Council Okays Funds For Airport

City councilmen gave the nod to the investment of city funds amounting to $12,500 toward the building of an airport for Olton at their meeting Tuesday night.

Meeting with the city council were members of the Olton Chamber of Commerce Airport Committee, comprised of Earl Spruiell, Max Malone, Bill Kelley, Percy Parsons and Tom Sluder.

Spruiell, acting as spokesman for the committee, told the council that with the building of the 50,000 head feedlot, an airport would become a necessity.

"Parts for the mill in case of a breakdown, would have to be brought in from Dallas. This means it would take seven hours to bring parts in here by truck, where as by air, a person could fly down, pick up the parts and be back within about three hours."

"There is no land on the feedlot for an airport," Spruiell continued, "but if the city could put up $12,500, certain individuals in the area have committed themselves to this same goal. The state will match that figure of $25,000 giving us $50,000 and the federal government will match that figure, giving us a total of $100,000 for an airport."

"For such a little investment of $12,500, the city would be deeded the airport worth $100,000." Spruiell stated.

"There may be people who say that Olton doesn't need an airport, yet those same people know that forty years ago Olton had a chance for a railroad and turned it down. Today, we'd give almost anything for that railroad."

Spruiell pointed out that the meat packing plant which is being located in Plainview would be using air freight in their operation. He also told councilmen that efforts were being made to attract vegetable canneries into the area and that in fact, on at least one occasion that representatives of canneries had been in the area looking for possible locations.

"One of the first questions that an industrial team will ask of a town is "What kind of airport do you have?' If we want industry to come into Olton, we must have an airport," he said.

He told the council that funds already had been allocated for Olton by the federal government but that the city had to act before September to be eligible to receive the funds.

Providing that all grants are received and the airport is built to FAA standards, there will be 3800 feet of runway, 50 foot wide. Spruiell told the group that "you could set just about any kind of plane down on that kind of runway."

He also noted to the council that there are 22 registered airplane owners in the Olton area.

City Attorney Andy Stroebel asked if the airport would be a profit-making investment for the city to which Spruiell said that the only profit would be the enticement of new industries into Olton, but that it would maintain itself.

"One industry coming into Olton could make the airport pay for itself." Spruiell said. "Actually, the taxes from aviation fuel makes possible the grants the state and federal governments offer us."

Stroebel then asked if the airport would be adequate in the event that more industry came to Olton to which Spruiell said it would definitely be adequate.

Councilman Charles Sullivan then made the motion that the city invest the $12,500 toward the building of an airport that would, upon completion, be deeded to the city.

Equalization Board Meets With Board Of Trustees

Meeting with the board of trustees Monday night prior to its regular meeting, were members of the board of equalization.

The meeting was for the purpose of discussing the problems that the district is faced with in equalizing taxes.

Supt. Ray Schultz told the board of equalization that they needed to take the tax roll, study it and make whatever recommendations they saw fit.

He explained that there were four classes of property in the district--city, land, industries, and personal.

Schultz said that each class had to be as equal as possible within itself and then be equalized to the other classes as well.

"The need for equalization is most important this year, Schultz told the group, because of the pending legislature for teacher pay raises. If they are granted, most surely taxes would have to be raised and in the event of taxes being raised, the inequities would be even greater."

Board of equalization consists of G. H. Bley, Owen Norfleet, Elma Burleson, Vernon Nixon, Roy Roberts, V. Y. Jefferies, Fred Smith, Earnest Jones and Doc Miller. Others present were Mrs. Virginia Miller and Elmer Moore.

In the meeting of the board of trustees which followed the joint meeting, resignations of five teachers were accepted and four new teachers were employed.

Resigning were Mrs. Ruth Holladay, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Driskill, and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Splawn.

Mrs. Holladay will teach in Canyon. Mr. and Mrs. Driskill will be moving to Arlington, where he will be employed in the medical testing program of the National Diabetes Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Splawn will move to Ralls where he will be first assistant football coach to the head coach in high school and also serve as head track coach.

New teachers hired were John Galaviz, of Bachiniva, Mexico, who has been teaching in Fluvanna school system; Mr. and Mrs. James Weaver of Clovis, N. M. and Melinda Smith of Gladewater.

Galaviz will teach Spanish. James Weaver will serve as P. E. teacher and freshman coach, while his wife, Fran, will teach English.

Miss Smith, a graduate of Wayland in May, will be girls physical education instructor.

In other action, the board approved the renewal of a contract with Regional Media Services which supplies film for use by the school at $1 per average daily attendance record, approximately $1000 per school year.

Schultz reported to the board on the lunchroom, which was showing a deficit at this time, and on attendance, which was down again. If attendance does not climb back up, the school will lose one teacher.

Discussion of hiring a vocational agriculture teacher was held. Schultz told the board that the man who he wanted for the job had accepted another contract but that he had approximately 11 more candidates for the post.

In final action, Schultz said that he had had a request from a parent of a student who had not satisfactorily completed the work of the eighth grade but who was to be "socially promoted" to participate in the graduation exercises of the class.

After some discussion, the board asked Schultz to make the decision and to talk to the parents of such students.

LEADING BIG BLUE - - newly elected tri-captains for the 1969-70 Olton Mustangs will be Barry Cowart, senior, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Cowart; Johnny Arroyos, junior, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jose Arroyos; and Gary "Bull" Durham, junior, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Durham.

In The Right Direction

Olton has taken another step FORWARD!

There has been quite a lot of talk of an airport for Olton for quite some time, but the first step in securing one was taken Tuesday night, when the Chamber of Commerce Airport Committee met with the city council and laid the ground work for the beginning of another dream come true.

Just as the feedlot operation fell into place after years of study and discussion, the airport will come into being, if enough people are interested in securing one.

The city told the airport committee that they would invest $12,500 in the project after they were told that individuals in the area had already committed themselves for a similar amount.

The state will match the funds the city raises, then the federal government will match those funds and Olton will soon be boasting an airport worth $100,000..

This one step could bring more industries into Olton, a thing which we all know we need -- and must have, if we are to continue to grow.

Right now, Olton has come to the point of no commercial travel facilities... no bus, no railroad. With the establishment of an airport, charter plane service would be available. This type of travel is very common now and is ever gaining momentum. The time to act is now!

Some of you may say -- "How much is it going to raise our taxes?"

The city and the chamber of commerce believe in the airport enough to say that the taxpayers will NOT have their taxes raised to pay for this airport.

They say one business -- and only one-- would more than pay for the costs of an airport in added revenue, more jobs and utilization of local products.

There is more than a possibility that a vegetable cannery will locate here in the near future. Efforts are being made at this time to secure such a business for Olton.

The feedyards which will begin construction soon will benefit from the facilities of an airport. Persons who are interested in feeding out cattle, buying cattle, etc. will not be hampered by long drives from neighboring cities, but will be able to fly into Olton, take care of their business and be on their ways without costly time being spent driving.

The funds available from the state and federal governments are GRANTS---they do not have to be repaid nor are the monies for such grants taken from the general revenue fund... this comes from unclaimed aviation tax money. Therefore, the persons who use the airways are the persons who will be paying for it in reality.

We think this is one of the smartest moves that has been made for the benefit of Olton in a number of years.

Let's get behind those councilmen and individuals who are raising the money for their share and show them that we believe they are doing the right thing -- for Olton!

Look back a few years....How many times have we said 'If we only had a railroad!' Well, let's not sit here and then in a few years be lamenting 'If we only had an airport!'

Let's help Olton grow! Let's back the airport!

What Is Agriculture?

GUEST EDITORIAL

Agriculture is the back-bone of our nation. It was the motivating force which caused our founding fathers to, first of all leave homes in Europe and sail unknown seas, to come to a country where land was free for the asking; and second to leave the safety of the colonies and travel westward, searching for new and better land where they could plant their crops, grow their cattle, and raise their children on land they could call their own.

Agriculture is the reason a strong and prosperous nation grew out of a weak organization of 13 colonies. Any wealth which is realized from the production of agriculture commodites is NEW wealth, created wealth, and will grow and increase seven times before it has run the gamut thru our national economy.

This is why a poor nation set up on the brink of bankruptcy has grown to be one of the richest nations in the world's history. Agriculture has been the guiding force.

What happens when a nation forgets the importance of a prosperous agriculture? It slowly but surely starts to die! For a while the nation fools itself into believing that it can exist without its agricultural segment sharing in its prosperity.

Then a false economy starts to form.

Taxes begin to rise, inflation takes over, the manufacturing and laboring economy starts to boom, interest rates rise, and agriculture pays the bill. At some point the burden becomes too heavy for agriculture to bear and it falls! Of course, the result is that it drags the rest of the nation down with it, AND A NATION FALLS!

Strong language--the truth usually is. Search the pages of history and see if this is not true. No nation has been able to continue to enjoy prosperity for long if the nation's agriculture economy becomes depressed.

There is still time to stop this headlong plunge towards destruction for our nation.

But time is short! We must do something to alleviate the situation now!! It will take an informed and concerned people, a strong organization of this nation's farmers determined to do their homework. It will require the understanding and backing of a consuming public. They must realize that the American agriculture producer must be allowed to share in the nation's wealth.

The consumer must come to realize that a prosperous agriculture economy will be passed on and cause a PROSPEROUS and STRONG and STABLE national economy. He must understand that over 40 per cent of our nation's labor force is indirectly dependent on agriculture for its welfare in the form of small rural communities, fertilizer manufacturers, implement manufacturers, oil and gas companies, automobile manufacturers, food processors, food distributors, etc.

Once he realizes the importance of the American farmer in the economic structure of our nation's government, he will realize that fair and profitable prices must return to the nation's farms.

DID YOU KNOW- - - -

That the investment in agriculture is equal to 75 per cent of the total investment in industry?

That the price of milo could be increased by 25¢ per cwt. (15%) and it would only add 56¢ per hundred to the selling price of a 1000 lb. fat steer? The market alone will fluctuate this much from day to day, That this 56¢ per cwt. will reflect only about 1¢ per pound increase in the price of beef to the consumer.

That every dollar earned by agriculture adds four additional dollars to the local economy or seven additional dollars to the national economy? Remember--The man who DOES NOT read has no advantage over the man who CANNOT read.

City Council

motion and the vote was unanimous for it.

President of the C-CA, Max Malone, thanked the council for their co-operation on this project and all projects which the chamber of commerce has undertaken.

In other action, the council heard a report from Claude Burnett, in regard to junked cars, accepted the resignation of the city corporate judge, approved a raise in salary for the city attorney, approved the purchase of a weed shredder and appointed a board of equalization.

Burnett told the council that he had learned of three men who might be interested in picking up all junk cars in the city. However, upon talking with them, he found only one who was interested in the job.

"I talked with this man from Farwell who said he would pick up the cars, bale them and carry them out of town for $5 a car." Burnett said.

"All he asked is that we have a release from the owner of the cars before he picks them up and he wants permission to burn them before baling." Burnett said.

Councilmen instructed Burnett to employ the man to begin work as soon as possible. Owners of the autos will be responsible for the $5 charge.

In submitting his resignation, Judge Dennis said that "Because of an extreme change in my personal circumstances during the last few weeks, I must respectfully decline reappointment as City Judge." He said he would serve until a replacement was found.

Council accepted but delayed the appointment of a replacement until those persons wishing to serve in that capacity had an opportunity to apply for the position.

A weed shredder, which the city will be using overtime due to the recent rains, was a topic of discussion.

The shredder which the city now owns is in need of repairs and would cost approximately $300 to get it in working order. A new shredder, with a 60 inch cut, could be purchased for $563 from the John Deere Company. The council voted unanimously to purchase the new shredder.

City Attorney Andy Stroebel was given a raise of $50 which makes his monthly salary a total of $100. The council approved the raise unanimously.

Fire Chief Tom Smith asked that three firemen be sent to a fire marshall school at A&M during the month of July. The council okayed the necessary expenses for the men's expenses plus the tuition for the school which is $60 per person. They appointed Joe Chester as assistant Fire Marshall.

A board of equalization was appointed by the board. They are Basil Sherman, Dan Gregory, Richard Roberson, Bob Duncan and Russell Strain.

Orian Hackler was authorized to build a pen for the purpose of keeping dogs which will be picked up by the city officers if they are not penned or on leash.

The council approved the license fee of $25 per year for the domino hall, pool hall and all other amusement places in the city.

In an effort to better serve the community, three committees were established.

Street committee members are Charles Sullivan and K. Y. Givens. Water and sewer committee is Leon Noack and Parley Myers. Police committee is Walter Struve and Jimmie Jenkins. Citizens having questions about these departments should discuss them with the committeemen.

One-Time Hobby Develops Into Nationwide Business

Cedar Nook Garden, originated by the late Mr. and Mrs. I. V Fent at their farm home four and one-half miles south of Olton, has been moved to Iowa Park to the home of a daughter, Mrs. Dean Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Fent started their venture with iris in the 1930's. At first it was simply a hobby with Mrs. Fent but before long she was adding new varieties with interest and enthusiasm.

Each year she continued to add new stock until the hobby grew into a business, Cedar Nook Garden. Plants have been shipped from the well known gardens to at least 46 of the 50 states.

After his wife's death in 1964, Fent continued to maintain the gardens until ill health forced his retirement. In 1966, following her father's death, Cherie Fent Miller and her husband Dean, Director of Guidance of W. F. George Schools in Iowa Park, made the decision to move the gardens to their home.

The project of moving more than 600 varieties began in the summer of 1967. That summer will be long remembered because their work was under such adverse conditions due to three hail storms that inflicted damage to plants and property.

The 200-mile distance between garden and the Miller's home and the responsibilities of a home with three preschoolers did not simplify the transfer.

In October 1968 the last iris had been planted, labeled and charted. In addition to the older varieties, new ones were added, including Christmas Time, Blue Petticoats, Fashion Fling, Light and Lovely, Orange Chariot, and many others including 23 rebloomers.

Everything But The Kitchen Sink

BY MOZELLE TROTTER

Most likely, after having written this bit of nothing for almost two years, I've let it be known to one and all that I'm a fan of eating. If you didn't know it, I am. In fact, I'm a gourmand - that's a polite way of saying I'm a pig.

Speaking of pigs, that brings me to my subject. Did you know that scientists - or somebody - are making substitutes for ham and bacon - other meats, too?

The Institute of Food Technologists are meeting this week in Chicago and they are handing out samples of what "looks like ham and tastes like ham" but is really soybeans!

Now I like pinto beans and lima beans and even green beans but soybeans? And in place of ham?

Imagine having scrambled eggs and soybean fillet for breakfast. Wonder what the genuine southerner will think when they try to get him to eat soybeans with his red red-eye gravy?

Wonder if 2000 is going to see all the good things to eat replaced with a substitute made by man? How dreary!

By then we may be eating dehydrated foods like the poor astronauts.

I can't seem to work up much of an appetite thinking about eating my enchiladas and tacos in a tube like toothpaste. If it comes to that they may as well mix in a little floride and we won't have to brush our teeth.

As far as I'm concerned, they've stopped inventing the marvelous and started meddling where they oughtn't.

Club Member Writes Poem Presented As Meditation

"Hazardous Beauty", a review of shrubs, flowers and plants which are poisonous in some way, was the topic of study presented by Mrs. John Lambright Thursday afternoon to the Olton Garden Club in Women's Clubhouse.

Mrs. Raymon Carson gave the meditation using scripture from the third chapter of John. She also used an original poem by Mrs. Stella Cowart.

"In a lovely garden in a quiet place,
I ponder God's word and His marvelous grace.
It bids me look on the beauty of life,
And not to give all my thoughts to the world and its strife,
For wars and rumors of wars are the result of sin;
And our only hope is our trust in Him.
He tells us to look on the lovely things,
A rose in the garden, a bird on the wing,
For as a man thinketh; that's the state of his heart;
Our thoughts must be pure if God's word we impart.
Let's live our lives in a glorious way,
Singing His praises, not forgetting to pray.
Smiling and serving, even using our hands,
This my friends, is a part of God's plan.
Abundant life He promised to us,
If only we give Him our love and our trust.
Yes, life can be a miracle if lived God's way;
Let's claim this miracle, right now, today."

SELECTIVE HERBICIDE

☐ Beats the weather

☐ Beats the soil residue carryover problem

Stauffer's new SUTAN, "the grass getter" is here . . . ready to work for you.

It controls giant, yellow and green foxtail, barnyardgrass (watergrass), crabgrass, goosegrass, purple and yellow nutgrass and Johnsongrass from seed.

Applied and immediately mixed into the soil just before planting, SUTAN does not depend on rainfall to move it into the weed seed zone. It's already down there working to control weed seeds germinated by soil moisture. Control starts early, keeps on working in wet weather when you can't cultivate.

When used as recommended, SUTAN does not leave harmful soil residues . . . does not interfere with cover crops or rotation.

In most cases, SUTAN can be applied with liquid fertilizers or soil insecticides. Come on in and let us give you full details.

Section 1. That Section 5, Article III, Constitution of the State of Texas, as amended, be amended to read as follows:

"Section 5. The Legislature shall meet in regular session each year at such time as may be provided by law and at other times as convened by the Governor. When convened in odd-numbered years in regular session, the Legislature shall devote the first thirty days to the introduction of bills and resolutions, acting upon emergency appropriations, passing upon the confirmation of the recess appointees of the Governor and such emergency matters as may be submitted by the Governor in special messages to the Legislature; provided that during the succeeding thirty days of such session the various committees of each House shall hold hearings to consider all bills and resolutions and other matters then pending; and such emergency matters as may be submitted by the Governor; provided further that during the following sixty days the Legislature shall act upon such bills and resolutions as may be then pending and upon such emergency matters as may be submitted by the Governor in special messages to the Legislature; provided, however, either House may otherwise determine its order of business during this session by an affirmative vote of four-fifths of its membership.

"Regular sessions in even-numbered years, commencing in 1972, shall not exceed sixty days and shall be limited to legislation on the subjects of providing funds for the support of functions and activities of the state government and emergency matters submitted by the Governor in messages to the Legislature. At each regular session, commencing in 1971, appropriations shall be made for the support of functions and activities of the state government for the next fiscal year."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on August 5, 1969, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment to provide for annual legislative sessions."

Ginning Research Lab Sets Open House, Dedication

A large crowd is expected to be on hand at the USDA South Plains Ginning Research Laboratory on Saturday, May 17, for an open house and dedication beginning at 2 p. m.

The new Agricultural Research Service facility is located about seven and one-half miles north of Lubbock on US 87 and is next door to the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center.

Highlighting the event will be an address by Secretary of Agriculture Dr. Clifford Hardin. Hardin will be introduced by 19th District Congressman George Mahon.

Bill Thompson, a ginner near Shallowater and past president of the Texas Cotton Ginners' Association, will serve as master of ceremonies for the event, according to Roy Baker, engineer-in-charge of the ginning lab.

Other speakers will include Dr. Gerald Thomas, dean of agriculture at Texas Tech; Dr. John Bradford, dean of engineering at Tech and president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce; and Dr. H. O. Kunkel, dean of agriculture at Texas A&M and acting director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Baker will give a brief rundown on the ginning lab and will then demonstrate its operation. Some cotton will actually be run through the ginning process at this time to give visitors a firsthand view of the gin's operation.

The ginning lab is the first of its kind in Texas and the fourth in the nation. The other labs are located in New Mexico, South Carolina and Mississippi.

The new lab was completed last fall at a cost of more than $400,000. It serves the Texas High Plains and other areas of the state growing stripper type cotton. Primary objective of the lab, according to Baker, is to develop new and improved methods of handling, drying, cleaning, packaging and ginning machine-stripped cotton.

In addition to being a fully equipped cotton gin, the lab is uniquely constructed in that the gin's individual components have a built-in flexibility. Cotton being ginned can be routed through various amounts or stages of cleaning, drying and other operations in order to check the affect on fiber quality and related factors.

Emergency Care Course Slated

The first practical course on emergency care and transportation of the sick and injured to be held in the Northwest Texas Area is scheduled May 21, 22, and 23, 1969, in the auditorium of the Psychiatric Pavilion of the Northwest Texas Hospital.

Invited to attend the three-day course of lectures and demonstrations are ambulance attendants, policemen, firemen, safety engineers, rescue squads, nurses, public health, civil defense, and other officials or private citizens dealing with the handling of persons who are sick or injured due to accidents.

This course is given free of charge and is expected to attract attendance from a seventy-five mile area around Amarillo. It is given by the Texas State Department of Health and the Potter-Randall County Medical Society.

The death rate from accidental injuries can be reduced by improved training of emergency personnel according to Dr. Henry E. Martinez, a local Amarillo doctor who is acting as Program Chairman for the training school. A fast ride to the hospital by ambulance or other means has practically never saved a life. There is often only a few minutes to reestablish heart action and breathing, time too short for even a 90 mile-an-hour trip to the emergency room of the hospital. What is really needed are people well trained in emergency care to prepare the injured for transport. This means being able to make a quick survey, to determine medical priority, and to take the necessary life-saving measures.

To furnish this instruction, doctors and nurses from the Northwest Texas Area and members of local police and fire organizations and others will speak and demonstrate on a wide range of subjects, including resuscitation, cardiac massage, splinting of fractures, burns, and other medical emergencies. Aid to snake and spider bite victims, smoke and gas hazards, handling of emotionally disturbed patients, emergency childbirth, and traffic control at the accident scene will be covered.

HELEN SMITH

This is the next to the last week of school and yet sometimes it seems like only 262 days until school started last year. My, how time drags.

Oh we privileged Seniors! No school Thursday or Friday for us, as we need to get ready for our upcoming graduation services. Better luck next year, underclassmen.

It seems that installation services were the in thing these past two weeks. The FTA salad supper last Friday night installed the officers for next year, Tuesday at 10:30 the National Honor Society installed their new officers and that night the FHA did the honors. We sincerely say, "Good luck, everybody, and make next year a profitable one!!"

Also Tuesday morning, our annual Awards assembly was held with honors going to some highly deserving students. Congratulations, all -- another OHS souvenir.

Final exams present themselves next Wednesday and Thursday to all underclassmen, and the rest of us Seniors who couldn't quite make that 90 semester average in order to get exempt from tests. No student has to get up Friday for classes, and report cards are shoveled out Saturday to end this glorious school year.

7-Point Cotton Research Program Adopted By HPRF

A seven-point cotton research program for 1969 has been adopted at the High Plains Research F oundation that may provide answers to cutting cotton production costs.

Dr. Tom Longnecker, Foundation director, cited several factors making it a necessity to reduce production costs for High Plains farmers to continue to produce cotton.

"These factors are the increase in cost of labor, machinery and other production items; reduction in cotton exports; loss of domestic markets to synthetics and possibility of losing part or all of government subsidy payments during the next few years", Dr. Longnecker said.

"With production costs averaging 28 to 30 cents per pound of lint, the potential profit in growing cotton is low under existing conditions," Dr. Longnecker stated. "The only answer to the present situation is to reduce cotton production costs to an extent that cotton can be produced profitably at world market prices", he added.

"There are two ways costs can be reduced -- increased yields and/or elimination or reduction of certain production costs", Dr. Longnecker said.

In outlining the proposed seven-point program Dr. Longnecker said, "One or more of these practices added to existing cotton production program can be helpful, but for maximum effect all seven practices would need to be combined in the over-all management program".

Under the program, minimum tillage studies would be increased. "Present production practices on cotton may include as many as eight or 10 trips over the land before cotton is planted. Tests are underway at the Foundation to determine if all these operations are necessary," Longnecker said.

In the tests, cotton following double-rowed grain sorghum or soybeans will be planted in the old beds between the two stubble rows. A contact herbicide will be used to control weeds and volunteer grain. "The stubble will provide protection from wind and sand for seedling cotton and surface residue will reduce evaporation losses", Longnecker pointed out.

Planting time plays an important role in the program. Due to the necessity of planting cotton as early as possible, many farmers become impatient and plant when the soil is too cold leaving the cotton easy prey for seedling diseases which destroys newly formed roots", Dr. Longnecker said.

"Rather than relying entirely on soil temperature to determine cotton planting dates, we need to make use of weather patterns to spot the last cool spell of the season and plant during this last cool period to take advantage of the rapid warm up that follows for quick seed germination", he added.

Treated seed also is a necessity to reduce the possibility of seedling disease.

Two other methods of seedling cotton protection from wind and sand erosion will be tried in the seven-point program. One method will be to plant cotton in herbicide killed wheat with the wheat to provide protection. The other method will be to interplant corn at the time cotton is seeded. The corn will come up first and by the time cotton has reached the seedling stage, the corn will provide wind protection. When the corn is 24 to 30 inches high, a knife running three inches below the surface will be used to kill the corn plants but leave them standing to hold more heat on the soil surface. Previous micro-climate studies have already proven this type of protection will increase temperatures near the cotton plant.

Starter fertilizers, particularly phosphate, in addition to regular fertilizer program, will help provide the necessary quick start for seedling cotton. Research has shown that cotton absorbs 75% of its total phosphate during the first 25% of its growth and banded phosphate close to the seed can increase yields as much as $45 per acre with some varieties.

"More precise methods of incorporating cotton herbicides will have a part in the program. Disk incorporation of herbicides lacks precision on results in non-uniform depth of distribution of herbicides in the soil", Longnecker said. Power driven incorporation equipment used at the Foundation will permit the herbicide to be incorporated in the beds during the planting operation or combined with listing and bed shaping in a single operation.

Irrigation timing is a sixth part of the program and one of the most important. "Contrary to common practices, it has been determined from Foundation research that the first irrigation should be made as soon as the cotton starts squaring rather than waiting until first bloom. From 80 to 90% of the total cotton crop is produced from the first four weeks of blooming. If we provide optimum moisture during the squaring stage more early squares will set and increase both yield and quality", Dr. Longnecker said.

Earlier cut-off date for irrigation water also is urged in the program.

An accidental finding during the 1968 crop season has added the seventh point in study use of plant hormones to promote earlier and heavier fruiting.

Dr. Longnecker said that misapplication of a non-volatile form of 2-4D (Lithate) in the squaring stage of cotton crop in 1968 produced effects ranging from severe damage to an increase yield of as much as 200 pounds of lint per acre.

"This variable effect was caused by different amounts of Lithate the cotton received but it was not possible to determine the rate where the cotton yield increased", Dr. Longnecker said.

Different rates of Lithate will be applied on cotton in 1969 in an effort to determine the rate that can be used to set more early squares during the first 30 days and to prevent shedding of the fruit during the latter part of the growing season.
