Things Like This Make News

Miss Bee Ann Gilchrist, wt. 7½ pounds, health robust, disposition sure to be sunny, arrived at 2:30 this morning, Thursday, February 29th, to give Burkburnett our only claim, so far as we know, to an honest-to-goodness Leap Year Baby.

The little lady is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Gilchrist and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Gilchrist and Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Hamilton.

Lions Heard 'Major Bowes' And Judge Ragsdale

The pupils of Miss Ethyle Virginia Allen presented a program modeled after the Major Bowes Amateur Hour for the Lions club at their regular meeting Tuesday, Feb. 27. Gordon Clement was the master of ceremonies. Mamie Browning was the pianist. A quartet composed of Louis Fulks, Colleen Mattingly, Josephine Utts, and Alice Millikin sang "God Bless America" and Louis Fulks rendered a piano solo. Donald Ray Mills appeared as the yodeling cowboy. For the concluding number the entire group formed a tin-pan orchestra.

Judge Ragsdale spoke to the club for a few minutes on returning to some of the fundamental American principles that were once the order of the day. Lions Middleton and Mattingly arranged the program.

High School Names 1940 Favorites

When the poles closed in the High School Favorites election late last Thursday afternoon, Miss Wanda Lou Gragg and Bill Bowman, both members of the Sophomore class, were winners.

Runners-up were Miss Martha Beth Utts and Glenn Wood, Juniors. Other contestants were Trevelyn Miller and Russell Clements from the Senior class and Jackie Henry and Raymond Johnston from the Freshman class.

First Meeting Of Legion In New Home Mar. 7

Members of the Burkburnett lodge of the I.O.O.F. will take T. D. Oxley and H. L. Lawson to Wichita Falls Monday night to receive the third degree honor. The conferring of the third degree by the Panhandle lodge in Wichita Falls will highlight the regular Monday night session at the Odd Fellows hall at 807 Austin St.

Burkburnett Water Supply Is Assured

Four New Wells Being Drilled

A deal was closed last week with A. Dodson for the purchase of the water rights on a tract of his land southeast of this city. A recent discovery of shallow water led to the purchase of the land.

Tests made on the farm show a heavy gravel strip saturated with water that tested 100 gallons per minute. Plans are now under way for the digging of four new wells on the acreage.

The city was faced with a possible shortage during the extreme dry weather which prevailed last year. At present the water is drawn from wells 16 to 50 feet deep northeast of the new leases. There are 12 wells at the present source of supply.

Pipe lines are being extended from the water plant to the new wells and the drilling is under way.

The water is fairly soft and has an excellent taste. Reports from the state health department give it a high rating.

"Blind Bogey" Golf Tourney Sunday, 1:30

Members of the Burkburnett golf club will hold a "Blind Bogey" tournament at the local golf club next Sunday beginning at 1:30 o'clock, according to Luther Caffee, secretary of the club. All members of the club who wish to enter this tournament are urged to be at the golf course promptly at 1:30. "Soda" Beldon will have charge of the tournament.

The club members met Monday night at the old Legion home where they enjoyed a talking picture "Keystone of Golf" which was sent out by the A. G. Spaulding Co. The picture deals with the proper stance when playing golf and how to improve your game. About 20 members attended the show.

Local Men To Receive I.O.O.F. Third Degree

The members of the Oscar Frye Post of the American Legion will hold their first meeting in their new home next Thursday, March 7, at 7:30 and every member is urged to attend.

The Legion recently purchased the building on the corner of Second street and Ave. E, and have remodeled and converted it into a home for the Legion, Auxiliary, Sons of the Legion and the Scout troop sponsored by the Legion.

Mamie Browning To Represent School At Meet

Mamie Browning, 11-year-old student at Hardin grade school was selected this week to represent Burkburnett as Choral director in the County Meet which is to be held at Iowa Park, March 22nd.

Little Miss Browning was chosen by popular ballot, votes being cast by members of the Choral club, which is sponsored by Miss Ethyle Virginia Allen.

The little girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Browning, of this city is said to be an excellent student, making a straight 'G' card every semester, and is already an accomplished pianist.

Runners-up in the election of Choral Director were Louis Fulks, Doris Mae Grace and Carol Lohefener.

Holds Revival

REV. TOM H. MASTERS

Calvary Baptist Revival Opens Here Friday

Rev. Tom Masters of Wichita Falls will be in Burkburnett Friday, March 1, to begin an old time, Heaven sent revival at the Calvary Baptist tabernacle. Services will begin each evening at 7:45.

Brother Masters will speak Friday night on "Does Burkburnett Need A Revival?" and on Saturday night he will speak on "What is the meaning of the agreement between Russia and Germany?" Does it mean that we are nearing the Battle of Armageddon as spoken of in the Bible? Other subjects will be announced as the meeting progresses. Everyone is invited to come and hear this man of God make plain the Blessed Word of the Master.

KVWC Artists Appear On Rotary Program

Clyde Elder, program chairman of the local Rotary club also had charge of the program last Tuesday at the weekly luncheon and presented the Taylor Memorial Quartet, who appear regularly over station KVWC, Vernon, who rendered several songs that were much enjoyed by those present. The quartet included H. H. Lowe, Aubrey Lowe, Bernie Arnold and Buck Underwood with Tommy House accompanist at the piano.

Louie Peyton presided during the meeting in the absence of M. C. Tucker, the president. Visitors from Wichita Falls were Scotty Scott, Virgil Wilson, Albert Brittain and Joe Farabee. Other guests were Dick Ayers and A. M. Taylor of Vernon, and Harry Findley of Colorado.

Plans Drawn For Community Home

Plans have been drawn by Volcher & Dixon, architects of Wichita Falls, and presented to the committee in charge, for the community building which is to be built here in the near future.

The plans call for the remodeling and enlarging of the old Hardin light plant building located just west of the city hall. According to the committee, work on the project will begin just as soon as the cost can be estimated.

Lavon Foster Gets Bad Cut On Arm

Lavon Foster, 6-year-old son of Mrs. Hallie Foster, is recovering from a minor injury received last Friday when he jumped into a hole back of the City Hotel where he lives and cut his right arm on a broken dish that was lying in the bottom of the hole. Fourteen stitches were required to close the cut.

Tucker Employees Vote Against Union Bargaining

NLRB Election Held At Fairview

Employees of the Tucker Oil company in an election Saturday voted two to one against having the Oil Workers' International union represent them in collective bargaining.

Results of the election, held at the Fairview school building, were certified Sunday by John F. Lebus, field examiner for the regional director of the national labor relations board.

Eligible Voters Certified A total of 77 employees of the company were certified as eligible to vote and 76 ballots were polled. The total number of votes for the Oil Workers' International Union, local No. 258 (C. I. O.), was 25. The total number of votes against the union representation was 51.

The election was held as the result of a hearing by examiners of the NLRB here in January. At that time the Tucker Oil company contended that it was not engaged in interstate commerce, since its oil was sold and delivered within the state of Texas. The company informed the board, however, that if the board held that the company was engaged in interstate commerce that no objection would be made.

Little Theatre To Produce 2nd Show March 20th

The Little Theatre has chosen a play for presentation on March 20th and casting has already started. The play, "It Won't Be Long Now," is said to be screamingly funny and a very good vehicle for amateur histrionics.

This is the second of four annual presentations by the Little Theatre. The first, "The Night of January 16th," was presented in January and was a decided success.

Already chosen for roles in "It Won't Be Long Now" are Roy Jackson, Earle Woodall, James Walling, Wendell Rice, Connie Evert, Joe Tunnell, Eugene Robertson, Elva Stimpson, and Peggy O'Neill.

Christian Church To Begin Revival

The Rev. Pearce J. Burns, pastor of the Burkburnett Central Christian church, stated Wednesday that his church will hold a two weeks' revival, beginning March 31st.

Evangelist Bridges of Fort Worth, Texas, will conduct the meeting. He has had wide experience in both pastoral and evangelistic work.

Further details concerning the revival will appear in a later issue of the Star.

Oklahoma Farmer Loses Barn In Fire

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the barn of J. W. Jackson, who lives two and one-half miles across the river near Valley View, Okla., last Friday night. Also destroyed in the fire were two hundred and fifty bushels of corn, nearly two hundred bushels of grain and about thirty sacks of cottonseed meal.

The barn was built about fifteen years ago and was something of a landmark in that community. It was wired for electricity last fall.

Oh! For The Life Of A School Marm

It comes to the attention of the Star reporter that one of the fairest of the high school faculty has gone "Ritz." It is reported that the young lady has her meals served to her while in the bath tub. Maybe she is planning on deserting Burkburnett for a whirl in Geo. White's Scandals or Carroll's Vanities.

John Clements, Ben Davis Injured In Highway Crash

Latest reports from John Clements who was injured in an automobile accident near Wichita Falls early Sunday morning indicate that he was far more seriously injured than it was thought at first.

Most of the bones in his face were crushed and it was understood that he was to undergo an operation Thursday afternoon but no report was available concerning the results.

Ben Davis, who suffered a fractured leg and arm in the same accident, was reported to be making steady improvement.

Collided With Truck Mr. Davis and Mr. Clements were accompanied by Ben Ward, Miss Claudia Scott, and Mrs. Joy Arp, all of Wichita Falls.

Davis was driving the car, which collided head-on with a Schlumberger Well Surveying company truck driven by H. J. Morris, Henrietta Road. The accident occurred approximately two miles out of Wichita Falls near the junction of the old Seymour road with highway 277.

Officers said that Morris, going out of the city failed to take the right lane where the highway divides. The truck and the car collided several hundred yards past the dividing point. Both vehicles were virtually demolished.

Morris, the driver of the truck was given a ticket, investigating officers stated.

Warning!

It is garden planting time and City Manager Lynn Kincaid warns all persons who have chickens to keep them up as there is an ordinance against fowls running loose. Mr. Kincaid states that if he is notified that chickens are ruining gardens and flower beds he will be forced to prosecute the owners.

Highway 240 Out Of Burkburnett To Be Surfaced

Highway 240 west from Burkburnett is included in the 1940 asphalt program announced by J. M. Isbell, district engineer, Saturday.

Seven miles of asphalt surfacing will be laid over the base preservative on section where new base was laid last year.

Other highways included in the program are in Wilbarger, Young and Archer counties.

Missionary To Speak Here

Paul Bell, a missionary under the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist convention, will speak at the First Baptist church Monday night at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Bell has been in this work for a number of years and has an outlook that few men ever reach. He is an able and convincing speaker and will speak on subjects of vital interest to all Christians.

Everyone is invited to hear Dr. Bell.

Pauline McGinnis To Work In Ft. Worth

Miss Pauline McGinnis, who has been employed as a book-keeper and stenographer by Tucker Insurance Agency for the past two years, has accepted a position with the Commercial Standard Insurance company in Fort Worth and will leave on the 8th to take up her duties there.

Miss McGinnis is the daughter of Mrs. Fred McGinnis of Thrift and is a graduate of Fairview high school.

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

Along about now is the time when some clubs give a banquet to honor the outstanding citizen of the year. Usually this accolade is bestowed on rich bankers, merchant princes or eminent lawyers—men who have reaped gold and now receive glory, once more proving the Scriptural saying, "To him that hath shall be added." Why not, for a change, give a banquet for a school teacher, a minister or maybe a country editor. Or a cross-roads storekeeper, a farmer, a village philosopher, a mother or someone else who is humble, modest, obscure and poor in worldly goods but rich in unselfish service to those about them.

The old jokes for our contest keep drifting in. Here's a story that harks back to the early days of the automobile. The new-fangled horseless carriage was so fast that it took two men to see it; one to say, "Here she comes" and the other to say, "There she goes."

And do you remember the Chinaman's comment on his first automobile, "No pushee, no shovee, but go like helee?"

A braggart was writing down the names of all the men he could whip. When he called off one name, the owner happened to be present and spoke up: "You can't whip me." The other said,

"Are you right sure?" The challenger started taking off his coat and barked out, "You bet I am." The other chap said, "All right, I'll take your name off the list."

As the father said to his son, "Boy, honesty is the best policy; I know because I've tried both."

We've never seen these "rules" in print but a large proportion of the drivers we've met recently on street and highway seem to be following such a set and so we reduce them to writing, as follows:

Do not hesitate to use your horn. If you catch sight of a friend walking along and you haven't seen him for two full hours, honk your horn. If you want to scare a pedestrian out of a year's growth as he walks across on a green light, step on the gas, slap on the brakes and honk your horn. If you want to let somebody on the ninth or nineteenth floor know you are there to take him home, just honk your horn. It may be hard on other people's ear-drums and make their nervous systems more nervous, but it's a free country, ain't it?

That white line down the middle of the highway is a track for your inside wheel to run over. Of course, if you meet another idiot who thinks the same thing, they

Burkburnett History

As revealed by the files of The Star 10 years ago.

The people of Burkburnett may now rejoice because of the fact that the city has an abundant supply of good water and because this has been accomplished without a bond issue. The new water supply now furnishing the city consists of seven wells. The eighth well will be completed within a few days.

Charlie Minick has sold his local milk business to Hugh Preston and Will Teal. The Preston Dairy secured the retail business and the Teal Dairy secured the wholesale business.

The building owned by J. I. Staley, Glynn and Lynn Kincaid, formerly owned by R. H. Henry, is being completely remodeled and will be occupied by Thomas Store, Inc.

A new roof is being placed on the Burkburnett Hotel this week.

A number of storm cellars are being dug this week. People are getting ready for the spring storms.

Mrs. Wid Philips is reported to be ill at her home this week.

E. L. Blum was host to a number of his little friends when celebrating his birthday with a party on February 20th.

Not Afraid Of The Dark

EDITH BRANDIS

When my little girl, Louisa, was four years old, she began to be afraid to be left alone in a dark room, and getting her to sleep became a real problem. I tried a dozen ways of meeting the situation, such as sitting by her until she went to sleep, reassuring her

Talking did no good, and of course I could not continue to sit beside her and wait for her to go to sleep.

Very early, Louisa had shown herself to be a lover of beauty. Like most children she loved to sit in front of the wood fire and watch it blaze. She loved color. Her reaction toward the color, purple, was something in the nature of ecstasy. I have heard her exclaim when she saw a bed of flowers, "Oh, purple, purple, purple."

One day it dawned upon me that if I could connect her love of color, with ideas about finding beauty in the dark, it might solve my problem which had become really serious. I cast about for a practical way of doing this.

One night, when she was ready for bed, I lit a candle on the mantel and told her it was to be her goodnight light. We sat in front of the hearth, for the last few moments of a story, then I told her to look closely at the candle for a moment. It was a small candle, so the light was not too bright for her eyes.

"What do you see?" I asked her.

"I see a light. A very little light."

"Now, shut your eyes. What do you see?"

"I see a light. A very little light."

"The candle light didn't go away when you shut your eyes." "No. It's still there." We experimented with the candle light for a few minutes, as I knew that looking steadily at the small flame would have a tendency to make her sleepy. Before we left the room I placed the candle where she could see it through her bedroom doorway. Then we crossed the hall, and she slipped at once into her little bed. I told her to look steadily at the candle which she did for a moment or two, then she lay down and began to watch her "own little candle", as she called it then and later.

I sat quietly for a few moments, and when I stooped above her pillow, I found her fast asleep. After that she called it, "Making my own light!" and we had no further trouble about leaving her in the dark. She really wasn't, she thought, in the dark.

I bought an attractive candlestick and some tiny candles for her use. Those were always kept on the tall chiffonier in her room. I saw to it that she gazed hard at the candle for a moment or two, each night after climbing into bed, then I blew it out and came away. The little flame, that persistence of vision showed her, did the rest.

One might use a small electric light bulb, instead of a candle, for a child who does not go to sleep easily, being very careful that the light is not too bright. He should be allowed to look at it steadily and "make" his "own pretty light," thus connecting his ideas of the beauty of light with something he had not before discovered in darkness.

It's very important that the mother should indulge in no emotions over such childish problems. That is exactly what they are, problems, to be solved in the best way possible. An im-can just hold a double funeral service.

It's great sport to put on full speed ahead, whip in front of another car, then stop at a filling station nine feet afterward.

For a left turn hold your arm straight out; for a right turn, arm straight out; for a stop, arm straight out. Well, anyway, the motorist behind you ought to be grateful that you indicated something that was about to happen.

Now, to be serious: If city, county and state officers would arrest all traffic offenders and then if the judge would just impose and collect a fine in each instance, one of two things would happen. Either so much would be collected in fines that all taxes could be abolished or this reckless driving would end and this awful toll of human lives and broken limbs would be greatly reduced.

In the lower left hand corner of the first page of the Dallas News a few mornings ago appeared these lines by your columnist:

MIRACLES

When all the world was blue and gold,

It seemed a dream that rain could fall:

Now all the world is wet and cold—

Will sunlight ever stream again,

Will roses ever dream again

Along my garden-wall?

The recent passing of Cyclone Davis marked the loss of an eloquent and picturesque figure who long held a prominent place in Texas politics. Someone could write a highly interesting book on powerful stump-speakers of bygone days in the Lone Star State. Such a gallery would include Dave Culberson (father of Charles Culberson), who was an opponent of Cyclone Davis; and others would be "Stump" Ashby and "Howdy" Martin, the latter receiving his nickname from his habit of greeting everybody he met with an up-lifted hand and a deep "Howdy."

Quite a few Texas newspapermen, by the way, have found time—in spite of their heavy day-by-day writing duties—to write a book, too. Among them are Sam Hanna Acheson, who wrote "Joe Bailey," and Wayne Gard, "Sam Bass"—both of the Dallas News, that is Acheson and Gard. Douglas Meador, out at Paducah, authored "Trail Dust", based on his celebrated column, and C. L. Douglas of the Fort Worth Press has written several volumes, best known being "Gentlemen in the White Hats."

And speaking of old jokes (which we were a while back), there's the one about the town tightwad who refused to subscribe toward the cost of building a fence around the cemetery. His reason was "Nobody on the outside wants to get in and nobody on the inside can get out."

Farmers Offered New Profit Chance

The adoption of the shorthorn dual purpose cattle in Texas and Oklahoma offers the dairymen and farmer a new horizon in profits, according to the opinion of G. W. Goehler.

On his farm two and a half miles south of Grandfield, Okla., Goehler has been breeding milking shorthorns for the last 10 years and has been in the dairying and breeding business at the same location since 1907.

Goehler has three registered bulls of the fine stock which are now for sale and a herd of 81 pure bred cows and heifers. Speaking of the shorthorn cattle, he says, "If the farmer likes to milk, the cattle will produce milk for butter and table use. If he does not like to milk, the milking shorthorn cow, having a substantial carcass, will produce meat economically."

"The use of the cattle is comparatively new in the South but has proved of great value on farms in the North many years."

"The dairy shorthorns will produce milk and butterfat as economically as any other breed of cattle for the feed given them, and at the end of their milk-producing period, fattened up a bit, they sell for top prices as beef, a difference often of from $15 to $40 a head. "Milking shorthorns are built to produce milk when milking, and to produce flesh when dry. They lend themselves profitably to the needs of the general farmers, who constitute 95 per cent of the farmers of America, probably a greater percentage than those in this region."

NOW IS THE TIME TO:

- Seed the lawn — Plant sweet peas.
- Order garden seeds — Treat fence posts.
- Buy new garden tools — Inspect tile drain outlets.
- Call on your neighbors — Get new flashlight batteries.
- Dock and castrate early lambs.
- Shut off lights in laying houses.
- Clean lanterns, put in new wicks.
- Roll winter wheat heaved by frost.
- Prune orchards, grapevines. Burn the brush.
- Sow tomatoes, peppers, celery in the hotbed.
- Bridge-graft tree girdled by mice or rabbits.
- Smoke home-cured meat, store it in fly-proof proof.
- Order inoculating material for legume seed—clover, alfalfa, soybeans, etc.
- Supplement brood sow rations with tankage, skim milk or mixed protein feed.

Women Take Rank Among Greatest Spies in History

SINCE Biblical days of Rahab, since the exploits of Delilah, down through the ages, women have played a great part in the wars of each country. Not only in their behind-the-scenes work at home, their work in keeping up army morale, but in actual combat work. Perhaps the most dangerous, least glorious job that women do for their country is espionage work.

Glorious, glamorous lady spies are not as infrequent as skeptical readers of the political-thrillers may think. But their destinies are much more realistic than those of their book-heroine sisters. In "Life of Peril" an article written by Richard Wilmer Rowan, in March Good Housekeeping and dealing with women in espionage work at the present time, work that is being done by English, French and German women is described as appallingly dangerous, painstaking and unfruitful of returns other than the satisfaction of serving a country and doing a good job.

Women descending in parachutes behind enemy lines, donning peasant disguises and proceeding on allotted jobs such as blowing up bridges or depots; women risking their lives hourly in counter espionage; women training groups of adults and children so carefully that whole battalions in the armies lean on their frail strength; all these women are quietly and efficiently going about their business in the year 1940, with little fanfare and less hope of reward.

It was a woman who, almost single-handed, broke up the notorious Woolwich Arsenal ring in England in 1938. By working patiently and quietly, Miss X so ingratiated herself with the ring-leaders of the plot that they in turn, came to depend on her as a co-worker. After months of activity with the spies, Miss X presented such a strongly documented case that the leaders were all convicted and sentenced to various prison terms.

Mr. Rowan describes in detail the fascinating work done by the famous Louise de Bettignies who did invaluable work for the Allies in the first World War. Mme. de Bettignies ultimately was trapped by another woman doing counter espionage work. Although she incriminated herself to aid a comrade, caught at the same time, Mme. de Bettignies did not pay the usual death penalty due to the intervention of the highest officials who wanted to avoid a repetition of the resentment which was aroused by the execution of Nurse Edith Cavell, but she was to die one month before the armistice which would have meant her release. Cold and starvation in prison were her executors.

"Then Cometh The End"

By O. D. DIAL, Minister

There are a few solemn truths that I wish to call to our attention, and if possible cause some sin-sick soul to think of his terrible lost condition, that he may through obedience to the gospel of Christ, come to the great physician of the soul, to be healed.

There may be some truths and facts which are hard for us to fully comprehend, if not impossible. One of them is, the value of a human being. This is because he is a living soul, or that he possesses a never dying soul. The Savior emphasized the value of a soul with this comparison: "If a man shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul, what doth it profit him? For what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?" Friends, your soul is worth more than the combined wealth of the universe. Will you not realize this, and prepare it for eternity and Heaven?

Another solemn truth that we should realize is this: Everything that is visible has a beginning—and everything that is visible has an end. That means that those things for which we strive, those things that receive the greater part of our time and attention are timely and must come to an end. Only those things that are invisible are eternal. Why then should we spend our few years assigned us here in this world striving for, yearning for, material things, to the neglect of eternal things? Those earthly, material, visible things, receiving so much of our attention and efforts, must come to an end. Is it not then utter folly on our part to work and labor for those things that we cannot carry with us when we leave this world?

Friends, what do you think your life and all your efforts here will have profited you, if in

Mrs. Freda Brubaker of Grandfield, Okla., visited Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Frye and Eva Le Rue last Monday.

Mrs. Ross Wright and Mrs. Vernon Speir were hostesses to the T.E.L. class at the social given last Thursday night in the Devol hotel. Color scheme was carried out in red, white and blue and a little hatchet and cherry tree were placed on each plate as favors. Those present were Mesdames Carl Powell, M. E. Farmer, J. B. Stevens, Zodie Maloney, Kelsie Smith, S. L. Arnold, Gene Watson, Pitcock, Tarrant, Relda Uthe, Reeves, Dorothy Hooper, J. T. Crouch, J. N. Dillow, Delmer Dorre from Rush Springs, Scott Morgan, Jane Trotter, and Misses Clea Dillow, Florene and Betty Joe Powell, Peggy and Patty Speir, and the hostesses, Mrs. Ross Wright and Mrs. Vernon Speir.

Sylvia Mowery is reported ill this week.

Gordon Woodley visited in Grandfield last Sunday.

Bowling seems to take the lead in sports among the younger set in Devol.

University Sets Up Up "Freshman Orientation" Course

Austin, Feb. 28.—The mental hazard of being a small fish in a big pond—that faced by almost every freshman who enters a 11,000-student college—will be banished at the University of Texas, officials believe, through its permanent machinery for "Freshman Orientation," set up last week.

The 200-man faculty-student orientation committee proposes, by means of student and faculty contacts, to "sell the University" to its incoming freshmen each year, V. I. Moore, dean of student life, said.

Appointed by Dean Moore as faculty chairman was R. R. Rubottom, assistant dean of men. J. Ward Fouts, Dallas law student, was elected student chairman. Under Fouts and Rubottom will operate a 20-man student council, acting in advisory capacity to the student-faculty orientation group.

Tentative plans set by the council call for a five-day "Freshman Week" next September, when more than 1800 freshmen, according to Dean Rubottom, will be given a rapid-fire "course" in the University itself.

Purpose of the "course"—backlogged by individual faculty-student study conferences and student social events—he said, will be to let the new student get acquainted with his school and

"put his feet on solid ground before he decides the institution is too big for him."

Presbyterian Church

An awful crime is committed. You hear people say: "How could anybody do an act like that?" It is simply the process of hardening of the heart. "From bad to worse" is not just an old saying, it is the law of life, just as "from good to better" is also.

Let us discuss together "The Godly and the Ungodly" next Sunday morning.

We cordially welcome you to all services. Sunday school at 10 a. m. "Godly and Ungodly Compared," 11 a. m.

HEY, YOU!

(Things that never make the front page.) BY BILL WOOD

Well, this week this writer is going to depart from his usual practice and turn this column over to a guest columnist. Although it is a local person, I shall not reveal his name for obvious reasons. Therefore, if there is any thing you don't like about this column this week, please see me and I shall do my utmost not to explain what was meant by what was said.

Reverting to key-hole listening, I heard last night that a very prominent young lady was going to relinquish her position in order to lend her time to the perpetuation of mankind. We wish she and her husband a lot of success in their new role as mother and father.

A group of locals attended bankers' conventions on Washington's birthday. According to all the reports that we have, every one of them enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent. And having been on a convention or two ourselves, we can safely say that if one wants to have a good time—or, at least, a so-called good time—one can certainly do it at a convention.

A local Rotarian was making up his attendance at a neighboring city the other day and was called on to make a talk. He got up and started—"Brother Rotarians, I've never made a speech but have always wanted to so that I could look out over an audience. You see, when I was a boy I had a teacher who would get up in chapel to make a speech and just stand and look at us for some time. I was always curious to know what he was thinking."

With a wave of his arms he continued, "Friends, as I look out over this assembly I have decided he was thinking 'Boy, what a dumb looking bunch.'"

Just to give you an idea of what a swell bunch of boosters Burk Burnett has, I'll pass this on to you:

The editor, in company with some of the city officials was overheard bemoaning the lack of a sufficient water supply some time before the latest supply was discovered.

It was said that things were really in a pretty bad shape and that if it didn't rain pretty soon, the supply wouldn't last very long. That was on Saturday and on Monday or Tuesday the editor made a short talk on a nearby radio station and did he pour it on about the local water supply. Why, I thought for a moment he was talking about some other place, Burk had so much water.

Seriously, though, Burk Burnett now has plenty of water from the new wells being drilled and it is largely through the efforts of those who work 'undercover' while keeping up a 'brave front' that our present facilities are possible.

Well, you know, it's funny to be a stranger in a place and not 'in the know' about city scandal, politics, and such. You get both sides of a question until you talk and get acquainted and have to take a stand on one side of the fence or the other, but it is really comical to hear just what one side thinks of the other. I've heard 'em both, and it wouldn't do to print either of them here.

Oh, yeah, I heard one citizen bemoaning the fact that he hated to pay a dollar to vote in Burk Burnett because in the City election there was never much campaigning and he always tried to get his poll tax money back in cigars and drinks.

A new angle turns up in the food stamp plan: A grocer was approached in this manner by a negro: "Boss, I've got a proposition—hun foh yo'." "Well, what is it?" "Well, suh, yo' loan me $10 foh about ten minutes and ah'll go buy myself $10 wuth uh them stamps and get $5 wuth free. Dat meks $15 wuth. Ah'll give yo' the $10 wuth and that's yo' ten; then ah'll spend the $5 wuth yo'. Yo' gets the $5 profit and Ah gets the $5 wuth of groceries."

We heard another very good 'one' about a prominent local merchant who was away on business one afternoon last week and did not return until about 9:00 o'clock that evening. When he went to his place of business on an errand, he was completely overwhelmed to find three employees and his daughter sitting in the front door playing "42." The proprietor had gone away with the keys in his pocket and the four were acting as self-appointed night watchmen until he returned to 'lock-up'.

—AND— TENTION CONTROL (The Master Technique)

A NEW METHOD

The science of Chiropractic is keeping abreast of progress. It has now stepped ahead with advanced ideas and accurate methods of applying them which enables the modern Chiropractor to apply the principles of his science with an ease and exactness never before thought possible.

Good as Chiropractic has been in the past, it has had two complaints against its applications.

First: Under former methods of treatments, patients have at times complained that the spinal treatments hurt them and left them with sore spines.

Second: The usual long course of treatments before satisfactory results were obtained.

All This Has Been Changed and today we have the new and better Chiropractic, giving us a scientific and exact technique with which to apply the chiropractic principles. We are now able to be of better service to our patients, at a saving of time and money and without any of the objectionable features of former methods. Today hundreds of Chiropractors have discarded the old methods of treatments for the New And Modern Methods of Painless Adjustments. The kind that cannot possibly "hurt or scare" you—the kind that makes you feel better at once—the kind that does away with all guesswork and experiment—the kind that gets Real Results!

The choir will render a selection in this service. The Ladies' Aid will meet next Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. G. Holtzen. You are cordially invited. Clara Lutheran church welcomes you. Paul Kaiser, pastor.

University Fetes Veteran Faculty Members

Austin, Feb. 28—A half-century of service was recognized by the University of Texas last week when the faculty honored one of its veteran members, Dr. Frederic Simonds, professor of geology. Geologists of the teaching staff and close friends attended an anniversary banquet for Dr. Simonds, who came to the campus in 1890. At that time the geology department had but one instructor. Under his leadership, the department has become, according to most observers, one of the finest in the nation, climaxing its growth this year with an enrollment of 1200 for the fall semester.

Clara Club Met At Mrs. Day's

Members of the Clara Home Demonstration club met at the home of Mrs. H. C. Day Monday afternoon. Meeting opened with members reciting the club prayer and singing the club song, "God Bless America." Roll call was answered with what members had done about exterminating insects. Mrs. J. W. Whitney read a paper on how chewing insects may be controlled and Mrs. B. Glass talked on how to control sucking insects. Mrs. O. W. Prechel discussed principal insects and diseases that attack garden crops. Mrs. S. E. Ferguson read notes which she had received from Miss Ruth Farquhar, demonstration agent.

Laws and by-laws were adopted during a short business session and were written by Mrs. Paul Schroeder. Refreshments were served to Mesdames J. S. Osborn, J. W. Whitney, S. E. Ferguson, S. M. Butts, R. R. Johnston, Harvey Ramming, J. L. Pearson, D. B. Redmon, new member, Wayne Redmon, new member, H. C. Day, H. M. Sutterfield, new member, E. A. Alveys Have Guests

Mrs. John S. Gibson, Jr., and daughter, Frances Mae, returned to Burkburnett this week from Houston and Conroe to visit Mrs. Gibson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Alvey. Mrs. Gibson visited friends and relatives in Houston and Conroe and attended the wedding of her brother-in-law, Jimmie Gibson, at Conroe. She acted as matron of honor for the affair.

Old Griets

By Edith Tatum
From March Good Housekeeping
The waves, a pack of hungry hounds, Attack the sandy shore. They snarl and howl above the wind Demanding more and more. But in the distance, deeply blue, Their turmoil seems to cease. They move with rhythmic unison That brings the spirit peace. So old griets rage within my heart; I am no longer free. If my thoughts winged me far away, Would it be like the sea? Aristotle, naturalist and philosopher of ancient Greece, was the first to discuss bird migration.

Home Economics Receive Invitation To Denton

Denton, Texas, Feb. 29—Students in home economics at Burkburnett high school have received a special invitation to attend the Area Four meeting of the Future Homemakers of Texas, which will be held at the North Texas State Teachers' college Saturday, March 9th.

The invitation was mailed to Mrs. Helen Dillon, one of 150 teachers of homemaking in the area who have been invited to attend the meeting with their students. Between 700 and 1000 high school economics students from the 150 invited schools are expected to attend the meeting, at which the N.T.S.T.C. Demonstration School homemakers department will serve as hostess club under the direction of Miss Editha Luecke, associate professor of home economics at the Teachers College.

THRIFT NEWS

By B. F. Jackson

Mrs. J. O. (Jimmie) Donohoo, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Bogy, accompanied by Miss Blanche Butler of Burkburnett and Miss Margaret Lee Bogy of Bridgeport attended the state style show and beauticians convention at Dallas last week-end. The party left Saturday night and returned late Monday night, with the exception of Miss Butler, who returned Sunday night. Mrs. R. G. Hayes was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Bogy's shop during their absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Underwood and young son, Ronnie, and Byron Jackson visited in Fort Worth last Sunday.

T. E. (Tom) Welborn suffered a painful but not serious injury to the big toe on his right foot last week when a joint of pipe fell on it. He was compelled to go on crutches for several days but is able to walk now without them.

The large crowd present at the Fairview school house last Friday night was well entertained by the highly amusing negro minstrel show put on by the Fairview high school students. Charles White was master of ceremonies and introduced the various acts and performers. Several songs and dance acts were put on which were well enjoyed by the audience. The proceeds from the performance went into the athletic fund of the school.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. (Slats) Hayes, Mr. Jimmie Donehoo and son, Gene, attended the funeral services for Mr. Donehoo's grandmother at Chico, Texas, last Sunday at 2:30. His many friends extend Mr. Donehoo their sympathy during his bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Zink and son, Albert, left Wednesday afternoon for Nashville, Tenn., where Mr. Zink's father is seriously ill with pneumonia. The elder Zink is 83 years old. It is feared that this illness may prove fatal to him.

The Fairview volleyball girls played the Ringgold girls in some practice games on the Hardin Junior college court in Wichita Falls Tuesday night in preparation for the district volleyball tournament to be played there Friday and Saturday of this week.

The Fairview girls won two out of three games. Scores were 15-5; 12-15; and 15-8. Several fans from here accompanied the team and were well pleased by their playing.

The Men's Brotherhood of the local Baptist church met in regular meeting Monday night with President J. W. Zink in charge. After a brief business session the meeting was turned over to the entertainment committee who in turn introduced an orchestra composed of four local boys and three Burkburnett boys. They furnished musical entertainment for a lengthy period of time which was well enjoyed by those present. Refreshments of pie and coffee were served to thirty-four men and boys, including those in the orchestra. The next meeting of the Brotherhood will be on Monday night, March 11. A cordial invitation is extended to the men of the community to be present at that time.

A meeting for the Scout leaders of this area was held in the Sunday school rooms of the local Baptist church Tuesday night. Scout leaders from Wichita Falls, Burkburnett, and Vernon were among those present. Plans for future scouting activities were discussed at the meeting.

The home of Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Bales was the scene of a birthday dinner given in honor of Mesdames Troy Miller, L. B. Horr, L. W. Forquaran, G. W. Bales, and Rev. Bales, all of those attending besides the honorees were Messrs. L. B. Horr and L. W. Forquaran.

Mrs. Clyde Peed sponsored a party given for the Intermediate B.T.U. Union Tuesday night. Several games were played and refreshments were served to a large group of boys and girls. Everyone reported having a good time and expressed themselves as looking forward to another party in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Y. C. Paschall, Jr., who are teaching school at Elliott this year were visitors here last week-end.

Miss Joan Podreger, who has been ill for several days with an ear ailment, is reported to be much improved at this time.

Mrs. H. L. McCall is showing much improvement after a recent operation and is now able to be up in school. A. C. Whigham of the Burkburnett hospital Wednesday suffered a bleed. He suffered a bleed Tuesday night treated for them and they had been stopped the last one, he was in hospital where he will be treated.

Hardin Grade School News

We are sorry that Eddie Copher, Little Ann Stradley and James Dougherty are absent today because of illness. We are going to organize a news club this week. (Miss Parris.)

Onick, Onick, did we ever tell you about our little China Pig, Salomey? We can't remember, but always to us Salomey is always of interest. She is a very special kind of pig for she eats money and one of these days we are going to open her up to see just how many pennies, nickels and dimes she has eaten. By now you have no doubt guessed that Salomey is our pig bank in which we save our money until we get enough to buy something for our room. Perhaps it will be a picture—maybe we will spend it for a party. P. S.—Salomey has a blue ribbon around her neck and always wears a happy smile. (Miss Ingle.)

Barbara Sue Jones, who was taken to the hospital Feb. 14, is able to be up and about again. Jesse Dodson has returned to school after an absence of a week on account of illness. (Miss Billingslea.)

Pupils of H2-2 will learn this week the meaning of Good Citizenship to follow up their study of their flag and the good citizens Washington and Lincoln. They will learn that a good citizen in school, as elsewhere, should be helpful, honest, truthful, kind, and obedient. David McNeil has the most scores on the reading chart. Joe Dale Samson is a close second. Leon Cox, Charles Gist, David McNeil, and James Rogers have been on the spelling honor roll the past two weeks. (Miss Lasseter.)

Many of the children in H 2-1 are interested in telling stories. Our teacher reads three stories to us and we may choose one of them to tell. It is good experience for us even though we may not be the winner to represent our school in the Interscholastic League contest. Those who are trying out for story-telling are: Beverly Wyant, Laqueta Jennings, W. L. Gibson, Daisy Ann Nolan, Gwynda Stevenson, and Scranton Peevey. We will have our elimination contest on Tuesday afternoon to select the two winners to represent our room in the final contest which is to be Thursday. We extend our sympathy to Buddy Lorang whose grandmother, Mrs. A. Jeffers died on Sunday. The children who were in the Flag Drill and the playlet in our assembly program last Friday are going to have their pictures made, with their flags and in their red, white and blue military hats that they made themselves. (Mrs. Moore.)

Bert Broome and Lina Bell Sands made perfect scores in reading last week. Biddie Peal Ashman, Cecil Jennings and Melvin Yarborough have been transferred to class I of our section in reading because of their improvement. We hope that they continue to read well so that they may stay in class I. Study and attendance influence grades. Our grade is busy now learning multiplication tables in order to become more accurate in multiplying and dividing. Most of the pupils are doing well learning the tables. Richard Hall and Cecil Jennings told our geography class about their visit to a coal mine. Several pupils brought pieces of coal which had small leaf prints on them, but we hope someone send in a better sample than we have been able to find. We have tried to send "this here" and "that there" out of our room forever. Pupils in this room do not like to hear anyone say "this here" and "that there", so we have tried to destroy that habit of speech. Loyd Gramer, A. W. McPherson, Levo Music, Jackie Self, Carleta Stamps and Tillman Wilcox wade perfect scores in spelling last week. Washington's life was studied as an example of a good citizen this past week. He had a strong, healthy body which enabled him to be a leader in his boyhood as well as when he became a man. He had great courage and he told the truth. Health, courage and truthfulness are needed today for good citizenship we think. (Miss Loree Smith.)

The students of H 3-1 have been studying bulbs. The way they grow and watching the buds form and finally bursting into bloom. One of the bulbs is now in bloom and the students are going to make crayon and water color studies of them. (Miss Jackson.)

Wanda Lou Story, Elizabeth Houtchens, Vesta Lea Green, Billy Ross, Esther Walkup, Albert Henderson, Junior Stonecipher, Forest Hancock, Delorse Mallette, and Jackie Williams were on the spelling honor roll this week. Names appearing in the "Pig Pen" this week are: Claude Turnbow, Kenneth Hall, Forest Hancock, Jim Deines, Cora Lee Champion, Bobbie O'Connor, and Donald Stearnes. (Miss Solomon.)

We are sorry that Benny Jack Turner is absent this week due to illness. This is the first time he has been absent this school year. Billy Joe Brunner, Dewey Coppher, Bobbie Nell Dalton, Bernice Foster, Harold Ray Garrett, Gene Groves, E. W. Hobbs, James Metz, and Nell Janet Story made Gin spelling this last week. (Miss Majors.)

Our room is making a scrapbook of Switzerland. Anice June Taylor brought the scrapbook and gave it to the class to use. The entire room has collected Swiss pictures. The five best pictures to be put in our scrap book were drawn by Marjorie Hill, Joy Lee Cassell, Johnnie Nell Henry, Bernice Kinder, and Ted Harris. About three-fourths of the pupils in our room went to see the religious picture, Golgotha. (Miss Isbell.)

Our grade is very busy getting note books in for this six weeks grades, also reviewing for our tests. In our art, we are making posters with cut paper to illustrate nursery rhymes. Janet Thompson, Dorothy Ellen Boyd, Viola McCafferty, Wanda Gale Cruce, Jerry Jack Miller, Donald Wilson, Leon Duke, James Gibson, and Kenneth Trigleth are working in groups and making larger posters. Wanda Gale Cruce visited yesterday in Denton. (Miss Valda Smith.)

Tennis tournament will be completed by tomorrow. Doris Mae Grace and Wilma Butts will play Mary Frances Gamblin and Betty Jean Cagle today at noon. The winners of that match will play Colleen Mattingly and Josephine Utts Tuesday at noon. The winners of that match will represent Hardin grade school in the Interscholastic League. The girls who will represent our grade school in baseball are as follows: Nell Gibson, Mary Ellen Fields, Bobbie Jean England, Gwendolyn Turner, Denzel Brown, Opal Lee Taylor, Jean Fuiks, Lucille Cox, Geraldine Evens, Jessie Lee Ustleton, Mary Lou Holman, Lottie Long, Oleta Simons, Marguerite Champion, Wanda Marshal, Mary Alice Cantrell, and Manager Vela Ruth Potts, and Captain, Nell Gibson. (Miss Hyden.)

We are sorry to report Bobby Hall out of school on account of illness. (Miss McGinnis.)

Judson Carruthers is back in school after being absent for two weeks. Kenneth King, who has been ill with influenza, is back in school. Opal Lee Taylor spent the week-end with Dorothy Mae Minick. J. Mrs. Roosevelt Calls Votes For Women Boon to U. S.

THE coming of age of women's suffrage is marked by a great change in the public attitude toward humanitarian questions that deal with the happiness of human beings, such as health, education and security, according to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

That women have treated the vote in much the same manner as men, is the First Lady's flat opinion, expressed in the second of a series of three articles dealing with women in politics which appears in the March issue of Good Housekeeping. There is no doubt, she says, that acting as groups, women have exerted pressure in national questions, but in voting they branch out as individualists, making their decisions as men do on separate merits of the questions of people involved.

"We have had, of course," continues Mrs. Roosevelt, "a few failures among women who have taken office either because men have urged them to do so, or because they have followed in their husbands' footsteps. When a woman fails, it is much more serious than when a man fails, because the average person attributes the failure not to the individual, but to the fact that she is a woman."

As far as the ever lively question of temperance is concerned, Mrs. Roosevelt admits that the Women's Christian Temperance Union undoubtedly had a great deal to do with the passage of prohibition when they did not have the vote. However, on the other hand, many groups of women worked earnestly for repeal, basing their judgment on the long view that prohibition seemed to be developing a disrespect for national law.

Returning to the question of humanitarian moves, Mrs. Roosevelt acknowledges the fact that there were many men who recognized the necessity for such legislation but states her belief that many more men would have delayed immediate action had it not been for their realization of the power of the votes and continued support from women voters.

Pointing out the fact that there are certain governments which deny the efficacy of suffrage for both men and women, Mrs. Roosevelt states that the question should not be discussed from the standpoint of whether or not women have proved in twenty-one years that they should have suffrage, but whether or not suffrage should be granted to individuals who have an equal right to a voice in their own government.

The BIRTHSTONE by MYRON EVERTS President, American National Retail Jewelers

THE AMETHYST —February's Gem of

AMETHYST was a beautiful maiden, according to Greek mythology, who one day on her way to worship at Diana's throne met the god Bacchus who was so incensed at Diana that he had vowed to throw the first person he met to the tigers. As the beasts sprang toward Amethyst, Bacchus saw the beautiful maiden's figure transform into sparkling white stone, poured his favorite wine over her petrified body, thus giving the stone its exquisite violet hue.

The amethyst, February's natal stone, is said to have prevented drunkenness and is regarded as an important symbol in religious decoration. It was the ninth stone in the high priest's breastplate, and Roman Catholic bishops still wear a ring of amethyst. It was considered representative of justice and courage as it was the stone of the tribe of Dan, which stood for judgment.

St. Valentine is said to have worn an engraved amethyst bearing the figure of a little cupid. Cleopatra's signet ring was an amethyst upon which was engraved the figure of Mithras, the Persian deity. Napoleon had an amethyst with a likeness of Empress carved on it. Edward owned a large fine amethyst now reposes in the Crown Land. Kings, according to legend, were protected from disease by this purple stone. Catherine the Great devoted to the amethyst thousands of workers in Siberia is a source of the finest amethysts. Another source is the mining of Bahia, Brazil. In New too, the amethyst is from Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Virginia, and in the Lake region. The gem crystallized prisms which are pyramids and vary in pale violet to deep purple. Amethyst is probably the most beautiful stone obtainable at moderate price. It was expensive and much sought after as it was found in quantities. This lovely stone is the quartz family is a noble stone and is today used in jewelry for both men and women.

YOUR TICKET TO COMFORT DURING THE COLD SPELL

- This is the type of statement you will receive for United Gas Service on, or about, March 1.
- What period does it cover?
- Please note the meter reading dates shown on this statement. You will find that it covers your Gas service for about thirty days, or the period between the regular meter reading dates for January and February. It was during this period that the coldest weather for many years visited the South and Southwest.
- Was the bill for this period more than usual?
- Perhaps so. During this period our customers called for, and received, 14 times as much Gas as is required on a summer day, and several times the requirements of a normal winter season.
- What does this prove?
- It proves that we were prepared to supply all the service our customers required during this period of extreme cold weather. Our customers pay for this type of service; they would be satisfied with nothing less, and we are only doing our duty in thus meeting these situations.

Drink Good Milk And Plenty Of It

THE ideal daily milk quota for a family is a quart for each child and a pint for each adult. Dr. Walter H. Eddy, director of Good Housekeeping Bureau, advises in the March issue of Good Housekeeping, that milk is the best single food buy made in the family marketing. Calcium, phosphorus and vitamin A, all essentials to good health, are to be found in milk as well as protein and milk sugar. Dr. Eddy also warns the buyer to remember that the milk handler is as important as the cow. To be absolutely safe, a housewife should buy only pasteurized milk. It has the same food value as raw milk and carries none of the dangers of infection.

... HAWKEYE'S NEWS ...

From Liberty Hill Community * * * * * This part of the county was visited early Friday morning by a little rain, but it matters not how little the rain it helps the good cause along as it will help the growing wheat and oats that are planted.

About 12:45 a. m. Saturday morning we had another one of those things from the north—a norther. It was very cold all day Saturday; the wind coming from the north. By all indications, we will have a very late spring. Hawkeye doesn't look for any spring weather before the middle of April and all gardens will be late.

The wheat is looking nice and green but the worst thing about the wheat over in this part of the county is that it hasn't any growth to it in height. It may come out of its kinks later. If it does, it will fool Hawkeye.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Darter of Dartersville, Okla., have a very sick daughter, Mrs. Dick Evans, who lives in Temple, Okla. She has intestinal flu. Up till Thursday she was lying very low, but Friday about noon it was reported to Hawkeye that she was a little better. Her many friends around Dartersville and Temple are wishing for her a speedy recovery.

A Mr. Collier, who lives 1 1/2 miles northwest of Hawkeye's place, is very low with pneumonia. He has been bedfast for over Busby and son of Temple, Okla., Mrs. Erma Bentley and Mrs. Mattie Bentley of Randlett.

Emmett Boles attended a gin meeting at Walters Thursday.

Leon John and Leo Price were business visitors in Waurika Thursday night.

Mrs. Jim Pirtle of Rabbit Creek visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cicero King, Sunday.

Hawkeye and the family have all got over the flu now and are doing fine. Not a thing to do until spring but eat three square meals a day, chew tobacco and squirt our juice and go out and catch a big blue catfish that will weigh around four pounds out of Cache creek.

Well, folks, this is the Sabbath day. So far, I believe it will continue nice all day. It's just like spring. We should begin to have some springlike weather, as the winter has been a regular bearcat on everyone; also on live stock as well as humans.

Hawkeye was advised late Sunday evening that the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Darter, Mrs. D. Evans who lives at Temple and has been so low with the flu, is a lot better at this writing.

Mrs. Grace Darter, wife of Mr. Harold Darter, who is farming his father's Big Rabbit Creek farm, is reported to be improving following a bad case of the flu. Mrs. Darter is in her mother's home, Mrs. Charles Reed.

Hawkeye Owens.

Junior Play Cast Is Selected

The Junior class play, "Special Delivery," which is to be presented March 7th, is a fast-moving farce comedy that promises to hold the interest of the audience from the opening of the play to the fall of the curtain on the last act.

Ray Allen Peevey as Monte Byran, a young lawyer, and Helen Rhea Dickson, as Polly Rambeau, his secretary, furnish the romance. Ruby Gershwin, a snobbish young lady, is also interested in Monte.

The part of Ruby is played by Margaret Swan. E. L. Blum plays the part of Ervel Stone, Monte's friend. Peggy James, who believes that persistence wins out in the end, is in love with Ervel. Mary Jane Patterson plays the part of Peggy.

Angie, a cleaning woman in the Bryan office, played by Martha Beth Utts, furnishes plenty of laughs. Mrs. John Jacobs Jasper, the perpetual grass widow, now divorced, played by Neal Hall, also furnish their share of the comedy as Mrs. Jasper chases John down the fire escape and finally catches him in Monte's office.

Other characters are Mike, the janitor, played by Weldon Minick, and the waiter, played by Elmer Russell. Chalk up the date on your calendars, and see some member of the Junior class for your ticket.

Scout Executives Met Here Monday

This District executive committee of Boy Scouts met at the First Baptist church here Monday night with O. L. Clark, chairman, presiding.

The Organization committee, headed by R. C. Tevis, reported that Burkburnett's newest troop, headed by the Rev. Pearce J. Burns, and which will be sponsored by either the chamber of commerce or the American Legion, is being rapidly set up.

The Methodist church is making plans to organize a troop.

The Advancement committee, under Rev. A. A. Hyde, has completed plans for a monthly board of review to be held on the third Monday of each month and quarterly Courts of Honor, at which time all Scouts in the district will receive their advancement awards.

The Training committee, under L. N. Peyton, is conducting a monthly Forum for troop leaders. The first of these forums was held at Thrift Tuesday evening and every scoutmaster in the district was present.

The Camping and Activities committee, H. R. Hayes chairman, reported that they had secured several nearby sites for troop camping and hiking and are ready to assist the various troops with their monthly outdoor program.

The Health and Safety committee, S. E. Marchand, chairman, is now completing arrangements for meeting room safety inspections and are starting first aid training in each troop.

District Commissioner J. V. Brookshear, who has been an experienced scoutmaster, spoke very highly of the Scout program and stated that it will be his pleasure to assist scoutmasters and troop committees in their program for local Scouts and the Scouts at Thrift.

R. K. Ayers, Field Scout Executive from Vernon, who spent several days here this week, and was present for the committee meeting, congratulated the community upon the expansion of Scouting activities locally and predicted that the Scout program here will, in the near future, rival that of any other community.

Texas Employers Demand College Men

Austin, Feb. 28—Employment of technically-trained men in Texas has received a "shot-in-the-arm" in recent months, according to W. R. Woolrich, university engineering dean.

Opening of new jobs, an industrial trend to expand research activity, and a growing "personnel consciousness" on the part of employers are three factors responsible for the increasing demand for experts, Dean Woolrich says.

He based his assertion on an increasing stream of requests for trained college men.

Some of the inquiries are an outgrowth of the personnel conference held here last November by University officials and business and industrial leaders of the Southwest.

"Both the University faculty and business men of this state are becoming more 'personnel minded'" he observed.

jection would be offered to an election. When the NLRB held the company was so engaged, arrangements were made for the election, which was held under the supervision of labor board.

Stripper Well Workers
Observers for the Oil Workers' International union were D. D. Brashear and Ira Hardcastle. For the Tucker Oil company observers were Charles Kirsh and D. C. Launey.

The Tucker company operates approximately 550 stripper wells in the Burkburnett area and adjacent fields. The company also operates a repressuring plant in connection with its pumping and was one of the pioneers in this phase of the oil business in this section.

Commenting on the election, Sunday night, Charles J. Tucker said:

"We naturally are gratified at the result of the election. Many of our employes have been with the company 15 years or more and the relations have always been most friendly. "So far as the management of

Texas University Gives Good Report On Burk Boy

High school valedictorians at the University of Texas show little disposition to become college "grinds," a survey made at the institution recently shows.

Required to maintain a high scholastic standing to hold the scholarships awarded them by University regents, the ninety-six freshman valedictorians at the University must study, of course, but they cannot qualify as "book-worms," for part-time employment, extra-curricular activities, and fun are included in their schedules.

Stanford McPherson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. McPherson, who was graduated from Burkburnett high school last spring as valedictorian of his class, is a freshman in the College of Arts and Sciences. He plans to study business administration and law at the University. He holds an NYA job in the University Library and is active in the program of the University Church of Christ.

Makes Phi Eta Sigma
Young McPherson was recently tendered a membership in Phi Eta Sigma, a national organization maintained for the purpose of encouraging better scholarship among undergraduates. It is wholly honorary—that is, does not have socials, and is not a service organization.

Membership is offered only to outstanding students and lifetime membership is assured with the initial fee.

C. A. Gray Chaperons Legionnaires To Hear National Commander

C. A. Gray chaperoned Leo Dudley, Adj. Johnson, Pat Brady and Fred Brookman to Lawton, Okla., Wednesday night to hear Ray Kelley of Detroit, Mich., National Commander of the American Legion, speak on "Americanism."

The Commander was met at Fort Sill by a delegation of Legionnaires and escorted through the post. The Commander and visitors were guests of the Fort Sill Post at a luncheon at 6:00 o'clock and later met at the Lawton high school to hear Mr. Kelley's address.

According to Mr. Gray the Legionnaires were very orderly and the only trouble he encountered was they were afraid they might get "snake bit."

the company is concerned, there will be no change in our policy of dealing as equitably as possible with all problems concerning employes and the management. We will continue our policy of discussing frankly problems of the company with our workers. "The election was held in all friendliness, so far as the management was concerned. We trust those who favored representation by union No. 258 will accept the result in the same spirit as would have other workers and the management of the company had the outcome been otherwise."
