Why Lamesa Merchants Should Advertise In The Dawson County Courier

"It has a county wide circulation. The people read the merchants ads before going to town and do not pay any attention to the circulars that the merchants litter up the town and farmers cars with. If the merchants would advertise through the COURIER Lamesa would be a better town."
E. V. Dunn Jr.

WHY I LIKE THE COURIER

Behind its slogan in principal Democratic in price. In most homes in the Lamesa trade territory, making it the best advertising agency. Merchants, farmers or stockmen should take advantage of its sure medium of quick results. I like to read its news, check its "ads" before shopping or refilling the larder.—A reader, Mrs. R. E. Wade, Rt. A. Lamesa, Texas.

J. S. Little, 82, Passed Away Last Thursday

In the death of J. S. Little, our county has lost a most worthy citizen one who was held in the highest esteem by everyone.

Mr. Little was found dead at his ranch, south of Patricia, on last Thursday afternoon. He had been dead only a short time when found by one of the hired men on the ranch. Mr. Little, in his wagon, had gone out after lunch to gather wood, preparatory for a barbecue. Men noticing his team standing in the field, went to investigate, found he had fallen from his wagon and was dead.

Mr. Little was born in the year 1853 at Rome, Georgia. He came to Texas in early manhood and settled near Mineral Wells. He was married to Miss Annice Husted in 1874. They moved to Oklahoma when that state was first opened to the white people and settled near the place later called Jamestown.

Mr. Little with his family moved from Oklahoma to Amarillo some time about 1901. He has been a resident of Dawson county since 1917.

He was a member of the Christian Church, and ever lived the life of a Christian. He was a good friend and neighbor, a man you could always depend upon, and his death is mourned by everyone who knew him.

Funeral services were conducted at the Church of Christ at 10 o'clock Friday morning, by Rev. Liff Sanders of Lubbock. The remains were carried overland in a Higginbotham Funeral Home ambulance to Oklahoma City where burial was made at 10 o'clock Saturday morning in the Rose Hill Cemetery.

Pal bearers at the local service were W. K. Crawley, J. D. Dyer, C. P. Hendrix, Matt McCall, Jack Phinizy, and Edd Haynes.

He is survived by his wife, five daughters, Mrs. R. H. Rice, Kansas City, Mo., Mrs. J. M. Asbury and Mrs. O. H. Puckett both of Oklahoma City, Mrs. Elzie Burleson of Lamesa; Mrs. J. P. Burgess of Amarillo, three sons, J. T. Little, Lamesa E. H. Little, Canyon, and O. C. Little, Amarillo; 30 grandchildren and 8 great grandchildren.

The Courier joins with the many friends of the family in extending sympathy to the bereaved ones.

RABBIT DRIVE SOUTH WEST OF TOWN NEXT WEEK

If you want to enjoy some real sport, plan to attend the big rabbit drive in the Higginbotham community next Tuesday, April 2. The drive will be held in the old Andy O'Neal pasture 20 miles southwest of town, now owned by Mr. Carrol Henderson.

The hunters will meet at the Henderson home at 1 o'clock. The drive will be over the Henderson pasture and pastures adjoining.

Rabbits are plentiful in that area and the hunters are planning on rounding up some coyotes at the same time.

Everybody is cordially invited to attend the hunt.

Albough Test Drilling In Lime At 4675 Feet

Drilling in gray lime, the Ray Albough at a wildcat oil test in Western Dawson county had passed 4,675 feet and the bit was in the gray lime latest reports said.

Drilling was resumed after the contract depth of 4500 feet had been passed by 15 feet. An additional contract for 500 feet was made with the drillers.

Elevation is 2,978 feet. The gray lime was topped at 4,575 feet. Previously the bit had been in brown lime.

Location of the John Robinson No. 1 is in section 46, block M. E. L. and R. R. Ry Survey. Turner and Adams representing some of the major oil companies operating in the Permian basin took over the drilling operations some months ago.

FARM NOTES

Cotton Contracts
Cotton contract signing is well under way in the county at present time with all the necessary papers finally on hand and are being worked out. The closing date for signing reduction contracts is Saturday, April 6th. It is urged that all who expect to sign the contracts for this year do so within the above listed dates as the longer the delay in signing the longer will be the delay in getting checks on the way back to the producers in the county.

Side Agreements Between Land Owners and Tenants
According to the regulations as put out by the Washington office any contract or agreement between the parties concerned whereby one party is to receive more than the contract calls for as his share will not be tolerated. It is rumored that last year some landowners forced their tenants to pay over more than their contract stipulated. Such cases are out right violations of the contract and to avoid such practice each land owner who has tenant contracts must sign an affidavit that he does not have any agreement or contract verbal or written whereby he is to receive any more of the reduction benefits than the contract calls for.

The reason for this is to protect all parties concerned in the transaction. It is not the policy of this office to dictate to any one but we are trying to keep the general public informed as to the proper procedure in order that all parties will not get into an agreement to violate the contract without knowing that the contract is being violated.

Corn Hog Contracts
Producers who can qualify and want to sign contracts should come into the office not later than April 1 as that is the last day that contracts will be signed in this county unless signing is complete by that date do not ask for an extension of time.

Gillian Abbott, formerly of Lamesa, now of Seminole, won first place in the Junior boys declamation contest in Seminole Saturday. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Abbott.

606 STUDENTS ENTER ANNUAL LEAGUE MEET

The following schools of Dawson County are members of the University of Texas Interscholastic League and most of them had contestants in the annual meet held in Lamesa last Friday and Saturday. The schools of this county are grouped in four classifications depending upon the size of the school. The list in the respective classifications is as follows:

Rural class: Ballard, Five Mile, Grandview, Hancock, Key, Liberty, Lou, McCarty, Mt. Olive, Mullins, Munger, Natalie, Randle, Richardson Ward or Elementary Class (includes grades seven and below only) Shumake, Weaver, Wilson, Ackerly, Klondike, Lakeview, Lamesa and Woody.

Class B High Schools: Ackerly, Klondike, Lakeview and Woody.

Class A: Lamesa High is the only one having 120 pupils in high school grades.

The reports of the League Meet to the State office require that the winning schools be listed in the various events in the order of winning and that the number of schools entering the various contests be given. The report as compiled by the director of Dawson county is published in this paper for the benefit of the teachers, pupils and patrons that each may note the schools participating and the number of pupils competing with their relative ranking.

In computing championships, the director calls attention to the provision on page 25 of the rules to the effect that last places do not count unless there are other entries.

Six hundred six pupils were in some event of the meet though the Athletic events proved most popular. The crowds attending were as large or perhaps larger than in previous years and all persons connected with the meet as officials, participants or spectators, were decidedly pleased with the comfortable weather prevailing during the two day affair.

The dead line date for joining the League is January 1. Some schools overlooked this fact and were too late for membership. The same rule is in effect for next year.

WORD CONTEST WINNERS TO BE ANNOUNCED SOON

Many people have asked us recently when the winners in the Word Contest would be announced. Due to the large number of word lists submitted, more than two hundred, it will require considerable time for the judges to grade the papers. We assure you that the winners will be announced just as soon as it is possible to make a decision.

ELECTROLUX PROTECTS FOOD OF THE DIONNE QUINTUPLETS

Probably no more clear-cut need of modern refrigeration ever attracted public attention more than the case of the Dionne Quintuplets in Canada.

The birth of these babies on the remote Canadian frontier farm home stirred the heart of the world. Everywhere, men and women alike took a personal interest in their well being.

Clearly, a refrigerator was needed to protect their food supply. But only one nationally advertised refrigerator could operate under the condition that prevailed in their far-away farm home.

That one was Electrolux. An Electrolux was rushed to them immediately and has been instrumental in helping them grow into healthy happy babies, known the world over.

It provides for them in their humble home, exactly the same refrigeration as the finest city homes and apartments enjoy.

Besides the regular entertainment on this day, a BIG and interesting HORSE SHOW will feature the affair.

There will be four classes: Ugliest horse, prettiest horse, smallest horse over two years old, and biggest horse. Two dollars and fifty cents will be given the winner of each class by the Trades Day Association.

Winners will be picked by the judges in front of the City Hall at 3 p. m.

No need to worry about entering your horse. Just be on hand and when your class is called "trot out Old Dobbin."

Interest in Trades Day is picking up. Big Crowds are coming and all are really enjoying it.

Here are the boys to ask about Trades Day:

Dal Paso Drug, Hull's Cash Gro., Co-op Gin, Spruill's Grocery, Noret's, M. Hatch & Son Grocery, Bryant Pharmacy, Hurt's Haberdashery, Lamesa Reporter, Pratt's Kash & Karry, Self Serving Grocery, Richardsons Variety, Yates Hardware, Dawson County Courier, A. G. Waugh, Collins Dry Goods Company, Clark-McDonald Drug, Gambill's Variety, Davis Food Store, Bryant Link, Taylor McCall Drug, Pierce's Toggery, J. C. Penney Co., Wilkes Cash Grocery, City Grocery & Market, Baldwins Dry Goods, Arnett Motor Co.

Be sure and come to Lamesa on this Trades Day. Bring your stock, tools, cows, chickens and what not to trade and sell. Some body will be here that will want what you bring. Say how about those hogs and pigs? A big day in Lamesa First Monday—April 1st. COME and bring the family.

Retail Merchants Ass'n Offers Services

The Retail Merchants Association offers its service to school trustees in making investigation of "curtain" companies who usually make Dawson county to sell the schools scenic curtains for the school stages.

It has been found that certain companies, especially in Oklahoma, have been practicing graft on Dawson county trustees and Lamesa merchants and the offer of this service is strictly for the protection of both the school districts and local merchants who are called on to pay for the advertising that goes on the curtains.

If every school in Dawson county should decide at the same time to buy a curtain, it would cost between eight and ten thousand dollars. If the merchants were called on to pay this bill it would be a hard jolt and it would be necessary to raise the price of goods to pay the bill. The average life of a curtain is five years—and then it would all have to be done over. It would seem practical if trustees would make arrangements from their local funds, or when they build, from the building and equipment fund to include stage scenery, if same is desired. Then, a stage curtain looks much better without advertising and since the value of such advertising is not rated very high by the best advertisers—all concerned will be better satisfied.

Lamesa merchants desire to cooperate with all school trustees, but they do want to have some part in deciding and making investigation of certain schemes for which they are called to pay.

NORMAL SPENDABLE INCOME OF COUNTY $2,422,800.00

The last official survey of Dawson county reveals that normally there should be a spendable income of $2,422,800. It is broken up as follows: Apparel, $66,000, or $4.86 per capita; Automotive, $666,000, or $48.62 per capita; country stores, $114,000 or $8.39 per capita; Department Stores $390,000 or $28.72 per capita; Food, $546,000 or $40.24 per capita; furniture $48,000 or $3.53 per capita; lumber and building, $246,000 or $18.12 per capita; Drugs $132,000 or $10.72 per capita; All others $284,000 or $20.00 per capita. The question arises "Mr. Business Man are you getting your share of this potential business? If not why not?"

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Heffernan spent the past week end in Fort Worth where they visited their son, Herman Harold, who is attending college there.

Kerosene Operated Electrolux Refrigerator at Yates Hardware.

FORD V-8

In A Class By Itself

THERE is no way to compare the Ford V-8 with any other car because there is no other car like it.

The Ford enables you to step up into the fine-car class in performance, beauty, comfort and safety. But there is no stepping up in price. That is kept down by Ford low-profit policies and unique manufacturing methods. These are as different as the car itself.

It takes eight cylinders to give the modern performance you need these days. The Ford is powered by a V-8 — the finest type of eight-cylinder engine. You have to pay more than $2000 for that in any other car.

LEGION DANCE MARCH 22 WAS WELL ATTENDED

The Legion dance March 22 turned out to be a very well attended affair considering the bad weather and some other features. The Conklin quartet of string instrument players gave the crowd some mighty fine music. We appreciated their efforts very much. Mr. Oswald Kellam accompanied them with the drum. Mr. Frye and Mrs. Barnard gave the crowd some nice piano music. The next Legion dance will be April 5th. We expect the largest attendance on that date we have had as yet.

The Bonus Bill made a good start by passing the house with such a large majority. But the hardest struggle is still ahead.

Looks like history is going to repeat itself. Germany it appears is threatening to get into another war with her neighbors, France, England Italy and maybe Russia. Uncle Sam will sit on the fence awhile and maybe get excited and jump in again. Wouldn't be surprised.

Well if we get mixed up in it again I hope some of you don't have as much trouble in getting in as I did. I was driving through Dallas June 21st, 1919, in a buggy, when I saw a recruiting office with a large gun and carriage on the side walk. I hitched my horse and went over to see what all the excitement was about. Captain Arch Allen of the Texas National Guard and Lieut. Hunt were extolling the crowd on the necessity of joining the army and helping out their country. I sorter got the fever, in fact already had a little touch of it. Account I was always such a slow runner that I needed a little start of the fast footed boys, if we got in battle and started a retreat, so the artillery looked good to me, as they were always behind a few miles from the front lines. One of the officers asked me if I didn't want to join and I said "just as soon as not" and pretty soon I was being thumped, punched "ah'd" and "oh'd."

and was told "sorry, can't use you." I asked why, and was told needed a small operation They said they would have the operation done without cost to me so it was arranged. I with two other buttons, was soon on my way to St. Pauls sanitarium. They called me first and soon I was on the way to the 5th floor, lying on a small carriage, covered with a sheet. Dr. W. W. Samuels was to do the operating, as he did lots of carving out good soldiers for the army. Arriving at the operating room, I looked around and there were about a dozen nice looking girls, all dressed in white. I didn't know they were nurses but found out later. The doctor's assistants started to pull the sheet off, and you talk about a drowning man reaching for straws, he didn't have a thing on me. I got a death hold on half that sheet and if those guys hadn't given up we would have pulled her in two. They asked "what is the matter?" I said "you ain't going to pull that sheet off before these ladies." The men grinned and pulled a blind up to where I couldn't see the nurses. One old ugly looking nurse stepped around the corner and stood there. This made me sore and I thought well if you want to watch just watch, so I told them to go ahead. When the dope began to leave us we couldn't get any rest on the beds or off, so we spent our time crawling on and off. Such misery, if you was dying it wouldn't be any worse. After about 2 hours I felt able to get around, so I went back to the recruiting station and they signed me up.

I then remembered my horse and buggy and went to get them and they weren't there. I told the Cap "Some so and so has stolen my horse and buggy." He reached for a phone and soon told me they were in the "pound" with $20 charges against them. He talked them out of it on account I had just joined the army. When I got the rig back, found some one had burned up my lap robe by dropping a match on it from the upper stories.

Well boys that is one way to get in the army. In the next war I hope you get in easier than I did, that is if you want in.—Contributed.

Washington.—Air pilots use an expression that I want to appropriate in connection with a discussion of the country's economic situation and its relation to the administration policies and plans. The pilots refer to "low visibility" and "low ceiling" when they want to say that they cannot see far in the distance. It seems to me that the clarity, or lack of it, with respect to current economic conditions warrants the use of the term "low visibility"—if any credence whatsoever is to be placed in the statements and activities of business leaders.

Government agencies by the dozen have been issuing rapid fire reports in recent weeks showing how industrial production is improved, how the price level has shown signs pleasing to industry, if not to the consumers, and how the volume of bank clearings is progressing upward. Bank deposits were seven billion dollars higher at the end of 1934 than at the end of 1933. The Reconstruction Finance corporation is having difficulty in keeping its borrowers from paying back the loans and the Securities and Exchange commission recently was made very happy by application of a great packing company to list forty-five million dollars in new securities.

The treasury has been pursuing what is regarded as orthodox financial policies and a good many other agencies appear to be veering away from the leftists' course that so long dominated Roosevelt policies. All of these, it seems, ought to be reassuring to business, whether that business be the great corporations or the little tradesmen in the corner groceries. But there has been a fly in the ointment and that seems to be the reason why masses of capital and a goodly percentage of the country's population shares uncertainty about the future economic condition.

I have sought answers to this puzzle in many quarters and I have had many different explanations. It is made to appear, however, from the weight of opinion that I have gathered that the relief rolls are the cause of this lack of faith. It has been recorded previously that approximately twenty-two million persons, about one-sixth of our population, are living on relief. This staggering total, the highest ever known, obviously represents a basic weakness somewhere and the administration is seeking to locate that weakness. This total has been reached by a steady growth. It has not come suddenly. The circumstance, therefore, has led many individuals to the conviction that Mr. Roosevelt's reform measures are failures.

Perhaps it is a lack of understanding on the part of business that prompts it to keep its pen in its pocket and its check-book closed under these conditions. It may be that business leaders have failed to read the possibilities represented by increased production and the other signs of an improved economy. Nevertheless, business apparently has found it difficult to see far or clearly into the future. It seems to look upon the economic condition as having a "low ceiling" and "low visibility."

Washington correspondents were startled in the President's press conference the other day when he let it be known that he plans four additional messages to congress this session, not including his recent bitter denunciation of the holding companies when he asked that action be had on that bill. It was not the number of messages that surprised the correspondents; it was the fact that the President said with some frankness that he did not know what subjects would be treated in them. To most of the observers it seemed wholly reasonable that the President should be unwilling to outline those messages, but it was incomprehensible that he should admit his inability to say what subjects would be handled.

After that information came out of the White House there was a noticeable sinking in the optimism of a great many men who count for something in the country's business structure. Most of them said frankly that they did not know which way to turn. Among their numbers were more who believed sincerely that the President was giving up some of his numerous New Deal experiments and was proceeding on ground which the conservative thought considers to be solid. The reaction to work of this kind always has been and always will be bad from the standpoint of the political party in power.

Added to the circumstances I have just mentioned, one should remember how congress normally is unpopular with the business community. In many years past I have heard the plaint of business representatives in Washington asking or urging for adjournment. Business men normally feel that the less work congress gets done and the sooner it leaves the halls of the Capitol, the better conditions will be. The same is true now, only more so.

It may as well be admitted that the current session of congress is here for a considerable number of weeks. This is true for several reasons. In the first instance, many of the members feel that they want to be legislators and not rubber stamps any longer. There is no longer the overwhelming fear among congressmen of the President's power. They have shown this several times lately, including the forty-nine day battle over the public works bill.

Feeling their independence again, members of the house and senate have begun to press for action on legislation carrying out their own ideas. Much of this runs counter to administration ideas on legislation. Further clashes are inevitable. When there are confliction of plans in congress you can expect to see a long-drawn-out session, and since this is not an election year, there is no need for the members to rush home to mend their political fences.

It is not strange, therefore, that business as a whole is worried about congress. The business leaders themselves insist that it is not strange that they are worried about the secrecy which surrounds the President's plans. The two circumstances, taken together, obviously serve as a brake on the wheels of industry because now as always in the past business will not risk the last vestige of its capital resources unless it can be assured of stability.

While the Democrats, the party in power, are floundering, the Republicans lie wholly dormant. Seldom in my experience in Washington has the opposition party been as useless as the Republicans now seem to be. They are making no effort at all to gather funds for use by Chairman Henry P. Fletcher of the Republican national committee in taking advantage of vulnerable spots in the Democratic armor. In fact, they have left Mr. Fletcher rather high and dry and when he attempts to do anything one faction or another shoots harder at him than at its natural rivals, the Democrats.

I have heard expressions lately to the effect that Mr. Fletcher has a golden opportunity at hand. He is in the enviable position of being able every time he is criticized by his own partisans to point out that the help they are giving him is worse than nil and that criticism under such a circumstance does not become them. The thought is that Mr. Fletcher by taking the bull by the horns, becoming militant and mapping out a program with which his wide knowledge of politics equips him, could become actually the dominant Republican force in this country. Thus far Mr. Fletcher has sat back in his easy chair and has taken all the darts. Some observers are asking how long that can continue and the Republican party remain alive.

Early in the Roosevelt administration the Republican policy was to avoid criticism of the Democratic leadership at all times. They declared, and openly announced their views, that if they criticized Mr. Roosevelt and his New Deal they would be characterized as obstructionists. If the New Deal failed the Democrats surely would place the blame on the Republican opposition. But political writers here tell me that Mr. Roosevelt's political honeymoon has been over quite a while and that there is, in their opinion, no need for the Republicans longer to stick their heads in the sand after the manner of the ostrich, and see nothing.

As the administration gets its hands on fresh supplies of money, a strong demand has set up for more concrete highways. There seems to be almost a propaganda in favor of constructing concrete highways here, there and everywhere, including two or three or four transcontinental, high speed roadways.

The new public works bill carries a considerable sum for highway construction and it is quite natural that dealers in road materials and equipment want to get hold of it. My inquiries among road-building authorities lead me to believe, however, that the use of these funds ought to be examined closely and any program that is mapped out should be the result of careful study. Around the Department of Agriculture there is a chronic complaint that too many through highways and not enough farm-to-market roads have been constructed. If that be correct, the authorities tell me, then the concrete road-building program will have to be revamped or else there will be hundreds of miles of concrete roadway constructed at an expense so great that it can be called reckless waste.

Some years ago the bureau of public roads made a statistical study which indicated that a concrete roadway, as distinguished from other hard-surface highways, was unjustified unless the daily volume of automobile traffic approximated fifteen hundred cars. It is to be remembered that a concrete roadway costs several times as much as when other materials are used in hard-surface construction. So the public roads statistician figured out the life of a roadway built of less expensive materials would be of sufficient length to warrant use of the cheaper material where the volume of travel was low.

HOUSE PASSES CROP LOAN BILL FOR $60,000,000

George Mahon, Congressman from the 19th District of Texas, spoke on the floor of Congress last week urging the immediate passage of a bill which was designed to make the Emergency Crop Loans available to farmers.

The bill calling for $60,000,000 to be provided for emergency loans for the 1935 crop passed the House and the Senate several weeks ago. The lack of funds made an appropriation bill necessary. The deficiency appropriation bill which was considered last week contained the Crop Loan item. It did not have much opposition and was speedily passed by the House and sent to the Senate for its consideration.

In urging the immediate action on this problem, Mr. Mahon said in part: "The people have already waited a long time for this loan. It is crop planting time in some sections, and shortly it will be cotton planting time in my district. I know that this loan must be made available immediately available to the people in my section if they are to make a crop. The terrible drought has brought on agricultural condition. The sandstorms are racing across the areas of West Texas. The people are discouraged. Congress can not do a more meritorious thing than to immediately pass this measure. This appropriation will make it possible for many a farmer to produce a crop in 1935 and feed his family and retain his confidence and self respect. In many instances, it will mean the difference between expensive relief rolls and profitable employment."

TEXAS CORN-HOG APPLICATION EQUAL NUMBER OF 1934 CONTR

College Station, March 26.—Texas is the first state in the United States to report as many corn-hog applications have been signed to date as signed in 1934, according to E. M. Regenbrecht, Extension swine husbandman. Thirty-three thousand applications have been signed to date and more will be signed before the closing date of April 1. Of this number, 3,000 of the 1935 signers did not take part in the 1934 program, Regenbrecht said.

Young county has completed tabulating and adjusting final contracts. These contracts are now before the State Review Board for final checking and will then be sent to Washington. Young county is the first county in the State to reach the Review Board.

Disbursement of the third and final instalment of benefit payments due under the 1934 corn-hog contracts began last week. Claude R. Wickard, chief of the corn-hog section in Washington, has announced. A total of $905,810.22 was disbursed in the first set of checks sent out.

The balance of the final payment of approximately $80,000,000 representing the last two-fifths of the total hog adjustment payment will be distributed as rapidly as possible, Mr. Wickard said. He pointed out, however, that before final payment can be made to a producer, his pro rata share of the local administrative expenses pertaining to the hog part of the contract must be deducted.

"Therefore the speed with which the checks can be sent to a county will depend upon the receipt of the certifications of total administrative expenses from the county control association. Benefit payment checks cannot be issued until these expense certifications are received and audited," he said.

FIND HUGE DEPOSIT OF SODIUM SULFATE

Lubbock, March 26.—An enormous surface deposit of sodium sulfate popularly known as "crazy crystals" has been found at Frost Lake, nine miles west of O'Donnell, Lynn county. Its value has been estimated at from one to ten million dollars, according to Dr. W. M. Craig, professor of chemistry at Texas Technological College. Dr. Craig and Rector Roberts found the deposit recently during a field trip while studying the saline lakes of West Texas.

Besides sodium sulfate the water was found to contain magnesium sulfate (Epsom salts), sodium chloride, potassium chloride, and some lithium chloride which is a rare alkali salt. Sodium sulfate is also used in large quantities in the production of Kraft paper, glass, rayon, in the dye industry and for making washing and baking soda.

Roberts is doing research work on the saline lakes of the South Plains to obtain thesis material for his master of science degree. He has made spectrographic, gravimetric, and volumetric analysis of the water and materials of five lakes, and plans to include 20 or more saline lakes with in a 100 mile radius of Lubbock.

Dr. Craig is to report on this research at a meeting of the Southwestern division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in Santa Fe, N. M., March 30 to April 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Burnside and daughter Evelyn were Lubbock visitors Saturday afternoon.

ON TEXAS FARMS

"Mattress schools" took the center of the home demonstration stage during the last months of the old year and the first three months of the new, rural women having firmly made up their minds to have King Cotton take his part in this live-at-home business.

From Cherokee county we learn that 40 people representing 27 communities attended one of the three mattress schools held in the county. These representatives and all other such have an obligation to go back home and teach the women of their own community what they have learned about making nice, soft, comfortable mattresses out of home grown cotton.

Palo Pinto county reported four schools where 60 women learned mattress technique from helping to make three new mattresses and renovate two old ones.

Renovating evidently allows for a certain amount of originality. One Gray county woman reports that her husband put their mattress through the feed mill and that, coupled with a new ticking, has made them practically a new bed.

From Rusk and Trinity counties in East Texas and Presidio county in the far western end of the State; from Carson county in the Panhandle to Hardin county on the Gulf Coast the reports are rolling in about these mattress schools. More than 1500 home made cotton mattresses were reported by home demonstration women in 1934. The market for bed ticking will probably ride an upward curve in 1935.

Spring Cleanup an Aid to Good Health

Austin, March 19.—The accumulation of winter's debris represents a distinct menace to the health of adults and particularly to little children, according to Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, who urges everyone to clean their houses and yards at this time. It is not only good housekeeping, but ordinary sanitary principles indicate the necessity of prompt removal of all waste matter in and around the neighborhood of yards and homes, but the definite lessening of the spread of diseases, especially those affecting infants, is vitally connected with the procedure. Flies help spread typhoid fever, dysentery, diarrhea, tuberculosis, anthrax, and cholera. They breed, live, and feed in filth. To prevent their increase all refuse should be disposed of at once, garbage kept in covered containers, privies made sanitary, and houses screened. Every neighborhood raises its own flies, so that their number is an index to the sanitary conditions.

Mosquitoes are responsible for the spread of malaria, dengue, and yellow fever. Malaria is spread by the bite of the Anopheles or malaria mosquito. Dengue fever and yellow fever are transmitted by the Aedes Aegypti or Tiger mosquito. The best way to prevent these diseases is to destroy the breeding places of the mosquitoes. They breed in standing water, therefore, one should drain, ditch, or fill such places, spray oil on water each week, or stock the water with surface minnows as they will eat the wiggle-tails. Houses should be well screened to protect against these insects. After the spring cleaning is finished, it should be kept in this condition at all time.

THE REASON FOR FAILURES

Do you think the big reason for people failing in business is due to conditions? No it is not. Statistics show only about 20 per cent fail for this reason. The main reason attributed to business failure is from the "inside". Lack of industry, getup and push, lack of community interest, failure to advertise, lack of courtesy, lack of knowledge of goods, are some of the reasons given for business failures. No business man can become so "cocky" about himself and let these attributes go by and succeed any more.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lee spent Sunday in Lovington, N. M. visiting Mrs. Lee's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beuchausen and J. C. Duff were Lubbock visitors Sunday.

MR. AND MRS. W. B. COLLINS ENTERTAIN SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS AND THEIR WIVES

On Tuesday evening of this week Mr. W. B. Collins, president of the local school board with Mrs. Collins, entertained members of the school board and their wives with a dinner served at the Williams Hotel.

A delicious three course dinner was served from a table beautifully decorated with snap dragons and other cut flowers.

After the dinner the party was resumed at the Collins home, where the entertaining rooms were attractively decorated with spring blossoms. At the closing of the social hour of "42" expressions of appreciation were voiced by all for the unusually delightful entertainment so graciously furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Collins. This party was the first social event the board has enjoyed.

Mr. Collins' faithfulness and loyalty to the school through the most trying times known in the history of Lamesa schools has been greatly appreciated by the entire citizenship as well as the board.

D. 1934, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 1852, wherein V. O. Key is Plaintiff, and R. L. How not to LIGHT A BRIDGE TABLE

Think of trying to play bridge by the light of two candles. Yet that is the equivalent of the light in many homes—a level of illumination that is tiring to guests and makes any party dull.

For gayer, livelier parties, use more lighting. An indirect lamp provides the ideal light—shadowless and glareless—for playing bridge, and is an equally efficient light for a quiet evening of reading. See the newest styles of indirect lamps at our store.

Have you seen the new Reading and Study Lamp, scientifically designed to give proper light for reading and study? These lamps are approved by the Illuminating Engineering Society and enable you to read with a minimum of eye fatigue. The new-type shade and diffusing globe provide both direct and indirect illumination, without glare.

...and it's even Better than it Looks!

At first sight, America named the Silver Streak Pontiac the most beautiful thing on wheels. But even that high praise tells only half of Pontiac's story. Get in, drive, and you'll discover that this low-priced car is even better than it looks. It's an unusually safe car with solid steel "Turret-Top" Bodies by Fisher and triple-sealed hydraulic brakes.

It's a marvel on the road—smooth, lively, easy to handle and easy on gas and oil. And, as such super-fine features as silver-alloy bearings and a completely sealed chassis prove, Pontiac asks no odds of any car at any price when it comes to quality and dependability. A look, a ride and you'll decide—the car makes the price phenomenal.

IMMUNIZE CHILDREN AGAINST DIPHTHERIA

Austin, March 26.—"Few conquests of science have been so spectacular and complete as the rout of diphtheria. And this victory has most firmly established the value of serum treatment both in its preventive and curative phases. However, toxin-antitoxin or its successor toxoid for immunization and antitoxin for timely cure, are brilliant achievements of which the general public even yet are not fully aware," states Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

"As indicated, toxoid is the immunizing or preventive agent now usually employed. Only one injection of this serum is necessary. However, three to four months are required for the body to develop immunity. At that time the Schick test is applied to determine the results of his preventive treatment. This harmless and painless procedure is performed by injecting into the upper layer of the skin a minute drop of the diphtheria toxin. If within 48 to 72 hours there is no redness at the place where the toxin was injected, or perhaps a small blister and some hardness of the skin, immunity has been definitely established.

"However, when a case of diphtheria exists antitoxin is the only treatment that will save life. Also, to be effective, it must be given early and in large doses. Delay is usually caused by parents failing to realize that any sore throat may actually be diphtheria.

"The means are at hand to fight diphtheria to the death, but it cannot be done without a hundred per cent cooperation of parents. May Day, the Child's Health Day, will soon be here and one of the best ways to observe it would be for parents to have their children immunized against diphtheria."

CHEVROLET, DAILY PRODUCTION NOW 5,000

Detroit, March 26.—Pushing steadily upward, production of Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks is now exceeding 5000 per day. On March 19 a total of 5,162 units rolled off the production lines of the company's 9 assembly plants, according to an official statement just released by W. E. Holler, vice president and general sales manager.

"Within a week or ten days," said Mr. Holler, "The new Chevrolet assembly plant at Baltimore, with an estimated yearly capacity of 80,000 units, should begin to add its daily quota to our present facilities. Once we begin to get the benefit of this added production, present schedules will show another substantial increase.

"Deliveries of Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks from January 1 to March 10, the latest figures available, are 30.3 per cent above the same period in 1934. Every department of our business is now working at top speed to meet the demands of the public and our dealers for more cars and trucks.

Mr. Holler stated further that orders for delivery to buyers, through more than 10,000 retail delivery outlets, have increased steadily every week since the formal announcement of the company's new models on January 5. At present, unfilled orders on hand are said to be nearing the 100,000 mark.
