Rumor Of New Collaboration Of Reds And Nazis Blasted

ON OWN RESPONSIBILITY—James H. R. Cromwell, United States' minister to Canada, staked his diplomatic life on an anti-nazi speech while his wife, Doris Duke Cromwell, saw "a haze of cigaret smoke through cocktail glasses." As a result the "Playboy consul" who is husband of one of the richest women in America, was sharply rebuked by Secretary Of State Hull. Cromwell said his statement was made on "my own responsibility." See story to right.

(By The Associated Press)

REPORTS that Russia and Germany planned new steps toward closer collaboration in the near future were jolted today by a soviet announcement which heightened speculation that troubled the Easter week-end throughout the Christian world.

Assurances were expressed in Berlin quarters that Russia's Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslaff Molotoff would be in the German capital within a few days for conferences with Adolf Hitler. However, they were met by a statement from Tass, official soviet news agency, that "rumors circulated by various foreign agencies regarding the proposed visit of . . . Molotoff to Berlin or some town in Germany or the western Ukraine are devoid of any foundation."

Possibility Open

Berlin intepreted the Tass announcement as intended to counteract reports that Molotoff already was in Germany or was on the way. The possibility of a visit to Berlin definitely was left open by the Communique, it was said in the nazi capital.

Reports have been current that Germany would try to extend the Rome-Berlin axis to Moscow, with Russia joining the combination as a non-belligerent supplier of Germany's economic needs in her war with the British-French Allies.

In any event, the impression grew that while the staff of German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop was working feverishly on some important matter, there would be no hurry about winding it up. Said the Russian embassy at Berlin: "The exact date for events in the offing is not yet seen."

British Retaliate

Britain stewed about indications that an undersea war of unprecedented extent was near, with a new wave of German submarines preying on North sea shipping. France was engrossed in the efforts of the newly-born cabinet of Paul Reynaud to strengthen itself by formulating a "push the war" program before the re-convening of Parliament April 2.

Although Saturday's pow wow of the new cabinet was attended by leaders of the French air, land and sea arms, including Generalissimo Maurice Gustave Gamelin, there were few who thought Reynaud's war program would include a big push on the western front.

London prepared to counter U-boats with U-boats. Her own undersea craft were expected to menace Germany's vital ore route from Scandinavia.

Britain was plagued with intern-

Junior Stock Show To Open Here Monday

Records Expected To Be Broken At This Year's Meet

TENTH annual South Plains Junior Fat Stock show will open its three-day run in the fairgrounds here Monday with the near certainty that every record for the event will be broken. Admission will be free.

The entry list numbers 678 animals, according to announcement Saturday of J. A. Fortenberry, chairman of arrangements, as compared with approximately 400 in last year's show. Included in the entries are 282 calves, 225 pigs and 171 lambs.

From 70 Towns

The Future Farmer and 4-H club boys participating in the competition will come from more than 70 towns of the South Plains and Eastern New Mexico, another record.

The cash prize total of nearly $600 is nearly 25 per cent larger than last year.

The classes of competition are more numerous than ever before because this year, for the first time, separate divisions have been provided for five different breeds of pigs. In previous shows, the only divisions have been lights and heavies, with 240 pounds the dividing weight.

Plans Complete

Final preparations for the opening, according to C. C. Jobson, county farm agent and general superintendent, are scheduled to be made today when the Tidwell carnival is due to arrive and be set up for the formal opening at 8 a. m. Monday. Assurance was given that the carnival will be in operation Monday afternoon and night, with the youthful exhibitors receiving passes to the attractions.

Monday's show schedule will be: 8 to 10 a. m., checking of entries in calf, pig and lamb departments; 10:30, sifting; 2:30, meeting of baby beef exhibitors, county agents and vocational agriculture teachers to re-arrange exhibits; and 7:30 p.m., entertainment.

Judging To Be Tuesday

Tuesday will be devoted to judging, with a box lunch and special entertainment planned at night. The judges, all members of the Texas Technological college faculty, will be W. L. Stangel of calves, Ray C.

From The Gospel, According To St. Matthew

The Easter Story

IN the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

And, behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow.

And for the fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.

He is not here: for he is risen, as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.

And go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead; and, behold, he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you.

AND they departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy; and did run to bring his disciples word.

And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and held him by the feet, and worshipped him.

Then said Jesus unto them, Be not afraid: go tell my brethren that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

Pearl Linder Is Held In Assault To Murder Case

Mrs. Ethel Peach Being Treated For Dangerous Wound

MRS. ETHEL PEACH, about 30, was critically wounded by gunshot Saturday morning, an unsuspecting victim of a love triangle, law enforcement officers said.

In jail was Pearl Linder, who admitted, officers said, firing a shot from a .41 caliber pistol, but who said she did not know she had hit Mrs. Peach.

A physician in Lubbock sanitarium said Mrs. Peach's condition had improved somewhat at midnight and hope was held for her recovery.

Lodges Near Heart

The large caliber bullet, the physician said, grazed the wo... chin, ranged downward and ... ed the left side of her body ... region of the seventh rib. It ... ed the body and lodged behin... heart.

The shooting happened ... 10:30 o'clock in a cafe on ... Broadway, across from the ... grounds. Mrs. Linder, who said ... would celebrate her 22nd birth... today, walked into the sheriff's ... fice and surrendered a short ... later.

Charged With Assault

She was charged with ass... with intent to murder in justice court of Walter Davies. She had not executed $2,000 bond at midnight.

In a written statement given to Victor H. Lindsey, assistant district attorney, Mrs. Linder said she walked into the cafe and fired at another woman as the aftermath of disputed love.

She said she knew she had not hit the other woman and did not know the bullet had struck Mrs. Peach until after she had started back to her home. She told of talking to the second woman about a week ago in an attempt to patch up the affair.

Were Good Friends

Mrs. Linder said she walked in the rear door of the cafe, called to her intended victim and shot. She explained that she had not intended shooting Mrs. Peach and said they were good friends. Mrs. Peach was sitting behind the counter in the cafe when shot.

Enumerators For Census Named

In less than four weeks Lubbock's population total "should be known."

So announced Robert H. Bean, district supervisor of the census, Saturday in listing dates and enumerators for the last phase of counting noses in his 13-county district.

Bean said he had been authorized to release population figures "as soon as the work has been completed."

To Begin April 2

Furthermore, Bean said the work of enumerating population and taking the agricultural and housing census would begin April 2 and probably be completed within two weeks "in cities, four weeks in counties."

In the district of 60 by 250 miles and composed of the counties of Bailey, Cochran, Lamb, Hockley, Hale, Lubbock, Floyd, Crosby, Dickens, Kent, King, Stonewall and Haskell, the first phase of the census, that of taking business and manfactures surveys, almost is completed. That work was begun Jan. 2 by 11 enumerators and was alloted a time limit of three months for completion.

Enumerators for the population, agriculture and housing census announced by Bean for Lubbock county alone:

Three Are Injured In Minor Auto Accident

Three persons suffered minor injuries Saturday afternoon in a collision of two automobiles at Eighth street and College avenue.

None of the three was admitted to Lubbock sanitarium after emergency treatment. They were Mrs. R. A. Ballard, 45, forehead laceration; Mrs. Hub Brock, 30, body bruises, and her son, Jerry, 6, cuts and bruises of the head and face. All reside in Shallowater.

W. T. Ballard, 33, of Shallowater was driver of the car occupied by the injured. Sgt. Kittrell of the police traffic detail said Ballard was driving north on College avenue when his car and that of H. F. Holland, 29, of 1709 Avenue G were in collision, as Holland started a left turn onto Eighth street.

Rix ambulance took the injured to the sanitarium.

Lubbock Cotton Crop Totals 60,456 Bales

Final figures for the 1939 Lubbock county cotton crop were announced late Saturday by A. L. King, cotton statistician of the department of the census.

A total of 60,456 bales was ginned in 1939, as compared with 65,541 bales for 1938.

Little Hijacker Who Wasn't There Elusive

BALTIMORE, March 23. (AP)—The little holdup man who wasn't there began to get under Police Commissioner Robert Stanton's skin today.

A series of 10 fake holdups brought a suggestion from Stanton that a law be passed making invention of robberies a criminal offense. These cases, he said, were typical:

1. The milk truck driver who reported he was robbed of $20, then admitted he lost the money in a card game.

2. The cab driver who reported he was robbed of $8, then admitted he was that much short and was afraid of being fired.

3. The man who reported he was robbed of $35, then admitted he hatched the story to avoid an argument with his wife.

Congratulations To:

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Robbins of 102 Main street on birth of a son weighing 9 pounds at 11:34 o'clock Saturday night at the residence. The infant was named Lester Allen, Stewart & Benson clinic reported.

Cold Easter Is Due For South Plains

TYPICAL Easter weather, none too well suited for new flimsy frocks, was in prospect for today in Saturday night weather reports.

Forecast given to the main line station of West Texas Gas company was: "Rain or snow, cloudiness, low of 32 degrees."

The prediction apparently was not to be disputed, with the mercury plummeting to 34.6 degrees at midnight at Municipal airport.

Trace Of Moisture

A slight trace of moisture from cloud-laden skies followed a brief dust flurry early Saturday night.

The weatherman said in substance, "There'll be a snap. But not the kind that'll be kind to the annual Easter parade, milady's hat or the hands of the kids hunting bunny eggs.

Lubbock's last rain fell February 17.

Those who had watched with apprehension balmy spring weather and fruit buds swelling and flowers poking their heads out every which way, went to bed with a worried look.

"Modifying Conditions"

For in this section there are so many of what Don L. Jones of the experiment sub-station calls "modifying conditions and influences of waether," the citizenry had grave fears as to vegetation.

Amarillo Chosen For Next Judges' Meeting

SAN ANGELO, March 23 (AP) — Selection of Amarillo as September meeting site Saturday ended the three-day convention of the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners association here.

The Panhandle city received a clear majority of votes over Abilene, Breckenridge, Wichita Falls and Plainview.

Six resolutions adopted included one urging the Texas delegation of Congress to see that attention of the national body is directed to the road needs of Texas and ask that Congress take cognizance of the conditions that exist by appropriating back to the states in the form of federal aid for state highways and farm-to-market roads at least amounts of money that are paid into the federal agency from taxes levied directly on the highway user,

War Halted For Easter Holidays

(By The Associated Press)

Mankind at war paused in troubled Europe today to celebrate in restrained Easter festivities the resurrection of the Prince of Peace.

Under the shadow of guns threatening to speak out in the long-feared total war, Christians of all sects raised their voices in song and prayer amidst ceremony and custom handed down through the centuries.

Mecca Of Thousands

The Holy city of Jerusalem was the mecca of thousands of pilgrims who gathered to participate in impressive services around the church of the holy sepulchre, on the site of the tomb from which Christ arose.

The eyes of the Roman Catholic world turned to Vatican City where Pope Pius XII personally arranged to celebrate mass in the basilica of historic St. Peters.

The war kept down the usual throng of tourists attending the brilliant Easter service in St. Peters but the occasion afforded the pontiff an occasion for another admonition for peace.

Pope To Broadcast

In his homily prepared for delivery before imparting his blessing on Rome and the world from the balcony of the ancient edifice, the pope was expected to appeal for a return of concord among nations without, however, suggesting an immediate truce. Both his message and benediction will be broadcast by the Vatican radio station, beginning at 8 a. m. (1 a. m. CST).

GAINS ARE COUNTED

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP)—Retail merchants in many communities counted today wide trade gains over last year in the heaviest Easter buying since 1937.

In some places in the South, record Easter sales were reported in a nation-wide survey.

A winter hang-over of snow and cold in the North and East delayed purchases making for an uneven business showing sectionally.

However, trade generally seemed well ahead of last year as cash registers in the United States jingled to peace-time spending for spring styles, new hats and shoes, Easter baskets.

Two Slain, Another Injured In Shooting

WACO, March 23. (AP) — Bob Crowder, 50, unemployed road construction worker, shot his sister-in-law to death, critically wounded his wife and then killed himself with a 12-gauge pump shotgun here this afternoon, Justice of the Peace McKie Walker said in an inquest verdict of murder and suicide.

The dead woman was Mrs. H. H. Griffis, 52, with whom Crowder's 49-year-old wife had been living since her husband lost his job about a year ago. Mrs. Crowder was shot in the back of the head as she fled after her sister had been slain.

Mrs. Crowder told Police Chief C. C. Maxey she and her sister were taking naps in separate bedrooms. She said she was awakened by a scream followed by a shot and ran to her sister's room to see her husband standing over Mrs. Griffis' body, a shotgun in his hand.

As she turned to run, Mrs. Crowder said her husband fired once at her, then pursued her into the yard where he fired a second time.

Dr. J. D. Sandefer Will Be Buried Today

ABILENE, March 23 (AP)—Dr. J. D. Standefer, who died Friday in the 31st year of his presidency of Hardin-Simmons university, will be buried Sunday afternoon in a little hedge-sheltered cemetery on the campus of the institution he developed from a small senior college of two buildings and $30,000 endowment to front rank among church-related universities of the Southwest.

His grave will lie in the shade of two great pecan trees that were planted by his wife nearly 30 years ago.

Funeral services will be held in the university chapel beginning at 2:30 p. m. Dr. Millard A. Jenkins, pastor of the First Baptist church, will preside. The services will carry out requests made by Dr. Sandefer.

Ford To Ask Probe Of Activities Of Board

AUSTIN, March 23. (AP)—Alleged participation of liquor board employes in the gubernatorial campaign of 1938 possibly will be subjected to a double-barreled inquiry by the Travis county grand jury and the Senate general investigating committee.

Liquor Administrator Bert Ford announced today he had voluntarily asked the grand jurors to study the matter.

In Henderson, Senator Joe Hill revealed that Senator Wilbourne Collie of Eastland, chairman, had polled members of the Senate committee on the advisability of an investigation.

Employment Service Renders Other Aid

BIG SPRING, March 23. (AP)—The Texas State Employment service office here could qualify as a family service bureau in addition to a job agency, attaches decided, after they brought about the reunion of two brothers who had not seen each other in 17 years.

John Henry Escue, truck driver who came here six weeks ago from Robert Lee, came to the TSES office to file an application. Wiley Veach Escue, painter who arrived three days ago, also had an interview engagement. TSES officials remarked on the name coincidence, brought the two brothers together. Now they are rooming together.

It Was All In The Interest Of World Peace But Officers Took Him Off To Jail Anyway

By JOHN FERRIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, March 23. — Whooping and roaring, a man dressed in Santa Claus costume topped with an Indian headdress rode a creaking wagon into Rockefeller center today and tried to distribute 600 live chickens "in the interest of world peace."

"I'm Santa Claus from Santa Fe," he roared, "and I'm giving away chickens. Chickens with feathers on 'em. Peace! The whole world's going to have peace."

Pedestrians in the plaza stopped. The crowd around the skating rink turned to the strange figure who grinned amiably.

"I'm old Santa Claus from Santa Fe," he bellowed. "On the Q. T., though I'm old Woody Hockaday. Have a chicken, my friend."

He held out two birds, but spectators shied.

"Come on, my friends," he shouted. "Old Santa Claus' chickens won't bite you. Take one home for the kiddies. Any chickens today? The same old Santa Claus coming your way."

A policeman came over. Santa

Extensions Of Airlines Asked

C. E. Maedgen, chairman of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce aviation committee, and A. B. Davis, secretary of the chamber, along with a group of other Texans interested in securing additional airlines for this part of the state returned late Saturday afternoon after conferences with aviation authorities at Pueblo, Colorado Springs, and Denver, Colo.

Members of the group, other than the Lubbock men, were T. E. Braniff of Oklahoma City, president of Braniff Airlines; R. J. Smith, vice president of the company; Howell Jones, assistant manager of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce; C. J. Crampton of Dallas, acting postmaster and executive secretary of the chamber of commerce there; William Holden of Fort Worth, executive president of the chamber of commerce; Merle Gruver of Abilene, manager of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce; J. C. Deal of San Angelo, manager of the chamber of commerce; J. H. Greene, manager of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce; Tom Cotton and Roy Cullum, both of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce aviation committee; and Gilbert Garretson, secretary of the Laredo Chamber of Commerce.

Guests At Breakfast

The group, traveling by plane, left Friday morning and set down at Pueblo for a luncheon with the Pueblo Chamber of Commerce directors and aviation committee as hosts. That afternoon they conferred with Colorado Springs aviation authorities in a two-hour meeting. They landed in Denver that night and met in conference with Robert Six, president of Continental Airlines.

At a breakfast in Denver Saturday morning the Texans were guests of the Denver Chamber of Commerce board of directors and aviation authorities.

At each of the meetings the Texas committee presented work done by various cities and towns to secure airlines running from Houston to Amarillo by way of Austin, Abilene, and Lubbock, and from Laredo to Amarillo by way of San Antonio, San Angelo, Big Spring, and Lubbock, and extension of these two lines joined at Amarillo with Braniff line operating from Houston to Amarillo by way of Dallas, Fort Worth, to Colorado cities.

The Texans asked cooperation of Colorado aviation officials in securing the extension of the line.

Petition Amended

Maedgen said the delegation met with "fine receptions" and that facts concerning proposed lines were given the authorities.

Speaking from a personal standpoint, he said, "We are hoping for a favorable decision from the authorities with whom we conferred."

Continental Airlines has in an application for a line from Amarillo to Pueblo by way of Lubbock and Hobbs, but is amending the application to ask extension of the line from Hobbs to San Antonio by way of Big Spring and San Angelo which would exclude Lubbock.

Farmer's Receipts Per Month Average $125

ROPESVILLE, March 23.—C. N. Tiner of the Center community says his records show receipts from other sources than cotton and feed last year average $125 a month.

From a flock of 225 White Leghorn hens he is averaging 150 to nearly 200 eggs a day. He plans to buy from 200 to 500 baby chicks and he will house them in a half dug-out.

From 14 dairy cows three sets of twins came last year, including two heifers in one set. So far this year one cow has calved twins. In all he has 35 head of cattle in his herd.

Skim milk is fed to hogs and he sells several besides using enough for his own use. In a trench silo he has stored many tons of ensilage from 85 acres.

R. S. Hobgood Of Wolfforth Makes Formal Statement On Candidacy For Commissioner

R. S. Hobgood of Wolfforth Saturday made formal announcement of his candidacy for commissioner of precinct 1, Lubbock county.

"I give this information to the voters of the precinct," Hobgood's statement said. "I am 46 years old, married and have three children. I have lived in Lubbock county 16 years, all of which I have lived in Precinct 1. Of that time, I have served on the school board 14 years. I was chairman of the AAA committee two years. I am a member of the Baptist church and an active worker. I was in the army 18 months, nine of which were spent overseas. I am now a member of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Summary Of Personal Business

"In order to give the voters some idea of my qualifications to handle the business for the county, I think a summary of my personal business since I have been here would be of some benefit.

"When I came here 16 years ago, I rented a quarter section of land; farmed it with teams. I now own four farms in Lubbock and Hockley counties. In handling my personal business, my policy has been to give my work full attention and to make every penny count, and I intend, if elected to the commissioner's post, to carry the business principles into my work. My wish is that the voters of this precinct will elect the man to the office because of his business ability and not because of his ability to entertain; therefore, I hope my record, as well as that of my opponents, will be investigated before election day and hope the best qualified man be elected to the post of commissioner in Precinct No. 1."

Hobgood signed his statement, "Yours for honestly and economy."

Banquet For Slaton Band Set Wednesday

SLATON, March 23 (Special)—The annual banquet for the Slaton High school band will be held Wednesday night at the community club house. This is sponsored and served by the Band Mothers' club of Slaton. Several out of town guests are expected, but the main part on the program will be taken by Joe Webb, superintendent of the Slaton schools.

Medals Are Given To Students At Lamesa

LAMESA, March 23. (Special)—Medals were given three students in each the primary, elementary and high school grades this week at the close of a fire prevention contest sponsored by the chamber of commerce for their outstanding work in poster building. The awards were presented during a fire drill on the campus by James Sumpter, chief of the Lamesa fire department.

First award in the high school division went to Verlane McDonnell; second, Perry Land; third, Evelyn Scott. Elementary awards went to Martha Gertrude Murray, first; Ellen Jean James, second; Billie Jean Tatum, third. In the primary division Jimmy Von Lanken, first; J. A. White, second; Dorothy Nell Patterson, third. First awards were gold-plated medals; second, silver-plated medals; third, bronze medals, all engraved with the word "art," signifying that students made posters depicting a fire-preventoin theme.

Supervisors of the poster divisions were Miss Lois Rister, primary; Mrs. Ed Guynes, elementary; Mrs. Jack McLaughlin, high school.

Lecture To Be Given Monday

LAMESA, March 23 (Special)—On Monday evening second in a series of lectures on international understanding will be heard in the Lamesa high school auditorium, as given by Mrs. Margaret H. Kaiser, formerly of Berlin Germany, as she discusses "The German Rise to Power." Dr. John A. Morrison of Chicago initiated the series last Monday evening when he spoke before a large crowd of Lamesa and out-of-town citizens on "Conditions In Soviet Russia," using a projector and slides to demonstrate his lecture.

The Institute of International Understanding, as it is called, under auspices of the Lamesa Rotary club, has been directed through Rotary district 127, of which Hiram R. Arrant of Abilene is governor, by Rotary International headquarters, Chicago. Four other clubs in the district, Graham, Pampa, Stamford and Borger, are also scheduling the institute at this time.

Other Clubs Visited

Team of two Lamesa Rotarians visited eleven surrounding clubs, according to President W. B. Collins, during the past two weeks, explaining the institute and selling season tickets. It is expected that visitors will attend the institute from Big Spring, Midland, Odessa, Seminole, Seagraves, Brownfield, Lubbock, Slaton, Post, Tahoka, and O'Donnell during the series. Many out-of-town persons were present for the Morrison lecture.

Dr. Nicholas R. Doman of Budapest, Hungary, will speak on "Central Europe — Battlefield of Imperialism," April 1. On April 8, the date of the last of the series of lectures, Dr. Allen D. Albert, of Chicago and Paris, will speak on "The Struggle For Raw Materials."

"This institute is designed," said Collins, "not only for Rotarians but for every citizen in West Texas. We hope to have other large crowds during the remainder of the series."

Virgil Parr Aiding In Federal Range Work

SPUR, March 23—Virgil V. Parr, former manager of the Pitchfork ranch in Dickens and King counties, has gone to Washington where he was invited to assist in co-ordination of activities of the Agricultural Adjustment administration, the Soil Conservation Service and the Forest service and various phases of the range program.

Parr resigned after nearly 10 years as ranch manager. Prior to that he had been with the U. S. department of agriculture in its ranch bureau for most of the time after his graduation from Texas A. & M.

Parr built up the Pitchfork ranch property into one of the outstanding ranches in West Texas. Record of calf crop probably was the highest average in this section, it was said.

Sheppard Predicts Total Vote Of 1,232,087 For Texas In Primary Electio

Tax Payments Show Increase

AUSTIN, March 23. (U.P) — There will be 1,232,087 votes cast in the Democratic primary election next July if the 1938 ratio between poll tax payments and voters is maintained, a poll tax report by State Comptroller George Sheppard showed today.

Total poll tax payments, reported by county tax collectors, number 1,259,878. This is an increase of 126,082 over the payments in 1938, last preceding year when state officials were elected.

Fifteen Per Cent

...st records indicate that exempt ...s number about 15 per cent of ... number of poll tax holders, ...h would make the total Texas ...g strength for 1940 about $1,...60.

... the 1938 democratic primary election the total vote was 98.27 per cent of the total poll tax payments. This does not mean that 98.27 per cent of all qualified voters went to the polls. Beside poll tax payers, persons who are over 60 years of age may vote under an age exemption. Complete records of exemptions are not reported to the state comptroller's office, which is interested primarily in the report on tax payments which go to the state school fund.

Others Increase

There will be fewer voters in 46 of the state's 254 counties. The others show increases.

The biggest percentage of voters will still come from the hundred miles circle embracing Fort Worth and Dallas through Harris county with an increase of 27,383 payments has a total of 102,751 poll tax holders and 9,699 exemption certificates which will make Houston a popular ...for South Texas campaign headquarters of the candidates.

...m Practices Will Be Shown At Theater

A. C. Williams, Houston, president of the Federal Land Bank of Houston, will present motion pictures in technicolor Tuesday morning at the Lindsey theater, showing agricultural practices in England, Norway, Sweden, Holland and Germany, said R. S. Rodgers, jr., of the National Farm Loan association.

Club boys and others attending the fat stock show are particularly invited. The show is cooperating.

Williams took the pictures while on a tour of Europe with a group of students from Texas A. and M. that covered 10,000 miles. Film will be shown at 11 o'clock and is free. Williams will discuss what he observed on the trip.

LYNN FARM PURCHASE

TAHOKA. — Two loans on Lynn county farms have been closed under the federal tenant purchase act, it is announced here. E. J. Sunrise Services Are Held Near Lamesa

LAMESA, March 23. (Special)—Easter sunrise services, similar to those held annually in Wichita Falls and San Antonio, were to be conducted from the point of a hill just off the highway at the edge of the caprock east of Lamesa some 14 miles at approximately 6 o'clock Sunday morning, under supervision of the First Baptist church. Services were held there last year for the first time, with an unusual crowd attending. It is expected to start some five minutes before sunrise.

The program will be begun with the assembly singing "The Old Rugged Cross." Prayer will follow, after which Mrs. W. J. Beckham will sing a special musical number. An Easter address will be given by Rev. E. E. Cole, First Baptist pastor. Services will be closed with a song.

Scout Egg Hunt Winners Named

Glen Dale Carlen, 11, was one of the younger boys participating in the fifth annual Boy Scout-Cub Easter Egg hunt in Mackenzie state park Saturday afternoon, but he carried off honors of the day.

He found a total of 25 eggs, more than any other among the more than 300 boys participating, and won a first aid kit as a reward. He is the son of James Carlen and is a member of pack 4, den 1, sponsored by Sanders school.

Champion egg rustler among the scouts was O. T. Lindsey, jr., member of troop No. 8, who also won a first aid kit. He found 17 eggs.

Dozen Are Found

Other prize winners were:

Scouts—week at camp Post, Dewain Adams, troop 100; $3 toward summer camp fees, Delton Tapp, troop 2; $1 toward camp fees, Dewain Jones, troop 8, and shirt, P. W. Crow, troop 8.

Cubs—expenses in cub-dad weekend camp, Coy Hamilton and Bob Schmidt; flashlight, Sammy Self; and watch, J. C. Lewis.

Forty negro scouts also participated in a hunt near Dunbar school and the following prize winners were announced by Oscar Iles, negro commissioner: one week's camp fees, E. V. Barnes; half of week's camp fees, D. C. Fair; third of week's fees, Jackie Graves; and first aid kit, Homer Gamble, for finding the most eggs. He found 12.

Dawson Officers To Question Suspect

Las Vegas, N. M., authorities informed the Associated Press Saturday that Dawson authorities were expected there Monday to investigate further the case of a man held there.

Sheriff A. M. Bennett of Lamesa had informed Avalanche-Journal publications Friday that the man might be used to advantage in further investigation into the sectionally-famous "haberdashery" murder case of Dec. 11, 1937, in which 27-year-old Maxie Woodroof, a clerk of Hurst's haberdashery, was wounded fatally by a gunman who had taken approximately $500 from the cash register.

Efforts to learn whether the man was under charge were unavailing.

Man Shoots Wife And Then Commits Suicide

BURKBURNETT, March 23. (AP)—A coroner's jury held today that Jess L. Dickson shot his wife to death then turned the gun on himself in a garage behind their home here.

The shooting occurred last night. Dickson had been seriously injured in an oil field accident several years ago. He was unemployed.

Sins Of Penitentes Again Are Washed Away In Blood

BY JOHN E. BAKER
Associated Press Staff Writer

SANTA FE, N. M., March 23.—The sins of the Penitentes once more have been washed away in blood.

In the Spanish-speaking 'dobe villages of New Mexico's northern mountains, many a brother lies today, racked by pain, but happy in the certainty of redemption.

For, by custom centuries old, the brothers of the blood of Christ—Los Hermanos de Sangre de Cristo—have re-enacted the Savior's last agonies.

Atone For Transgressions

Through the 40 days of Lent, reaching a climax in holy week and Good Friday, they have atoned for their transgressions by flagellation, thorny crowns and the ultimate re-enactment of the crucifixion by the holiest of their number.

The flagellant rituals of the third order of St. Francis of old Spain, which the Penitentes follow, long since were disowned by the mother Catholic church. But they persist in a powerful lay brotherhood in the isolated areas of northern New Mexico and southern Colorado.

Through most of the year, the brothers devote themselves to helping the sick and the needy and to burying the dead. During Lent, their self-immolation reaches its strange peak.

Rites Held At Night

To escape the eyes of the Anglo ..., the final rites are mostly held at night.

Witnesses of the holy week ceremonies have described the processions of the flagellants, each Penitent wielding a heavy scourge of yucca—the Spanish bayonet—over one shoulder and then over the other until the blood from his bare, lacerated back soaks the thin cotton drawers that are his only garment.

Other brothers bind themselves tightly with horsehair rope, lash cruelly-thorned cacti to their flesh and crawl on cactus strewn paths to kiss the cross, erected on some local Calvary.

Legend says that once nails were used and that many a "Cristi" did not survive his ordeal, but church historians say there is no record of a crucifixion death.

The service of the "tinieblas—darkness" concludes the Lenten pen... ace. It is symbolic of the tortures of souls in purgatory before they reach the light of Heaven. It ends on a note of peace with the chanting of hymns and the saying of prayers.

Total Of 1,650 Frame Gardens Constructed By South Plains Home Demonstration Club Members; Vegetables Available Earlier

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

COLLEGE STATION, March 23—In order to have fresh vegetables four to six weeks earlier than would be produced in open gardens on the South Plains, 1,650 fram gardens were made and planted in 1939 by home demonstration club women in District 2 of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

Frame gardens provide a means of having fresh vegetables at a time of year when they would otherwise have to be purchased or left off the menu entirely, says Lida Cooper, district agent who supervises home demonstration activities in this area.

Vegetables During Winter

"In December, Mrs. Floyd Barnett in Dickens county had a garden richly producing turnip greens, lettuce, and radishes. Mrs. Guy Smith in Hockley county had spinach, lettuce, radishes, and onions in ample supply for her family all during December. A Lubbock county home demonstration club woman, Mrs. J. O. Day, reports she was serving vegetables from her frame garden three weeks after it was planted in October, Miss Cooper recollected in looking over reports for the last year's work.

Representatives from 4,269 farm and ranch families were actively engaged in home demonstration and 4-H club work in 1939 and these were able to pass on agricultural and home economics information they had acquired to 3,562 families not affiliated with club work.

Lubbock Activity Cited

Early in 1939, Miss Cooper says, the expansion committee of the County Home Demonstration Council in Lubbock county recommended that each club member entertain a non-club family during the year and serve them some of the breads they had learned to make at club meetings. Reports show that club members had 532 such visitors during the year and that 411 families were served breads. The council expansion committee in Lamb county reported 560 non-club members reached.

Castro county women asked non-club members to a county-wide cake show and other special affairs, while the Dickens county exhibit committee of the council arranged window displays such as "Posture While Doing Housework." Other events included a dairy day in this county at which 40 per cent of the people present were non-club members and at a cooking school conducted by the county home demonstration agent and club members to present information on meat cookery, table service, and refrigeration. Of the 225 attending, 75 per cent were non-club members. Hockley county reports pressure cookers were checked for 50 non-club members. In addition, approximately 300 non-club families were reached at special meetings such as dairy days, bread shows, and special community meetings.

Conveniences Are Added

Miss Cooper says 858 club women in Bailey, Yoakum, Castro, Dickens, Lamb, and Hale counties spent $17,437 in making their kitchens more convenient, attractive, comfortable, and easier to clean by adding refrigerators and stoves, sinks, and running water, and other improvements. The improvements made in the kitchens by the demonstrators led to other improvements in the home. Mrs. Vernon Simmons in Castro county not only renovated her kitchen, but she was able to get the house painted and add a much-needed new front door and yard fence.

Improvements in bedrooms were made by 1,489 women and girls. They added 656 pieces of furniture, made or bought 451 mattresses, secured 5,598 bed linens in addition to adding bedspreads, wool covers and dresser scarfs.

Nineteen counties in Miss Cooper's district are served by home demonstration agents in 15 counties. These include Lillie Gentry of Bailey county, Mary Catherine Couch of Castro county, Lois Fouts of Cochran county, Carolyn Dixon of Crosby county, Jean Day of Dickens county, Edith Lois Wilson of Floyd county, Lucille Shultz of Hale county, Hazel Phipps of Hockley county, Fannie Brown Eaton of Kent county, Mrs. Ruth Perry of Lamb county, Clara Pratt of Lubbock county, Elizabeth Brooks, assistant, Lubbock county, Maurine McNatt of Lynn county, Ruth Boyd of Parmer county, Ruby Wood of Swisher county, and Flossie Williams of Yoakum county.

Interstate Trade Barriers To Prevent Objective Of $90,000,000,000 Incom

Theory Of Policy Is Based On Fallacy, Executive Declares

WASHINGTON, March 23. (AP)—Philip Salisbury, representing the National Federation of Sales executives, told the federal monopoly committee today that "Balkanization" of the United States through interstate trade barriers would effectively prevent the announced New Deal objective of a $90,000,000,000 annual national income.

The "practical effect" of trade barriers, Salisbury told the committee, is to bar from any state goods not produced within its borders. The theor he asserted, is based on the fallacy that a state can sell to everyone but not buy from anyone.

Drastically Curtailed

Salisbury, chairman of the federation's committee on state trade barriers, said that his group's opposition to discriminatory tax legislation and quarantine regulations was "purely selfish." Sales executives, he declared, are interested in a higher national income for the nation.

If trade barriers were carried to their logical conclusion, he asserted, each state would have to consume its entire production. Under these circumstances, he said, production would be drastically curtailed and prices forced up to the detriment of everyone.

He cited figures to prove that Idaho would have to decrease her output of potatoes to 2 per cent of present production and New York would have to decrease its manufacture of clothing by 80 per cent. Nevada, he added in passing, would have to "struggle along with one per cent of the normal number of her divorces."

Wisconsin Disliked

The example of Wisconsin's discriminatory legislation against oleomargarine, he declared is a demonstration that state trade barriers do not mean "money in the pocket" for any particular group. He said that 90 per cent of Wisconsin's dairy product capacity is available for export.

"But the state of Wisconsin has made itself so disliked in the southern states," he pointed out, "that recently Georgia refused to admit Wisconsin butter intended for distribution to relief families on the ground that Wisconsin was discriminating against Georgia cottonseed oil used in the production of oleomargarine."

Barriers Proposed

The only effect of trade barriers, he asserted is realiation—"One of the greatest curses in the whole trade barrier movement. It destroys the sanity, intelligence, spirit and happiness of the American people as well as creates havoc in their economic life," he exclaimed.

Trade barrier laws, he continued, are being proposed "every day." He cited a bill now before the New York state Legislature which would require the registration of every proprietary food, drug or cosmetic at a cost of $25 per year for each poduct.

One member of the sales federation, he said, markets 3,000 separate preparations each year. Under this new bill, he declared, the seller would have to pay $75,000 a year for "the privilege of doing business in New York state."

T. E. (Chief) May Announces As Candidate For Constable; Is Former Police Chief

Authority to list his formal announcement for constable of precinct 1, subject to Democratic primaries, was given to Avalanche-Journal publications Saturday by T. E. (Chief) May.

May is a member of the old cattle guard that saw his financial fortunes rise and fall with the ebb and flow of the older west. He can look back to making what in those days was a fortune in sheep, then losing it in cattle.

Activities Have Been Varied

His life has been interspersed with peace enforcement in the old Indian territory of Oklahoma, ranching, farming, acting as chief of police in Lubbock, operating a wholesale oil business in Lubbock, traveling as a representative for a major oil company, and rearing a family of three daughters, all of whom went to Lubbock High school and Texas Technological college.

It was in 1903 that May rode the badlands of the territory as a United States deputy marshal. Five years later he passed through Lubbock en route to Floyd county, where he operated his land holdings and leased country, the whole layout approximating 15 sections. Later he removed with his family to New Mexico, where his holdings and leasings totaled about 60 sections. He branded ADA and made approximately $200,000 with sheep, later turning his attention to an ill-fated cattle venture that saw his savings swallowed by vicious market conditions and a succession of range reverses.

His ranching and occasional ventures into ranching occupied about 25 years.

Was Chief Of Police

He was chief of police here from 1923 to '27, resigning to join an oil company. After three years of the wholesale oil business he became traveling district sales representative, as such directing a force of almost 50 salesmen and others.

May, who lives with Mrs. May at 1511 Fourteenth street, made brief statement to those he asks to cast ballots for him:

"I need the position, I am qualified by earlier peace enforcement positions to discharge the duties of the office, and I pledge unqualified efforts toward a courteous and honest conduct in office," he said. "I would appreciate any consideration at the polls."

Man Shot And Brother Injured In Night Club

SHREVEPORT, La., March 23. (AP)—James Cobb, 21, of Marshall, Texas, was shot twice and seriously wounded and his brother, Allen Cobb, 35, was struck on the head, supposedly with a pistol, and injured slightly in a fight early today at a night club on the Mooringsport road, just outside the city limits here.

Deputy Sheriff W. T. Prudhomme reported that J. Y. Sims, operator of the club, admitted shooting Cobb and striking his brother.

The Cobb brothers were taken to Charity hospital for treatment. The elder man was released after his head injury was dressed, but the younger man was kept over-night. His people came to Shreveport this morning and took him to a Marshall hospital.

Twenty-Two Are Dead After Cemetery Fight

MEXICO CITY, March 23. (AP)—Press dispatches from Vera Cruz today reported 22 persons killed in a cemetery shooting affray following a labor dispute at a sugar mill.

The ysaid eleven mourners at a funeral were killed by machinegun fire in a cemetery near the village of Cuatotolapan, Vera Cruz state, and that the survivors killed eleven attackers.

Mother Admits Slaying Sons

SELMA, Ala., March 23. (AP)—Her two young sons beaten to death, Mrs. Cecil E. Friday was under hospital treatment today by authorities who quoted her as saying she killed them because "they were to be taken from me."

Police Chief H. L. Dickerson quoted Dr. S. O. Mossley as saying the 39-year-old mother apparently mentally ill, told him she fatally beat her sons—Richard, 10, and Eugene, 14—and took two poison tablets yesterday.

Dickerson said Mrs. Friday had suffered periods of mental illness for two years, and that she calmly related to Dr. Moseley she believed her children were to be taken from her, and "this was the only way I could be with them."

Voilently Insane

The mother was found in convulsions by neighbors attracted by her cries, Dickerson said the bodies of the children, their heads beaten, were in their beds. There was an iron crow-bar on one bed, along with a Bible which the mother had read almost constantly.

The husband and father, a railroad worker, was at work when the tragedy was discovered.

Coroner Norman Stanfill said Mrs. Friday evidently had become violently insane.

Tech Officials Send Regrets

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

ABILENE, March 23.—Messages of appreciation for Dr. J. D. Sandefer's lifetime of service as an educator, arriving from far and near today following death of the veteran president of Hardin-Simmons university, included several from friends at Texas Tech and in Lubbock.

Dr. Clifford B. Jones, president of Texas Tech, messaged: "Our faculty and officials join in deepest sympathy. Texas has lost a valued champion of all that is fine and good, and constructive, morally, educationally and economically. His influence will be sorely missed and I grieve for the loss of one for whom I have entertained for many years a warm and cherished freindship."

Cawthon Sends Message

"Accept my deepest sympathy as a great admirer of your wonderful father," P. W. Cawthon head football mentor at Texas Tech, wired Dr. Sandefer's sons, J. D., jr., Breckenridge oil operator, and Gib, Hardin-Simmons athletic business manager.

Friends say, ...ever, that he is certain to enter, ...among the prospective aspirants to this $7,000 a year job are Pierce Brooks of Dallas, Representative Ross Hardin, of Prairie Hill, Olin Culberson of Austin, Senator Alvin R. Van Zand of Tioga, J. D. Copeland of Austin, Howell Cobb of Brady, John Paul Jones of New London, former Land Commissioner William H. McDonald of Eastland, Larry Mills of Dallas, Ray Motley of Waxahachie and Carl Nesbitt of Mineola. Neither Van Zandt, Copeland nor Brooks has yet announced.

Attorney general—Incumbent Gerald C. Mann disclosed long ago that he would seek re-election and would not enter the governor's race. The job pays $10,000 a year but Mann may get by without an opponent. It is unusual for an attorney general or lieutenant governor seeking a second term to escape opposition.

Lieutenant governor—Coke Stevenson of Junction has said he will run for a second term unless Governor O'Daniel retires. In that event, Stevenson will join in the governor's race. J. Alton Mead of San Angelo is another candidate for lieutenant governor.

Sharp To Have Opponent

Supreme court justice — John H. Sharp will be a candidate for a second six-year term. Tom Smiley of Karnes City is expected to oppose him.

Judge of state criminal appeals court—Thomas L. Beauchamp of Tyler, appointed by Governor O'Daniel, will be opposed by George E. Christian of Burnet, now a member of the court's commission of appeals.

Comptroller — George H. Sheppard of Sweetwater will be running for his sixth term. His only announced opponent thus far is C. E. Butler of Houston.

Commissioner of agriculture—J. E. McDonald of Waxahachie, occupant of the office since 1931, will try for re-election. Announced opponents include former Representatives W. N. Corry of Keller and W. W. "Cap" King of Bronson, and R. C. Lattimore of San Antonio.

McKee Apposes Lockhart

Treasurer — Diminutive Charley Lockhart, treasurer the past ten years, will be opposed by former Representative Harry McKee of Port Arthur.

School superintendent — L. A. Woods if Waco is seeking a fifth term. S. R. Lemay of Athens, runner-up in 1938, will be in the race again this year.

Land commissioner—Bascom Giles may escape opposition in his race for a second term.

Congress — the mortality rate among Texas members of the national House usually is very low. Three of the 21 incumbents were beaten in 1938, however, which fact apparently has encouraged aspirants to believe that several may topple this summer.

Here's Interesting Race

One interesting race will be that in Bexar county between Paul Kilday, who unseated Maury Maverick in 1938, and Mrs. Francis Haskel Edmonson, co-chairman of the state Democratic committee and daughter of former Governor Charles N. Haskell of Oklahoma.

Another will be that in the far Northeast Texas district, where Congressman Wright Patman has been challenged by R. G. Waters, state casualty insurance commisisoner, and state representative Howard Smith of Sulphur Springs.

Lindley Beckworth of Gilmer, the "baby" of Congress, will be opposed by Frank Bezoni of Tyler, who favors larger federal pensions to the aged.

Other announced or possible congressional candidates, in addition to the incumbents, include former Congressman Thomas L. Blanton of Abilene, James Simpson of Eden, former Congressman O. H. Cross of Waco, State Senator L. J. Sulak of LaGrange, Gabe Garett of Corpus Christi, Wesley E. Seale of Corpus Christi, State Representative John J. Bell of Cuero, State Representative C. L. Harris of Spur and Otis Miller of Anson.

JOINS WYLIE'S DRUG STORE —Kay Hickey, above, is a new member of the staff at Wylie's Drug store, 1007 Main. He moved here recently from Albany. He has been a registered pharmacist ten years and connected with retail drug stores 25 years, having been associated with stores at Abilene, Breckenridge and Port Arthur before going with the Sanders Drug at Albany, a store which serves a wide area in that section of Texas. He is a native of Stephenville. He is married and resides at 1911 Twenty-seventh street.

No Further Filings Of City Candidates

Carl E. Slaton, W. G. McMillan and Garland Newsom will be unopposed at the city election April 2 unless write-in candidacies should be announced before that time.

This became assured Saturday when no filings were contained in the mails delivered to Miss Lavenia Williams, city secretary, at the city hall.

Friday was the deadline for the filing of such candidacies, officials explained, but those bearing the postmark of that day would have been legal. Ballots were ordered printed, officials announced.

They show Mayor Slaton and Commissioner McMillan as candidates for re-election, each seeking a second term. Newsom is a candidate for the commission place from which J. A. Fortenberry will retire.

Iowa led the nation in corn production in 1939, with a total of 503,766,000 bushels. Illinois was second with 418,652,000 bushels.

G. V. Pardue Issues Formal Statement On His Candidacy For Lubbock County Judge

G. V. Pardue, Lubbock attorney, Saturday issued his formal statement of candidacy for the office of county judge of Lubbock county. His statement follows:

"In announcing my candidacy for the office of county judge, I am not unmindful nor unfamiliar with the perplexing duties connected with this office.

"I have been a resident of Lubbock county for the past twelve years and have been engaged in the practice of law since 1913. From such experience, I believe that I am qualified to render efficient service in the office of county judge.

Juvenile Problem Cited

"It strikes me that the better citizens of this county should be interested in the enforcement of the statutory laws of this state, for it is in the county court that most persons are brought on their first infraction of the law. If the county court is so conducted as to stimulate crime, it is my opinion that many of the parties that come before the court are turned out with criminal intent rather than with the intention of adopting a usefuld life and making good citizens.

"The juvenile problem is one of great importance. Consideration should be given to building citizenship with character. Citizenship, when dealing with youth, is not built through cruel and unmindful public reprimand, but is, in my opinion, built by seeing that youth has the proper environment. I give you my word that it will be to this end that I shall strive when any delinquent is brought before me.

County Finances A Problem

"County finances are always a problem, and your county judge is chairman of the county commissioners' court, where all finances of the county are handled. I shall consider it my duty, as your county judge, to faithfully guard the county's finances.

"The citizenship of this county should be interested in the efficient administration of the probate laws, since the estates of all decendents and of all minor children are handled through the probate court, and the probate judge should not only be conversant with the law, but should have the moral fortitude to see that the estates are protected as the law requires.

"It is my intention to try to see every voter in Lubbock county; however, I know this is impossible. I have but one promise to make, and that is: When I am your county judge, I will have no friends that I desire to shield, and no enemies that I desire to persecute. It is upon the above basis that I solicit your investigation into my life as a citizen, for certainly I would not want you or any other person to be deceived, either as to my qualifications, or inclinations toward the enforcement of the laws as they are written. I earnestly solicit the vote of every citizen who believes in honest and unbiased enforcement of our laws."

Home Demonstration Club Sessions For Districts Slated

COLLEGE STATION, March 23—Convention dates and meeting places for the 12 districts of the Texas Home Demonstration association have been announced by Mrs. A. J. Brown, president of the association. Large numbers of the 40,000 home demonstration club women in Texas are expected to attend these meetings which are held every spring.

Schedule for the meetings is as follows: District 1, April 16, Amarillo; District 2, April 13, Plainview; District 3, April 18, Wichita Falls; District 4, April 24, Dallas; District 5, April 25, Tyler; District 6, April 11, Midland; District 7, April 19, Abilene; District 8, May 13, Austin; District 9, April 26, Nacogdoches; District 10, May 12, Goliad; District 11, May 14, Bellville; District 12, May 17, Pearsall.

The district bodies will discuss recommendations which the executive board of the association made at its meeting at College Station in November. These recommendations include withdrawal from the Associated Country Women of the World, and that each woman in the association utilize at least 50 pounds of cotton in her home during the year.

According to Miss Helen Swift, specialist in rural women's organizations for the Texas Extension Service, programs of the 12 districts will vary widely. Land use planning and use of more cotton products will be emphasized by some districts while one district has planned visits to places of historical interest.

WPA Activities Are Reported

A total of 125,457 hot mid-day meals have been served in schools of the Lubbock area as the result of the Works Projects administration school lunch program, according to a report issued here Saturday by J. O. Jones, district manager.

The report listed the program among the important accomplishments credited to the WPA, the district manager said.

Others of the listed accomplishments include canning of more than 1,000 quarts of foodstuffs in WPA food preserving plants; 48,492 visits by housekeeping aides in the homes of helpless and destitute families requiring home service; production of 743,459 garments and 45,109 household articles in WPA sewing rooms of the district; and the cataloguing of 64,938 volumes and the repair or renovation of 133,220 others in the district.

Books Are Circulated

During last December, Jones said, 84,946 books were circulated by WPA workers employed in 68 libraries in the district.

During January, according to his report, 28 pre-school children attended WPA nursery schools, increasing to 93 the number enrolled in such classes since inception of the program.

The WPA also has assisted in the establishment of a basis for fair and equitable land tax valuations, location of underground water sources, compilation of comprehensive data regarding adequacy of school facilities, and the discovery of such natural resources as rock and gravel for road building and other construction work, according to the report.

TO PREACH HERE—Rev. Jacob Gartenhaus, above, Christian Jew, will preach at the First Baptist church tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Author of several books, Rev. Gartenhaus is associate editor of The Mediator, a Jewish publication. He was born in Austria and studied three years under the greatest rabbis in Europe to become a Jewish rabbi but changed to the Christian religion after coming to America. He was educated for the ministry at Moody Bible institute in Chicago and in the Southern Baptist Theological seminary at Louisville, Ky.

MOVED TO GRAHAM

BROWNFIELD. — Herbert Neil, clerk at the Cobb Department store here for several years, has been transferred to the Graham store of the concern. Eugene Barrett of Lamesa has taken his place here.

Seminole Building At A Fast Pace

SEMINOLE, March 23. (Special) —The tempo of construction in Seminole is continuing, according to A. J. Payne, secretary-manager of the chamber of commerce.

G. C. Fairey of Lockney, newly employed sanitary inspector, begins work today. Garbage, wet and dry, will be hauled from alleys. The chamber of commerce is sponsoring a cleanup campaign this year.

Construction of a modern ice plant for the Banner Ice company is underway. O. D. Dillingham, Abilene business man, is owner.

The Methodist parsonage will be ready for occupancy next week. It is stone veneer to match the church adjoining.

A new theater, a hotel, a Marathon service station are also under construction. R. W. Pittman is owner of the station which is on the property adjoining the new Pittman hotel.

Reeves Cothes is to spend $6,[illegible] in improvements on his drug store; Raymond Barrier is constructing a 20-apartment court, and Acme Lumber company has purchased a site on highway 51 and work has begun on a new yard.

Three Trustees Will Be Named In Voting

LAMESA, March 23 — Officers of three trustees of the Lamesa Independent School District will be filled with an election Saturday, April 6, when the terms of W. D. Arnett, vice-president of the board, J. H. Harp and Fred Sanders expire. Holdovers are Lee Billingsly, W. K. Crawley, president, T. D. Randle and Sam Richardson. Richardson is also president of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce.

Financial And Industrial "Priests" Prophesy Falsely, Economist Declares

Monopolies Are Rapped Sharply

DALLAS, March 23. (AP)—America's financial and industrial "priests" are prophesying falsely and citizens are meekly following and believing their dictates, R. H. Montgomery, University of Texas economist, told delegates to the Southwestern Social Association conference today.

Montgomery excoriated holding companies and monopolies and said that only through re-education of the masses could free competition and higher purchasing powers be realized.

"The most valuable properties in our world are monopoly grants," he said. "They must be made and enforced by government sanctions. So long as they are made, someone will use unfair means to get them—and some corrupt official will help him. The amount of corruption can be roughly measured by the value of the privileges."

Monopolies Lambasted

He lambasted monopolies as draining the profit from competitive industry.

He declared "the monopolist sooner or later finds it necessary to block the introduction of new ideas and new techniques in his industry."

Other accusations leveled against monopolies were that they "lower quality, increase unemployment, block inter-industry adjustments, and debauch governments.

"Let's get rugged! Abolish tariffs, patents and holding companies and the problem will be solved," he said.

Men Are Needed

In another feature address of the last conference day, Nathanael Engle, assistant head of the U. S. bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, Washington, said "too many of our college graduates have but a single objective—that of a steady job. They place security at a low salary above opportunity. All college graduates can't be leaders of industry, but we could utilize many more leaders than we have.

"We need trained men of vision and imagination to keep pace with changing tempos of our day, to discover new industries to utilize our idle men and capital and our still abundant resources."

France's famed Strasbourg cathedral choir—its voice stilled since the war's start—sings again today at services in imposing Notre Dame cathedral while Frenchmen pray for peace.

Trains Are Jammed

Last night Parisians jammed trains leaving the French capital for a holiday in the country and Britons poured in aboard incoming trains to join husbands or sons on leave from the front.

Services were scheduled for French troops at the front in trenches and rear line rest posts.

War-time rationing put a serious dent in Germany's Easter egg supply. Some of Germany's Easter customs were missing altogether. The traditional roast lamb was a rarity.

London Has Visitors

Some 10,000 weddings, with many of the grooms and a few of the brides in khaki or blue, featured Great Britain's Easter observance, a welcome break in three dreary months of war.

British churches, from London's massive St. Pauls to the tiniest village chapel were crowded from midnight on with wives, sisters and mothers of men in the fighting services.

London swapped thousands of tired citizens for thousands of eager visitors. Londoners jammed a full schedule of holiday trains.

Ninth Anniversary Of Business In Lubbock Being Observed By The Shook Tire Company

Ninth anniversary of business in Lubbock is being observed by the Shook Tire company, Thirteenth and Texas avenue. The firm was established here in 1931 and is now one of the largest independent tire organizations in the Southwest with stores in Lubbock, Big Spring, Lamesa, Sweetwater, San Angelo, Plainview and Clovis, N. M.

G. V. (Jerry) Fulton is partner and manager in the Lubbock store, having been with the company since its establishment here. Jess Wells is territorial salesman for the company, also having been associated with the firm nine years. M. C. Shook of San Angelo and Raymond Shook of Lubbock are owners.

Distributors For Seiberlings

The company has the distributorship for Seiberling tires over a wide area extending from Abilene to the New Mexico line. Besides the retail stores the company also has representative dealers in more than a score of West Texas towns.

Besides tires and tubes, the company is also distributor for Gould batteries. Tires are purchased in carload lots direct from the factory.

"We feel that we have one of the outstanding tires in the industry," Fulton said Saturday, citing the growth of the Seiberling product from its creation in 1921 from 265th to the seventh ranking tire in the world.

W. D. Fulton is a third member of the sales staff of the Lubbock store.

al troubles at home and in her dominions. Imprisoned members of the outlawed Irish Republican army rioted in Dartmoor prison but their escape attempt was foiled. In India, the nationalist leader, Mohandas K. Gandhi pondered a civil disobience campaign for Indian freedom. Canada's dominion government faced a general election to test public feeling on its war effort.

In belligerent and neutral countries alike the observance of Easter week-end was clouded by the gloomy reflection that it was another war-time Easter.

On Own Responsibility

In New York the United States fledgling minister to Canada, Millionaire James H. R. Cromwell, broke his silence to say that his pro-ally, anti-nazi speech in Toronto during the week, for which he was rebuked by Secretary of State Cordell Hull, was made entirely on his "own responsibility."

The field of international trade was spotlighted by the word spreading in Washington that President Roosevelt never would approve a congressional proposal requiring Senate ratification of reciprocal trade agreements. It was said he would veto legislation continuing that program if it contained that provision.

It was expected that issue would be a major subject of debate opening in the senate Monday.

The United States navy was reported to have advised Congress it is in favor of selling the latest type warplanes to foreign nations because such sales would reduce the cost and speed up its own construction program. It advised planes sold should be shorn of military secrets.

Chickens Given Away

claus tossed the chickens in the air. Then he opened a crate and freed some more. Then another crate. The chickens looked scared and dodged among the spectators.

Next Santa leaped from wagon to horse's back and turned west on 50th street, roaring his tidings of peace and chickens with the cop in pursuit.

At Sixth avenue he halted, and began giving away more chickens. Men and women held out their hands. Kids scrambled into the wagon and seized chickens. Feathers flew. And finally the puffing cop arrived. Santa Claus shoved a chicken into his face.

Another policeman ran over.

"I'm just giving away chickens," shouted Santa Claus.

So they took him to the West 47th street police station.

Three Lubbock felons were transferred to the state penitentiary in Huntsville Saturday to start serving two-year sentences. They were Jim Esquirdo, Mexican burglary; G. E. Brown, bigamy, and James Lee, negro, burglary. Two years for each of two burglaries were ordered to run concurrently.

Cold For Easter

killing frost-free date hereabouts is April 10—and here it is only March 24.

And there is record of a killing frost here on May 7!

Possibilities Are Listed

Some fruits could stand a low of 28 degrees, some others only 32 or 33 degrees.

Providing—

Jones summed it thus:

"If it remains dry and a freeze falls almost all types of vegetation would succumb; if it rains and then freezes there would be much better chances of lower mortality; if there is a cold snap and the sunshine comes out directly afterward, then the fruit is an almost certain goner; if the clouds hover close to the earth and there is plenty of humidity, then we would not have so much to worry about as under contrary circumstances.

Too Many Factors

"All of which boils down to this: there are many factors to be considered—too many for getting out on a limb. Stage of development, humidity, variety of plant, temperature and various other things would have to be considered before one could say in advance what to expect."

Jones laughed.

"From the looks of this dust storm (at 6 o'clock) I'd say it looks like the threatened cold weather might hit at a dry time. That wouldn't seem so promising for the women's flowers and Easter prade finery."

Advice Is Given

Should freezing weather early today spare fruit trees and early vegetables, J. C. Davis, nurseryman, might save growers with this advice:

"Spray the trees or vegetables with water before they freeze."

"The water freezes, laying a coat over the blossoms or stems, keeping them warm," he explained. His was an artificial method which rain would supply.

Davis said plum, pear, apple, apricot and a few cheery trees were in full bloom. Several varieties of vegetables already have been planted.

Communist Congress In Mexico Convened

MEXICO CITY, March 23. (AP)—The first extraordinary national congress of the Mexican communist party today studied assertions by James Ford, vice-president of the United States communist party, that the Roosevelt administration had thrown the "good-neighbor policy" into the wastebasket because of imperialist ambitions.

The American negro, who addressed the Congress yesterday, cited as evidence of the United States' discard of good-neighborism:

Alleged pressure by Washington upon Mexico to settle with the foreign oil companies on their terms.

Patrolling of the neutrality zone of the western hemisphere by American warships.

All the agreements reached at the Panama neutrality conference.

The Pan American bank, turning the control of the hemisphere's economy over to American finance.

Ford also praised the Russo-Finnish peace treaty as a victory for soviet diplomacy and a blow against Britain, France and the United States in their efforts to organize war against the soviet union.

The United States Military Academy at West Point was opened in 1802.

Trade Program Win Predicted

WASHINGTON, March 23. (U.P.)—Chairman Pat Harrison, D., Miss., of the Senate finance committee, predicted today that the administration would win its Senate fight to extend the reciprocal trade program for another three years.

The Senate opens debate Monday on a House-approved resolution to continue the program beyond its June 12 expiration date in accordance with the request of President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Vote To Be Close

Harrison, floor manager of the proposal, conceded that the struggle would be "one of the hardest" the New Deal has faced in its seven-year history, but added:

"I am sure we will come out on top."

The major fight is expected to come when Chairman Key Pittman, D., Nev., of the Senate foreign relations committee, offers his amendment to require Senate ratification of agreements under the program.

The proposal is opposed by administration leaders who contend that ratification would mark a return to "log-rolling" tariff days. They have conducted informal polls on the issue and obtained varying results but all of them indicate that the vote will be extremely close.

Census Enumerators

Miss Florence Baldwin, S. R. Steele, Berry Brazile, Mrs. Billy Slover, Mrs. Leta Davidson, Mrs. Walter Dickinson, Miss Ita Brummett, Mrs. R. S. Williams, Mrs. Elizabeth Toney, Mrs. Margaret Birkman, Mrs. Carrie Long, Mrs. Ruth Wilson, Johnnie Carter, Mrs. Lucy Revier, A. J. Ammons, John E. Henderson, J. Boyce Wicker, Katie Lee Page, Carl T. Smith, George Watkins, W. O. Willingham, Jack Goodwin, Mrs. Ruth Casey, Walter Dickinson, and J. A. McWhorter.

In addition, Bean listed three enumerators for Slaton, A. V. Morgan, Miss Sophie M. Eklund and W. E. Pohl.

There will be 140 enumerators for the entire district, Bean said, explaining that number of the nose-counters is based on population in cities, and population and estimated number of farms in the rural districts.

Based On Population

"For instance, we are supposed to appoint one enumerator for approximately 1,200 persons in urban districts, one for each 250 farms or 1,500 persons in rural sections," he said.

The supervisor, who is assisted by J. P. Woodward of Plainview in his executive capacity, explained his careful method of selecting enumerators.

"Naturally, there have been numerous applications for the work," he said, "many times the number we would be allowed to use. So we went through exhaustive studies and tests to determine whom should be employed." He explained that handwriting, educational attainments and apparent ability were first considerations. Ex-service men and their widows were given preference wherever possible. Then there was a preliminary selection in which 50 per cent more persons than were needed were advanced for further consideration.

Instructions Given

Abridged instructions in taking the census were sent to those considered for jobs. Those applicants studied and returned for a test based on them. Then came final selection to the required number of enumerators and they were given two days' special schooling by Woodward.

Tests have been given at seven places in the district, or will be by Tuesday. Lubbock, Levelland, Littlefield, Aspermont and Haskell have held tests, and Dickens will have one Monday, Plainview Tuesday, Woodward last week conducted schools — Tuesday and Wednesday at Lubbock, Thursday and Friday at Littlefield, Monday and Tuesday of this week he will give special instruction at Haskell, Wednesday and Thursday at Dickens and Friday and Saturday at Plainview.

Plea Is Sounded

And, finally, Bean sounded a plea that echoed that of a great number of national leaders in a great cross-section of avocations: To give complete cooperation to the census takers. He explained that the need for facts is felt by the government constantly so that it may increase its efficiency in relation to its people. Each 10 years it takes a census which is the greatest fact gathering undertaking in all history. In this way it finds out the number of its citizens, their ages, degree of their education, the sort of homes in which they live, the crops they grow, whether they are out of work, whether they have permanent homes or are drifters, and many other vital facts.

These findings go to Washington, where they will be organized, tabulated and published over a period of two years. They will appear in impressive volumes that will find places on the shelves of reference libraries of the world to furnish a cross-section of conditions as they exist in the United States in 1940.

History of the census dates back to the makers of the constitution, who wrote into that document that the population should be counted every 10 years.

Type Of Questioning

The 16th census is to be a huge undertaking, said Bean. Approximately 150,000 enumerators will go into the field, will visit each household, will ask many questions. They will set down the names, ages, birthplaces, degree of education of each family member. They will ask if the family has moved recently. How big is the farm? Is there a tractor? Are any hands hired? Is the crop sold cooperatively? Is there a telephone? Are any cowpeas plowed under?

The enumerators will want the facts of occupation. What sort of work does each person do? Has he worked regularly? This will show which occupations have suffered most.

The government is worried about its farmers. Special attention will be given to those on farms. Are the farms being deserted? Is suburban farming increasing? How are the soy beans coming along?

That sort of questioning.

'Hitchhiker' Is Given Sentence

SHREVEPORT, La., March 23. (AP)—A man booked as Clarence Jones, 23, of Texarkana, Texas, found lying in the car of Finance Commissioner John W. McFord on Texas street last night, was sent to the Caddo penal farm for seven months following conviction on two charges in city court today.

Jones was held guilty of carrying a concealed weapon and of being a dangerous and suspicious character, being sentenced to serve six months on the former charge and thirty days on the latter count. Judge Ruvian D. Henrick, who imposed sentence, said he was giving the defendant the maximum under the law.

Commissioner Ford had gone to his car about 9:30 last night after attending a Red Cross meeting. Glancing into the car, he saw the man prone in the rear clutching a pistol, that later was found to be fully loaded. The intruder, however, did not see Ford who summoned a patrolman. The officer disarmed the man and placed him under arrest.

The defendant testified that he was drunk and had entered the car believing it to be that of a friend. He said he planned to wait in the car until morning when he would ride to Texarkana.

Patrolman Jones and Commissioner Ford testified that the man did not appear to be drunk.

IRA Members Foiled In Attempted Break

LONDON, March 23. (AP)—Members of the outlawed Irish Republican Army, confined in famous Dartmoor prison, were foiled today in a break for freedom during which they bound two jailers, set fire to a cell block and defied guards from behind a barricade.

The riot, apparently staged in celebration of the anniversary of Dublin's "Bloody Easter" uprising of 1916, started early in the afternoon when the prison force was depleted by departure of wardens who had been granted a holiday.

Authorities said the revolt was staged by 23 IRA men, some of them serving sentences of 15 years or more. They had been kept segregated from English prisoners to avoid incidents and they were being exercised in the hall of the prison block when they attacked the guards.

Dogwood Visitors Are One Week Too Early

PALESTINE, March 23. (AP)—Confusion over the opening date brought scores of visitors here today a week in advance of Texas dogwood trails, Palestine's annual flower pilgrimage.

And the worst of it was there was little dogwood to be seen, for blooms on most trees were still undeveloped.

Opening of the trails was postponed until March 31 when the blooms will be full and trails will be marked for visitors.

HUNTERS MACHINE-GUNNED

COPENHAGEN, March 23. (AP)—Members of a Danish hunting party reported they were machine-gunned today by an airplane of unidentified nationality near Nymendegab, on the west coast about 110 miles from the Danish-German frontier. No one was hit.

"Okies" Picket Oklahoma Capitol Demanding Work

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 23 (U.P.) — Thirty-six unemployed men and women today picketed Oklahoma's state Capitol for two hours, calling on Gov. Leon C. Phillips to do something about conditions portrayed in John Steinbeck's "The Grapes of Wrath."

One of their signs stated "Steinbeck Told The Truth."

"We Are Okies"

Eli Jaffe, president of the Oklahoma City Workers' alliance, said that "We are the Okies who didn't go to California and we want jobs."

Phillips, a conservative Democrat, refused to talk with a committee from the group.

He said he considered that Steinbeck's novel and the movie version of the book presented an "exaggerated and untrue picture of Oklahoma's tenant farm problems as well as an untruthful version of how migrants are received in California."

Phillips Critical

The picketing group left a petition with the governor's secretary requesting a special session of the Legislature to assist the federal government in Oklahoma's farm tenant-unemployed problem.

"Give the oil companies apples and onions, we want jobs," one of the signs stated. Other signs carried messages charging Phillips with a lack of concern about unemployment problems.

Phillips, a frequent New Deal critic, suggested in his press conference that the group write letters to Oklahoma's two U. S. senators, Josh Lee and Elmer Thomas, if they wish more relief funds.

Phillips has been critical of both Thomas and Lee.

Temple Business Men Are Robbed And Tied

DAVIS, Okla., March 23. (AP)—Two Temple, Tex., business men were robbed early today by a man who marched them into a field and left them trussed with telephone wire.

The victims, T. C. Robinson, 25, and Thomas Alexander, 26, freed themselves at daybreak and reported the robbery to Sheriff Boze Johnson of Murray county.

They reported the robber, armed with a shotgun and a pistol, took $44 in cash, a watch, jewelry and their coats five miles north of here on U.S. highway 77. Then, they said, the man bound them.

Robinson and Alexander said they were driving to Oklahoma City on business when they were halted by the robber.

Gallogly Leaves For Prison

DALLAS, March 23. (AP)—Richard Gray Gallogly, the Georgia fugitive who fled to Texas "where men get out justice," started back home in chains today.

Nearly six months ago the slight scion of a prominent Georgia family walked into Dallas county jail and surrendered to Sheriff Smoot Schmid after admitting his identity.

The former Oglethorpe university student was serving two life terms after pleading guilty in connection with two murder cases. He has insisted he entered the pleas to save a companion, George Harsh, from the death sentence.

Back To Prison

Last avenues of his fight against extradition back to Georgia were closed yesterday when District Judge Fountain Kirby of Groesbeck declined to reopen his case by refusing another writ.

The Texas court of criminal appeals had previously refused to interfere in the extradition, ordered by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel several weeks ago.

The extradition mandate arrived today and Gallogly, shackled and smiling, was taken out of the county jail a short time later and started on the journey back to a Georgia prison.

Hard Drinkers May Die Of Pancreatitis

PITTSBURGH, March 23. (U.P.)—The habitual drunkard has something else to worry about—he may die of pancreatitis, Dr. Rupert Clark of Bellevue hospital, New York City, warned.

Addressing the closing session yesterday of the American Association of Pathologists and Bacteriologists convention, Dr. Clark said people likely have been succumbing to acute pancreatitis for a long time but the deaths have been lumped under a general term of "acute alcoholism."

Only quite heavy drinkers are likely to get this disease—an inflamation of the abdominal salivary gland.

"Usually we find them dead beside an empty bottle," Dr. Clark warned. The pancreas releases a fluid which aids indigestion. The inflamation of the gland stops the flow.

Dr. H. M. Zimmerman, of the university, brought some comfort to the heavy tippler. He reported that thiamin tablets, which supply vitamin B-1, help chase away delirium tremens and alcoholic paralysis by remedying the vitamin deficiency caused by hard drinking.

FSC Purchases Are Announced

The Federal Surplus Commodities corporation purchased 139,400,000 pounds of surplus agricultural products in Texas during 1939 at a total cost of approximately $2,124,000, according to the report from Roe L. Montgomery, state director of commodity distribution, received here Saturday by R. A. Metcalfe, district supervisor.

The purchases were made, it was explained, to relieve the markets of surpluses which, if dumped, might have caused price collapses.

Mattresses Are Made

Among the items of Texas products bought, according to the report, were 1,630 bales of cotton, 177,195 yards of cotton fabric, 89,300 barrels of white flour, 51,840 barrels of graham flour, 51,840 barrels of corn meal, 8,741,000 pounds of onions and 720,000 pounds of oat cereal.

The cotton was used for the manufacture of mattresses, several hundred of which were distributed in Lubbock district, Metcalfe said.

The report also showed that an average of 90,596 financially distressed families shared in the food distribution and that 110,800 children were provided with hot school lunches daily. Estimated retail value of the food and clothing distributed in the state during the year, Metcalfe was advised, totalled $12,620,000.

America's inland waterways bore traffic of 466 million tons in 1939, valued at $17,019,000,000.

Hogan's Still Hot! Former Texan, Heafner Tie For Greensboro Open Lead

Four Deadlocked Just One Stroke Behind Leaders

By BILL BONI
Associated Press Sports Writer

GREENSBORO, N. C., March 23.—A change of scene makes no difference to Ben Hogan, the lad who won the North-South Open championship two days ago continuing in the same stride today as he finished the first round of the $5,000 Greensboro Open tournament in a first-place tie with Clayton Heafner at 69.

Comparing the figures alone, Hogan's two-under-par effort this afternoon would hardly stand up to the 66 on a par-72 course with which he opened up at Pinehurst. But considering the fact that there was a tricky wind, that the greens weren't in any too good shape and the fairways also had their bad spots, his 69 was a remarkable accomplishment.

Could've Been Better

It became even more so upon scrutiny of his card. The 27-year-old ex-Texan, who missed only one green and not a single fairway all the way around, had a potential 63. Unbelievable as it may seem, Hogan was bare inches away from sinking six birdie putts of five feet or less.

If Hogan's round was remarkable because it could have been so much better, Heafner's stood out because of the scrambling he did on the first nine and the recovery to consistency he made on the second. He came out in 35, even par, and came home at two under-par 34.

Snead Near Top

Though some of the touring pros turned in their highest scores of the season, Hogan and Heafner finished only one stroke in front. At 70 there was a foursome consisting of Craig Wood, who saw a 25-footer for a 59 bounce out of the back of the cup on No. 18; Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va.; Jack Helms of Charlotte, N. C., and Sam Snead.

Only man to match par-71 was Gene Sarazen. Tony Maero, Ky Laffoon and Johnny Bulla were at 72; 73's were returned by such aces as Open Champion Byron Nelson, Jug McSpaden, Paul Runyan, Ed Oliver, Horton Smith and Ralph Guldahl and amateur Henry Styers of Lexington, N. C., matched the 74's scored by Willie Goggin, Lawson Little, Lloyd Mangrum, Dick Metz and Johnny Revolta.

Henry Picard was a 75-shooter, Jimmy Thomson had 76, Harry Cooper and Vic Ghezzi had 77, and Jimmy Hines an 80, his worst round of the year.

Crosbyton Cops County Honors

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

CROSBYTON, March 23.—Crosbyton High school edged out a fighting Ralls Jackrabbit track and field aggregation here today to take top honors in the annual Crosby county track and field meet to determine representatives to the District contests in Lubbock April 12 and 13.

Rounding up a total of 53 points throughout the day's activities, the Crosbyton thinly clads showed promise of picking up a goodly number of points in the South Plains event at Tech.

Winning Times Slow

Ed Blackwood, scoring three first place and triumphs and deadlocking for two more in as many events, took individual honors for the day with 23 points. He ran the 120-yard high hurdles in :17.7 and copped the 440-yard dash in :57.4 seconds. Other winning time found Charles Freeman of Crosbyton taking the 880-yard run in 2:25; Martin of Lorenzo hurling the javelin 134 feet; McCandless of Ralls reeling off the century in :10.3; Brants of Ralls grabbing mile honors with a 5 minute 12 second performance, and Mann of Ralls taking the 220-yard low hurdles in the slow time of :30.3 seconds.

Behind Crosbyton, the order of finish and respective points included (all for Senior High events): Ralls second with 42 1-2 points; Lorenzo third with 35 points, and Robinson fourth with 17 1-2 points.

Hutchinson Named To Sandlot Hall Of Fame

DETROIT, March 23. (AP)—Freddie Hutchinson, the Detroit Tiger sophomore pitcher, today became the first semi-pro player to be named to sandlot baseball's hall of fame.

His selection was announced by the National Semi-Pro baseball congress which, President Ray Dumont said, plans to choose annually for the award a sandlot player who graduates into professional ranks.

BROWNS WHIP TULSA

SAN ANTONIO, March 23. (AP)—The St. Louis Browns probably wished the Texas league was the American League as they defeated the Tulsa Oilers again today, 10 to 2.

The Browns scored seven runs in a big second inning, initiated by Johnny Berardino's homer with a man on base, but most of the scoring resulted from two walks and three Tulsa errors.

Denver Quint Is Defeated, 39 To 36

By LOUDON KELLY
Associated Press Sports Writer

DENVER, March 23. — Mighty Phillips 66 of Oklahoma won its first national AAU basketball title after years of trying by beating its arch foe, the defending champion Denver Nuggets 39 to 36, before 7,000 fans in city auditorium tonight.

The game followed closely the pattern of many bitterly waged battles in the past between these two outfits of seasoned tournament veterans.

Best In Second Half

It was an even more stirring struggle than the championship game of last year's tournament when the Nuggets nipped the Bartlesville five 25 to 23.

Phillips' skillful sure offense reached its highest peak in the first part of the second half when they piled up a 38 to 23 lead, enough to repulse a late-game charge of the Nuggets.

The triumph was a squad victory, as Coach Charlie Hyatt rotated his nine-man personnel while Jack McCracken, Nugget guard and coach, and his four mates of last year's champions played the entire contest.

In the consolation game for third place, the Oakland Golden States trounced the Seattle Savidges 50 to 36.

The Savidges, off the hot-shooting form which scared Phillips 66 of Bartlesville, Okla., in the semi-final, trailed the Californians from the start.

Kansas Cops Victory In NCAA Final, 43-42

KANSAS CITY, March 23. (AP) — Howard Engleman, a basket ball player who never saw a stop sign, sneaked in a basket 16 seconds before the final gun tonight to give Kansas university a 43 to 42 victory over Southern California in the finals of the Western NCAA playoffs.

Rice institute's cagers became so infuriated tonight when the University of Colorado's quintet scored in the last 90 seconds of play and deadlocked the score at 50-all that the Owls poured in 10 points in the five-minute overtime period for a 60 to 56 triumph.

The contest decided third place in the playoffs and was the second

Lubbock Golfers To Meet Clovis Players Today

Coach J. W. Jackson of the Tech golf team will head a [party] of approximately 25 local golfers to Clovis today for a series of [match] day matches against a picked [team] of Clovis Country club players.

All matches will be over the [18] hole route and will be played [in] foursomes with points counted.

Hotbed of some of the best [amateur] and professional links competition in New Mexico, Clovis has an aggregation that is comparable to any in this section of the southwest, the city's tournament reputation.

"Warm-Up" For Raiders

For both squads it will be the [first] inter-city competition of the year, more or less of a "practice session up" for the Red Raider representatives who will be in the party, [with] of those who are eligible for places on the Tech varsity.

Roscoe Pierce, chairman of the tournament committee of the Country club, is in charge of arrangements for the event.

According to Coach Jackson, the entire group planned to leave Mark Halsey Drug No. 2 at Broadway and College Avenue at [8] o'clock this morning.

Techsters in the party will include: Co-Captains Donald [Brown] and J. D. Webster, Billy Cook, Alvin Best, Alex Cooke, Jack [Hall], Billy Martin, M. Triplitt, [Bill] Smith, Joe Horne, Hugh Horn, Michit, Harold Crites, [Jack] Parks and Argo Peek.

Others in the party will [be] Bill Parker, E. H. Plank, [Jack] Allen, Alfred Holton and the following who journeyed over the [week-end].

Minor Shatters Hurdles Mark

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

TAHOKA, March 23—Coach Jackson's Tahoka High school machine, paced by speed merchant Minor, roared to a convincing [victory] today in the annual county track and field meet.

Minor, one of the South's best schoolboy track stars, [ran] off individual scoring honors of the day by capturing four firsts [and] in as many events which he entered to garner 20 points of his team's total of 70.

In the 220-yard low hurdles Minor's specialty, the Tahoka youngster, who is a star on the gridiron too, skimmed over the timbers in :25.2 seconds, shaving his own District 3 record of :25.4 at Tech Stadium last year on the curved track. Close behind Minor in individual point making was B. Florence of Draw with 18.

Behind Tahoka in the Senior division came O'Donnell with 26 points, New Home with 20 points and Draw with 18. In Junior competition, Tahoka again was high totaling 26 points. O'Donnell finished runner-up with 20 points, New Home third with 14. Graduate champions followed in the footsteps of their older mates. Tahoka was high with 28 1-2 points. O'Donnell was second with 15 1-2. Draw third with 12 and New Home with 4 1-2.

C. Davis copped the running athlon with five first places. [The] high school results were in the following order: Midway first with 42 1-2 points, New Lynn second with 30 1-2, New Moore third with 26 and T-Bar fourth with 26 and G[arza] fifth with 13 1-2.

Red Raiders Open Spring Training Tuesday

Softball Loop Plans 'Final' Meet Monday

Third and final meeting of Lubbock Softball association managers before the season gets under way April 15 will be conducted beginning at 8 o'clock Monday night in the reception room of Radio Station KFYO, according to announcement Saturday by Wesley Youngblood, president.

Posting of $100 guarantees will be the most important business to be transacted at the gathering, though several other items of prime interest to the league's managers will be discussed and placed in the records.

All managers are requested to be present so that the definite 16 team membership of the league may be definitely determined. Such representatives are necessary it was stressed because other clubs are seeking entrance in the association should any of the present membership drop out.

"It is our intention to conclude all business at this meeting, then adjourning until time for the season to open with the week of preliminary games the middle of April," Youngblood said.

Newcomers Named In East Texas League

KILGORE, March 23. (AP)—Umpires to work in the East Texas league during the 1940 season were named March 23 by President C. P. Mosley. The eight-man staff includes four holdovers and four newcomers.

Holdovers are Tom Estell, Kilgore; Roland Mackey, Oxford, Penn.; Perry Hunter, Sherman; and Neeley Vaught, Burkburnett. New Umpires are: C. A. Newman, Shreveport; J. W. Standifer, Beaumont; Curtis Hatter, Moody, and J. H. Taylor, Houston.

BEES BLAST RED SOX

SARASOTA, Fla., March 23. (AP)—The Boston Bees shelled Woody Rich hard in the third inning today and opened their intra-city series against the Red Sox with a 6-3 victory.

Crimson Tennis Team Off Today

Texas Tech's tennis standard bearers—pointing to one of the most impressive campaigns arranged for them in several seasons—leave on the year's first road trip 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, a journey that will take them onto the courts of six Texas colleges and universities in as many days.

First stop on the Raiders' downstate invasion will be Dallas Monday for a battle with the Southern Methodist Mustangs.

The following day, Coach James G. Allen's netters will invade Denton for a tussle with the powerful North Texas State Teachers college raqueteers. Wednesday, the trail leads to the state's capital for a series of matches with the University of Texas Longhorns. Thursday, tentative arrangements are underway by Coach Allen to have the team meet Howard-Payne, but should such plans fall through, it is likely that San Marcos will be the stop that day.

Friday, the Crimson aces will move into Abilene for a two-day stay, playing Hardin-Simmons university that day, going over to Abilene Christian college for a series of matches Saturday. The group will return that night.

Those in the party include: Sid-

Cooke Defeats McNeill For Bermuda Net Title

HAMILTON, Bermuda, March 23. (AP) — Don McNeill of Oklahoma City, upset by Elwood Cooke in the Bermuda tennis championships last week, reversed the decision against the Oregonian today in the final of the Coral Beach tournament. McNeill won a hard-fought match, 6-8, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

McNeill and Cooke teamed together to win the men's doubles final from Frank Shields of New York and J. Gilbert Hall of South Orange, N. J., 6-4, 1-6, 6-0. Cooke and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan of Brookline, Mass., won the mixed doubles event, turning back Shields and Helen Pedersen of Stamford, Conn., 7-5, 6-1.

Knott, Lyons Will Pitch

By Collier Parris

THE ANSWER to that telegram we sent to Jimmy Dykes, manager of the Chicago White Sox, came yesterday. It said:

"Ted Lyons and Jack Knott definitely will pitch at Lubbock barring any accident to either before that time. Chicago sports writers with us and who will be in Lubbock are Jim Gallagher, Irving Vaughn, Jack Ryan and John Hoffman."

So that ought to settle that question.

TED LYONS

JACK KNOTT

Baseball fans who attend the April 4 contest, at the Hubber park, between the Chicago White Sox and the Pittsburgh Pirates may be fairly well assured of seeing Knott (S.M.U.) and Lyons (Baylor) do duty in the box for the Sox.

Readers of this column, if any, will not require a lengthy research into the annals of baseball history in order to identify Knott and Lyons. Suffice it to say that the above telegram was sent in answer to a message dispatched from this office late last week. And we are grateful to Skipper Dykes for his early reply and for capitulation to the desires of local baseball fandom. Knott and Lyons have many friends around here, and it is fitting they should make personal appearances on the occasion of such an important booking as this.

Joe L. Brown, the business manager of the Lubbock Hubbers, is expected in Lubbock today, or very early this week. He'll make final arrangements for the exhibition game, and be in position to give us more details regarding the Hubbers of 1940. A recent letter from Charlie Engle, who is to manage the ball club, says that he is going to Dallas, board the Lubbock Hubber bus, which has been reconditioned, pick up several ball players and head for Jonesboro, where the Lubbock team is to start spring training on April 3. That's about a month later than previous notices had indicated, but it'll still give the boys about three weeks to get in shape.

SHORT, SHORT STORIES — Distinguished visitors in town for the weekend are Field "Strangler" or "Stoopnagle" Scovell, former Texas Aggie gridder, now with the Rawlings Sporting goods company of St. Louis, and Clen L. "Ox" Higgins, former University of Texas lineman and grid captain, now selling sporting goods for the C. & S. company, headquarters at Austin. . . . Scovell brings up a lot of things, and Higgins brings up, among other things, the fact that his little brother, Michael Franklin "Pinky" Higgins, is still playing big league baseball. . . . Ox and your correspondent were talking about Pinky, who started out with the Philadelphia Athletics in 1930, just out of Uncle Billy Disch's baseball school. . . . "Pinkey is one of the best players in the big show," his big brother admitted, "but he needs some pepping up. . . . He doesn't take advantage of his opportunities. . . . He lacks something of color and 'push.' . . ." and we agreed that Pinky, now in his tenth year of big league ball, needs to push himself a little. . . . Two of a kind, in a manner of speaking, are Pinky Higgins and Sam West. . . . They're both great ball players, but they have so durned little to say about themselves . . . they need a little of the Dizzy Dean complex, or something. . . .

ANYWAY, we're glad to have Scovell and Ox Higgins with us, and a happy Easter egg to them, too. . . . John Dibrell, who has been head coach at Post High school for the past two years, has been named head mentor at Colorado City High, and will assume his duties next fall. . . . He has had two good years at Post, and he'll be missed in this territory. . . . Dibrell takes the place of Jack Christian at Colorado High. . . . Bill McWilliams, former Texas Tech tackle, and a tough one, who has been coaching at Ralls, has accepted a head coach job at Mountainair, New Mexico. . . . And Holt Waldrep, of last year's Texas Tech varsity, drops by to say that he's still open for consultation regarding a coaching position this year. . . . He gets his sheepskin in June. . . .

Business-Professional League Meets Monday

Managers of the Business and Professional softball league will meet at 7:30 o'clock Monday night in 72nd district courtroom, Elmo Payne, league secretary, said Saturday.

Payne also emphasized a welcome would await managers of other teams not affiliated with the league. The B-P loop, however, is not seeking more members than its present eight, but will assist in organization of another league, if interest is sufficient.

Teams in the league are non-commercial and it is planned to retain that status, Payne said.

DE MORAN SUFFERS ATTACK

SHREVEPORT, La., March 23. (AP)—The Dallas Rebels suffered a severe blow here today when Joe DeMoran, righthanded hurler, was rushed to a hospital for an appendectomy.

President George Schepps of the Texas league club said his hurler would be out of uniform at least two months.

Tech Will Adopt Two-Team Plan

Texas Tech's twice postponed spring football practice will definitely start Tuesday afternoon with Coaches Pete W. Cawthon and Russell "Dutchy" Smith in command. Cawthon has recovered from his recent illness and is ready to send the Red Raiders through 30 days of spring football maneuvers.

A cordial invitation has been issued to every boy on the campus to try for the team but the real foundation will be built around 19 returning lettermen, 20 returning freshmen lettermen and 15 players who are either off last season's red shirt squad or are junior college transfers.

They're All Open

It is Cawthon's opinion that the 1940 Texas Tech team will be rather small but exceptionally fast in the line and backfield.

"We definitely will not have a power team," Cawthon explained, "but I believe we will have a lot of speed, deception and hustle. I believe we will show improvement in our passing and kicking. The boys have a lot of fire, are keen for spring practice and that's half of the battle won."

Coaches Cawthon and Smith have announced that every position on the team is wide-open and ready to

Californians Seeking Major League Team

LOS ANGELES, March 23. (U.P.)—Richard Cantillon, Los Angeles attorney, announced today that a group of wealthy sportsmen which he represents, are willing to pay "upwards of $5,000,000 for a major league baseball franchise for Los Angeles."

"We are prepared to make outstanding offers to the St. Louis Browns, Philadelphia Phillies and the Boston Bees," Cantillon said. "The offers will be sent to the owners of these clubs within the next few days."

Cantillon said theinterests he spoke for believe that Southern California is ready for big league baseball.

Fenske Captures Chicago Feature

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, March 23. — Charles Fenske, University of Wisconsin graduate student, won his eighth straight mile victory of the indoor season tonight in the Chicago Relays, breaking the meet record with a time of four minutes, 7.9 seconds.

Gene Venzke of the New York Athletic club was second, 12 yards behind the winner and Glen Cunningham, of Kansas, was third. Archie San Romani, Emporia, Kans., the only other starter, dropped out at the three quarters mark.

Fenske's record clipped two seconds off the record set by Cunningham two years ago. The performance was a half second above Fenske's best mile of the season, a 4:07.4 run in New York several weeks ago.

Fenske's brilliant triumph brought a great ovation from the 10,000 spectators jammed in the amphitheater but could not compare with the thunderous cheers accorded little Greg Rice of Notre Dame when he came on with a great stretch drive to win the two mile.

Rice ran the distance in 9:03, the second of four meet records establisher in the relays. The old two-mile mark was 9:05, set by Don Lash of Indiana in 1939. Tonight Walter Mehl of Wisconsin was second and Lash third.

Another meet record was written in the high jump when Mel Walker of New York, ex-Ohio State star, leaped six feet, 5 3-8 inches.

BEARS LICK COWBOYS

STILLWATER, Okla., March 23. (AP)—Baylor's Bear handed the the Oklahoma A and M baseball crew a 10 to 6 licking today on 11 hits and six Cowboy errors.

Paychek Just Doesn't Have The 'Oomph' To Stop Louis

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., March 23.—Take an automobile for instance, Benny Leonard pointed out.

"Okay Benny, where'll we take it?" His listeners innocently inquired, a trifle wary, what with the ex-lightweight king expounding on Johnny Paccheck, a favorite subject these spring afternoons.

"All right, gag all you want to," Benny went on. "But an engine has to be in high gear to run best, doesn't it? Well, the same goes for Paycheck. It takes him a couple of rounds to get warmed up and going good. So, if he gets by those first two heats next Friday night, he's going to give Joe Louis trouble. You can write that right on your cuff from your old pal, Benny Leonard."

Writers and other "experts" had driven out from New York, expecting to be convinced that the Des Moines heavyweight with the sparse hair could barely escape getting killed in his date with the Brown Bomber in Madison Square Garden next week. And after watching him go five rounds with a trio of fellows dressed up as sparring partners, they just about were. He just doesn't have the stuff to topple the ring's boss man.

With the equipment, he's a good run-of-the-mine heavyweight, capable of giving any of 'em a busy evening. But the boy who beats Joe Louis is going to have a little extra "oomph."

MacPhail Creates Mild 'Ah' When He Changes Quarters

By EDDIE BRIETZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 23.—Why don't some of the smart guys down South dig up the reason why Larry MacPhail suddenly shifted from the swank hotel where the Dodgers are stopping to the Bellaire bath club? . . . Was it to Dodge Dolf Camilli or because somebody else is wearing smoked glasses? . . . Bill McGowan and Red Ormsby, the umpires, conducted a school at Palatka, Fla., and Jackson, Miss., this spring. . . . They had 60 pupils and 39 already have been signed for jobs in minor leagues. . . . Diet note: John Kimbrough, the Texas Aggie football star, weighed 227 stripped after a four-months football season. . . . Now, after three months on the banquet circuit, he tips the old beam at 215. . . . You figure it out.

The U. of Colorado cagers have been invited back East next year to meet St. John's U. (Brooklyn) in the Garden. . . . Jimmy Phelan of Washington U., has sent Dutch Meyer of Texas Christian a handsome silver pipe. . . . "The Life of Babe Ruth" will be the feature of the "Johnny Presents" hour on March 26. . . . Dick Harlow has put the old squelcher on the latest rumor by saying: "I won't be going back to Maryland this year, next year, the year after, or ever." . . . (Personally, we think Dick is pulling somebody's

Cubs Defeat White Sox, 10-6, As Baseball Has Big Exhibition Day

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, March 23.—The Chicago Cubs took a free hitting contest from their home town rivals, the White Sox, today 10 to 6.

PIRATES TAKE A's

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23. (AP)—Successive home runs by Bill Brubaker and Maurice Van Robays sparked a four-run rally in the 10th inning to give Pittsburgh an 8 to 4 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics today.

BREWERS NIP SENATORS

OCALA, Fla., March 23. (AP)—Pitcher Buck Marrow of the Milwaukee Brewers doubled his catcher home in the seventh inning today to defeat the Washington Senators, 2 to 1, in an exhibition baseball game.

PHILLIES LOSE, 1 TO 4

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 23. (AP)—Baffled by the slants of Hershel Lyons, Bill McLaughlin and Henry Gornicki the Phillies were defeated by Rochester, of the International league, 4 to 1, here today.

EXPORTERS TOPPLE AGS

BEAUMONT, March 23. (AP)—The Beaumont Exporters defeated Texas A. and M. 7 to 6 here today after their shutout effort against the collegians yesterday.

Lefty Lem Bumpers' wildness cost the visitors four runs in the first inning and they never quite recovered.

CATS DEFEAT TRIBE

FORT WORTH, March 23. (AP)—Alert base running helped the Fort Worth Cats beat the Oklahoma City Indians here today 7-3. The Indians made five miscues and the Cats took advantage of four of them.

Ed Greer and Bill Yocke shared the pitching for the winners, with Greer giving only three hits in five innings.

REDS GAIN REVENGE

HAVANA, March 23. (AP)—With Bucky Walters and Whitney Moore pitching effectively, Cincinnati's Reds downed the Cuban All Stars 6-1 today to even up their exhibition series at a game apiece.

SHREVEPORT TRIUMPH, 12-9

SHREVEPORT, La., March 23. (AP)—In a free hitting contest, the Shreveport Sports defeated the Dallas Rebels, 12 to 9.

Inter-City Basis

Others likely to make the trip, but who had not decided definitely late Saturday, according to Coach Jackson were: Joe Pritchett, James Pritchett, Elton Dozier, John McBride, Ben Hausler, and R. A. Jefferies.

Coach Jackson explained that the matches were on an inter-city basis instead of purely a collegiate encounter.

To Leave Wednesday

The Tech golf team and Coach Jackson will leave here Wednesday morning for Dallas to play the Southern Methodist Mustangs on the Dallas Country club course Thursday.

After their Dallas engagement, the Red Raiders will journey to Austin to play the University of Texas on the Austin Country club course Saturday. From Austin they will travel to Houston to play the Rice Owls on the Houston Country club course April 1.

Spokesman States Japanese Navy Is Prepared To Meet Any American Acti

Situation Not In Deadlock

TOKYO, March 23. (AP)—Premier Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai and Navy Minister Admiral Zengo Yoshida both assured Parliament today that the Japanese navy "is ready to meet any situation" resulting from the current expansion of the United States navy.

Yoani is a former navy minister. He, Yoshida and Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita were asked numerous questions concerning American-Japanese relations in a session of the budget committee of the lower house.

Arita declared he did not believe the situation between the two powers had reached a deadlock and said negotiations on pending issues were continuing although he was unable to disclose their nature.

"The government has tried but has not succeeded in bringing the American government and people to full recognition of the new situation."

He was understood to refer to the situation created by Japan's program of conquest and control in China, against features of which the United States has registered disapproval.

He agreed with an interpellator that it would be "dangerous" for Japan to depend heavily on any one country for war materials and said economic arrangements were being made with this in mind.

Japan hitherto has bought most of her imported cotton, oil, metals and other materials from the United States.

be filled by the best available talent.

Adopts New System

The Tech coaches plan to use two first string units this season in each game. This means that at least 22 of the players will be regarded as first string players.

"It is absolutely necessary that we build two first string teams for next season," commented Cawthon. "Every team in the country is employing the two-team system in each game. If we can discover enough good boys to form two first string teams each will be used as a unit in each game."

Plan Intra-Squad Games

Several intra-squad games will be played during spring practice since the coaches are anxious to see the boys perform under fire when every rush and plunge means something. Since there is keen competition for each position these intra-squad games promise to be something to see.

The stadium gates will be open to each practice session and fans are invited to watch the workouts. The Red Raiders face one of the hardest schedules in their history which includes five home and six road games. The season will open September 28 with Oklahoma A. and M. at Oklahoma City and close December 7 against San Francisco on the Pacific coast.

Prospects Listed

The returning lettermen who will answer practice call Tuesday include Tyrus Bain, C. L. Storrs, Francis Bingham, Lonnie McCurry, Prince Scott, E. J. McKnight, Raymond Flusche, Milton Hill, Durwood Herring, Billy Dodd, Bill Brown, Clarence Tillery, Tom Douglass, Jack Wheelis, Charles Dvoracek, Glen Lowe, Robert Duncan, Robert O'Connor, Charles Daniels.

Returning freshmen lettermen include Wayne Johnson, Kenneth Robbins, Walter Nelson, Thayne Amonett, Doyle Caraway, Walter Webster, Ed Harris, Warren Cudd, Lloyd Neely, A. D. Chester, Don Austin, Joe Bob Foster, Jimmy Jay, Clasper Braswell, Eldon Hill, J. E. Townsend, Peter Blanda, Mack Cayce, Charles Henderson and Wayne Pipes.

Returning non-lettermen and junior college transfers include Art Weber, Newman Ledbetter, Eddie Saliba, Lowell Bell, Will Allbright, Jack Shanks, Eugene Carl, Rogers Smith, Norman Kingsbury, Jess Wright, Stanley Sigmon, Ed Irons, Bengy Estes, Bill Pinkstaff and Marvin Shields.

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 23. (AP)—A second successive five-hit job by pitchers of the New York Giants was just as meaningless today as yesterday—for the Cleveland Indians scored a 2 to 1 victory.

Sites Viewed For New Food Products Plant

FORT WORTH, March 23. (UP)—Sites for possible location of a $1,000,000 food products factory were inspected here today by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, who said this city has "a good chance" to obtain the new industry.

The governor, who said he had no interest in the project other than forwarding his industrialization program, refused to disclose the name of the company. He said he conferred with its backers last week at Austin.

The governor conferred today with State Sen. Jesse Martin, on "personal business," O'Daniel said.

O'Daniel, his wife and two sons will return this afternoon to Austin.

Great Southwest Celebrates For Spaniard Who Sought Cities Of Gold But Found A Wealth Of Yellow Corn

BY HERMAN R. ALLEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

LYONS, Kans., March 23 — The year 1540 . . . springtime . . . Compostela, Mexico . . .

Don Francisco Vasquez de Coronado and his army were off to find the seven fabled cities of Cibola and claim them under the red and gold banner of Spain.

The Indians said Cibola was bursting with gold, silver and precious stones; that some of the cities were actually covered with gold and paved with nuggets.

Wandered Two Years

Coronado wandered for two years, but he never found any gold.

Best records show he traveled as far north as the Smoky Hill river, near where Junction City, Kans., now stands. This summer citizens of southwestern states will begin a celebration of the 400th anniversary of his journey.

Congress has allotted $200,000 for the "cuarto centennial" observation.

Pageants and fiestas already are scheduled in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona this summer. Kansas will not start until next year, because Coronado didn't reach here until 1541, but will participate in the other states' festivities.

Was First Conquest

Coronado's journey was the first conquest by Europeans in what is now the United States. Coronado built a palace at Santa Fe, N. M., 80 years before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth.

Paul Jones, Lyons, Kans., publisher, is an authority on Coronado and has written two books about him. In one he describes how Coronado marched out of Campostella:

"With a blare of trumpets and a roll of drums, the brilliant and glittering procession approached the reviewing stand. At the head rode Coronado, the flower of the youth of Spain. Of all the cavaliers, his armor alone was golden . . .

"Young cavaliers, with side arms rattling against steel clad thighs, curbed spirited steeds.

"Following them came foot soldiers, armed with harquebuses and crossbows, some with short swords and shields. Then came Indian allies, brilliant in paint and feathers, carrying clubs, bows and arrows.

More Somber Groups

"Now the more somber grooms, servants, leaders of pack animals and drivers of cattle, sheep and swine . . .

"At intervals, shuffling along with the procession, were a few men whose thoughts were not of gold but of souls . . . Franciscan friars, they were, to be steadfast friends of the Indians and their protectors against civilized cruelty and inhumanity."

The expedition cost 600,000 ducats, the equivalent in modern money of more than a million dollars.

July 7, 1540, the army fought a battle with Indians and drove them away from the first of the seven cities of Cibola.

The "city" turned out to be a village of adobe huts. It was in southwestern New Mexico. There was no gold in sight, but the walls were plastered with "fool's gold," which glittered in the sunshine.

Wealth Was In Corn

Not until later did Coronado realize that the Indians' wealth was not gold at all. It was corn—golden corn and fertile soil.

Coronado sent out scouting parties. None of them found any real gold, but one of them discovered the Grand canyon in Arizona.

The army wintered near what is now Bernalillo, N. M., and in the spring marched east across the plains of Texas.

The soldiers had a lot of sport with the jack-rabbits. They could ride right up to them and kill them with a lance, but a foot soldier couldn't get close.

Coronado picked up an Indian guide whom the soldiers called "the Turk."

Leading Army In Circles

The Turk seemed to be leading the army around in circles. Coronado decided he was trying to lead him into a trap of hostile Indians. He got rid of him and took on a friendly Indian guide named Isopeta.

Isopeta told the Spaniards the city of gold they were seeking was far to the north. Its name was Quivira. Coronado sent most of his soldiers back to the winter camp and went on with Isopeta and 30 picked men.

After a hard journey they reached the land of the Quivira Indians in Kansas. Coronado finally was convinced there was no gold, silver or jewels in the country. It was simply good farming country, as Kansas is today.

The Indians were wealthy but not by white men's standards. They had everything Indians wanted—plenty of food for themselves and their animals and furs and skins for clothing.

Wrote To King Charles

Coronado wrote in a letter to King Charles:

"It was the Lord's pleasure that after journeying across these deserts 77 days I arrived at the province they called Quivira, to which the guides were conducting me, and where they had described to me houses of stone with many stories, and not only were they not of stone but of straw.

"The country itself is the best I have ever seen for producing all the products of Spain, for besides the land itself being very fat and black, and being well watered by rivulets, springs and rivers, I found prunes like those of Spain and nuts and very good sweet grapes and mulberries."

Coronado took possession of all the land from the Mississippi to the west coast and from Mexico to the northern end of the continent and turned back to Mexico.

Two years ago a WPA worker found a stone near Atchison, Kas., 100 miles east of where Coronado is supposed to have turned back.

The stone bears part of an inscription:

"Agosto el tre . . .
"Tomo
"Por Espana
"Quivermmmm
". . . . Rancisco . . "

It is not known how the stone traveled so far, but experts said it was undoubtedly left by Coronado.

The translation would be:

"August third, 1541. I take for Spain Quivera." The "Rancisco" probably was part of the name Francisco Coronado.

A Texas historian, Harry Donoghue, of Fort Worth, claims Coronado never got farther north than Roberts county, Tex., but several swords and other relics with Spanish markings have been found in Kansas besides the stone.

Records Are Checked

Jones checked the records of the expedition and found that a man noted down the distance and direction traveled every day.

"There isn't the slightest doubt of Coronado coming north in Kansas as far as the Smoky Hill," Jones says "and my latest information is that he traveled eastward along that stream for two or three days before giving up the quest."

An iron stirrup of Spanish design was found by a farmer near Riverton, Neb., about 1890, but how it got there was a mystery.

Coronado's ragged army didn't get much of a welcome when it returned to Mexico. The viceroy, Mendoza, who had put a lot of money into the expedition himself, was disappointed that Coronado had found no gold.

Explorations Profitable

But Coronado's explorations were profitable in the long run. Thousands of square miles were added to the Spanish realm.

The Spaniards couldn't see that the land was much use, so they finally traded it to France.

The French sold it to the United States as part of the Louisiana purchase. The whole history of the middle west might have been different if the Spanish had been settlers instead of gold seekers.

After his trip, Coronado became unpopular. He resigned as governor of the province of New Galicia and died in 1554. His grave is unknown.

Germany Takes Lead In New Diplomatic Activity

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press Cable Editor

The clamor in Britain and France for the Allied governments to take the initiative away from Germany and prosecute the war more vigorously was met today by a flurry of diplomatic activity in which Germany was taking the lead.

The focal point of the diplomatic maneuvering was southeastern Europe. It concerned Germany, Italy, Rumania, Hungary and perhaps Russia.

Mysterious Angle

It had a mysterious angle in persistent reports that Viacheslav Molotov, soviet premier and foreign commissar, either was in Berlin or was about to go there.

The report started in Rome, by radio and in the press. Then it was hushed up. It broke out again today over the Finnish radio. Moscow merely said nothing was known about it.

In Berlin, however, a foreign office spokesman refused to deny it. Neither would he confirm it. The official German wireless broadcast the following:

No Reply Is Given

"A spokesman of the foreign office at a press conference here on Saturday refused to give a definite reply to foreign journalists who demanded to know whether rumors of a visit to Berlin of soviet Russian people's Commissar Molotov for important conversations with the fuehrer or Herr von Ribbentrop (foreign minister) during the Easter holidays were supported by any facts.

"The answer given by the spokesman to the foreign journalists, who referred to foreign press reports which declared it was certain that Molotov would come to Berlin during the Easter holidays, and to a report of the Finnish radio service which asserted that Molotov already had arrived in Berlin, was completely evasive. He did not reveal whether Molotov is expected to visit Berlin in the near future or whether such a visit is planned at all.

Question Evaded

"The spokesman cleverly evaded an answer to direct questions."

If there is any truth behind this report, it may be of the utmost significance. It clearly would be a follow-up to the Brenner Pass meeting of Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini.

At the meeting, Mussolini and Hitler were generally understood to have agreed on closer collaboration of the Rome-Berlin axis in southeastern Europe, where they would divide economic dominance to their mutual benefit and to the detriment of the Allies.

It even was reported in Paris that Hitler had urged a military alliance, with Italy going into the war when the time seemed ripe. That, of course, was denied.

Even more important, however, was the report that Russia was a part of the deal, having agreed to calm the fears of the southeastern states by a pledge of non-aggression, and especially by renouncing any intention of trying to regain the Bessarabian area of Rumania.

A visit by Molotov to Berlin presumably would be to iron out details of this working agreement and bring the three powers into a form of alliance, either military or purely political. Any such alliance would be a heavy blow to the Allies and probably end any chance of an attack on Germany in the near east or southeast, just as the surrender of Finland ended it in the north.

First Rodeo Casualty Is Broken Right Leg

HOUSTON, March 23. (AP)—The first casualty in connection with the fat stock show rodeo occurred four hours before the rodeo opened today.

E. W. Curry, 35-year old performer, broke his right leg when his horse fell with him during a parade.

Port Officials Deny Reports

HOUSTON, March 23. (UP)—Port officials and steamshippers scoffed today at reports that Texas harbors were congested with ships which failed to obtain crews to sail into Scandinavian waters.

J. Russell Wait, Houston port director, said that there were no crowded docks here or at Galveston.

"We have room for 24 ships here and only four were at the public docks today," Wait said. "Reports that the port is congested are absolutely untrue."

Congestion Reported

It has been reported that congestion had resulted from refusal of sailors to accept bonuses of $500 per man and wage increases to sail aboard the ships.

Fowler and McVitie, agents for the Wilhelmsen line which serves Scandinavian ports, said that there reports were "ridiculous."

"Scandinavian ships calling here are manned by crew signed up in Scandinavian countries," a spokesman said. "We do not sign up American seamen at this end for service abroad the ships."

James Merrell, agent for the National Maritime union, said that he knew of only one or two instances of sailors signing for service to Scandinavia, but none involved American sailors or American ships.

Another report had said that American cargoes destined for the Allies were moving aboard American ships to the port of Bilbao, Spain, where they were placed aboard barges for trans-shipment by barge to France and Britain. Lykes brothers steamship officials commented on this report thusly:

"Cargoes for Spain are unloaded at Spanish ports and the ships, with the original crews, return to Houston and other American ports. We do not carry American seamen to serve in belligerent ships after they get to the other side."

La Grange Publisher Heads Press Group

HOUSTON, March 23. (UP)—Ben F. Harigel, editor and publisher of the Journal at La Grange for 50 years, today was elected president of the Texas Gulf Coast Press association.

Harigel succeeded John H. Manthey, jr., of Cleveland at the final session of the group's two-day convention.

Other officers were Price Daniel of Liberty, chairman of the Trinity Publishing company and a state representative, vice president; Arthur Lefevre, Houston, assistant to the president; Fred A. Hannah, Houston, secretary-treasurer.

New directors were W. H. Shannon of Richmond, H. B. Fox of Madisonville, and Franz Zeiske of Bellville.

Vice President John Nance Garner was elected an honorary member of the association.

New Furniture Store Is Opened

Opening of a new business in Lubbock, the Hardwick-Mauldin Furniture Co., 1112 Avenue Q, was announced Saturday. The store is to receive visitors in a special opening celebration this week.

W. A. Mauldin, former theater owner here, and G. C. Hardwick, who moved here recently from Paris, are partners in the firm located in a new building built especially for the store by Mauldin.

Hardwick Experienced In Business

Hardwick is an experienced furniture man, having been in the business nearly 20 years. He was in charge of the furniture departments of Montgomery Ward stores at various places eleven years.

The building in which the new store is located is of brick and tile construction with a stucco and black glass front with huge display windows both for the lower floor and balcony. The interior of the building is finished in white with ivory-finish Celotex ceilings. Flourescent lighting is in the display windows and both direct and indirect lighting is used throughout the store.

To Handle General Line

The firm will have a general line of furniture and will have exclusive sale of Philco refrigerators and radios. Stoves, washing machines, electric appliances, Venetian blinds and window shades, rugs and linoleum will be handled in addition to furniture.

A wide stairway in the center of the store leads to a large balcony where bedroom furniture is displayed. Livingroom suites, dining room suites and other pieces of furniture are displayed on the lower floor. The building is 50 by 147 feet and faces east.

A covered loading dock is at the rear of the building.

Has Faith In Lubbock

The firm will have five employes. Al Stratton will have charge of sales; C. R. Blake, appliances and Dallas Chesher deliveries.

Hardwick is a brother of Paul Hardwick, vice president of the Citizens National bank. He had visited here on numerous occasions prior to moving to Lubbock.

"I believe Lubbock is the coming city of the Southwest and have only waited for an opportunity to establish a business here," Hardwick said Saturday. He is married and has two daughters. They reside at 1950 Avenue N.

Head Of School For Blind Will Resign

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 23. (AP)—Dr. J. W. Blattner, superintendent of the state school for the deaf at Sulphur for nearly a quarter century, will resign soon, it was learned reliably today.

The resignation, it was believed, will be submitted at a meeting of the board of education next Friday.

Minutes of the board showed a committee including the Rev. W. B. Harvey, Oklahoma City and Dewitt Waller, Enid, recommended a change of superintendents after a recent investigation.

Blattner has had a long career in education of deaf children. He was acting principal of the Colorado school for the deaf for two years and then became principal of the Texas school for the deaf at Austin.

From there he went to the North Dakota state school for the deaf and became superintendent at Sulphur in 1916.

Body Of Victim Who Drowned Recovered

DENTON, March 23. (UP)—The body of Harry Gropper, 28, San Antonio, Baylor university medical school student drowned when a motorboat overturned last night, was recovered today from Lake Dallas.

Gropper's wife; Miss Mary Elizabeth Dean, Dallas; and A. B. Goddard, 28, another student, were saved after the boat sprung a leak, filled quickly with water and sank during a moonlight outing.

Miss Dean managed to swim to safety. Goddard, who nearly drowned in attempting to save Gropper, and Mrs. Gropper were rescued by two other Baylor students, W. W. Henderson of Houston and Eugene House.

Those who recovered Gropper's body said his clothing indicated that he had attempted to remove it in an effort to save himself.

Wilson, Ropesville Take Judging Honors

MEADOW, March 23 (Special)—Wilson won first place and Ropesville second today in the annual Meadow High school Future Farmers of America invitation poultry judging contests.

A. L. Hartzog, Meadow vocational agriculture teacher, was in charge. Judging was in white leghorn, Rhode Island reds and barred Plymouth Rocks.

Comedian, 42, And Youn Girl Friend To Think It Over At Mother's Reque

NEW YORK, March 23. (UP)—George Jessel, 42-year-old comedian, and Lois Andrew, a show girl who will be 16 tomorrow, abided today by the wishes of her mother, Mrs. Geraldine Andrew, 33, that they "think it over a while" before they marry.

Mrs. Andrew had not forbidden the marriage on her arrival from Los Angeles yesterday to be a guest in her daughter's six-room apartment which has four telephones, five radios, ermine-lined bathroom and special closet for 12 fur coats, but she had recommended that they "wait a while."

Broadway believed that the lovers might have to use the threat of elopement to bring mama around, but Jessel announced through his press agent that "we have both decided to obey her wishes."

Junior Stock Show

Mowery of lambs and Casey Fine of pigs.

The third annual downtown parade at 11 a.m. Wednesday will be the big feature of the entire show, followed at 1 p.m. by the annual auction at the fairgrounds, with Col. Kenneth Bozeman of Lubbock the auctioneer.

Marching in the parade will be 2,000 or more boys representing 4-H clubs and Future Farmer chapters throughout the South Plains. Several have entered floats in their competition for special banners. In the line of march will be a dozen or so bands, competing for $50 in cash prizes to be divided $20, $15, $10 and $5.

Post Band Enters

Latest of the band entries was one received Saturday from Post. Carl O. Hyde, the director, wrote that the 45 members had just returned from the fat stock show in Fort Worth where they took part in several programs, including a statewide broadcast. Other bands entered are those of Slaton, Brownfield, Tahoka, Hale Center and Lovington, N. M., high schools. Expectation is that Monday's mail will bring additional entries.

Bands of Senior and Junior High school also will march in the parade, but will not compete for the prizes.

Officials Listed

Official of the various divisions of the show are:

Calf — Jason Gordon of Farwell, superintendent, and L. M. Hargrave of Wolfforth, assistant; pig—Ralph Howe, Crosbyton, superintendent, and W. A. King, Lorenzo, assistant; and Lamb, Henry Elder, Lubbock, superintendent, and V. F. Jones, Amherst, assistant. M. U. May, assistant Lubbock county farm agent, will be assistant superintendent of the show.

Places from which entries have come include: Littlefield, Snyder, Levelland, Lovington, N. M., Anton, Afton, Post, Roaring Springs, McAdoo, Whitharral, Plains, Tokio, Crosbyton, Lockney, Guthrie, Dumont, Sweetwater, Nolan, Roscoe, Loraine, Tulia, Ropesville, Floydada, Friona, Muleshoe, Stanton, Tarzan, Lamesa, Cuthbert, Shallowater, Lorenzo, Whiteface, Morton, Knott, Bovina, Vincent, Vealmore, Gail, O'Donnell, Fluvanna, Meadow, Wilson, Slaton, Pyron, Welch, Milnesant, N. Rear Admiral Byrd On Way To United States

WASHINGTON, March 23. (AP)—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, leader of the government's Antarctic expedition, is on his way back to the United States after establishing two winter bases in the Antarctic.

Expedition headquarters received word that Byrd was aboard the flagship Bear, which sailed with the supply ship North Star from the east base south of Cape Horn.

His return was in accord with plans announced before the two vessels left for the Antarctic last fall.

The Bear and North Star are headed for Punta Arenas, Chile.

Whether Admiral Byrd returns to the Antarctic next fall will be decided after his arrival home, officials indicated.

The ruling king of Sweden, Gustav V, has been on the throne 32 years.

SWIFT PREMIUM QUALITY CHICKS at POPULAR PRICES

Swift Hatchery

906 Avenue H Lubbock, Texas

BIGGEST DEMAND IN HISTORY

Again Hicks Chicks lead the way to greater poultry profits for you.

A new record has been written into the history of our famous strains.

ACT NOW

Don't delay your chick buying any longer. When you purchase HICKS CHICKS you get chicks that are hatched right, packed right — DEPENDABLE CHICKS. Even though you should have to pay a little more in additional cost to get my dependable chicks they will return to you many times over in extra eggs, extra profit. The small additional first cost and the long run show you a greater profit, where the inferior low grade chicks lose money for you.

Get your share of the poultry profits. Almost a quarter century of scientific breeding for MORE EGGS . . . BIGGER EGGS . . . BIGGER BIRDS offer you an outstanding opportunity for bigger share of these profits.

Wall Street . .

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP)—Air transport company issues, together with a handful of specialties, took the recovery swing in today's stock market and left many leaders to finish the week in a trendless area.

Traders returned from the Good Friday recess without definite opinions either way, although the majority were a shade more bullish than otherwise.

Optimistic forecasts for passenger carrying plane concerns helped stimulate stocks in this category. Hitting new highs for the year or longer, with advances of fractions to 3 points, were American Airlines, Pan American Airways, United Air Lines, National Aviation, Transcontinental and Western Air and Eastern Air Lines.

Transfers amounted to 393,470 shares against 478,970 a week ago. On the week the turnover was around 2,782,000 shares compared with 4,120,000 in the previous week.

The Associated Press average of 60 issues was off .1 of a point at 49.8, but, for the 5-day period, was up .3. A month ago the composite stood at 49.7 and a year ago at 49.1. The closeness of the day's proceedings was exemplified by the fact 198 individual stocks were up, 201 down and 177 unchanged.

Loft, once more was the day's fastest sprinter, getting up 1⅜ at 33, a new peak. Ahead were Boeing, Lockheed, Douglas and Glenn Martin.

Among other gainers were Spicer Mfg., Sears Roebuck, Texas Corp., Great Northern, Dow Chemical, Du Pon tand Westinghouse.

In arrears were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Anaconda, Eastman Kodak, General Electric, Union Carbide and Consolidated Edison.

In the curb, Phoenix securities, also in the Left-Pepsi-Cola setup, was a lively climber. Other gainers here included Brewster Aero, American Cyanamid "B" and Technicolor. Volume was around 150,000 shares against 100,000 last Saturday.

FIRST TARPON

CORPUS CHRISTI, March 23. (AP)—The season's first tarpon at Port Aransas was landed this morning by Dr. A. E. Cooper of Austin. It was 5 feet, 7 inches in length. Dr. Cooper's catch was one day earlier than the first tarpon of 1939.

There were 6,920,000 farms in the United States in 1939, compared to 6,363,000 in 1910.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP)—Cotton futures prices moved ahead this week in the general commodity upturn, which was associated with the abrupt silencing of peace rumors by an exchange of violent air bombings by England and Germany.

The moderate gains were eked out as a result of a fairly steep climb Wednesday, when active contracts pushed up 75 cents to $1.05 a bale. The trading week ended Thursday in token of the Easter holidays.

Reports from Worth street indicated buyers of cotton cloths were still disinclined to place substantial forward contracts.

District Courts To Hear Civil Actions

Judge E. L. Pitts will hear non-jury actions this week, the concluding week of the January term in 99th district court.

A heavy docket faces Judge Daniel A. Blair at Levelland in Hockley county 72nd district court, court officials said. Burton S. Burks, district attorney, said not more than one or two guilty pleas would be entered.

The 99th court will have completed a busy 12 weeks, during which a grand jury twice was convened.

Grain . .

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 23 (AP)—The short grain market session today between two holidays produced a light trade that affected prices only mildly, causing nervous fractional fluctuations.

An early advance of ⅝ cent gave way to weakness that let quotations slip as much as ½ cent below previous closing levels. A final hour recovery resulted in a close that was unchanged to ⅝ lower than Thursday, with May at $1.05¼@1.05⅛ and July $1.03⅝@1.03¼.

Scattered hedging reflecting marketing of loan wheat and some week-end profit taking accounted for most of the selling, which offset purchasing inspired by weather and crop conditions. Some mill buying also was reported on price dips.

Corn finished unchanged to ¼ lower, May 56⅝@56½, July 57½@57⅝; oats ⅛ off to ⅛ up; rye unchanged to ⅝ higher.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, March 23 (AP)—Fair demand for grain was reported here at the week-end. Estimated receipts Saturday were: wheat 9 cars, corn 4, oats 2, and sorghums 3.

Wheat No. 1 soft red winter nom. 1.12⅛@1.13½; No. 1 hard 1.07⅛@1.10⅛.

Barley No. 2 nom. 65@66; No. 3 nom. 64@65.

Sorghums No. 2 yellow milo per 100 lbs. nom. 1.26@1.30; No. 3 milo nom. 1.25@1.27. No. 2 white kafir nom. 1.23@1.25; No. 3 kafir nom. 20@22.

Corn, shelled, No. 2 white 80¼@80⅝; No. 2 yellow 76¼@76⅝.

Oats No. 2 red 47@48. No. 3 red 46@47.

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

SEAGRAVES, March 23. — The building of fifty homes in Seagraves within the next 30 days is the program charted for the Seagraves Chamber of Commerce, Lions club and Rotary club as a step to meet in part the acute housing shortage in this city, W. C. Cooper, secretary of the chamber of Commerce, announced today.

Committeemen representing the three cooperating organizations announce that the half hundred new homes stipulated in the objective would not entirely ease the pressing demand for new domiciles here. The city sorely needs one hundred new homes and apartments now, Cooper said.

Bottling Works Planned

C. D. Adams, local lumber dealer and chairman of the general home building committee, announced here today that mass meeting of interested citizens would be called within the next few days, to "sell the public" on the imperative necessity for meeting the housing challenge.

Several modern business buildings have recently been completed and occupied in the industrial and retail shopping districts. The Hestand-Kimble Grocery company have completed and occupied their new wholesale home here. Dirt was broken this week for another attractive brick and tile building in the 300 block on main. The latter is being erected by Ralph Oberholtzer.

An official building for the Panuco Oil company started a month ago will be completed within the next two or three weeks. The Coca Cola Bottling company of Monahans has purchased site in the south side industrial area on which a warehouse is to start immediately.

RESIGNS UTILITY JOB

MULESHOE — R. G. Spence, for the past eight years employed by both the city of Muleshoe and Texas-New Mexico Utilities Co., has resigned the latter post to give his entire time to his city work. He will be in charge of the city waterworks system.

Cotton Producers May Make Application Early For Free Classing Of '40 Cotton

Cotton producers who have formed groups to promote improvement in the quality of cotton or who are members of one-variety communities may apply for the free classification and market news services on their 1940 cotton as soon as planting is completed, according to announcement today by J. R. Kennedy, in charge, Agricultural Marketing Service, at Dallas. The closing dates for applications in Texas are August 1 for counties wholly or for the most part east of the 100th meridian, and August 15 for the following counties and those lying farther to the west; Hemphill, Wheeler, Collingsworth, Cottle, King, Stonewall, Fisher, Nolan, Coke, Tom Green, Schleicher, Sutton, Edwards, Kinney and Maverick.

To allow for somewhat later planting, applications will be received for these services from groups in Oklahoma through August 15.

Last year, applications were accepted up to September 1; but some groups for which applications were filed in late August did not receive their supplies in time to obtain classification for their early-ginned cotton. With the assistance of extension specialists, county agents, vocational agricultural teachers, ginners, and others, 287 organized cotton improvement groups in Texas, representing 18,444 members planting 628,558 acres; and 108 groups in Oklahoma, with 9,962 members planting 355,428 acres, made application for the free classification and market news services. Indications point to a larger number of applicants this year, according to Kennedy.

Instructions and forms for making application may be obtained through the county agent or by writing direct to the Agricultural Marketing Service at Box 1369, Dallas; Box 1140, Austin; or Room 509, U. S. Courthouse, El Paso.

Farm And Home Improvement Campaign For Dawson County Will Be Under Way Soon

LAMESA, March 23. (Special) — Dawson county's farm and home improvement campaign for 1940 is expected to get underway soon, according to sponsors of the project in Lamesa, with a series of meetings to be held beginning after March 26 in at least six rural communities of the county for the purpose of discussing among business men of the city and landowners of the county the definite outline of plans for the year's campaign.

At the chamber of commerce annual banquet March 6, awards totaling $1,000 were made to four farm families of the county for their outstanding work and results achieved during the campaign beginning Jan. 1, 1939 and ending Jan. 1, 1940. Mr. and Mrs. Carson Echols received $500 cash; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hinson received $250; Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Raney, $150; and Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey White, $100. The program was originally set up as a two-year project, and entrants will participate this year throughout a period beginning April 15, 1940, and ending April 15, 1941, shortly after the close of which awards will be made the families showing most outstanding results.

Cards Are Mailed

More than 100 cards have been mailed to original entrants of the 1939 campaign, with entry blanks to be returned to the offices of the Farm Security administration, where books may be obtained in which all records required for the project must be kept during the campaign period. Meetings are being arranged in Hancock, Harmony, Welch, Sparenberg, Klondike and Union, Dawson county community centers. Committees of farmers are arranging for these group discussions, and a large number of business men is expected to be present at each of the meetings.

Immediate sponsors of the campaign this year will be the same group that sponsored the 1939 project, namely Dawson county branches of governmental agencies, the chamber of commerce, civic clubs, other civic organizations, newspapers, and the merchants who will invest the money for awards. These groups feel that the original purpose of the campaign has been highly stimulated during one year. Objectives of the program are to promote the prosperity of agriculture in Dawson county, to increase the income and raise the living standards of the agricultural families of the area, to strengthen the economical status of the whole area based on accomplishments in farm management, systematic accounting and control, crop diversification, better livestock, soil conserving farm sustained homemaking and home improvements. A record showing results in each part of the program must be kept throughout the period by each farm family participating.

New Homes Built

Many new farm homes were built during 1939, while many others were remodeled and painted. Among other results judges noted more landscaping of farmsteads; more sodded lawns; foundation plantings; improved water systems, hot, cold and running water; more completely-equipped bathrooms; sewer, more modern home furnishings throughout; improved poultry flocks and housing facilities for livestock, as well; greatly improved practices in water and soil conservation, with terracing and contouring playing a leading role.

It is hoped by sponsors of the 1940 program that at least 200 farm families will cooperate with the campaign and participate throughout the designated period.

Cash May Not Fight Extradition To Texas

DALLAS, March 23. (AP)—Texas Prison Agent Bud Crane telephoned Dallas County Sheriff Smoot Schmid from Bisbee, Ariz., today and said he believed Murderer Robert Lacy Cash, Texas' convict escape artist, would not oppose extradition to Texas.

Crane seeks to return Cash, who escaped three times while serving a life sentence, to the Texas state penitentiary without requisition papers.

Should Cash fight the extradition, it would be necessary to send requisition papers to Arizona. Governor W. Lee O'Daniel issued them yesterday, after the Bisbee district attorney agreed to turn Cash over to Texas authorities.

Cash, a youthful, mild-mannered garage worker, who killed a Brooklyn, N. Y., salesman in a Dallas automobile theft more than two years ago, was captured this week near Boulder, Colo.

Easter

IT'S again Easter morning—an occasion for rejoicing, as our hearts hark back to that first Easter morning so long, long ago when the event of That Day fulfilled a promise of long standing and re-shaped the hopes and destinies of millions upon millions as it ushered in a new era that has withstood all tests of time down through the centuries.

WE have progressed immeasurably under the tenets of this Christian era. All that we hold dear today, in some measure, is definitely linked with the principles that date back to that first Easter morning. We will do well to think and think carefully before we are tempted to substitute now, some new untried man-made standards for those which have proven so well worth while down through the years.

SO this Easter morning we are reverently thankful, joyous and gay—in the mood to bedeck ourselves in the festive attire that has become the modern method of expressing these inner feelings as we go forth to join with budding nature itself as it too, raises its head in celebration of the occasion.

IT is in the spirit of such thoughts as these that we join you and the millions of others who will celebrate this Easter occasion throughout the world. No occasion is more momentus—none more deserving of commemoration.

The public is invited to this afternoon's program.

Scout Training Being Conducted At Lamesa

LAMESA, March 23. (Special)—An Adult Scout Training course was initiated in Lamesa this week when some twenty-five business and professional men of the city attended the first meeting in the basement of the First Methodist church to engage in contests, games and study programs designed to teach fathers and prospective fathers what the Boy Scout movement means to American youth.

In the absence of Fred A. Reese, in charge of instructions, acting also as senior patrol leader, Scout Masters Joe Spikes and Leslie Pratt conducted the first meeting of the series of three planned. During the pre-opening period attendants viewed exhibits, literature and handicraft used by the three Lamesa troops. Following a flag ceremony, discussion was made of "Scouting and its Fundamental Principles," after which the men engaged in a project period on "What Scouting Can Do."

The last two meetings of the series, with Reese in charge, will be conducted on Tuesday evenings, March 26 and April 2.

HOSPITAL REPORT

SLATON, March 23—Ray Mack Nezworth, who weighed 3 pounds at birth, is still in Mercy hospital and is gaining weight in his incubator home.

Casign, of Slaton; and Mr. J. T. Fergerson, of Slaton. Carlton Schaffner, of Slaton and H. C. Breshear, jr., of Morton were admitted for treatment of pneumonia.

More Publicity For Lubbock Through Its Cleanup Record Is Given In Newspaper

More publicity for Lubbock because of its phenomenal cleanup-paintup record is contained in the March 18 issue of the Christian Science Monitor, one of the world's most widely circulated daily newspapers, the chamber of commerce was advised here Saturday. The Monitor is published in Boston.

Under the caption, "What's the fare to Lubbock?" the publication continues with the following editorial observations:

"There's something about Lubbock—

"Consider the news that this Texas town has won the title of 'cleanest city in Texas' for the 10th year in a row. That could be explained by a sort of cooperative 'all-for-one, one-for-all' enthusiasm so often found in communities of which citizens are proud. But there's something else about this town deep in the cow country of the South Plains.

"There's not a millionaire in Lubbock, says a usually reliable source, yet prosperity is an accepted fact. One proof is that during the past three years, Lubbock has erected 1,750 new homes. Evidently the people who go there like to stay there. . . .

"What's the fare to Lubbock, anyhow?"

Author of the article is Stone, who visited Lubbock months ago and who also ten another article, title Wide Horizon," which ap the same issue of the pap

The article relates in cleanup-paintup campaign the following reference to and Amarillo:

"Cities such as Lubbock set an example for the re country to follow. This lit ern city with a population 000 has won the Texas tr the cleanest city) for the years in a row! In nei Amarillo, 15,000 people too part in the campaign."

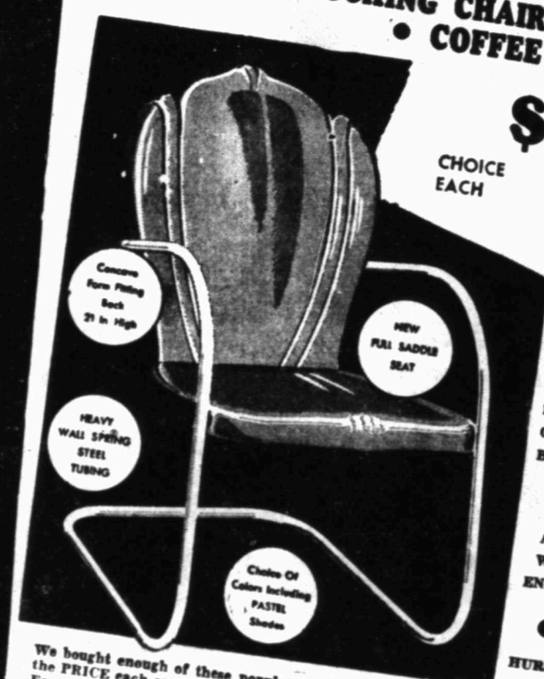

They are the only two ci singled out in the article tion by name.

Scout First Aid Teams Are To Compete For Title On Friday

Approximately 45 first aid teams of five members each are expected to compete for the South Plains Boy Scout council championship in Senior High school gymnasium Friday night at 7 o'clock, according to announcement Saturday by Ralph E. Stroup, general chairman of arrangements.

Official entries already have been received from 35 of the teams, with two of the nine districts in the council still to be heard from, he said.

Chief Judge Chosen

Stroup also announced the appointment of Scott Hollingsworth as chief judge, heading a committee of judges on which each team will be represented; Joe Wilson as recorder and timer, and Leo Waite as chairman of the awards committee. Banners will be awarded to the teams placing first and second.

Contestants, it was announced, will be divided into two groups, one group starting its demonstration at 7 p. m. and the other at 8 p. m. Judging will be on a point basis. Stroup extended an invitation to the interested public to be present.

Teams from which entries have been received were announced as follows:

To compete at 7 p. m.—two patrols from troop 4 and three from No. 5, Lubbock; two from No. 32, Crosbyton; one from No. 33, Ralls; one from No. 21, Tahoka; three from No. 29, Slaton; two from No. 47, Morton; three from No. 49, Brownfield; and three from No. 57, Floydada.

To compete at 8 p. m.—two from No. 50, Plainview; four from No. 63, Tulia; one from No. 67, Dimmitt; one from No. 77, Denver City; three from No. 79, Seagraves; three from No. 23, Lamesa, and one from No. 80, Lamesa.

Sexton New Circus Chief

Appointment of O. J. Sexton of Lubbock as general chairman of arrangements for the council-wide scout circus to be staged in Texas Technological college stadium the night of May 3 was announced Saturday by Dr. F. B. Malone, council president.

Sexton replaces Earl Heard, head of the textile engineering department of Tech, who has resigned effective June 1 to become dean of the Philadelphia Textile Institute.

The chairman announced that he will name his general committee not later than Monday and will call the first meeting of the group for 8 o'clock Tuesday morning in the chamber of commerce. Assignments of the parts various scout troops and cub packs are to have in the circus will be made this week, he said.

More than 1,000 Boy Scouts and cubs from various of the 20 counties in South Plains council will participate in the presentation, he asserted.

District Committee Named

Committee chairmen who will direct activities in Lubbock Boy Scout district during 1940 were announced Saturday by C. H. Hamilton, general chairman.

They follow: organization, J. E. Maisen; finance, E. C. Kuykendal; training, Dr. A. W. Young; advancement, J. C. Reynolds; health and safety, Ralph E. Stroup; camping and activities, Cecil Schwalbe; senior program, C. W. Tinney; cubbing, Bill Kaiser; reading, Rev. J. A. Winslow; and George Dale, public relations.

J. A. Fortenberry is district vice chairman and George Langford is district commissioner.

Ko Shari Club Has Trip To Santa Fe

BY LOIS MARIE DANIEL
Of The Woman's Staff

KO Shari club members, pledges and sponsors are in Santa Fe, New Mexico, enjoying a four-day schedule which included initiation of the fall-semester pledges. This is a club of Texas Technological college. This is the eighth trip to be made by the club. The first one was made in two Ford cars with only eight or nine girls taking part. This year the trip was made in two chartered buses with 50 girls going.

High mass in the historic St. Francis Cathedral is to be attended this morning at 6 o'clock. After the services an Easter breakfast will be served at La Fonda hotel, headquarters. The table will be in the shape of a cross with Easter lilies as decorations. Placecards will be letters, telegrams and greetings from friends and relatives.

Initiation Held In Kiva

The girls will be free during the afternoon to visit places of interest in the city. At 5 o'clock the buses will leave for Arrowhead camp at Glorieta Pass where supper will be served. The formal initiation of the pledges will begin at the camp and final rites will be atop the mountains in an ancient kiva which is under excavation by Dr. W. C. Holden, dean of historical and anthropological research at the college. Dr. Holden, honorary sponsor of the club, is responsible for the name and history of the organization.

The group will return to Lubbock late Monday.

Friday the group visited El Rito de los Frijoles, the canyon home of ancient Indian cliff dwellers, which is about 25 miles from the capital city. It is now a national park, made famous through archaeological excavations and restorations. It is the setting of Adolf Bandelier's book, "Delightmakers." Supper was served in an Inn at the camp.

Visit Places Of Interest

Saturday's itinerary included the historic Governor's Palace, the Art Museum, the Laboratory of Anthropology, a drive out Artist Row, shopping excursions and a visit to the Indian school. Homes of famous writers and artists also were visited. Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock a tea was held in the patio of the hotel and Saturday night a formal dinner-dance was attended in the New Mexican room of La Fonda.

Pledges to be initiated are Misses Peggy Lovelady, Virginia Kennedy, Frances Gary, Marguerite Brannen, Jane Brownfield, Mary Louise Butcher, Jimmie Fay Compton, Milton Joyce, Virginia Pearson, Elizabeth Sears, Ruth Tinkler, Mary Helen Vestal, Beverley Wade, Mary June Walter, Mildred Mitchell, Georgia Sue Wharton, Vivian Whar-

Doris Lickey Is To Wed At Home

THE marriage of Miss Doris Lickey, older daughter of Mrs. Carl W. McFarland of 1625 Sixteenth street, and Ralph McClure of Fort Worth, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McClure of Claude, will take place at 10 o'clock this morning at the home of the bride with Rev. H. G. Gantz of First Christian church officiating.

The couple will exchange vows as they stand before the mantel which will be banked with ferns and centered with an arrangement of Easter lilies and other spring flowers reflected in a wall mirror. Baskets of flowers will be on either side of the mantel.

Plan Musical Program

Preceding the ceremony Loren D. Lickey of Wichita Falls, the bride's father, will play Schubert's Serenade as a violin solo, accompanied at the piano by Miss Doris Kolb. Miss Doris Darks, accompanied by Miss Kolb, will sing "I Love You Truly." Soft music will be played throughout the service.

The bride will wear a navy and white sheer ensemble and a white halo hat with blue veil. She will carry a nosegay of pink camellis. Her attendant will be her sister, Miss Lorna Fay Lickey, who will wear a dusty rose frock with white accessories and carry a white nosegay.

Marvin Miller of Claude will serve as best man.

Reception To Follow

The couple's mothers will preside at the reception which follows and a wedding cake will be served with coffee. The bride's table is to be covered with lace and centered with the three-tiered cake which is topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom and lighted with white tapers. The maid of honor will assist in serving.

The couple will be at home in Fort Worth where Mr. McClure is with a lumber company. He is a graduate of West Texas State Teachers college in Canyon. The bride was a senior student at Texas Technological college last semester.

Out-of-town guests other than those mentioned will include Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hendrix and daughter, Jimmie and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Martin of Dumas; Mr. and Mrs. Alton McClure and son, John, of Claude; Mrs. Lillie Belle McClure and daughter, Corinne, Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Cornelius and Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Schneider and daughters, Norma Fern and Shirley Lee, all of Amarillo; Mrs. Marvin Miller; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Darks of Oklahoma City and Mrs. Eula Ribble of Littlefield.

Easter Breakfast Is Served By Classes

First year homemaking classes at Senior High school served two Easter breakfasts last week in the homemaking department. Yellow jonquils were floral decorations and clever place cards made from Easter eggs were favors.

Students serving the meals were Arlene Younger, Imogene Bell, Sally Temple and Rebecca Bradshaw. Guests were Mesdames Ross Ayers, L. H. Kirby and Ameral Payne, Misses Mary Katherine Gunter and Mayme Alexander.

Student teachers were Misses Helen Hanschu, Louise McCrummen, Argen Hix, Anibel Speer and Mrs. Bennett C. Benson. They are Tech home economics students.

Miss Gertrude Watson, head of the department, was supervisor.

PLAN QUILTING

The Loyalty club is to meet with Mrs. Dan Lacewell, 2118 Sixteenth street, Wednesday afternoon for a quilting. Members are asked to come at any time during the afternoon.

Egg Rollings Held At Club Grounds

Egg-rolling at the White House in Washington, D. C. has been the custom since 1878 and egg-hunts have been the custom in Lubbock since there was such a place, 49 years.

Mrs. Rutherford B. Hayes entertained with a children's party on Easter Monday, 1878, and the egg-rolling was such a success that it has become an established custom. Just for the fun of it Washington youngsters get up at sunrise Easter morning and start for the White House with baskets of gaily decorated eggs.

Friday, Saturday and Sunday Lubbock children enjoyed egg-hunts at the schools, churches and homes.

For Two Departments

Mrs. A. D. Leonard, 1918 Sixteenth street, was hostess to the beginners and nursery departments of the Asbury Methodist church. She was assisted by Mesdames Carl Alexander, J. C. Dean, J. K. Salser, jr., and Collier Smith. Thirty children and 16 mothers were present.

The children gave a program of songs and told the mothers what they did in their Sunday school classes while older children were hiding the eggs.

A tiny nest of green was made for each egg.

Hunt At Country Club

The Lubbock Country club women's association sponsored two hunts at the club Friday afternoon. Each child brought six eggs for himself and his guest. Approximately 40 younger children participated and 50 older children.

Prizes were given for the child finding the gold egg, the silver egg and to the one who found the largest number. Refreshments were served.

Approximately 60 children attended the hunt given by St. Paul's Episcopal church school at the home of Mrs. D. K. Bondurant, 2123 Twenty-eighth street, Saturday afternoon. Ice cream was served.

Eggs were hidden Saturday morning and the hunt began at 2 o'clock.

Three departments of the First Presbyterian Sunday school attended hunts at the church Saturday afternoon. This is a traditional affair. Children brought eggs for themselves and their guests.

'Hobbies" Is Subject For Club Discussion

"Hobbies" was the subject of the Liberty Study club recently when the members met in the home of Mrs. C. L. Newton. Roll call was answered with "My Hobby."

Mrs. Haney Emery discussed "Why Have A Hobby," and Mrs. Newton talked on "Interesting Hobbies." Mrs. M. C. Nelson discussed "Health and Leisure Time."

A salad plate with Easter favors was served to Mesdames J. P. Walter, S. B. Summers, J. H. Pressley, W. A. Teeter, Emery, Nelson and the hostess.

Gladys Swarthout Is Chosen All American In Poll For "Best Dressed" Women

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP)—America's 13 best dressed women, chosen in a poll by 100 leading designers were announced today by the Fashion Academy. The winners:

Helen Menken, radio.
Katharine Hepburn, stage.
Sarah Palfrey Fabian, sports.
Mrs. Myron C. Taylor, public life.
Josephine Johnson, debutante.
Hildegarde, supper clubs.
Mrs. James H. R. Cromwell, society.
Lucy Monroe, opera.
Helena Rubenstein, business.
Catharine Littlefield, ballet.
Gladys Swarthout, All-American.
Anne Neagle, international screen.

Winning in the classification, All-American, does not necessarily mean that Miss Swarthout is the best dressed woman in America," the Fashion Academy reported. Miss Swarthout, it was said, represented "a typical American woman wearing typically American clothes."

According to Emil Alvin Hartman, director of Fashion Academy, the awards were made on "style understanding," harmonization in ensembles and avoidance of imitation.

In previous years the list had been limited to 10, but this year it was increased to 13, Hartman said, to give a better cross section of the nation's fashion tastes.

Three-Day Meeting Is In Plainview

The thirteenth annual conference for Methodist Women's Missionary societies will be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in Plainview. Approximately 300 delegates are expected to attend.

The business session will open at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning at the First Methodist church with Mrs. C. M. Randal of Seymour presiding.

Miss Thelma Stevens of Nashville, Tenn., council superintendent of Christian Social Relations, will be one of the guest speakers. Miss Sue Stanford, a missionary to China, will also attend. Miss Stanford's home is in Waco and she is in Texas on furlough from her work in the Orient. Both women will speak during the three-day meetings.

To Give Local Report

Mrs. M. B. Hilburn of Lubbock, district secretary, will give a report of the work done by the Methodist societies in Lubbock for the past year.

Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock a dinner will be given at the church for the WMS presidents and Wednesday afternoon there will be a tea for all the district secretaries in the Northwest Texas conference.

There are nine districts in this conference. Delegates from the First Methodist church here are Mesdames Max Tidmore, Ross Trigg, Ewald Lamprecht, W. H. Hindman, J. J. Kendrick, B. W. Scarbrough and alternates, Mesdames Charles Ross and H. W. Sims.

Mesdames L. C. Christianson and J. D. Strickland will represent the St. John's church and Mesdames E. M. Lovelace and Paul Williams will represent the Asbury Methodist church.

Friday Party Is Held For Recreation Club

Mrs. J. H. Fowler, 1411 Twenty-fourth street, entertained the Recreation Bridge club Friday afternoon. High score was won by Mrs. Clarence Woods and second high was won by Mrs. H. L. McCauley. Mrs. J. I. Horn received the traveling prize.

Those present were Mesdames Joe Durham, Rex Byrns, Clyde Ragland, H. J. Crawford and Preston Smith. Guests were Mesdames Louis Vigna, E. J. Berryhill and Elmer Cline. The next meeting will be with Mrs. McCauley.

BEST DRESSED—A descendant of Texas ranchers, informal Helen Draper's simple rules of dress by student vote have made her "best dressed co-ed" of the University of Texas. She is a Pampa girl. Pictured here in typical co-ed skirt-sweater-saddle oxfords campus wear, Helen says to be really well-dressed one should have good-looking shoes and hose; simple dress; flawless complexion; hair with a sheen.

Keeping Up With Comings, Goings And Doings

From Lou To Louella

DEAR LOUELLA: In the mail comes a letter that should set all feminine, unspoken-for hearts aflutter. I am printing it in full below.

"This is one of those rural correspondents chirping up again! We all remember the eligible bachelor contest the Avalanche-Journal ran not long ago. John Shewmake seemed to fly the colors in that race. Must be a swell Joe. Don't yet understand how I missed meeting him. But that was last month. This month the dames in Lubbock can take on new life for the incentive is forthcoming."

Abilene's "Glammer Boy"

"Starting the first of next month they shall have in their midst one of the finest and most eligible young men in Texas as a resident of Lubbock. He was the proud winner of the Bachelor contest in Abilene and really is aces in any man's family. Jack Wheeler is 28 years old, a bridge shark, a wonderful dancer, dresses in perfect taste, has an abundance of wit and plenty of those necessary looks. You will think the correspondent has taffy on said young man but no, these are merely facts from the Abilene Reporter-News. Besides he is the type that everyone likes and enjoys."

"Scoop the Snoop."

"P. S. Mr. Wheeler and Mr. Shewmake have talked this situation over and have decided to remain fast friends regardless of which one gets the most honors."

All I can say is that I hope you are in town to meet this Mr. Wheeler when he arrives. Someone did a swell job on advance publicity.

AT two weddings held last week the bride and bridegroom's club songs were played during the ceremony. When John Harding and Lorene Childers married, Miss Ruth Mildred Rylander played "Indian Love Call," Ko Shari club song and "When Day Is Done", Silver Key club song. Mr. and Mrs. Harding are sponsors of their respective clubs.

"Indian Love Call" and "Stardust," which is the Kemas club song, were played at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Jordan.

George Musick, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Musick, was elected president of the Business-Managers association at the Inter-Collegiate Southwestern Jouralism congress in New Orleans recently. He is business manager-elect of the Toreador, student newspaper at Texas Tech, for next year.

Lorena Alexander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Alexander, and Dorothy James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. James, who are home for the Easter holidays from Mary-Hardin Baylor were entertained with a party on the Alexander Circle Dot ranch Friday night. They will return to school Monday.

Betty Jean Jones is home visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hub Jones, and Lubbock friends, from the University of Texas.

A big birthday party is being given at the I. E. Banks home today. Five members of the family are to be honored. Mrs. Banks celebrates her birthday today; her grandson, Edgar Murphey will be five years old Monday; Mrs. H. W. Burton, Mrs. Banks' daughter, had her birthday March 20 and Mr. Burton had his birthday March 12 and Mrs. F. M. Murphey, Edgar's mother, will have a birthday April 4. All members of the family except one son of Mr. and Mrs. Banks will be present.

Visit In El Paso

Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Goodwin and Mrs. Roscoe Wilson are in El Paso this week-end. They left Lubbock Thursday.

Turner Kimmel and Sarabeth Kimmel, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Kimmel, are to receive as a graduation gift, an airplane trip to Washington, D. C. They will leave the Big Spring airport Tuesday and be gone about a week. The gift is from Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Turner, jr., of Midland, aunt and uncle of Turner and Sarabeth, who are going to Washington to meet their daughter Miss Fredda Fay Turner, a student in Sweetbriar college in Virginia. Dorothy Turner, another daughter, is also making the trip. During their stay Princeton university and Sweetbriar college will entertain with their annual dance which is quite an affair.

Mrs. L. D. Thomas spent Friday in Crosbyton and Mr. Thomas spent Friday in San Angelo. He returned Saturday night.

Laurence Alexander Banks, very young son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Banks, jr., was born on the same day as Arnette Halsey, May 14. The Banks and the Halseys are next door neighbors.

ROBERT J. WALKER will spend today in San Angelo. Miss Mary Louise Douglas is in Evergreen Valley, N. M., for the Easter holidays. Misses Lalla D'Spain and Wyndra Gay Robertson; Joe Moss of Post and Dr. Charles Murray are visiting with Miss D'Spain's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. D'Spain in McLean.

Mrs. J. M. Young is visiting with her son and daughter-in-law and their young son, Dr. and Mrs. Bernice Young of Post.

Club Pin Passed On

Roscoe Clark, past president of alumnae of Kemas club at Tech, gave his club pin to the organization to be given to the pledge obtain each year. Harold Thompson of Denver, Colo., is wearing it now and Winn Lehamn will be the next man in line for the honor.

I like people like Mrs. W. B. Ivy and Mrs. Leonard Cole who bring lovely hyacinths to the office.

apprenticeship in his business. He is a member of a local civic club and takes part in community affairs.

"The mother is a high school graduate and has had two years in a junior college. She is a good manager and does all the work of the household including the sewing and cooking. She is interested in community improvements and church work. She belongs to one social club and takes part in social affairs of community interest. The daughter will graduate from high school in May and the son wants to play high school football next year."

The 1940 open house will be arranged to show the difference in living standards for this average family and for the professional family averaging $2000 yearly. Living costs for the latter family, according to figures worked out in the various departments of the home economics division, would be as follows: savings, 8 per cent; food, 30 per cent; shelter, 18 per cent; clothing, 14 per cent; operation, 12 per cent; advancement and personal needs, 18 per cent.

How One Woman Lost 20 Pounds Of Fat

Lost Her Double Chin—Lost Her Prominent Hips—Lost Her Sluggishness

Gained a More Shapely Figure and the Increase in Physical Vigor and Vivaciousness Which So Often Comes With Excess Fat Reduction.

Thousands of women are getting fat and losing their appeal just because they do not know what to do.

Why not be smart—do what thousands of women have done to get off pounds of unwanted fat. Take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water first thing every morning to gently activate liver, bowels and kidneys. Cut down your caloric intake. Eat wisely and satisfyingly—there need never be a hungry moment!

Keep this plan up for 30 days. Then weigh yourself and see if you haven't lost pounds of ugly fat. Just see if this doesn't prove to be the surprise of your life and make you feel like shouting the good news to other fat people. And best of all a jar of Kruschen that will last you for 4 weeks costs but little. If not joyfully satisfied, money back. Mark Halsey Drug Stores, Slaton Agent — Teague Drug Co. Adv.

Mary Florence Van Horn And M. O. Boring Are Wed Saturday At Odessa Church

ODESSA, March 23 (Special) — Miss Mary Florence Van Horn and Mac Otts Boring, jr., were married at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the First Methodist church with Rev. G. A. Schlueter officiating with the ring ceremony.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. G. A. Poole sang "At Dawning" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied at the piano by Miss Helen Brewer.

The altar was banked with woodwardia fern and tall baskets of gladioli. The chancel rail was decorated with palms, Easter lilies and gladioli. A white satin prayer bench was placed in front of the altar.

Bride Wears Costume Suit

The bride wore a costume suit of wild rose with a bleached lynx collar and accessories of milk chocolate. Her corsage was of brown orchids.

Miss Pauline Van Horn, sister of the bride, wore a toast-colored costume suit with mist blue accessories and a corsage of cornflowers and lilies-of-the-valley. She was maid-of-honor.

A. B. Knickerbocker served as best man. Ushers were R. O. Canon and Tom Fickering. They wore carnation boutonnaires.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Lasseter.

In House Party

The house party included Mrs. Lasseter, Mrs. Paul Marion Van Horn, mother of the bride, Mrs. R. O. Canon, Mrs. R. Henderson Shuffler, Mrs. A. B. Knickerbocker, Mrs. B. A. Healy, Mrs. Paul Slator, Mrs. T. A. Fickering, Mrs. M. O. Boring of Fort Worth and Miss Margaret Lasseter of Westbrook.

The house was decorated with baskets of Easter lilies, gladioli and smilax. A three-tiered wedding cake was served.

Bride Was Tech Student

The bride received her B. B. A. degree from Texas Technological college last year. She was president of Las Chaparritas social club, member of Book Reviewers, Forum, Inter-Club council and other campus organizations. She was honored many times during her college days by being selected as a candidate for beauty queen or duchess in carnivals and pageants.

Mr. Boring is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Boring of Fort Worth. He received his B. S. degree in petroleum engineering from the University of Oklahoma. He is connected with the M. B. K. Drilling company here.

CATCHY REQUEST

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—A taxpayer appeared at the office of John M. Hart, Roanoke commissioner of revenue, and asked for an "entanglement return." It was finally determined that he wanted a form on which to make out returns for his intangible personal property taxes.

SOME KIND OF RECORD

RUSH CENTER, Kan. (AP)—Mrs. L. D. Scandrett thinks Rush Center must be the "widow capital of Kansas—if not the whole U. S. A. By actual count, she says 23 of the 230 persons who live here are widows.

It has been estimated that more than 5000 policemen are needed to fill the gaps in England's police force.

Thelma Fisher And G. L. Karlin Wed

HOBBS, N. M., March 23. (Special)—Miss Thelma Grace Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Fisher of this city and formerly of Shallowater, Texas, became the bride of Glenn C. Karlin of Springer, N. M., Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Methodist parsonage here. Rev. Clark of Hobbs performed the ceremony.

The vows were exchanged before an altar decorated with Easter lilies. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. James Martin sang, "Because" accompanied at the piano by Miss Mary Margaret Clark.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a teal blue bolero suit with a dusty pink blouse and black accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias.

Miss Mahoney Is Attendant

Miss Grace Lee Mahoney of Shallowater and senior student at Texas Technological college was maid-of-honor. She wore a gray crepe dress with blue hat and a corsage of sweetheart roses. Jack Moore of Springer was best man.

The bride was graduated from Texas Technological college last year and has been teaching in Farley, N. M. She majored in home economics and was a member of Phi Upsilon Omicron, national honorary home economics fraternity and Las Leales fellowship society.

The bridegroom attended Springer High school and was graduated from the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque. He is principal of the Farley schools. The couple will be at home in Farley where they are teaching.

An informal reception was held after the wedding at the bride's home. Mrs. Henry Mahoney served punch with the wedding cake to relatives and close friends.

Those attending were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Marrs and family and Mrs. Addie Huntley of Hobbs; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Middlebrook and Dean of Odessa, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mahoney of Shallowater, Texas.

Letters inviting members of Hi-Y, Girl Reserves and other older girls' organizations have been sent to 40 schools of West Texas.

Glancing Backward

News Notes Taken From Files Of The Avalanche-Journal

March 28, 1912—South Plains summer normal will meet at Lubbock beginning May 28th and is expected to be the most successful session that has ever been held in the South Plains country.

March 27, 1919—The men of the First Presbyterian church were the guests in a local home for a supper last Thursday night. Considerable embarrassment was caused as the men were taking their leave by the announcement that every man should be searched as some silver was missing. The men began emptying their pockets and quite a collection of nickels and dimes were on the table when it was announced that the lost knife and fork had been found.

March 24, 1929 — Announcement was made yesterday of the marriage of Miss Adline Beliah to Fred C. Higbee which took place in Slaton last Sunday at 10:30 o'clock.

March 25, 1934—Mrs. C. P. Cox, 2320 Main street, has announced the marriage of her daughter, Miss Ada Lou Cox, to W. O. Harbison. The ceremony was read in Clovis, N. M., by Rev. J. Frank Nix, Baptist minister.

March 27, 1938—Eighteen paintings from the private collection of John Young-Hunter of Taos, N. M., Scotch artist, will be exhibited in the museum on the campus of Texas Technological college.

Girl Scouts Stage Rally On Friday

A Girl Scout rally was held Friday night at 6:30 o'clock at the American Legion hall to honor Miss Katherine Shankland, training advisor, from national headquarters in New York City.

Songs, skits and folk dances were presented by the troops. Miss Shankland talked to the group and told them about the Girl Scout camp in Albuquerque, N. M. last year. She told about the Indian tribe that visited the camp and instructed the girls in crafts. She also taught the girls a song, "Ho, Young Rider." Miss Doris Hopping taught a Girl Scout song to the group, "Tauncij."

Miss Shankland conducted an area training course for troops from South Plains towns Saturday morning at the First Christian church. She left Saturday afternoon.

A training course will be conducted in May here and Miss Shankland will return at that time.

Claude Barnes Recalls First Lynn Thresher

TAHOKA, March 23.—Claude Barnes, a long-time resident of Lynn county, claims the distinction of having operated the first steam thresher in the county, 27 years ago next summer.

"In 1913," he stated, "I sounded the first team thresher whistle ever heard in Lynn county; mine was the first steam thresher ever brought here.

"The first threshing job was done for George Small. I was kept busy threshing maize and other sorghums all that fall and winter, and in the spring, hardly stopping until wheat threshing began farther north. Early that summer I took my thresher and went to Plainview, where I threshed wheat. A year later I threshed more than 100,000 bushels of grain."

Barnes said he was kept busy until the drouth of 1917 when a drop came in the work. In a few years the combine harvester-thresher became more common and practically all of the grain threshing is now done on the field after the crop is cut.

Federal Funds For Club Projects Now Available In County

Federal funds for project work of 4-H club and Future Farmers of America members in Lubbock county are now available, said Marvin C. Wilson, rural supervisor of Farm Security administration.

Money will be loaned to boys of these two groups, under FSA regulations, for the purchase of livestock, including bred gilts, lambs, feeder calves and registered dairy heifers. Arrangements are to be made through the club leaders or assistant county agent.

Last year, said Wilson, 23 registered bred heifers were purchased for boys through the FSA. Twelve of these came from the Sunshine Ranch of San Antonio, owned by James and Maury Maverick and the rest from Dallas and vicinity.

No purchases were made of bred pigs or feeder calves last year.

EASY WORK

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Efficiency, that's the word for Colorado Springs firemen. Called to a blaze in a bank building, they discovered a huge pile of trash was on fire in the boiler room. Grabbing shovels, they simply scooped the burning pile into the firebox.

Help Promote Safety — Dim Your Lights When Passing.

IN OTHER, blunter words, why be satisfied to trail?

Why buy a car that's content to follow along—when little, if any, more money will put you in a Buick up where the banners are flying?

For as five minutes on any busy street corner will show you, this year's automotive style pattern was cut by Buick a good twelve months ago.

This year's performance tempo was set two years back when the Buick Dynaflash engine appeared.

And this year's comfort standards still have some catching up to do to equal Buick's combination of four coil springs, recoil-mounted Knee-Action, the SUPER's five-foot front seat room and Foamtex cushions.

Eventually, perhaps, others may find a way to micropoise-balance engines after assembly in search of Buick's present silky smoothness. They may get around to making Two-Way Direction Signals standard equipment instead of extras; they may heavy-up their frames, and generally seek to equal Buick's staunchness.

Meantime you'll have those Buick blessings to enjoy.

You'll step out front at the touch of an eager treadle, swing through the gear changes with light-and-easy finger-flicking, pilot a joyous traveler that's equally ready for work or play, and does everything with ease matched only by its smartness.

You'll drive the style-leader, the comfort-leader, the value-leader—a car full of things that will still be "new" a good two years from now.

And as a visit to your Buick dealer will show, you'll get it at prices like those you find on the sixes.

That gives you something real to look into. Start looking early — to get in on all the fun.

Prices begin at $895 for Business Coupe —Sedan prices start at $955— *delivered at Flint, Mich. Transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

Special Easter Services Will Be Conducted In Lubbock's Churches Toda

Tech To Stage Annual Rites

Church services early this morning will observe church history's anniversary of the Risen Christ.

"Easter Dawn," a pageant, will be presented at 5:45 o'clock in the First Christian church. Mrs. H. G. Gantz is director of the presentation, written by Mrs. H. W. Moore.

Annual Tech Service

At 6:45 o'clock an annual service will be conducted on the campus of Texas Technological college by YM-YWCA.

A service at the Foursquare Gospel church, at Eighth and Avenue Q, will be conducted at 7:30 o'clock, said Rev. Floyd Dawson, pastor.

As in the past trumpets will be played from an administration building tower at beginning and close of the Tech service. On the program there will be Jack Turner, David Morrison and Glen Brown, trumpeters; Earl Camp, who will sound the call to worship, congressional singing; Douglas Hardy, who will play Cradle Song (Brahms); J. W. Gamble, who will sing the Holy City, and Dr. Jack M. Lewis, First Presbyterian church pastor, who will speak on an Easter theme.

In Scripture And Song

At the First Presbyterian church, the night service will be centered in an Easter theme. The program, which treats with The Life of Christ, will be in scripture and song, presented by the junior choir directed by Mrs. Paul H. Laverty and accompanied at the piano by Miss Carolyn Seale.

Organ prelude by Mrs. R. C. Douglas.
Doxology.
Invocation.
Hymn, All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name.
I. Christ's Birth; scripture. (a) Gloria In Excelsis Deo—Junior choir. (b) O Come to My Heart, Lord Jesus—Junior Choir.
II. Christ's Triumph; scripture. (a) Palm Branches—Junior choir.
III. Christ's Death; scripture. (a) There Is a Green Hill Far Away.
IV. Christ's Resurrection; scripture. (a) Rejoice for the Lord Is Risen.

An Easter rally service will be held at the First Christian church Sunday school, beginning at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

Emphasis will be the Easter special offering for home mission, church extension and brotherhood enterprises. The attendance goal will be 400 persons and $190.

Littlefield To Hold Series Of Services

LITTLEFIELD, March 23 — Five Littlefield churches and the Salvation Army have joined together for a series of daily union religious services starting Monday and lasting two weeks.

Services will be in the Palace theater at 10 o'clock each morning for two weeks, excepting Saturday and Sunday. Night services will be in each of the cooperating churches.

At 9:45 o'clock the city siren will be sounded twice to remind those interested of the meetings. Services in the morning will be undenominational in character. Local ministers will speak.

Cooperating will be: Rev. Roy Shehan, First Baptist; Rev. Donald Harris, First Presbyterian; Rev. J. H. Sharp, First Methodist; W. M. McFarland, Church of Christ; Rev. G. W. Pitts, Assembly of God; Capt. Eula Trummell, Salvation Army.

CHURCH ADDITION PLANNED

LITTLEFIELD, March 23—Board of Stewards of the Methodist church voted to go ahead with proposal to raise funds for a $10,000 addition to the church.

A committee has been named to visit members and ask contributions.

TO CONDUCT SONGS

Rev. D. C. Hamilton, director of religious education of the Calvary Baptist church, is to conduct the song services for a revival which begins today in Tahoka First Baptist church. Rev. George A. Dale is pastor of the Tahoka church.

Tommy Rogers of 2318 Twentieth street, a student at Texas Technological college, is spending the week-end in Fort Worth.

NEW CHAIRS INSTALLED

LITTLEFIELD, March 23 — The Baptist church here recently installed 118 new opera type chairs in the auditorium to accommodate increased crowds, Rev. Roy Shahan, pastor, announced.

Church members raised over $400 for payment of the church's portion of paving 179 feet between the church and the parsonage, said C. O. Griffin, finance committee chairman.

Singers Are To Gather In City

Lubbock County Singing Convention next Sunday will be host at an all-day program, at which visiting quartets from other states will appear.

Dinner will be served.

"All are asked to bring their dinner and to be hosts to the visiting singers," said Rev. Jeff Welch, co-pastor of Central Baptist church.

He asked however that the following announcement be noted closely:

Sing Also On Saturday

"There will be singing Saturday night, as well, but quartets from other states are not planning to be there. The Saturday night singing will be in the Church of the Foursquare Gospel, the Sunday program in the gymnasium at Texas Technological college.

"For the Sunday program, the Stamps-Daniell quartet of Alabama and the Vaughn quartet of Lawrenceburg, Tenn., will be here. They will not sing Saturday night, however."

Mr. Welch said Lubbock and South Plains quartets would sing Saturday night.

"We not only would like to see singers bring food for visiting singers, but offer homes for them Saturday night," he said. "Please get in touch with me at telephone 135-J, as soon as you find it convenient."

Mrs. Garwood Bowers and children, Kay Aileen and David of Abilene, are spending the week-end with Mrs. Bowers' mother, Mrs. K. Carter of 1410 Avenue L, and her sister, Mrs. Howard Wheelock, and family of 1912 Fifteenth street.

Mrs. Wayne Willingham of Seagraves and granddaughter of Mrs. B. F. Dixon, 2407 Fourteenth street, is recovering from a major operation in Lubbock sanitarium.

TO CONDUCT REVIVAL—Dr. Kelly O'Neall, above, pastor of the Crown Heights Christian church of Oklahoma City, will conduct the First Christian church in an evangelistic meeting today through April 15. A graduate of the Pacific School of Religion and a Doctor of Philosophy, he has been pastor in Oakland and Huntington Park, Calif., and last year was one of the candidates for the Most Useful Citizens of Oklahoma City. He will preach each night at 7:30 o'clock.

Sunrise Service Is Scheduled At Spur

SPUR, March 23—A crowd of 1,000 or more persons is being anticipated for the second annual Easter Sunrise church service in the Charles A. Jones Memorial stadium here at 6:30 o'clock Sunday morning, with churches in Dickens, Kent and Motley counties participating.

The service is a part of a pre-Easter union campaign in which Spur churches have cooperated with a two weeks revival. The ministerial association is sponsoring the meeting.

John Lee Smith of Throckmorton is to deliver the principal address. Rev. U. M. Culwell of Floydada, in charge of singing at the Methodist church revival, will lead the audience.

Spur High school band, with L. B. King, director, will play special numbers. Rev. J. R. Joyner, Baptist pastor and chairman of the group is to preside; Rev. J. E. Harrell, Methodist pastor, will give the invocation; Rev. E. O. Prior, Assembly of God, will read the scripture lesson and Rev. J. H. Miles, Church of Christ, will give the benediction.

Pastors report good attendance at the meetings. Tom V. Ellzey, Perryton, Methodist lay worker, has led the simultaneous work. Regular church services are planned for Sunday morning and night.

executive board will meet at 1 o'clock, as will the Woman's Missionary Union.

Mark Halsey Aids Students By Giving Them Jobs; Head Of C. Of C. Active Leader

Texas Technological college is Lubbock's greatest institution and should receive all the support possible from the city's business interests, is the belief of Mark Halsey, druggist and president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Every owner of three drug stores in town carries out that belief by supporting the institution in the best way he believes he can — the employment of students.

In the three Mark Halsey drug stores a total of 41 students are employed. They attend either Lubbock High school or Tech.

Job Can Be Of Great Aid

"I had to work for my schooling and I know just how much a job can do for a student who is not able to attend school without working," Halsey said. "Then, too, I believe that when a student works, he makes a better citizen in later years because he has already learned some of the fundamentals of living — that of making a living."

Mark Halsey tries to make it a point that all employes of soda fountains in his stores exclusive of managers must be attending some school either high school or college. Most of the regular employes in the stores now started out as students, graduated from high school and college and worked up to responsible positions in the personnel.

Born In Rogers, Tex.

Born in Rogers, Tex., Feb. 25, 1888, Mark Halsey was one of three sons and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Halsey. His father was a farmer and young Mark received a common education in the rural schools near Rogers until he enrolled in the Thomas Arnold High school at Salado, a private institution. He graduated in 1910 and enrolled in the school of pharmacy of the University of Texas at Galveston.

How did he ever decide to become a druggist?

"One hot summer day, I went into a drug store at Moody and saw a man with a cool white jacket behind the counter and he looked like he was having an easy time of it and there's when I decided to be a druggist," Halsey laughingly remarked. "You see, I didn't follow him all day or I would surely have changed my mind," he added.

Opened Up In Saledo

After graduation from the school of pharmacy Halsey went to Saledo where he became the owner of a drug store after effecting a loan of $600 to start in the business. He remained at Saledo eight years and then went to Belton where he operated a drug store four years. In 1924 he came to Lubbock and after serving two years, sold out and went to Crane City where he stayed two years. In 1928 he returned to Lubbock and opened his No. 1 store at 1219 Broadway. His business has expanded until it now extends from 1219 Broadway and into two drug stores No. 2 College and Broadway and No. 3 Sixteenth and Ave. H.

Likes To Hunt

Mark's main diversion is hunting and fishing. He takes off every hunting season and walks the mountains of New Mexico and South Texas, wherever the antlered game is more plentiful, with his hunting partner, Charles Bacon. A total of trophies adorn the walls of his home. He also takes off weekends during fishing season to make trips with friends to some mountain stream for a few hours of relaxation in this sport.

Mark Halsey was married to Miss Ruth Campbell, Aug. 28, 1913 at Ballinger. They have three children, Hop Halsey, manager of the store near the college, Mrs. W. C. Reynolds and Mark Halsey, senior in Lubbock High school. Mrs. Halsey has been one of the most active members of presidents of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and during her term great strides have been made in the organization's program of work. One of the greatest membership drives in the organization's history was made under his direction last year.

He is a Mason and a member of the Methodist church. He belongs to the Blue Lodge at Rogers and Karem shrine at Waco.

Mark Halsey is widely known over the Southwest for his business methods and his store is cited as an outstanding example of drug store operation by many of the salesmen of this area.

His home is at 2308 Seventeenth street.

News Briefs

H. C. Pender, deputy district governor of District 2-T of Lions International, is to attend a meeting in Midland Thursday with A. G. Bearden, Lamesa, district governor. Plans for the coming convention there May 5-7 will be discussed and the program approved.

Kiwanians at their meeting Thursday noon will consider a report by a special committee named recently to revise the club's constitution and by-laws, President W. L. Stangel announced. Under the proposed revision the club would be incorporated, to conform to a suggestion by Kiwanis International. George P. Kuykendall is chairman of the committee.

ELECTION IS CALLED

TAHOKA, March 23—Lynn county commissioners have called an election in the O'Donnell and Joe Bailey communities for Saturday, March 30, to vote a merger of the two school districts.

About 30 students would be affected by the merger of the two districts. Proposals to merge have been discussed for some time.

Super Drouth Predicted By 1964; But Texas Has Many To Predict Disaster

BY C. A. PRICE
Associated Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, 23 — A California engineer predicts "a super drouth" about 1964, but Texas has a corps of trained, vigilant weather observers to forecast such a disaster.

Halbert P. Gillette, engineer of San Marino, Cal., bases his forecast on the geological calendar of stony deposits known as varves and prophesies "it need not be surprising if the great reservoir above Hoover dam goes entirely dry within 25 years."

L. D. Brown of the staff of the Plainview Herald after careful research counted 225 Texans who make a hobby of gathering meteorological data for the United States weather bureau at Houston. They include 25 women and, throughout the state, 23 men and women of the group have a combined weather recording experience of more than 700 years. If a severe dry spell is in the making that experience should detect it in the offing.

Engineer Gillette says varves are the annual layers of silt and mud laid down uniformly in many places and pressed into hardened clay or rock, and correspond to tree rings. The deposits vary in thickness according to rainfall and as he read them, Gillette finds cycles of seven years, 21, 63, 189, 1701 and 5103 years. He finds that the minima, the dry periods, of all these cycles will coincide in 1964.

Should Be Challenge

This long view should be a challenge to the Texas amateur weathermen and women to canvass their experience for signs — the oesophagus bird on motionless wing looking for a wet spot, for example — for fullfilment of this dark prophecy. Their experience, perhaps, is not as far flung as Gillette's, who has studied varves running back 4,200 years in Lake Saki in the Crimea and for 3,700 years in the Connecticut river valley of Massachusetts.

Lake Saki is too remote to question his findings there. Varves and bolsheviks cheek by jowl are not out of line. But one who knows his Connecticut valley would not be startled if Engineer Gillette were incorrect in that field. Varves were discovered only 170 years ago and he may have confused his discoveries with the granite principles which numerous generations of Yankees built into the hills before they were edged out by Polish onion growers.

Far-Reaching Effects

The long experience of many of Texas' volunteer observers should detect readily the cycles of meteorology that make for moisture or dust. Their weather sense and records have far-reaching effects, says Brown of Plainview. Manufacture of tractors may be increased if the skies far and near show reasonable promise of rain in the plains country. Rail, ocean and air transportation also may be affected as moisture or drouth expand or contract the volume of grain or livestock.

John Carter of Luling who has scanned the skies and reported on rainfall and wind for 47 years, holds seniority among Texas observers. Charles C. Zirjacks of Victoria is next with 43 years of service. There should be no phase of the weather's behavior or intentions unfamiliar to them. Mrs. Bessie Sloan of Brenham, who with her husband and son has measured the breezes and precipitation for 32 years says "there is much sentiment attached to keeping the weather records here."

Others Are Observers

Herman H. Butz, real estate operator and insurance man, has observed the weather at Fort Stockton since 1907, and has measured a maximum annual rainfall of 24.61 inches in 1932 and a minimum temperature of seven below zero on Jan. 3, 1911. C. W. Underwood of Childcothe, who has kept an eye on the weather the past 30 years, recalls 44.3 inches rainfall in two hours June 2, 1908.

The family of Mary Hofman, which has kept the weather records at Nacogdoches since 1903, has preserved the art nearly a half century. "Nacogdoches is located on the site of an Indian village and the Indians said there never would be a storm here. That prophecy has held true," she says.

W. J. Klinger of Plainview is the only Panhandle observer on the job more than 25 years. Other veteran observers include Herman E. Hass of Hondo, 41 years; Mrs. Pearl Smith of Brownwood, 35 years; Sam Crowther of San Angelo, 31 years; E. M. Eubank of Ballinger, 34 years, and Dr. Hallie Earl of Hewitt, 25.

The combined experience of 225 weather wise folks will tell Texans whether Sahara days are coming down the years. Meanwhile, the Red river will be overflowing and Buchanan, Marshall Ford and Inks dams will have formed their lakes. Texas may not go dry in any eventuality.

Total Of 6,234,671 Acres Of Land In Cultivation In Lubbock's Territory

Hale County Has Largest Acreage

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

TWENTY-TWO South Plains counties, in Lubbock's trade territory, will have a total of 6,234,671 acres in cultivation this crop year, according to figures announced by the State Agricultural Adjustment Administration office in College Station.

Figures are based on reports of measurements of crop land made under direction of county AAA committees. They represent the totals covered by work sheets for the new year.

More Acreage General

Crop acreages include cotton, wheat, general and soil conserving or neutral acres, to be planted under the government program but not harvested for sale. Acreages are, cotton, 1,446,741; wheat, 1,050,452; general, 2,102,711; neutral, 1,634,667.

Pasture lands or ranch lands are not included in the total.

Hale county has the largest tilled acreage, 517,039; Lubbock with 473,147 acres is second; Lamb with 451,366 acres is third; Swisher with 411,957 acres is fourth; Floyd with 403,889 acres is fifth and Castro with 400,215 acres is sixth. These counties are the only ones with an excess of 400,000 acres of tilled land.

Yoakum Has Smallest

Six other counties, Parmer, Hockley, Lynn, Dawson, Terry and Crosby, have between 300,000 and 400,000 acres. Other counties have less than 300,000. Yoakum is the smallest, with 50,000 acres.

General acreage allotments include besides grain sorghums, small acreages for sugar beets, potatoes and other irrigated crops, peanuts and other crops with allotments.

Sugar beets are to be grown this year in Floyd, Hale, Swisher, Hockley and Lubbock counties, according to early indications, with possibly a few acres in other counties where there is irrigation. Potatoes are to be grown in Floyd, Swisher, Hale and Deaf Smith counties, among others. It has not been announced whether allotments of beets will be available for Bailey and Lamb. In previous years, but not last year, they were grown in these counties.

Increase In Crops

Also out of the general acreages comes barley, oats and alfalfa. This year, according to reports, there has been an increase in these crops where water is available. Crops are growing nicely.

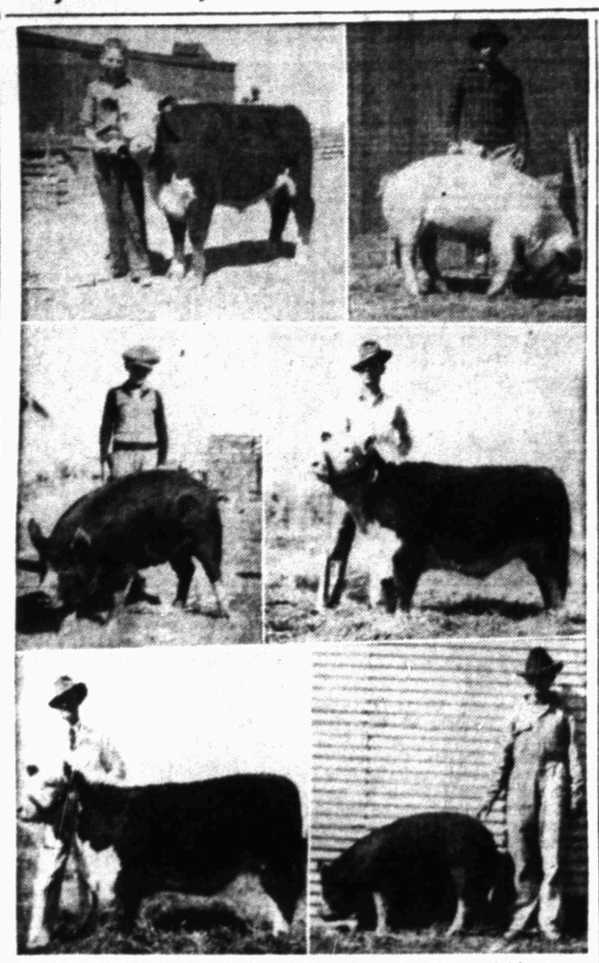

Tilled acreage figures are, by counties:

County—	Acreage
Bailey	250,985
xBriscoe	139,697
Castro	400,215
Cochran	128,358
Crosby	310,434
Dawson	363,606
Dickens	168,716
Floyd	403,889
Gaines	87,502
Garza	107,220
Hale	517,039
Hockley	379,414
Kent	73,768
Lamb	451,366
LUBBOCK	473,147
Lynn	378,029
Motley	117,322
Parmer	384,666
Scurry	218,721
Swisher	411,057
Terry	318,590
Yoakum	50,930
Total	6,234,671

x—estimated.

Counties with the larger acreages of tilled land, for the most part include those with large wheat acreages. Especially is this true of Hale, Swisher, Floyd, Castro and Parmer. Lubbock, Lynn, Lamb, Terry, Hockley, Dawson, and Crosby counties are more properly cotton and sorghum areas, although has some wheat.

Market Plans Are Advanced

Sixty-six wholesale and manufacturing firms have paid the reservation fees necessary for participation in the semi-annual wholesale clothing market of Western Wholesale Clothing Market association in Hotel Lubbock April 6-9, according to announcement at the chamber of commerce Saturday.

The chamber and the association are joint sponsors of the market event.

Dinner-Dance Big Feature

Announcement also was made by E. T. Pope, president of the association, that most of the arrangements for the dinner-dance and floor show which will be the entertainment feature of the market have been completed. The market will open on Saturday. The dinner-dance and floor show will be an event of Monday night, with the main ballroom of the Hilton hotel the scene.

Wiley Walker, who appears professionally over KFYO with Gene Sullivan as Wiley and Gene, has been named master of ceremonies and will arrange the floor show. Two performances consisting of different numbers will be presented, Pope announced. Bernie Howell's orchestra will play.

Reservations Required

As in previous markets, reservations will be required of those planning to attend the dinner-dance. Reservation cards will be mailed early this week to approximately 1,000 retail establishments in West Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

The list of reservations, Pope said, indicates that the market will be perhaps the most largely attended spring event in the history of the association. Every important style and jobbing center in the nation is included among the exhibitors who have made reservations. Five floors of Lubbock hotel will be required for the displays.

The buyers' guide in connection with the market will be ready for delivery early this week, Pope announced. It will list the names of exhibiting firms, their representatives here, the lines of merchandise displayed and the rooms to which they are assigned.

MUCH CREAM PRODUCED

MULESHOE, March 23—During 1939 75,450 gallons of commercial cream was produced in Muleshoe's trade territory.

Of this amount 44,860 gallons were sold to buyers here and 30,450 gallons shipped. This latter was 158,445 pounds of butterfat.

Butterfat prices ranged from 18 cents a pound up to 30 cents. Winter prices were up to 30 cents.

Michigan, although an inland state, has the longest coastline of any state in the union, more than 3,000 miles. The Atlantic coast line is 1,773 nautical miles.

FINE GARDEN—Typical of the home food production work carried on by home demonstration club women and 4-H club girls in the South Plains in cooperation with county home demonstration agents and the Texas A. and M. Extension Service is this fine garden in Lubbock County. Shown are Elizabeth Brooks, assistant home demonstration agent of Lubbock County, and Mrs. Fred Kveton. To statements that vegetable production is impracticable in that section, the Kvetons point out an acre of field garden, the fine home garden shown, a frame garden for out-of-season production, and a pantry stocked with hundreds of cans of home-grown products.

Egg-Cracking Plant At Lamesa Is Operating

LAMESA, March 23—Henningson Bros., of New York City, who have operated an egg-cracking plant in the old West Texas Dairy Products Co., plant for several seasons, have begun operations for the year, said W. F. Hessler of Chatham, Mass., who came here to begin operations.

Fifty-two persons were employed, all of them local residents. From time to time more will be added.

Three types of products are produced; the whole egg dried in small flakes and used by the U. S. army, and the navy in place of fresh eggs; egg whites, used by bakers for pasteries; yolks dried and powdered for cooking and baking and the manufacture of salad dressings.

Henningsons own and operate a plant in Denison and another in Fort Worth, as well as one in Shanghai, China. It is said here that the local plant last year used 100,000 cases more than any other plant.

Eggs come from a territory extending to San Angelo, Big Spring, Abilene, Sweetwater, Snyder, Lubbock, Seagraves and Seminole.

Gaines Farmers May Receive $168,402

SEMINOLE, March 23—Gaines county farmers, for compliance with the 1940 AAA soil building and range improvement program, stand to receive $168,402, M. L. Turner, chairman of the county committee, said.

Payments will amount to, cotton parity, $38,160; cotton conservation $29,287; general crop payments, $30,192; soil building, $10,763; range improvement, $50,000.

IMPROVE GROUNDS

SEAGRAVES.—With vocational agriculture students doing the work, 400 Chinese elms have been set out at the school building to form a hedge on the west side. As many California hedge shrubs were set out over sub-irrigated tile lines. Four red cedars and six Arizona cypress trees and 50 Hover rose bushes were placed in front of the grade building.

The Smithsonian Institution in Washington has the largest jewel in the world, an almost flawless crystal of topaz, weighing 152 pounds, or 350,000 carats.

Candidates Set Limit On Pies

One pie supper per community with a dollar limit paid for pies has been set by candidates for county office as one of the rules for the approaching election campaign, according to announcement Saturday.

W. A. Fincher, local salesman, was announced as the chairman of the series of meetings at which candidates will speak when they start a tour of the county shortly after June 1. Tax Assessor-Collector H. B. Bryan, Sheriff Tom Abel and Walter Davies were named members of a committee to notify Fincher of his appointment.

Each Gets Two Minutes

Request was made of school superintendents and of other residents of various communities where meetings are desired to confer with members of the committee relative to dates.

The tour, according to the announcement, will follow the general plan of those of the last several campaigns. Each candidate will be introduced and will be allowed two minutes in which to present his claims to the office he seeks. The order of speaking will be decided by drawing for the first meeting, and then will be rotated. After each meeting, the candidates will attend a pie supper if one has been arranged.

Candidates also have agreed, it was announced, that they will attend other pie suppers and that they will not attend other meetings as candidates until after the campaign begins.

Castor Bean Crop In Gaines Is Threshed

SEAGRAVES, March 23 — Approximately half of the 200 acres planted to castor beans last year through efforts of Russell Myrick and George C. Wollforth of Lubbock, have been harvested and the crop is now being threshed.

A portable harvester developed by Myrick was brought here. Yields conservatively placed at from 500 to 3,000 bushels from the acres which were harvested.

Seed was furnished free last year. Conditions were unfavorable. It is announced seed will be furnished free this year to interested farmers who agree to plant according to instructions.

Seed prices are quoted as 60 cents a bushel of 46 pounds weight.

DAMS ARE CONSTRUCTED

MATADOR, March 23 — During 1939 a total of 58 dams with Agricultural Adjustment administration cooperating in a range farm program.

Thirty-six were built under range program and 22 under farm program. These tanks hold 298 acre feet of water capacity; largest dams contain 10,006 cubic yards of dirt with 20 acre feet water capacity.

In construction 108,404 cubic yards of dirt was moved.

The number of stars that can be seen by a person of average sight is said to be about 7,000.

Prizes Totaling $160 To Be Given In Show

MATADOR, March 23 — Prizes amounting to $160 will be awarded winners in the annual 4-H club fat stock show next Saturday, said J. Rufus Emmons, county farm agent.

Calves to be shown are from the following Motley county herds, Elbert Reeves, U. L. Wille, J. C. Burleson, Matador Land & Cattle Co., Bob Martin and Curtis Martin, sr.

Cold figures worked out by a highway research board show that auto drivers between 45 to 50 years of age kill the fewest persons—about 66 per year for each 100,000 drivers.

GIN PURCHASE ANNOUNCED

TAHOKA, March 23—John Heck of Wilson, Henry Heck of Grassland and H. G. Cook, Wilson, announce purchase of the former Edwards gin there from the Farmers Cooperative association.

Henry Heck, who has been operating a cooperative gin at Grassland the past two years, will manage it. He will move to New Home.

Last year, after the Farmers Cooperative gin was burned, the association purchased the Edwards gin. Later they rebuilt the burned gin and operated both plants.

ministered charitable funds in the United States during 1939, aggregating $50,000,000.

Lubbock Farmers Paid More Than $1,250,000

More than a million and a quarter dollars have been paid to Lubbock county farmers for compliance with the 1939 Agricultural Adjustment administration program, said C. T. Wasson, AAA administrator, Saturday.

Twenty more contracts are yet to be completed for the soil conservation performance and nearly as many cotton parity payments are expected.

Cotton parity payments were in 4,306 checks, amounting to $516,603.39; soil conservation payments in 4,325 checks for $776,431.79; total $1,293,035.46.

A. D. Wenzel Wins In Fort Worth's Show

WILSON, March 23—Six registered Berkshire hogs which A. D. Wenzel, breeder, exhibited at the Southwestern Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth, netted eight ribbons and $99 in premiums.

He received one grand champion ribbon, three first, two second, one third and two fifth prize ribbons.

Wenzel and his sons have exhibited at the Panhandle-South Plains fair in Lubbock; Tri-State fair, Amarillo; Dallas State fair and other fairs.

DAWSON GINS 19,277,967 POUNDS

LAMESA, March 23.—During 1939 Dawson county farmers ginned 19,277,967 pounds of lint cotton, the agricultural Conservation association committee announced, as of Dec. 31, 1939.

Of the total, 3,838,739 pounds was ginned in other counties. The lint represents 38,556 bales of 500 pounds weight or 40,330 bales of government standard weight of 478 pounds, exclusive of 22 pounds of bagging and ties.

The 1938 crop was 43,967 bales.

Hollywood On The Loose..

Mae West Scorns All Hobbies; Even Quits Going To The Fights

BY PAUL HARRISON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, March 23 — It may come as a shock to some of the parishioners to hear that Mae West takes exercises. It was to me, anyway. Here, I always had thought, was a true Sybarite, a voluptuary lolling in a Louis XIV den of mirrors, ermine and busy ivory telephones. Or Aphrodite reclining in a foam bath and reading Variety.

Mae West

In most ways Mae West has been remarkably inactive. Never drives her own cars, doesn't dance, swim or ride horseback. Has no interest in gardening, cooking or knitting. She loathes all games from tennis to chess. She doesn't attend parties and is no longer a regular spectator at boxing matches because, she says, she can't endure the smell of cigars.

On a movie set she displays, among other things, great physical fortitude in her torcherous corsets. These, together with her high heels, are responsible for her celebrated waddle, and it has been guessed that if she ever fell down while thus encumbered she'd be as helpless as an overturned turtle.

Consents To Pose

THE other day she astonished Universal by consenting to pose for pictures with various gymnastic accessories. In the spare bedroom of her mirrored bower on the seventh floor of the Ravenswood apartments, she has a couple of five-pound dumbells, a contraption with handles and elastic cords that works like a weight-pulling machine, and a short practice bar such as ballot dancers hang onto while limbering up.

I suspect that Miss West wanted to show her public that normally she is not as oddly formed as her screen costumes make her appear. In a skin-tight, black satin bathing suit holding the dumbells and yanking at the wall appliance, she looked fine. Didn't do any kicking.

She's considerably smaller than fans would guess. Biographical statistics give her height as 5 feet 4 inches, but I doubt if she stands half an inch over 5 feet without shoes. She loves sweets but diets assiduously. She says that when she has to lose weight in a hurry she goes on a steak diet.

Mae Has Energy

I STILL doubt that she takes much exercise, but there's no questioning that she has tremendous energy. She writes a great deal, either laboriously with pencil or by dictating to a secretary. Since 1926, when she wrote and starred in "Sex," and went to jail for it, Miss West has done her own plays and has revised her movie scripts. She now has a finished screen play about Russia's Catherine the Great and hopes a producer will come and see her sometime.

She drives a shrewd bargain and was making more money from her pictures than Paramount was when she left that studio a couple of years ago.

Miss West's age always has been one of the mysteries. When she was booked by police at Blackwell's Island, 1900 was given as her birth year, but theatrical records show that she appeared at the Follies Bergere and the Winter Garden in New York in 1911. Anyway, she wears well. The black bathing suit proves that.

Gangster Film On At Lindsey

SPENCER Tracy, generally admitted one of the screen's greatest actors, and Hedy Lamarr, the glamorous newcomer, are teamed in an unusual story for Tracy, "I Take This Woman," currently showing at the Palace theater.

The picture tells the story of a woman's great romance and regeneration, and marks the most romantic characterization ever assigned to Tracy.

Butterfly Finds Sanctuary

It deals with a society butterfly who, when a romance with a married man crashes, finds sanctuary by the side of an earnest physician working in a tenement clinic. When the physician risks his career to provide her pleasures in night club society, a dramatic denouement solves their problems.

Expertly abetting the two stars by playing one of her wisecracking comedy roles is Verree Teasdale. Kent Taylor is excellent as the "other man."

Others in the cast include Laraine Day, Mona Barrie, Jack Carson, Paul Cavanaugh, Louis Calhern, Frances Drake, Marjorie Main, George E. Stone.

Modern American Role

The picture gives Miss Lamarr an opportunity for good, dramatic lines and also surrounds her with a gay, glamorous background. She dresses in modern American costume for the first time.

Joan Bennett, turning in perhaps the best performance of her career, dominates the interesting study of the wives who wait for men who go to Alcatraz in the picture, "The House Across The Bay," now showing at the Lindsey.

George Raft, varying his stoic style with a dash or two of humor, gives another of his penitentiary portrayals.

Nolan Again Wily Fellow

Lloyd Nolan is back to his old calling as the wily fellow who would have the lady one way or another, and Walter Pidgeon plays an amorous but upright gentleman who won't allow it. Gladys George is seen as another of the "Rock Widows."

The situation finds the wife of a wealthy practitioner of extra-legal business operations reporting him to the income tax department for evasions she thinks will net him a year's sentence and save him from gangsters plotting his death. Instead, he gets ten years, his lawyer gets his money and strives also to get the well-meaning wife.

Miss Bennett also sings two songs in the production.

Story Of Pioneer Days

Claudette Colbert and Henry Fonda are paired for a story of Revolutionary and pioneer days in "Drums Along The Mohawk," opening today at the Texan.

But their acting cannot overshadow that of Edna May Oliver as the flinty-tongued but soft-hearted widow. Arthur Shields as the preacher who combines his prayers with local trade news; Roger Imhof as the doughty general who loses a leg and his life in a campaign against the "redcoats," and Ward Bond as the gargantuan frontiersman.

The story details the life of the two lovers after their marriage and removal to the Mohawk frontier. They lose their home and first baby as result of an Indian raid. But they are saved from annihilation by the fleet feet of Fonda who eludes Indian pursuers to summon the Continental army.

Judith Barrett And Sportsman Are Wed

HOLLYWOOD, March 23 (U.P.) — Judith Barrett, 26-year-old actress from Venus, Texas, honeymooned today with Lin Howard, sportsman and business partner of Bing Crosby.

Miss Barrett, whose real name is Lucille Kelly, came to Hollywood after a New York stage appearance in "The Night of Jan. 16." She met Howard when she lost Crosby, cinematically, to Dorothy Lamour in the picture, "Road to Singapore."

Howard, son of Charles S. Howard, owner of the horse Seabiscuit, and Miss Barrett eloped to Yuma, Ariz., yesterday by airplane.

She was once married to Cliff Edwards, ukelele player and movie actor, and Howard was divorced last year from his socialite wife, Mrs. Anita Howard.

GOES TO WASHINGTON

HOLLYWOOD, March 23 (U.P.) — Edward Arnold, character actor, boarded a train today for Washington to confer Monday with the Senate judiciary committee. Arnold, a director of the citizenship panegirics committee, said he hoped Congress would declare June 12 as "national citizenship day."

Spencer Tracy and Hedy Lamarr have the leading roles in "I Take This Woman," now showing at the Palace.

Here are George Raft and Joan Bennett as they appear in "The House Across The Bay," now on at the Lindsey.

James Stewart and Jean Arthur as they appear in "Mr. Smith Goes To Washington," now at the Broadway.

Cochran County Rid Of Prairie Dogs

MORTON, March 23 — Cochran county this year should be practically free from prairie dogs according to Roy W. Hickman, county agent. Ranchers and farmers are cooperating with the U. S. biological survey. Under the range program a payment of 7.5 cents an acre for heavy infestation will be made by the ACA.

County and community committeemen voted that no 1940 range-building payments be approved unless all prairie dogs were killed.

Amazing "Mr. Smith" Plays Return Here At Broadway

Lyric Offering Popular Novel

ONE of the finest pictures of the past year, a year packed with hit productions, returns to Lubbock at the Broadway theater today with James Stewart in the title role of "Mr. Smith Goes To Washington."

The film, in which Jean Arthur is co-starred, is filled with all the laughter, the love, the pain and the joy of every day living.

Amazing Young Man

The story revolved around a most amazing yet typical young man.

Jefferson Smith, a small-town youth who is strongly imbued with American ideals, suddenly finds himself thrust into the seats of the mighty. Somewhat of a local hero, he is appointed to fill an unexpired term in the United States Senate. Jeff takes his appointment with the greatest seriousness. He doesn't know that the state political machine, intent upon a piece of corrupt legislation, is sending him to Washington because they consider him their most likely dupe. Mr. Smith—Stewart — gradually learns how he is being used. Prompted by his own best instincts and Miss Arthur, his secretary, he revolts.

Exciting Consequences

How, and with what exciting consequences, is the core of the story, and events sweep to a climax no audience will ever forget.

Others in the cast include Edward Arnold, Beulah Bondi, Eugene Pallette, Guy Kibbee, Ruth Donnelly, H. B. Warner and Harry Carey.

The screen version of Lloyd C. Douglas' popular novel, "Disputed Passage," currently is showing at the Lyric theater with Dorothy Lamour, Akim Tamiroff and John Howard taking the major share of dramatic honors.

First Truly Dramatic Role

Miss Lamour has her first truly dramatic role as an American girl, brought up in China, who returns to the land of her parents to seek help for the stricken Chinese people.

The drama becomes tense as she meets Howard, a young American doctor, they fall in love but she leaves him, led to believe by Tamiroff, a great surgeon, that she would ruin his career. He searches hundreds of miles for her and finally winds up in China where he is gravely wounded in an air raid. As death draws near they are brought together again.

Dorothy Lamour and John Howard star in "Disputed Passage," ing today at the Lyric.

Oscars To Be Given For Adventure Film

HOLLYWOOD, March 23 (U.P.) — The Hollywood Adventurers' club decided today to have its own academy award — even if it is a little late. The Adventurers, headed by Captain John W. Roulac, announced they would select for a special award the best adventure picture produced annually, basing their decision upon historical verity, development of plot, action and authentic backgrounds.

Three hundred members chose Warner brothers' film "Dodge City," starring Errol Flynn, as the first winner of a belated "Oscar."

Runners-up to "Dodge City" were Columbia's "Only Angels Have Wings," United Artists' "Stage Coach," Republic's "Man of Conquest," and Alexander Korda's "Four Feathers."

HAS REGISTERED HEREFORDS

LEVELLAND, March 23—C. B. Edgar, registered Hereford breeder, has 22 head of registered animals.

He also has a number of beef cattle on feed; recently he shipped 100 head to market.

Here's Today's Movie Test

1. What actress, having previously made many public pronouncements concerning the costume she was forced to wear in pictures, just recently completed the as-yet-unreleased "Typhoon," in which she appears in nothing else, and immediately signed for Goldwyn's new South Sea special, "Tahiti"?

2. What young actress is currently being seen in pictures as a teen-age vampire and as the tragic wife of a young rancher, and, on the Broadway stage, as a New England girl trying to crash the New York theater?

3. Identify more fully: (a) The present Mrs. Jack Whiting, who is the mother of a prominent leading man and the former wife of a late star of the silent films; (b) The present Mrs. Nat Wolf, former wife of Herbert Marshall; (c) The girl who started pictures as Dawn O'Day but now is starring in a series of pictures in which her present first name is used in the titles; (d) The youngster who started kid pictures as Mickey McGuire, but under another name has become one of the current leading box-office draws.

4. The Newspaper Film Critics of America, composed of more than 600 movie reviewers, recently selected their ten best pictures of 1939. Can you name the first picture selected and four of the nine others?

5. What actress, famous as one of the screen's first ladies in the early days of talking pictures, recently returned to the Broadway stage after an absence of 15 years in a play which most of the theater critics trounced?

Count 20 points for each question correctly answered. A score of 60 is good, 80 is excellent, and 90 or above is colossal.

Denver City To Vote On Incorporation

DENVER CITY, March 23—Voters of Denver City on Tuesday will vote on incorporation for this south Yoakum county oil field town.

Election will be in the office of Ed Asher, justice of the peace. B. L. Dulin will conduct the election.

The commissioners' court called the election when petitions asking for it were presented. They contained sufficient names, it was said.

DEATHS ARE RECORDED

LAMESA, March 23—Of nearly 120 deaths recorded in Dawson county in 1939, 17 were from heart disease and 16 from pneumonia according to a report by the five-county health unit.

Other causes were, cancer, six; accidental, four; nephritis, three; tuberculosis, seven; typhoid fever, two; peritonitis, three; myeloud hage, five; streptococcic stepticemia, two; peritonotis, three; myeloud leukemia, as poison, meningitis and agranulocytosis, as one each; others 39.

LOSE DRIVERS' LICENSES

PLAINVIEW, March 23 — Two Plainview youths who were charged in corporation court here with reckless driving of an automobile, lost their drivers' licenses, one for six months and the other for a year.

Sgt. C. E. Tabor of the Lubbock office of the state highway patrol took charge of the licenses after he had examined court records here regarding the two men.

Marx Brothers Stage Laugh Riot Under A Circus Tent

Big Fun-Fest On At Cactus

ANOTHER wild, crazy and side-splitting fun-fest is in store for patrons of the Cactus theater when they see the Marx brothers in "Marx Brothers at the Circus," which starts a three-day run today.

This time the Madcap Marxes do not depend solely upon their own inimitable brand of screwball comedy to keep the audience convulsed. They drag in a circus and a streamlined one at that, as the playground for their insane antics.

Marxes Are Principals

The story concerns the three Marxes principally. Groucho is a crackpot lawyer who has never won a case. Chico is a roustabout and Harpo acts as the assistant world's strongest man.

Then there are Kenny Baker as part owner of the circus: Florence Rice as the star equestrienne and his sweetheart: Eve Arden as the upside-down-girl: Nat Pendleton as the strong man, Margaret Dumont as the usual society dowager, and many others.

Several of the performers and the crooked circus manager connive to trick Kenny out of his share of the circus. They demand $10,000, although they have already stolen that amount from him. Harpo and Chico summon Groucho to the scene to fight Kenny's cause. And that's where the fun riot begins.

Humorous highlights of the picture include Groucho's courtroom scene, Harpo's strong man act, Groucho enticing the stolen money from the upside-down-girl by doing a rhumba with her on the ceiling, and the climatic scene in which all of the principals, including a gorilla, chase each other all over the flying trapezes at the very top of the circus tent.

"Drums Along The Mohawk," starring Claudette Colbert and Henry Fonda, starts today at the Texan.

TWENTY FARMS TERRACED

LAMESA, March 23.—During the past four months 20 farms have been terraced in cooperation with the soil conservation service camp here, according to F. A. Vestal, superintendent.

Acreage was 8,354, with 209 miles of terrace. Terraces are to be run on approximately 28,000 acres more.

ANNOUNCE RETURNS

SPUR.—Results of the recent soil conservation district election to form a Duck Creek district in Dickens, Stonewall and Kent counties was announced here. There were 599 votes favoring formation and 53 against, a total of 652 votes.

It's Wise To "Get While The Getting's Good,' Garner Steps Out In Wisconsin

Lubbock Needs Air Service

And The Time To Try To Get It Is Now!

THE United States has been scene of three eras of transportation expansion so astounding it is almost impossible to believe they could have happened.

First it was railroads. Then it was motor vehicles and highways. Today it is aviation in the terms of airlines.

Railroad and highway transportation methods have finished their skyrocket growth and both have begun to level off. Airline expansion still is in full burst. These statements are supported by recent figures which show that in one year—between 1938 and 1939—the number of passengers carried on airlines increased from 763,831 to 1,215,063, or approximately 53 per cent. Motor travel increased 11.65 per cent and railroad travel 6.4 per cent in the same period.

The cities which are the railroad and highway centers of today are those which "got while the getting was good." Only the very scant leavings are left for those which failed to "get" then. The railroad and the highway routings in this country are virtually complete except for relatively minor connecting links.

Today still is the period of "getting" so far as airlines are concerned. That period, however, isn't far from its end, because most of the major routes have been established. But still a few are yet to be brought into existence before the skeleton framework of the nation's aviation map is complete. Once that skeleton has been finished, the cities not upon it will, in all probability, be out of the aviation picture forever.

In all this nation, probably there isn't a city which is a bigger question mark than Lubbock so far as aviation future is concerned. Within a very few years it may become an important center. Or, it may be necessary to use a microscope to find it on the aviation map.

But certainly, if there ever is to be a time of "getting" for Lubbock, that time is now while numerous applicants are proposing to extend service into this area. It is largely up to us to do our dead level best to "get" before the opportunity is gone forever.

Let's Fill The Churches!

IF it happened that a person should follow the deplorable habit of attending church on only one Sunday each year, there are many reasons why Easter Sunday should be that day because of its evidence, through the Resurrection, that man may look forward to everlasting life.

Of course, there are other reasons why we of this country and this section should seize the privilege on this and every other possible occasion to voice an humble appreciation for the boons we enjoy — the peace, the prosperity and the safety of a Christian land among the many.

This day, more completely than any other, signifies everything for which Christianity stands and hopes. Let's fill the churches to overflowing today.

Death Of Dr. J. D. Sandefer

THE death of President J. D. Sandefer of Hardin-Simmons university in Abilene Friday night removed from the scene perhaps the outstanding pioneer in higher education in West Texas and one of the finest Christian leaders and gentlemen any section anywhere has been privileged to call its own. Grief because of his passing, even though an illness has made him largely inactive for several years, will be profound and widespread.

When Dr. Sandefer became president of the then Simmons college in 1909, it was a small denomination school struggling desperately for existance in a West Texas empire virtually without institutions of higher learning. He built in Abilene a great school, and his success inspired others to the efforts which have built other colleges and universities—which have put higher education far more closely within the reach of every boy and girl who may ever inhabit this section.

His was, truly, a monumental work. It never can be the good fortune of West Texas to possess many men of his calibre.

The One-Minute Sermon

The steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord: and he delighteth in his way.

Though he fall, he shall not be utterly cast down: for the Lord upholdeth him with his hand.—Psalms 37; 23 and 34.

Scanning The European Situation, Writer Claims Facts Show:

Britain's World Empire Is Tottering

BY PAUL PALMER

(Former Editor The American Mercury, Former Sunday Editor, New York World).

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Never before in history has the fate of the British empire hung so precariously in the balance as it does at this precise moment. This is the considered opinion of a high diplomatic official here whose analyses of the European situation have proved strikingly accurate so far.

The empire's grave predicament, he says, hinges on the fact that England is now faced with the necessity of choosing once and for all, between peace and real war. Whichever course is chosen, the final results can only be detrimental if not fatal. The reasoning behind this conclusion can be summarized as follows.

A Supposition

First, suppose Britain accepts the negotiated peace which is now being cooked up. The minimum terms acceptable to Germany are

1. The Reich to retain all German parts of Poland.
2. Russia to retain all Russian parts of Poland.
3. The remainder of Poland to be "independent."
4. "Independence" for the Czechs and Slovaks.
5. "Guarantees" of other small nations.
6. A "discussion" of the return of German colonies.
7. No reparations and a gesture at universal disarmament.
8. Probably a secret understanding exchanging recognition of a German "sphere of influence" in the East for certain guarantees to the British empire.

SUCH a negotiated peace would be tantamount to a German victory, of course, although it would be hoped that the Nazis would be polite enough not to say so out loud. Just as the Germans would have been the winners in the World war had peace been negotiated at any time up to the end of 1916, so will they now be the victors if the present struggle is concluded in any way other than by unconditional surrender to the Allied forces. Thus peace now means defeat for England.

This raises the immediate question—can any English government accept such a peace and survive? The maneuver would have to be in the manner of a bigger and better Munich. Could Chamberlain get away with it a second time? There seem to be very respectable doubts on this score.

Domestic Problem Acute

But even granting that the English people are so fed up with the war that they would accept a humiliating peace, how would they solve their domestic economic problem afterward? As a semi-totalitarian state, Britain is not more than getting by. If the present vast war activities cease, however, and armament is to be at least curtailed, what about the unemployed? Furthermore, with the dominions and the United States disillusioned by such a peace, would not Great Britain's foreign trade suffer seriously? English manufacturers cannot compete on a free-trade basis, for instance, with German and Czech manufacturers. The economic prospects might be desperate.

FINALLY, the internal political repercussions of a victorious German peace might be fatal to both England and France. Militant socialism of every hue, in both countries, would be immeasurably stim-

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

JOHN NANCE GARNER's Wisconsin campaigners have adopted tactics which transform the April 2 primary there from an ordinary contest between the President and Vice President into a third-term showdown. So determined are the Garnerites to block FDR that they have enlisted Republicans in the effort.

The fact that the Vandenberg and Dewey forces are engaged in a sharp struggle in the same primary gives the Garnerites their opportunity. The VP's friends are trying to persuade conservative Republicans that the outcome of the Vandenberg-Dewey battle is of no importance compared with the attempt to discredit the third-term movement. Therefore, according to the Garner faction's argument, these GOP-ers should enter the Democratic primary, and vote for Mr. Garner. For a Republican to vote in a Democratic primary in Wisconsin is as simple as walking across the street.

Mr. Garner's friends do not figure that he has to win the delegates in order to kill off FDR. In their opinion, the third-termers will suffer a fatal setback if the Texan musters 40 or 45 per cent of the total vote. They believe that such an outpouring for the VP would demonstrate to the politicos that a third-term campaign would insure the Party's loss of the White House.

HOPEFUL: Polite but forceful words have been exchanged between Henry Wallace's promoters of foreign farm sales and the emissaries who came to the United States to adjust difficulties causing friction between the Allies and this country—Frank Ashton-Gwatkin and Charles Rist of France.

Mr. Wallace's spokesmen opened by explaining that they did not mean to be unreasonable. With Great Britain and France reducing food consumption, they said they did not expect them to buy as much from this country as in peacetime. But they did protest against discrimination—against buying elsewhere when the same goods could be purchased here at a similar or lower price. The Americans objected particularly to purchase of meats and lard from Hungary, tobacco from Turkey, cotton from Brazil, numerous products from the Argentine. They warned of a possible loss of sympathy for the Allied cause in the farm areas.

The British pleaded the necessity of conserving exchange and making friends with neutrals needed in the economic war against Germany. They did promise to recommend to London more generous treatment of our dried fruits, hogs, cotton and tobacco. They also hinted that prospective German domination of the Scandinavian Peninsula may force the Empire to buy American instead of Scandinavian. Though not too optimistic, Mr. Wallace anticipates some improvement—perhaps 25 per cent—from the negotiations.

UNSETTLED: Cordell Hull is casting anxious glances toward Mexico as a result of fresh reports that another revolution there may explode under the "good neighbor" policy. Such warnings have frequently failed to materialize in the past — that makes him hopeful—but it may be the Mexican McCoy this time.

The Mexicans are preparing for a Presidential election, and such a period is always a time of tension. Both candidates to succeed Cardenas are military men with strong army backing — Generals Manuel Avila Camacho and Juan Andeu Almazan. If either suspects that something is being put over on him, he is likely to make trouble. For various reasons labor is restless and dissatisfied. The war has stopped all oil exports to Germany and tossed people out of work. The recently nationalized railroads are in a bad state, financially, and that may mean the discharge of more men. The agrarian system—division of lands—has produced shortages of major crops. The cost of living is rising, especially in the provinces, and the wage scale is dropping.

General Camacho is regarded as more conservative than Almazan. He has promised to try to make the recent reforms work. Though not a leftist, General Almazan is held to be more liberal. Whether the Mexican people will await a settlement at the polls or become violent should be decided within the next 60 days.

SUPPRESSED: Republican legalites have exhumed Section IV of the basic Census Law. And regardless of the merits of the controversy, it appears to prove irrevocably the illegality of census questions about an individual's income. It provides that the inquiries shall be limited to such questions as population, agriculture, irrigation, drainage, distribution, unemployment and mines. It was the only paragraph Harry Hopkins did not mention in defense of his proposed questionnaire.

NEW YORK
By Richard Waldo

NO ESTIMATE of Republican or Democratic chances in the coming elections should overlook the fact that Wall Street is overwhelmingly with President Roosevelt on foreign policy. The biggest contradiction in U. S. politics is the fanatical, personalized hatred of the board directorates for Mr. Roosevelt—and their grudging admission that in foreign affairs the man is pretty sound.

Even a casual survey of the group involved in war trade, the banking network—and through it steel, coal, rails, shipping, and power—will produce a 95 per cent indorsement of the President's handling of war economies. In the six months since the Allied Purchasing board set up house for the biggest international buying operation in 25 years, the industrial big shots have had to work close to Washington. The current Congressional investigation of the administration's handling of war sales is no idea of the business big boys. They're well satisfied with White House steering to date; only criticism, in fact, is that the President is too conservative.

It's openly admitted by the executive brotherhood that the President's Neutrality law, the subsequent curb on a war boom, his pressure to stabilize the price structure—all hairline decisions favoring sound expansion—have given the New Deal a campaign issue. The manufacturers dread the day the President goes on the record with a summary of his first months as a "war executive." They can't attack it with anything resembling an issue.

SHIFT: A recent Wall Street merger reflects all the angles of this indorsement of foreign policy while blasting the internal program of the New Deal. The Atlas corporation, an investment company, recently merged with Curtiss Wright—one of the country's leading aircraft makers. It is one of the oddest unions of dissimilar businesses on record—and regarded by the money men as typifying the position of industry in confronting the Roosevelt administration.

Atlas is one of the unique American corporations with a reserve speculating fund for which it is not strictly accountable to stockholders. Floyd Odlum, corporation president, has become a Wall Street legend through his manipulation of a working fund of 36 millions. Instead of buying securities—the usual operating channel of investment bankers — Odlum buys into new industries directly—becomes, in effect, an investing and managing partner. These lending partnerships are short or long term depending upon the period required for new enterprises to return the capitalization. In the latest operation Odlum plunged 100 per cent of his working fund in the aircraft business on the assumption that, peace or war, the plane future is safe.

But the purely domestic aspect is that by the same step Atlas ceases to be an investment company. It side-steps the whole SEC controversy through which the administration is bent on recasting the whole investment structure towards stricter federal regulation. In effect, according to banking sharps, Atlas has bent the knee to Washington by running away from the coming SEC attack and stepped into the industry which Washington is blessing as a result of foreign wars.

Sinclair Lewis Writes Novel Of Theater

"Bethel Merriday" Is Lot Of Naive Admiration For

"BETHEL MERRIDAY," by Sinclair Lewis; (Doubleday, Doran, New York).

SINCLAIR LEWIS' first novel since "The Prodigal Parents" turns out to be a novel of the theater, as many may have thought it would. For Lewis has been writing for the theater in odd moments, and doing quite a bit of playing "in person." He has, being a creature of enthusiasms and enthusiastic dislikes, gone overboard for drama. He loves it.

So much is perfectly clear from a perusal of "Bethel Merriday," which is the name of the new book. There has been no such collection of theatrical terms, paeans in praise of troupping, contemptuous references to non-theatrical people, and general fuss and feathers. It sounds for all the world like the novel of a young man in his early 20's, fresh in love with a new game he just has discovered. In a way this is what it is, for although Lewis is no longer a young man, he recently succumbed to the theater.

Not Much Novel

"Bethel Merriday" is not much as a novel, and should not be read as such. Lewis has taken a raw child from college, where she played Nora in "The Doll's House" rather badly, and turned her into a seasoned trouper in less than nine months by the free-handed use of coincidence and artist's license.

Bethel found in the ... when she played Nora, a ... alleged producers. One told ... was pretty bad; the other ... she was pretty good. COME TO CHURCH
Easter Sunday

Perhaps as a youngster, with so many other things to do, regular Church attendance was an allegiance not of your own choice. Now you are far enough along the highway of Life to realize more clearly the comfort and peace to be found in His word. There is strife and hatred on other shores. Your own responsibilities and cares may have increased many fold. Find the hope, the composure you seek in your Church this Easter Sunday. No doubt, you were planning to attend. But we would like this message to achieve another purpose, too: more frequent attendance at your Church to find the guidance and encouragement you want.

Special Venire For Enloe Trial Called

POST, March 23—A special venire has been called to report in 106th district court here Monday to hear the murder case of Drew Enloe, a Lynn county farmer charged with the slaying of Cleo Browning last Nov. 11.

Change of venue was given by Judge Louis B. Reed of Lamesa presiding over the Lynn county court. He will preside here.

Enloe's case was called March 4 at Tahoka and all but a few of the special venire exhausted in securing several jurors.

L. A. Enloe, a brother, previously had been given an 8-year term by a Lynn county jury. He had been charged with his brother.

T. L. Price, former district attorney and Joe Moss, his partner, will assist District Attorney Truett Smith in the prosecution. G. H. Nelson, state senator and Franklin Brown, Lubbock attorneys, represent the defense.

Modern College Youth Can't Spell Or Add

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. March 23 (U.P.)—Modern youth of college age knows more about Cezanne and Stokowski but hasn't a nodding acquaintance with spelling and simple arithmetic, the Eastern Commercial Teachers association was told today.

"Education seems to be putting the cart before the horse," Mrs. Mildred J. Langston, dean of the Katharine Gibbs school of New York, said in an address before the association's 43rd annual convention.

"The girl student at the college level," Mrs. Langston said, "knows much about Cezanne, can identify music as Stokowski's and has a nodding acquaintance with totalitarianism. But she may be completely inept when confronted with a simple job of adding, multiplying or dividing.

"In my years of work with students of college age I have found nine-tenths of them need pencil and paper to divide a two-figure number by two."

Boy Admits Shooting Brother When Playing

EMMETSBURG, Ia., March 23 (AP)—Officers said William Mundus, 11, related today he shot and killed his 9-year-old brother, Bernard, while playing "stick 'em up" last Sunday in the Mundus farm yard.

The body was discovered when the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mundus, returned from a visit in town.

State Bureau of Investigation officials said ballistics tests disclosed the fatal bullet to have been fired from a .38 caliber revolver found in a kitchen drawer in the Mundus home.

Sheriff B. F. Montgomery quoted William as saying nothing happened the first two times he pulled the trigger.

"The third time I fired, the gun went off," the statement continued. "Bernard fell in a sitting position and then fell over on his side. I walked back to the house and didn't tell anybody."

Bullets For Finland Are Given With Money

PAYMENTS TOTAL $148,948.50

PLAINVIEW, March 23—Wheat parity payments for Hale county amount to $148,948.50, J. W. Evans, secretary of the AAA county committee said.

Cotton payments have been $180,887.87, with an expected $10,000 more due. Total payments for the county are $565,633.47.

TIME IS EXTENDED

CARLSBAD, N. M., March 23—Public Works Administration officials in Washington have announced extension of completion of the new senior high school here from March 31 to May 31, said Paul Moore, resident engineer.

Moore said it was "literally impossible" to get the building completed by March 31 and the extension was asked.

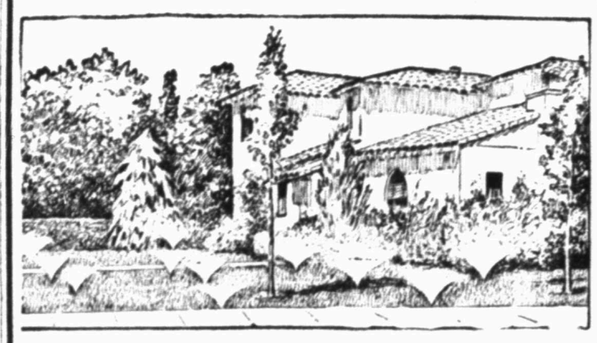

Haynes & Strange of Lubbock are architects.

Seminole Planning June Celebration

SEMINOLE, March 23—Plans are under way here for a joint "third of a century" celebration for the organization of Gaines county and completion of paving of highway 15 from Seminole to the New Mexico state line, in June.

The road, 25 miles long, is to be given a double coating of asphalt as soon as spring weather permits. Caliche spreading is almost complete.

Seminole chamber of commerce has begun preliminary work on the affair.

Seal coat on highway 15 east from Seminole to the Gaines-Dawson county line is expected to be completed by that time. In addition the county-wide road system, bonds for which were voted last year and which is also under construction, is expected to be finished also.

ASKING INCREASE

DICKENS.—Joe M. Rose and John Sharp of the county Agricultural Adjustment administration committee and Mack Woodrum, county farm agent, went to College Station to present to the State AAA committee a plea for an increase of cotton acreage allotment. The committee was to stop at Temple en route home to meet with the state soil conservation board.

Francis E. Townsend, the pension planner, was once a country doctor in the Black Hills of South Dakota.

McNutt Booster Calls Upon Big Jim Farley To Quit Post As Demo Chairman

Position Gives Him Advantage

WASHINGTON, March 23. (AP)—A McNutt-for-president booster, Senator Van Nuys (D-Ind), has called upon Postmaster General Farley to quit as national Democratic chairman in fairness to other candidates for the party's presidential nomination.

Referring to Farley's unqualified announcement that his name would be placed before the Democratic national convention, the supporter of Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt said yesterday:

Make Good President

"If nominated and elected, he (Farley) would make a very acceptable president carrying into the White House a lot of good common sense and stability.

"I am very fond of Jim Farley, and I could support him as a nominee very gladly. But I do not think it is fair to other candidates that he retain his position as national chairman, capitalizing on the prestige which that office entails."

Van Nuys said he thought retention of the party chairmanship by Farley would not be in keeping with the spirit of the Hatch act, which curbs political activities of federal employes other than policy-making officials. He added that he thought this position would be adopted by the postmaster general himself. Friends of Farley have expressed belief recently, however, that he had no intention of resigning as chairman at this time.

Speculate On Keynoters

Leaders of both major parties were giving some thought, meantime, to the question of whom Farley and John D. M. Hamilton, the Republican national chairman, would pick to be keynote speakers at the party conventoins.

Although formal action is not expected soon, it was reported that more than half a dozen candidates were being considered for the job of sounding the party battle cry and being temporary chairman of the Republican convention at Philadelphia June 24.

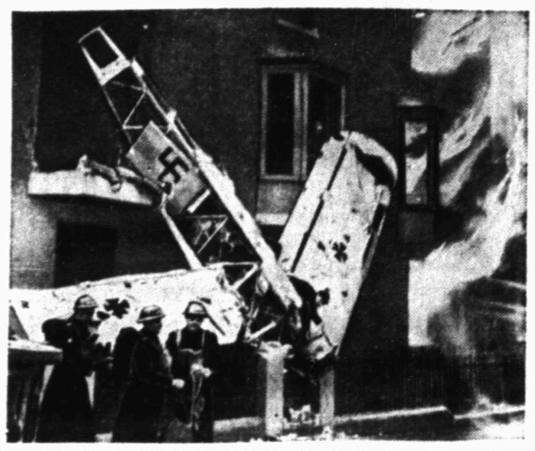

Fewer possibilities have entered the field for a similar assignment for the Democrats, but party chiefs said there was plenty of time for such selection since their party would not meet until July 5.

Josh Lee Considered

On the Democratic side, Senator Josh Lee of Oklahoma, small but powerful of voice, has recently come to the front in speculation over a keynoter.

Senator Barkley, the majority leader, and Senator Byrnes of South Carolina are in the picture also.

While waiting for Chairman Farley and Hamilton to get around to the business of picking keynote speakers, party members will get a fresh taste of political oratory.

Increasing Oil Activity In Slaughter Field Highlights Developments Of Week

MY JOHN B. BREWER
Special Oil Writer

Staking of four locations, one for a one-mile northeast outpost, and the completion of a producer this week denoted the increasing oil activity in the Slaughter field in southwestern Hockley county. Hockley and Cochran are the most northerly oil producing counties in the West Texas Permian Basin.

Features elsewhere in the district including the extension of the North Cowden field in Ector county nearly one mile south by southeast by Rhodes, Tompkins and Richmond No. 1 J. L. Johnson and the coring of porous, saturated Crinoidal lime, topped high, in Continental Oil Co. and others' No. 2-B Todd unit, north central Crickett county wildcat.

Shut In For Storage

Delta Drilling Co. and George Etz No. 1-A Slaughter, extending the Slaughter field one mile north and slightly east, flowed 147 barrels of oil in 24 hours through a 24-64th inch tubing choke, bottomed at 4,977 feet, and was shut in for storage. It is in the southeast corner of labor 21-41, Maverick.

George Etz No. 1-A Caddell, three-quarter mile northwest outpost, in the southeast corner of labor 31-93-Maverick, encountered saturated lime from 4,842-52 feet, stopped at 4,862 and cemented 7-inch casing at 4,574 feet. Standard tools were to be rigged up.

Delta No. 1-B Slaughter, one of the new tests, one mile northeast of Stanolind No. 2-B Slaughter, the nearest producer, had drilled past 1,260 feet in shale and redrock. It is 440 feet out of the southwest corner of labor 56-40-Maverick. Honolulu No. 6-21 Slaughter on the west side of the central part of the field, 440 feet out of the northeast corner of labor 21-37-Zavalla, had passed 1,850 feet in redrock and lime shells.

Two More Tests Staked

Awoeb Oil Co. staked two more tests in the west central part of the pool: No. 4 Davis, 440 feet out of the northwest corner of labor 51-39-Maverick, and No. 5 Davis, 440 feet out of the northeast corner of labor 51-39-Maverick. Stanolind No. 7-B Slaughter in labor 7-40-Maverick flowed 154.56 barrels of oil in six hours to establish a daily potential of 618.24 barrels for completion at 5,010 feet. It was treated with 7,000 gallons of acid.

Yielding only one-half baller of salt water hourly with a scum of oil after a second shot, with 115 quarts of nitroglycerin, following plugging back to 4,716 feet, Denver Producing & Refining Co. and Helmerich & Payne No. 1 Whiteface Farms, Inc., northwest central Hockley county wildcat, was scheduled for abandonment. It was in the southeast corner of labor 22-27-Reeves.

Area Is Defined

Pumping of all water by Humble No. 1 Auten, bottomed at 5,360 feet, quarter mile north of the most northwesterly production in the Seminole pool in Gaines county, defined the area in that direction.

Continental and others' No. 2-B Todd unit 15 miles northwest of Ozona topped the Crinoidal section of the Strawn, basal Pennsylvanian, lime by Schlumberger survey at 5,590 feet, 3,115 feet below sea level. This was 328 feet higher than in the same operators' No. 1-B Todd and Ordovician failure more than one-half mile to the southeast. The bottom two feet of 11 1-2 feet of lime with thin shale streaks recovered from a core from 5,615-34 feet was porous and saturated. Plugs had been drilled from 7-inch casing at 5,613 feet and the test was ready to deepen.

Rhodes, Tompkins and Richmond No. 1 J. L. Johnson, southeast extension to the North Cowden field in Ector county, in the northwest corner of section 25-43-1s-T&P, showed the first oil at 4,085 feet, headed while drilling to 4,450 feet and was shut in for storage. The operators staked a diagonal northwest offset on Texas Pacific Land Trust land.

Flows 599.93 Barrels

Sinclair-Prairie No. 1 Marcus Gist, which several weeks ago extended the Foster pool in Ector county one-half mile north, flowed 599.93 barrels of oil in 24 hours for completion at 4,284 feet. It is in the southeast quarter of section 44-42-1s-T&P, R. H. Gill No. 1 Parker, three miles west of the north end of the Harper pool, had drilled to 4,994 feet in lime. Barnsdall No. 1 Blakeney, seeking Holt deep Permian lime production on the west side of the North Cowden field, had passed 4,454 feet in lime. M. A. Grisham No. 1 R. B. Cowden, wildcat northwest of the Goldsmith field, was reaming an 8 3-4-inch hole to 12 1-2 inches from 5,340 to 5,555 feet, indicating it may go beyond its contract depth, 5,600, unless production is developed shallower.

Humble paid 10 cents an acre for a six-months geophysical exploration lease on the Midkiff ranch of 13,217 acres in southern Midland and northern Upton county with an option to lease selectively for $1 an acre with a 50-cent annual rental for 10 years. Humble recently made a similar deal on the Donald L. Hutt 16,000-acre ranch in southeastern Midland county.

Sulphur Water Struck

B. C. Mann's No. 1 Joe Funk, northwestern Tom Green county wildcat, in the northeast quarter of section 32-5-H&TC, showed 35 gravity oil from in the Blaine lime from 1,123-27, from 1,150-55 and from 1,205-15 feet and struck a hole full of sulphur water from 1,215-25. Five and three-sixteenths inch casing was to be run and carried to the top of the Clear Fork. Unless production is developed deeper, the pipe will be cemented and gun-perforated opposite the Blaine shows.

True Davis No. 1 Huddleston, 1 1-2 mile east outpost to the Beddo pool in Runnels county six miles northeast of Ballinger, was scheduled to acidize the Adams Branch lime, third oil bearing zone found in the area, from 3,351-59 feet, the total depth, after cementing 5 3-16-inch casing at 3,347 feet. Location is in the southeast part of Day Land & Cattle Co. survey 36.

Middle Ordovician Missed

Humble No. 1 Mrs. Bertha D. Young, northern Pecos county Ordovician wildcat, in the west quarter of section 33-10-H&GN, had drilled past 5,928 feet in lime and shale. Tentative top of the Simpson, middle Ordovician, was 5,624 feet, 3,169 feet below sea level. The test is 2 3-4 miles southwest of Magnolia No. 2 Abell-Eaton, which missed the Simpson, drilling directly from the Permian lime into the Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, at 5,120 feet, 2,695 feet below sea level. It found sulphur water but no oil in that zone.

Seeking Ordovician production, Gulf No. 5 Wristen on the southeast flank of the Shipley pool in Ward county had drilled below 5,796 feet in lime and Gulf No. 5 McKnight in western Crane county past 6,282 feet in lime.

Illinois Oil Co. spudded No. 1 University, scheduled 5,600-feet wildcat in southwest central Andrews county, 660 feet out of the northwest corner of section 14-12-U.

V. J. Farris Issues Formal Statement On Re-Election As Commissioner, Precinct 4

V. J. Farris, commissioner of precinct 4, Lubbock county, Saturday issued his formal statement for re-election. He is serving his first term.

"First, may I convey to the people in Precinct 4 my thanks for the election by them to the office of commissioner," his statement said. "My membership in the commissioners court began in January, 1939. The other members of the court were experienced members, and may I add in fairness to them, competent members. As a new member, it was my duty to listen and to learn. I did listen closely; as to whether I have learned, the public in due time will make answer.

"My associations and my contacts with the Lubbock county official family has been both pleasant and profitable. The same is true of my relations with those in the precinct which I have had the privilege to serve.

"If those who elected me two years ago felt that I was competent to represent them, may I hope they feel even more justified in voting in me their confidence now.

"In asking for re-election I do so with a conviction that I have been loyal to my post of duty. I trust that the citizenship of Precinct 4 will feel the same way."

British Empire

ulated. There is no telling what the final result might be, once the present military dictatorships were ended in the two "democracies." Thus the choice of peace might well be a dangerous one.

But if England chooses war—what then? The capitulation of Finland demonstrated anew the fact that Germany is the undisputed master of continental Europe. It proved again that the Allies can find no front on which to fight other than the Western front. For if Great Britain could not get an army to Finland, how can she ever hope to get one to the Russian Caucasus? One look at the map furnishes the answer in an undebatable negative. If England chooses war, then, she must attack the supposedly impregnable westwall. Russia lost 100,000 men in 100 days in attacking the inferior Mannerheim line. How long would the people of England and France put up with such slaughter?

Are They Ready

Finally, are the British ready—and able—to do the three things they must do if they are to wage war seriously? First, crack down on the rich with a capital levy. Second, crack down on the poor with a cut in real wages. Third, crack down on the whole empire with the sacrifice of several hundred thousand lives on the Western front. That is what it will take. The choice of war seems as desperate as the choice of peace.

Thus, concludes my informant, the British empire faces the most perilous moment in her history. The next few weeks may bring the enswer to her dilemma.

Scurry Publisher Is Moving To Liberty

SNYDER, March 23—J. C. (Jake) Smyth, one of the owners of the Scurry County Times, has announced his removal to Liberty, Texas, where he has purchased an interest in the Liberty Vindicator and the Liberty County News.

Smyth will be editor-manager, he said. He will continue to retain his interest in the Scurry county paper. His family is moving as soon as school here closes.

SPUR.—C. W. Mahaffey of Houston has moved here to make his home. He will handle cattle and announced he would headquarter at the McArthur barn and would sell registered Jersey animals.

Lions Charter Night Will Be Arranged

HALE CENTER, March 23—Committees were named here this week by the Rev. E. Lee Stanford, Methodist pastor, and first president of Hale Center's newly organized Lions club, to arrange details for the club's charter night, scheduled for Friday, March 29. An official of Lions International is to be here to present the charter, and visiting Lions from several Plains towns will be on hand for the event. Chas. Dean, president of the Plainview Lions club, will be principal speaker.

The club, organized two weeks ago, now has 29 members.

HAMMOCK PURCHASE LAND

MULESHOE, March 23.—J. W. Hammock, well known certified grain sorghum breeder of Sudan, has purchased a 160-acre tract of land in the Blackwater valley from C. M. Humphries of Amarillo, through R. L. Brown.

Hammock, a state certified breeder since that work began in Texas, plans to operate the farm, seven miles northwest of here. He raises wheatland dwarf maize, fir and cane.

BUYS INSURANCE AGENCY

SPUR.—Harvey Holley announced purchase of the R. C. Brown insurance agency. He had moved the equipment and records to his own office.

For relaxation, Andre Tardieu, former French Premier, reads American detective stories.

Floyd County Seeks Food Stamp Plan

FLOYDADA, March 23.—Graham, 4-H club girl from Sand Hill club is the first county club girl to be awarded a gold pin for her club work, Miss Edith I. Wilson, home demonstration agent.

She was selected from nine club girls of the county, from each club, who had done standing work. The county demonstration council committee selected the nine.

The candidate was first of her club. She represented club at the 1939 short course College Station.

CAN PLANT TREES

PLAINVIEW, March county farmers this year $60,000 in addition to the agricultural conservation by planting forest trees for break purposes, said Earl chairman of the farm com

Each farm may earn tional by planting four trees, with a minimum of per acre.

I average 35,000 miles a year, so economy counts heavily with me. I've driven my 1940 Packard (my 53rd car) 17,460 miles in 6 months and haven't spent $5 on it, except for gas, oil and lubrication. Gas mileage is better than on small cars I've owned – averaging at least 17 miles to the gallon.
