

Band to Give Annual Pops Concert May 13

The Wellington high school band will present its fifth annual pops concert Thursday night, May 13, James Larson, band director, has announced.

It will be in the community building and begins at 7:30 p.m. The usual program format will be followed.

Several money-raising projects are tied in with the pops concert each year, and Larson pointed out that these are the band's major fund projects. The money raised this year is going to help buy band uniforms.

Larson said the school and the Band Boosters Club jointly will buy 60 new uniforms for the 1965-66 school year and an additional 30 uniforms for the 1966-67 year.

The total cost of the 90 uniforms will be around $6,000, the band director said.

T. A. Hutchinson Dies April 10 In Denison Iowa

Alfred Hutchinson, who made Wellington his home for part of each year for the last four years, died in a hospital at Denison, Iowa Saturday, April 10, a month and a day after his wife died here.

His death was attributed to a heart attack. He was 72.

Mr. Hutchinson had extensive farm holdings in the Denison area, and for many years he was recognized as one of the leading Angus breeders of Iowa. He formerly was a breeder of Percheron horses, and through the years, he exhibited regularly at Iowa livestock shows. He was also active in livestock associations.

He had turned the active management of his farms over to a nephew, but he maintained a keen interest in their operation.

Thomas Alfred Hutchinson was born Feb. 4, 1893 at Denison, Iowa, on the farm that was his home when he died.

He was a member of the Methodist Church.

On Nov. 16, 1961 he was married to Mrs. Verna Johnson Light of Wellington, and after that the couple divided their time between Denison and Wellington. The two had been friends since childhood.

Funeral services were conducted at Maxwell Funeral Home Tuesday, April 13, with the Rev. Fred Hamlin officiating. Burial was in Deloit Cemetery.

Mr. Hutchinson is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Jess Brown of Missouri Valley, Iowa, and Mrs. Louis Leutjens of Odebolt, Iowa. There are a number of nieces and nephews.

Members of Mrs. Hutchinson's family here who went to the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Light, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cudd and Dean Johnson.

Janie Cummings to Play Concert Here

The first day of National Music Week the Wellington Music Club is to present Mary Jane Cummings, young Austin pianist, in concert. This special event is scheduled for Sunday afternoon, May 2 at 3 o'clock at the Wellington Church of the Nazarene.

This 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Logan Cummings, former Wellington residents, began her formal training in piano in the second grade. For nine years she has been a student of Forrest Goodenough, a noted Texas composer and musician.

Mr. Goodenough is music department head of the Texas School for the Blind, where Miss Cummings is a high school junior.

An outstanding young soloist in the Austin area, Miss Cummings has performed at two state conventions for the Texas Federation of Music Clubs and four times on an educational television program.

HONORS FOR ATHLETICS

It would take a long memory to recall a Wellington high school girl athlete whose record equals that of Betty Courtney. Honors have come to her in quick succession in recent weeks. Betty won the A division girls singles in the Wellington invitational tennis tournament recently, drove to Plainview and that same afternoon became one of the top 10 girls trying out for the Wayland College Flying Queens basketball team. Betty also will play in the all-state girls basketball game in July. But her story has a bitter-sweet ending. Although she qualified to represent Wellington in the regional tennis tournament, she has broken a bone in one leg and will be unable to play.

Greenbelt Electric Holds Annual Meeting Saturday

The annual meeting of members of the Greenbelt Electric Co-operative, Inc., will be held Friday, April 23 in the community building at Wellington.

Registration will start at 1 p.m. and the session will get under way at 2. A. J. Garland of Clarendon, president of the board of directors, will preside at the meeting.

Program arrangements were announced by George Henry, manager.

Entertainment will be music by the Wellington high school stage band, under the direction of James Larson.

Several hundred Greenbelt members and their families will attend from Collingsworth, Donley, Armstrong, Wheeler and Gray counties in Texas and Harmon County, Okla.

Two directors will be elected during the business session. Candidates in District 2 are Carl Sherrill and Forrest Overton, incumbent, of Vinson, and the District 5 candidates are Tom Christian and Russell Blanton, incumbent, of Claude. W. E. Skaggs of Vinson will read the report of the nominating committee.

Paul Spillman will be in charge of that part of the program pertaining to the coopera-tive's legal affairs. Garland will give the president's report; Selba Rainey of Lutie the financial report; and Henry the manager's report.

Gene Waters, a Greenbelt employee, will give the invocation, while Billy Contrell of Twitty will be in charge of the drawings for door prizes.

Greenbelt Electric Co-operative, Inc., has nearing completion a new sub-station on the Collingsworth-Wheeler County line to increase power over a large area. This is being built at a cost of $107,000, which is part of a $288,000 loan received about two years ago. The remainder was used for extension of service and other improvements.

Return Man on Forgery Count

Aubrey Nickelberry, who formerly lived here, was arrested in Oklahoma City on a forgery complaint and returned here Wednesday, April 14, by Police Chief Donald Nunneley.

Nickelberry is charged with forging the name of George Scott to a $15 check which he cashed at City Grocery; the name of Leslie Moore to a $20 check and cashing it at Johnny French Clothier, and the name of Steve Owens to a $20 check which he cashed at the Enco Station in Dodson, Sheriff Rainey said. He bought merchandise at each place.

May 1 Deadline to Render Taxes

All taxes must be rendered by May 1 in order that property owners may secure homestead exemptions, Rita Owens, county tax assessor-collector, reminded this week.

While a majority have rendered their property for taxation, a few have apparently overlooked this, Mrs. Owens said.

Library Week Observance Set for April 28

National and State Library Week will be observed at the Collingsworth County Library Wednesday, April 28 when a coffee break is held in the morning for business people, and an open house and tea in the afternoon for all who are interested.

Library Week is from Sunday, April 25 through Sunday, May 2, and the local sponsor is the City Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. R. H. Isbell, librarian, heads the committee in charge of arrangements, and members are Mrs. Luther Gribble, Mrs. Chester Fires, and Mrs. Clyde Drake. The theme of Library Week is "Open Your Future-Read."

The coffee break will be from 9 to 11 a.m. and the open house from 2 to 4 p.m.

Classes from the county schools will be invited on guided tours of the library.

During the week, enrollments for the summer reading program will be secured. At the end of the summer, certificates will go to all children reading at least 12 books, Mrs. Isbell said.

In connection with Library Week, Mrs. B. M. Sims, City Federation president, urged that more memorials be given the Library in the form of books or as donations for the purchase of books for the reference shelf.

Quails to Meet Mobeetie on Airpark Field

The Quail baseball team will meet Mobeetie Tuesday, April 27 at the Marian Airpark diamond in Wellington, in a district game, Coach Don Lacy announced.

The game will be played under lights, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Dale Morris will pitch.

This is the first year the Quails have used the Wellington diamond for their scheduled games, and also their first season of night games.

Recent heavy rains damaged the Quail diamond and left a pond in the outfield, Coach Lacy explained.

Quail won a District II-B game over the Norwood Eagles 10-0 Tuesday, April 20, in another night game in Wellington.

Gun Taken From Home at Quail

J. F. McIntush reported to Sheriff John Rainey Monday, April 19 that burglars entered his home four miles west of Quail and took a Winchester 12 gauge pump gun.

The burglary is believed to have taken place Sunday or Sunday night.

Renewal of Salt Fork Water Rights Asked

Application for a renewal of the water rights on Salt Fork has been filed with the Texas Water Commission by the board of the Collingsworth County Water Control and Improvement District, Dan Henard, chairman, reported.

The Salt Fork water rights expire this month.

These water rights were held by Collingsworth County, and in the last meeting of the Commissioners' Court, an order was passed designating the water board as the more suitable body to make application.

Technically, this application is for a permit to appropriate public waters from Salt Fork for irrigation purposes.

The application states that if the permit for appropriation is granted, construction on the proposed dam is to start 18 months after the permit is issued and proposed work is to be completed within 36 months. This would be contingent on the engineering report.

So far, there is nothing to indicate that a dam on Salt Fork 12 miles northwest of Wellington would not be feasible.

Core drilling at the Dozier Creek dam site, along the proposed pipeline and at the site of the holding reservoir two miles northeast of Wellington has been completed.

A. H. Wolverton of Austin, project engineer, met with the water board recently and said that engineering work is progressing.

Five tracts for irrigation were indicated in the application for water rights. Three of these are immediately north of the proposed reservoir, to which water would be pumped; the other is an area north of Salt Fork below the dam, and the fifth is south and east of Wellington.

Dodson Co-op Sets Annual Meeting, Sale

Members of the Farmers Co-op Enterprises at Dodson will hold their annual meeting Friday night, April 23, followed by the traditional auction sale Saturday, April 24.

Plans for the event, which each year draws a bigger crowd than any other, were announced this week by Ed Crowder, manager.

The stockholders meeting will be in the school gymnasium, beginning at 7 p.m. when a barbecue supper will be served. The business meeting will follow.

The highlight of the meeting will be the distribution of dividend checks, Crowder said. The gin this year ginned 4,686 bales, considered unusually good in view of the short crop.

The entertainment program will be by the high school Chordettes, directed by Mrs. B. M. Sims.

Directors will be elected and they in turn will elect officers for the coming year.

The auction sale Saturday will be on the gin yard, with Ivan Argo as auctioneer. Arnett high school will sell sandwiches and pop.

"We'll have as much or more to sell as at any past sales," Crowder said.

This will include seeds, fertilizers, farm supplies, and certain home supplies.

The sale will start at 10 a.m. and "run until people get tired."

Home Entries Solved

Officers Continue to Investigate Burglaries

The sheriff's department probe of a burglary series continues, Sheriff John Rainey told The Wellington Leader during the last week:

Two more men were charged and arraigned in connection with the burglary series;

Another man was released to Childress County officials to face burglary charges;

The burglary of the Pete Nipper home southwest of Dodson in August, and the Horton Kutch home at Kelley on Jan. 23 were solved;

Items whose values is "right at $4,000" have been recovered.

Jose Avila, 18, of Carrizo Springs was arraigned before Justice of the Peace C. E. McKinney Friday, April 16, on a charge of burglarizing the Horton Kutch home. His bond was set at $3,000 and he is being held in county jail, Rainey said.

Arraigned Friday also on charges of receiving and concealing stolen property was George Garcia, Jr., 22, of Shamrock. He was released on $1,500 bond, the Sheriff said.

Reynaldo Robles, 18, of Pharr was brought here then released to face charges of burglarizing the Pete Nipper home ington.

Collingsworth County waters also will be affected in the public hearing to be held Tuesday, April 27 in Wichita Falls, when a review will be given of the report of the Chief of Engineers, U.S. Army, on the Arkansas and Red Rivers in view of determining the development of a water supply and pollution control. The aim is to improve and manage the water quality in the Arkansas and Red River basins.

The waters of Elm Creek will be a part of the discussion since the salt beds just east of the Oklahoma state line are a source of pollution of Red River waters.

The salt springs at Estelline also will be considered, according to the notice, which states that 7 sites, including these two, dump 3,370 tons of salt into Red River daily.

usually in the late afternoon. Under the operation of this auction, bidding is stopped before the bids reach the usual selling price of any article, Crowder explained.

President of the Co-op is Pete Nipper, while Olan Farris is vice president and Louis Patterson is secretary-treasurer. Directors are these three and Kenneth Hudson, H. A. Painter, Bill Holder and Tom Birchfield.

Quail Fans to Honor Teams on April 24

Quail boys and girls basketball teams will be honored by their fans at a supper Saturday, April 24 at 6 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

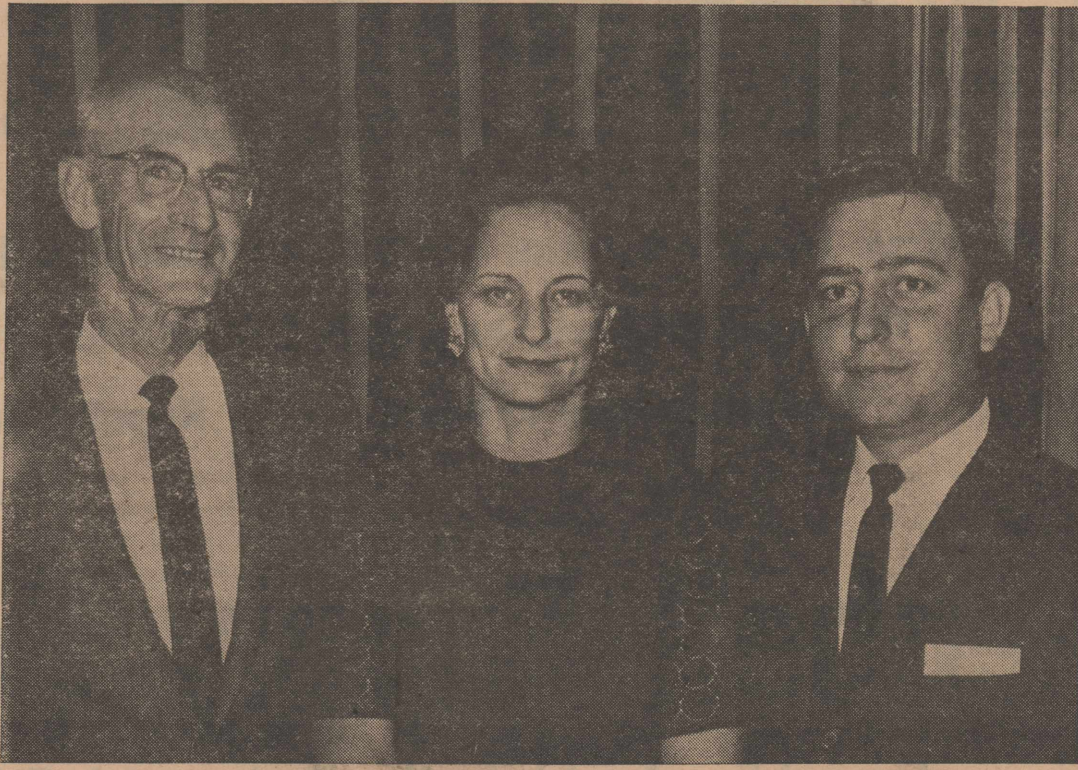

Each family is asked to bring enough food for the family and one ballplayer.

The public is invited to attend.

Coach Don Lacy will be recognized and in turn will recognize the members of the teams.

Trophies won by the Quails and Bobwhites during the year will be on display.

The supper is given annually and is informal in nature.

Fair's Knitting, Crochet Contest Opens Way to National Competition

1965 is the year of the needle and the hook for hand-knitted and hand-crocheted looks are tops in all areas. So it's timely as well as smart for knitters and crocheters to try their hands at turning a hobby and a talent into fun and fame by pitting their skills against fellow needlers via the 1965 National Wool Needlework Contest.

To allow local residents to participate in the national competition, now in its third successive year, entries first must be submitted for local judging at the 1965 Collingsworth County Fair which takes place Sept. 10 and 11 at Wellington.

Open to all non-professional needleworkers, the contest again is being conducted under the auspices of the National Hand Knitting Yarn Association and the American Wool Council, serving jointly as co-sponsors. The grand national champion, who will be chosen by a judging board of nationally recognized authorities in the Art Needlework field, will receive a grand national prize of $1,000, a trip to New York for two, including a three-day stay, and a special engraved trophy. Other national winners, in addition to the grand national champion, will also receive cash awards and ribbons.

Local participants will be offered six different categories, three each for knitting and crocheting, in which to enter, with no limits set as to the number of categories entered by a contestant or the number of entries in a single classification. Categories for both knitting and crocheting include afghans, sweaters and three-piece baby sets. A first place blue ribbon award in any of these six categories in the judging being held at the local Fair then makes the contestant eligible for the national judging being held in New York late in 1965. In addition to six blue ribbon awards to be presented at the Fair, an engraved trophy will be awarded to one of the six first place winners in the National Wool Needlework Contest adjudged "Best of Fair." Second and third place winners in each classification will be awarded a red and a white ribbon respectively.

The names of the six first place winners selected by the Fair will then be sent by the Fair to the National Hand Knitting Yarn Association which will supply the winners with complete and official forms for entering their winning designs in the national finals.

All articles submitted for judging in the 1965 National Wool Needlework Contest must be knitted or crocheted of 100% wool or mohair yarn, purchased in the United States. Entries must have been completed since Jan. 1, 1965 and each entry must carry one label of the yarn used.

For further information regarding the 1965 National Wool Needlework Contest, rules and how to submit entries, potential contestants should contact the Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce office.

Time to Store Electric Blankets

COLLEGE STATION. — It's time to think about storing electric blankets, reminds Mrs. Doris Myers, Extension area specialist in home management at Texas A&M University.

In recent testing conducted by Consumers' Research Inc., the non-profit testing organization in Washington, N.J., results showed that electric blankets should never be dry cleaned or machine washed — no matter what claims the manufacturer might make to the contrary.

Study results pointed out that drycleaning fluids might attack the insulation that covers the wiring, and the tumbling action of a washing machine can cause a break in the wiring that runs through the blanket.

Damage also could result from any excessive twisting or squeezing, which led the researchers and engineers to conclude that electric blankets should be washed only when absolutely necessary—and then only by hand.

In hand washing, the researchers caution against any wringing action and recommend that excess water be removed by gently squeezing the fabric in the direction that the wires run.

If the blanket is not too badly soiled, it may be aired by gently placing it across parallel lines on a still day. After airing, it should be folded gently and stored in a box, the specialist says.

"If it is placed on a shelf, other blankets may put too much weight on the wires and cause the insulation to break," Mrs. Myers warns.

Zing into spring! Chevrolet Impala

Chevrolet Impala Super Sport Coupe—one of two bucket-seated beauties for '65.

People who buy other big expensive-looking cars get one thing you won't (big expensive-looking payments)

It looks like a big car. And is—by almost any standard you want to apply.

Width? Nobody builds a car as much as one inch wider. Length? It grew three inches this year. Roominess? Every closed model's got three inches more shoulder room, front and rear, and more leg and foot room up front too. Luxury? Nice little touches like the look of mellow walnut across the Impala's instrument panel. And big touches. Like the fineness of the same Body by Fisher workmanship that makes some of America's most expensive cars look so expensive. How about the ride? Chevrolet engineers took the Jet-smooth one and smoothed it out even more this year. Also made it more stable by widening the wheel stance. Price? That's where Chevrolets fall way short of the other big expensive-looking cars. But we wouldn't have it any other way. Would you?

One last question: How soon can you make a good spring buy on a Chevrolet? One last answer: Just as soon as you can get down to your Chevrolet dealer's.

Girlstown, USA, Director Speaks at FHA Salad Supper for Parents

The Wellington Future Homemakers of America honored their parents and other guests with a Pa, Ma and Me Salad Supper Monday evening, April 12 in the elementary school cafeteria. This event closed National FHA Week.

Marshall Cooper, general manager of Girlstown, USA, was the guest speaker.

He described how every effort is made to give the 56 girls of Girlstown a home life as nearly normal as possible. These are girls from broken homes, or whose parents cannot support them, or in some cases, orphans, he explained. Those with a record of delinquency are not accepted.

He stressed that these girls are future mothers, and the home is trying to prepare them for their place in society. Girlstown must turn down two applications for admission every three days because of lack of room, Cooper cited. It is supported altogether by voluntary gifts.

The youthful head-headed speaker said that he felt quite at home at a Future Homemakers meeting, for he was once an FHA Beau. Before going to Girlstown, he was a probation officer at Andrews and has worked as a police officer.

Jan Lindsey, president, was mistress of ceremonies and led the group in the FHA opening ceremony and gave the welcome. The response was given by Mrs. Clifford Christian.

Introducing the guests was Carolyn Christian. Carolyn and Freddie Bobo then presented a skit "What Is a Girl?" and "What Is a Boy?" The FHA sextet composed of Karen Childress, Polly Browning, Patricia Thomas, Patricia Wilson, Virginia Patterson, and Freida Minatrea sang "Thank Heaven for Little Girls" with Beth Smith as accompanist.

"Song of the Future Homemakers" was directed by Becky Brewer. E. W. Clement gave the benediction.

One More Step Taken Toward Construction of Salt Fork Dam

The confidence with which the Collingsworth County Water Board is working is reflecting in its actions of the last week. One necessary step was the application for a permit to appropriate the public waters on Salt Fork to be used for irrigation was made to the Texas Water Commission.

Simply put, this is the application for water rights on Salt Fork, which are expiring. In the past, these have been held in the name of Collingsworth County, but by agreement between the commissioners court and the water board, the latter, as the more appropriate agency, made application this time.

It is to be noted that one condition of the application states that if the permit is granted—no one is contesting it—construction on the Salt Fork improvements or dam are to start within 18 months and be completed within 36 months.

This gives starting date to shoot at, if the engineering data reveals noting that would prevent a dam's being build. Core testing is almost complete, and reports so far are favorable.

In our eagerness to see water running through an irrigation canal, this seems slow; in reality, the water board is making rather rapid progress.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

My old-school dropout neighbor notes the news that Medicare is now a cinch, and he is looking forward to the joys of free pampering by beautiful nurses.

But he's somewhat disappointed, on account of it appears that this nice program is going to be paid for by the old-fashioned taxation method.

Says obviously some reactionaries have infiltrated Washington and subverted the great new economic discovery that social gravy can be financed by tax cuts.

I see where an advocate of Equality among mankind is mighty worried about baseball, where some players enjoy a higher batting average than others.

He says this frustrates the psyches of the poor hitters, so he recommends a federal law giving six strikes instead of three to batters with less than a .200 average.

My equalogical neighbor says equalizing benefits for under-talented ballplayers is a great idea. He also favors a law that citizens making less than the national average income must get their groceries, cars, and motorboats at half price.

Likely you've seen the news in the papers that TV sets are being built which will change channels, raise or lower the volume, shut up, etc., on commands of the human voice.

But my progressurized neighbor figures a sensitive device like this might blow its transistors on hearing the listener language inspired by some programs.

Or it might even get to where it could actuate itself with its own voice and would quit listening to the folks who paid for it, after which it wouldn't be good for anything except running for office.

I see where there is a move on to overhaul our allegedly representative type government so that each Congressman represents about the same size wad of people.

My misrepresented neighbor says this is a noble idea and highly democratic, but it sure won't guarantee that each citizen will have equal voice in how government is run.

Says it's important, all right, that each Congressman has the same size district to represent, but it's no cinch that equal size districts will always come up with equal size Congressmen.

Anti-Communist Speaks April 24 at Childress

Communist infiltration will be the keynote of the message to be delivered in Childress, Saturday, April 24 at 7:30 p.m. when Christian Crusade, anti-communist organization of evangelist Billy James Hargis of Tulsa, Okla., presents a one-night anti-communist rally at the Childress Hotel.

Speaker at the rally will be Major Pedro Diaz Lanz, onetime commander in chief of the Cuban Air Force under Fidel Castro, and who was the first high-ranking officer to denounce the Cuban dictator as a communist. He barely escaped with his life in 1959, shortly after he publicly split with Castro. Later in the year, flying an unarmed aircraft from a Florida base, he "bombed" Havana with leaflets warning Cubans of their fate under communism and Castro, and was arrested and jailed by the United States State Department when he returned to the United States mainland. He was fined $2,000 because of the incident.

PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS IN COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

Water is a problem with many West Texas communities, but Childress is solving it with an ambitious program. In connection with neighboring towns, there is a $6 million dam and reservoir starting soon... under construction a $4 million pipeline from the water supply to the city... and a pipeline system in the city. Add such things as a remodeled City Auditorium with convention facilities... vapor lamp street lighting downtown and on highways through town... remodeled Chamber of Commerce offices... over $400,000 in Church construction... new lounge at the Airport... and modernizing of many business buildings. Scheduled for the immediate future are a school bond election... expansion of State buildings... and a new hospital. The Childress record is a PATTERN FOR PROGRESS in "community development," improving chances for continued economic growth and attraction of new industry plus making it a better place to live, work and play. Growth conscious towns are invited to contact their local WTU manager for assistance from our area development representatives.

WELLINGTON, TEXAS

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

We have been on another trip and bluebonnets and Indian paintbrush in the Austin-Houston area are beautiful at this time of the year; but for variety in colors and fields blanketed solid with colors the more famous Texas flowers will not compare with the blooming pastures of Collingsworth. This is the time of the year to get out and enjoy the beauty to be seen right here at home.

We went on another university touring jaunt this trip. This year it was Rice University and the University of Houston in Houston and The University of Texas in Austin. It had been years since I had actually made an inspection of the campus of The University of Texas and I was amazed at the number of new buildings that have sprung up in the last few years.

While in Houston we were escorted through the Astrodome by Winn Crandell, who is the assistant of Bill Giles, director of the Publicity Department. These two gentlemen are not the least bit worried over such things as the pigeons or the glare. Together the two misadventures have created column after column of publicity that they would not otherwise have obtained for the dome. In fact they knew before it was done that the dome could be repainted to eliminate the glare. They said that only a few panels would need to be treated to prevent the light from bothering the outfielders.

The dome is as impressive as anything you might imagine with its transparent plastic roof which has a clear span of 642 feet. From up at the seventh or eighth level the baseball park looks rather small, but it is 340 feet from homeplate to center field. There is nothing to obstruct the view of every part of the field. Later we went down to the ground level where the workmen were repairing the grass that had been damaged by the bands parading the week before.

The brightly colored seats provide a sharp contrast for the various levels; but the bright colors serve a practical purpose. If your ticket is red you sit on the red level or if it is bright blue you sit on the blue level. I apologized to Mr. Crandell for taking up his time since the papers had announced that daily tours were starting on the day we were there. He said that was O.K. since they did not know it either at the time we were talking on the phone, which was just the afternoon before. The first day they announced the tours 1,500 people saw the dome from the inside; but the second day 6,000 people went through the gates. Originally they planned the sight-seeing tours for 11 o'clock in the morning and 3 in the afternoon; but due to the size of the crowds they increased the tours to two in the morning and two in the afternoon.

They later lived in Louisiana, returned to Texas in 1908 and moved to Anson in 1915. He farmed until his death in 1947. Seven children survive, along with 36 grandchildren, 34 great grandchildren and 10 great great grandchildren.
