

By Congressman
O. C. FISHER

Last week on Capitol Hill was marked by the end of the Senate filibuster, the passage by the House of a rent control bill, a defeat of a sales tax for the District of Columbia, and an Army and Air Force measure. Down town, the Secretary of Agriculture turned a cold shoulder to our pleas for a mohair program.

1. The Senate filibuster ended as a result of a States' Rights - Republican coalition. It was considered a victory for the determined Southerners. Senator Lucas announced the action was the death knell for Civil Rights legislation at this session. Let us hope he is right.

It was a compromise. Heretofore cloture (two-thirds of Senators voting) could stop debate on any "pending measure." But the cloture rule did not apply to a motion to take up a measure. In other words, there has been no limit whatever to the length of debate on "motions" - cloture applying only to pending bills. And since measures do not become "pending" business until made that way by "motions," it followed that the filibuster was a powerful weapon against motions to bring up bills.

The compromise changes that somewhat. Now cloture applies to motions to take up bills as well as to the measures after they become pending business. But it will not apply to future motions to change existing Senate rules on cloture.

The real concession to the Southerners was the improved definition of "cloture." Formerly it meant two-thirds of the Senators voting. Under the newly adopted rules it means a constitutional two-thirds - that is, two thirds of the 96 Senators. And that new requirement for cloture will apply to "pending" measures as well as to motions to take them up.

2. The rent control bill as it passed the House would continue the program but would require the property owners to be allowed a "reasonable" return on their investments. It would also allow states and municipalities to do away with rent controls if they should choose to do so. The Senate must now act.

But even as amended I was unable to vote for the measure because I regard it as class legislation. The war has been over four years and I cannot see how we can in good conscience say to one group, "You can't profit but a certain limited amount from your investment but your neighbor can get rich over night if he can while engaged in some other type of business."

Many of the leading sponsors of rent control frankly imply that we should have this control permanently in this country. It would thereby become a part of state socialism advocated by a good many people for the U.S.A.

3. By a vote of 177 to 166 the House defeated a sales tax designed to help pay the way for the District of Columbia. As it is, the taxpayers over the nation subsidize the cost of operating the local government in the District. While I am generally opposed to a sales tax, I voted for the local bill. I could hardly do otherwise in deference to the American taxpayers. As it now is there are hundreds of thousands in the District now, like myself, live in rented quarters, and pay practically no local taxes whatever. A considerable part of the District land is owned by the government and is, therefore tax-free.

If the sales tax proposed is not revised and passed, it is estimated the Congress will be called upon to put an additional $18 million this year to help run the District government.

4. The much desired 70 Group Air Force, which many of us have been sponsoring, moved a step nearer reality last week with the passage by the House of a bill setting the composition of the Army and Air Force. It is apparent that the Congress is attaching more and more importance to a powerful Air Force in our preparedness program.

5. The Secretary of Agriculture, following a CCC Board meeting turned thumbs down on a mohair program. While we have not given up the fight by any means, the prospects for relief this year appear dim. It is hard to understand the fairness of a policy which permits a hundred million dollars a year subsidy for potato growers and not a cent for a hard-pressed industry which produces a storable product and which would actually cost the government very little.

Right now we are concentrating

Road Bonds Pass Saturday 149-19

Sutton County voters approved, by a vote of 149 to 19, the issuance of $50,000 worth of bonds to buy right-of-way and pay for fencing for a farm-to-market road to replace the unpaved Juno road. Estimated paving will be about 18 miles.

In the Saturday election, all precincts gave the issue an easy majority except Precinct 4, which voted none for and nine against.

It is not known when construction will start as the matter is now in the hands of the State Highway Department. The county will sell the bonds, then buy right-of-way when the state advises which route will be taken. After the land has been bought and fencing completed, deeds to the land will be handed over to the state and state jurisdiction will be in effect.

Sutton Countians Buy $3.976 In Series E Bonds

Sutton County people bought $3,976 worth of Series "E" U. S. Savings Bonds during the month of February, according to George H. Neill, county chairman. Over the state, Texas bought a half-million dollars more bonds than they did in February, 1948, Neill added.

These figures were released along with an announcement of the Treasury Department's Spring Bond Drive May 15 - June 30. County quotas will be set up in this drive also, but only for Series "E" bonds. Series "F" and "G" bonds will also be sold, but will not be credited against quotas.

There will be a meeting of county chairmen in Houston April 19 to discuss Texas' part in the national drive for over one billion dollars.

NEW TELEPHONE BOOKS GOING TO PRESS SOON

New telephone directories will go to press next month, according to W. R. Barnes, local manager of the San Angelo Telephone Company. Any person who wishes a change in name or number is asked to call Barnes at 24111 as soon as possible. Barnes also said that dial telephones have been installed at the Robert Halbert and Joe F. Logan ranches.

PARK DIRECTORS TO ELECT OFFICERS SATURDAY

There will be an important meeting of the stockholders of the Sonora Park Association Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Park Inn Cafe, according to Lin Turney, secretary.

The annual election of officers will be held. President is B. M. (Bustie) Halbert, vice-president, W. L. Miers.

Weekly Swing of SOUTHWEST FARM MARKETS

Some weak spots appeared in mostly steady to strong southwest farm markets during the past week, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reports.

Sheep advanced 50 cents to $2 at the different markets. Medium to good trucked in wooled slaughter lambs brought $26 to $27.50 at Denver Monday. Oklahoma City moved good and choice old crop lambs at $28. Fort Worth received choice spring lambs at $28.50. San Antonio bought common and medium shorn Angora goats at $8.50 to $10.

Wool trading held to an extremely narrow range last week. Most southwest cattle sold unchanged to 50 cents higher for the week, though calves at Fort Worth and stocker calves at Denver lost up to $1. Good stocker steer calves changed hands at $28.50 at Denver Monday. Choice stocker yearlings and calves sold up to $26 at Oklahoma City. Medium and good stocker calves went out at $22 to $26.50 at Fort Worth, $24 to $25.25 at San Antonio, and $22 to $25 at Houston.

Receipts of cattle, calves, hogs and sheep last week each fell slightly below the week but greatly exceeded the same week last year at the 12 leading markets.

R. C. Vicars and J. D. Lowrey went to Lubbock Tuesday for a few days visit.

A. E. Lowe attended the funeral of Mrs. W. M. Boerm last Wednesday in Junction.

.24 Inches Rain Here Sunday

Spring range prospects were brightened Sunday afternoon when light showers fell here. The Sonora Wool and Mohair Company gauge measured .24 inches, according to George D. Chalk.

The hottest weather of the year followed this week and temperatures of 80 and 86 degrees were recorded Tuesday and Wednesday. Thursday was cloudy and cool with promise of showers again.

United Church Effort Sunday

Churches of all denominations will unite Saturday night to participate in one of the greatest radio programs ever sponsored. Called "One Great Hour," the program calls for the Churches of America to unite in one great common effort and raise millions of dollars to further the work of all churches overseas in relieving suffering caused by the war.

President Truman will keynote the program with a speech at 10:55 EST to be broadcast over 1,092 network stations and hundreds of independent stations.

All church members everywhere are asked to meet the challenge on Sunday, March 27, with a great offering which, through the operation of Church World Service, they will bring new hope, new strength and new faith in God to millions of sufferers in Europe and Asia, thus doing much to help guarantee peace and a new spirit of world brotherhood.

DEL RIO FIRM FEATURES 50% MOHAIR SUMMER SUITS

John Rowland & Sons, with clothing stores located at Del Rio and Uvalde, have placed on the market men's summer suits made of fabric with 50 percent mohair and 50 percent wool content.

In announcing the new Tex-Air brand, sold exclusively by the concern, John Rowland & Sons state they are confident that this is the highest quality of mohair yet used in this type of fabric.

The management of Rowland's feel that this is the appropriate time to introduce the new brand of suits, as it was a 100 years ago this year that the first Angora goats were brought to the United States.

Mrs. Frank Weaver of Coleman visited her mother, Mrs. E. B. Tipton, Sr. the first part of the week and attended the Shurley - Bryant wedding in San Angelo.

School Trustee Election April 2

An election to choose two school trustees will be held Saturday, April 2, at the courthouse. The terms of Mrs. George H. Neill and Frank Bond, secretary-treasurer of the board, expire this term.

Judge of the election is Edwin Sawyer, assisted by A. E. Prugel and Mrs. Gene Lightfoot.

Speech Tourney Starts Friday

The annual Sonora Speech Tournament, which is being sponsored by the Student Council, is planned for April 1 and 2.

Debate, declamation, and extemporaneous speaking contests will be held. Schools that have been invited so far are San Angelo, Austin, Denton and Fort Stockton. Others will also be invited.

Fort Stockton, San Angelo and Sonora have been asked to give one-act plays, Friday night, April 1. Sonora will give a version of "Our Town," by Thornton Wilder. "Balcony Scenes" by Donald Elser is the play to be given by San Angelo.

James Theodore Hunt, president of the Student Council, will be director general of the tournament. The Speech Class, and also other students, will help as chairmen and timekeepers. As in previous years the judges will be selected from the faculty and community.

There will be six rounds of debate and the Sonora teams will not participate in the finals. Registration will be at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon and debating will begin at 2 o'clock. Saturday morning debaters will begin at 7:30 o'clock and continue all day.

The visitors, and all Sonora students helping with the tournament, will be entertained informally Saturday night. The awards will be presented at that time.

The townspeople will be asked to house the visitors for the two nights.

Baseball Team Starts Practice Here Saturday

Sonora will again be represented in the Concho Basin League, according to Edward Archer, who is organizing and will manage a team this year. Archer said Wednesday that the first practice session will be held Saturday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the baseball field and that all candidates for the team will report at that time ready for practice.

Two workouts will be held each week, Archer added, and the best men will win the positions. Sonora had a poor record last year in league play, but with hard practice, that record should be improved this year.

Streets Being Repaired

The county is scraping and filling in roads and streets in the South Sonora addition this week.

Red Cross Drive Passes Quota Wednesday

COUNTY CHAPTER GETS $40 SPECIAL DONATIONS

The Sutton County quota of $455 for the American Red Cross was met Wednesday in a one-day drive, according to Mrs. Maysie Brown, chapter treasurer. In addition to the county quota, $40 was donated specifically to the county fund.

Station A, chairman O. M. Skipper reporting, had 100% participation as did Station B, Pete Ballard, chairman.

The Lions Roar

The Choral Club, made up of 4th, 5th and 6th grade students under the direction of Miss Katherine Davis, presented a concert to the Lions Club Tuesday after the luncheon.

The 35-student group, composed of both boys and girls having alto and soprano voices, sang, "Beautiful Dreamer," "Coming Around the Mountain," and "Daisies Won't Tell."

Emmett Askins won the drawing held to choose an additional delegate to the Lions International Convention in New York City this summer. Dr. J. F. Howell and George Wynn were named as alternates. A. E. Wells is the other Sonora delegate.

Rex Lowe, principal of the Elementary School, reported on the eye testing program at the school made possible by the purchase by the Lions Club of an eye testing machine. Lowe cited three cases where children's eyesight were found to be deficient by the machine. In each case, glasses were fitted by a doctor and the child's school work improved.

Guests were Pete Jacoby of Junction and M. R. Van Tassel of San Antonio.

BURNS ARM FRIDAY

Jim Luckie, employed on the new school job, received burns on the arm Friday, when his sleeve became caught in a power drill. He was not seriously burned.

McMurry College Band To Give Concert Here

The McMurry College Indian band, on tour from Abilene, will present a concert in Sonora High School at 9 o'clock, Tuesday morning, March 29. The program will include both classical and novelty selections with vocal as well as instrumental presentations.

The band, made up of 50 young college men and women, and directed by Raymon T. Bynum, leave Abilene Sunday, and return the following Friday. Nearly 50 concerts will have been given this year by the band, when it completes this tour.

The Indian band was the official Abilene band at the Fort Worth Fat Show and Livestock Exhibition this winter, has participated in numerous regional and county fairs, and has appeared in many public functions, in addition to its visits to high schools, churches and band clinics in West Texas this year.

Believed to be unusual, if not unique, in its presentation of a formal religious program for a Sunday church service, the band presents in its secular concerts, a wide variety of serious music as well as novelties and humorous skits. These latter concerts have been planned to please an audience having a diversity of tastes and have proved in the past to be typically "sure-fire entertainment."

When the band takes over the worship service of a church, the reverence and worshipful attitude is evidence, and under the guidance of the band, the congregation is led to participate in a genuinely spiritual experience.

For the church and formal concerts, the boys wear maroon uniform coats and white trousers; the girls wear the maroon uniform coat with white skirts. On parade, and informal concerts, the group is attired in maroon coats and trousers.

Features of this year's informal concerts have been the band's emphasis on Latin-American music, and the appearance of novelty groups, such as the "Collegiate Cantors," men's trio, which has come to be widely known for its novelty numbers, and now in its third year. Two or three newer groups, as well as soloists are making their way toward front rank in entertainment and are presented informally in most of the band programs.

INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Jake Merck, Sonora trucking operator, received six broken ribs and a severe head cut Friday about noon, when the car he was driving collided with the rear of a county carry-all at the Concho street railroad crossing.

Merck received treatment here and was able to be up this week.

The other day we were talking to R. M. Robie, representative of a San Antonio film processing plant, who told us that after the January snow, his firm received over 76,000 rolls of film to develop. Ordinary output of the lab is 9,000 rolls per day. When he left San Antonio last week, he said they were still two days behind schedule. That's what you call being snowed under by snow pictures.

Speaking of San Antonio reminds us that there's nothing like going to the city to catch up on what's going on. Sunday we went to the zoo, a place which is always fascinating regardless of how many times we go. One of the highlights of the visit was a look at the new aquarium. There you can see on display some of the most luscious, hog-fat catfish you ever saw. It will make your mouth water, but unfortunately there are "No Fishing" signs all over the place.

We stopped in a filling station in San Antonio and told the attendant to fill the tank. He placed the nozzle in the tank, turned on the gas and wandered off to check the water and oil. Not being in the mood to spoil a joke, we didn't tell the man what he had done. We thought we'd just look the other way and wait to hear the merry splash of gas on concrete. But nothing happened. The fool thing shut itself off when the tank was almost full. Noting our disappointed expression, the man explained that the new nozzle was the latest thing and would shut itself off every time. He must have known what he was talking about, because we stood around there for two hours and it never did fail.

The Don Martin mystery has been solved or at least the "General," legendary character who is the big wheel at the lake, has his part of it solved. After all the thrashing around, the laundry comes out something like this:

You can still go fishing at Don Martin Lake. Just be sure to stay at the General's hotel, hire the General's guides, be nice to the General, buy a license from the General, etc. Do not fool around with the Summer Kitchen any more, because the Summer Kitchen is passe with an accent over the "e".

From where we sit, it looks like some of the boys tried to muscle in on the General a little too close for comfort and he had to show them who was boss. The General, through his political affiliations, known in this country as pull, known in China as cumshaw, known in Arabia as baksheesh, has the concession on all fishing at the lake.

Although we have never had the pleasure, we are assured by one and all that the General is more than a genial host, and especially welcomes Sonora fishermen. Bass should be spawning by next week, so fishing at Don Martin ought to be just right.

Bobby Allen won second place in the high hurdles at the Fort Worth invitation track and field meet last Friday and Saturday. According to Coach Bud Moody, Allen got off to a bad start in the finals and even so, was only nosed out.

Many ranchers cooperating with the Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District are still engaged in planting adapted grass seed. Last week Edgar Glasscock, Ben Cusenbary and Alvis Johnson planted approximately 2 acres each on their respective ranches to KR bluestem and slender grama. The grass was seeded in fields and old garden spots and will be protected in order to furnish a seed source.

Edwin Mayer is planting the same two grasses in his Little Dry Trap, this week. He is also scattering 2 bales of KR bluestem hay in a fenced off gully area in his West Dago Pasture. The KR bluestem hay Mayer is using was furnished by the Edwards Plateau SCD.

Dantes Reiley is going in for variety with his grass planting this week. In his Field and South

One small plea on behalf of thousands is made by two-year-old Gordon Strickland of Orange, Texas, who like 20,000 other handicapped youngsters in Texas, is receiving assistance made possible by the annual Easter Seal Sale of the Texas Society for Crippled Children. This year 1,000,000 Texans will receive sheets of the Easter Seals with the request that they buy and use them. The sale dates are March 21 through April 17.

Bryan Hunt and son, James Theodore, left Friday morning for Tucson, Arizona, where they will spend a few days attending the races.

Miss Jamie Trainer returned to Grandfalls Sunday afternoon after spending the weekend here with her mother, Mrs. J. W. Trainer.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Millican over the weekend were her brother, Morty Vinson, and family of Big Lake.

E. B. Keng was in Junction on business Monday and Tuesday.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Remember How We Talked?

It went like this at the Hooper's the other night. Hap's eighteen-year-old daughter is talking about "a real gone guy—solid—out of this world, but def."

"Now what kind of language is that?" Hap barks. "Can't she speak English?"

"I'll translate it for you," Ma Hooper says, "in the language of the twenties, when you were about twenty years old. She simply means this fellow is the 'cat's whiskers.' Remember how we used to talk sometimes?" Hap went back to reading his newspaper.

From where I sit, it's easy to criticize the other person when we don't take a good long look at ourselves. Sure, there'll always be some differences. I'm fond of a temperate glass of beer and maybe you would prefer ginger ale—but let's just live and let live. Because when we go out of our way to find things to find fault with in others, chances are they can find a few in us, too.

REALITY ON "ROSEMARY"

In the casting of the popular daytime drama "Rosemary" (Monday through Fridays, CBS) there is quite a bit of reality. In the script George Keane plays star "Rosemary's" husband, "Bill Roberts," a returned Army veteran. Keane is an ex-Army Lieut. In real life he is also the husband of "Rosemary" — vivacious, dark-haired actress Betty Winkler. They married last year after their radio roles "just kind of wore on us." Keane, New York City born, young (32), divides his time between radio and the Broadway stage. He's worked with such stars as Katharine Cornell and Marlene Dietrich. He was featured in the musical "Park Avenue," more recently concluded a long run in the hit Broadway show "Brigadoon."

George Keane ... Bill Roberts

Very Little Things

Years ago John Griggs, "Roger Elliot" of the Sunday afternoon radio show "House of Mystery" (Mutual), formed a society to further the visionary idea of sending a rocket to the moon. Now he shies from the project. "Scientists are so far ahead of anything we imagined," says he, "I am unable to discuss the subject." When he ran around a table in a radio studio twenty times, Humphrey Bogart wasn't nuts. He was preparing for a realistic scene (a prize fighter badly licked) on meticulous "Family Hour of Stars" (Sunday, CBS). ... Jack Carson has talent for other than playing dumb and being a radio comic Friday nights, CBS. He can play almost any musical instrument by ear.

Bogart ... not nuts

CREDIT BUYING SHOWS SHARP INCREASE LATELY

"Charge it, please, is being repeated more often in Texas stores today than at any time since the war, a retail credit specialist says.

Sterling S. Speake, Industrial and Business Training Bureau specialist, travels throughout the state conducting a 10-hour course in retail credit procedures for local merchants and managers.

He says interest in the course has increased because of mounting requests for charge accounts. Sixty-four percent of all 1948 Texas retail sales were on credit, as compared with 40 percent in 1945, Speake says, and another rise is indicated in 1949.

Miss Jane Bryant Bride Of Billy Riffe Shurley
In Presbyterian Church Ceremony Monday

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Riffe Shurley are at home in Laramie, Wyoming following their marriage at high noon Monday in the First Presbyterian Church, U. S. A. in San Angelo. The Rev. B. O. Wood, pastor, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, the former Miss Jane Bryant, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus Douglas Bryant of San Angelo. Mr. Shurley is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar D. Shurley of Sonora.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin with inset sheer yoke which was bordered with French handrun lace. The handrun lace was used in the rippled peplum and also as a wide banding on the long full skirt which extended into graceful train. The lace on skirt, neck and sleeves was trimmed with tiny seed pearls. Her fingertip veil of illusion and Juliet cap were also trimmed with the lace and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids, JoAnna Hill roses and white Roman hyacinths worked with bridal illusion and white satin streamers.

Mrs. Gus Allen attended her sister as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Will J. Hale, Jr., Mrs. Wayne Chandler, Jr., of Fort Stockton, Mrs. Lawrence Mortoglio, of Cody, Wyo., and Miss Nan Haight of Riverton, Wyo. They all wore organdy dresses of spring green, designed with off-the-shoulder neckline, puffed sleeves, long torso and full skirt topped with overskirt banded by green eyelet embroidery. They wore picture hats of green horsehair braid and carried bouquets of Talisman roses.

Kay Shurley, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl and wore a yellow organdy dress and carried a white basket filled with yellow rose petals.

Candles were lighted by Winn Murchison of Midland and Glen Richardson of Sonora. David Shurley of Sonora attended his cousin as best man and ushers were Lawrence Mortoglio of Cody, Wyo., Glen Richardson, Leroy Pierce of Casper, Wyo., and Winn Murchison.

Mrs. A. W. McMillan, organist, played a prelude of nuptial music, the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. Marshall Sanguinet who sang "Dearest Mine," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The altar background was a decorative arch on each side of which were pedestals holding all-white arrangements of Easter lilies, stock and snapdragons, with touches of huckleberry greenery. Flanking the arch were eight seven-branched candelabra with festoons of huckleberry, and pew markers repeated the white flower motif.

A reception was held at the Bryant home, 1000 Montecito Drive in San Angelo. Mrs. R. P. Phillips and Mrs. Bryant Williams greeted guests and Gayle Buckingham presided at the bride's book. The receiving line stood before the fireplace which was decorated with huckleberry greenery and the mantel was covered with spring flowers. Miss Lois Hankins of San Antonio played piano selections during the reception hour.

The dining table was centered with interlocking wedding ring cakes decked with handmade orchids and surrounded by pink net fluting. Silver punch bowls were at each end of the table. Presiding at the table were Misses Julie Matlock, Eugenia Watkins, Betty Bean and Doris Ann Brown of Rocksprings and Mrs. Pete Renner and Mrs. Fred Dodson. Mrs. Gaylord Hankins, Mrs. Thomas Buckingham and Miss Jet Barnes were hostesses in the gift room.

For traveling the bride wore a blue gabardine suit with accessories of navy blue. Her blouse was hand-stitched blue net and lace over French pink. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Mrs. Shurley is a graduate of the San Angelo High School and she attended Southwestern University and the University of Wyoming. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta. Mr. Shurley is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon at the University of Wyoming where he will graduate in June.

Honey-Topped Coffee Cake

It's called "honey twist," for a honey topping flavors this coffee cake. Extra honey may be served to those who like coffee cake dripping with sweetness.

Women who enjoy baking rolls and coffee cakes are always discovering how to make new good things to eat from a basic sweet yeast dough. A honey twist is another one to try. This delightful coffee cake results when you coil a slender roll of rich yeast dough 'round and 'round in a pan, then brush on the honey topping. Set it to rise until light and then bake it. The honey topping makes the icing.

Since food should be nutritious as well as taste-satisfying, it is in order to mention that the honey twist is full of good food value. Enriched flour makes all breads important sources of B-vitamins and iron.

Note that the recipe calls for "from five to six" cups of enriched flour. This means you should add only as much as is needed to make a dough which can be easily handled. A dough just stiff enough to hold its shape when formed into a ball is the right consistency. Too much flour will make a stiff dough that rises slowly and produces coarse-textured breads. Too little makes the dough so soft the coffee cake won't hold its shape.

Your family will make honey twist one of its breakfast favorites. It is also a good coffee hour companion, yet it is plain enough to serve as luncheon or dinner bread.

HONEY TWIST

2 packages yeast, compressed or dry granular
1/4 cup lukewarm water
1 cup milk
5 to 6 cups sifted enriched flour

HONEY TOPPING

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup confectioners' sugar
1 egg white
2 tablespoons honey, warmed

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. Scald milk. Add shortening, sugar and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Add yeast and eggs. Add flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on floured board or pastry cloth and knead until smooth and satiny. Form into a ball and place in greased bowl. Cover and let rise in warm place until doubled. When light, punch down, and shape into a long roll about one inch in diameter. Coil the roll into a greased cake pan beginning at the outside edge and covering the bottom. Cream together ingredients for Honey Topping and brush over Twist. Let rise until doubled. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Makes two Twists nine inches in diameter.

At his feeding times, yes. He sounds off on the dot when a meal's due. But the rest of your day, you're wise to depend on electric clocks.

With a baby in the house, it's surprising how much you depend on electric service—to prepare and refrigerate his food, heat water for his bath and laundry, wash his clothes, and so on.

Of course, you depend on electricity to help take the work out of your housework, too. Always ready, it lends a willing hand with heavy chores, provides comfort, ease and even entertainment. And best of all, you can depend on its economy—for what other item in your budget does so much for so little?

Your friends and neighbors in this company—under sound business management—are continually using their technical skill and practical experience to keep electricity the biggest bargain in that budget of yours. You can depend on that, too!

the bucket brigade

In great-grandfather's time, when public water supply systems were few and far between, a house on fire was a real threat to the community. Today, in 13,000 communities, public water supply systems provide sufficient water to control fires in addition to supplying home and industrial needs. A thousand gallons a minute from modern fire-fighting equipment may be unfair to bucket brigades but is mighty comforting to property owners.

Remember that your public water supply system not only protects your property but guards your health by providing safe, palatable water—and for less than a dime a ton.

A LOOK AT THE BOOK

By DR. BOB JONES, JR.

PRESIDENT OF
BOB JONES UNIVERSITY

GREENVILLE,
SOUTH CAROLINA

A great New England preacher once promised to fill the pulpit of a country church on a certain Sunday. That Sunday New England was held in the grip of a blizzard. Roads were almost impassable. The preacher thought to himself, "There is no use in my going out to that church. No one will come out through such a storm. There will be nobody to preach to." But, being a conscientious man, he went. Setting out on his journey quite early, he was finally able to make his way on horseback through the snowdrifts and arrived a few minutes before the time of worship. Stabling his horse in a shed behind the church, he entered the deserted building, built a fire, and went up into the pulpit. Precisely on the hour the service was to begin, one man entered the church and sat down at the back. The preacher wondered whether or not he should go ahead with the service in the presence of a congregation of one. Finally, he announced the hymn, and the occupant of the pew and the occupant of the pulpit sang it together. The preacher prayed, another hymn was sung, and the service proceeded just as if the church had been filled with worshippers. At the close of his message, the minister pronounced the benediction, intending to speak to his "congregation afterwards"; but when he had spoken the final "Amen" and opened his eyes, the man was gone.

Twenty years later out in Ohio a stranger came up to the New England minister. "Do you remember me?" he said. "You and I spent an hour and a half together alone in a blizzard 20 years ago. I was saved that day under your preaching of the Gospel. Now, I also am a preacher, and within this state there are a half-dozen men standing in pulpits who were saved under my ministry. All this has come because you were faithful in witnessing when the testimony must have seemed to you of little value."

While the follower of Christ is not responsible for the results which his testimony produces, he is responsible to live a life that will prove the truth of his words. As followers of Christ we must live like people who have met a risen Saviour. Unless there is in your life something of the sweetness which characterizes the Saviour, something of His humility and gentleness and long suffering and mercy, you cannot be very well acquainted with Him. You cannot know Him in the power of His resurrection life without a newness of life yourself, and your works lend weight to your witness.

Baptists To Hold Convention In Abilene March 31

Six thousand Baptists from all over Texas are expected to meet in Abilene March 31-April 2 for the fifty-ninth annual state Training Union convention. Headquarters for the meeting will be Rose field house on Hardin-Simmons university campus.

All general sessions of the convention are to be held in the field house auditorium. Departmental sections from nursery age children through adults will meet in the First Baptist, University Baptist, First Christian, First Presbyterian, and St. Paul Methodist churches.

Dr. Guy Newman, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Denison, is state Training Union president. He will preside at all general sessions.

The convention will be the scene of three state-wide church contests - the better music and better speech competition and the intermediate drill for proficiency in locating and understanding Bible scriptures. Winners of the speech and Bible tournaments will represent Texas in the Southwide contests in Ridgecrest, N. C., in July.

Approximately 200 people are to appear on the convention program, according to Dr. T. C. Gardner, Dallas, state Training Union secretary. Among the speakers are Dr. Robert G. Lee, Memphis, Tenn.; Dr. Joe Burton, editor Home Life magazine, Nashville, Tenn.; Dr. J. Howard Williams, state Baptist executive secretary, Dallas; and Dr. W. R. White, Baylor university president, Waco.

Special groups who will participate in the meeting include children from the state school for the deaf in Austin; students from foreign countries now enrolled in Wayland Baptist College, Plainview; and the world-famous Hardin-Simmons Cowboy and Cowgirl bands.

An antique exhibit of old Training Union quarterlies, record books, study course diplomas, photographs, posters and newspaper clippings will present the history of Baptist Training Union in Texas since its beginning in 1888.

Garden he is planting KR blue-stem, slender grama, blue grama, sidecoats grama, blue panic, Lehmann's and Boers lovegrass in addition to Canada wildrye, Texas wintergrass and Western wheat grass planted some two months ago.

Reiley is trying these grasses in cooperation with the Edwards Plateau SCD in an effort to retire his cultivated land to grass more quickly and also to provide a seed source of the better adapted introduced grasses.

Gene Alley, formerly Veterans vocational teacher at Brownwood, and a 1948 graduate of Texas A&M College, is working temporarily with the local Soil Conservation Service work unit here in assisting cooperators with the Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District. Alley has accepted a permanent position with the SCS, but while awaiting appointment is helping out the local work unit.

Texas hunters and fishermen hit the trail for Brownwood April 7 for the first Texas Sportsmen's Competition and selection of state champions in plug and fly casting, skeet and trap shooting, pistol and rifle marksmanship, and hunting dogs.

The competition, the first ever to be held on a state-wide basis in the United States, will last four days, April 7-10 and will be the "biggest camp meeting in Texas history," according to Conrad Fath of Austin, general chairman for the event which is sponsored by the Texas Wildlife Federation. Participants and observers will camp on the site of the competition.

Events are open to participants of all ages. In the plug and fly casting events, special divisions are set up for men, women and children with merchandise prizes, medals and trophies in each division. Fishermen's accuracy and fishermen's distance events on Saturday, April 9, will prove especially attractive to the ordinary, everyday fishermen, because anybody who has even placed in any casting contest is barred from entering. Sunday's open casting events, however, are open to all who want to enter.

Merchandise prizes, medals and trophies will be awarded winners and runners-up in all events with extra prizes for third and fourth

The only qualification for participation in the competition is membership in a club affiliated with the Texas Wildlife Federation, an organization of 250 hunting, fishing and other sports clubs. What to do if you can't lay your hands on a Shmoo*

*SHMOO—a prolific animal dreamed up by artist Al Capp to provide meat, eggs, milk and suspender buttons for the folks in the famous comic strip, "L'il Abner."

Shmoos are remarkable creatures.

They give milk, lay eggs. Broiled, they taste like steak. Fried, they taste like chicken.

L'il Abner and his Dog Patch friends don't have to worry about the future since cartoonist Capp invented shmoos.

BUT—we happen to know that cartoonist Capp is providing for his own family's future needs another sure way. By buying U.S. Savings Bonds regularly.

And that, without a doubt, is the wisest thing for anyone who doesn't own a shmoo to do!

Saving is every bit as easy as raising shmoos, once you've signed up for the Payroll Savings Plan. Whatever sum you say is saved out of your paycheck automatically every pay-day before you have a chance to spend it.

Safe and sure—every nickel is guaranteed by Uncle Sam. And that money grows fast. In just ten years, you get back $4 for every $3 you invest today.

If your company has a Payroll Savings Plan, enroll today. If not, join the Bond-A-Month Plan through your bank.

TELEPHONES and ELECTRIC RABBITS

In our efforts to provide telephone service for all who want it—we're a little like the greyhounds who chase an electric rabbit around the track. No matter how fast we move, we never quite catch up. This is because the demand for new service never slackens even slightly. We'd like to provide service for everyone immediately. Although that is impossible, we are continuing to install telephones for those on our waiting list at an increasingly rapid rate.
