Truman Says Lewis' Action Headline Hunt

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 9.—President Truman brushed off the latest coal mine work stoppage as a John L. Lewis hunt for headlines.

At the same time he said that the latest one-week coal shutdown does not lessen the need for repeal of the Taft-Hartley law. The shutdown will begin Monday.

The United Mine Workers' chief has ordered the 500,000 hard and soft coal diggers to stop work from Monday until June 20 to reduce coal stock piles and abate the "economic deterioration" in the industry.

Work Stoppage Scored

The move is generally regarded as an attempt to strengthen his bargaining position in negotiating a new work contract to replace that expiring June 30.

In Lexington, Ky., President Joseph E. Moody of the Southern Coal Producers association, who has been bargaining futilely with Lewis for a new contract, termed the work stoppage "unrestrained economic dictatorship."

Moody claimed Lewis' walkout order violated the law prohibiting a work stoppage during a negotiating period. He said such an action by the coal producers would be "a clear violation" of the anti-trust laws.

Moody expressed the hope that, when the recessed bargaining negotiations re-open Tuesday at Bluefield, W. Va., Lewis will "see fit to submit his proposals for a contract in response to the definite proposals" of the southern producers.

Layoffs Slated

The New York Central railroad announced meanwhile that 5,475 car and locomotive shop employes will be furloughed indefinitely starting Monday because of the scheduled mine shutdown.

The railroad said also that the loss of coal freight will result in furloughs for some other employes, including train operating personnel.

John D. Battle, executive vice president of the National Coal association, said in Washington that Lewis' action calls for "a stronger labor law, not a weaker law." He added:

"Such action by Congress would end the rule of a labor czar such as John L. Lewis in the twinkling of an eye."

HST Appears Unworried

Administration leaders on Capitol hill fear that the work stoppage will jeopardize efforts to revise the Taft-Hartley law.

Mr. Truman declared he did not believe that the mine shutdown changed the need for wiping out the existing labor statute and re-

Additional Cotton, Wheat Is Damaged

Majority Of Cotton Crop Survives Rains

WITH stormy weather striking again on portions of the South Plains for the fifth straight night last night and early today, farm observers Thursday turned their attention to losses already caused by the battering rains, hail and wind of the past few days and decided the overall picture wasn't too damaging.

W. N. Williamson, district extension service agent for the 18 county South Plains district, last night estimated that rain and hail damage over the entire area, although costly, would not be too severe.

"The storms appear to be pinpointed," he explained. "The areas that were hit were hit hard. For example, a farmer on a section of land might be hurt badly, but in the overall South Plains picture, the effect will be small."

Flood Proves Costly

On the basis of incomplete reports from county agents, Williamson thought his previous estimates of 200,000 acres of crop damage might be enlarged to 300,000 acres. This would mean that an additional 100,000 acres of cotton have been destroyed or damaged over the area in the past 48 hours.

Since the cost of [illegible] averages about $2.50 an [illegible] means an estimated [illegible] approximately $500,000. [illegible] farmers have a chance to [illegible] however, and most of them [illegible] expected to do so before the June 30 deadline for making a [illegible] This year's cotton crop on the South Plains has been estimated at 3,000,000. So the losses although heavy in individual cases, is not too severe considered on the overall basis.

Insects Also Cause Damage

Some of the damage to the crops was caused by winds and insects, Williamson explained, although most of it was from rain and hail.

Wheat losses in the area also will be heavy, but on a basis of the complete area, nowhere near catastrophic.

Thunderstorms Hit Portions Of Area Again; More Seen

Thunderstorms, apparently not as severe and not as general as those of the past few days, struck parts of the South Plains for the fifth straight night Thursday and were rumbling over the northwest and north portions of the area early today.

Early today, a sharp thunderstorm which struck in the Morton area earlier in the night, was moving across the section dumping heavy showers on the Levelland, Littlefield, Amherst, Anton, Muleshoe, Sudan and nearby areas.

A heavy downpour struck Lubbock at 1:10 a.m. today and was continuing some time later.

No Relief In Sight

Meanwhile, the Lubbock Weather bureau said at midnight that there is little hope for a change in weather conditions for the South Plains for the weekend. Scattered showers and thunderstorms were forecast for today, tonight and Saturday.

Most of the thundershower activity, however, is expected to develop in the later afternoon and during the nighttime, the Weather station said. Slightly warmer temperatures are expected this afternoon. A high of 72 was recorded Thursday.

The entire area was soaked by Wednesday night's heavy downpours a survey showed, with the fall ranging from one-half to three inches of rain. The weather bureau reported Wednesday night's total fall at 2.18 inches, bringing the year's total to 18.02 inches, far above the normal of about seven inches for this time of year.

At Muleshoe, rain began

Bills To Hike Salaries Of Juvenile Officers Signed

AUSTIN, June 9 (AP) — Gov. Beauford H. Jester signed into law today two bills which will allow counties to raise the salaries of juvenile and probation officers.

One bill, introduced by Rep. Cloyd D. Young of Linden, lifts the ceilings on salaries for juvenile and probation officers in counties with not more than 190,000 population.

Another bill, introduced by Rep. Doyle Willis of Fort Worth, permits salary increases by placing Tarrant county in a higher salary bracket for larger counties.

ECA Head May Resign Position

WASHINGTON, June 9. (INS)—Paul Hoffman threatened today to resign as Marshall plan administrator if Congress fails to grant sufficient funds to operate an "effective" European recovery program.

Hoffman explained his position to reporters after two hectic days of grilling by the Senate appropriations committee on funds to continue the Economic Co-operation administration.

He said it would be a waste of money to cut ERP to three and a half billion dollars for the full fiscal year beginning July 1. Such a reduction, he declared, would seriously endanger success of the recovery effort.

Large Slash Opposed

Asked by reporters later if this meant he might quit the government, Hoffman declared:

"If, after a fair trial, I concluded that the program could not succeed, the only honest thing would be to give it to somebody who thought he could do the job."

"Some 'hero' might come along who thought he could do the job for less money, but if at any time for any reason I feel the program couldn't be administered I'd get

HST Defends Atom Setup

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 9—President Truman said today he thinks the atomic program is in good hands under David E. Lilienthal.

He said testimony before the congressional atomic investigation, critical of Lilienthal, has not changed his opinion.

The President offered his opinion at a news conference a few hours after Lewis Strauss, member of the Atomic Energy commission, testified that atom-bombarded isotopes sent abroad could be used for research on germ warfare, aviation gasoline and rockets.

Strauss said he protested to other members of the five-man commission against the shipments beginning in 1947, but was overruled.

"I have not altered the views there expressed (in 1947), and the intervening events have fortified them," Strauss said.

Lilienthal Reprimanded

Strauss' calm, slow-spoken testimony came as he confronted Lilienthal in a day marked by bristling exchanges, challenges and rebukes before the Senate-House Atomic Energy committee.

The joint committee is conducting hearings on a demand by Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) that Lilienthal be fired for "incredible mismanagement" of the atomic program during the past two years. Lilienthal has denied the charges and accused Hickenlooper of fostering a "smear" campaign.

Other major developments:

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) sharply reprimanded Lilienthal for saying that an "aura of suspicion" had been raised against Norway in connection with Hickenlooper's testimony that isotopes were sent to the Norwegian [illegible] establishment.

Bill To Wipe Out Rent Controls In Texas Moves To Governor After House Approves Amendments

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, June 9.—A bill wiping out rent controls in Texas headed for the governor's desk today after the House approved Senate amendments.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester now will have a choice of signing the bill, vetoing it, or letting it become law without his signature. He has declined to say which route he will follow.

House agreement to Senate changes was by 86 to 34 vote. This prevents the bill from becoming effective until 90 days after the legislature finally adjourns, 100 House votes being needed to make a law operative immediately.

No Changes Until Fall

Federal housing expediter Tighe Woods must be notified of the state's action, which he will have 15 days to approve after it becomes law.

Thus, it will be late September at the earliest or possibly mid-November at the latest before all rents are decontrolled in Texas — depending on when the session ends.

There were two Senate amendments to the rent decontrol measure. The first authorizes cities to re-establish rent control with the governor's approval if they deem control necessary. There were charges the amendment was unconstitutional. The second change provides that any part of the bill shall be preserved unless specifically invalidated by court action.

Rep. Carlton Moore of Houston, author of the bill, said that the Senate amendment giving cities the right to re-establish rent control did not hurt the bill.

Los Alamos To Become 32nd New Mexico County Today

LOS ALAMOS, N. M., June 9 (INS) — Los Alamos, home of the atomic bomb, becomes New Mexico's 32nd county tomorrow.

Atomic Energy Commission manager Carroll L. Tyler said today the atomic installation was ready for its new role, and he predicted that Los Alamos eventually might become an "open city."

Technical areas are now being moved gradually from the townsite to a nearby mesa.

Previously, Tyler had said that political parties "will quite naturally have a desire to get control of the voting power of Los Alamos."

Utilities and other public facilities will not be operated by county officials, but will stay under direct AEC control and operation, Tyler said.

New Expense On Zone Changes Is Seen

Zoning Proposal Is Given Okay In City

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

ANOTHER example of the costs resulting from the Legislature's increasing intrusion into the affairs of towns and cities of Texas was reflected in an action taken at the semi-monthly meeting of the Lubbock city commission Thursday afternoon.

Of more constructive nature, the commission studied improvements in Lubbock fire protection as recommended by Paul H. Brown, state fire insurance commissioner; directed that a long-discussed ordinance be prepared providing for an alphabetical system of street naming; and assured officials of Texas Technological college that an ample supply of water for the campus is available from the city.

New Expense Seen

The information that the Legislature has saddled another expense upon Lubbock—and all other towns and cities in the State—in a matter of strictly community nature was passed on to the commission during a discussion of several proposed building zone changes, all of which were recommended by the city planning commission.

City Attorney Vaughn Wilson explained that, under a newly enacted law, no building zone in any city can be changed until after every property owner inside and within 200 feet of the affected area has been given personal notice of the proposal.

This is a considerable task, as explained to the commission by R. L. Oldham, director of public works. It will require a search of tax department records to ascertain the names of property owners in and within 200 feet of any area proposed for zoning change. Personal notices then will have to be addressed to each of those persons.

Taking six recommended zoning changes under consideration Thursday as an example, Oldham said they will require notices to 181 individuals—an average of 30 each.

If a change should be proposed for a populous area of considerable extent, thousands of notices

Lubbock M[illegible] Is Fined At Lamesa

Benjamin Clark Dalton, about 53, of Lubbock, was fined a total of $800 and county court costs when he pleaded guilty Thursday before Dawson County Judge R. W. Herndon of charges of drunk driving and illegal possession of liquor.

Dalton was arrested early Wednesday night about 12 miles north of Lamesa by Deputy Sheriff Sam Floyd and Constable Roscoe Moore of Lamesa, who were en route to Lubbock to question a suspect in a Tuesday night burglary in Lamesa.

Liquor Haul Large

A search of Dalton's car revealed 10 cases of beer, 108 four-fifths quarts of whiskey and 12 four-fifths of gin—one of the largest liquor hauls made in Dawson county in recent months, Lamesa authorities said.

Judge Herndon assessed a fine of $750 and costs on the liquor law violation charge, and a fine of $50 and county court costs for drunk driving, he said.

A 106th district grand jury at Lamesa returned three indictments Wednesday, naming two men on armed robbery charges and another on a burglary charge, it was reported.

Plainview Jury Finds Abernathy Man Guilty Of Assault Charge

PLAINVIEW, June 9 (Special)—Leroy Boyd, of Abernathy, charged with rape in Hale county on August 17, 1947, tonight was found guilty by a 65th District court jury and given a five year suspended sentence.

The jury returned its verdict at 9:50 p. m. with a recommendation that the sentence be suspended. Boyd informed the court through his attorney that he would accept sentence and was immediately sentenced by Special Judge Charles Clements, of Plainview, who occupied the bench in place of District Judge C. D. Russell.

Boyd had faced trial last year on the charge but a hung jury resulted and a new trial was ordered. W. A. Jackson, in a companion case, was given a 10 year sentence Dec. 20 here.

[illegible] Injured In Amherst Wreck

AMHERST, June 9. (Special)—Three persons were injured, one possibly seriously, in an automobile collision on the Lubbock-Littlefield highway near here about 10:30 p.m.

Jeff Woodward Burleson, 19, of Snyder, and Mary Frances Chambless, 18, of [illegible] Twenty-fourth, Lubbock, who were riding in a 1949 model automobile were taken to a hospital here and treated for minor injuries. The driver of the other car, James Mitchell Cummings, identified by hospital attendants as a Levelland negro, was also brought to the hospital for medical attention.

Cummings Injuries Numerous

Hospital attendants said Cummings suffered a broken leg and undetermined head injuries, and described his condition as possibly serious.

Miss Chambless was treated for numerous lacerations and bruises about the head and body. Burleson suffered cuts on the head, shoulder and ankle. The hospital said their injuries were not regarded as serious, but that both would be held for observation over night.

Texas Highway patrolmen from Littlefield, who investigated the accident, had not completed a report on the mishap late tonight, and no details of the mishap were immediately available.

New Mexico Base Involved

By LEON SHLOSS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 9—FBI reports read at the Judith Coplon spy trial revealed an informant's charge that a Communist "barber" infiltrated into a job at an American guided missiles base to steal rocket secrets.

The informant reported to the FBI that an El Paso barber, Sam Zuckerman, got barber-agent Eugenio Chavez a job in the post exchange at the White Sands, N. M., missile testing ground, where he was to collect data for transmission to the Russian embassy in Mexico.

Barred From Test Area

The report added that the would-be spy on America's high altitude rocket know-how was found out by White Sands security officers and barred from secret testing areas.

The FBI reports also indicated strongly that U. S. counterspies have information sources in the Russian embassy in Washington.

An FBI informant identified as "T-1—of known reliability" was quoted in the reports as familiar with a number of embassy officials and employes, especially Leona Saron, who helped publish a propaganda magazine.

"T-1's" report to the FBI described in detail Miss Saron's successful effort to get the embassy job, and her "friendliness" with second Secretary Valenin A. Sorokin "who is the subject of a separate espionage investigation."

Reports Read In Court

The reports were among 30 secret documents from which Miss Coplon allegedly lifted excerpts, when she was a Justice department analyst, for transmission to Valentin Gubitchev, Russian attache at the United Nations.

The raven-haired Judith and Gubitchev were arrested in New York City as they attempted a rendezvous. Gubitchev was fired from UN and faces trial, along with Miss Coplon, in New York.

The reports were produced in court under government protest that their disclosure would imperil national security. Federal Judge Albert Reeves ruled their contents vital to the defense and

El Paso Barber Denies Being Spy

EL PASO, June 9. (AP)—A barber who formerly worked at the White Sands proving ground said today he never had been a spy or a Communist.

Eugenio Chavez, the barber, told a reporter this after his name was brought up in the Judith Coplon spy trial in Washington.

"I worked in a barber shop at the White Sands proving ground about two months," Chavez said. "I never spied on anything or tried to be a spy. I think the FBI was suspicious of me for some reason. They asked me what organizations I belonged to."

Named In Report

He was named in a secret FBI report, read at the Coplon trial, as an individual expected to obtain secrets at the rocket testing range for Russia. The White Sands proving ground is a short distance north of El Paso in New Mexico.

The same FBI report said Chavez "had apparently been recruited by Sam Zuckerman," also of El Paso, who manages the barber shop at the proving ground.

Zuckerman told a reporter today he fired Chavez after receiving a report from a government security officer. The nature of the report was not specified.

Six U.S. Soldiers Die Off Jap Coast

TOKYO, June 10 (Friday)—U. S. Army headquarters in Tokyo reported today that six American Air Force men and one Japanese "apparently" died when their sixty-three foot crashboat caught fire six miles off Sendai in northern Japan Thursday afternoon.

The Army announcement said the only known survivor was Cpl. Albert N. Duffield, Jr., of Willow Grove, Pa., who swam ashore. Duffield said fire broke out in the stern of the ship which was enroute to Yokohama and escape was cut off for most of the men aboard.

Four bodies were found on the shore but identification was not immediately made. A Japanese was the pilot of the boat which was attached to third rescue squadron stationed at Yokota.

Ex-Red Says Eisler Withdrawn To Train New Espionage Agents

By FREDERIC TUTTLE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 9—Ex-Communist Editor Louis Budenz told Senate spy probers today that Gerhart Eisler was withdrawn from America by Moscow to train "new espionage agents" for work in the United States.

Budenz, now a Fordham university professor, charged that Eisler's escape abroad the Polish liner Batory was engineered with the "connivance" of Communist-dominated Czechoslovakia and Poland.

The witness told a Senate subcommittee investigating subversive activities among aliens that Eisler "is worth much more" to Russia than the $23,500 bond he forfeited by fleeing. Budenz said:

"... The Kremlin will be glad to see that the bail is paid indirectly."

Across the capitol, a discharged government security officer testified that he tried to leave the U. S. aboard the Batory after talking with Eisler's lawyer.

BULLDOGGING CONTEST HIGHLIGHTS BIG SHOW

Second Performance Of Boys' Club Rodeo Program Draws 8,000 Persons; Rough Events Top Show

HARD riding cowhands and spectacular showmanship were applauded by approximately 8,000 rodeo fans Wednesday night in Jones stadium.

The second performance of the ABC Boys' Club rodeo was wild enough for the most rabid excitement seeker, without causing serious injury to any of the contestants.

Manuel Enos, of Fort Worth, brought the crowd to its feet with a gasp when it appeared he was gored by a steer in the bulldogging contest. Medical aid was rushed into the arena. However, Enos was not seriously injured.

He left the arena on his feet and subsequently rode in the bull riding contest. The steer had given him what amounted to a "solar plexus" punch with its horn.

Exhibition riding was greatly applauded, and all the rodeo acts given between contests were well received.

The program continues tonight with the third program starting at 8 p.m.

Rodeo officials Thursday said that if the threat of rain prevents attendance by holders of reserved seats on any given night, their tickets will be accepted for subsequent performances as general admission tickets. Every effort will be made by the ushers to secure as good seats for them in the reserved seat sections.

"Those dancing horses have more rhythm than many people I know," remarked bandmaster Paul Lovett.

Saddle bronc riding was won by Larry Finley, of Phoenix, followed by Manuel Enos, of Fort Worth. Tex Lewis, of Fort Worth,

FEDERAL WITNESS ENDS SEVEN DAYS ON STAND

Chambers Names Five Men As 'Sources' Who Gave Him U.S. Secrets To Transmit To Red Spy Ring

NEW YORK, June 9. (AP)—Whittaker Chambers ended seven days as a star government witness today by naming five men whom he said gave United States secrets to a prewar Russian spy ring.

"The five sources were Julian Wadleigh, Ward Pigman, Harry Dexter White, Alger Hiss and Vincent Reno," Chambers said slowly in reply to a government question.

A few minutes later, he stepped down from the witness stand at the federal perjury trial of Alger Hiss, former State department official.

Other Witnesses Called

Chambers said yesterday that he had five "sources" before the war who gave him secrets to relay to the spy ring. But he named only Hiss and Wadleigh at the time.

A pudgy former senior editor of Time Magazine, Chambers said he was a spy ring courier until he broke with the Communist party in 1938.

The government began calling new witnesses to the stand shortly after Chambers was excused. They testified about Hiss' financial affairs and typewritten notes and letters by Mrs. Priscolla Hiss, wife of the defendant.

Hiss has denied he ever gave Chambers secrets or even saw him after Jan. 1, 1937. The New York grand jury, to whom he made these twin denials last December, indicted him on two counts of perjury.

Wadleigh Refuses Comment

Wadleigh has refused comment on similar statements by Chambers that he fed government documents to the spy ring. He formerly was with the State department.

White, former assistant secretary of the treasury, died last Aug. 17 of a heart attack after denying to the House un-American Activities committee that he was a member of a Communist ring.

Franklin Victor Reno, to whom Chambers referred as "Vincent Reno," was identified by two grand jury witnesses as a mathematics expert at the Aberdeen, Md., proving ground in 1942. The two said the grand jury inquired about Reno's "character and what we knew about him."

Chemist Denied Charges

Pigman, of Appleton, Wis., one-time chemist in the U. S. Bureau of Standards, said after testifying before the grand jury last December:

"I categorically deny that I ever had any dealings with Whittaker Chambers or that I ever knew of the man. I further unqualifiedly deny that I have ever given to Chambers or to any other persons any unauthorized governmental information."

Chambers took the witness stand a week ago. He testified that he met Hiss in the mid-thirties when the defendant was with the Department of Agriculture.

Later, in 1937, Hiss was said by Chambers to have promised to supply a Russian agent, Col. Boris Bykov, with State department data.

After this, Chambers said Hiss gave him typewritten or hand written copies of State department documents every few days. Chambers said he or his aides photographed them and gave them back to Chambers. The pictures went to the spy ring, the witness said.

Britain Informs Poland Arrest Of Eisler Aboard Ship Legal

LONDON, June 9 (AP)—Britain told Poland yesterday that the arrest of Gerhart Eisler aboard a Polish ship was legal while the ship was in British waters.

At the same time Britain protested to Poland against refusal of Polish authorities aboard the ship, the Batory, to surrender Eisler voluntarily.

The British note was in answer to a Polish protest claiming Eisler's arrest violated international law.

Eisler who stowed away on the Batory at New York while free on bail, was enroute to Russian-occupied Germany when arrested at Southampton, Eng., at the request of the United States.

A British court later refused a U. S. request to extradite the Communist leader on the grounds that his offense, making false statements on a passport application, was not extraditable.

Eisler now is reported in the Soviet sector of Berlin.

Mexican Governor To Block 'Bracero' Movement To U. S.

CIUDAD VICTORIA, Mex., June 9 (U.P.)—Governor Raul Garate, of the border state of Tamaulipas, today said that he "will take prompt action to prevent Mexican laborers from crossing the Rio Grande at free will."

The governor's statement came on the heels of a request by Matamoros Mayor Ernesto Elizondo, who told the governor yesterday that "great amounts" of Mexicans are crossing the border daily, and "we need these men here ourselves."

The mayor, in a telegram to the governor, said that "American border authorities are permitting the braceros to slip through because they need the workers in the United States."

However, Elizondo said, "we have an acute labor shortage in the Matamoros cotton region," and he added that "we can not afford to have these workers go to Texas."

The governor said that he would take the matter up with federal authorities and act upon it "as soon as possible."

Educator Named To Tech Staff

The appointment of Thomas B. Livingston of Waxahachie to the position of assistant professor of education at Texas Technological college to take effect in the fall has been announced by the president's office at the college.

Livingston's appointment was termed as "a step in expanding the elementary teacher training in the department of education at Texas Tech," by Dr. E. N. Jones, vice president at the college.

Livingston is a graduate of Waxahachie High school. He received a bachelor of science degree in education from North Texas State college in 1939 and a master of science in education from the same school in 1941. He has also attended the George Peabody college in Nashville, Tenn.

Served As Principal

From 1939 to 1941 he was principal of the elementary schools at Denison. In 1941, Livingston became principal of the Wooldridge elementary school in Austin and in 1944 he moved to Seminole as principal of the elementary schools. While he was in Austin, Livingston also worked in the state comptroller's office.

In 1948 he went to Stanford university to work on his doctor's degree. He was acting director of student elementary teaching there and will come to Tech from Stanford. Livingston has notified officials at Tech he will continue to work on his doctor's degree in addition to his duties here. He says he hopes to have all that work finished by the summer of 1950.

Livingston is a member of the Association of Supervision and Curriculum Development; the Texas chapter of the National Education association and the Texas State Teachers association. He has been active with the Boy Scouts of America and is a member of the Rotary club. He is married.

Singing "There'll Always Be an England," 1,500 people in Rockhampton, Australia, recently broke through a police cordon and attacked Communists who were holding a meeting, showering them with stink bombs, bad tomatoes and bags of flour, and chasing the Reds into a store where they barricaded themselves.

U. S. Does Turnabout, Sells Clocks To Swiss Watchmakers

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., June 9. (U.P.)—A clock which awakens a Swiss watchmaker to work may possibly bear a "Made in U.S.A." label, according to International General Electric company officials.

They reported that sales to Switzerland of electric clock timers—the kind that wake you up in the morning by turning on your radio automatically—amounted to some thousand units last year.

The implications are a little dizzying, what with Swiss watchmakers being awakened by American-made clocks, to get an early start making Swiss watches, which when finished they may sell to Americans, in order to earn money to buy American-made clocks, to give to their Swiss watchmaker friends, who could then start the whole cycle going again.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly blood disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

10 pounds lost in 10 days

Mrs. M. C. Britton, 906 W. Wildwood, San Antonio, Texas, writes us as follows: "I am a faithful user of Barcentrate. I had dieted for weeks without your product and needed so badly to lose 10 pounds, so I started using Barcentrate and my worry was over for I lost the 10 pounds in 10 days. I now weigh 128 pounds.

"I eat most anything I want and hold my same weight."

BLOODY BEACHHEAD CONSECRATED

Italians Pay Tribute To Dead Of Anzio Battle 'Five Years After'

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

ANZIO, June 9.—There are no poppies on Anzio's fields but the white crosses march in sombre cadence as far as the eye can see. Here, the flowers lie beneath the ground.

There was movement among the endless white sticks this day. A small American flag had been stuck in the hard turf in front of each cross. The closely grouped flags, thousands upon thousands, fluttered vigorously in the hot gusts of wind that swept over the place as the officials spoke from their decorated little stand.

The calendar said it was five years since the official end of this costly campaign. Much had happened, except for the dead.

Scene Is Changed

Over the once prostrate and belligerent land of Italy there had come a notable change. It had come back as a partner of the West. Its people were at work and a great percentage of them had enough to eat. It had regained its self-respect and a lot of its confidence. In fact, this day was a milestone of sorts. The Italian government had invited the American officers and diplomats and civilians to fly to Anzio or motor here, at the expense of the Italians not the Americans.

But, for the dead, the sharper changes were in the immediate fields. The terrible, head-cracking, relentless German 88's were still forever. At least that's what everybody said. The grass and the weed had grown over the scars of the tight little beachhead. It was hard to find even one of the countless foxholes.

Officials Speak

"That's the trouble with war," said Mike Chinigo, who was there when it was a wing of hell, and lived. "The grass conceals it after a time. . . and the orators spread an additional layer over it."

The man at the microphone, struggling to keep his notes from blowing away, raised his arm and said, ". . . and so, in the immortal words of Abraham Lincoln, our martyred president, 'we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate . . .'"

There was this difference now, too. There were ladies in the stands to the left of the speaker's platform, pretty ladies dressed for the occasion in their summer frocks and picture hats and furs. The dead must have compared them with the starvlings who stayed in the area, five years ago, to live off the men who crouched in the holes and the ruined buildings.

Band 'Replaces' Guns

And music, where the only music of half a decade ago was the silence between shells. Now it was an Italian military band, dressed in their light opera uniforms and blowing The Star Spangled Banner and the Italian anthem with a great, red bulging of their cheeks. The little leader moved his arm up and down like a comical robot and kept the time by saorting "ump-ah, ump-ah, ump-ah."

The general who had to take a kind of rap for the whole show, which was not of his making, Mark Clark, spoke now. He was grayer than the dead remembered him, and cleaner. The sun illuminated his nine rows of ribbons and the vagrant wind carried his voice over the crosses. An interpreter picked him up at the end of each sober sentence and shouted his words emotionally, in Italian.

U.S. General Speaks

The general said that these were good men who had died bravely and whose death had made possible the defeat of Hitler in this land. . . had helped to claw the Nazi monster off the back of Europe. Now, he said, they—who wanted nothing of Italy—would always remain in Italy's heart, just as this bit of bloody land would always be a part of America.

He said that new forces of tyranny were loose in the world—forces the dead perhaps could not comprehend—but that if the peoples faced these new terrors as courageously as these men had faced the terrors of their day, there would be no danger.

But something familiar and perhaps even smile-provoking happened right after that. A platoon of Italian troops marched out a few steps from their company and fired a commemorative volley. They fired irregularly, and two of them, losing the count, almost fired a fourth shot.

Costly 'Breaks' Recalled

Anzio was something like that. A lot of things had gone wrong. We landed men instead of armor; the British were late coming in; a German armored division just happened to be passing in the vicinity and sprang against us. . . if we had had just a little more we could have gone through to Rome right away, instead of living like trapped moles and dying.

A short, fat Italian trumpeter stepped out of the band and blew the wavering taps, and two big jawboned American sergeants ran the main flag up to the top of the pole from where it had snapped at half mast. It spread its wing like an eagle. A variety of Italian troops and seamen carried in an assortment of wreaths to lean against the fence. Ambassador Dunn doffed his top hat.

The big Italian cars purred up to the rear of the stand, while the crowds pressed around for a look at the dignitaries. A few applauded as the cars swept off, kicking up a cloud of golden dust. And after a little while the men were again alone, the wind dropped, and the little flags drooped in the silent white field.

Ex-Harris County Judge Fined In Negligent Homicide Case

ALICE, June 9. (AP)—A former Harris county judge at law, Allie Peyton, today was fined $100 and costs after pleading guilty to a charge of first degree negligent homicide.

The charge, resulting from a September 1947 traffic death in Houston, had been reduced from murder by automobile on recommendation of District Attorney Sam Reams, Alice.

A Harris county jury failed to reach a verdict following Peyton's trials on the latter charge in November 1947. The case then was transferred here on a change of venue.

George McFarlin, 55-year-old Houston butler, was the traffic victim.

The state sought to prove that Peyton was intoxicated at the time his automoblie struck McFarlin. The 10-day trial was one of the most sensational Houston court cases in recent history.

Former Governor James V. Allred headed Peyton's defense.

Medical Group Seeks Public Suggestions On Health Problems

ATLANTIC CITY, June 9 (AP)—The American Medical association is open to suggestions for elaboration of its own program to meet the nation's health problems—but will not compromise on its stand against compulsory health insurance.

This was made clear today in a statement by the AMA's board of trustees and a subsequent interview with the organization's president, Dr. Ernest Irons of Chicago.

Conference Planned

The board announced its intention to call a conference of "interested groups"—such as labor and farm organizations—to consider the AMA's official stand on the "advance of medicine and public health."

Dr. Irons said:

"No matter what develops at the projected conference, the AMA will steadfastly hold out against any yielding on the real hot-potato issue of the national health subject—compulsory sickness insurance.

"There will be no compromise," said Irons, "on the general principle of our opposition to compulsory insurance which involves freedom of medicine and also freedom of American people."

The AMA's previously announced 12-point plan for the advancement of medicine and public health calls for "rapid extension of voluntary hospital and medical care insurance" as opposed to President Truman's proposal for pay-roll deductions to meet compulsory insurance costs.

American shipbuilding has increased more than 300 per cent during 1948, most of it backed by private capital.

Hospital Attendant Held In Beating Of San Antonio Patient

SAN ANTONIO, June 9. (U.P.)—A 43-year-old hospital night watchman was jailed today for allegedly striking and kicking a patient who recently had undergone surgery.

The patient, John R. Wood, told police the watchman stopped him in a hall at Robert B. Green hospital last night and demanded a visitor's pass. Wood said he explained that he was a patient, returning to his ward after making a telephone call.

An ensuing argument, according to the patient, ended when the watchman knocked him down and kicked him in the stomach several times.

San Antonio Woman Dies Of Injuries Suffered In Car Crash

SAN ANTONIO, June 9 (U.P.)—Mrs. Max Rosenman, 62, who was injured in a car-truck collision at an underpass on highway 181 nine miles south of here yesterday, died early today in a San Antonio hospital.

In serious condition at the hospital was her husband, Max Rosenman, prominent San Antonio business man.

The driver of the truck with which the Rosenman car collided was injured slightly. However, the driver of a second truck, who overturned his vehicle in an effort to avoid the collision, was not hurt.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

THERE is a new table out that reveals your personality traits by the flowers you like. Want a look?

If you like dahlias you are very sure of yourself and you have a domineering personality. Chrysanthemums addicts are worldly sociable extroverts.

Pansy lovers are thoughtful and considerate at all times. If you go for carnations, you are aggressive and a go-getter.

The poet who asked, "What is so rare as a day in June?" must not have had in mind the combination of nature's wares that has been coming our way recently.

POSES SCHEME

WE heard of a father of a June bride-to-be who is working on a scheme whereby the feverish hours spent preparing wedding guest lists would be quietly devoted to schooling the betrothed young women in the culinary arts.

It is his idea that the guest lists could be drawn out of a goldfish bowl, the way they used to draw selective service numbers, and that the time saved for cooking lessons would prove a boon to the world, improving the digestion of young husbands generally. It also would minimize the hazards involved for guests in the bride's first baking powder biscuits.

MRS. ROOSEVELT

OF great interest and importance to American women is the publication of an autobiography that began in the June issue of McCall's magazine. We refer to the story of the adult life of Eleanor Roosevelt, written by herself, with unselfconscious frankness and discernment.

Whether or not you like or agree with Mrs. Roosevelt, the fact remains that she is the most important woman in the English speaking world at present, and this story shows how a career could develop under modern conditions. In includes "past valuable experiences in the League of Women Voters," amateur money raising for various causes, professional lecturing and standing up for members of her own sex.

"I might go to my husband," she writes, "and say that I was very, very weary of reminding him to remind the members of his cabinet that women were in existence, that they were a factor in the life of the nation and increasingly important politically." She does not claim that she always got results.

Mrs. Roosevelt has broken more precedents, destroyed more taboos and sat in higher places than any other contemporary woman. Yet her story is not remote from the ordinary experience of any intelligent and conscientious American woman. It is the story of the home and the job, the long, difficult, but never abandoned attempt to bring the impersonal and personal duties of life into proper adjustment.

"Most of these wrecks could have been avoided if drivers had observed all rules of safe driving," he said.

'LIVE, LET LIVE' POLICY URGED

Bevin Plea For Peace Points Up Historic Warfare Of Dictators

By CHARLES A. SMITH
INS Staff Correspondent

BLACKPOOL, England, June 9. —British Foreign Secretary Bevin emphasized today that Russia has the largest army in the world and warned "there has never been a dictator who has not talked peace when preparing for war."

Bevin defended the Atlantic pact as a guarantee against aggression and urged East and West to live together in peace even "if we can not agree how we shall live."

The secretary, who left the Big Four conference in Paris for a day, told the British Labor party conference:

"There has never been a dictator in the world who has not talked peace when preparing for war.

Red Power Stressed

"Don't be misled. It is the largest army, the greatest power in the world that is mobilized today.

"I want to see that brought to an end, not by war but by example and by remaining firm ourselves."

He backed this up by referring to the Atlantic pact and said:

"If Russia is not going to attack anybody then it is not directed against her . . . There is going to be no aggression by us."

Bevin Returns To Paris

Bevin, who returned to Paris by plane late today, referred to Russian insistence on retaining the veto power in a revived Four-Power rule of Germany and Berlin and said:

"We have this vexing problem with Russia. So, below the dictatorship thing, this veto business is an awful difficulty that seems insurmountable.

"We cannot sacrifice Democracy. They apparently feel they cannot sacrifice unanimity—and what is worse than unanimity—the individual right of objection. That individual right stands notwithstanding the opinion of the rest.

"It is very difficult in a Democratic country to enter into a system like that . . .

"I am forced to the conclusion that the only thing we can really do if we cannot agree how we shall live is that at least we should agree to live together."

Bevin added, however, "You never know what will happen before we break up . . . something may emerge yet."

Bevin delivered a veiled warning to the Chinese Communists and also to Russia, saying:

"It would be unwise for whoever gains supremacy to ostracize their friends throughout the world, and thus injure themselves. It would be a mistake . . . to use civil wars as an instrument of your foreign policy."

IN HUBBY CHASE

Auto Salesman In Lead With Cupid

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., June 9 (INS)—Automobile salesman Sandy Crews, 24, of St. Catherine, Ontario, held a wide lead over the rest of the Junior Chamber of Commerce field today, for the hand and heart of "Luscious Lucille."

The lady is Lucille Archibeque, 23, of Los Angeles, who came to the National Jaycee convention at Colorado Springs on a husband hunt.

With a far-away look in her big, brown eyes, Lucille said: "Oh, Sandy's wonderful and we've had a marvelous time."

The automobile salesman said his only worry is that the competition may become too tough from the thousands attending the convention.

The brunette, tagged "Luscious Lucille" as soon as she arrived in Colorado Springs, was sent by Art Linkletter of the "People Are Funny" radio show.

Washington Negro Sentenced To Death For Fourth Time

TACOMA, Wash., June 9 (INS)—A death sentence was imposed for the fourth time today on Jake Bird, 47-year-old ax slayer who has eluded the hangman's noose for a year and a half.

The newest sentence was meted out by Judge Hugh J. Rosellini in superior court in Tacoma. He ordered that the negro killer be hanged July 15. The exact hour will be set by Warden Tom Smith of the Washington State penitentiary.

Bird first was sentenced to die Jan. 16, 1948. The execution was postponed to Jan. 14, 1949, and then until May 27 as Bird used one legal maneuver and then another in his desperate battle for life.

The condemned man was taken to Tacoma from Walla Walla today to hear the death sentence pronounced anew. He was in a belligerent mood and squabbled with newsmen and photographers in the court room.

EDEN SOUNDS WARNING

Britain's Anthony Eden said in New Zealand that that Dominion should be cautious in making a peace treaty with Japan, as the Japs are like the Germans and "it is wise to take precautions against a resurgence of militarism."

Texas House Defers Action On 'Mistake'

AUSTIN, June 9 (AP) — The outcome of a $5 million mistake made by the Senate in amending an appropriation bill for soil conservation work will not be known until the House convenes Monday.

The Senate amended the House-passed soil conservation bill, hiking the appropriation from $5 million to $10 million — but the amendment was House bill 99 instead of H. B. 97.

Today Rep. Lamar Zively of Temple tried to get the House to approve three other minor Senate amendments to the bill and just leave the amendment to H.B. 99 hanging.

Several House members protested. They said the House would not be voting on all amendments that the Senate, in good faith, intended to attach to the bill.

Speaker Durwood Manford was asked to referee the controversy. After conferring with the House parliamentarian, Manford said he would take the point of order under advisement and give a ruling later

Zively interpreted Manford's statement to mean that his motion to vote on only three of the amendments would not be acted upon until the House meets again Monday.

Bridges Arraigned On Perjury Charge

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9 (INS) —Harry Bridges was arraigned in federal district court in San Francisco today on charges he lied when he testified at his 1945 citizenship hearing he was never a Communist.

Date for the West Coast longshore chief's plea to the charges was continued until next Thursday.

At that time Henry Schmidt, one of two union co-defendants, is to be arraigned on similar charges of perjury and conspiracy stemming from his corroboration of Bridges' testimony at the hearing.

The forthcoming trial will subject Bridges to possible loss of his citizenship, deportation to his native Australia, and a seven years' jail sentence.

Farmers In County Await Official Word On U. S. Wheat Loans

Considerable interest in the government's program to help farmers find grain storage space has been shown by Lubbock county farmers, Walter Y. Wells, secretary of the county Agricultural Conservation association, said Thursday, but farmers will have to wait a while longer for details.

Washington has not officially announced plans on loans for building new permanent storage facilities, he said. AAA offices will handle the loans.

D. W. Sherrill, Lubbock county agent, expressed belief that farmers will be ahead if they provide their own storage.

"They can be more independent in length of time they hold to secure the best price," he said.

More interest has been shown in Lubbock county than the relatively small wheat acreage in the county might appear to warrant.

"More grain sorghums and less cotton may be planted if the cotton control program goes into effect and farmers would have increased need for storage facilities," said Sherrill.

Conservatively estimating, Lubbock county this year has approximately 425,000 acres or about 85 per cent of its acreage in cotton. About 10,000 acres is in wheat, which should average about 20 bushels to the acre, said Sherrill.

LIQUOR DODGE PENALIZED

A German inkeeper at Schoeningstadt was prosecuted for serving brandy and beer in soup plates to dodge the liquor license.

Around Slide, the wheat crop is lighter than in other county areas.

Alabama Firm Enters Low Bid On Texarkana Dam Construction

NEW ORLEANS, June 9 (AP)—A $2,346,376.50 offer by Moss Thorton Co. of Leeds, Ala., was the apparent low bid today for a contract to build the Texarkana dam on the Sulphur river.

The site is nine miles southwest of Texarkana. Clearing of the site north of the river has been completed under contract to Nelson Tie company.

Rising 100 feet above the bed of the river, the dam is to be an 18,500-foot long rolled earth fill type.

Moss Thorton was one of 12 firms competing. The dam is part of a $29,500,000 project designed to protect the Red River valley from floods. It is to provide a flood control pool with an area of 119,000 acres and flood control storage of 2,509,000 acre feet.

Later an outlet structure—a chute type spillway 40 feet wide—is to be built in the valley, with a dike about one and a half miles south of the spillway.

The Sulphur river basin above the dam site has an area of 3,400 square miles of moderately flat to hilly land. It has an annual rainfall of 43 inches—enough to affect the Mississippi river when other rivers are in flood.

Texas Railroad Commission Official Dies At San Angelo

SAN ANGELO, June 9 (AP)—Edward Bierschwale, 64, deputy supervisor of the oil and gas division of the Texas Railroad commission, died of a heart ailment in a local hospital today.

Bierschwale had been sheriff of Kendall county for 20 years before receiving his appointment to the commission.

Funeral services were scheduled for 11 a. m. Friday at the Emanuel Episcopal church here and for Saturday morning in Comfort.

Three Firemen Killed In Minnesota Blaze

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 9 (AP)—A collapsing wall today killed St. Paul's fire chief, an assistant chief, and a division chief during a fire in a paper company warehouse.

Another fireman was injured by flying bricks when the heavy masonry firewall buckled at the huge Waldorf Paper company storage building.

Fire Chief Ed Novak, 53, and his assistant, Frank McMahon, 52, died instantly as the falling wall buried them under a shower of bricks and then released thousands of tons of water-logged paper down upon them.

District Chief Killed

District Chief Harold Barck, 55, was caught in the falling debris also but was alive when a crew of 18 firemen freed him. He died on the way to Midway hospital.

The fire broke out about a half hour before midnight in the Waldorf company's main warehouse.

The building, a block long and 75 feet high, contained thousands of bales of refuse paper in firewalled compartments that divided the building into 30-foot sections.

Three engine companies, commanded by Barck, answered the first alarm. One minute later, a special alarm was sounded that brought five more engine companies, an emergency squad, and the city's top fire department officials.

The flames were smouldering through the paper bales in the second compartment from the east end of the building. Towering billows of smoke rolled over the neighborhood as streams of water shot through the windows.

Hubbers Wallop Lamesa, 11-2, 8-4

Myers, Haskins Win With Hitting

LAMESA, June 9 (Special) — The Lubbock Hubbers took both ends of a makeup doubleheader from the Lamesa Loboes here tonight before a record of 1,951 persons, winning the games 11-2 and 8-4.

Righthander John Meyers let the Loboes down with four hits in the opener while his mates blasted the offerings of Eulis Rosson for 13 safeties, including home runs by Nelson Davis, Jim Prince and Mike Dooley.

Prince, Davis Homer

The Hubbers grabbed a three-run lead in the first frame on Manager Jackie Sullivan's single, Davis's double, and Prince's towering homer to center. Lubbock added two runs in the second, one in the sixth on Dooley's round-tripper, and chased five more markers across in the seventh on six hits including a circuit smash by Davis with two aboard.

The Loboes scored both their runs off Meyers in the fourth on free tickets to Dan Pinto and Jay Haney and Frank Calo's two-bagger.

The Hubbers broke up a 4-4 ball game in the nightcap by exploding four runs across the plate after two were out in the seventh and final frame. Chris Haskins, who relieved Ray Reichelt in the sixth received credit for the win. Stanley Grzywacz was charged with the loss after replacing starter Leon Hayes in the third.

Haskins Halts Loboes

Lubbock counted a brace of runs in the fourth and fifth, but Lamesa tied the score at 4-4, after leading at one point in the game, scoring two runs in the sixth on a walk and doubles by D. C. Miller and Dan Pinto.

Haskins came on at this point to hold Lamesa hitless the rest of the way while his mates tallied four time in the seventh on doubles by Davis, Bo Dempsey, and Charlie Willis, the latter's blow coming with the bases loaded.

Lobo strategy in this frame was nullified as Dempsey and Willis came through in the clutch after Prince and Dooley had drawn intentional passes ahead of them.

Davis Leads Hubbers

The Hubbers collected twelve hits in the second game, half of them doubles. Manager Jay Haney hit his second homer of the season for Lamesa to open the scoring in the second inning and give the Loboes a short-lived lead. Reichelt and Haskins held the Loboes to eight hits.

Shortstop Nelson Davis was the Hubbers most potent hitter, getting six hits, including four for four in the second game, and driving in seven runs. He hit three doubles, a homer, and two singles.

Tomorrow night at 8:15 Chris Haskins will oppose Jack Guiterrez in the final game of the series.

Sox Trim Dukes For Sixth Loss

AMARILLO, June 9. (AP)—The Amarillo Gold Sox handed the Albuquerque Dukes their sixth straight defeat here tonight by a score of 10-5 to drop the league-leaders into a virtual first-place tie with Abilene.

Luke Hamilton went the route in chalking up his sixth win of the season and managed to scatter the Dukes' 13 safeties fairly well.

Home runs with bases vacant in the third inning by starting pitcher Don Ferrarese, Len Attyd and Manager Hershel Martin provided the visitors with a three-run lead. The Sox got two of them back in their half on a walk, Paul Halter's double and Dick Gentzkow's single.

They knotted the count the next inning without a hit. Three free tickets, a hit batter and a sacrifice manufactured the marker. Amarillo went ahead in the fifth on singles by Gentzkow, Crawford Howard and Morris Cowser, followed by Hamilton's two-bagger, which combined for three tallies. Joe Behl relieved Ferrarese to quell this rally.

Four successive singles to open the sixth marked Behl's exit and the appearance of Righthander Bob Kouns on the mound for the Dukes. After a sacrifice and a walk had brought the score to 9-3, Kouns retired the side. Four more bases on balls and a wild pitch added the Sockers final counter in the seventh.

Borger Gassers Take Two From Clovis

BORGER, June 9 (AP) — The Borger Gassers advanced up the WT-NM ladder tonight, taking both games of a hard fought doubleheader from the cellar dwelling Clovis Pioneers. Paul Dean's charges were always in the game, but couldn't get the winning runs across the golden plate.

Clayton Fries went the distance in the extra inning first game, and Gasser newcomer Eldon Davis lasted until the seventh inning of the second game when he had to be relieved by Vallie Eaves.

The Pioneers tied things up in the seventh inning of the first game, and Wee Willie Wynns singled in Jimmy Littlejohn for the winning run of the 8-7 contest.

A homer by Jess Jacinto with Coats and Pinch-hitter Moniz aboard in the seventh fell short of the tying run in the second game, as the Gassers came out on top by a 6-5 count.

Moniz, playing left field in the first contest homered in the first inning with two aboard to start Clovis off with an early lead, but Borger tied it up in the fourth, and then took the lead in the sixth. The score was knotted again in the seventh for extra innings.

Sparkling fielding plays were enacted by fielders on both nines. Sensational catches were made in the outfield, and beautiful plays made in the infield, in the closely fought contests.

Clyde Bell and Jimmy Littlejohn got the only circuit blows for the Gassers. Bell's came in the fifth inning of the second game, and Littlejohn's in the second of the first game—both with no one aboard.

Detroit Licks Yankees Again To Sweep Series, Cut Lead Sharply

Athletics, Browns Beat Hose Teams

DETROIT, June 9 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, paced by the hitting of Hoot Evers, poured five runs across the plate in a wild seventh inning today to beat the Yankees for the third straight time 9-5.

The win gave the second place Tigers a sweep of the series and left them just three and a half games behind the American league leading Yankees.

Evers was practically a one man ball team as he got a triple, a double and three singles, scored three runs and drove in two more.

George Kell opened that big Tiger inning with a triple off Yankee Relief Hurler Joe Page.

Evers singled sharply to center scoring Kell and sending Wertz, on base from an error, to third. Johnny Groth then drilled a hot grounder at Third Baseman Bill Johnson, who booted the ball, Wertz scoring on the play and Evers moving to second.

Evers scored on Johnny Lipon's single, with Groth moving to second. Art Houtteman grounded out with Groth scoring.

Oilers Lose 7-1 To Abilene Sox

ABILENE, June 9 (AP) — Two putouts short of a shutout, Abilene's pitcher Bernis Coapland took Homer Matney's hard, low grounder against his ankle for a base hit and a possible fracture. The Pampa Oilers got two more hits off the relief pitcher and scored a run to make it 7-1 for the Blue Sox in the second game of the series here.

Coapland had given up eight hits, but kept them well scattered and was accorded errorless support, which included three double plays.

The Blue Sox scored in each of the first four innings, twice in the third, and added two more in the seventh against Pampa's third pitcher.

Howard Bass started for the Oilers, gave way to Charles Bodine after the fourth, and Richard Lockwood pitched the last two innings. Bass was the loser.

Joe Wessing, Blue Sox second sacker, poled a homer in the third with none on. Tooter Harper, with three singles, led the attack for Pampa, bagging his third bingle against relief pitcher Rene Vega to drive in Matney with Pampa's lone tally.

The teams conclude the three-game series Friday night.

AAU Track Meet To Attract Stellar Field

SAN ANTONIO, June 9 (AP)—More than 100 of the state's finest college, high school, and service athletes will compete in the Fifth Annual South Texas A.A.U. track and field meet here Friday night with at least seven records due to fall as the cinder aces strive to win themselves a trip to the national championships in Fresno, Calif., June 24-25.

Texas Aggies Favored

Texas A&M's powerful 16-man squad, despite the absence of injured weight star George Kadera, is heavily favored to capture the team title and account for four new marks. Ray Holbrook in the 400-meter dash, Bob Hall in the 200-meter low hurdles, J. D. Hampton in the 1,500-meter run, and the Aggies' great 1,600-meter mile relay quartet should chalk up new standards.

Other records expected to topple are the 800-meter run in which Mike Mercado of East Texas State and Howard Johnson of Trinity university each have reeled off 1:55 times; the 110-meter high hurdles in which August Erfurth of Rice and John Rowland of S.M.U. have both been clocked in 14.1; and the hop, step and jump in which Jimmy Gerhardt of Rice is one of the nation's top performers.

With the Texas Longhorns' three speed merchants—Charley Parker, Perry Samuels and John Robertson—all sidelined by injuries, sprint favorites are Stoney Cotton of Baylor and James Mullins of Texas Tech, a pair of 9.8 dashmen.

Hooper Is Standout

Intense competition is expected in the field events with youthful Darrow Hooper of North Side (Fort Worth) a slight favorite in the shotput and discus, despite the fact that he has just graduated from high school and is unfamiliar with the heavier weights.

Hooper's main competition is due to come from Southwest Conference shotput champion George Petrovich of Texas, former National AAU discus champion John Donaldson of Houston, and Reed Quinn and Bill Milburn of the Texas university freshmen.

Other Favorites Named

Other favorites are S. B. Escoto of Alice in the 5,000-meter run, Paul Faulkner of North Texas State in the pole vault, Luther Fambro of East Texas State in the broad jump, Ray Marek of Texas in the javelin, and Merwin Carter of San Antonio Junior college in the 400-meter hurdles.

Preliminaries in the sprints and hurdles will begin at 8 p. m. and the 18-event program is scheduled to last until almost midnight.

Fort Worth Man Is WT Medalist

BROWNWOOD, June 9 (AP)—T. A. Avarello, Fort Worth, captured medalist honors with a 67, five under par, in the West Texas Golf tournament today.

Only three other players were able to crack the 72 regulation score for the Brownwood Country club course.

Plainview Golfer Third

Ernie Vossler, Fort Worth, shot a 68 for second place. Jack Williams, Plainview, scored a 69, and Bob Watson, Wichita Falls a 70.

Defending Champion Billy Maxwell of Odessa is not required to qualify.

Don Cherry Qualifies

Don Cherry, also of Odessa, came in with a 74, and was still considered one of the top contenders. He is passing up the National Open for the West Texas event.

Match play for the 150 contenders in eight flights gets under way tomorrow.

Avarello will face Carl Boyce, 75, Brownwood. Vossler plays Bob Malone, 75, of TCU, Fort Worth.

Cloverlake To Play Clovis

The Cloverlake Dairy softball team of Lubbock will play host to the Clovis, N. M., VFW aggregation at 8:30 p. m. Saturday in a doubleheader at Jumbo Webster field.

From reports received from Clovis, it seems that the Cloverlake team managed by Ralph Garrett will be in for a rough time this weekend. Clovis has an impressive record this season, losing only two of 19 outings, and boasts one of the strongest teams in Eastern New Mexico.

Much of their success can be found in their pitching staff, with Big Bill Flippin and Joe Robertson doing all of their twirling chores. Flippin is one of the best in the entire Sunshine state, and Robertson is almost as good.

Smoky Hale To Start

Starting against Flippin will probably be Cecil "Smoky" Hale, and Fred Schultz will hurl against Joe Robertson. The Cloverlake team is currently in second place in the City league in Lubbock, having lost only to the Bluebonnet-Sunbeamers, leaders in the Texas Softball league.

Probable starting lineup for Cloverlake includes Chubby Cobb, catcher; D. Hamilton, first base; Gene Collier, second base; Ira Laymon, third base; A. J. Collier, shortstop; Larry Wortes, leftfield; T. Greathouse, centerfield; and Charlie Morris, rightfield.

Cloverlake will return the games with Clovis, playing the VFW team on their home field Saturday night, June 18.

Dade county, Fla., leads the entire state in the production of tomatoes and ranks second in growing of white potatoes.

Cards Smash Giants Again, 4-1 To Win 15th Came In Last 17

Brooklyn, Boston Keep Race Alive

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP)—The rampaging St. Louis Cardinals scored their sixth straight victory today. Lefty Howie Pollet turned back the slumping New York Giants, 4-1, on a neat six hitter.

Pollet, who now has won five consecutive games, was in front all the way.

The Cards rapped losing pitcher Clint Hartung of Hondo, Tex., for three runs in the fifth to sew up the game.

Marty Marion singled to start the rallly. After Musial walked, Enos Slaughter singled to plate Marion and then Third Sacker Sid Gordon allowed Leftfielder Whitey Lockman's relay to escape, Musial also scored and Slaughter raced to third. Northey flied out and Slaughter came in after the catch.

Hartung bowed out for a pinch hitter in the fifth and Kirby Higbe, recently obtained from Pittsburgh, and Hank Behrman held the Cardinals hitless the rest of the way.

The Cards now have won 15 out of their last 17 starts.

Players Wanted On Legion Clubs

There's still time for boys ages 12-13 to get in on the American Legion baseball program currently being held at Jumbo Webster field, but it would be a good idea for all interested youngsters in the north section of town to start practicing right away to stay up with those who have been out for more than a week.

Only Gloves Needed

All that is necessary is to show up every afternoon at 4 p. m. with a glove. All other equipment is furnished. But if you are a catcher you don't need a glove. All the catchers equipment is furnished by the American Legion.

At present approximately 30 boys have been attending regularly, but the program is set up to take care of that many more. Competent instructors are on hand every day to supervise the training and games, and each youngster should get some individual attention.

When the program is completed, four teams, sponsored by downtown civic luncheon clubs, will compose a league and regularly scheduled games will be played through the summer months.

Come Ready To Play

Interested parties need not telephone about playing in the baseball league, but should just come out with their play clothes and gloves ready for action.

Anyone living in the section of Lubbock north of Broadway, west of Avenue Q, and north of Nineteenth street in the right age group is eligible for the program.

Serving as instructors and coaches are Ernest Hawkins, Bill Mean, Dan Pursel, Joe Loveless, and Hayden Bodenheimer.

DOLE WORKERS HIRED

Northern Ireland's House of Commons was advised that in many districts farmers are employing workers who are at the same time drawing the dole, and that stern steps must be taken to stamp out the practice.

NCAA Warns On Expulsion

EVANSTON, Ill., June 9 (INS)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association today warned 16 of its members to comply with the organization's "Sanity Code" or face expulsion next January at a New York meeting.

Prof. Clarence P. Houston of Tufts college, chairman of the NCAA's constitution compliance committee, also pointed an accusing finger at 11 other unidentified suspects and suggested they toe the line—or else.

Executive Committee Meets

Houston made his report at the NCAA executive committee meeting in Evanston.

NCAA spokesmen said the issues involved are giving athletes aid beyond the limits prescribed in the sanity code which went into effect Jan. 10, 1948.

Deadline Is Set

The executive committee set a Sept. 1 deadline for all of the 270 member colleges and universities to comply with provisions of the sanity clause. A two-thirds vote of all the schools is needed for suspension of any member.

Houston said penalties for noncompliance would be up to the association, and added that suspension could be ordered for one year, two years, or longer.

SITES AND DATES FOR NCAA TOURNAMENT SET

EVANSTON, Ill., June 9 (INS)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association announced today sites and dates for five NCAA tournaments during an executive committee meeting at Evanston. They are:

Basketball — Eastern playoffs (four teams) in Madison Square Garden, New York, March 23 and March 25. Western layoffs (four teams) at Kansas City, Mo., March 24 and March 25. Finals (four teams) in New York March 28.

Ice hockey—Colorado college, Colorado Springs, March 16, 17, 18.

Wrestling—Iowa State Teachers college, Cedar Falls, March 24, 25.

Gymnastics—United States Military Academy, West Point, N. Y.

Exchange Club Tops ABC In Upset, 8-7

The ABC boys baseball team was upset by the Exchange club Thursday at Boys club, losing the game 7-8 after a desperate rally which saw three runs cross the plate and men left on second and third base in the final stanza.

The Exchange team was able to get only three hits, and Gerald Fletcher collected two of them. Leading the eight-hit ABC attack were Billy Snider and Kenneth Johnson with two hits each in four times at bat.

In the Pee Wee league the Red Sox defeated the Dodgers, 15-14, with Gayle Boyd doing the most damage with two singles and a double in four trips. Shannon Denison had one double and walked three times for the Dodgers.

Three singles by Norvell Johnson aided the Pygmy Red Sox in their 16-5 victory over the Dodgers. The best effort by a Dodger was two singles by Buddy Robertson.

Today in the Pygmy and Pee Wee leagues the White Sox face the Indians, and Methodist Men play the Indians in the Junior league.

Unknown Les Kennedy Rides Into National Open Golf Lead

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, June 9—Les Kennedy, boyish Rhode Island professional playing in his first National tournament, outstroked the country's great shot masters today. A sparkling two under par 69 gave him the first round lead in the U. S. Open Golf championship.

The freckled, buggywhip from Pawtucket found himself a regular picnic on the tiny, tricky greens of Medinah's No. 3 course—carpets that completely baffled the game's top putting specialists.

Kennedy bracketed a 35-34 over the difficult par 36-35—71 layout that snakes 6,981 yards through a veritable forest. This gave him a one-stroke lead over a small cluster of veteran pros—Herman Barron and Chick Harbert of the tournament tourists and Charley Farlow and Al Brosch of the "home" variety. They wound up with 70's and were the only others in a starting field of 162 to crack Medinah's grim regulation card.

Even Sam Snead's new redhot, goose-neck putting blade, which carried him to victories this year in the Masters and PGA tournaments, went beserk and left the chosen West Virginian clinging to a 73.

Stranahan Is Out

Frank Stranahan, the amateur star from Toledo, Ohio, who is former British Amateur champion, missed seven putts of three feet and less and came in with a rotund 82 that blew him out of competition.

By the time two-thirds the starting field of 162 was in, half a dozen players were bunched at even par 71—and it was a great day for the oldsters.

Kennedy Without Gallery

Bobby Cruickshank, the indestructible Scot from Pittsburgh, played with all the wizardry of his 53 years to head the even-par cast. Also in it were Lew Worsham of Oakmont, Pa., the 1947 champion; Claude Harmon of Mamaroneck, N. Y.; Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C.; Pete Cooper of Ponte Verda Beach, N. C.; and E. E. Peelle, slender youngster from Kansas City.

The leading amateurs were Robert H. (Skee) Riegel of Tulsa, Okla., the former U. S. champion, and Jim McHale of Overbrook, Pa., reconverted from professional ranks. They shared 72's with big Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N. C., and Horton Smith, the 40-year-old veteran from Detroit.

The huge crowd of 7,500 lured by a warm sun and links royalty, trudged at the heels of the "name" stars while Kennedy fashioned his brilliant round in semi-privacy.

Jerry Hines Will Resign At A & M

LAS CRUCES, N. M., June 9 (INS) — Gerald H. "Jerry" Hines, New Mexico A. & M. college coach and director of athletics for 20 years, will retire July 1 because of ill health.

Zoning Program Changes Okayed

would have to be prepared and sent out at substantial payroll expense and delaying indefinitely a step which could be of great importance and concern to the entire city.

Heretofore, those wanting changes in building zones first have sought the approval of the planning commission. The planning commission's recommendations almost invariably have been followed by the city commission. The service has been free.

In the future, to meet the new expense imposed by the Legislature, those wanting zone changes still can seek the planning commission's recommendation without going to any expense. But if the planning board approves the changes, the persons seeking it will have to fork up $50 to reimburse the city for the expense of searching tax records, sending out notices and holding public hearings.

Search Is Costly

The actual cost to the city, Oldham estimated, will average more than $50 per recommended zoning change. In some instances, he said it will be less. In others it will be more—in some cases running into the hundreds of dollars.

In the past, zoning changes have been handled with extreme caution to protect the interests of those who might be concerned. Such matters presented to and considered by the planning board have been extensively publicized. They have been investigated first by a special committee, then by the planning board as a group, and finally by the city commission.

When doubt has existed as to whether those interested have been notified of requested zoning changes, pointed efforts have been made to get notice to them. Before changes have been put into effect, the city commission has held a public hearing on each proposed change. The ordinance actually putting changes into effect have required passage on two readings—with at least two weeks, and usually longer, elapsing between the readings after the public hearings.

Changes Recommended

The six changes sent to the commission Thursday with the recommendation of the planning board were:

Lot 8, block 8, McCrummen addition, south of Nineteenth street between Aves. O and P, from a B two-family residence zone to an H retail business zone; the north half of block 8, Morning Side addition, in the vicinity of Ave. G and Twenty-eighth street, from an E apartment zone to a J industrial zone; lots 1 to 5, block 62, from an E to an F zone to permit the enlargement of a grocery store at 319 Seventh street; lots 19 and 20, block 1, D. C. Ross addition, from an A to a B zone to permit the erection of a church building; west one-half of block 4, Second Richmond addition, from an E to an F zone to permit the enlargement of a grocery store; and the north half of block 2, Denison Heights, on Thirtieth street between Fillmore and Pierce avenues, to a neighborhood business zone with the stipulation that stores must be set back 35 feet to provide off-street parking for patrons.

Public Hearings Set

Public hearings on each of these proposed changes were set for 2 p. m. on July 14, in conformance with usual practice. The applicants won't have to pay the $50 fee each because their applications were filed and recommended for approval before city officials got wind of what the Legislature has done. But if the applications had been filed later, the cost would have been $50 each to comply with the red-tape of the new law.

Apparently the only contested proposal is that involving Morning Side addition in Southeast Lubbock. Mrs. Terry Easter and O. C. St. Clair were present to urge this change. F. S. Southern, E. L. Chapman and J. A. Cumming were on hand to oppose it.

Knowing that sentiments differed as to the desirability of this change, which has been under consideration several weeks, city officials saw to it that those interested persons were notified. Notifications were given by personal messenger.

Mayor Cites Progress

Mayor W. H. Rodgers pointed out that considerable progress already has been made toward complying with Commissioner Brown's recommended improvements in fire protection for Lubbock.

Brown said the city needs two additional fire department substations. One of these is under construction in northwest Lubbock and the site for the other has been obtained in the southwestern area.

Brown recommended another overhead storage tank of 1 million gallons capacity. Plans are being drawn for one of 2,500,000 gallons.

Brown advised the drilling of more water wells so as to assure supplies from several directions. This advice apparently was based on information several months old. The city now obtains supplies from wells from three directions with a maximum capacity of nearly 50 million gallons daily. Lubbock never has used as much as 20 million gallons in a day.

Increased Storage Urged

He suggested an increase in present surface reservoir capacity, now amounting to about 17 million gallons. This probably will not be increased substantially soon.

He recommended an increase of about 40 per cent—about 24 men—in the fire department personnel. The commission said the department's manpower is being strengthened steadily.

He said Lubbock should have a modern fire alarm system. The commission is studying this need, which would cost around $500,000—as much as the long-sought public library.

He criticized the laxity of training and drilling of Lubbock firemen. Members of the city commission agreed there is much room for improvement in the department in these matters.

Hydrant Inspection Asked

He recommended that the fire department be ordered to inspect, oil, grease and flush fire hydrants at 90-day intervals. The commission agreed that this duty has been neglected and directed the city manager to see to it that the practice is corrected.

Prospects that the commission finally will get around to attending to the problem of street naming were brightened when the engineering department was directed to prepare an ordinance based on recommendations of the planning commission and a citizen's committee.

Streets east of Avenue A will be named alphabetically for trees and plants, those north of First for colleges and universities and those west of College avenue for cities. Short streets will be designated as "drives."

The commission approved the offer of city water to Texas Tech at prevailing industrial rates, which drop to 10½ cents per 1,000 gallons. Officials estimated the college requirements would average close to 500,000 gallons a day. They said, however, the city's surplus is abundant for this need.

Present at the meeting were Commissioners John Spikes, E. K. Hufstedler, and Clarence Whiteside as well as the mayor, city manager, city attorney and Oldham.

The acorn often was used on the designs of Colonial furniture because it was considered the symbol of hospitality.

Twin Rocket Fired

The report on Chavez quoted a "reliable confidential informant" designated "EP T-1" as saying that if the Communist agent secured any secrets "such information would be subsequently transmitted to the Russian embassy in Mexico.

It was at White Sands that the U. S. recently fired a new "twin" rocket to a record altitude of 250 miles. The twin was composed of a WAC Corporal rocket mounted atop a German V-2.

Chavez reportedly was recruited to work at the White Sands post exchange by an El Paso barber named Sam Zuckerman.

The report on doings within the Russian embassy in Washington was submitted by "confidential information T-1," described as "of known reliability."

It quoted "T-1" in a description of Miss Caron's job-hunting interview at the embassy when she secured her position with the USSR bulletin.

The informant also was said to be familiar with the affairs of Leonid I. Pavlov, embassy third secretary, and ex-second secretary Vasili M. Zubilin.

At one point, the report said Miss Saron was "friendly" with Soviet second secretary Valentin A. Sorokin, "who is the subject of a separate espionage investigation."

Weather Causes Damage To Crops

Floyd County Hesperian, estimated the last week had seen 500,000 bushels of wheat lost in that county alone. Floyd county was still expected to harvest a 4,000,000 bushel crop.

Similar reports of damage to wheat came from Crosby, Briscoe and Hale county, although on a much smaller scale.

To Take Time For Survey

Don L. Jones, superintendent of the Lubbock experiment station, said rains of the past two days would not affect cotton already up. He thought localized showers were severe enough to wash out freshly-planted seed in small areas.

Kennedy N. Clapp, longtime representative of Anderson, Clayton and company, and one of the area's foremost cotton observers, thought the recent storms would have little effect on the total cotton acreage.

"What washed out, we won't know for a few days. But most farmers will replant through the normal deadline for planting, June 20.

"Farmers who normally would turn to grain sorghums at this time of year are more likely to replant cotton because of the lack of grain storage space.

"I believe that the South Plains will be a little short of 3,000,000 acres, but not very short.

"I have lived in Lubbock for 25 years, and I have never yet prayed for a drouth. I believe we are going to make a big cotton crop."

County Outlook Good

Dave Sherrill, Lubbock county agent, said the cotton outlook is still good in Lubbock county despite heavy rains, although he had not learned the effects of Wednesday night's rain over the entire county, with the exception of the Slaton vicinity and an area south of Idalou, there is already a "good stand up." Replanting still can be done until June 15 to 20, he said.

Leo White of Silverton, county agricultural agent of Briscoe county, in a telephone conversation with The Morning Avalanche Thursday afternoon, said he estimated between three and four percent of the county's total wheat acreage damaged by hail and rain within the past few days.

Hail Causes Damage

White said there are about 80,000 acres of wheat in Briscoe county this year. His estimate of between three and four percent damage was based on this total.

He said that most of the damage had been caused by hail.

An area south and west of Silverton was perhaps hardest hit, he said, since two separate storms had occurred there; the first on Tuesday, when hail was accompanied by a small twister, and the second last night.

White said some cotton in the county had been lost as a result of hail and rain, although he said it was yet too early to make an estimate. He said he thought some of the cotton which now looked badly damaged might "come through."

Hale Losses Small

Hale County Agent Manuel Ayers, of Plainview, reported yesterday that his estimates on damage to wheat and cotton would necessarily be tentative, since he had not yet had time to inspect all parts of the county since the past two days' rain and hail storms.

It was his opinion, however, that damage to wheat in the county, on a percentage basis, would be relatively minor. He said there were scattered sections in the county where hail and rain damage might go from 20 to 60 percent, particularly in the west part of the county. In that area, he said, there were some 6,000 acres of wheat on which damage was estimated to range from 20 to 60 percent.

Crosby County Also

W. R. Kimbrough, Crosby county agent, estimated last night that approximately 2,000 acres of wheat in Crosby county had been severely damaged by hail this week, and that a large number of additional acres of the ripening grain had been blown over by winds and rain.

Total acreage of wheat this year in Crosby county is approximately 55,000 acres.

Hail did damage north of Ralls and south of Crosbyton, it was said. Wheat which was blown over was not in the hail area.

It was estimated by Kimbrough that probably some 5 000 to 8,000 acres of cotton was damaged by heavy rains and hail. Part of the damaged acreage will go back into cotton if planting can be completed in time; the remainder will be planted in grain sorghums.

Kimbrough, like other county agents contacted Thursday, could only make tentative estimates of damage in Crosby county, since he had not been over the county since the rains and hail on Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Other sections of the Panhandle and South Plains also were hit.

Wheatcutting in the Plainview area was delayed by the heavy rains it was said.

At Amarillo, in the Panhandle, Potter County Farm Agent Art Bralley said weather conditions are favorable for development of black or stem rust in north plains wheat, the Associated Press said.

Rains have retarded ripening of early North Plains wheat.

Bralley said he found encouragement in the fact that there was little black rust in Central and East Texas this year.

The North Texas wheat harvest in the Wichita Falls area is virtually over. Scores of combines the moving into the South Plains. The North Plains harvest normally comes a little later.

Black rust, which develops from spores, usually infects plains wheat immediately after the harvest down state. Braley said spores had been caught at 10,000 feet on greased slides attached to airplane wings. He said some leaf rust had been found, but not in alarming proportions.

A 70-mile-an-hour wind struck Laredo early Thursday during a brilliant electrical storm. It blew down trees, signs and fences. It overturned a plane at the Laredo airport, the Associated Press said.

About the same time winds broke tree limbs and disrupted power and telephone service at Uvalde.

Rainfall at Uvalde measured 1.65 inches during the storm. A total of 1.63 inches fell at Laredo. There the weather bureau warned farmers a 12 to 15 foot rise was expected in the Rio Grande by midnight.

A gentle rain, starting after midday, fell at Amarillo. Cisco reported an inch and a half of rain in 24 hours.

There was rain some time Thursday at Lufkin, Waco, Beaumont, Corpus Christi, Victoria, Galveston, Houston, Wichita Falls, San Antonio, San Angelo, Lubbock, Childress, Brownsville, and Palacios.

Rent Bill Advances

who tried to get decontrol left up to individual cities, moved that the House refuse to concur in the Senate amendment. The House killed his motion by an 86-34 vote.

The House and Senate quit work until Monday morning.

A proposed constitutional amendment to allow waiver of trial by jury in lunacy cases was approved by the Senate and returned to the House for consideratioin of minor Senate changes.

Appropriation Is Okayed

Action on another appropriation bill was completed as the House approved Senate changes in the $4,015,614 vocational education measure for the House the next two years and sent it to the governor.

Also approved by the House were Senate amendments to a bill allowing counties to levy the state's share of the ad valorem tax. The Senate changed the bill to provide that the state collect the 30-cent property tax through 1949 and 1950 primarily to provide funds for tax remissions to counties.

Thereafter, the counties may levy the tax if the money is to be used for flood control, soil conservation or rural roads. The bill awaits the governor's signature.

Money Saving Bill Pushed

Rep. Jim Norton of Nacogdoches introduced what he termed a money-saving measure to help the state's financial situation. His proposed constitutional amendment would allow the state to use some $3,000,000 now idle in the Confederate pension fund to apply on costs of two new state office buildings.

Norton said his proposition has been endorsed by House members now working on conference committees in an attempt to reach an agreement on state appropriations.

The House passed 46 local and uncontested bills, 21 of which went to the governor.

One of these was a bill making it illegal to contribute to the delinquency of a child. The present law says you can not contribute to delinquency unless the child has been declared delinquent already.

Other Action Taken

Other House action included:

Approval of a conference committee report on a resolution opposing socialized medicine and compulsory health insurance. The Texas delegation was asked to do the same.

Approval of conference reports on two proposed constitutional amendments, one to let district judges in multiple-county districts hand down decisions in any county, the other to allow counties of more than 75,000 population to adopt civil service. The reports await Senate approval.

Concurrence in Senate amendments to a resolution providing for an interim committee on recodification of the state's insurance laws. The committee of five senators, five representatives and three state insurance commission members would report its recommendations to the next legislature. The measure goes to the governor.

House action on the Senate's amendments to the rent decontrol bill came a day after Senator Jimmy Phillips' six-hour filibuster failed to stop the measure in the upper House.

Hoffman vigorously opposed any large slash in European recovery funds. But he said in response to questions that a $100 million would be acceptable if it would help balance the budget.

New Estimate Asked

He made it clear that he did not regard a $100 million cut as "substantial."

The ECA chief was questioned about the administration request for $4,642,470,000 to continue the European recovery program until mid-May, 1950.

Sens. Ferguson, Mich., and Wherry, Neb., Republicans, and Sen. Ellender (D-La) told Hoffman that the critical fiscal outlook called for appropriation slashes all along the line. They urged Hoffman to name a new figure for Marshall plan needs.

Coal Walkout

placing it with a milder administration bill.

The President indicated the government was not too much concerned immediately by the shutdown. He commented to newsmen that it is not supposed to be a strike.

Mr. Truman said he understood it is some sort of a sitdown so surplus coal can be used up and Lewis will be in a better bargaining position.

He referred to the stoppage as a rest for the miners.

Newsmen asked Mr. Truman whether he felt he would have adequate power to deal with a national emergency coal strike under the proposed administration Taft-Hartley repealer.

The President replied that he could not answer that question until he faced such a situation.

The original administration bill abandoned the injunction and contained only voluntary procedures for handling emergency strikes. There is considerable talk, however, of a compromise to strengthen this provision.

U.S. labor mediators have adopted a hands-off policy on the shutdown.

Federal mediation director Cyrus S. Ching has thoroughly canvassed the situation but is disposed to wait and see whether:

1. The one-week shutdown is extended into an indefinite layoff by the half million miners.

2. Lewis and U.S. Steel officials get anywhere in wage contract talks opening in Philadelphia Monday.

3. Union negotiations with southern coal producers resume as scheduled in Bluefield, W. Va., next Tuesday and make any progress.

HST Backs Lilienthal

He said this is shown by secret papers relating to shipping and receipting of A-bomb ingredients.

Strauss testified he challenged in vain the AEC's decision to clear isotopes for shipment abroad. He said that although the isotopes were ostensibly destined for "humanitarian" purposes, he feared they might be exploited by some foreign country to aid military research.

Strauss testified he had disagreed with his colleagues 12 times—not five as Lilienthal said last week—on AEC votes, and he said:

"All of these dissents deal with aspects of security and national defense."

Rep. Jackson asked Strauss:

"Do you think the commission is guilty of incredible mismanagement?"

Strauss hesitated, but finally said:

"I think in a number of respects we have done a remarkably fine job, but we have also made a number of mistakes. As to the shipment of isotopes abroad, I think this was an error in judgment. I don't think it had anything to do with mismanagement."

Youth Injured As Car Strikes Motor Scooter At Intersection

Clinton Hicks, 15-year-old son of Mrs. Bernice Hicks of Lubbock route 7, was admitted to St. Mary's hospital late Thursday afternoon with injuries suffered when his motor scooter was struck by a car about 4:35 p. m. at the intersection of Twenty-second and Ave. S.

At the hospital, where he was carried by McDonald ambulance, the boy's injuries were said to be an injury of the back of the head and bruises and abrasions of the arms and legs. Attendants said his condition was good late last night, and it was believed that the head injury was not serious.

The motor scooter was going east on Twenty-second street when it was struck in the intersection by a car approaching from the south on Ave. S. The car was driven by Van D. Daniel, 14, of 2017 Thirty-seventh, police reports showed.

The car had skidded approximately 75 feet before the impact, police investigators said, and struck the scooter as the smaller vehicle was almost ready to leave the intersection. The driver of the car was given tickets charging negligent collision and having no operator's license, police indicated.

lifted.

Vishinsky later gave as the reason for rejecting the Acheson proposal his lack of information on what was going on in Berlin, but explained he had received more information during the course of the session.

This prompted one western delegate to remark "the information must have come in the window by invisible pigeon."

The West contends that the "little blockade" of Berlin has resulted from Russian failure to fulfill completely the New York agreement on lifting of the old Russian blockade.

They cite Soviet limitation of the number of trains permitted to enter Berlin from western Germany, demands for visas from skippers of Berlin-bound barges, and diversion and obstruction of German traffic.

The western ministers made it clear during the session that they saw little purpose in discussing other items on the agenda in view of the uncompromising Soviet attitude.

Reds Believed Uneasy

The U.S. delegation spokesman expressed the belief this frightened Vishinsky, confronted with evidence of the West's determination, into giving in to the Monday deadline proposal.

Despite this, there was not too much optimism in western circles that the Berlin commanders would actually reach a solution of the "little blockade" problem by Monday.

But the agreement nevertheless was regarded as significant because it is the first to come out of the conference since the adoption of the agenda.

Troy Fort, of Lovington, N. M., had low time in calf roping with 12.8 seconds. Toots Mansfield, of Big Spring, was second with 13.1 seconds.

Fort and Mansfield are two of the outstanding rodeo performers in the country, and have participated in nemerous matched contests.

Dub Phillips, of San Angelo, bulldogged his steer in 6.5 seconds to win the steer wrestling contest. Hank Mills, of Pueblo, Colo., was second with a time of 10.9 seconds.

In the exhibitions, Ann Hendrick's famed horse "King Richard" was a great success with the crowd, as was the spectacular Roman riding and jumping, another part of the Hendricks' act, in which the rider stands with one foot on one horse and the other foot on a horse beside it, requiring intricate teamwork between the horses and the rider.

Jack Tillory, 34-year-old Dallas ex-convict, was charged by 106th district grand jury indictment with burglary Tuesday night of a church under construction in north Lamesa, and the theft of $500 worth of carpenter tools from the building.

Two bills of indictment, charging burglary and forgery, were also returned against Tillory here by a 99th district grand jury which reported late Wednesday.

Tillory was arrested early Wednesday at Floydada by Floyd county officers, after he allegedly had attempted to dispose of tools taken in one of the burglaries committed here.

Two judgments were filed here Thursday afternoon after pleas of guilty had been entered before County Judge Walter Davies. Paul Orville Duncan; 28, and E. J. Herbst, 40, both of Lubbock, were fined $75 and county court costs each for drunk driving. Herbst was charged Dec. 14, the judgment showed.

Willie B. Holland, 20, a Lubbock negro, was fined $25 and court costs and sentenced to 10 days in county jail, after he pleaded guilty before Judge Davies of a charge that he stole a $67.95 watch from James Taylor of the Compress apartments here. He was arrested Wednesday, a short while after the theft was discovered. The watch was recovered.

Theft of two black and white Poland-China hogs weighing approximately 130 pounds each was reported Thursday from the Ave. A hog pens of Armour & Co., city police said.

The sheriff's office investigated an earlier report that two dresses had been stolen from Glassman's department store at 813 Broadway. Suspects were described.

Keeney said he held two wartime federal jobs in which he handled secret information. He finally was fired from the government service while working for Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Japan as a librarian in May, 1947.

Keeney's wife, UN employe Mary Jane Keeney, testified that she once entertained Eisler at dinner, but denied that she is a Communist party member.

She said that she was acquainted with Mrs. Fredric March (Florence Eldridge), mentioned in FBI documents read Wednesday before the Judith Coplon spy trial.

Censorship Of Services Eased

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 9 — The Defense establishment henceforth will censor the statements of Army, Navy and Air Force officers only to preserve military secrets.

It has decided that the officers and secretaries of each of the three services should determine whether statements, news conference comments or articles are in line with "policy and propriety."

Brief Order Issued

A new, brief order signed by Secretary of Defense Johnson provides that the joint review branch of the national military establishment (NME) shall limit its consideration "to deletion of matter which is classified for security reasons." There is no reference to the "policy and propriety" grounds for reivew contained in a previous but now rescinded order.

Thus the question of what is proper for an individual officer to say about such matters as the Air Force's B-36 bomber or the Navy's ideas about carrier-based big bombers will be:

First, up to the officer.

Second, up to the civilian secretary of his department or his military superiors. If the officer's decision doesn't coincide with those of his superiors in the department, he can be disciplined under regulations of the departments.

But the defense secretary's office and the NME publication relations division won't make the decision.

South Carolina Negro Teachers Accused Of Cheating On Exams

COLUMBIA, S. C., June 9. (AP)—Six hundred negro school teachers in South Carolina are accused of cheating on examinations.

Ten of them have been fired and investigations of the others are under way.

Two negro men are being held under $2,500 bonds on charges of selling the answers to the teachers.

The department announced its belief that one-fourth of the 2,400 teachers who took the certification examinations last February did a little cheating.

No white teachers were involved.

BITTER FIGHT LOOMS IN SENATE

Truman Names Left Winger To Federal Power Commission Post

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 9.—President Truman has proposed to the Senate for high office a notable left wing New Dealer, and conservatives of both parties are maneuvering to reject the nomination.

The nomination was made after many days of indecision. It is sure to be a trouble-maker.

The man is Leland Olds, named yesterday by Mr. Truman to a third five-year term on the Federal Power commission. Olds is a New Yorker who came to the national stage under direction of the late FDR. His nomination looks like a White House bid for left wing political support in New York where Henry A. Wallace cut deeply into the usual Democratic majorities in last November's presidential election.

Administration fences need repair in New York City. The White House and the Democratic national committee guessed wrong last month in backing a Tammany Democrat in a city congressional by-election against Franklin D. Roosevelt, jr., who was refused the Democratic nomination when he sought it. Young Roosevelt was an easy winner as the liberal party candidate. He will take the seat of the late Sol Bloom, a Democrat.

Olds is an energetic, controversial figure far to the left in his approach to public utilities questions. The gas, power and oil industries rear him. The gas and oil industries, especially, want Olds' scalp. He wants federal control of the gas industry from the well head to the burner tip on your kitchen range. And Olds believes production and distribution of oil also should be under federal control.

Rayburn Bitter Enemy

Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, a great oil and gas state is among Olds' powerful political enemies. Rayburn did what he could to persuade Mr. Truman against keeping him on the power commission. The fight against Olds promises to be a honey.

Although he is being named to succeed himself on the commission as a Democrat, Olds was a big man in the American Labor party during that organization's early years. At that time, a varied collection of Liberals, Social Democrats, Independents and Communists banded together as the American labor party in New York state. Non-Communists subsequently withdrew from the ALP to form the anti-Communist Liberal party.

Editor Of Left Wing Paper

During the 1936-37-38, the left wing marched generally in step although the division between the Communists and all other left wingers now is sharp and bitter. His position in the ALP in nowise tagged Olds as a Commie.

But the Senate opposition doubtless will raise against him the charge that the Communist smell did not offend his nostrils. In his who's who biography, Olds relates that he was industrial editor of the "Federated Press" from 1922 to 1931. The House Un-American Activities committee says this:

"Federated Press — cited as a Communist-controlled organization financed by the American Fund for Public Service and the Robert Marshall foundation, both principal sources of funds for Communist enterprises."

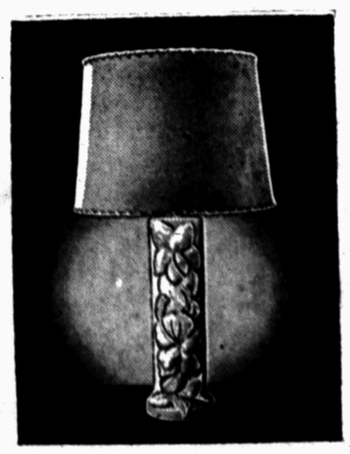

Approximately 74 per cent of the 5,750,000 farms in the United States now use electricity, an increase of 28 per cent in the last three years.

GROWERS WARNED OF MENACE

Crop Insects Make Appearance On Many Farms In South Plains

Thrips, fleahoppers, grasshoppers and boll weevils have been appearing alone or in combination in many cotton fields in southern Texas, according to district agent W. N. Williamson of the extension service.

"It is still too early to tell what kind of infestation we will have on the South Plains," Williamson said, "but we should begin to be on the lookout so insects can be controlled before they do any serious damage."

Thrips are causing serious damage to cotton in many areas of Central Texas. Most of these insects have migrated from fields of weeds. Growers have been warned to be on the lookout for thrips in other parts of the state.

Plant Damage Extensive

The thrip is so small it is rarely seen by the farmer but it does considerable damage to plants and delays the fruiting for several weeks.

Reports sent to College Station indicate that adult fleahoppers are also migrating into the cotton fields, Williamson said. Some of these insects have reached fields in Central Texas and are on their way northward.

Guy Carpenter, recently assigned to this district as entomologist, is making a special effort to get ahead of the insects. By working closely with growers, 4-H club boys and other interested persons Carpenter hopes to teach farmers how to recognize the first signs of these cotton insects and then attack them with the proper poisons.

Boll Weevils Appear

"In areas where boll weevils were plentiful late last fall and where they found satisfactory hibernation quarters, they are now found in fairly large numbers," Carpenter said.

"The particularly hard winter around Lubbock has probably reduced the number of survivors but in general we can look for more weevils this year than last," Carpenter added.

Where insect types are mixed, a dusting with 20 percent toxaphene plus 40 percent sulphur; or a mixture of 3 percent gamma benzene hexachloride, 5 percent DDT plus 40 percent sulphur is recommended. This is the "3-5-40" mixture that has been found so effective.

Police Express Thanks To Railroad For Aiding Parade

Police Thursday expressed their appreciation to officials of the Santa Fe Railway company for suspension of all switching and other rail traffic over the Ave. A crossing at near Fifteenth for duration of Wednesday's ABC rodeo parade.

"Some of the visiting Sheriff's Posse members from out of town didn't want to ride their horses through the underpass between the fairgrounds and the downtown business area," Capt. Bill Lamb explained. "They were afraid somebody might be hurt in case a train should pass overhead or a horse act up for some other cause in the narrow pass. So we were faced with a necessity of changing the parade route at the last minute."

Lamb called Santa Fe officials, who soon called back and said they would stop all traffic at the crossing. They did so for approximately a half-hour—until the last of the procession had passed.

New Precision Gauge Capable Of Measuring Millionths Of Inch

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., June 9 (U.P.)—A minute fraction of an inch means a lot to the precision guage laboratory at Stanford research institute, where millionths of an inch measurements are an everyday affair.

The new laboratory, in which the science of measurement reaches limits unbelievable to a person who considers a yardstick fairly reliable, is one of two of its kind in the entire west coast region.

Its equipment is capable of accurate measurements down to twenty-five millionths of an inch —100 times smaller than the diameter of a fine human hair.

The laboratory will serve industry, educational institutions, and any one else who needs extremely precise measurements.

THEY'LL MAKE YOU LAUGH—The Moore family and Beeswax the taxi mule are offering rodeo fans plenty of chances to laugh these nights in the ABC-Boys' club rodeo at Jones stadium. It is one of the funniest acts on the rodeo circuit and sometimes it's difficult to tell who has the more sense, the Moore family or Beeswax.

Pecos Compact Seen As Aiding States

BIG SPRING, June 9. (AP)—Signing of the Pecos compact will stabilize development along the Pecos river in Texas, E. V. Spence, chairman of the state board of water engineers, predicted today.

Spence said he regarded the distribution of Pecos waters between New Mexico and Texas as reasonably equitable.

President Truman today signed the agreement between the states on sharing the river water.

Pecos valley users will at least know where they are, Spence said, since Texas is guaranteed its allocation of 1947 base conditions if the water is available.

The compact is of vital importance to both Texas and New Mexico, he said. The states will work cooperatively on several mutual problems, such as eliminating a salt spring on the watershed and the eradication of vast tracts of cedars which sap the reservoirs and channels.

He said they will also join in bypassing the Salt Clear and ineffective McMillan reservoir area above Carlsbad, N. M., and in establishing gauging facilities.

The board chairman said he felt the compact was the first in a series which must be reached with other states on distribution of Canadian, Red and Sabine rivers' waters.

The Pecos compact problem has been under negotiation for 24 years. Spence gave much of the credit for the final agreement to Charles H. Miller of Barstow, Texas compact commissioner.

California University 'Rescues' Volumes Of Chinese Literature

BERKELEY, Calif., June 9 (INS)—The University of California's East Asiatic library has "rescued some 30,000 Chinese volumes, including histories and important Chinese literature.

Librarian Richard G. Irwin purchased the books during a five month expedition to China. He made the personal trip to China because he feared that war conditions and Communist occupation would cut off the supply of books which had been coming from an agent in Peiping.

The works include 165 histories, each of which deal with a single "Hsien," an administrative area corresponding to a county in the United States.

Lubbock Army Officer Assigned To Railway Unit In Yokohama

WITH THE EIGHTH ARMY, YOKOHAMA, Japan, June 9 (Special)—First Lieut. Michael A. Elliott, 2118 Sanders, Lubbock, a recent arrivel in the Far East command has been assigned to the Tokyo division, Third Transportation Military Railway service, Yokohama.

Prior to his assignment overseas, Elliott had been stationmaster with the 709th Transportation Railway Grand division at Fort Eustis, Va.

Clark Abbott Is Death Victim

PAWHUSKA, Okla., June 9 (AP)—Clark W. Abbott, about 53, former manager of the Lindsey theaters in Lubbock, died late Wednesday in the home of a brother.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday at Smith-Kernke Funeral home in Oklahoma City. Burial will be at Davis, Okla., Johnson Funeral home of Pawhuska reported.

Came Here In 1941

Abbott was manager of the local theaters from 1941 until December of 1948, when he retired because of ill health. His death was attributed to a heart attack.

After leaving Lubbock in December, he spent the winter in South Texas, but because of continued failing health was admitted to an Oklahoma City hospital six weeks ago. He was released from the hospital ten days ago, at which time he came to Pahuska to visit his brother.

Prior to moving to Lubbock in 1941, Abbott had resided in Oklahoma.

DOLLAR DAY

Hot Check Artists 'Decide' Sentences

AUSTIN, June 9. (INS)—"A day for each dollar" is an Austin judge's policy for habitual hot check artists.

Judge Mace Thurman, jr., of the Travis county court-at-law has instituted "get-tough" sentences because of a steady increase of worthless checks for small amounts.

If a person is hauled into court for writing a $45 worthless check, Thurman will let him think it over for 45 days in the county jail.

In the past such offenders have been fined and occasionally sentenced to short jail terms.

But Thurman thinks fines are useless in stopping the flow of hot checks. So he has increased the jail sentences, and thinks his new policy will show some results.

"It looks like the only way to cool off the hot check writers," the judge says.

Judith Coplon Spy Trial Rapidly Assuming Air Of Greek Tragedy

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 9 — The trial of Judith Colon, charged with spying for Russia, has become like a Greek tragedy.

Once the characters, seen and unseen, have been set in motion there is no turning back. They move on to the inevitable climax.

And there is great irony in it:

So that one person, Miss Coplon, can have a fair trial according to American justice, other people not directly connected with her at all have been held up to suspicion.

They are Hollywood actors, for the most part. They have been dragged into the case because once it got started there was no stopping it.

Accusers Unidentified

Now spread across the court record is an FBI report showing these actors have been accused of being Communists or fellow-travelers.

Who accused them? FBI "informants" whose names are not known except to the FBI.

Are they reliable "informants?" Do they know for a fact what they say is true? Only the FBI knows. The court record doesn't say.

This happened Wednesday. And Wednesday night, one after another, the accused assailed the FBI report as absurd, or unconstitutional, or laughable.

Will any proof be forthcoming from the government about these accused people? Or will their names be cleared? No one knows.

Spying Charge Filed

It all came about this way:

Miss Coplon, 28, worked in the justice department. The FBI arrested her in New York March 4 with a Russian.

In her pocketbook, the FBI said, she had a number of confidential government papers dealing with national security.

She was charged with spying for Russia and went to trial here several weeks ago.

The government lawyers did not want 12 confidential pieces of paper, which the FBI said they found on her, to get into the trial.

Why? They said national security was involved. They said FBI informants would be placed in danger.

Judge Insists On Justice

But what of Miss Coplon? She was on trial before a jury. In reaching a verdict of guilty or not guilty, should the jury—

1. See all the evidence so, knowing the whole case, it could reach an intelligent decision? Or—

2. Have to reach a verdict on hearsay, which is what it would amount to if the government said it found secret papers on Miss Coplon but wouldn't let the jury decide on their merit?

The government lawyers even hinted that they'd drop the case against Miss Coplon before letting the secret information become public.

But the federal trial judge told the government lawyers: "I wish I could throw some protection around you, but I can't do that. I'm here to see that justice is done.

Secret Papers Demanded

"If the reading of the report imperils the government, the government ought not to be here."

So he said the secret papers would have to be made public. Faced with this, the government lawyers decided they'd rather let the papers out than abandon the case against Miss Coplon.

Bit by bit the reports of the "informants" then were read into the record, the reports which accused the actors and others of Communist activity or sympathy.

In short, the judge had ruled that the government should never have started the case unless it was willing to go through with it.

And if this meant other people were going to be hurt, that was unfortunate but necessary in order to give Miss Coplon fair play and full justice.

M-Sgt. S. E. Beard Completes Course At Army School In Japan

WITH THE EIGHTH ARMY IN YOKOHAMA, JAPAN, June 9 (Special) — M/Sgt. Samuel E. Beard of 1512-A 18th street Lubbock, completed the radar maintenance course at the Eighth Army Signal Corps school located at Hiyoshi, Japan (old Keio university) and was awarded a certificate of completion at the school May 14, 1949.

Soldiers stationed in all parts of the Far East command are taking courses at the Signal school in installation, repair and maintenance, and operation of radio, radar, telephone and other communication systems. These men study under both military and civilian instructors.

The buildings which formerly housed one of Japan's largest universities are now thronged by hundreds of soldiers and airmen who study subjects which will help their careers both in the service and in civilian life.

M/Sgt. Beard, who is a member of 19th Bomb group, has been stationed in Guam since February 1948. He entered the Air Force in 1940, and previously served on bases in the United States and the Pacific.

Farmers Confused On Conservation Setup

WASHINGTON, June 9. (AP)— Officials said today there apparently is some misunderstanding about how the Agriculture department pays farmers in its soil conservation program.

They offered this comment on reports that South Dakota farmers are claiming that they are getting only 35 cents on the dollar of the amount promised them.

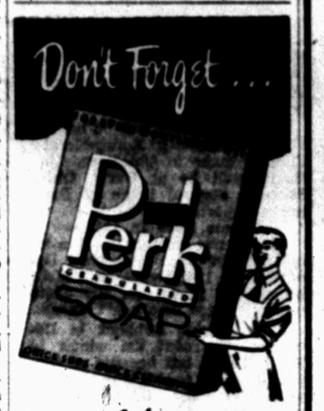

Funds are distributed among farmers for carrying out department recommended measures and farming practices designed to protect soil from erosion and to improve its fertility, as well as to conserve water.

Thomas B. Joyce assistant director of the department's agricultural conservation programs branch, said farmers are being paid full amounts promised them.

He said, however, misunderstandings apparently have arisen because (1) the amount voted by Congress for payments last year was cut nearly half from the 1947 appropriation, and (2) farmer participation in the program was greater than had been estimated.

As a consequence, the base rates for various practices in 1948 were reduced nearly half from the 1947 rates.

Joyce said some farmers judged 1948 payments on the basis of what they got in 1947 without taking into account the reduction in the appropriation.

Tornado Path Can Be Predicted, Professor Claims After Survey

ST. LOUIS, June 9. (U.P.)— A geophysicist believes the path of a tornado can be predicted.

Edward M. Brooks, associate professor of geophysics at St. Louis university, claims that such violent windstorms travel in a cyclonic "cage" from five to 12 miles wide.

This cage, Brooks says, is predictable in its movement. But telling in advance just where the funnel shaped clouds may dip to earth is another matter. Usually, he says, it is impossible because the clouds containing the embryo tornadoes wander here and there within the "cage."

So confident is Brooks of his theory that he has set up a tornado warning system south and west of St. Louis through the cooperation of about a dozen radio "hams" who serve as observers.

Bureau Unconvinced

Brooks says his studies of frequent tornadoes around St. Louis in the past two years show that each of them was preceded by similar disturbance from 12 to 48 hours in southwest Missouri, Oklahoma or Texas.

The U.S. Weather bureau here says it is "interested" in Brooks' theory but it is going to wait to be shown.

Forecaster Arthur Rausch says the weather service is able to predict the movement of "conditions favorable to the development of tornadoes." But it won't go any further than that.

No one really knows what causes tornadoes, Rausch said, except that they develop within cyclonic disturbances which accompany cold fronts on their movements south-southeast.

House Armed Services Group To Lump Probe Of Scrapped Naval Carrier With B-36 Investigation

WASHINGTON, June 9. (BS)—The House Armed Services committee announced today it will investigate the "soundness" of Defense Secretary Johnson's cancellation of the Navy's super-aircraft carrier project.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) revealed that the committee has decided to broaden the B-36 bomber investigation to include the carrier controversy.

This was included in an eight-point agenda for the B-36 probe, authorized by the House on Wednesday.

Program Announced

Vinson released the tentative program for the investigation as his committee requested $50,000 from the House to defray costs of the probe.

The inquiry as originally ordered covered effectiveness of the giant "Sunday punch" B-36 and reports that Johnson and Air Secretary Symington have used undue influence in placing contracts for the plane.

Vinson said that the investigation would cover, along with other points, the following:

1. Study of the roles and missions of the Air Force and Naval and Marine aviation to determine "whether or not the decision to cancel the construction of the aircraft carrier was sound."

Policy To Be Probed

2. Whether a split vote of the chiefs of staff should be final in determining what weapons shall be developed.

3. Whether the Air Force is concentrating on heavy bombardment to the detriment of "tactical aviation and the development of adequate fighter aircraft and adequate aircraft techniques."

4. Study of the B-36 to "determine whether it is a satisfactory weapon."

5. Establishment of "the truth or falsity of all charges" made by Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa) who first brought to the attention of the House "ugly, disturbing reports" that Johnson and Symington have been linked with Floyd Odlum, Democratic campaign contributor and builder of the B-36.

John L. Sullivan resigned as Navy secretary in protest against Johnson's cancellation of the $188 million carrier project. The Navy claims the flattop is vital to fulfilment of its mission of protecting the sea lanes and supporting amphibious operation.

The Air Force had contended that the 65,000 ton carrier was highly vulnerable and encroached on its long-range, atom-bombing rights.

Youngster Admits Slamming Door Shut On Three Playmates

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark., June 9 (AP)—Arkansas state police reported today a 10-year-old boy said he slammed shut the door of an unused ice box, causing deaths of three other children.

Police Lt. H. R. Peterson identified the boy as James (Buddy) Chesser, uncle of one of the victims.

The police officer quoted James as saying the children were playing "I-spy," when all three climbed into the old-fashioned wooden box last Friday.

He shut the door of the box and was unable to get it open.

"My mother called me then to go to the store. I was scared. I ran home and went to the store. Then I forgot."

The victims were James Delbert Chastain, two, and Joyce Ann Chastain, nine, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Chastain, and Shirley Ann Ramsey, six, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ramsey.

Sale Of Interests In Texas Radio Stations Okayed By FCC

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—The Federal Communications commission has authorized Radio Enterprises, Inc., to sell station KVIC, Victoria, Tex., to KVIC Broadcasting Co., Inc., for $190,000.

Walter T. McKay, and Arthur Stehling asked authority to sell a one-third interest in station KNAF at Fredericksburg, Tex., to Rep. O. C. Fisher (D-Tex) for $7,550.90.

The application noted that the same partnership also proposes to sell a one-third interest in station KEVT, Kerrville, to Fisher for $10,000.

Gambling Trials Are Delayed In Houston

HOUSTON, June 9. (AP)—Five persons slipped out from under the lethal weapons of cowboy Constable Dale Richardson today, as cases of book-making were postponed for the second time.

The La Porte officer, whose anti-gambling raids here made headlines and closed bookie shops three weeks ago, was in county court at law in person to see that action was taken.

Instead, the five defendants asked for a trial by jury, and since a jury was not available, Judge John Snell, jr., postponed the cases until June 23. The first postponement of the cases came May 26, when Constable Richardson arrived in court too late to protest.

Constable Arrives Early

Today, Richardson was ahead of time. He was so engrossed in proceedings that he forgot to remove his hat—the usual solid white "rough rider" style, with a big brim.

When Judge Snell asked him to remove the 10-gallon hat, Richardson didn't hear him. The judge promptly ordered a court bailiff to take it off for Richardson, and the constable finally sensed the commotion. He quickly removed the hat.

Postponements were granted Lee C. May, Mrs. Jean Stump, M. L. Schill, J. P. Keller and Al Loverdi, arrested April 6 after Richardson's now-famous raid on a downtown hotel, where he battered in the door and demolished interior fixtures with a baseball bat.

Crowds Jam Central London To Celebrate Birthday Of King

LONDON, June 9 (AP) — More than 100,000 persons jammed central London today to hail their king on his official 53rd birthday with a revival of prewar pomp and military splendor.

The king's birthday was Dec. 14, but the nation celebrates it officially on June 9, because June weather is better suited to such a celebration.

Lynn County Wildcat Logs Oil Stains, Drillstem Tests Start

Barnsdall Oil Company No. 1 Williams, central Lynn county wildcat, four and one-half miles southwest of Tahoka, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 2, block 8, EL&RR survey, logged slight oil stains in the Spraberry sandy lime between 7,049-82 feet.

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Lindly, central-south Lynn county prospector, one mile north of O'Donnell, and 660 feet from south and east line of the southwest quarter of section 47, block 8, EL&RR survey, had reached 10,422 feet in an unidentified lime and chert. This project started out under a contract to dig to 11,500 feet unless it developed commercial production at a higher point.

Sinclair Test Planned

The project is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 45, block 32, EL&RR survey, T-6-N. It is bottomed at 10,035 feet in a dolomite thought by observers to be Ellenberger.

Top of that formation has been picked at various points between 9,946 feet and 10,000 feet. That has been no official call on the top of that formation.

It is expected that the casing will be cemented on bottom and exploration will be tested from the bottom upward, through perforations.

Indications Good

The well has shown good indications of production in several zones between 9,830 feet and 10,000 feet. The best show was the interval at 9,945-10,000 feet which flowed 20.75 barrels of oil in 30 minutes. After the flow operator recovered 1,300 feet of salt water in the drill pipe.

The formations between 9,830 feet and 9,928 feet developed several thousand feet of free oil on drillstem tests, and some was headed out while the tester was being pulled. No water was developed in that section.

Drillstem Test Run

A three-hour and 45-minute drillstem test was run at 11,585-620 feet, using a 1,000-foot water blanket. Recovery was the water blanket followed by 3,200 feet of water cut drilling mud with a slight show of oil and 1,000 feet of slightly oil cut, salty sulphur water.

It is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 315, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey.

Johnson Hopeful Of Gas Act Amendment

WASHINGTON, June 9. (Special)—Senator Lyndon Johnson, Texas, chairman of the Senate interstate commerce sub-committee on natural gas, said today that he is hopeful his sub-committee will report favorably in a few days on the bill to amend the natural gas act to exempt arms-length sales of gas at the well.

However, Johnson said that he is not yet sure what the full Senate interstate and foreign commerce committee will do with the bill.

Discrimination Hit

"It would be a terrible thing," he said, "if the Federal Power commission were permitted to have authority to set prices on natural gas at the well down in Texas. If that happens, then natural gas will be the only commodity on which a price ceiling is imposed.

"Natural gas is highly competitive with fuel oil and coal. If natural gas production has to have a price set, then why don't we have a ceiling price imposed on fuel oil and coal? It is not fair to impose an OPA for one product, especially when there is competition."

Johnson said it would be all right to regulate sale of these commodities to consumers, but that a ceiling price should not be imposed on the production at the well.

PIG STORY DOUBTED

Alfred Adcock's story, in Norwich, England, that his pig pined and fell ill after its mate was taken away, and had to be killed, failed to impress the magistrate, who fined him $150 for slaughtering the pig without a license.

U.S. Cafe Business Has Indigestion

GALVESTON, June 9 (AP)—The restaurant business is having a touch of indigestion.

Andrew J. Crotty, jr., Boston, president of the National Restaurant association described the symptoms today at the close of the Texas association's convention.

"Texans are fortunate that you have not felt the impact," said Crotty, "but street and hotel restaurants across the nation have felt a terrific drop in dollar volume, check average and customer count."

The Bostonian, chief civilian food consultant to the armed forces during the recent war and head of an "in-plant feeding" concern with 65 branches scattered throughout the country, said is prescription for the restaurant operators was, go back to work, and go back to thinking."

He said the industry had "gone stale" and added he was sure "the smart operator will survive this impending trouble."

He said the public feeding industry "got six cents of the consumer dollar in 1939, 19 cents of it during the war and immediately afterwards, and now is down to 13 cents, with the down trend continuing."

Barkley Says Israel Needs 'Outside' Help

CHICAGO, June 9 (INS)—Vice President Barkley said tonight the state of Israel must have funds from outside sources to go forward in its rehabilitation work because it cannot raise enough money from tax revenue alone.

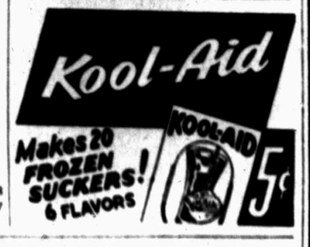

The vice president was in Chicago to address a meeting of the Combined Jewish Appeal which seeks to raise $250 million. He told a news conference:

"Israel needs complete rehabilitation. The land is more than 2,000 years old and it is eroded. Israel's forests are depleted and much of the land must be irrigated."

The vice president said he thought establishment of Israel will have a stabilizing effect on the whole Middle East. He declared:

"The example of free Israel will be a force for peace in the Middle East. There is no doubt the nation will be able to live in peace if it gets the help it needs."

'PERENNIAL CAMPAIGNER'

Caso March To Continue Race For Governorship Until 'Victory'

HOUSTON, June 9. (U.P.)—Caso March said today that his teaching career at Baylor university was at an end, and that he intended to be a perennial candidate for governor "until I win."

His slender showing in two other campaigns, said the 38-year-old law professor, have not discouraged him.

"I'm in the race for governor from now on, for the rest of my life, until I am elected," March said.

March ran as a prohibitionist in the 1946 scramble involving 16 candidates. He got some 20,000 votes.

Now, he explained, he hopes to base his campaign for the next election — some 43 months away —on tax economics.

March said $200 million additional revenue can be realized from his plan for revising oil and gas taxes in Texas. The proceeds would go to Texas' aged in the form of a $50 per month pension, and would also be dispensed among the state's eleemosynary institutes, rural road programs, and would help to take over with state money the bonded indebtedness of all school districts.

"I got 189,000 votes in 1948, and without any labor support," candidate March noted. "This time, I'm out to win."

March said he had relinquished his position as law professor at Baylor so that his full time could be devoted to running for governor.

"It's going to be a business with me. I'm in it until I win, and I'm campaigning right now for the next race," he said.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June 9. (U.P.)—Nine years and eight months after it was mailed Albert Valenti received a postcard sent to him by the U. S. Labor department immigration service.

Injured Texas Child Remains Unconscious In Alabama Hospital

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 9. (U.P.)—Three-year-old James Robert Pounds, who tumbled to a paved sidewalk from the second story floor of the Granada hotel yesterday, remained unconscious today and in a "serious" condition at Jefferson-Hillman hospital.

The child, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Roy Pounds, of Corpus Christi, suffered head injuries and multiple bruises about the legs and face.

"Robin" strayed from the fourth floor of the hotel while his aunt, Mrs. Al White, operator of the hotel, was giving him lunch. Mrs. White said the boy ran out onto the fire escape before she could stop him. He made his way to the second floor level before falling.

Vatican Officials Coin Phrases In Effort To Bring Latin Up To Date

By JOSEPH J. BAICICH
United Press Staff Writer

VATICAN CITY, June 9 — The Vatican has brought Latin, its official language, up to date.

Although the Roman Curia, the administration of church matters, uses Italian as its everyday language; the official tongue is Latin. The most important church documents are written in the language of Cicero and St. Augustin. The only difference is that Pope Pius XII uses words and paraphrases describing such modern things as "atom bomb," "trade union," "Communism," "airplane," etc.

Pope Pius uses good, classical Latin, but it is much easier to follow than Cicero's prose. It is never as concentrated as the stony prose of Tacitus.

The church moves with the times, and coins new words to describe new things. Two offices in the Vatican under the Secretariat of State have the special duty of keeping abreast in this field. They are the Secretariat of the Briefs to the Princes and the Secretariat of the Latin Letters.

Lexicon Compiled

The first is the more important, and is headed by Msgr. Antonio Bacci, who compiled the latest lexicon of modern words in Latin. It is in this office that the most solemn correspondence between the Holy See and the foreign chiefs of state for important events is written. Msgr. Bacci, who has four Latin experts working under him, looks after the composition of the speeches which the Pope delivers in the consistories, then encyclicals and other documents of a universal character.

The second office, the Secretariat of the Latin Letters, is charged with the composition of ordinary correspondence which emanates from the Pope's study and is directed to high personages. This correspondence deals with matters which do not fall within the scope of the Secretariat of State.

Msgr. Bacci's lexicon, just published, contains 5,000 words and conforms to strict philogical rules. It shows great ingenuity in coining words. But some rigid classical scholars find that the circumlocution for modern words are a bit long. Concise Latin expressions chockful of meaning, they complain, are strung, three and four at a time, to translate one modern word.

"A-Bomb" Wordy

Our neat, compact "A-bomb" becomes "glorus atomica vi displodens" (literally, "a ball bursting by the force of atomic power"), a radiogram is "nuntium per aetherias undas missum" ("a message sent through ethereal waves"), a tank is "automatarius covinus ignivomus" ("a self-moving car spouting fire").

The newly-coined words of Msgr. Bacci describe many commonplace things, such as no one would believe his high office would find use for.

He calls a cigaret a "nicothanum bacillum" ("a little stick of nicotine"), a cigar is "tabaci fasciculum" ("a bundle of tobacco"), bars of chocolate are "quadrae ex faba mexicana" ("squares from the Mexican bean"), spaghetti with butter and parmesan cheese is "pasta vermiculata butyro pulveratoque caseo condita" ("spaghetti wrought like little worms seasoned with butter and pulverized cheese").

Wide Range Of Terms

This may appear frivolous and slightly on the gourmet side. But there are many other more serious items in the book. A Communist is "aequandorum bonorum fautor" ("a promoter to equalize property"). There is a synonym for Communist which comes even closer — "publicationis bonorum omnium fauter," or "advocate of making public all property." A black market is "annona exandefacta" ("food market inflamed to white heat"), and to corner the food market in Latin you say "flagellare annonam" (literally, "to whip it").

Other examples of the living present are military terms: incendiary bombs are "glandes ignivomae" ("acorns vomiting fire"), hand grenades are "ignei globi dirumpentos" ("bursting fireballs"), a bombing plane is "velivelum ignivomis globis verberans" ("a craft flying on sails blasting out fire-vomiting balls"), a battleship is a "loricata navis" ("a ship with breast armor") and a machine gun is a "manuballista ignovoma ("a manual machine spitting fire").

The trades and professions also are provided with the proper nomenclature. Journalism is "diurnariorum ars," a newshawker is "ephemeridum clamator" and a radio newscast is "radiophonica diurnorum actorum communication." Others brought up to date include sports, the electrical field, railways and automotive.

But there is one field still uncovered: television. Msgr. Bacci is reported to be working on that now.

LUBBOCK MORNING AVALANCHE

Lubbock, Texas, Friday, June 10, 1949

2,817 Sign For Classes At Tech

A total of 2,817 students have enrolled for the first term of summer school at Texas Technological college according to Miss Evelyn Clewell, assistant registrar at the college.

This figure, a record, represents an increase of 89 students over the number in summer school in the first term of 1948. Earlier reports indicated that enrollment would be much heavier this year than it was, but many of the students who had pre-registered during the spring semester of school failed to return for the summer term.

2,055 Men Students

Of the 2,817 students enrolled, 2,055 of them are men and 762 are women. In 1948 there were 701 women and 2,027 men in the first summer term.

The division of arts and science shows the largest enrollment with a total of 913 students. Next is the engineering division with an enrollment of 674. Of note is the large increase in the enrollment of students in the division of graduate studies. In 1948 there were only 262 students in that division but the enrollment this year has almost doubled with a total of 431 students.

Many of these are high school and grade school teachers who have returned to do work on their master's degree and on a permanent teaching certificate as prescribed by the added requirements of the Gilmer-Aikin bill.

1,400 Veterans Signed

Next in line is the business administration division with 378 students in agriculture. In the remaining division, home economics, there are 172 students enrolled.

H. A. Anderson, veterans coordinator at the college, said of the total figure nearly 1,400 of them were veterans. This is a much heavier enrollment of ex-service men and women than was expected Anderson said about 1,350 of the veterans enrolled were taking advantage of the federal G. I. Bill of Rights and 50 of them were under the provisions of the Hazelwood act, a state law which provides tuition for veterans in state schools of Texas.

Improvements To Offer Some Relief In City

Court Case Handling Studied

Some improvement in the handling of corporation court cases here was foreseen Wednesday by city officials following on the heels of a 99th district grand jury report which recognized the need for enlarged corporation court facilities to expedite the disposition of cases in which jury trials are asked.

The report took cognizance, city officials said, that the new budget will remedy a situation characterized by a municipal court staff not numerically up to a level that will allow prompt trial of cases in which pleas of innocent have been lodged.

Newsmen asked specifically Thursday as to conditions referred to in the grand jury report in which pleas of innocent have been entered but which have not been tried.

It was admitted that facilities for trial of those cases are not "at the highest level." But J. Solon Lea, city recorder who is the presiding magistrate of the city court, explained that none of those under trial appearance bond is attempting to rush the hearing of his case. Lea said the court can arrange trial of any of the cases within a maximum of 10 days "provided the attorney for the defense and that for the city find dates when each is free from appearance in this or some other court. That is the same problem in getting a case to trial in any court."

Conditions, it is well known to the public, became so congested that hundreds of old traffic tickets were disposed of—thrown away—at the first of the year. That action was in recognition of the virtual impossibility of ever "catching up." Since that time there has been an effort to collect on tickets issued in 1948, but in connection with which there had been no appearances for purpose of entering pleas. "Quite a volume" of those cases has been cleaned up, it was announced. The press was accredited with assistance in the drive by its publishing of notices.

But the corporation court can try an average of only one case a day, since the recorder has a multiplicity of duties other than hearing evidence in jury cases. So the department may "get behind" again, even farther behind than at present, unless the city commission follows the grand jury recommendation and provides more facilities for handling the problem, it is conceded.

Cases untried almost exclusively charge traffic, vagrancy and drunkenness offenses, records disclosed.

Every case not eventually tried is potentially either lost revenue to the city in terms of fines assessed upon conviction, or a basis for discrimination against persons who go into court and plead guilty and pay fines in similar charges.

"Quite a percentage" of the cases in which bonds have been posted was never intended for jury trial, Lea explained.

"Persons find it expedient, just as may be noticed at times in courts of concurrent or higher jurisdiction, to post a bond on a plea of innocent. That allows them to keep out of jail so that they can work and make enough money

OFFICIALS DRAW UP FINAL LIST

Changes In Soap Box Derby Sponsor Assignments Made

With more re-checking and withdrawing of boys, the final list of entries and sponsors for the second annual Lubbock Soap Box Derby was drawn up Wednesday.

Several changes had to be made in assignment of sponsors because of failure to notify Derby officials before assignment of sponsors had been made earlier this week.

Billy Page's sponsor is Kerr-Simmons Motor Co., instead of KFYO as previously announced and KFYO is now sponsoring Larry L. Panzer, route 3, Lubbock.

Other Assignments Made

Lubbock Building Products, 214 Ave. M, is sponsor for Thomas Holeman, route 1, Lubbock.

Atkins Lumber Co., previously assigned to another boy, is now sponsor for Derryl Hammock, 1614 Twenty-fourth.

District 2 of 4-H clubs are sponsoring Tommy Rouse, replacing Dickinson Motor company, who has been assigned another boy.

Morrison Supply Co., 1949 Ave. G, is sponsor for Charles Hass, route 7, Avinger addition.

R. C. Young Feed & Seed Co., 1408 Ave. F, is sponsor of Charles Flowers, instead of Atkins Lumber company as previously announced.

Dryer-Lee Oil Co. is sponsor for Archie Allen, in another change of sponsors and Scoggin-Dickey Buick Co. was assigned Byron Lee Short of Post, who had been erroneously assigned to the Benton Oil Company. Benton Oil is sponsoring Lindle Grigsby instead.

Tommy Sides is being sponsored by Sides Printing company instead of Kattmann's and Herbie Hamilton was assigned to Kattmann's.

Jerry Youngblood is sponsored by Bricklayers Local Union No. 23, instead of O. O. Youngblood, who is secretary of the local.

Gene Holeman is sponsored by Bryant's Taxi, not previously assigned.

All sponsors and boys are to receive assignment letters today or tomorrow and if further errors appear, they should notify the Derby editor at The Avalanche-Journal.

Farmers Building Own Facilities

Efforts to find a quick solution to the grain storage problem are underway, both in the nation's capital and among individual farmers, a survey of the situation indicated Thursday.

In Washington, Cong. George Mahon, of Lubbock and Colorado City, was assured by Ralph Trigg head of the Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing administration, in a conference that every effort would be made in the current wheat crisis to encourage farmers to build their own on-farm storage.

And in Fort Worth, G. E. Blewett, secretary-treasurer of the Texas Grain and Feed Dealers association said:

"The crisis in the grain storage situation seems to be rapidly solving itself. Reports reaching me indicate that farmers are working day and night building granaries on their farms and many are buying steel bins."

"Some Texas mills that have not heretofore been taking wheat for government loan storage are now filling their tanks so that farmers can enjoy the benefits of high loan levels," Blewett continued.

In Washington, it was explained that the program of self help would be done through the building of bins. Mahon said these bins would last many years. The Agriculture department only two days ago announced a policy of loans to farmers who wanted to build such permanent type bins.

A meeting of manufacturers of pre-fabricated bins and other materials which the farmer will need in the construction program has been called at the Agriculture department for 10 a.m. today to discuss the program.

Mahon said it is the view of the department that this is too late in the season to build elevators. Anyway, the Agriculture department is going all out for insuring help to the individual farmer, it was reported.

Wheat Sales Few

"Wheat is not being sold," Blewett said. "Receipts at Fort Worth last Monday, for example, amounted to 546 cars whereas a year ago they were 838 cars. And this in spite of the fact that the crop this year is estimated to be double that of last year."

"It would seem that the farmers are again handling the situation as individual problems rather than expecting some bureaucratic agency in Washington to do it for them."

Present Fort Worth stocks of grain sorghums this week totalled 5,165,000 bushels or 5,000,000 bushels more than on June 5, 1948. This tremendous carryover has

Chabay To Appear In Tech Concert Tonight

Leslie Chabay, tenor with the Metropolitan Opera association, will be presented in concert at 8:30 p.m. today on the lawn south of the administration building on the Texas Tech campus.

The concert is presented under sponsorship of the Texas Tech summer recreation program.

Chabay, who came to the United States from his native Hungary in 1936, has concertized and appeared in all branches of opera and concert including the French, German, Italian, and English repertory. In addition to his connection with the Metropolitan Opera association, Chabay also has sung for the San Francisco Opera company.

Following his current tour, he will appear as soloist with Dimitri Mitropoulis and the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra in one of the final appearances Mitropoulis makes before assuming conductorship of the New York Philharmonic.

In case of inclement weather, tonight's concert will be held in the Tech Recreation hall.

'FEWER PEOPLE SUPPORT MORE'

Kiwanis Speaker Says Society Obligated To Ease Unemployment

"The problem of employing more people for a longer period of time is the obligation of society," Dr. F. L. Mize, professor of management at Texas Tech, told the Kiwanis club Thursday.

"We have to have more and more production if we are to take care of our own population and help the rest of the world too," Dr. Mize stated. "We cut off many productive years by sending men and women to college. This is desirable. But cutting down the maximum age limit at which men are hired is building up a tremendous class of unproductive persons who must still be supported in some manner."

Labor Changes Cited

"What happens here should be obvious. It means that fewer and fewer people are called on to support more and more. There is no reason why more people can't be employed longer," Dr. Mize continued.

"A big change came over our labor situation after World War I," Dr. Mize said. "We no longer have large importations of cheap and willing workers. Our workers today are native born. They are steeped in the traditions we prize so highly. They enjoy independence and want to be in business for themselves. They don't like working for a boss.

"However only a small fraction of our population can ever be successful in self-employment. Most of us must work for some one else," Dr. Mize pointed out. "But the treatment of that employe by the bosses must be different. The boss must remember that he is now dealing with American sons; sons such as his own."

"Population increases do not increase the percentage of workers," Dr. Mize said. The ratio remains the same or even falls somewhat. Each year we have a higher percentage of persons over 65 years of age that have to be supported by those who are working.

"I can't over-emphasize the importance of more people needing jobs longer," Dr. Mize concluded.

Most Union Members Continue To Back HST Despite Decline

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute Of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., June 9.—President Truman's popularity among labor union members questioned in a national poll has declined in the last two months, although a substantial majority still approve of the way he is handling his job as President.

The decline may be due to the delay and the many difficulties encountered by the Administration in attempting to repeal the Taft-Hartley law and thus redeem a major 1948 campaign pledge. Administration forces in the Senate are currently making the second drive of the session for repeal.

The fact that many union voters are less kindly disposed toward Mr. Truman now than a few months ago should not, however, elate the Republican Party unduly. Today's poll also shows that a big majority of manual workers, skilled and unskilled, continue to consider the Democratic Party best for the working man.

The need for the G.O.P to win recruits from the ranks of labor seems as great as ever.

Today's survey approached the political situation from two angles —(1) the President's personal popularity with union members and with manual workers in general, and (2) the comparative rating given the Democratic and Republican parties by the manual worker group on the question of which party best serves the interests of the working man.

The results follow:

"Do you approve or disapprove of the way Truman is handling his job as President?

Labor Union Members	March	Today
Approve	68%	59%
Disapprove	14	21
No opinion	18	20

All Manual Workers	March	Today
Approve	64%	56%
Disapprove	16	21
No opinion	20	23

"As you feel today, which political party — Republican or the Democratic—do you think serves the interests of the following groups best: skilled workers (such as carpenters, plumbers, electricians), and unskilled workers, such as manual laborers)?"

Persons who are themselves manual workers, either skilled or unskilled, vote overwhelmingly that the Democratic Party is best for them. The results are:

Vote Of Manual Workers	Party best for: Skilled Workers	Unskilled Workers
Democratic Party is best	58%	66%
Republican Party is best	13	9
No difference	10	8
No opinion	19	17

The above results ars subject to the margin of error found in all sampling polls, which has averaged 4.0 percentage points in 242 election forecasts by the Institute including 1948.

Man Married 12 Times Pronounced Hopelessly Insane

RENO, June 9 (INS)—A man who married 12 times has been pronounced hopelessly insane.

The fabulous "Frenchy The Barber," whose real name is Arthur Du Pont, has been in the veterans hospital at Palo Alto, Calif., since February, where doctors hold no hope that he will regain his reason.

This was disclosed in Reno today when his sister, Mrs. Carl V. Torse, petitioned the district court for letters of guardianship.

Mrs. Torse seeks to be appointed Frenchy's guardian in order to receive his monthly Army service pension of $138 to defray the costs of some of his care.

French married a total of twelve times, later divorcing eleven of his wives. The remaining one died.

Noted Oklahoma Millionaire Dies

PONCA CITY, Okla., June 9 (AP)—Lew H. Wentz, who made millions in Oklahoma oil and pumped millions back into philanthropies, died today.

He was 68 years old although the secret of his age had always been guarded zealously. Death followed an attack of coronary thrombosis.

As Republican national committeeman from Oklahoma for 12 years, he had been active in party politics both on a national and state level.

Death came to his apartment at the Arcade hotel here where he had lived for many years.

Made Many Contributions

The size of his fortune is unknown by friends. Financial circles placed it at a "minimum of $25,000,000," however.

Several years ago he was listed as one of the seven men in the United States whose annual income exceeded $5,000,000.

Much of it had gone to charitable contributions, however. Crippled children's hospitals and universities were the biggest beneficiaries.

Although Wentz was probably the biggest guiding influence of the Republican party in Oklahoma, he never sought public office. He resisted efforts of party members, who wanted him to run for governor in 1934 and U. S. senator in 1944.

Was Baseball Fan

Almost as well known as his political interests was his following of baseball. He had attempted at times to buy both the St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates of the National league.

He originated the idea of the umpire using hand signals to designate balls and strikes and was the first man to put an alpaca coat on the umpire. Both innovations have stuck in baseball ever since.

Besides his oil business Wentz had many other far-flung interests.

He owned a chain of Oklahoma newspapers, automobile and tractor agencies in Oklahoma and Kansas, farm land in California and the Rio Grande valley of Texas as well as Oklahoma, considerable business property in Oklahoma and California and timber land in Louisiana.

Funeral services will be set after a niece, Mrs. Dorothy Wentz Healey, who was visiting in California at the time of Wentz' death, and a brother, Harry M., Baldwin Park, Calif., arrive here. Mrs. Healey makes her home in Ponca City. He was a bachelor.

Six Men Required To Subdue Woman Burglar In Chicago

CHICAGO, June 9 (U.P.)—It took six men 20 minutes to subdue a 125-pound woman burglar here.

Charles Pollack caught the girl stealing his wallet containing $25 from his room. He grabbed it from her and tried to hold her, but she pounded him with her fists.

Two other roomers came to Pollack's assistance. She pulled out a razor and tried to slash them. They disarmed her, but couldn't subdue her.

Germans Picket Red Rail Center

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, June 9—Western Berlin railroad strikers declared tonight they have crippled a nerve center of the Russian zone railway system by sealing off its headquarters with a picket line.

"They need 60 people in there for the telephones alone," said a striker before the big, red brick building. "There are now about six. They can't handle the communications."

The railway headquarters is 500 yards inside the American sector, but is recognized by all four occupying powers as Russian-controlled property.

Reds Oust Striker

No German employes crossed the picket line.

Railway officials who are under Russian direction by a Big Four agreement of 1945, declined comment. It was reported they have set up duplicate offices in the Soviet sector.

Strike leaders said many Soviet zone trains normally are cleared through the headquarters. The picket line was their answer after four fist-swinging Russian officers dgove out strikers who attempted to seize the building last midnight.

Compromise Rejected

Already their strike squads hold key installations in the West Berlin yards, preventing traffic from rolling in. About 40 freight trains consigned to West Berlin from Helmstedt, on the British-Soviet zone border 100 miles to the west, are stalled on Soviet zone tracks.

The West Berlin railway men, numbering about 14,000, walked out May 21 with demands that the Russian-controlled railway management pay them in west marks instead of the less valuable east marks, recognize their anti-Communist UGO union as their bargaining agent and pledge job security. They have rejected compromise offers for payment of part of their wages in west marks.

Truman, Sen. Johnson Discuss State Of Nation During Visit

WASHINGTON, June 9 (Special)—Senator Lyndon Johnson and President Truman had a friendly visit today to discuss the state of the nation.

The appointment came after Johnson went to the White House with a party for the signing of the Pecos River compact.

Johnson said later that the President had stopped him at the birthday party which Attorney General Tom Clark gave for Mr. Truman and again at the White House ceremony when speaker Sam Rayburn was given the Collier's award. Both times the President asked him why he had not been to see him. Johnson said he would be glad to do so, but as he had not wanted anything in particular, had thought it best to wait until he did. However, the President invited him for a visit when the Pecos river bill was to be signed.

Johnson's office and the President's secretary arranged for Johnson to remain at the White House on this occasion for the conference.

Court Cases Here

to go back into court, change their plea to guilty and pay the fine assessed," Lea said one man paid two fines Thursday morning under a similar change of plea. He told the court he had planned to do so all along.

Where a lawyer is employed to represent a defendant in the corporation court the defendant goes to trial when an appearance day can be found mutually convenient to lawyers on both sides and to the court. Occasionally a defendant elects to represent himself. His lack of familiarity with court procedure slows the process of going to trial to some extent. There have been instances of the city prosecutor's coaching of the defendant, under permission of the court, where it appeared the defendant not only did not understand how to proceed, but where he was about to prejudice his case before a jury because of his lack of judicial procedure.

The police said they would welcome whatever revamping city officials decide upon if it will facilitates the disposition of cases coming before the corporation court.

They openly have recognized their inadequacy to cope with the situation at times.

Grain Storage

been one of the principal causes of storage troubles this year, Blewett believes. Most of the elevators throughout the state are more than 50 percent filled at the present time.

Elevators Pay $1.53

The 1949 interim loan rate for Lubbock county is $1.87 per bushel for number one wheat. This is for wheat stored under approved conditions.

Local elevators advised on June 6 they were able to pay $1.53 per bushel for wheat or 34 cents less than the loan value. The cost of constructing bins and granaries is around 30 cents per bushel capacity depending on the size of the bin under construction.

Such being the case a farmer can construct a storage bin this year and pay for it by the difference in value of a single crop and yet have the bin for use in subsequent years.

Farmers are warned that stored wheat must have a very low moisture content before being placed in storage. Twelve percent is considered the maximum for safe storage although it is eligible for a loan if it does not exceed 30 percent after having been in storage for 30 days.

FCC To Permit Sale Of Radio Stations Without Public Notice

WASHINGTON, June 9. (AP) — The Federal Communications commission today adopted new rules permitting the private sale of radio stations without public advertising or competitive bidding.

The commission dropped the regulation it has had since 1945 requiring proposed transfers of all types of broadcasting facilities to be publicly advertised locally for a 60-day period.

This notice was for the purpose of permitting any other person or company desiring to acquire the facility to file a competing bid on the same terms and conditions as the original offer. The FCC then made the decision as to who should get the station.

MARKET TRADING SLOW

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP)—Supply and demand reached close balance today in the second slowest stock market of the year.

Only 590,000 shares changed hands. In the final hour enough buying developed to lift the market above the lows for the session.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks remained at 59.8. The industrial and utility groups were unchanged while the rail section was a mite lower.

Of the 942 issues traded 340 advanced and 352 declined.

Closing higher were U. S. Steel at 21½, Goodyear 38¼, Woolworth 46⅝, Phelps Dodge 38, Westinghouse Electric 21⅝, Philip Morris 39⅝, Radio Corp. 10⅝, American Tobacco 67½ and Southern Pacific 35⅝.

Losers included General Motors 53⅝, Chrysler 46, U. S. Rubber 34¼, Sears Roebuck 34⅝, United Aircraft 21⅝, Consolidated Natural Gas 39¼, Dow Chemical 43¼, Du Pont 179⅝ (old), International Paper 44⅝ and Gulf Oil 58½.

Higher in the curb were Pantepec Oil, Pancoastoal Oil, Cities Service, Consolidated Mining and Kaiser-Frazer.

Railway obligations slipped a notch here and there in the bond market. Several U. S. government issues added 1/32 of a point.

As the adjournment bell rang, a group of Jaycees, Barney Stagner, Pinkey Gannaway, Jeff Lewis, Norman Igo and Don Baldridge, rushed in and fined everyone not attired in some western fashion. In a matter of minutes they collected more than $50.00 in bandanna sales and contributions to the Boys' Club.

BAN ON FISHBEIN

Who's Being Fooled?

DECISION of the Big Brass of the American Medical association to ban further controversial speeches by Dr. Morris Fishbein was a wise one. Furthermore, one of the "reasons" given for the action, was amusing.

Fishbein long has been a power in tightly regimented medicine in this country—a sort of John L. Lewis of the doctors' union.

As editor of the AMA's "Journal," he has gone the length and breadth of the land, time after time, making speeches to both doctors and laymen, frequently "laying down the law" to both. An aggressive individual and one pledged to the high-handedness which has put the medical business in the far corner of the public's doghouse, Doctor Fishbein naturally has made enemies—inside the medical business, and out.

But in announcing the ban on further controversial speeches, one Dr. Elmer Henderson, chairman of the AMA's Board of Trustees, said with typical profundity that the action was taken because "the public has come to recognize Doctor Fishbein as a spokesman of the American Medical association."

Now ain't that peculiar?

Of course, Doctor Fishbein has been the spokesman of the AMA — at least that hierarchy of the AMA which runs the medical business, lock, stock and barrel. What else could he have been all these years?

The point is that even the old fuddy-duddies of the AMA have tumbled to the fact that their policies, as long trumpeted by Morris Fishbein, have become about as popular with the people as the Seven Year Itch. But instead of stepping up and acknowledging the fact, they howl "It's Fishbein's fault. We gotta keep him quiet!"

The AMA's trustees were wise in silencing Doctor Fishbein. They'll be wiser if they relegate to the same ashpile all their outmoded policies against the public interest.

The raw truth is that the American public has become highly dissatisfied with the way organized medicine is being run by the AMA's High Command and organized medicine will do well to take a lesson from what happened as a result of the excesses of organized labor.

Otherwise, the doctors may expect something like a Taft-Hartley bill to clean up their littered backyard.

The 'Big' Fine

THOSE WHO apply a little simple arithmetic to the $1,420,000 fine on John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers which was upheld by the U.S. Circuit Court a few days ago will perceive that the "punishment" actually amounted to a very light tap on the pocketbook.

The UMW claims a membership of about 450,000. In other words, if the fine is paid, the cost per member will be a little less than $3.50—less than two hours of work. True, Lewis individually faces a $20,000 fine. But he has absolute and unquestioned control of the UMA treasury. It is a leadpipe cinch that anything paid in his name—and the legal battle is far from finished—won't come out of his pocket.

The importance of the case lies in the possibility that it might cause Lewis and the mine workers to obey the law, in fear of more severe penalties. Their conduct has not supported the supposition that they have been taught any lesson about illegal strikes. They have been as outspokenly defiant of laws to which they object as they ever were, and nothing indicates that a fine of about $3.50 apiece, or the fear of future punishment, will cause them to mend their ways.

"If you give towards the welfare of cats and kittens it is charity, but if you do the same for the welfare of human souls it is not," remarked Canon H. S. Marshall, vicar at Catford, commenting on Britain's refusal to exempt Easter offerings from income tax.

A police guard went aboard a Glasgow freighter at Cape Town to protect a consignment of Scotch whisky — the last to be admitted to South Africa under a recent import ban.

Holland has arranged to sell Britain $6,000,000 worth of canned meat, sausages, chicken paste and salami this year; game and rabbits to the value of $240,000 and $400,000 worth of poultry.

Is It Cheaper To "Let The Gov'ment Do It"?

Island Of Escape

By HUGH LAWRENCE NELSON
Disributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: First, the murder of Lilly Warren and next a fire, turn the "New Eden" of Henry Gough Harding on Speare Island into anything but a paradise. Bea Cosgrove, one of the islanders, already is certain that one of her companions is a murderer. The islanders fight the fire but an explosion blasts the house and store rooms as the fire is in progress.)

XXIX

THE fires were out and with the rain had come a chill. The soft weave of the women's clothing sopped up moisture, clung to their bodies with a water layer which brought a purple feeling to their skin. The thin cotton of the men's clothing was no more protection.

There was the smell of wet bodies, the odor of scorched cloth and flesh, and the all-prevailing smell of water on ashes. They were bunched together in the lee of the rock ridge. Huddled together for warmth, joined by their shared misery.

Bea Cosgrove felt Mabel Jones on her right, Mollie Stark on her left. Her back was warmed by a portion of Harding's shoulder and a portion of Fred Sillwell's. She could hear or sense the small individual movements which identified the others. George Bascombe's restlessness, the playing with his heavy-rimmed glasses. Nona McGuire who sighed, and whose teeth chattered. Agnes Firth who spent her time doubling up and straightening her legs.

Toward morning the wind dropped from gale force. The rain was no longer driven in horizontal streaks. It searched out their hiding place. The shivering of the group became a community convulsion. They waited out the long night.

Gradually the ground beneath them turned to mud. The light which showed gray skies to them at first reached down. They could see each other.

They were smoke smudged. Their wet clothes were scorched and torn. Their hair and eyebrows were singed. Yet with the light they all made the effort to pull their clothes and themselves together.

Movement broke up the unit. Slowly, each motion a new pain, they got to their feet. They stared at desolation.

"It's light," Mabel Jones said. "It's time to see what is left."

"It comes to this," George Bascombe said harshly. "It always comes back to this!"

Nona put her hand on his arm. "George. Please."

He flung her hand away viciously. She staggered, slipped in the mud and would have fallen if Bea had not caught her.

Agnes Firth said nervously, "I wish I could get the grime off my face."

Bea Cosgroce folowed Agnes Firth. She shuddered as an accumulation of rain slid down the sides of her neck and traced cold patterns on her shoulders and breast. The group dissolved.

BEFORE many minutes had passed, they gathered again in the scant shelter of the rock. Without words, they started walking toward the place which had meant shelter. They were 400 yards from the promotory where the house had stood when they found the body.

It was the body of a man. It lay face downward in a shallow, saucerlike depression covered with charred stumps of brush and grass. The once gaily colored shirt was burned. The flesh beneath was crinkled by flames. A whiskey bottle lay near by. Sillwell picked it up, saw it was empty, threw it away with a curse.

Harding and George Bascombe turned the body over so the matted formlessness of the back of the head did not show. The face was recognizable even though the 30-30 bullet had entered the mouth. It was the mate of the Simpatico.

George Bascombe picked up the rifle which had been hidden and protected by the body. He jacked the lever. A shell flicked out. Bea watched its flight, saw the pale light glint from lead and brass.

"A fisherman," Henry Harding said. "They did it. They swore they'd get even."

Bea Cosgrove thought of the drill holes in the rock of the tunnel, the sawdust George had found. Not termites, but dynamite packing. She remembered Miguel Oak's words. "A hindrance. A hindrance."

SHE had not realized she spoke aloud until Harding said with a new assurance. "That's it. That's all of it. A hindrance. I must look on it in that light. Miss Cosgrove, I have to thank you for showing me the way. A hindrance must be overcome. We must work! Come! We must work and rebuild!"

George Bascombe laughed. He stood alone on the right side of the depression. He held the rifle, stock against hip. It appeared a part of him, a familiar part. "And this dead man?"

"It's obvious," Harding said. "He blew up the lower and upper houses. There were over three hundred cases of dynamite stored away in both places. He was caught by the fire when it got away from us. He'd been drinking, but couldn't face the burning. He killed himself."

"That's fine," Bascombe said.

Sillwell made a mistake. "Oh shut up, George, and get me some whiskey."

George moved a trifle and the muzzle of the rifle centered on Fred's belt buckle. "Run at me, Fred."

It was a different cold Bea felt now. There was death in Bascombe's voice. There was an expectancy and a joy that was worse and more holding than the thought of death.

Fred Sillwell did not move. "It's your play, George." He wet his lips. "There are witnesses."

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

"THE customer is always right" is an old slogan which you still hear occasionally, but which has lost much of its meaning since the beginning of the last war.

"The secretary is always right" is my mutation.

BRANDEIS

I am sure that anyone of the many thousands of secretaries will agree with me, although most of them are too well trained to express their opinions to the men for whom they secretarize except by an occasional dirty look.

Consider well this word "secretarize," because it is just such a non-dictionary word as this that is bringing on today's column.

Charlie Guy, editor of the Lubbock, Texas, Avalanche and Journal, also has a daily column which h calls "The Plainsman."

I like it so well that I asked Charlie to send me his paper every day and I occasionally swipe a bit of his cactus-wisdom. ("Cactus," because it is quite prickly on the outside but succulent inside.)

IN the paper which I received today he asks this question: "Is there such a word as 'unconnected'?"

He used the word in a sentence which spoke about "lines unconnected with the department store business."

Charlie has a delightful assistant by the name of Naomi Caddel, a paragon of womanlinity and secretariness, (and let her find these in the dictionary!)

She told him that there is no such word as "unconnected" and proved it by showing him a dictionary. (Other dictionaries do have "unconnected," but Mr. Guy's did not.)

The word "unconnected" would have been no good in this case anyway, because, before a thing can be disconnected, it would first have had to be connected.

So now Mr. Guy is asking Mr. Webster, wherever he may be, to put the word "unconnected" into all the next editions of his dictionary.

Charlie chortles now that it isn't always true that "the secretary is always right." But I bet he felt as uncomfortable under this young lady's corrective criticism as most men do when their secretaries catch them at a mistake—or an indiscretion.

NOW, as to these words that don't appear in the dictionary. I love to coin words of my own. And I have darn good precedent for it.

Some of the nicest words in our language never did, nor ever will, appear in any dictionary.

How about that first "da-da" of a baby?

How about that "goo-goo" stuff

WOULD AFFECT TAXES

Food Program Costly

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Informed food experts doubt whether Secretary Brannan's novel scheme for letting prices of perishable foods fall to a demand-and-supply level and subsidizing the farmers at a higher figure will result in a sizable saving in the family budget. Their confidential analyses explain why even congressmen from urban consumers' areas are still cold toward the idea.

The cynics do not level their criticism dogmatically. Like Mr. Brannan, they admit that they do not know yet what the overall cost of appeasing both the growers and the eaters will be, or whether it will top the current charges for the straight-out parity payment system.

TUCKER

Mr. Brannan hopes that it will not exceed present expenditures, while other agricultural economists foresee a new tax burden of from ten to fifteen billion dollars a year.

England, for instance, inaugurated a similar plan with the expectation that it would cost only fifty million dollars annually. Although the British still struggle along on a thin diet, their version of the Brannan formula now dents the London treasury for approximately two-and-a-half billion dollars a year.

GRIPE: The experimental critics, however, begin by pointing out that the retail price of perishables—meat, dairy products, fruits, vegetables etc.—is determined only partially by the amount which the farmer receives. His low return has been his gripe for decades, and it has been the subject of many futile congressional investigations.

After an animal or a fowl or fowl products leave the feeding pastures and ranges and runs, they move onto an assembly line where every operation designed to bring them to market takes its toll, as do bridges and highways built and financed under a self-liquidating system. Every hand that contributes to the marketing process and progress has its price.

Accumulating charges between the farm and the corner grocery and meat store include the cost of transportation, insurance, the processors' take, the middleman's handling expense and the retailer's profit. Mr. Brannan cannot cut these levies by political or legislative action, as past experience proves. They are fixed and may increase under his formula.

INTRIGUING: In view of the fact that these untouchable charges may increase rather than decline, it is doubtful if the housewife would save more than ten or fifteen per cent on the price which she now pays for the major items of her food budget.

It should be noted that the non-perishable articles not affected by the Brannan formula—wheat, canned goods, possibly potatoes and similar products—do not figure in the average family's expenses so importantly as do those which he would subsidize.

But if the table economy should be so slight, and if the cost in taxes should mount to the peaks forecast, the consumer might be the loser in the long run. He or she (or both) might save $100 or $150 a year on food, but pay twice that sum in annual tribute to John W. Snyder and his heirs at the Treasury.

This Congress, of course, will not adopt this plan. But Mr. Brannan has advanced an intriguing design for living, and some future Congress will probably give it a twirl, especially if we run into a depression.

Until it is given a tryout, as Secretary Brannan concedes, nobody will know whether he has fathered a farm-to-market Utopia, or whether this is just another starry-eyed dream.

HYPOCRISY: The hypocrisy of the current congressional crusade against alleged lobbyists, which has President Truman's olessing, was revealed vividly at a recent luncheon given to New England textile manufacturers in a private Senate dining room attended by half the members of the upper chamber.

The host was Senator Theodore Francis Green, the multimillionaire member from Rhode Island.

If those same manufacturers, who complain that operation of the reciprocal trade agreements is destroying them and creating unemployment, had presumed to visit a legislator in his office, and offered the argument they advanced at the Green party, they would have been denounced on the floor and by the White House as "vicious special pleaders seeking to influence or corrupt honest statesmen."

SPONSOR: In fact, had they made such a visitation, they might not have been given the time of the day save by the Senators from their home state. They might not have progressed beyond a secretary or a clerk in the outer office. They would have spent their money in vain.

But Senator Green introduced them as his "good friends," and gave them the floor. Under friendly and auspicious atmosphere, they made their plea. No lobbyist ever enjoyed such a sponsor, patron and benefactor.

Incidentally, the Green lobby luncheon attracted so many members—they will go almost anywhere for a free lunch—that there were only six Senators in the chamber while plodding, humorless Whip Myers of Pennsylvania tried to push through his proposal for a year's moratorium on a question of bread-and-butter concern to every consumer—the Supreme Court's decision upholding the Federal Trade commission's outlawing of the basing-point system.

An increase of more than 30 percent over this time last year was noted in the enrollment of Texas Technological college's fourth summer session at the close of registration for the first week yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The total stood at 1,054 students, the closing of the business office preventing a number of late arrivals from running the figure higher.

In the session of 1928 there were 965 students enrolled in both terms while in 1927 there were 667. The first year showed a total enrollment of only 336.

Bowles Is Planning For Future

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Some interesting figures among new state governors in the Democratic party are attracting national attention politically. Thomas L. Stokes will write about them on a tour in which he also will attend the Midwest Democratic farm meeting in Des Moines aimed at holding farm states which Democrats recaptured in the last election and the annual governors conference at Colorado Springs. He also will write about popular reaction to what is going on in Congress in Washington. The first article follows.)

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

HARTFORD, Conn.—This New England state became the first point of call for a look at interesting figures who have assumed national importance in the Democratic party by virtue of becoming governors of key states in last November's election.

Shock For State

"Chet" Bowles, as he is called here by his corps of young aides as he was in Washington, is trying to transplant Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal to Connecticut. But he has had Harry Truman's experience with Congress duplicated in an obstrepercus and balky legislature which gives him a fellow feeling for the man in the White House whose renomination he opposed in the 1948 pre-convention days.

The vigorous former New Dealer has been somewhat of a shock for Connecticut. It is decidely pleasant for many. But it is decidely rude for old-fashioned folks, including old-line Republican party leaders here. Republicans have blocked him at every turn in the House of Representatives which they control overwhelmingly — there are only 91 Democrats out of 272 members—through one of the most antique rotten borough systems in the country. This may be illustrated graphically by the fact that this capital city of 200,000 which cast 80,000 votes in the last election has only two members, while Union a little town that cast 126 votes, also has two members, and so on through the state. Democrats control the Senate but to no avail.

There is figuratively the wild anguished cry of "he can't do that to us" from the Republican closed corporation. It's a new and strange thing for Connecticut to have a governor who steps up boldly and brandishes a complete legislative program before the representatives of the people, as he did, and keeps insisting on it, in messages to the legislature, in repeated speeches over the radio. Governors aren't supposed to act that way here. They have been amiably acquiescent for so long to a junta in the House of Representatives. And all the bright young people, eager young men and women, that he imported from Washington to help him here. 'Tain't fair or respectable.

Republicans are using a slogan about this former advertising man become governor, "he's more interested in advertising than in administration," by which they refer to his ambitions to be President which, of course, he has. They complain that a year and a half before his term runs out he's already started his campaign for re-election, which is admitted frankly and proudly by 44-year-old John M. Bailey, state Democratic chairman, who says the way to win elections is to hammer away at the issues day after day far ahead of time.

Republicans ask where all the money comes from for the campaigning, the extensive use of radio, the letter-writing to the folks and what-not. They suggest there may be some "outside backers" of Chester Bowles for President who are investing. Mr. Bailey denied this. He said no money is coming from outside the state, that it is contributed by Democrats in the state, with a sizeable kitty of $30,000 from the Jackson-Jefferson day dinner this year.

While Connecticut is learning something new in political tactics from its governor, Mr. Bowles, himself, also has learned a thing of two about the limitations and frustrations in operating state government. He talks earnestly now, for example, about the importance of improving government at the state and local level so that the federal government doesn't become too centralized trying to do everything. He makes a point about balancing the budget. He has learned the necessity of compromise. He seems, in short, to have mellowed somewhat from his experience.

JUDGE PREFERS QUIET

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (U.P.)—When Judge R. F. Arledge became annoyed by the sound of air hammers ripping up pavement outside his courtroom window, he signed an order forbidding the noise while court was in session. The pavement crew moved down the street.
