Result Has Been Amazing Declares Lubbock Farmer

For several years I have had an awful lot of trouble with my stomach and everything I ate disagreed with me and after meals I would have that puffed up bloated feeling," said Mr. W. W. Murrell of 1614 Ninth Street, Lubbock, Texas. "I would beitch my food up and I got to the point where I was afraid to eat anything because of the suffering I knew it would cause me. I was constipated and had terrible headaches and my sleep was very poor and my system seemed to be all run down. I was losing weight and felt tired and worn out all the time. My condition grew gradually worse all the time and I felt that unless I could get the right medicine my troubles would soon become critical. A friend recommended Argotone to me and it has not only relieved me of my troubles, but it has built me up amazingly. I have taken one bottle and my stomach is in good shape. My appetite is fine and I eat what I want without feeling a sign of indigestion and the gas does not form on my stomach any more. My heart seems to be back to normal and my constipation is gone. Argotone has been a great thing for me and I don't think anybody can make a mistake by giving it a fair trial. It has started me on the road to health and I think it is the best medicine in the world."

Genuine Argotone may be bought at Lubbock at the Bowen Drug Store-Adv.

Cotton Prices Work to New Low Ground Livestock Lower Undertone Shows in Market Grain Wheat Goes Under Dollar

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT
NEW ORLEANS, June 14. (AP) - Cotton worked into new low ground for the movement Saturday with further drastic liquidation in the July position. The decline was due to continued good weather, favorable crop reports, uneasiness over the tariff situation, further weakness in stocks, a fresh decline in silver to 15 7-8 and rather bearish domestic consumption statistics from May. Liverpool was still closed.
In the absence of Liverpool first trades showed losses of 5 to 11 points and the market eased after the start. At the end of the first hour July traded at 13.55, down 20 points while October dropped to 13.32 and December to 13.49, down 12 to 13 points.
The market continued on the down grade for the rest of the session, the decline being helped by the rather bearish May domestic consumption statistics of 473,917 bales. The market closed at the lowest with July at 13.56, down 486-points net and October at 13.22, down 23 net.
Port receipts, 6,100; for season, 8,324,756; last season, 9,400,561. Exports, 1,434; for season, 6,998,589; last season, 7,549,894. Port stocks, 1,713,691; last year, 947,795. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston, 47,670; last year, 62,478. Spot sales at southern markets, 1,740; last year, 3,603.

NEW YORK REPORT
NEW YORK, June 14. (AP) - Further sharp declines in cotton here today were attributed to renewed liquidation of July and selling of large deliveries promoted by the continued favorable average of crop advices combined with reiterated reports of a slow demand for cotton goods, and weakness in grain.
All months made new low ground for the season with July selling off to 13.8 or 55 points net lower while the new October broke to 12.15, with the general market closing easy at net declines of 26 to 55 points.
Demand Supplied
First prices were 7 to 15 points lower, and the initial demand was soon supplied by more or less general selling this was supposed to include selling orders from Liverpool, the continent and Bombay, while there also seemed to be considerable southern selling, some of which was in the July position.
The weakness in wheat was doubtless a contributing factor in the nervous and unsettled ruling of cotton, up until 7:30 P. M. June 27, 1930, and publicly opened by the City Commissioners, for the erection and completion of an Airplane Hanger Building to be erected on the Municipal Field.
All proposals will be filled in strict accordance with the plans and specifications, and Contractors desiring to submit bids will be furnished with plans and specifications upon application to The Butler Company, Architects, 418 Myrick Building, Lubbock, Texas. Plans and specifications to be returned at the time of the letting.
The City Commissioners reserve the right to reject any and all proposals.
This the 14th day of June, 1930.
W. H. RODGERS, City Secretary.

Trade Promotion
Event Is Planned
Albert T. Thacher, New York City, connected with the Thacher Productions, was in Lubbock Saturday confering with officials of the Retail Merchants association regarding a special trade promotion event to be staged in this city in the near future.
Mr. Thacher left last night for Wichita Falls on similar business and will return to Lubbock the latter part of this week. A definite date will be set early in the week and a special meeting is to be called at that time for all local merchants to consider the proposition.

Stock Prices Weaken Again As Mart Slips Back Into Its Downward Trend

By JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer.
NEW YORK, June 14. (AP) - Stock Prices weakened again today, and the market slipped back into the trend that has persisted for a fortnight with only two or three interruptions.
How much of the selling was prompted by the decline in commodity prices, especially wheat and copper, and how much by the legislative action on the tariff bill was problematical. It was noticeable, however, that the list turned downward after the opening of the Chicago grain market and after a reduction in the export price of copper metal had been announced.
Tariff Bill Discussed
The effect of the tariff was a subject of considerable discussion. It was pointed out that enactment of the old protective measure, enacted eight years ago, had been virtually ignored; but it was apparent today that the professional bears were putting an unfavorable interpretation on the present measure and using it to depress the price structure.
The rails composite price touched a new 1930 minimum, Baltimore & Ohio, Atchinson, Nickel plate and Rock Island all sold into new low ground.
The ease with which prices of such shares slid off inspired selling operations elsewhere. International telephone was subjected to unusually severe pressure and broke to the new low of 48 1-2. At the closing quotation of 48 1-2 the stock was 3 points net lower.
U. S. Steel, American Can, American Telephone, Bethlehem Steel, Consolidated Gas, General Electric, Westinghouse Electric, Johns Man-
ville, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Western Union, Radio and National Biscuit yielded 2 to 4 points and finished virtually at the bottom.
American Tobacco "B" lost 7 points.
There were considerable wider decline in several specialties, including J. I. Case, Air Reduction, Worthington Pump and Eastman Kodak.
Another break in the Spanish Pasta was a feature of the rather dull foreign exchanges. Sterling Cables sagged 1-16 to 4.85 7-8.

FORT WORTH PRICES
FORT WORTH, June 14. (AP) - It was gratifying to all concerned with the cattle trading at Fort Worth when a lack of supply failed to materialize at Fort Worth Saturday morning. This followed a week when all classes showed a downward revision of prices.
The yard's figures called for 100 cattle, 25 calves, 500 hogs and 25 sheep. Some of the cattle were direct and others were classes carried over for Monday's trading.
Most of the hogs listed in the receipts were reduced from $1 ferred and truck hogs sold at 9.25.
Not enough sheep on hand to test the trading.

MIDWESTERN REPORT
KANSAS CITY, June 14. (AP) - (U.
S. D. A.) - Although receipts of hogs were more than 100,000 short of last week, a lower undertone was in evidence most of the time and closing rates are unevenly steady to 25 lower. The late lot rested at 10-30 on choice light weights at Chicago. Receipts 434,262, against 538,907 last week and 523,486 a year ago.
Fed steers and yearlings 25-30 lower. Choice heavies 13.75 at Chicago. Strictly choice 16.30 at Kansas City. She stock 50-100 lower for the week, while vealers declined 1.00-1.50. Stocker and feeder met a very limited demand at unevenly lower rates. Desirable grades sold from 8.50-10.00 with a few fleshy feeders bringing 10.50-10.85 on the Kansas City market.

ginning at 2:30 o'clock this after-stated.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT
CHICAGO, June 14. (AP) - Wholesale throwing overboard of holdings of future deliveries of all grain sent values crashing downward today, wheat reaching as low as 99c a bushel.
This was the first time during 1930 that wheat has sold at less than $1.00, and not only wheat but corn, rye and oats broke the season's previous bottom price record.
Rye plumbed the lowest depth since 1904.
Wheat Unsteady
Closing quotations on wheat were unsteady at but little above the day's bottom prices and 1 1-2 3-8c
bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 2 1-2 3 1-4c down, oats 1-2 1 3-8c off and provisions varying from 30c decline to a rise
of 5c.

Wheat Unsteady
Closing quotations on wheat were
unsteady at but little above the
day's bottom prices and 1 1-2 3-8c
bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 2 1-2 3 1-4c down,
oats 1-2 1 3-8c off and provisions
varying from 30c decline to a rise
of 5c.
Other traders, who took little stock in talk about foreigners retailing gave considerable heed to dispatches saying that the harvest of wheat in Kansas, the leading wheat state in this country, had already begun, and that the spread of the harvest northward should soon be adding the surplus of last year's wheat, that has long been awaiting an outlet.

Snaps Nervously
At times wheat prices today snapped nervously back to above $1.00 a bushel, but such rallies proved transient, and at no time did the market recover to anywhere near yesterday's finish. The rallies were apparently due mostly to profit taking on the part of previous speculative sellers.
Provisions were influenced by sympathy with grain weakness.
Closing Indemnities: Wheat, July
96 5-8, 1.01 3-8; September 98 3-4,
1.03 3-4; December 1.03 3-8 1-2,
1.06 3-8. Corn, July 73 1-2 5-8, 77 7-8
16; September 74 3-8 1-2, 78 1-2 3-4;
December 69 1 4 3-8; 72 5-8 3-4.

SUMMER TIME means vacation time for scores of Lubbock people, who, laying aside their business cares or social activities, are spending a week, a month, or in some cases the entire summer in rest and travel. Some are finding pleasant retreats at near-by summer resorts, while several are leaving for extended European tours.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mowery, J. H. Pendleton, and Miss Anna J. Pendleton were to sail at daybreak Saturday from Montreal, Canada, for England, from whence they will go to France, Germany, and Switzerland. They are to see the Passion Play in July.

Livestock farms in the various countries are to be observed by Mr. Mowery, who is associate professor of animal husbandry at Texas Technological college.

Friends in Lubbock received word from the group last week telling of interesting places visited in Ohio. The saw the home of James Whitcomb Riley, the state capital, and the University of Ohio.

Extended Trip
Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Chipley, and daughter, Miss Mary Evelyn Woodson, are planning to leave this week for an extended automobile trip. They will go to Grand Canyon, Salt Lake City, Yellowstone park, and then to Canada, and will return to Lubbock about September 1.

Mrs. O. K. Peters and daughter, Miss Erika Peters, are to leave the latter part of the week for California. Miss Peters will be a student in the University of California, Berkeley, this summer.

Miss Hazel Reeves, 3212 14th street, is leaving next Friday for a 72 days' European tour, visiting points in France, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland, Germany, Austria, and Italy. She plans to see the famous Passion Play in Oberammergau, and will spend three weeks studying French in Grenoble, France.

Mrs. E. C. Bertinelli, who resides at the Bosque apartments, is leaving the first of the week for North Dakota, where she will spend the greater part of the summer with her parents.

Is to Study
Mrs. Joe Smith, health supervisor of the Lubbock public schools, will leave next Saturday or Sunday for a trip to Niagara Falls, Chicago, and Kansas City. On June 30 she will enter the University of Michigan, where she will study health supervision.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Mahoney were to leave this week-end for Michigan, where Mr. Mahoney, head of the horticulture department, Texas Technological college, will work on his Ph. D. degree at the State university.

H. M. Bell, superintendent of farms, Texas Technological college, accompanied by his brother, Uel Bell, junior at Tech, was to leave by automobile Saturday for a two weeks' pleasure trip to Las Cruces, N. M.

Plan Western Trip
Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Reid, 2417 15th street, and Miss Hazel Kokanour are planning an August trip by automobile to New Mexico, Colorado, and the Grand Canyon. Mr. and Mrs. Reid now are in Austin, where Mr. Reid is doing graduate work in the University of Texas. He is a teacher in the Lubbock high school.

Many Defects Corrected For Pupils During First Year Of Local Health Work

Smallpox Immunization Is Most Important Thing Done In Year, Says Mrs. Smith

Two Nutrition Classes Held For Underweight Children And Milk Served Entire Group Each Day

IMMUNIZATION of all school children against smallpox was the most important thing accomplished in the school health program this year, said Mrs. Joe Smith, health supervisor of the Lubbock public schools, in giving a report of her first year's work here.

She said that the most important thing done in the year was the making vaccination necessary before a child may enter Lubbock schools is a new rule that will help prevent future epidemics.

Morning inspection of children by the teacher is another health measure that has been instituted, and it has helped by bringing to notice conditions needing attention, such as sore throats, skin eruptions, bad teeth, and dirt.

Dental Inspections. Dental inspections by members of the Lubbock County Dental Society disclosed 3432 dental defects and of this number 1334 or 45 per cent were corrected by the close of the year.

The pre-school clinic for six and seven year old children who will enter school in the fall was held with the cooperation of the P. T. A. and of the 150 examined by doctors and dentists 136 were found to have one or more defects needing correction. Forty-two of these children had already been vaccinated and three had received immunity from diphtheria. All parents of these children were advised to have their children immunized against diphtheria before entering school. All were informed that a certificate of successful vaccination must have to be presented upon entering school next fall. In this examination four cases of suspected tuberculosis and five cardiac cases were found and parents were advised to see the family physician as soon as possible. Thirty-five children were found to have defective vision, and 37 had bad tonsils. Ninety-six had dental defects.

Had Nutrition Classes. We held two nutrition classes for underweight children. One hundred twenty-nine children, who were 10 per cent or more underweight were members of these classes. Those who could pay for milk did so and those who could not do so were furnished milk by the Milk Fund, the Red Cross, and two private individuals each day. Every child in these classes made material gains in weight and most of them came up to average or nearly so. Teachers reported improvement in the school work of these children and a change in their outlook on life.

One child especially noted because she seemed never to smile, was fifteen pounds underweight, pale and apathetic; in a month's time after beginning to drink milk at school had gained 4 pounds per week, showed a tint of pink, and smile occasionally shone forth at the end of school this child was almost normal in weight, had made considerable progress in school and enjoyed playing like other children.

Cleanliness stressed. Recognizing that cleanliness is a fundamental requirement of health and that it contributes a large share to raising the standards of resistance to disease, the teachers and principals, cooperating with the school nurse, have undertaken to clean up and reform a number of chronically dirty youngsters. Through the teaching of health rules and games in order to help children form health habits and habits of cleanliness an improvement in the appearance of children and the odor of class rooms can already be noticed.

The school nurse has secured, through cooperation of the Red Cross, federated church women, dental and hospital, and private individuals, the following services: classes for 15 children, tonics for 22; fastener treatment for two children bitten by a mad dog; the X-ray pictures of chest, for suspected tuberculosis, and three X-ray pictures of bones broken on the school ground, medical treatment for various ailments for 28 children and dental corrections for 30. None of the parents of these children were able financially to pay for having this work done.

"A little boy nine years old and in the second grade, unable to do his school work, was sent to the school nurse for examination and was found to be unable to see the print on his book. His home was visited and found to be very scantily furnished, but clean. It was winter and the only heat was from an oil stove in the kitchen, the only other room contained two beds and a trunk and chair. The mother was doing her very best to care for and feed the family of seven on a salary of about $70 a month. One of our local eye specialists examined his eyes and wrote a prescription without charge. This prescription was filled and the glasses secured through the cooperation of Red Cross and American Optical Co. This child made his grade at the end of the year.

Many Examinations. "I have personally examined 1,874 school children; of this number 1,186 were found to have physical defects of some sort. Notices were sent to parents calling attention to these defects and in many instances homes were visited in order to explain more fully to parents and to secure their cooperation by having the child's handicaps removed. Eight hundred twenty-six defects exclusive of dental defects were found and of this number 802 received treatment or were corrected.

"Four hundred thirty visits were made to homes for the purpose of pointing out to parents the danger of common maladies or to urge the correction of defects and to interest mothers in trying to keep their children well.

"Many calls were received over the telephone from parents in regard to children and 132 parents visited me in the schools.

"This year we have stressed smallpox vaccination, and next year we shall stress immunization for diphtheria.

New "Open Air Frocks" Are Less "A Matter Of Form"

Paton's interpretation of a country or open-air frock takes the form here of a simple, easy model of crepe marocain printed in an orange-beige polka dot design. The hat is white crepe, with an orange-beige velvet ribbon. Right: Ideal for wear with simple outdoor frocks is this natural pull-on straw hat from Paton, bound with bright blue grosgrain to match the frock's hand-embroidered trim and suede belt.

PARIS, June 14.—An evening dress excites admiration because of its sumptuousness and its regal style, an afternoon ensemble attracts attention by its chic and personality, and a morning suit because of its impeccable tailored line. But for subtle seductiveness nothing can equal the simple open-air frock, because it retains the quality of naturalness and suppleness that always enhance women's charms.

It may astonish the unobservant or the uninformed in dress lore to see what a relatively important place that category of simple frocks known this season as "open-air" frocks, occupies in the wardrobe of the well-dressed woman. Without seeming to differ in their essential line from any of the other types of frocks, the undecorated simple frock, in its simplicity, is even more apparent in these models this year than ever before. Even though the cut may be complicated, it is disguised in order to achieve that unostentatious air inherent to this category of dress.

Costumes Are Varied. Although simplicity is the fundamental feature of these open-air study and travel of the Institute of International Education.

Leave for Europe. Misses Grace Padley, Dorothy Lomax, and Ella Mae Lytle, students in the Lubbock high school, left recently for a two months' tour of Europe.

Miss Grace Jennings, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. P. Jennings, Miss Marjorie Leaverton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Leaverton, and Miss Nancy O'Neill, daughter of Mrs. Annie M. O'Neill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O'Neill, are at Chi Omega camp, near Lexington, Ky., on the Kentucky river. The three young women, students at Transylvania college, are expected to return to Lubbock about June 21.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Carroll plan to visit relatives in Louisiana and Arkansas in July.

Mrs. D. N. Leaverton, daughter, Rosemary, and son, Herbert, are to leave today for a few days' camping trip in Grapeland.

frocks, they show a really quite extensive variety of styles to select from. Triumphant in a discreet measure is permitted but it must never be too overbearing. The note of fantasy as a matter of fact is supplied in many instances by the fabric itself.

There must also be no evidence of a search for complicated color effects or combinations in order that these frocks may retain their air of simplicity. There is a marked preference for white and all off-whites, but all light colors are good too. Red and blue are usually used to outline collar and cuffs where neutral shades are favored.

So far as style goes, these open-air frocks are less form-fitting than the current town clothes worn by smart women, which means that almost invariably they need the addition of a belt, usually of the same fabric.

Some Favored Fabrics. Linen, cotton crepe, shantung, silk tulle and crepe marocain are the favorite fabrics this year, each fabric lending a greater or lesser note of formality to the frock thus constituting a certain scale of values in this category of dress. While plain materials seem to lead in favor, some very discreet prints are pleasing to look at, but the design must always be small and inconspicuous. Large designs would seem to endeavor to give the frock a formal town look to which the material in itself could never pretend.

Large-brimmed, supple hats are the only complement to these open-air frocks. Made of simple and often natural-colored straw, trimmed with a grosgrain or velvet tie, they complete the summer symphony evoked by the frock itself.

"The Lid Is Off" For Activities In Hobbs Oil Area

One Of Greatest Drilling Campaigns In Mid-Continent Field Indicated For Hobbs

All Major Companies Concentrating On Field; Shell Orders 15 Rotary Rigs To This Area; Much Material Coming

(By Staff Correspondent)
HOBBS, N. M., June 14.—The lid is off.
Announcement of the Phillips Petroleum company of its $5,000,000 gasoline casinghead plant, coupled with other developments for the Hobbs field, indicates that one of the greatest drilling campaigns in the history of the mid-continent oil field is opening.
Just a week ago the state geologist had before him 100 requests of the major oil companies now operating in Lea county to drill offshore and test wells.

There may be more than that by this time. L. A. Daniel, of the townsite company, said: "When I last talked to Geological Shiley he had on file 100 applications for immediate drilling permits."
Now these permits are for immediate drilling and that means that work should start on drilling within 30 to 60 days at the best.

One company, the Mid-West exploration company, is reliably reported to have made tentative arrangements of locations for 351 tests in the Hobbs area.

Major Companies Here
There are a score or so of companies here, including Phillips, Magnolia, Humble, Texas-Pacific, Atlantic, Amerasia, Continental, Shell, Getty, Ohio-Independents and others.

Mr. Daniel estimated that each company would have an average of twenty to fifty locations to make within the next year.

"I think it conservative to state that there will be at least one thousand drilling operations in Hobbs within six months," the townsite man said. "I know of a good many locations that are being made now and with the big development program ahead, we can look for one of the biggest drilling campaigns in the mid-continent field."

Orders Rotary Rigs
The Shell Petroleum company is said to have ordered fifteen rotary rigs sent to Hobbs for drilling of tests to that concern. This is in addition to a number of standard rigs.

Hobbs is the biggest oil field supply center around here. Mr. Daniel declared: "We have 35 oil field supply houses now in Hobbs or coming in. Hobbs has more of them than any town within 400 miles."
In other words, Hobbs has more supply houses catering to oil fields than Fort Worth, Oklahoma City, Denver, Big Spring, Midland, McCamey or San Angelo. I don't know of any town that has as much business as we have.

Much Stock Ordered
"More than $5,000,000 worth of stocks have been ordered here for these supply houses. That shows what the oil companies and supply houses think of Hobbs as an oil development center."

There are five pipe line companies assured of locating in Hobbs. The Humble and Atlantic companies are already in. Work on the Pecos-Texas line, subsidiary of the Texas company, is under way. Shell and Magnolia will start right away.

The Atlantic company is building a large tank farm south of Hobbs.

Several gasoline plants are to be built west of Hobbs along the "W" of the Texas and New Mexico railroad. In addition carbon black concerns are opening negotiations for locations, gas supply, etc.

Population at Hobbs is now conservatively estimated at between 8,000 and 10,000 people, including all Hobbs and New Hobbs.

Spur Farmers To Try A Feed Plan

SPUR, June 14.—(Special)—A section of the fair grounds here of the Northeast Texas Fair association is to be turned over to E. L. Tanner, county agent and used by him in conducting experiments in feeding of cattle with home grown feeds.

Included in the testing grounds will be the livestock sheds of the fair. The plan is for farmers to bring their cattle to be fed under the direction of an experienced feeder. Each animal is to be weighed at the start of the test and at its close.

Feed for the experiment will be home grown, purchased from farmers who are abandoning cotton for feed crops.

BUYS HALF INTEREST

FLOYDADA, June 14.—(Special)—Martin Brown, connected with the Florida Hardware company for the past two and a half years, has purchased the interests of Herman Crow in the business and is now manager of the local firm.
Mr. Crow expects to farm but his plans for the immediate future are not fully developed.

Superintendent Of Schools For Hockley County

(By Staff Correspondent)

LEVELLAND, June 14.—With Hockley county reaching more than 8,000 students, the office of county superintendent of schools will be separated from that of county judge and the county commissioners' court is to select a man for the new position.

At the August meeting of the commissioners' court the new superintendent is to be named. Dr. E. Magee, present superintendent, says: "Mr. Magee is not a candidate for the office, he having decided to seek the office of county judge."

It is understood that the commissioners' court in the event no one is offered for the post by Saturday night in addition to W. E. Fry, who has already announced, will name him for the new post. So far Mr. Fry had been the only candidate to make known his intentions.
Mr. Fry is at one time superintendent of the Levelland schools. He has been teaching in the school system here the past year and is well known over the county.
The new official is to take his position on September 1. At that time Judge Magee will turn over the office to his successor.

Land Leasing In Hockley Is Seen

(By Staff Correspondent)

LEVELLAND, June 14.—(Special)—With the increasing interest in the Lea county New Mexico field around Hobbs, land owners of this part of the Plains are looking for an increase in oil leasing.

Some years ago the Midland Oil company leased a large acreage in the county, especially in the old draw that forms what is known as the Colorado river. Last August the lease was renewed by the company for another year by payment of the annual fee.

One block lease on the old Slaughter land was reported canceled. As far as is known this was the only contract to be abrogated.

SELLS REGISTERED BOAR
FLOYDADA, June 14.—(Special)—Ed Holmes, well known Durango, Jersey hog breeder of Florida, has sold to R. R. Mitchell of Panama a registered Duroc boar. Mr. Mitchell will use the animal for the starting of his herd.

Land Leasing In Hockley Is Seen

(By Staff Correspondent)

LEVELLAND, June 14.—Long than nine per cent of the taxes of Hockley county for 1929 were unpaid when the year closed. L. F. Williams, sheriff and tax collector, says:

"We had collected at the close of the year better than 91 per cent of our 1929 taxes," the sheriff explained.

"The book will show better than that for we made some collections of delinquent taxes that will make the total larger than the actual tax rolls show."

NEW BRICK BUILDING

Hockley County District Will Erect New School House

LEVELLAND, June 14.—(Special)—A six room brick school building is to be built this summer at Clatskanie school district.

Bonds were voted to the amount of $25,000 for its construction. The building will include, beside the class rooms an auditorium for the use of community meetings.

JAIL IS VACANT

Hockley County's Jail Does Not Have One Occupant

(By Staff Correspondent)

LEVELLAND, June 14.—The Hockley county jail does not have a single inmate at this time. E. L. Cannon, deputy sheriff, said today:

"There are twenty quiet in Hockley county at this time and we do not have any one in the awaiting trial," the deputy said.

VOTERS INCREASE

Poll Tax Receipts Larger Than Ever In Hockley County

(By Staff Correspondent)
LEVELLAND, June 14.—Hockley county has more voters this year than ever before in the history of the county. The total number of poll tax receipts issued up to January 31 was in excess of 2,000.

"Last year we had between 1,300 and 1,400 poll tax receipts issued," E. L. Cannon, deputy sheriff, said. "This year the number is over 2,000."

"There are two reasons: one, an increase in population and two, those increase in the election. Last year was an off year."

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The bonfire blazed up toward the sky. 'Twas fun to watch it flare so high. A lot of people gathered round and soon began to sing. The air was filled with harmony and shortly Scouty said, "Oh, gee! These get-togethers sure are fine. What happens they bring."

Soon Scouty jumped up to his feet and cried, "I'll give you all a treat. I'll sing a fine song by myself if you will all be still!" "You bet we will," the whole bunch said. "If you can sing, go right ahead. We'll let you warble loudly until we have had our fill."

So Scouty sang a little song and let his voice ring out real strong. They made him sing another. Then they clapped like everything. One little girl came up to him and said, "Your voice is sure is trim. Let's sing a song together, please, 'cause I know how to sing."

Woe Scouty smiled and said, "You bet." And then they sang a sweet duet. They drew a lot of fine applause. It really was real good. The friendly Scouty then said, "It's time that we are all in bed. If we stay up too late we will not get the sleep we should."

They slept all night and then arose and promptly jumped into their clothes. Right after breakfast they were out again to take a hike. "Oh, look!" cried Scouty. "There's a man, and can he ride? You bet he can!" The man he meant was riding down the street upon a bike.

He rode up to the bunch and said, "Who wants a ride? Come right ahead. Hop high upon the handlebars. I'll make the old bike run." So Scouty jumped up mighty quick and shouted loudly, "This is sick!" The man took him for quite a spin and they had lots of fun. (The Tinymites arrive in Russia in the next story.)

"Fun Week" Is Scheduled For Lindsey Theaters Programs

Comedy Leading In Films Shown At Both Houses

Leading Comedians Appear In New Plays

FUN WEEK is scheduled for the Lindsey Theaters this week with the programs featured by films which run the gamut of humor and comedy from the ridiculous to the more ridiculous.

Starting with the famous Shakespearean comedy, "The Taming of the Shrew" which brings Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks together at the Lindsey today and continuing through the week with Edward Everett Horton, Johnny Arthur and Patsy Ruth Miller in "The Aviator" at the Lindsey today and continuing through the week with Monte Blue and Lupe Velez in "Tiger Rose" is on at the Palace today and tomorrow.

"Gold Diggers of Broadway," packed with comedy, is the offering at the Lindsey for the latter part of the week while Monte Blue and Lupe Velez in "Tiger Rose" is on at the Palace today and tomorrow.

Monte Blue And Lupe Velez Shown In "Tiger Rose"

Primitive Story Of Northwest Given In Film

Magnificent against natural backgrounds of the wilds that have seldom been equalled, "Tiger Rose" opened last night at the Palace and will run today and tomorrow. That the talking screen can enhance the entertainment value of a stage play is amply demonstrated by this picture, which Warner Bros. have made from the Willard Mack melodrama which was produced some years ago by David Belasco. It was a hit for several seasons.

There is a splendid sweep to this story of the Hudson Bay country and the North Woods, and life, movement, and speed have been combined with some of the finest dialogue that has yet been heard. It is a tale of primitive sections in a province far removed from the dust and roar of cities—a province which does not wish modern activities to enter.

Lupe Velez, the little Mexican actress who plays the co-starring part with Monte Blue, wins new screen laurels in the title role of "Tiger Rose." Monte Blue, as Davin, the brawling Irish sergeant of the Northwest Mounted, who loves Rose, and eventually helps her escape because she loves another, is at his very best in this picture.

Other Players Grant Withers again gives a sincere, youthful performance. Gaston Glass as Pierre plays a highly sympathetic role. As the mad doctor, H. B. Warner proves his histrionic ability. Tully Marshall didn't have to step out of character to be the Scottish factor of the Hudson Bay trading post, while Bull Montana's Italian dialect and ugly mug went together like the now famous cream in the coffee.

Lindsey, manager, states that his company has signed five and ten-year franchises for Warner Bros. First National, Paramount, Metro and R. K. O. pictures.

Congratulate the Lyric Theatre upon their installing Talkies. We believe in any improvement that will help make Lubbock a theatrical center.

Lindsey Theatre
Incorporated

Mary Pickford And Douglas Fairbanks Make First Film Appearance Together In "Taming Of The Shrew" At Lindsey

Play Together

THE MOST popular starring team in the history of motion pictures is brought together for the first time in "Taming of the Shrew," which opens at the Lindsey Theatre today for 4 days.

Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks "America's Sweetheart" and "Dynamic Doug" in William Shakespeare's glorious comedy! Audiences everywhere who have seen this Sam Taylor production are heaping praises upon it as being a jewel of film entertainment.

"Taming of the Shrew" was meant for laughs and Director Sam Taylor has succeeded in deftly bringing out every iota of comedy which came from the pen of Shakespeare. It is a story check-full of humor, color and delightful satire. Laid in the fifteenth century, it sparkles with twentieth century laughs.

In the role of Katherine, Mary Pickford goes beyond the heights she reached in the never-to-be-forgotten "Coquette." And the agile Doug does not one bit of his customary building, swaggering self in his interpretation of the gay Petruchio.

One Glorious Laugh From the opening shot to the final fadeout "Taming of the Shrew" is just one long, glorious laugh. From the first moment gay but stubborn Petruchio (Douglas Fairbanks) lays eyes upon his bride-to-be the stormy, tempestuous Katherine (Mary Pickford) there ensues a battle of wits and will. In this screen story of the Bard's immortal comedy brought to the screen for the first time in the history of motion pictures every bit of essential dialogue, comedy and striking situation has been left intact throughout production. This was accomplished by Sam Taylor, the man who directed "Taming of the Shrew" and before that "Coquette" which established Miss Pickford as one of the greatest emotional actresses the screen has ever seen.

Keatsian Humanness Taylor succeeded in retaining all the humanness which characterizes Shakespeare's works, and yet enhanced the scope of the play through the medium of the motion picture camera.

Among the featured players who support the two stars in the comedy are Joseph Cawthorn, Clyde Cook, Dorothy Jordan, Geoffrey Wardwell and Edwin Maxwell.

"The Aviator" Furnishes Fun

Edward Horton And Johnny Arthur Are Playing

Edward Everett Horton has a role that suits him ideally in "The Aviator," the Warner Brothers all-talking Vitaphone comedy showing at the Palace Thursday and Friday. It presents him as a dyspeptic author who gets dizzy when he even looks down at his own feet, but who has nevertheless been saddled with a reputation as the greatest stunt flyer in the history of aeronautics.

For many years, both on stage and screen, this great comedian has perhaps been at his best as a funny, witty individual always trying to be out of a tight situation, and always saying the wrong thing. As a glib, distracted prevaricator buffeted along by the force of circumstances rather than actuated by his own desire, he has brought laughter to millions, and has established himself in a class by himself as a light comedian.

In "The Aviator" Horton is surrounded by an exceptional cast of screen favorites, including Patsy Ruth Miller, Johnny Arthur, Lee Moran, Edward Martindel, Armand Kaine, Kenner Morgan, Phillips Smalley and William Norton Bailey. Roy Del Ruth directed.

Lyric Theater Opening With Sound Equipment Today

"Flight" Is First Film To Be Shown On New Projector Story Of Marines In Nicaragua Given Today

PLANES during and swooping through the clouds, loop-the-loops, death-dealing battle formations, hazardous landings and blazing planes—these are some of the thrills that await the audience at the Lyric Theater when "Flight," the Columbia all-talking roadshow attraction about the airmen of the Marines, opens today for a 4-day showing. The film is the first to be presented by the theater's sound equipment.

This vivid and intimate story of the love and adventures of two heroic and daring flyers in the United States Marine Corps, re-united for the first time since they appeared in the much-lauded underwater drama "Submarine," Jack Holt, Ralph Graves and director Frank R. Capra. Again these three men have scored. Holt and Graves make a wonderful team. For the interpretation of sheer drama and the sincerity of character delineation, these two are the perfect combination. The direction of Frank R. Capra is flawless.

Has Much Action
The film is supercharged with action and drama. An exciting football game, a beautiful Damon and Pythias friendship between two daredevil aviators, a three-cornered love affair involving the two buddies which culminates in a smashing climax, the dramatization of the banding uprising in Nicaragua and the most sensational air-fests ever photographed are all incorporated in this photodramatic treat. Lila Lee enacts the leading feminine role with a charm that is delightful and refreshing. Others in the cast include Harold Goodwin, Jimmy De La Cruz and Alan Roscoe.
"Lefty" Phipps, enacted by Ralph Graves, driven by shame to leave college because of a bonehead reversal football play, joins the marine aviation service. He wins the sympathy and friendship of "Panama" Williams, the hard-boiled Marine sergeant (Jack Holt). Their friendship is disrupted temporarily when they both fall in love with the same girl. This situation leads to an intensely dramatic conclusion.

"Gold Diggers Of Broadway" On For Lindsey Week-End

Colorful Picture Gives Insight To Stage

THE most amazing and gorgeous of all natural color films, "Gold Diggers of Broadway," a Vitaphone singing, talking and dancing picture produced by Warner Bros. from David Belasco's production of Avery Hopwood's greatest stage success, opens at the Lindsey for three days starting Thursday.

The story lives up to the treatment accorded it. As "The Gold Diggers," in its stage presentation, it scored one of the biggest hits in David Belasco's long life as a theatrical producer. As a motion picture, entirely in color, it will have a success immeasurably greater than its stage success, judging from the rapture of last night's audience.

Cast Is "Starry"
The cast is one of the starriest that any producing film has ever given us. The leading roles are entrusted to Nancy Welford and Conway Tearle, with other principal parts in the experienced and capable hands of such notable stage and screen artists as Ann Pennington, Winnie Lightner, Lilyan Tashman, Albert Gran, Gertrude Short, Nick Lucas, the radio and phonograph star, William Bakewell, Helen Foster, Neely Edwards, Julie Swayze Gordon, Lee Moran and Armand Kalis.

Nancy Welford plays the part of Jerry, a chorus girl, and Conway Tearle that of Stephen Lee. Lee's ward, Wally, has fallen in love with Violet, another member of the chorus, and Lee comes to put an end to his infatuation. Jerry, to help Violet get the man she loves, acts as outrageously as she knows how so that Lee will see how sweet Violet is by contrast. But Lee thinks Jerry is Wally's sweetheart, and falls for her himself—even her gold-digging, practiced on him, only delights him. His lawyer surrenders to the charms of another gold-

Another "Talkie" Theater Is Added Lubbock Shows Phonofilm Is Shown For First Time Today

Offering Lubbock movie goes another source for "talkie" entertainment, the Lyric Theater opens today with its new sound equipment and remodeled interior. The theater has been given a renovation with the installation of the equipment, approximately $8,000 being expended by the management.

Until recently, an Abilene theater man has been connected with Mrs. C. T. Scales, proprietor, in the business but recently sold his interest to Mrs. Scales. Since buying full control of the theater, Mrs. Scales has launched a campaign to better the amusement offerings of the show-house.

She also recently announced the plans for a $250,000 new theater to be built at 1012-14 Main. The DeForest sound equipment being installed by the theater is manufactured by a pioneer of the "talkie" industry, Mr. DeForest being one of the foremost figures in the radio business. His radio tube perfected radio reception. The Lyric equipment is known as the Phonofilm, the sound coming directly from the film, no disks being used.

In order to carry the sound better, new projectors, new sound screen and complete acoustical felt to give better sound and speech throughout the entire house have been installed. The seats of the theater have been fitted with white covers to allow better sound production.

Newspaper Story Shown In Movie "Young Man of Manhattan" At Palace

Fast-moving and modern as a Schneider Cup Airplane racer, "Young Man of Manhattan" zooms into the Palace Theater on Saturday next as the main feature for 3 days.

Based on the Saturday Evening Post serial and best-selling novel by Katherine Brush, one of America's youngest and most successful writers about young people, the picture picks up in impetus on the screen what it couldn't have attained by the slower medium of the printed word.

The principal characters, Claudette Colbert as Ann Vaughn, Norman Foster as Toby McLean, Charles Ruggles as Shorty Ross and Ginger Rogers as Puff Randolph are seen against a thrilling pattern of prize fights, football games, night clubs and other rendezvous of the boys and girls who furnish America with its daily newspaper fare.

Local Man "Knew Him When—"

Arthur Brown, local photographer has met an old friend after 17 years separation. When he saw George Barbere, who played the role of Billings, the American chewing gum magnate, "The Big Pond," which showed last week at the Lindsey Theater, Brown reminisced over the time he and Barbere were playing together with a stock company at Des Moines, Iowa.

"We were together in the Prince of Stock company, playing at the Prince of Theater in Des Moines," said Brown. "Conrad Nagle was in the same company. I had not heard of Barbere in years. It was a genuine source of pleasure to find him in his present success. We played together in 'Under Two Flags'."

Seagraves Completely Rebuilt Following 1928 Fire

Own Springs to New Life From Embers

Buildings Destroyed Have Now Been Replaced By Modern Structures; Growth Reflects
In Population Gain

(By Staff Correspondent)

SEAGRAVES, June 14.—Seagraves

inland town that a fire rebuilt a little over two years ago.

On 27, 1928, to be exact, fire of unknown origin, destroyed

buildings located in 18

blocks. Fifteen of these structures were frame, one brick and the two brick.

Today the buildings destroyed

have been replaced by seventeen modern brick structures, all fire proof and all equipped with progressive firms that are doing constantly more business with out-

own people than did the firms in old locations.

Most Buildings New

Seagraves' business section is clean and new looking. Most of the buildings are new and they stand out in sharp contrast to a good many buildings that have older looking business sections.

In the town, the only incorporated in Gaines county has a population of over 400 within the city limits. The federal census gave it

1,000. There are a number of families living close to town and to all parts and purposes are residents.

"End of Railroad"

At the end of the Santa Fe road from Lubbock by way of Wichita and is the "end of the road" for a large portion of this portion of the South Plains.

People from the southern part of Seagraves county come to Seagraves to trade. They also come here from the southwest section of Terry county and from the western part of the northwestern part of Dawson county.

Wichita is the nearest "big city," 24 miles away. Seminole, the city seat, not incorporated, is 20 miles to the west of that place is the new Lea county oil field near the south is Lamesa, about 10 miles away.

New Families Moving In

Seagraves is growing as is the community around the town in the past year or so some 40 or 50

families have come into the town around Seagraves and have settled up the precinct, known as precinct 2.

Ten years ago the town was not incorporated. For that reason the federal census does not show any population figures. To all intents and purposes, as far as Seagraves is concerned, the gain was 100.

Population 1,018 in 1920.

For was the precinct shown as a separate part, but the county as a whole. In 1920 the entire county had 1,018 people. This year the precinct shows a population of 1,348 and the town 505, a total of 1,853. Seagraves has a city commission form of government. H. C. Jones, cashier of the First State bank, is mayor. E. C. Roberts and John C. Martin are the commissioners. Waldo Russell is manager of the water works and city secretary. Rex Ragan is chief of the fire department and manager of a dry goods and department store. He also is secretary of the chamber of commerce.

The town was first known as Blythe, named for E. A. Blythe, one of the early day ranchers. Mr. Blythe, probably 20 or 25 years ago, built a store and postoffice on his ranch. He owned a large area.

Trade Center For Ranchers

For years ranchers for 30 to 50 miles or more came to trade with him. All supplies were freighted from Big Spring at first. Later some came from Lubbock.

The Santa Fe before the World war decided to get into the country and built a line to Brownfield and then on to Seagraves. This was then a good cattle country and as soon as the railroad came in, ranchers began to come here to ship by rail for Fort Worth and Kansas City markets.

Cattle shipments grew until as late as 1926, before the new Santa Fe line to Levelland and Blythe, in Young county, to the north. Seagraves was the largest single cattle shipping point in the nation. Ranchers would drive cattle here for a hundred miles.

The Santa Fe got a work train into Seagraves, then Blythe, in the late fall of 1917, but passenger service did not start until in the spring of 1918.

Name Changed

The Santa Fe townsite company started the town and later Mr. Blythe sold his ranch property to the company. The town was first known as Blythe and efforts were made by the company to change the name.

"We have a Blythe in California and we do not want to have two towns by the same name," the company explained. But Uncle Sam was obdurate although it was not until about 1921 or 1922 that the name was changed.

At that time the place became known as "Seagraves" for C. L. Seagraves of Chicago, industrial commissioner of the railroad.

Growth Has Been Steady

Growth has been steady but until the fire the place was not very large. Most of the buildings were frame and a good many people on the ranches did not come here to trade.

Next morning after the fire, business men began to make plans for new buildings. It was agreed to use brick for the structures instead of wood.

Seagraves has two gas, two cream stations, a wholesale feed and farm supply house, two automobile agencies, one bank, a hotel, five wholesale oil stations, a number of grain and cotton buyers and a power plant.

Electricity is furnished by the Texas Utilities company from its own plant here. Seminole, the county seat, also is supplied by the same company from the local plant.

To Get Natural Gas

Recently the West Texas Gas company made a survey and plans to build a gas main here in the fall.

The State Telephone company operates a line from Brownfield to Seagraves. It also has a line to Seminole and several rural lines to nearby communities.

Seagraves has one rural route and two city routes.

Although somewhat removed from the Hobbs oil field in New Mexico, Seagraves is reaping considerable benefit from the development there.

Nearest rail head to Hobbs, companies for months were forced to ship by rail all their heavy machinery to Seagraves and then truck it overland to the oil town. In this way a large business was built up.

Freight Income Large

Freight income for the station is reported to have increased until it is now approximately $250,000 a month. Many firms prefer to truck from Seagraves rather than ship their oil field material into New Mexico. Alleged high freight rates are cited as the reason for this.

Five large oil companies have established wholesale or bulk oil stations here and a sixth is coming in. These concerns ship in 20 to 25 tank cars per month.

When Seagraves was the largest single shipping point in the country for cattle, the number of cars per month averaged up into the hundreds. Even now, with cattle shipped from Blythe, Levelland and other towns north, the shipments will average between 150 and 200 cars of cattle a year. For five months the shipments will average 125 cars each, while for the remainder of the year the number will be between 150 and 200 each month.

Paving Program Talked

There is some talk, according to Mayor Jones, of a paving program for the town's main street. Probably it will be gravels in the event a majority of the property owners agree on the expense.

Five church congregations are organized here, three of them with their own buildings. The Methodist, Baptist and Pentecostal churches own buildings while the Presbyterians and Christians have organizations.

Seagraves has the only independent school district in the county. It has an enrollment of around 120 with expenditures of $50 or more for the next year. Nathan Johnston, the superintendent, has finished four years and is starting his fifth year.

The building is modern of brick, and cost approximately $75,000. It has an auditorium, a gymnasium and study hall and fourteen class rooms, besides the offices.

Vocational agriculture instruction is given, last year being the first year. Fifteen or twenty boys took the work and a larger class is expected.

Buses Added This Year

Buses are to be added this year for the serving of patrons of the district who live some distance from the building. Two have been secured and a third one is to be added if necessary.

The school district now has 72 sections of land. Scholastic enrollment of the district is 292, an increase of about thirty over the previous year.

Seagraves has its own water system installed since the fire. The mains are in every section of the city. The system cost $45,000 and its bonds are the only outstanding obligations against the city.

The first medical book of real consequence is said to have been a folio volume by Aulus Cornelius Celsus, a Roman, printed in 1470 which went through 155 editions and still is read.

Sixty-Two Seeking Offices In Dawson

LAMESA, June 14.—(Special)—Dawson county voters will do plenty of head scratching when they go to the polls in July. Sixty-two candidates have announced for county offices here. Nine are seeking the position of public weigher. Only one of eighteen county offices listed has a single candidate. Mrs. Mattie Herndon is running for re-election as county treasurer.

HOCKLEY COURT DATE

Judge Homer L. Pharr Will Preside At Session

LEVELLAND, June 14.—(Special)—Next term of district court for Hockley county will be the first Monday in September with Judge Homer L. Pharr of Lubbock presiding.

Owing to the large docket of the April term which closed only recently, the fall docket is not expected to be very large, especially in the criminal division, L. P. Williams, sheriff, says.

At the April term the docket was the largest in the history of the county. Of the ten criminal cases Durwood Bradley, district attorney, secured nine convictions. One was a hung jury.

During the fiscal year of 1928 Los Angeles harbor ranked second to New York on tonnage of foreign exports, according to the federal shipping board.

Louisiana club women and girls preserved food products valued at $369,108 in 1929.

CLOVIS LETS CONTRACT

CLOVIS, N. M., June 14.—The J. W. Zempier Construction company of Amarillo has been awarded a contract to build 80 blocks of streets and alley paving by the city commission. Price was announced as $1.75 a square yard, including curb and gutter. This is said to be lowest paving contract price ever known in Clovis. Last previous price was $2.00 per square yard.

Norman J. H. Pappas has been organist in the Bethany Lutheran church at St. Louis for 29 consecutive years.

SEERVIVE

In Actual Practice

What is back of the button you push to turn on the lights? Not only a wall, some copper and a few wires, but a constant flow of electricity. Anything that is of service, is constant and dependable. Supplying electricity for homes and industries, if it is to be a service, must be constant and dependable. Texas Utilities makes service an actuality three hundred and sixty-five days each year. Our policy is to serve the greatest number of customers at the lowest possible cost.

Farm Board Member To Visit South Plains In July

William F. Schilling, Dairy And Poultry Representative, Confers With Co-Ops Two Days

Aim Of Leaders In This Area Is Toward Organization Of Plains-Wide Co-Op That Will Get Federal Aid

William F. Schilling, of Minneapolis, member of the Federal Farm Board representing dairy and poultry industries, will be at Plainview July 25 and 26 for the purpose of conferring with officials and members of co-operatives in this area that are headed toward affiliation with the farm board in marketing their products.

Interest in Mr. Schilling's visit to the South Plains is heightened because of renewed activity on the part of dairy and poultry men throughout this area toward co-operative marketing organizations. The Hale County Co-operative Creamery association is the outstanding co-operative of Northwest Texas and officials of that organization anticipate conferences with Schilling to result in their alignment with the Land O' Lakes Creameries, Inc., of Minneapolis.

Has Over 500 Co-ops. The Land O' Lakes association has more than 500 co-operatives lined up with them, including dairy and poultry co-ops. These are scattered throughout the United States. Inasmuch as it also has recognition from the farm board and is receiving financial assistance from the government body, it is probable this organization will be selected as the national sales agency for all dairy and poultry co-operatives operating under supervision of the board.

The first day of Mr. Schilling's visit to Plainview will be given to conferences with the Hale county co-op. The day will also be observed as that organization's annual picnic meeting. The second day of his stay will be given to conferring with various groups of dairymen and poultrymen of this section who are anxious to get co-operatives formed, or who already have laid foundations for such and are operating in that direction.

Sweet Clover Demonstration Being Planned

District Agent Evans And The County Agent Eaton Work Toward Developing Feeds For Area

In looking ahead and in planning development of dairy farming for the South Plains, Sterling C. Evans, of College Station, district agent for the A. and M. extension service in 24 northwest Texas counties, while in Lubbock last week announced plans for instituting a number of demonstrations in pasture crops.

"Through the efforts and suggestions of County Agent D. F. Eaton we are desirous of having a green or so dairy farmers of Lubbock county enter demonstration projects this summer or fall in planting sweet clover," Mr. Evans announces.

"This crop has been tried out in this area but many farmers have reported difficulty in getting the seed they plant to produce as should be expected. We know that sweet clover will grow here and our problem is to learn by actual demonstration, just how best to plant and when."

Mr. Evans, in speaking of the visit of J. H. McLain, United States Department of Agriculture dairy specialist, in this section, stated that

Tech Aggie Studies Work This Summer

Two students of the dairy manufacturing department of Texas Technological college's school of agriculture are spending their vacation months getting actual experience in large ice cream manufacturing institutions in Texas, according to K. M. Renner, head of the Tech department.

"These two boys, James Dornier and James Holcomb, are majoring in dairy manufacturing," states Mr. Renner, "and the actual work they secure this summer will prove of inestimable value to them. Dornier is employed by the Stiffens Ice Cream company, at Amarillo, and Holcomb is working for the Purdy Ice Cream company, at Galveston."

Calls For Grad's Numerous. Dornier will be a junior at Tech in September and Holcomb will be a senior. Mr. Renner states: "Numerous calls for graduates of the Tech school of agriculture dairy manufacturing department are being received from industries throughout the nation. Mr. Renner reports, One graduate, J. J. Nelson, was given a diploma at the end of the last term, and another graduate, Guy C. Blanton, will receive his diploma at the close of the summer session. There were 15 students in this department during the regular term, with nine enrolled for the summer."

BOYS TERRACE LAND

Tahoka Vocational Ag Students Are Active

Every one of the 44 boys who were in vocational agriculture classes at the Tahoka high school, the past term, run levels and otherwise actively participated in terracing numerous Lynn county farms, according to Taylor White, vocational agricultural teacher of the school, who is attending the Texas Tech summer school.

Mr. White is working towards his master's degree and states that he hopes to be the first to receive such a degree from the Tech school of agriculture.

"The boys of my vocational agriculture classes," he explains, "have all taken practical work in terracing. They are required also to do many other things for farmers of Lynn county. This past season, we have had a part in terracing more than 6,000 acres."

MANY NEW VOTERS

Lamb County Poll Tax Receipts In 1935 Pass 4,000 Mark

OLTON, June 14.—(Special.)—Lamb county will have more than 4,000 voters at the coming election, A. H. McGavock, county clerk, says. Poll tax receipts issued by Collector J. L. Irwin numbered 4,115, he said. This is the largest in the history of the county, the clerk adds.

FLOYDADA, June 14.—Work on the new Fairmount school district building is expected to be completed the latter part of July, W. L. True, one of the trustees, said while here. The structure is to be ready for opening of school in the fall.

McLain, when visiting here a year ago, reported farmers advanced in breeding of dairy cattle, but behind in feeding. This year great advances have been made in the feeding program, as demonstration evidence. The real need for a balanced program is good breeding, good feeding and good pastures, he contends.

Agriculture Is Forgotten By Nation In Hectic Expansion

Cities, Factories And Inventions Multiply

BY AL WILL
Avantage-Journal Farm Editor
It is no great wonder that American agriculture, although continuously aggravated, should more or less have been neglected by our government during the hundred years immediately following the first federal census of 1790.

Inventive genius perfected more things in that short period than had been given to mankind in all civilization's hundreds of previous centuries.

Cities grew faster. Factories, mills, railroads, mines, steamships, multiplied with greater rapidity. People from the seven seas flocked to these shores in swifter stream than ever before had flowed to any new country.

"Cotton Gin Changed World." Three years after 1790, Eli Whitney changed the history of the world by his invention of the cotton gin. In 1775 first attempt at perfecting the sewing machine was made, patent in the United States being issued to Elias Howe in 1845. About the time of our first census the cotton mill was established in Massachusetts. While the first iron was made in America at Jamestown, Va., in 1624, no considerable production is recorded until after 1850. The flour mill of modern type came into being in 1782.

Pulmon dreamed up the Hudson in 1807. Two years later the first railway in America was started in Delaware county, Pa. The electric lamp was born in 1829 but it required almost another century for Edison to perfect it and give it the modern glass container.

Other Patents Are Named
Cott patented his revolver in 1835. Morse patented the telegraph in 1837. A year later, the first steamship crossed the Atlantic. In 1844 the magnetic telegraph was used between Baltimore and Washington. In this same year Good-year patented a process for vulcanizing rubber. By 1858 the Atlantic had been bridged by cable and the next year saw the striking of the first oil well in America.

Then came the civil war, and in 1869 completion of a railroad to the Pacific coast. The telephone was invented in 1877.

On and on, and on, in unending deplored of inventions and necessary factories to produce them, expansion rushed. Aside from establishment of the United States Department of Agriculture, prior to 1870 no worthy attention had been given agriculture. We were entirely too busy building cities and manufacturing institutions, laying steel rails and seeing how fast we could grow.

From less than 4,000,000 population in 1790, we find at the 1870 census one city with about 5,000 inhabitants and one state with more than 10 million population. The nation counted more in excess of 31 millions.

Is it to be marvelled at then that, with such mad scramble, improvement of life on the farm was ignored?

Problems of cities, of factories, of corporations, occupied the time of legislators. As improvements in transportation and in facilities for disseminating information came to the towns and cities—and between cities and towns—so did every convenience come first to the resident of the city. Back on the farm, folks were out of reach of this new world.

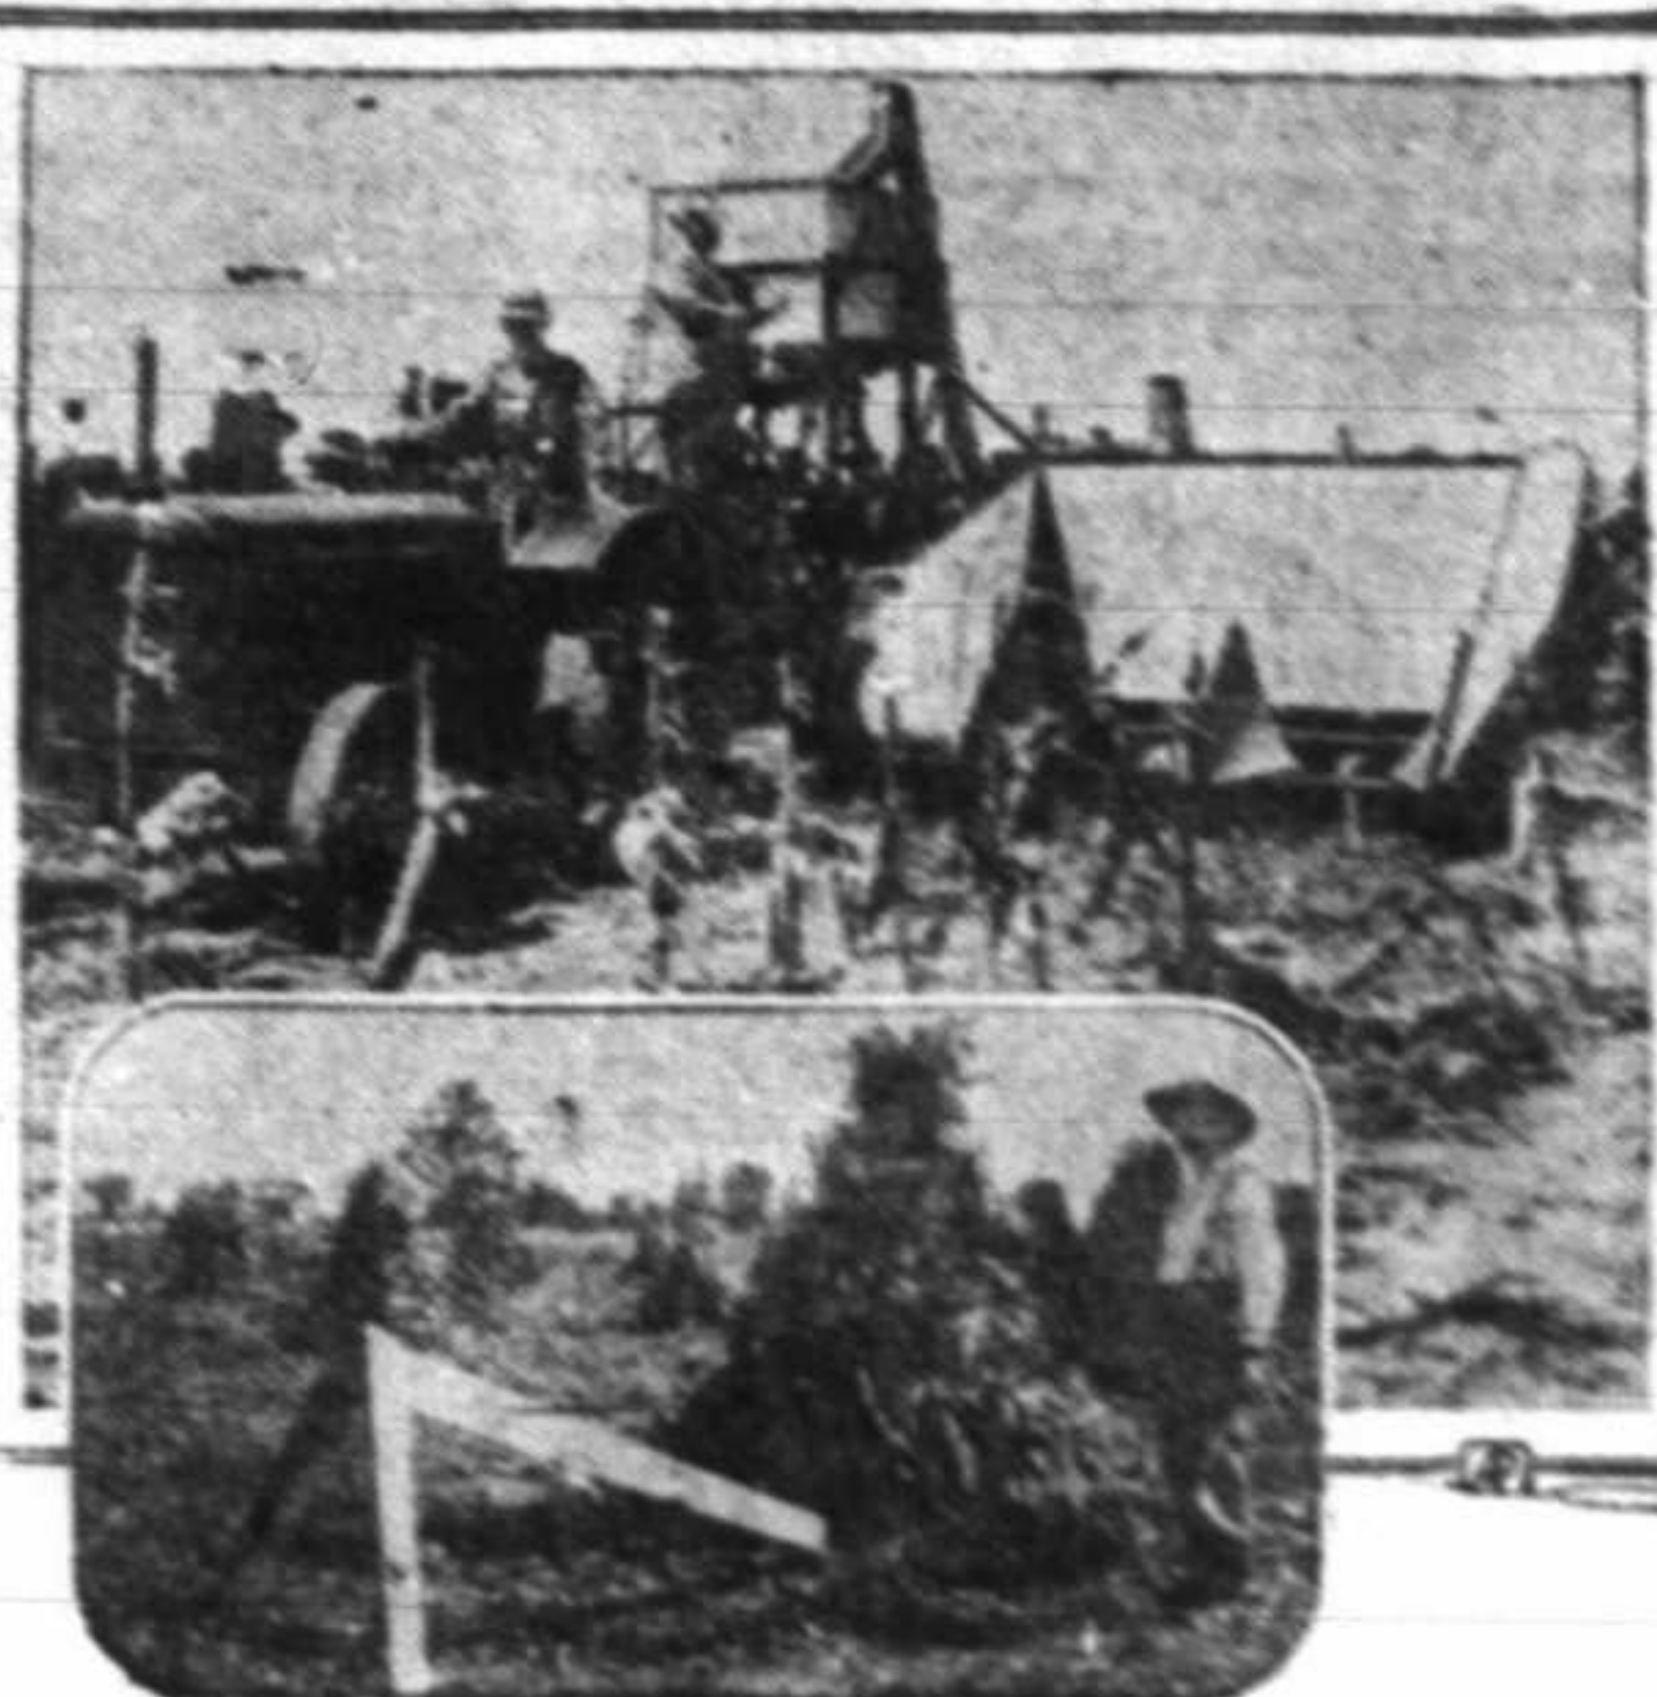

With convenience of communication, one with another, through the press and telephone and telegraph, business organizations and labor organizations quickly learned the lesson of cooperation. United fronts presented to law makers compelled each group to listen to what they knew to be the will of the people.

Public opinion, aroused to concerted action upon any subject or under any cause, can get whatever legislation it demands—because all office-holders are servants of the people.

Manufacturers' associations and labor organizations learned this truth and applied unity of demands to get what they desired.

These hectic years of inventions and city expansions, from 1790 to

Corn Combine Cuts Stalks, Shells, Cleans Grain In One Operation

A corn combine that harvested 4 1/2 acres of grain in three hours recently was tested at Liberal, Kan. Below is shown shocked corn.

1920 witnessed application of the principle of co-operation put to his business. Capital pooled resources under one banner and created giant corporations. In 1901 the United States Steel corporation, becoming the first billion dollar trust.

And, today, we see where individual co-operatives with their money as stockholders in organizations—for instance the 470,973 stockholders of the American Telephone and Telephone company, U. S. Steel possesses 180,284 stockholders, the Pennsylvania railroad 199,601, General Motors only a thousand less and Montgomery Ward & company some 46,000.

While big business has gone through the same cycle that agriculture struggles with, opponents of the Agricultural Marketing Act contend that farmers do not have the right to handle their own marketing organizations. To the intermediary—the man in the middle—belongs sole right to market that which the farmer produces. Yet in the words of Julius H. Barnes, foremost leader of opponents to Alexander Legge's board and program, "there is no great difference between the members of a farmers' co-operative marketing association and the stockholders in a giant corporation."

There are some 3,000,000 members of the more than 12,000 farmers' co-operatives in the United States. As business leaders have been working on the problem of cutting out waste in distribution of manufactured goods, farmers are attempting the same with all farm products.

As need came for factories when they increased production beyond the point of local demand—to reach out into world marketing and study of world market conditions and knowledge of sources of supply and of demand, so agriculture is facing the identical need.

There is too great a spread between what the producers of farm commodities receive and what the consumer pays. Manipulations of middlemen are working upon the pocketbooks of producer and consumer withholding from the out and extracting from the other.

Next week's chapter will have to do with the Agricultural Extension Act, passed in 1914. The aims of agriculture, as expressed before Congress while this act was up for discussion, are identical with what the Federal Farm Board is attempting to carry out under the Agricultural Marketing Act now.

The final chapter will deal with today's problems.

LIBERAL, Kan. — A machine that cuts two rows of cornstalks at once, shells the grain from the cobs, cleans it and then streds the stalks all in one operation is expected to be in use this fall.

A recent demonstration of the new corn combine was witnessed by 2,000 persons near here.

It was called successful by a committee of four farmers and a milling company executive named to observe the results.

The corn combine consists of an attachment at the sickle bar on a wheat combine.

Instead of the sickle which cuts the small grain, circular saws are used to cut the corn stalks which are thrown in reach of the spiral auger that conveys the corn to the threshing machine.

Here the corn is shelled and cleaned, and the shredded stalks left behind on the ground.

The corn where the demonstration was held had been standing all winter awaiting the test of the combine.

Results and Costs Given. The committee in its report of the demonstration said that only a few ears which were on the ground had been missed by the combine, and that the cobs were not broken.

The report showed the results and cost of the harvest to be as follows:

Number of acres of standing corn harvested, 4 1/2.

Time required for harvest, 3 hours.

Average speed of tractor and combine, 24 miles an hour.

Cost of Operation. Five gallons gasoline for combine motor, $1.50.

One quart of oil for combine motor, .25.

Two gallons gasoline for tractor, 1.20.

One quart of oil for tractor, .08.

Three hours man labor on combine, 1.50.

Three hours man labor on tractor, 1.50.

Total cost for 4 1/2 acres, $3.32.

Cost for one acre, 1.18.

The cost of harvesting the corn was slightly less than 3 cents a bushel, the committee reported.

LEVELLAND, June 14.—(Special.)—A gain of over 300 automobile licenses was recorded for the first five and a half months of 1935 over the entire year of 1929. L. P. Williams, sheriff and tax collector, reports.

So far this year licenses for 1,864 cars have been issued. During 1929 the number was 1,560, he added.

is he told of one cow giving pounds of milk a year at a cost of 28 cents.

h legume hay produced in the Plains area of abundance.
McLain, this section would everything necessary to bea leader in dairying for the nation.

"Some herds in this area," he said, "are ahead of herds in other parts of the country, where dairying has been established long before you of the South Plains began building up your herds. This area, however, is weak in your feeding system. You have got to satisfy the cow, and your own pocketbook, with production secured at less cost, to achieve success in your system."

"The defects in your system are, the cows are not getting enough to eat. You need ample hay, available for the cow at any time, day or night, winter or summer, where she can go and get it when she wants it."

Grain feeding is not the basis of good feeding, McLain explained, but the basis of good feeding is roughage. And this is based upon what can be raised upon the farm of the dairyman.

Speakers other than McLain at the Friday meeting were, Sterling C.
Evans, district extension agent; W.
L. Stangel and K. M. Renner, of the Texas Tech school of agriculture faculty, and County Agent D.
F. Eaton.

Lowest price for butterfat during the past 10 years, as obtaining for the past several months, Mr. Evans said, has resulted in closer study of cost of producing a pound of butterfat. Some Plains dairy farmers are producing at as low as 13 cents per pound, while some report from 40 to 50 and one even as high as 65 cents a pound of butterfat. He said if cost can be kept under 17 cents a pound the dairyman can make profit.

Sweet Clover Gets Results
Sweet clover cut cost of one Lamb county farmer to 10 cents a pound.
Evans explained.
Mr. Stangel spoke on need for balanced rations for dairy cattle, of satisfactory feeds, composed of available, suitable ingredients, easily digestible, nutritious, high mineral matter and of variety. He stressed need for silage throughout the year, suggesting a silo of some sort wherever there is a windmill.

Mr. Renner's talk was about the success obtained by the Hale County Co-operative Creamery association, in marketing dairy products.
This organization has paid $30,000
on its $40,000 property at Plainview in the past year and a half, making $90,000 pounds of butter the first year of operation.

Tri-State Exposition To Be Housed In New Buildings And "Dressed Up" Surroundings For Show During Fall

AMARILLO, June 14—(Special)—
The Amarillo Tri-State Exposition will be held this year, September 22 to 27, inclusive, in "dressed up" surroundings.

Between thirty and thirty-five thousand dollars will be spent improving and beautifying the home of the Tri-State fair before the exposition opens in September. The work is already under way.

To Build Auto Building
Construction of an automobile building—the first permanent structure to be erected—will be the biggest item of cost, but will be smaller than other projects in adding to the appearance of the fair grounds.

Contract for this building was let last week on a bid of $22,034.

Specifications call for a building of brick and tile, with steel framework and a concrete floor, making it fireproof. Its dimensions will be 120x150 feet, and so constructed that it may be added to when more room is needed. This building also will house the annual tractor and implement show each spring.

Barns Enlarged
The two cattle barns and the hog barn are being enlarged and improved at a cost of approximately $3,500.

But of greater outward attractiveness will be the repainting of all buildings, whitewashing of the race track fence, planting of trees and grassy spots, and other improvements that are under way.

Exhibits this fall will be placed in halls freshly painted white and griped with red, as they were originally painted. The old grandstand and the water tower will be included in the campaign to make the fair park attractive. New metal signs already have been hung to mark the entrances to each building, and a new sign has been placed at the entrance gate, announcing the dates of the free fair.

Of no little interest is the new

Hale Center Streets May Be

(By Staff Correspondent)
HALE CENTER, June 14—One of the improvements being planned for this city is a white way, to be erected on Clark street as soon as the paving is completed.

It is planned to have three lights to each block, one on either end of the left of the main entrance. Although the zoo is small in comparison with others, it is a new attraction, and now contains 40 or 50 animals. This number will be greatly increased by fair time. The county has spent $4,500 on improvements for the zoo.

and one in the middle, on each side of the street. The white way will be four block long.

Whether any lights will be placed on Cleveland street in front of the city park has not been definitely settled, it was indicated.

INDUSTRY AFFECTED

Depression Of Cream Prices
Are Cited

The depressed condition of the cream market, during the past several months, is having its effect upon the dairy industry, according to H. L. Gantz, field editor of the Farm and Ranch, who has been spending the past week in northwest
Texas in company with J. H. Mc-

Lain, dairy specialist of the United States department of agriculture.

"The dairy farmer who has had his herd established for several years," says Mr. Gantz, "is now paying close attention to methods of reducing production costs. This is being done by increasing production per cow. Either way it is figured it means the same as increasing profits."

Low Producers Injured
"Those who might be referred to as sours on the dairy industry are those whose herds are low-producing."

Mr. Gantz, who travels all western Texas, eastern New Mexico and western Oklahoma for Farm and Ranch, states that dairy farmers throughout these states are giving closer study to the industry, particularly in feeding and breeding.

Industrial Trackage In Big Demand In Hobbs Area; Much Rolling Stock Is Being Used

Between 15 And 18 Miles Of Industrial Tracks Already Built; Railroad Is Busy Supplying Demands

(By Staff Correspondent)

HOBBS, N. M., June 14.—Between 15 and 18 miles of industrial tracks and switches have been built by the Texas and New Mexico railroad in Hobbs and the Hobbs oil fields since the railroad came here less than two months ago. George W. Marshall, new agent for the company, claims.

"We have five or six more miles of switches to build now, that I know of," he added.

Handling 50 Cars Daily
"The Texas and New Mexico railroad is handling 50 cars of material for Hobbs each day. With the beginning of regular passenger service, we will be able to handle a good many more cars than that."

Every effort is being made by the railroad company to keep its freight moving into Hobbs and to keep the yards clear.

When there are enough cars of freight assembled at Monahans, the division point on the Texas and Pacific main line, to justify a special freight train, one is sent, he said.

Had To Leave Material
"We had to leave 12 cars of material for Hobbs in the yards at Monahans because we did not have motive power enough to handle them," Mr. Marshall said.

"The next day we ran a special train. During May we had quite a few special freights."

"There are 12 lumber yards in Hobbs. It is my guess that a half of the cars we receive have lumber."

"There never has been one hour's demurrage on lumber in the yards here. As fast as we get a car spotted we notify the lumber company that the car has been spotted. They generally have teams and trucks there as soon as we get the car set and they start unloading right away."

Hale County Will Hear Farm Board Member In July

(By Staff Correspondent)

PLAINVIEW, June 14.—Dairymen of Hale county will have as their guest of honor on July 25 and 26 William F. Schilling of Minnesota, the dairy industry representative of the federal farm board. Clarence Anderson, manager of the Hale County Dairy association creamery here, has announced.

While here Mr. Schilling will visit with a number of dairymen as well as inspect the local cooperative creamery, said to be one of the largest in the state if not the southwest, that is operated by a cooperative group.

A picnic to which members of the association and their families will be invited, is to be staged. The association has approximately 1,200 members in several states. Mr. Schilling will make a talk at the picnic and will also make several other talks here.

This is the first time that a member of the federal farm board has visited Hale county.

COURT FOR OLTON

District Court Of Lamb County To Open On August 4

(By Staff Correspondent)

OLTON, June 14.—Next term of district court for Lamb county is to begin August 4 with Judge Charles Clement of Plainview, presiding.

The docket is expected to be large this term, especially in the civil division. A. H. McGavock, court clerk, explained.

Present indications do not point to an extra large criminal docket at this term, he added.

Nevada's only millionaire is George Wingfield of Reno, above, who, 25 years ago, as an Oregon cowboy, borrowed $50 from the late Senator George P. LAMB RECORD GOOD

Tax Collections Between 80 To 85 Percent Is Report

OLTON, June 14.—Between 80 and 85 per cent of the taxes of Lamb county have been collected for the year 1929, J. L. Irvin, tax collector, reports.

With the sale of a large part of the old ranch lands of the county to farmers from other sections of Texas and from other states, the job of collecting taxes is more complicated than it was several years ago, the tax collector explained.

Gaines Boasts Good Schools

Ten Common And One Independent Districts Are Active In Work; New Building To Be Built At Seminole

(By Staff Correspondent)

SEMINOLE, June 14.—Gaines county has ten active common school districts, one independent district and another that will select its trustees on June 21, R. W. Pittman, county superintendent of schools says.

"We will have a scholastic enrollment of 930 next year," he said. "That includes our independent districts at Seagraves and Loop, and also the scholastics from other counties in our districts."

Actual scholastics are estimated at 847 for the county, compared to 781 for the past year.

Seagraves Independent

Seagraves, the only independent district up to this time, has an enrollment of 258, an increase from 253 the previous year. Seminole, a common school district, had 264 enrollment.

On a basis of 781 scholastics, the county received $13,567 from the state school fund during the past year, the county superintendent said. The county's own school land fund brought in $5,076, an average of $6.50 per pupil compared to $7.50 from the state.

"The common school districts have 33 teachers for 881 enrollment."

"When I came into office four years ago, there were about 20 active school districts," Mr. Pittman explained. "Now we have ten, the others having been consolidated into other districts. I hope to be able, before I go out of office in January, to consolidate other districts."

To Erect Building

Bonds have been voted by the Seminole common school district for the erection of a building to cost $75,000. There have been several consolidations with the Seminole district and buses are to be used in bringing in pupils from out of the city.

The Loop district, recently made an independent district, has a four room brick building. It has 116 pupils and will select trustees at a special election June 21.

Pullet Lays Egg On 106th Day To Make New Record

(By Staff Correspondent)

HALE CENTER, June 14.—J. W. Hornsby of this city claims the title of owning the earliest laying pullet in Hale county if not on the entire South Plains.

He had a hatch of Plymouth Rock eggs come off January 20, 1930. On May 6 one of the pullets laid her first egg.

Just 196 days from the time the egg was hatched the pullet began to lay. This is considered by poultrymen here to be a record for a Plymouth Rock. Such a feat in a Leghorn or other egg producing strain would not be especially considered a record, poultrymen state.

HAVANA (AP)—Progress in Cuban shoe manufacturing was cited in trade statistics showing importation of 1,040,356 pairs last year, mostly from the United States. In the preceding year 1,274,152 pairs were imported, the decrease being 233,796 pairs.

A RECORD-BREAKING CAR IMPROVED—AND LOWER IN PRICE.

To improve the famous De Soto Six that broke all sales records for a first-year car—and continued without change for 22 months—is in itself a great feat of engineering. To offer this better car at a lower price is a master stroke of manufacturing and merchandising. The finer De Soto Six has, in addition to a bigger and more powerful engine, a new Steelweld Body—a definite step ahead in modern body construction that provides a greater measure of silence, strength and safety. By improving a record-breaking car and at the same time lowering the price, De Soto today breaks all six-cylinder records in value.

IT'S WISE TO CHOOSE A SIX

SIX reasons why it's wise to choose a "SIX"

1. It's Smooth! For the new Chevrolet has a 50-horsepower valve-in-head engine with six cylinders! And a Six is, above all things, smooth! In low gear or high—the power flows with a smoothness and silence that are impossible with anything less than six cylinders.

2. It's Comfortable! Four long semi-elliptic springs; four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers; big, roomy Fisher bodies; and Chevrolet's six-cylinder power-flow, with its freedom from annoying vibration—all add to Chevrolet riding comfort.

3. It's Easy to Drive! Chevrolet's improved ball bearing steering mechanism operates without apparent effort. The clutch and four-wheel brakes respond to the slightest pressure. And six-cylinder design means less gear-shifting—easier control.

4. It's Beautiful! Chevrolet is the only car so low in price with the distinction of Body by Fisher. Hence, Chevrolet style compares favorably with that of costly cars. The lines are smart, clean-cut and modern. And no other car in the low-price field offers such luxurious interiors.

5. It's Economical! No other car gives any better gas, oil or tire mileage than the new Chevrolet. Six-cylinder smoothness holds down maintenance costs by protecting the car from destructive vibration. And Chevrolet flat-rate service charges on many operations are the lowest in the industry.

6. It's Easy to Buy! The G. M. A. C. payment plan, with its small down payment and easy terms, is available to every Chevrolet buyer. Come in! Confirm the many reasons why it's wise to choose a Six in the low-price field.
