Countdown time for back-to-school

Mitchell County students will see a number of changes when they head back to school in August. There will be some new faces, some new facilities and some curriculum changes at each of the three school districts in the county.

Loraine and Westbrook ISD students will start school Wednesday, Aug. 13 and Colorado ISD students will go back to school Thursday, Aug. 14.

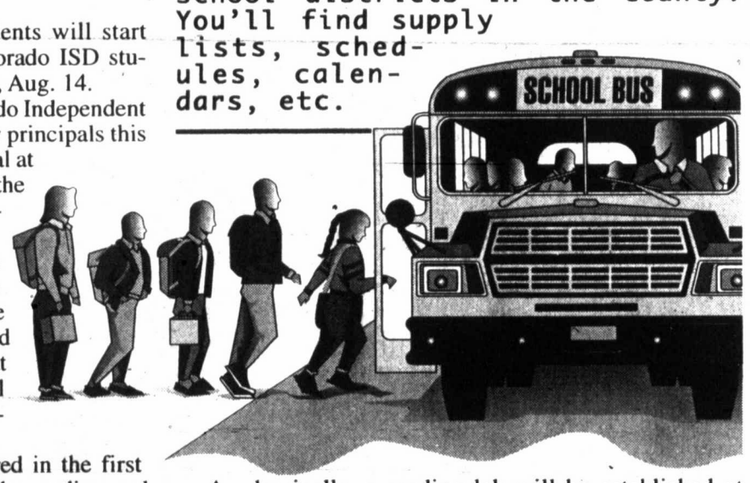
Besides some new teachers, Colorado Independent School District will also have two new principals this year. Kitten Arthur is the new principal at Kelley Elementary and Beau Rees is the new principal at Hutchinson Elementary.

Kelley Elementary students will be greeted with a new physical education facility. Restroom renovations include new fixtures and tile. Handicapped ramps and sidewalks have been built at all entrances. Remodeled windows will add to the heating and cooling efficiency of the building.

Additional teachers have been hired in the first grade and kindergarten sections and the reading and gifted/talented programs have been expanded.

Hutchinson Elementary students will notice new paint, window remodeling and the replacement of some of the carpet.

This is the Record's annual "Back To School" issue. Check inside for handy information on all three school districts in the county. You'll find supply lists, schedules, calendars, etc.



Academically, a reading lab will be established at Hutchinson this year to serve all children that are reading below level. The lab will supplement a regular reading class. Hundreds of new books have been added to the Hutchinson library and students will notice an increased emphasis on the Accelerated Reader Program.

A new curriculum at Colorado Middle School will focus on social and life skills. Seventh and eighth graders will be required to take reading this year and the Accelerated Reading Program will be the foundation for the reading classes.

Facility changes at the middle school include a new air conditioning system in the industrial arts and math classrooms and the carpeting of three classrooms.

Colorado High School has also been repainted in some areas and students will see two new sidewalks, built by JTPA (Job Training Partnership of America) students for their summer project.

The high school library has been fully automated for check-out and inventory.

Colorado high schoolers will also notice some academic changes such as a health care science course and a teen decision making class that was initiated by the Health Advisory Committee last year. A new class, Introduction to Automotives, is being offered this year.

More teachers have been trained for the gifted/talented program to serve the increasing number of students.

LORAINE ISD

The Loraine Independent School District will have a new principal this year, Tanya Sorrells, and a new head football coach, Runn Langthorn.

DAY CARE FOUNDATION: TDCJ inmates lay the cement foundation for the new day care west of Ruddick Park. The foundation was finished Thursday, July 16, and the frame is expected to be started in the next couple of weeks.

Police chief encourages safety in school zones

With the beginning of school just around the corner, Colorado City Police Chief Patrick Taylor urges everyone to drive safely and use extreme caution in school areas.

The speed limit in all school zones is 20 m.p.h.

Traffic routing around Kelley Elementary was changed by the Colorado City Council last year because of heavy two-way traffic. The change was made to make it safer for children going to and leaving the school building. Parents are to drop-off and pick-up their school children only on the school side of the street. This applies to all three streets around the school.

Early voting continues in upcoming election

By Tuesday at 5 p.m., 62 early votes were cast in the Mitchell County Clerk's office for the special election.

Early voting began July 21 for the special constitutional amendment election.

On August 9 voters will have only one issue to mark either "for" or "against" on the ballot.

That issue is—"The constitutional amendment providing school property tax relief by increasing the residence homestead exemption by $10,000 and providing for the transfer of the tax limitation to another qualified homestead for persons over 65 and a reduction in taxes on homesteads subject to the limitation."

Friday, August 1, is the last day that the Mitchell County Clerk's office may fulfill a request for an application to vote by mail.

TDCJ picnic to be held Saturday

The Third Annual TDCJ Picnic will be held this Saturday, Aug. 2, at Ruddick Park.

The picnic is sponsored this year by local merchants, Christmas In April, Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce, Loraine Independent School District, Mitchell County, Mitchell County Hospital District, Covenant Communities and the cities of Colorado City, Loraine, and Westbrook.

Communities around the state hold a variety of activities, from dove hunts to barbecues, to show their appreciation for the employees of the prison units in their area.

Not to be outdone, Mitchell County people have planned a full day of fun for the staff at the Wallace and Ware Units. To accommodate employees who work different shifts, many of the same activities will be held in the morning as well as the afternoon.

Favorite activities from past picnics will be held again this year—volleyball, horseshoes, bingo, and a homemade ice cream contest. A tug-of-war after lunch between the Wallace and Ware Units across Lone Wolf Creek promises to be a highlight of the day.

New activities added to the third annual picnic will include washer throwing and a domino tournament. The softball field and baseball court will be available for the employees' use.

Prison employees' children will also have plenty.x to keep them busy. A hayride, an air castle, swimming, and a fishing

Amendment passage will raise homestead exemption

The constitutional amendment proposing a $10,000 increase in the homestead exemption for school property taxes and authorizing the transfer of the 65 years and over school tax freeze to an alternate residence will go before the voters on August 9. It will be the only constitutional amendment on the ballot. The ballot proposition will read:

"The constitutional amendment providing school property tax relief by increasing the residence homestead exemption by $10,000 and providing for the transfer of the tax limitation to another qualified homestead for persons over 65 and a reduction in taxes on homesteads subject to the limitation."

Under current law, the state-mandated homestead exemption for school property taxes is $5,000. The passage of proposition 1 would increase that amount to $15,000, saving the average homeowner an estimated $140 per year in property taxes (based on an average school tax rate of $1.40). Any tax rate increases imposed by a school district would reduce the amount of savings to homeowners in that district. The state will reimburse school districts for lost revenue due to the decrease in value, at an estimated cost of $1.04 billion over the next two years. Because the minimum teacher salary schedule is calculated based on the amount of state funding per student sent to school districts, this reimbursement also will increase the salary schedule by approximately 6% over the next two years.

Current law provides that school property taxes paid by someone over 65 years of age are capped at the amount the person paid in the year after they turned 65. Their taxes in subsequent years can be lower than the cap, but they cannot exceed it. This is known as "the school tax freeze." The cap is raised for any improvements made to the homestead. If Proposition 1 is approved by the voters, a person whose tax cap was set in a year prior to the 1997 tax year will have their cap reduced by an amount equal to $10,000 multiplied by the school district's 1997 tax rate.

An elderly homeowner whose taxes are frozen now loses the tax

Junell will seek re-election

Representative Rob Junell announced this week in his quarterly newsletter that he will seek re-election to the 72nd District House seat in 1998.

Rep. Junell is presently serving his fifth two-year term of office in the Texas Legislature. He has been chairman of the House Appropriations Committee for the last three legislative sessions.

"I can say without hesitation that I represent the five best counties with the greatest people in the state," said Junell. "My job as appropriations chairman has offered some wonderful challenges and I want the opportunity to continue to serve both the district and the state for the next two years."

The 72nd District includes Mitchell, Coke, Sterling, Tom Green and Irion Counties.

Junell plans to make a formal announcement in early September.

Beasley named to hospital board

Kenneth Beasley was approved by the Mitchell County Hospital District board of directors to fill a vacancy on the hospital board during last week's board meeting.

Beasley will fill the vacancy left by Fred Thompson who resigned in May. There are eight months remaining on the term of office.

In other action, the board accepted a bid from Jesse Barrera of Loraine for painting the Rural Health Clinic (Family Medical Associates building). The board approved plans to renovate the clinic during a previous meeting. The renovation will include new carpeting but the board decided to get more specifications on the carpeting before approving a bid.

The board accepted a bid for a new stress machine from Quinton for $15,780.

COOK'S CORNER

During summer school, Colorado Middle School students studied many different cultures by researching their own heritage. A large part of the cultural study consisted in preparing a variety of dishes from each culture.

After researching their families as well as gathering information from the library, students compiled a Heritage Cookbook. They also prepared some of the recipes in class.

The following recipes were prepared in class and enjoyed by the students. We hope you like them, too.

On another note, due to the good tomato crop this year, many area cooks have asked for hot sauce recipes. If you have one, please drop it by the Record office.

Greetings to everyone!

Don't forget the annual "night" golf tournament, to be held this Friday at Wolf Creek Golf Links, sponsored by the local chapter of the American Cancer Society.

The rib-eye steak dinner, beginning at 6:30 p.m., is a good way for non-players to support the group.

This year, a barbecue pit, donated by J&T Service and Hill Pumpjack Service of Sweetwater, will be given away. Donations for the drawing are being sold now. If interested in the pit or dinner tickets, see any Cancer Society members for details.

Nelwyn and Jack Strain just returned from a vacation in the "outback" of Wyoming. Nelwyn said the cabin they stayed in was 30 miles from the nearest "village".

She said it was beautiful and a lot of fun, but the next time she stays in a log cabin, she wants it to come with maid service!

Because of this year's over abundent tomato crop, we have had several requests for salsa recipes. If you have a good recipe and would like to share it with our readers, please send it to the newspaper (P.O. Box 92) and it will be included in an upcoming edition of Cook's Corner.

CHIEF LONE WOLF

BY JIM BAUM

My introduction to Susan Willey was a barn burner! She walked into the office and came straight to the point!

"I'm Susan Willey from Brookline, Massachusetts, and my mother was the first Hispanic woman graduate at Colorado High." She spoke without a trace of an accent. (Well, maybe a little Yankee sound.)

"Wow, I'd sure like to interview your mother," I responded, with a light southern accent.

"She's history," Susan said firmly, "living history." I couldn't have agreed more. We talked a few minutes then decided to meet that afternoon to interview Susan's mother, Isabel Campos Willey.

Later in the day, about 2:30 p.m., I had to stop by the library for a few minutes and when I walked through the door, there were Susan and her mom looking through the microfilm, trying to find a newspaper story which would document Mrs. Willey's 1951 graduation from Colorado High.

"There was a story in the paper with my picture," Mrs. Willey told me after we had been introduced. Together, all three of us started working the microfilm machine.

At first we methodically turned from page to page in the 1951 Colorado Record, looking deliberately and slowly. Anticipating a May graduation, we started looking in April to see if there might have been a story foretelling the historic occasion. As we searched without luck, we would turn back and re-examine each page. Still no story about Isabel.

"It's probably not even in there," Mrs. Willey said with a smile. "It's not that important."

Yes it was. Susan and I wanted to see what the Record might have written about her mother, plus, I was curious what Isabel Campos Willey had looked like 46 years ago. Finally, in the month of May, we hit a kernel of encouragement. A list of those who would be graduating from Colorado High was included in the paper. And yes, Isabel Campos was included.

Isabel, along with seven brothers and three sisters moved to Mitchell County with their parents, Lucas and Conception Campos in the late 1940's. Mr. Campos was a sharecropper and he saw to it that his children pitched in and helped, both in the house and out in the fields.

But he also believed very strongly in the need of their getting an education.

"Oh, father thought that was the most important thing in life," his daughter Isabel told me. "He was very emphatic about our education. We all had to study in front of him."

She related how the children would sit around a kerosene lamp and read their lessons out loud. "He made sure that everyone was reading. We had to do it out loud so he would know we were reading," Mrs. Willey remembered.

Also at home, the Campos children spoke English as well as Spanish so they wouldn't be at a disadvantage in the classrooms.

They lived in the Buford Community and attended school in Loraine during the 40's. For her senior year, 1951, Isabel was transferred to Colorado City. In 1950 Isabel's brother, Roman, now a resident of Snyder, was the first Hispanic to graduate from Loraine High. Then the following year, Noah Galvan, now deceased, was the first Hispanic to graduate from Colorado High.

Now we were looking in the microfilm trying to find the picture of Isabel Campos, the frist Hispanic girl to receive her diploma from Colorado High. No mention was found in the month of May or June.

"It's alright," she protested, "we're taking your time and it (the picture) is probably not in there." Susan and I kept looking anyway. From June to July, pape after page.

Isabel didn't remember any other Hispanics at Colorado High during her senior year. — "A lot of people," she explained, "were migratory farmers and they went wherever there were crops so they didn't stay in the area too long."

Her memory of changing from the school in Loraine to the one in Colorado City her senior year was vivid. "It was frightening, to put it mildly," she answered. But, she was well received by her new classmates.

"All very helpful," she remembered. Despite the cordial atmosphere, there still wasn't much interaction between Isabel and the other girls.

"I think it was because we lived in our own community," she explained. "There was not much socializing. Since I lived on the farm with my family, our social activities revolved around St. Ann's Church.

What about her teachers? Did she remember any of them?

"Oh, Mrs. (Gladys) Miller!!" she exclaimed. "She was super. She was the smartest teacher I have ever known. She was so interesting. We could just listen to her for hours. She seemed to know about everything!"

The viewing of the microfilm continued. Early July in the Record, mid-July, and then, suddenly, "Look there it is," one of us cried out. Sure enough, there she was. Complete with cap and gown, the pretty, petite 18 year old Isabel Campos, a big smile on her face, beamed out from the newspaper page.

"Isabel Campos, 18, of the Buford community," the caption read, "is believed to be the first girl of Mexican descent to graduate from Colorado High School.

Almost one hour to the minute after we started looking, we found the documentation we sought.

"She was born in Gonzales County, Texas," the Record continued, "and came here four years ago with her parents, Lucas and Conception Campos. Isabel is attending the Draughon's Business College at Abilene. She is taking a secretarial course."

What has happened in Isabel's life since that story appeared in the paper 46 years ago? She's been all over the world, thanks to a career in the U.S. Air Force. She is now a resident of Chicapec, Massachusetts. Mrs. Willey and her former husband are the parents of four children.

Their sons, Alan and Steven, are in military communications, "tracking satellites," as Isabel phrased it. One of their two daughters, Karen, works for a newspaper in Hartford, Connecticut. Their other daughter, Susan, is employed at a chiropractors' office in Boston.

After seeing the world, Isabel Willey says Colorado City looks "very small". But, there's no doubt about it, she is, as Susan said, "a living history."

One more thing. Although Isabel doesn't remember very much about her graduation ceremony from Colorado High, she does know this; Her father was there.

Lucas Campos was a proud sharecropper. And his best crop was his own children.

Thousands affected by heat related problems each year

Summertime in Texas means outdoor fun. Unfortunately, it's also the season when thousands of people in Texas are affected by heat exhaustion and heat stroke. Heat exhaustion occurs when the body's circulation system fails to maintain normal functions because of excessive loss of body fluids and salts. The illness results from heavy sweating during strenuous activity or from being enclosed in hot and stuffy areas.

Symptoms of heat exhaustion include dizziness, headache, profuse sweating, elevated temperature, and a cool and clammy skin texture. 'Left untreated, heat exhaustion can rapidly escalate to heat stroke, an emergency type of heat illness," says Gene Weatherall, chief of Texas Department of Health's Bureau of Emergency Management.

'Heat stroke, a life-threatening emergency, kills about 4,00 people in the U. S. in an average year. In heat stroke, the body's temperature-regulation system fails, and as water and salt supplies dwindle, body temperature rises to extreme and deadly levels. This heightened temperature can lead to severe damage to the brain, liver or kidneys. Symptoms of heat stroke are similar to those of heat exhaustion, but more extreme. Body temperature usually exceeds 105° F and the skin becomes red, dry or very hot.

If you need to treat someone for heat exhaustion, first move to a cooler location, then elevate patient's feet. Remove or loosen any tight clothing and apply cool compresses with a wet cloth to the head, neck, armpits and groin. Do not apply ice directly to the skin; make sure the victim does not become cold enough to shiver. Have the person drink one-half cup of water or a watered-down sports beverage every 15 minutes. Avoid beverages which contain caffeine, alcohol or high sugar content, and if the person is vomiting, do not give anything to drink. If conditions do not improve, seek immediate medical attention.

Heat stroke victims need emergency medical attention. An ambulance should be called immediately. Follow the same initial treatment used for heat exhaustion. Move the person to a cooler place, remove or loosen tight clothing, and cool the individual by wrapping him with wet sheets. Do not give the victim anything to drink, not even water. Do not apply ice directly to the skin, and make sure the victim does not get cold enough to shiver.

Both heat exhaustion and heat stroke can be prevented by following a few simple precautions.

- Never leave anyone--including animals--in a closed, parked vehicle during hot weather.
- Drink plenty of fluids, such as water and juices, and avoid beverages which contain alcohol, caffeine and large amounts of sugar.
- Plan strenuous activities for early or late in the day when it is cooler; then, gradually build tolerance for warmer conditions.
- Stay indoors and in an air-conditioned environment as much as possible unless your heat tolerance is well-established. If air-conditioning is not available, use fans to cool rooms and pull shades over windows. Open windows on opposite sides of a room for cross-ventilation.
- Eat more frequently, but make sure meals are well-balanced and light.
- Consult with a physician to determine the effects of sun and heat exposure while taking prescription medications such as diuretics, antihistamines or mood-altering or anti-spasmodic drugs.
- Remember the babies don't tolerate heat well because their sweat glands are not fully developed. Avoid bundling babies in heavy blankets or heavy clothing.
- Check frequently on ill or elderly friends or relatives who may need your help.
- At first signs or heat illness (dizziness, nausea, headaches, cramps), move to a cooler location, rest for a few minutes and slowly drink a cool beverage. If conditions do not improve, seek medical attention immediately.
- Don't forget to protect your skin by wearing sun block at all times to minimize exposure to the sun's harmful rays.

AMENDMENT

cap if they move to another home. Passage of Proposition 1 will provide that a person 65 years of older who currently qualifies for a tax freeze on their home, and who purchases a different residence, can transfer the freeze to the new home in a percentage equal to the percentage the old cap comprised of the total taxes that would otherwise have been levied on the prior home. An individual 65 years or older will be entitled to receive a certificate from the chief appraiser in the appraisal district in which the former homestead was located that provides information used to determine if the individual will qualify for a freeze on the new home, and information used to calculate the new cap amount.

If Proposition 1 is not approved by the voters on August 9, the state-mandated homestead exemption for school taxes will remain at $5,000, and the $1.04 billion that was going to be used to reimburse school districts for the decrease in value will be left in the state Treasury. Voters will have another chance to approve the transfer of the 65 and over tax freeze on the November 4 ballot in the event Proposition 1 fails.

ARGUMENTS FOR AND AGAINST PROPOSITION NO. 1

1. The proposed increased homestead exemption would provide lower tax bills and needed property tax relief.

2. The 65-and-over tax freeze should follow the individual. The proposed amendment would allow senior citizens to move to new homes and still keep the tax freeze.

Opponents Say:

1. If this proposition is approved, it will benefit only 60 percent of taxpayers who own their homes, although funded by all taxpayers. Businesses and renters, for example, will not benefit.

2. There is no guarantee that a surplus will be available again two years from now. Future legislatures may find it necessary to raise taxes or cut school revenue to continue funding this measure.

Another coach will be approved by the LISD board before the beginning of school. The new music/band director will be familiar to LISD students. Sheila Sorrels was formerly the Title I/music teacher at LISD.

This will be the first school year that students will be able to use and enjoy the newly constructed, air-conditioned physical education facility.

Over the summer, the baseball and football field received a facelift, thanks to TDCJ inmates. A TDCJ crew spent most of June renovating the fields by painting and replacing the bleachers.

A new storage shed was built by Loraine JTPA students this summer.

An addition to the Loraine curriculum this year will include a new psychology course at the high school. Eighth graders in junior high will be able to take algebra I and the advanced placement language arts program will be expanded this year, said LISD Superintendent Kenneth Kendall.

A course titled "American Cultures" will be added this year. The multi-cultural class to help students learn an appreciation for different cultures is a certified course for graduation.

Plans are also being made for advanced math courses, such as pre-calculus.

WESTBROOK ISD

One of the biggest changes in the Westbrook Independent School District this year will be new school hours. Students will start school a little earlier—8 a.m. instead of 8:15 a.m., but they'll also get out of school a little earlier—leaving at 3:25 p.m. instead of 3:40 p.m.

A new business teacher, Donald Roemisch, has been added to the WISD faculty.

A new computer programming class will be offered this year as well as some classes that had been offered previously but were not offered last year, such as computer classes and a calculus class.

Elementary students will enjoy new playground equipment, said WISD Superintendent Tommy Hancock. Over the summer, the Westbrook school building had a facelift and students will see newly painted classrooms and landscaping changes outside when they return to school in August. The athletic field has fresh paint and a new press box.

Minor injuries suffered in wreck

Three people suffered minor injuries in a two car collision at Hwy. 208 and Hwy. 80, near Gas 'N' Grub, around 5 p.m. Monday.

A 1992 Buick, driven by Thomas Michael Perry, 44, of Amarillo, was traveling north on Hwy. 208, failed to yield right of way at the stop sign and was struck on the passenger side by a Nissan pickup, according to Colorado City Police Officer Pete Torres.

Barron Lynn Boyd, 19, of Colorado City, was the driver of the pickup. Both drivers and a 17-year-old passenger in the Buick were transported to Mitchell County Hospital by the Mitchell County Ambulance Service, treated and released.

to be unloaded so that they have to cross the traffic to reach the Kelley school building," said Chief Taylor.

Drivers should also be aware of traffic laws concerning school buses. It is unlawful to pass a school bus from either direction (coming from behind or ahead of a bus) when it is loading or unloading children. The fine for violating this law has been increased from a Class C to a Class B misdemeanor in recent years.

Personnel will be at the crosswalk at 17th Street. However, "watch for children crossing streets at crosswalks whether there are personnel there or not," said the police chief.

"Exercise extreme care around pedestrians, especially school children because they often don't recognize the hazards," said Chief Taylor.

Commissioners give approval for county's insurance coverage

After hearing a presentation from an insurance consultant, Mitchell County Commissioners approved property, liability and health insurance coverage during Tuesday's commissioners court meeting.

This year commissioners thoroughly reviewed the county's insurance to be sure they had adequate coverage for the least amount of money. The review has included a study of the county's property and a study made by an insurance consultant, Kathleen Miller.

Following a presentation of the results of Miller's evaluation, commissioners retained the same three companies that have previously administered the property and liability insurance for the county at a savings of $4,000 with increased coverage. Bob Ratliff Insurance, First Service Insurance and the Texas Association of Counties handle the county's property and liability insurance.

Commissioners also renewed the partially self-funded health insurance administered by Ted L. Parker of Lubbock. Reta Lawlis reviewed the coverage information during Tuesday's meeting.

In other business, commissioners held a budget workshop with information presented by County Auditor Susan Buckalew. The auditor received approval from the commissioners to put all sales tax revenue into the general fund, which will add about $70,000 to that fund and to put a portion of each precinct's tax rate into the general fund category for a $40,000 addition to the fund.

Commissioners also agreed to table improvements at the County Ag Barn, such as additional lighting, until next year.

The fiscal year for Mitchell County starts January 1. The county's budget for 1998 is expected to be approved in September this year.

Horse owners: Coggins test is a necessity!

Texas Animal Health officials remind horse owners to have their horses tested every 12 months for equine infectious anemia (EIA).

EIA is commonly called "Coggins" or "Swamp Fever".

After six months of requesting voluntary compliance with the EIA testing requirements, inspectors from the state's livestock health regulatory agency began checking test papers July 1.

Texas Animal Health Commission inspectors have warned that they will be randomly dropping by fairs, rodeos, roping competitions and trail rides to ensure that all equine have been tested. Equine includes horses, donkeys, mules, asses and other members of the horse family. Owners are to have with them either their animal's original EIA test document, called a "VS 10-11" form, or a copy of the form that has a second, original signature by the issuing veterinarian.

A test within the past 12 months is also required when equine are privately sold, explained Dr. Terry Beals, TAHC executive director and state veterinarian.

The cost of the test is generally $20 to $25 for an accredited veterinarian to draw and submit a blood sample, complete the necessary test record and for the laboratory work.

If you knew what was underground, you'd want to leave it there.

If you dig into a natural gas line, you could cause a fire or explosion. And with more than a million miles of line, there's only one way to dig safely. Call 800-562-5879 two days before you plan to dig.

We'll come to wherever you are and clearly mark where gas lines are...and where you shouldn't dig.

Calling for locations of natural gas facilities is more than just a good idea – it's the law.

And if you're ever somewhere where you smell gas, get away. Don't operate any equipment, don't flip any electrical switches, don't do anything but get away and call KN from a neighbor's house or some other location.

Our greatest concern is for your well-being.

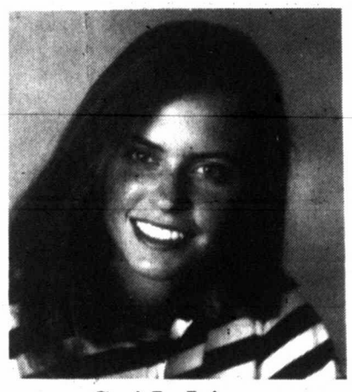
Joiner named scholar



Casi Jo Joiner

The United States Achievement Academy announced recently that Casi Jo Joiner from Colorado City has been named an All-American Scholar.

The USAA has established the All-American Scholar Award Program to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in the academic disciplines. The All-American Scholars must earn a 3.3, or higher, grade point average. Only scholars selected by a school instructor, counselor, or other qualified sponsor are accepted. These scholars are also eligible for other awards given by the USAA.

Casi Jo, who attended Colorado High School, was nominated for this national award by Cliff Vlasin.

Casi Jo will appear in the All-American Scholar Yearbook, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, winners of the All-American Scholar Awards should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

The Academy selects All-American Scholars upon the exclusive recommendation by teachers, coaches counselors, and other qualified sponsors. Once awarded, the students may be recognized by the USAA for other honors.

Casi Jo is the daughter of Delbert and Karen Joiner from Colorado City. Her grandparents are the late Son and Lola Joiner of Colorado City and the late Leland and Elsie King of Big Spring.

Can Your Child See Well Enough To Learn?

When your children enter school this fall, about 80% of what they learn will come through sight. Yet 4 out of 10 children have vision problems that can inhibit school achievement. Most vision problems cannot be detected by the familiar eye chart test for 20/20 vision. Help make your child's future crystal clear.

DOES YOUR CHILD...

- Avoid close work?
- Hold reading material too close?
- Show excessive head movement while reading?
- Lose his place while reading?
- Rub eyes frequently?
- Make reversals while reading?
- Often have headaches?
- Uses a finger to maintain his place while reading?

If so, we recommend having your child's vision tested.

Mitchell attends band camp

Mandy Mitchell

Among the 875 students attending band camp at Angelo State University in San Angelo from July 13 through July 20 was Loraine Junior High student Mandy Mitchell. Mandy will be the lone twirler again this year for the "Bulldog" band.

The 13 year old Mitchell was one of 100 students to play on the "Varsity Blue" band. Out of 20 cornet players which were mostly high school age, Mandy was 8th chair.

Mandy said she enjoyed the camp and getting to meet new friends. She roomed with Ashley Hill, a junior high student from Colorado City. Aaron Lewis, band director from Colorado City, helped out in the camp.

Kelley Elementary receives facelift

Former Colorado Independent School District Curriculum Director Kitten Arthur will be the new principal at Kelley Elementary School this school year.

During the last few years the elementary school has undergone extensive remodeling and new programs have been added to the pre-kindergarten through second grade school.

Arthur noted recently that Kelley's curriculum includes: a full-day kindergarten; a pre-k program; an expanded gifted and talented program for all grades; music and physical education programs; accelerated reader program; Saxon math for pre-kinderten through second grade; Saxon phonics from kindergarten through second grade; the Shurley Writing Program for grade two; integrated thematic instruction for pre-kindergarten through second grade; CEI reading lab for grades one and two; Reading Recovery Program for grade one; ESL/migrant program for grades pre-k through second grade and a comprehensive special education program that includes life skills and speech therapy.

Kelley has a counseling program. A wide range of testing procedures are used to assess individual student needs, such as reading style inventory, "Structure of Intellect", DSTR and the S.T.A.R. Diagnostic Program for Accelerated Reader.

Kelley's staff includes a full-time librarian. A school nurse is available.

There are five computers in each classroom at Kelley Elementary.

The After-School Program at Kelley is staffed with certified personnel.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Letter to the Editor,

I would like to give special thanks to my High School counselor, Mr. Cliff Vlasin and all of the sponsors who had enough faith in me to have a part in sending me to Southwestern University, Georgetown, Texas, to represent our community. In Georgetown I attended the 1997 Texas Lorenzo De Zavala Youth Legislative Session. Because of the money and time of my sponsors, I had an awesome experience.

I was given the chance to express my opinions on up-to-date issues facing the Hispanic community with 182 other teens from the U.S. I learned about social structure, power, and my culture. The National Hispanic Institute sponsors nationwide programs to give young adults "hands on" experience on what goes on in the mainstream now, and gives real life perspectives of minority issues.

Most of all I want to thank my parents, Lee and Grace Rodriguez, because of the support and love they provide. I am proud to say that there are many supportive adults in our community who care about our youth. While I cannot name each individual personally who provided the different types of support, I wish to extend a big "Gracias". As usual, I have to give my most sincere thanks to Jesus Christ for my life.

Thanks so much,
Monica Rodriquez

Rodriquez attends legislative session

Monica Rodriguez attended the Lorenzo De Zavala Youth Legislative Session on July 20-27 at Southwestern University in Georgetown, Texas. The executive vice president of the National Hispanic Institute described the session as a "roller coaster ride; you go way low, but then you go so high".

The National Hispanic Institute sponsors nationwide programs that are geared to educate and shape a group of young adults to be leaders for the future. At the LDZ that Monica attended she along with 182 other teens from the U. S. learned about power, social structures, and issues that face the minorities of our nation. They gathered for three awesome hard working days in the State Capitol in Austin, Texas. In these three days they debated resolutions written by fellow peers.

Behind the scenes the group had one on one time with senior counselors talk about what was on their minds. They learned a great deal about the Latino culture. One of the points discussed was that as a leader young people have to educate themselves about their cultures so that their base will be strong. Just like the base of a building, you can then begin to construct a unique person.

The main idea was to acknowledge the fact that there are many cultures in the nation and people need to open their eyes to all walks of life.

While Monica was there she received a great honor. Nominated by her peers, she was elected as the party chairperson of the Viva La Gente party.

Monica is the daughter of Lee and Grace Rodriguez of Colorado City.

CMS girls finish second in Ackerly tournament

By Ami Murphy

The girl's Middle School Summer League team finished off a great season in Ackerly on Saturday, July 26. During I-20 summer league play, the girls went unbeaten and defeated Rotan for the championship. Teri Phariss scored a sizzling three-pointer just before the buzzer at half-time to open up the lead.

The excitement of the last-minute shot energized the second half, and Colorado City easily claimed the championship.

The team continued it's winning streak at the "Lady Stangs" tournament in Ackerly. In the quarter-finals, Colorado City beat Sands with a score of 27-20. Leading scorer Teri Phariss put up 14 points while Amanda Ramirez scored seven.

Advancing to the semi-finals, C-City defeated Denver City by a 28-7 count. Teri Phariss was again the lead scorer with 10 points. Four other girls carried at least four points each.

The final was played on Saturday against the West Texas Outlaws, an older team with players from Lubbock, Amarillo and other towns. Although the locals suffered a disappointing loss they played hard. Teri Phariss had 10 points and Kotia Russell put up eight in the final game.

Despite the loss, Coach Patrick Murphy remained optimistic. "I wanted the girls to face stiffer competition during the tournament." said Coach Murphy. "In the fall season, these girls will stand out from the rest because they have had more experience."

Rex Thackerson of North Texas Cable Comm provided the shirts for tournament play. The teams second place trophy can be seen at Cable Comm where it will be on display for the next few months. Many thanks to the coach, parents and others who supported the team and our congratulations go out to these girls for what they have accomplished!

Westbrook Wildcats six-man pigskin preview

Head Football Coach Jim Hill is optimistic about Westbrook's chances in the race for the 6-A title this year. Last year his squad was 8-1 and ranked 4th in the state going in to the last game of district play against Highland. Needing a win to have a chance at post-season play, Westbrook did just that by edging Highland 64-62 on Highland's own turf. This put them in a three-way tie with Highland and Borden County. A coin flip eliminated the Wildcats from further play.

"I have never been a proponent of the coin flip to decide play-off" said Coach Hill. "There are better ways to decide who proceeds on and it should be decided on the field."

A lot of Westbrook's title hopes rest on the strong arm of Junior quarterback/deep back Justin Hill (6-3, 200) who threw for almost 2,400 yards last year as a sophomore. Expected to be on the end of a lot of Hill's passes will be senior end Davy Daniel. "He has good hands and good speed," said Coach Hill. Chris Chambers and Jon Jones are also expected to get their share of passes. Running back Tony Alaniz should provide the bulk of yardage on the ground attack as well as snaring a few passes out of the spread formation. Also expected to contribute heavily will be sophomore Roland Matos and Vincente Soliz who came up from the JV late in the season last year. "Thadd Rich has good hands and good size and should help in short yardage situations for us" said Coach Hill.

Others expected to play a role in Westbrook's season will be senior John Graham who transferred from Colorado City and played JV ball last year. "John is a good physical ballplayer who we hope can help us on the defensive front," said Coach Hill. "He's not real quick but his size will be a definite asset to us." Brad Hale and Cham Hall will also be called upon to help out. "Brad played JV ball last year and although he is small (5-2) he was as good a roll blocker as anyone I had on the team" said Coach Hill. "Russell Whitesides is another senior who can help. He's six feet, 215 pounds and we'll have to find a spot for him.

Coach Hill realizes his troops will be under the gun early as they are no pushovers on the schedule. They open against Blackwell on September 5. Blackwell finished 10-2 last year and are expected to battle Panther Creek for the title this year. Balmorhea replaced Union on the schedule after Union joined forces with Wellman. They were no slouch either as they finished at 9-2 and are pre-season favorites to take District 8-A. Jayton returns all six of it's starters from last year and they are picked second in their conference this year. Lamesa Klondike is again on the schedule and are expected to be stronger after a rebuilding year of 3-7. They will be under new Head Coach Rick Cooper who has been the coach of Loraine for the past several years.

"I'll agree with everyone else that Borden County is the team to beat in the conference but I have to believe if things fall for us we'll make the other play-off spot," said Coach Hill. "Highland has a well-coached team and you can never take them for granted," said Hill. Hermleigh and Ira should both be improved over last year. Loraine lost eight seniors and will be rebuilding but they could play a spoilers role."

Westbrook starts two-a-days on Wednesday, August 6, at 7:30 a.m. Their first scrimmage will be on August 22nd when they play host to Moran at 6 p.m.

Cheerleading clinic slated for August 4-7

The C.H.S. Cheerleading Mini-Clinic will be held August 4-7 at the high school. The session for girls ages 4 yr.-6th grade will be from 8:00-9:30 a.m. The session for 7th and 8th grade girls will be from 10:00 a.m.-1:00 p.m. 7th and 8th grade girls must attend in order to participate as a cheerleader this year.

Registration for the mini-clinic will be July 31 and August 1 from 9a.m.-12p.m. and 1p.m.-3p.m. at the high school in room 111. You must register in order to participate in the clinic. No late registration will be allowed.

Fees for the clinic are $10 for the young girls and $20 for the middle school girls. If you need more information, call Kaci Griffith at 728-3991. Please leave a message if there is no answer.

NEW COACHES Becky Barnes (l) will coach the Girls JV in all sports this year and Karen Trent (r) will be the new volleyball head coach and assistant basketball coach

New volleyball coach sets high goals

New Colorado City head volleyball coach Karen Trent is excited about getting her inaugural season started.

"I have already met several of the girls who will be playing and they seem as excited about getting started as I am," Coach Trent said. "We finished second and made the play-offs last year but this year our goal is to beat Midland Greenwood and win district and take it to a higher level."

Coach Trent comes to Colorado City from class 4-A Belton so she is no stranger to seeing good volleyball programs.

"Although I grew up in Seminole and Denver City which are 3-A schools, most of my coaching experience has been at the 4-A and 5-A level which I feel is a plus coming into the program here."

Coach Trent attended West Texas State for three years before graduating from College of the Southwest in Hobbs New Mexico.

"I want the local folks to know I am glad to be here and I am anxious for the season to get started," said Trent.

The Lady Wolves will begin two-a-days on August 11 at Wolf Gym. The times will be 7 a.m.-10 a.m. and 1 p.m.-3 p.m. on August 12 and 13. The first scrimmage for the Lady Wolves will be against the San Angelo Lakeview Lady Chiefs at 4:30 p.m. in San Angelo.

Coach Barnes anxious for new beginning

Newly hired assistant volleyball and basketball coach Becky Barnes is anxious to begin her new duties at Colorado High School.

"I'm fresh out of college and I guess my main goal is to keep may head above water and not drown," said Coach Barnes. "I realize I'm going to make mistakes but hopefully I will have the support to keep me afloat. I am very energetic and motivated and I hope to be able to pass on some of the things I've learned playing on the college level to our athletes."

Coach Barnes will be the JV volleyball coach as well as assisting Coach Trent with the JV basketball and the track team in the spring. Barnes is a native of Roscoe and will initially live at home and commute back and forth from Roscoe.

Loraine News

By Bessie AnnVaughn
Greetings from Loraine

Let it rain on our parade,
Let us have a day of shade.
Let little gulf clouds hover above,
Open up and drop liquid love.
After the rain comes great relief
For humans, animals and every leaf,
Please not a flood or hail to blotten,
Continue to bless the farmers cotton.

Come see us.

Let me precede this by saying I am not complaining about any school system. I'm sure they are doing great things. The hot nutricious meals are a great thing. "This is just to differentiate now and then."

Back in the dark ages when I started to school (1936). My parents were told I would need a tablet (10¢), a lead pencil, (2 for 1¢) and a box of crayolas 12¢. All this was for first grade. I assume everything else was furnished by the school (Loraine school). I have just read what kindergarten kiddoes need at Wylie School. (Sell all the COWS), 3 bottles of Elmer's glue, 2-24 ct. boxes crayons, 2-8 ct boxes of crayolas, 2-8 ct boxes markers, a pair blunt point scissors, one package of 12 ct pencils, three large packages of construction paper 12x18, 2-50¢ packages 12x18 manila paper, one plastic school box with a hinged lid, four letter size folder without pockets, one vinyl pocket folder, 2 large boxes tissues, 2 70 page wide rule spiral notebooks, two dry erase markers, one box quart size zipper plastic bags, one box 8 ct water colors, 2 or 3 old clean socks, book bag or back pack, large bath towels for rest mat, three of the following: one box band aids, one box plastic spoons, one pkg. small plastic cups, one pkg. 200 ct or more paper napkins, one pkg paper plates and finally one can foamy shave cream.

Can you believe it?

Senior Center

Wednesday, July 30th is our birthday party day and turkey, dressing and traditional trimmings sounds delicious.

We want to welcome a new resident at Taylor Witta Apartments. His name is Ray Crowder. He lived in Loraine sometime ago, moved away and now he is back. We hope he is happy here.

Wanza Graham and Iris Preston were kind and generous with their time and called Bingo for the members who wanted to play lately.

Vita Mae McDaniel, Allie Ruth Wiggens, Juanice Butler and Wanza Graham did a good job of entertaining us one day last week with music and singing.

"Tickle Your Funny Bone"
"Teed Off"

Iva Armstrong shares this with us... A priest, a doctor and an engineer were waiting for a particularly slow group of golfers one morning. The engineer said "What's the matter with these fellows. We've been waiting 15 minutes" The doctor replied "I have never seen such ineptitude." The Priest: "Hey, here comes the green keeper. Let's have a word with him."

Priest: Say George what's with that group, they sure are slow aren't they?

George: Oh yes, that's a group of blind firefighters. They lost their sight last year saving our club house from a fire.

Silence...

Priest: So sad, I will say a special prayer.

Doctor: Good idea. I will contact my opthalmologist buddy and see if he can do something.

Long pause fron Engineer. The he said "Why can't they just play at night?"

"Train Robber"

Why did the thief take a bath before robbing the train? He wanted a clean get-a-way.

Take care and see you about town.
