HOPEWELL, N. J., March 14.—"I shall never give up hope."

Anne Lindbergh, clinging desperately to the last shreds of hope, as another day in the nation-wide man-hunt for her missing baby son brought only disappointment to police in charge of the search, stood at an upper window in her lonely home this afternoon, and looked with tragic eyes at the snow-clouded Sourland mountains.

Officers Renew Efforts

A close friend of Colonel Lindbergh and Anne, who has been at the Lindbergh home nearly every day since the alarm went out that their little son was missing, reported this evening that the gallant young mother now was spurring on the efforts of officials, weary and baffled after almost two weeks of concentrated effort had brought only elimination of every new clue.

Six words spoken by Anne Lindbergh in the midst of the gloom that had descended on the home today galvanized the tired men to renewed optimism, it was revealed tonight.

Police scouring the woods about the Lindbergh estate late this afternoon found a new clue—a mackinaw overcoat at the end of a trail footprints near Featherbed lane, a short distance from the Lindbergh home, in the direction that the kidnapers are thought to have taken.

Police were trying tonight to identify the coat, seeking to find the store at which it was bought, in the hope that it might lead to establishing the identity of the kidnapers.

In the meantime new and wilder rumors were circulated about Hopewell.

"Desperate" Calm

Reporters still watched every lane leading into the Lindbergh estate,

Russian Movie Director Allowed to Enter U. S.

LAREDO, Texas, March 14. (AP)—Sergei Eisenstein, Russian film director, ended his 30-day fight for permission to re-enter the United States today and, accompanied by two assistants, crossed the international bridge into Laredo at 2:30 p. m.

As he reached American territory and took a last glance at Mexico he commented, "the Rio Grande should be much wider than this—it has taken me a month to cross it."

Permission for him to return to the United States was withheld until immigration authorities determined that a picture he had filmed in Mexico did not contain Communistic propaganda.

Rescuers Hunt Body Of Missing Fisherman

VERSAILLES, Mo., March 14. (UP)—Rescue workers tonight dragged nets and grappling hooks through the waters of the Lake of the Ozarks, seeking the body of Dr. Arthur W. Nelson who was drowned when his fishing boat capsized.

Nelson, Democratic candidate for governor in 1924, was lost when the boat turned over. His son-in-law, W. D. Semple, 31, Cooper county prosecuting attorney, was rescued from the icy waters but died from shock and exposure.

Unemployment on Wane, Says Legion Commander

DENVER, Colo., March 14. (UP)—The ranks of the unemployed are being reduced at the rate of 10,000 a day, Henry L. Stevens Jr., national commander of the American Legion reported tonight.

Stevens spoke at a legion mass meeting and said the national employment campaign, sponsored by the legion in cooperation with other organizations, was finding 10,000 jobs a day.

Both Wets And Drys 'Pleased' With Result Of Liquor Vote

WASHINGTON, March 14. (AP)—The house today refused by a 227 to 187 vote to consider a state-control prohibition amendment.

This decision was made before crowded galleries in the first ballot directed at the 18th amendment since the Volstead act was passed in July, 1919, with 100 negative votes.

Ninety-seven Republicans and 90 Democrats, drawn chiefly from the large industrial states and cities, joined in the unsuccessful effort to bring up the home-rule amendment sponsored by organized wets of both parties. Four of the six women members were in this group.

Their defeat was accomplished by a combination of 114 Democrats, 112 Republicans and Representative Kvale of Minnesota, the lone Farmer-Laborite.

Speaker Garner, prominent as a Democratic presidential possibility, presided over the session which attracted more members and greater crowds than any since he took the chair. However, he did not vary the customary practice of voting only when there is a tie. Had he desired, Garner would have directed the clerk to call his name.

Representative Rainey, the Democratic leader, and a prohibitionist, voted for the discharge petition. Representative Snell, the Republican leader, voted against it.

When the results of the vote were announced by Garner, anti-prohibitionists in both parties arose and applauded.

Representative Linthicum of Maryland, leader of the Democratic wet bloc, hailed the vote as "a trend of the times toward a sane system."

"The fight is all but won," Lin-

Oil Tariff Center of House Debate; Sales Tax Assured, Leaders Believe

Nelson's Charge That Petroleum Levy Is 'Bribe' to Oil States' Representatives Assailed

WASHINGTON, March 14. (AP)—An atmosphere of reassurance over the possibility for successful adoption of the manufacturers' sales tax in the new revenue bill was exuded today by house party leaders as the debate shifted to the proposed levy on foreign imported petroleum.

After a closed meeting of the ways and means committee several members indicated they planned to resume with increased intensity their efforts to win converts to the 2.25 per cent sale tax which is expected to yield $595,000,000 of the $1,096,000,000 bill.

Opposition "Crumbling"

Acting Chairman Crisp left a definite impression of renewed confidence over the situation and Representative Rainey of Illinois, the Democratic leader, described the opposition "as crumbling."

The committee discussed a number of proposed additional exemptions but came to no conclusion. From the members' attitude it became evident they intend to keep the door closed as much as possible to prevent granting any concessions that might cause a heavy inroad upon the program.

Party leaders conceded the vote on the sales levy would be close. Representative Snell of New York, the Republican chieftain, said, however, with exception of the independents and others, his party was expected to back the bill.

Debate Rages

On the Democratic side opposition still was rampant, but the temper of those offering the most resistance appeared nullified by the failure of any substantially organized group to back one of the three substitute proposals.

A bitter debate was precipitated by Representative Nelson, Republican, Maine, when he opposed the one cent a gallon tax on imported petroleum, and said it was a "bribe" to representatives of oil producing states to get their votes for the sales tax.

Nelson charged it was a tax on one section of the country, uneconomic, and added "it will strike a disastrous blow to New England industry and yet will not help to any great extent the domestic oil industry."

Kansan Replies

Replying to Nelson, Representative Hoch, Republican, Kansas, said he was surprised to hear a "representative from the tariff-protected state of Maine advocate free trade." He said New England industries had proposed under the protective tariff and wanted to deny the remainder of the country the same protection. He added:

"If you in New England can get along without protection through tariff, we in the mid-continent can. I say consider well before you vote to take this tax out of the bill. If the domestic oil industry is not protected, I predict now that New England will pay higher prices for all of its oil, if the big companies get control of the domestic industry."

Representative Gifford, Republican, Massachusetts, charged representatives from Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas had promised to vote for the bill because of the oil tax.

"We do not put a price on our vote," Hoch retorted. "We will vote on the merits of the bill."

RITES SAID FOR G. W. NORWOOD

Last Tributes Paid Monday To Pioneer

Funeral services for George W. Norwood, 84, held Monday afternoon from the First Methodist church, marked the final chapter in an interesting life of a pioneer resident of Wichita county and Civil War veteran. Mr. and Mrs. Norwood came to this county 53 years ago and settled at the present home site, 12 miles west of Wichita Falls on the Wichita river.

Two comrades in the dwindling ranks of Confederate veterans joined a host of friends in paying a final tribute to Mr. Norwood. John T. Woodhouse, 1108 Travis, and Mrs. Woodhouse attended the rites, as did R. E. Hilburn of Clay county. Mr. Woodhouse is a member of the Stonewall Jackson camp.

Dr. S. S. McKenney, church pastor, conducted the final rites and burial was in Riverside under direction of J. A. Tanner & Son of Iowa Park.

As organizer of the Stonewall Jackson camp of Confederate veterans No. 249 at Holliday, Mr. Norwood was a central figure at annual reunions of the camp. A native of Missouri, he enlisted as a youth of 17 years in Arkansas and served through the latter two years of the Civil War in a number of minor skirmishes.

Only a few scattered families had braved the open country of West Texas in 1879 when Mr. and Mrs. Norwood came to the area that was organized as Wichita county.

Mrs. Norwood, who has been confined to her bed by illness at the family residence, was reported showing slight improvement early Monday evening. She was unable to attend the funeral services.

Pallbearers were Judge Edgar Scurry, Arthur Howard, W. R. Ground, W. L. Robertson, George Davis and Carl Parker.

Honorary pallbearers were John P. Marrs, J. B. Marlow, R. V. Gwinn, P. A. Martin, A. H. Carrigan, Oral Jones, John T. Woodhouse, Ben Williams, Will Harris, P. P. Langford, Ed Howard, R. E. Huff, A. M. Davis, Dean Howard, R. L. (Pete) Randolph, George Brown of Holliday, Mat Wicker of Cloud Chief, Okla., and Ed Goodwin of Archer City, Texas.

Smith Gives Delegation Free Hand in Voting

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 14. (AP)—Alfred E. Smith, in a letter received here today said a Smith-pledged Massachusetts delegation to the Democratic national convention would be free to vote for any candidate it selects should Smith become eliminated from consideration. He was not yet prepared to say which candidate he would favor if he were eliminated.

Eleven Negro Prisoners Escape From State Camp

RALEIGH, N. C., March 14. (AP)—Eleven negro prisoners escaped from the state's prison camp at Stokesdale late yesterday after one of the convicts had thrown lye into the eyes of a guard, it was announced at Central prison here today.

Officials said the guard probably would be permanently blinded.

STATE PLANS NEW OIL RULES

Conference of Operators Is Called for March 30

AUSTIN, March 14. (AP)—Operators in all Texas oil fields, save the East Texas area, were given notice by the state railroad commission today of hearings to be held in Austin on March 30 preparatory to the promulgation of new conservative rules.

New rules, including production allowables were recently adopted for the East Texas field. The 75 barrels per well daily allowable in effect there will give way next Wednesday morning to a 325,000 barrels daily production limit for the entire field comprising counties of Upshur, Gregg, Rusk and Smith. Under that arrangement each well will be permitted to contribute its prorata to the total output.

R. D. Parker, chief of the oil and gas division of the commission, said in dividing the number of producing wells of the field into the 325,000 barrels allowable to ascertain the per well premissible output, an allowable would be made for probable new completions over a 15-day period. A new division to fix the per well allowable would be made each 15 days. He estimated that the first per well allowable under the new arrangement would be approximately 72 barrels.

Railroad commission officials expected Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, in command of the Texas national guard troops occupying the field under martial law, to issue a military order accepting the civil agency's regulations.

Conservation rules, including production allowables, expire in other Texas fields on April 1 and it is for this purpose of obtaining data on which to base new ones that the March 30 hearings were called. The regulations expiring April 1 will remain in force, however, until they are replaced by new orders.

Cardozo Becomes Supreme Justice

WASHINGTON, March 14. (AP)—A crowd which took all standing and sitting room in the small supreme court chamber today watched Benjamin Nathan Cardozo deliver the responses which made him an associate justice of the supreme court.

The successor to Oliver Wendel Holmes took his seat beside Justice Harlan F. Stone at the left end of the bench. Owen J. Roberts, until today the last to take such an oath, began delivering an opinion. Cardozo made a few notes and then leaned back at his ease. He has been a judge in New York for years.

Hindenburg Happy Over Election Results

BERLIN, March 14. (AP)—President Von Hindenburg, still first in the hearts of the Reich, agreed today to the formality of running again for re-election and the opposition parties began dickering for advantage on the second vote April 10.

Awakened to hear the result, the venerable former field marshal expressed deep satisfaction over the seven million vote margin he rolled up in Sunday's election over Adolf Hitler, his nearest competitor, and informed a delegation he would continue to stand as a candidate in the compulsory run-off.

DIME TAXI SERVICE

AMARILLO, Texas, March 14. (AP)—This city's unemployed car owners inaugurated 10-cent taxi service here today. A fleet of half a dozen cars announced service to any part of the city for a dime.

Legion Vice Commander Pleads For Adequate U. S. Defense in Talk Here

Members of the American Legion of Wichita Falls and surrounding towns to the number of about 300 crowded the veterans' room at the Memorial auditorium Monday night in a called meeting and heard a brief but pointed address by Roy Cook of Alburquerque, N. M., national vice commander of the legion.

Appearing here on a rapid swing through the state of Texas, the visiting officer featured in his address an impassioned plea for more adequate national defense. Despite the lack of aggressiveness in the United States' national policy throughout its history, he said, the nation has been involved in wars with surprising frequency. Proper protection to the next generation, the speaker continued, demands that military, naval, and aerial equipment as well as man power be prepared for a major conflict.

"Had one-half the money we spent in the world war been spent prior to 1914 in preparing for efficient war-making, it would have been unnecessary for us to have partaken in that struggle," he declared.

Vice Commander Cook outlined the legion's program for this year. Aid to disabled veterans, relief of unemployment, promotion of Americanism, encouragement of improved national defense, and the defeat of communism through education were named as the principal objectives.

Judge B. D. Sartin responded

DEMO PLEDGE OF LOYALTY WILL STAND

Texas Chairman Refuses To Submit Question For Reconsideration

ALTERATION ASKED

Decision Given After Love Insists That Pledge Be Modified

HOUSTON, March 14. (AP)—The party loyalty pledge required of Texas Democrats will stand against the assaults of its enemies, it became reasonably apparent today, unless, of course, the courts should invalidate it.

W. O. Huggins, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, announced that except by a request from a majority of the committee he would not call that body to meet again and reconsider its decision to require precinct convention voters to pledge support to the party's presidential and vice presidential nominees, as well as its electors.

Love Takes Hand

Mr. Huggins took his stand in a letter to Thomas B. Love of Dallas, former state senator, who had insisted to the chairman the committee should reconsider, especially in view of the state supreme court decision in 1928. That decision compelled the placing of Mr. Love's name on the Democratic ballot as a candidate for governor, though he had publicly announced he would not take without reservation the pledge of party loyalty.

Carr P. Collins of Dallas and Ed H. Sterley of Fort Worth, both committee members, issued statements during the day on the matter, Mr. Collins saying the committee's action had been a "mistake," which should be rescinded and Mr. Sterley expressing the opinion the pledge would be altered or modified if it were found to offer the menace of a serious division within the ranks.

Meaning Interpreted

Chairman Huggins' letter to Mr. Love, which was made public, incidentally, after the Collins and Sterley statements, was generally interpreted as meaning the opposition to the pledge was left with the courts its only recourse.

The letter:

"I am in receipt of your letter in which the request is made that the state Democratic executive committee be recalled to consider again the pledge adopted at its last meeting (in Fort Worth last week) for participation in its approaching precinct conventions.

"Since the action of the committee on the resolution which you ask may be recalled was unanimous, I do not feel that I should on my own initiative ask that the committee be subjected to the loss of time and the expense of attending another meeting to consider the same matter. If I am requested to do so by a majority of the committee I shall comply with their request."

The prospect for such a request, it was conceded, would be slight.

$60,000,000 Asked For Waterway Work

WASHINGTON, March 14. (AP)—Immediate appropriation of $60,000,000 to maintain full employment on federal waterway improvement work was asked of congress today by President Hoover.

A special message to the house urged action "in order that we may avoid the unemployment and dislocation that would result from delays."

The president explained expecting enactment of the war department supply bill at the customary time "the engineers have entered upon certain contracts, the continuance of which have depended upon the passage of the appropriation at the usual time."

Senator Norris Attacks Muscle Shoals Proposal

WASHINGTON, March 14. (US)—An attack on propagandists for private operation of Muscle Shoals was made today by Senator Norris, Republican of Nebraska.

In a report of the agriculture committee favoring his bill for government operation, Norris declared the agitation for leasing of the nitrate properties was merely a guise by private interests to obtain ultimate control of the power facilities.

The bill allows 12 months for the negotiation of a private lease to the nitrate plants for fertilizer production.

Double Tragedy Ascribed To Murder and Suicide

BEAUMONT, Texas, March 14. (AP)—A coroner's verdict of murder and suicide was returned in connection with the death today of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cotton. Both died of gunshot wounds.

Officers believed Mrs. Cotton shot her husband while he slept and then went to the kitchen where she took her own life.

Cotton's body was found in bed. His wife's body was laying on the kitchen floor. A shotgun was found in the kitchen. Evidently it had been propped against a wall and the trigger pulled with a stick of wood.

Pistol Bullet Ends Spectacular Career Of George Eastman

By ROSCOE SNIPES

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 14. (UP)—George Eastman, one of America's industrial giants, founder of the Eastman Kodak company and famed for his philanthropies, shot and killed himself today.

At the age of 77 he found his life work accomplished. "Why wait?" he asked, in a brief note explaining his suicide.

The man whose tremendous success and gigantic fortune had been built upon the $5 he once gave a friend to teach him the rudiments of photography, prepared for the final dramatic act of his career simply.

Asked Friends to Leave

"Please leave the room," he asked his secretary and attendants. "I wish to write a note."

The little group departed, closing the door to the apartment. A moment later they heard a single shot. Upon re-entering, they found the manufacturer's body on his bed, a revolver nearby. A note was discovered, signed with the familiar initials, "G. E." It said:

"To my friends: My work is done. Why wait?"

The bullet, the only shot fired, had penetrated the heart, apparently ending life almost instantly.

Called Friends

The suicide was attended by the same methodical planning that characterized the manufacturer's daily life. In the morning, unexcited, calmly, he had called four of his close friends to his magnificent home "on a business matter." They were Dr. Albert Chapman, production manager, Marian B. Folsom, assistant secretary of the Eastman Kodak company, Frank M. Crouch, a life-long associate, and Milton K. Robinson, attorney.

"I wish to add a codical to my will," Eastman told them. The document was prepared, signed and witnessed by the four friends, who then left the house. As they bade him good-bye, Eastman lighted a cigaret and sat in an arm chair, smoking.

Eastman had been in poor health for more than a year.

Doctor Gives Statement

A second statement, signed by Dr. Audley Stewart, Eastman's personal physician, gave more complete details of the death.

"Mr. Eastman died suddenly at 12:50 p. m. today," the doctor's announcement said. "While it was generally known that he had been ill for several years, his condition recently has been such as to give us all encouragement. He was apparently, however, in such a mental condition that he feared the worst, because he shot himself after sending all attendants out of his bedroom, saying to them, 'I've a note to write.' In a moment a shot was heard and when those on

Farmers Voted Immediate Cash

WASHINGTON, March 14. (US)—A bill to make all credit for agriculture under the Reconstruction Finance corporation immediately available, instead of necessitating a wait until the full credit pyramid of the organization has been completed, was passed by the senate without a dissenting voice today.

The measure, introduced by Senator Smith, Democrat of South Carolina, is designed to speed up farm relief by making the money for farm loans available at a time when it is most needed.

Under the Reconstruction Finance corporation bill, a maximum of $50,000,000 of the original $500,000,000 cash capital was to be available for agriculture, plus all of the credit which the board might ultimately build up on this sum. As the bill permitted the expansion of the original cash credit to four times its size, this would have made a total of $200,000,000 available for agriculture.

Apache Brave Goes On Trial for Girl's Death

GLOBE, Ariz., March 14. (UP)—Charged with the murder of Henrietta Schmerler, young Columbia university student, Golney "Mac" Seymour, 21-year-old Apache range rider, went to trial in federal court today.

Apparently planning to seek a first degree conviction and the death penalty, the government questioned prospective jurors along the lines of their belief in capital punishment. Twenty-five out of 28 replied in the affirmative.

The defense will attempt to show that the girl violated a tribal custom which served to inflame the young Indian brave.

Murray Confident of Sweeping Win In North Dakota Elections Today

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 14. (UP)—Gov. William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray of Oklahoma will win over Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York in tomorrow's presidential primary in North Dakota, the Democratic candidate's supporters predicted tonight.

The governor's brother, George Murray of North Dakota, informed the picturesque plainsman executive that he would win by a "two-to-one" majority. Only Murray and Roosevelt are entered in the election.

While North Dakota citizens are balloting, Murray will leave here on a speaking tour of Kansas. Next Sunday, he will start on a trip that will take him through Alabama, Mississippi and possibly into Georgia. He plans a later trip to the west coast.

If Murray succeeds in defeating Roosevelt in North Dakota, his supporters feel he will go to the Democratic national convention at Chicago backed by the rural vote of the west and south. Likewise, a Roosevelt victory would be a severe setback for the Oklahoman. Murray's comment was terse and confident. He said:

"The only thing that will prevent my victory in North Dakota will be the snow-blocked roads."

HARRIS GRILLS PRESIDENT OF LOCAL SYSTEM

McCabe Doesn't Know Value of Plant or Total Sales, He Says

CONTRACT REVEALED

Municipal Paying Lone Star 40 Cents; N. T. U. Sells Here for 11

Repeated clashes between attorneys featured the trial of Judge Harvey Harris' suit against the Municipal Gas company for $4.55 before Judge O. L. Gibbs in justice court Monday afternoon, in which introduction of testimony by the plaintiff is to be resumed at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Examination of J. B. McCabe, president of the Municipal Gas company, by Judge Harris, who is conducting his own case, and of Mayor Walter Nelson Jr. provided the highlights of the hearing during the afternoon. As the first witness Judge Harris himself had taken the stand to declare that the suit was purposed to "build a fire under the railroad commission" in an effort to make it act on a local city ordinance reducing gas rates.

Judge Harris endeavored to obtain from Mr. McCabe a statement as to the valuation of the physical plant of the defendant concern in this city.

Seeks Valuation

"What is the value of your company's plant in this city?" the witness was asked.

"I don't know."

"Do you know what its value is for tax purposes?"

"No, I don't know."

"Do you know what it was rendered for, to the tax assessor?"

"No, I don't know. I can't say."

"Well, do you know what it is worth?" persisted Judge Harris.

"No, I don't know."

"What is your connection with this Municipal Gas company?"

"I am the president and general manager."

"Are you connected in any way with the Lone Star Gas company?"

"No, not at all."

"With the Lone Star Gas corporation?"

"I own 31 shares of preferred stock in it."

Judge Harris then questioned the witness with reference to a contract purported to have been entered into between the Municipal Gas company and the Lone Star Gas company in December, 1930, under which the local distributing concern pays the other company about 40 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for gas at the city gates.

"Did you know, about the time that contract was drawn up, that agitation already had begun in this city for a lower gas rate?"

"I don't remember. They have asked for a lower rate."

"Did this contract provide a reduction from 50 cents to 40 cents in the cost of gas from the Lone Star company?"

"Yes."

"Have you made any reduction in rates to consumers here?"

"No."

"Did you make investigation to see if your supply of gas at the city gates could be obtained from any other source at a lower cost, before making this contract?"

"No, I did not."

Buying Gas at 40 Cents

"You now pay 40 cents for gas, and sell it to domestic consumers here for 67½ cents. That's a profit—a gross profit—of 27½ cents. Could you make as much money if you bought your gas at 11 cents, and sold it to local consumers at 40 cents a thousand?"

"I don't know; I haven't figured that out."

"Well, you can add, can't you? and subtract?"

"I'm not an expert."

"How did you come to make this contract?"

"I regarded it as a valuable contract, a valuable source of continued supply of gas, both for our own in-

Ends Life

George Eastman, internationally known as a manufacturer of kodaks, shot himself to death at his Rochester, N. Y. home Monday.

TWO SUICIDES SHAKE MARKET

But Kreuger and Eastman Issues Stage Rally

NEW YORK, March 14. (AP)—Financial markets were somewhat unnerved today by the deaths by suicide of two world leaders in industry and finance within 48 hours.

Market Unsettled

Particularly disturbing to world markets was the death of Ivar Kreuger, Swedish match king, but news in the last few minutes of trading in the New York market that George Eastman, founder of one of America's leading industrial enterprises, had taken his life, momentarily was unsettling.

Highest banking quarters in Wall street, however, asserted after the close of the market, there was no parallel between the Eastman and the Kreuger deaths. While Kreuger was known to have been driven to the verge of nervous collapse by entanglement of his world-wide financial affairs, the Eastman enterprises were in an unassailable financial position, bankers asserted.

On the whole, international bankers expressed themselves as encouraged by the comparative calm maintained by markets, in the face of the Kreuger affair. Although the Kreuger issues broke sharply in all world markets, securities in New York held up fairly well until late afternoon, when marked weakness cropped out.

Little Selling

Outside of the Kreuger group, however, selling was at no time in impressive volume. The news of Eastman's death came at a time when the market already was slipping decidedly, and within a few minutes, the drop was checked.

The stock of the Eastman Kodak company was depressed $8 on the New York exchange, but it recovered partially.

Cold Weather Continues In Eastern States

CHICAGO, March 14. (US)—Abnormally cold weather continued to hover over the eastern part of the country today.

At 7 o'clock this morning the thermometer registered but 11 degrees above zero in Chicago.

Houston Milk Producers Seek to Insure Quality

HOUSTON, March 14. (AP)—The South Texas Producers' association announced today it would seek an injunction to prevent the receipt in Houston of shipped milk not meeting the sanitary regulations with which local dairymen must comply.

BORGER GETS CUT

AUSTIN, March 14. (AP)—A 20 per cent cut in the gas rates charged domestic and commercial consumers in Borger was ordered by the Texas Railroad commission today.

The city commission had passed an ordinance arbitrarily ordering a reduction in the rate charged by the Panhandle Power and Light company. The company appealed to the railroad commission and after it posted a bond the commission ordered the ordinance suspended pending determination of the case. The bond was to insure rebates to consumers in event the commission found the existing rate too high.

This decision is the first of several pending on appeals before the commission.

The Borger rate was ordered reduced from 50 cents for the first 1,000 cubic feet of gas to 40 cents. Consumers will be entitled to rebates on all bills paid since last June, when the city acted to cut gas charges.

Industrial rates were not disturbed by the commission decision.

LINDBERGHS KEEP UP HOPE

Faith of Mother Spurs Police to New Efforts

checking the license numbers on the cars, watching for any new indication that a "break" in the case was near.

But at the home, headquarters for the search which has spread throughout the nation, activity seemed to have settled into a desperate, dogged calm. The officials who are directing the man-hunt are ordering their men to proceed in a systematic search, in ever-widening circles.

Clerks are busy filing and indexing the thousands of clues, letters and telegrams, most of which may be traced to "cranks" but any of which might contain the long-sought information.

And Anne Lindbergh spurs on the workers, saying simply:

"I'll never give up."

NEW CLUES TO KIDNAPERS FADE

HOPEWELL, N. J., March 14. (AP)—New trails pointing toward the kidnapers of Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr., appeared and faded with the speed of the falling snow which enveloped the Sourland countryside today.

Police first told of their interest in a group of hoodlums from Denver, Colo., who had come east by plane and were engaged in "mysterious activities in and around New York."

Then, in response to questions, Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, state police superintendent, late in the day said:

Underworld Active

"Information on Roma and associates whose supposed headquarters were on President street, Brooklyn, was carefully investigated. The home of Roma on President street, Brooklyn, and those of his associates were thoroughly searched for any evidence that would connect them with this crime. Having no further information that would in any connect them with this crime we have absolved them from any connection."

He did not further identify the "Roma" of whom he spoke, but in Denver a Joseph T. Roma, reputed gang czar, who traveled to New Jersey by plane recently, termed any mention of his name in the case "too silly to discuss."

Silence and secrecy cloaked movements of Morris Rosner, undercover man in the private hunt Colonel Lindbergh is making for his son.

From the attorney of Salvy Spitale and Irving Bitz, underworld figures first designated as the Lindberghs' "go-betweens," came a statement the pair had been in "indirect contact" with the kidnapers and soon would make a trip to Detroit in connection with their negotiations.

Bitz was quoted as saying the 20-month old infant, missing for 13 days, was alive and safe.

Many Clues

Fresh clues from such far flung cities at Jackson, Ky., and Hamburg, Germany, engaged police attention during the day, but near nightfall "there are no new developments" was reiterated.

The master of the S. S. City of Baltimore docking at Hamburg informed the police the child aboard the ship about whom they had inquired was a girl.

The sheriff of Bresthitt county at Jackson, Ky., investigated a story of a New Jersey licensed car carrying a blonde infant and found the machine actually was from Michigan and satisfied himself its occupants were beyond suspicion.

FRANK BERG HELD FOR POLICE QUESTIONING

TRENTON, N. J., March 14. (AP)—Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf announced tonight that Frank Berg, who police said was involved in the attempted kidnaping several years ago of Max Phillips, Eatontown, N. J., manufacturer, had been located and arrangements made to question him tomorrow in the Lindbergh investigation.

"It was reported in a previous bulletin," said Schwarzkopf, "that the police were looking for Frank Berg, who was involved in the attempted kidnaping of Max Phillips of Eatontown, N. J. Frank Berg has been located by police and arrangements are being made to question him tomorrow."

McAdoo Will Address Mass Meet at Houston

HOUSTON, March 14. (US)—Much interest has been aroused by the announcement that William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury and director general of railroads, will speak at a mass meeting in Houston on Saturday, March 19, on "How to save our wheat and cotton farmers and revive general prosperity."

It is understood that Mr. McAdoo will propose an entirely new method for restoring prosperity to wheat and cotton growers of the country which does not involve the use of huge appropriations from the United States treasury.

Dawes May Be Keynoter At Republican Convention

WASHINGTON, March 14. (AP)—Charles G. Dawes is under consideration for keynoter at the Republican national convention in Chicago June 14, but there is serious doubt he will accept the post.

This was made known today as the committee on arrangements met to decide on scores of details incident to the convention.

While the appointment of a temporary chairman-keynoter was not discussed at the meeting today, members indicated that Dawes could have the job if he wanted it.

A basket ball game at Noel, Mo., between the "Fats" and "Leans" was won by the "Fats," 12 to 6.

KODAK KING DIES OF SHOT

Eastman Rose to Wealth On Investment of $5

the outside reached his bedside, he was gone."

The rise of George Eastman in America's industrial and financial world was one of those outstanding romances of business that ran parallel with the amazing creative and inventive processes of the turn of the century.

Started Life Poor

His start, like that of Edison, and of Ford, and of Alexander Graham Bell, came from an overwhelming curiosity in the field of science. At 20, which was in 1874, he was working as a bank clerk in Rochester, N. Y., at $20 a week.

One of his friends, knowing he was planning a vacation, suggested he take a camera along—one of those cumbersome boxes using the wet-plate process. Eastman paid his friend $5 to show him the intricacies of the machine, and became so engrossed in its mechanism that he forgot about his vacation and remained at home, puzzling over the possibilities of a new, and easier process of picture taking.

Out of his growing hobby came the dry plate and, much later, the film.

Edison an Early Buyer

His first kodak film was manufactured in 1889. One month after he had put his product on the market, he received a money order for $2.50 from Thomas A. Edison, who wanted a sample of the new material, 50 feet long and one inch wide.

From that strip of film there came the motion picture industry. The movies today use about half of all the film manufactured in the world. Yet Eastman did not meet Edison until about five years ago.

George Eastman's personal fortune, according to the best reports, was about $150,000,000. In addition to that, he has given away perhaps $75,000,000, always with great modesty, and generally for the furtherance of technical education, medicine, or music—of which he was extremely fond.

Was Modest and Retiring

Eastman was a retiring personality, who avoided publicity—and cameramen. He disliked posing, and supervised even snap-shots of himself. He was never a figure in Hollywood, founded on his wares, and was never seen on Broadway, where his millions of feet of film met the test of popularity.

Instead, his amusements came from the magnificance of his home, the perfect comforts he exacted, the beauties of flower gardens and orchestral music which he loved.

He was never married, and said he had no time for sentimentality. But his closest friends say that beneath the cool, business-like demeanor there existed a wealth of sympathy.

According to Eastman's friends, his only near relative is Mrs. George Dryden, of Evansville, Ill., a niece. Mrs. Dryden was the first person to be notified of the death by wire. His body will be cremated, but no announcement had been made late today of the funeral plans.

KODAK KING WANTED TO DIE A POOR MAN

BAYSIDE, L. I., March 14. (UP)—Samuel Crowther, noted author and one of George Eastman's biographers, told the United Press today that it was Eastman's desire to die a poor man.

Crowther, informed of the fact that Eastman had given away all the stock in his own company before his death, expressed belief that he probably had divested himself of other holdings also in line with his desire to die poor.

According to Crowther, Eastman considered his vast wealth as a trust for the benefit, first, of the people who made it; second, for Rochester and third, for other uses as far as it would go.

Rich Woman Recluse Buried in New York

NEW YORK, March 14. (AP)—Mrs. Ida E. Wood, Belle of mid-victorian New York, who for 19 years lived the life of a recluse in a hotel where she guarded over $808,000 in cash and thousands of dollars worth of jewels, was buried today. Stricken with penumonia, she died last Saturday.

Mayor Nelson 'Builds Fire' Under Rail Commission in Gas Testimony

terest and that of our local consumers in Wichita Falls."

"Did you know that the Northern Texas Utilities company is delivering gas here for as low as 11 cents per 1,000 cubic feet?"

"No, I had no way of knowing that."

"Well, if you had known that another company would have sold you the same kind of gas for 19 cents at the city gates, would you have entered into this contract with the Lone Star company?"

"Well, we considered it a valuable contract, because of the guaranteed continuity of supply."

"How much gas did you buy from the Lone Star in 1931?"

"I don't know."

"How much gas did you sell to Wichita Falls consumers in 1931?"

"I don't know."

Examination of Mayor Nelson was followed by a lengthy cross-examination by Judge A. H. Carrigan and Marshall Newcombe of Dallas, counsel for the defendant. Judge Harris sought to show by the witness how the city council had endavored by ordinance to reduce gas rates here for domestic consumption from 75 to 50 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, eliminating the prevalent ready-to-serve charge of 50 cents per month per customer. The suit is brought for the computed difference between Judge Harris' gas bill for December, 1931, as figured on the 75-cent rate and the amount it would have shown under the 50-cent rate provided by the city's ordinance last summer.

Mayor Nelson recited that after a request from the city council for lower rates had brought from the Municipal Gas company a schedule of proposed rates effecting an increase to domestic consumers, the council passed an ordinance to lower the rate effective Oct. 1, 1931. On Sept. 28, it was shown, the gas company secured from the railroad commission an order suspending application of the ordinance until an investigation of the local situation could be made by that body.

Mayor Nelson declared the conviction of city officials here, and of officials of the Texas League of Municipalities, that the railroad commission is under the influence of utilities companies. He testified that notices of the trial here were sent to members of the commission, and other state officials, in an effort to obtain their attendance so that information relative to the gas situation here might be presented.

Under dogged cross-questioning by defense counsel, Mr. Nelson stated that his impression relative to utilities' concerns influence upon the commission was based upon "that body's consistent failure to take any action on behalf of municipalities, and its unfailing promptness in granting such relief as the utilities companies may ask."

"Why did you not go to Austin at once, and demand that the commission give you an immediate hearing on this case?" asked the defense lawyer.

"Because the city does not have funds to meet before the commission, or in court, a concern with the vast resources which you have at your disposal," the mayor said, "and because we, and other cities, have done that before. We tried it for three years once before, and got nowhere."

R. W. Lindsey, general manager of the Northern Texas Utilities company here, testified that they bring their gas from Wheeler county through a heavy line, and sell it to commercial and industrial consumers in this city for prices ranging from 17 down to 11 cents per thousand. He said they had "lots of gas" and were looking for opportunities to "sell all they can sell."

Wayne Holmes, manager of the Bob Waggoner building, testified that the Northern Texas Utilities company sells gas for that building at 14 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for the first 1,000,000 feet, and 13 cents per 1,000 thereafter. John Oechsner, manager of the Staley building, testified that they buy gas from the same concern on the same price schedule.

Mr. Lindsey said gas is classified as industrial, commercial and domestic, and defined "commercial" gas as that supplied to a business house. Commercial rates, he said, are much lower than domestic.

"Suppose you sell gas to a barber shop, and to a private residence," said Judge Harris, "what is the difference in the service to account for the difference in rate?"

"Well, we might have to run a line two miles to get to that residence, while the barber shop would be right on our line."

"But suppose the house was right down town on your line, and the barber shop two miles out—one still is domestic, the other commercial, but what about the rate?"

"Well, theoretically—the rates should be the same."

Publisher on Stand

Ed Howard, president of The Times Publishing company, was placed on the stand by the plaintiff. He testified that W. C. Grant, advertising manager for the Muncipal Gas company, early last summer asked him to go to Dallas to confer with the president of the Lone Star Gas company. Mr. Howard said he declined, but consented to meet the Lone Star official in his (Mr. Howard's) office here at any time. An appointment was made for such a meeting here during the next week, he said, but was never kept, and he heard nothing more of the matter.

Mr. Howard said that about that time it was reported to him that the Municipal Gas company no longer was advertising in The Daily Times and Record News, and that he instructed the advertising department not to solicit any more advertising from the company.

Wyatt Palmer and T. O. Shappell, local oil and gas operators, testified that they have large acreage in Wheeler county, within a short distance of the Lone Star Gas company's lines, but that they cannot obtain a market for the large potential gas supply there.

Mr. Grant, Carl Cowles, deputy tax assessor; and Max Shumake, tax assessor of Wichita county, all were placed on the stand during the hearing.

Second Case Pending

Objections were being made constantly by the defense attorneys to evidence presented by Judge Harris. The justice court room was crowded throughout the afternoon, and two court reporters were in attendance to record the proceedings.

Judge Harris won a verdict of $2.55 in Judge Gibbs' court last December, claiming an overcharge on his gas bill for October, 1931.

The suit of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Harnish against the Municipal Gas company for an alleged overcharge of $9.70 has been set before Judge Gibbs for Tuesday. The plaintiffs are represented by Bert E. Derden of Wichita Falls.

CREAM SALES GIVE PROFITS

Collingsworth Farmers Get $5,000 in Two Months

Special to The Record News

WELLINGTON, Texas, March 14.—With total sales of 35,737 pounds of butter fat in Collingsworth county for the months of January and February, it was announced Monday by local produce dealers that well over $5,000 has been brought to the farmers of the county through this source.

In January, 17,883 pounds of butterfat was shipped from the county and in February 17,854 pounds of butterfat was shipped. These figures prove that the income from the sale of cream is practically the same, dealers said, due to the fact that the total for both months in 1932 were almost parallel.

No More Piles

You Can End Your Awful Misery Quick Without Cutting or Salves

Thousands of Pile sufferers do not know that the cause of Piles is internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel.

That is the scientific truth about Piles—the real reason why salves and suppositories do not give permanent relief, why cutting does not remove the cause.

Your itching, bleeding or protruding Piles will only go when you actually remove the cause—and not one minute before. External treatments can't do this—an internal medicine should be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, sold by good druggists everywhere, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts.

Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID has an almost unbelievable record of success right in this city. So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when Allison's Drug store invites every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID with guarantee of money-back if it does not end their Piles, no matter how stubborn the case?—Adv.

Stomach Ulcers

Von's Famous Pink Tablets

Ed Sproul, Missouri Valley, Iowa, writes:

"I never had a day's sickness since taking Von's Pink Tablets two years ago. I was a sufferer from acid stomach for 25 years, later developing into ulcers. I used a stomach pump daily for three years. The second day after I started Von's Pink Tablets I never had a pain and I quit using the stomach pump and doses of soda. I now eat anything without after effects."

Hundreds of sufferers from stomach ulcers, acidosis, constipation and kindred disorders have written such letters in praise of Von's Famous Pink Tablets. Relief is quick. No rigid diet. Stops pain. Write for full information. Omaha Von Company, 630 Keeline Bldg., Omaha, Neb.—Adv.

Last Rites Held For J. R. Gafford

Funeral services were held Saturday for J. R. Gafford, 60, formerly of this city, at Sulphur Springs, Texas. Mr. Gafford was injured in an automobile and train crash near Marshall, Thursday night, when en route to his home at Kilgore. He died at a Longview hospital, where he was taken after the accident.

Mr. Gafford was well known as an automobile salesman in Wichita Falls, Burkburnett and Electra. He left the latter city several months ago to continue his business at Kilgore.

Surviving are the widow, who resides in Wichita Falls with a daughter; two daughters, one in Dallas and Mrs. John James of Wichita Falls; a son, T. S. Gafford, of Oklahoma City; four brothers, G. W. Gafford of Electra, C. E. Gafford of Crowell, W. F. Gafford of Duncan, Okla., and E. S. Gafford of Sulphur Springs; and four sisters, Mrs. E. H. Ramey of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Lizzie Baucum of Altus, Okla., Mrs. Joe Johnston of Afton, Texas, and Mrs. C. S. Lindley of Sulphur Springs.

Oklahoman Killed In Revenge Shooting

PURCELL, Okla., March 14. (AP)—Angered at Dick Vinson, 55, for causing his arrest on a liquor charge, E. Z. Jackson, 35, shot and killed Vinson in front of the McClain county courthouse today.

After emptying one revolver, all six shots striking Vinson, Jackson walked into the sheriff's office and surrendered, handing a second pistol, unused, to an officer.

Sheriff Orin Johnston said Vinson, arrested several weeks ago on a liquor charge, gave information that led to the arrest of Jackson and several others on charges of operating a whisky still. Both men were to have gone on trial today.

Jackson will be charged with murder, authorities said.

Excellent Preparation for Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

If you know some one troubled with catarrhal deafness or head noises due to catarrh, hand this to him and you may save the poor sufferer from total deafness. We believe catarrh is caused by a constitutional disease and that salves, sprays or inhalers merely give temporary, not permanent relief from its distressing symptoms. Therefore, much time has been spent in perfecting a pure, gentle, yet effective tonic that should quickly expel all catarrhal poison from the system. It proves a very simple and inexpensive home treatment.

Secure from Allison Drug store or your druggist one ounce of Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

The first day should start relieving the distressing head noises, headache, dullness, and cloudy thinking, while the hearing should rapidly return as the system is invigorated by the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell, taste, and mucous dropping in the throat are other symptoms of catarrh often overcome by Parmint. If nearly 90% of all ear troubles are directly caused by catarrh, there must be many people whose hearing could be restored by this effective home treatment.

All sufferers from catarrhal deafness or head noises due to catarrh should give Parmint a trial.—Adv.

Wichita Group Heads Junior C-C Meeting

The Wichita Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce was the best represented organization at Oklahoma City for a regional United States Junior Chamber of Commerce conference during the past week-end, members of the delegation reported Monday. More than a score of members and officials of the local chamber attended the three-day conference. Attention also was attracted to Wichita Falls by a dance number presented during a banquet Saturday night when Mary Jane and Felix Payne Jr., were presented.

ONE CENT A DAY BRINGS $100 A MONTH

Nearly One-Half Million Dollars Already Paid in Cash Benefits

One cent a day ($3.65 a year), invested in a National Protective policy, will now buy more insurance benefits than can be secured from any other Company for any amount up to $10 per year. This is possible because the money saved by the National Protective plan of operation is passed on to its members.

Thousands of persons have been made happy by receiving cash benefits when cash was most needed from their National Protective policies, which pay benefits up to $100 each month and $1000 to $1500 at death.

The National Protective is the largest and oldest company of its kind in the world. It has paid nearly one-half million dollars in cash to its policyholders.

The benefits for auto accident of $100 a month (instead of the usual $50 a month) is said by many to be alone worth the entire cost of $3.65 a year. Yet this is but one of the many features of this unusual policy.

Send No Money

For 10 days' free inspection of policy, simply send name, age, address, beneficiary's name and relationship to National Protective Insurance Association, 1021 Scarritt Bldg., Kansas City, Mo. No medical examination or other red tape. After reading policy, which will be mailed to you, either return it or send $3.65, which pays you up for a whole year—365 days. First Methodist W. M. S. Has Inspiring Study Hour

The concluding lesson of the mission study on "Korea, Land of the Dawn," was held by the Woman's Missionary society of the First Methodist church Monday afternoon in the church parlor.

After a beautifully impressive devotional, stressing the need of increased spirituality in the church, given by Mrs. D. M. Hardy, a discussion of "The New Day in Korea and Its Tasks," was presented by Mrs. C. R. Hartsook.

"It was just 45 years ago," Mrs. Hartsook said, "when the first believer in Korea was secretly baptized. This first believer recently died and left in his wake over 300,000 believers in Korea today. The Korean today particularly needs individual work, needs to be personally conducted into the folds of Christian teachings and practice. Not Buddhism, which contains many splendid ethical teachings, but Animism is the special rival and enemy of Christianity in Korea at the present. The Methodists and the Presbyterians give over one-half million dollars per year to work in the land of the far east, and of this amount one-half is used in the hospitals and the schools of Korea. The Koreans, however, give out of their abject poverty to the support of Christian work, so that they are the nearest self-supporting of any of the mission fields. The Koreans are asking today not so much for money as for missionaries who can touch more individuals and make them more Christ-like."

Mrs. Hartsook also told how the problem of the Christian forces in Korea is made more acute from the fact that in 20 years the increase in population of that land was 6,000,000 people, so that with such overwhelming odds of non-Christian religions flooding the country, the missionaries are hard put to it to hold what has already been gained. Church families, or "Jesus families" are being "planted" in communities or villages in which the inhabitants have never heard of Christ before in order to show by actual visibility what is meant by living a Christ-like life.

As a fitting close to the study of Korea, Mrs. C. A. Spragins brought a graphic picture of the status of Christian work in Korea at the present time. Mrs. Spragins said that she had been privileged to be present at the meeting in Dallas when the general conference of the Methodist church two years ago granted autonomy to three mission churches, those three being the Church of Mexico, the Church of Brazil, and the Church of Korea. The creed of the Korean Methodist church was described as a document of great interest; simple, sincere, naive, reverently beautiful. Bishop Ryang was made the first bishop of the Korean Methodist church. One unique feature of this Korean church is the fact that it is the only church in Methodism that has its constitution based on the statement of the principle of the equality of man and woman in the kingdom of God. In this church alone a woman is allowed to become a minister. Not only that, but a woman was asked to read the Scripture at the ordination of Bishop Ryang, the first time a woman was ever allowed to take part in the ordination of a bishop of the Methodist church. This is all the more remarkable in that not so many years ago, the Korean woman was not even allowed on the street with her face uncovered, and many were the restrictions placed upon her who was practically nothing else than a beast in the home to do the bidding of the man. Mrs. Spragins gave a graphic description of the every-day life of the Korean woman, and stated that the transforming influence of schools and more especially of Christianity was the force which had lifted the Korean woman to her position today.

"Some of the money raised by the Woman's Missionary society of the First Methodist church, Wichita Falls, Texas, will be put into the brown hands of the Korean women for the work of Christian cultivation in that far-off land," said Mrs. Spragins in conclusion.

Mrs. Hesler Gives Splendid Review At Council Meet

Featuring the program at the all-day meeting of the Highland Heights Woman's council was the interpretation of Grace Streeter Aldrich's "A Lantern in Her Hand" given by Mrs. Phil Hesler. Miss Juanita Patton, in costume, gave a clever reading "A Little Girl From the Philippine Islands," and R. E. Shepherd, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Shepherd, gave two vocal numbers.

With Mrs. Frank Creighton, the president, presiding, the meeting was opened with songs, with Mrs. Paul Barnett at the piano, after which Mrs. P. B. Curd gave the opening prayer. A short story entitled "Pedro and I" was read by Mrs. Houston Rogers, after which the devotional on "Easter" was given by Mrs. F. B. Mashburn. Mrs. J. R. Jones discussed "Sounder Health for China."

In the business session, Mrs. Harley Snyder gave a report on the young people's work of the church, and division reports were given by Mesdames Edgar Weehunt, B. D. Sartin, J. R. Collier and J. H. Reedy, leaders.

Luncheon was served at noon to 60 members, and to Mesdames W. W. Cook, E. E. Wilson, George Hathoway, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Shepherd and the Rev. J. E. Montgomery, guests.

First Presbyterian Circles Have Impressive Meeting

Meeting in the last circle sessions of the church year, before breaking up and forming new groups, the Woman's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church met Monday afternoon and studied chapters five and six of the mission textbook, "Christ Comes to the Village."

Circle one met at the home of Mrs. W. M. Priddy with Mrs. W. N. Maer joint hostess. Mrs. R. T. Weidmer, the chairman, presided, and in the business session, the treasurer's report was given, showing that the circle went over the top in their financial work.

Mrs. H. F. Strief was in charge of the program and gave the devotional, speaking on St. Patrick and his Christian influence in his country. She concluded her talk by giving the legend of the Holy Grail.

Miss Dorothy Dragon taught the textbook lesson and in giving a resume of chapter five, said that it does not matter whether in the village or large city, that people feel the need and desire for religion. In presenting chapter six, Miss Dragon said that it was a challenge to Christian women of the world and their response toward women of the foreign countries.

Mesdames J. A. Kemp and H. J. Strief spoke of the work the circle has accomplished, and Mrs. C. C. Hagmann gave a summary of the year's work and paid a tribute to Mrs. Weidmer, the circle leader, for her splendid work, in a clever original poem. Mrs. E. T. Duff, in behalf of the circle, presented Mrs. Weidmer with a table lamp and regrets were expressed that the circle had to break up to form a new one.

Refreshments were served to 24 members.

Circle Two

Mrs. J. Will Gray was hostess to members of circle two in the final meeting when "Blest Be the Tie" was the opening hymn with Mrs. D. J. White at the piano.

Mrs. Curtis Atkinson gave the inspiring devotional, using the 19th Psalm and the legend of the shamrock as a particularly pretty theme.

Mrs. Gray sang "I've Done My Part," with Mrs. R. R. Robertson at the piano. Mrs. Robertson, as circle leader, announced the song as her feeling at their last meeting.

Mrs. E. T. Duff taught the beautiful lesson from chapters five and six of "Christ Comes to the Village," and Mrs. A. H. Carrigan made a beautiful talk of farewell at the breaking up of the circle.

There were 13 members and one visitor present.

Circle Three

Mrs. Luke McCrory was hostess at the last circle meeting of number three of which Mrs. R. O. Harvey is leader.

The inspiring devotional was given by Mrs. John Davenport and chapters five and six of the mission book, "Christ Comes to the Village," were given in a beautiful manner by Mesdames O. E. Maer and R. W. Lindsey.

In the short business meeting, pretty farewell services were held by the members.

The 15 members present were dismissed with the Mizpah benediction.

Circle Four

Mrs. Mark Walker was hostess at the last meeting of circle four with its present personnel. Mrs. F. C. Utiz gave the opening prayer and Mrs. O. R. Dunn gave a beautiful devotional.

Chapter five of "The Challenge of Change" was taught by Mrs. Apple who gave it in a beautifully assembled manner.

Floral Heights Mission Group Finishes Book

Mrs. R. J. Claypool, mission study director, gave the final lesson in the textbook, "Pleaders of Righteousness," and Mrs. Val Land directed the song service. The Rev. Finis Crutchfield gave a splendid talk in regard to the revival now in progress at the church and devotionals in keeping with the revival were given by Mrs. S. E. Trevathan who discussed the Scripture, "He Goeth Before Me." In her talk, Mrs. Trevathan spoke of Jesus as the pathfinder of life, and songs were sung at various divisions in the talk.

Mrs. Claypool introduced Mrs. G. D. Laskey, gave the lesson topic, "Sin and Redemption" and said in part, that from the day of Hosea to the present time, there has been no age that has a greater message of redemption.

At the conclusion of this talk, Mrs. Claypool expressed appreciation to the circle members for their cooperation during this study, and Mrs. A. F. Leach paid tribute to Mrs. Claypool and appreciation for her untiring efforts in the direction of the study.

Mrs. H. W. Barton presided at a brief business session when special announcement was made of the Allied campaign on March 23 and 24.

Mrs. J. O. Presley's circle led in attendance, and Mrs. T. R. Boone dismissed 68 members with prayer.

Musical Recital Reaches Heights Of Saturday Eve

Misses Elizabeth Powers and Katherine Steiner presented Harrison Stevens in piano recital Saturday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Langford. Mr. Stevens is director of music at the Miss Hockaday School for Girls at Dallas.

He played the following program:

Sonata—opus 111	Beethoven
Sonata—C Minor	Liszt
Le Petit Berger	Debussy
L'Isle Joyeuse	Debussy
Triana	Albeniz
Rhapsody—opus 15	Liszt

Mr. Stevens' technic is developed to such a point that on hearing him one almost forgets that technic is a requisite for artistic piano playing. It is highly distinctive. He is one of the outstanding exponents of the Lhevinne school. His musicianship is above reproach.

His interpretation of the Beethovan sonata showed rare sympathy. Careful consideration of every detail was shown throughout, particularly marked was this in the adagio movement. He gave a brilliant performance of the Lisst sonata. Especially interesting was his treatment of the fugal section. This sonata alone convinced one that Mr. Stevens is a true artist.

In his group of modern compositions Mr. Stevens displayed another angle of his broad musicianship. The tone color secured in the Debussy numbers showed the composer at his best. Triana gave a vivid picture of Spanish gypsy life with its soft, languorous atmosphere.

He closed his program with the stirring Lisst Rhapsody number 15, leaving behind him a host of admirers who hope he will return soon.

Mr. Stevens has lived in Dallas five years. Before that his career dates back to his youth in Ann Arbor, Mich.; his tardy embracing of the piano as a career and a period of intensive study with Albert Lockwood at the University of Michigan and several seasons of equally intensive work with Josef Lhevinne in New York City. For some time later he was an instructor of piano at the University of Michigan. Never an ambitious concertizer, he has given nevertheless, one highly praised recital in Town Hall, New York, and another in London. Both took place after he established his residence in Dallas. Leading critics attended the New York and the London recitals and marked a thorough mastery of his instrument, a thorough scholarship and abundant vitality.

Sentence prayers closed the meeting.

Circle Two

Members of circle two met at the home of Mrs. Pratt on North Ninth when members answered the roll call with verses from Scripture.

The opening prayer was given by Mrs. R. Parker and the hostess led in a beautiful devotional.

Two new members were added during the short business meeting.

Sentence prayers closed the meeting.

Loyal Daughters Class Has Inspiring Monthly Meeting

One of the pretty affairs in church circles was the monthly meeting Monday of the Loyal Daughters class of the First Christian church. In the morning, members met and made 78 dozen cookies for the Juliett Fowler home in Dallas. At noon, a delightful covered dish luncheon was served to 55 people at a table where the Saint Patrick motif made a dainty spring decoration.

The inspiring invocation was given by Mrs. W. R. Duke and Mrs. Chester Wynne, president pro tem, presided beautifully during the program.

Mrs. J. E. Strattan sang two pretty numbers with Mrs. Wayne J. Holmes accompanying. "A Little Lullaby" was followed by "Lilly Strickland."

Mrs. Harry Fuller presented three of her talented pupils, Eloise Wofford, who read a theme from "The Bird's Christmas Carol"; Anna Lee Cherry, whose negro dialect sermon was hilarious, and Mrs. A. C. Turner who gave three Irish readings, "Five Little Gasons," "Katy's Answer" and "Counting the Family."

Mrs. J. R. Kenney and her division were hostesses, including Mrs. Kenney, Miss Hazel Appling, Mesdames C. D. Appling, W. E. Hickman, Harry Fuller, Clark Wilcox and Joe Tyson.

Business Meeting

In the business session, Mr. J. Lem Keevil urged all to take part in the self-denial in Easter week. Plans were made to dye eggs for both the day nurseries and announcement was made of the newly elected president, Mrs. Frank Harrison and the secretary, Mrs. Norman B. Adams.

Guests who were present with the artists on the program were Mesdames W. C. Duncan, E. Airing, H. J. Hughey and Mrs. N. R. Snipe of Electra.

In a short business session plans were made to make cookies for the city day nursery.

Mrs. Ernest Owens dismissed the meeting with prayer. There were 23 members present.

"B. C." Relieves Your Headache In 3 Minutes

Realizing that no one drug can relieve all headaches, as they come from so many causes, a North Carolina pharmacist has developed a combination of several ingredients, so blended and proportioned as to relieve almost any headache in a few minutes. You can get this formula wherever drugs are sold under the name "B. C." 10c and 25c packages, and when you have one of those violent, nerve-racking headaches, from inorganic causes, "B. C." will give you soothing relief in three minutes. "B. C." should also be used for the relief of muscular aches and pains, common colds and neuralgia, reducing fever, and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs.—Adv.

"Is it that tasteless kind?

...ALL RIGHT, THEN!"

For once in your life you can honestly say, "Now Billy, this isn't going to be a bit bad!"

For that boy of yours will hardly know he's taking castor oil! Try dipping the spoon first into very hot water. That thins the oil, and down it goes without so much as a wrinkled-up nose from Billy! (Nor any groans from grown-ups, when the doctor tells them to take it.)

For Squibb Tasteless Castor Oil is what its name implies . . . tasteless and odorless. Squibb scientists have been able to effect this improvement. In addition it is castor oil of the purest, finest grade. So make sure you ask for Squibb's . . . and get it.

SQUIBB Tasteless CASTOR OIL

Don't let them count you out!

a 'run-down' body cant stand up under work and worry

A cheerful helper is not enough—not if you are 'run-down' physically

MOTHER, I do wish you were well and strong . . . you always look tired—what did Daddy mean this morning when he said your blood count was low?"

So often we hear of a "low blood count." Few escape it. Overwork, worry, diet neglect, colds and such often reduce to the danger point the red-cells in the blood—those precious workers that build and sustain the body.

When a lowered blood count is allowed to continue, that "tired feeling" takes hold . . . vitality is reduced . . . normal resistance to infection and disease is lacking.

Dangerous consequences often follow the neglect of a lowered blood count.

The reasonable way to health

It isn't fair to expect one to like work or to enjoy play when in a "run-down" condition. Without plenty of rich, red-blood-cells there could be no strong, sturdy men, and healthy, beautiful women.

Ordinarily you don't need to stay in bed or go to a distant health resort to restore the red-cells and hemoglobin in your blood . . . usually S.S.S. will do it right at home and while you are up and going. In most cases it is effective from the start . . . improvement is progressive. Put it to the test if you want to regain your vitality . . . firm flesh . . . a clear skin—so necessary to charm and personality.

If you require a tonic you should by all means try S.S.S.—this long established medicine acts by stimulating the secretions of the stomach . . . reviving the appetite . . . aiding digestion . . . regenerating hemoglobin . . . restoring the red-blood-cells—and builds greater resistance against infection and disease.

S.S.S. popularity due to merit

S.S.S. helpfulness is illustrated by this fact—our records show that nearly one-half of those who have taken it, for the first time, do so upon the recommendation of some friend who has been benefited. Can there be any stronger recommendation for its merit and usefulness than this?

A distinctive thing about S.S.S. is that it is made from fresh roots, barks and herbs . . . it is readily absorbed by the system. Another thing is that its efficiency has been proved by scientific tests and by its use for more than 100 years. It is a safe Tonic to take.

S. S. S. is an economical way to health. Try it yourself. Get S.S.S. from any drug store. In two sizes: regular and double—the latter is more economical and is sufficient for a two weeks' treatment. It may be the means of bringing better health and happiness to you.

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON, March 11.—When Representative "Doc" Sirovich of New York achieved his first house chairmanship, heading the committee on patents, nobody could have forecast the dramatic possibilities of the situation.

One familiar with the Sirovich ways in the house during his previous two terms as a minority member might have anticipated that something might be done about putting poison in liquor. Mr. Sirovich has been dramatic in the house about that in the past.

But that the doctor would seek to convert his committee into a grand jury to inquire into the reported slow demise of the non-movie drama itself was hardly to be expected.

If the corps of metropolitan newspaper dramatic critics should accept the Sirovich challenge to appear before the committee on patents and show cause why they should not be charged with having done to death the so-called legitimate drama, that is one hearing the Bystander will be sure to attend. It is bound to be spicy.

Maybe an Inquest

Maybe it is wrong to assume it is going to be a grand jury proceeding. Maybe it is just the coroner's jury stage Dr. Sirovich has in mind.

For in the intervals of his medical, welfare and political activities these last few of his just under 50 years, the doctor has found time to try his prentice hand at play writing.

He has stormed Broadway in that guise. His foes, the critics, seem to recall at least three Sirovich efforts.

They were called respectively "The Schemers," "The Suspended Sentence" and "The Banking Racket," which last suggests Doctor-Playwright-Politician Sirovitch is at least up to date in seeking dramatic themes.

If you accept the view of the Broadway critics, these Sirovich brain children are not only dead; they never lived.

Which attaches a great deal of personal interest to the doctor's effort to subpoena the critics before his committee on patents and find out what they had to do with these dramatic tragedies.

An Idea, Any Way

His idea of a sort of school for dramatic critics, allowing only qualified graduates to sit in public judgment on the merits of new plays, is a remarkable one.

Why not a school for representatives, or for senators, or even presidents, to make sure they know their political onions before they go on the public pay roll?

South Texas Vegetables Damaged by Cold

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, March 14. (AP)—Vegetable and cotton crops in the Rio Grande valley suffered heavily from the cold last night. It was believed the bean and tomato crops were almost completely ruined, while young corn and potatoes were damaged. Cabbage, carrots and beets were uninjured. Farmers were making preparations for replanting.

South Carolina Gas Tax Upheld by Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, March 14. (UP)—South Carolina's six cents per gallon tax on gasoline, attacked as invalid as applied to interstate airplane fuel bought by the Eastern Air Transport company, was upheld today by the supreme court.

The court held the tax was a dealers' tax and not an undue burden on interstate commerce.

Candidate for Congress Attacks Demo Committee

LAMPASAS, Texas, March 14. (AP)—Don H. Biggers of Lampasas, candidate for congressman at large, issued a statement today attacking action of the Democratic state executive committee in requiring candidates to file for specified places one, two or three on the ballot, rather than engaging in an open race. He declared he would not file for place.

8. GOVERNMENTAL ECONOMY—The adoption of such means as may be found most feasible to reduce the cost of local government by elimination of unnecessary offices and consolidation of others.

An Ohio State professor says that depression is a good eye-opener, but its not hard to think of a better one.

Poorhouses in three states have been closed because of lack of funds. Well, the drys used to tell us that the poorhouses would close after prohibition.

A half frozen man picked up in Baltimore had more than $1,500 on him. Would you call that cold cash?

Poetry's Future

STEPHEN VINCENT BENET, the brilliant young poet whose "John Brown's Body" was such a success a few years ago, is not one of those young innovators who believe that the modern world will have little use for poetry.

There are critics who feel that a mechanized world is not a world in which people will care either to read or to write poetry. But M. Benet disagrees; the moon, he says, is still the moon, whether it rises over the mountains of ancient Greece or the skyscraper of some American city.

"There seems to be a need in human nature," he remarks, "which is not wholly satisfied by the bare statement of facts. Poetry can enter directly into a man's mind while prose is still taking off its overshoes and knocking at the door."

Now this, of course, is something with which all poetry-lovers will agree instantly; and, when you stop to think about it, it is rather odd that we should have reached a point at which our need for poetry should even be called into question.

Poetry, to be sure, butters no parsnips. Poets seldom make any money out of their calling; the reading of poetry seldom fitted any man for the better performance of the supposedly useful tasks of the world.

But it is precisely because it is so useless that poetry satisfies such a great need in our hearts.

Most of us get more than enough of solid utilitarian things during the daily routine of tasks that must be done. When the day ends we need to escape; we need to get out of our three-dimentional world into a magic land where the hard taskmasters of every day cannot pursue us, and where we can revel in the realm of what ought to be in place of the realm of actuality.

There are various ways of escape. Some people find theirs in music, others get it in painting—and still others find it in poetry. But no matter which way you choose, once you have found it no one can ever take it away from you.

Every wistful desire or tragic yearning you ever felt has been expressed for you, somewhere, by some poet or other, and every high dream you ever had has been given shape in verse at one time or another. Find the right verse, and you are free. Your cell will never again be sealed too tightly.

Sales Tax Facts

WHILE the manufactures sales tax is up for discussion, you might like to mull over some figures recently submitted by the People's Lobby at Washington.

Pointing out that this tax is designed to raise around $550,000,000, the lobby reminds us that in 1930 there were 736,357 Americans whose incomes were more than $5,000 apiece. These incomes totaled $10,198,000,000; and the men who draw them would have to spend just half of that on manufactures in order to contribute as much as $100,000,000 under this tax law.

That, obviously, leaves something like $450,000,000 to be collected from the people who earn less than $5,000 a year. The lobby estimates that fully $200,000,000 of it will be paid by those earning less than $1,800 a year.

Unless those figures can be controverted, it will be hard to make the sales tax look like an equitable measure.

That New Hampshire Primary

THE results of the Democratic presidential primary in New Hampshire have not only stirred up new talk about the probable outcome of the summer's Democratic convention; they have also emphasized the way in which the presidential primary has failed, in recent years, to function as it was meant to.

New Hampshire's primary election did give the voters a chance to express themselves on two of the outstanding Democratic candidates; but there were plenty of avowed candidates whose names weren't placed before the voters, and in most states the voters won't even get the chance the New Hampshire voters got.

In state after state, the primary this spring is simply going to be a form; uninstructed delegations will be chosen, or delegations pledged to some "favorite son" who doesn't pretend to stand a show of being nominated. As a result, the ordinary voter will have very little to say about who is nominated in Chicago.

SO THEY SAY!

Logic

Were we not wise? The flame was glowing high
The night I left—to turn to you no more;
What proof had we that love would hover by—
That all our ships of dreams would make the shore?

A time would come when you would tire of me,
All phrases said—all glamour frayed and worn,
And we would search in vain for ecstasy,
That lives but once—and cannot be reborn.

I know my roses filled your tiny room,
I know my lips were warm against your own;
And it is wise when lips and roses bloom
To hasten from a flimsy, golden throne;

While summer has not heard the step of fall—
And wine is red — and castles strangely tall!

Look, Look! He's Mad!

That member of the house of representatives who will have to pay henceforth to have his name advertised here (and at amusement page rates, which are steep!) came to New York the other evening to entice the local yokels (reporters) into giving him some more publicity.

He changed his mind again. He didn't think George Jean Nathan was an "intellectual anarchist," etc. Instead, Mr. Nathan knew his groceries and was quite a guy. Nathan'll never forgive him now!)

"Nathan," says the cong-yes-man, "exemplifies the true idealist in play reviewing. Walter Winchell is at the other end of the scale."

We knew that the most amusing of the quips would have to be revived. George Goda sends it again, revised slightly, to-wit: "Greta Garbo has a new job—stamping out forest fires!"

Imagine

Milt Britton, whose band is a feature in the "Follies," was in a hurry to be shaved the other day while in Cincinnati. He ran into the first barber emporium he saw. Too late, he realized he was in one of those barber colleges, where the pupils charge but a dime a shave.

As the novice with the razor tightened a wet towel around Britton's throat the musician yelped: "Hey! Whatcha tryin' to do—choke me?"

To which the student snapped: "Whaddava want for a dime—an electrocution?"

The Squelch Terrible

Edgar Leslie, who has penned some grand ditties, too, tells of the song writers who tried to belittle the late Grant Clarke.

"That's a rather large cavity you have in your front tooth," said one of them to Grant.

"Puh-haps," snapped Clarke, "but it's hardly as big as the cavity that you have between your ears."

Hardly

"Is it true," inquires J. Saunders, "that Paul Whiteman has lost so much weight an elevator now can handle him in a single trip?"

Ne'er limped or faltered; mighty Milton, too,
Tho' blind, wrote verse undimmed by blight or pain,
So what excuse, dear sir, is there for you?—G. D. LOTTMAN.

Merciless Truth

Charles Josephs, one of the army of helpers, thinks this recipe is timely again, and it is. It ought to be published in every newspaper on the automobile page.

"Take one regular natural-born fool, add two or three drinks of whoopee water and mix the two with a high-powered motor car. After the fool is thoroughly soaked, place his foot on the gas, and release brake. Remove chump from wreckage, place in black satin-lined box and garnish well with flowers."

Two legit actors, who hadn't eaten a regular meal in months, met on Broadway. One gloated over having secured a small part in a new play. The other enviously said: "Pardon my asking, but what salary are you getting?"

The gloating one lifted an eyebrow and replied: "Well, the monetary remuneration is a trifle small—but there's a pudding in the last act!"

CHAPTER LI

Lois had not forgotten what Margaret had told her concerning the conversation that had taken place between Mr. Paul Scanlon and Mr. Randall. But weeks had passed by and nothing had come of it, so Lois had dismissed the hope from her mind.

"Just one more thing to worry me," she told Margaret one evening. "Just another break that I'll never get."

Margaret laughed. "It's too bad about you, Lois," she said. "You really are in a tough spot, aren't you? You have only Bruce Durand so crazy about you that he is willing to leave home and fireside if necessary to marry you. And when he does, your worries are ended forever. Say, why should you worry about a stenographic job? That will seem like a merry joke to you some day soon."

"I know," Lois was serious. "But I want to amount to something more before I stop working. I'd like to feel that I was capable of handling another position anyway. It would give me a lot of satisfaction and I think Bruce, too, would be proud of me."

Margaret looked at her disgustedly.

"Bunk," she said good naturedly, "that's all bunk. When a fellow is as crazy about a girl as Bruce Durand is about you, he doesn't care what she does. You might be scrubbing floors so far as he is concerned. He'd like you just as well."

Lois laughed heartily. It was good to talk to Margaret. She always looked on the bright side of life. Everything was a good joke to her. Maybe that was the reason that she got along with people as well as she did. Lois often had wished that she could adopt Margaret's philosophy of life, the happy, care-free manner, in which she accepted anything that came her way. But she couldn't. She couldn't help getting blue when things turned out badly for her.

"How are matters progressing with Bruce at home?" Margaret asked her bluntly. She had been "dying" to know a few things but Lois had been reticent of late and Margaret had not pushed the subject for fear it would throw Lois into tears or plunge her into a mood of despair. However, she thought Lois had been fairly happy. She certainly hadn't shown any signs of weakness. So she broached the question.

"His aunt really must be terribly narrow-minded," Lois said, evading a direct answer to her question. "She simply won't give in. She insists that Bruce pick some one from his own crowd and marry her. As if it were as easy as all that. Merely pick some one out of thin air and say 'Presto! I love you, marry me.'"

Margaret munched on the cookies that she had ordered with her sundae. "I don't know anything about love," she admitted, frankly, "and yet I have more sense than to think one could get by with something like that. She should be able to see that she's driving Bruce to marrying you even more quickly and surely than he otherwise might have done."

"She's only helping me," Lois agreed, "if she but knew it."

The following morning Lois was busy at her switchboard when Margaret came out of Mr. Paul Scanlon's office. She rushed over to her and whispered in Lois' ear, "The big boy wants to see you, Lois. Get Hazel to relieve you."

Lois was shaking. Her fingers would scarcely pull the cords out of the board. All the good things were happening at once. That was what her mother always had said. That good luck came in bunches just the way bad luck did. Mr. Scanlon was going to make her his secretary. Oh, she hoped she could do the work! She was a little nervous about her shorthand yet. It wasn't as perfect as she wished it were. Only yesterday she had made a serious error in one letter. Maybe that was it. Maybe Mr. Scanlon had heard about that and was calling her in to tell her that they didn't need her any longer.

Mr. Paul Scanlon was a comparatively young man. His hair was just beginning to turn gray around his temples and his eyes were still bright with the hopefulness that goes with youth. His lips were firm and his jaws were usually set determinedly. It was as if he lived his profession every hour of the day, even when he was outside the courtroom. He invariably was in a hurry. He was either going somewhere or else was preparing things so that he could go. He passed very little time in his office, Lois thought, as she walked into his private room, that if she did work for him at least he would not be around a great deal. Maybe she could work all right if she weren't nervous.

His office was magnificently furnished. Lois had thought that to be strange, since Ben and Paul were brothers and Paul should have the better office of the two. But perhaps Paul had furnished it out of his own bank account.

The drapes were of maroon brocaded cloth to match the heavy maroon rug. Several small orientals were on the floor and some bronze Chinese lamps placed around the room gave it the atmosphere of a room in some home. The ceiling was tastefully decorated and several etchings stood out against the smooth, restful tan of the walls. The client's chair, with its soft, upholstered cushions, had the appearance of having been especially designed to ease a harassed soul. Often, after the troubled one had sat in it and poured out a woeful story to the sympathetic blue eyes, the person had the feeling of having been healed, and would leave saying that he was not quite ready to begin suit, that he would call on Scanlon again.

Scanlon counted those really his victories. He never sent a bill for such conferences. Today as he sat waiting for Lois Corbin to come into his office he smiled contentedly, for his goal was in sight. Ever since he first had opened his law books at the university, on every page that he had written between the lines, he had imagined the magic words, "Paul Scanlon, State's Attorney." When he began practicing, he longed to see the words "State's Attorney" underneath his name on every letter that he signed. Each time he read his name in the newspaper he dreamed of the day when it would be prefixed with the title "State's Attorney." The thing had become an obsession with him; it had become the one aim of his life. Now it was almost within his reach.

He was so lost in his dreams that he gave a little start when Lois knocked on his door.

SEYMOUR C-C WILL BANQUET

Officers Will Be Elected At Program Tonight

Special to The Record News.

SEYMOUR, Texas, March 14.—Final plans have been completed for the annual chamber of commerce banquet to be held in the dining basement of the city hall here Tuesday night, George S. Plants announced Monday.

Morris Randel, ticket chairman, states that some 350 invitations have been mailed and the ticket sales, at all downtown drug stores, show evidence that near 300 guests and members will be present.

Besides the principal speaker, Walter D. Cline of Wichita Falls, the program will consist of the Stamps Melody boys of Chattanooga, Tenn., and a tap dancing team of Master Felix Payne Jr. and Miss Jane Payne with Miss Pauline Fulcher accompanist, all of Wichita Falls.

Music during the banquet will be furnished by Seymour's Seven Syncopators.

Election of officers and directors will follow the program.

WICHITA FALLS CHAMBER WILL SEND DELEGATES

Wichita Falls will be well represented at the annual Seymour Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening, according to plans announced Monday. President Albert E. Kelly and Manager John Boswell of the chamber of commerce, President Don T. Haynes and Secretary Wilburn Page of the Junior chamber of commerce and members of both organizations will attend the program.

Walter D. Cline of Wichita Falls will be the principal speaker on the banquet program and the entertainment features will include dance numbers by Mary Jane and Felix Payne Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Felix Payne and Charles Doran will also attend the banquet.

QUANAH, Texas, March 14.—The "iron hand of the law," as wielded by the women of Quanah, rested heavily upon the shoulders of the male population for a day here last week, when members of the Business and Professional Women's club, as their leap year prerogative, assumed charge of the city's affairs.

R. C. (Bob) Willingham, former alderman, was arrested for violation of traffic ordinance as he emerged from the alley back of his store driving his delivery truck. With the city marshal and a deputy on either side of the truck he was taken direct to the city hall for a "trial" before "Mayor" Rose Coker.

George Sager, secretary of the chamber of commerce, was tried for stealing a purse from the "deputy marshal," and put up such a fight that it required the entire force to subdue him and bring him to court. He was heavily fined.

J. M. Darwood, merchant, and Floyd Thompson, employe of Moore-Tinwing drug store were arrested for fighting in the store, upon complaint of the proprietor. Both were tried and fined.

Arthur Keys of the Old Court theater was "arrested" while at his dinner in the cafe and only released when he signed a document admitting his guilt to the charge of "wearing spats" and paid his fine in the form of a printed document which read "Pass Business and Professional Women's club to 'Hell's Angels' tonight." He was reprimanded by the officers for accepting the first word of the title.

N. L. Jones, employe of R. A. Kelley's grocery, was fined striped candy for the club for violation of traffic ordinance.

Q.—How much of the earth is inhabitable?—R. B.

A.—Scientists estimate that 40 per cent of the land area of the earth is desert, 30 per cent is cultivable, and 30 per cent poor grazing land, marsh, forest, waste and high mountains. There is no agreement as to the exact portion that is inhabitable.

Q.—What is isinglass made of?—J. E. T.

A.—It is a semitransparent, whitish, and very pure form of gelatin chiefly prepared from the sounds of air bladders of sturgeons from the rivers of western Russia.

Q.—Who said "I will not kill a dog that barks at me"?—G. V. C.

A.—Vespasian, the Roman emperor, is said to have made the remark in expressing his attitude toward a group of republican conspirators.

Q.—What percentage of the turkeys that are hatched are usually raised?—H. D.

A.—Before 1920, only 30 to 70 per cent were raised. Due to control of the diseases which attack turkeys, the percentage has been raised to 85 to 90 per cent of the hatch.

Q.—What motion picture stars will play leading roles in the picturization of "Grand Hotel," the famous stage play and book of that name?—H. G.

A.—An announcement has been made that Greta Garbo, Joan Crawford, Wallace Beery, John and Lionel Barrymore, and Lewis Stone will star in this picture.

Q.—Is a grammar school education necessary for enlistment in the United States army?—W. L.

A.—A grammar school education is desirable but not indispensable. Any person who can not speak, read and write the English language is ineligible for enlistment.

Q.—What will be the size of the lake created by the Hoover dam?—S. A. C.

A.—It is estimated that it will be 115 miles in length and will hold 30,500,000 acre feet of water, enough to cover the state of New York to the depth of one foot.

Q.—What early presidents have held the office of kitchle cheenaw or great grand sachem of Tammany hall?—F. L. D.

A.—Presidents Washington, John Adams, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, John Quincy Adams and Jackson.

Q.—What does "Exitus acta probat" mean?—D. S. M.

A.—It is a Latin quotation from Ovid and means "The result justifies the deed."

Q.—Are older people less susceptible to common colds?—E. R.

A.—Older persons are less susceptible to colds. They may have developed a certain amount of immunity.

Q.—What states sent the most horses to the world war for cavalry and for draft?—E. R.

A.—The greatest number of cavalry horses came from Texas, Oklahoma, Oregon and Idaho in the order named. The greatest number of draft horses were secured from Missouri, Kansas and Iowa.

Q.—What were the first commemorative coins made in the United States?—T. W.

A.—The silver Columbian half-dollar, 1892 and 1893, and the Isabella quarter-dollar, struck in 1893, for the world's fair in Chicago, were the first.

Q.—How many daily newspapers are there in the United States?—W. A.

A.—There are 2,415 with a total of 21,191 issues.

Q.—What is the largest privately owned business in the world?—R. T. F.

A.—The House of Mitsui, in Japan, is said to be the greatest business enterprise in the world. Takatoshi Mitsui, "the great," began with a dry goods store where he established the first fixed price, spot cash, no credit system. He sold cloth in any length desired, instead of only "kimono lengths." The house is ruled by the senior Baron Hachiroyemon, 14th Baron Mitsui, but the "prime minister" of the Mitsui empire is Baron Takuma Dan, frequently referred to as the Morgan of Japan. Baron Dan was graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The aggregate wealth of the House of Mitsui has been estimated at 2,000,000,000 yen, or $1,000,000,000.

The Record News Offers A Booklet Presidents And Their Wives

George Washington, although known as the father of his country, was childless. John Tyler, who enjoyed but a tithe of Washington's fame, had two wives and 14 children. One president was the father of another and one was the grandfather of one of his successors. Seven presidents served eight full years; one served only one month. Eight were born in Virginia; seven in Ohio.

HOUSE STOPS 'HOME RULE'

Liquor Plan Defeated By 227-187 Vote

thicum said in an interview. "All we need is one more election."

Representative Beck of Pennsylvania, leader of the Republican wets, said in a statement:

"No one can be blind to the fact that the result was a moral victory for the wet cause." When congress meets next December in short session, we can again submit the question of repeal, if not in its present form, then as a straight repeal of the 18th amendment.

"It is significant that a majority of the affirmative votes were members of the Republican party. Over ninety, largely representing the great industrial states, so voted, and this fact can not be without significance to the delegates to the next Republican national convention.

"Today's vote makes it plain that if the Republican party adopts a dry platform in June it will court disaster at the polls."

Representative Cooper, Ohio Republican and prohibitionist, said:

"The wets seem to have made considerable gain since last year. They may get some encouragement from today's vote but it is a long way from the two-thirds majority."

Another prohibitionist, Representative Blanton, Democrat, Texas, said the vote "is the best thing that ever happened to the dry cause." He added:

"This vote will awaken America, the drys have been silent and unorganized for 10 years while the wets have been vigilant and alert, capturing conventions and elections.

"This will make the drys organize so intently in every city, town and hamlet that they will see to it that no new votes for repeal go to congress."

Only 20 minutes of debate preceded the vote.

A United States senator, a congressman, a former chairman of the state board of administration and an active state political leader are among the ex-football captains of the University of North Dakota.

HOTELS COMPLAIN OF SPEAKEASY COMPETITION

WASHINGTON, March 14. A delegation of hotel, restaurant and club owners today asked President Hoover either to enforce the dry law or permit them to sell liquor in competition with the speakeasies.

Paul Henkel, chairman of the delegation, declared that the $15,000,000,000 industry faces ruin, because it is unable to compete with free lunches given with the sale of speakeasy rum and that most of the hotels will have no income tax payments this year.

He said frankly that unless they can get relief from the government many of the hotels would take the chance of selling beer and wine to meet the "unfair competition," he added.

Cass Jarrell, Pioneer Peace Officer Drops Dead in Courthouse at Quanah

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, March 14.—Cass Jarrell, peace officer of this county during most of the 66 years of his life, dropped dead of a heart stroke in the county courthouse here this afternoon as he was bringing a prisoner from the jail for arraignment in court.

As Mr. Jarrell stepped through the west door of the courthouse he suddenly collapsed. He was taken into the sheriff's office, where he died within a few minutes. A daughter, Mrs. Claude Triplett, reached his side a moment before he died.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete Monday night, pending the arrival of relatives. However, services probably will be held Wednesday.

Mr. Jarrell was among the early residents of Hardeman county. He was a peace officer even before the removal of the county seat from Margaret to Quanah in the late '80s. In following years he had served in numerous capacities as an officer of the county, including city marshal and deputy sheriff.

He had suffered for some time from a heart ailment and his death was not unexpected.

Surviving are his widow; 10 children, J. N. of Winnsboro, C. C. of Oklahoma City, W. R. of Davenport, Iowa, M. D. of El Paso, C. W. of Childress and Glendon and Louis of Quanah; and Mrs. Claude Trippiett, Mrs. T. J. Majors and Mrs. T. L. Hardin of Quanah; 14 grandchildren; two sisters and a brother.

Chevrolet Agents Discuss Plans For Service Campaign

Twenty-five Chevrolet dealers and service managers from Bowie, Nocona, Iowa Park, Electra, Burkburnett, Olney, Graham, Jacksboro and Wichita Falls met Monday afternoon at the Kemp hotel where they held a general conference and round table discussion for the betterment of service to owners in this territory.

The meeting was conducted by A. A. Turner, southwest recional parts and service manager; F. A. Brock, zone parts and service manager; J. K. Melcer, district sales representative and C. E. Van Vessam, district service representative.

A national service program which is to be inaugurated at an early date was outlined and all service men were urged to cooperate with the Chevrolet Motor company in this 10 weeks campaign which will prove beneficial to all owners in getting a more economical service.

Mr. Turner especially stressed the importance of factory designed tools, factory-trained mechanics and genuine Chevrolet parts.

Howard Earns $3,527 For County in '31

Reduction of office operation expense in 1931 has enabled Arthur C. Howard, county tax collector, to return excess fees of $3,527 to the county, according to the past year's report filed Monday with Paul Barnett, county auditor.

The saving was accomplished despite much extra work occasioned by the split tax law and a statute suspending interest and penalty on delinquent taxes, it was shown.

IRISH PLEDGE FRIENDSHIP

DUBLIN, March 14. (US)—Eamonn de Valera, new head of the Irish Free State government, in a message sent today to Secretary of State Stimson at Washington, promised a continuation of the friendly relations existing between the Free State and the United States.

Two City Ordinances Given Final Approval

Two ordinances were passed on third and final readings by the city council at its regular weekly meeting Monday night, each on an emergency clause.

The first permits fruits, vegetables, and other produce to be displayed in business places from Nov. 1 to March 15 without the protecting screens or fans required by city ordinance for such places during the remainder of the year.

The second ordinance forbids the placing of posters, placards, or other advertising matter upon the walls, windows, or other parts of vacant buildings in this city without consent of the owners.

I. C. C. DENIES PETITION

WASHINGTON, March 14. (US)—The Interstate Commerce commission today refused to reconsider its ruling giving the Southern Pacific railroad authority to acquire the St. Louis Southwestern (Cotton Belt). Petition for reconsideration came from the Missouri Pacific and the Texas and Pacific railroads.

Millers Will Grind Red Cross Wheat

WASHINGTON, March 14. (AP)—Arrangements with millers for grinding government wheat into flour for distribution to the needy are near completion and shipments are expected by the Red Cross to be made as soon as local chapters forward their requisitions for approval.

Payments to the millers will be in the form of wheat from the 40,000,000 bushels donated by congress from the farm board stocks.

Conferences are still in progress with railroads to arrange transportation of the flour from milling points. A temporary arrangement for free shipment of wheat for livestock feed into the Northwest drouth areas already is in effect.

Farm Agents' Reports Show Value of Work

Reports for the month of February from G. C. McGown, county farm demonstrator, Miss Ethel Louise Webb, county home demonstrator, and the Wichita Falls General hospital were received by the commissioners court Monday in a brief session.

Soap making, meat canning, and the weaving of rugs at home from wool were stressed in work among the women of the county during February, according to Miss Webb's report. Auction sales held at Call field, and work done in cooperation with the Wichita Valley Development association, were featured in Mr. McGown's activities during the month.

The Wichita Falls General hospital expended $4,602.44 less than its total receipts in February, the report showed. Its own collections of various kinds totaled $3,408.76, while $3,471.72 was received from the city and county.

Auto Stolen

B. F. Leach of Iowa Park reported the loss of a brown Ford sedan about 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon from the Spudder baseball park here.

Clarence Davis Dies Suddenly at Amarillo

Clarence Davis, 38, of Amarillo, a former resident of Wichita Falls, dropped dead at Amarillo Monday, according to word received by his uncle, Tax Collector Arthur Howard of Wichita county. Mr. Davis was a son of the first sheriff of Wichita county, F. M. Davis. He was a graduate of the Wichita Falls High school but has been a resident of Amarillo for several years. Funeral services will be held Tuesday.

Survivors are his widow and five children. Mr. Davis' wife is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Phy Taylor of this city.

Episcopal Men's Club Enjoys Texas Program

Dr. L. Mackechney delivered the principal address at a "ladies night" program of the Men's club of the Church of the Good Shepherd Monday evening. Dr. Mackechney discussed "History of Texas," reviewing high points and significance of the unique background of the state's history.

A feature of the program was a vocal selection, "Texas, Our Texas," by Mrs. C. Y. Tully, accompanied by Lucille Brooks Huff. Dr. Wallace Masters was master of ceremonies for the program.

Philippines Threaten U. S. With Boycott on Goods

MANILA, P. I., March 14. (UP)—A mass meeting of the Philippines Civic union attended by 1,400 adopted a resolution today warning President Hoover a boycott of American products and business will be resorted to as a final weapon to gain island independence.

FALSE ALARMS

Two false alarms were answered by units of the fire department Monday night. One alarm took trucks to Washington and Burkburnett road where an alarm box had been opened at 8:48 p. m. A trash fire at Fifteenth and Grace resulted in the second alarm at 9:35 p. m.

Iron

Iron has received wide publicity because of the important part it plays in preventing anemia. It forms a part of the highly complex hemoglobin compound which gives to the blood its characteristic red color. It conveys oxygen from the lungs to the tissues. Iron is stored in the liver, spleen, and bone marrow. At birth the liver of the baby has enough iron stored away to last until the child has passed through its nursing period, when it can obtain iron from its own food. This is because milk is notoriously deficient in this element. A lack of iron produces insufficient oxidation, anemia, and lowered vitality. The only way iron can be utilized by the body is after it has been prepared for our use by plant structures. Iron, not organized in this manner, when taken into the body produces softening of the teeth, irritation of the eyes, causing blue eyes to turn brown around the pupils, and produces gastro-intestinal disturbances.

Only Small Amount in Body

Iron is one of the many important elements found in the human body, and yet there is only about one-eighth of an ounce in a person of 150 pounds. This amount, small as it is, is vitally important to life. In some diseases, as in anemia, the amount may dwindle down to only 10 per cent of the normal quantity. From a superficial consideration it would seem that this deficiency could be easily made up by using more of the foods rich in iron. This is undoubtedly true to some extent, but the forced feeding of the iron-bearing foods is not alone sufficient to cure an advanced case of pernicious anemia.

There is usually enough iron in an ordinary mixed diet to supply all of the body's requirements. The one great fault is that in some diseases the body cannot convert this iron into blood and tissue. This is due to the toxic state of the system which interferes with proper metabolism. For example, when the body is laden with excessive acid toxins, it is unable to change the iron of the food into the needed iron of the blood. When this condition of toxemia continues, no amount of stuffing with iron-carrying foods will be of any help. It is first necessary to cleanse the body of these accumulated toxins, and then the correct foods can be used with great benefit because they can then become a part of the living cells.

The short fasting diet of fresh fruit is a most helpful method of cleansing out the accumulated toxins from the system so that the iron may be utilized. Every method of elimination should at the same time be used, such as enemas and sponge baths, and the body should be supplied with a large amount of water. A few days of this regime will do more to bring about a rapid change than all of the food you can stuff into your stomach.

Foods Rich in Iron

After you resume your regular meals, the diet should consist of plenty of green leafy vegetables, and a reasonable amount of lean meats. The foods containing the greatest amount of iron are as follows: Sorrel, lettuce, spinach, truffles, strawberries, asparagus, radishes, cabbage, swiss chard, celery, onions, string beans, pumpkins, watermelons and egg yolk.

Because of the relation to the chlorophyll, or green coloring of plant leaves, the greatest amount of iron is usually located in the green leaves. For example, the green outer leaves of cabbage contain four times as much as the inner yellow leaves.

There is little good permanent effect from intravenous injections of inorganic iron as this iron is no more like the iron of your tissues than pig iron is like a pig. Only vegetables can turn iron into an organic form, which is the only form that can be used by the body. The amount needed daily is very small, and a salad of greens each day will furnish you with all that your system needs to assimilate.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question—Mrs. Silvia N. writes: "I am sending you a report of blood count and a urinalysis about which I would like your opinion."

Answer—The report which you sent me shows secondary anemia from an infection somewhere in your body, but naturally the location of this infection could not be discovered without a physical examination. There is also the presence of oxalic acid and other crystals causing renal or bladder calculae, which in irritating the lower urinary tract is causing the appearance of albumin in the urinalysis. I believe you should have a careful physical examination, including x-rays, to find out the cause of the toxic infection.

Injurious Food for Athletes

Question—Gregory R. writes: "I am a young fellow training for track. I would like to know the things that are apt to be hard on my wind and also the things that will develop more strength and more wind and more endurance."

Answer—The things which are most apt to be injurious in training for athletics are foods which produce gas in the intestines, and this gas is apt to press against and interfere with the functioning of the heart. I would not advise athletics in a strenuous way without first undergoing a careful examination to determine the condition of the vital internal organs.

EULLER ARRIVES AT SPUDDER CAMP; OTHERS DUE IN TODAY

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

Wiltse May Return

The rumor that Hal Wiltse will return to the Spudders has gained much credence since we had something to say about it in this corner several weeks ago. One of the players in the Spudder camp who lives in the general vicinity of Milwaukee, and who happens to know something about the affairs of the club, told me yesterday he firmly believes old Hal will be shipped back here. The Brewers recently acquired a pitcher from Chicago named Braxton, who is likely to crowd Wiltse out of the Milwaukee picture. In this event, his return to Wichita Falls may follow.

If this pans out to be true, we may all give a whoop of joy. Nothing could please fans of this section more than the sight of that smiling southpaw mowing 'em down.

Hal's arm gave him trouble last year. Whether the old ache is bothering him now is not known here. Hal is at the Brewers' camp in Hot Springs, Ark.

Incidentally, the Eullers, Mr. and Mrs. and Bo's mother, paid a flying visit to the Wiltse home in Clay City, Ill., on their way to Wichita Falls. Bo reports Wiltse's infant son, now about two months old, is a strapping youngster, and that Mrs. Wiltse, who had many friends here, is in the best of health.

Correction

The time-honored simile, "like water running off a duck's back," may be all right in the summer time, but during the late unpleasantness from the north it didn't work, at least in one instance. Harry van Emden said he saw a duck in Lake Wichita swishing water up on its back. The temperature being what it isn't now, thank heavens, the water promptly froze, and Mr. Duck had a layer of ice on its back.

The All-Punk Team

This corner recently started a contest to pick the all-time, all-punk Spudder team. We considered this a method of relaxation from the stirring arguments that arose over the recent contest to pick the all-star team.

Our observation that it would be harder to pick an all-punk than an all-star outfit seems to have been borne out in the number of entries received to date. After carefully going through the mail the last few days, we find that a grand total of one reader entered the contest. Of course there might have been other reasons why more fans didn't participate.

J. W. Walker of Vernon was the sole person interested in the contest which the Rambler fondly hoped would prove entertaining to thousands. Perhaps the prizes we offered scared most everybody away. Even Mr. Walker protests that he doesn't expect to win first or second prizes, and that he doesn't want to win third prize. The first two best all-punk teams, remember, were to bring to their originator the privilege of representing this newspaper in libel suits the players concerned might be expected to file, while the entrant winning third prize would be allowed to pay our fine.

At any rate, we proved one point. We declared the contest would be no easy one, for there have been few really punk players in Wichita Falls all these many years. The one entry received is more than proof enough. Mr. Walker couldn't find punk players for every position, so in order to fix up a punk line-up he had to put star players of one position into another position in which they could not possibly play to advantage. For instance, he puts Andy Messenger, a pitcher, in left field, and puts him in the clean-up position in the line-up. Obviously that is one of the punkest arrangements that could be thought of, but Messenger himself was not a punk player; not by a long shot. And so throughout Mr. Walker's line-up. In almost every position he has thus switched players. He puts George Washington Payne, one of the greatest of minor league pitchers, at shortstop.

But here, take a look at the complete team:

Swede Swenson, right field.
Earl Caldwell, second base.
Garland Orr, center field.
Duke Herman, third base.
George Payne, shortstop.
Skinny Oneal, first base.
Jim Galloway, pitcher.
Bud Stapleton, catcher.
Umpire—by all means, Sears.

BO RECOVERING FROM ILLNESS

Nasal Operation May Delay Veteran's Start

Wichita Falls looked a whole lot more like Spudderville yesterday, with the arrival from old Kentucky of Walter Euller, otherwise Bo, regular Spudder third baseman for the last two seasons. Euller, accompanied by his wife and mother, made the trip from Louisville, Ky., in his car.

The good news of his arrival was somewhat offset, however, by the gloomy information that the consistent hot corner artist, of whom great things are expected this year, underwent a nasal operation recently and that the wound is slower in healing than was expected. The nasal trouble was of old standing and an operation had been advised years before but Euller postponed it until recently, when the condition became aggravated. A large piece of bone was chipped out of one nostril. While in Kentucky the wound healed rapidly, but on the trip south to Wichita Falls it began giving trouble. The change of climate probably had something to do with the condition, and it was expected that a brief period of treatment here would restore Euller to perfect health.

Comeback Expected

He is physically fit in every other respect, and is anxious to suit up and start training. If the nasal wound will permit, he expects to join the squad today to start the training routine.

After a great season in 1930 as a member of the famous Euller, Levey, Storti and Burns infield, Bo slumped off in hitting last year although his fielding during the 1931 season was of the same steady brand that helped the 1930 infield set a new modern Texas league record for double plays in a single game. The quartet put over seven twin killings in a nine-inning game with Waco.

Euller not only is expected to return with his usual steadiness afield but Spudderville will look to Bo for more and bigger things in a hitting way in 1932. Euller shares the general belief that this will be "his" year, and while not over-confident, he is looking forward to a distinct hitting comeback.

Should the inconceivable happen and Euller not only fail to start off right in hitting but also in fielding, he will find a young battalion of infielders in the Spudder camp more than willing to fill his shoes. One of the leading contenders probably would be Arthur Garbark, who though a shortstop by preference has been assigned the third sack the past few days.

Other Arrivals

There were three other arrivals yesterday, as the deadline set by the club rapidly drew near. All regulars and candidates are due in camp today and all failing to show up will be chalked off as tardy and will be susceptible to whatever penalties Secretary Airey may want to inflict. There will be one exception, however, in Furman Owens, young catcher, who wired Monday from his home in Easley, S. C., that he is ill, but expects to recuperate in time to be here Thursday.

Arrivals Monday other than Euller were Etheridge Beshires, an outfielder from Achillee, Okla.; Elsworth G. Hartley, outfielder from New Albany, Ind.; and Fred Lucas, infielder from Coulterville, Ill.

With ideal training weather once more upon us, the Spudder squad Monday put in one of the best rehearsals to date. At the end of the session Manager Hank Severeid distributed the largest collection of pink slips handed out since the camp opened. Five prospects were given releases. They were Troy Crabb, Fort Worth infielder; Dudley Turgeon, brother of Pete, an infielder from Minneapolis; Estes Easterling, outfielder from Abbot; Chester Chatham, infielder; and C. H. Kimbell, pitcher from Campbell, Texas.

Further reductions in the squad may be expected as additional regulars and prospects report.

Two Regulars Absent

Only two regulars remained outside the fold Monday—Art Scharein, shortstop, and Morris Badgro, outfielder—and these were expected in today. Harry Green, who is expected to take over the first basing job in the event Roy Sabine doesn't come through, likewise is due in today. Green was with the Hollywood club on the coast last year. Gerald Levey, an infielder, also had failed to report late Monday.

Dick Florrid and Fred Vincent, pitchers, and Herb Bryant, catcher, are working out with the Browns in Florida.

NEWARK 5, ROBINS 4

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 14. (AP)—A three-run attack off Waite Hoyt in the second inning paved the way for the Newark Bears' 5 to 4 victory over Brooklyn today.

Browns To Depend On More Speed And Aggressiveness

Delker Solves Cardinals' Problem

Street Satisfied He Can Play Short Or Third If Needed

BRADENTON, Fla., March 14. (AP)—Any ball club in the world except the St. Louis Cardinals would have been much concerned over the stubborn holdout tactics of Charlie Gelbert, star shortstop.

But not a shadow of worry or doubt has hovered over the Redbird camp. The reason is Edward Delker, infielder extraordinary of St. Clair, Pa.

Potentially Good as Gilbert

It is in all sincerity that both Sam Breadon, the owner, and Manager Gabby Street declare that Delker is just as potentially good a shortstop as was Gelbert on the 1930 team and in the world series of that year.

Delker would have had his infield chance with the Cards in 1930 but for a leg injury. He came first to the Card camp in 1929, and showed then as a flash in the field and on the bases.

He remained with the club until August of that year, taking part in only 20 games. He finished the season with Minneapolis.

Back Again

Having recovered entirely from his leg injury, Delker again reported to the Card camp in 1931. Again he impressed the general staff with his speed and skill. However, he was sent to Columbus, and then in June was transferred to Rochester.

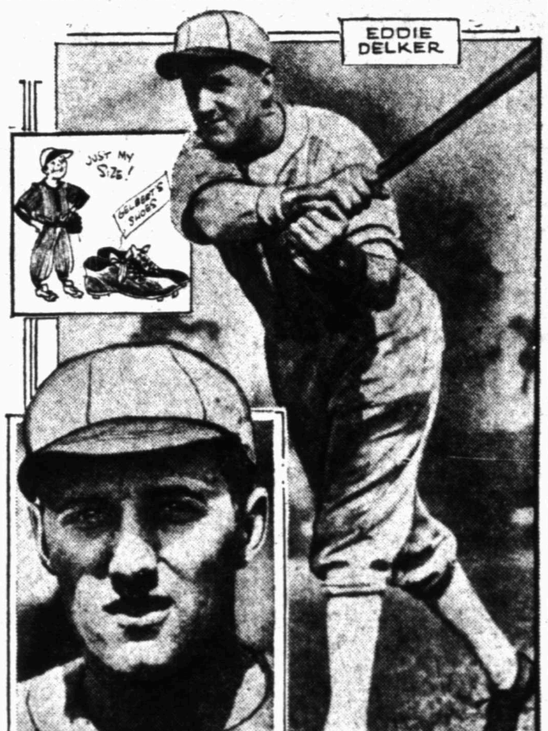

Delker was regarded as the best infielder in the International league last year and starred in the Little World series at the bat and in the field.

This year Delker at least will be Gelbert's understudy at short for the champions, or if Adams is hurt or slows down, he will appear at third. He is to be part and parcel of the champions.

Delker was born in the anthracite section of Pennsylvania, north of Reading, 24 years ago. His father is a railroad man, and the family still lives at St. Clair. Eddie first played ball in his home town and graduated from the town lot team to a semi-pro club.

He was playing on a small league team when the Cards signed him at the age of 20 and sent him to the Danville farm for the 1928 season. Then he was shifted to Topeka, Kan., and thus passed under the skilled hands and crafty guidance of Eddie Dyer, Cardinal coach.

Delker's regular position is shortstop, but he has played at second and third with ease and aplomb much of the time.

RUPPERT AND RUTH CONFER

But Babe's Holdout Status Remains Unchanged

By BILL SLOCUM

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 14. (US)—The man with ball met the man with the pen and the dough here today, but the question of which is the mightier was still unsettled as nightfall settled over Florida's gulf coast. In other words George Herman Ruth is finding the last $10,000 are the hardest. It is a simple matter of penmanship for him to coax the first $70,000 from Col. Jacob Ruppert, who signs the Yankee checks, but from there on the going is tough.

The first conference in what is hardly likely to develop into a long drawn siege was held about noon today in the little clubhouse at Huggins field after George had closed his baseball labors for the day. It lasted close to a half hour and at the conclusion Colonel Ruppert announced that nothing had been done, nor would anything be settled before tomorrow, if then.

"We are getting a little warmer," said the colonel, who declined to mention any figures. "Babe can think over my ideas and I can think over his. Tomorrow we probably will have another talk. But up to now nothing has been agreed upon."

Ruth said later that he was still seeking the $80,000 for a one-year contract.

CLEVELAND INDIANS

NEW ORLEANS, March 14.(AP)—With a return of warm weather today the Cleveland Indians staged their most thorough workout in the past two weeks of their training session here.

Manager Roger Peckinpaugh put the tribe through a two-hour batting practice to remedy weak hitting, evident yesterday when the Indians collected but six hits off the New Orleans Pelicans.

DETROIT TIGERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., March 14. (AP)—Manager Bucky Harris of the Detroit Tigers still is seeking a combination that will instill into his Bengals the batting punch which has been lacking for more years than he likes to think about. The Tigers have won four out of the seven exhibition games played against the Seals and the Missions, but in only two of the games has their batting been impressive.

Solem's Resignation Accepted by Drake

DES MOINES, March 14. (AP)—The executive committee of the Drake university board of trustees today accepted the resignation of Ossie Solem as athletic director and football coach, clearing his path to acceptance of the University of Iowa football mentorship.

The resignation becomes effective May 1.

PHILS 5, A'S 4

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 14. (AP)—The traditional spring clash between Philadelphia's two major league baseball clubs today saw the Phils defeat the Athletics 5 to 4 in 10 innings.

Les Mallon, the Phils' diminutive second baseman, in the 10th inning smacked his fifth single of the game, bringing George Knothe home with the winning tally.

ST. LOUIS BROWNS

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 14. (AP)—Phil Ball, owner of the St. Louis Browns indicated today he has no intention of carrying on protracted negotiations with the three salary holdouts—Red Kress, Walter Stewart and Rick Ferrell.

"They'll either sign at what we've offered or they can pick fruit all summer," Ball said as he boarded a train for St. Louis.

Training Camp Chatter

DALLAS STEERS

DALLAS, March 14. (AP)—Manager Happ Morse sent his Dallas Steers through two practice sessions today. Previous to the morning workout, Cowboy Jones and Rip Radcliff, outfielders, signed contracts. Radcliff led the Texas league in hitting last season. George Loepp, Henry Bonura and Tom Nash are still unsigned.

Morse is preparing his cohorts for an exhibition game Saturday against the St. Paul Saints.

SAN ANTONIO INDIANS

SAN ANTONIO, March 14. (AP)—When Manager Claude Robertson counted the Indian noses for the first workout for the complete squad this afternoon there were six regulars still missing.

Among these were catcher Art Bradbury and infielders Ray Flaskamper, Capt. C. F. Crossley and Charlie Gooch, all of whom have had orders to report.

President Homer Hammond announced that for every day these players are absent they will each be docked a day's pay. Of the squad of 40 Robbie had about 30 on the field.

FORT WORTH CATS

FORT WORTH, March 14. (AP)—If there had been any O.K. tags at Ls Grave field today as the Panthers took a stiff workout one would have been dusted off and hung on George Chervinko, young infielder from the Cedar Rapids club of the Mississippi Valley league.

The youngster's hitting brought smiles to Manager Dick McCabe, who has been planning this year's team around one of the non-class infielders coming through.

HOUSTON BUFFS

HOUSTON, March 14. (AP)—The timely base hitting of Mike Ryba, Hal Funk and Eddie Hock today carried the Buffs to a 7 to 5 win over Billy Southworth's Rochester Red Wings, minor league champions. Ryba drove over three tallies, while Funk and Hock each sent two mates across. The victory gave Houston the lead in the round robin among the Buffs, Red Wings and Columbus Red Birds.

GALVESTON BUCS

GALVESTON, Texas, March 14. (AP)—Del Pratt started swinging his ax today and cut off Charlie English from the Buccaneer roster as the first move in eliminating players from the squad. English, a shortstop, was signed last week.

A hot sun brought a welcome return of baseball weather and the Bucs started working in earnest for the game with Houston here next Sunday. The release of English leaves the camp roster with 34 names.

CHISOX AIM AT FIRST DIVISION

Fonseca Thinks His Hurlers Will Get Him There

By BILL PARKER

SAN ANTONIO, March 14. (AP)—Equipped with a pitching staff Manager Fonseca believes one of the best in the American league, the Chicago White Sox hope to climb into the first division this season.

The Sox finished seventh in 1930 and last in 1931.

Lewis Fonseca, making his debut as foreman, is confident. He believes the trade with Washington that gave the Sox Irving Hadley and Sam Jones meant the difference between first and second division. As a combination they won 20 and lost 20 last year.

"That trade made all the difference in the world," declared Fonseca. "It raised a weak pitching staff into one of the best, providing Ted Lyons and Alphonse Thomas have regained their full abilities, as I am convinced they have."

Caraway to Get Rest

Veteran pitchers like Ted Lyons, Urban Faber, Sam Jones, Milton Gaston, Alphonse Thomas, Irving Hadley, and the prize of last year's corps, Victor Frasier, are expected to do excellent work, with the youngsters showing progress as the season unwinds.

Fonseca plans to use Faber in spots. Pat Caraway, who worked in 51 games last season, will get more rest, and Fonseca believes it will mean additional victories for Pat. Harold McKain is expected to prove a fine relief hurler.

The rookie pitcher commanding attention is Ralph Erickson from Shreveport where he won 15 and lost 10. Erickson, a giant southpaw, looms as first prize of the untried spring moundsmen.

The White Sox's only handicap on the surface is lack of power with the bat.

"We may lack a little batting punch," contributed Fonseca, "but we'll have enough hustle to offset a few base hits."

Infield Prospects

The infield of Lou Blue, at first, Minter Hayes at second, Bill Cissell at shortstop and Carey Selph at third, probably will start the season.

Blue and Cissell were Sox stars last year. Hayes was secured from Washington. Selph was drafted from the pennant winning Houston Buffaloes where he played second base and batted .322. He has been moved to third. The longer throw doesn't bother him.

Fonseca contemplates keeping Luke Appling, Joseph Sullivan and Gregory Mulleavy as infielders.

Efforts are being made to develop Smead Jolley into a catcher. He started his career as a pitcher, then moved to the outfield. If he falls behind the bat, he will be assigned to the outfield. His heavy hitting is too valuable to waste. Frank Grube and Bennie Tate are experienced catchers and will do most of the mask work.

Harold Anderson from St. Paul, Mel Simons from Toledo and Bruce Campbell from Little Rock are new outfielders. This trio must beat a combination like John Watwood, Bob Fothergill and probably Jolley to stock around as pasture patrolmen.

Suit Seeks Restraint Of Huge Oil Merger

FORT SCOTT, Kan., March 14. (AP)—Suit asking that the merger of the Prairie Oil and Gas corporation be halted or the pipe line stockholders be given liquidation value of their holdings in cash, was filed in federal district court here today.

The suit was brought in the name of DeWitt Warren of New York, a Prairie Pipeline company stockholder. It alleges that the consolidation of the three companies as authorized by a big majority of each company's stockholders requires unanimous consent of stockholders under the Kansas statutes.

CHICAGO CUBS

LOS ANGELES, March 14. (UP)—Bunching their hits for a total of eight runs in two innings, the big guns of the Chicago Cubs battered the New York Giants 11 to 5 today to even up the count in the four exhibition games played since Friday.

English and Hartnett knocked home runs in the first and fifth to add to the spirit of slugging.

Bill Terry turned in an outstanding performance for New York when he made three hits.

Score— R H E
Cubs .....151 010 030—11 11 1
Giants .....000 120 020— 5 13 2

Baecht, Sweetland and Hartnett and Z. Taylor; Hubbell, Chaplin, Turner and Healey.

DEMPSEY BETTER

TOLEDO, Ohio, March 14. (AP)—Jack Dempsey, former ruler of the heavyweights, recovered sufficiently from his slight attack of influenza to travel to Clarksburg, W. Va., tonight.

Dempsey is scheduled to box in exhibition there Wednesday night.

Holdout Herman Sent to Reds In Three-Way Trade

By SID MERCER

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 14. (US)—The celebrated holdout of Floyd Cavendish Herman ended today when the Brooklyn Babe was traded down the river to the Cincinnati Reds along with Wally Gilbert and Ernest Lombardi for Tony Cuccinello, Joe Stripp and Clyde Sukeforth.

It was an even-up swap, according to Boss Carey, of the Dodgers, with no cash involved although the Cincinnati club wanted some. The big surprise of the deal was the inclusion of Herman. Although he had affronted Brooklyn club officials by refusing to take a cut in salary, there had been no hint of a reprisal that would deprive the Dodgers of one of their best hitters and most colorful characters.

The passing of Gilbert and Lombardi had been foreshadowed here for some time and Carey made no secret of his desire to acquire Stripp as a third baseman and extra first baseman. Cuccinello, the best hitter among the incoming trio, was also coveted by Carey but his price was set high.

Further deals may follow this one as the Dodgers are now equipped with three second basemen, two third basemen and two shortstops.

BABE HERMAN SHOCKED AT TRADE

LOS ANGELES, March 14. (UP)—Momentarily staggered by news that he had been traded to the Cincinnati Reds, Babe Herman, Brooklyn Dodger holdout, tonight repeated his intention to demand the same salary he received last year, namely, $19,000.

"No matter what club I'm with," he said, "I'll be paid $19,000 or I won't sign."

The Dodgers offered him $15,000 this year and he became one of the most persistent of holdouts.

News of the trade, in which Herman, Catcher Ernest Lombardi and Third Baseman Wally Gilbert were given to Cincinnati in exchange for Infielders Tony Cuccinello and Joe Stripp and Catcher Clyde Sukeforth, seemed to shock Herman. Accompanying rumors that he would be sold to the Chicago Cubs, however, did not surprise him.

"I half-way expected that," he remarked, and would say no more.

Klingman And Jap to Wrestle

Otis Klingman of Amarillo, who out-smarted, out-roughed and outwrestled Russian George Ligosky here last week, is scheduled to be back on Promotor Grovo's wrestling card this week with Tistu Higami. The Amarillo boy, classed as one of the best men in this section of the country, has worked in Wichita Falls three times and in each appearance has made a favorable impression. Klingman is a pupil of Dutch Mantell.

Higami was the man who first stopped Ligosky after both Whitey Grovo and Paul Orth had failed to do so. Higami, the holder of the ju-jitsu wrestling crown in three weight divisions, has been very pleasing to the fans here with his uncanny ability to use the popular and colorful "button" style wrestling. The little Jap worked his way up the championship ladder until he reached the stage where he could get a championship match with Kallio, the champion. He then failed only after a great battle.

Two more old favorites are scheduled to be back on the semifinal match of the card with Kid Murdock meeting Sailor Moran. Murdock is the only man to ever beat Klingman in the Wichita Falls arena, turning the trick in their match when both were making their initial appearance here.

'All Junior College' Game May Hit Rocks

TERRELL, Texas, March 14. (AP) Officials of the college of Marshall today notified Texas Military college that because several members of their basket ball team have withdrawn from school, they will be unable to play a scheduled series of three games to decide the "all junior college" championship of Texas.

The challenge was accepted Saturday and Texas Military had agreed to play all of the games in Marshall.

BASE RUNNING IS STRESSED

Burns, Levey and Storti To Shoulder Infield Jobs

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 14. (AP)—Without making any notable shifts in the cast of St. Louis Browns that finished fifth last year Manager Bill Killefer looks for more speed, aggressiveness and consistent punch to make his club a factor in this season's American league race.

After long negotiations Fred Schulte and Goose Goslin have signed contracts but Ralph Kress, slated for the other outfield berth, is still unsigned.

"Kress will play better ball if not shifted around so much," said Killefer. "He will assure us plenty of outfield punch."

Five .300 Hitters

The club has at least five .300 clouters, with Rick Ferrell, catcher, and Oscar Melillo, a second baseman, able to wield the stick in support of the outfield trio. Ferrell also has been a stubborn holdout.

To take advantage of these hitting prospects, Killefer has drilled his men in base running to a greater extent than any other manager in Florida. The Browns' sliding pit is almost a novelty in the grapefruit belt where the world champion Cardinals make up the only other club making the most of old-fashioned stealing tactics.

The Browns' pitching staff won't look natural until Walter (Lefty) Stewart, one of the league's best southpaws, gets into shape after his annual holdout session. Stewart has had better years than 1931 but he still represents about 35 per cent of the club's pitching strength.

Supporting Cast

To support him, Killefer counts on much improved work by Sam Gray, the veteran right-hander, and Dick Coffman, who apparently has hit his real stride late last year when he scored a rare shutout triumph over Robert Moses Grove. George Blaeholder and Wally Hebert, 22-year-old southpaw, will get the other starting jobs. Chad Kimsey, Americo Polli and Bob Cooney all will be kept, unless Rip Collins signs in time to make himself more useful than one of these men.

The infield will stand or fall on the showing of the erstwhile Wichita Falls stars, Burns, Levey and Storti, who have had a year's testing and figure to show improvement. Burns at first, is the most promising. Levey has promised to avoid the "bright lights." Storti has a rival at third in Jimmy McLaughlin, former Sacramento star.

Behind the bat, the veteran Benny Bengough is supplying his customary pepper, pending arrival of Ferrell, and will get a share of regular work.

Electran Breaks Record In Fort Worth Meet

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, March 14. — Electrans were glad to learn that Henry Culpepper, former Electra High school star athlete, set a new record in the 120-yard high hurdles in the college division at the Southwestern track and field meet at Fort Worth Saturday. Culpepper, representing North Texas State Teachers college, Denton, did the hurdles in 15.5, the old record being 15.6. Culpepper was captain of the local 1927 track team that won the state championship.

Electra Class Track Meet Scheduled Today

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, March 14.— The inter-class track meet at the local high school will be held Tuesday. Each class will enter a team to compete for the class championship. The meet is expected to create much class rivalry.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, March 14. (AP)—A slight opening decline in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables, was followed by recoveries on covering and trade buying in cotton during today's selling and liquidation promoted by the weakness in the grain and stock markets. May contracts sold off from 6.99 to 6.86 in the late trading and closed at that figure, with the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 10 to 12 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 2 to 4 points under some overnight selling orders from the South and liquidation or scattered selling influenced by the rather easier tone of Liverpool.

After some little irregularity, prices worked up to about or a shade above yesterday's closing quotations with May advancing from 6.94 to 6.99 and October from 7.32 to 7.38.

Late prices broke into new low ground for the month with October selling off to 7.25 and closing quotations were at the lowest point of the day with active months showing declines of some 30 to 33 points from recent high prices.

The report of the census bureau placed domestic consumption for the month of February at 450,018 bales compared with 435,337 the previous month and 433,376 for February last year. Neither these figures nor the carded statistics showing a decrease of 5.7 per cent in stocks on hand and a decline of only 3.4 per cent in unfilled orders appeared to have much effect on the immediate market. Liverpool cables reported continental buying and covering on the easier sterling in that market. Exports today 73,944 making 6,380,728 so far this season. Port receipts 14,131. U. S. port stocks 4,586,458.

Futures closed barely steady 10-12 points lower. Spot quiet; middling 6.95.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, March 14. (AP)—Cotton prices slumped sharply during the final hour of trading today after a rather quiet mid-session when prices changed very little. A late slump in leading securities brought in general selling and liquidation, carrying active positions down to 75c a bale from early morning highs and down over a half a dollar a bale net on the day. Final figures were the lowest of the day, May 6.85 to 6.88; July 7.02 to 7.04 and Oct. 7.21 to 7.22, losses of 12 to 15 points on the day and 14 to 15 points under the day's highs.

Unsettlement of foreign markets due to the Swedish financial entanglement resulted in small opening losses, active months losing 1 to 3 points on selling principally for foreign accounts.

The census bureau placed February domestic consumption of cotton not including linters, at 450,018 bales against 435,337 in January this year and 433,376 in February last year. Mill stocks end of February were 1,633,380 bales against 1,637,135 the end of January and 1,550,351 end of February last year. The association of cotton textile merchants report on cotton goods sales were considered bearish.

Port receipts 14,131; for week 29,460; for season 8,753,723; last year 8,335,665. Exports 73,931; for week 93,314; for season 6,240,230; last year 5,173,353. Port stocks 4,633,880; last year 4,001,381. Shipboard stocks at New Orleans, Houston and Galveston, 218,883; same day last year 96,276.

Futures closed easy at net declines of 12 to 15 points:

Liverpool Cotton

LIVERPOOL, March 14. (INS)—There was a fair demand for spots cotton at the opening today. There were no receipts.

At midday middling fair was quoted at 6.55d, strictly good middling 6.10d, good middling 5.70d, strictly middling 5.60d, middling 5.55d, strictly low middling 5.45d, low middling 5.35d, strictly good ordinary 5.15d, good ordinary 4.85d.

Futures opened quiet with May at 5.18d, July 5.17d, October 5.19d, January 5.27d.

DRY GOODS MARKETS

NEW YORK, March 14. (AP)—Cotton goods opened the week steady with some increase reported in the demand for wash fabrics.

Silk prints were in better demand, and dull acetate rayon yarns sold moderately. Burlaps opened quiet. Preparations are under way for opening fall lines of men's wear late this month.

Varying Factors Exert Influence On Trading of American Markets

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, March 14. (US)—Securities markets today had to withstand a series of shocks against which only a thin cushion of favorable news was afforded as protection. Under the circumstances, the market hardly could be classified as exceptionally weak, notwithstanding a broad decline which resulted in quotations closing near the day's lowest levels.

Von Hindenburg's victory in Germany came as an opportune counter-influence to the disturbing suicide of the Swedish financier, Kreuger. The two influences collided at the opening, and as a speculative factor the tragedy prevailed above the promised political serenity in Germany.

The markets, truthfully, took the Kreuger news reasonably calmly, especially in the face of violent depreciation in Kreuger securities. Therefore, it is hardly illogical to attribute the day's weakness to other developments, more domestic in nature. The full significance of the Kreuger affair may be more fully appreciated as its ramifications are disclosed. The Eastman suicide exerted disturbing influence mainly on his own shares.

The major cause of the secondary decline in the market, which had begun to stabilize somewhat after the initial outburst of selling, was the Washington vote on the "wet" resolution. Defeat of this proposal was followed almost immediately by drastic declines in wheat and other grains and this selling stretched into different commodities.

Railroad stocks performed very discouragingly and soon the entire list was in retreat. The rails were acting in thorough conformity with indications last week commented upon here that they were lacking nearby support. The rail stock average again is close to the record lows of January.

All interest naturally centered in the Kreuger issues. One-third the entire stock trading took place in Kreuger & Toll, turnover in which was 673,000 shares.

The stock dropped more than 60 per cent in value on the initial transaction, which was delayed an hour to assemble the overwhelming offerings. It finally opened at 1⅞ on 150,000 shares. Subsequently on the enormous additional volume it rallied to close at 2¼, a net drop of 2¾ points from Saturday's final quotation at 5. The Kreuger & Toll 5 per cent bonds closed down 16 points at 32½; the Affiliated International Match preferred stock was dumped in blocks to close off 5¼, at 12⅝, the Match 5 per cent bonds of 1947 broke 11 points to 38, and the 5s of 1941 were off 12¼ points net at 39½.

The world markets all were disturbed by the Kreuger affair. Yet, there seemed to be almost unanimous agreement that the tragedy culminated an episode which was widely anticipated in its financial aspects. It was known far and wide for some time that Kreuger unsuccessfully sought new loans in New York, London and Paris. This column repeatedly referred to this necessity.

The American stake in Kreuger enterprises is represented mainly by investors' holdings of their securities; the banks here generally are free of any large commitments. It was estimated all of Kreuger short-term credits in the United States would not exceed $9,000,000. In its international ramifications, a Bank for International Settlements director was quoted: "We see, however, the partial collapse of long-term credits in Germany, Rumania and Poland—all nations which farmed out match concessions to Kreuger."

Developments of the day were so confusing and moved with such rapidity that conservative financial factions delayed decisions for another day or two pending clearing of the atmosphere of all judgment indicated by fear or fancy.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, March 14. (AP)—Cash grain demand, good.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis carloads, freight paid, delivered Texas gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points:

Wheat—No. 1 ordinary ordinary hard milling, 58½@59½c; No. 1 hard, 11 per cent protein, 59@60c; 14 per cent, 61@62c; 15 per cent, 65@66c; 16 per cent, 67@68c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 pounds, 72@73c; No. 2 kaffir, 73@74c.

Delivered Texas common points:

CornNo. 2 mixed, 38½@39½c; No. 2 white, 40@41c; No. 2 yellow, 48@49c.

Oats—No. 2 red, 23@24c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 14. (AP)—Wheat suffered a sudden maximum fall of 3⅛c a bushel today, most of the loss after congress had defeated efforts toward repeal of prohibition.

A wave of stop loss selling started when the outcome of the prohibition repeal vote became known, and grain values gave way fast as the movement to relinquish ownership gathered impetus. Weakness of securities, especially during the late dealings, contributed to the unsettlement of cereals.

Wheat closed wavering at almost the day's bottom figures, 2⅞@3⅛c under Saturday's finish, corn 1⅛@1½c down, oats ⅝@⅞c off and provisions unchanged to a setback of 12c.

Corn, oats and rye followed the lead of wheat. Country offerings of corn were of only moderate volume, but were well in excess of the shipping demand. An increase of 963,000 bushels in the corn visible supply, acted as a further weight on the market.

Provisions slanted downward in line with the course of hog values.

Closing indemnities: Wheat, May 58⅛@½, 58⅜@59; July 58⅛@⅛c, 60⅛; Sept. 60⅛, 62⅛. Corn, May 37⅞@⅝; 38⅛@39; July 40⅛@⅝; 41⅝; Sept. 41½, bids.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, March 14. (US)—Stale long lines of wheat went overboard via the stop-loss route at the close today when eastern selling forced the market down under recent resistance levels. Locals who have been disinclined to press sales on the bearish domestic price and supply news went along with the market. Little buying power was in evidence, but before the close there was indication that the selling had about spent its force.

Some further reaction in wheat is generally looked for as such a break customarily brings in overnight orders. However, export sales made on the break may prove an offsetting influence.

Export demand was quiet today and there were no reports from seaboard following the sharp decline in prices here and at Winnipeg. However, it was understood in the trade that a fair demand existed for hard winters and Manitobas just under recent market levels and it was assumed that the reaction would result in transactions on resting orders.

The disposition of Argentine grain shippers to lower prices to a level to undersell the United States has prevented any great response to news of recent export sales from this country. An active demand from abroad with a substantial volume of sales at seaboard would be required to offset the existing heaviness in domestic cash circles, traders feel.

Gray Hair

Best Remedy is Made At Home

To half pint of water add one ounce bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and one-fourth ounce of glycerine. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It imparts color to streaked, faded or gray hair and makes it soft and glossy. Barbo will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.

ANOTHER FOR CHALK HILL

The Deep Oil Development & Lindsay interests, No. 3, lease No. 1, L. F. Wilson, located in section 119, A. T. N. C. L. survey in Archer county, set casing and cemented on the sand at 2201-13 feet. The well is located 660 feet south of No. 1 producer on this lease and its completion will mark it as the most southern in the Chalk Hill deep production. The plug will be drilled out some time Thursday afternoon.

NORTHWEST OF ARCHER CITY

The Bridwell Oil company started drilling the plug at 1418 to 1428 feet from the sand in its No. 22 Oil Investment well located in block 125, J. W. Harris sub-division, northwest of Archer City in Archer county.

ROAD TO RECOVERY

John B. Flynn, who has been seriously ill with an attack of pneumonia at a hospital in Austin, has passed the crisis and is improving daily. John is a son of P. B. Flynn of the Reno Oil company who is in Austin but will return today.

BURNS & LONG

Burns & Long No. 1 W. J. Logan, located 1658 feet south and 450 feet east of the northwest corner of J. M. Taylor survey, 23, abstract 651, in southwest Archer county, is feeling for the saturated lime and drilling at 1099 feet.

CORING AGAIN

United Producers No. 1 L. F. Wilson late Monday started coring into a broken sand formation topped at 2233 feet. The well had cored into the sand at 1106-25 feet but failed to show oil. Its location is one and one-half miles southwest of Chalk Hill in block 118, A. T. N. C. L. survey, Archer county.

ARCHER COUNTY TEST

The Underwood Drilling company has spudded in on its No. 1 F. Young test located in section 1810, T. E. & L. survey of south Archer county, and is drilling at 150 feet.

SOUTH WICHITA COUNTY

The Reno Oil company No. 6 J. E. Roller, located in the S. Holloway survey, abstract 772, southwest of Iowa Park in Wichita county, is moving in machine Tuesday to drill the plug from the oil sand at 1795 feet.

Brother of Mrs. Smoot Claimed by Death

Dr. J. H. Gaines of Washington, D. C., brother of Mrs. George A. Smoot Sr., 2201 Ninth, died Sunday at Atlantic City, word received here said. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at Arlington National cemetery at Washington. Dr. Gaines was a retired naval surgeon and the only brother of Mrs. Smoot. Mrs. Smoot was unable to attend the services.

School News

Red Cross Lecture

Dr. Thomas Green was the principal speaker at a called assembly of the high school and Junior college students Monday morning at the 30-minute period. Dr. Green represented the Red Cross president, John Barton Payne. He talked on Red Cross work in America.

School Beauties

High school beauties since 1924 are attracting attention of the high school and college students this week. A picture history of the high school beauty contests for the past eight years is on display in the foyer of the building. A photograph of the most beautiful high school girl for 1932 will be placed in the display after the presentation to the students Thursday night at the annual beauty show, it was announced Monday.

College Assembly

Junior college students will meet Tuesday morning for their regular college assembly, according to an announcement made Monday by Madge Davis, faculty member. An interesting St. Patrick's day program has been planned for the meeting.

Kill The Cause Of Skin Trouble

If you suffer from skin eruptions of any kind, pimples, itch, tetter, ringworm, eczema, etc., a pleasant odored ointment, known as Tetterine, containing highly effective parasite germ-destroying and skin-healing properties, never fails to bring quick and permanent relief.

Tetterine, by its cooling, soothing antiseptic effect, kills the parasites that bore into the skin, causing irritation and itching. Tetterine is sold and guaranteed by all druggists at 60c a box, or sent direct, postpaid, upon receipt of price. Shuptrine Co., Savannah, Ga.—Adv.

BAPTISTS TO MEET TODAY

Wichita-Archer Workers To Gather at Burk

A workers' conference of the Wichita-Archer Baptist association will open Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the First Baptist church in Burkburnett. The Rev. Jake Ellis will open the program with the devotional service, and church reports will follow at 10:15 o'clock.

Morning addresses will be delivered by the Rev. A. C. Turner, "What Is a New Testament Church"; the Rev. W. W. Rivers of Electra, "Should Distinctive Baptist Doctrines Be Preached Today"; and Dr. O. L. Powers, "The Security of the Believer in Christ."

The W. M. S. program in the afternoon will follow board meetings with, Mrs. S. J. Marcell discussing "The Forgotten Southland" and the Rev. N. B. Moon discussing "The Baylor College Campaign as a Missionary Opportunity."

Depression Blamed On High Taxes

Financial and economic distress in the United States is due to high taxes, Judge A. H. Carrigan said before members of the Kiwanis club Monday noon at the Wichita club.

Taxation should be fair, and should not interfere with business, the speaker said. He charged that burdensome taxes destroy the business which supports not only its owner, but many employes.

Readings by Mrs. Ella Merle Mathis Bristol entertained those present. Dr. O. W. Wilson was chairman of the program.

Testimony Opens In $10,000 Damage Suit

Introduction of evidence by the plaintiff is to be resumed Tuesday morning in the case of J. V. Faulk against the Magnolia Petroleum company before Judge W. W. Cook in the 78th district court.

The plaintiff asks $10,000 damages for permanent injuries alleged to have been received in an oil field accident on March 3, 1931.

The jury was selected Monday afternoon, and hearing of testimony was begun.

Students to Entertain Trustees at Banquet

Junior college domestic science classes will be hostesses to the board of education Tuesday night, when they entertain the board members at a banquet at the Junior college. Following a short program, the board will have its regular business meeting, according to H. D. Fillers, superintendent. Mrs. Roy J. Daniel is instructor of the entertaining group.

Brother of Wichitans Claimed by Death

J. G. Steele, 2005 Brown, left Monday for Kansas City after word was received that a brother, E. K. Steele had died there. Mr. Steele had been in ill health since his discharge from the U. S. army. He served overseas with the 110th engineers of the 35th division. Mrs. Harry Hines, a surviving sister, also of Wichita Falls, did not accompany her brother to Kansas City.

Wheaton Given Five-Year Term For Worthless Check Issued in 1924

L. C. Wheaton was given five years in the state penitentiary by a jury before Judge P. A. Martin in the 89th district court Monday afternoon on a charge of swindling by check over $50, and two other defendants were given five-year suspended sentences, both on pleas of guilty.

Wheaton was charged by indictment with having given a check for $1,100 in Electra on Aug. 6, 1924, to W. L. Hill in payment for an Hupmobile automobile. The check was drawn on a Burkburnett bank. Charged with having taken the car to another state, Wheaton was convicted under the Dyer act and given 30 months in the federal penitentiary, being tried at Santa Fe, N. M. He completed that sentence in March, 1928. In November, 1929, he was convicted in Oklahoma on a charge of counterfeiting, and was given another four years at the Leavenworth federal penitentiary. Upon his release on Jan. 19, of the current year, Wheaton was brought back to Wichita county to be tried for the alleged offense at Electra. He denied having issued the check, according to Assistant District Attorney George W. Anderson, despite the testimony of friends and relatives.

Ray Butler entered a plea of guilty to a charge of burglary in connection with the robbery of the A. A. Young grocery on Fort Worth street on Jan. 31 and was given a five-year suspended sentence.

A similar sentence was imposed by Judge W. W. Cook in the 78th district court upon Jay Alley, charged with theft of an automobile from Raymond Adkins at Electra. The defendant entered a plea of guilty and waived jury trial.

15 Band Students To Enter Contest

Fifteen students of the Seeds School of Music will represent the school in the state wind instrument solo contest to be held at the Panhandle Music Festival at Amarillo Saturday.

Winners of first place in this contest will enter the annual tri-state tournament to be held in April. Winners of the tri-state meet will be eligible for the national tournament.

The group of soloists leaving Friday includes Elmo Lewis, J. G. Dixon, G. W. McReynolds Jr., and Dickie Seeds, cornets; Dennis O'Brien, John Hooper and Roy Westfall, trombones; Wayne McReynolds, baritone; Billy Ralph Hyer, Phyllis Seeds and Larry Smith, clarinets; and Billy Ralph Hyer, Jack Albright and Bobby Burns, saxophones.

Miss Mary Marie Dollard will play the piano accompaniments for the soloists. Paul Seeds, instructor of the school, and G. W. McReynolds will accompany the group to Amarillo. They will go by special bus.

C-C DIRECTORS

A regular business meeting of the directors of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce will be held at the offices in the Hamilton building at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, President Albert E. Kelly said Monday.

NEW HIGHWAY

Bridwell to Attend Road Conference Today At Frederick

Plans for a new highway from Wichita Falls to Altus, Okla., paralleling the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway line will be launched Tuesday morning at a meeting at Frederick, Okla., called by the chamber of commerce in that city. Chairman J. S. Bridwell of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce highway committee and Bob Miller will represent the local chamber at the invitation of the Frederick organization.

INCOME TAXES DUE TUESDAY

Midnight Is Deadline For Mailing Reports

A last minute rush of income taxpayers of Wichita Falls was in evidence Monday at the office of D. J. Hunt, deputy collector of internal revenue, at the postoffice. All return blanks for 1931 must be in the mails before midnight Tuesday. The collection office here will remain open until 6 o'clock Tuesday evening and after that hour returns may be mailed, but letters must be postmarked before the closing hour.

Reports on the number of returns filed and other detailed information is not allowed by federal regulations, Mr. Hunt said.

Seven Pairs of Shoes Stolen From Store Here

Loss of seven pairs of white sandal shoes from the W. B. McClurkan & Co. store here was reported to police Monday. It was believed the store had been entered either Saturday or Sunday night, officers said. The burglars gained entrance to the building by forcing a window. The shoes were valued at $33.75.

VALLEY DRIVE SET MARCH 22

$1 Membership to Aid Development

The "hospital corps" of young Wichita Falls business men under direction of Mayor Walter Nelson Jr., surgeon general will go into action Tuesday morning, March 22, for a three-day drive to stabilize the health of the Wichita Valley agricultural area.

Final detailed plans for the drive will be formed at a luncheon meeting on Thursday, March 17. Mayor Nelson, President B. B. Greever of the Valley Development association and Financial Chairman Oral Jones of the association and hospital corps leaders will attend the luncheon.

The campaign dates have been set forward one week to allow mechanical details of arrangements to be completed. The drive goal has been set at 2,500 new members for the Valley Development association with memberships placed at $1 each. Details of the association budget and the 10-year plan already adopted will be presented to allow all prospective members to know how their money will be spent.

BOARD TO DISCUSS U. S. DRAINAGE LOANS

Two major items of discussion will be placed before the Valley Development association board at the regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at the chamber of commerce offices in the Hamilton building.

A bill now before the national house seeking to provide relief for irrigation and drainage districts by loans will be presented, board members said Monday. Another principal item of discussion will be plans for opening a local produce market for valley farmers to sell their truck products.
