

GETTING A LITTLE PRACTICE -- Four-year-old Dennis and six-year-old Steve get in a bit of "know-how" for the goat tying competition which will be offered later this month in the annual Buckaroo Rodeo. The young cowhands are sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Stiles. Their mother, Darlene, is a member of Alpha Rho Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi which is sponsoring the fun event this year.

Buckaroo Rodeo To Be Held July 30

Broncs and wild Brahmas will not be a part of the rodeo scene July 30 in the CR & R Arena but there'll be plenty of entertainment in store for rodeo fans. Now an annual affair, the Buckaroo Rodeo is sponsored this year by Alpha Rho Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Fun events for the young "rodeo-er" will include stick horse races, water bucket relays, calf scrambles and ribbon racing.

Horseback events will include musical chairs, steer daubing, potato and egg races and other fun contests.

Entry dates are July 26, 27 and 28 with the entry place announced in next week's Enterprise. Entry fees are 75 cents for each event.

Ribbons will be awarded for the top six competitors in each event. An All Around Cowboy and All Around Cowgirl will be awarded western belt buckles.

Rodeo announcer will be D.M. "Bub" Holt.

During rodeo festivies a bicycle will be given away.

Proceeds from the rodeo will be contributed to Girlstown.

High Plains Research Report Given Lions Club Tuesday

Jack Cloud, executive director at High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway, was guest speaker Tuesday at the regular luncheon meeting of Olton Lions Club.

"There have been quite a few changes in the past few years," Cloud said for the foundation whose aim is applied agriculture research. Originally a private foundation, it had reached a stage where there was simply not enough funds to meet the expenses incurred for adequate research.

In 1974, Cloud said, the HPRF board of directors began planning what could be done to enable the foundation to continue serving the needs for which it was established.

"We had about 40 meetings in a year's time and with the Texas Agriculture Extension Station, Texas Tech University and West Texas State University, we came up with a five year lease and formed the High Plains Research Coordinating Board."

"With about 23 members who meet about four times a year, we have been able to coordinate programs rather than have two separate groups bumping heads over the same project. We're now in the third year of the program."

Cloud said there were five members of the scientific staff at High Plains in 1974 and today that group numbers eight. Dr. Doug Owen, Olton native, is Research Scientist in charge.

"We are a total unit, the Lubbock-Halfway Research Organization of the Texas Extension Station. Our whole program at Halfway," he said, "really centers around water."

Bill Lyle, water engineer, is also stationed at the Halfway Station. "We're going to have to learn to stretch water or we're going to all be out of business," Cloud said. Water importation, he believes, "cannot get here quick enough."

Lyle has directed the scientific designed irrigation system which was engineered to get water to the surface at less cost, less energy and less sand, Cloud stated.

Cloud showed slides of the irrigation system which was implemented last year and which, he says, "is still not getting any sand and is pumping approximately 900 gallons." The well has a capability of 1300 gallons.

Interested persons are invited to visit the Station, Cloud said, and visit with the staff and to observe first hand what is being done at the research center.

Presiding in the absence of Lion Boss Gary Turner, J.O. Bass III called for the introduction of five guests and asked for a report on last week's ladies' night supper.

An annual event, the Lions Club Carnival will arrive in town and begin operations Wednesday, July 27 with attractions continuing throughout the week.

Burglary Solved

Two Georgia women are in Lamb County jail under bonds of $5,000 each for passing forged instruments. Their arrest was a major step in solving the burglary last month of the local Pay-n-Save Grocery Store.

A money order machine and blank money orders were taken in the June burglary and the two women were apprehended when they attempted to cash money orders written on the stolen forms.

Filed on for possession of other money orders taken in that break-in was a Swisher County man who told officers how he came into possession of the forged instruments.

Three Lubbock men are being charged with the break-in and theft.

Locally this week, three citations were issued with two made for violations of the fireworks ordinance.

'No Takers' For Offices

Late Thursday there were no candidates seeking the posts of mayor and councilman in the Aug. 13 called election. Would-be officials have until Wednesday, July 13 to announce their intention to seek the positions made by recent resignations.

Term of office for the new mayor would be the completion of this year plus one year. The council post would expire next spring.

Persons wishing to announce candidacy for either position may file their intentions at the city hall.

Infra-Red Sensing, Control To Be Discussed

High Plains, Inc., and Aero-Sensing, Inc., of Amarillo, will sponsor a Grower's Meeting Tuesday, July 12, at 8:30 p.m.

All growers are cordially invited to be present at the Olton Agriculture Barn to hear the matter of infra-red sensing and bug control discussed in all its possibilities.

Cleve McLain, of High Plains, Inc., is enthusiastic about the process which has been in use by the Government for some fifteen years, but which is relatively new for farming communities.

He states that infra-red pictures, taken weekly, can reveal areas of bug infestation, water stress, or fertilizer imbalance. McLain terms this another step toward total crop care by High Plains dealers.

He would urge farmers to be present, armed with any questions they may have. Speakers from the Amarillo firm will glady make explanations.

LONELY LITTLE TOMATO IN A CONCRETE PATCH - Against all odds, this tomato plant, complete with fruit, appears to be winning the battle of survival. Growing from the crack between the sidewalk and Southwestern Public Service's front door, the volunteer plant is doing well despite the lack of "rich soil and water." If mankind is as providential as nature, perhaps it will someday ripen.

4-H Teen Leaders Camp Held Recently At SPC

Nearly 200 young leaders from 4-H clubs in 20 South Plains counties participated in a district teen leader lab June 15-17.

The annual three-day lab was held on the campus of South Plains College, according to Gary Wilson, assistant county Extension Agent.

A team of 12 older youths from Lubbock, Crosby, Lynn, Dawson, Garza and Cochran counties conducted the learning experiences for the 4-H'ers attending the lab.

The youths performed a variety of tasks ranging from group learning and discussion sessions to game tournaments and special morning and evening ceremonies. Emphasis was on success of the local 4-H club.

Activities were geared toward teaching officer duties in the local 4-H club, electing club officers, conducting a mock club meeting and planning the 4-H Club program for a year. Time for relaxation and fun provided the teens with the opportunity to make new friends.

Proud Of Little Sister

Summertime visits with her grandmother, Mrs. Bertie Lee Brown, are eagerly anticipated by ten-year-old Wendy Rogers. She arrived here last week for a visit with "Meme," and was thrilled when asked to be the featured guest in this column.

Typical of all grandmothers, Bertie Lee would love to keep her young guest all the time. All too soon, she'll have to send Wendy home to Missouri City to her mother and step-father, Nancy and Charles Rose.

A most important part of Wendy's life is helping care for her little two and a half year old sister, Cheronda. As an adoring big sister, Wendy proudly boasts of Cheronda's accomplishments and antics. She says her small sister came up with her own nickname, "Rona."

At their home in Missouri City, a suburb of Houston, Wendy gets to enjoy swimming for there are two pools in their community; one very near the Rose home. She loves swimming and says she has been once to Galveston for a dip in the Gulf.

Cycling is a family sport and Wendy has her own small cycle, something that provokes worry from her Meme.

The family also shares a keen interest in tropical fish and Wendy says they've almost been forced to move out of their home to make room for their 13 aquariums. Feeding the fish is something she enjoys and her favorite fish are Oscars. She wrinkles her nose at the mention of guppies and says they are "food for our Oscars."

WENDY ROGERS

In the fifth grade when school starts, Wendy likes spelling but says "Yuk," when math is mentioned. She also admits she doesn't enjoy social studies.

Wendy has a "mutt" named Liza; a Pekinese named Petunia rounds out the Rose household. Petunia, she says though, is "Charlie's dog."

A bit young yet to do much cooking, Wendy came up with some recipes from Meme's collection. The white cake, Bertie Lee says, is an old favorite which she got from Grandmother Snyder (mother of Murray Snyder, a former Olton resident with whom Bertie Lee's husband, the late Carroll Brown, farmed).

Richardson - O'Neal Vows Pledged In Bella Vista

Wedding vows were recited recently in Bella Vista Baptist Church for Miss Sharon Gayle O'Neal and David Wendell Richardson.

Officiating the double ring ceremony was the Rev. George O'Neal.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Bundick of Bella Vista, Ark., former Olton residents. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Richardson of Bentonville, Ark. are parents of the groom.

A large white candelabra, entwined with greenery and accented with blue satin bows, was flanked by baskets of blue carnations and white mums. Unity candles completed the decor.

Escorted by her grandfather, the bride wore a formal gown of silk organza fashioned with sheer bishop sleeves, fitted bodice with solitaire neckline encircled with ribbon threaded lace. Bands of lace trailed from the bodice to the waist. Her bouffant skirt swept to a chapel length train.

Her floor length gown of silk illusion was edged with matching ribbon lace. She carried a bouquet of baby blue carnations and baby's breath with blue and white lace and ribbons. For "something old," she wore a heart shaped locket belonging to a late grand-aunt. Her gown was "new" and she borrowed a watch belonging to her grandmother. She wore the traditional blue garter and, in her shoe, carried a lucky penny.

Miss Julie Cameron of Bentonville was maid of honor. She wore a formal gown of light blue satin styled with high-rise fitted bodice featuring a jewel neckline accented with white lace. She wore a headpiece of sky blue flowers and sheer lace ribbons. Her bouquet was a smaller version of the bridal bouquet.

Charles Borgerdine Jr. of Bentonville was best man. Guests were seated by Tommy O'Neal, brother of the bride, and Bradley Richardson, brother of the groom. Male attendants wore blue tuxedoes.

Candles were lighted by Denise O'Neal, sister of the bride, and Tim Richardson, brother of the groom. Guests were registered by Mrs. Charles Borgerdine Jr.

A reception was held in fellowship hall. Miss Janet Richardson, sister of the groom, poured punch; Miss Kim O'Neal, sister of the bride, served the three-tiered wedding cake.

Following a wedding trip through Missouri, the newlyweds are at home at Bentonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson will be 1978 graduates of Bentonville High School. The groom is presently employed with Bella Vista Country Club.

W. B. Dickenson Jr. Breaks Leg In Fall

W. B. Dickenson, Jr., is receiving guests in his home this week as he sits, with some degree of patience--one leg encased in a cumbersome cast.

While riding among his cattle, along in a sandhill pasture Saturday afternoon, his horse stumbled into a hole and fell upon Dickenson's right leg. Realizing from the pain inflicted that it was possibly broken, he cut his boot of the foot. Removing the spur from the boot he carried it in his hand as a weapon should he encounter a snake, in his crawl of some 50 yards to retrieve the horse.

Managing to mount the horse he rode over two miles to his pickup and fell into it. In his drive to the city Dickenson made several stops at houses along the way and sounded his horn, but found no one at home. Ending his drive at the Texaco Statin on Highway 70, K. Y. Givens took over the wheel of the pickup and rushed him to Central Plains General Hospital for emergency treatment.

HELPFUL Household Hints

If your dish towels are badly stained, you might be able to wipe away the problem by soaking them in the sink with suds and bleach. Not only will this whiten the towels, it will bleach your sink as well.

* * *

If something in your refrigerator has given it an odor you don't cotton to, and that remains after the food has been removed, put a little vanilla on a piece of cotton and place it on a refrigerator shelf.

If you want to be charged up for summer, it would be a good idea to check your batteries for cassettes, your kids battery-operated toys, calculators and so on. Now you can replace old batteries with new rechargeable AA, C, D and 9-volt size nickel cadmium batteries from General Electric and save the cost of new ones for years.

* * *

If you're careful about how you keep your lettuce, you can save a lot of your long green. Both lettuce and celery will stay fresher longer if kept in paper bags instead of cellophane. Don't remove the outside leaves until you're ready to use them. And don't put the lettuce in the same bag with the celery; it will absorb its odor.

CATTLEMEN:
What are you going to do about...

. . . the ten million vegetarians in the U. S., whose numbers are increasing at the rate of one million per year?

. . . the claims that beef is bad for your health — that it causes heart disease, colon cancer and overloads the kidneys?

. . . the new meat substitutes which are now being so highly advertised?

. . . the consumer activists who believe that cattlemen are getting rich and who say, "Food is for people, not for profit?"

About the only thing you can do is vote YES in the Beef Referendum, July 5-15.

Vacation Tips Offered Here

How about your vacation. We have given you a lot of ideas on protecting your home and property while you are away, but let us focus on you and your family.

Most vacationers have a fairly large sum of money. Travelers checks are of extreme value. Never carry large amounts of cash. Keep receipts and records of traveler checks separate from the checks and in a safe place where you can find the receipt if the checks are stolen.

Take only the credit cards you will need or anticipate using. Leave the rest behind in a safe deposit box or other secure place. Be sure you have the numbers of all credit cards listed. If you lose your travelers checks or credit cards or if they are stolen notify the police wherever you are immediately and also the company issuing the check or card.

It can be beneficial to carry a second wallet filled with old pictures and other useless papers and phony identification and maybe two or three dollars. If robbed give the phony wallet to the robber, your real credit cards and money will then be safe in another pocket.

Do not ever leave wallets, purses, money, credit cards, checks or keys in hotels or other rooms, lying on the beach, in a locker, or elsewhere. Keep them with you at all times.

Women should carry as little as possible in purses. Keep valuables in a hand purse or other small easily concealed containers, and do not lay purses and bags down while in restaurants or similar places. It is best to keep them in your lap.

Keep your car doors locked especially while going through towns and cities. Avoid large crowds as much as possible in airports, bus terminals and like places. If someone bumps into you or you feel something touch you check immediately for your wallet, jewelry and other valuables.

If you are driving and your car breaks down in a desolate area, you can lock all doors after raising your hood. A citizens band radio can be very beneficial. If this happens at nighttime a white scarf tied onto the drivers door is a universal sign indicating trouble. Never leave your family alone in a car especially at night. Our highways are filled with truckers who are usually a tremendous help to a motorist in trouble.
