

Emergency treatment funds ok'd by Medicare

A spokesman for Medicare said later Friday afternoon from his Dallas office, Medicare privileges would be available for emergency patients only at Root Memorial Hospital after August 1, 1984.

Spokesman Mitch Chunn said "Emergency patient care means a life-death situation or serious bodily injury."

Chunn went on to say a letter was being prepared Friday for review and should be in the mail early next week.

These emergency Medicare benefits will be the only Medicare benefits available during the local hospitals decertification period.

Medicare is planning to send a recertification team to Colorado City on September 4 for a survey. If approved, the hospital would be recertified immediately and full Medicare privileges would be restored.

"Sparkle Colorado City" Clean-up sparks enthusiasm

"Our yards don't have to be green, but they can be clean," so says Mildred Free, clean up project chairman for the "Sparkle" program set for August 5th through the 11th.

At a planning meeting held Thursday afternoon at City Hall, Ms. Free assigned more jobs for the campaign and nailed down some of the plans.

As of now, she says, the City will clean the four entrances to Colorado City. The Opti-Club assisted by Vivian Ruddick will work at the Low Rent Housing Project. Working with this group is Joy Culwell who hopes to live broadcast during an hour's work by children of the project.

The children will be rewarded with ice cream.

Tim Ruland, Methodist Youth Director, heads a group that is working on the lot north of the First Methodist Church. They will also clean vacant lots and the park.

Ms. Free says that she and Linda McCombs will visit the downtown merchants and try to get their assistance in cleaning up the business area.

Jaycees will have a special vacant lot, not yet named, to work on and City Councilmen will come to work an hour early on July 31st and will clean up a lot to be selected by Buzz Rich, Director of City Services.

Ms. Free says that a fiver to be enclosed with Sunday's Colorado RECORD Will include suggestions as to what the citizens of Colorado City can do to help.

TRASHY SCENES LIKE THIS will be no more as citizens and city officials get geared up for the big clean-up campaign August 5 through August 11.

County farm tour cancelled this year

A spokesman for the Chamber of Commerce Agricultural Committee said this week that due to the severe drought conditions that have plagued Mitchell County this year, no farm tour will be conducted.

The farm tour is an annual event sponsored by the Chamber and gives local citizens, businessmen, farmers and non-farmers an opportunity to view the area cash crops. Because of the drought, very few crops are being grown and there's really nothing to see.

Only the farm tour has been canceled. The annual farm meeting and barbecue is still scheduled.

The farm information meeting will kick-off Thursday, August 30th at 10 a.m. at the Civic Center.

Free watermelon, furnished by Travis Turner is the first item on the agenda followed by a meeting on herbicides and the upcoming pest management referendum.

Once again the Soil Conservation Service will be responsible for the noon barbecue. Special guest and featured speaker will be S. M. True, president of the Texas Farm Bureau.

LAST WEDNESDAY'S BLOOD DRIVE was successful as 35 people donated blood. Here Jack Green and Carl Guelker are shown being prepared to give blood. The drive's goal was 25 pints.

Gramm to visit Sunday

U.S. Rep. Phil Gramm, candidate for the U.S. Senate, will be flying in today (Sunday) for a public reception at 5 p.m. at the Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative.

Bob Reilly, local Republican County Chairman, said the visit by Gramm would be an excellent opportunity for Mitchell County residents to visit with and meet Gramm.

Loraine landfill in final stages

The City of Loraine is but one step away from having their own landfill once again.

The city council met Thursday night in a special called meeting to finalize their application.

Council passed a resolution stating the city would make available adequate funding for the development and operation of the landfill and also to provide equipment for the operation of the facility.

The application was mailed Friday to Austin for the States approval.

The city hopes the application is approved in about three weeks, however the state said approximately 150 other applications are presently waiting to be approved.

The location of the new landfill is located in the southeast corner of Lonnie Williams farm. The land was purchased from him by the city.

The state closed the old landfill March 1st.

Sealed indictments lead to 13 arrests

Arrests have been made in 13 of the 22 sealed indictments returned by the Grand Jury Friday.

Pablo Salazar, 32, of Colorado City was arrested July 24 by the Mitchell County Sheriff's Department assisted by the Colorado City Police Department and charged with aggravated assault on a peace officer. Bond was set and posted at $5,000 for each of his two indictments.

George Edward Miles, 29, of Colorado City, was arrested by the Sheriff's Department, assisted by the CCPD and charged with two counts of forgery. Bond was set and posted at $5,000 for each offense.

Michael Molina, 17, of Colorado City, was also arrested July 24 by the Mitchell County Sheriff's Department assisted by the CCPD on one count of burglary. He pleaded guilty in court. See ARRESTS, Page 2

Effects of education bill being felt already

By KATHY HAMMOND Staff Writer

Although opposed by three of four major teacher organizations, House Bill 72, also titled the Finance and Management Education Bill passed by a comfortable margin in Summer Session in Austin.

Its effects have yet to be felt in Mitchell County except at the management level as superintendents, principals, school board officials, and teachers hustle to put together a new budget based on guidelines set by House Bill 72. Deadline is August 20.

Contracts are having to be redone to accommodate pay raises for teachers, according to Charlie Uselton, CISD superintendent. An inverted scale of 36 percent increase for beginning teachers down to 10 percent increase for experienced teachers is only one of the many controversial issues of this piece of legislation.

The budget will have to be reworked on a larger scale as local taxpayers will be required to shoulder more of the financial burden of education. In the past the state has funded 80 percent of educational program with 20 percent being funded at the local level.

Beginning with school year 1984-85 the state will decrease their percentage to 70 percent although the actual amount will increase $334,200. As positive as that sounds, our local share will increase over half a million dollars, from $347,700 to $896,600 to cover our 30 percent.

By the 1985-86 school year the percentages will be 67 percent state funded, 33 percent locally funded.

In order to raise their share, the legislature voted to increase taxes on sales of tobacco and alcohol. It has been rumored that a pack of cigarettes will cost $1.50 beginning in September. There will also be an increase in sales tax with a number of exemptions removed.

How Colorado City will raise its part is an unanswered question. The CISD has already lost over $136,000 in tax revenues because of decrease in oil production, and farmers have received a severe set-back due to the drought.

"We may be able to get by without raising taxes," Uselton said, but added that it would entail budget cuts in existing programs.

Arrangements will have to be made for Driver's Education as the state has cut off all funds for this program. Additional strains on the budget will come from requirements in House Bill 72 to provide tutoring for students receiving less than a 70 grade in any subject and it will be felt as CISD takes on a greater percentage of funding for the vocational programs.

Workshops are being planned to discuss budget needs between now and August 20. The school board will wade through approximately 287 pages of law and over 80 pages of explanations as they revise school codes to meet state regulations.

Causing as much controversy as the odd pay scale is the testing of professional educators proposed in the bill. It is a requirement which must be met by June 30, 1986 for all personnel currently teaching in TEA certified schools, except under emergency situations.

The tests, a one-time requirement, will be administered by the Texas Education Agency in a teacher's chosen field of study.

To encourage excellence in teaching a bonus is offered based on principal's evaluations, achievement of nine hours of college work in their individual fields as well as criteria to be determined by a local committee of educators including superintendent, one person from central office staff, principal and two teachers who have qualified for the bonus.

The bonus could amount to $2,000 a year and is part of a four-step "Career Ladder."

Teachers are already coordinating their ef-orts to elevate the level of student achievement and the effects of House Bill 246, passed in the last regular session of Congress last year, are being seen in higher test scores on the Texas Assessment of Basic Skills evaluation." Uselton related.

The test he is referring to is currently administered to students in the 3rd, 5th and 9th grades. Beginning with the passage of House Bill 72, the tests will be given to students in grades 1, 3, 5, 7, 9, 11 and seniors must pass a basic skills test before they can graduate.

TEA's goal is to streamline the education system in Texas by centralizing guidelines concerning curriculum, discipline management, social promotions, student rights and attention. See BILL, Page 2

Vehicle tax laws change Aug. 1

As of August 1, license plate fees for passenger vehicles in Texas and Mitchell County will be based on year model rather than weight. However, trucks and commercial vehicles will be calculated by weight, but costs for all plates will increase to help fund special legislation passed in June at Austin.

Passenger automobiles and pickups (light trucks) weighing 6,000 pounds or less will use the following schedule as of Aug. 1, 1984: 1982, 1983, 1984 and 1985 Models will be charged $46.30; Models of 1981, 1980 and 1979 will be charged $38.30; and 1978 Models and older will be charged $28.30.

The special fee for personalized tags will increase from $10 to $25, as of Aug. 1.

Any vehicle requiring passenger registration and exceeding 6,000 pounds gross vehicle weight - regardless of year model - will be calculated at $12.50 plus 60 cents per 100 wt. plus 30 cents.

Commercial trucks and truck tractors, including motor buses (empty plus 15; pounds per passenger except driver), will be calculated at $12.50 plus 60 cents fee per 100 pounds plus 30 cents.

In the case of a farm truck classification, only one half of the computed fee will be charged.

The new taxes approved by the Texas Legislature will affect the following classifications: Passenger Rate for passenger vehicles, city buses and private buses; Commercial Rate for trucks and motor buses; one-half percent Commercial Rate for farm trucks plus farm truck-tractors and soil conservation; Trailer Rate for trailers, travel trailers, road tractors, combinations, motorcycles and mopeds, fertilizer trucks and antique vehicles.

"I have spent six years in Congress working for a balanced budget, lower taxes, greater economic opportunity for the working people of this country and a strong defense. My opponent has consistently demanded higher taxes, more spending and less defense". Gramm went on record as saying.

Couple united in candlelight ceremony

Mrs. Ronnie Womack

Miss Sheila Dawn Martin became the bride of Ronnie Womack in a candlelight ceremony in the First United Methodist Church, Loraine.

The double ring rites were read by the Rev. Ed Newton of Fort Worth and the Rev. Rita Richards, pastor, at 8 p.m., Saturday, July 28.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Martin of Loraine. Parents of the groom are Joanne Jameson of Colorado City and Ray Womack of Big Spring.

The ceremony took place in a setting of candles, greenery and flowers. Three candelabra with pink tapers and waxed greenery centered the altar. The altar rail was covered in greenery with votive candles and flanked by two Boston ferns. Silk arrangements in burgundy, rose, and pink with votive candles adorned the piano and organ and window sills were covered with asparagus fern. Pink bows marked the aisle.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of chiffon over taffeta, fashioned with an empire waistline. The stand-up collar was embroidered with seed pearls. The deep yoke was edged with a wide lace ruffle on front and back.

The skirt was fashioned with lace panels ending in a deep lace under-flounce skirt and a full-tiered lace chapel train. The bodice was designed with full lace-accented Bishop sleeves with lace cuffs. The fingertip veil, edged in matching lace, fell from a lace cap covered with seed pearls.

Her bridal bouquet was a cascading arrangement of silk roses, buds, and daisies in pink, rose, and burgundy carried on a white Bible, a gift from her parents. Streamers of ribbon and lace accented with flowers held rings belonging to the bride's grandmothers and great-grandmothers.

Prelude music and the wedding march were played by Mrs. J. M. Templeton. Barbie Lelak, cousin of the groom, sang "The Wedding Prayer." She was accompanied by Mrs. Sue McKinney. Mrs. McKinney also accompanied Teresa Clifton and Jennifer Hackfeld as they sang "I Could Never Promise You."

Shelly Jon Martin, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a pink taffeta floor length gown fashioned with puff sleeves and a ribbon belt. She carried a nosegay of burgundy, rose and pink silk flowers.

Bridesmaids were Heidi Matteson of Brownfield, Teresa Clifton and Melissa Clifton of Loraine. Their dresses were designed identical to the maid of honor's but in pink. They also carried nosegays of burgundy, rose and pink silk flowers.

Geory Martin, brother of the bride, lit the candles.

The groom wore a white tuxedo with a burgundy rose boutonniere in his lapel.

Best man was Tim Martin, brother of the groom from Odessa. He was attired in a burgundy tuxedo with pink shirt.

Groomsmen were Mike Griffith, Chris McKinney and Tracy Tarter. Ushers were Paul Woods, Wesley Williams of Roscoe and Stacey Tarter. The male attendants wore identical outfits to the best man and had pink rose boutonnieres in their lapels.

The bride's parents hosted a reception in the church fellowship hall. The bride's table was covered with a white floor length cloth. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom and a music box. The bride's bouquet on a brass Bible stand was used as the table centerpiece. The table was appointed with crystal.

The groom's table was covered with ecrusse lace with an underlay of burgundy. Coffee was served from a silver service. German chocolate cake was served from a pink, impression glass cake stand. The centerpiece was burgundy, rose, and pink silk flowers entwined around votive candles on a mirror base display.

Serving at the bride's table were Miss Louise Calderon and Miss Patty Munoz. Mrs. Patty Bodine, Mrs. Rayanna McGaha and Mrs. Maria Waters, all sisters of the groom served at the groom's table.

Mrs. Janine Galey presided at the registry table and Christy Holmes of Snyder and Jennifer Clifton passed out rice roses.

The bride is a teller with First City Bank in San Angelo. The groom will attend Angelo State University in the Fall and is employed at Sheppardson's Furniture in San Angelo. Both attended Western Texas College in Snyder and were members of Phi Theta Kappa, honorary society.

They will live in San Angelo.

Church invites Nicaraguan to address local citizens

What's it like for Christians in Central America? That's the question a native Nicaraguan will answer at the First Presbyterian Church, Thursday evening, August 2, 7 p.m. His name is Norman Bent.

He is an English-speaking Miskito Indian and is a Moravian pastor in

Managua

The Rev. Bent is respected by both the government and the opposition groups in Nicaragua, with family members involved in both camps. Recently, his elderly parents disappeared and have not been heard from. Those who have heard the Rev. Bent report that he is an articulate, objective, honest person. They consider him to be a very able, fair interpreter of the political situation and hardships of Christians in Nicaragua and Central America.

"Norman will speak for 15 to 20 minutes, and then will open the floor to questions and discussion," said the Rev. Roy Byrd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. "We'd like for our friends to know about this and join us to hear this man speak on a timely subject."

Jones and troupe to work at folklife festival again

At the 13th Annual Texas Folklife Festival, August 2-5, Texas' proud history is brought vividly to life by friendly and talented folks like the Rev. Monte Jones of St. John's Episcopal Church and the women of the All Saints Episcopal Church, both in Colorado City. At the Festival, they run the Cactus Cafe, complete with checkered tablecloths and potted cactus, which specializes in that all-time Texas favorite—chicken fried steak and cream gravv. Also on the menu are hot puffs served with gravy or honey.

Sponsored by The University of Texas Institute of Texan Cultures at San Antonio, the Festival is an annual celebration of the state's ethnic diversity and pioneer heritage. Each August nearly 6,000 hard-working, fun-loving Texans come together to share the folkways of their ancestors with more than 100,000 visitors. Many facets of life on the Texas frontier are spotlighted at the Festival, along with the contributions of the more than 30 ethnic groups who settled and built the Lone Star State.

Everyone is encouraged to participate in the various activities. For example, festivalgoers can try their hand at spinning a lariat and operating an old-fashioned spinning wheel; milking a goat, shearing a sheep and making adobe bricks; baking "Depression" bread, napping out tortillas and cooking hoecakes. They can learn folk dances, like the spirited Filipino tinkling; clap along with the fiddlers and other folk musicians; and sing along with the gospel groups.

The Festival menu features both country cooking and exotic cuisine. Visitors can sample such authentic dishes as falafel (pita bread with stuffing), Mexican fajitas, six varieties of sausage and three kinds of egg rolls, to name just a few.

The Texas Folklife Festival is held on the 15-acre grounds of The University of Texas Institute of Texan Cultures located on HemisFair Plaza in downtown San Antonio. Tickets for the 1984 Festival are $5 for adults, $1 for children ages 6-12, and children under six are admitted free. To receive more information or to order tickets by mail, write the Texas Folklife Festival, Institute of Texan Cultures, P.O. Box 1226, San Antonio, Texas 78294, or call (512) 726-7651.

Railroad commission urges residents to check gas systems

Railroad Commission officials have asked homeowners and others in the Scurry County area to check their liquefied-petroleum gas systems for an unapproved and dangerous type of plastic pipe.

Recent investigations by inspectors from the Commission's Liquefied Petroleum Gas Division have revealed that plastic pipe, commonly known as PVC, has been used in several systems in that part of the state.

Plastic pipe has not been approved by the Commission for use in LP-gas systems. Some types of plastic pipe deteriorate on contact with LP-gases. Dangerous leaks could result.

LP-gas users can call the RRC's LP-Gas Division at 512-475-1301 for help in correctly identifying different types of pipe. Investigators from the Railroad Commission are available to make inspections.

The Commission recommends that gas-related repair work be done by a RRC-approved and licensed dealer. LP-gas dealers in the area have been notified of the problem. A dealer who violates Commission rules can face civil or legal penalties or possible revocation of a license.

Through its Liquefied Petroleum Gas Division, the Railroad Commission regulates the safe handling of LP-gas (butane and propane) to protect the public safety.

Local teams enter playoff competition in Sweetwater

Local baseball teams begin their march into the playoffs tomorrow (Monday) with the Little League Astros traveling to Sweetwater and the Teenage League White Sox playing host for their area tournament.

The Astros, who won Little League's Freshman League with an 11-4 record, will be vying for the area crown along with two teams from host Sweetwater and one team each from Hawley, Roscoe and Baird.

Along with All-Star pickups Spencer Taylor of the Indians, Joe Silva of the Yankees and the Rangers Mark Alvidrez, the Astros will be looking to advance past the area tournament - at which Colorado City All-Stars have not had much recent success.

The White Sox, who defeated the Lions 17-4 in a one game playoff to end the regular season with a 9-4 record, will host teams from Sweetwater, Snyder and Roscoe - otherwise known as the Interstate 20 team.

With their All-Star selections of the Colts, Ismael Silva and the Lions Edward Garza and David Davila, the White Sox first take on Roscoe at 8:30 p.m. Monday following a 6 p.m. contest, between Snyder and Sweetwater.

The winners of those two games play at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday with the losers to fight for survival at 6 p.m. Tuesday.

The Astros are to learn who they first play at a meeting today. "They tell me the other teams are pretty strong," said Astros coach Fred Womack. "We're about ready. They're (Astros) looking pretty good and strong."

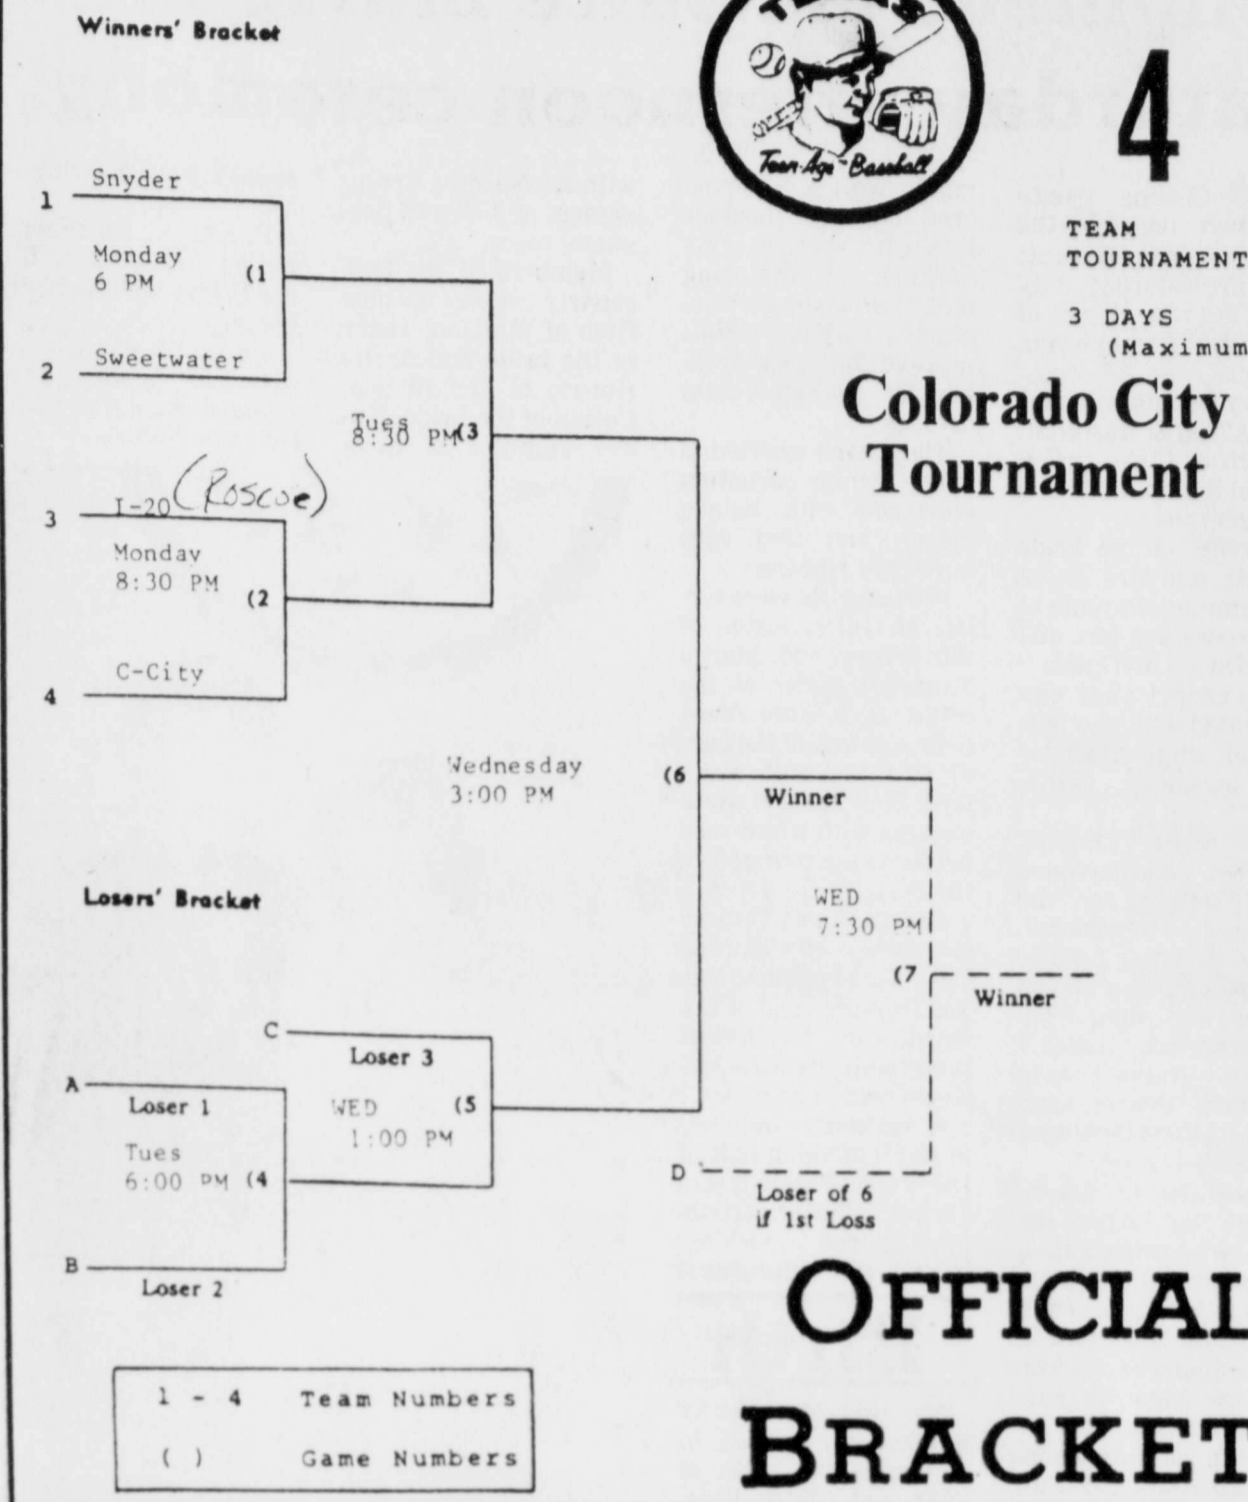

"Overall, the attendance at practice has been good and the kids really want to play."

GETTING OUT - Take time to check a hospital statement before departing. If it's not itemized, you can correct this at the billing office. Ask questions if you do not understand the hospital's code. If it becomes necessary to write about the statement, keep copies of correspondence. Some patients make notes of treatments, doctor's visits and medications received to make checking easier.

BATH ROOM - Build a shelf all around the bathroom in the space above the shower and below the ceiling. Use this formerly wasted area to store bath towels and other household items. Decorate to match bathroom decor.

SHINE ON - Use aluminum foil to help you polish silver dulled by summer heat. Place a sheet in the bottom of a shallow pan, add a cup of water and bring to a boil. Stir in a teaspoon each of salt and soda, keeping foil intact. Put silver in boiling bath, with each piece touching the foil and covered by water. Boil a few minutes, drain.

SHELF SAVER - Locate a shelf safe from children and make it your emergency supply source. Put flashlights, batteries, fuses, candles, matches and first aid kit on it. Type a list of emergency numbers and put it on the shelf in a see-through envelope. Make sure the babysitter knows shelf location.

CREDIT CREED - Starting Off in Credit is a new booklet from Timesaver, Inc., marketers of credit cards. You can learn how to establish credit, how to apply and how to keep calling good. Send for a free copy by addressing request to: Timesaver, Inc., Consumer Information Department, 12276 Wilkins Avenue, Rockville, MD 20852.

Texas has 3rd largest number of doctors

Texas medical schools graduated more doctors than ever last year, and the State Board of Medical Examiners licensed a record number of physicians, says a Texas Medical Association official.

TMA Executive Director C. Lincoln Williston said the state's seven MD schools graduated 1,049 doctors last year, the first time the figure has topped 1,000.

"It is anticipated that those schools will be graduating 1,110 physicians each year by 1985," he said.

"In addition, physicians in great numbers continue to move to Texas from other states and from foreign countries," Williston continued. He noted that the State Board of Medical Examiners licensed a record 3,167 doctors last year and 10,300 in the past four years.

Estimates are that the state board will license more than 20,000 additional physicians in the next 10 years, he said.

The board of medical examiners is the state agency that licenses and monitors Texas doctors. EMA is a 23,500-member professional organization of doctors and medical students. About 80 percent of the state's physicians are TMA members.

"Doctors of medicine who are licensed and reside in Texas now number 25,300. There also are 1,300 doctors of osteopathy. The state now has the third largest physician population, exceeded only by California and New York," Williston said.

The number of physicians in Texas per 100,000 population has increased from 118 thirty years ago to 172 today, he said. This ratio has grown despite the "dramatic increase in the state's total population."

Williston noted that 46 percent of Texas physicians are in the primary-care specialties—family practice, obstetrics-gynecology, pediatrics, and internal medicine.

He noted that the Texas Legislature had funded additional residency positions in 1977 and 1983, but that more funding is needed to permit young physicians to train and remain in the state.

post-graduate training in the primary-care fields," said Williston, citing a need for more primary-care physicians.

But he said Texas medical schools now are graduating more doctors than there are available first-year positions in post-graduate training in the state. "In the 1970s the need for additional residency positions became—and remains—a critical issue, particularly residencies in primary-care specialties," he said.

"Fifty-five percent of Texas medical school graduates in the past five years have chosen to remain in the state.
