Harvey, a member of the British Parliment, is due to arrive in Dallas by plane early this afternoon. However, he expects to touch only Texas concrete in "Big D," because a helicopter will [illegible] him on the way to Love Field and whisk him away to Fort Worth.

A Bell Helicopter will take Harvey to the "Heliport" at the Western Hills Motel, where he will stop briefly before embarking on the last leg of his journey to Snyder.

Mark McLaughlin, who will be Harvey's host during a visit of approximately one week here, will meet the British lawmaker in Fort Worth and return with him to Snyder.

Israel Gets 5 Days To Withdraw Units

British And French Split

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.L Jan. 19 (AP)—The U.N. Assembly today prodded Israel to pull out of Egypt and gave Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold five days to work out arrangements for the withdrawal.

The delegates emphatically stated in numerous speeches they meant for Israel to withdraw from the hot spots of the Gaza Strip and the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba. But they also made it clear they believed Hammarskjold should deploy units of the U.N. emergency force in those areas until a permanent settlement can be worked out.

The Assembly concluded three days of debate by voting 74-2 for an Asian-African bloc resolution supported by the United States and Britain. France broke away from Britain, its partner in the invasion of Egypt, and stood alone with Israel against the resolution. Cuba and Costa Rica abstained. Hungary and South Africa, boycotting the Assembly, were absent.

The resolution noted with "regret and concern" that Israel had not complied with four previous Assembly resolutions to withdraw from Egypt. It requested the secretary general to continue his efforts to obtain this withdrawal and report within five days.

Delegates said later they construed this provision to mean that Hammarskjold should try to get Israel out of Egypt by Thursday midnight.

Israel's delegate, Abba Eban, complained to the Assembly in the closing debate that this time limit would not permit a final clarification of the situation. He reiterated Israel's views that the Gaza Strip and the Sharm El Sheikh entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba must be held until a definite and permanent solution is found so that Egypt would not threaten Israel again.

Hammarskjold lost no time in setting to work. He arranged with Eban for a conference tomorrow afternoon to go into the situation. Israeli forces said the talks would hinge around these three points, all listed by Eban in his speech to the Assembly:

1. A discussion of the Security Council resolution of 1951 calling on Egypt to keep the Suez Canal open to all countries. Egypt refused to obey the resolution on the grounds she is at war with Israel but Israel demanded [illegible] that Egypt must comply with resolutions if Egypt expected Israel to comply with U.N. decisions.

2. Reciprocal duties of Israel and Egypt—in other words, each country to carry out what it expects the other country to do.

3. A definite role for the U.N. emergency force—how long would it stay on the armistice line between Egypt and Israel as well as in the key points of Gaza and Sharm El Sheikh if indeed it is deployed there.

Widening Project To Start

Construction work on widening and straightening of both Deep Creek and the Dry Run branch of Deep Creek from Thirtieth Street south to Thirty-seventh Street will begin tomorrow.

Roy Dunlap, city manager, said that the creek channeling project will be done jointly by the city and Scurry County, with the city providing easements, a loader, and engineering services, and the county providing all other equipment.

"Considerable work will be necessary on the two channels to open them for free flow of water through the area," Dunlap said.

The two creek chanels wind through the seven-block long area in such a manner that actually about 14 or 15 blocks of creek channel will have to be worked.

The project will reshape the channels to look similar to the reshaping job done from the northwest part of town to Thirtieth Street last year on Deep Creek.

"This widening and straightening project will not insure that Snyder will not be flooded in the future, but will greatly reduce that hazard," Dunlap said.

"More work further down the Deep Creek would be necessary to completely prevent possible flooding of the city area along the creeks," he added.

SNYDER SPOTLIGHT

By WACIL McNAIR

Whether the weather is getting progressively warmer has been a topic of considerable discussion in recent years. The cold spell of the past week may be interpreted as a blow to those who hold with the theory that the country is getting warmer.

Temperatures dropped to the lowest levels since statistics have been kept in some areas, particularly in upper New York. Snyder's low for the week, 11 degrees, did not establish any record, but the "spell" held on here longer than usual.

It was great stuff for peach trees, provided, of course, they get enough moisture later in the year to develop a crop. Peach trees must have something like 400 hours of temperatures below 40 degrees during the winter to produce good crops for the following season.

"In spite of sporadic showers of brickbats blowing in from the north and east aimed at Texas oil men, the state will continue to have the benefits which come from a lively petroleum industry operation."

It is a well-known fact that the Money Roll Found By Truck Driver

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 19 (AP)—Ernest H. Cole, a truck driver for a plumbing firm, found two rolls of money in a 5-inch section of pipe.

A count showed 11 $100 bills, 4 $50 bills, 4 $20 bills, 10 $10 bills, 4 $5 bills and a $1 bill—total 1,501.

Cole turned the find over to police who told him the money was his if no one showed up with a legitimate claim.

Police said it was possible the money had been taken in a holdup and cached in the pipe.

2 SNYDERITES TO ATTEND

Problem Clinic Scheduled

Two Snyder men will go to Lubbock Tuesday to participate in the fourth annual Midwinter Forum, scheduled at Texas Tech College Tuesday and Wednesday.

The forum this year will be known as the West Texas Assembly on Regional Development. In the session, the best thinking of 30 West Texas communities on problems confronting the region will be aired. Going from here will be Frank Wilson, school curriculum director, and Roy Dunlap, city manager.

In December, a community roundtable made up of a cross-section of residents of Scurry County in various businesses met here and discussed local problems. Similar roundtables were held in a total of about 30 communities in West Texas.

In each local roundtable, the groups explored regional problems which seemed most important to their communities. They stated the problems as they saw them and worked on suggested kinds of factual information needed to help them to understand and deal with the problems.

Tuesday, the groups representing all these forums will meet at Lubbock and hear reports from each of the community forums, and the group will agree on the nature, size, and importance of problems with which the region must deal.

On Wednesday, the group as a conference will consider some of the possible alternative courses of action open to West Texas in meeting the problems, suggesting "next steps" to be taken by individuals, communities, organizations, and institutions of regional nature, and the state legislature.

Wilson will be discussion leader of one group on Revitalization of Community Life in West Texas, and Dunlap will be official recorder for that group. The work groups will meet Wednesday morning. Other groups will discuss general water problems, depletion of other mineral resources, adapting agriculture to regional conditions, broadening the base of the West Texas economy, needs of special segments of the population, adapting housing to the environment, and maximum use of governmental and private agency resources.

Walter Prescott Webb, professor of history at the University of Texas and author of "The Great Plains," will be speaker at the annual banquet, scheduled for 6 p.m. Tuesday.

STUDYING a report they will make on a community roundtable held here at the annual Midwinter Forum at Texas Tech Tuesday are Frank Wilson, [illegible] and Roy Dunlap, who will represent Snyder and Scurry County at the forum, where West Texas problems and possible solutions will be discussed. County Has First '57 Fatality

George Edward Elliott, 32, of 4100 Avenue U, was killed in a two-vehicle crash three miles west of Snyder on the Lamesa highway about 7:15 o'clock Saturday morning.

Elliot, an employe of the Magnolia Petroleum Co., was en route to work at the water injection pump station just north of the Snyder Gasoline Plant at the time of the accident.

Elliot was driver and the sole occupant of a 1939 model Chevrolet pickup truck, and was traveling north on Farm Road 1611.

His pickup and a 1955 Ford sedan driven by Dorsey Marlin Miller, also 32, China Lake, Calif., collided at the intersection of the farm road and U. S. Highway 180.

Frank Bean, highway patrolman who investigated, said that Elliot's pickup was rolled over and destroyed in the wreck. Miller's car was badly damaged.

Elliot's death is the first traffic fatality in Scurry County this year.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at Cogdell Memorial Hospital where was taken by Bell ambulance. The other victim of the wreck, also driving alone, was taken to Battenfield-Jones Hospital-Clinic by Bolger ambulance.

Miller was seriously injured in the accident, and late Saturday he was reported "semi-conscious" at Battenfield-Jones Hospital-Clinic.

The attending physician said that X-rays showed a skull facture.

He had apparently recovered from shock of the injury, but was slow to respond to treatment, and his condition was listed as serious.

Elliot had been a resident of Snyder for the past 18 months, having moved here from Colorado City, where he lived two years.

He had lived prior to that in Midland for eight years. He was born Feb. 27, 1924, in New York city.

Active as a member of the Colonial Hill Baptist Church here, he was Royal Ambassador leader for both the church and the Mitchell-Scurry County Association.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon at the church with the Rev. Jimmie Nelson, pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Jack Selcraig of Colorado City.

A second service will be held in the Ellis Funeral Home chapel in Midland at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. Burial will be in the Fairview Cemetery in Midland under direction of Bolger Funeral Home of Snyder.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Wanda Elliot, three daughters Cheryl Ann Elliot, nine, Patricia Lynn Elliot, six, and Deborah Elliot, two, and one son, George Robert Elliot, four.

Pall bearers for the funeral service here will be laymen of the church.

Snyder Greeted By Warm Spell

Rising temperatures and thick clouds brought a small amount of moisture to the Snyder area Saturday, but not enough to benefit the parched soil.

A slow drizzle with some sleet mixed in dampened streets and sidewalks in Snyder early Saturday morning. Meanwhile, the thermometer had moved upward following several days of freezing temperatures. The low Friday night was only 37 degrees, and the mercury climbed to a high of 54 Friday. This was in contrast to a low reading of 11 degrees early Thursday when the high for the days was 28.

Clouds were rolling on brisk winds Saturday, and some dust was kicked up in the area.

Oil Group Head Named

FORT WORTH, Jan. 19 (AP)—J. C. Williamson, Odessa, was elected president of the Association of Oilwell Servicing Contractors at their first annual convention today.

Williamson succeeds Frank M. Pool, San Angelo.

Other officers named are Chester Taggart, Grandfalls, second vice president, and Jimmy Wilkins, Odessa, treasurer.

French M. Robertson, Abilene, president of Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, predicted that Texas operators will drill 3,000 tests at a cost of $1,300,000,000 in 1957.

Robertson said a major portion of the estimated $3,700,000,000 gross income from Texas crude sales in 1957 would be plowed back into drilling and development work. He said the drilling outlay may exceed that of 1956 by some $110,000,000.

4 Bodies Are Found

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Jan. 19 (AP)—The bodies of four miners were recovered today from a blast-shattered tunnel in the Jonesville coal mine and rescuers said there was no hope that a fifth man could have escaped.

Alaska's last major mine disaster, which took the lives of 17 men, was in this same mine in 1937.

Still missing after yesterday's explosion is Philip V. Doherty. The bodies recovered were those of John E. Fowler, 35; Sam Kwandahl, 56; Nick Uzelac, 41; and Glen V. Rore, 41.

Phil Holdsworth, territorial commissioner of mines, said at Juneau the evidence indicated an accumulation of gas in the mine shaft must have set off the explosion.

"There is no telling yet what caused the gas to explode," he said.

Ginners Will Meet

MCALLEN, Tex., Jan. 19 (AP)—Registration begins here tomorrow for the annual meeting of the directors of the Texas Cotton Ginners Assn.

They will discuss the Soil Bank, the cotton parity program and other matters.

STATUS OF NG ARMORY FOR SNYDER UNCERTAIN

No one here was sure this weekend just what the status of Snyder's proposed National Guard armory.

George Mahon, U. S. representative from this district, Friday sent a telegram here saying Army officials had advised that $120,000 in funds had been approved for the armory, with authorized strength of 150 men.

Just what that meant no one here knew, since it was already known that federal money had been appropriated for such There was, however, this theory of some National Guard officials here: a recent article in the Army Times reported that the Bureau of Budget had a freeze on funds for 150-man armories, while larger ones were being built. All state adjutant generals and all Guard divisional commanders had scheduled a meeting in Washington for this week, however, and it was believed that pressures in connection with that meeting being scheduled had caused the Bureau of Budget to "loosen up."

Whether Mahon's telegram meant that the armory would be built soon remained a mystery. However, National Guard officials here plan to call State Armory Board officials this week and learn what they can.

The last official word on the new armory for Snyder was that is was in the hands of the architect but that the armory board had called an indefinite halt to armory building when a sample bid was taken and bids were higher than expected.

The 120,000 of federal money reportedly will be supplemented with some state funds.

Poll Tax Sales Still Lagging, Deadline Two Weeks Away

Poll tax sales are still lagging here, and there is less than two weeks' remaining for the poll tax to be paid.

Geral G. Greene, county tax assessor-collector, said that a total of only 2,128 persons have qualified themselves as voters this year.

These include 1,495 persons who have paid poll taxes and 663 who have secured exemption certificates.

The deadline for poll tax payment is Jan. 31. That is also the deadline for all persons to secure exemption certificates, with exception of those who will become 21 years old after that time.

Those becoming 21 this year may get exemption certificates after they reach their 21st birthday, but they may not vote for 30 days after [illegible] the certificates.

Persons who were 60 years old on Jan. 1, 1956, or older, may get exemption certificates, Greene said. The law states that a person must have been at least 60 on Jan. 1 of the tax year. Even though this is 1957, it is the 1956 tax year.

Those living outside the city limits need not secure exemption slips and may vote without them if they qualify.

Greene urged residents to pay their poll taxes as early as possible to avoid waiting in long lines next week.

This is not a regular election year, but there will be several elections. Included:

1. A special election for a Texas senator to the U. S. Congress.
2. A $750,000 right-of-way bond issue in Scurry County on the proposed Highway 84-180 freeway.
3. A city council election.
4. A school board election.

There may be other elections during the year, but these four are now in sight.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is now conducting a campaign to urge citizens to pay poll taxes here.

Poll taxes should be paid at the county tax assessor-collector's office on the [illegible] floor of the courthouse.

oil industry faces a running battle from some quarters, principally from areas where oil is not produced and citizens know little of the industry. Most people in oil producing areas are willing to do their bit to help out in the battle whenever an opportunity is presented.

• • •

Therefore, it is difficult to comprehend the motive when some elements of the industry expand the battle on their own initiative to local levels. A small number, but some seize on every opportunity to curtail, if not shortchange, county, municipal and school governing bodies, or at least make them wage a pitched battle for any progress they make.

They certainly have the right to ask questions about projects their tax money finances, and to buck up if there is apparent waste, or taxation is abusive. On the other hand, they should not expect areas with oil production to be satisfied with run-of-the-mill services and facilities when the resources are available.

Whenever a needed service or facility is sidelined for this reason, the damage to the community involved is permanent. Once a barrel of oil is taken from the ground and piped off it is gone forever.

French Letters Urge Support From U. S.

PARIS, Jan. 19 (AP)—Persons living in France mailed more than 37,000 letters to friends and relatives in the United States this week urging American support for France in the U. N. debate on Algeria.

Postal authorities said this unprecedented direct mail diplomatic advertising campaign made up 10 per cent of all mail carried from France to the United States during the period.

Berserk Man Hacks Wife, Kills Himself

SAN MATEO, Calif., Jan. 19 (AP)—An "immensely intelligent" man went berserk today critically wounded his wife with a hatchet and killed himself by thrusting a carving knife into his throat.

Victims of the sudden burst of rage were Robert E. Fenske, 39, a U. S. Forest Service accountant, and his wife, Margaret, 35, both graduates of the Augustana College and Theological Seminary at Rock Island, Ill.

Miss Fenske was stashed on the head and right arm.

Lance Fenske, 12, heard his mother scream shortly after the Fenskes arose this morning. Coroner Paul B. Jensen quoted the child:

"Daddy was holding mommy and hitting her on the head with a hatchet. I hit daddy in the back and said 'leave mother alone.' Daddy came after me."

Lance ran from the house and returned by another door, to find the blood-covered body of his father lying on the living room floor, and his mother locked in the bathroom.

His brothers, Mark, 8, and Eric, 1, were huddled in their bedroom.

Robert Boynton, a neighbor and long time friend, said Fenske had told him he feared losing his job with the Forest Service.

The Fenskes were married in 1943.

Coroner Jensen said Joseph Hoare, Mrs. Fenske's brother gave him this description of his brother-in-law:

"He had the most enormous inferiority complex I ever saw. But he was immensely intelligent."

Seven In Notorious Swindler Family Nabbed In Greenville

GREENVILLE, Tex., Jan. 19 (AP)—Seven persons and a baby, identified as members of the Williamson family of notorious swindlers, were in jail today.

They were picked up by Northeast Texas officers after an elderly man reported he was robbed if $300 by a woman who was praying for him.

Sheriff Tom Warren, who identified them as "definitely members of the Williamson family," said the suspects had taken the $300.

He said they gave these names: Mary Wilson, 78, who admitted taking the money; Charlotte Wiliams, 57; Mary Ann Williamson, 28; George Williamson, 24; William Williamson, 19; Jean Williamson, 26; and Alexander Williamson, 25.

Jean and Alexander gave different addresses but said they were the parents of the 3-year-old boy.

The sheriff said he would press robbery charges against them.

If charges are filed, Sheriff Warren said they would be held for trial unless property bond is posted for them. He explained that Hunt County has no facilities for making cash bond. Any property posted either by local citizens or outsiders must be approved by the sheriff.

He said he identified Jean and Alexander Williamson as members of the family from pictures in a national magazine. The family was recently a subject of an article in the magazine which said the clan of Scottish [illegible] citizens and [illegible].

The sheriff gave this account: Mrs. O.O. Pinkerton of the Lake community 16 miles northwest of Greenville reported that an elderly man, Robert (Kid) Gray, 65, was robbed by one of two women who took $300 from his pocket while praying for him.

A Greenville tourist court operator, T.A. Warner, notified the sheriff that a traveling man had recognized the group as the Williamsons with whom he became acquainted in Canada.

Officers picked up five of the family at the tourist court last night. Two others had left but were captured in Sulphur Springs, Tex. Mary Wilson said the $300 was in the mattress of the house trailer seized at Sulphur Springs.

Two of the men, Alexander and George, were taken to Dallas where Paul Bentley, operator of the city police lie detector, said polygraph tests showed they had knowledge of the theft.

Two women, Mary Wilson and Mary Ann Williamson, took the lie detector tests today.

The group also is wanted for questioning about a theft at McKinney, Tex.

Deputies said the group spoke with a mixture of English, Irish and Scotch accents.

None seemed perturbed about their plight but asked for a lawyer. The sheriff said he called one but none had appeared late today.

Most of the women gave their occupations as housewives and the men as salesmen.

[illegible] said he lived in Dallas. Wiliam Williamson said he lived at Louisville, Ky., and the others said they were from the Cincinnati address.

Parr Trial Is Slated

NEW BRAUNFELS, Tex., Jan. 19 (AP)—Judge J. R. Fuchs said today the trial of South Texas political leader George B. Parr on charges of conspiring to steal Benavides School District funds would be called Monday.

The judge said he expects to receive attorneys' motions at 10 a.m. in 22nd District Court. A venire of about 50 has been summoned.

Parr is one of three men charged with conspiracy.

B. F. Donald Jr. was convicted last Oct. 26 and sentenced to five years in prison. He is free under $2,500 bond pending an appeal.

A third, Givens A. Parr, is scheduled to be tried later.

The state charged that a number of checks were issued by the school district to non-existant persons for work that never was performed.

Probe Of Oil Price Hike Asked By Morse

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—Sen. Morse (D-Ore) today asked for an investigation into recent price increases made by oil producers.

He wrote Chairman Sparkman (D-Ala) of the Senate select committee on small business requesting the inquiry, stating that recent "sharp price increases" for petroleum products "should be a matter of deep concern to our committee."

Chances For Runoff Bill Appear Slim

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 19 (AP)—Chances of a runoff bill being passed in time to affect the April 2 special Senate election appeared slim today.

"It would then become a legal question," was all the governor's office would say about the possibility of the legislature giving speedy passage to a proposal requiring a majority vote in all special elections.

Other sources said flatly they believed that Rep. Joe Pool's runoff bill—even if it passed—could not affect the race for Gov. Daniel's Senate post. Such a measure would have to pass both houses by two-thirds majority or it would not be effective until 90 days after the Legislature ends.

GOP candidate Thad Hutcheson, who claims he would suffer most by having to face only one democrat opponent instead of five, said he did not believe a runoff could be held.

Present election laws do not provide for a runoff in special elections. The candidate getting the largest number of votes is elected.

New A-Bomb Tests Will Be Studied

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—New tests of tactical-size atomic bombs are being considered for the next series of experiments at the government's Nevada proving ground.

These tests, if they develop, may include the first drop of a nuclear weapon from a faster-than-sound jet fighter-bomber.

This report seemed to be in line with a statement made by President Eisenhower in his budget message last Wednesday. He [illegible] emphasis will be placed on weapons for tactical purposes with reduced radioactive fallout."

The Atomic Energy Commission up to now has made no official announcement of plans for any new series of tests at its Nevada proving grounds near Las Vegas.

However, there have been reports that preparations were under way for a series in the spring involving smaller weapon designs in the kiloton—thousands of tons—force range.

There also had been some speculation that Eisenhower might call off tests of the smaller weapons in the continental United States, as well as any big H-bomb experiments in the Pacific, pending further efforts toward a world nuclear disarmament agreement.

But the President appeared to scotch this idea in his budget message. He said that "until an agreement for limitation of armaments is negotiated and an effective inspection system is functioning, this nation will continue to increase the number and variety of nuclear weapons." Then he mentioned that emphasis will be placed on weapons for tactical purposes.

Favors Pay Boost

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga) said today he favors a pay boost for the military technicians who maintain and operate jet aircraft, atomic submarines, guided missiles and other new weapons.

Most of the remaining old-growth forests in the United States are in twelve western states.

164 BEFORE DEADLINE

Legislative Bills Pour In

AUSTIN, Jan. 16 (AP)—A last-minute push by representatives wanting to reserve their good numbers for bills saw a total 164 slide in at deadline time.

Mrs. Dorothy Hallman, House chief clerk, today said there also were 18 House joint resolutions calling for constitutional amendments filed before the deadline at 5 p.m. yesterday.

"The number was about average as compared to the last three sessions," she said.

Legislators entered bills calling for annual sessions and more money for themselves, for creating new boards, for reorganizing the old boards and doing away with the poll tax. They also are asking more money for workmens compensation.

Rep. Robert Sutton of Dallas filed a bill which would require the governor to investigate state agencies' operations and recommend reorganization, if any, to the legislature.

House Joint Resolution No. 1 by Rep. Truett Latimer of Abilene would provide for annual sessions and boost legislators salaries to $7,500 annually. His resolution, which calls for a constitutional amendment, also would increase the lieutenant governor's and speaker's salaries to $12,500 annually.

Rep. DeWitt L. Hale of Corpus Christi has a bill to increase the maximum under the workmen's compensation law to $35 a week and the minimum to $13.

A joint bill by Rep. Wade Spilman of McAllen and Rep. Don Kennard of Fort Worth would reorganize the Accident Board, remove present medical limitations on injured workers and up the maximum from $25 a week to $40 a week.

A third bill was filed in an effort to curtail loan sharks. Hale wrote the bill which would effect loans from $100 up, borrowed for a period of six months or less.

Other bills filed would:

Provide adequate housing for [illegible] for the employees of the Texas [illegible].

Require veterans seeking Texas land under the 200 million dollar veteran's land program to publish notice in newspapers of their plans.

Authorize the state highway commission funds to erect signs explaining the state law about passing a school bus which is unloading or loading children.

Authorize state governmental agencies to contract with persons seeking to lay pipelines through public land for which they are responsible.

Allow orders from the Board of Barbers examiners to be appealed to a district court.

Authorize junior college districts to charge fees for use of its buildings or property.

Require apportionment of areas in independent school districts for purposes of electing trustees and requiring candidates to file for certain area-post.

Making second conviction of wife and child desertion a felony.

Regulating maximum hours for firemen and policemen.

Authorizing cities to organize for the purpose of rehabilitating housing areas and slum clearance by issuing bonds [illegible] under the direction of [illegible].

Allow the state hospitals to provide treatment for narcotics drug addicts.

The last formal touch of their seniordom was not so formal as a dozen high school graduates and 17 grammar school graduates expected. In fact, as they gathered Monday evening in the high school auditorium, with a good crowd of parents and other visitors, they were "talked to," rather than addressed — and they liked it. Dr. J. D. 'CONSUMPTION' AND 'THE WHITE PLAGUE'

Tuberculosis is an ancient disease, as old as the history of civilization. Tubercular lesions have been found in Egyptian mummies, and old manuscripts refer to tuberculosis which was also known as "consumption" and "the white plague" during the Middle Ages. At one time, tuberculosis was the No. 1 killer among diseases. Today, relatively few people die from it because education, modern medical care, and new drugs such as isoniazid have greatly reduced the TB death rate.

Only your doctor is qualified to diagnose tuberculosis. Be sure to visit him periodically for a chest X-ray and a physical examination. OVER $5 BILLION ANNUALLY

Agriculture Department One Of Largest Lenders

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has developed into one of the nation's largest — if not the largest — single lender of funds to private citizens.

It also is one of the biggest distributors of cash grants, subsidies and payments.

In carrying out its many farm aid programs, this agency estimates that it will have made loans totaling $3,509,000,000 to farmers and their organizations during the fiscal year ending next June 30. It also predicts that it will extend $3,130,000,000 in loans during the coming fiscal year.

Payments to farmers and to states for assisting in carrying out cooperative programs are expected to total $1,750,000 this fiscal year and $1,800,000,000 during the coming fiscal year.

The department makes 10 different types of loans. The one that touches the largest number of farmers and carries the largest amount of money is the loan made on surplus crops for the purpose of helping to support prices.

Loans of this nature are estimated at $2,906,000,000 this fiscal year, but are expected to drop to $2,528,000,000 next year. This decline is expected because of the likelihood that farmers will produce smaller crops under the new soil bank program offering payments to farmers for taking crop land out of production.

Next in monetary volume are loans made by the department's Rural Electrification Administration to organized farmers for establishing and expanding rural electrification and power projects. Such loans are estimated at 239 million dollars this year and 209 million next.

Rural Telephone Loans

The department also estimates it will make loans totaling 131 million dollars this year for establishing and improving rural telephone systems. The loan fund for this activity next year has been set at 92 million.

A prolific maker of department loans is the Farmers' Home Administration, an agency set up to assist low-income farmers as well as those confronted by distress resulting from weather disasters and economic developments.

The Farmers Home Administration is making loans totaling 180 million dollars this year — and expects to make a like amount next year—to farmers for operating their farms. These loans are limited to family type farms.

This agency also is making loans totaling 54 million dollars this year to farmers for purchase of farms and to construct and improve farm buildings. It plans to lend 100 million for these purposes next year.

The agency also is offering several emergency or disaster types of loans. Loans totaling 30 million will be made this year and an estimated 26 million next year for what is called production emergency loans. They are available to farmers who have suffered production disasters and are unable to obtain credit elsewhere to carry on operations.

In this same general class are economic emergency loans, offered farmers in economic distress areas short of agricultural credit. These loans are expected to total 12 million this year and seven million next.

Loans For Livestock

Special livestock loans totaling 10 million this year — and forecast at five million next — are offered livestock producers who are temporarily unable to get private credit and who have a reasonable chance of working out of financial difficulties.

General special emergency loans are offered in areas where the department finds a need for credit that cannot be met through other means. These loans have been estimated at 12 million each this year and next.

Soil and water conservation loans are made to farmers and their associations for development of water supplies and improvement of soil. These loans are expected to total five million both this year and next.

The department also offers loans to farmers for building of grain storage bins and facilities of their farms. They run about eight million a year.

The new soil bank program tops a list of farm payment programs. The department estimates that it will pay farmers $1,131,000,000 this year and $1,160,000,000 next year for retiring some of their crop land and returning some of it to permanent grass and forests. The idea is to cut crop surpluses.

Under the agricultural conservation program, 245 million will be paid this year and an estimated 253 million next year to farmers.

Domestic sugar subsidies are estimated at 65 million this year and 60 million next. Wool subsidies are estimated at 60 million this year and 55 million next.

The department is distributing $83,600,000 in funds and 15 million worth of surplus farm products each year among the states for the school lunch program.

The department also is paying 70 million a year to the states to help pay for the cost of low-priced milk distributed at schools.

It also donates about 50 million a year to the states to help pay the cost of operating the federal-state extension service, with its county farm agent setup.

The department's Forest Service pays about 60 million a year to states with public-owned, tax-free forest lands. This money helps pay local school costs.

It also donates slightly more than a million dollars a year to states which help carry on farm marketing services.

High Gas Rates To Remain In Effect

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—The Federal Power Commission yesterday stayed its Dec. 6 order which dismissed natural gas rate increases totaling $2,600,000 annually by four independent producers on sales to Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corp., of Houston.

The producers are: Union Oil Co., of California; Louisiana Land & Exploration Co., of New York; Morris Rauch and others, Houston, and Bel Oil Corp., Lake Charles, La.

Theatre In Fort Worth Burns Down

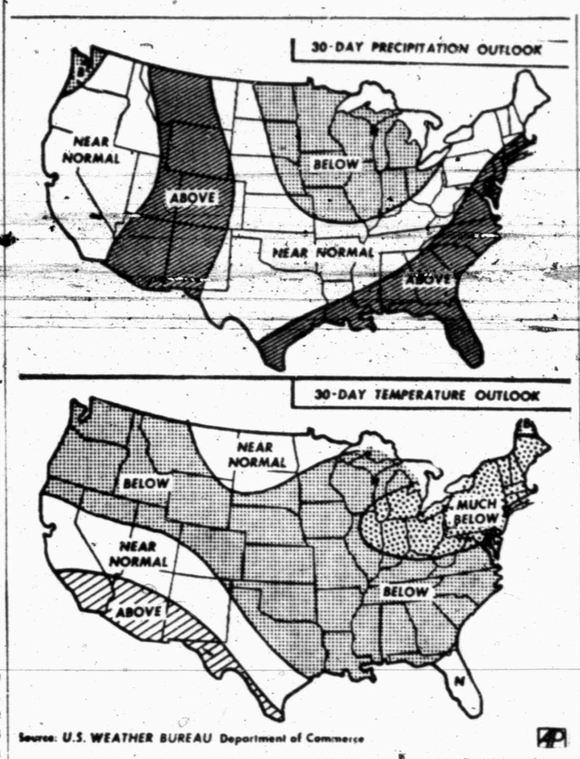

FORT WORTH, Jan. 19 (AP)—The stage of the old Majestic Theater, once trod by Al Jolson, Eddie Cantor and Katherine Cornell, was destroyed here early today in a $13,000 fire.

An asbestor fire curtain, lowered quickly by firemen when they arrived about 5:15 a.m., kept the flames from spreading to the auditorium.

One fireman, Thomas Swint, was felled by a sandbag high up in the catwalks which burned loose from its rope.

Hospital attendants said he suffered a neck injury. He was in satisfactory condition.

Large Soil Bank Acreage Seen Here

THIRTY-DAY WEATHER FORECAST—The U. S. Weather Bureau in Washington has issued these maps as the anticipated weather outlook for temperature and precipitation from mid-January to mid-February.

Within the next few days, the county Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation committee will begin to take applications for the 1957 acreage reserve program of the Soil Bank Act, and it appears the maximun amount of acreage may be signed up here.

The committee will not be able to take applications for a few days yet, according to Henry Burchett, office manager for the ASC, because forms have not yet arrived. They should be here within a week, however.

Between now and March, all those who intend to participate in the acreage reserve program of all those who desire to get into the conservation program for this year and have not done so must make application.

In the acreage reserve program, a farmer can sign 10 acres or 30 per cent of his cotton allotment, whichever is larger, in the acreage reserve.

At the time the farmer signs, he can designate whether he desires more than the 30 per cent of his allotment in the program, and if money is available, he will be notified by the ASC later.

There is now more than half a million dollars available in this county for the program.

Last year 50 per cent of the allotment could be put into the program, or 10 acres, whichever was larger. Last year's minimum acreage was two acres or the allotment, whichever was smaller. This year it is one acre of the allotment as the minimum for a person participating.

While those getting into the acreage reserve program last year had to plow up or destroy cotton, this year those who sign acreage into the program will not plant cotton on it. Acreage put into the program, of course, must be allotted cotton acreage.

Payment for the program will be made as soon as performance can be determined, sometime early in the fall.

Payments will be larger this year, an average of $27 per acre, while last year's average here was $17 per acre.

Acreage designated in the acreage reserve program can be planted in any crop other than cotton, but the crop must be turned under or destroyed 30 days prior to maturity.

In the conservation reserve program, there are now about 300 agreements signed here. Of those, about 175 signed in 1956.

Those signing conservation reserve agreements must put land in the conservation reserve for periods of three, five, or 10 years.

Any base acreage, other than cotton land in the acreage reserve, can put into the conservation reserve. For the most part, "feed land" is put into this program.

Base acreage is figured this way. All acreage planted to cotton, grain sorghum, barley, oats, wheat, and rye during 1955 and 1956 is added, then divided by two. The answer is the base acreage. The cotton allotment should be held out.

On conservation reserve land, the operator must control the sunflower, and cocklebur, and he must establish a perenniel grass. The land cannot be grazed or harvested for the period of the agreement.

Payment on conservation reserve land is $9 per acre, plus 80 per cent of the cost of establishing the grass.

Acreage can be put into the conservation reserve between now and March. Any not in the program by the deadline must wait another year for payment.

There is a total of about 235,000 acres of cultivated land in Scurry County. Already about 30,000 acres of land has been put into the conservation reserve here, and more is being signed daily.

The county's cotton allotment is about 69,000 acres.

It is possible that somewhere between one-fourth and one-third of all the county's cultivated land will be put into the Soil Bank, especially if rains do not come.

Completions Are Reduced

AUSTIN, Jan. 19 (AP)—Oil well completions continue below the total this date last year, the Texas Railroad Commission reported today.

For the week, 267 wells were completed for 916 total for the year compared to 963 a year ago. Gas well completions this week totaled 27 and 99 for the year against 104 this date in 1956.

The commission reported 154 dry holes, a total of 560 for the year and 534 a year ago.

Wildcatters brought in 18 oil and 2 gas wells, for a total of 38 and 9 gas wells for the year. A year ago, there were 4 gas wildcatters and 34 oil wells.

The number of wells plugged for the week was 212. There have been 784 for the year.

The daily average oil allowable increased 10,058 for the week making a total of 3,460,760 barrels daily as of today compared with 3,450,702 a week ago.

Moisture Conditions Vary

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 19 (AP)—Howling north winds, freezes and spotty moisture conditions made a patchwork pattern on Texas farms and ranches during the week, the Agricultural Extension Service said today.

Moisture conditions ranged from plenty for winter crop growth and soil preparation on the Gulf Coast to practically non-existant in the wheat belt, western range lands and the Rio Grande Valley, Director G. G. Gibson said.

Gibson said growth of small grain pastures for livestock has been retarded, forcing more feeding.

In the Edwards Plateau where President Eisenhower visited drouth ridden farms and ranches, V. G. Young at San Angelo said "Some small grain is furnishing a little grazing, but stockmen are feeding heavily. Many are burning thorns off prickly pear for feeding pear. There are some reports of a shortage of boxcars for hay shipments into the area."

Rio Grande Valley citrus is suffering and dryland oats are reported dying in South Texas. Vegetables are making fair progress. Range conditions remain critical making heavy feeding necessary.

Thousands of acres of pine seedlings are being planted in deep East Texas for future timber and for conservation of soil and moisture. Requests for seedlings exceeds the demand.

In northeast Texas, cold is retarding small grain and legumes. Rain is needed to replenish stockwater, very short in many spots.

Panhandle wheat growers have watched practically all of their winter crop die for lack of rain. Only in isolated places has wheat a chance even if moisture and plenty of it falls soon. Most cotton and sorghum land has been prepared and potato acreage in the Hereford area is being plowed.

Plowing and bedding of cropland is in full swing in the Gulf Coast area where rain has provided surface moisture. Early-planted pastures are furnishing some grazing, but most cattle are being fed. Shallots, leafy vegetables, carrots and cauliflower are being harvested.

Now Is The Time To Plant . . .

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

IT WAS MOST GRATIFYING to see the Tigers exploit a well balanced attack Friday night in turning back arch rival Sweetwater.

It's pretty tough to beat a team when at least four players hit in double figures. As an example, Sweetwater furnished the game's high scorer Friday in John Craft who dunked in 18 points but only one other Mustang hit in double figures.

Basketball is still a "five-man" game and unless all are producing, the road gets rocky.

The Tigers were working the ball in Friday better than we've seen them do this season. The Tigers' all-out hustle Friday, too, caught the fancy of the crowd.

It's not that the Tigers have been loafing previously but it seemed that the Bengals were putting out that extra something Friday night.

The Tigers, of course, will have to keep up their hustle and team work to get by Lamesa Tuesday night.

Lamesa is noted for its fast brand of ball and you can expect the Tornadoes to be geared to the hilt when they invade Tiger Gym Tuesday night.

On two or three occasions Friday night we noted a Tiger with a fairly good shot at the basket passing off to a team mate who had an even better range for a shot. This kind of play pays big dividends.

Defensive Play Sparkling

While passing out bouquets, we wouldn't want to overlook the defensive play of the Bengals in Friday's game. It's true that Sweetwater hit only 21 percent of her field goal aims but the Mustangs didn't get very many good shots at the hoop.

There's one thing that the Tigers will need to solve, though, in future games. And that's to figure out some way to get the ball through the hoop from the free throw line.

This is one phase of the game the Tigers have been weak at all season and it's causing some sleepless nights for Coach J. P. Ward.

It's a mystery to Ward and the players, themselves, on why the round ball just won't drop through during a game from the charity line. In practice they'll chunk 'em through at a 20-out-of-25 clip pretty consistently.

Many times Ward will have the boys to make 10 straight from the free throw line before they can go in after a practice session has ended.

Well, maybe in due time the ball will start registering for the Tigers from the free throw line. We hope it starts doing this Tuesday night.

The fans are to be commended for turning out in large numbers for Friday's game. Some say it was the largest basketball crowd in several years here.

But there were still some empty seats Friday. It would be good to see the gym full some time. There will never be a more crucial game than Tuesday's game with Lamesa here so if the gym ever fills up, it should do do then.

'Points For Polio' Drive Lagging

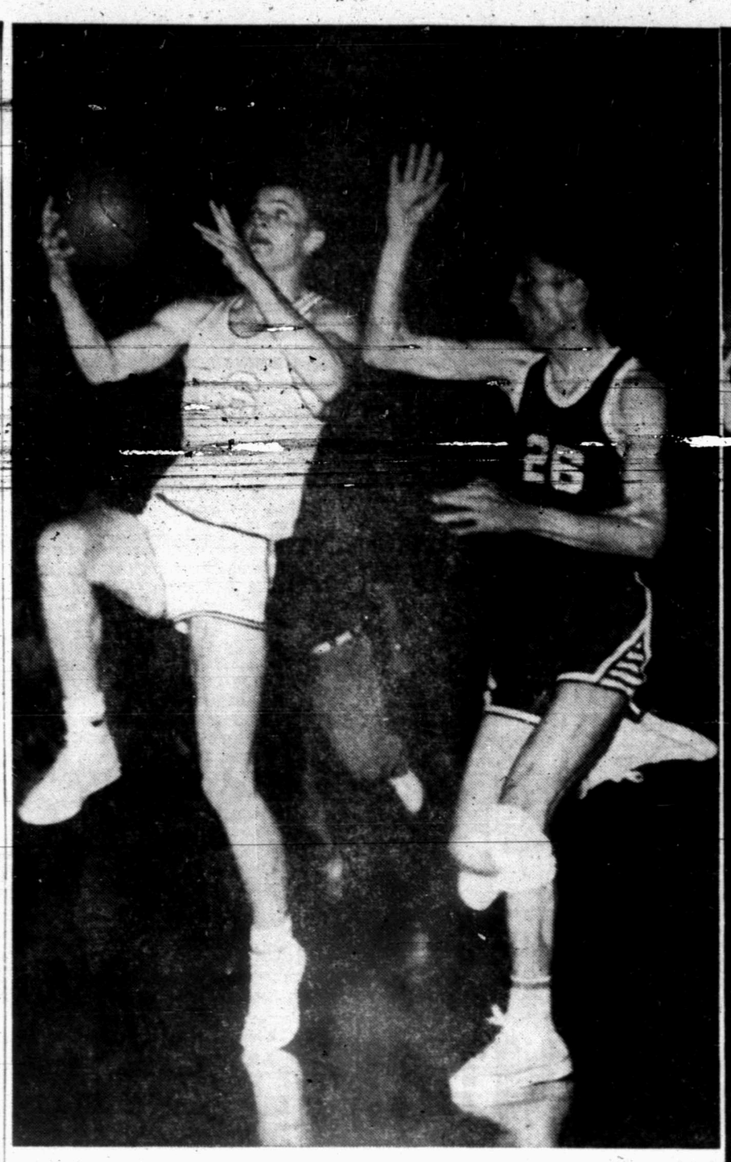

In referring to Tuesday's game, the "Points for Polio" drive is lagging at the moment, Carl Herod, the chairman has revealed.

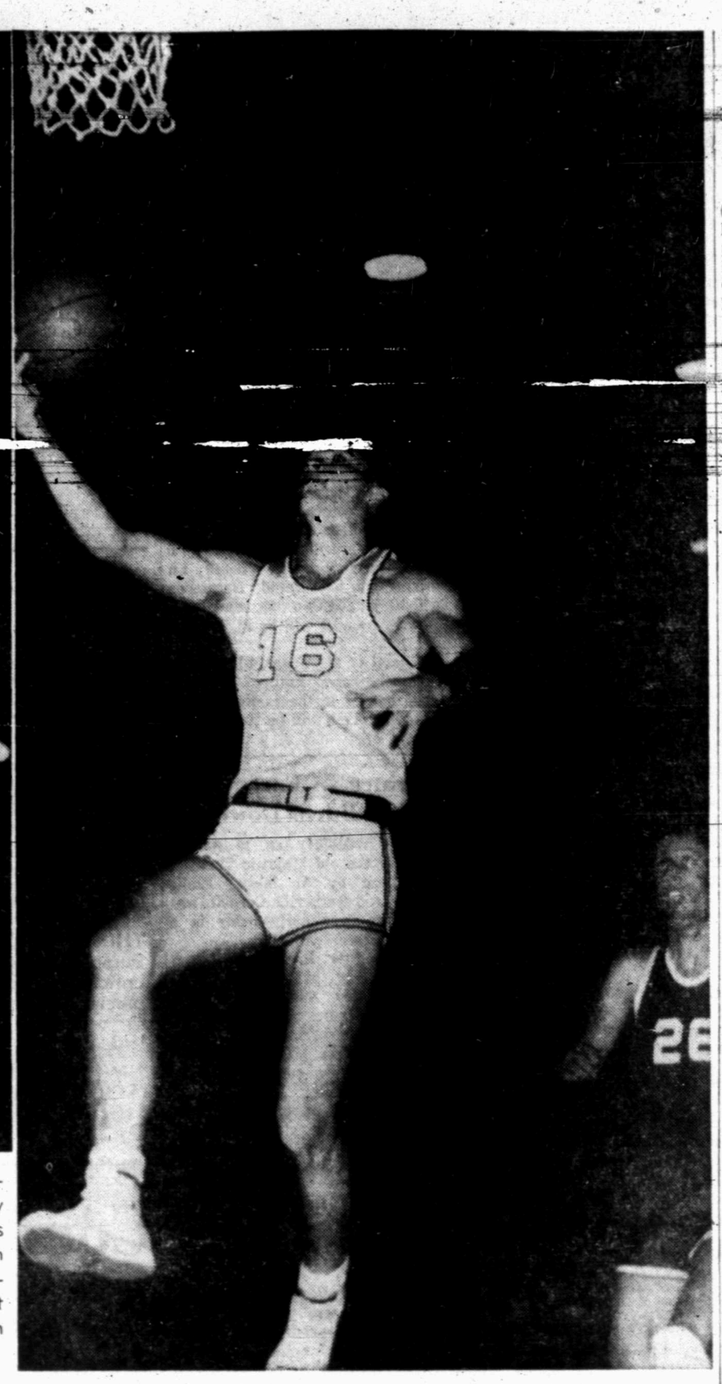

We certainly wouldn't want to let this thing fall through when so many cities around us have had such good success with it. It would sorta give Snyder a "black eye" if it didn't go over well.

You perhaps know the rules of this game but in case you have missed the previous publicity on it, here in a nutshell is all you need to do to get in on the fun:

"Pledge so much money per point the Tigers will score against Lamesa Tuesday and call Herod at 3-3762. In other words, the amount you pledge will be multiplied by the number of points the Tigers score. If you pledge a dime per point and the Tigers score 50 points, then your pledge will come to $5."

All money raised Tuesday night will go to the Scurry County March of Dimes which raises money to combat polio.

Tigers Clobber Ponies, 63-38

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

A hustling band of Tiger basketeers treated the largest home crowd of the season to a decisive 63-38 victory over the Sweetwater Mustangs Friday night that kept the Bengals in a two-way tie for the District 3-AAA leadership with Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes.

The tie will be broken Tuesday night when the Tigers and Tornadoes get together at Tiger Gym. Both the Tigers and Lamesa sport 2-0 district records.

Lamesa kept its unbeaten district record intact Friday night with a 70-48 romp over Lake View.

The Tigers, making one of their better showings of the season Friday, took command of the situation late in the first period never to be seriously threatened thereafter.

Coach J. P. Ward's Bengals led 19-9 after the first quarter, 30-13 at halftime and 47-24 at the three-quarter stage.

Sweetwater made a game of it for six minutes following the opening tipoff. After 2:30 minutes of play, the Mustangs took their only lead of the night, 6-5, on a field goal by John Craft.

Forty-five seconds later Robert Dabbs connected on a hook shot to regain the lead for the Tigers, 7-6, and the Black and Golders were never headed.

A field goal by Dwayne Prince and another by Ronnie Smith hiked the Tiger margin to 11-6 before Sweetwater made its final bid to catch up.

Craft hit a free shot and field goal to reduce the Tiger margin to 11-9 with 2:10 minutes left in the initial period. But the Tigers pulled themselves together and pumped in 8 points in the final two minutes of the first period while holding the Ponies scoreless for a 19-9 lead.

The closest the Mustangs came of catching up after that was eight points and that came in the early moments of the second canto when Craft hit a fielder to make it 19-11. Powell Berry, Smith and Prince each retaliated with field goals to push the Tigers ahead, 25-11, and the Bengals were off to the races.

The Tiger scoring attack for the night was pretty evenly distributed. Milton Ham captured top honors with 16 points but three other Bengals hit in the double figures.

Smith and Prince each tallied 12 points with Dabbs close behind with 11.

Sweetwater's Craft and Doug Wright accounted for 31 of the Mustangs' 38 points. Craft was the game's high scorer with 18. Wright, hitting nine of 11 free shots, collected 13 points.

The victory was the Tigers' 8th in 13 starts this season while Sweetwater suffered its 12th defeat in 17 outings.

The Tigers, while turning in a fine performance Friday, still were cold from the free throw line. The Wardmen hit only 7 of 17 from the charity line for a dismal 41 percent. Sweetwater hit 16 of 26 from the gratis line for 61 percent.

The Tigers, however, had a much better percentage from the field than the Mustangs. The Bengals made good on 28 of 58 attempts for 48 percent while the Mustangs hit only 11 of 51 for 21 percent.

Robert Dabbs led the Tigers on rebounds with 12, nine of which were defensive rebounds. Dwayne Prince was close behind with 11. Ronnie Smith, who played an all-around game for the Bengals at his guard post, came up with 8 rebounds, third high in the Tiger ranks. Other Tiger rebounds were six by Milton Ham, four by Powell Berry and one by Tommy Prichard.

The Tiger "B" team made it a clean sweep for the locals by outlasting Sweetwater "B" in the preliminary game, 65-55.

Leon Reed paced the the Tiger Yearling attack with 20 points. Pat Gerald was high for Mustang "B" with 15.

The game was nip-and-tuck throughout. It was 15-15 after one quarter with Snyder B pulling ahead at halftime, 34-32. The Tiger B then moved ahead 49-44 after three quarters and after thwarting a Mustang B rally in the fourth, the locals braced and coasted in with a 10-point margin.

It was the third win in seven outings for Coach V. V. Shearburn's Tiger B teamers.

Legless Man Aids Boxing In Sweetwater

SWEETWATER, Tex., Jan. 19 (AP)—A former boxer with artificial legs is coaching a team he expects to make a strong bid for honors at the regional Golden Gloves tournament at Abilene Feb. 1.

Al Poe, now employed by a food store, lost his legs when he slipped between two box cars while working as a railroad switchman two years ago.

Poe, who did considerable boxing while in the armed forces, almost single-handedly pulled the sport out of moth balls in Sweetwater. After his recovery, he first coached from a wheel chair.

Last year's team had winners in all divisions at Abilene, including the welterweight championship in the open division. However, the boys didn't have enough points to win team honors.

Poe calls his boys a group of young, ambitious fighters, eagerly looking forward to a shot at the team title with a good chance to win.

Poe's top fighter is Richard Ferrell, a hard-punching welterweight, who swept to the open division title last year. The former Sweetwater high school football star will return again this year to defend his 147-pound title. Poe is optimistic over the red-headed Ferrell's chances to repeat as regional champion, and to advance far into the state tournament at Fort Worth.

With little financial aid, Poe often pays his team's expenses to enter invitational boxing tournaments throughout West Texas, and provides as much transportation as possible.

"It's either that, or we don't go," he explains.

TL Winter Meet Today

HOUSTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—Texas Baseball League officials hold their annual winter meeting here tomorrow but only routine items are on the agenda.

A 1957 schedule and other major problems were handled at a special meeting during the minor leagues convention in Jacksonville.

Dick Butler, league president from Dallas, may make a report, however, on his studies of the Oklahoma City franchise. Oklahoma City had financial difficulties last season and Butler has made two trips there since the Jacksonville meeting.

The winter meeting is held each year in the city holding the league championship. Houston last season led the league in final full season standings, won the league playoffs and then captured the Dixie Series pennant against Atlanta of the Southern Assn.

The 1957 schedule was to have been adopted but was approved at Jacksonville.

Tomorrow's meeting is scheduled for 11 a.m. at the Texas State Hotel. The meeting will be resumed after a noon luncheon only if necessary. The Houston club will be host tomorrow night at a dinner.

American Oldsters Take National 12-5

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 19 (AP)—The American League defeated the National League 12-5 today in the second annual Oldtimers baseball game, but had to rely on present-day players to do it.

Billy Goodman and Billy Klaus, Boston Red Sox infielders, each got three hits of their team's total of 12. Goodman drove in four runs with a triple, double and single. Klaus accounted for three with a homer and two singles.

But the score wasn't vital for the rather slim crowd of less than 2,000 who turned out on a chilly day.

They came to see Dazzy Vance pitch in his old flawless form, even if there was not much smoke left on the fireball of the Brooklyn Hall of Famer. They came to see Eddie Roush run bases like a youngster of 20, almost as he did in his great playing days with Cincinnati and the New York Giants.

They saw Heinie Mahush jump with joy and wave his cap when they cheered a fine catch, just as they moaned when he had dropped a ball after a long run a moment earlier.

Another great outfielder, Paul Waner, recovering from pneumonia, couldn't make today's game.

The Nationals got started in the fifth and last inning, when the Americans called on George Pipgras, who had been slated only for umpiring duty, to pitch. The former Yankee hurler gave up three runs on only one hit, a double by Danny Litwhiler, but he walked the bases full before that.

The National League got only four safeties, one by Don Zimmer, current Brooklyn infielder, one by Hutchinson and two by Litwhiler, former Philadelphia and St. Louis outfielder, now baseball coach at Florida State University.

Johnny Vandermeer of double no-hit fame, also got whacked rudely by the winners, giving up seven hits and seven runs in two innings.

Both teams padded their lineups with still-active players, but the American League got the most good out of them.

Tech Heads Slate Stadium Visits

LUBBOCK, Jan. 19 (AP)—Texas Tech officials will visit six schools next week to study their stadiums and other athletic facilities.

Tech is planning to enlarge its stadium to between 45,000 and 50,000 capacity.

Traveling by plane, the Tech group will visit Texas A&M Monday, Rice and University of Texas Tuesday, Baylor and Texas Christian Wednesday, and Oklahoma Thursday.

Braves' Gene Conley Is Holding Out

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 19 (AP)—Gene Conley, 6-6 Milwaukee Braves' righthander who had a disappointing record last season, today said he had been asked to take a pay cut and has refused to do so.

The tall, angular pitcher declined to disclose just how big a cut the Braves proposed, but it is not believed to be the maximum 25 per cent permitted in the majors. He received about $17,000 last season.

Conley won 8 and lost 9 last season after a recurring shoulder injury kept him out of early season action.

Ex-Boston Red Soxer To Manage O-City

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 19 (AP)—Warren "Sheriff" Robinson, 35, a baseball manager in the Boston Red Sox chain for four years, was named manager of the Oklahoma City Indians at the Texas League today.

The Class AA club, directed up to the end of last season by Jodie Beeler, wound up in last place.

Robinson was manager at Albany, N. Y., in the Class A Eastern League last season. Previously he managed one year each at Corning, N. Y., and San Jose, Calif.

Grid Banquet Set Saturday

The annual Tiger football banquet, sponsored by the Quarterback Club, will be held Saturday night in the high school cafeteria.

Alvin Dark, a standout in the major leagues the past several years, will be the guest speaker.

All Snyder schoolboy football players from the junior high on up will be honored at the banquet.

Dr. Tolbert Jones will serve as the master of ceremonies.

Blue Lowery, member of the Junior High faculty here, will introduce Dark. Lowery is an old acquaintance of Dark.

Dark, prior to breaking into organized baseball, was an All-American football player at LSU in the early '40s.

Dark, at 34, crashed the major leagues in 1946 with the Boston Braves of the National League. He remained with Boston until 1950 when the Braves sold him to the New York Giants, also of the National League.

After six full seasons with the Giants, Dark was then involved in a big swap that sent him to the St. Louis Cardinals last season for the cardinals' Red Schoendienst.

Dark has played in three World Series, with the Braves in 1948, and with the Giants in 1951 and 1954.

Practically all of Dark's major league career has been at shortstop.

Dark was born in Commanche, Okla., Jan. 7, 1923. He now resides in Dallas.

Tickets to the banquet Saturday will be $1. No advance tickets will be sold.

Ira Takes One Out Of Two Games

Ira and Loraine basketball teams exchanged wins in two close games Friday night, with the Loraine boys winning one game 49-47 in two overtimes and the Ira girls winning by a bare margin of 76-74.

The boys' game was tied up 47-47 at the end of the regular playing time.

There was no score in the first overtime, but halfway through the second overtime Loraine managed a field goal and held the lead until the horn.

Loraine is tied with Westbrook for first place in the Class B district's boys division. Ira has a 1-2 district mark.

In the girl's game, Ira led all the way, with the exception of once with about one and one-half minutes to go in the game, when Loraine got into a one-point lead. Ira got a free throw to tie the game after that time and gained the ball on rebound of the second free throw shot. With about eight seconds to go, the Ira team scored a field goal for the winning margin.

Baleria Eubank led Ira with 39 points, while Peggy Taylor had 22 and Joann Ford 15. For Loraine, scoring leader was Moore with 29, followed by Baumann with 29.

The Ira girls are tied with Westbrook for district leadership with a 3-0 record.

The two teams will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday night, with the boys team following, at Ira. R. C. Taylor coaches the boys team, Roy Sallee the girls.

Tanner Signs

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 19 (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves announced today that Chuck Tanner, 27-year-old outfielder who batted .238 last season, has returned his signed contract to the National League baseball club. He was the 14th Brave to sign.

Hamner May Turn To Pitching

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 19 (AP)—Granny Hamner, only a few years ago rated as one of the top shortstops in the major leagues, may be through as an infielder.

The fiery Hamner, who led the "Whiz Kids" of the Philadelphia pennant in 1950, is going to try and make a comeback as a pitcher. He's listed as one of 20 pitchers scheduled to attend the Phillies' rookie school opening Feb. 7 at Clearwater, Fla.

Hamner, a 29-year-old veteran of nine major league seasons, told reporter Ray Kelly of the Philadelphia Bulletin that a carry-over left shoulder injury is threatening his career as a shortstop-second baseman.

Talking over the long distance telephone from his winter home at Clearwater, Hamner said, "All I know right now is that my shoulder hurts. It hurts all the time. I don't think they can do a repair job on it. In that case I'll have to grab a toeplate (the baseball vernacular for pitch) or go to driving a truck."

Hamner explained that the same left shoulder operated on last winter was bothering him, "but it's a different injury."

The operation was a success. Hamner was the club's top hitter in spring training and was the regular shortstop until he took a spill diving for a ground ball against Pittsburgh in August. He injured another tendon in his left shoulder.

Baseball To Try 'Primer' For '57 Fans

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (AP)—Baseball will try to woo new fans, particularly the women, with a neat, pocket book "primer" of the game to be distributed during the 1957 season.

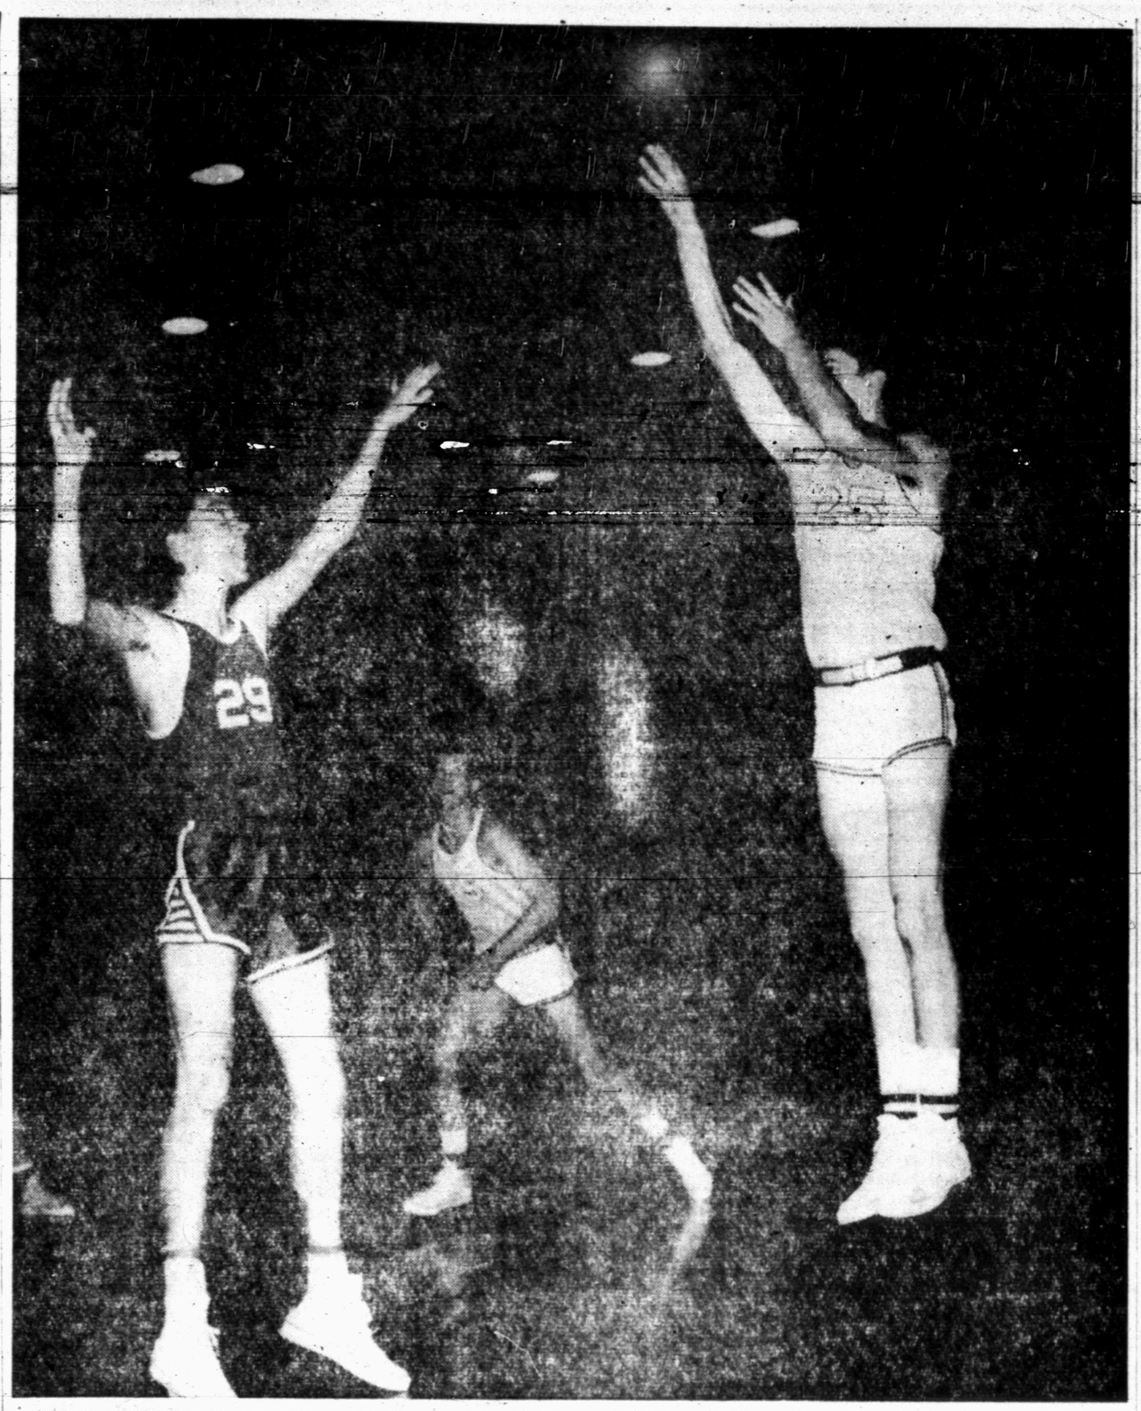

Only it won't be called a "primer" on the theory that people don't like to have others think they need a primer on any subject.

It seems too many women are saying "Oh, turn that dumb thing off" when the old man settles down to watch a ball game on television or, worse yet, refuse to let hubby out of the doghouse and into the ball park.

The "non-fan" is urged to "give-in" on the theory that "since you can't lick 'em, join 'em."

The "facts" of baseball are marshalled into a 24-page book that will have a catchy title and an alluring color cartoon on the cover when it is available for public consumption. At the present time, various revisions are being made in a brochure prepared by Wilson Lloyd, a public relations expert from the firm of Stephen Fitzgerald and co., which conducted the baseball survey for Commissioner Ford Frick a year or two back.

Lloyd appears to have done a good job of cutting through the haze of rules, exceptions, technical phraseology and slang that normally confuse what he calls the "non-fan."

PRINCE CONNECTS—Dwayne Prince, 6-5 Tiger center, hits a jump shot from the free throw circle to give the Bengals a 23-11 lead late in the second quarter of Friday night's game against Sweetwater. The Tigers went on to a 62-38 victory. Defending against Prince is Nelson Greer, No. 29, of the Mustangs. Powell Berry, No. 15, Tiger guard, looks on in the background. (Lee Watson photograph)

Milk Bowl Author To Be Honored

BRYAN, Tex., Jan. 19 (AP)—The "Elizabeth" story—the story of Mrs. Elizabeth Weafer, the Texas housewive who pioneered "Liftle Football" and set up the Milk Bowl, will be told via television and the movies.

Mrs. Weafer, wife of Eugene Weafer who built the Milk Bowl—a football game for kids—into a national institution, was featured in a magazine recently. It brought an array of fan mail like this:

"Will you please get me a husband in Texas?", "Please join my new oil and uranium company", "How about financing this new movie", "We need your endorsement on this product", "Please send picture and autograph."

There have been letters from as far away as England. The lieutenant governor of a state wanted to board his son with the Weafers to learn geology, one woman in New York wanted cactus, another desired western type dolls. A man from Oregon requested rock samples. Some folks send gifts of toys, dolls, candy and clothing. Checks or money were returned to the senders.

The geology came from Mr. and Mrs. Weafer's experience in Arizona where they accidentally started the uranium rush to the west.

Mrs. Weafer got the idea for Little Football back when she and her husband lived at Gause, Tex., where he was a school teacher.

The Milk Bowl has been played every year since and now is annually at San Antonio.

Cities Set Golden Gloves Tourneys

FORT WORTH, Jan. 19 (AP)—Dallas, San Antonio and Wichita Falls open their regional Golden Gloves Tournaments next week with Dallas boasting one state champion and two runners-up in its field.

This brings to four the number of regional centers which have launched theirq ualifying for the state tournament here, Feb. 12-16. Houston was scheduled to wind up its three-day program Saturday night.

San Antonio's tournament begins Monday and runs through Thursday night. Wichita Falls and Dallas both open Wednesday. The Wichita Falls tournament winds up Saturday and Dallas will close on Monday.

Heading the Dallas field will be the state light-heavyweight champion, Eugene Merriman. He won last year while representing Wichita Falls but now is a student at Austin College in Sherman.

Dallas' two runners-up last year were welter Teddy Shores and flyweight Bryan Daugherty. Shores definitely will move into the 160-pound class and Daugherty is contemplating fighting as a Bantam.

San Antonio is anticipating a larger, stronger field than in 1956. Seven champions are returning including two state semifinalists, bantam Zenson Rendon and heavyweight Louis Sanchez.

Although Wichita Falls is expecting a larger field than last year, just one champion will compete again. He is welterweight Jerry Jones.

Patterson, Writer To Be Honored

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (AP)—Floyd Patterson, the new world heavyweight boxing champion, and columnist, will be honored Thursday at the 31st annual dinner of the Boxing Writers Assn of New York at the Roosevelt Hotel.

Patterson will receive the Edward J. Neil Memorial plaque as "fighter of the year" in 1956. The plaque is awarded annually in memory of the former Associated Press boxing writer who was killed in 1938 while serving as a war correspondent in Spain.

Graham, a columnist with the New York Journal-American, will accept the James J. Walker award for "long and meritorious service" to the sport.

Special awards also will be made to Harold Barnes, a highly respected boxing judge who has been working in boxing since 1921, and Pete Montesi, Stamford, Conn. promoter who lost an arm and leg in the Battle of the Bulge.

Among the speakers will be Rep. James C. Healey (D). of New York, Mayor Robert Wagner, Chairman Julius Helfand of the New York State Athletic Commission and Frank Frisch. An array of former boxing champions will be introduced.

4 Pitchers For Pirates

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 19 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates said today they have received signed contracts for the 1957 season from four right-handed pitchers.

They are Art Swanson of Monroe, La.; Jackie Brown of Elizabeth, Pa.; Clarence Churn of Machipongo, Va., and George Witt of Laguna Beach, Calif.

Swanson, a Pirate bonus pitcher since 1955, hurled 12 innings in nine games last season but had no won-lost record. Brown last year had a 9-9 record at Williamsport in the Eastern League and a 1-1 mark at Lincoln in the Western League.

Churn began last season at Hollywood in the Pacific Coast League where he chalked up an 0-1 record before going on to New Orleans in the Southern Assn. where he compiled a 9-7 record. Witt had an 8-8 record at New Orleans.

SMU To Play Ohio State

DALLAS, Jan. 19 (AP)—Southern Methodist University announced today its football team would play the Ohio State Buckeyes in Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 24, 1960.

The schools also have a game scheduled in Columbus Sept. 27, 1958. The Mustangs and Buckeyes played each other in 1950 and 1951, the Mustangs winning 32-27 in 1950 and the Buckeyes 7-0 in 1951.

Athletic Director Matty Bell also announced change in schedules with Rice Institute and Texas Tech, the latter a new Southwest Conference member.

In 1958 the SMU-Rice game will be played in Dallas instead of Houston and after that the teams will play in Dallas in even-numbered years and in Houstin in odd-numbered years.

Numerous Awards Await Bob Morrow

DALLAS, Jan. 19 (AP)—Bobby Morrow, Abilene Christian College's hero of the Olympic Games, will receive the biggest share of the awards at the annual sports achievement dinner of the Dallas YMCA and Texas Sports Writers Association Feb. 11.

Not only will Morrow, the three-gold medal winner of the Olympics, get the plaques as southwest-erner of the year and Texas Amateur Athlete of the year, but he also will receive a plaque from Sport Magazine for being national man of the year in track.

Morrow is one of 12 athletes getting awards from this magazine.

Bud Sherman, sports director of WBAP-TV, will present the Sport Magazine award.

Dave Campbell of the Waco News-Tribune, president of the Texas Sports Writers Association, will present the Southwestern and amateur athlete plaques along with other awards from the sports writers.

Morrow is one of three who have accepted invitations to be present and get yearly awards. Paul (Bear) Bryant of Texas A&M, the senior college coach of the year, and B. L. Blackburn, baseball coach of Abilene High School, are the others sending in acceptances. Blackburn will be honored as high school baseball coach of the year.

Still to be heard from are Claude Gilstrap, football coach of Arlington State who is junior college coach of the year; Chuck Moser of Abilene, high school football coach of the year; Bill Batey of Laredo, high school basketball coach of the year, and Bert Kivell of Houston Lamar, high school track coach of the year.

The widow of Skippy Browning, Olympic Champion diver, will receive a plaque naming her late husband the Sullivan Award winner from the Southwestern AAU.

Bobby Bragan of Fort Worth, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates in the National League, will be the principal speaker. Dick Butler, president of the Texas League, will introduce him.

Tampa Syndicate To Buy El Paso Texans

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 19 (AP)—The El Paso Texans, Southwestern League champions last year, will be sold next week to a Tampa, Fla., syndicate.

Phil J. O'Hara, public relations man for the Louisville Colonels in the American Assn. last year, heads the Tampa group.

Pat McLaughlin, the present owner of the club, says he is selling the team to insure El Paso of regional centers which have another winner this season.

Eight members of the North Dakota hockey team come from Canada. Five of them are from Manitoba.

The new Jarman "Gum Grip" sole is one of the most sensational footwear developments in years. Made of pure gum that is just naturally better, this non-slip sole gives a remarkably light and floating comfort and it lasts forever. (We're so worked up about the new "Gum Grip" sole that we almost forgot to say that this Jarman, made of glistening cordovant leather, is an exceptionally handsome shoe, too.) Reds, Bosox Each Sign Top Players

By The Associated Press

The Cincinnati Redlegs and the Boston Red Sox each signed one of their first line players yesterday.

The Redlegs came to terms with Ted Kluszewski, their home run hitting first baseman, and the Red Sox brought Dick Gernert, outfielder-first baseman, into the fold.

Kluszewski, who said he has shed 15 pounds since the end of last season, hit 35 home runs and drove in 102 runs with a .302 batting average in 1956 despite a hip injury.

The Washington Senators bagged the signed contracts of seven more of their players bringing the total of happy Nats to 13.

Four were pitchers—Dean Stone Hal Griggs, Bud Byerly and Oscar Chininque. The other three, all infielders, were Harmon Killebrew, Herb Plews and Julio Becquer.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, Milwaukee Braves, Baltimore Orioles and Kansas City A's all announced signings.

The Pirates came up with four, all pitchers. They are Art Swanson, Jackie Brown, Clarence Churn and George Witt.

The Braves brought outfielder Chuck Tanner into the fold while the Orioles came to terms with veteran pitcher Bill Wight and the A's reached agreement with pitchers Eddie Blake and Ben Flowers.

Tatum May Take Post

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Jan. 19 (AP) — Jim Tatum, head football coach at North Carolina, appeared tonight to be the probable choice for Indiana University coach to succeed Bernie Crimmins, who resigned after a 3-6 season last fall.

Tatum, who had three undefeated-untied teams at Maryland, met tonight with Indiana trustees and the faculty-alumni athletic committee and if was believed an offer would be made.

Frank E. Allen, Indiana athletic director, told the I. U. student athletic committee he hoped to be able to announce the signing of a new coach at 10 p.m. (EST) tonight.

Allen said earlier in the day that "We have completed our screening of candidates . . . are ready to talk turkey."

You Shouldn't Try To Hurry Toilet Training For Babies

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE
AP Newsfeatures

EVERY MOTHER is anxious to have her baby toilet trained. It cuts down laundry and work. But quite aside from the benefits to be gained by this reduction in an unpleasant task a great many mothers take pride in having their babies trained earlier than their friends' children. It is because of the pressure for early toilet training that we run into so many difficulties over this particular bit of education.

You cannot expect a baby to control his elimination until he is old enough to have voluntary control of the muscles involved. No one in his right mind would expect a 3-month-old baby to walk. We know those little legs fly around with quite random movements until some time around the end of the first year, then rather suddenly the baby discovers he can make them do what he wants them to do and he begins to walk the way all the other people about him walk.

In exactly the same way he would learn to use the toilet, if we just let him alone. He would discover that everyone else went to the bathroom and pretty soon he'd do the same thing.

Most families hate to wait quite this long. So they begin giving lessons on the use of the toilet.

If you go easy it's quite possible to teach this important lesson a little before the child would learn it without teaching.

But don't start too early. It's much better to start late than too early. If you start before the baby can cooperate both of you get frustrated and you delay the time when the lesson is learned.

The very earliest you should start is after the baby can sit up well and strong by himself and responds to simple verbal expressions — sometime around the end of the first year. At about this age if your baby is one of those come at a regular time each day you can start. If your baby is one whose bowel movements come at unpredictable hours you must wait still longer.

When you start, put him on the toilet at just about the time you know from experience he will have a movement. If you guess right tell him what a good boy he is. He will love all the fuss you make. He may be a bit vague about what it was he did that brought this lovely commotion, but in the course of time he catches on, and he will do his baby best to please you and get the nice fuss that you make about him.

Of course, he is still going to have some accidents. When he does, just clean him up, but say nothing. Don't scold, don't tell him he's bad — keep your face passive. Make very sure he gets no commotion for behavior you do not want repeated.

'New Peaks Of Progress' Is Altrurian Daughters Topic

Mrs. Bet Dennis was hostess to the Altrurian Daughters who met Wednesday afternoon in the Martha Ann Woman's Club.

Mrs. Melvin Blackard, president, presided at a short business meeting during which members voted to send money to CARE for the needy people in Hungary.

The program was presented by Mrs. R. E. Patterson and Mrs. Elma Spears. Their program was [illegible] and submitted the idea that every woman must know the future.

"If either of us was asked whether we could predict what is in store for us or our families and our nation, we would either be fools or fakes if we presumed to make a prediction," Mrs. Patterson said. On the other hand, she said there is some safety in prophesying certain trends which seem clear-cut and inevitable.

She said that all were aware of the truism that the only permanent thing is change—our way of life is constantly changing and progressing. Our entire economy is based on dissatisfaction with things as they are and a desire for something different, she said.

Trends in government are an attempt to adjust to a changing population, way of life and a changing outlook toward the rest of the world, she pointed out.

She quoted Walter Lippman who wrote that our entire government, both domestic and international is based on our settlement of differences with our adversaries abroad who challenge our position in the world and our very security. He pictured our nation living for as long a period as we can foresee somewhere in between war and peace, in a condition of tension and dangerous rivalry. There will not be a time when we can devote all our resources to our domestic needs, she said.

Mrs. Patterson added that everyone realizes this preoccupation with aggressive foreign governments is bound to affect every domestic facet of our lives. But a dark and dismal picture of the world situation and its relation to our future can be relieved by a glance at many wonderful things that make our lives more comfortable and enjoyable. Also a glimpse into the future shows many more to come.

Mrs. Spears' program dealt with new trends in family living. She cited the ever-increasing population, home building, a new way of life with the drudgery taken out of housework with the aid of new and more modern gadgets and decorations, and new, or rather old foods prepared in a new way and served in the same containers there are cooked in.

Colorful Collection Of Inaugural Gowns Date Back To Early Days Of Martha Washington

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Feminine interest in the forthcoming inaugural festivities here centers on the gown Mrs. Eisenhower will wear to her second inaugural ball, and whether it will replace its 1953 predecessor in the "First Ladies' Hall" of the Smithsonian Institution.

The colorful collection already includes Mamie's first inaugural ball gown, a full-length creation of pink peau-de-soie studded with 2,000 rhinestones, designed by Nettie Rosenstein of New York, who reportedly is making the first lady's gown for this year's ball.

Grouped in the hall are plaster figures of the 36 women who have graced the White House since Martha Washington's day, each dressed in the fashion of the period. The faces are all the same, but the expression of the eyes, the stance, the hair-dress and the figure vary with the personality and dimensions of these famous women, giving them individuality.

The idea of getting these ladies together goes back to the early 1900's and is credited to Mrs. Julian James of Washington, a supporter of the Smithsonian. She got a big assist from Mrs. Rose Gouveneur Hoes, descendant of President James Monroe who owned many Monroe heirlooms.

Mrs. Taft

Mrs. William Howard Taft started the collection by donating her own white silk inaugural ball gown in 1912. It was not until May 1955 that the ladies were placed in their present regal settings. Altogether, 13 of the gowns are those which their owners wore at inaugurals.

The first ladies are probably the most popular exhibit in the national museum and doubtless will be viewed by many more persons than they ever dreamed of seeing in their lifetimes.

Museum authorities looked searchingly at photographs and portraits of the first ladies and combed historic records to create an illusion of reality behind the eight glass cases of a lifelike display in period settings. There are little clues and big ones, hidden in this hall, that have a lot to say about the silent inhabitants.

One Seated

The only seated figure in the elegant rooms, mostly patterned after White House modes, is Martha Washington — shown this sign of respect because she is the eldest of the first ladies present and also because that was the way she received guests.

Dolly Madison carries a book in her hand since, it is said, she usually entered her parlor thus armed with a ready opening for conversation and a source of small talk at the party.

These ladies were the height of fashion, no matter how strange it might seem now, and thus Louisa Catherine Adams, wife of President John Quincy Adams (1825-1829), carries a linen handkerchief one-yard square.

And just-turned-of-age Emily Donelson, wife of President Andrew Jackson's ward, who acted as first lady from 1829 to 1836, has a double-tiered incredible headdress to bring her blonde tresses just about as high as they could go.

Flapper Style

Mrs. Grace Goodhue Coolidge (1923-'29) was the luckless victim of the short dress period of the roaring '20s and appears in what is considered the most ungraceful fashion in the collection — also the only sleeveless dress.

A note of sorrow is the figure of Mrs. Franklin Pierce in somber black mourning for a 12-year-old son killed before his parents' eyes in a railroad accident. The Pierces earlier had lost two other sons.

The only other black in the collection — this time an example of an elegant costume — is worn by Mrs. Edith Wilson, President Wilson's second wife. She is the only lady with her back to the spectator. Museum officials say she wanted it that way and besides the major interest of her dress is in panels of jet sequins that ornament the back and long train.

Snyderites Are Invited

Church women of Snyder have been invited to go to Lubbock next Wednesday afternoon to hear Mrs. Spann Milner, vice-president of the United Church Women of the U. S., speak at an organizational meeting of the United Church Women of Lubbock.

FOR GOOD EATING

Lady fingers, whipped cream and maple flavored pudding make this dessert really luscious! (If you want to serve this maple dessert right away, but don't have whipped cream or lady fingers in your kitchen, follow the variations below and you can still have a maple dessert.) By using any one of several easy tricks, you can serve the pudding in a variety of ways.

There's a wonderful "Maple Charlotte", a "Maple Parfait", a fancy molded dessert and a "Warm Maple Vanilla" pudding. The base of this pudding is low cost rice cooked in water, then in milk along with brown sugar and maple syrup.

Maple flavoring adds more flavor. The pudding is chilled. Then whipped cream folded in. This is spooned over lady fingers and garnished with red and green maraschino cherries.

INGREDIENTS:

1 teaspoon salt
1½ cups water
2-3 cup uncooked white rice
1 large can (1 2-3 cups) evaporated milk
¾ cup maple syrup
¼ cup light brown sugar (firmly packed)
Maple flavoring
½ pint (1 cup) whipping cream, chilled
½ teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons beet or cane sugar
12 lady fingers, split
Red and green maraschino cherries, finely chopped for garnish

METHOD: Put the salt, water and rice in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil over a high heat. Turn the heat down low. Cover with a lid and simmer over this low heat 20 minutes or until the water is absorbed.

Stir in the evaporated milk, maple syrup and brown sugar. Cover and cook over very low heat about 50 to 60 minutes or until the milk is absorbed. The mixture should be thick and creamy. If the heat is too high, the mixture may boil over. Stir occasionally then stir frequently during the last part of the cooking. Remove from the heat. Taste, then add maple flavoring to taste. Allow to cool. Cover and chill in the refrigerator.

When the pudding mixture is cold, whip the cream. Stir in the 2 teaspoon vanilla and 2 tablespoons sugar. Stir the cold rice until creamy. Fold in the whipped cream.

Split the lady fingers and stand up around the sides and place over the bottom of a deep 10 inch pie plate or other shallow serving dish. Gently place the rice mixture over the lady fingers. Cover well and store in the refrigerator until time to serve. Before serving, arrange the cherries over the top.

This recipe makes 8 to 10 servings.

VARIATIONS:

1. Serve the maple-rice mixture warm topped with cream, milk or ice cream.

2. Spoon the hot maple-rice mixture into a fancy mold holding 4 cups. Cool. Cover and chill in the refrigerator until firm. Unmold and serve with whipped cream.

3. Cool and chill the maple-rice mixture. Fold in the whipped cream. Serve in dessert dishes garnished with cherries or whipped cream.

FASHION FORECAST:

Men To Wear Buckled Shoes

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

The next time your husband or nearest male critic makes fun of your silly shoes, you might tell him that the world's biggest shoe manufacturer says men soon will be wearing buckled shoes, and may even rival women in foot fashions.

The prediction comes from Walton Maxey Jarman, a Baptist deacon's son from Tennessee, who has made a small Nashville shoe factory into a giant corporation which now turns out most of the country's shoes in all price brackets.

Jarman also is the man who bought Tiffany's.

Over a luncheon table the other day Jarman expounded his ideas on diamonds and shoes.

"We just sort of picked up Tiffany's in a package deal," he drawled. "It came along with a string of women's specialty shops. Interesting place. Never specialized much in diamonds before, but I'm learning quite a bit about them. Funny thing, the women in the family seem to take more interest in the jewelry business than the shoe business."

The "package deal" took place when Jarman's company, General Shoe Corp., recently bought the Hoving Corp., which includes Bonwit-Teller and Tiffany's in New York and six other women's specialty shops in other parts of the country.

About men's shoe fashions of today and tomorrow —

"Well, you can laugh if you want to, but the hottest thing in men's shoe styles right now is the 'My Fair Lady' look. David Evins designed a line of men's shoes all in this general feeling, with longer, more pointed toes. One of them is a slip-on style called Lancia.

Polar Girl To Enter Rodeo Barrel Race

Connie Connell, whose name is familiar at rodeos throughout the land, will compete in the "big one" next week.

Miss Connell, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Connell of Polar, is one of 25 girls in the nation invited to participate in the invitational girls barrel race at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth. This is one of the top attractions at the Fat Stock Show, and invitation to appear in the event is considered one of the highest honors that can accure to a lady rodeo competitor.

Contestants for the event are selected with the proverbial "fine-toothed comb," which is to say that a special committee composed of representatives from various states literally "combs" the nation to assure that top flight performers appear.

Judging for the event is meticulous. The contestants not only must battle the stop watch in the barrel race, but also must find favor among judges who scrutineze several other factors, such as personality, horsemanship, ability, wardrobe, etc. The scores of the judges, along with the times posted in the race are all considered in determining winners.

Miss Connell will make four appearances in the event, the first one scheduled for Friday night.

After Improvements, Abilene Symphony Now Near Folding

By MARSHALL COMERER
The Associated Press

Despite a steadily improving standard of performance, the Abilene Symphony Orchestra is on the brink of folding.

Inadequate financing, too few musicians and small audiences are blamed.

Lacking is $15,000 to meet its budget for three remaining regular concerts and some children's concerts. The musicians are represented as determined not to go into debt to finance the remaining concerts.

The symphony held its concerts in the high school. It put on an active campaign last fall to attract concert goers.

Concerts have averaged audiences of 700, about 500 of whom were students from the city's three colleges attending the concerts on their activity cards.

Lewis Full Of Energy

Lewis is here for his first performance on television without his erstwhile TV partner Dean Martin. It will be a one-hour color show on NBC-TV Saturday night. What's he going to do? Well, what isn't he going to do?

WANTED TO BE POSTMAN

Wallach May Be Screen's Top Actor

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Nine years ago Eli Wallach was on the verge of becoming a postman. Today director Elia Kazan predicts he will become "the screen's next most exciting actor."

Wallach, a former Army medic and veteran of 15 Broadway plays, won national attention as a star in his first movie, "Baby Doll," the controversial drama of lust, frustration and revenge among a group of human boll weevils in the Deep South.

He says he doesn't quite understand all the fuss and clamor raised over "Baby Doll."

"Certainly, it isn't any indictment of the South itself," he said. "The same things could happen in almost any setting—in the Midwest, in New England, or on Broadway."

The slender, mobile-faced actor paused reflectively, then said, grinning:

"Oh, boy, and how they could happen on Broadway!"

Hollywood made a quick convert of Wallach, one of the charter members of the Actors Studio here, a professional laboratory of the theater which is highly praised by some in the profession, denounced by some as "the torn T-shirt school of acting."

Wallach, son of an immigrant Brooklyn candy store owner, wanted to act from the time as a child he used to pitch a blanket over his bed and pretend he was a member of the Foreign Legion, dying of thirst in the desert."

"In a hot Brooklyn summer that wasn't hard to pretend."

From 1945 to 1948 he appeared in several Broadway plays but he had to work as a swimming instructor and camp counsellor to keep alive.

"In 1948 I thought I had failed as an actor and was about to apply for a Civil Service job with the post office," he said. "Then director Josh Logan saw a play I put on for the Actors Studio and put me into the cast of 'Mister Roberts'."

After that Wallach starred in such plays as "The Rose Tattoo," "Camino Real," and "The Teahouse of the August Moon," in which he played the role of Sakini over 800 times here and in London.

HANDLING a straight dramatic role in "The Great Man" is singer-actress Julie London. She is starred with Jose Ferrer, Dean Jagger, Keenan and Ed Wynn.

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 19 (AP)—Ralph Yarborough, candidate for the U.S. Senate, announced today that Miss Lou Nora Spiller, assistant to former Sen. Tom Connally, would be the Yarborough-for-Senate office manager here. Miss Spiller is a Houston attorney.

Inauguration To Get Full Coverage

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—The inauguration of a president of the United States attracts thousands of Americans to Washington every four years.

The weather is traditionally bad in Washington on Inauguration Day. If it isn't raining, it's usually freezing cold. In 1841 William Henry Harrison caught a cold while standing bare-headed at the inauguration ceremony and died a month later.

Thanks to television, you can sit comfortably at home and see everything, whatever the weather. The three networks — ABC, CBS, NBC — are going all out to provide full inauguration coverage next Monday.

ABC and NBC begin their coverage at 11 a.m. (Eastern Standard Time) and CBS at 11:30 a.m.

Cameras will pick up the Presidential party as it leaves the White House and then switch to the Capitol. There Chief Justice Earl Warren will swear in Eisenhower, and Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif) will administer the oath of office to Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

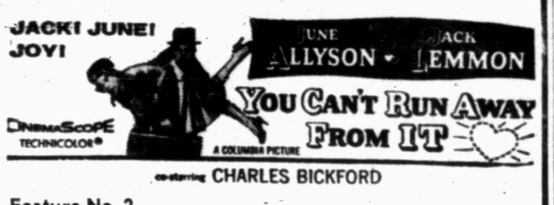

The President is expected to deliver his inaugural address about 12:20 p.m.

While the presidential party has a brief luncheon in the Capitol, network newsmen will offer commentaries. The inaugural parade will form about 1:15 p.m., the President riding at the head of it to the White House, where he will review it with government leaders.

It will be a spanking fine parade of about 20,000, including troops and Republican dignitaries, with floats and massed bands and close order marching and some of the fancy new weapons of the services.

ADULT COURSE MEETING

Two meetings will be held at Snyder High School this week of adults interested in taking night courses at the school.

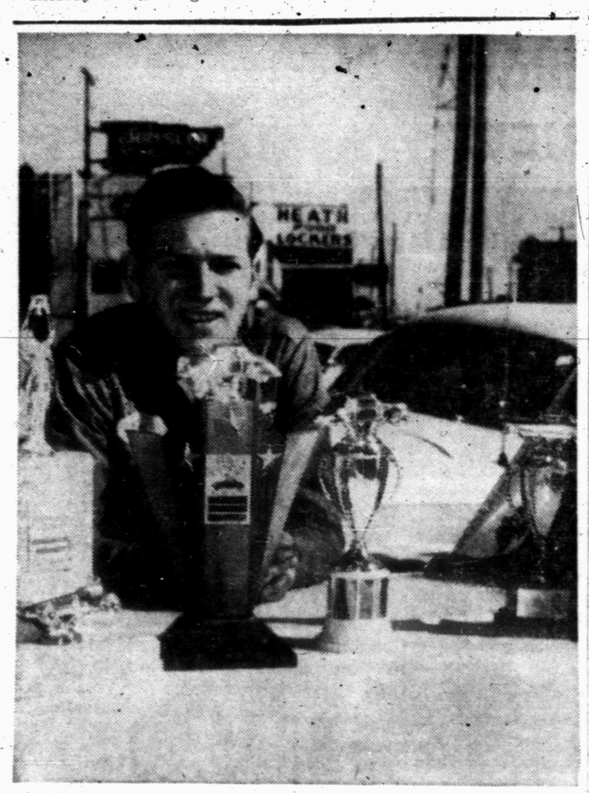

Those interested in most of the courses, including such as typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, or others, will meet Monday night, and those interested in wood and metal shop courses are to meet Tuesday night.

The Monday meeting will be at 7 p.m. in Room 110 at the high school.

The prospective shop students are to meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the high school shop building. Jiggs Falls, teacher of the night shop course, said there must be at least 15 persons interested in wood or metal work, or both, taking the course before it can be offered.

T. D. Wiman, high school principal, said at least 15 persons must be interested in any one course before it will be taught.

At the meetings this week, the courses, nights, and other information will be determined. The courses are held two nights weekly, two hours per night, for the semester.

A FEW of the 21 first place trophies won by Bill Dennis, Snyder drag racer, are shown here by Dennis, one of the 48 members in the Night Hawks, a Snyder organization of stock car enthusiasts dedicated to taking drag racing off the streets and putting it on controlled strips. (Lee Watson photograph)

IN SNYDER

Club Organized By Drag Racers

One of Snyder's newest organizations is the Night Hawks, a club made up of stock car enthusiasts who are dedicated not to promoting hot rodding but to help move drag racing off the streets and onto controlled strips.

The club, which is holding a meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the vocational agriculture room of the high school shop building, now has 48 members.

While many people consider those interested in stock cars only reckless drivers, the new organization has pledged itself against that type driving, and it closely guards its membership.

To get into the club, a man, woman, boy, or girl must have a drivers license and must be a safe driver. The club screens the driver to determine whether he is safe, and he cannot be admitted to the club if he has had as many as three tickets for moving traffic violations.

"We're not trying to build up a bunch of hot rods on the streets," Bill Dennis, one of the club's most enthusiastic members, said.

"We're trying to get that kind of driving on drag strips and prevent unsafe driving on public thoroughfares."

So far, Police Chief Travis Steele has met with the club several times, and Dennis said Steele has told club members he can already see some difference in the driving of youths here after the club has spent three months helping to promote safe driving.

Robert (Chile) Childress is president of the club, which is now working on getting its membership in the right shape to promote drag strip racing. The club is working on getting merchants to sponsor clubmembers at drag races on controlled strips.

So far, Dennis and Childress are about the only club members who have been participating in controlled drag races. There are some 50 cities in Texas which have drag strips.

Dennis, a mechanic at Lamb Chevrolet Co., has been participating in drag races some three years. He has been a resident here about one and one-half years, having moved here from San Angelo.

Since he has been racing, Dennis has entered 23 races and has taken 21 first place trophies from Kansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Texas. His most notable trophies include those from Hobbs, N. M., and from Wichita, Kan.

Dennis uses a 1956 210 Chevrolet with a 225-horse Corvette engine. It was clocked at 133.97 miles per hour at the Flying Mile at San Angelo. The fastest it was ever clocked in a regular race was 91.91 at the Caddo Mills strip at Dallas.

School Group To Meet Here Monday Night

A panel discussion on the needs and aims of industrial arts will be held tomorrow night at a meeting of area industrial arts teachers and school administrators.

The meeting, to be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the high school cafeteria here, will draw about 60 persons from the area, which reaches as far as Abilene, Ozona, Alpine, and Littlefield.

Included on the panel will be W. A. Mayfield, head of the school industrial department here, chairman; Dr. G. G. Hammer, director of vocational education and industrial arts in the Lubbock schools; Ross Hemphill, Snyder attorney and school board member; T. D. Wiman, high school principal here; Waymon Mulkey, industrial cooperative training instructor at Monterey High School, Lubbock; and William Leavitt, instructor at Sul Ross State College, Alpine.

M. M. Plexco, head of the vocational education training department at Odessa Junior College, is area president.

During the meeting, the group will tour the new junior high shop building here.
