

Seeks Repeal Of Embargo On Armaments

Senate, House Leaders Wanted Early For Conference

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP) — President Roosevelt today called congress to meet in special session at noon September 21.

Although his proclamation made no mention of the neutrality act, the president already had stated informally he would seek repeal of the arms embargo clause and try to confine the session to that action.

Conference On 20th The proclamation convening congress follows:

"Whereas public interests require that the congress of the United States should be convened in extra session at 12 o'clock noon, on Thursday, the 21st day of September, 1939, to receive such communication as may be made by the executive;

"Now, therefore, I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, president of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim and declare that an extraordinary session requires the congress of the United States to convene in extra session at the capitol in the city of Washington on Thursday, the 21st day of September, 1939, at 12 o'clock noon, of which all persons who shall at that time be entitled to act as members thereof are hereby required to take notice;

"The telegrams inviting leaders to the White House conference to the day before the session starts, expressed the hope each of them could arrive in Washington a day early for the informal session.

While the chief executive is anxious to limit not only the legislative scope of the session to neutrality revision but also would like the session to end as quickly as possible, many senators have declared they would insist on full debate.

Mr. Roosevelt appeared assured of majority support within the senate foreign relations committee for some form of his proposal to permit the sale of arms to belligerent nations.

In a letter to an unnamed constituent, Senator Van Nuys (D-Ind) announced he would support a "cash and carry" plan for arms sales, if it were properly safeguarded.

Van Nuys is one of the committee members who, by a vote of 12 to 11 at the last session of congress, delayed consideration of proposals to repeal the arms embargo provision of the neutrality act and otherwise revise that statute.

The announcement today was regarded generally as assuring that the committee would place the issue before the senate at the forthcoming special session.

Lowmore Posts $7,000 In Bonds

Bonds totaling $7,000 were posted Tuesday afternoon by E. W. Lowmore, former city water office employee, who faces eight indictments for embezzlement and two for false entry.

Lowmore was billed by the grand jury before it recessed Monday noon. The charges were in connection with a reported discrepancy in municipal funds as disclosed by a special auditor's report in July.

He was arraigned before Judge Cecil C. Collings, who set the $7,000 figure for all 10 cases. Following an examining trial six weeks ago, the defendant had been at liberty under a $2,500 bond on four complaints of falsifying the records.

Captain returns were reported by the district clerk on Alexandro Ramirez, assault to murder, and Joe Thompson, theft.

GAINS ON POLISH FRONTS CLAIMED BY BERLIN; BRITISH ENTER ACTION AGAINST NAZIS IN WEST

Determination To Erase Naziism Entirely Pledged By Chamberlain

LONDON, Sept. 13 (AP) — Great Britain's wartime parliament echoed today with solemn government assurance of unified French-British determination to end "once and for all" the pressure of Naziism.

A stern warning was given that Britain would not tie her hands on aerial bombing if Adolf Hitler breaks his pledge on that same score.

Prime Minister Chamberlain, spruce and confident after his first supreme war council on French soil, almost hissed the words as he told the house of commons that both France and Britain would fight until they had banished "the intolerable strain of living under the perpetual threat of Nazi aggression."

Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax simultaneously told the house of lords Great Britain's pledges of restraint in bombing operations were based on conditions of similar restraint by Germany.

He said the British would "hold themselves completely free to take such action as they deem appropriate" if Nazi planes are turned loose without discrimination on Polish civilians.

This statement was prompted by a German army announcement today which said the German army henceforth would "use all means at its disposal" to break Polish resistance in open towns and villages.

Traditional approving cries of "Hear! Hear!" echoed deeply as Chamberlain made these points in reviewing military activities thus far.

1. Germany so far has directed most of her activities against Poland, but she has been "frustrated" by the "indomitable spirit of the Poles."

2. On the western front, France has begun a "methodical advance" which has been "completely successful."

3. The telegram, dated September 8, added, "It is also evident that the German bombers are releasing the bombs they carry even when they are in doubt as to the identity of their objectives."

Ambassador Biddle cited a number of instances: "The attacks made on my villa and that of my neighbor; a heavy attack on modern apartment buildings in the suburbs of Warsaw, situated one kilometer from military barracks; the destruction of a sanatorium, involving the death of 10 children, in the woods near Otwock; the bombing of a refugee train on its way from Kutno; damage done to a hospital train carrying a party of wounded soldiers, which was plainly marked with a red cross on the roof and drawn up at the uncovered East Station of Warsaw; and the destruction of a girl guide hut in which 12 girls were killed."

Biddle sent the state department another telegram received this morning from the Polish town where the embassy is now located.

The board ordered continued in effect the system of allowing discounts on early tax payments. The schedule provides a 3 per cent discount for October remittances, 2 per cent during November, and 1 per cent during December. Also continued was the policy of accepting quarterly payments.

Four new teachers were named to the faculty: Mrs. R. C. Anderson, West ward; Herschell Stockton, teacher and assistant coach; Jack Holladay, College Heights; and E. C. Pennington, commercial.

Resignations of five were accepted: W. J. Witherspoon, who is teaching in Peabody; Herschell Cook, who is entering business at Denton; W. H. Wright, who accepted a place in the Fort Worth schools; Elva Baker, who is off the staff at Texas Tech; and G. C. Quill, who has gone to Iowa. Baker's resignation as assistant coach, and Stockton's appointment as successor, were announced some time ago.

Quill was not immediately replaced, since he taught in the Kate Morrison school, which does not open again until January 1.

The board accepted a recommendation of Business Manager Edmund Nostetina that surety bonds for himself and Mrs. W. R. Purser be increased to $10,000 each; and that Allen Warren and Anabel Lovelace, other administration and tax office workers, be put under $5,000 bond.

Various topics in connection with the start of the school term were discussed, such as broadening the visual education program, extension of the physical education work, the public school music and band departments, and budgeting, on the same basis of last year, the diversified occupations program.

EX-GOVERNOR DIES BOSTON, Sept. 13 (AP) — Eugene Noble Fox, 81, three times governor of Massachusetts and noted for his campaign for prohibition and tariff revision, died today of a heart attack.

BREAKFAST IN ENGLAND—This is typical of the way Londoners had breakfast one morning after the air raid warning had sounded. The meal was in the family dugout—this one in a garden—with a gas mask hanging handy.

Chamberlain said the government intended to establish a ministry of shipping at an early date, but at present he believed greater efficiency would be attained by keeping shipping problems within the board of trade.

Leslie Burgin, minister of supply, said all firms and government factories manufacturing munitions had been asked to operate at full capacity.

He said steps were being taken to expedite the construction of additional plants.

Burgin told the house also that eventually a very large percentage of semi-skilled work would be done by women.

French troops are in France, but have not gone into action yet. (French military dispatches received in Paris shortly before the British parliament met said a "great number of well-equipped British troops are participating in combat.")

The Royal Air Force already has a number of squadrons operating from French soil.

The British merchant fleet has suffered "somewhat severe" losses as a result of German submarine attacks, but "submarines are constantly being attacked" and "successes have been achieved."

The British fleet has been joined by three Polish destroyers which "proved to be very efficient and were taking part in the strenuous life of our light forces."

Practically all German shipping has been cleared off the high seas.

French Claim Continued Penetration Of Nazi Territory PARIS, Sept. 13 (AP) — British troops were reported in French military dispatches this afternoon to have entered against the Germans on the western front for the first time in the 1939 European war.

French Recruits French advisers said a "great number of well-equipped British troops are participating in combat."

This news was displayed prominently by Paris evening newspapers.

Creation of a Polish army in France was under way with recruiting offices opened throughout the country to receive Polish volunteers.

French infantrymen were reported in dispatches reaching Paris as continuing to edge forward in German territory toward the Siegfried line at several points along a 100-mile front between the Rhine and Moselle rivers.

While rival fliers clashed in the air and the big guns of both sides pounded enemy territory, military advisers said French forces east of Saarbruecken had made a "substantial" advance.

Fleet French tanks and armored cars earlier were reported to have reached the outskirts of Saarbruecken, railroad junction and industrial heart of the rich Saar basin, yesterday and to have thrust immediately into the suburbs.

Fleet French tanks and armored cars earlier were reported to have reached the outskirts of Saarbruecken, railroad junction and industrial heart of the rich Saar basin, yesterday and to have thrust immediately into the suburbs.

In the Warndt forest west of Saarbruecken, where the Germans have been counterattacking, the French asserted they still held two-thirds of the woods and the situation was unchanged since they first advanced.

Military observers commented that in the second week of operations the campaign nevertheless still remained in the preliminary phase with a major offensive believed foreshadowed by "yesterday's first meeting of the allied supreme war council not yet in evidence."

Concentration of armies was reported continuing on a large scale with the landing of the first British expeditionary force said to have been completed.

Following this morning's war ministry communique which announced "great activity" yesterday by the air forces of both sides, French reports said sky skirmishes were continuing today.

These reports said three German planes were brought down while the French suffered "very small losses."

The aerial battle began yesterday when German planes raced over the border to scout allied positions.

WHEAT PRICES SOAR 4 CENTS A BUSHEL CHICAGO, Sept. 13 (AP) — Wheat prices soared four cents a bushel here today, scoring their sharpest advance since last Thursday.

Buying by locals and commission houses uncovered some stop loss selling and early gains of more than two cents were extended. Other North American prices also advanced sharply.

Paris reports that Soviet ships were ordered to return to their home ports and calling of a special session of congress for September 21 influenced scattered buying.

Surplus Used To Match PWA Transfer of $25,300 from the general fund to the construction fund as the city's share of the amendment PWA application was approved by the city commission in regular session Tuesday evening.

The transfer, representing 55 per cent of a $46,000 project and used to match a $30,700 grant by PWA, will reduce the working balance in the general fund to around $6,000.

City officials pointed out that they were able to put up the cash for the work by reason of having operated efficiently enough to have accumulated such a surplus.

At the same time, the commissioners authorized the city manager to advertise for bids on two contracts under the supplemental application. One, Contract No. 6 on the waterworks improvement project, was for the construction of a million gallon reservoir and for installing concrete tops on two existing reservoirs. The other, No. 7, was for "rearranging water mains."

Nazi 'Chute Jumpers Are Being Taken

BUDAPEST, Sept. 13 (AP) — A German "suicide corps," dropping silently from the skies by parachute, is making desperate efforts over widespread territory to expedite the Nazi advance across Poland, it was reported here today.

Poles reported several of the Germans, after being captured, revealed they had been assigned to discover the locations of Polish headquarters, airports, war supplies, factories and warehouses, and to cut communication lines ahead of the advancing German columns.

The number captured indicated the Germans were introducing the technique on a wholesale basis far exceeding similar experimental efforts in the World war.

In each instance Polish soldiers and peasants rushed to seize the parachute jumper.

Confirmation of the parachute descents and the capture of the Germans was given by several foreigners.

The Warsaw radio broadcast a warning scores of men were believed to have been dropped with parachutes and instructed townspeople and peasants to keep the closest watch.

It asked every effort be made to capture the men alive, adding some of those dropped were Polish uniformed and others were disguised as Polish peasants.

One misjudged his jump outside Warsaw, it was reported, and landed in one of the main streets where he almost was mobbed before police rescued him.

Another, coming down outside Warsaw, was declared to have pulled out a revolver and killed himself while he still was dangling over a squad of Polish soldiers.

Still another was said to have landed and been captured in a garden near the temporary American embassy at Naleczow.

German armies attacking Warsaw were reported to have been hurried back six miles in a "hurry" during the night.

The defenders of the Polish capital, an official broadcast from Warsaw declared, were manning new defense positions with fresh vigor wherever the Germans had been ousted.

Official Polish broadcasts said the defenders' stand, based on lines set up along the east bank of the Vistula, was aided by:

1. The withdrawal of nine German divisions from the lines before Warsaw to other sections of the front.

2. The arrival of thousands of young volunteers, more than could be accepted into the army, from among the civilians pouring back into the city.

3. The news of reinforcements en route from the southeast through the gap between the jaws with which the Germans are trying to encircle the city.

Polish Staff Captain Vaclav Lipinski, speaking from Warsaw, indicated Polish forces, all along the line were prepared to make a unified stand.

Orderly Life Destroyed By Ruthless March Of War

By ELMER W. PETERSON SOMEWHERE IN POLAND, By Courier To Budapest, Sept. 13 (AP) — Modern war does almost unbelievable destruction to the normal order of civilian life.

The bodies being hauled out of the ruins of what was a home... The stunned grief of homeless refugees... The limit of all that is terrible in war—the dead child.

The self-created ability of man to destroy man efficiently... You watch soldiers going off to the front lines and you watch their families standing huddled in fear from air attacks... This war can strike anywhere... This same high explosives that blasts life out of uniformed soldiers can spread death among civilians... Gone are the days when only the front line troops shared in the real suffering, hardships and danger...

Large Number Of Prisoners Said Taken

BUDAPEST, Sept. 13 (AP) — The German high command today reported a rapid thrust deep into southeastern Poland, tightening of a "vice" closing on Warsaw and the wiping out of Polish resistance near Radom.

Prisoners Taken The high command communique told of the capture of an "enormous number" of prisoners in the Radom sector, about 60 miles south of Warsaw.

The communique gave this German picture of the rapidly-shifting Polish campaign:

"Strong forces" east of Warsaw pushed doggedly southward in an effort to complete a circle around the Polish capital.

Five Polish divisions and two cavalry brigades in a pocket above Lodz, the third front, continued stubborn resistance against Germans slowly closing in. The Poles have been fighting bitterly for three days to edge their way out of the trap.

Farther southeast, German vanguards reached Lwow, capital of the Polish Ukraine, while the main body of troops in that region took the towns of Jaworow, on the Szklro river, and Sambor, on the Dniester. Both towns are west of Lwow in Carpathian foothills.

SQUALUS IS FINALLY BROUGHT TO SURFACE

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 13 (AP) — The submarine Squalus was "successfully surfaced" at 1:05 p. m. (CST) today and taken in tow for a Portsmouth navy yard drydock, navy officials announced.

They said the undersea craft had a 29 degree list.

The successful raising of the submarine and its 26 dead was achieved on the second attempt of the navy to lift the craft today and climaxed months of untrailing salvage work since she sank May 23 in 240 feet of water.

NOT AFTER BREMEN HOME, Sept. 13 (AP) — It was authoritatively denied tonight that Italy has acquired or intends to acquire the German liner Bremen.

A Rotterdam newspaper had asserted that the Bremen, which sailed from New York Aug. 30 and has not been officially reported since, had become an Italian ship and was bound for an Italian port.

Horror Tales Of Athenia's Sinking Told By Survivors As They Land

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 13 (AP) — Tales of horror, first in the sudden sinking of the liner Athenia and then in repeated submarine scares as they creased the Atlantic, were told today by more than 300 survivors as they landed here aboard the over-crowded freighter, City of Flint.

Clearly, the consensus among the survivors was that a submarine had sunk the Athenia. The captain of the City of Flint agreed.

"We almost hit the submarine," said Mary Catherine Henderson, of Athol, Ontario.

"We were in a boat with 30 men and only three men," she said. "A little while after we left the Athenia's side, we saw the periscope of the submarine and nearly hit it. I didn't see her come to the surface. More than one torpedo was sent according to what other passengers told me."

With some of the women dressed in dungarees, some wearing men's shoes, the obviously tired and drawn survivors were rushed to temporary hotel and cabins after a meeting welcome as their ship came into the harbor.

The first woman ashore was Mrs. John Mayworth of Hamilton, Ont., whose child died aboard the City of Flint of a brain injury suffered in the sinking of the Athenia. She was nearly prostrated and had to be helped down the gangplank.

One girl, Elizabeth Brown, of Houston, told a terrifying experience of being tossed into the water without a life preserver when the life boat, from which she set out from the Athenia, capsized.

"I saw one man gasp for breath and die," she said. "It was horrible. Just before the lifeboat capsized I had removed my life preserver."

Mrs. Franklin Dexter of Boston, the former Misses Duffrey of the famous tennis family, told how her husband refused to go in the same life boat as she did and waited to make sure there was room for others. He subsequently was picked up and taken to Scotland. The Dexters were returning from a European honeymoon.

"We felt just a jolt when the explosion came," Mrs. Dexter said. "Oh it was terrible. I can't describe it. Several persons told me they saw a submarine, and we all smelt the explosive."

The Sports Parade

By HANK HART

(Joe Fiekle Subbing for Hank Hart)
And now, we are informed via the good old grapevine, that polo is to be added to the list of local sports. For some time, hard-riding local horsemen have wanted to don helmets and swing mallets, but until this summer when the riding fad reached its peak, nothing much was done.

According to our source, the city has agreed to clear a field space near the riding academy so that enthusiasts can start practice. Among those already lined up are Dr. M. H. Bennett, Lloyd Wasson, Ray Lawrence, Dr. W. B. Hardy and Lewis Rix.

Wasson, whose croquet game is pretty good, rates "Buck" Bennett at five goals and Lewis Rix, "Mitz's master," at 10 goals, if they play ice hockey rules.

At any rate, it looks like we will have to plug for polo.

Our impression is that the Big Spring football team will carry more weight into the coming campaign, but not a lot more experience. How the team fares in the approaching wars depends on how apt the boys are.

That's recent to be a better spirit out on the gridiron, and it's pretty thoroughly understood that Pat Murphy is running the show as coach. Consequently, there ought to be a little more machine work on the field.

For this early in the season some of the lads look fair. Some apparently still nurse an aversion to hitting the sod and a few might do better blocking with a powder puff. But most of the hopefuls are slapping some good, solid licks on the blocking dummies and are getting out in a hurry.

One of Murphy's greatest needs may be a passer. On the afternoon we watched the squad rehearse, there was no losing or receiving to stop a yawn. However, there was a high wind which may have figured. Lefty Bethell's southpaw throwing was about as accurate as any, and D. R. Gartner looped a fairly effective floater. The receivers, in part, were trying to grapple the ball rather than catch it.

But we have a suspicion that the real question mark is in the line. Of course it's a good point for Saturday night quarterbacks to argue, but we figure more games are won or lost in the line than anywhere else. To our notion that's what cost Big Spring so heavily last year. If Herschel Stockton is able to turn out a crew of hard charging linemen instead of a bulky, waiting wall, the Steers this year will be a changed outfit.

One more word about football. Linemen are hitting up the field lights at the new stadium. There will be six 1,500 watt lights to each of six poles on either side. In all this gives a 72,000 watt power, close to 900 or 900 times more light power than you have in your living room. Each light consumes electricity equivalent to that required for a two horsepower motor. Thus, school officials need some financial support at the gate to pay a power bill the equal of operating a 96 horsepower motor for the duration of the evening.

Hunters will do well to get down the old thumb-taster today and start cleaning out last year's powder accumulation and a mess of rust, grease and dirt. Dove season opens Friday and indications are that there will be pretty fair pickings. Of course, the sportmen do not need to be told, but the less moral aims might well brush up on bag limits, hunting hours, gun requirements, shooting etiquette, hunting laws and the proper procedure for shooting on other people's land.

Those Round-Trip Blows Still Come In Very Nicely

Homers Win Ball Games In Both Loops; Yanx Lead Trimmed A Notch

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Way back in the good old days, the old professor once said pitching is 90 percent of baseball, but the big league managers will tell you today there's nothing so handy as the home run to prove it.
For it was a set of four-base knockouts yesterday which cashed in on elegant pitching all around the batters in the majors, breaking up every game and leaving late situations: (1) Cincinnati's Reds still 1-2 games in front of the National League; (2) the Yankees' American league edge trimmed to 16 games; (3) the St. Louis Cardinals still in the thick of the center circuit fight, and (4) the Cubs with a slightly tighter grip on third place.

Out in Cincinnati, the Reds, opening a home stand, were collecting a basketful of goose eggs from Luke Hamlin and the blazing Brooklyn Dodgers. Then, with two out in the ninth and a man on base, Billy Myers socked his eighth homer of the season to tie the score. Buck McCormick's single in the tenth sent the winning run across for a 3-2 decision.

The Cards, in St. Louis, were having a tough time with the Phils. Johnny Mike and Ducky Medwick hit homers in the early innings, but Joe Marty came back with a two-run round-tripper in the seventh to put the Phils in front. So Terry Moore whacked one among the paying customers with a man on base in the last of the seventh to give the gas house gang a 4-3 decision.

With Three On
The Cubs used the most outspoken kind of homer—one with the bags loaded. Hank Leiber came up in the first inning and belted it. From there it was no trick for the Cubs to coast in with an 8-3 win over the Bees.

The Yankees had a tough uphill fight to deadlock the Cleveland Indians in the regular nine innings. But Oesie Grimes settled the thing by leading off the tenth with his third homer of the year, and the Indians clicked, 4-3.

Since the second-place Boston Red Sox, behind Denny Galehouse's five-hit pitching, nipped the Detroit Tigers, 2-1, the Yanks' American League lead was trimmed one game. They still need four wins to clinch the flag.

The Athletics didn't hit a homer, but they collected 19 other assorted base knocks to wallop the St. Louis Browns, 9-1. The Chicago White Sox downed the Washington Senators, 3-2, but the Senators made a successful protest as the result of a six-inning play, and the game was ordered replayed today.

The Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates were rained out.

LOUIS WILL FIGHT PASTOR JUST LIKE THE REST OF 'EM

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13 (AP)—Lou Nova is a 2 to 1 favorite over Tony Galento for their 15-round heavyweight fight Friday, but he wishes it were the other way around.

"I'm not used to being made the favorite," he said. "I've always been the underdog. Even in college."

He finished hard training yesterday and turned today to light drills with the bag.

Galento moved to Philadelphia from his nearby Lepperville training camp after polishing off two shock absorbers, eight bottles of beer and a lobster dinner.

Alice Marble's Monopoly In Tennis Tournament Kills All The Interest

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—Alice Marble's vast superiority over the rest of the other tennis girls has knocked about all the interest out of the ladies' league in the national championships, now in the seventh day at Forest Hills.

If you don't read much about the girls, that's the reason. The pretty Los Angeles bomber is considered a mortal clinch to win here as easily as she won at Wimbledon. It's only a question, really, of whether Helen Jacobs or Kay Stammers will be offered up as the sacrifice in the finals.

Some of the critics who have been watching them all for upwards of ten years think Alice, in her present form, could have trimmed Suzanne Langier or Helen Wills Moody in their prime.

No one any longer bets whether Alice will win, but only on how many points her opponents will get. Yesterday she took a 6-0, 6-2 victory over Betty Nuthall.

So that's why all the interest is wrapped up in the men's division. Bobby Riggs, the Wimbledon champion, and Adrian Quist of Australia are about equal favorites to win.

Today's first order of business was the continuation of the match between Harry Hopman of Australia and Bryan Grant, Jr., of Atlanta, halted by darkness last night after three sets. Hopman won the first two, 7-5, 7-6, but Grant captured the third after trailing 6-3.

Other antagonists today included Frankie Parker of Beverly Hills vs. Gilbert Hunt, Jr., of Washington.

They were trying to pick Hugh Casey, Brooklyn Dodgers pitcher, off second base in a Brooklyn-Boston game at New York, and Sebastian Sisti of the Bees took this dive to get the throw but missed the ball thrown by Lou Foltz.

Medalist Five Under Par For A New Record

Some Other Great Scores Posted In Chicago Tourney

CHICAGO, Sept. 13 (AP)—When great golf fields are mentioned in the future, the chances are the boys will cite as the finest of them all the 64 who started match play today for the 43rd National Amateur championship.

Sheehan Breaks Record
Perhaps there was no Bobby Jones on deck, but several of these boys will do until another Bobby comes along. The field was wide open; the four who got into the title fight through a 16-man playoff for the last places apparently have an even chance against the medalist.

The medalist was Tom Sheehan, captain of Notre Dame's golf team the last two years, who ripped two strokes off the all-time qualifying mark with a sensational five-under-par 139, for 36 holes. The Detroit youngster held a three-stroke lead over the field in taking the medal with the greatest shot-making exhibition the big classic has ever seen.

Three blows off the pace with a two-under-par 142 was Maurice J. McCarthy, Ohio's "Great McGonigle," and Walker cup star. A stroke back of him was B. Patrick Abbott of Altadena, Calif., the curly-haired movie extra.

Next came C. Ross Somerville, the Canadian star, and H. H. Haverstick, the Lancaster, Pa., youth who led the first day's round with a brilliant 68 but slipped to a second round 78 for his seven par 144 total.

Back of them were strung a flock of top-notch club-swingers, all capable of giving the hot-shots a little. Turnesa qualified comfortably with a 149.

Gus T. Moreland, Peoria star who finished the medal play test with 158 and failed to qualify, was the medal winner with a 146 last year at Pittsburgh.

Pairings

Johnny Fischer, Cincinnati, vs. W. S. Alexander, Charlotte, N. C.
Harry Todd of Dallas, vs. Fred Allen of Rochester, N. Y. Todd qualified with 70-78-148.

Don Schumacher of Dallas, the Texas state titleholder who qualified with 70-79-149, vs. Bob Servis, Dayton, O.
Jack Munger, Dallas, vs. Ed Kingsley of Salt Lake City. Munger qualified with 76-74-150.

Lain, Cordill Ready, So Keep Eye Out For Rice

Fluttering shirttail two years ago was about the most dangerous flag they waved in the southwest, is in prime shape. Cordill, his rangy 190-pound shaker and kicking marvel, has shaken off last season's pony shoulder hurt.

"Worried About Ends
"But we're still weak in some spots," groaned Kitts. "We shifted a guard to blocking back and can't tell yet about results. And my ends— We just must have good end play. We concentrated on our ends in spring drill and I believe we will be just about the same on the wings as we were last year."

One of his scheduled starting ends, Dick Brannon, an aggressive letterman, who laid out of spring work due to injuries, is having troubles again and can't be relied upon for heavy duty.

The case of Rice was one of the most pathetic in football last year. Injuries started piling up in the first game, one they dropped to Oklahoma, and, finally, death climaxed the string of ill fortune. Fullback Jack Vestal, considered one of the most valuable men in the conference, died in mid-season.

"Our attitude is different this year," said Kitts. "My boys are driving hard in practice and it could be a much different story."

Lain, a burly boy who isn't too plump at 228 pounds but still isn't exactly a sprint man in the backfield, stood over on the grass and whistled 30 and 35 yard projectiles downfield that hit the mark conspicuously. His passing, if anything, is perhaps a little deadlier. And he's learning to kick as sort of an added attraction to confuse the enemy. No one doubts his prowess at shredding the line.

Coahoma In 6-Man Loop, Schedules Are Revised

Coahoma was admitted to membership in the district 12 "six man football" loop of the interscholastic league in a meeting of representatives from eight schools in the conference here Tuesday evening.

Admission of the new member, made possible by the departure of Ackery and Klondike in Dawson county from the district, necessitated a general revision of the schedules, said N. F. Taylor, Garden City.

In addition, the district representatives based new schedules on enrollment, dividing the district into two divisions for over and under 100 registration.

This Garden City, Sterling City, Water Valley and Courtney were placed in the lower bracket and Westbrook, Coahoma, Forsan and Garner in the upper bracket.

Regular schedules will end as of Nov. 17 and the winners of the two divisions will meet in a special game to decide the district championship.

E. Lauderdale of Westbrook was named chairman of the group with larger enrollments and Parsons of Big Spring; Briggs of Garden City; Conley of Forsan; King of Sterling City; Poe of Stanton; Pratt of Colorado City; Harris of Lamesa and W. F. Talley of Coahoma.

Schedule for schools over 100 enrollment follows:
Sept. 15—Westbrook at Forsan and Coahoma at Garner.
Sept. 22—Garner at Westbrook and Forsan at Coahoma.
Sept. 29—Coahoma at Garden City.

Schedule for schools under 100 enrollment follows:
Sept. 16—Garden City at Water Valley.
Sept. 22—Courtney at Garden City and Sterling City at Water Valley.
Sept. 29—Sterling City at Courtney.

Oct. 6—Courtney at Water Valley and Sterling City at Garden City.
Oct. 13—Garden City at Courtney.
Oct. 20—Water Valley at Garden City and Courtney at Sterling City.
Oct. 27—Water Valley at Courtney.

Nov. 3—Garden City at Sterling City.
Nov. 10—Forsan at Garden City and Westbrook at Courtney.
Nov. 17—Forsan at Water Valley.

NASHVILLE AND ATLANTA LEAD

Excellent pitching sent Nashville and Atlanta, third and fourth-place finishers, respectively, out in front with one-game leads in the Southern Association's Shaughnessy playoff today.

Chattanooga's new champions were defeated by Atlanta 6-2. Nashville took a 2-1 decision over second-place Memphis in yesterday's other game.

Chattanooga plays host to Atlanta again today, and the Memphis Chicks and the Nashville Vols clash at Nashville again.

COVERS FOR SCHOOL BOOKS FURNISHED BY PHILLIPS CO.

Phillips Petroleum company is again this year furnishing school book covers for many of the schools throughout its marketing territory. Fourteen thousand covers are being furnished in the Big Spring territory.

State law requires that all text books be covered adequately and the covering of the books ordinarily presents quite a problem, both to the schools and to the individual pupils, according to the superintendent. With the Phillips Petroleum company furnishing the school book covers needed in this locality, free of charge, that problem is solved.

The need for these school book covers has caused Phillips Petroleum company to furnish covers similar to these schools throughout West Texas and the Panhandle, the requirements amounting to over 500,000 covers.

Windsor To Take A War Appointment

LONDON, Sept. 13 (AP)—The Duke of Windsor, who kept his promise to return to England if she ever needed him, will take up a war appointment, it was announced today.

The former king is a field marshal on the active list and colonel-in-chief of the Welsh Guards. On the first day after his return from an exile that was broken by war, the duke gave quick evidence he would not seek seclusion. With his American-born duchess he posed for photographers at a friend's Sussex estate where they are guests.

Windsor avoided questions about what kind of a war job he would take, but the smiles of the duke and duchess made it obvious they were glad to be back after spending almost three years on the continent, largely in France.

The duke returned secretly from France in a destroyer last night. With him came the American-born woman for whom he gave up the throne.

They stepped onto a red carpet at Portsmouth while a handful of port officials cheered. It was the former Wallis Warfield's first time on British soil as the Duchess of Windsor. They were married in France.

Most London papers put the homecoming story on front pages, but only two gave it headlines comparing in size with those for the war news.

It was the channel harbor of Portsmouth where the duke last saw England early the morning of Dec. 12, 1938.

The duke, 45, last June, is a field marshal on the active list and colonel-in-chief of the Welsh Guards.

ARKANSAS U. PREXY KILLED IN CRASH

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Sept. 13 (AP)—Thousands of University of Arkansas alumni and students today mourned Dr. John Clinton Futrell, 66, president of the institution for more than a quarter of a century, who was killed in an automobile-truck collision yesterday.

Dr. Futrell received honorary doctor of laws degrees from Tulane University in 1920 and the University of Mexico in 1926.

He is survived by the widow, two daughters, one brother and four sisters.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— Without Colic—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning!

The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels, and builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, numb and the world looks pink. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel up and up. Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25 cents. Substitutes refuse anything else.

27 Ships Lost During War

Torpedo, mine and shell have sunk 27 ships of six nations, in 11 days of sea combat, with Britain suffering more than half the losses. At least 181 persons were known to have perished.

Casualties to date: Belligerents—Britain 16 ships, France 1, Germany 6. Three other German vessels were reported to have run aground. Their exact fate is unreported.

Neutrals—Netherlands 2 ships, Greece 1, Finland 1.

The toll still was less than the figures for a similar period in the first days of unrestricted German submarine warfare in the World War. Ten days after the German high command gave the order for "unlimited" submarine battle in 1917, the loss was 82 ships and known tonnage of ships sunk, 172,902.

ANTI-KNOCK GASOLINE TERMED AS NAZIS' MAJOR LACK

BOSTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—Germany will lose the current European war because she lacks "anti-knock" gasoline for her fighting planes, a nationally known chemist said today. "Not the guns of France, or Great Britain, or Poland, but the 'knocking' of her airplane motors will toll the doom of Germany in this war," declared Dr. Gustav Egloff, director of research of the Universal Oil Products company, Chicago, in an interview.

He is here to attend the 98th meeting of the American Chemical Society.

Other prominent speakers secured for the program are Highway Commissioners Eddy Gentry and Robert Lee Bobbitt, Jake J. Yip, president of the state association; Dr. L. W. Courtney of Baylor University; D. A. Banden, general manager West Texas Chamber of Commerce; and Congressman George Mahon. Judge Bouldin stated that he is expecting 500 judges and commissioners here for the meeting. The judges banquet and dinner-dance will be held Friday evening with professional entertainers here for the program. San Angelo, Abilene and Amarillo will ask for the next meeting.

KBST NOTES— Network Will Observe First Anniversary

The Texas State Network, on Friday, September 15, will celebrate its first anniversary and all TSN sustaining programs for the week of September 15 will salute the network anniversary. The local outlet, KBST, is joining in presentation of special programs.

Start of the second year of operation by the fast-growing regional web finds TSN with four new stations on the net, a more powerful key station, material increases in power for nine stations, four additional stations granted fulltime operation licenses, sales offices opened in New York and Chicago, and one program now on a national network.

Its production and station affiliations make it still the fourth largest program-originating network in the country. Highlights of plans for the coming year include the production and airing of a full-hour show daily for a national concert for fifty-two weeks and applications filed for increases to 5,000 watts on KFJZ, TSN key station in Fort Worth, and KABC, San Antonio. Launching of the national concern's hour-long script show will mark the beginning of the fulfillment of the largest order for radio network time ever placed in the Southwest.

Pension Cut Is Necessary

AUSTIN, Sept. 13 (AP)—Decision on a slash in the October old age pension rolls, either by eliminating a large number receiving small monthly payments or imposing a pro rata cut on the entire 121,000 recipients, faced the newly-created state public welfare board here today.

The board, composed of Chairman Beeman Strong of Beaumont, Rev. M. E. Sadler of Austin and Marvin Leonard of Fort Worth, conferred with Director Adam R. Johnson and other officials of the new department.

Johnson said the board would consider a method of reducing pension costs because, beginning next month, the board, under the law, must start repaying an old loan of $2,300,000 to a Dallas bank. Estimates indicate pensions may be cut up to $6 each a month. September payments, for which federal matching money has not been received, totaled 121,136, an increase of 2,152 over August, and averaged $14.24 each.

Increased Taxes In Canada To Pay For War Program

OTTAWA, Sept. 13 (Canadian Press)—Canada's parliament re-assembled today to give final approval to a war-time program calling for increased taxes on incomes, luxuries and excess profits.

Routine senate approval of five emergency measures to place Canada's wealth and manpower at the disposal of Great Britain was the only business remaining before adjournment.

The program will increase income taxes 20 per cent. Present exemptions and graduations of personal income taxes remain unchanged.

All businesses will pay taxes ranging from 10 to 60 per cent of profits in excess of five per cent of capital, or an alternative tax of 50 per cent on all profits in excess of the average for the past four years.

The house passed a bill providing for a department of munitions and supplies with sweeping powers to mobilize industry for government service.

GERMANY WARNED ON CIVILIAN BOMBING

LONDON, Sept. 13 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax warned Germany in effect today that, if she resorted to civilian bombings, the British government "must hold themselves completely free to take such action as they may deem appropriate."

Halifax' declaration was made in the house of lords when he took cognizance of an announcement directed at Poland today by the German supreme army command. (This announcement said that as Poles turned open towns, markets or villages into a battle area (by sniping) "The German army from now on will break resistance in such places with all means at its disposal.")

The foreign secretary said if that announcement meant indiscriminate bombing of open Polish cities "it would seem to be in direct contradiction" of Adolf Hitler's re-ichstag speech of Sept. 1, "when he disclaimed any desire to make war on women and children."

Steel Orders Reach Great Proportions

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—From Age reported today orders for steel, since the European war began, were "assuming almost fantastic proportions."

Business has come in so fast, said the magazine, "as virtually to swamp the sales and clerical forces of steel companies."

"Under the circumstances, an accurate estimate of total bookings of the past 10 days is impossible but some products have gained from 35 to 200 per cent over their weekly averages of August 2 x x."

"Comparatively little of the heavy inflow of tonnage has come from abroad. Export business has expanded, but not as greatly as domestic buying, the chief hindrance being the shipping situation."

INJURIES ARE FATAL

TEXARKANA, Sept. 13 (AP)—Funeral services were held today near Douglassville, Tex., for A. E. (Cleve) Henderson, prominent Cass county farmer.

Henderson died in a hospital here yesterday from injuries received early Monday when a truck he was driving plunged into a ditch between Linden and Douglassville.

War Without Enthusiasm

It is too easy to assume that the World war is repeating itself. The differences between today and 25 years ago are striking. So far only four nations are involved as against nine in the first week of August, 1914.

A second striking difference is the tribute paid to public opinion in the efforts of all belligerents to justify and explain their entry into war. Some of these efforts have been designed cynically to mislead.

There has been too great a sense of regret, as Premier Daladier said, "a kind of tenderness." There are other ideas: a conviction that war is not good enough as a way to settle national disputes.

After A Man's Heart

Chapter Eight THE SIEGE. Alone in the dining room, Tim and Effie were joined by Mrs. Webb. "Should I take her up some soda?" asked the anxious cook.

"Oh, don't!" Effie pleaded. "I feel absolutely suffocated. Still, her parents didn't seem alarmed. And she hasn't put on all that poundage nibbling away on a lamb chop and pineapple diet."

"No, you don't!" Tim said. "No, you don't! I can get about pretty well on these infernal crutches, and I'm not going to be left alone here with that—that anaconda. It might offend-afternoon snack. Take me along, Buff, of your charity."

"The cook had sunk into a chair and was staring at the table. 'I wouldn't believe it if I hadn't seen it with my own eyes! Four chickens, and a good size they was, too—besides all them vegetables and things. You sure ain't going to make money off these boarders, Miss Buff!'"

"No," the girl assented. "I sure ain't! Webby, about supper now—I hope you heard me say supper!"

"We can do nothing about it this afternoon, Buff. Worse than that, it looks as if Hunt has a real case, if you try to put him out. He rented the ranch in good faith, as he says, from a man who was, to all intents and purposes, your father's legally constituted agent."

"The siege lasted but two days. Tim, after another talk with his friend Johnson, convinced Buff that it was far better to make the ranch an uncomfortable abiding place for the resolute Hunts, than to resort to law in the matter."

"It's not important enough for that," he argued. "And what is more, I think Hunt is staying more out of sheer obstinacy than because he wants the place. Let me manage this for you, Buff, and we'll see their retreating backs in a day or two."

"Where's the soup?" she demanded. "I never heard of starting dinner with crackers and milk."

"No More Food!" Buff explained pleasantly. "We dined at noon. We're simple ranch folk, you know, and keep to country ways."

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—Planes circle over Washington and nobody dashes for protecting doorways. That is comforting. But except for that a body would think we were at war too.

Washington is full of maps. They rank next to WPA art as wall decorations. Before the war was six hours old, maps were hanging in the war department with the inevitable colored tacks to show where the opposing forces were.

President Roosevelt held a press conference immediately after the war started. He had been up all night save for an hour or so about midnight. He was serious. The usual kidding with the correspondents at the beginning of a conference was omitted.

He cautioned the press to give the people the facts, without baseless rumors. Give 'em straight facts, he said. That is best and safest.

SEE THE PISTOLS

Lately the guards around the White House have taken to wearing their pistols in white leather holsters in plain view. Always before they have carried them hidden in their pockets, the way street cops do.

"War Over." This capital is already prejudiced on the side of France and England. You would feel it in the air even if you didn't hear army men, navy men and even diplomats sounding off. Privately, of course.

At lunch time people draw sketches on napkins to show where Poland is weakest, or where Britain could 'and troops. A newsboy at 4 a. m. parades up and down a court flanked by apartment houses, shouting a war extra. If you can't wake 'em up you can't sell 'em.

Lights burn throughout the night in the treasury and state department. State department decoding clerks work mostly on the fourth floor. Daytimes it is hot as blazes there. Code messages are coming in from our European embassies every few minutes.

The war department has locked taxis out of the rear court. They used to dash in there off Constitution avenue for a quick turn around out of traffic. They can't do it any more, not since the war began.

Man About Manhattan

George Tucker

NEW YORK—George White's new "Scandals" in many ways is just another version of the old familiar Ziegfeld-Carroll-White school, but it has a few facets that will be interesting to people who wonder about Tin Pan Alley.

The finale of the first act is an extravagant burrah to that mythological lane where the late George Gershwin, Irving Berlin, and so many other American composers banged out their tunes and left imprints of their names. It is screwy, of course, as anything relating to Tin Pan alley would have to be.

Speaking of McIntyre makes you remember that more than a year and a half has gone by since he passed away. There were many stories linked to McIntyre, but the best one, in my opinion, was Ziegfeld's cablegram to him from Europe. When Ziegfeld went to Europe, or anywhere, he liked for the fact to be publicized. He loved to see, that name, Ziegfeld, in the headlines. On this occasion Ziegfeld said, but just at that time a war broke out to occupy the front pages and make it extremely tough for press agents to get anything in the papers.

A note from Jimmy Henderson, in Hollywood, says Dalton Trumbo's new novel is just off the press and its title is "Johnny Got His Gun." As reading material, Henderson says, it is swell. Between the author and the publishers there was a bit of maybe good, maybe bad timing. The book is a denunciation of war and was issued September 1—the day war in Europe broke out.

Steel Rush To Open New Jobs

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 13 (AP)—A visit to offices of the leading steel producers here today showed executives almost dizzy with the sudden rush of domestic orders which many predicted would result in calling back to the mills as many as 125,000 workers before Thanksgiving.

"Consumers," explained a perspiring official, "are putting on the same panicky rush housewives did last week for sugar and flour. If it continues, and we believe it will, the industry will boost its output to 85 or 90 per cent of capacity within 30 or 60 days."

"That will mean as many as 125,000 additional workers will be needed and full time for those now working."

This spokesman and representatives of two other producers joined in saying they were having to limit tonnage to a basis comparable to past performances. Customers who have been buying 1,000 tons a quarter and now are demanding 5,000 tons for the next quarter, are having to slash their order.

All executives stated there virtually was no war materials involved in the pickup. Meanwhile, closely related industries began to feel the effects. The Pennsylvania railroad ordered back 2,000 workers, reopened some of its machine shops. Baltimore and Ohio called back almost 1,000. Steel scrap prices jumped $1 a ton yesterday to $18, a record for the year.

The H. C. Frick Coke Company, U. S. Steel subsidiary, began cleaning up four additional mines in Fayette County, Pa., equipped with the old time beehive ovens, and sent word to approximately 3,000 miners they would be needed back at work shortly. The mines had been closed two years.

Denison Dam Must Be Built, Says FD, If Congress Orders

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—President Roosevelt says the Denison dam hydro-electric project on Red river between Texas and Oklahoma will have to be built if congress decrees it.

He said at his press conference yesterday, however, he had referred to the war, agriculture and interior departments a letter written Saturday by Governor Leon C. Phillips of Oklahoma asking him to stop construction of the project on the ground it would destroy 100,000 acres of Oklahoma farm land, obliterate 50 miles of boundary line and cause other damage.

Told that Secretary Woodring recently had advised the governor he planned to go ahead with the project because congress had ordered it in flood control authorization and appropriation bills, the president said if congress directed it be constructed it would have to be built.

Local Girl On Cruise Gets A Sample Of War Scare As Ship 'Blacks Out' Against Subs

"Dancing in the dark" should spell romance; but according to newspaper reports from Honolulu, there was a time when it meant war-menacing necessity.

The ship was at sea when advice came of the declaration of war, and when reports were received of the torpedoing of the Athenia. From then on, the Aorangi traveled under wartime conditions.

The ship was steered from its customary course, was operated at full speed without "running lights," lifeboats were prepared for immediate use in case the ship was torpedoed by a German submarine, and port holes were painted black and smoking on deck was prohibited.

Instructions for passengers were printed in the ship's newspaper and later Captain T. V. Hill read the instructions to passengers over the public address system. Port holes were screwed down and either painted black or pasted over with black paper. Doors opening on deck were kept closed.

Walking on deck was made hazardous because of no lights and even the red, green and white lights which all ships ordinarily display at night as a warning to other ships were extinguished.

Charts displayed on the vessel were removed so that passengers did not know where they were. Proceeding at full speed, the Aorangi arrived about 14 hours ahead of schedule.

On Friday of this week, the twenty-six girls who compose the group with which Miss Merrill joined for the cruise—all of them members of the Beta Sigma Phi business sorority—will sail on the Niagara for Vancouver.

MISS LANEIOUS NOTES

By Mary Whaley

One of the most disappointing things in life is to see the summer you planned all winter slip away without any of your schemes accomplished.

There were all those swims, tennis games, and golf sessions that you dreamed about during cold weather but somehow here it is fall and you got none of them done.

There were the moonlight picnics, rides and that gorgeous sun tan you promised yourself as you huddled in your winter coat and tucked your nose down in the collar. Did you get any of them? No!

Then too, there were those days you were just going to "laze around" in the sun and relax. You were going to have a good rest. But now that the air is cooler, you wonder what ever happened that you never did seem to have time for that sort of thing.

Maybe you promised to spade up a garden and "do a little work" around the house or maybe you were going to start that knitted suit. But unless you had these summer pleasures scheduled for certain days and checked them off methodically, you probably find you didn't do any of them.

There doesn't seem to be any remedy for this "do nothing" attitude you acquired about June and probably you will stare out of the window some cold day and begin planning for next summer.

Maybe this is what keeps life from being dull, this being able to look forward and plan things that seem delightful in prospect but will likely never be done.

You brave and innocent dove of war! Your homeward trip starts behind the enemy lines. And your midget camera-on-wings, clicking away automatically, will spy over places where planes and blimps can't get. Cameras still more tricky than that could spy into an automobile engine being OIL-PLATED, but it takes no more than the naked eye to see the Conoco Germ Processed oil staying up around "Full"—surest sign that friction isn't "hollowing out" any engine that this patented oil has OIL-PLATED.

FLY, SPY!

OIL-PLATING is lubricant that cannot drain down from working parts during the longest parking or steadiest Summer going, any more than the plating on the bumpers drains down!

OIL-PLATING, created only by Germ Process action, knits lastingly to inner engine surfaces. They can't drain dry in a minute—an hour—a day—a week—or a season. Hence no gnawing "dry starts," waiting for oil to come worming up from where it drained to...not with your engine OIL-PLATED. And no oil-starved bare spots developing on fast long trips...not with every square inch in your engine preserved behind its drain-proof OIL-PLATING. By retarding wear and by refusing to fly off and fry up, OIL-PLATING is a double help to the oil-level. Then get your correct Germ Processed oil for OIL-PLATING now, where you spy the sign of Your Mileage Merchant. Continental Oil Company

Horror

We made bunk beds from tarpaulins and arranged them in rows. We named the rows after streets.

"I haven't been in this room for days," he said, referring to his own cabin.

"I haven't had a chance to sleep. I've had 10 girls quartered in here."

Captain Genard told reporters that the Athenia was "torpedoed and sunk."

Elizabeth Brown of Houston stood with Ann Baker of the same city while describing her experience.

"The passengers were in such a panic that they were afraid to get up," she said.

"They called originally on the Flint, while we took the Athenia," Miss Brown said.

"The City of Flint is the finest ship I've ever been on in my life," said Miss Baker, smiling.

Miss Brown said she was with Miss Baker and several other Texan girls in the dining room when the explosion occurred.

"We didn't think much about it at the time, but soon realized it was serious and rushed toward life boats."

"I was on my way to the deck when the Athenia was struck, thank heaven, so I just continued on to my boat station.

There wasn't much confusion. I was too excited to be frightened.

"As soon as she was struck all the lights of the ship went out. I started to look for my friends.

Ann Baker, Elizabeth Brown and Dorthea Fouts. But then went right on to the boat deck.

We were picked up by the Southern Cross (Swedish yacht) about six hours later. It was a beautiful night, but we didn't do much talking.

Women as well as men took a hand in the rowing.

Sue Harding, of Fort Worth, Texas, one of the girls who took the City of Flint from Glasgow instead of joining her friends on the ill-fated Athenia, said "we were about 100 miles ahead of the Athenia."

"Between 8 and 8:30 we turned back to the rescue," she continued. "It was noon the next day when we took the passengers off the Southern Cross."

Other passengers told how Miss Harding gave up her wardrobe to clothe some of the survivors.

Miss Mary Lee Humlong of San Angelo, Texas, who had sailed from Glasgow on the City of Flint, told of the terror that struck the survivors even after they had been rescued.

Describing the scene when the sea became rough, the first night after the rescue, she said: "The passengers began screaming and became hysterical in the holds at every noise, and some of them shouted: 'We're being torpedoed!'"

Miss Humlong gave away her sweater and coats to the survivors, and helped make shoes out of rope.

Another girl, Miss Caroline Stuart of Plainfield, N. J., said she rowed for eight hours after leaving the Athenia in a lifeboat.

"Look at these hands," she said. They were covered with blisters.

The advance on Saarbruecken was said to have hampered a wedge in the Siegfried line at its strongest point.

East of Saarbruecken the French reported cutting and slitting off reinforcements with an artillery barrage.

To the northwest of the city, in a pocket formed by the Luxembourg and German borders, the French were said to be meeting fierce resistance.

A dispatch from Basel, Switzerland, described the artillery warfare near Luxembourg as one of the greatest duels in history.

The main Siegfried line positions lie some seven miles behind Saarbruecken, and apparently the heavy German shellfire came from them.

The French fire in this district was laid down along a two-mile front through the eastern suburbs of the city to the aviation field, which had been a German military air base.

Germans

The German circle around Warsaw has not been completely closed, but troop detachments seemed to be in position to join each other.

The forces east of the capital have had the toughest struggle. Colonel General Walther Von Brauchitsch, German commander in chief, was at the front to watch the Radom fighting yesterday.

Success there would open the way for main German forces to move toward Lublin, 106 miles southeast of Warsaw.

Advanced troops already were reported to Lublin.

Extensive German air raids disrupting eastern Polish rail lines to Soviet Russia were reported by the German news agency.

Despite unfavorable flying weather, the agency said the main Warsaw-Moscow line had been broken at several points near Bialystok and Baranovics.

The south line from Bialystok to Brzesce also was damaged. A secondary line to Soviet Russia was said to have been broken between Brzesce and Piazin.

The agency reported two Polish planes were shot down at Radymno, near Przemysl and southern Poland.

Railway stations at Wlodawa and Oleszyce-Hornlee were reported damaged badly by German bombs.

Apparently confident the fall of Warsaw is a mere question of time, the high command already was concentrating its attention on the next phase of operations.

This was reported to have involved a determination to drive through Poland to the Russian border, if necessary to crush the Polish army.

Behind the fast moving German armies, conquered Polish territory is relatively thinly occupied by troops.

Near the German border, however, thousands of "auxiliary troops" have been pushed into the area to assist in rebuilding roads and repairing roads.

In many areas these troops, many of them 15-year-old youths from the labor service, provide the only visible sign of occupation.

Villages behind the front were described as having been burned as well as heavily bombarded. However, many of the inhabitants are returning.

Drive

The war ministry communique for this morning reported a "continuation of reaction of the military in the course of the night."

The communique referred hastily to "great activity here and there" by the air forces of both sides.

French sources said their army had advanced only a few thousand yards a day in some sectors where violent fighting marked every action.

The advance on Saarbruecken was said to have hampered a wedge in the Siegfried line at its strongest point.

East of Saarbruecken the French reported cutting and slitting off reinforcements with an artillery barrage.

Pup Thomas, who with B. Woodall is promoting the fight at Lubbock, predicted that Baer Ritchie would stand a good chance with Max by reason of supposed superior boxing ability.

He added that Baer might follow here next week following the fight.

The meeting also turned out to be a birthday party for Dr. J. E. Hogan, club president.

After Joe Pond had made an elaborate presentation speech, Dr. Hogan was handed a big birthday cake.

He responded by telling of his deep appreciation, but when he opened the cake out hopped an embattled game cock.

The Melody Maids, composed of Beatrice Peck, Juanita Cook and Marie Baird, entertained with three numbers. Cal Boykin, president of the chamber of commerce, spoke briefly.

In addition to club members and other guests, there were more than 30 other service club members of the city at the meeting in the Settles ballroom.

Art Chase, Lubbock pilot who flew the Baer party here, was another guest.

New Paper In State Capitol

AUSTIN, Sept. 13 (AP)—A new newspaper, the Austin Daily Tribune, financed by J. M. West of Houston, multi-millionaire oil and lumberman, will appear October 1, Jack Padgett, former state representative and recently in the insurance business here, announced today.

Padgett, vice president and general manager of the new publication, said West, who will be president, has formed a $100,000 corporation, the Austin Daily Tribune, Inc. West's sons, J. Marion and Wesley, will be vice president and secretary-treasurer of the firm, Padgett declared.

The corporation, Padgett asserted, had purchased the Austin Dispatch (daily) newspaper plant and taken over circulation of the Austin (weekly) Times, formerly published by Edmunds Travis of Austin.

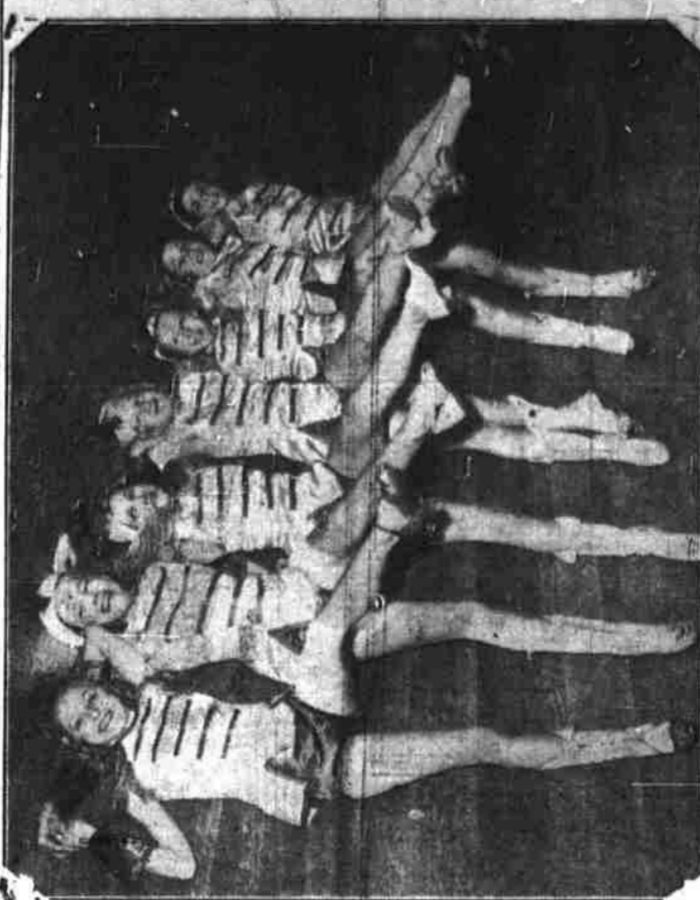

The new paper, an afternoon and Sunday morning publication, will have a staff composed of Frank Adams of Austin, managing editor; Bob Carpenter, advertising manager; F. S. Nelson, circulation manager, and Fred Graham, classified advertising manager.

Padgett was formerly general manager and one of the owners of the Austin Statesman and later publisher of the Austin News.

West, appointed by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel to be chairman of the highway commission, was rejected by the senate last spring.

Miss Lola Drane of Seymour, Tex., sister of Mrs. Neil Hilliard, is spending the week with the Hilliards.

AN ANALYSIS OF THE WAR DEVELOPMENTS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The Poles will hold Warsaw. These five words tell one of the epics of war-history. At the end of six days of bitter fighting beneath a deluge of shattering steel, the Poles still hold their capital although it is largely encircled by a ring of German bayonets.

One often refers to a man of unlimited courage in combat as a "fighting fool." It is a complimentary term.

Oil Group To Hear Rainey

DR. H. P. RAINEY

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 13—Dr. Homer Price Rainey, president of the University of Texas and widely-known educator, is to be a principal speaker on the program of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association's annual convention, to be held at Houston, October 5th, 6th and 7th, according to Charles P. McGaha, president of the association.

"We are particularly fortunate in obtaining Dr. Rainey's acceptance to our invitation to have him address Texas oil men at our Houston convention," said McGaha, "and I know that he will have a message of vital importance to the oil fraternity."

Dr. Rainey is a keen student of economic conditions in Texas and the nation and a strong advocate of vocational training of the youth of Texas, McGaha stated. He also visualizes the possibility of making the University of Texas a veritable clearing house of public information concerning Texas industries and natural resources, McGaha added.

Several other prominent speakers, to be announced later, are scheduled on the Mid-Continent Association's convention program and plans are rapidly being completed to make the Houston convention the outstanding event of the year in Texas oil affairs.

Wartime England

LONDON, Sept. 13 (AP)—One day in wartime England: Gas mask vignette: Roy Jackson, 14, started off for work without his mask, remembered, wheeled his bicycle around—and ran into a truck. He was killed.

With gasoline rationing only three days off, thrift experts are profuse with their advice. One suggests cars be made lighter by removing the back seat and leaving it in the garage.

Along with the new "dig for victory" slogan, a new phrase has been coined for what Americans call "farmerettes." The papers are full of pictures of "land girls" being trained to drive tractors, hoe beats, and so forth.

SEEK IDENTIFICATION CHANDLER, Okla., Sept. 13 (AP)—Mrs. Stella Tomberlin said today the description of the body of a woman found near Wichita Falls, Tex., answered that of her daughter, Grace, 15, who disappeared July 29.

England in effect is inviting the German public to throw Hitler and his doctrines out and establish government with which the allies can treat. To this Field Marshal Goering says to Chamberlain: "You can have war if you want it and in any form you want. We want peace, but giving up the Fuehrer, as other think we might, is too big a price to pay for peace."

This defense of Warsaw represents a section of the big stand which the Poles finally are making through the heart of Poland, at the end of their planned retreat from the German border. They are fighting against time—hanging on to give their Anglo-French allies a chance to take action which will relieve the awful pressure of that vast German war-machine.

Nature May Help

A bit more and Poland may get help from nature. Come the fall rains and many of the roads will become bogs. No country highways are reported deep in dust. Add water to that and you get a mixture of the consistency of glue—extremely difficult for traffic of any kind.

This necessarily will slow the German advance and give the Poles a breathing space. I know the water-logged roads of eastern Europe in the fall, and they are terrible.

Only a miracle can save Warsaw from capture, of course, but every day of delay is good for Poland.

And now for the mystery-front in the western theatre of war. A dozen times a day one is asked whether the Anglo-French forces really are making a serious drive against the Germans.

Sure they are. But don't forget that the Nazi Siegfried line can't be popped open like a peanut. It takes time.

This great line of underground fortifications is, apart from the French Maginot line, the strongest bulwark of its kind ever devised.

It might easily cost the lives of a quarter million French and British soldiers to breach the Siegfried line in one place.

Still, the allies are said to be getting ready for just such a bloody job. That's the meaning of the French drives into the no-man's-land between the lines in the region of Germany's rich Saar mining fields.

All this activity is supposedly preliminary to a major allied assault on the Siegfried line.

Meeting, of course, the British are concentrating on their campaign to sweep the seas and starve the Germans out.

Germany seems to continue to wig-wag for peace as soon as it has finished smashing Poland.

Two Different Views

But peace as envisaged by Der Fuehrer, and peace as envisaged by his pet aviator of the moment—British Premier Chamberlain—are two very different things.

Hitler still is pursuing his policy of trying to gain France's good-will by refusing to take the offensive against the French on the western front.

Toward England, however, Germany expresses nothing but bitterness. The Germans charge Britain with having egged the Poles on to make war.

There is some discussion Germany is trying to get Poland to surrender and beg her allies to accept a German-dictated peace. This would put the Anglo-French team in the position of continuing the conflict against Poland's wishes.
