In Lebanon Today...

Israel Declares Cease-Fire

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)-Israel declared a cease-fire in southern Lebanon today effective at 6 p.m. (11 a.m. EST).

The minister of defense has instructed the chief of the general staff to effect a cease-fire along the entire front in Lebanon as of 1800 hours today," said the brief army spokesman's announcement. "As from that hour, the Israeli defense forces will maintain a cease fire."

The announcement came after a day of scattered shooting between Israeli forces and Palestinian guerrillas around Tyre. But the shooting had died down from previous days.

Seven days ago, Israel launched an air, land and sea attack to clear Palestinian guerrillas from the area along its northern border. The operation followed a Palestinian terrorist attack in Israel which killed 35 Israelis.

The Israeli announcement came as Prime Minister Menachem Begin was meeting with President Carter in Washington and as the United Nations tried to work out details of a U.N. peacekeeping force to go into southern Lebanon.

There was no immediate indication if Israel had taken a unilateral action in announcing the cease-fire and whether the Palestine Liberation Organization would go along with an end to hostilities.

The Israeli army claimed to control all of southern Lebanon up to the Litani River, except for a small area around the port city of Tyre.

A token U.N. peacekeeping force was waiting to move in when fighting stopped, but U.N. officials in New York said it could be "weeks or months" before Israel heeded the Security Council's demand to withdraw its troops.

Senate Hikes Supports

WASHINGTON (AP)-The Senate today voted to raise price supports and income guarantees for grain and cotton farmers by about 20 percent.

The proposal, adopted 58-35, was sponsored by Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., as an amendment to an emergency farm bill that orders the Agriculture Department to pay farmers for idling cropland.

The McGovern amendment would raise the so-called target prices on wheat from $3 a bushel to $3.55, on corn from $2.10 to $2.50 a bushel and on cotton from 52 cents a pound to 70 cents.

Moro Hunt Continues

ROME (AP)-The hunt for political leader Aldo Moro and the Red Brigades terrorists who kidnapped him five days ago concentrated on the Tuscan hills below Florence today, but an anti-terrorist officer admitted: "We still stand at point zero."

Few Hints On Vote

Rank-and-file members of the United Mine Workers are giving few hints on how they will vote on the coal industry's latest proposal to end the 106-day nationwide coal strike.

Local UMW leaders began presenting the proposed 26-page contract to members Monday. All miners were to have seen the contract by Wednesday; voting starts Friday.

Begin Welcomed At White House

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter said today that if Israel accepted guarantees for its security the action could be a key step toward achieving an over-all Middle East peace settlement.

Carter made the comment as he welcomed Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin to the White House at the start of a three-day visit.

Neither Begin nor Carter referred to the many problems separating the two countries as they spoke during a trimmed-down ceremony on the White House south lawn.

Carter did make an unexpected reference to the concept of security guarantees for Israel, which a succession of Israeli governments has resisted on grounds that Israel alone should be responsible for its security.

"Peace can come from a guarantee of security," Carter said. It was not clear whether he had a specific proposal in mind to present to the Israeli leader.

Begin was restrained in his comments. He expressed hope that the spirit of peace negotiations started with Egypt several months ago can be renewed.

Carter was reported in a tough frame of mind for the talks beginning today after a White House welcoming ceremony.

The president wants a pledge of an early end to the Israeli military occupation in Lebanon so he can get Begin to focus on the lagging negotiations for a Mideast settlement.

State Department officials said they thought Begin would "cooperate" and they did not expect any problem. However, Begin has concentrated on gaining assurances that the terrorists flushed from Lebanon's "Fatahland" would not return to use the border region as a springboard for attacks on Israel.

Trying to ease Begin's concerns and to avoid a conflict between him and Carter, U.S. officials emphasized that the U.N. peacekeeping contingent would keep unauthorized armed forces out of the area.

It didn't take spring long to get here, once the cold weather abated and it didn't take the fruit trees long to burst into bloom.

Now, we can keep our fingers crossed and hope that we don't have any more hard freezes this season. And a little rain wouldn't be objectionable.

Generally, the fruit trees held back longer this year than usual, probably because we had so much cold, cloudy weather in January and February, and even on into March. But it doesn't require much warm weather and sunshine to bring them to life.

The arrival of spring also brings Indian legend time to Post. Tomorrow will be the big day ... the day when, according to the legend, Garza County area farmers will learn whether they can expect good crops this year.

A ceremony has been set for 6:50 a.m., which is the time of sunrise tomorrow. At that hour, Frank (Chief) Runkles will conduct the annual ceremony.

The Indian Legend, they say, has it that the direction from which the wind blows at sunrise on the morning of March 22 foretells the harvest for the coming fall.

Folks up at Post say the legend has been surprisingly accurate over the years. Last year, the wind was blowing straight out of the west on the appointed date, which the legend said meant a fair crop was ahead. It was accurate enough to maintain its credibility.

The Western Texas College basketball team made a favorable impression both on and off the court during the NJCAA National Tournament last week in Hutchinson, Kan. Dr. Robert L. Clinton, WTC president, received a letter from Knipe's Red Barn, a western wear store which was highly complimentary of Coach Nolan Richardson and his squad.

"We had the pleasure of meeting most all your basketball team while here in Hutchinson for the tournament," wrote Larry Knipe, head of the firm. "They were here in my store looking around and we were happy to be able to talk basketball with them and the coach.

"You can be proud of this fine group of young men. They were gentlemen through and through. They represent your school very well. The coach is most sincere and proud of the boys. Frankly, we were sorry they did not win.

"We wish you every success for next year and hope your school will be coming back -- we here in Hutchinson love this NJCAA Tournament."

Snyder Man Dies In Automobile

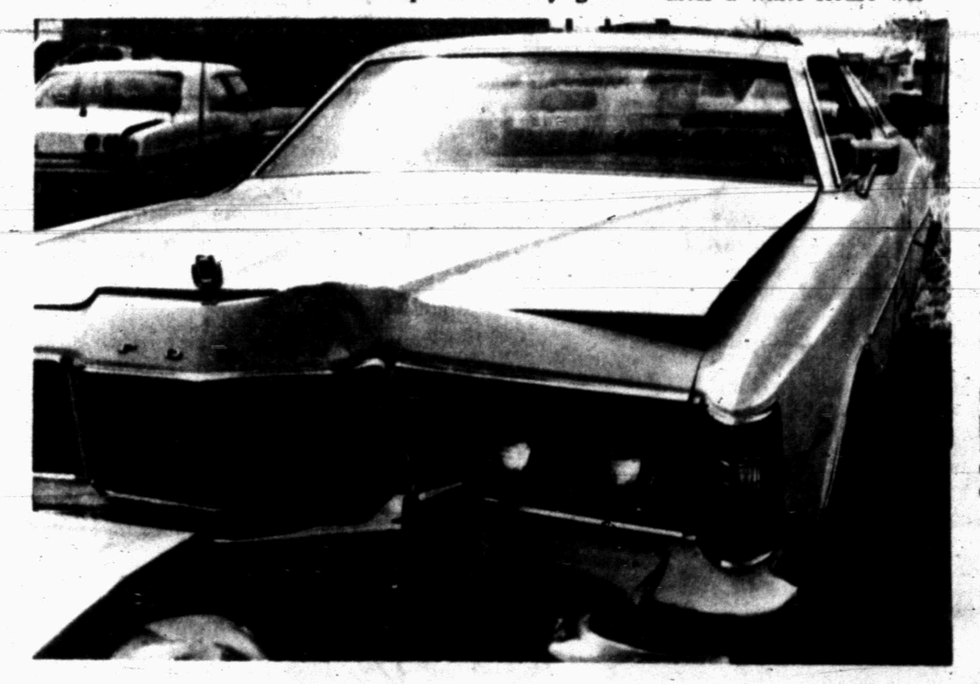

Henry O'Neal Browne, 44, was pronounced dead Monday afternoon at the scene of a traffic mishap in the 500 block of East Highway.

However, it appeared that Browne had been fatally stricken before his car went out of control and collided with a utility pole at 1:47 p.m. in the 500 block of the East Highway near the Avenue E intersection.

Justice of the Peace Bobby Goodwin ruled that death resulted from natural causes. He said witnesses reported that Browne was slumped over the steering wheel of the car when it went out of control. He sustained a minor chin laceration, which was not believed to be serious enough to cause his death, when the 1974 Ford he was driving hit the utility pole.

Funeral service has been set for 2 p.m. Wednesday in the Bell-Seale Funeral Home Chapel, with the Rev. Jerry Speers of Ranger officiating.

He is survived by his wife, Bobbie, of the home; a daughter, Debra, of the home; a step-daughter, Tina Cannon; a son, Tommy Browne; two step-sons, Ricky Glasscock and Michael Glasscock; a sister, Melba Sanders of Fort Stockton; two brothers, Jerry Browne of Snyder and Ivan Browne of San Angelo.

Six-Member Juries Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP)-Criminal trial juries must have at least six members, the Supreme Court ruled today.

The justices voted unanimously, for varying reasons, to overturn the use of five-member criminal juries in Fulton County, Ga.

"We find no significant state advantage in reducing the number of jurors from six to five," Justice Harry A. Blackmun said in the court's main opinion.

Blackmun said juries of fewer than six persons create a "substantial threat" to a defendant's right to a fair trial and equal protection under the law.

But six of the nine justices stopped short of calling five-members juries unconstitutional.

Since a 1970 decision in a Florida case, the Supreme Court has allowed six-member juries in state criminal trials. Today's decision makes at least that number mandatory.

Federal criminal trials require 12 jurors.

Local Demos Draw Ballot Positions

Ballot positions for county political candidates have been announced by the Scurry County Democratic Committee as a result of drawings conducted by the committee.

Bobby Goodwin will be listed first and Preston Wilson, the incumbent, will be listed second for County Judge.

Incumbent Billy Wayne Thompson will be listed first and Florene Merritt will be listed second for County Treasurer.

In the race for County Commissioner, Precinct No. 4, where the incumbent, Jess Everett, is not seeking re-election, Hollis Ward has the first position, followed by Rudolph H. Norwood, Ted Billingsley and Roy Cole in that order.

For Commissioner, Precinct No. 2, Buck Woolever has the first position, followed by Ernest E. Shifflett and the incumbent, Earl "Hassie" Sneed, in that order.

Janet Hall has the first place position on the ballot

Nebraska Eyes Huge Ice Jam

VALLEY, Neb. (AP)-A huge ice jam clogging the Elkhorn River near its junction with the flood-swollen Platte below Omaha could break up at any time, officials say, sending more rushing water downstream.

Rescuers watched river levels today, poised to evacuate more eastern Nebraskans if water continues to rise. Already 4,000 people have been chased from their homes.

A Douglas County official estimated the flood had already caused at least $250 million in property damages.

Much depended on the ice jam. The National Weather Service said the Platte River had fallen slightly north of the Elkhorn and probably would be back below flood stage by late Wednesday.

Rhodesia Swears In Three Blacks

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP)-Three black moderate leaders were sworn in today to join Prime Minister Ian Smith at the head of the transitional government to shepherd Rhodesia to black rule by the end of the year.

Bishop Abel Muzorewa, the Rev. Ndabaningi Sithole and Chief Jeremiah Chirau took an oath of allegiance to Rhodesia and its laws at a 45-minute lunchtime ceremony at Independence, Smith's suburban residence. The proceedings were closed to reporters.

Smith himself remains bound by the oath he took when he was returned as prime minister following national elections last fall in which only white Rhodesian citizens voted.

The four men make up the policy-making Executive Council of the new government outlined in the constitutional settlement agreement signed 17 days ago.

The new council was to hold its first meeting later today and begin work on its first major task, appointment of a second-level ministerial council to handle the day-to-day administration of the government. Each ministry will be headed jointly by a black and a white.

Government sources said that Smith would meet tonight with a party of 31 prominent touring American business executives who will make an overnight side trip to Salisbury while visiting South Africa. The group, sponsored by Time magazine, includes George W. Ball of Lehman Bros., a former under-secretary of state, and former Xerox chairman Sol Linowitz, who helped negotiate the new Panama Canal treaties.

Once the full transitional government has been set up, it will start to draft the constitution for Zimbabwe.

Throughout approximately 30 years of bitter recriminations the People's Republic of China on the mainland and the Nationalist Chinese on Taiwan have always agreed on one thing, and that is the so-called "two Chinas" are really one.

Although the Communist Chinese always have taken pains never to deny a military takeover as one of their future options, they have been uncharacteristically circumspect about any open or immediate threat to do so.

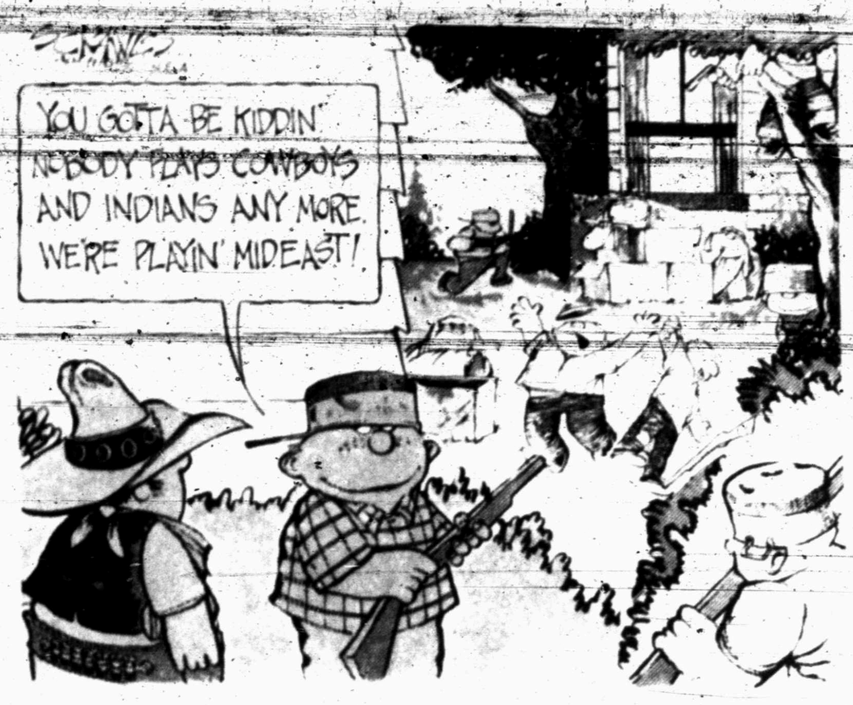

Therefore, when Communist Party Chairman Hua Kuo-feng opened China's fifth National People's Congress recently by urging military readiness for a takeover of Taiwan, the world sat up and took notice.

Despite the chilling headlines which this news generated, it seems unlikely that Chairman Hua's threat was any more than a pro-forma pronouncement for domestic morale and a studied warning to the United States that Peking is unrelenting in its commitment to reunite the two Chinas, even by military means if necessary.

With the growling Soviet bear on it flanks, mainland China is in no position now to undertake a major war, which would be required to conquer Taiwan. Moreover, we have every reason to believe Peking does not wish to complicate or compromise its relationship with Washington. In any event, China watchers discern no morbid preoccupation with a military takeover of Taiwan at this time.

Not withstanding the bewildering nature of the Oriental mind, many Western observers are puzzled that the Republic of China doesn't cut this Gordian knot by simply abandoning its irrational claim to represent all of China, proclaiming its independence as Taiwan and getting on with its phenomenal development as one of the world's rising industrial powers.

Meanwhile, it is an encouraging commentary on our more tranquil times that the United States Navy is not so burdened as in former years with the task of keeping the two Chinas apart.

drowning in paper

Appearing in print a few days ago was the announcement of the retirement of the school superintendent in a small Texas town. It was a routine news story, except for two details. Age of the retiree is 63 years. That is below the normal age for withdrawing from the ranks of the regularly employed.

Reason for retirement was neither health nor dissatisfaction with personal associations or the compensation. The man likes the teaching profession. He had good relations with trustees and school patrons. But is fed up with filling out reports and answering questionaires.

The figure sounds high but the news story quoted the retiree as saying the number of reports required of a local school administrator is in excess of 400 per year. He hired out to teach school but now finds himself giving most of his time to looking up records and making reports to national and state regulatory agencies.

Some wag on a recent television talk show said the threat to survival of this nation is not danger of nuclear war or scarcity of such essentials as food, fiber, gasoline and snuff. Paperwork will do us in as a nation. He may be right.

immigrants resented

Twenty-five years ago Britain was almost all white.

Liberal immigration policies of Labor government since have increased the percentage of nonwhites in Britain to the alarm of some. The population of Britain now comprises more than 6 percent immigrants.

There is a so-called National Front political party emerging which is militantly racist, run by former British Nazis, demanding the expulsion from Britain of all nonwhites.

But much more significant is the degree to which the British Conservative Party, under the leadership of Margaret Thatcher, is demanding an end to further immigration from Asia and the Caribbean.

Her demand is being applauded by many traditional Laborites who will tell you, "We've let too many outsiders in; that's why unemployment in Britain is the worst since World War II."

Ilford, England, is a community of 65,000 voters--mostly small-home owners. Many live in mock-Tudor semidetached houses trimmed in bright colors.

It is a bedroom suburb on the east edge of London. Ilford includes an Asian minority of perhaps 1,600 voters.

In early March there was a significant election in Ilford. The longtime Labor constituency sent a Conservative to Parliament--and by a crushing margin.

Three parties had mounted their big guns for this campaign.

What the outcome demonstrated is significant for them and for us.

The decisive issue was not race hate. Indeed, the National Front candidate who was openly racist in his appeal to voters was all but ignored.

What the upset election did reveal is that British workers are increasingly resentful of immigrants.

It was not a matter of color, but of bread and butter, of jobs!

The Conservative Party literature warned voters that the Labor Party "plans to relax immigration controls."

A 69 percent voter turnout in horrendous weather followed!

Longtime Labor voters--who have demonstrated in the past that they have no Fascist feelings--rallied 'round Conservative candidate Mr. Vivian Bendall.

Again--the backlash in Ilford was economic.

Britain's Labor government was so shook up by this election that it decided to postpone a new national election for as long as possible. And Britain's Labor government has also shelved any recommendation for expanded immigration.

The homogeneity of our own country is exemplary. Probably because we are all "mostly something else."

We have taken pride in our country's open door, admitting the "huddled masses yearning to breathe free."

In prosperous times we can afford this generosity, are strengthened by it.

But what British experience is trying to tell us is that, in less properous times, immigrants are first to suffer resentment and rebuff. Admitting more now legal and otherwise, will be doing them no favor.

Everyone around Snyder welcomed the reappearance of the sun the past few days. It was visible on faces as people got outside and milled around, just happy to be "out" since many of them had been "in" most of the winter.

Crosbyton is probably anxious to see the sun make its appearance, too. They have been chosen for a large solar energy research undertaking, which will cost the feds (or is it us taxpayers?) a million dollars a year in an effort to bring solar energy to rural West Texas to meet rising energy costs.

A 65-foot mirror dish to collect some of that marvelous sunlight will be constructed. It is known as the Crosbyton Solar Energy project. If the "bowl" proves able to withstand the rigors of the changing weather in Texas, five more silver bowls, 200 feet across, will be built near Crosbyton.

The "sunbowls" work on the same simple principle, that school kids use with a magnifying glass and a sheet of paper. The sun's light is concentrated, heating water to steam, and turning a steam turbine to produce electric power.

The solar unit is expected to provide about five megawatts of electricity to the town, which will be enough to irrigate 25 to 30 sections of farmland.

The prototype 65-footer may be located on the campus at Texas Tech in Lubbock, but the results of this project will extend far beyond academia.

With the energy resources changing from gas and oil to coal, another alternative energy source would certainly be in demand. It's possible that the West Texas sun will become the saving grace after all the oil is gone.

Moderate climate in the Sun Belt are drawing industry, some even being lured from California. Sun power is not yet a technical feasibility. Although the sun is free, the materials and technology required to translate sunny weather into electric power are still expensive enough to make the energy return negligible. Our knowledge of how to efficiently translate light into heat or electricity is also not adequate yet, although remarkable steps have been made.

The Crosbyton project is probably going to prove that it is worth the millions invested into it.

But we must have more cooperation from Mother Nature than we had had this past winter. Never can I recall so many overcast days in a row.

But as most West Texans know, if you don't like the weather, wait a few minutes and it will change. Surely the sun will shine on this project..., at least some of the time.

WASHINGTON (NEA)--Politicians aren't noted for candor when speaking in public, but there are exceptions and one of those very rare moments came during a hearing of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee last year.

The committee was considering President Carter's nomination of Marvin L. Warner, a Cincinnati home builder and real estate developer, to be ambassador to Switzerland. Sen. Howard M. Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, noted that Warner had been a loyal political supporter.

Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., chairman of the committee, anxious to add his endorsement, turned to Metzenbaum and commented: "You said he has been a supporter of your; he has been a very handsome supporter of mine too."

Those present burst into laughter. Sparkman had referred ever so briefly to what usually is unspeakable-the practice of selecting ambassadors from the ranks of those who have contributed most generously to presidents, senators and other politicians.

Warner's case provides a classic example of how the system works. Between 1973 and 1976, he and his children donated more than $65,000 to dozens of Democratic politicians.

No fewer than six different contenders for the 1976 Democratic presidential nomination (including Carter, who got more than $2,200) were favored with donations from the Warner family. Warner also contributed generously to senatorial contenders not only in his own state but also in Kentucky, Florida, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Maryland and Virginia.

The two leading beneficiaries of his largesse, however, were the two Democratic senators from his home state of Ohio - Metzenbaum, who got $9,000 and John H. Glenn Jr., who received more than $6,600.

Glenn candidly acknowledged during the confirmation hearing that he had recommended Warner to Carter. Metzenbaum invoked the name of Carter's book, "Why Not The Best?," in his lavish praise of the nominee.

But the American Foreign Service Association, representing the professionals in the State Department, noted that Warner had virtually no diplomatic experience and said "there is little evidence that he is qualified" for the ambassadorship.

"An examination of Mr. Warner's background suggests that the appointment is a reward for political support and for substantial financial contributions," an AFSA representative told the committee.

Warner's nomination was nevertheless confirmed, as was that of another Ohioan, Milton A. Wolf, the president of a Cleveland construction company who was Carter's choice to be ambassador to Austria.

Wolf, his wife and members of his family contributed more than $50,000 to various politicians between 1974 and 1976. Metzenbaum received more than $25,000, while Glenn got $12,000.

Carter was given $4,000 in direct donations from the Wolf family, but more significant was his role as a leading Cleveland fundraiser during the hard-fought Ohio presidential primary in the spring of 1976. One party at Wolf's house during the period is reported to have grossed $75,000 for Carter.

Again, an AFSA spokesman complained that the selection represented "a continuation by the Carter administration of the discredited practice of using ambassadorships for political payoffs."

Now gone are the days of wealthy men and women giving $250,000 or more to a presidential campaign in the hope of later securing an ambassadorship. The credit for that reform, however, goes not to Carter but to a new federal law that virtually eliminates big federal loans by restricting individual donations to presidential candidates.

Despite that freedom to make his selections exclusively on merit, Carter has violated his pledge to "never" select ambassadors "on the basis of political payoff."

larger dividends seen

NEW YORK (AP)-The open-door policy of the United States toward investments from abroad already is reaping large dividends. But even bigger and better benefits may be in the offing.

In the past five years, direct foreign investments in this country have more than doubled to $30 billion, according to a new report compiled by Bank of America, the San Francisco-based institution that is the nation's largest commercial bank.

Some of the recent activities have included the $210 million purchase by Societe Imetal of France of a 67 percent stake in Pittsburgh's Copperweld Corp.; Michelin Tire Corp. of France's announced plans to invest $300 million to expand tire production; and Sandoz Ltd. of Switzerland's $190 million acquisition of Northrup King & Co., a Minneapolis agricultural chemical producer.

Of the $30 billion invested in 1976, about 41.6 percent was concentrated in manufacturing, the report said, and nearly 20 percent was investment in petroleum operations. The largest investors were the Netherlands, Canada and the United Kingdom, each with roughly one-fifth of the total.

Though the growth has been substantial there appears to be a great deal of room left for future investments. Foreign-owned businesses accounted for less than 2 percent of the United States' gross national product in 1976, according to a study by The Conference Board, a New York business-research firm.

Bank of America cites three reasons for this rather modest showing. "Companies based abroad frequently have cited labor costs, taxes, and the sheer size of the U.S. market economy as factors that have restrained them from pursuing the advantages of direct investment here," the report states.

These disadvantages have leveled off in recent years, the bank says, leading to the conclusion that investments will continue to increase, possibly at a faster pace. In addition, it says, the United States will be aided by two other factors:

—More earnings for investments are being generated by continued economic recovery abroad.

—Merger activity has grown sharply in both Europe and Japan, thus creating companies that have both the financial expertise and capital to invest in the United States.

Though the impact of the investment has been relatively modest, the report says that the United States already has benefited in a variety of ways, including:

—The creation of about 1.1 million U.S. jobs and $11.4 billion in additional wages by the end of 1974.

—The generating of technological and product improvements helped along by new methods and processes from abroad.

Fashion And Beauty Tips

To avoid possible eye infection from eye makeup, don't rest applicators on tables or sinks and never leave the containers open.

A permanent should last from three to six months depending on how severe it is, how often you get your hair cut and the texture of your hair.

If you notice under-skin bumps on your face, they could be the result of pores clogged with too much moisturizer if your skin is dry. Or too much oil and dirt. Seek a dermatologist's advice on eliminating them.

If you prefer using a safety razor when shaving legs, be careful around ankles and shins which are easily nicked.

South had the minimum strength for his takeout double or maybe a trifle less. He wasn't happy when North cue bid to force South to bid his anemic spade suit and then jumped to game.

Then it was up to South to try to collect 10 tricks. He ruffed the second heart, entered dummy with the ace of diamonds, led a club to his king and a second club back to East's ace.

This gave East a problem. If he led his last high heart, it would set up dummy's jack. If he led a low heart, South could get an immediate discard. So, East decided to force dummy by leading his last club.

South now saw some daylight at the end of the tunnel. He cashed dummy's ace and queen of trumps and led a diamond. East had to play the queen and everything had come up roses. South took his king, ruffed his last club with dummy's last trump, came to his hand with the jack of diamonds and had scored a lucky game.

Lead the jack and let it ride. Then lead twice more toward the ace, finessing each time unless an honor appears — in which case you have your two tricks automatically.

Stanfield PTA Delegates Attend Day At Capital

Approximately 450 people attended the PTA Day at the Capital in Austin March 15. Representing Stanfield Elementary PTA were Joel Griffin, Mrs. Bill Sealy, Mrs. Fred Moseley and Mrs. Forrest Fox.

After registration in the Capitol rotunda, they attended a coffee in the Lt. Governor's apartment. A general session in the Senate Chamber featured remarks from Mrs. G. Kent Rider, State PTA President and Dr. Johnny Clark, PTA Legislative Chairman. Following these, presentations, the assembly divided into different groups to attend small group seminars.

"The Legislative Process: How a Bill Becomes A Law," "Paying For Our Schools: School Finance and the Property Tax," "The Texas Assessment Project: Do We Need Minimal Competency Testing, Too?" and "Where Do We Go From Here?-How To Be Effective In the Legislative Process," were topics.

Also featured during the day, was a luncheon at Historic Scholy Garden and a behind-the-scenes tour of the Capitol, and visits to the legislator's offices.

Tigers To Host Andrews Thursday

Snyder varsity baseball returns home Thursday as the Tigers play host to Andrews at 4:15 p.m.

The Tigers, under direction of Coach Albert Lewis, are 7-3 for the season.

Friday and Saturday, Snyder will host the annual Snyder Tournament at Moffett Field.

Snyder tennis team was to host Big Spring in a dual meet beginning at 3:30 this afternoon.

In a recent tournament held in Andrews, Snyder took seventh with a score of 63, while Big Spring was sixth with a 65.

Allen Says Kentucky's The Best

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP)-Since Sonny Allen is 0-5 against three of the final four in the NCAA basketball playoffs in St. Louis, the Southern Methodist basketball coach qualifies as something of a shell-shocked expert on the possible winner.

His choice? Kentucky.

SMU took a 110-86 thumping at Kentucky in the opening game of the season. The Mustangs later lost to Duke 91-67 in Dallas and to Arkansas three times.

"Kentucky is really a tournament experienced team," said Allen. "They have four seniors who got to the final four as freshmen and lost to UCLA. As sophomores, they won the NIT (National Invitational Tournament) and last year as juniors they got beat in the Eastern Regional finals by North Carolina."

Allen said the Wildcats were "the most physical team in college basketball. And they have that great Kentucky tradition which can be a big factor in tournament play. They've won four national titles."

Arkansas rates a chance from Allen.

"Arkansas is certainly capable because they've won more games than any team in college basketball," said Allen. "They also are tournament experienced but not like Kentucky. They have trouble against the press but Kentucky is more of a half court defensive team. Arkansas can handle a half court press."

Allen said Duke is playing great basketball even if they are the youngest to make it into the final four. They are a big surprise. Nobody expected them to be anything this year. They are a very intelligent team. They are young but smart. They have that enthusiasm and desire."

He added "I've seen Notre Dame so much on television I feel like we've played them. All that TV exposure is like a tournament atmosphere. It should help them."

"All in all, the final games should be great but Kentucky should prevail," he added.

'NET SET'—A ladies group of Snyder Country Club members and members of the Ladies Tennis Association, the 'Net Set,' meet Friday mornings from 9:30 to noon. A luncheon is held for those participating on the first Friday of each month. Above, left to right, are Jill Stewart, reporter-historian; Nancy Wilson, vice president; Patty Chorn, president; and Sue Reed, secretary-treasurer. Anyone interested in joining the 'Net Set', should call Nancy at 573-3234. (SDN Staff Photo)

Foreman Will Return To Tell About Jesus

HOUSTON (AP)-Former heavyweight champion George Foreman prefers to talk more about Jesus than boxing these days and he says that's the real reason he's coming out of retirement to fight again.

Foreman, a product of Houston's tough Fifth Ward, says he became a "born again" Christian in his dressing room March 17, 1977, shortly after losing to Jimmy Young, and gave up boxing to preach about Jesus.

Now, after a year away from the ring during which he did no training, an overweight Foreman says he's returning to the ring to praise Jesus.

Foreman will use the money he earns in the ring to build two churches, one in Los Angeles and another in New York, he said Monday in a copyrighted article in the Houston Chronicle.

Asked if he thought he could again become heavyweight champion, Foreman said "I don't know. Once I get into fighting again, I'm going to train. But I definitely don't have any more hatred in me. If I ever had a killer instinct it's dead now."

Foreman said it would be hard to return to boxing. "I'm a year older now," he said. "I'm 29. Guys are going to give me a hard time now, they're really going to whip me, brother."

Foreman said he would use boxing to get peoples' attention and then tell them about Jesus.

"God has not ordained me, but He did give me some bait to catch fish with," Foreman said. "Ever since I came out of the ring I've been using George Foreman for Jesus and I'm going to continue to use George Foreman for Jesus."

Asked how he views the religious beliefs of World Boxing Association champion Leon Spinks, Foreman said "You can't ask God to help you win a fight. He's (Spinks) got to learn that. God's with the man that lost, even more than with the one who's winning."

Foreman called former champion Muhammad Ali's Muslim religion watermelon food.

"They eat watermelon food, just like any false religion," Foreman said. "You get your belly full of watermelon, you feel real good, you walk around the corner and relieve yourself and you're empty again. Well, that's what all this Muslim religion stuff is, watermelon food."

Lemons Squeezes Comedy From Tonight's NIT Final

NEW YORK (AP)-Texas Coach Abe Lemons may be the king of the college basketball jokers, but everyone knows the kidding stops at the opening tipoff.

It'll be no different tonight when the jovial coach sends his Longhorns into the National Invitation Tournament final against North Carolina State.

"I just came from breakfast and I had a couple of eggs that cost $4.95," said Lemons. "I asked to see the chicken. Where I come from, I never saw a chicken that could lay eggs worth $4.95.

"That's more amazing than this game."

Yes, just another game for Lemon and his 25-5 Longhorns. He doesn't know what to expect from the 21-9 Wolfpack and doesn't seem to care much.

"I never scout an opponent," he said. "How smart can I be? I've never written a book."

The Wolfpack enters the final showdown still talking about the last-second 40-foot shot that Clyde Austin sank in overtime to give North Carolina State its dramatic 86-85 triumph over Georgetown in the semi-finals Sunday.

"When that shot went in, I tore up my notes," said Lemons, who admitted in the next sentence that he really hadn't kept any on the Hoyas and it wouldn't have mattered if he had.

"Very frankly," he said, "coaches don't contribute that much to a team's success. If you've got self-motivated people that are talented, that's all you need."

If it's any comfort to Lemons, the season will be over by this time tomorrow. The NIT title will hav been decided - not by one-liners, but by action.

Sideline Glances...

Hello Springtime!

By BILL McCLELLAN

Dribble, dribble, dribble. Poof!

WELL FRIENDS, that's about it for basketball this season. Snyder teams, Westerners included, have tucked away their air pumps and sneakers for another day. And while coaches Richardson and Simpson still have recruiting to worry about, lights above the courts themselves will be turned out for awhile.

So step outside and feel the warm spring air! Yep, Snyder sports moves outdoors, save gymnastics, and baseball, tennis and track are already underway.

IT'S THE season of the sunburn and wind storm. Just a few short weeks ago there was an inch of snow on the ground here, and if you happened to make it out to the Canyon Reef Relays last weekend you noticed spectators and athletes attired in tank tops and shorts. My, my time does fly, doesn't it.

Have you ever noticed how the weather changes with sports? Take basketball and winter, for instance. Now most folks will agree that winter headed north with the Westerners for the NJCAA Tournament. In fact, it did sleet for a few minutes in Hutchinson on Wednesday, and I guess there are a few people who would be willing to say old man winter himself moved right into the very same motel with WTC. Least it appeared that way to them.

But whatever plagued the team as they went through the National Tournament, it's obvious that the cold weather left Snyder itself. Made way for the annual track and field meet here, I guess.

* * * * * * *

AND SPEAKING of the Canyon Reef Tournament, Robert Schooler's name was accidentally left out of those who received first place ribbons. Robert ran a 4:57.6 in the 1600 meters to take first in the Division IV competition. Other places that time and room would not allow us to present in yesterday's paper, in Division IV, were Dale Jenkins, 3rd place 5-3 high jump; Keith McClain, 6th, long jump; Snyder 400 meter relay, 4th; Jenkins, 4th in the 400 meter dash; Fagin, 5th in the 300 meter IH; Hill, 5th in the 200 meter dash; and the Snyder 1600 meter relay team which took 6th.

I just got back from Kansas this past weekend, and was unable to attend the Relays. Believe me, folks, it's hard to read a long list of winners -- four lists in fact -- when you have a road map imprinted on your corneas, and a little ball still dribbling inside your head. Did you know there are more miles than trees between here and Hutchinson?

Thanks.

Eighth Girls Place Third At Lake View

SAN ANGELO - Snyder 8th grade girls' track team took third place in track meet held at Lake View Lincoln over the weekend.

Snyder, which garnered 78 points, was led by Kelly Dryden's first place effort in the high jump (4'8"). Miss Dryden also placed second in the long jump with a try of 14'9".

Brenda Anderson took third in the shot and 4th in the triple jump, while Shana Koonsman was fifth in the discus.

In other action, Pam Brown placed second in the 100 with a time of 11.9 and Tracy Pruitt was fourth in the long jump.

Snyder's 440 and 880 relay teams of Pam Brown, Shana Koonsman, Brenda Anderson and Kelly Dryden placed second. The 1320 relay team of Jill Brown, Vanita Anderson, Cynthia Taylor and Tracy Pruitt placed fifth.

Next up for the girls will be the Snyder Junior High Meet Mar. 31. That meet will include Snyder 7th and 8th boys and girls.

Coaching the girls' team are Paul Mitchell and Sheryl Harvey.

LA Slams Rangers

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)-The Texas Rangers, major league baseball's hottest team in the young exhibition season, got the hotfoot from the powerful Los Angeles Dodgers Monday.

The Rangers took a 14-1 thumping from the Dodgers as Reggie Smith and Dusty Baker each parked three-run homers. Myron White and Rick Monday chipped in solo homers.

Texas, now 8-2, had a four-game victory streak snapped as Manager Billy Hunter saw Paul Lindblad and Bobby Cuellar take the brunt of the assault.

Lindblad, the loser, allowed five runs in four innings. Cuellar was rocked for eight runs and nine hits.

Gudger Picked Top LSC Coach

SAN MARCOS, (AP)-East Texas State's Jim Gudger has been chosen basketball coach of the year in the Lone Star conference.

Gudger guided his team to the conference championship and then took his squad to the NAIA playoffs in Kansas City, where the Lions were defeated.

Richard Sheubrooks of Texas A&I was the only other coach to receive a vote in a poll of the LSC sports information directors.

Irish Boxers To Bout U.S. Team

SAN ANTONIO, (AP)-The Irish national amateur boxing team takes on a United States amateur team here tonight in a battle that will provide both sides with experience as they prepare for the 1980 Olympics.

The match in San Antonio is the second on a three-stop tour of the United States that included a match at Shreveport, La., last Friday and ends with a televised event at Fort Dix, N.J., on Saturday.

The U.S. team fighting tonight is composed of Amateur Athletic Union champions from South Texas, supplemented by members of the U.S. Air Force national team from Kelly Air Force Base.

Like the United States, the Irish also are gearing up for the World Amateur Boxing Championships in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, in May.

The most experienced member of the Irish squad is light middleweight Brian Byrne, who boxed at both the 1976 Olympics in Montreal and the 1977 European Championships. He bowed out early in both events.

Another Irish standout is fly-weight Phil Sutcliffe, a bronze medal winner as a light fly in last year's European Championships.

36 Years Ago...

Man Names Gestapo Agent In Killing

CHICAGO (AP)-Speaking in Polish, the witness pointed to a South Side factory worker and said that was the Gestapo agent who 36 years ago had shot and killed a ghetto woman who had refused to remove her clothes for him.

"I have very good eyesight," said David Gelbhauer, a 60-year-old locksmith from Batyam, Israel.

Asked if Frank Walus was the man Gelbhauer remembered from the Jewish ghetto in Czestochowa, Poland, he said, "Yes."

Federal prosecutors have charged the 59-year-old Walus in a civil complaint with lying about his past to immigration officials when he became a naturalized citizen in August 1970.

Walus could lose his citizenship and face deportation hearings if U.S. District Judge Julius Hoffman rules in favor of the government, a prosecutor said Monday after opening arguments.

Gelbhauer testified he was a forced laborer at Gestapo headquarters in Czestochowa and that his jobs there included removing victims of Nazi questioning from interrogation room when they were unable to leave on their own. He said he saw Walus there numerous times.

The locksmith, who spoke through a translator, said he also had to pull wagons carrying bodies for burial when Nazis began "liquidating" the ghetto.

He recalled one such incident in October 1942.

Gelbhauer said he was loading bodies onto a wagon when he recognized Walus, dressed in the uniform of an officer of the Gestapo, or Nazi secret police, talking to a woman with two children.

He said he heard Walus order the woman to disrobe. When she refused, Gelbhauer said, "He shot her through the back of the neck."

Gelbhauer said he turned away, "because I heard those children screaming." He said two more shots rang out. He looked back to see the children lying next to their mother.

Local Jaycees Begin Classes

The Jaycees have begun their internal programing cycle of self-improvement classes, according to Lynn Smith, president.

The classes include four different topics which are taught individually by qualified instructors from the community.

These are:

Personal Dynamics - This class is conducted by Charles Henderson, Mid-Management Coordinator of Western Texas College. The course stresses the necessity of self awareness and the importance of setting goals. Organization of time is discussed as an important step in obtaining these personal goals. Also, the development of personal skills such as speaking, listening and writing are emphasized.

Communication Dynamics - Instructed by Paul Hurt, Adult Probation Officer. The object of the course is to teach more effective listening and speaking skills.

Leadership Dynamics - Taught by Ray Robbins, instructor in Law Enforcement at WTC. The primary purpose of this course is to train more effective leaders by learning to understand human behavior and learning to relate to different personality techniques.

Speak-Up - The fourth class is conducted by Jerry Baird, Director of Guidance at WTC. The class offers members the opportunity to gain confidence and experience in presenting formal and informal speeches to an audience.

The courses are offered on Tuesday and Thursday nights during the months of March and April at the Chamber of Commerce building. They are offered for the benefit of every Jaycee, Jaycee-wife or Jaycee-ettes through a program of the U.S. Jaycees.

Lone Star Ordered To Make Refunds

AUSTIN (AP)-The railroad commission Monday directed Lone Star Gas Co. to refund approximately $90,000 to customers due to errors the company made in billings.

The errors were made in collecting $900,000 that the commission decided Lone Star owed LoVaca Gathering Co.

Lone Star was allowed to impose a surcharge of one cent per thousand cubic feet of natural gas during July, August and September of 1976 to make up the money it owed LoVaca.

In addition to the refund, the commission ordered Lone Star to collect nearly $40,000 from seven industrial accounts which were not billed the surcharge.

The firms include Andy Cordell Brick, Houston Brick and Tile, Charter International, Intratex, Dow Chemical, Entex and LoVaca.

In other action, the commission:

-Granted Lone Star permission to raise gas rates in Eastland by $16,859, or nearly $13,000 less than Lone Star sought.

-Suspended a request by Lone Star to impose a surcharge of four cents per thousand cubic feet on 119 customers in unincorporated areas near Wichita Falls. A study will be made of the request.

-Suspended for 120 days, pending an investigation, a proposal by the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. to increase rates for 284 residential and 45 commercial customers near Cuero, Gonzales, Lockhart, Luling, Shiner and Yoakum.

Government Plans Role In Wage, Price Decisions

By R. Gregory Nokes
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)-As part of its new anti-inflation program, the Carter administration plans to speak out against wage and price increases it believes are unjustified, says the administration's chief inflation fighter.

"Private decisions are not completely private when it comes to wages and prices. The government has to be prepared to step in," Barry Bosworth, director of the Council on Wage and Price Stability, said in an interview Monday.

While the council can't force wage and price rollbacks, Bosworth said it will use all the powers it does have, including public hearing and subpoenas of wage and price information.

Bosworth said the inflationary cycle can be broken only if the government takes a more aggressive public role in wage and price decisions. He said the administration's anti-inflation policy "will not be credible if we're not willing to speak up."

Bosworth, 35, was a senior economist at the Brookings Institution here before Carter named him to the council post.

He acknowledged the program because nothing has been done to put it into operation. "On the basis of what they've seen so far, I agree with them the public that the program is going to fail."

Bosworth said the president "needs to play a far more visible role than he's been playing," but has been diverted by other problems. He said Carter may make a major speech on inflation soon.

The framework of the program was announced by Carter in January. It is voluntary and aims to reduce the rate of inflation by 0.5 percent a year by convincing unions and companies to hold new wage and price increases to levels at least 1 percent below increases of the last two years.

When the program is in operation, possibly in another two weeks, the administration plans to call in leaders of major industries to press them to restrain price increases. A similar push with unions is planned next year.

Ginger Rogers Draws Applause

LONDON (AP)-Ginger Rogers drew whistles and applause as she took the audience on a nostalgic journey into the 1930s and 40s at the London Palladium.

With comedian-dancer Donald O'Connor as guest star, Miss Rogers gave a running commentary Monday night on her life in Hollywood and on the stage, showed brief clips from some of her famous films with Fred Astaire and other stars, and sang songs.

She danced too, bringing back visions of scenes from the "Gay Divorcee," "Shall We Dance," and other smash screen hits.

"We love you," one man called from the stalls. "How about dinner Saturday night?" Pleaded another admirer as she was given a standing ovation.

Complete physical needed

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB - Would you please put in the paper what a complete yearly physical examination should include? Some of us women have been going to the doctor and asking for a complete yearly physical and we feel it has not been complete. Our breasts and private parts were not examined. We were too embarrassed and did not know how to ask why; we just paid and left. We were really angry with ourselves for not asking why, thinking of our pride before our health.

If you would please print this it would help other women too. And maybe some of the doctors need to know what we women think about it.

I used to go to the doctor and the nurse would say undress from head to toe and we got a complete examination from head to toe. We were so happy if nothing was wrong, and happy we found it in time if there was something amiss.

It is so hard for some of us women to even ask for an examination. And that also makes us angry for having too much pride. We need your help.

DEAR READER - You've got it. I'm sure that most doctors do a complete physical and they certainly should. No examination of a woman in her child-bearing years or beyond is complete without a pelvic examination. The exception might be the young girl who has not had any sex life.

A Pap smear should be taken to check for any abnormal cells. This test was not done until the early 20s in the past. But in recent times, because of changing life styles, it has been agreed by many doctors that this procedure should start shortly after a girl first starts having sexual relations. It should certainly be done in women in the early 20s and beyond. The Pap smear test might be omitted if a woman has already had a complete hysterectomy, as the risk of vaginal cancer is very slight indeed.

A breast examination should be done in all women. A lump can appear at any age and even though breast cancer is rare in the 20s it does occur. A simple examination is all that is needed in these cases to identify problems. In women a little older, breast cancer becomes the number one cause of cancer deaths; there should be no excuse for not doing a breast examination.

An examination should also include a finger examination of the rectum. Many of the cancers of the rectum and colon can be felt this way; these cancers are the second most common cause of cancer deaths in both men and women.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 10-2, Your Valuable Medical Examination, to give you a more detailed report on what men and women both should expect from an annual examination and why you should have one. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 326, San Antonio, TX 78292.

Not all doctors think you need a regular examination but I disagree. It depends on why and how the examination is done. Certainly, if you don't do the procedures that spot the major problem areas such as cancer and heart disease then you shouldn't bother, but that is an indictment of the quality of the examination, not its usefulness. A major portion of the causes of serious illness and death can be prevented for years or cured if found early enough.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Accept any last-minute invitation you receive today. There could be a newcomer in the crowd who you will find to be extremely interesting.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Heed any flashes of inspiration you get today for do-it-yourself projects. You will satisfy your urges for change and enhance your environment as well.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Keep today's plans flexible so you'll be free to do something "fun" that might pop up unexpectedly. A well-deserved treat could result.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be especially alert today; you may be able to pick up something of value that others have overlooked or ignored.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You'll be quick to analyze information that comes your way today and turn it into something quite advantageous. You must be a good listener.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Drift with the tide of events today until you see the right opportunity to jump in and grab the brass ring. Your instincts will guide you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Whether the group is large or small, your natural leadership comes to the fore today. People look your way when the unexpected occurs.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) The best chances for accomplishment today come through your more progressive contacts. Avoid conferring with people steeped in tradition.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Don't discount any unusual ideas that flash through your mind today. You might be able to modernize something that's been obsolete for years.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Actions of another today could give you an opportunity to accomplish something that has been impossible up to now. Be attentive and prepared.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) No need for you to be alarmed if you have to make snap decisions today. Your judgment is keen and you'll evaluate matters accurately.

Look for this sign. It can help you save on energy costs in a big way.

Whether you're going to buy a new home or build one, you should know about E-OK. It means that the home has been thoroughly checked and certified as energy efficient by Texas Electric.

An E-OK home has more insulation, sealed windows, weather-stripped doors, and more efficient heating and cooling equipment. Living in an E-OK home means lower energy bills year round. And with the extra insulation, it's quieter, too.

Should you later decide to move, the lower energy bills from an E-OK home could help sell the home faster. Potential home buyers are increasingly concerned about what your bills have been.

Ask your builder about the added features of an E-OK home, or get your free E-OK booklet from Texas Electric. Just call us, or ask for the book on the comment section of your electric bill.

Farmers Find Trips To Washington Expensive

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - Estimating the number of farmers who have come to Washington since last fall to demonstrate for higher prices is like trying to count the number of cattle in a stampede.

American Agriculture, the farmers strike group, says its about 200,000, but no one's keeping an accurate count.

One thing is certain - the cost of protesting is expensive. Hotels where many of the farmers stay have rooms going for $42 a day and up. With meals, it costs about $75 a day to stay in Washington.

And that doesn't include transportation to and from the farmers' home states.

Jerry Wright, an American Agriculture spokesman, said Monday at the group's national office in Springfield, Colo., that the farmers are paying for the Washington trips out of their own pockets, although some neighbors and communities have helped raise money to send delegates here.

At the Agriculture Department, officials said that a recent count of letters sent to Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland included about 4,400 in support of the protesting farmers and 26 who challenged American Agriculture's goals and its methods for gaining 100 percent of parity for farm commodity prices.

Mrs. Kenney Kilichowski, of Ardoch, N.D. said in one of the letters that she and her husband have been farming for eight years and she's disturbed because "we have to pay the same prices as any other consumer, yet we do not get a 'cost of living' raise increase" as many non-farm workers do. "We won't make it with old and outdated equipment, either, if something isn't done," she said.

Mrs. Cecil Brown, Dumas, Texas, chided Bergland for "your inaction and procrastination" which she said is deplorable. "You were appointed to represent the American farmer, not the consumer."

Bergland has mentioned a number of times that federal checks totaling $1.7 billion are being mailed to wheat and other grain farmers for 1977 crops to help make up the difference between reduced market prices and "target" prices.

Larry Dittrich, Meadow Grove, Neb., wrote to Bergland: "Big deal; $1.7 billion will be paid back to farmers. That's not even one damn airplane."

From Hamer, S.C., Gurnie Rowell expressed a feeling of many farmers in the Southeast who were hit by drought losses last year along with falling commodity prices.

"We know unless we get relief we cannot survive much longer," Rowell said.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Barnard from Spring Valley in Bergland's home state of Minnesota offered one of the letters disagreeing with the farmers. They said that government-guaranteed parity prices would be "too expensive" and would lead to too many federal controls on farmers, a view the secretary has maintained.

"Farmers should also be taught management of the farm and farm income, rather than be given handouts," the Barnards said.

JOHN DUNNAM
...New SDN Staffer

Dunnam Joins Daily News Staff

Covering the Snyder and surrounding area beat for The Snyder Daily News is a new reporter, John Dunnam.

Dunnam, 28, began his duties at the Daily News yesterday morning. His duties will involve news gathering in Snyder and area communities.

"The addition of John Dunnam to our news staff is part of our continuing effort to upgrade and expand our news and editorial coverage in the Snyder area," said newspaper publisher Roy McQueen.

"With the addition of home delivery in area towns, this will especially allow us to be more regional in our news gathering. John will coordinate area coverage in Rotan, Roby, Colorado City, Hermleigh, Ira, Hobbs, Gail, and Fluvanna," said McQueen.

Dunnam, a journalism graduate of West Texas State University, returned to his home town of Fluvanna this past December.

Following his graduation from college in 1973, Dunnam moved to the Gulf Coast where he was variously employed as a longshoreman, deepsea diver, lifeguard, and tugboat seaman.

Dunnam is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dunnam of Fluvanna.

Oil Slick Can Not Be Treated

BREST, France (AP) - French naval authorities said today there is virtually no way to treat the huge oil slick from the wrecked American tanker Amoco Cadiz that is fouling the north Brittany coast.

Adm. Jacques Coulondres, who heads the cleanup effort, said an overnight wind change pushed the slick into the north coast between the island of Batz and the port of Roscoff, near the mouth of the English Channel.

"When the oil is near the coast, it is almost impossible to treat it," Coulondres said. "We can't navigate into the very rocky coastline and anyway chemical dispensers are more dangerous to marine life than useful."

Previous pollution had been confined to the west coast of the Brittany peninsula, south of the wreck. Coulondres said stormy seas have cleaned most of the oil from the estimated 35 miles of polluted coast south of the tanker wreck.

He said authorities rejected the idea of burning the wreck and the oil now aboard because of the risk of an explosion and estimates that it could burn for up to three months, creating heavy smoke pollution inland.

New storms threaten to break open the supertanker and spill the 29 million or more gallons of oil still aboard.

Man Is Alive And Will Pay

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)-Kim Yoder is apparently one of those people who will go to any length to get out of a speeding ticket - even so far as having himself declared dead.

The 24-year-old Goshen, Ind., man was caught speeding on Interstate 70 near here and ordered to pay a $40 fine or appear in court Feb. 10.

Although he failed to show up at his hearing, the state's attorney's office received a letter from Alfredo Girardo, who identified himself as Yoder's stepfather.

"I regret to inform you that my stepson, Kim Yoder, was killed in a hunting accident January 5th," Girardo said in the letter. He asked that the speeding ticket be dismissed.

Investigator Ronal Nunamaker agreed the case should be dismissed but only after a death certificate was produced.

A few days later, the state's attorney's office received another letter, but this time from Yoder himself.

"A couple of weeks ago, being broke and of lesser mind, I took the liberty of reporting my death," Yoder wrote. "I know now the seriousness of those actions and am prepared for reconciliation."

"I am very much alive, thank you, and hope you accept my apology," Yoder added.

Attached to the letter was a check for $40.

Drill Bits Stolen From Oilfield Crew

CHICKASHA, Okla. (AP)-Two shotgun-wielding bandits robbed an oilfield crew early Monday of 12 drill bits valued at an estimated $25,000, an officer said.

R.D. Cottrell, Grady County deputy sheriff, said the ski-masked men held the four-man crew at gunpoint while loading the bits into a pickup truck belonging to one of the crew members.

He said the stolen pickup was found abandoned about five hours later three miles from the robbery scene.

Tire tracks indicated the drill bits had been reloaded into one or possibly two waiting vehicles, Cottrell said.

Three Fires Extinguished

Three fires were doused Monday by city firefighters.

The first fire, a grass fire, was reported at 1:56 p.m. and occurred about two miles east of Snyder on the Roby Highway.

A minor cotton burrs fire was extinguished at the Hermleigh Gin at 10:20 p.m.

The final grass fire of the day took place at the intersection of 29th St. and Ave. B at 10:35 p.m.

Local Group Is On Tour For Holidays

A group of Snyder Public School students took advantage of the Easter holidays to take an American Heritage Program tour beginning today.

The local group, which was joined by a group from Odessa, left early this morning for San Antonio where they were to board a plane for New York City. The tour will include visits to historical points of interest there and also in Washington, D.C., and Williamsburg, Va.

The local sponsor for the American Heritage Program is Janet Wesson.

Snyder students making the trip include LaDonna Benson, Anne Beuerlein, Tanya Boydstun, Lonnie Blackard, Max Drum, Rita Eicke, Traci Gilstrap, Steve Key, Debra Littlepage, Debe Longbotham, Joe Longbotham, Melinda Masters.

Also, Debbie Sewell, Sidney Smith, Lesa Sterling, Susan Tolbert, Lori Watlington, Jana Wesson and Sharon Williams.

Overall Crime Rate Improves

WASHINGTON (AP) - Despite a 1 percent increase in acts of violence, the nation's overall rate of serious crime dropped 4 percent last year compared to 1976, according to FBI statistics.

The improvement in the overall rate was the first since an equal dip in 1972, prompting Attorney General Griffin B. Bell to call the annual report "an incentive to both law enforcement officers and the American public."

But neither he nor the FBI said why the overall rate declined and the violent crime rate increased.

Increases were reported in three of the seven types of crimes that comprise the FBI index. Rape was up 10 percent, aggravated assault 5 percent and murder 1 percent.

Robbery was the only violent type of crime to decline, by 4 per cent.

Among the three property - or nonviolent - crimes, larceny-theft showed a 7 percent decline, the largest drop of any offense, while burglary was down 2 percent and motor vehicle theft remained at the same level.

The figures reflect only the crimes actually reported to law enforcement agencies.

Cities with more than 25,000 residents recorded a 5 percent decrease in serious crime. Suburban areas showed a 4 percent decline, while rural areas dropped 1 percent.

All geographic regions showed an overall decrease, with the North Central states leading the way with a 7 percent drop. The Northeast was down 6 percent, the South 3 percent and the West 2 percent.

OBITUARIES

Henderson

Oran Henderson, 55, a former Snyder resident, died Monday in Scott and White Hospital in Temple following a long illness.

Memorial services have been set for 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at the Immanuel Baptist Church in Temple. Burial will be at 4 p.m. Wednesday at Santa Anna.

Henderson, a well-known lay Baptist leader was instrumental in enabling Colonial Hill Baptist Church here to go into some previous building programs and after moving from Snyder returned here to lead a lay renewal program for the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

While residing in Snyder, he was a partner in the Ballard-Henderson Co., and later the Henderson-Wilkens Co.

He is survived by his wife, Betty, and a daughter, Mrs. Terry McIver of Santa Anna.

Attack Rabbit Dies Saturday

NEW YORK (AP)-Harvey, the Easter bunny turned "attack rabbit," is dead at age three.

His died Saturday while being treated for an inner-ear infection at the ASPCA's East Side animal hospital. He was to have begun a nationwide campaign Monday against Easter bunny abuse.

Harvey himself had been adopted as an Easter bunny last year by a family that turned him over to the ASPCA a month later, after he had bitten someone.

Harvey continued biting ASPCA employees, who dubbed him their "watch rabbit." He stayed at the animal shelter, earning his keep by appearing at fund-raisers for the ASPCA.

Potholes Jar Vehicles; Also Cost Money

By SOLL SUSSMAN
Associated Press Writer

Potholes in the streets and highways of the northern sections of Texas do more than jar passing vehicles. They also cost money.

State and municipal street and highway officials in affected areas are busily studying budgets to find ways to pay for repairing the damage done this past winter.

The potholes were caused by freezes and thaws that swelled and then contracted the surfaces of the roadways.

Potholes, the most visible reminder of a harsh winter, would not have been so bad if temperatures had hovered on one side or the other of the freezing mark.

Mark Goode, in charge of Texas Highway Department operations, said, "The roadway system in the south was not as severly affected as the north.

"Dallas was as severe if not worse than anything I recall," he said. "All of the north was quite severe."

Hard-pressed Dallas street maintenance supervisor John Murphy, who estimated the cost of pothole repairs at $600,000, said all of the axle-jarring holes should be at least temporarily filled within the next few weeks.

"The problem that really caught the Dallas area was an intense increased number of freeze-thaw cycles. It tore us up," he said. "I've got a gut feeling we had about 30 freeze-thaw cycles."

Ray Carr, an assistant superintendent in Fort Worth, estimated the city has already spent $225,000 for temporary repairs, with work slated to continue into the summer.

"We've got some money set up for repairs such as this. Whether that will cover all of it or not, we haven't determined yet," Carr said.

The smaller cities are scrambling to keep pace with the unexpected dents into their pavements and their budgets.

"Of course, we didn't dream. We didn't have it in the budget," said Ike Fennell, Paris street superintendent. "We might have to slack off on some of the other repairs if we can't make it reach.

"We patch every day. It'll take a pretty good while," Fennell said. "We run sometimes three patching crews a day."

In East Texas, F.B. Thurman of Tyler said his budget is "getting eaten up."

Tree Planted Near Graves Of Presleys

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)-A nine-foot white flowering dogwood tree has been planted near the gravesites of Elvis Presley and his mother.

The tree, the only living memorial to the late singer on the grounds of Graceland mansion, was given by the Elvis Is King Fan Club of Sunderland, England. The tree, planted Monday, is about 100 feet west of the gravesites and is visible from Elvis Presley Boulevard.

Elvis' father, Vernon Presley, said earlier he had received numerous requests for similar memorials to be placed near the graves, but turned them down because the area would become crowded.

"I agreed to let this one memorial be planted, due to the fact that Elvis had a tremendous following in England and Europe and also he never got to put on any personal appearances in any other country," Presley said.

Tom Jefcoat, landscape architect and operations manager of Pulliam Nurseries, Inc., which planted the tree, said the dogwood and planting costs were about $200.

The singer died Aug. 16 at his home.

Past Winter One Of Worst

WASHINGTON (AP)--The past winter, with its record snowfalls and piercing cold temperatures, was one of the worst in recent history, according to government weather experts.

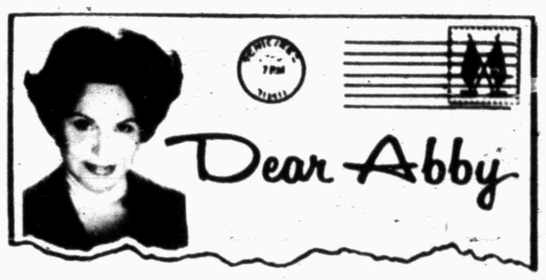

For most of the country east of the Rocky Mountains, the past season almost equaled and in some places exceeded the coldness of the 1976-77 winter, the most severe in at least 50 years in the Northeast and much of the Midwest.

Looking ahead, the weather service has predicted a cooler spring than normal for the Great Plains, the South and the Southeast. For New England, New York, much of the Southwest and California, temperatures are likely to be warmer than normal. Predictions are indeterminate for the rest of the country.

Melting ice and snow in addition to rains are expected to cause flooding problems in parts of country this spring. Flooding hit eastern Nebraska and parts of the Dakotas Monday as ice floes jammed rivers swollen from runoffs.

Dr. Donald L. Gilman, chief of the National Weather Service's Long Range Prediction Group, said Monday the cold was more widespread this winter than last, with the area sandwiched between the Rockies and the Mississippi particularly hard hit.

"This year, the big crisis had to do with snowfall," Gilman said. "Perhaps two dozen states had snowfall records set in January. It was a winter noted for storms as well as cold, while the previous one was noted mostly for prolonged low temperatures."

Wrong to Exclude These Wedding Guests

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1978 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: A month ago we received an invitation to a wedding in England. (We live in Maryland.) The groom has been a guest in our home on several occasions and we are friendly with his parents.

Yesterday we received word from the groom's mother saying that we would not be included in the very small family wedding group, but were expected at the reception, and she hopes that we will "understand."

We were terribly hurt and do NOT "understand." We are on a retirement income, and would not consider making such a costly trip for a "reception" only. But if we were invited to the wedding, we would gladly go.

I have already written to tell them that "something has developed" that may prevent us from making the trip, in order to leave it open for the moment.

Are we wrong to feel as we do? What would you do?
FRUSTRATED

DEAR FRUSTRATED: I would write to the groom (leave his mother out of it) and tell him that it is customary to invite out-of-town guests to the ceremony, and unless you are included, you must decline. Period.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem that you or one of your readers may be able to help me with. I own several ranches in the Wyoming-Colorado area, and when I meet a city person for the first time and he learns that I'm in ranching, he invariably asks, "How many acres do you have?"

Abby, I consider this a very personal question. It would be like asking someone, "What is your net worth?" or, "How much is in your bank account?"

I realize that they mean no harm, and are just trying to make conversation, but I also feel that how many acres I have is none of their business.

Can you (or one of your readers) suggest an answer that wouldn't hurt their feelings, and at the same time wouldn't give them any information about the size of my operation?
RANCHER

DEAR RANCHER: Any evasive response will do, provided it's given in a friendly, good-humored tone. (a) "Too many." (b) "Not enough." (c) "All I can handle."

DEAR ABBY: I have three healthy, wonderful daughters, ages 7, 5 and 3, and they are all beautiful in my eyes. However, the eldest is an exceptionally attractive child with a head full of golden curls, enormous brown eyes and long dark lashes. I know she's pretty, and so does she, and so do her sisters, who happen to be very plain.

My problem, Abby, is the well-meaning idiot who stops me in the supermarket when I am with all three and says, "My, what a GORGEOUS child! She should be in the movies!" Or, "Wow, what a heartbreaker that blonde will be when she grows up!" (She is 7, and she's already asking me when she is going to start breaking hearts!)

Please comment about people who fuss over one child in the presence of brothers and sisters. It makes it so hard on the others.

Any suggestions on how to handle these idiots? I'm sure other mothers have to deal with it, too.
MIDWEST MOM

DEAR MOM: There is no help for the idiot. You can only try to shut him up by signaling with your face or hand—or your foot, if necessary. But I'll print this in the hope that well-meaning but thoughtless strangers who are overwhelmed by the beauty of a child will think twice before they speak.

Who said the teen years are the happiest? For Abby's new booklet "What Teenagers Want to Know," write Abby: 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Enclose $1 and a long, stamped (24 cents), self-addressed envelope, please.

Foreman To Use Money For Churches

HOUSTON (AP)-Former heavyweight champion George Foreman talks more about Jesus than boxing these days and he says that's the real reason he's coming out of retirement to fight again.

Foreman says he became a "born again" Christian in his dressing room March 17, 1977, shortly after losing to Jimmy Young, and gave up boxing to preach about Jesus.

Foreman, 29, will use the money he earns in the ring to build two churches, one in Los Angeles and another in New York, he said Monday in an interview with the Houston Chronicle.

"I want to call it the Church of Our Lord Jesus Christ," Foreman said. "And there won't be a gymnasium attached to them either."

Foreman has not announced any fight dates.

Asked if he thought he could again become heavyweight champion, Foreman said "I don't know. Once I get into fighting again, I'm going to train. But I definitely don't have any more hatred in me. If I ever had a killer instinct it's dead now."

Enrollment Up At UT

AUSTIN (AP)-The official spring enrollment at the University of Texas at Austin is 39,679, an increase of 631 from the spring of 1977.

The fall enrollment at UT-Austin was 41,660, an increase of 273 from the fall of 1976.

Jet Joins Stork Club

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)-When Western Airlines flight 567 left for Los Angeles, there were 88 passengers on board. When it returned to Las Vegas a few minutes later there were 84.

The newest arrival, a 7-pound girl, was born in the galley section of the Boeing 737 shortly after it left McCarran International Airport Monday morning.

Western said the mother, Mrs. Talal Shaibi, told a flight attendant she was ill shortly after the 7:40 a.m. takeoff. The stewardess located two doctors on the plane who helped Mrs. Shaibi to the rear and delivered the baby.

The plane returned to Las Vegas where an ambulance took Mrs. Shaibi to Sunrise Hospital. Mother and daughter were reported doing well.

Jailhouse Wedding Off

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)-Wayne Hurt proposed. Lani Callaway said "yes." But Samuel Pruett said "no" and now the wedding is off.

Pruett is administrator of the Albermarle-Charlottesville County jail, where Hurt and Ms. Callaway are incarcerated.

Pruett said no to the jailhouse wedding because he said it would pose a security problem.

Hurt and Callaway have taken their case to federal court.

Ms. Callaway, 31, is awaiting trial on a charge of using a stolen credit. Hurt is serving time for a break-in and theft.

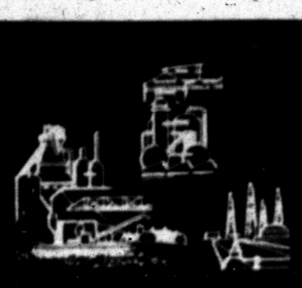

The two have been casual acquaintances for several years but it wasn't until both found themselves under the same prison roof that love blossomed.

Hurt, a trusty at the jail, says he proposed March 6 as he delivered a tray of food to Ms. Callaway's cell.

"When I handed her the tray, I whispered in her ear, 'Will you marry me?' and she said 'Yes,'" says Hurt.

"A lot of men lose their wives in jail. I'm getting mine in jail. If we can get married, it will give me a better reason to be a better man when I get out," Hurt says.
