Enemy Armor Is Crushed In Futile Thrust

Units Of Goering Division Met In Fierce Local Fight

By EDWARD KENNEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Jan. 27. — The first German counterattack against the Americans and British just south of Rome, the first of the many that probably will be launched in a furious effort to wipe out the Allied beachhead, has been thrown back with the crushing of German armor, Allied headquarters announced today.

Men and supplies continued to pile into the strategic wedge threatening the Italian capital.

Gen. Sir Harold Alexander's central Mediterranean headquarters announced that elements of the Herman Goering armored division had been met southwest of Littoria, the chief town of Mussolini's famous Pontine marsh agricultural development, in a "fierce local engagement."

The Germans left 120 dead on the field as they were tossed back. The Hermann Goering division, formerly an armored grenadier outfit, has been strengthened by new equipment to a fully armored unit. It was last encountered on the main Fifth army front. Its appearance on the beachhead front indicated it had been shifted to counter the threat to the German rear.

Yanks Gain Near Cassino

Meanwhile, other Americans of the Fifth army, 48 miles east of Littoria, continuing to uproot Germans, mines and meshed defenses, struggled slowly forward across flooded streams and over steep crags just north of Cassino where field dispatches said they were within half a mile of the Liri valley gateway and were overlooking the bomb-jumbled ruins of the ancient monastery town. Patrols had penetrated the outskirts of the stronghold.

Some four miles farther north the French rushed down from their mountain positions on Mt. Il Lago in the Sant' Elia area, across the Secco river and the Cassino-Atina road and attacked

Federal Waste Flayed By Byrd

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 27 (AP)—Senator Harry F. Byrd, (D-Va), says that "inefficiency and the lack of organization among the very numerous departments of the government have made the war cost at least twice as much as it should."

Byrd, chairman of the joint congressional economy committee, told the New Jersey taxpayers association last night that if President Roosevelt's most recent budget was approved by Congress the total appropriated for war purposes would be $428 billion.

This, he said, would compare with $40 billion for the total cost of World War I, including loans to our allies.

He said that if all the appropriations already made, and requested by the President in the new budget, were expended by July 1, 1946, after deducting revenue in that period, the net debt of the federal government would be $358 billion.

Record Bureaucracy

"At Washington," the senator said, "we have the greatest bureaucracy of all time . . . Not even the most expert and best-informed of the government officials can name a majority of the alphabetical agencies that now govern us. This bureaucracy today has 3,063,379 paid employes (exclusive of the armed services). . . . The annual payroll of this civilian bureaucracy is over eight billion dollars. Today the federal government has one civilian employe to every two and a half soldiers.

Senator Warns On Overriding States' Rights

Sharp Challenge Given Backers Of Administration

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Senator Millikin (R-Colo) told the Senate today that if Congress overrides the states' constitutional rights to prescribe the method of electing presidential electors, it would be acting as "a revolutionary usurper."

Challenging the contention of supporters of the administration's service vote bill that Congress has war-time powers to set aside the states' authority over elections, the Coloradoan asserted that if that were true, "Congress could depose the President by legislative action," and could also abolish elections and do away with the Supreme court.

"The conclusion is inescapable," Milliken said, "that when Congress overrides the constitutional rights granted to the states in regard to elections, it is acting as a revolutionary usurper."

Fourth Day Of Debate

Millikin took the floor in the fourth day of debate on a measure endorsed by President Roosevelt which would establish a federal war ballot on which members of the armed forces at home and abroad could vote for president, vice president, senator and congressman by writing in the name of the candidate or merely designating his party choice.

In answer to the President's charge that a previously-approved measure simply calling on the states to make absentee ballots available to personel was "a fraud upon the American people," Millikin said the pending administration measure contained "fraud-inviting" provisions.

He contended that its administration in foreign combat areas would have to be directed by foreigners in case where American troops are fighting under foreign Allied commanders.

Capper Growing "Suspicious"

Millikin's attack on the measure followed an assertion by Senator Capper (R-Kas.) that he was growing "suspicious" of what he described as administration attempts to use the war emergency "for the purpose of centralizing control of the American people in Washington."

Administration senators, faced with a possible week-end delay if they don't get some quick action,

Steel Workers' Case Certified To WLB

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP) — Secretary of Labor Perkins certified to the War Labor board today a dispute in which United Steel Workers of America (CIO) seek wage increases of 17 cents an hour above the "little steel" formula.

The case involves 22 issues on wages, working hours, vacations, holidays, sick leave and health for 200,000 employes of the United States Steel corporation of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The "little steel" formula, established by the board in July, 1942, in a steel wage case, provided increases amounting to 15 per cent above the level of January 1, 1941. The government has since used this formula as a maximum for wage increases under a "hold-the-line" program.

Five U. S. Steel corporation subsidiaries are included in the case certified today. They include the Carnegie-Illinois steel, American Steel & Wire, National Tube company, Columbia Steel and Tennessee, Iron and Railroad companies.

Poll Tax Purchases May Set New Record

A tongue-in-cheek prediction was made this afternoon by H. B. Bryan, county tax assessor-collector, that poll tax buying for the 1944 general election year "may equal, possibly exceed," that for the former highest year, the 1940 general election.

Polls collected for the 1940 election totaled 9,408. Up to noon today, 6,976 polls assessed in 1943 for 1944 had been purchased.

Bryan announced that his office from now until Monday midnight's deadline "will be open each noon, each afternoon after 5 o'clock so long as the line of poll purchasers forms and up to midnight Monday." He urged dispatch in buying.

Two-Thirds Of Army To Be Overseas This Year

Some Camps To Be Closed; Soldiers In Administrative Posts Due For Combat

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—As present plans shape up, two-thirds of America's steadily growing army will be at overseas stations by the end of this year.

That was the word today from War Secretary Stimson as he announced plans for closing a number of domestic Army camps during the next few months and the transfer to combat units of a substantial proportion of the soldiers now assigned to administrative duties.

The overseas expansion program will double our forces abroad. As of the end of 1943, only about a third of the Army had been sent outside the country.

In addition, a number of officers over 38, particularly those commissioned directly from civil life or in the national guard and reserve corps, will be placed on the inactive list because "no suitable assignments are available or in prospect either at domestic or overseas installations or establishments."

Shift To Offensive

"The readjustments were dictated generally by the progressive shift of Army operations from the defensive to the offensive and by the growth of air power," said Stimson. "As of Dec. 31, 1943, approximately one-third of the Army's strength was overseas. By the end of this year it is contemplated that two thirds of the Army will be overseas."

With the peak of the training program past, the Army already has placed a number of its facilities on a stand-by basis, or announced that it intends to do so. The Air Forces have relinquished

Bowles Warns Of Price Rises

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP) — Price Administrator Chester Bowles told a Senate labor subcommittee today further increases in living costs are inevitable unless he gets "the vigorous support of Congress and the general public."

Asserting that "efforts to hold the line against any further rise in the prices of food have been hampered by the continuing uncertainty on the use of subsidy payments," Bowles stated:

"For every single pound of pressure which we have received toward more effective price control in the interest of the great masses of our people, we have received 100 pounds of pressure designed in one way or another to raise present prices to higher levels."

Says Inquiry "Unprecedented"

Bowles, testifying before the Pepper committee inquiring into the economic status of white collar workers, termed the inquiry "unprecedented" because he said, he was accustomed "only to pressure from one direction."

"In the past when we have been called before any group in Congress or elsewhere, inevitably it has been to explain why we have failed to raise the price of this product or that," he commented, adding that he shared the committee's concern for "the growing economic threat to the millions of people in the white collar and fixed income group."

He said OPA's efforts to obtain badly needed production of inexpensive clothing had been hampered by the unwillingness of

Corpus Delicti Not Necessary For Trial

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 27. (U.P.)—State's Attorney Abraham S. Ullman said today that Walter William Law, 39, who allegedly has confessed the slaying and cremation of Rose M. Brancato, 28-year-old society reporter, can be brought to trial for murder, even though the body cannot be produced.

"Corpus delicti," said Ullman, "does not necessarily mean a body in a murder case. There can be a conviction of murder, without producing the body."

An admission by an accused slayer, together with whatever supporting evidence could be obtained, the state's attorney said, would warrant a charge of murder.

"If the question is, 'can a conviction be obtained without a corpus delicti'? then my answer is yes."

DIES OF INJURIES

DALLAS, Jan. 27. (U.P.) — Dock Sidney Grisham, 53, of Denton died in a Dallas hospital today of injuries suffered last night when he was struck by a city bus as he walked across a downtown intersection. Hospital attendants said Grisham suffered compound fractures of both legs, compound fracture of the right arm and head and internal injuries.

Production Is Key To Farm Deferments

Individuals Must Increase Supply To Help Nation

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—Selective service served notice today on the 1,700,000 farm workers who have been deferred from military service that if their individual production does not add substantially to the nation's food supply their deferments may be cancelled.

Commander Patrick H. Winston, assistant executive, national selective service headquarters, said in a speech prepared for the National Council of Private Motor Truck owners, Inc., that farm workers may be called upon in the near future to increase sharply their production goals or be taken into the armed services. He was speaking in place of Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director.

1944 Crop Goals Higher

Winston pointed out that the Agriculture department has set crop goals for 1944 substantially above 1943 production and declared:

"We can ill afford to further defer farm registrants whose production does not substantially exceed their own family consumption and add to the nation's food supply."

Winston said that about 1,000,000 of the 1,700,000 farm workers deferred are non-fathers and that about 400,000 are under 22.

The Tydings amendment to the selective service law requires deferment of registrants, regardless of their dependency status, who are found to be necessary to and regularly engaged in agricultural occupations or endeavors.

Measured In "War Units"

In November, 1942, selective service provided for measurement of farm activity in terms of "war units" and set an individual 16-unit objective as a guide for agricultural classification.

Winston said that in some instances registrants have been deferred even though they were responsible for as little as eight war units of production and added:

"It may well be that in the forthcoming agricultural season 16 war units will cease to be merely a guide and will become the minimum of individual activity. In

Soldier Who Killed Mother Being Hunted

NEW CANEY, Tex., Jan. 27. (U.P.) —A sheriff's posse of 15 to 20 men and a pack of bloodhounds slogged through the swampy, jungle-like lowlands of east Montgomery county today searching for a 22-year-old soldier who shot and killed his mother while two horror-stricken small children watched.

Object of the search was O. B. Weatherby, a discharged soldier who recently was paroled to his family from the Army hospital at Waco, Tex.

Officers said he murdered his mother yesterday afternoon, then threatened to kill his step-father and nine-year-old sister before disappearing into the swamplands still carrying the weapon, a single-barreled shotgun.

His mother, Mrs. E. D. Dicks, died instantly when a charge from the shotgun struck her at short range, a coroner's report showed.

Smolensk, Made City Of Death By Nazis, Is Bravely Reviving

BY HARRISON SALISBURY
United Press Staff Writer

SMOLENSK, Russia, Jan. 23 —(Delayed)—This is a city of death—a victim of the invader's roch and gun which has suffered 135,000 casualties during German occupation—but life still struggles on.

The kids of Smolensk were sliding in the slushy streets on their home-made sleds just like those of Minneapolis or Peoria. It didn't seem to bother them that the buildings on both sides of the streets were scorched ruins.

A 60-year-old peasant woman, bundled in a black shawl, came down the street. She said the Germans burned her house when they moved out last September. She now lives with three children in the cellar of the house, which they rudely chinked up to keep out the cold.

Population Now 30,000

Soviet officials said that not more than 30,000 persons now live in Smolensk, which before the war had been a busy industrial town and a trading area for a large agricultural area housing 185,000.

Commerce struggles to survive. In the marketplace I saw at least

Allies Smash 14 Additional Japanese Ships

Port Of Rabaul Is Target For Third And Heaviest Raid

BY MORRIE LANDSBERG
Associated Press War Editor

American bombers have sunk or damaged 14 Japanese ships, ranging from a minesweeper to a big freighter, in new assaults on the enemy's long supply line to its war bases in the Pacific, Allied reports said today.

Ten vessels were hit by Navy and Marine fliers in the third and heaviest blow this month at shipping in the port of Rabaul, pivotal base for the shrinking Nipponese territory in the Southwest Pacific. The Japanese lost 24 to 28 planes in an unsuccessful defense of their vulnerable New Britain harbor.

Freighters Are Destroyed

A small freighter was destroyed in another Allied air raid on the Admiralty islands, northwest of Rabaul. In the Fart East, 14th U. S. Air force Mitchell bombers sank two 1200-ton freighters and a minesweeper off the east China coast.

The latest strike at Rabaul brought the enemy's cost of maintaining that base to at least 26 ships sunk or damaged and more than 350 planes destroyed during January.

First reports from Gen. MacArthur's headquarters on the raid last Monday assessed the shipping losses as five cargo vessels and a tanker sunk and two cargo ships and a tanker beached.

Dispatches from New Georgia in the Solomons, site of the raiders' bases, said, however, that Navy torpedo bombers alone had sunk or badly damaged five cargo ships at Rabaul's Simpson harbor, including one vessel described as 8,000 to 10,000 tons. Marine pilots accounted for four ships in adjoining Keravia bay and set a tanker afire.

Pilots Like "School Kids"

In contrast with recent statements by Allied pilots that the Japanese still had thei "first team" at Rabaul, Associated Press War Correspondent Vern Haugland quoted fliers returning from the attack Monday as saying "the Jap pilots today were flying like a bunch of high school kids."

On the ground, American invasion forces at Arawe on the southwest coast of New Britain, found no sign of the Japanese when pa-

Nazis To Try Allied POW

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 27. (U.P.) — Press dispatches from Berlin said today that German authorities were preparing to try American and British war prisoners on "war guilt" charges.

The Stockholm Tidningen's Berlin correspondent quoted authoritative German sources that the trials will be in reprisal for the recent atrocity trials held by the Russians at Kharkov.

"These trials are now being prepared," a German spokesman said, according to the Aftontidningen dispatch.

The dispatch added that thus far there had been no indication of charges to be brought against the Americans and Britons, or how the trials would be conducted.

German spokesmen had indicated that captured American and British airmen might be made to stand trial for "terror" attacks on German cities.

State Guardsmen Can Get Tax Reduction

AUSTIN, Jan. 27 (AP) — Texas State guardsmen are eligible for a reduction but not an exemption of the poll tax, Attorney General Grover Sellers said in an opinion today.

Sellers, replying to an inquiry from County Attorney Arnold Smith of Montgomery county, said militiamen are not exempt from the $1 portion of the poll tax levied by the constitution for support of public schools.

The present state poll tax is $1.75, the 75 cents being assessed through legislative act, and retained locally.

More Than 700 Towns Liberated By Reds; Victory Celebrated With Exceptional Honors; Historic Achievement Cited

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Jan. 27—Russian General Leonid A. Govorov announced today that Leningrad had been completely liberated by the two-week Red offensive, with the Nazis driven 40 to 60 miles from the city and more than 700 nearby towns and villages freed.

The exceptional honor of 24 salvoes from 324 guns reserved for the greatest victories was ordered fired by the guns of Leningrad for the armies, the people of Leningrad and the Red fleet.

"As the result of the fighting a task of historic importance has been solved—the city of Leningrad has been completely liberated from the enemy blockade and from barbaric enemy shelling," said a special bulletin recorded from a Moscow broadcast by the Soviet monitor.

The German army's hold on northern Russia crumbled today as two Soviet armies, one driving south and west from Leningrad and the other pushing west from Novgorod, slowly tightened a pincers threatening to trap some 250,000 Nazi troops massed below Leningrad.

Immediately below Russia's second city, Gen. Leonid A. Govorov's armies were racing toward the Estonian frontier following the capture yesterday of the big railway center of Krasnogvardeisk, 30 miles south of Leningrad. They had stormed through the town of Kaskova, 24 miles further west, and were reported closing in on Volosovo, 48 miles from the Estonian border city of Narva. Several thousand Nazi officers and men were killed in the Krasnogvardeisk battle, a Russian communique said.

May Cut Railway

Other columns of Govorov's forces were blasting a path south of Krasnogvardeisk with the evident design of effecting a junction with Gen. K. A. Meretskov's army smashing west from the Lake Ilmen region, 70 miles to the south, in an effort to cut the Leningrad - Vitebsk railway, one of the rail escape routes open to the harassed Germans. The other rail line, further to the west, leads into Pskov and thence to Riga on the Baltic coast.

The great Russian offensive which lifted the siege of Leningrad was now in its fourteenth day, and was rolling through the German lines with apparently unabated momentum. In its first 12 days it had brought death to more than 40,000 Nazis and had routed 10 enemy divisions — normally 150,000 men — on the Leningrad front alone, the Russian communique declared.

Argentina Ties Up Cargo Fleet

Communications With Nazis Cut

(By The Associated Press)

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 27.—The Argentine military government froze movements of the state merchant fleet today as one of the first follow-up actions to its diplomatic break with the Axis, all vessels being directed to remain in port "until new orders."

It was expected here, however, that the tieup would not last long, since Argentine economy largely depends on the movement of the merchant fleet.

(Although no reason was given for the freezing order, it seemed apparent that the Ramirez government deemed it unwise to expose the vessels to the menace of any lurking enemy submarine in the South Atlantic until some provision could be made for their protection, possibly in convoys.

Nazis Sank Three Ships

(Nazi submarines sank three Argentine ships in 1942 but no mention was made of these torpedoings in yesterday's official announcements concerning the diplomatic break.)

As congratulations poured in from all over the continent, the Argentine government turned to another problem attending its diplomatic break—the question of communications witht Germany.

Suspension of these facilities loomed as great importance in view of the revelations that Buenos Aires was headquarters for a giant espionage ring. It is believed that telephone communications with Germany already have been cut.

Transocean Notified

The German news agency Transocean, a powerful Nazi propaganda arm, has been notified to wind up its affairs here by Jan. 31 and it was believed that the pro-Axis afternoon newspaper Pampero, served by Transocean and often said to be maintained by the German embassy, might close at the same time.

One question which is expected to be settled quickly is who will handle Argentine interests in Germany and Japan. The newspaper Noticias Graficas said last night it probably would be Sweden, although Switzerland and Spain were other possibilities.

VON RIBBENTROP DECRIES ARGENTINA'S "SURRENDER"

Damage Is Heavy In Oklahoma Storms

(By The United Press)

Oklahoma today counted heavy property damage from freak winter storms that struck central and western Oklahoma last night.

More than a dozen persons were reported injured, although only five required hospitalization.

Hardest hit by the storm, bringing heavy rain and 50-mile winds, was Elk City where three persons were hurt and extensive damage resulted in the business district. No estimate of the loss has been made.

More than half of the plate glass windows in the Elk City business district were reported shattered by the wind, which also unroofed the Casa Grande hotel and the Burr's department store. The store's stocks were reported badly damaged by water.

The Elk City Traders compress was flattened, the building and baled cotton being littered along the railroad tracks. Trains were halted for several hours early today.

Jimmy Stewart Turns Down Army Promotion

A U. S. LIBERATOR BOMBER BASE, England, Jan. 27 (AP)—Capt. Jimmy Stewart, formerly of Hollywood and now leader of a Liberator bomber squadron, is the talk of his airmates at this base because he startled a superior officer by turning down a promotion to major.

Friends of the actor, who won his wings the hard way, quoted him as explaining his refusal by saying that he didn't want to be raised to a higher rank 'until my junior officers get promoted from lieutenant."

Stewart has piloted his bomber on three raids—as a squadron commander he flies only occasionally—and fellow fliers say he did a "swell job."

Dinner Given For Officers

Mrs. Acle Cope, most excellent chief of the Pythian Sister Temple, gave a dinner Wednesday night at 7 o'clock in the home of Mrs. J. F. Gregory, 2414 Thirteenth street, for newly elected officers and past chiefs of the Temple.

The table was covered with a white cloth and centered with a large white candle encircled with nandina berries and leaves. Place cards bearing the emblem of the order and clusters of sweetpeas were favors.

To Work At Red Cross

The year's program was discussed and members voted to go to the Red Cross surgical dressings rooms third Monday nights to fold surgical dressings.

Although husbands of several officers have been inducted into the service of their country, Mrs. Cope reminded them the Temple still can have an interesting and successful program this year.

A bingo party for the Temple and friends was planned for Friday night at 7 o'clock at the K-P hall.

Guests were Mesdames T. J. George, Eddie Bergman, Royal Furgeson, C. O. Campbell, J. D. Lawson, Hub Lee, E. J. Dresser, William G. Kinman, J. D. Corcorran, J. B. McManus, T. E. May, Russell S. Hardin, J. W. Philips, G. H. Ater and Elmo Payne.

We The Women

BY RUTH MILLETT

A 16-year-old girl and a 20-year-old soldier say that they are legally old enough to get a marriage license. Three days after their marriage, the soldier is shipped overseas, and the girl's father asks for an annulment of the marriage, though both the girl and the boy want the marriage to hold.

It is up to a judge to decide whether or not the boy and girl go through the war as husband and wife.

The case which has received wide publicity is bound to interest parents of teen-age girls, for no parent can be sure his own daughter might not contrive to make a hasty and unapproved war marriage.

It is not only the right but the duty of parents of a girl under 18 to try to talk her out of a war marriage, to try to get her to substitute a long engagement for a hasty wedding.

But if the parents fail and the girl manages to marry in spite of them, what good possibly can come of the parents' insisting on an annulment, that neither the young husband or wife wants.

All that their opposition possibly can accomplish is to make the girl feel that all the world is against her—that no one is ready to stand by.

Unless the girl is actually a child—less than 16 years of age, say—it looks as though the best solution is to let the marriage stand.

SOME WILL BE HAPPY

There always have been girls who married when, according to their parents, they were far too young. But those marriages have not necessarily been doomed to failure. Often they have been happy.

With juvenile delinquency what it is today, and with thousands of girls deciding not to wait for marriage, it doesn't seem sensible for parents to fight a daughter's marriage in the courts. Shouldn't they rather be thankful that their daughter dignified her love by marriage instead of falling for the Victory Girl philosophy that is bound to hurt a girl worse than even an unhappy marriage that ends in failure?

South's Deceitful Weather Blamed In Miss Lee's Illness

ELLINGTON FIELD, Jan. 27 (U.P.)—Miss Gypsy Rose Lee, the eminent writer of mysteries and dancer of exotic numbers, today blamed a too-early change from her winter G-string for the siege of pneumonia that landed her in the Fort Bragg, N. C., Army hospital.

The Sunny South, she opined, is deceitful, and that deceit can be blamed for her current troubles, including fevers that were in the neighborhood of 106 degrees.

"I've been doing this same act for years and I never caught pneumonia before," she wrote from Fort Bragg, explaining why her visit to Ellington Field would be delayed to Feb. 4.

"I guess it's because I thought I was in the Sunny South and changed out of my winter, furlined G-str--er, that is, my things, too soon."

Fort Bragg hospital officials, however, have been "wonderful" to Miss Lee, she said. On her birthday, they presented her with a cake, topped by candles. How many candles, she didn't say.

"And did it taste good? The candles were delicious. I ate three," she confided.

Brief Bits Of Local News

Law enforcement authorities here were informed Wednesday afternoon that John Collon Clegg, about 24, who was wanted in approximately 25 Texas counties for investigation into forgery of checks, had committeed suicide in Stephenville jail. There were two such checks in Lubbock county, others at Graham, Amarillo, Lamesa, Paducah, Vernon, Sweetwater and other places, West Texas sheriffs and Ranger district headquarters here said. Several charges had been filed, and there was at least one grand jury indictment against the man, who allegedly was AWOL from the Army and had married only after reaching Stephenville, where he was arrested.

H. Lewis Gowin, 2002 Eighteenth street, treasurer of Carpenters local No. 1884, has been appointed a member of the area war manpower committee for this district, it was announced Wednesday. The committee formulates procedure for administration of the stabilization plan, applicable to employers and employes of the Panhandle-Plains area. Gowin is employed with a local roofing company.

Tess A. Bruner, postal clerk at Slaton for 18 years, was indicted by a federal court grand jury in Dallas Wednesday, the Associated Press reported. Bruner pleaded guilty upon arraignment here to charges in federal court last November that he converted to his own use $2,000 of postal funds and was released upon posting $2,500 bond.

Six hundred students of Texas Technological college gave $300 during the first day of registration this semester for the purpose of beautifying the campus. Voluntary contributions of 50 cents each have been taken.

It was announced in Lubbock Wednesday by Briggs Robertson of Slaton that a meeting of district No. 7 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be held Feb. 6 in Big Spring. Robertson, district commander said efforts are being made to obtain designation of Big Spring as the site for this year's state VFW convention. A large attendance is expected of members of the VFW ladies auxiliary.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Raley, jr., 2219 Fourteenth street, are leaving tonight for Wichita Falls where they are to attend the 64th wedding anniversary celebration Sunday of Mr. Raley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Raley, sr.

Lt. Joe Pierce, a flight instructor at the Naval Air station at Ottumwa, Ia., visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Pierce of Cooper this week en route to Iowa. He had been at Clovis visiting the parents of his wife. Mrs. Pierce is the former Virginia Glenn. Texas Tech graduate and later society editor of the Clovis News-Journal. She is to remain in Clovis several weeks. Lt. Pierce was assistant sports editor and later sports editor of the Avalanche-Journal prior to going into service. He is also a graduate of Tech.

Five Lubbock persons reported bicycle thefts this morning and late Wednesday, police reports said: Ernest Smith of 2406 Broadway, Truman Anderson of 1418 Avenue D, Don Taylor of 2005 Twenty-second street, Tommy Raney of 1927 Avenue N, and Warner Peticolas of 2411 Twenty-first street.

A 41-year-old negro "cleared out" when approached by Sheriff Roy E. Hillin Wednesday at Crosbyton. Last September he ran when Plainview police walked in his direction. A radio broadcast Wednesday night and this morning asked that he be arrested. Authorities want to find out what lies behind his "big hurry every time he sees an officer."

Eight candidates will present themselves for the Past and Most Excellent Master's degrees, when Lubbock chapter 248 meets at 7 o'clock tonight. W. Guy Casey is High Priest.

County Judge G. V. Pardue said he had accepted a plea of drunk driving this morning from Virgil Craig, about 40. The complaint was sworn to by T. C. Laws before Syrian E. Marbut, county attorney. A fine of $50, court costs and revocation of Craig's driver's license for six months were assessed.

A total of 1,433 students, 502 men and 931 women, obtained permits to register at Texas Technological college Wednesday, the last day a student could enroll for the spring semester. Enrollments in the various departments were as follows: Agriculture 92, Engineering 292, Home Economics 245, Arts and Sciences 524 and Commerce 280.

Mrs. Ed B. Green, 2110 Seventeenth street, suffered a severe shoulder injury whn she slipped and fell on the pavement near her home about 5:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Attending physicians at West Texas hospital this morning reported her condition as "satisfactory."

The body of Cadet J. K. Hobkirk, who was killed in a plane crash near Lubbock Army Air field late Tuesday, was shipped to Beaver Dam, Wis., this morning, according to Rix Funeral home.

Argentina Expected To Ask For Help

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (AP) — Argentina's new position in relation to the rest of the Americas probably will be clarified when and if she again applies for lend-lease arms and supplies.

A request for such aid is expected as soon as Buenos Aires has completed re-orientation of her foreign policy begun yesterday when she severed diplomatic relations with Germany and Japan.

The issue is considered by the Argentinians to be of immense importance because they see themselves suffering as a South American power in relation particularly to Brazil, which as a full-fledged fighting ally of the United States has been receiving arms and equipment since 1941.

Washington Reaction Awaited

What Washington's reaction will be, however, probably will depend on the extent to which the Buenos Aires government has gone by then in cleaning up Axis spy nests, propaganda and revolutionary intrigue within her borders. It probably will depend also on the need Argentina can show for lend-lease in the interests of hemispheric defense and the Allied war effort.

Brazil, which has received the bulk of the lend-lease material furnished to Latin America, is not only fighting side-by-side with United States and Allied forces in the western hemisphere but began several weeks ago to send an expeditionary force abroad.

Aid Talked In August

The subject of lend-lease help for Argentina was last broached in August, two months after the revolutionary regime of President General Pedro Ramirez seized power.

Secretary of State Hull hotly rejected the request at that time both because of Axis activities then permitted in Argentina and because the request was based partly on the expressed desire of the Ramirez government to restore "equilibrium" in South America.

The reference to "equilibrium" was taken to mean that Argentina wanted to be as strongly armed and as well equipped with United States supplies as her neighbor Brazil despite the fact that she was making no contribution to the Allied cause and in some respects was hurting it.

Bud Baer Wants To Retire On Ranch

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Jan. 27 (AP)—Buddy Baer, who once dreamed of annexing the world's heavyweight boxing title, looks forward now to retirement on a cattle ranch.

A staff sergeant in the Army's physical training program, Buddy said today he would never fight again. He is undergoing treatment at the Reams General hospital for a neck injury resulting from an automobile accident in 1941.

Max Baer's kid brother declared he was salting away all his Army pay, and the income from a cocktail lounge he operates in California toward that home on the range when the fighting is over.

Buddy's last fight was a go at Joe Louis for the title Jan. 9, 1942. He and brother Max joined the Army shortly before voluntary enlistments were ended and both are engaged in the PT program. They make talks on physical fitness and lend a hand at morale boosting.

Buddy is attached to the air services command with headquarters at Patterson Field, Fairfield, Ohio.

Phils, Farm Clubs To Train At Same Sites

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 27. (U.P.) — The Philadelphia Phillies and their three farm clubs will be "just one big happy family" in spring training this year.

President Bob Carpenter, jr., announced last night that the farm clubs would use the same spring training facilities as the Phillies. However, the farm clubs will begin their intensive drilling after the Phillies finish on April 18. They are Utica, N. Y. of the Eastern league, Bradford, Pa., of the pony league and Wilmington of the interstate league.

Military Funeral Held For Lt. Col. Andreas

CATARINA, (Dimmit County) Texas, Jan. 27 (AP) — A military funeral was to be held here today for Lt. Col. H. Andreas, Army Air forces, retired, a veteran of the Spanish-Amercan war, the Philippines' insurrection, the Boxer rebellion and of World war I.

He died at his home here Tuesday night.

Andreas was invalided home in 1941 following a bomber crash in the Philippines.

Col. John H. Bundy, commanding officer of the Eagle Pass Army Air Field, and a former comrade-in-arms, said that Andreas' ashes would be taken to the Philippines after the war, to be scattered from the air. Andreas made this request, said Col. Bundy.

Andreas is survived by his widow and a daughter, Mary Lois, a student at the University of Texas.

First Army Nurses Arrive In Burma

IN THE NORTHERN BURMA JUNGLE, Jan. 20—(Delayed)—(AP)—Something new has been added to the northern Burma jungle.

NIMITZ ACCEPTED

DALLAS, Jan. 27 (AP)—William Edward Nimitz of Orange, 19-year-old cousin of Admiral Chester Nimitz of Fredericksburg, commander of the Pacific fleet, was accepted here yesterday for naval aviation training. He commented:

"I hope I can be just half as good a naval officer as my cousin."

Braniff Asks Okay On Mexican Airline

DALLAS, Jan. 27 (AP)—The office of Braniff airways, Inc., here said Charles E. Beard, Braniff vice president, appeared before the Civil Aeronautics board in Washington yesterday in behalf of a Mexican aviation corporation which later is to be transferred to Braniff airways.

The Mexican government has granted an operating permit in accordance with Mexican laws covering 2643 miles of air routes in Mexico to a New Mexican corporation known as Aerovias Braniff, S. A., according to Beard.

The routes granted provide for airline service between Nuevo Laredo and Mexico City via Ciudad Victoria; between Matamors and Tampico via Ciudad Victoria; between Mexico City and Tapachula via Cuernavaca, Cuautla and Salina Cruz; between Mexico City and Merida, Yucatan, via Pueblo and Vera Cruz; and between Matamoros and Merida, on a direct trans-Gulf flight.

Subject to approval by the Civil Aeronautics board, it is intended that after the initial organization and development period, ownership of Rerovias Braniff will be transferred to Braniff airways.

Yonkers Lays Claim To National Record On Labor Harmony

YONKERS, N. Y., Jan. 27 (AP)—Word went out to this Hudson river city's 15,000 men and women in the armed services today that the old home town has established a record of wartime labor harmony believed unsurpassed in the nation.

The Yonkers Home News, a publication distributed free to sons and daughters on fighting fronts throughout the world, proclaimed:

Since the nation began to rearm, not a single hour of production has been lost by strike or slowdown in any of the city's 17 major war plants, employing between 15,000 and 20,000 persons.

Use Labor Supply Plan

Industrialists and union leaders, proud of the uninterrupted output of parts for warships, airplanes, tanks and general ordnance, credited largely a labor supply plan and willingness of labor and management "to sit down and reason together."

"There were other important factors," said Percy S. Peck, executive secretary of the chamber of commerce. "Yonkers, with a population of 142,000, has no 'war babies.' Our plants are long established and, while there have been some expansions, the successful relationships between labor and management were continued.

"Yonkers payrolls have been at an all-time high for a year or more. Our housing, in the main, is adequate and there has been no gouging on rent. All this helped keep workers from becoming dissatisfied."

Manpower Pooled

The labor supply plan, carried out in cooperation with the War Manpower commission, selective service and the United States Unemployment service, pooled available manpower and allocated it where most needed.

Each plant dealt with its own labor problems individually.

The union's viewpoint was expressed by Charles Webster, business manager for the local CIO United Textile Workers.

"We did everything we could from the union's side," he said. "We don't believe in strikes in wartime. We believe in peace by negotiation."

It is believed by many anthropologists that the northeastern part of North America was the last section to be settled by Indians coming to this continent by way of the Bering sea.

"NO MORE TROUBLE WITH CONSTIPATION!"

Says Long-Time Sufferer Who Tried Laxative Cereal!

If you, too, are disappointed with pills and purgatives, be sure to read this unsolicited letter!

"For several years I was afflicted with common constipation. I tried various remedies, but got only temporary relief. Several months ago, I started eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN each morning, drinking water freely through the day. I have since never had the slightest trouble with constipation. My gratitude to KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN." Mr. H. M. Riley, 11 E. Division Street, Chicago, Ill.

Scientists say KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN can really "get at" a common cause of constipation—lack of sufficient "cellulosic" elements in the diet — because it is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements! They work by helping the friendly colonic flora fluff up and prepare the colonic wastes for easy, natural elimination. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative. Doesn't "sweep you out"! It's a gentle-acting, "regulating" food.

If you have constipation of this type, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN or several ALL-BRAN muffins regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if you, too, don't cheer its welcome relief! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. Adv.

Psychiatrists Say Even Dogs Become Bored, End It All

BY FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (AP) — Suicides occur among dogs and sometimes, in the case of papmered pets, the reason for ending it all is—sheer boredom.

This was related today by Dr. Ben Karpman and Dr. Joseph Perlson, psychiatrists of St. Elizabeth's hospital, who declared in the journal of criminal psychopathology:

Like Sleek Women

"Among the luxuriously kept house pets suicide will sometimes take place out of sheer sense of ennui which after all is not so different from humans, as is the case with neurasthenic (emotionally disturbed)women of the better classes . . . ."

Such women, the psychiatrists said, "never have to work, have no responsibilities, have nothing to look forward to or to look back at; nothing to do but to look pretty and in the process get fat and bored, the familiar state of ennui."

No Stopping Them

Drowning and total abstinence from food are the commonest methods by which Fido leaves this vale of tears, the doctors declared, and the dog who suddenly finds himself facing life in an alley instead of from in front of the fireplace, reacts like some humans.

Like some humans contemplating suicide, dogs may be observed intently gazing on the water of a river or pond for hours, days and weeks before taking the fatal plunge, the psychiatrists said.

"But there is less, if any, buffoonery or gesturing with the dog," they said. "For once the dog has made up his mind, it becomes blind and deaf to all offers of salvation."

Chances Rated Good For UNRRA Fund

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (AP) — Prospects for early enactment of the $1,350,000,000 UNRRA (United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation) fund authorization were rated good by administration leaders today after the bill's overwhelming approval by the House, 338 to 54.

The legislation is scheduled to go before the Senate foreign relations committee for hearings early next week and Democratic leaders said it might reach the floor within 10 days.

Construction Starts On San Juan Bridge

REYNOSA, Tamaulipas, Mexico, Jan. 27 (AP) — Construction of a concrete bridge across the San Juan river 75 miles southwest of here on the paved highway from Reynosa to Monterrey has been started, closing the last gap in the pike which intersects the Pan-American highway at the northern Mexican industrial capital.

Engineers estimate it will take two or more years to complete the structure, due to the turbulence of the stream it crosses.

Governors To Attend Organization Meeting

DALLAS, Jan. 27 (AP) — Governors of five southwestern states are expected here Feb. 26 for the organization of the Gulf-Southwest Empire Builders, Inc.

C. Joseph Snyder, an executive of the Lone Star Steel company, said acceptances had been received from Gov. Coke Stevenson, Texas; Robert Kerr, Oklahoma; Homer M. Adkins, Arkansas; John J. Dempsey, New Mexico, and Sam Houston Jones, Louisiana.

Industrial, business and civic leaders from the five states also are expected here for the launching of the organization, which sponsors say will be a non-profit, non-political group to promote the interest and general welfare of the people of this region.

Primarily because of lend-lease, U. S. exports for the first nine months of 1943 amounted to $9,197,000,000, compared with $5,575,000,000 for the corresponding period of 1942.

OWI Move To Unify Bigwigs' Statements Produces Problem

BY JAMES MARLOW AND GEORGE ZIELKE
Associated Press Staff Writers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 — The Office of War information (OWI) finally has taken steps—one official said they needed taking long ago—to stop home front confusion by unifying government bigwigs' statements.

But even this proposed unification produces a problem, no matter how good its intentions.

Previous divergent opinions and predictions by military and civilian officials at least gave Americans an idea of what they were thinking even if confusion was the net result.

Coordination Formula Set

The OWI now announces a formula by which the Army, Navy and various war agencies are to coordinate their news and the statements by their brass hats so that the ideas hang together and add up to the same answers. But—

If the news and statements are held up until they form a pattern—perhaps a pattern pre-determined by some government officials who thinks he knows what Americans should be told—free expression may be retarded if not censored.

The net result could be government propaganda. This will not happen, it was explained at OWI when the question was asked.

This apparently is the OWI intention:

To have all news and statements carefully thought out so that the true condition of the nation and the war will be presented, all the news and statements pointing in the same direction, instead of conflicting.

May Work In U. S.

This may work out all right in the United States where officials can submit their prepared statements to OWI scrutiny so they will jibe with utterances by other officials.

Some of the most sensational statements, however, have been made by American officials abroad in press conferences where they said what they wanted to say at the moment.

It is likely that will continue. OWI can't be expected to exert control everywhere. Therefore, in spite of OWI's expressed good intention don't be surprised at more of that which has happened in the past.

Texas Traffic Deaths Total 1,172 In 1943

AUSTIN, Jan. 27. (AP) — Revised statistics reflect 1,172 Texas street and highway fatalities last year compared with 1,316 in 1942, the public safety department announced today.

December's fatalities totaled 134 compared with 118 in the same month in 1942.

Officer Has Last Word In Exchange Of Confidences

TEMPLE, Jan. 27 (AP) — In a page-one story headed "put not your trust in words," the Camp Hood Panther tells this incident:

"A GI on furlough, wired his commanding officer: "Whosoever findeth a wife findeth a good thing. Proverbs 18:22. Therefore request five days extension. My confidence in you tells me you'll agree."

The commanding officer replied:

"Parting is such sweet sorrow, Romeo and Juliet, act II, scene 2. Extension denied. My confidence in you assures me you'll be back on time."

MAYHEM PLUS

HACKENSACK, N. J., Jan. 27. (U.P.) — Louis Gervasi, 32, Lyndhurst, N. J., was under $1,000 bail today awaiting sentence for mayhem. A jury convicted Gervasi of biting off the end of John Grande's nose and throwing it on the floor during an argument in a saloon.

Northern Panhandle Putting Snow Plows Away After 6 Weeks

GUYMON, Okla., Jan. 27 (U.P.)— This has been the winter of the big snows in the Panhandle country, and residents of what was once labeled the dust bowl are putting away their sleds this week after six weeks of iced landscapes.

State highway department maintenance engineers, struggling to keep mountainous drifts off principal roads since Dec. 4, have put their snow plows back in the garage. Farm families who built home-made sleds to pull behind their farm tractors have started using automobiles for trips to town once more.

B. E. Clark, chief engineer for the highway department, termed the road clearance problem during the past six weeks "the worst I've seen in 15 years." Many of the drifts had to be chopped away by hand, after brief thaws put heavy ice crusts atop them, he said.

Three to five feet of snow have fallen in Cimarron, Texas and Beaver counties. Strong winds whipped up drifts 20 feet deep. A heavy layer of mud has been tracked into Guymon's downtown streets, presenting a major problem to the city's maintenance department.

Meat To Cost More Points

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (U.P.) Anticipating a 200,000,000-pound reduction in retail meat supplies next month, the Office of Price administration today ordered increases of one to two ration points for most cuts of beef, lamb and veal in February.

The OPA also made February increases, effective Sunday through March 4, for cheeses, lard, and dried beef. Butter was unchanged at 16 points. Most pork will be unchanged, but pork loin cuts and Canadian bacon were increased.

Price Administrator Chester Bowles said the point revisions will mean that the average housewife will be able to buy half a pound less meat with the 11.2 points she normally spends each week on meat than she got for her points in January when the meat ration was the highest since rationing started. In February, he said, she will get 3 pounds of meat for the same number of points that got her 2.2 pounds in January.

Some Pork Item Up

Despite the heavy pork slaughter of recent weeks, OPA said lard, pork loin cuts, and Canadian bacon will go up one point in February. Most pork items, including ham and bacon, will "remain at present low values," OPA said.

The only reductions were in the canned fish and canned meat categories. Canned fish, with the exception of oysters which remain unchanged, was reduced four points, and luncheon meat, beef tongue, pork sausage, Vienna sausage and meat loaf were cut one to two points.

Bowles promised that although most meat values are being raised, "there will be more than enough ration points (in circulation) to move quickly from the packer to the housewife's kitchen all the meat that is available."

Beef Steak Raised Two

The table of February values showed:

1. Beef steak up two points a pound, most other cuts up one point.

2. Veal, lamb and mutton up one to two points with veal shoulder chops, round steak and shoulder-boneless roast up three.

3. Cheddar and cream cheese up two points and swiss, munster and other similar cheeses up four points.

The one-point rise in pork loin roasts, center and end chops, and tenderloin was explained by the fact that, according to OPA, the choicest pork cuts "are becoming relatively scarce in some parts of the country."

Lard Purchases High

The one-point lard increase was attributed to the fact that lard purchases have been running "consistently in excess" of the 151,600,000 pounds allocated for rationing in January by the war food administration.

"While the total supply of lard is substantial—reflecting the record-breaking hog slaughter of recent weeks — large amounts are needed for war purposes and as a substitute for the relatively scarce vegetable oils," OPA said.

Cheese point increases, OPA said, reflect excessive consumer demand.

"Partly because of the high point value of butter," officials said, "many people have been using cheeses — particularly cream cheese — as a substitute for butter."

WATCH OUT, SOLDIER—Art is all right in its place, but in this case it's being used as a booby trap. No New Whisky To Be Distilled This Year

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (AP) — No new whisky can be distilled this year, the War Production board said today, making previous reports to that effect final and official.

Donald M. Nelson, WPB chairman, said increased demand by synthetic rubber plants for industrial alcohol is one important factor in the WPB decision against 1944 production of beverage spirits.

Central Bosnia Being Freed By Partisans

LONDON, Jan. 27. (AP) — Yugoslav partisans, skilled in the art of mountain warfare, have liberated 70 per cent of central Bosnia from the German invaders, headquarters of Marshal Josip Broz (Tito) announced today.

Reporting one of the major Yugoslav successes of the winter campaign, the Yugoslav war bulletin, broadcast by the free Yugoslav radio, said that the last remnants of German forces have been cleared from the central Bosnian area with the occupation of the town of Prnjavor, 25 airline miles northeast of Banja Luka.

Southwest of Mrkonjicgrad, Vrbas river stronghold recaptured from the Nazis yesterday, the partisans have advanced about 30 miles to the southwest.

The Berlin radio claimed the capture of the island of Hvar off the northern Dalmatian coast and said that 19 days of recent fighting had cost the partisans more than 21,000 casualties against undisclosed Nazi losses.

CC Directors To Be Installed In Slaton

Advance On Flour Subsidy Announced

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (AP) — Reflecting the continuing rise in the market price of wheat, the Defense Supplies corporation today announced a second consecutive advance in flour subsidy payments, ranging from one and one-half cents to six cents a bushel.

The subsidy is designed to enable millers to pay the market price for wheat and continue to sell flour at ceiling prices which are below the present wheat equivalent.

The new payments, for the month of February, will be, for wheat ground outside the Pacific coast area:

Hard wheat—22½ cents a bushel, up 1½ cents over January.

Soft wheat—12 cents, up 2½ cents.

Durum wheat—16 cents, up 4½ cents.

Weather Here To Be Colder

Lower temperatures were forecast for this afternoon and tonight with temperature dropping to the upper twenties in Lubbock and the South Plains, while lowest temperatures of 20 to 25 were predicted for the Panhandle.

A brisk shower Wednesday afternoon was a forerunner to the weatherman's predictions of another siege of winter weather for the South Plains.

Yesterday's downpour, which began around 4 o'clock and contained for approximately 45 minutes, was measured at .37 of an inch at the experiment station east of Lubbock. Less rain was believed to have fallen in the city.

Rural Roads Muddy

Many rural roads of the Lubbock vicinity were reported almost impassable for heavy vehicles. Three schools, Abernathy, Roosevelt and Southland authorized radio announcements that their respective school buses were not running today.

Small hail stones mixed briefly with the rain, blustery winds prevailed and there was a mild electrical storm, cutting off downtown power for a few minutes.

Slaton Streets Covered

Streets in the Slaton business section held four of five inches of water during part of the hard rain. Beds in some fields of ploughed land between Lubbock and Slaton were reported "almost leveled" by the downpour.

Rain was heavy and unbroken between Lubbock and Amarillo, Santa Fe dispatchers said.

Considerable hail accompanied a 40-minute rain in the Spur area, where the ground was said to be covered with hail stones. Moisture was estimated at half an inch in Spur. Reports from Muleshoe said a heavy rain fell there. A hard shower fell in Littlefield but was spotted in adjacent areas. Only a light sprinkle was reported at Levelland and showers fell intermittently throughout the day in Brownfield.

Fighter planes kept up the strafing attacks on enemy soldiers trapped between American and Australian troops southeast of Japanese-held Madang, eventual goal of the present Allied offensive in northern New Guinea.

Both bombers and fighters pounded Japanese positions in the New Guinea coastal sector hinged at Madang and Wewak farther north.

Progress On Three Fronts

Allied troops made progress in three fronts of fighting in Burma in separate drives directed at the Japanese port of Akyab on the Mayu peninsula; at Chindwin river communications in the Chin hills sector, and at clearing the Hukawng valley in the northern jungles.

Chinese soldiers are battling the Japanese in the Hukawng valley in the Allied effort to extend the Ledo road to the old Burma road into China. In a frontline dispatch dated Jan. 22, Associated Press War Correspondent Thoburn Wiant said the fall of enemy strongpoint of Taiphaga was imminent.

The British war office disclosed the sinking last Nov. 29 of a Japanese transport carrying British prisoners of war from Java. Circumstances of the sinking were not given by the Japanese in forwarding a list of victims.

Almost the only people seen on the streets are women — mostly middle or old aged—children and old men. There were virtually no women 14 to 40 to be seen. Officials said 10,000 to 12,000 Smolensk factory workers had been carted off to the west with their machines before the Germans evacuated.

Shoes Worn And Battered

For the first time in Russia I saw civilians wearing worn and battered shoes. R. Y. Melnikov, president of the regional Soviet, said the populace now gets food on the following basis: industrial workers, 500 grams of bread per day; office and clerical workers, 400 grams per day; others, 300.

Industrial plants are being rehabilitated. The busiest place in Smolensk outside the market place was the railroad yards. The initial restoration was of communications and transportation.

Coming into Smolensk on the special train which carried correspondents to the Katyn hearings, we saw testimony to Russian efficiency in repairing war damage. For the distance from 35 miles outside Moscow, hardly a culvert or bridge had not been blown up. Each had been repaired by the Russians with stout wooden trestles. Every few miles along the roadbed lay the mangled remains of blasted locomotives and the steel frames of burned freight cars.

Construction Goes On

From the windows we saw construction gangs laying sidings, reenforcing bridges and bolstering the roadbed for double tracking.

I saw train after train of Russian soldiers moving up to the front. Occasionally there was a motorized unit with its tanks on flat cars. All along the route were burned villages. There were many fresh-hewn log huts housing peasants and some of the populace was sheltered in half-hidden military dugouts.

The troops in boxcars appeared dressed warmly and often were clustered around galvanized iron stoves chewing chunks of bread.

Graveside Rites Set Here For Rev. Tucker

Brief graveside services are scheduled in Memorial park cemetery this afternoon for Rev. Willard A. Tucker, 28, who died in San Angelo Monday afternoon. Rix Funeral home will have charge.

Funeral services were held in San Angelo Wednesday. Mr. Tucker had been pastor of the Foursquare Gospel church in San Angelo about 18 months. His wife is the former Miss Wilma Martin of Lubbock.

Stimson Sees Heavy Battle

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27—The German command in Italy apparently is concentrating forces for a new counterattack against the Allied beachhead in the Nettuno area and a heavy battle appears in prospect, Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson said today.

"I am gratified to report the situation is highly satisfactory thus far," Stimson told his press conference. "Our troops have not encountered any resolute German resistance, but it is reasonable to expect it will come."

Stimson said that "signs point to a heavy battle just south of Rome in which the enemy will attempt to push our troops into the sea and establish contact between their forces in the vicinity of Rome and those to the south."

Not Battle For Rome

Stimson said this would not constitute a battle for possession of Rome itself although it might be preliminary to a battle for possession of Rome.

Stimson said it was not clear where the Germans would obtain the forces to attack the Allied beachhead. Some might come from garrisons in the Rome area and others from the southern front.

The Germans may be forced to abandon their positions in the south, but it is too soon to forecast a disastrous German defeat, he said.

The landing on the beachhead was extremely successful, Stimson noted. Complete tactical surprise was achieved. There was no opposition at the beachheads, the critical point of an amphibious operation.

"Feint" Aided Surprise

A feint towards Civitavecchia which is on the coast above Rome included a naval and aerial bombardment, and may have assisted in achieving the tactical surprise, Stimson said. Vigorous attacks launched by the Fifth army along the Cassino front also provided a diversion. The Germans rushed reinforcements to this line, Stimson said, for two or three reserve divisions previously in the vicinity of Rome were identified in the Cassino battleline. Their switch to the Cassino line may have accounted for the lack of resistance in the Nettuno area.

The landing on the beachhead was accomplished by substantial numbers of troops mostly veterans of other Mediterranean campaigns supported by Allied warships and aircraft.

Argentine Break

diplomatic relations between the Argentine government and the Axis," Von Ribbentrop was quoted in a dispatch broadcast by the Berlin radio.

"She did not shrink from any means, any blackmail to achieve her purpose. The Ramirez government has now yielded to pressure and surrendered the sovereignty of the country to United States 'benevolence.'

Espionage Charge Denied

"The motivation given in Buenos Aires for the break—the alleged participation of members of the German embassy in an espionage affair—is completely untrue. It is merely further proof that the Argentine government is not master of her own decisions any longer.

"Germany practically loses nothing, neither in regard to prosecution of the war nor in postwar interests. The real loser in this diplomatic act is England. England, in the course of the war has been compelled to sacrifice the major part of her Central and South American interests to the United States ally. She finally is going to lose her position in Argentina."

SPECIALTIES ENJOY RECOVERY

NEW YORK, Jan. 27 (AP)—Specialties, notably liquors, enjoyed a mild recovery bender in today's stock market while many leaders elsewhere were unable to raise much on a comeback thirst.

Earnings, actual and prospective, in addition to another batch of relatively pleasing dividends, provided the principal props for favorites. Rails, though, had to contend with a sizable drop in December income for most roads. Handicaps persisted in tax doubts, fears of Allied squabbles over the Russian-Polish dispute and continued occupation of Wall Street with the war bond drive.

Argentine dollar bonds did well but shares that were stimulated recently by the republic's divorce from the Axis held to a narrow groove.

Park and Tilford and United Merchants and Manufacturers touched new peaks for 1943-44. In front most of the time were Schenley, American Distilling "Plain," Electric Power and Light preferreds and J. C. Penney. Steels were about unchanged. Inclined to slip were Chrysler, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Western Union "A," Montgomery Ward and Du Pont.

Briggs' Arraignment May Be Held Monday

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (U.P.) — George N. Briggs, suspended aide to Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes, and alleged forger of the "Harry Hopkins" letter, will probably be arraigned in district court on Monday, Henry A. Schweinhaut, special assistant to Attorney General Francis Biddle said today.

Schweinhaut, who handled the Justice department's presentation of testimony and evidence in the grand jury investigation completed Tuesday, said that he was trying to arrange the Monday arraignment because Briggs' local counsel, Richard W. Galiher was engaged in another case.

Arraignments are usually held in district court here on Friday. No date has been set for the trial, Schweinhaut said, but he added, "we wish to get it underway as soon as possible."

Necessity Gas To Be Given After Feb. 1

DALLAS, Jan. 27 (AP)—The Office of Price administration here said today that beginning Feb. 1 personal necessity gas rations would be issued in cases of undue hardship.

Harold F. Carmichael, Dallas district rationing executive, said the provision did not apply to gas needed for occupational purposes and in no instance would such gas be given for business trips.

Local boards will be the sole judge of hardship cases, and will have authority to post a list on the board premises accessible to the public at the end of each month showing the name of each person to whom a hardship ration was issued, purpose for which it was issued, and the number of gallons issued, said Carmichael.

railway, one of the two remaining railways radiating southward from Leningrad that remain available for German use.

The Pravda dispatch said three German regiments were defeated in a clash on the Luga.

Freakish Warm Weather

A sudden, freakish, warm thaw has turned the Russian-German front below Leningrad into quagmires, muddy roads, unlocked swamps and flooded rivers, front dispatches reported today, but the Red armies under Gens. Leonid A. Govorov and K. A. Meretskov kept up their great northern offensive.

In weather, the like of which seldom has been seen in the Leningrad area, Russian troops strove mightily to clear the last remaining 35 miles of the Leningrad-Moscow trunk railway still in German hands and make possible the resumption of direct rail traffic between Russia's two largest cities.

The big junction towns of Tosno, Luban and Chudovo are in hourly peril from the advancing Soviet forces, dispatches said, and it was difficult to see how all of them will be able to remain in German hands for another 24 hours.

Polio Case Of 11-Day Old Baby Reported

CHICAGO, Jan. 27. (U.P.)—The Journal of the American Medical association today reported the discovery of infantile paralysis in a baby 11 days after birth, raising the possibility that the child might have been infected by its mother.

Previously, medical science had regarded pre-natal infection as an impossibility, the Journal said.

The medical magazine said, however, it also was possible that the baby may have contracted the disease during the birth process or during a 10-minute contact with the mother, when she apparently was in the early stages of infantile paralysis.

According to the article, the child was born at Wichita, Kans., Oct. 23, 1943, of a mother apparently in good health. The first day after delivery, however, poliomyelitis was discovered in the mother, and three days later she died.

1,400,000 Men Needed

In order to meet the goal of the armed forces for 11,300,000 men by July 1, more than 1,400,000 men (including replacements) will be needed, Winston said. He explained that these men now must be drawn from fathers reclassified, from the youths who become 18, and from industry.

Selective service recently announced that men under 22 will not be deferred in war production or in war supporting activities, other than agriculture, except in unusual cases. Winston said there are less than 125,000 non-fathers in that age group who are deferred, as compared to nearly 400,000 non-fathers under 22 who are deferred in agriculture.

Word Of Warning To Allied Hospital Ships

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (AP) — Japan "is ready to take adequate measures in retaliation" against the "Anglo-American sinking of Japanese hospital ships," the Berlin radio said today, quoting Mamoru Shigemitsu, Japanese foreign minister.

The German radio, as headed by NBC, said Shigemitsu told the diet that "Japan has protested many times against the Anglo-American sinking of Japanese hospital ships and so far no satisfactory answer has been given. Therefore Japan is now ready to take adequate measures in retaliation."

Allies Bag 463 Jap Planes Since Jan. 1

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP) — Allied fliers in the South and Southwest Pacific have bagged 463 Japanese planes and probably destroyed 109 others since the first of this year, Secretary of War Stimson reported today.

In one two-day period this week, Stimson said, Allied fliers got 118 enemy planes in operations against Japanese bases at Rabaul, Wewak and elsewhere.

Allied airmen have "wrought havoc" among Japanese installations and shipping, he added.

Doubling Of Legion Welfare Fund Urged

HOUSTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—The American legion's southern area child welfare conference today adopted a resolution urging that the organization's $5,000,000 endowment fund for rehabilitation and child welfare work be doubled to meet the needs of World war II veterans.

Other resolutions recommended that full-time, paid legion representatives be employed to meet and assist veterans at discharge points and that the legion adopt a program of foster homes in preference to legion orphanages for dependent children of veterans.

Delegates from 12 states and the Panama Canal zone selected Oklahoma City for the 1945 convention site and elected Harry G. Miller of Eldorado, Ark., to succeed Dr. E. LeRoy Wilkins of Clarksdale, Miss., as area chairman of the legion's child welfare division.

Tax Assessor Talks At Kiwanis Luncheon

Some of the complicated structure of tax assessment and collection—a dehydrated subject, at best—was explained at a weekly Kiwanis club luncheon today at Lubbock hotel by H. B. Bryan, county tax assessor-collector. And without a single figure being required!

New members formally introduced were James H. Plemons of 3010 Twentieth street, a business man of Smyer, and Troy L. Sandlin, manager of Swift & Co. here. Former Kiwanians Clay E. Thompson, formerly of Amarillo, and T. Z. Walker, formerly of Plainview, also were accepted as members.

"Dynamite" Alexander of the Dallas Kiwanis club, who has maintained a perfect attendance record 20 years, directed club singing; Dr. C. E. Hereford read an invocation; Marion Sanford, Kiwanis committeeman to the Crippled Children's council, asked financial support of Monday night's two dances for crippled children, at Lubbock and Hilton hotels; T. E. Buckner, Kiwanis president, asked that all members of the club "type" themselves as possible blood donors, Feb 8 or 15 at West Texas hospital or Feb. 10 or 17 at St. Mary's clinic, and answer "day or night" when blood donations may be asked thereafter.

Other out-of-Lubbock guests were Marvin Arnold of Dallas, Floy Hanson of Graham and Lt. D. J. Hodge of Westover field, Utah.

Soldier Vote Plan

tried today to hurry a vote on their second attempt to pass a uniform federal absentee balloting plan for the armed forces.

At least 15 members probably will leave the capitol after today's session—some of them to attend the Indiana funeral of Senator Van Nuys (D-Ind) and others as official visitors to the New York launching of the battleship Missouri. With that number gone failure to get a vote today probably would delay final action until next week.

Buoyed By Message

Buoyed by a blunt-worded presidential message and by the support of some of the southern Democrats who helped beat the first federal ballot plan, administration backers were confident they have the votes to put over the new Green-Lucas bill, despite the heat engendered when Senator Taft (R-Ohio) described it as a "fourth term announcement."

Taft, retorting to President Roosevelt's assertion that a previously approved state ballot plan was "a fraud," declared the administration was seeking to line up the soldier vote "in much the same manner we used to see WPA workers lined up."

Several southern senators got together behind an amendment which would require those using the federal absentee ballot to meet all voting qualifications of their home states. That would restore local registration and poll tax payments as prerequisites to voting.

News Briefs

Joe Mason, storekeeper, second class, in the Navy Seabees, who was formerly an insurance claim adjuster here, is visiting Mrs. Mason and daughter, 2304 Avenue V, on a brief leave from his duties at Camp Peary, Va. He is to return to Virginia about Feb. 6.

Frank Lanotte, former Lubbock man, who is ODT representative at El Paso, was a visitor in Lubbock today.

Police held a negro man this afternoon after he, found in Mark Halsey No. 4 drugstore, at Broadway and Avenue H, in possession of odds and ends, "developed a lapse of memory as to where he had bought the stuff." He had everything from screwdrivers to inhalators, chewing gum to candies, officials said. He said he was 23, appeared to be 10 years older.

Mrs. L. G. Crabtree, formerly of Lubbock and now head of the speech department of Phillips university, Enid, Okla., has been notified by the War Department that her husband, 2nd Lt. Lloyd G Crabtree, has been missing in action over Germany since Jan. 11. Lt. Crabtree, a former resident of Daisetta, was bombardier on a Flying Fortress. Mrs. Crabtree will be remembered as the former Miss Margaret Cooper, daughter of Mrs. G. T. Cooper, 1617 Ninth street. She was a member of the faculty of Texas Technological college during the 1942-43 term.

Federal Work Plan For Veterans Opened

(By The Associated Press)

War veterans, some of them wounded and leaning on canes, made their way into offices in seven cities across the nation today to take advantage of the federal government's new expanded program to find them work.

Some were in uniform, others back in civilian garb. Many were accompanied by their wives or sweethearts.

The number of applicants ran into scores in some cities as the program got underway yesterday. A large number obtained jobs before the day ended.

The demonstration officers, as they described by Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt, are located in Denver, Colo; New Haven, Conn.; St. Louis, Mo.; Houston, Tex.; Los Angeles, Calif.; Minneapolis, Minn., and Philadelphia, Pa.

Directors of the offices said the new program represented considerable expansion over services hitherto provided.

Nineteen Persons Hurt In Railway Collision

BEEVILLE, Jan. 27. (AP)—Nineteen persons, twelve of whom were Army and Navy personnel, were treated at a hospital here following the collision of a southbound Southern Pacific freight train with a passenger car of the Houston bound Southern Pacific early today.

All but two were released from the hospital following emergency treatment. Most seriously injured were Mrs. Maria Dominguez, Mathis, who suffered a fractured leg, and Mrs. W. A. Reisner, of Alice, who received cuts and abrasions. They were also expected to be released from the hospital during the day.

Cause of the accident in which the engine of the freight train ploughed into the side of the passenger car had not been determined. The car was derailed and badly damaged.

Sweetwater Workers To Return To Jobs

SWEETWATER, Jan. 27 (AP)—T. H. Cassner, manager of the U. S. Gypsum company's plant here, said that 240 workers who left their jobs Tuesday had agreed to return to work today.

Cassner termed it a walkout, said it was not authorized by the union and declined to say what issues were involved. Union leaders also were silent about the affair.

Big Revenue Demands Seen

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (AP) — Tax simplification may be the peg on which the Treasury will hang another whopping demand for added revenues next spring.

Department officials pointed significantly today to President Roosevelt's recent budget message in which the chief executive urged upon Congress the "need for additional revenue beyond that provided in the bill now pending."

Demand Slightly Less

Although Capitol Hill at first expected any new recommendations to be confined to administrative matters—primarily simplification—in all probability they will demand only slightly less encompassing than last October's $10,500,000,000 which, under Senate and House trimming, now has shrunk to $2,275,000,000. This bill now is in a Senate-House conference committee and, according to Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate finance committee, may reach the White House next Monday or Tuesday.

One of the bases for the expected Treasury requests is its dispute with both Senate and House estimates of the potential yield of the pending bill. It takes the view that by halting the scheduled automatic doubling of the social security rates—a step that would have yielded $1,400,000,000 more cash—Congress cut the bill's net yield to little more than $800,000,000.

The department probably will contend that high taxes need not by synonymous with complicated forms, offering specific suggestions for reducing the taxpayers' paper work and, at the same time, suggestions for stopping up rates.

Jury For Bailey Case Is Completed Today

A jury in the case of State of Texas against W. L. Bailey, charged with assault with intent to murder, was completed early this afternoon and, a 2 o'clock, state's first witness, Dr. J. T. Krueger, had completed giving evidence.

Bailey is charged by indictment with having knifed C. N. Hoffman of O'Donnell Nov. 11, 1942, in Lubbock.

Only 26 of a jury panel of 32 men reported this morning to Judge J. E. Vickers of 99th district court, and the defense demanded that the panel be completed. Ten talesmen were ordered by Judge Vickers, but only 25 men of the regular panel were required for completion of the jury.

The jury is composed of: W. B. Gaddy, N. L. Goolsby, Clinton M. Price, R. A. Meeks, M. W. Hill, B. E. Gregory, Guy Holt, J. H. Williamson, N. R. Boyce, Raymond Hitt, Joe Burns and W. A. Sides.

Service Voting Has Two Main Factors

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 — The two main questions on the tortured soldier vote debate have been broken into the open: Whether negro soldiers should be permitted to ballot and whether President Roosevelt would have an advantage over any opponent in the 1944 elections.

More than a year of argument has come down to this:

Senator Overton (DLa) said "let's be frank. Down in the Solid South we've got to retain our state voting qualifications to preserve white supremacy."

And Senator Taft (R-O) expressed fear that the servicemen would know the name of Roosevelt better than any other in a national election and therefore would be apt to write in the word "Democrat" no matter who ran for Congress.

Remember Only FDR

(It is likely that servicemen from 18 to perhaps 25 years of age can remember clearly no other president except Mr. Roosevelt since he has been in office 12 years, the greater part of their mature lives.)

Two ideas are implicit in what Taft said: Mr. Roosevelt will be fourth term candidate and the soldier vote—if it goes for Mr. Roosevelt—will sweep Republicans out of Congress, providing servicemen vote a straight Democratic ticket.

Congress in 1942 passed a bill giving servicemen the right to vote if they first asked their secretaries of state for a ballot. This meant they had to write in for ballots which they filled out and returned.

28,000 Voted In 1942

In 1942 only about 28,000 voted by this system.

But under that law no serviceman, white or negro, was required to pay a poll tax or register no matter what his state requirements were. This became a vital issue as the important 1944 elections drew nearer.

Having seen how few soldiers voted under their 1942 law, Senators Green (D-RI) and Lucas (D-Ill) last fall offered an amendment which would eliminate requests for ballots altogether.

Instead, a special ballot commission would have sent out ballots for voting on president, vice president and congressmen only. This did not provide for voting on state or county officers. The ballots would be distributed through the Army and Navy which would have returned them to the commission for tabulation.

States' Rights Said Violated

Then there arose screams that states' rights were being violated, particularly among southern congressmen.

(In spite of any constitutional guarantees of right to vote, only a handful of negroes ever get to vote in the South because of various restrictions and tests.)

But if the 1942 and 1943 Green-Lucas measures meant anything at all they meant that negroes, from states where they never could have voted in peacetime, could vote now and that soldiers from states which required a poll tax could also vote free of charge.

There was a deep-lying implication in all this: Would negro troops who were allowed to vote in wartime be content to resume their old non-voting position once they returned to the South in peacetime?)

Senate Hurdled Difficulties

So the Senate hurdled all these difficulties by passing—not the Green-Lucas amendment—but an amendment to the 1942 law offered by a Mississippi Democrat, Senator Eastland:

There would be no ballot commission. Each state simply was advised by the Congress to do what it could to help its soldiers vote. This seemed simple, but it wasn't.

There are all kinds of individual state requirements on voting: Some demand poll taxes, some require preliminary registration; and some do not print their ballots until 10 days before election.

How could a state, printing its ballots only ten days before election, get them to some distant war zone? They couldn't.

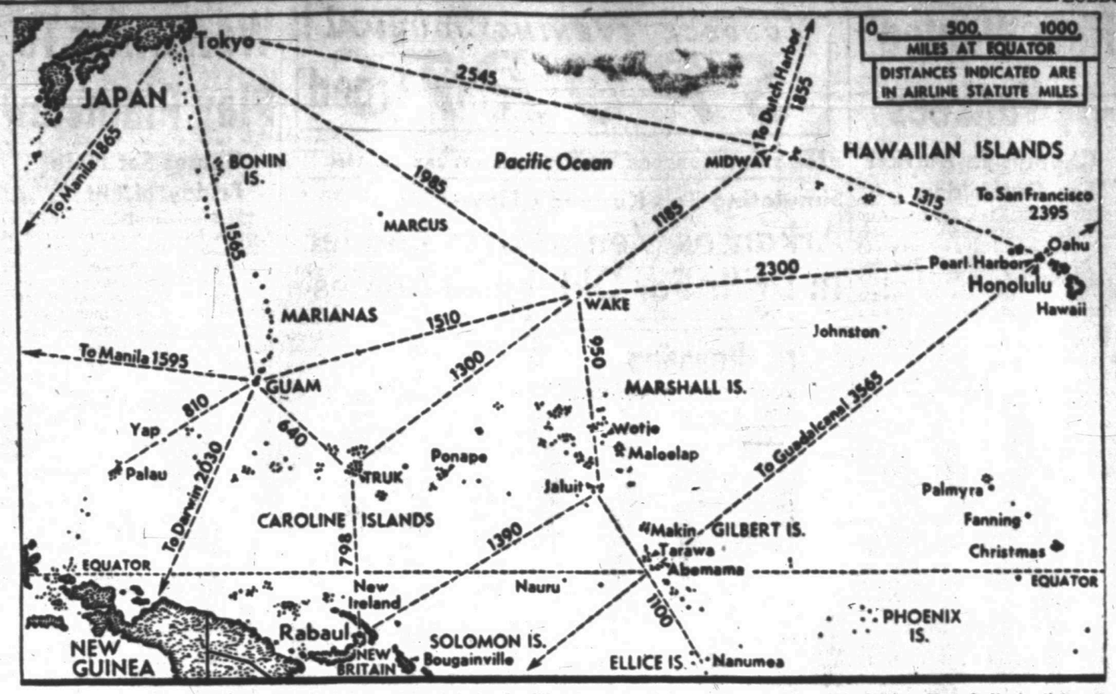

Now Green and Lucas have come forth with another proposal, the one endorsed yesterday by the President, which would work this way:

A federal ballot commission would be created; the various secretaries of state would provide the commission with the names of the presidential, vice presidential, and congressional candidates in each state.

The commission would give this information to the Army and Navy. They would distribute the candidates' names and the ballots to the armed forces everywhere.

The servicemen could vote for candidates by name or party, and the ballots would be returned to the ballot commission which in turn would send them back to the various secretaries of state.

Then they could be counted or rejected, depending on the individual states' voting requirements.

More Civilian Goods Are Assured Soon

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (AP) — Government sources reported today that more motor vehicles and low-price dresses will be made available for civilians soon, and gave assurance there will be no potato shortage this spring.

1. The Army will release soon approximately 20,000 motor vehicles, most of which will reach the civilian market.

2. The Agriculture department reported that potato stocks in the hands of growers and local buyers on Jan. 1 aggregated 138,000,000 bushels, about 38 percent more than stocks on that date last year.

3. The Office of Price administration relaxed regulations forbidding manufacturers of women's and misses outer garments to make goods in higher-priced lines than they made during a 1942 base period. Officials said the regulations had had the effect of virtually eliminating the lowest-price lines.

Red Cross Officers To Be Named Tonight

Lubbock County chapter of the American Red Cross at 7:30 o'clock tonight will elect officers for the coming year, in Chimayo room of Hilton hotel.

W. C. O'Mara is retiring chairman.

The officers to be elected are chapter chairman, vice chairman, treasurer, secretary and four places on the board of directors.

O'Mara said that every person holding a dollar membership in the Red Cross is eligible to vote and is invited to attend the meeting.

Fewer Texans "Charge It", Survey Reveals

AUSTIN, Jan. 27 (AP) — Texas department stores received prompter payment for fewer charged items during December, the bureau of business reported today.

In December 1942, 48.7 per cent of net sales were made on credit as compared to only 42.4 per cent in December, 1943, the University of Texas research bureau found.

Accidental Green Mold Patch In Bacteria Cultures Led To Discovery Of Penicillin

AUSTIN, Jan. 27 (AP) — Dr. Charles Thom, a scientist who contributed to the early development of penicillin—the new medicine used to combat bacterial infections—told a University of Texas seminar today the story of its discovery.

Dr. Thom is consultant for several firms dealing in the new mold-spawned substance. He was formerly principal mycologist for the bureau of plant husbandry of the U. S. department of agriculture. He is credited with being the first to identify the mold used for production of penicillin.

Penicillin was first discovered by Fleming at London, while Florey at Oxford recognized the substance as a potent bacteriostatic agent which can be produced and distributed for human welfare, Dr. Thom told the seminar.

Discovery Accidental

An accidental patch of green mold occurring in some cultures of bacteria prevented the growth of the bacteria—and penicillin was born.

"Moreover, this mold was found to prevent the growth of many different bacteria such as streptococci, staphylococci, gonococci, and others," he said.

Chemists worked for ten years attempting to concentrate and purify the active principle called penicillin, he explained, but the smallness of the yield and the expense of recovery discouraged industrial development.

Needed For War Casualties

Need for the agent in treatment of war casualties, however, has spurred the progress of the search for means of producing commercial quantities, until now supplies are reaching the armed forces.

It requires about ten days for the mold to grow and produce the penicillin.

"What quantities can be produced by next year," he concluded, "can only be guessed, but we believe that production can be increased and eventually be adequate."

Try Hot Water for Acute Distress—Pain After Eating
Perhaps the greatest cause of distressing stomach upsets is excess stomach acidity. If the thousands of unfortunate people, who suffer from so-called dyspepsia, acid indigestion, food fermentation, sour stomach, flatulence, gas or other stomach distress brought on by excess acid would drink slowly after each meal a glass of real hot water containing one spoonful of NEUTRACID they might in a very short time find themselves able to eat good nourishing meals without the distressing symptoms of acid indigestion. NEUTRACID is not a laxative — it is soothing and comforting to the mucous membranes and very agreeable to take. Tech, SPAAF Play Tonight For Lead

High Scoring Duel Believed In Store

First place in the Lubbock Basketball league race will ride with the winner tonight in the battle in the Texas Tech gym between the lads of Texas Tech and the cage veterans of South Plains Army Air field. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

The game will also match two high scoring pairs from each team in a battle that may turn into a high scoring duel to test SPAAF's point a minute pace.

Towering Don Grove and Nolan Weeks of Tech will match their cage skill against the experience and technique of Long John Kline and Leason 'Stormy" McCloud of SPAAF in the first contest of the season between the two league leaders. It will be the first cage encounter of the two teams since last season, when Tech vanquished SPAAF 41 to 27 in the only game played between the two last year.

Grove leads the Red Raider scoring with 132 points while Weeks is not far behind with 116 points. The Raiders, however, have played more games than have the Winged Commandos, whose hot pair have sunk points totalling 98 for All-American McCloud and 90 for Kline.

Fireworks Expected

In any case, considerable fireworks are expected on the court since SPAAF will be gunning for revenge for last season's loss and will be trying to keep its winning streak and its league leadership intact.

SPAAF has beaten the Tech Engineers and Lubbock Army Air Field in league competition while Tech opened its league play with a 48-46 victory over LAAF. SPAAF had defeated LAAF 59-35.

Although the fight for scoring honors between the Grove-Weeks pair and the Kline-McCloud combine may be the highlight of the game, points tossed in by the rest of the lads may swing the balance either way if the game is close as is expected.

SPAAF especially has a well-rounded, experienced team, with any member of its small squad likely to get hot at any time. Proof of this lies in SPAAF's last two games. In the LAAF game, Bob Edwards was high man with 16 points and in SPAAF's 34-27 win over the Lubbock Independents last week, Spence Skogstad cut loose with 10 points for first-place honors.

SPAAF Veterans

In addition, the superlative ball-handling and basketball "know-how" the Commandos have acquired through years of college competition make the soldier squad a dangerous foe to meet and the youthful Red Raiders likely will have a tough row to hoe.

The SPAAF starting lineup probably will include line and McCloud as forwards, Kalfain and Conley as guards and Wakeland as center.

Coach Robison likely will start Weeks and Kerr at forwards, Grove at center, Bechtol and Cooper at guards.

The league standing is:

Club—	G	W	L	Pct.
SPAAF	2	2	0	1.000
Texas Tech	1	1	0	1.000
LAAF	4	2	2	.500
Tech Engineers	3	0	3	.000

Heavy Bowling Play Set For Weekend

CHICAGO, Jan. 27 (AP) — The heaviest trundling of the 1943-44 bowling season gets underway in Chicago this weekend when a galaxy of kegling stars, both men and women, begins firing in individual classic tournaments for big league money.

There are big bundles of cash for the top scorers in the events and name bowlers from every section of the country will be competing for a part of the many prizes which total more than $35,000.

Bowling's richest tourney, the 31st renewal of the Petersen classic, is the major event and some 1,000 bowlers of the record 1,280 entered will take the lanes beginning Saturday and continuing through Feb. 6. Because of the heavy entry, more than 200 bowlers rolled their eight games across 16 alleys last weekend, but the game's brightest stars will be in action beginning Saturday.

Cowhands, Cowboys Beat Cooper Fives

The Lubbock High school Cowhands and the Cowboys from Junior High opened the cage season Wednesday afternoon at the high school gym by taking a pair from the Cooper Pirates. The Cowhands won the opener over the Cooper A team, 23 to 20, while the Cowboys won from the Cooper Juniors, 20 to 14, in the nightcap.

It was the first test for the two Lubbock teams and produced some surprisingly smooth play and all handling on the part of the local lads. Gerald Davis set the scoring pace for the Cowhands, getting eight points to nose out B. Watson of Cooper who had seven. Turner of Lubbock was close on the heels of the leaders with six.

The game was close all the way and the lead changed hands many times during the course of the ball game, but Coach Martin "Shorty" Hayhurst's lads put on a last minute spurt that brought them the victory.

Coach Russell Wimberley's Whites from Junior High gave a warning to the Black team of Coach Curtis Barrett's that they would be tough to beat in a Junior High playoff series between the two squads, and looked impressive in the Cooper game.

Scoring honors for the game were divided between Gerald Davis of the Cowboys and Cornell of Cooper, both of whom found the range on the basket for four field goals to total eight points. Jack Alderson crowded both leaders for the honors, flipping in three from the floor and one from the foul line for seven points.

Olympiad Meeting In Switzerland Slated

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 27 (AP) — Avery Brundage, chairman of the American Olympic association, said today he hoped the United States would be represented at the 50th anniversary meeting of the International Olympiad association in Lusanne, Switzerland, next summer.

"The United States commands an important position in international sports, and we should maintain that position by attending meetings such as this, even in wartime," Brundage said.

"Our first problems are obtaining permission and transportation. Then we must decide whether it is advisable to make the trip," he said, adding that the U. S. committee would attempt to obtain necessary clearance for attending.

"We must keep our place and be ready for the great revival of amateur sports that will follow the war," he said.

Champs In Market For Outfielders

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (AP)—Any resemblance between the New York Yankee outfield of 1944 and the Keller-DiMaggio — Henrich picket line is going to be purely coincidental according to reports drifting in from the outlying precincts.

With Roy Weatherly reclassified 1A and probably unavailable for the centerfield job, Marse Joe McCarthy is down to Johnny Lindell, Bud Metheny, Tuck Stainback and a couple of rookies from Newark and Kansas City.

One of the rookies, big Ed Levy from Newark, is a first baseman by trade but played in the garden for the Bears last year. He has not been formally recalled by the New York club. The other is Russ Derry, a gentleman farmer from Missouri, who could give up only enough time from his crops in '43 to play 40 games with Newark.

Johnson Facing Draft

Add to that situation the report from Augusta, Ga., that Bill Johnson is due to come before his draft board in the near future, possibly Feb. 7, and you can see another change in the making.

If Johnson goes into service or decides to stay at his job with the fire department at Camp Gordon, the Yanks will lose one of the outstanding young players in the game.

Although Johnson was used at third base last year and performed capably at the hot corner through the pennant drive and the World Series, he played more regularly in the outfield during his minor league days.

Simulating Bob Kurland's Play---

Arkansas Mentor Uses Ladder In Drills For Oklahoma Aggies

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Jan. 27. (AP)—Dr. Eugene Lambert has been using a step-ladder in practice this week to show his Arkansas basketball team what it will be up against in its series with Oklahoma A. and M.

Arkansas plays the Aggies at Stillwater tonight and at Oklahoma City tomorrow night and the ladder is psychology stuff to get the Razorbacks in the habit of shooting at the basket from such an angle that Giant Bob Kurland can't bat the ball away.

Kurland is seven feet tall and, according to Aggie Coach Henry Iba, "if he straightened up he might be taller."

"I have watched giant goaltenders bat balls away from the basket in three games this season," Lambert said. "Most of the balls would have gone for baskets against normal sized boys.

Switched To Platform

"We first used the ladder in practice but switched to a platform of mats to enable the boy we were using as 'Kurland' to move around more — as Kurland would do in a game. The idea was to get our boys used to having their regular shots batted away. I encouraged them to take shots that will get over or around Kurland.

"The boy we were using to represent Kurland put his hand in about the same position near the basket as Kurland did in a picture circulated widely early in the season."

Lambert has come out for a rule that would prohibit a player from touching the ball at an opponent's basket after it had started on its downward arc. "I believe the goal tending practices of some teams are more of a menace to the game than stalling was," the Arkansas coach said.

Here's what became of the mile relay team from the Navy midshipmen's school at Columbia U. in the metropolitan A.A.U. track meet last Saturday. . . . After warming up and giving officials his team's running order, Roy Hollander, one-time North Carolina State athlete who was "captain" of the foursome, retired to the dressing room for a rest. . . . Westerners To Play Plainview

Games Set Here Friday Night

The Plainview Bulldogs will return to Lubbock Friday night at 7:30 o'clock seeking revenge for the A team, and seeking to clinch the class B southern half crown by downing the Lubbock B team for the third win in four games.

The sensational play of the B team wars this season has attracted wide interest, and will be in the spotlight Friday night. In the three game series played with Coach Finis Vaughn's Plainview B team, the Bulldogs have won two games, but the combined score of the three games is tied.

Both Plainview wins were by one point, and the Lubbock win by two points after an overtime period to break a tie at the end of the regular game.

Two other games played by the Lubbock B team (with Lamesa) each ended in one point victories for the Lubbock club to give them a season's record of three wins and two losses in five games.

The Lubbock lads, paced by T. J. Price and Roy Grimes, have looked very promising this season.

The Westerners won the playoff Tuesday night at Plainview and the game Friday will have no bearing on the south half title, but the Bulldogs will be out to reap revenge and a good battle is expected.

Norton Doesn't Like Training Grid Foes

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 27 (AP)—It won't be exactly seasonal, but spring football practice at Texas A&M college will be held in late summer or early fall.

Reason: Coach Homer Norton doesn't intend to help train boys for other schools.

There were 44 out for spring work last year and when the football campaign opened in September only nine of them were present to do their bit for the Aggies. Eight of the nine earned their letters.

Such prospects as backfielders Dave Redman and Bucky Sheffield were on opposing varsities—Redman at Southern Methodist and Sheffield at Rice. Not to mention Henry Hook, who did a good tackle job for Rice, and Bob Zelsman, who played guard for the Owls.

Of course these boys were in the Naval training program and were transferred as were others of the 35 who left Aggieland. Also the Army and other branches of the service got some.

But, be that as it may, Norton isn't taking any chances this year. He's not going to start practice until he's reasonably sure the boys he works with will be on hand when the first whistle blows next fall.

The list of 44 shows the Army took 12, the Army Specialized training program six, the Air Corps eight, the Marines one, the Navy one, the Navy Air Corps one and the Naval training program five, while one went to another university.

What Readers Of The Evening Journal Say—
The Plainsman Gets Some Mail

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Letters from readers are welcomed at all times and on all subjects. However, no letter of more than 500 words will be considered for publication, and all letters belittling, or impugning the motive of any individual, firm or corporation must include for publication, the true name of the author. The Editor shall be the sole judge of whether or not letters may be published and cannot engage in correspondence concerning them).

RAPS PROFITEERING

Dear Plainsman: I wish to write and sympathize with the patriotic soul who advertised that she would be willing to rent four rooms of her house, "share the kitchen and bath," for only $75 a month. Such generosity!

Of course, people will jump at the chance, even at that. I wonder how many of the people who are renting rooms and apartments at exhorbitant rates have sons and daughters in the service of our country.

It seems that the slogan in the towns where there are Army camps is to "soak 'em, and soak 'em good." I've seen it worked in towns all over Texas, and I know it is prevalent all over our country.

Bedroom renting for $35 to $45 a month. Apartments that consist of a bedroom, with a hot plate thrown in, for $50 to $60 a month. Second rate apartments for $50 to $100.

The landlords have all the advantages. Unfortunately, people have to live. Sometimes I wonder how the people who are taking advantage of a bad situation can sleep at night.

In eight cases out of 10, the landlords are 100 per cent churchgoers. However, I'll not accuse them of being Christians. I wonder if they ever heard of the Golden Rule, or is it, "do others before they do you?"

The servicemen's wives should parade with placards telling the true situation, from one end of Lubbock to the other, and in every village and town and city where they are being taken advantage of in such a way by so called "patriotic people."

I'd wager such a movement would start up the main street of Lubbock, or anywhere else where there is the same situation, and wind up on the White House lawn in Washington, D. C. At least it would probably attract attention to the dire need of rental control in various places.

However, you say, that would do no good. I wonder if the folks in San Diego, whose rent had dropped from $45 to $27 from $50 to $35, and numerous others with a similar decrease with the advent of the OPA, would agree with you?

If some of the good souls that are charging such high rent could have seen the face of a soldier in Davidson, Okla., who was searching for a room of any kind and whose wife was having to return to her people, because they had rented a bedroom at Fredrick for $30, and the landlady had raised the rent to $35 and on to $50, I'm sure some would have had a slight tinge of conscience. I wonder how many boys, who are expecting to go overseas any day, would give 10 years of their life to be with their wives and children, and just can't afford the high rent. It just doesn't leave much left of a GI's check for clothing kiddos, straightening their teeth and feeding them.

Still we civilians have to save for the post war era, and buy a few bonds to feel important, and to cash in later at a fat rate of interest. After all, soldiers only offer their lives. So come on folks, all together now, "let's give it to 'em, but good, and to hell with the service men!"

Mrs. J. J. Pickett,
O'Donnell.

FOUNTAIN PEN DRIVE

Dear Plainsman: The enclosed clipping, concerning a fountain pen salvage campaign, seems important.

Recently, a Tech professor received a correspondence lesson from a soldier on foreign soil in which he said, "Please excuse my paper and pencil. I have only a two-inch pencil to write with, and my table is an empty box which I hold on my knees. Frequently we have to turn out our lights at night. When it rains I have to stop because our tent leaks badly." That professor tried to buy a fountain pen to send to the boy, but there was none available.

Will you please publish an article in your paper asking citizens of Lubbock and adjoining towns to turn in old fountain pens? I'm sure our boys will enjoy using them.

Sincerely,
A Tech Prof.

(Dear Doc: Thanks for your letter. The Avalanche-Journal will be delighted to carry the publicity ball in a fountain pen drive whenever said drive, now on in some parts of the country, extends to this territory. We cannot start same now without interfering with the national campaign, but will be ready when called upon — even though fountain pens sent overseas too frequently "go on the frits"; are useless without ink which sometimes is not available, and are easily lost. Cordially yours, The Plainsman.)

NEGRO MARCHERS

Dear Plainsman: Am writing this letter for some help on a question that I would like to know the answer to. While witnessing the parade Saturday, and it was impressive too, this question came to me. Why are no colored men ever used in the parades other than as drivers of trucks, or, as someone remarked, chauffeurs?

The parade Saturday was the second I have seen since the Army camps have been in Lubbock and the same thing has happened both times. There were just a few of our men driving trucks. Is it because the men have not been taught to drill?

Our sons, brothers and fathers are being called to the service of our country every day. We are asked to buy stamps and bonds, which many of us are doing, most times at a sacrifice. Yet, do you not think we would rather do without something we really need to buy stamps and bonds had we been able to see some of our men marching by?

Can you answer this question which I heard many times Saturday afternoon. Why were not any of our men in the parade? Thanking you, I am,

A daily reader,
Mrs. S. B. Sedberry.

(Dear Reader: The reason there were no marching negro soldiers in the recent parade was that they, along with the great majority of the white soldiers on both posts, were busy at their regular jobs. Both posts continued their regular routine during the parade time, releasing only the barest number essential for the parade. Certainly, if you read the papers, you know that the colored troops have been taught to march. From time to time—as no white outfits have—they have been singled out to perform difficult marching routines at the principal football games and other events drawing large crowds. LAAF, in particular, has had two different crack marching outfits made up of negroes. For your information, and as was chronicled in The Plainsman column not over six months ago, the cadets and the negro unit at LAAF divide among them most of the special citations for efficient operation and performances of duties on that post. Very truly yours, The Plainsman.)

VOTING RIGHTS

Dear Plainsman: Since the war I have not lived in any one state a full year. I have lived in Texas 11 months and would like to know if that entitles me to vote here. I am only 21, so have never voted before.

If I am to be allowed to vote here, please tell me how to go about it since the state I came from has no poll taxes. I imagine there are several other army wives here who are in the same position, and I know they would appreciate some information also.

Thank you,
An Army wife,
Lubbock.

(Dear Army Wife: Thanks for your letter. It gave us an idea for a news story which you may have seen before this letter is printed—or which you will see right away. Doubtless there are scores — if not hundreds—of newcomers here in your very same situation and through your letter we were jogged up to informing them. Very truly yours, The Plainsman.)

Constant complaining about not getting ahead indicates there's a wishbone where the backbone ought to be.

DR. Robert Cabiness Goodwin, of the Tech faculty, is — as the boys say — "given up to be" the hottest guy in these parts in the matter of chemistry. But after a half-day inspection trip through every nook and cranny of the Goodyear synthetic rubber plant at Houston the other day, The Plainsman doubts that even a chemistry wizard like Doctor Goodwin could quickly grasp the details involved.

We don't mean to sell Doctor Goodwin and his knowledge short. We know him too well for that. Probably he already knows the principles of synthetic rubber manufacture via the butadiene method as well as we know the back of our hand.

But the point we're making is that there is so much detail involved — as well as so much secrecy surrounding the actual formulae employed — that the subject of synthetic rubber manufacture is a deep one, indeed.

The Plainsman climbed every ladder, and traversed nearly every catwalk in the far-flung Goodyear plant located southeast of Houston between the suburbs of Harrisburg and Pasadena and he learned this much:

Butadiene is highly explosive and volatile. (So much so that workers and visitors must check their cigaret lighters and matches at the gate, several hundred yards from nearest operations, and no smoking is allowed).

Butadiene starts out as pure crude oil to which is added a gaseous substance, then vast quantities of soap, then brine; then along the route the soap and brine are removed — and at the end of the assembly line it comes out as rubber.

The synthetic product when completed is not black. (Neither is crude rubber before refined into tires). Instead, like crude rubber, it is a light brownish material.

To the uninitiated, the finished synthetic product seems to have as much resiliency as natural rubber — although it does not, as yet.

ALTHOUGH the method of making synthetic rubber is only vaguely similar to that employed in refining oil, the Goodyear plant looks more like a big oil refinery than anything else. It is, of course, larger in every way than the largest of the oil refineries.

Butadiene is manufactured on what is no more or less than an assembly line in that the operation starts at one end of the plant with materials in basic form and ends at the other as the block of synthetic rubber, roughly two feet long, a foot wide and a foot thick, rolls out.

Synthetic rubber has been used for many years in this country but not for tires. The butadiene —which is only one of several types of synthetic rubber — is for use only in tires. The tires are not constructed in Houston. Instead, the rubber is shipped north to Ohio and one or two other points where it is turned into tires.

First thing we wanted to know — and first thing anyone wants to know — is:

How successful are tires made from synthetic rubber thus far?

The answer is, according to a young Mr. Sonntag — a Minnesota and Pennsylvania trained chemical engineer who showed us through:

For passenger cars, at normal speeds, they are already successful.

For truck tires — which carry heavy loads — or at high speed, which generates heat through friction, they are not entirely satisfactory.

THE synthetic rubber industry —that is, the tire end of it— is so young that much of the research has been and is still being carried on simultaneously with manufacture.

"Bugs" are being ironed out as the industry turns out its product, because there has been no time for pure experimentation.

Whether synthetic rubber ever will be good enough, and cheap enough, to supplant the natural product, or not, no one yet can say. But most of the men in the industry believe it will be.

The Plainsman believes it will —not because he knows anything about the product, how it is made or much about its present degree of acceptability, but because he has an abiding faith in the brains of American science and industry.

It is unthinkable that a product carried as far as synthetic rubber has been carried to this day could or would be allowed to stump the technicians who have brought it this far.

No attempt has been made actually to "hide" the Goodyear plant.

It is well known to be located near Houston and its general location is known to untold thousands.

Yet it has been well placed, away from the main arteries of travel and cannot be seen from them. It is, to be specific, "tucked away."

Furthermore, the plant covers a vast amount of ground and around the working area on all sides are wide open spaces. It is thoroughly guarded, too, and has its own well organized, armed and uniformed police force so large that wherever one turns he sees a guard.

Visitors are very few and they must go through a careful check and lengthy routine. They are not "turned loose," even when admitted. They are accompanied by a company man at all times.

HOW many people work at the Goodyear plant at Houston—which is only one of a half-dozen similar plants scattered around and about the South?

That is a wartime secret.

How much of the synthetic product will the plant turn out per year?

That is a secret, too, because our enemies know that the Achilles heel of the U. S. is rubber, or a substitute.

However, from our standards here in Lubbock, this much can be said:

There are "a great many people" employed at the plant, and its output, even at this early stage of the game, may aptly be described as "surprisingly large."

Even the most casual visitor can see that the plant cost a lot of money to build; is costing a lot of money to operate. Therefore, it is unthinkable that synthetic rubber manufacture can be considered only as a wartime "stop-gap;" that it can be "junked" as soon as natural rubber from the East Indies and other areas again is available to us.

Not even a New Deal "economist" would be wacky enough to argue that point.

(Tomorrow: Texas is turning out Navy fighting ships, too.

Something Wrong

In a few minutes Mr. Kimball hurried up the stairs with a basket of wood. "I'm sorry that I've got only one log and a bit of kindling for you, but I'll have more later," he said and smiled as he saw me sitting glumly on the trunk.

'Oh, this will do very nicely," I told him. "I shan't be staying up late tonight."

"Moving is a depressing business," he remarked, "and you surely got a cold reception."

I denied that with weak politeness as he laid a bed of crumpled papers in the fireplace, lighted it, then put on the kindling. Watching him as he bent over the hearth, I thought what a good-looking man he was; tall and very spare, with an intelligent face and finely drawn features His eyes as he turned to talk to me were deep blue, which, even with his white hair, made him seem considerably younger than he was. I guess that he was in his sixties.

"I think it will be warmer soon," he said, straightening up. "Drop into the shop this evening if it isn't and I'll see what can be done. I'd like to show you my books anyway. You said the other day that you were interested in them. I have a few good ones on art."

I thanked him. His cordiality soothed the rankling ache brought on by Toby's blithe cable.

After he left the fire seemed to lose heart. It burned with a few feeble flames, then the chimney started to smoke so violently that in spite of the cold I had to air the room to keep from choking to death. I went over to a window as I bent to raise it a noise made me glance outside quickly.

A hand was pressed against the pane.

I stared hard. Then the hand disappeared and I thought: "The smoke must be going to my head."

But I heard a noise again and at first I thought it was only the wind in the branches of the tree, but a shadow on the fire escape, a moving shadow, outlined itself against the glass. Then came a louder noise, a sharp, grating sound.

I stood still, clutching the window casing, too startled to move. Who was outside of my window and why on earth on a stormy night would anyone be climbing around an icy fire escape?

I finally opened the window, but when I peered out cautiously I couldn't see a thing. I bent forward, straining my eyes and finally I spotted a figure down in the yard, close to the house. It was a man, I was certain, in dark clothes and a heavy coat. Then slowly the weighted ladder swung up from the ground and shivered back into place on a level with my window.

It dawned on me suddenly that of course the fire escape didn't drop to the ground until someone descending, pushed it down. So I had not imagined the shadow I had seen was a man outside of my window. I closed it with a bang and sat down suddenly on the trunk. My hands were very unsteady when I lighted a cigarette.

There was something, I decided, definitely wrong with this house. But before I could figure it out I realized I'd either have to go out to dinner or be overcome. The fireplace was still kicking up. With every gust of wind a smothering cloud of smoke poured out of the chimney and the room was blue with it.

"I'm Afraid"

In the last hour the light snowfall had turned into a blizzard. I hurried down the street, an icy wind tearing at my coat, trying to find a restaurant. All of the stores were closed for the night, the dilapidated tenements were dark, and the sidewalk stands lay bare of fruit but deep in snow. The whole neighborhood looked as though it had been suddenly deserted. Then on the corner I saw the steamy windows of a Knife and Fork. I could have shouted with joy.

It was gratefully warm in the lunch room. I took off my coat, climbed up to the counter and ordered wheat cakes and sausage and felt more normal. It was a relief to get away from that house.

Those wheat cakes tasted better than any luncheon on Park Avenue and after a second order of them and another cup of coffee I could even think of Toby without bursting into tears. Then I lighted a cigarette and leaned back, thinking that pleasant as it was I still had to go back to the apartment. I don't know exactly what was the matter, but 19 George Street was becoming less and less inviting. It was bound to be cold, and with people crying in the hall, walking overhead when the apartment was presumably empty, and climbing around fire escapes in the dark, there was no telling what might happen next. I felt pretty lonely. It takes a strong character, I thought, to have a career. And then the street door opened with a clatter and a gust of wind and Mr. Kimball's niece came in with a man. They sat down at a small table by the window He left no particular impression on me except that he seemed awfully young and was wearing a heavy coat and muffler that he didn't take off before I left. Later the Police Sergeant seemed to think this was important, but considering the weather it didn't seem odd to keep a coat on to thaw out. However, the police and I differed on more points than one.

The girl was awfully smart-looking. She was younger than I, in her early twenties, I thought, and she had a beaver coat that I gazed on with a covetous eye. It made my three-year-old sealskin look like an alley cat.

They were sitting so that I could see them in the mirror over the counter. Something certainly was the matter with the girl. Mr. Kimball had said that she wasn't well, but it looked to me as if it were worry and not illness. I was frankly curious so I lighted another cigarette while they ordered. For a few minutes they didn't speak. Then she bent across the table and her voice, though it was very low, carried, and I could hear her quite distinctly.

"What are you going to do?" she asked the man.

He shrugged his shoulders.

"I'm so worried," she said. "She has warned me twice. And if she comes again . . ." She broke off and both of them were silent.

When she continued her voice was shaken. "I tell you, I'm afraid."

I shivered. "This," I told myself, "is no better than a cold apartment."

Locked Door

There was something about the girl's voice aside from what she said that made me uneasy. I put out my cigarette, paid my check and bundled into my coat again, a little ashamed to have listened. Apparently she hadn't recognized me, because I turned and faced them as I went out the door and she looked up at me without speaking.

And then because I was feeling a little better on top of the wheat cakes and coffee, I prowled farther down George Street trying to locate a telegraph office. I found one about three blocks from the house. And in a burst of extravagance and revenge I sent a cable to Toby:

TRY ARSENIC FOR SUNBURN DARLING NEW YORK WEATHER GLORIOUS.

The man behind the counter looked dubious, but I explained to him that it was a joke and he finally accepted it.

When I got back to the house the apartment had thawed out slightly. Mr. Kimball had put more wood on the fire and the chimney was behaving beautifully. So with more energy than I felt I tried to get my furniture arranged.

By half-past eleven I was tired out and thoroughly depressed. Toby was in Bermuda, yet that didn't seem reason enough for the state I was in. I didn't like the house, but there was nothing definitely wrong with it. After all, just because some idiot chose to climb down the fire escape was no reason to get in such a turmoil. Yet there was something wrong — something I couldn't put my finger on. The fire had died down—Patrick was apparently still among the missing, because the radiators were cold — and the wind howling around the house crept in every

A MERRY SIDELINE WAR

In the light of more important events, a merry battle that is being waged among a number of American cities has escaped widespread attention. It is a battle for recognition as "world fashion center" after the war.

Agreement is general—in the Americas, at least—that the acknowledged fashion center will be in this country. New York first took the smug position that the center would have to be located there because, to their notion, it couldn't be anywhere else.

However, Chicago and Los Angeles, didn't share that view. Both have been busy in a large way. San Francisco also has been heard from on the subject. Baltimore and St. Louis also have let it be known that the title of "fashion center of the world" appeals to them. Other cities may have entered the lists.

The competition has been sufficient to awaken New York to the realization that the center isn't in the bag for dear old mid-Manhattan. This has been evidenced by the proposed construction of a civic unit featuring a fashion center costing 100 or more millions of dollars. If the center can be bought with dollars—as probably it can—then New York undoubtedly can outbid any competitor.

But other contenders—notably Chicago and Los Angeles—have not accepted defeat. The fight goes merrily on, with the winner still to be decided.

Broadway Story: He is on a local gazette . . . The editors wish he'd go peddle his stuff elsewhere . . . Reason: He allegedly dined with accused killer, Wayne Lonergan—sometime during the following day . . . Lonergan is charged with murdering his wife earlier that Sabbath . . . Of course, the newspaperman didn't know his friend had killed anybody . . . If the accused killer doesn't plead temporary insanity (as many hope), the newspaper feels it will be needlessly embarrassed . . . It isn't the first time one of the staff has been in similar trouble . . . About a year ago another of its byliners was arrested in a raid at a sinful place in Brooklyn. . . . The first was also recently robbed by a sailor he invited to his midtown apartment for a drink.

MIDTOWN Shudder: Apartments in Manhattan are as scarce as those in most cities these days. In fact they are getting as difficult to find as tenants in the good old days of the depression . . . A real estate agent (trying to convince a friend) phoned a competitor and said: "A few months ago I looked at an apartment for $300 per. It was sublet. I think its the same one in which Mrs. Lonergan was murdered. Can you get it for me?" . . . "You may have it," was the eager answer, "just as soon as the police leave it."

Our Changing World

Our Pilots' Errors Even Turn Out All Right . . . .

Mistakes Sometimes Turn Out As Successes

By ERNIE PYLE
Journal War Correspondent

IN ITALY, Jan. 27 (By Wireless) —Our fighter and bomber pilots laugh about some of their accidental successes.

A light-bomber outfit was making a run with a brand-new replacement pilot, out on his first mission. Their target was very close to our own lines. As they were making their turn this new pilot lost formation and swung way out on the outside of the others.

ERNIE PYLE

Realizing his mistake, and seeing he was about to get left behind, he just salvoed his bombs and went streaking to catch up with the formation.

The squadron leader saw it and felt sure this neophyte had dropped his bombs on our own troops. When he got home he sat there by the telephone, sweating, waiting for the inevitable phone call.

Pretty soon the phone rang. A voice announced itself as Gen. So-and-so. The squadron leader's heart sank. When a general phones it bodes no good. The General boomed:

"Say, who is that crazy pilot that left your formation and dropped his bombs off to the side?"

The squadron leader got ready to faint. He knew the next sentence would be that those bombs had killed 300 American troops. But instead the General shouted:

"Well, whoever he was, give him my congratulations. He got a direct hit on a gun we've been trying to get for two weeks. Wiped it off. Excellent work."

ANOTHER time one of our artillery observers saw three big German tanks pull into a field several miles back of the German lines. The crews jumped out and began pitching straw over them, and in a few minutes they resembled a strawstack.

Not five minutes later our dive bombers came over. Their target was a gun position in an adjacent orchard. But their aim was bad, and their bombs landed directly on the three straw-covered tanks.

It was just an accident, but the Germans probably wonder what the world's coming to when Americans can have planes over blowing up your tanks five minutes after you've hidden them.

One time our dive bombers couldn't find their principal target because of bad weather. They were on their way home when they picked up their alternate target, a supply dump at a crossroads.

The first plane dived in and dropped its bombs. Instantly a gigantic flame shot 1500 feet into the air. Before the last plane had finished its dive—a matter of only a few seconds—the pillar of smoke was 4000 feet high.

They really hit the jackpot, but they don't know what the jackpot was. They can't conceive of anything that would flame that high so quickly.

ANOTHER time a pilot went out on a reconnaissance mission. Because of hazy weather, and because two adjacent passes in the mountains looked exactly alike, he took the wrong one and got lost, although he didn't know he was lost.

He kept on flying by his map for a long time, although actually he was far north of where his map ran out. At last it began to dawn on him that something was wrong.

Just as he was getting good and worried he looked down and directly under him was a field with a dozen or more small German planes lined up alongside the runway. So down he went in a surprise dive, set the German planes afire, and then headed rapidly south.

He found his home field just as he ran out of gas. When the boys asked where he'd been he didn't know. It took the pilot and his squadron commander two hours of intense study of their maps to figure out what field he had shot up so beautifully. He had been 200 miles north of where he intended to be.

No fish or animal is more famous for his strength, stamina, and power than the shark. He draws his tremendous store of vitality and power from the sea in which he lives. Today, this same food-rich sea provides the animal proteins, minerals and vitamins which your poultry and livestock must have to be healthy, fast-growing and productive.

STANTON'S 18% LAYING MASH
brings these vital elements from the sea and puts them to work in your poultry yard. This fine feed, milled right here in Lubbock, contains ManAmar and B.G Plus, Blended with local-grown grains into a feed especially adapted to the needs of West Texas feeders.

B-G PLUS
is a patented vacuum concentrated extract from fish. This new and potent product, resulting from ten years of ceaseless research and experiment, supplies extra minerals and vitamins in Stanton's 18% Laying Mash.

MANAMAR
in Stanton's 18% Laying Mash supplies the hard-to-get feeding essentials — fish proteins, food minerals and vitamins, including the important Vitamin B "Complex."

ManAmar and B-G PLUS have been developed and are produced in the laboratories of Philip R. Park, famed livestock nutrition authority. These laboratories have also approved the formula for Stanton's 18% Laying Mash Let the records of users tell the rest of the story. Get all the facts today.

Lubbock County First In Cotton Production

Lubbock county led the state of Texas in the production of cotton in the 1943-44 season, according to figures released by A. L. King, cotton statistician of the U. S. Bureau of Census.

On Jan. 16, Lubbock county had ginned 82,235 bales of cotton, King reported. This exceeds by several hundred bales the 81,643 bales ginned by Nueces county gins.

Lubbock county's ginnings on Jan. 16, 1943 totaled 80,166 bales, King reported.

Rome Invaders Repel Attack

the Germans on the slopes of Mt. Belvedere.

Action along the British Eighth army front on the Adriatic side of the peninsula remained stalemated, the communique indicated, reporting only patrol activity.

Weather Slows Airmen

Bad weather limited air operations, but light bombers attacked road and rail objectives at Ceccano, Cisterna and Itri—all in the angle formed by the two Fifth army fronts.

The bombing of Cisterna, located on the Appian Way 16 miles northeast of the Anzio beachhead, suggested that the Allied assault forces have not yet reached this important highway at that point, although they may have gained it near Rome.

Itri also stands athwart the Appian Way seven miles inland from Gaeta further down the coast. Ceccano, hit often before, lies inland about 30 miles due west of Cassino.

Fighters Maintain Patrols

Fighters maintained their patrols throughout the day over both the beachhead and the old battlefront. Three enemy aircraft were destroyed. Two Allied planes are missing.

Although today's communique gave no details, field dispatches last night disclosed that American troops who won a new bridgehead across the Rapido river had pushed to within half a mile of Cassino in an enveloping movement through the surrounding ridges.

Thickly-sown minefields and heavy German artillery, mortar and machinegun fire were said to be impeding the progress of the Americans who, it was announced yesterday had recrossed the Rapido after once being thrown back by a German counter-attack.

Cassino Largely Abandoned

Although Cassino itself appeared to have been largely abandoned by the Nazi troops, their positions in the surrounding hills gave them a clear sweep of its streets and bomb-jumbled houses. An announcement yesterday said an American patrol that entered the town was forced to retire.

The French advanced to Mt. Belvedere, 10 miles north of Cassino, cutting the road northward to Atina, one of the main communication lines from Cassino northward.

The American-British beachhead forces repulsed the Hermann Goering division in heavy fighting on the fringes of the Pontine marshes southwest of Littoria and south of Mussolini canal. At least 120 of the Germans were killed.

The Eighth army repulsed two German attacks near Orsogna on the Adriatic end of the trans-Italy line.

The Navy announced that the landing of troops and supplies on the west coast bridgehead was well ahead of schedule.

In support of the land operations, Allied naval units bombarded enemy positions near Formia again Tuesday night.

Mitchell County Baby Dies In Hospital Here

Montie Riley Woodard, nine-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Woodard of Mitchell county, died about 3:15 o'clock this morning in Lubbock General hospital where he had been since Monday. The infant died of pneumonia and heart complications.

The Woodards have two other children. The body was sent by Rix Funeral home to Spade community for burial Friday.

NUEVO LAREDO, Mexico, Jan. 27 (AP)—Completion of a new $125,000 customs building was announced today. The building will be inaugurated February 5, Mexican Constitution day. United States representation from across the border will be invited to the festivities.

Allied Ground Forces In Burma "Progress"

NEW DELHI, Jan. 27. (AP) — Allied ground forces, slowly knifing into Burma under aerial support, inflicted casualties on Japanese forces in the Chin hills sector of the west-central front yesterday and made "some progress" on the Mayu peninsula of the southwestern front.

The southwestern drive by British and Indian troops threatening the Japanese port of Akyab has carried south of Rekhat Chaung, four and a half miles northeast of Maungdaw, against determined resistance, the Allied southeast Asia communique said today. Minor enemy counter-attacks on Rasabil, west of the Mayu mountain range, were thrown back Tuesday night.

The Chin hills offensive, apparently directed at the Chindwin river communications and supply route, has carried Allied forces to Kyaukchaw, 18 miles southeast of Tamu.

Army Shakeup

69 or more establishments, and the ground forces have begun to close up some of their training camps and other facilities, including Camp Atterbury, Ind., Pine Camp, N. Y., and the induction center at Fort Hayes, Ohio.

Stimson did not mention these specific instances, but asserted that "the Army will no longer need all its present troop housing facilities and it will be necessary to place a number of camps, posts, stations and other installations on a caretaker basis, and to return many of the civilian installations and facilities which previously had been taken over by the Army."

Reassignments Ordered

He announced that the War department has ordered physically qualified men in all branches of the Army who have a total of more than 12 months service at fixed stations or "overhead activities" in the United States to be reassigned to combat units "or mobile activities ultimately destined for overseas service."

Enlisted men under 30 will be reassigned first according to their length of service in the United States, and they will be followed by those over 30, in order of age—youngest first. These reassignment orders will not apply to men who have served overseas at some time since Pearl Harbor, or to men with highly specialized skills which cannot be utilized overseas.

"Replacements for reassigned enlisted men," said Stimson, "when necessary, will be made first from civilians, next by Women's Army corps personnel, then, in order, by men permanently disqualified for overseas service, men who have served overseas, recently inducted men with physical handicaps, enlisted men with less than 12 months service in fixed installations in the United States."

As to the officers over 38, Stimson said "there are many" for whom suitable assignments cannot be found, and that "Army commanders have been notified that the retention of such officers on active duty is no longer necessary or desirable in the public interest. Therefore, if they cannot be reassigned they must be recommended for relief from active duty. Final decision in each case will be made by the War department."

Wage Hearing

some corporations to manufacture such clothes "in spite of the fact that many of their firms are now making between four or five times the average profit earned during the pre-war period."

PEPPER EXPRESSES HOPE FOR RELAXED CONTROLS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—Senator Pepper (D-Fla) today expressed the hope that reports from War Board (WLB) Chairman Davis and Price Administrator Bowles will lead to a relaxation of federal wage controls as they affect the "white collar" worker.

The two agency chiefs were requested to testify before the labor subcommittee headed by Pepper which is inquiring into economic conditions among the workers who have missed the war boom in wages.

"We are hopeful," said Pepper, "that Mr. Davis can point the way toward a relaxation of the government wage policy on wage increases insofar as it affects the sub-standard groups struggling along without sufficient money to maintain health and efficiency."

PLANE CRASH REPORTED

GUADALAJARA, Mexico, Jan. 27 (AP)—An airline plane flying from Manzillo toward this city crashed yesterday in Jalisco state, and it was reported here that all passengers perished. It was a six-passenger ship. Hal Riertson, U. S. citizen, said he had been notified that his wife, Consuelo Rogers Riertson, was among those killed.

Advantages Seen In Soldier President

BY LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 — A recent visitor to Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters in the Southwest Pacific has sent this correspondent a report on political sentiment in that outpost which will be of unusual interest to American readers who have been wondering whether the general will be a candidate for president.

The summary is by an experienced observer, and those who are interested in the MacArthur boom undoubtedly will be impressed by the fact that it was passed through the general's own military censorship.

Probably the most striking part of this report is the suggestion that MacArthur believes an experienced soldier in the White House would bring an earlier victory in the war.

"It would not be surprising," the report says at one point, "if MacArthur felt—as do a good many here—that the shortest way to victory would be to place an experienced military man in the White House."

May Remain Silent

The report reflects the impression at his headquarters that MacArthur will neither declare his availability for the Republican nomination nor withdraw his name from consideration, preferring to "let events take their course." It is emphasized that he is not taking any time out from war for politics but that no one should assume this to mean that he would not be receptive to the presidential nomination.

"Even if he were nominated," the report continues, "sources here believe it entirely possible that MacArthur would not leave his post to campaign. Talking to MacArthur supporters of whom there are many here, I get the impression they foresee the possibilities about this way:

"MacArthur will maintain complete silence on political matters pending the Republican national convention but his supporters will go into the convention with a fair bloc of votes from the Midwest. One figure mentioned is 125 delegates. This presumably would place him third behind Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Wendell L. Willkie. They believe Dewey and Willkie are likely to deadlock whereupon MacArthur might emerge as a compromise candidate since he is likely to have considerable second choice strength among both Dewey and Willkie supporters.

Probably Wouldn't Campaign

"If nominated, it is believed MacArthur might accept by cable, explaining that his job of beating the Japs was too important to permit him to campaign. The campaign would be the responsibility of party leaders at home with the general tossing in an occasional radio speech or public statement."

The report continues that in "some quarters here" there is a suggestion that MacArthur might be nominated for vice president on a ticket headed by Dewey.

"But it is felt," according to his report, "that the general probably would not be receptive to such suggestions and would scorn any pre-convention deal with Dewey, Willkie or any other candidate. Bu whether he actually would refuse the vice presidency should the convention offer it is entirely unknown. Such a ticket might be as attractive as anything the Republicans could offer, especially if the presidential nominee announced that he planned to let MacArthur handle the job of winning the war."

Baruch Picked To Head Staff

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP) — Bernard M. Baruch, 73-year-old adviser to two wartime presidents, will be asked to head the staff of the newly-created House economic policy and planning committee, set up yesterday to help get the country back on a peacetime basis when the time comes.

Chairman Colmer (D-Miss) announced he would invite Baruch to head the committee's staff, "if not actively, then in an advisory capacity."

"I know of no man better fitted for the job," Colmer said.

Head Of Advisory Unit

Baruch was head of the war industries board in World war No. 1, advised President Wilson on economec policy, and now is head of President Roosevelt's advisory unit on war and post war policy.

The new House committee will take over many of the activities envisaged for President Roosevelt's national resources and planning board, which was abolished by Congress last year.

Colmer told the House that a paramount aim would be to bring about a cessation of "wartime regimentation of the people" and to guarantee "the continuation of free enterprise."

Serving with Colmer are nine other Democrats and eight Republicans. Democrats include Rep. Thomason of Texas.

Wilson School Bond Sales Total $12,603

Roscoe Wilson students purchased a total of $2,019.95 in bonds and stamps this week to run the purchases for the school year to $12,603.35, Mrs. Ivy Savage, principal, reported this morning.

A total of $1,848.75 in bonds and $171.20 in stamps was purchased this week.

Mrs. Turner Adams' third year primary room was first in purchases with a total of $902.75. The room purchased sixteen bonds and the remainder in stamps. Second high room was the second year primary taught by Miss Thelma Jones. Purchases totaled $145.05.

Wage Negotiations Started At Houston

HOUSTON, Jan. 27. (U.P) — Negotiations for a higher wage scale covering skilled and semi-skilled workmen at the Houston plant of the Sheffield Steel Co. began today after a walkout of some 225 rolling mill employes was terminated.

The rolling mill crew reported for the 4 p.m. shift yesterday, ending the short-lived walkout which had threatened to force shutdown of the entire plant, which employs 1,700 workmen.

Mrs. Newton's Trial Date Is Indefinite

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 27 (Special) —District Attorney Harold M. LaFont said there was no indication that the case of Mrs. W. R. Newton, charged with assault with intent to murder the late Dr. Roy Hunt of Littlefield, would be set for hearing in the immediate future. The case had been brought here on a change of venue from Lamb county, on the court's own motion.

Cotton Council Takes Anti-Subsidy Stand

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 27 (U.P) —Taking a strong stand against consumer subsidies on agricultural commodities, the National Cotton council in the last session of its three-day meeting here yesterday requested the Office of Price administration to review immediately all cotton textile ceiling prices and make such adjustments as necessary to enable mills to pay full prices to farmers for cotton.

Action against present consumer prices of manufactured cotton goods was asked because mills cannot pay farmers the ceiling price for raw cotton if present low prices on manufactured goods are not increased, the council contended.

A resolution adopted in the meeting said "that if all or any part of the pending demands of labor unions for textile wage increases be granted, that the textile ceilings be revised upward simultaneously on a basis sufficient to permit payment by mills to the farmer of full prices for cotton as provided by the price control act."

British Policy Is Causing Concern

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Peculiar interest attaches to Foreign Secretary Eden's reaffirmation of the British policy of not recognizing wartime changes in the map of Europe — "unless they take place with the free consent and goodwill of the parties concerned."

The main point of this statement, is the Russo-Polish dispute over the territory occupied by the Soviet in 1939 at the time of the German invasion. Mrs. Eden was replying in the House of Commons to a question by a member.

Questions in the house sometimes are spontaneous and sometimes are inspired by the government in order to give it a chance to use Commons as a sounding board to reach a wide audience.

Chance For Emphasis

The foreign secretary may have seized this opportunity to emphasize something even bigger than the Polish imbroglio.

He may have made his main point when he said:

"His majesty's government of course stands on the principles enunciated in the Atlantic charter."

He might have been concerned not only with the Polish trouble but with reaffirmation of the Atlantic charter. And why should it seem expedient to reaffirm the charter?

Many countries — especially in the Orient—have been suffering doubts and are anxious for assurances that this document, which was drawn up by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill and has become the credo of the United Nations, means what it says.

One of the eight points laid down in the Atlantic charter declares that "they (Messrs. Roosevelt and Churchill) desire to see no territorial changes that do not accord with the freely expressed wishes of the peoples concerned." What is more natural than that the world should wonder whether this applies to the Polish affair and, if it does, just how it will be implemented.

Who Would Settle Dispute?

Supposing there is no agreement between the Russians and the, Poles and the Muscovites just go ahead and reoccupy the territory in dispute? Who does what to make Russia give up this land?

The chief Allies already have agreed that successful prosecution of the war, and the maintenance of peace, depend on continued amicable cooperation among the Big Three—Russia, America and Britain. It's generally conceded among statesmen and other observers that a rupture of relations among the trio would mean another world war.

This being so it would seem absurd to think that either the United States or Britain would go to the extreme of causing a break with Russia over a territorial change which already was a fait accomi before America came into the war. This doesn't mean, however, that the Atlantic charter declaration regarding annexations has been eased out. Mr. Eden has reaffirmed it, and it must remain one of the cardinal tenets of the United Nations.

Blood Runs Cold

crack. I decided the only thing to do was to go to bed to keep warm.

While I was undressing, the one electric light bulb I had flickered, then went out, leaving the apartment entirely dark. There were no bulbs in the bathroom or kitchen either and I could have screamed with annoyance. On my way to dinner I'd meant to buy more bulbs, but of course I'd forgotten all about it. And there I stood in a pair of panties, in the dark, with no way of making a light. I groped around for my bathrobe and decided to risk bothering Mr. Kimball's niece in the next apartment. She might have an extra ulb I could borrow. Several times during the evening I'd heard knocking at the girl's door, so evidently she was at home.

I opened the door to the hall and there was no light out there either. I peered down the stairway and the lower hall was dark, too. The only illumination in the whole place came from a wan overhead light on the floor above. I said a few choice words under my breath and crept down the hall, and when I stopped in front of the girl's apartment I could hear a window being opened inside. I knocked, thinking that if she'd just gone to bed she would answer. She didn't. I knocked again and this time I leaned close to the door and called to her that all I wanted was to borrow a bulb. There was still no response. Deciding that I'd just imagined the noise, I tried the door carefully. It was locked. Someone was in the apartment I was certain. For a moment I waited, but apparently the girl had gone to bed and didn't want to be disturbed. Then I knew that a window was open, because I could feel the cold air on my ankles coming from the space under the door.

Practice Bomb Falls In Florida Backyard

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 27 (AP) — Criminal Court Judge L. A. Grayson said today an Army practice bomb fell in the backyard of his home at the edge of the city late this afternoon, knocking out his water pipes, blowing in two windows and covering his property with debris.

"Thank God I was at work," said Judge Grayson, "and my wife was shopping. Our maid left at noon. I don't know whether she'll ever come back."

The Army had no comment.

Before the war, Africa, Java and the Far East tropics supplied two-thirds of the world's cocoa bean market.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Giant Flying Boat Back From Hawaii

ALAMEDA, Calif., Jan. 27 (AP) —The world's largest operating airplane—the Navy's flying boat Mars—returned today from Honolulu to complete her first round trip as a passenger and cargo plane in the Pacific theater of war.

The giant craft made the flight of almost 2,400 statute miles from Hawaii in 12 hours and 17 minutes.

Commander Gene Tunney, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, was among the eight passengers aboard. He returned to the United States after seven months of duty in the southwest and south Pacific battle fronts.

In addition to the passengers and 17 crew members the Mars carried a record load of 20,000 pounds of mail. At the postal air rate of 20 cents a half ounce from Hawaii this would represent a paying cargo of $128,000—if none of the load was government mail.

235 ACTIVE CHAPTERS

DALLAS, Jan. 27. (AP) — Mrs. George H. Pittman, state director for the National Infantile Paralysis foundation, reports Texas has 235 active chapters organized in 221 counties to support the foundation's fund-raising campaign.

Television signals are not transmitted over obstacles successfully because the waves, instead of reflecting from upper air strata like radio waves, zip through into outer space.

'American' Language Due For Wide Use

AUSTIN, Jan. 27. (AP)—American language as distinguished from traditional English will be spread largely over the globe by American soldiers, Dr. Walter P. Webb, University of Texas history professor and author, predicted here today.

"The American style of speech has a vitality and force that is not held down by the sense of propriety with which the Englishman views his language," Dr. Webb said. "Men of the armed forces are moving into all parts of the world and the form of speech they are taking witht them is taking the fancy of the natives of lands that use other languages. This will lead to a prevalence of 'American' speech before long."
