CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WILL MEET FEB. 18, 1928

Next Saturday is the regular monthly meeting date for the Chamber of Commerce at the court house. Every member is urged to be present and in addition to that bring a friend to join this worthy organization. We need every man in Kimble County in this organization. It is not for the few, but many should be interested in the welfare of our county.

Long ago the great statesman, Benjamin Franklin, said: "We must hang together, or else we will be hanged separate." To this day we must "hang together" as in those days, even in time of peace. Therefore come out to the meeting next Saturday, February 18. Reserve your plate at 50 cents with the secretary.

PIONEER CITIZEN ANSWERS LAST CALL

Last Thursday the Death Angel again swooped down upon our county, claiming the life of another of our old citizens, Mr. R. M. Turner.

Mr. Turner was born in Leon County, Texas, January 21, 1858. Moved to this county during the year 1879.

Funeral services were held at the home of his son, Joe Turner, Elder J. S. Newman officiating. Active pall bearers were: Johnny Graham, Bob Ragland, Doug. Nance, Roy Blackburn, Lester Hodges, Carl M. Wolff, Tom Jones, Joe Bissett.

Honorary pall bearers were: J. C. Kountz, N. H. Skaggs, O. B. Fleming, J. S. Fleming, W. T. Anderson, Theo. Hunger, Hy. Murr, S. A. Griffith, John Gardner, E. Hokekamp, J. W. Boone, Joe Bishop.

JUNCTION HOTEL CO. HELD ANNUAL MEET

The stockholders of the Junction Hotel Company held their annual meeting Wednesday evening, February 8, at the Fritz Hotel.

Directors elected for the ensuing year were, J. A. Heyman, Robert Real, C. R. Stevenson, Joe Fritz and E. A. Loeffler. After the stockholders were adjourned, the directors, of which J. A. Heyman is president, and E. A. Loeffler secretary and treasurer, held a meeting.

BRUCE CAFE CHANGES HANDS

Last Thursday R. C. Bruce sold the Bruce Cafe to Pete and Jim Graves.

At present the cafe will be under the management of Pete Graves.

The name will be changed to Graves Cafe.

ANOTHER PROSPECTIVE VOTER FOR KIMBLE

Wednesday, February 8, a fine 8-pound baby boy arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert McDonough. Mother and son are doing nicely.

NEW BUICK SEDAN DESTROYED BY FIRE

Rocksprings.—Last Saturday, what came near being a serious accident occurred on the Camp Wood highway when the new Buick sedan belonging to Mrs. Balentine, driven by her 16-year-old son, Jack, turned over and burned up.

Jack, accompanied by his 12-year-old sister and a young cousin had persuaded the mother to let them take the car for a drive. They had driven several miles out the highway at a moderate rate of speed when the accident occurred. Just how or why it happened no one knows. However, when viewed Sunday there were no indications of the car having left the road. What was left of it was still on the highway.

That neither of the children were hurt is the most mysterious part to solve.

Albert Mayfield of Laredo spent the week-end here.

ANOTHER RAILROAD MEETING HELD

At a recent meeting in San Antonio, the San Antonio North-west Railroad matter was again under discussion and we had an unofficial observer present at this meeting. He reports the Frisco is interested in this railroad and that the shippers in San Antonio pledged at the meeting 40 per cent of their tonnage to the new line.

We feel that when the final show down comes that we are going to get favorable consideration from any road which contemplates the construction of a line from San Antonio to San Angelo. We have the largest unserved area in Texas that has tonnage sufficient to justify the construction of a railroad and in the final analysis no line is going to be constructed that is economically unsound or that is faced with engineering problems that render the construction impracticable.

Our Kimble County Chamber of Commerce is doing what they can to keep in close touch with the situation.

BASKET BALL GIRLS PLAY TWO GAMES

Thursday, February 9, the Junction basket ball team played Rocksprings. The game ended in a score of 28-7 in our favor. Our boys lost by a score of 20-11. As usual, Rocksprings extended her friendliness and hospitality to the entire crowd.

Saturday, February 11, the girls played Sonora, the game ending with a score of 15-11 in Sonora's favor.

Again we should commend our girls for their good manners, refinement, clean sportsmanship and for everything that makes a real girl and ball player.

Up to date, our total score stands 113 with 78 for the combined score of our opponents.

We play Sonora here Saturday, February 18, at 2 o'clock. Come, help us win and boost your town and school.

IVY ECHOES

The Ivy community was blessed with several showers of rain last week.

The Whitworth school came over last Friday and played both the boys and girls an enjoyable game of basket ball. The score for the boys ended in 8 to 4 in favor of Whitworth. The score for the girls was 14 to 6 in favor of Ivy. The London boys arrived about the same time as Whitworth and played the winning team which was Whitworth and the score was 24 to 4 in favor of London.

Loma Pearl was the visitor of Ola Walker Sunday afternoon. Mrs. M. A. Young is visiting her daughter, Mrs. H. H. Kane, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Gardner visited Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Grobe Sunday.

Mrs. Alzada Pearl is visiting her son, T. B. Pearl, this week. Valeta Cope was absent from school Monday.

Mrs. Marian Davis has been on the sick list, but is improving.

Miss Mayo, teacher at Ivy, visited at Mason during the week-end.

T. J. Lange and family attended church at London Sunday night.

Bro. J. S. Kelly of Hext preached at London during the last of the week.

The Whitworth people who visited at our school on last Friday were a jolly bunch. We appreciate their coming and we feel that the ties of friendship are more truly cemented together between the Whitworth and Ivy schools as a result of their coming.

School motto: "Heights of great men reached and kept,

Were not attained by sudden flight. But they, while their companions slept,

Were toiling upward in the night."

Junction Was Host to the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association February 9th

On Thursday of the past week the Executive Committee of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association of Texas convened in Junction for its first quarterly business meeting of the new year. Through the courtesy of the local school trustees, the Schreiner High School auditorium was utilized for this meeting. The District Court, which was in session, recessed for the day and many of our sheep and goat men who otherwise would not have enjoyed the privilege of attending this meeting were present.

At 9:30 a. m. president T. A. Kincaid of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association of Texas, turned the meeting over to the president of our local Chamber of Commerce, who introduced Judge J. B. Randolph to the membership and gathered visitors. In a few fitting words Judge Randolph extended the hospitality of our community to the visiting stockmen. Judge Coke R. Stevenson was in turn presented who in his usual versatile manner completed the welcome to our little city. Both speakers were well received and roundly applauded. President Kincaid introduced Mr. Roy E. Aldwell, stockman and banker of Sonora, Texas, who responded in an able manner to the addresses of welcome.

The committee immediately went into a business session. The secretary called the roll of officers and the response was gratifying inasmuch as the largest membership of the Executive Committee were present that have attended any of its meetings in recent months. The minutes of the preceding session held in Brady and the financial conditions of the organization was presented by secretary N. W. Graham of Ozona. His book showed a balance of $6,237.72.

The entire report was approved and the president then made his report of a trip to the National Wool Growers' Association in which the fact that our sheep and goat men were not contributing their proportionate part to the expenses of the construction program supported by this organization was emphasized and from the response of visiting stock raisers, there is no doubt but what this matter will not be overlooked in the future, in fact, a resolution was adopted later in the day to solicit a contribution from the sheep and goat raisers of Texas not to exceed $200 for any one county to be contributed to this organization devoting its time to the interest of sheep and goat raisers.

At the noon hour the Parent Teachers' Association served a chicken dinner to the assembly of approximately 250 people during which time the local band rendered a musical program which was highly appreciated by all those present. The following resolutions were presented and adopted by the committee, to-wit:

WHEREAS, this Association has heretofore adopted the name Chevon for all goat meat in the belief that by so doing they could help the goat raisers to put the name before the meat eating public, help remove a prejudice now in the minds of many people against the name goat, and popularize the use of such meat, which we know to be from one of the cleanest of our edible domestic animals, and

WHEREAS, the action of our Association in adopting the said name chevon has been made known to the United States Department of Agriculture, and to the Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, and

WHEREAS, in deference to the action of our Association the Department of Agriculture and the Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, have recognized and authorized the use of the name "chevon," but at least a number of them, persist in the use of the term "goat meat," some of them basing their action in so doing upon the claim that the use of the term chevon has not been officially authorized, and

WHEREAS, it is the desire of this Association that packers consistently and universally use the name "chevon,"

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Executive Committee of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association of Texas, in session at Junction, Texas, February 9, 1928, that we respectfully request the Hon. W. M. Jardine, Secretary of Agriculture, and Hon. John R. Mohler, Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, to notify and inform the packers throughout the United States that the name "chevon" has been officially adopted, and that they request such packers hereafter at all times to use such name, and to stamp all carcasses of goats "chevon."

WHEREAS, in some of the counties in West Texas, where sheep and goats are raised, the people by the construction of a few wire fences, and persistent trapping, the growers have practically gotten rid of wolves and other predatory animals, but

WHEREAS, in some such sections, the growers, in order to get rid of the few remaining wolves, have offered large rewards for the capture or killing of wolves, and

WHEREAS, in some such sections unscrupulous persons have contracted to capture or kill the few remaining wolves in consideration of the large reward offered, but have, instead, captured wolves in other sections where they were numerous, and have secretly brought them in and offered their carcasses, and have collected the rewards by fraudulently representing that they were caught in the sections where the reward was offered, and

WHEREAS, it is our desire to prevent a repetition of such practice, and to have prosecuted and convicted those perpetrating the swindle above stated,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Executive Committee of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association of Texas, in session at Junction, Texas, February 9, 1928:

That we respectfully request State Senators and Representatives, and particularly those representing the counties from which the Association draws its membership, to make a study of the question, and, if they deem it advisable, to introduce and seek to have passed a bill making it an offense to transport any predatory animal from one county to another;

That we tender the services of the Association in the prosecution of anyone against whom there is credible testimony tending to show guilt in connection with any swindle such as described heretofore perpetrated.

WHEREAS, our Association has carefully selected committees having in charge sales conducted in conjunction with our Annual Conventions, and

WHEREAS, the committees so appointed have promulgated rules tending to secure the attendance of reputable breeders offering their stock for sale under circumstances securing purchasers against deception and unfair practices, and

WHEREAS, no partiality has been shown, but all breeders disposed to act fairly and in an exceedingly slow in making the reports required by law and we now take this method of warning all parties charged with the making and filing of these (Continued on last page)

GRAND JURY REPORTS ITS FINDINGS

THE STATE OF TEXAS, COUNTY OF KIMBLE: In District Court of Kimble County, Texas, February Term, A. D. 1928.

To Honorable J. H. McLean, Judge of said Court: We, the grand jury, having fully investigated all matters brought before us and feeling that we have accomplished everything possible by reason of such investigations, now beg to be finally discharged.

As a result of our efforts we have returned into this honorable court 16 Bills of Indictment, 10 of which show felony offenses and 6 showing misdemeanor violations.

The conditions as to law and order in our county show to be generally good; however, we desire to call the attention of this court to the fact that the bootlegger is still busy plying his trade in Kimble County. This is an evil that should be stamped out. As long as the bootlegger is allowed to sell whiskey to our boys, just so long will crime flourish in our county. We contend that the bootlegger is responsible for a large majority of the crime that has been committed and is now being committed in Kimble County, and from our investigations we are free to say that unless the peace officers of this county have the co-operation of the good citizenship of our county in an enforcement of the liquor laws of this State we need not look forward to any change in the condition that now exists here. Of course we know that the officers are charged with law enforcement, but on the other hand, these officers can accomplish nothing without the support of the citizenship of the county. If the people of Kimble County desire the laws enforced, then we call upon them to lend their cooperation to the officers of the law charged with that duty.

We find certain persons in this county have been in the habit of manufacturing what is commonly known as "home brew" and selling the same to whoever might purchase it; we find it a common practice of some persons in this county to attend dances given in this county and carry with them to said dances both whiskey and beer; they will tank up on this stuff and either engage in fights or else their conduct is such that those who might desire to enjoy themselves at said dances are forced to leave and turn the dance halls over to them. This is an appalling situation that such conduct should go on in a civilized country, and such conduct can only lead to bloodshed and other violations.

We find it difficult to properly investigate some of the matters that we have had before us on account of the fact that an attempt has been made to cover the truth and instead of getting light on such matters we have been confronted with testimony that we knew was false, given by certain persons in a deliberate attempt to protect persons who ought to be in the penitentiary for transgressing the laws of our country.

Article 781 of our penal code provides: "Any person who shall violate any rule of the sanitary code of this State relating to vital statistics, or who shall fail to perform any duty imposed on him by said rules herein referred to, shall be fined not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars. Whoever shall falsely or fraudulently furnish any information for the purpose of making an incorrect record of a birth or death shall be confined in the penitentiary not less than one nor more than two years." In this connection we have examined the records of deaths and births kept by the County and District clerk of this county and we find, in connection with other evidence before us that parties charged with this duty in some instances

BUSINESS TRANSACTED IN THE DISTRICT COURT

The regular panel of petit jurors for the second week of District Court answered the roll call at 9:00 Monday morning and the criminal docket was called for trial. In the case of the State of Texas against Howard Whitworth, there was some delay occasioned by the absence of witnesses and the case was passed to 1:30 p. m., when both sides announced ready. Mr. Whitworth defended his own case and after a trial lasting throughout the afternoon the case went to the jury after argument by both sides at five o'clock. The jury was out only a short time when they brought in a verdict of not guilty.

In the cases of the State of Texas vs. Homer Fleming and the State of Texas vs. Troy Fleming, both defendants were brought into the court room and arraigned. The court on its own motion and by the agreement of the attorneys changed venue in the case after this court to Kendall County and set down the case by special order to be tried on March 5th of this year.

The Grand Jury returned fifteen bills of indictment, ten felonies and five misdemeanors. Our information to date that most of the cases are for violations of the liquor law.

POLO

(By Edwards Plateau Correspondent)
A fourteen team polo tournament this week and next in San Antonio. Locally we are backing the Camp Wood cowboys, of course. If they win their first game Tuesday, the 14th, against Headquarters Eighth Corps Area, army team, they will play again Friday, the 17th, against the winner of the Ninth Infantry vs. San Antonio Freebooters game. Then the semi-finals of the Southwestern Circuit Cup Event will be played Monday, February 20th, and the final of championship game will be played at Breckenridge Park February 22.

A second tournament begins immediately afterward, called the Southwestern Elimination Event. It doesn't eliminate anybody that I ever heard of—it means just more polo, I think, Camp Wood's first game is with Camp Marfa in this second series.

Fredericksburg might do a little better this year since Junction gave them a couple of private lessons in the summer at Kerrville, but "pre-game mention" is all she'll get, is the prophecy of this scribe.

A ten thousand dollar polo field, stables, grand stand, etc., and hopes for a hundred horses in constant training sounds like real polo at Menard. It will furnish us all a closer market for our horses. Personally, however, I should very much have preferred writing that ten thousand dollar check payable to Texas orphanages and played polo in a pasture with a ten thousand dollar grand stand of automobiles. But we all know that Menard has plenty of thousands more dollars where that ten came from, and maybe an orphanage donation check would flare up there like the polo idea has done. "Cowboy Polo Clubs of West Texas Donate Ten Thousand Dollars to Texas Orphanages."

Wouldn't that be a real headline for Texas newspapers to send out over the world? Sure enough, fellows, couldn't you get the vision? That would be real living. I'd rather play polo any day than eat, but every man knows polo is a small play game compared to this bigger game. Junction surely wouldn't bat an eye at sending Texas orphanages a thousand dollars in the name of her polo club. And a thousand more in a few months in the name of something else. The friends, members and backers of Edwards Plateau Polo Club would put up their thousand in a week I am sure. Crooked Hollow, Copperas, Watson Divide, Murr, San Angelo and Camp Wood could all do as much. Couldn't we do this thing with a swagger, or in a quiet matter of fact way, if you prefer that phraseology, by just saying, when the committee came your way, "Why, sure, fellows, how much do you think is my share? Don't want to cut some other fellow out of a chance to give. If you need another one like that, call for it." Write a check payable to your favorite batch of orphans, fold it once and flip it across the table. Could we do that? Can you get a vision of how much it would mean?

See here, Mr. Ranchman, without the Lord, you couldn't grow a single blade of grass, or single live oak leaf or a single cedar post or a foot of wire. The same Bible that teaches some man with a criminal tendency not to steal your live stock, also teaches that you should pay a tithe to the Lord. And you haven't done it; you're behind. And you Mr. Townman, you are behind, too. And you, Mr. Broke Man, do you ever feel down in your heart of hearts that you are broke because you didn't play the game fair? I have, and knew that my feelings were correct.

As I sit here at my ranch desk at one o'clock at night, I know how much good a move like this would do all of us, and what a change it would make in some of us, and how far it would go to make popular the things that should be popular, and how it might help us to start putting first things that should be first. And how I wish three or six or ten good men and true would call me or write me and say, "Sure; we can pull that stunt you were talking about. Let's meet at such-and-such a place and plan the details."

THE CALENDAR

A questionnaire was sent to 1,000 representative firms the other day in regard to a new calendar of thirteen 28 day months.

George Eastman head of the Eastman Kodak Company, sent out a statement after the meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce, which endorsed the movement, in which he says that the new calendar will consist of weeks in which every day of the month falls upon the same week day.

This plan will probably receive the support of the League of Nations and a committee will be appointed in each nation to ratify the proposal.

This is a valiant struggle of common sense against tradition and its outcome will be looked upon with interest.

This plan for the new calendar not only would make every date fall on the same day of the week in each month, but, as this would only result in 364 days, New Year's Day would be a holiday and called January 0. Also the extra day for Leap Year would be designated by a cipher and a new month would be inserted between June and July. This month would be called Sol because it would contain the solstice in both the Northern and Southern hemispheres.

Even if every nation accepts the new calendar it can only be put in effect after 1928, when New Year's Day falls on Sunday. After that date, if the new plan is successful, we should have no more calendars, as it could be easily told what day of the week any date is.

Mr. Eastman and his co-workers deserve a great deal of credit for endeavoring to make this calendar a success as it would undoubtedly be of great convenience to the world.

Almost all business executives in America are in favor of it and it would undoubtedly do a vast deal of good in correspondence and in making our records. Of course, the past would have to be taken into consideration, but a calendar would only be needed for the past and not for the future, and those who look forward are more apt to favor the new plan than those who look backward habitually. The calendar for one week would be for all weeks, as follows:

S	M	T	W	T	F	S
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
8	9	10	11	12	13	14
15	16	17	18	19	20	21
22	23	24	25	26	27	28

KNOW TEXAS

Texas is usually the seventh or eighth ranking state on the basis of value of lumber produced. The production of sawed lumber will average about 1,500,000,000 board feet a year, and the value is placed at about $55,000,000 annually.

Texas has more railroad mileage than any other state. At the last report there was a total trackage of 21,536 miles. Illinois ranks second.

Texas has in all 121 universities, colleges and academies.

There were 84,104 hunting licenses issued in Texas in 1927.

More than 600 kinds of birds, local and migratory, are found in Texas.

Texas mineral resources are largely unexplored, yet she contributes six or seven per cent of the total mineral values produced annually in the United States.

MOTOR ACCIDENTS IN WINTER TIME

While figures compiled by the National Safety Council show that automobile accidents decrease in cold weather, it is believed that in proportion to the number of cars on the road and their mileage—more motorists come to grief in winter than in summer. To the car owner winter brings troubles of its own. One of these is steam or frost on the windshield and the resulting obstruction of the view ahead.

This danger, of course, is confined to closed cars and may arise on a very cold day when the windows are tightly closed for warmth and the outside cold causes the moist air inside to condense on the glass. While the condensation of steam can be prevented by opening a window and lowering the inside temperature, this has decided disadvantages when the temperature hovers around zero.

One of the remedies now recommended is glycerine. Since radiator glycerine came into general use as an anti-freeze, many car owners report success in keeping their glass free from steam and frost by rubbing it with a glycerine-moistened cloth. Some make a practice, when they have their cooling systems serviced with radiator glycerine, of filling a small bottle with the anti-freeze mixture and keeping it in the tool kit in readiness for this emergency.

The peculiar qualities which keep glycerine from freezing even at 30 below zero and prevent its evaporation enable it to form an excellently thin film. This film clings to the glass and gives it an extra smooth finish without interfering with its transparency. In scientific terms, the glycerine "reduces surface tension," that is, it makes the glass so slippery that the tiny drops of water resulting from condensed steam cannot stick on.

A bottle of radiator glycerine in the tool kit also may prove handy in a sleet storm. Rubbed on the outside of the windshield it retards the formation of ice and helps the wiper to keep the glass clear. However, when the combination of rain or sleet and freezing temperature is just right, neither glycerine nor any other treatment yet discovered will prevent the formation of ice for any great length of time.

When glycerine is not available, motorists resort to various devices to keep their windshields and windows clear of steam or frost in very cold weather. One is to polish the glass with newspapers. The chemicals in print-ers ink seem to give the glass an extra smooth finish. Plug tobacco rubbed over the glass is effective to a certain degree, because it contains glycerine. Some car owners recommend a little salt on a moistened cloth. The salt treatment is especially good to remove ice and frost that have already formed on the glass, but the protective film it leaves will not last nearly as long as the glycerine film.

EFFORT TO PREVENT MEXICAN IMMIGRATION

Corpus Christi.—Every possible effort to prevent Mexican immigration from being placed on a quota basis will be made by the South Texas Chamber of Commerce, according to a statement made today by Ray Leeman, manager of the organization.

Leeman said that the South Texas Chamber of Commerce was opposing the quota basis because approximately 50,000 Mexican laborers were needed each year to gather the cotton crop. He declared that practically all of these Mexicans who came over to pick cotton returned to their native country as soon as the crop has been gathered.

If Mexican immigration should be placed on a quota basis, between 1,000 and 1,200 Mexicans are all that would be allowed to enter Texas each year. The result of this would be a tremendous shortage of labor in the cotton fields of South Texas.

R. H. Smith, executive vice-president of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce, plans to leave shortly for Washington D. C., where he will represent his organization at a hearing on the immigration question which will be held before a congressional committee.

Representative John Box of Jacksonville, which is in district number two, recently introduced a bill bearing his name into Congress asking that Mexican immigration be placed on a quota basis.

RECORD SHIPMENT OF PEANUTS TO CHICAGO

Chicago.—What is said to be the largest shipment of peanuts ever made to one concern is now in progress from Southern points to a candy bar manufacturer here. The consignment of 400 carloads of shelled peanuts, weighing more than 12,000,000 pounds, and represents only a portion of the company's yearly requirements.

If the goobers in this movement were laid end to end, they would encircle the globe nearly two and a third times, as they would make a strip more than 57,000 miles long!

The peanuts are consigned to the Baby Ruth Candy Company, which uses approximately 45,000,000 pounds of the shelled product yearly, or one-tenth of this country's total yield, in the manufacture of 1,000,000,000 candy bars, according to Otto Y. Schnering, president.

"The rapidly increasing popularity of peanuts, roasted in the shell, salted and in candy bars, as well as in the form of peanut butter, oil and flour, will soon demand a yearly production of 1,000,000,000 pounds in this country," Mr. Schnering said. "There were 1,132,000 acres planted in peanuts in Southern states last year, which produced a yield of 866,822,000 pounds of farmer stock (unshelled), or approximately 440,000,000 lbs. of shelled product. The growing knowledge of the dietary value of the goober among the people of this country has made the peanut a leading money crop in the program of crop diversification now gaining ground in the Southern states."

MAIN STREET

Life is full of paradoxes, and among these may be listed the fact that the noted ballyhooer Sinclair Lewis, who some years ago made himself famous by punching Main Street in the jaw, so to speak, is himself a product of that very "Main Street" for which he expressed such contempt. This in itself would not be significant. But one could string a list of names across the continent, and every name would be that of a successful and worthy man whose birthplace was some Main Street or other.

Main Streets are not only charming places, American satirists to the contrary, but they are breeding spots of genius. Our small towns, aided by the little red school-houses, have turned out many men who are shaping the destinies of America today.

Colonel Lindbergh, our aviator extraordinaire and Ambassador of Good Will, first saw the light of day in a small town; Calvin Coolidge, the President of these United States, is another of many examples of Main Streeters that might be given; and there are, too, John J. Pershing, Henry Ford, James A. Reed, Charles G. Dawes and William E. Borah.

And so Main Street has much of which to boast. True Main Street is not inhabited entirely by geniuses, but neither is Broadway.

Main Street needs no defense. The calibre of its citizens, both those who still live on it and those who have left it for larger spheres, speaks for itself.

Hold your head high, Main Street! Those who flout your failings are too blind to see your virtues.

Probably three-fourths of the beef cattle sold from the range are marketed during the last five months of the year. About one-third of them are usually shipped out to the feed lot of the Corn Belt as stockers and feeders. Besides improving the quality and condition of a large number of cattle from the range, the fattening of steers in the Corn Belt tends to equalize the number of cattle slaughtered at different times of the year.

THE PRESIDENT ON THE PRESS

President Coolidge, in a recent address at the dedication of the National Press Club's new magnificent Washington home, gave it as his opinion that the American press has become invaluable to business, but has lost much of its power in molding public opinion.

The press "appears to have lost much of its power as a director of public thought," declared the President, and since he made the declaration newspapers throughout the country have been debating the question.

We do not share the alarm evidently felt by the nation's leader. We think the small town press, at least, has always been, is, and always will be a moral, social and political force for the betterment of business.

The Power of The Press as a formative instrument in directing the public can not, shall not die. Often we hear persons lament the good old days, when Dana and Greeley and others, with their so-called personal journalism, had a tremendous influence. Today there are new Danas, new Greeleys, new Bennetts—but they have not about them the halo of romance which always hovers about the past and makes it seem somehow more glorious, more colorful than the present.

EVERY CHILD has a right to the Protection of ICE every month in the year

In every community there are certain families who seldom if ever take ice.

This not only results in great waste of food through spoilage, but frequently causes illness, particularly in the case of young children.

Are you risking your children's health by neglecting to provide this important safeguard?

Ice is so plentiful and cheap that every family can easily afford it.

Friday night Mrs. Jas. A. Miller complimented the members of the League with a party in the Sunday School room at the Methodist church.

Valentines were hung about the room and a pretty valentine mail box added to the attractive decorations. Red lemonade and heart-shaped cookies iced in red, were served at the close of the evening.

If a meringue is tough and watery it has been cooked in too hot an oven. The heat toughens the protein and causes the moisture to ooze out in drops of sirup. LETTER FROM FIRE INSURANCE DEPARTMENT

Mr. J. A. Heyman, Councilman, Junction, Texas.
Dear Sir:

KEY RATE

We notice from press reports that your city is arranging for a bond election for the installation of a water works system, which we presume has some bearing upon a future Key Rate.

We wrote you under date of January 4th in connection with this matter, but upon receipt of this additional information we desire to further call your attention to the fact and urge that you see that the following is done.

Upon completion of plans and specifications you will please arrange to furnish this office with a complete set of each, being sure to submit them direct and not through any other person. We would also recommend that you do not pay any attention to what someone else says with regard to the installation of a water works, but consult with this office direct and be sure to insist that all mains in the mercantile district be not less than 8 inches in size, to be installed on the streets and not in the alleys. That fire hydrants be installed at each street intersection in the mercantile district, both in front as well as in rear of the blocks. Also, do not allow any 4 inch pipe to be used in this installation and insist that nothing less than 6 inch be installed in the residence sections.

Hydrants should be located in the residence sections at approximately every other street intersection. Let us again urge that your city officials take up these matters direct with this office upon completion of plans and specifications so that we can advise you direct as to any probable reductions which will occur upon the completion of these improvements.

Trusting to hear from you at an early date, we beg to remain Yours truly,

George C. Hawley,
Chief Engineer.

ANOTHER OLD TIMER HAS PASSED AWAY

R. M. Turner, born in Leon County, Texas, January 21, 1858, died in Junction at 11:50 p. m., February 9, 1928, at the home of his son, Joe Turner.

August 8, 1878, he was married to Miss Emma Scarborough at Oakville, Texas, and in the year 1879 they moved to Kimble County. To this union were born eleven children, nine of whom are living and were present at his funeral, the names of which are: Mrs. Pearl Hardin of El Paso, Mrs. Bertie Munn of Junction, Jack, Joe and Watt Turner of Junction, Bob Turner of Rock Springs, Mrs. Ethel Taylor of Valentine, Mrs. Sylvia Ken of Lordsburg, New Mexico, Clarence Turner of Sabinal, and Mrs. Varda Newsom of El Paso, a grand daughter whom he reared from infancy, two brothers, Bill Turner of Oklahoma, and John Turner of Brownwood, and his good wife are left to mourn his death.

For forty-nine years Uncle Bob Turner has been a citizen of Kimble County. A greater tribute could not be said of him than in Reverend N. A. Skaggs' remarks at the funeral services, that he had "known Uncle Bob Turner for forty years, that he had a born inclination to do good rather than evil, that he was generous with his family, generous with his neighbors, having lived by him himself for a number of years and being in daily contact with him. There was no man that ever asked him for a favor that he didn't get, that he had nothing in his possession that was ever denied a neighbor.

In his more active days he was considered one of Kimble County's most prominent citizens. He was a generous contributor to all good causes. He gave to his children the best educational advantages that Kimble County afforded, leaving his ranch and moving with his family to Junction to place his children in school.

When adversities came he would look them squarely in the face, fight on and on until the final reverse, when his health failed him and he had to give up ranching, his natural vocation. From that time on he could only give to his boys his past experience in the ranch game and he constantly advised with them in their undertakings and would often say to them, "boys, be careful, things are too high." Up to the very last he was rational and said that he was not going to live very long. There was only one thing that bothered Uncle Bob, and that was the good health of his family; that he was so deeply interested in, that he was ready to die, and when the end came he closed his eyes as if in a restful sleep and never awakened again.

When the apostle Paul uttered these beautiful words, "Oh, death, where is thy sting; Oh, grave, where is thy victory," we now can comprehend its meaning, for there was no sting in the death of our brother, and there is no victory in the grave, for it is there that we rest. For it is there that our Saviour took his last rest from the toils of this earth. A Friend.

You want your land abstracted; then you had better see E. Holekamp; he has complete index of all County lands. (adv)

This Week

A real fighting Irishman has come to America. William Thomas Cosgrave, President of the Irish Free State. Diffident, keen light blue eyes, soft voice, iron will and a lion's courage. That is a picture of the Irish President, for whom fear does not exist, not even the only fear admitted by his relatives, the Celtic chiefs of Gaul, who admitted that they feared one thing, that the sky might fall on them.

If you asked, "Can NOTHING be more powerful than SOMETHING?" you would get no serious answer.

But how do you explain this fact, announced by German science and proved by convincing experiment? A hollow magnet is more powerful than a solid magnet.

The absence of magnetized metal inside the magnet increases its magnetic strength. A magnet containing four hollow lamellae has as much lifting power as one containing nine solid lamellae.

Everything is possible in chemistry and physics, now that atomic construction, the horrible power and speed of the tiny electrons have been added to human knowledge. But that hollow magnet news is a thing to puzzle science.

A. D. Lasker, who ran the Shipping Board, once a young, frightfully energetic boy, sitting in the outside office of Lord & Thomas, in Chicago, now even more frightfully energetic, sits in the inside office and owns the place.

He and his wife have just given a million dollars to Chicago University to study the "causes, nature and prevention of degenerative diseases."

Within three hundred years, the average life has increased from thirty to sixty years, but a man of fifty has very little better chance of life than a man of that age one hundred years ago.

Lasker wisely gives money to find out why it is that human beings after fifty break down so quickly.

If the scientists will let him, Lasker should use some of his money investigating suggestions that medical science would call "all nonsense." All nonsense is what the doctors called the theories of Pasteur, who taught them more than they ever knew before.

Michael J. Hinch, eighteen years old, touched a live wire carrying 5,000 volts and, according to doctors, was "dead for half an hour." Quick action by firemen brought the boy back to life.

At first his mind wandered. Then he recognized friends, knew his own name, who he was and what he had been doing in the previous eighteen years.

The question arises, does the same thing happen to all of us, after we have been dead a long time, perhaps, as one earnest clergyman suggests, as long as a billion years, waiting for the world to end and Gabriel to summons us?

We have a variegated climate, dogs pulling sleds over Alaska's ice, ladies and their friends lying half-naked on the sands of Florida, California and the Gulf States.

And the thermometer does not tell everything about weather. We shiver and growl at 14 above zero, while Donald McMillan, Arctic explorer, sent word, through radio, that he is quite comfortable at Bowdoin, Labrador, with the temperature 35 below zero.

It depends on humidity, elevation, ozone and other things probably of which we know nothing.

A dispatch from Nicaragua says Sandino, the rebel-bandit who killed some of our marines, has been killed by a bomb from one of our airplanes.

The Nicaragua rebels now know that they have no more chance against United States flying machines than a rabbit has against eagles. That is satisfactory so far as our Nicaragua fight goes.

But our President, Congress and Army and Navy departments should remember that several countries in Europe and at least one in Asia exceed us greatly in air power that they could do to us, if they chose, what we have just done, to Sandino.

WE NEED FIGHTING AIRPLANES, not merely a sample force of the Nicaragua size.

The Emperor of Japan sets an example in economy—carries a $5 watch, cultivates his own rice field. That would surprise his great-grandfather. That Mikado, by lifting a finger, could chop off anybody's head, and he did.

BIG INROADS ON GAME MADE BY HUNTERS

Austin, Feb. 9.—Vast inroads were made on the deer and wild turkey supply in Texas during the open season that lasted from Nov. 16 to Dec. 31 and which resulted in twenty-six fatal accidents to sportsmen and ninety-six where the hunters recovered, a report from the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission compiled from State-wide reports of deputies shows.

A "20 to 50 per cent increase" in the number of hunters over the State last season took a toll in the two species of wild game that rapidly are disappearing in some sections that not only include a large number of deer and turkeys killed legally, but also a number of does, spike bucks and turkey hens that were shot in violation of game laws.

The survey shows that $9,408 bucks and 15,118 turkey gobblers were killed legally, leaving an estimated number of 76,679 does, 21,617 bucks and 129,478 turkeys remaining on ranges at the close of the season. Aside from the legal bags by hunters, 10 does and spike bucks and 118 turkey hens were killed.

Mule deer, antelope and Virginia white tail deer are scarce in the State, and the census taken by those in constant touch with game conditions tends to show that the black tail or mule deer is even more rare than the antelope, with only about 1,300 reported in the State. The range of this deer is confined entirely to the far western counties, Jeff Davis, Presidio, Brewster, Culberson and Reeves, with perhaps a few in Pecos and Terrell. Only a few white tail deer exist in that section, while 2,000 antelope are estimated to run in the South Plains section and in some parts of the Panhandle.

Antelope are also found in Brewster, Jeff Davis, Hudspeth and Presidio counties, while plains adjacent to the lower Rio Grande Valley have a few. Greater interest was shown during the season for conservation laws being enforced for both hunting and fishing, while still more stringent regulations are being agitated in some sections where game is almost extinct. A census soon to be taken will attempt to determine what changes are wanted in the present game code as relating to both hunting and fishing, and these changes probably will be pushed at the next session of the Legislature.

Quail was reported as plentiful in twenty-six districts of the State, while eighteen reported good supplies. Extra good supplies were noted for twenty-four similar districts. Under the present administration of game laws the State is divided into seventy-one such districts with deputies in each of them to enforce laws.

In a general way the heaviest turkey and deer districts overlap though turkeys are more widely scattered than deer.

The Edwards Plateau counties and from there southwest toward the Rio Grande is the banner section for both species. The district comprising Bandera, Real and Kerr counties leads in both with 30,000 deer and 40,000 turkeys and the deputies' estimate was even higher. Deer and turkeys killed in that district were estimated at 2,500 and 3,500 respectively.

Other heavy producing areas are: Bexar and Atascosa counties, 2,000 deer, 74 turkeys; Medina and Frio counties, 10,000 deer, 25,000 turkeys; Edwards county, 2,280 deer, 9,800 turkeys; Kendall and Comal counties, 2,500 deer, 1,000 turkeys; Uvalde county, 2,000 deer, 5,000 turkeys; Kinney and Maverick counties, 200 deer, 150 turkeys; Zavalla and Dimmit counties, 3,000 deer, 1,000 turkeys; LaSalle, McMullen and Live Oak counties, 1,400 deer, 900 turkeys; Webb county, 1,800 deer, Zapata, Jim Hogg and Starr counties, 2,500 deer; Duval county, 1,500 deer; Nueces, Jim Wells and Kleberg counties, 1,400 deer, 1,500 turkeys; Brooks and Kenedy counties, 800 deer, 5,000 turkeys; Willacy, Hidalgo and Cameron counties, 2,800 deer, 17,000 turkeys; Llano, Burnet and Blanco counties, 4,000 deer, 500 turkeys; Mason, Gillespie and McCulloch counties, 8,000 deer, 5,000 turkeys; Sutton and Kimble counties, 500 deer, 8,000 turkeys; Crockett and Terrell counties, 400 deer, 1,000 turkeys; Houston, Trinity and Polk counties, 1,550 deer, 50 turkeys; Tyler, Jasper and Newton counties, 250 deer, 1,000 turkeys; Pecos county, 450 deer, 750 turkeys; Culberson, Reeves, Jeff Davis, Presidio and Brewster counties, 1,300 deer.

Turkeys are in the following districts where there are no deer: Upper Panhandle counties, 300 to 400; Tarrant, Johnson, Ellis, Hood, Somervell, Erath, Palo Pinto, Parker, Taylor, Concho, McLennan, Limestone, Falls, San Saba, Lampasas, Schleicher, Menard, Harris, Waller, Victoria, Jackson, Calhoun, Motley, Cottle, Foard, Wilbarger, Hardeman, Baylor, Dickens, King and Knox.

PRIZE HEREFORD BULL SOLD TO TEXAS MEN

Des Moines, Iowa.—An average of $403 per head was paid for bulls, and $182 for cows, at the annual sale of the American Polled Hereford Breeders' Association here following the close of the Hereford Show. The average for bulls was nearly twice that of last year, when prices averaged $223.

The top price for a bull was $1,225, paid to R. C. Graves, Lewistown, Mo., for his grand champion, which went to Burlington & Johns of Whitney, Texas.

PECAN EXPERIMENTAL STATION ASKED FOR

Washington, D. C.—A bill authorizing establishment of one or more pecan experimental stations west of the Mississippi and one to be placed in the Tenth Congressional District of Texas was introduced by Congressman James P. Buchanan of that district with an authorized appropriation for the Texas station of $50,000. The estimate for that amount is now before the Bureau of the Budget for approval.

Mr. Buchanan is the Texas member of the House Appropriations Committee and the Tenth District which he represents, embraces the counties of Austin, Bastrop, Burness, Caldwell, Hays, Lee, Travis, Washington and Williamson.

In the natural pecan area of the United States there is nothing of an experimental nature west of the Mississippi and it is necessary to the industry, Mr. Buchanan says, for research investigations to develop the adaptability of varieties to climatic conditions. Some varieties are killed by the late frost. Others do not bear annually under all climatic conditions in the pecan area, and it would be the chief function of the experimental stations to make a close study of pecan culture and growth, taking into consideration the commercial side of the situation.

"If properly understood," said Mr. Buchanan, "pecan growth would become one of the principal industries in Texas and several other Southern States. Overflowed lands are especially adapted to pecan culture."

The study also would develop what additional varieties of the nut could be grown in various sections profitably.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

Your Physician

Pardon my reminding you of your best friend. Yes, I am writing "about your health," as well as your best aids in maintaining it, your good doctor ranking first.

There is something distinctive that is the family physician's only; the surgeon and the specialist may be expert in their lines of practice; they do things for which the family physician is not even prepared, and should not attempt. But, I would never select either for my family physician. Their fields are too narrow—too limited. I would summon either, only on the advice of my family doctor.

Your physician should be a broad, well-read, general practitioner. If that, he is far better posted in the management of your varied complaints, than the surgeon or the specialist. He has a far more extensive knowledge of the remedies needed for you than either. He will be a more capable diagnostician in systematic disease; and, he will know when you need a surgeon or specialist, better than any one else.

Your family physician is indeed an indispensable man in the community. He looks after sanitation, and other community measures calculated to prevent disease—to lessen his chances for making a living. He is alert in medical investigation and research knowing that he is working himself out of a job! Show me the faddist, the cultist or the "path" that is even attempting to be a humanitarian like that.

Finally, the family doctor is, to a large extent, what his community makes him; the idle, stupid, non-progressive neighborhood will attract just that sort of a physician. Prompt payment of bills often grows you a more willing and efficient health guardian.

SAYS SHEEP PAY ON SMALL FARMS

C. A. Greene is one among the sheep raisers of Comanche who can speak from experience that sheep raising on a small farm is profitable and he is a strong advocate of more and better sheep for the small farmer.

Mr. Greene entered the sheep business October 19, 1926, when he purchased 112 head of mixed ewes from Ed Ligon and put them on his hundred-acre pasture 2 miles northwest of Comanche.

A summary of the year's receipts from his sheep as given by Mr. Greene is as follows: Sale of wool $283.60; fifty-one lambs sold at $6.25 each, $318.75; one hundred and four ewes, $800.00; total receipts $1,402.34. Total expense including original purchase price, $1,140.85, leaving a net profit of $261.40 on his hundred-acre pasture northwest of Comanche.

Mr. Greene raised a record crop of lambs, his 112 ewes producing 114 lambs. The wolves killed 19 of this number and there were no other losses from other sources.—Comanche Chief.

259 CHARTERS GRANTED

Austin.—There were 259 charters granted to new enterprises in the state of Texas during January, according to figures obtained by Bervard Nichols, assistant in charge of index numbers in the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas. Mr. Nichols, who edits the monthly Texas Business Review issued by the Bureau, says that the number of charters issued during the past month is nearly double the number issued during January, 1927. The number compares favorably though, with the 161 charters granted in December, Mr. Nichols says:

"Capitalization of the 259 corporations amounted to $23,147,000 against $6,807,000 for the 131 companies chartered in January, 1927," according to Mr. Nichols.

A man's gratitude is always its best just before you do him a favor.

FEW FAILURES

Austin.—There were fewer commercial failures in Texas during the first month of the year than for any January since 1920, according to Bervard Nichols, editor of the Texas Business Review published by the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas. There were but 66 insolvencies having a total liability of $1,571,000, compared to 134 failures involving $2,348,000 in January, 1927. Mr. Nichols has observed, "An increase in the business mortality rate from December to January is a normal movement and a comparison of the two months should be made from that standpoint. However, companies going into bankruptcy averaged larger. During January the average loss was but $12,000 in December and $18,000 in January, 1927. No bank failures were reported."

TELEVISION

For about $10,000 a television unit can be purchased. But those in the talking picture business are not inclined to believe that television will become commonplace. Telephone officials say that there is no probability that it will become an adjunct for the telephone. So the chances are, according to the authorities, that the world will get its television instruction and entertainment at the movie houses at so much per seat.

SHEEP AND GOAT RAISERS

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Executive Committee of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association of Texas, in session at Junction, Texas, February 9, 1928, that we respectfully request all attending purchasers, whether members of this Association or not, to attend the sales held under sanction of this Association, and to purchase such stock as they may need at such sales.

BE IT RESOLVED by the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association of Texas, in session at Junction, Texas, February 9, 1928, that our President appoint a committee of three, five or seven to give careful study to the question of the practicability and desirability of removing the wool scouring plant at College Station to Sub-Station No. 14, between Sonora and Rock Springs,—such Committee to be instructed if they find it practicable and desirable, to remove the plant, to take all steps possible looking to its removal at the earliest possible time.

BE IT RESOLVED by the Executive Committee of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association of Texas, in session at Junction, Texas, February 9, 1928, that the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Magazine be requested and instructed in each issue to publish the standing reward offered by this Association of two hundred and fifty dollars for the arrest and conviction of any person guilty of theft of goats or sheep from any member of this Association, in good standing; such reward not to be payable to an owner of animals stolen, nor to an employee of an owner of animals stolen, or to an employee of the Association.

BE IT RESOLVED by the Executive Committee of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association of Texas, in session at Junction, Texas, February 9, 1928, that we tender our heartiest thanks to the Chamber of Commerce of Kimble County, the Parent-Teachers' Association of Junction, the local Band, the resident members of the Executive Committee, and the Association, and to the people of Junction generally for the entertainment accorded the members of our Committee and their wives and families during this session.

BE IT RESOLVED by the Executive Committee of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association of Texas, in session at Junction, Texas, February 9, 1928, that we respectfully call upon our senators and representatives, and particularly those representing the counties from which this Association draws its membership, to introduce and seek the passage of a bill permitting the killing at any time and at any place of any bear or other animal which does or may depredate upon sheep and goats.

The meeting adjourned at 4:30 in the afternoon and the balance of the day was devoted to getting acquainted with visitors and entertaining.

At 8:00 in the evening the local members of the Executive Committee, George R. Pepper, Capt. H. W. Reick, S. S. Bundy and Coke R. Stevenson acted as hosts to the visiting members of the Association and a number of guests, including the local band, tendered a banquet at the Fritz Hotel. Judge Coke R. Stevenson presided as toast master at the banquet and introduced to the gathering President Kincaid, Messrs. V. A. Brown of Rock Springs, Judge James Cornell of San Angelo, Texas, Mr. Carnault Agassiz, publicity agent for the S. P. Railway and Capt. H. W. Reick, each of whom in turn responded and was well received. The banquet was well attended and each guest was profuse in their expression of their appreciation of the entertainment offered.

One of the gratifying results of this meeting was the attendance of our local sheep and goat men who had been previously invited by the Kimble County Chamber of Commerce to attend as their guests.

The Association is unquestionably doing more for this industry than any other agent and when our stockmen come to know the real value of the service of this organization, we feel the support given them will be unanimous. The old idea that the Association inspectors was the only service offered the goat men by this Association is erroneous when a true knowledge is obtained of the constructive legislation and tariff regulations that have been brought about through the efforts of this organization. In our judgment the policing of the territory of the Association membership is one of its least accomplishments and while there is little question but what thievery has been to a large extent suppressed through their efforts, yet the great saving in freight rates, the protective tariffs and the constructive legislation which have been brought about through the efforts of this organization more materially help the sheep and goat industry than any other move sponsored by them.

We know the spirit of our Western stock growers and we feel that with a knowledge brought to them of the work that is being done in their behalf, they will unquestionably co-operate with the movement and it was for that reason that we wanted our own sheep and goat raisers to come in closer contact with the work of the sheep and goat raisers of Texas.

If a man is guilty he should suffer the penalty of his guilt without placing his photo on the front page of daily newspapers and advertising him to that extent to make him and others of his kind feel that he is a hero. If a man be innocent he should be set free with as little humiliation as possible.

There were six tables of bridge and Mrs. Carl Wolf made high club score, her reward was a handsome Maderia buffet set; a similar trophy went to Miss Fae Taylor, for the guest prize. The consolation, a miniature valentine doll, went to Mrs. Ed Allen.

Fruit jello topped with whipped cream, potato chips, saline wafers, stuffed olives and tea were served on plates decorated with fluted red paper frills. The plate favors were dainty baskets filled with heart shaped mints.
